Fluvanna classes to gather

Class parties will be conducted Friday night in conjunction with Fluvanna Homecoming activities scheduled this weekend.

Saturday beginning at 9 a.m., the Scurry County Coliseum will be the site for a gathering of current and former residents of Fluvanna. In addition, a noon barbecue is scheduled and a brief program is planned at 2 p.m.

The homecoming activities began Friday with the traditional Old Settlers Tea from 2 until 5 p.m. at Edith McKanna's Rock Ledge Farm located three miles north of Fluvanna.

Other activities Friday centered around the community center, where lemonade and cookies were to be served during the day.

Events related to the Fluvanna Homecoming are conducted every five years. The following is the schedule for Friday night's class parties.

—Classes from 1970-76,

Jobless estimate dips to year low

The current estimate from the Texas Employment Commission has Scurry County posting its lowest unemployment rate of 1985 — a percentage that also closely reflects county job's figures for the same period last year.

For the month of April, Scurry County's estimate for individuals out of work was 3.9 percent. For the same period in 1984, the estimate was 3.5 percent.

The latest figure indicated a full percentage point drop from the previous month, when unemployment estimates rose to 4.9 percent.

The one month decline was in part based upon a reduced civilian labor force estimate, although the 10,750 persons figured in the labor force here was still larger than the same estimate for January, when unemployment was figured at its highest for the year, an even 5 percent.

To Nicaraguian rebels...

CIA help to resume

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican-controlled Senate has approved a plan to resume U.S. support for rebels fighting Nicaragua's leftist government by providing $38 million in non-lethal aid over the next 18 months.

After a 55-42 vote for the aid Thursday, one of its sponsors, Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., refused to rule out the possibility that the money could be used for defensive radar or CIA helicopter flights into Nicaragua to ferry supplies to the rebels.

As to exactly how the aid could be used, Nunn said the Reagan administration and Congress would have to work out the "precise understanding behind closed doors." He said if the CIA abused the rules, any congressional consensus supporting the aid "would fall apart."

Liberal Senate Democrats tried unsuccessfully Thursday to place tight restrictions on any new aid to the Contras and to bar use of U.S. combat forces in Nicaragua. Similar efforts were expected today as the Senate continues work on a two-year State Department authorization bill totalling $5.6 billion.

Reagan praised Thursday's Senate action as "a display of bipartisan concern for the people of Central America and our own national security."

However, the Nicaraguan Embassy condemned the move as "an escalation of U.S. involvement and a major step down the road to interjection of U.S. combat troops. It will prolong the bloodshed in Nicaragua..."

The aid plan, passed by a coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats, would repeal a strict prohibition against U.S. support for military action inside Nicaragua, but would bar spending on guns, bullets and lethal weapons. Nunn said military training would also be prohibited.

It would provide $14 million in non-lethal aid to the rebels, known as Contras, this year and $24 million next year. The money could be used for food, clothing, medicines and transportation, possibly funneled through the CIA.

The Democrat-controlled House, which has led opposition to aiding the Contras, is expected to vote on a similar proposal next week.

The plan contains language urging progress toward a negotiated settlement in the region, and would suspend U.S. economic sanctions if the Sandinista government agrees to a cease-fire and to open negotiations with the rebels.

The measure also calls on the Contras to purge their ranks of any individuals who have engaged in human rights abuses. Also, if negotiations fail, Reagan could ask speedy action to resume military aid.

SHS junior heads to 45th Boys State

Snyder High School junior Alex Brice, son of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Brice, has been chosen to attend the 45th observance of Boys State in Austin.

He was selected by the membership of the Snyder American Legion Post 181. Across Texas, the Legion has sponsored Boys State since 1940.

Alex will join some 959 other Texas high school juniors who will assemble on the University of Texas campus beginning Saturday for this year's week-long session.

Saturday night, the youth will attend their first meeting of the mythical Boys State City to start the week-long program.

The concept is to "learn by doing."

The 959 boys will be housed in 22 Boys State cities with each city further divided into precincts — one for the Federalist and one for the Nationalist political parties.

The youth then run for office or seek appointments at the city, county and state government levels. This will culminate with the election of a boys state governor, legislature, supreme court and other state offices.

Next Friday, June 14, the citizens of Boys State will visit the State Capitol and from there run the mythical state for one day.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 28,587 high school juniors who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inagurated in Texas.

Watercolor show opens

Members of the Museum Association will receive a special tour Friday night of the latest exhibit at the Scurry County Museum — a collection of the prize-winning paintings from the Texas Watercolor Society's 36th annual show.

The tour, with refreshments to be served, will begin at 6:30 p.m. Individuals interested in joining the association are also invited to Friday's showing. To join, yearly membership fees are $15 for individuals and $25 for families.

The public is then invited to the show's opening Sunday afternoon. The museum will be open from 1 until 4 p.m.

Thirty-three paintings are included in the traveling exhibit.

The work will be on display through June 23.

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Almost every newspaper in West Texas has told the story about ole Joe Brown of Amarillo who knew everyone from the Pope on down. There's a new story making the rounds that reminds us of Joe Brown.

A salesman, visiting his barber, mentioned that he was about to make a trip to Rome.

"Rome is a terribly over-rated city," said the barber, who came from Italy. "What airline are you taking and what hotel are you staying at?"

When the salesman told him, the barber criticized the airline for being undependable and the hotel for having terrible service. "You'd be better off to stay at home," he said.

"But I expect to close a big deal. Then I'm going to see the Pope."

"You'll be disappointed trying to do business in Italy," said the barber, "and don't count on seeing the Pope. He only grants audiences to very important people."

Two months later the salesman returned to the barber shop. "And how was your trip?" asked the barber.

"Wonderful!" replied the salesman. "The flight was perfect, the service at the hotel was excellent, I made a big sale, and I got to see the Pope."

"You got to see the Pope? What happened?"

"I bent down and kissed his ring."

"No kidding! And what did he say?"

"Well, he looked down at my head and said, "My son, where did you ever get such a lousy haircut?"

"She showed me her ledger the other day," sighed the husband. "It has three columns—Debits, Credits and Where Did This Come From?"

Carny worker jailed in theft

Police jailed a 20-year-old carnival worker on charges of burglary of a motor vehicle Thursday evening.

Charles Arthur Sheppard of Victoria remained in Scurry County Jail Friday morning in lieu of a $5,000 bond, charged with burglarizing a damaged truck-tractor at a local wrecking yard.

Thurman Allen, owner of Allen's Wrecker Service, filed the initial report in connection with the burglary at 8:40 a.m. Thursday.

He told investigators that a late model Kenworth tractor parked on his lot appeared to have been burglarized sometime between Sunday afternoon and Tuesday morning.

A. — There is a real bell and it is rung by means of an electric switch.

In Brief

Agca testifies

ROME (AP) — The man who shot and seriously wounded Pope John Paul II four years ago testified today that his personal motive for the attack was to draw the West's attention to problems of the Third World.

Mehmet Ali Agca testified for the third day today in the trial of three Bulgarians and four Turks charged with complicity in the assassination attempt. Agca claims they were involved with him in a conspiracy to kill the pope.

He was not asked about his claims that he was offered a large sum of money to kill the pope or about the alleged conspiracy.

Defrock vote

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Leaders of the Lutheran Church in America voted today to defrock a rebel minister who defied his superiors in a campaign to punish "corporete evil" for unemployment in the Pittsburgh area.

After the delegates decided his fate in a 499-33 standing vote, D. Douglas Roth strode to the stage and grabbed the michrophone, declaring "Here's the truth. We have had a railroad situation long enough."

The delegates yelled for him to sit down, a few of them shouting, "Crucify him! Crucify him!"

Local

MH break-in

Officers with the Scurry County sheriff's office are investigating a mobile home burglary reported Thursday.

Deputies were called to the Oasis Mobile Home sales lot on U.S. Hwy. 84 Thursday morning, where a vacant mobile home on the sales lot was reported to have been broken into.

Officers had not filed any official reports Friday morning and no information was available as to what may have been taken from the trailer.

'Gig tryouts

Tryouts for dramatic parts as well as singing and dancing roles in the "Whirlagig" production — sponsored through the Snyder Chamber of Commerce — are scheduled Sunday.

These will begin at 2:30 p.m. in Room A of the Scurry County Coliseum. In charge of the production is Myra Martin.

Rehearsals are expected to begin soon for the show, scheduled in conjunction with White Buffalo Day activities in October.

White has signed bill upping drinking age

AUSTIN (AP) — In hopes of saving lives and of getting the state more highway funds, Gov. Mark White has signed into law a bill that would raise the drinking age in Texas from 19 to 21.

White also said Thursday he would sign another measure that not only would raise the drinking age to 21 but would provide maximum penalities for anyone driving drunk with an open container of alcoholic beverage in the car or pickup.

In 1984, Congress enacted federal legislation to withhold federal highway funds from states that do not raise their drinking age to 21 in an effort to decrease highway deaths.

The bill signed Thursday, sponsored by Sen. Bill Sarpalius, D-Amarillo, would become effective Sept. 1, 1986, only if the federal law has not been changed. The drinking age would revert back to 19 if the federal law is held invalid.

White told a crowd in his reception room he was signing the increase in the drinking age "fully aware of the strong feeling on both sides of this issue, but I am convinced that the drinking age should be raised for several reasons.

"First and foremost, there is evidence that raising the drinking age would reduce the number of alcohol-related deaths on Texas highways.

"Second, I think this bill puts Texas into compliance with the congressional mandate and guarantees that more than $100 million in highway funds will flow to Texas in the next two fiscal years."

"I think we all share a concern about the problem of alcohol abuse, and I would not suggest for a minute the problem is limited to our young people," White said. "For that reason I am also supporting increasing the penalities for driving while intoxicated and applying those penalities equally to all persons."

Mistrial declared in libel lawsuit

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A mistrial has been declared in a $24 million libel lawsuit against The El Paso Times and former Mayor Tom Westfall.

The seven-man, five-woman jury announced it was deadlocked at 3:55 p.m. MDT Thursday, after deliberating a total of 20 hours over four days.

State District Judge Jerry Woodard said the case, which took three weeks to try, would have to be heard again. However, he gave no indication as to when a new trial date would be set.

Former Mayor Ray Salazar and real estate developer Joe Foster sued the Times and Westfall in April 1980, contending several newspaper articles and statements made by Westfall in a 1979 interview with a Times reporter defamed them and damaged their reputations. Westfall succeeded Salazar as mayor in 1979.

Salazar and Foster were seeking $24 million in actual and punitive damages from the Times and $60,000 from Westfall.

The two men declined to comment Thursday afternoon, but their attorney, Paul Knisely of Austin, said, "Obviously, we're disappointed the jury was unable to reach a verdict. We hope to get another trial soon."

Westfall and Times Editor Barbara Funkhouser also declined comment.

Dear Abby

Your Best Gift to Dad Is One From the Heart

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: Next Sunday (June 16) is Father's Day. Many believe Father's Day was invented by the merchants who saw a way to play on the sentiments of the buying public and stimulate business—after all, almost everybody has a father. (Look what Mother's Day has done for the florists, greeting card people and retail merchants!)

Regardless of whose idea it was, it's a good one that has taken hold, and continues to bring joy to dear old Dad.

Last year, my Father's Day column brought a surprising number of requests from editors of church bulletins, newsletters and other publications asking permission to reprint it. Many readers wrote to say that they had put my suggestion to use, and found it more appreciated than any gift they had given Dad.

I was encouraged to run it annually, so here it is:

DEAR ABBY: The week before Father's Day you wrote: "Don't give Dad another tie, shirt or wallet; give him something he will cherish forever—a letter telling him how much he means to you."

Well, I composed a letter on the bus to work that very morning, typed it on my lunch hour and mailed it to my father in a beautiful card that evening. He was actually my stepfather, but he had been more of a father to me than my real father. I knew it would mean a lot to him, especially since he was in the hospital at the time.

He died on July 5, and I'm so glad I wrote that letter. Now I can live with myself, knowing that he knew how I felt about him.

Thank you so very much for making me put my thoughts of love and gratitude on paper. If this letter helps just one person to do what I did, it was worth writing.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: A number of years ago, we bought a home in a nice, quiet, high-class neighborhood. Now one of our neighbors has made it look like a cheap flea market! She has one yard sale after another, which brings a lot of people in front of my house as well as hers.

Believe me, she doesn't need the money. The traffic is annoying, and so is the noise. And it looks terrible!

Last summer she started selling vegetables from their small backyard garden, with signs all over the yard. Now I think this is really tacky!

I am annoyed! What can I do outside of filing a complaint with the city? I am told by other neighbors that this enterprising neighbor manages to stay just within the law.

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: If your enterprising neighbor manages to stay within the law, there is nothing you can do. Ask a lawyer if a yard sale qualifies as "an attractive nuisance."

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What should a woman do when a man gives her an engagement ring while proposing marriage, and she doesn't like the ring? Don't get me wrong, I love the man, but I don't care for the ring. Must I wear the ring the rest of my life and not let on that I don't like it? Or should I ask him, as tactfully as possible, to exchange it for a style more in keeping with my taste?

I've heard several opinions. My mother said she'd kill me if I opened my mouth.

CONFUSED IN QUEENS

DEAR CONFUSED: Be honest with him. Tell him you love him and know he wants to please you, so if it's possible to exchange the ring, you'd like to go with him and select one more in keeping with your taste. And tell your mama that Abby says if you're old enough to take a husband, you're old enough to make your own decisions.

Animal refuge said ruined by flooding

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Heavy rains washed out a wildlife rehabilitation compound here killing several baby animals and causing an estimated $100,000 worth of damage, a spokeswoman said.

"We lost literally everything," said Pat Rogers, media coordinator for the Wildlife Rescue and Rehabilitation Inc., in northest San Antonio.

The compound's new nursery was swept away by flood waters from a rain-swollen creek late Wednesday night, Ms. Rogers said Thursday. Equipment, cages, the entire food supply and records were destroyed or washed away.

Flash floods swept the Lone Star State on Wednesday after torrential dowpours dumped several inches of rain in just a few hours. Mobile homes were swept into a river in Hays County, while thunderstorms swelled creeks and rivers in the Austin area.

About 200 animals were at the wildlife compound when flood waters hit the refuge Wednesday night. Ms. Rogers said 20 to 40 of them were killed, including baby opossums, foxes, fawns and a baby skunk all housed in the nursery.

"We lost a lot of the babies that we had," she said. "Most of the babies are dead that we know of. There are a few that are missing."

The seven-year old compound offers refuge to wild animals unable to live in their natural habitat, and others are rehabilitated so they can return to the wild.

Most of the rescued animals were taken to another compound, while two cougars and a jaguar were being housed at the San Antonio Zoo's health center, she said.

A creek near the compound started overflowing about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday, and overflowed again Thursday about noon, she said.

Damage to the compound is in excess of $100,000, she said.

Volunteers worked through the night trying to rescue all the animals. Some that could fend for themselves were released, but Ms. Rogers said no dangerous animals were set free.

The National Weather Service issued a flash flood warning Thursday afternoon for Bastrop, Caldwell, Hays, Bexar, Comal and Guadalupe counties.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My grandfather was recently taken to the hospital in a coma. The doctors said that he had had a few strokes during the last several months. None of us noticed anything unusual about him at that time. How could someone have a stroke and neither know it nor show any signs of it?

DEAR READER — Strokes are caused by blood clots that block blood vessels in the brain. If a clot is small, it may do very little damage; if it is large, it can affect entire areas of the brain, causing coma and paralysis.

At the instant a clot clogs an artery, the body releases anticoagulants into the bloodstream. These remarkable chemicals will cause a clot to dissolve, but the process may take hours or days. In the meantime, the part of the brain that is affected becomes swollen and malfunctioning.

Perhaps this oversimplified explanation may help you to understand why your grandfather recovered from his stroke. The complexity of the brain often does not lend itself to precise analysis by our fundamentally primitive diagnostic techniques. Doctors are really equipped to identify major neurological events. Small strokes, affecting the higher centers of airway and judgment, often go unnoticed by both patient and physician.

For example, progressive memory loss is recognized as an inescapable consequence of aging. In all likelihood, this condition is the result of a series of several strokes that have occurred over many years. The usual senility of old age probably results from showers of clots that affect several areas of brain tissue.

Conversely, a single large clot can cause such acute and precipitous alterations that the brain may never recover, despite the body's anticoagulants and heroic medical attention. Doctors will usually try to tide a stroke patient over the acute phase in the hope that the natural healing process will enable damaged nerve tissue to function once again.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I've been trying to cut down on caffeine because I read that it's harmful. I've been drinking decaffeinated coffee. Then someone told me that tests about cancer and coffee show that it isn't the caffeine that's a problem, but something else. Is that true? Is decaffeinated coffee safe to drink? Does it matter which kind?

DEAR READER — Caffeine in coffee and cola drinks is a stimulant that can cause nervousness, irritability, high blood pressure and a rapid heart rate. I think it makes sense to exercise moderation in the consumption of caffeine-containing beverages. Many health professionals advise no more than two or — at most — three cups of coffee (or the equivalent) per day. I am not aware that other components in coffee cause serious disease, but the final answers are not yet known; prudence would be a reasonable trait to cultivate at this time.

As far as I can learn, decaffeinated coffee poses no health problems, if taken in moderation. Some brands are chemically treated to remove caffeine; whether these additives can cause disease is still an open question. Some decaffeinated coffee has been treated "naturally," without chemicals, to remove caffeine. If you are concerned about the possible harmful effects of additives, you might consider purchasing the "naturally" decaffeinated types.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

Stacy Keach is out of prison

READING, England (AP) — American actor Stacy Keach was released Friday from Reading prison after serving six months of a nine-month sentence for trying to smuggle cocaine into Britain.

The actor, who starred in the TV series "Mickey Spillaine's Mike Hammer," got the standard one-third off his sentence for good behavior, said his publicist, David Gerrie.

The prison is 50 miles southwest of London.

Garrie said Keach would be flying to New York on a supersonic Concorde.

TEACHERS — The teachers for the class include Odis Hillard, Delia Carrell, Cora Sealy, Nora Sealy, Winnie Houston and Mabel Houston.

Memories kept alive through school papers

According to the Senior Edition The Croak, a monthly paper published by the Fluvanna Public Schools, the high school took first honors at the county Interscholastic League meet which was held in Snyder on March 21-22, 1930. They were also planning to enter the contest in Abilene that was held April 18.

In the April 15, 1930 edition it was announced that a club had been organized at the school for students with a "B" average. There were 20 charter members and Lawrence Shipman was elected as president. Other officers included Pauline Haynes, vice president; Estell Favor, secretary and Matty Lynn Beaver, reporter.

The social committee included La Verna Farquhar, Inez Beaver and Bill Fry.

It was also announced in that issue that the dedication services for the new $50,000 high school building would be held early in May.

In the October 28, 1929 edition of The Croak, it was reported that the pep squad had elected officers. They included May Bell Tucker, president; Opal Barns, secretary-treasurer; Virgie Hanback, reporter; Estelle Favor and Jack Nesbitt, yell leaders; Pauline Haynes and Sam Houston, assistant yell leaders.

Miss Chloe Collins was the first sponsor.

In April, 1935, the staff of The Croak included Aven Shipman, editor-in-chief; Frances Jones, assistant editor; Murvel Lemons, business manager; Charles Dietz, assistant business manager; Izora Patterson, social editor; Lucian Thomas, sports editor.

The reporters included Tish Elkins, Pauline Deere, Mavis White, Ben Collier, Margrette Tucker, Cecil Smith, Gertrude Brown, Rosa Nell Stavely, Marionette Patterson, Berry Cribbs, Daisy Nell Cavin, Jessie McKnight and Eula Landrum.

The typists were Lucian Thomas, David McKnight, Martin Noel, Katherine Scrivner, Retta Battles, Mozelle Brown and David Shipman.

Five new students enrolled in the Fluvanna school in April, 1935. They included Kenneth Mull from Bethel, sophomore; Blanche Davison from Arah and Wilemena Mull from Bethel, both fifth graders; Dicky Mull from Bethel, second grade; and Juanita Davison, sixth grade.

By Nov. 8, 1938 The Croak had been renamed The Stampede. In that edition it was announced that Doris Pearce, a student from Gail, had been selected as FFA Sweetheart. Marguerite Wilson was selected as the senior queen for that year.

The annual school carnival was scheduled for Friday, Nov. 18 at 10 a.m. and was billed as bigger and better.

The climax of the carnival was the crowning of the Queen of Fluvanna School. The girls nominated for that honor in 1938 included Jerry Haynes, seventh grade; Patsy Snodgrass, freshman; Myrl Zo Smith, sophomore; Elizabeth Miller, junior; and Marguerite Wilson, senior.

The High School Girls' Choral Club scheduled a 30 minute broadcast over KRBC, Abilene, for Wednesday, Nov. 16 at 2:30 p.m.

In the May 17, 1940 edition, it was announced that John A. Stavely and Elizabeth Miller were selected as outstanding citizens in Fluvanna High School. Both were seniors.

Til Higgins gave the high school a new paint job and retouched the lockers in May 1940.

Ads figured high in school paper

Some of the advertisers in the Fluvanna School Paper included The Snyder News which also printed the paper for the school; Bill Moore, carpenter; Fluvanna Mercantile Co, A Red and White Store; Fluvanna Garage (F.W. Wenner), and he had "Anti-Knock Gas"; City Laundry under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Bolivar Browning.

Also Jess Dowdy Drug Store; Fluvanna Cafe, The Home of Good Chili; W.P. Sims Dry Goods Co.; J.J. Belew Hardware; J.D. Clemons, Physician and Surgeon. Dr. Clemons ad stated..."Call me when needed — day or night."

And Higginbotham-Bartlett Co.; F.J. Moore, Cash Hardware and Groceries. This ad stated..."Bring us your poultry and all country produce - and trade where you can get your money's worth."

And Roy Polk, the best barber in town; John McDonald Service Station with Texaco products; J.M. Tips for ending tele-marketing telephone calls

Tired of tele-marketing calls that interrupt your dinner? Patterned after its 13-year-old Mail Preference Service, the Direct Marketing Association has inaugurated a Telephone Preference Service. To have your name and number removed free from national listings, write to Telephone Preference Service, DMA, 6 E. 43rd St., New York, N.Y. 100017. The Direct Marketing Association says this can reduce calls from many national advertisers, but is not likely to affect telephone sales calls from local businesses.

Tests prove what you may have already suspected. Ultra-sonic devices don't drive insects or any other kinds of pests out of your home.

U.S. Department of Agriculture researchers tested some ultrasonic pest repellers against German cockroaches and two species of biting mosquitoes. This research was done at the request of the U.S. Postal Service which has received complaints from the public about the devices.

The ultrasonic waves neither drove the insects away nor stopped the mosquitoes from biting. In one test, mosquitoes actually bit more frequently when one of the machine was turned on than when it was turned off.

The ultrasonic waves were suppose to be inaudible to the human ear and not harm humans or household pets. In the devices tested, the lowest of the three frequencies on each machine was clearly audible. The sound pressure level, in decibels, produced by one device exceeded the safety level permitted by the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

So what should you do about mosquitoes, flies, roaches and mice? It's back to repellents, screens, fly swatters, roach traps, poisons or maybe a four-legged mouse catcher!

Natural perils

Warmer months call for natural cosmetics. How about trying herbal, fruit and other natural formulas for skin care? However, consider allergies when selecting products or making your own.

Nature isn't always mild, so individuals must think of allergies from strawberries, tomatoes and other natural substances.

Refrigerate any cosmetic without preservatives and use it quickly before it spoils.

Annual Shultz reunion slated

The annual Walter Shultz reunion will be held June 23-24 in Towle Park.

Shultz was a farmer from 1915 to the late 1940's. He worked north of Snyder.

Two of his daughters, Mariel Shuler and Chan Moore, reside in Snyder.

In 1976, President Gerald Ford denounced Cuba's Fidel Castro as an international outlaw for sending 12,000 troops into Angola.

Declarers who win money at bridge follow a simple rule. They try very hard to make their contracts. They despise overtricks and search out ways to give up tricks, if by doing so they can guarantee their contracts.

Greed got the best of the declarer in the diagramed deal. He won the opening lead with the club ace and played the king and ace of spades. The 4-1 trump split wrecked the hand. Of course a reasonable spade division would have netted 11 tricks. But it's not that rare for a suit to split badly.

The winning line surrenders the possible overtrick. At trick two, declarer should play a low spade from both hands. Now the defenders can take a club and a heart in addition to their trump trick, but no more. When declarer regains the lead, he can successfully draw trumps and claim the rest.

There is a circumstance that would overrule this approach. If the club played by East on the opening lead suggests that clubs might be divided 5-2 for the defenders, then South cannot risk ducking a spade. The third round of clubs might promote a trump as the setting trick when East holds a doubleton club.

Recipe Box

CHICKEN AND RED PEPPER PIE

3 ½ pound chicken
Medium onion, peeled and quartered
Medium carrot, pared and halved lengthwise
2 cups White Sauce
7 ounces roasted peeled sweet red peppers, well-drained and quartered
Pastry
Milk

Steam chicken with onion and carrot in solid-bottom insert of a steamer for 45 minutes or until tender. Drain, skin and bone chicken; cut into 1 inch pieces; stir into hot White Sauce with red peppers and heat again. Pour into a 10x6x2-inch baking dish. Cover hot mixture with rolled-out pastry; seal to sides of dish and vent well; brush with milk. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until golden brown about 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Makes six servings.

WHITE SAUCE

Make it with 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 cup clear chicken broth, 1 cup milk, salt and pepper to taste; use hot.

PASTRY

Into 1 cup all-purpose flour cut ¼ pound stick butter until size of small peas. Gradually sprinkle with about 2 tablespoons water, mixing with a fork and pressing dough into a ball. Wrap tightly in saran and chill. Roll out to an 11x7-inch rectangle.

The fastest temperature change on record is a rise of 49 degrees in two minutes from -4 degrees to 45 degrees in Speafish, SD on January 22, 1943 between 7:30 and 7:32 a.m.

2-4A All-District baseball...

Snyder trio 1st team all-loop

District 2-4A runnerup Pecos dominated the all-district baseball team, announced today.

Despite finishing second to champion Andrews, Pecos placed seven players on the 19-man squad while the Mustangs placed three, including Most Valuable Player Shay Morris.

Three Snyder High School players made all-district. Senior pitcher Charles Bollinger, who went 4-1 through district play, made the squad. Bollinger, the league MVP a year ago, led Snyder in batting with a .469 district average. He posted an 8-1 pitching record throughout the season with 93 strikeouts and an ERA of 1.70.

Also selected from the Tigers was outfielder Justin Webb and catcher Ricky Hunter, both juniors. Webb hit .364 in loop play while Hunter hit .438.

Honorable mention went to SHS players Jimmy Cain and Bobby Velasquez - both outfielders.

Cain hit only .076 during district but also had a pitching record of 3-1 with two saves and an ERA of 2.53. Velasquez was Snyder's leadoff batter most of the season and had a .263 average.

Morris, who led Andrews to a state tournament berth, had a 12-3 pitching record through the regular season. He was 15-4 with playoff games included. Others on the Mustang squad were seniors Todd Carlile, who batted .536 and pitcher Rene Trevino, who posted a 2-1 record. Trevino ended the season with a 8-5 ledger and was a key figure for Andrews in the playoffs.

Andrews ended the season with a 22-9 record, it's state championship bid thwarted in a 5-2 defeat to DeSoto on Thursday.

Chosen from Pecos were seniors Roy Medley (2B, .286), Elias Payan (3B, .406), Erasmo Acosta (SS, .345), Sonny Orona (OF, .292) and Isreal Avila (P, 5-0). Also making the first-team from the Eagles camp was catcher Lance Windham (.375).

Fort Stockton placed three players on the team, including seniors Guy Gladson (OF, .293) and Richard Morales (IF, .393) and junior Paul Valenzuela (1B, .400).

Chosen from Lamesa were seniors Gilbert Arredondo (OF, .324) and John Gonzales (P, 2-4). Monahans named designated hitter Trey Ford (.340), a senior, to the squad.

Andrews, Monterey tumble in semis at state tournament

AUSTIN (AP) - Victoria Stroman and Pasadena Rayburn meet today for the class 5A state baseball title as the rain-delayed state finals wind up.

Greg Kozba powered Victoria Stroman into the finals with a two-run homer in the fourth inning of the 6-3 victory over North Garland Friday night.

DeSoto and New Braunfels Canyon met earlier in the day for the state 4A title. Semifinal games in other classes will be held today after they were postponed because of rain Thursday.

The class 5A title game will be at 7:30 p.m. at Disch-Falk Field. The 4A title game was to be held at 1:30 p.m. at Disch-Falk Field.

In the rain-delayed Class A semifinals, Colmesneil and Gunter met at 1 p.m. at Burger Center followed by the Abbott-Fayetteville game at 3 p.m. The title game is to be played at 7 p.m. at Burger Center.

The Class 2A semifinal game between Coppell and Emory Rain was to be held at 1 p.m. at Nelson Field followed by the Riviera-Gilmer Harmony contest at 3 p.m. The championship game will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Nelson Field.

In Class 3A, Sweeny met Graham at 8 a.m. and Linden Kildare tangled with Poteet at 10:30 a.m. in games at Disch-Falk Field. The title game, also to be held at Disch-Falk Field, is to be played at 5:30 p.m.

Bruce Aguilar provided the pitching Cory Thompson the hitting with a three-run homer to power Pasadena Rayburn to an 8-2 victory over Lubbock Monterey in the other 5A semifinal game.

Rayburn, in its first trip ever to the state tournament, jumped on Monterey starter Mike Eckles for three runs in the first inning. John Schelson and Bubba Augustine led off with singles and scored on Aguilar's long fly ball that was dropped by Doug Welch.

Rayburn iced the game in the third when Aguilar got on with a fielder's choice, Steve Meek singled and Thompson hit his home run to left.

DeSoto used a four-run fifth inning to defeat Andrews 5-2 and advance to the Class 4A UIL state baseball final against New Braunfels Canyon, a 10-7 winner over Jasper.

The DeSoto-Canyon game is a rematch of last year's semifinal game which DeSoto won 4-0. DeSoto went on to lose the title game to Austin Westlake. This marks the third straight year DeSoto has been in the state finals.

Spinks prevails

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) - Unbeaten Michael Spinks pounded Diamond Jim MacDonald almost at will, knocking him down three times, before stopping the challenger at 1:30 of the eighth round to retain his undisputed light heavyweight title.

After the fight, Spinks, 27-0 with 19 knockouts, said he wanted a shot at Larry Holmes, the International Boxing Federation heavyweight titleholder. Spinks turned down a chance to fight Holmes on May 20, saying he needed more time to get ready.

Cardinals fold to Arkansas; Horns test Mississippi State

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) - Jeff King said pregame talks from Coach Norm DeBriyn and past and present players were enough to awaken sleeping Arkansas bats in the NCAA College World Series losers' bracket.

The fourth-ranked Razorbacks pounded out 12 hits, four from King, in a 10-4 whipping of top-ranked Stanford Thursday night. In the second contest, the noisy bats of Miami and Oklahoma State were nearly put to sleep in a 2-1 victory for Miami.

Arkansas' offense had been relatively silent in its first two games of the CWS. A 1-0 win in 14 innings in the first game last Friday was followed by a 5-4 loss to Mississippi State Monday night.

"We had a team meeting before the game and it woke me up, and I think it woke the whole team up," said King, who belted his 17th homer of the year with nobody on in the seventh inning Thursday.

Mark Jackson hit a three-run homer in the fifth to stake the 51-14 Razorbacks to an 8-1 lead. Arkansas scored five runs in the fourth on six hits and an error off Stanford starter Jeff Ballard, 14-4.

"Coach told us it was a privilege to be here and if we could win a couple more games we could play for the championship. Then (relief pitcher Tim) Deitz spoke and said a player from the 1979 team called and said he could tell by watching us we were flat. So he said we'd better get going and get excited."

The player from Arkansas' 1979 CWS team that finished second was Mark Brumble.

The talk apparently worked and sent Stanford home with a 47-15 record. Kevin Campbell, 10-5, picked up the win for Arkansas.

Arkansas advances to Saturday's elimination round against Texas, which will play 50-13 Mississippi State in the winners' bracket finale Friday night. The Razorbacks have won four of five regular-season meetings with the 62-12, third-ranked Longhorns.

Miami's Kevin Sheary and Ric Raether combined for a four-hitter in sidelining second-ranked Oklahoma State.

Sheary, now 6-4, allowed only one run, a Carlos Diaz homer to right-center in the fifth, while Raether picked up his 20th save on the season to shut the door on the power-hitting Cowboys through the final two innings.

The Cowboys go home with a 58-16 record, while Miami takes its 61-16 record into Saturday's contest with Mississippi State.

Game-time Saturday depends on the outcome of tonight's Mississippi State-Texas winners bracket finale. The winner Friday plays in the 7:10 p.m. game Saturday and the loser plays at 4:10.

LITTLE LEAGUE

ATHLETICS 8, BRAVES 4

The Athletics took over the lead in the second half of Little League play Thursday night by defeating the Braves. The A's now 5-0, got a home run and a single from winning pitcher Terry Snyder and three singles from Les Rinehart. Also rapping out for the Athletics were Jason Ditmore and Kyle Highfield with two singles each and Eric West and Hector Sauceda with one apiece.

The Braves, who fall to 4-1, got two singles from Bebo Casias and one each from Jason McDonald, pitcher Jody Tavarez and Cedric Sneed.

CARDINALS 7, YANKEES 5

Greg Abell punched a double and a single and Coy Berryman added a triple as the Cardinals edged the Yankees. Adam Thornton also chipped in a single for the winners, who are 2-3 in the second half of league play. David Patrick picked up WP honors.

For the Yankees, 0-4, pitcher Darin Sparlin knocked a double and a single and Casey Franks and Stephen Bollinger added a double apiece. David Botts and Lary Gunset also contributed a single each.

FARM LEAGUE

YANKEES 15, CARDINALS 14

Back-to-back six-inning runs in the second and third provided the insurance the Yankees needed to hang on for this victory. Andy Weaver came up with two singles for the Yanks, 2-2, while Lecile Johnson hit a double and Brian Ritchey and Chris Martin added one single each. Chad Minson pitched the win.

For the Cardinals, 3-2, Eric Neves and Manuel Herrera knocked a double and a single each while Henry Elam blasted three singles. Also hitting for the Cards were Steven Campbell, two singles, and Eddie Bowlin and Greg Robinson, one single each.

ATHLETICS 11, BRAVES 1

The Farm League Athletics kept their spotless record intact Thursday as they defeated the Braves. Brian Butler picked up winning pitcher honors for the 5-0 squad while Cole Hayden provided two doubles from the batter's box. Chris Hayden and Jimmy Kitchens chipped a double apiece and Gabriel Costillo, Brandon Terry, Mark Pilgrim and Adrian Orosco added a single apiece.

The Braves, 3-2, got a double from Ross Hataway and a single each from Chuck Norwood, Edward Albarez and Henry Jones.

GIRL'S SOFTBALL

FASTBACKS 12, CRUSHERS 12 (tie)

Kayla Walker cracked a double and a single for the Fastbacks and Monica Garcia slammed a home run and a single for the Crushers in this deadlocked contest played Thursday. The only other hit recorded was a single by Valerie Winkles of the Fastbacks.

BLUE BOMBERS 15, WILDCATS 2

April Blair slugged two doubles and two singles and Monica Garcia added a home run and one single to help the Blue Bombers defeat the Wildcats. Also hitting for the Bombers, now 4-0 on the season, were Sandra Peralez and Lee Ann Sellars, three singles each; winning pitcher Angela Good, two singles; and Renee Matthews, Misty Jenkins, Rose Ann Garza and Rebecca Ramey, one single apiece.

The Wildcats, 0-4, got two singles from Theresa Martin and one apiece from Natalie McCravey, Lesa Arkin and Angela Vaughn.

Division II tourney slated this weekend

Snyder will host a Division II girl's softball tournament here Friday and Saturday.

The tournament, which is to pit six local teams, begins at 6:30 this evening with two games at the softball fields in Towle Park.

Opening games of the tournament feature the Wildcats playing the Magic Maroons and the Blue Bombers taking on the Lucky Stars.

Winner of the Wildcat-Maroon game will play the Cardinals at 8:30 tonight while the victor between the Bombers and Stars plays the Cardinals.

Finals in the double-elimination tournament are scheduled for 6 p.m. Saturday with an extra championship game at 8 if necessary.

Alleged drug kingpen faces new charges

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Alleged drug kingpin Rafael Caro Quintero has been charged with the murder and abduction of two Americans who have been missing since January, according to information the government provided the U.S. Embassy.

An embassy spokesman said Thursday the Attorney General's Office reported that Caro Quintero and unnamed accomplices were indicted on May 15 in the western state of Jalisco in connection with the case.

The Americans — John Walker, an Army veteran from Minneapolis, and Alberto Radelat from Fort Worth, Texas — were last seen on Jan. 30 in Guadalajara, capital of Jalisco state and a major drug trafficking center. The men were believed to be in their late 20s or early 30s.

The embassy has not yet seen the indictment, issued by Judge Ramon Soltero Guzman of the 7th criminal court of Jalisco state in Guadalajara, according to the spokesman who spoke on condition he not be identified. The Attorney General's Office gave the information to Larry Lane, the U.S. consul general in Mexico City.

Telephone lines were busy at both the Attorney General's Office and the court.

U.S. officials had said earlier that they held out little hope the two were still alive. Their bodies have never been found.

U.S. Ambassador John Gavin told reporters in late April that Mexican authorities were holding three witnesses who reportedly saw Walker and Radelat abducted in Guadalajara on Jan. 30.

The embassy said earlier that the deposition from the witnesses indicated the Americans may have been mistaken for U.S. drug investigators. Eve Walker, the missing American's wife, told reporters earlier this year that her husband had been writing a murder mystery with a plot involving cocaine smuggling and had been doing research for a second book about drug trafficking.

The witnesses told authorities they saw the Americans enter a restaurant, and later saw their bloodied bodies taken out of the establishment, according to Gavin. The restaurant was owned by Caro Quintero, and his associates were reportedly holding a party at the time the men entered.

Caro Quintero is charged in the kidnap-slaying of Enrique Camarena Salazar, the U.S. special drug enforcement agent who was abducted in Guadalajara on Feb. 7. The bodies of Camarena and a Mexican pilot who worked with him were found on March 5.

Four other Americans have been missing in Guadalajara since early December. They are Benjamin and Patricia Mascarenas of Ely, Nev., and Dennis and Rose Carlson of Redding, Calif.

House vetoes projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, by a one-vote margin, has eliminated 31 Corps of Engineers water projects, cleaning out a traditional pork barrel that critics say has put political connections before a project's merits.

The dams and harbor deepenings were slashed Thursday on a 203-202 vote from a fiscal 1985 supplemental spending bill as insurgents led by Rep. Bob Edgar, D-Pa., hung defeat on one of the House's most powerful old-guarders, Appropriations Committee Chairman Jamie Whitten, D-Miss.

"It was a fight between the old way of doing things and the new," said Edgar, one of a group of younger House members who say that a project's merits, not a representative's influence, should be the prime consideration.

The insurgents took aim on 31 corps projects that had been approved by Whitten's panel but had not been authorized by the Public Works and Transportation Committee, as required by the congressional budget process.

Left in the bill were funds to begin 31 other corps projects that have been endorsed by Public Works and four Bureau of Reclamation projects previously authorized by the House Interior Committee.

During the debate, Whitten attempted to shift the focus of the battle to make the fight appear to be between Congress and the Reagan administration's budget office, which supported only five of the deleted projects.

"Are we going to let a budget office determine what projects we have?" Whitten said. "The time has come for Congress to speak out. When did it get to be bad to look after your own country?"

A foe of the scuttled projects, Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., called the debate "our annual performance of rolling out the (pork) barrel."

Government investigators still probing mystery man

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger pictured as increasingly concerned about damage caused by a Navy spy ring, government sources say the mystery figure "F" passed a polygraph test two weeks ago but "we're still looking."

Published reports identified "F" as Gary Walker, the half-brother of John A. Walker Jr., the accused spy ringleader, but government sources interviewed by The Associated Press declined to identify "F" publicly and said his activities are still under scrutiny.

One source, declining to be named, said "F" was identified through the paper found in the search. He said "F" had "passed a lie detector test."

"We had no other evidence he was an active participant in the ring," this source said. "I would use the terms 'he is not a suspect,' but we're still looking — at him and at the possibility that there is another person with the same first name."

Meantime, Pentagon spokesman Michael I. Burch said the concern felt by Weinberger "has gone up" because "of what he continues to learn."

Burch said Weinberger has ordered "proper precautions to try to offset any advantange that the Soviets might have gained out of this episode." He would not describe the changes.

Stressing that it was too early to make a damage assessment, Burch said the Defense Department was "not aware of any change" in the Soviet Union's ability to track U.S. missile submarines based on information furnished by the spy ring.

In a related development, Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., considered by his colleagues to be an expert on national security, said if the government does not overhaul its system for clearing people to handle secret papers the Walker case will appear "very small" compared to problems in the future.

Nunn and Sen. William Roth, R-Del., issued a report by the Senate Permanent Committee on Investigations. It called for cutting in half the number of people — now 4.2 million — with security clearances and recommended that more intensive background checks and regular reinvestigations be conducted.

Weinberger, in an interview with The New York Times published today, said the Pentagon would reduce the number of people who have access to secret information, to help foil future spy rings.

"The numbers of people who have clearances is too large and we are going to cut that down," Weinberger said. Regarding potential damage from the alleged spy ring, Weinberger said, "I think there are very serious losses that went on over a long period of time."

R-rated film flack causes policy change

VIDOR, Texas (AP) — After a flap over "R"-rated films, school board members in this small Southeast Texas community changed a new teaching materials policy Thursday.

The revised rule bans movies rated "R" or "PG" from the classroom.

The policy also says the principal must select supplemental classroom materials such as movies on the basis of suitability, relevance and educational value.

The change was made after a two former school board candidates complained that Vidor Junior High School students had been shown pornographic films.

The former candidates objected specifically to screenings of "Whose Life Is It Anyway," "Clash of the Titans" and "Growing Up Stoned."

They said the films violated the city's new obscenity ordinance because they contained nudity and profanity.

Vidor is a small Orange County community located about five miles northeast of Beaumont.

Ask The Preacher

...about the "Thief on the Cross"

By Randall Gray

As a minister, I've heard several people say, "But I want to be saved just like the thief on the cross." They are referring to the thief who was executed next to Jesus and who was told by Jesus, "this day you will be with me in paradise" (Luke 23:24)

Consider a few facts about this incident and what it meant.

1. This man, this thief, this fellow-sufferer with Jesus, was saved by Jesus, in person, in a unique situation. To be fair, the only way you could be saved like that thief would be to experience what he experienced.

2. The thief was saved by Jesus before the New Covenant was put into force. See Heb. 9:15-17. Thus he was saved under the Old Covenant, or the Old Testament. We are living under the period of the New Testament.

3. Jesus has left specific instructions for people who want to be saved today. These instructions must be carried out before we will obtain salvation. Matthew 7:21 says:

"Not everyone who says to me 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven..."

So, although it would be nice to have Jesus come down and say, "You are saved!" That's simply not going to happen. We've got to do things His way...

Houston man says he is drug dealer

HOUSTON (AP) — A 43-year-old Houston man bragged during a drug deal with an undercover officer that he is an associate of Rafael Caro-Quintero, who is accused in the death of federal drug agent, the officer testified.

During the $1 million drug deal, Carlos Ivan Orozco boasted that he distrubutes cocaine in the United States for the "Qunitero cartel," Michael Spasaro, an officer with the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, said Wednesday.

Rafael Caro-Quintero has been charged by Mexican authorities in the February abduction and killing of DEA agent Enrique Camarena Salazar and pilot Alfredo Zavala.

Court documents allege the Guadalajara-based Quintero gang, led by Caro's uncles, run a Mexican drug network that smuggles cocaine, heroin and marijuana into the United States. They have not been charged with any drug violations.

The cartel has been the subject of a two-year investigation by a Houston-based Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force.

During a hearing Wednesday before U.S. Magistrate Calvin Botley, Spasaro said Orozco agreed to buy nearly seven pounds of cocaine and was making plans to purchase an additional 66 pounds.

Spasaro said that during the negotiations, Orozco discussed the February slaying.

"He said he was personal close friends with two of (Caro's) uncles. We talked about their problems with the killing of the agent and all the heat they're feeling," Spasaro said.

Investigators also learned that Orozco was involved in a $200 million real estate deal for the Quinteros and lived in a house in the Houston area owned by the family, Spasaro said.

Orozco claimed he was a distributor for a drug gang in Miami that was responsible for the importation of one ton of cocaine seized by agents last month, the agent said. Orozco also said he needed to buy cocaine from the agent because he had lost 88 pounds of the drug during the seizure, Spasaro said.

Orozco, Edward Jimenez, 33, and Ahmed Essaied, 33, were accused in a federal complaint last Friday of conspiring to possess and distribute cocaine. All are being held without bond.

Botley ruled Wednesday that federal prosecutors have enough evidence to take the case before a grand jury. Prosecutors have 30 days to present the case to the panel.

Withdrawal operation comes to end

ACHZIV, Israel (AP) - Hundreds of Israeli soldiers clapped and sang to the sound of folk music, celebrating their pullout from Lebanon three years to the day after the controversial and costly invasion began.

Maj. Gen. Ori Orr, commander of Israeli troops in Lebanon, told the jubilant soldiers Thursday that, "This party marks the end of a chapter, but not the end of a period. The period will only end when there is quiet on the northern border."

"Many people think our problems have been solved, but I want you to know that our work is by no means over," Orr said.

He told The Associated Press the operation to pull Israeli troops out of south Lebanon, which had begun Feb. 16, had been completed.

"The withdrawal is actually over, but some troops will continue to go in and out," Orr said during the celebration in a seafront park 2½ miles from the border.

The celebration marked the end of an invasion that became the first of Israel's six wars to shatter the national consensus.

Initially, most Israelis favored the push to destroy Palestinian bases in southern Lebanon, believing it would be a short-lived military operation.

But within weeks, the first demonstration against the war had been held. As the operation spread all the way to Beirut many Israelis felt the government had lied to them and Israel drew harsh international criticism.

Orr said Israeli troops would continue to provide support for the South Lebanon Army, a Christian-dominated militia of about 2,000 men trained by Israel. More than 25,000 Israeli soldiers were in Lebanon at the height of the war.

The Lebanese Shiite Moslem militia Amal has kept to an unwritten understanding that it would not attack Israel or the border security zone from territories evacuated by the Israeli army.

But Orr suggested only time would tell whether guerrillas would mount attacks on Israel's northern settlements.

Inmate hurt after alleged advance

ROSHARON, Texas (AP) — A prisoner was in stable condition after he was attacked in what officials say is the 120th stabbing in a Texas prison this year.

Johnny Harris, 28, was in the Texas Department of Corrections hospital in Galveston after another Ramsey 3 Unit inmate allegedly stabbed him with a knife made from scissors, TDC spokesman Charles Brown said Thursday.

A 27-year-old suspect, serving 15 years for burglary and drug convictions in Bexar County, told investigators Harris made sexual advances in the shower and at the dormitory where they lived, Brown said.

Harris is serving five years for a Harris County conviction of aggravated assault, Brown said.

So far this year, there have been 120 non-fatal stabbings and 12 fatal knifings within the nation's second largest prison system. A female was stabbed to death earier this week.

In an unrelated incident Wednesday, three inmates were indicted by a Brazoria County grand jury in Angleton on charges of assaulting prison guards.

Pedro Ancira, 28, serving 25 years for a Caldwell County burglary conviction, was charged with aggravated assault in the Feb. 10 stabbing of David Connery, a guard at the Retrieve Unit near Angleton.

Jobs estimate dips during April

During January, the civilian labor force was estimated at 10,597 individuals. In March — with 4.9 percent unemployment, it was estimated at 10,981.

In 1984, the month of April produced 3.5 percent unemployment with a labor force figured at 10,668.

The current estimate for this past April figures 10,342 persons were employed, leaving 415 out of work.

The local Texas Employment Commission is located in the basement offices at the corner of College Ave. and 25th St.

In addition to Scurry County, job figures were released for the five other counties served through the Sweetwater-based TEC office. These include:

—Nolan County: 7.7 percent unemployment with a labor force of 7,779 — 7,179 employed and 600 unemployed.

—Mitchell County: 4.9 percent unemployment with a labor force of 4,570 — 4,347 employed and 223 unemployed.

—Fisher County: 5.1 percent unemployment with a labor force of 2,255 — 2,139 employed and 116 unemployed.

—Stonewall County: 2.2 percent unemployment with a labor force of 1,117 — 1,092 employed and 25 unemployed.

—Kent County: 3.2 percent unemployment with a labor force of 471 — 456 employed and 15 unemployed.

Parents keep vigil at crib

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — Samuel and Patricia Frustaci kept a vigil at the crib of one of their four surviving septuplets, Bonnie Marie, after her tiny, 16-day-old brother, James Martin, died in his parents' arms.

Three other Frustaci infants remained in critical but stable condition at Childrens Hospital, where doctors said they were encouraged by their progress.

The father, saying Bonnie Marie "was hanging on by a thread," wept Thursday as he told reporters how James Martin battled for life.

"When we spoke to him, his eyes would open and he would gaze from side to side," Frustaci said. "His eyes remained open even at his death."

Frustaci said the small baby was "a fighter" like the infant nicknamed "Peanut," 1-pound David Anthony, who died May 24.

Another of the seven children born 12 weeks early to the Riverside couple, Christina Elizabeth, was dead at birth.

The other three septuplets, Patricia Ann, Stephen Earl and Richard Charles, make progress every day and are gaining weight, doctors said. The infants, delivered by Caesarean section May 21, were using ventilators to breathe.

"Baby Bonnie is still fighting for life with only a very, very small chance of survival," said Dr. Carrie Worcester, director of newborn intensive care at Childrens Hospital.

The doctor said she believed James Martin's life was prolonged by his parents' frequent visits.

"It was amazing," she said. "When the mother would touch the baby the oxygen saturation (in his blood) would go up 10 percent. When she left, it would go down."
