Organizers Seek Building

Woodland School's Request Approved

A $12,250 grant, applied for by the Association for Retarded Citizens for use in the operation of Woodland School, has been approved and the money banked locally.

County Judge Bill Carter, who filled out the request for the ARC, said that money earmarked for purchase of a van to be used as a bus by the school has been used to pay off the note on the bus, purchased on faith in August, 1974.

"When the application was first made, over 100 others were being considered for approval and funds were available for only 35. The Colorado City application was 39th on the list. Directors of the school learned recently that additional funds had become available and the grant was approved in its entirety," Carter said.

Mrs. Dona Reed, project director for ARC, and directors of Woodland School, applied for the grant from the Texas Department of Mental Health-Retardation through the Developmental Disabilities Service funds.

The grant monies will be used as follows:

--$5,200 for travel and transportation.

--$4,500 for purchase of a bus van.

--$550 for items including a portable commode, audio visual aids, etc.

-$2,000 for playground equipment.

Woodland, a day school for mentally retarded and physically handicapped children and adults in Mitchell County, was begun about a year ago. Northside Church of Christ donated use of its educational building.

Next year's operation of the school will be changed some, Mrs. Reed explained.

"The most pressing need of the school now is to find a building, perhaps a vacant building could be donated for use, which will give the school a permanent location," she said.

Mrs. Reed can be contacted by phoning 728-2669.

School-age children will go into the public school system this fall, but older physically or handicapped persons will still use Woodland School educational opportunities, learning to work and care for themselves, Mrs. Reed explained.

A permanent location is needed for establishing a workshop which would teach such skills, Mrs. Reed added, explaining that Janie Rodriguez, Woodland School teacher during the past year, will direct the workshop.

Organization needs to be completed by mid-August in order that classes at the workshop will begin about the same time public school begins, Mrs. Reed pointed out.

The workshop will be held five days a week, with different time periods for various age groups.

CISD Taxes Lowered 4c

Public hearing on the proposed 1975-76 school budget was set for 7 p.m. Tuesday in the high school library during a meeting of CISD school board Monday night.

Superintendent Lloyd McKee said that a 4¢ tax rate deduction will probably be incorporated in the proposed budget, $1.50 for maintenance and operations and 37¢ for interest and sinking fund, lowered from 41¢ designated for interest and sinking fund last year. The $1.50 maintenance and operations stays the same.

Local fund assignment will be 30¢ per $100 of valuation for the 75-76 budget, but McKee said that will increase in 76-77 to 35¢ per $100.

The board's monthly meeting lasted about 30 minutes but during that short time, a number of business items were finalized.

Resignations accecpted included that of William Lepard, junior high coach, health and P.E. teacher the past year; Gladys Pinkert, kindergarten teacher for the past four years and Mrs. Janie Sue Watson, Wallace sixth grade teacher the last three years. Lepard will join the coaching staff in Big Spring, Miss Pinkert is returning nearer to her home at Wolfforth and Mrs. Watson is planning to spend some time at home.

Michael and Wanda Moody's appointments were approved, Mrs. Moody to teach high school English and Moody to teach general science at the Middle School.

Joe Morren, school auditor for the past two years, was appointed as auditor for the coming year.

Mrs. Freddie Guitar was officially appointed textbook custodian, taking the place vacated by Barbara Gray's resignation. Mrs. Gray will devote full-time to her new appointment as administrator for the Wallace Community Education Center.

Paying monthly bills and a discussion of bus repair were other items on the board's agenda.

Loraine ISD Taxes Raised

Ken Lightfoot, 25, a Colorado High School graduate, has been hired as head coach of Loraine High School.

Approved by Loraine ISD board of trustees in their June meeting, Lightfoot and his wife, Patijo, moved to their Crockett Street home in Loraine last week.

He received his B. S. degree in Physical Education, minor in Government, from McMurry College in 1973. While attending McMurry, he was unit director of Abilene Boys' Club for four years. He was on the Rotan High School coaching staff during the past school year.

Loraine football gets underway August 11 when conditioning drills begin. Teachers inservice begins August 11 and the first day of classes is August 14.

Loraine school board met Monday night, reviewing a tentative budget for the 1975-76 school year and setting a change in the tax rate from $1.50 per $100 valuation to $1.60 per $100 for the coming year.

Last year's $1.50 rate was divided into the following amounts:

--$1.30 designated for maintenance and operations.

--$0.20 into the interest and sinking fund.

Loraine superintendent L. R. Dunn said that the rate had to be increased to put more money into maintenance and operations and for salaries.

The $1.60 rate is broken down into the following amounts:

--$1.45 designated for maintenance and operations.

--$0.15 for interest and sinking fund.

Dunn pointed out that the budget for the coming year's operation has been increased by about $29,000, from $345,896 last year to $370,46 this coming year.

"More money was needed for salaries and maintenance and operation," Dunn explained, "necessitating the increase."

Other items of business on the agenda included approval of a depository pledge contract for foundation school funds for 1975-1977 with First State Bank of Loraine, reviewing the band budget and also discussion of auxiliary workers' salaries.

Ends In Shooting

Charges have been filed on four men by police officers following an early Sunday morning beating and shooting incident.

Charged with aggravated assault on Daniel Garcia, who was shot in the leg, was Jesus Luis Aguilar, 34, of 802 E. 12th Street in Colorado City from his drivers license but according to investigating officers, Aguilar now lives in Sand Springs.

Charged with aggravated assault on Uriaz Pablo Bijarono, 17, also of Sand Springs, were the following:

--Reynaldo V. Garcia, 25, of 1712 Peach Street here.

--Rodolfo Luera, 27, of 705 Cypress Street here.

--Moises V. Garcia, 30, also of 1712 Peach Street here.

Moises Garcia was also charged with attempted murder of a police officer.

Investigation of the beating of Bijarono was begun by policemen Jerel Lynch and Kenneth Abbott when they received a report from Root Memorial Hospital that someone had been brought in badly beaten. The report was made at 4:03 a.m. from the hospital.

Lynch and Abbott subsequently went to Martinez Pool Hall in the Sands area of the city, reportedly the scene of the beating. Shots were fired in the vicinity while they were there and Daniel Garcia was taken to the hospital, shot in the leg.

While the two patrolmen were at the hospital parking lot, a white Pontiac drove by and shots were fired at the police car and Abbott, but Abbott was not injured.

Lynch and Abbott gave chase and found the Pontiac abandoned. Arrests were made following investigation by Lynch, Abbott, Jerry Cowin, Wendell Bryant, assistant chief L. C. Devorce and police chief Jesse Browning.

All-Stars Game 7:30 Friday vs. Ballinger

Colorado City's Little League All-Stars scored two runs in the top of the sixth inning on a ground rule double by Joe Stinson to take a 3-1 win over Snyder's All-Stars Monday night in Snyder.

It was the local stars first win over Snyder since 1971.

Colorado City's All-Stars will face Ballinger at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Robert Lee. Tuesday night, Ballinger downed Winters 8-1.

Monday night's game against Snyder was a squeeker from the start with pitchers for both sides making the batters swing at empty air.

Statistics in the game were exactly even all the way down the line, except for the number of runs. Colorado City had three runs, while Snyder had only one, on six hits each, and three errors each and the pitchers walked one man each.

Winning pitcher was Charles Edwards, who pitched shut-out ball. The only Snyder run was unearned, resulting from an error. Kris Seale was the pitcher for Snyder, striking out 12 batters.

On the field for Colorado City was Edwards on the mound; Catcher Frank Norris behind the plate; Mark Carter on first; Randy McPhaul on second; Froggy Johnson on third; Victor Jackson at shortstop; Joe Stinson in left field; Jay Green center field and Doug Johnson, right field.

Other members of the All-Star team are Tim Nobles, Steve Light, Donald Owens, Mitch Williams and Weldon Walker.

Sterling defensive play saved the game on more than one occasion for Colorado City as Froggy Johnson and Victor Jackson turned would-be hits into outs with their fielding and throws to first. Jay Green's play in center field prevented scoring on several occasions as his throws of hits into center field to the plate were on target, keeping Snyder runners from scoring.

Catcher Frank Norris stood in tough at the plate to tag out one runner and keep Snyder from scoring.

The game got off to a fast start for Colorado City as Jackson led off with a double along the right field line. He later stole third. Then the next two batters were out. Charles Edwards came to the plate and smacked a double into left field, scoring Jackson from third. Johnson later stole third but to no avail as the next batter was out.

From that point to the last of the third inning, there wasn't any scoring. However, in the bottom of the third with one out, two errors in a row put runners at first and second for Snyder and then came two singles to score a Snyder runner. With the bases loaded, the Colorado City All-Stars got the next two outs and Colorado City fans gave a sign of relief.

The fourth and fifth innings were scoreless, although Colorado City's Randy McPhaul got as far as third after he hit a single and Frank Norris got on base with a bunt. Snyder got two runners on base in the bottom of the fifth.

In the top of the sixth and final inning, the first Colorado City batter struck out and Edwards got on base on an error on his fly ball hit into right center field. Jay Green followed with a hit, putting two men on base. Edwards and Green later moved up a base on a wild pitch.

Joe Stinson then came to bat. The count went full before Stinson blasted the ball down the right field line that bounced over the fence for a ground rule double, scoring Edwards from third and Green from second.

Froggy Johnson then drew a walk and both runners moved up a base later but Snyder got two more outs to end the inning.

In the bottom of the sixth Colorado City's All-Stars were successful in getting the Snyder team out to win the game.

The last time Colorado City won over Snyder was in July 1971 when Mike Moore pitched a 15-0 shutout. That year, the Colorado City All-Stars defeated Ballinger 8-0 and Hamlin 19-2 before losing to Abilene 9-6 in their bid for the championship of District 5.

City Gets Tax Check For $3,795

Colorado City received a $3,795.84 check for its share of sales tax collected through the period ending July 3.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said that the July payment was smaller than the June rebate because the June payment included "clean-up" allocations of money carried over or coming in late from the last round of quarterly tax payments received from merchants.

"We have now refined our system such that not a penny of city sales tax money can stay in this office longer than 45 days before being sent back to the city," Bullock said. "This is a far cry and a grand improvement from the old quarterly system with its 60 and 90-days delays."

Bullock said when the monthly system was started that cities could expect two smaller payments followed by a third larger "clean-up" payment in each three month cycle.

During the first two months of the cycle – including this month – payments are not made to cities whose allocation is less than $500, which means that Loraine's sales tax check will be paid at a later date.

Two Stations Burglarized

Two service stations here, located on Interstate 20, were broken into during the night Sunday and reported to the police department about 6:30 a.m. Monday.

Blassingame Exxon Station reported a $20 roll of postage stamps and about $5 in change missing.

J&J Gulf Station was harder hit, reporting some wrenches gone, about $300 in change stolen and cigarettes and money taken from the vending machine.

The two burglaries were similar to two Interstate 20 burglaries reported over the teletype by Abilene police. A Texaco service station and Motel 6 Station were burglarized during the night Sunday in the Abilene area.

"Come Dance With Me" is the title of tonight's program sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Featuring the dance as an art form from early religious ceremonies through ballet and modern dance, the program gets underway at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Program sponsors invite everyone in the community to attend. The program is free of charge and will be followed by a short reception and refreshments.

Mrs. Dorothy Brandt, director of West Texas Theatric Arts Center in Sweetwater, will narrate the program as four of her students - LeAnn Alexander, Debra McMahon, Janine Higgins and Jill Frymiere - perform various dance forms in vogue through the ages.

County Sends Telegrams

Voting Procedures Threatened By Federal Act

Mitchell County commissioners court Tuesday officially went on record as opposing the extension of the 1965 voting rights act to include Texas and agreed to send telegrams to that effect to senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen and Representatives Omar Burleson and George Mahon.

The ten-year extension of the act, which would add Texas, has already passed the U. S. House of Representatives and the Senate is expected to take action in July.

County Judge Bill Carter said the approval by the Senate would mean that local officials would no longer have control of elections on any level in Texas but would be administered by the federal government.

According to the letter sent to the court by Texas Secretary of State Mark White, "In the future, all matters relating to elections will be subject to prior approval by the Civil Rights Division of the U. S. Justice Department."

White also pointed out that county commissioners would no longer be able to change polling places or change precinct lines without prior approval from Washington.

"Federal voting registrars would be authorized to register voters in your county notwithstanding the fact that the Secretary of State's office has not received a single complaint that a Spanish-speaking Texan has been denied the right to register.

"Federal voting examiners would be authorized to come into any election precinct or polling place, notwithstanding the fact that poll watchers are available to any candidate or group of citizens by following the simple procedures set out in the Election code," White's letter emphasized.

Background of the proposal goes back to 1965 when the original voting Rights Act was passed. Texas was excluded from the Act because it has never used a test or device to eliminate minority voters from participating in the election process.

White's letter pointed out that now, ten years later, an attempt is being made to include Texas within the Act based upon the premise that the lack of a Spanish language ballot has denied Spanish-speaking Texans an effective voice at the polling place.

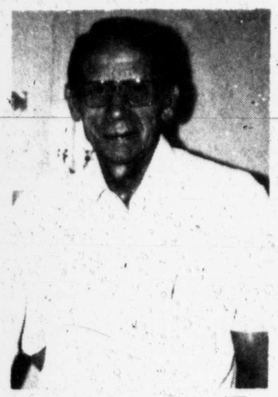

White also included statistics which show there is no difference in the number of Spanish-surnamed voters registered and voting and in the number of non-Mexican-American registered voters in the state.

Judge Carter said that in the future, ballots will be printed in both English and Spanish in Mitchell County, because of the high percentage of Spanish-surnamed voters in the county.

A short meeting of the court also saw the commissioners agree to raise the rent the county pays the Chamber of Commerce for use of the Chamber offices for a Social Security representative each Wednesday.

The county had been paying $50 monthly to the Chamber for this service and the amount

Happy Days

By Ann Randle Davis

Maybe I'm not the only one who has just REALLY awakened to what our Charles Root means to us and our community.

Charles and his lovely and hardworking wife, Maxie Lee, have given this community something that no one can possibly touch. Please stop and think about it if only for a moment! The dedication of our new hospital wing which OUR Marion Bassham has given to us (yours, mine and ours) is something that is almost indescribable in its beauty and most of all need. Charles' sister, Julia Mae Cook, and her husband, Jimmy, are here from California. Julia Mae is such a dear, dear person who I have loved since I was a very little girl and she lived next door to my parents. The Cooks' son, Joe, and his wife, Lynn, and three daughters from Waco have joined them for the week end. The Roots' older daughter, Anna Lee Root Dillard and her husband, Ray, and their two children, Christi Lynn and Charles, have moved back to Colorado City where Ray will have a machine shop. Also visiting the Roots this week from Athens, Georgia, is their younger daughter, Judy, and her husband, Dr. William J. Hubbard. Judy's husband is doing research work at the University of Georgia.

Please, I ask you again to realize what wonderful facilities we have in Root Memorial Hospital! There are no words to express my love and deep appreciation.

You save 35 percent over the day rate when you call out of state the One-Plus way evenings (5 p.m. to 11 p.m., Sunday through Friday). For example, a coast-to-coast call costs only 36¢ for the first minute.

Cheapest

Save 60 percent nights and weekends

Our lowest rate. Save 60 percent over the day rate when you call out of state the One-Plus way on weekends (all Saturday and Sunday until 5 p.m.) and nights (11 p.m. to 8 a.m. daily). For example, a coast-to-coast call costs only 22¢ for the first minute.

Lignite coal-fired power plants like this cost more than twice as much to build as gas-fired plants.
But we have to build them because we're running out of natural gas.
The generating unit you see here is being built right now at Martin Lake, near Henderson in East Texas. It will make electricity by burning lignite coal.
It will also cost more than two times as much as a comparable gas-fired unit.
So why are we building it? Because new supplies of natural gas, our traditional boiler fuel, are increasingly hard to get and much more costly.
The higher cost of lignite plants means electricity will have to cost you more. But lignite fuel costs less, which in the long run will slow the rising cost of electricity.
Electricity is a good value today when you consider that during the past 10 years it has gone up only about 25%, while the cost of living has gone up 68%.
At Texas Electric we're working to make sure you'll continue having the electricity you need. And that it won't cost any more than it has to.

was raised to $150 monthly, a total yearly increase of $1,200.
Another raise agreed upon by the court was payment of an additional $25 per month, effective September 1, to the county trapper, Jack Bowen. The request was made by Texas Animal Control Association, Inc. Total county funds paid the trapper each month will be $...5.
Commissioners also canvassed voting in the special local option election held July 8 in Precinct Two, finding 142 votes For and 292 votes Against.
Easement to lay pipeline under county roads was granted two oil companies in the Westbrook area: Mobil Oil Co. and Mabee Oil Co.
The meeting concluded with a discussion of the recent sheriff's sale of property which had tax judgements against various lots in the city and county. Carter said that property which did not sell in the sale can still be purchased for the opening bid only, substantially below the tax judgements against any of the lots.
Anyone interested in purchasing any of the property can contact him and he will help make arrangements for the purchase, Carter said.

New Bill Will Aid Livestock Producer

A livestock producer will get prompt payment and a superior seller's lien when a new Texas law goes into effect Sept. 1.
The law is described by State Rep. Elmer Martin of Colorado City to be of major importance to the entire livestock industry of Texas.
Martin was co-sponsor of the bill, served the House Agriculture & Livestock Committee which conducted hearings on the bill, and provided some of the bill's strongest protection for livestock producers.
After passage in the House and Senate, Governor Dolph Briscoe signed the bill into law to become effective 90 days following adjournment of the Legislature.
Rep. Martin said the new law provides for the following:
1. Livestock sold for slaughter must be paid for by check, cash or wire transfer of funds on the day that transfer of possession occurs.
2. Instruments of payment must be drawn on banks so located as not to artificially delay collection of funds.
3. The seller's lien on livestock sold for slaughter will have priority over any other lien or perfected security interest.
4. This lien extends not only to the livestock but to its carcass, all products from the carcass and the proceeds thereof.
"This is a law much in need for protection of the livestock producer," Rep. Martin emphasized.
"Too many times the livestock producers have turned over their cattle to packers only to receive nothing because of default or bankruptcy on the part of the packers."
Martin said it was because of losses in this manner which got him interested in the legislation and join the bill's author, Rep. Dave Finney of Fort Worth, in sponsorship. And it was Rep. Martin who checked with West Texas producers, then saw to it that the bill provided for the priority lien that stays not only on the carcass, but the products and proceeds derived from it.
At the present time the livestock producer generally becomes nothing more than a "common creditor" when a packer enters into bankruptcy. As a "common creditor" the producer is paid only after all other claims are satisfied.
Also, the Packers & Stockyards Administration currently requires payment for livestock roughly within two days after the cattle are delivered. Payment comes when the instrument is mailed. Thus, time-consuming delays can be created by packers using banks located great distances from their area of operation.
The livestock payment-lien law was one of 62 bills studied and considered in public hearings during the recent 64th Legislative Session by the House Agriculture and Livestock Committee, according to Rep. Martin.
"In our hearings," said the Colorado City legislator, "we heard 122 witnesses in addition to the 62 authors of the legislation under consideration. Our time spent in this committee and sub-committee work outside the regular Legislature schedule amounted to a full week of 10-hour work days."
Rep. Martin said other major legislation also affects livestock producers.
Already signed by the Governor and already in effect is a law that provides for the State Commissioner of Agriculture to inspect livestock for quality and classification. However, this inspection is authorized upon the request of the livestock owner, who must pay a fee for the work.
Also in effect is a new law that brings assistance to the producer whose herd is hit by brucellosis.
"This will help in the fight against this disease," explained Martin, who co-sponsored the bill, "by allowing the Texas Animal Health Commission to pay up to $40 per head for cattle in problem herds and extreme hardship cases."
Designed to help the livestock producer in the face of meat imports from foreign countries is another law co-sponsored by Rep. Martin and already in effect after being signed by Governor Briscoe.
This law prohibits the purchase of imported beef by state agencies and subdivisions.
Enforcing agency for this foreign beef ban is the State Department of Public Health.
The law's language of "state agencies and subdivisions" extends the ban to counties, incorporated towns as well as districts for junior colleges, hospitals, schools, water and reclamation as well as any other special purpose districts.
Martin said the House also passed a concurrent resolution calling upon Congress to enact import restrictions as a means to provide relief for Texas farmers and ranchers.

Seed Act Outlined

A seed expert with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) offers some advice to farmers and seedsmen in Texas about an amendment of the Federal Seed Act.
Clyde Edwards, chief seed law enforcement officer in USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMA), says an explanation of "Title 5" of the federal seed law may clear up some evident misunderstandings for farmers and local seedsmen who sell seed of certain varieties of cotton, lima bean, soybean and wheat. Special protection has been granted to the owners of these varieties under the Plant Variety Protection Act (PVPA).
At present, there are 66 varieties of cotton, lima bean, soybean, and wheat that are specially protected.

"This isn't another City Council," Mrs. Gray said, "The main objectives are to help educate and enrich the community."
