Litvinoff Believes He and F. D. R. Could Settle Everything In Half Hour

DENIES FIRST SOVIET ENVOY NOW SELECTED

ONE WEEK IN AMERICA SHOULD BE ENOUGH HE OPINES

BERLIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—Maxim Litvinoff believes the problems he will discuss with President Roosevelt in conferences on the American recognition of Russia can "be settled in half an hour."

He refuses to "anticipate future events" but, thinks, however, that "every new relationship established between two nations must to some degree affect the relations of all other countries."

The Soviet foreign commissar, now en route to Washington, broke through the secrecy surrounding him since he was designated Russia's emissary for the recognition conferences, and met American correspondents at the Soviet embassy today shortly after arriving by train from Warsaw.

"I know you expect me to say something, but that's impossible at present," he declared after smilingly shaking hands all around.

"Naturally, I am tremendously pleased at the cordial manner in which the American press of all shades greets the impending conference with Mr. Roosevelt, and I hope this goodwill continues."

He denied reports that the first Russian ambassador to the United States has been chosen, refused to give information about his sailing plans, and expressed the opinion that a week in America should be enough to accomplish his mission.

He was asked about problems he and President Roosevelt will consider and the economic effect of recognition upon the Soviets' economic relations with other nations.

"As far as I am concerned," he replied, "everything could be settled in a half hour."

HOLY LAND IS SEETHING WITH RIOTING ARABS

Britons Attacked As General Strike Declared

JERUSALEM, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Holy Land was in a ferment today as a result of Arab agitation against an increase in Jewish immigration and unrest spread rapidly not only through Palestine but to Trans-Jordan and even to Syria.

In two new clashes in Haifa between police and Arabs one person was killed and 35 injured after violent rioting.

A mob was reported to have stormed a prison in Nablus, Palestine, 30 miles south of Jerusalem, tonight and released prisoners. The tense situation was made worse by the declaration of a general strike by Arabs.

Troops were held in readiness and royal air force planes left Cairo, Egypt, for Palestine, where they can be employed if necessary.

Sections of Haifa today resembled a war zone. A mob of infuriated men, screaming invective against the British administration, attacked both the railway station and the police station.

In both instances police fired on the rioters and wounded a number. No actual disturbances occurred in Jerusalem but authorities made arrests as a precaution against outbreaks.

Sullen, embittered crowds watched funeral processions in Jaffa for those killed in demonstrations yesterday. Officials were alert, although there were no disturbances, fearing that the unrest would flare up there.

'Last Roundup' Is Sung at Funeral Of Texas Cowboy

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—The body of Doc Lucas, 20-year-old cowboy who was fatally injured at the Madison Square Garden rodeo, was started toward home at Belton, Tex., today for burial.

Funeral services were held at the Garden at midnight last night with the Rev. Nathan A. Seagle, Episcopal rector, officiating.

The coffin was placed in the center of the arena not more than 25 feet from the spot in which Lucas was thrown from the bare back of a steer.

Lights were dimmed. Spotlights were played on the coffin. A quartet sang "The Last Roundup."

The cowboys and cowgirls filed past the bier on their horses, the cowboy band playing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You."

PRICE OF $35 A TON IS SET ON RAIL STEEL

NO LOANS TO BE MADE UNLESS BOOKS ARE EXAMINED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—In a brusque ultimatum to America's steel industry to lower its rail prices to $35 a ton or open its books on costs, the administration moved today to protect a segment of its recovery program, the creation of jobs for idle railway workers.

Through Joseph B. Eastman, the federal railroad coordinator, the steel companies were notified that no governmental loans would be made the carriers to buy rails without full examination of their heretofore closed ledgers unless quotations were reduced.

Eastman said in his demand that letters from the steel-makers fixing a uniform price of $37.75 a gross ton at the mills "bear unmistakable evidence of prior consultation and collusion and absence of competition," and left the next move up to the steel interests.

Officials who were instrumental in bringing about conferences with steel spokesmen that led to the bidding kept a close watch on developments, explaining that the outcome would affect a primary point in the work-spreading campaign.

Federal financing of rail purchases by the carriers was advanced as a method of increasing activity in the so-called capital industries and calling back the job thousands of maintenance employees laid off by the railroads, as well as helping the steel business.

Just what it cost to produce a ton of rails appeared an unanswerable question in governmental sources. Some estimates were as low as $20.

Man Confesses In Waco Death After 9 Years

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 28. (AP)—Kenneth L. Combs, 38, known here for eight years past as a mechanic, walked into a Twin Falls police station today and told of being wanted at Clifton, Texas, in connection with the murder there of a Dr. Carpenter about nine years ago.

Within an hour police here had an answer to their wire to Clifton. The sheriff there advised: "Combs is wanted badly," and asked "will he waive extradition?"

On his own request, police said, Combs was held in the city jail. Police said he has expressed readiness to return to Texas.

His first story, according to Chester W. Wise, police magistrate, to whom Combs unburdened himself today, was that Combs was with another man, now serving a prison term for the murder, when the killing occurred. Later Combs told police, he said, that he had been told "the doctor was shot with a .45 caliber army pistol." Combs' statements to police here did not disclose a motive for the murder.

Hartzell Claims Drake Estate Worth Billions

Illness of King George V Caused 'Delay' in Settlement One Time.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 28. (AP)—Exalted personages, far flung properties running to billions of dollars, and memory of sixteenth century adventure figured in testimony today in the trial of Oscar M. Hartzell, promoter of claims to the estate of Sir Francis Drake.

Hartzell is on trial in federal court on charges of using the mails to defraud in collecting large sums, which government attorneys estimated might run as high as $1,300,000, to allegedly further his court fight in England for the property.

The offering of evidence by the prosecution of letters, cablegrams, and bulletins he patterned sent to donors to his fund patterned a romantic background for the auditors in the tiny federal court room.

The documents assured the American participants in Hartzell's alleged claims that settlement of the estate, pictured as of a total value of nearly 22 billions of dollars, was near. Various reasons were offered in them for delay. One time it was the illness of no less a person than King George V; another it was a change in the high office of lord chancellor across the sea.

A transcript of a conversation, government counsel asserted took place between Scotland Yard operatives and the promoter during his stay in England, purporting to press claim to the 16th century sea-rover's property, was placed in the record.

Replying to a question as to what court he was then seeking to establish claim to the estate—embracing reputedly Oregon redwood forests, Egyptian cotton fields and 22 square blocks of valuable London real estate—Hartzell told them it was "higher than any court."

ICKES AROUSES 'INDIAN TERRITORY' MEN

Secretary Quoted As Wanting To Move 40,000 Sooners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Anger stirred some members of the Oklahoma congressional delegation today because of a statement attributed to Secretary Ickes that the drought-stricken area of the state should be turned back to the public domain.

Representative Marland (D., Okla.), said Ickes made the statement in telling him there was no hope for administration approval of any of the dam projects in the area.

Marland quoted Ickes as saying the government contemplated moving 40,000 persons from the area, perhaps to some point along the all-American canal in California.

"It's preposterous," he added, to newspapermen, pointing out families had lived there and made their living for decades and that the drought was only during the last

ROBBER GANG CAPTURED IN DALLAS RAID

Believe Two Identified Men Were Hired By Another To Loot West Bank.

WEST, Tex., Oct. 28. (AP)—Two of three men held in jail at Waco tonight were definitely identified as members of the robber gang which tied up two National bank examiners, two RFC officials and a cashier last night and escaped with $1,600 in silver from the National Bank of West.

The three men were arrested today in Dallas by Sheriff R. A. Schmidt and deputies there and were returned to Waco by Sheriff W. B. Mobley of McLennan county. Sheriff Mobley said tonight the arrest of a fourth man tomorrow was expected. He said the third man arrested had not been definitely connected with the robbery.

Investigators said they believed the men who participated in the robbery were hired by another man to carry out the holdup while he took no active part.

A steel crowbar and a canvas tarpaulin found at the Dallas home of one of the men arrested were identified as articles used in the holdup last night.

Retail Code To Go Into Effect Monday Morning

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Amid the flurry over Henry Ford's status under NRA, the recovery agency went on today towards its mass mobilization of industry by proposing a way for all trades to agree upon banishing unfair competitive practices.

Simultaneously, to get into operation Monday morning the retail code, its biggest single step, would be a series of interpretations, reduced to simplest terms so that every storekeeper might get the requirements of the compact straight without delay.

The Ford case subsided after yesterday's crackling statements that the Dearborn magnate would be prosecuted promptly if he failed to comply with the automobile code. Hugh S. Johnson had nothing to say on the subject.

The next NRA problem, the captive mine situation, was at the White House. President Roosevelt has summoned leaders of the steel industry, which owns these mines, to his office Monday for an accounting on his demand made three weeks ago that they work out immediately an agreement with the employees of the coal mines, they control.

Farley Attitude On McKee Race Expected Soon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Whether Postmaster General Farley will publicly put in as for Joseph V. McKee, candidate for mayor of New York, today became a lively topic of speculation in the capital.

Even his best friends admitted that the demand of Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, that McKee forces refrain from using the Blue Eagle insignia in his campaign had put the postmaster general, the political generalissimo of the administration, in something of a different situation and they speculated as eagerly as anybody else upon what he would do about it.

Although the White House has reiterated that it was "hands off" in the New York political campaign, and Farley answered all questions about his interest in the situation with another lick at his gun or talk about the straight flush he held that cost L. W. Robert, assistant secretary of the treasury, $100, nobody has pretended that administration circles were not interested keenly in the situation that has developed there.

The administration has been aware, too, that McKee has been drawing closer to it within the past week and that Florella LaGuardia, his toughest opponent, has been asking "who authorized you to tie up your campaign with the president?"

2500 BARREL REDUCTION IS LATEST ORDER

PANHANDLE LIMITED TO 42,000 BARREL MAXIMUM

Panhandle daily crude oil production will be limited to a maximum of 42,000 barrels daily, effective Monday, it was learned by THE NEWS last night. The 2,500-barrel cut was less than had been anticipated. The local office of the railroad commission last night began preparation of a new operation schedule, which will be ready early this week.

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—An emergency order was issued today limiting production from Texas petroleum reserves to 875,000 barrels daily starting at 7 a. m. Monday. The state now is operating under a Texas commission allowable of 957,555 barrels daily, although the allowable as fixed by Harold I. Ickes, federal oil administrator is 965,000 barrels.

The order stated the commission had found that the "reasonable market demand for oil from Texas to be certified by Ickes and has undertaken to restrict production in a manner to prevent waste."

At the time the cut was ordered by Commissioners C. V. Terrell and Ernest C. Thompson, however, they stated it was to be made to avert federal intervention in regulation of oil production in Texas.

Ickes has repeatedly complained that Texas production has been in excess of the federal allowable and has stated that the output must be brought within the allotment fixed by him by November 1 or the federal government would take drastic action. Texas production has been between 35,000 and 40,000 barrels daily above the allowable.

The order further stated "it now appears by certificate from Secretary Ickes and from other facts of common knowledge that the reasonable market demand for oil from Texas will be approximately 875,000 barrels daily during November."

East Texas, long a sore spot of the national oil industry, was given the deepest cut. The commission ordered East Texas production restricted to 5.75 per cent of the average hourly potential. Under the present order East Texas is allowed seven per cent of its hourly potential. The production in barrels will be from 466,633 to slightly less than 400,000 barrels daily.

A reduction of 22,025 barrels of the Gulf Coast allowable was ordered and the remainder of the production was spread over the rest of the fields with the exception of west central Texas and north Texas. The west central allowable was not changed while north Texas was given a 7,500 barrel increase.

Simultaneous with issuance of the order, the commission gave notice of a state-wide pronouncement hearing in Austin November 9.

BADGERS IN TIE

ROSWELL, N. M., Oct. 28. (AP)—A flashing Bronco aerial attack in the final seven minutes of play and a burst of offensive power turned a certain defeat into a 7-7 tie here today in a bitterly fought battle between the Amarillo Junior college and New Mexico Military Institute.

LOVE DESTROYS FEAR: There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.—1 John 4:18.

Wheat Regulations
 Attention of newspapers in wheat communities is being called to the fact that some persons are taking unlawful advantage of the agricultural adjustment act as it applies to the processing tax on wheat.

The act provides that no tax shall be required to be paid on the processing of an commodity by or for the producer thereof for consumption by his own family, employees, or household. But many persons are buying wheat from elevators in some communities and taking it to the millers under the claim they grew it.

The federal act provides that only the farmer producing the wheat may sign the affidavits at the mill to escape the processing tax. Another violation is that some farmers have their wheat ground at the mill to sell to other persons. This is as illegal as the other subterfuge.

Farmers who value farm relief are jeopardizing it when they violate its provisions. We trust that farmers of this territory will be watchful to prevent violation of the law meant to benefit them.

Function of the Press

A free, democratic people must always keep in mind their "stake" in the maintenance of an unfettered press. This quotation is a propos:

"At no time in the history of the United States has the education of the public in national and international affairs been so essential as during the recent period of depression and the present cycle of reconstruction. Although imperative in time of war and ignored in normal times, the education of the citizens of a democracy in the problems and policies of government becomes a major function during economic, financial, and social crises. As the press is the chief impartial and uncontrolled agency for the distribution of information its responsibilities are evident.

"During the first three years of the depression, when the United States was without a central recognized or trusted public authority, the press fulfilled the exacting task of leadership. Individual editors and newspapers in thousands of communities throughout the land maintained local opinion on an even keel, exercised a salutary influence upon popular emotion and made available news and views until public opinion expressed the national will at the ballot box.

"Following the election in November and until the inauguration of President Roosevelt the press continued to serve as the balance wheel of the nation, facing each new crisis with a calm determination to print the news tempered only by the editor's responsibility in a national emergency for the public effect of the printed word.

"With the reestablishment of centralized leadership in Washington, the press gave the new administration complete news and editorial cooperation. Throughout the bank holidays and during the time Congress was in session, the press placed patriotism above partisan interests and selfish motives."—Carl W. Ackerman, Columbia University.

Quoting Hugh Johnson

A nationwide appeal to business men to advertise to promote business recovery was made recently by General Hugh Johnson:

In order to increase sales at the present moment, we believe that two courses of action are absolutely essential:

1. GIVE THE PUBLIC ATTRACTIVE, UP-TO-DATE MERCHANDISE, FAIRLY PRICED.

If the public is to be induced to buy in profit-producing quantities, it must be attracted by products obviously superior to their present possessions.

During the past four years, as you know, many manufacturers have felt it wiser to withhold from the market new and improved merchandise, in the belief that the public lacked the buying power and the inclination to absorb it.

Now, as we have indicated, buying power is being restored, and fear is passing. The time has arrived for the manufacturer to place these products before the public.

2. AGGRESSIVELY PROMOTE YOUR PRODUCTS TO THE PUBLIC.

There is no longer any reasonable doubt that the public is beginning to shop again, and to look toward replacements for its worn-out possessions.

American industry must help the public to find the goods it needs.

The modern method is advertising. The American public looks to advertising for NEWS of good merchandise and good values.

There has never been a time when the public was so alert for news, as now. Events have moved so rapidly that people would be completely ignorant of what is going on if they did not closely follow the press.

This tremendous public interest in NEWS can be capitalized by American industry. And the way to do it is to place the news about a good value or a good product side by side with the other news of the world.

These conclusions have been reached as a result of an exhaustive nation-wide study of present conditions, and with the generous cooperation of some of the foremost merchandising authorities in the country. I have been able here to give them to you only in their broader aspects. Within a few days I shall take the liberty of sending you an outline of a more detailed program which I believe will interest you.

Very sincerely yours,
 HUGH S. JOHNSON
 National Recovery Administrator.

Insurance Man Held in Many 'Heart Attacks'

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28. (AP)—A trail of deaths, originally ascribed in part to heart ailments, was under investigation today by the district attorney's office in the case of Alfred L. Cline, insurance man of Glendale, Calif.

Cline, arrested a week ago, is being held at San Bernardino on a charge of grand theft in connection with the robbery of a Los Angeles man, Martin Frame, 60, who said he had become drugged after drinking a glass of buttermilk given him by Cline. In quantities of a hypnotic drug and also of a swift acting poison were found in the possession of Cline when he was arrested, San Bernardino county officers said.

The deaths under investigation include those of Cline's wife, Mrs. Bessie Van Sickle Cline; her brother, Lucas Brandt McCreary; the Rev. E. F. Jones, English evangelist, and Mrs. Carrie May Porter. The death of the latter at Reno, Nev., two years ago was brought into the investigation today.

Wheeler Man Is Pardoned By 'Ma'

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—One full pardon, two conditional pardons and one general parole were authorized today by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson for Texas convicts.

Rush Taylor, Hardeman county, convicted of burglary in March, 1932, and sentenced to three years was issued the full pardon.

Conditional pardons were issued to Tommie Watkins, McLennan county, burglary and theft, three years, convicted in November, 1932, and Clarence Pryor, Wheeler county, murder, 15 years, convicted in May, 1932.

Joe Ferguson, Rusk county, convicted in February, 1933, of murder and sentenced to five years, was issued a general parole.

The band members after being guests of the college for lunch in the cafeteria, came back to Pampa to play at the Pampa-Plainview game. The director left the rank to direct the band as it played for both grandstands.

Many local school teachers and citizens went to Canyon for homecoming activities Friday evening and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Miss Madge Rusk, and Olin E. two years.

Meanwhile, Representative Johnson (D., Okla.), said he took the matter up with President Roosevelt today.

The president, he said, assured him of his esteem for Oklahoma and added he was certain Ickes had made no such remark with serious intentions.

Johnson said: "It seems the gentleman is feeling his oats since he came from Chicago to Washington. And regardless of what Mr. Ickes thinks of Oklahomans, they compare very favorably with his Chicago machine-gunners."

Would Call Out Guard
 OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 28. (AP)—Oklahoma's entire National Guard will be called out by Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray if Secretary Ickes attempts to move Oklahomans from the drought-stricken northwestern section of the state, the governor said tonight.

"As long as 5,000 National Guards can maintain quarters in Oklahoma, they won't move one damn man out of this state," the governor declared emphatically.

Gaping Hole Torn in U. S. Cruiser by Collision

With three officers dead and a gaping hole, 40 feet wide, torn in her prow, the U. S. cruiser Chicago limped into Mare Island navy yard in San Francisco Bay after a collision with a British freighter. Damage is shown above, where the prow of the freighter plowed through armor plate to almost amidships and scraped one of the guns, pictured near top. A "ghost ship" is sought, officers declaring that it loomed out of thick fog to throw the cruiser off her course, into the collision.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

SYNOPSIS: Caroline Leigh just has heard Susie Van Berg declare that she has caused the attempted murder of Elmer Van Berg by making Elmer jealous of Jim Randal, friend of Susie, and the man Caroline loves. Jim is in hiding, his memory lost, because evidence seems to point in his having shot Elmer and stolen the famous Van Berg emeralds. But Caroline knows Jim could not have done such a thing. She encourages Susie Van Berg to continue her story.

Chapter 35

MRS. VAN BERG'S STORY

"I must tell someone. It just goes on and on in my head all the time. I don't sleep, you know."

"You can tell me—I'm safe," said Caroline. And then as soon as she had said it, she had a revulsion of feeling. "No, don't tell me—don't!"

"Don't tell me anything! Because if you did it, and they thought it was Jim, I should have to tell them."

Susie shook her head again. "It wasn't like that. What did you think? I didn't shoot Elmer—I did not mean that. Did you think I did?"

"I don't know. I didn't want you to tell me anything you'd feel sorry about afterwards."

"I must tell someone," said Susie piteously. "If I don't I'll go crazy."

She broke off with a start. "Look out of that door and see there's no one listening."

Caroline opened the door and looked out. There was no one in sight. The contrast between the room and the passage was extreme. The air was cold. Against an uncurtained window about three yards away the rain was beating. An ink cloud hung like a curtain across the sky. It was so dark that the sun might have set already.

She went back to the sofa and sat down. "There's no one there."

And at once, without any preliminaries, Susie Van Berg said: "Jim shot Elmer."

"No," said Caroline. "No!"

"Jim shot him. It was my fault—I made Elmer jealous. You know I can't help flirting—I'm made that way. What did Elmer marry me for if he didn't like it? It made him mad, and you know the way it is—I liked making him mad. But he ought to have known there was nothing in it."

Caroline heard her voice, harsh and unfamiliar.

"Wasn't there anything in it?"

"Only nonsense, and Jim would not even play up to that. He was so fond of Elmer. There was an invention they both thought a lot of. That's what Jim came to see him about that night. Did you know he was here the night Elmer was shot?"

Caroline nodded. "What happened?"

"Did you read what I told the police? I didn't tell any lies, but I didn't tell all the truth. They'd have arrested Jim straight away if I had."

"What didn't you tell?"

"I told them I went downstairs to get a book, and heard voices in the study. I didn't tell them that it was Jim's voice I heard."

"What did you hear?"

"They were quarreling—that's why I listened. I heard Elmer say, 'I'm through with you!' And I heard Jim say, 'I'm damned if I'll be spoken to like that!'"

"Was that all?"

"No, it wasn't. Jim said, 'you take that back!' and then Elmer got up—I heard his chair scrape along the floor and he came towards the door and I thought how angry he'd be if he found me there, and I ran away."

"Jim never shot Mr. Van Berg," said Caroline. "Jim isn't a thief. The person who shot Mr. Van Berg is the person who stole the emeralds."

Susie Van Berg put her hand to her head. She spoke in a weak, exhausted voice.

"I don't mind about the emeralds—he shot Elmer. And I tore the page with his finger-prints out of Elmer's book. I knew if the police found it out they would arrest him, so I tore it out. She sat bolt upright, her hands locked upon her knees. "I tore it out, but I didn't tear it all. Do you know where he is? If you do, tell me, please?"

75th Birthday Of Theodore Roosevelt Is Observed Today

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 28. (AP)—To a big house where a woman in black lives there came Friday messages from far and near—for it was the 75th anniversary of the birth of the late Theodore Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt, the widow of the former president, who died in 1919, spent the day quietly, receiving the tokens of remembrance and devotion. Heading a delegation in an annual pilgrimage to the hillside grave, Brig. Gen. Lucius R. Holbrook planned to place on the grave a wreath sent by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The nation celebrated navy day today—because Theodore Roosevelt was such a strong supporter of the navy.

KILLER RETURNS

MARSHALL, N. C., Oct. 28. (AP)—Bronzed and looking years younger than his age, James Lunsford, a 38-year-old Louisiana rancher was back in his native hills today to face a murder charge from which he fled 33 years ago. Surrendering at the sheriff's office yesterday, Lunsford announced that he was wanted for the fatal shooting of his cousin, Bud Lunsford, in 1900. "I know I was justified," he was quoted as saying, "but I just wanted to get this thing cleared up, and get it off my mind."

Jim Weaver, former Centenary college star, has been appointed head football coach at Wake Forest college, succeeding Pat Miller.

a feeling that someone else's company would be pleasant. She could say that she had lost her way in the passages.

She went up to the level of the door, and as she lifted her hand to knock, the light of another flash flicked up from behind her and below, and a crash more violent than either of the others followed. Urged by a blind instinct for shelter, Caroline opened the door.

She was inside the door and leaning against the jamb with the door shut behind her before the second crack of thunder came. She could not have moved to save her life. She was in the room, but she could not see it at all, because a four-leafed screen covered the door, and panel being flat against the wall on her left, while the other three zig-zagged out from it at an angle.

Caroline had taken about three steps, when, in the room on the other side of the screen, someone spoke.

"Do you think it's going over?" Caroline stood still just where she was. She had only heard that voice once before, but she would have known it anywhere. It was Nests Riddell who had spoken. (Copyright 1933, J. B. Lippincott Co.)

Tomorrow, Caroline witnesses a mysterious scene.

Girl Scout Week Reveals Growth of Troops

PROGRAMS TO BE PRESENTED THROUGH WEEK

MEMBERSHIP IS FOUR TIMES THAT OF LAST SPRING

CELEBRATION of National Girl Scout week beginning today gives Pampa troops an opportunity to call public attention to growth of the organization here. Members claim it as the fastest growing group in the city.

Last May there were 23 National Girl Scouts here. Now the membership is four times that figure. Miss Opal Cox, captain, and Miss Madge Rusk, lieutenant, are leaders of the Scouts. Miss Beth Blythe is an assistant, and was in charge thru the summer.

The Kiwanis club has accepted sponsorship of the organization.

Reasons for Growth.

Reasons for the rapid growth are given as follows by the leaders: "The first reason is, with a community to the Boy Scouts, that the community is sold on scouting. We find hearty cooperation and support on every hand. The community is happy to have its girls enrolled in an organization whose aim is to train for better citizenship through education and development of character combined with joy of living.

"Second, the sponsoring club and individual members appreciate the needs of the Scouts and render services daily. One of the latest gifts of the Kiwanis club was window shades for the Scout room.

Gifts For Troops.

"Many individual members have made gifts. We acknowledge gifts of a first aid kit from A. G. Post, lumber for benches in the Scout room from Mr. Lang of the Tulsa Rig and Reel company, and a phonograph and records from Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Will.

"Each troop committee is composed of members from the sponsoring organization and mothers of the girls.

"The third reason for rapid growth is the suitable and well located meeting room. We thank the school for permission to establish quarters in the northwest room of the high school cafeteria."

"Girl Scout week will be observed with daily programs, beginning with the Scouts' own meeting this afternoon at 3. Programs for each day of the week are to be announced by Miss Cox Monday.

Hallowe'en Party Given at Horace Mann By P-T. A.

Black cats, owls, witches, and skeletons decorated the auditorium of Horace Mann school Friday evening when teachers and a number of parents were entertained at the Parent-Teacher association's annual Hallowe'en party.

Mrs. H. V. Patterson opened the program by introducing teachers with clever rhymes composed for the occasion.

Clyde Riley read two numbers. A solo, "Take Care of Our Boys," was sung by A. B. Hinkle. Miss Hermina Stover played several piano numbers.

A number of games were played, then in a darkened room the disembodied remains of the proverbial Hallowe'en ghost were passed for inspection.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

Stitch-Chatter Club Has Party

Mrs. Farris Oden was hostess to the Stitch and Chatter club at her home Friday afternoon, when Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. R. Earl O'Keefe was a guest.

Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served after an informal work hour. Members present were Mesdames Clifford Jones, Ralph Jones, Marvin Harris, H. C. McKiff, J. M. Hatfield, and L. N. Atchison.

Philharmonic Choir Will Meet Again in The School Building

The Philharmonic Choir will meet again this week at junior high school building. Revival services are being conducted at the First Baptist church, regular meeting place.

All members are asked to be prompt, as the meeting will start at 8 o'clock Tuesday.

CLASS TO BE REORGANIZED

The sophomore girls' class of the Methodist young people's department will be reorganized Sunday with Mrs. Charles Dunkel as teacher. It was announced by A. L. Patrick, department superintendent. All girls of that class are asked to be present.

FEATHERS AND OTHER TRIMMING GIVE 1934 FROCKS CHIC TOUCHES

Worth makes this dinner costume of a shimmering ribbed beige velvet. The wide shoulder line is trimmed with a fringe of feathered coque feathers (right). The high-necked jacket wrap buttons in the back with diamante buttons and is held in place with a diamante clasp belt. Blue fox bands the sleeves.

By RITA FERRIS (Associated Press Fashion Editor) PARIS (AP)—Trimming is a striking tale in the 1934 winter fashions launched by Worth.

Feathers in the shape of a fringe or a flower, sparkling brass buttons and diamante belts trim the rich velvets and satins which build the evening mode. Satin and velvet buttons and bows ornament afternoon frocks; fur sleeves appear on wool ensembles.

One of the most striking frocks in the collection, worn by the blond French actress, Jeanne Aubert, is a dinner gown of pink satin which has a tiny cluster of pink rosebuds

TOPICS SUGGESTED BY SPONSORS FOR EDUCATION WEEK, NOV. 6-12

Meeting Emergency Of Education Is Theme

Mrs. J. M. Crain, Claude, State Publicity Director

The observance of the thirteenth annual American education week, November 6-12, 1933, will be focused upon the maintenance of free and universal education as a cherished American ideal.

Thousands of young people who have been denied the birthright of free education are now roaming the highways of the country. This fall many recruits were added to this vast horde of neglected boys and girls because the schools these idle children should have attended, were closed on account of economic conditions.

The annual observance of American education week has fully proved its worth by bringing the school and the home together in the interest of childhood. Through this occasion many homes will be reached in Texas. Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers through its local units has stressed and particularly stresses this time the valuable opportunity to interpret the importance of schooling to the parents and the citizens.

Commission Approves

Meeting the emergency in education is the theme chosen for the 1933 program. The three sponsors of this special week are the National Education Association. The

Pie Is Good On Hallowe'en And Other Fall Days

Pies are so good that we often forget how they can be. Here is the itemized bill for one pie that will yield six generous slices: Less than 2 cents for flour, a fraction of 1 cent for lard, a little water, which costs nothing, and there, for two and a half cents, you have the makings of the pie crust. Five cents worth of pumpkin, 2 cents worth of butter, and 1 cent for sugar, 2 cents for eggs, something less than 2 cents for sugar and spice—add these figures to the cost of the crust and you have for 15 cents the makings of a pumpkin pie for supper on Hallowe'en.

Still cheaper and scarcely less appropriate for festive or Hallowe'en parties is an apple pie—and if you put some very thin slices of cheese (or grated cheese) over the top just before you take this pie out of the oven, and leave it long enough to melt the cheese, you have an extraordinarily tempting pie to serve hot—and hot fruit pies are super-good.

At this time of year there is another nice pie—a green tomato pie—which should be very cheap in any part of the country where tomatoes are plentiful.

To be at their best, pies should, of course, be served in a right combination with other foods, according to the particular kind of pie. For instance, the rest of the meal should not be too heavy with starch and fat, for you have both of these food materials in the pie crust. If you are following the suggestions of the Bureau of Home Economics for a low-cost balanced diet, you would serve a green vegetable or a yellow one every day. But you would not serve pumpkin pie the day you serve carrots or Hubbard squash or sweet potato for dinner. The pumpkin is not only like the squash and sweet potato in texture and color, but is also a source of vitamin A for which all three of the yellow vegetables are useful. With pumpkin pie baked white potatoes would be good, with shredded raw cabbage for crispness and for its vitamin C. Or a curry or lamb or veal meat ring, after a tomato cocktail.

MEETING

United States office of education, and the American Legion. These organizations have sought the approval of the joint commission in selecting this theme. The joint commission on the emergency in education, which the organized teaching profession established, is acting as a board of strategy in the present crisis.
Each community is asked to adapt the observance to its own needs. Topics suggested for the day-by-day program are listed as follows: The increased responsibilities of the schools is the subject to be discussed for Monday, November 6. The growth of education in United States, the great increases in school attendance in recent years, the per capita cost of instruction and operation in high school where the heaviest increase in enrollment is encountered, and the development of new curricula and new methods paralleling progress in other fields, will be emphasized.

School at 49c a Day
Financial support of the schools is the principal topic for Tuesday, November 7. Forty-nine cents is the average expense of keeping a child in school for one day. The increased cost of education has been due to the decrease in purchasing power of the dollar, the increase of school attendance, and the enrichment of school services to meet the needs of a progressive society.

For Wednesday, November 8, what citizens may do to protect the schools, the subject given. Proposed tax reforms, new sources of revenue, equalization of school support over wider areas, the plans for deferring less essential public services, will be discussed.

School and Democracy
The schools and reconstruction for Friday, November 10, will be presented showing how schools contribute to economic security, higher standards of living, and increased skills and knowledge.

For Saturday, November 11, the schools and loyalty to the nation is the central subject. The school is ourselves working together in the education of our children. It is the greatest gift of democracy to civilization. The schools teach respect for constituted authority, the necessity for obedience to law, honor to the flag, all of which will be discussed.

Safeguarding character essentials, stressing the point that the school is building character in the child by helping him to achieve physical, mental, and spiritual fitness; by encouraging him to observe the principles of good behavior; by offering the opportunity to develop the qualities of honesty, generosity, dependability, and courage; by maintaining that the supreme objective of education and of life is good character.

Newton D. Baker, an elder statesman and political philosopher, states: "the hope of the future in the United States and the world lies in the field of real education for the people who are governed. The success attained in our democracy so far may be traced largely to the public school system, one of the

What is true of fruit pies is true also of dumplings, cobbiers, and shortcakes, and these may be cheap or expensive according to the kind of fruit, the amount of sugar, and the kind of sauce. But none is cheaper, probably, than apple dumplings, or peach dumplings (using canned or dried peaches) and many people think that, if size or cost, there is no sauce better than brown sugar sauce.

Apple Pie with Melted Cheese
4 to 6 tart apples (more if small); double if small green apples). Pastry.
Three-fourths cup sugar.
One-fourth teaspoon cinnamon.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
2 tablespoons butter.

Add the top sheet of pastry. Put the pie in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees Fahrenheit for 10 minutes, lower the temperature to more moderate heat, 375 Fahrenheit, and bake the pie for 30 to 35 minutes, or until the apples are tender and the crust is golden brown.

After the pie is baked, lay thin slices of cheese or grated cheese over the top, and put in a very moderate oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit, until the cheese melted. Serve at once while cheese is warm. Either a freshly baked or a cold pie may be prepared in this way.

Pumpkin or Squash Pie
One and a half cups cooked pumpkin or squash.
One cup milk.
Half cup sugar.

One teaspoon cinnamon.
Half teaspoon allspice.
Fourth teaspoon mace.
Half teaspoon salt.
One egg.
Two tablespoons butter.

Heat the pumpkin or squash, sugar, milk, spices, and salt in a double boiler, add the beaten eggs and butter, and mix well. Pour the hot filling into a deep baked pastry shell, and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees Fahrenheit, about 30 minutes, or until the filling sets.

Green Tomato Pie
Six medium-sized green tomatoes.
Two tablespoons water.
Half lemon, sliced.
Two tablespoons cornstarch.
One cup sugar.
Eighth teaspoon salt.
Fourth teaspoon cinnamon.

Wash the tomatoes, remove stem and the blossom ends, and cut into thin slices. Cook the tomato, water, and lemon until the tomatoes are almost tender and drain. When the tomato liquid has cooled add the cornstarch, which has been mixed with the sugar and salt, and cook until thickened. Add the tomatoes, cinnamon, and butter, and mix thoroughly. Pour the hot mixture into a baked pastry shell, and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit for about 30 minutes, or until golden brown.

In the OIL FIELDS

Gray county got two new producers last week in the Bell Oil and Gas company's No. 1-D Webb in the eastern part of the county and Cree and Hoover's No. 2 Barrett south of Pampa. The two wells appeared good for a total production of more than 1,100 barrels.

Two new locations were made during the week and two more wells are being deepened. Several wells in the field are drilling near production.

The Bell Oil and Gas well was deepened from 2,571 feet to 2,625 feet for the increased production. The well was producing about 135 barrels a day from top production, but the first few hours in deepened pay increased its flow to 60 barrels an hour. When the well was placed on five-day test Friday it was making better than 30 barrels an hour. The well is in the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 61, block 25.

Cree and Hoover's well in section 11, block 3, was shot with 25 quarts Thursday afternoon from 3,125 to 3,233 feet. Cleaning out was started and when placed on the swab yesterday, it made 123 barrels the first seven hours. Pay is coming from the Dolomite formation.

Cree and Hoover has made a location on the Cole lease for a direct offset. The J. M. Dodson No. 1 Meers, also an offset, is drilling ahead.

Bell Oil and Gas made a new location for its No. 1-P D'Spain section 52, block 25, Wheeler county. The rig is on the ground.

Frank Hartman is spending the week-end visiting his parents in Enid, Oklahoma.

What Makes Them "Like" CERTAIN STORES?

Why do people prefer some stores to others? It's not always the quality of the merchandise, the price or the service. Possibly they themselves could not tell the reason for their preference. Maybe it is because they feel comfortable and at home in these stores. A glow of soft warm light invites them to come in and urges them to come again. They do not stop to analyze why they like well-lighted stores—they may not notice the lighting at all. In fact, a good lighting system is never noticed... that is why it is good... But they do come back and purchase with confidence—where they can see the merchandise.

PLAINVIEW TAKES ADVANTAGE OF LUCKY BREAKS BUT HARVESTERS WIN 6-0

Arkansas Beats S. M. U. First Time In 11 Years; Aggies Down Baylor 14-7

ANY THREATS OF LOCALS TO SCORE VANISH

EJUENATED VISITORS FURNISH PLENTY OF TROUBLE

Every inch the vastly improved team with the powerful line and fast backfield heralded before the contest, the Plainview Bulldogs came down yesterday and held the Harvesters to 6-0 in what was obviously the locals' "off day." It was an important conference title.

A fumble by Marbaugh and a blocked punt kept the Harvesters in trouble in the first quarter, despite the fact that they gained the most yards. Both teams gained freely in the second quarter, which closed with no scoring in the first half.

The third quarter was Pampa's, though the locals seemed minus scoring punch after pressing repeatedly near the Plainview goal. A fumble by Marbaugh and a blocked punt kept the Harvesters in trouble in the first quarter, despite the fact that they gained the most yards. Both teams gained freely in the second quarter, which closed with no scoring in the first half.

A fumble by Marbaugh and a blocked punt kept the Harvesters in trouble in the first quarter, despite the fact that they gained the most yards. Both teams gained freely in the second quarter, which closed with no scoring in the first half.

Sandies "Off," Too

On Friday night in Canyon, the marillo Sandies also had a narrow escape, winning over the Teachers 25 to 19, after trailing 13-0 in the first quarter. The Teachers team is made up largely of former Class B griders.

Plainview failed to get inside the 20-yard line but nevertheless threatened when Sherley and Winston broke through the Harvesters line in Pampa territory.

Fair of Hustlers

Orville Heiskell and Lloyd Hamilton carried the yardage in the Harvesters attack. They sliced off the gains and many short plunges, anyway, also played a nice offensive game, playing from a deep formation. Bert Stevens failed to get going but played a stellar blocking unit. Buck Mundy, J. R. Green, Oscoe Pinnell, and Bill Haner were always in the Harvesters line, battling nearly on even terms with the Harvesters.

Punts were exchanged and Pampa had the ball on Plainview's 45-yard line with a yard to go and fourth down when Hamilton elected to try for a first down and failed. A ball going to Plainview, Sherley tried through for 8 yards and followed with a 15-yard plunge. Pampa held as the ball was on her own 5-yard line at the quarter.

Dunaway, Marbaugh and Hamilton started a march goalward but Hamilton held and Marbaugh's punt was blocked on the 50-yard line. Plainview then booted to the 15-yard line, but on the next play Marbaugh muffed the pass from center and Stevens recovered on the 8-yard line. Dunaway saved the day with a beautiful yard punt into the wind. Heiskell lined 15 yards on a run that saw him slip in the end zone. Dunaway added 10 yards, but on the next play Lowry intercepted a Pampa pass on his 49-yard line. Plainview made two first downs and was on a march when the half ended.

A Pretty "Break"

The Harvesters got a real break in the kick-off when Patton smothered the ball on Plainview's 29-yard line after it had hit Lowry on the 10-yard line and bounced 15 yards. Dunaway gained two yards and Marbaugh followed with three. Stevens, when his interference failed to take out a man, Dunaway then topped the pass from center, and it was 5 yards. The ball going over.

Back at 'Em

It was then the Harvesters started their march for a touchdown. Hamilton made 11 yards on a spin-ner. Heiskell followed with a run of 17 yards through the line. Heiskell added 5 yards and Hamilton added 10 more to place the ball on the 5-yard line. Heiskell carried over on a slicing drive. Green's kick was wide.

TROY'S FALL SEEMED CERTAIN UNTIL 'MIGHTY MITE' SCOOTED

Warburton Dodges, Swerves, Cuts, Squeezes In Last Quarter For Touchdown.

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 28. (AP)—A Trojan "Will o' the Wisp" known as Irvin Warburton popped out of a tangle of arms and legs today to dash sixty yards to the goal and bring a 6 to 3 victory for Southern California over California's Bears.

Seventy thousand wildly cheering fans had sat through three full periods and five minutes of the final quarter on what appeared destined to be an amazing reversal of form and the first defeat of the Trojan forces in 27 games. The Bears were battling their traditional football foes on better than even terms by the margin of a field goal scored by Arleigh Williams, sub halfback, in the first period.

The downfall of last year's national mythical champion and two year holder of the Pacific coast conference title, seemed imminent. With a suddenness that left Bear supporters speechless, the picture changed. Down on the slippery turf, the "mighty mite" of far western gridiron clutched the pigskin. It was a cutback play—Warburton headed toward the right. His cleats dug in and he was off toward the left. A hole opened in the line. The "big boys" of the Trojan ranks couldn't have squeezed through, but it was made to order for the "scout."

Warburton swerved and dodged. Half a dozen eager Bear tacklers clutched at the little fellow. He seemed more slippery than a greased pig. Out in the open, the Trojan quarterback fairly flew. The Bears in pursuit had no chance against a player who is a good quarter-mile.

Larry Stevens failed to kick the goal on the try for point, but Southern California's remarkable string of games without defeat had been raised to 27.

Captains of City League Will Meet

Captains of teams that will roll in the City Bowling league are to meet at 8 o'clock Monday night in the Pampa Bowling alleys. Rules and regulations will be drawn up and officers elected at the meeting, which will be brief because most of the Commercial league rules will be used, it was agreed at a preliminary meeting last week.

Six teams have already entered the league and it may be that two more teams will enter before the season starts. Team captains have been asked to have their rosters ready to file with the president.

HORNED FROGS OUTPLAYED IN SCORELESS TIE

CENTENARY GENTLEMEN SCORE TOUCHDOWN BUT LOSE IT

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 28. (AP)—The University of Arkansas cast a long shadow over the hopes of Southern Methodist university to win the Southwest conference football championship by whipping the Mustangs, 3 to 0, today with a last quarter field goal.

The winning points in the Razorbacks' first victory over an S. M. U. team in 11 years resulted from a 69-yard dash by George Jordan, which placed the ball on the Methodist 11-yard line. Evlin Geiser then booted the ball high between the posts and over the bar. Capt. Fagua protested the field goal but Referee Alvin Bell ruled it was good.

The Arkansas victory was the third in as many games in the 1933 conference season and left the Razorbacks ahead of the field with a perfect percentage. Until today's reversal, Southern Methodist also had been undefeated in conference competition.

With only one minute to play, Smith opened a pass barrage but the Porker aerial defense was perfect. The Mustangs attempted 27 aeriels and completed 11 for a total gain of 150 yards while three were intercepted. Newby, Arkansas center, was instrumental principally in breaking up the S. M. U. passes. The Porkers completed one pass out of six tries for 23 yards.

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 28. (AP)—An estimated crowd of seven thousand persons saw the Texas A. & M. Aggies win a 14 to 7 wide open, dramatic football game today from the Baylor Bears who finished the game with a desperate, chilling aerial raid on the Aggies 24-yard line.

Bears Beat Seives

It was the Aggies first conference victory in two starts. It was Baylor's second consecutive conference defeat and virtually eliminated the Bears from the championship marathon.

The Bears had themselves to blame for the defeat. Failure to handle a pass from center in the third period allowed the ball to roll to their four yard line where the Aggies recovered and scored the winning marker.

Today's scrap was crammed with action. It was a rough and tough going from the first to the final period. Where the Aggie line failed to charge low and hard against Texas Christian last week, it was in the mire and muck of today's battle with a thundering attack that completely smothered Baylor's ground and aerial attack. The Aggie front wall was so solid it held the Bears to a mere 36-yards on running plays and tossed Baylor luggers for 23 yards in losses. The Aggies gained 265 yards from running plays and lost 70.

The Aggies were versatile today. They clicked off nineteen first downs and plus their ground formations they completed flat zone, basket and straight bullet passes much to the discomfort of the Bears who completed seven out of seven.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 28. (AP)—Nebraska's Cornhuskers tried to fumble themselves out of the Big Six conference football leadership here today but Oklahoma also joined in the pastime, and the Cornhuskers won a nightmare game, 16 to 7.

The victory left Nebraska the only undefeated team in the conference, although in winning the Scarlet showed little of its precision and sureness of earlier games.

But Oklahoma, trailing at the half, 13 to 0, returned after the rest period to stop the Cornhuskers' attack almost completely and to take advantage of Boswell's fumble on his own 19-yard line to send Bob Dunlap across for the first 1933 touchdown against Nebraska. It was the only time Oklahoma's offensive could go places. An Oklahoma fumble a few minutes later gave George Sauer, Nebraska fullback, a chance to score a field goal to keep the game safe.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 28. (AP)—Football history was made for Centenary college today when the Gentlemen went through their third consecutive scoreless game, and received only a draw after outplaying the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs before a crowd of 7,000 at the Louisiana State fair grounds. It was the third scoreless tie in a row for the Shreveport collegians.

Touchdown Ruled Out

The Gents lost a touchdown in the first two minutes of play after Harold "Shorty" Olin raced 48 yards through a broken field to the enemy's scoring station. Ames, Centenary center, was called for holding on the play and the touchdown was wiped out and a 15-yard penalty inflicted in the Maroon and White. The remainder of the quarter found the Frogs battling on even terms. The second quarter was also nip and tuck, featured by several good runs by Olin and Smith.

The third quarter found the Gents outclassing the Frogs and keeping play in the enemy's half of the field. Twice they moved down inside the 25-yard line but each time they were held when passes failed. In the fourth quarter, Williams of the Gents, recovered a fumble on T. C. U.'s 15-yard line and after working the ball to the six yard stripe attempted a field goal. The pass from center was bad and the kick was eventually blocked and recovered by the Frogs. That was the last scoring threat for either side.

Texas Whips Rice

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—A ball-hawking University of Texas eleven opened its Southwest conference season here today by administering a decisive 18 to 0 defeat to Rice Institute.

It was Rice's second conference loss.

The Texas team, defeated by Nebraska and Oklahoma and held to a scoreless tie by Centenary in its last three games, showed great improvement. Their main attribute consisted of following the ball, which resulted directly in two touchdowns and on two occasions stopped what looked like threatening drives by Rice.

Most of the game was played in Rice territory. The game was marred by frequent fumbles, most of them on Rice's part, and numerous penalties for roughing were inflicted on both teams.

Although the playing was in Rice's territory during most of the first quarter, the two elevens played in almost equal terms.

Texas' first score came about the middle of the second period, when Fagan passed 24 yards to Baebel across the Rice goal. Baebel did not have to move out of his tracks to ret the ball.

TEXAN LEADS ARMY IN 21-0 ROUT OF YALE

LITTLE JACK BUCKLER PASSES CADETS TO VICTORY

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 28. (AP)—The Texas Jackrabbit, little Jack Buckler, came down from the frowning plains of West Point today to win his marksmanship medal with a football and lead Army to one of the most punishing defeats the Soldiers ever have inflicted on proud old Yale.

All afternoon the 153-pound bundle of springs from Waco levelled his sights on a blundering Eli defense. Twice he banged the bulldog eye that ran away touchdowns and the third time he shot away the doorstep as the gold barred warriors from the military academy plied up the 21 to 0 victory.

Not since 1926, when a great Army team riddled Yale 33 to 0, have the Cadets shattered a Blue eleven as completely as Buckler and his mates did today. They were close to it a year ago in a 20 to 0 victory, but today, as 50,000 looked on in deepening awe and silence from the great oval of the Yale bowl, Army scored three touchdowns that counted, two more that didn't and never gave before the Eli offense until the second and third teams were on the field.

The machine-like conquest of Yale's previously unbeaten squad coming on the heels of last week's 6 to 0 conquest of Illinois stamps Army, scarcely considered dangerous before the fall campaign opened, as one of the finest Cadet eleven since the war.

In all Buckler tossed 10 passes and seven of them he completed for a total gain of 148 yards while the Eli's, as weak offensively in the air as they were defensively, connected with but four tries in 15 for a total of 39 yards.

LEFORS WINS FROM MIAMI

Pirates Run Over Warriors In 20-0 Game With Two Scores in Last Half.

The LeFors Pirates defeated the Miami Warriors in a hard fought game Friday afternoon 20 to 0.

This game was featured by hard tackling and clean sportsmanship throughout. The Pirates scored their first touchdown late in the first quarter, when Still, LeFors quarter, plunged over from the 6-yard line.

In the second half, the Pirates came back with a drive that carried the ball down the field some 60 yards, ending in a touchdown, as "Hick" Bagwell, big Pirate fullback, ran 10 yards for the counter.

The final score came in the last two minutes of play, when a pass from Williams to Bonner was good for a tally. Bonner running after the catch about 12 yards.

SCOUT NEWS

At the regular monthly Troop Leaders meeting of Troop 18, held Oct. 28, 1933, in the home of Senator Patrol Leader Everett Vandenberg, the following leaders were present: Laverne Courson, Rattlesnake Patrol Leader; Claude Johnson, Bear P. I., Everett Vandenberg, S. P. L.; and Elzey Vandenberg, Scribe. John E. Shannon, scoutmaster, presided at the meeting.

The only old business to be taken up was the matter of dues. This was discussed by the scoutmaster, who urged each Patrol Leader to get behind the boys and help them figure out ways to earn their dues and bring their account up to date. Laverne Courson suggested that the troop get up at least one boys' quartet and if possible two. This was gone into thoroughly and several boys selected for the four voices needed, bass, baritone, first and second tenor, and two fairly good prospective quartets were worked out. It was decided to secure the services of M. L. H. to direct the boys, and help select the songs.

Claude Johnson suggested that all troop programs should be better planned, as to games and instruction, so that they may be more completely carried out. In connection with this, Everett Vandenberg suggested that each Patrol be given a chance to plan a program once each month and with the help of the senior leader carry it out. This was voted on and carried, and will be put into effect Oct. 27.

It was Mr. Clark's wishes that each troop have a small wooden panel made, with their troop number carved on it for the attendance tip to be on hand at each court of honor, and Laverne Courson took it on himself, to find out what dimensions Mr. Clark wished this panel, and Claude Johnson volunteered to do the work.

Everett Vandenberg then introduced Mr. Johnson's idea of an archaeological patrol, to explore old Indian ruins and search for other ancient matter. This patrol is to be limited as to members to only those who have achieved the Life Scout award. This idea was well discussed by all present and it was voted to recommend our own two life scouts for this service, Everett Vandenberg, and Elzey Vandenberg.

It was decided by all present that November 22, 1933, all registered scouts of Troop 18 would meet at the Phillips Community Hall, together with their parents and every one who is interested in scout work, to receive their yearly certificates, and render a short program. It is planned to begin with the highest ranking scout, giving his rank, length of service, number of merit badges, and other achievements and come right on down to the lowest ranking scout in the troop. It is also planned to have an executive member of the Adobe Walls council present to give a short talk, and to award the scouts the certificates. Among other items planned for the program is: Boys' quartet numbers; tenderfoot give all the points of the badge and its significance; all exhibits of handiwork made by boys of Troop 18 on hand; each patrol is to put on a stunt, and several other interesting parts are being worked out.

It was suggested by Laverne Courson and secured the unanimous consent of those present, that the troop should have a hike and winter roast on November 4, 1933. Every scout is to bring his own food. If he wishes to pass cooking tests, he is to bring the proper food for cooking. Every one will meet at the scout hall at 6 p. m. promptly. The selection of a patrol leader for the Wolves was the next business to be passed on, and after the scoutmaster had suggested the two eligible boys in the patrol, namely, Ben Slaughter and John Mackie, and brought out their various abilities in regard to this position, he absented himself from the room, while the two remaining patrol leaders and senior patrol leader decided who was to be the patrol leader. After a thorough discussion and voting it was decided that John Mackie would serve in this capacity.

It was also planned to build a fence around the scout hall, fill in the ditch for the water line and lay a small gas line to the building. Authority was given the scoutmaster to buy four Chinese elms for the patrol to set out around the hall, after the fencing is put up.

It was unanimously decided by all present that our booth in the next scout round up to be held possibly in February would be on Art, and also contribute to a Scoutcraft booth. Many paintings and drawings have already been made for this exhibit and among them so really worthwhile exhibits.

Everett, who attended the Dallas Fair, had a good many suggestions to make, and among them was this: that each boy who was the first to receive a particular merit badge be asked to point the emblem of this badge on heavy cardboard 12 inches square in natural colors, making not only a good display of merit badges earned, but also the most progressive scouts in the troop.

It was also planned to make a large thermometer out of cardboard and graduate it with two degrees Fahrenheit for each meeting night, one for each patrol, and whenever a patrol had one hundred per cent attendance a red strip would be glued in covering a two degree space. We will try to plan this patrol attendance thermometer for one whole year, and then as we go along we can see at a glance which patrol is the "hottest".

After discussions of all business, Mrs. Vandenberg served the boys with a large bowl of assorted home made candies, which they declared were the best.

Troop 80
George Lane, scribe.
The troop met for the first time with Scoutmaster Ben Gull and his assistant, Clarence Coffin. An excellent program was presented by the Flying Arrow patrol which included a reading by J. G. McConnell and a play, "Another Redskin Bit the Dust."

After patrol meeting Mr. Gull made an excellent talk on building the troop. The troop will go on a hike Sunday afternoon, leaving the church at 1:45 o'clock and returning in time for church at night.

The troop contest is progressing with Flying Arrow patrol 18 points and the least. The Pine Tree patrol is in second place.

Those present at the meeting were Joseph Hodge, Albert Bolander, Robert Talley, Paul Luttrell, Tom Egan, Charles Shelton, Travis Lively, J. G. McConnell, John Martin, George Lane, and Edwin McConnell, a visitor.

Only Evangelism Can Save Churches, Says S. M. U. Dean

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Protestantism and Methodism can only be saved from oblivion by stressing evangelism, Dr. E. B. Hawk, dean of theology at Southern Methodist university, told 900 laymen and ministers attending the conference of West Texas Methodist Episcopal churches here today.

He declared that science has pushed God back until He is near the rim. The present generation has lost the spirit of its grandfathers, the religious educator said.

The great need for the church, he said, is to contact the countless men and women who in the past generation have adopted the philosophy of following their own instincts. Religion, he stated, is not antagonistic to science, but desires to work with it.

DID FARLEY COME TO TEXAS TO BRING GARNER FROM HIDING? TO REPAIR FENCES? FOR GOOD WILL?

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—Texans still are puzzling over the question: What prompted James A. Farley, the busy postmaster general in President Franklin D. Roosevelt's cabinet, to visit this state at this time?

Why the wide tour through the banner democratic state, just now? Why did he bring such an extensive entourage, comprising a majority of the "junior cabinet members?"

Farley said publicly he merely wanted to pay a visit to Texans and this state's native-son vice-president, John N. Garner. Wherever the party stopped speakers reported to Farley having come to Texas to "bring John Garner from hiding."

The vice-president did not have much to tell those who came from far and near to see and hear him except to pledge his hearty support to the president of the United States and reassert his sympathy for the man in the White House.

There was some side talk as the Garner-Farley party flew through Texas that the big, genial New Yorker, who is recognized as the administration's pie counter boss, was in the Lone Star state to strengthen democratic ties that had weakened somewhat when certain Roosevelt leaders in the state did not get much recognition of their recommendations for place applicants in the government.

Chief of these, other than Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and the executive's husband, Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, is R. J. Boyle of San Antonio. Boyle was one of those who fought valiantly for Alford E. Smith's election in 1928 when Texas Democrats bolted to the republican, Herbert Hoover. Boyle has stated semi-publicly that only those were either actively or passively interested in the defeat of Smith had been able to get much recognition in Washington.

He claimed only one outstanding anti-prohibitionist had readily been elevated to federal office by the president on the southern part of the state. The governor also was known to have been dissatisfied with treatment she had received in Washington.

Boyle did not participate in the Garner-Farley reception in San Antonio. However, Dr. Mary King Robble, an outstanding battler for the "Happy Warrior" in 1928, was one of the prime movers in the demonstration given Garner and Farley in the Alamo city. Farley mentioned her in his brief talk there and congratulated her upon her management of arrangements for the appearance of his party.

the Farley visit to Texas. It was he who went to the Uvalde home several weeks ago and obtained Garner's consent to lay aside his fishing tackle and hunting irons for the swing around the circle.

Evans was in the limelight during the Texas visit. He was applauded warmly everywhere as "The Texas Boy" who had made good in politics in a big way.

Maybe it was only a "good will tour." There was talk that a certain group of San Antonians whispered into Farley's ear that the new federal building promised for that historic city should not be built on the site of the present building, the property for which was acquired some time ago. They were reported to be advocating a site in another section of town.

Many postmasterships are yet to be placed in Texas. Among these is San Antonio. It was reported Dr. Robble wanted that appointment. The postmaster general saw many applicants for these places as he paused here and there.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28 (AP)—Cotton was rather quiet today and prices developed a downward tendency due to outside markets, unfavorable Washington comment on speculation and rather persistent liquidation of longs for over the week-end. The close was barely steady at net declines of 10 to 11 points.

The opening was steady with Liverpool cables about as due, sterling a shade easier and gold 6 points higher at $31.82 per ounce. First trades showed 2 points up to 2 down and March recovered its initial loss right after the start of trading at $9.85. Prices soon weakened owing to easier stocks, long liquidation and selling induced by weakness in other markets. There were but few and trifling rallies and prices made the lows of the day at the end with December at $9.51 down 10 points net for the day and March at $9.74, down 11 points net. CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Acute unsettlement of grain markets today resulted from reports the Washington administration would seek to curtail or eliminate speculative dealings both in commodities and stocks. During the last fifteen minutes of business, however, wheat buying on a big scale nearly overcame losses which earlier had carried the wheat market down 3 1/2 cents a bushel. The late buying was attributed largely to government-financed sources, and consisted of purchases not only immediate delivery of wheat but future deliveries as well.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2 lower, corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 down, oats 3/4 off, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to a rise of 17 cents. Corn and oats prices collapsed when wheat tumbled. The corn market later showed less recuperative power than wheat, despite unfavorable weather for corn crop movement. Provisions most of the time were lower with hog values and with grains.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 28 (AP)—U. S. D. A.—Cattle trade at mid-western markets this week was featured by a liberal movement of good to choice grain-fed steers, while there was a material decrease in shipment of grass cattle. Grainfed steers and yearlings scaling above 1,000 pounds at mid centers were tendered an uneven decline of 15-40. Lighter weight yearlings and fed heifers ruled from 25 higher and commanded a 30-75 premium over strong weight fed steers. Grass slaughter steers and the stock worked higher throughout the week and current quotations are 15 to mostly 25 over a week ago. Only a few sales of fed steers and yearlings were completed above the $6.00 mark this week even though supply included numerous loads that have been in the feed lots from ten to twelve months. Long fed steers scaling upward from 1,200 pounds were in liberal quota from 05.00-75 and some big weight scaling over 1,800 pounds had to sell under the $5.00 mark. Receipts from the week approximated 231,500 as compared with 264,413 last week and 208,493 the same period a year ago.

Heavy butcher hogs are slightly higher for the week but weight averages under 250 pounds are weak to 20 lower. St. Louis had a late top of $4.50. Total offerings were 37,000 more than last week and 55,000 short of a year ago.

The river markets report unevenly higher prices for fat lambs for the week, while at Chicago values ruled weak to 25 lower. Sheep and feeding lambs were unchanged. Supplies approximated 411,000 against 442,554 last week and 395,816 a year ago.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey today reported that since adoption of the oil code its domestic subsidiaries had added 1,250 employees at an additional wage and salary cost of $1,333,000 annually.

'LADY FOR A DAY' OPENS AT LA NORA TODAY

MAY ROBSON STARS IN GREATEST ROLE OF HER CAREER

To the Columbia Studios, to Director Frank Capra, to scenarist Robert Riskin, to Damon Runyon, the author, Warren William, the star, to May Robson, Guy Kibbee, to the cameramen, props and technicians; in fact to anyone who either directly or indirectly took part in the production of "Lady For A Day" go the plaudits of the movie-going populace for having turned out one of the most entertaining pictures of this or any other year.

"Lady For A Day," which is its initial performance today thru Tuesday at the La Nora theater, is destined for a prominent niche in the screen's hall of fame. Like "Seventh Heaven," "Broken Blossoms," and "Humoresque" it possesses that indefinable quality that distinguishes greatness. It has tremendous universal appeal—a charming, fairy story that will stir the heart-strings of the entire world. Hard-boiled men and tender-hearted women, sweet young debs and sophisticated flappers, impatient youngsters and sleepy-eyed elders will laugh and cry and thrill alike to the touching, pathetic story.

From the vivid pen of Damon Runyon, "Lady For A Day" appeared originally as a magazine story in Cosmopolitan under the title, "Madame La Gimp."

The story opens in Times Square, New York, where Apple Annie vends her wares to support a daughter in Europe. Pretending to her daughter that she is a society matron, Annie gets into difficulties when her daughter writes that she will visit America with her fiancé and his father, a Spanish Count, who intends to check up on the family pedigree.

Dave the Dude (Warren William), a big shot gambler who considers Annie his lucky charm, comes to the rescue. He installs her in a wealthy playboy friend's apartment, dresses her up in true grand dame style and provides a temporary husband in the portly Guy Kibbee, who portrays a glib penny ante pool shark.

The deception almost proves a bust when the police hold Dave and his pack of hoodlums for abducting three society reporters on the eve of an elaborate reception planned as a farewell party to the Count and his son. Dave gets in touch with the Mayor and the Governor at a formal official function and induces them to an altruistic spirit to attend the belated reception. The officials respond and attend in a large body following which the Count and the engaged couple embark for Spain.

May Robson, "the grand old lady of the American stage" attains her greatest success in fifty years of trouping as the apple vendor in "Lady For A Day." It is her greatest characterization and one that will endear her to all.

The picture has a natural unforced comedy. The characterization of Ned Sparks, the droolier of Guy Kibbee, the wise cracks of Glenda Farrell give the picture a light hearted buoyancy that will make the smiles chase the tears in numerous sequences.

The remainder of the cast is exceptionally well chosen. They include Jean Parker, Walter Connolly, Nat Pendleton, Barry Norton, Halliwell Hobbes, Hobart Bosworth and Wallis Clark.

GORILLAS TIE CANADIAN 6-6 IN FAST GAME

BOYS PLAY A BETTER BRAND OF BALL FRIDAY

Pampa's Gorillas, playing a new brand of football compared to what they displayed last week, held the fast Canadian Wildcats to a 6-6 score at Harvester park Friday afternoon. Fanning scored the lone Gorilla touchdown late in the second quarter after Tom Rose had carried the mail 30 yards to the Canadian 4 yard line. Canadian evened the count in the third period on a completed 35-yard pass.

Fanning's punting was again outstanding for the Gorillas. The former Plainview boy stood three yards behind his goal line and kicked over the Canadian goal line, the ball carrying nearly 80 yards in the air. Again Fanning kicked 55 yards out of bounds on the Canadian five yard line. The entire Gorilla backfield carried the ball nicely with Webb being outstanding on defense.

The Gorillas scored late in the second half after a nice punt return by Webb. Rose took the ball on an end run and side-stepping nicely, went to the Canadian 4 yard line before he was downed. The Gorillas then drew the only penalty of the game which set the ball on Canadian's nine yard line. On the first play, Fanning picked up five yards. He then crossed the goal line for a four-yard slash off tackle. The try for point failed.

Soon after the second half Canadian pulled a prize play when they had the ball on Pampa's 35 yard line. Gomez stepped back, faked a hand pass to the flat zone but instead threw the ball to Caldwell who caught it as he stepped over the goal line. Canadian failed to plunge for the extra point.

Ken Moyer Will Play Again On Tuesday Night

Pampa will have a Mardi Gras Tuesday night, when Ken Moyer will bring his famous orchestra and a large floor show to Pampa for an all-night performance at the Pampa auditorium. Besides his orchestra, Mr. Moyer will bring nine de luxe vaudeville acts and a dazzling floor show.

The Mardi Gras will start at 9 o'clock and last six hours. Admission to the entire event will be $1.65 a couple. "It will be the greatest entertainment program ever to be presented in this section of the country," Mr. Moyer wrote the Pampa management yesterday.

The hall will be completely redecorated depicting quaint old New Orleans. Guests are urged to attend in costume, wearing masks if they desire. Halloween will be celebrated at the same time and Halloween costumes will be in vogue.

VANDY, L. S. U. TIE
 BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 28. (P)—Vanderbilt and Louisiana State university tied each other 7 to 7 tonight, each completing touchdown passes in a grid game of superbly matched power defenses.

Vanderbilt tied the score in the second period with an 18-yard pass from Dixon to Peebles, after Mickal of Louisiana spec. a scoring throw 12 yards in the first quarter to Patheide who ran 15 more for a marker.

LEW AYRES IN RAGE PICTURE AT REX TODAY

'DON'T BET ON LOVE' TO SHOW HERE TWO DAYS

Players of unusual prominence, and many of them, will be seen in the Universal screen drama, "Don't Bet on Love," exciting story of the race tracks, starring Lew Ayres, opens at the Rex theater today and runs thru Monday.

In the picture, which gives Ayres one of the greatest opportunities to display his acting ability since his memorable performance in "All Quiet on the Western Front," there are 14 roles of importance, outside of the starring part, and each one is played by an actor of great popularity on the screen.

Ginger Rogers, sparkling red headed actress who has recently gained unusual recognition by her work in "42nd Street," "Gold Diggers of 1933" and "The Purty Girl," appears opposite Ayres as his sweetheart who tries to win him away from a gambling career.

Charles Grainger, Shirley Grey, and Merna Kennedy are featured in the supporting cast, with Tom Dugan, Robert Emmett O'Connor, Lucile Webster Gleason, Brooks Benedict, Henry Armetta, Clay Clement, Alfred White, Pepe Sinoof and William Kelly in prominent parts, with even the "bit" roles filled by experienced and talented actors.

"Don't Bet on Love" tells the story of a young plumber who has luck with the horses and tries to make it a career, against the wishes of his father and his sweetheart. After a meteoric career at the tracks, he finds himself a big time gambler, but lacks what he really wants, the love of his sweetheart. How circumstances come to a climax to effect real happiness gives the screenplay unusual dramatic interest, it is reported.

Murray Roth directed the film from his own story.

Drilling Code Expected To Be Approved Here

A code of fair competition for the drilling industry has been released and it is expected to be signed and adopted. The term "drilling industry" includes all parties engaged in the drilling of wells for the benefit of the petroleum industry, according to the code.

The code sets forth working hours and an hourly wage scale. It states that if drilling contractors agree to abide by the code, they may work their employees 48 hours, but if they do not abide by the code, then they must work their employees only 36 hours as set forth in the general oil code. The translation of that clause was made by Norman L. Meyers of the Petroleum Advisory board.

Unfair competition is outlined and violations cited. A meeting to discuss the code will probably be called soon.

The important clauses in the code, with hours and wages, are as follows:

Employees on drilling operation shall work not more than 8 hours in any one day, nor more than 48 hours in any one week, nor more than an average of 42 hours per week for any 8 consecutive weeks, provided that employees may work more than 8 hours in any one day, but not more than 16 hours in any two days, if the conditions are such that relief is impracticable. Provided further that employees may work more than an average of 42 hours per week through the period necessary to drill one well.

The minimum hourly rates for employees in drilling operations shall be as follows:

For drillers on rotary tools, $1.25 per hour.

For helpers on rotary tools, 75 cents per hour.

For drillers on cable tools, $1.00 per hour.

For tool dressers on cable tools, 87 1-2 cents per hour.

On and after the effective date of this code, no employer in the drilling industry shall employ any person under the age of 18 years. Employees shall be paid in cash or

DISCOVERY WELL HAS STARTED A TYPICAL OIL BOOM AT PALESTINE

BY R. W. BARRY.
 Associated Press Staff Writer.
 PALESTINE, Oct. 28. (P)—A "discovery" well has been ushered in here and all indications are that this section of East Texas may contribute another prolific oil field further to complicate the world's oil structure.

This city of 15,000 inhabitants as a result has had thrust upon it the task of taking care of half again that number with everyone scrambling for buses and royalties. Shack towns are springing up along the highway. There are two rivals—New Deal and New Long Lake.

Prospective lessors and lessees are milling about Palestine with a much enthusiasm and congestion as they did in the original East Texas field, regarded by some as the world's most prolific, when the discovery well there was brought in three years ago next Thanksgiving.

The discovery well in this new field is known as the Tidewater Seabrook. It is along the Trinity river about 12 miles west of Palestine. The Trinity is the stream which meanders through the original East Texas field. While this is East Texas, too, the new pool seems separate and apart from that great petroleum reservoir in Gregg, Rusk, Smith, and Upshur counties which changed the whole world's oil map and transferred goober patches into areas of sought-after oil-bearing leases.

Everybody and everything is waiting on the final test for the Tidewater well. It has been put on a close-choke test. It made 100 barrels an hour for a period but there has been some talk of salt water showing.

Many other locations have been made, however, in this—Anderson—and Houston, Freestone and Leon counties.

There are long lines daily at the Palestine hotels, persons waiting to be roomed for a period while they observe activities hereabouts.

The streets are crowded, the sidewalks jammed and map sellers hawking their wares just like they did in Tyler, Longview, Kilgore, Henderson, and other towns in East Texas three years ago and prior to that, in Wichita Falls, Ranger, Cisco, Eastland, and other West Texas places, and Pampa, Borger, and other places in the Panhandle.

There have been announced plans for new hotels, new office buildings, and other facilities.

'Uncle Tom' Will Not Be Given In Texas, Says U. D. C.

HOUSTON, Oct. 28. (P)—Strong opposition to plans of the Rice dramatic club to present the old-time play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was expressed today at a meeting of representatives of four chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Letters asking that the play be not presented were written by the U. D. C. chapter heads to the dean of Rice Institute and to the president of the dramatic club.

"We have been told that one of the promoters of the play said he expected opposition and added: 'But we'll give it just the same,'" said Mrs. W. W. Turner, state president of the U. D. C. and representative of the Webster chapter.

"My answer to that is, 'They won't give it just the same.' " "There are 10,000 members of our organization in Texas and we will not permit the showing of a play as unfair to the south as 'Uncle Tom's Cabin'."
