

FIVE PER CENT City Employees Get Another Pay Increase

City employees will receive a five per cent pay increase effective April 1, and some minimum water users will pay a dollar less for water, according to City Manager Larry Crow.

TWO ITEMS

Crow told city department heads this morning of the decision of city commissioners to include these two items in the upcoming city budget.

Under the pay raise five per cent will be added to the amount received by city employees before Oct. 1 last year, when city employees received an across-the-board $20 pay hike.

Crow said that the water rates would not be lowered by the reduced minimum, but residents using less than 2,000 gallons per month will pay a dollar less per month for water. Under the present rates, residents pay $3 for the first 3,000 gallons of water used. The $3 is charged whether all of the 3,000 gallons is used or not.

After April 1, a new $2 minimum will go into effect for the first 2,000 gallons, with the third 1,000 gallons costing $1. The normal water rates will apply after the first 3,000 gallons.

INFORMAL MEETING

Commissioners met informally Monday night to discuss the new budget and included the pay hike and water deduction. Formal approval of the budget will come later this month after a public hearing, Crow said.

Total cost of paying city employees more, and reducing the minimum water bill will be almost $50,000 annually.

Today's Schedule

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Here are highlights of the second day of Apollo 9 in Big Spring time:

Breakfast: 4:30 a.m., Canadian bacon, apple sauce, corn flakes, brownies and fruit drinks.

SPS burn: 8:11 a.m., second firing of the 20,500-pound, thrust Service Propulsion System (SPS) engine that will rocket the next Apollo ship to the moon, lasts two minutes and changes orbit height maximum to 200 miles.

Lunch: 9:40 a.m., tuna salad, chicken and vegetables, fruit drinks and sweet bread.

SPS burn: 11:18 p.m., third test of this engine lasts 4½ minutes, puts spacecraft 310 miles out.

SPS burn: 2:38 p.m., final test runs less than half a minute and alters orbit just over a mile.

Supper: 3 p.m., spaghetti beef bites, bacon squares, banana pudding and grapefruit drink.

Bedtime: 4 p.m., crew has to get up at 2:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Apollo Space Pilots 'Wag Their Rocket'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 9 space pilots jared their ship twice with jolts of rocket power today for two basic reasons.

—To see if the awkward moon cab locked to Apollo's nose would survive the shaking.

—And to make the command ship easier to handle in any space rescue attempts that might be needed in risky maneuvers to come.

WAGGED

James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott, both Air Force colonels, and civilian Russell L. Schweikart literally wagged their rocket engine to test how well their auto pilot-controlled the ship.

They talked more brightly after a good night's sleep.

Mission Control reported the second rocket burn was "nice and stable." They are flying it manually now and it looks good.

—Cut-off . . . initial look at the onboard computer looks like we're right in there close."

The astronauts quickly and coolly checked their figures with the ground.

Scott, asked by the ground whether he had much trouble handling the controls during the rocket burn, said he found it rather easy.

For one brief moment between tests, the astronauts kidded about the hoses that provide oxygen and take away used air from their space suits.

The second rocket burst of the day lasted nearly five minutes, ending at 12:23 p.m. EST. It boosted the combined Apollo-moon cab structure to an orbit ranging from a high of about 315 miles to a low of 125 miles. It also improved the track of the spacecraft and its angle to the sun's light for Thursday's planned spacewalk.

The first rocket firing was at 9:12 a.m., a two minute burst. It also boosted the orbit. But neither test shook up the nose-to-nose spacecraft as much as had been expected. It was a successful prove-out of one major unknown for the two ships that may carry Americans to the moon in July.

The two firings reduced the fuel load of the spacecraft by almost 26,000 pounds, making it easier to control the ship with small jets should deft maneuvering be necessary for any rescue attempt in a space chase scheduled for Friday.

"We were pretty well crowded today to get all these things in," one of them said just before turning in for their first nine-hour sleep period. "And we sort of missed lunch."

"Roger," Mission Control replied. "I could tell you were really lumping up there."

Tired though they were after 12 busy hours, they were happy because of their success with a demanding flight plan. Asked whether they were ready to copy some information from the ground, one of them replied jokingly, "Stand by. We're going to have to sort through the food bags for a piece of paper."

BEARISH ISSUE

Cargo Problem

DALLAS (AP) — A pilot radioed Love Field for emergency landing clearance Monday because of trouble with his cargo. A large bear that had broken out of a cage.

Airport employees and sheriff's deputies spent the next 90 minutes getting the bear to a zoo. Nobody was injured.

Autobahn Closed

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany, campaigning against a West German presidential election to be held in West Berlin Wednesday, closed the main autobahn link between the city and West Germany late today.

Travel was halted on the 116-mile-long superhighway about three hours after West German Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger flew in to take part in the election of a successor to President Heinrich Lübke.

It was not immediately clear how long the East Germans intended to keep the road closed.

Police said motor traffic on two other highways, leading to Hof in the south and Hamburg in the north, remained unimpeded and railway and air traffic was normal.

She's Polishing Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Miss Nina Giuliano took a job as a boothblack in the men's hair salon of a department store although, she said, she is a qualified hair stylist. Miss Giuliano, "about 30," said she couldn't get a barber's job because the owners of men's hair-dressing parlors feared a woman barber would make the customers nervous.

Third Mayor, 3 Days

EL PASO (AP) — El Paso has had three mayors in the last three days.

Alderman Ashley Classen became the third Monday when he was sworn in to complete the term of former Mayor Judson Williams, who resigned Saturday.

Alderman Fred McKinstry, mayor pro tem under Williams, held office until the City Council chose Classen.

Prison Brutality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detailed testimony about wide-spread brutality in the state prison systems of Arkansas and Virginia was given today to a Senate subcommittee investigating conditions for youthful offenders.

The hearing was marked by a sharp outburst by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who accused an American Civil Liberties Union attorney testifying about the conditions in Virginia prisons of trying "to downgrade and besmirch the great state of Virginia."

Downtown Sprayed With Blast Debris

By KEN LEACH

A freak mishap at the demolition site of the old Crawford Hotel Monday afternoon, caused an explosion that sent debris soaring over a wide area of downtown.

Only one person was reported injured, and he was more than a half block away from the blast. More than a dozen cars were damaged by flying bits of concrete, one of them parked on Main, in front of the City Pawn Shop.

CHAIN OF EVENTS

The explosion was the result of a chain of events, which began shortly before 4 p.m. Operator Charles Gray attempted to lift a load of rubble with his giant crane and less of the rubble than planned gave way under the strain of the load, causing a whiplash to the crane boom. The dragline tangled with electric lines along the alley and the hotel site, causing a shower of sparks.

Meanwhile, Gray, still at the controls, turned the derrick pole away from the power lines as the full impact of the whiplash caused it to bepd back over the cab.

The falling boom struck the ground above an abandoned diesel oil storage tank. Fire Marshal A. D. Meador theorized the concussion caused the explosion.

The blast inside the tank ruptured one end and the force ripped a three by six feet section of concrete from the ground, and hurled debris into Main Street.

Injured was Gregorio Torres Bonilla, 61, 600 NW 4th, who was treated for a broken toe on his right foot, and released from Cowper Hospital and Clinic. He was standing on the corner of Main and Third, on the Courthouse Square. Most of the damaged cars were parked on the Permian Building parking lot, adjacent to the demolition site.

ESCAPED

A woman escaped serious injury by seconds. She had parked her car several feet from the explosion site and walked into the back door of Hemphill-Wells. Pieces of concrete pelted the wall and door frame just after she had walked by.

Gray was not injured. Firemen from the downtown

Caught By Blast, Escapes Death

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Working alone at an isolated silver mine, Edward Knoblock set off a dozen sticks of dynamite.

Something went wrong and he was caught by the blast. His right leg crushed, bleeding severely, he dragged himself to his truck. He drove three miles over a desert dirt road to flag down help on heavily traveled US 95, operating the truck with his left foot. Then he passed out.

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Thieves stole five rooms of furniture valued at $1,500 from a model home during the week-end, Police Chief E. E. Hardy said. Then they unbolted the refrigerator from the kitchen floor and took it, too. They left the sink.

Peking Charges Heat Up Over Border Clash

TOKYO (AP) — Peking whipped up more and bigger demonstrations today against the Soviet Union in the wake of their newest border clash and charged the Russians "dream of an armed occupation of Chinese territory."

Red China also accused the Soviet Union of "joining with the United States in attempting to encircle China."

MILLIONS

Radio Peking reported that "tens of millions" of Chinese demonstrated through the night in all parts of the mainland. The broadcast said 450,000 Red Guards and workers massed around the Soviet Embassy in Peking, waving placards with demands to "hang" Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and "try" Soviet Communist party boss Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Chinese and Soviet troops clashed Sunday on an island in the frozen Ussuri River which separates Manchuria from the Soviet Union's maritime provinces. The island, named Chenpao by the Chinese and Daman-sky by the Soviets, is 200 miles north of Vladivostok and both countries claim it.

Moscow and Peking swapped protest notes Monday, each accusing the other of "provocative armed intrusion" that resulted in "many killed and wounded." Each side demanded compensation and punishment of those responsible, and warned "resolute counterblows" would be dealt future "violations."

PREVIOUSLY ACQUITTED

Curry Charged In Two Assaults

AMARILLO (AP) — A West Texas State University student who was acquitted in the 1961 slaying of a Cisco, Tex., church secretary has been charged with rape and robbery here.

Police said Nathan Curry, who lives on the WTSU campus at nearby Canyon, has been charged with the robbery of a 19-year-old Amarillo housewife and the rape of a 23-year-old Amarillo woman.

IN LAUNDRIES

Both offenses occurred at coin-operated laundries, police said. Curry was found innocent of the 1961 slaying, when he was 15-years-old, of Mrs. Florence Hussey, 53. She formerly lived in Big Spring.

Amarillo police said Curry is charged with the robbery of the 19-year-old woman on Feb. 3. The woman, who was not raped, told police a man robbed her of $180 and tied her up with shoe laces before the attack was interrupted by a 15-year-old girl's arrival to use the telephone.

The rape charge stemmed from the alleged criminal assault Feb. 25 of a woman who told police that a man entered the coin-operated laundry where she was washing, held a knife at her throat, and forced her into his car.

She said she was then driven to a spot north of Thompson Park and raped.

The women had provided descriptions of their attackers and of his automobile. Friday night, patrolman William Bean recognized a car matching the description of the wanted vehicle, stopped it at a drive-in theater, and arrested the driver. Curry was acquitted in 1963 in Palo Pinto, Tex., of the murder of Mrs. Hussey. The trial had been moved from nearby Eastland after efforts to pick a jury there failed.

ADMITTED

At the trial, officers introduced a statement in which the youth admitted the killing. The statement given to officers said Curry had entered the home of Mrs. Hussey thinking she was not at home and killed her when he was discovered.

An autopsy revealed Mrs. Hussey had been beaten and stabbed 12 times and there was evidence that her killer had attempted to rape her. When found her body was clad only in a sheer nightgown.

Nixon To Give Report Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon reports to the American people tonight in a nationally broadcast news conference keyed to his European trip but likely to touch on new tensions in Vietnam and Berlin.

The White House said the hour-long news conference starting at 9 p.m. would be restricted solely to foreign policy issues with the President entertaining no questions about domestic matters.

White House newsmen could not recall when any similar restrictions had been placed on reporters.

Governor's Revenue Plan Is Ruled Unconstitutional

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin ruled today that a $71.6 million phase of Gov. Preston Smith's new tax and revenue program would be illegal if enacted into law.

The attorney general's ruling, asked by Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said the so-called Cavness plan to transfer oil and gas lease income from the permanent to the available school fund would violate three sections of the state constitution.

Smith said the opinion means "one of two things. Either a new source of revenue must be found or we will have to cut back on proposed expenditures."

"It is somewhat of a disappointment because the plan had been proposed as a potential source of about $72 million in revenue to help finance the programs which I have recommended in my message to the legislature," Smith said soon as Martin's opinion was disclosed.

"However, I feel it is clearly my constitutional responsibility to make other suggestions, and you may be sure I will fill that responsibility."

The revenue-raising program, introduced by Rep. Don Cavness Austin, would provide that all mineral leases, rentals and bonuses on public school lands and 72.5 per cent of all oil and gas royalties on such lands be deposited to the available school fund. This transfer would relieve the general revenue fund of a $71.6 million need for public school operations in 1970-71 and in effect make more money available for other purposes.

PORTION CITED

The portion of the Constitution cited by Martin contains the provision written in the 1876 document that certain state-owned lands in Texas were dedicated to establishment of a permanent school fund "and all sums of money that may come to the state from the sale of any portion of the same, shall constitute a perpetual public school fund."

Commiss Impede Traffic On Main Berlin Autobahn

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany impeded traffic on the main Berlin autobahn again today as West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger flew to West Berlin to take part in the election of a new West German president. The Communists objected to the election being held in West Berlin. West German customs officials at Helldorf, on the western end of the autobahn, reported that, though eastbound cars kept moving, traffic headed to West Berlin was halted for two hours inside East Germany. TROOP CONVOYS Travelers reported observing heavy Soviet and East German troop convoys along the autobahn at the time—between about 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Warsaw Pact maneuvers are under way in the area. At least half of West Germany's 1,036 presidential electors had flown to West Berlin without incident by Monday night, although the Soviet Union warned it could not guarantee the safety of U.S., British and French planes carrying delegates to the Federal Assembly that will elect a new president Wednesday. The Western allies responded to the Soviet threat by reiterating they hold the Russians responsible for security in the air corridors. Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger flew into West Berlin today aboard a U.S. Air Force Constellation that is regularly used to take the chancellor and West German president in and out of the city. The chancellor asserted that the election is a "thoroughly peaceful occasion that does not disrupt, or threaten anyone or injure anyone's rights." He also said it is a sign of West Germany's legal ties with West Berlin.

TREATS

Concerning the Communist threats, Kiesinger said: "threats do not accomplish anything with us." But he restated his government's readiness to enter into future negotiations with the Communists for the benefit of the Berliners, although not at the expense of West German rights in the city. A force of 8,000 policemen, equal to the number that guarded President Nixon during his visit last Thursday, stood by to guard against demonstrations or other actions around the site of the Federal Assembly, the East Prussian hall of the West Berlin fair grounds. The police banned a demonstration today by West Berlin's Communist party to protest the election. East German Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht dashed hopes for an eleventh-hour settlement. He rebuffed a West Berlin initiative to resume talks and charged that West Germany was trying to use the election to "blackmail" East Berlin into granting a more liberal transit agreement for the isolated city.

WALL OFFER

Ulbricht again dangled his offer to grant Easter wall passes to West Berliners who have not been able to cross into East Berlin to see relatives since 1966. The offer was contingent on Bonn shifting the election out of West Berlin, and Ulbricht rejected West Germany's counter offer to switch the election site in exchange for a more extended transit agreement. He reiterated that West Germany has no business in West Berlin, which the Communists consider an independent political entity still under post-war occupation. Bonn regards West Berlin as its 11th state, although the occupation of the city has never ended.

'Hard Freeze' May Have Killed Plants

A "hard freeze" which plant experts feel will probably do grave damage to over-eager plants and shrubs that had budded out, smashed down on Big Spring Monday night. The chill weather which was ushered in Sunday peaked early Tuesday morning and the temperature dropped to an icy 26 degrees. The U.S. Experiment Station said that the mercury dropped to freezing at 10 p.m. Monday and did not top 32 degrees again until around 9 a.m. Tuesday. The more than 10 hours of freezing and subfreezing cold doubtless nipped the early shrubs and flowers. Paul Griggs, county farm agent, said that a prolonged cold interval would undoubtedly damage plants and shrubs, but he added that the relatively high humidity which prevailed and which coated everything with a moist layer of dew (which became ice as the night advanced) would help to minimize the impact. It will take two or three days before the full impact of the chill can be evaluated. Plants and shrubs hit hard will be easily recognized by the blackening of leaves and buds. The frozen buds will then fall off. The 26 degree reading seemed chilly but it fell far short of the all-time low for the date. This was a bone-chilling eight degrees, which was scored on the night of March 4, 1917. The warmest reached Monday was 46, and the prospects for attaining that temperature Tuesday were extremely dim. Warmest March 4 on record was a summery 91 degree reading of 1910. No additional moisture was recorded Monday.

Enemy Rocket Attacks On Saigon Denounced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has served notice that continued indiscriminate shelling of South Vietnamese cities will bring both political and military consequences to North Vietnam and the Viet Cong. Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Monday the "consequences of these attacks" are the enemy's responsibility, and State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey confirmed that the consequences could be "both political and military." It was the first time the State Department had said specifically the series of enemy attacks might result in military action, although a halt to such bombardment was one of the points former President Johnson included in the "understanding" he announced at the same time he said the bombing of North Vietnam would end last Nov. 1. As of Monday, McCloskey said at his daily press briefing, "Everything is under review, all aspects of policy, military and political." President Nixon has not yet stated what steps he will take if he determines that North Vietnam deliberately violated the understanding, but he likely will be asked about it tonight when he reports to the nation on his eight-day tour of European capitals. In his statement Monday, Rogers denounced the third enemy rocket attack on Saigon within nine days as a "reminder of the callous attitude with which the enemy regards the lives of innocent noncombatants in the Vietnam war." Rogers said that while the "indiscriminate shelling of Saigon and other cities is costing additional severe casualties to the enemy," it will bring them no military advantage nor will it succeed in putting additional pressure on the United States

Ike Continues His Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is eating more and his doctors are talking less—two indications the 78-year-old five star general is continuing his remarkable recovery from abdominal surgery. After reporting Monday that Eisenhower was overcoming the complications of pneumonia, doctors announced they would start issuing only one medical bulletin a day. Bulletins at least twice daily have been the rule at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital during the worst of Eisenhower's health crisis. Pneumonia set in last Friday, but doctors said "the area of pneumonia continues to clear," and Eisenhower's diet was being increased gradually. Eisenhower has passed the usual halfway mark in the critical two-week period following the Feb. 21 operation. Doctors said this critical period might extend longer for Eisenhower because of his age and seven heart attacks.

Texas Must Limit Tidelands Control, High Court Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has told Texas that it must limit its tidelands control to nine miles from the present coast — although the state has lost thousands of acres from erosion of its beaches since 1845. Texas maintained that the coastline—and the nine miles of tidelands it controls for oil drilling and other purposes—should be determined from the line at the time the state entered the union in 1845. The ruling Monday in effect overturned a 1967 decision that

Navy Board Of Inquiry Eyes Deadly Dive Film

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Aquanaut Robert Barth, speaking calmly, was the narrator as a Navy board of inquiry saw a video tape of a dive 610 feet into the Pacific Ocean that cost a colleague's life. A camera remotely controlled from the surface picked up Barth and Berry L. Cannon, the death victim, as they left a diving capsule and began swimming toward the leaking Sealab 3 habitat last Feb. 17. Barth was shown arriving on the diving platform. He attempted to open the hatch. It wouldn't budge so he began detaching a crow bar from the side of the habitat. Cannon was to the right of the picture, out of view, he said. "It took me approximately one minute to get the crow bar loose," Barth told the board of inquiry Monday. "When I turned around—that's when I noticed Cannon was in trouble." Barth, 39, a chief warrant officer, took part in two previous Sealab undersea living experiments. He was the leader of a team of divers—Cannon, 33, John F. Reaves, 40, and Richard M. Blackburn, 30—sent to the bottom twice in an attempt to stop a leak that threatened to

Winning Freedom Of Prisoners Dim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration apparently is making little headway in winning freedom or even improved conditions for hundreds of Americans held prisoner in North Vietnam. A new memorandum signed by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird says North Vietnam "continues to disregard the humanitarian protections" guaranteed by the 1949 Geneva Convention. "Our men are being denied basic rights, including the right of their families to know that they are captured, the right to correspond freely with their families and the right of impartial inspection of prisoner of war compounds," Laird said. All three things have been major goals of the Pentagon's Prisoner of War Policy Committee which was organized some months ago to handle POW problems. Laird's comments are included in a document directed to the committee and dated last Friday. It calls for a "new review of policies and practices" applying to families of imprisoned servicemen. "I want to be assured that the military services and the office of the secretary of defense are doing all that we possibly can for the next of kin," Laird said. The memo was interpreted to mean the Pentagon expects it

Judae Rizley Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — U.S. District Judge Ross Rizley died early today in an Oklahoma City hospital. He was 61 with Justice Black dissenting. The Supreme Court also ruled for the federal government and against Louisiana. The 5-2 decision did not finally settle, however, the fight over where Louisiana's rights and those of the federal government begin. A special master will be appointed to make further findings on the precise boundaries of the Louisiana submerged lands. Louisiana's rights, the majority said, extend three miles from the coastline as the coastline is measured under international law. Beyond that three-mile limit, federal ownership rights begin. Justice Hugo L. Black commented that the value of all the submerged lands "probably could be stated only in astronomical figures."

Crane Wrecked Again

The giant crane being used to clear the site of the old Crawford Hotel was almost flipped over Monday afternoon in the explosion that hurled debris over a wide area of downtown. Knocked askew by the blast, the giant "arm" swung back over the cab as shown here.

Red Vietnam Sends Tanks Into Battle

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam sent a column of tanks and other armored vehicles deeper into South Vietnam than ever before today, but American bombers drove them back from a remote Special Forces camp in the central highlands.

The U.S. Command said there were at least 10 Russian tanks and several other armored vehicles in the column. More than 30 American bombers destroyed at least two of the tanks and three other armored vehicles, American spokesmen reported.

The rest of the column apparently retreated into Cambodia or Laos with the U.S. warplanes in pursuit.

It was the first time in a year that enemy tanks were reported in action and also the heaviest action reported in the highlands so far in the enemy's spring offensive, now in its 10th day.

Elsewhere, more than 20 rocket and mortar attacks were reported overnight, but a U.S. spokesman said the offensive seems to have "leveled off." Military analysts said the first phase had ended in the area of Saigon and its approaches, but they added that the enemy is believed preparing for a more violent second phase, which might begin this weekend or early next week.

The target of the North Vietnamese tank column was the Ben Het Special Forces Camp, 24 miles northwest of Kontum and seven miles southeast of the tri-border region where South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos meet.

A spokesman said reconnaissance helicopters and photos identified the tanks as light Soviet amphibious PT76's, weighing about 15 tons and armed with a 76mm gun and a machine gun. Earlier reports had identified them as Soviet T34-85's which are twice as big and carry an 85mm gun.

It was the second time the North Vietnamese had used tanks to spearhead an assault on a border outpost. In February, 1968, infantrymen moving behind a column of 15 PT76's and armed personnel carriers overran the Lang Vei Special Forces Camp near Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of South Vietnam. Three of the tanks and four of the armored personnel carriers were destroyed before the allied defenders pulled out of the camp.

New Address For Tax Returns

Federal income tax returns should no longer be filed with the Internal Revenue Service District office at Dallas, but with the Southwest Service Center, 2651 S. Interregional Highway, Austin, Texas 78740. This applies both to tax returns with remittances and those with refunds due.

The IRS Southwest Region, which includes Texas, is the latest to require direct filing of all income tax returns with IRS regional service centers, under a law enacted Nov. 2, 1966.

Direct filing of returns will eliminate initial handling at the district office, where they are packaged and shipped to the service center for processing.

State Police Arrest Big Rapids Students

By The Associated Press

Michigan State police broke through two locked glass doors in the administration building to arrest more than 300 demonstrators holding a sit-in at Ferris State College in Big Rapids.

Acting on the orders of Gov. William Milliken, who said two weeks ago he would not tolerate student disorders, about 70 troopers forcibly dragged the first few demonstrators from the building Monday night.

"WHITE POWER"
 The rest left without resistance. About 600 white students gathered outside as the predominantly Negro sit-ins were taken to buses under guard. A few of the onlookers chanted "White Power."

The demonstrators were driven to the Big Rapids National Guard Armory where they were arraigned on charges of trespassing. They occupied the building only an hour and ignored an ultimatum to leave.

The incident culminated a week of confrontations between Negroes and whites on the central Michigan campus. Of the 7,700 students, 360 are Negro. They seek some Negro faculty members and black studies.

At the University of Colorado in Boulder, about 30 screaming students forced San Francisco State College President S. I. Hayakawa to cut short a speech. A shouting match between Hayakawa and the students, some members of Students for a Democratic Society, erupted into a chair-throwing, fist-swinging melee at one point but there were no serious injuries.

Before the speech they yelled obscenities at Hayakawa. Campus police stood by during the demonstration but there were no arrests.

PICKET LINES
 At a news conference Hayakawa likened the SDS to Nazi storm troopers. He said "mindless activism" was the cause of much of the current unrest. Elsewhere there were these developments:

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH

CAROLINA—A black banner flew for an hour over the Charlotte campus after Negro students raised it in place of the United States and state flags. Spokesmen said it was to dramatize demands including establishment of a black studies program.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA—Striking minority students at the Berkeley campus were joined on picket lines by teaching aides who gained sanction Sunday for their own strike.

COLGATE ROCHESTER DIVINITY SCHOOL—The president canceled classes until Thursday in the face of a sit-in by 20 Negro seminarians who took over the administration building.

Program Shaped Up For Easter Sunrise Service

Program details are being shaped up for Big Spring's traditional sunrise worship on Easter Sunday, a program sponsored by the local Pastors' Association.

Easter is on April 6, and the service will begin as the sun rises at 6:29 a.m. Weather permitting, the program will be at the City Park amphitheatre, as in years past.

Speaker this year will be Dr. P. D. (Dick) O'Brien, now of Houston, and for nearly 20 years before his retirement, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring. Dr. O'Brien has written that he is looking forward to returning and visiting with old friends. The Easter service offering is used to help defray the cost of the Bible class in Big Spring High School, and Dr. O'Brien was a leader in initiating this course.

Larry Stanley, of the HCJC music department, is to be in charge of music, and a group from the BSHS band, directed by Bill Bradley, will assist.

As the sun appears over the eastern horizon, a trumpet fanfare will open the service, then colors will be presented by the Webb Air Force Base color guard.

A special Scripture reading will be given by John Johansen, representing the public speaking class at HCJC. There will be special music.

Lt. Col. (Chaplain) Robert Deming of Webb, president this year of the Pastors' Association, is in charge of the program.

A Devotional For The Day

We do not lose heart. Though our outer nature is wasting away, our inner nature is being renewed every day. (II Corinthians 4:16, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, help us to make a spiritual inventory of ourselves and be honest in doing so. Lead us to set aside time for the spiritual disciplines that promote our growth in grace. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Why Not Protection For People?

Last September, three of 46 aliens died in San Antonio from suffocation in a sealed van truck. They were being hauled for migrant labor.

This moved Reps. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi and Lauro Cruz of Houston to introduce a bill in the current Legislature to regulate the interstate transport of migrant labor.

As coincidence would have it, shortly after introduction of the Truan-Cruz bill an arrest was made at Del Rio for illegal transportation of aliens. The report indicated that only 27 Mexican aliens were being hauled, in somewhat more humanitarian conditions than in the San Antonio case.

These two incidents surely should move the Legislature to pass the Truan-Cruz bill, though a similar measure failed in the 1967 session. Rep. Truan states the case in persuasive terms.

"I think it is a disgrace to all Texans that we have rules and regulations concerning the transportation of cattle and no regulation for the transportation of human beings who work in agriculture."

It is a disgrace. And the least the Legislature can do is approve safety precautions — for the workers, the driver and vehicle. Incidentally, the penalty for violations, fines of $5 to $50, is far too low considering we are talking about people — not cattle.

Perhaps A Draft By Lottery

The draft will be "fairer" this year. But few will rejoice over it.

For the Vietnam war to date, the high school graduate or the dropout has been the major source of recruits. The picture is gradually changing. Draft calls are running over 50,000 a month. Only five per cent of those inducted last year were college men. But graduates and graduate students are now entering the draft in larger numbers. The proportion of college students in the draft may well exceed 35 to 40 per cent before the end of the year.

This provides more fuel for the argument of draft vs. a voluntary armed force. President Nixon's promise to end the draft after the war in Vietnam will not be easy to keep, though. Substantially higher pay (some in Congress are talking about boosting beginning pay by $100 a month) would help. But no one can be sure that it will provide the necessary manpower. Nor is there any likelihood that college-educated men will be attracted to military service, except for the officer corps provided the draft is held in instant readiness.

Maybe voluntary service may be worth a try. But if it fails, then the fairest alternative is draft by lottery where every eligible man will have the same chance of being inducted or not being inducted.

Holmes Alexander The Treaty That Hopes For Peace

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's case for the nonproliferation treaty is on the same shaky ground where Lyndon Johnson left it. In appearances before the Foreign Relations committee, two administration spokesmen did little to firm up the foundations.

SECRETARY OF STATE William Rogers cited the President's oft-quoted confidence that we have reached a time of "negotiation rather than confrontation with the USSR." The catch phrase sounded as much like a catch phrase as ever. Last summer Russia invaded Czechoslovakia, and still occupies that country. This spring we are being asked to accept a treaty whose preamble reads "... states must refrain ... from the threat or use of force ... When you juxtapose this recent fact beside this pious statement, you wonder why the solemn-faced Senators don't burst out in a hollow laugh.

It's no laughing matter for Secretary Rogers. The President has become his own manager of foreign affairs. The Secretary of State already looks embarrassed at being a messenger boy.

CHAIRMAN GLENN SEABORG of the Atomic Energy Commission, the other administration spokesman, fetched a little more substance to the discussion, but not much. Dr. Seaborg took note of some 1967 objections to the treaty. The point had been raised that the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) in Vienna was lamely equipped to perform the safeguard functions that the treaty assigns to it. Dr. Seaborg said he'd found the IAEA safeguards staff in 1967 to number only 13 professionals. He said the figure had been raised last year to 28 and was expected to reach 44. But this paucity of talent existed when the treaty was first recommended to the Senate. Dr. Seaborg was admitting that the whole project was unground in the first place.

THE TREATY, is a bad instrument for reasons that ought to be very familiar to us. Nothing has happened since the end of World War II to suggest that the Soviet Union is a reliable partner in maintaining peace. Our 40-odd multilateral treaties with supposed allies, including those in Europe, Asia and the Middle East, have not prevented the enemy's use of force. They have not provided the United States with any safety-in-numbers. We are not going to have any military security unless we provide it with our own arms. The nonproliferation treaty is fundamentally a wishful plan for disarmament-without-inspection.

THE IMPLICIT PROMISE of the treaty is that we will protect those free nations which refrain from building nuclear armaments. This is a promise that we ought not to make, even by implication. For there's a grave question as to whether we can or should influence any sizable nation in its choice of weapons.

There's little doubt that the Senate will let President Nixon take this first major step in foreign policy. He sincerely believes it's a step toward further negotiation. It's just as likely to be one toward further confrontations.

What Others Say

Since natural scientists induce many of today's major changes, it is well that they are giving increased thought to the result. More and more the men from whose hands emerge the earth-changing innovations are feeling concerned over what is happening to mankind's environment. They are recognizing the fact that it is no longer enough merely to invent and to initiate. They must also weigh the consequences of today's startling discoveries.

For some years the natural scientists have been acutely aware of this problem where the atom is concerned. While recognizing the power for good which lies in unleashing the atom's power, scientists also see that the means for controlling the atom's misuse have not kept pace.

They now agree that the same can be said for many more of today's extraordinary findings. Many of these are now seen to have wholly unforeseen effects on the world in which we live. Herbicides, insecticides, chemicals, these are but a few of the fields in which new developments have brought, along with many benefits, many dangers.

This is a warning that men should show greater heed before rushing into the immediate, widespread use of every new invention. For even the best can sometimes have hidden results.

Things That Make Life Worth Living

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

Breaking a path in new-fallen snow and looking back and seeing that nothing is following you but your own footprints...The placid resignation of an old woman's hands, folded in her lap at a symphony concert...the sound of valley bells heard on a high hill at twilight.

Walking across the Brooklyn Bridge on a misty day when the towers of Manhattan loom like the spires of Camelot...A dog wiggling his tail to show his eager willingness to share a crumb of your gladness or sadness...A little girl holding a yellow dandelion under her small boyfriend's chin to see if he likes butter.

WATCHING a bunch of bums eating Christmas turkey at a Bowery mission...Having someone run to meet you with open arms...The bend in a river, a distant sail setting out to sea...The hearty taste of homemade beef stew on a wintry day.

The swirling white clouds of an old-fashioned steam locomotive, huffing and chuffing like a metal dragon impatient to be gone...Telling a child to wish upon a falling star, and wondering what that silent wish might be...Looking for four-leaf clovers on a fine summer afternoon, and being the first to find one.

Opening a telegram from a loved one, knowing for sure the news it brings you will be good...Throwing a winning ringer in a game of horseshoes against a better player...Standing by as a mare gives birth to her first shaggy-legged colt...Two old men playing checkers on a bench outside the county courthouse, each trying to talk the other into making a mistake. Teaching a youngster how to tie his shoes.

THE SMELL of a fresh-baked pie being taken from a hot oven...Hearing the welcome sound of footsteps outside, waiting for the door to open...The comforting feeling of putting on a worn sport coat your wife has been trying for years to get you to throw away... Making friends with some park squirrels at the going price—peanuts.

Getting a letter from your son at college asking for advice instead of money...Attending a high school graduation and becoming suddenly aware that your daughter is by far the prettiest girl in the class.

Finding, when no plumber can be reached, that after all you have the know-how to fix a leaky faucet yourself...The tangy taste of strawberries picked from your own garden...The redolence of anything made of leather...The gleam of antique silver or time-worn brass...Lighting up dinner table candles for someone cooking in the kitchen whom you hold dear.

GOING TO A family reunion and standing around a piano, arm in arm, singing old sweet songs that even Lawrence Welk has forgotten...Pausing in a woodland stroll to watch a robin feed her young...Paying off a mortgage you felt might hang over your head forever.

Sitting in a rocking chair on your front porch with your shoes off, at peace with God and man, and knowing that there is nothing else on earth for the moment that you have to do except rock back and forth and enjoy yourself. That is living.

Labor Shortage Woes

NEW YORK (AP) — After more than 30 years of persistent national efforts to reduce unemployment, this nation now may have to deal with the opposite face of the problem for years to come. It's a seller's market for workers.

The present low rate of unemployment, about 3.3 per cent of the work force, proves that great advances have been made in finding jobs, even though many individuals and groups and geographical areas still suffer inequities.

But after so many years of dealing with a problem of too many workers and too few jobs, a tendency has developed among Americans to overlook the problems of a labor shortage. This shortage could be disruptive.

A STUDY Just released by the National Planning Association suggests that during the next decade a manpower shortage may actually prevent the nation from achieving widely accepted goals in housing, health and social welfare.

It offers these examples:

—During the 1970s some 18,000 doctors will be needed each year, but American medical schools are expected to graduate only 8,500. Some 5,000 new dentists a year will be needed; only 3,200 a year were graduated from dental schools in the 1960s.

—Social welfare goals call for an average annual growth of nearly 20,000 social workers, but increases in recent years have been at a rate of only 3,000 a year.

—Urban development and housing goals would necessitate a yearly increase of 7,000 carpenters. But in the period 1957-1965 the number of carpenters declined by 50,000.

The association, a nonprofit, nonpolitical group that made the study for the U.S. Labor Department, summarized the problem by estimating that about 101 million workers will be needed by 1975, or 10 million more than projected.

To Your Good Health Tips On Stopping Drips

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes an almost constant dripping of the nose? Would you send your booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble"? I enclose 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for it. —W.P.

Sinus is only one cause of a constantly drippy nose. Or let's put it this way: such a nose may be related to sinus trouble and it may not. Or it may indicate a condition which eventually will bring on true sinus trouble.

A continuously dripping nose in most cases raises a strong suspicion of allergy. Just as some people have this trouble during the hay fever season, others can be allergic to something that is constantly present, such as house dust, the feathers in pillows, animal danders, or countless other things.

Polyps, or some deviation of the nasal septum, or other factors interfering with normal drainage of the nose can also cause an exasperating drip.

MAY BE INFECTION Some chronic infection in the nose also can be responsible, although usually there will be some other symptom in addition.

The sinuses are a sort of network of "caverns" in the bony back of the nose and above it. It is possible — although not usual — for a sinus condition to develop and make your nose feel pretty miserable.

It is usually wiser to suspect that things are the other way round: some nose condition (or allergy) has developed, and it causes trouble in the sinuses.

Thus some discrimination is necessary in deciding what needs to be done to correct sinus trouble, or to put an end to a constant drip. The two conditions are so interrelated that I think you will find the sinus booklet of considerable help to you, regardless of which came first, the hen or the egg. Or the drip or the sinus condition.

AFRAID OF DOGS

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am afraid of dogs. Is there anything I can do about it? I realize it is not very serious to you but to me it is getting very serious.

I would like to tell my doctor but am afraid he will think it is too silly to worry about. Please help me if you can. —Mrs. J. Z.

If it has become that big a problem to you, I think your doctor will agree that it's a real problem. He may or may not be able to do much about it himself, but he would be in a position to judge whether you should try a few sessions with a psychiatrist, or perhaps be able to refer you to a mental health clinic or to a psychologist.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Recently

I read an article entitled, "Vitamin E Good for Everything." I was much impressed by the article but my doctor scoffed at it, and felt it was a waste of money to buy this vitamin. Is this vitamin as valuable as the article says, and are doctors just now becoming aware of what it can do? —Mrs. M.L.A.

NOT A MIRACLE

Doctors have been aware of vitamin E for quite some time, but they aren't finding evidence that it does any of the things that a handful of supporters claim for it.

Study indicates that vitamin E is sufficiently plentiful in so many foods that few folks ever lack it. Like any vitamin, enough is enough, and taking additional amounts is wasteful.

As for it being "good for everything," that claim smacks too much of "Old Prof. Jones' Secret Indian Herbs, Good for Man and Beast."

Chronic bad breath can make life miserable for everyone. For a medical view of the causes and cure of bad breath, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Bad Breath Can Be Corrected," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Sunday's Child Is Off The Mark

REMEMBER THAT old jingle about the day one happens to have been born?

Goes like this:
"Monday's child is fair of face;
"Tuesday's child is full of grace;
"Wednesday's child is full of woe;
"Thursday's child has far to go;
"Friday's child is loving and giving;
"Saturday's child has to work for a living;
"But a child that's born on the Sabbath Day is fair and wise and good and gay."

DO YOU happen to know the day of the week on which you were born? It's an easy matter to find out if you happen to have a copy of The World Almanac around, or, for that matter, probably any reasonably good encyclopedia. You merely turn to the perpetual calendar and then, after reading the instructions half a dozen times, figure out what day you were born on.

SINCE I have trouble following instructions, I ran a test to see if I was going about it correctly. I knew for example that Dec. 7, 1941, was a Sunday. So I checked the formula to see if the answer I would get for that date would pan out correctly? It did.

So I discovered that I, too, made my debut into this vale of tears on a Sunday.

I personally do not recall the day with any clarity, but the book says I was born on a Sunday, so I believe it.

HOWEVER, THERE are those who know me who say that if I was born on Sunday then the ancient ditty about the characters of infants being determined by the days of their birth is out of kilter — at least in my case.

I do not want to appear immodest but I would say that description fits me to a "T." My friends, so called, are not so enthusiastic. They suggest that a wide gulf exists between the description and my personality and character.

I must have showed up, I will agree, pretty close to Saturday. The poem relates that Saturday's child was to work for a living and by gosh that's been my lot ever since I can remember.

Art Buchwald The Revolt Against Mothers

WASHINGTON — Nineteen sixty-nine, according to the Chinese calendar, is the "year of the rooster." In the United States it could be called the "year of the mother." It may be too early to predict, but I think this is going to be a bad year for mothers. "Portnoy's Complaint," the Philip Roth book, does the most devastating job on a mother in modern literature; and while it's true that she's a Jewish mother, it's a known fact that most American mothers are really Jewish mothers at heart.

My Aunt Sophie in Brooklyn is very disturbed about this turn of events. "I knew they'd get around to us sooner or later," Aunt Sophie said. "What do you mean, Aunt Sophie?"

"FIRST THEY blamed the government for all the trouble in the country, then they blamed the Vietnamese war, then they blamed the schools, and finally they've gotten down to the nitty-gritty and they're blaming us. If it wasn't for mothers, they're saying, the world would be a better place to live in."

"You shouldn't take this personally, Aunt Sophie. It's true that Philip Roth's fictional mother is very tough on her son, but that doesn't mean that every mother is like her."

"THEN WHY is it a best-seller? You think the people read the book because the hero is such a schmoe? They read it because the mother is such a horrible woman and they can identify with her."

"That's just your interpretation, Aunt Sophie. Americans revere their mothers. Don't you remember we fought World War II just so we could get a hunk of Mom's apple pie?"

"Big deal. That was World War II. Now we're the guilt makers of the world. Every time you pick up the paper you read about some horrible crime, and the psychiatrist says the one who did it had a lousy mother."

"THE KIDS RIOT at the colleges, and the sociologists say they're not revolting against the school. They're really revolting against their mothers. How do you think that makes us feel?"

"Terrible, I should think," I told my Aunt Sophie. "And it is true that there is a campaign on against mothers, but I would attribute it to the confused society we're living in: People have to blame somebody for their anxieties."

"Why don't they blame John Lind-say?"

"THEY DO, Aunt Sophie, but he gets blamed for so many things that people are getting tired of it. Do you think your son Leo blames you for all his troubles?"

"What troubles?" Aunt Sophie asked sharply.

"I didn't mean troubles. I meant the fact that Leo still isn't married." "I've never stood in Leo's way. As a matter of fact, I'm as interested in him getting married as he is. Every night at dinner I say to him, 'When are you getting married?' Does that sound like I'm standing in his way?"

"It certainly doesn't."

"CAN I HELP it if he's never been able to find someone who can cook as well as I can? The girl who gets my Leo gets gold."

"What did Leo say about Philip Roth's mother?"

"I wouldn't let him read such garbage," Aunt Sophie said. "Mark my words, mothers are in for a bad period. There are going to be a lot of other books written about mothers, and none of them are going to look like Whistler's."

"You may have a point, Aunt Sophie. But I want to assure you that I will never make fun of mothers. They're the salt of the earth."

"As far as I know, you and Leo are the only ones who feel that way." (Copyright, 1969, The Washington Post Co.)

Marquis Childs Don't Upset Us With Missile Sites

HONOLULU — Trouble in paradise — that is the theme of the scenario developing in these beautiful islands that are a curious blend of highly advertised resort and one of America's most-powerful military installations.

The trouble is over the proposal to build an anti-ballistic missile site in the vicinity of Honolulu. While no location has been definitely decided on, Rep. Patsy Takemoto Mink has a letter from the Department of the Army suggesting four possible sites, one of which would be selected next month. They are all close to present military installations or to the international airport.

INSTALLING an ABM is not merely a matter of propping up a missile. It is an elaborate installation requiring a minimum of 250 acres. On this island, as more and more resort hotels go up and the three military services expand their operations, land is at a premium. No matter which of the four sites is chosen, or one of several additional proposals the Army is submitting, the opposition will be fierce, as it is already in a half-dozen mainland cities where ABMs are to be installed.

WITH THE BATTLE lines hardening, the ABM is certain to have a rough time in Congress. The three Democratic members of Hawaii's congressional delegation — Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, Rep. Spark M. Matsunaga and Mrs. Mink — are all opposed to the anti-ballistic missile system. Sen. Hiram Fong, Republican, is for it.

Experience on the mainland has shown that the battle lines are really drawn when a site is picked and land acquisition begins. Rep. Sidney Yates (D., Ill.) has rushed into the fray to keep an ABM out of Libertyville, a suburb of Chicago. While work has not yet begun, purchase of the land is starting. Yates was an early opponent of the system, being one of three House Democrats in the last session to file a dissent to the $263,300,000 for ABM deployment in the military construction bill.

IN DETROIT, Boston and every city where the Army proposes to put a Sentinel missile indignantly citizens have sent a barrage of protesting letters and telegrams to Congress. The outraged citizenry feel that far from being a protection the Sentinel is an invitation to nuclear retaliation.

The Pentagon claim that the ABM might reduce casualties in a nuclear exchange from a possible 100 million to 30 or 40 million is entirely unconvincing.

It is here in this newest state, 2,400 miles out in the Pacific with its ancient ties to Polynesia, that the incongruity of a protective missile system is most obvious. The eight islands scattered over a vast area are dependent on transport and communication links that would be shattered at the start of a nuclear strike.

AT THE PEAK of the winter season, with every hotel filled to capacity, nuclear attack is the last thing the sun bathers and the surf riders are thinking about. The jet age has made Hawaii such a magnet for tourists that tourism is a rival to military-government spending in the economy of the islands. The building boom is phenomenal, with new resorts springing up like the luxuriant tropical vegetation.

THE CONCERN here is to live up to those lush travel posters showing a lovely Hawaiian girl flirting with a waterfall in an idyllic setting far from the stresses and strains of modern life. Bristling missiles do not fit into this picture. When the Army comes down to designating a site there will be a furious outcry, no matter where it is placed.

Vegetarian Dog

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Shaka, pet dog of Mrs. Bruce L. Wilcox, eats carrots from the family garden.

"She just goes out into the garden, pulls up a carrot by the top with her mouth, then eats it raw," Mrs. Wilcox said.

And when Shaka can't find any carrots, she eats corn — right off the cob.

Males Say If Pants Fit, Wear 'Em

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
If the pants fit, wear 'em. That's the advice the nation's males have for women who want to join the pants suit parade that's sweeping the country.

Although many men held out for the miniskirt—"I like to see a lady's legs," said one—most of those replying to an Associated Press survey gave qualified approval to women wearing pants, both for day and evening.

"They look good on girls if the girls are good looking," said Robert Winter, a Detroit businessman.

"They look great on young girls, but they're inappropriate for more mature women," said Sam T. Milliken, a stock broker from Denver. Milliken added, however, "When I take a lady out for dinner or drinks or dancing, I like to see her in a dress."

Robert Chace, city manager of Loveland Ohio, a Cincinnati suburb, said, "I have no exceptions to them. In fact, I would rather see women in pants than miniskirts. God gave us an imagination . . ."

The fit, cut and cost of pants suits determines not only male approval, but also whether a woman will be accepted at many of the country's top nightclubs and restaurants.

In Hollywood, dressy pants suits are okay. Tight-fitting capri pants are outlawed. A spokesman for the Brown Derby, for example, said pants suits are perfectly acceptable in the restaurant, "but plain old slacks eat in the bar."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Drumm, chancellor of the Archdiocese of St. Louis, said miniskirts are more of a problem in church than pants. "Right now," he said, "we're worrying about the highs—not the lows."

The origin and doctrine of the Evangelical United Brethren was explained by Mrs. Kenneth Rider, guest speaker, at Monday's meeting of the Church at First Presbyterian Church.

The program which dealt with the merger of the United Brethren and the Methodist Church was in keeping with the year's study theme, "The Fences Are Falling."

Mrs. C. D. Read presided and announced the group will provide eggs for the Easter hunt at Westside Center. World Day of Prayer was slated for March 7, and members were reminded to bring clothing for Church World Service to the church by March 8.

The annual Presbyterian will be held March 11-12 in El Paso at the Manhattan Presbyterian Church. Those attending from Big Spring will be Dr. and Mrs. R. Gage Lloyd, Mrs. Cecil Wasson and Mrs. Read.

Mrs. J. D. Leonard brought the devotion.

A LOVELIER YOU

Salt Rubdowns Tune Up Wintry Dry Skin

By MARY SUE MILLER
Used as a body rub, salt cleanses, smooths and color-tones the skin. Just the thing really for tired, chapped, listless, winter-weary birthday suits.

To take the treatment, simply place a bath mat, long-handled body brush, and saucer of salt alongside your bathtub. Next time take a long, hot, sudsy soak. At the finish let the water drain.

Then hop out and stand on the mat and, while still dripping, lather up your brush, dip it into the salt, and lightly massage every inch of skin from shin to toes. Avoid only serious blemishes. And be sure not to scrub. But use the gentlest pressure. Also, resoap and re-salt your brush as often as necessary.

Meantime let fresh, tepid water run into the tub, so that you can top off with a quick rinse. A cool shower would serve as well.

Dry by the pat method—very thorough but not abrasive. Once the skin is bone dry, slather on hand or body lotion and massage it in to vanishing point. A little bleach cream on pump bumps and roughened elbows would not go amiss at this point.

When necessary, you can repeat the treatment once each month. It's easier than riding a horse-drawn bath wagon into the sea, as was once the custom

Use Wickets To Protect Plants

To protect young plants from being trampled on by either dogs or children, set croquet wickets directly over the plants. You can do this by forcing a couple of these into the ground to form a wire arch over them. If these are not available, heavy wire arches can be made also from number six smooth wire.

Woman Politician Looks Like Shoo-In

JERUSALEM (AP) — Mrs. Golda Meir, the Milwaukee schoolteacher who became Israel's leading woman politician, looked today like a shoo-in for interim prime minister of the Jewish nation.

The 70-year-old grandmother won overwhelming endorsement from the ruling Labor party's leadership bureau Monday, and reliable sources said she was virtually certain to accept the post.

Mrs. Meir had been reported reluctant to take the job because of her health, but she told an interviewer from the Milwaukee Journal Sunday: "I feel strong enough . . . It's just the prime minister's job is horrible, especially at a time like this when the country is in a state of continuing hostility with the Arabs."

The choice of Mrs. Meir was another rebuff for Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and a boost for Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Alon, Dayan's chief rival for the top job after the parliamentary elections in November. Mrs. Meir is a member of the Mapai faction of the Labor party which is favorable to Alon and opposes Dayan.

Party officials said Mrs. Meir would announce her decision Thursday, the end of the official mourning period for Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, who died Wednesday.

Mrs. Meir is the former Goldie Mabovitz, whose family emigrated to the United States from Russia when she was eight years old and settled in Milwaukee. She was married to Morris Myerson and emigrated with him to Palestine in 1921.

A pioneer in the women's labor movement and the Hagannah, Mrs. Meir headed the political department of the Jewish Agency for Palestine for the two years before independence and after independence became Israel's first minister to Moscow. She joined David Ben-Gurion's cabinet in 1949 as minister of labor, then in 1956 became foreign minister, a post she held for 10 years.

Space Chatter Goes Like This

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Visions of elephant trunks and octopus tentacles were conjured up by the Apollo 9 astronauts Tuesday.

The exchange with Mission Control went like this: Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt, the command pilot: Hey, Smokey?

Capsule Communicator Stuart Roosa. Have you ever been attacked by a band of wild elephants? Roosa: Negative. McDivitt: You oughta see what it looks like in here with these six big black hoses (that feed oxygen to the spacesuits). Roosa: (laughter) Roger. Copy.

Air Force Col. David R. Scott, command module pilot: Did you ever dream about octopuses? Roosa: Hey, speaking of dreaming, how did the night go? McDivitt: Oh, I guess we did

Showers Mixed With Snow Forecast For Texas Areas

Frosty weather gripped Texas today but a kindly bank of clouds moved protectively over the sensitive lower Rio Grande Valley and prevented weather damage there.

Meanwhile, heavy snow warnings were issued for tonight for the Panhandle-Plains country. The Weather Bureau in the Valley had issued a frost warning and said the temperature would go as low as 29.

But with the cloud bank, the lowest recording at major reporting stations in the Valley was 34 at Rio-Grande City. Frost can occur at 34 only if conditions are perfect and ideal frost-making conditions were not present.

Particularly vulnerable to frost at this time in the Valley are young lettuce and cantaloupe plants. A high pressure ridge brought clearing skies to most of Texas but a new Pacific cold front is expected to strike the Panhandle-Plains tonight. The Weather Bureau predicted heavy snow and hazardous road conditions. High cloudiness began spreading over Southwest and South Texas in advance of the new cold front.

Traveler warnings were posted in Panhandle around Amarillo for late afternoon through Wednesday. Snow accumulations of three to five inches was expected.

Campus Disorders Bill Faces Test

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators debated a bill making it a crime to participate in school and college disorders today.

House members prepared to give the $10 billion statewide water plan its first legislative floor test.

The Senate vote to take up the House-passed campus disorders bill was 28-1, with Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio opposing the move.

Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake was ready to bring up the proposed constitutional change authorizing $3.5 billion in state bonds for Texas' share of the water plan.

"I think we are going to have widespread support. I would like to see and encourage the house to pass this constitutional amendment," Speaker Gus Mutscher said Monday.

Clayton's amendment also would lift the 4 per cent interest limit on water development bonds, give the legislature power to set new interest rates and authorize the Texas Water Development Board to take steps to make the 50-year plan a reality.

The water plan includes a system of canals, pipelines, pumping stations and reservoirs to move surplus Mississippi River water to West Texas. Surplus East Texas and Mississippi water would be moved to South Texas. Appropriations by Congress and approval by Louisiana and Washington to use surplus Mississippi water will be needed.

The House passed and sent to the Senate Monday a bill requiring all egg cartons packed in Texas to show whether the eggs were laid in Texas and whether they were cold storage eggs. The vote was 82-55.

A backer, Rep. Dan Kubiak directly to Gov. Preston Smith for signature into law.

Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur, the sponsor, said he hopes the bill can be set on Thursday's calendar, although this will depend on how fast the lengthy measure can be printed.

Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston sponsored the bill in the Senate.

The bill would raise workers' compensation benefits from $35 to $49 a week. It also would provide lawyers in workers' compensation disputes with a flat 25 per cent fee, instead of the present 15 per cent.

The Texas AFL-CIO, Texas Manufacturers Association and Texas Trial Lawyers Association—seldom allies on any bill—wrote the bill as a compromise last summer. Labor says the weekly benefits should be higher and management is not too happy about raising workers' compensation insurance costs by more than $30 million a year.

But a management spokesman at the Labor Committee hearing on the measure last Tuesday said "We think it is justified. It will put Texas on a par with surrounding states, where it should be."

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. today in the Kiker and Son Chapel with Rev. Jimmy Law, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

Steers, Coronado Set For 4 P.M. Contest

Big Spring and Lubbock Coronado were to brave the elements and try to get in a seven-inning baseball game today. The contest is due to start at 4 p.m.

Coach Oakey Hagood said he would go with a couple of his sophomore pitchers and give his regulars a rest. Either David Englert or Moses Flores will start for the Steers, who will be seeking their first win in four assignments.

Coronado split a doubleheader with Midland Lee, the 3-AAAA favorite, last Saturday, winning the first, 3-2, and dropping the second, 4-1. The first game went eight innings.

Gary Smith or Tommy Turner could hurl for the Mustangs today.

SNYDER — Snyder scored an unearned run in the sixth and went on to play a 5-5 deadlock with Big Spring here Monday afternoon.

The contest was called after ten innings due to gathering darkness and cold. Big Spring, trying for its first victory in three outings, collected seven hits to eight for the Tigers. Jimmy Wilson and Joe Martinez each had two blows for the Longhorns and each drove in two teammates.

The extra base hit of the game was by Jim Patrick, who went all the way on the mound for Snyder. He had a double.

The Steers started off fast, scoring four runs in the 'hello' round. Patrick settled down to contain the Big Springers after that, however.

Jimmy Farris and Thomas Ham divided time on the mound for Big Spring, Ham laboring the final six innings. He surrendered only three hits and no earned runs during that stretch. Felix Martinez and Bill Jones had the other hits for Big Spring.

Randy Levens and Richie Thompson each drove out two hits for Snyder while Milton Cates, Jodie Williamson and Patrick each had one.

Patrick fanned ten and walked three. Between them, Farris and Ham whiffed seven and issued eight passes.

The Bovines committed three errors but only one proved very damaging.

Santiago Record Appeal Approved

The record of the assault with intent to murder trial of Narciso Joseph Santiago was approved for appeal Monday in 118th District Court, more than two years after the trial.

Judge Ralph Caton ordered that the record of the Feb. 20, 1967, trial be completed and sent to the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin for review. Still pending is approval of the record of the May 5, 1967, trial of Santiago for murder.

The 23-year-old Puerto Rican was arrested April 26, 1966, and charged with the murder of S. Sgt. Malcolm Gore and shooting of Mrs. Jean Morton the night of April 25, 1966, just outside the entrance gate of Webb AFB. Santiago, who was in the U.S. Air Force and stationed at Webb AFB at the time of the incident, was placed on trial Feb. 20, 1967, for assault with intent to murder of Mrs. Morton. He was found guilty and assessed 10 years in prison. The trial for murder of Sgt. Gore began May 5, 1967, and he was found guilty and given a life sentence.

Notice of appeal was given after each trial by George Thomas, Santiago's attorney, but records of the trials were never approved.

In the meantime, Santiago has spent all his time in Howard County jail, except for nine months and 23 days when he was free on bond.

Once the record of the assault with intent to murder trial is sent to Austin for review, it may take as long as six months before a decision is reached by the Court of Criminal Appeals. Santiago will remain in jail during that time.

GE Promotes Big Springer

A former Big Spring native has been promoted to project engineer in the General Electric Refrigeration Control Engineering subsection at Morrison, Ill.

A. S. Woods, 600 West 17th, learned of his son's new assignment this week. The son, Lee O. Woods, 45, a professional engineer was born here and attended Big Spring High School. He received a BA degree from Rice University in 1951 and in 1952 he received his BS degree from the same college.

Woods said that his son and his family — his wife, Sally, and their two daughters, Linda and Holly — visited here last summer.

Woods began his career with GE as a test engineer at Johnson City, N.Y., with the aircraft products department in June, 1952. In May, 1953, he transferred to the advanced engineering development section of the specialty motor department in Fort Wayne, Ind.

He was appointed production engineer at the appliance control department in August, 1953, and in June, 1956, became design engineer in Refrigeration Controls Engineering. He became senior design engineer in 1961 — a post he has held until his new assignment. He holds four patents for inventions and currently has six of his relay designs in production.

He has a sister who lives in Fort Worth and a brother who lives in Houston.

Eleven To Seek Angelo Ribbons

Eleven Howard County 4-H Club members will enter competition this week at the San Angelo Livestock Show.

Delores Lanford, who showed the reserve champion Hereford steer at the show in 1968, will return with two entries. Maxwell Barr also will enter two Hereford steers.

Other entries in the Hereford division will be by Richie Tubb, Junior Jackson and Robert Daniels.

Those exhibiting barrows will be Johnny Peugh, Cindy Shaw and Johnny Early, while Sherry Jackson, Tricia Jackson and Jim Bob Phillips will show lambs.

Coahoma school children will start to school Aug. 19, but finish the fall semester before letting out for Christmas holidays, according to the new school calendar approved by the Coahoma Independent School District Monday night.

CHIEF OF NAVAL OPERATIONS CALLED Solons Probe Pueblo Capture

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special House subcommittee is opening the first of what could be a series of congressional probes into the capture of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chief of naval operations, was called as the leadoff witness at today's opening session as the committee sought information on why the Pueblo was sent on its mission and what steps were taken to protect it.

The special House Armed Services subcommittee hearings came as a Navy board of inquiry in Coronado, Calif., moved into its seventh and possibly last week of investigating the intelligence vessel's Jan. 23, 1968, capture by North Korea.

The committee also will look into possible revisions in the code of conduct which applies to military personnel who are captured by enemy forces.

However, last month. Rear

Adm. Leslie J. O'Brien said future Pueblo-type incidents should be prevented by a variety of measures the Navy has taken, including increased protection for its intelligence ships, more potent weapons, devices to destroy secret papers and equipment and scuttling systems.

He said these devices, lacking on the Pueblo, can be set off more rapidly than any equipment previously available and can be triggered by "very few people."

O'Brien also said there has been a general tightening and overhaul of the procedures and rules for control of such ships to assure swifter communication with superiors responsible for sending aid and to give skipper clear guidelines on what to regard as harassment by hostile ships or planes and how to react.

A major point of criticism in Congress and elsewhere has been the lack of warplanes close enough to help the Pueblo.

Crewman Refused To Shine Shoes

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — A North Korean guard ordered his shoes shined, and "I refused," says Radioman 2.C. Charles Henry Crandell Jr., 24, of the USS Pueblo.

"He called me out of ranks and put a gun to my head and started this playing-with-the-gun bit," continued Crandell, from El Reno, Okla.

"I still refused," Crandell said, "and then their duty officer came out and made him stop."

Crandell testified Monday before a Navy court of inquiry into the capture of the intelligence ship by the North Koreans last year and the behavior of its crew during 11 months of imprisonment.

Five intelligence specialists for the ship, two engineers and a boatswain's mate were summoned to testify today.

The Navy said the court, in its seventh week, could end about the middle of next week. The Pueblo's captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, will be one of the last witnesses.

Bucher already has testified about the ship's capture and his torture during imprisonment. He said he will have some final statements.

His attorney, E. Miles Harvey, plans a short closing statement, a Navy spokesman said, and will call witnesses on Bucher's behalf.

Bill To Help New Airports

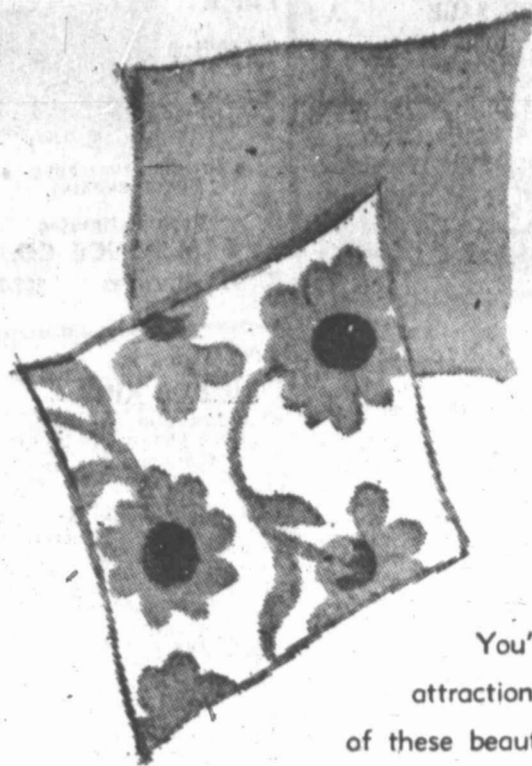

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to create a federal trust fund to help pay for the building of new airports was proposed today by Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

The New York Republican said in remarks prepared for introducing his bill, the Air Traffic Congestion Relief Act of 1969, that the nation's air transportation system faces "the threat of chaos as well as added critical dangers" with the coming of the jumbo jets.

Javits' bill would establish an Airport Development Trust Fund to provide direct federal aid for the construction of major jetports and satellite airports.

Under his plan, a five-cent-a-gallon tax on all fuels used by general aviation would be contributed toward the fund. Commercial airlines would pay two cents-a-gallon on fuels and airline passengers would pay a two-cent tax increase on their tickets.

Javits said this would come to nearly $200 million a year.

Corpus Campus?

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The Texas A&I University faculty and faculty senate have asked that the university establish a major campus at Corpus Christi. A bill has been introduced in the legislature calling for a separate university at Corpus Christi and the teachers believe a better way would be to expand A&I.

Dickson Says West Texas Viet Vet Refused Haircut

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Temple Dickson, Sweetwater, told a House committee Monday night of a Mexican-American "who fought with valor in the jungles of Vietnam" being refused a haircut when he returned to his West Texas hometown.

Dickson and Rep. Bill Fink, San Antonio, presented their bill which would prohibit discrimination in barber shops and beauty parlors on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin.

Dickson described a situation he said took place in the legislator's district where a "fine

Christian young man, a high school athlete who fought with valor in the jungles of Vietnam and somehow lived through it, had a few hours in his hometown.

"He was in uniform and went to town to the barbershop but couldn't get his hair cut because he was a Mexican — this is indefensible."

Mrs. W. E. Parker of Canyon opposed the bill.

"I'm an independent business operator, the peon of today," she said. "We already have too many regulations applying to the individual businesses . . . A housekeeper or cook chooses whom she will serve. The individual business should have the same right. I beg of you not to permit passage of this bill."

Asked if he wanted to respond, Dickson replied, "She made our case for us better than we could ourselves."

Rep. Walter Knapp, Amarillo, then tried to ask the House State Affairs Committee to approve the bill for floor debate. But committee chairman, Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, said it would go to a subcommittee under an automatic rule.

Water Plan Gets Endorsement

The multi-billion dollar Texas Water Plan has received the endorsement of the four regional chambers of commerce, according to an announcement Monday by Beverly King, Graham, president of the Texas State Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The four organizations commended the Texas Water Development Board for the flexibility of the plan whereby the rights of all affected areas would be adequately protected.

Under the plan, announced in December, adequate supplies of water will become available at the times needed by the various areas of the state. The schedule provides for water supplies adequate for a population triple the present population in the state. It is anticipated that by 2020 Texas will have a population of approximately 33 million people and the plan will, when completed, provide the needed water for this spectacular growth.

 Today's hand provided considerable discussion when it was dealt in a recent tournament. Altho North and South should experience little difficulty in winning, all the tricks in a club contract, few pairs actually bid the slam, one partnership did not even get to game and an occasional North-South pair wound up with a minus score on the deal.

Some pairs reached three no trump despite the lack of a stopper in diamonds. This undertaking met with a swift setback, however, when the defense promptly rattled off five diamond tricks.

At a few tables, South played the deal in four spades on a seven card trump suit. Where West failed to lead a diamond, declarer was able to scramble home with 11 tricks by obtaining one heart ruff in dummy.

The maximum result was obtained by the pair whose bidding sequence is presented in the diagram. North's response of one no trump is the accepted method for announcing a holding of about average strength over a one club opening bid.

South realized that the partnership had the values for a game undertaking — his own hand was worth 18 points — and he rebid two spades to probe for the best contract. North temporized at this point by giving a simple preference in clubs.

When South showed his other suit, hearts, North announced his mild spade fit by bidding three spades. There was no doubt now that the partnership was headed for game, and South was in position to bid five clubs directly. His actual call of four clubs was a delicately contrived attempt to elicit further information. When North obliged by bidding four hearts, it became abundantly clear that all of his values were located in the right places.

Assured of an excellent fit, South contracted for a small slam in clubs. The play was rather routine. West led the ace of diamonds, and declarer was able to take all 13 tricks by ruffing three diamonds in his hand.

Dear Abby

Real Problem Daughter

DEAR ABBY: We have a 15-year-old daughter I'll call "Mary," who has always given us a lot of trouble. I won't go into the sordid details, but take my word for it, she is a HANDFUL!

Her mother found proof that she was going the limit with a long list of boys, and Mary admitted it. She said it was her life, and she didn't see anything wrong with it, and if WE did, that was our "hang up."

We finally sat her down and told her that if she was going to behave that way we IN-SISTED she take birth control pills, not so much to protect HER — but out of consideration for any unwanted child she might bring into the world. (We got the pills through our family doctor.) Mary now informs us that she is flushing the pills down the toilet and doesn't care what happens to her. All right, Abby, if Mary were YOUR daughter — what would you do?

MARY'S FATHER: I would ask my family doctor to recommend an expert for young people with emotional problems. Mary is seething with hostility, and she's determined to punish YOU regardless of the price she herself must pay to do it. Admit your share of the "blame" for the communication failure between you, and offer her "help" to discover the real reasons why she wants to destroy herself, and embarrass you.

DEAR ABBY: When we eat out, even in real high-class restaurants, my mother scrapes everybody's dishes and stacks them one on top of the other — to help the waitress. (She used to be a waitress.) She says she knows this isn't considered etiquette, but she doesn't care.

People look at us like we just came off the boat, and my brother and I want to crawl under the table.

Daddy just laughs. He says it's good for Mom because she just gave up smoking and it gives her something to do with her hands.

Any suggestions? ANNIE (I am 12)

DEAR ANNIE: Yes, laugh, too.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday my husband and I had our millionth fight, and it's always over the same thing. HIS RELATIVES!

He must think I'm running a hotel here. Just before Christmas I got the flu and was sicker than a dog. I was up all night coughing and was so weak I could barely drag myself out of bed. Then my kids caught it and I was run crazy nursing THEM. But do you think my husband would call his sister and tell her to stay home? Oh, No! She and her husband had planned to spend Christmas with us (they live in Texas) and by gosh, water!

Not only that, they always bring their mouthy kids with them. They don't get along with my kids, and the fighting and commotion around here would wake the dead.

Believe me, if I had invited any of MY relatives here with this place in the mess it was, he'd have called them up and told them to stay home so fast they wouldn't know what hit them.

And, Oh yes, after his sister and her gang went home (Jan. 4) his mother called and said she was SENDING her widowed to visit us for "a few days," sister and a NEIGHBOR of hers as they needed a rest. They came in on a bus that got here at 4 in the morning and they're still here. Can you beat that?
