US Warns Red Chinese Viet War Might Expand

REBEL TRIBESMEN GET THANKS FROM U. S. — U. S. Special Forces Major Edwin E. Brooks, left, shakes the hand of a rebel Montagnard soldier at Buon Mo Prong, South Viet Nam, after the revolting rebel troops kept word to withdraw to their camp at Buon Sar Pa. The rebel tribesmen had been marching on the camp of the South Viet Nam army at Ban Me Thuot to press demands on the government of Premier Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh when the Americans persuaded them to turn back. A crisis developed after the rebels killed their Vietnamese officers and returned to the march. (AP Wirephoto via cable from Saigon)

TOKYO (AP) — A top State Department official warned the North Vietnamese and Chinese Communists today against increasing their pressure on South Viet Nam. He said they may force the United States to expand the war outside South Viet Nam.

William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, told the Research Institute of Japan:

"Expansion of the war outside South Viet Nam, while not a course we want or seek, could be forced upon us by the increased external pressures of the Communists, including a rising scale of infiltration."

Bundy did not say how the war might be extended. But a high American source said earlier in Tokyo that the United States has considered the possibility of bombing infiltration bases in North Viet Nam and neighboring Laos.

We do not aim at overthrowing the Communist regime of North Viet Nam but rather at inducing it to call off the war it directs and supports in South Viet Nam, Bundy said.

He warned if South Viet Nam falls under Red control, the rest of Southeast Asia would face similar danger and eventually India, Australia and Japan could be swallowed up.

"If Hanoi and Peking prevail in Viet Nam in this key test of the new Communist tactics of 'wars of national liberation,' then the Communists will use this technique with growing frequency elsewhere in Asia, Africa and Latin America," he declared.

Communist China in turn warned the United States it will "pay dearly" if it ventures across the frontier into North Viet Nam.

"The Chinese government and people again warn the Johnson administration to stop immediately the rash playing with fire," said Peking radio. "If it still plans to carry out enlargement of its war adventure, it will pay dearly for this dangerous adventure."

Troops and police in Saigon prepared for new trouble as students and religious sects threatened demonstrations to protest the killing of three rioters Sunday in Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of the capital.

Government troops shot the three demonstrators and wounded 17 others to end a week of mob control in which youths took over the Qui Nhon radio station and seized the provincial chief. The rioters apparently staged the revolt to protest the continued presence in office of members of the former Ngo Dinh Diem regime.

U.S. Army officers in central Viet Nam were critical of the U.S. role in the ending of the rebellion of some 2,000 mountain tribesmen the United States had trained to fight the Viet Cong.

The officers said the program to utilize the tribesmen in the war against the Viet Cong may have been jeopardized by American promises that were made to the rebel montagnards — mountain folk — and then broken.

U.S. Special Forces officers, in charge of the montagnard program, said the tribesmen were assured that American advisers would not be pulled out of the chief rebel camp at Buon Sar Pa and that Vietnamese forces waiting to attack the rebels would not be allowed into the camp.

The 13 Americans at Buon Sar Pa were pulled out Monday and a few hours later the Vietnamese army occupied the camp.

Presidential Safety To Get Top Billing

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen today backed Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's proposal to give legislation on presidential security top priority when Congress reconvenes in January.

Dirksen said in an interview that quick action in the waning days of this session on a single bill to make it a federal crime to assassinate a president or vice president "might mean we would have to do our work all over again" next year.

A White House committee on presidential safety — set up Monday to consider the broad recommendations of the Warren Commission — plans to get started soon on drafting proposals for congressional action early in the new session.

In its report the commission said there were deficiencies in Secret Service preparedness for President John F. Kennedy's visit to Dallas. The commission called for "complete overhaul" of the service's advance detection practices and closer liaison with the FBI and other agencies.

Mansfield said that new security measures should be "one of the first orders of business" when Congress reconvenes.

Mansfield called Sunday for consideration by Congress of new security measures before adjournment.

But he told reporters Monday it is "perhaps too late" to act on any measures at this session and broad legislative action to strengthen governmental agencies should be put off until the White House committee reports.

Several bills to make it a federal crime to kill a president or vice president are pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which meets today.

The committee may act on another bill — introduced by Mansfield and Dirksen — to provide Secret Service protection for the Republican presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater, and for the Republican and Democratic vice-presidential candidates, Rep. William E. Miller and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

The legislation, if enacted, would extend such protection to all future candidates for those offices.

The Democratic presidential nominee, President Johnson, has the protection that goes with his office.

The Warren Commission called for a drastic overhaul of the system of guarding the president and said that legislation making the murder of a president or vice president a federal crime is needed to avoid the confusion it said surrounded the entry of various government agencies into the Dallas investigation.

Yarborough Is Visitor Here Today

Senator Ralph Yarborough, who is taking his campaign for reelection to the United States Senate into West Texas today, was to arrive at Snyder's Winston Field at noon today.

Robert R. Patterson, Snyder attorney who is in charge of the welcome committee here, said that Yarborough would arrive here from a campaign stop in Lamesa, and would immediately go to the Snyder High School cafeteria for lunch. It is possible that his schedule will be such that Yarborough will be introduced to the student body there, Patterson said.

Following the luncheon there, Yarborough was to go to the Democratic party's headquarters at 2419 Avenue S to officially open that office. Following his visit with supporters there, the Senator was to leave at 1:30 for Sweetwater for a campaign appearance there.

Sen. Yarborough will speak tonight at a dinner to be held at the Windsor Hotel in Abilene.

Coliseum Contract Is Signed

The formal signing of the contract for sale of the Starlite Theatre property to the county for use as a site for a coliseum was held this morning in the commissioners courtroom.

The contract, which was given tentative approval yesterday, calls for the 50.35 acres to be delivered to Scurry County on Dec. 31, at which time the purchase price of $115,000 will be paid. A clause in the contract calls for a $50,000 penalty in the event that either the buyer or the seller withdraw from the contract.

The contract also gives the county permission to enter the property to conduct such preliminary work as surveying and sub-surface ground testing.

N. R. Clements, operator of the theatre on the property, said that the threatre had bookings through the month of October, and that the Starlite would continue to operate through that time.

When the vote was taken this morning, Thayne Mebane, commissioner of Precinct 3, voted agains the purchase of the property. He explained later that while he felt the site to be the best available one, he felt that the county should control the entire property. Clements had withheld a strip approximately 745 feet long, 300 feet deep on the western end of the frontage on the East Highway.

J. D. Hinton, representing the architectural firm which will design the building, told the court that the firm would immediately start work on preliminary drawings to be submitted for the court's approval. The drawings will include facilities for all of the activities which the court has indicated for which they feel the coliseum will be used.

Ocean Won't Be Died For Goldwater

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP) — The water in the ocean off Convention Hall will not be dyed gold after all in honor of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

This city's Republican mayor, Thomas F. Shebell, turned thumbs down on the City Development Commission's plan to drop a capsule containing gold-colored dye in the water when Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, campaigns here Oct. 7.

Shebell said city officials agreed such a display would show partiality and be resented by some individuals. In recent years, dye capsules have been used to turn the ocean green on St. Patrick's Day and purple on Columbus Day.

Strike's End Hinges On Local Issues

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP) — Hopes for an early settlement of a nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers union against General Motors hinged today on resolving some 17,000 local at-the-plant demands.

With some progress reported at the bargaining table, negotiators for both sides indicated that settlement of the local problems was equally as important to ending the walkout as an agreement on a national contract.

The UAW struck the world's No. 1 automaker Friday when no settlement was forthcoming on the union's non-economic demands covering working conditions, union representation, production quotas and similar issues.

Production of GM's shiny new 1965 models has been halted by the walkout of about a quarter-million workers.

UAW members stayed on the job at the company's plants which supply parts and accessories to its chief competitors — Ford and Chrysler.

The union already has secured new national contracts from both Ford and Chrysler calling for higher pensions as an early retirement incentive, longer vacations, extra holidays and other improvements.

A similar economic package has been offered by GM, but the UAW insisted it wanted non-economic improvements as well.

UAW President Walter Reuther and GM Vice President Louis Seaton, who heads the company's bargaining team, told separate news conferences that progress was made in negotiation sessions Monday.

"We did resolve a couple of things and made some progress," said Seaton. But he said that they "were not earthshaking."

Reuther said he had found the atmosphere at the bargaining table encouraging.

Tropical Storm Said Developing

MIAMI (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today a disturbance crossing Cuba is developing into tropical storm strength.

The storm was named Hilda. At 11 a.m., Hilda's location was near latitude 21.8 north, longitude 84.5 west or over Cuba's western tip.

The storm was moving west at 12 miles per hour and packing top winds of 40 m.p.h. in squalls just north of its center.

Forecasters predicted Hilda would grow slowly stronger today and tonight while moving west-northwest at the same rate of speed.

Small craft were cautioned to stay in safe harbor around western Cuba and the northern portion of Yucatan, a Mexican province in Hilda's path.

LBJ Seeks Votes In New England

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, responding to wildly enthusiastic receptions in often-Republican sections of New England, has pictured himself as topping Barry Goldwater in support of GOP programs during the Eisenhower administration.

Johnson made this claim part of a concerted appeal for Republican votes during a 20-hour tour of the six New England states. This journey was capped early today by a visit to the Boston bedside of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who is recuperating from airplane crash injuries.

The President, who saw several hundred thousand cheering welcomers during the trip, returned to the White House at 4:22 a.m. with a cut hand, a hoarse throat and a good feeling about his receptions in the far northeastern corner of the nation.

Johnson's hand was cut by the fingernails of well-wishers who grabbed for it during the chief executive's repeated forays into surging, roaring crowds. The throat was hoarsened by five formal speeches and at least two dozen impromptu talks.

The New England tour definitely was in the political category, despite appearances at a couple of nonpolitical functions. This afternoon Johnson will hit the trail again — this time making an official flight to the Omaha headquarters of the Strategic Air Command with Manlio Brosio, the new secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson, in picturing himself as a better-than-Goldwater supporter of Republican programs during the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, referred directly to his GOP rival for the first time during the campaign.

Facing chanting supporters at the Burlington, Vt., airport, Johnson ad-libbed that when he was Senate Democratic leader, he "supported the Republican president and the Republican party and the Republican program more . . . than my opponent in this race."

Later, addressing editors of weekly newspapers at Manchester, N.H., the President made another off-the-cuff reference to Goldwater — this time by name.

Johnson said that Goldwater, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller "have all suggested at one point or another the wisdom and possibility of going north in Viet Nam."

Johnson said: "I want to be very cautious in dropping bombs that would involve our boys in Asia with 700 million Chinese. We're not going north and drop bombs at this stage of the game and we're not going south and run out and let the Communists take over."

The President went on to say that it's easier to start a war than stop one, adding, "I know some folks I think would start one mighty easy."

Parking Meters Discontinued By Council's Action

An experiment was launched Monday afternoon by the Snyder city council as they voted unanimously on second reading to repeal the parking meter ordinance.

The first step had been taken at the last meeting of the council, when at the request of a number of Snyder merchants, the repeal was passed on first reading. The council made it clear at that time, that the repeal of the ordinance was subject to review after a period of time when the effect of the action on the parking situation in Snyder could be assessed.

Rather than remove the meters, the council accepted the offer of KSNY Radio to provide hoods for the meters until such time as it was determined whether the meters would be put back in service.

The city council meeting was called for Monday afternoon, a week ahead of the regular meeting night, because a number of the councilmen and the city manager will be attending a Texas Municipal League meeting in Dallas on the regular meeting day.

In other action, the council appointed Gene L. Dulaney, Snyder attorney, as corporation court judge. Dunlaney was appointed to replace David D. Adams, who resigned as of Oct. 1. Adams is moving to San Antonio.

Adams' resignation was accepted "with regret" by the council, and a vote of gratitude and appreciation for his service was given by the council.

Also discussed by the council was the city's possible role in the establishment of a recreation department which could lend assistance to the Scurry County Boys' Club.

The council heard a report from Guy Sullivan and Jack Lawrence, city council members who had been appointed by the mayor to work with county and school officials on the problem.

Sullivan said that they had met with the other interested parties, and apparently the others were waiting to see what the city could do.

The total budget of the club has been set at $17,500 for the coming year. They expect to receive about $8,000 from the United Fund; $2,000 from Boys' Club sponsored activities such as the annual barbecue; $1,500 aid from the schools; and $3,000 from the county which is given in the form of building maintenance and utilities.

Although no formal vote was taken by the council, Sullivan was given the assurance that in his next meeting with the county and school officials, he could speak for the city in working out some plan in which the city could provide assistance to the Boys Club.

Rules County May Aid In Road Study

AUSTIN (AP)—A county may give money to the Highway Commission for studying and planning the county's road system, the attorney general held today.

This opinion emphasized, however, that a previous legal ruling by the attorney general still stands, holding that a county cannot spend county funds to help pay for a transportation plan or survey for public roads within the federal and state highway systems.

Farm Group May Buy Food Store

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, an affiliate of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is pushing a plan to have members of the big farm organization purchase a nationwide chain of food stores.

The chain mentioned in this connection is the Great Atlantic Pacific Tea Co. stores—A&P.

The purpose would be to strengthen farmers' bargaining power in the sale of their products. Acquisition of a chain would be in line with developments in farm marketing—that is, an increase in direct purchases of food from producer groups rather than from wholesale organizations.

Directors of the Ohio Federation have authorized work toward organizing the various state farm bureaus—all of which are autonomous—to raise funds for the purchase program.

The American Farm Bureau Federation is understood to be making a study of the proposal, which is expected to come before its annual convention in Philadelphia in December.

It was indicated that, in order to swing the deal, at least one-half of the more than 1.6 million farm bureau families in the country would have to contribute $400 million over a five-year period.

Douglas R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the Ohio Federation, told the Associated Press there is no intent, if the deal goes through, to raise retail food prices.

"We feel," he said, "that farmers' income could be increased through efficiencies of production and marketing which would come from the operation."

Miller Derides Demo's Policies

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — President Johnson and his running mate "seem to have a policy and a program for everyone" as they travel about the country, Rep. William E. Miller said Monday night, but "they don't seem to really have a principle anywhere."

In a round of speeches Monday, Miller accused the Democratic nominees of adjusting their views to suit the prevailing political winds in the locality they happen to be visiting.

Comparing GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and President Johnson, Miller said at an airport rally in Oklahoma City, that:

"I would rather have a man in this day and age who is elected president because of what he believes in because he has the courage of his convictions, rather than some man who changes his opinion every week in order to get votes wherever he happens to be."

Miller flew from Oklahoma City to St. Louis late Monday night. His schedule in St. Louis called for a speech, a television interview and a news conference before leaving for Hutchinson, Kan.

The GOP candidate addressed a full house of 700 Republicans in Oklahoma City and received a cheering, enthusiastic welcome.

Miller remained aloof from group singing of songs that contained sharply etched lyrics about topics that included Mrs. Johnson's financial holdings. Lyrics of other songs referred to the acquisition of the Johnson family fortune.

Although he has been critical of the President on the subject of the acquisition of the Johnson family wealth, Miller has not referred to Mrs. Johnson nor has he accused the President of wrongdoing.

Mishap Reported

The Snyder police department reported a minor traffic mishap at 10:35 a.m. today near the intersection of the Old Post Road and Avenue S.

The investigating officer said that a trailer being pulled by Gail Euell Pettitt, 602 Thirty-fourth Street, came loose from his 1964 Ford pickup and struck a parked 1960 Ford pickup owned by L. C. Brown of Sylvester. Damage to the parked truck was estimated at $100. The trailer received only minor damage, and there were no injuries.

Troy Mother, 6 Children Found Slain

TROY, Mich. (AP)—A mother and her six children were found hacked to death in their home in this Detroit suburb Tuesday. Police took the husband into custody.

Troy police said the victims were the wife and children of William G. Gravlin, 30, former Royal Oak city fireman. Gravlin was held for investigation.

An axe and a hammer were the weapons used to kill the seven, police said.

On each body was pinned a note saying, "I love you. I'm sorry, it couldn't be helped," police reported.

The bodies were found in a two-bedroom, frame home in a sparsely settled area.

Police barred access to the home as they began their investigation.

Police Chief Robert E. Richardson of Madison Heights identified the seven dead as members of Gravlin's family.

Exactly when the seven met death was not immediately determined.

Troy police said Gravlin called at 7:44 a.m. and reported there were bodies at his home.

Troy police notified Madison Heights police who picked up Gravlin on their way to the home. The home is between Troy and Madison heights.

Police said Gravlin was arrested two years go in the alleged stabbing of his cousin's wife.

Gravlin never was prosecuted under a charge of felonious assault brought in the alleged attack on his cousin's wife. He was sent to Pontiac State Hospital at the time for psychiatric treatment.

Two Hospital Patients Need Blood Donors

A number of Snyder citizens are planning to donate blood Wednesday morning at Cogdell Hospital to be used for the blood accounts of Charlie Ainsworth and of Mrs. Audrey Snodgrass.

Nine pints of blood were needed by Mr. Ainsworth who he recently underwent surgery, and Mrs. Snodgrass also needs a number of donors.

Benny Oliver, laboratory technician at the hospital, said that any type of blood, either Rh positive or negative, was acceptable for payment of blood accounts.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What would you think about a girl who told you she was sorry she couldn't go to a certain dance with you because she didn't have anything to wear, and then she showed up at the dance with another guy?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If she showed up without a dress, I'd believe her.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 18. He is 6 feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. He has good character and has worked after school and on week-ends ever since he was 16. He bought himself a car and pays the upkeep and insurance himself. He also buys his own clothes. His father and I have just started our own business and I work every day so we won't have to hire a cashier. I also like to keep my home nice, so I do all my heavy housework on the weekends in addition to the regular washing and ironing.

When I tell my son to scrub the bathroom and kitchen floors and to wash the windows and woodwork, he gets real ugly and says that's MY job, not HIS. We have had some very hot battles over this. Am I wrong to demand that a healthy 18-year-old son help me?

TIRED MOTHER

DEAR TIRED: Your son sounds like a good boy who would probably give you a hand with the heavy work if you asked him — not told him. Teenagers become hostile and negative when commands are fired at them. If you were to make him feel like a man whose help you needed rather than a little boy who had better take orders from his mother, or else, he'd probably sail right through the chores without a gripe.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My wife reads your column every day and I read it when she makes me. We have been having an argument about something I hope you can settle for us. How should a woman wear her wedding rings? My wife puts on her diamond engagement ring first, and her wedding band right next to it. I say she is wearing them backwards — that her diamond goes on her finger AFTER her wedding band. I have even pointed out that I see 99 out of 100 women wearing their rings that way. But my wife says THEY are wearing theirs backwards, and she knows she is right because a woman gets her diamond first and it should be put on first, before the wedding ring. Please put your reply in the paper.

BIG JOHN

DEAR JOHN: Even though the diamond is usually presented to the girl first, the wedding ring should be placed on the finger first. Diamonds may be a girl's best friend — but that simple little round ring is placed nearer the heart.

Young Republicans Hold Regular Meet

The Snyder Young Republicans Club met Monday evening at the Republican headquarters for their regular meeting.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Dick Spalding from Abilene, candidate for State Representative, place one.

The Young Republicans will meet again Oct. 5 at 8 p.m. at the Republican headquarters, 1919 Twenty-fifth Street, and all interested young people are invited to attend.

Nurses Party Ends In Shooting

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Police said one student nurse shot another at a nurses lawn party, then held a revolver at the wounded friend's head more than four hours while officers waited for her to give herself up Monday night.

Rosemarie Valdez, 22, of Grand Junction, Colo., finally surrendered on condition that she be allowed to accompany her friend, Diane Cafarelli, 21, of Kearns, Utah, into surgery. Miss Cafarelli, shot in the hip, was reported in satisfactory condition.

Miss Valdez had flunked out of nurses training at St. Benedict's Hospital despite Miss Cafarelli's help.

Sister Estelle, hospital administrator, said, "The student nurses were having a party on the lawn. Rosemarie came out to the lawn and pulled a gun and shot. Nobody knows why Rosemarie did it."

Miss Valdez then carried her friend to a picnic table where she kept police at bay. A psychiatrist and the hospital chaplain talked to her from 7:45 to 11 p.m.

She was placed under heavy sedation after being taken into custody. Darrell Renstrom, assistant county attorney, said he would file a mental illness warrant.

Battered Suitcase Holds Valuable Gems

NEW LONDON, Conn (AP) — An unidentified woman ran over a battered suitcase lying on the highway Sunday night and it clung to the bottom of her car.

She drove into a service station and asked the attendant to remove it. He did and she left without looking to see what was inside.

The attendant, Robert Trombridge, didn't look either until he heard Monday night that naval Lt. Cmdr. Walter Miner of New London had lost such a suitcase.

Trombridge turned over the suitcase to Miner and got a reward.

The suitcase contained an estimated $2,025 in jewelry.

Sen. Humphrey Invades Southland

By HARRY KELLY

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey makes his deepest penetration into the old Confederacy today with the charge that Barry Goldwater's followers are using conservatism to mask "a radical assault upon the very fabric of the American community."

Goldwater, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee said, speaks the language of a nihilist. "And to all men dedicated to the American tradition — whether liberal or conservative — nihilism is the politics of catastrophe."

Humphrey, in his remarks prepared for the University of Georgia, praised the school and extolled Georgia as "that enlightened state which is leading the South toward a new era, both in economic development and in race relations."

Humphrey, a Minnesota liberal who for years has been in the front ranks of those pressing civil rights legislation, has eased a little farther into the South on each campaign sortie.

He has gone from Texas into Arkansas and then into Memphis Tenn., last Saturday. Humphrey and his aides have expressed pleasure at his receptions so far.

The Minnesotan's path today included farm areas in southern Georgia, territory that some observers describe as the state's firmest Goldwater country.

In this atmosphere, the daily Tifton Gazette urged its readers in a front-page editorial Monday to show good manners during Humphrey's visit today.

Indian Villagers Stage Protests

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — About 2,000 ragged villagers streamed into New Delhi today and staged a screaming protest against government failure to cope with floods that have ravaged vast regions of north India.

Grizzled old men with canes, women carrying babies, children running to keep up, they swarmed through the capital's main business district, clogging traffic and sweeping aside pedestrians.

The monsoon floods have left six million people homeless and covered hundreds of thousands of acres of badly needed crops.

Oil Production Up

TULSA, Okla. (AP)— Domestic oil production this year is up about 1 per cent over the first three quarters of 1964 and averaging 7,642,000 barrels a day, the Oil & Gas Journal said today.

Production last week averaged 7,581,120 barrels a day, up 12,710 from the previous week.

Oklahoma output of 545,900 barrels a day was up 12,660. Most states showed little change.

Figures for other states and the previous week's output, respectively, included Louisiana 1,527,550 and 1,527,550, New Mexico 307,100 and 307,100, and Texas 2,628,350 and 2,628,350.

Goldwater Eyes Nixon For GOP Secretary Of State

By WALTER R. MEARS

ABOARD GOLDWATER TRAIN (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, thinking about Richard M. Nixon as a possible secretary of state if he wins the White House, headed his campaign down the whistlestop track today.

The Republican presidential nominee rolled into Ohio aboard a 17-car campaign special to make at Marietta the first of 35 speeches scheduled on his five-day, three-state swing after saying the GOP ticket probably will remain the underdog through the whole campaign.

He keynoted it with a demand that President Johnson declare war on lawlessness all across the nation.

"Surely it is time for the White House to break its silence on the matter of local law enforcement and take every step possible to encourage a meaningful crackdown on lawlessness and violence," he said in remarks prepared for delivery at Marietta.

Goldwater called for action on the FBI's report on "the riots that recently shocked the nation" and said steps taken by President Johnson were insufficient.

Johnson ordered the FBI to make riot-training available to all local police departments and urged a step-up in National Guard riot training.

As he prepared for his fourth week of campaigning, Goldwater said he already has former Vice President Nixon in mind as the chief foreign affairs official of a new Republican administration.

Nixon, who proclaimed himself neutral in the pre-convention competition for the presidential nomination, plans to campaign for Goldwater next month.

Paul F. Wagner, the Arizona senator's press secretary, said Goldwater told four reporters in a private interview Monday he was "thinking about appointing Nixon." Nixon was not available for comment.

Goldwater promised at a Republican leaders' meeting last month in Hershey, Pa., that he would consult former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Nixon and "other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs" before he appointed anyone to the office of secretary of state, secretary of defense or other critical national security posts."

Wagner said he arranged the special interview for the four with Goldwater, who has not held a formal news conference since the start of his active campaign.

Goldwater will be doing most of his campaigning this week from the rear platform of his campaign special. Mounted on it is a heart with the legend "In your heart you know he's right."

"I know we are still the underdogs," Goldwater declared before he pulled out of Washington Monday night. "We'll probably be the underdogs right up to Election Day, but the [illegible] is getting and moving well right now."

Goldwater told a rain-soaked sendoff rally at Union Station: "Our campaign is turned and the turn is up."

He said President Johnson is "burning up taxpayers' money a mile a minute campaigning all over the country."

In Cincinnati tonight, the GOP nominee will deliver a nationally televised campaign address. On the way, he will take his message to voters in Marietta, Athens, Chillicothe and Blanchester.

Maddox Cited For Contempt

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A contempt proceeding brought against Lester Maddox after he refused to serve Negroes at a newly opened cafeteria was called a mistake by the Atlanta segregationist.

Maddox, enjoined from operating a segregated restaurant, opened a cafeteria in the same building Saturday. He barred four Negroes from the cafeteria Monday, the same Negroes he refused to serve at the Pickrick Restaurant.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper signed an order a few hours after the incident, requiring Maddox to appear Oct. 2 and show cause why he should not be held in contempt.

"I think it is a mistake on the part of civil rights agitators and their attorneys," Maddox said of the contempt proceedings.

"The Lester Maddox Cafeteria is not an agent of Pickrick, Inc.," Maddox said. "The cafeteria has signs saying we do not offer service to interstate travelers. We removed Pickrick signs from the highway.

'I don't see any connection between the Lester Maddox Cafeteria and Pickrick, Inc., which was involved in the court decision.

"We just don't serve integrationists, whether they are black, yellow or white."

In the case of the Pickrick restaurant, Maddox, his heirs or successors were enjoined by a federal court from discriminating against Negroes. Maddox closed the Pickrick rather than integrate.

Maddox met the four Negroes at the door Monday and shoved them back toward the sidewalk.

"We're not going to integrate," he said. "They ought to know that by now."

Abandoned Wells Said Source Of Water Pollution

By MAX B. SKELTON

DALLAS (AP)—A member of the Texas Railroad Commission said today hundreds of abandoned oil wells are polluting fresh water by leaking salt water.

Ben Ramsey, chairman of the state's oil and gas regulatory body, said the pollution of fresh water, both surface and subsurface, is one of the commission's most serious problems.

Ramsey told the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association most of the pollution problems are a direct result of old practices dating back to the days when there was little or no concern over disposal of salt water encountered with the production of oil.

"There are hundreds of old abandoned wells that were never plugged and there are hundreds that are improperly plugged," he said. "Many of these wells have lost their identity since the operators have long since moved away or died. Many of the wells are leaking salt water, contaminating whole areas of soil and water."

Ramsey said the Abilene area alone has about 150 unplugged or improperly plugged wells leaking salt water.

"The cost of plugging these wells would be approximately $225,000," he said. Harry Dippel of Houston agreed and said there is need for a court ruling on whether the Railroad Commission or the Texas Pollution Control Board holds authority over such wells.

Dippel, associate general counsel for Continental Oil Co. and chairman of the legal subcommittee of the association's water conservation committee, said a court hearing on the jurisdictional dispute is set for early November.

A resolution approved Monday by the executive committee of the trade association, which represents all segments of the Texas petroleum industry, pledged continued cooperation with water conservation programs of government and industrial agencies.

Another resolution asked the 1965 Texas Legislature to approve a forced pooling bill under which the Railroad Commission could require all interests in an oil or gas drilling tract to operate the tract as a single unit. An objective is to prevent the drilling of unnecessary wells on tracts as small as a town lot.

William Abington of Dallas, the association's general counsel, said oilmen will have to act quickly if they expect the new legislature to pass such a bill.

Abington said congressional and legislative redistricting will be top priority items before the state lawmakers and any industry problems will have to be disposed of early in the session.

The Texas industry moved a step closer to a united front on the pooling question Monday when the steering committee of a statewide Committee for Equitable Development of Texas Oil and Gas Resources recommended support of a bill approved two weeks ago by the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

The statewide committee's executive committee will meet Oct. 20 in Houston to act on the recommendation.

Many independents objected to a pooling bill the statewide committee submitted to the 1963 Legislature. That bill was approved by a House committee but there was no further action.

James Sewell, Dallas independent and president of the association, said today many in the industry have allowed feelings of animosity to cloud economic thinking.

"We are in danger of letting a few narrow interests distort concepts of the whole industry which may be held by the public and its elected officials," Sewell said.

"As an industry we have allowed wedges of dissent on a few questions to distract us from our proper responsibilities to each other in many other areas. We should guard against letting one controversy that divides us spill over into matters on which we have a common interest."

Second Siamese Twin Dies Monday

CHICAGO (AP) — The second Jaquet Siamese twin died Monday night of pneumonia. He was 9 days old.

Ronald Jaquet's condition had weakened since Sunday when he had been given a 50-50 chance of survival He had been on the critical list since Wednesday.

His brother, Donald, died Wednesday. He was considered the weaker twin because of a congenital heart defect and the lack of a large intestine.

The twins were born Sept. 19 in suburban Evanston hospital to Carol Jaquet, 21, of suburban Norridge. They were rushed Children's Memorial the following day, where they were separated at the abdomen in a 3½-hour operation.

Mrs. Jaquet's husband, Richard, 26, is a truck driver.

Children Die In Blast

ATHOL, Mass. (AP) — Three children — two girls and a brother — perished Monday night when a space heater exploded in the living room of their two-family home.

Fire authorities said the children might have been saved if the mother had summoned help immediately instead of trying to battle the flames herself.

Another child, 19-month-old Alan Spooner, was in critical condition at Memorial Hospital with extensive burns.

The mother, Kathleen Spooner, 27, and the seven members of the Arthur Powell family which occupied the other half of the three-story frame structure were not hurt seriously.

The victims were Virginia Spooner, 7, her sister, Patricia, 2, and her brother, Peter, 4.

Their father, Roger, a sailor, was reported serving aboard a submarine en route to England.

Barotseland, which has 313,000 people and 44,920 square miles, is about half the size of Idaho.

Phils Involved In Greatest Collapse

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST LOUIS (AP)—The greatest collapse in the history of baseball.

This is the only way to describe the amazing slide of the Philadelphia Phillies. Only a week ago the Phils were riding high, leading the National League by 6½ games.

Today, following their eighth straight loss, a 5-1 defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals, the Phils were in third place. They were perilously close to elimination in the most incredible finish of any National League pennant race.

The Cardinals, all but counted out last week, find themselves just one game behind the league-leading Cincinnati Reds, who only a few days ago would have been content to finish second.

This crazy-quilted pennant race has the principals so confused they simply have given up trying to figure it out.

Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane threw up his hands when he was asked Monday night what his team's victory over the floundering Phillies meant to the Cards.

"I've given up trying to figure it out," he said resignedly. "This thing is so tight, I just don't dare give an opinion, let alone make prediction. Who knows what's going to happen tomorrow?

"All I know is, we've got to keep winning. We can't afford to lose another game. We have five games left to play, two with Philadelphia and three with New York. If we lose one, we're in trouble. If we lose two, we're out of it."

The Phillies have reached the point of almost no return. Two down in the loss column with only four games left to play — two in Cincinnati following two more here. They must win all to stand a chance.

This would constitute a near miracle, judging from the Phillies' ragged performance Monday night. They were limited to five hits by Bob Gibson and Barney Schultz, and contributed two glaring errors in the field to boot.

Gene Mauch, the Phillies' distraught manager, refused to give up. Despite the ordeal, he obviously was undergoing, he remained calm.

"We've won four in a row before," he said. "We can do it again."

"Sure, we've lost eight in a row, but we haven't quit. You can't blame this defeat on pressure.

"We didn't beat ourselves. Gibson simply was too much for us. He pitched a strong game."

On paper, the Cards figure to face the softest opposition of the three contenders, closing the season with three games against the last-place New York Mets.

"I don't look at it that way," said Keane. "At this stage of the race, you mustn't take any club lightly. If anything, you have to get yourself up more for a second - division club. They take great delight in knocking off the front guy."

HOW IT FEELS TO BE IN FIRST PLACE—The joy of being in first place in the National League is shown by actions of members of the Cincinnati Reds in the dugout as they won the first game from the New York Mets, 4-1, and moved ahead of the Philadelphia Phillies. Reds starting pitcher Jim O'Toole (31) right, watches as Sam Ellis, who relieved him in the ninth inning, retires the Mets in New York's Shea Stadium and save the game for him. (AP Wirephoto)

Packers Play It Cozy In Victory

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Rival coaches George Wilson and Vince Lombardi both agreed on one thing — Green Bay played a little too conservatively in the second half in the Packers' 14-10 victory over the Detroit Lions Monday night.

"We should have scored more," Lombardi said. "Sure, we missed a scoring chance when Ron Kramer missed a pass on their five. And Paul Hornung missed two field goals in the first half.

"But we still should have gone out and tried to add to our total."

Wilson, who saw his team stage an 80-yard drive for its only touchdown with less than four minutes remaining, said:

"You can't play it cozy in this game. You've got to keep pounding away at the other team like Baltimore did (in beating Chicago 52-0 Sunday). You can't change your offensive plan because you think you've got a safe lead."

While Lombardi was obviously pleased by the victory "in one of the best defensive battles of the season," he wasn't talking too much about the injury to quarterback Bart Starr.

"He aggravated an old shoulder separation," Lombardi explained. "But it's his left shoulder. That's not so bad."

Though he did not use his left arm and winced when given a shot to kill the pain, Starr said he "didn't want to talk 'about' the injury.

"It's fine," he told reporters.

The Packers got all of their points in the second quarter as Hornung scored on a two-yard dive play to cap a 47-yard drive and Starr himself ended a 58-yard drive with a five-yard touchdown run with 27 seconds remaining.

Wayne Walker's 45-yard field goal following Hornung's touchdown was all the record crowd of 59,203 had to shout about until the Lions' late drive.

Earl Morrall spearheaded the scoring drive and combined with Pat Studstill for the 15-yard touchdown pass.

Quarterback Club Session Set Tonight

The Snyder Quarterback Club will hold its regular weekly session at 7:30 tonight in the high school cafeteria.

A highlight of the session will be the showing of the film on last Friday night's Tiger victory over the Big Spring Steers in Big Spring.

The Quarterback Club this year limits attendance to "card-carrying" members. However, membership in the organization is still open. Fred Kizer, president, of the club, said he would be happy to deliver membership cards to any applicants. He may be reached by telephone at either HI 3-5272 or HI 3-3357. The membership fee is $5 per year.

Kizer said he hoped at least 75 more members would join this year to help the club set a new record.

Also on the program tonight will be reports from coaches of various teams in the school system, along with a scouting report on the Kermit Yellow Jackets, this weeks foe of the Tigers.

Butler Faces Mrs. Hunter

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Jeanie Butler, the Harlingen teenager, faced Mrs. D. L. Hunter of Dallas in the first round of match play in the Texas Women's Amateur Golf Tournament today.

Miss Butler was medalist with a 2-under-par 72 in qualifying Monday. She took four strokes less than Mrs. John Rathmell of Houston, the champion in 1961 and 1962.

Mrs. Hunter qualified with an 85.

Mrs. Rathmell will meet Kathy Ahern, Dallas teen-ager who also posted an 85.

Mrs. Jedd Roe of San Antonio shot a hole in one on the 130-yard No. 3 but wound up with an 84. Mrs. Roe met Mrs. George Soash of Lubbock, who qualified with an 88.

Longhorns Back On Top

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ara Parseghian doesn't believe in marking time. It took him only 60 minutes to snap Notre Dame out of a five-year coma.

The Irish haven't had a winning football season since 1958 — they were 2-7 last year — but they're off to a flying start under new coach Parseghian and it shows up in the national rankings.

Note Dame rode last Saturday's 31-7 romp over favored Wisconsin into ninth place among major-college elevens in The Associated Press' first regular-season poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Meanwhile, Texas, given lukewarm support in pre-season balloting despite its 1963 national championship, reclaimed the top spot. The Longhorns blanked Texas Tech 23-0 and climbed from fourth to first place.

Both Mississippi and Oklahoma, Nos. 1 and 2 in the pre-season poll, were ambushed and dumped from the top ten. Kentucky surprised Ole Miss 27-21 and Southern California, one of Notre Dame's 1963 victims, took over the runner-up spot by trouncing the Sooners 40-14.

The Trojans actually outdrew Texas 17-1 in first-place ballots but the Longhorns came out on top by virtue of twice as many runner-up votes. Texas amassed 395 points to 357 for USC and 347 for third-place Illinois.

The Illini, hard-pressed before defeating California 20-14 in their opener, and fifth-ranked Ohio State, 27-8 victory over Southern Methodist in its debut, were the only teams to hold their original positions. Alabama jumped from sixth to fourth, Navy from 10th to sixth and Auburn from eighth to seventh.

The Top Ten football teams with first place votes and records in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	Texas (14) 2-0-0	395
2.	Southern Calif. (17) 2-0-0	357
3.	Illinois (7) 1-0-0	347
4.	Alabama (4) 2-0-0	316
5.	Ohio State (2) 1-0-0	285
6.	Navy (1) 2-0-0	210
7.	Auburn (2) 2-0-0	186
8.	Michigan 1-0-0	135
9.	Notre Dame 1-0-0	103
10.	Washington (1) 1-1-0	73

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arkansas, Army, California, Duke, Florida, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Kentucky (1), Louisiana State, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Northwestern, Oklahoma, Oregon, Syracuse, UCLA.

Jim Fauver Is Busiest SWC Back

DALLAS (AP) — Jim Fauver of Texas Christian continues to be the busiest and most productive football player in the Southwest Conference.

He leads in ball carrying with 213 yards on 38 runs for a 5.6 average and his operation on the ground gives him the total offense leadership. Mike Marshall of Baylor, who runs and passes both, is just two yards back with 211 on 35 plays. Marshall gained 240 yards passing but lost 29 rushing.

Fauver's name also will be found in punting, where he's third with a 38.3 average on 13 boots.

Jim Lindsey of Arkansas is second in rushing with 165 yards and Ernie Koy of Texas is third with 123.

Dan McIlhaney of Texas A&M has moved into the passing lead with 14 completions in 31 tries for 169 yards. Marshall is second with 13 connections in 28 attempts for 240.

Ken Hodge of Baylor leads the pass receivers with seven snares for 127 yards. Donny Anderson of Texas Tech is second with seven for 118.

District 3-AAA Has Record Of 5 Wins, 10 Losses

District 3-AAA continues to show up poorly in non-district competition. Members of Snyder's district have won only 5 games while losing 15 and tying 2.

Last week district members managed only 2 victories in 7 tries against some of the toughest opposition available. The only wins were by Snyder over Big Spring and Sweetwater over Coleman.

Going down to defeat were Lamesa to Seminole 14-0; Brownfield to Andrews 29-6; Littlefield to Hereford 21-0; Lakeview to Brownwood 62-6; and Levelland to Denver City 13-0. This last game was reported as being a victory for Levelland, which would have helped the prestige of the district if it had been.

Only six games are on tap for district 3-AAA teams this week as Lake View has an open date. There is a possibility that district members might win as many as they lose, and they may even do better than that. Several of the contests are near toss-ups.

Sweetwater has a tough one as the Mustangs play host to the Graham Steers of District 4-AAA. A win for Sweetwater would make District 3-AAA look a little better, and it would also probably put the Mustangs high in the state rankings.

In other contests involving district members Lamesa goes to Monahans, Levelland plays Hereford, Brownfield gets Seminole, Littlefield travels to Denver City and Snyder will be in Kermit to take on the powerful Yellowjackets who are ndefeated at this point.

Although District 3-AAA teams have not been too impressive so far, you cannot tell it by looking at individual scorers. No less than 26 boys from district teams have broken into the scoring column. Most of these boys have scored six points or less. Three boys are tied for the lead with 18 points. They are Danny Foust of Sweetwater, C. L. Avants of Lake View and Leslie Brown of Snyder.

Class A Has Only Shakeup In Ratings

DALLAS (AP(—Texas schoolboy football is pretty steady everywhere except Class A. There things happen and happen. The ratings go up and down like a windowshade.

While there was only one change in Classes AAAA, AAA and AA this week with Garland, Dumas and Phillips holding the No. 1 respectively, Class A was shot half in two.

Hull-Daisetta stayed No. 1 but four of the 10 teams in the Dallas News ratings last week took the count—White Oak, Ingleside, Albany and Waller. Big Lake, Clifton, Three Rivers and Hallsville replaced them.

Houston Lee fell out of Class AAAA and Waco Richfield moved in. There were no other casualties in the top three classes.

The rankings:

Class AAAA—1, Garland; 2, Spring Branch; 3, Amarillo Tascosa; 4, Galena Park; 5, Victoria; 6, Dallas Hillcrest; 7, Pasadena; 8, Tyler; 9, Waco Richfield; 10 Port Neches.

Class AAA—1, Dumas; 2, McKinney; 3, Vidor; 4, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo; 5, Clear Creek; 6, Brownwood; 7, Andrews; 8, Palestine; 9, Kermit; 10, Austin Lanier.

Class AA—1, Phillips; 2, Ballinger; 3, Rockwall; 4, Hondo; 5, Crane; 6, Denver City; 7, West; 8, Iowa Park; 9, Paul Pewitt and Palacios (tied); 10, Gladewater and Rusk (tied).

Colts Fall To Kittens

In Pee Wee football activity Monday the Kittens defeated the Colts by a score of 32-0.

Chalking up the points for the Kittens were Jackie Murray who scored 14; Jay Hardin, 12, and Butch Buchanan, 6. Buchanan caught four passes during the game.

The coaches selected Randy Wright as the outstanding offensive player for the Colts, and selected Mike Davis, Ralph Troxel and Larry Thompson as the defensive stand-outs.

In Pee Wee action this afternoon at 4:45, the Mustangs, who have a 2-0 record will face the Lions whose season record is 1-1.

Jess Neely is in his 25th season as Rice football coach. He's dean of the Southwest Conference coaches.

Spotlight On Quarterbacks

By The Associated Press

Quarterbacks were causing the most talk in the Southwest Conference as the teams started preparations for two conference games and three intersectional tests.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas, whose Longhorns face Army at Austin Saturday night, had the most concern—his starting quarterback, Jim Hudson, will be out of action for two or three weeks.

Hudson injured his knee against Texas Tech and this left the burden on Marvin Kristynik, a spirited young man noted for his leadership more than talent.

And Texas had just been voted No. 1 team in the nation. But anyway the Longhorns won't become over-confident in view of the quarterback situation.

At Rice, where the Owls were beaten 3-0 by Louisiana State, Coach Jess Neely indicated he may have to go with a redshirt and a sophomore.

"I just don't see how we can," he replied when asked if he planned to stay with Walter McReynolds, his senior quarterback.

Coach Hayden Fry at Southern Methodist had his starting quarterback, Danny Thomas, hobbling on an injured knee. But the situation wasn't too dark—Donnie Oefinger, a sophomore, had stepped in and delivered very well. Southern Methodist plays Arlington State this week.

Texas Christian Coach Abe Martin was happy over his quarterback situation—he had his No. 2 man Kent Nix, the passer, back in action. Nix was hurt against Kansas and didn't play last week against Florida State.

Arkansas, which plays Texas Christian at Fort Worth Saturday, had both of its quarterbacks in shape but Coach Frank Broyles hadn't chosen between Bill Gray and Fred Marshall for the starting assignment.

Baylor Coach John Bridgers thought his sophomore quarterbacks, Mike Marshall and Terry Southall, did all right against Washington but his defense certainly didn't. He had the Bears working on both protection for the passer and overall defense as he thought about the five touchdowns Washington scored on him Saturday.

The Bears meet Oregon State at Waco Saturday and Bridgers said the Beavers were just as big and fast and tough and experienced as Washington.

Texas Tech, which plays Texas A&M at College Station in a conference game Saturday, had a couple on the injury list and one of them, guard Ronnie Pack, was a doubtful starter against A&M. Tackle Bill Adams, recovering from knee injury, is expected to be ready.

Texas A&M had a couple of players back for full-time service game last week because of injuries. They were safety man Jim Willenborg and halfback Ronnie Linsey.

Year's 3rd Quarter Closes With Very Few Sour Notes

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Only a few sour notes mar the performance as the third quarter of the business year nears its finale.

The summer was better than usual on many counts. But even the most optimistic forecaster has to take note of some disturbing trends in the final weeks.

—The auto industry had better than usual sales — but also a labor pact that some fear might spread inflationary fires to other sectors of the economy. And the final days of the quarter were marred by walkouts at General Motors plants and a contract impasse.

—Housing starts in August fell 5 per cent below a year ago, while contracts for future residential building trailed the 1963 August by 11 per cent. For al types of construction, contracts were running 7 per cent behind a year ago.

—Business failures rose 7 per cent in August from July, an unseasonal trend.

—Machine tool orders, often a barometer, were the lowest since last November, off 15 per cent from July. But makers say the August trend was largely seasonal.

—New orders for durable goods dropped 9 per cent last month from their July record high.

—And there are 3,750 fewer retail stores today than a year ago, although that still leaves 1,853,530 in which Americans can shop.

But the good performance — rising personal incomes and consumer spending, record industrial output, booming steel production and orders adequate supply of loanable funds — outweighs the others in the view of most businessmen.

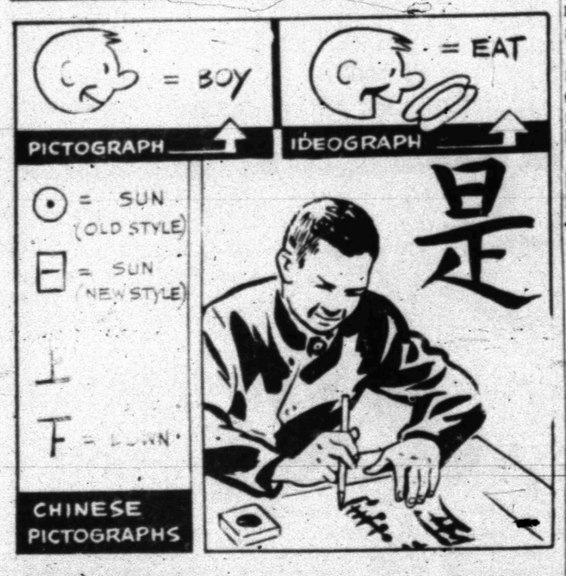

On this basis a majority of the Philadelphia meeting of the National Association of Business Economists agreed in a poll that the total national output of goods and services should average $652 billion in 1965, a gain of 4 per cent over the record pace this Gross National Product is setting this year.

And they forecast a 3 per cent rise in industrial production, and a 5 per cent increase in consumer spending.

But the economists do some hedging on these bets. They think the rate of advance in the GNP will be slower in late 1965 than in the early months. They see stability in industrial output after the middle of 1965. And they feel that the higher spending of consumers next year will be in face of a 1 to 2 per cent climb in consumer prices.

Backing up the economists are a generally bullish, if nervous stock market and the increasing number of corporations announcing expansion plans.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHINESE ALPHABET

QUESTION: How many letters are there in the Chinese alphabet?

* * *

ANSWER: Our alphabet is composed of 26 letters or signs, which, in different combinations, give us the sounds of the words of our language. But Chinese writing does not use an alphabet like this. It comes from an earlier system of writing things down, the pictograph, in which the symbols used come from crude pictures of the thing represented rather than the sound of a word. Our artist has drawn such a pictograph in the upper left. It would carry the idea "boy" to a Frenchman or Spaniard even if they didn't know what the English word "boy" meant. Combining the boy symbol with a hot dog gives an "ideograph" for "eat." Chinese writing is based on such pictographs and ideographs. Each character stands for a single word. We show some Chinese pictographs such as the dot with a circle, which looks something like the sun. For "up" there is a base stroke across, a line going up, and the opposite for down. Since each word has its own separate character, you would have to know about 3500 characters to read a simple Chinese novel. This makes it difficult even for Chinese people to read or write. Since 1917, however, efforts have been made to simplify and modernize Chinese writing. 9-29

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Take the simple shape of the boy's head and see if you can do an ideograph giving some other idea besides that of eating.

More than 2,000 firefighters remained on the lines today, mopping up mile-high trouble spots in remote back country.

Flood-control officials fear a massive ooze of mud will develop if the denuded hills are not supplied with ground cover before it rains.

The U.S. Forest Service said it hoped to completely contain the blaze by 10 a.m. Wednesday. Full control was predicted for 6 p.m., Thursday.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., told Santa Barbara County supervisors Monday he will seek $860,000 in emergency funds to build 10 debris basins in the burned area.

Eleven of the 46 men injured in the blaze still were hospitalized with burns, sprains or cuts. One fireman was killed and 78 homes burned in Santa Barbara and suburban Montecito.

Rains Slow Farming Activities

AUSTIN (AP) — Welcome rains held outdoor farming activity to a virtual standstill last week and Texas moisture supplies rose to the best level since June 1961, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Precipitation ranged from very light showers in the northern Panhandle to gully washers in the blacklands and Edwards Plateau, the department said Monday in its weekly crop survey.

"These rains materially boosted fall sown small grain and winter pasture prospects, and may improve yields of late dryland sorghum, but were too late to benefit cotton," the report stated.

Cotton harvest is at the one-third mark, slightly behind last year's pace. Sorghum combining at 61 per cent was practically even with the 1963 rate. About 90 per cent of Texas corn is harvested, compared with 93 per cent at this time last year.

Wheat planting passed the one-fourth mark but is considerably behind last year.

Range feed prospects "were greatly enhanced by additional moisture' and condition of livestock is improving, the department said.

Scattered showers in the High Plains scarcely interrupted vegetable harvest, with carrots, green peppers, tomatoes and other crops moving to market.

Rain and cooler temperatures in South Texas benefitted peppers, tomatoes and other fall crops.

AGREES WITH REPORT — Robert M. Oswald, 30, brother of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, said he is in agreement with the Warren Commission report. Oswald is sales manager for a brick company in Wichita Falls, Texas. (AP Wirephoto)

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Out of the hundreds of thousands of tourists who come here each year, a big percentage go to the bullfights and of course everyone wants to know the rules for Watching a Bullfight.

As every schoolboy (and possibly a few Congressmen) knows there are rules for the bullfighters. For instance, it is not considered ethical to shoot the bull if a matador finds himself in trouble.

This might come in handy on occasions but in all countries the law suffers from what we psychiatrists call a "Napoleon Complex." The law is the law, although no one seems to know why. And according to bullfight law the fighter must stab his opponent (referred to hereafter as the party of the last part) in a certain spot with a sharp sword.

Otherwise, he can be fined, suspended, snubbed by his colleagues or irate fans may even let the air out of his automobile tires.

There are however, a number of simple rules for spectators and unfortunately no one has bothered to publish them before.

For example, it is considered unnecessary to shout encouragement to the bull. He is told before entering the ring what he is there for so there is no point in complicating things.

All cheering should be directed toward the matador. It IS permissible to applaud the bull after he is dead, provided he put up a decent scrap.

Spectators should not throw anything heavier than seat cushions at matadors whose performances meet with disapproval. In the old days they used to throw beer bottles back and forth. In order to discourage this practice, authorities decreed that drinks could be sold in paper cups only and no one is permitted to bring a brick weighing more than a few ounces into the ring.

Unfortunately, there is no referee on the field for spectators to bombard with objects. Possibly some of the early authorities saw a U.S. baseball game when the umpires were bottled off the field so at bullfights the Law sits high in the stands. Out of range.

By following the simple practices listed below spectators can enjoy the fight more and at least not go unnoticed.

1. Tourists should sit in groups so they can ask each other questions. As a suggestion, you can ask loudly things like, "Is that BLOOD on the bull?" or "Does the U.S. Embassy know what goes on here?" or "How do they figure out who wins these fights?" Things like that.

2. Stand up and cheer loudly when the matador isn't doing too well and when the rest of the stands are silent. This often distracts from his lamentable performance.

3. Leap in the lap of an elderly lady next to you and shout, "Atta boy, Jose!" when some fellow named Pedro is fighting. If you do this at the moment he is ready for the kill, the bull often will turn his head to see who didn't read the program, creating a ludicrous situation.

4. As soon as the matador begins making what looks like will be a good pass, leap up and wave your arms so everyone sitting behind you can guess what happened.

And be sure to write me a letter all about it. I'd like to know how you make out.

Near-Naked Waitresses Said Rude

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "The fewer clothes a cocktail waitress wears, the more discourteous she becomes," says the Emerie - Fahey courtesy curve, a new natural law that may someday take its place alongside Parkinson's law and the law of gravity.

"Courtesy increases the lower one looks on the employment scale."

These are a few conclusions of the 10 men and women who prowled Las Vegas hot is and casinos, grinning at cocktail waitresses, ordering food they didn't want, feigning ignorance at blackjack tables and asking change girls to help find lost nickels.

The 10 are members of Creative Research Associates, a fledgling organization tapped by the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce to find out what percentage of the 15,000 tourist industry employes are courteous.

Research directors Al Emerie, 37, and Robert Fahey, 35, said only 100 of 2,000 employes tested passed the minimum requirement for courtesy. That's 5 per cent.

The group identified no persons, hotels or casinos.

"Good waitresses," says Fahey, "take more pride in their ability to do the job itself than do cocktail waitresses.' He and Emerie agreed that the cocktail waitress ranks lowest in the courtesy scale.

"The nicest cocktail girls are those who wear dresses as uniforms; the worst are those who are almost naked," says Fahey, a social psychologist by background.

"If a man wants gracious treatment from a cocktail waitress, he should place his order soberly, without looking at her or smiling," says Emerie, a motivational researcher.

"If you smile at them they react as if you were making a pass at them," he says.

The researchers found only one change girl who woul help them find a lost nickel, "a high percentage" of rude dealers who were upset by having a "stupid tourist" at their tables, and abandoned one place after finding only one person who could pass the courtesy test — the barboy.

Emerie and Fahey caution that their findings are general, with plenty of exceptions in every category.

Some Southern California cows get a mixture of orange and beet pulp, copra meal, molasses and grains.

REALLY PRETTY

Dear Cousin,

You haven't been around to see my new fowls yet. Don't bring your cats. I'm not mad at any cats or anybody about anything. When you are pleased we are pleased. After seeing my birds, there sure is lots of fine folks to visit here in Fluvanna. I do everything just like everyone wants but I'm two years behind on my good deeds.

Come to see my beautiful birds, but don't let anypne read this letter.

Convicted Mother Testifies

FORT WORTH (AP)—"I figure I got what I had coming," Doris Bowman, 25, testified Monday at the murder trial of her ex-boy friend, Clifford Carroll, 22.

Mrs. Bowman has been convicted and is serving a 50-year prison term for the torture slaying of her 34-month-old daughter Paula last March 3. The state rested after she left the stand.

Prosecutors seek the death penalty for Carroll, a former mental patient, in the death of the child. Defense lawyers contend he is insane.

Mrs. Bowman spoke of her conviction while under cross-examination. She was asked if she wanted a similar penalty for Carroll.

'I don't care what he gets as long as he gets what he deserves," she replied.

Earlier she told of forcing the little girl to walk in circles and to sit neck deep in a tub of cold water. Then, the mother testified, she poured scalding water on the child while Carroll held the tot.

Mrs. Bowman said all this was done at Carroll's order and he held the child while she poured the water. She was afraid of Carroll, she said, because he once struck her arm in three places, inflicting bruises.

After she poured six to 10 pots of scalding water on her daughter, Mrs. Bowman testified, "she just—Paula—she just went out. When he turned her loose, she fell into the tub."

The mother told of watching Carroll whip the little girl "most about every day" for a week before her death.

Bear Keeps Lady Cornered In Kitchen

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Mrs. Lee Page, 26, spent most of Monday kitchened by a Himalayan bear, a 450-pounder named Yogi.

Four times the bear broke out of its cage in her back yard.

Four times Mrs. Page ran for the kitchen, locked herself in and screamed for help.

Four times her neighbors prodded the bear back into the cage with poles.

Mrs. Page said she bought Yogi for her husband, a trainer of guard dogs with a yen to train bears. He was away on business.

After the fourth escape the neighbors called the police. They stood by with rifles until animal experts arrived to take Yogi to the Manchester Zoo.

Treasurer Attends Conference

Mrs. Inez Brown, county treasurer of Scurry County, has returned from the 16th Annual Conference of county treasurers of Texas. The three - day meeting was held in Corpus Christi.

One of the highlights of the meeting, according to Mrs. Brown, was an address by Warren Harding, treasurer of Dallas County, who gave a report on the national convention of county treasurers which was held last month in Washington, D.C. Harding was elected as president of that group.

Other notable speakers at the conference included state senators Bruce Regan of the 20th District and Ralph Hall of the 9th District, and State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Mrs. Brown served the convention as a member of the auditing committee. Last year she served on the constitution and by-laws committee, and next year is scheduled to serve on the membership committee.

Mrs. Brown was accompanied to the converence by: Mrs. Ava Johnson, county treasurer of Dickens County and the secretary - treasurer of the state organization, and by Mrs. Sally Wright, county treasurer of Stonewall County.

The object of the annual conferences, Mrs. Brown said, was to secure the benefits resulting from organized effort in the exchange of ideas. The discussion of mutual problems, she said, helps to advance and maintain a proper standard of efficiency.

The convention also works to achieve legislation that is advantageous in the handling of the duties placed upon the members.

Bookmakers Charged

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two police detectives petted their way past two large German shepherd dogs into what they termed one of the largest football bookmaking operations they had ever seen.

Detectives J. R. Weldon and H. S. Wayne said Monday they found the dogs guarding a house surrounded by an eight-foot chain-link fence topped with barbed wire. However, they said the gate was open.

After pacifying the animals the officers entered the house and arrested C. D. Young, 44, and his wife, Joan Maxine, 29.

The officers said they seized 20 sheets of betting notations. They said one sheet had bets totaling more than $4,000, with individual bets ranging from $55 to $2,750. The Youngs were charged with operating a lottery.

10-Year-Old Lad Enrolls At MSU

By PHIL BROWN

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mom wasn't much help with calculus, so 10-year-old Michael Grost of Lansing enrolled at Michigan State University as a full-fledged freshman Monday night.

Matter of fact, Mike already had dabbled in college subjects for a year as a special-status student at Michigan State.

He had an "A-minus" average over 38 hours of classroom work in subjects such as history, humanities, natural science and mathematics. That's what sold MSU on waiving requirement of a high school diploma.

Mike comes to MSU from the seventh grade — he had been accelerated through the sixth—at Lansing's Cumberland Road School, to which he returns now and then to play marbles, swap comic books and play touch football.

He begins regular university classe. Thursday.

Univerity psychologists rate Mike a well-adjusted 10-year-old. He is looking forward to stepping up from Cub to Boy Scout this fall, andhe requested 10 "Superman" comic books as a prize if he made "A" in "Contemporary History of Europe and Asia" as a special-status student. For a "B-plus," he got five.

Mike's mother, Mrs. William Grost, recalls that Michael began to read aloud, at the age of 4, to her great surprise:

"Because no one had ever taught him to read. I still don't know how or when he learned."

Dr. Elizabeth Drews, MSU professor of education, said Mike wasn't unhappy in elementary school, but that one of his difficulties there was in finding anyone to talk about the principles of mathematics. Mom didn't have time not with a husband and two other children.

Mike put it this way: "When I come home and Mom is putting a roast in the oven and making salad, she just isn't able to listen to me talk about calculus."

Dr. Drews says Mike's IQ is too high to be measured meaningfully; that on a graduate student screening test he scored in the top 10 per cent. On a test of mathematical ability for 12th graders and college freshmen he scored in the upper one per cent.

When Mike isn't delving into higher mathematics, his favorite pastime is reading Sherlock Holmes, Nancy Drew mysteries, comic books — or the works of Thomas Aquinas, the 13th century theologian.

Because he's only 4-feet-6½, and weighs only 75 pounds, Mike was exempted from MSU's ROTC and physical education courses.

He has a brother, Robert, 7, and a sister, Patricia, 9, both of whom have demonstrated superior intelligence, although not at Mike's level.

Mike's father, William Grost, 41, and Mrs. Grost both hold degrees in journalism from MSU. Grost enrolled with Mike Monday night to continue work on a master's degree in evening classes at MSU.

"Mike," says his father, "apparently recognizes the child-parent role and has decided to abide by it."

Says Mrs. Grost, "Mike is a problem, but a happy one."

Silent Harpo Marx Dies

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harpo Marx, 75, on stage the wackiest of the wacky Marx brothers, but offstage the most normal, most solid member of the family, died Monday night following surgery.

A terse announcement from Mt. Sinai Hospital said: "Mr. Marx died at 8:30 p.m. following surgery. He was admitted Saturday. His doctor will announce cause of death Tuesday morning following additional tests."

It was speculated that Harpo died following heart surgery since he had suffered some minor heart attacks in recent years.

At his bedside was his wife Susan and two of his four sons. Surviving brothers Groucho, Zeppo, and Gummo were not present when the end came, a hospital spokesman said.

Mostly retired in recent years, Harpo — the silent one of the act — led a quiet life at his Palm Springs home hard by the fairways of Tamarisk Country Club. During the hot summer months on the desert, he moved to Beverly Hills where he often walked unrecognized on the streets.

That was because his regular appearance was so different from the curly wigged, top-hatted, horn-blowing, blond-chasing nut he played in the act.

Precise of speech — although his voice was never heard on the stage or screen — he was the darling of the intellectual set.

"Harpo was born an intellectual," said Groucho, "because he didn't learn it in school. He had such a hard time getting through kindergarten that he quit shortly after.

"Chico was the only one of us who ever got through public school and to him education was something that helped him read the racing form."

Chico, the piano - playing brother with the Italian dialect, died in 1961.

He was the oldest of the five brothers whose plays and movies, such as "Animal Crackers," "Coconuts" and "A Night at the Opera" were considered classics of both stage and screen.

Harpo became one of the world's more famed harpists—although he never took a lesson. He couldn't read music, but he often soloed with major symphony orchestras.

Asked once to explain his appeal to intellectuals the world over — from Alexander Woolcott to George Bernard Shaw—Harpo answered modestly: "I'm just a great listener."

He claimed that his brothers never let him speak in the act because it would prove to the world that he was the only sane one in the family.

Actually he started his pantomime act because his driving mother tossed him into show business on such short notice that she didn't have time to write lines for him.

Books Tally At All Costs

WORKINGTON, England, (AP) — Storekeeper Eleanor Marshall complained today that an official with a chauffeur drove 66 miles to collect twopence she owed on her taxes.

"I sent a check for exactly 200 pounds—$560—and didn't add the two-pence," she said.

"Then the tax man phoned to say he must have it to balance his books. I had a whole series of letters and calls about it so I told them to see my accountant."

At the tax office an official said: "We had to see the accountant anyway to collect some forms. So we collected the twopence at the same time."

"Now they've got the twopence but I still haven't got a receipt," Mrs. Marshall complained.

Ecumenical Council Votes Changes

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted down today a proposal that young single men becoming deacons be allowed to marry, but approved a measure permitting Roman Catholic married men to become deacons.

The vote for married men deacons was 1,598-629. The vote against allowing young deacons to marry was 1,364-839. A two-thirds vote of 1,485 was required for approval. The deacons assist priests.

With these decisions out of the way, bishops rallied behind a council declaration on the Jews, asking that it be approved in one form or another. Several insisted it must declare the Jewish people guiltless in the crucifixion of Christ.

Of 20 speakers in the council session in St. Peters, only one prelate, an archbishop from the Middle East, opposed the declaration in any form.

Two Americans and a Briton — Archbishop Patrick O'Boyle of Washington, Auxiliary Bishop Stephen A. Leven of San Antonio, Tex., and Archbishop John C. Heenan of Westminister — strongly urged that the declaration specifically exonerate Jews of deicide — God killing.

Council fathers — cardinals, archbishops, bishops, patriarchs and other Roman Catholic prelates from around the world — voted approval Monday for a permanent diaconate of deacons to assist priests.

Today the council was called upon to vote on the more controversial issue on whether the deacons might be married.

In the two ballots, the council voted that men who were married before deciding to enter the diaconate would be allowed to become deacons, but that young single men would have to remain celibate after entering the diaconate.

In a third ballot today, sources said, the council fathers agreed that national conferences of bishops should be allowed to decide whether deacons should serve in their areas.

South American prelates had pressed for the permanent diaconate as a means of relieving the shortage of priests on that continent.

The deacons will be able to baptize, marry couples, give communion, administer last rites and preach. But they will not be able to say Mass or hear confessions.

For centuries, the rank of deacon has been a temporary one, held by seminarians for a short time before becoming priests.

The diaconate was discussed that time many prelates approved it, but objected to a married diaconate. Several bishops said it would threaten the traditional celibacy of the priesthood itself.

The council's revised declaration on the Jews remained a subject of discussion. An informed source said fear that the original declaration might have led to a future interpretation that Christ was not God caused it to be revised.

Fans Riot As Show Cuts Short

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Angry fans smashed windows in the lobby of Dallas Memorial Auditorium Monday night after an unscheduled halt in a Ray Charles singers show.

A flying bottle knocked a city policeman unconscious as he and fellow officers stood shoulder to shoulder shoving the unruly crowd into the street. Police jailed four persons.

Police Lt. H. C. Holloway said several hundred spectators tried to storm the box office after an unidentified spokesman for the entertainers announced the performance was ending at intermission. He was quoted as advising the audience of about 4,000 to demand their money back.

The auditorium director, W. W. Vanderslice, said four agents of the Internal Revenue Service entered the box office and impounded receipts collected by the promoter of the show, A. W. West. Tickets sold for $2 to $2.50.

Ellis Campbell Jr., regional head of the IRS, said he knew nothing about the incident but that his department on occasion seizes receipts to collect delinquent taxes.

Charles did not appear on the stage. Efforts to reach him for comment were unavailing.

Several big plate glass windows were smashed. The bottle throwing crowd also broke tables and other equipment.

One of the bottles struck policeman J. D. Stewart on the head. Half a dozen officers drew pistols as they forced a path to Stewart's side, but no shots were fired.

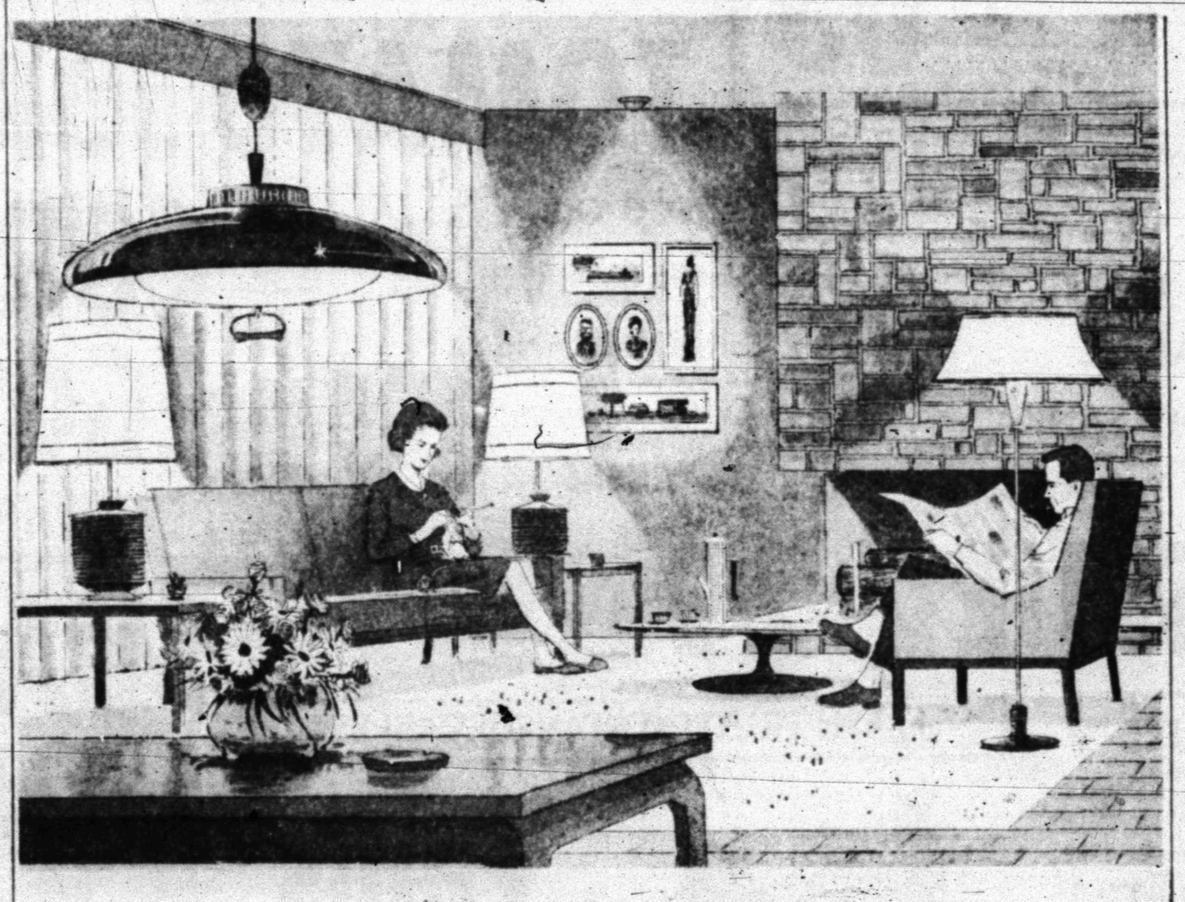

About 20 officers at the auditorium were reinforced after trouble started about 10:30 p.m. It took two hours to clear the auditorium.

Bring out the beauty in your home...

with modern light for living...

The lighting in your home can do much more than merely dispel darkness. Good light in the living room, for example, can add an atmosphere of charm and cheer. It can bring out the beauty of your furnishings. It can make the room a hospitable background for entertaining . . . and an inviting center for your family's leisure hours. To enjoy both beauty and eye comfort in the living room, you need three kinds of light: (1) general lighting for overall room illumination; (2) local lighting at chairs and sofas for close visual tasks; (3) accent lighting for decorative purposes. Your lighting dealer will gladly help you choose the lamps and fixtures you need for modern Light for Living. Or call our office and we'll send a lighting specialist to help you with suggestions.

For close visual tasks, like reading or sewing, portable lamps should be a part of each furniture grouping. The average living room needs from three to five portable lamps.

Overall lighting adds glamour and spaciousness to rooms. A lighted valance like this provides indirect light on the ceiling plus dramatic downlight on drapes and wall.

Accent lighting with recessed or exposed downlights brings out focal points of beauty. Lighted wall brackets may be used for the same purpose.
