Stormy Scenes Feature Texas County Conventions Polish Flight Becomes Another Mystery of Air

Meager Reports From Ships Hint Craft Went Back

Plane, Presumably That Which Started for America, Was Sighted by Two Steamers.

ATTEMPTED JOURNEY IN FORTIETH HOUR

No Definite Reports Have Been Received of Plane Since It Was Sighted Leaving French Coast.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The flight of the Polish trans-Atlantic plane Marszałek Pilsudski entered the mystery phase tonight.

As the long hop entered the fortieth hour, meager dispatches received from vessels at sea telling of the sighting of a plane, presumably the Polish one, suggested possibility the machine may have turned back toward Europe or have lost its way en route to the United States.

The Norwegian tank steamer Arctic reported she had sighted a biplane, presumably the Marszałek Pilsudski at 2:40 a. m. Greenwich Meridian time, about 200 miles north of the Azores at that hour.

The message said the plane passed "in direction 75 degrees" in nautical language indicating that the machine was traveling east by north.

At 5 a. m. (G. M. T.) the steamship Amakura reported sighting a plane, also apparently the Marszałek Pilsudski, about four degrees, or several hundred miles nearer Europe, two hours and twenty minutes after being sighted by the Arctic.

The Amakura also reported that the plane, which resembled the ship at a distance of half a mile, "approaching from the westward" and disappeared northward, flying very fast.

Loving Cups Won At Short Course

Lubbock Youth Presided at Conclave of 4-H Members at College Station; County Sent Forty.

Lubbock county's delegation to the Farmers' Short course at College Station returned here shortly after noon yesterday, bringing back an abundance of information gathered from the school and two silver loving cups as the results of the entrance of a team in the poultry judging contest of the meeting.

The cups were won by Jimmie Potts, of Canyon, and Miss Pauline Woodruff, of Shallowater. Jimmie won the F. W. Kammier trophy for being high man in the contest while the Lone Star Poultry Journal trophy was awarded to him and Miss Woodruff for having the highest team score. Young Potts' score was 442 out of a possible 500 while team score was 825 out of a possible 1,000 points. Fifty-five club boys and girls from over the state were entered.

The short course was one of the best ever held. D. F. Eaton, county agent, said. More than 2,100 boys and girls attended. Lubbock had a delegation of approximately 40. Several of these were sent by the Lubbock chamber of commerce. The station chamber of commerce and the Lubbock County Farm bureau sent two boys each also.

J. J. Thornton of the Pecos community, presided over the senate of the United Club Boys of Texas during the short course while Leon Ransom of Lamesa, was elected president of the Texas 4-H club.

The poultry judging team was the only one entered by the county.

DENIES WILL FORGED
Denver Physician Held At Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A dramatic denial through his attorneys of charges that he forced his way into an estate of approximately $1,000,000, was made today by Dr. W. G. Foxworth, prominent Denver, Colo., physician and chemist, after his arrest here on a felony charge—wrongly introduced by the chief of police of Denver.

Socialist Meeting Ends
JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Inability of the presiding officer to restore quiet following a discussion on religion and prohibition caused the state convention of the socialist party in Mississippi to break up today.

"How's Politics?"

"How's the political situation?" was the first question asked by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt when she landed in New York the other day after a European tour. As usual, the widow of the former president was attired in deep mourning. But quite contrary to her former custom, she consented to pose for the photographers.

East Swelters As Mercury Rises To New High Records

Local Thundershowers Fail To Bring Relief To Torrid Seashore States; Thirteen Are Dead.

Local thundershowers failed to halt climbing temperatures and today sweltering millions in Atlantic seashore states had their chief prospect for relief in a cooler weather area reported advancing slowly eastward from the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys.

While the cooler area reported on the way from the west was awaited as general relief, weather authorities predicted thundershowers for some localities.

Casualties were increased as the heat continued. In addition to seven deaths previously reported, six fatalities directly or indirectly attributed to the high temperature were reported yesterday.

Serious damage to property and crops was reported after storms struck Connecticut and upper New York state.

FINAL RETURNS Complete Election Results Announced

DALLAS, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Final returns to the Texas election bureau from 252 out of 253 counties in the state, one holding no primary, show the following totals for candidates in last Saturday's Democratic primary election:

Senator: Blanton 125,976; Connally 177,402; Cunningham 28,645; Mayfield 3,323; McLemore 9,828; Owsley 130,644. (Total 671,620.)

Governor: Hawkins 22,598; Moody 43,318; Wardlaw 24,942; Wilman 18,535. (Total 735,393.)

Lieutenant-Governor: Darwin 46,086; Love 203,899; McCall 44,095; Miller 311,873; Parnell 78,747. (Total 681,900.)

FATAL GRADE CRASH Three Women and Man Meet Death

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Three women and a man, members of a Dayton, O., family, were killed today when their automobile crashed into the locomotive of a southbound Denver and Rio Grande Western passenger train at a grade crossing near here.

The crasher established their identities as: Earl H. Turner, Beulah Ann Turner, Annie R. Turner, and Mrs. John Edward Turner, all of Dayton.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Louise Friday, 18-year-old telephone operator, was shot to death today as she was walking home from work with another girl. Police are holding a man described as a rejected suitor.

Deluge Of Ballots Sends Hoover To Lead In Second Day Of 'Straw Vote'

Smith Has 78 Votes To 140 For Rival, Counters Find

Evidently spurred into action by the poor showing of their favorite when the first ballots were counted Friday night, adherents of Herbert C. Hoover republican candidate for president, literally swamped the polls of the Avalanche-Journal's presidential straw vote Saturday and when the ballots in the race thus far were tabulated at nine o'clock last night the count was 140 for Hoover and 78 for Alfred E. Smith.

James H. Goodman, prominent democrat and Lubbock county's delegate to the recent national convention at Houston, and John Halsey, also a democrat and proprietor of a local drug store, acted as counters. At the close of their labors both agreed that the New York standard bearer of the democratic party was trailing his California rival by the 140 to 78 tally.

Saturday's count was a decided change from the tabulation made on Friday night, at the close of the first day's voting. The Friday vote was undoubtedly cut by the rain which fell during the afternoon but on the first day Governor Smith was leading by a vote of 46 to 23.

Cast A Vote
The ballot upon which the vote is being cast appears in the next column, to the immediate right. Preserve the ballot and bring or mail it to the "Straw Vote Editor" Avalanche-Journal building, 1213-15 Texas Avenue tomorrow. A sealed box is being used to deposit the ballots and is not opened except for counting.

The last ballot will be printed in the Daily Journal tomorrow and the final result of the voting will be announced in both the Morning Avalanche and Daily Journal of Tuesday, August 7th.

Every voter who has not voted is urged to cast a ballot before the "election" ends to afford, if possible, an accurate basis upon which to guess at the vote tabulation which will be made after the official election on November 4th.

The votes were thrown out during the Saturday night counting. Messrs. Goodman and Halsey reported. One was not cast in favor of either candidate but was marked "I am casting this vote against Al Smith. The other ballot, a home-made one, was cast for Will Rogers.

MARINES HONORED Air Cross Given Pilots Serving in Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Marine corps headquarters today announced that the navy cross had been awarded to Captain Francis E. Pierce of Rochester, N. Y., and that letters of commendation had been sent to 11 marine officers and men for gallantry in engagements in Nicaragua.

Letters of commendation were also sent, among others, to Sergeant Harold R. Jordan of Little Rock, Ark.; Corporals Nannon W. Stage, Whiteville, La., and Luther G. Norris, Shreveport, La.

TORCH EXPLODES Austin Worker Meets Instant Death

AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—(AP)—W. R. Pierson, 23, of Austin was instantly killed today when an acetylene torch which he was welding a pipe line with exploded two miles south of Bartlett where Pierson was working with a crew of the Lone Star Gas company.

Mrs. Pierson and three small children survive.

Both Nominees Active, With Belated Zero Hour Of Presidential Campaign Now But Week Away

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The belated zero hour of the quadrennial presidential campaign is now only a week away. Saturday, August 4, is the last day when the candidates will be formally notified in California of their nomination to lead the republican ticket, and 10 days later Governor Smith at Albany will be similar by advised by the democrats.

These routine ceremonies will merely be tardy trumpet calls of hostilities already begun. Early skirmishing has been general, but of greatest fervor in the south. The fighting has done much to outline, well in advance the battle ground for this perhaps most spectacular of later days campaigns. Its boundaries. Its boundaries are now to be those of the entire

Man Kills Woman, Pistol Discovered Then Suicides, On Accuses Man Held Busy City Street In Death of Girl

Scores of Shoppers Witness Slaying On San Antonio's Busiest Corner; Cause Is Unknown.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—(AP)—While scores of shoppers thronged about them, W. A. McArthur, 34, shot and killed Mrs. Ida Wilson, 28, and committed suicide on San Antonio's busiest street corner this afternoon. According to Miss Pearl Warren, a sister of the dead woman, she and Mrs. Wilson were discussing a dress shown in the window of a big department store when McArthur approached. He had been very friendly with Mrs. Wilson for several months, but had quarreled with her recently, Miss Warren said.

A brief argument ensued during which McArthur drew a .38 calibre revolver and fired two shots. As Mrs. Wilson fell he lurched to the left, ten feet away and fired two bullets into his brain.

TROOPS RELEASED Had Been Held In Reserve At New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Military troops, held in reserve here for the past month, under municipal precept were released tonight by Mayor Charles S. Ashley when the closing of the 16th week of the strike was attended by no unusual activity. Mayor Ashley said: "The time or occasion for the services of the military has expired."

The guardsmen were pressed into active duty here only once, last Monday night, when a crowd of about 10,000 persons threatened to storm police headquarters and release 250 strikers who had been arrested for rioting. They dispersed the crowd with fixed bayonets.

RAIN AT SLATON 1-18 Inches Falls There On Thursday and Friday

SLATON, Aug. 4.—(Special)—Rain measuring 1.18 inches fell here through Thursday night and Friday, the heaviest fall occurring Friday afternoon late. Roads that had been placed in good condition since the recent heavy rains were again made difficult, and fields which had not dried out after the generous moisture of the past two weeks were well-soaked again, preventing progress in farm activities. Farmers would welcome dry, warm weather now as an aid to cotton and feed crops.

120,000 Flood Sufferers WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Red Cross reports today that 120,000 persons have been affected by floods in the Mississippi valley this year and that one-half as many counties have been inundated as during the spectacular disaster of 1927.

ELECTRICAL STORM Three Die In Metropolitan Area

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(AP)—One woman was killed by a bolt of lightning, another was electrocuted on an elevated railway third rail and a policeman was killed as he picked up a fallen "live" wire here tonight when a violent electrical storm struck the bathing resorts near Manhattan, skirting the city proper.

TRAFFIC OFFICER Former Amarillo Captain Here

C. E. Luce, former captain of the Amarillo traffic department, has been added to the local police force to take the place of Motorcycle Officer Wheeler, who left yesterday for a 10-day vacation. Chief of Police John Lemon announced yesterday.

Luce has been in Lubbock for several months, connected with a local business. He was in charge of the Amarillo traffic department for several years.

Believe New Pool Opened In Howard

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Reports received here tonight indicate that a new oil pool with two or three large producing wells had been opened in Howard county, west of the Roberts Chalk pool.

One report said an unidentified wildcat had been brought in at 2,170 feet making around 3,000 barrels a day. The F. H. E. Oil company was said to have brought in a 4,000 barrel well this week and another report said that the Henshaw Oil corporation had brought in a producer in the same locality at 2,180 feet. This is thought to be the unidentified wild cat referred to in the first report.

COMPANY "SHORT"
This Is Charge To St. Louis Insurance Firm

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The International Life Insurance company, with headquarters here, is "apparently short approximately $3,500,000 securities," says a statement issued tonight by Charles B. Detrick, insurance commissioner of California, chairman of a committee of investigating officials.

PTOMAIN POISONING
Nine Girls Suffer Attack At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Nine girls employees of a five and ten cent store here were rushed to a hospital today suffering from ptomaine poisoning. Although all were violent in their attacks, they were thought to be in no danger. They are thought to have eaten tainted ice cream.

Heat Prostration Victims
ERIE, Pa., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Thirty members of Company E, 143rd Infantry, 98th regiment, Pennsylvania national guard, were in hospital here tonight recovering from what physicians said was a combination attack of ptomaine poisoning and heat prostration.

Lubbock County Launches Attack Against Bolters

Resolution Calling For Enforcement of Ticket By All Candidates Submitted At Convention.

DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION ELECTED

If Resolution Is Adopted By Executive Committee Today, Candidates Refusing To Okeh Ticket Banned.

Launching Lubbock county's attack against the bolting of the Democratic ticket in November, a request for the unofficial support of the nominees of each office from president to precinct officers was made in the Lubbock County Democratic convention held in the court house yesterday afternoon. The request was presented to the meeting in the form of a resolution which instructed the Democratic executive committee of the county to leave off the names of all candidates for office on the Democratic ticket who refuse to subscribe to party's pledge to support all candidates.

The resolutions will be acted upon by the executive committee of the county at the meeting of the group on Monday. Frank E. Wheelock, Democratic county chairman, said last night. The committee will also complete the canvassing of the votes of the last primary on Monday, he said. They spent the majority of yesterday afternoon in this work.

The following delegates were elected to the state convention to Dan Moody, and Congressman Marvin Jones, and pledged support of Senator Pink L. Parrish and Carl Rountree, legislators for this district.

The approval of the resolution by the executive committee Monday means that Tom Love's name will be left off the ticket as it has in other counties in the state. The names of county candidates will fare likewise, it was said, unless they agree to support the nominees.

MINE EXPLOSION Premature Blast Injures Four, One Fatally

PICHER, Okla., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Four miners were injured, one fatally, in a premature explosion in a drift of the Lawley Mining company, northwest of here late today.

L. Joy, 40, died in a local hospital shortly after the accident. Charles Ladd, 33, probably will lose his eyesight. John Newland and W. Moore also were injured.

FERGUSON STATEMENT Favors Mayfield In Senatorial Race

AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—(AP)—In a statement attacking the record of Congressman Tom Connally, running for the United States senate, former Gov. James E. Ferguson announced today that he will support Senator Earle B. Mayfield for reelection, as a "choice between two evils."

Ferguson recalled that in his own race against Mayfield for the senate in 1922, Connally supported Mayfield. With this recollection as a "referee," the former governor said "it is any crime to be for Mayfield, then Connally ought to get out of the race."

Slayer at 13

Fear of a whipping for staying out late at night caused Louis Johnson, 13-year-old Indian boy, to shoot and kill Moses Johnson, 51, his uncle and guardian, near Durant, Okla. The boy said he had decided not to take another whipping.

Oil Production In Howard Field Gets Added Restriction

Output from Settles Pool Cut to 15,000 Barrels A Day for First Month, 25,000 Daily Thereafter.

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—(AP)—An order limiting oil production from the Settles pool in Howard and Glasscock counties to 15,000 barrels a day for the first month, beginning August 15, and 25,000 barrels a day for each of five months thereafter, was issued late today by state railroad commission as a conservation move similar in effect to those already made in the Winkler and Yates fields.

The order grows out of a recent hearing requested by the Settles pool operators.

The field will be divided into 40 acre tracts, and production will be on the basis of average potential production, which, considering new drilling, is expected to reach 40,000 to 50,000 barrels a day soon. Only one well can be drilled on each tract to each "time pay," except where more than one well is necessary to protect leasehold rights. This does not apply to shallow sands less than 1,800 feet in depth.

An umpire will be appointed to administer the pro-rata rule, which also prohibit swabbing, air and gas lift to stimulate production. An advisory committee of seven will be appointed from the operators.

Houston Fist Fray Forms Climax For Hectic Sessions

'Lie' Passed and Fist Fights Enue As Arguments Wax Heated Between Two Sides In Bayou City.

'REGULARS' APPEAR GENERALLY AHEAD

Wichita County Is Exception With Anti-Smith Faction Reported In Full Control There.

DALLAS, Aug. 4.—Texas democrats, in bedlam and disorder, fought over the question of endorsing Al Smith as the party's presidential nominee in county conventions held over the state today. In the largest cities, hot fights developed, with two groups of delegates to the state convention being selected in Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth. Regular democrats appeared in early reports to have the upper hand in the state as a whole. Only one county—Wichita—reported anti-Smith men in control.

One of the stormiest sessions was held at Houston where the lie was passed and fist fights took place. Eventually the gathering divided into two groups, "regulars" and the anti-Smith faction.

At Austin a resolution instructing delegates to support a plank opposing repeal or modification of the prohibition laws was adopted by the small margin of 205 1-2 to 175 1-2. Eight counties lying about Travis (Austin) were reported as favorable to the nominees.

Republicans Hold Convention Here

Mrs. John L. Vaughn Chosen Delegate From County And J. E. Edwards, Slaton, Named Alternate.

Mrs. John L. Vaughn, associate member of the state republican committee, yesterday was selected as the delegate from this county to attend the state republican convention to be held at Fort Worth August 14.

The selection was made yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the district courtroom at the courthouse of the republicans of Lubbock county with Dr. I. E. Barr, county republican chairman, presiding.

J. E. Edwards, of Slaton, was chosen as alternate delegate to the state convention. Dr. Barr was ratified as the county chairman and Clyde Backenstos was elected as permanent chairman.

Delegates at the state convention will select the state chairman and the republican candidates for the state offices in Texas. The other republican state convention held last May was for the purpose of selecting delegates from this state to the national convention at Kansas City.

No mention was made at the meeting yesterday of any local campaign which was expected to be launched favoring the republican candidates. Local officials of the party stated that they were awaiting instruction.

Bar Love's Name

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Dear county democratic campaign committee voted tonight to bar the name of Thomas B. Love from the county democratic ticket in the runoff primary.

The Weather

WEST TEXAS: Sunday and Monday, generally fair to the south, partly cloudy in the north portion, probably showers in the Panhandle Monday.

Yesterday's temperatures: maximum 61, minimum 61, mean 71.4.

Hubbers and Coleman Divide In Fast Double Header

Hooks and Slides

How Could It Happen?
In the second inning of a recent game between the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians, three of the Cleveland young men slipped in succession with one out, didn't get a runner beyond second.

And in the very next inning the visiting Cleveland young men scored the grand total of one run on three successive singles and three consecutive walks.

Of course, the Cleveland young men lost the ball game and another "hook" one was marked up for the Yankees.

Here's How
Second inning, Cleveland. Hooper singled to Durocher. Summa lined to center and died stalling. Sewell singled to center. Bayne lined a single to center. Lind singled up at second. Koenig threw to first. Three hits. Three runs.

Third inning, Cleveland. Lind singled to right. Langford bunted safely to third. Lind was picked off. Second J. Sewell singled and Lattin, saying for third, was out. Burns walked. Hooper walked, filling the bases. Summa walked, forcing J. Sewell home. Phipps tossed to L. Sewell. One run. Three hits.

Mr. Burns Tell This
Lance Blackburne told his boys in his first lecture as the new manager of the Chicago White Sox that there was one important rule for all of them. They had to be in bed at midnight and out of bed before 7:30 a. m. Several days later, one of his men, a rebel under the previous administration, appeared in the club house before the game with a fresh drop of egg on his vest and the new manager decided to investigate.

The next day he discovered him in the dining room at late lunch time inhaling a big dish of ham and eggs.

The next time you order ham and eggs for lunch, tell your waiter, "You never eat those things for lunch," the manager said.

And since then the egg eater has been hustling.

Them Last Laughs
No tears were shed by the ball players or the fans when "Oil" Smith was canned by the Pittsburgh Pirates. "Oil" isn't popular with the players or with the fans or with the managers.

The plight of "Oil" was and indeed, all the major league clubs waived claim to his services and he had a bad rep to carry into the minors.

But the "Oil" always has a thumb to his nose. And he has it now. For what happened to "Oil"? He was canned off a club out of the money and was taken on by the St. Louis Cardinals, who are heading right into the world's series today.

Did You Know That
They call young Ed Walsh "Little Moose." Because he looks just like his old man, "Big Moose." But he never will pitch like his old man. An interviewer asked Walter Hoge to give some advice to young pitchers trying to get along. "Ed and Hoyt gave it." "Tell them to go to work with the Yankees," he advised. "Ted Blankenship and Bill Hummel, of the White Sox, became game wipers the same day. The arrivals were both of the expensive variety. "Oil" Smith is not called "Oil" because of his hot-temperament. The name came from Brooklyn, where they pronounce "Earl" as "Oil." And in Brooklyn they used to call Larry Doyle, the first second baseman, "Larry Duri." When the Pittsburghers told the Clevelanders that Johnny Miljus would cost $17,500 instead of $15,000, the Clevelanders discovered that a clerk in the office had erred in claiming him. Tom Henery has been studying the moves of Tony's fight. Joe Humphreys says the greatest thrill of his life was the first round of the Dempsey-Floppo fight. One of the big executives of the biggest newspaper or organization in the world was close to the ring at that fight. But missed the whole thing when his chair collapsed. And he had to call up his office to get the details.

Americans Win Four Victories In Water Events

One of Triumphs Recorded By United States Swimmers Crashes World's Record for Event.

(By Associated Press)
AMSTERDAM, Aug. 4.—Four victories, one of which smashed the world's record, one second place and one third, comprised the record of six American swimmers, three men and three women, competing in trials heats of the Olympic water sports which got under way today. As a result their showing all six qualified for the semi-finals in their events, the men in the 1500-meter free style and the women in the 400 meters.

Martha Norelius, the New York mermaid, who won the crown at the distance in the 1924 games, lived up to the promise of her training performances and shattered her own world's record for 400 meters with plenty to spare.

In the men's feature heat Clarence Crabbe got a place among the qualifiers because of his time for third was better than any of the winners in the other four qualifying heats turned in.

The other American girls who won were Ethel McGary, also of New York, and Miss Josephine McKim of Homestead, Pa.

Austin Clapp of Hollywood, and Ray Ruddy, New York, earned first place among qualifiers by finishing first and second respectively in their heats. Japanese swimmers were the leading rivals of both.

INSPECT 351 CARS

Grain Exchange In For Record Season
Three hundred and fifty one cars loads of grain were inspected by R. R. Starn, inspector, in the Lubbock Grain Exchange during the month of July, according to figures given out here yesterday.

With prospects for a heavy yield of sorghum on the South Plains the exchange is due for a record amount of inspections during the first year grain men said here yesterday. Although in operation slightly more than a month, the exchange inspectors have equalled those of several exchanges over the state which have been in operation for years.

Each customer that thronged to the old Merrell stands yesterday afternoon were certainly obliged to the exhibition of two fast balls between the league leaders, Coleman and the Hubbers, the culmination of which was a victory of 4 to 1 in the opening card for the Bobcats and a 1-0 win for the home-ines in the nightcap.

Powder House Red May's home run crash in the opening frame of the first game was the only tally the Hubbers put over, and Stebbins' initial sacker for the visitors rapped out a Ruthian swat over the right field barrier in the fourth to tie the count one-all, which remained the same until the closing session. Jack Holloway, husky outfielder for Coleman, broke the tie with a home run, and additional tallies were registered as Pete Arzatti and Hal Crumpton drove out base blows in succession followed by a single by Perry, finger for the home team, which was his second one for the game.

Hub Works Well
Raymond (Red) Hill, veteran ace of the Hubbers, worked a pretty game for nine innings, allowing the league visitors only scattering hits until the final and disastrous ninth, when he was touched for five base blows, Holloway's home run, Arzatti's single, Hal Crumpton and singles by Perry and Legear, Jack Wood, southern for the home-ines, was sent in after two were retired and Bryant, hitting for Joe Moore, was called out on strikes.

Gene Bunt was the big feature of the nightcap. Only one hit, a single through the box stinging from the bludgeoned by Pete Arzatti, was allowed to the Bobcats, and his advancement continued only as far as keystone station, where he was left on base.

Hubber's In Fifth
The Hubber rally was made in the fifth, the only one of the game, as Homer Kye drew a base on balls advanced to second on Stebbins' single, continued to third as the single advanced, and Stebbins' home run grounded to Kott, who tagged second to cut Stebbins off and tossed Bunt out at first, then Wilburn, newly acquired outfielder, slashed out a single to score Kye. Although the visitors topped the opening bill with a big rally in the ninth, the Hubber threat was anything but comfortable for Bob et al in the seventh. The count was one and one, Goddard singled, Kye ranged out a two-base blow and Wilburn grounded to Kott, who grounded out Legear to Stebbins to fill the hampers, the break of the game, which might have meant victory went against Bennie Brown. Kye played a splendid game, earning runs—Holly, slow roller, whipped to Arzatti that cut Goddard out at the platter, and Hill was cut off at first, as Arzatti completed the double play to Stebbins.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Hubbers will mix it with Red Snapp's Fort Cooncoo cravers of San Angelo in the first ball of the final three-game series between Coleman and Lubbock at Lubbock for this season. The Snappers went into a tie for the top rung in the West Texas league flag chase as they defeated the Big Spring outfit 5 to 2, making a clean sweep of the series.

Jack Wood, portlander of the Hubbers, is billed to take the mound in defense of the Hubbers this afternoon.

KAUFMAN CHAMPION

Lanky Pittsburgh Golfer Is Still Tilted
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Carl Kaufman, the lanky Pittsburgh golfer, still is national public links champion.

In the final round of the championship today here, he buried Phil Ogden, of Cleveland, under a barrage of near par golf 8 and 7, to retain the title he won last year at Cleveland.

Kaufman, the first player ever to win the public links title twice, is 32 and a stenographer.

LEAGUE PREXY WILL VISIT HERE TODAY

J. McAllister Stevenson, president of the West Texas League, will make his first official visit by way of the circuit in Lubbock today, according to Homer D. Grant, secretary of the local baseball association.

Stevenson has visited in the other cities of the league and is making a final official visit today.

For some weeks the league prexy was the storm center of the circuit, ruling the loop with an iron hand. The final hit, however, has been more or less quiet and his little trouble has been sponsored by the high temperature, other than the usual time of ball players.

Helen Jacobs Is Seabright Champ

Defeats Santa Monica Star Of University, Southern California In Finals Of Singles.
SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 4.—Miss Helen Jacobs of Santa Barbara, Calif., won the women's singles of the Seabright invitation tennis tournament today in straight sets by defeating Miss Marie Gladman, Santa Monica star of the University of Southern California, 6-7, 6-3.

Dr. George King and Watson Washburn, New York veterans of many tennis wars, defeated Wallace Johnson, Philadelphia, and Fritz Mercer, Bethlehem, Pa., in the finals of the men's doubles in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

Miss Marie Gladman of Dedham, Mass., and Berkeley Bell of Austin, captured the title in the mixed doubles through a victory over Miss Gladman and Louis Thalhimer of Dallas, 6-2, 6-7, 6-3.

In the Jacobs-Gladman match the 16-year-old national girl champion had two chances in the first set, but failed to take advantage of them. She led 5-4 and again at 6-4, on her own service each time, but was unable to make the grade in the second set.

Breaks through service over-balanced wins on service in the first set, but failed to take advantage of them. She led 5-4 and again at 6-4, on her own service each time, but was unable to make the grade in the second set.

High temperature and high humidity were held partly responsible.

Miss Jacobs became the youngest Seabright champion at 20 and succeeds to the togs of Mrs. Melia Mallory.

Old But Good

Any old record book will show you that this is Wally Pipp's 19th season in baseball and his 15th in the majors and five players remain useful after a career that long. But Wally Pipp, like old Alexander, seems to defy Father Time and here in there every day for the Reds. He's batting above the .300 mark this season and cutting up around first base like a youngster.

BUSY COURT HOUSE

Twelve Cases Filed For Next Terms

That the next terms of 99th and 12nd District courts will be busy sessions was indicated during the past two days as twelve cases were filed for settlement.

Seven were filed Friday and five yesterday. The petitions filed in the district clerk's office yesterday include one divorce petition, one (and) damage suit, the breach of contract case, one debt and damage suit, and one petition to remove the disabilities of a minor.

Filed by the wife the divorce petition charged that the husband treated her in a "cruel, harsh and tyrannical" manner, violently assaulting her and threatened her life. It stated that her husband called her vulgar names and cursed her frequently. The wife asked $200 alimony each month for her and her daughter's maintenance.

Blackerby Clings To Leadership Of Batters In Texas

Makes One More Hit To Put Him Ahead of Worthington of Buffaloes; Also Holds Scoring Honors.

DALLAS, Aug. 4.—Registering one more base hit in the same number of times at bat retained the Texas league's batting leadership for George Blackerby of Waco over Worthington of Houston through the games of last Thursday.

Blackerby also holds the lead for the number of runs scored. He had 93 Jenkins of Wichita Falls 68 and Selp and E. Moore of Fort Worth and Flakamper of San Antonio all with 68 in third place with 63.

Jenkins and Blackerby were tied for the number of home runs gathered with 19 each. Rootz of Wichita Falls, Miller of Dallas and Johnson of Waco all had 15 to their credit.

Flakamper Best Thief
Stolen base leaders were Flakamper, 32, E. Moore 26, and Shires of Waco 22.

Waco moved up to a tie with Houston for the club batting lead, and has regained the crest in home runs from the Spudders. Houston leads in base blows, and San Antonio in stolen bases.

Lindsey of Houston is the only pitcher with a score of victories, but the best winning average is that of his team mate, Barnes. Hallahan, also of the Buffs, is nearing his 20th strikeout.

The ten leading hitters (50 or more games) are:
Blackerby, Waco, 37; Worthington, Houston, 37; Shires, Fort Worth, 34; Eldred, 34; Wilson, Shreveport-Dallas, 34; Jenkins, Wichita Falls, 33; Mulvey, Dallas, San Antonio, 33; Nason, San Antonio, 32; Selp, Houston, 28; Bonowitz, Fort Worth, 27.

MAY ALTER CLIMATE

Creation of Inland Seas In Sahara Debated

LONDON, Aug. 4.—A plan to change the climate of northern Africa by creating inland seas in the Sahara desert is being considered seriously by the French government. The cabinet is expected to make a decision on the question in September.

Going Good

If some young fellow in the cradle of the major leagues stepped out and pitched 16 winning games in 20 starts, the big time scouts would be walking over each other. Dutch Zeuther, venerable cast-off from the major leagues, did this little thing with the San Francisco Seals this year but the feat attracted very little attention. The owners in the big time feel that Dutch is happy and contented on the coast and that he always will be a great pitcher in California but that he gets lonesome in the east and has to entertain himself.

July Weather In County Is Above Normal Every Way

17-Year Rainfall Record Set With Temperature Ranging From 62 to 103; 12 Days Clear.

Beating shattering a 17-year rainfall record and making the season of one of its greatest crop seasons, weather conditions in Lubbock county during the month of July were above normal in practically every phase of activity, according to the records at the State Experiment Station east of the city.

The month's fall of 6.78 inches exceeded the total of 6.75 inches of July, 1911. The month also exceeded the normal fall by 4.38 inches and registered a departure of plus 1.71 inches from the normal for the period from January 1 to July 31. The normal fall for this period is 10.79 inches while a total of 12.5 inches were registered during that period this year.

Maximum Temperature 103. The maximum temperature during the month was 103 degrees while the minimum went to 62 degrees, the mean showing a departure of 31 degrees from normal. The mean humidity during the month was 59.02 per cent with the minimum at 28 per cent and the maximum at 89 per cent.

Twelve days of the month were clear, twelve were partly cloudy and one was cloudy. The total wind run was 4801 miles, 31 miles below the normal run. Total evaporation was 8.361 inches, 264 inches above normal.

Downtown Revue

Saturday must be a very hectic day for the hundreds of people who spend the day in town on business and otherwise—straining on the family ties, so to speak. A large, disgruntled woman comes up to a man who is holding forth in a political discussion group and says, sharply, "What did you do with the car? Do you expect me to tag around with a bunch of kids forever."

A truck filled with large tempting watermelons stands in front of a grocery store. A darky on a nearby corner looks at them longingly, consumed with a desire to sink his molars into one of them.

Small boys strutting along the street, self-consciously smoking cigarettes—Kids aren't kids any more. They're imitations of grown-ups.

Romany emanates about the picturesque figure of the young gypsy woman who glides down the street. Her costume is colorful—a wide circular skirt, a flowing blouse, and about her head a flaming scarf which floats behind her in the wind.

Two men lean in the door of a shop. "Bill," says one, "Can't you see old Joe sittin' one the bank, nothin' to do but fish, just takin' life easy?" "Yeah," replies the other one, listlessly, "I can even hear the fishes nibblin'."

August Building Boosts Forecast For Record Year

First Four Days Set High Pace In Construction; Year's Total To Be Very Large, Prediction.

The first four days of August saw an increase in building activities in Lubbock. 17 permits being issued for a total of $59,100, strengthening further the prediction that Lubbock's building for 1928 will exceed two million dollars. At the rate of the past four days, August's building total will be approximately $450,000.

Permits totalling $14,500 were issued yesterday to send the year's total of 446 permits $2,128,368.

The permits yesterday were: $3,500 to W. S. Mood for the construction of a five-room brick veneer residence for E. Murray Jones on lot 11, block 85, Overton addition; $4,000 to J. A. Gunn for the erection of a six-room brick veneer residence for Lawrence Bacon on lot 8, block 54, McCrummen Second addition; $2,500 to L. H. Thomas for the construction of a four-room brick veneer residence for T. F. Adams on lot 3, block 52, Overton and $4,500 to A. B. Cloninger for the construction of a six-room brick veneer residence at 2612 22nd street.

Parents Will Be Scout Guests At Post Camp Today

Scores of Visitors Expected And Everything Made Spick and Span Around Boys' Encampment.

Parents of scouts and citizens of the South Plains will be guests of the Post Memorial Scout camp today, the day having been designated as Visitors' day.

According to reports from the camp, last night the boys are expecting scores of visitors as things around the camp were cleaned up 'spick and span.' The visitors will be carried through a tour of inspection of the entire camp including buildings and grounds, after which a meal will be served and a short program featured by scouting demonstrations given.

The report from the camp last night stated that everything was "going fine" and that the boys were "having oodles of fun." Monday night is Kiwanis night and a program is to be given to the club members of the South Plains. The camp closes on Wednesday, August 8.

Texas Baptists Appeal For Help 'To Defeat Smith'

Nomination Is Effort To Restore Saloon, Tearing Down Prohibition Laws Statement Says

(Special to Avalanche-Journal) DALLAS, Aug. 4.—Declaring that they are in no sense attempting to dictate to anyone about his politics but in an earnest message from brothers to brothers about a paramount issue of interest to us all, and stating "that it is in the interest of our country, our homes and our Christian civilization that we for this one time forsake our party nominee and vote for Herbert Hoover for president and we ask you to join us in so doing," a statement was sent out this week by the Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas to all

Baptists throughout the state. The statement is signed by the leading Baptist workers of the state along with 220 pastors and laymen who attended the last Baptist convention.

Termed Paramount Issue. Explaining that "this is in no sense an attempt to dictate to anyone about his politics," but is "an earnest message from brothers to brothers about a paramount issue of interest to all," the statement goes on to say that Baptists have fought for separation of church and state, for separation of the saloon and state, and voices opposition to "union of the liquor traffic and government."

The statement continues: "There can be no doubt that for the last several years there has been made a tremendous effort to stage a comeback of the outlawed liquor traffic. This effort has culminated in nomination by the democratic party of Al Smith, a drinking wet product of Tammany Hall, for the presidency, who immediately notified the nominating convention in a telegram that he is opposed to our prohibition law, and if elected he will 'point the way' for its repeal and for a substitution in its place of some form of legalized sale of intoxicating liquor."

Raskob Also Said Wet. "Almost the first act of Governor Smith was the appointment of John J. Raskob, a wet, as chairman of the national democratic committee, who also hastened to announce in the hour of his selection, his hearty agreement with Gov. Smith's views. We call attention to the power of the President to break down prohibition. He appoints all federal prosecuting attorneys, judges and secretaries of the treasury in whose hands rests prohibition enforcement."

ment. The supreme court is now composed almost wholly of aging men and it is practically certain that the president will appoint a majority of the court."

In a resolution unanimously adopted at the last Baptist general convention in Texas, it is stated that "we believe we ought to put principle and patriotism above party. Only in so doing can we prevent a decisive victory for the liquor traffic and a crushing defeat for Christian ideals and morals."

Delegates to the 119th Representative District to the Texas Legislature:

J. H. Hankins, J. C. Brewer, J. C. Levens.

The following resolutions were presented by the resolution committee and adopted:

Resolution No. 1:

"Be it resolved that the Democrats of Lubbock county, now in convention assembled, that it is the sense of this meeting, and of Democratic generally of this county that the governor of this state, the Hon. Dan Moody, has fulfilled and carried out in an economic and conscientious manner the platform and his pledge to the people of Texas, during his first term of office, and he highly commend him to the citizenship of this county.

"Whereas through his efforts, the executive of the great state of Texas has been placed on a high plane, heretofore carried on by a number of his noble predecessors and thus are erasing the stain of inefficiency and corruption.

"Be it further resolved that a coup of this resolution be sent to the Hon. Dan Moody, Governor of Texas, and that our delegation to the state convention urge the adoption of this resolution and a copy be given to the press for its publication in this county.

No. 2:

"Be it resolved that we especially commend to the citizenship of the 18th Congressional District of Texas, the Honorable Marvin Jones for his fidelity to the trust committed to him as our Congressman in the National Congress at Washington. No. 3:

"Be it resolved that we especially commend to the citizenship of the 30th Senatorial District of the State of Texas the Hon. Pink Parrish for his fidelity to the trust committed to him as member of the Democratic executive committee. And that we further pledge our support to him as a State Senator and his executive committee to the citizenship of the State of Texas as an outstanding Democrat and a true Texas statesman.

"Be it resolved that we hand a copy of this resolution to the Hon. Pink Parrish and a copy to the newspapers of this district for publication.

No. 4:

"Be it resolved that we especially commend the Hon. Carl Rountree to the citizenship of the 119th Representative District to the Texas Legislature.

In New York

By Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—It seems that, at one time or another, I have unwittingly done the cat family a great injustice.

It seems, for instance, that just a few columns ago I mentioned that in New York, cats were the least popular of pets, that "every apartment dweller has at least one yawning alley cat at the doorway" and that "the streets are fairly littered with them."

It seems, too, that an editor who otherwise is inclined to like my New York letter now and then, is not inclined to let the cat go undefended. And so the morning mail brings me word that this particular editor has found, after years of experience, something quite worth having around the house. He urges that I and when the occasion arises.

On second thought, it seems to me that the New York cat is more to be pitied than censured. Some day, I hope the editor who wrote me the letter comes to New York. I'll be glad to see him. I'll be glad to see him. I'll be glad to see him.

It seems to me that the New York cat is more to be pitied than censured. Some day, I hope the editor who wrote me the letter comes to New York. I'll be glad to see him. I'll be glad to see him. I'll be glad to see him.

Pastor Walloped By Irate Enemy

HOUSTON, Aug. 4 (AP).— Amid scenes of wild disorder punctuated by shouts of "war," which precipitated fist fights, the democratic county convention here today divided into two meetings, one by the Smith "regulars" and the other by the anti-Smith group.

The high spot in the pandemonium resulted from an argument between Clarence Kendall and the Rev. A. G. Fitzgerald, Presbyterian pastor in the Heights, Houston suburb.

Unnoticed amid the other disturbances, this argument first drew attention when Kendall shouted: "You ought to get out of here—you are a republican."

"You're a liar!" shouted the pastor.

Kendall drove his fist into the pastor's face.

"He called me a liar and I hit him,"—Rev. Fitzgerald.

"He called me a liar and no man ever called me that and got away with it. I didn't know who he was or what he was,"—Kendall.

When the county convention broke, Clyde A. Sweeton, temporary chairman of the Smith forces, and J. W. Blake, chairman of the anti-Smith group, both were on the platform.

Sweeton's Henry shouted: "Shut up, you people are nothing but ne-

They have stirred pity in my heart ever since I came to this city. Yet, after all—I have a back yard and in the back yard there is a fence."

VARE HAS RELAPSE

Senator-elect Declares In a State of Coma

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 4 (AP).—Senator-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania late this afternoon suffered a serious and sudden relapse and was in a state of coma.

Dr. Elwood R. Kirby, his personal physician, stated that "The senator might last until tomorrow morning."

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP).—Norman Thomas, socialist presidential nominee, opened his campaign with a speech to 25,000 in Brooklyn today. He attacked both Smith and Hoover for their stands on labor, prohibition and other issues.

TOMBS LOOTED

Millions In Jewels Declared Stolen

PEKING, Aug. 4 (AP).—The newspaper Tsinhsitan, says that the tombs of the Manchu emperors and empresses, at Kwalchow recently were robbed by northern soldiers of pearls, jade and jewelry valued at millions of dollars in gold.

The newspaper says that precious gems were offered for sale in Peking by the soldiers and that one pearl alone sold in Tientsin for $25,000 gold.

"Gin" gets its name from the French "Genivre" for juniper. Milk contains 87 1-2 per cent of water.

thirteen Lubbock county citizens, seven of whom are residents of this city, have been called for grand jury service during the September term of 99th district court. It was announced from the offices of Court Clerk Flora Green, yesterday. Judge Clark M. Mullican presides over the 99th district court.

The following men compose the summons, from which a jury of twelve will be chosen:

Chas. F. O'Neill, R. D. Mosley, Chas. H. Reed, T. B. Duggan, I. C. Enache, Jo. Dick Slaughter, and D. D. Roderick, all of Lubbock; Carl George, K. L. Scudder, Harry Green and George Green, all of Slalom; J. C. Reynolds, Shallowater; J. L. Williams, Ropesville; and T. H. Walker, L. P. Soape and A. B. Meincke, all of Midlo.

Goebel Flies Plane Over Summit

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 4 (AP).—For the second time Arthur Goebel, famous trans-Pacific flyer, defied dangerous air currents about the summit of Pike's Peak today, but his plane dropped 2,000 feet in a downward draft directly over a bottomless pit during one part of the flight. He landed safely.

RIX FURNITURE and UNDERTAKING COMPANY
"The House of Satisfaction"
LUBBOCK, BIG SPRING

Occasionally we find a customer who is a bit backward about buying furniture on credit—who feels that perhaps there is something wrong in buying ANYTHING on credit.

But why?

When transactions in big business involve millions of dollars, it is in most instances a physical as well as a financial impossibility to make it a cash transaction throughout. It is wholly necessary that the character of the purchaser be taken into consideration—his future ability to meet the obligation—the moral risk that makes his credit a sound factor to depend upon.

And when we find a customer who needs Furniture to make his home more comfortable and more attractive, and who is unable to pay cash for the entire bill, we feel that in extending him credit—in permitting him to PAY OUT OF INCOME, that we have performed a genuine service—that it is good business for the customer and good business for us.

It is the service that brings within the financial reach of all, Furniture that will bear the closest inspection as to quality and long service—because for those who desire to PAY OUT OF INCOME, it provides a plan that permits them to buy BETTER Furniture—which in the long run is the most economical.

Those queer men who won't change their minds miss the best things in life

THERE are a lot of people in this world who miss the newer, better things because they are stubborn.
Good enough is well enough for them.
The wise man who wants good tires will come to us for Lees. We recommend them, sell them and service them.
The "Shoulderbilt" is the peer of all Heavy Duty tires.
The "Leeland" is a less expensive tire but well made and serviceable.
We'll gladly fit your car, not only with the right size, but the right kind of Lee.
You can't go wrong with Lees.
That's why we handle them.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING
LEGISLATURE TO GRANT
FEDERATE PENNSION RE-PELDER OF DATE TEXAS OR WIDOW MARRIED PEN-SION OR WHEN SHE WAS WIDOW.
No. 15.
HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
proposing an amendment to Section 1, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing a tax levy for Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows and providing for submission to the qualified electors
this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A.
D. 1928, and providing the necessary appropriations and appropriation to defray expenses of procurement, publication and election
resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Section 31 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:
"The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorization of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors under such regulations and limitations

as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and to their widows in indigent circumstances under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature
as expedient; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who, under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States, served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia who were in active service
during the war between the States,
and to the widows of such soldiers
who are in indigent circumstances,
and who are or may be eligible to receive aid under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and also to grant for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided for by law; provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property to wit: on all real estate of the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of persons for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State; provided that the Legislature
may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D.
1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon "For the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances, and authorizing tax levy therefor;" and "Against the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances, and authorizing tax levy therefor." Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall have the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or so much thereof
as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said amendment.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL
AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING
LEGISLATURE TO EXEMPT
FROM TAXATION PARSON-
AGES AND CERTAIN PROP-ERTY OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR RELIGIOUS, EDUCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL DEVELOP-MENT.
H. J. R. No. 20.
HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8, of the Constitution
of the State of Texas, so as to authorize
the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a
church, or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as
a dwelling place for the ministry
of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue
whatever to such church or
religious society, and property
used exclusively and reasonably
necessary in conducting any so-ciation engaged in promoting
the religious, educational and
physical development of boys, girls,
young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character;
providing for an election upon
such proposed Constitutional Amendment, making an appropriation therefor.
Be it resolved by the Legislature
of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Section 2, Article
8 of the Constitution, be so changed
as to read hereafter, as follows:
"All cemeteries, lands shall be equal
and uniform on the same class
of subjects within the limits of the
jurisdiction levying the tax, but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property
used for public purposes; actual
places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for
the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no
revenue whatever to such church
or religious society; provided that
such exemption shall not extend to
more property than is reasonably
necessary for a dwelling place and
in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for
private or corporate profit; all
buildings used exclusively and reasonably necessary for the purposes
of persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the
necessary furniture of all schools
and property used exclusively and
reasonably necessary in conducting
any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and
physical development of boys, girls,
young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also
the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not
used with a view to profit; and when
the same are invested in bonds or
mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales
made to satisfy or protect such
bonds or mortgages; that such exemption of such land and property
shall continue only for two years
after the purchase of the same at
such sale by such institutions and
no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation

other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void."
Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, at which election
all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words
"For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as
dwelling places for the ministry;"
and all those opposed shall write or have
printed on their ballots the words:
"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as
dwelling places for the ministry."

Sec. 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue a necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.
Sec. 4. The sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of said publication and election.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL
FROM TAXATION PARSON-
AGES AND CERTAIN PROP-ERTY OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR RELIGIOUS, EDUCATIONAL
MENT.
H. J. R. No. 20.
HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8, of the Constitution
of the State of Texas, so as to authorize
the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a
church, or by a strictly religious
society for the exclusive use as
a dwelling place for the ministry
of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue
whatever to such church or
religious society, and property
used exclusively and reasonably
necessary in conducting any so-
ciation engaged in promoting
the religious, educational and
physical development of boys, girls,
young men or young women operating under a State or National
organization of like character;
providing for an election upon
such proposed Constitutional Amendment, making an appropriation therefor.
Be it resolved by the Legislature
of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Section 2, Article
8 of the Constitution, be so changed
as to read hereafter, as follows:
"All cemeteries, lands shall be equal
and uniform on the same class
of subjects within the limits of the
jurisdiction levying the tax, but the
legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property
used for public purposes; actual
places of religious worship, also any
property owned by a church or by a
strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for
the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no
revenue whatever to such church
or religious society; provided that
such exemption shall not extend to
more property than is reasonably
necessary for a dwelling place and
in no event more than one acre of
land; places of burial not held for
private or corporate profit; all
buildings used exclusively and reasonably necessary for the purposes
of persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the
necessary furniture of all schools
and property used exclusively and
reasonably necessary in conducting
any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and
physical development of boys, girls,
young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also
the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not
used with a view to profit; and when
the same are invested in bonds or
mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall
hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales
made to satisfy or protect such
bonds or mortgages; that such exemption of such land and property
shall continue only for two years
after the purchase of the same at
such sale by such institutions and
no longer, and institutions of pure-
ly public charity; and all laws ex-
empting property from taxation

Referendum Vote On Road Policies Of C. Of C. Begins

Outline Is Sketched At A Meeting Of Officials Of Three Regional Bodies In Recent Session

STAMFORD, Aug. 4.—A referendum vote by mail of the Executive Board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is now being taken upon the proposed highway policies of the three regional chambers of commerce drafted at Austin, July 23.

The suggested statement of policy
was drafted by a committee of representatives from the East, West,
and South Texas Chambers of Commerce consisting of Clarence Owsley representing the East Texas Chamber of Commerce; J. Pat Williams representing the West Texas, and Leonard Tillotson of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The draft was reviewed at the general meeting of the joint highway committees of the regional chambers of commerce in which meeting the presidents and managers of the regional organizations
also participated. The West Texas representatives consisting of Col.
John Perkins, Alpine; J. Pat Williams, Mineral Wells; J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls; President A. M.

be held on the first Tuesday after
the first Monday in November, A.
D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:
(1) "For the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing
that school officers, including
boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."
(2) "Against the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing
that school officers, including
boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not
exceeding six years."
(3) "For the amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."
Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment to which it relates.

Sec. 4. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendments set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said
election.

GO FOR BLACKMIR Legal Force Applied To Bring Return

DENVER, Aug. 4. (AP)—Legal force was applied today by the U. S. Government to bring back to this country Henry M. Blackmer, capitalist, oil magnate and missing key witness in the famed Teapot Dome oil case, from his refuge of self-imposed exile in France.

A presidential warrant was issued empowering U. S. Attorney George Stephan to send an officer to Europe to arrest Blackmer and return him to Denver, where indictments are pending charging the oil man with perjury in connection with his alleged failure to make proper income tax returns.

ANOTHER FLIGHT German Dirigible To Try Hop In August

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—Assurance that the giant dirigible Count Zeppelin which now is nearing completion at Friedrichshafen, Germany, will attempt a non-stop flight from its home base to St.
Louis late in August, was received here today by Lieutenant Colonel John A. Paegle, commander of Scott field.

HYDROPLANE RACE "Miss California" Forges Ahead In Contest

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 4. (AP)— Richardson "Dick" Loyne, driving "Miss California," today won the first heat of the 151 class hy-droplane races being held here in conjunction with the Pacific southwest exposition. Loyne's time for the five miles was 8 minutes 51 seconds. The "Frances-Marion" was second and the "Baby Tarpon" third.

Bourland, Vernon, and Manager Homer D. Wade, decided that before binding the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to the program to present the matter to the executive board without recommendation and let the directors register their views
by mail vote. Accordingly the text of the proposals offered were mailed to each member of the West Texas board Saturday together with a ballot upon which he is to record
an affirmative or negative vote.

The headquarters office of the West Texas Chamber announced today that expressions of views from individual members of the organization would be appreciated and also expressions from local chambers would be welcomed. Mr. Wade stated that no action would be taken upon the proposals until all directors and members had been given ample time to register their views.

BIG CASH BALANCE State Had $19,428,721 On July 31

AUSTIN, Aug. 4. (AP)—A July 31
cash balance of $19,428,721.72 to the credit of the state was revealed today in the monthly report of state treasurer W. O. Hatcher.

This includes $11,634,252 credited to the state highway fund, $3,895,- 698 in the general revenue fund, and $3,049,974.97 in the available school fund.

Only Four States In Lead With 100,000 Employed In Various Industries At Regular Work

(By Associated Press)
HOUSTON, Aug. 4.—Texas women are beginning to do the work. At any rate that is what Ernest T. Tait, Houston manager of the U. S. Department of Commerce says:

Only a few states surpass Texas in the number of women employed, figures in Mr. Tait's office show. The largest number of the weaker sex are employed in agriculture, forestry and animal husbandry. Records show 100,000 Texas women engaged in these professions, and only four states had greater numbers. These were: Mississippi 132,626, Georgia 129,027, South Carolina 126,901 and Alabama 122,755.

In mineral extraction, Texas dropped to seventh place in the number of women employed, only 77 following that profession.

Primarily Agriculture

That the Lone Star State still is primarily an agricultural state is indicated, Mr. Tait said, by the small number of women working at the more harmful manufacturing and mechanical trades. Texas ranks twenty-fourth in this respect with 20,712 women so employed.

On transportation jobs Texas stands sixth with 8,000 members of the slighter sex following that line. A total of 21,486 were occupied with trade, giving Texas tenth place.

In public service Texas ranks fifth, 1,104 being employed in that line of endeavor, while in professional service the state of six flags is in seventh place with 35,935. Fifth place also is occupied in the employment of women in domestic and personal service, the number so employed being 86,786. And 29,832 held clerical positions, putting Texas fourteenth in that classification.

Littlefield Land Value Is Raised $5.00

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)
LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 4.—A meeting of the National Farm Loan association of Littlefield was called last Friday at which time the members voted to increase the stock of this association to $15,000. A three per cent dividend for the period of six months ending July 1, was declared. The Federal Land Bank of Houston has recently raised the valuations of land in this section $5 per acre. The membership of the association here is 76, and more than $200,000 has been placed with farmers of this

NEW PAVING OPEN

Strip Between Abilene And Merkel Is Completed

ABILENE, Aug. 4.—A strip of concrete paving four and three-quarter miles long on State Highway No. 1, the Bankhead, extending east from Merkel toward Abilene, has been opened to travel.

Construction is under way on the six mile strip of the same road between Merkel and Trent and will be completed inside 90 days.

Taylor county officials expect the entire west end of Highway No. 1 in this county to be hard surfaced by 1929.

A construction company will start work by August 1 on laying seven and three quarter miles of concrete on Highway No. 1-A, which will cover all the road from Abilene to the Shackelford county line.

VISITOR IN ZOO

"Big Boy", Gorilla Having Big Time In Houston

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 4. (AP)—"Big Boy", a visitor from the Belgian Congo, is spending this week with friends in the Brackenridge Park Zoo here. "Big Boy" is a full grown gorilla belonging to W. A. King of Brownsville.

"The animal has been in this country for two months, a much longer time than gorillas usually live in captivity, and has gained 40 pounds in weight since it was brought here. King has a theory that other attempts to keep gorillas in captivity have failed because the animals were kept in glass houses at artificial temperatures. Aside from a shelter to keep the rain from him "Big Boy" has lived in the open and seems to thrive upon this treatment. So far as is known this is the first attempt to keep gorillas in a Texas climate. The animal eats more in a day than a family of six people. Its breakfast usually consists of 16 raw eggs, a dozen oranges and several leaves of bread. Later in the day it consumes a dozen or more bananas, more bread, oranges and pine

Historical Course To Be Studied by Delphian Chapter

Renaissance and Medieval Eras to Provide Material For Talks During Coming Club Year.

A study of medievalism and the Renaissance is to be undertaken by the Delphian chapter during the coming winter, according to study outlines that have been received by the members here.

The Delphian society sends out study courses already prepared, with books containing much of the data to be incorporated in discussions and assignments for talks are made by a local committee, composed of Mrs. Clementine Vaughn, Mrs. D. D. Cross and Mrs. Lee R. Bagland.

Is Federated Club

Mrs. R. I. Tubbs is president of this chapter, which is a member of the city and State Federations of Women's clubs, in addition to being a branch of the nationally organized Delphian. Members of this society have been engaged actively in club activities in Lubbock since the chapter was formed.

A business meeting is conducted each January and officers for the following year are elected. The initial meeting of the club this fall will be on the first Tuesday in September and meetings will continue on alternate Tuesdays until May, when there will be an annual adjournment during the summer.

Mrs. James S. Garrett is vice-president of the society and Mrs. Ed Vaughn serves as recording secretary. Mrs. Harry Hall is treasurer.

Introducing the study this fall will be a lesson entitled, "The Pyramids From Which We Are Digged," which aims to give a panoramic view of the effects of the middle ages on society at this time. Subsequent lessons are to deal more definitely with movements, literature and characteristics of the period.

This debt of modern times to the middle ages will be discussed in regard to government, the social system, literature, architecture, Christianity and philosophy.

Study Political History

Political history of the early times with discussion of such leaders as Charlemagne and the study of the early church will be made during the year. Medieval literature and reflection of social life during that period are to be discussed along with the reflection of this literature in later writings.

Following this study will come discussions of the crusades and their effects on history and a study of the figures and forces which have shaped modern Europe. By studying art and church architecture with a comparison of modern and medieval Gothic structures and a history of the spiritual significance of Christian architecture are to precede a study of "aspects of medieval social life." This latter will include discussion of the medieval guilds, book-making in the middle ages, and troubadours.

Of further interest in this connection will be a study of how the nobility, peasants, "squires," monks, knave-keepers and travelers of that period lived, and there will be discussions of more intimate and interesting topics in regard to the daily life of these people, such as their shopping and descriptions of castles and their furnishings.

Study Literature

A discussion of the literature of medieval times will include some study of "The Golden Legend," "The Romance of the Rose," "Aucassin and Nicolette," "Travels of Marco Polo" and the works of Dante, who is described as "the supreme genius of medievalism."

The Renaissance will be viewed in Italy and France with prominent figures and writers of the time and political and religious developments of the age. The year's study will conclude with a study of Italian literature and the late Renaissance.

The active membership of this club includes Mesdames R. I. Tubbs, Ed Vaughn, C. E. Macdoug, F. V. Brown, Alex. McDonald, Clementine Vaughn, D. D. Cross, George W. Foster, Harry Hall, David S. Martin, R. G. Shellen, Mary E. Parks, O. O. Stinson, G. E. Hamilton, Claude Burrus, Ed O'Sullivan, Joe Belkridge, John R. Hall, Lee R. Bagland, G. H. Alter, C. L. Fowler, Ray Grisham, Fred A. Owens, W. L. Meier, T. B. Zellner, F. W. Groves, C. F. Cline, J. H. Jenkins and J. B. Garrett.

Exclusive Newport Finally Breaks Into Print—Material Lovely Chiffons, Linen And Silks Are Gaily Patterned

BY BETSY SCHUYLER
NEA Service Writer
NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 4.—Newport is a city that has been in many a year.

What with coming out parties, weddings, tennis at the Casino, golf on the courses at the Country Club and T. S. Sufferin' Tailor's private links bathing at Bailey Beach and squall gatherings here and there at private homes it promises to be a season brilliant as pre-war days.

Bridge, luncheon and afternoon tea present original, varied and extremely feminine costumes. I am surprised to find how much exclusive folks believe in the authenticity of print. For dressy day-time wear the patterned chiffon, light silks, crepe or georgettes outnumber the plain two to one.

Irregularity Rules

There's a premium in irregularity in styles that seem to suggest motion. Rippling tiers, fluttering panels, bows at neck and girle, scarfs, label, lingerie, collars or irregular line, irregular hems, in full skirts are the order. The big hat has the veil, for anything after the clock strikes noon.

Young folks, like Nada de Braganza and Rose Davis, show a preference for washable frocks for sports. Nada has a stunning green velvet with checked imported handkerchief frock that is just too cool-looking with a smart quilted green linen small hat. Rose wears an off-white linen coat with red-white stripes printed on it, over a white batiste frock.

Brown's graduation into social ranks for formal wear was sponsored by a charming frock Mrs. C. G. Whitehouse wore to a garden party.

Even Newport has its blues! Mrs. Eaton Cromwell prefers them in peacock shades and wears one gown of printed chiffon of that tone that is extremely effective—with a full, flatterer skirt that dips in points and has a deep, dark blue, tan-banded with peacock blue completes the picture.

Mrs. Michael M. van Beuren picks navy blue, either in a polka dotted or plain smartly fashioned daytime frock. Mrs. Perry Belmont has three entirely different kinds of blues like the year. In uneven strays like dress she has this summer.

I saw Violet Tangeman starting for the Casino one day in a beautifully effective frock of off-white, with flowered stripes in bright red and green, with touch of black. A kerchief neck and a three-quarter skirt yoke, the other quarter being a gathered godet, helped give the frock distinction. Her hat was a large leghorn with red and green grapes all around it for a banding.

Orchid and green formed a pretty color scheme for the refreshments, which consisted of sherbert, individual cakes and jellies. Lily pops, dressed in orchid and green dresses, were dainty favors with the refreshment course.

Bridge guests at the party were Misses Evans, Mary Cooper, Blanche Bacon, Margaret Turner, Mildred Boone of Hillsboro, Lorelei Wallace, Verna Johnson, Marian Evans and Blanche Bean. Mesdames S. E. Cone, Joe Galland, Emmett Burford, Duke Buster, Harold Gordon, Ralph Bedford and Roy J. Watson. Tea guests were Mrs. Bennett Slagle and Miss Lila Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Patterson and daughter Cymbal, are spending the week-end in Port Worth.

Miss Willette Waters left yesterday for Abilene where she is to meet Miss Gillean Dane, of Port Worth. Miss Dane is to return to Lubbock and visit Miss Waters for several days.

Miss Novelle Hemphill is ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hemphill, 3009 Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Johnson are expecting as their guests Mrs. C. E. Johnson and daughter, Mrs. Ray-burn Robbins, and children of Athens.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Cravens and daughter, Lulu Mae, are returning this week-end from a visit of two months in Hot Springs, Hope and other points in Arkansas.

Parley Burton White, of Somers, Pa., is visiting in the home of his uncle, Rev. E. E. White.

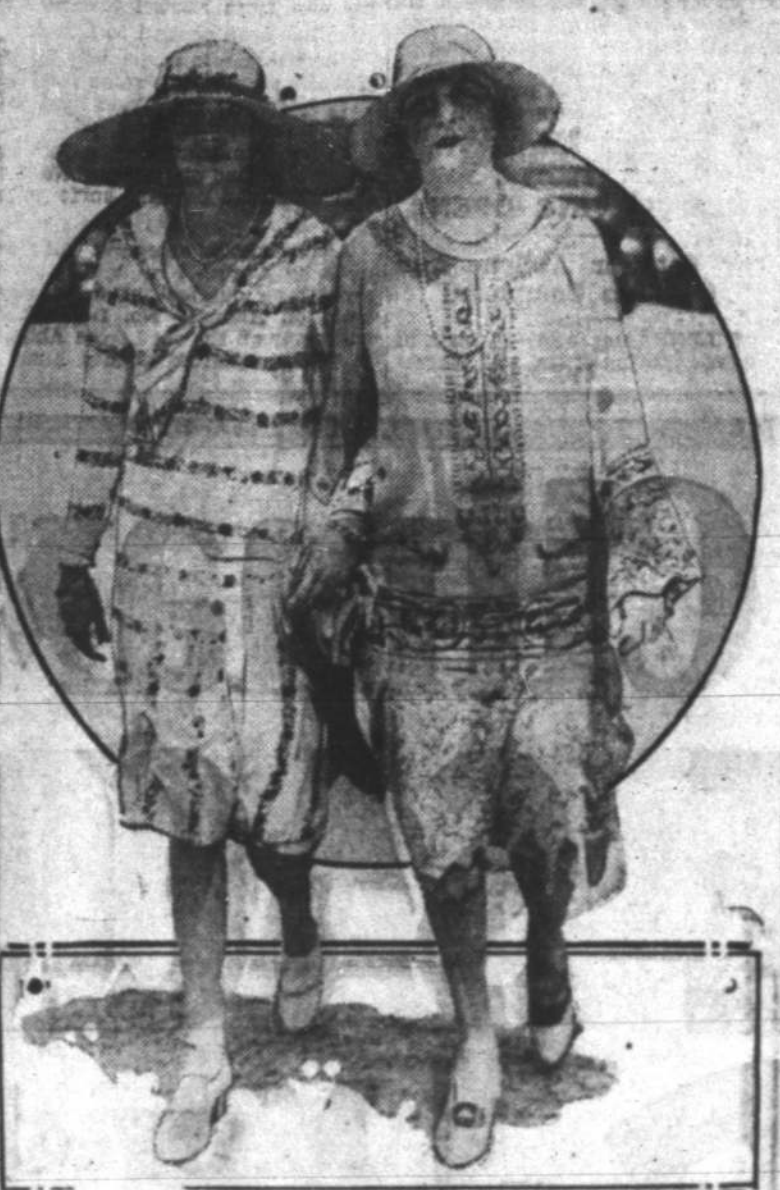

Other guests were Sara Elizabeth Starnes, Norma Lee Bradshaw, Mary Irene Gregg, Jewel Gregg, Emma Evelyn Stanton, Mary Evelyn Pickle, Marian Palmer, Addison Phipps, Gladys Hall, Mary Elsie Parrish, Frances Knott, Madge L. Nellie Malone, Christine Jackson, Janet Sanders, David Johnson, Nell Arnett Johnson and Mary Alice Macdoug.

Many Parties In Cities of Plains During The Week

Weddings Attract Interest Of Many People On South Plains As Many Are Married.

The marriage of South Plains men and women, with parties and other socialities, continue to hold the interest of people of this section. Many parties have been given during the week just passed by hostesses of this section.

Miss Jessie Green, of Floydada, and Rev. Joseph L. Henson, pastor of the First Methodist church at Abilene, were married Monday evening at the home of the bride's parents with Rev. Ben Hardy, of the Floydada Methodist church, officiating. Intimate friends and relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony.

Mrs. Henson returned about three weeks ago from the Philippine Islands where she has spent four years as a supervisor in the bureau of education. She has been on a tour of Europe for three months just before her return to America and purchased her trousseau in European countries. She formerly taught in the Florida schools. Rev. Henson was formerly pastor of the Floydada church.

Lanessa Wedding

A wedding of interest in Lanessa was that of Mrs. Cecile Hagley and Leroy Serfaty on Thursday evening. The couple was quietly married at the home of Rev. I. L. Townsend.

Miss Katherine Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parks, of Abilene, and Earl Kendrick, of Ruid Springs, Okla., were married last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Amherst hotel with a few friends of the couple in attendance. The Amherst Presbyterian minister read the ceremony after which the couple left for their new home.

Miss C. A. Duffy of Abilene, entertained members of the 1924 Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home. Those enjoying this occasion were Mesdames H. S. State, R. W. L. LeGrange, Mrs. C. W. Baker, E. B. Luce, O. O. Cross of Abilene, B. J. McGee, M. L. Walker, L. L. L. State of Sudan, W. H. Lyle and G. A. Fouts of Sudan, S. Mon D. Hay of Sudan, Miss Mae Shofield of Lawton, Okla.

Slumber Party

Misses Mary Florence Duckworth and Anna Wright entertained the Gamma Omicron Psi club of Post Sunday night with a theatre party and slumber party at the Duckworth home. The group attended a midnight matinee after which they were served lunch by the hostess. Those enjoying the occasion were Misses Mary Lee Bardwell, Evelyn Babb, Blanche Cunnell, Louise Morrell, Lyle and Elizabeth Pickett. Escorts to the matinee were Eugene Adair of Lawton, M. C. Baumgardner of Abilene, Nova Rogers, J. B. Thaxton, Harold Gore, Albert Harford, Alton Cross and Javin Cross.

Miss Loree Timley of Snyder, and Miss Margaret Scott of Dallas, entertained a number of their friends with a party at the Snyder home on Monday night. Those enjoying the occasion were Misses Ruth Bell and Pauline Boren, Helen Boren, Dorothy Strayhorn, Ole Lee Caudle, Laura B. West, Mary Leona Nelson, Gertie Chambers, Mary Joder, Millie of Port Worth, Messrs. J. D. Scott, Cleve Blackard, Joe Woodfin, Truett Carr, Charles Cooper, Ray Pezmir, Bob Tolliver, Curtis Larnie, Herman Trigg and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Williams.

Another event in Snyder society during the week was a lovely party given at the home of Mrs. O. B. Clark Jr. on Monday night with Mrs. Clark and Mrs. George Oldham entertaining. Honor guest was Miss Lou Wooten, who left Snyder for her new home in Lanessa. Bridge was played and watermelon served to Mesdames Sam Hemmett, Ted Gardner, Ames Joyce, Loree Curry, Maurice Brownfield, Melbin Blackard, Alfred McGowan, C. B. Lourent, Zonell Nichols, Misses Lou Wooten, Clarabelle Clark, Larry Beth Wagon and May McClinton.

CAMP FIRE PARTY

Miss Maxine Burrus Hostess Friday Evening

Miss Maxine Burrus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Burrus, was hostess to a Camp Fire group Friday evening at her home, 1919 15th street.

Games were played throughout the evening, sandwiches, cookies and punch were served and sweet peas and snapdragons were plate favors. Russell Denison and Miss Glenda Crossland, directed the games. Enjoying this occasion were Loree Odum, Fern Heller, Alvin Duncan, Birdie Fay Partin, Frances Campbell, Betty Richardson, Doris Dell Tatum, Elizabeth Loust White, Eloise Kuykendall, Louise Burrus, Maxine Burrus, Tom Ireland, Duke Moreman, B. F. Shepherd, Jr., James Gunn, William Camp, Wayne Prayther, Bobbie Clement, Charles Macdoug, Joe Norrell, and Billy Punnell.

ENTERTAIN CLUB

Merry Mix-Up Society In Meeting Friday

Entertaining with four tables of forty-two, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bourland were hosts to the Merry Mix-Up club Friday evening at their home, 2209 15th street. Summer flowers were pretty in rooms of the house.

Sherbet and angel food cake were served after the games. Club members attending were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hule, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scott, Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fryer, Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Flenken.

One northern hardwood tree of any variety, 21 inches in diameter five feet above the ground, will yield a cord of wood.

One-Minute Interviews Women Want Peace From Their Tour

International amity is the real aim of the "Good-Will Tour to Europe" that 60 American business and professional women are making this summer, according to Lena Madson Phillips, president of the National

LENA MADSON PHILLIPS, President of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, leader of the tour.

"We do not necessarily expect to return from Europe with an international federation immediately formed," Mrs. Phillips said, on departing.

"But we do expect to lay the foundations for a strong organization at some future time. As women we all believe in international peace. As a first step towards better understanding we want to see how European women work, what professions they are making, what vocations they are opening up to them, whether they are having the same difficulties and the same solutions we have."

Women play an increasingly important part in the development of each of the great countries of the world. A mutual understanding between women of all countries cannot fail to be a helpful factor in helping to bring about that great eventuality we all so earnestly desire, lasting peace.

UP IN SMOKE

Two huge buildings were deliberately burned by the U. S. Bureau of Standards in Washington, the other day, and dozens of safes filled with records were burned, too. It was all done while officials stood by, making no attempt to stop the fire, for the buildings were burned in a scientific attempt to discover habits of fire and the best remedy of various safes.

This was typically a "smoke test." Woman is never destructive. She would have insisted on saving the buildings some way, even though they were no longer safe, just in case she might need them some day, and she would have spent more time taking to replace the buildings in finding some other way to get the required information. Whatever the reason, the burning of the buildings was a scientific experiment.

JAZZ N' GIRLS

Jazz and girls are ruling fraternity life, according to Trustee John L. Porter of Carnegie Institute of Technology.

"Fraternity, years ago," he says, "meant a linking of ideas, ambitions, dreams, pride in achievement and comradeship. How can we look for marks above 70 from a student who spends half his time out of school in a jump-out-a-tune and the half in necking in some secluded corner?"

Question: Do men spend any more time and interest on girls these days than they ever have?

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS

For some reason or other New York paper found it hard because two women whiled into court on the same charge as several men arrested with them got the same sentence. One woman, a taxi driver, was fined $100 and a month in jail for driving without a license. The other woman was summoned with a score of men, all charged with smoking on a ferryboat, and given a suspended sentence. The headline reads: "Equality Nips Two Women."

The paper also found it hard to find for several years now in this age of man working and competing with women, we have taken it for granted that women receive the same treatment as men, if not more so.

FETES MRS. BRUCE

Mrs. O. B. Trinkle Hostess Saturday Afternoon

As a courtesy to Mrs. W. H. Bruce of Mount Vernon, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. W. Stanton, and family, Mrs. O. B. Trinkle entertained yesterday afternoon at her home, 1411 13th street.

Forty-two was the number of the afternoon, and a number of games were played between 3 and 5:30 o'clock. Sherbet was served with individual angel food squares, plates were pink and green. Baskets of sweet peas were placed on the tables, when refreshments were served and other bouquets were used in the entertaining rooms.

Guests for the games were Mesdames Bruce, Stanton, A. B. Ellis, Sam T. Davis, W. C. Rylander, J. C. Hardaway, F. A. Norman, G. S. Middleton, W. L. Bough, Sam Truett, E. P. Norwood, T. Y. McKinner, R. D. Benson and E. E. White. Tea guests were Mrs. Joe Hess, Mrs. Helen Cloud and Mrs. Raymond George.

During the afternoon Mrs. Cloud played several piano selections.

PICNIC POSTPONED

Mrs. Lightfoot's Class To Have Outing Soon

A picnic which Mrs. Sam Lightfoot's class, of the First Presbyterian church, was to have had Friday evening was postponed because of the rain. No date for the picnic has been set.

Buddha's personal name was Gautama Siddhartha. He was born in South India, known as the Palmetto state.

Pink and Green Combined In Pretty Scheme for Bridge Parties Friday Morning and Evening.

The Woman's Day

Sometimes one wonders if all the stories about the June brides who become officers and newspaper and store and factory for jobs, and modestly admit that they'd just as soon start as vice president or editor, are true. But once directors to young singers asking for prima donna roles, for Gatti-Casazza signed up a Miss Pearl Beaman, for next season in "The Metropolitan."

Mr. Smith was presented with a tall black vase as guest favor at the morning party. A hand-painted of was given Mrs. Floyd Beall, whose score was high, and Mrs. Oscar Nialar received a framed picture as a gift.

Rooms of the home were filled with bouquets of summer flowers for the party. Tables were covered in pink and green, tallies carried the two colors and score pads were round with a pink fill encircling the table numbers in green. A salad course was passed in the morning with sandwiches in the favored colors. Ice cream roses in pink and green were served in the evening with individual cakes.

EXPECT VISITORS

Vernon Young Women And Miss Baird Leave

Misses Thelma Baird and Thelma Hull are expected here tomorrow from Vernon and will accompany Miss Louise Baird to New Mexico for a visit of about two weeks. While here they will be the guests of Misses Louise and Elizabeth Baird at 1613 College Avenue. Miss Louise Baird has just returned from Bryan where she attended the annual farmers' short course at A. and M.

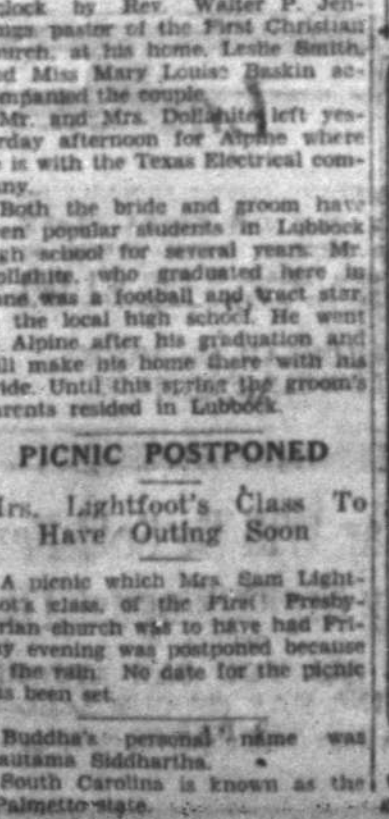

Miss L. Paulger And L. Dollahite Marry Yesterday

Rev. Jennings' Officiates Yesterday Afternoon When Popular Couple Is Wed Here.

Miss Louise Paulger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Paulger, 2116 19th street, and L. Dollahite, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dollahite, of San Angelo, were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, at his home. Leste Smith and Miss Mary Louise Baskin accompanied the couple.

Both the bride and groom have been popular students in Lubbock high school for several years. Mr. Dollahite, who graduated here in June, was a football and track star in the local high school. He went to Alpine after his graduation and will make his home there with his bride. Until this spring the groom's parents resided in Lubbock.

"Keep Your Sweet Disposition," Is Advice of Three Young Women Here Who Greet Patients At The Clinics

Being "Contacter" To Sick Public Is Not As Bad As It Sounds, Girls Claim, In Interview.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

"Keep your sweet disposition," says the philosopher to his satellites, but "you've got to have a sweet disposition all the time," say the three young women who stand guard at Lubbock's various hospitals and clinics.

"We should have our Master's degree in knowledge of human nature," smiles Alberta "Peaches" Johnson, diminutive brunette who holds down the big chair behind the desk at the Lubbock Sanitarium clinic. "It takes tact to handle the public, a sick public at that!"

But smiling "Peaches" Johnson, she smiles calmly and keeps her temper before the most irate patient. Several years of experience in soothing ruffled dispositions have taught her the value of disciplining her own.

"It's very fascinating," agrees Miss Margaret Burken, who is serving temporarily at the desk of the West Texas Hospital. "There is nothing so interesting as meeting people and talking with them. I haven't been here very long, but I have already learned how to be diplomatic and how to keep my best nature unimpaired."

There are lots of amusing incidents which keep the work from growing monotonous. The other day a man came in with a name that I simply couldn't manage. He finally had to write it out for me. At the Lubbock Clinic, it's the same story.

"I should say you do get to meet people and see things," laughs Mrs. Leona Torrence, who is an experienced confessor for people with various ailments. "Sometimes it's hard to keep a stiff upper lip, but to me, it's the most absorbing work in the world. If I didn't think so, I wouldn't be in it."

"I like it a lot," says Miss Martha Blum, who is also in the Lubbock Clinic. "Besides getting to know all types of people, you see plenty of funny things."

A man came in recently to have his teeth examined and he said he wanted to see if he had "that pyrexia." And another time a lady came in to have a tooth extracted, but she backed out just as we were ready to begin the work.

They discuss experiences. A few days ago, a patient nurse and the office girl at one of the local clinics were discussing their experiences during a full in the day's work.

"The funniest thing," laughed one, "is that people expect you to remember them if they've ever been here. One day a patient walked up to the desk and asked for Dr. X. I asked her for her name and address, and she said, 'Oh, I was here about six months ago. Dr. X was my doctor.'"

"There are many questions asked, though. The most popular one is: 'How much longer do I have to get for Dr. X?' This comes up at intervals of a few minutes."

"And," continued another nurse, "they say my time's very valuable or I must get to that bridge party at 4 o'clock, and lots of people come in just at closing time to get a general examination."

"It could be worse," she added philosophically. "Things could be a lot worse. It's more fun to work with people than anything else. People are more interesting than books any old day."

There's plenty of humor mixed up in everything, and especially in finding out what's wrong with people. claim the clinic girls.

Said one, "Not long ago, a lady came to register her daughter to see a certain doctor. I asked her the usual questions, with unusual success, but when I came to the one about her daughter's trouble, she replied, 'Oh, I just want to have her overhauled.'"

But the prize goes to the man who walked to see the physician room where appendicitis, etc., are kept, asked the way to the "scraps."

BRIDGE MADE EASY

by W.W. Wrenworth

(Abbreviations: A—ace; K—king; Q—queen; J—jack; X—any card lower than jack.)

THE DUCK—1

Very often you can make the most of a suit by deliberately losing the first trick. This method of play, called "ducking," is founded not only on the law of average probability but also on the expectation that the cards are normally distributed. Unless the bidding has furnished information to the contrary, play the hand on the assumption that you are evenly divided between opponents or nearly so. As a concrete example of this in actual play, examine the following explanation in which the declaration is two no trump:

Dummy—holding spades J 3; hearts 4 3; diamonds A K V 5 4; clubs 8 5 2.

Declarer—holding nothing of importance.

Declarer—holding spades A 10 5 2; hearts A 10 9 5; diamonds 8 3; clubs A J 4.

West leads club 7 and declarer takes with the jack. To make game, declarer needs eight more tricks. He has three sure tricks. Aces, in his hand. He may win five tricks in diamonds by leading diamonds 3 and playing diamonds 4 from dummy. The probabilities are that the five diamonds missing are divided three and two. By playing diamonds A on the next round of that suit and following with diamonds K all of the missing diamonds will fall, enabling the declarer to make the three remaining diamonds in the dummy good and giving him a total of five tricks in that suit. Lacking a re-entry to the dummy in any other suit, declarer would fail to make more than six tricks out of both hands if he did not duck on the first round of diamonds. This maneuver gives him his only chance of making game.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

BREAKFAST—Sliced peaches, soft-cooked eggs, bread crumbs, panada, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Stuffed baked potatoes, lettuce sandwiches, lemonade.

DINNER—Ham and potato pie, apple, celery and nut salad, gooseberry pie, milk, coffee.

Ham and Potato Pie
Four or five potatoes, 1 cup minced cooked ham, 1 cup cooked tiny onions, 1 1/2 cups cooked peas, 4 tablespoons butter.

Boil potatoes in their "jackets." When tender peel and mash. Season well with salt and pepper and butter and beat in enough milk to make light. Put a layer into a well buttered baking dish, add a layer of ham, one of peas and one of onions. Dot each layer of vegetables with butter. Continue with layer for layer until all is used, making the last layer of potato. Put into a hot oven to brown the top and serve from baking dish.

COUNTY AGENTS

Farm and Home Demonstration Approved

BIG SPRING, Aug. 4.—The Commissioners' Court has announced a county and Home Demonstration agent for Howard county. This was the result of a petition being presented to the court signed by 135 farmers and 35 business men.

According to H. B. Debeport, county judge, the court will meet in session on August 12, to decide the amount of appropriation to be allowed.

This is a much needed service in this county since the Federal Land Bank of Houston who hold federal loans on a number of Howard county farms are requiring the farmers to terrace their land.

A brilliant display of FALL FROCKS

the outstanding successes of an interesting new season

FASHION stands on the threshold of a new season . . . a season that seems destined to bring with it intriguing whims and details that will make it as interesting as it is new . . . offering a departure from the styles to which you have grown accustomed, that will be enthusiastically received

AD THOSE women who for the past few years have looked to this shop to present the new apparel first, will be here early tomorrow morning to view the Fall Frocks made at its best. Our buying organization has spent weeks in the recognized fashion centers in order that our patrons might secure the very utmost in smart style, quality, and value at almost the same moment as the new things are shown in the cities closer to these centers than Lubbock. It is the fascinating details of these frocks that give them the charm of femininity and stamp them as successes of the new season. Lovely little pleated and circular jabots, ruffles and pleats give them the dash of new smartness. Lustrous satins, georgettes, flat crepes, chiffon velvets, and velvet combinations, as well as the colors, black, navy, Heaven blue, English red, beige, tan shades and blue-green enhance their distinctiveness. You're invited to see them . . . wear them while they ARE new.

Packard fans all over the country are looking forward eagerly to the new model which has just been completed. The Super-Servicette will have one for demonstration next week. Little has been learned so far about this newest addition to the Packard line, but the few privileged "higher-ups" who have seen it enthusiastically acclaim as the savior of the family. They say that it combines all the grace and symmetry of former Packards with the motor power and speed which is so great that the United States army and navy equipped their dirigibles, bombers, and fast fighting planes with Packard motors during the World War.

The accessories can make or ruin a costume. I thought of this when I went into C. E. Stone's and saw the charming new purses and gloves on display there. One always recognizes instantly true refinement in a woman who is fastidious about the finishing touches to her costume, and the purses and gloves at C. E. Stone's would leave nothing to be desired. The latest model in purses is a medium sized, light-weight alligator kid, with a wide ivory-finished frame and slide fastener. It is very convenient, and, besides, extremely attractive in a dark green, tan, and a brilliant blue. The gloves, which are kid, with short cuffs, tend toward the extravagant, being lavishly with fancy stitchings. The popular colors are brown, tan, and black-and-white.

In the Acorn Store the other day I found a new shipment of fall fashions for both women and children. These fashions are most reasonably priced and are really a bargain for those of you who want early fall fashions now. There are quite a few large sizes among them, for the benefit of the "modern" or long-haired fapper. There are sweaters and blouses. It seems to be a toss-up as to which will be the most popular. And the colors are richer and gayer than ever—russet, scarlet, jade green, and the pinks, yellow, pink and orchid. The children's hats are cunningly designed, with just a touch of sophistication to give them individuality.

When I stopped in at the Blue Bonnet Shop last week, I learned that Madame McEwen, the manager, had just left for market, where she intends to select some gorgeous things for her children and grown-ups. But in the meantime, there are some of the most adorable and daintiest coats of Kinwood all-wool blankets for children, with hats to match, that you could imagine. One almost longs to be tiny little in order to wear the cute little things. They are hand-made, and are pink-and-white, blue-and-white, and tan. The tan coat has a sporty tam to match, and the younger models have warm woolly leggings and mittens, too.

Something new in rugs for the distinctive home. If you haven't seen the "Wool-o" rugs, for sale at the Hix Furniture Store, you should. I'm sure you have seen the "Wool-o" rugs advertised in "Good Housekeeping." They are genuine all-wool, are finely woven, and come in all sizes and colors. The colors are most inviting. They would give individuality and cheerfulness to any room. There is a rather large rug in a cool green; another is a delicate lavender, and others are mellow rose or intense blue. Most of them have wide tan borders. These colors will not fade, either. The rugs are guaranteed moth-proof.

At the City Drug Store I found more than a hundred articles offered at special bargain prices in accordance with the August Factory-to-You sale, which is observed annually from coast to coast and across the Atlantic by the 1,000 Retail stores. Among these money-saving values are Caranome Face Powder and Caranome Perfume, which may be obtained together for $2.00. I find both preparations to be most delightful. The powder is fine and fragrant, reminiscent of exotic Italy, and the perfume is equally as alluring. These are only examples. Here is your chance to stock up on all the household trifles, also, which you're going to need during the long winter months.

It won't be long now until rush week and the opening of school. Then the winsome co-ed will be wanting a permanent wave in her hair for all the parties, dances and frolics. The Milady Beauty Shop gives the beautiful extreme wave, an unusually natural-looking wave, which is easier on the hair than the ordinary wave because it is made with a two-thirds oil solution. And there is a choice of three styles—the Mae Murray, the round/curl, and the straight Marcel. Your hair dress should not only harmonize with your features, it should reflect your personality. If you are piquant and vivacious, a Mae Murray wave should be very becoming to you. If you are more reserved and sedate, perhaps you should choose a round curl or a rippling straight Marcel.

If you are afflicted with large pores and blackheads, go into Brown's Drug Store and ask for Dorothy Gray's Russian Astrucgent and her Pore Paste. I told you last Sunday about her Cleansing Cream and Orange Flower Skin Tonic, which are the first essential preparations for use in the daily treatment of the skin. But there must be something to do away with unsightly blackheads, and the Pore Paste is death to them. In a very short time, it closes the enlarged pores, and leaves the skin smooth and unblemished. The Russian Astrucgent is made of ingredients found in Russia which are a wonderful aid to an oily skin.

And now, Monday and Tuesday at the Palace Theatre, we get to see one of the greatest actors in all filmdom, Adolphe Menjou in "His Tiger Lady." The technical excellence of Adolphe Menjou's acting is subtle; one has to look closely to observe it, but the effect of it is seen in his remarkable character portrayals. He is a dramatic artist. He is suave and sophisticated, but he can depict pathos so vividly that it tugs at the heartstrings. In "His Tiger Lady," he is placed in the brilliant setting of the Polaris-Bergers, where, as a mere extra man, he wins the hand of the wealthy Tiger Lady, Evelyn Brent, the beautiful and dashing brunette, whom we saw recently with George Bancroft in "The Drag Net." Adolphe Menjou's fascinating Tiger Lady, and she is an ideal woman for the incomparable Menjou.

If you have any culinary talent at all, you will enjoy trading at Hunt's Grocery, for you will always find there something to make your menu more interesting. The other day they received a new shipment of Club House products. Among these are pickled pig's feet, a delicious German mustard, large juicy olives, and a fruit salad dressing, which is quite different from any salad dressing which I have ever tasted. It is made of fruit juices and has a sweet taste, with a slight tang to it, which is extremely delectable. You must try it. Another thing which you will find at Hunt's is beverage syrup, for use on desserts, etc. It comes in many flavors: cherry, grape, lemon, orange, and strawberry.

friends to take up flying, and the Countess Edwige d'Ursel and Prince Eugene de Ligne have already followed her advice.

"I am going to take charge of my father's estates in the Belgian Congo, and I intend to fly there as soon as I can, and start populating flying in that region," she says.

Miss Lippens knows Africa well, having lived there when her father was governor-general of the Belgian Congo. She is widely traveled, and also has lived in England and in India. Her father has millions in land in the Congo and is considered one of Belgium's wealthiest men.

Southwest Opens Campaign To Hold Honors In Singing

Six States Organized In Drive With Chairmen And Radio Stations Aligned For Big Contest

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—With Texas, Arkansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas and Oklahoma already organized to discover new promising singers, the effort to keep the amateur singing championship of America in the Southwest is on.

Government officials and music patrons of all these states are forming committees to equal their last year's feat—the discovery of Miss Agnes Davis, Denver school teacher-soprano who won the highest award for girls in the National Radio Audition, $5,000 in cash and two years' conservatory study with Emilio De Gogorza, Caruso's co-star. Miss Davis also was the only vocalist of either sex to win the judges' unanimous vote.

One governor, a U. S. senator and leaders in art and business are among the chairmen and members of the Southwest state committees who are encouraging deserving soloists to win the highest of the Atwater Kent Foundation's cash rewards of $17,500 and music conservatory scholarships.

Northern Texas—Mrs. James L. Price, Dallas, president, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, honorary chairman; Mrs. John F. Lyons, Ft. Worth, president, American National Federation of Music Clubs, active chairman, Station KFOR, Houston, Dallas.

Southern Texas—Mrs. James L. Price, Dallas, honorary chairman; Mrs. E. G. Godard, Houston, Texas Federation of Music Clubs Juvenile department chairman, active chairman, Station KFOR, Houston.

All amateurs between ages of 18 and 25, inclusive, may enter local contests, winners of which—a boy and girl from each—will represent their cities or counties in the state audition. State winners will receive medals and go to Dallas, Texas, as guests of the Atwater Kent Foundation, to compete in the Southwest District Audition. Southwest District winners will advance to New York for the final contests and awards.

Child Birth Held Best Achievement Of Modern Woman

Proper Environment With Training Should Be The Goal Of Mothers, Leader Of State Women Says

(Special To The Journal)

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 4.—"In the ever widening circle of the modern woman's opportunity, she has yet found no greater achievement than that of bringing into the world a well-born child and determining its environment through its long, helpless infancy and preschool years so that it will have every chance to make the best of life."

Defining woman's sphere of greatest accomplishment in such terms, Mrs. Noyes D. Smith of Austin, president of the Texas Parent-Teachers association, in an address before the women's section of the nineteenth annual Farmers' Short Course here, applied her remarks to the subject of "The Rural Woman's Opportunity."

Farming New Business

"Farming is no longer a mode of living," the speaker said. "Farming has become a business. The farmer, like the merchant and the banker in the villages, towns and cities is interested in markets, methods of transportation, interest rates, taxes and the tariff as they affect his business. The wife of the farmer of today has an opportunity to apply in the spending of the family income that knowledge which can be translated into the development of the standard home, the 'good life.' In this way is presented an increasing opportunity to provide the happy surroundings, the proper environment for the rearing of children."

"Such surroundings are necessary for the proper development of children. A well-born child presupposes a knowledge of the laws of health. And the right environment for its most formative years is necessary if the child reaches its fullest development."

Mrs. Smith described the home that meets the demands of proper rearing of children as one founded upon mutual affection and respect, economically sound, mechanically convenient, morally wholesome, physically healthful, mentally stimulating, artistically satisfying, socially responsive, spiritually inspiring and in which the responsibilities are shared.

Mrs. Robert Renick, of Austin, is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Ottinger, 1820 Avenue J.

C. M. Farrell, of San Diego, returned to his home yesterday after a visit in the home of Herb Ottinger, of this city. Both Mr. Farrell and Mr. Ottinger were in the army together.

Girl Studies Flying In Secret; Will Attempt Brussels To Congo Hop Soon

Miss Suzanne Lippens, Belgium's first woman aviator, did not let parental objections stand in the way of ambition to become an air pilot, and secretly took a course in aviation. She now intends to fly from Brussels to the Belgian Congo as soon as she can win her parents' consent. Her pet dog, "Moke," will go along as mascot.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 2. (AP)—Objecting of her millionaire father, Belgium minister of aeronautics, did not deter Miss Suzanne Lippens, this country's first woman aviator, from realizing her ambition to become an air pilot. She secretly completed a course in flying, and now plans a hop to Africa as her first aerial enterprise.

Knowing her parents believed aviation too dangerous for women, Miss Lippens kept her studies a secret almost to the time her diploma was presented her father for his official signature.

The prospective air journey to the Belgian Congo, where her father, minister for railways, post, telegraph, telephone and marine as well as aeronautics, owns extensive lands in the Kivu district, will be begun as soon as she can overcome parental fears, she says.

"Moke," her pet dog who also took the air course, will accompany her mistress on the flight as mascot. Miss Lippens attended the Dourne

Annual Traveling Men's Party Gets Praise of Houses

Heads of Businesses Whose Men Will Attend Pleased With Lubbock Play, They Say In Letters.

"We are pleased with your letter inviting traveling salesmen to attend the Stag party and Jubilee at Lubbock, August 23.

"We are advising our salesmen who are in West Texas to accept the invitation if possible.

"Permit us to congratulate you for the foresight and initiative in developing good will in this manner. It shows that you are actively looking after the interests of your community.

"The above letter has recently been received from Wade H. Lewis, vice-president and sales manager of the San Antonio Drug company, which is typical of a number of letters coming in from over the southwest in response to letters of invitation sent out by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Cards Coming In
Reservation cards reading: "Save a bean for me" are coming in from hundreds of peddlers, who generally list below some friend they wish to meet at the jubilee. Letters are sent to these friends inviting them to attend.

Final plans for the seventh annual stag party will be worked out at a committee meeting held Saturday afternoon. Representatives of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the traveling salesmen will meet at three o'clock at the chamber of commerce office to make a check up on plans and to work out every detail of the party.

Traveling men who make their headquarters in Lubbock bring in the report that peddlers from over the entire section are making their plans to be here August 23 for the meeting.

Lubbock business men are helping advertise the annual party by giving all traveling men personal invitations to attend the jubilee.

More than 700 personal invitations have been sent out by letter from the chamber of commerce to a list of traveling men working for various wholesale and jobbing houses in the southwest. While no estimate of the number that will be here is available at this time, interest shown by the number of reservations made, indicates that the jubilee will be the biggest in years.

Old Standard For Youth Gone, Texas Woman Tells Meet

Expensive Standard Takes Place Of Former; Young Folk Set Own Pace, Mrs. Smith Asserts

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 4.—Youth is no longer governed by the authority of the church, parents or teachers, Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, of Austin, president of the Texas Parent-Teachers association, declared in an address on "The Challenge of Youth" at the general program for adults at the nineteenth annual Farmers Short Course.

"The old standard of right and wrong, morality and immorality, is gone. In its place youth has put up a standard of its own, an expensive one, through experience and calls it Expediency.

Youth Demands Facts
"Youth is thinking and is demanding facts on which to base his reasoning. He wants to know why we call ourselves Christians and yet endure these earthquakes and volcanoes of war, this desert of race-hatred, this swamp of ignorance, this blood of crime. He wants to know why in hundreds of laboratories men are working to discover more potent poisons and more deadly means with which to kill each other.

"Yet he sees beneath the indecencies in the mind of humanity. He sees humanity's deep aspirations, its struggling nobility, its unattained ideals.

Hopful Sign Today
"This challenge of youth has confronted every adult generation since the beginning of time. A hopeful sign today is that the adult generation of today realizes that it has created or allowed to exist these conditions in the midst of which youth finds itself. If in our adult world there has been sham, hypocrisy, false modesty, double standards, complacency toward legalized vice, can we, the adult generation, expect to find youth wholly committed to good, to honest wisdom and to sincerity? Can't we of the adult generation open our hearts to this youth of today and say with him: 'Oh the glory of the Youth is he! I too, would labor in their footsteps.'

Influences affecting the youth of today were cited by the speaker as including the post-war shock of the world war, the disappearance of home and community life, great industrial systems that furnish jobs and ready money to buy rather than opportunity to achieve, great inherited wealth in many instances and the growing up of young people in large numbers at college during four years with the result that they are put out of harmony with home and old ideas.

There is no material difference in the make-up of the people of New York State and Texas. And when New Yorkers discover that Al Smith is the best governor their state has ever had, and show their appreciation by re-electing him time and again, we may rest assured that Al Smith is going to make the kind of president every true democrat will be proud to see in office. Five New Trim-Line Cutters Are To Be Added To U. S. Coast Guard Fleet

The Coast Guard Cutter Pontchartrain, one of five modern vessels soon to join the fleet, takes the water at the Fore River Shipyard, Quincy, Mass. Mrs. Newton Gifford of Fall River, Mass., (right) christened the craft and Capt. F. A. Hunnewell designed it.

QUINCY, Mass., Aug. 2.—Five new trim-line cutters soon will give a distinctly modern touch to the extensive but somewhat nondescript fleet of the U. S. Coast Guard ships. They represent a notable advance over the old "Beetle," oldest Coast Guard ship, long famous on account of its cruise to the Arctic for the relief of the ill-starred Greely expedition.

The new 2,075-ton craft, being built at the Fore River shipyards of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation here, have been developed to meet the demands of this branch of service and embody the lessons of years.

They are 250 feet over all in length. They will develop a speed of about 16 knots and will have a steaming radius, at the most economical speed, of about 8,000 miles.

These qualifications are counted on to make the vessels swift and efficient in portage, the most varied set of duties prescribed by any maritime service.

It is the Coast Guard cutters that go out on errands of mercy to save northeast of Post this week. Oscar Kinn, Jr., Odie Hood, Merl Garrigus, James J. Merrill, Cleo Smith, Clyde Smith, Rae Hood, Clyde King, Clifton Brooks, Russell Graves, Nicholas Montague, Troy Bickelstaff, Julian Kessell, and Courtney Sanders. The boys will return home next Wednesday afternoon.

ROTARY CLUB

The subject of community development and the cow, sow and hen, and garden was discussed by W. P. Florence, R. Sanders, and M. Forrest King, at the Rotary luncheon at the club house Friday. On account of the rain it was decided that the committee that was to visit the Boy Scout camp at Post Friday afternoon would postpone the trip. The president J. W. Hood was absent on account of sickness, and a committee was appointed to see him. The luncheon served by the Methodist ladies was all of home-grown food, even the dessert, and was an unusually fine meal. Visitors were Harry Stokes of Abilene, H. R. Harmon of Lubbock, J. H. Thompson, sales manager of the Gas Supply Co. of Amarillo, and J. H. Brewer, and C. V. Young, of Slaton.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Imogene Ball entertained a number of her little friends Saturday with a luncheon and machine party afterwards in honor of her tenth birthday. The table was decorated in pink and white with a birthday cake in the center. Those present were, Joveta Rogers, Doris Minor, Maxine Odom, Katherine Whitehead, Florence Baldwin, Minnie Will Wooten, Dora Tucker, Myrtle and Vivian Teague, Freddy

DIET FOR SNAKES

Mice Used Instead Birds At Witte Museum

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 4.—Apparently it is more humane to feed snakes on mice than upon birds. The Witte Museum here has gone back to the mouse diet for its big rattlesnakes after a protest from the humane society against feeding the snakes sparrows.

The snakes eat only live food and museum over the country use birds, mice and even rabbits. The sparrow was used as an experiment on the snakes here, attendants wishing to determine the relative deadliness of the snake and a tarantula. A sparrow, bitten by a tarantula died in one second. No time was obtained on the snake.

"TOUGHEST" BREAK
Sells One Bottle Of "Hot" Stuff And Sentenced

HOUSTON, Aug. 4.—Jack Warren claims he has just received the "toughest" of many "tough breaks."

This "toughest" came when Federal Judge J. C. Hutchinson sentenced Warren and his brother, Walter, to two and one-half years each on a charge of operating a beer and whiskey resort.

"Here I am convicted of selling one bottle of whiskey and that's the only single bottle I ever sold," Warren said mournfully.

"Why, I always handled the stuff in case lots."

BIG SPRING, Aug. 4.—A new hospital has been announced for Big Spring, the institution to be erected on South Seary Street and will be managed by Dr. J. H. Johnson, M. D., Dr. W. O. Barnard, D. C., and Dr. H. G. Kirkpatrick, business manager. The institution will be known as the Health Clinic Sanitarium and will have 20 rooms.

Howard County Is Over Par, Present Conditions Show

Recent Rains Add Greatly To Crop Prospects And General Good Feeling Is Now Prevalent

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)
BIG SPRING, Aug. 4.—Crop conditions in Howard county are above par. For the past five years the county has averaged 22,000 bales of cotton and at this time it appears certain that 1928 is to retain this average. The recent rains were general over the county and the prospects for a bumper crop could not be better, there being sufficient moisture to last through the growing season.

The farmers however are fearing trouble from the leaf worm, due to the excessive amount of rain, but these pests have been successfully combated in previous years and steps are being taken to provide poison should they appear in sufficient numbers. A few have been reported in different sections of the county. The grain sorghums are in excellent conditions and should produce an abundant crop. Big Spring is growing at a rapid rate, the population having increased approximately 2,500 since January 1, 1927. Many brick business houses have been constructed during the past year, but the demand for business buildings has not been supplied. More brick homes are being built than ever before. Several restricted additions have been put on and are growing rapidly. This increase is due to the wonderful agricultural possibilities and to the oil fields located 16 miles southeast of Big Spring.

School Being Remodeled
The Big Spring high school is being remodeled and an additional wing is being built at a cost of $100,000. Big Spring also has a junior high and three ward schools, but according to W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, the increase in the scholastics are so great that other steps might have to be taken to meet the demands. At Cohoma, ten miles east of Big Spring, a new brick school building under construction and recently a water bond was voted to supply this growing town with water works.

Three refineries and possibly the fourth will be built in Big Spring within the next twelve months. One mile west of Big Spring a new refinery is under construction and will be ready for operation by September 1. Couden and company have announced a 10,000 barrel refinery to be constructed three miles east of Big Spring. W. B. Richardson has announced plans for a refinery near his plant in which J. S. Couden will be interested. The fourth will probably be built by Reese Allen. Other industries being sought at this time is a feed mill, oil mill and a brick plant. Big Spring, according to Chas. E. Watkins, educational director of the American City bureau, on a recent visit to Big Spring and West Texas, said that this city has one of the most marvelous opportunities to make a city of 25,000 people within a short time than any other town in West Texas, however, he declared it rested on the vision of the business men of today to see that highways, water supply and streets were built for tomorrow instead of today.

Tourists Mca mch
According to Mr. Watkins, the tourists will mean much to Big Spring being situated on the Broadway of America, which road will be open throughout the year and will invite much travel from east to west. He also urged the citizens to buy land while it was cheap for parks to be set aside for the children of the city, he insisted that an airport be obtained which would be large enough to accommodate the flying public many years from now. Mr. Watkins says that aviation in its infancy and the towns that build the best airports, equipping them with the best equipment will be towns that will derive a benefit from aviation.

ROAD PLANS READY

Howard County Highway To Be Contracted Soon

BIG SPRING, Aug. 4.—Word has been received from the State Highway department that estimates on the laying of a concrete highway across Howard county will be ready to submit to the members of the commissioners court at an early date. Big Spring is located at the crossing of two national highways over which many tourists pass. On a recent twelve hour count more than 700 cars passed over the Glacier to Oul Highway, during the specified time. This count was made by J. L. Mauldin who owns and operates a bar between Big Spring and San Angelo.

SPUR BUILDING

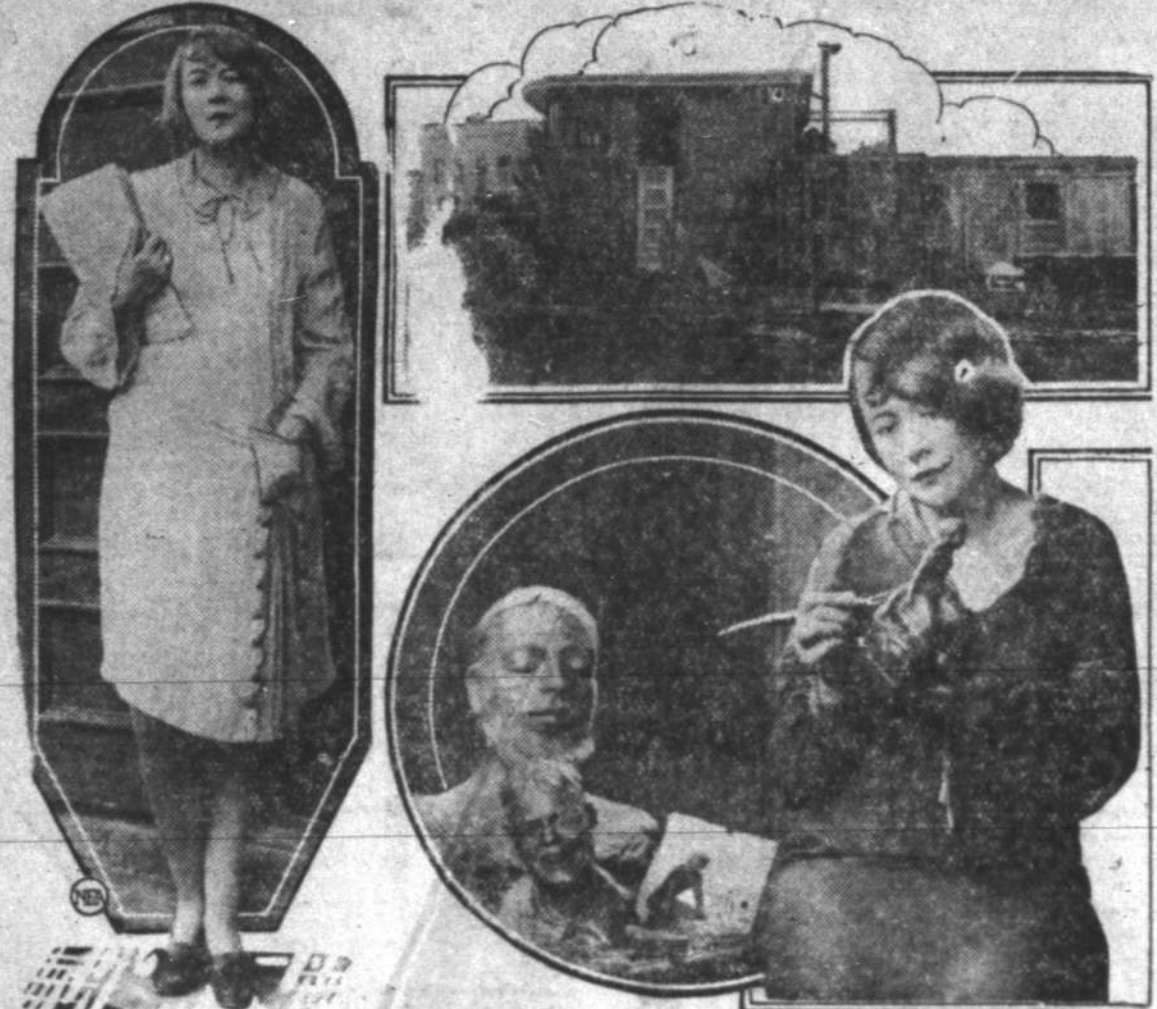

Six New Bricks Are Under Construction Now

SPUR, Aug. 4.—With the completion of the six brick buildings now under construction this will make 21 brick buildings for Spur in the last twelve months, and the building program has not stopped with these buildings, as at present the necessary steps are being taken for bonding the city of Spur for the purpose of erecting a municipal auditorium. The auditorium will be made large enough for an indoor basketball court, and it is hoped that the neighboring towns will not have to play Spur on an open court again.

Here's A Cinderella Story But It Is In A Reverse Gear Two Daughters Of Former Governor Study Arts On Barge

Isobel Stone, daughter of a former governor, is shown at the left holding one of the opera scores she is practicing. Upper right is the ramshackle barge in which she and her sister live. Below is Isobel with some of the pieces of her sister's sculpture.

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Isobel and Margaret Stone have known the luxury and social prestige that comes with being the daughters of a governor. They have known wealth, for upon the death of the late William A. Stone, once chief executive of the state of Pennsylvania, the two girls inherited nearly a quarter of a million dollars. Isobel Stone has known independent success, too, for she has sung in opera and has appeared on the musical comedy stage.

Today, Isobel and Margaret have only memories, but with ambition undimmed. They exist in poverty on a discarded and rotting river barge. It wouldn't seem from the way they are dressed that they were once in the limelight of the stage. Margaret is a model, and Isobel is a sculptress.

"No," Isobel insisted, gamely. "It isn't because we love the great outdoors or are being eccentric. It's because we get this old moss-covered barge rent free—and when you haven't anything in your pocketbook that's a big consideration."

"You see, my sister and I didn't want to form. We both love art and have aspired to artistic careers. We haven't asked our rich relatives for help. So we will have to find our own way out of our poverty."

Isobel is determined to make a name for herself on Broadway. Margaret, the sister, who was married some years ago to Richard R. O'Neil and later separated from him, has fitted up the old cabin to resemble a studio, where the models all day long.

"If I had my life to live over, I'd prefer to have to struggle more in my early years, and then possibly by now, I would be self-reliant enough to hold my own on Broadway," Isobel went on.

"I'm convinced that you have to be hard boiled today to make your

Straw Hat Saves Man From Cave-In

Head Piece Slides Over Face Protecting Him As Workers Remove 5 Tons Of Earth

(By Associated Press)
HOUSTON, Aug. 4.—C. F. Greene owes his life to a battered straw hat. He was working alone in an excavation here when a cave in covered him with five tons of earth. His co-workers, thinking he would be smothered to death, labored frantically for three hours to free him. Once, when they were about to get him free of the earth, a second slide buried him again.

Finally they brought him out. His straw hat, old and battered but stiff, was jammed down over his face. He was still alive.

"My straw hat saved me," he said at the hospital where physicians said he was only bruised. "I was plain lucky."

"I was working in the excavation when suddenly the cave in came. I couldn't tell what had happened for a moment. I felt myself standing up with a great weight pressed against my body and legs. For a minute or so terror gripped me but then I found that I could breathe and that my face was not covered."

"My straw hat was jammed down over my face and kept the dirt away. I knew then that I would be rescued if they knew where I was."

A few seconds after the cave in somebody shouted "Greene! where are you?" "I yelled at them as loud as I could and soon they located me. My head was about two feet under the dirt but I could hear them working above me. The dirt pressing against me had killed all feeling and I didn't know that my legs were doubled up under me. They almost got me uncovered once, but the dirt fell over me again. They kept digging and finally got me out. It was a lucky break."

Citizens In Every Part of Plains And Panhandle Turn Their Eyes To Approaching Dates of Annual Fair

Preliminary Work of Heads Of Exposition Begun and Predictions Being Made For Banner Record.

Citizens over the entire South Plains are turning their attention to the fifteenth annual Panhandle South Plains fair that will be held October 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6.

Reservations for space for several county and community exhibits have come in and others are expected within a short time.

Practically every livestock exhibitor that entered livestock in the show last year have announced intentions of coming back this year.

Interest is being shown in the poultry show.

Along with this interest, officials of the fair have contracted for free acts, fireworks and other entertaining features that will go with the educational exhibits.

New Hope is First
The New Hope community, the community that won the blue ribbon last year, has been selected for a reservation for space in the community exhibit class.

Five counties, Swisher, Crosby, Terry, Lynn and Floyd have already reserved space in the agricultural building for county exhibits.

Other counties and communities have indicated that they are gathering their exhibit for the annual fair but have not yet sent in their blank reservation space.

Swisher County Coming
Bob Anglin, secretary of the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of the Swisher county exhibit, which will be the first time in many years that Swisher county has had an exhibit here.

Plans over the entire plains section have brightened the agricultural prospects to a high pitch and fair officials expect the best display of farm products that have ever been gathered in West Texas.

In an effort to offer accommodations to the livestock exhibitors that have that have shown their confidence in the value of the South Plains exposition by bringing herds of stock here, and directors are studying bids submitted on a new livestock building. The contract for the fabricated steel building will likely be let this week.

Flare Are Complete
Fireworks will be furnished by the Theatre Duffield Fire Works company of Chicago. Artists, mechanical engineers, carpenters, have been busy all winter in devising and building new productions for the fair.

Reproductions of famous scenes and groups, flowers, animals and characters have been designed by artists, to be made into great set pieces, realistic in line and color. Engineers have arranged the most intricate mechanical devices imaginable, by means of animated effects are produced. Chemists, upon whom pyrotechnics most largely depend for new effects, have had a particularly busy winter, experimenting with many rare combinations of twentieth century science to form the brilliant colors and forms released by rockets and shells.

The company announces dazzling new colors for 1928 and starting effects in the largest sizes of both sizes.

The Barnes Caruthers Fair Booking association of Chicago will furnish the free attractions. The free acts will include the Three June Sisters in high diving acts, Will Morris, the cycling comedian, the Baccardi trio, who offer clowning in perilous pranks, and the Four Aerial Lorenzos, who perform dazzling feats of skill and bravery on a 110 foot apparatus, the highest in existence, without a net below.

Ladies Are Busy
The ladies have been busy for some time getting ready for a bigger show in the women's building. Much interest in improving the show has been displayed and a large number of suggestions recorded last year are being carried out to benefit the displays.

The catalog and premium list will go to press this week and will be distributed to thousands within a short time. The books will go to all last year's exhibitors and to prospective exhibitors, superintendents and other interested individuals.

Prizes and premiums to be offered this year will be on a par with the leading regional fairs in the southwest.

P. O. RECEIPTS GROW

San Angelo Office Shows Big July Increase
SAN ANGELO, Aug. 4.—Postal receipts at the San Angelo post office for July amounted to $10,799.02, making a gain of 20.5 per cent over receipts for that month last year. Receipts for July, 1927, totaled $8,952.68.

Business handled through the local office each month this year set a much higher record than for corresponding months in 1927, reflecting something of the increasing population of San Angelo and upon the healthful condition of business generally.

Total receipts for the first seven months of this year amounted to $76,651.66 as compared to $57,867.63 for the same period in 1927.

Mrs. Sadie Boulware, postmaster, in commenting on the stable condition of business locally as reflected in the increased postal receipts, called attention to the fact that July is a vacation month for many in San Angelo, and not usually considered a heavy business month.

MANY NEW PHONES

4,000-5,000 Instruments In San Antonio This Year
SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 4.—Between 4,000 and 5,000 new telephones, about 1,300 of which are business instruments, have been installed in San Antonio during the first five months of the year, the telephone company has announced. The latest directory shows that general listings have increased 4,679 and classified listings 1,390. Many of these listings, however, appear in both sections so that the gain is estimated as between 4,000 and 5,000.

TECH STUDENT WEDS

Miss Blackstock, Brownfield Marries On Wednesday
Wood has been received here of the marriage of a former Technological college student, Miss Lucille Blackstock, of Brownfield, who was married on Wednesday of last week to John Shinn, of Plainview. The couple is to live in Plainview. Mrs. Shinn attended Technological college last summer and taught in the Brownfield schools during the last regular session.

HAS TOUGH LUCK?

Indian Drops From $10,000 Monthly To $1,500

HOUSTON, Aug. 4.—Leonard Daniel Ingram, dapper Creek Indian freedman, now must get along on an income of $1,500 a month whereas he used to get $10,000 in the same length of time.

Ingram, the grandson of a negro slave who belonged to a Creek Indian, was allotted lands near Muskogee by the government. Oil was struck on the land and in 1923 the estate was valued at $500,000.

While attending school in Virginia, Ingram met two negro attorneys. They took him on a trip to Europe "to keep him away from crooks and grafters" then prevailing upon the estates of wealthy Indians in Oklahoma and when they returned in the summer of 1924 a deed of trust was executed, giving the lawyers control of his estate.

Ingram, in a suit filed here before Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson, claimed that a $15,000 fee he paid the lawyers was excessive and that they had embezzled $200,000 from his estate. Judge Hutcheson ruled that while the fee was large it was not exorbitant in view of the service rendered, and accorded belief in the allegations as to the conduct in Oklahoma at that time. "The European plan, while fantastic and melodramatic, was effective," his opinion said.

He denied Ingram's plea for a receivership.

HOPES FOR BEST

Husband Lost Seven Years, Woman Still Hoping

EDINBURG, Tex., Aug. 4.—Mrs. Bertha Lawrence, whose husband disappeared seven years ago in Kansas City, again hopes that he has been found. A. W. Lawrence, a son of the missing man is in Denver checking records to see whether a man now in a Kansas City hospital is his father. The man is suffering from paralysis and Mrs. Lawrence's attention was called to him by the lawyer who is handling her husband's life insurance policies.

Lawrence was employed in Edinburg as an agent for a Kansas City land company. He disappeared while in Kansas City to collect commissions seven years ago and was supposed to have been robbed and thrown in the Missouri river. Since that time people have written to Mrs. Lawrence frequently, saying they had seen her husband, but these clues have always proved false.

NEW TEXAS TOWN

C. Of C. Secretary Named In Non-Resident Place

SNYDER, Aug. 4.—The phantom town of Fullerville, Texas, which is nothing more than a sign board and trainman's telephone booth, has been assigned a chamber of commerce secretary by President Bourland of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

M. G. Evans, likewise secretary of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, is the new executive and his salary is to consist of all the jack-rabbit meat he can kill in the environs of his new domain.

Though there is not a house within a mile of Fullerville, the "town" is widely known in circles of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the traffic world, and has been referred to thousands of times in both Washington and Austin. This point on the Santa Fe Railway was the northern limit of the common points territory and by virtue of its strategic position, became well known to those taking part in the long discussed freight rate problem of the West. Due to this knowledge of it, many inquiries concerning Fullerville have come from all over the country, and Secretary Evans is now duly assigned to take charge of this correspondence.

ceremonial will be observed. The committee in charge of arrangement includes F. W. Groce, E. P. Barhart, Mrs. J. B. Pryor and Rev. Mr. Haucom.

Women And Girls In Texas Working At Minimum Wage

Many Not Paid Enough To Keep Going, Survey By Department Of Labor In State Reveals

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—More than half the women and girls employed in industry in Texas are working for wages insufficient to provide the minimum requirements of a decent existence, the state department of labor reported in a comparative survey of wages and living costs.

The survey was conducted in a bulletin published by the department covering its activities for the last six months.

Only 44 percent of the women and girls employed in industrial establishments earn as much as $15 a week, it was shown.

An accompanying report on living costs showed that a family of four could live on $15 a week as the minimum upon which any woman depending upon her own resources can live.

Declaring this condition "grave," labor Commissioner Chas. McKemy recommended the enactment of a portable minimum wage law for women and children.

The conditions were revealed in inspections made in 3,474 establishments employing 77,286 workers, of which 43,583 were men, 33,504 women and 199 children under 15 years of age.

Of the 33,504 women and girls, 15,254 instances, wives were found to be employed in the mills along with their husbands.

Four hundred nineteen families were renting their living quarters from the mills, 270 families owned their own homes, and 50 families boarded.

It was found that in practically all mill villages, the rent houses are kept in good repair, water and heat furnished free, and reasonable rents deducted from the employees' wages.

35 Complaints Filed
The labor department has filed 35 complaints for violation of various labor laws. Of these, 19 have resulted in convictions, six have been dismissed and 16 are still pending.

In addition to the cases prosecuted, the labor department, acting under a provision of the law, has issued to factories, mercantile establishments and the like 125 formal written orders for the correction of minor irregularities and infractions of the law.

These orders lead to do with the proper guarding of machinery, ventilation of work rooms and elimination of other hazards.

One suit has been filed in behalf of the state to recover heavy penalties for violation of what is known as the "spider law," regulating the selling of cotton so as to prevent injury to workmen.

The department has adjusted 80 wage claims, collecting a total of $9,972.71 for the claimants.

TALKING MOVIES

Talking Movies Can Be Cut And Held Continuity

HOUSTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Mrs. T. E. Egbert, city movie censor, has learned that she can cut the "talkie" movies without interfering with their continuity.

"I was told by theatre managers that the elimination would ruin the picture, that the talking would be thrown in the wrong place and the entire picture would have to be taken off the screen," Mrs. Egbert said.

And so, she said, she watched some scenes and let them pass, although her fingers itched for the scissors.

Finally, when she became curious about the talking movies, she was operated, she discovered that the operator could, at will, switch from the talking machine to the music machine in the case of a breakdown.

"If you can do that when you have a breakdown," she told the manager who was explaining things to her, "you can do it when I make this elimination."

And she proceeded to do so.

CHICKEN GROWTH

Day And Night Schedule Is Found At Kingsville

KINGSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 4 (AP)—George Hoffman, poultry farm owner here, has found a method of making his chickens grow both day and night.

Young chickens, after they are hatched, are kept in a brooder house where they have continuous light and plenty to eat. They eat a little, sleep and rest a while, and then go back into the electric light pen and eat again. As a result, Hoffman claims, his chickens make twice the ordinary growth of other chicks under ordinary conditions during the first six weeks of their life.

A chick three weeks old is as large as the ordinary chick six weeks of age.

One acre of his 120 acre farm has been set aside for the poultry business. This spring he took off three batches of 800 chicks each. He sold 1,000 white leghorn hens, and expects to add 900 of the 2,400 chickens to his flock.

19th Street Boasts "Twins' Row"

Four Sets Of Happy Youngsters Romp Over 2100 Block; Two Sets In One Family

BY LETA EDGAR
(Special Contributor)

"Good things never come singly!" Whether it is or not, that adage might well be applied as the slogan for the 2100 block on Nineteenth street for living on the same side of the street, and all within the proverbial "stone's throw" of each other live four sets of twins, ranging in age from two to eight years.

And it doesn't take a detective to discover that the twins are the pride of the neighborhood. The people who occupy the row of trim bungalows along the block will all tell you that these healthy, happy youngsters, all of whom claim Texas as their birth state, are the greatest kiddies in town. The twins are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Casey, and Mrs. O. B. Hankins, and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Beauchamp, who have in their home two sets.

No Firemen Here

Guy Casey, fireman of the Nineteenth street fire station, is the proud father of one set of twins and will assure you that he gets as much "kick" out of the mischievous pranks of his twin sons, the masters Garland and Clifton, as he would in putting out a real fire. Garland and Clifton are, indeed, sons of which any father might be very proud. They are two years old and almost identical in appearance. They are both sturdy, ruddy cheeked and bright eyed youngsters, were born in Lubbock and have never had a sick day in their lives. Moreover, they took their first prize for being the healthiest, one-year old babies in the world, at the contest at the Panhandle and South Plains fair last year. Asked what location he would choose for his twin boys to pursue, Mr. Casey laughed generously. "Well," he said, "I'm really not particular as to that—that is, just so they don't become firemen."

All of the firemen of the 19th street station will hasten to tell you that they would be quite lonely without Garland and Clifton about the premises to entertain them. Said one fireman: "They certainly do 'make the room' around their sisters."

There are the O. B. Hankins' twins. Both boys and christened Jack and James respectively. These three-year olds, according to Mrs. Hankins, their mother, have not fared so well as the Casey twins in point of health, for from the time of their entrance into the world, these boys have had everything from mumps to operations. They were born on Armistice Day in the state of Texas, and Mrs. Hankins said their advent into the family created real joy as such excitement as did the Armistice celebration. Whether it runs true to form or vice versa, the Hankins twins have always had the same illnesses at one and the same time. When they were two months old they had pneumonia, and when they were three months old they had whooping cough.

They Defeat Illness

Following this they had a series of ailments that must have made the "pessimistic gods" jealous. They have lived through pneumonia, scarlet fever, chicken pox, whooping cough, measles, operations, all of which is an achievement to overcome. They are now healthy, happy youngsters. The Hankins twins resemble more than any of the four sets of twins in the whole block. They are industrious little fellows. One boy was spotted on a doll romper (a good start for a really useful future husband for some lucky girl), and the other boy sat on the floor attending to the mechanical defects of a toy engine. Both Jack and James declared that when they grew up they were going to become doctors, and good doctors, too. They stated furthermore, that they liked particularly to play with Mattie and John Beauchamp, their twin playmates who live farther down the block. There are seven children in the Hankins family but one can readily see that the twins, Jack and James, are two of its most.

LEARNS HIS LESSON

Slide Curtain And Pillow Lost In Queer Affair

HOUSTON, Aug. 4 (AP).—J. B. Hogan has learned not to cover the curtain in his automobile with a slide curtain and then forget about it.

That's what Hogan did here one day when it rained. Several days later he was driving down Main street when James burst from under the hood of his machine. Someone else grabbed a pillow from the back seat of the car and started beating on the blaze. The pillow burst. Feathers scattered over the street. A second crowd of pedestrians was entertained.

Just before the firemen arrived the blaze went out. Hogan continued on his way minus a slide curtain and a pillow.

HE'S TRAVELER

Man Goes 165,000 Miles In One Small Town

LEXINGTON, Tex., Aug. 4 (AP).—Otto Peterson has traveled 165,000 miles in the last 20 years, all in the same community.

Peterson travels 67 miles each day, and all told has covered a distance equal to more than six times the circumference of the earth.

Peterson is a rural mail carrier and has been on the same route for 20 years. Recently postoffice officials announced they planned a change in routes, giving Peterson another. But a petition was sent to Washington, and Peterson still is in his old job. Lately, however, he has taken over a second route. He may retire some day.

Carlsbad And Neighbors Await Arrival Of Visitors

Governors Of Two States And Other Notables Will Be Present In Crowd Of One Thousand In C. Of C. Party

Motorcade Will Leave From Snyder Tomorrow; Highway Commissioners Will Look Into Road Condition

CARLSBAD, N. M., Aug. 4.—One thousand visitors in Carlsbad cavern on Tuesday, August 7, is the record of the superintendent of the Carlsbad Cave National Monument and local Chamber of Commerce officials, upon the occasion of the visit of Governor and Mrs. R. C. Dillon and the State Highway Commission of New Mexico, who will come to Carlsbad to formally welcome Governor and Mrs. Dan Moody, the entire highway commission of Texas and the president, general manager and other officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who will hold the Inter-mountain district convention of the organization in Big Room, in Carlsbad Cavern, 750 feet underground, on Tuesday, August 7th.

Notables Invited To Attend Governor Dillon has extended invitations to the governors and the highway commissioners of Arizona, Colorado and Oklahoma and Chihuahua, Mexico, to join the assemblage in the cavern, believing that a personal visit to such a magnificent creation of nature would give impetus to a co-ordinated interstate road building program between the neighboring states and New Mexico.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Motorcade will be in charge of A. M. Bourland, president, and Homer D. Wade, general manager of the organization, and numerous directors also will be present. The Motorcade will leave Snyder, Monday morning, August 6 and arrive at Carlsbad in the late afternoon of the same day. A program will be held that evening in the American Legion Pavilion at Carlsbad.

Bathing Beach and will be followed by swimming and boating.

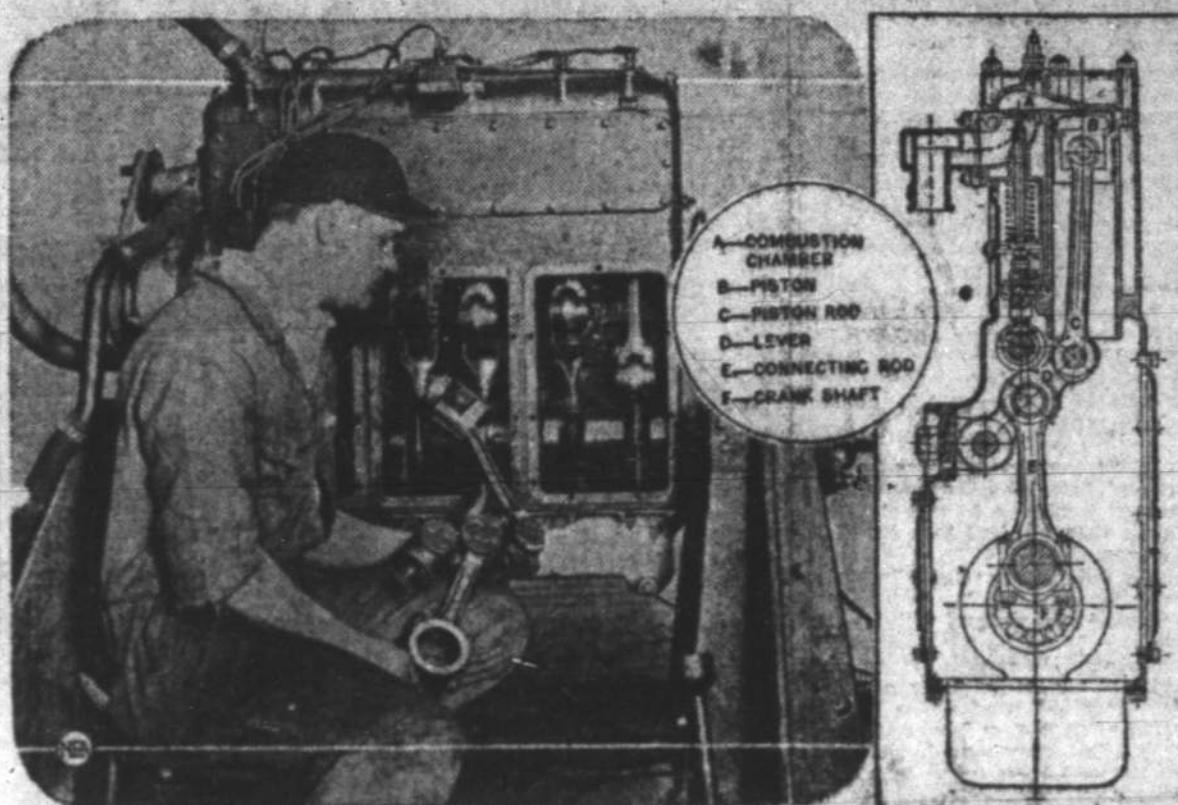

New Also Towns To Help The Inter-mountain district of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce includes chambers of commerce at Alamogordo, Artesia, Ciudad Juarez, Elida, Fort Sumner, Hot Springs, Las Cruces, Lovington, Portales, Roswell and Carlsbad, New Mexico, and all cities will have large representation at the district convention.

The program in the cavern will include addresses by the visiting educationists, highway commissioners and other distinguished guests and it is generally conceded that the large auditorium of the room offers the most satisfactory setting anywhere in the world for such an occasion. Superintendent Poles will personally conduct the visitors through the cavern and will be assisted by Jim White, the native Texas cowboy, discoverer, explorer and chief guide. Myriad hotel reservations already have been made for the convention dates and with the regular large crowd of daily visitors, Carlsbad anticipates that private homes will be opened to accommodate the hundreds of tourists.

Another novel ceremony will be held in Carlsbad Cavern on August 11, when the International Order of Moose, the fraternal order of lumbermen, will assemble in "King's Palace" at 9:00 o'clock to confer the initiatory degree upon a class of candidates. Lumbermen from all states in the southwest and several of the international officers of the order are expected to be present.

SLATON GET NEW PUMP. Slaton, Aug. 4.—A new booster pump for the city water system has been received for installation, says E. Barton, water superintendent. It will be placed in operation before the new water well, which is now being drilled will be completed. The pump will increase the city water pressure.

Automotive Engineers Interested In New Type Of Motor

A mechanic is shown here, before an opened motor, displaying an entire cylinder assembly of a Powell Leverage Engine. The diagram at right shows the details of the assembly.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Automotive engineers have become interested in a new type of engine that is said to produce double the power transmitted to it by the pressure of the exploding gas on the piston.

It is called a Powell leverage engine because it adopts the principle of the lever between the piston and the crankshaft.

This engine, according to its makers here, is so designed, through use of the leverage principle, that the piston stroke is double that of the crankshaft stroke. In ordinary engines the piston stroke, being directly connected to the crankshaft, is the same as the stroke on the shaft.

Between the piston and the crankshaft its fulcrum at one end is bolted to the side of the cylinder, the other end is connected to the bottom of the piston rod, while at its center is the upper end of the connecting rod.

As a result of this arrangement, the piston can take double the stroke and therefore double the speed, ordinarily would take for the same power transmitted to the crankshaft in the existing motors. The designers of this motor claim several advantages to the long stroke, double speed motors, among them being flexibility, greater turbulence due to the need of a smaller combustion chamber, greater economy in use of fuel, high thermal efficiency, high compression and greater durability.

While high piston speed increases the economy and flexibility of any engine, says the Powell motor designers, this feature in a conventional engine shortens its period of usefulness through strain which cannot be avoided because the rest of the engine must travel at a speed corresponding to that of the piston. In a Powell leverage engine, the crankshaft speed is not more rapid motion of other parts, but more power from the same amount of fuel.

The lever, it is added, is similar

Plainview Scouts Plan Big Carlsbad Jaunt

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal) CARLSBAD, N. Mex., Aug. 4.—Boy Scout troops at Plainview, are arranging a motorcade to Carlsbad Caverns, according to information received by the local Chamber of Commerce. Students of the Junior College at Wichita Falls also are planning a visit to the cave, according to Mrs. C. W. Staley who has charge of the girls.

to a reduction gear in that it reduces a high piston speed into a slow r. p. m. of the crankshaft, with the resultant difficulties and weight of a reduction gear.

Claim Superior Features The designers stress especially the long stroke, small bore and smaller combustion chamber, all of which they say combine to produce high compression, greater power, a faster and more powerful engine and all at less fuel cost.

Only the lever equipment is different from the conventional motor in design. This has been made accessible by providing a plate at the side of the motor, the removal of which opens up the insides for inspection or repair.

The engine designed for passenger car service is made in six or straight eight models, with 1 1/2-inch bore, 6-inch piston stroke and 3-inch crankshaft stroke.

There is a six-cylinder bus engine, with 1 1/2-inch bore, 6-inch stroke and 3-inch crankshaft stroke, that is said to develop 25 horsepower at 1800 revolutions a minute. It weighs with all accessories, only 500 pounds.

In addition to these, a truck design has four cylinders, of 3-inch bore, 8-inch piston stroke and 4-inch crankshaft stroke.

Practice Better Howard Co. Farmer Gets Results

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal) BIG SPRING, Aug. 4.—The theory of diversification is good but the actual practice is better, said T. F. Nabors, one of Howard county's master farmers who lives four miles north of Big Spring on his 320 acre farm where he grows corn, cotton and grain sorghums for money crops and makes a living for the family from the sale of cream, poultry, fruit and garden products.

Mr. Nabors has an orchard of 500 trees, consisting of peaches, plums, cherries, apples, on the Nabors farm. In the basement of this farm home is found several hundred jars of canned fruits, preserves, jellies and combination cake, made from fruits and vegetables grown on this farm.

Too many farmers of West Texas are "intensive" in their operations instead of "extensive," said Mr. Nabors, their efforts are directed along lines of too much risk in farming, one crop systems.

"Yankees" really means "English." When the first English settlers went to America the nearest the Indians could get to the name was "Yankees." That was twisted to "ankers" and applied later to Americans.

Elephant's hide is used in Sheffield for burnishing cutlery; it is dark brown and not unlike wood in texture.

A.C.C. Ex-Students To Gather Here For 4th Annual Meet

Sunday, August 12, Is Date Set For Reunion Of Panhandle-South Plains Exes; Picnic To Feature

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal) ABILENE, Aug. 4.—The fourth annual Panhandle-South Plains reunion of ex-students of Abilene Christian college will be held in Lubbock Sunday, August 12, according to an announcement by W. H. Bedichek, first vice-president of the Alumni and Ex-students association. The date was fixed by choice of A. C. C. exes residing in and near Lubbock, whose spokesman was J. C. Brown of Lubbock.

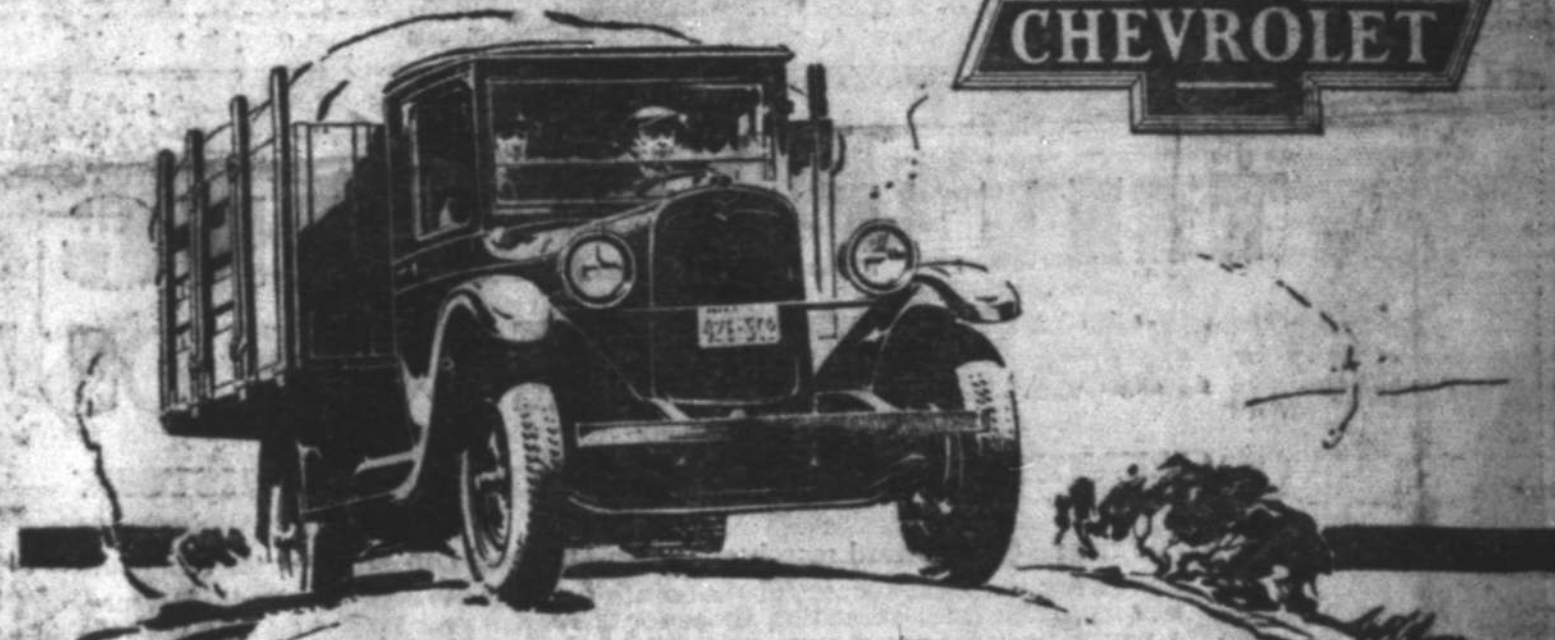

Two Reunions Held in State Each summer two reunions are held outside Abilene. This year the second will be at Waxahatchie Sunday, August 19.

While Abilene and its immediate vicinity annually sends a quota of students to Texas Technological college, Lubbock and the South Plains has furnished A. C. C. with some of its most illustrious students.

All A. C. C. folks will attend morning services at the Church of Christ in Lubbock. There will be a picnic dinner, followed by a rally at the church building, according to tentative plans.

A detailed program for the day will be issued in a few days. The cornerstone of the original United States capitol building was laid by President Washington Sept. 18, 1793.

Announcing the New Utility Truck

-another Sensational Chevrolet Value
4 Speeds Forward • 4 Wheel Brakes

Typical of the progressive design embodied in the new Chevrolet Utility Truck is a four-speed transmission with an extra-low gear, providing tremendous pulling power for heavy roads, deep sand and steep hills—and reducing to the very minimum the starting strain on motor, clutch and rear axle—

—powerful, non-locking 4-wheel brakes, with a rugged emergency brake that operates entirely independent of the foot brake system—

—and a new ball bearing worm-and-gear steering mechanism, which even includes ball bearings at the front axle knuckles!

And in addition, there are all those basic features which have been so largely instrumental in Chevrolet's success as the world's largest builder of trucks!

Come in and get a demonstration of this remarkable new truck. You'll find that it offers every feature needed for dependable low-cost transportation—and we can provide a body type to meet your individual requirements.

..... where dependability must be unquestioned

Summer heat makes EXTRA MILEAGE demands on the tires that you use on your car.

With so many places to which your car can take you... so many things to do... your tires must be thoroughly dependable.

And MILLER TIRES meet this challenge in such a way, that this phase of your intended trip may be entirely forgotten, for their outstanding performance on thousands of cars, is silent evidence of their superiority... that you too, may have this character of performance that erases all thought of tire trouble from your mind.

It will pay you to investigate the features of construction of the new Miller DeLux and the old reliable Geared-to-the-Road. When you buy either you can take to the open road with the feeling that comes with knowing that your tires are giving you what you want—speed with safety. Equip your car at the point where dependability must be unquestioned.

LOVE FOR TWO

RUTH DEWEY GROVES © 1928 by NEA Service

THIS HAS HAPPENED
BERTIE LOU WARD marries
ROD BRYER, who had previously been engaged to LILA MARSH.
The only shadow on the bride's happiness is Lila's habit of telling friends that she was Rod's first love.

A position in New York is offered Rod by TOM FRASER and he accepts. Anxious to make a good impression, they live beyond their income and Bertie Lou finds it hard to resist when MOLLY FRASER urges her to buy more than she can afford. She and Rod and to make matters worse Lila arrives to visit Molly and make life unpleasant for Bertie Lou. But they introduce her to a rich MR. LORCE and she surprises them by marrying him.

Lila asks Bertie Lou to forgive
the past and be friends and she consents. Trying to keep up with their wealthy friends plunges them in debt. Rod becomes depressed and Lila seizes her chance to persuade him to accept a higher salary from Fraser. She also induces Bertie Lou to indulge in an orgy of spending.

During Lorce's absence Lila asks Rod to put her jewels in the office vault. Later she requests him to return them and when they went this case the jewels are gone. Rod wants to notify the police but she will not let him. He finally promises to keep the loss secret if she will let him pay their value in installments
as he is able to save from his salary.

CHAPTER XXV
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

When the beggar Rod not to tell Bertie Lou of the theft Lila did not take into account his inaptitude for lying.

A few minutes after he left her apartment she had occasion to telephone Bertie Lou in regard to an engagement they had for the following afternoon.

In the course of the conversation
she mentioned that Rod had just returned her jewels.

Before he reached home Rod decided not to say anything about the matter to Bertie Lou because he knew he could not tell half the truth without revealing that there was a half he wished to conceal.

Bertie Lou knew he had lied with Lila on the day he took the necklace and bracelets to the office
so naturally she expected him to speak of having returned them.

As the evening wore on and Rod offered no explanation for his lateness in coming home Bertie Lou began to wonder. Oh, well, perhaps it had slipped his mind. He seemed to be deeply troubled about something.

"What's the matter with you, Rod?" she asked him finally. He had declined to go out on a motion picture show or to call anyone for a table of bridge.

"Nothing," he answered shortly.

and a trifle bristly. He did not want to be questioned. Bertie Lou was too keen.

He almost regretted that he had started out to keep her in ignorance of his trouble. But of course Lila was right. His desire for understanding and sympathy was a weakness—the same emotion that prompted a grown-up man to run to his wife with his troubles precisely as a little boy takes his troubles to his mother.

Rod stiffened his resistance. "I'm dread," he said; "worked late tonight."

He hardly knew he had lied. Had he been clever about it he'd have been very careful to tell Bertie Lou that he was at Lila's house.

Good stars! learn to leave a few loopholes. Rod was a novice. He said the first thing that popped into his head. Thought out logically it would have amounted to a desire to account for his state of mind. All right—tired. And a ready excuse for being tired was overwork. It was a preparation to him than an alibi.

But to Bertie Lou it was a shock.
She shrunk back in her chair—they were sitting before the fire—as though he had struck her. Her face went white. Rod was staring at the dancing flames he did not see the effect of his words.

In a moment or two she got up quietly and said she thought she would retire. Somehow, willing it with all the proud strength of mind
she possessed, she walked steadily out of the room.

The instant the door closed behind her in the bedroom Bertie Lou let go. Her world had turned suddenly topsy turvy with a ghastly understanding that left her giddy and gasp. She rushed over to the bed and flung herself upon it just as a great, wrenching sob tore itself loose from her throat. The pillow smothered it and received the flood of tears that followed.

All that Bertie Lou ever had suffered from Lila and all her tactics of fear came back to her now as a crushing load of proof of Rod's perfidy.

It came to her, her recent slight pique over Lila's influence with him
—the ease with which she had persuaded him to change his mind about accepting a position with Cyrus.

Bertie Lou raised her head and surveyed her charming bedroom with bitter-ironing. This was the place of Lila and all her tactics thrown to ally a credulous wife's suspicions.

Bertie Lou twisted her lips sneeringly over the memory of Lila's humble plea for friendship. "And I fell for it," she seethed herself.
"Opened the door and let her walk right in. Well, she left the piano, but she's got Rod living to me."

It was a brave attempt to get back on the familiar ground of youth's sarcasm for life but life,

or love, was too strong for her.
Again she stifled her sobs with the pillow, a very damp pillow now.

But she'd got to stop it, she told herself. Rod wouldn't sit out there all night. And she didn't know what she was going to do. She got up, turned the pillow over and went into her dressing room. Rod had one of his own; he would not come in here.

While she tore off her pretty dinner dress—Rod liked her in soft daily things and she dreaded to change him—she was beginning to think more calmly.

It was plain to her now that Lila had worried her way back into their good will with but one object in view—to reach Rod. That was why she had induced Cyrus to employ him, to pay him a handsome salary.

"So we'd think her an angel," Bertie Lou concluded with a feeling of contempt for both her own and Rod's blindness.

But beyond realizing that chance had exposed Lila's hand at this point Bertie Lou had no idea what had gone before. Tonight was the first time she had caught Rod in a lie, but that did not mean that it was his first lie to her.

Her impulse was to go and ask him. She threw a velvet negligee around her shoulders and started back to the living room. But another thought stopped her. Hadn't she been second choice when she married Rod? What would happen if she went to him now and taxed him with being still in love with his first choice? Could he help that?

Bertie Lou sank down upon the bench at her dressing table and buried her head on her crossed arms. What could she do? Rod was miserable. So miserable that he couldn't hide his true feeling any longer. He had come from Lila, perhaps so embittered at having to part from her that he was unable to pretend he did not feel for the girl he had married.

A wounded soul, struggling in the dark, can conjure up many torments. Bertie Lou's mental anguish was as real and intense as though all the painful conclusions
she reached were true ones.

Rod had lied to her. He had come from Lila and lied about it.
She began to feel sorry for him,
infinitely and hopelessly sorry. Lila might have found a way to shake herself back into his heart, but Lila was Lila. She always would be Lila. Let her pose. Let her fool Rod.

Cyrus and she might step aside,
but Rod could not find happiness with Lila. And then Bertie Lou knew that Cyrus never would step aside. He wasn't that kind. Rod could not have Lila.

But what should she do? She who knew how things stood between them. No—how they MIGHT stand. But she couldn't give Rod to Lila because Lila was not free to take him.

And Bertie Lou hadn't said to himself that she was willing to give Rod up.

Oh, it was a hideous mess. Her head was aching furiously now, and little darts of white light flashed before her eyes. She opened them for relief and the dressing room
swam about her like a rocking house at a fair.

She was so long recovering from the nervous shock she had suffered that Rod had gone to bed when she finally crept, heartick and weakened, to her pillow.

She knew Rod was not asleep
but she did not want to talk to him—not yet. The moment of challenge had passed. To face him with his lie and make him admit that Lila meant as much to him as ever, would precipitate a crisis. And Bertie Lou could see no solution for it.

She would have left him if she had proof that Rod had been unfaithful to her. But she did not believe that he had. It would do him no good if she freed him unless Cyrus would free Lila.

Bertie Lou admitted to herself that she loved Rod too much to leave him unless it would benefit
him or unless he made her action unavoidable. And surely there would be too many persons to suffer
over their separation to think lightly of it. Her parents and his. And the talk in Wayville. That would hurt them. And perhaps if she did nothing at all, Lila herself would end it some day by showing Rod
how she was playing with him
as a cat plays with a mouse.

Of course, life would never be the same for her again. Bertie Lou told herself, but she was not ready to cut herself adrift from all hope of chance to have even the crumbs of happiness.

In the morning, after an hour or two of fitful slumber, she was no nearer a decision in regard to her future than she had been the night before.

She did not get up and breakfast with Rod as was her habit. He left the apartment without the slightest idea that she was troubled with anything more than a headache, to which she confessed.

It required considerable steeling
of her will to face her engagement with Lila. They were lurching together and then going to a matinee.

Bertie Lou telephoned that she would meet Lila at the theater. Lila seemed relieved to omit the luncheon. And as soon as Bertie Lou hung up the receiver Lila called the office and asked for Rod.

Would he come to luncheon? She wanted him to meet the man they were talking about. Rod understood that she meant the detective.
He promised to be there promptly
at one as Lila requested.

That morning he had searched
the office and the safe carefully,
inch by inch, to see if he could discover any clues to the theft. He expended Cyrus' secretary that he had lost a valuable cuff link the day before.

He had not been out of the office
more than five minutes when Bertie Lou called in to tell him about a telegram she had received from Wayville. The girl at the switchboard told her he had gone up to Mr. Lorce's apartment.

Rod found the detective waiting for him when he arrived. The man's eyes bored uncomfortably into his when he asked about the lock on the case. Had he, Rod, for any reason sought to open it?

"Certainly not," Rod replied emphatically.

The detective turned to Lila.
"But you say it was in good order
when you gave it to Mr. Bryer?"
"I didn't say anything of the kind," Lila snapped. "I said I assumed it to be in good order."

"You had no trouble looking for it?" she hesitated a second. "No," she admitted reluctantly. "But see here, Mr. Weeks," she added, suddenly. "You're entirely on the wrong track if you think Mr. Bryer put that lock out of order."

Mr. Weeks stared hard at her.
"How do you know?" he asked at her sharply.

But Lila had her answer ready.
"Because he is playing for the jewels. And he could never dispose of them for their full value so what would he have to gain by stealing them?"

Weeks scowled. "Did you discover any clues at the office?" he asked Rod. Rod said no.

"Why are you paying for the jewels?" the detective questioned,
his words coming like machine gun bullets.

His manner angered Rod and he took his time about replying.
"Because they were in my care and I was responsible for them," he said. "Your first thought was that I had stolen them. Wouldn't everyone else think so, too? Well, I didn't do it, and when Mrs. Lorce consented to let me pay the insurance on them I considered that a wiser course than trying to convince the world of my innocence."

"And if you don't care to believe the truth and stop wasting time asking foolish questions you can drop the case," Lila spoke up.

The detective decided to do what was asked of him, regardless of his private opinions. There was something fishy here, but as no one seemed to be trying for redress he was willing to go on with his investigations along the lines laid down for him by his employer.

Before he left they arranged a way for him to search the office.
Rod would remain after the other employees were gone and admit him.
Lila made up her mind to be there too, but she said nothing of her intention at the time.

When Rod got back to the office
after lunching with Lila he found a memorandum of Bertie Lou's call on his desk. He tried to get her on the telephone but there was no answer.

Lila, too, tried to reach her, after standing 10 minutes in the lobby of the theater and losing her patience. She thought, when Bertie Lou did not answer, that she was on the way. It was, possibly, complete time, so she left Bertie Lou's ticket

States Consider Testing Eyesight

Danger Is Seen In Drivers Whose Eyes Are Bad And Thinking States Turn To Corrective Processes

By NEA Service.
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—States and cities are co-operating to keep off
the highways all drivers whose vision is regarded as unsafe, reports the Eyesight Conservation Council of America.

The council's aim is to require "safe vision" of every driver in the country.

"Previous surveys made by the council have revealed the prevalence of defective vision among all classes of the population," says the council's general director, Guy A. Henry.

at the box office and went into the theater.

Bertie Lou did not arrive during the first act. Lila was getting a little worried. She called the apartment again. Still no answer.

Well, if she didn't come by the end of the second act it might be a good idea to telephone Rod. But if he couldn't get the apartment,
either he would go tearing off home and forget about the detective. And Bertie Lou might arrive after all and make the upsetting of their plans a needless sacrifice.

The play ended and Bertie Lou did not come to the theater. Lila got into her car, the cabriolet that had thrilled her so the first time
she rode in it, and which now she would have exchanged on occasions
only for the old rattling car
that Rod and she had climbed poles and jumped fences in once upon a time.

She glanced at the clock on the panel above the rug rod and saw that it was about eight o'clock.
With ordinary luck in traffic she would arrive shortly after the office force had left her husband's place of business for the day.

The detective was there ahead of her. Through the open door of Cyrus' private office she could see him moving about the safe when Rod admitted her to the anteroom.

"Any clues?" she asked. They told her there was nothing at all.
For a moment she stood leaning against Cyrus' desk and watched the man move. "I never," she played around the corners of her mouth.

It was an hour later the detective left them. Lila turned to Rod. "Cy keeps some good stuff in his safe doesn't he? Let's have a drink."
"I'd rather not open it again," Rod demurred. "In fact I think I'd better be getting along. Lila, Bertie Lou was trying to get me by telephone and I haven't been able to reach her. I have a feeling that something is wrong."

(To Be Continued)

"It is regrettable that the legislatures or officials of the majority of the states have not designated standards of visual acuity for motor drivers. A few states have adopted eyesight requirements with significant results."

New York and Connecticut, for example, are weeding out the unfit in this way. Henry points out. So is Washington D. C., which is considered relatively the safest of the large American cities.

Based on experience in New York Charles A. Harrett, commissioner of motor vehicles urges all other states to adopt eyesight tests. New York now requires 50 per cent of normal vision of every driver. Previously it was 40 per cent. Nearly a half a million applicants were examined in New York last year and thousands had to have their sight corrected.

In Connecticut, out of 42,500 applicants taking the eye test, 2,200
had to have their vision corrected
before they could have their licenses. Licenses were refused to 30
because their eyes were so defective
as to handicap them seriously as automobile operators.

Traffic Code Is Offered To City Dads Of Country

Three Thousand Towns Will Have An Opportunity To Accept Or Reject It; Is Believed Efficient

By N.E. Service.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Three thousand cities in the United States have before them for adoption the standard traffic code that has just been drawn up here by the Committee on Municipal Traffic Ordinances and Regulation of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety.

This model traffic code, for uniformity in regulations throughout the country, has the backing of the U. S. Department of Commerce, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the American Automobile Association, the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Safety Council and other interested national organizations.

The unique feature of this ordinance is the fact that it gives the pedestrian as fair a chance in traffic as the driver. It has not been drawn up with the motorist only in view.

The pedestrian is given the right of way at crossings, where there is no traffic officer or signal to guide either him or the motorist. But the motorist, on the other hand, has the right of way between street crossings according to the new law. This is inserted to discourage jaywalking.

Other questions of right of way as between motorists are taken up in detail. Safety comes, passing of street cars, uniform use of traffic lights, special freight loading zones, and similar problems that have been coming up in the various cities are settled in this model code and suggested for adoption throughout the country.

"The completion of this task," says William E. Metzger, of Detroit, a member of the committee that drew up the ordinance, "paves the way for the establishment of a uniform system throughout the country. If it is generally adopted the problem of enforcement will be very much simplified."

"It has been difficult for both motorists and pedestrian to observe regulations which differ for each city and town. Uniformity is the first essential to successful traffic control.

Easier Control Seen
"The model code safeguards the pedestrian as well as the motorist. It lays down clearly and specifically the rights of both and formulates definite rules for meeting the complex problems that have arisen in the wake of the automobile."

"It represents the best judgment of traffic experts from all parts of the country and has been revised in the light of the criticism of police departments and traffic officials of many cities."

"I am convinced that the adoption of the model ordinance will result in the saving of many lives and the conservation of property, provided the police departments and the courts see that it is enforced."

Oakland Typifies High Speed Work

Motor Car Is In Owner's Hands Three Days After Bare Frame Is Ordered From Supply Stock

PONTIAC, Mich., Aug. 4.—From bare frame to finished motor car in the hands of the owner in three days—might be the title of this piece. It is another story with a new angle on the high speed methods popularized by the automobile.

The principal character in the story is the Oakland Motor Car Co., with several railroads and steamship lines interwoven into the theme.

Story Begins On Tuesday
The story begins on a recent Tuesday when the Pontiac division of the Oakland company had on hand scarcely enough car frames for a full day's output. Charles O. Miller, supervisor of purchases, got in touch with the suppliers, the A. O. Smith Company of Milwaukee. They had the frames in stock. R. L. Reese, Oakland traffic director, got busy with the railroads. They promised every aid.

On Tuesday morning the frames were loaded at Milwaukee on a Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific train. The Grand Trunk ferry brought them to Grand Haven, Mich., where the Grand Trunk lines held up a creek train more than two hours to get the shipment to Pontiac.

Assembled In An Hour

The frames arrived at the Pontiac factory on Wednesday morning, were immediately unloaded and started at one end of the assembly lines where, in an hour, they rolled off at the other end completed cars.

The Hokanson-Thompson Company, Oakland and Pontiac dealers for Milwaukee, had sent in a hurry-up order for new Pontiacs. The cars were taken from the Pontiac production line to Detroit and there loaded on a Nicholson Steamship company boat on Wednesday afternoon.

Friday Is Fins

The boat docked at Milwaukee on Friday morning, the cars immediately were delivered to their destination, arriving in the purchaser's hands by Friday noon—the cars built on the identical frames sent from Milwaukee on Tuesday.

Poultry Raising Proves Profitable In Howard County

Farmers Practically Paying Grocery Bills With Cream and Poultry Products Receive Good Prices

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal.)
BIG SPRING, Aug. 4.—Poultry raising in the Big Spring section has proved to be a very profitable industry during the past few years. More farmers are helping to pay their grocery bills with poultry and cream than ever before. Each year thousands of fine turkeys and chickens are shipped out to distant points in addition to an ever-ready market. This industry will be increased to a much larger degree within the next few years, the estimate is made by local feed raisers in this section.

Postal Receipts.—The postal receipts from December 1927 to January 1928 were $29,044 and for the year 1927-28 were $290,444. The year 1928-29 was estimated at $290,444, which was an increase of $100,000 over the year 1927-28.

The first child born in Lubbock was Maude Burns, now the wife of Rich McCrommon. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Burns, lived in Lubbock. Maude McCrommon was born in 1877 on the J. G. A. ranch in the Big Spring section of the county.

Dodge Announces Victory Six Model Sport Touring Car

Roominess and Comfort As Well As Beauty Used To Make New Car; Decorative Units Feature

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 4.—Addition of a sport touring car to the Victory Six line has been announced by Dodge Brothers, Inc. The body being built would be a trim, light, agile, and comfortable car. Upholstery is tan shark grain leather. Standard equipment includes six wire wheels, the two front fenders with trunk rack in rear.

Nickel Plating Prominent. Nickel plating of the windshield frame, head and cowl lamps, standards, molding, steering column, gear shift and hand brake levers, bumper, spare tire carriers, door handles, hood hinges and latches, and hubcaps add unusual beauty to the car. The windshield is designed so it can be pushed over forward when the top is down.

Instrument board equipment contains the starting button within easy reach of the driver. Grouped under a single glass panel illuminated by a hooded dash light are the speedometer, ammeter, fuel gauge, oil gauge and engine temperature indicator.

Roominess Features. Roominess in both front and rear seats is featured in the body construction. Seat cushions are built unusually wide and deep and adjusted at angles for maximum riding comfort. Riding qualities are completed by four hydraulic shock absorbers, while internal expanding hydraulic brakes match the acceleration and speed developed by the Victory Six engine.

Sunday Sermons

supply it with pure material with which to build or work. All people, especially children, idealize characters. Their heroes are not the real men who bear the honored names; but these real characters clothed in the robes of imagination weaves for them. "We look at a mountain twenty miles away; it wears not its own rugged face; all its bold jagged rocks, its rough ravines are smoothed over with the blue of the intervening distance." So historical characters are smoothed over, softened by our idealism. If we neglect to fill our child's mind with noble ideals, if we give it nothing on which to climb, it must then content itself with lower things. Just as the world's greatest achievements lived first in the imagination, so all sin and crime find there a starting place also.

The New Testament is full of appeals to the imagination. When Christ wished to teach some truth, he used a parable—a little story found in his imagination, appealing to the imagination of his hearers. The imagination which transforms a simple rabbi into a prince or erudite and furnishes a palace out of some boards and bits of broken crockery should be used in making Christ real to children. We can make our children acquainted with heaven through the imagination, which is the Bible way. We bear the present ills, because imagination enables us to take possession of the future. This inspires hope. We have learned to do this, and because of this learning no present ills seem without remedy. Children have it still to learn, because the bitterness of their early sorrows. We should never laugh at these childish sorrows. We should rather pity them, and help our little ones to be brave in bearing them by teaching them to find hope in the future compensation for the loss in the present.

We must take imagination into account in training to truth telling. Imaginative children often tell untruths unconsciously because they fail to distinguish between the things that they imagine and those that are real. The former are real for the time being. Unfortunately some parents seem to have been without a spark of imagination in them, or if they ever had it have been taught to crush it, and succeeded. What chance for proper development has a child entrusted to them?

I have known of such parents punishing a little girl conscientiously in the effort to rid her mind of such "fancies" and promote truthfulness. If they had been as wise as they were conscientious, they could have helped her develop a beautiful character. If they had only recognized and trained right her imagination, her creative faculty would have brightened her mind, and her life, crushed and despoiled, it darkened both.

How beautiful is the picture Sir Walter Scott gives us of his mother, who, he tells us, joined to a light and happy temper of mind a strong turn for poetry and work of imagination. He was lame from birth, so that at five years of age he could scarcely bear his weight upon his feet; his mind seemed sluggish, at least he did not take to the usual way of learning. Imagination was strong with him, and through this avenue his mind went out till it compassed the whole earth. We can see the little fellow now as he describes himself lying on the floor wrapped in the warm skin of a just-killed sheep—an old remedy for lameness—while his grandfather, an old man with a money bag, tries to incite him to crawl—he could not yet walk—by telling him marvelous tales of the great Scottish chiefs. Colonel McDougal, his grandfather's comrade, in his old military dress, kneels on the ground beside the child, dragging his wretched sleeve to coax him to follow. Both died when he was three years old, before he had learned to walk, but they stamped themselves indelibly upon his memory and live again in some of his beautiful creations. His grandfather told him thrilling tales of many border chiefs, and kind "Aunt Janet, whose memory will always be dear to me," he records read to him tales and poems over and over again with unflagging patience, until he knew them by heart. He was averse to study, but loved to read that he might read these wonderful stories for himself. His bright, happy, tempered mother, never tired of luring him on in learning's ways, reading with him Pope's translation of Homer, fairy tales and eastern stories and romances. Thus in this afflicted childhood and within his own home was fostered the genius through which Walter Scott alone could make himself felt upon the world. Through the imagination this "Wizard of the North" sweeps over the hearts of men with a potent spell. Well was it for him that his mother and other friends also possessed this faculty and recognized and encouraged it in him. Well, too, for the imaginative boy that the surroundings of his home were beautiful, presenting objects grand in themselves and venerable from their associations. Had Walter Scott been born on the middle of a big prairie, reared among unimaginative people with surroundings lacking natural beauty and historic association around which his imagination might be the poorer for the lack of "Ivanhoe" or "The Heart of Midlothian" and the "Lady of the Lake."

Imagination is a great help in laying plans for the future. He whose thoughts and purposes center in the present never transacts business successfully. His plan must reach out into the future, and in that future must be fixed the prize he hopes to win. Only imagination and hope can give him possession there. Memory gives him the past; consciousness puts him in possession of the present; imagination holds the key of the future. There is a future before each one of our children; we must plan for and teach them to do so if we would have them win success. Aimless drifting into a future for which no plan has been made, in which no goal is fixed, causes innumerable failures in life. Let us fill the future of our children with noble ideals; fix in each some one objective point toward which they can bend their energies, round which their imagination can twine, and it shall become the center of remembrance, of innocent ambitions, of generous purpose, and of deathless faith.

Thus alike to parents and children is imagination a gift of God, giving help over hard places, light in darkness, consolation in sorrow, making things real to us both in earth and in heaven, and putting us in possession of the future with its deathless hopes. Let us not begrudge the hour spent in "foolish prattling" with our children, giving free rein to their imagination and to our own. We and they are better for it; we have grown less worldly.

Major Hoople Has A Fit Over 'Justice'

Texas Judge Shows New York How He Feels About Pro-Law, Philosopher Says

BY MAJOR HOOPLE MCCORKLE

Avalanche Journal Philosopher

While we feel a lot more like discussing medicine and surgery this week than anything else, we will probably pass it up for the sole reason that we know nothing about either. We know how to take medicine—how to give it, and have been doing both for several days. We also know how it feels to nurse a "cracked" ankle, a well placed fracture entirely surrounded by a "sprain". We have often wondered why people used crutches—why they didn't throw them away, but now we know.

As soon as we learn a little more about propelling ourselves, we will give a free demonstration on Broadway. In the meantime we will just have about the house and wish somebody would come along and fuss with us—give us an opportunity to tell them our troubles.

New For Justice

But what we really wish to discuss at this time is "justice". Up in New York where there is little law and less order people are getting their first lesson in "justice" and we want to say right here that it isn't pleasing them at all. In fact we think that "justice" is about the last thing they want.

Bootleggers and "live" keepers have been running wild in Gotham and if one happened to be arrested it was just for the purpose of furnishing the newspapers with a little local news—they never "stuck" them and the arrested bootlegger profited in the end as he got a lot of free advertising and a "government" deal on his booze. If the test was good his business would pick up a hundred fold in 24 hours and his future was assured.

But for some reason or other they sent down to Texas for a Federal Judge, and said to say the poor boys didn't have any, "gumption" than to make an effort to "adhere" to the law. At least that is what the bootleggers are kicking about. The Texas guy instead of spreading a little whitewash and turning them loose began "peering" it on 'em" in a manner that was far from pleasing.

One Fellow Hard Hit

One fellow got 6 months in jail and a $500 fine for having a pint of liquor in his possession, and since then the liquor dealers have been wondering what would happen to a fellow who happened to own a fair saloon, or maybe a barrel. Well, nobody seems to know, but during the past week about a hundred "speakeasies" have been closed, and from reports some of them didn't care very much whether paid.

They tell us that champagne is selling for $25 a quart up there, and that in truth it is not champagne at all, but a bum grade of grape juice "spiked" with a little sheep or denatured alcohol. Alleged liquor sells for the princely sum of $15 a quart and buyers are plentiful.

Can Beat That Here

Why people this is awful—you can eat that in Texas in both grade and price. Down here they take a little bran and sugar and make a fairly good grade of "rot gut". Of course this stuff (commonly called corn) will kill you pretty quick, but it won't drive you crazy or make you blind. It would make an excellent bed-bug exterminator and when that Texas judge gets back home (if he ever does) it will probably be used for that purpose.

But back to the subject. We want to say right here that "justice" is something many people do not want. If they thought they would go into court and get justice they would hire all the lawyers in America to help them. Their cases continued. "Justice" is the thing they really crave, and it seems that up New York way they have been meeting out this "justice" to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. The Texas judge just hasn't "caught on to the ropes" or else he may be one of these fellows who is old-timey enough to stand for strict law enforcement. If this is the case we figure that he will have no less than 50,000 cases filed on his court dock before the year is ended.

Life-Time Job

Evidently he is a prohibitionist that believes in prohibiting the flow of liquor—a real dry pro—one that never takes a drink. If he happened to be a district judge the boys might "monkey" around and get their cases continued until they could defeat him and put in a man who wasn't so strong for justice. But the fellow is a Federal Judge and his job is for life. This means he doesn't have to run for re-election every two or four years, but just steadily in the boat and pour out "justice" according to the dictates of his own heart until a time when he will either die or resign. You just can't beat these fellows—they have it on you every way on earth, and they have a way of making you live it whether you really want to or not. When they say "rot gut" you are expected to "jump" and when they make a little "ruling" to fit some special occasion it is law.

The King of England looks like a country constable as compared with a Federal Judge when "power and punishment" are concerned. The king may "suggest" but there are others who do the "acting". The Federal Judge doesn't have to suggest—just "demand" and the controversy is closed.

It's Dangerous

Just what the Texas judge will do with the New York bootleggers we can not say, but we do know this—he is giving the boys something to think about. Many of them are actually scared stiff. If this justice was being meted out in Chicago, we would predict a "bombing party" or a "machine gun drive" for that is the way the Chicago gangsters end their troubles. However, the New York bunch, with few exceptions, have never been known as "killers". No doubt they would like to "bump off" a few judges and officers, but they seldom do. They just take a little trip to Sing Sing and learn a few more tricks and plan to be more careful when they "get out".

But the joke is on New York. Up there they have an idea that all the brains in the world is within an hour's ride of the Goddess of Liberty—that other people are very inferior, and especially those from the Lone Star State. It will probably "grin them to death" to have a Lonehorn judge issue out their "justice", but it will also teach them a few things. We hope so, at least, in the meantime we will just watch for further developments and bet on the Texas Judge.

LEAF WORM APPEARS

Howard County Reports Few Worms; Poison Ordered

BIG SPRING, Aug. 4.—A few leaf worms are being reported in different parts of the county and as a precaution a car of calcium arsenate has been ordered to be distributed to the farmers Monday morning. This poison will be distributed from the car at a cost of seven cents per pound.

The leaf worm has been successfully combated without serious injury for the past several years. Several car loads of poison were sold last year. The cotton crop of Howard county has averaged 2,000 bales for the last five years.

Noise Evil: Many

The stresses and strains of high compression, terrific speed, sudden starting and equally sudden stopping under the compulsion of four wheel brakes have enormously increased the possibilities for noise and shock—which have been overcome by bringing to bear resources of skill and knowledge acquired in years of experiment and experience. Silent flexibility, Hupmobile engineers explain, is accomplished in their cars by a combination of a large number of carefully worked out methods.

Previous against noise is made at no fewer than 123 points and contacts in every Hupmobile Century sedan. Six kinds of material are used for sound deadening and lubrication. Graphited tape, a material of practically permanent lubricating qualities, is placed under all brakes. Felt padding breaks up the scumming box tendencies of large panels. Floor boards are laid in a bed of non-drying friction paste to prevent squeaking.

MEETING IS LAUDED

Millions Hear Of Novel W. T. C. C. Meet

CARLSBAD, N. Mex., Aug. 4.—Two hundred, twenty-four Chambers of Commerce in West Texas and one hundred, five newspapers in New Mexico and the southwest have received information on the mammoth meeting here next Tuesday of the governors and highway commissions of the states of Texas and New Mexico. New York, Chicago and Kansas City dailies are expected to feature one of the most novel ceremonies ever held in New Mexico when the visiting officials join hands in Big Room of Carlsbad Cavern, 750 feet downward, in America's Super-Grand Canyon Underneath.

Chevrolet Builds

New Utility Truck

Four Speed Transmission Is Outstanding Feature; Car To Be Placed on Display This Week

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 4.—The Chevrolet Motor company, whose unprecedented sales and production record of placing on the road 750,000 "Bigger and Better" models since January 1, established a new mark for the sale of a new model, announces this week the addition to its line of a new utility truck. The new truck, which embodies several improvements, chief of them a four speeds forward transmission, four wheel brakes and channel steel bumper, went into production in the various Chevrolet plants July 2. It will be on view this week in dealers' showrooms throughout the country.

The four speeds forward transmission will insure a more efficient application of engine power. The extra low speed gear provides maximum pulling power on heavy roads and steep grades while normal driving requirements are met as usual with second, third and fourth speeds. A power take-off port, to which various power devices can be applied, is a further feature of the transmission.

The four wheel brakes are non-locking and supply a total of 317 square inches of braking, aside from an entirely separate and independently operated set of emergency brakes on the rear wheels. The front wheel brakes are of the internal expanding type, the rear wheel service brakes of the external contracting type, ensuring quick and positive stops regardless of grade or speed.

If Luck, Love and Money

A new low loading height, 41 inches from the ground, is made possible by a special "kick-up" feature of the long chassis. An unusually long frame support, extending behind the center of the rear axle, assures proper load distribution.

Tourist Record Is Expected For National Parks

More Than Three Million Visitors Will Visit Parks During Present Touring Season, Reports Show

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 4.—With the vacation season in full swing, reports to the National Park Service indicate that all records for tourist visitors to the national parks will be shattered this year. Preparations have been made by park officials to handle a minimum of 3,000,000 visitors, and it would be no surprise if the total exceeded that figure by perhaps half a million.

Automobile Is Responsible
The automobile, more than all other agencies combined, it is stated, is responsible for the greater use of the American people are making of these great national playgrounds. Figures for 1927 show that about four times as many visitors reached the parks by private automobiles as by train or other conveyance, and the ratio of auto travel to and through the parks is increasing yearly.

Possibly no better check could be made of the comparative popularity of the various makes of cars than is shown by the records of automobiles entering the national parks. These records show not only the number of cars from each of the 48 states, but the number of each different make and the number of passengers.

Yellowstone Is Largest Host
Yellowstone National Park, for instance, during the season of 1927, had 199,251 visitors. Of these, 41,683 came by rail, motorbus, on foot or horseback, while 157,568 toured the park in their own motor cars. In addition to cars from every state in the union and from Canada and Mexico, foreign visitors touring by automobile registered last year from practically every nation of South America and Continental Europe and from South Africa, Australia and China.

Yellowstone is the largest of the national parks, but Yosemite has the most visitors, due to its easy access from San Francisco and Los Angeles. Here the predominance of automobile visitors is even more striking, 444,572 of the 490,432 visitors last year making this trip in private autos.

May Reach 5,000,000 Yearly
Although the Yellowstone and the Yosemite have the greater number of visitors, increasing thousands yearly, finding the joys of an outing in some one or more of these great national recreation spots. Improved roads, together with more comfortable, more dependable machines, have approximately doubled the number of visitors since 1913. An annual visiting list of 5,000,000 may easily be forecast within the next few years, following the development of two great eastern parks—the Great Smoky and the Shenandoah—only recently set aside by congress.

SCHOOL TO OPEN

Littlefield College To Open September 25th

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 4.—The two dormitories of the Littlefield College, of 31 rooms each, are nearing completion. Temporary buildings will be erected to be used by the school until the administration building can be occupied. The authorities of the school expect to begin school September 25, 1928, and report that a good enrollment is assured.

HOW'S SHE HITTING?

By ISRAEL KLEIN

BY ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor, NEA Service
The spark plugs tell the condition of your engine.

Vice versa, the action of the motor will tell whether the spark plugs are giving full service. It is therefore essential that these little ignition units be kept in the best of condition. Tests have been made by ignition engineers into the working of this part of the motor, with the result that we have quite exact information concerning it.

This information, coupled with advice on spark plug and motor maintenance, should assure the motorist a good running car, provided he follows it.

Gasoline has several elements, including sulphur, that cause spark plugs to wear away. If sulphur is present in an excessive amount it will hasten deterioration of the plug electrodes as well as the valves. When the electrode is worn away by the action of sulphur, cleaning with emery cloth or a scraper is of no avail.

Another source of deterioration is the iron content in the gasoline.

This in time leaves a brown coating over the insulator. This coating, under certain conditions, is a good electrical conductor and causes missing of the engine because the spark current travels through the coating instead of jumping the gap. Since the coating can't be cleaned off readily, the best remedy is to change plugs.

Worn out spark plugs cause missing of the engine, which in turn produces the following six major troubles:

1. Oil pumping, causing formation of carbon and sticky valves.
2. Poor starting, and excessive drain on the battery.
3. Poor running.
4. Higher gasoline consumption.
5. Larger engine repair expense.

6. Poor driving satisfaction.

The condition of the motor can be revealed by examination of the spark plugs.

If the base of the plug is covered with a dry, hard lump carbon formation, the engine has good compression but is consuming too much oil. If the base of the plug is covered with an oily carbon, the engine is losing compression and is pumping oil.

If the plug base is covered with a fine, soft, dry carbon-like lamp-black, the engine has good compression but the carburetor is set too rich or the choke is not opening all the way.

If the plug base is covered with a fine soft carbon wet with gasoline the engine has either poor compression, the carburetor mixture is too rich, or the choke isn't open all the way.

If the base of the plug is wet with clean oil and gasoline, the ignition system is defective and isn't furnishing the proper spark to ignite the charge in the cylinder.

By making proper adjustments in spark plugs, and the rest of the ignition system you may save gasoline and oil, reduce the wear on the engine to a minimum and realize quiet and powerful operation.

It is recommended by spark plug engineers that these units be renewed about once a year.

New Trail Opened In Carlsbad Cave

Trail Between Kings' Palace And Big Room Opened To Public: Shortens Distance By Seventy Feet

CARLSBAD, N. Mex., Aug. 4.—The new trail between Kings' Palace and Big Room was formally opened to the crowd of 291 visitors in the cavern Sunday. The short cut eliminates a hump of approximately seventy feet and not only saves the climb but also shortens the distance and time between the two major scenic attractions of the cave. The new trail discloses new formations of popcorn and snowflake formations. Masses of rocks with fragile encrustations are new sights to the visitors' eyes. Other new trails, all designed with the idea of eliminating climbs, are now contemplated and several smaller ones are under construction.

Again the Hicks Rubber Co. Writes A Chapter in American Tire History

TIRE HISTORY

Announcement that there are now more than 100 Hicks stores and associated stores comes at a time when—

Crop reviving rains have so materially increased prospects in the Southwest that the many stores of the South's Largest Tire House look forward to exceeding by far their goal of $1,000,000 in Ten Weeks!

The record of growth in number of Hicks stores and associated stores:

Year	Number
1923	1 store
1925	10 stores
1926	30 stores
1927	70 stores

SUCH GROWTH, SUCH POPULARITY, SUCH SALES VOLUME AS IS BEING ENJOYED BY THE HICKS RUBBER COMPANY IS A RESULT OF THE PERFORMANCE OF DAYTON TIRES, DISTINGUISHED PIONEERS IN THE QUALITY CLASS.

This tire, the longest running tire in the world, with its red stripe insignia of distinction, started the super tire parade.

Six months ago it stood alone, even without imitation. Today, witness the rush to equal its quality. Five years ahead! Years of performance! Not promises and claims and guarantees, but performance and proven extra service.

Thousands of tire buyers testify to complete satisfaction.

We are glad to announce that the shortage of Dayton Tires has been virtually overcome through the splendid efforts of the Dayton Rubber Manufacturing Company to make the popular sizes of Dayton Stabilized Balloons as fast as our friends in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico have been buying them.

Striving to maintain prompt delivery of orders for the Hicks stores and associated stores, Dayton is shipping a carload of tires practically every day in the month to our stores.

Twenty-nine more carloads have been ordered to move during the month of August. Friends, we are doing our best.
