MAJESTIC

San Antonio
Week of Feb. 22th to 28th

It is not often that a vaudeville bill has two headliners, but the Majestic next week promises the twin attraction of Elsa Ruegger, clever musician, and Don Fullano, the wonderful tricked show, with the confidence of the continued success of both these acts.

Miss Ruegger is a woman cellist. The fact that she is a woman and plays the cello in itself should excite the curiosity of music lovers, for women cellists are rare. But Miss Ruegger is more than a woman cellist. She is a cellist with a most enviable reputation.

Miss Ruegger's chief reason to be proud of her vaudeville achievement is that she has met the tastes of that class of amusement lovers that demands quick, lively entertainment as a rule.

Her act is not designed to appeal to the hot polli, but it is designed to appeal to any lover of the beautiful. Her husband, Edmund Lichtenstein, acts as her conductor and manager.

Don Fullano, the horse with a human-like brain, is the other headliner. Don Fullano was trained and exhibited on the stage by Floyd Elliott, an Arkansas cowboy and ranchman. Don Fullano strikes matches, lights his master's cigarettes, shines his master's shoes, and performs many other tricks. He is a horse with a human-like brain, and he is a horse with a human-like personality.

Here comes another one of those acts that finds the weak spot in the makeup of the vaudeville audience. It is an act about the life of vaudeville people as the audience does not see them.

Flanigan and Edwards. Present the sketch called "On and Off."

U. S. ORDERS HANDS OF IN MEXICO'S TROUBLE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—While admitting its anxiety, Secretary Bryan declined to discuss further the statement by the German undersecretary of state to the Imperial parliament that Germany had been notified by the United States that nobody outside of Mexico could enforce a settlement of that country's present difficulties.

The view that the Mexican factions should be allowed to adjust their differences without outside interference was expressed when the American government gave notice to the world powers that its embargo against the exportation of arms to Mexico had been raised.

Officials pointed out today that similar expressions had been communicated repeatedly to other powers when their diplomatic representatives asked what the United States intended to do in Mexico.

The question of Mexican responsibility for losses sustained by foreigners resident in Mexico is one which at present the state department declines to enter upon. It was suggested that the German undersecretary expressed only the German view when he said assurances had been given that all losses would be indemnified. The history of past revolutionary movements in the western Hemisphere presents some contradictions of doctrine in this regard, and the disposition of the officials is to leave such matters to be adjusted after the present revolution ends.

Hoplin, Feb. 16.—The Mexican situation was discussed today in the Imperial Parliament. Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, answered an interpellation by two of the National Liberal leaders as to "whether Provisional President Huerta has made representations to Germany in regard to the raising of the embargo on arms by the United States."

Dr. Zimmermann said the United States government, who had informed Germany of the raising of the embargo, had expressed the conviction that nobody outside of Mexico could enforce a settlement of that country's difficulties. Restoration of peace in Mexico, he said, could be hoped for only if the Mexican parties were allowed to fight out their quarrels without interference and the raising of the embargo merely gave American citizens the same right of self-defense as was enjoyed by other nations.

The undersecretary informed the House that measures had been taken to protect Germans in Mexico and decided that the German government was fully responsible for all their property losses.

Britain Sends Guns to Mexico City.

London, Feb. 16.—A party of British bluejackets landed two machine guns from the British ship Suffolk late last night and placed them on board a car on the coast. The guns were sent to the British legation in Mexico City.

With the guns was sent a great quantity of ammunition.

It is supposed here that the guns and ammunition are intended for the defense of the British legation in case of an uprising in the federal capital.

Off.—The first scene is "off." The two vaudeville acts are seen in their apartment in the cold gray dawn of the morning after. They are snoring at each other, and discuss the events of the glorious night before.

The second scene discloses them on their way to the theater, still cross at each other, and all the more enjoyable to the audience because their quarrel is so funny.

Then they are seen on the stage. They are "on" now, and their attitude toward each other has nothing to do with the way they really felt about it.

E. J. Flanigan

Of this team was for years a cowpuncher in the National stockyards in East St. Louis, and he has often expressed a desire to come to Texas and see the kind of humor that he has punched far away from "home."

Neely L. Edwards, portrait painter, to take up vaudeville after his service in his present line was discovered when he appeared as an actor at Cincinnati.

Van and Carrie Avery

Have a comedy sketch called "The Night Porter." Avery is known to the owners of phonographs as the reciter of "Just Plain Dor." The sketch is founded on the imaginary trials of a negro hotel porter who has an impossible amount of work to do and who doesn't do it. Avery in the black face part is said to be one of the funniest of his craft, and Miss Avery is a splendid foil. She sings the absolute frappe song and her part never always comes in when he sings his aeroplane number.

Walter DeLeon and "Muggins" Davies will appear in song selections from "The Campbells." They are the late stars of this musical comedy and have saved the "meal" of this successful show and decorated it with a lot of new songs and dialogue that make an attractive and successful production.

"The Girl Aboard"

is a Menlo Moore offering with a cast of five persons, a pleasing scenic arrangement and good musical numbers. The characters in the act are: The Boy, the Girl, the Cabin Watch, the Emigrant and the Invalid. The scene is a portion of the forward deck of the S. S. Imperator at mid-ocean. The musical numbers are: "The Gal From My Home Town," "That Wooley Little Feeling Called Love," and "Marie," an accordion specialty.

The Standard Brothers

Are a pair of sturdy young athletes who appear braver than they are. Long and whose apparent lack of proportion evidently has given them an abnormal strength. They will perform a number of new and difficult athletic feats.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT OPPOSES DANCING

Austin, Tex., Feb. 16.—President A. Garland Adair of the Students' Association, suggests Reception.

Adair has read his annual message to the Students' Association, the law-making body of the institution. The assembly was created last year. Its function and procedure are similar to that of the national law-making body. Aside from its routine of making and revising laws, the assembly is now engaged in a new constitution for the student body.

Three things were advocated by President Adair. The last was perhaps the most important. He advocated a "Thanksgiving" reception to be given at Thanksgiving. The reception as suggested by him differs in every particular from the formal dance given the last two years. In the first place, it is to be held in the University campus in University buildings. He desires dancing in the University name and recommends that no dance be given on the campus in the name of the University of Texas. Relative to dancing as a form of student activity, Adair said in part:

"It is admitted by all that the reception of the Thanksgiving reception problem will be found when a gymnasium is built. . . . The gymnasium will be a place adequate for the reception of thousands that should attend a University reception. It would lower the expense attendant on the giving of a big reception. It would be a University building on the campus of the University of Texas. Such a reception should be given on the campus."

"As to the formality or informality of the reception, I suggest that the matter would find solution in the very nature of the reception. It does not seem in conformity with consideration for any class of students to give a dance in any of the buildings of the University or under the guise of a University reception."

"I submit that it is a matter of common information that thousands of Texas citizens are opposed to dancing. There is no reason to believe that the endorsement of dancing in some degree detracts from their interest in this institution. I venture to say that the majority of the fathers and mothers of Texas students are included in this number."

"This University will make greater progress when it eliminates all deterring influences. Dancing is a deterring influence."

NEW REGULATIONS FOR MAIL AND MONEY

President Wilson Signed Bill Which Is Expected to Greatly Increase the Postoffice Department Business

The bill to regulate the payment of postal money orders became a law of the land as a result of President Wilson's signature. The new statute will not become effective, however, until rules and regulations for its operation are promulgated by the Postmaster General. This will require several months.

Immediately following the signing of the bill, Postmaster General Burdett has appointed a committee of postal employees to prepare rules and regulations to carry the law into effect. The bill calls for the issuance of postal money orders payable at any money order office, even though drawn on a special office, and will, according to the Postmaster General, increase the volume of postal money order business and prove a great help to the business public, giving as it does to the postal money order the virtues and convenience of a bank draft.

Figures made public by the Postmaster General show that in the last fiscal year nearly $1,000,000 domestic money orders were issued amounting to almost $625,000,000. The net income to the Postoffice Department on account of money orders issued, was over $5,000,000. At present there are more than 57,000 money order offices in the United States. The committee named by the Postmaster General consists of A. M. Dockery, Third Assistant Postmaster General; C. A. Gram, auditor for the Postoffice Department; C. E. Matthews, superintendent of the division of money orders; C. H. Fulmatt, assistant director of the department of postal savings; and L. M. Bartlett, expert accountant for the department.

Letters Will Be Dispatched Without Postage, But Consignees Pay Double.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 16.—Hereafter any first-class mail and even postal cards will be sent through the United States mails without a sign of postage. But there is to be a rude awakening for the persons who receive such mail. They will be charged just double the ordinary postal rate.

WINS PRIZE AT CORN SHOW

Kerman Smith of Elmendorf Awarded Feterita Honors at National Show.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 16.—If the grown-up farmers of Bexar county will follow the lead of young Kerman Smith of Elmendorf, Feterita bids fair to become one of the best and most profitable crops that can be planted here.

Young Smith is a member of the Bexar County Boys' Corn Club, and carried away first prize at the National Corn Show at Dallas for the best exhibit of Feterita. When it is considered that thirty-eight States have exhibits at the National Corn Show, the honors won by the Bexar county boy are flattering.

Feterita resembles Kaffir corn somewhat, and is said to be very nutritious and to mature more rapidly than any other feed stuff.

W. G. Hand, who wired Ray M. Mackey yesterday from Dallas, telling of the prize being won by Bexar county, is a field agent for the United States Agricultural Bureau, and is affiliated with the Real Estate Exchange division of the Chamber of Commerce.

FOREIGNERS IN MEXICO

GROWING UNEASY

European Colonies, Particularly the English, Review Efforts at Organization for Defense.

City of Mexico, Feb. 16.—There have been no developments in the general military situation, but residents of the capital anticipate early action in the region around Torreon. Should the Constitutionalists gain a decided victory there it is feared trouble in the capital may be precipitated by sympathizers.

Members of the European colonies particularly English, have resumed efforts at organization for defense. Rifles and machine guns have been moved to the British legation, and it is said the British government will be asked to grant permission for the transfer to the capital of sufficient marines from the cruiser Essex to handle the machine guns.

To avoid raising the question of blinding a legation guard, it is proposed that only five or six marines be landed in an unofficial capacity.

Constitutionalists today again cut the oil supply from Tampico after the railroad into San Luis Potosi, this time emphasizing their work by the total destruction of a passenger train, wiping out the military escort and killing and wounding many passengers.

At Las Canoas, twenty-five miles south of Cardenas, dynamite mines were exploded beneath a passenger train from Tampico. A battle between the Federal escort of fifty and the Constitutionalists ensued in which all the Federals were killed. Off the locomotive fed the brush and some succeeded in reaching nearby stations. The train was burned, after which the Constitutionalists tore up almost a mile of track. A military train has been dispatched from Cardenas to the scene.

Mexican officials so far have made no effort at retaliation against American residents here since the lifting of the embargo on arms from the United States, but it is no secret that the close personal relations formerly existing between Charles O'Shaughnessy and President Huerta are strained.

They have not seen each other since the day the embargo was lifted, though Mr. O'Shaughnessy has sent word from Tampico. A battle between the Federal escort of fifty and the Constitutionalists ensued in which all the Federals were killed. Off the locomotive fed the brush and some succeeded in reaching nearby stations. The train was burned, after which the Constitutionalists tore up almost a mile of track. A military train has been dispatched from Cardenas to the scene.

Rumors of cabinet changes continue to circulate, the most persistent being that Foreign Minister Moreno and President Huerta are estranged. When Adolfo de la Lanza returns from Europe, and Jose Lopez Portillo y Rojas, who recently resigned the governorship of the State of Jalisco, is installed as Foreign Minister.

What the war department regards as a serious reverse to the movement by the Sierra Indians in Puebla was administered today at Zacatlan, according to official reports. These said eighty-four rebels were killed and the town of Zacatlan was re-occupied by Federals.

MEXICAN CATTLE NOT

ACCEPTED AT LAREDO

Thousands of Head Are Held in Stock Pens at Matamoros—Last Cattle Train From Laredo Here.

San Antonio, Feb. 16.—The principal topic of conversation among cattlemen here lately has been the detention of Mexican cattle at the Texas border by representatives of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry on account of the recent discovery of scabies in some of the cattle that were being crossed over.

It is stated that a large number of cattle were also turned back yesterday at Laredo and that no cattle will be allowed to cross into Texas until detailed instructions are received from the department at Washington. The first place on the border where the hold up was made is at Brownsville, and there are said to be several thousand head now at Matamoros in the stock pens.

Dr. Levi T. Johnson of San Antonio, who is the United States veterinary inspector for Southwest Texas, is in Brownsville now, waiting instructions from Washington. No one is permitted to venture a guess as to the final outcome. One thing is certain, however, it has already put a stop to the large shipment that have been going through the San Antonio yards for several weeks past.

A train that Capt. W. T. Way expected to have shipped out of Brownsville early this week was never loaded, and the last train out of Laredo for this city arrived at the Union Stock Yards yesterday and the cattle were bought by local buyers.

The Brownsville Herald published an interesting interview with Dr. Johnson. It is as follows: "The discovery of scabies on a cow in a herd of Mexican cattle late Monday afternoon caused the issuance of a quarantine order." At the ports of Brownsville and Hidalgo by Dr. Levi T. Johnson of San Antonio, veterinary inspector in charge of the district. The quarantine order will hold until a ruling is received from the Department of Agriculture, which Dr. Johnson expects soon.

Dr. Johnson states that in all his experience on the border this is the first case of scabies in cattle that has come to his attention. It is a very contagious disease, and affects sheep and swine. It was first reported in the United States. The inspector states that where one head is discovered to be infected with the disease a whole herd is quarantined. It is a general quarantine. Strict regulations have been made by the Department of Agriculture to prevent stock disease with scabies entering the United States. The quarantine is considered dangerous to the animal industry.

"According to Dr. Johnson, the disease may be communicated from one head of cattle to another, or from sheep to sheep, but the same mite which would communicate the disease from one animal to another of the same kind would not affect any other species of animal."

"The quarantine instruction has raised a great howl among the Mexican cattle buyers in Brownsville and along the lower border. Many of these have already purchased and paid for thousands of head of cattle now on the range, and if the Department of Agriculture establishes a quarantine against the cattle it would mean a hardship to the buyers."

"Dr. Johnson will give no opinion as to the propriety of the mite being under the circumstances. However, it is the belief of some of the cattle buyers that if arrangements are made to dip the cattle when they are imported that will be permitted to enter by the department."

"The cattlemen have signified their willingness to dip the cattle if necessary. The vets are already constructing pens at Zacatlan. If necessary, it is stated, is their preparation."

"The order of quarantine has also affected the railroad company, which has taken a large number of cattle cars, being held here for shipping purposes. The company is paying a daily rental for these cars. The cattlemen are anxiously awaiting the ruling from the Department of Agriculture."

"All of the cattle and calves received here yesterday were consigned for sale at San Antonio. The market during the early hours of the morning, and soon showed signs of life and the best cattle offered brought prices on a par with last week's market. There were seventeen loads of Mexican cattle from Laredo. This is the last train probably that will be allowed to be shipped from that place into Texas for some time. The fact that the Government has extended the quarantine to Laredo, instead of raising it at Brownsville, as some of the speculators in Mexican cattle had hoped for, shows that there is little probability of any immediate rescinding of the order holding up cattle because of the appearance of scabies."

The total number of cattle received here yesterday was 387 head, 224 calves, 50 hogs and 15 sheep. Prices were about steady compared with last week's market. No cattle were received here for through shipment and none are expected, owing to the quarantine of Texas port against Mexican stuff.

Expressed the hope that the matter would soon be straightened out and that a resumption of shipping could soon be undertaken. In the meantime, cattle are being bunched in the pens at Laredo and many of the old ranchers are being kept from getting down to such a dilapidated condition as some of our ranchers are at the present time.

"I hope that the information contained in this bulletin will stimulate a keener interest in orchard management and that the enthusiasm of our good people will be better and more fruit will be renewed to such an extent that within a short time flour-

DEMONSTRATION FARMS

Amendment Requiring Negro Colleges Be Allowed to Share in Fund Was Defeated.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The House agricultural extension bill passed the Senate with amendments without a dissenting vote.

The bill provides for demonstrations on farms of approved methods and approved scientific discoveries made in State agricultural colleges, normal colleges and in the Federal Department of Agriculture. The Secretary of Agriculture and land grant agricultural colleges are to outline plans for carrying out demonstrations. All agreed to in the Senate the bill would appropriate an additional $10,000 annually to each State. In addition a sum of $500,000 is appropriated for a year's increase of $500,000 for the next seven years to be provided for distribution among the States on a basis of rural population, conditional on each State appropriating a sum equal to its portion of the Federal funds. After seven years the bill would provide a permanent appropriation of $1,000,000 annually.

An amendment requiring that negro colleges be permitted to share in the fund was defeated by a vote of 32 to 23. The bill was amended, however, to result of a fight in the race question, by placing the distribution of funds in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture and respective Governors in States having normal and agricultural colleges. An also specifying against race discrimination in the demonstration work.

The bill probably will be considered soon in conference between the two houses.

HOW TO RAISE FRUIT

NEW ISSUE OF DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AVAILABLE.

Texas Conditions and Practices Now Being Used in This State Are Handled in Booklet Now Ready.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 16.—The Texas Department of Agriculture has received from the printer and has ready for free distribution to Farmers' Institutes and to farmers and others generally who are interested in the subject and who may request copies, its bulletin No. 32, "A B C of Fruit Growing, Being a Guide to the Beginner in Fruit Growing," by Sam H. Dixon, chief inspector of nursery and orchard inspection, Texas State Department of Agriculture.

Adapted by Many Sections. The above varying conditions call for different methods of orchard management in each section of Texas. Realizing this need, and knowing that fruit growing in this state is bound to force ahead and become a more profitable industry by the use of the most intelligent efforts in its promotion, I have had prepared and have ready for distribution a booklet, which gives excellent information not only on better orchard culture, but also treats fully the marketing of fruit, the control of destructive agencies and many other important phases connected with the production of high quality fruit.

Sam H. Dixon, chief inspector of orchards and nurseries for the State Agricultural Department for the last seven years, and author of this valuable bulletin, is a well known fruit growing, having studied orchard problems from his early childhood, and is now testing and growing various fruits on his farm. Mr. Dixon has spent many years of hard study on this important subject by visiting every fruit section of Texas, and by making two trips over the structure one to Florida in 1911 and another to California in 1912, where he secured the latest and best information on the culture and marketing of fruits.

Mr. Dixon has spent many years of hard study on this important subject by visiting every fruit section of Texas, and by making two trips over the structure one to Florida in 1911 and another to California in 1912, where he secured the latest and best information on the culture and marketing of fruits.

Subject Is Well Handled. His unlimited supply of knowledge along horticultural lines has made it possible for him to cover every phase of the subject with a great deal of valuable information that can be used by the farmer who has only a few trees for table fruit and it contains matter that will readily aid fruit growers who have been in the business for years.

"The circulated reports, many of which were exaggerated, of the large yields of fruits in Texas several years ago with a small amount of labor, led people of all vocations to embark in fruit raising. Many of these had no experience whatever of successful fruit growing and became discouraged because trees did not bring the expected returns within a few years of time. Consequently, a large percentage of our Texas orchards are being neglected and injurious insects and destructive plant diseases are allowed to increase at will."

Tree Diseases Increased. "This condition could be got on. By intelligently following the cultural methods and by vigorously applying the necessary remedies for the control of insects and plant diseases as given in this bulletin many of the old orchards can be rejuvenated and young orchards can be kept from getting down to such a dilapidated condition as some of our orchards are at the present time."

"I hope that the information contained in this bulletin will stimulate a keener interest in orchard management and that the enthusiasm of our good people will be better and more fruit will be renewed to such an extent that within a short time flour-

FOREIGN LIFE GAMBLE

Name Is Taken from Fact That Those Killing Themselves Have First Gambled for Chance to Live.

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—Sixty-seven suicides in Europe during the past three years which had been expressed by the United States. It is such a strange institution to Americans visiting Germany that they usually require the explanation that an American duel is a gamble for life.

Two persons involved in a quarrel draw lots to decide which of them shall destroy himself before a given date. For years cases of suicides have been described as due to such games of chance and it has been a widespread belief in Europe that quarreling parties often resorted to this "American duel."

There is no such thing, according to psychologists who have been studying the circumstances of numerous suicides so described. It appears that the popularity of the term "American duel" is due to the fact that dueling is an honorable affair in Germany and persons who for one reason or another decide upon self-destruction make it a point to die "honorably" by ascribing their act to this strange gamble for life.

Prof. Hans Gross, who has studied the subject, believes that the American duel is altogether a romantic invention and doubts that any one in Germany ever indulges in it. Other forms of dueling also falsely described as American institutions are occasionally heard of in Germany. In one the combatants take hold of the opposite corners of a handkerchief and while thus holding themselves within range back at each other with knives until one or both falls. Another form is that in which the rivals draw from a pill box containing two pills of identical appearance, one of them harmless and the other containing a deadly poison, but it is doubtful that these methods are ever really practiced in Germany.

THE PANSHANGER RAPHAEL was painted about 1555, when the artist was 22 years old. The picture, which is on a panel 24 inches in height and 17 inches wide, was originally acquired by George Nasau, third Earl of Lincoln, when he was British minister at Florence in 1579.

"Ain't you rather young to be left in charge of a drug store?" "Perhaps; what can I do for you?" "Do your employers know it is dangerous to leave you in charge of such a place?" "I am competent to serve you, madam, if you will state your wants."

"Do they know you might poison someone?" "There is no danger of that, madam; what can I do for you?" "I think I better go to the store down the street."

"I can serve you just as well as they can as cheaply." "Well, you may give me a two-cent stamp, but it don't look right."

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE.

Harry Lauder told an amusing story the other day of two Glasgow women who met in the street and began to discuss the domestic affairs of a newly married couple. "Aye, Mrs. McTavish," said one, "so Jeanie's got married." "She has that, Mrs. Alpine," replied the other.

"An' how's she gettin' on?" the first woman wanted to know. "Oh, no sad at all," was the reply. "There's only one thing the matter. She thinks she could have got a better man. But then there's aye something."

VERY POPULAR.

"She says she had several men running after her at the seaside." "Ha, ha; so that's what she says, eh?" "Yes; my, she must have been popular." "Well, I hardly call it that. What she means was she came very near drowning one day, and the whole life saving crew ran after her."

PAINTING MURDER

Philadelphia Man Bought Picture Painting for Sum in Room of $700,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The purchase by P. A. B. Widener of Philadelphia of the "Small Cowper Madonna," by Raphael, the most valuable picture ever brought to this country announced today. For a sum said to be in excess of $700,000, creates a record price for a single art transaction in this country.

The previous record was Mr. Widener's purchase of "The Mill," by Rembrandt, for $500,000. Other paintings which have been bought by art collectors here at high prices are: "Portrait of the Duke of Orleans," by Velasquez, purchased by Mrs. Collis P. Huntington for $400,000; "Portrait of Self, Wife and Child," by Franz Hals, purchased by Duveen Brothers for $400,000; "St. Roch," by Rubens, purchased by Andrew Carnegie for $300,000; "Portrait of the Hon. Anne E. Duncombe," by Gainsborough, purchased by H. C. Frick for $400,000.

"The Small Cowper Madonna," also known as the "Panshanger Raphael," only recently arrived in this country from England, where it was purchased last November by Duveen Brothers for $500,000. The picture was first offered to the National gallery in London, but funds were not available for its purchase. The press of England at the time protested against the loss of the famous Madonna.

"The Panshanger Raphael" was painted about 1555, when the artist was 22 years old. The picture, which is on a panel 24 inches in height and 17 inches wide, was originally acquired by George Nasau, third Earl of Lincoln, when he was British minister at Florence in 1579.

What Do You Mean When You Mean Service?

A Valuable, But Much Abused Word,
—And Some Things it Means to Us.

Some enterprising merchant way back in Roman times, copyrighted the trade-mark "Servo"—meaning "I Serve." And ever since that day business men have been vying with one another in extolling their "service," which, forsooth, is so much better than of the firm next door.

What does it all mean anyhow? Speaking of the lighting business alone, "service," means more than promptness and accuracy in filling orders and careful attention to complaints, though all of that is vital. Perhaps "service" can best be summarized in the phrase "Anticipation of the Customer's Needs." Service is the golden rule of business—and it pays as a golden rule should, in good hard cash. That is our rule. We believe in it. Service and Reliability are what the people want. We give it. We have Brownwell Steam Engine, General Electric Co.'s Dynamo, 25 K. W.

ATTRACTIONS AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE

PLAYS THAT HAVE HAD LONG AND SUCCESSFUL
RUNS IN NEW YORK, TO BE SEEN HERE
DURING THE COMING WEEK.

A SCENE FROM THE PINK LADY

MADAME NAZIMOVA.

Madame Nazimova, undoubtedly one of the most rarely gifted of players, is this season presenting her latest success, "Bella Donna," which scored so heavily in New York last year. It is a remarkable play, an adaptation from Robert Hichens' well-known novel of the same name by James Bernard Pagan, and from the actress' standpoint a remarkable feat, for it permits her greater scope to show her artistry than any role in which she has yet been seen. Nazimova, of course, plays the erotic, rapt and serpentine "Mrs. Chepstone" and her rendition of the part is said to be a triumph. The staging of the play is most effective, particularly that of the third act that shows a wonderful red sunset on the Nile with its background of Egyptian monuments and the action takes place upon the houseboat "Louisa," which is moored to one of the banks of the historic river. Charles Frohman has provided a particularly fine supporting company, the same with her all of last season. "Bella Donna" is unquestionably one of the big successes of the year and Madame Nazimova in the title role will be presented at the Grand, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 20, 21.

"THE PINK LADY."

One of the satisfactions gained in the phenomenal success of the musical hit, "The Pink Lady," which is to be seen here soon, is that it is every sense an American production. Each detail of its splendor outlined originally in this country and the imported gowns and costumes used were only brought over to give local color to the scenes that are located in Paris, according to the demand of the play.

Heretofore we have had to depend upon the continental field for really successful musical comedies. "The Pink Lady" reverses this and is singularly enough it is the latest success of the kind America ever known, and has achieved a greater success in London and in, and even fastidious Vienna, home of modern musical comedy. Manager John C. Fisher will send a "Pink Lady" to visit San Antonio on Feb. 27, 28. Mail orders delivered now for this big attraction.

"LOWA, THE FAMOUS RUSSIAN DANCER, COMING

Lowa pays a compliment to San Antonio. So does the management. The divinity of the dancer. For she is the only city of like size in America which gets three performances this season by the incomparable, Anna and her cohorts. The two company and orchestra, will give three appearances at the Grand Opera House next month, the night of Tuesday, February 24, and the week end of Wednesday, February 25. Three separate programs will be given, and San Antonio will be the big sensation of the season in New York and Chicago.

MME. PAVLOVA
The Famous Russian Dancer, February 24 and 25.

Two different ballads or dance dramas, and seven and eight different diversions or shorter numbers will be presented at each performance. And the sensational "Oriental" with the basket settings, and the equally startling "Preludes" with scenery and costumes by Ansfeld will not be omitted. These men are the revolutionizers of the art of stage decoration.

2 SAN ANTONIO BANKS MERGE BUSINESS

Financial Institutions Consolidate and Resources in Excess of $3,500,000.

San Antonio, Feb. 16.—Officers of the West Texas Bank and Trust Company and of the American Bank and Trust Company announced Friday that, effective at once, the two institutions will be consolidated under the name of the West Texas Bank and Trust Company. Houston street headquarters of the combined bank will remain as they are.

Before tomorrow night, it is expected, the quarters of the American Bank and Trust Company will be vacated, books, deposits and all the institution's furnishings will have been removed from Alamo Plaza to the Moore-Building. President N. S. Graham of the American Bank and Trust Company will become a vice president of the consolidated bank, and the more than $700,000 resources of the merged bank will go with the institution that retains the name of both.

Officers of the West Texas Bank and Trust Company will remain as they are at present: President, Dr. Walter F. McCabe; vice president, J. H. Savage; vice president (active), Leon N. Walthall; cashier, W. B. Hamilton; assistant cashiers, Alex P. Villaret and Robert Maxey.

The resources of the combined institutions are in excess of $3,500,000, making the West Texas Bank and Trust Company one of the largest banks in the Southwest. Its growth during the five years of its existence has been a splendid tribute to those who have guided its affairs.

The American Bank and Trust Company was organized in December, 1906, and opened its doors for business January 1, 1907. Harry Landis of New Braunfels was its first president, retiring, however, in favor of Mr. Graham, who has been the active force in the bank's affairs ever since.

Officers and directors of the two institutions, it is understood, have been negotiating for the consolidation several weeks. The change was considered advisable by both boards or directors. The rest was a matter of detail and was looked after without any hitch.

All depositors of the American Bank and Trust Company are promised courteous treatment, as is the West Texas Bank's, and all their banking business, it is guaranteed, will be attended to with promptness and efficiency.

Twice has the West Texas Bank and Trust Company, through the huge increase in deposits, been compelled under the law to increase its capital stock. The capital now is $250,000, and will remain at that figure, the $700,000 resources of the American Bank and Trust Company making no change in that feature of its business. Its stock—the little that is offered for sale—goes at a big figure.

It has been for months one of the most prosperous banking concerns of the country and the change is expected by bankers to add to its prosperity. Mr. Graham had as stockholders and depositors many strong business men, and it is believed practically all of them will stay with the united institution.

News of the merger created much interest among bankers and business men generally, though rumors of the consolidation had been life in some circles several days.

EVELYN NESBIT THAW COMING.

That she may be judged for her artistic merits alone, the same as her fellow professionals, is the desire of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the most talked of woman in the world, who is to appear at the Grand in March at the head of a company of seventy-five in the clever French musical diversion, "Mariette," from the Alhambra Theatre, London. Evelyn Thaw has waited six years for the opportunity connected with her name to die out before returning to the stage. In both London, where she made her debut, and in New York, she received unstinted praise from all of the theatrical reviewers for her artistic performance.

CLEANLINESS KEYNOTE IN POULTRY RAISING

It is time to get ready for the spring hatchings and to prepare to give the young chickens the required attention. To secure the best results, begin by looking well to the condition of the present flock. Proper food and pure water go far toward the health of the fowl, but don't fail to get rid of the insects before hatching season comes on—then begin with the young chick and keep it clean and free from these pests. It will pay even the small raiser to use a machine for applying grease or oil to the head and neck. The Chicken Life Saver now advertised in the leading journals is being successfully used by many, thus saving time, labor and also does away with the disagreeable work of the hand method. Freedom from insects insures the saving of the lives of many chickens, the rapid growth of the young chick, and the increase of eggs from the laying hens.

TIME FOR THE CRISIS IN HAITI REPUBLIC

Provisional President Zamor Sending Forces by Land and Sea Against Rebel Who Has Set Up a Separate Government at Cape Haitien.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—Expecting a crisis in the Haitian revolution in a few days, Commander Harrison of the American cruiser San Francisco today landed thirty-five marines at Cape Haitien to protect foreigners and their property.

Commander Harrison said he had received information of the approval of the Haitian federal forces by both land and sea in Provisional President Zamor's effort to crush the power of General Theodore, who has set up a separate government at Cape Haitien.

Officials here have the utmost confidence there is ample force on the San Francisco to protect American interests. It is expected that if fighting is carried into the limits of Cape Haitien proper the Americans will insist on the establishment of a neutral zone, into which Americans and other foreigners and non-combatants may retire.

State department officials are watching the impending clash with interest, as on the result depends General Zamor's attempt to demonstrate that he is in full control of the situation in the island republic, which is one of the conditions of recognition of his government, which so far has been withheld by the United States.

SEEKING A SENATOR

Petitions Asking Wahlund to Run Circulated and Carlos Bee Also Urged.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 16.—Publication in the Express yesterday of the fact that friends are urging John H. Kirkpatrick to become a candidate for the State Senate, served to arouse deep interest in an important office that most San Antonians had nearly overlooked in an effort to discover who is likely to be governor.

Petitions asking Carlos Bee to run for the place now held by Senator Real were circulated about the city and liberally signed.

Those petitions read: "Hon. Otto Wahlund—We, the undersigned voters, appreciating the good and honest service that you have rendered our city as a member of the House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature, and recognizing your ability and honesty, hereby request that you submit your name as a candidate for State Senator in the Democratic primaries to be held in July, 1914."

Friends of Mr. Kirkpatrick say they have almost lost hope of persuading him to enter the contest. Colonel Wahlund, it is known, has not definitely made up his mind. He is expected to make positive announcement of his intentions soon. Those two do not conclude the list of San Antonians who are being discussed. Carlos Bee is receiving letters and verbal requests from voters in every county of the Twenty-fourth Senatorial District, all of whom are seeking to persuade him to announce as a candidate. Mr. Bee, just returned from a business trip to Oklahoma, would not discuss the matter, but intimates friends say there will have to be an open field for him before he will consent to allow his name to go on the ballot.

Organized labor and those considered progressive in politics generally are said to be insistent that Mr. Bee permit use of his name as a candidate. On the floor of the Senate last summer Senator Real introduced Mr. Bee with expressions of the hope that he might be his (Real's) successor. Mr. Bee's championship of the fifty-four hours working law for women and girls has caused all who believe in the merit of that statute to join in the insistence that he run. But, his friends say, he will not enter into a contest for the place. They expect him to announce in the event there is no other candidate in the field during the next ten days.

There is also some interest being displayed now in the personnel of the Texas county delegation in the House. Speaker Terrell is a candidate for governor. Should Colonel Wahlund run for the Senate, there will be another vacancy in his place. Representative Schweigman is the only positively announced candidate, though it is generally believed Representative D. A. McSkiff will be prevailed on to run once more. Other mentioned in connection with the House membership from this county are August McLooney and J. Ira Kercheville. Friends are clamoring for the entrance of both.

DALTON WARNS BOYS

Former Outlaw Preaches Observance of Law of Land Is Best Policy.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 16.—"I am not posing here as a hero or a model of morals. I stand here as a penitent and as a warning to you young fellows. It does not pay to do wrong. I have tried it and know."

Uttered quietly and in a manner diffident, the quoted sentences were some of the sentiments expressed by Emmett Dalton in connection with the auction pictures of the Coffeyville raid given in the Gutter Hotel ball room last night in aid of the playgrounds movement in San Antonio.

Dalton's talk was brief, but it carried the conviction that "The wages of sin is death." Continuing, he said:

"These pictures are produced to help young fellows keep out of trouble. They are intended to teach the lesson that laws cannot be broken without bringing suffering. I stand always for the enforcement of law. I don't have much use for the fellows who pretend to enforce the law."

Turning to about 100 newboys who had entered to see the pictures, the speaker said:

"Boys, you cannot afford to do wrong. A boy's mother is the best friend he has. Right or wrong, she will stick to him longer than any one else. Obey your mothers, respect the law and you will grow up to be useful citizens."

Appearing in behalf of the movement to establish public playgrounds in this city, George H. Badger said the playgrounds proposition rested on the theory that boys and girls are good fellows when they are outside of trouble. That the playground enterprise was an attempt to get at this phase of the child's education. He said proper playgrounds mean healthier children, better children, and a better community; therefore, he urged the people of San Antonio to get behind the playgrounds movement and give it every possible assistance.

The Gutter Hotel ball room was converted into a moving picture house in three hours yesterday afternoon. The dramatic effect of the pictures, in a measure, was lost because of too much light filtering into the hall from the outside. The attendance was not as large as the association had expected. The pictures were shown the second time for the benefit of a small group of newboys who had been invited to attend in the hope that they might be taught valuable lessons.

METHODIST BUSY ON EDUCATION CAMPAIGN

Commission for Texas Meets With Bishop James Atkins Presiding.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 16.—The commission of Education of Texas Methodism at a special meeting held here today, presided over by Bishop James Atkins of Waynesville, N. C., president of the commission, discussed the various Methodist schools located in Texas, with the view of pushing campaigns for their improvements.

The commission devoted considerable time to a discussion of the Southern Methodist University at Dallas and it was the unanimous decision that work is to be prosecuted until this institution has been made one of the best universities in the country. Already it was reported that $50 prospective students had been registered and efforts are to be made to open the university next September.

The trustees of Polytechnic College at Fort Worth were authorized to open the institution as a woman's college next fall if they so desired.

Plans were made for raising $200,000 for constructing and equipping new buildings at Southwestern University, Georgetown. Dr. C. M. Bishop, president of the university, with Dr. R. S. Heyer and Dr. C. C. Gody, dean of the university, were in attendance at the meeting and reported that indications were that no difficulty would be experienced in raising the necessary fund.

Bishop Atkins announced a plan for a thorough organization of the West Texas Conference, as it is believed that more than usual interest will be taken in this movement by Methodists of the sections included in this section.

The members of the commission attending the meeting, which was concluded tonight, were Bishop Atkins, Waynesville, N. C., president; Rev. L. B. Elrod, Jacksonville; Rev. James Kilgore, Houston; Rev. G. S. Glover, Claremore; John W. Robbins, Dallas; Rev. O. S. Thomas, Dallas; Rev. C. M. Harless, Greenville; Geo. T. Jester, Corsicana; C. H. Groie, Castell, and Frank Reed, Dallas, secretary. Among others in attendance were Dr. H. A. Boaz, president of Polytechnic College, Fort Worth; Dr. J. D. Young, commissioner of education, Southern Methodist University, Dallas; Dr. George C. Rankin, Dallas.

GETTING POSTED ON TRUST LAWS

Congressional Committee Endeavoring to Turn All Things to Account to Secure Strong Anti-Trust Law.

Washington, Feb. 16.—How far the Administration shall go with regulation or prohibition of holding companies; whether to create a new Interstate trade commission measure; drafting a measure giving the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to regulate railroad securities and efforts to assure harmonious action, are tasks in store for the committees of Congress in charge of the Administration anti-trust legislative program. Having had the subject of trust legislation before them for two weeks, considering bills outlined by President Wilson in his message to Congress and listening to suggestions from citizens, House and Senate leaders have a clearer understanding of what is before them, but many points have arisen upon which further light is desired. Further conferences with the President are contemplated.

Senate leaders have sought to placate Republican members of the Interstate Commerce Commission who have expressed indignation because amendments proposed to the Interstate Commerce bill were rejected in executive session. Desiring of Republican co-operation, Senator McPherson, author of several proposed amendments, and Senator Clapp left a meeting of the committee yesterday when they learned of this action. Senator Newlands, chairman of the committee, assured them that no final disposition of amendments was intended to be taken in conference of Democratic members alone.

House Judiciary and Interstate Commerce Committees will continue their hearing next week. Members of the judiciary sub-committee are much impressed with the contention that while a holding company is a device frequently adopted to violate the anti-trust law is also capable of use in an entirely innocent manner. Chairman Clayton and his conferees of the sub-committee, agreed that some form of company incorporation are essential to competition.

Wants to Control Jurisdiction. Representative Morgan of Oklahoma told the House Committee on Interstate Commerce that the Administration plan to create a Federal trade commission was objectionable because it would give the Commission jurisdiction over all corporations engaged in interstate business instead of limiting jurisdiction to large corporations commonly known as trusts. Amendments on this line are being tried by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

Morgan favored restricting the Commission's jurisdiction to having an annual output of $5,000,000. He said that while this would include only from 300 to 500 corporations out of 265,000, it would include corporations which employ one-third of the wage earners in manufacturing industries and produce nearly 80 percent of the country's manufactured goods.

FUNSTON SUCCEEDS BLISS

Likely to Command Southern Department After April and Bliss May Be Assistant Chief of Staff.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Brigadier General Frederick Funston, who has gone to take command of the maneuvers camp at Texas City, probably will take command of the Southern Department when Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss is relieved in April to come to Washington, when he is expected to become assistant chief of staff of the army.

Major General W. W. Witherington probably will become chief of staff when Major General Leonard Wood retires to take command of the Department of the East. General Witherington will be relieved in November, and it is generally believed that General Bliss then will become chief of staff of the army and that Brigadier General Liggett will be his assistant.

They were a young couple and talked in loud voices on account of the rattle of the elevated train. He was not in a good humor. "I wonder," she said, "why the fellows at the movies made up wives by husbands are called 'pin money'."

"I suppose," he explained crossly, "it's because it sticks the husband."

THE LIONS IN THE WAY

Many young people who lack "gumption," get up and get, or whatever you may term it, often reason thusly: If it had not been for so and so and such and such a thing, I could have made a great success. The lions in the way of these young people and such a successful career is barred by the ifs and ands that enter into their daily life and rob them of their vim and courage. They are the breastworks thrown up by the weak and vacillating which beguile and deceive and which are offered as excuses for many failures. The lions in the way and nothing more.

Young people who lack these qualities need our help; our life work is to train young people to determine, to get up and do the things the commercial world wants done, develop their latent talents, quicken their perception, teach them Bookkeeping-Business Training Shorthand, Typewriting, Telegraphy, Station Work, Business English, Business Law, Business Arithmetic, Spelling, Business Writing, Rapid Calculation, and the use of the most modern office appliances. With such training the lion is put out of the way. We have trained thousands who are now on the road to success, and we can do the same for you. Write for catalogue, and make your arrangements to enter as early as possible. To remain where you are and what you are means that you are where you always will be. Copyrighted Farm and Ranch

"No man liveth to himself," is a truth as eternal as the ages, as everlasting as the book of life. We are bound together so that our every act has a constantly widening circle of influence over the lives of those around us.

In this great country every citizen is an integral part of the government, and it is only as the individual citizen acts rightly and thinks rightly that we accomplish any thing in making self-government successful. Of course a dominant majority of good men may triumph over a minority of evil men, but the reverse is true also, as has been demonstrated in our political life time and again.

Educated, enlightened, intelligent voters are among our greatest needs today, and these are bound to come from the public schools. Not only from the public schools, but also largely from the schools of the smaller towns and the rural schools. Perhaps our great leaders in modern thought may be trained in the universities and colleges but the army which they must lead comes direct from the public schools. An advance in civilization is marked by the average intelligence of the masses and not by the culture of the favored few. There are only a few years in the formative period of a boy or girl when he or she may be taught in our public schools. Every hour spent in a public school should be a golden hour with opportunities for culture and improvement that should leave a lasting impression throughout life.

Texas today lauds education to the skies and yet a large part of the teaching in our schools is done by half-baked youths just out of the high schools themselves and who too often have no thought on any subject higher than that of drawing their pay. There is need and urgent need for a law which will put our schools on a more permanent basis and attract a higher grade of teachers and allow them to teach one school for more than a single term. One way to do this is to allow the teacher to contract for a number of years, or until a change was deemed desirable. Let the teacher become a part of the community life. Let the pupils know that the teacher next year will be the teacher next year. In this way a continuity could be given to studies which is impossible with conditions as they are at present.
