Cummings Charges Gas Monopoly

Member of Associated Press—Day and Night Leased Wire Service

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

VOL. 15, NO. 42 LUBBOCK, TEXAS, "The Hub Of The Plains", FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1938

Anti-Trust Suit Filed Against Columbia Gas

Conspiracy Is Charged In Distribution Of Gas In Four-State Territory

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—Attorney General Cummings announced today the government was filing an anti-trust suit at Wilmington, Del., against Columbia Gas and Electric corporation, one of the nation's largest holding companies, and its subsidiary, Warfield Natural Gas company.

The suit, Cummings said in a statement, charges the Columbia corporation with conspiring since February, 1930, to monopolize the distribution of national gas in Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio and Michigan.

Urged To Divest Holdings

The complaint urged the court to issue an injunction compelling Columbia to divest itself of its holdings in the American Fuel and Power company of any control over companies resulting from reorganization of that system.

Cummings charged that the Columbia corporation illegally gained control over the American company and two of its principal subsidiaries, Inland Gas corporation and Kentucky Fuel corporation, and then attempted to reorganize the system in a way favorable to itself.

Columbia Gas and Electric corporation dominates the operations of more than 60 subsidiaries engaged in producing electricity and natural, mixed and artificial gas, Cummings' statement said. United corporation, an investment trust sponsored by J. P. Morgan and company, has regularly owned from 20 to 25 per cent of its stock, it added. Subsidiaries in the Columbia system serve about 900 cities, Cummings estimated.

Policies "Always In Public Interest," Statement Says

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—Columbia Gas & Electric Corp., in a statement replying to the civil anti-trust action brought against it today by the department of justice, fully defended its natural gas policies which, it said, "has always been in the public interest."

Sabotage On Ship Hinted

(By The Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 4.—Evidence of possible sabotage arose today as six separate investigations were pushed into the sinking of the German liner Vancouver yesterday after a terrific explosion below its waterline.

Efforts were to be made today to raise the 477-foot vessel from a mudbank in Oakland estuary where she settled stern-down after the blast.

Four Are Injured

Four members of the crew of 54 were injured by the blast. Eight passengers on the ship were not harmed, and called the experience "tremendously exciting."

An exhaustive investigation on the vessel last night by District Attorney Earl Warren, federal bureau of investigation agent, and other officials brought a closely-guarded statement from Warren that "we are of the opinion the explosion was not in the engine room or in the ship itself."

Because of international implications, Warren declined to say the explosion was the work of saboteurs until the vessel could be raised and

Prospects For Exports Low

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Agriculture dapartment economists painted a drab picture today of prospects for the sale of American farm products abroad during 1939.

Surveys of foreign markets, they said, indicate greater competition and stiffening trade restrictions.

Domestic Market To Gain

Federal officials expressed the opinion, however, that there would be sufficient improvement in domestic markets to offset most foreign losses, thereby making it unnecessary to recommend greater planting restrictions than were in effect this year.

The economists outlined foreign market prospects as follows:

Cotton—a further decline is expected in foreign consumption, which totaled 5,300,000 bales in the 1937-38 season, or about 27 per cent less than the 10-year average. Since August 1, shipments abroad have totaled about 1,100,000 bales, a decrease of about 560,000 bales below those of a year ago.

Wheat "Less Favorable"

Wheat—because of heavy world supplies, the economists said American wheat export prospects are "definitely less favorable."

Corn-exports are unlikely to approach the 140,000,000 bushels of the last season, the largest since 1921.

Rice—competition from Brazil and the Orient was described as keener.

Pork products and lard—because of reduced hog production in Europe, exports to that cotninent are expected to increase.

Fruits—an improved market for fruits in Europe is indicated because of a short crop on that continent this year.

Revision Made Today In Plans For Visit Of Hines In City

Revisions in the schedule of Harry Hines, member of the state highway commission, while a visitor in Lubbock Saturday were announced at the chamber of commerce this morning.

The commissioner, accompanied by Mrs. Hines, is to arrive tonight. Saturday morning he will remain at his quarters in Lubbock hotel available for conferences with those having business with the highway department. In the afternoon he will be guest of Judge Alvin R. Allison, of Levelland, state representative-nominate from the 119th district at the Loyola-Texas Technological football game.

Original tentative plans had included a luncheon. That, however, has been cancelled. Instead, he will devote the entire forenoon to matters which could be discussed less satisfactorily in a luncheon, according to the announcement.

Fourteen Die In Air Crash

(By The Associated Press)

ST. HELIER, Island of Jersey, Nov. 4 — Fourteen persons were killed today in one of Britain's worst airplane disasters when a fully-loaded passenger airliner crashed in a field just after taking off for Southampton, England.

The victims were nine men, four women and one child, and included the pilot, Captain A. G. M. Cary, the wireless operator, 11 passengers and a man working in the field where the plane crashed.

Was On Regular Run

The plane was on a regular run between Jersey, in the English channel, and Southampton.

The crash occurred at 10:52 a. m., (4:52 a. m., c.s.t.) shortly after the takeoff from Jersey airport, which is several miles from St. Helier. The plane was seen to circle several times in the channel island fog before falling into the field about 600 yards from the takeoff.

The only recent comparable disaster in Britain was the crash of a Netherlands airliner at Croydon airport Dec. 9, 1936, when 14 persons were killed, including Juan de la Cierva, inventor of the autogiro.

It was the worst disaster involving a British airliner since the Imperial Airways' "City of Liverpool" crashed at Dixmude, Belgium, in March, 1933, causing 15 deaths.

Confessions Made In Kidnaping Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)— The district attorney's office today announced murder charges would be pressed against four alleged members of a "kidnap syndicate" accused of slaying Arthur Fried, White Plains business man, and kidnaping two Brooklyn residents who were released after ransom payments.

At the same time, officials announced that part of a human jawbone with several teeth still intact had been found by police digging in the basement of Ukrainian hall, an East Side social establishment where one of the kidnapers said Fried's body was cremated in a furnace.

Today's discovery started the police on an investigation of the possibility that an additional victim may have fallen prey to the gang. Medical examiners said the jawbone was that of a person who had died recently.

Fried was kidnaped last December 4 and killed according to the announced confessions, four days later.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Rosenblum, after all night questioning, announced the four prisoners had confessed, and evidence against them would be presented immediately to the grand jury.

The confessions, he said were obtained from Demetrius Gula, 30, William Jacknis, 27, and John Virga, 34, arrested Tuesday by Federal agents, and Joseph Stephen Sacoda, 28, who recently was sent to Sing Sing prison for violation of parole.

Wait A Minute! There Might Still Be Chance For Crosby

The Bing Crosby invitation took another "off again-on-again-Finnegan" twist this morning.

Presumably the "off" situation prevails concerning the possibility of a visit to Lubbock by the crooner on Armistice day, but a telegram received by the chamber of commerce left a feeling of uncertainty.

Numerous invitations were dispatched to the film and radio star several weeks ago inviting him to be guest of honor when the football team of his alma mater, Gonzaga university, tangles with Texas Technological college Nov. 11.

Crosby replied he didn't think he would be able to accept, but maybe.

Then he advised by telegram Thursday that he couldn't be here. That seemed definite enough.

But now comes the telegram today from the director of publicity for Paramount pictures. It said the matter had been referred to Larry Crosby, brother of the star, and that he still is attempting to arrange the singer's working schedule so that he may be here.

Al Tries On A Western Felt

What's in a name? Plenty, since Ruth Texas, (below) a singer, is a good will ambassador from Texas, the Lone Star state. She traded hats with Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith after he showed her New York from atop that—guess which one!—Manhattan skyscraper. That brown derby seems a poor fit, whereas the "Happy Warrior" looks quite dapper in a western felt.

Homefolk And Celebrities To Join In Dedication Of Will Rogers Memorial Unit Today

(By The Associated Press)

CLAREMORE, Okla., Nov. 4.—The homefolk who knew Will Rogers when he was a kid cowpoke and celebrities who knew him as a national figure joined in common tribute here today at the dedication of Oklahoma's memorial to her most famous son on the 59th anniversary of his birth.

Thousands of admirers of the humorist pressed upon Claremore to attend the services at the $200,000 Will Rogers Memorial museum atop a knoll overlooking Claremore, on which he had dreamed of building a permanent home.

From Hyde Park To Coast

From Hyde Park to the West coast, the nation took part in the tribute to the drawling comedian loved for his dry wit. President Roosevelt, scheduled to broadcast from Hyde Park at 2 p. m. (CST), headed the list of speakers.

Jesse Jones, RFC chairman and treasurer of the Will Rogers National Memorial fund, and Gov. E. W. Marland, of Oklahoma were the principal speakers here.

Rogers Family Home

The Rogers family had come home, the widow, Mrs. Betty Rogers; the two sons, Bill and Jimmy, and the daughter, Mary. Mrs. Rogers gave the memorial's 17-acre hilltop site to the state.

Jimmy, who helped arrange a display of his father's saddles and other keepsakes in a room of the memorial, said he believed the structure was "what dad would have liked."

Mrs. Rogers appeared moved as she looked, without speaking, at the memorial to her husband.

With the Rogerses were kinfolk. And nearly all Claremore's people,

"... And So He Showed Us All How To Laugh"—Roosevelt's Tribute To Late Humorist

CLAREMORE, Okla., Nov. 4. (AP)—President Roosevelt in a letter to Walter Harrison, secretary of the Oklahoma Will Rogers commission and managing editor of the Daily Oklahoman, said:

"We remember Will Rogers with gratitude and affection because he knew how to revive the spirit of laughter in hearts that had known too much of the distractions and anxieties of a busy world. His mission in life was to cheer, to comfort and to console.

"Will Rogers knew out of the fullness of a blithe heart that few things in life are to be taken seriously and that our troubles multiply if we take them tragically. And so he showed us all how to laugh."

Sally Rand Convicted In Assaulting Case

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4 (AP)—Convicted of scratching and biting two candid camera fans who took close-up shots of her in a stage bubble dance, Sally Rand today faced a maximum sentence of six months in jail, a $1,000 fine, or both.

A jury of nine gray-haired women and three men was unimpressed by Miss Rand's testimony that she didn't bite and that her fingernails were closely pared so she wouldn't puncture her bubble.

But the jurors apparently were impressed by Municipal Judge C. A. Ballreich's instructions that "There can be no privacy in that which is already public." for late yesterday they convicted Miss Rand on two counts of assaulting Ray Stanford and Hazel Drain, the candid camera fans, and Judge Ballreich ordered her to appear for sentence next Monday, at which time he will consider her lawyer's motion for a new trial.

PETER GETS $1,600,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Peter Salm is $1,600,000 richer today. The son of the former Millicent Rogers and Count Ludwig Salm-Hoogstraeten gets the money from the estate of his grandfather, Col. Henry H. Rogers, Standard Oil magnate.

Under a compromise agreement, the surrogate court yesterday ordered young Salm's guardians to receive $1,100,000 outright, with the remainder to be added to an existing trust fund.

J. E. Sowell Dies In N. Mexico Thursday

The western trek of a Lubbock county farmer in search of health was futile.

J. E. Sowell, about 58, of four miles southwest of Lubbock died at 3:55 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the residence of a daughter, Mrs. Joe Snyder of Albuquerque, N. M. He had been there approximately a month, after suffering ill health several months.

The farmer, born at Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, moved to Lubbock about 1926, said family members.

The body will be sent to Lubbock aboard Saturday afternoon's train from Albuquerque and will be taken to W. H. Lindsey Funeral home to remain until time for services, which probably will be Sunday afternoon. The widow and a daughter, Miss Katheryn Sowell, Southland teacher, will be aboard the train.

Other survivors in the immediate family are Miss Evelyn Sowell, teacher in the Vega, Texas, schools, and Mrs. Maurice Snyder, of Carlsbad, N. M., daughters, and Edwin Sowell of Lubbock, a son who is manager of a grocery store.

Rev. E. E. White of Plainview, a presiding elder of the Methodist church, is a kinsman.

President To Be On Air At 6:30 Tonight

Nation To Be Listening To Pleas Of Democrats For Return To Public Offices

LIKELY KEYNOTE SUGGESTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP) — The New York Times in a special dispatch from Hyde Park says the continuing necessity of cooperation between federal, state and local governments for solving social and economic problems has suggested in official circles as a likely keynote of President Roosevelt's radio speech tonight in support of the New York state Democratic ticket.

(By The Associated Press)

Democratic efforts to retain overwhelmingly majorities in congress and in governors' chairs will reach their high point tonight in President Roosevelt's only address of the fall campaign.

Although he will speak primarily in behalf of New York's Democratic state ticket, he is expected to touch on national subjects as well. His talk will be broadcast from 6:30 to 7 p. m., central standard time, by the CBS, Mutual and NBC "Blue" networks.

Republicans To Listen

Among the listeners undoubtedly will be high Republican officials, eager to gather material for quick rebuttals. One of them may be former President Hoover, who will speak tomorrow night at Spokane, Wash.

APATHY SHOWN HERE

General election is four days away. What of it?

An apathetic Lubbock county public by its passiveness has evidenced that attitude, if records in the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk, may be taken as interpretive.

Less than a half-dozen persons had requested absentee ballots, a noon check showed, and voting in absentia long has been a barometer of balloting interest.

Routine preparation for the election was made, boxes and supplies for the 18 election precincts being made ready by the clerk's office.

But there will be hundreds of other orators of all parties who will make their final arguments in bunting-decorated halls during the week-end. From senator to sheriff, nearly every candidate will try one more appeal to his constituents.

Balloting On Tuesday

On Tuesday, millions of voters in 47 states will choose 35 senators, 432 house members, 32 governors, and a host of state and county officials. Maine voted in September, reelecting a Republican governor and three Republican representatives.

A survey by the Associated Press indicated that about 40,000,000 citizens would cast secret ballots. This

George Praises U. S. President

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 4. — King George VI terminated the present session of parliament today with the prayerful hope that "a new era may have opened up for Europe" and warm praise for President Roosevelt's "timely action" to avert war in the time of crisis.

In a speech read in his absence during the closing moments of the first session of his reign, the monarch reviewed the grave events of September and declared:

Cause Powerfully Aided

"The cause of peace was powerfully aided by the timely action of the president of the United States of America.

"The desire of all peoples not to be drawn into a war with one another is manifest and significant, and everywhere men and women share with me, I am convinced, the feeling of deep thankfulness that imminent peril was thus averted.

"I pray that, with the passing of this peril, a new era may have opened up for Europe."

Takes On New Significance

The time-honored phrase "my relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly" took on new significance in the light of the four-power Munich accord partitioning Czechoslovakia.

The king described his "deep anxiety" during the Czechoslovak-German crisis. He spoke of Premier Mussolini's "valuable support" for Prime Minister Neville Chamber-

Reconvocation Of Nine-Power Conference Hinted

Japan Action May Be Cause

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — The state department made public today a hitherto confidential memorandum hinting at eventual reconvocation of the nine-power conference to discuss Japan's position in China.

The memorandum, dated Dec. 16, was addressed to Secretary Hull by Special Ambassador Norman H. Davis. It was part of a state department book on the nine-power treaty conference at Brussels in the fall of [illegible].

Davis reported that the treaty powers "will continue to concern themselves with the situation" and that "the conference is not ended but is in recess and is subject to reconvocation."

Japan Is Considering Denunciation Of Pact

TOKYO, Nov. 4 (AP) — The Japanese foreign office spokesman today announced that Japan was considering denunciation of the 1922 nine-power treaty by which the United States, Japan and seven other powers pledged respect for China's independence and territorial integrity and promised efforts to maintain equal commercial opportunities in China.

Japan, he said, considers obsolete the agreement to which the United States is a signatory, and is examining a tri-power pact among Japan, Japanese-supported Manchoukuo and a new Chinese regime envisioning displacement of the Chiang Kai-shek government. Japan believes negotiations with individual powers over interests in China are possible, however.

"Japan considers the nine-power pact obsolete," the spokesman said. "Whether we will denounce it or withdraw has not yet been decided. The government is examining the advantages of the creation of a tri-power pact."

Press Clinic Under Way

Lubbock hill-billy band will play. After the banquet, the group will remain for dancing in the ballroom.

Sponsored By Tech

The clinic is sponsored by the journalism department of Texas Tech.

Delegates for the meeting began arriving early this morning and the program opened with registration at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the rotunda to the administration building at the college. John B. Sullivan, sponsor of the Hamilton Trail, was first arrival.

Advance registration indicated 204 students and sponsors would come from the following towns: Borger, Amarillo, Cotton Center, Hamilton, Hereford, Iraan, Littlefield, Odessa, Pecos, Post, Snyder, Strain, Lubbock (Junior and Senior High), Muleshoe, Petersburg, Slaton, Floydada and Kermit. It was pointed out others might be represented and that representation from those towns might not be as large as expected.

Opening Session At 2 P. M.

The opening session was conducted at 2 o'clock in the engineering auditorium. Prof. Horne welcomed visitors. Joe B. Cowan, journalism instructor at the college, was to preside.

Others scheduled to speak this afternoon were: R. C. Hankins, Avalanche-Journal city editor, "Experiences of a City Editor"; Mrs. J. N. Browning, Amarillo Sandstorm sponsor, "Copyreading and Proofreading;" Mrs. Ross Avers, sponsor of the Lubbock High school Westerner World and chairman of the sponsors' group of the clinic, "Laboratory Procedure and Textbooks for High School Journalists."

In group meetings at 3 o'clock in rooms of the engineering building, discussions were to be led by Cowan, on printed papers; Miss Ethel Harkins, Sweetwater sponsor, annuals; Prof. R. A. Mills, Tech yearbook sponsor, advertising in school annuals; Miss Maureen Howie, Odessa sponsor, advertising in school newspapers; Miss Eula McCorkle, Lubbock Junior High school sponsor, mimeograph papers.

It was said this morning that Eugene Mann of Pampa probably would be unable to be here to lead a discussion on the page in downtown newspaper division. A roundtable discussion on that subject will be held, however.

Exhibit hour will open at 4 o'clock, a meeting of Quill and Scroll members will be conducted at 4:30 o'clock, and a meeting of sponsors at 5 o'clock. The Women's Press club of the college will be host with a tea for girls and women sponsors at 5 o'clock in the home economics building tea room.

Officers To Be Chosen

The nominating committee will meet at 7 o'clock tonight. Officers will be elected Saturday morning.

R. Henderson Shuffler, news editor of the Odessa Daily News-Times, will speak at the Saturday morning session, opening at 9 o'clock in the engineering auditorium. His subject will be "The Profession of Journalism." Other Saturday morning speakers will include Sullivan, "Keeping Up Interest of Staff Members," and Miss Elithe Hamilton Beal, Iraan High school publications sponsor, "School Newspaper as a Publicity Source for the School." Miss Bernie Addison of Canyon High school will be unable to speak because of illness. Mrs. Ayers probably will lead a discussion on "Value of Quill and Scroll," the subject on which Miss Addison was to speak.

To Attend Football Game

The program will end Saturday afternoon, when the group will attend Tech-Loyola of the South football game through courtesy of the college athletic department.

An exhibit of school newspapers and annuals and of equipment loaned by Lubbock merchants is being shown in the rotunda to the administration building.

Awards to be presented to first place winners in the contest and the donors are: Printed division, Royal portable typewriter, Hester's Office Supply company; page in downtown newspaper division, $5 in office supplies, Baker Printing company; mimeograph division, $20 in mimeograph supplies, Lubbock Printing company and three other A. B. Dick company dealers, at Abilene, Amarillo, and El Paso.

Winners in the contest other than those placing first, listed in second, third and fourth order, were:

Printed—The Broadcaster, Iraan; The Odessan, Odessa; The Cardinal, Hermleigh.

Page in local newspaper—The Corral, Wheeler; The Broncho Range, Clarendon; El Sombrero, Perryton.

Mimeograph—The Avalanche, George M. Hunt school, Lubbock; The Lariat, K. Carter school, Lubbock; The Wolverine, Spring Lake.

Out of a possible 1,000 points, there was a variation of only 30 points in judging of the four newspapers in the printed division, it was said in the journalism department were determined several months ago.

The scholastic press clinic was organized last year and first session conducted last fall.

Tech Graduate Would Be Most Happy To Receive His Senior Gift, He Informs College

An optimistic Texas Technological college graduate is awaiting his "senior gift", a check for $2.50.

When a senior student last year, the young man made a $3 breakage deposit. Immersed in his studies, he did not attend a class meeting at which members voted to donate $2.50 of each senior's deposit for a gift to the college. Then, after graduation in August, he was absorbed in his job and failed to write for his breakage fee.

Clearing up old accounts, the college business office last month sent him a statement as follows: Breakage deposit, summer, 1938, $3; books overdue, $.25; senior gift, $2.50; balance, $.25.

The young man replied in a note to the auditor: "This is to advise you that the check for 25 cents has been received on breakage deposit. The balance of 2.50, which you designate as a senior gift, I shall be happy to receive at your earliest convenience."

Bonds Of $100 And $200 Made By Local Man In Speeding Case

Officials don't like persons to disregard summonses to answer complaints.

A Lubbock man was charged with speeding.

Authorities said he did not appear when notified to do so.

Results: He executed bond this morning in two cases, one of $100 after pleading not guilty of excess speed and one for $200 on a failure to appear charge.

The cases were in the court of Walter Davies, justice of peace.

Hard-Working Rich Woman Runs American Red Cross

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Feature Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — The other day a negro walked into Red Cross headquarters to donate $10 to help New England flood sufferers. He confided he had a good job and $50 in the bank.

A tall, matronly, gray-haired woman, walking past the desk, overheard him. She stopped and eyed him in a manner that was searching, but kind.

"Aren't you giving more than you can afford?" she asked.

"No'm," he answered. "Ah knows what floods is. You-all he'ped mah people in Mississippi in '27."

Then he grinned as though he recognized her. "Isn't you-all the Red Cross lady?" he asked.

* * *

Years ago, the late Chief Justice Taft had been queried about this same woman. His eyes had twinkled as he answered to that same effect, "Mabel T. Boardman is the Red Cross, and vice versa."

Miss Boardman and the Red Cross have been almost synonymous for 38 years. She has been its secretary since 1919. Right now she's deep in work of the fall roll call that promises to enlist close to 6,000,000 people. When she enrolled the list ran only in thousands.

* * *

Erect, dignified, almost six feet tall, Miss Boardman is one of Washington's grand dames. Accustomed to wealth and social position, she never has taken a penny of pay, has paid all her own expenses. Although she is past 70 she works so fast she keeps four secretaries busy.

She entertains frequently at formal dinners and she frequently is a dinner guest at the British embassy, tops in Washington social functions. The Tafts always set aside one night a week to have Miss Boardman to dinner. Mrs. Taft continues the custom.

Is A Staunch Republican

And though she is a staunch Republican, Miss Boardman is a friend of Mrs. Roosevelt; she dines several times a year at the White House.

She likes jewels, particularly her rubies, sapphires and diamonds. And her Red Cross insignia is a part of her costume, no matter what the occasion.

When she joined the Red Cross, in 1905, Miss Boardman found the organization more loosely knit than she liked. There were no records of the money spent. There was little money and no field workers.

Started New Chapters

So she traveled all over the country starting new chapters. She laughs about one convert. She was attending an organization dinner, decades ago, that elected a civic leader as Red Cross chairman. After the dinner the new chairman grinned at her helplessly and asked, "Now what do I do? Count medicine cabinets?"

* * *

His question crystallized Miss Boardman's strongest determination about the Red Cross—people ought to be educated to meet their community disasters without having to depend on advice telephoned from Washington. They should know where to get doctors, nurses, hospitals, medicine; how to disinfect, set up shelters and soup-lines on half-an-hour's notice. That has been Miss Boardman's line of action through the years. Now women's volunteer committees work all year getting supplies ready for disasters that are likely to come.

* * *

Miss Boardman rolled up a list of millions of women volunteers during the World war. But her greatest triumph is that she's held a million together since 1918.

She's been told she beats a cyclone to the spot. That's because her Washington staff keeps in touch with the weather bureau, and gets the relief machinery into action as soon as a big wind or floods loom on the horizon.

MABEL T. BOARDMAN
"The Red Cross Lady"

Justice Asks Question

Chief Justice Hughes who had been chosen to take Miss Boardman in to dinner here one day after a devastating cyclone, said to Miss Boardman:

"I don't see how you do it. I read the cyclone story this morning, and down at the bottom were several paragraphs indicating that Red Cross people are already in there working. How do you get people there so fast?"

Through Miss Boardman's mind flitted a vision of the more than 5,000 chapters around the country. She replied, "Mr. Chief Justice, the Red Cross doesn't have to 'get there' anymore. It is there."

Cooperation Of Merchants In Bonfire Is Requested

Cooperation of Lubbock merchants in collection of material for the bonfire on homecoming eve, Nov. 10, at Texas Technological college was asked this morning by James Huffman, student president.

Any "junk" thrown away by merchants may be potential kindling for the fire, Huffman said this morning that W. H. Rodgers, city manager, had agreed that any material gathered by the city in the usual garbage collection that would be suitable for the fire will be laid aside. The student council will arrange to have it transferred to the campus.

At a council meeting Thursday night, Huffman appointed a committee to supervise bonfire plans. Members are Harold Huffman, Wayne Vaughn, Fred Day, Oleta Claiborn, council members, and Bill Bratton and Parker Brown, cheer leaders.

Jurisdiction Of Body Question

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—A warning by Chairman Sheppard of the special senate committee investigating senatorial primary and election contests, that the winner of the Barbour-Ely race in New Jersey may have to face "the tribunal of the senate" before he takes his seat, raises a question as to the jurisdiction of that committee.

In addition to the Sheppard group, the senate has a standing committee on privileges and elections headed by Senator Walter F. George of Georgia.

Can Explore Activities

Under resolutions authorizing the Sheppard committee to explore both primary and election campaign activities of all senatorial contests this year, its ultimate duty seems to be narrowed to that of aiding the senate "in enacting any remedial legislation or in deciding any contests which might be instituted involving the right to a seat in the United States senate."

Actual consideration of any such contests, and the formulation of recommendations to the senate for or against the seating of any senator-elect, presumably are still an exclusive function of the standing committee on elections.

Is Unexplored Field

There is an unexplored field for punitive action against defeated, rather than victorious, senate candidates, which the Sheppard committee might occupy. It involves any evidence it may now have or receive later as to violations of the existing federal corrupt practices act in the senatorial election campaigns, as distinct from convention or primary nomination contests, which are outside the scope of the act as it stands and is interpreted by the courts.

Presumably the Sheppard committee could recommend that the senate cite to the department of justice, for prosecution, any defeated senatorial candidate it held to have violated the act. The standing committee would deal only with contests raised against "senators-elect"; but the Sheppard committee might point the way toward breaking new ground in an effort to clean house politically by pursuing alleged violators of the corrupt practices act beyond election day, even when voters had already turned thumbs down upon them. It would be something new in American politics.

Series Of House Entries Over In Littlefield, It Is Reported

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 4 (Special) —As suddenly as it began, a series of house entries by intruders has ceased.

Similar to several cases a few weeks ago in Lubbock, except that the person or persons responsible for breaking residences here went through doors rather than windows, several places were reported entered.

Close watch of officials was accredited with having halted the practice.

Lubbock burglaries made after numerous screens had been slit ceased after police had arrested two negroes. One of the negroes left town soon after being released.

Plans Announced To Provide Food, Clothing For Shelter

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 4. (Special)—Plans to provide food and clothing for thousands of persons in San Antonio left jobless because of the closing of pecan shelling plants were announced here today by H. P. Drought, state works progress administration administrator.

The plants were closed when operators insisted they could not pay the 25 cents per hour wage minimum for labor set in the recently effective federal wage-hour law.

Special rules have been adopted, Drought said, to speed relief to those requiring it.

Ancient Code Of Texas Rangers Doesn't Wear Well Under Test, Frank Mills Surmises Today

Does the aged code of the Texas ranger to stand by a brother ranger wear well under test?

In a modified way, said Capt. Mannie Gault.

The two rangers, who see nothing exciting in chasing criminals, took time out to be bothered when Mills found police had tagged his automobile for "overparking."

"When we came down here you said you would take the lead in anything that came up, so I'd like you to go over and talk to the judge," said Mills.

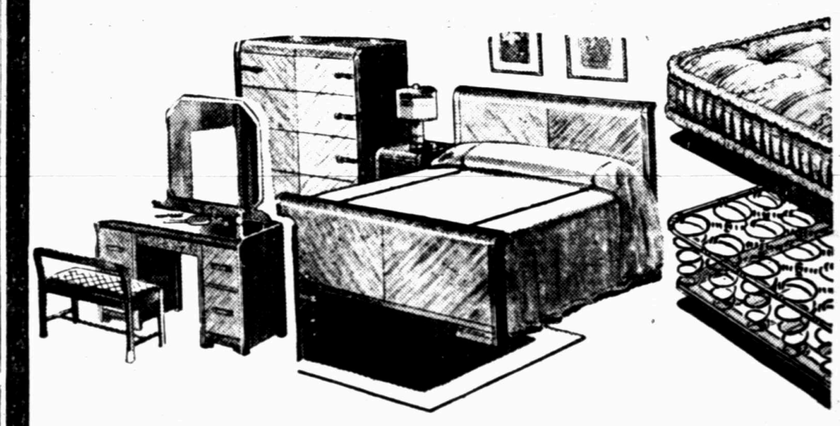

"I meant I'd do that under ordinary circumstances, but not when you run your neck cut," said the captain.

Gault later agreed he would "go in after you and watch it all."

Movement May Be Launched Saturday For Amending Poll Tax Law

Tax Officials Favor Change

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4.—The Texas Tax Assessor-Collectors association, meeting in emergency session at Austin Saturday morning may launch a movement for amending the state law which now provides for compulsory payment of poll taxes at the time ad valorem taxes are paid.

This was announced today by John Bourland, president of the association, who explained that the attitude of the county assessor collectors over the state will be sought at the meeting. Bourland will advocate that the tax laws be changed so that payment of poll tax, as a qualification for voting, shall remain discretionary with the property owners and other citizens.

Forced Collection Not Tried

For many years poll tax payments in Tarrant and other counties have been left to the discretion of the citizens. Forced collection was not attempted until a few days ago when State Comptroller Sheppard notified Bourland that county assessor-collectors would be held personally liable for poll taxes assessed and not collected at the time ad valorem taxes are paid.

Sheppard qualified his original telegraphic ruling when he sent to Bourland and other assessor-collectors explicit instructions on the collection of poll taxes. Homesteaders were pointed out as the only exception to the rule for forcing collection of poll taxes at the time ad valorem dues are collected.

Anti-AAA Unit Plans Drive

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 4.—President Ralph W. Moore, master of the state grange, announced today the recently organized Domestic Allotment league will open Sunday "a carefully planned campaign of open rebellion against policies of the AAA."

Advocates of the AAA have been conducting educational campaign throughout the state in behalf of the AAA.

The league represents 22,000 farmers and its purpose is to solidify them behind the domestic allotment or any other plan which "will save the economic lives of the farmers of this state," Moore said.

The opening program of the campaign will be a radio address Sunday by Dr. J. M. Travis of Jacksonville.

Glaciers Moving Forward Again, So Maybe United States Is In For Long Wet Spell

ESTES PARK, Colo., Nov. 4.—After shrinking steadily for five years, two Colorado glaciers made a comeback this year that one official calls little short of phenomenal.

If other glaciers in the United States have grown as much as these, Earl A. Trager, chief of the national park naturalist division, believes it will be a definite indication that the United States is entering a wet cycle.

The two are Tyndall and Andrews, mile-long bodies of ice that snuggle up against the Continental divide in Rocky Mountain national park.

Park Aids Growth

These remnants of the last ice age, 15,000 to 25,000 years ago, had been shrinking steadily since 1932.

By last year, Tyndall had slipped back 171 feet. This year it shoved itself out until it had recovered 139 of the lost feet.

Andrews recovered 64 feet this year so that now it is 16 feet larger than it was in 1932.

Reason for this spurt in growth probably is the abnormal amount of rainfall. Colorado just experienced one of its wettest nine months in weather bureau history.

Figures on other glaciers won't be available till November.

Scientists agree that if glaciers continue to grow at a rapid rate for a number of years, it will be one indication of a longtime trend toward an ice age. But as yet no one is sure whether the world is heading into a new ice age or still receding from the last one.

The United States knows how much its glaciers grow each year because national park rangers measure them.

In 1932 they painted a white "X" on a rock 30 feet, eight inches from Tyndall's "snout," or front, as a marker. Now each year they measure the distance from the X to the nearest portion of the ice. Last year the ice was 201 feet away from the mark; this year only 62 feet, four inches.

Dairymen of Argentina have asked government aid in selling butter abroad.

This is how Tyndall looks today. The dotted line shows how much smaller it was when it reached its smallest size in 1934.

Rangers are measuring the distance from a spot marked X, near Tyndall, to the nearest glacial ice.

Electric Incubators Help Pig Raisers In Georgia Experiment

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 4 (AP)—Chalk up a score for Georgia pigs—they are growing into healthy porkers with the help of electric incubators.

J. L. Calhoun, farm extension specialist, explains:

"In cold weather, pigs tend to crowd against the sow and this may result in some of them being crushed. The electric brooder has been developed to prevent this loss by attracting the pigs from the sow."

Calhoun quotes J. T. Kellerhals, Catoosa county farmer, as saying he would not attempt to raise pigs in cold weather without the artificial brooders.

The pig incubators are homemade and, the specialist says, cost less than $2 each. An ordinary light bulb and reflector furnish the necessary heat and light.

Three New Plants Discovered In Big Bend Park Recently

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 4 (AP)—Three plants previously unreported to science have been found in the proposed Big Bend National Park of Texas.

Ernest G. Marsh, Jr., of Austin, Tex., graduate of the University of Texas, is credited with discovering the plants. Two of them were named for Marsh by Paul Standley, botanist and curator at Field Museum in Chicago.

The plants are described as a wild mallow similar to hollyhock; a wild nightshade and a plant that resembles a snapdragon.

'George' Keeps Planes From Straying From Flight Course

LONDON, Nov. 4 (AP)—The robot pilot "George" is said to be largely responsible for the smooth straight flying of the "Pickaback" plane "Mercury" on its recent flight to South Africa.

"George" is a compact mass of high tensile steel, swiftly spinning gyros, and finely balanced levers.

"He" is able to sense the slightest deviation from the course "his" human colleague has set, and corrects it instantly.

Project Group Is Undaunted

(By The Associated Press)

TEMPLE, Nov. 4.—Secretary of the Interior Ickes' statement that no funds are available for the Brazos river conservation project left officials of the district undaunted.

"Regardless of whether PWA funds are immediately available, the Brazos district hopes to have its project in the most favorable position possible with PWA," said John A. Norris, general manager of the district.

District officials and Brazos valley congressmen will confer with Ickes, administrator of the Public Works administration, in Washington Tuesday.

Continuation Of Conversations

"The conference is a continuation of conversations district officials had with Ickes in September when he suggested that the district make certain changes in its power policies.

"We do not expect to come back from Washington with an allotment, but we do consider the conference important and are hopeful of making some progress toward obtaining PWA aid," Norris said.

Originally set up as an application for six dams, the present, revised application is for $15,145,000, including three dams, one in Palo Pinto county, one in Hood county and another in Bosque and Johnson counties.

New Profits Lower For 275 Companies

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP) — Net profits of the first 275 important companies reporting income for the quarter ended September 30 were 63 per cent less than in the like period last year, a compilation today by the Associated Press showed.

Earnings of this representative cross-section of industry totaled $137,163,000 against $369,236,000 in the same quarter a year ago.

Third quarter net was slightly larger than either the first or second periods this year, although substantially smaller than any quarter in either 1935, 1936 or 1937.

These 275 corporations earned $393,000,000 in the full nine months, compared with $1,145,000,000 in the first three-quarters last year, a slump of 66 per cent.

Western Auto Associate Store Has Formal Opening Tomorrow

* * *

R. W. INCE

Lubbock's Western Auto Associate store at 1212 Texas avenue, privately owned and operated by R. W. Ince, will have its formal opening Saturday.

The store here is associated with the Western Auto Supply company of Kansas City, Mo., which operates more than 200 of its own stores throughout the United States. The company was founded in 1909.

The Kansas City company cooperates with more than 1,000 individual auto supply dealers in the United States to enable them to offer the public automobile parts and accessories and other merchandise such as radios, electrical appliances, bicycles, and countless other articles. The store here is one of the home-owned firms.

Handles Several Lines

The Lubbock store will handle the same general line of supplies, accessories and tools, including standard brands. Among them will be Davis Deluxe tires, Truetone radios, Wizard batteries, rubber coat top dressing and many other lines which have been unavailable except at stores in larger cities.

A unique feature of Western Auto stores is that their guarantees are nationwide. For example, if a motorist who purchased a tire here should find the tire faulty when making a national tour, he could obtain an adjustment simply by going to the nearest Western Auto store, and he will find one in the principal towns and cities of the nation.

Ince lived here from 1924 until 1930, and has returned here to establish the business.

Frank Lloyd Wright Is Credited With Defeating Office Building Plans In Madison, Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 4. (AP—Frank Lloyd Wright, international famed architect, and Dane county farmers were credited today with defeat of a plan for a city-county office building on a downtown site for which PWA was willing to contribute $939,000.

By a 39 to 38 vote the county board rejected the plan after Wright had appeared before it last night and said the board merely would be erecting "another office building."

Wright proposed instead a "dream" project, by filling in seven acres of land on a lake shore and there building a structure surrounded by four terraces, hanging gardens, fountains and parks. There would be a music shell and an auditorium for 5,000. The project would cost about $275,000,000, he said.

No action was taken on the "dream" project.

New York And Pennsylvania Lead In Outright Gifts Of PWA Funds

Texas Is Near Top In Loans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — New York and Pennsylvania have led all states in obtaining outright gifts of 1938 PWA funds, applications for which closed today.

An October recapitulation of public works authorizations since the beginning of the program June 22 credited New York with $72,765,563 in grants for 249 projects. Pennsylvania received $53,989,641 in grants for 254 projects.

Ohio Leads Division

Ohio, according to the resume, received the largest number of non-federal projects—492—toward which PWA contributed grants totaling $45,965,670. Texas ran second with 312 non-federal projects calling for $16,787,532 in grants.

(PWA grants represent 45 per cent of the estimated construction cost of a non-federal project. Unlike PWA loans, which may be made for any or all of the remaining 55 per cent, the grants do not have to be repaid to the government).

All Allotments Made

Administrator Ickes announced yesterday that all 1938 allotments have been made except for a few minor projects.

"PWA has only a little pocket change left," he told his press conference, "and that will be used principally to meet contingencies."

Officials placed the total of federal and non-federal projects authorized since June 22 at 7,469 and their estimated construction value at $1,677,717,981. Of these, 6,417 are non-federal projects expected to cost $1,482,218,277, toward which PWA has made grants of $666,352,123 and loans of $48,753,013. The remainder will be financed locally.

Thirteen Receive 200 Projects

Nine states in addition to Ohio, Texas, Pennsylvania and New York received more than 200 projects. They are California, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri and Wisconsin.

Nevada received the smallest share—12 projects and $397,331 in loans and grants. Delaware also got 12 projects, but received grants of $1,153,105.

The biggest government borrowers were Texas, $4,092,000; New Jersey, $3,031,000; Alabama, $2,914,000, and Nebraska, $2,855,000.

No loans were asked by Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, Minnesota, Washington and Wyoming.

Slaton To Be On Air Saturday Morning

SLATON, Nov. 4. (Special)—Slaton will be honored from 7:30 until 8 o'clock Saturday morning in a broadcast over the Texas State network Roundup program.

Excerpt from a letter received by the chamber of commerce Thursday from the general offices of the Texas State Network, Inc., in Fort Worth, reads, "This means that some 23 Texas State Network stations in 22 of Texas' leading cities will carry the good word about Slaton, its facilities and advantages!"

Last Rites For Mrs. Watkins Are Conducted In Post Today

POST, Nov. 4. (Special)—Last rites for Mrs. R. T. Watkins, 24, Mineral Wells resident with relatives here, were conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Post First Baptist church, with Rev. M. C. Bishop, Big Lake Baptist pastor, officiating.

Rix Funeral home of Lubbock will direct burial in Post cemetery.

Mrs. Watkins was killed instantly in an automobile accident early Wednesday night five miles south of Lubbock on the Tahoka highway. She and her husband had arrived at Pettit late Wednesday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Watkins. They were en route to Lubbock with Mr. and Mrs. Sibby Watkins, also of Pettit, to attend a wrestling bout in which Kirby (Sailor) Watkins, brother of the Watkins men, was a contestant.

Their car was in a rear-end collision with another machine.

The first American bathtub was built in 1833 of mahogany lined with sheet lead. It was seven feet long, four feet wide and weighed 2,000 pounds.

Climbing Higher?

While his brother, Gov. Herbert Lehman, campaigns for re-election in New York state, Judge Irving Lehman, above, continues on the job as a justice of the New York State Supreme Court. There have been reports out of New York that Judge Lehman might be named to fill the U. S. Supreme Court vacancy left by the death of Justice Benjamin Cardozo.

Amateur Contest Is Scheduled Tonight

Roosevelt Rural High school's chapters of Future Farmers of America and Homemakers club and the Acuff Women's club will sponsor an amateur's contest in which contestants from all patrs of the South Plains are expected to participate tonight.

The program will be presented in the school gymnasium.

Money derived from the contest will be used for a fund to suport a trip to Yellowstone National park early next summer, according to Roy M. Monk, vocational agricultural teacher and advisor of the FFA.

C. H. Hutto of Lubbock will be master of ceremonies and is general director of the presentation, according to Noel Kruger, superintendent of the Roosevelt school.

Much interest in the contest has been shown, according to Monk. Winners in the contests will be determined by applause, it was announced, and will be tested by machines.

Extensions to the aircraft factory in Belfast, Northern Ireland, will cost $750,000.

Loyola's Wolves Arrive For Clash With Red Raiders

Introducing The Wolfpack

By Collier Parris

NOTES ON LOYOLA: The school, Loyola University of the South, a Catholic institution under the direction of the Jesuit Fathers, is located in the upper residential district of New Orleans opposite Audubon Park . . . 1200 men and 600 women are attending the 27-year-old institution, which is comprised of four professional departments in addition to the college of arts and sciences—and football . . . Buildings on the campus are of the Tudor Gothic design . . . Loyola owns and operates Radio Station WWL . . . The Maroon, student newspaper, is considered one of the best of college weeklies. . . .

● ● ●

Loyola's stadium, across a street or two from Tulane's bowl, seats 12,500 . . . It is double decked on one side. . . . The wolves, members of the Dixie Conference and National Collegiate Athletic Association, this season are sporting snappy gold colored whipcord pants and maroon jerseys, set off with gold numbers. . . . The Loyola band of 60 pieces is one of the best in the smaller schools. . . . President of Loyola is Rev. Harold A. Gaudin, S. J.; faculty chairman of athletics is Rev. Karl A. Maring, S. J.; graduate manager of athletics and director of publicity is Edward J. Lucas (Loyola '33) . . .

● ● ●

Athletic Director and Head Coach Larry "Moon" Mullins was one of Notre Dame's outstanding fullbacks through the 1930 season . . . with few deviations, he sticks to the "true" Rockne style of football. . . . He is a tall, handsome, likeable fellow who never seems to tire. . . . Likes to entertain visiting coaches and scribes at his home, and doesn't mind sitting up late. . . . His line of gab is entertaining, enlightening and enveloping. . . . He came to Loyola a year ago, after an undefeated, untied season at St. Benedict's. . . . During his six years of coaching prior to this year, his teams have won 40 games, lost 10, tied two. . . . His first Loyola team won two games, lost six and tied one. . . . but Mullins isn't one to worry. . . . So far this year the Wolves have won four, lost two, but a 13-0 shutout over De Paul salved the losses. . . .

● ● ●

Line Coach Dick Pfefferle won All-American honors at Notre Dame in 1935, went to St. Benedict's as Mullins' assistant, and was brought on to Loyola, along with a number of promising St. Benedict's players now in the lineup. . . . A vicious tackle at Notre Dame, Pfefferle is teaching his Wolfpack charges the same. . . . End Coach Leo Deutsch, product of St. Benedict's, made the Little All-American in 1936 and 1937 . . . Clay Calhoun, freshman coach, graduated this year from Loyola . . . He made Loyola's only touchdown against Tech a year ago. . . .

● ● ●

OUTSTANDING LOYOLA players to keep your eyes on tomorrow: No. 27, Ed Bordes, left halfback, who runs the ends, tackles and defensive halfbacks to death with fake spinners and reverses. . . . Joe Fracchia, a "Harold Crites" fullback, pride and joy of the Wolfpack offensive. . . . He's No. 39, and can run about that many miles per hour. . . . Also passes, and is a standout punter. . . . Weighs 170 pounds, but can get around. . . . No. 75, Russ Freel, right halfback, from Butte, Montana, via St. Benedict's, is a dangerous man to have on the other side, also. . . . One of Loyolas best running threats, fast and tricky. . . .

● ● ●

Kline Weatherford, lightweight center, is a star in the Wolfpack line. . . . Coach Mullins thinks a lot of the Alabama boy, who has been backing up the line like a wizard . . . Ed Hable, 185-pound guard, and Marc McCann, end, are other outstaniding linemen, along with Big Bill Kirn, star defensive tackle, at 210 pounds . . . Tech players also named to be on lookout for couple of backs named Joe—Galliano, No. 23, and Granne, No. 62. . . . Allusion to Tech's getting set to "make it three in a row" over Loyola was all haywire . . . In first engagement, two years ago, Loyola won a 13-0 victory over Red Raiders . . . Sugar game of series scheduled tomorrow afternoon, Tech Stadium, thank you. . . .

● ● ●

Before leaving subject entirely, would like to suggest Tech has no pushover on hands tomorrow . . . Dope heavily favored Red Raiders in 1936 game, but see above paragraph for result. . . . Fans tomorrow are assured of seeing fast game by two fast teams. . . .

● ● ●

OTHER NOTES: Marquette's Hilltoppers, who played against both of 'em, declare Davy O'Brien superior to Sam Baugh as a footballer . . . When the Marquette's play here, you'll see an All-American lineman, at center or guard, named Ray Apolskis. . . . Earl Clark, line-slashing TCU halfback, is considered by the department of music as a promising violinist . . . He took up football in high school to prove he, although a fiddler, wa sno sissy. . . .

● ● ●

One of the season's best quips was turned in by Bill Minnick, 200 pound Texas Aggie guard, in the game with Arkansas last week . . . It happened as the fourth quarter victory drive started. . . . Minnock came out of the huddle and addressed his opponent on the Razorback defensive as follows: "Big boy, John Kimbrough is coming through here this time, and I don't know what you're gonna do, but I'm going to get the hell out of his way." . . . Which Minnock promptly did, opening up a hole that Kimbrough could have driven a truck through. . . .

● ● ●

Tune to KFYO this evening at 7:30 for another all-Texas football round-up series over the Texas State Network. . . . today's cast comes from Tech, and Mack has lined up a good halfhour program for the net work . . . Players, coaches, coeds, student leaders and the Tech band will have a part in the proceedings. . . . It goes all over Texas. . . . .

Fort Worth's District Title Up Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Masonic Home squares off against Paschal tonight in a game that will virtually decide the Fort Worth district championship in the Texas schoolboy football race—provided the Masons win.

Poly and North Side last night played to a scoreless tie and should the Masons come through against Paschal they could drop one of their remaining games and still tie for the title. Masonic Home is undefeated and North Side has a tie and loss against its record while Poly shows two ties. Paschal has one tie.

Weak Teams Remain

Poly and the comparatively weak Arlington Heights team remain on the Masonic Home schedule after tonight.

Four games were played last night to inaugurate a week-end of 43 games in the Texas Interscholastic league grid program. In addition to the Poly-North Side tie, Jefferson defeated Harlandale 23-19 in the San Antonio district, Reagan downed Milby 13-6 in the Houston sector and Mercedes of the Rio Grande valley district beat class B Raymondville 16-0.

Thirty-three games are scheduled today and tonight with six Saturday.

Competition Reaches Peak For Class B's

Conference competition reaches its peak in District 4B today with top teams meeting each other, while only one titular joust is carded in District 5B.

The schedules:

DISTRICT 4

Flomot at Spur.
Lockney at Floydada.
Quitaque at Paducah.
All conference games.

DISTRICT 5

Littlefield at Olton, conference.
Ralls at Post.
Lubbock Cowhands at Tahoka, night.

Hap Morse Named To Manage Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 4 (AP) — Hap Morse, who returns next season as manager of the Dallas Steers of the Texas league, expressed confidence today he could put a winning team on the field when the campaign begins next April.

Morse, named yesterday by George Schepps, who recently acquired the club, said he would have a strong team if he could put over deals for two outfielders, a first baseman and a catcher.

The 43-year-old operator of bowling alleys here signed a one-year contract to manage the club he twice before headed.

Glen Lee Ready To Put Up Sum For Title Bout With Krieger

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP) —Glen Lee of Nebraska, whose manager declared today he was ready to put up $25,000 for a championship match with Solly Krieger, goes into ring action tonight in a 10-round bout against veteran Eric Seelig of Germany.

Lee gave Krieger a beating in New York last summer, and his manager, Joey Greenberg, said he hoped to lure the new middleweight champ here for another set-to with his fighter.

Visitors Are Taken To Spade Ranch Today

The Wolfpack of Loyola, with Coaches Larry "Moon" Mullins and Dick Pffeferle, put in at the Lubbock Santa Fe station early this morning and in private cars were taken to downtown hotel for a brief rest.

Saturday night the Wolves will meet Texas Tech in the deciding game of a three-year rivalry. Coach Mullins considered his squal in good shape for the fracas.

To Return Early This Afternoon

Shortly before noon, the team embarked in more private cars for a "peek-in" on branding and dehorning of cattle at the Spade ranch. They were scheduled to return early this afternoon and inspect Lubbock Poultry & Egg company's plant.

Saturday will be "band day" at Texas Tech field, where musical organizations from approximately 20 South Plains high schools will assemble. A mass concert between halves will be the big feature.

May Have 15,000

Graduate Manager Bo Williams said early today that he would not be surprised if 15,000 fans were packed into the stadium for the Raider-Wolf clash.

Tickets, at $1.65 per throw, have been selling fast in the city, and out-of-town reservations indicate a big trade. The stadium probably will be nearer capacity than at any previous time this season.

Texas Tech will be seeking its second victory in a row over the Loyola team tomorrow afternoon, and more revenge for the 13-0 defeat suffered at New Orleans in 1936. The Wolves, on the other hand, will be striving to take a lead in the three-game series.

The contest itself promises to be one of the fastest, from the standpoint of individual performances, of the season. Loyola boasts a light, speedy team that features "quick opening" plays, end runs and off-tackle slashes, and considerable passing of the ball.

Tech will exercise a weight advantage, and is figured to overpower the Wolves, but tricky maneuvers from the Notre Dame setup that Mullins coaches is bound to make for an interesting contest.

Two Games Are Of Greatest Interest In Saturday Tilts

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP) — Two games of intense sectional flavor, Pittsburgh's battle with its city rival, Carnegie Tech, and California's clash with Southern California overshadow Saturday's football program, a program heavily laden with traditional and intersectional pairings.

Carnegie Tech, coached in Pitt formations by Bill Kern, one of Dr. Sutherland's boys, sees its great opportunity just ahead. The Skibos figure Pitt cant help but have a let down after its Homeric effort against Fordham. And no one in Pittsburgh is forgetting that this is just about the best Tech team since the halycon days of Howard Harpster.

The coast classic can make or break either team. California, apparently headed toward another conference title, must win to stay in the race. Southern California, which at long last has shown signs of returning to the heights it occupied in the late twenties and early thirties, has old man opportunity practically knocking the door down. Beat the Bears and Howard Jones and Troy are riding high once more.

Daniel Baker Defeats McMurry College, 13-7, For First Win

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 4 (AP)—Daniel Baker defeated McMurry here last night in the first Texas conference victory of the season for the Hillbillies. The score was 13-7.

Blocked punts paved the way for both Daniel Baker touchdowns. Pate blocked Emerson's kick to give the Hill Billies the ball on the McMurry 22 and Daniel Baker quickly drove to a score. Snodgrass took it over. Watson kicked goal. English blocked a punt and dashed 25 yards for the second touchdown. Peek plunged over from the 2-yard line for the McMurry touchdown.

McMurry has not won a conference game this season.

ADMIRAL WORKS OUT

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4. (AP) — War Admiral, defeated Tuesday by Seabiscuit in Pimlico's historic match race, worked out briefly Thursday before boarding a special car bound for Narragansett park, where the Riddle star is booked to run in the $10,000 Rhode Island handicap, Nov. 12.

DISCOVERED TOO LATE

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Marty Hutt, member of Michigan State's basketball team, and Jack Heppinstall, Spartan varsity trainer, spent most of last summer in England within two miles of each other and didn't find it out until they returned to the campus this fall.

RUGBY ON PROGRAM

BERKELEY, Calif. — Tentative plans call for the California and Stanford rugby squads to meet British Columbia and other Canadian teams, and possibly Oxford University as part of the 1939 Golden Gate Exposition sports program.

Westerners Battle Lamesa Tornadoes

(Special To The Journal)

LAMESA, Nov. 4 — Everything was in readiness at noon today for the meeting at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon between high school football teams of Lubbock and Lamesa in a District 1 conflict.

The Westerners arrived by special bus this morning in company with Coaches Weldon Chapman and J. G. (Goober) Keyes.

Fans Are Expected

Several hundred Lubbock rooters and the high school band are expected here in time for the game. Six buses have been chartered for high school students.

Coach F. L. McCollum of the Golden Tornadoes said his team was ready, but expressed doubt the strong Lubbock entry would be stopped. The Tornadoes, however, will be gunning with both barrels for their first conference victory.

The Westerners, with the exception of their captain, Walter Webster, were pronounced in good shape Coach Chapman indicated he might start his second team, but would hold his regulars ready at all times to enter the fray.

Hoping For Upset

There remained some hope here among fans that the Lamesans might upset the Westerners, although everyone agrees the visitors rate the inside post.

Officials here asked that visiting fans bear with them in the seating problem which will become acute if crowd expectations are reached. New stands are being built to replaced the old, and work is not nearly completed.

Probably starting lineups:

DOUBLE WIN SCORED

CUT AND SHOOT, Nov. 4. (AP) — A double win was scored by John R. Parker of New Albany, Miss., and J. W. Elliott of Mexia when Mamie Elliott, a four-year-old black, tan and white walker dog, romped home to win the all age championship of the forty-seventh annual meet of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters association.

Scoring 680 points, Mamie Elliott came from the ruck to bring the second grand championship of the meet to Barker and Elliott. Their Flying Eagle won the bench show Monday.

The derby ws won by Dixie, a 16-months-old lemon and white walkear hound owned by Rip Menefee of Teneha. Dixie scored 375.

Sound Running Game Is Still Cardinal Requisite Of Great Team, George Halas Says

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Almost 20 years of football—as player, coach and team owner — has convinced George Halas of the Chicago Bears that a sound running game is the Cardinal requisite of a great eleven.

"They can throw that ball all they want to—and they're really tossing it around," the owner-coach of the Bears said today, "but the Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions have proved that successful football still is built on a rushing game."

The Lions' powerful running game, built around Bill Shepherd, set the Bears back on their heels last Sunday, 13 to 7. The Lions lack the passing talent boasted by most National league teams, but their running game is so strong that it's keeping them strong contenders for the western division title.

"The Chicago Cardinals concentrated almost entirely on passing," Halas pointed out, "and look how they've gone. (Cardinals have won one game in eight starts this season) to make a passing attack successful, a team must carry a running game threat—and in the final pinch its usually the rushing game that marks the difference between two, evenly matched elevens."

Kilgore College Stages Power Drive To Whip Weatherford

KILGORE, Nov. 4. (AP)—Kilgore college staged a power demonstration last night to whip the Weatherford junior college Coyotes, 26 to 2.

Barnes, Skipper, Muchowich and Cosper scored the Kilgore touchdowns.

Weatherford's points came in the third quarter when Aldridge blocked a Kilgore punt back of the goal.

MUSICAL FULLBACK

PITTSBURGH. — Wally Ingalls, reserve fullback, is the only member of the Carnegie Tech football squad who is not an engineering student. Ingalls, a talented violinist, is in the department of music.

Willie Turnesa, U. S. Amateur champion, and Johnny Fischer, are among the few remaining top-notch golfers who continue to use wooden-shaft clubs.

Barker Picks Bears, Pitt And Colgate

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—This football guesser comes up with the following probably irrelevant remarks about this week's program:

Southern California-California: There is no use discounting California's habit of winning the tough ones.

Syracuse-Colgate: This may be the year for the Orange to break an ancient jinx but this corner takes Colgate.

Northwestern-Wisconsin: Northwestern's upset of Minnesota makes it impossible to concede Wisconsin a chance to do more than make it close.

Alabama-Tulane: Tulane's Warren Brunner is one of the great backs of the season but this selection of Tulane to win is based on nothing more complicated than the toss of a coin.

Tulsa-Texas Christian: Tulsa over-matched by Davey O'Brien and his fellow Horned Frogs.

Pitt-Carnegie: A psychologist probably would say that if Pitt is to be beaten, this is the spot for it.

Navy-Notre Dame: The Tars tarred.

Minnesota-Iowa: Minnesota.

Oklahoma-Kansas State: Stringing along with Oklahoma.

Louisiana State-Mississippi State: Taking L. S. U.'s Tigers.

Arkansas-Rice: Who knows? Arkansas.

Texas-Baylor: Baylor.

Texas A. and M.-Southern Methodist: The Aggies.

Texas Tech over Loyola (New Orleans).

Navy Goat Mascot Is Involved In Monopoly Investigation; One Man Supplies Academy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—The goat mascot of the United States naval academy became involved today in an investigation by monopoly experts of the justice department.

An unnamed correspondent wrote to the department saying he understood "one man has a monopoly" on supplying the academy with goats. The department in turn, asked the navy "where the academy gets it goats."

Naval officers passed the inquiry along to the navy athletic association.

Stellar Flankmen To Be Out Of Auburn Lineup Rest Of Season

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 4. (AP)—Alabama Polytechnic institute's football squad will remain without the services of Stancil Whatley and Max Harrison, stellar flankmen, for the remainder of the season, the two players said today.

While Coach Jack Meagher said in Greensboro, N. C., the two ends "left voluntarily and I'm sorry they left," Whatley told friends here he quit when Meagher "informed me he thought I had been loafing."

To this, Harrison added:

"They had been on me a couple of times, so when Stan decided to leave, I resolved to go with him. We're roommates, you know."

They arrived for a visit with Harrisons parents before going to Miami, Fla., where they said they have jobs.

Cotton Bowl Class Planned As Backdrop For 4-Day Program

DALLAS, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Cotton Bowl football classic will be used as a backdrop for a four-day celebration to publicize the cotton industry, a cotton industries committee decided here Thursday.

The committee, named two weeks ago by Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the statewide cotton committee, said the program would begin Friday, Dec. 30, and continue through the following Monday, when the game will be played.

Lubbock Cowboys Take Juniors From Crosbyton By 47 To 0

The Lubbock Cowboys, led by John A. Raley, Doug McCurry, Wilson Belt and Ben White, walked over Crosbyton Juniors Wednesday afternoon, 47 to 0, at Westerner field.

Coaches Mule Davis and Lovic Liston used their second and third teams throughout the game, which was featured by a 70-yard punt return by Pete Chopelas. He was stopped short of a touchdown on the jaunt.

Longhorns Object Of Grid Interest

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Not the unbeaten surge of Texas Christian or signs of life in the wrecked Rice machine, but a floundering University of Texas team that has lost eight straight games is the object of interest in the Southwest conference weekend.

One year ago come Saturday the Longhorns won their last football game—and they weren't supposed to do that. They beat Baylor, then an unbeaten power, 9-6, in a shocking Waco upset.

They May Be Ready

Tomorrow at Austin the starved Longhorns will be let out in their own cofral against the Baylors again. Bald-pated Dana X. Bible, a man very unaccustomed to famines after golden years with the Texas Aggies and Nebraska, has been nursing his Steers along to where they may be ready for real nourishment.

Statictics don't show the reason, but Texas is this corner's choice to win its first—and probably last—game of the season. Its pass defense record isn't too good, and they will have to face Bullet Bill Patterson and his heaves. It has allowed enemy teams three times the ground yardage that it has gained and it has lacked a sparkplug since the exist of Charlie Haas.

May Hit Its Peak

But Texas, definitely aroused in last last two games against Rice and Southern Methodist, will hit its peak against Baylor in an extremely close one.

Beset by injuries that have splintered the first string, Rice Institute, nevertheless, is showing amazing signs of a comeback and rides into the University of Arkansas lair at Fayetteville a shade the better choice in another tight one.

Its great Ernie Lain is benched by hurts and Jack (Red) Vestal, fine blocking back, lies dangerously ill in a hospital, but Rice will be playing a game just for Vestal Saturday. That isn't college talk; its talk instigated by Red's own mates. Rice should rise to its old position Saturday to beat Arkansas by a touchdown. And if it does, the storm warning can go out again, for Rice is a notoriously good November club.

Aggies Invade Dallas

The Aggies, bringing their baby tank fullback, John Kimbrough, as the big gun of their offense, invade Dallas for a game with crippled Southern Methodist. Capt. Charlie Sprague, a fine end and leader of the Methodist line, will be out with a reinjured leg. The Farmers will have Kimbrough and Dick Todd in perfect health. The Aggies here, but not by a runaway margin.

For the first time bothered by injuries, undefeated Texas Christian, the Southwest's wonder team, meets Vic Hurt's Tulsa Hurricane at Tulsa in the last intersectional game. Fullback Connie Sparks and Halfback Johnny Hall will be out, but Davey O'Brien and that big line will be there. The Christians won't be gunning for a big score—just a comfortable two touchdown margin here, maybe three.

Fighter Who Beat Joe Louis In National AAU Hangs Up Gloves

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Max Marek, the Chicago lad who upset Joe Louis to win the National A. A. U. 175-pound title in 1933, hung up his gloves today after 31 professional bouts.

Soundly beaten by undefeated Tony Musto here Wednesday night, Marek, who once attended Notre Dame, held the Illinois heavyweight title in 1937 after turning pro in 1935. He is 24 years old.

Joe Says He'd Rather Fight Tommy Farr

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—First thing Joe Louis said when they told him his next opponent would be John Henry Lewis was: "But I don't see how I can fight him. We're too good friends. I always watch his fights and he watches mine."

But Joe thought it over for a minute and told his manager, John Roxborough: "It's all right, I'll fight him. It's just a fight, and that's my business. Man I'd most like to fight, though, is that Tommy Farr."

Has Matured Lately

The big negro champion has matured in a lot of ways lately, but he still swells up slightly when he thinks about Farr having stayed with him for 15 rounds last summer. Farr has a rasping tongue, and it seems that he said some things to Joe in the course of their little airing that Joe hasn't forgiven.

Joe's latest craving is for a swing band of his own, but Roxborough won't let him have it. "He can buy himself a zoo if he wants to, but this swing band stuff is out," he swore as Joe sat on a sofa and said nothing.

When the two negroes shook hands for the cameramen, Joe looked light-complexioned by comparison. He is about the shade of a good sun-tan, while John Henry Lewis is dark as night. John Henry, who originally hailed from Phoenix, Ariz., is some years older than Joe and will be 15 pounds lighter when they enter the ring Jan. 27.

Lew Jenkins Ranks As King Of Texas Lightweights Now

DALLAS, Nov. 4 (AP) — Lew Jenkins of Sweetwater, long ranked at the top of Texas lightweights, held the championship of that division officially today.

Jenkins, 133, knocked out Carl Faust of Chicago last night in the eighth round of a 15-round match. Faust weighed 135.

State Commissioner Fred Nichols of Austin witnessed the fight.

Jenkins won every round and dealt Faust a severe drubbing. Shortly after the fighters came out for the eighth, Jenkins lashed out with a two-fisted bombardment to the head and body and the Chicagoan crumpled, completely out.

Results of preliminary matches:

Harry Jacobson, 147, Tulsa, Okla., decisioned Young Ernest, 143, Wheeling, W. Va., (6); Joe Hudson, 166, Ardmore, Okla., won technical knockout over Bill Price, 164, Farris, (3); Babe Ritchie, 208, Lubbock, decisioned Joe Vandiver, 204, Fort Worth (4), and Jim Fussell, Dallas, 153, and Buddy Dyer, 158, Dallas, draw (4).

Arkansas State Teachers Win From Howard Payne, 27 To 0

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 4. (AP) —Arkansas State Teachers college outclassed Howard Payne college of Brownwood, Texas, 27-0, in a football game played on a rain-swept gridiron here last night.

Rolling up 14 first downs to five for the visitors, the Arkansas champions scored in each period. Howard Payne was held to a net yardage of 25.

Scouting Plans Are Discussed

Plans to participate in the Armistice day celebration here and for a leadership training course occupied the attention of Boy Scout meetings here Thursday night.

The Sea Scout troop, which has been organized for several months, but is just becoming active, met in the First Methodist church. Leaders of the troop are Skipper James C. Irvine and Mate Maurice Hensley, both of whom have formerly served in the U. S. Navy. Irvine, a commissioned officer, has organized troops throughout the United States, and is a recognized authority on sea scouting. Hensley is a former non-commissioned officer.

Have 16-Foot Boat

The group has a 16-foot boat, an outboard motor, and a bilge pump motor. The ship committee has presented them with a truck in which to haul their boat, and with a complete set of ship's colors.

Handicapped by the absence of one of their key men, Elwin Nelson, ship's boatswain, no extensive plans for future activities were made. A party last week was their initial social venture, and it was decided to hold a two-day cruise at Buffalo Springs one week from Saturday. The group may enter a float in the Armistice day parade here, and perhaps will attend a Sea Scout convention in Fort Worth.

In the other meeting, patrol leaders and neighborhood commissioners met in the Myrick building to discuss preparations and methods of studying for the leadership training course to be held this month under direction of Dr. J. O. Ellsworth. The first session will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday in the First Baptist church.

To Conform To Plan

The work, covering principles of scout leadership, will conform to a plan recommended by the national organization for the development of the most efficient scout troop, centered around the patrol idea. Every member of the class will be given the opportunity to hold various offices in the patrol, and so acquaint himself thoroughly with all the duties of his assistants. All scoutmasters, assistants, troop committee chairmen, commissioners and new prospective leaders are asked to participate. Other instructors, in addition to Dr. Ellsworth, will be K. N. Clapp, Sam Henry, Donald A. Petersen and Earl M. McClure.

Scoutmasters at the meeting, who have been appointed patrol leaders of their districts were: E. V. Hicks, George Hamilton, Ed Martin, John Vickers, and Albert Keenum. Neighborhood commissioners attending were P. H. Polk, Tom Atkinson, Carroll Thompson, Joe Kennedy, P. B. Williams, Charles Crenshaw, jr., and District Commissioner George Langford.

Youthful Burglar Is Trapped By Bad Penny; Pays For Gas

PUEBLO, Colo., Nov. 4. (AP) — Al Voss' bad penny came back, and brought the burglar with it.

Vos, a filling station operator, reported somebody broke into his place during the night and robbed the cash register, including a bad penny.

A few minutes later Voss called police again and told them a youthful customer on a motorcycle offered him the same bad penny in paying for a tank of gasoline.

Voss delayed the youth until police arrived. They obtained a confession that the night before he had broken into two places, and took $150. Part of the money was used to purchase the motorcycle he was riding.

LEMAIRE IS EMPLOYED

RALLS—Harry LeMaire of Lubbock, former director of the Texas Technological college band, has been employed here to organize a band for the schools of Ralls. LeMaire is here each Tuesday and Friday nights. He is organizing a band for the grade schools as well as the high school.

CONTINUE TRAPPER WORK

SNYDER — The commissioners' court of Scurry county voted to continue services of the county trapper until Jan. 31, next year. The county pays half of the salary and the residents the other. He traps wolves, coyotes and other predatory animals.

WILL PURCHASE TREES

ANDREWS—Andrews county will purchase 400 trees for the beautification of the school campus and the streets. An order for this was passed by the court recently.

MOVES TO LAMESA

LAMESA — O. F. Smith of Austin, an inspector for the PWA, has moved here and will be located here during construction of the $140,000 school building program.

Railway bonds put up a selectively rising performance. Foreign securities markets were somewhat uneven.

Farm Leaders Meet On AAA Plans Today

Lubbock county farmers who are members of county and community committees in charge of the AAA program, were to meet this afternoon in the district courtroom at 2 o'clock to discuss an educational program to acquaint farmers in general of provisions and rulings of the AAA for both 1938 and 1939.

C. E. Lilly, Slaton, chairman of the county committee, is to preside. C. C. Jobson, county agent, will outline the instructions as given at a meeting this week. Walter F. Johnson, administrative assistant and J. W. Palmore, jr., assistant county agent, will also speak.

Tonight at Floydada a similar meeting is to be held at 8 o'clock for Floyd county.

Vic L. Cade, district AAA committee, will be in Lubbock and probably will go to Floydada.

Saturday a meeting is scheduled in the morning for Parmer county at Bovina.

Roosevelt's Talk

would set a record for an "off-year" election, but would be 5,500,000 below the high mark of the 1936 presidential race.

The 40,000,000 total would represent 73.9 per cent of the estimated eligible vote, which the survey reported to be 54,324,930.

In such key states as New York, Pennsylvania and California, where the contests have been growing more heated each day, the turnout may approach the 1936 figures.

The senate campaign expenditures committee was working up to the eleventh hour in its investigation of complaints about improper campaign tactics.

Charges Are Made

It upheld Republican charges that Democratic rally tickets had been sold to WPA employes in Pennsylvania, that certain WPA truck drivers in the state had been solicited for $100 contributions to the Democratic campaign, and that "numerous" Pennsylvania WPA workers were ordered to change their registration from Republican to Democratic.

The committee turned over to the Philadelphia public prosecutor evidence about charges that Republicans intended to manipulate voting machines in that city, that they tried to "buy" support of Democratic committeemen, and that they plotted to remove registration cards to prevent some voters from casting ballots.

Since Mr. Roosevelt's victory two years ago, there have been political and economic developments which have provided new issues in many senatorial and congressional races.

Business Decline Cited

Republicans have made capital of the decline in business which began in the late summer of 1937 of labor disturbances and of lowered farm prices. Democratic party strife and defeat of the president on such major legislative issues as the supreme court and executive reorganization bills has furnished other material for the opposition orators.

Administration supporters, on the other hand, have directed the voters' attention to reports of reviving business and declining unemployment during recent months. They have cited social legislation such as the wage-hour law as evidence that the administration is reaching its objectives. And the president has contended he actually won the court bill fight because of a changed attitude of the supreme court toward legislation which he considers liberal.

German Ship Sunk

an examination of the hole made.

But German officers and crew members declared the blast was not accidental.

Captain E. W. Moessinger said the explosion was "damned suspicious," and three crew members standing at the control board in the engine room, six yards forward from where the blast took place, said the "detonation" must have happened outside the ship, or they wouldn't have been alive to tell their stories.

They were showered with steel particles, suffered minor cuts and bruises, and barely managed to escape up an emergency hatch before mud and water flooded the engine room, they said.

The Deutschland, another German ship, caught fire at sea last week.

Section Watched Closely — One minor complaint, made Thursday when a Mexican told police he had been shot at "a week or two ago" by another Mexican, reflects the comparative quiet of a Lubbock quarter that was in the inspection light of police recently because of a succession of hijackings. Police said the "Little Juarez" section is being watched much more closely because of the influx of large numbers of transcient laborers. The section continues to be overrun, but by population, rather than crime, officials said.

Loyola's Wolves Are Carried To Spade Ranch This Morning

Loyola's Wolves, who last year conducted Tech footballers on a sight-seeing trip when the Red Raiders went south for a game, this morning were assured Lubbock wants to reciprocate courtesies in every way — except in the result of Saturday afternoon's score.

Tech won last year's encounter.

Thirty-two Wolves, accompanied by their coach, Larry "Moon" Mullins, were guests of the chamber of commerce, of Lubbock business men and cattlemen at the Spade ranch headquarters. Nineteen automobiles conducted the visitors to the ranch and Tom Arnett, foreman, showed them how cattle are worked in pens, how they are loaded to be sent to shipping yards, told them history of the ranch. T. B. Zellner of Ellwood farms told more of the ranch's history and that of this general section.

Lubbock persons who drove their cars to the ranch were: Robert Sowder, Bob Harvey, Ely Henly, Bill Parker, Dub Parker, Sam West, J. B. Maxey, Morris Levine, Russell Morrison, W. C. Pryor, Dave Leaverton, J. O. Jones, Larry Rankin, Bo Sexton, J. Ray Dickey, R. L. Hooten, Lewis Price and representatives from Kuykendall Chevrolet company and Plains Cotton Oil Mill.

Mystery Veils Attack On Man

SUDAN, Nov. 4. (Special)—Mystery surrounds an attack believed to have been made in a car on Glen Herbert, 25 year old Elida, N. M., farmer who drove into a filling station here Thursday morning about 7:30 o'clock and tumbled from the car unconscious.

Given emergency treatment in a dotor's office, he was later in the day taken to a Portales, N. M., hospital and at last report there was unable to explain his condition. He had recovered consciousness shortly before midnight.

Drove Into Station

F. E. West, filling station operator, said Herbert drove into the station and cut off the ignition of the car. When he opened the do to ask the drive what his nee were, the man fell to the groun He had driven into town from t east.

West took the unconscious man to a dotor's office where he was treated. The physician later said he did not think Herbert's injuries were serious, but that he was suffering more from a shock. Deputy Sheriff Arch Jones was called and he investigated.

Struck Several Times

Herbert apparently had been struck several times over the head. The blanket on the seat was bloody and interior of the car indicated a struggle had taken place.

Officers theorized the injured man had picked up a high-hiker and that the latter had attacked his benefactor. Apparently the injured man had been either in or near Littlefield, before arriving here.

Portales reports said his father, B. C. Herbert, said the son had had a habit of picking up hitchhikers. The father said his son had gone to Clovis where he was to apply for certification as a WPA laborer and from there was to go to Portales.

Sheriff R. L. Hollis of Roosevelt county questioned Herbert, it was said, but was unable to gather any information, the young man being unable to recall having been in Clovis. Caliche mud on the car indicated it might have been driven off the paved highway between Clovis and Littlefield, although shoulders of the road have caliche on them.

Changes Made At Courthouse

A view into the past and one into the future Thursday allowed county commissioners a comparison with the present in Lubbock county.

They met in extraordinary session to consider a change order affecting a courthouse remodeling project.

After considering the problem of shifting the "official family" so as to take utmost advantage of new offices, they asked Louie F. Moore, deputy county clerk, to give them figures of "now and then," a comparison of the present with 20 years ago.

Statistics Are Given

Moore said 20 years ago the clerk's office had 52 deed records, as compared with 226 of the present; 12 deeds of trust records, as compared with 120; four mechanics lien records, as compared with 27. He said there are 100,000 chattel mortgages, 90,000 of which should be in the fireproof vault, "which is too crowded to accommodate numerous records."

Commissioners were informed that slight changes in construction had accredited the county with $318.15, but that change order No. 1, affecting the manditory placing of fire escapes and fire-resistant windows and fire doors, would cost $1,692.50, less the credit referred to.

Cash Transfer Ordered

Because a government grant of $9,000, which will supplement the county's outlay of $12,526, can not be paid for approximately 30 days, the commissoin approved a recommendation to transfer from the general fund of the county to a special construction fund enough money to pay the contractor, Sampson Brothers, estimate No. 2. The money will be replaced in the general fund after the government grant is paid.

Commissioners also were informed there had been provided approximately 14 offices, public toilet rooms, vaults and other conveniences through the last two improvement projects, at a total cost of approximately $46,526.

In addition, they learned the court house had been strengthened "fully that amount" by reinforcement of foundations through erection of masonry partitions, a fire wall and through work around spreading footings.

Changes To Be Made

It was decided that Walter Davies, justice of peace, would occupy the new north office on the first floor, the highway patrol moving into his present office and Mrs. Winnie Coleman, constable, taking the spot now occupied by the patrol.

Decision was not completed on occupancy of office space on the second and third floors, but applicants' wishes will be studied further at next regular meeting of the commission.

County Judge J. J. Dillard, Commissioners Ben Mansker, T. L. Holt, B. O. McWhorter and Barrett Penney, O. R. Walker, architect, and Moore attended.

Happy Home-Coming

Saved from what he thought was certain death at sea, Captain Hans G. Milton, of the auxiliary schooner Pioneer, is pictured above being greeted by Mrs. Milton when he arrived in New York aboard the United States liner American Banker which rescued him and his crew of four in mid-ocean. Loaded with lumber, the Pioneer was wrecked by a storm while en route from Halifax to Barbadoes. Captain Milton declared that before the American Banker picked them up, a Japanese ship saw their distress signals, looked them over and sailed on wihtout offering aid.

Poppies To Be Sold Saturday

Annual poppy day sale seeking funds for relief of needy veterans and their dependents is scheduled here Saturday, according to announcement Thursday by Mrs. Marvin McLarty, president of the American Legion auxiliary which will sponsor the event.

Mrs. P. W. Wood, according to the announcement, is chairman of the poppy day committee which will have charge of the sales. Other members of the committee are Mrs. W. B. Sides and Mrs. J. D. Rondeaux.

Every cent of the money collected, Mrs. Wood said, will be used for rehabilitation, child welfare or student loan purposes among World war veterans or their dependents.

Of the amount realized, she added, two and one-half cents is paid by the auxiliary for each poppy. The poppies were made by hospitalized veterans who were paid for the work.

All of the remainder will remain in Lubbock for the relief or assistance of veterans or dependents here. Half will be for child welfare, 40 per cent for rehabilitation and 10 per cent for student loans.

Mrs. Wood explained that at least one girl is now a student in Texas Technological college who would not have been able to attend had the loan not been available.

Money secured through poppy sales last year, Mrs. McLarty reported, has made assistance possible for scores of families and individuals, including provision in many cases of the most absolute necessities.

As on previous days, according to the announced plans, more than a score of auxiliary members and daughters will be on business streets during the day offering the poppies. Contributions will be whatever the donor desires or feels financially able to give.

Three Agencies Cooperating

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—For the first time, says Secretary Wallace, three agencies of the department of agriculture are cooperating in working out a uniform program.

The AAA; Farm Security and Soil Conservation have made plans to join hands in controlling wind erosion in the Southern Great Plains area.

The 1939 program of assistance for the dust bowl, announced recently provides for setting up machinery for advancing federal aid for treatment of bandoned farmland as well as for improvement of occupied farms.

May Obtain Assistance

Soil conservation districts, empowered by state law to acquire interest in land for conservation purposes, may obtain federal assistance after leasing the abandoned lands. Benefit payment will go to the associations.

Secretary Wallace has empowered farm security to lend up to 90 per cent of expected AAA payments, the loans to be secured by assignment of the payment to FSA.

While better conditions now prevail in the dust bowl area of Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, the secretary said, "A potentially dangerous situation still exists in a number of counties." He added it was "important steps be taken in the next few months to diminish these hazards which may threaten in the spring of 1939."

BUYS MACHINE SHOP

LAMESA — P. A. Dugger has bought from Ulyss Dalmont the blacksmithing and welding equipment of the Lamesa Machine shop. He will operate the shop separately from the machine shop.

Sportsmen in the United States and Alaska spent more than 10 million dollars for hunting licenses in 1936.

BY JACK STINNETT
Associated Press Feature Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—You can't flip a dial and tune in talking-pictures any time you like but 1938 will go into the record as the year the public got its first look at television.

In the National Broadcasting Company studios in Rockefeller Center, they're offering the public a "television tour" which is visual proof that television is here. It's the first time, too, television has earned a penny of income. The charge is 50 cents (plus tax).

One firm is offering television receiving sets and another has kits for sale out of which the mechanically-minded can construct their own receivers. At least ten more companies are equipped to turn out receivers at the drop of an iconoscope.

Broadcasts Daily

Daily experimental broadcasts flow from the cloud-scratching antenna atop the Empire State building.

Columbia Broadcasting Co. is installing its new transmitter in the Chrysler building and early in 1939 New York will have two competing television broadcasting stations.

Thomas H Hutchinson, NBC television production director, says that since July, 1936, about 500 persons have made a total of 1,000 appearances before NBC's cameras.

"Several thousand televiewers," he says, "have seen several fashion shows, vaudeville acts, a detective drama, science demonstrations, motion picture travelogs, puppet shows, newsreels, high and low comedy, instrumental soloists, vocalists and, most notable of all, a recent television presentation of a scene from the Broadway play, 'Susan and God,' starring Gertrude Lawrence."

Television pictures, originally tinted green, are now received in black and white. "The new shading closely resembles that of the movies," says O. B. Hanson, NBC's chief engineer, "which we find is healthful and agreeable to the eyes."

The technical troubles of television used to be the only ones emphasized. Now, says Hanson, the engineering side is so far ahead of the program side that it will take considerable time for the latter to catch up.

The engineers still have their problems, though. Hanson finds the present television screen, 7 1-2 by 10 inches, too small for ideal reception. "We don't want to enlarge it indefinitely," he explains, "but our experience has shown that in the average living room a 12-by-16 inch screen is most satisfactory."

Television studios are too small, too; Hanson thinks movie-size studio "lots" will be required eventually. Just now he is planning a studio 50-by-80 feet, with a 30-foot ceiling, large enough to hold the three or four sets necessary to a television program of any variety. Remember that in television, unlike the movies, scenes cannot be pieced together. There must be a continuous flow of action. The control man achieves that by pressing a button which transfers the continuity from one camera to another. That sounds simple, but it demands that actor, photographers, director and control man know all the plans perfectly.

Gets Wallpaper-Conscious

Television settings, incidentally, are becoming more realistic. Michael Weightman-Smith, formerly San Francisco opera company and theatrical designer and now television's first full-time scenic designer, tells what's being done: "About a year ago, we did not bother with wallpaper designs on studio sets. But today the sensitivity of television requires close attention to pattern and design on wall surfaces. The same applies to furniture, fabrics, floor coverings, fixtures and costumes.

"One handicap that persists is our inability to reproduce pure white or pure black. Our knowledge still is rather incomplete. Green and blue reproduce in corresponding values of gray. The television camera distinguishes between natural red hair and dyed red hair.

The Future Theater

"Studio action being televized at rather close range, I have found it expedient to design each set like the panel of a Japanese screen, each panel of which comprises a separate background.

"Romantic settings, such as moonlit scenes and dark interiors, have not been used yet, but such settings are easily possible now and probably will become commonplace soon."

Acting, too, is already beginning to have its television "veterans." I talked to three.

"Unless my judgment errs," says Arthur Maitland, "we are about to see a rejuvenescence of that noble art that plays lyric tunes on the human heartstrings. The future of the theater lies with television."

Edmonia Nolley declares: "Television enlarges the actor's perspective appreciably. It helps to divest one of personal ego; it may even tend to undermine the star system."

Helen Lewis, who played television's first long-run show, a dramatic sketch that ran 14 performances, says: "There is something very intimate about a camera gazing at you several feet away and all the world watching through its lens. Compared with stage and radio, I think television gives the actor a greater incentive for emotional expression."

Refuge For Whooping Cranes Is Planned Near Corpus Christi

AUSTIN, Nov. 4. (AP) — Federal wildlife officials hope a new Texas gulf coast winter refuge may save the whooping crane from extinction.

Only from 70 to 100 of the long-necked, red-capped birds, noted for their loud raucous cry, are known to exist. About 20 of them winter north of Corpus Christi, Texas, where the refuge will be constructed.

It will consist of a tract of 40,000 acres, fenced and posted and with a system of reservoirs and channels adequate for water fowl. Wild geese and duck also will inhabit the refuge.

Austin Woman's Head Keeps Right On Ticking Along

AUSTIN, Nov. 4. (AP)—Mrs. Agnes Martin of Austin hopes the recent nation-wide publicity given a patient who ticked like a clock will spur the medical profession to find a cure for "alarm clock head."

For 20 years Mrs. Martin has "ticked" so loudly that the noise is audible to other people. She went swimming one day and then came down with influenza. When she recovered she had an "alarm clock head," a ticking sound in her ears.

She visited many doctors. None knew of a cure. Mrs. Martin said the malady aggravates her but has not affected her general health.

"It gets worse during cold, damp weather and so I dislike the coming of winter," she said. "The time it worries me most is early morning. If I wake up I can't go back to sleep."

Pension Planners Marching Onward, Sight New Victories In Elections

Nearly Every State To Vote

By NEA Service

Scarcely a state is without its old-age pension proposal at the November elections, and the sudden upsurge of new plans makes a map of the country a mosaic of "More and more, oftener and oftener."

Most striking, because it is an initiative law with a good chance of passing, is the California "$30 Every Thursday" proposal. But so apt a phrase was bound to take on, and variations of this plan have been agitated in Florida, Louisiana, Maine, Ohio, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, and Tennessee. A Kansas variant asks "$25 Every Tuesday," at federal expense. There is a Pennsylvania plan to step up the $30 to $60 after 60.

Another initiative will be voted on in Arkansas providing $50 a month for everyone over 60, and the same thing has been less formally proposed in Minnesota. Missouri also has an initiative proposal which would give between $18 and $36 a month to single, $25 to $50 to married oldsters.

More modest are Illinois, Texas and Kansas, with proposals for $30 a month for all over 65, to which the Massachusetts proposal of $40 a month for all above 60 is roughly equivalent. The primary-defeated William Langer of North Dakota, who is trying to get back as an independent with such a plan there.

Misses Getting On Ballot

A $100 a month plan just missed getting on the ballot in Washington. Only court action kept a $100 a month plan off the ballot in Oklahoma.

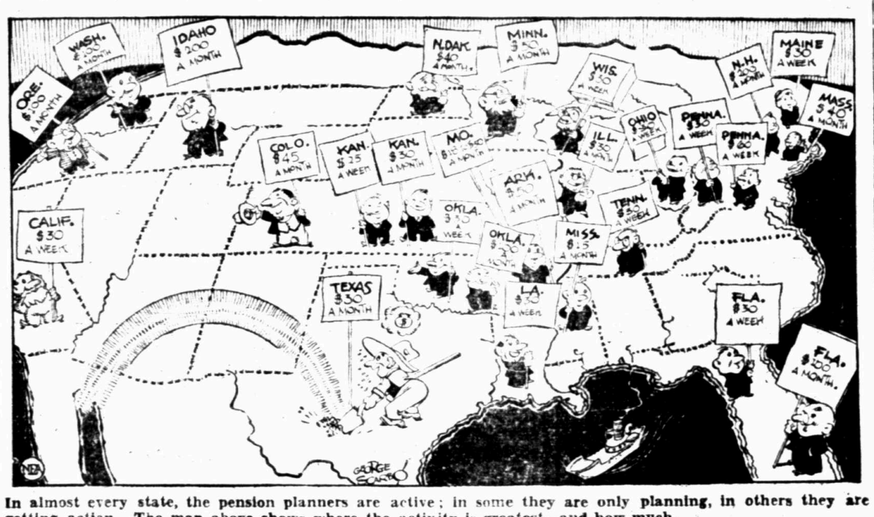

The old Townsend plan throbs with new life in Florida, Oregon, New Hampshire and Idaho. In Florida and Oregon the $200 monthly demand has been cut to $100. Representatives pledged to the Townsend plan are almost sure to be elected from these and other states Nov. 8.

Mississippi candidates want the federal government to put up $15 a month for pensions regardless of whether the state matches it or not. Now the federal government puts up any amount up to $15 which the state will match.

In only one state is a backward step proposed. Colorado, which got far in the lead with a $45 a month pension, is voting on a repealer, as it has not been able to raise the money.

WAREHOUSE UNDER WAY

AMHERST — Second warehouse for the Farmers Cooperative gin here is nearly complete. The gin will then have 5,000 bale storage.

In almost every state, the pension planners are active; in some they are only planning, in others they are getting action. The map above shows where the activity is greatest—and how much.

Tests Show Early I. Q. Is No Clue To Adult Life Abilities

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 4. (AP)—Results of intelligence tests in the earliest years of a child's life are little indication of what his adult abilities will be, researches by Dr. Nancy Bayley Reid of the University of California show.

At 7 months, the tests showed, children of intelligent parents are not as smart as those of parents of low mentality, but at three years they have caught up and passed them. Dr. Reid believes this may be because their more complex mentalities need a longer initial development period.

PLAN SCHOOL PLAY

COTTON CENTER — The school faculty here, assisted by several others, plan to present a three-act comedy, "Hubert the Great," in the school auditorium. It will also be presented at Hale Center. Proceeds of the show there go to the senior class of that school for a show given here recently.

That Girl on Broadway says a driver can insist upon his "rights" at intersections just so long—and then he'll get his "rites."

* * *

"Let us assume," the geography teacher at Lubbock High told his class the other day, "that what I say is right—subject, of course, to cable advice to the contrary from Mr. Hitler or Mr. Mussolini!"

* * *

THIRTY-FOUR years ago today, a sprightly young feller from up Floyd county way started work in a Lubbock bank.

Today, that same individual—now a shade gray at the temples but, we're most happy to report, still powerful sprightly—is still on the job.

He's Walter S. Posey, vice-president of the First National, who—bless his heart—is as good as gold.

C. E. Maedgen, president, and John Mitchell, executive vice-president, of Lubbock National; and Sam C. Arnett, president, and George E. Benson, executive vice-president of Citizens National, join with The Plainsman in wishing Walter Posey many happy returns of the day as well as in sincere wishes for health and happiness throughout the future.

He's a great guy and any city could use more like him!

* * *

THE Plainsman doesn't want to make a nuisance out of himself by forever asking something from the good citizens of Lubbock and the South Plains.

But 12 years ago, when this column first saw the light of day, we made a vow that whenever possible we would turn it out to work on good deeds. Since that time our fine citizens have responded to appeals for homes for orphan children; for wheel chairs for cripples; for radios for shut-ins, for milk and ice for babies; for food and clothing; for furniture for persons whose homes had been destroyed—and for a hundred and one other worthy causes.

So now we're looking for a serviceable radio for the Mexican school.

Mrs. George Duval, principal over at Guadalupe school on the north side of town in the Mexican settlement, is fully as ambitious for her bright-eyed, brownskinned boys and girls as the principals in the other city schools are for their youngsters. And she should be. So now that the other schools are proud possessors of radio sets furnished them by prosperous P-TA groups, over which they receive various programs calculated to help in-school work, she thinks the ninos should have one, too.

And so do we.

* * *

Somewhere among us is a kindhearted citizens who has a serviceable radio set that he hasn't any particular use for.

Maybe there are more than one such citizen, since the last time The Plainsman appealed for a radio—for a crippled lady—four of 'em bobbed up.

But anyhow, Guadalupe school needs a radio and if someone has a set to spare and wants to do a good turn, let him get in touch with Mrs. Duval, over the Mexican school's Phone No. 2246, and she'll see to calling for and installing it.

The muchachos are particularly anxious to get the set and have it installed by next Wednesday afternoon. For at 2:30 p. m. on that day, a picked group of Guadalupe children will put on a program over KFYO and the other kids naturally want to hear it.

Can YOU help 'em out?

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says the new car models are mighty swell, but he's still looking for one featuring chatterproof glass between the front and back seats.

* * *

"I can tell," the visiting friend said to his host, "that your wife came from a fine family."

"What do you mean, 'came' from a fine family?" asked the host. "She brought it with her!"

* * *

THE staff of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is wracking its collective brains in an effort to hit upon some real, honest-to-goodness Christmas features for Lubbock.

They don't know what they'll finally do, but they're going to do something—something in addition to the usual street decorations.

* * *

Young Mr. Richard Shinkle, whose duty, among others, is to make people Lubbock-conscious, is tinkering with the idea of having Christmas carols booming all over the place every night during the week before Christmas Day—which this year falls on Sunday.

His idea sounds pretty good, too.

The plan is to get 30 minutes radio time on KFYO each night; install loudspeakers over the down town section; get every store (they'll all be open evenings then) to have a radio running in it; and get every householder who owns a radio to tune in near an open window—and thus deluge Lubbock with the jolly, old Yuletide spirit.

Yep, it looks like Mister Shinkle has got sumpin' there.

* * *

THE Plainsman, along with a lot of other people, is very happy to see Lubbock becoming more Christmas-minded as the years go on.

For too long we were satisfied merely to hang a few, forlorn, colored lights here and there across downtown intersections—and let it go at that. But during recent holiday seasons business houses have been lighting up with fine decorations; householders have been following suit and now, with the chamber of commerce getting the spirit, we may expect this Yule season to be the brightest one in all history.

* * *

Another Christmas idea Mister Shinkle is nursing along has to do with hanging spruce boughs on the downtown light standards.

He points out—and quite logically—that Lubbock needs some daytime Christmas decorations as well as those of the night variety.

He's considering going off the caprock and getting some evergreens and using them on the streets this year.

That sounds good to us, too.

HALBERT I. (for Irvin) Kiefer, who writes pieces for The Avalanche-Journal, was poking around the other day with some city officials, looking over the ground in connection with the laying of storm sewers, which (PWA willing) will be added to our fair city ere long.

After his inspection trip, Bro. Kiefer rushed back into the office all out of breath. He had discovered that the deepest sewer ditches which will have to be dug will be at the west edge of Yellowhouse canyon—that they'll have to be around 22 feet deep.

"It's remarkable," Bro. Kiefer insisted, "but true that the person approaching the canyon in many directions climbs slowly unitl he reaches the edge where the drop begins.

"Thus," he continued earnestly, "it is possible that water falling within a fractional inch of the canyon's edge might travel many miles before finally winding up in the canyon proper. Its first direction would be away from the canyon. Eventually, however, it would reach a gully through which it would at last roll into Yellowhouse."

* * *

The Plainsman was not one of those pioneers who helped dig the canyon (although he just missed getting here in time to carry water for those who did). But he has always been of the opinion that the land round the canyon slopes from all directions to the edge of the big gash which is the headwaters of the Brazos.

Engineers, however, have found the opposite to be true, so we thought we'd let you in on the secret.

The Story So Far: Judith Goodloe marries self-made Reuben Oliver for his money, only to discover he is bankrupt. After their twins are born, red-headed Cissy Rogers, who loves Reuben, gets him a job in a lumber camp managed by Gary Brent—the man Judith loves. Always a fighter, living by Judith's codes has weakened Reuben. After a violent quarrel with Judith, he decides to make his own laws. Cissy tells Judith bluntly that she is out to get Reuben. Also that Gary is in danger of losing his job to Reuben. Judith realizes she must make her decision.

Chapter 38

Divorce?

Gary's ferocity surprised Judith. An instinct for fair play made her say: "Hasn't Reuben's work been satisfactory?"

"Oh, he has earned his money," grudgingly. "But—I don't like him."

"Is is necessary that you like each employe?"

"It's necessary that I have the respect of each employe. Oliver is rude, overbearing. He's forever making a play to the gallery."

"Aren't you being supercritical, Gary?"

"Defending him?"

"Maybe." Not knowing why she did so, she kept right on. "If Reuben doesn't kowtow—"

"You think I want that?"

She studied him in the uncertain light—arrogant under his nonchalance. Sure of himself. Demanding first place and getting it, believing it his infallible right, and in a revealing flash she knew that under his lovable carelessness, Gary wanted power and homage, in great or small proportions, from all with whom he came in contact. Especially would he demand it from the woman he loved. How did she know this—How—?

Because—knowledge rushed over her like a tidal wave—these things were the very breath of life to her too.

"No, no, no! 'I'm not like that!" Judith denied to Judith. "It's not true!"

But it was true. She had been demanding from Reuben, not the give and take affection due from a man to his mate, but the worship accorded a superior being. Now, because Reuben rebelled—

Almost she could be glad he had rebelled. Reuben catering, servile she could despise, but Reuben remote, untouchable—

Gary said: "You think I'm hankering for a pedestal?"

Her fingers tightened over his. "I know it, darling."

"Well—of all things!" Undecided whether or not to be offended.

"And I'm crying for one too, and Gran—Oh, Gary, don't you see? I never did until this minute—We've taken it as our divine right to be looked up to. As long as folks do that everything is all right. When they don't—"

Involuntary laughter broke from her, went tinkling through the night. "Gary! If you could imagine my rage when the women of Casper Street saw me, not only without glamour but as a sort of moron, a liability to Reuben!"

"How did we get started on this fool subject anyhow?" Gary demanded.

"We were speaking of Reuben."

"There's no love lost between us, I can tell you."

"Probably not."

"There'll be less." In the wavering moonlight he watched her vivid face as a cat watches a mouse, "I am discharging him Monday."

Reno!

Neither chagrin nor dismay in her telltale face. Sheer relief in it.

"Judith—you don't care?"

"I don't know." Her thoughts seethed. "Reuben's job means safety for the children—But now Reuben wouldn't have a chance to—to cheapen himself and her—With Reuben out of the way Galbreath would keep Gary—Superintendents were not picked up overnight—"

"By putting Oliver out I'm precipitating a crisis."

"Why—why do you want to do that?"

"Why?" His eyes widened, You've just admitted that you love me. That means the end of Oliver."

"You must go to Maryland at once, Judy. Non-support—is a grand reason."

"But—"

"I'll follow as soon as the buyers go. We'll push everything right through. You can go to Reno—"

Judith awakened rudely from her dream of the past few months. Idyllic that dream, nor sordid—"Are you planning for me?"

"For whom do you think, lady?"

"But—I don't want a divorce, Gary."

"What?" Not believing his ears. "Don't you love me?"

"Y-yes."

"Well then?"

"But I've always loved you—for years and years—you knew it but you never did anything about it!"

"I'm doing something about it now."

"But—" not quite knowing what she meant herself. "Now you've told me, Gary, everything is all right."

"What?" His eyes were cold steel—all the laughter, all the warmth had mysteriously vanished. "You only wanted to bring me to heel?"

"No, Gary, no!" Haltingly she tried to tell him just what loving him, without certainty, had done to her through the years. That it had been a sort of blight across her heart, preventing her from living in the present.

"There can be no divorce for me, Gary."

"Don't talk nonsense." Her reluctance made her a million times more desirable. "I'll push it through so quickly—"

"You don't understand, Gary. A bargain is a bargain. I'm bound—not only by my marriage vows, but by—the boxwood."

"Well—of all things!"

"Reuben saved it—saved everything."

"If you feel so all fired obligated, dig up the blamed thing and give him back his money!"

"Gary!" Was she going crazy? Was Gary actually telling her to sell the hedge?

Gary stuck to his guns. "Ive often wondered why your grandmother didn't sell that box long ago. With the price skyrocketing, it seems wicked not to."

Horrified she looked at him, expecting to see clay feet—a cloven hoof. Could this be Gary? Had she gone mad?

'Reuben Will Marry Cissy'

"Seriously, Judith," he captured her hands that were worrying the moss that covered the rock, "You wouldn't let a silly sentiment about some old shrubbery spoil our lives would you? Isn't our happiness the only thing that counts?"

She was not sure. "Can you imagine Gran?"

"Gran's life is behind her. Ours is ahead. We can't worry about Gran."

But she did worry about Gran. She couldn't even think of Gran and divorce in the same breath. Divorce to Gran was the lowest ebb—the last gasp of a poor weak fish upon the hook of circumstance. Goodloes didn't get divorces. If a Goodloe made a mistake in the selection of a life partner he kept a shut mouth, an upflung head, grinned defiantly in the face of a world that expected him to be a shining example of all that was finest and best.

"I could never get a divorce from Gran's house."

"Thinking it over, it will be best to go directly to Reno from here.

CURBING THE NARCOTICS EVIL

Reflecting the headway which undoubtedly has been made in recent years in coping with the narcotic traffic was the report by the federal narcotics commissioner a few days ago that drug addiction is on the decline.

In more detail, his report disclosed that in proportion to population, there are only about one-fifth as many drug addicts in the United States as in 1924. During the several years prior to 1924, the narcotic traffic had been a growing problem. About that year, an aroused public opinion began forcing results. Conditions have improved steadily since.

A problem, however, still is with us. More than 25,000 persons still are definitely known in this nation to be habitual users of "dope." The actual number, in the opinion of best authorities, is much larger, although still much smaller than 10 or 15 years ago.

Progress with recent years has been due to a combination of circumstances. Among them have been public opinion, larger numbers of enforcement officers, strengthened laws and heavier penalties for those convicted.

If we continue to use the available weapons, there is every probability that in the course of time, the United States will be more completely free of the curses of the drug traffic than ever has been true of any nation. But we must be constantly on the alert because if we relax an instant, all that has been gained may be lost.

Something To Begin Thinking About

Republicans Due To Gain Up To 35 Seats In House On November 8, Rodney Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — The next House of Representatives will have somewhere between a couple of dozen and a half a gross more Republican congressmen than it has now at the lowest point of G. O. P. House strength in history.

Dutcher

Quite a few Democrats who came in on Roosevelt coat-tails by small majorities in 1936 or previously will go back to private life. Casualties will nearly all be among comparative newcomers. Republicans, perhaps with one or two exceptions, will keep their seats. Few nationally known congressmen — and none of the powerful committee chairmen who hail from safe Democratic Southern territory — are in danger of defeat.

Party primaries have hit the House liberal bloc, by and large a strongly pro-New Deal group, some hard blows. The elections November 8 threaten further losses to this bloc.

• • •

Seven Spots To Fill

The present House contains 328 Democrats, 88 Republicans, seven Progressives and five Farmer-Laborites. There are seven vacancies. All 435 seats are to be filled by the election except for three in Maine to which Republicans were re-elected in September.

Estimates of probable Republican gain range from 20 or 25 conceded by most Democratic leaders to 80 or 85 claimed by some Republicans. The most conservative Republican experts think they will get 35 or 40 new seats and will be elated by victories in excess of that.

Both sides agree that the largest Democratic losses will be in Pennsylvania, whose House delegation of 27 now includes but seven Republicans, and Ohio, in whose delegation are 21 Democrats, two Republicans, one vacancy.

Republicans think they may pick up 10 new seats in Pennsylvania and from five to 10 in Ohio, where there are at least 10 hot contests. Their most reliable confidential surveys say they have excellent prospects in at least five Illinois congressional districts, three to five fair prospects in Michigan, two to five in New Jersey, two or more in Connecticut, two or three in California, two or three in Indiana, one to three in Minnesota, possibly five in Iowa, maybe one or two in Washington and possibilities or better of one each in Kansas, South Dakota, New Hampshire, Colorado and Montana.

• • •

50 New G. O. P. Seats Estimated

The recent Newsweek magazine poll of political leaders and correspondents produced an average estimate of 50 new Republican seats.

Whatever the result, the next House seems certain to be more conservative and more independent of the White House. Although Republicans know they won't get a majority, they expect to elect enough new men to form an anti-New Deal bulwark in frequent coalitions with conservative Democrats.

Losses of the liberal bloc emphasize this likelihood. Texas primaries resulted in defeats of Maverick, the bloc's chief leader, and McFarlane. Prominent liberals who lost fights for senatorial nominations and hence are out of Congress include Democrats Lewis of Maryland, Wearing of Iowa, Hildebrand of South Dakota and Progressive Amlie of Wisconsin. The liberal bloc also loses Mead of New York, now a Democratic senatorial nominee, and Eicher of Iowa, who is retired. There will be liberals in the new congressional crop, but others are threatened with defeat November 8. Conspicuous among the latter are Farmer-Laborites John Bernard and Dewey Johnson in Minnesota and Jerry O'Connell of Montana, aggressive New Dealer threatened by a Republican backed by Senator Wheeler and Dr. Townsend.

The most conspicuous individual contest is that between Chairman John J. O'Connor of the House Rules committee, running in the 16th New York district on the Republican and "Andrew Jackson party" tickets, and James H. Fay, Democratic and American Labor party nominee. O'Connor was Roosevelt's sole "purge" victim in the primaries, but ran successfully meanwhile in the Republican primary and hopes to keep his powerful chairmanship if re-elected. Washington expects O'Connor to be defeated unless his old Tammany friends refuse to go along with Fay.

Re-election of Congressman Bruce Barton, from New York apparently was assured when the Democratic and American Labor party organizations failed to unite against him. His opponents are Walter H. Leibe-

Get all the gossip over at once."

"I could never go back to Gran's house a divorced woman."

"My house will be waiting for you, Judith."

Gary's house! Her dream home out of all the world! But her smile was just a faint twitching of muscles. Impatiently she called herself an absolute idiot. Hadn't she known she was drifting to this? Hadn't she known when she stopped to think?

Gary said: "Oliver won't give you any trouble. He wants to marry Cissy."

Hearing him say it was like hearing an explosion of dynamite.

"Reuben wants to marry Cissy!" It didn't make sense. Reuben who had been so adoring. Who had walked the floor countless nights with croupy babies so that she could get some rest—"Reuben wants to marry Cissy—"

"How do you know, Gary?"

"How do I know? Haven't I eyes and ears? Doesn't everyone know? Don't you know?"

"No."

"Oliver spends every spare minute at the Curtis camp. No woods man, that lad, after five o'clock. A millionaire's car whirls him away for bridge, polo, sailing—"

"Why shouldn't he go places?"

Garry shrugged. "I'm not stopping him."

"Reuben has known the Curtises for many years."

"He won't have to worry about the job he's losing when he marries Cissy. A wife with as many millions as she'll have is easy to take."

Easy to take! All her old jealousy of Cissy rushing over her, clawing at her like a leopard's fang. Cissy—breaking up her life—a second time. Not that it mattered about Reuben. It was only that she had to get used to the idea of divorce.

She tilted her head backward and smiled up into Gary's eyes. What she saw there made her forget Cissy. Made her forget the world.

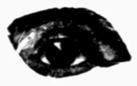

Gary whispered against her hair: "Nothing matters now except our love."

All his old fascination enfolding her like a soft, warm, blanket. Her heart throbbed out that it was made only to love this man. All that had gone before was just a prelude—even the tired moon knew it. It sent a last pale ray to touch Gary's hair.

"You're not to worry, Judy. Soon I'll have the right to take care of you forever and ever."

Monday: Gary gets in some knife-work.

Corn Granaries Are Bulging

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Granaries throughout the farm belt were unusually well stocked with corn today as government loans to 49,000 farmers on almost 48,000,000 bushels fell due.

Visible supplies at terminal centers increased 7,946,000 bushels last week as old and new corn poured into the principal markets. Heavy marketing of old and new corn at the same time is unusual in the grain trade. The total U. S. visible supply of 24,674,000 bushels, while not large in comparison with country stocks, was 600 per cent greater than a year ago and the largest for [illegible] since 1934.

Price Near Low Level

Country elevators, too, bulged with corn and farmers throughout the belt hastened construction of new cribs. Lumber dealers reported brisk demand for materials.

Corn is selling in Chicago at approximately 45 cents, near the lowest price level in almost five years.

The latest figures on old corn supplies on farms showed approximately 350,000,000 bushels of 1937 crop grain has not been fed or marketed. The amount on loans was scarcely 14 per cent of this total. A year ago old stocks on farms totaled only 60,000,000 bushels. The 1938 supply is double that of the average in any of the past 10 years.

Is Part Owner

Uncle Sam is owner of part of the old corn now crowding storage and transportation facilities. How much has been defaulted on loans, however, could not be determined. The Commodity Credit corporation expects to sell some corn back to farmers for feeding, to distribute some in relief channels and to store some for normal merchandising [illegible]. Corn not turned over to the government for shipments may be fed or resealed on new loans at 57 cents a bushel, 7 cents over the old rate. The government expects to lend money on possibly as much as 300,000,000 bushels of 1938 corn.

T. V. Smith, University of Chicago philosophy professor, author and Democratic state senator, is a favorite for congressman-at-large in Illinois. Vito Marcantonio, Republican-American Labor party candidate and once a firebrand in the House, is privately regarded by Democrats as likely to beat the Tammany incumbent, J. J. Lanzetta, in the 20th New York district. One of the rare chances of a Republican upset is seen in the strong campaign of young Thomas H. Eliot, grandson of Charles W. Eliot and former Social Security board counsel, against Congressman Robert Luce in the 9th Massachusetts. Dorothy Bellanca, veteran Amalgamated Clothing Workers' organizer, is running as a Republican and American Labor candidate against Congressman Donald O'Toole of Brooklyn.

The blind congressman, Matthew A. Dunn, is threatened by Republican Robert B. McKinley in the 35th Pennsylvania. James E. Van Zandt, former commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is a strong Republican candidate against Congressman Don Gingery in Pennsylvania's 23d. The anti-Semitic, fascist Silver Shirts are reported potent in some Pennsylvania areas and are supporting Charles L. Gerlach, Republican, against Congressman Oliver W. Frey in the ninth.

Congresswoman Virginia Jenckes is having trouble with ex-Congressman Nobel J. Johnson in the sixth Indiana.

It's possible the "negro bloc" in the House will be enlarged from one to three. Democratic Congressman Arthur W. Mitchell, now the lone negro, is opposed by a colored Republican nominee. Charles A. Roxborough, brother of the manager of Joe Louis, is the Republican candidate against Congressman R. G. Tenerowicz in Detroit and Republicans have nominated colored Judge Edward Henry against Congressman James P. McGranery in a Philadelphia district.

How Autos Are Born: Before 1939's Cars Leave The Line Makers Are Designing 1940 Models

1 ON DRAFTING BOARDS like this were born, a year ago, the 1939 motor cars America will be buying or envying at auto shows all over the country soon (starting with New York's, opening November 11). From the blueprints, models are made. Engineers study and revamp the models for months. Six weeks after they decide on the final design, production starts—and the drafting room goes to work on 1940's car.

2 PRODUCTION STARTS in the furnace rooms where red hot metal is pulled out in rods and bars to start on its way to the assembly lines. Workmen who perform this kind of labor in auto factories are called back to the job from six to eight weeks before the assembly gang. Like most auto workers', their job is seasonal—steady in the fall, fluctuating with consumer demand during the rest of the year.

3 BORING VALVE HOLES in an engine block, a flock at a time. Contrary to the general impression, all the work in an automobile factory is not done on the assembly line. Forges, huge presses that stamp out metal parts, and drillers like this man, are some of those who do the preparatory work. When this engine block has been drilled it will join the big parade of parts to the men on the line.

4 CRANKSHAFTS wait their turn. Making cars is a decentralized business. Manufacturers depend to a great extent on outside industries. Some frames come from Wisconsin, tires from Ohio, odd parts from many other states. These crankshafts, made outside, are awaiting for the endless chain to carry them to the assembly line. Minor parts are taken to the line in small "feeder trucks."

5 RIDING THE BELT. Not all assembly line operations are performed by men who stand in one spot as the cars go by. Some operations require more time than that allows. This man, for example, adjusts remote control levers on the car's steering post. He often rides 20 or 30 yards down the line before he completes his job, jumps off, walks back to where he started and begins all over again.

6 THE FINISHED CAR isn't finished when it reaches the end of the line. For right there it gets a good going-over by a fellow like this, a workman who is familiar with every part of an automobile. No car is done until he puts his O.K. on it. From the time a frame is placed on the assembly line until the car rolls off under its own power, in many plants as little time as an hour has elapsed.

Professor Has Last Laugh; He's Really Good With Shootin' Irons

STEPHENVILLE, Nov. 4. (AP)—Students of Tarleton college chuckled when they invited Prof. O. H. Frazier to take part in an amateur program for trick shooters. They never had seen him with a weapon.

On the night of the show, he stepped to the stage with portable backstop and two large automatic pistols.

Then, with bullets, he began to dust the ashes from lighted cigarets; smash moth balls; put out candles and to light matches.

When the applause died and the students demanded a speech, the professor explained shooting had been his secret hobby for years.

Hooray for a one dish dinner!

SIMPLY incredible! How Idaho Russets cook so perfectly! Always tender and mealy through and through; always snow-white, wonderfully smooth.

DELICIOUS! Their richer, heartier flavor comes from Idaho's fertile volcanic soils, offers positive proof of their higher calcium, iron and phosphorus content.

SO INEXPENSIVE! Never half-eaten potato dishes with Idaho Russets! Everyone smacks them up—to the last tender morsel. So serve them daily. Insist on
