Seventh In 10 Months...

Begin Passes Test

JERUSALEM (AP) — Prime Minister Menachem Begin survived a no-confidence motion by a narrow 58-57 vote today, beating back the most serious challenge to his government since he took office five years ago.

Two members of Begin's Likud bloc defected Tuesday, reducing the government coalition to 59 members in Parliament and raising the possibility that Begin would be defeated by the 61-member opposition led by the Labor Party.

Two independent deputies — Yigal Hurwitz and Mordechai Ben-Porat of the TELEM faction — announced today they would abstain, and the speculation at first was that the vote would end in a tie.

But the balance was tipped in Begin's favor at the last minute by Hanan Porat of the right-wing Tehiya Party, who abstained while his two colleagues voted against Begin.

The suspenseful drama built to a climax as the Knesset, or Parliament, took a roll-call vote in alphabetical order.

When Porat's name was called out and he replied "nimna" (abstain), Begin knew that he had beaten back the most dangerous challenge to his rule since he took office in 1977.

Porat's move was unexpected, but even if he had voted against Begin and produced a tied vote the government would have survived, because a draw counts as a victory for the government in a no-confidence vote.

It was the seventh no-confidence motion Begin has survived in 10 months.

Begin, 68, walking with a cane after breaking his hip last year, sounded chipper as he closed the six-hour debate. "The government will not fall today," he declared from the podium minutes before the vote.

Rains, Hail Recorded In South Scurry

The Snyder area's daily weather alert came early Tuesday. For the third night in a row and the fourth in a week, storm warnings were out, this time for the south half of Scurry County and the north half of Mitchell County.

And this time it came before dark.

A cloud moved from west to east across the alerted area, dumping heavy showers and some hail along the way. Local Civil Defense officials watched the clouds closely and law enforcement officers tracked them. They reported heavy showers across the south part of the county, with some hail ranging from pea-sized to marble-sized.

More shower activity was also reported in the Fluvanna area. Snyder had light rains, with .09 recorded in the official gauge at the water treatment plant.

A funnel cloud was sighted near Slaton and numerous funnel clouds danced from the clouds along the Texas-Oklahoma border as violent weather continued in western sections of the state.

Claims Moon Is 'Persecuted'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Sun Myung Moon's conviction for conspiracy to evade income taxes is a 20th century equivalent of the persecution of Jesus Christ, says the president of the American branch of Moon's Unification Church.

"As with all of the world's great religious leaders, he has been met with hatred, bigotry and misunderstanding," Dr. Mose Durst said after the verdict Tuesday.

A U.S. District Court jury deliberated four days after a six-week trial before returning the guilty verdict against the 62-year-old Korean evangelist. The Unification Church leader could receive up to 14 years in prison when he is sentenced July 14.

Moon was convicted of filing false income tax returns to the Internal Revenue Service and conspiring to evade taxes on about $162,000 in personal income. An aide, Takeru Kamiyama, 40, was convicted with him in the tax evasion conspiracy and also of obstructing justice through lying and submitting false documents in an effort to block the investigation. Both are free on bail.

Durst said Moon's only comment was: "Don't worry. No problem. We will go forth. We are people of principle, not personality. Our life is a public life of righteousness and of service to the world." The evangelist, who lives on a church-owned estate in suburban Irvington, showed no emotion when the verdict was delivered, but some spectators brushed away tears.

FREE AT LAST—One of the first cows freed from the wreckage of a cattle truck bolts for freedom after being trapped for over an hour. Highway patrolmen, local firemen and others worked from 4 p.m. till well past 7 p.m. Tuesday to release the 80 animals from the mangled trailer. Gary Allen Nordling of Colleyville, Tex., driver of the truck, escaped the accident with no serious injuries. The crash occurred at 4 p.m. on U. S. 84 about two miles southeast of Snyder. Cows Freed After Crash Snyder Highway Patrolmen, Firemen, Scurry County Sheriff's deputies, and numerous other volunteers worked for over three hours Tuesday afternoon to free some 80 head of cattle from the wreckage of a truck on U. S. 84 about two miles southeast of Snyder.

Gary Allen Nordling of Colleyville, Tex. escaped serious injury after the right front tire on the rig blew out and forced him into the ditch on the west-bound side of the road. The truck took out a large sign about half a mile north of the Ezell-Key Feed lot and travelled another 100 yards before coming to rest on its side.

Nordling credited his survival to diving under the steering wheel when he realized he was going to crash.

Firemen extinguished a small fire in the cab area of the truck after diesel fuel spilled in the crash ignited.

Workers wound up cutting holes in the top of the trailer with fire axes and air powered chisels in order to free the trapped cattle. The accident occurred at 4 p.m. and it was well past 7 p.m. before all of the animals were freed.

Twenty of the 80 animals on board the trailer perished in the crash and the remainder were herded down to pens at the feed lot.

Terry Walls, also of Colleyville, was listed as owner of the demolished rig.

Splash Day Set Saturday

Splash Day has been set for Saturday at the Towle Park Swimming Pool.

The pool will open for the season at 2 p. m. Saturday, and there will be no admission charges for Splash Day.

During the season, the pool will be closed on Monday, and on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays it will be open from 2 p. m. to 7 p. m. On Wednesdays and Sundays, the hours will be from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Admission fees are 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children.

Mitch Mackey is the manager of the pool this year.

125 To Graduate At Western Texas

Western Texas College will award associate degrees and certificates of technology to approximately 125 graduating students in ceremonies beginning at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Grant Teaff, Baylor's head football coach since 1972 and a graduate of Snyder High School, will be guest speaker. Teaff has won Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Year honors four times at Baylor and also has been named national Coach-of-the-Year.

Teaff will be introduced by Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, president of the WTC board of trustees, following the welcome by the college president, Dr. Don Newbury.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Miller Robinson, pastor of Colonial Hill Baptist Church, and the benediction by the Rev. James Merrell, pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church. Jane Womack will play the processional and recessional music.

A reception honoring the graduates and their families will be held in the WTC Student Center at 8:30 p. m.

This is the first time the WTC commencement exercises have been held in the coliseum. The high school commencement program will follow the WTC graduation at 8 p. m. in the coliseum.

Wednesday update

GOP Dropping Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with an almost certain defeat on the Senate floor, Republican leaders are revising their 1983 budget blueprint to drop plans for $40 billion in Social Security savings while adding billions of dollars for domestic programs.

The changes would push the budget outline's projected 1983 deficit to $115 billion.

In the House, meanwhile, Republican Leader Robert H. Michel of Illinois was finishing negotiations today with conservative Democrats and moderate Republicans on an alternative budget to counter a package being pushed by House Democratic leaders.

Grand Jury Inquiry

DALLAS (AP) — A senior Braniff International executive has declined to document his allegations that sabotage of a computerized airline reservation system played a role in the airline's financial downfall.

Braniff Senior Vice President Sam Coats, who leveled the accusations against American Airlines last weekend, said they were based on statements made to him and documents turned over to him and the Justice Department.

But Coats declined Tuesday to identify the people who talked to him or to reveal any of the documents.

"I have already stated my opinion about the criminal anti-trust investigation being conducted in Fort Worth. It would be inappropriate to say anything else at this time," Coats said in a prepared statement.

Won't End Limit

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A federal appeals court has refused to end the court-ordered limits on state prison inmate population that caused Texas Department of Corrections officials to close prison doors last week.

The U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, in a rare conference call hearing, rejected Tuesday a petition by El Paso County that sought to end the limits imposed by U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice's sweeping prison reform order last year.

The state prison system locked its gates to new inmates May 10 because a quarterly report showed it housed 300 more convicts than the 31,755 men the formula in Justice's order allowed.

However, Gov. Bill Clements ordered the prison system, the largest in the nation, reopened and the state Board of Corrections announced a new limited admissions policy Monday.

Fire Damages School

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A blaze started by firebombs hurled through the windows of Churchill High School early today caused $190,000 in damage and destroyed covers for 650 diplomas, officials said.

The two-alarm fire was reported at 2:08 a.m. today and fire officials said flames already were leaping to the second floor of the building when the first truck arrived.

The blaze was confined to the administrative offices of Principal Gerald Evetts and four counselors.

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Tuesday, 88 degrees; low, 61 degrees; reading at 7 a. m. today, 64 degrees; precipitation, .09; total precipitation for 1982 to date, 8.69.

Thatcher Says...

Not Much Hope Seen In Talks

By The Associated Press

Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher said today Argentina's response to the latest Falkland Islands peace proposal "doesn't look very encouraging," and British newspapers reported she has already decided to invade the islands.

Mrs. Thatcher said in a British Broadcasting

Corp. interview her government had not yet seen the full text of Argentina's response, but that "the gap looks big" between London and Buenos Aires positions.

Argentina's chief negotiator at the United Nations, Deputy Foreign Minister Enrique Ros, said after he presented the response Tuesday night it was intended to bridge differences and resolve the conflict peacefully.

Ask Us

Q.—Why are emergency sirens sounded only after a tornado touches down, and why are they not sounded longer?

A.—The sirens are activated only after a tornado funnel is sighted visually by an officer or spotter, or, when the U. S. Weather Service advises that a funnel is shown on a radar screen. The funnel may not necessarily be on the ground. John Gayle, Civil Defense director, says the sirens are the last warning and are not intended to leave a lot of time for people to move from one location to another. It is assumed that people already are aware of stormy conditions and are keeping an ear to their radios and/or televisions for advance information. When the sirens sound, it is time to go to the center of the house or other place of safety on the premises. Normally, the sirens sound for approximately two minutes.

Playoffs To Begin May 25 At Lubbock

The Snyder Tigers and Estacado Matadors will begin their bi-district high school baseball series at Lubbock on Tuesday, May 25.

Officials of the two schools met this morning at Post to arrange for the best two of three series. The Tuesday game on the Estacado diamond will begin at 4 p. m. The admission price at Lubbock will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

The second game will be played on Moffett field in Snyder at 2 p. m. Friday, May 28. If a third game is needed, it will be played immediately following the second game as the nightcap of a doubleheader. There is no charge for games on Moffett Field.

The Tigers are champions of District 2AAAA and the Matadors won District 1AAAA.

The SDN Column

"You can't beat this country when it rains."

That was one comment we heard this week following several hours of rough weather, and few would dispute it. And, we might add, a good rain can change the outlook much faster than you might think.

Three weeks ago, there was a wave of pessimism about moisture conditions here. We had received only about 2½ inches of rain during the first four months of the year. At that rate, the year's total would be only 7½ inches, lighter even than 1917 when Scurry County got only 8.15 inches.

There were a couple of years in the early fifties when the total was less than 11 inches—10.26 in 1951 and 10.36 in 1954—and the countryside did not present a pretty picture. Ranges were not brown. They were white. And sandstorms knew no limits.

In those days, we heard prophets of doom predict that it would take at least six years of good rainfall to get this country back on its feet. But in 1957, it rained and rained, and there was a miraculous recovery. That's when a lot of folks remembered that water is more valuable than oil.

It is ironic that both county political conventions here last Saturday adopted resolutions calling for a balanced federal budget.

There is a federal budget-balancing law now, but neither the White House nor Congress pays any attention to it.

Scurry County Republicans got down to specifics in their budget-balancing resolution. They want it done by reducing spending. Scurry County Democrats just said, "balance it."

Schools are winding down their 1981-82 terms and those attending, along with their teachers, probably had experiences this school year that they will remember for years to come. It brings to mind some of the questions by students compiled a few years ago by a high school teacher during a school term:

"You keep saying how important spelling is, but my dad can't spell worth a darn and he makes $52,000 a year. (Pause) How much to you make?"

"Is this for personal enrichment, or do we have to pay attention?"

"How come I gotta take English when I already talk it okay and don't aim to use it?"

"Don't bother to teach us about colons and semicolons because we won't never use them things anyway, okay?"

"How come you can't read my writing? I can read yours."

"Is this an educational movie you're going to show us, or is it a good one?"

"What made you decide to be a teacher? You don't seem real strange."

"I've been absent for a week, but I didn't miss anything, did I?"

Weather Alerts...

Warnings Not Heeded

By GEORGE ZUCKER Associated Press Writer In Los Angeles, they sniff at smog alerts. Everyone still drives to work.

Midwesterners tremble at tornado warnings, but many stay outside to scan the heavens for funnel clouds.

After a hurricane warning, Floridians batten down the hatches and have a party.

Hawaiians go to the beach when they hear tsunami warnings.

Tsunami warnings? Unless you've studied meteorology or spent more than casual time in Hawaii, it's a good bet the word "tsunami" (pronounced soo-nah-mee) is not in your everyday vocabulary.

Tsunami is a Japanese word for what most Americans incorrectly call a "tidal wave," a huge wall of water rising from the sea. Don't say "tidal wave" in Hawaii.

It's tsunami — the scientific term for seismic sea wave, a large ocean wave triggered by an undersea earthquake.

In the movie, "Poseidon Adventure," a giant wave in the middle of the ocean flips a big ship upside down.

That just doesn't happen.

A tsunami is a sound wave, usually caused when the ocean floor — buffeted by an earthquake — rises or falls. It can race across the sea at 500 mph without so much as a ripple.

A man sitting in a rowboat would barely feel a tsunami pass beneath him.

But close to shore, the tsunami causes a great withdrawal of water. It sucks away from the beach and builds into a huge wave — crashing back with destructive force.

Pacific storms can kick up surf tall as three-story buildings on Oahu's north shore. Kids still paddle in to this frothy terror with surf boards, often splintering both their boards and their necks.

Tsunami warnings also draw people to the beach. The prospect of seeing a killer wave roll ashore is irresistible.

On April 1, 1946, a 56-foot wave triggered by an earthquake in the Aleutian Islands struck the island of Hawaii — the Big Island — and killed 159 people. Most of the dead were in Hilo, but a group of school kids and their teachers at Laupahoehoe Point on the Hamakua Coast also perished.

Despite this massive tragedy, residents of Hawaii's largest island weren't all that worried when a tsunami warning was issued 14 years later on May 23, 1960, after a Chilean earthquake.

Many figured the big wave would hit the same location as the killer tsunami of 1946. So they went to another beach to watch.

Amazingly, the surf subsided. There was a hush as the sea withdrew. Fish flopped on the exposed sea bottom.

The startled Hawaiians rushed forward to reap the sea's bounty.

Moments later, those gathering fish from the ocean floor looked up to see a 35-foot wave rising above them in the Hilo bayfront. It killed 61 people and caused $50 million damage.

A tidal wave is something else, although it is a similar phenomenon capable of great destruction. But it has to do with tides and can be caused by such things as the moon's gravity.

Theft Probed

Scurry County Sheriff's deputies are investigating a theft of oil field equipment reported Tuesday morning.

Personnel with Homco Inc. in Snyder called the sheriff's office around 10 a.m. Tuesday and reported the theft of a set of pipe elevators and a packer from a work-over rig on a SACROC location in the county.

This theft is thought to have occurred sometime between Saturday evening and Tuesday morning.

From the mailbox: Dear Paul Harvey News...

The other day you mentioned a dentist being sued by a woman who says the dentist grabbed her mouth and told her to stop acting like a child.

I know nothing more about that doctor, that patient or that case...but I am a practicing dentist and the experience of any dentist suggests there is a "rest of the story."

Judging from experiences of my own, here is what might have happened:

1—The young woman was in the dental office for an extraction which should have been attended to years before.

2—She had endured the onset of pain for two weeks before she called the dentist for "emergency care." She also specified that she must be seen at such and such a time TODAY — because that was the only time she had free.

3—After the doctor squeezed her into his busy schedule, she arrived 35 minutes late; said her car would not start.

Ten minutes later she was complaining because the doctor had not seen her yet.

4—Now she is seated in a treatment room telling a frustrated assistant that she certainly does not want any X-rays because they might damage her health and X-rays are taken only to boost the dental fee anyway.

5—At this point the doctor enters, looks in her mouth, orders an X-ray so that he can see what's really going on, taps on the tooth to see if it is abscessed. He explains the benefits of a root canal which will allow the tooth to remain functional; the patient refuses because it is "too expensive."

6—In his desire to relieve the patient's pain the dentist takes from his assistant an anesthetic syringe and is immediately told by the patient, "I hate needles; can't you knock me out?"

He then spends five minutes, further delaying treatment for patients who are waiting, explaining why general anesthesia is impossible in a normal dental office.

7—While the X-ray is being processed and the anesthesia, administered to the accompaniment of screams, is taking effect, the doctor is apologizing to the other patients for the delay — and will continue to apologize for the three hours it takes him to get back on schedule.

8—When the doctor returns to remove the offending tooth, the patient screams at the top of her lungs — unsettling the dentist and alarming the entire office.

9—The dentist seeks to immobilize the patient's head to keep her from injuring herself on sharp tools already in her mouth and tells her to stop acting like a child because this has happened several times this week and he is at the end of his rope.

10—After the tooth is gone the patient tells the receptionist and everyone waiting that she is going to "sue hell" out of that so-and-so dentist — and leaves without paying her bill.

Mr. Harvey, there is not enough money in the world to coerce me into reliving that experience — yet I do — several times a month — because it's "part of the territory."

Dentists commit suicide at higher rates than any other occupational group probably because of such experiences.

Won't you please tell THE REST OF THE STORY. End quote.

Some Congressmen Report Substantial Assets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jim Collins, R-Texas, of Dallas not only is the wealthiest member of the Texas congressional delegation, but perhaps of the entire House of Representatives.

Financial disclosure forms, required by the Ethics in Government Act, were released Tuesday, showing Collins with income of more than $750,000 last year alone and assets of at least $5.3 million and perhaps as much as $10 million or more.

Other Texas congressmen with assets of at least $1 million are Sam Hall, D-Marshall; Ralph Hall (no relation), D-Rockwall; and Jack Brooks, D-Beaumont.

Because assets must be reported in ranges, it is not possible to tell exact income, assets or liabilities, unless the congressman goes beyond the form to specify exact amounts.

Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, had a 1981 income of between $60,667 and $132,667, including a delegation-high $14,150 in honorariums for 20 speaking engagements, more than half of them for $1,000. Hance's assets were in a range of from $300,000 to $1,025,000, including cattle and land holdings of his wife.

Other Texas congressmen whose lower ranges were below $1 million but their higher ranges were above the magic figure were Marvin Leath, D-Marlin; Ron Paul, R-Lake Jackson; and Charles Wilson, D-Lufkin.

The disclosure form asked congressmen to report assets as falling in the range of $1,000 to $5,000, $5,000 to $15,000, $15,000 to $50,000, $50,000 to $100,000, $100,000 to $250,000, and $250,000 or more.

Rep. Richard White, D-El Paso, reported assets of "more than $250,000." He might, or might not be, a millionaire, depending upon the worth of his three-fourths interest in a 25-unit apartment complex and one-tenth interest in a 66-unit apartment, both in El Paso County.

Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford; Jake Pickle, D-Austin; and Jim Wright, D-Fort Worth, the House Majority Leader, also had holdings in the maximum category of "over $250,000" that would make them millionaires if high enough.

Stenholm's major holding is his farm and equipment near Stamford, plus isolated holdings in various farm coops in the vicinity of his home. Pickle's major asset is one-third interest in 958.5 acres in Travis County, and Wright reported holding stock worth more than $250,000 in Southeastern Resources.

Wright listed stock valued at more than $100,000 in BMW Drilling Fund and a similar investment in his Fort Worth home.

In accumulating outside earnings of $1 million or more, just in 1981, Collins reported receiving more than $100,000 in interest on a certificate of deposit at Republic National Bank of Dallas and more than $100,000 in capital gains on stock he held in Kennecott Copper and in Zale Corporation. He received more than $50,000 from four other holdings.

His major stock holdings include "more than $250,000" in AMF, Inc., Consolidated Industries, Crown Zellerbach Corp., First Southern, Philips Industries, Wayne Gossard Corp., CMA Money Fund, cash deposits (holdings, land and partners) and in the James M. and Dorothy D. Collins Trust.

Sam Hall reported 1981 income of between $75,815 and $176,815, with a sale of timber to Nekoosa Papers, Inc., the biggest item. It brought him more than $50,000.

Hall's largest holdings include half ownership in a Marshall shopping center, one-sixth interest in a Marshall hotel, half interest in 600 acres of land in Harrison County, and producing oil and gas royalties in Gregg and Harrison counties.

Paul, a gynecologist, listed five holdings worth more than $100,000 — his home, 40-acre farm and a medical building, all in Lake Jackson, plus a pension plan and a profit plan. He also reported owning a condominium and another home valued between $50,000 and $100,000.

Paul also listed liabilities between $215,000 and $565,000, most of them on his various real estate holdings.

Rep. Bill Archer, R-Houston, was the only Texas congressman to break down his assets exactly. He reported holdings of $846,292 and a 1981 income of $35,000, not counting his congressional salary of $60,662. He had no debts.

Archer said he had $262,278 in stocks and bonds, $173,893 in real estate, $2,000 in mineral royalty interest, and a $4,000 automobile. Included in his holdings is his $173,000 Washington townhouse.

Stenholm was, like Hance, popular with business groups as a speaker. He reported making 17 speeches for which he received honorariums totaling $11,000. He reported turning over $3,000 of the total, for six speeches, over to various charitable groups in West Texas.

Kika de la Garza, D-Mission, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, made 10 speeches for which he collected $9,000 in honorariums, and listed 14 meetings throughout 1981 in which he received airline tickets and hotel expenses. The $9,000 was his total income for 1981, and de la Garza listed no liabilities and no assets.

Henry B. Gonzalez, D-San Antonio, also reported no assets and no liabilities. His only income in 1981, other than his congressional salary, was $472 in interest from a savings account, he said.

Mickey Leland, D-Houston, reported $3,900 in 1981 income from honorariums, no assets, and between $15,000 and $50,000 in liabilities. However, he also reported eight stock transactions between $1,000 and $5,000 and one between $5,000 and $15,000 during the year.

SPECIAL HONOR—Union United Methodist Church honored Tollie Ramsey with a plaque on Mother's Day in appreciation for her being like a mother to the entire church. Thomas Taylor, pastor, presented the award.

meeting Thursday, May 20, at 10 a.m. in the hospital conference room. Below are Ruby Anderson, gift shop chairman; Jo Terrell, histotechnologist; and Carol Davis, snack bar chairman, with the flammable storage cabinet. (SDN Staff Photo)

For Hospital...

Auxiliary Purchases Pathology Equipment

Cogdell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary recently donated $5,077.33 to the hospital to purchase equipment for the pathology department. This equipment is being used to upgrade the quality of patient testing and general laboratory safety. One of the items purchased is a binocular microscope to be used in the examination of blood and bacterial smears. Another is the biological safety cabinet which will provide a degree of safety to the technologist who must routinely work with bacterially contaminated specimens. A unique filtered air circulation arrangement keeps the laboratory free of contamination and internal ultraviolet lights help keep the cabinet clean.

The third item purchased for the laboratory was a flammable storage cabinet. With the recent institution of a histopathological laboratory, the use and storage of larger volumes of organic solvents that were previously required has become a necessity. This specially designed cabinet allows for the safe storage of these materials in a fireproof, explosion proof manner.

With the recent expansion of the hospital and the upgrading of laboratory facilities as well as the expansion of services now offered at Cogdell Hospital, the immediate procurement of these two safety cabinets became a requirement in order to maintain proper accreditation standards.

Cogdell Hospital Auxiliary revenue is obtained from net proceeds from the gift shop, snack bar, cigarette machines, television and telephone rental, and memorial donations which are reserved for the purchase of life saving equipment.

Net earnings and donations to the auxiliary are returned to the hospital as gifts when requested by the hospital administrator and board, or used to fund nurse and allied health professional scholarships and medical student scholarships.

hearts and seven clubs would be lay down.

South looked around for a way to make six no-trump with the king of hearts in the West hand. One way would be easy. Just let diamonds break 3-3 and there would be 12 top tricks.

Anyway, after East signaled with the spade 10 at trick one, South took his ace of spades and ran off his six clubs while discarding two hearts from dummy.

South noticed that West seemed to be under great pressure with his four discards which turned out to be the eight of hearts and queen-jack-three of spades.

Next, South went after diamonds. East showed out on the third diamond and the hand was down to a three card ending. South decided that West was holding a king-small in hearts and the known 10 of diamonds. He threw him in with that 10 and made the last two tricks with ace-queen of hearts. Prepare For Playoffs...

Tigers Win, 7-3, To End Regular Season

The Snyder Tigers, District 2-AAAA baseball champions, kept their perfect conference record intact with a 7-3 victory over the Fort Stockton Panthers here Tuesday.

The triumph was the 16th consecutive for Coach Albert Lewis and his Tigers, bringing the regular season slate to 24-5. The Tigers enter playoff competition against Lubbock Estacado next week.

It was the sixth straight district championship for the Tigers, and Tuesday's game was anti-climactic to Monday's victory over Pecos which clinched the title.

With the district crown securely tucked away, the Tigers got off to a slow start.

In the first three innings, only 10 batters reached the plate. In the fourth frame consecutive singles by Perry Echols, Barry Davis and Britt Vincent scored two runs.

That 2-0 lead was short-lived, however, as Fort Stockton countered with three runs in the top of the 5th. Denny Richardson and Guy Gladson started with a single each and Eddie Durarte struck out.

A single by Chacho Gonzales scored Richardson and a single by Joe Solomen drove in Gladson and Gonzales.

Stirred by being behind by one run, the Tigers went to work in the bottom of the 5th and played like the champions that they are.

David Rios started the rally with a single followed by a one-base hit by Trey Harlin. Then a string of singles by Brent Roemisch, Jesse Hernandez, Echols, Davis, and Vincent accounted for five runs.

Gerald Hicks, who relieved Gressett in the top of the fourth, fanned three batters in the sixth and one in the seventh inning to collect the mound victory.

Gressett gave up three runs on eight hits and struck out eight. Hicks allowed no hits and fanned four.

Freddie Fierro was the losing pitcher. He allowed seven runs on 12 hits and struck out one batter. He was relieved in the final inning by Ruben Hernandez.

Tigers collecting two singles each were Roemisch, Hernandez, Davis and Vincent. Getting a hit each were Rios and Harlin.

Rangers Are Victims As Hoyt Marks Up His 13th In A Row

By Herschel Nissenson
AP Sports Writer

Lamar Hoyt's winning streak is at 13 and counting, while Larry Herndon's home run barrage ended at four in a row, but both players have their names in the record books.

Hoyt, the Chicago White Sox' right-hander, is unbeaten in eight decisions this season and set a club record with his 13th consecutive triumph in a 10-2 rout of the Texas Rangers

Tuesday night.

Meanwhile, Herndon, Detroit's left fielder, homered his first three times at bat and drove in seven runs as the Tigers outslugged the Oakland A's 11-9. Since he also homered his final time up Sunday against Minnesota, Herndon tied a major league record of four home runs in as many trips to the plate.

It was the 16th time in major league history a player hit four consecutive home runs over a two-game stretch. Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner did it twice and the last American Leaguer to accomplish the feat was Baltimore's Don Baylor in 1975.

AL streaks were not limited to Hoyt and Herndon. Elsewhere, the California Angels won their fifth game in a row, defeating the Milwaukee Brewers 4-1; Minnesota rookie Tom Brunansky homered for the third straight game as the Twins outlasted the Baltimore Orioles 8-7. New York's Ron Guidry won his fourth consecutive game as the Yankees downed the Kansas City Royals, the Seattle Mariners blanked the Boston Red Sox 2-0 and the Cleveland Indians edged the Toronto Blue Jays 6-5.

Herndon hit his three home runs against Mike Norris — a three-run blast in the first inning and two-run shots in the third and fifth — but the streak ended in the seventh when he grounded out against Dave Beard.

76ers Can Clinch Spot In Title Round Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — The sizzling Philadelphia 76ers can clinch their third berth in the National Basketball Association title round in six years tonight by continuing their domination of the out-of-sync Boston Celtics.

Only 10 days ago, that prospect seemed extremely unlikely.

Boston handed the 76ers their worst playoff loss ever, 121-81, on May 9. But Philadelphia bounced back with three straight victories and is a hot team going into the fifth game of the best-of-seven Eastern Conference final.

Boston, which lost playmaker Nate Archibald for the series with a dislocated shoulder in a 99-97 third-game loss, has been less organized than it was in compiling the league's best record, 63-19.

Still, the 76ers know all too well that a 3-1 lead doesn't guarantee another shot at the Los Angeles Lakers, who beat them in the 1980 final round and have won this year's Western Conference championship.

"We have a mission, a purpose," said forward Mike Bantom, who joined the 76ers this season. "It's not to win just one game. It's to win four; 3-1 does not win this series."

It didn't last year, when Philadelphia also went out to a 3-1 lead over Boston in the Eastern Conference final, then blew the last three games in the final minutes by a total of five points.

"Last year we probably had a feeling that the series was over and there would be no way they would be able to come back," said Philadelphia guard Lionel Hollins. "We learned from that. We learned that it's a seven-game series."

That comeback also taught the Celtics a lesson that could boost their confidence as they struggle to stay alive in their battle for the club's 15th championship and second in a row.

Although it's been done only four times, the Celtics feel they can win after trailing 3-1 because they already have accomplished it.

"Being down 3-1 last year is no different than this year other than they know we can do it. We know we can do it," said Boston forward Larry Bird. "It was tough last year. You can't get any harder games than the last three we played."

Last season, Boston trailed Philadelphia by six points with 1:51 left in the fifth game, was tied with 40 seconds left in the sixth, and was behind by nine with 5:23 to go in the seventh.

"I don't think it can be any tougher than last year," said Celtic guard M.L. Carr. "That was unreal to do that."

However, Boston hasn't been playing as well as it did in the first four games against the 76ers last year. It also will be without Archibald, who had 27 points and 19 assists in the first two games.

"Philadelphia is making everything happen, and we're not doing anything," Bird said. "That can switch around. We know we're capable of winning the championship."

Ruling Due Next Week In Raider Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge says he expects to rule by the middle of next week on whether to grant an injunction that would allow the Oakland Raiders to move to Los Angeles.

U.S. District Judge Harry Pregerson must grant the injunction before the team can move even though a jury decided the National Football League had violated the nation's antitrust laws in refusing to allow the team's transfer in 1980. An injunction is necessary to enforce the jury's decision.

The NFL asked for a stay of the injunction on Friday, and Pregerson said Tuesday he needed more time to review briefs on the issue.

"We had assumed they would ask for a stay in the 9th Circuit Court of Appeal. It was a last minute maneuver by the NFL," said Raiders attorney Joseph L. Alioto.

Attorney Maxwell Blecher of the Los Angeles Coliseum argued that the judge must allow the team to move.

"If you grant a stay, you are sending vibrations to the court of appeals that you don't agree with the jury."

Raiders attorneys said the team is ready to move to Los Angeles this season if "they didn't have the threat of a stay hanging over their heads."

But the NFL argued that refusal of a stay would "disrupt the status quo until a final decision on the legality is resolved."

Guerro Was Thinking 'Homer' All The Way

By Ken Rappoport
AP Sports Writer

One thing about Pedro Guerrero: He doesn't think small.

"I wasn't thinking single or double," the Los Angeles Dodger outfielder said about his trip to the plate Tuesday night leading off the bottom of the ninth inning against the Chicago Cubs. "I was thinking home run."

Guerrero translated his thoughts into action, belting a 3-1 pitch from Bill Campbell into the center field seats at Dodger Stadium.

The result was a dramatic 2-1 victory for the Dodgers over Chicago that saved some embarrassment for reliever Tom Niedenfuer, who had given up the Cubs' tying run in the top of the ninth.

"I knew I would hit one," said the confident right fielder who has delivered the long ball on eight other occasions this season for the defending world champions. "You've got to feel good after winning a game like that. (Manager Tom) Lasorda told me to get on base. But as I walked to the plate, I wasn't just thinking about getting on base."

Guerrero's blast off Campbell, 0-2, made a winner of Niedenfuer, 1-1. The Cubs had tied game in the top of the ninth when Keith Moreland and Leon Durham hit one-out singles to chase Dodger starter Bob Welch and pinch-runner Gary Woods scored on Larry Bowa's single off Niedenfuer.

In other National League action, it was St. Louis 2, San Diego 0; New York 7, Cincinnati 4; Atlanta 6, Montreal 4; Houston 2, Philadelphia 1 in 12 innings and San Francisco 2, Pittsburgh 1.

and struck out two.

John Curtis, 2-2, pitched eight innings for San Diego, allowing seven hits, and was locked in a scoreless duel with Forsch until Tenace slammed a 3-2 pitch for his third homer of the season.

Forsch had not won since beating Houston 5-4 on April 29, failing to get a decision in his last three starts. His last shutout came in 1979.

Gary Rajsich hit a three-run homer, the first of his major league career in a four-run fifth inning, as New York defeated Cincinnati.

Randy Jones, 5-2, was the winner with relief help in the eighth from Neil Allen, who gained his 10th save. Cincinnati starter Bruce Berenyi, 4-2, lasted five innings and gave up all the Mets' runs.

Bob Forsch pitched a five-hitter and singled home a run and Gene Tenace blasted a homer as St. Louis blanked San Diego.

Forsch, 5-0, drove in the Cardinals' second run with a two-out single in the seventh after Tenace had walloped his homer leading off the inning. The right-hander walked one

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Persistence will help

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 32-year-old female. Recently I lost 27 pounds with a diet and a whole lot of will power. But I have not lost inches in my stomach, which is 37 inches, or my thighs which are 23 inches. I have started to ride a stationary bicycle. Will I benefit as much from this as I would a regular bike? Will this help my stomach and thighs? How long before I see results? How many minutes a day should I ride?

DEAR READER — Congratulations on your weight loss. One of the most important aspects of reducing an enlarged stomach is to lose body fat. There is about as much fat inside the abdomen as there is outside under the skin. If you don't lose the internal fat you cannot hope to reduce the abdomen a great deal. Of course if you just happened to have a tumor or be pregnant then you might be pretty unsuccessful in shrinking your abdomen.

It seems like the last place a person loses fat is from the place where you want to lose it. Your face gets thin but your abdomen stays fat. But persistence will do the trick or at least improve matters.

Bicycling will help use calories, converting the calories of energy to mechanical energy. To the extent that helps you lose fat stores it is helpful. Don't expect it to tighten your abdominal muscles. Walking and jogging don't either. You need to do sit ups, modified leg lifts and exercises to strengthen and tighten your trunk muscles. Posture is also important. Walking, cycling and running, unless uphill or up stairs, do not require you to contract your abdominal muscles. That is why these exercises won't strengthen your abdominal muscles to help control your girth.

Outdoor bicycling uses about half as much energy per mile as walking a mile and about a third as much energy as jogging a mile. Stationary bicycles vary greatly and many have adjustments you can make for more or less effort.

You need to read The Health Letter number 17-12, Winning the Battle of the Bulge, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Several years ago I was admitted to the intensive care unit with a fast heart, pain in my chest and elevated blood pressure. I was in the hospital a week and not allowed to do anything. While in the hospital I lost weight from 106 down to 98. When I was discharged I was told to take it easy and not get excited. Supposedly I had a splenic flexure syndrome. That was what I was told to put on my insurance papers. Will you please explain this to me?

DEAR READER — That means the doctor thought your problem was caused by your colon, not your heart. The colon is like a large tube that forms a ring around the edge of your abdominal cavity. It bends sharply just under your rib margin on the left side, before it continues downward to the rectum. This bend is under the spleen, just under the diaphragm. Gas can collect there, causing distention and pain. Reflex reactions may cause the heart to speed up and pressure to rise. It can cause pain referred to the chest.

If you continue to have gas or colon symptoms you might be wise to improve

Mrs. Onassis Cheers At Graduation

BOSTON (AP) — An animated Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis rose and cheered as her family made the Boston University commencement a family outing.

Mrs. Onassis, in a white frock with navy polka-dots, was accompanied by her son, John F. Kennedy Jr., a student at Brown University, and her daughter, Caroline, at two Sunday ceremonies where her nephew, Anthony Radziwill, was one of the graduates.

Assembly...

Shuttle Rolled Into Building

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The space shuttle Columbia was towed 300 yards from its hangar early today to an assembly rendezvous with its rockets and fuel tank in preparation for its final test flight this summer.

The 100-ton spacecraft emerged from its hangar at 12:50 a.m. EDT and was swiftly towed on its landing gear into the cavernous Vehicle Assembly Building where the mating operation will take place.

The rollout was more than 13 hours late, a result of miscalculations by ground crews on the time needed to prepare the space plane for towing, said a Kennedy Space Center official.

"No major problems. There were just some bad guesses by technicians on how long it would take to complete each procedure" in the hangar on Tuesday, said spokesman Mark Hess.

Fire Officials To Begin Refinery Investigation

KILGORE, Texas (AP) — A welding spark may have touched off the explosion that killed two refinery workers, hurled debris 800 feet in the air and sent flames soaring to heights visible 16 miles away, officials said.

Two other workers were injured when three storage tanks containing gasoline, naphtha, and diesel fuel exploded Tuesday morning at the Shore Company Inc.

Company officials said the blast destroyed one-third of the plant and caused more than $1 million damage, said Kilgore Fire Chief Paul Duckworth.

Witnesses said the metal tops from the tanks were blown more than 800 feet into the air and the flames were visible in Longview, 16 miles away.

The blast forced the evacuations of about 760 people in a three-block radius around the refinery for 2½ hours, including 460 elementary school students who were sent to another school after the explosion.

"We had quite a bit of potential in the fuel involved," said Duckworth.

He said about 150,000 gallons of gasoline, 20,000 gallons of diesel fuel and several thousand gallons of naphtha were stored at the refinery, along with 3,000 gallons of tetraethyl lead and 800 gallons of butane.

Firefighters worked to keep flames away from the lead and acid, Duckworth said.

"The explosion could have possibly been touched off by a welder's spark," he said. "It's one of several possibilities we'll be checking."

Killed were Pat Daniel Shea, a 31-year-old refinery welder from Dickson, Tenn., and 59-year-old G.O. Leach of Kilgore, a dispatcher. Leach apparently suffered a heart attack, authorities said.

"I had the fire chiefs in Longview and Tyler both saying they didn't have any trouble realizing that there was a fire here," Duckworth said.

Firefighters from those cities were called in to help battle the blaze, which was brought under control about 10:40 a.m. after it raged for more than two hours, fire officials said. A Shore spokesman who asked not to be identified said he was sitting in his office when he heard something that sounded "like a sonic boom." "There were probably about three explosions," he said. "One large one and two smaller ones. The best we can tell it looks like a third of our refinery was destroyed, but we can't set a dollar value on it." He said the company probably would be back in operation, at least partially, by next week.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

May 20, 1982

Good things will happen this coming year when you become involved with people whose ideals and standards are on a par with yours. Seek meaningful associations.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Strive to be self-sufficient today, because even persons on whom you can normally count may let you down. If you want things done right, do them yourself. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in each of the seasons following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Matters requiring immediate attention should not be postponed today, regardless of the reasons you find for delaying them. Excuses will cause future woes.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Much can be accomplished today, provided you keep your priorities in order. Unfortunately, the probabilities are you'll go off on tangents.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you hope to be successful today it will require a keen sense of timing. Surging forward before you are ready could throw your program out of kilter.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be very careful in your commercial dealings today. If you make a mistake, there's a chance you will compound it rather than correct it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Don't bank too heavily today on financial potentials that have yet to be resolved. What you're counting on may not come in as you anticipate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) It's wise to try to resolve problems with others, but don't put yourself in a position today where you make all the concessions. Arbitration is a two-way street.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be sensible about health matters today. If you know there are things you should not eat or drink, avoid them. Practice moderation in all things.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Treat all of your friends equally today, or you'll be criticized for your actions. Don't let pals think you're nice only to those who can help you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your reputation will suffer today if you try to pretend you've taken care of something you promised to do, when you really haven't.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Pretenses will not enhance your standing today. In fact, they'll do just the opposite. Avoid all forms of affection.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't let anyone in whom you don't have complete confidence handle matters for you today that could cost you money if they go wrong. Conditions are "iffy."

Insect Larvae Dies During Student Takeover

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Cotton farmers who were relieved students did not kill 15 million beneficial insect larvae held hostage for five days now face financial hardship because most of the tiny captives died anyway.

Farmers said the loss of the insects — which feed on the eggs of cotton-threatening boll weevils — would be expensive because more insecticides will now be needed.

Students demanding more money for their school threatened during a five-day siege of a laboratory last week to kill the insects unless the government agreed to negotiate. The protesters ended the takeover Saturday, but assistant lab director Martha Cortez said it was already too late.

Ms. Cortez said Tuesday the deaths were accidental, resulting from changes in temperature in the laboratory during the siege.

Area farmers had pleaded with the students to spare the lives of the insects, which are released at the beginning of the cotton season to control the pests.

Ms. Cortez said the farmers now would have to make at least two extra applications of insecticide on their cotton to make up for the loss. Neither she nor the farmers could produce an estimate of the costs.

The larvae require a temperature of 78 to 80 degrees and humidity of 60 to 70 percent to survive. Ms. Cortez said she returned to lab Saturday to find that 68-degree cold had killed all but about 2.6 million of the larvae.

Lab director Helidoro Luevano said the deaths of the insects were not the fault of the students, who he said treated the lab with respect and even cleaned the building while they held it.

Meanwhile, about 5,000 students and farmers continued the protest with a march in downtown Juarez Tuesday. But student leaders said they still had received no word on whether the government will negotiate.

Student leader Fernando Reyes, 19, said the students still were counting on public support to make federal agriculture officials decide to negotiate.

The protest began because $4.9 million in cash and equipment promised to the school in March by the Mexican secretary of agriculture was not delivered. Officials say the agriculture department no longer can afford that amount.

The students took the insect lab and school director Rigoberto Delgado Perez hostage May 11. The protesters also captured three local agriculture offices, blocked downtown streets with buses and burned two government pickup trucks last week.

After farmers convinced the students to abandon the lab, the protesters learned Mexican soldiers were preparing to move against them and also fled the offices.

Early Saturday, between 500 and 800 soldiers and police surrounded the school and retrieved seven other captured trucks without confronting the students.

The students freed Delgado later Saturday, saying he was being made a martyr.

On Monday, the students promised no further violence in exchange for the dismissal of arrest warrants issued for five unidentified demonstrators.

Heart Unit Has Best Year Ever

The Scurry County chapter of the American Heart Association has had its best year ever in 1982, directors were told at a recent meeting.

Susan Schmucker, Heart Association representative from Abilene, commended the chapter and Scurry County residents for their participation in the educational programs as well as fund-raising projects during the year.

Various projects raised about $12,000 for the Heart Association. Mrs. Schmucker said. These included $2,780 from the 100 Heart Club, $4,710 from special gifts, $1,388 from memorial gifts, $700 from the Turkey Walk, $1,090 from the Snyder Nursing Center Rock 'n Roll Jam-boree, $1,089 from the Hermleigh Schools Jump Rope for Heart, $200 from a benefit dance sponsored by the Senior Center, a $500 donation from the Shrine Club, and approximately $1,100 from the Live to Dance events.

Dr. Ben Brock was re-elected president of the Scurry County Heart Chapter, with Rex Robinson vice president. Patsy Williams was elected secretary-treasurer and will also serve as memorial gifts chairman. Aline Parks was re-elected public information chairman.

Minor Mishaps Reported Here

Snyder police investigated three minor traffic mishaps in the city Tuesday.

The first mishap occurred in the parking lot at Viride's on College Avenue around 11:30 a.m. Involved in the mishap were a 1982 Buick driven by Tonya Small of Hobbs N. M. and a 1972 Buick driven by Charles Tipp Hunnicutt of Fluvanna.

The parking lot at Snyder Drug was the scene of the second accident around 3:10 p.m. Involved in this mishap were a 1973 Chevrolet driven by Donald Dee Gravley of Abilene and a 1978 Plymouth driven by Patricia Winn Parker of Colorado City.

The 1800 block of College Ave was the scene of Tuesday's third mishap around 3:55 yesterday afternoon. Involved in this accident were a 1982 Chevrolet driven by Guy Joyce Adams of Hermleigh and a 1978 Chevrolet owned by Horace Wayne Loper of 2712 23rd St.

No injuries and only minor damages were reported in all of Tuesday's accidents.

Local police also arrested one man on DW charges around 1:55 a.m. Wednesday.

Escapee Sought

DENVER (AP) — Colorado law-enforcement authorities are looking for a Kansas prison escapee allegedly involved in a crime spree in Texas and Louisiana and describe by the FBI as extremely dangerous.

Denver police and Stapleton International Airport said they were on the lookout for Kent David Kloster, 23, and the Colorado State Patrol also continued their alert.

FBI agents in Denver issued an all-point bulletin Tuesday for Kloster, who authorities believed was in Colorado after a crime spree in Texas and Louisiana.

Denver FBI spokesman Anthony Sibley said agents believed that Kloster, who has vowed that he will not be taken alive, might be heading for Stapleton International Airport in an attempt to leave the country.

Sibley said officers had received a report that Kloster might have been in Sterling, Colo., although there were no confirmed reports that he was sighted.

Against Rule...

Car Dealers Donated Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty-six senators who voted to kill a federal rule requiring used-car dealers to warn buyers of known car defects received a total of $323,350 in campaign contributions over the past five years from the chief lobbying group against the rule.

But Frank McCarthy of the National Automobile Dealers Association, which spearheaded the lobbying drive, said he doesn't think the donations "changed a single vote."

The Senate voted 69-27 Tuesday to veto the Federal Trade Commission regulation which would require the warn-

The congressional veto — the first ever of a FTC rule — now goes to the House, which is expected to follow the Senate's lead. The House has until May 26 to complete congressional action blocking the plan.

"It doesn't look good for us," said an aide to Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., a key backer of the rule in the House.

The FTC regulation would require dealers to disclose all known defects in each car they sell and to state whether the vehicle is covered by a warranty.

The rule would make car dealers subject to fines up to $10,000 for failing to disclose defects they know about.

The association's donations, made through its Automobile and Truck Dealers Election Action Committee, went to 36 Republicans and 20 Democrats who voted to throw out the rule, according to Federal Election Commission records.

Eleven other senators — nine of them Republicans — received contributions but opposed the veto effort.

Backers of the FTC rule blamed the dealers' intensive lobbying campaign for the lopsided vote, but said the campaign contributions were only part of the story.

"Car dealers are respectable citizens in every town in this country," said Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee. "They are often pillars of their community. A senator could think, 'why not give them my vote?'"

By vetoing the rule, "we are in essence saying to the public: we approve of shoddy dealers, we approve of cheats," Packwood said. "Most dealers are honest. But unfortunately, in every barrel there are a few rotten apples."

The senator with the most contributions from the dealers' association was Donald W. Riegle Jr., D-Mich., who received $15,500 over the five-year period, according to the FEC.

Jim Arbury, Riegle's administrative assistant, said the contributions did not influence the senator's vote for the veto. He said Riegle opposed the FTC rule because it does not apply to private used-car sales and would be ineffective in protecting consumers.

"It will give consumers a very false sense of security," Arbury said.

Arbury added that donations do not give contributors any special access to Riegle. "Anyone who wants access to his office gets access," Arbury said.

Jane Boorman, an aide to Sen. James Abdnor, R-S.D., who received $13,000, also denied any relation between the senator's vote for the veto and the contributions.

Scurry Co. Cancer Unit Elects 1982-83 Officers

Officers for 1982-83 were elected and a report was made on the Crusade at a meeting of the Scurry County Unit of the American Cancer Society in the Snyder Chamber of Commerce building.

Officers recommended by the nominating committee were elected by acclamation. They are Phil Guerry, president of First National Bank, president; Alfreida Moss, vice president; Trudie Wood, secretary; and H. W. Cargile treasurer.

Dr. Jim Tully made the nominating committee report.

Leona Wiggins, Crusade chairman, reported that with some two or three divisions still to complete their reports, it appears that the unit will exceed its goal again this year. She expressed her gratitude to workers and to citizens of the county for their support. It was emphasized that contributions and memorial gifts may be made throughout the year by contacting H. W. Cargile, treasurer, at West Texas State Bank.

A benefit dance hosted by Jerry and Connie Springer was highly successful, bringing in nearly $2,000, and special recognition went to Keith Martin, business chairman, who collected more than $6,000.

Jo Sterling announced that a benefit golf tournament will be held June 5 on the Western Texas College golf course. The board plans to have a concession stand and be responsible for prizes for the winners.

Also it was reported that a research questionnaire is being circulated by the American Cancer Society, and Mary Farris will head the committee for the Scurry County Fair.

Margaret Martin, 1981-82 president, presided. She expressed appreciation to the board and chairmen for their work during her terms as president.

Others attending the meeting were Lida Rhoades, Billie Sue Sewell,

PHIL GUERRY

Juanita Glass, Virginia Clark, Wanda Falls, Doris Byars and Jan Lanier.

Former Resident Writes 1st Book

Evelyn Hoyle Gee, former Snyder resident now living in San Antonio, has written her first book, a civil war saga entitled, "Ecstasy's Promise."

The historical romance, written under the pen name Constance O'Banyon, has been published by Zebra Books. It was released May 1.

Hastings in Snyder will sponsor an autograph party for Mrs. Gee. The tentative date is June 5.

"Ecstasy's Promise" tells the story of Victoria Farraday's life. Victoria was 17 years old when Sherman's troops began their path of destruction through the south and the Farraday plantation. Alone and frightened, Vic-toriana burns the plantation rather than let the yankees have it, and flees to her grandmother's home in Texas. There she meets and falls in love with Edward Hanover, only to discover later that he was a yankee.

Mrs. Gee and her husband, James, have four children and two grandchildren. Their children are Jason, 4, Kim, 14, Rick, 24, who is married, and Pam, 25, who is studying law. Their grandsons are aged two years and five months.

Mrs. Gee is the daughter of Johnny Hoyle and the sister-in-law of Mrs. Billy McCormick.

Miami Rallying Support For Argentine Cause

MIAMI (AP) — They gather everything from guitars to blood for their countrymen on the front. They pass out thousands of leaflets and mimeograph-ed sheets. They try to play on the cultural roots of Miami's Latin exile community to rally support. Headquartered in a Miami abortion clinic, a determined group of Argentine-Americans fights a lonely battle for the Falkland Islands. Sonia Fornoni and Pedro Caccamo, amid typewriters, bumper stickers and tiny paper flags, marshal the effort. The enemy's caricature is on the wall — he's grizzled, peg-legged and brandishes a cutlass. The caption below him says: "Pirate."

"Are the English anything else?" asks Mrs. Fornoni, a 26-year-old housewife from San Carlos de Bariloche who came to Miami 2½ years ago. Along with several hundred of their estimated 6,000 compatriots in southern Florida, Mrs. Fornoni and Caccamo gathered in a Little Havana restaurant after the Royal Navy set sail for the South Atlantic, and formed "Ateneo Malvinas Argentinas," the Argentine Malvinas Society.

They say they love America, but their homeland must come first. "When it's a question of the Malvinas, we are all Argentines," says Caccamo, a 45-year-old wine importer from Buenos Aires.

Headquarters for the society is an empty suite of hospital rooms on the second floor of the Women's Care Center. The nerve center of the fledgling group is a stuffy sunroom whose windows overlook Miami's major artery, Biscayne Boulevard.

There, fortified with frequent demi-tasses of espresso, Mrs. Fornoni and Caccamo are joined by dozens of volunteers. A relief map of the "Republica Argentina" commands the white-walled room. The Malvinas — the Falkland Islands to English speakers — are colored chocolate, like the mainland.

Fighting the war for the Malvinas from Miami is a never-ending struggle, they say. The Argentines say they feel drowned in a sea of English speakers and Anglo-Saxon culture. They accuse the American press and television of telling only the British side of the story.

"First, we have to fight all the misinformation. We need to know the truth," says Mrs. Fornoni.

Volunteers telephone a collective of journalists in Buenos Aires daily. Then a war dispatch is typed out and circulated, or fresh news bruited about by word of mouth or telephone.

When the Argentine troops dug in at the Falklands, volunteers scoured attics and basements and went knocking on neighbors' doors. The result? — "hundreds of guitars shipped to the men on the front," says Mrs. Fornoni. Now, she says, Argentine troops will be able to sing serenades around the fire as the Southern Hemisphere's winter grows colder.

"It is necessary for us to keep up morale," says Caccamo.

For "la patria," the Argentines say they are ready to sacrifice time, money, even blood. A Miami blood bank has started accepting pints to be airlifted to Argentine soldiers and sailors wounded in action.

Fighting has brought the war a continent away terribly close for some. Anna Maria Cespedes, a 32-year-old housewife from the seaport of La Plata, has two cousins now on the islands.

Esther Parisi, 39, of Buenos Aires, lost a son when the cruiser General Belgrano was torpedoed by a submarine and sank. She cries softly. "The day the Belgrano went down, things were terrible here," said Mrs. Fornoni.

Awards To Be Given Monday

The American Diabetes Association held its first Scurry County bike-a-thon April 25. There were four age groups and in each division three prizes were awarded.

All participants in this year's bike-a-thon are invited to an awards presentation Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Scurry County Pavilion in Towle Park. All those who participated in any way are invited to attend.

This year's winners are: (age 6-10) Bradley Sullivan, David Lane and Reagan Key; (age 11-14) Tim Sullivan, Wendy Martin and Shannon Fletcher; (age 15-18) Pete Pohlman and Sharon Briggs; (age 19-up) Nettie Moss, Jessica Burton and Sheila Collier.

Dear Abby

Pollsters Rank Low In Reader's Opinion

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1982 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: In my opinion the Gallup Poll's list of the top 24 professions in order of their reputation for honesty, integrity and ethical standards reveals a high degree of non-professionalism.

Policemen, congressmen and salesmen would no doubt have ranked differently had the terms "police officers, members of Congress and sales representatives" been used, thus recognizing the important contributions women have made to these professions.

And why were nurses, secretaries, schoolteachers and other predominantly female professions omitted?

You can put "pollsters" down at the bottom of my list for integrity and ethical standards.

APPALLED IN PA.

DEAR APPALLED: Move over. A lot of readers were also appalled. But here's a letter from at least one who had a kind word for the piece:

DEAR ABBY: Seeing pharmacists ranked No. 2 on the Gallup Poll list of professionals in order of their reputation for honesty, integrity and ethical standards offered a small consolation to my husband who is a pharmacist.

He's sometimes treated like a pest when he phones doctors' offices to verify prescriptions as he is required to do by state and federal law.

He's insulted by rude, impatient customers who resent being kept waiting until "all that red tape" is completed before he gives them their prescriptions.

He's even faced a crazed drug addict whose trigger finger was nervous on the gun because my husband wasn't moving fast enough to fill his bag with drugs.

Small wonder none of our children want to follow in Dad's footsteps and become pharmacists.

SMALL-TOWN PHARMACIST'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You think your husband has problems? Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Recently when the Gallup Poll listed the 24 most "respected" professions, the most important profession of them all didn't even make the list. I refer to agriculture! Since the beginning of civilization, farmers have performed the most indispensable service to mankind — feeding the people.

Farmers today have to be knowledgeable not only in agriculture, but also in veterinary medicine, politics, mechanics and economics — to name a few. They are also at the mercy of unpredictable weather, government policies and world politics.

Perhaps that's why, in a recent government survey, farmers are listed as having one of the highest stress levels of all workers.

NO RESPECT IN COLORADO

DEAR ABBY: Nuts to your suggestion that the cost of the wedding should be split 50-50 between the bride's family and the groom's.

I think the family that wants a big splashy wedding should foot the bill. If they both want it, they can split it, but if only one wants it, the one who wants it should pay for it.

PAID FOR THREE AND WANTED NONE

DEAR PAID: Your suggestion makes a lot of sense to me.

CONFIDENTIAL TO AVOWED ATHEIST: To paraphrase Blaise Pascal, the famous 17th century scientist and religious philosopher: "If there is no God, we have nothing to lose by praying. And if there is one, we have much to lose if we don't."

Insurance For Braniff Workers

BLOOMFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. officials said Tuesday the company will pay all claims incurred before May 1 by fired employees of Braniff Airways, which last week sought protection from creditors under the U.S. Bankruptcy Act.

G. Robert O'Brien, senior vice president for group insurance operations, said Connecticut General has asked bankruptcy court officials for permission to extend the coverage date until May 13, the date Braniff filed for protection.

The insurer, based in Bloomfield, will also allow "recently active" Braniff employees to convert their medical and life insurance from group to individual policies until June 18. Connecticut General said that allowance will let Braniff employees continue basic medical and life protection with no lapse in coverage.

"We will process claims and conversion requests as quickly as possible and do everything else we can to help former Braniff employees through this difficult situation," O'Brien said.
