Ed Wheat Assumes Duty

Ed Wheat

Ed Wheat, 42, has officially assumed the duties of Chief of Police for Colorado City. Wheat, a 22 year veteran in law enforcement, comes to Colorado City from Benbrook, Texas where he served as crime prevention officer.

"I'm looking forward to getting involved in community affairs. My first priority, though, is the police department. I plan to organize and operate a number one force," Wheat said.

The chief of police position came open in late April when Jimmy Roundtree resigned.

Wheat's appointment followed an intensive search by City Manager Rick Crowley. "I am very excited about him working here," said Crowley. "I think the council has made a good choice."

Of Colorado City, Wheat feels that the crime rate, from the little he has seen or heard, is average for a town this size.

Wheat and his wife, Barbara, have three children, D'Ann, Clint and Anson Buck. Wheat belongs to several organizations and associations. They include Hamlin Masonic Lodge No. 958, Southwestern Basketball officials Association, National Federation of Amateur Softball Association of Umpires, Texas State Little League Baseball Association and the City of Fort Worth Football Association.

COTTON FARMERS IN MITCHELL COUNTY have finally been able to get into the fields this week to start planting. Pictured here is Steve Shackelford who farms the Webb Place southeast of the Buford Gin. Planting should continue for another couple of weeks.

Summer Sessions Cancelled At Center

The five summer sessions planned at the Wallace Community Center for local youth have been cancelled at this time, announced Center Co-ordinator Barbara Gray.

The sessions were cancelled due to lack of enrollment and will not be re-scheduled unless there are enough children (25) registered for each session.

Mrs. Gray said that in the future, they are planning to have a Play-day once a week, where children may come to the Center for games and recreation.

She said they have the Center from 9 a.m., until 4 p.m., on Wednesdays for skating.

For more information, contact Mrs. Gray at 728-2392.

Danny Bell will approach the council and request an area at the city park to be used for dirt bike track racing.

Recommendations of use of city landfill by private businesses will be presented along with a request for placement of stop signs in the city.

Procedures for the selling of city vehicles will be deliberated by the council members and they will also discuss the position of the police lieutenant.

Area 4-H's Head For Roundup

Mitchell County will be well represented at Texas A&M University June 8-10 at the 1982 State 4-H Roundup, Project Show and Congress.

The county's 4-H members will be among some 2,000 from across Texas taking part in a host of activities, says Marian Morris, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Representing the Mitchell County 4-H Rifle Team will be Russell

McGuire, Chip Northcutt, Carl Britton and Naomi Mize.

Activities will get underway with the State 4-H Food Show on June 8 followed by 39 Roundup contests and the Project Show on June 9. State 4-H Congress also begins June 9 and continues through the next day.

The opening assembly for Roundup will begin at 7 p.m., June 8 with the recognition of 72 outstanding 4-H members who will receive scholarships totaling $350,000. Five long-time supporters of the 4-H program also will be recognized with special awards from the Texas 4-H Foundation, stated Ms. Morris.

A special luncheon on June 9 will recognize 29 outstanding 4-H adult volunteer leaders from across the state who will receive special plaques from the Texas 4-H Foundation.

The program for Texas 4-H Congress will feature a look at various career fields and opportunities.

4-H's competing in the State Food Show and Roundup contests must qualify by winning in county and district competition, points out Ms. Morris. The State Project Show is open to all 4-H youth who are interested in preparing exhibits about particular project areas in which they have excelled.

Congress is a leadership event for senior 4-H members (14 to 19 years of age) that annually addresses certain key issues.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
 Last summer I brought my family home for a visit during the Centennial Celebration, and what a wonderful time we had! I saw a community pulling together in a magnificent celebration of its history. I left filled with joy, pride, and new knowledge about my own past.

This Memorial Day I returned home for a visit and was devastated by the sight of rubble where the railroad depot, a historic and beautiful building once stood. Without being trite or maudlin, I can't find words to express the sorrow and loss I feel.

The railroad was the cornerstone on which this community was built. In an age when we are beginning to realize the value of such historic buildings, why was this one destroyed? My home is now in Lubbock. The Museum Association there has collected representative historic buildings from this area of Texas. With much pride I show friends the blacksmith shop from the Spade Ranch, and am pleased to say that people from my own community donated that building. In downtown Lubbock the train depot has been converted into a beautiful restaurant. There are so many ways such a lovely old big building could be used! Why was ours lost?

It is obvious this letter is too late to keep the worst from happening to the depot, but perhaps it's not too late to keep the same from happening to other historic sites. For those of you who are the trustees of this wonderful, historic community so many of us who live elsewhere still call home, please consider us, too, and our children and grandchildren before you let the symbols of our roots be totally destroyed!

Sincerely and sadly yours,
 Arla Jo Payne Anderton

Trapped Weevils Down

This is a correction on the story of the boll weevils last week. It was said that it is good that so many weevils have been trapped. Well, really, it is bad because the more weevils trapped means that much more of a population of weevils that can destroy the farmers' cotton.

The latest trap, baited 5-24 through 5-28 and checked 6-1 through 6-4 showed a decrease in weevils trapped. In 1981, at this same time, 54 weevils were caught per trap; this year it was .41 per trap.

There are two possible reasons for this drop. One reason could be that the peak emergence shifted to the last week in May or that there will be two peaks this year—the earlier increase and then the traditional one the first week of June.

Hamby To Remain At 1st United Methodist

At an impressive worship service of the giving and receiving of appointments at the Northwest Texas Annual Conference session on Thursday night, June 3, at Polk Street United Methodist Church in Amarillo, Pastor M. Ronald Hamby was officially re-assigned for another year to First United Methodist Church in Colorado City.

Clergy and laity from the individual churches sat together as each stood to affirm their commitment to the assignments made by Bishop Louis Schowengerdt and his Cabinet for the conference year 1982-83. Appointments normally extend from June to June each year, though mid-year moves are possible.

Pastor Hamby is completing three years in Colorado City and expressed no surprise at the re-assignment. "I am extremely pleased to be here for another year, and I trust the congregation is also. We have developed a good working relationship in ministry, and hopefully this fourth year may be our very best together!" said Hamby.

Hamby, his wife, Jeanne, and daughter Juli, live at 1516 Austin in the church parsonage and have been very active in community life since being in Colorado City.

Adult Softball Begins June 14

Sports fans who enjoy adult softball action can get out their lawn chairs and prepare for some hot performances on the Hertenberger Field this summer.

City League is tentatively scheduled to kick-off Monday, June 14, according to League President Charles Ray Watlington.

Watlington said that the turnout looked a little bleak for a while, but the ten teams now entered will give the fans some good action.

Teams entered in this year's play are Los Amigos, David Alvarez; Fullers, Larry Don Watlington; Rejects, Robert Henderson; Lowriders, Danny Rivera; Little Chicago, Israel Franco; C-City A's, Ruben Molina; C-City B's, Ruben Molina; Thompson's Ditching, Joe Martinez; C-C Athletics, John Morgan and Loraine, Tommy Headrick.

Times and dates have not been scheduled yet, noted Watlington, as a lot depends on the repair of a breaker box for the lights. He said the breaker box was completely destroyed in the last storm and presently there were no lights.

Watlington said that he hopes to have it replaced and ready to go by the opening night games.

All games played in City League action are open free of charge to the public and a concession stand will also be open for the convenience of those attending.

Band Wins Awards At State

By BILL GILSTRAP

As announced earlier, the Wolf Band participated in the Texas State Solo-Ensemble competition last weekend in Austin.

Fifty-two members competed in several different categories. From the way ratings were given, it appeared that the band members were not up to their usual par. One has to remember, though, that they were competing on state level where it is not easy to make a one.

Most of the groups made excellent ratings (twos). Those earning excellent ratings were a brass sextet, a medium ensemble, and a flute trio by Mickie Palmer, Sheila Crenshaw and Amy Moore. The twirling ensemble also received a two as did the percussion ensemble.

In further events, three solos were rated as good. Those playing solos were Barbara Heredia, Tracy Womack and Kerry Wright. A twirling solo by Kakai Calloway also made a good rating.

These students may not have earned superior ratings, but they certainly represented themselves as well as the town in Austin. They have no reason to be ashamed of their ratings.

The town is proud of them and the Colorado

City RECORD office would like to personally congratulate them on their accomplishments.

Infectious Diseases Up In Mitchell Co.

Texans are getting sick more often. In 1981, 58 cases of infectious diseases in Mitchell County were registered with the Texas Department of Health.

According to a recently released summary, 54 cases of influenza were reported in Mitchell County in 1981 as compared to no cases in 1980. Other statistics reveal four cases of venereal disease in 1981 and two cases in 1980; no cases of hepatitis in 1981 and none in 1980; no cases of tuberculosis in 1981 and one in 1980; no cases of measles in 1981 and none in 1980 and no cases of meningitis in 1981 and none in 1980.

The summary revealed a 20 percent overall statewide increase in infectious diseases in 1981. Almost 700 more Texans suffered with measles in 1981 as compared to 1980, for a 69 percent increase. The Health Department report also showed a 31 percent increase in influenza cases and a 40 percent increase in meningitis.

The report also showed an 85 percent increase in typhoid fever in 1981. Eight of the 127 reported cases were linked to a San Antonio restaurant, where the largest restaurant-associated typhoid outbreak in the United States in over 50 years occurred.

Twenty-two cases of cholera were diagnosed in 1981, the first reported cholera in Texas since 1973. Seventeen of those cases occurred among oil well workers in Jefferson County - the largest common-source outbreak of cholera in the United States during the 20th century.

The number of reported cases of syphilis increased by 28 percent, from 3,900 in 1980 to 5,440 in 1981. Syphilis has been consistently increasing in Texas since 1974, when only 1,400 cases were reported. Gonorrhea, the other major venereal disease, rose by less than one percent in 1981, to 84,700 cases.

These figures are compiled from weekly reports filed by almost 500 agents around the state. Health Department officials look for unusual characteristics or patterns of reported diseases in order to recognize and then stop possible epidemics. The agents keep tabs on 48 separate communicable diseases.

Story Time Set

Gladys Oden, librarian of the Mitchell County Public Library has announced a story time is beginning and will continue throughout the summer.

Linda Stewart will be telling stories and reading books to children every Thursday morning at 10 a.m. This is open to children of all ages and will last 45 minutes to an hour.

Every Saturday at 2 p.m., movies will be shown, added Mrs. Oden. These movies are also free of charge and open to the public.

During the month of May, stated Mrs. Oden, a beautiful collection of birds was displayed in the foyer showcase by Virginia Warren.

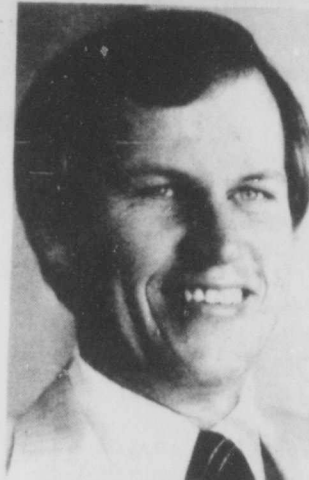

Several local ladies who are members of the China Painting Guild of Sweetwater have a display of china which will be displayed the entire month of June, concluded Mrs. Oden.

Lake Levels Same

With not as much thunderstorm activity the past week, the lake levels have remained at much the same elevation. Lake Champion's reading showed to be up approximately two feet while Lake Colorado City was down .2 feet.

The run-off from the recent thunderstorms seem to have subsided and the lakes are gradually returning to the normal elevation. The lakes are especially going to start going down because of the evaporation caused by the heat from the sun.

Stenholm To Speak At Conservation Meet

Charles
Stenholm

Congressman Charles Stenholm will speak at the meeting of West Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts on June 28, according to Jimmy Harrison, president of the Association.

Harrison stated that he expects about 75 soil and water conservation districts directors and others to attend the meeting. There are 41 soil and water conservation districts in the West Texas Association. The meeting will be held in the Civic Center.

Registration for the meeting begins at 10 a.m., and the business session begins at 10:40 a.m.

The luncheon will begin at 11:45 a.m., and Congressman Stenholm will speak from 12:30 p.m., to 1 p.m. A tour for the group will be held from 1 p.m., until 2:30 p.m., to observe subsurface drainage systems and a saline grass plot on the R. B. Golden farm.

Harrison also stated that pre-registration was necessary in order to know how many to prepare the noon meal for. Any local individual or businessman who would like to come to the noon luncheon and hear Congressman Stenholm should contact one of the district directors and make reservations.

The cost of the meal will be $6 and the checks should be made out to the Mitchell SWCD. The mailing address is Mitchell SWCD, P.O. Box 910, Colorado City, Texas. The local directors are Warren Anderson, Travis Turner, George Martin, Jimmy Harrison and D. M. Smith.

Action Hot In USGA Softball

Action was hot and competition was tough Tuesday night in USGA softball games.

On the local scene, the Tigers downed the Angels, 16-2 and Nat Gabba's grand slam, with the bases loaded, aided in their victory. The Angels did not fall easy, as they had three home runs on their score book.

A night for good close games, the Kougiers pulled out a victory by a narrow margin of 13-11 over the Devils.

In Sweetwater Tuesday night, the Colorado City Angels fell by one run to the Sweetwater team, 11-10.

In intense action, the Colorado City Warriors pulled out on top of the Sweetwater girls, when they defeated them 21-19.

Thursday night the USGA girls met two Sweetwater teams on their own home fields and lost by a narrow margin of 12-10 to the Big State Hornets. Jackie Smith thrilled the crowd with the only homerun for the Tigers.

In Division II, the Devils faced the Sweetwater Panthers and fell 10-6.

Q. In the past, I've noticed service station attendants checking air filters with a light. What are they looking for and how can I check my own filter?

A. Replacing air filters is one of the easiest jobs you can do in maintaining your car, and can have the greatest return per hour of any car maintenance job. When the attendant drops a light in the center of the oil filter, and looks through the filter, he is looking to see if he can see the light through the core. If he can, it generally means the filter isn't dirty enough to replace. Before doing this, hit the filter several times against a hard, flat surface to get rid of any loose dirt. If you can't see light, or if the filter is coated with oil, discard it and install a replacement. You may want to consider one of the "lifetime" air filters which are cleaned and replaced instead of discarded. These are "full-depth" filters which can go for several thousand miles before service is necessary.

Crop Insurance Program Needs Improvement

The new federal crop insurance program must be drastically improved if it is to protect cotton farmers adequately from risks associated with abnormal weather and other conditions beyond their control, a National Cotton Council producer leader said.

John S. Barr, III, Oak Ridge, La., told the Senate Agriculture Committee that the program must attract far more cotton acreage than the 11 percent that participated in 1981. Increased participation, he said, would prevent program losses like those incurred last year when yields were among the best in recent history.

The producer said the Council has long supported a widely affordable all-risk federal crop insurance program based on individual farm yields and area production costs, but quick action must be taken if this goal is to be achieved.

"The intended subsidy for lower premiums is largely passed through to the insurance agent with commissions in the range of 20 percent," Barr commented.

This substantially increases producers' costs and discourages the volume of participation that's necessary for an affordable program, the Council's Producer Steering Committee chairman said. He added that lowering sales commissions is one obvious way to lower premiums and increase participation.

Barr strongly urged that USDA be required to base its insurance on an individual farm's actual yields as shown in county ASCS records or the next best reliable source. Production records for the past five years instead of the currently required ten years should be entirely adequate, he stressed.

Among other suggested improvements were: (1) increasing the allowed maximum insured coverage to 90 percent of the previous five-year average; (2) more rapidly increasing or decreasing insurance premiums according to a farm's loss ratio experience; (3) licensing and strictly supervising all insurance agents; and

(4) extending coverage until harvesting is normally completed in a region instead of arbitrarily ending it on January 1.

Barr noted that the present soybean contract provides a three-bushel payment at the insured rate when a farmer is forced to replant his crop. He said the cotton contract should have a similar provision, with a 40-pound payment at the insured rate. Also advocated were (1) elimination of the requirement that 20 percent of insured yield must be harvested before losses can be claimed at the highest insured rate, and (2) arbitration of claims by local ASCS committees instead of the federal claim adjuster's district director.

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

THE MISPRONOUNCED WORD THAT COST 42,000 LIVES

During the war, Marine outposts in the Pacific Islands were accustomed to use passwords that the Japanese could not pronounce correctly because of their sibilant speech. There is an ancient precedent for this means of determination of identity. During Biblical times, 42,000 persons lost their lives because they could not pronounce the word "shibboleth."

Among the records of the warring tribes of Israel as recorded in the Old Testament is the account of the quarrel between the Gileadites and the Ephraimites. Jephthah, a son of Gilead and judge of Israel, had led his warriors in a successful conflict against their enemies. To prevent the escape of their defeated foes, the Gileadites seized the fords across the Jordan River. The Ephraimites attempted to escape destruction by concealing their identity, but Jephthah was determined that none should go free.

Jephthah devised a test, based upon the peculiarities of pronunciation of the Ephraimites. Just as the people of some countries today, these people were unable to articulate the sound "sh." Knowing of this inability on the part of their vanquished opponents, Jephthah decided to require each suspect to pronounce the word "shibboleth" (meaning "ear of corn," "stream," or "river" in Hebrew). Anyone attempting to cross one of the fords of the Jordan was thus interrogated. Literally to save their necks, the Ephraimites could not do this. If a suspect failed to pronounce the word correctly, he was immediately put to death. The remaining 42,000 of the defeated tribe were thus done away with.

This ancient event is recorded in the Book of Judges (12:5 and 6) as follows: "and he said Shibboleth for he could not frame to pronounce it right; Then he took him and slew him at the passage of the Jordan; and there fell at that time of the Ephraimites forty and two thousand."
