Pampa Army Air Field Is Rapidly Going On Inactive Status

Skeleton Staff To Remain at Field

Pampa army air field is rapidly closing out its regular war-time activities, and by Sept. 30 the field will be completely inactivated, it was announced officially Saturday.

A skeleton staff of officers, enlisted men, and civilian workers will remain at the field until final disposition is ordered by the government, it was said.

Upon final inactivation, the commanding officer will be Maj. William H. Dowd. Maj Henry Crandell will be in charge of buildings, engineering and other installations. Supply officer will be Lt. Edwin L. Atkins.

Three enlisted men will be retained, and 72 civilians will remain at varionus posts.

The field will be retained in such status, it was explained, as to enable the war department to put it into full operation within 60 days, if the need should arise.

All personnel will be on orders by Sept. 30. At a meeting Saturday all personnel, including officers, was designated for various fields. The main distribution of cadets now in training was made this week to the twin-engined school at Enid, Okla. Planes were sent there also. Most of the other cadets were sent to Ellington field (Houston), or to the base at Bryant.

M'Arthur Probes Financial Deals Of Nippon State

TOKYO, Sept. 22—(AP)—General MacArthur pried into Japan's greatest state secrets today by demanding an accounting of the empire's finances, including Emperor Hirohito's fortune — reputedly the world's largest.

The order was considered only a prelude to a deeper inquiry into the immense wealth of the munitions makers and merchant princes who under Washington's latest directive must be dragged from positions of power.

It was intended to give the Allies precise information and a tight hold over financial agencies and the methods which enabled an essentially poor country like Japan to underwrite eight years of war.

The order was just another crack from the occupational whip in an action-packed day which saw these other developments:

1. MacArthur ordered the arrest of Gen. Nobuyuke Abe, lately deposed governor of Korea and former premier who was closely aligned with the military and the conquests in China.

2. He told the Japanese naval police force, which had hoped to keep

Capital Looks To Recruitment Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—The outcome of a forthcoming army-navy recruitment campaign, capitol hill believes, will determine the fate of compulsory peacetime military training legislation.

If the enlistment campaign, to be launched as soon as the senate acts on a recruitment bill already passed by the house, can produce an estimated 1,500,000 men, including men already serving enlistments, it is almost certain there will be no universal training act now.

But if it falls short of congressional expectations, the lawmakers either will have to pare down their present estimates of how big the

Repairs to City Hall Are Slated

Workmen will start Monday to repair the roof of the city hall, placing a heavy coat of asphalt roofing.

Simultaneously two radio technicians will be on hand to repair the police aerial on the top of the building, as damage to the network of wires at the base of the radio tower has impaired reception and sending.

Working together, the technicians will repair wires when the roofers tear off the old coat of roofing.

Navy Pilots Die As Planes Crash Into Warehouse

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Riding to death, the pilot of a navy plane raced his engines and blinked his landing lights in a frantic attempt to signal people in downtown Miami that danger was near, it was disclosed today.

Seaman 1/C William O. Ennett gave the following dramatic eyewitness account of the crash last night in which two navy planes tangled over the main business section of Miami and crashed into a warehouse, carrying both navy pilots to their death:

"Lookinlg up, I saw two navy planes coming from east.

"One was flying without lights and the other was racing its engine and blinking its lights—apparently to signal people in the streets that there might be trouble.

"They looked like one plane, so the wings were probably locked.

"When the planes hit, it threw me 40 feet. A streak of flame flew up over the garage roof where I was standing, and shot clear over to the bowling alleys. I ran for a fire extinguisher and helped pull one of the bodies from the wreck, but it was too late."

Damage resulting from the spectacular crash, which touched off a two-alarm fire and brought thousands of sightseers to the scen was estimated at $75 000 by Fire Chief Henry R. Chase.

One of the planes crashed through the roof of the Tuttle hotel garage, struck down a wall of an adjoining

Pampans Form Speakers' Club

A Speakers' club was organized at a city hall meeting of interested individuals on Wednesday night.

Grover Heard, local business man, was elected president of the group which will meet regularly for practice in public speaking and in parliamentary procedure.

Other officers named: Ed Weiss, vice president; Quentin Williams, secretary-treasurer, and Marshall Hubbard, sergeant-at-arms.

The group hopes to affiliate with the Toastmasters International in the near future, it was said.

The club as organized includes 14 members. Others interested in joining are urged to be present at the first regular meeting to be held Thursday night, chamber of commerce office.

Thereafter, regular meetings will be held at 8 p. m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

A group from the club is planning to attend a meeting of the Toastmasters club at Borger Monday night. Those interested in making the trip are asked to call President Heard.

Republicans Want To Hear Dewey

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Republicans demanded today that congress invite Thomas E. Dewey to tell whether he has reason to believe the high command was aware of Japan's war intentions hours before Pearl Harbor.

They also asserted that a joint senate-house committee investigating the disaster must take a look at a letter Gen. George C. Marshall wrote the New York governor while Dewey was running for president last year.

Dewey has confirmed receiving the letter, but referred reporters to the chief of staff for its contents. Last night the war department said Marshall was not available for comment.

A Life magazine story says the letter asked Dewey to keep the secret that the United States had broken a Japanese code, because the Japanse still were using it.

The story goes on to say that before the letter was written, Dewey had learned the U. S. had solved the Japanese "ultra" code. It adds that as result President Roosevelt and the high command knew 15 hours before Pearl Harbor that the Japanese would break with the U. S., but did not know the exact place where the military attack would come.

Senator Bridges (R-N. H.) told a reporter the joint committee ought to study the Marshall letter. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), a committee member, said Dewey should be called before the group.

"Now that the war is over," Bridges declared, "there no longer can be any reason for concealment. Congress ought to have all of the facts."

Pvt. Mervin Suttle Is Back in States

Pvt. Mervin H. Suttle, survivor of 44 months of Japanese imprisonment following the surrnder of Bataan and Corregidor, called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal J. Suttle, 502 N. Russell street, yesterday, from the Biltmore hospital, Corral Gables, Fla.

In the telephone conversation Pvt. Suttle said that he was getting along fine and expected to be transferred either to Denver or Santa Fe.

He was one of three Texans of a group of 23 freed prisoners of war who arrived in Miami, Fla., Friday, aboard a giant C-54 army transport. All but two of the group were survivors of the Bataan death march, all were litter cases.

The plane flew from Manchuria, a distance of 14,000 miles. Pvt. Suttle had been convalescing at a general hospital in Kumming, China, following his liberation from a prison camp at Mukden, Manchuria.

IN PETROLEUM REFINING:

PAMPA RANKS HIGH AS AN INDUSTRIAL CENTER

(This is the sixth in a series of articles dealing with the industrial survey of Pampa and its trade territory. The survey was made by Burt C. Blanton, Dallas consulting engineer).

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Due to the current development of manufacturing and processing industries, the city of Pampa ranks as one of Texas' most important industrial centers in relation to petroleum refining.

The city and the surrounding area is not "over-developed" industrially and still affords numerous potentialities for the establishment of new types of industries.

There are many things to be taken into consideration when a city contemplates a campaign to attract industries.

The advantages derived from the erection of manufacturing and processing plants in any community are varied.

There are such factors as enhanced land value, increase in population, additional volume of business and augmentation of the purchasing power of the community.

CIO Oil Workers Are Urged To Await Mediation Results

By The Associated Press

A strike vote in 96 General Motors Corporation plants throughout the nation was asked by the United Automobile Workers (CIO) late yesterday in a petition to the National Labor Relations board.

As the picture worsened along the automotive industry front, the number of the nation's oil workers off the job passed the 22,000 mark, as the head of the CIO oil workers union urged its members to hold up further strike action pending outcome of a mediation conference Tuesday in Chicago.

Motorists in midwest and Texas coastal refinery cities where strikes were in progress entered the weekend with dwindling gasoline supplies. In some places voluntary rationing operated.

More than 16,000 workers were striking in Texas alone. Ten Texas plants already were closed, and the time for closing an eleventh, the Shell Deer Park refinery near Houston, was set for midnight. Thousands more workers in the Texas coastal section had voted to strike.

The oil workers international union is pressing demands of 52 hours pay for a 40-hour-work week. Its head, O. A. Knight, made this statement in Fort Worth:

"I want to make an urgent appeal to oil industry workers over the nation to holdup further strike actions pending the outcome of the mediation conference called by the U. S. conciliation service," said Knight.

"I am hopeful that at the Chicago conference we can come to an understanding so that workers can go back to their jobs with the assurance there will be no reduction in their earnings."

A shut down of the Sinclair refinery in Houston stopped deliveries to Sinclair dealers and a gasoline stortage began to develop here. Ohio's gasoline and fuel oil supply suffered another setback as CIO oil workers struck at the Lima refinery of Standard Oil company.

A voluntary gasoline ration program for essential users operated in Toledo. There was a somewhat similar program in Detroit, with most of the city estimated 1,200 gas stations—35 per cent of the total—still open for business and limiting customers to give gallons. They were considering restricting sales to essential users.

Spokesmen for service station operators in Cleveland reported motorists purchasing gasoline "at a near-frantic rate."

No gasoline was available in Port Arthur, Texas, filling stations. Sev-

Nimitz To Visit U. S., Texas Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Pacific Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, due back to this country soon on his first visit since the end of the war, will go back to his native Texas before returning overseas.

The navy department announced today the commander in chief of the Pacific fleet and Pacific ocean areas would be in Dallas on Oct. 12. It was not known now how long he would remain in Texas, nor whether he would go elsewhere in the state. A celebration for him is planned here during the first week of October.

The union's demand for a 30 percent wage increase topped a list of issues which Walter P. Reuther, UAW-CIO vice president, said were in dispute. Reuther estimated that 325,000 workers would be affected if a strike is called.

The lebor department at Washington received the petition this afternoon and officials indicated the vote, if approved, would be set for October 24. It has been estimated the cost of taking the ballot would be approximately $150,000.

Although only the 96 GM plants are under contract with the UAW-CIO, a union spokesman said strike action in those would force a shutdown of the corporation's other 40-odd branches. The possibility that some of those under contract might not favor strike action, he added, is "not being contemplated."

A company spokesman said General Motors would not make a statement at this time on the strike vote petition.

The petition was made in telegrams to secretary of labor Schwellenbach; Dr. George W. Taylor, chairman of the national war labor

Reds Would Take Half of Hungary's Economy by Pact

LONDON, Sept. 22—(AP)—The council of foreign ministers suddenly cancelled a morning meeting today, coincident with disclosure of a Russian trade pact reported to give the Soviets control of half of Hungary's economy.

No reason was announced for the cancellation of the session, which was scheduled to discuss a Hungarian peace treaty.

The council met tonight, however, with foreign commissar V. M. Molotov presiding, and "continued the discussion on items on the agenda," a brief communique said.

A well-informed source said the Big Five discussed the American proposal for international control of Europe's inland waterways, apparently by-passing the touchy Hungarian question. Their next session is scheduled for 11 a. m. Monday.

Today's events tended to increase pessimism among diplomats here over the course of the conferences, which after 11 days have not produced agreement on a single big issue.

Official British quarters expressed deep concern over the Soviet-Hungarian pact, taking the viewpoint that it was a step toward putting the economic as well as the political life of southeastern Europe under Russian control.

Some quarters said the Americans shared the British annoyance over Russia's unilateral action.

M'Arthur Adheres To Outline Made By Army, Navy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Wholesale arrest of the big shots who master minded Japan's whole war effort has been ordered by the United States government in a move to smash Japanese militarism and ultra nationalism entirely.

Along with this, the government has directed that if democratically minded Japanese start armed revolt against their overlords, General Douglas MacArthur's occupation forces are not to interfere—except to protect themselves and serve other occupation aims.

The action on arrests was disclosed tonight along with White House release of a four-weeks-old statement of Japanese occupation policy formulated by the state, war and navy departments. Approved by President Truman the instructions were sent to General MacArthur by the joint chiefs of staff before the formal surrender of Nippon which took place Sept. 1.

The declaration calls for sweeping changes in Japan's economic, political and social systems—changes which include proposed "dissolution" of the great family monopolies which dominated Japan's trade and industry.

The general is also instructed under this statement, which was prepared by the state, war and navy departments and approved by the President, to remove and exclude from public office or positions of private responsibility Japan's' militarists and ultra nationalists.

Defeated Nippon's industrial capacity for making war is to be wiped

USES Reports 500 Positions Open

"Everyone in Pampa who wants to work is working," said O. R. Terry, local representative of the United States Employment service, today.

There are approximately 500 positions open in this area according to office records, said Terry, which include most every type of work common to this locality. Both employer and job seeker have become more particular, the employer raising his standard of qualifications, the potential employee intent on maintaining or raising his war-time standard of living. At present the salaries in all fields are practically on a war-time basis, said Terry.

Few veterans have applied for work at the local employment office although they are given first consideration for all vacancies. It is believed that many of them are taking a well needed vacation, that jobs are so numerous that they are given a wide field in which to select, and also that many are returning to their former employment.

Women in this area, said Terry, are in general retiring from the labor market. Nationally prophesized competition in employment between men and women has not been felt in Pampa. The majority of women workers at the Pampa air base are wives of servicemen who will leave soon. Although they are not in great number, the employment office is having calls for help from local employers because of the future closing of the field.

There is an immediate demand, Terry stated, for laborers in construction work, in the repressuring project recently announced, for carbon black and refinery workers, departmental mail clerks, stenographers, grocery clerks, domestic help, as well as for cafe, hotel and hospital personnel.

PAMPANS EXTEND WELCOME:

BOOSTER PARTY 'SELLS' CLARENDON RODEO, FAIR

Pampa now knows that the Clarendon rodeo, sponsored by the Clarendon post of the American Legion, will be held during the Donley county fair and horse races Sept. 28 and 29.

For Saturday afternoon the Clarendon Booster Party visited Pampa. Local city officials and members of the chamber of commerce met the party at the city limits. Members of the welcoming committee were Farris C. Oden, mayor; Garland Franks, city manager; Wayne Phelps, radio station KPDN manager; Dick Hughes, Red Wedgeworth and members of the state highway patrol and city police departments.

Sirens headed the caravan of cars of the party as they came through Pampa and stopped at the city hall. The Clarendon high school band of approximately 40 pieces directed by Red Stanley, second vice-commander of the post, played several selections on the city hall lawn.

In a brief talk Clifford Davis, first vice commander of the Clarendon post of the American Legion, promised a "good show" to all attending the Clarendon rodeo, fair and horse races. Davis was intro-

Texas. Some cadets of Squadron F) were sent to Kearns, Utah.

Commanding Officer Col. James A. Ronin, in a formal statement to The News, said yesterday:

"As Pampa army air field rapidly nears inactivation, I desire to express by appreciation to the citizens of Pampa for the splendid spirit they have shown toward the military personnel stationed here.

"Your neighborliness, hospitality and helpfulness has not been excelled by any community in which I have been stationed in my army career.

"The hospitality program you have carried on for entertaining and housing the families of graduating cadets will, I am sure, always be carried in the minds of those who were privileged to visit here, as an example of true neighborliness.

"I am sincere when I say that I consider that no community in the United States could be more patriotic, public spirited and downright American than this."

Mayor Farris Oden, responding to the colonel's statement said:

"Our cooperation has been natural and in response to the cooperation we have gotten from the base. It has been a pleasure. We've always found the personnel willing to cooperate with us in anything we've set out to do. We hate to see the base close, but we are presuming that it is necessary."

County Judge Sherman White said:

"We have always found the officers and personnel of the field most congenial and cooperative in every way. With men coming here from all parts of the nation, we feel that we have made friends from every part of the land. At least that is one consolation we met from the war, in addition to the fact that we still exist as a great nation."

C. P. "Doc" Pursley, president of the Pampa chamber of commerce, said the organization was highly appreciative of the fact that it could be of help to the field through general activity and through the specific program of the hospitality committee.

"We of the chamber feel that Jimmie Messa, chairman of hospitality committee for the past year, has done a great job. The association of the members of the field with the chamber of commerce has been excellent," he said.

Querried as to what is to happen to the building at the field, the public relations office said the buildings will not be sold. The salvage officer was quoted as saying there would probably be some metal, lumber, surplus plumbing, hardware supplies and kitchen equipment for sale later.

The government has said that any surplus property to be sold would be cleared through the surplus property board, an organization set up for such purposes. The procedure is to declare property surplus through the press.

The last edition of the weekly publication of the field "The Pampa Flyer," will go to press under date of Sept. 24. The final edition will say, pertaining to the publication and to the field:

"As for the post newspaper, this is the last issue of 'The Pampa Flyer.' The first issue appeared Nov. 1, 1944.

"So that's the story—and here's '30' for PAAF, one of the finest twin-engine schools in the nation."

postwar army and navy shall be, or face the alternatives of a peacetime draft.

Right now, the peacetime draft plan has but lukewarm backing in congress.

The army's spokesmen have told congressional handlers of military matters they don't expect the recruitment drive to do the job.

Navy spokesmen have told congress they are planning on a postwar fleet requiring from 560,000 to 600,000 men. The army hasn't given its figures, but best estimates range from a regular force of 500,000 men if universal training is adopted to 1,000,000 if there is no peacetime draft.

Currently the navy has approximately 300,000 men serving under enlistments. The army's high was an estimated 419,000 in 1941, but most of those enlistments have expired.

Companies Predict Small Pocket Radios

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(AP)—Pocket radios no larger than a package of cigarettes were predicted today by two manufacturers as a development of the "radio proximity fuse" used in shells, bombs and rockets.

Officials of the companies said in press conference that the tiny vacuum tube which made the fuse possible would lead to minuscule radios and civilian walkie-talkies.

The companies are the Emerson Radio and Phonograph corporation and the Sylvania Electric Products, Inc.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22—(AP)—Mrs. Dolores Wells, 21-year-old elevator operator at the Blue Bonnet hotel, fell 12 feet down the elevator shaft this morning. She was taken to the county hospital where X-rays were to be taken to determine the extent of her injuries. Police Investigator Charles Doerr said Mrs. Wells told him she was accustomed to step into the elevator on the first floor but that this morning the elevator was at the second floor.

OPA Is Asking--- What Now . . ? and Six Months Hence

What Now?—A five point program for carrying out OPA's part in the government plan to stabilize the national economy during the transition period has been outlined by Chester Bowles. In his forthright statement, Bowles calls "for cool heads and continued cooperation of business, workers, farmers and consumers to see the stabilization job through." Bowles believes there is a dangerous gap between sudden victory and sound prosperity," says Bowles, "but we are going to get across it, and I believe price control is the center span in the bridge."

The five steps OPA is going to take are simply stated:

1. Food. We are going to keep the lid on food prices.

2. Clothing. Many clothing prices are too high.

3. Reconversion Goods. Final victory makes machines, workers and materials available for rapid return to mass production of much needed items.

4. Rent — Building Materials. Families who live in rented dwellings must be protected against and unnecessary inflation of rentals. Our building cost control will also protect millions of soldiers and war workers from too much high pay.

5. Enforcement. We want as few rules and regulations as possible. But the rules and regulations that stay to guide us through this dangerous period must be vigorously enforced by the power of OPA.

The barefoot boy has become a curiosity today. Over 400,000,000 pairs of shoes are produced each year in the United States, and the leather necessary for the soles, uppers and inner parts of shoes has caused the value of leather output to increase from $43,000,000 in 1849 to more than $300,000,00 0today.

Correspondent Finds War Was Won Without a Whatamaycallit---

HONOLOULU — (AP) — It seems impossible to believe, but now it can be told. Somehow, America won the war out here without the help of an electroencephalographic specialist.

It must be important, because for a long time this electro whatchamaycall it expert had been listed as one of the six most critically needed specialists in the army.

According to the official lists sent around to the GIs he's so important he couldn't get out of the army for at least six months, even if he had a thousand points.

That's what got Sgt. Joe Fisher interested. To the sergeant, a reporter for the Stars and Stripes, goes the credit for revealing this hitherto top-secret situation.

It makes him shudder yet to think what might have happened if the Japanese ever found out we didn't have one of those (you know what I mean.)

Lately Joe has been interviewing lots of people going home, liberated prisoners, high-pointers, conquering generals and such-like, and all the time he's been worrying about this poor punk who can't go home.

So he decided to interview him, give him a pat on the back and say: "Nice work old boy. Don't know how we woulda won the war if it hadn't been for buys like you."

He went over to an army general hospital and let 'em have it.

"What's an electroencephalographic specialist?" he asked the pretty receptionist. She blinked, gulped and called a lieutenant. Joe repeated the question.

"Huh!" snorted the lieutenant. Then he recovered. "You come with me," he said gently.

However, a few minutes later he decided Joe was all right so he waved whitecoated attendants away and called the captain.

Attendants with straightjackets raised their eyebrows and moved in again but the captain was not one to take such an easy way out. He waved them back with the nonchalant gesture of a company commander telling his men to take cover while he cleans out a machinegun nest ahead.

"Follow me," he told Joe bravely. "We will ask the major."

But they struck pay dirt in a major. He smiled confidently and said "why certainly. An electroence-an electrocepha—well it's one of those contraptions that—." He paused and pointed at his head with both hands. I think it makes marks on a graph. Shows your mind is working."

He paused momentarily, pondered intensely, then concluded lamely, it runs by electricity."

Atoms in an ordinary kitchen stove emit enough invisible infrared rays to permit the taking of photographs of nearby objects in total darkness with a photographic film sensitive to the rays.

BRINGING THEM HOME

The wartime story of the great ships Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth is a dramatic one. Converted from luxury to drab-nued service early in the war, they crossed and recrossed the Atlantic in blacked-out secrecy, eluding and outrunning the submarines for which they would have been prime targets.

Now, as a fitting climax, they sail proudly into New York with flags flying, bearing home as many as 15,000 cheering American soldiers in one trip.

It is inevitable that the two great Queens should get a good deal of publicity, in picture and story. But we should not forget that thees liners are doing only a small part of the job—less than 10 per cent, as a matter of fact.

The great bulk of our men returning from the European battlefields ar aboard a never-ending procession of American ships. They are smaller and less famous than the Queens—passenger liners, converted Liberties, Victories, C-typ freighters and tankers.

Maybe they aren't very fast or very comfortable. But they are numerous, and they are doing the only job that is important to the men on board. They're bringing them home.

THE SEEDS OF WAR

A brief news dispatch from London the other day carried a statement by Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris on war and peace that was perhaps more important and certainly more profoundly true than all the reams of speeches and discussions at the San Francisco Conference.

Wars will continue, Sir Arthur said, until there are some drastic change in the human heart.

Those words ought to be locked in ever human heart and pondered by every human mind. They are not new words, but they have been neglected and forgotten. Mankind is building a world police force which it hopes will control the crime of war. But mankind has never done much about eliminating the roots of the crime.

Greed, arrogance, intolerance, frustration, vengeance. Those are the individual and personal emotions of the human heart, when combined and inflamed, cause war. Thus far neither religion nor education has wiped them out. But it's about time the human race gave top place on its agenda to their eradication, if men have any idea of making peace, plenty and two chickens in every atomic-energy cook-stove permanent phenomena on the face of the earth.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

Surpluses and Free Enterprise

A reader of this column writes, "What is the use of producing when the enormous surplus in the hands of the producer breaks him, or as in the case of the war surplus, endangers our system of free enterprise?"

The answer, of course, is that there is absolutely no use of producing more of something than what other people will freely give equal value for.

But surpluses of some things and underproduction of other things are largely due to government laws that fool producers as to what people who are able to pay for things want produced. Such laws as tariffs, banking laws that direct capital into unneeded channels, excise taxes, progressive income taxes taking capital out of the hands of men with foresight, minimum wage laws, maximum hour laws, social security laws and discriminatory labor laws all fool the producer and cause production to become unbalanced. This causes us erroneously to think we can overproduce.

Free enterprise is the self-regulating method of telling all the people what the public wants more or less produced. People vote for different kinds of production by the price they are willing to pay. If the price is high, they are telling the producers to produce more. If the price is low, they are telling the producers to produce less of this commodity and more of something they will pay more for.

Of course there can never be overproduction of everything. There can be overproduction of almost every material thing as compared to the production of other things. That is, its value per unit is less. It will exchange for less of other commodities.

Those who oppose free enterprise and are thoughtlessly advocating government regulation by so doing are implying that the state knows better what should be produced and the amount that should be produced than all the people together know. History proves this to be an error.

Another thing that most people who are advocating more or less government planning fail to realize is that the supply at a price always precedes the demand. People want things but they are not willing to pay the price until some entrepreneur furnishes a supply at a lower price. Then there is a demand.

The big part of free enterprise is that it permits all men to use their initiative, to use their wits and foresight, in judging in advance what people will want and supplying them with what they will want at the price they will pay. Free enterprise permits all people to try while a planned economy permits only those the bureaucrats select to try. Free enterprise is impartial and rewards good judgment and lets bad judgment suffer for its errors. Men reap what they sow.

So under a free economy the amount of waste resulting from small perishable surpluses going to waste is infinitely smaller than it would be when the government tries to regulate production by any method such as price controls. Remember there is no possible danger of overproduction of everything because men's wants increase much more rapidly than their ability to supply them.

So let us have more production of what people want who have purchasing or voting power to buy what people produce. If one wants to produce something that men want who have no voting power—no purchasing power — because they have no production, that is the producers own error and free men must suffer for their own mistakes.

More and more production guided by prices and profits under a free economy or market is who will raise the real wages of people and reduce poverty.

News Behind the News

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

BRICKS—American home building has been held up for at least six months by internal dissension within the office of price administration, although the building industry had been counted on to provide both employment and lodging for many thousands in the immediate postwar era. But the deadlock has finally been broken by a revolt within the blockading agency.

Ever since V-E day, the makers of brick petitioned OPA for a ten percent increase in the price of the bricks so that they could afford a fifteen percent rise to their workers. They did not receive boom wages during the war, and even their employers agreed that higher living costs entitled them to a fatter pay envelope. There is also the fear that the brivkmakers, may enter other trades unless they can get more money.

The ten percent boost in the cost of brick, according to official testimon, would entetain only an extra thirty-five dollars on a six-thousand-dollar house. The additional cost on public buildings and veterans' hospitals is estimated at only one-fifth of one percent.

DAWDLED—Although the delay in acting on these requests prevented contractors from going ahead on ordered jobs, OPA officials dawdled over a settlement for months. But the showdown came at a housing conference here last week.

Denouncing key OPA-ers as "meddlers and bureaucrats", several top officials resigned in protest against the present policy. They spoke up in meeting in favor of a higher wage for the brickamkers and a compensatory increase for the manufacturers.

This squabble highlights the difficulties which will dog recovery unless some overweening federal officials—there are not many—keep hands off the nation's economic machine. In this case both labor and management had reached an agreement that promised to benefit everybody. But OPA resorted to technicalities to forstall positive action.

PERMITS—Among those who quit or were forced out in the scuffle was Karl Matchiason, head of the construction and building trades price branch. For some reason he wanted to keep this vital industry under the thumb of the government.

He was the co-author of a confidential memo recommending that private home builders be required to obtain permits from the OPA before undertaking from the OPA beso insisted that they furnish appraisals of cost to the OPA before they could dig a cellar. It is this sort of bureaucratic mentality that delayed any decision on the price-and-wage question for six months.

The protests and resignations, however, forced OPA to back down. The key problem—the granting of pay increases which will necessitate a small upping in prices—has been referred to Economic Stabilizer William H. Davis. It is understood that his sympathies are with the bricklayers as against the bureaucrats.

FFANCS—American soldiers in Paris and other French cities are being gypped on purchases of everything from a lunch to cheap jewelry because of the artificial rate of exchange which the United States treasury established in order to replenish de Gaulle's finances. Key army officers have protested against the lopsided monetary arrangement, but to no avail so far.

Soon after the invasion of Normandy, when our boys had a chance to spend their pay in villages and the smaller communes, President Roosevelt and former Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., fixed the rate at fifty francs to the dollar of American occupation money.

Every returning economist and military man, not to mention the suffering soldiers, avows that the franc should be worth only about two hundred to dollar.

Instead of its arbitrary evaluation at two cents, it should be fixed at only one-half of one cent. In short, the price set on French currency was dictated by political rather than financial considerations. Our boys overseas are paying tribute to the bank of France.

HARDSHIP—Mr. Roosevelt figured that he had good reasons for overhauling the franc, even though his decision has worked hardship on our soldiers. He thought that this small contribution to a healthy France was more important than easy financing of a soldier's weekend in Paree.

If F. D. R. made the franc too cheap in terms of doughboy money, there was the danger that our men would strip the local shops of goods which the native populace sorely needed. Behind this monetary policy also was the theory that if our occupation troops could not buy abroad they would send their money home for safekeeping for themselves and their families.

But it is not an easy task to sell those ideas to youngsters on leave after the rigors of the battlefield. They rarely write home without mentioning the "greed of the French," blaming their predicament on the natives as their fathers did more than twenty-five years ago. The arrangement has not made for good feeling.

Note: Unless this rate of exchange is altered, bringing it more in line with financial realities, American manufacturers seeking to do business in France will suffer the same injustice that our servicemen do now.

The vital and hotly debated question of how much military, naval and air strength shall be maintained in the Orient by America and her Allies—not only in Japan but in other strategic areas—isn't one which can be answered with any degree of security at this juncture.

Quite apart from defeated Japan, the whole Far East is in such a state of political ferment that it would take the seventh son of the seventh son of a major prophet to foretell what may be required. The only thing which can be said with assurance now is that the situation is highly explosive and that an upheaval in any one of several zones might precipitate trouble elsewhere.

If it were only Japan the Allies had to worry about, the position would be easier. But war's end has released over East Asia a Pandora's box of ills—with hope alone remaining.

The most dangerous of all the cases—the threat of civil war in China between the Chinese communists and the nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek — happily is reported to have eased greatly in the past few days. The authoritative Chungking newspaper Ta Kung Pao announces that the government and the communists have reached an agreement to cooperate, "on the basis of equal position" under Generalissimo Chiang for the reconstruction of China.

Meantime in India, with its 400,000,000, the political parties continue to agitate for independence from England. The Indian national congress (Mahatma Gandhi's organization) has met in Bombay and adopted a resolution asserting that freedom not only for India, but for Malaya, Indo-China and the Indonesian islands (Java, Sumatra and so forth) is essential to avoid "sowing the seeds of a future war." The resolution condemned the "imperialist domination of these countries," thereby hitting not only at Britain but at Holland and France.

Peter Edson's Column:

ABOUT ALUMINUM POT-SHOTS AND PANS

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Having received seven army-navy E's for excellence in producing over 90 per cent of the aluminum used in the war against the axis, Aluminum Company of America has, in the past week or so, received as a further tribute from a grateful government four socks in the jaw. Only three have been actually delivered, but the fourth punch has been telegraphed ahead and is now starting its swing from the floor.

1. The reconstruction finance corporation canceled the leases under which Alcoa had been operating five government plants.

2. A senate small business subcommittee, headed by Tom Stewart of Tennessee, issued a report with an 18-point program for disposal of light metals plants, emphasizing that the government should foster competition to Alcoa.

3. Attorney General Tom Clark sent a report to congress recommending that Alcoa be broken up into a number of competing companies.

4. Still to come is a report to congress from the surplus property board, expected to recommend creation of private competition to Alcoa or, if that cannot e done, continued government operation of plants in competition to Alcoa.

RFC OUTSMARTED ITSELF AND GOT STUCK

Anyone speaking a kind word for a big corporation is subject to suspicion in new deal Washington but an unbiased conclusion on this four-way attack on Alcoa is that the government may have outsmarted itself.

When RFC canceled Alcoa's contract to operate five government plants, it was anticipated Alcoa would protest. Alcoa had made offers to buy two of the plants at Jones Mill and Hurricane Creek, Ark. These are the only offers to buy RFC has received. But RFC decided it could not sell or lease to Alcoa because that would contribute to Alcoa's dominant position in the industry. When Alcoa said "OK" the RFC and surplus property boys were thrown on their haunches. They are now stuck with two more plants which might have been disposed of.

Attorney General Clark's report, recommending that Alcoa be dissolved as Standard Oil was disolved some years ago, is truly senational. What is significant, however, is that in recommendding the reorganization of Alcoa into a number of competing companies, the attorney general came to the conclusion that any government subsidies, profit guarantees of favorable leases to competitors of Alcoa would never solve the problem. "Competition will never become healthy enonugh to stand on its own legs," wrote the attorney general, "if it is dependent on so much nursing and propping by government."

CLARK MAY BE OUT ON A LIMB

The question may be raised as to what right the attorney general has to recommend that any corporation be dissolved. Not even congress can order a corporation dissolved. That is something for the courts, and in Alcoa's case it cannot be decided until the government-owned plants are disposed of and the post-war degree of Alcoa's dominance in the aluminum business can be determined. Clark's gratuitous opinion may therefore be considered prejudicial to the case. And if the government can't dispose of the surplus plants, the case drags on forever.

There is a further ball-up, in that Clarks' report to congress knocks out the props to the RFC, small business committee and surplus property board ideas for setting up and backing other competitors of Alcoa.

Reynolds Metals, Henry Kaiser, Columbia Metals and the Olin corportation are all reported to have made tentative offers to operate surplus aluminum plants on a lease basis, the government guaranteeing profits and assuming losses if any.

The net result of this battle royal, in which four departments of government have ganged up on Alcoa, is to create confusion instead of stability in the aluminum industry. That is how the government has outsmarted itself.

Don't let your desire to acquire outdo your desire to enjoy.

'It Was Fun, So What?' Declare Young Criminals

Reprinted from The Oklahoman
By EDITH JOHNSON

Where were the parents of the four teen-age boys who have been engaged in a campaign of holdups, automobile theft and slugging? How were the fathers and mothers of that quartet occupied while their boys, absent from home, were living in hotel rooms, sleeping in the morning, looking at crime movies in the afternoon and going on a criminal rampage at night—such is the story of their activities as given to the police.

Have not the parents of these boys cared much about what their sons were doing? In what sort of homes have the boys grown up? What led to one of them having a previous criminal record? And they are not the only boys who have been committing of late an unusual number of burglaries and other criminal offenses. What would be the nature of the case histories their homes and schools could produce?

Are their depredations but a few among many ushering in that post-war crime wave predicted last month by the federal bureau of investigation? During the past year the FBI estimates that a major crime was committed every 22 seconds and that 22 per cent of all criminal offenses were the work of boys and girls under 21 years old.

"Fun" is the excuse given by a large percentage of young offenders the country over. When asked by the police if they do not realize they cannot steal cars, stage holdups and commit burglaries and get away with such conduct many of them reply pertly:

"It was fun, so what?"

A strange idea of fun, but perhaps the majority of those unfortunate boys and girls have not had much acquaintance with other and better types of fun. Maybe there was no fun in their homes, nothing cheerful or happy or heartwarming. Maybe there was no place in the neighborhood where they could enjoy wholesome play, no social life to provide that bit of pleasure all young creatures crave. Perhaps those youngsters have heard too much about "the goozze racket" or the "snatch racket" and were incited to start a racket or two of their own.

Although J. Edgar Hoover does not want to 'beat the drums of disaster," as he says, he is not very hopeful about the future unless homes, schools and churches should pool their efforts and their resources on a larger scale to befriend and protect American youth.

Mr. Hoover believes that if the American home were re-established, if the greater number of churches had more realistic programs and if the majority of schools placed greater stress upon honest living, most of the causes of crime could be eradicated. The program of crime is the problem of youth. If it is not dealt with successfully by parents, schools and churches it will not be solved at all, he says. Police courts of justice, and penal institutions are not concerned primarily with crime prevention.

Parents have their children the greater part of the 24-hour day—or they should have them. Theirs, therefore, is the first opportunity to teach and guide their boys and girls. Development of good character is essentially their job, one they should not try to shift to the schools. Schools, however, can effectively teach children at a very early age to respect law and obey it. They can help parents to convince children that sound character is a priceless asset, one of far greater value to the individual and to the community than either brilliant achievement or material possessions.

Home and school together can divert crime of all glamor, showing the criminal to be what he is, a weak member of society, not a strong one, an uncivilized creature who for all his boasting and defiance derives little satisfaction from his anti-social activities. There is no substitute for training the young to be honest, just, kindly and industrious. If the agencies that can give that training should fall, where then shall we be?

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
Consolidated News Features

A beauty expert has advised women who had jobs in war plants to spruce themselves up if they want to work in offices. No more bandanas and baggy slacks. And no more lunchboxes full of those big he - man sandwiches. If they want to be secretaries and stenographers they'll have to become ladies again and eat normal things for lunch like banana splits with crushed strawberries.

Gracie

I guess she's right. But it wont' be easy for some of the girls to change. Slacks are so comfortable. And they don't spoil your fun, even when walking behind a girl who's wearing them, men seem to have a sixth sense that tells them they're not whistling at another man.

The jobs won't seem as important, either. After a girl has stuck rivets in airplanes, she may feel pretty silly for a while sticking commas in a letter, or plugs in the wrong connections on a switchboard.

Turkey Day Tangle Is Here Again---

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Here comes that turkey day tangle again.

Even Washington doesn't know whether Americans will celebrate their first peacetime thanksgiving in four years once—or twice.

It seems there's five Thursdays this November. By federal law, Thanksgiving is the fourth one.

But sovereign states may pick their own dates. Last November—also five Thursdays — the nation was pretty well mixed up about its traditional day of thanks.

The question: Who's got the final sayso, congress or state governors.

And nobody can give the answer, it seems, except the nine men of the U. S. supreme court, who may some day be asked to decide once and for all just who is the final authority on declaring holidays.

LOVE BRAVES an ATOM BOMB

SAFETY IN THE WEST

VIII

THE STORY: Carolyn and Robert agree that the X-999 must remain a secret and the remaining portion safeguarded against danger. Leana Sormi comes to Robert's office. Carolyn overhears her impassioned plea to Robert to seize the power that is theirs. "Together we can be the man and the woman of the ages."

AT the end of Leana's melodramatic speech to Bob, Carolyn had wanted to interrupt. But a latent, creeping fear of the woman with the foreign name had somehow become intensified in that quarter-hour. It was a senseless fear, she told herself. Leana probably was just wrought up over everything.

But no; no, she wasn't either. She spoke too earnestly, too impressively; plainly she had been thinking all this out. Plainest of all now was the fact that Leana loved Dr. Robert Hale.

"She's crazy about him!" Carolyn half whispered to herself.

A flash of practical reasoning told her instantly to quit this strange new secretarial job and go back to her old position in the bank or find a new routine somewhere with good, solid Ken Palmer. Ken, the kindly plodder who loved her sincerely, but who had no more color than the bookkeeper he was.

She knew in the same instant that she would never do that now. If all the X-999 in Bob's laboratory was about to blow up in her face she'd still stick to this new job, even though she couldn't have said why. Here was too much potential; a lot had already happened, and every hour gave promise of a great deal more. It was like being in a mystery play.

Intuition rather than practicality also prevented her from revealing her presence to Leana Sormi.

She heard Leana's plea; heard Bob take a courteous, kindly, but somewhat superficial reaction to it, giving Leana very little to tie to. Leana worked herself into tears and so fled rather abruptly.

Bob came immediately to Carolyn's office. Carolyn felt herself blush guiltily, even though she had no actual guilt.

"That was Leana Sormi," he said, unnecessarily. "Did you hear her?"

"Oh. Why—yes." She wouldn't lie about it! "She sounded rather distressed, Bob. Naturally so, of course. At least, I thought I heard her voice indicate that, uh—"

"She will be all right. She is a brilliant woman. Girl. She is only 29. I mean, well, that's a woman, isn't it?" He smiled a bit. "Exactly, when does a girl become a woman, come to think of it?"

"I wouldn't take that up today if I were you. We still have a moving job on hand."

"That's very true. And you were saying you had an idea."

"MY idea was about moving the X-999. It seems to me that the only safe place to store it is away out on the plains or mountains. You said you would need electric power to run the experimental laboratory. I mean, while you and your helpers adapt the stuff to—to factory engines, and trains, and automobiles, and whatever. Isn't that so?"

"Yes."

"Bob, aren't there electric power lines from dams and things on rivers? I saw in the movies, or read somewhere—"

"I see what you mean!"

"Good! There's, well, Boulder Dam. That's in Arizona, isn't it? Mr. O'Malley at the bank used to talk about it. It's a long way from any city. But the electric line runs over mountains and things, and—look, couldn't we maybe get the X-999 out there even before you had a laboratory built? Maybe store it in a cave to ease your mind?

"Goodness, Bob, you'll have no peace as long as it stays in this city laboratory here, you know that. Any nearby farmhouse such as you first chose would be dangerous. But away off—"

"That's the ticket!" Bob had hung one leg on a corner of her desk, half sitting, but he suddenly got up to walk back and forth as he did when intent on anything. "That's exactly the right hunch, Carolyn. "You're a dream!"

That startled her a bit. She looked quickly at him. But he was gazing off, planning. It had been simply a careless word of thanks.

FOR another hour he did a great deal of thinking out loud. During that time he ordered maps brought in. He surveyed the western half of the United States with minute care, measuring the distance to cities, calculating mileages, estimating what his laboratory needs would be out there and how best to meet those needs.

"Okay, I shall catch a plane tonight," he suddenly announced, relaxing. "I don't know why I never thought of this myself. I was reared out there, you know. I can—"

"Were you, Bob? In the West?" Carolyn showed new interest in him.

He nodded. "In Colorado. B. S. degree from Colorado U. I'm practically a cowboy." He laughed at that. "I really can ride, Carolyn. Could, I mean. When I had time. In the last year or two—"

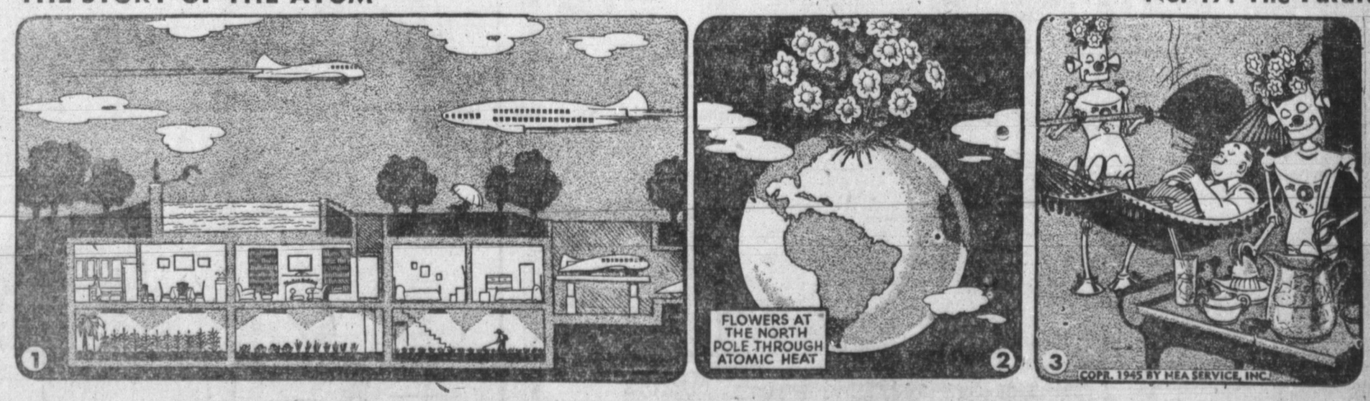

He ended a bit wistfully, she thought. But she studied him anew. That rearing accounted for a lot of his physical appearance and his mannerisms. A boy from the West!

"Of course, every conceivable care must be exercised in moving it and, of course, I shall do it myself." He was back at work again. "There must be no mistake this time."

THE STORY OF THE ATOM

No. 17: The Future

(1) Atomic power, plus radar, television, facsimile broadcasting, jet propelled planes, and many other advances in science, such as penicillin and sulfa drugs that quickly cure disease, should bring new living through a closely knit world. Peacetime uses of atomic power may permit the manufacture of useful machines at a fraction of their present cost, and their operation at less than one-tenth the price of the cheapest hydro-electric power available today.

One pound of U-235, source of atomic power, has potential atomic energy equal to 5,000,000 pounds of coal and 3,000,000 pounds of gasoline. Miracles in reclamation of the soil are possible. With this cheap power, water from the ocean may be piped to deserts, after being freed of its salt at small expense. The new power may enable the farmer to provide not only water but heat for his soil, so that he can create his own weather. Atomic power may bring many changes in man's mode of living. He may find it more convenient to build well-lighted air conditioned cities underground with beautiful parks, forest and farm lands on the ground above. A trip to the country, to summer's sun and winter's snow, would mean a ride of a few feet in an elevator.

(2) Minerals for the production of glass, aluminum, magnesium and other building materials, abound throughout the earth, needing only great sources of power to refine them. With these materials, areas of many acres may be enclosed in glass. Constructed in the polar regions, the tropics or on the mountains, these structures might surround resorts to help people to a vigorous and more adventurous life. The resorts may be reached in a few hours by atomic-powered jet-propelled planes.

(3) Many fantastic projects to make life more easy and comfortable have been suggested. How soon will some of these be possible? The government appointed a special committee of scientists to investigate the peacetime possibilities of atomic power, and the first report is the atomic power "for special purposes" could be developed in 10 years.

The End.

2nd Halted Nazis With Cooks, MPs

By NEA Service

On D-Day plus 1, June 7,1944, in the teeth of vicious, accurate enemy shellfire which blanketed the shoreline, the doughboys of the Second infantry division hit the beach at St. Laurant sur Mer in Normandy. This was the second time that the men who wear: the Indian Head on their shoulders had flung themselves against German might on French soil. In World War I, the Second fought in every major engagement, suffering one-tenth of all casualties in American armies.

Once on the beach in Normandy, the Second, whose slogan is "Second to None," slashed forward. For 70 consecutive days the division fought against crack enemy forces, including the formidable Third parachute division. The Indian Heads were instrumental in the fighting around St. Lo that led to the breakthrough out of Normandy, and were credited by Lt.-Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, then its corps commander, with having been largely responsible for victory in the savage battle of the hedgerows.

The Second had pieced the Siegfried Line when, in mid-December, von Rundstedt launched his counter-offensive. Cooks, clerks and MPs were thrown into the lines, and the Second held its ground.

The Indian Heads resumed their march, spilling into Germany, and VE-Day found them in Czechoslovakia.

Should the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bills, now before Congress, become law the patient would be deprived of his right to select his own doctor and the physician would forfeit the right to choose his own patients, according to Dr. S. E. Thompson of Kerrville, Chairman, Board of Trustees of the State Medical Association of Texas.

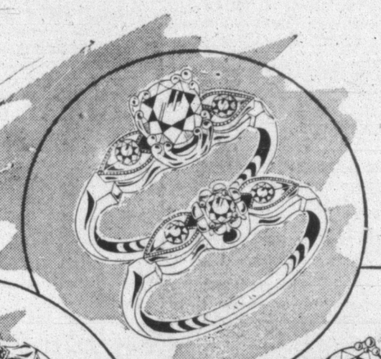

"Wagner - Murray - Dingell bills have as their aim the complete socialization of American medicine," Dr. Thompson says. "Such a law would destroy entirely the time honored relationship and confidence between doctor and patient. The public would be subjected to a direct pay roll tax of 8 per cent on all salaries and 5 per cent on self employed incomes, up to $3,600 a year. This would create a huge tax fund of 8 or 10 billion dollars of which more than 3 billions would be devoted to compulsory health insurance and medical care. Doctors may be assigned through some Federal Medical bureau. They then would go where they were told by the Federal bureaucrat in charge and their fees would be regulated by Federal law. If your child were ill you would probably have to call the Federal medical bureau and take any doctor who might be assigned to you. Americanized medicine is famed the world over for its self sacrifice and devotion. During the present generation the life span of the average man has been extended through the scientific skill of American doctors. Diseases such as smallpox, typhoid and malaria have been successfully coped with and we are well on the way toward winning the long drawn out battle against tuberculosis, cancer and infantile paralysis. The socialistic legislation now before Congress would wipe out all of these achievements and make of American medicine just another Federal Bureau where initiative and scientific progress would be sadly handicapped."

These bills should be opposed by every thoughtful citizen in the interest of public health and welfare.

Truman, Pals Take Political Party Outing

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 22—(AP)—President Truman and 75 other picnic-bound democrats left the naval academy dock at 9:05 CWT today for Jefferson Island and an old fashioned political party outing.

The party boarded the SS Maryland, a converted coast guard cutter now used as a pilot boat, for the 18-mile trip to the Jefferson Island club.

They had driven over from Washington, where they left the White House at 7:30 a. m., proceeding at a 30-mile-an-hour pace. In the President's party were John W. Snyder reconversion duirector; Leslie Biffle, secretary of the senate; Stephen P. Early, former presidential secretary; Brig. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, military aide; and Robert E. Hannegan, postmaster general and democratic national chairman, and George Drescher, chief of the White House secret service detail.

In other cars were Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson; George E. Allen, liquidation advisor; Fresidential Secretaries Matthew J. Connally and Charles G. Ross, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach; and Donald M. Nelson, former WPB chairman.

At the dock were several dozen members of congress, Attorney General Tom Clark, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and others.

Army Officer Is Convicted for Murder of Wife

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 22—(AP)—Lt. Samuel C. Epes, 27, was today convicted with mercy recommended, of the state's accusation of poisoning his pretty young wife.

Life imprisonment is the mandatory sentence.

The jury deliberated the fate of the handsome young officer for three hours.

It's verdict came at 5:15 p.m. (EWT), in a courtroom crowded to overflowing with curious, eager spectators, mostly women, who avidly had followed progres of the trial since it opened Monday.

Epes showed no emotion as he heard the verdict, remaining calm, as he has throughout the trial.

Chief Defense Counsel Edgar A. Brown immediately moved for a new trial. Judge A. L. Gaston said he would hear the motion argued Monday.

The case reached its climax without the defendant, son of a wealthy and aristocratic Virginia family, taking the stand.

By this maneuver the defense got in the last appearance before the jury with State Senator Edgar A. Brown, noted criminal lawyer, making an impassioned plea.

Brown reiterated the defense contention that the state, despite a long parade of witnesses, had failed to produce any evidence which went beyond Epes' own statement to officers when he was arrested.

Epes at that time admitted that in a moment of panic he buried his pretty young school teacher wife in an abandoned foxhile after she died from an overdose of sedative.

There certainly is need for some centralized government bureau to clarify the entire reconversion picture for the small business man and tell him how to go about picking up the loose ends left by war cancellations.—Herbert L. Carpenter, New York City.

House Committee Okays Loan to Elliott Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Amid republican cries of "whitewash," the house ways and means committee voted today to refer the Elliott Roosevelt "bad debt" case to the house without further investigation now.

Republican members wrote a minority report demanding further inquiry.

Committee democrats pushed through 14 to 10 a motion by Chairman Doughton (D-NC) which:

1. Holds that John Hartford, grocery chain official, is "justified" in claiming a tax deduction on $196,000 he lost on a $200,000 loan to the late president's son. Committeemen estimated the deducton would mean about $40,000 to Hartford in actual cash.

2. Sends to the house more than 800 pages of evidence and testimony regarding the case for filing as a public document. That will make the reports on Elliott's transaction available in full for the first time.

Doughton told newsmen "this winds up the case." He added, however, that the committee might consider later the question of whether Elliott should pay income tax on the $196,000.

Committee republicans protested heatedly against the decision in the minority report made public by Rep. Knutson (R-Minn).

Texan Relates Prison Horrors

By S/SGT. WALTER F. MACKIE
Marine Corps Correspondent

OKINAWA, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Marine Pfc. Walter C. Allen, 26, of Maxahachie, Texas, said that Japanese police told American prisoners of war the crews of B-29s forced to bail out over Japan were executed immediately.

Allen, who was an American legation guard in Peking, China, spent 44 months as a Jap prisoner.

"Three B-29s were shot down over Moji (Kyushu), Allen said. "I saw some of the crew bail out, and their parachutes opened. I asked the guards at our camp what would be done with the flyers. They told me that they would be executed as soon as they were captured."

The Maxahachie marine, a graduate of Boyce high school in 1938, didn't have a chance to avoid capture in Peging. He was one of 96 marines who were detailed to guard the legation building. There were 75,000 Japanese troops in the city when the war broke and the marines were swamped by the enemy.

Allen worked as a farmer in Shanghai for a year and said he received "fairly good" treatment and food. The lot of prisoners in Allen's company changed for the worst in December, 1942, when they were transferred to the Moji iron works.

"I saw one man beaten to death by Jap soldiers," Allen said. "He was caught shaking the lice out of his blanket in the hall outside the barracks. A guard attacked him with a rifle and beat him so badly that he died two days later."

Daisy is so dumb sho doesn't know the difference between a West Pointer and an Irish Setter.

Harvesters Run Roughshod Over Midland 25 to 6

Green and Gold Absorbs 125 Yards in Penalties in Game

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
News Sports Editor

Even though they were penalized 13 times for a total of 125 yards, the Pampa Harvesters trounced the District 3AA Midland Bulldogs 25 to 6 on a damp turf at Midland Friday night.

Randall Clay and George Johnson paced the Harvester attack, accounting for three of the four touchdowns made by Pampa.

The victory left the Harvesters with a record of two wins and no losses. Electra fell to Pampa last week 14 to 7.

Next game on the schedule is with the Class A Phillips Blackhawks who come here Friday night for the third consecutive meeting between the two teams. Pampa has won the two previous encounters—both 13 to 0.

However, Coach Chesty Walker, whose Phillips teams have won 5 and lost 8 in six years, is out to surprise the Harvesters this year. Coaches Otis Coffey and Claude Whittington of the Harvesters will not let up on the practice schedules one bit this week.

Clay took Midland's opening kickoff for 90 yards and a touchdown. Johnson passed to Clay for 40 yards and another, and Johnson again passed—this time to reserve end Lonnie Williams—for 25 yards and another.

Reserve End Bernie Brown capitalized on a Midland error to score the fourth and final touch. Pampa had kicked off to Midland in the fourth period and the ball soared into the end zone. Seeing that no Midland player was going to cover the pigskin, Brown, who played only four minutes, dashed in and fell on the ball.

After the Pampan's initial score, on which the conversion try was blocked, the two teams battled up and down the field. Midland took the ball and ran up three first downs in a row but couldn't get inside the 20-yard stripe.

The half ended with the Harvesters in the lead only 6 to 0 before a huge crowd at Bulldog stadium.

Neither team could draw blood in the third period. Pampa had possession of the ball most of the way, although Midland intercepted one of Johnson's passes to take possession at one point.

In the fourth period, the scoring fireworks opened when Johnson passed 40 yards to Clay for the second Harvester touchdown. Clay's try for extra point went low and the Harvesters were leading 12-0.

Midland came to life, however, and drove to the Harvesters' 20-yard marker where Pampa took possession of the ball on a fumble. Coupled with a series of penalties, two of them for 15 yards each, the Harvester were forced to punt.

Johnson got off a kick from the 20 that was received on the 40 by Bob Cole, Midland fullback.

Cole then proceeded to tear his way through a maze of would-be-tacklers to go across the goal line standing up. Cole tried for extra point but the kick went wild.

Leading 12 to 6, the Harvesters, despite several severe penalties, drove to the Midland 25-yard-stripe from where Johnson heaved the ball to Lonnie Williams for the third Pampa touchdown. Williams went over standing up.

Clay's first kick for extra point was good but the officials called an offside penalty on the Harvesters and the ball was moved back to the 10. Maurice Lockhart centered the ball to Neef, who held, and Clay again placed it squarely between the uprights and the score was 19 to 6.

With two minutes remaining in the game, Brown went through the Midlard team after the kickoff and fell on the ball in the end zone. Clay's kick was blocked.

Several times during the course of the game, the officials were roundly booed by the Midland fans for penalizing the Harvesters too much. Both teams played clean football.

High American Officers Slapped Before Own Men

HONOLULU, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Postscripts to the day's news:

General Wainwrights' Washington disclosures of beatings and indignities at the hands of his Japanese captors surprised few people here. Although little of the story could be told here due to the general's request—at war department orders—it was generally known.

So was one phase of the Japanese treamtent which the general apparently forgot to mention or thought unworthy of note while in Washington. It was that when he and other officers were being slapped and pushed around by the Japanese it was always done in the presence of other American prisoners.

It was perhaps a key to part of the Japanese military character that they thus made a point of arranging it so Wainwright's officers and men would be on hand to witness the public bearing of their beloved general.

Now they've done it—the Honolulu chamber of commerce normally is a calm, composed body of men but the army and navy have finally aroused its collective wrath.

Its that report put out by the military service boards concerning their Pearl Harbor investigations. Specifically they're sore about published testimony which alleged there was a lack of local civilian cooperation during those critical prewar days. They feel the implication is that much of the blame for the Pearl Harbor debacle thus rests on local civilian shoulders.

And they say it isn't so. Furthermore they wrote a letter which said that such criticism "is unjustified and presents a wholly unfair and distorted picture."

The letter was sent to the chairman and members of the joint congressional committee which is probing the Pearl Harbor attack.

Even the prospect of the world coming to an end can't get GI minds off what has been the number one subject in these parts ever since V-J day.

Yesterday the army newspaper Stars and Stripes carried a story about a Pasadena, Calif., retired missionary, Charles Long, predicting that the world would simply fly apart in all directions in a matter of three or four days.

A GI written headline over the story said simply:

"Everyone will be discharged Friday when the world goes poof—points or no points."

'Fisticuffs' Highlight Berlin's 'Bomb Bowl' Grid Game Saturday

BERLIN, Sept. 22—(AP)—American football, with all its homegrown trappings — including fisticuffs and a near riot—made its bow in war torn Berlin today in a "bomb bowl" game won by the 1105th combat engineer group over Group council, 18 to 7. A crowd of 8,000 persons, including American, Russian and French generals, saw the game.

The disturbance came midway of the fourth quarter when the two coaches, Capt. Charles Nardello, of Astoria, N. Y., and Capt. Edward Pexa, Montgomery, Minn., charged onto the gridiron protesting a decision.

The headlinesman, Capt. Paul C. Turner, of New York, ordered them off. Words were passed and Turner tried to take a swing at Nardello. Players intervened before any blows were struck.

On the next play, players from both teams began mixing it on the field while yelling GI's swarmed down on the field to participate. MP's separated the belligerents within a few minutes. There was no further demonstrations.

After the game, played on the field of the Berlin Soccer club, German civilians swarmed into the stands to pick up cigarette butts.

For Russian General Shabalin, who never before saw a football game, it didn't make much sense, but he stood on his chair like everybody else on close plays.

Pete Watkins, Wichita Falls, Texas, played right end for the groupers. Capt. D. S. Perkins of Brownsville, Texas, umpired.

St. Mary's Gets First Big Upset

BERKLEY, Cal., Sept. 22—(AP)—St. Mary's Gaels scored the first big upset of the 1945 football season today when they defeated the University of California Bears 20-13. A crowd of 70,000 fans saw the favored Bears beaten by the lighter, but faster foe.

Cornell Trounces Syracuse 26 to 14

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 22—(AP)—Cornell's Big Red trounced Syracuse's Orangmen 26 to 14 today before an estimated 22,000 spectators who turned out for the 1945 debut of the two gridiron foes.

Northwestern Wins From Iowa State

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 22—(AP)—Northwestern successfully opened its gridiron season today by overwhelming Iowa State, 18 to 6, in a driving rain. The cyclones averted a shutout in the last three minutes with Gene Phelps scoring from the two-yard line after tossing three passes for 44 yards.

During colonial times Guatemala included all territory now known as Central America, as well as the southern tip of Mexico.

Three hundred thousand pairs of canvas-top jungle boots, no longer a standard issue item, have been converted into athletics shoes for use by patients in general and convalescent army hospitals.

Longhorns Win From Bergstrom

AUSTIN, Sept. 22—(AP)—Pushing over a touchdown in the last six minutes of play, the Texas Longhorns defeated the massive Bergstrom field troop carriers, 13-7 to open the season here today.

Freddie Brechtel, 160-pound navy transfer from Rice and Southwestern, engineered the 53-yard drive which was climaxed by big Arthur Sweet plunging over for a touchdown from the 4-yard line.

Brechtel tossed a 22-yard pass to Munroe Harrelson, A. T. C. U. letterman last year, for a 7-0 lead in the second quarter, but Bergstrom field tied the score late in the third period on Walter Davis' fourth-down drive and Owen Price's successful conversion.

The Longhorns rolled up 14 first downs while Bergstrom was gathering seven. In the yards from scrimmage department, Texas had a 4 to 1 edge, gathering 240 while the Troop Carriers were getting 61.

Both teams took to the air-lanes several times during the game because the lines of both the Carriers and the Longhorns are heavy. The Texas eleven passed 17 times—six of them complete—while Bergstrom was hurling 16 times with four completions.

ABOARD BATTLESHIP DUKE OF YORK, en route to Hong Kong, Sept. 13 (Delayed)—(AP)—The TP British seadog in the Pacific is 57-year-old Scottish bachelor who knows his way around with a Russian Balalaika as well as on his majesty's battleships.

He is Admi. Sir Bruce Fraser, whose present assignment as commander-in-chief of the First British Pacific fleet in history, with some 400 ships of all types under his command, crowns 42 years of service in the royal navy.

He began as a 15-year-old "snotty," British navy slang for midshipman, and may well wind up as Britain's first sea lord, the peak of any regular navy man's career.

"Tubby," as fellow admirals call the stocky, five foot eight inch Scot, looks like anything but a ruling English seadog.

He is an easy going, friendly approachable man with gray hair and light blue eyes that really smile. Perhaps because he has never been married and has no children of his own, he is especially kind to junior officers, who normally lead lives in the British navy which at best can be compared with that of a plebe at West Point. They idolize him.

When he isn't at sea, this genial pipe-smoking admiral lives with his aged invalided mother in their modest family home near Hampton palace by the Thames.

Ties between mother and son are exceedingly close and the first thing the British admiralty did after Fraser had finished sinking the German battleship Scharnhorst was to send word of the son's victory to his mother, now in her eighties.

The hour of the battle, Dec. 23, 1943, off north Cape Norway, in the midst of Arctic darkness, Sir Bruce sent the admiralty a two word message, It said: "Scharnhorst sunk."

Similarly, when his ship steamed into Sagami bay at the war's end, he messaged cryptically, "the fleet is anchored in Japanese waters."

I asked one young lieutenant commander to tell me frankly what he thought of Sir Bruce and he said: "I would give my life gladly anytime to save him, and I mean it. I wouldn't say that about any other admiral. I like my own life."

University of Texas Will Offer Degree in Ceramic Engineering

AUSTIN, Sept. 22.—In ceramic laboratories at the University of Texas prospective engineers soon will learn to make those china plates, or that pottery ashtray, or structural products which are used in Texas homes daily.

Begining in November with the opening of the winter term, a new course in the college of engineering, leading to a degree of bachelor of science in ceramic engineering, will be offered. Head of the department will be F. K. Pence, research technologist who has long advocated practical application and use of ceramic minerals in Texas.

The university is the first institution of higher learninp in such a west to offer training in such a field, F. K. Pence, chairman, says. Ceramic minerals are one of Texas' greatest undeveloped resources, he said, and the vast potetialities of such new developments are innumerable.

"Ceramics does not mean simply the production and decoration of all objects formed by the molding, modeling, and firing of clay," Mr. Pence said. "It has a much wider significance, and now applies to the technology of the earthy or nonmetallic minerals, including nearly all mineral products except ores and minerals of arganic origin."

The ceramic industry as it will be taught at the university will embrace the manufacture of a great variety of products which utilize raw materials from the non-metallic field, Mr. Pence said.

Among these products are the following: Tableware: china and porcelain ware, such as electrical, sanitary, and chemical porcelain; floor and wall tiles, both vitreous and semi-vitreous; all types of glass products, containers, structural and tableware glasses; structural products glazed; Portland cement, dental cements; fused silica and magnesia ware; enameled metals and sanitary ware; insulating materials; abrasive materials; rare earth products, such as mantels and tips for gas burners; refractories, bricks, and standard shapes manufactured from clays and other materials.

Tigers Smash Browns 9-0 As Newhouser Spaces Four Hits

By GAYLE TALBOT

DETROIT, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Tired of beinig cuffed about and accused of "backing" into the American league pennant, the Detroit Tigers put on a noble display of power for more than 30,000 home fans today as they battered the St. Louis Browns, 9 to 0, behind Hal Newhouser's four-hit pitching and retained their game and a half lead over Washington.

There was joy in the Tiger clubhouse after the final out. The leaders figured that just about did it. The Tigers can clinch the flag tomorrow by winning the series final from the Browns if the Senators should drop their closing pair to the Athletics in Philadelphia. Or, they could assure themselves a tie by winning while the Nats broke even.

Newhouser, notching his 23rd victory of the campaign against nine defeats, hurled one of his finest games of the year as he scattered the four St. Louis hits over as many innings. The Browns got only two runners to second and none as far as third.

Newhouser's bat also figured prominently in the victory that revived the Bengal's spirits after three straight losses. He pounded in a run with a long triple in the second and then blasted his starting opponent, Bob Munchief, from the hill with a two-run double in the third frame, in which the Tigers scored seven times.

The loss, incidentally, elimated the Browns from the pennant scramble.

Oklahoma Takes Season Opener From Hondo AAF

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 22—(AP)—Two long runs accounted for a pair of touchdowns and a forward pass figured in the third as the University of Oklahoma defeated Hondo, Texas, army air field 21 to 6 in football today.

Although Oklahoma, big six conference champions, scored in the first quarter and led all the way, the safe margin was gained by two touchdowns in the last period. The fourth string backfield was playing when the last touchdown was made.

Bill Irvin raced 63 yards from T formation for the first Oklahoma score and Bob Bodenhamer placekicked the point. That lead held up until midway in the second quarter when George Boner sliced through the line for a Hondo score, climaxing a 20-yard drive that began after a pass interception. But Ivan Cunningham missed the kick for the point and the half ended 7 to 6 for Oklanoma.

John Steward raced 45 yards for the second Oklahoma score and Jack Venable made the third with a 3-yard stab off tackle after a 15-yard pass helped in a drive from the Hondo 30-yard line.

Ernie Pyle Died Trying To Help 2 Wounded Yanks

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(AP)— A Tennessee GI, who says he forced the suicide of the Jap sniper who killed War Correspondent Ernie Pyle, declared today that Pyle was shot when he raised his head to see if he could help two wounded men.

T/Cpl. Edward MaCaulay Divine, 42, of Chattanooga, here for hospital treatment, said in an interview he wanted to correct an impression that the correspondent was killed on Ie Shima because he thoughtlessly raised his head after taking cover from the sniper's fire.

"We found two of our boys had been hit by that first machine-gun burst," said Divine, who claimed he was near Pyle at the time. "I raised my head to see if there was anything I could do. Then I saw that Pyle had raised his head, too, with the same intention."

After Pyle was shot, Divine said, he ran forward to get the Jap sniper and finally trapped him in a house.

"When I got to the house where he was hidden," Divine said, "I set it afire with matches—that was all I had. When the fire was blazing in three places, there was an explosion of a hand grenade inside. That was the end of the Jap."

Christopher Columbus became a sailor at the agea of 14.

The creation of an extensive industrial center in any community requires the establishment of machinery and mill supply houses, contract organizations, construction companies and numerous other commercial enterprises.

The growth and development of a city industrially creates an additional market for farm and truck crops, benefiting the agricultural as well as metropolitan area.

Greater diversification and expansion of industry is most essential to the future growth, development and prosperity of Pampa.

The coordination of effort on the part of the entire citizenship is necessary to maintain the success of industries already established here. This is also the prime factor in the establishment of industries in the future.

Predicated on Blanton's survey, Pampa has exceptional manufacturing potentialities for establishment of a number of specific types of new industries to create a more desiragle balance, provide employment and meet the market for new products throughout the city's trade territory and the Southwest.

(Tomorrow, specific types of industries recommended by Blanton will be discussed).

Auto Strikes

board, and Paul Herzog, chairman of the NLRB.

Reuther said he believed the notice was in full compliance with the Smith-Connally act, which provides a 30-day "cooling off" period between the petition and the actual strike vote.

The UAW-CIO action was taken as more than 90,000 workers were made idle by strikes which have halted automobile production in several Detroit plants and have stopped delivery of gasoline into the city.

General Motors, biggest of the auto industry's "big three", was chosen by the UAW as the "most strategic" for presentation of the union's post-war wage and other demands. Reuther recently said that if a demand is won from GM, it is virtually won for the entire industry.

Filing of the strike vote petition spiked reports that one of the other members of the big three—Chrysler corporation or the Ford motor company—might be struck first.

The Ford company already has been closed, but the shutdown was attributed to an unauthorized strike of UAW-CIO local 174 at the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co., and other work stoppages in supplying plants. The Kelsey-Hayes strike, which remained deadlocked at the week's end, has idled 4,500 employes directly and about 50,000 indirectly in the Detroit area.

U. S. Policy

out by a process of removing or destroying industries not needed for essential peacetime supplies.

Even the properties of the emperor himself and of the government are declared subject to the Allied program aimed at making Japan permanently peaceful and stripping the nation of its looted wealth.

Envisaging a possible Japanese revolution, the declaration contains this passage:

"Changes in the form of government initiated by the Japanese people or government in the direction of modifying its feudal and authoritarian tendencies are to be permitted and favored. In the event that the effectuation of such changes involves the use of force by the Japanese people or government against persons opposed thereto, the supreme commander should intervene only where necessary to ensure the security of his forces and the attainment of all other objectives of the occupation."

As to the question of inter-Allied control of Japan, the declaration says this:

"Although every effort will be made, by consultation and by constitution of appropriate advisory bodies, to establish policies for the conduct of the occupation and the control of Japan which will satisfy the principal Allied powers, in the event of any differences of opinion among them, the policies of the United States will govern."

The document also disclosed a sweeping program of arresting "high officials of the Japanese imperial general headquarters, and general staff, other high military and naval officials of the Japanese government, leaders of ultra-nationalist and militarist organizations and other important exponents of militarism and aggression." They are to be held "for future disposition."

Release of the declaration, officially titled "U. S. initial post surrender policy for Japan," was made after Gen. MacArthur's recent estimate that occupation forces could be cut to 200,000 troops six months hence and criticism of that estimate by Washington officials who said that they, rather than the occupation forces, were determining Japanese policy.

Stirring up a debate which reached into congress and delayed senate action on Dean Acheson's nomination as undersecretary of state, this controversy evoked demands as to just what American policy toward Japan is.

The provisions for Japanese political control state that militarism and ultra nationalism, as well as para-military training are to be eliminated from the educational system and that all career officers of the armed forces and all other militarist and nationalist leaders are to be "excluded from supervisory and teaching positions."

The whole thing adds up to revolutionizing Japan from its wartime existence of a militarist, feudalistic empire into a more or less democratic island country stripped of its far-flung conquests and its stolen wealth.

The policy statement was described authoritatively as constituting a set of instructions for the guidance of MacArthur but not amounting to orders. It is supposed to supplement and explain technical orders given to the general as Allied commander.

Three points of guidance for Allied authority in Japan:

1. Military occupation—The forces of other Allied powers "will be welcomed" in the occupation of Japan and every effort will be made to have joint policies for Japan.

2. Relationship to Japanese government—The Japanese government is to be permitted to carry on the normal functions of government domestically but the supreme Allied commander is to be all powerful over the emperor and the government and "the policy is to use the existing form of government in Japan, not support it."

3. Publicity as to policies—General MacArthur is instructed to keep the Japanese and the rest of the world "fully-informed" of the objectives, policies and progress of occupation.

Cash savings of $14,555,000 and conservation of 65,000 tons of heavy gauge steel were realized through quartermaster corps' reclamation of 1,822,000 55-gallon oil and gasoline drums during the first six months of 1945.

Negotiations at Port Arthur between union and management to release stored refinery supplies were stalemated.

The voluntary ration programs involved issuance of ration cards by the international oil workers union when necessity for fuel is proved.

An assertion that two cars crashed the picket line at the Texas company plant in Port Arthur yesterday and that one picket suffered bruises, cames from J. D. Ford, local union official. He did not identify the picket, and the company made no statement.

Withdrawal of pickets from Chicago bulk plants eased the local gasoline situation.

At Tulsa, Okla., H. L. Campbell, OWIU district representative, said there would be no stoppage of work in that section until at least after the Chicago conference.

About 400 members of the OWIU went on strike at Texas City, Texas, today, closing the American Liberty refinery and the Republic Oil refinery. Discussions of wage demands continued between union representatives and the Pan American Oil refinery, where 1,250 are employed.

An appeal to President Truman and other federal government officials to use "fullest influence immediately" to settle the strikes, was made by the Ohio Petroleum Marketers association.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation said farmers in some sections of Ohio faced a serious situation in a decrease of gasoline supplies needed for farm operations.

A picket line was thrown around the Texas City American Liberty plant today and a strike was called at the Republic works shortly before noon. Union officials said Republic was closing down "in an orderly fashion."

Most Houston Sinclair stations said they expected to be out of gasoline by night. They reported heavy sales.

At Beaumont union employes were on record for a strike at the Magnolia refinery.

Down the Texas coast at Corpus Christi, Lee Brown, secretary of the CIO Refinery Workers local, said about 325 union members at Sinclair refinery there would strike at 8 a. m. Wednesday.

Robert D. Blair, president of local 342, OWIU, said that strike votes yesterday at Sinclair and Taylor refining company Corpus Christi plants were overwhelming in favor of a strike. Taylor employs 165.

Knight released the names of 14 of the 19 representatives who will represent the union at the Chicago meeting.

Knight will head the delegation. It will include A. R. Kintsley and Carl Mattern, national vice presidents; E. C. Conarty, national secretary, and Harvey O'Connor, public relations director. The group will leave here by train tomorrow.

Seven district representatives have been named at union headquarters. They include Joe P. Rhodes, Dallas; William Twombley, Beaumont.

Two of the seven representatives to be named by the OWIU districts are T. M. McCormick, Texas City, and Forrest Tillman, Wichita Falls. The others are to be named.

Members of the army nurse corps have been awarded 1,008 decorations since December 7, 1941.

Names of the two pilots were not immediately available.

The warehouse was destroyed and the garage, used by the navy and coast guard, badly damaged.

The other fighter plunged to the street, ricocheted across a parking lot and smashed into the warehouse wall where it burned.

At Texas Tech, Thompson was elected to the Tau Beta Pi fraternity, an honorary organization for recognition of leadership and high scholarship in engineering, and to Alpha Chi, an honorary fraternity for high scholarship in all academic courses.

Thompson, who is licensed with the Texas state board of professional engineers, has had eight years experience in practical engineering.

From 1939 to 1941 he was connected with the Texas highway department working on location of highways, plans and specifications for construction and estimates on costs. He also did construction survey work and supervised the construction of flexible base, asphalt topping, culvert and bridge constructing, earth fills and more such work.

The next two years, Thompson was the U. S. bureau of reclamation where he was in charge of investigating irrigation and power possibilities in the Gunnisson river basin. With the bureau of reclamation he also designed dams, power plants, pipe inverted syphons and irrigation distribution systems.

During the time that the army specialized training division operated a unit at Texas Tech, Thompson was a civilian instructor there.

For the past two years, he has been employed by the Humble Oil and Refining company, Houston, as district civil engineer. This work included supervision of construction of a gas cycling plant near Houston at a cost of ten million dollars.

Other work done for Humble by Thompson was the supervision of the construction of oil field tank batteries, foundations, camp houses, streets, curbs and gutters for camps and location of water supply wells.

Citizenship Will Be Program Topic Girl Scout Week

Girl Scout Week, Oct. 28, to Nov. 3, is being singled out this year as an extra special celebration. Theme for the program will be, "Girl Scouting, Citizenship in Action Around the World."

Girl Scouting has become the largest organization of girls in the world. Through sheer size, alone, it can speak for the youth of America, and youth can speak through it. Scout leaders emphasize.

Girl Scout week this year will mark the first big organizational event in the year of V-E day. The end of the war in Europe has brought Americans face to face with many of the reconstruction and rehabilitation problems which have been anticipated and which leaders have been preparing girls to meet.

The occasion this year will bring the whole work of youth training before the public eye. It can be used also, to tell the Girl Scout story to the many women now being demobilized from wartime activities, many of whom are likely prospects for enlistment in Girl Scouting's patriotic post-war service, it is believed.

JACK BOGAN, RM 1/c

Memorial services for Jack Bogan, RM1/c, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bogan, McLean, will be held at the McLean Methodist church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Word that there was "no hope of the survival" of Radioman Bogan was received by his parents from the navy department last Tuesday. Bogan had been listed as lost in action July 30, 1945, with the sinking of the USS Indianapolis, which was torpedoed between Guam and Layte.

Bogan graduated from the McLean high school in 1939 and entered the service in September, 1942, while a senior at Texas Tech. He was on overseas duty for two and one-half years, two of which were with the Indianapolis. We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT

Ruth Millett

The wife whose husband is on his way from overseas said: "I want us to completely forget these awful years of separation, to erase them from our minds as though they had never happened."

But they shouldn't be forgotten. They should have taught every couple lessons they wouldn't forget if they could. The years of loneliness and fear and sacrifice are bound to have made them think often: "If we are ever together again . . ." And the way that sentence was finished each time it was thought should go into a pattern for their new life together.

Every experience in life teaches its own lessons. And no matter how painful it was at the time, it can be reckoned as a rich experience if the lessons are remembered and carried into future living.

LET'S NOT FORGET

So the families of servicemen should set out not to forget the past few years—but to remember. To remember the plans for a better, happier life, to remember the promise never to worry or fret again over trivialities.

Forgetting an experience leaves that experience a total blank, a hardship gone through with for nothing. Remembering it makes one wiser and consequently capable of building a better life.

Let's not forget — let's remember. That way, at least, we can salvage something from the waste and sorrow and suffering of war.

Committee To Plan Improved Program

Austin, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A committee of five to work out a program for stepping up the tempo of constitutional and governmental education of the youth of Texas went to work today to incorporate preliminary ideas into a tangible plan.

Several things were emphasized at yesterday's organization meeting:

1. That the organization should not be dragged into politics;

2. That its scope might be widened not only to include youth, but all persons in need of instructon on the letter and spirit of the national and state constitutions.

3. That American youth is not sufficiently well-founded in the basic ideas of the American democracy.

Speakers placed emphasis on the "no politics" declaration after Dr. D. C. Patterson, professor of government at the University of Texas, told the group that "a major tendency of our system has been for power to drift into the hands of the executive.

Members of the committee to report back to another session were Townes, Roy Whittenburg of Amarillo, Joe Zappa of Tyler, E. E. Pickett of Liberty, James Shaw of Austin.

The lifetime of the average American, 62.8 years for white males and 67.3 years for white females, is twice as long as that of the average Mexican.

Newspaper Publisher Establishes $100,000 'True Peace' Foundation

TEXARKANA, Ark.-Tex., Sept. 22—(AP)—C. E. Palmer, noted Arkansas-Texas newspaper publisher, announced today the establishment of a $100,000 foundation to contribute to the "true peace for which we as a nation have been striving."

H. W. Stillwell, superintendent of the Texarkana, Texas, public schools will be president of the fund, which will be known as the Palmer foundation.

One of the first projects of the foundation will be to award prizes of $1,000 and $500 for the best proposals which would answer this question:

"How best may be inculcate in young people a consciousness of, and a devotion to, the principles of morality that are embodied in the golden rule—'do unto others as you would have others do unto you?'"

"This is an undertaking which I hope will contribute to the true peace for which we as a nation have been striving," Palmer said. "We have learned by now that peace is not something to be taken for granted but is a condition which can be maintained only by the unselfish devotion of many millions of people. X X X

"The war which has just been concluded was brought about by national and racial selfishness and greed. It is true that we as a nation have been united in the winning of the war. Beyond this, however, our people probably are more disunited than ever before. They are divided into blocs an goupns, all of which are seeking their own selfish ends irrespective of what is best for our citizenship as a whole. The work of our governing bodies is hampered by too many self-seeking pressure groups.

"It is understandable that objection should be raised to the teaching of any religious creed in America's public schools, but surely no sect or creed can take exception to instruction in the personal satisfaction, and the individual and public benefits, that accrue from gauging one's conduct by the golden rule.

"If that principle dominates our thinking and acting, we shall have the soundest possible foundation for peace, between nations and between groups within our country, and for individual peace of mind. X X X

"Starting with a relatively modest sum, the Palmer foundation will undertake to foster this principle which so many profess to cherish but too few have adopted as a guide to living. If, as is so often said, young people no longer attend Sunday schools in the proportions of years gone by, and if it is true that moral instruction is not being given in many homes, then is it not feasible to consider how we might go about making up this deficiency in such a way that no religious belief or creed could be offended?"

Palmer, who was born in Spirit Lake, Iowa, 69 years ago, has had an interest in Arkansas and northeast Texas newspapers for 35 years. In 1909 he came to Texarkana as manager of the Texarkana Daily Courier, which he later acquired. He then established the Texarkana Journal and operated both newspapers until 1926 when he sold his interest.

He and his associates later acquired the News and Times at El Dorado, Ark.; the Sentinel-Record and New Era at Hot Springs; the Camden News; the Hope Evening Star, and in 1934, repurchased the Texarkana papers whose names had been changed to the Gazette and the Daily News.

Youth Searches For Real-Life 'Gary Cooper'

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22—(AP)—Tired and disillusioned, Edward Keith Malcer, 15, returned home by plane today after a 5,000-mile quest for a real-life "Gary Cooper" role in what he imagined was still the wild and wooly west.

"I guess I saw too many cowboy movies," said the quiet, serious-spoken youth as he was welcomed back by his family.

"I went through Texas, Utah Nevada, clear out to the California border, and I only saw a couple of guys who looked like maybe they were cowboys. Anyhow, they were on horses, but they didn't have on chaps, five-gallon Stetsons, six-shooters or anything like you see in the movies."

"I sure was disappointed."

Edward left home nearly three weeks ago with $80 in his pockets and a navy hammock slung over his frail shoulders.

Edward said his biggest thrill came on the plane ride home from San Antonio, Texas., where he was picked up by juvenile authorities.

Junior Colleges Plan To Train Veterans

AUSTIN, Sept. 22—(AP)—Technical training for ex-servicemen in Texas junior college will be mapped at a conference of junior college administrators at the University of Texas, Oct. 10.

Meeting with the administrators will be Dr. C. C. Colvert, professor and consultant in junior college education; Dr. R. A. Burgess, training officer for the veterans' administration; Prof. Walter T. Rolfe, university veterans' advisory service coordinator; Paul E. Spruill, chief of training for the war manpower commission, and Dean W. R. Woolrich, of the college of engineering and chairman of the university's veterans' advisor committee.

Half of Laid Off Workers Reemployed

AUSTIN, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Of 57,424 Texas war industry workers laid off in 16 principal cities between Aug. 14 and Sept. 18 slightly more than half, or 29,424, have been placed in new jobs, the state office of the war manpower commission reports.

The office is preparing a more comprehensive report on layoffs and replacements.

Cleo Payne of Wichita Falls is getting tired of air-minded skunks.

It has gotten to a point where the Wichita Falls Record News comes out with a page one two-column headline reading "powerful pussies persist in passage of Payne's plane."

Payne, a city radio engineer, has a plane. Not long ago as he started to take off a skunk hopped from his plane and a second one leaped out as he taxied down the runway.

Another time he didn't know the striped kitty was aboard until he got up about 3,000 feet. Then his nose knew.

Latest incident occurred recently when men at the airport helped him use fire extinguishers on skunks in his plane. Two abandoned ship. A third just stayed.

Payne finally gave in. He said the skunk had more stamina spirit, and certainly more "scents". He took off with the animal aboard.

Other fliers are beginning to call his plane "Skunk Hollow."

What happens when an irrestible force meets an immovable object?

Any Seabee will tell you a bulldozer is an irresistible force. Oil men will tell you that a heavy pipeline is a pretty immovable object.

A bulldozer crashed into a pineline near Rio Grande City. Oil spurted. The driver cut off his ignition and jumped. But the oil caught fire.

The bulldozer was badly damaged. The pipeline was hardly scarred.

The Circleville philospher in the Taylor times went shopping with his wife. She priced a cotton dress. It was $20.

"I was as statrled as a politician living up to a promise," says the philosopher. "I calculate there must have been a pound of cotton in the dress, which means about 22 cents worth. How the other $19.78 got tacked on is more than I can see. A hundred dollars worth of cotton by the bale makes a hundred thousand dollars by the dress."

Chandler 'Anxious To Revive' School Play

AMARILLO, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A. B. Chandler commissioner of baseball, says he is "very anxious to receive high school play" and that he is trying to put through a rule now to protect the young athletes' eligibility.

Chandler made the statement in reply to a protest filed by the Texas High School Coaches association against scouts from the professional clubs signing athletes before they have finished high school.

Howard Lynch of Amarillo, former president of the association, had written to Chandler on behalf of his organization.

Shamrock Firemen Get Special Instruction

SHAMROCK, Sept. 19 — Chief Frank Williams, College Station, field instructor of the Firemen's Training school, College Station, will be in Shamrock Friday, Sept. 21, to hold a clinic on fire prevention.

It is the plan of the Shamrock volunteer fire department to have Chief Williams hold a demonstration in the city schools during the day, and to conduct a demonstration and drill in a public meeting to be held at the Fire station Friday evening.

Henry Ford II Is President of Ford

DETROIT, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Henry Ford II today became president of the Ford Motor company. He succeeds his grandfather, Henry Ford, who simultaneously announced his resignation.

The younger Ford has been executive vice-president of the company since April 28, 1944.

The elder Ford in his letter of resignation to the directors said:

"I hereby resign the office of president of this company, to take effect upon acceptance. I feel free to take this step at this time because the critical period during which I again assumed office has passed."

Scouting Council Plans Activities Of This District

The Scout masters council for the Gray district met to discuss plans for a district-wide program at a regular monthly meeting held Friday evening. Huelyn Laycock, scout commissioner, had charge of the meeting.

Among the activities planned for all troops in the district will be a Halloween Jambo-Rodeo for all scouts and boys interested in becoming scouts, which will be held the night of October 30. A special campfire program, troop stunts and barbecue will be included.

Lake McClellan will be the camping grounds for the annual fall Camporee to be held October 27-28. All troops of the district will participate.

Council members heartilly approved of having a merit badge exposition during Boy Scout week. The date of the exposition was set for February 9.

As the scouts will continue the collection of waste paper but lack a storage place for it, a committee was appointed at the meeting, with the objectives of locating a probable storage house.

During the evening training session of the council, Frank Walker showed a kodachrome film on the "Patrol Method," a new film in the instruction of leadership.

Council members present at the meeting were W. O. Pruitt, scout master troop four; James A. McCune, scoutmaster, and Stanley Brandt, assistant scout master, both of troop 14; Dr. H. L. Wilder, scout master troop 16; Jack B. Earp, scout master troop 22; Bob Allford, chairman troop 22; E. L. Gallamore, chairman troop 80; Dudley Steele, cub master pack 14; H. O. Olsen, scout executive, and Laycock.

State Ownership Of Tidelands Is Past One Hurdle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Legislation to give the states undisputed claim to ownership of tidelands and submerged lands within their boundaries is past its first major hurdle.

The house passed the bill yesterday 108 to 11 and sent it to the senate.

The only major opposition came in the form of an amendment proposed by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.) to give the federal government control over oil and other mineral deposits in the tidelands and lands beneath navigable waters.

Hobbs said the national program would be impaired unless the federal government retained the reserves of war-essential oil. Rep. Voorhis (D-Calif.) spoke in support of the amendment, which was defeated by a standing vote of 105 to 17.

Supporters of the bill explained that rights to tideland property, including billions of dollars in port and harbor installations, was questioned by a suit filed in federal court in California claiming federal ownership of oil bearing lands off the California coast.

The measure surrenders any federal ownership claim. It was supported by attorneys of 46 states.

The bill was defended by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas), who declared the chief purpose of the measure was to clear up the question of ownership of the submerged lands.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(AP)—The stock barket today continued to suffer from a slight case of chills apparently resulting from bearishness over spreading strikes in the automotive and petroleum industries.

Transfers were about 400,000 shares against 650,000 last Saturday.

Wall Street was somewhat depressed by the threat to reconversion, and consequently to earnings and dividends, involved in the nation's growing labor disputes. Inflation thinking persisted as a bulwark for trends.

On the offside the greater part of the time were Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Anaconda, Westinghouse, American Smelting and International Harvester.

Ahead at intervals were Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, Douglas Aircraft, Allied Chemicals, Kennecott, and American Water Works.

Supported in the curb were Burma Ltd., Kirby Petroleum and Valspar Corp. A soft spot was Graham - Paige preferred.

Chinese Scavenge Everything From Boats in Harbor

By HAL BOYLE

ABOARD THE DUKE OF YORK, Hong Kong—(AP)—No seagulls soar on floppy wings over Hong Kong.

It is the first port I ever saw where no clamoring gulls gave arriving ships a free air escort in return for floating refuse.

"You don't find seagulls in Chinese harbors because the Chinese boat people scavenge everything themselves," a sailor told me. "Gulls would die of starvation here or rather they would probably be caught and eaten."

Steaming into Taihong channel, this big battleship, the flagship of Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser's British Pacific fleet, passed majestically by a series of lovely green clad islands until towering Hong Kong island itself come in view. The surf churned up into white spray at the base of the great wet brown shags.

As we came into the harbor crowded with British aircraft carriers and fleet vessels a mist hung over "the peak" which rises steeply behind Victoria City where the British have established a restricted area, and where natives aren't permitted to build homes.

Marines and sailors stood stiffly at attention on the decks as the Duke of York swept in to anchor, its band playing smartly.

Cheers echoed across the waves from crowds along the waterfront and naked Chinese children in Sampans, tiny boats which are hearth and home for the Hong Kong harbor population, shouted "allo, allo." They sounded like bird cries.

As soon as we had anchored half a dozen sampans pulled up to the side of the battleship and waited expectantly. One contained four Chinese women and flew a red emblem "Jennyside party boat."

I thought at first that this might be some kind of weird floating night club or pleasure craft but British sailors laughingly explained "Chinese on the side party boats clean and paint ship's sides. They can come on board and collect our garbage."

The garbage is their wages. It's an old Hong Kong custom.

All Newsprint Restrictions May Be Lifted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Chairman Boren (D-Okla) of the house newsprint committee announced today the committee has recommended that the war production board lift all government newsprint restrictions effective Dec. 31.

Boren said in a statement that the committee favored a policy of not continuing controls any longer than is necessary.

Newsprint is now allotted to publisheds on a quota basis, by WPB order.

Boren stated:

"While the committee feels that immediate recovation of the order might result in serious maladjustments and might even jeopardize Canada's ability to produce and ship us more newsprint in the fourth quarter, it concluded that, barring unforseen circumstances, the period between now and the end of the year ought to be sufficient to enable both newsprint manufacturers and publishers to make their plans for an orderly and equitable transtion from wartime controls to peacetime free enterprise.

"I am confident that the newspapers of the United States, as well as other consumers of newsprint, will continue their fine wartime record by complying strictly with the limitation order as long as it remains in effect.

Boren said the recommendation concurred with one by the newspaper industry advisory committee.

House committeemen expressed belief WPB would follow the recommendation.

Second Atomic Bomb 'More Spectacular'

TOKYO, Sept. 22—(AP)—America's atomic bombing of Nagasaki Aug. 9 wrought "more spectacular" destruction than the first atom bomb at Hiroshima, said Brig. Gen. James B. Newman, Jr., head of the war department's atomic bomb mission to Japan. There were no measurable signs of radioactivity in the area, however, he reported.

Newman returned from Nagasaki after studying effects of the second and more powerful bomb, and left 17 scientists and medical officers there to complete their observations.

General Newman said, "The Japanese now estimate their death toll at 35,000 to 40,000, with some 80,000 injured.

"Modern structural steel buildings sheathed with steel plate, 2,000 feet from the center of the blast, became a single mass of twisted girders and were completely burned out."

Terrell Elected New President of Student Council

Candidates Stage Final Effort, Skits

Wednesday's assembly became a madhouse when "Vote for Terrell." "Vote for Nellis" and "Vote for Dunham" were stormed out by students campaigning for candidates for student council president.

Jimmy Harrah, campaign manager for Billy Nellis, presented Emmett Forester and Jewel Beckem, who gave a "Sir Walter Raleigh" skit of Nellis' courtesy in his grade school days. Lucille Smith reviewed Billy's past accomplishments and ability while Bill Payne displayed the sign "To the Top with Nellis."

Don Rowe, Jimmy Terrell's manager, spoke on his candidate's ability to lead the school as student council president. Joyce Pratt, Martha Kelley, Frances and Edna Mathieu played bridge, gossiped, and loudly announced their descisions vote for Terrell. Earl Davis and Bob Parkinson added their voices to the Terrell backers.

Bill Hutchinson, Dunham campaigner, introduced Jack to the students and reviewed his past executive experience. Jack publicly thanked Don Humphreys, his art manager, and Charles Beard, his manager, for their support.

Del Belflower acted as master of ceremonies and Dick McCune's orchestra played throughout the program. Members of the orchestra are McCune, Lowell Stark, Orlin Allen, Wesley Gieger, Bob Keller and Barbara Vaughan, accompanist.

F. W. Savage, principal, made administrative announcements, and student announcements were made by Erma Lee Kennedy, Alberta Williams, Lawrence Baines, Tommy Chisholm and Anna Merle Cox.

Fashion Flashes

By JOANN COONROD

Maybe we're jabberwocky, but it seems to me the girls of Pampa high are really hep to the fashions this year. Ole' man winter is still supposed to be just around the corner but a few of the girls have already started wearing their winter duds.

Sweaters of all colors have been seen in the halls lately. Georgiana Groggin was looking really beautiful in a black turtle neck which set off her bright red hair. Speaking of red hair, have you ever seen so much of it in Pampa Hi before? But back to sweaters, Pat Miller has the envious gaze of more than one girl when she wears her white Angora.

Shoes of different styles, preferably from across the border, seem to be quite the rage with the boys as well as girls. Clayton Fike is leading the parade with his bright orange huaraches. Edith Morrow's red shoes trimmed in every color imaginable were also outstanding. Since the girls are having a hard time finding the ever popular moccasins in any of the stores, some of them are wearing cute little handmade ones trimmed in all kinds of designs.

Pat Pierson has designed new cheerleader costumes which consist of gold satin blouses and green skirts. In place of the traditional sweaters, the girls will wear football jackets on cold nights. Also displaying the green and gold will be the beanies some of the hepcats are wearing. And while we're speaking of jackets and green and gold, Charlie Riggin and a former PHS student, Ray Redman, were seen in the brightest of yellow and green jackets at the football game September 14.

And girls, be thinking about somebody for fashion queen who will be elected in the near future.

Jack Dunham Vice President As Pampa High Begins Activities

Jimmy Terrell came out victorious in the election for student council president Wednesday, defeating Jack Dunham and Bill Nellis. The election was held in home rooms following a vigorous and uproarious school-wide campaign. Jack Dunham automatically became vice president when he received the second largest number of votes.

Eyecatching posters and signs helped the voters keep the candidates in mind. Campaign managers were chosen following nominations, and posters immediately began to appear.

Students were surprised when they came to school Tuesday morning and saw a large "Vote for Terrell' sign below the library windows. This sign was visible for several blocks. Seen in the front halls were little signs on each beam asking for votes for Nellis. Campaigners for Dunham tacked up a poster showing a little flop eared dog pleading for Jack to be elected.

Classes will nominate officers during home room period Wednesday, G. E. Allison, assistant principal, announced.

Jimmy, captain of the Pampa Harvesters, has served as home room president throughout his high school years. He is a member of the A Capella chior and the boys' quartet. Terrell was elected as class favorite in his sophomore and junior years.

Jack, also a member of the Harvesters, served as president of the junior class as well as program chairman for student council last year. He is soloist for the A Cappella choir and member of the boys' quartet.

43 Subjects Are Offered by PHS For Students

The 43 subjects offered in Pampa high school include studies in a large number of fields. Classes vary from drama to mechanics, Bible to physical education, and history to glee club.

The subjects are divided into two groups—solids and activities.

Among the solids are math, English, languages, science, commercial work, history, home economics, speech, Bible and journalism.

Activities include annual, band, orchestra, choir and physical education.

The mathematician has an opportunity to take eight courses—general math, algebra I and II, commercial, plane and solid geometry, trigonometry or advanced arithmetic.

Aspiring housewives may enrol in home economics—and in three years learn to cook, serve and sew.

Boys and girls planning to go into the business world may begin with shorthand, typing and bookkeeping as a springboard.

In contrast to many Texas schools Pampa offers Latin to its students. Spanish and French are also taught.

Biology, chemistry, general science and physics may train a Pampa scientest to invent something even greater than the atomic bomb.

Paving the way for future engineers and architects is training in mechanical drawing and the machine shop.

English and history, drama and music offer a cultural background, and physical proficiency may be obtained through participation in major and minor sports offered in physical education classes.

Ten Boys in State Guard See PAAF

Ten high school boys who are members of the medical detachment of the Texas State Guard visited Pampa army air field Tuesday night.

They were shown the hospital—its dispensary, wards, dental clinic, X-ray room, enlisted men's barracks and day room.

The boys went up to the control tower and looked through two planes—an AT-6 and a B-25, and also saw the post chapel.

Harvesters Take Midland 25-6 Despite Rain, Penalties

The Pampa Harvesters, sparked by the brilliant running of Randall Clay and kicking of George Johnson, defeated the Midland Bulldogs 25-6 Friday night on Lackey field in Midland.

The game was drawn out by constant rain and many penalties on both sides.

Randall's smashing 80 yard run in the first seconds of the game started the Harvesters on their march to victory. He took the kick-off on the Pampa 20 yard line and ran all the way to the Midland goal to score a touchdown. The try for the extra point was no good.

First Quarter

Midland kicked off to the Harvesters. Randall Clay ran 80 yards for a touchdown. Conversion effort was no good. Rest of the quarter both teams failed in fights to gain any substantial amount of yardage.

Second Quarter

Clay ran to the Midland 20. 5 yard penalty against Pampa for kicking. Neef fumbled ball which was recovered by Bulldogs. Johnson caught punt and ran to own 48. Anderson passed to Beard for a gain down to the Midland 15. The half ended with the Harvesters in scoring position.

Third Quarter

Midland kicked off to Harvesters and Johnson received. A pass to Dunham got the Harvesters to their own 40 yard line. Johnson kicked to Midland's 30. Bulldogs punted, Johnson caught it and ran from his own 30 to the Midland 35. Pampa drove to the Midland 10, and offside was declared against Pampa.

Fourth Quarter

Opened with a 15 yard penalty against Harvesters. Johnson ran 25 yard for touchdown, but failed to make the extra point. Score at this point 12-0. Hightower of the Bulldogs received the kick-off and ran to the Harvester 40 yard line. Goode also of Midland got a pass and ran through to the Pampa 30.

Pampa received a penalty and Goode traveled to the Harvester 5 yard stripe. A penalty prevented Midland from scoring. Russell Neef intercepted a pass, and Pampa was penalized to their own 1 yard line. Johnson kicked and it was received by Cole who ran 40 yards for the only Midland tally. The score then 12-6. Conversion was no god.

The Midland kick rolled to the Harvester line where the Pampa player fumbled but recovered. Johnson punted and Cole ran it to the Midland 15. Cole punted, Johnson received and ran from Midland's 35 to the 25. The ball was run to the Bulldog's 5 yard line; then the Harvesters received their third penalty for the illegal use of hands.

Johnson then passed to Clay and the third touchdown was made for the Harvesters. Clay kicked off and the ball rolled down across the Midland goal. The Harvesters recovered and another touchodwn was made. Johnson's try for the extra point failed. The score at the end of the game was 25-6.

Last year the Midland eleven played the Harvesters here and won 18-13. The Harvesters were out to win and all the might Midland could muster could not stop the Pampa team.

Harvesters Play Phillips Friday

Friday night the Pampa Harvesters will tackle the tough Phillips Blackhawks here for the third game of the season.

This will be the first game of the year for the Blackhawks; so little is known of their strength or weight. Harvester Coach Otis Coffey has announced, however, that several Phillips starters will be back from the 1944 squad.

Experienced backs and heavy linemen have spearheaded the Bleckhawk attack for the last two years; although the Harvesters emerged victorious in 1943 with a 13-0 score and by the same count in 1944.

The Phillips gridders will be out to avenge the defeat handed them the past two years. Friday night's game should be rough and tough with plenty of excitement and lots of good football.

The starting lineup for the Harvesters will probably be:

Charles Beard	LE
Jimmy Terrell	LT
Virgil Fish	LG
Maurice Lockhart	C
Don Humphreys	RG
Stan Simpson	RT
Jack Dunham	RE
Rusty Neef	LH
Randall Clay	FB
Philip Anderson	RH
George Johnson	QB

Mrs. Roy Kilgore New Cafeteria Supervisor

Mrs. Roy Kilgore, formerly supervisor of the Junior High lunch room, has been promoted to the high school cafeteria this year.

I'm thrilled about the discipline here in the cafeteria and I urge anyone with complaints to bring them to me," Mrs. Kilgore said last week.

Cafeteria statistics show that fourteen hundred students bought lunches the first two days of school and ten chocolate cakes and 200 pounds of potatoes were used in the second day of serving.

Mrs. Kilgore has as her helpers Mrs. Willie Carruth, head cook; Mrs. Ernest Hoyler, pastry; Mrs. Ellen Swindle, pastry; Mrs. Dovie Fletcher, Mrs. Velma Meadors, and Mrs. Lois Shoulders. There are also six student helpers.

Two new steam tables have been ordered and when these arrive it is hoped the long waiting in line will be avoided.

New French Class

For the first time in several years, Pampa high has a French class, which is taught by Miss Virginia Vaughan. Officers for the recently organized club are: president Max Hukill; vice president, Margaret Price; secretary-treasurer, Donna Ruth Beagle.

Hoyle Announces Changes in P. E.

Changes in activities, in personnel, and in uniforms have been made in the girls athletic department this year, Miss Dorothy Hoyle, head of the division, has announced.

Miss Nina Owing, teacher from Beeville, is Miss Hoyle's new assistant.

The 242 girls who selected physical education as an activity have their choice of a large field of sports such as archery, tennis, intermediate baseball, top basketball, tumbling, speedball, tap dancing and limited activity.

In order to broaden their knowledge of sports and become more skillful in them, each girl is required to take two different sports during the year—a change in regulations.

Another notable change is in the uniformity of play suits—green or gold shorts with white blouses. In previous years there have been no requirements as to the color or type of suits.

Squad leaders have been elected in each of Miss Hoyle's classes. Girls who have been chosen are as follows: Quebell Nelson, Dorothy Jones, Barbara Anderson, Jo Ann Neel, Beth Cambert, Helen Mazey, Ann McNamara, Wilma Tubbs, Wanca Cobb, Alice Robinson, Edelyne Pryor, Anita Lane, Bernice Blalock and Minnie Snyder.

Holson Elected New Physical Instructor

Lt. Jimmy Holson has been elected as the new physical education instructor for Pampa High, Knox Kinard, superintendent, announced Saturday.

He has been recently discharged from the army after serving overseas. He formerly taught in junior high at Amarillo. He is a graduate of West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon.

Cheers and Speeches Mark Midland Rally

Enthusiasm, cheers, and speeches marked the pep rally Thursday morning held before the football squad left for its game with Midland Friday night.

Coach Otis Coffey reported that Midland has six squad members returning to this year's team, three of whom were on the team which dealt the Harvesters a 18-13 defeat last year. Assistant coach "Jiggs" Whittington also spoke.

Yells were led by the five cheer leaders who wore their new uniforms, and the band played pep songs.

Randall Clay Chosen President, Mildred Groves Sweetheart of Band

Mildred Groves, drum majorette of the green and gold band, was elected band sweetheart last Wednesday in the same meeting Randall Clay was chosen president.

Other officers are: Dick McCune, vice-president; Gloria Jay, secretary, and Anna Merle Cox, reporter.

Coronation of the queen will be held at the Pampa-Phillips game September 28. For the first time, the band will march with senior Bill Payne leading them as drum major.

Several trips will be taken by the band this year to out of town football games. They will include Vernon, Borger, Lubbock, and Plainview. Although the destination has not yet been set, a three day band trip is planned for the members, and they will also attend the regional music contest.

Twirlers, who have special routines at each game, are Bunnie Shelton, Mary Mazey and Barbara Carruth.

Ray Robbins, director has announced that a Christmas and spring concert are planned for this year.

New Classes Formed As Enrollment Climbs

Registration of 16 students during the past week brings Pampa high school enrollment to 1050.

Because of the increased number, new classes have been organized, and an additional teacher has been employed.

Results of the gain are students without lockers, crowded cafeteria lines, packed auditorium and over loaded classes.

New classes have been formed in five leading departments—English, math, science, history and Bible.

Cecil B. George, Alford, Texas, recently discharged from the Navy, has been added to the history and commercial geography departments.

Sagebrush--

by the Sage

Sage's Superman receiver, picked up a broadcast that Joann Coonrod and Jimmy Terrell are now going steady.

Edith Mae Morrow and Newell White are going together.

Lawrence Pickens, seaman second class, visited PHS recently after completing boot camp at San Diego. Lawrence was a 1944-45 class graduate.

Lt. Sherman Gray, 1941 graduate of Pampa High, visited the halls of his old alma mater last week. He is on leave from Boca Raton A. A. F., Fla., where he has been flying radar students.

All the girls are going wild over a tall, handsome brute named Doug Mills. He is a cowpuncher deluxe and was seen with Mildred Groves Thursday night.

Max Hukill is certainly playing the field. And he tells us he is definitely unattached.

Elsie Dixon and Leon Williams were seen holding hands in the halls.

Although Margaret Price has been going with Gene Sidwell she wants it known that she isn't going steady.

Gene Smith calls Betty Parker his little "Coodle Poodle."

A romance from way back is that of Curg Clauder and Betty Schulkey. They have been going steady for four years.

A new boy that seems to be popular among the girls is Bob Houchin.

Moans and groans were heard in the halls Friday morning after the astonishing announcement was made that the world was supposedly coming to an end. The rumors were running fast and furious as the time was changed from 3:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. to midnight Friday. As Sage goes to bed the last report was that we have ten more days to go. Come on kids, we have lessons to get.

A sophomore couple which started late last school year and is still going strong is Pat O'Rourke and Burke Mordy.

..Miss Loraine Bruce learned a new expression from one of her geometry classes the other day. After explaining a problem one student remarked: "Will you please run that through again slow?"

Straight to Sage: Paul Jones, new junior, is interested in Gloria Kennedy.

..Harriet Kribbs was seen with a very nice escort at the football game Friday. It seems all that can be found out is that his name is Tommy.

Last year graduate Martha Sue Sheely, who was president of the Quill and Scroll, became the bride of Cpl. Addison Graham last week.

Popular rumor has it that Leon Crump seems highly enamored by a certain freshman girl—huh—Leon?

Barbara Coonrod and Jerry Gillis have been seen together lately. They do make a cute couple.

The Mary Jean Hoover and Malcolm Fagan affair may turn into something. You can never tell!

Why haven't some of you freshman girls managed to hook Joe Glaxner? He's worth a try.

Credit should go to a small but well meaning group who decorated the goal posts for the Pampa-Electra game.

PHS was covered with colorful and original campaign signs last week. Let's all get behind Jimmy Terrell 100 percent.

Ray Priest has lost a hunting knife. The holster has three square cuts on it and the knife has a bone handle. If found, please return to Room 103.

It seems that Cecil Roenfeldt is trying hard to get a date with Helen Kelley.

A STUDENT LOOKS AT THE ATOMIC BOMB

Have you ever stopped to think what could have happened to the United States if the Japanese had discovered the atomic bomb before we did. Well we'll try to give you a hint as to what could have happened if that had come to pass.

Suppose the Japs had discovered the bomb just before we landed on Okinawa. As our Navy came into the waters around the island they could have launched a fleet of planes that could have placed one bomb and sunk two or three ships without hitting a one. The concussion would have blown the ships out of the water and coused to much damage that the United States would still be hunting for the remnants of that fleet in Okinawa bay. It would be like sending an indestructable Japanese Superman against us.

In a few weeks they could have recaptured all the islands that we so painfully paid for with American boys' lives. In a few months they could have been bombing the United States itself and nothing in world could be done about it. Then the Americans would feel the pangs of slavery for the first time.

But, all this horror was saved by the minds of some of our brilliant scientists and mathematicians. It took much time to prepare this bomb and to riscover the elements that went into the making of it. These brilliant men and women were once of high school boys and girls the same age that we are.

For many reasons let us be thankful that we were not the ones to feel the impact of this wonderful, yet terrible force which is upon us, atomic power!

Let us all join in the prayer for everlasting peace and justice among nations. —F. S.

THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT'S POST WAR WORLD

We hear so much talk about " post war." It's post war sport, post war armies, post war business and other post war plans to make this a better place in which to live. Have you ever stopped to think how high school students can assist, if only in a small way?

The foundation for a post war peace is based on the teaching that is given high school students. Let's not pass by with flippant manner the valuable admonitions given us. Instructions given are for our good, not the instructors. Good grades are wonderful if obtained legitimately. A "C" grade is far better if honestly made than an "A" if you have to cheat or obtain it under false pretenses. We can't begin a post war peace without first establishing the principle of honesty in our lives.

Our own high school with its beautiful building, modern facilities, and well trained instructors can be the best possible background for students to begin the establishment of a post war world. —A. M. C.

Veteran Named to Good Neighbor Group

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 — (AP) — Jack Blackwell, of Rockport and Col. Lloyd Bentsen of Mission today became members of the Texas good neighbor commission, replacing two of the body's original members who no longer qualify.

They took the places of County Judge Oscar Dancy of Brownsville and of Horace Guerra of Roma, a Starr county commissioner. Since the good neighbor commission has become authorized by statute, they could no longer hold dual offices.

Gov. Coke Stevenson, announcing the changes, said he regretted they were necessary since both Dancy and Guerra have served faithfully with the commisison since its inception.

Conditions have changed. While the old-fashioned girl hesitated to hold a man's hand, the modern girl is afraid to let go.

Office Conditions And Mental Stress Cause Absentees

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Wartime working conditions and the mental stress of home front living produced the highest sickness absenteeism rate among industrial workers in at least 23 years.

This peak rate was reached in 1944. Dr. W. M. Gafafer, principal statistician for the U. S. public health service, said in a statement in public health reports, amplified by an interview.

Asked the reasons for the high rate, Gafafer said it undoubtedly could be attributed to "the extraordinary demands on the productive capacities of industry."

"Because of the reduction in available manpower, industry found it necessary to employ youth, the older worker, women workers, the long-employed, the inexperienced and many persons excluded from the armed forces for some reason or another."

Gafafer added that other contributing factors indicated were "emotional strains and personal mental conflicts (among workers), the lowered physical standards for employment, overtime with its attendant fatigue, and night work."

A sample survey of 280,000 workers, based on statistics from industrial sick benefit organizations, listed the number of workers absent for eight consecutive calendar days or longer during 1944. For males, the record showed 140.9 absences per 1,000 men, compared with a ten-year average of 102.9.

For women there were 221 absences per 1,000 workers, compared with a ten-year average of 163.1.

A breakdown of specific causes showed this picture:

Absences due to digestive diseases in 1944 exceeded the 10-year average rate by 31 percent for males and 42 percent for females.

Absences due to such things as nervous ills, heart disease, rheumatism and infectious maladies topped the ten-year average rate by more than 40 percent for both sexes.

Shamrock Schools Offering Music

SHAMROCK, Sept. 22—For the first time in several years, public school music is being offered grade school students of Shamrock schools, Supt Elmer J. Moore announced this week.

Miss Margaret Hutton of Canadian, teacher of the second grade in North Ward, is the music instructor; and students in the first six grades will have a period of music each day, Supt. Moore stated.

The size of the U. S. household grew smaller between 1940 and 1944, the medium size thrinking from 3.3 persons in April, 1940, to 3 persons in October, 1944.

The establishment of an adequate public sanitation program for Dalhart was under discussion in Dalhart this week, with city, county, school and army air field officials meeting with civic leaders preparing for a city-wide clean-up.

Immediate impetus for the meeting was the death of a 17-year-old high school student in Stratford caused by infantile paralysis. As the city has been plagued by flies since hot weather, a program of eradication of flies is underway. City officials are intensifying efforts to organize and establish an adequate community-wide sanitation program.
