Attack Redirected

Texas Animal Health Commission has changed its attack on hog cholera in Texas by de-emphasizing the cure which has turned out to be a cause of the disease.

Commission has been depending on the modified live-virus vaccine to combat the disease. But statistics show that, in 1967, 31 per cent of the hog colera cases were traced back to the use of the MLV.

In 60 per cent of those cases, the vaccine was improperly used. But in the other 40 per cent, it was not. Texas statistics showed that 33 per cent of the cases were caused by use of the MLV.

So, the Commission approved a new requirement that all hogs leaving a market for destinations other than slaughter be inoculated with inactive serum. Then, if the owner wants to use the live virus, he may.

Secondly, the Commission amended its regulation that all hogs entering the state must have been treated with the modified live-virus vaccine. New requirement will be the use of the inactive serum alone.

Texas Gets Recreation Funds

Texas is due to get $1.7 million of $45.7 million in funds for acquistion and development of outdoor recreation facilities approved by Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, U. S. Department of Interior.

Allocations are made largely on basis of population, federal resources and programs and out-of-state visitor use. States must match the grants 50-50.

Blue Law Suit

Texas Supreme Court has heard the first arguments for and against Penal Code Article 286a, which prohibits the sale of certain listed items -- covering just about everything -- on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays.

Suit is the State vs. Gibson's Discount Center of Midland, which -- the State contends -- tried to get around the law by staying open the legal six days then "leasing" its facilities and stocks to another company -- created and owned by Gibson's -- for the seventh day.

At the local level, a district court judge upheld Gibson's move by saying that the "Blue Law" is unconstitutional, because the items listed in the statute are vague and indefinite.

In its argument before the court, Gibson's concentrated on allegations that the state's appeal -- directly to the Supreme Court from the district court -- was improper and should be refused.

High Court will rule on the jurisdictional question before it gets into the substance of the case.

Loan Bonds Sold

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System sold $12 million in student loan bonds to Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago at 3.8673 interest.

Money provides assistance to needy students. So far, 29,480 have benefitted from it.

Board also approved fine arts programs at nine schools and administrative reorganization of arts programs at the University of Texas at Arlington and West Texas State. Construction of a $1.5 million physical education complex at San Angelo State College got authorization, as did the plan for participation in federal aid to campus building.

On December 3, Board will make key decisions on dental education, medical education and North Texas higher education needs.

Cotton Gin Rider Dumped

A controversial appropriation bill rider twice vetoed by Gov. John Connaly was stricken from a budget draft on motion of Lt. Gov.-elect Ben Barnes.

Barnes got some opposition from House Speaker-designate Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham and Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah, but Gov.-elect Preston Smith held his motion carried on voice vote.

Rider sought to keep funds from being spent to police air pollution by cotton gins. Mutscher said the problem is insignificant and is used by politicians to "demagogue." Connally has maintained that the problem caused by gins is major. Barnes argued that the rider is unneeded and is simply a "political factor."

"Plenty of time during the legislative session to work it out," Smith said in sustaining the vote on deletion.

Cotton Harvest Reported Slowed

The Memphis Cotton classing office, Consumer Marketing Service of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, opened this week for it's tenth year of operation, according to W. E. Cain, officer-in-charge.

Harvest of defoliated cotton and a small amount killed by frosts was just g etting underway when it was halted by rain last weekend. Heavy dew in the mornings has further slowed harvest. A freeze or killing frost is needed to drop the remainder of the leaves on the stalks to put harvest into full swing, said Cain.

Two classers are presently on duty at the Memphis Cotton Classing Office but others will be added as the backlog of unclassed samples increases.

Quality of the crop is good in both grade and staple. Of the cotton classed this week, 63 percent was in the White grades and only 37 percent Light Spot and Spotted grades. The three largest grades were Middling 43 percent, Strict Low Middling 13 percent, and Middling Light Spot, 27 percent.

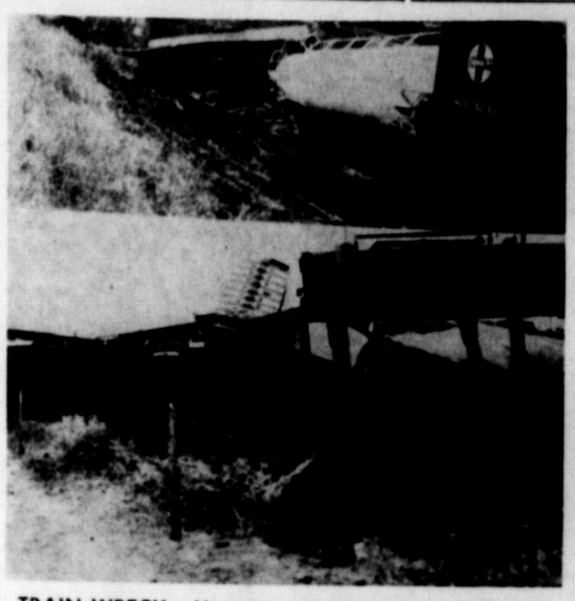

Prevailing Staples were 15/16 - 23 percent, 31/32 - 29 percent, 1 inch to 1-1/16 - 37 percent and 9 percent - 1 3/32 and longer.

Micronaire readings show 10 percent 3.4 and below. There was 87 percent in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9 and only 3 per cent 5.0 and above.

Pressley results, or breaking strength in thousand pounds per square inch, is also released by the Consumer Marketing Service, Cotton Division.

Results this week show 92 per cent in the desirable range of 75,000 and above. This weekly average was 84,000 and the season average so far is 85,000.

The market is very quiet at this time. This is due to a light demand on the part of buyers and to farmers not having harvested sizable lots of cotton to offer. Not enough sales were made to quote average prices for any grade or stable. It is felt that market interest in this area will pick up, however, as harvest gets underway.

McLean Blast Silverton 26-6

The McLean Tigers showed no signs of letdown last week at Silverton, and they ripped the host Owls for a 26-6 win, setting the stage for the District 2-A championship at Clarendon this Friday night. The victor, coupled with Clarendon's 15-7 loss to Wheeler, put the Tigers on top of the district race with a 4-0 record. Wheeler and Clarendon are tied for second at 3-1.

It appeared in the first quarter that the game might be a tough defensive battle. Both teams were forced to punt the first two times they had the ball. But on the Tigers' third possession, in the second period, they drove the ball 83 yards in 21 plays to score, with Thacker Haynes grinding out most of the yardage. Earnest Smith covered the last elevn yards on a beautiful sweep around left end, breaking at least three tackles to put the first points on the board. A pass from quarterback Joel McCarty to end David Brown was dropped in the end zone, giving the Tigers a 6-0 edge. A few minutes later, the Tigers took the ball at the midfield stripe and moved in to score at the end of the half. Thacker Haynes again handled most of the ball-carrying and Joel McCarty completed two key passes to end Mike Darsey. Haynes went over from the one just as the gun sounded ending the first half. His extra point try failed, and the Tigers had a 12-0 advantage.

Silverton got a drive going following the second half kickoff. Cletus Grady returned the boot 25 yards to his own 40 and the Owls reached the Tiger 37 before Jerry Dwyer came up with a fumble to halt the threat. The Tigers then marched 63 yards in 9 plays for their third touchdown. Again Haynes shouldered the running duties, carrying the Tigers to the 15. Haynes rushed for 168 yards during the game. Joel McCarty made a fine run on a keeper and went 15 yards to make it 18-0. McCarty attempted to pass for the extra point, couldn't find his receivers and ran into the end zone. However, a 15-yard penalty nullified the score, moving the ball back to the 18. This didn't stop the Tigers, though, and McCarty hit Earnest Smith, who was wide open, with a pass for two points.

Silverton again penetrated McLean territory, this time driving to the 35, but Mike Darsey recovered another fumble, and the Tigers took over at the 32-yard line. McLean was forced to punt following a 15-yard penalty and Silverton drove 65 yards for their only score, in the final period. Cletus Grady, Bill Strange and Mike Tate took the Owls to the 8-yard line, where quarterback Lannie Arnold passed to end Paul McWilliams for the tally with 9:45 remaining to play. The conversion try failed, making the score 20-6.

Thacker Haynes took the kickoff at his 20, ran straight up the middle and almost broke for a touchdown, but Bill Strange made a jarring tackle at the Tiger 41. This was only a temporary dalay, however, because the Tigers marched 59 yards in 10 plays for the final score, with 5:30 left in the game. Haynes and McCarty turned in some good runs and Haynes dashed 4 yards for the touchdown. Joel's pass to David Brown was no good and the Tigers led, 26-6.

The teams exchanged punts and the Tigers drove to the Silverton 10 as time ran out. Earnest Smith gained most of the yardage in the drive and freshman quarterback Tommy Duniven hit Mike Darsey for a 10-yard pass play. The clock read zero with the final score McLean 26, Silverton 6.

Playing well on defense for the Tigers were Gary Ellison, Jerry Dwyer, Earnest Smith, Clinton Corbin, Brad Parker, Dick Back, David Brown, Thacker Haynes, Joes McCarty, Dennis Duniven, Mike Darsey and Steve Thacker. Center Jim Barker did some good blocking for the Tigers.

The Tigers travel to Clarendon Friday night to meet the Bronchos in the game which most of us have been waiting for, and which will decide who is the champion of District 2-A. Clarendon which has rolled to an 8-1 record this year, has a well-rounded team on both offense and defense. The Bronchos have allowed only 27 points in four district games. McLean has an equally outstanding defense, allowing 31 points. Clarendon has an explosive offense, with several fine backs and a good passer. The Tigers will counter with a well-ballanced running and passing attack which has given them 5 straight victories and a 7-2 season record. If the Tigers defeat Clarendon, they will be the undisputed district champions. If not, the district would probably end up in a three-way tie between McLean, Clarendon and Wheeler, as was the case two years ago. The Tigers have already clinched a tie, while the other two teams will be fighting for a share of the crown.

With such high stakes riding on Friday night's contest, McLean fans will certainly not want to miss it. Let's all go over to Clarendon and back the ... as they take the final s... the District 2-A Champion...

LOOKIN' BACK

by Vera Featherston Back

The interment of Ott Goodman in Hillcrest Cemetery on November 11, was, though sad, a fitting burial, for Ott was one of the many McLean boys who served their country well in World War I. Other veterans of all wars, from the Civil War to the War in Vietnam, lie at rest in our local cemetery to remind us of the tragic price so many have paid for that peace which now seems so unattainable.

November 11, 1916 was designated as Armistice Day and Jim and I, with our oldest in tow, helped celebrate that momentous occasion in the city of Houston. Everybody able to walk or ride was on the streets of that city all day shouting, marching to band music, singing and dancing. It seemed everybody loved everybody and all were equal: rich and poor, black and white, private and general.

When physically exhausted, no one thought of going home. He just walked in free to the nearest picture show and sat down to rest while patriotic music and news of the peace negotiations and the signing of the Armistice in that railroad car in Germany blared from the loud speakers on the stage.

It was a great day! Can anyone who was here describe that day in McLean? We do know that on the Saturday after Monday, November 11, McLean celebrated the victory. In decorated wagons and automobiles, pretty women, dedicated men and excited children formed a parade on the school grounds at the west end of First Street 'now 66 West', marched down town and back to the Methodist Church where Prof. J. T. Duflot of Canyon brought the people a stirring, patriotic message. Leading the parade was W. T. Wilson, on horseback and carrying the American flag. Mr. Quattlebaum, dressed in uniform to represent General Pursh-ing, followed. Mr. Tipton carried a large picture of President Woodrow Wilson. A group of local people representing a Belgian family returning home from exile was pronounced the best ... in the parade. Can anyone ... us the names of these local ... people who portrayed the Belgians?

Now Armistice Day is no more. It has given way to Veteran's Day so many of us have forgotten the significance of the occasion. Remember when at 11:00 o'clock when the fire siren would sound and we teachers and students would stop whatever we were doing and in silent prayer thank God for our boys who fought "over here." Now I'm afraid we fail to pause in honor of our dead—and our living soldiers who will bear the scars of war as long as they breathe. Why do we go about November 11 as if it were just another day? Where has our patriotism gone? Or have we become so sophisticated that we are afraid to show our patriotism and appreciation for those who fought that we might live a good life?

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

From The Bible

Now you are the light in the Lord.—(Eph. 5:8).

The Christ light shines in us and clarifies our thinking. It casts out any darkness that may have shadowed our thinking and our feeling. This light radiates so that others—my family, my friends, the people I meet—are blessed by its radiance. This light shining through us contributes toward the light of the world, helping to lift the clouds so that the warmth of Christ light can shine in all its brilliancy.

TAX SAM SEZ:

Paying taxes is a part of our way of life. Most folks say it is a part that they don't particularly like, but since the things they require from their goverment cost, it is reasonable to pay taxes a few more times before we find the perfect method.

The amount of taxes that you pay often depends upon the kind of records you keep. They may be a few CPA's and other professional record-keepers who really love to keep records, but the average taxpayer doesn't. This costs him! Most folks working in the tax business join the Internal Revenue Service in advising you to keep good recirds. Maybe we should take the trouble. The sweat and frustration might be worthwhile.

Broad Scope Of 4-H Projects Keep Youths Busy

Heading the list of the top 10 projects undertaken by the nation's three million 4-H youths are animal science, clothing, foods and plant science. Recent figures released by the Cooperative Extension Service show that youngsters also are very much interested in health and physical fitness.

In addition to animal and plant sciences, the application of scientific principles is a part of nearly all 4-H projects, says the Extension Service.

Recreation, engineering and safety are three more areas in which large numbers of 4-H members excel. Projects involving management and furnishings for the home show high enrollment, as does conservation.

Community service and personal development are a prime concern of today's 4-H'ers as well, judging from the more than 300,000 participating.

Most 4-H boys and girls spend their time on more than one project, as the survey shows. Boys may be involved in plant and animal sciences and engineering projects.

A girl may study plant science to make her horticultural project more meaningful. Or food science to get the most from her foods and nutrition projects. Overlapping areas are safety and conservation. Both affect the individual, the home, community and nation.

Specific programs—or projects—carried on under the 10 main categories have definite objectives that help develop skills and stimulate young minds to "clearer thinking," 4-H leaders point out.

For example, a youngster working on an entomology project (science) will gain new knowledge, improve his surroundings, and possibly "turn him on" sufficiently to seek a college degree and ultimately a career.

The 4-H program provides awards based on individual achievement. The awards are given annually by private industry through the National 4-H Service Committee. Among the 1968 donors are: Standard Brands Incorporated; John Deere; Oliver Corporation; Carnation Company; Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc.; Hercules ... porated; Amchem Prod...

Social Security Information

Social Security benefits don't start automatically when you retire. This may seem strange since the social security contribution comes out of the pay check without the worker requesting it, but the monthly retirement benefits do have to be requested. Along with the application certain proofs have to be furnished, according to Travis C. Briggs, district manager of the Amarillo social security office. What does a person need to get his retirement check started? Briggs says that along with his social security card, proof of a person's age should always be brought with him when he files.

Most people decide to file a claim the first trip to the social security office after they see how simple it is, Briggs says, even though they were just inquiring about how to file. Usually one visit is all that is needed if the necessary proofs are brought along. If the spouse and children are also claiming benefits, they will need proof of their age.

Since most people in this area don't have a birth certificate recorded near the time of birth, they usually need two old documents showing their age, the older the document the better. Baptismal records, family Bibles, school records, insurance policies, marriage licenses, and practically any other old document showing the person's age can be used to establish his date of birth. If the person was baptized near birth and this was recorded by the church, this baptismal record is considered excellent proof by the Social Security Administration and must be obtained.

Briggs says that your last year's W-2 Form, or tax return, if you were self-employed, should also be brought with you when you plan to apply for social security. The W-2 form is the statement of earnings furnished to employees at the end of each year by the employer.

The retirement claim should be filed during the three months before the month one reaches 65, and it may be so simple you will think the checks did start automatically. The social security office is located at 1006 Adams in Amarillo.

 County Agricultural Agent  Texas A & M. College Extension Service

By FOSTER WHALEY

A number of Gray County farmers and ranchers, along with about 40,000 other Texas livestock producers, will receive a most important questionnaire during the las half of November.

County Agent Foster Whaley says it will come from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin, and that it should be filled out and returned as soon as possible.

Here's why. The information gained from the questionnaires, he says, will be the basis for the official estimates of livestock numbers, cattle, hogs and poultry, for the State of Texas and for each county. The survey on sheep and goats will be made in late December, he adds.

Accurate estimates are of great importance to stockmen in planning production and marketings and for providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture, Whaley says.

The Texas Legislature has provided for the program of estimates for each county because state totals alone do not provide adequate information on our most basic industry, explains the county agent. The program of estimates, he continues, is a cooperative effort of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Statistical reporting service and the Texas Department of Agriculture which depends upon the reporting producers for the needed information.

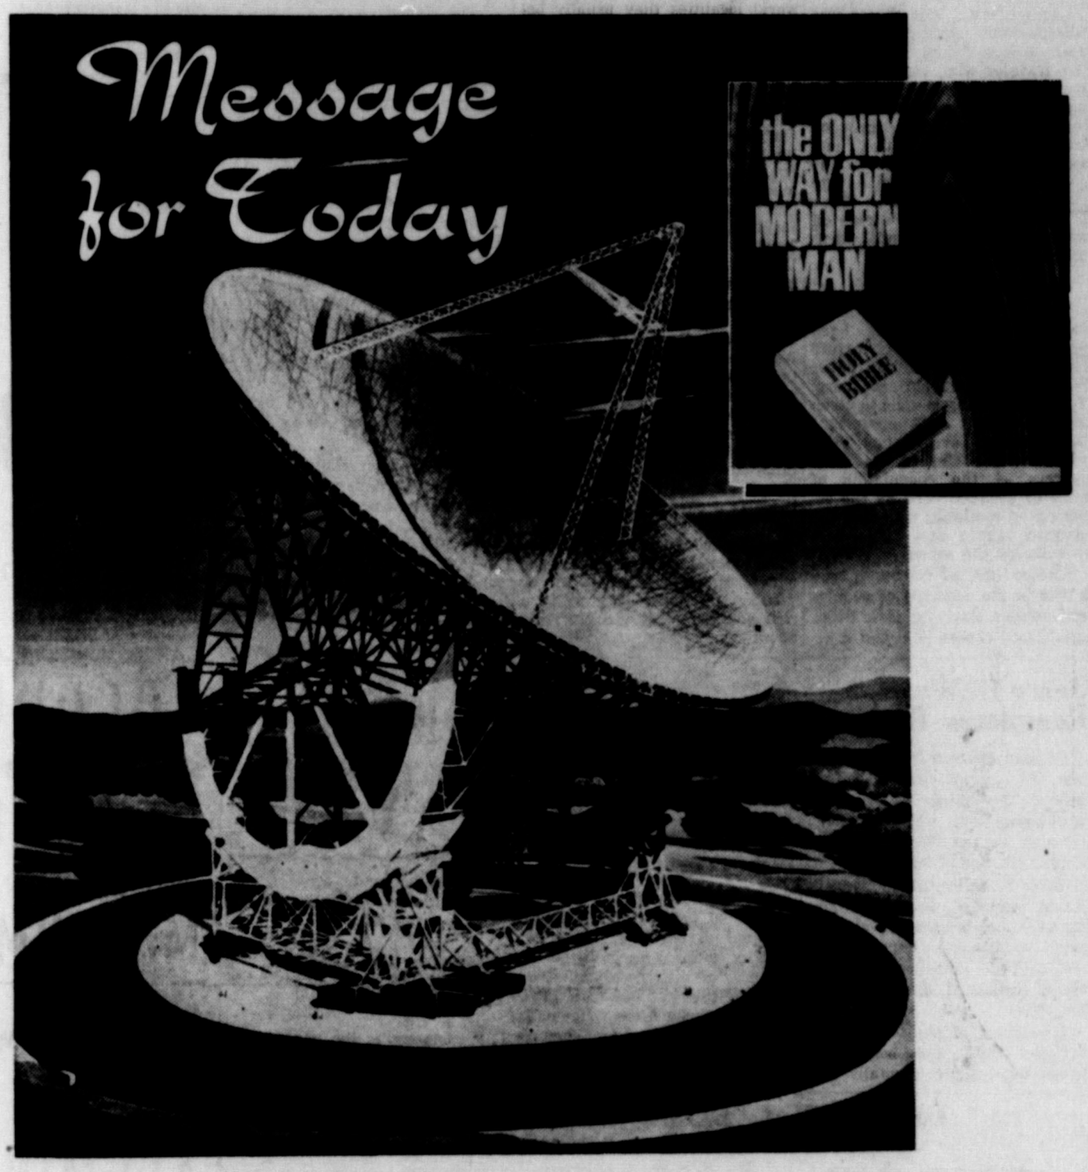

Whaley urges each producer who receives a questionnaire from the Reporting Service to fill it out completely for his farm or ranch and return it in the enclosed postage-free envelope.

Pork, beef and poultry are offering some real money saving values in protein foods.

Since World War I, the total number of living war veterans has never fallen below 4.2 million, the Veterans Administration says. Today there are more than 22.9 million war veterans, more than at any time in history.

Increased compensation payments for about 1,952,000 service-disabled veterans will begin in 1969.

Message for Today

A giant radio telescope picked up bursts of static from a galaxy 2000 light years away. In them, scientists discovered these simple words:

"Earthmen, your planet is in danger. As your morals decay, your great cities slowly crumble. You will see wars and civil strife."

"But we offer you hope," the ancient message continued. "A new world. We can give you knowledge and bring you the peace for which you have searched so long . . ."

Science-fiction?

Not entirely.

There is a message that originated in a distant place over 2000 years ago. It describes the world as it is today, and it offers hope for the future.

The Bible, inspired by God, is a very real message, one that you can begin reading today. Then go to church on Sunday and meet the Author there.

Crop Residue Use

The residue from a crop of milo or corn is valuable in the maintence of productively and should be considered as an asset instead of a liability.

The approximate 6000 pounds of residue from a 5000 pound milo crop contains about 85 pounds of total nitrogen, 25 pounds phosphorus P205 and 125 pounds of potassium K20. With good management these nutrients can contribute substantially to the requirements of the next crop.

Perhaps of greater importance is the effect of the residue on the maintenance orimprovement of the physical structure of the soil as reflected in better water intake and retention, and better tilth.

Many farmers follow the desirable practice of shredding stalks immediately after harvest and the question of whether or not to apply nitrogen to speed up decomposition often arises, it is evident that for maxium protection against erosion much of the residue should remain on the surface. Surface applied nitrogen on exposed residue cannot be expected to greatly speed up the decaying process and a portion of the nitrogen can be lost to the atmosphere if left on the surface. Nitrogen applied to the residue should be worked into the soil at least partially if the organisms are to be active.

Another factor to consider is that decomposition slows down as soil temperatures drop and it proceeds faster when soil temperature is ideal for plant-growth.

WONDERFUL CHEESE

Today I've been perusing a publication of the National Dairy Council called "Newer Knowledge of Cheese". It offers interesting information:

Cheese has been a popular food for thousands of years — going far back into history even before the time of Homer. It was served at Caesar's banquet tables and served to his armies as part of their rations just as cheese serves armies around the world at the present time.

Legend has it that cheese was "discovered" several thousand years before Christ by an Arabian traveler who, starting on a journey, placed milk in a pouch made of a sheep's stomach. During the day's journey, the combined action of the sun's heat and enzymes in the lining of the pouch changed the milk into cheese curds and whey. Whey is the thin liquid that drains off when the rest of the milk turns to cheese.

Varieties Of Cheese

And so since that time many varieties of cheese have been produced, ranging in texture from soft to hard and in flavor from mild to pungent and sharp. Today processing is done in clean modern plants with equipment that controls every step. Still, whatever the cheese, the basic process — the coagulation of milk to produce curd by the separate or combined action of the enzyme rennin and lactic acid — remains the same.

Cheese has, of course, played a role in the economy of peoples and nations. Early nomadic tribes considered cheese vital and it became a prized medium of exchange because it provided milk in a solid and less perishable form.

It is said that the Crusaders brought back secrets of cheesemaking that promoted the art rapidly in Europe. After the fall of the Roman Empire, during the Dark Ages, these secrets were guarded in the monasteries. Trappist Monks developed varieties of cheese that still are made. As cheeses developed in various world localities they usually became known by the name of that area, as for example, Cheddar, Stilton, and Roquefort.

The Cheese Industry

Cheesemaking remained a farm and home operation until the middle of the nineteenth century. Its development into a great industry as we know it today began in 1851 when the first cheese factory was started in Rome, N.Y. Today, cheesemakers in the United States have successfully manufactured virtually all foreign types of cheese such as Swiss, Camembert, Limburger, Blue and Parmesan. Original American varieties include Brick, Colby, Monterey or Jack cheese, and others.

Cheese is a very versatile food. Its use extends from hors d'oeuvres to dessert, alone and in combination with other foods. People of all ages like it. It is said there is a cheese for every taste and every pocketbook. Three ounces of cheddar cheese has the same amount of protein as three ounces of boneless meat, fish, or poultry, or three eggs. It is a rich source of all the nutrients of milk.

Jerry D. Wariner Completes Basic

Seaman Recruit Jerry D. Wariner, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn J. Wariner of Lefors, is undergoing nine weeks of basic training at the Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif.

He is receiving instructions in Naval customs, courtesies and organization, ordnance and gunnery, seamanship, damage control, first aid, swimming and survival, shipboard drill and sentry duty.

A program of physical fitness, military drill and inspections keeps the recruits mentally and physically alert during their training.

His Navy Classification tests will determine whether he will be assigned to a school, shore station or ship after his graduation.

FARM - CITY WEEK

President Lyndon B. Johnson, by official proclamation, has designated the week of November 22-28 as National Farm-City Week and asks all citizens of the nation to participate in observance planned for their areas. He calls attention to the need for planning which will develop both town and country economies.

Legionnaires To Meet In Memphis

Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from the 18th District of The American Legion have a treat in store for them when they attend the District Convention at Memphis, November 16-17. The National Commander of the American Legion, William C. Doyle of Vineland, New Jersey, will speak before the convention on Sunday afternoon, Bill Ballew, Convention Chairman, has announced.

Commander Doyle recently returned from an official visit to the fighting fronts in Vietnam and is expected to report on his findings and his opinion on the halt of the bombing in North Vietnam as it affects the security of American forces in South Vietnam.

The convention will get under way on Saturday with registration commencing at 10 a.m. At 5 p.m., there will be a social hour, followed by a joint banquet for the American Legion and Auxiliary. Principal speaker for the banquet will be Department Commander Robert P. Walsh of San Antonio.
