

Chamber Seeks Money To Rebuild Christmas Lights

The slightly-out-of-season Christmas decoration adorning a light pole on California Street in downtown Floydada is a sample of what Chamber of Commerce people hope will be put up on some 40 downtown poles come Christmas time.

Chamber manager John Reue said that 20 of the units have already been ordered, and more will be forthcoming if a drive to secure contributions toward the cause is successful with Floydada businesses and individuals.

The pole decorations are being rebuilt from light strands which have been used by the town for several years. They'll be easier - and cheaper - to maintain, put up and take down than the present light strand system, the Chamber manager said.

Rebuilding the decorations from materials already at hand should result in considerable savings over the cost of a brand-new system, the Chamber believes. A new across-the-street setup such as the one used by the city the past several years would cost about $14,000, and a brand-new pole decoration setup would cost $118 each. Cost of rebuilding the decorations is about $40 each, considerably cheaper than either new system.

Reue said that requests for donations would go out to local merchants on November 1. The Chamber is looking for a response from the general public, as well as from businessmen, for donations to the Christmas decoration cause.

The requests for donations are to be mailed to local businesses only. Individuals who wish to contribute should contact the Floydada Chamber.

OVER $2 MILLION INCREASE

Grain Sorghum Program Improved

According to a report from the USDA the government grain price will be up six cents to $1.73 next year and production payments will be 38¢ per bushel, up from 29¢ in 1971. The change came about primarily due to USDA's new classification of grain sorghum as having 95% feeding value of corn, compared with a 92% rating this year.

Also to qualify for feed grain program next year, the producer will have to idle an additional five percent of his grain base. Support loans will be available on all a grower produces.

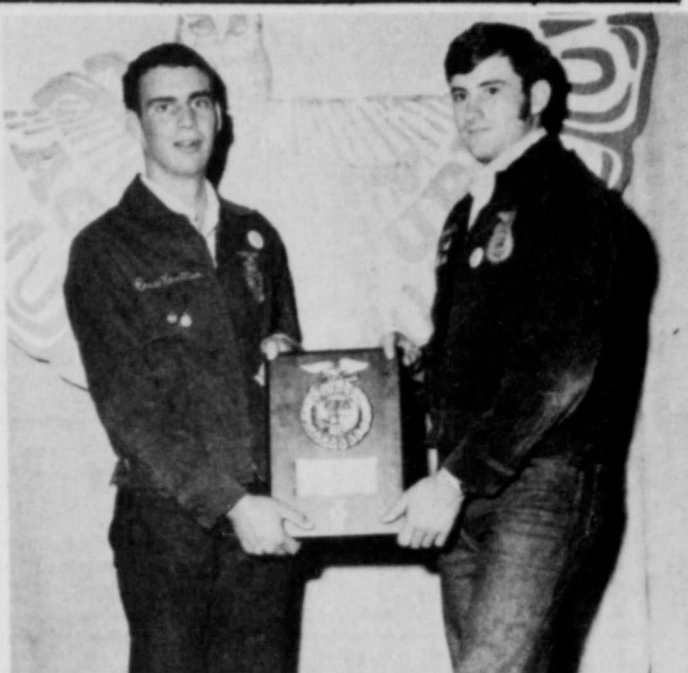

After meeting his set aside requirements, a grower can plant all the feed grain he wants. The cotton program was virtually unchanged from this year's program.

MONEY INCREASE
ASCS manager Tom Moore said Tuesday morning that the new grain program could possibly increase grain sorghum income in Floyd County $2,590,000.00 in 1972. This includes increase in price support $839,380.00; additional optional set-aside payments $875,600.00, and a possible 10% set-aside payment of $875,600.00.

Moore said this would mean a possible 44,150 grain acres set aside in the county.

CROP HALF HARVESTED
Several persons estimate this year's grain sorghum crop is half harvested in the Floydada area. One grain elevator operator said that irrigated grain was producing less than expected due to disease in the plants.

About 75% of the grain harvest is complete in the Dougherty area.

UIL Realignment Means New District For Floydada, Lockney

Floydada is one of the schools affected by the Texas University Interscholastic League's latest realignment, to take effect next fall. It's for the better for Floydada, geographically, Floydada Athletic Director Preston Watson said.

Floydada will be in District 4-AA along with Abilene, Dalhart, Lockney, Ralls and Tulla. Present District 3-AA will retain Dimmitt, Friona, Littlefield, Morton and Olton. Denver City, Post, Slaton, Tahoka, Frenship, and Lubbock Cooper and Roosevelt will comprise District 5-AA.

The only class shakeup that affects Floydada is the dropping of Tulla from AAA to Floydada's 4-AA district.

"Of course we'll have to make a number of changes and do quite a bit of enquiring as to our non-conference football schedule," Watson said. Officials of the new District 4-AA schools met Monday night to tentatively arrange district schedules.

Whirlwind head football coach L. G. Wilson was pleased with the realignment: "It will cut out those far-north trips, especially late in the season," said Wilson. The dropping of Dimmitt and Friona from the district football slate could indeed make traveling easier for Whirlwind gridders and fans in October and November.

The new alignments will be for two years. The only enrollment figures changed in the shakeup were the AAAA starting point, which was moved up from 1100 to 1120. Other enrollment lines include: 500-1199 in AAA; 230-499 in AA; 120-229 in A; and below 119 in B.

Tulla benefitted by the change, as they've been competing in AAA athletics for two years while just barely hanging in triple-A enrollment figures.

The consolidated Quitaque-Turkey school moved into Class A, as did Shallowater, Anton, Ropesville and Whiteface. Cooper, the new addition to 5-AA (formerly 4-AA) moves up from Class A.

The 1972 conference schedule (which is tentative at this time) according to Athletic Director Preston Watson is as follows: October 20, Ralls here; October 27 Floydada at Abilene; November 3 Dalhart here; November 10 Floydada at Lockney; November 17 Tulla at Floydada.

The tentative non-conference schedule, released by Watson just before press time yesterday reads like this: September 8-Crosbyton there; September 15-open date; September 22-Post here; September 29-Olton here; October 6-Littlefield there; October 13-Levelland here.

No School Friday!

Tomorrow (Friday, October 22) will be a holiday for students at Floydada public schools and schools all over the area. Area teachers will meet in Lubbock and area students get the holiday.

The pep rally at high school will be held at 3:30 Thursday afternoon.

TSTA CONVENTION
More than 4,700 South Plains teachers will meet in Lubbock, Friday, October 22, in the fourth annual convention of District XVII, Texas State Teachers Association. The theme of this year's program is "Professionalism - Commitment."

A meeting of the House of Delegates will precede the conference Thursday evening, October 21, in the cafeteria of Coronado High School at 6:30. Conferees will attend a banquet, hear standing committee reports, and name delegates to the Texas state teacher's meeting to be held in San Antonio next March 16, 17 and 18. The organization also will elect officers at this time.

The general session will be held in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, Friday morning, October 22, 9:30. Charles D. Holleyman, Superintendent of Schools, Mustang, Oklahoma, will be the principal speaker. Special music will be provided by the Abilene High School Band under the direction of . . .

Two Fined Going Through School Bus Stop

Two out-of-area drivers received $52.50 fines each in S.J. Handley's Justice of the Peace office last week for failure to stop when school bus lights were flashing stop.

Both drivers failed to stop for a school bus near the Evans' residence on the Ralls highway. The public is reminded that the auto must come to a complete stop, and remain stopped until the flashing red lights are turned off by the school bus operator.

Clark Cates Rites Today

Funeral rites for Fred Clark Cates, 59 year old Lockney man and former Floydada resident, will be conducted this afternoon (Thursday) at 3 o'clock in the Lockney Church of Christ. Cates, father of Bennie Cates of Floydada, died at 9:35 a.m. Tuesday in Lubbock Methodist Hospital intensive care. He had been in ill health for some time.

Cates was a native of Oklahoma and had resided in Floyd County most of his life. He was . . .

Floydada FFA Chapter Awarded National Gold Emblem Plaque

The Floydada FFA Chapter received one of the Future Farmers of America's highest awards at the National FFA Convention held last week in Kansas City, Mo. The local chapter, represented at the National Convention by students Ross Hamilton and Larry Guffee and advisor O. L. Harris, was awarded a plaque for attaining the National Chapter Gold Emblem Rating.

The two Floydada Chapter representatives were the recipients of high individual awards as well. Guffee, president of the local Chapter, received the Santa Fe Award, which is a $141 cash award given to outstanding boys in each area to pay expenses to the National Convention.

Hamilton received the Southwestern Public Service Award, $75 in expense money given to students who made high marks at the electric short course sponsored by SWPS last summer at Amarillo.

Mrs. Harris accompanied her husband and the two students to Kansas City.

Annual Girl Scout Fund Raising Effort Underway This Month

"But where does all that money go?"

Once each year, an all-out effort is made to give the citizens of Floydada, Dougherty, South Plains, and other surrounding communities, an opportunity to give monetary support to one of the outstanding organizations for girls - The Girl Scouts of America.

In a Report-Coffee meeting Tuesday morning at Lighthouse Electric, workers found that almost half of the $975.00 quota assigned to this area has been must be put forth now to reach the remaining uncontacted community residents in order to finish the task before the end of October.

Each year, the Caprock Council Board of Directors determines a budget based on services rendered and needs provided to Lubbock and the surrounding areas. Each town, then, is asked to contribute . . .

DST ENDS OCTOBER 31

'Winds To Try Stockdale & Co. At Olton Friday

Whirlwind gridders will tangle with the Mustangs from Olton Friday in another important District 3-AA battle. And a battle it should be, according to Whirlwind head coach L. G. Wilson. Kickoff time at the Olton stadium is 7:30 p.m.

"The Whirlwinds will be going against the top quarterback in the area, Steve Stockdale," Wilson said. The Mustangs have fine running backs in Marlos May and Keith Workman, both 200-pounders. Stockdale, a 180-pound senior, and Workman, a junior, are rated the top one-two punch among backs in the area, if not in the state, in AA ball. May leads the Mustangs in scoring for the year with 24 points - four touchdowns - to his credit so far. All three started last year for the Mustangs.

Other returning starters from last year's 8-2 team include Luis Jimenez, a 190-pound senior guard, and Jimmy McCurry, a sophomore tackle weighing 175.

Lettermen returning to the Olton squad include Steve Lewis, 175, junior, tackle; Kurt Gregory, 165, senior tackle; Jim Givens, 185, senior, end; and Randy McCoy, 185, junior, end.

The Mustangs lost their three non-conference game this year, dropping close decisions to Tulla and Muleshoe, both AAA clubs, and Tahoka. They own a 2-0-1 mark in District 3-AA play so far, with victories over Friona and Littlefield and a tie Abilene last week. Abilene can claim that game on penetrations if the tie affects top final district standings.

The Whirlwinds are fresh off a 35-14 triumph over county rival Lockney and have a perfect 3-0 district record. The 'Winds' only 1971 loss came in a non-conference clash with Tulla, when the Hornets ended a game-long 0-0 deadlock by . . .

Ken Weaver Takes Grid Game First

Ken Weaver, of 215 W. Virginia, is the first-place winner in the latest Hesperian football contest. Weaver takes the $7.50 first-place check with a five-miss entry.

In second place with six wrong guesses, Mrs. Dwayne Wilson, 221 N. First, takes $5.00 second prize money. Steve Alldredge of Rt. 2 missed seven and came closest on the tie-breaker score to take the $2.50 third-place check. Trudi Stevens and Frances Powell also missed only seven but were farther off on the tie-breaker. Alldredge was the only one of the cash winners who picked the Whirlwinds to win the Floydada-Lockney game; but according to the rules of the contest, that game is used only in case of ties, and is not counted unless there is a tie.

Winner Weaver picked the following losers: Denver City (surprised by Roosevelt 16-6; Seagraves (beaten 9-6 by Plains); Tahoka (dumped by Dalou, 14-7); Dalhart (upset by Stinnett, 30-6); and the Olton-Abernathy tie. And Lockney (but it doesn't count).

Mrs. Wilson missed the following games used in scoring the contest (actual winners listed first): Roosevelt-Denver City; Plains-Seagraves; Hereford-Dumas; Stinnett-Dalhart; Morton-Dimmitt; and the Olton-Abernathy tie.

Games missed by third-place winner Alldredge include Plainview-Monterey; Roosevelt-DC; SUM-Rice; Plains-Seagraves; Dalou-Tahoka; Morton-Dimmitt; and the Olton-Abernathy tie.

There's another contest in the second section of the Hesperian this week, another chance to win $7.50 first, $5.00 second, or $2.50 third prize.

WONDER if any Purple Martin birds made their home in this year? Several Purple Martin houses were set in Lockney, perhaps too late. If you saw any Purple Martins let me know.

BETTY concerned earlier in the football season because Whirlwinds couldn't make the extra points. Coach Wilson recently solved the problem as Joe Martinez very neatly made five extra points in the Lockney game. . . 100% point.

CONGRATULATIONS to Joe for a good job. . . and many more.

GUSSING the score on the Lockney game so much, I was ashamed to guess on this week's contest with Olton. Lockney beat Abilene and Abilene tied Olton, and Lockney. So, I figure we should take Olton about 21-6.

VERY important in how news is to be played up or down is a little half to an inch of rain we received this week. It's back in dry April or May, we would have probably had it and might even have tabbed it a "million dollar rain."

WE need the dry weather in order to save the crops, but rain will probably be a report in the weather box.

FHS Gets Three TDs In Fourth Period

The Floydada Whirlwinds and the Lockney Longhorns each scored on their first two possessions here Friday night, and the game for a while looked as if it would go to the team that scored last. The score was knotted 14-14 at halftime. But the 'Winds utilized a defensive stand deep in their own territory in the third period, a long touchdown drive, and a couple of breaks in the fourth quarter to down the stubborn 'Horns 35-14.

Whirlwind kicker Joe Martinez had a perfect night booting extra points, putting them through the uprights after three touchdowns scored by Walter Harris and two by Van Mitchell.

Harris scored on runs of four, seven and four yards, and Mitchell went five, then fourteen yards for TD's.

Lockney quarterback Tony Ford scored both of the Longhorns' touchdowns, going two yards in the first quarter and 14 yards in the second period.

Lockney took the second-half kickoff and drove to the Whirlwind four-yard line before losing the ball on downs. After an exchange of punts (the only two of the night) the 'Winds uncorked their 80-yard scoring drive.

Whirlwind lineman Macyl Roberts fell on a Lockney fumble on the 'Horns' next play from scrimmage to set up a 32-yard drive for the score that put the game out of the Longhorns' reach.

Langston Williams picked off a Ford pass late in the final period and returned it 45 yards to the Lockney 20-yard line to set up the final Whirlwind touchdown.

Fullback Jim Kunkel led the Whirlwind rushers with 94 steps on the ground. Mitchell picked up 74 yards rushing, and Harris got 62 yards. Kick returner-safety Langston Williams racked up returns totaling 100 yards, including the 45-yard interception runback.

PLAY-BY-PLAY

The Longhorns drew three penalties before play got underway: three kickoffs went out of bounds before Langston Williams handled one at the Whirlwind 30-yard line and brought it out to the middle stripe.

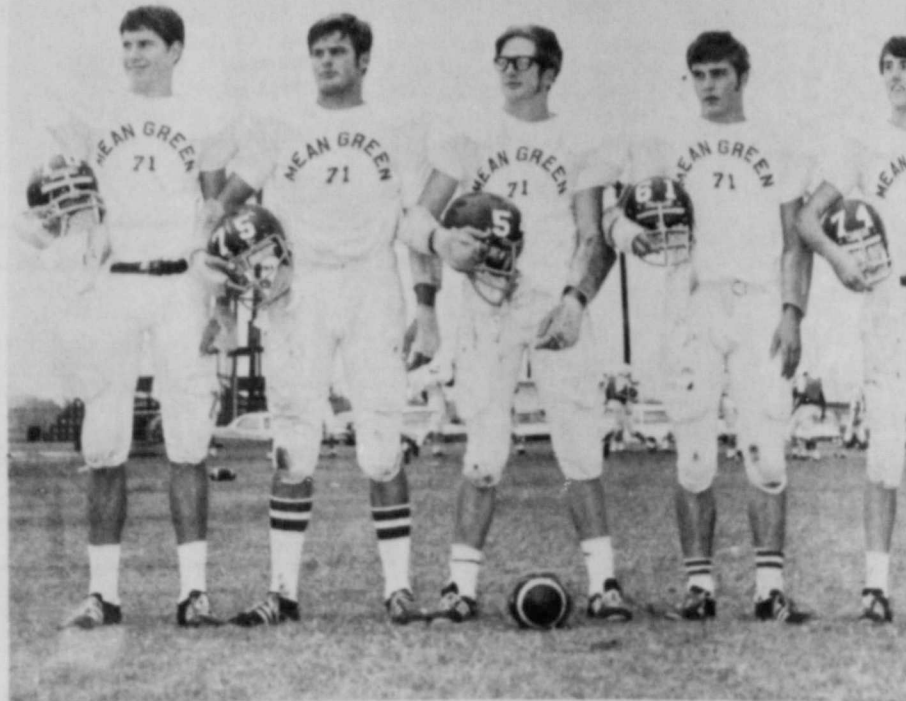

The Whirlwinds made it look easy, going the 50 yards in 10 plays. The drive was marked by an 11-yard carry on third down by Harris to pick up a first at Lockney's 38, and a 23-yard burst up the middle by Kunkel to put the ball first-and-goal on the Lockney six. Three plays later, Harris skirted left end for the score. Martinez booted the extra, and the Whirlwinds led 7-0 with 7:42 left in the first period.

The Longhorns came right back, going 80 yards in 12 plays after a five-yard penalty on their first play backed them up to their 20-yard line. The biggest chunk of yardage came on a 40-yard pass completion from Tony Ford to Bill Hill that set the 'Horns up at the Whirlwind 40-yard line. The 'Horns took it on the ground from that point. Pat Bennett, Cleo McGee, Charlie Mathis and Ford shared the ball-toting duties. Ford went the final two yards and Dart Carthel tied the score at 7-7 with a minute 45 left in the first quarter.

Floydada's turn: the Whirlwinds went 62 yards in six plays. Williams' return for 20 yards again, this time to the Floydada 38. On second down Kunkel broke loose for 15 yards and a first at the Lockney 43. Harris was thrown for a two-yard loss, Kunkel gained five, then quarterback Rick Watts threw complete to Harris, who twisted and squirmed away from Lockney tacklers and made it down to the Longhorn five before being brought down. Van Mitchell took it in on the next play. Martinez' point after brought the score to 14-7, 32 seconds deep in the second quarter.

The Longhorns wasted little time in getting even: they went 65 yards in 11 plays for the catch-up TD. Carthel brought the kickoff out to Lockney's 35, and the Whirlwinds couldn't stop the Lockney attack. Ford connected on passes of 11 and four yards to Mathis and Bennett, and the rest came on ground carries by the same two backs, except the final 14 yards, which Ford scrambled. Carthel got the extra, tying the score at 14-14, with 6:15 remaining in the first half.

The Whirlwinds roared right back after Lockney had knotted the score, advancing from the Floydada 29 to the Lockney 11-yard line, coming up just shy of the needed yardage on a fourth-down play. Big plays in the drive: an 11-yard keeper by Watts that picked up a first down near midfield, and a 28-yard scamper by Mitchell that put the ball on the Lockney 20.

The Longhorns moved to the Whirlwind 30 but were pushed back to near the 50 just before halftime.

SECOND HALF

The second half started off like a continuation of the first. The Longhorns brought the kickoff out to their 30 and started a drive that carried to the Floydada four before running out of steam. Ford carried for 15 yards and Mathis picked up 16 for the big gainers in the ground drive. Mathis carried for three yards and a Lockney first down at the Floydada four, but a penalty on the next play drove the Longhorns back to the nine. Ford managed a couple of yards running, then tossed three yards to McGee to make it third and goal, again at the four. The Lockney quarterback's pass to Bill Hill just missed at the goal line, and the fourth-down passing try was batted down by a charging Whirlwind defender.

The teams exchanged punts to close out the third period. The fourth quarter was all Whirlwinds. They owned the ball, third and eleven at 19, starting the final period. Kunkel exploded up the middle for 20 yards to kindle the Whirlwinds' fire. Mitchell carried twice and got the first at midfield; Harris got to the Lockney 38 on the next play. Quarterback Watts kept for three yards, gave to Mitchell for one, and zipped to the Lockney 24 for the 'Winds' fourth straight first down. Harris and Mitchell worked the ball down to the Lockney seven, and Harris went over from there. Martinez did, and the Whirlwinds had retaken the lead, 21-14, with 7:09 to play.

On Lockney's first play from scrimmage after the touchdown, they suffered a back-breaker when Whirlwind lineman Macyl Roberts pounced on a fumble, giving the 'Winds possession at the Lockney 32.

HPRF Tests Triticale As Swine Feed

Recent expansion of the swine feeding industry on the High Plains and the increasing interest in Triticale as a feed crop served as a natural springboard for a swine feeding test at the High Plains Research Foundation.

The 116-day test to determine the relative value of Triticale grain, as compared to grain sorghum in a hog ration, was conducted by Dr. Tom Longnecker, Foundation director.

In establishing a testing procedure, Dr. Longnecker pointed out that grain sorghum does not contain adequate amounts of the amino acids of lysine and methionine and is deficient slightly in cystine, phenylalanine and threonine. These deficiencies are corrected usually with the addition of soybean meal to a sorghum ration. In contrast, Triticale is deficient in lysine and methionine.

In addition, Longnecker said, Triticale has a protein content of 16 to 17 percent as compared with 9 to 11 percent in grain sorghum.

"Studying these basic differences, it became apparent that if the lysine deficiency in Triticale could be corrected by the addition of synthetic lysine, little or no soybean meal would be required to formulate an adequate ration for finishing hogs," Longnecker said.

Reviewing the test, Longnecker pointed out that apparently, the feeder pigs did not like the Triticale ration at the start. However, they cultivated a taste for this feed grain later. "Perhaps we could mix Triticale with grain sorghum to induce the younger pigs to eat the ration and come up with feeding

Five plays later, the Whirlwinds' fourth night, going across yards out, and Martinez made it 28-14, out of the 'Horns.

Lockney ran five plays. Williams ended a second interception and 45 yards. Going to the Lockney 20-yard line, Harris ran five plays in. Harris ran the yards, and Martinez again, making it 35-14 to play.

In the waning seconds completed two of the passes he got off, and the horns were in Floydada territory at the 45 when the end.

Floydada-Lockney Gate Near Record

The gate receipts at last Friday's Floydada-Lockney football game approached the record for regular season games, Athletic Director Preston Watson said Tuesday. Paid admissions numbering 3,025 brought in a total of $3,275.50 at the gate, Watson said. Last year's Olton game holds the regular-season gate record, $3,659.

The net take, $3,091.10 after paying officials, will be split down the middle between the two schools.

Watson said he estimated the crowd at the game at about 3,500, including the "freebies" - band members, junior varsity and freshman football players and others from both schools, plus other complimentary ticket-holders.

Tulia Falls To 'Wind JV, 26-0

Floydada High School's junior varsity footballers scored in every quarter last Thursday and shut out Tulia's JV by a 26-0 count. The Whirlwind JV picked up 14 first downs to Tulia's eight.

Errick Jones scored first for the 'Winds, on a 12-yard pass play from quarterback Rance Young. Young kicked the extra.

In the second quarter, Ruben DeLeon scored on a two-yard run and Young kicked the extra to give the Whirlwind JV a 14-0 halftime advantage. Mark Smitherman made a pass from Young good for 60 yards and a score in the third period, and Young sneaked over from the one in the last quarter.

Danny Bradford picked up 46 yards on 12 carries to lead the Floydada rushers. Young carried 11 times for 35 yards, and Jones managed 23 steps on seven attempts. Young completed 10 of 22 passes for 159 yards and the two TD's, and ran for another. Smitherman caught seven of those, for 126 yards, and Jones snagged the other three, for 33 yards.

Outstanding defensively for the JV 'Winds were West Whittle, Lynn Becker and Sanders.

The JV plays Abernathy here tonight, as do the Whirlwind freshmen.

Job Corps Has Openings

The Job Corps provides the best bargain for unemployed, out of school young men and women 16 through 21 years of age, the Texas Employment Commission and thousands of Job Corps graduates believe.

"There are openings now for young men and women who are interested in improving themselves and qualifying for jobs in today's labor market," says Bob Hambright, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office at the Court House Annex.

The Job Corps strengthens basic educational skills, and offers programs of excellent training in a wide range of vocations. In addition, personal development is encouraged through sports, music, hobbies, student government and recreation.

There are two Job Corps Centers in Texas, one for girls at McKinney, and another at Camp Gary, San Marcos, which is for young men. An effort is made to see that Texas applicants for Job Corps attend a center in Texas.

Upon completion of training, the Job Corps graduate gets assistance in finding a job in the skill he has trained in. The services of the Texas Employment Commission are available in job placement.

The Texas Employment Commission is the recruiting agency for the Job Corps. In Floydada, the office is located at the Court House Annex.

Miss Deborah Wheeler, Ray Walker Plan December Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Ragan of Independence, Mo., announce the engagement of Mrs. Ragan's daughter, Deborah Wheeler, to Ray Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Walker of Floydada.

Miss Wheeler is a graduate of Van Horn High School in Kansas City, Mo., and attended Central Missouri State College in Warrenburg, Mo. Her fiancé is a graduate of Floydada High School, and of Texas Tech with a BBA degree. He received his doctor of jurisprudence from the University of Texas in Austin. Walker is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity.

Miss Wheeler is secretary for World Championship Tennis in Dallas and Walker is an attorney practicing in Dallas for the firm of Hooks, Wyrick and Rodehaver.

The couple will be married December 4 in Perkins Chapel in Dallas.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

If someone in the family suffers a severe disability and is expected to be unable to work for a year or more, he should apply for monthly social security disability benefits as soon as possible.

Medicare hospital insurance is funded by regular social security contributions. The medical insurance part of Medicare is funded by voluntary individual monthly premiums that are matched by the Federal Government.

50 Study Club To Sponsor Christmas Greeting Page

Your Christmas greetings to friends and relatives of the Floydada area may be extended through a page ad in the Floyd County Hesperian being sponsored by the 1950 Study Club.

Those who wish may have their names inserted in the ad for $3, reading, for example, Mr. and Mrs. John Doe and family.

In previous years the Christmas greeting ad has received good response and proceeds from the ad sales go for a worthy cause.

Mrs. Lane Decker, chairman, said proceeds from the project will go toward the Floydada Day Care Center; contributions to American Field Service Student Fund; help present

Texas History Club Organized

A Texas History Club was organized at Floydada Junior High School Monday, October 11 with 21 charter members voting to name their organization, Floydada Junior Historians.

Purpose of the club is to promote interest in the history of this section of the state. The Plains American Heritage Chapter of Wayland College has offered cash award for the best paper or project in the organization.

The following officers were elected for the club: Tracey Puckett, president; Nanette Burk, vice president; Brenda Turner, secretary; Laura McCulley, treasurer; and reporter, Kathy Green. The club will meet each Wednesday during activity period.

Sponsors are Mrs. Ted Bell and Mrs. Newell Burk.

The club made a field trip to Palo Duro Canyon Saturday where they enjoyed a guided tour through the Panhandle-Plains Museum on the campus of West Texas State University; a picnic supper in Palo Duro State Park and attended the play "They Came from Spain."

Accompanying the group were Mr. and Mrs. Grady Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Newell Burk, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bell.

Peggy's Meddlin's
BY PEGGY MEDLEY

BACK in the ole' routine this week after a wonderful visit with our son and wife. Jonni liked this part of the country. It was her first visit to Texas and the weather was in our favor. No storms until after they left for home. We didn't get out to see the town while she was here therefore we missed the opportunity to introduce her to a lot of our friends. We were not being selfish by keeping her at home either. She was just not up to par and this is a good time to inform all my readers that we Medleys are to be grandparents next May. I'm sure I will make the perfect grandmother by thinking my grandchild is the cutest and smartest, and be like the rest, carry a dozen or so pictures around to show under everyone's nose whether they are interested or not! I thought I had the world by the tail when my two children were born, but this feeling, becoming a grandmother, is really rapturously ridiculous!

BRAGGER Ali Muhammad (Cassius Clay) and Buster Mathis (The Mountain) will tangle Wednesday night, Nov. 17 and Clay, bragging as usual, says he has a new karate-like chop which he calls "The Linger-On Punch." It doesn't knock you out. . . it just makes you linger on. . . Ali said. Both fighters have won their portion of the fights. Ali 32 wins and one loss, and Mathis 29 wins and two losses. They are both the same height, almost equal in reach but Mathis has more weight, some 25 pounds more than Clay. Maybe, just maybe Mathis can put the lingering touch to Clay.

LIKE almost all newspapers, the Hesperian is mailed under a second-class postal permit. In Red Lodge, Montana, the publisher evidently didn't like the sound of "second class" applied to his newspaper, so in the little box in the paper that must appear in all editions of a newspaper telling how it is entered at the post office, the publisher added "This is a 'First Class Publication' entered as second class matter under the Act of Congress".

ACCORDING to Sen. John Tower the President has outlined his plans for Phase II of his program to control inflation and return the economy to a healthy condition. The program will take effect upon the termination of the current 90-day

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ramsey of Route 1, Floydada are parents of a son, Bryan Edwin, who was born in Lockney General Hospital at 7 a.m. October 13. The baby weighed seven pounds and five ounces at birth. The father is employed by Pioneer Natural Gas in Floydada. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ramsey of Quitaque and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards of Turkey.

Naturally it was found by a postal inspector and the publisher was told that if he wanted to retain that wording, he would have to pay first class postage for mailing his paper. He might have made his point too.

YOU ski lovers may be interested in knowing that early snows across New Mexico ski basins have heightened prospects of early lodge opening and good skiing conditions this season. Snow was falling Monday in the Sandia Mountains, Santa Fe, Taos, Ruidoso and other points. Lodges usually open in mid-November but if another good snow or two falls the lodges may open in early November, a spokesman said.

SPEAKING of November, on the 2nd of that month, Bro. Floyd Bradley will be celebrating his tenth year at our First Baptist Church in Floydada.

FROM the Sacramento, Calif. Journal: "A gray-haired old woman was preparing to enter a bus at a street intersection. She was rather plump and somewhat crippled, and had her arms full of packages. As the bus door opened, a man behind her offered a helping hand. The woman smiled, shook her head and said 'I'd best manage alone. If I get help today. . . I'll want it tomorrow.'"

THERE will be no Center News in the Hesperian this week as Mrs. Green and her husband are visiting in Hubbard with the daughter and family.

WITH the Olton-Floydada game coming up Friday night at Olton it may be a good idea to review the past scoring of the two teams against one another. In 1968 at Olton's Homecoming the score was 0-0 at halftime. Olton came back to tie Floydada and the Winds took them by only one point, 22-21. The difference was a field goal.

Last year the Winds and the Mustangs, both undefeated at the time, saw Floydada as the victor with a score of 28-7. That wouldn't be a bad score to beat them Friday night. As Wendell says Olton has only two good runners, the Winds have three. All the way Winds, stay No. 1.

FLOYD DATA Mrs. Gena Tarpley of Clovis, N. M. is here spending some time in the home of her sister, Mrs. A. B. Clark. Other visitors over the weekend included a daughter, Mrs. Gerry Tucker of Branson, Mo., and a grandson, David Tucker, his wife and son, Kriss of Clovis.

FLOYD DATA Mr. and Mrs. Nile Bryant have been spending some time in Abilene with his mother and in Crowell with Mrs. Nile Bryant's father. Both are ill. Mrs. Jessie Bryant remains in the intensive coronary care unit in an Abilene hospital, and Frank Halenack, father of Mrs. Nile Bryant, has been referred to a urinary specialist at Wichita Falls. The Bryants were in Crowell and Wichita Falls this mid-week, while her father was undergoing medical tests, and spent the past weekend at Abilene with his seriously ill mother.

Floyd County HD Council Elects New Officers

Floyd County Home Demonstration Council met Friday in their regular monthly meeting during which time new officers for 1972 were elected. Mrs. O. G. Mayfield was named president; Mrs. G. W. Smith, vice president; Mrs. W. A. Stewart, secretary-treasurer.

A report by Mrs. Zant Scott and Mrs. W. W. Trapp was given on their trip to the National and State Home Demonstration meeting held in Dallas this year.

Miss Billie Vahlenkamp, Floyd County HD agent, reported on the meeting she attended in Lubbock recently. She was to alert the group to the many ways they deceived.

The next council meeting will be November 19. Dougherty and Hales Clubs will be hosts for the Council's Christmas party.

Rest Home Birthday Party

Ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosted the October birthday party at the rest home on Friday, the 15th, 2:30 p.m. Honorees were Mrs. Mattie Pool, Mrs. Nancy Thomas, Mrs. Manila Stephens, Mrs. John Newton and Mr. W. W. Anderson.

It's such a lovely time of year to have a "special day". . . Let's join these lucky people and all be bright and gay! Mrs. Thomas has HER day. . . Her parents named her Nancy. . . She counts the time from "88"

With parties plain and fancy! Let's greet Mr. Anderson. . . A very kindly man. . . Who likes to help his neighbors

Just any way he can. A very lovely lady, here is Mrs. Mattie Pool. . . She loves a lot of livin'!

And BY the Golden Rule. When ghosts and goblins came along So did Mr. Newton. . . But never mind the things THEY do. . . He "parties" sure as shootin'!

So serenade these people Who've seen so many years. . . By singing Happy Birthday. . . And fill their hearts with cheers!

The honor table was laid with a white cloth and featured an orange and green floral arrangement. Place cards marked individual places of the honorees and the beautifully decorated birthday cake carried the initial and age of each one honored. A most delicious fruit punch was served to several guests along with all who reside in the home. The BIRTHDAY song was sung at the close of the reading of the poem. The combined ages of the honorees totaled 423 years.

The next party will be Friday, November 19, 2:30 p.m. You are cordially invited to attend.

Sewing book forgets basics

By BETTY KINSER
Copley News Service

Q. I think I'm going to faint! Someone has written a sewing (I question that!) book for beginners in which she states (among other Benedict Arnold-type statements) that the home sewer can eliminate such things as pressing, stay-stitching and basting. And, continues the death-blow to home-sewing, when making pants you can "hitch the waistband together with a safety pin." Can you believe it? That's like teaching someone to cook by having her thaw out a tv dinner.

A. For the particular seamstress, there are some very good new sewing books on the market, most of which specialize in such things as sewing lingerie, swim wear and sportclothes. Please, for me, do it right, OK?

Q. "I would like to know how to make an armhole and the sleeve larger. I can add to the sleeve, but should I cut the armhole larger, too?" — Mrs. L. C.

A. Dear Mrs. C: Except for the tiniest of changes, when you alter the size of the sleeve, you must adjust the armhole to fit. To make the armhole and sleeve larger, you make two pattern alterations. First, on both the back and front bodice patterns, extend each armhole curve at the side seam to 1/2 the amount of the alteration. For example: if you are increasing the armhole one inch, you would extend each curve 1/2 inch. Taper the new cutting line to the original line at the waist.

Second, on the bodice pattern, draw a straight line from the cap to the edge, using the grain guide. Cut the pattern at this line. Separate the total amount of the alteration and tape or pin the tissue paper. On the bodice pattern, redraw the cutting line cap and the bottom edge.

If you find the alteration going to be extensive, you might recheck your measurements — you buying a size too small.

QUICK STITCH: By now you no longer need to be the "Former" and Sizing. The "Former" has been phased out of pattern books, so you can buy a size too small.

Citrus And Tuna For A Refreshing Company Salad

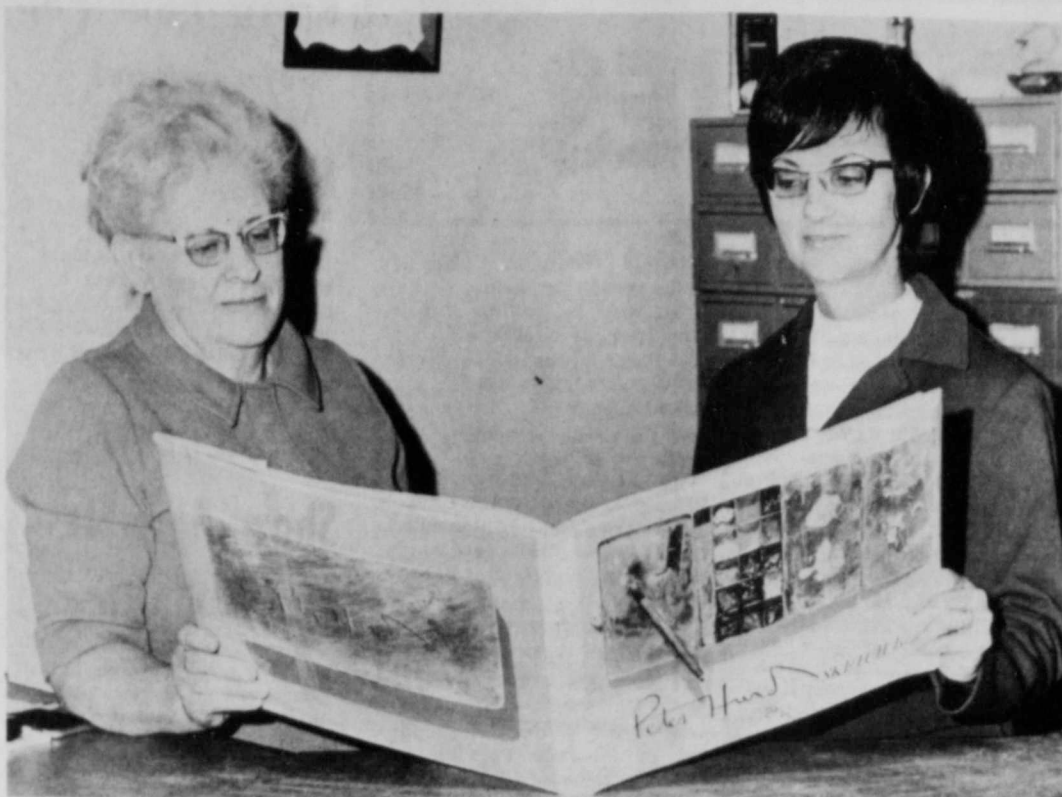

Summer is salad appreciation time—and guests who gather at the salad bowl can always derive pleasure and satisfaction from this new version of the popular Tuna-Waldorf Salad—made with citrus fruits instead of the traditional apple. Its elegant appearance and flavor belie the fact that it's so easy and so inexpensive to make. And the reason is that canned tuna in vegetable oil is still one of the lowest-priced main dish foods available. In fact it is an incredible value, not only in terms of money but in terms of nutrition, too, for it has complete protein comparable to that of lean beef. And since canned tuna requires no further cooking for use in a wide variety of tempting dishes, you'll find this Tuna Citrus Waldorf Salad—with its superb avocado dressing—practically makes itself in minutes.

Tuna Citrus Waldorf Salad

|--|----------------------------|
| 3 cans (5½ or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil | 1 cup broken walnut pieces |
| 3 cans (16 ounces each) grapefruit and orange sections, well drained | 1 medium avocado |
| 2 cups diagonally sliced celery | 3 tablespoons lemon juice |
| | ½ cup water |
| | 1 tablespoon sugar |
| | ½ teaspoon salt |
| | ¼ teaspoon Tabasco |
| | Salad greens |

Drain tuna, reserving ½ cup oil for dressing (add extra salad oil, if necessary). Flake tuna or cut into chunks; combine with grapefruit and orange sections, celery and walnut pieces; reserve. Peel avocado and remove pit; cut into small pieces. In small bowl, mash avocado with lemon juice. Add reserved tuna oil and all remaining ingredients except salad greens; beat together until smooth and creamy. Or combine in blender container and blend on high speed until mixture is smooth. Line salad bowl with salad greens. Add reserved tuna-citrus mixture; serve with avocado dressing. YIELD: 10 to 12 servings.

Resolution 191 Approved By Women At District Meeting and Workshop

LEVELLAND — Clubwomen of Caprock District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, at a board meeting and workshop on the campus of South Plains College at Levelland Saturday, voted approval of proposed Federal Resolution 191 which would re-instate prayer in public schools and gatherings.

The 179 delegates, board members and visitors present were urged to write their senators asking them to vote for the amendment. They were also asked to emphasize voter registration and to write letters voicing their feelings concerning forced busing.

Keynote Address

Mrs. Philip A. Carpenter of Burkburnett, president of TFWC, in her keynote address told the group, "Even if we fall short of our goal, the trying is worth the effort. Sometimes the most important success lies in our endeavor. There is always another goal beyond the goal we achieve."

She announced that the Environmental Protection Agency has allocated $5,000 to TFWC to sponsor the first state-wide pilot conference on Environmental Control Nov. 14-16 in Dallas.

Mrs. Carpenter has chosen technical vocational education as her state project. This was the subject of a talk by Frank Hunt, dean of Technical - Vocational Arts at South Plains College, at the noon luncheon in Texan Hall.

No Jobs

Dean Hunt said that although

6,000,000 persons are unemployed in the United States, there is no such thing as no jobs for those with marketable skills. He emphasized the importance of vocational training to fill jobs that are now going begging. Hunt also urged that parents and others emphasize the dignity of occupational education.

Four trees will be planted at Girlstown at White Face in honor of four hostess clubs which had the most members present at the annual meeting. The honored clubs are Levelland Junior Club with Mrs. Mac O'Connor, president; Levelland Women's Club, Mrs. Margaret Benson, president; Emilee Smith Junior Club of Morton, Mrs. Bill Foust president; and Lubbock Women's Study Club, headed by Mrs. Fred O. Senter.

Mrs. Carpenter presented a money bouquet accented by a miniature cotton boll and she in turn gave the money to Girlstown, the project for Caprock District.

Mrs. Bill W. Davis announced that Girlstown will get a new gym in the future and listed things Girlstown always needs such as cup towels, wash cloths, pantyhose and stainless steel flatware.

Mrs. Leroy Johnson of Morton, district president, announced that she had received a plaque from Gov. Smith for the work that the district had done for Girlstown.

The day's program ended with a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Baker. Dr. Baker is president of South Plains College.

Q. I have paid the maximum social security contributions since 1940. I am now 67 and still working. When I applied for social security retirement benefits, I was told that because my earnings for the year would be too high, I was not entitled to receive any checks. This doesn't seem fair to me. Why was the law set up this way?

A. The primary reason for an earnings limit under social security goes back to the original purpose of the program as passed by the Congress. Social security retirement benefits are a partial replacement for earnings that stop when you retire. And, until a worker has retired or had his earning power sharply reduced, there are no lost earnings to replace. However, Congress also realized that some people never retire but continue to work long past 65. To completely deprive these workers of social security benefits would not be fair either. Therefore, regardless of the amount of his earnings, an eligible worker can get full monthly social security retirement benefits at 72. Earlier, he can get full benefits if he earns $1,680 or less in a year. If he earns between $1,680 and $2,880 a year, his benefits are reduced by $1 for every $2 earned. If he earns over $2,880 a year, his benefits are reduced $1 for every $1 earned. Regardless of his annual earnings, however, he can get his full social security benefit for any month he earns $140 or less.

Mrs. Dillard

Services for Mrs. Charlie Dillard, 69, Floyd County native who died at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, October 10 in Plainview, were held Tuesday of last week in the Lemons Memorial Chapel.

Mrs. Dillard, the former Clersey Lorena Lackey, was born August 20, 1902 in Floyd County. She was reared in the Cedar Hill community and she and Charlie Dillard were married in Floydada Aug. 10, 1919. Mrs. Dillard moved to Plainview in 1957 from Lockney. Mrs. Dillard was a member of the Southside Assembly of God Church in Plainview.

Survivors include her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Herman Morrison of Plainview; one son, Bob Dillard of Plainview; two brothers, J. S. Lackey of Plainview and W. E. Lackey, northeast of Floydada; two sisters, Mrs. Vonnice Fortenberry, Cedar Hill, and Mrs. Sarah Beard of Floydada; and two grandchildren.

Burial was in Plainview Memorial Park.

Lowell Webb

Rites for James Lowell Webb, 45 of Brownfield, son-in-law of W. J. Weeks of the Lakeview community, were conducted Wednesday of last week in Brownfield. Webb was dead on arrival at Brownfield General Hospital the previous Monday night after suffering an apparent heart attack.

A native of Motley County, Webb farmed in the Morton area before moving to Brownfield in 1967 to become a maintenance supervisor for Goodpasture, Inc. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the First Baptist Church in Brownfield.

Survivors include his wife, the former Margaret Weeks; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Self of Lubbock and Mrs. Dana Redin of Plainview; one sister and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Millican

Rites for Mrs. Lucille Millican, 54 year old Matador resident and formerly of Floydada, were conducted Saturday in the Bible Baptist Church in Floydada. Mrs. Millican died about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in Richard Memorial Hospital in Paducah where she was admitted earlier that day. She had been in failing health the past seven years with muscular dystrophy.

Lucille Williams Millican was born August 10, 1917 in Packwood, Iowa, and married Charles Ellison Millican in Floydada February 26, 1944. The couple resided here until 1960 at which time they moved to Hale Center. From there they moved to Frankston, then back to this area some three years ago, settling in Roaring Springs. They lived there until moving to Matador a year ago.

Survivors include the husband, who is making preparation to move back to Floydada; and three sisters, Mrs. Maxine Engelson of Glenwood, Ill., Mrs. Arbella Levassar of Frankston and Mrs. Mary Rasette of Oakland, Calif.

Rev. Lloyd Hamilton, minister of the Bible Baptist Church, conducted rites. Interment was in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Seigler Funeral Home.

Mrs. Susie Dacus

Mrs. Sid Waller, accompanied by Peachie Parrish and Loretta Denning of Cone, attended funeral rites Saturday in Portales, N.M., for Mrs. Susie Dacus. Mrs. Waller and Mrs. Denning are nieces of the deceased and Mrs. Parrish is a sister-in-law. Mrs. Dacus, who died Friday at her home in Portales, was a step-sister of the late Ohmer Parrish of Floydada.

Mrs. Dacus was the daughter of the Rufus Parrish family in Floydada. She was married to "Wild Horse" Frank Dacus, a cowboy who broke mustangs for the T-Anchor Ranch in New Mexico. Mrs. Dacus had lived in Portales since 1926 and was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include one son, three daughters, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

IN "A DIABOLICAL DICTIONARY of Education," Richard Armour defines a Report Card: "A card or piece of paper on which a report is made concerning a student's grade. The student is supposed to return the card with the signature of one parent. A student who is no good at anything else may discover a special talent for forgery."

A TEACHER IN South Texas supplied this recipe for brewing a steaming pot of coffee on a hunting trip:

INGREDIENTS:
1 beat up coffee pot
3/4 pot of water (muddy water adds body)
1 rusty horseshoe (nails are optional)
Plenty of heat
Fill pot 3/4 full of water, add horseshoe and two tablespoons of coffee for each cup of water. Boil coffee until horseshoe floats.

Dear Editor,

I want to express my sincere thanks to you for the important part you played in making National 4-H Week in Floyd County an enormous success. Without your personal time and effort the 4-H Clubs of Floyd County could not function with the success that they enjoy. On behalf of the Floyd County 4-H Council and the members of 4-H in Floyd County, thank you very much.

Sincerely,
/s/ Ginger Henderson

Bring Your Pep

Thursday!

As there will be no school in Floydada Friday the "Beat Olton pep rally" will be held in the FHS gymnasium at 3:30 p.m. Thursday.

The cheerleaders again suggest that everyone wear all the green possible, and please remember, IT'S THURSDAY INSTEAD OF FRIDAY this week.

Ag Students Show Animals At State Fair

Five Floydada High School agriculture students, accompanied by their instructor, Homer Jones, are in Dallas to show animals at the State Fair of Texas. Ray Hinton, Danny Martin, Lee Siner, Terry Jester and Joe Womack have animals entered in the State Fair livestock show. The students and teacher will return Friday or Saturday, after the three-day livestock show Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (today).

The Floydada FFA Chapter entered three group shop projects and two individual projects in the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock and placed second and fourth in the group division and second and fifth in individual competition.

A three-point hitch blade entered by the Chapter placed second, and a picnic table took fourth place. A portable calf-trimming chute did not place.

Robert Pyle won a second place with his project, a goose-neck trailer. A three-point hitch float entered by Mark Alldredge placed fifth. There were approximately 25 projects entered in the individual bracket.

White Says Cities Will Benefit

Big cities will benefit the most from a rural redevelopment program, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said here Monday, Oct. 11 at a combined meeting of the Dallas Agriculture Club, the Fort Worth Farm and Ranch Club and the Wichita Falls Farm and Ranch Club.

White called for a massive rural redevelopment program in the state, which, he said, "is absolutely essential if our cities and rural areas are to survive."

He predicted big cities will continue to receive untrained rural residents who will end up on city welfare rolls. "This has happened hundreds of thousands of times in Texas during the last 20 years. It can only continue to increase unless all of us — city and rural people alike — work together to reverse this trend," he said.

White said rural areas now amount to "a vast open-air home for old folks." City people, meanwhile, he said, "have their own subculture. They imprison themselves at night in maximum security apartments and they look out of their barred windows at the decaying blight and fail to see the solution before them."

That solution, White said, is a rural development program which joins together city and rural programs augmented by federal and state aid. He listed these essentials:

1. Metropolitan officials are going to "have to realize that rural areas do indeed offer a solution to their problems."

2. A national policy of rural-urban economy and society must be developed and implemented.

3. Rural areas will have to be made attractive in order to keep and attract people to them. "A healthy and prosperous rural trade area can be of great economic value to the servicing city as demonstrated by the fact that 60 to 80 cents of each dollar generated in rural trade areas will eventually find its way through the economy of the city," White said.

"City officials must learn and realize how a new attitude toward rural development will be to their cities' advantages as compared with continued efforts, as in the past, to all-out efforts to attract industries to their cities, which they are unable to adequately serve."

"A rural development program can relieve the cities of the problems of the in-migration of rural people who are ill-suited to city life," White said.

Rural areas, too, "will have to cooperate in providing the services to attract and keep people. These include, he said, jobs, topflight educational facilities, recreational areas, adequate housing, and adequate medical care."

Youth To Trick Or Treat For CROP In Floydada

Wednesday night, October 27, youth of the First United Methodist Church will sponsor the annual "Trick or Treat" for CROP, Community Hunger Appeal of Church World Service.

All youth of the community are invited to participate and are asked to be at the Methodist Church at 6 p.m. to receive instructions and material. All youth participating in the drive will have CROP identification. Refreshments will be served the youth at the church following completion of the drive.

CROP believes in helping people to help themselves. Mrs. Howard Gregory, local chairman, related that when disaster strikes or when people are driven from their homes by war and become refugees, they need food and need it quickly.

When the youth come to the door, give generously. CROP is the way our community help stop hunger.

Guest Editorial

JIM FITZGERALD in The Mason (Mich) News. No longer will I hide my red eyes behind a newspaper. From now on I'll blubber out loud, just like a woman.

"It is unfair that men are made to feel ashamed if they cry." So decreed the American Psychological Assoc. in convention in Washington the other day.

A woman can bawl anywhere, anytime. My wife cries tears of joy at grand openings of shipping centers. She cries patriotic tears when flags go up at railroad crossings. She cries tears of sympathy when the Tiger manager yanks a pitcher. Once we watched a bum named Sparma walk 4 men in a row and fans booed him something terrible. She sobbed so hard I had to help her from the park.

But nobody ever makes fun of her. They peg her for another warm-hearted dame who must be a wonderful person and a grand friend to dumb animals.

But let some guy bawl in public and he is immediately pegged as a freak, possibly perverted and certainly a Mama's boy. People laugh at him.

An example: Recently I was trapped in the same room with that dreadful TV show, This Is Your Life. The surprised subject was fat Junior Samples from the Grand Old Opry by way of Red Haw. I guess Junior is a comedian but you'd never have guessed it that night. He cried huge tears for 30 straight minutes, even during the commercials. They brought out some clown who'd sold him a bag of feed in 1930 and Junior collapsed, a lachrymose lump, completely overcome by nostalgia.

My wife and daughter fell into each other's arms laughing "Look at that big boob" they said. If it had been a woman, they would have matched her sob for sob.

Why is that, doctor?

One of the convening psychologists explained it simply: "I can't help feeling, in situations where I want to cry, that a woman — as well as a man — would question my masculinity if I did." Men, he said, are forced to put their masculinity on the line again and again. And it isn't fair. If both sexes are to have equal opportunities and equal awards, as the women libbers insist, the right to cry must be included. The world would be a better place.

Sad movies and TV shows make me cry. There is a TV program called The Courtship of Eddie's Father that grabs me every time, even on reruns. This little kid is always giving his prized golf club to his worst enemy. Then the enemy kicks Eddie for anyway and he must turn to a Chinese cook for comfort because his mother died of a horrible disease before he was born. At this point some member of my nosy family peeks behind my newspaper and hollers, "Hey everybody, Dad's got red eyes again."

I can then either run from the room in shame, or stay and insist that my eyes are watering because I'm allergic to the stupid cabs which I certainly wish my Eddie would give to his worst enemy.

Either way, it is humiliating and an insult to the masculine sex. A man should be able to cry, just like a woman, without fear of derision. After all, who can determine the sex of a tear? Women's lib, meet men's sob.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Comes Out With A Far-Reaching Idea For Better Use Of Seat Belts

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has been reflecting on a new rule the government has ordered.

Dear editor:

By 1974, according to an article I read in a newspaper last night, all new cars must be equipped with seat belts that have to be fastened before the car will start.

This was ordered, the government said, because despite the fact all new cars now come equipped with seat belts, less than 30 percent of the people use them.

So, after 1974, the seat belt will be hooked up with wires some way with the ignition switch, and the car won't start unless the belt is fastened.

This sounds like a good idea and if it works it ought to be utilized further.

For example, instead of a key to start your car with, the government should require a punch card and a complicated slot on the dashboard. With the right holes punched and the card inserted, the car starts only if the seat belt is fastened. But another series of holes won't let it start unless you've registered to vote, another unless you've actually voted, another unless you've paid your taxes, another unless you've had all your shots, donated to the community chest, etc.

You get the idea. You can shape this country up almost completely through the punch card system of turning on the ignition in everybody's car. By putting enough holes in the card to cover practically everything, morally, ecologically, politically, etc., you could come up with a system whereby anybody who could still start his car after 20 years of driving would be qualified to serve on the Supreme Court without even being investigated. Like it is, if you investigate far enough, you may find nobody is qualified for the Court or anything else.

However, if the government limits its fastened-seat-belt rule just to seat belts, what's to keep a man from carefully fastening all the seat belts in his car with nobody in them, sitting on the one in the driver's seat, and taking off as usual? I've always said Congress ought to study human nature more.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

COUNTY AGENT'S CORNER

By Doyle Warren

Texas agriculture produces an abundance of food and fiber each year, so consumers are blessed with a plentiful and high quality supply of produce. Thus, it's appropriate to reflect on the agricultural industry in the state in preparation for Food and Fiber Abundance Week in Texas, November 15-21, points out County Agricultural Agent Doyle Warren.

Cash receipts from farm marketings during 1970 totaled $3.1 billion with $1.9 billion coming from livestock and livestock products and the remainder from crops. Total cash receipts are expected to reach the $3.76 billion mark in 1976. Agriculture is one of the most efficient sectors of the econ-my, explains Warren. In 1970, each farm worker supplied himself and 46 other persons with food and fiber needs.

The county agent also points to the fact that Texas consumers are continuing to get a bargain at the food market. The average consumer spent 16.5 percent of his disposable income for food in 1970. Over the past 10 years, the amount of disposable income spent for food has decreased 19 percent. In the meantime, per capita food consumption increased six percent.

Warren adds that the overall agricultural industry has a tremendous impact on the total economy of the state, adding almost $10 billion annually.

Recent studies show that agriculture has a multiplier effect of 2.7. Therefore, if agricultural income increased $1 million, then the total economy of Texas would increase $2.7 million.

Texas generally ranks third in the United States in total crop and livestock cash receipts after California and Iowa, points out Warren. Texas is the leading producer of cotton, grain sorghum and several other crops and leads in all cattle, beef cattle, sheep and wool, and goats and mohair.

Young Floydada Man Arrowhead Collector

Mike Green, 21-year-old son of Mrs. Boots Dobbins of Floydada, has an impressive collection of framed arrowheads that he has been collecting for several years, with the help of his brother, S. Sgt. Kenneth Green.

The brothers have arrowheads from almost every state. In addition to the framed collection, Mike has many arrowheads that he does not have mounted, and his collection includes Indian moccasins and beads. He also collects stamps and coins.

Jimmy Owens started Mike on the arrowhead hobby some 10 years ago. Mike says he's found several arrowheads "since I got hurt." Mike was seriously injured in a car wreck about five years ago, was hospitalized for a long period of time. But he can still tell you where he found every one of the many arrowheads in his collection.

In return, an area advisor is provided who comes to Floydada regularly to help local leaders and workers see that the best is being offered to the eight troops of girls registered. A training program is set up for new leaders; advanced program - training and workshops offered experienced leaders. The Council is constantly in touch with Floydada - South Plains to answer questions and furnish materials and aid. Camping expenses over and above the fees paid by the camper are provided in the scouting program, also.

Being part of the Caprock Council gives Floydada-South Plains Girl Scouts advantages they couldn't have otherwise, and all this costs money! The Council makes possible such wider opportunities as the Heritage Trip to Austin to which Cadette Scouts may subscribe in June of 1972. Senior Girl Scouts are applying to be part of the trip to Our Cabana next July in Cuernavaca, Mexico. Sixteen Senior girls will be chosen from Caprock council to make this trip. Play days for Brownies, Day Camps for the girls, troop camping weekends at Rio Blanco - all are possible because of the supported program. GIRL SCOUTS ARE LEARNING TO GIVE SOMETHING TO THE COMMUNITY. WILL YOU, THE COMMUNITY, CONTRIBUTE TO THE GIRL SCOUT PROGRAM??

COUNTY AGENT'S CORNER

LUBBOCK - The recent quarantine for hog cholera in portions of Hockley, Lamb and Lubbock counties has resulted in the discovery of swine erysipelas, according to Dr. Gilbert R. Hollis, Extension area swine specialist.

"Positive results of specimens from 27 of 30 different swine herds in the Lubbock-South Plains area have confirmed the presence of erysipelas," the specialist says. The discoveries were made by state and federal animal health officials who were inspecting herds for cholera.

"Erysipelas is an infectious disease affecting swine of all ages, but is usually most common in young and growing animals," Hollis explains.

The disease is caused by a bacterium that is resistant to ordinary disinfectants. The organism may be widespread in soil that has been contaminated by infected pigs at an earlier date. Recovered animals sometimes carry the disease and may contaminate water and soil, he continues.

Erysipelas may occur in any of three forms; acute, subacute (diamond skin form) and chronic form. Acute swine erysipelas is characterized by a sudden appearance, with death of one or more animals.

The subacute, or diamond skin form, follows an attack of the acute form. Diamond shaped skin lesions may develop which, at first, are areas of purplish-red discoloration, but may finally result in peeling away of some sections. Chronic erysipelas may follow the acute form or it may show up independently. The resulting arthritis causes joints to be stiff and enlarged. The extent of arthritis varies with the duration of the infection.

The disease usually spreads by direct contact, introduction of new animals into a herd, or from the droppings of birds and rodents. The bacterium can survive for some time in the soil and be a source of the disease year after year, Hollis warns.

Because of the large number of detected cases and deaths in the South Plains area, Hollis recommends vaccination against the disease. Pigs should be vaccinated for erysipelas between eight and 12 weeks of age. On farms with severe erysipelas problems, it may be necessary to vaccinate at six to eight weeks and to revaccinate at 12 weeks.

In extreme cases, producers need to vaccinate pigs at three

(By James Huggins)
A delightful couple from England, visiting relatives here last week, seemed more impressed with the friendliness of people hereabouts than with any other distinction the area possesses, although the agriculture of the area brought some statements of surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Kenward (they prefer to be called Laurie and Joyce), of Kenilworth, Warwickshire, England, were visiting in Floydada with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Goen. Mrs. Goen, an ex-Britisher, is Mr. Kenward's (Laurie's) sister.

It was the English couple's first trip to Texas, although they had been in the States, in the East, two years ago, they said.

The Kenwards arrived on Sunday and were to leave here Saturday to visit her brother and sister in Washington and Pittsburgh. They've felt "nowhere more at home" than here, they said, mentioning the "friendly, wonderful people" that always seem to find time to enjoy life. Must be quite a rat-race back in Kenilworth.

Kenward is a pharmacist in Coventry, five miles from the Kenwards' home in Kenilworth. He is called a "chemist" there, and his shop is NOT a "drug store" - a drugstore in England sells only patent medicines and has no qualified chemist to "dispense" prescriptions.

The English couple experienced several "firsts" while in West Texas. Among them was their first ride in a light airplane - Doodle Milton piloted the Kenwards on an aerial tour of the area. What impresses an Englishman most on seeing the West Texas plains from the air? Well, the Kenwards noticed especially the flatland, the "water-holes" (playa lakes), and Palo Duro Canyon.

They ate their first Mexican meal while here. Their impressions? Mainly that you have to be very careful not to overdo the hot pepper sauce.

Mr. Kenward had his first experience with the maize harvest, being treated to a ride on a combine, and the pair saw pumpkins growing for the first time. They lived not far from the Vale of Evesham, the principal fruit-growing area of their country, but said they'd never seen anything like the "huge" pumpkins that grow here.

"We've never seen steaks quite so big and quite so thick," Kenward said, after attending a West Texas barbecue. "And it's so good to taste cornbread," he added. "It's something they just don't have in England - no corn grows there, or very little, although they have wheat, barley and oats, which the English call by the generic name 'corn', rather than 'grain'."

The differences in languages presented very little problem to the British visitors in West Texas ("After all, it's English, you know"), and the people, well, they're pretty much the same all over, basically, except in the Kenwards' opinion, they're a lot friendlier here than anywhere else they've been.

to four weeks of age. Hollis advises consulting a veterinarian for proper dosage levels. Breeding stock should be revaccinated before each farrowing.

FLOYDADA VOLUNTEER FIREMEN put out the fire when this pickup driven by Ross Eugene Bradford overturned and caught fire at the Sandhill crossing last Wednesday afternoon. The driver was only slightly injured. The camper and load of drug supplies were also totally destroyed. The pickup, travelling south overturned after coming into contact with a truck driven by Carl Edward Miller, which was going west, according to highway patrolman Bud Rainey. (Staff Photo)

Former Floydada Man Operates Miniature Railroad In Matador

The Millican Central came in on time last week, but it had not made a long trip. The train had completed its 85 foot circular track. The owner and builder, 51-year-old C. E. Millican was at the throttle.

It required six years to build the train which is composed of an engine and one passenger car. The capacity of the passenger car is six adults. The railroad and rolling stock were constructed from material gathered from junkyards. Several years ago the builder did purchase some second hand angle iron for the track. He purchased the horn, but everything else came from refuse.

The small railroad is a dream of desperation. Six years ago Mrs. Millican became a helpless, hopeless muscular dystrophy case. She can not get out of her wheel chair, except when her husband lifts her. Millican started building the railroad in South Texas as a means to augment the meager $93 welfare check which his wife receives. He moved to Roaring Springs three years ago, and the couple has lived in Matador for the past two years. The holidays came and went last year and they did not receive as much as a Christmas card.

Mr. Millican was born at Cone, Texas, south of Floydada. He went to school there and some at the community of Starkey. Mrs. Millican was born in southern Iowa. They were married at Floydada 27 years ago, following a correspondence courtship. They have no children. Mr. Millican was drafted into the Army during World War II and served 14 months, when he was discharged because of his physical condition. He has a stomach disorder which prohibits his eating many normal staple foods. Mr. and Mrs. Millican are members of the Floydada Bible Baptist Church.

Mr. Millican's mother, Mrs. Ollie D. Millican spends some time with the couple, and with her other children.

RECYCLED RAILROAD
The Millican Central rolling stock came from junk yards. Wheels are made from car brake drums. The bell is a former butane gas tank cap. The headlight came from a 1950 Chevrolet. Power comes from a Jeep motor with Rambler transmission. Other parts are from bedsteads, lawn mowers, combines and bicycles. His construction tools are comprised of hack saws, files and a small portable welder.

The Millican Central right of way is the backyard of the Grant Carlson house on the Roaring Springs highway where the Millicans live. There is a sign in the front yard advertising train rides at 25¢ each.

The train does not operate Mondays and Tuesdays. It starts at 4 p.m. on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, and from one to six p.m. on Sunday afternoons. Saturday was a good day with the railroad's income amounting to $1.75 for seven youthful passengers. Mr. Millican is optimistic; after all, many railroads are not doing so well at present.

Mrs. Millican likes to watch the railroad her husband has built and he usually wheels her down the ramp to the backyard, if the weather is favorable. She knows, of course, that she will never walk again, and the positive destiny the future holds.

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

PLAINS, Oct. 18 - A rainy night as rain fell during Sunday services. Around 44 degrees this morning, and the sun is

Mrs. Weldon Bennett were Sunday supper guests at Mrs. Bennett's home and husband

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Merrell of Quitaque was a visitor at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday, and then went home with his daughter, the J. P. Taylors to have dinner and the afternoon. Other guests with the Taylors were Rev. and Mrs. Troy Cartmill and girls.

Girl Scouts of South Plains with Mrs. Mike Wood, leader, and helpers, Mrs. Margaret Kitchens and Mrs. Margie Young, met Friday evening and took their supper and breakfast for a night's cookout and sleep out on the L. T. Wood place. They all took turns cooking the food and putting up the tents. Girls who went were Ronette Kitchens, Teresa Stewart, Lori and Shandra Young, Lisa and Susie Probasco. The Girl Scouts meet at the Baptist Mission every Wednesday after school.

Mrs. Frank McClure went Tuesday to the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview and underwent major ear surgery Wednesday morning. She was brought home Friday morning, but she still is not feeling very strong.

Mrs. L. T. Wood went to Lubbock Tuesday evening and spent the night with her daughter, Mrs. James Teague and family. She had been for a doctor's checkup Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Key West and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bean, Mr. and Mrs. Johnney West and Lisa and Mr. and Mrs. Dale West left after the Floydada-Lockney football game Friday night for the West Ranch in Des Moines, N.M., where they spent the weekend "working the cattle". The John Key Wests are about ready to move into their new home in Floydada, and we wish them much happiness there.

Mrs. Mike Wood was soliciting funds for the Caprock Girl Scouts in the South Plains area the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pearson, long-time residents of the South Plains community, left Wednesday for Truth or Consequences, N.M., where they plan to make their future home. Her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Scott of Truth or Consequences, were here to help them move. The Pearsons plan to stay with them until they get possession of their new home, November 1. The Pearsons have leased out their farm, and they are well acquainted with the area where they are moving, as they have visited there and taken the mineral baths for several years. The Pearson land came down to Lee from grandparents who were early settlers here. Neighbors will greatly miss them.

Hallowe'en will be celebrated at the South Plains School with a carnival Saturday night, October 30. There will be costume judging, bingo games, dart games, cake walk, and the South Plains Boy Scouts will have the spook room. The lunch room will be open with all kinds of sandwiches, Frito pies, coffee, and desserts of cakes and pies. You will find amusements in all kinds of places at the Hallowe'en Carnival, so make plans to attend.

Mrs. Loma Mulchur was taken ill Monday night at her home in Plainview, and was unable to come to school Tuesday. Mrs. Murray Julian taught her fourth grade pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Mulder had as Saturday night supper guests his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor, Ronnie, Richard, Candy and Rhonda, all of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Bethel have spent a good deal of time at the Lockney Hospital this past week as his sister, Mrs. Reece Kell of Flomot, was taken there last Tuesday with heart trouble.

Grigsby Milton flew Conner Oden of Floydada to Oklahoma City, Okla., last Tuesday for a business meeting. He reported the weather was ideal for flying that day.

Visitors at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning included Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Horne and Melissa of Plainview, here with her folks, the Sylvia Kinnibrugh; Kenneth Powell, home on furlough, and Lynn Butler of Floydada; W. W. Merrell of Quitaque; Janie and Yolanda Arrandondo; Warren Powell of Tulsa; Carlton Johnson home from South Plains College, Levelland; and Zacha Cummings of Texas Tech here with her mother, Mrs. Kendall Cummings. The church message was on "Full Barns and Empty Hearts." Rain and storm warnings Sunday night kept many people from attending church.

Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whitfill of Sweetwater, Miss Cindy Whitfill of Canyon, Marjery Martin and Charlotte of Lockney, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis of Irving, Miss Louzella Cox of San Bernardino, Calif., and in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rose of Lockney.

Those who went from the South Plains Baptist Church Monday night, Oct. 11, for the Associational WMU Annual Meeting at the Plains Baptist Encampment were Rev. and Mrs. Troy Cartmill, Dana and Diane; WMU Director here, Mrs. L. T. Wood; and Mission Study Chairman, Mrs. Murray Julian. The salad supper was delicious. Mrs. T. R. Corley presided, and special music was by Mrs. Ernest Stewart, topped off by the good sermon, "Importance of church and area missions" by Dr. Strauss Atkinson.

Mrs. Robert Rose from Denver, Colo., is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zach Cummings of Lockney at this time. She was formerly Jean Cummings and grew up in the South Plains community. She and her husband have three children, the oldest twelve years of age.

Tuesday, Oct. 19, there will be a study on "Potential for Missions" for members of the Baptist WMU members.

Mrs. Edith Magnusson of Amarillo came last Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Charlie Dillard, who died Sunday in a Plainview Hospital. Mrs. Orby Beard and Mrs. John Fortenberry, sisters of Mrs. Dillard, were also well enough to attend. Mrs. Magnusson spent the night here with her sister, Mrs. Bryant Higginbotham.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Young, Lori, Kenneth, Kirk and Shandra visited Sunday afternoon a week ago in Floydada, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Medley and family, and were glad to see Mrs. Young's cousin, Danny Medley and wife, who were in Floydada last week with his folks, visiting from San Diego, Calif.

Rev. and Mrs. Troy Cartmill and girls, Dana and Diane, left Friday afternoon for Hereford where they spent the night and Saturday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Beard and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Waldrup and family.

W. W. Merrell of Quitaque was a visitor at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday, and then went home with his daughter, the J. P. Taylors to have dinner and the afternoon. Other guests with the Taylors were Rev. and Mrs. Troy Cartmill and girls.

The John Key Wests are about ready to move into their new home in Floydada, and we wish them much happiness there.

Father of Mrs. Tillman Powell, Joseph Auber, of West Virginia, underwent serious major surgery last week, and we are glad to hear that he is progressing well at this time.

Youth 1, 7th and 8th grade girls, held a skating party Saturday night at Plainview. Supervisors were Mrs. Travis Young, Mrs. Don Probasco and Mrs. Don Marble. Girls of the Baptist Church are Cari Roberts, Donette Marble, Pam and Cam Probasco, and Kathryn Powell. Guests were Kim, Billie and Sherre Marcus, Tracie Turner, Mike Fortenberry, Mike Marble, Maury Probasco, Jimmy Kay Sales, Curtis Smalley, Steve Pritchett, Debbie Johnson, Van Miller, Revis Chandler, Valinda Chandler and Mrs. Billy Marcus.

Hobby Club members met at the home of Mrs. Leighton Teeple Oct. 13, for a day of Christmas sewing and planning. Christmas candies were discussed, and Mrs. M. M. Julian gave the thought for the day, "Columbus Day, Sail on, Sail on." She also read two of Mrs. Early Pritchett's poems, "Frustration" and "Jonna." Thirteen members were present to enjoy coffee and fondue, with many selections to choose from. Present were Mrs. Tom Cherry, M. M. Julian, E. J. Kinslow, Arby Mulder, M. M. Myers, Alvin Nichols, Harold Hamm, J. P. Taylor, Grigsby Milton, Tillman Powe, Lillian Marble, Fred Fortenberry and hostess, Mrs. Leighton Teeple. The next meeting of the club will be on Nov. 10, with everyone coming to the home of Mrs. Melvin Myers at 10 a.m. and all will go to Lubbock where they will have lunch and visit the Tech museum.

Mrs. Terry Julian was able to return home in Roscoe by ambulance Saturday after spending the past three weeks in the University Hospital in Lubbock. She will have to spend several more weeks in bed, but we are all glad she was able to go home.

The Caprock Annual Association Meeting was held at the First Baptist Church in Floydada Oct. 14. Messengers from here who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Young, Mrs. Fred Fortenberry, Mrs. Tillman Powell, Mrs. J. P. Taylor and in the afternoon, Rev. and Mrs. Troy Cartmill attended. The messengers reported on their meeting at Sunday night church services.

Members of the La Than Club who went to Lubbock's Hayloft Dinner Theatre to attend the show "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," October 7, were Mmes. Kenneth Bean, Ronald Kitchens, Dale West, Eugene Beedy, Stanley Burleson, Don Shurbet, Don Probasco, Glen Wood, Buck Ford, Fred Marble, Don Marble, Joy Smitherman, Jim Roberts and Mrs. Travis Young. After the dinner and show, the group came back from Lubbock to the home of Mrs. Joy Smitherman in Floydada where they had an exchange of secret gifts. Their next meeting will be the Christmas gathering.

Mrs. Robert Rose from Denver, Colo., is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zach Cummings of Lockney at this time. She was formerly Jean Cummings and grew up in the South Plains community. She and her husband have three children, the oldest twelve years of age.

FFA Sees Tractor Safety Demonstration

"Tractors can and do turn over," Ben Bullard, Assistant Safety Director of the Texas Farm Bureau pointed out Monday at Floydada FFA Chapter.

During the 55 minute program, Bullard pointed out a variety of safety rules in which all tractor and machinery operators are guilty of violating at one time or another. Every tractor operator should take a break at mid-morning and again at mid-afternoon in addition to a regular lunch hour.

Tractor overturns and rearward upsets were stressed as the factors most often causing fatal accidents in the field or pasture. Here is also the greatest point of false security because a tractor can tip over in 3/10 of a second while it takes the average mind 5/8 to 3/4 of a second to think and react to the situation by jumping.

Hitching a tractor to a piece of equipment is dangerous, also. In this situation the person helping is in the most danger. If he holds the tongue of a trailer up to meet the drawbar and misses, he can be crushed between the tractor and trailer. To prevent such an accident, the operator should back his vehicle into place, kill the engine, then proceed to secure the intended load to the draft vehicle, whether a tractor or pickup truck.

Allowing extra persons, especially children, to ride on a tractor is particularly dangerous. A tractor is engineered for only one person, the operator.

Also, children are run over by tractors each year because the operator, generally their dad, did not see them in time, Bullard said. Keep children away from the working area.

Refueling was a point highly stressed as dangerous. Too many operators get in a hurry to refill and spill gasoline onto a hot engine. Many tractors costing $8,000 to $10,000 have been ruined in this manner. For protection from overturns, the use of a roll-guard or crush-proof cab was suggested by Bullard. By securing the operator with a seat belt and use of roll-guard or crush-proof cab, many lives could have been saved. "Never use a seat belt without a roll-guard or protective cab!" Bullard said.

Proper lighting when on roadways was suggested as a must, in addition to the regular lighting required, the SMV emblem is now mandatory in the state of Texas as well as 17 other states.

The Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department hopes to bring these facts to 10,000 or more farm people, or those interested in farming, each year.

The program was brought to Floydada, under the sponsorship of the Floyd County Farm Bureau.

Special guests were Boyce "Pete" Mosley, president, Floyd County Farm Bureau, and Gayle Baucum, Agency manager.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. (Bud) Cox attended a family reunion Sunday in Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney Wideman and Mardith had as guests during the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wideman and Randy, Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Spike Wideman, New Home, and Mel-don Wideman, Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hilliard, Gene Ann and Charles, Vernon, spent Friday night and Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Barnhart. Hilliard and a cousin, Don Brice, Lockhart were previously Tuesday night supper guests of the Barnharts.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Wheeler spent Saturday and Sunday in Temple where they attended a reunion of the G. E. Fuller family, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Lane. Those present were Mrs. G. E. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Fuller, Houston; Mrs. Arthur Youngs, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hassell and family, Sweeney; R. D. Goolsby, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Harman, Clara J. and Karen, Brazoria; Mr. and Mrs. Olan Foteet, Floydada; and the Foteets' son, Dwayne, Killen; Mr. and Mrs. Silas Wheeler, Cone, and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson and son, Rob. Ralls; a brother of the late G. E. Fuller, Ura Fuller, Granger; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helton, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fuller and daughter, Sharon, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fuller, Jr., Salado; Miss Ricki Dill, Temple and Miss Carol Youngs, Bay City. Two daughters were unable to be present - Mrs. Tom King, Florence, Ariz., and Mrs. Clyde Foster, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mrs. Earl Martin and Mrs. Gladys Gray returned Sunday from a ten day vacation which took them on a leisurely, scenic trip through Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri. In Paris, Ark. they visited briefly with former residents of Cone, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin. Near Eureka Springs, Ark. they witnessed "The Passion Play", on Mount Oberamagaua. The old Crescent Hotel which was once a noted conservatory of music furnished much attraction. Near Bronson, Mo., they toured the Shepherd of the Hills Territory where they attended a pageant based on Harold Bell Wright's novel, "Shepherd of the Hills." This was performed by seventy local people, in the open air Old Mill Theatre. Interestingly, among the characters were Uncle Will, the Shepherd, Young Mat, Pete, and Sammy. By jeep train tour they visited Old Mat's Mill, Jennings Still, the Shepherd's cabin, Pete's Cave, Bald Nobbers and "Doins", a colorful comedy performance. Along Highway 7, one of 10 most scenic routes in the United States, they were privileged to spend a night at the fabulous "Mansion", a magnificent convention center for Arkansas and much of the Southland. The maple, black gum and sweet gum trees lent much Autumn splendor. On return via Hope, Arkadelphia, thence into Texas they visited in Whitesboro with Mrs. Martin's mother, Mrs. E. P. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Young.

Rural Accidents Injure Two In September

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Floyd County during the month of September, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and two persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first nine months of 1971 shows a total of 51 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 25 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for September, 1971, shows a total of 499 accidents resulting in 33 persons killed and 268 persons injured. This was 82 less accidents, eight more fatalities, and 132 more injured than during August.

The 33 traffic deaths for the month of September, 1971, occurred in the following counties: Potter, seven; Lubbock, four; Parker and Childress, two each; Archer, Clay, Garza, Kent, Lynn, Montague, Palo Pinto, Wise, Yoakum, Carson, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Gray, Hansford, Moore, Farmer, Swisher, and Wilbarger, one each.

Plans Being Made To Teach Spanish Class

Plans are being made to teach conversational Spanish classes in Floydada in order that Anglo-Americans can communicate better with the Spanish speaking people.

The classes will be very inexpensive and will be taught by Mary Gonzales of Floydada. They will be held in Floydada, probably each Monday night, exact time and place to be announced later.

Anyone interested in learning conversational Spanish is asked to contact Mrs. L. T. Dycus, 983-3808, who will take names of those wishing to participate.

Floyd Conservationists Attend Directors Meeting

Four local conservation leaders plan to attend the 31st annual statewide meeting of conservation district directors in McAllen this week. The group will leave the 19th for the three day meeting.

G. L. Fawver, Gerald Lackey, Herman R. King, directors of the local Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District will go to McAllen. Jon J. LaBaume, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service office will also attend.

The theme of this year's meeting is "Districts' Role in Environmental Improvement." G. L. Fawver, chairman of the Floyd County District, said his group has been involved in environmental improvement for years but is trying to step up such activities. He hopes the three day conference will point up ways this Conservation District can help local subdivisions, government which utilize U.S. Soil Conservation and other local, state, federal sources. They conserve and develop land, forests, wildlife and resources for the benefit of all citizens. Mrs. Lackey and Mr. King also plan to attend the luncheon and tour of Reynosa, Mexico.

LEGAL NOTICES

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: WALTER PERRY GRIFFIN

GREETING:

You are commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 8th day of November, A.D., 1971, at or before 10 o'clock A.M., before the Honorable District Court of Floyd County, at the Court House in Floydada, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 21st day of September, 1971.

The file number of said suit being No. 5782

The names of the parties in said suit are:

Pauline Griffin as Petitioner, and Walter Perry Griffin as Respondent.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: Suit for divorce, Petitioner alleging she and Respondent were married August 24, 1964, but permanently separated because of discord between them which has destroyed the legitimate ends of the marriage relationship, and further that they have lived apart without cohabitation for more than three years next preceding the filing of her petition; that no children were born as a result of said marriage, and no community property is owned by the parties; that good cause exists for the waiver of prohibition against remarriage by either party; Petitioner praying for divorce and restoration of her former name of Pauline Melson Bryant.

If this Citation is not served within 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

Issued this 21st day of September A.D., 1971.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Floydada, Texas, this the 21st day of September A.D., 1971.
