DPS director to address area law officers tonight

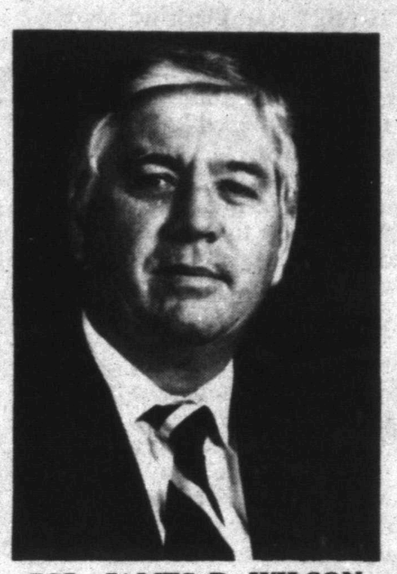

Col. James R. Wilson, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, will be the guest speaker for the annual Law Enforcement Appreciation Day banquet tonight in Scurry County Coliseum.

The banquet is sponsored by the members of the Texas House of Representatives and Senate from the Northwest Texas area, including Rep. David Counts and Sen. Steve Carriker.

Peace officers from 48 area counties were invited to the event, which begins at 6 o'clock.

Col. Wilson entered the DPS as a recruit in 1963 and served in the driver's license office in Houston until 1965 when he worked traffic control out of Katy. He became a criminal intelligence investigator in 1972, and was named sergeant in 1980. In 1985, he was a captain in criminal intelligence in Houston. He then served as assistant commander in Austin in 1985 and narcotics commander in 1986.

He was named assistant chief with the criminal law enforcement department in 1987, assistant director in 1988 and director in 1991.

COL. JAMES R. WILSON

He has received extensive training with the DPS academy, holds a bachelor's degree from Sam Houston State University and a doctorate from South Texas College of Law.

Included at the banquet will be officers, their spouses and staff from the Texas Department of Public Safety, Texas Rangers, sheriff's departments, police departments, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Texas Department of Criminal Justice and justices of the peace.

Area legislators whose districts are included in the 48-county area are Sens. Carriker, Teel Bivins, John Montford and Bill Sims, and Reps. Counts, Warren Chisum, Bob Hunter, Rob Junell, John Smithee, David A. Swinford, Bob Turner and Speaker Pete Laney.

Entertainment will be a patriotic skit by Sara Jackson of Sweetwater and a country and western band, "The Express," from Post.

Charges are 'sleazy politics,' says indicted Texas senator

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison, indicted on charges of misusing her office during her 21/2 years as state treasurer, called the allegations "sleazy politics" aimed at erasing GOP gains in Texas.

Mrs. Hutchinson, whose landslide victory in June made her the first woman senator from Texas and a rising star in the Republican Party, was accused along with two former aides Monday of using state employees and state equipment for personal and political reasons and destroying records as part of a coverup.

The grand jury did not specify whether she used her Treasury office to further her Senate bid and didn't elaborate on the alleged abuses.

But former aides have charged that she made a habit of sending staffers on personal and political errands, including helping her find and fix up her home.

Mrs. Hutchinson has maintained the investigation was spurred by Democrats angry over losing a Senate seat that had been theirs since Reconstruction. District Attorney Ronnie Earle, who led the investigation, is a Democrat.

"I think the citizens of Texas see through this," she said Monday. "They see that this is sleazy politics."

Earle, who made a name for himself by indicting or forcing the resignation of several prominent Democrats, denied playing politics.

KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

"Had we intended to be political, we would have conducted this investigation publicly during the campaign," he said. "We waited until we absolutely had to act to prevent further destruction of evidence."

And the grand jury foreman supported Earle in an unusual public statement.

"The grand jury has deliberated on each and every occasion with independence of politics and political persuasion," said Saadi Ferris, a former GOP candidate for sheriff.

Mrs. Hutchison, 50, and two former treasury aides were charged with official misconduct and tampering with records and evidence. The charges against Mrs. Hutchison carry more than 60 years in prison and $40,000 in fines.

She is the 10th U.S. senator ever to be indicted in office. Nothing in the Senate rules automatically bars her from remaining in office while she fights the charges, although the party could strip her of committee assignments.

Mrs. Hutchison became the second U.S. senator under indictment. Dave Durenberger, a Minnesota Republican, faces federal trial in January on charges he illegally claimed reimbursement from the Senate for a Minneapolis condominium he secretly owned. He announced less than two weeks ago that he won't seek a fourth term next year.

Senate Republicans rallied to the side of their newest member.

"It's pretty obvious this is driven by a political effort to discredit a rising star in the Republican Party whose vote-getting ability has Texas Democrats running scared," said Minority Leader Bob Dole.

Mrs. Hutchison defeated Democrat Bob Krueger in a June 5 special election to serve out the term of Lloyd Bentsen.

'Images' will open Sunday at museum

Throughout October, Scurry County Museum will host "Official Images: New Deal Photography," a traveling exhibit organized by the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History.

A reception is planned from 1 until 4 p.m. Sunday to mark the opening of the exhibit. Dates and times for other events planned along with the exhibit will be announced later.

"Official Images" presents documentary photographs made during the 1930s by federally employed photographers. Included are 81 photographs by such well-known photographers as Ben Shann, Russell Lee and Arthur Rothstein.

There are also six text panels. Depression era objects from the museum collection will be displayed in conjunction with the traveling exhibits.

"Images of farmers, children, older Americans, striking laborers, and young men and women working in agency programs capture the hardship and recall the hope that marked those desperate years," the Smithsonian notes.

Material drawn from the Farm Security Administration, the Civilian Conservation Corps, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Works Progress Administration, and the National Youth Administration expand the scope of the "Official Images" exhibit.

Regular museum hours are 8 a.m. to noon and 1-5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8-12 and 1-4 p.m. Friday.

Admission is free.

Muslims balk at peace deal

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) — Bosnian Muslim leaders signaled today that they are not ready to give up demands for lost territory despite 18 months of war, attaching a host of conditions to a peace plan that now goes to parliament.

The decision, which amounted to a rejection of the peace package worked out in months of international negotiations, was expected to foreshadow the parliamentary vote later today. It is likely to lead to renewed fighting and another grueling winter.

Bosnian President Alija Izetbegovic, undecided on the peace package that would divide the multi-ethnic Bosnia he has fought to preserve, had called an informal assembly of Muslims and other government supporters Monday to help make the decision. The proposed peace plan would divide Bosnia into three ethnic ministates.

Bosnian radio said 218 of the assembled lawmakers, military, civic and religious leaders voted for conditional acceptance, 78 voted against and 53 voted unconditionally in favor of the plan.

The conditional acceptance would require the return of all captured territory that had been Muslim-dominated before the war, particularly in eastern Bosnia. Serb control of territory in eastern Bosnia is crucial for a link with Serbia proper across the Drina River. The Serbs have flatly refused to give up the land they have conquered.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "It's easier to be against something than to understand it."

Football has been called a religion in this country. In some ways that may be correct for rabid fans who watch the sport in person or on TV — regardless of who's playing.

Although the season is less than a month old, pre-season games started on TV back when it was too hot to think about much of anything except a glass of iced tea.

A weekend of football generally starts on Friday nights, unless you happen to have a kid on a junior high, freshman or junior varsity team. On a typical Thursday night, a rabid grid fan can whet his appetite with two games.

Football fans in Texas have been known to travel halfway across the state to see their favorite team on a Friday night. Flying across the state on a Friday night, one can see hundreds of stadium lights dotting the landscape.

On Saturday, one can either go to a stadium for a college game, or the fan can pick from either five or six college games on any given weekend.

Then on Sunday, the pro games start early and end late. On a few occasions during the pro season, there are special editions of Sunday night football.

That warms up the real football addict for more pro action on Monday Night Football. And if that's not enough, there are sports channels which repeatedly show highlights of the past week's games, and who prepare the serious viewer on what teams must do to be victorious the next outing.

No wonder everybody is so worn out during the week.

Coaches naturally get wrapped up in the pressure of winning. Sam Rutigliano, coach for the Cleveland Browns, once commented on why his team lost:

"If you can't make the putts and can't get the man in from second in the bottom of the ninth, you're not going to win enough football games in this league, and that's the problem we had today."

The game's getting too complicated for us T-formation types.

SISD to adopt tax rate today

Snyder public schools trustees will adopt the 1993-94 tax rate at 6 o'clock this evening in the SISD board room.

Trustees are proposing a tax rate of $1.36 per $100 valuation, the same as the 1992-93 combined school and county education district tax rate.

Administrators note that the 1993-94 budget, at $14.6 million, is about $240,000 less than last year's.

Texas executes 69th person

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — An inmate was executed by injection early today for the murder of a college instructor who was clubbed with a brick, raped and then run over with her own car.

Antonio Bonham, 33, went to his death after asking the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles and Gov. Ann Richards to commute his sentence to life without parole. He had no final statement.

He was convicted in the 1981 murder of 62-year-old Marie McGowen.

His attorney, Michael Charlton, said Bonham got the death penalty because he was a poor, young black man who couldn't afford his own lawyer. Bonham had a court-appointed attorney.

Charlton also said blacks were improperly kept off the jury in the case, in which the victim was white.

"Mr. Bonham's appeal for clemency raises again the issue of race discrimination in the application of the death penalty," Charlton said.

At the time of the slaying, Bonham was on parole for robbery. He had a criminal record dating to age 14.

Bonham told police he abducted the woman with the intention of stealing her car.

He said he hit her in the head with a brick as she walked from the parking lot at the now-defunct Massey Business College. After throwing her into the trunk, he drove around Houston, then raped her and drove to a secluded spot.

After she got out of the car, he said, he intended to scare her by attempting to run her over. Her crushed body was later found under the car.

"I hadn't realized that I had run over the woman already until the car got stuck in the ditch," he told police. He added, "It was really my intention never to harm the lady but since I had been drinking heavily, the alcohol took all control of me."

Bonham was arrested a week later after police found his fingerprints in the woman's car. A jury took only 30 minutes to decide on the death penalty.

He was the 69th person executed in Texas, and the 221th nationally, since the Supreme Court in 1976 allowed capital punishment to resume.

Project Self-esteem to run through Nov. 30

Project Self-Esteem, a national award honoring teachers who teach self-worth, has been initiated by Discovery Toys, Inc. a $93 million distributor of educational and developmental toys, books and games, headquartered in Martinez, Calif.

The project began Sept. 1 and will run through Nov. 30.

The project calls on the nation's teachers to submit a project designed to boost feelings of self-worth in elementary school children.

Three winning projects will be chosen by Hugh Downs, chairman of the U.S. committee for UNICEF and host of ABC News' "20/20;" Ann Pleshette Murphy, editor-in-chief of Parents Magazine; Dr. Donald J. Cohen, director of the Yale Child Study Center; and Lane Nemeth, CEO of Discovery Toys.

Discovery Toys, Inc. will award the winning three teachers with $1,500 cash to fund their individual self-esteem projects; $3,500 worth of educational and developmental toys, books and games; and a paid weekend for two to New York City, where the winners will be honored at a luncheon in June of 1994.

Entries must include an application, a one-page essay giving the overview of the teacher's project, details on how the teacher would use a cash award to create a new project or enhance a current one, a description on how the teacher and student will work together on the project, and the known or anticipated impact the project will have.

Houston librarian hits Lotto jackpot

AUSTIN (AP) — A Houston librarian who was the sole winner of Saturday's $17 million jackpot has played the same set of numbers since the first Lotto Texas drawing last November.

The numbers — 4, 7, 11, 14, 18 and 32 — represent the birthdates of winner Allen Haynes' mother and grandmother.

Haynes on Monday picked up the first installment of his winnings, a check for $861,501.12. He'll get another $854,000 every September for the next 19 years.

"I've been playing Lotto ever since the very first drawing ... You can't win if you don't play," said Haynes, a librarian with Houston's city library system.

He plans to keep working for a while. But his wife, Bernadette, said she closed down her child care business Sunday and will now devote more time to her youngest daughter and church.

"My first thought when Allen said we'd matched all six numbers was, 'You're lying,'" Mrs. Haynes said. "I called the Texas Lottery results line to verify the winning numbers."

The couple plan to share their winnings with their family

Haynes bought his winning ticket at a Stop N Go that earlier sold a jackpot prize-winner in the July 16 Lotto Texas drawing. The store gets a 1 percent bonus for selling the jackpot winning ticket.

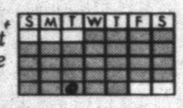

The Houston area has produced 15 lotto jackpot winners out of 77, the most of any Texas region. The Dallas-Fort Worth area is second, with 12.

Dear Abby

Concern for Elderly Mother Is Check on Woman's Free Rein

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1993 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman in my 50s with a mother in her mid-80s. My husband and I would like to retire in another year or so, and move to a Southern state.

The problem is my mother. She has her own apartment, and so far she is able to take care of herself. We talk two or three times a day, and I see her at least once a week. I'm afraid when I move, she'll be lost without me. I can't take her with me because my husband doesn't want that, and to be perfectly honest, I don't want her living with us.

Where do my obligations lie? I have grown children and a brother who has a family of his own.

I love my mother, but I also love my husband and want to retire with him alone. I can't seem to stop worrying about this situation with my mother. It's causing a lot of turmoil in my life at this time. Please help me.

IN TURMOIL

DEAR IN TURMOIL: Your mother seems to be doing well thus far, so don't try to look too far into the future.

You and your husband have earned the right to retire alone. If and when the time comes that your mother can no longer live alone, find a retirement home near enough to keep a watchful eye on her.

DEAR ABBY: I've never written to you, but I am an avid reader of your column in the Tacoma (Wash.) News Tribune and must share this with you and your readers.

I have a son who lives a long way from me, but he is in constant touch, and I visit him twice a year. I love his wife, and she is very good to me.

Well, this son just celebrated his 46th birthday, so I called him long-distance to wish him all the best. I was gone from home for several hours that day, and upon my return, I found a beautiful bouquet of red roses delivered by our local florist. The note attached read: "Thank you, Mother, for bringing me into this world. Love, Michael."

I kissed each flower, then I sat down and cried.

There is so much turmoil and unhappiness in this world today — so many unwanted pregnancies and abortions — that I felt I must share this joy that our children can give us across the miles.

MARY IN TACOMA

DEAR MARY: Thoughtful, loving children seldom just happen — the seeds were planted, and now you are reaping what you have sown. Congratulations, Mary.

DEAR ABBY: Here's another one for your funny name collection:

My brother-in-law, "Nacho" — the common nickname for Ignacio — met and introduced himself to a lady in Yosemite. The lady had never heard the name and had trouble remembering it, so Nacho told her to just remember the Mexican snack.

Hours later, when they parted, the lady said, "Glad to have met you, Mr. Taco!"

Bike-A-Thon Saturday will benefit 'St. Jude'

Area bicycle riders are invited to participate in the annual St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon on Saturday.

Vickie Reed will serve as coordinator for the event.

The bike-a-thon will be held at the intersection of Highway 1606 and County Road 397, beginning at 1 p.m.

Riders of all ages can participate and begin obtaining sponsors immediately. Riders collecting $75 in donations will receive a T-shirt and sports bag. Riders collecting $30 will receive a T-shirt. All participants will receive a certificate.

For information or to receive sponsor forms, contact Reed at 573-0864.

St. Jude Children's Hospital, founded in 1962 by the late entertainer Danny Thomas, is the largest childhood cancer research center in America in terms of the number of patients treated and treatment success. Funding comes primarily from public support of events such as the bike-a-thon.

This year's bike-a-thon poster child, seven-year-old Shauna Richters, represents all of the patients treated at the facility. Shauna was diagnosed with Wilms' tumor, a malignant growth on her left kidney, in December 1990. She is in remission from her cancer and completed her chemotherapy in June 1991.

She is doing well and returns to St. Jude Hospital every six months for checkups. Shauna celebrated her last chemotherapy with a present she had eagerly looked forward to — a new bike.

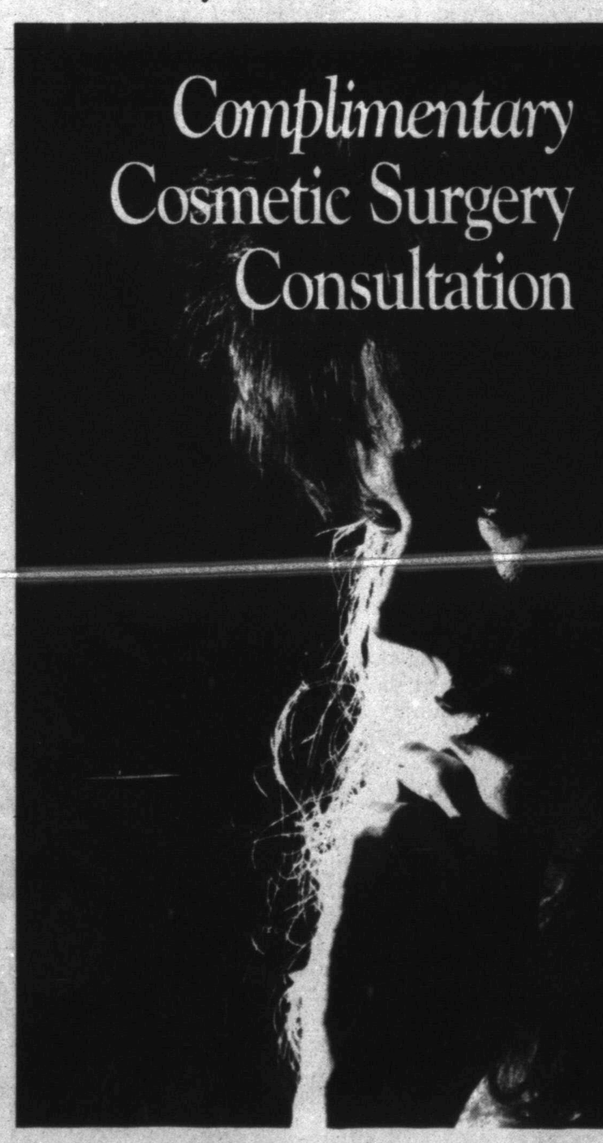

A diverse community of 100 trillion bacterial cells acts as a barrier against pathogens — disease-causing microorganisms — in the large intestine of humans, notes National Geographic.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Share Our Strength's second annual Writers Harvest: The National Reading will be held Oct. 5 at some 200 college campuses and bookstores to benefit SOS's hunger relief activities.

Participating authors include Maya Angelou, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, N.C.; Joyce Carol Oates, Seton Hall University, South Orange, N.J.; Reynolds Price, Duke University, Durham, N.C.; William Styron, State University of New York-Albany, Albany, N.Y.; and Calvin Trillin, New York University, New York City.

National sponsorship by American Express and The Princeton Review enables Share Our Strength to distribute 100 percent of the proceeds raised by Writers Harvest events directly to groups fighting hunger.

SOS says $40,000 was raised and distributed from last year's event. Fifty percent of the money raised this year will go to local hunger relief programs in the community where the money is raised. The remaining 50 percent will go to national hunger relief organizations.

They've opened a postal museum in Washington. Do you suppose that letter you've been waiting for is enshrined there?

When necessary, are you better?

People like to compare the greats of any game, but that is meaningless. Who was the better tennis player, Margaret Court or Martina Navratilova? Each, at her peak, was the best. They played well enough to beat their toughest opponents. But maybe they could have played even better if necessary. And if they had been playing against each other, who is to say who would have won?

In bridge, you are working to make your opponents' results worse. But, as it is a partnership game, you should also be striving to help your partner play better. Today's deal is easy for someone who has his partner's best interests at heart. Yet it is hard for the rote player. Against three spades, West leads the diamond 10. How should East plan the defense?

East won the first trick with the diamond king. He cashed the diamond ace. Then he led the diamond three, which West ruffed. Back came the club queen. Gratefully declarer won, drew trumps and claimed, one of dummy's hearts being discarded on the diamond queen.

"I led my higher diamond spot," wailed East. "Why didn't you return a heart?"

"To me," replied West, "it looked as though South was hiding the diamond two. You had an easy way to ask me to return a heart."

"How was that? Drop the diamond three on the floor and then, as I pick it up, say 'High diamond coming, partner'?"

"Very funny, but no. Just win trick one with the diamond ace, an unnecessarily high card. When you continue with the king and three, I will know you want a heart switch."

Graham takes advice from wife

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Billy Graham heard his own message more clearly, with the help of a hearing aid.

Graham, 74, said his wife talked him into wearing the device during a five-night crusade in Columbus.

"I am doing something tonight I have never done before," he told about 33,000 people at Cooper Stadium. "I am wearing it for the first time ever to preach."

In the distance came a wailing sound.

"I can even hear the siren," he said.

Graham, who has Parkinson's disease, said he was taking medicine that allowed him to continue preaching.

"We take things every day on faith," he said. "God has given us a prescription that must be received, taken and applied."

Deep Creek ABWA meets

Members of Deep Creek Chapter of American Business Women kicked off their fall membership drive with a skit and conducted regular business at a meeting held Sept. 2 at the Golden Corral Steakhouse.

President Dorothy Dortch conducted the session opened with the invocation by Pauline Withers.

September is the National ABWA birthday and the local Deep Creek Chapter's 10th year. National ABWA began on Sept. 22, 1949, and the local chapter began the same day in 1983.

Withers gave the new member orientation and it was announced that the chapter's newsletter, The Chapter Bulletin, has been renamed Women on Deep Creek Say.

The fall membership program was a skit performed by chapter members. Building for the Future including cast members Irene Canales as Jenny Cash; Stella Bailey as Polly Dordon; Bonnie Carroll as Lilly Mae Cyrus; and Johnnie Pyburn as Winnie Pearl.

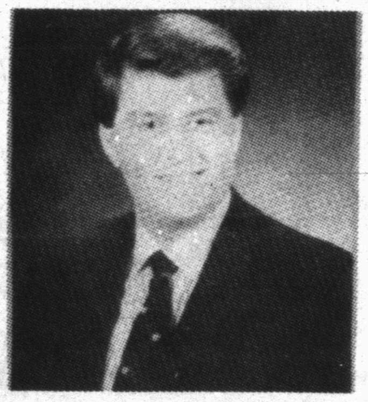

Canales and Carroll were hostesses to seven members and seven guests. Jo Ann Burney and Dortch won the door prizes.

Dining out tips

— When looking for restaurants serving vegetarian meals, ethnic restaurants are often a good bet. Chinese, Mexican and Ethiopian are just a few ideas.

— Don't be afraid to make special requests when dining out. Chefs often enjoy the variety of preparing a vegetarian or vegan alternative to an entree offered on the menu.

Lady Tigers host Lee spike squad

The Midland Lee Lady Rebels will make a visit to Snyder today to take on the Lady Tigers in a non-district volleyball match.

Snyder, 9-13 on the season, is fresh off a split of matches Saturday, falling to host Seminole, 6-15, 8-15, then handing Monahans a marathon 16-14, 13-15, 17-15 defeat.

"We played a good match against Monahans," said Snyder volleyball coach Patty Grimmett. "Offensively, defensively, I think we played really well together. We went point-for-point with them. The girls did real well keeping their composure and playing well under pressure."

Among Snyder's offensive leaders in the match against the Lady Loboes was Trish McGrew, who served 10 points, including points two through nine to tie Game 2.

"That was kind of the turning point of the match," Grimmett said.

Midland Lee, a member of District 4-5A, carries a 6-12 season record into today's match, including a 15-13, 15-13 loop win over Odessa Permian Saturday.

Junior varsity action begins at SHS at 5 p.m., followed by the varsity tilt.

AL roundup...

Jays, Sox snag playoff spots

by The Associated Press

The matchup for the American League playoffs is set: the defending World Series champion Toronto Blue Jays against the Chicago White Sox for the pennant.

It all became official Monday night when Toronto beat Milwaukee 2-0 for the AL East title at County Stadium, just a few minutes after Chicago defeated Seattle 4-2 at Comiskey Park to win the West.

Former Milwaukee star Paul Molitor hit a home run in the second inning and Pat Hentgen (19-8) scattered seven hits in 6 2-3 innings as the Blue Jays beat the Brewers 2-0 for their 13th victory in 15 games.

Toronto will play Chicago in the best-of-7 playoffs starting next Tuesday at Comiskey Park.

Molitor was one of several new stars to join the Blue Jays this season, along with pitcher Dave Stewart, shortstop Tony Fernandez and outfielder Rickey Henderson.

"I feel like I'm very much part of this team," Molitor said. "Early on, I had to learn to be myself and not be occupied with comparisons with last year or whose shoes I was supposed to fill. This is a first step, and we'll enjoy it, but our goal is to go a little farther. We know the White Sox are looming and we know how tough the divisional playoffs will be."

Bo Jackson hit a three-run homer in the sixth inning, snapping a scoreless tie and sending the White Sox to their first division title since 1983. For Jackson, who made an amazing comeback from hip replacement surgery, it was his 15th homer of the season and second in two days. He also hit a home run in Chicago's home opener.

"I thought it was a pop fly, and I slammed my bat down," Jackson said. "Then the ball kept drifting and drifting. When the count went 3-0, I looked at the bench and they gave me the swing sign. This is the icing on the cake. Now we have to light the candles against Toronto."

The homer sent the crowd of 42,116 white-socks waving fans into a frenzy and the White Sox to the playoffs.

Winner Wilson Alvarez (15-8) and Dave Fleming (11-5) were locked in a scoreless matchup of left-handers when Ellis Burks singled to open the sixth. Then Craig Grebeck beat out a bunt single.

Yankees 9, Orioles 1

New York did what it could to stay alive in the AL East by beating Baltimore at Camden Yards. But Toronto clinched the division title, anyway.

Jim Leyritz hit his second three-run homer in as many days, staking the Yankees to a 5-1 third-inning lead against Rick Sutcliffe (9-10). Scott Kamieniecki (10-7) pitched eight innings of six-hit ball.

Twins 11, Angels 3

Dave Winfield had two hits and drove in three runs as Minnesota used a pair of five-run innings to beat California at the Metrodome.

Angels starter Chuck Finley (15-14) allowed 10 earned runs for the first time in his career. He allowed 11 hits, four walks and hit a batter.

Twins starter Willie Banks (11-11) got relief help from Carl Willis, Larry Casian and Brett Merriman. Banks gave up three runs — one earned — and six hits in 5 2-3 innings.

Royals 6, Indians 5

Jerry DiPoto (4-4) hit Gary Gaetti with an 0-2 pitch with the bases loaded and two outs in the ninth to lift Kansas City past visiting Cleveland.

Mark Gubicza (5-8) got the victory by getting a double-play grounder in the top of the inning.

Phillies clinch tie for NL East crown

by The Associated Press

While one National League division race is all but wrapped up, the other appears headed for a sprint to the finish.

The Philadelphia Phillies clinched a tie for the NL East on Monday night with a 6-4 victory at Pittsburgh, while second-place Montreal lost 3-1 at Florida. The Phillies' lead is six with six games remaining.

In the NL West, San Francisco defeated San Diego 8-4 to pull within one game of first-place Atlanta.

The Giants play host to Colorado for two games before finishing the season with four games at Los Angeles. Soloman Torres (3-3) pitches for the Giants tonight against David Nied (5-7).

Atlanta finishes the season with home games against Houston and Colorado for three games each. Tonight, Atlanta throws Tom Glavine (20-6) against Doug Drabek (9-17).

John Burkett (21-7) pitched six shutout innings for San Francisco, retiring 19 consecutive batters to become the NL's first 21-game winner. Rod Beck earned his 44th save as the Giants won their sixth consecutive game and 10th in their last 11.

Matt Williams snapped a 2-for-25 slump with his 38th homer, a two-run shot in the first inning. He later added an RBI groundout. Barry Bonds had a sacrifice fly to tie him with Atlanta's David Justice for the NL lead with 115.

The Padres lost their sixth straight, and Andy Benes (15-15) failed for the fifth consecutive start to win a career-high 16th game.

Phillies 6, Pirates 4

Philadelphia is assured of at least a tie for its first NL East championship in 10 years and its sixth since division play began in 1969.

Ben Rivera (13-9) earned the win, giving up three runs on five hits in 6 1-3 innings. Mitch Williams earned his 42nd save.

Pirates lefty Steve Cooke (10-10) shut out the Phillies for three innings, but didn't retire any of the five hitters he faced in the fourth.

Marlins 3, Expos 1

Rookie Pat Rapp allowed only four hits in eight innings to push the Expos to the brink of elimination.

Rapp (4-5) walked two and struck out three.

Falcons' Monday night blues continue with loss to Steelers

ATLANTA (AP) — Neil O'Donnell and a tough Pittsburgh Steelers defense made it another miserable Monday night for the Atlanta Falcons, who haven't done much on Sundays either.

O'Donnell threw for two touchdowns, Barry Foster ran for three more and the Steelers came up with six turnovers in a 45-17 battering of the Falcons (0-4).

Pittsburgh (2-2) won its second in a row after losing its first two games to San Francisco and the Los Angeles Rams by scores of 24-13 and 27-0.

"I'm not going to blow it all up," said O'Donnell, who completed 19 of 25 passes for 259 yards, including TD strikes of 4 yards to Dwight Stone and 7 yards to Yancey Thigpen. "We needed a win. I'm not going to say it's turning around our season. It's just one win."

It was yet another loss for the Falcons, who are 5-14 overall on Monday night football and have lost seven in a row. Their last win was a 31-30 victory over Minnesota on Nov. 23, 1981. Atlanta has lost its three Monday night games in the Georgia Dome while being outscored 107-37.

Foster, who had 65 yards on 20 carries, scored on runs of 20, 7 and 1 yards. It was the first three-touchdown game of his career.

Three of the touchdowns and Gary Anderson's 21-yard field goal were set up by four turnovers by Atlanta quarterback Bobby Hebert — two interceptions and two fumbles.

Kenny Davidson ended the night's scoring by recovering Hebert's fumble and going 18 yards for a touchdown two minutes into the final quarter. Deion Figures set up Stone's TD grab by intercepting a pass and racing 78 yards to the 1.

"We gave him (Hebert) five different packages in the secondary," said Pittsburgh defensive back Rod Woodson, who had two interceptions. "We showed him one package before the snap and then jumped into something different."

The Falcons, who have allowed 146 points in their four losses, got a 97-yard kickoff return from Tony Smith for a 7-7 tie in the first quarter. They took a 14-7 lead in the second quarter when Vinnie Clark picked up Foster's fumble and ran 46 yards for a TD.

A 49-yard field goal by Norm Johnson put Atlanta ahead 17-10 before the roof fell in.

Brett named Player of the Week

NEW YORK (AP) — George Brett of the Kansas City Royals, who hit two home runs the day after announcing his retirement, was selected AL player of the week. Barry Bonds of the San Francisco Giants won in the National League.

Brett batted .385 on 10-for-26 with four home runs and 23 total bases. He scored six runs, drove in nine and had an on-base percentage of .407. It is the 12th time Brett has won the award — most by any AL player — since it was introduced in 1974.

Bonds went 12-for-26 with five doubles and four home runs, driving in 11 runs and scoring eight. He batted .462 with a slugging percentage of 1.115 and an on-base percentage of .533.

Dr. Gott By Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: You've written about urinary incontinence, yet I suffer from fecal incontinence. My local physician referred me to a surgeon because of a rectal fistula. The surgeon performed a colonoscopy and indicated my problem was simply incontinence. I'm very upset about being tricked into having an expensive procedure that I didn't even need. What can I do about this unethical practice on the part of a doctor and a surgeon? What might cure the incontinence that remains?

DEAR READER: Bowel incontinence is devastating for those patients unfortunate enough to have it. The affliction can result from a number of disorders including bowel cancer, colitis and infections around the anus. I'm certain that the surgeon was correct in examining you for these conditions. Therefore, I disagree with your analysis; I believe you did need the colonoscopy.

I confess to a certain amount of confusion, nonetheless, about why someone's attention wasn't drawn to your rectal fistula, an abnormal opening between the rectum and outer skin that virtually bypasses the anus. This could, in my opinion, be the cause of your incontinence. I believe that the fistula should be repaired.

Consequently, I'm going to dismiss your complaint of having been "tricked," urge you to drop the non-issue of unethical practice, and demand a referral to a rectal surgeon. In my view, you have a problem that could be fixed and that's what I encourage you to focus on.

DEAR DR. GOTT: About a month ago I developed a terrible rash behind my ear diagnosed as seborrheic dermatitis. My doctor indicated this is from a glandular upset but didn't volunteer any other information except for the fact that it will come and go. What can I do to alleviate this problem?

DEAR READER: To my knowledge, seborrheic dermatitis, a common skin disorder that causes flaking and itching (dandruff in the scalp), is not related to "glandular" upsets. The cause is unknown, but the condition often responds to cortisone cream or shampoos, such as Selsun Blue.

Ask your doctor about this and, if he is unable to help you, request a referral to a dermatologist.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Medical Specialists." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

Astrograph By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Wednesday, Sept. 29, 1993

Arrangements you develop in the year ahead with contacts who have clout should work out to your advantage. You've lined up some powerful allies and over the coming months they'll demonstrate their worth.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A repeat performance is possible today with an individual with whom you've worked out something profitable in the past. The same tactics could be successful again. Libra, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're very protective of loved ones today and this is a noble inclination. In fact, you might have to go to bat for someone dear to you who needs help.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You are well endowed with strength and determination today, yet this might not be obvious to yourself or others. Your assets come into play when the pressure increases.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Optimism and expectations are two powerful factors that can contribute to your success today. Your strongest asset, however, is your practicality that makes dreams feasible.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you're trying to negotiate a critical deal today, don't see yourself as the underdog who must beg rather than bargain. Your position is stronger than you think.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Egoistical friends might be difficult for others to handle today, but not you. You'll know how to make them feel superior and special without hurting others.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today could be a day of benign retribution where persons you've previously helped will be eager to square accounts with you. I hope you have a long list of debtors.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Involvements you have with close friends today should please everyone concerned. Each will be protective and supportive of the other.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you are strongly motivated today to overcome barriers and obstacles, you could accomplish something rather extraordinary. Utilize all of your assets boldly.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your chart indicates you may welcome situations today either social or commercial that have pronounced competitive elements. More importantly, you should do well.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your chances for collecting an old debt that's owed you looks very good at this time, provided you don't leave anything up to chance or wishful thinking. Call in your marker.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There's nothing wishy-washy about the way you'll deal with others today. Your position will be clearly defined, yet unabrasively presented.

ATF director plans to retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms — under fire for the ATF's deadly raid on a Texas cult — is retiring just days before the release of a report expected to criticize the agency's handling of the raid.

"Continuing discussions with Treasury departmental officials lead me to believe that the department and I have substantially different views for the future of ATF following the Waco review," Stephen Higgins wrote Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen on Monday.

The officials see the Feb. 28 raid on the Branch Davidian compound near Waco — which killed four agents and a half-dozen cultists and wounded 16 agents — as a reason to change ATF, he wrote.

"In my view, Waco was a tragic event from which all of law enforcement can learn, but I believe that ATF was, and continues to be, an outstanding law enforcement agency," wrote Higgins.

Higgins said that because he disagreed with some of the department's conclusions on Waco and with Bentsen's apparent support of an ATF-FBI merger, he had only two options: reassignment or retirement. He chose the latter, effective Oct. 30.

Treasury Department spokeswomah Joan Logue-Kinder said Higgins, 55, had not yet received a copy of the report on the raid.

Poor tank design blamed for blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials today blamed "dumb design" for the explosion of an underground storage tank that caused an earthquake-sized blast near Brenham, Texas, last year, killing three people.

During a public hearing of the National Transportation Safety Board, senior investigator Charles Batten said a poorly designed safety system failed to warn that the underground storage tank was overfilled.

The system was "filled with opportunities for failure," he said.

Safety board member John Lauber said; "Whoever designed this system should have flunked Engineering 101. It's a dumb design."

The NTSB staff also said operating errors contributed to the accident on April 7, 1992.

Batten said that two warning-system valves that were supposed to be in an open position had been closed manually, presumably by an employee at the facility.

Batten said investigators believe the valves were closed for maintenance a month before the explosion and apparently no one checked to see if they were in the correct open position prior to the blast.

The findings today are preliminary. The five-member board planned to conclude its hearing before voting on the explosion's causes and possible recommendations for improving safety at underground storage facilities.

Ford and GM recall trucks

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. are recalling nearly 1.6 million trucks to fix problems that could cause brake failure and fires.

Ford said Monday that it is recalling 1.2 million 1990-93 F-Series trucks with dual fuel tanks to replace the fuel pressure regulator and install a valve to prevent leaks of gasoline through one of the gas tank covers.

The automaker said it has seven reports of fires that started when gasoline dripped down the side of the vehicle. Ford said it knows of no accidents or injuries as a result.

GM is recalling 76,000 1994 full-size pickups and vans to inspect brake pedal push rod retainers to see that the retainers are in the right position. A retainer out of position could lead to brake failure.

No accidents or injuries have been reported, the automaker said.

GM is also recalling about 300,000 1988-92 full-size four-wheel-drive pickups and certain 1990-92 all-wheel-drive mid-size vans owned by people living in 14 Northeast and Midwest states and two Canadian provinces.

The vehicles have front brake rotors that could separate because of corrosion, causing a loss of braking power. About 70 incidents of rotor separation have been reported, with seven accidents but no injuries, GM said.

Riot police surround parliament

MOSCOW (AP) — Hundreds of armed, helmeted riot police surrounded the Russian parliament today as the government gave hard-liners holed up inside an ultimatum to end their occupation or face a possible assault.

Dozens of guards and volunteers inside the parliament complex piled rocks and manned barricades as commanders barked orders. Russian Orthodox priests in flowing black robes blessed the defenders with crosses.

"Motherland or death," the parliament supporters chanted.

Senior police officers used loudspeakers to announce the ultimatum from President Boris Yeltsin's government, which would expire about 4 a.m. EDT Wednesday.

Some of those inside the parliament, known as the White House, used loudspeakers to urge police to defect, but their appeals were ignored. Both sides stood watching each other in pouring rain.

At least 2,000 riot police were deployed outside parliament, stopping anyone from entering but allowing people inside to leave if they wished. Interior Ministry troops armed with assault rifles ringed the building and grounds.

2 juveniles are arrested

Two juveniles were among three people arrested by police Monday.

Officers were called to a family disturbance in the 900 block of 26th Street at 7:02 p.m. where they arrested a 12-year-old girl for public intoxication. The youth was taken to the police department where she was released to the probation officer. A report for family violence was also submitted.

At 5:13 p.m. Monday, police arrested a 13-year-old boy in the 2200 block of 44th Street for probation violation and being a runaway. He was also released to the probation officer.

Police arrested an 18-year-old woman at 1:24 p.m. in the 500 block of 15th Street on a county warrant for criminal mischief.

At 8:09 a.m. Monday, police were notified that someone had driven on the grass area at Snyder High School. A report for Class B criminal mischief was filed.

Police also took a report for Class B criminal mischief at 9 a.m. after a woman in the 4400 block of Avenue U complained that someone had damaged her door.

A runaway report was filed at 2:25 p.m. for 14-year-old Rita Gonzales, described as having brown hair and brown eyes.

A second runaway report was filed on a 15-year-old girl at 4:15 p.m. At 7:53 p.m. police were notified that she had returned home.

A woman contacted police from the 1900 block of Coleman at 12:32 a.m. today to complain that an intoxicated man had entered her apartment and broken her bedroom window. A report for Class C criminal mischief was filed.
