Hurricane Fran hurls east coast into chaos

12 reported dead; damages unknown

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — A weakened Hurricane Fran turned into a tropical storm today after submerging beach towns, ripping steeples off churches and snapping trees like sticks in its terrorizing path through the Carolinas. At least 12 people were killed.

The storm hit Cape Fear with top winds of 115 mph Thursday evening, tearing up eastern North Carolina, then swamping central Virginia, leaving more than a million customers without power along the way.

"It's whipping like crazy," said Annie Scott, 52. "It's terrible. Tree limbs are down across the road and almost across my car."

At daybreak, Fran moved over Virginia and became a tropical storm, dumping heavy rain over a wide area already saturated by steady downpours earlier in the week. By 11 a.m., the center was over Lynchburg, Va., moving north-northwest at 17 mph with top sustained winds of 40 mph.

The National Weather Service said the storm could dump up to 10 inches on the mountainous watersheds of already flooded creeks and rivers in Virginia, and the James River alone could reach 15 feet above flood stage.

The Shenandoah National Park closed Skyline Drive in Virginia and evacuated visitors. More than a half-million tourists and residents had been ordered to evacuate the coast in North and South Carolina, leaving a string of deserted beach towns. More than 9,000 people packed shelters overnight, and many thousands booked up hotels across the Carolinas.

"I'm just happy to be here and to be able to bring my children," said Barbara Mosley, 49, who left her Wilmington home for a Red Cross shelter.

Twelve of those who stayed behind were killed, including a firefighter in Durham when a tree fell on a firetruck, said Tom Hegele, spokesman for the state's emergency response team. The others included a woman whose trailer was hit by a tree, a 13-year-old boy whose house was hit by a tree, another person who slid off a flooded road and two men whose truck hit a downed tree.

Others who tried to stick it out panicked as Fran kicked in.

In Carolina Beach, the entire town was under water up to 8 feet deep when people in The Breakers condominium called 911 saying the building was collapsing.

"Cars were floating by and hitting the building," said David Paynter, a spokesman for New Hanover County.

Paynter didn't think the condo residents were in immediate danger, but it was impossible for rescuers to reach them safely.

Fran's top winds soon dropped to 100 mph, but the storm still caused damage on its way north, spinning off tornadoes and pushing a storm surge of up to 12 feet over beaches already washed out by Hurricane Bertha in July.

DOOR PRIZES — Several door prizes, including energy credits, were given away Thursday night during Midwest Electric Cooperative's annual meeting and barbecue. 499 members attend banquet

Williams, Lakey elected directors for Midwest board

Ballots cast Thursday night at Midwest Electric Cooperative's 58th annual meeting returned one incumbent and elected an unopposed candidate to the board of directors.

Vance Lakey, who had no opponent, was elected Place 1 director with 388 votes. Lakey, who lives 15 miles southwest of Roby, replaces Mike Herron of Sylvester, who did not seek re-election.

Camp Springs resident Carl Williams retained Place 2 with 219 votes. His opponent, Tim Huddleston, who lives three miles west of Snyder, received 174 votes.

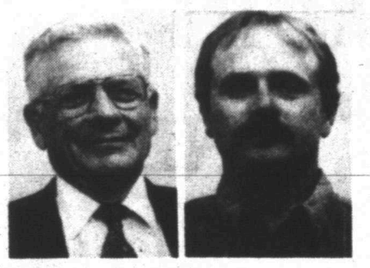

Various reports were also given during the business meeting which preceded the election. Some 499 members registered for the annual meeting and barbecue meal.

Kimberly Hudnall, Midwest's 1996 youth tour winner, gave highlights of her 13-day trip to Washington, D.C. and thanked the co-op for making it possible for her to attend.

She is the daughter of David Hudnall of Rotan and Suzanne Hudnall of Lubbock.

Willie Wiredhand, the 10-foot official mascot of rural electric cooperatives, was also a special guest. "Willie" comes from the national organization in Arlington, Va.

Door prizes, including energy credits, were given away.

4-Giv'n, a local gospel quartet, provided the entertainment. Members of the group are Wayne Knox, Matt Cross, James Hanks and David Trevey.

Also speaking briefly were general manager Vesta Orr and board president James Beaver. Other board members are Williams, vice president; Herron, treasurer; Jerry Upshaw, secretary; Mickey Sterling; Bobby Gruben; and John Ward. Attorney for the co-op is Dan Cotton.

Rainfall spotty, scattered

More than an inch of rain fell east of Snyder near the Roby Highway Thursday, as much of the county received varying amounts of moisture.

The City of Snyder reported seven-tenths of an inch at the water plant gauge. Snyder has received 9.76 inches since Jan. 1. Last year's rain total as of Sept 6. was 13.53 inches.

Other areas in the county received scattered amounts Thursday. Paymaster and Farmer's Co-op gins each received a half-inch of rain, and Ira reported two-tenths of an inch. No rain was reported at Fluvanna or Polar.

The showers missed Lake J.B. Thomas. Colorado River Municipal Water District officials reported no increase in elevation at the lake. The current elevation is reported at 2,210.46 feet.

The forecast for tonight calls for 20 percent chance of showers and temperatures with a low in the mid 60s.

ASK US

Q—Why did they plant trees at the traffic circle when there are lots of wrecks there?

A—The trees were planted to make the area more attractive. The placement was designed so that they would not block the view of motorists where roads intersect.

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Newspapers in both Colorado City and Lamesa reported that planned 660-cell administrative segregration units have been put on hold while the Texas Department of Criminal Justice reviews capacity projections.

Prisons in Lamesa and C-City are the same size as the Price Daniel unit in Snyder, but the two neighboring towns were picked last December for the additional beds. A state jail in C-City is completed, but has yet to be put in operation by the department.

The Hood County News reports that another school controversy is brewing.

Teacher groups are complaining that the board vice president has pulled his daughter out of the Granbury school system and is home schooling her.

The move has upset educators. "The teachers feel like they've been slapped in the face," said one who requested anonymnity.

The school trustee said he took his daughter out of the public schools because of numerous problems, but felt confident that the new superintendent would solve those problems. The home schooling, the school board veep said, is "only temporary."

Kayser exhibit on display now

Twenty-five photographs by J.M. Kayser are featured in an exhibit in the Scurry County Museum and will remain through Sept. 13.

Kayser, a retired educator, describes himself as a hobby photographer. His subjects range from wildlife to pets.

He has authored two books, "Mule Tales" and "Honey Bee," which are available in the museum gift shop.

Man arrested on indictments

A 18-year-old Snyder man, indicted on three counts by a Scurry County grand jury Monday, was taken into custody early Thursday evening.

Tony Becerra, of 2010 26th St., was arrested on outstanding warrants at 6:27 p.m. by a Snyder police office in the 1300 block of 26th Street.

Becerra has been charged with burglarizing the home of Ramon Yanez on May 30, stealing a vehicle owned by Garlan Williams on June 20 and stealing another vehicle owned by Dee Wilson on July 21.

Bond was set at $5,000 on each charge, totaling $15,000.

State eyes firm accused of supplying phony surgeons

HOUSTON (AP) — The surgeon, winding up an operation, routinely would turn to an assistant standing next to him and order that person to close the patient. Then the surgeon would leave the room.

What the surgeons at six Houston-area hospitals didn't know was that the assistant entrusted to complete the operation might not have been a licensed doctor. In fact, the assistant might not have gone to medical school.

"You're talking about very serious surgical procedures," Texas Attorney General Dan Morales said Thursday, announcing a lawsuit against a Houston company that used 17 phony surgeons who may have contributed to at least 10 deaths.

"The public should be appalled to find criminals hiding behind surgical masks, endangering an untold number of lives, stealing millions of dollars and driving up the cost of health care insurance for all of us."

State lawyers Thursday obtained a temporary restraining order from State District Judge Katie Kennedy that halts operation of Houston-based Assistant Surgeons of Texas, Inc., and 17 employees of the firm who Morales said passed themselves off as assistant surgeons but had little or no medical training and no medical licenses. A hearing on the case was set for Sept. 18.

"There are several of these defendants we have reason to believe never attended medical school anywhere," Morales said.

The hospitals had contracted with the firm to supply assistant surgeons, whose duties state officials compared to those of a co-pilot helping a captain fly an airliner.

"Since at least November 1993, this group has engaged in one of the most reckless and the most horrifying charades in the medical history of our state," Morales said.

"Imagine the prospect of unlicensed, unregulated assistants participating in multiple bypass surgery, brain surgery, hip or knee replacement surgery, emergency C-sections, spinal surgery and the like," the attorney general said. "That is precisely the situation which existed."

There was no immediate comment from Assistant Surgeons of Texas, Inc. Jaime A. Olmo, Jr., one of the defendants in the suit, was listed as president of the firm.

"No one is here now," said Norma Pedraca, who answered the telephone at the company Thursday.

Morales said it was not immediately certain how much physical harm may have been done to patients treated by the unlicensed doctors but that investigators were looking into 10 recent deaths at HCA-Columbia West Houston Hospital.

"We do know that at just one hospital ... 10 patients died in surgery in just 10 months in operations where these bogus health care professionals were present," he said. "We do not yet know whether or to what extent their presence may have contributed to these patients' deaths."

Columbia spokeswoman Mary White would say only that the hospital's contract with Assistants Surgeons of Texas, Inc., had been terminated before Thursday's announcement but she did not know when the action was taken.

"We've done everything we can to help the attorney general's office," she said. "My hands are tied since it is in litigation."

She would not comment about any investigation of patient deaths.

Morales said the activity fell under the state's Deceptive Trade Practices Act and is punishable by fines of up to $2,000 per violation up to a maximum of $10,000 plus restitution to insurance companies, patients or both.

Pat Tulinski, an assistant attorney general in the consumer protection division, said the company had been billing at least $1 million annually.

Any criminal charges would be the responsibility of the local district attorney's office, Morales said.

The problems surfaced when insurance companies balked at paying what they considered unreasonable and fraudulent charges for work by the firm. State officials said it appeared at least 50 insurance companies had been bilked.

Of the 17 people named in the lawsuit, nine were identified as immigrants or illegal immigrants.

The other five Houston hospitals who contracted with the firm were identified by state officials as Memorial Hospital Northwest, Memorial Hospital Southwest, Memorial Hospital-The Woodlands, Twelve Oaks Hospital and Westbury Hospital.

Morales said at Memorial Southwest alone, Assistant Surgeons of Texas, Inc., was involved with 880 surgeries during a six-month period.

"My advice to anybody is to get medical records and look at them," he said. "You'll be able to tell right away if any of these guys was involved."

Mechanical failure in truck suspected in lake drownings

UNION, S.C. (AP) — A man whose truck plunged into the lake where Susan Smith killed her sons was sober at the time, leaving mechanical failure the most likely explanation for the seven drownings, the sheriff says.

Tim Phillips had no drugs in his system and a blood-alcohol level of 0.017, the equivalent of half a beer, Sheriff Howard Wells said Wednesday. There was also no evidence of a heart attack or seizure, Wells said.

"The case is beginning to lean more and more toward vehicular problems," he said.

Tim Phillips' truck rolled down a grassy bank into John D. Long Lake on Saturday night while his family and friends were visiting the memorial to Ms. Smith's two sons, who drowned in 1994.

Phillips died along with his wife, Angie; their three children, ages 4 months to 4 years; Carl Sidney White, 29; and Austin Dakota Roodvoets, 3.

Wells said he may accept GM's offer to have an expert examine the truck, and he plans to talk further with a mechanic who recently did some transmission work on the vehicle.

Also, investigators "do not know why the driver did not use corrective measures as far as steering, braking or some other attempt," Wells said.

When the truck was found, the transmission was in park and the ignition still on, but the parking brake was not engaged.

Help partner out

By Phillip Alder

In a World War II movie, you might hear someone say that information is available only on a need-to-know basis. In particular, spies were only told the minimum to do their job in case they were captured. Then, under torture, they couldn't jeopardize the whole network.

In defending at the bridge table, it is similar. It doesn't matter which signaling method you use — high to encourage or the more high-tech low to encourage. It is more important that you give partner the information he needs to know.

In today's deal, East played the wrong card at trick one, sending West the wrong information. By the time West realized he had been double-crossed, it was too late to defeat the contract.

Defending against an aggressively bid three no-trump, West led the club six: seven, eight, 10. Declarer continued with the diamond king. After winning with the ace, West switched to the spade nine. However, declarer won with his ace over East's king and drove out the heart ace, establishing 10 tricks.

"Why didn't you continue with the club king at trick two, partner?" asked East. "If declarer had three clubs, he was surely home, as I was unlikely to have an entry."

"But you told me you had only two clubs," replied West. "As your cards were irrelevant to the outcome of the club suit, you should have given me a count signal at trick one, playing the three, not the eight. Then I would have known what to do. After you played the eight, my only chance seemed to be that you had the spade ace, instead of the king-jack, as an entry for a club return through declarer's Q-x."

Police say stepfather killed two girls for rejecting him

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Washington man paroled after serving 17 years in prison for killing his first wife was charged with bludgeoning his two young stepdaughters to death. He told police the girls had rejected him as a father, a court affidavit said.

Arthur Edward Warren, 51, was arrested hours after police discovered the battered bodies of Jasmine North, 7, and Nikitah Alim, 9, in a ravine.

At a Thursday arraignment, Warren, who was paroled in 1993 after a 1976 conviction for manslaughter, was held without bond. A preliminary hearing on first degree murder charges was scheduled for Sept. 13.

Warren, who no longer lived with the children because he and his wife, Sherry Alim, 36, were separated, told police he met the girls after school on Wednesday, according to a court affidavit.

The girls allegedly refused to go with him, explaining that their mother said he was no longer their father.

Warren told police that the girls' rejection of him made him feel he would "take out" anything that got in his way, the affidavit said.

After threatening them with a spanking, Warren allegedly took the girls to a ravine, where they later were found beaten to death. An auto transmission torque convertor was found lying on top of one of the girl's head, the affidavit said.

The affidavit alleged that Warren called the girls' grandmother and told her to "not worry about the children, that he had picked them up from school and killed the both of them."

Animal Lovers Kill Wildlife With Kindness and Snacks

DEAR ABBY: I can't think of a better way than by writing to you to get this all-important message out regarding people who feed wildlife. They are creating a widespread problem with serious consequences for the animals.

Out of a misguided sense of "kindness," people ignore the posted warnings and feed wild animals. I have witnessed it in every state in which I've vacationed. However, the reason I'm writing you now is the problem we're having in Arizona.

A couple of years ago, many of the deer that live in the Grand Canyon had to be humanly destroyed. Their stomachs were so messed up from eating human food that they were slowly starving to death. People should also be made aware that not only do squirrels and chipmunks bite, but they must maintain foraging and storage skills to survive the winter.

More serious still, bears are becoming a problem. Because of drought, bears are coming down from the mountains and are being fed from cabins and campgrounds. The result has been several maulings and the destruction of those bears. Two have been found shot to death by fearful humans. As a precaution, many bears are now being moved to other areas.

Abby, please implore your readers to stop feeding wild animals. They are doing wildlife no favor by giving them handouts. In fact, they are "killing them with kindness."

GINNY POLADIAN
WILLOBY, PHOENIX

DEAR GINNY: Thank you for pointing out to animal lovers everywhere the danger of putting food out for wild animals, which not only damages their survival skills, but can create serious danger to humans and domestic animals.

I called the rangers in Grand Canyon National Park to verify why the deer had been destroyed. I was informed that in addition to the crackers, potato chips and cookies visitors fed them, the deer had consumed plastic bags, food wrappers and plastic twine while foraging in trash containers for the human food to which they had become habituated. Autopsies revealed that their stomachs were clogged with ingested trash; in some cases 3 to 5 pounds of plastic obstructed the animals' digestive systems. Food could not be processed, and the animals were starving to death.

It was explained that deer expecting handouts can become aggressive and have kicked, butted, gored and bitten visitors to the Grand Canyon.

In addition to the problem with deer and bears that you mentioned, there are problems with bighorn sheep and rock squirrels, which beg. They will bite the hand that feeds them, and the squirrels carry bubonic plague.

Dow Corning ads announce deadline

DETROIT (AP) — Breast implant maker Dow Corning Corp. has launched an $8 million advertising campaign to tell women around the world of new deadlines for filing claims if they believe its implants made them sick.

The plain text ads start Friday in USA Today and will appear in 15 countries — in newspapers, magazines, on television and the Internet.

Their main message is that U.S. residents with Dow Corning implants have until Jan. 15, 1997 to file; those living overseas have until Feb. 14.

Although filing a claim doesn't guarantee a payment, those who fail to do so will be ineligible. The forms are required of all claimants, even those who have already filed lawsuits.

The ad blitz was ordered by federal judge to help Dow Corning complete its bankruptcy reorganization.

Hundreds of thousands of women have already filed claims under previous legal or regulatory actions, but the purpose of the new procedure is to establish a final number so the bankruptcy court can begin to resolve them.

Snyder, Andrews open 1996 grid season

By Brent Taylor
Sports Editor

If you think you will see another 6-2 football game when the Snyder Tigers and Andrews Mustangs kick off the regular season tonight, you might want to rethink your position.

The two teams opened the season a year ago in Andrews and neither team could find the end zone by way of a touchdown. It was not until Matt Parker booted field goals of 24 and 36 yards in the fourth quarter that Snyder got on the score board.

The Mustangs' only two points came on a safety when Snyder quarterback Russell Riggan was stopped in his own end zone.

Needless to say, the meeting a year ago was a defensive struggle with Snyder gaining only 77 yards and Andrews 214.

Tonight's game is sure to see more offense by both teams. Snyder enters the season with a high octane team that will throw the ball as much as they run it. Riggan, a backup at quarterback in the 1995 season, has moved into the starting position and coaches say he has a stronger arm and more mobility than the starter last year.

The Tigers will start the year where they left off last year. "Against Sweetwater in the final game of the regular season, we threw the ball 37 times. In the bi-district game with Stephenville, we threw it 47 times. In the Watermelon Bowl a couple of weeks ago, the ball went in the air 40 times and I don't know how many pass plays we called in the two scrimmages with Brownwood and Slaton," said Baugh.

"The teams that win district and make it to state have a balanced rushing and passing attack."

The Andrews Mustangs have a salty running attack in sophomore Shaud Williams. Williams was not on the varsity when Snyder and Andrews met last year, but was moved up for district play and gained over 800 yards in just seven games.

"I don't know if we can keep him from going the distance, but we have to corral him to have a chance to win," Baugh said.

Andrews coach Mike Lebby has a decision to make on his starting quarterback to run the Mustangs' wishbone. Sophomore Daniel Kessler and junior Cody Chesshire are battling for the starting job.

In last Friday's scrimmage, Chesshire threw a 70-yard touchdown pass to split end Waylon Mayfield for the Ponies' only score against Class 5A Odessa High.

According to Baugh, the Mustangs worked on their passing game in the scrimmages, but being a wishbone team, "I don't expect them to throw the ball that much."

Defense is the big question mark for Andrews since they lost all 11 starters from a year ago. According to Lebby, no one on the defense has any varsity playing time.

For the Tigers, Riggan will open the game at quarterback for Snyder. "I have never had a quarterback who has worked as hard as Russell. He has thrown thousands of footballs and gone to camps and he works on his game consistently. He is always studying football and watching lots of games. I think he would be up here longer than the coaches if we didn't run him out of here, but he is a student of the game.

"Riggan is a lot faster than any quarterback we have had and because of his speed, we have put in an option series which adds a threat to our running game."

In the scrimmage with Slaton, Riggan broke one run on the option for about 50 yards.

One down spot for Snyder is in injuries. "We made it through two-a-days and through the two scrimmages without getting anybody hurt, and then Tuesday, we lose a couple of players," Baugh said.

Out for tonight's game will be the starting nose guard for the last two years, David Wagner, with a knee injury. Starting left tackle Zeb Alexander is day-to-day with a hamstring pull. Defensive end Chris Fuentez is out with a bad back until the middle of September and the Tigers' punter, Kyle Beck has a broken thumb.

"If Beck still has a cast on at game time, he will not punt, but if we can splint it, he will." If there is a cast, Beck would not be able to catch the deep snap.

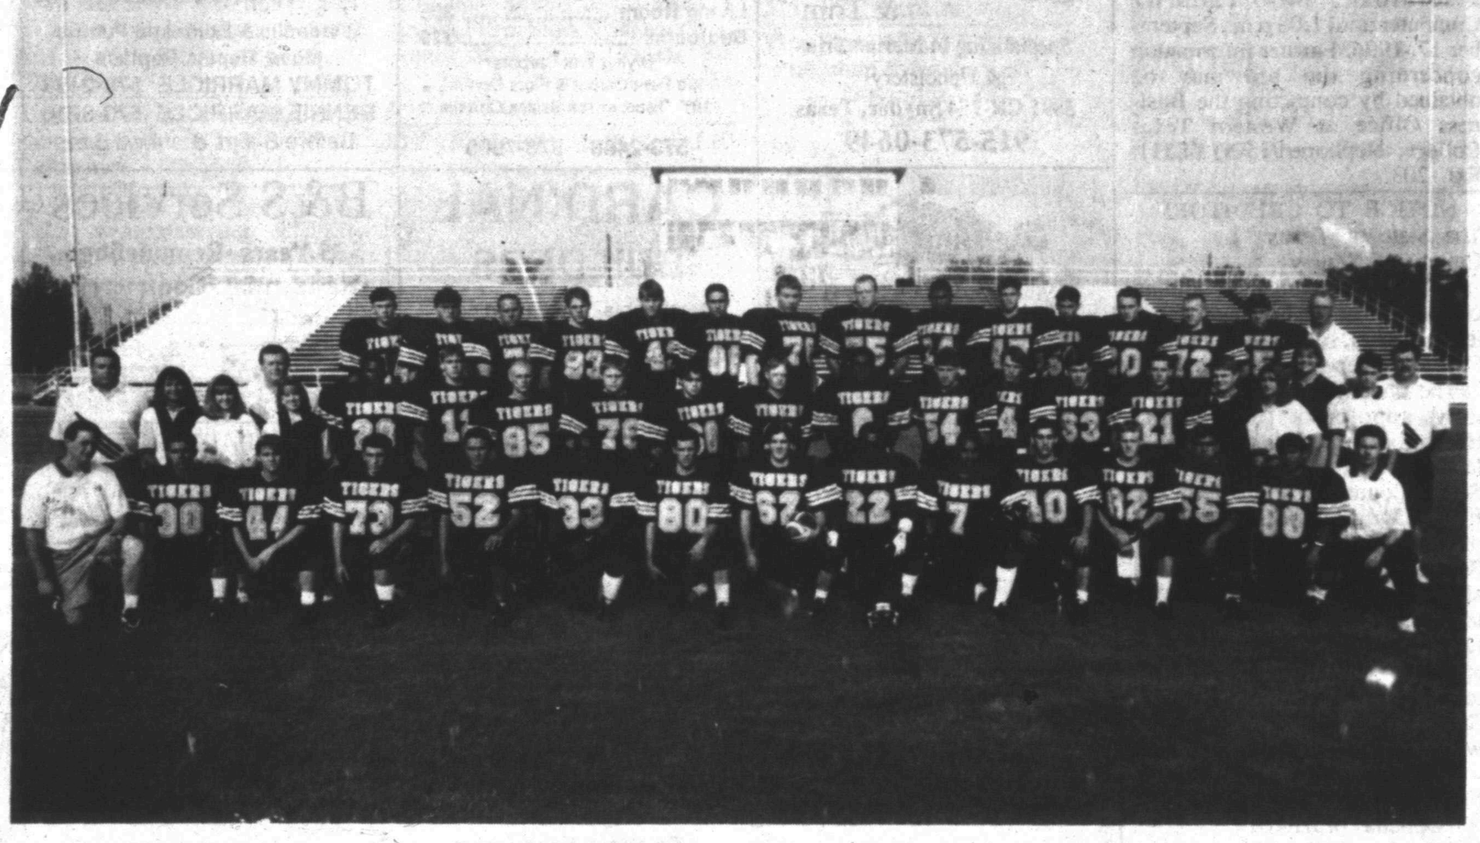

The probable starting lineup for Snyder on offense will have Riggan at quarterback, L.S. McClain, tailback; Kevin Lacik or Cameron Pettitt, fullback; Jeremiah Johnson, flanker; and Matthew Fambro split end.

The line has Alexander at quick tackle, Dan Pulattie, quick guard; Heath Porter, center; Joey Medley, strong guard; and Chris Post, strong tackle. Tight end will be Teddy Murray.

On defense up front will be Post and Freddy Rocha at tackles, Porter, nose guard; Eric Tovar and Jay Don Griffin, ends; Tywayne Rivers and Beck, ...backers; and the secondary, Kevin Kerr, Scott Sanders, Fambro and Johnson.

Sanders will handle the kicking and field goals and Kerr will do the punting if Beck is unable to catch the pigskin.

Kickoff is set for 7:30 in Tiger Stadium.

SNYDER TIGERS — The 1996 Snyder Tigers include, from left, front row, Eric McClendon, student trainer, Juan Arizmendi (30), Cameron Pettitt (40), Cory Chesser (73), David Clarady (52), Tywayne Rivers (33), Jerry Burton (80), Jay Don Griffin (62), Jeremiah Johnson (22), L.S. McClain (7), Kevin Lacik (40), Marshall Early (82), Michael Rangel (55), Gabe Madrid (88), and trainer Steve Krueger. Second row, coach Matt Gutierrez, Melissa Castro, manager, Jessica Perkins, student trainer, coach Steve Medley, Cara Stansell, manager, David Emerson (28), Kevin Kerr (12), John Border (85), Joey Medley (76), Troy Botts (68), Russell Riggan (11), James Wesley (8), Heath Porter (54), Mark Cave (84), Sean Duncan (63), Scott Sanders (21), Clark Church, manager, Courtney Pechacek, student trainer, Sara Knowles, manager, Ryan Fritz, trainer, coach Robert Wood. Third row, Chad Carter (14), Freddy Rocha (70), Chad Collum (71), Teddy Murray (83), Kyle Beck (41), Todd Collum (86), Zeb Alexander (78), Chris Post (75), Matthew Fambro (24), Matt Miller (47), Eric Tovar (51), Tommy Morris (20), Dan Pulattie (72), David Wagner (65) and coach Joe Granato. Hermleigh and Ira open season at home

Six-man football actions begins tonight for two Scurry County teams, both at home.

The Hermleigh Cardinals will host Paint Rock in the first game as a head coach for Wayne Poehls. According to Poehls, "Things have gone well for us in two-a-days and the scrimmages."

As far as Paint Rock, "I am expecting a tough game. They have some good speed, but if will stick to what we have learned so far, we will do good."

Over at Ira, "The Bulldogs will show up," said second year coach Russell Gee. "Our kids may be young, but they are excited about the chance to get on the field."

Ira wil open the season with three upper classman and nine freshmen. The Bulldogs will be without the services of one freshman, Raymond Perez. Perez, a tailback, will be out for the season with a knee injury.

Ira will host Dawson at 7:30 tonight. According to Gee, Dawson has a very stong and fast tailback that also plays corner back on defense.

"We are definitely in for an uphill battle," said Gee. "We have a lot to look forward to in the years to come."

Elsewhere in Distict 6, Six-Man, Borden County is at home with Klondike, Lueders-Avoca will be at Highland, Woodson at Loraine and Blackwell at Westbrook.

Republicans complain INS too slow in removing illegals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Immigration and Naturalization Service isn't removing illegal aliens from the United States fast enough to suit some congressional Republicans.

Despite a $140 million increase this year in the agency's detention and deportation budget, the pace of removals is quickening only modestly, complained House immigration subcommittee Chairman Lamar Smith, R-Texas.

Democrats charged that Smith's criticism, voiced at a hastily called hearing of his subcommittee Thursday, constitutes an attempt by the GOP to score points in immigration-conscious states such as California, Florida and Texas — all major electoral prizes.

"This is a presidential election year, and the prospects for the majority party's candidate in Texas and California are not very rosy," said the panel's ranking Democrat, Rep. John Bryant of Texas.

Rep. Xavier Becerra, D-Calif., said the Clinton administration has removed more illegal immigrants than any previous administration.

But Smith said the 50,000 illegal immigrants removed from the country last year — and the estimated 62,000 expected to be ousted this year — are a fraction of the total undocumented population.

The nation harbors more than 4.3 million illegal immigrants, with 300,000 to 400,000 more arriving annually, Smith said, expressing impatience with the deportation gains to date.

INS general counsel David Martin said the impact of the $140 million increase won't be fully felt until next year, after 1,000 new immigration agents have completed training and are on the job.

Just hours before the subcommittee hearing, INS Commissioner Doris Meissner at a news conference trumpeted her service's summer work site enforcement raids of 487 businesses in 13 states.

Is salmonella a real risk?

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: For years I've been reading that raw eggs can cause salmonella poisoning. Well, restaurants serve eggs over easy and those eggs are not fully cooked, especially the yolks. Am I taking a risk by ordering them?

DEAR READER: Salmonella are dangerous bacteria that can enter the developing egg before the shell has been fully formed. Once in the egg, the bacteria remain dormant until the uncooked product is eaten by an unwary consumer.

Then the salmonella reproduce to cause a violent form of intestinal infection, marked by diarrhea, dehydration and — sometimes — death. Short of performing bacterial cultures on eggs, there is no sure-fire way of determining which ones are infected.

Consequently, because salmonella are readily killed by heating, most authorities urge consumers to avoid eating raw eggs. The procedure of cooking eggs — even minimally — appears to deactivate the bacteria. Therefore, I doubt that you are risking salmonella poisoning by eating commercially prepared eggs, even those that are served "over-easy"; once the egg whites have congealed from heat, there is little danger. The primary form to watch out for is eggnog.

DEAR DR. GOTT: For several years I've suffered from acid reflux. The only relief came from Prilosec. Last November my doctor performed a Nissen fundoplication, during which she wrapped my stomach around my esophagus. I've not been able to find any information about this operation. Can you provide some?

DEAR READER: Stomach acid is stopped from backwashing into the delicate esophagus by a ring of muscular tissue that contracts to prevent acid reflux. However, for unknown reasons, this "valve" may not function effectively. As is often the case with other bodily functions, this is frequently the result of aging. In any event, indigestion, heartburn and gas result.

Ordinarily, these symptoms can be controlled with antacids or with prescription drugs, such as Prilosec, that prevent the formation of excess gastric acid.

On rare occasions, when medicine doesn't do the job or when the amount of reflux is severe, surgery to "tighten" the muscular ring must be considered. Without going into unnecessary detail, this is precisely the operation you had. Now that the lower esophagus isn't irritated by stomach acid, you should be symptom free; the acid should stay in the stomach where it belongs. The Nissen procedure is standard and, in the vast majority of cases, curative.

Because acid reflux is often (but not always) a complication of hiatal hernia, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Hiatal Hernia." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

THE MOTHER MARY.

AS THE MOTHER OF THE MAN DESTINED TO BECOME THE MESSIAH, MARY COULD NOT HAVE KNOWN THE FULL FATE THAT AWAITED HER SON, BUT WHENEVER SHE IS MENTIONED IN THE NEW TESTAMENT IT IS EVIDENT THAT SHE WAS A PATIENT AND TRUSTING WOMAN. ONLY ONCE DID SHE CHIDE HER SON--THE INSTANCE BEING THAT OF THEIR TRIP TO JERUSALEM WHEN JESUS WAS TWELVE YEARS OF AGE (LUKE 2:42) WHEN THEY HAD TO GO BACK A FULL DAY'S JOURNEY BECAUSE THE YOUNG JESUS HAD STAYED BEHIND IN THE CITY TO CONVERSE WITH THE DOCTORS AND RABBIS IN THE TEMPLE. ONLY A VERY PATIENT AND SPIRITUALLY MINDED MOTHER WOULD HAVE PUT UP WITH THE ANSWER THAT HER SON GAVE HER--AFTER HAVING TO GO THREE MORE WORRISOME DAYS BEFORE FINDING HIM! (LUKE 2:49)

ONE OF THE LAST PICTURES THAT WE HAVE OF HER IS, STILL PATIENT AND SUFFERING, WAITING BESIDE THE CROSS FOR HER SON TO DIE IN AGONY--AND NEVER COMPLAINING OF HER ROLE IN LIFE OR THE SORROWS SHE HAD TO CONTEND WITH--A BEAUTIFUL EXAMPLE OF A DEVOTED AND PIOUS MOTHER!

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

Muslim extremist guilty in bomb plot

NEW YORK (AP) — A Muslim extremist who allegedly masterminded the World Trade Center bombing and two other men face life in prison after being convicted of plotting to blow up a dozen U.S. airliners and kill thousands of people.

Following the convictions, the State Department warned American travelers abroad to be careful because Ramzi Ahmed Yousef's sympathizers might try to retaliate. The agency said it had "no specific threat information."

Yousef, Abdul Hakim Murad and Wali Khan Amin Shah were convicted Thursday of all seven charges related to the terror conspiracy. Sentencing was scheduled for Dec. 5.

The attacks, planned for two days in 1995 but never executed, could have killed 4,000 people in planes headed to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Honolulu and New York City, prosecutors said. The bombers hoped to force the United States to pull out of the Middle East and stop supporting Israel.

U.S. Attorney Mary Jo White said the horror of what the defendants planned was "almost impossible to comprehend."

The convictions came as investigators seek proof that TWA Flight 800 was destroyed in July by terrorists. Shah's lawyer, David Greenfield, said the jurors probably were influenced by the TWA investigation.

He said that he may appeal on grounds that the United States had no jurisdiction in the case. "No overt act occurred within 10,000 miles of the United States," he said.

U.S. District Judge Kevin Duffy told the defendants they received "an extraordinarily fair trial."

FBI Assistant Director James Kallstrom, who investigated the terror case and is leading the investigation into the downing of TWA Flight 800, would not comment on the possibility of a connection.

Lubbock mayor resigns; will seek Montford's Senate spot

LUBBOCK (AP) — As expected, Lubbock Mayor David Langston filed his resignation Thursday to join the chase for the state Senate seat vacated last month by new Texas Tech Chancellor John T. Montford.

City Council will formally accept the resignation Tuesday. Mayor Pro Tem Ty Cook will take over until the city holds a special election.

"One of the things I'm going to have to do is replace the leadership of John Montford," said Langston, who has expressed interest in the seat since Montford's name became associated with the chancellor's job 1½ months ago. "We need an active, hard-working individual to provide leadership and make sure West Texas gets its fair share."

The Texas attorney general's office this week concluded Langston can't be barred from running as a Democrat in the Nov. 5 special election, even though he voted in last spring's GOP primary.

Under Texas law, a person who votes or runs in one party's primary can't run in succeeding elections as an independent or another party's nominee. But special elections are an exception.

Langston, a bankruptcy lawyer by trade, must resign before filing to run for the Senate under Texas election rules. Former Fort Worth Mayor Kay Granger had to make the same move earlier this year as she runs for the U.S. House.

Langston is the only Democrat among the four men who have said they're running for the Senate.

Lawsuit settled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A camera technician who claimed "Crocodile Dundee" star Paul Hogan fired a blank gun at her has settled her lawsuit.

The terms of the settlement were not disclosed Thursday.

Ann Melvin had sued Hogan and others connected with the filming of "Lighting Jack" in 1993, claiming she was a victim of assault and battery.

Two placed into custody

Snyder area police officers enjoyed a relatively quiet 24 hours, arresting two people on outstanding warrants.

Officers arrested 18-year-old Tony Becerra of 2010 26th St. on an outstanding warrant for burglary of a building and two outstanding warrants for unauthorized use of a vehicle at 6:27 p.m. Thursday in the 1300 block of 26th Street.

A 54-year-old man was arrested at 1 p.m. Thursday at the sheriff's office on an outstanding warrant from League City for Class B theft.

In other activity, a minor three-car accident was reported at 27th and Avenue Q at 2:43 p.m. Thursday. Involved were a 1993 Chevrolet driven by Ned Underwood of 3009 Austin, a 1995 Ford driven by Lavida Baker of 5400 College, Apt. 147, and a 1991 Chevrolet driven by Tommy Berry of 4000 CR 4135 in Hermleigh.

Officers also investigated a two-vehicle accident at 26th Street and College at 10:58 a.m. No report was available Friday morning.

A report for criminal trespass was also filed Thursday in reference to a domestic problem which occurred Wednesday evening.

Citadel loses 16 male cadets, 4 women survive

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The four women who broke The Citadel's 153-year-old all-male tradition survived "Hell Week," but 16 other freshmen at the military school did not.

Known officially as Cadre Week, the freshman class' first week includes extensive physical and mental challenges thrown at them by upperclassmen.

The four women are among 565 students still enrolled, spokesman Terry Leedom said Wednesday.

The Cadre Week attrition was lower than last year, when two dozen students dropped out, including Shannon Faulkner, who fell ill on the first day and dropped out after a court order made her The Citadel's first female cadet.

The average high temperature during the first week of training last year was 99 degrees. The average this year was 89 degrees.
