Fight Spreads Over Tripoli; Six Are Slain

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT (AP)—Hard fighting raged for more than four hours today in the port of Tripoli. At least 6 persons were killed and 20 injured.

Omar Karomi, a rebel leader, told The Associated Press by telephone that the fighting broke out at noon and quickly spread to the central section of the city. Karomi is a brother of Tripoli's rebel leader Raschid Karomi.

"The fighting reached a climax about 3 p.m." Karomi said. Then it slacked off, but shooting was still going on at 4 p.m.

Karomi denied Cairo radio reports that strong rebel reinforcements are marching on Tripoli.

Tripoli is the city where the Lebanese rebellion started 48 days ago.

Fighting went on in the city all Wednesday night. An army communique said it started when rebels opened fire on army positions and civilians. The rebels said the government forces employed armored cars to blast rebel roadblocks in the city.

Night skirmishes also were reported from the Bekaa Valley in central Lebanon.

Beirut, however, was quiet after several hours of firing Wednesday. Chamoun had predicted Tuesday that leaders of the 48-day-old rebellion against his government would launch a full-scale assault within 48 hours.

In south Lebanon a land mine blew up a U.N. patrol car, slightly wounding an Indian observer.

Hammarskjold flew back to New York carrying an urgent request from Premier Sami Solh for the U.N. to send an emergency force to Lebanon. An unofficial truce had prevailed during the secretary general's one-week visit.

Solh asked Hammarskjold for an armed international force to replace the present corps of less than 100 observers and seal Lebanon's borders against aid and reinforcements to the rebels from the neighboring Syrian province of the United Arab Republic.

Hammarskjold was expected to relay the request to the Security Council.

The probability of a Soviet veto in the Security Council of any police force proposal caused Western diplomats at U.N. headquarters to predict an emergency session of the General Assembly would be called.

The Assembly could act without a veto to send in international troops. But whether it could act in time to do Chamoun's government any good was another matter.

Chamoun said that if the U.N. fails to help him, he may call on the United States and Britain to provide direct aid under the U.N. Charter provision for collective defense.

The Soviet Union has warned against either a U.N. emergency force for Lebanon or direct U.S.-British intervention.

McKinzie Case Goes To Jury Here Early This Afternoon

Judge Sterling Williams read the charge to the jury at about 11:30 a.m. today, and District Attorney Wayland G. Holt opened arguments just before noon in the 132nd District Court trial of J. E. McKinzie of Lubbock on an indictment of swindle and theft by false pretext.

The jury was to get the case and begin deliberations early this afternoon. In this indictment, one of three lodged against McKinzie here, he is accused of having obtained by false pretext through an innocent agent $5,000 from J. B. Turner of Snyder. The $5,000 was for sale of oil properties in Colorado.

Conviction would mean a penitentiary sentence of from two to 10 years.

Both the state and defense rested yesterday afternoon, with the reservation of bringing in witnesses this morning. Each side had a witness this morning.

The state recalled W. Jarrard Jones, Meeker, Colo., attorney, and defense attorney Pat Beene called H. W. Cargile, vice-president of the West Texas State Bank here. Jones had testified on the first day of the trial, Tuesday.

In this morning's testimony, Jones said that McKinzie's interest in the property conveyed in the assignment made to J. B. Turner in question in this trial was 72½ per cent, that the government owned 12½ per cent and the remainder was reserved by Lubar Oil Co. Jones said that he knew what land and the amount of acreage McKinzie owned in the Rangeley, Colo., field. He held four leases, he said, in sections 2, 10, and 11, which together formed an L-shape. He also owned one 160-acre lease with deep rights on another section and one other 20-acre tract. On sections, 2, 10, and 11, there had been a total of six wells which had produced. The best of these wells produced at the most about 24 barrels daily, but none ever produced as much as 50 barrels, Jones said.

Jones identified photostatic copies of checks on McKinzie's trust account, which he handled, and said he signed all three of the checks he identified. He made out one of the checks on McKinzie's instructions and signed the other two blank, according to McKinzie's instructions. The trust account was in Jones' name, but the money belonged to McKinzie, he said.

Jones said the account had never been balanced between him and McKinzie and that there had never been an accounting. He identified a letter written last December 30 to him by McKinzie's attorney, Tracy Cox of Ranger, asking for an accounting. Originals of the checks on the trust account are now in the possession of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as are many other records on the trust account, he said. The FBI secured some of those records last December, Jones said.

Cargile had with him bank records, including a ledger sheet on the account of J. B. Turner. Last Aug. 2, there was no money to Turner's credit in the account, he said. When Turner's check was presented to the bank for payment there were no funds there, according to the records. On Aug. 13, there was both a debit and credit of $5,000 to the account. Cargile had a photostatic copy of the deposit slip, showing the deposit to be a check in the amount of $5,000 from A. C. Martin.

There was considerable testimony about the instrument which conveyed the property being attached to Turner's check and how it was withdrawn from the bank for attorney's examination before payment was made on the check. Cargile said such instruments are sometimes taken from the bank by attorneys or trusted customers with their guarantee of payment of the check involved or return of the instrument. Cargile said he did not handle that transaction. The instrument was withdrawn from the bank on Aug. 12, and there was no money in the Turner account at that time, he said. If payment were made after the instrument was withdrawn, there would be no need for return of the instrument, he said.

State's witnesses testifying yesterday afternoon were L. L. (Pat) Moore, commissioner of precinct 3 here; Hugh Boren, Jr., Snyder insurance agent; E. H. (Ab) Williamson, local business property owner; Joel Griffin, principal of the West Elementary School; John W. Wharton, Meeker, Colo., surveyor; and Merle Robert LeFever, Rangeley, Colo., oilfield worker who was employed on McKinzie's lease near there.

Substances of their testimony:

Moore told about the meeting held last July by McKinzie and a number of Snyder men at the school administration building, in which McKinzie, known to him then as "William H." McKinzie, explained his operation. Moore said

Ex-Publisher Says Federal Forces Exerted On Paper

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former publisher John Fox testified today that "powerful and malign influences" were exerted against him from the federal government. He suggested the object was to eliminate his now-defunct Boston Post.

And, Fox told House investigators, the federal forces "were not unconnected with the Boston Herald Traveler Corp. and Bernard Goldfine."

A special House investigating subcommittee allowed Fox to begin testifying in public despite objections by Goldfine, Boston industrialist and friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

Goldfine contended through his lawyers that Fox's testimony could be expected to defame him. He asked that it be taken in closed session.

The committee decided on an open hearing but under an agreement that Fox would give notice if he were about to defame someone. On such notice, the committee would decide whether to go into closed session.

Fox had a 3,000-word prepared statement. In it, he went on to say he began to be aware of what he called powerful and malign influences by a department of the federal government in 1954, when it appeared he was overcoming legal difficulties in the way of a Boston parking development in which he was interested.

"I did not know the source of these pressures nor the reason for them," Fox went on, "unless their object was to eliminate the Boston Post, which was the only major newspaper in the United States that supported Harry S. Truman in 1948."

The pressures, Fox said, resulted in forced liquidation of about 13 million dollars in bank loans which were well-secured by marketable securities.

Fox has been named as the source of the first allegations entered into the record of the special House subcommittee that Goldfine got special federal treatment through friendship with Sherman Adams.

In the ensuing storm, Adams acknowledged accepting expensive favors from Goldfine. But he denied ever using his post as President Eisenhower's top aide to swing preferred treatment for his friend.

Fox is a stormy petrel of the financial world who once published the now-defunct Boston Post. He is under committee subpoena.

At present Fox is free on bond under a libel charge from an opponent in a Pennsylvania business dispute. His attorney denies the libel.

Goldfine's lawyers pointed to Fox's arrest in Pittsburgh June 24 on the libel charge in making a surprise request to Subcommittee chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark).

The Goldfine attorneys, declaring court records show Fox is bent on 'false and reckless accusations" against Goldfine, asked for use of a House rule which requires closed sessions when a committee decides testimony "may tend to defame, degrade or incriminate any person."

Harris scheduled an unusual closed session in his office to weigh Goldfine's plea.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif), a subcommittee member, said he would oppose a secret session because Fox's charges have been aired publicly already and because Fox might make a material contribution to the investigation.

The congressmen pursued yesterday their check of the Securities and Exchange Commission, a regulatory agency which had troubles from 1948 to 1956 in getting Goldfine's East Boston Co. to file required financial reports.

Compromise Tax Bill Clears Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed today on a compromise tax extension bill eliminating the 3 per cent excise tax on freight.

The House conferees yielded to the Senate on the freight tax repeal.

Representatives of the Senate, which had voted the freight tax cut and also a reduction in the 10 per cent levy on passenger fares, gave up the passenger fare cut.

The compromise involves a revenue loss of approximately 450 million dollars.

In addition, another 35 million dollars of taxes on pipeline transportation of oil and gas would be repealed.

The compromise bill now goes to Senate and House for action expected later today.

The 3 per cent freight tax covers transportation of all forms of freight and 4 cents a ton on the transportation of coal. The pipeline excise is 4½ per cent at the

As conferees went into closed-door conference, members disclosed that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson was insisting on a straight one-year extension of excises and the corporate income tax without repeal of the transportation tax.

The House voted to continue until next year the 52 per cent business income tax and excises at their present rates to prevent a $2,600,000,000 revenue loss.

The Senate, however, added provisions repealing the 10 per cent federal tax on passenger tickets and the 3 per cent tax on freight.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), of the House Ways and Means Committee, said he was standing on the House version in the light of lower federal tax revenues.

The 52 per cent corporate income tax is now scheduled to drop to 47 per cent next Monday.

The excises, also due to drop Monday in the absence of a new law, apply to cigarettes, whisky, beer, wines, automobiles, and auto parts and accessories.

Record June Cold Wave Grips State

By The Associated Press

A summer cold wave sent temperatures tumbling overnight in Texas to record lows in a number of places for this time of the year.

Pampa, in the upper Panhandle, recorded a low of 39 degrees. Dalhart and Amarillo had lows of 49 degrees.

Dallas, with a minimum of 60 degrees, had its coldest June 26 morning in its recorded history. The previous low was 61 degrees in 1928.

The cold front early Thursday stretched from the upper Texas coast southward to Laredo.

A thunderstorm around dawn left 2.80 inches of rain at Tyler. Two homes were struck by lightning, but no one was injured.

Thunderstorms hit the Kilgore and Tyler sections of East Texas early Thursday.

Kilgore had a series of four early morning thunderstorms. Lightning struck two oil storage tanks in the city limits. Safety valves kept the contents from igniting. One tank was on the B. F. Moore lease, near the railroad station, and the other on the F. A. Fuller lease in a residential area. Rainfall amounted to .80 of an inch.

The cold front moved into Kilgore at 11 p.m. Wednesday, dropping the temperature from 81 degrees to 73 degres within an hour. The minimum Thursday morning was 64 degrees.

Auto, Train Collide At Crossing Here

Sterling Taylor, 2208 Twenty-seventh Street, apparently was not injured when his car and a Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific train collided at the Twenty-fifth Street crossing about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon police said today.

Taylor's 1956 Oldsmobile was heavily damaged, however.

W. V. B. Slater, Roscoe, was engineer on the train, police said.

Bomarc Fired In Test Today

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A swift Boeing Bomarc ground-to-air missile roared off today to intercept an airborne target in a test some 200 miles over the Atlantic.

Bomarc—the Air Force's most highly developed defense missile —streaked straight up into the hazy sky and then arched gently toward the southeast.

Its target probably was a cruising B17 drone bomber. The Bomarc usually guides in on the target but veers off at the last split second during test shoots.

More than 40 Bomarcs have fired.

Daniel Lauds Cities For Safety Records

AUSTIN (AP) — The Department of Public Safety and 13 cities were sent congratulations yesterday by Gov. Daniel for their work in traffic safety.

The department and cities won awards from the National Safety Council.

McElroy Assurance Satisfies Russell

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) said today he is satisfied with new assurances that top military officials may testify frankly before congressional committees.

Secretary of Defense McElroy apparently settled a two-day feud with a formal letter to Russell saying that "officials of the department, when testifying before Congress, should give their personal judgments and opinions asked for them.

"There should not, in my opinion, be any question of retaliation or penalty for such testimony."

With that assurance, Russell said he will ask Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph M. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, to testify sometime next week on a pending defense reorganization bill.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, had canceled their scheduled testimony earlier this week after McElroy told newsmen he was disappointed at testimony on the bill by Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations.

McElroy promptly insisted that he had not rebuked the admiral and planned no retaliation.

The Armed Services Committee is hearing testimony on restrictions to the defense reorganization plan added by the House and opposed by the President and McElroy.

These would require advance notice to Congress of any major changes in the present armed services or their functions, with a chance for Congress to halt them.

They also would assure any secretary or professional head of the separate armed services of a direct appeal to Congress in case of a dispute within the Pentagon or Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Otto L. Nelson Jr., testifying for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, urged elimination of the restrictions.

He said the secretary of defense "must have clear authority to adjust promptly to changing conditions and the needs of any threat to our national security."

Fall From 2nd-Floor Sun Porch Is Fatal

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — For months Mrs. Irene House aired scatter rugs by hanging them on a sun porch railing at the rear of her second-floor duplex apartment.

As she started to drape a rug over the railing yesterday, the wooden structure collapsed.

The 31-year-old mother of four children plunged 18 feet to the ground, striking a metal pipe. She died soon after arrival at a hospital.

Police took custody of the children — ages 6 months to 7 years — until their father, who was working in berry fields in western Oregon, arrived home.

Warmup Due In Colorado

DENVER (AP)—Warmer temperatures and decreased storm activity took over today in the wake of a cold air mass that left snow in sections of Colorado and Wyoming yesterday.

Snow fell three hours at Laramie, Wyo., yesterday. One to five inches of snow in the mountains north and west of Denver was reported.

The cold air mass from Canada also brought snow intermingled with rain to Cheyenne, Wyo., and record low temperatures, hail and strong winds to sections of Colorado. However, no serious damage was reported.

Colorado Springs, 60 miles south of Denver, recorded the nation's lowest maximum temperautre yesterday, when the mercury dipped to 49 degrees. Denver's high of 55 also was a record low maximum for June 25 in the mile high city.

The Snyder school board, in a special meeting held last night, continued its work on preparing the 1958-59 school budget.

In the meeting, the board talked to two department heads concerning budgets for their departments. They were Mrs. Opal Spikes, director of cafeteria services, and John Conley, athletic director.

Board members present at the meeting included Max West, Dr. Wilton Jones, J. W. Phillips, Gene Best, and Ross Hemphill.

Hutto Gets Full Pardon

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel has granted a full pardon to William Hutto, who unknowingly was a fugitive from the Texas prison system almost 33 years.

Daniel signed the pardon last night, his office said today. The Pardons Board began clearing up the formalities, including a release date.

Hutto was arrested on a visit to his daughter in Lyford.

"Our investigation shows that during his 33 years of freedom, Hutto has made no attempt to hide his identity and has been arrested for no offense other than the traffic violation which caused his return to prison," the board said in recommending the pardon.

At Huntsville, Hutto said he had "received so many letters from friends and influential people in New Orleans that I feel certain I can start again." He was in the used auto business there.

Soviets Told Western Allies Plan To Proceed With Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States informed the Soviet Union today that so far as the Western Allies are concerned the projected July 1 conference at Geneva on nuclear tests detection problems "will proceed as agreed."

A note delivered in Moscow on personal order of President Eisenhower also advised the Soviet government — following Wednesday's Soviet turn-about—that the United States considers the aims of the conference to be precisely what Moscow and Washington have already agreed on.

State Department officials said that in essence the Soviet Union was thus informed that the United States continues to regard the Geneva meeting as a scientific rather than a political conference. That is, one arranged to explore the problem of test detection before any political commitment can be made on actually suspending nuclear tests.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White announced that the top U.S. delegates for the Geneva conference were leaving from New York for Geneva.

They are Dr. James Brown Fisk, chairman of the group and executive vice president of Bell Telephone Laboratories; Dr. Robert F. Bacher of California Institute of Technology; and Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence of the University of California. All three are top-flight scientists.

The U.S. move was agreed upon at a White House meeting last night between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

It seemed likely that, unless the Soviet Union also showed up for the meeting, the Kremlin would be trapped in a backfire of its own cold war maneuvering.

Western diplomats were surprised yesterday when the Soviet Union did an about-face less than 24 hours after indicating it would have Soviet and East European experts on hand at Geneva, where the technical talks are due to open next Tuesday.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson a note saying Soviet nuclear experts would not attend unless the United States took a position in advance that a ban on nuclear weapons tests is needed. Some U.S. experts already were en route to Geneva.

The Geneva talks are planned to discuss possible methods of policing any East-West agreement to ban such tests.

Dulles has said the talks should be purely technical, steering clear of international political matters.

But he also has said the technical talks would not prejudice the position of either side and might prove beneficial to the prospect of agreement on halting nuclear tests.

The new Soviet position was that Dulles has laid down conditions unacceptable to the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower cut short a golf game for a hurried conference with Dulles. The decision was to go ahead.

But it also was agreed to send a note overnight telling the Soviet Union to show up at Geneva on schedule or stand exposed as trying to squeeze concessions out of the United States without really being interested in halting atomic tests under adequate safeguards against cheating.

Cage Facing A Suit For $15 Million

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—State receivers of the ICT Insurance Co. filed a 15 million dollar recovery suit today against BenJack Cage and everyone else who had a part in his once widespread 75 firm financial empire.

The suit, detailed in a bulky 343-page petition, was filed in 98th District Court here in the name of A. F. Taylor, state receiver for the Texas-based insurance company whose boom was backed by many state labor unions.

BenJack Cage and 89 other individuals, along with 54 companies and corporations were named defendants in the mammoth civil suit.

Following Cage's name on the list of defendants were those of Byron Saunders and Garland Smith, former state Insurance Commission chairmen who are under indictment in connection with cash payments they received from the former wonder boy of Texas insurance.

Vanguard Records Its Fifth Failure In Six Launchings

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Another "basketball" satellite was boosted into space by a Vanguard rocket today. Then, like its two predecessors, the 20-inch, 21½-pound sphere plunged back to earth.

Failure of the Vanguard's second stage to ignite was blamed by the Naval Research Laboratory.

The 72-foot Navy rocket now has failed in five of its six tries. Its only success was chalked up March 17, when it launched the 3½-pound "grapefruit" satellite, tiniest of the man-made moons circling the earth.

Immediately in the wake of this latest failure came news from General Electric Co. that it is developing a new rocket engine capable of launching a satellite weighing as much as 20,000 pounds—almost seven times bigger than the Soviet Sputnik III.

This engine, the company said, will generate from 500,000 to a million pounds of thrust. This compares with 45,000 pounds for the Vanguard.

Components of the engine now are being tested by the GE rocket engine section at Malta, N.Y. It will be powered by liquid oxygen and kerosene, the same fuels used in the first stage of the Vanguard.

The latest Vanguard blasted off at 12:01 a.m. after delays of 2½ hours in the countdown. It was the third effort to get this particular rocket off its launching pad.

Its first stage functioned nicely, carrying the entire assembly to an altitude of 35 miles before burning out at the proper moment. By then, it was out of sight in the Florida sky.

Half an hour later, the Navy announced that the second stage, which houses the whole guidance "brain" of the rocket, did not ignite and so it did not achieve the necessary 300-mile altitude and the 18,000-mile-an-hour velocity required to pit its satellite into orbit.

"Records are now being examined to determine the cause of the malfunction," said the Navy.

The first two three-stage Vanguards blew up, one just four feet off the launching pad and the other at 20,000 feet. The third launched Vanguard I. The fourth and fifth, carrying "basketball" satellites, rushed into space but soon plunged back.

Like the two other "basketballs," the satellite taken aloft today was equipped to measure solar radiation.

MCKINZIE TRIAL

McKinzie, during the time he was in the meeting, was attempting to sell interest in what he represented as producing wells. He said McKinzie drew a sketch of the 2,000 acre lease he said he had in the Rangeley, Colo. field and spotted locations, showing it to be proven territory. The 2,000 acres was drawn off as one rectangular lease, Moore said.

He added that McKinzie said the men could buy interest under any of the producing wells. McKinzie referred, he said, also to a deep project which would produce 6,000 barrels and would be open later for $200,000. McKinzie told the group, Moore said, that the smallest and oldest of the 18 producing wells he had on the lease made 50 barrels a day and that some produced up to 600 barrels. From a $2,500 investment, McKinzie said the Snyder investors should get their money back within 14 to 15 months, Moore said. Moore became one of the investors.

Moore told about a trip he and J. B. Turner made to Colorado last September. They tried to find McKinzie to talk to him, he said, but did not. Turner did talk to him on the telephone, Moore added. While there, Turner and Moore employed an attorney to do some checking, he said. Moore said he was not present when the $17,500 check made payable to him and Turner was given to Turner by W. Jarrard Jones, trustee for McKinzie. That check was for their benefit only, he said. Turner had testified earlier that the bank would not make payment on that check.

Boren said he had met McKinzie as "William H." McKinzie and still knew him by that name. Boren was present at the meeting at the school administration building last July, about which other witnesses had testified. In the discussion, McKinzie said he owned about 2,000 acres of oil rights down to 3,000 feet in the Rangeley field, that he had drilled 19 oil wells on the property.

Later in the summer, Boren made a trip to Colorado and stayed at Rangeley two days. He went there to investigate the oil property for himself and other people. He told McKinzie he was there to look at the field, and McKinzie invited him to the field. Asked whether McKinzie called the property his at that time, Boren said that the best he could recall was that McKinzie said, "Let's go out and see the property." McKinzie showed him the property, and he saw about 10 wells which had been drilled, Boren said. Some of those were producing, some not, Boren said, adding that he tested three which he knew were producing. McKinzie did not directly say who owned those three wells, he said.

"I did not propose to buy any interest. I was there to investigate," Boren said, adding that he was not ready to buy any interest. Before leaving Rangeley, he said, he told McKinzie he wanted information on oil runs of each of the wells and a legal description of the land, and McKinzie said he would be in Lubbock the following weekend and bring the information with him. About a week afterward he called McKinzie in Lubbock and asked if he had the information and that McKinzie said he did and would bring it to him in Snyder the following Tuesday. He never brought the information to him, Boren said. Boren said he had found some information on some Kent County lands on McKinzie's request and sent him the information he had. He said he wrote McKinzie a letter and told him the people he represented did not want to give the property favorable consideration.

Williamson said he first met McKinzie at the meeting held at the school administration building last July. McKinzie said he owned full interest in the shallow production on about 2,000 acres in the Rangeley field and that he had some more property with rights at unlimited depth on about 160 acres in that area. On the 2,000 acres, McKinzie said he had drilled 19 wells and that 18 of them were producers, Williamson said, adding that McKinzie said he believed the wells produced an average of about 60 barrels daily. He saw McKinzie at a later date, Williamson said, and McKinzie said then he had checked and that the wells were averaging 80 barrels. Williamson told of McKinzie drawing a diagram of the land at the meeting held here and designating on the sketch locations of wells all over the 2,000 acres. He proposed to sell interest in the 18 producing wells he had, Williamson said, and also interest in property to be developed.

Williamson said he and Clyde Godwin went to Rangeley last July or August, taking with them about $75,000, to look at possible producing property or leases to be developed. They did not find McKinzie there or at Meeker, but while at Rangeley they talked to LeFever. They stayed at Vernal, Utah, and when they returned to their hotel there that day McKinzie came to the hotel and invited them to go back with him to Rangeley and he would show them the oil property. They did not want to go with him there after learning what they had at Rangeley earlier, Williamson said. Williamson said he had met the defendant as "William H." McKinzie and still knew him by that name at the time they went to Colorado.

Griffin also told of the meeting at the school administration building and said he knew the defendant then as "William H." McKinzie. Griffin said McKinzie said at that meeting that he had full interest in a lease on 2,000 acres at Rangeley and had drilled one dry hole and 18 producing wells on the lease. One well about two years old was making over 60 barrels of oil daily, while one just brought in had a potential of 600 to 700 barrels, Griffin said McKinzie told them. McKinzie made one proposition concerning 10 wells to be drilled, Griffin said McKinzie also offered to sell interest under producing wells, five per cent of one well or interest spread out over five wells. He said that McKinzie said he could see no reason why a person could not get back his original investment within a little over two years.

Wharton said he staked location for wells 34A through 38A on property for McKinzie last Aug. 10.

There has been drilling on two of those locations, he said, but he did not know how much. He said he staked a location for well 33A, the one most in question in the trial, but no well was ever drilled on that location. Another well was called 33A, he said not staked by Wharton. He said he did not know what property that well was on, that it had no production to his knowledge. At the time, he knew McKinzie as "William H" McKinzie, he said. Jones paid him for staking the locations.

LeFever testified that he had been an oilfield worker 33 years, that he was hired by a man in Illinois to go to Colorado to work for McKinzie. McKinzie gave instructions for his work, and he worked for him on his lease in the Rangeley field. He knew him, up to the trial, as "William H." McKinzie, he said. He first met him when he went to Rangeley last July to work for him, supervising his drilling and production.

McKinzie had two wells able to produce, with workable equipment on them, during last July and August in the Rangeley field, LeFever said, plus two other wells with jacks and motors on them. These were the only four which had equipment to pump, he said. On cross-examination LeFever said he could not swear McKinzie did not own other wells. The controversial well 33A was just a hole in the ground, LeFever said, when he went there, and it never produced while he was there in the employment of McKinzie.

While he was there working for McKinzie, LeFever said, Godwin and Williamson came to see him in the field and he had a conversation with them. McKinzie had mentioned to him that a couple of Texas men would probably come to the field, LeFever said. After they had been there and gone, McKinzie came to Rangeley that day and asked LeFever if the men had been there, LeFever said, adding that he told him about the conversation, between himself and the two Snyder men.

LeFever said he told McKinzie that he had told Godwin and Williamson the two producing wells on the lease were making six to eight barrels daily. He told him they had asked if two pumping wells nearby were McKinzie's and he said they were not. He said McKinzie seemed "sore" because he had told them the two nearby wells were not his. McKinzie told him, he said, that he thought the two had some money to invest and that the thought LeFever's conversation with them had "blowed up" the deal.

LeFever said he saw McKinzie again the next morning and that McKinzie informed him that he was going to Vernal and see "if he could put the deal back together." LeFever said McKinzie instructed him to start up the gasoline engine on well 12B, one of those which had not been pumping, but to not throw the clutch yet, and to drive back to well 31A, the other well not being pumped, which had a jack and an electric motor, and stand by until he saw McKinzie's car approaching. At that time, he was to start the motor on 31A, move over to well 12B, throw in the clutch, and leave. After such a well had not been pumped for a time and was started up, it would have "flush" production when first pumping, LeFever said. The two Snyder men, however, never returned with McKinzie, LeFever said, as McKinzie had planned.

LeFever said that although McKinzie did not hire him personally for the job at Rangeley, he was told by the person who hired him that McKinzie knew about it, and McKinzie was the one who gave him instructions on the job.

LeFever testified on cross-examination that he has filed a mechanic's and laborer's lien against McKinzie for wages for work done for him at Rangeley.

Man Is Held On Charges In Two Cities

A man arrested here by city police on two traffic violation charges on June 23, is reported to be wanted on felony charges in Omaha, Neb., and San Diego, Calif.

He is Richard A. Humphrey, who gave his address to city police as Omaha.

He is serving time in city jail in lieu of $25 fine on the charges of running a stop light and for failure to have a driver's license.

Checks with officers in Omaha, disclosed that he is wanted there on several charges of felony check swindle, and a check with officials in San Diego disclosed that he was also wanted there on several felony check swindle charges, some involving checks of up to $500.

He was driving a 1956 Ford Thunderbird when arrested, and police found papers in his possession from San Diego. Some of the papers resembled bill-of-sale papers on the Thunderbird, but San Diego authorities say the Thunderbird is one reported as stolen there.

He is being held for authorities from Omaha and San Diego.

Long Life Of Activity Best For Hearts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It's a long life of physical activity, not the few years of exercise by the athlete, that builds up protection against heart attacks, a University of Kentucky doctor said today.

All three components of the aging process—decline in efficiency, decline in physique and decline in health—are staved off by sustained physical activity, Dr. Ernest Jokl told the American Medical Assn.

"An exercise regimen that confines itself to a few years of intensive training as usually adhered to by competitive athletes will not thus be effective," he said.

The health significance of long-time physical activity as contrasted with the exercise quota of the athlete came out, Dr. Jokl said, in studies made of lumberjacks in Finland, unskilled manual laborers in Great Britain, long-term members of German gymnastic clubs, and mountain guides in Switzerland.

Crewmen Bring In Crippled Bomber

By FRED MOEN

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—A crippled Air Force bomber limped along high above the eastern Kansas plains Wednesday night, inside, six men tried to decide whether to stay with the plane or bail out.

After two hours of tests, the airmen elected to ride down with the six-engine RB47 reconnaissance bomber. They brought the plane home to Forbes Air Force Base without further mishap.

"The two hours seemed like seven hours because you know at the end you had to come down," said Maj. Lewis Chase, 36, commander of the bomber, from Gallitzin, Pa.

With an engine gone and a ripped wing, the crew practiced landings at 15,000 feet—slowing down and lowering flaps and landing gear—before they decided the ship could be coaxed to the ground.

The crew experienced a sudden jolt about 8 p. m. while on a routine training flight and Chase said he saw one of the plane's engines standing on end. A few seconds later it dropped off, ripping the underside of the right wing. The engine fell harmlessly in the back yard of a farmhouse about 50 miles south of here.

"We could not see the bottom of the wing and we did not know whether the wing would stay on," said Chase.

Others aboard were Lt. Frank L. Hicks, Olympia, Wash., pilot; Capt. Thomas H. Hanley, Easton, Pa., navigator; 1st Lt. Heromu Goya, Honolulu; 1st Lt. Thomas J. Gresalfi, Baldwin, Long Island, N. Y.; and 2nd Lt. Roscoe H. Fobair, Covina, Calif.

Chase said the plane became easier to control as the fuel load lightened. He and the other crew members definitely decided about 10 p. m. to land, and brought the ship in at 11:27 p. m.

"Most pilots would have bailed out under similar circumstances," said Col. James K. Johnson, commander of the 55th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing. "They would have hit the panic button."

Deny Hospital Accreditation

HOUSTON (AP) — Accreditation has been denied Houston's City-County Hospital where 18 infants died this year from an infection that resists miracle drugs, Mayor Lewis Cutrer said yesterday.

The action was taken by the Board of Commissioners of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

The national board gave the hospital a provisional rating two years ago. A board investigator checked the hospital May 5 and 6.

Cutrer said he was disappointed but not surprised.

The infants died from a staphylococcus epidemic. All but two of the deaths occurred before April.

Raging Creek Floods Town In Oklahoma

GUTHERIE, Okla. (AP) — Hundreds fled their homes early today as waters from Cottonwood Creek spread over sections of the town.

Ray Jessup, Guthrie Red Cross chairman, estimated more than 100 families had abandoned their homes and said the total might reach 300 families if the creek continues to rise.

A Red Cross disaster team and Guthrie firemen were helping with the evacuation. Flood victims took shelter in a school and a church.

Cottonwood Creek, which flows through this central Oklahoma town before emptying into the Cimarron River, overflowed shortly before midnight. A few hours later water was standing in the streets in a 12-block area of west Guthrie and rising steadily.

The flooding stream was fed by three-inch rains on its watershed to the north of Guthrie.

Rain Tuesday night and early Wednesday caused flash flooding in other sections of Oklahoma. Several highways were closed briefly by high water. Livestock drowned and crops were damaged.

Hail and high winds accompanied the rains.

Youth Admits Slaying Pair At Galveston

HOUSTON (AP) — Assistant deputy Sheriff Lloyd Frazier said today Howard Stickney, charged in the slaying of a young married couple, had signed a statement admitting the killings.

Frazier said he and four other officers were with the youth toward the end of a long questioning when Stickney, 20, once confident and smiling, told sheriff's criminal investigator Hugh Irby: "Yes, I did it."

Dist. Atty. Dan Walton confirmed that the former State Highway Department worker had made a new statement.

Frazier said Stickney told this story at the end of the session which ended early today:

He and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barnes were on a swimming party on a beach near Galveston.

"Cliff and I were trying to sleep on blankets. Shirley was in the car."

"Suddenly, I got the impulse—I don't know why—and I got the lug wrench from the car and struck Cliff.

"Shirley must have heard him cry out. She came toward me and I struck her."

Frazier said Stickney told them he took off her bathing suit and washed her body in the Gulf waters. Then, he said, he wrapped her body in a blanket and put it in the back seat of his car.

He said he put Cliff Barnes' body in the trunk, then drove to the Barnes apartment in Houston and left Mrs. Barnes' body on a bed.

Frazier said Stickney told them he then drove to a lonely road near Sugar Land and hid Cliff Barnes' body, blanket wrapped, in brush.

The body of Cliff Barnes was found June 18 by two rabbit hunters, a lug wrench nearby. The woman's body was discovered May 27 after she failed to report to work at an insurance firm.

Stickney was arrested June 20 in Perth, N.B., Canada.

AUSTIN (AP)—Complex survival plans against enemy attack have been completed for three major Texas cities, but 13 other primary target areas are still in the preparation stages, Civil Defense Workers heard yesterday.

Mattie Treadwell, coordinator of the Texas survival project for the Federal Civil Defense Administration, spoke to the annual civil defense advisory conference here.

Plans have been completed for Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston, she said. A state plan is still on the drawing board but must be ready by Jan. 1. Texas was given $320,000 from the federal government to prepare the plan.

Target cities in Texas where plans are not complete, she said, were: Austin, San Antonio, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Amarillo, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Laredo, Lubbock, San Angelo, Waco and Wichita Falls.

WOMEN

Barry Nelson Not Looking For Sympathy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Barry Nelson thought he detected some sympathetic glances from his co-workers when he returned for a TV show recently.

"I could just feel them thinking, 'poor Barry, he hasn't been working lately,'" he laughed.

As a matter of fact, Barry Nelson has been working steadily for 18 months and enjoying one of the biggest successes of his life. He drew raves for his performance as Will Stockdale in the London company of "No Time For Sergeants." Although he was signed for only six months, he extended his stay twice because the show was such a hit.

"But try and tell that to people in Hollywood!" he sighed. "They think because they haven't seen you on TV or in pictures that you've been out of work."

Barry is now back to repair his fences. He's up for some film roles and will take them only if they seem important.

"I'm doing too well in TV and on the stage," he explained. "If you allow yourself to get into a B-picture rut, you endanger your career in other mediums.

"For that reason, I've done only one picture in seven years. That was 'The First Traveling Saleslady' with Ginger Rogers. It sounded like a good project at the time. But it turned out to be the picture that opened and closed RKO. How are you to know?"

Still, he's not afraid to take chances, as he did with "No Time For Sergeants." He was playing a different kind of a role for him and in a strange country. What's more, the show seemed doomed at the start.

"We were sticking our necks out with an American play, star and director," Barry commented. "To top it off, the London papers were full of a blast that Helen Hayes had leveled at the British theater. They were highly indignant."

Despite the hazards, the play was a smash. Barry decided to stay with it even though he knew his Hollywood career might suffer.

"I couldn't miss the opportunity of living over there and doing a show," he said. "It is getting increasingly difficult for American actors to play London. I twas the only American in the cast."

Identical Twins Are Similar Once Again

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Neighbors of identical twins Richard and Robert Galloway, 7, at last had a means of telling them apart when Robert turned up two weeks ago with a broken left arm in a sling.

Then Richard had his turn.

Results: identical plaster casts, identical left slings — identical twins.

WHAT'S GOING ON

MIKE MURPHY, 2101 Forty-second Street, who received a neck injury at Lake J. B. Thomas a week ago, has been transferred to the Methodist Hospital, Lubbock.

MISS JERRI MCMILLAN of Midland, is a weekend guest of SANDRA DERRYBERRY.

MRS. OLAN T. MOORE and TOMMY visited her parents, the J. E. DERRYBERRYS, Friday, en route from Dallas to her home in Midland.

Protecting Sponsors Is Big Job For Television Writers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—On a recent television thriller, the victim met his end by cooking gas. The turn of events came as a great surprise to the author of the show who had painstakingly figured out murder by means of a live electric wire.

As it happened, the rewrite of that portion of plot was no reflection on the writer's ingenuity. It was just that the sponsor of the show happens to be the manufacturer of electric household devices.

In the planning of every sponsored, live television show there is some responsible soul, employed by an interested advertising agency, who is constantly on the lookout for untoward situations.

"You are so accustomed to checking scripts against clients' products that you don't even think much about it," says one agency program supervisor. "It's a built-in protection."

Thus some interesting changes and arrangements are made. In one show, it was necessary to show a number of closeups of a robber's getaway car, so close that it would be easy to identify the make of vehicle. The interested advertising agency had clients who manufacture automobiles, even though they were not sponsors of that particular show. The getaway car was chosen very carefully: a four-year-old model of a car handled by a rival agency. The theory was that a nice car is used by nice people.

It is perfectly all right to hit a comedian in the face with a pie on a program sponsored by a pharmaceutical house selling pills, all other conditions being complied with. It is strictly banned, however, in shows sponsored by a big food specialty manufacturer whose products include pie filling mixes and a pie crust mix. When pies are shown on their time, they want them taken seriously.

Beer manufacturers don't like drunk scenes; linoleum manufacturers don't like shots of people slipping; airplane people hate plane crash dramas and so it goes all the way down the line.

The people who watch for these things also have the job of seeing that clients' products are used whenever possible. When a kitchen equipment manufacturer's show has a scene in the kitchen, it is carefully decked out in the nicest examples of the sponsor's product. One TV-wise manufacturer has on hand examples of its obsolete models so that, if the scene is laid in 1935, its own product can still be correctly shown.

"When it is feasible, too, we suggest that the scene use the product of other agency clients as long as they have to use some prop," said one advertising executive. "As long as they have to show a bottle of a soft drink, or a typewriter, for instance, they might just as well show the one we handle. Directors and producers are nice about it: we give them the prop free and they like to save money."

Chicken Chop Suey Casserole

With Housewives favoring chicken as the main meat course more and more because of higher prices of other meats, new ways of preparing chicken are popular.

Here's one that is different, but promises to be popular with every member of the family.

Cook 1 cup coarsely chopped celery, ½ cup green pepper strips and 3 tablespoons chopped onion in 2 tablespoons margarine. Cook until the onion is yellow. Add 1½ cups chicken broth. Heat until very hot. Thicken with 2 tablespoons cornstarch mixed with 2 tablespoon cold water. Cook until mixture thickens. Add 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 1 can Chinese vegetables and 2 cups diced chicken. About an hour before mealtime place 1 cup uncooked white rice, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups water in a greased 3-quart oven dish. Top with the chicken mixture. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven about 45 to 55 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Sprinkle 1-3 cup split, blanched almonds over the top during the last 15 minutes of cooking. This recipe makes 10 servings.

You may wish to add powdered cumin to a curry dish or chili con carne. Curry powder always includes some cumin.

Monitors Move In On Hoffa's Union

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Court-named monitors have started a major crackdown to reform James R. Hoffa's scandal-rocked Teamsters Union.

The drive is being steered by Martin F. O'Donoghue, a veteran labor lawyer who for a time last fall represented the Teamsters in a suit against the union. He told a reporter: "I'm going to call 'em as I see 'em. If they don't like it, let them blow their tops."

O'Donoghue and two fellow monitors issued clean-up orders yesterday aimed at Teamsters locals in New York, Philadelphia and Springfield, Mo. The monitors also closed they are checking surety bonds of Teamsters officials all over the country to weed out convicted hoodlums.

Hoffa, Teamsters president just acquitted in New York on "wire-tapping conspiracy" charges, has called a meeting of the national union's executive board here next Monday. The union's top bosses will have to decide whether to go along with O'Donoghue or buck him.

Two members of the 15-man executive board are involved in the New York and Philadelphia locals subject to monitor orders. But it is indicated that if O'Donoghue meets opposition he will complain directly to U. S. District Court Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who appointed him.

Working with O'Donoghue as court-appointed monitors are Godfrey Schmidt of New York and L. N. D. Wells of Dallas.

The Philadelphia local is bossed by Ray Cohen. He invoked the Fifth Amendment 80 times in April in refusing to tell the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee how he handled more than a half million dollars in union funds.

The monitors ordered Cohen to produce a surety bond or $25,000 collateral by next Monday or be ousted from office. He is a national Teamsters vice president and executive board member. The monitors also have an outside auditing firm going over Cohen's books and have recommended the Teamsters initiate ouster proceedings against him.

John O'Rourke, another Teamsters vice president and board member, was ordered by the monitors to hold meetings of his New York Local 282 from June through September. The meetings had been requested by members of the local, but O'Riurke had refused them.

Elections due this weekend in the Springfield, Mo., local were ordered suspended by the monitors, who said some members were denied nomination for office on technical grounds only. The monitors have auditors going over that local's books, too.

Corsicana Man To Succeed McFarland

AMARILLO (AP)—Robert Ashworth, Corsicana school superintendent, will replace Dr. John McFarland as head of the Amarillo schools if he can get a release from his three-year contract that has one year to run.

Ashworth, 44, was unanimously elected by the Amarillo School Board yesterday.

Ashworth was to meet with Corsicana School Board members immediately.

The Amarillo board released Dr. McFarland from his contract Tuesday to enable him to become superintendent of the Houston public schools.

Ashworth, a native of Commerce, Tex., flew to Amarillo to meet with the board, returning to Corsicana last night.

Record Yield Is Predicted

DALLAS (AP)—A cotton industry spokesman believes Texas may set an all-time record for yield of cotton lint per acre this year.

C. B. Spencer, agricultural director of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Assn., said yesterday "cotton leaders confidently expect Texas growers to break the all-time high yield of 325 pounds of lint per acre which was established way back in 1866."

In 1957 the yield was 295 pounds per harvested acre, the highest since the pioneer days of 1866.

Spencer said the 1958 cotton crop was off to a good start. He said about one-third of this year's acreage will be on irrigated land and that there was sufficient subsoil moisture to assure a better than average yield under dryland farming conditions. He also praised the work done by farmers to control insects.

Medal Sought After Rescue

KILGORE, Tex. (AP)—The Kilgore News Herald is seeking a Carnegie Hero Medal for a man who rescued two children from drowning in a well Saturday.

Claude Wheat, 35, Negro maintenance man at Kilgore College, saved two sisters—Cheila Moore, 4, and Dianne Moore, 3—after they fell into water 6 to 8 feet deep.

Wheat, hearing the cries of their mother—Mrs. Leon Moore—jumped into the well and clung to a pipe until other rescuers arrived with a rope. The children were unharmed.

"I am very grateful to him. I never can repay him for saving our babies," the father said.

The News Herald said Wednesday Wheat's deed will be submitted to the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Professors Are Blamed For Shortage

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — College professors are largely responsible, a college professor says, for a shortage of competent engineering faculties in U.S. universities.

"By an attitude of self-pity and public lamentation, they have convinced everybody, including the seed for future crops, that college teachers are downtrodden, underprivileged and underpaid," said J. E. McKee of Pasadena, Calif.

"Nothing could do more to scare away the potential young graduate student who had hoped to go into teaching," he told the American Society of Civil Engineers yesterday.

McKee is a professor sanitary engineering at California Institute of Technology.

McKee said bright students should be entranced by the subject matter to become teachers. He added that engineering teachers generally earn good salaries and outside income is easy for them to obtain.

Biggest Suspension Bridge Dedicated

By TOM SHAWVER

Straits of MACKINAC BRIDGE, Mich. (AP)—Michigan started a solid 72 hours of merrymaking today as it dedicated the world's longest and costliest suspension bridge.

With parades and fireworks, thousands touched off the three-day celebration at the Straits of Mackinac, where the new bridge joins Michigan's two peninsulas for the first time since the Ice Age.

Star of the show is "Mighty Mac"—the five-mile-long bridge, built in 3½ years at a cost of 100 million dollars.

Its 7,400-foot suspension span is longer than any other in the world.

The bridge connects Michigan's two peninsulas at a point where the Straits of Mackinac join Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Open for business since the start of the deer hunting season last Nov. 1 (minimum fee, $3.25 one way), the bridge has awaited warm weather and tourists for its formal dedication.

Two Michigan Republican politicians — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker — got the ball rolling yesterday. Gov. G. Mennen Williams and his Democrats will run the show pretty much from now on.

Construction of the bridge, climaxing 70 years of dreams, was a major engineering feat.

Because of swift, treacherous currents and fierce winds that whip through the area at velocities up to 78 miles an hour, skeptics for years have said no such bridge could be built.

But Dr. David B. Steinman, its designer, says the bridge not only is safe — it's the safest in the world and can withstand winds of infinite velocity.

Nearly 3,500 men helped build it and five died in construction accidents.

Michigan looks upon the bridge as a big tourist attraction and expects to foster industry and business growth in the sparsely populated Upper Peninsula.

Old Pros Expect Early Adams Exit

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whatever the surface signs may say, a substantial segment of the old pros of the Republican party have convinced themselves that Sherman Adams is not long for the White House.

This runs contrary to the clear signs President Eisenhower has given that he needs his top assistant and intends to keep him at his right hand.

However, among many of those planning the forthcoming congressional election campaign, the belief persists that steps are being taken to smooth the eventual exit of Adams.

These men are busy revising the campaign strategy because of disclosures that Adams accepted costly favors from Bernard Goldfine of Boston, a textile mill and real estate operator.

One of these strategists, who has maintained friendly relations with Adams, said a concerted effort now is under way to diffuse the attacks on the presidential assistant by reviving influence charges made against Democrats.

This would tend to mute any corruption issue in the congressional campaign.

Regulatory agency officials have denied that Goldfine benefited from telephone calls directed to them by Adams.

The administration also has made some strenuous efforts to get Republicans to defend Adams. But it hasn't been able to muster much support among Congress members seeks re-election.

Some Republican strategists hope the President's aide will regard himself as sufficiently vindicated to take himself out of the campaign picture.

They are convinced that even if there remains no valid challenge to his integrity, the Goldfine-paid hotel bills, the gift vicuna coat and the loaned $2,400 Oriental rug will be much hotter campaign issues if Adams remains in the White House than if he leaves.

Eskimos in Alaska have a popular sport called "nalakutuk," or "blanket tossing." A tough walrus skin is used for the blanket, and the contestant is tossed high in the air. The winner is the one who can land and stay on his feet.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

(Franklin Pruitt, teacher in the Snyder High School, is substituting today for Sports Editor Buck Francis, who is on vacation).

One of the best known expressions concerning Southwest Conference football is the one made famous in recent years by fans of the Baylor University Bears. "Wait 'til next year", or "maybe next year" has been heard more than once during the years of near misses and dismal failures.

After the poor showing last year by Baylor, who incidentally was the "pre-season favorite" of a majority of sportswriters and coaches not much has been heard about the Bears' chances this coming season. Many of the fans are perhaps looking into the future and saying (but not too loudly) "Maybe some day".

Judging from the success in recruiting this year by Coach Sam Boyd and his associates that day may not be too long in coming. Next year's freshman team should contain some of the best talent seen on the campus in years.

Those boys who have signed "letters of intent" include eleven all-staters, eight from Texas and three from other states. Numerous all-district players and those with other high honors have also been signed. Included in this group are several who have received All-American honors and five who will participate in the August 9 Texas Schoolboy all-star game in Houston. It is one of the best balanced groups ever recruited by the Bears.

Two All-America Ends Signed

Two All-America ends have agreed to head toward Waco; Claude Pearson, 6-4, 190 pounds from Treadwell High School of Memphis, Tenn., and Bill Hicks, 6-2 195 pounds from Little Rock, Ark. Hicks was and all-stater for three consecutive years.

Other future Bears who were named to the All-America high school team include Robert Mankin, Bonham lineman, and backs Danny Griffin of Frederick, Oklahoma and Ronnie Bull of Bishop, Texas. Griffin was named Oklahoma's high school "Back of the year."

All-staters (other than those who also made All-America) include ends Don Ray Hopson of Llano, Eddie Curtis of Terrell, and David Alexander of White Oak; linemen Kenneth Chancelor of Gilmer and Nederland's Herbert Adkins; and backs Bobby Manasco of Cleburne and Ronnie Stanley of Port Arthur.

Two other well-known backs who gained all-state honorable mention are Bobby Ply from Mission and Tommy Minter of Gladewater. Minter, incidentally, was the high point individual at the state double A track meet this past spring.

All in all, things are looking up for Baylor's football possibilities. Perhaps in a year or two all of us Bear fans will be saying "Maybe next year".

O'Connell Blasts His Ex-Teammates

By CHUCK CAPALDO

MILWAUKEE (AP) —The San Francisco Giants' Danny O'Connell, slowly warming up to his subject, barbecued the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night for what he called their lack of spirit, drive and incentive.

O'Connell's blast at his former teammates served to second a motion made in Los Angeles the other day by the Dodgers' Carl Furillo, who has crossed conversational swords with the Braves on numerous occasions.

Furillo singled out West Covington, Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews for his more baited barbs and ended by saying, "The Braves are playing like they were two years ago when they blew the pennant. . . They'll never win it."

Reluctant at first to be drawn onto the charcoals of controversy, O'Connell finally blurted:

"The Braves should be further ahead than they are right now with the team they have, the hitters and pitchers. They're in first place, all right, but only 2½ games ahead of the Cards and us.

"Something's wrong. I don't know exactly what it is but I'll say this. They never had too much spirit and they don't have an overabundance of it right now. They're a little let down in their general attitude."

Asked for particulars following the Giants' 10-2 victory, the 29-year-old second baseman declined to name any individuals.

"When I was with the club in 1956 and '57," O'Connell said "everyone was for himself. They were all individualists until they got Red Schoendienst in the trade that sent me to the Giants. He took charge last year and steadied them, but he's been out of the lineup a lot this year and can't steady them down. You can see it when they're on the field."

Told about the remarks made by Furillo and O'Connell, the Braves shrugged them off with a "this is where I came in" attitude.

"Are they starting that already?" said Schoendienst. "It's kinda early isn't it?"

Calhoun Looking For A Re-Match

CHICAGO (AP)—Rory Calhoun, after a rousing victory over Bobby Boyd in a bruising 10-rounder, said today he is looking forward to a re-match with the rugged Chicago middleweight.

Calhoun, the No. 7 middleweight contender, scored two knockdowns in Chicago Stadium last night and then stood off a tremendous finish by Boyd to score a unanimous decision in the nationally televised bout.

The New Yorker and Boyd expected to iron out the details of a re-match, tentatively slated for Aug. 6 or Aug. 20, at a meeting in the Stadium today. The bout would be held in Chicago.

Looking beyond the re-match Boyd, Calhoun said he also was looking forward to a bout with the winner of Monday night's scrap between Joey Giradello and Joey Giambra in San Francisco.

Calhoun said he played it safe last night after knocking Boyd down in the second and ninth rounds.

"All I'm interested in," said Calhoun, "is moving up in the middleweight ratings for a shot at Sugar Ray Robinson's title."

In the closing 10th round Boyd, the No. 8 middleweight contender, had the New Yorker staggering under a furious two-fisted onslaught.

Referee Walter Brightmore scored it 48-42 for Calhoun under the Illinois five-point must scoring system. Judge Jim McManus called it for Calhoun 47-43 and Judge John Bray gave it to Calhoun 45-44. The AP card was 46-42 for Calhoun.

Near Collision Over Airport

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An American Airlines plane with 44 persons aboard and a Navy plane narrowly missed a collision 500 feet above Municipal Airport Wednesday.

The airliner, piloted by Capt. Ted Kasper of Grapevine, Tex., had just taken off for Dallas when the Navy AD6 swooped out of the 1,000-foot ceiling. The Navy plane passed above the DC7.

Lt. E. V. Thomas, pilot of the Navy plane, said he turned away quickly when he saw the DC7. He said he had been unable to contact the control tower by radio because bad weather had jammed communications.

The weather had also prevented Thomas, flying in from Norfolk, Va., from landing at Scott Air Force Base near Belleville, Ill., his original destination.

The DC7 continued on to Dallas.

K-City Athletics Not A Yank Farm

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

That gag about the Kansas City A's being a New York Yankee farm club in the American League is wearing so thin there are holes in the it.

Particularly since it was an ex-Detroit hand who drove in the winning run, a pair of former Cleveland players who batted in two others and an ex-Injun southpaw who was credited with the victory in that 4-3 Kansas City decision over Washington last night.

It was the only AL game played. Rain washed out the others.

In the National League, San Francisco rapped Milwaukee 10-2. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated Pittsburgh 3-1. Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 10 innings.

Bill Tuttle delivered the payoff hit for the A's, ramming a single up the middle with the bases loaded in the ninth to crack a 3-all tie. Frank House, who went to the A's from Detroit with Tuttle in the Billy Martin deal of last winter, opened the rally with a double and losing reliefer Dick Hyde then walked a pair.

Dick Tomanek (3-3) won his first for Kansas City, getting the final out after the Senators tied it in the ninth on a walk and Albie Pearson's triple off Tom Gorman.

Tuttle, House, Roger Maris and Preston Ward had five of the A's eight hits. Maris singled home the A's second run and scored the first off starter Pete Ramos. Ward who traveled with Maris and Tomanek to Kansas City from Cleveland, homered for a 3-2 lead in the eighth off Vito Valentinetti, purchased Monday by the Nats from Detroit.

Hobbs Helps Artesia Nine Tighten Grip

By The Associated Press

Hobbs beat Carlsbad for the fourth straight time Wednesday and it gave Artesia breathing room at the top of the Sophomore League.

Midland moved six games away from second place San Angelo in the Eastern Division. The Braves beat San Angelo 10-7.

Artesia made its margin in the Western Division a game and a half by downing Plainview 8-6.

Ken Clark hit a homer in the ninth to win for Hobbs over Carlsbad 4-3. The Cardinals had gotten their other runs by the unearned route, ruining a 7-hit pitching job by southpaw George Goich.

Al Knox twirled well for Hobbs, also working a 7-hitter.

Midland came from behind to beat San Angelo with left-hander John Wilcox limiting the Pirates to a single hit in five innings of relief work.

Midland was behind 6-3 in the fourth but managed to go ahead in the sixth when Kerry Buckner scored on a wild pitch after socking a double. Ty Clayton's triple in the seventh got the eventual clinching runs.

Three Jims did the job for Artesia. Jim McClain hit a grand-slam homer, Jim Gibson pitched eight innings to win his first decision of the year and Jim Tucker relieved in the last inning to put out the fire of a strong Plainview threat.

Novice May Be Promoter In Title Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An admitted novice in boxing appears set as co-promoter of a Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris heavyweight championship fight here. Only the Aug. 18 date remains in doubt.

Television executive William Rosensohn stepped in yesterday after the California Athletic Commission denied a promoter's license to Al Weill.

Rosensohn formally applied for a license. Jack Urch, the commission's executive secretary, said he would urge the commission to approve it. The applicant will co-promote the fight with the Hollywood Legion Stadium.

Rosensohn resigned last week as a vice president of a closed-circuit television company. He had been negotiating with Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, for theater TV rights when Weill was denied a license.

"It was just a matter of being at the right place at the right time," he told newsmen.

The date of Aug. 18 must be approved by the commission. The rival Olympic Auditorium Club opposes it because of its proximity to the Pete Rademacher-Zora Folley fight July 25 and the Carmen Basilio-Art Aragon match Aug. 28.

Rosensohn said he met D'Amato Tuesday in Houston and they drove to Harris' home in Cut and Shoot, Tex., where new contracts were signed.

The terms are virtually unchanged, with champion Patterson getting 50 per cent of the gate and the challenger a guaranteed $100,000. Rosensohn waived any portion of TV proceeds.

Stars May Do Better Today

EAST NORWICH, N. Y. (AP)—The touring stars didn't exactly take apart the Pine Hollow course in the pro-celebrity competition, but with $50,000 in prizes on the line they can be expected to do a little better in the first round of the Long Island Open golf tournament today.

Only four players broke 70 on the 6,860-yard par 71 layout yesterday. Billy Casper and Bob Rosburg each carded a 67. Jerry Barber and Dave Marr had 69's.

Casper is the leading money winner of the year with more than $31,000 to his credit. He never missed a putt under 2 feet yesterday.

Casper and Rosburg picked up an extra $900 for their deadlock at 67. The pros collected a total of $10,000 for the preliminary competition, the sum bringing the total value of the tournament to $60,000.

Approximately 150 players teed off for the $9,000 first prize today. The field will be cut to the low 50 and ties after Friday's round.

Cats Holding On To First

By The Associated Press

Fort Worth held firmly to the Texas League lead Wednesday by whipping San Antonio in a doubleheader.

Corpus Christi returned to the first division with a 9-6 triumph over Tulsa.

Dallas pulled into sixth by walloping Houston 5-2.

The Cats downed San Antonio 6-4 in the first game as Gil Gabler batted in three runs with a homer and triple and Chick King slammed a 2-run homer. Then the Cats took the nightcap 3-2 when Ray Bellino singled in the tenth to drive in the deciding tally.

Austin lashed Victoria 6-0.

Four Named To Texas Squad For Oil Bowl

WICHITA FALLS (AP — Four boys have been named to the Texas squad for the Oil Bowl football game.

Doyce Walker, Burkburnett tailback, and Guy Gibbs, Graham quarterback, were announced yesterday. They join Jack Collins, Dallas Highland Park halfback, and Ronnie Payne, Breckenridge end, who were selected last week.

The Texas squad meets Oklahoma in the charity game.

Gaints Could Win Flag In Tough Race, Rigney Insists

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"This National League is so tough," insists Manager Bill Rigney of San Francisco, "my guys could win it." Thus far, the race and his Giants have made that boast a toast.

The Giants haven't won two in a row in a month. They haven't had an extra-base hit or a run batted in from Willie Mays in three weeks. And they've played only .333 ball (7-14) since June 1. Yet they've lost only 1½ games to the defending Milwaukee Braves.

They looked like anything but a slumping club last night, walloping the first-place Braves 10-2 on an unbeatable combination of breaks, hits and pitching. That left the third-place Giants .002 percentage points behind St. Louis. Both challengers are only 2½ games back of Milwaukee. The Cardinals won their fifth straight, 3-1 at Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia avoided a dip to the cellar with a 5-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs in 10 innings. Los Angeles and Cincinnati were idled by rain.

Cougars Win Third Title

WASHINGTON, Mass. (AP) — Houston Cougars, holding their third straight team title after a record-shattering spree, today sent five players in quest of the individual National Collegiate golf championship.

Co-medalist Phil Rodgers, Jim Hiskey, Jack Cupit, Frank Wharton and Bob Pratt ventured into the first round of match competition after establishing a low mark of 570 aggregate strokes, two better than the previous mark by Southern Methodist in 1954.

Houston, which lost only to Baylor in 11 dual matches, now has won seven consecutive tournaments.

Oklahoma State placed second 12 strokes behind, aided by Ab Justice who fired a 139 for co-medal with Rodgers.

While Houston basked in its glory, 64 players are matching club and wits on the 6,630-yard, par 71 Taconic Club course for intercollegiate golf's top prize.

According to revised plans, two 18-hole rounds are set for today, two Friday with a 36-hole semi-final Saturday and a 36-hole final Sunday.

Lane Makes His Challenge

HOUSTON (AP) — Kenny Lane, the Muskegon challenger, believes he is the left-hander who can stop lightweight champion Joe Brown's mastery over southpaws.

Lane expressed such confidence yesterday shortly after signing to meet the 32-year-old champion here July 23 in a 15-round nationally televised title fight.

Brown has beaten every left-hander he has faced while compiling a record that includes 72 victories, 9 draws and 15 defeats. The New Orleans-Houston Negro will be seeking his 33rd knockout when he meets Lane in Sam Houston Coliseum.

"I beat more right-handers than Brown beat southpaws," said Lane the 25-year-old Michigan boxer who has held the No. 1 spot among lightweight challengers nearly two years.

"Besides, I'm a left-hander but I think right-handed," he said.

Floridians Win Matches

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Veteran Gardnar Mulloy and gorgeous Karol Fageros, a couple of Floridians, caught up with the leaders today in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships by winning second round matches.

Mulloy, 44, of Coral Gables, eliminated John Hurry of South Africa, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Fageros, of Miami, defeated Italy's Silvana Lazzarino, 6-1, 7-5.

In another second round match, Australia's Neale Fraser, routed Foo Mei of Communist China, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

These second rounders had to be held today because of the rain which washed out about one-third of the scheduled matches Wednesday.

Rain washed out all but one American League game. Kansas City won it 4-3 over Washington.

The Braves failed to make a big thing of four San Francisco errors. They helped the Giants with two boots in a five-run sixth that broke a scoreless duel. Al Worthington gained a 6-3 record, but after blanking the Braves on four hits for seven innings needed relief help.

A two-run single by Ray Jablonski and an RBI double by Orlando Cepeda were the big blows in the big sixth, when errors by shortstop Johnny Logan and left fielder Joe Adcock on the same play helped put the skids to Bob Rush (5-3), who had given up only three hits for five innings.

The Giants, salvaging the finale in the three-game set, scored two more in the eighth on Jim Davenport's third homer, then counted three in the ninth on consecutive singles by Mays (1-for-5 in a shift that had him batting second), Felipe Alou, Darrye Spencer and Cepeda.

The Cardinals won their sixth in a row over the Pirates with a three-run sixth that backed up a three-hitter by Vinegar Bend Mizell.

A pair of errors, a walk, a two-run single by Hal Smith and an RBI single by Curt Flood wrapped it up against rookie George Witt (1-1).

Chico Fernandez rapped a pair of RBI triples for the Phillies, the second breaking things up in the 10th off Don Elston (6-5).

Dick Farrell won his fourth in relief of Ray Semproch, who left in the seventh as the Phils blew a 4-1 lead on Sammy Taylor's double, a walk, Bobby Thomson's single, an infield out and an error.

Know Your Boss While Traveling In Lebanon

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT (AP) — You have to know who's boss where in Lebanon these days.

Many areas of the country's 4,000 square miles are held by rebel bands who have fought against the government for nearly seven weeks. When you enter those sections, you had better have the name of the local leader on the tip of your tongue. Otherwise you run a good risk of being shot.

Lebanese army units recently evacuated Halba, in the extreme north. This left all north Lebanon, from Tripoli on, in rebel hands.

Most of north Lebanon is wild, mountainous country ideal for guerrillas. The mountains overlap into Syria, and the rebel guerrillas easily move back and forth across the frontier to elude pursuers or to get supplies and reinforcements.

In the areas nearest the port of Tripoli, the insurgent bands are loyal to Rashid Karami, former prime minister who now is a leader of the rebellion against President Camille Chamoun. To the East, in the Hermel region, rebels follow Druze chieftain Shibli Aryan.

In the fertile Bekaa Valley of eastern Lebanon, the northern region is held mainly by bands under former Speaker of Parliament Sabri Hamadeh.

Farther south, in the mountains, is the region held by one of the most powerful rebel leaders, Socialist Kamal Jumblatt, a Druze and former minister of finance. He manages to keep a corridor open to Rachaya, on the Syrian frontier, and Syrian Druzes send him men and materiel.

South of Jumblatt and inland from the coast, the dominant leader is rebel Ahmed Assaad, another former speaker of Parliament. There has been little fighting in this region, and the line between government and rebel territory is indistinct. The government maintains gendarmerie posts in most towns and villages and has kept most of the roads open.

Government forces hold the main coastal road and the Beirut-Damascus highway as far as the Syrian frontier. The government also has hung onto the chief cities — Beirut, Sidon and Tripoli. But inside each of these cities, rebel gangs are holed up in certain sectors where they are supreme.

In Beirut, the gangs are loyal to former Prime Minister Saeb Salam. In Tripoli, they are Karami's men. In Sidon they are followers of Maarouf Saad, a member of Parliament.

The rebels' plan appears to be to consolidate their position in the north, then drive southward in the Bekaa to link up the northern bands with Jumblatt's forces. Jumblatt's men then would try to cut the Beirut-Sidon road and pin government forces into a box comprising Beirut, Kesrouan and Metn.

To thwart this strategy, the Lebanese army has nearly 9,000 men, reinforced by shipments of light tanks from America and a few Vampire jet fighters.

Rebel armed strength is estimated at 5,000-6,000, skilled chiefly in mountain warfare. They lack aircraft and heavy armament but are being reinforced steadily with mortars and field guns from Syria.

Segregation Will Continue In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas school board, beset on two sides and bogged down in a legal morass, said Wednesday nights its schools will remain segregated in the coming school year.

It pointed toward an apparent conflict between the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling against school segregation and Texas integration laws.

"The board is convinced that it would be a poor service to Dallas and to the large area of the Southwest which may follow the Dallas lead to undertake the activation of the Supreme Court decree until federal and state courts reach some legally acceptable unanimity of opinion," said the board's statement.

Edwin C. Washington Jr., who said he was a field representative of the Dallas branch of the NAACP, said he was "disappointed in the board for its seeming delay in not making a prompt and reasonable start (toward integration)."

The Rev. R. E. Davis, who said he was president of a local White Citizens Council, said if the board carries out integration it would be "aiding and abetting the Supreme Court in destroying every vestige of constitutional law and order—shaking the very pillars of the Republic."

The board also authorized its attorney to start action in state courts to solve the legal problems.

The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals July 23, 1957, ordered the Dallas school district, which has roughly 115,000 pupils, integrated. But it did not set a deadline.

The Dallas school board contends it cannot comply with the decree without violating a law passed by the 1956 Texas Legislature.

The state law says a school district cannot integrate without approval in a local option election. If it does, it shall lose state funds and accreditation and authorities shall be fined. No such election has been called by Dallas voters.

Yacht Found Becalmed Off Korean Coast

TOKYO (AP)—The missing sailing yacht Thespian, carrying Hollywood actor-magician John Calvert and four other Americans, was found nearly becalmed off the coast of South Korea today. Its engine had broken down.

All aboard were reported in good condition by the Japanese coast guard vessel Isuzu, which took Calvert's two-master in tow. They were due at Fukuoka, in southern Japan, tomorrow.

Calvert left Keelung, Formosa, June 16, expecting to reach southern Japan about a week ago. He is on a round-the-world work-and-play cruise and was booked for appearances in Japan. When he did not answer radio calls, the Japanese ordered a search of the East China Sea.

The 82-ton yacht was only slightly west of its course when picked up 23 miles from Cheju Island, off the tip of Korea.

With Calvert aboard the ship were his mother-in-law, Mrs. Constance Conrad Lowe; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Iverson, Hollywood; and Army Specialist Thomas E. Jones, Black River Falls, Wis.

Calvert's wife, actress Ann Cornell, had flown ahead to Japan with their infant son, who was born in Formosa.

Elder Is On WTCC Panel

Grady Elder, manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, has been selected on a special subcommittee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to suggest ways and means for the regional chamber to assist and encourage the industrial development of West Texas.

Elder and 15 other West Texas chamber executives will meet in Abilene tomorrow to map projects for the WTCC's industrial development committee.

One of the projects to be discussed concerns the newly organized West Texas Industrial Council, according to E. L. Buelow of Abilene, chairman of the committee composed of industrial development experts representing West Texas utility and railway companies.

The meeting is scheduled for noon in the Wooten Hotel in Abilene. A similar meeting will be conducted for the same purpose in Childress on July 11.

SHRIMP AND RICE FORM SKILLET DINNER
. . . add a salad, corn on the cob, and dessert for family supper

Too Hot To Cook? Try One Of These Easy Skillet Meals

Every homemaker likes a respite from the kitchen and summer is usually the season which brings out such escape plans.

Dining out often isn't always allowed by the budget. The problem can be solved, however, by frequent meals which are quick and easy to prepare.

These give the homemaker a breather, with time to take the kids for a late afternoon swim at the beach or pool or make a leisurely shopping trip.

The menu won't cheat the family either. These quick, skillet-dinners are flavorful and nutritious.

There is plenty of variety in such skillet cooking. The recipes call for shrimp, beef, crab, and sausage, with combinations of rice, yams, and tomato sauces.

The next time the family's late getting home from a trip to the parks or a Little League game, try a skillet entree, with salad and dessert.

Before a contract arises someone must make an offer and another must accept it.

Without an offer, no acceptance, with no acceptance, no agreement.

But there is often a time within which you can accept the offer. And if not, the offer ends anyhow within a "reasonable time" which is determined by circumstances an the parties' intentions.

Smith had a set of books which Brown wanted. Brown wrote and offered him $200 for the set.

Smith didn't answer for six months, and meantime Brown bought a similar set. Ond day Brown got a letter from Smith saying "I accept your offer of $200 for the set of books."

Brown told Smith he'd bought the books elsewhere, but Smith still claimed that his belated "acceptance" had nevertheless sealed the contract with Brown.

Was there a contract? No, the offer had lapsed because it had not been accepted in the circumstances within a reasonable time.

There are many ways to end an offer. You may withdraw it, you may say that the offer expires at a given time, or you may die, or the other party may turn it down directly or by making a counter offer.

There are many ways to end an offer. You may withdraw it, you may say that the offer expires at a given time, or you may die, or the other party may turn it down directly or by making a counter offer.

Here Smith had failed to accept Brown's offer within a reasonable time, which ended it just as though it had been withdrawn.

What is a reasonable time? It varies. The offer could expire in a few minutes in the stock market or last for a while, depending upon what a court would think is a reasonable time.

But in Smith's case six months was unreasonable.

Rep. Burleson Takes Action

Introduction of a bill in Congress to construct a post office building in Snyder should revive local interest in that project.

A new post office has been a major objective of the Chamber of Commerce for several years, and more inquiries have been made and more groundwork has been laid by that organization during the current year.

Rep. Omar Burleson, who will become this county's congressman officially at the end of the year, has been in contact with local interests several times concerning the project. Rep. Burleson introduced the bill in Congress, which calls for acquiring the necessary property and for appropriating funds for constructing a building to meet the standards set fourth by the General Services Administrator and the Postmaster General.

Being well versed on the situation in Washington, Rep. Burleson is under no illusion about prospects for passage of the bill. In fact, he said he doubted that it would even be reported out of the committee.

Nevertheless, the fact that such a bill has been submitted may well be the lever by which Snyder will get its foot in the door, if and when Congress ever gets around to doing something about post offices.

Meanwhile, Rep. Burleson can make official inquiry concerning the bill from time to time. If an avenue opens, he will be in a position to press for positive action.

The community could hardly ask more from its congressman on the post office project at this time.

Soviets Disregard Opinion Of World

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets are getting tougher and nastier and in a way that shows disregard for what the world thinks. A few months ago they were breaking their backs to win a propaganda war.

By their recent actions they've handed the West made-in-Moscow propaganda for use against them. They're too smart not to know it. This contempt for world opinion is the most startling aspect of the changes taking place in Soviet foreign policy.

They spent months trying to convince the world they wanted a summit talk and an end to nuclear testing. Then, deliberately, they all but blew up any chance for the talk or an agreement on testing. Their latest performance was Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, but again deliberately and savagely, they shocked the world by announcing the execution of Imre Nagy, the former Hungarian premier, and some of his aides. It was a warning of the resumption of terror, death and bloody purges.

This is the background of what's happened although no one yet has pretended to know all the answers why:

Last fall the Soviets made a smashing propaganda follow-up on their blazing Sputnik successes by proposing a summit talk to President Eisenhower. The Eisenhower administration was slow reacting and for a few months the Soviet Union had a clear edge.

Then the administration began answering and the proposals and counter-proposals became a tug-of-war too complicated for the average man around the world to follow. Because both sides began arguing details, neither made propaganda hay.

The Soviets said they wanted summit talks, willy-nilly. The United States said it wanted preparations for such talks. Last April Moscow agreed to the West's ambassadors should try to work out preparations for the summit meeting.

The two sides remained miles apart. Neither yielded any ground.

But on June 11 Premier Khrushchev startled the world with a letter practically abandoning hope for a summit meeting. He blamed the West, of course. But Eisenhower was able to hit back: "The whole thing has been a great setback to my hopes."

In short, the Soviets put themselves, no matter what they claimed, in the position of being blamed for knocking a summit conference out the window.

At the same time the Soviets were working the other side of the street too, making more propaganda with their plea for a ban on nuclear testing. The West took the position that before a ban there must be a foolproof way of preventing cheating.

More argument. Finally, it was pretty well agreed the Soviet Union and the West would send scientists to Geneva to discuss ways of policing any nuclear test ban that might be agreed on later.

This country all along refused to commit itself to banning tests before the scientists met. Some of the American scientific team were on their way to Geneva Wednesday night when the Soviets rammed in another torpedo.

They threatened to scuttle the Geneva conference of nuclear experts unless the United States says a ban on nuclear tests is needed. This would require the United States to cave in on a point it has adhered to all along: let the experts talk first.

But if these talks are now out the window, this country can dump the blame on the Soviet Union and accuse her of hypocrisy both on the summit talks and on wanting nuclear testing banned.

The way all this has been handled is what's extraordinary. A few months ago the Soviets were running pretty smoothly. There's nothing smooth about them lately. All the West can do now is wait to see what happens next.

The McCord Zulu Hospital in Durban, South Africa, was founded in 1898 by an American medical missionary. It handled more than 100,000 cases last year.

Business Better At Midyear Mark

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business at midyear feels better than it did New Year's Day—if only because the economy at the moment has stopped hammering its own thumb.

For many it's been a rough six months. The year started with industry on the skids. Many were losing their jobs as sales and production slumped, largely in the durable goods industries.

But hopes for a turn at midyear held high until March when the recession, developing faster and going deeper than expected, looked its worst. The hoped for date was postponed to the last months of this year.

Despite a mild upturn in some lines in April, May and the first half of June few expect a new boom in July. But many think the worst is over.

The first half of the year is coming to an end with 5½ million persons looking for work, more than 7 per cent of the labor force. Industrial production is around 14 per cent lower than a year ago, and the total dollar value of the nation's output of goods and services is off 4 per cent from its peak. The cost of living after months of steady climbing is 3.3 per cent above a year ago.

But midyear also finds most of the farm belt feeling fine as the result of higher prices and good crop weather.

And stock market prices are around their high point for the year, thus reassuring many—however unreliable that barometer of the economy's future may prove to be. The growing ranks of the bears show that many question the foresight of the bulls.

Consumer spending is holding up pretty well in view of the drop in incomes for many persons and the tendency of others to save more than usual. Savings increased 5½ billion early this year to reach a record 268 billion dollars—at the end of March—a tidy nestegg indeed.

Borrowing is easier and less painful now that the Federal Reserve Board has made money plentiful and interest rates lower to cushion the recession and proffer a spark for recovery.

Yet neither business nor consumers are borrowing as much as formerly. Corporate plans for spending on plant and equipment still contract and it may be well into next year before that mainstay of an economy reappears in force. Consumers are paying up old debts and going slower on taking on new ones, especially for new cars.

Home building is perking up a little. And highway construction is on the upgrade.

The first half of the year has seen hopes of tax cuts wax and then wane as the federal deficit and debt start to soar.

Wage-price turmoil centers on the contractless auto workers and the debate over whether to raise steel prices and how much. Steel is enjoying an upturn in demand, if temporary. But copper, lead and zinc so far look only to possible relief to come from buying for the U.S. stockpile.

Most stockholders are learning that earnings are declining because of rising operating costs and, in many cases, because of shrinking sales volume. Where dividends are being maintained its as a tribute to past and better years or in anticipation of better times ahead.

Holden Measures Up As Real Star

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One way a movie star measures success is by the time he has to spend with lawyers.

"Bill, you're really getting up in the world," a lawyer said to actor William Holden recently. "Your first contract ran to only 21 pages. Your latest one is over 100."

Another measure of stardom now is the distance an actor travels each year.

Holden, an Oscar winner and one of America's golden top 10 boxoffice draws, estimates he has traveled 600,000 miles in the last five years.

"I'll do 150,000 this year," he said during a luncheon pause here on his way to the West Coast. The day before he had been in Paris, the day before that in Rome.

Bill, whose latest picture was made in England, says the movie industry has changed basically since he became an overnight star in "Golden Boy." That was 42 pictures and 20 years ago.

Then a star could get by on acting talent and personality. Today, under many profit-sharing deals, he not only has to act in the picture—he has to go out and beat the bushes to sell it, both here and abroad.

With the possible exception of Bob Hope, Holden has no rival as a world ambassador without portfolio for Hollywood. Friendly as a wink, Bill gives foreigners the same impression as he does the folks at home—that here is that nice boy next door, grown a bit older, but still doing his best to make the neighborhood a chummier place for all.

Despite his wide roving, Holden has managed to maintain an air of privacy.

"The public doesn't concern itself with me except in my line of work," he said. "I don't think they are interested in me personally."

"A majority of people think me pretty dull."

He is anything but that. But he maintains an interior remoteness behind his friendly, casual manner.

"I concern myself with the particular personal problems everyone has to," he said. "But I'm not afraid of anything. I enjoy life."

What are the rules for survival in Hollywood? Holden grinned.

"If I really knew the answer to that, I'd set up an office and sell the information to other people—sparingly."

Holden says his goal is very simple.

"It's to retire. I'd like to make a contribution of some kind to this business, and then get out of it.

"I don't like acting. I never did. Acting with me has only been a means to an end—an end I don't even know.

Junior Editors Quiz on NATURAL HISTORY

QUESTION: How old is the earth?

• • •

ANSWER: A kind of scientist called a geologist tries to find out more about the history of the earth by studying its rocks. He often looks for clues in rocks and rock formations. In guessing at the age of the earth, one of the favorite places to look for clues is in deposits of uranium, the rare substance used to produce nuclear power. From clues which have been found, geologists estimate the earth is at least two billion years old and possibly older. Since the earliest definite records of history of man go back less than 6,000 years, you can see how little we really know about the history of earth.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Geology is a fascinating study. Make a collection of as many different types of rocks as you can find. Get a book on geology at the library and see if you can identify the rocks.

Offer Of Art 'Find' To Ike Withdrawn

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A wealthy young British-German divorcee has withdrawn her offer to give President Eisenhower an old and perhaps valuable painting. The well-known amateur artist of 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. apparently was not much interested anyway.

Mrs. Katherina Williams, a 39-year-old brunette, cabled the President yesterday that art experts had questioned the authenticity of her painting.

The woman offered the painting to the art-loving President, she said, to inspire him in his leadership of the free world. She said it was the work of the Italian Renaissance master Correggio, was called "Il Giorno" (The Day) and showed the Madonna and Child with St. Jerome.

When "Il Giorno" showed up in the Parma art gallery, Mrs. Williams said her painting was a preliminary sketch for the museum piece.

In her Milan hotel, she explained that some experts now had expressed the opinion the painting probably was the work of one of Correggio's imitators.

Mrs. Williams had said her picture was appraised by an American expert at $100,000. She said she had made a down payment to the owner, the Countess of Ostheim, who still has the painting.

Strike Ends; Normal Work Is Resumed

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler's guided missile plant prepared to get back to normal production today as a three-day wildcat strike of a United Auto Workers rebel group ended.

Although protesting, members of the Missile Plant Local 1245 voted last night to accept an order from the UAW international to return to work or face disciplinary action.

UAW President Walter Reuther, putting local leaders on the carpet, had threatened to place the local under an administrator. This could have meant removal of its officers.

Coupled with this was a Circuit Court order obtained by Chrysler against mass picketing.

Since Monday, the missiles plant had been picketed in violation of the UAW no-strike policy during its present no-contract period in the auto industry. The union lacks contracts with Chrysler, General Motors and Ford.

Assembly of the Redstone missile and Jupiter rocket was crippled even though Local 1245 represents only 450 of the plant's 8,500 workers.

Two pickets were arrested yesterday for alleged disorderly conduct. Sheriffs men said one spread tacks at parking lot entrances and the other resisted officers trying to clear a path for worker cars.

Strikers charged that Chrysler discriminated against the union minority group in the plant on job assignments and overtime work. Chrysler denied this.

Actors Get In Real Scrap

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Doc Holliday and Marshal Charles Clay stage a gun duel daily in front of the Last Chance Saloon at Frontier City here, and never get a scratch. Their bullets are blanks.

But Sheriff Bob Turner said the two quick-drawing artists got into a fight last Saturday night that wasn't any act — and two teenagers got hurt.

He said Holliday (who is really R. J. Mythen) and Clay banged the two boys on the head with their fancy sixguns, then threw them in the hoosegow at the amusement center.

Mythen and Clay pleaded innocent to charges of aggravated assault and battery. They said Mike Bennett, 17, and Don Ellegard, 18, became disorderly.

Their attorney Hubert Gibson said (jokingly) he'd like a change of venue — "to the court of Judge Roy Bean, the law west of the Pecos."

MacArthur Invited Back To Philippines

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur has an invitation to return to the Philippine Islands and receive a rousing welcome from the citizens that he liberated in World War II.

The enthusiastic reception was promised yesterday by Philippine President Carlos Garcia, himself a wartime resistance leader. Garcia and the retired general met in MacArthur's New York hotel suite briefly before Garcia left for Phoenix to continue his tour of the United States.

Details of the meeting were disclosed in Phoenix by Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo.

Here's How To Cool Coffee

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—What's the fastest way to cool your coffee, assuming you use milk or cream?

Do you put the cream in right away, or hold off a bit?

Is this academic? It was to start with. But now now.

At Cornell University, in New York State, two coffee-keen professors fell to arguing these points. Their talk was so intriguing that two seniors — Robert L. Seidel, Cresskill, N.J., and Darwin A. Novak, East St. Louis, Ill. — resolved to get at the scientific truth about it.

For their entire senior year, these two grappled with the poser. They came up with a 78-page paper, complete with formulae, graphs and a slew of higher mathematics.

A brief abstract of their findings tells you that coffee cools faster if the drinker waits a little while to pour in the milk or cream.

The students found, under laboratory conditions, that a cup of coffee takes 425 seconds to cool off enough to drink, if the milk or cream is put in at once.

If you wait 310 seconds before adding milk or cream, however, the coffee cools a minute and half faster than it does under the I-can't-wait system.

The students conceded that to some the rapid cooling of coffee borders on sacrilege. In Britain, for example, the milk is heated before it meets the coffee. And the philosopher, in any land, stands aghast at the guzzler of diluted brew that has lost both warmth and flavor.

Today, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, holding its golden jubilee convention here, gave the bulky paper first prize in its international competition for student papers.

Reinsurance Effort Will Be Continued

AUSTIN (AP)—Negotiations to reinsure policies of the bankrupt Estate Life Insurance Co. of Amarillo will continue another two weeks, State Liquidator C. H. Langdeau said yesterday.

He said his office met with former officers of the company in an effort to determine how best to salvage assets. Dr. Lee Johnson, Mrs. Billie Ball and Fred Phillips were the former officials attending the meeting.

Estate Life officials claimed the company went bankrupt because of a reinsurance agreement it made with the liquidator for defunct Physicians Life and Accident Insurance Co. policies.

In the United States in 1957 more than 7 million pleasure boats and more than 5 million outboard motors were used by sailing enthusiasts.

Commission Split On Voluntary Import Idea

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Members of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission ended a three - day meeting yesterday divided on the voluntary oil imports program.

Some delegates thought the voluntary program was effective. Others disagreed hotly.

The IOCC adopted a resolution saying "excessive imports of crude oil and its products adversely affect conservation programs of member states." The resolution asked the government to erect stricter import controls than now exist.

Earl Turner of Austin, executive vice president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn., said Interior Secretary Seaton was wrong when he said in his message to the meeting that the voluntary program is 95 per cent effective.

Turner also took exception to Seaton's statement the nation will one day find itself "using every drop of oil that it can both produce domestically and bring in from beyond our borders."

"There is no factual information to support this," Turner said.

Some of the IOCC delegates want a federal mandatory program instituted.

Seaton's message, read to the gathering here, said that only one or two of the companies with foreign holdings are not complying with the voluntary restrictive program.

The IOCC adopted another resolution calling on members to urge Congress and the President to support remedial legislation definately stating that authority to conserve natural gas belongs to states.

The commission said natural gas independent producers must be given the freedom and encouragement to operate in an economically hazardous business.

In another speech, Minor Jameson Jr., executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, said the demand for U.S. crude oil for the six months of October, 1958, through March, 1959, is forecast at 7,130,000 barrels daily.

That production compares with the current crude production of about 6,333,000 barrels daily, or approximately the average production during 1952.

"Although the demand outlook for U.S. crude oil shows a substantial increase over recent and current depressed levels of production, a world surplus of oil continues to pose serious and difficult problems from the standpoint of both national policy and state conservation programs.

"To maintain self sufficiency as to oil and gas, policies of the federal government must be consistent in their objective to encourage domestic exploration and development of these essential resources . . ."

Summer Time Is Here For Foods

By The Associated Press

The good old summer time is here and shoppers looking for weekend bargains in the nation's supermarkets and grocery stores will find ample evidence of summer's bounty.

Peaches and watermelons head the bargain parade. Crops are the biggest in years, quality is excellent and prices low.

You'll find outstanding buys, toos, in cherries, blueberries, bananas, pineapples, melons, oranges, raspberries and lemons.

For a crisp salad on a hot day, you can buy lettuce, endive, scallions, onions, radishes and cucumbers at rock bottom prices.

For heartier appetites there's an abundance of cooking greens: kale, swiss chard, chinese cabbage, dandelion greens and collards.

Other excellent buys in produce include tomatoes, peppers, carrots, broccoli, egg plant and asparagus. Also pascal celery from Florida and California, New York State peas, New Jersey snap beans, and Texas onions.

Potatoes, notably the Maine and North Carolina varieties, are among the week's best produce buys.

Vegetable fats and oils are plentiful and cheap.

Ice cream is moderately priced. Department of Agriculture says food prices have reached their peak and should soon start coming down.

Meat is expected to back down from current highs by late summer or early fall.

Bargains in meat this weekend are few and far between. Some stores are offering spiced luncheon meats, frankfurters, boneless chuck pot roast, rib roast, picnic hams or various cuts of lamb as one-shot specials but prices generally are on the high side.

Texas Woman Found Dead In New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Mrs. Carolyn Matthews, 45, of Belton, Tex., was found dead in her hotel room yesterday.

A. S. Rogers, investigator for the district attorney's office, said there was no indication of foul play. He said, however, an autopsy failed to show the cause of death and further tests are being made.

Police said Mrs. Matthews checked into the hotel Monday.
