French Fleet Will Continue To Aid British

Heavy Attacks Are Reported Made On German Sections

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, June 27.—The people of this island kingdom dug in today for siege, cheered by indications that strong units of the French fleet would fight on at the side of Britain's navy.

German bombing planes made their sixth extensive early morning raid in nine days, marking the first attack on a Welsh town. Five bombs were dropped on that unidentified community.

New Attacks Made

British aviation circles meanwhile reported new and "very heavy attacks" on various military objectives in Germany's highly industrialized Ruhr valley in a daylight sortie yesterday.

The British struck again at Germany in the face of Nazi threats of "thousand-fold" retaliation for previous British attacks.

One of the British raiders yesterday was said to have scored hits on the center of an oil plant to the east of the Ruhr valley.

Other developments in the preparations for the war on two continents included:

Advised To Leave

1—Advice from United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy that all Americans "who do not have any urgent reason for remaining here longer" sail home on the U. S. liner Washington from Galway, Ireland, July 4.

2—Official British acknowledgement that a "strong detachment" of Italian troops and tanks had occupied a British frontier outpost on the Ethiopian-British Somaliland border after the small garrison withdrew under attack.

3—Royal Air Force raids on Gura airdrome in Italian East Africa, on gasoline dumps at Macaaca and on other "military targets" at Assam, Italian Eritrea—all yesterday.

4—Five Italian air raids on the British Mediterranean base of Malta in a 24-hour period ending at 6 p. m. yesterday in which 23 persons were killed and many wounded.

Refuse To Surrender

Important segments of the naval power that once was France's were reported to have refused to surrender for interment under terms of the Petain government's armistice with Germany and Italy.

Instead, they were said to be assembling at French North African ports to continue the fight against the axis powers under direction of Pangburn, for justice of peace, precinct 1, place 2, $68.80; Walter Davies, unopposed for justice of peace in precinct 1 place 1, $77.50; G. V. Pardue, for county judge, $273.67; J. W. Pitts, unopposed for reelection as judge of the 99th judicial district, $250.

Candidates have until Monday midnight to complete filing of their first statement of expenditures.

No Damage Results From Three Fires

Fire equipment ran twice Wednesday night, once this morning—but damage was negligible, said W. E. Twitty, fire chief.

A refrigerator began smoking in Ellison's Food store at 1312 Broadway at 11 o'clock Wednesday night. Fifty minutes later a trash fire was reported at 1711 Fourteenth street.

About 6:30 o'clock this morning firemen discovered a fire in 2400-block Avenue M "wasn't anything more than a cigaret that had set off something on a dresser."

REPUBLICANS GET UP STEAM—With state standards dancing, Republican delegations left their places in convention hall to give vent to their feelings last night as nominating speeches for the several candidates were made at Philadelphia. Several fist fights broke out. Similar scenes to that above were continued today as other names were placed in nomination.

Italy May Aid Direct Attack

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, June 27—Italian troops may join German forces in an attack on the British Isles, an authoritative source said today. He said Italian planes and warships also are believed likely to take part in the operation.

This course said that, Italy, since she is determined to fight the war against Britain through to victory with every means at her disposal, feels that the employment of Italian forces in a direct attack on Great Britain "is not likely to be excluded."

While the Mediterranean is believed likely to be Italy's principal field, Fascists said there would be a symbolic interest in having forces of the modern Roman empire emulate Caesar's legions in setting foot upon the British Isles.

Ban Upon Drinking Ordered By Church

Any member of the Central Baptist church "selling or drinking any kind of intoxicating drinks" will be dropped from membership of that church, it was announced this morning following a rally for better morals of Lubbock.

The rally was conducted Wednesday night in the church, with more than 300 persons attending.

Rev. Jeff D. Welch, co-pastor of the church, this morning announced the following as representing decision at the rally: "On this the 26th day of June, 1940, the Central Baptist church re-affirms her belief and practice of the statement in the Church Covenant as found in the New Hampshire Confession of Faith, that 'We shall abstain from the sale and use of intoxicating drinks as a beverage.' If any member of our church is found selling or drinking any kind of intoxicating drinks, such as beer and whiskey, etc., the church will immediately withdraw fellowship from him."

Deputy Believes In Getting Them Alive

HAZARD, Ky., June 27 (AP)—Deputy Marshal Andrew Combs believes in bringing 'em back alive—even if they're supposed to be dead.

He proved it by locating and arresting a man who had been reported drowned in this section's "flash flood" a year ago

The "death" report followed the man's indictment on a moonshining charge.

MAN IS KILLED

GREENVILLE, June 27. (U.P.)—An unidentified white man was killed today when his light panel delivery truck crashed with a southbound M-K-T passenger train at a grade crossing near Leonard, 19 miles north of Greenville. Investigators said they believed the man was from West Lake, La. The truck bore the name "W. L. Klepzig."

Army Rejects Plan For Million Men

Japanese Deny Invasion Plan

(By The Associated Press)
TOKYO, June 27—The authoritative Domei news agency broadcast a dispatch from Nanning, China, today declaring that, although Japanese troops are operating along the Chinese side of the Indo-China border, "Japanese forces have no intention of invading French Indo-China."

At Hongkong it was said French Indo-China military authorities took extensive precautions to repel invasion today as the spearhead of Japanese forces moved along the Chinese side of the Indo-China frontier.

Residents Are Moved

Women and children were moved inland from the coast and a large French liner waited at the Indo-China port of Haiphong to take them from the country, if necessary.

The Japanese moves along the border were said by Japanese military leaders to be aimed at throwing a cordon along the entire frontier to prevent arms and supplies from reaching Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Chungking forces through Indo-China.

Meanwhile about 100 Japanese bombers roared over the western suburbs of Chungking, China, in three waves today in their seventeenth raid of the season, dumped their bombs and circled back toward Hankow.

Yesterday, in their sixteenth raid on this provisional Chinese capital, the Japanese killed or wounded nearly 200 persons.

WASHINGTON, June 27 — The prospect of a congressional drive for a regular army of 750,000 or 1,000,000 men placed the war department today in the unusual position of counselling a temporary halt in further expansion of the fighting forces.

Authoritative sources forecast there would be army opposition to any plan that would increase the number of troops beyond a maximum of 500,000. Even this would raise difficulties which some officers prefer to postpone.

Proposals Are Advanced

The 400,000-man army, recently approved by the House, embodies the general staff's ideas of the size of land and air corps forces which can be fully organized, trained and equipped in the next few months without jeopardizing readiness to cope with an emergency.

Proposals for further immediate increases toward a million men have been advanced in both the Senate and House and are expected to be pressed when Congxress reconvenes next week after the current recess.

Officials noted that General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, has discouraged continued expansion on the ground that it would require the lengthy training of new units without a nucleus of experi-

WILTON, Conn., June 27 (AP) — Helen Keller, the blind author and lecturer, celebrated her 60th birthday at her home here today, but it was "a day of mourning rather than a day of gayety."

Plane Plants Are Expended

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 27.—Plant expansion programs by four of the nation's leading fighting plane manufacturers—Douglas, Lockheed, Vultee and Brewster—were made public today.

Douglas will add 112,000 square feet of floor space to the El Segundo, Calif., plant at a cost of $200,000.

Lockheed wil spend $8,000,000 to double the capacity of its factory at Burbank, Calif.

Vultee is spending $2,900,000 to increase its plant space by 142 per cent to an area of 80^,000 square feet.

Brewster is doubling its manufacturing space by leasing from Ford Motor Co a plant near its present factory in Long Island City, N. Y. The leased plant bring Brewster's floor space to 884,000 square feet.

British Offensive Now Being Hinted

LONDON, June 27. (AP)—Great Britain is looking forward to taking the offensive ir the war against the German-Italian axis, Minister of Supply Herbert Morrison indicated in the House of Commons today

"We have concentrated quite properly on immediate production," he said, "but we are not going to forget the long view.

"We all hope that this period of the last few weeks will in due course change, and we must think of long-term policies and of offensive as well as defensive policies."

Morrison disclosed that the British output of "cruisers" and infantry tanks for June was 115 per cent greater than in April.

Willkie, Devastating Political Blitzkrieger, Is Waging War On Entire Republican Field

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 27—The Republican national convention has resolved itself into a war between America's most devastating political blitzkrieger—Wendell Willkie—and the field. For the moment the other rivals for the G.O.P. presidential nomination — Messrs. Taft, Dewey and Vandenberg, etc.—have sunk their differences while they bury their respective hatchets in the utility chieftain's shaggy head.

Wall street has invaded Philadelphia in force to sweep Mr. Willkie over the top. All strategy designed to depict him as the candidate of the young and old folks—a politically unspoiled business executive—has been scrapped. The time has come to go to town with him, if possible, and there is no longer any attempt to advance him as a bashful political flower. His opponents, naturally, have taken advantage of this latest development, and they are firing G.O.P. 75's point blank at him.

Frankly, the Willkie campaign has been badly bungled in its later moments. In the last few days there have arrived in Philadelphia so many Wall streeters talking Willkie that Broad and Market streets here re-echo the financial chatter of downtown New York. Among those on the scene lobbying for Mr. Willkie are John W. Hanes, former under secretary of the treasury; Frank Altschul of Lazard Freres, the Wall street house with labyrinthean foreign banking connections, and Morgan partner, Thomas W. Lamont. It may be

Angry Chorus Is Swelling In Berlin Press For Revenge As British Planes Stage Raids

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, June 27—German airmen "successfully bombed" English ports and plane factories during the night, the high command announced today, but apparently the "thousand-fold" retaliation for British attacks on Germany, the object of press clamor, was still to come.

Aside from repetition of the onslaughts on the British Isles, the daily communique presented this picture of the European war:

1.—German forces of occupation move into the coastal region east of Bordeaux. The Dordogne sector, apparently Dordogne department, was reached yesterday.

2.—Easy repulse of "weak enemy naval forces" making reconnaissance attacks on the northern coast of France the night of June 24-25. (The British declared these landing parties obtained useful information in clashes with German troops.)

3.—Sinking of 35,000 tons of Brit-

Treasury Head Raps Ford For Refusing Help

Mighty Warship Is Started; Defense Bill Is Signed

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 27.—Secretary Morgenthau upheld today the government's insistence that any American manufacturer who makes Rolls-Royce airplane engines for his own country should make them as well for the British.

"I just can't imagine the British being shut off from their own engines," said the treasury secretary, who himself obtained from the British the American rights for manufacture of the engine.

Orders Were Cancelled

"As a matter of fairness and policy," Morgenthau told his press conference, the administration had to cancel negotiations with Henry Ford for a 9,000 joint British-American engine order, when Ford refused to make motors for any country other than the United States.

There were these other defense developments:

The United States said down the keel of its first 45,000-ton superdreadnaught.

The RFC began a search for vast store of strategically important rubber and tin.

Defense Bill Signed

President Roosevelt signed a supplemental defense bill giving the war and navy departments $1,479,777,147 in cash appropriations and authority to make additional contracts totalling $289,136,761.

Mr. Roosevelt also scheduled a conference with the national defense commission. It will follow one at which he will discuss with cabinet members the completion of plans to draw the western hemisphere into tighter economic unity.

Morgenthau approved a congressional limitation of 7 to 8 per cent profit on warship and airplane construction, terming the limitation a challenge to the "patriotism" of American manufacturers.

The start of work on the battleship Iowa at the Brooklyn navy yard and the opening of negotiations by the Reconstruction Finance corporation for essential war materials typified the divergent activity of the preparedness program.

Trade Loan Granted

South America continued to figure prominently in the developments. The Export-Import bank granted a $20,000,000 trade loan to Argentina yesterday just as intensive Nazi economic activity was reported there. The navy, with three warships in the South Atlantic, ordered three more to the South Pacific, and government plans proceeded for financing Latin-American development of

Canadians Angry At Henry Ford's Action

OTTAWA, June 27 (AP) — Henry Ford's refusal to manufacture airplane motors for Great Britain has aroused demands in parliament for a Canadian government ban on sale of Ford vehicles and seizure of the Ford Canadian plant.

But after a stormy debate in the House of Commons and Senate yesterday, Conservative Leader R. B. Hanson said in Commons:

"Public opinion in Canada and, I believe, in the United States at this time will deal with Mr. Henry Ford. I think we can leave it there."

Twenty-Three Dead In Italian Attack

VALLETTA, Malta, June 27 (AP)—Twenty-three persons were killed and many others wounded in an Italian air raid during which a number of heavy bombs were dropped yesterday on the wroking class section of this British island naval base in the Mediterranean, it was reported today.

Five air attacks were delivered after two days of quiet. Seventy bombs were dropped.

The bombs which fell on the working class suburb were dropped during the fifth attack, reports said, under pressure from fighter planes and anti-aircraft batteries.

Amazing Drive Of Willkie Is Said Slipping

Talk Of Taft-Dewey Combination Heard In Private Circles

(By The United Press)
CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, June 27.—The 1940 Republican national convention today completed its nominating speeches and prepared to hold its first presidential ballot at 2:30 p. m. CST.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio—according to reports circulating on the convention floor—appeared to be forging ahead in his drive for the nomination, but it was generally conceded that several ballots would be required for the convention choice.

Six Nominations Today

After receiving six nominations today the convention recessed at 12:43 p. m. CST. Chairman Joseph W. Martin, jr., planned to hold at least two ballots after 2:30 p. m., then recess for dinner and resume voting later in the evening.

Indications were that the sensational bid of Wendell L. Willkie of New York was failing to hold its own against the intensive efforts being put forth by all other candidates and particularly the Taft workers.

Thomas E. Dewey of New York was still expected to lead the roll on the first ballot but a tide toward Taft was expected beginning on the second ballot.

Bid Believed Slipping

Willkie declined to admit any let up in the slam-bang pace which threw jitters into the camps of all his rivals. But the word among the delegates was that the Willkie bid was slipping.

Taft appeared to be the chief beneficiary. There were apparently well authenticated reports that a large bloc of Pennsylvania delegates, possibly 50 to 60, would swing to Taft after several complimentary votes for their governor and favorite son candidate, Arthur James.

Dewey advocates claimed their lines were solid and that a determined effort was being made to boost his second ballot total so close to the 501 needed for nomination that a bandwagon rush would be started.

Some delegates seemed to feel that Taft would go over on the fifth and talked about a Taft-Dewey combination for president and vice president.

Drunks Carted Off To Jail, From Cars

The drunks had a night of it and—judging from the looks of some of them—will have a day of it.

One man, 46, was found lying in the street in front of a place in 900-block Thirteenth street. He had been slugged about the head and face and, in general, was badly battered.

"Somebody tried to jump down my throat and spraddle out," he told B. P. Millsap, police recorder.

He was charged with drunkenness.

A 27-year-old woman who allegedly staggered across the street after parking her car in 700-block Broadway was arrested and jugged to prevent her from driving the machine any more that night.

Police arrested a man in 2000-block Avenue G for the same purpose.

A friend saved the police difficulty with another man. The man was found with a car on his hands—but no keys in his pocket. His friend had taken them and run off—to prevent the man, 32, from driving when drunk, he explained. The arrest was in 400-block Fourteenth street.

Rumors Of Peace Between Britain And Germany Staunchly Denie

Fight To End Is Promised

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

You probably have heard the rumors which have been going the rounds to the effect that a peace between Britain and Germany is in the making.

These have been cropping up in various places. Yesterday for instance there was the report that Sir Samuel Hoare, British ambassador to Spain, had broached the question of peace through the Spanish government. This morning a Berlin radio commentator said the British were trying to contact the axis powers, presumably for peace negotiations.

Stories Are Denied

All official statements in London have indicated a determination to continue the fight. Both the stories mentioned above have been categorically denied.

I doubt if I should have mentioned these rumors at all were it not for the fact that every day I am bombarded with two questions:

"Do you think England will ask for peace with Hitler?"

"Has England a chance to defeat Germany?"

As regards the question of peace the position the British government has maintained was rather well put last night in a statement by the ministry of information. The ministry announced "complete disagreement" with the view expressed by United States Senator Pittman, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, that "Britain is totally unprepared for defense."

British Are Confident

The ministry declared Britain is facing the coming struggle "with confidence." It added that England hasn't "the slightest intention" of laying down her arms without a fight and "is determined to carry the struggle through to a victorious end."

It is my view that this is a fair statement of the present attitude of the British government and public toward peace.

But I am bound to say that their present intention (and I repeat that word "present") is going to be put to a very terrible test in the immediate future.

Englishmen don't quit under fire for sake of their own safety. But we must recognize that the bulk of Britain's population of forty-six millions is centered in the congested areas of the heart of the country. What will happen if and when the Nazi bombs begin to rain down on this crowded area? Will the Briton's determination and bravery be able to stand it?

Chance For Victory

I think we had better admit there always is the possibility that it might be necessary to surrender England itself to save slaughter of civilians. Then the government might, as it has declared, transfer its activities to Canada and carry on from there.

Has England a chance to defeat Germany?

In my view—Yes. Without question Britain has a terrible task cut out for her, but nobody has this war in a sack yet.

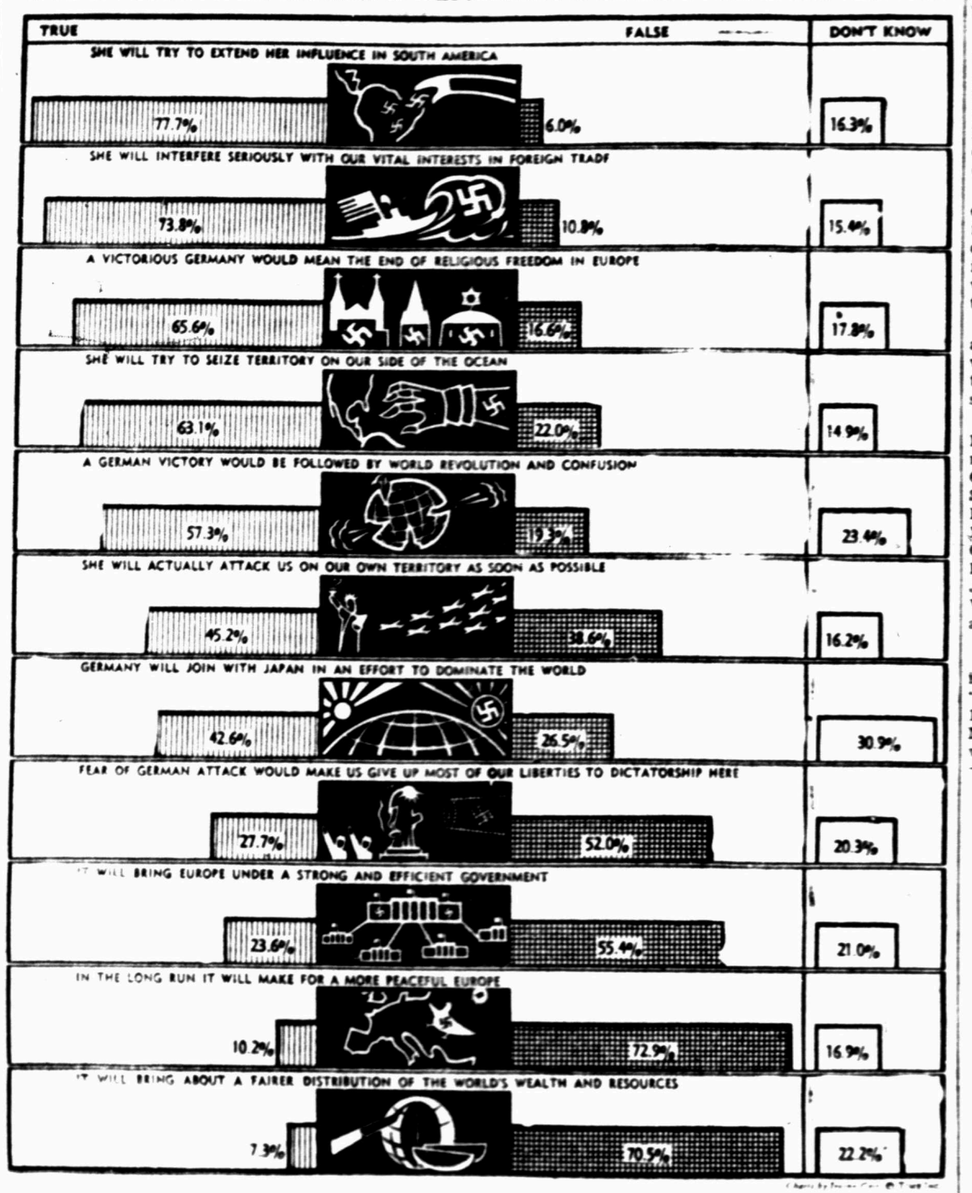

Much will depend upon two things—whether England's defenses are strong enough to withstand the initial German air-assaults, and whether the French navy and air force elect to fight with the British and aren't surrendered to Germany. Latest reports are that much of the navy and many planes are still under British control.

War Ministry Eden yesterday referred to "our exceedingly powerful air force" and he had considerable reason for this. Britain is much better prepared now in this arm than she was at the beginning of the war, as witness the recent widespread and vigorous bombing raids over Germany.

Having drawn a picture of dark possibilities from German bombing of England, one must say the British express confidence that they can beat off the enemy air attacks. That's just one of those things we must wait to see. So far as concerns actual invasion, England has a million soldiers under arms and a large fleet for protection.

She has a chance to stand off this final phase of the Hitlerian blitzkrieg, but it would be foolish not to recognize also that she may be defeated.

London's taxicab drivers are invested with the right to refuse to drive more than six miles or for longer than one hour at a time.

HOW AMERICAS VIEW RESULTS OF GERMAN VICTORY—Fortune Magazine's survey for the July issue reveals that most Americans are fearful of what will happen to Europe, the Americas and the world in the event of a German victory in the European war. Results are shown on the chart above. The survey also shows that more Americans believe Germany will win than think the allies will triumph. Answering the question "Regardless of what you hope which side do you think will win the war in Europe as it looks now?" those polled replied Germany 49.10 per cent, the Allies, 30.3 per cent, neither, 1.7 per cent, don't know, 27.9 per cent.

Lubbock Delegation Will Go To Slaton

Most of Lubbock's delegation to the Slaton rodeo and roundup will attend Friday, although many will be present Saturday, according to announcement by Ed D. Allen and Royal Purgeson co-chairmen of the chamber of commerce good neighbor committee for the event.

To facilitate the return to Lubbock of each individual, the trip will be in private cars rather than in a chartered bus. All persons intending to go to Slaton are urged to wear cowboy outfits if possible and to obtain Lubbock badges.

A caravan will leave the city hall at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Those who have not obtained rides at that time may do so then, the chairman said.

Planning to take cars are Claude L. Hale, Robert J. Allen, P. B. Penney, Burton S. Burks, J. W. Sansom, C. W. Tinnin, Bill Watson, Carl E. Slaton, Cash Royalty, Walter Davies, H. B. Survey For Switch Line Is Made Here

Survey for a switch line into an 83-acre tract in the southeast portion of the city planned for industrial development was made Saturday by engineers of the Santa Fe railway.

Officials could not be contacted, but it was learned the survey is for a spur to replace a proposed spur that was to have been built between Nineteenth street and Twenty-sixth street in the alley between Avenue A and Avenue B. It was understood there had developed opposition to the first spur.

The tract extends from Nineteenth street to Twenty-sixth street and from Avenue F to East Avenue A. Stakes on the proposed spur were set by the crew, which returned to Slaton.

Inquiries On Cotton School Are Received

Numerous inquiries, including some by long distance telephone, are being received concerning the cotton classing school which will open Monday at Texas Technological college, said C. M. Stanley, jr., acting head of the textile engineering department this summer.

The first cotton classing school will be conducted Monday through July 13 and the second from July 15 to 27. Farmers, ginners and others working with cotton may attend either or both of the courses.

Stanley said he had not been informed definitely what representative of the United States department of agriculture would be here during the course, but it probably will be Frank Dial or Lewis Meyers, cotton classing specialists, both of Dallas.

The government representative will give an examination for license to anyone qualified at the end of either school.

Several trade journals will cooperate in conducting the school. Gin and farm safety demonstrations will be given by safety engineers of the Texas Employers' Insurance association during both schools.

Rumors Of Peace Between Britain And Germany Staunchly Denied

Fight To End Is Promised

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

You probably have heard the rumors which have been going the rounds to the effect that a peace between Britain and Germany is in the making.

These have been cropping up in various places. Yesterday for instance there was the report that Sir Samuel Hoare, British ambassador to Spain, had broached the question of peace through the Spanish government. This morning a Berlin radio commentator said the British were trying to contact the axis powers, presumably for peace negotiations.

Stories Are Denied

All official statements in London have indicated a determination to continue the fight. Both the stories mentioned above have been categorically denied.

I doubt if I should have mentioned these rumors at all were it not for the fact that every day I am bombarded with two questions.

"Do you think England will ask for peace with Hitler?"

"Has England a chance to defeat Germany?"

As regards the question of peace the position the British government has maintained was rather well put last night in a statement by the ministry of information. The ministry announced "complete disagreement" with the view expressed by United States Senator Pittman chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee that "Britain is totally unprepared for defense."

British Are Confident

The ministry declared Britain is facing the coming struggle "with confidence." It added that England hasn't "the slightest intention" of laying down her arms without a fight and "is determined to carry the struggle through to a victorious end."

It is my view that this is a fair statement of the present attitude of the British government and public toward peace.

But I am bound to say that their present intention (and I repeat that word "present") is going to be put to a very terrible test in the immediate future.

Englishmen don't quit under fire for sake of their own safety. But we must recognize that the bulk of Britain's population of forty-six millions is centered in the congested areas of the heart of the country. What will happen if and when the Nazi bombs begin to rain down on this crowded area? Will the Briton's determination and bravery be able to stand it?

Chance For Victory

I think we had better admit there always is the possibility that it might be necessary to surrender England itself to save slaughter of civilians. Then the government might, as it has declared, transfer its activities to Canada and carry on from there.

Has England a chance to defeat Germany?

In my view—Yes. Without question Britain has a terrible task cut out for her, but nobody has this war in a sack yet.

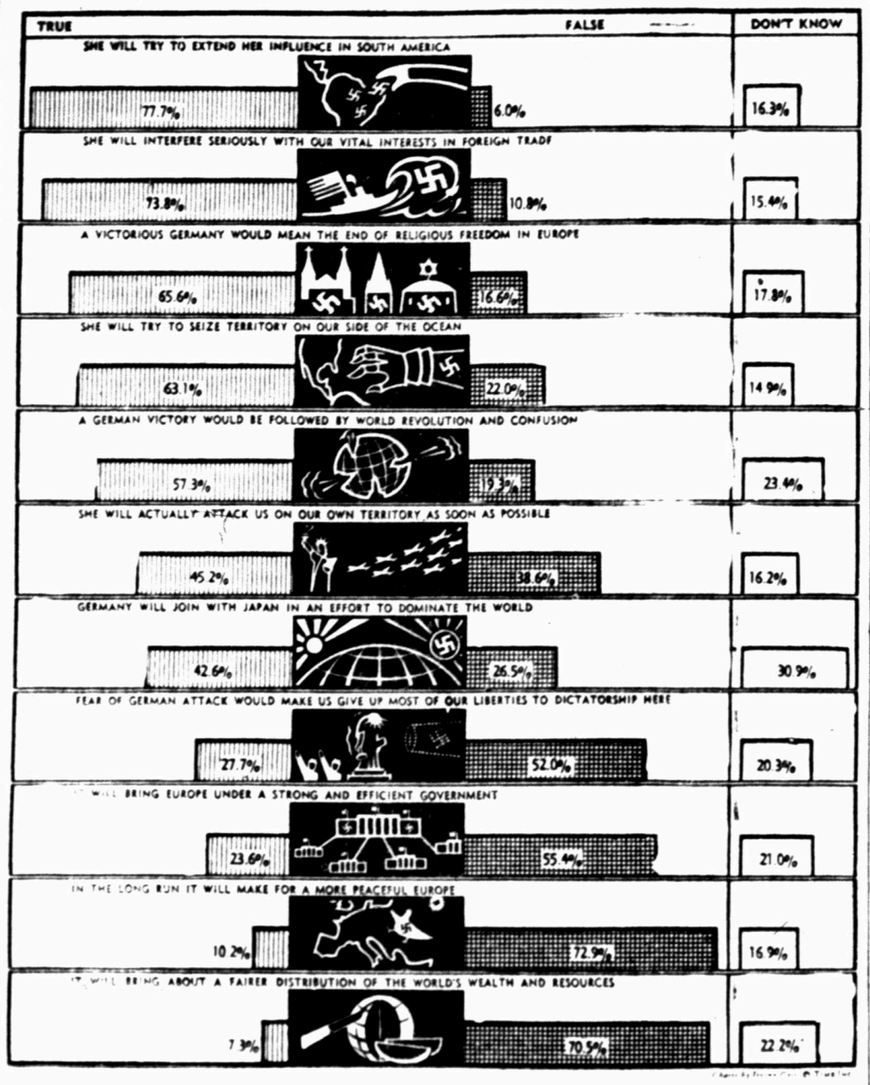

Much will depend upon two things—whether England's defenses are strong enough to withstand the initial German air-assaults, and whether the French navy and air force elect to fight with the British and aren't surrendered to Germany. Latest reports are that much of the navy and many planes are still under British control.

War Ministry Eden yesterday referred to "our exceedingly powerful air force" and he had considerable reason for this. Britain is much better prepared now in this arm than she was at the beginning of the war, as witness the recent widespread and vigorous bombing raids over Germany.

Having drawn a picture of dark possibilities from German bombing of England one must say the British express confidence that they can beat off the enemy air attacks. That's just one of those things we must wait to see. So far as concerns actual invasion, England has a million soldiers under arms and a large fleet for protection.

She has a chance to stand off this final phase of the Hitlerian blitzkrieg, but it would be foolish not to recognize also that she may be defeated.

London's taxicab drivers are invested with the right to refuse to drive more than six miles or for longer than one hour at a time.

HOW AMERICAS VIEW RESULTS OF GERMAN VICTORY. Fortune Magazine's survey for the July issue reveals that most Americans are fearful of what will happen to Europe, the Americas and the world in the event of a German victory in the European war. Results are shown on the chart above. The survey also shows that more Americans believe Germany will win than think the allies will triumph. Answering the question: Regardless of what you hope which side do you think will win the war in Europe as it looks now?" those polled replied Germany, 40.10 per cent, the Allies, 30.3 per cent, neither, 1.7 per cent, don't know, 27.9 per cent.

Four Games On Slate For Twilight League

Four games will be reeled off tonight in Buster Professional twilight softball competition, one make-up contest having been played Wednesday afternoon.

Today's schedule in the American division sends the Christians and Horn together on Field No. 1, the Doctors and Baptists clashing on Field No. 2.

National division play pits the A. B. C. club against Public School Faculty on the No. 1 diamond. Asbury and the Jaycees on Field No. 4.

Wednesday afternoon, the Lions club stifled a late inning rally to nudge the Jaycees in a close senior division tussle, 11 to 10. Hop Toles hurled for the winners, R. B. McAlister catching. For the losers, Tom Murphey was the victim. Hugh Dunlap handling backstop duties. Homers were collected for the Lions by Clark Wood and P. H. Pope, for the losers by Marion Sanford and Homer Hensley.

Medicine Man Says That U. S. Is Safe

Lubbock Delegation Will Go To Slaton

Most of Lubbock's delegation to the Slaton rodeo and roundup will attend Friday, although many will be present Saturday, according to announcement by Ed D. Allen and Royal Furgeson co-chairmen of the chamber of commerce good neighbor committee for the event.

To facilitate the return to Lubbock of each individual, the trip will be in private cars rather than in a chartered bus. All persons intending to go to Slaton are urged to wear cowboy outfits if possible and to obtain Lubbock badges.

A caravan will leave the city hall at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Those who have not obtained rides at that time may do so then, the chairman said.

Planning to take cars are Claude L. Hale, Robert J. Allen, P. B. Penney, Burton S. Burks, J. W. Sansom, C. W. Tinnin, Bill Watson, Carl E. Slaton, Cash Royalty, Walter Davies, H. B. Bryan, Tom Abel, Ralph Brock, Mrs. Winnie Roberts Coleman, George Pilley, Hop Halsey, G. V. Pardue, J. W. Boyd, Jack Douglas, Judge J. J. Dillard, Claude Denton, W. E. Watson, S. E. McMillan, Allen and Ferguson.

One of the strangest incidents in U. S. military history was the "battle of the bulls" in Arizona in 1846 when wild cattle attacked the Mormon Battalion. Several soldiers were injured.

IN WARTIME ROMANCE—Mary Marvin Breckenridge, above, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cabell Breckenridge, of York Village, Me., who was recently married in Berlin to Jefferson Patterson, of Dayton, Ohio, First Secretary of the U. S. Embassy at Berlin.

In 1915, Grover Cleveland Alexander pitched four successive one-hit games for the Philadelphia National league team.

Survey For Switch Line Is Made Here

Survey for a switch line into an 83-acre tract in the southeast portion of the city planned for industrial development was made Saturday by engineers of the Santa Fe railway.

Officials could not be contacted, but it was learned the survey is for a spur to replace a proposed spur that was to have been built between Nineteenth street and Twenty-sixth street in the alley between Avenue A and Avenue B. It was understood there had developed opposition to the first spur.

The tract extends from Nineteenth street to Twenty-sixth street and from Avenue F to East Avenue A. Stakes on the proposed spur were set by the crew, which returned to Slaton.

Coffee Honors Frances Ford

Visitors, brides-elect and newlyweds are inspiring entertainments these last days of June.

As a courtesy to Miss Frances Ford of Nacogdoches, Miss Julia Jones gave a coffee this morning between 9:30 and 11 o'clock in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway.

Miss Ford is the house guest of Mrs. and Mrs. W. G. McMillan, 2121 Thirteenth street.

Guests were greeted at the door by a receiving line composed of Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. McMillan, Miss Ford and Miss Jones.

In House Party

Mrs. Charles H. Read presided at the table and poured coffee. Those in the house party were Misses Ophelia May Beall, Barbara Ann Read, Marilee Jones, Bernice Keeton and Joyce Halsey.

A centerpiece of shasta daisies and other yellow and white decorations were used.

Approximately 70 guests called.

Mesdames Benny Jackson, B. F. Meador and Miss Nina Tynes were hostesses in the home of Mrs. R. A. Tynes, 2301 Tenth street, Wednesday afternoon as a courtesy to Miss Mary Neta Tudor, bride-elect of Albert L. Keenum. The wedding date, which was announced earlier in the summer, is July 4.

The refreshment table was decorated with daisies and white tapers. Punch, cake and mints in the yellow and white theme were served.

Gifts Presented

A tiny cart pulled by Jayne Ruth Ater and Benny Ray Meador as bride and bridegroom, was presented to the bride-elect. The cart was filled with gifts.

The couple were married Sunday, June 16 in Clovis, N. M., with Rev. Barbee officiating.

PLENTY OF CALORIES

If you don't worry over calories, put a dash of white cream cheese blended with whipped cream, on top of your blackberry or apple pie the next time you serve it. The flavors are grand together.

NAUTICAL SUIT—Constance Moore, lovely Hollywood star, models a new swim suit of printed elastic satin whose all-over pattern is composed of tiny blue sailboats on white. The childish skirt is this year's change from the ubiquitous shorts.

"Broiled steak should be served hot on a hot plate," Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent, told members of the Hurlwood club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. F. Williamson. Mrs. Emma Ridley Honor Guest At Club Social

CANS PINEAPPLE

Mrs. W. A. Martin, a member of the Hurlwood Home Demonstration club, has been canning pineapple recently and finds that she can serve it for little more than half of the cost of commercially canned fruit.

She used a recipe recommended by Miss Grace Neely, food preservation specialist of the extension service. She cooked the pineapple in slices crosswise. Each slice was peeled and the core cut out with a sharp round cutter or knife. She cooked the outer trimmings of the slices and the cores with enough water to cover until the fruit was clear. Since the best flavor is in the outer part, this juice, strained, was made into a medium syrup, using one cup of juice to one cup of sugar. The slices, or wedges, of fruit were cooked in the medium syrup for ten minutes and packed in jars boiling hot and sealed.

ALL-AROUND HAT—Answer to the demand for an all-around hat is this one of black Milan straw. Walter Fiorell designed it with an irregular brim and added allure with a black veil. It tops a black and white print frock ready for bridge parties or a hot day in town.

BUFFET IDEA

For the buffet table, try this — stuff hollowed beets, carrots or hard-cooked egg cases with cheese, ham or pickle relish sandwich fillings.

Keep in mind that rubber darkens silverware, so never let anything with rubber on it remain in the silver drawers. Use cord or ribbon to hold silver together in its cases — never fasten with rubber bands.

The little tots will enjoy soup when they have tiny toast animals on top. Cut out small animals from thinly-cut bread slices. Toast and pass or place on top of each soup serving.

Rumania Faces Soviet Threat

mania's eastern bulwark against communist Russia.

Want Naval Base

Cession of the northern part of th eprovince of Bucotina once part of the Austro-Hungarian empire and control of Rumania's Black sea port Constanta for a naval base along with railway bases and supervision of Galati and Braila ports which control all traffic on the Danube.

Granting of the latter group would mean Russian control of all traffic on one of Germany's vital lifelines. Reports in Berlin said "control" of Tulcea another Danube port also was demanded.

Instead of a public statement from the war minister of precautionary mobilization was executed by gendarmes in the fields and factories and homes to call Rumanian men to the colors.

Plead For Delay

While military preparations were stepped up Rumania asked for a postponement of the Russian deadline was forwarded urgently to Moscow.

Rumania asked the Kremlin to agree to send delegates to a conference with Grigore Gafencu Rumanian foreign minister to talk over the Soviet demands.

Rumanian military planes patrolled the Bucharest airport while anti-aircraft guns were in place on the capital's tall buildings.

All Rumanian troops were ordered to remain in bar-

In the midst of all these things the Rumanian public was complete ly ignorant of what was going on. Newspapers were forbidden on censor to mention the Russian ultimatum.

Assurances Given

In Berlin publicly there were only expressions of German confidence in the Russian-Rumanian situation but it was reliably reported in Budapest that Adolf Hitler had assured Hungary that her territorial aims that is return of Transylvania from Rumania "will be met."

Not only Russia and Hungary but Bulgaria as well hoped to be in on the territorial feast apparently in the making at Rumania's expense. Bulgarians have a historic claim to southern Dobruja.

Foreign military attaches received reports from the provinces that huge squadrons of Russian warplanes were flying over Bessarabia and northern Bucovina.

The ultimatum it was said was handed to Rumanian Minister Davidescu at Moscow by Premier-Foreign Commisar Vyacheslaff Molotoff Wednesday night.

The grand council which met a-noon still was in session three and a half hours later.

The chief of the Rumanian general staff visited King Carol twice for a conference.

Long Talks Are Held

The German and Italian minister also had long talks with Carol and it was reported tonight they had urged the monarch to accede to the Soviet wishes.

With the ultimatum having less than six hours to run until its expiration foreign military observers were informed that heavy concentrations of red army troops, tanks and artillery were massing along the Dniester river and in former Polish-Rumanian frontier.

(Bessarabia Russian before the World war settlement and Bucovina a former province of Austria-Hungary, have large Ukrainian populations. Berlin today reported Russia demands were for all Rumanian territories chiefly inhabited by Ukrainians. Although Moscow apparently must Bessarabia belong to this category the Encyclopedia Britannica puts its Ukrainian population at only 30 per cent.

Unite All Territory

The Ukrainian homeland with a population of about 32,000,000 is one of the component republics of the Russian Soviet union. If Russia gets Bessarabia and Bucovina she will have united virtually all Ukrainian territor except the Carpatho-Ukraine a small portion of the dismembered Czech-Slovak republic.)

Rumania has nearly 1,500,000 men under arms many of whom have been concentrated in Bessarabia and Bucovina.

Foreign diplomatic and military observers long have expressed belief, however, that King Carol would be unwilling to attempt to oppose Russian demands by force. They held this view particularly since Germany and Italy authoritatively were reported to have consented to Molotoff's demands as the price of Russia's pressure to keep Turkey out of the side of the Allies and Soviet economic aid to the axis powers.

crude rubber production.

The national defense commission meanwhile pursued discussions with Packard Motor company for mass production of aircraft engines on a joint U. S.-British order. The talks followed the collapse Tuesday of negotiations with Henry Ford who refused any but exclusively American defense contracts.

Others To Be Built

The 45,000-ton Iowa—largest battleship ever put on the sea for the navy—marked the beginning of a construction program which will add four huge capital ships to the fleet. Another is to be built at Brooklyn, two more at Philadelphia. It will be between 3 and 4 years before the 45,000-tonners are completed.

Notice of bargaining for rubber and tin was given yesterday by Jesse H. Jones, federal loan administrator, not long after President Roosevelt signed the bill which authorized the RFC to finance acquisition of strategic raw materials.

Jones said he and Sir John Hay of the international rubber committee, which controls most of the world's rubber production, were exploring a plan to increase rubber production in the East Indies—now reported to be the source of 97 per cent of the nation's supply.

Henry Ford Loses An $11,000 Order From City Of Santone

By The Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO June 27 — Henry Ford lost an $11,000 order for automobiles today because he refused to make airplane motors for England.

The city of San Antonio which had ordered 22 sedans to cost $11,844 cancelled the order and instead bought other cars for $12,192.

Following the action a statement by the government in declining to sell motors of the type originally ordered by Colonel Mason Matern Knapp.

They fear the efficacy of the Michelson-Roddan typewriter, the national Democratic committee's Big Bertha of propaganda.

The dread of Charley Michelson's sniping is the chief reason for their reluctance to nominate Mr. Willkie or Mr. Hoover. Charley, they are afraid, would visit upon Mr. Willkie all the public utility sins of Sam Insull and Hopson. He would—they recoil from the headlines already—recall the days of the bonus army evacuation and the Gone With the Wind construction of "Hooverville villages" throughout the nation if the former president were nominated.

In short, the G.O.P. is all dressed up, got somewhere to go—the White House—but doesn't know what man would be the best go-getter.

Swisher Delegation To Visit Lubbock

Lubbock will be among the cities to be visited by 100 boosters from Swisher county Friday morning on an all-day tour designed to advertise the county's Golden Jubilee anniversary celebration in Tulia July 17-18.

Plans were completed last week in Tulia for entertaining 10,000 guests during the two days, and also for a big barbecue on the first day, for which 20 beef calves are already being fed out.

Through the booster trips, personal invitation is being extended the various cities to be the guests of Swisher county on the birthday dates. Other stops Friday will be made at Hale Center, Abernathy, and Slaton.

SWALLOW'S RETURN

WARREN, O. (AP)—William Wisnieski, 20 months old, found a tack and promptly swallowed it. The doctor didn't have instruments to remove it and bundled William up for a trip to Youngstown.

Just as they departed, William coughed—and up came the tack.

Cotton Group Is In Session

WACO, June 27 (U.P.)—The first annual cotton research congress, sponsored by the state-wide cotton committee, had its opening session today with delegates from Texas and other states present. The welcoming address was given by Mayor L. T. Murray, secretary and general manager of the Texas Cotton association.

Speakers for the morning session included Dr. A. B. Connor, director of the Texas agricultural experiment station; D. A. Bandeen, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; Paul T. Truitt, chairman of the interdepartmental committee on interstate barriers, Washington, and E. J. Kyle, dean of the A. & M. college school of agriculture.

Talks At Luncheon

Victor H. Schoffelmayer, agriculture editor of the Dallas News discussed changing cotton horizons at a luncheon sponsored by the Waco Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Speakers scheduled to speak at this afternoon session include John D. Rogers, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, Navasota; Peter Molyneaux, editor of the Texas Weekly, Dallas, and Roland Roggenbrod, consul of Salvador at Dallas.

Tonight W. L. Clayton, chairman of the board of the Anderson-Clayton company of Houston, will be the principal speaker at a dinner under the sponsorship of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, with President Albert T. Clifton presiding. An address will also be given by A. C. Williams, president of the Federal Land Bank, Houston.

Angry Chorus

ish shipping by a submarine.

4—Resumption of British night air raids on Germany. The high command again said the bombs caused no military damage, but acknowledged several civilians were killed or injured. Three of the British raiders were shot down.

Demand Heard

Demands that England be punished "a thousand-fold" for nightly air raids on Germany swelled to an angry chorus in Berlin newspapers today.

Press, radio and authorized spokesmen charged the British with "bombing aimlessly" killing civilians and damaging non-military objects.

The press asserted British raiders sought out communities which lack defenses because they are not military objectives.

In one night, the newspapers said, 371 bombs fell on German soil, killing 16 civilians and wounding 41 in western communities.

DNB, official German news agency, reported 200 bombs fell in Helder, German-held Dutch naval base, the night of June 24. Giving the Dutch newspaper Telegraaf as its authority, DNB said most of the bombs dropped on non-military objectives, and that there were 36 dead and 22 wounded civilians.

Rate Information To Be Sought In Area

O. A. St. Clair of the research department of the attorney general's department wil be in Lubbock in the near future to seek freight rate information affecting this area, according to a letter received at the chamber of commerce this morning from Attorney Gerald C. Mann.

The letter explained the legislature has requested the department to "prepare and file complaints with the interstate commerce commission to equalize with those of other states the interstate freight rates affecting our state".

"It is our belief," continued the letter, "that the present time affords this section its first opportunity in a century to correct certain inequalities in our freight rate structure."

In preparation to cooperate with St. Clair, officials of the chamber of commerce invited all persons in the area to make available any information which might be of value in this phase of a long fight seeking to remove freight rate discriminations against Texas as a whole and West Texas in particular.

Sought particularly, officials said, is information which offers evidence of freight rate inequalities which are discriminatory against the state and area. Those with such information were invited to get in touch with the chamber.

THE SUN SHINES AGAIN FOR THEM—Completely oblivious of the fate that overtook the country she may still someday rule, nine-months-old Princess Irene of the Netherlands basks in the sun at Quebec's Seigniory Club. Kneeling informally next to her is her mother, Crown Princess Juliana, who recently sought Canadian refuge for her two young daughters, Princesses Irene and Beatrix, aged 2 1-2.

And Here's One Of The Reasons Why News Editor Thinks Of Making Hurried Trip

One of the reasons why editors sometimes are tempted to make hurried trips out of town subjected 10 of Lubbock's more prominent business men to more than a little good natured ribbing this morning.

Under the heading, "plans for beauty contest announced," an item in The Morning Avalanche reported that the nominees in a Miss America beauty contest here include H. L. Allen, Sam C. Arnett, sr., Earl B. Collins, S. E. Cone, J. Ray Dickey, Ray Farmer, J. A. Fortenberry, Homer D. Grant, George P. Kuykendall and George A. Simmons.

Actually, those named are nominees for five places on the board of directors of the chamber of commerce in an election now in progress. Balloting will close at noon Saturday.

The mistake occurred when the make-up man picked wrong handsful of type and got a couple of stories mixed. The other item figuring in the mixing was one announcing the "Miss America" contest to be held at the Palace theater July 4 and 5.

Victims of the error received scant sympathy from their acquaintances. Arlie Crites, manager of the Palace and other Lindsey theaters here, invited "Mr. Allen and the others" to "come on in if they want to compete for Miss America honors."

The secretary of one of the victims thought the beauty contest "a swell idea" for the candidates for directors.

"My boss, Mr. Allen, is good looking, but I think Mr. Cone is the prettiest," was her observation.

JOINS TAHOKA FACULTY

Jennings, graduate of Texas Technological college and former football player there, and Mrs. Jennings and their children Joe Patricia and Nan, plan to leave today for their home in San Antonio after several days' visit with Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton of 1808 Broadway. Jennings is a brother of Mrs. Overton.

Osburn Child Here—His body almost covered with splints which replaced a body cast, 3-year-old James Wade Osburn of Slaton visited a physician at Lubbock sanitarium this morning. The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Osburn of Slaton, formerly was a patient in the sanitarium, receiving treatment for infantile paralysis. The body cast was removed 13 weeks ago. His mother said they hoped the splints could be removed by Sept. 15 and braces substituted. The child is believed improved in condition, although suffering a minor complication at present.

Girl Leaves Sanitarium — Bobby Wheeler of Lubbock, injured in an automobile accident Monday, was dismissed from Lubbock sanitarium Wednesday.

Still Unconscious—Lottie Margaret Atkinson of Lubbock still is improving in condition and is expected to regain consciousness soon, friends here have been informed. Although cause for uneasiness, her unconscious condition is not considered cause for particular alarm, according to understanding of friends here. The girl, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Atkinson of 2201 Fourteenth street, was injured more than two weeks ago near Seymour and is in Baylor county hospital in Seymour.

Co-Op School Ends In City Wednesday

A three-day school of information for cooperatives was concluded Wednesday afternoon with showing of motion pictures of several South Plains cooperatives by C. E. Bowles, extension service cooperative marketing specialist.

Pictures included views of the Tahoka cooperative gin and filling station, a wheat elevator and flour mill at Tulia, consumers fuel station at Plainview, South Plains cooperative oil mill in Lubbock and a cooperative hospital in Elk City, Okla.

John Heck of Wilson, president of Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, Inc., presided Wednesday. Between 80 and 90 attended that afternoon and more in the morning. Speakers in the afternoon included O. J. Edler, president of South Plains cooperative oil mill, which sponsored the school; Claude Terry, manager of Farmers Cooperative Insurance Co. Houston; Arthur Scruggs of the oil mill; Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head professor of economics and business administration at Tech; Elmer Scott of Dallas, executive secretary of Dallas Civic Federation, and Hollis Beall, treasurer of the Houston Bank for Cooperatives. Bowles summarized talks of the program.

Ninety-Eight Hits Chalked Up In League Last Night, Hubbers Drop Lam

The Vote Starts Sunday

By Collier Parris

BOYOBOY and a couple of whews! A few more games like that one last night and the rest of our hair, if there's any left, will be gray ... Three hours and five minutes, 14 errors, 30 base hits, 25 runs, two big rallies and three pitchers to the side, heroes one minute, goats the next—gawsh a mighty, Grandmaw, what next?

The Lamesas got so far ahead of the unhustling Hubbers in the early innings that they richly deserved a victory—up to the eighth inning ... Then they deserved it again after batting in the ninth, after which they threw it away, just as the Hubs had tried to do earlier ... It was anybody's ball game then, but they'd run out of innings and—oh, well, we'll take it ...

W. A. Robertson of Amarillo wishes to know if the Lubbock swimming club or team, if any, would like to meet an Amarillo swimming team in a dual meet sometime soon ... If the City Pool or Buffalo Lakes boys and girls are interested, their spokesman should communicate with Robertson, care of Williams Hardware company, Amarillo ... Up to now, we haven't heard very much complimentary about last night's fight card at the Sportarena ... Boxers, wrestlers, baseball players, etc., should heed a warning: If you're gonna demonstrate in Lubbock, you'd better turn on all the steam and finesse you've got, because the fans here are no chumps by any means; they've been around, and many of them have been fans in the big leagues, and practically all of them know a "stall" when they see one. ... So be on your toes when you're performing here ... it ain't no tank town no more ...

It's a little late in the week for such a suggestion, but is there a woman's club, or some social or civic club interested in taking over the ticket sales for Saturday night's all-star soft ball program and raising a bit of coin for a charity? ... A very fine softball team from Wichita Falls, probably as fine as the brilliant Amarillo Clowns who played to a large crowd here last week, is coming over Saturday night and will meet the best players in the Lubbock softball league ... Clarence Fox, owner-manager of Fox Park, home of softball, figured that interest could be stimulated and some good done if some organization would peddle tickets and turn the proceeds into the Milam orphans home summer milk fund, such fund, we understand, being in need of help ... The Rotarians were to have sponsored the sale, but decided the time was too short ... But there are two big days left, and if you're a member of a club that might be interested, you could call or see Mr. Fox today out at the park ... The game will go on, regardless of sponsorship, and it ought to be a dilly with two former Tech boys, E. J. McKnight and Raymond Flusche opposing each other on the mound, Flusche pitches for the Wichita Falls team ...

Nice to see Odessa come through with a victory last night, its first home game ... Must have sat very well with the huge Odessa crowd that greeted pro ball after a two-year lapse ... New subscriber today is Adrian Mahan, of Terre Haute, whose close relative, Elvin, is one of the most improved players on the Hub team ... Got his fourth homer last night, and a dandy, with two on ... Vince Castino, peppery catcher, was doing some thinking Tuesday night when he made a point of "tagging" Dobbs, Midland thirdsacker, who tried to score on a squeeze when Avedesian's bunt turned into a infield fly and an automatic out and a double play ... It was not a force play at the plate, although the bases were loaded ...

Marshall Brown, the ex-Texas Tech basketball star certainly is no handicap to the Lamesa ball club ... Looks very natural fielding his position, takes a commanding stance at the plate ... Hubber hurlers wouldn't pitch to him last night, walking him three times ... but he's good on the bases, scored every time ... looks like a prospect for sure ... Max Stevens, the other familiar face on the Loboc roster, made his bow with a double but thereafter was held in check ... turned in a beautiful catch of Mahan's long liner to the right field picket, though ... He's dangerous every time he comes to the plate ...

Voting on the All-star teams of the league starts Sunday, we are notified by League Prexy Milton Price ... The official ballot will be printed in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal and thereafter for several days ... Just off-hand, we'd say that the Hubbers ought to have at least four players on the All-South team ... How va gonna keep Ben Drake, Steve Niedziela, Ed Schweda and Boyd Watkins off? ... And there probably aren't many catchers better than Castino, or pitchers more effective than Gene Stack and Pat Ralsh ... Of the Lamesa crowd, Tom Wagner might give Drake some opposish at first base and Stevens and Hood may contest Schweda and Watkins; Beeler is a good third sacker, but Cox of Odessa may get that job. Don Wolin of Odessa may beat out Eddie Guynes at shortstop, too, although young Greer of Midland is pretty handy there ... Happy Spangler has been moved around so much that he won't fit in one position but might do for the utility post ... Happy's not the ball player he was last year, however ...

The South team has to come from Lubbock, Odessa, Midland and Lamesa, so be giving it a thought and get your voting done early ... With the exception of Spangler, and Manager Jodie Tate, there's not a single player in the league now who appeared on the South's all-star team last year ... Eddie Guynes, now of Lamesa, did play in the all-star game, representing Pampa, and Tom Wagner, now of Lamesa, played with the north from Clovis. The others—Salty Parker, Bob Wooten, Buster Capps, Hack Miller, Jimmy Kerr, Bobby Decker, Al Carr, Jodie Marek, Lee Harris, Joe Piet, Lefty Lucas and Emmitt Fulenwider—aren't with us any more ... Only one of them, Fulenwider, is still in the league, and he has deserted the South, for whom he won last year's all-star game with his timely homer, in favor of the Amarillo Golden Stockings ...

Last year's North all-stars have more veterans ... Grover Seitz of Pampa, Gordon Nell, then of Pampa, now of Borger; Bus Dorman of Amarillo, Roscoe Hunt, Roy Smith and Dick Adkins, all of Clovis; Ernie Potocar of Borger and Dick Ratliff, last year's team manager, of Clovis, now of Amarillo, are all back and eligible ... Other members of the North's team last year, Barney Barnhill, Frank Grabek, Hack Harrison, Neal Rabe and Pete Poteet, are playing in the league while Guynes and Wagner have moved to the South ...

Band Concert Held Here Last Night

The intermediate band of the Texas Technological college summer school appeared in concert Wednesday night on the lawn south of the administration building under direction of R. A. Dhossche.

It was the first time the intermediate band had played an entire program in concert since organization of the band school seven years ago, D. O. Wiley, Texas Tech band director, said.

The program was a regular weekly feature of the summer recreation program. Approximately 500 attended.

Wild Scoring Spree Staged In Long Tilt

Just when they get ready to start calling it the pitcher's league, West Texas-New Mexico circuit clubs puncture the ceiling.

Ninety-eight hits rang out on four widely separated fronts Wednesday night and wher all the shelling was over the standings were even more compressed.

Tonight, second games in the current three-night series will hold attention and indications are that the flag chase will continue to narrow down to a hair-raising margin, making for one of the best races in the loop's history.

Rumors Are Spiked

Rumors of a split season were spiked yesterday when President Milton Price announced that he saw "no apparent need for a split season as one of the best races on the baseball calendar" was being waged right here in West Texas' own back yard.

And speaking of hot feuds in back yards, Lubbock currently is boasting one of the Class A variety—the feud between the Hubbers and the Lamesa Loboes for what may turn out to be third place honors before many more days roll by. Tonight at 8:45 o'clock, the Tatemen take the field seeking revenge for a three hours, five minutes 13 to 12 decision the White Sox Farm hands annexed last night with a three-run rally in the ninth.

They Both Came Back

Mel Kramer will handle duties for the Lubbocks tonight, Carl Foree opposing him.

The Hubs apparently were hopelessly out of the running last night when they came to bat in the eighth, trailing six runs. But with the end of the Hub's spree at the plate the count had been knotted—through effective hitting by Schlereth, Mahan, Manager Charlie Engle, Drake, Schweda, and Watkins.

But the Loboes came back with two tallies and what again looked like defeat for the Hubs.

Fourth In Row

However, the losers also caught erroritis about that time in a big way and when all the ninth inning fumbling was over, the Lubbock lads had captured their fourth game in a row. Eddie Guynes, Lamesa shortstop, being the "goat" of the late uprising. Vince Castino started the ball to rolling when Eddie messed up his grounder. Mahan singled, and Stine, who had replaced Hyma in the ninth, who had taken over for starting Roy Fiocchiaro in the wild Lamesa fifth when five runs crossed the plate, came up. He attempted to bunt, Beeler picking up the pellet in time but making a wide throw to first, scoring Castino while Stine raced to second.

Mahan went to third on the play, scoring on Niedziela's single. Drake advanced Stine on to third and Niedziela to second with a fine bunt, and Schweda was purposely walked. Hajduk popped to Beeler for the second out but Watkins hit an easy grounder to Guynes. Eddie dropped the ball in his hurry and Stine waltzed across with the game.

Odessa Starts Successfully

In Amarillo, the Sox edged a notch nearer the look leading Pampa Oilers by taking a wild 14 to 11 decision from Clovis, each side getting 15 hits.

The Seitzmen fell before Clem Hausman's five-hitter for Borger, 4 to 1, the Gassers not losing any chance of jumping in where Lubbock rooted them out of should the occasion present itself. Neither the Oilers nor the Gassers were charged with errors.

Odessa made its bow under a new banner with a 5 to 3 triumph over Midland's Cowboys, though outhit, 15 to 10. Willard Ramsdell recorded his 14th pitching victory of the

State Title Fight Talked For City

Talk of a Texas heavyweight championship clash featuring the two Babes of the state—Hunt and Ritchie—is more pronounced this afternoon with the knowledge that the former Lubbock High school tackle who now wears the pro pugilism crown is visiting in the city—ready, willing and able to discuss such an engagement with anyone interested.

Ritchie and his crafty little trainer, Tony Herrera, drove into the city last night just in time to watch Hunt belt "Gunboat" Williams of Tulsa into submission for a technical kayo in one minute 42 seconds of the second stanza to climax a rather disappointing five-bout card at the Sportarena.

Bouts Disappointing

Both Hunt and Ritchie have been taunting each other with offers and counter offers for several weeks now and indications this morning were that an early meeting of the two would be arranged, possibly to be presented by Promoter "Pup" Thomas at the North College avenue arena.

Approximately 1,000 persons watched last night's show. Hunt clipped the slow Oklahoman for nine, seven and eight counts before Referee Henly Hilburn finally halted the farce and raised Hunt's arm in victory.

Semi-Final Tops

Best match on the program was the semi-final spree between confident Glenn Gray and Kid Leva, who hail from Fort Worth and Dallas, respectively. Gray, who went to the 1938 quartet-finals in National Golden Gloves competition in Chicago, received a close decision over the little Latin, who is no slouch getting about the ring as he has often proven here.

Gray piled up an early advantage with a devastating right hook and uppercut. By virtue of his victory over the 144-pound Leva, Gray, who tips the beam at 148, gained the right to tangle with Lorenzo's Sonny Smyer on the next card two weeks hence.

Smyer put Onas Graham of Trent, substituting for "Killer" Garcia of Mexico City in a scheduled six-round prelim, to sleep in one minute, eight seconds of the initial round.

Preliminaries Slow

A preceding four-round preliminary between Baby LeRoy, 147 1-2, and Flagle Stewart, 150, both of Lubbock, was little short of plain lousy! Neither fighter showed much inclination to mix it up and the yawns were in profusion until a rousing final round more or less took the edge off. The match was halted with 15 seconds to go in the last round, the match called a draw.

Curtain raiser on the night's card was a hilarious six-rounder featuring two of the colored contingent—Ira Hughes of Lubbock decisioning Charles Williams of Slaton with a little voodoo and a few rights and lefts. The Slaton boy, weighing 165 for a five pound weight advantage, was down for an eight count in the first, nine in the second, and third, but kept coming back after his frequent "rests" to worry the Lubbock representative.

Promoter Sled Allen announced that next Wednesday night's wrestling card would feature Lightning Rod Fenton and Bob Cummings in the main attraction.

Goofy Action Is Likely At Any Minute

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the days when the New York Yankees were burning up everything in baseball, National league fans used to defend their interests by saying they got more for their money than the American league's customers.

Well, the Yanks are different, and the American league race is different, but the National league fans still get more excitement. It may not be baseball, but it's good, clean fun.

A Bit Of Vaudeville

In New York, for instance, the Giants and St. Louis Cardinals came up with a ten-inning 10-9 bit of vaudeville last night just 24 hours after the Dodgers and Chicago Cubs put on a 13-inning skit across the river in Brooklyn.

There were five home runs in the game and 13 runs scored in one inning, the seventh, after which the whole issue still had to be decided because the score was tied at nine all.

No Broadway show has had a more dramatic climax. The Giants loaded the bases in the ninth and failed to score. They did it again in the tenth. This time Pinchhitter Johnny McCarthy drove home the winning run with a single—his first hit of the year!

Action In Doubleheader

Even the doubleheader between the last-place Phillies and the plodding Pittsburgh Pirates was packed with action. Cy Blanton and Joe Bowman matched seven-hit pitching in the first game, and Johnny Rizzo, a former Pirate, brought the Phils a 4-2 victory by homering with one on in the eighth.

Then, in the second game, the Pirates punched out five runs in the second inning and won, 11-6.

The Yankees managed to stop their latest losing streak at four games by beating the Cleveland Indians 3-1.

This was enough to lift the world champions back into the American league's first division as the Philadelphia Athletics subdued the St. Louis Browns, 9-4.

The victory in turn put Philadelphia again in seventh place and let the Washington Senators slide back to the cellar under the burden of a 7-6 defeat by the Chicago White Sox.

The Boston Red Sox fought back to a 3-1 triumph over the Detroit Tigers that gave the Red Sox the series and moved them within half a game of the second-place Tigers.

Recently the first transcontinental truck run was made from Philadelphia to San Francisco. The truck arrived at its destination on the ninth morning of operation.

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 27—Maxie Baer's curls ordinarily are combed back off his broad brow, but just the same he's still like the little girl who had one lock hanging right in the middle of her forehead.

succeeded in salvaging a declaration favoring "the extension to all peoples fighting for liberty, or whose liberty is threatened, of such aid as shall not be in violation of international law or inconsistent with the requirements of our own national defense."

Lose 11th Hour Battle

Isolationists fought and lost an 11th hour battle to add a proviso that aid to foreign powers should not include "sons of America."

To restore prosperity, the Republicans pledged that "idle men, idle capital, and idle farms will be put to work to create new wealth and profits insuring stable government and greater purchasing power among all our people."

Point by point, the platform promised:

Reemployment: Eliminate needless administrative restrictions to restore individual enterprise.

Relief: Return relief administration to the states with federal grants; to eliminate politics, discrimination and waste.

Social security: Extend old age benefits on an earmarked pay-as-you-go basis; turn administration over to the states, with a minimum of federal control.

Labor: Amend the Wagner act "in fairness to employers and all groups of employes"; encourage voluntary settlement of differences.

Agriculture: Continue payment of federal subsidies for soil conservation unconnected with production control; protect the domestic farm markets.

Tariff and reciprocal trade: Give Congress power to ratify trade treaties.

Money: Return power over money to Congress; repeal the Thomas "greenback" amendment and the foreign silver purchase act; put gold into circulation.

Taxation: Revise the tax system and reduce expenditures so revenues will cover civil expenditures, a substantial part of national defense costs, and the interest and retirement of the national debt.

Negroes: Give them a "square deal" in economic and political life.

Un-American activities: Rid the nation of "borers from within."

Enforce Alien Laws

Immigration: Enforce alien entry laws, and deport those advocating the violent overthrow of the government.

Veterans: To give adequate compensation to disabled veterans and to their widows, orphans and dependents.

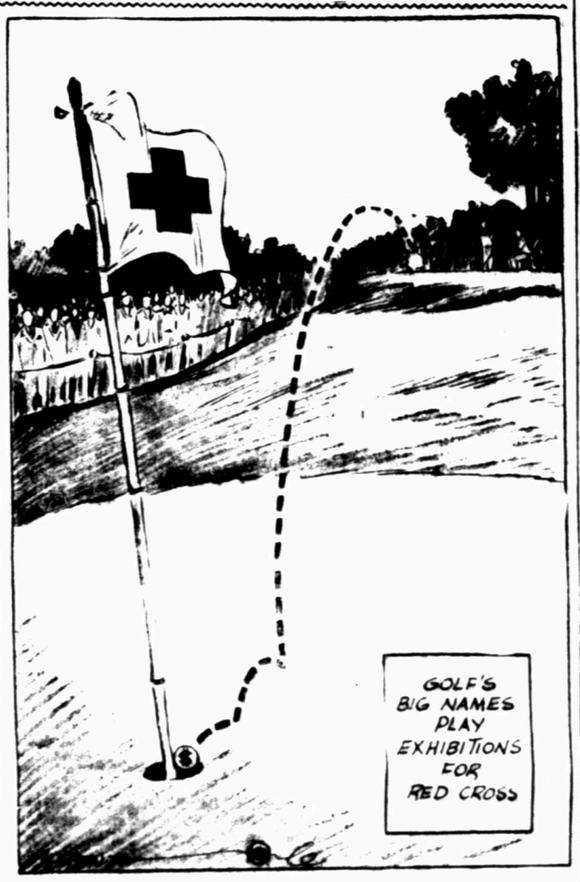

Indians: Grant immediate and final settlement of claims arising from treaties and agreements with the government.

Hawaii: Grant the fullest measure of home rule.

Monopoly: Enforce anti-trust laws without discrimination.

Government competition: Reduce federal competition with private business.

Government reorganization: Continue the constitutional distribution of legislative, executive and judicial functions; establish a real merit system.

A GREAT DRIVE

OF MOUSE AND MINISTER

REDDING, Calif. (AP)—It took a full measure of piety for the Rev. Wallace Buckingham to remain calm and finish his prayer at the Baptist church. While he was leading devotions, a mouse ran up his trouser leg and remained there until the prayer was ended. Then it scampered away.

Dizzy Wins But He Fails To Finish

(By The Associated Press)

Dizzy Dean's won and lost record indicates he's doing all right in his comeback trek toward baseball's big time.

He's won three games and lost one for Tulsa in Texas league parks. But the way he hung up his victories tells a somewhat intangible story.

Sent back to this circuit when his ailing arm couldn't win for the Chicago Cubs, Dean has failed to finish three of his games. But for heroic work by Tulsa mates, he'd likely be on the debit side of the ledger.

In 30 innings he's allowed 32 hits and 18 runs—not good, but also not bad.

Last night he downed Shreveport 6-5 by "remote control." He left the game at the end of the eighth inning one run behind, but the Oilers scored two runs in the ninth. Under Texas league rules Dean was credited with the victory.

It seems Dean goes well most of the way but falters in the stretch. Until he begins finishing what he starts no real opinion can be given on his new sidearm delivery.

San Antonio's hustling Missions clipped another half game off Houston's lead by sweeping a double-header with Oklahoma City, 4-3 and 2-1.

Houston beat Fort Worth 6-4 for the Cats twelfth straight loss.

Third-place Beaumont beat Dallas 7-3.

Contested Game Is Scheduled Tonight

The Martins and the Coys of the Lubbock County Amateur league bring out their fast ones and wield the willows tonight at Fox Park in a make-up "grudge" game that should set the baseball lanes afire.

Occasion and reason for all the buildup and resulting contest are one and the same—Roosevelt and Lubbock's Sandies being forced to replay a protested game which was reeled off Sunday afternoon amidst much bickering and heated discussion.

Peppers Meet Colas

The contest will be the finale of the regular Thursday night double bill in the now streamlined league of nine clubs. Opener on the night's program will pit the classy, collegiate Dr. Peppers against the Lubbock Pepsi-Colas.

Starting time is 8:30 o'clock.

Managed by Lewis Spears and Clarence Fox, the Peppers are pointing to the tournament later on during the summer and the right to represent the section at the TAAF event in San Antonio during August.

Sunday afternoon, Manager Fred Rich's colorful Cooperites, who prefer to be called Richmen, clash with the Roosevelt...ans in the opener, the Sandies and Sudans tangling in the nightcap.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of losing the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. Used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Warning to all dogs: Look out! The world is headed your way!

EVER since the word leaked out that Uncle Sam isn't exactly in shape to step out and whip the world with his right hand tied behind his back, Americans have rightfully given a lot of thought to military preparedness.

Announcement that our armed forces are more or less on a par with those of Mexico and Portugal, and not as good as the pre-blitzkrieg forces of Finland, Poland and Belgium, naturally made our citizens both jittery and desirous of improving the situation—which certainly is as it should be. And among other suggestions heard around and about has to do with compulsory military training in state supported colleges of Texas and the other 47 states.

To deny that there are two sides to the question of compulsory military training in state colleges would be both futile and silly.

A great many people think such training should be compulsory for at least two years of each four-year course and think, in times of emergency, that the compulsory training should cover all four years.

A great many other people, however including many of the students themselves, are against the plan—and will fight it to the last ditch.

IT so happens that The Plainsman, when a student at University of Oklahoma between the years of 1919 and 1923, had some experience with compulsory military training.

The University of Oklahoma during those years had compulsory military training for two years—freshman and sophomore—for every male student not out for major sports and unable to wangle his home town doctor out of an exemption alleging physical unfitness.

A great many of the freshmen and sophomores, enrolled at the Athens of Oklahoma in those days resented the compulsory training and said so, in no uncertain terms. The Plainsman, being both younger and more foolish then than he is now, was one of those who hated the military drill and who gave university authorities as much trouble as he could concerning it.

But like most of the rest of the kids, he took his two years of military training—and learned in later years that it was a very fine thing for him.

Frankly, this column favors making military training compulsory in every state-supported college in the land, at least until some sweet future day when it may become unnecessary for peace-loving nations to fit themselves to fight off possible attacks by the bandit countries.

In the first place, the military drill is good physical training for youngsters who don't play football, or engage in the other sports featured by the schools they attend.

In the second place, it affords some needed discipline for 17, 18 and 19-year-old kids, most of whom are in their first and second years away from Mom and Pop and who need some holding down here and there.

And in the third place, a nation which lavishly educates and protects its people all along the line has the right to some protection and help in time of stress from its citizenship — including the youth of the land.

SOME parents of college-age youngsters oppose the military training plan because they "didn't raise their boys to be soldiers."

As the parent of three boys who some day likely will reach cannon fodder age, The Plainsman can understand that feeling. He'd hate to see his boys march off to face roaring tanks, power-diving planes and booming guns.

Yet if this nation were in war, and needed men, he'd expect his boys to go and back as he might feel as they marched away he'd feel worse if they didn't make the sacrifice. And if they had to go he'd rather they'd go and get their job done, than to go unprepared, or with little or no ideas about what had to be done and how to do it.

There's no use in parents of young men kidding themselves.

If war comes, their boys will be thrown into it, whether the parents or the boys like it, or not.

There are many things much worse than two or four years of compulsory military training for our young men in college, as we all may well realize after a quick look around the world of today.

Under current world conditions, it is only good sense to prepare our manpower to defend the nation, if such defense become necessary.

And one of the best ways we know to do it, is to have compulsory military training in every college which receives public financial support.

THE Plainsman's old friend Mr. Billy Meador came by not long ago and left a flock of jokes which he thought might come in handy—and if there ever was a time when people needed humor in large and frequent doses it's right now.

According to one of Mr. Meador's stories, a father at the breakfast table noticed that his 12-year-old son was quieter than usual.

"Willie, my boy," began the Old Gent, "why are you so thoughtful? Are you not feeling well?"

"Yes, papa," returned the kid, "I'm feeling all right but I had a strange dream last night."

"What was it?" the father pressed.

"Well," said Willie, "I dreamed that I died and went up toward heaven and St. Peter met me at the gate. But instead of showing me to the golden streets, as I had expected, he took me out to a large field. There was a ladder reaching way up into the sky and out of sight. Then St. Peter told me heaven was at the top of the ladder and in order to get there I had to take the big piece of chalk he gave me, slowly climb the ladder and write on each step some sin I had committed."

"Did you finally reach heaven, son," the father asked.

"No, papa, I didn't," said Willie. "Just as I was trying to think of something to write on the second step, I looked up into the sky and saw you coming down."

"What was I coming down for?" papa asked.

"That's just what I asked you, papa," concluded Willie, "and you told me you were coming back for more chalk!"

YESTERDAY: After Lenore finds him, Derek resigns from his job, feeling sure she won't be able to trace him to the Merriners. Jan suggests that he practice the piano until he gets another job.

CHAPTER 26
Blow-Up

Twice now Derek had met Lenore at the club, talked with her a few moments at the entrance, yet refused, unconditionally, to go inside with her. If he'd known that both Rose and Johnny saw him on both occasions, he would probably have told Jan about it himself. As it was, he thought it unnecessary to say anything to anyone.

Frankly, he was worried. Because if Lenore did find out where he lived, and with whom, she would undoubtedly make trouble. She was not taking his abandonment of her lightly. She was employing every means she knew to win him back, to intrigue his interest once more. He was not fool enough to think it impossible either, even though he distrusted and disliked her. If she worried him, she was also healing the hurt in him, making him heart-whole, for she had lost the power to shake his emotions.

Yet Lenore was shrewd and clever as well as beautiful and charming. In short, to insure his integrity, he wanted to put distance, plenty of it, between himself and her, but he did not want to leave the Merriners. He was caught, almost literally, "between the devil and the deep blue sea."

Rose, coming into the house to change clothes on the first glorious day of June, met Jan on the stairway and remarked carelessly, "Better watch Derek, darling. He's having heart trouble with a gorgeous blonde!"

Jan stopped. "What do you mean?"

"I've seen him a couple of times talking ardently to a girl at the Surf Club. I don't know who she is. I'll try to find out, if you want to know?"

"I don't want to know. It's his business, isn't it?" She went on downstairs, her spirits leaden. Not, she assured herself, because of Derek and a girl, but because her prized sketches of Neptune had been returned this afternoon with a not too unsympathetically worded rejection slip.

She went out and sat on the porch with her small, round chin cupped in her hands. Until the return of the sketches she hadn't quite realized how much she'd counted on selling them. And now—

She felt suddenly weary of trying to manage everybody and everything around her. Resentment, long supposed, began slowly to rise rebellious in her small body. Why should she have to carry the whole load alone?

Dinner that night seemed ill-omened. She burned her fingers painfully taking a pan of rolls from the oven. Lane remarked that Norma must be glad school was nearly over and she taking it that he would be glad to be rid of her, jumped up from the table and fled in tears to her room, leaving her dinner untouched.

Jan washing the dishes, was aggravated beyond all control when Derek rushed into the kitchen with her sketches, which she had left on a hall table.

"Spineless Failure"

"They're marvelous, Jan!" he exclaimed. "Kee, this up and you'll be famous. I knew you could do it!"

"Do what?" she asked crossly.

"Earn a neat rejection slip?"

"Poof! One rejection means nothing, puss. You might get six rejections and still sell them for a cool thousand. I tell you they're good. I know what I'm talking about. You really have something here."

"If you think they're so marvelous, take them!" She pulled her burning, smarting fingers out of the dishwater and turned on him with gusty, violent temper. "You know a lot, don't you? You know too much for people like me. I'm sick of listening to your advice. Why should I listen to you? Who are you? You won't tell. You're ashamed. You won't do anything for yourself or for anybody else. You won't work and you won't try to make anything out of yourself or your life. You were right. I should have left you in the ocean that day—you aren't even good salvage! You're worthless, shiftless and completely irresponsible! You're entrenched in your tight little castle built of wounded ego and self-pity. You shirk your duty to yourself and to society. You don't belong here, Derek somebody or other!"

His face was as white and angry as hers. "What possible difference does it make to you what I am?" he demanded. "What do you care? What does it matter to you?"

Her eyes blazed like night fires through rain. "Because I tried to help you, because I had faith in you, because I hate spineless failures!" she declared and ran past him up the stairs to her room and slammed the door.

The anger died out of Derek's face. Consternation, amazement, wonder, took its place. He said, loudly: "Well, I'll be damned! So that's what she thinks of me!"

With the hypnotic intentness of a man in the grisp of a grim determination, he strode in to the piano, his proud head lifted, his eyes brilliant with emotional rebirth. His fingers sought keys and a glorious, rushing flood of music filled the old house from cellar to rooftop. He played on and on with the hunger of a man breaking fast. It was as if a torrential sea of music deluged the house and its inmates, drowning out the pettiness of everyday troubles, breaking the bonds of little slave worries, sundering the chains of everything mundane laying bare the inner spirit of all existence with the sheer, awful magnificence of sound.

He stopped playing as suddenly as he had begun.

"It has come back to me," he whispered in a tone of prayer. "At last I've found my soul!"

Still in a trance, not even seeing the white-faced huddled figure at the top of the stairs, Derek picked up the bundle of sketches and went out in the night.

Air Mail Letter

Jan woke late, sat up and peered from her window. The sky was overcast, gray, depressing. No sound disturbed the quiet of the house. The tin alarm clock announced the hour to be eight-forty. Either she'd forgotten to set the alarm, or it hadn't wakened her, she thought. At all events Norma must have prepared her own breakfast. Queer that Derek hadn't knocked on her door before now with a demand for food.

Suddenly she remembered their quarrel, and its aftermath. Remembered she hadn't heard him come in last night even though she'd lain awake hours, miserable and wretched and remorseful, repenting the horrid scene. She shouldn't have lost her temper and flared out at him like that. And she had been wrong. He had repudiated her accusation of failure by loosing a flood of vital, living tone. He had told her with his fingers of his recovery, of his gift reborn. He had been a conqueror playing his own triumphal march!

"I'll find him and apologize, with trimmings," she promised herself. She jumped out of bed, looking about twelve years old in her pink, flowered pajamas and tumbled curls. Neptune lifted his head to stare at her curiously, decided breakfast was not to imminent, and burrowed his nose once more under the plume curtain of his tail, keeping one eye open, however.

His mistress certainly appeared upset about something this morning, he observed in his sphinx-like fashion. She seemed to be having a difficult time deciding what to put on. Much as he loved her he thought her very foolish and femi-

RELIEF FUNDS FOR DEFENSE

The government should have no difficulty in complying with the attitude expressed in a resolution adopted by the Permian Basin Oil and Gas association last week urging drastic cuts in relief appropriations so as to help meet the costs of national defense.

There is every reason to expect that the requirements for relief from governmental sources should be removed almost entirely.

The one big excuse that has been offered for the astonishing relief appropriations has been unemployment. Most of the government's efforts of the past 10 years have, in pretense and theory, been concentrated on putting men back to work.

Most of the money that has been appropriated for national defense purposes will be paid in the form of the wages to those who have any part in the production of the raw materials or the fabrication of the finished product. Once the building program gets well under way—and that should be within a very few months—there isn't going to be much excuse for unemployment among those willing and able to work. However, we always will have people who will shirk just as long as they can. They will stay on relief if there is relief.

Even if relief appropriations could be eliminated entirely, of which there is no prospect, it would not pay the entire cost of the national defense. But the several billion dollars now spent for relief and for which there is very little to show could be put to a very useful purpose in carrying out the defense program.

Among the guests at a party given by a millionaire on Long Island last night, were Nan Rae and Maude Davis, of "Keep Off The Grass." They were persuaded to do their act. As they took their departure the host was thankful . . . "I'll send you some cigarette cases," he said.

WINCHELL

"Thanks," said Maude, "but we don't smoke toots."

"Okay then," he countered, "I'll send you a case of coteh."

"We don't drink either," chirped Maude.

The host became slightly annoyed . . . "Oh," he impatiently queried, "for goodness sakes, what do you girls do?"

"Well," stiffly answered Maude, "if you insist upon knowing, after every theatrical engagement we usually visit our bank."

About 20 years ago, when FDR was Assistant Secretary of the Navy, the Roosevelts were driving home when a terrific blast stabbed the night air . . . Turning into their own street, they were greeted by a blanket of darkness, broken glass, bricks and other debris—reminiscent of a scene usually set by a cyclone . . . The door of their home was broken off its hinges and the whole lower part of the house was damaged . . . With hurrying hearts, Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt raced into the house—for they had left their youngest son, John, in care of the maid . . . John was all right, but confused by the noise and, half asleep he said: "What happened, mother?" . . . "Turn over and go back to sleep, dear," Eleanor said calmly, "it's only a small bomb."

THEN there is Geoffrey T. Hellman's nifty pen-portrait of Mrs. President . . . One day a visitor was ushered into the First Lady's room in the White House before Mrs. Roosevelt had come in . . . As she was waiting, their shepherd dog bit the visitor in the ankle. Her screams brought Mamie, the negro maid, followed a moment later by Mrs. Roosevelt . . . "What's the matter?" asked Mrs. Roosevelt . . . "The dawg's done bit the lady," explained Mamie.

"That settles it, Mamie," said Mrs. R. severely, "from now on we'll have Iodine kept in this room!"

In the Tavern on West 48th St., yesterday this one went good . . . An Italian was told how he could dodge Mussolini's draft . . . "Go have half your teeth taken out—the Duce wants soldiers who can chew" . . . Wherever They Raise Their Heads

Uncle Sam Will Have To Dig Deep Into His Purse, Catton Say

Union Of Western Nations Will Cost Mon

This is the second of three stories on "America's role in the new world order."

BY BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 27 — If the New World nations agree to the "economic union" plan recently proposed here, the United States is in for a program which would make its previous farm-relief and export-subsidy programs look mild.

To begin with, Europe annually buys around $1,500,000,000 worth of Latin American goods. On top of that the United States itself each year exports farm products running to hundreds of millions of dollars. Any international cartel formed to buy and handle the New World's export surpluses, therefore, would have to spend an enormous sum each year — and most if not all of the money would have to be put up by Uncle Sam.

Catton

But that only starts it. Once the cartel has bought these goods it will have to dispose of them.

The bulk of them, undoubtedly, could be sold to Europe — Hitler's Europe, or anybody else's. But there is also little doubt here that a large quantity would remain as surplus. What to do about that?

Plan Likely To Be Costly

The administration is firmly set against any plan which would mean the dumping of Latin American agricultural products into the U. S. market, to compete with home-grown goods. It frankly faces the fact that a good part of the cartel's acquisitions simply couldn't be sold anywhere.

One suggestion is that these materials — mostly foodstuffs — could be moved in the United States via a vast extension of the current food stamp plan. Another one is simply that the whole business could, if need be, just be dumped into the ocean — or, possibly, given away via international relief organizations to feed refugees, and so on. In any case, the prospect that a huge loss, running perhaps to half a billion a year, would have to be taken is openly admitted.

The Swastika Follows Trade

Why, then, do the sponsors of this plan think it would be good business?

The answer is that the much-feared economic penetration of Hitler in the New World will not come through his sales of German-made goods, but through his purchases. If he controls the market for each individual nation, he can write his own ticket; he can for instance, say to a given republic, "I will take your entire export crop off your hands, IF—" and then go on from there.

If, however, he does not control the market at all; if each nation in the New World knows that it can sell its wares to a New World corporation, and if all of Hitler's purchases must be made through that corporation — then, the argument goes, the danger of economic penetration vanishes.

It goes without saying that there is nothing like unanimity on the virtues of this scheme.

WAR PROFITEERING?

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—Brighton Educational Committee accused the town's churches of "profiteering at the expense of evacuees" and rejected a schedule of rentals for hire of church property as additional schools.

The committee's alternative was a decision to requisition any church property it required at rentals approved by its own valuer.

This coastal holiday town received 13,000 London children at the outbreak of war, but only 9,000 remained. The others filtered back to the dingy streets of East End London.

England exports more than $500,000 worth of canes and umbrellas annually.

Air Mail Poundage In City Increases

With the Lubbock postoffice averaging more than ten pounds of air mail daily Postmaster Amos Howard and other postal officials believe there is an excellent chance of Lubbock being placed on an air mail route when action is taken on applications now pending before the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

The applications are now awaiting hearings at the call of CAA officials which were delayed earlier this year due to the government's insistance that the national defense program be disposed of before civil applications are considered.

Four separate surveys for air postal service through here have been made through the Lubbock office and as many applications for lines are awaiting hearings.

"Regardless of the outcome of the applications, Lubbock now has excellent air mail collections," Postmaster Howard said, citing the fact that air mail placed in the Lubbock office by noon any day will arrive in Kansas City at 8:52 p. m. the same night; St. Louis 10:46 the same night; New York at 6:28 a. m. the next day; Chicago 5:45 p. m. the next day and Los Angeles 11:30 p. m. the same night.

Six Exercises Are Planned

SAN ANTONIO, June 27 (AP)—Six tactical exercises will be crowded into a week of large scale maneuvers by about 1,000 reserve officers training corps students from four eighth corps area summer encampments corps area headquarters at Fort Sam Houston announced today.

The maneuvers will take place mostly in New Mexico and students from Camp Bullis, San Antonio; Fort Crockett, Galveston; Fort Sill, Okla., and Fort Logan, Colo., will concentrate at Fort Bliss, El Paso. From Camp Bullis 543 students will leave for maneuvers June 29.

To Divide Forces

The first exercise July 3 will get underway when students are divided into opposing forces, leaving Fort Bliss for Dona Ana, N. M., and will consist of an attack problem in two columns.

July 4 exercise will involve an attack and defense problem, the area to be covered being between Dona Ana to Hot Springs, N. M.

July 5th exercise will extend from Hot Springs to Albuquerque and will be a retreat and pursuit problem.

The next exercise will continue two days and extend from Albuquerque through Santa Fe to Espanola involving an attempt by one force to hold the Rio Grande against an attack by an opposing force.

July 8th exercise will be the same as that on July 5 and will be from Santa Fe to Roswell.

The final exercise on July 9 will be the same as that on July 4 but will be conducted from Roswell to Carlsbad.

CUPID PLAYS TAG

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—A young man had two city tags for the same car and wanted a refund on one of them. He had told his girl he didn't have the money to buy his auto tag. The young lady, cognizant of his approaching birthday, bought the tag as a present. In the meantime the young man had raised the money and bought one.

The council voted to refund the money—to the young lady.
