NAACP Chief Testifies In Tyler Hearing

TYLER (AP)—The chief executive officer of the NAACP, Roy Wilkins, said today it is against the organization's mandates to endorse any candidate.

He asserted the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People has a long record of anti-Communism.

"We've followed (kept informed on) all these Communist lines and know their methods, probably better than many other organizations," he said. "We want no part of them."

Wilkins, executive administrator of the organization, was the defense witness in the state court injunction hearing by which the state is seeking to ban the NAACP from Texas.

It claims the NAACP illegally solicited law suits and engaged in political activity, and says it had not paid its state franchise tax.

Wilkins said the association had formally opposed communism since 1950 but had fought it since about 1929.

Wilkins asserted that the NAACP national conventions had passed resolutions for 10 years forbidding endorsement of any candidate.

But, he said, the resolution states that the association has an "inescapable political responsibility" to make available voting records of congressmen and state legislators where such information would interest the Negro race.

He said he also felt the association should encourage campaigns for getting out the vote and paying poll taxes.

Asked if the State of Texas ever has asked the NAACP to pay any franchise tax, he said, "We've never been notified that we were subject to any Texas tax of any amount."

Questioned whether the NAACP had contributed to any political campaign, he said, "Not only not in Texas, but not in any state."

Asked about alleged solicitation of lawsuits, the state's major charge, he said:

"We are no more anxious to go into court than the next fellow is. We have the formal policy of trying to talk these things out. We have not encouraged or fomented any litigation nor have we acted in any manner to encourage ill feeling and tension between the races.

"However, I want to deny that a lawsuit in and of itself can be considered stirring up dissension or ill feeling. We consider the courts a peaceful means of settlement.

"We have found that the most progress (in removing segregation) has been made through negotiation and not, lawsuits.

"It is practically nonsense to say that we stir up trouble between our people and whites. Our official family is part white."

Wilkins said about one-fourth of the national directors are white. In past years, he said, the racial ratio has been about 50-50.

Asked if the NAACP ever encouraged mob action, he said, "We've been victims of mob action, but to my knowledge there has never been a member of the NAACP to ever join a mob."

Thurgood Marshall, main NAACP lawyer, said in testimony yesterday the association insists that segregation problems "must be worked out on the local level."

Jordan Makes Protest Against Israel At UN

Demands Strong Council Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Jordan warned today it will take matters in its own hands unless the U. N. Security Council can stop alleged Israeli aggression immediately.

Calling for the strongest U. N. penalties short of military action, Jordan's ambassador, Abdul Monem Rifa'i, said:

"If the Council doesn't take action to stop the Israeli aggression right away, then my country will have to seek other methods by which it could insure the safety of our borders."

Rifa'i did not elaborate except to say "such a develpment, if it happens, will extend beyond our present local arrangements." This appeared to be a threat of large-scale military action, perhaps, with the aid of other Arab forces.

The Jordan representative told the Council that Israel's recent activities could not be discarded as border incidents.

"It is war," he continued, "except that it lacks the rules of war, the bravery of war and the honor and morals of war."

Rifa'i said the whole trouble stemmed from an aggressive Israeli policy and that the border incidents "were premeditated and unprovoked."

"Israel," he said, "is destroying the very foundations of the general armistice agreement."

Rifa'i did not spell out what sort of penalties he wanted the Council to invoke. He urged action under Article 41 of the U.N. Charter which provides for the severance of diplomatic relations, economic restrictions and possible rupture of all outside communications.

Rifa'i was the first speaker as the Council opened its debate on Jordan and Israeli complaints growing out of the recent incidents which were reported fatal to 105 persons.

Norway Blast Kills Four, Injures 12

OSLO, Norway (AP)—At least four persons perished and a dozen were hurt in an explosion today at an atom bomb-proof government ammunition works dug into the mountains 65 miles north of Oslo.

A spokesman for the Raufoss works said four bodies had been recovered three hours after the blast occurred, in a hall where normally abut 100 persons work. There was no immediate word as to the cause of the explosion.

The police commissioner at the nearby town of Gjoevik said the explosion occurred in the mountain cave division of the ammunition works early today.

"There are several dead, and hospitals here have received many wounded, but I do not know how many," he added.

The Raufoss works, owned by the Norwegian government, makes ammunition and high explosives, forces.

Immediately after the explosion, the area around Raufoss was blocked to civilian traffic. Civilian defense units from Oslo were dispatched and police from the Raufoss and Gjoevik areas were called in for emergency service.

Hospitals as far away as 80 miles from Raufoss were commandeered.

Dorm Blaze Is Fatal To 3 Students

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Three University of Idaho students were killed today when an early morning fire, termed by Fire Chief Carl Smith the work of an arsonist, swept through a dormitory housing 130 men.

Smith said the fire broke out in the main floor lounge of Gault Hall, a $500,000 brick and steel structure which was opened only last fall. Smith said the building was "supposed to be completely fire proof."

Prosecuting Atty. Lloyd G. Martinson started an investigation.

Those who died in the blaze were identified by Smith as:

Paul Johnson, Davenport, Wash. John Knudson, Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Clair Schuldberg, Terreton, Idaho. Johnson was a sophomore, the others freshmen.

Smith said two of the victims were trapped in the halls. The third suffocated when he took refuge in a shower room.

Three other students were burned, none seriously.

The blaze, the fourth in a series at the school, was discovered about 2:10 a.m. by a student in neighboring Upham Hall.

There was no immediate estimate of damage.

Output Of State Oil Hiked For November

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas oil production for November was set today by the Railroad Commission at 3,314,390 barrels daily, an increase of 72,986.

The permissive flow was based on a 15-day producing pattern despite testimony of a majority of oil buyers who recommended less than this number of days. October's production is also on a 15-day general pattern.

Only three oil buyers recommended the 15-day pattern: Humble, Sun and Texas.

The majority wanted 14 days: Magnolia, Gulf, Stanolind, Cities Service, Sinclair, Atlantic and Conoco. Shell asked for 13 days and Phillips recommended 12.

The oil regulatory body has kept at least a 15-day pattern since April, 1942.

Carl Jones of Midland for Phillips told the commission his company would continue to make purchases based on 75 per cent of its August run.

Jones said at the last statewide hearing his company was forced to prorate its purchases because of a lack of demand and excessive stocks.

He said Phillips "hasn't lost any of its connections" as a result but also added that "we have sold no oil either."

The increase in the oil production results in November having only 30 days compared to 31 for October. It was the first upward swing since July.

Curtis Condra of Fort Worth told the commission Phillips prorating had effected 19 fields in which Stanolind is a producer.

Condra said the North Cowden, North Cowden Deep and Foster fields in Ector County were particularly hurt. He said Stanolind produces 52 percent, of 4,950 barrels daily in the North Cowden Field but Phillips was taking only 3,900 barrels. He said the company's total loss was 32,338 barrels in October. For the Foster field, he said the loss was 17,921 barrels and in the North Cowden Deep the loss in the month was 8,241 barrels.

This was a total loss of 58,500 barrels, or an average of 1,894 barrels a day during the month. Phillips began prorating its take Oct. 1.

Condra told the commission other producers in the fields were "running full." The commission said it would hold an emergency hearing to consider dealing with Phillips nonratable take.

Olin Culberson, commission member, read into the record his views sent to Arthur Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

"I am particularly concerned with the adverse effect of excessive oil imports on state conservation policies. Importers have the privilege of bringing in their own more profitable production from prolific foreign fields to fill whatever degree of their requirements they find desirable. Their domestic purchases are curtailed accordingly.

"In consequence pipeline connections are increasingly difficult to obtain for some small operations."

He said the 16.6 per cent ratio of imports to domestic production "is a generous role for foreign imports, particularly since they cannot be counted upon to fill anything like that percentage in time of greatest need. The pressing need at the moment, therefore, would seem to be a means of enforcing the prescribed limitation, voluntary restraint by importing companies having proved unsatisfactory."

Rains Sweep Area, Lake Up 4 Inches

Good rains fell throughout Scurry, Borden, and other counties in this area yesterday and last night.

In Snyder, the rainfall yesterday measured .39 of an inch, but there was more rain in many areas.

At Lake J. B. Thomas, water was still moving into the lake at noon today and was expected to continue until tonight. There has been about a four-inch rise in the lake since rains started during the past several days, and the water elevation now stands at 2,250.12.

Most of the water was pouring into the lake from the Colorado River, but good rains were reported yesterday afternoon at the upper reaches of Bull Creek, and the lake was expected to get water from that by sometime this afternoon.

Throughout the lake's watershed there were rains. At Gail, about .7 of an inch fell yesterday afternoon, with some hail. Some of the small creeks in the Gail area were running. Gavitt Creek, between Gail and the east Borden County line, was reported running about half bank this morning. Reports were that creeks were running about half full in the lake's watershed east of Lamesa.

Fluvanna has had .8 of an inch during the past two days.

At Hermleigh, about .3 of an inch fell yesterday afternoon. At China Grove, there was about .7 in two rains. Close to an inch reportedly fell at Ira.

Camp Springs got .7 of an inch yesterday, but in the Lloyd Mountain area there was less, about .2.

By The Associated Press

Rains measuring as much as eight inches in some places flooded highways Thursday. Tornadoes smashed houses and utility lines in southwest Texas.

The rains were welcomed by farmers and ranchers.

They promised to temporarily restore pastures and replenish streams and stock ponds. But the general feeling was that more rain was needed to break the drought which has affected some areas since 1949.

A twister near Crystal City demolished two homes and a warehouse and damaged other buildings. A tornado in the Del Rio area snapped telephone and telegraph lines between Del Rio and Sycamore, toppled a television antenna and blew down service station pumps at Sycamore. There were no injuries.

Del Rio was almost isolated by flood waters and communications were badly crippled. All the main highways leading to the border city were closed by the floodwaters.

The Rio Grande rose three feet at Laredo. Falcon Reservoir, where release of water was shut off, rose a foot. But officials doubted the huge reservoir would rise much more.

Two tributaries of the Rio Grande, the Pecos and the Devil's, were rising. The Pecos was up 10 to 12 feet at Langtry and the Devil's was up three feet at Del Rio.

A blanket of moist air was covered by cold air at high altitudes, touching off the rain.

Heavy rains at Victoria dropped up to 3.50 inches. Laredo had 1.14, San Angelo 1.27, Cotulla 1.22, Childress 1.04 and Kingsville an inch. Schroeder had 3 inches, Colletonville 4 inches—both near Victoria—and Lamesa 1.21, Electra 2.14 and McAllen 1.46.

Ike Heading For California Today

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—President Eisenhower, "planning to continue to lay the facts on the line," headed for California today in the major vote-seeking bid of his West Coast tour.

The presidential plane took off for Los Angeles after the President in a speech here last night had banged away at Adlai Stevenson's military draft and H-bomb views.

Dallas Speech Slated

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas News said today that President Eisenhower will make a campaign visit to Dallas late this month. An actual date has not been fixed.

Two Called To Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)—State Auditor C. H. Cavness and Land Commissioner Earl Rudder were called today before the House Investigating Committee checking on tidelands leasing procedures.

The committee was expected to make recommendations to the Legislature about limiting the scope of such investigating groups as itself.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, chairman, said the committee's powers were not now limited in any way.

"With a different membership it could conceivably be used as a political tool, or to hurt someone's character and right now it has not been determined if there is any court appeal from our actions," he said.

Rep. Jack Welch of Marlin has directed a subcommittee here most of this week, reviewing testimony of a court of inquiry on veterans lands conducted by the attorney general in 1955. He said the group was paying particular attention to leasing methods of tidelands.

Defunct Bank Controls Oil

FORT WORTH (AP)—The defunct River Oaks State Bank, closed by the federal government, now has control of a section of a budding oil field in West Texas.

This was apparent today with the disclosure of the transfer of oil and gas lease assignments of 480 acres in Knox County had been made to the bank.

A source close to those involved said the assignments were made to give the bank collateral for a loan of $250,000. One informant estimated the value of the leases and oil fields ranged from $500,000 to $4,000,000.

He said a loan was being negotiated on other leases on the tract, adding that if it can be arranged all shortages at the bank will be covered.

New Ticket Policy Made

The Snyder police department has started issuing courtest overparking tickets to out-of-town and out-of-state persons who over park on Snyder streets while visiting or shopping here, Roy Dunlap, city manager, said.

The new tickets will not be issued to Snyder or obviously local cars (cars which may have out-of-county licenses, but which are repeatedly over parked on Snyder parking meter spaces), Dunlap said.

No fine will be charged for the courtesy parking tickets.

A new ordinance which has been passed on second reading by the city council and which permits the local courtesy parking offense fine to be raised for the present rate of 25 cents if paid within one hour will be increased to 50 cents soon.

Courtesy parking violation tickets boxes will be placed on meter posts in the meter parking area and the envelope-type parking ticket with the amount of the fine (50 cents if paid within 24 hours) can be placed in the courtesy boxes.

Dunlap said the courtesy boxes were shipped from the factory on Oct. 13, and should arrive in the next few days.

Japan And Russia End State Of War

MOSCOW (AP)— Japan and the Soviet Union today signed a declaration ending the 11-year state of war between them.

Japanese Premier Ichiro Hatoyama and Soviet Premier Nicolai Bulganin signed the end-of-war declaration and a trade protocol after more than 16 months of off-and-on negotiations.

Practically the entire Presidium of the Soviet government and its ruling Communist party were ranged behind them in the kliegl-lit conference room of the Grand Kremlin Palace as they attached their signatures.

The declaration ending the state of war deferred all discussions on Japan's territorial claims to a later date. Japan failed to win the immediate return of Soviet-occupied Habomais and Shikotan Islands north of Japan. The Soviet agreed to return the islands only after the conclusion of a formal peace treaty.

The trade protocol granted most-favored nation treatment by both sides. Under that formula each nation agrees to give the other treatment as good as it gives any other nation in a trade deal.

Japanese officials said they had reached "complete agreement" with the Soviet government. Russia refused to sign the San Francisco Peace Treaty in 1951.

Hatoyama's top negotiator, Agriculture Minister Ichiro Kono, said the final agreement involved concessions on both sides.

"As far as international agreements go," he added, "it was a very good result."

The Japanese Premier's official spokesman, Twkizo Matsumoto, said the disputed tiny islands of Habomai and Shikotan, off north Hokkaido, were mentioned in the agreement. He did not disclose whether the Russians had agreed to hand them back.

Observers believed the return of the isles depended on Japanese renunciation of all claims to Soviet-occupied Etorufu and Kumashiri, in the southern Kuriles.

The Japanese had resisted such a step for more than 16 months. But a settlement giving Habomai and Shikotan back would give them a face saver that might be accepted by the Japanese Diet (Parliament).

Seven Killed, Six Injured By Blast

HERRIN, Ill. (AP)—Escaping propane gas erupted last night into a searing sheet of flame that mushroomed from a bottled gas plant with flame-thrower effect.

Seven persons were fatally injured, six others were badly burned and five homes and the gas plant warehouse were destroyed.

The flash fire set off a series of explosions. Gas tanks exploded like bombs, hurling metal fragments 100 yards away.

William Mortimer, who escaped injury although his house in the heart of the stricken neighborhood was destroyed, told of running outside to find three neighbors "were human torches."

Children at play were swept by the flames. Some of the destroyed houses were blown apart.

Hospital attendants said nearly all of the dead and injured had third degree burns over 40 to 90 per cent of their bodies.

Mortimer and his wife said the Kerley home next door had collapsed when they ran outside.

The Kerleys and Freddie Williams were on fire, Mrs. Mortimer said. "Mrs. Kerley was lying on the sidewalk. I took her by the hand and lifted her to her feet. Her clothes were completely burned from her, and I got a chair covering to put over her.

"I thought it was some kind of a bomb that exploded."

Authorities said the gas, escaping from a ruptured line from a truck, apparently spread to the nearby residential area and was ignited by an open flame in one of the homes.

The dead were:

Mrs. Fred Kerley, 62.
Fred Kerley, 62.
Charlotte Jarvis, 11.
Robert Lee Keller, 5.
Oscar Williams, 38;
Mrs. Vilet Williams, 33, his wife;

Freddie Williams, 3, their son. Randy, and Kerley's son Carl, 20, were hospitalized.

The explosion yesterday spread flames over an area nearly a block from the depot. Five homes were destroyed. Witnesses reported four or five separate explosions.

Of the injured doctors at Herrin Hospital said "there are a lot we won't be able to do anything for."

Policeman Walter Lowe said six of the victims were in a yard near the depot when the first blast occurred. The flash fire covered them with flames, he said. Others injured were believed to have been in their homes.

Three Former Polish Leaders Restored To Their Old Posts

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A responsible source said Nikita S. Khrushchev appeared in Warsaw today just as Wladislaw Gomulka, once jailed as a Titoist, was being triumphantly restored to a position of power in the Polish party.

The informant said the Soviet Communist boss took part in discussions of the opening session of the Polish United Workers — Communist— party Central Committee and then went into conference with top-ranking Polish leaders.

This report said Khrushchev was apparently concerned that the speed of "de-Stalinization" in Poland might carry the country and its Communists much farther than the Kremlin intended earlier this year when it approved the doctrile of "many ways to socialism."

There was no official announcement that Khrushchev was here.

Moscow dispatches made a point of noting that he was not present at the signing of an end-the-war declaration with Japan at the Kremlin today.

But if he was, it would be highly significant in view of an implicit threat in the Warsaw developments to the position of the defense minister, the Russians installed in this country years ago.

Election of Gomulka and three of his closest associates — including the defense minister of pre-Cominform days — was the first act of a fateful Central Committee meeting which opened this morning.

Polish Communist leaders were reported ready to demand independence from Moscow control — a step that could have historic importance for Poland's future and the whole East European bloc of countries now tied closely to Moscow.

Along with Gomulka, the committee re-elected Gen. Marian Marek-Spychalski, Zenon Kliszko and Lodge Sowinski. All four were purged and jailed at the height of the Kremlin's split with President Tito of Yugoslavia, whose independent brand of communism resulted in his ouster from the Cominform in 1948.

The Central Committee was faced with a series of demands from Polish youth and workers organizations, all for more freedom of information in political and economic affairs.

Water Flow To Beaumont Will Be Cut

BEAUMONT (AP) — The Lower Neches Valley Authority announced yesterday water supplies to Beaumont area industries will be cut by 56 per cent next week.

W. F. Weed, LNVA president, said an unprecedented water shortage forced the cut.

Municipalities in this East Texas area were urged to try to conserve water.

Weed said the Neches River is now in its most critical drought situation since 1915, the first year records were kept. He said there is no water in Dam B reservoir at Town Bluff, 50 miles north of here.

Crews of the U.S. Geological Survey said the Neches River was flowing at the unprecedented low rate of 101 cubic feet per second.

Beaumont does not get water from LNVA, but draws its water from the same Neches River.

Weed said if the water crisis continues, partial industrial shutdowns and layoffs may result.

LNVA also supplies the residential water systems of Port Arthur, Port Neches, Port Acres, Groves and Nederland.

Arrested Man Gives Complaint To Police

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sam Jackson, 25, was indignant when police accused him of possessing policy slips.

"You arrest me for policy," he said, "but you don't arrest the man who burglarized my home of $130 on Sept. 28."

Jackson then gave officers the name of a man he suspected in the burglary. The man was picked up and held on an open charge. Police said a key in his possession would unlock Jackson's apartment.

Gamble With Safety

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell says Adlai Stevenson's proposals about H-bomb testing are "a gamble with the safety of our country."

Good Neighbor Council Slates Meeting Today

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The International Good Neighbor Council goes to work today on an agenda of problems affecting Texas and Mexico.

The council takes up matters of health and education, recent restrictions on liquor imports from Mexico, pollution of the Rio Grande, luxury taxes on goods sold Mexican visitors in Texas, highway and rail construction in Mexico, border crossings and the status of work on Diablo Dam.

Some 100 delegates were on hand yesterday.

Chairman Jose Muguerza of Monterrey said steps have been taken toward formal charting of the 270-member organization.

Gov. Shivers was to address the group today. The meeting closes tomorrow night with a speech by State Sen. Kilgore.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Banks are the parents of a nine pound daughter born at 9:39 p.m. Thursday, in Battenfield-Jones Hospital.

Rio Grande Rises After Heavy Rains

MCALLEN (AP)—The Rio Grande rose yesterday from heavy rains in the Laredo-Del Rio area, but the rains were not expected to cause much of a rise in the level of Falcon International Reservoir, the International Boundary and Water Commission said.

A peak of 4,130 second feet was hit in the flow at Laredo, where 1.75 inches of rain fell Wednesday night and early yesterday.

It receded about two hours later, but has been slowly rising since then.

Locally heavy showers in the Brownsville area caused moderate local rises in the river, the Weather Bureau said.

Stages of 4 to 6 feet are indicated in the river between Del Rio and Laredo and 3 to 5 feet from Laredo to Falcon Dam," the bureau said.

The rises were expected to continue last night and today, the report said.

John Selleck, engineer of the IB&WC, said the rise in the river was a relatively "little peak," and it was not expected to cause a large inflow in Falcon Reservoir.

Yesterday Falcon Dam storage measured 263,000 acre feet. Both the United States and Mexico have shut off releases in an effort to use up all the water that resulted from scattered rains below the dam earlier this week.

The reservoir would need more than even a heavy inflow to greatly affect its 2,800,000 acre feet capacity. The flow of the river below Falcon Dam was running slightly higher than it has been during recent weeks.

WOMEN

FOR GOOD EATING

Kraut, pork 'n' apple dinners are made to order for on-the-go hostesses. If you're a busy homemaker also holding down a nine-to-five job, the problem of company menu planning is not to be passed over lightly. It takes skill and know-how to turn out appetizing, kind-to-the-budget meals for guests. Some smart career wives we know say that making the most of every second before the guests arrive spells success. That's why many of them applaud oven dinners.

While any one of these kraut, pork 'n' apple dinners is in the oven, you can take care of any last minute details and be ready to greet your guests knowing everything is under control.

Here are three particularly good recipes you'll want to try. Whether your get-together is large or small, you can still serve this ever popular, always delicious trio.

SAUERKRAUT STRATA

(Makes 4 servings)

4 loin pork chops, about 1-inch thick
1 medium-sized onion, sliced
2 cups mashed potatoes
Salt and pepper to taste
1 1-pound 3-ounce can sauerkraut, drained
2 cups canned apple sauce

Cook chops and onion slices until chops are browned on both sides. Combine potatoes and salt and pepper; mix well. Arrange layers of potatoes, kraut and apple sauce in greased 2-quart casserole. Top with chops and onion. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350) 45 minutes, or until chops are tender.

GREEN MOUNTAIN KRAUT AND HAM

1 4-5 pound tenderized, smoked ham
1 quart apple juice
½ cup maple sirup
½ teaspon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1 cup seedless raisins
2 1-pound 3-ounce cans sauerkraut, drained

Cook ham in apple juice over low heat 1 hour. Drain ham and remove skin. Reserve apple juice. Place ham on rack in shallow baking pan. Combine maple sirup, mustard, cloves and apple juice; mix well. Pour over ham. Add raisins. Bake in slow oven (325) 2 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 160. Baste ham occasionally with apple-juice mixture during baking period. Arrange kraut around ham. Bake 15 minutes, or until kraut is thoroughly heated.

KRAUT STUFFED TWIN PORK ROAST

(Makes 8-10 servings)

2 4-5 pound roast loins of pork
2 1-pound 3-ounce can sauerkraut, drained
2½ cups (1 can) sliced apples, drained
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed

Arrange pork loins, fat side up, on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in moderate oven (350) 2 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 185. Combine remaining ingredients; mixwell. Fill cavity between pork loins with kraut mixture around pork. Bake in moderate oven (350) 15 minutes.

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

It is always a pleasure to answer mail from parents. If today's is not one of your problems, write it to me in care of this newspaper. Another viewpoint is often helpful. Dear Miss Brandow:

When a girl of fifteen and a boy of sixteen want to go steady and insist on being together every free moment, is it best to forbid their dating at all and thereby keep it from becoming serious?

MR. L. H.

You're afraid of the much discussed teen-age elopement problem aren't you: Well, you have a right to be.

Whether you should "nip it in the bud" so to speak or allow the dating to continue depends on the boy and girl involved, their backgrounds and how strong willed each is.

Telling some teens "no" is like waving a red flag in front of the bull. When they are forbidden to date, they fling themselves into the roles of Romeo and Juliet, the classically mistreated and misunderstood teen-age lovers of literature.

The teen age is the dramatic age and high schoolers thrive on romantic tragedy.

You must be the judge of the intensity of the boy and girl's feeling for each other. Many infatuations flame up and flicker out during normal dating.

If the teen-agers in question have been an intent twosome for a month or six weeks, it is time for action.

When both teens come from good families and have many interests in common, friendship is understandable. Limiting the extent of their togetherness may be all that is called for.

If they are talking vine covered cottages however, better call a halt to the going steady business right now.

When you take something from a teen-ager's life, try to relace it with a new interest. Help the teens to stay busy and happy.

A charm course, dancing lessons or an introduction to a new heart throb will help.

(Letters addressed to Miss Brandow in care of this newspaper will be answered personally.)

WHY BE A MEMBER OF THE THE CHURCH OF CHRIST (No. 9)

BECAUSE MAN IS REDEEMED BY THE BLOOD OF CHRIST (1PET.1:18,19). Nothing in the Bible is more clearly taught than this. One of the "spiritual blessings" in Christ (Eph.1:3) is "redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins" (Eph.1:7). Inasmuch as Christ shed His blood for all men (Heb.2:9) and only a minority will be saved (Matt.7:13,14), this is certain evidence that there is something for man to do in order to obtain the forgiveness and blessings afforded by the shed blood of Christ. The question is:

"UPON WHAT CONDITION DOES THE BLOOD CLEANSE?" In John 19:33,34 one learns that Christ shed His blood in His death. Is it possible, then, for man to enter into Christ's death to reach the redeeming blood? Yes! The Holy Spirit says that when one is "baptized into Christ Jesus" he is "baptized into His death" (Rom. 6:3,4). Consequently, one does not marvel that Jesus stipulated baptism as a condition of salvation (Mk.16:15,16); that Peter said baptism is for the remission of sins (Acts 2:38); that Ananias commanded Saul to be baptized and wash away his sins (Acts 22:16). One is not surprised at these statements when he realizes that the penitent believer is baptized into Christ's death, where in His blood was shed, and wherein the sinner contacts the cleansing blood.

NOTICE: The Lord's blood was shed to purchase the church (Acts 20:28). Every person who believes in Christ, repents, and is baptized for the remission of sins (Acts 2:36-47)—that puts him into Christ (Gal.3:26,27), is "added" to the blood bought church (body) of which Christ is the Saviour and the head (Eph. 5:23; 1:22,23). When Christians walk in the light"—do the will of God, they "have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth" then from all sin (1Jno.1:7). That is, the blood of Jesus continues to cleanse Christians and to keep them clean. What a glorious promise! But "walking in the light" is the condition for tht promise! This is another reason why one should be a member of the church revealed in the Bible: He is redeemed by the blood of Christ.

Water Flow To Beaumont Will Be Cut

BEAUMONT (AP) — The Lower Neches Valley Authority announced yesterday water supplies to Beaumont area industries will be cut by 56 per cent next week.

W. F. Weed, LNVA president, said an unprecedented water shortage forced the cut.

Municipalities in this East Texas area were urged to try to conserve water.

Weed said the Neches River is now in its most critical drought situation since 1915, the first year records were kept. He said there is no water in Dam B reservoir at Town Bluff, 50 miles north of here.

Crews of the U.S. Geological Survey said the Neches River was flowing at the unprecedented low rate of 101 cubic feet per second.

Beaumont does not get water from LNVA, but draws its water from the same Neches River.

Weed said if the water crisis continues, partial industrial shutdowns and layoffs may result.

LNVA also supplies the residential water systems of Port Arthur, Port Neches, Port Acres, Groves and Nederland.

Arrested Man Gives Complaint To Police

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sam Jackson, 25, was indignant when police accused him of possessing policy slips.

"You arrest me for policy," he said, "but you don't arrest the man who burglarized my home of $130 on Sept. 28."

Jackson then gave officers the name of a man he suspected in the burglary. The man was picked up and held on an open charge. Police said a key in his possession would unlock Jackson's apartment.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell says Adlai Stevenson's proposals about H-bomb testing are "a gamble with the safety of our country."

Good Neighbor Council Slates Meeting Today

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The International Good Neighbor Council goes to work today on an agenda of problems affecting Texas and Mexico.

The council takes up matters of health and education, recent restrictions on liquor imports from Mexico, pollution of the Rio Grande, luxury taxes on goods sold Mexican visitors in Texas, highway and rail construction in Mexico, border crossings and the status of work on Diablo Dam.

Some 100 delegates were on hand yesterday.

Chairman Jose Muguerza of Monterrey said steps have been taken toward formal charting of the 270-member organization.

Gov. Shivers was to address the group today. The meeting closes tomorrow night with a speech by State Sen. Kilgore.

Rio Grande Rises After Heavy Rains

MCALLEN (AP)—The Rio Grande rose yesterday from heavy rains in the Laredo-Del Rio area, but the rains were not expected to cause much of a rise in the level of Falcon International Reservoir, the International Boundary and Water Commission said.

A peak of 4,130 second feet was hit in the flow at Laredo, where 1.75 inches of rain fell Wednesday night and early yesterday.

It receded about two hours later, but has been slowly rising since then.

Locally heavy showers in the Brownsville area caused moderate local rises in the river, the Weather Bureau said.

Stages of 4 to 6 feet are indicated in the river between Del Rio and Laredo and 3 to 5 feet from Laredo to Falcon Dam," the bureau said.

The rises were expected to continue last night and today, the report said.

John Selleck, engineer of the IB&WC, said the rise in the river was a relatively "little peak," and it was not expected to cause a large inflow in Falcon Reservoir.

Yesterday Falcon Dam storage measured 263,000 acre feet. Both the United States and Mexico have shut off releases in an effort to use up all the water that resulted from scattered rains below the dam earlier this week.

The reservoir would need more than even a heavy inflow to greatly affect its 2,800,000 acre feet capacity. The flow of the river below Falcon Dam was running slightly higher than it has been during recent weeks.

WOMEN

FOR GOOD EATING

Kraut, pork 'n' apple dinners are made to order for on-the-go hostesses. If you're a busy homemaker also holding down a nine-to-five job, the problem of company menu planning is not to be passed over lightly. It takes skill and know-how to turn out appetizing, kind-to-the-budget meals for guests. Some smart career wives we know say that making the most of every second before the guests arrive spells success. That's why many of them applaud oven dinners.

While any one of these kraut, pork 'n' apple dinners is in the oven, you can take care of any last minute details and be ready to greet your guests knowing everything is under control.

Here are three particularly good recipes you'll want to try. Whether your get-together is large or small, you can still serve this ever popular, always delicious trio.

SAUERKRAUT STRATA
(Makes 4 servings)

4 loin pork chops, about 1-inch thick
1 medium-sized onion, sliced
2 cups mashed potatoes
Salt and pepper to taste
1 1-pound 3-ounce can sauerkraut, drained
2 cups canned apple sauce

Cook chops and onion slices until chops are browned on both sides. Combine potatoes and salt and pepper; mix well. Arrange layers of potatoes, kraut and apple sauce in greased 2-quart casserole. Top with chops and onion. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350) 45 minutes, or until chops are tender.

GREEN MOUNTAIN KRAUT AND HAM

1 4-5 pound tenderized, smoked ham
1 quart apple juice
½ cup maple sirup
½ teaspon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1 cup seedless raisins
2 1-pound 3-ounce cans sauerkraut, drained

Cook ham in apple juice over low heat 1 hour. Drain ham and remove skin. Reserve apple juice. Place ham on rack in shallow baking pan. Combine maple sirup, mustard, cloves and apple juice; mix well. Pour over ham. Add raisins. Bake in slow oven (325) 2 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 160. Baste ham occasionally with apple-juice mixture during baking period. Arrange kraut around ham. Bake 15 minutes, or until kraut is thoroughly heated.

KRAUT STUFFED TWIN PORK ROAST
(Makes 8-10 servings)

2 4-5 pound roast loins of pork
2 1-pound 3-ounce can sauerkraut, drained
2½ cups (1 can) sliced apples, drained
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed

Arrange pork loins, fat side up, on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in moderate oven (350) 2 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 185. Combine remaining ingredients; mixwell. Fill cavity between pork loins with kraut mixture around pork. Bake in moderate oven (350) 15 minutes.

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

It is always a pleasure to answer mail from parents. If today's is not one of your problems, write it to me in care of this newspaper. Another viewpoint is often helpful. Dear Miss Brandow:

When a girl of fifteen and a boy of sixteen want to go steady and insist on being together every free moment, is it best to forbid their dating at all and thereby keep it from becoming serious?

MR. L. H.

You're afraid of the much discussed teen-age elopement problem aren't you: Well, you have a right to be.

Whether you should "nip it in the bud" so to speak or allow the dating to continue depends on the boy and girl involved, their backgrounds and how strong willed each is.

Telling some teens "no" is like waving a red flag in front of the bull. When they are forbidden to date, they fling themselves into the roles of Romeo and Juliet, the classically mistreated and misunderstood teen-age lovers of literature.

The teen age is the dramatic age and high schoolers thrive on romantic tragedy.

You must be the judge of the intensity of the boy and girl's feeling for each other. Many infatuations flame up and flicker out during normal dating.

If the teen-agers in question have been an intent twosome for a month or six weeks, it is time for action.

When both teens come from good families and have many interests in common, friendship is understandable. Limiting the extent of their togetherness may be all that is called for.

If they are talking vine covered cottages however, better call a halt to the going steady business right now.

When you take something from a teen-ager's life, try to relace it with a new interest. Help the teens to stay busy and happy.

A charm course, dancing lessons or an introduction to a new heart throb will help.

(Letters addressed to Miss Brandow in care of this newspaper will be answered personally.)

WHY BE A MEMBER OF THE THE CHURCH OF CHRIST (No. 9)

BECAUSE MAN IS REDEEMED BY THE BLOOD OF CHRIST (1PET.1:18,19). Nothing in the Bible is more clearly taught than this. One of the "spiritual blessings" in Christ (Eph.1:3) is "redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins" (Eph.1:7). Inasmuch as Christ shed His blood for all men (Heb.2:9) and only a minority will be saved (Matt.7:13,14), this is certain evidence that there is something for man to do in order to obtain the forgiveness and blessings afforded by the shed blood of Christ. The question is:

"UPON WHAT CONDITION DOES THE BLOOD CLEANSE?" In John 19:33,34 one learns that Christ shed His blood in His death. Is it possible, then, for man to enter into Christ's death to reach the redeeming blood? Yes! The Holy Spirit says that when one is "baptized into Christ Jesus" he is "baptized into His death" (Rom. 6:3,4). Consequently, one does not marvel that Jesus stipulated baptism as a condition of salvation (Mk.16:15,16); that Peter said baptism is for the remission of sins (Acts 2:38); that Ananias commanded Saul to be baptized and wash away his sins (Acts 22:-16). One is not surprised at these statements when he realizes that the penitent believer is baptized into Christ's death, where in His blood was shed, and wherein the sinner contacts the cleansing blood.

NOTICE: The Lord's blood was shed to purchase the church (Acts 20:28). Every person who believes in Christ, repents, and is baptized for the remission of sins (Acts 2:36-47)—that puts him into Christ (Gal.3:26,27), is "added" to the blood bought church (body) of which Christ is the Saviour and the head (Eph. 5:23; 1:-22,23). When Christians walk in the light"—do the will of God, they "have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth" then from all sin (1Jno.1:7). That is, the blood of Jesus continues to cleanse Christians and to keep them clean. What a glorious promise! But "walking in the light" is the condition for tht promise! This is another reason why one should be a member of the church revealed in the Bible: He is redeemed by the blood of Christ.

Poll Tax Count Down

In 1952 the Eisenhower-Stevenson rivals garnered between them over two million votes in Texas, out of a potential of close to 2,400,000 votes—one of the highest percentages, if not the highest, in the state's history.

This year, in spite of rapid growth of the state meantime, the qualified voting strength is not so high. Polltax payments were off from '52, but polltax receipts are not a very good gauge of voting strength anyhow, since nobody knows the number of Texans over 60 who are not required to pay a polltax. Nor is the number of polltax exemption certificates a true reflection of that segment of our electorate, for the simple reason that only those above-60 citizens who live in communities of more than 10,000 are required to renew their certificates annually.

In any case, the qualified voting strength of the state this year is smaller than in 1952.

Both sides are urging a full out-turn of voters not only in Texas but everywhere. The slogan "Register and Vote" is given wide circulation. In Texas "Register" has no significance, for the reason that Texas is one of four or five states that require a polltax receipt as a prerequisite to voting, and the deadline on renewal of these voting privileges expired at midnight last January 31, as it does every year.

But Texans can "get out and vote," and they are likely to do that next month in greater numbers than in any-normal year, though perhaps not, for the reason stated above, greater than in 1952.

It is the duty, whether he recognizes it or not, of every qualified citizen to cast his ballot when weighty issues are at stake, particularly in presidential elections, for that is the only occasion on which he can have a direct voice in the choice of a national administration.

Regardless of which party is their choice, we urge our citizens to get out and vote on November 6. A great many people have the feeling that their individual vote can't be decisive, but that theory has been pretty well exploded in several state Democratic primaries in recent years, where the results in many races hung by a thread.

We would like to see Texas lead the nation next month in the percentage of voters who actually vote.

Grist Of The News

A few small items we ran across in a perusal of the newspapers which add a lighter flavor to the news:

In Muskogee, Okla., Justice of the Peace R. L. Flora, who has performed 500 marriage ceremonies, observed: "The younger ones kiss and the older ones cry." . . .

In Wolf Lake, Mich., residents heaved a sigh of relief when it was discovered there wasn't a lion loose in their streets, after all. The booger turned out to be a St. Bernard dog, whose back had been shaved by a veterinary in preparation for an operation. . .

The Internal Revenue Service gets many letters, some of them no doubt of a fairy-tale nature. But the other day one wafted in from a California girl who merely wished to state that she hadn't paid any taxes because she was only 15 years old. "So do not punish me for not filing," she wrote. "I will get older." The envelope was marked. "Important, Slightly." . . .

There was just one thing missing when a motorist near Shelbyville, Ky., got up and dusted himself off after his car turned a flip. It was his car that was missing, but police looked around and finally spotted it behind a clump of bushes. . .

A Georgian sent in his income tax report showing a total income from his business to be $326. He carefully made out a check for $326 and mailed it to the Internal Revenue Service. One of the eagle-eyes there spotted the discrepancy and made inquiry as to how any man could pull so bad a blunder at his own expense. "No," the taxpayer replied, "I did not make out my own return. One of your boys did it for me." . . .

Many Crosscurrents Clouding Political Picture In New York During '56 Drive

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP) — The election scene in New York is a welter of political crosscurrents.

They stem from problems as far apart as policy in the Middle East and prices for milk.

A sampling of opinion in the cities, the villages, on the farms, indicates these are the main outlines of the picture at this point:

1. The Republicans.

President Eisenhower won the state's 45 electoral votes by 848,000 votes, or 56 per cent of the total, in 1952. His upstate margin easily outweighed the loss of New York City by 350,000.

Upstate today, his popularity seems holding at a high level generally. You hear few criticisms of Eisenhower, or expressions of concern about his ability to fill another term.

2. The Democrats.

Adlai Stevenson drew big crowds in recent appearances in New York City, and they seemed to respond more warmly to him than in 1952. His running mate Sen. Estes Kefauver has been campaigning more widely upstate. About the outlook there, Democratic spokesmen say they feel encouraged. One asserted, "Eisenhower won't get a million - vote edge upstate this time."

3. The issues.

No single one seems to be exerting a statewide pull. In New York City, GOP candidates are questioned sharply about foreign policy, arms for Israel, the Suez, immigration laws, and to a lesser degree, "hard" money and housing. Upstate, many dairy farmers criticize Secretary of Agriculture Benson, but not Eisenhower. They express no deep feelings on other questions. The "small man versus big business" argument is helping the Democrats.

Campaign fever seems to be running highest in New York City.

Party headquarters are bustling. Volunteer organizations have workers stationed all over the city. There has been considerable placarding and doorbell ringing.

Upstate, things are quieter.

There have been reports of widespread disaffection among the dairy farmers, because of a squeeze between cost and producer prices for milk.

Questioning unearths criticism in the dairy regions, but whether it will swith many votes is a different question.

One farmer said, "It doesn't make any difference which administration is in, so far as milk prices are concerned. I voted Republican before and I expect to again."

The owner of a general store in a Dairy Belt village said, "People around here seem satisfied. I know because I cash their checks. Most of them vote straight Republican."

An official of a dairyman's organization said, "They (the farmers) haven't anything against Ike, but they sure are sore at Benson."

Another official commented, however, "Ike's going to lose some farmers who are Democrats but switched over to him in 1952."

One big election crosscurrent developed in Harlem, big Negro district in New York City, predominantly Democratic.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., Negro Democrat who represents Harlme, announced last week he will support Eisenhower. He said he approved Eisenhower's stand on civil rights, and that the nation's Negro groups had been snubbed by Stevenson.

Democrats denounced Powell as a "turncoat."

Earlier, the Amsterdam News, Negro newspaper, had come out in support of Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, Republican, who is in a neck-and-neck race with New York City's Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, for the U.S. Senate.

This also was over the civil rights issue. The paper has not yet endorsed a presidential candidate. But Editor James Hicks said "We say his (Eisenhower's) civil rights record is a best seller."

The State Federation of Labor, with 1½ million members, voted to support Wagner. An official said it was the first time in 20 years the federation endorsed a senatorial candidate.

In New York City, the Javits-Wagner race holds almost as much interest as the presidential battle. Most observers consider it a tossup. Both candidate are well known. Both have been strong vote getters in other contests.

Javits is Jewish. Wagner a Roman Catholic. Each says he does not expect much "bloc" voting.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—In 1933 Laurence Stallings published a photographic history which he entitled, with grim prophecy, "The First World War." Its title, as well as its grisly pictures of war as it really is, shocked many readers of the 1930s; in those days nearly all Americans believed there would be no more war.

On Tuesday evening NBC - TV presented the first of this season's filmed documentaries on various aspects of modern life. "The Great War" was the title of this Project 20 program.

It was absorbing television entertainment. Old film clips revived vividly such historic figures as the Kaiser, Woodrow Wilson, Theodore Roosevelt, Newton D. Baker. There were the Liberty Bond rallies, the sinking of the Lusitania, the taxicab army which dashed out of Paris to save the city. There were many marching men of many armies.

"The Great War" was, essentially, a romantic view of war. So it was, inevitably, popular with those who saw it. Its musical background and narration by Alexander Scourby combined to induce a mood of nostalgia and the popular American theory that this country saved civilization — for another 20 years.

I do not know this for a fact, but I strongly suspect that besides using many excellent and authentic old film clips "The Great War" incorporated clips from such movies as "The Big Parade," "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "Wings." At least one sequence, purporting to show men attacking from front - line trenches, was shot at a high, advanced angle which only could have been from a movie lot tower.

Probably this, if it is true, is legitimate. But the result was curiously romantic. There was much running and shooting: But there were only a few dead bodies. There was no view of the starving millions in Belgium, no hint of such military debacles as that perpetrated by stupid tactical leadership on the Somme.

An accurate picture of the slaughter, starvation and pestilence of war, such as Laurence Stallings presented back in 1933, is perhaps too strong for the television audience. Yet any portrait of any war that totally ignores its agony is imbalanced history.

No one knows better than Henry Salomon, an excellent historian who has personally experienced war, who is the executive producer of the excellent Project 20 series, and who, with Richard Hanser, wrote the script for "The Great War." My minority opinion is that in this program he tried too hard to entertain to the detriment of his equally important function of instructing.

New Runway Project For Local Airport Is Bogged Down In State Of Confusion

By DALE WALTON

There apparently continues to be confusion as to just what will be done concerning the new runway at the county airport which was authorized by voters here last spring in a bond election.

Since the bonds were voted last April for the new runway, there have been these developments:

1. The commissioners court sold the bonds, and they are drawing interest now.

2. The commissioners court hired W. W. Greif & Associates of Snyder as engineers on the project.

3. Grief's firm completed preliminary plans, which have been okayed by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

4. The county purchased 16.838 acres of land north of the airport for clearance purposes at $250 per acre.

At the present time, the airport project is at a stalemate. The next thing on the list of things to be done would be acquisition of needed property.

According to specifications of CAA and preliminary plans submitted, the county would need 206.58 more acres of land than it it now has at Winston Field. The preliminary plans call for this land to take care of the building of the new east-west runway, construction of a northeast-southwest taxiway which could be used by planes which land on the new runway or which could be used for landing by light planes, and clear zones for both the existing runway and the new one.

Of the more than 206 acres still needed, 103.036 acres would be needed for the runway and taxiway. The remaining 103.444 acres would be needed for clearance purposes.

The land which would be needed lies on tracts of four property owners. One has made an offer of $250 per acre for sale of land needed for runway and taxiway purposes and $100 per acre for easement on land needed for clearance purposes. As well as can be determined, the other three property owners have not been consulted needed. Property purchased originally for the airport six years ago cost $250 per acre.

Funds available for the project include $50,000 voted in the April 21 bond election, $15,000 remaining from the first airport bond election, and $69,000 allocated by the federal government. Last week, County Judge Edgar Taylor said the County had some $40,000 of unused funds in the permanent improvement fund which had been designated in the 1955 county budget for airport improvement. Since tentative estimates are that the airport improvements, as laid out in preliminary plans would cost about $10,000 more than expected, the federal government would pay half of that cost if the additional expenditure were necessary.

That means there is a total of at least $134,000 available from bond funds and from the federal government, plus another $10,000 outside the bond money, only half of which would come from county funds. The federal government has said it will match county funds on airport improvements in any amount needed to meet specifications.

Winston Field is now a secondary airport, and original plans were to let it remain so even with the new runway. New plans, however, call for the north-south runway to be made to meet trunk specifications and the east-west runway to meet feeder specifications.

According to the estimates, the county could have an airport which would meet trunk line specifications by spending only about $5,000 more than originally estimated.

"I want to keep it within the bond money," one commissioner said this week in discussing the airport project. Some commissioners contend that land costs have been set at too high a figure for the land needed. One commissioner contends that the airport does not need the northeast-southwest taxiway. One wants to trade a part of the property the county now owns on the west side of the airport back for a part of that needed for the present project.

Commissioner T. B. Knight, when asked about the delay on the airport project, said the airport board was holding it up because of its insistence on the taxiway. Commissioner Pat Moore disagreed. He said the taxiway was recommended by the airport board but that it was also a recommendation of the engineers and the CCA. The airport board could not hold up the project, since the commissioners court has given it no power in connection with the runway project.

Although at least three commissioners have said they believe property costs are too high on the land, no action has been taken toward condemnation proceedings, as would orginarily be done if the county and property owner could not come to agreement on the price.

Whatever the reason, the airport project apparently has come to a standstill, and some residents are complaining for several reasons, including the fact that, cost of construction are rising all the time and will continue to do so while the county waits and does not begin building the runway. Others' hopes are dimming that the runway can be built before the heavy spring winds begin, when there is more need for an east-west runway in this part of the country.

Businessmen Have Eyes On Corporate Profit Reports

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen —not to mention stock market traders — are keeping an eagle eye today on the course of corporate profits.

The third quarter tallies are now starting to pour in. So far they are averaging out just about neck and neck with the returns for the July, August and September period of 1955.

The days when they consistently climbed higher with each reporting period appear to have ended — at least for a time.

The price of the individual stocks has reacted quickly to the profit statements of leading corporations. In a market as hesitant as the present one, the trend of profits carries even more weight than usual in making up a trader's mind on whether to sell or buy.

So far 87 corporations have reported on their net profits after taxes this summer. Some of them have fiscal years varying from the calender one and their third quarter ended in August instead of on Sept. 30 as the majority of corporate books do.

About two out of every five of the corporations — 35 out of the 87 — report profits this summer trailing last year's third quarter. And eight of them operated at a loss.

Combined, the 87 companies show three-month profits of $392,891,250. This is 0.6 per cent below the combined profits of the same 87 in the third quarter of 1955 when they totaled $395,495,783.

The picture is unussually spotty this time. Some companies are reporting increases both in sales and in profits. Others show sales totals still climbing but net earnings falling under the pressure of rising operational costs that haven't been offset by higher product prices.

And a few — example: some in the textile industry — report shrinking profits or even net losses; reflection of the failure of their lines to share in the general good times.

The tendency for profits to shrink although industrial production and national income is still rising is shown more clearly when you compare the third quarter results with those of earlier in the year.

In the first three months of 1956 profit gains over 1955 averaged around 12 per cent. In the April, May and June period the gain over the previous period was shrinking almost to the vanishing point, although figures for the first six months — thanks to the first quarter gains — still held 5.5 per cent above the previous year.

Politicians Are Helping Students Of Semantics

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—James R. Mock says students in his class in "Semantics in Human Relations" have never had a better opportunity for practical demonstration of what he's teaching than in the public utterances of the politicians in these pre-election days.

Dr. Mock, a teacher at American University here, is conducting the class in semantics, "a study of the meaning of words and of discrepancies between reality and language," at the Y. W. C. A.'s night adult education school. He says the course also is designed to "give better understanding of cliches, propaganda devices, stereotypes as frequently employed orally to prevent clear understanding of situations, events and personalities."

Mock says the policians are providing a "happy hunting ground" for students of semantics. "When you take emotion-filled words and define them by saying 'to me this means so-and-so' you are really trying to reach areas of agreement," he adds, "If you are a scientist you will try for exact meanings of words with well-understood points of reference. If you are a politician, most often you stay away from definitions as from a plague. It's a good time for people to read and listen very carefully.

"When politicians speak about 'the record,' persons should study the actions, commissions, and omissions that word 'record' covers. When these factors are added together you will have the object and not merely the word 'record', to think about and consider. We should not confuse words and realities. Just saying the word 'good' doesn't make anyone or anything good."

Mock, for the past 10 years has conducted classes in "Interpreting the Day's News" and "A Survey of Culture" at American University. He has also taught at Northwestern University and the University of Wisconsin, where he received his M.A. and Ph. D degrees. A bachelor, he lives near the Library of Congress.

Top Candidates Sounding Like Phonograph Records

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The longer this campaign lasts the more President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson sound like phonograph records of themselves.

They've been repeating themselves—not only in their attacks, promises, claims and counterclaims — but particularly in some of the words they use.

This might be expected in a campaign and must be due to one of three reasons:

(1) They can't think of new words, or (2) they like the old ones so much they can't bear to part with them, or (3) they think using them over and over is good politics.

If this campaign sounds dull — as it does to a lot of people — it may be because the candidates are beginning to make one speech sound pretty much like another.

One of Eisenhower's favorite words is "peace." He works that one overtime, using it in practically every speech. Although he says "peace" isn't an issue in this campaign, he's made it sound like a big one.

It's not hard to guess why:

The President and his advisers probably decided that — since there's no big-scale shooting in the world and the Korean War ended during his administration — it's one of his best selling points.

Stevenson has practically taken out a copyright on a few words and phrases which he bounces off the Republicans every chance he gets.

With these words, sometimes rearranged in new combinations, he accused the Republicans of "complacency" and "political syncism" and of being "stalled on dead center." He says they are "smug" and put up "stubborn opposition to new ideas."

While he says the Republicans haven't kept their 1952 campaign promises — in those words — he sometimes gives them a rest by jazzing up the same idea with a little color, such as saying the Republican promises are "checks that bounce."

OUR LITERARY HERITAGE: A Pictorial History of the Writer in America. By Van Wyck Brooks and Otto L. Bettmann. Dutton.

Brooks' classic five - volume "Makers and Finders," aimed to show "the interaction of American life and letters," in his words, provides the basic text for this picture book, but Bettmann is editor. Retaining about a sixth of the orginal, he has chosen 500 photos and drawings, sometimes factual and sometimes interpretive, for illustrations. It covers a century and a little more, extending to 1915, and even then it occasionally spills over to a later year in picture or phrase. It's an admirable treatment for this subject, an admirable subject for this treatment.

THE READER'S COMPANION TO WORLD LITERATURE. Lillian Herlands Horstein, editor; G. D. Percy, co-editor; Sterling A. Brown, Leon Edel, Horst Frenz, William L. Halstead and Robert B. Heilman, editors; Calvin S. Brown, general editor. New American Library.

This seems like a bargain, at least in a 50 - cent paperbound, but what can you do with a book on "World Literature" said to range "from the dawn of civilization to the present" when it omits Nobel prize winner Sinclair Lewis, Pulitzer prize winner Thornton Wilder, Thomas Wolfe, the poets Wallace Stevens, Marianne Moore, Ezra Pound, Archibald MacLeish, William Carlos Williams? Hemingway is seriously understimated — that is presumably the academic point of view — and one of his mentors, Gertrude Stein, is not mentioned at all, though there is a lot about Joyce. On the other hand, of what use to you are Eduard Morike, Joseph Freiherr von Eichendorff, Publius Papinius Statius and Moschus?

Gas Industry Program Is Given Here

Earl Kirk, staff gas engineer for the West Texas District of Sunray-Mid-Continent, operator of the Snyder Gasoline Plant, discussed gasoline plant operation and the gasoline industry yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club.

Kirk reviewed the history of the natural gas industry. In the early days, gas produced with oil was flared, since it was of no value, but in 1909 an Oklahoma man built a compressor station and began to take the liquid from the gas and sell it as natural gasoline. The market increased, and gasoline brought a better price than did crude oil. Some gasoline plants could be built and would pay themselves out then in about 90 days. Accidents in transportation of gas brought on legislation concerning its transporting. By 1911 ther were more than 300 gas plants in Oklahoma.

As more uses were found for crude oil, its value increased and the price of natural gasoline reduced in relation to crude. There are now 465 plants in the U.S. which recover liquid from gas, and Texas leads the nation with 183 of those plants. Those were 1955 figures. Those plants had a capacity of 21.6 billion cubic feet of gas per day.

Production of propane and butanes from natural gas was a fairly recent development. Early plants flared the portion of gas which contained these products. Still later, the light ends of propane came more into use in petro-chemical manufacture. Since the 1940s, the production of propane and butanes has increased more than 700 per cent. From 1946 to 1955 the production of liquefied petroleum gases has increased 435 per cent, and there was an increase of 11 per cent from 1954 to 1955.

Scurry County has gas which is rich in the several products. Louisiana ranks fourth in the nation in production of gas, and the Snyder Gasoline Plant produces about half as much as does the entire state of Louisiana. That plant is one of four gas plants in the county.

The Snyder Gasoline Plant is operated by Sunray-Mid-Continent for about 65 owners. It produces daily some 275,000 gallons of propane, 40,000 of iso-butane, 120,000 of normal butane, and 140,000 of natural gas. It is the largest self-contained natural gasoline plant in the world. Its gathering system has 115 miles of pipeline ranging from three to 30 inches in size.

Pigs Are Not Sick, They're Just Drunk

ATASCADERO, Calif. (AP) — Did you know that water and barley and pigs produces pickled pigs?

Neither did Jim Bentley, an Atascadero farmer, until yesterday.

Bentley thinks a lot of his three pigs. He gave them a special treat of barley soaked in water. Later he tried to herd them into their pen and found they couldn't move; just stared at him stupidly.

So Bentley rushed to the telephone and called a veterinarian.

"Humph," said the vet after a quick look. "They're not sick, just drunk."

Coastal Area Storm Moves Into Atlantic

By The Associated Press

There were a few rainy areas but fair weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

The Atlantic coastal storm that brought heavy rain and strong winds from Maine to New Jersey this week moved out to sea yesterday. However, rain and showers continued during the night in the Carolinas. Clear skies were in prospect for the northeastern area.

Welcome rains which fell in drought areas of Texas were expected to spread northward into southern Kansas and southwestern Missouri during the day. Scattered showers also were forecast for the northern half of the Rockies, and more rain was the outlook for western Oregon and Washington.

Cooler weather was reported in the Northeast, the far Northwest and the southern half of the plains and in isolated spots in the Midwest. It was below freezing—27 degrees—at Pellston, Mich., this morning while Fraser, Colo., reported a chilly 18 reading.

Tigers Meet Dangerous Dumas Demons Tonight

SPORTS

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE TIGER FOOTBALLERS, for the second time in three weeks, will be involved in the state's 3A top game tonight when they battle the dandy Demons from Dumas.

A week before last the Tigers met Levelland in the top 3A attraction. The Tigers edged Levelland, 2-0, to keep their unbeaten status intact.

Everyone here, of course, is hoping the Bengals will stay unbeaten tonight. On the other hand, it will not be a tragedy if something happens.

Dumas has a fine ball club and it will certainly be no disgrace to lose to the Demons.

That piece of leather they call a football can bounce too many different ways and if it doesn't bounce your way often enough it could lead to disaster.

If we're sounding a bit pessimistic to this point, we really aren't. We've been close enough to this game of football too long, though, not to take precaution before each game.

Over confidence can beat a team in a minute.

We've been with the Tigers now for 15 games and we've yet found them guilty of taking the opposition lightly. Much of this credit must go to Coach John Conley and his aides, Horrace Bostick and Hal Battle.

The three Tiger mentors have played and coached too much football not to respect any team they play.

Tonight's game should be a real thriller and we trust that all Snyder fans who possibly can back the Black and Golders tonight.

There are two revivals going on now in Snyder, at Trinity Methodist and Colonial Hills Baptist, but both services tonight are being moved up to 6:30 to allow those who would like to attend both the services and the game to do so. A majority of our ministers here are ardent Tiger fans as the aforementioned move will attest.

TIL Pulls Rank Again

The Texas Interscholastic League has a lot of "screwy" rules and regulations but the one that came up here this week involving one of the Tiger footballers takes the cake.

Reserve quarterback Ronnie Smith was the winner of a $25 Defense Bond recently in an essay contest sponsored by the OIIC.

The Diamond M Foundation offered the top four essay writers a $25 Denfense Bond.

But local school officials, just to be sure, called the TIL office in Austin to check and see if it was OK for Smith to receive the prize.

The TIL said if Smith accepted the prize he would be ineligible for further participation in high school sports.

That's the most ridiculous thing we ever heard of. We don't see where writing an essay has anything to do with sports.

It might have been like someone figured, that Smith typed his essay and therefore had to use his fingers and since using fingers requires physical exertion, typing thus becomes a sport.

An athlete certainly gets pushed around these days by the silly rules and regulations of the TIL.

'Out On The Limb'

Here quickly are our prediction of scores for this weekend's games. We might add that we hit the nail on the head last week in one game, Baytown 14, Midland 7, and missed another by one point, Baylor 14, Arkansas 6 of which we said it would be 14-7.

Hoping for equal success, here goes for this week:

Snyder 20, Dumas 7.
Midland 26, Sweetwater 14.
Andrews 13, Lake View 0.
Lamesa 20, Monahans 13.
Brownfield 34, Colorado City 6.

Flower Grove 26, Gail 19.
Ira 47, Ackerly 13.
Plainview 13, Borger 7.

Sen Officials Study Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—Calvin Griffith's effort to move the Washington Senators from the nation's capital comes up for a directors' vote today.

The five-man board of directors meets late today to consider offers the club president says he has received from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Minneapolis and Louisville.

The Senators, finishing deep in the second division, drew smaller crowds than any other big league team in the last two years, and Griffith yearns for greener pastures. He leans toward Los Angeles, and he and other heirs of the late Clark Griffith hold a controlling interest in the club's stock.

Reports are that a majority of the board will swing along with Griffith, but H. Gabriel Murphy, largest single stockholder with 40 per cent, vigorously opposes any shift. Murphy has threatened court action to prevent a transfer.

Six of the eight American League clubowners must approve any move. And that may well be a stumbling block.

Alabama Apologizes To Swink For Boos

FORT WORTH (AP)—The University of Alabama is sorry that Jim Swink, TCU's All-America, got booed at Tuscaloosa last week.

Some of the fans jeered Swink when he left the game, in which TCU beat Alabama 23-6. The Horned Frog back had gained only 22 yards.

HARD LUCK FOOTBALLER—Doyle Traylor, above, Baylor University's hard-luck quarterback, broke his left ankle in practice at the Waco, Tex., school and probably is lost to the team for the remainder of the season. This is the third straight year that the Baylor star has suffered a major injury. During practice he fell with his left leg under him and his ankle cracked under the strain. (AP Wirephoto).

Tiger-Midland B Teams Vie Here Saturday

Rain washed out all three games on tap for Snyder's lower division teams yesterday and last night.

Washed out were the two Junior High games at Lamesa and the Tiger Frosh-Colorado City Frosh game that was scheduled here last night.

The Snyder-Lamesa Junior High games were reset for next Tuesday while no date had been reset for the Freshman game as of today.

The other future Tiger team, the Tiger B, will meet Midland B at Tiger Stadium tomorrow night.

Tiger B and Midland B battled to a 14-14 draw in as earlier game. The tie is the only blemish on an otherwise perfect slate for which was registered three Tiger victories.

Kickoff time for the B game has been set for 7:30.

Starting lineups for Tiger B will likely be:

Ends — Tony Anger and Rex Wilson.
Tackles — Ronnie Giles and Leon Reed.
Guards — Terry Lee and Billy Dubose.
Center — Harley Merritt.
Quarterback — Richard Mahan.
Halfbacks — Kenneth Drake and Dickie Martin.
Fullback — Dick Hayes.

Capacity Crowd Due For Tilt

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

Another near capacity crowd is expected to jam Tiger Stadium tonight where the undefeated Tigers meet the once-beaten Dumas Demons in the state's feature 3A attraction.

Both coaches of tonight's teams figure their teams will meet their sternest test of the season. While the Tigers have gone through five games without a defeat, the Demons have romped to four victories in five outings.

In the Demons the Tigers will be meeting the highest scoring team they've met this season. Dumas has average slightly better than 25 points per game or four touchdowns per tilt.

The lone defeat suffered by Dumas was a 21-6 affair to Palo Duro of Amarillo in the season opener. Palo Duro currently is unbeaten and is ranked 10th in the state Class 4A poll. So losing to the 4A Dons was no disgrace to the Demons.

Dumas has one of the finest break-away backs in the state in the person of Jim Tiner. Tiner, who has racked up 60 points for the Demons this season, has averaged better than 100 yards per game in Dumas' 5 tilts thus far.

Tiger scouts believe Tiner is the most dangerous runner in high school ball this year. Tiner has totalled 534 yards on the ground this season.

Fullback Dwayne Mowery is the second leading Demon gainer with 168 yards in 36 trips for a 4.7 yards average per carry. Quarterback Jim Boxwell has gained 73 in 16 totes while halfback Dean McClellen rounds out the starting Demon backfield with 55 yards in 10 attempts.

Boxwell is the leading Demon passer with 11 completions for 142 yards. Boxwell also does the Demon punting and kicks extra points. In punting Boxwell has averaged 37.2 yards per punt.

Center Joe Reaves will return to the Tiger lineup tonight after missing last week's game with Breckenridge but another regular, halfback Bud Morgan, is nursing a leg injury and probably will see only limited action, if any, tonight.

Morgan had been used mostly as a defensive starter and his linebacker position will be taken over by Israel Hinojos tonight. Hinojos was the lad who replaced Reaves on defense at a linebacker position against Breckenridge last week.

Otherwise the Tigers apparently are in good physical condition. Sophomore James Vincent, however, who was recently brought up from the B team, is out tonight with an ankle injury.

Tonight's game will be the first time Snyder and Dumas have met on the football field. Tiger stadium, though, won't be new to several Dumas players. Many of the Dumas gridders were members of the 1955 Demon track team that appeared in the Canyon Reef Relays here last spring.

Dumas' starting backfield, in fact, comprised the Demon sprint relay team here last spring.

Demons Pin Hopes On Rugged Defense

By BOB HAMILTON
Dumas Sports Editor

DUMAS, Oct. 19 — In no game thus far this season has Dumas been such an underdog as the Demons will be tonight when they face the state's top ranked 3A ball team, Snyder Tigers, who boast a perfect winning record in five outings.

"This should be our stiffest test by far, since we're playing the No. 1 ranked team in 3A ball," commented Demon head coach John Whinnery this week. 'We think our boys are capable of playing a good ball game, if they are mentally ready for it."

Assistant coach Garland Head, who scouts opposing teams during the season for the Demons, said "we'll have to play our best defensive game of the year to hold them down and then will have to score at least two touchdowns to win."

Coach Head was impressed with the playing of Tiger end, Robert Dabbs, of whom he said "really likes to play clean, rough ball. He has hands like hams and very seldom misses a pass; awfully good on defense."

The Demons are ready, physically. They have no serious injuries hampering their play. Don Woodman, 154-pound Demon senior center, has been having some trouble with his shoulder but from all indications of his playing last Friday night against Seymour and in practice, he is far from lame.

A ground-gaining battle will probably be waged between Tiger Quarterback Powell Berry, who has scooted for 261 yards from scrimmage in 40 tries, and Demon halfback Jim Tiner who has toted the ball 79 times from scrimmage for a total of 534 yards.

In five games this season, three against 4A teams and two against 2A teams, Dumas has gained only 955 yards rushing while their opponents have run up a total of 1,067 yards. The Demons are also behind in the first down department, 64-83.

Turner Fights On TV Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Crowd-pleasing Gil Turner, who has made almost as many television appearances as Rin Tin Tin, fights in front of the cameras again tonight as a 3-1 underdog against streaking Joey Giambra.

This could be the last video shot in a long time for the 26-year-old Turner unless he finds his way back on the winning path. The muscular Philadelphian dropped his last three fights and his fistic rating has plummeted.

Gil has had some 30 TV shots and usually pleased the fans with his windmill attack. Lately the 153-pounder has shown a tendency to tire about the eighth round. The onetime welterweight and middleweight contender may be nearing the end of the trail although his 50-13-1 record is a good one.

Giambra, a handsome, dark-haired, 25-year-old boxer-puncher, has won four straight in a drive to get back with the middleweight elite and earn a shot at the title.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 9 p.m., EST.

Area Teams Hit Road Tonight

All of Snyder's area football teams hit the road tonight.

Three of the teams will engage in conference competition with only the Ira at Ackerly game not counting in loop play.

Hermleigh goes to Robert Lee for an important District 6-B tussle; Hobbs journeys to McCaulley; and Gail treks to Flower Grove in other area games.

Hermleigh will be a slight favorite to trip Robert Lee while Hobbs and Ira are heavy favorites. The Gail-Flower Grove game is a tossup.

Wyoming Star Is Released

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—University of Wyoming officials say Sam Carter, charged by a fellow student with assault and battery, will be in the starting lineup for tomorrow's homecoming football game with Utah.

Carter, a 5-11, 200-pound tackle, and Clarence (Bugs) Carter, 25, of Nashville, Tenn., an assistant freshman football coach, were accused in a complaint signed yesterday by Leith William Pike, 25.

Justice of the Peace Vernon C. Bentley released the Carters, who are not related, under personal recognizance bond. He set a hearing for next Monday. Both pleaded innocent.

Glenn (Red) Jacoby, Wyoming athletic director, said no disciplinary action was contemplated against Sam Carter, 23-year-old Columbus, Ga., senior.

Pike said the two stopped a car in which he and his wife were riding Sunday afternoon. The senior engineering student said Clarence Carter attempted to pull him from the car and beat him with his fists. Pike's wife, Leona, 25, ran from the car during the struggle and telephoned police.

Rice freshmen make their start in Southwest Conference football Friday, meeting SMU at Dallas.

Texas and TCU lead with a victory apiece. SMU and Arkansas each has a tie on its record. Baylor is winless in two games.

Texas A&M broke into the victory column Thursday by beating Baylor 7-0. The little Aggies had lost their two previous games.

Gordon LeBeouf scored the game's only touchdown in the last two minutes with a 2-yard smash.

TCU Wogs To Meet Hog Frosh

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19 — TCU's nifty freshman team will flex its touted football muscles against a rugged University of Arkansas Shorthorn eleven Saturday night at Fort Smith, Ark.

A crowd of 20,000 is expected to gather for the annual benefit clash. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

Coach Gred Taylor's Wogs were quite impressive in their 26-14 march past the highly-regarded Texas A&M Fish in the season opener last week.

"I tought we played a fine game in every way," said Taylor, "and many of us believed it was one of the best opening performances by a first-year group in TCU history."

Blessed with a fine array of backs, the Wogs went good both on the ground and airways with the slick Jack Sledge operating traffic from the quarterback post.

Sledge, former star from New London, was the spark. The 170-pound redhead hit five of 10 passes for 93 yards, one a 23-yard shot to set up the cirst score.

He'll be joined by two hard-running sensations, Marvin Lasater of San Angelo at left half and 198-pound Jack Spikes of Snyder. Fullback will be manned by the fleet Merlin Priddy of Hillsboro.

Taylor's aide, Bill Yung, will go with the same line: Jimmy Gilmore, Ennis, LE; Donale Floyd, Midlothian, LT; Sherrill Headrick, Fort Worth, LG; Joe Moffett, Corpus Christi, C; Ramon Armstrong, Ennis, RG; William Roach, Fort Worth, RT; and Paul Peebles, Killeen, RE.

Ransom Leads Way In Texas PGA

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Henry Ransom, 45, former Houston caddy, began the second round of the $5,000 Texas PGA tournament with a two-stroke lead today.

The 1950 world's champion from Bryan scored an opening round 32-33—65 to take six strokes off par.

Byron Nelson, the veteran champion from Roanoke, tied at 67 with two newcomers, Jack Smith of Amarillo and Bobby Morris of Dallas.

Ransom jumped into the lead in the 72-hole tournament as other favorites ran into trouble.

Tommy Bolt of Houston and Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas were the top pre-tournament favorites. Bolt missed a plane connection in Los Angeles and did not report. Stewart posted a 70.

Bobby Moncrief, Houston amateur who won the Texas title last year at El Paso, had a first round 38-35—73. Chuck Klein of San Antonio, the low pro last year, had a 34-37—71.

Nine amateurs headed by Rex Baxter of the University of Houston were among the 22 players to break par. Five pros finished at par 72. The starting field totaled 105.

Baxter had a 34-34—68 for a fifth place tie with Breard Mimms, Dallas who also had a pair of 34s.

Tod Menefee, playing in the next to the last foursome, moved into a seventh place tie with a 69 that was completed in darkness and a light rain. The San Antonio pro also took the lead in the tournament's senior division with a seven-stroke lead over Warren Cantrell of Lubbock.

Grouped with Stewart at 70 were Bill Trombley, Dallas, Tom Lawrence, Corpus Christi, and amateurs John Paul Cain, Sweetwater, and Bill Hightower, Odessa.

Olympic Mitt Finals On Tap Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Classy Vince Ferguson of New York, winner of 52 straight fights, goes after two more tonight as he leads the U.S.'s finest amateur boxers into the final phase of their Olympic Trials.

Ferguson, 18-year-old NCAA light-middleweight champ from Wisconsin, was one of five collegiate titlists to advance to the semifinals of the 3-day Olympics slugfest. A sixth NCAA representative, Choken Maekawa, Michigan State bantamweight from Hawaii, goes into the final against Dave Abeyta of Idaho State, a western regional winner.

Vince uncorked a dazzling array of crosses and counter-punches to stop Air Force champion Dave Smith of Seattle in the third round. Ferguson floored the rangy Smith with a right cross on the jaw and hit him twice more in the stomach. Then the bout was halted.

The original field of 105 was trimmed to select the U.S. boxers for the Olympic Games at Melbourne, Australia, next month.

Fights followed form closely last night, reversing the upset trend in the Cow Palace ring Wednesday.

Middleweight Paul Wright of Flint, Mich., interservice and AAU winner, punched out a three-round victory over Ed Hawkins, a fellow Air Force boxer. Wright's stiff punches to the jaw dropped Hawkins for an eight-count in the third period.

Top Lineman Big For Age

SEATTLE (AP)—Dick Day is large for his age, which is 20. He is big for the average junior in aeronautical engineering.

For any age and any class, The Associated Press Lineman of the Week is outsize — 240 pounds of muscle molded on a 6-3 frame. He sat straddling the edge of the whirlpool bath yesterday, one leg in the warm water, his lethal arms folded harmlessly across his chest.

Dick Day grinned warmly and allowed that he was surprised and happy to be selected as Lineman of the Week. There was no false modesty about it. He looked surprised and happy.

Not surprised at all was Head Coach Darrell Royal of the University of Washington. "Day," he said, "has been lineman of the week every week." One of the first to congratulate Dick was Corky Lewis, the Washington end who pushed him for the week's honors.

The huge tackle earned his selection by cutting up the Oregon attack Saturday and recovering three fumbles in Washington's 20-7 victory. He made key tackles to choke Oregon threats and kept vicious pressure on the Oregon passers.

Shoemaker Tops $2-Million Again

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Willie Shoemaker is the first jockey in racing history to pilot horses to two million dollars in purse money in one year.

"Silent Shoe" set the mark yesterday at Garden State Park by riding Ada L. Rice's Beautillion to victory in the sixth race, worth $3,245 to the winner. The winning ride put Shoemaker's 1956 purse winnings at $2,001,165.

'BACK OF THE WEEK'—Tommy McDonald, Oklahoma's All-America halfback last year, is bidding early for repeat honors. McDonald's brilliant performance in Oklahoma's 45-0 romp over Texas Saturday earned him the title "Back of the Week." The senior speedster scored three touchdowns, rushed for 160 yards, caught two passes for 61 yards and threw one for 27 yards. (AP Wirephoto).

4 Undefeated Schoolboy 11s Win Thursday

By The Associated Press

Four of the state's 54 undefeated teams stayed on an even keel in opening games of the weekend of schoolboy football Thursday.

In two instances Friday, undefeated, untied elevens clash with each other. These games come in Class A where Frenship plays Plains and Judson Grove collides with high scoring White Oak.

The state's feature game, however, is between unbeaten, untied Abilene and one-time-loser Waco at Waco. The latter is considered the first strong test for the AAAA champion seeking its 29th straight victory to tie the all-time record in the upper classes.

Grapevine and Lewisville of A stayed undefeated and untie Thursday. The former beat La caster 20-0, and Lewisville downe Mesquite 19-0.

Houston Lamar and Dallas Jefferson, undefeated but tied, won their games. Lamar beat Houston Reagan 26-0 and Jefferson triumphed over Dallas Woodrow Wilson B 24-0.

Ysleta beat El Paso Jefferson 20-0 in a Dist. 1 conference game in AAAA.

TCU-Ag Tilt May Decide SWC Title

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Unbeaten TCU and Texas A&M clash at College Station Saturday in the headliner of the Southwest Conference.

This one might decide the championship.

SMU and Rice open the campaign at Houston in a night tilt while Texas moves into conference competition against twice-beaten Arkansas at Austin.

Baylor is only an interested onlooker this week.

Crowds totaling 138,000 are expected at the three conference games with the biggest throng at Houston where SMU tries to make it five in a row over the Owls. A mob of 55,000 is expected as the Mustangs and Owls hook up in what might be the biggest passing outbreak in a decade. Both throw with reckless abandon.

While TCU is ranked No. 4 in the nation and A&M is only fourteenth, there are plenty who think the Aggies will again knock down the Christian powerhouse. A&M is crippled but still has better manpower than last season when the Cadets nosed TCU in a decided upset.

Some 42,000 will fill every nook and cranny of Kyle Field for this most important struggle—a game that is expected to reduce the league's unbeaten teams to two. Baylor is undefeated and untied, so is TCU and A&M has only a tie to mar its record.

Not much is being said about the Texas-Arkansas tilt, where 41,000 are expected to see if the Longhorns can bounce back from their 45-0 defeat at the hands of Oklahoma.

Texas is handicapped by illness and injury but still is a mild favorite to get off on a winning start in the conference race.

The Aggies got still another blow Thursday when Richard Gay, the first line substitute for the already injured Jack Pardee, had his hip hurt in scrimmage. Pardee is nursing a bruised shoulder but will start the game.

With three selections, two losses and a tie the old average took another dip last week.

TCU-A&M: TCU has given no indication that it isn't as good as predicted; the Horned Frogs in a gripping struggle.

Rice-SMU: SMU has a better all-round team; the Methodists by a touchdown.

Texas-Arkansas: It's reasonable to pick Arkansas but there's never any reason in Southwest Conference football—Texas by a whisker.

Michigan State Battles Irish In Nation Feature Tomorrow

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The sudden, unexplainable ups and downs of college football already have been vividly displayed this fall. The season has reached the stage where coaches of top-rank teams are muttering, "Don't let it happen to me."

"It," in this case, can mean either a horrible slump by a good team or an inspired performance by a steady loser. And it could happen this weekend to almost any of the leaders, from Michigan State to Miami.

Oklahoma is excepted. It's a bit beyond credibility to imagine the top-ranked Sooners, needing only one victory to set a new major college winning record of 34 straight, blowing the decision to a free-scoring Kansas team which has won only one of four games.

But Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty is battling overconfidence as his second-rated Spartans prepare to face Notre Dame.

"They'll be ready. When we tangle with Notre Dame, records mean nothing," Daugherty says.

Injury-riddled Notre Dame will be the underdog in a game for the first time since 1952 and that may be just enough to fire up a team that has lost two of its first three games.

Miami, ranked 11th in the latest Associated Press poll, opens the action tonight against Georgia, which won its first game last week. An upset appears possible but unlikely.

Other Friday night games include George Washington vs. VMI — a pair of Southern Conference title contenders — and Denver vs. Colorado College.

The top 10 teams, except Baylor, all are listed for major Saturday tussles and there are chances that a couple will come out as losers.

Georgia Tech (No. 3) takes on rugged Auburn. Texas Christian (4) meets tied but unbeaten Texas A&M in a game that could be a deciding factor in the Southwest Conference race. Ohio State (5) meets Penn State.

On down the line it's Mississippi vs. Tulane, winner over Navy last week; Tennessee vs. battered Alabama; Michigan vs. Northwestern, the team that blanked Minnesota's hopes last week; and Southern California vs. conference leader Washington.

Tokyo Nips Bums, 5-4

TOKYO (AP) — Aided by the 16-strikeout pitching of two ace hurlers, the Tokyo Yomiuri Giants beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-4 today in the opener of Brooklyn's 20-game Japan exhibition baseball tour.

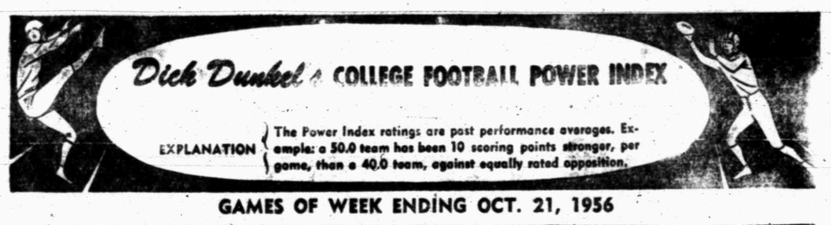

Duke sprint star Dave Sime took part in baseball, basketball and football at Fair Lawn, N. J., High School.

ELVIS SWINGS

Man Is Given Black Eye

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A service station manager sported a beaut of black eye today souvenir of a brisk fist fight with Elvis (The Pelvis) Presley, the teen-agers' rock 'n' roll idol.

The fisticuffs flared yesterday when station manager Ed Hopper became irate because a crowd drawn by Presley and his $10,000 car was blocking business at the gas pumps.

Presley, 21, Hopper, 42, and a late comer to the fight, station attendant Aubrey Brown, 21, were free in $52 bonds, all charged with assault and battery and disorderly conduct.

Asst. Police Chief Bruns McCarroll said officers already on the scene broke up the fight and reported that Hopper was trying to unlimber a small pocket knife at the time.

Presley, home for a few days from his rock 'n' roll tours, said the trouble started after he drove his glossy, white Continental Mark II into the downtown station and asked Hopper to check the gas tank for leaks.

A crowd began to assemble, blocking traffic. Hopper finally asked Presley to move on so the station could get back to normal business.

A witness, Harvey Huff, told police that Presley, seated in his car signing autographs, agreed to move on but delayed to oblige eager fans. Huff said Hopper slapped Presley on the back of the head and snapped:

"I said to move on."

Presley, 6-1 and 185 pounds, jumped from the car and crossed a right that set Hopper (5-10, 175) back on his heels and cut a half-inch gash at the corner of his left eye.

Huff said a policeman and another man broke up the fight and then Brown, 6-4 and 220 pounds, moved in and also drew a Presley right.

"He just barely did hit me in the left eye," said Brown, who was unmarked.

"I asked him three times to move, in a nice way," said Hopper. "He'd say, 'I'm fixing to move,' but he didn't. The last time I told him he started to get out and I shoved him back in the car. He started out after me."

Presley said Hopper "reached into the car and hit me. He pulled a knife on me when I got out. I hit him. The redhead (Brown) swung at me and missed and then I hit him."

"I'll regret it as long as I live," he added. "I'm sorry I went in the place. I can take slurring remarks, but when somebody hits you it's a different story."

Former Tax Chief Makes His Pitch

By JOHN F. DAFFRON

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — T. Coleman Andrews, the Virginia Democrat who supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and became chief tax collector in the Republican administration, is wearing a new campaign button in his lapel.

It says: "I'm for me."

Politically it means what it says. Andrews is the presidential nominee on an independent States Rights-Tax Reform ticket. His running mate is Thomas H. Werdel of California, a former GOP congressman. They were formally handed the banner of the conservatives at a rally here Monday night at which about 20 states were represented.

Andrews, an accountant, has no illusions about any chance of victory. His ticket is on the ballot in only 14 states. What does he hope to accomplish?

"We hope to serve as a rallying point for conservative people," he said. "Our group has definitely launched a movement to lead to a realignment of the parties between conservatives and radicals."

Andrews sees the conservative coalition backing him not as a third party—but as a second party. He says now it's only a "tweedle - dum, tweedle - dee" choice between the national Democratic and Republican tickets since both have been engaged in what he calls a grasshopper race to the left. He is making his pitch mainly to those voters disenchanted by both major parties.

His candidacy could tip the scales in Virginia, which went for Eisenhower by 80,000 in 1952, and may be a factor in Florida.

Andrews said he didn't know which of the major parties would be hurt by his candidacy—he expected to draw from both. But more recently he said his Virginia supporters reported former Eisenhower supporters were coming over "in droves," especially since Rep. Powell (D-NY) reported Eisenhower told him he favored jailing anyone who disobeyed the Supreme Court decision to desegregate schools.

She's Ready To Quit Job

BRIGHTON, Colo. (AP) — Miss Esther B. Bogle, 56, the fifth-grade teacher who taped the mouths of three talkative pupils, wants no more of teaching in this northeast Denver suburb.

The veteran teacher was suspended last week after a complaint was signed by a group of parents.

"All I'm interested in now is the best possible financial settlement," she told a reporter yesterday. "I'm finished with teaching here."

Formal charges were reported on file against Miss Bogle, but Dr. John Thommig, the district school board president, declined to make their specifications public. Miss Bogle has 10 days to request a board hearing and reply to the charges.

For A Fee, You Too Can Break The Law

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Feel like lawbreaking?

It can be done, legally, in Santa Ana—for a fee.

To clear streets of automobiles at night for city street sweepers, Santa Ana made it illegal to park on the street overnight.

But for citizens who really have to park there, the ordinance provides that the law can be broken by anyone who pays a $4 monthly fee. The fee is for a permit to park on the street in violation of the ordinance.

Three Killed In Antarctic Plane Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy plane carrying advance units of this year's South Polar expedition crashed on the antarctic ice shelf yesterday, killing three men and injuring five others, three critically.

The Navy here said six other planes landed safely after the 2,250-mile flight from New Zealand to McMurdo Sound.

All were carrying advance units of a scientific expedition to the antarctic area for work in connection with the International Geophysical Year, in which many nations are sharing their scientific discoveries.

Additional flights from New Zealand were halted temporarily by a white-out blizzard, one of the antarctic's worst features.

The Navy listed the dead as Lt. David M. Carey, the plane's pilot, of White Plains, N.Y.; Aviation Machinist Mate 1.C. Marion O. Marze, Waxham, N.C.; and Aviation Electronic Technician Charles S. Miller, Providence, R.I.

Two of the men critically injured in the crash had been aboard a Navy patrol bomber which crash-landed in Venezuela last February while heading for emergency rescue work in the antarctic.

They are Marine Capt. Rayburn A. Hudman of Saunderstown, R.I., and Marine Sgt. Robert C. Spann of Eggertsville, N.Y. They and six others were rescued from the Venezuelan jungle clearing by helicopter.

Peaceful Use For Fallout Discovered

SOCORRO, N.M. (AP)—A physics professor says he believes he has found a peaceful use for the fallout from a hydrogen bomb blast.

Dr. Haro V. Buttlar of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology says the normal amount of radioactive tritium in the atmosphere is multiplied a hundredfold for about six months after an H-bomb explosion.

Rain becomes supercharged with it. Progress of that water underground can be traced with instruments which register radioactivity.

The importance of underground water courses in arid country is vital to farmers and ranchers who depend on wells.

4 Attorneys Freed From Duval Jail

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—Four attorneys were free on bond today after spending yesterday morning in Duval County jail.

The four were ruled in contempt of court Aug. 20 by Dist. Judge Laughlin and were placed in jail on authority of a mandate signed Tuesday by Judge Morrison of the Court of Criminal Appeals. They were released on a writ of habeas corpus.

The men are Warner Gohmerg of Alice, Gerald Weatherly of Laredo, Luther Jones Jr., Corpus Christi, and O. P. Carrillo, San Diego. They posted bonds of $1,000 each.

The Court of Criminal Appeals had said it would not accept any more requests in the case until the defendants had exhausted their appeals in the civil courts.

Atty. Hamilton Lowe of Austin, representing the four, asked the Supreme Court for a writ yesterday, but the court refused.

He then returned to the Court of Criminal Appeals and Morrison issued the writ.

The attorneys were held in contempt for allegedly attempting to elect a special judge and hold a special court session in August, while Laughlin was on vacation.

Laughlin said the attorneys attempted to dismiss Duval County Judge Tobin and appoint a deputy commissioner to try some election contests.

A hearing was set for today on an injunction against the First State Bank of San Diego, seeking to prevent the bank from honoring checks on deficiency warrants issued for county payrolls.

Cherrie Lee Gets Hubbie, To Lose Leg

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Cherrie Lee Thompson is 17 and pretty, she has a new husband and today she loses her right leg.

The doctor said it was the only way he might save her from cancer. He told her yesterday.

Cherrie thought he was kidding at first.

Laroy Jay Thompson already knew. The 21-year-old soldier had hurried home on emergency leave from his station at Ft. Jackson, S.C., so they could be married ahead of schedule.

Cherrie looked up from the bed at Laroy Jay.

"Now see what kind of a girl you married."

She began to cry. Later she managed to joke about it. Nylons wouldn't look so bad over an artificial leg.

Cherrie and Laroy Jay spoke their vows in her room at St. Anthony Hospital Wednesday. He stood beside her bed. They had been sweethearts for years. They decided when he returned from Korea 10 weeks ago to get married as soon as he finished his three-year Army hitch.

"But then I decided we ought to get married right now," he said.

Man, 106, Just Not Interested In Women

BOSTON (AP)—Charles W. Thiery, who will be 106 years old on Oct. 26, says his good health could be attributed to his lack of interest in women.

The white whiskered bachelor said women are just as beautiful today as they were in the last century, but he added: "I never paid much attention to them. Marriage is not for me."

Spotty Gets Good Care

LEXINGTON, Mass. (AP)—To the little boy who used to own "Spotty," the dog: Don't worry about him, he is in good hands.

He is living with Air Force Major and Mrs. Lorenzo J. Bonnano.

Mrs. Bonnano found the hungry-looking mongrel pup. Attached to the dog's collar was this note:

"Whoever finds this dog, please take care of him. He is a good watchdog. His name is Spotty.

"We can't keep him because my husband isn't working.

"He belonged to my little boy. Please be good to him.

"My son is praying for someone to take his dog in and be good to him. He loved him so much. So did we.

"Thank you, whoever you may be, and God bless you."

Mrs. Bonnano said she wants the youngster, whoever he is, to know that "Spotty" is in good hands.
