Traffic lights to be installed at busy intersection

Work on traffic lights is planned at I-20 and Hwy. 208 as one of the projects planned by the Texas Department of Transportation for the county in the next four years. Mitchell County will receive approximately $6 million in highway funding from the Texas Department of Transportation from fiscal year 1997 to fiscal year 2000, TxDOT officials announced last week.

The total planned expenditures for the 13-county Abilene District amounts to $107.85 million.

TxDOT's Transportation Improvement Plan includes $120,000 for landscaping and safety improvements in downtown Colorado City in FY1997.

Beginning this fall, the highway department will begin the peninsula landscaping project in the downtown area. The contract for the project will be let in August with work planned for the fall and winter.

$5.2 million is planned to be used in 1998 for 14 miles of rehab work on I-20 from FM1229 west of the city to the Howard County line. The work will tie into the current interstate rehab project. Another $100,000 is targeted for traffic signals and controls at the I-20/Texas 208 interchange.

In FY 2000, $900,000 will be spent microsurfacing I-20 east of the city limits to the Nolan County line.

The proposed projects and figures don't include minor maintenance projects such as seal coating and signs, said TxDOT engineer, Dan Richardson.

Dry conditions make fireworks very dangerous

Fire Marshal Billy Ray Williamson, asks residents to be extremely careful when using fireworks in the county this Fourth of July because of the very dry conditions.

The City ordinance prohibiting discharging or selling fireworks inside the city limits remains in effect but no ban has been issued against using fireworks in the county. Some counties around the state have restricted the use of fireworks this year because of the lack of rain.

Last week Governor George Bush responded to a request from Gray County to issue an executive order banning the use of and sale of fireworks in the county that includes the city of Pampa in the Texas Panhandle. Gray County is the first county in the state to ask

Dr. Aguillon closes office after 20 years

Dr. Thomas Aguillon's final weeks before his retirement have been very busy seeing patients, his wife, Brenda, who works in the office, said Friday.

June 28 is the last day his office will be open.

Dr. Aguillon has served as a physician in Mitchell County for 20 years. He practiced surgery until 1989 when he had health problems.

"He planned to retire then," Mrs. Aguillon said. However, with the improvement in his health he opened an office practice and continued to practice medicine for an additional seven years.

"Most of our patients have been with us the entire 20 years and it's hard," she said.

TU customers set consumption record

TU Electric customers cranked up the air conditioners last Wednesday during 100 plus temperatures, setting a record for peak load energy consumption.

System-wide—which encompasses one-third of the state's population and includes the Dallas/Ft. Worth area—19 million, 382 thousand kilowatts were used, said Paul Watson, local TU Electric manager.

Locally, Watson said the Morgan Creek plant was generating at full load capacity during that time.

The previous peak load consumption level of 19,180,000 occurred July 28, 1995.

Last week's peak occurred the day before the official beginning of summer, June 20.

Appreciation picnic planned for TDCJ employees

Local entities, the chamber of commerce and individuals have joined together to sponsor A Day In The Park for TDCJ Wallace Unit employees.

The event will be held August 10 at Ruddick Park.

The Cities of Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook, Mitchell County, Colorado Independent School District, Loraine and Westbrook School Districts, The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Mitchell County Hospital District are co-sponsoring the picnic.

This is the second year that a fun day in the park has been organized for employees of TDCJ, the county's largest employer.

Appreciation picnics are common for cities to hold for large employers. For example, Abilene hosts a large barbecue for employees of Dyess Air Force Base. It's billed as the world's largest barbecue.

Many communities who have felt fortunate to have prison units located in their areas have followed suit and hold barbecues or picnics annually. Snyder hosts a barbecue and dove hunt for their TDCJ unit and Lamesa held a cookout last year for their prison employees in honor of the anniversary of their prison unit.

Larry Fitzgerald of the TDCJ public information office in Huntsville said he frequently attends barbecues held by communities.

"A number of communities go all out for the employees of the units in their areas. We really do appreciate those places. It means a lot," said Fitzgerald.

All the local officials, such as county commissioners and chamber of commerce people, attended a picnic held for employees of the Stephenson Unit in Quero.

TDCJ units in Bonham also receive a large amount of commu-

Rodeo promises excitement

The Second Annual High Plains Junior Rodeo will be held here July 4, 5, and 6 at the Mitchell County Arena.

Co-sponsored locally by D.A.R.E. and the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, organizers promise a weekend of fun and excitement.

"We started working with the High Plains Junior Rodeo Association (HPJRA) back in October of 1994," said D.A.R.E. Officer Charles Rice, chairperson of the rodeo committee. "There are only 13 permanent HPJRA rodeos each year. We worked really hard to win a permanent spot on the circuit, and are proud that we earned that position last year."

More than 550 entries are expected at this year's rodeo and about 20 will be from Mitchell County.

"People travel from all over West Texas and eastern New Mexico to participate in these events," said Windi Fuller of the chamber of commerce. The participants earn points for placing in the different competitions, and they have to earn at least one point to compete in the finals in Clovis, N.M. later in the year, explained Fuller.

There are seven age groups for boys and girls and the events

San Antonio attorney found dead in home

San Antonio attorney Ruben Sandoval was found dead in his apartment June 19 of a self-inflicted gunshot wound, according to the Bexar County medical examiner's initial autopsy report.

Sandoval was known in this area as the attorney who represented the family of Sammy Gomez. Gomez was killed May 13, 1988 by Colorado City police as he was being arrested for questioning on rape charges.

According to the San Antonio Express-News story of Sandoval's death, records showed Sandoval was under financial siege from the Internal Revenue Service and creditors.

The June 20 Express-News described Sandoval, who practiced law for three decades, as "one of the best civil rights lawyers in the state."

He was long active in the League of Latin American Citizens and served as special counsel to two past national presidents of the League of United Latin American Citizens and to the United Farm Workers of America and Cesar Chavez.

Sandoval was vocal for many years about the actions of the San Antonio Police Department, at one time representing 20 plaintiffs in a civil suit against the city of San Antonio.

"Revered as a defender of the poor by many and scorned by some who claimed he unfairly attacked law enforcement, the 55-year-old lawyer had made himself known across the state for his defense of civil rights and his political turf battles," wrote the Express-News staff writers.

Sandoval was born in El Paso's poorest barrio and worked his way

Board reviews hospital plans

The board of directors of the Mitchell County Hospital District looked at revised architect plans for renovation/construction that included the nursing home and approved the purchase of $43,000 ultra sound equipment during Tuesday's regular board meeting.

Bob Cox of Cox Designs provided updated total project costs to the board. Renovation plan two with some renovation and some new construction combined with renovating Valley Fair Lodge nursing home would cost a total of $4,649,096. Total project cost for replacing both the hospital and nursing home facilities would be $7,839,180.

Cox visited and analyzed the nursing home facility last week. He told the board that the most significant problem with the facility is accessibility and recommended adding 1,300 square feet of construction due to increasing the length of the west wing by 38 feet to insert toilet modules. This would bring the facility up to standards required for the handicapped, ADA standards.

The board has been considering options for

COOK'S CORNER

Melissa Yanez openly admits that she loves to cook, but she despises doing the dishes. When she was younger, she would help her mom with the cooking. But when it came to the dishes Melissa said, "I would cry so I would be sent to my room and my brothers would have to wash dishes."

Melissa started cooking when she was about 10 years old. She doesn't really have a favorite when it comes to food, but her two sons do. They love bean and cheese burritos, homemade of course.

Mrs. Yanez works at Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company. The people she works with are sure glad she likes to cook. They say she's the only bookkeeper they've had who brings them food.

When asked about her worst mistake in cooking, Melissa immediately started laughing. "I tried to make popcorn in the microwave using regular popcorn instead of the microwave kind." She ended up melting a plastic bowl all over her mother's new microwave.

A few years ago, Melissa won third place at the Mitchell County Fair with her banana nut cake. She says she likes to make desserts, but doesn't eat them.

Melissa and her husband, David, have two boys, Gabriel, age 5 and Isaac, 3. She is the daughter of Rev. Felix and Linda Silva.

Barry Holman and Patricia Murdoch

Murdoch, Holman plan to wed

Rob and Karen Holman would like to formally announce the engagement of their son, Barry Holman, to Patricia Murdoch of San Angelo. The couple will be married on July 27 at Fort Concho Museum in San Angelo.

Barry is a lifetime resident of Colorado City and graduated from high school here. He attended Western Texas College in Snyder and Tarleton State University in Stephenville. He is currently self employed as a horse trainer in Colorado City.

The parents of the bride elect are Mr. and Mrs. Billy Nelson of San Angelo and Al Murdoch of Lewisville, Texas. Patricia graduated from Christoval High School, attended Angelo State University and served four years in the United States Navy.

She is currently employed at Allen Young Office Machines in San Angelo. The daughter of the bride is Miss Tamara Murdoch, who will be standing up with her mother.

After their honeymoon to Las Vegas, Nev., the couple will reside in Colorado City.

THIS 'n' THAT

By Sheila Plagens
Greetings to everyone!

This must be the "lazy" days of summer. Doesn't seem to be much going on.

Former Colorado City resident Doug Baum, now the drummer for up-and-coming country and western singer Trace Adkins, begins a five state tour July 3. The band opens for Patti Loveless in Kentucky June 3 and Brooks and Dunn July 5, 6, and 7 in Rhode Island, New York and Connecticut.

Doug is the son of Jim Baum.

I hear the kids and adults visiting the Palo Duro Canyon last week had a "hot time". Isn't that the way it usually is? Plan a trip and it will always fall on one of the hottest days of the year. Some reported that the temperature reached 107°.

Even with the hot weather, I think everyone had a good time.

Speaking of the trip, Joan Thompson had a run-in with a window in the dorm at Canyon. Could it be she is getting a little "older" and couldn't see as well?—since the next day was her birthday! Happy belated birthday, Joan!

Donna Johnson had an episode with a water roach Monday night. Seems one showed up in her bathroom sink. Not wanting to step on it and unsure what to do, she called a friend, who told her she could freeze it.

Off to the kitchen for ice and rubbing alcohol. It took a shower of an entire bucket of ice and bottle of alcohol, but finally the roach stopped moving. Curious, Donna poured warm water on it to make sure it was dead. No, it was not, so she had to crunch it with a shoe, after all. Watch out for those waterbugs!!

You may have read the article on the front page about Dr. Aguillon retiring after 20 years of practice in Mitchell County. We wish him the best in his retirement.

Thank you, Mrs. Jack (Mary Love) Allbright of Odessa for all the kind words about our newspaper and this column. Although she lives in Odessa, she still considers Lorraine her home. She said it is great to get the newspaper each week and read about friends and relatives.

Thanks, again!

Lindsey Lovell was in town this week with her dad. She stopped by the office Tuesday for a visit.

On page 5 of today's paper, you will see an entry form for the Miss Nanny contest at the boer goat cookoff in Lorraine. I know a lot of good nannies out there, my mother included, so be sure to enter the contest!

Matthew Kent Young and Marlyn Ann Kay

Kay, Young plan July wedding

Marlyn Ann Kay, daughter of James D. and Mary Ann Kay of Midland, and Matthew Kent Young, son of Major Dana E. and Gert Young of Abilene, plan to marry in an evening ceremony July 13 in Dyess Air Force Base Chapel, Abilene.

The bride elect holds a bachelor of science degree from McMurry University. She is a teacher in Midland ISD and a member of Pi Delta Phi and HEI. The prospective groom attended McMurry University and is transferring to the University of Texas of the Permian Basin, where he plans to finish his political science degree and continue on to law school. He is a member of HEI.

Maria Rebecca Morales and Don Douglass Hurt

Engagement announced

Maria Rebecca Morales and Don Douglas Hurt have announced their engagement.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guadalupe Morales of Snyder.

The prospective groom is the son of Paul Hurt of Abilene and Donna and Jack Starr of Colorado City.

The couple plans to be married August 17, 1996 at 2 p.m. in Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church, Snyder.

Because of a change in the contract for Title V services and a loss of staff, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC), which has been administrator of the former Texas Department of Health Title V clinics, will no longer provide clinical services at the Colorado City office.

Patients eligible for Title V services may see Dr. Dee Roach and Lorrin Scott, P.A. Appointments may be made by calling 728-8769.

TTUHSC patients are required to sign the authorization for release of patient information so that copies of their medical records may be released by TTUHSC to Dr. Roach or any other provider the patient chooses.

Forms may be brought to the clinic from 8 a.m.-12 noon and 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday from July 11 through August 9. The clinic is closed June 26 through July 10.

Immunizations for older children and adults will continue to be provided at the Texas Department of Health building on Hickory Street.

Call Mary Ann Fincher in the Colorado City clinic at 728-5796 before August 9 or Terri Ravnik in Lubbock at (806) 743-2933.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

By Jim Baum

(Today's column is a continuation of excerpts from a letter written by the late Spade Ranch manager, Otto Jones, to his grandson, Ray Kayser of San Antonio. The letter was written January 1, 1973, and concerns his 59 years of marriage to Myrtle, or as Jones called his wife, "Honey.")

Otto Jones referred to this letter as "Breaking Her In," as he introduced his bride to ranch life. That included riding horseback.

"I bought her a cushion seat saddle from S.D. Myers, Sweetwater," Jones wrote. "Cost $40.00. She naturally needed to make a hand to break in the new saddle. In February we rounded up half of the Renderbrook pasture. Had quite a lot of trouble penning at Cedar pens.

"Honey was mounted on a gray horse named 'Reed' which had been Uncle Dick Arnett's top cuttin' horse. I was off running a cow route when old Reed 'sucked them up' and lost his pack. (Honey.) Uncle Fred got her mounted again quickly but failed to brush (off) her back. The main thing she asked was 'not to tell Otto.'

"After we got the herd in the corral, I noticed the grass and dirt on her, and I said, 'I think old Reed lost his pack!' " Otto didn't say what, if anything, he said to Honey.

Another story related by Jones told of a time he put his wife on "a little dun black maned (saddle pony) named Polecat.

"I mounted her early one morning and we went to Old Red Tank where C.E. Webb was fixin' a hole in the dam that was about as big as the White House. We ate dinner with the tank crew then went one and a half miles up in section 10 to look at another tank that had a hole in the dam.

"It was nearly sundown when we got back to the ranch. Old Polecat had a nice dog trot. Anyway, she (Honey) got well by spring."

To put in perspective, what Jones was saying about his bride, his grandson, Ray Kayser, points out, "My Grandmother was saddle sore after being on Polecat all day and it took her 2-3 weeks to recover. The ride took place in early March and she 'recovered in the spring.' Even though a dog trot is, in fact, a gentle rolling pace, it is a long ride from Renderbrook headquarters to Red Bank Tank and back."

No telling how many snake tales Otto Jones could have told. His letter, written on his and Honey's 59th anniversary, does offer one good story.

"One night we were after dark getting back to the White House after supper. As I walked through the open hallway, I thought I felt something around my ankles. I didn't say a word, just walked on, when it, the snake wrapped around my bride's ankles. She wasn't wearing boots. She stampeded, also let out an awful scream.

"I knew all the time it wasn't a rattlesnake."

Jones went on to say that a few days later, on a Sunday morning, he and Honey were sleeping late in the west room of the White House.

"I noticed a varmit (snake) sticking his head out the top of the window sill. After it happened 2 or 3 times, I thought that I might as well tell her. The coachwhip then exposed about a foot of itself.

"I spent the rest of that Sabbath day stopping those window sills top and bottom."

Of course, there were other tests for the young bride as she was "getting broken in." For instance, Jones wrote that "Old man Lee Wilson came by headquarters, he was the tick inspector, said she had 13 sheets on line, big sandstorm and the clothesline broke. He told me I'd better go home as maybe she was going back to Sweetwater."

On a final note, grandson Kayser says his grandfather had an occasional chew of tobacco.

"Like maybe 4 times a year," Kayser told us. "If he got any spots on his shirt and then got questioned by Honey, he would exclaim, 'Why that's from the chocolate candy!' (Jones always kept some Hershey bars in his car.)

In the early part of their marriage, beginning in 1913, Otto may have been "Breakin' Her In." But, like most marriages, it sounds as though the break-ee eventually became the break-er.

Eventually times haven't changed too much.

West H. McCollum

McCollum appointed Army warrant officer

West H. McCollum received his appointment as a warrant officer in the U.S. Army April 10, 1996 after completion of the Warrant Officer Candidate School at Ft. Rucker, Ala.

The Aguillons have no definite retirement plans.

"We don't know yet. We'll take each day as it comes," said Mrs. Aguillon, although she did say Dr. Aguillon planned to visit relatives in California and fish.

Dr. Aguillon practiced in Iowa before moving to Texas. Mrs. Aguillon said she remembers vividly the first time they saw Colorado City and recalls that they loved it immediately.

Do they have special plans for that final day the office is open?

"We'll see patients until we close that day," she said, adding that it had been a great 20 years.

Miss Nanny contest set at Boer Goat Cookoff

The World Championship Boer Goat Cookoff committee has announced a "Miss Nanny" contest for ladies over the age of 65.

Miss Nanny will reign over the Second Annual Boer Goat

Festival August 2, 3 and 4 in Loraine.

Miss Nanny contestants will ride in the parade planned for Saturday morning. Contestants will then be interviewed and asked to tell a story of a life experience.

Miss Nanny will win a $300 donation to the charity of her choice. The first runner-up will receive a certificate enabling her to donate $200 to the charity of her choice and the second runner-up will be able to name a charity for a $100 donation.

The idea to hold a Miss Nanny contest came from cherished members of a family who care for the "kids".

"At a boer goat cookoff, we have lots of 'kids'. Plus we wanted a way to honor all the special older women in our area," said Linton Ray Webb, an event organizer.

"Everyone who enters will be treated like royalty," said Maz Webb, "so if you think you have a special Mom, enter her in the contest."

Contestants need to return their applications by June 28.

MISS NANNY CONTEST ENTRY FORM

Entrants should be over the age of 65. They will be judged on their appearance, personality and wit. Interested women should submit their entry forms by Sunday, July 28.

Boll weevil information session slated June 27th

For the benefit of cotton growers in the Rolling Plains who have questions about assessments and the status of the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Program, an information session will be held in Snyder on Thursday, June 27 at 7 p.m. in the Senior Citizens' Building, 2603 Avenue M.

Because of recent extreme weather conditions in many areas of the 19-county Rolling Plains Central Zone, the Foundation's board of directors approved a plan to offer refunds for failed acres and discounts for early payments, said Frank Myers, executive director of the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, Inc.

Program personnel will be on hand to answer questions about this assessment plan, including an explanation of refunds and discounts, and to offer a general update on program operations.

Correctional officers face dangerous inmates daily

Buckley Atkinson never saw the punch coming.

One moment he and two other guards were searching for contraband in a prison day room. The next minute he was careening to the floor, bones on one side of his face splintered and his eyeball dangerously close to falling out of its socket.

"It felt like somebody took a steel skillet and hit me in the side of the head," Atkinson, 34, a corrections officer for 12 years, says of the May 10th incident.

"He [an inmate] snuck up behind me, stepped around me and caught me with a right roundhouse to the cheek. When he hit me, it kind of made hamburger meat of my cheek."

Atkinson, who missed 29 days of work at the Clemens Unit of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice while his wounds healed, is not alone.

The job of guarding the nation's largest prison system is more dangerous than ever, statistics obtained by The Associated Press show.

While the inmate population has risen 158 percent since 1990—from 49,209 to 126,746 through 1995—assaults on officers are twice that rate.

In 1990, the department recorded 153 assaults. Last year, there were 739.

Another way of interpreting the data is that there was one assault for every 321 inmates in 1990. By 1995, there was one assault for every 171 inmates.

Texas is not alone and not the worst.

Nationally, 6,860 assaults were reported in 1994, a prison industry trade journal, Corrections Compendium, reports in its June issue. California had the most, 1,603, with an inmate population averaging more than 118,000. That accounted for 23 percent of all assaults from the 39 prison systems that responded to the journal's survey.

The U.S. Bureau of Prisons had 1,193 staff assaults while housing nearly 89,000 federal inmates. New Jersey was next with 932, but only 24,600 inmates. The 39 corrections agencies reported an average 176 attacks.

For 1995, the number of attacks nationally declined slightly to 6,788—or 170 per system—with California's 1,309 again the highest, accounting for 19 percent of the total. The federal prison system was next with 1,272 assaults, followed by New Jersey's 769 and then Texas.

The pace is continuing this year. Through March, Texas Department of Criminal Justice figures show 164 assaults.

The most serious, and not yet included in the statistics, was the rape and beating of a female officer at the Telford Unit near New Boston in April.

"You have to be very aware of your surroundings," says Robert Merlo, another corrections officer at the Clemens Unit. "You have to be very careful."

Merlo speaks from experience.

On May 6, he and two other officers were breaking up a fight in a group of about 25 inmates when they all got jumped.

"While we were on the floor, it was open season on me," Merlo says.

Help from other officers is always just seconds away, guards and prison officials insist. But by the time additional forces arrived, lobbying in tear gas to quell the fracas, Merlo had suffered a concussion and injuries to his left eye. He was off the job for seven days.

"After I got back, I marked my boundaries," he says. "We tell them: 'You come within two feet, there's gonna be some problems.' They try to avoid me."

Some prison officials believe the demise of early release and curtailment of parole, due to the increased prison capacity, persuades inmates they have nothing to lose by being belligerent. Another opinion is that prisoners, many of them repeat offenders, have become more hardened.

Yet another view is that the push to build new prisons and hire people to staff them has meant a relatively inexperienced workforce. The number of officers and wardens, for example, has more than doubled from 12,187 in 1990 to 26,072 in 1995.

And others say violence behind bars is just a reflection of society, especially among teenage offenders and those in their twenties.

That younger inmate accounts for many of the 830 prisoners at the Clemens Unit, a maximum-security prison where an 18-year-old robbery convict was fatally stabbed during a fight this month.

"The biggest thing I've noticed is that inmates basically have lost respect for officers and staff," James Byrd, the warden at Clemens says.

"It's this attitude. They didn't have respect for parents. They didn't have respect for teachers. They didn't have respect for law or any other form of authority."

Tim Flanagan, dean of the Criminal Justice Institute at Sam Houston State University, notes nationally 92 percent of inmates don't have jobs to keep them busy in prisons.

"You've got people jammed into these places without a whole lot of productive things to do," he says. "That can give rise to violence among inmates, which spills over to violence against staff."

"Some days you can feel the tension," says guard Roy Salinas, 29, who got a black eye in the brawl that seriously injured Atkinson.

Minor infractions like spitting on a guard or touching a guard can be considered assault, although such events likely will prompt disciplinary hearings against the inmate and can result in restrictions on privileges.

Serious attacks go to the local district attorney for consideration of felony charges.

Officers get six weeks of training before they are assigned to a Texas prison, then two weeks on-the-job training before they are assigned to a regular shift. They also get 40 hours in-service training annually.

The basic instruction on use of force is that you meet light force with a light response, says Byrd, a 22-year veteran of Texas prisons.

Boll weevil office opening soon

The Colorado City district office of the Rolling Plains Central Boll Weevil Eradication Zone will begin moving boxes into the building this Thursday and will open for business as soon as possible after that, said District Supervisor Nikki Raff.

Benefits to the local economy are expected to exceed $6 million over several years, Raff said during a luncheon speech before Noon Lions Club members.

Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, Inc. officials estimate that salaries for the first year locally would amount to $255,000, increasing to $616,000 the second year. Over a four year period they estimate that more than $6 million will be spent here.

"Boll weevil eradication offers a 12-to-1 return on an investment," Raff said. "For every dollar spent on eradication, $12 are returned to the local economy."

The district office, one of seven district offices in the 19-county Rolling Plains Central zone, encompasses Mitchell, west Nolan, Fisher, and a corner of Scurry County.

The local office, located in the former Ed Lee Building on South Hwy. 208, will employ a total of 35 people, with the majority working during the summer cotton time, said Raff. The office staff will include the district supervisor, two supervisors, two who will run traps, and a secretary. The two field supervisors will begin work July 1.

The eradication program is expected to continue for four years with maintenance for an indefinite amount of time.

Other district offices are located in Stamford, Rotan, Snyder, Haskell, Munday and Merkel. The zone headquarters is located in Stamford.

WALLACE UNIT inmates renovate the old Ed Lee Building on South Hwy. 208 for the opening of the new Boll Weevil Eradication district office. The business is expected to employ 35 people in the local office.

Bush to use his authority to enact a ban under powers granted by the Disaster Act of 1975.

According to U.S. Department of Transportation figures, there were 6,076 fireworks related fires in 1994. Dollar loss for that year was $7,669,322. There were 13,185 injuries related to fireworks in 1994. The statistics also show that for every 100,000 young people between the ages of five and 14, there were 12 fireworks related injuries.

Williamson had some advice for those who will be using fireworks in the county:

•always follow the instructions on the labels;

•young people and children should always have an adult present when using fireworks.

He especially discouraged setting off bottle rockets and aerial fireworks.

"It's often the aerial fireworks that cause the most fires," he said.

The Texas Pyrotechnics Association (TPA) has agreed to voluntarily ban the sale of certain aerial fireworks around the state.

According to a press release from the TPA, in addition to voluntarily pulling certain products from their shelves, TPA vendors also plan to distribute safety materials to customers and produce a series of public service announcements about fireworks safety.

"We believe that Texans will shoot fireworks over the fourth, and we believe that removing many aerial fireworks from our stands, designating safe areas for the enjoyment of fireworks, and encouraging consumers to use common sense will ensure a safe and enjoyable Fourth of July," said Royce Trout, Secretary of the TPA.

an appreciation day that aren't often mentioned:

1. By the nature of the work, prison personnel are often isolated from the community so there's little opportunity to get to know them.

2. With state jails waiting to open around the state, "I think how well those units are received in the community might make a difference in Austin when they're deciding which ones to open first and which ones to open last," he said.

3. "I think someday they're going to start closing some of these units and converting them into something else. When they do, again, we need people to know that we're appreciative of what we have and we want to keep them."

upgrading the hospital for the last several months). Cox suggested Tuesday that the next step could be an in-house study on operating alternatives—What are the operating ramifications of the different plans? What effect would there be from the energy savings from a new facility?

After the new perspective provided by the study, the various options would be clearer, Cox said.

No action was taken following the presentation and board members then quickly approved purchasing the ultra sound equipment. The cost effectiveness of owning rather than sending patients to other facilities who had the equipment had been discussed at earlier meetings. Ultra sound equipment would enable physicians to do numerous studies such as deep vein, cardiac, testicular, breast and carotid.

through St. Mary's University School of Law.

According to the Express-News, police officers found the lawyer's body in a chair in a bedroom of his apartment, with a .30-.30 caliber Winchester lever action rifle in his lap. The chair was facing the bed and the butt of the rifle was resting on the edge of the bed, said a San Antonio homicide sergeant.

It appeared that a bullet had entered Sandoval's mouth and came out the back of his head, the sergeant said.

Detectives found no suicide note.

"An examination of Bexar County records Wednesday revealed that Sandoval was dealing with a tangle of financial problems," wrote Express staff writers.

According to records, the IRS had placed tax liens totaling $85,226 against five properties that were in Sandoval's name.

Last February he was sued by the man from whom he was buying the $300,000 building in which his office was located.

Also in February, he was in court with his ex-wife, Sylvia Morales, for non-payment on $200,000 he had agreed to pay during a 1988 divorce. The couple had two children.

Signup for enrollment continues

Signup for enrollment in the Agricultural Marketing Transition Act Program will continue until July 12, 1996.

If your farm has a crop acreage base, you may want to enroll the acres in a production flexibility contract. Failure to enroll your farm will prohibit the enrollment in the future.

CRP participants who have contracts that expire after the July 12 signup period will be eligible to enroll the bases protected by the CRP contract upon expiration of the CRP contract.

Contract acreage may be planted to any crop except fruits or vegetables, or may be left idle. Acreage planted to a hay or grazing crop may be harvested or grazed at any time. Weeds must be controlled as well as wind and water erosion on contract acres.

The final date to certify spring seeded crops is August 15, 1996. Acreage that is required to be certified is as follows:

1. Fruits and vegetables planted on any contract acreage on the farm.
2. Acreage of a crop for which a marketing loan might be requested.
3. CRP acreage.
4. Crops for which non-insured assistance program benefits might be requested.
5. Acreage of crops that are insured by a cat policy serviced by the Farm Service Agency.

The Federal Agriculture Improvement Reform Act of 1996, signed into law on April 4, 1996, specifies that deficiency overpayment amounts will be automatically deducted from production flexibility contract payments.

Producers who enter into the Agricultural Marketing Transition Act Program by signing Form CCC-478, Production Flexibility Contract, agree to have their PFC payments automatically reduced to satisfy deficiency overpayment amounts. Some producers had submitted early offset or multiple payment plan agreements. These agreements are now void.

1996 Final PFC payments, issued by September 30, 1996, will be automatically reduced for wheat, barley, oats and upland cotton deficiency payments. The 1997 advance PFC payments will be automatically reduced for corn and grain sorghum deficiency overpayments and any remaining outstanding overpayment amounts. Interest will not accrue on overpayment amounts offset from PFC payments.

Producers may also elect to have their 1996 advance PFC payments reduced to satisfy deficiency overpayment amounts. Producers wishing to offset their 1996 PFC payments must provide written notification to this office.

If you have requested and are currently grazing CRP acres, you are required to report within 10 days of the date that your livestock are removed to avoid additional grazing fees.

Before you destroy planted acres of cotton or grain sorghum, be sure to file an acreage report and an ASCS-574, Request for Disaster Credit with the Mitchell County FSA office.

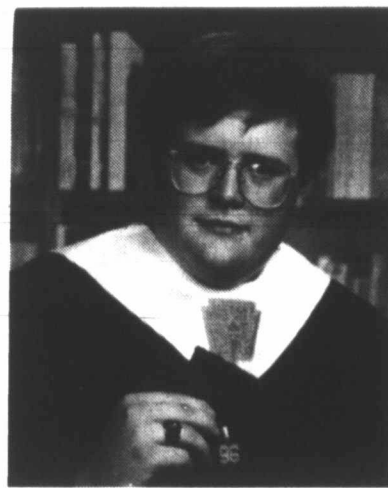

For failed acreage and boll weevil assessment, if acreage is failed, it must be certified and an ASCS-574 filed at the county FSA office. Copies of these forms plus a TBWEP Proof of Cotton Destruction must be submitted to the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Inc. in Abilene in order to receive credit for failed acres.

If you have questions or need to make an appointment to sign up for the 1996 farm program, stop by or call (915) 728-2651.

Third consecutive year...

Graham named to Who's Who

Zane Graham

Dewey Shepherd chose him and in his senior year he was selected for the multiple year award.

Zane graduated 11th in the class of 1996 with an advanced honors transcript. There were 77 students in the senior class. While a student at Colorado Middle School, he was a two-year member of the National Junior Honor Society, and as a student at Colorado High School, he was a two-year member of the National Honor Society.

He mastered all objectives on the TAAS test his sophomore year and received a medal for recognition of those efforts (and was TASP test exempted).

Zane was a nine-year member of Mitchell County (Lone Wolf) 4-H club and he received the highest award, the Gold Star in 1993. Also, he was a 10-year member of Cub and Boy Scouts and received the highest and most prestigious award, the Eagle Scout award in 1993. He is presently a member of the National Eagle Scout Association.

Zane has performed numerous hours of community service in school involvement, 4-H activities and scouting and has received many honors and awards.

Zane is presently enrolled at Texas Tech University for the 1996 fall semester and 1997 spring semester and will be majoring in accounting with a minor in computers.

Farmers are now asking question "What to do?"

With almost 50,000 acres in cotton throughout the county, almost half was planted this year "as if" there was sufficient moisture.

The other half, mostly in the southern portion of the county, has cotton up and could do well if there are timely rains, said Mike Sweatt of the Farm Service Agency.

Now that the June 20 date to certify crops for insurance purposes has passed, many farmers are faced with the decision of what to do with their crop.

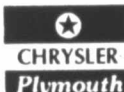

Spring rains helped fields in the southern part of the county but seemed to detour around fields north of the interstate.

"Up north, there are real skimpy stands," said Sweatt.

He reminded farmers that they must wait seven days after the final planting date to release their crop for insurance purposes.

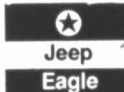

While planting another crop is an option, Sweatt said the FSA must be notified if a crop is to be plowed up.

"We encourage them to come in and certify their acres before they destroy them," said Sweatt.

FHA students attend training camp

Several FFA students from Colorado High School recently attended the Area II FFA leadership training camp at Howard College in Big Spring.

Sponsored in part by the Texas FFA and Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, the camp is open to all Area II FFA members. Students register for the camp before the school term is finished. This year's camp in Big Spring was attended by more than 250 FFA members representing more than 50 different FFA chapters.

The camp workshops this year included Public Relations, Motivational Teamwork, Attitude and Ethics, and Chapter Activities. The workshops are presented each year by the State FFA officers and the Area II FFA officers.

Jamie Ellis, Colorado City's own chapter president and Area II first vice president, presented the workshop on public relations. Jamie was also voted this year's outstanding new officer instructor by the campers.

Carrie Perkins attended Incoming State Officer Training camp in Trinidad, Texas, where she attended workshops on leadership and public speaking. The state officer training camp was hosted by TU Electric.

Jini Rae Sparkman

Jini Sparkman awarded scholarship and grants to Graceland College

Jini Rae Sparkman, daughter of Harold and Patsy Sparkman of Colorado City, has been awarded a $2,000 academic scholarship, a $3,000 basketball grant, a $1,000 volleyball grant, and a $1,000 student leadership grant to attend Graceland College for the 1996-97 academic year.

Graceland is a four-year college located in Lamoni, Iowa and has an on-campus enrollment of approximately 1,100 students.

TSTC course gets accreditation

Texas State Technical College Sweetwater's automated technology program has received specialized accreditation from the Associate Schools and Programs (ACBSP).

ACBSP is a specialized accrediting body that reviews the quality and integrity of business degree programs. Accreditation by ACBSP is based on an independent evaluation of an institution's business program by a group of professionals including faculty and academic administrators in the business field.

The educational quality of a business program is determined by a variety of inputs including educational activities and outcomes such as student placement, employers' evaluations of graduates, graduating seniors survey, and others.

"Accreditation is a means of assuring students, parents and the business community that those programs have met rigorous criteria which indicate a high and acceptable level of educational quality," said Donna Stracener, program chair for the automated office technology (AOT) program.

"The faculty and staff in the AOT department prepared for well over a year for the ACBSP visit and we are extremely pleased to be recognized with the ACBSP accreditation," she said.

Texas State Technical College Sweetwater is the second associate degree granting institution in Texas to receive ACBSP accreditation.

A Hardin-Simmons University student from Colorado City was one of 228 receiving degrees in the university's commencement exercises.

Donna Clark received a bachelor of behavioral science degree in the May 11 ceremony held in Behrens Chapel.

Dr. Lanny Hall, HSU's president, encouraged graduates to visualize success in their lives, encouraging them to plan as they pursue careers.

Local students named to honor lists

Two students from Colorado City have been named to the president's and dean's honor lists for the spring 1996 semester at South Plains College, Levelland.

Priseilla Molina was named to the president's honor list and Nedra Walthall was named to the dean's honor list.

"We commend these students for their perseverance and dedicated attention to their studies," said Dr. Gary McDaniel, SPC president.

Those named to the president's honor list must maintain a perfect 4.0 or straight A grade point average while carrying a minimum full-time load of 12 semester hours. Students named to the dean's honor list must maintain a minimum 3.25 GPA while carrying at least the same number of hours.

Losers' Bracket

Major League All-Stars to play in Rotan tourney

The Major League All-Star Tournament is scheduled to begin July 1 in Rotan. The five team field consists of Sweetwater, Tri-County, Snyder, Rotan and Colorado City.

Colorado City drew a first round bye and will take on the winner of Snyder vs. Rotan at 8 p.m. on July 2.

If they win, Colorado City will play the winner of Sweetwater vs. Tri-County at 8 p.m. on July 3.

If they lose, they will play at 6 p.m. on July 3 against an opponent to be determined later.

The Colorado City Major League All-Stars are Derek Garcia, Oscar Martinez, Jonathan Spear, Jared Monday, Jim Bob Hale, David Pineda, Brent Moore, Cheyenne Smith, Ross Riggs, Tino Silva, Tony Rivera, Grant Fullwood, Stan Neff and Robert Sanchez.

Coaches are Oscar Martinez, and Royce Morrison. David Silva is the manager.

Winners' Bracket

Losers' Bracket

Nine and ten year-old All-Stars to play in Abilene

The Colorado City nine- and 10-year-old All-Stars are currently preparing for their July 1 meeting with the Sweetwater All-Stars in the first round of the nine- and 10-year-old All-Star Tournament at Lone Star Field in Abilene.

The All-Star team members include Jacobie Russell and Tyler Kelly from the Astros; Cole Ratliff, Joel Jones, Georgia Davila, Ian Ritchey, Isaac Rangel, Christopher Spear and Patrick Spear from the Dodgers; Jeremy Espinoza and Eric Garcia from the A's; Josh Ziegler from the Rangers; Zack McPhaul from the Indians and Ryan Lucas from the Bullets.

Coaches are Santos Reyes and Rick Lucas. Mike Ratliff is the manager.

If Colorado City wins their 8 p.m. game against Sweetwater on July 1, they will take on Eastland on July 3 at 8 p.m.

If Colorado City loses to Sweetwater, they will play either Abilene Western, Clyde or Breckenridge in the Losers' Bracket.

The 12-team field tournament is double elimination.
