GRUNDY'S FORMER WIFE DENIES 'HOME TROUBLE'

Attorneys Laugh And Bicker As Paul Strickland Recounts Slaying Of Pal

WITNESSES AND COUNSEL VENT THEIR MIRTH

Defense Lawyer Charges Prosecutors With Producing 'Circus'

STRICKLAND IS CALM

'Thought Williams Went to Sleep at Report of Gun,' Defendant Says

By LOUIS T. HAMLETT
Record News Staff Correspondent

HENRIETTA, Texas, Oct. 17.—Testimony in the case of Paul Strickland, charged with the murder of Robert Lee Williams, of Bowie, at the Strickland home five miles from here on March 18, closed at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon after a day in the 97th district court which had been replete with sensational testimony interspersed with frequent bickerings between attorneys.

Accident, self-defense, "fits" and a temporary lapse of memory all featured in the testimony of defense witnesses.

Defense Attorney Frank Holaday rose at one stage of the afternoon to request Judge Vincent Stine to have Judge Paul Donald, of Bowie, special prosecutor, stop laughing each time defense attorneys made an exception. Mr. Donald is a former district judge.

Objection to Mirth

On another occasion Mr. Holaday objected to the alleged mirth of William J. Glasgow, Clay county attorney.

During a dramatic moment of the trial when Mr. Glasgow and the defendant were acting the death struggle on the stand, with the county attorney representing the deceased, Col. Melvin Owsley, of Dallas, asked the judge to prevent the state "from making a circus" of the trial. Colonel Owsley, former national commander of the American Legion, is one of the defense attorneys.

Judge Stine threatened several times to clear the courtroom when

Oil Well Shooter Killed In Breckenridge Blast

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct. 17. (AP)—Frank Davidson of Ranger, an oil well shooter was killed here today and two other men were injured in an explosion at the T-P Coal and Oil company camp 10 miles northeast of here. Fred Herrington, the camp boss and Dick Smith, a helper were painfully injured. Smith's right leg was blown off and one of Herrington's eyes was put out.

The men were preparing to shoot a well when their timing device went wrong producing a premature explosion.

Stimson Named to Head Naval Meet Delegation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, has been determined upon by President Hoover as head of the American delegation to the London naval limitations conference in January.

Whether Stimson will be the sole American delegate remains for future determination, but there seems to be a strong impression in some official circles that such will be the case.

Fort Worth Boy, 16, Acquitted of Murder

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17. (AP)—A jury verdict of not guilty and a dramatic embrace by a fond mother ended the murder trial in juvenile court today of Arthur Lee Lane, 16, who last Friday shot and killed Howard Colwell, 21, foreman of the glue department of an upholstering company.

Police Search for Indian After E. W. Pratt Suffers Broken Arm and Lacerations in Gory Battle

Police Thursday night were combing the city for a man who was said to have brutally attacked E. W. Pratt, 414 Austin street, breaking his arm with a billiard cue and inflicting serious lacerations and cuts with a knife and his teeth while Pratt was on the floor with his arm broken defending himself with his right arm.

Assailant Uses Knife

The incident occurred inside the Wichita Athletic club, 722 Ohio avenue, about 9 o'clock, police were told. Pratt and his assailant had been in the club for several minutes when the man suddenly sprang upon Pratt, striking him a terrific blow with a billiard cue on the left arm, a few inches below the elbow. The two were momentarily separated by onlookers, but the man tore away and seized Pratt, plunging a knife into his left shoulder and then sinking his teeth in the flesh just below the wound.

The two were ejected from the club before onlookers knew that Pratt's arm had been broken. Police were called but the unnamed assailant had fled and Pratt had started to his home, his clothing soaked with blood. He did not realize the arm was broken, he told police later. Pain in the bone and examination of the arm proved it was fractured and Pratt was taken to a doctor, but swelling prevented placing of a cast on the member.

Recently in Hospital

Pratt told police that he had but recently been removed from a hospital where he had been ill for some time. While in the hospital he met a girl whom he called on after his release. The man who attacked him Thursday night had assaulted him last Monday night in an alley in the downtown section of the city, when he jumped on Pratt's back and stabbed him twice with a small knife, he told police. The wounds were of minor nature and he did not report the case.

The reason for the attack was said to be because the assailant had warned Pratt not to see the girl again. He had not seen her since the attack Monday night, Pratt said. The hunted man was said to have the appearance of an Indian, but Pratt declared he did not know his name and had not known him before the attack Monday night. Witnesses, however, furnished officers with the man's name.

Trail Drivers Jig To Tunes of Old Time Fiddlers

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 17. (AP)—More than 400 old cattlemen trekked into San Antonio Thursday to attend the 15th annual convention of the Old Trail Drivers' association, which opened here today when George W. Saunders, president, called the meeting to order.

The old trail drivers thronged over San Antonio Thursday attracting attention by their rugged clothes and 10-gallon hats. To show there was life in "the old boys yet," an impromptu dance was staged by several of the old timers in the lobby of the Gunter hotel after the noon recess, accompanied by fiddlers.

The opening addresses were made by Mayor C. M. Chambers, Col. Ike T. Pryor, and Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt.

Featuring the entertainment for the old cow men will be the Old Trail Drivers' ball Friday night, and a big barbecue, which will close the meeting Saturday noon.

HENRIETTAN'S DEATH PROBED

Viscera of Pat Murphy Is Examined at Austin

Special dispatches to The Record News from Austin Thursday night said the state chemist was making an examination of the viscera of H. C. (Pat) Murphy, 25, of Henrietta, who died last Saturday, and that the examination was expected to be completed Friday.

The examination was ordered at the instance of Henrietta officials, who have postponed a coroner's verdict pending its outcome. Circumstances in Murphy's death occasioned the examination. He was found dead Saturday morning by his wife. His wife told physicians she had left him about two hours before in the best of health. His health up to that time had been good, she added.

Murphy was to have been a prosecution witness in the Paul Strickland murder trial now in progress here. He reported the death of Robert Lee Williams, which with Strickland is charged, to The Record News, he having been at that time Henrietta correspondent for this newspaper.

Texan Sought in Death Of His Father-in-law

MEXIA, Texas, Oct. 17. (AP)—Limestone county officers today were searching for Bunion Whaley, 28, in connection with the death last night of his father-in-law, Whit Taylor, at Fallon. Murder charges were filed in Groesbeck against Whaley.

Whaley lived in Raymondville, but had been visiting his wife's parents at Fallon.

Rifled Money Truck Is Found Abandoned

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—An abandoned armored truck, from which police said, $63,000 in payroll money, had been stolen, was found by police tonight on the lower west side. Police sent out a general alarm for the chauffeur, Raymond A. Gallagher, whom they charged with the theft. One payroll of $500, was left in the truck.

Trio Suspected Of Rancher's Slaying

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 17. (AP)—Police here tonight awaited a report by a bertillion expert before taking further steps in the cases of three men arrested in El Paso, Texas, as suspects in the slaying here Sept. 26 of Preston R. Austin, wealthy Victoria, Texas, cattleman.

Jury in Lawton Soldier's Death Trial Disagrees

Special to The Record News

LAWTON, Okla., Oct. 17.—A jury in the case of Lula George, negress, charged with the murder of Ted Culver, national guardsman, Aug. 9, reported a disagreement at noon today and was discharged. The court had given the jury instructions only on first degree murder. Culver was killed at the George home in the negro settlement while an alleged fight was in progress between soldiers who said they had stopped at the negro's home for barbecue and beer.

Two Coeds Reveal White Slave Ring

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 17. (UP)—A lurid tale which recalled the sensational Comstockian vice crusades of other days, was told by two co-eds today who charged that they had been kidnaped and held in a Chinese district hotel here for three days before raiders rescued them.

The girls identified themselves as students of the University of North Dakota and the University of Iowa at Iowa City. Their names were not revealed by police.

HI BINGHAM HAS TOUGH TIME IN LOBBY INQUIRY

Connecticut Senator Reveals His Employment of 'Undercover' Man

QUIZ IRKS SENATOR

Robinson, Walsh and Caraway Goad Witness During Grill

By EDWARD L. RODDAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (US)—Tariff votes of Senator Hiram Bingham were influenced by a $10,000-a-year "undercover" lobbyist who sat in the secret sessions of the senate finance committee, the senator revealed at the lobby investigation today.

Smarting under the wrathful grilling of four brother senators—conducting the senate lobby inquiry—Mr. Bingham, Republican of Connecticut, disclosed how he took Charles L. Eyanson, assistant to the president of the Manufacturers Association of Connecticut into confidential tariff sessions and placed him on the government payroll as his secretary.

Eyanson Unknown

No other senator, not even Reed Smoot, Republican of Utah, chairman of the tariff-making finance committee, knew that Eyanson was a lobbyist executive at the time, Bingham reluctantly told his inquisitors.

Nor did they know, the Connecticut senator admitted, that Eyanson while having access to the finance committee's closely guarded activities, was receiving a fat salary from his tariff-making employers who also paid his personal and entertainment expenses during the time he was in Washington.

Later when Chairman Smoot discovered Eyanson's true employers, Bingham says he was requested to withdraw the "secretary" from the committee room.

Bingham Defends Act

Bingham stoutly insisted there was nothing illegal in the procedure. His main defense running through the whole morning's testimony was:

"I probably made a mistake."

Senator Robinson of Indiana, old-guard G. O. P. member on the senate investigating committee, charged that the government's records were "falsified" to permit Eyanson's activity. Bingham winced.

Investigator Walsh, of Montana, far-famed senatorial Teapot Dome inquisitor, branded Eyanson as the "kind of man who can serve two masters." Bingham flushed.

Tough Day for Hi

Senators Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, and Blaine, Republican of Wisconsin, pounded the senator-witness with hammer-like verbal blows. Bingham grew more uncomfortable.

In fact it was rather a tough day for the ex-Yale professor, but he lashed back at his questioners and at all times defended both his own and Eyanson's part in the affair.

LITTLE BLACK BOOK REVEALS RING'S PROFITS

Smashed Smuggling Syndicate Reaped Enormous Revenues

$2,000,000 CLEARED

East Coast's Greatest Booze Roundup Made By Agents

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Operating all the way down the Atlantic seaboard from Maine to the Virginia capes, the gigantic rum smuggling syndicate whose extensive properties here and in New Jersey were raided last night, made profits of $2,000,000 in six months, federal officers revealed today.

To the office of William J. Calhoun, New Jersey prohibition administrator, in Newark, was taken today a little black notebook picked up last night in the mansion at Highlands, N. J., which was visited simultaneously with 31 others of the syndicate's centers scattered all the way from Sandy Hook to New York City.

Huge Turnover

In that notebook, government men said, were set down the syndicate's transactions, indicating a $2,000,000 turnover in a period of six months.

Quoting from the notebook, officials said the ring last March spent $700,000 in Montreal "for ships, the purchase of merchandise and operating expenses." During another month the syndicate spent in Montreal $200,000 and during a third month $75,000.

The book revealed that heads of the syndicate declared weekly dividends of from 7 to 23 per cent.

Nine "Directors"

Nine men comprised the "board of directors" of the syndicate, and the Lillien brothers, William and "Al," were the actual heads.

Neither of the Lilliens has been arrested, although both were secretly indicted by a federal grand jury in Trenton last Tuesday.

While the raid progressed in the old mansion at Highlands, which was headquarters for the whole ring, William Lillien called up from Montreal, agents said. Deputy U. S. Marshal James J. Donnelly answered the telephone.

Talks to Leader

Donnelly said Lillien inquired about the progress of a garage that was being constructed near the mansion—a garage with three 12-foot doors and a gas pump near its entrance.

"It's nearly done—we're putting the roof on now," Donnelly said he told him. "And you'd better hustle down here. We'll need you to help get going on the holiday rush."

Donnelly said that Lillien, apparently thinking he was talking to one of his associates, agreed to come. Agents said they did not know where Al Lillien was.

Raiders Nab Huge Still as Whisky Pours Into Barrel

Taz Locke, 19, former Wichita Falls youth, was in an Electra hospital Thursday night following the amputation of one of his hands which had been shattered by pistol fire of Wichita and Archer county officers during a liquor raid late Thursday.

Locke's hand was badly mutilated during the fusillade which officers fired in an effort to halt the escape of two men found operating a huge still about 18 miles from Electra, according to Sheriff W. G. Bralley. The still, one of the most complete ever found in Wichita county, was brought here on a truck Thursday night, and one man was lodged in the Wichita county jail.

Bullet Hits Rock

Locke was injured by a shot fired from a distance of 161 steps, the sheriff reported. The officers and the attending physician declared that a bullet wound alone could not have so mutilated the wounded hand. They explained the injury with the theory that the bullet, fired to halt rather than to hit the fleeing man, struck a rock, sending rock splinters along with the bullet itself into the hand.

While other members of the raiding party began the task of dismantling the still, Mr. Bralley took Locke into the hospital at Electra.

MAN ACCUSED OF SLAYING HERE SILENT

'It's All a Mistake,' Woman Says of Prisoner's Statement

NEIGHBOR KILLED

June Hilburn Shot to Death On Downtown Thoroughfare

While Roy Grundy, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of June Hilburn Thursday morning, was telling jail attendants late Thursday that he did not regret his actions, Mrs. Ruth Grundy, his wife until a few weeks ago, tearfully declared that Grundy's talk of "family troubles" as the cause of the affair was a figment of the imagination.

"It's all a mistake," Mrs. Grundy repeated. "Mr. Hilburn has been a neighbor for the past 12 years, and it is as a friend of the family that I know him. Roy had no cause for jealousy." The Grundys live at 707 Burnett street, next door to the house occupied by Mr. Hilburn. Mr. and Mrs. Grundy were divorced on Sept. 18. A divorce was granted Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn several months ago.

Shooting on Street

Hilburn was shot to death in front of the Club cafe, 615 Eighth street, at 8:45 Thursday morning, almost instantly killed from three shotgun wounds in the side, the neck and the back. Grundy immediately surrendered to members of the police department who came running to the scene. Beyond the assertion that "family troubles" were involved and the later announcement that "he had done only what any other man would do," the prisoner made no statement. He was reported to have been in an extremely nervous and weakened condition as he was led to the county jail after murder charges had been filed before R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, Thursday morning.

Investigations begun at once by Sam Spence, district attorney, included the taking of a signed statement from Mrs. Grundy, the contents of which Mr. Spence refused to disclose. The former wife, 36 years old, a mother and grandmother, said Thursday night that the district attorney had refused to allow her to talk to the prisoner.

Expresses Sympathy

"I am so sorry for both of them," Mrs. Grundy repeated. "Roy was entirely mistaken, but I am sure that he was not responsible for his actions at the time of the shooting.

Record News Cotton Table

For Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma

Cotton prices over Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma continued to slump Thursday, although gins were fast regaining the peak activity shown prior to the rains over the section last week. Prices generally were unchanged to 25 points down, a continued slump being noted in Wichita county and in other purchasing points because of poor grade staple. Seed prices generally were unchanged although a slight decline was noted in the Frederick, Okla., and Henrietta market. Memphis and Frederick were in a virtual tie for leadership in total ginnings, with the Oklahoma city holding a lead of 25 bales. The following prices prevailed in the principal interior markets Thursday, according to reports from Record News correspondents:

C.-C. MANAGER TELLS PLANS

East Texas Area Praised; Work to Start Nov. 1

has been splendid. I sincerely and deeply regret that I must leave, but I consider the East Texas chamber's offer a challenging opportunity to greater service, and an opportunity to advance and do larger things in my profession."

In taking up his new work in East Texas, Mr. Harrison will in effect be returning to his home country. He formerly made his home in Greenville, where his father, until his death several years ago, was prominent in business and civic activities. Mr. Harrison's return here, expected for the last two days, was delayed by a banquet given in his honor Wednesday night by business men of Greenville. John B. Middleton, one of the directors of the East Texas chamber, presided at the banquet, which was attended by representatives of many towns in the Greenville area. Mr. Harrison's mother, Mrs. Will N. Harrison of Greenville, was given the seat of honor at the banquet Wednesday night.

Mr. Harrison's election by the East Texas board was unanimous, and following his acceptance, he visited the chamber's headquarters in Longview. The program of the East Texas chamber is a most gratifying one, he declared, including dairying, poultry raising, conservation of soil, highway extension, and a merchants' institute conducted for business men of the area. The chamber is housed in a two-story office building at Longview, the gift of the people of that city. The East Texas organization has 67 counties in its membership, ranging from the Red river to the Gulf of Mexico, and from Dallas east to the Louisiana line. Publication of a monthly magazine is included in its activities, and 14 persons are employed on its staff. The East Texas chamber is well financed, and gives every indication of being one of the most active regional organizations in the nation, Mr. Harrison declared.

Prize Pigeons Added To Display at Zoo

Two recent donations to the Municipal zoo have added 24 members to the growing zoo family and have brought an equal number of rare and valuable pigeon specimens for the benefit of residents of Wichita Falls, it was announced Thursday by C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent.

The Horne Zoological company, through I. S. Horne, president, presented to Mr. Bunnenberg personally 10 pairs of blue and silver magpie pigeons, all of banded and registered stock. The pigeons are some of the rarest and most unusual stock in America, Mr. Horne stated in his letter to Mr. Bunnenberg.

Two pairs of fine carneaux pigeons, one pair black and the other white, were donated by Mrs. Robert L. Carr of Memphis, Tenn. The birds were shipped to Ira Brown, secretary of the Wichita Falls Zoological society, who turned them over to the zoo.

Bertha Mae Kruger, representative of the high school; Jim Martin, representative of the college; and E. F. Bohmfalk, religious and educational director of the First Methodist church, made short impressive talks. A. K. Presson, assistant principal, presided in the absence of S. H. Rider, who accompanied the body to Stephenville.

Party Postponed

Owing to the death of Miss Verna Sellers, faculty member, the Girl Reserve party, which had been planned for Friday morning, has been postponed until Friday, Oct. 25, according to Miss Juanita Kinsey, faculty sponsor.

Outdoor Meeting

WOMAN DENIES HOME TROUBLE

Grundy's Divorced Wife Disparages 'Jealousy'

He was all right when he left the house after a visit to me and the children last night."

Mrs. Grundy said she had been one of the last to see Hilburn on the morning of the shooting.

"My 'phone has been disconnected so I went over to use Mr. Hilburn's phone early Thursday morning," she explained. He was in his room where the auxiliary line is connected. Roy has been coming to the house at such odd hours of the day and night since the divorce that he may have seen me go."

Grundy Calls Twice

The widow said that Grundy had called twice at his former home Wednesday night.

"He told me he was leaving town," she said. "And asked me to kiss him good-bye. I had tried to have us part friends, and I agreed. He kissed me and the little girl and left. He didn't mention Mr. Hilburn or anything of a quarrelsome nature."

Mr. Spence Thursday morning was informed that Grundy had borrowed the shot gun used in the shooting with the announced purpose of going hunting. He had changed his mind about hunting and was on his way to return the gun when he saw Hilburn, members of the district attorney's office said. The shooting followed, Hilburn's efforts to dodge behind a light pole and into the Club cafe proving futile against the three discharges from the pump gun.

Held Without Bond

Late Thursday evening no arrangements for a preliminary hearing had been announced and Grundy, held without bond, had made no effort to employ an attorney. Two brothers from out of town called to see him late Thursday afternoon after the jail had been closed to visitors, jail attendants said.

Grundy spent the day without asking for an attorney or making any sign of impatience or distress about his situation, jail attendants reported.

The result of the investigation now under way will be laid before the 30th district grand jury when it re-convenes here on Oct. 23, members of the district attorney's office said.

Shooting Described

The shots which took Hilburn's life pursued him as he fled to shelter, according to a story of the shooting given by R. E. Hyde, clothing store manager, who was sitting near the front of the Club cafe at the time the shooting started.

"Hilburn was leaning against a light pole outside the cafe at the time I first saw Grundy," Mr. Hyde said. "Hilburn circled around the light pole as the first shot was fired. He staggered a little as though he had been hit in the side. Then he made for the cafe door but the other two shots got him just as he reached for the door."

The body of Hilburn, who died almost instantly, was taken to the Albert Funeral Home. It will be sent to St. Jo for burial Friday morning. Funeral services will be held there at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. He is survived by three brothers, E. W. Hilburn of Wichita Falls, Harry Hilburn of Oklahoma City and N. C. Hilburn of Stamford; and one sister, Mrs. Nana Phillips, of St. Jo.

Wichita to Wear Red Feather In Cap at End of Chest Campaign

A bright red feather will be stuck in Wichita Falls' hat band when the $70,000 quota is raised for the community chest, employing the "feather-in-your-cap" idea in the indicator as well as in the lapel emblems.

Four immense gray hats will be erected on four busy corners of the business district, and each hat will have a red-outlined feather stuck in the hat band. As the money comes in, the feather will be filled in and will be completed only when the entire $70,000 is raised.

Window displays in the leading downtown stores will also carry an appeal for the chest, with the following establishments already agreed to devote window space during the campaign: Saul's, J. C. Penney and company, McConnell Brothers, Freear's, North Texas Furniture store, W. B. McClurkan and company, The Hub, P. B. M. Co., and Perkins-Timberlake.

Negro employes of various downtown companies will not be counted in the campaign for 100 per cent donations, it was announced Thursday from community chest headquarters. These employes are allowed to give their donations to their own solicitors, who are attempting to raise a rather large quota this year among their own people.

A meeting of negro workers was held Thursday night for the purpose of perfecting campaign plans.

Street cars will carry banners advertising the campaign, and light posts at intersections will bear large posters. Appeals for the chest will also be found attached to every milk bottle delivered during the week of the campaign, and signs and billboards throughout the city will proclaim the drive.

Luncheon club members will learn something of scanty eats and will also be contributing to the chest next week, when every club will sit down to a "poverty luncheon," the profits of which go to the fund.

School children will be petitioned with programs and pageants, and other novel ideas in the advertising of the needs of the 11 organizations comprising the chest are now being planned.

Street car banners were donated by the White Sign company and the large hat and feather indicators by the Acme Sign company. All of the work is under the supervision of the publicity committee, which has the following members: H. C. Federer, chairman; Charles Spragins, Harry Olsen, Malcolm Putty, T. A. Bradley, Don Ross, Voyle N. Armstrong and P. B. Roberts.

Thieves Get $25 In Raid on A. & P. Store

A third robbery was added to the growing list in Wichita Falls Thursday with the report that the A&P store at 2214 Holliday street had been broken into late Wednesday night or early Thursday morning by thieves who took five cartons of cigarets and about $25 in small change from the cash register.

Entrance to the store was gained by using a large bit to bore a three-inch hole in the rear door so that the latch could be lifted from the inside, police were told. A check-up of the stock failed to reveal further losses from the robbery, employes said: The robbery was neatly accomplished and the thieves left little or no clues on which police could work.

Four Indicted For Kidnaping Mill Worker

CONCORD, N. C., Oct. 17. (UP) —The Cabarrus county grand jury today indicted four men for the alleged kidnaping and floggings of Ben Wells, British textile worker, and two others on the night of Sept. 9, during an anti-Communist demonstration.

Mary-Martha Class Holds Clever Halloween Party

One of the most entertaining social events of the week was the Halloween social of the Mary Martha Sunday school class of the First Baptist church which was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Carswell Thursday afternoon.

Following the business meeting Mrs. J. W. Hunt conducted a series of clever games and contests. Guests were also entertained in the "witches room" where the fortune teller revealed the mysteries of the future.

Other features of the program included a talk on "The Meaning of Halloween" by Mrs. A. G. Holmes and two readings, "Why the Minister Did not Propose," and "The Morning Paper," by little Miss Mary Jane Maricle.

Mrs. Carswell was assisted in serving the delicious refreshments by Mesdames H. E. Man, G. R. Burch and M. C. Vanston.

Those present included Mesdames A. G. Holmes, G. D. Fox, G. R. Burch, E. B. Clifford, Harry Duren, Charles Roundtree, W. C. W. Brown, E. W. Napier, Z. P. Owens, T. L. Husbands, Charles Parker, Victor Nobles, Harris Roberts, J. G. Dixon, F. C. Divers, W. E. Floyd, D. Burgoon, W. F. Palmer, Roy I. Carter, J. C. Mytinger, Joe C. McBee, Bubb Mosley, Ralph Maricle, R. O. Grant, H. E. Man, W. L. Hawkins, Robert Carswell, M. C. Vanston, J. W. Hunt, and Miss Mary Jane Maricle.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

There's no such thing as strangers when it comes to young mothers. We learned that at the hostess luncheon Wednesday when we sat at a long table with several people whom we did not know.

We spoke to a friend across the table about the young mother of a 3-month-old baby at our side. A lady farther up the table leaned over: "I have a 3-month-old baby boy, too," she said. Our right-hand neighbor (mother number one) perked up at once. "How much does he weigh?" she asked. "Fifteen pounds," said proud mother number two. "Mine," beamed proud mother number one, "weighs sixteen and three-quarters." Then down the table spoke another. "I have a boy four months old," she said happily. "He weighs 16 pounds."

◇ ◇ ◇

The children came out just about then in their fashionable little garments—all girls. Mother number two remarked, wistfully, "I wonder if they'll ever have little boys in a style show."

◇ ◇ ◇

When the curtain went down on the stage full of children we heard a sound of great wailing. We felt sure some model had taken a tumble but heard later it was little Mary Jo Abernathy who raised her voice and wept when the curtain went down and she said, "I didn't get to see my grandmother."

◇ ◇ ◇

Speaking of models, we thought it rather funny when some of the house dressed young ladies came out demonstrating kitchen utensils with which they were not acquainted. They could not tell what they were for.

◇ ◇ ◇

The models were quite dignified in their styling and a lady across the table from us remarked "Well, I don't see any use of them taking it quite so seriously."

◇ ◇ ◇

The Spanish tea room, by the way, has two more acquisitions. Mrs. A. H. Carrigan gave a lovely Mexican water jug last week and Wednesday Mrs. Grover C. Johnson came bearing gifts. A Spanish zarape in lovely colors is a specimen of the weaving that was brought into Mexico with the first Spanish conquerors. A Mexican goat jug is a piece of pottery made by the peons to cool their goats' milk throughout the day. Both these are Mrs. Johnson's gifts.

◇ ◇ ◇

There's a program on at the Spanish tea room during luncheon hours this week. We heard one Tuesday—lovely songs by a lovely lady in a Spanish gown, accompanying herself on the guitar.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (US)—Yesterday in a New York cafe, I saw an Amazon woman coming into a restaurant, and behind her trailed a he-person, who looked pathetically like a depressed poodle dog.

I was with someone who knew him and I asked questions. It seems the man is rich, made it all himself and all since he married the Amazon, who was probably, more or less responsible for his success. She egged him on to make money, when he got it she told him how to spend it, and you can bet upon it, when he passes on nobody but the Amazon will get a nickel of it.

But what a couple!

You know about the old Irish woman who was bemoaning the fact that sinners had to burn in hell, and after she went on describing the horror of it all for some time, her husband sought to ease her mind by saying: "Bridget dear, don't worry so much. It can't be as bad as that. Why the human frame couldn't stand it!"

You wonder how Henry's spirit can stand it. From the looks of him I would say it didn't—very well.

It's the same Henry Jones that was born a laughing dimpled baby, who went to school and had a lot of fun playing jokes on the teacher, but now—while he has the same chassis, he's not the Henry Jones to be recognized by anyone who knew him in those happy days.

And the funny thing about life, is that people are being abducted and brutally put out of the way almost daily, and nobody—nobody ever gets one of these Amazons!

If Henry were not such a business success, so perfectly all right with the men when he's away from home, you'd say he needed punishment where his mama used to sew on the patches, but in the tight place he occupies, where he is merely avoiding murder, you have to let your heart ache a little for Henry.

Art Department Names Mrs. Silk New Chairman

An attractive luncheon opened the fall activities of the art department of the Woman's Forum when members met in the clubhouse dining room at noon Thursday with Mrs. Luther Hoffman presiding in the place of the chairman pro tem, who was out of the city.

Red radiance roses filled the bowls down the center of the table.

Miss Gladys Millican of the Wichita Conservatory of Fine Arts made an interesting talk on the work of Michelangelo and other artists preceding his period. Having visited the Sistine chapel, her description of the murals there made direct appeal to her audience. She passed cards, prints and paintings illustrating her subject. Miss Millican's sweet and gentle voice peculiarly fitted her for a luncheon lecture.

Mrs. G. B. Smedley, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate for officers for 1929-30, which was unanimously adopted. Mrs. W. W. Silk was named chairman, Mrs. C. C. Jones, exhibit chairman, Miss Jennie Roberson, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. J. Truman Stevens, social chairman.

At Mrs. Oneal's suggestion, the secretary was instructed to write a letter to Mrs. W. W. Silk, expressing the sympathy of the department at the recent death of her mother.

Members present at the luncheon were Misses Gladys Millican, Maud Norred and Ethel Chamberlin, Mesdames C. P. Burton, with her guest, Mrs. J. Truman Stevens, Mesdames Ben G. Oneal, C. C. Jones, E. E. Fischer, C. C. Myers, A. N. Lummus, G. D. Fox, Luther Hoffman, James P. Bowen, W. M. Cason, Wiley Wyatt, G. T. Buchanan, Mack Thomas and J. R. Walsh.

Camp Fire Leaders Meet Again Today

The second morning class of the Camp Fire Guardians leadership course will be held Friday morning from 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock at local headquarters.

The first hour will be the short business session using correct parliamentary law procedure followed by the discussion of "The Girl and Society." The second hour will be instruction and making of some article using batiking. Anyone interested in taking part in this class is requested to bring their material to work with, preferably a piece of light-colored silk.

The first classes of the courses were held on Tuesday from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. The first period was spent in the organization of the classes, including the election of temporary officers, using correct parliamentary procedure, and the registration of members. The second period was the discussion of "The Place of Leadership in the Girls Life."

Mrs. A. H. Carrigan made a splendid talk on the discussion subject using as her foundation the Camp Fire Girls credo of rededication. The credo reads:

"I believe in the future; I believe therefore, in the today, and I try to make my life a joy to myself and a pleasure to those about me. I realize the destiny within me. I try to find the beautiful in life, and where it is not, I create beauty. I feel my responsibility as a citizen of a great nation; I feel my glory as one of the mothers of the new generation which with new eyes and with steadier steps will reach the high places that now are but a purple haze on the horizon. I believe in the new womanhood which combines the beauty of the old womanhood with citizenship and social consciousness. I know I am and hold within me the promise of the future. I realize my responsibility. I do not flinch nor falter. I am a Camp Fire girl."

Mrs. Carrigan said, "A truly ideal leader whether she be a Camp Fire guardian or not would be one who could lead her girl or girls to weave the credo into her life as a beautiful tapestry."

The second evening class was held Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 at local headquarters, with the same program as announced for the Friday morning class.

The third meeting of the classes will be Tuesday, Oct. 22, at 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. at local headquarters. The program will include the discussion hour with "Fundamental Study of the Girl Herself" as the subject and instruction in songs and games. Mrs. J. A. Kemp will talk to the morning class.

Anyone joining the morning class either Friday or Tuesday or the evening class Tuesday will still be eligible for the certificate. Any further information desired may be obtained from the Camp Fire girls' local headquarters in the Memorial auditorium 2-2183. Miss Mary McIlheran, local executive, is conducting the courses.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames R. W. Gutzler of Tulsa, Okla., T. E. Dobson of Coronado, Calif., Lank Thornberry, Wolf, Hooker, Newton, Corkhill, and D. Dellis.

MRS. LILLIAN KERR

Business Sorority Forms Wichita Falls Chapter

Wichita Falls is to have a new and outstanding organization in a national sorority chapter for business and professional women, functioning under the sponsorship of the university guild, as Pi Omricon. Fifteen Texas towns are organizing local chapters and Frances DuBose Kelly, scout secretary, has just organized three chapters of 60 members each in Dallas.

Educational directors are chosen for their ability, coupled with a background that will make the work doubly attractive. It is interesting to note that Mrs. Olive McClintic Johnson, who recently presented "The Royal Family" to a crowded house at the Woman's Forum clubhouse, is educational director in Dallas.

Mrs. Lillian Kerr, member of a pioneer family in Archer county and now of Wichita Falls, has been engaged as local educational director for the coming year.

Pi Omricon is a national sorority which provides a social outlet for its members as well as being a medium for the university guild's course of study.

The university guild course appeals to the college trained woman and to those who for economic or other reasons, did not attain college training, but who realize what it means to the woman of today. The course enables its members to acquire the culture and understand the beauty of a college education.

The studies are reported to be recreational and rich in diversion. Public speaking is especially featured.

Mrs. Kerr, as director, is qualified by education and experience as a leader. She is the widow of Robert Kerr, a former judge of Archer county. Moving to Colorado directly after her marriage, she has been active in educational, patriotic and welfare organizations in that state. She was chairman of the civil service commission of the state federation of women's clubs, a member of the Colorado Child Welfare committee and is at present vice chairman of the Colorado branch of the national woman's party. Beside association with many prominent organizations, including the D. A. R., Mrs. Kerr is teacher of parliamentary law and current events. She is a member of the faculty of the El Paso County Teacher's Institute. She has a cultural and educational background that will make her an ideal educational director for a Pi Omricon chapter, leaders believe.

Mrs. Frances DuBose Kelly and her assistant, Mrs. M. S. Mosley, are at the Kemp hotel, where they maintain their local office.

Members of Golf Association Play Qualifying Round

Mrs. Stanley McGregor was winner of the low ball in the regular game of the Ladies Golf association at the country club Thursday morning.

Members who qualified for the handicap tournament were Mesdames Stanley McGregor, W. C. Witcher, B. F. Caldwell, Fred T. Couper, John Waggoner, H. B. White, C. O. Davis, J. H. Fletcher, Helen Kendall, J. B. Hatchitt, R. L. Hargrave, W. P. Bolding, L. H. Estes, Roy I. Carter and W. S. Abbott and Miss Anabel Couper.

In the contest qualifying to make the country club team which will play the Weeks Park team, Mesdames Stanley McGregor, C. O. Davis, J. H. Fletcher, W. C. Witcher and Helen Kendall were members making the team.

Individual tables were set in the club dining room with pink rosebuds making pretty centers on the dainty lunch cloths. The green crystal salad plates added to the beauty of the tables.

Covers were laid for Mrs. R. O. Harvey with three guests, Mrs. Joe Miller of Philadelphia, Mrs. John Lee and Mrs. J. C. Payne and Mesdames W. P. Bolding, Fred T. Couper, L. H. Estes, J. L. Nelson, Roy I. Carter, C. O. Davis, John L. Waggoner, R. L. Hargrave, H. P. Ledford, H. B. White, Helen Kendall, W. C. Witcher, J. H. Fletcher, Stanley McGregor, W. S. Abbott, H. F. Weldon, L. O. Landon, J. B. Hatchitt, B. F. Caldwell and Misses Anabel Couper and Nell Gibbs.

Ace High Bridge Club Has Meeting

Mrs. H. T. Jagers was hostess to members of the Ace High Bridge club at her home, 1617 Collins avenue, Thursday afternoon when three tables were arranged for games.

Halloween suggestions were noted in the decorations. Favors were mechanical cats.

In the games Mrs. A. H. Hickman was awarded the prize for high score and Mrs. W. G. Bentley received second high score.

Miss Ruth Mercer assisted Mrs. Jagers in serving a delightful refreshment course to the following: Mesdames J. A. Culbertson, A. M. Hutchin, G. O. Loughridge, Charles Morgan, R. W. Rogers, T. T. Robertson, D. Dellis, J. I. Burt, B. P. Williams, E. K. Longan.

Miss Mary Starr Taylor Gives Splendid Lecture

One of the most interesting lectures given at the Woman's Forum this year was that of Miss Mary Starr Taylor of C. I. A., who talked to members of the club on "The Modern Home Maker." The lecture was sponsored by the health and home department and the lecturer held her audience's attention throughout.

Mrs. Stanley Raub opened the program with a lovely vocal number, "I Love a Little Cottage," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr.

Mrs. Guy Raley, chairman of the department, introduced Miss Taylor, who illustrated her lecture with interiors of homes done by the most famous of interior decorators.

She said that houses were first built on paper and then the interior decorator furnished them on paper, but that the time would come when the architect and decorator would work together.

Miss Taylor's explanation of work at C. I. A. was extremely interesting. She told how they used a blue print and with little blocks of paper furnished the room, moving the blocks about until they were satisfied.

"A house to be really home," she said, "must be furnishable.

"Three things are necessary for that; height, breadth and the oblique. Height gives the feeling of intellectuality and sometimes of spirituality. Breadth breaks the monotony and is a contrast to height. The oblique is necessary to get the 'play line'."

Rugs in a room give direction and color to attract the eye and make it wander, it was said. The subordination of pieces was stressed. When large pieces of furniture are grouped, there must be smaller pieces. The avoidance of monotony in furnishing and the home making that could be emphasized by grouping round a fireplace were points used. The chief thing about a room she said, was to have it filled and yet not have it look full.

Miss Taylor also touched on the point of the solitary group—the large chair placed so that one could withdraw, even though in a room with others. The adolescent girl, she said, needs to have her bedroom furnished so that it may also serve as a sitting room, so she can think over her problems alone.

The samples of draperies shown by Miss Taylor were particularly interesting and the audience crowded up to see the specimens she showed of dyed Turkish toweling. This was used when in C. I. A. they wished to redecorate one of the small dining rooms and the only texture to be found that was suitable in the shining room was the toweling. They dyed it a soft brown and the girls will work wool flowers and put bands in the colors of the flowers.

Miss Taylor also startled her audience when she said that fur was being used on draperies—this to secure the soft texture.

Her lecture closed with the statement that what the room was and what the home was "all depended on the woman."

Now! A Way To Stop Soap Fade of Fine Things

Regardless of Repeated Washings

dapple-green glove silk chemise washed 41 times with Climalene and ordinary "laundry" soap, without perceptible fading.

This costly Limoges dinner set washed 477 times with Climalene and ordinary soap—yet gold decoration shows no sign of fade or wear.

New Discovery Ends Ruining Fine Things Regardless How Often Washed

—And Cuts Washing Time of Clothes and Dishes* ONE-HALF *or More

MODERN day science has taken the fade danger out of home washing. Perfected a way that ends soap fade and ruining of fine things.

Not a soap—but a discovery that makes even ordinary soap safe. That makes the worst "hard" water and ordinary household soap into a virtually NO-FADE combination.

You can wash the most exquisite things; often 50 times or more without noticeable fade or soap-eat wear. Can keep priceless table china safe from dishpan fade . . . indefinitely. And—cut your work time one-half or more. Women are flocking to its use.

What It Is

It is a preparation called Climalene. A scientific discovery that acts in two ways:

That takes the harshness out of even "hardest" water; the hardness that makes extra rubbing and the superfluous use of strong soap necessary to get things white and clean.

That turns that harsh "hard" water INSTANTLY into water so soft that it does the work with ONE FOURTH the amount of soap you now use.

Then, that due to blend cleansing qualities in itself, DISSOLVES all dirt and grime. And thus again cuts the amount of soap you use. And cuts washing time—in either dishpan or washing machine—50% or more. Consider what that means in saving wear and spoil.

10¢ packages (12 OZ.)

CLIMALENE

You just add two tablespoons to a tub of water. That is all. Use the same soap you ordinarily do. Then note the remarkable results.

Laboratory Proved

To prove those points, we wash fine things all day long. French lingerie, for instance, we wash 40, 50 times with this preparation and strong soap or washing flakes. Even the most delicate colors do not fade.

We wash fine colored table linens up to 80 times—WITHOUT fade. We take gold encrusted china of almost priceless value; and wash with strong soap hundreds of times. And never a sign of gold worn away.

We pay $5 for fine stockings of light tint color. Then TRY to fade them with repeated washings. And only when we fail in fading them, does this amazing preparation go to you.

AND—it acts actually as a BEAUTIFIER to the hands. Never before have you seen a cleanser so gentle.

Remember the name—Climalene. Your grocer has it in 10c and 25c packages.

Married People Need Vacations From Each Other

Will a Vacation From Each Other Benefit the Matrimonially Disgruntled?—Should Jealous People Marry?—Why Girls Are "Dumb"

Dear Miss Dix: Don't you think that after nine long years of married life a couple need a rest from each other? Our life has become so monotonous and void of thrills and excitement that my husband and I never have a kind word for each other. It is a regular knock-down and dragout fight every day from the time he comes home until he leaves about everything and nothing. We have two children and it is for their sakes that we have stood it as long as we have, but I often think that they are worse off in an incompatible home than they would be otherwise. I am capable of earning a good salary. In fact, I do so now, but my nerves are giving away and I can't work downtown all day and come home to the eternal quarreling at night. So don't you think that a vacation of a year from each other might save us from the divorce courts?—MISERABLE WIFE.

Answer—Have you and your husband ever sat down quietly together and tried to reason out the cause of your differences and to find out why you quarrel?

I suppose not. I suppose you can't discuss the simplest matter dispassionately and that at the first word one or the other of you flares up and before you know it you are at it hammer and tongs and dragging in a thousand extraneous grievances that have nothing to do with the case, but that keep you from ever being able to get each other's point of view and arriving at any kind of compromise.

If that is the case, when you have any communication to make to your husband that you suspicion might rile him, why don't you write it to him and direct the letter to his place of business? I know one woman married to a man with a temper that is hung on a hair-trigger who eliminated the family spat by this simple method.

She never asks her husband for money. She never tells him that the children need new shoes, or that the rent is due, or that Aunt Susanna is coming to pay a nice long visit, because if she did he would flare up and say things to her that would hurt her feelings and rouse her to make a few snappy comebacks herself and he would remind her of the time that she sold his best pants to the ragman and forgot to turn off the water and let the pipes freeze, and so on, and so forth, as husbands and wives do in family scrimmages, you know.

But when she writes him the bad news he is too far away to say anything to her and before he sees her he cools off and has time to see the reasonableness of her request, and the matter is diplomatically adjudicated, with no bones broken.

My diagnosis of the symptoms in your case is that you are overworked and in consequence your nerves are just at the breaking point where everything that any one says or does to you irritates you beyond endurance. You have to suppress your feelings and turn an amiable and smiling face upon the world at your office, or else you would lose your job, but when you get home you let yourself go and pour out on your husband and children all the bottled-up wrath that you have had to keep within you all day.

No woman, unless she is a Lady Sandow, has the health and strength to carry on two jobs at the same time and do the work of two women. You labor hard downtown all day, then rush home and do your housework at night and look after your children, and it is too much., It would break down an iron woman.

So my advice to you is to give up your job if your husband can support the family. He would probably rather work harder himself and live simpler and have a pleasant, amiable wife than to have a wife who helped him support the family, but who was so irritable that he couldn't get along with her. The woman who is sweet and amiable and who makes her family a pleasant, quiet home, does all that should be expected of her and she contributes far more to her family's welfare than if she brought in a pay envelope.

You are quite right in thinking that nothing is as bad for children as to bring them up in a home of strife in which the father and mother are continually quarreling. It destroys the children's respect for both parents to listen to their mutual recrimation, and it physically injures them, as it shatters their nerves and makes them subject to nervous and mental disorders as long as they live.—DOROTHY DIX.

LEASE SIGNED FOR PLAYHOUSE

Stage and Seats for 180 to Be Provided

Solution of the Wichita Falls Little theater's problem of obtaining suitable quarters for the preparation and presentation of plays has been found in the retention of the Wayne Hammon building at Polk street and Avenue H as a combined Little theater studio and playhouse for the ensuing year, officials announced Thursday.

The building in which the years' program of amateur theatricals will be given is located opposite the Zundelowitz Junior High school, and only three blocks from Junior college. It will afford a stage 24 by 24 feet in size, and comfortable seating room for 180 persons with a generous space left between the front row of seats and the stage. A commodious lounge and ticket office will be accommodated at the front of the building, it was said.

Used as Studio

The room will be used jointly as a studio of dramatic art, and as a home of Little theater rehearsals and productions. Classes in dramatic art will be conducted during the day of F. C. McClung, Little theater director, with the room at the disposal of play casts for rehearsals at any hours desired. Directors of the organization also indicated that the building will be available at certain times to other groups whose work requires such quarters.

Sufficient funds remain in the Little theater treasury from the 1928-29 season, it was stated, to provide the furnishings and settings required to convert the Hammon building into a well-appointed hall for play production. Work is to begin immediately on the preparation of the interior for the opening performance, which is scheduled for the second week in November. At that time three one-act plays will be presented, selection of which is being made this week by the play-reading committee, headed by Jerry Moffett.

According to officials of the Little theater, lack of suitable quarters as a work-shop for the organization has been the greatest handicap faced since re-organization was effected about one year ago, with James Daly coming here from Tulsa as director. Plays directed by Mr. Daly were given at the Woman's Forum, and later performances, following Mr. McClung's election as director, utilized the Episcopal Parish house. The limited availability of those buildings, location, limited stage room, and other elements greatly restricted activity of the Little theater in its endeavors, directors said. Confidence was expressed that with the organization housed in an adequate building for its own uses, a much more comprehensive program of dramatic undertakings can be adopted.

New Members

Officers of the Little theater are Emil Herman, president; John Kilgore, first vice president; Mrs. J. T. Harrell, second vice president; Ruby Brown, secretary; W. Trent Hill, treasurer; Baldwin Montgomery, Mrs. W. F. Pagan, Paul Barnett, Mrs. H. F. Weldon, Dr. J. A. Heyman, Mrs. Wayland Sanford, and Mrs. John W. Thomas, directors.

A large number of members have been added to the personnel of the organization since the 1929-30 season opened three weeks ago with the one-act play, "Mansions," at the Episcopal Parish house, it was said.

Crockett School Executive Board Makes Many Plans

Members of the executive board of the Crockett school P.-T. A. met at the school Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock and the business session was immediately opened.

Plans for the father's night program to be held Tuesday evening in the school auditorium were discussed.

The board decided to make some recognition of the state P.-T. A. birthday.

Mrs. Austin Leach was relieved of her duties as representative to the city council and Mrs. Otis Nelson elected in her place. Mrs. Charlie Reid was elected secretary of the Crockett P.-T. A. to fill the place vacated by Mrs. John Thomas, who resigned to become a sponsor.

A report from the council was given by Mrs. Rogers. Mrs. Otis Nelson was appointed a member of the life membership board. Mrs. Rogers gave instructions that all dues be mailed in to Mrs. N. B. Chenault, the treasurer.

Mrs. Charles Crowell was elected delegate to the state P.-T. A. convention which meets in Waco Nov. 11-15, with Mrs. W. W. Fraser as alternate.

A victrola was ordered for the second floor of the school, to be paid for from the musical programs.

An entertainment was planned for the teachers, to be given by the executive board and the sponsors of the school in the near future. Mesdames J. P. Coleman, N. B. Chenault and B. W. Coulter were named the committee in charge. The regular carnival to take place near Halloween was voted on and Mesdames John W. Dobbs and Bullington were named chairmen to begin plans immediately. The programs for the year will be mimeographed. Miss Ida Moore announced that the walk from the street to the back door of the school was to be begun at once and a drive at the back.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 o'clock with the following members present: Mesdames J. P. Tarry, W. W. Fraser, John Thomas, C. F. Helmcamp, Thomas F. Richardson, H. A. Rathke, Homer Lee, T. L. McGee, John W. Dobbs, B. N. Coulter, O. R. Hartt, N. B. Chenault, J. P. Coleman, W. H. Sanford, G. L. Shapard, Willis E. Maxson Jr., Guy Rogers, Horrace Robbins and Miss Ida Moore.

Instructed Verdict Frees Man on Liquor Charge

Judge Allan D. Montgomery Thursday morning instructed a jury in the 30th district court to acquit Louis McBride of the charge of whisky after he had ruled that county officers had made an "unwarrantable search without probable cause" at the time of McBride's arrest. The ruling threw out the state's evidence, obtained in the search, and resulted in the instructed verdict, officials said. According to the testimony of officers they searched McBride's car when he drew up near a "joint" under suspicion. They had no search warrant at the time, the witnesses admitted.

The week's criminal docket in the 30th court was closed Thursday afternoon when a jury gave Leroy Williams, negro, a five year suspended sentence for burglarizing a servant's house.

FATHER SUES FOR $17,000

Permanent Injury of Son Claimed in Petition

Claiming that a blow to the head suffered in an automobile accident in June, 1928, has rendered his small son a cripple for life, F. R. Sopher, Thursday afternoon filed suit for $17,000 against Walter B. Adams in connection with the collision. The plaintiff asks $2,000 in actual damages for himself and $15,000 for the 4-year-old boy.

The papers filed with Miss Eunice Jackson, district clerk, allege that the child was hurt when the car in which he was driving with his mother was struck by the Adams car. A blow to the head, behind the left ear, caused a frm of paralysis and made necessary an operation, the petition asserts, claiming that the boy's health has been permanently injured.

COURT HEARS SUIT OVER DEATH OF YOUTH

Alleging that his 12-year-old son was burned to death while playing with gasoline left accessible at a Sixteenth street filling station, J. L. Poore Thursday afternoon went on the stand in his $10,000 damage suit against Ralph Hines, head of the Hines Oil company, on trial before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court.

The plaintiff claims that the boy, Albert, last February obtained gasoline which had leaked from a defective connection at the filling station and attempted to use it for starting a fire in an old chimney standing on an adjacent lot. In the explosion and fire that followed, the child was fatally burned, his father asserted. The taking of testimony is expected to be completed in the early afternoon Friday.

Tailoring Store To Open Saturday

The famous Richard's Tailoring company, will open its second store in Texas Saturday, Oct. 19 at 711 Eighth street, Kirby's old location, with a complete new stock of foreign and domestic fabric samples, according to Ralph Bennett, an executive of the chain of Richard's stores, who plans to make Wichita Falls his home.

The concern has 52 stores in operation and specialize in made to measure suits, overcoats, topcoats and tuxedos.

Mr. Bennett is not a stranger to Wichita Falls as he has paid this city a visit each year for a number of years, and is of the opinion it is one of the best towns for its size in the entire country.

The company's other Texas store is located in Fort Worth, but a number of other Texas cities will soon have a Richard's tailoring store, Mr. Bennett stated.

Herbert Kaufman's ESAU Daily Editorial

THE FATES, from whom all good dramatists crib their best plots, directed that the last act of his sordid and protracted tragedy should open in the presence of Ramsay MacDonald—the highest ranking European official Washington had ever entertained.

And it needed just that episode to remind Albert Bacon Fall how far his fortunes had fallen.

Contrast establishes values—and humiliations.

Pride alone can measure the real weight of degradation. And Albert Bacon Fall was a proud man.

A few years back, it would have been his vested privilege to help receive the nation's distinguished guest, and occupy a cabinet member's seat at the formal White House dinner to the British premier.

A few years back, Hoover and Fall were confreres and administration equals.

Rumor even insisted that Hughes was merely a state department stop-gap, who would later resign to make way for Fall's appointment.

Certainly, no one in those days stood closer to executive favor, or was a more potent figure in federal affairs.

His career was of the stuff with which Democracy creates its idols.

Fall had followed the Lincoln tradition—had graduated from the same mean and arduous beginnings—had also hitched his wagon to a wilderness star.

He, too, was a barefoot illiterate, with one suit of jeans to his name.

He, too, had desperately snatched education from random books, and, by 18 was a self-qualified teacher.

BETWEEN 18 and 20, he read law. He farmed. He ranched. He mined. He entered the legislature. He became attorney-general of New Mexico. And he sat on her supreme bench.

Then, thrice elected to the senate, he resigned in mid-term, to enter Harding's cabinet.

Anybody might be proud of such a record. And Fall was proud.

How many had come farther or demonstrated, step by step, greater fitness for political captaincy and community confidence?

His was frontier pride—the pride of the pioneer—the pride that asks no odds and begs no quarter—the pride of men who preferred to die rather than lose face before their fellows.

And this is the man whom destiny called to trial, in the national capital, just when every possible circumstance could emphasize his ostracism.

The government has twice accused Fall of conspiring with Harry Sinclair and Edward Doheny against the public interest. And twice failed to secure conviction.

But the supreme court, dissenting from jury opinion, has excoriatingly denounced the Elk Hill leases and forever branded the transaction with infamy.

For a third time, Fall, a harried, devastated old man, must disprove charges of corruption, produce the evidence that he criminally betrayed no trust.

Even if found guilty, prevalent sentiment would wish to see him go free.

He has already served sentence. General condemnation has already taken his pound of flesh—and cut it from the heart.

He has already served a five-year term in hell—and lost his face.

Successful prosecution can score but Pyrrhic victory, now.

New York is a city where everybody is trying to push everybody else out of the subways.

Mexico as a Builder of Highways

THERE is to be a concrete highway constructed from the city of Laredo to the City of Mexico. There is to be another from Laredo to Monterey. There is to be a highway from Brownsville via Point Isabel to Corpus Christi and thence on to Galveston and the cities of the Sabine territory and New Orleans. A concrete highway from the Rio Grande to the City of Mexico will turn the tide of American tourist to the beautiful capital of the sister republic.

There is a highway on the Pacific coast that starts at Augua Calienta and has its finish on the banks of the Puget sound. A million tourists this season speeded along this highway from Tia Juana to Seattle, thence on to Spokane and to Bozeman where road builders have made it possible for the invasion of Yellowstone park, the largest park in North or South America, which is one of the scenic spots of the world. More than 300,000 tourists invaded the Yellowstone park this year.

There is another national highway, the Lincoln, which stretches across the continent from New Jersey on the east to the Pacific coast on the west. There is another highway that traverses the country from New York to the great cities of Canada and on and on to the northern Pacific coast. American tourists are said to have dropped $300,000,000 in the pockets of the Canadians, and the American tourists who crossed the Atlantic and invaded the countries of Europe dropped $650,000,000 into the pockets of Europeans who may not love the republic of the West, but who dearly love the cling of American gold.

In the very near future it will be possible for the tourists to make a run from Montreal on the north to Mexico City on the south and this will place millions annually in the pockets of Mexicans and the Mexican government. There may be a lot of poverty in the United States, in dark and sordid spots, but there is a prosperity unknown in other lands under the sun and the millions who enjoy it are willing to invest in motor cars and the necessary gas in order to cover the country from upper Canada to lower Mexico and from the east to the west coast sections of the republic.

A great civilizer is the motor car; a greater civilizer and wealth bringer is the modern hard surface highway. Civilization comes high, but the price must be paid.

Texas Wasp on the Road

THE WASP is on the road again. He has invaded the political highways and byways. He carries his stinger with him. He carries his book of statistics with him. Now former State Senator Senter is known to fame as the Texas wasp. He is a native Texan. His forebares hail from Kentucky. He began his career in Johnson county. He published a newspaper at the early age of 14 and he was a product of the Lebanon law school before he was 21. He has been in the game of politics and law and newspaper writing for 40 years.

He is for court reform, tax reform and all other reforms dear to the heart of a reformer of the period—that is reforms along the line of constitutional procedure. He was the first Texan to announce his candidacy for governor. He promised to deliver his message to all the people of the 254 counties. He invaded the Alamo City the other day and was the star orator of the Kiwanis club. He let loose his message. He exhibited his figures. He declared in the year of 1928 the people of Texas handed over to the tax collectors, national and state and county and city, approximately $375,000,000.

He said that the national government collected in the same year something like $775,000,000 in income taxes. Comparisons are interesting. They are educative to those who think. The wasp made the comparison and added the information that in payment of taxes of all kinds the people of Texas contributed a sum more than half as great as the federal government collected in income taxes in all the 48 states of the sisterhood. In conclusion the Texas wasp implored his hearers to draft a business man for governor and to not only draft but to nominate and elect senators and representatives wholly constructive in order that laws may be enacted that will give taxpayers relief from "their heavy burden."

He named Col. Nat Washer of San Antonio as an ideal business man who would make an official business governor, and sounded the note that a weak governor and constructive lawmakers would do more for the people than an able and progressive governor, handicapped by lawmakers who are grossly inefficient and who lack constructive brains.

Yes, the wasp is on the road again. He promises to continue on the road until next July or August. He made his start 40 years ago. His finish will come when the death angel rings the bell and calls him to his eternal home.

The Tourist Grows Careful

IT IS a tradition—started by whom and when it is impossible to find out—that the tourist is the most careless, inconsiderate and thoughtless of all living mortals.

Happily, however, it begins to look as if the tourist is mending his ways. A bulletin from Supt. J. Ross Eakin of Glacier National park, discussing forest fires in the national park, says that most fires are started by natural causes, such as lightning.

"Carelessness in handling campfires, smoldering cigars, cigarets and matches at one time presented quite a problem," he writes, "but in the last few years, thanks to the cooperation of park visitors, this cause has been reduced."

If the American tourist has learned the great lesson about taking care with fire hazards, the old tradition will have to be revised.

Quotations Worth Noting

"Labor, if it were wise, would see that a tariff policy which would multiply exports and imports would be passed."—Senator King of Utah.

"I never have believed that the federal farm board will accomplish anything to help the farmer."—Senator Blease of South Carolina.

"I maintain that golf is about as unimaginative a way for an intelligent man to spend his leisure as you could devise."—Christopher Morley. (Forum.)

"The churches are more powerful in America than anywhere in the world except Tibet, and such power obstructs intellectual progress."—Bertrand Russell.

Sycophant

Time was I was rich in youth and charms,
And my hair was gold like the sun,
He held me close in his hungry arms—
But that's all done.

He whispered to me, and I loved the words
Which fell so sweet from his tongue,
For the trees and the flow'rs and the singing birds
And I—were young.

He knew my throat and my soft white hands,
And my mouth and my eyes so blue,
But the soul in woman which understands
He never knew.

I've almost forgot my heart's old sore,
And my hair is gray like the rain,
He flatters the girl who lives next door,
I feel no pain—

I Thought I'd Die!

After interviewing Ursula Parrott, author of "Ex-Wife" (the sensational book about husbands and sex) via the WMCA microphones the other night, news photographers insisted on a picture. Before taking her place in front of the lens Miss Parrott pardoned herself while she stamped out her cigaret. Then she explained:

"My father is so strict, you know. I wouldn't want him to see a picture of me smoking."

Incidentally

Which reminds us of I. Hoffman's flippancy: "People who live in penthouses shouldn't drop stones."

Flip Cracks

Harry Reichenbach says that when a Wall street broker dies he crosses the great dividend and Rube Goldberg likes this gag better than any other he ever read.

"Do you know how to tell a Christian?"

"No."

"One who buys at retail!"

Things That Burn Me Up And Knock Me Cold

Among other things this bureau frets about is the inane rule that prevents children from appearing on the vaudeville or drama stage, children, in most cases, who are exceptionally talented, and who are usually given private tuition.

There is no rule, that we know of, that prevents children from appearing in moving pictures, however, which are a great deal more harmful, considering that they must be on the lot almost all day, rehearsing this scene or that, one over and over, usually coming away with a serious case of klieg eyes.

Appropriate

Mark Leuscher, of the RKO offices, tells about a small town movie theater owner who wondered what sort of movie he should buy to combat his opposition which was featuring "The Cock-Eyed World."

After much thought he decided on a picture starring Lon Chaney.

Sotto Voce

To Whom It May Concern: Miss Truly Shattuck thanks those who contributed to her when she was in great distress recently, and so do we.

Pearl Kent: "York" and "talk" is a hybrid, and the second stanza is uneven.

The Morning Mail

"Dear Walter," writes the very amusing Bob Fender of Carmel, Calif., "I read your column in the Los Angeles Herald every day, and I think you're a nice feller, and quick, too. Except that you live in New York City and I still wear a belt and suspenders at the same time, we're quite alike. I'm a hotel clerk and have to keep saying funny things to keep our guests laughing, especially after they've had our meals, so naturally I've developed into quite a wit.

"Now what I wanted to ask was: I never saw any New York shows, except one Harry Richman was in, and I wish I hadn't, but I keep thinking of funny things that those comedians would no doubt like to have. Anyhow, sometimes, the boss doesn't pay here until the 15th and I could use an extra five or ten, particularly when the carnival comes to town, so I wondered where I could sell a smart crack like the following: 'I have been to college and I got pennants to prove it!' Oh, yes. We play a game here called 'Who?' and the way you play it is you take a drink of a drink we have here, and when you wake up, everybody says: 'Who?' at you. Then that's when it's ticklish, because you have to say something like 'President Hoover,' or 'Mother India' or 'Mrs. Gann,' or whoever you think you are just then. And if you don't answer just right, or even if you do, everybody hits you in the face. It's more fun!"

Novelette

When Time, the magazine was organized, the late Britt Hadden was presented with a batch of common stock because it was worthless at the time for one thing, and for another that it would stimulate his interest in the progress of the publication. He died recently in his early thirties.

Last week a syndicate bought Britt's stock from his widowed mother for one million four hundred and eighteen thousand dollars!

Anecdote

"Little Tim's" boy Joseph Sullivan was thinking of Oscar Wilde for some reason or other in a smart night club last evening. His favorite Wilde gag, it appears, concerns Oscar's last days, after he was freed from prison. Wilde was critically ill in his poverty-hole, but some of his loyal friends visited him and brought gifts. One caller brought two bottles of wine. Wilde picked up a bottle and laughed as he toyed with it.

"Why were you laughing?" he was asked.

"Because," was the grand reply "I'm dying beyond my means."

Not Now, But Context

And S. J. Brody contribs this repartee supposed to have been overheard during the rehearsals of George White's "Scandals."

First Chorine: "Have you heard the dirt about Sue?"

Second Ditto: "Heard it? Why, dearie, I started it!"

"All Quiet on the Western Front"

By ERICH MARIA REMARQUE

CHAPTER XXX

Gradually a few of us venture to stand up. And I am given crutches to hobble around on. But I do not make much of them. I cannot bear Albert's gaze as I move about the room. His eyes always follow me with such a strange look. So I sometimes escape to the corridor—there I can move about more freely.

On the next floor below are the abdominal and spine cases, head wounds and double amputations. On the right side of the wing are the jaw wounds, gas cases, nose, ear and neck wounds. On the left the blind and the lung wounds, pelvis wounds, wounds in the joints, wounds in the intestines. Here a man realises for the first time in how many places a man can get hit.

Two fellows die of tetanus. Their skin turns pale, their limbs stiffen, at last only their eyes live—stubbornly. Many of the wounded have their shattered limbs hanging free in the air from a gallows; underneath the wound a basin is placed into which the pus drips. Every two or three hours the vessel is emptied. Other men lie in stretching bandages with heavy weights hanging from the end of the bed. I see intestine wounds that are constantly full of excreta. The surgeon's clerk shows me X-ray photographs of completely smashed hipbones, knees and shoulders.

A man cannot realize that above such shattered bodies there are still human faces in which life goes its daily round. And this is only one hospital, one single station; there are hundreds of thousands in Germany, hundreds of thousands in France, hundreds of thousands in Russia. How senseless is everything that can ever be written, done or thought, when such things are possible. It must all be lies and of no account when the culture of a thousand years could not prevent this stream of blood being poured out, these torture chambers in their hundreds of thousands. A hospital alone shows what war is.

I am young, I am 20 years old; yet I know nothing of life but despair, death, fear and fatuous superficiality cast over an abyss of sorrow. I see how peoples are set against one another, and in silence, unknowingly, foolishly, obediently, innocently slay one another. I see that the keenest brains of the world invent weapons and words to make it yet more refined and enduring. And all men of my age, here and over there, throughout the whole world, see these things; all my generation is experiencing these things with me. What would our fathers do if we suddenly stood up and came before them and proffered our account? What do they expect of us if a time ever comes when the war is over? Through the years our business has been killing; it was our first calling in life. Our knowledge of life is limited to death. What will happen afterward? And what shall come out of us?

After a few weeks I have to go each morning to the massage department. There my leg is harnessed up and made to move. The arm has healed long since.

New convoys arrive from the line. The bandages are no longer made of cloth, but of white crepe paper. Rag bandages have become scarce at the front.

Albert's stump heals well. The wound is almost closed. In a few weeks he should go off to an institute for artificial limbs. He continues not to talk much, and is much more solemn than formerly. He often breaks off in his speech and stares in front of him. If he were not here with us he would have shot himself long ago. But now he is over the worst of it, and he often looks on while we play skat.

I get convalescent leave.

My mother does not want to let me go away. She is so feeble. It is all much worse than it was last time.

Then I am sent on from the base and return once more to the line.

Parting from my friend Albert Kropp was very hard. But a man gets used to that sort of thing in the army.

We count the weeks no more. It was winter when I came up, and when the shells exploded the frozen clods of earth were just as dangerous as the fragments. Now the trees are green again. Our life alternates between billets and the front. We have almost grown accustomed to it; war is just a cause of death like cancer and tuberculosis, like influenza and dysentery. The deaths are merely more frequent, more varied and terrible.

Our thoughts are clay, they are moulded with the changes of the days; when we are resting they are good; under fire, they are dead. Fields of craters within and without.

Everyone is so, not only ourselves here—the things that existed before are no longer valid, and one practically knows them no more. Distinctions, breeding, education are changed, are almost blotted out and hardly recognisable any longer. Sometimes they give an advantage for profiting by a situation—but they also bring consequences along with them, in that they arouse prejudices which have to be overcome. It is as though formerly we were coins of different provinces; and now we are melted down, and all bear the same stamp. To rediscover the old distinctions, the metal itself must be tested. First we are soldiers and afterwards, in a strange and shame-faced fashion, individual men as well.

It is a great brotherhood, which to a condition of life arising out of the midst of danger, out of the tension and forlornness of death, adds something of the good fellowship of the folk-song, of the feeling of solidarity of convicts, and of the desperate loyalty to one another of men condemned to death—seeking in a wholly unpathetic way a fleeting enjoyment of the hours as they come. If one wants to appraise it, it is at once heroic and banal—but who wants to do that?

It is this, for example, that makes Tjaden spoon down his ham-and-pea soup in such tearing haste when an enemy attack is reported, simply because he cannot be sure that in an hour's time he will be alive. We have discussed at length whether it is right or not to do so. Kat condemns it, because, he says, a man has to do reckon with the possibility of an abdominal wound, and that is more dangerous on a full stomach than on an empty one.

Such things are real problems, they are serious matters to us, they cannot be otherwise. Here, on the borders of death, life follows an amazingly simple course, it is limited to what is mostly necessary, all else lies buried in gloomy sleep—in that lies our primitiveness and our survival. Were we more subtly differentiated we must long since have gone mad, have deserted, or have fallen. As in a polar expedition, every expression of life must serve only the preservation of existence, and is absolutely focused on that. All else is banished because it would consume energies unnecessarily. That is the only way to save ourselves. In the quite hours when the puzzling reflection of former days, like a blurred mirror, projects beyond me the figure of my present existence, I often sit over against myself, as before a stranger, and wonder how the unnameable active principle that calls itself Life had adapted itself even to this form. All other expressions lie in a winter sleep, life is simply one continual watch against the menace of death—it has transformed us into unthinking animals in order to give us the weapon of instinct—it has reinforced us with dullness, so that we do not go to pieces before the horror, which would overwhelm us if we had clear, conscious thought—it has awakened in us the sense of comradeship, so that we escape the abyss of solitude—it has lent us the indifference of wild creatures, so that in spite of all we perceive the positive in every moment, and store up as a reserve against the onslaught of nothingness. Thus we live a closed, hard existence of the utmost superficiality, and rarely does an incident strike out a spark. But then unexpectedly a flame of grievous and terrible yearning flares up.

Those are the dangerous moments. They show us that the adjustment is only artificial, that it is not simple rest but sharpest struggle for rest. In the outward form of our life we are hardly distinguishable from Bushmen; but whereas the latter can be so always, because they are so truly, and at best may develop further by exertion of their spiritual forces, with use it is the reverse; our inner forces are not exerted toward regeneration, but toward degeneration. The Bushmen are primitive and naturally so, but we are primitive in an artificial sense and by virtue of the utmost effort.

And at night, walking out of a dream, overwhelmed and bewitched by the crowding faces, a man perceives with alarm how slight is the support, how thin the boundary that divides him from the darkness. We are little flames poorly sheltered by frail walls against the storm of dissolution and madness, in which we flicker and sometimes almost go out. Then the muffled roar of the battle becomes a ring that encircles us, we creep in upon ourselves, and with big eyes stare into the night. Our only comfort is the steady breathing of our comrades asleep, and thus we wait for morning.

Every day and every hour, every shell and every death cuts into this thin support, and the years waste it rapidly. I see how it is already gradually breaking down around me.

There is the mad story of Detering.

He was one of those who kept himself to himself. His misfortune was that he saw a cherry tree in a garden. We were just coming back from the front line, and at a turning of the road near our new billets, marvelous in the morning twilight, stood this cherry tree before us. It had no leaves, but was one white mass of bloom.

In the evening Detering was not to be seen. Then at last he came back and had a couple of branches of cherry blossoms in his hand. We made fun of him and asked him whether he was going to a wedding. He made no answer, but laid them on his bed. During the night I heard him making a noise; he seemed to be packing. I sensed something amiss and went over to him. He made out it was nothing, and I said to him: "Don't do anything silly, Detering."

"Ach, why—it's merely that I can't sleep—"

"What did you pick the cherry branches for?"

"I might have been going to get some more cherry branches," he replied, evasively—and after a while: "I have a big orchard with cherry trees at home. When they are in blossom, from the hay loft they look like one single sheet, so white. It is just the time."

"Perhaps you will get leave soon. You may even be sent back as a farmer."

He nodded, but he was far away. When these peasants are excited they have a curious expression, a mixture of cow and yearning god, half stupid and half rapt. In order to turn him away from his thoughts I asked him for a piece of bread. He gave it to me without a murmur. That was suspicious, for he is usually tightfisted. So I stayed awake. Nothing happened; in the morning he was usual.

Apparently he had noticed that I had been watching him—but the second morning after he was gone. I noticed it but said nothing, in order to give him time; he might perhaps get through. Various fellows have already got into Holland.

But at roll call he was missed. A week after we heard that he had been caught by the field gendarmes, those despicable military police. He had headed toward Germany, that was hopeless, of course—and, of course, he did everything else just as idiotically. Anyone might have known that his flight was only home-sickness and a momentary aberration. But what does a court martial hundreds of miles behind the front line know about it? We have heard nothing more of Detering.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Congressional Stock Market Probers

First Senator: I'm for a sweeping inquiry into the stock exchange. The orgy of speculation tolerated and encouraged by Wall street is a disgrace to the country.

Second Senator: It's a crying shame. Funds needed for legitimate business are being converted to stock market purposes, prices are being boosted to fabulous heights without rhyme or reason and the people of America are being deceived into thinking that the path to fortune lies through a few fliers in the market.

First Senator: It is outright gambling. Unscrupulous big operators are enabled to manipulate prices at will. Pools are sending stocks far beyond true values. Look at the crazy fluctuations in Radio, for instance.

Second Senator: What is the last quotation on Radio, by the way?

First Senator: Around 87, I think, I hear it's good for 200.

Second Senator: I've got some I bought at 82.

First Senator: As I was saying, the time is ripe for a complete investigation into the whole market situation. The country has gone Wall street crazy. Millions of wage-earners are risking their savings in the hope of quick profits. People who should be putting their money in banks are dumping it into the automobile stocks. Take General Motors .....

Second Senator: I took some last week.

First Senator: What did you pay for it?

Second Senator: I got it at 86¼. It is good for 150.

First Senator: You're crazy. I'm playing 500 shares short.

Second Senator: A very good friend of mine tells me it will go up 100 points inside of a year.

First Senator: Personally I like the outlook for the oils.

Second Senator (looking at his watch): Oh, we've got to hurry to that conference.

First Senator: What conference?

Second Senator: The conference on drawing up suitable measures to stop stock speculation.

EASY--The Love Story of a Modern Girl-- By Beatrice Burton

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Ann Marie Macy, though young and pretty, is the "easy mark" of her motherless family. She is forever waiting on her more modern, flapperish sisters, Alice and Jeanie, and lending them her clothes and trinkets to aid in their conquest of the boy friends. The money she earns by painting cards for her father's bookstore partly goes in payment of her brother, Howard's, debts. She is hoping to earn enough to pursue an art course. When Neal Forsythe arrives to visit the wealthy Lawlers, Ann Marie quickly loses her heart to him in spite of her disillusionment when she finds him embracing Leota Ingram, the town's bad girl. Her dream of an art course is rudely shattered when Howard, her brother, tells her he is in trouble with Leota and asks Ann Marie to intervene. Leota unexpectedly appears at the Macy home as Florence and John Lawler call. To prevent a disastrous scene, Ann Marie quietly pays out her last money to Leota, who plans to leave for New York. It is the money saved for the art course. Before she leaves town, however, Leota writes a letter to Florence Lawler that brings about Howard's discharge from her father's bank. Howard, frantic, says he will leave for the West, and Ann Marie must raise the money for his expenses.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XV

Ann Marie never would have thought of selling that pendant to get money for herself.

But now, when Howdy was in need of money, she did not stop to think twice about it.

In 10 minutes she was opening the door of her father's shop and taking the pendant out of the drawer where she had hidden it.

"You've got to get some money out of Dad for me," Howdy had told her. But she did not say a word about money or about Howdy either when she went into the shop. She knew that there was no use in asking her father for money. No use in telling him the bad news about Howdy until the time came for the two to say goodbye to each other.

"Hello, Dad, I brought you these sandwiches for your lunch," was all she said to him. "See you later."

She laid the little package of food that Mrs. Leezy had prepared for him on his desk and went away before he could have time to notice her red eyes and ask her why she had been crying.

Her first thought when she left the shop was her Uncle Hamby. Uncle Hamby had plenty of money and surely he would lend her some of it, if only for the sake of keeping his dead sister's jewel in the family.

Most people liked Uncle Hamby. But Ann Marie knew him.

He was pink and round and middle-aged. He seemed like a jolly old soul until you had a good look at his eyes.

They were little and cold-looking, and they were set too close to his nose. He was always suspicious of poor people, and especially of his relatives. He was always sure that they were going to beg him for money, and he was almost always right.

But Ann Marie had never asked him for any before. Her courage almost failed her that Monday noon when she rang the doorbell of his big gloomy stone house on Sycamore street.

Uncle Hamby and Aunt Annie, his wife, were at lunch.

Nellie, the housemaid who had taken care of them for 30 years, opened the door to Ann Marie and led her down the dark narrow hall to the dark narrow dining room.

"Won't you have some lunch, Ann Marie?" Aunt Annie asked when the girl leaned over her and kissed her on the top of her graying head.

"No, thanks," answered Ann Marie, who felt as if she never would be hungry again—or happy, either.

"Just a little of this chicken hash that Nellie makes?" Aunt Annie was urging, when Uncle Hamby stopped her.

"She says she doesn't want it!" he said, giving his wife a blighting look. Uncle Hamby was stingy.

Aunt Annie took the hint and closed her lips.

"I've come to borrow some money on this," Ann Marie began her little plea. "On this pendant that belonged to mother. I'll tell you why I need this money—" And she told them what had happened to Howdy and where he was going.

The only thing she left out was the cause of his quarrel with Mr. Lawler. She knew that if she brought the name of Leota Ingram into her story she would never get a cent from her uncle.

"Hmmmm!" he said when she had finished, "Hmmmm!—the boy's a fool, and if he leave town he's a bigger fool. He had a job in a million and the best thing he can do is to go to Lawler and eat humble pie and get his job back again!"

Ann Marie shook her head. "There's not a chance of that, Uncle Hamby!" she cried. "I'm sure that the only thing for him to do is to go out to Oklahoma and take this other position that he's sure he can get—"

"All right! All right! All right!" He stopped her by holding up his hand like a traffic policeman.

"But not on my money!" he added, "Not on my money, Annie!" He always called Ann Marie "Annie."

He touched the pendant as it swung from her fingers.

"I wouldn't lend you a nickel on that thing for such a purpose!" he declared. "Not if it was the Kohinoor diamond—which it isn't."

He got out of his chair and opened the door for her. Not because he wanted to be polite, but to make clear to her that she might as well go.

"You tell Howdy for me that this town is the best place for him?" he said as she passed him. "I've made my fortune right here, out of wall paper, and he can do the same. Do you understand me?"

"Goodbye, Aunt Annie," called Ann Marie.

There was a pawnshop far down on Front street near the river.

It was considered a disgrace in the town to be seen going into it. And Ann Marie looked all around her that day before she slipped into it.

She came out 10 minutes later, leaving the pendant behind her in the shop. But she had $53 in her handbag, and her heart was as light as a heart could be under such circumstances.

The house was quiet when she unlocked the front door and stepped into the hall. . . . She remembered that it was Monday and knew that Jeanie and Alice had gone to the Monday Morning Music club's meeting and stayed downtown for lunch in all proability.

They often did that, and then took in a moving picture in the afternoon. . . . They were very busy, frivolling away their days in imitation of the wealthy girls of the little town.

The door of Howdy's room was closed.

When Ann Marie opened it she found both Howdy and Mrs. Leezy in it, packing a trunk and a large, shabby Gladstone bag.

Mrs. Leezy's face was swollen from crying.

"Trouble, trouble, trouble," she said dolefully when Ann Marie came into the room. "That's life for you! Trouble on top of trouble."

Ann Marie took her little roll of bills from her bag and handed it to Howdy.

"I didn't get it from dad," she told him. "I knew he didn't have it. . . . Is this enough?"

He counted it and shook his head. "No, but Mrs. Leezy let me have fifty—so I've got enough to get by."

He crushed it into his pocket and went on with his packing. . . . Bright-colored silk neckties that had been presents from Florence Lawler. The silk dressing gown that had been her Christmas gift to him. . . . His black-pearl studs. . . . Black pearl cuff links.

"These aren't paid for," he said. "I just bought them the other day. When the bill comes—"

"We'll take care of it," Ann Marie finished the sentence for him. "Won't we, Mrs. Leezy?"

They stood looking at each other, the two women who loved him unselfishly and honestly—as good women often do love a worthless duck like him!

He sent his trunk down to the station in time to be put on the 3 o'clock train.

At half past two he telephoned for one of the three taxicabs in town, and he and Ann Marie got into it.

"Take us to the station," he said to the driver, and shook off the hand that Ann Marie laid on his arm.

"No—you want me to stop in at the store and say 'goodby' to dad, don't you?" he asked her. "Well, I'm not going to! He'll just do a lot of yelling about staying here and helping him in the store. . . . I know what his line will be, and I don't want to hear it! You can tell him the whole thing, from start to finish, when he comes home tonight. I'll write him when I get settled out where I'm going."

Ann Marie saw, all at once, that he was not the least bit downhearted about going away, now that he had made up his mind to go.

The light of adventure shone in his blue eyes, and he whistled "Frankie and Johnny," his favorite tune, as they stood on the platform waiting for the train.

When it came sliding into the station he hopped up on the steps of the coach as if he couldn't get away soon enough. In his haste he bumped against a tall man who was getting off.

"All 'board!"

Through a mist of tears Ann Marie saw the coaches jerk and then slide away along the platform. . . . He was going! Howdy was going. . . . He was going away for good!

"Oh, I can't bear it!" Ann Marie said under her breath, and the tears that had been just under her lids for hours began to well up into her eyes and roll down her cheeks.

A small boy, selling chocolates and magazines, came close to her and peered into her face.

"Getcha a taxicab?" he asked her, and Ann Marie shook her head.

"I have one," she said, her voice choked with tears, and then remembered that she had no money to pay for the cab that was still waiting for her in the yard behind the station. Not even a penny.

When she went to tell the man that he would have to collect his fare at Mr. Macy's bookstore she found the tall man, who had bumped into Howdy, standing beside the cab.

He turned, as she came up beside him, and looked at her.

Ann Marie stared back at him, refusing to believe her eyes. . . . For the very last person she expected to see stood there, with his hat held against his chest and the January wind ruffling his thick black hair.

Neal Forsythe had come back to town!

Women Smokers In Britain Increase

LONDON, Oct. 17. (US)—The number of women smokers in Great Britain has increased 400 per cent, in the past five years, according to figures just published here. They consume 3,417,333,970 cigarets in a year and pay $30,000,000 for them.

Every week approximately 735,000,000 cigarets are smoked—halfway, on the average—and the year's total amounts to something like 38,293,939,580, or about 1,914,696,979 packages.

This means that were every man, woman and child to smoke an equal share, they would each have an apportionment of 912 cigarets a year. This is more per head than in the United States, where the ratio is 856 per person.

School Teachers in Vera Cruz Paid Off

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17. (US)—For the first time in 20 years, school teachers of Vera Cruz are unable to say the government owes them their pay. All arrears have been paid up and from now on it is going to be a case of the "maestro" being worth his hire when it is due.

DUNCAN CATTLE TAKE PRIZES

Stephens County Club Boys Get Honors

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Oct. 17.—With Howard Nelson of Marlow, a member of the Oklahoma 4-H dairy judging team which won the national championship, five Stephens county 4-H dairy club boys today were celebrating the good showing made by their dairy cattle in competition with the nation's best at the national dairy show in St. Louis.

Howard Nelson, who was also awarded the Blue Valley championship as the outstanding 4-H dairy club boy in Oklahoma, won second place on his Jersey heifer in the 1-year-old-and-under-2 class. Matthew Wham of Duncan won eleventh place in this class.

The Oklahoma dairy herd of five animals, four of them owned by Stephens county club boys, placed fourth in the national show, being outranked by Tennessee, Michigan and Indiana in the order named.

Howard Nelson also won sixth on his Jersey under a year old. Alfred Brown of Marlow won eighth place on his Jersey in the over-two-years-old class. Eugene Ely of Duncan won twelfth in this class.

Of the six animals entered from Stephens county, five placed in the money. The Stephens county animals in the Oklahoma herd were owned by Howard Nelson, Matthew Wham, Tillman Willard, Comanche and Alfred Brown, Marlow.

Quanah Cement Products Sent In Carloads to Hawaiian Islands

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, Oct. 17.—Consigned to Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, two carloads of cement plaster products left the Acme mills of the Certainteed Products corporation a few days ago, establishing a long-distance shipping record for this mill, which is located four miles west of Quanah. The Quanah, Acme & Pacific railroad handled the cars to Floydada, where they were turned over to the Santa Fe to be delivered to shipping docks in San Francisco.

These plaster mills manufacture all grades of plaster, from the coarse brown plaster to Keene cement, used in finest dental work. The shipment to Hawaii was a mixed shipment of these products.

STORE TRADED

When a Child is FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour feeching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y. It will be sent FREE.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.—Adv.

Cup for cup, Rinso gives more suds

RINSO is not one of those lightweight, puffed-up soaps. It's granulated and compact. A little gives a lot of thick, creamy suds. No softener is needed, even in the hardest water.

And how those rich Rinso suds loosen dirt! Your clothes don't need to be scrubbed. That means they last much longer.

The makers of 38 famous washers recommend Rinso for safety and for whiter clothes. Get the BIG household package . . . and try Rinso for dishes, too!

Guaranteed by the makers of LUX—Lever Brothers Co., Cambridge, Mass.

The granulated hard-water soap for tub or washer

You, too, may have a clear skin

Proud? Justly so!

Every person should have a clear skin. If you have skin blemishes why not get rid of them PERMANENTLY?

THOUSANDS of people have weak, impure blood—to this may be attributed pimples, boils, eczema, "run-down" systems, rheumatism and even more serious ailments.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get the number of your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, those pains usually called rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to disease.

Throughout more than a hundred years S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It is Nature's own blood tonic for improving the appetite, clearing the body of so-called skin troubles, and building strength and resistance to disease.

S.S.S. increases the count of red-cells in the blood. Weak, impure blood is injurious to the system, lowering resistance to disease. Rich, red blood builds and sustains the body. S.S.S. helps Nature build rich, red blood. Good blood improves the processes by which the body is nourished, promotes constructive metabolism (healthy body building) and works against infection and disease. Take S.S.S. daily at mealtime. To get full benefit you must take it regularly and over a sufficient period of time. At all Drug Stores. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Skin troubles—pimples, boils, eczema, and sallow complexion—are usually but symptoms of a deeper, a more dangerous trouble—a lack of the normal count of red-cells in the blood.

When you take S.S.S. to get rid of these outside blemishes, you are building up the system to ward off the graver diseases of which these blemishes are Nature's warning.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

THE primary function of a Radio is to receive music without loss of quality. Until the advent of the NEW Brunswick, this was an unrealized dream.

But no longer. For the NEW Brunswick will receive music, every type of it, with "Studio Quality" Radio Reception. And that means that now, for the first time, full enjoyment can be realized from Radio programs. They can be heard through the NEW Brunswick exactly as though the listener-in were in the studio of the Broadcasting Station, hearing the actual artists themselves. The elaborate apparatus that makes broadcasting and reception possible does not seem to exist.

The Most Drastic Test ever conceived

Don't buy any Radio until you have had a Brunswick Dealer reproduce for you, in his own store, the most convincing test for Radio Tone and Reception ever conceived—which Brunswick made at 12:11 midnight, May 4th last, at Station WABC, New York City. As a result of this test you will, for the first time, be able to compare the work of great artists as they actually sound in the studio, and as they come over the air, through the NEW Brunswick Radio.

The NEW Brunswick Radio is made in three models
Model 31—Panatrope with Radio, Price $272
Model 21—Superb highboy console-type Radio, Price $174
Model 14—Artistically beautiful lowboy console-type Radio, Price $148

LIQUOR BUYER'S STATUS TESTED

Supreme Court May Decide Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The supreme court may soon be asked to decide whether the buyer of liquor is equally liable with the seller to prosecution.

A test case has been asked by the district attorney at Philadelphia as result of a ruling by the circuit court of appeals there that the buyer is immune from arrest. Charles Evans Hughes Jr., solicitor general, after conferences with Attorney General Mitchell, is expected to decide shortly whether the case will be carried to the highest tribunal.

Senator Sheppard, Democrat, of Texas, author of the 18th amendment, who recently proposed an amendment to the Volstead act to provide for prosecution of the purchaser, said he would ask an inquiry by the attorney general to decide whether the government may not now prosecute buyers under the present law.

Says Buyer Guilty

"No one can escape the proposition," he said, "that the buyer of intoxicating liquor is equally guilty with the seller, if the liquor traffic is to be considered a crime."

From F. Scott McBride, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, came a statement asserting that it was an open question whether the Sheppard proposal would "be a hindrance rather than a help" in prohibition enforcement, adding that "many drys believe it to be harmful."

He pointed out that such legislation has already been tried and repealed in one or two states, and said that since a sale is rarely made in the presence of a third party, "the conviction of the seller must almost invariably depend upon the testimony of the buyer."

Need Buyer's Testimony

"To accomplish conviction of the buyer it would be necessary," he said, "to grant immunity to the seller."

The purchaser's legal culpability was brought further to the fore recently by diverging opinions from two federal courts. The ruling from the Philadelphia court was followed by an expression by Federal Judge Dawson of Kentucky, that rum buyers do violate the Volstead act and he asked grand jurors to indict purchasers.

Attorneys at the department of justice and officials engaged in handling liquor law prosecutions are known to believe the purchaser can be prosecuted.

Opponents of prohibition have contended that, because there is no reference to the buyer in the 18th amendment, penalties for purchasing liquor at present or any later inserted in the enforcement act without changing the amendment would be unconstitutional.

The law now provides that "No one shall . . . purchase . . . any liquor without first obtaining a permit from the commissioner to do so," and further that "any one who . . . violates . . . any of the provisions of this chapter, for which offense a special penalty is not prescribed, shall be fined for a first offense not more than $500."

Those handling liquor cases at the justice department believe the supreme court would hold this section valid. Unlawful transportation is not mentioned in the amendment either, they point out, but it is in the enforcement act, and the highest tribunal ruled that the amendment was intended to prohibit the traffic in liquor and that transportation was a part.

KILLIAN TRIAL FACES DELAY

Fraud Case May Wait on Validity Test

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17. (AP)—A defense attack on the validity of the indictment and the jurisdiction of the federal court today won a temporary delay and threatened discontinuance in the trial of A. C. Killian, indicted jontly with three others in an allegedly fraudulent scheme to obtain $35,000 from Mrs. Maggie Hopkins, wealthy Pampa ranch woman.

The three named with Killian in the indictment are Ruth Martin, charged with aiding Killian in defrauding the ranch woman of $10,000, and Mrs. Hattie Mae Killian and Oscar R. Fowler, charged with entering into an agreement to extort $25,000 from Mrs. Hopkins in an alienation of affections suit.

The indictment charges the four devised a scheme by which Killian was to enter into a marriage agreement with Mrs. Hopkins and suit was to be brought against her by Mrs. Killian charging her husband's affections were stolen by the ranch woman.

The marriage of Killian and Mrs. Hopkins subsequently was annulled by publication in Gray county.

At the opening of the trial, motion was filed by defense attorneys to quash the charges against Fowler on grounds there was no mention of his connection with the first scheme. A second motion asked severance of the trial of Fowler from that of the other defendants. A third motion asked that the indictment be quashed on grounds incompetent testimony was presented to the grand jury.

A decision will be given tomorrow.

Father Given Right to Slay His Daughter Under Mexican Code

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17. (AP)—A father has the right to kill his daughter and her seducer in cases where the girl sacrifices her honor, according to the terms of the new penal code drawn up under extraordinary powers granted to President Portes Gil by congress. The code is appearing in installments in the official Gazette.

The code also says that the husband who kills his wife's partner in a marital offense shall not be punished. The same holds true for the wife against the husband. The code stipulates, however, that the killer shall go without punishment only if it is the first time he has killed for that reason and only if the victims are caught in the act or are about to commit it.

Persons involved in differences which have led to a duel must appear before a tribunal of honor, which will try to bring about a reconciliation but will have no power to sanction the duel.

On the side of social welfare, the code provides that habitual drunkards be placed in sanitoriums for cure. The transfer of venereal disease is made punishable and treatment obligatory. Persons with such disease will not be permitted to marry.

Although the penal code was drawn up to become effective Dec. 15, its publication in the Gazette has raised the question whether it does not become automatically effective. No official announcement has been made.

The code abolishes the death penalty and replaces the jury system with one of trial by groups of allenists and other experts.

STATE PARKS TOUR PLANNED

Motorcade to Start Nov. 4 At San Antonio

AUSTIN, Oct. 17. (AP)—D. E. Colp, chairman of the state parks board, said today that a good-will motorcade, comprising representatives of the Rotary, American Legion, Lions, Kiwanis, state parks board and highway department, would leave San Antonio Monday morning, Nov. 4.

Members of the motorcade will lunch at Mason Nov. 4 and spend the night at Brownwood. On the next day they will lunch at Abilene and spend the night at Snyder. They will have luncheon at Lubbock on Nov. 6 and stay overnight at Amarillo.

An inspection of Palo Duro canyon is on the program for Nov. 7 and the return trip is due to start Nov. 8. The itinerary for the return journey has not been announced.

Two representatives from Monterey, Mexico, representing the Pan-American highway and the republic of Mexico and several county judges will be in the party.

One purpose of the trip is to stimulate interest in state parks, Colp pointed out that Texas had more parks than any other state except one, and soon expected to add another at Palo Duro canyon.

One Woman Tells Another

FAME of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound spreads from coast to coast as grateful women recommend it to their friends and neighbors.

MRS. G. L. HAWKS
230 Terrace Avenue, Petersburg, Virginia

"I was just run-down, no good for anything, could eat very little, was restless all the time, and had nervous crying spells. I did not sleep any at night and just dreaded for night to come. My sister-in-law recommended the Vegetable Compound to me one day and my husband brought home a bottle. I began getting better when I was taking the second bottle and now I have a good appetite, take care of my people when they are sick and do my own work too."—Mrs. G. L. Hawks.

MRS. GLENN LINN
523 W. Warford St., Perry, Iowa

"When I was a girl of 12 I was pale and run-down, my back ached and I had no life in me. My mother saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and got it for me and after taking six bottles I was like a different person. It made me strong and well and did wonders for me. The best I can say is not enough. I took three bottles more about a year ago and it helped me again. I am taking it now in the tablet form and find it a wonderful help. I will answer letters from women about it."—Mrs. Glenn Linn.

FALL FORCED TO HEAR TRIAL

Ailing Defendant Remains Through Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The condition of Albert B. Fall's health led to disagreement between opposing counsel today as to whether and how his bribery trial should continue, with the result that the ailing defendant sat through the afternoon session while presentation of testimony on his behalf went on.

Defense attorneys asked at a noon conference with Justice Hitz that the former interior secretary be excused from the session because of setback in his illness. Government counsel insisted that if Fall was too ill to be in court the case should be recessed until tomorrow.

Much time today was occupied by reading to the jury testimony by the late Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy in the Harding cabinet, and the late Edward L. Doheny Jr., given at the Fall-Doheny conspiracy trial here three years ago. Denby in his testimony took responsibility for letting the Pearl harbor contract, for which the government alleges Fall accepted a bribe of $100,000 from Edward L. Doheny.

The testimony of young Doheny described bringing $100,000 to Fall in Washington on Nov. 30, 1921.

Record Crowd Hears Laurie Taylor Concert

An audience that overflowed the large auditorium and gallery of the First Baptist church, heard Laurie Taylor, pianist for the Taylor evangelistic party, in his third and last program Thursday night. Mr. Taylor further convinced Wichita Falls music lovers of his ability to play and interpret the outstanding piano literature. Following the program, Evangelist Charlie Taylor preached on "The Eternal City," closing the message with a solo, "Wounded for Me."

Tonight at 7:45 o'clock the evangelist's sermon subject will be "The Second Coming of Christ," answering the questions "Is Christ coming?" "How is Christ coming?" "When is Christ coming?" and "What will His coming mean?" There will be a special musical program, given by the evangelist and his brother, Laurie. The service will be preceded by a 30-minute inspirational and prayer service, conducted by the father, Rev. Charles Taylor Sr.

Eighth Man Jailed In Probe of Wire Theft

J. H. Stout, the eighth defendant named in connection with the recovery here of a ton of stolen copper wire, was lodged in the Wichita county jail Thursday afternoon by E. S. Richardson, chief deputy constable, on charge of receiving and concealing stolen property. "Big Boy" Stout, his son, who escaped from custody about two weeks ago after he had been arrested on similar charges, was recaptured about 3 o'clock Thursday morning and placed with the other half dozen suspects in the county jail.

Meanwhile Frank Morgan, constable, announced Thursday afternoon that officials at Acme, Texas, will arrive Friday morning to identify the wire, believed to be a part of several hundred pounds missing from the cement town.

Explosive "Grape Juice" Puzzle for Officers

Possession or sale of grape juice, so long as it is still grape juice, is not illegal but city and county officers found themselves stumped about 3 o'clock Thursday morning when they discovered a carload of gallon jars containing what they believed to be neither grape juice nor wine.

Frank Morgan, constable, E. S. Richardson, deputy, and W. P. Timmons and W. E. McDonald, city officers, early Thursday morning found a car containing about 30 gallon-jars of a purple liquid. Officer Timmons tested the cap on one of the jars and it blew off with a bang, showering him and Constable Morgan with the liquid.

"The stuff was distinctly not wine," the officers said, "but grape juice doesn't act like that." They left the car and its contents, probably "for future reference."

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

Final Rites Held For Miss Sellers

Final rites for Miss Verna Sellers, head of the English departments of the Junior college and high school, who died in a local hospital at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, were held from the First Methodist church in Stephenville, Texas, at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment was in the Stephenville cemetery.

Miss Sellers was one of the best beloved teachers in the Wichita Falls schools, having been a member of the educational system of the city since the beginning of the Junior college about seven years ago. Short services were held here at the First Methodist church at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, after which hundreds of students, teachers, alumni and friends thronged the church as the body lay in state. The body was forwarded to Stephenville about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Texas Financier Is Killed by Automobile

FARMERSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 17. (UP)—Col. L. L. Miller, 68, building and loan pioneer, was killed instantly in an automobile accident near Emory today when the car in which he was riding overturned. He was crushed to death.

DENVER PLANS NEW SIGNALS

Williamson Gives Outline Of Improvements

Announcements of railway improvements during the coming year in Texas by F. M. Williamson, president of the C. B. & Q. railway, reported Thursday by the Associated Press from Dallas, include the installation of block signals on the Fort Worth and Denver line from Fort Worth to Childress, and indicated that improvements of roadbeds and rails will soon be undertaken in the same territory.

Officials of the Denver road here stated that installation of block signals as additional safeguards already has begun, the seven miles of track between North Yards, Fort Worth, and Saginaw now being equipped. Plans thus far made anticipate the extension of the new signal system as far as Bowie or Henrietta, it was said, but local officials denied any knowledge of plans for reaching Childress with the block signals in the near future.

The automatic color signals are used to supplement the safety provided by written train orders controlling the movement of trains. Mr. Williamson's visit to Texas was incident to the usual annual tour of inspection, it was said.

Archer City and Megargel Battle to Scoreless Tie

Spartan met Spartan Thursday afternoon at Archer City when the Wildcats and the Megargel Bluebirds battled 60 minutes to a scoreless tie.

Both teams were pretty evenly matched as to weight but the Archer City Wildcats had the edge on the visiting team by making more first downs.

Wright, Threet and Hays played an exceptionally good game for Archer City, while Colgan and Aboussee were the shining lights for the Bluebirds.

Jury Awards Wichitan $3,000 in Injury Suit

A jury in the 89th district court Thursday afternoon awarded L. M. Owens around $3,000 in compensation against the American Employers Insurance company. Mr. Owens was seeking compensation for injuries claimed to have been received in an oil field accident in April, 1928, while he was in the employ of the Harry Hines Oil company. The jury Thursday afternoon returned a verdict holding that the plaintiff had suffered permanent, partial injury, carrying with it a compensation of about $3,000, according to estimates of Judge P. A. Martin, who presided in the trial.

Sarcococca Hookeriana Humilis Included in Plant List

Lists containing the names, types and natures of about 200 varieites of foreign plants have been received by C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent, who is also a licensed plant experimenter, from the office of foreign plant introduction in Washington, D. C.

To be explicit, the plants range from Sarcococca Hookeriana Humilis to a cross between a Prunus Salicina and a Cerasifera Myrobalana, with Zizyphus Jujuba in between. To put it broadly, the lists include specimens of rare fruit and shade trees, evergreens and flowering shrubs. They have been collected from all over the world and cuttings are available to experimenters for propagation in all parts of the country.

QUANAH NAMES LEAGUE HEADS

Chillicothe Man Named Director General

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Oct. 17.—Hardeman County Interscholastic league elected officers for the coming year at the close of the County Teachers institute held here last week. Those in charge for 1929-30 are:

Director General, W. E. Hancock, superintendent Chillicothe schools.

Directors are as follows: Declamation, Miss Alice Myers, Quanah; debate, Ernest Witt, principal of Acme schools; spelling, E. C. Gregory, principal Lazare schools; essay, Miss Elizabeth Farrington, Center Point school, Chillicothe; rural schools, Noah Phillips, principal Fairview school, Goodlett; athletics, C. E. Brown, principal Williams Consolidated schools, Kirkland.

The teachers adopted a resolution specifying that all basket ball contests be held before the county meet.

Selection of the town where the county meet will be held is to be made by the executive committee following presentation of inducements by the various towns.

AUTO STRIKES AGED WOMAN

Mrs. Florence Cullin Seriously Hurt; Driver Jailed

Mrs. Florence Cullin, 619 Polk street, was severely injured when she was struck by an automobile driven by J. J. Cobb, who lives near Iowa Park, shortly after 7 o'clock Thursday night near the corner of Ninth and Polk streets.

The injured woman was taken to the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital by W. S. Parks, 1510 Westlake drive, who was passing nerby in an automobile. Her injuries consisted of a fracture and deep cut of the right leg below the knee, severe bruises on the head, scalp and body and shock. She is about 65 years of age, with almost white hair, attendants said.

Cobb was taken to police headquarters and jailed after investigation. He was booked for aggravated assault with a motor vehicle. He will be transferred to county authorities Friday, police said.

No one was with the woman at the time of the accident, police were told. Her hat and glasses were knocked off onto the pavement and were forgotten in the excitement which followed. These articles were later turned over to police who returned them to Mrs. Cullin at the hospital. Physicians stated at a late hour Thursday night that while her condition was not critical, she was seriously hurt.

U. S. has named three firms to make government whisky. As far as most of us are concerned, what of it?

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug store. Renfro Drug Co.—Adv.

Boy Loses Hand In Liquor Raid

where amputation of the injured hand was declared necessary. The patient was reported to be resting quietly late Thursday night. The second man is being held in the Wichita county jail. Federal charges will be filed against him Friday, Mr. Bralley said.

Officers Hunt Still

The raid Thursday was conducted by Mr. Bralley, H. L. White, deputy, Sheriff Ed Goodwin of Archer county, and Curly Kincaid. The officers spent several hours along the Archer-Wichita county line following the trail of the still, which had been moved several times within the past few weeks. They came upon it at last, sheltered on one side by the dam of a stock tank set upon the side of a hill and on the other by banked up brush. The plant was in full operation when the raiders approached. The officers separated, to approach the plant from all sides.

According to the account given by Mr. Bralley, the operators, one of them on top of a six-foot galvanized tank, caught sight of the raiders, jumped down and began his flight. The firing followed. Mr. Bralley said he did not see the shooting and was not aware of the exact sequence of the shots. After Locke was hit, he joined the group around the still where the officers and their prisoners gathered.

The plant was equipped with an unusually large high pressure gasoline tank, connected with the furnace. A double still, capable of running between 150 and 200 gallons a day, was pouring whisky into barrels. Three big galvanized tanks, six feet high and between five and seven feet across, were capable of holding 200 barrels of mash, the officers estimated. The cooling and condensing systems seized were described as being larger and more capacious than the usual equipment. A large number of barrels, 35 gallons of whisky, the mash on hand, and a car hidden in the underbrush and believed to be used for transportation, were seized. The whole plant, with the exception of the tanks, was moved into Wichita Falls. The tanks will be brought in Friday, Mr. Bralley said.

Tetterine Stops Skin Itching In 2 Minutes

If you suffer from skin eruptions of any kind, pimples, itch, tetter, ringworm, eczema, etc., a pleasant odored ointment known as Tetterine, containing highly effective parasite, germ-destroying and skin-healing properties, never fails to bring quick and permanent relief.

Tetterine, antiseptic effect, kills the parasites that bore into the skin, causing irritation and itching. Accept no substitute. Genuine Tetterine comes in salve form with Dr. J. T. Shuptrine's signature on the carton and is sold and guaranteed by all druggists at 60c per box, or sent direct, postpaid upon receipt of price. Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.—Adv.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

PEOPLE HAVE LOTS OF TIME TO READ ON SUNDAY

SUNDAY ADVERTISING!

. . . . it reaches the entire family . . . . at home

When a family buys a new dining set, refrigerator, silver service, automobile, radio or any other item representing a sizable investment, isn't it a fact that the purchase is made only after the family has "talked things over?" And isn't it on Sunday that most large purchases are talked over and decided upon? Naturally so, because on Sunday most members of the family are at home . . . with time for the consideration of personal and family matters.

Whenever a buying question arises on Sunday — in over 33,000 homes in Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma The Sunday Times and Record News plays an important part. Either the prospective purchase was suggested by an advertisement in The Sunday Times or the buying discussion leads to a careful perusal of its pages for advertisements of the article wanted. And generally on Monday, a transaction which began in the family circle on Sunday is completed in the store of a Sunday Times advertiser.

Multiply this procedure by more than 33,000 families who read The Sunday Times, and you begin to have a measure of The Sunday Times' outstanding influence in the very successful promotion of Monday sales.

25% is the general average overhead for retail business—day in and day out—but Monday overhead often runs as high as 50% for retailers who let down in Monday sales efforts by doing without Sunday advertising.

Clinch Monday Sales!

Hundreds of shopping lists are made up from suggestions by advertisers in The Sunday Times every week—and the retailer who does not take this Sunday opportunity to tell shoppers about his merchandise values and service is losing out on business which he cannot hope to regain. Sales which he might have made on Monday are gone forever. Heavy advertising later in the week cannot bring some of them back—for they have gone to a competitor who advertises on Sunday as well as on the week days.

Getting along without Sunday advertising is not a saving—no matter how a merchant may figure. It simply results in lost sales which increase Monday overhead instead of cutting it down—passed up business which could have paid for advertising and in addition brought a greater net profit from the day's total volume.

Get on the shopping list of Sunday Times readers and build a more profitable volume of Monday business. Consistent Sunday Times advertising rightly used will reduce your percentage of sales costs, advertising included, and leave you a bigger profit on Monday.

Practical Arithmetic

For example: A retail store doing only $500 volume of Monday business with a 35% overhead eating up the profits can, by consistent Sunday advertising, increase its volume 50% and reduce its Monday overhead to approximately 25%—including the cost of advertising! If your Monday overhead is above the average let a Wichita Times and Record News representative help you work out a Sunday Times advertising schedule which will make Monday business as profitable as that on any other day in the week!

OVER 33,500 CIRCULATION

23 MILLIONS GIVEN U. OF T.

Donations Fill Gaps Left By Legislature

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—The University of Texas during its 47 years has received in large gifts a total of $23,209,000, a survey shows in the October issue of The Alcalde, published today by the University Ex-Students association. The gifts have filled needs which the state legislature was not in a position to fill.

Millions Are Given

The total, the magazine says, does not include several large items of unappraised property, such as the Brackenridge tract in Austin, and does not consider a constant growth in the monetary value of certain gifts. A list of gifts prepared in the office of President H. Y. Benedict and published shows that 17½ millions have been given in land and buildings, $360,000 in loan funds and scholarships, and one and a half millions in miscellaneous gifts such as the Littlefield memorial arch and the Stark museum of fine arts. Gifts made for the benefit of university students but not directly to the university amount to two million dollars.

No gifts less than $10,000 were considered in finding the total.

Outstanding givers mentioned are the late Col. George W. Brackenridge of San Antonio, the late Maj. George W. Littlefield of Austin, the Stark family of Orange, Hogg Brothers of Houston, T. W. Gregory of Houston, Jesse H. Jones of Houston, the late W. J. McDonald of Paris, the late John Sealy of Galveston, the late E. D. Farmer of Fort Worth, George Beggs of Fort Worth, H. Y. Benedict of Austin, the late W. S. Davidson of Houston and Archer M. Huntington of New York.

Citizens Assume Task

"When the state's money," the writer of the survey says, "is retained to the extent that actual needs of administering the educational plant are barely met each biennium, private citizens must assume the task of providing the proper equipment of student surroundings. The state legislature, though it become zealous over the matter of esthetics, would hardly provide the money for purchasing lace or porcelains or even Byron manuscripts. Neither could the legislature provide loan funds for the comparatively small portion of the tax-paying citizens who would use the money at the university. The building of a stadium or the union buildings by state appropriation would have been almost beyond a possibility, and any construction of these units with the over-rated and usually threadbare university income from land would have been delayed of necessity until after buildings for scholastic purposes had been completed."

"Laces and porcelains" are part of the Stark museum of fine arts.

Negro Hostess Drops Dead As Celebrant Shoots

MARLIN, Texas, Oct. 17. (AP)—Jiggling feet of many colored brethren and sisters in hilarious revelry shook the pine wood floor of Emma Lockett's frame house near here until the wee hours of the night.

Emma Lockett was hostess. Among the guests was Levi Newton, negro of giant proportions.

The spirit of the joyous occasion worked the said Levi Newton into a frenzy. He could stand it no longer. Where there is joy there must be "whoopee."

Out came an ugly .45-caliber "Saturday night." Two shots echoed through the house. The hostess fell dead. A physician called to the scene reported Emma Lockett died of heart failure. Both missles from the gun had been hurled at the stars. Newton is held for rudely displaying a pistol.

BOYS HELD IN AUTO DEATHS

Pair Accused of Killing Two Small Girls

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 17. (AP)—Afton MacAdoo, 18, and Everett Ramey, 16, were held here today on a manslaughter charge in connection with an automobile accident Saturday in which five children were injured, two fatally.

Authorities said that Ramey, after being questioned for several hours, confessed that he was a passenger in the death car, which, he said, was driven by MacAdoo. The latter was arrested at Cavanaugh last night just before he and Thelma Robinson, who, it developed was a passenger in the car, were to have been married.

Bond for the twe youths was set at $5,000 each.

Two Fort Smith children, Hettie Lee Been, 9, daughter of Mrs. Lottie Been, and Beulah Viola Kleaman, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kleaman, were killed by the speeding car.

A reward of $650 has been offered by various agencies for arrest and conviction of the death car drivers.

Tulsa Union Station Site Wins Approval

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 17. (UP)—The corporation commission today approved the Tulsa union station site agreement between the city, the Frisco, Santa Fe, and Katy railroads.

The agreement provides for a station near the present site of the Frisco station. Protestants sought to have the station built on the north side at about the present site of the Katy station.

FISH DISPUTE GETS WARMER

Nebraska Official Slings New Charge at Tulsan

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 17. (UP)—In answer to a published letter from M. E. O'Brien, fish culturist of Tulsa, Okla., charged with illegally taking 2,000 fish from Nebraska, that the case had been dropped in his favor, Chief Game Warden O'Connell today declared the case is far from settled.

And furthermore, O'Connell said he had additional evidence to prove that O'Brien now had planned to violate Oklahoma fish and game laws in his desire to trade 200 black bass for some perch on Nebraska. As soon as possible, O'Connell will present all his evidence to Gov. Arthur Weaver of Nebraska to determine what actions will be taken against O'Brien.

In order to obtain additional evidence to present Governor Weaver, O'Connell wired Water Commissioner Endacott of Tulsa, declaring Nebraska's 25,000 fingerling perch available to trade for the 200 bass. Endacott immediately wired they were ready to trade and would send the bass.

Upon receipt of that telegram, O'Connell messaged State Fish and Game Commissioner Harris of Oklahoma City asking if it were not illegal for Tulsa to ship the bass out of Oklahoma and Harris answered that it was illegal to do so. O'Brien had not conferred with the Oklahoma commission in regard shipping the fish, he said.

"Some of O'Brien's transactions while at the head of our fish department were highly unsatisfactory," Harris added. "While connected with our department, O'Brien seined some public streams which are favorite fishing resorts. He took both large and small mouth bass, presumably for hatchery purposes. The result was a serious state of dissatisfaction on the part of the persons interested in these streams."

O'Brien is charged with coming into Nebraska last summer during the night and removing 2,000 perch without authority.

Rippy to Head Charity Drive at Electra

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 17.—A. C. Rippy was appointed chairman of the charity drive at a meeting of the chamber of commerce. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hendy, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schlaffke and Mrs. E. R. Fred Minor Heads Solon Fraternity

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Representative Fred Minor of Denton today was selected president of the Texas Legislative Fraternal organization at a meeting here.

Other officers elected were John F. Renfro of Angelina, vice president, and John E. Davis of Mesquite, secretary-treasurer.

The law-makers ignored parliamentary procedure when they selected Minor as president. After he had been elected by acclamation, the representative informed the members he was not even a member of the organization. The situation was remedied by Minor paying $1, the required dues for one year.

Nearly 100 legislators attended the meeting.

Electra Couple Observe Wedding Anniversary

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ormand entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening at their home on East Summit honoring his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ormand, on their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ormand and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ormand were among those who enjoyed the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ormand were married in Bell county in 1875. Nine children were born to them, all of which are still living. The sons are Frank, Shawnee, Okla.; Arthur, Sudan; Walter, San Saba; Freeman, Electra; Raymond, Mt. Pleasant; Ernest, Ardmore, Okla., and Tillman, Pecos. The daughters are Mrs. W. E. Stevens, Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Ben Turner, Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Ormand have 28 grand children and six great grand children. All are living except one grandchild who died 28 years ago.

Newport's Small Grain Sowing Is Rushed

Special to The Record News.

NEWPORT, Texas, Oct. 17.—Since the fine rains of last weekend the fall sowing of small grain will be rushed to a finish during the next 10 days.

Cotton picking is about finished and the gins over the county are now running half time.

The peanut crop will be fair, making something like 18 bushels to the acre and harvesting will be started about Nov. 1.

HUGE AIRLINE MERGER SEEN

Four Major Systems May Be Combined

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 17. (INS)—A gigantic merger of four major airlines of the United States, Universal Western Air Express, Standard and Texas Air Transport and Southwestern Air Express to form the largest transportation concern in the world, was believed to be in the making here today with the reports that a group of aviation executives is to meet in Kansas City Saturday for an important conference.

The Aviation Corporation, a $100,000,000 concern, and its subsidiary, the Aircraft Finance corporation, a $30,000,000 company, are said to be involved in the merger plans together with the Fokker Aircraft corporation, maker of the tri-motored air liners used by the Universal and the Western Air Express.

LEBUS-TAYLOR

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Taylor of West Garrison avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lavena, to Roy H. LeBus, which took place at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock with Rev. C. C. Klingman, pastor of the Christian church reading the ring ceremony. Only members of the family and immediate friends were present.

The bride is well known in Electra, having lived here a number of years. She is a graduate of Electra high school, class of 1929, and was a member of the famous "Vanity Fair" chorus.

Mr. LeBus graduated from Electra high school with the class of 1927 and was a member of the boys' debating team. He is connected with the L. & F. Chevrolet Motor company and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. LeBus.

Mr. and Mrs. LeBus left Wednesday afternoon for Dallas where they will spend a few days' honeymoon, after which they will be at home in Electra to their friends.

Work Starts on New Crosby County Creamery

Special to The Record News.

RALLS, Texas, Oct. 17.—Work was started Tuesday on the new building being built to house the Crosby County Creamery company. The building, a brick and tile structure, 36 by 80 feet, will be rushed to completion according to those in charge and it is expected that operation of the creamery will begin by Dec. 1.

The building, being built especially for the creamery business, will be modern in every way and the creamery will meet all requirements for a grade A creamery.

Says Everybody's Now Praising It

Lubbock Retired Farmer Declares He Feels Like New Since Taking Orgatone

"A few weeks of Orgatone treatment actually put an end to my indigestion and made my feel like a new man," said G. D. Owens, a well known retired farmer residing at 811 Ave. T, Lubbock, Texas.

"One day after eating," he continued, "I had an awful attack of indigestion and from that time on I commenced to get in a general run down condition. My stomach would bloat up with gas and at times I could hardly breathe, and I would have sick dizzy headaches until I could hardly stand the pain. I started doctoring myself, but in spite of the medicine that I took I became so much worse, and suffered such agony that it looked like nothing could ever do me any good.

"One of my friends advised me to try Orgatone and I began to improve right from the start and in a week I felt much better. A few more weeks' treatment fixed me up all right and I have gotten entirely over my indigestion and can eat anything I want. I believe everybody in my neighborhood is taking Orgatone and praising it for 'the good it is doing them.'"

JUNIOR COLLEGE INDIANS HEAD-ON WITH PARIS DRAGONS

BAGGETT TEAM READY TO GO

Two Well Matched Elevens In Contest

The Wichita Falls Junior college Indians receive their first baptism of 1929 conference football fire when they sally out onto the Paris Junior college field to do battle with the Dragon eleven.

Coach E. A. Baggett with his football team arrived in Paris late Thursday and went through a light limbering up session. The entire outfit is in the best of condition and a great football treat should be provided the fans when these two junior college elevens match brawn and wits on the chalked-off field.

Coach Baggett has driven his charges at a merry clip during the week's training and now feels that, if ever, they should show results in the form of touchdowns. Last Saturday the Indians played great football against the North Texas Teachers college freshmen eleven and missed scoring winning touchdowns only when fumbles or intercepted passes cheated them at the critical moment. The Baggett men outplayed their opponents by far when it came to firstdowns made. But it was in the pinches that they failed to deliver.

With the aforementioned weakness as a constant reminder the coach has done everything within human possibility to whip up his team into a winner.

The Paris Junior college eleven is reputed to be a rough scrapping football team this year and are out to scalp the visiting braves. The result of what is believed to be two well balanced grid machines pitted against each other and egged on by the smell of conference meat is expected to be something worth writing home about.

California East for Pennsylvania Game

California's Golden Bears go up against Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, Saturday, Oct. 19, in one of the outstanding intersectional games of the season. Ben Lom is California's slashing halfback, and Riegels and Avery star at center and end. Captain Utz and Olexy in the line will give fine support to Al Ratowsky, Penn's big ground gainer.

Nearly Two Hundred High School Conference Elevens Play This Week

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—Football games will be played between 50 conference A high schools and between 122 conference B teams in the Texas Interscholastic league during the week ending Oct. 19, according to Roy Henderson, athletic director of the University of Texas Interscholastic League bureau. The games scheduled are as follows:

Conference B: Quitaque at Shamrock, Follett at Perryton, Hereford at Tulia, Wellington at Childress, Artesia at Lamesa, Sudan at Olton, Megargel at Archer City, Bridgeport vs. Jacksboro, Graham vs. Eliasville, Henrietta at Bowie, St. Jo at Nocona, Cooper at Farmersville, Rockwall vs. Bonham, Celeste at Wolf City, Commerce vs. Honey Grove, Garland vs. Royse City, Frisco at Terrell, Troup at Pittsburg, Mt. Jacksboro Prepared For Go With Bridgeport High JACKSBORO, Texas, Oct. 17.—Jacksboro Tigers are preparing for hard game with the rejuvenated Bridgeport team that made four touchdowns on Graham last Friday. Jacksboro easily defeated Bridgeport in a practice game early in the season, but since Bridgeport has developed a strong team out of the material they had along with an abundance of new material, making them dangerous to any team in the district.

Jacksboro will be strengthened Friday by the presence of Clarence Whitt, who was out of the last game on account of ineligibility. He is a great guard, and punts well.

New plays and formations are being drilled into the squad this week and the team feels they can win, but will be stronger if Franklin, tackle, who had a badly sprained ankle from Decatur game, and Cherryhomes who has a bad knee, are able to return to the lineup. Indications are favorable for their being able to play Friday.

Sport Loose Ends

By W. G. CHAMBLESS

Rumblings and peals of verbal thunder from up Amarillo way indicate that a young hurricane is brewing in the football camp of Coach Russell Smith and his Golden Sandies. Amarillo can see nothing but a bleak outlook for the rest of the teams in the district who happen to be in the pathway of the big storm. Looks as if nothing short of a football Paul Bunyan or a Pecos Bill will be able to rope in the "pride of the Texas Panhandle."

Wonder if they ever heard tell of the rain that came and beat upon the house of the man who had builded on the shifting sands, or of the dope bucket which was accidentally kicked over in the middle of a football game. We understand that Vernon, Wichita Falls and Lubbock are scheduled to play Amarillo High sometime during the season.

How does the game of football as she is played in the Southwest stack up with the game as she is played in other sections over the federal union? A good slant may be got from a glance at a few of the intersectional tilts between Southwest conference elevens and strong elevens of other well known conferences.

Against Nebraska S. M. U. pulled through with a scoreless tie two weeks ago. And the past week Nebraska was too much for the powerful Syracuse, N. Y., team. Last Saturday "Bo" McMillin brought his highly touted Kansas Aggies here to play Texas A. & M. and took a 19 to 0 beating. Playing Tulane at New Orleans two weeks ago the Aggies were barely nosed out by a close 13 to 10 count by the mighty Green wave, probably the most potent team in the Southern conference this year.

Not bad, we say, not at all bad for the gridsters in this section of the hemisphere.

Negotiations are now pending for the resumption of football relations between the Army and Navy. Big moguls and higher-ups in the government are seeking to bring about a reconciliation of the estranged service schools. In the first place it was a lamentable posture of affairs that permitted the severing of a long string of traditional football battles between the two schools. The Army-Navy tilt had become almost an institution of the land. Interest in this sporting event knew no sectional bounds and was of nation-wide scope in appeal. The very fact that the teams drew their players from the four corners of the country and points East, West, North, South has made the game a colorful drama of unique distinction. And it was with deep chagrin that many people viewed this interrupted chain of history.

The least thing that can be done now is to heal the breach as soon as possible and let the Army mule and the Navy goat resume their classic football tradition.

Ride 'em, Cowboys. Ride 'em, and no tugging leather, and may the best team win. When the Simmons Cowboys and the West Texas Buffaloes head-on Oct. 26, it will be just another gory link in a long chain of bloody grudge battles between the schools.

It is related that the ancient football feud between the aforementioned started 'way back yonder to the time whereof the memory of old-time Texans runneth not to the contrary. The story of the grudge has it that many years ago Simmons university sent one of the greatest teams in its history to do battle with the Buffaloes on the Canyon field. The Buffs had whipped the Cowboys the year before in Abilene 6 to 0 and the bovine tamers were pointed and keyed up for the game to avenge that defeat. All the dope had it that Simmons would win by a good margin, but those that had figured the dope recokned without the power of an inspired Buffalo eleven.

The game was played as the head-liner on a Canyon homecoming day, and all the glamor surrounding such a day was in evidence. After a bitter struggle, the Buffaloes were victorious by the small margin of 13 to 12.

For the Buffaloes, Canyon and the hundreds of ex-students on hand that day, the season had been a tremendous success. They had beaten the Cowboys! The victors' celebration lasted far into the night; enthusiasm and wild cheering lingered long in the halls of the teachers college.

As for the Cowboys, they were a maddened lot. Before they left the field that day, every mother's son of them gathered in the center of the gridiron and each with his own blood signed a pact that no Buffalo eleven should ever beat a Cowboy team again! Carrying back to Abilene this vow written in scarlet, the Cowboys were not long establishing the act as a tradition. And from that day to this the Cowboys have won every single game, save one, a 3 to 2 affair on the Buffs' field the following year.

A Team to Beat

Having taken Indiana and the Navy into camp, Notre Dame now faces Wisconsin, Carnegie Tech, Georgia Tech, Drake, Southern California and the Army before the finish arrives.

What too much pressure and a series of accidents or injuries can do to a football team is already well known. But unless such misfortunes are heavier than usual against the South Bend wanderers, they are not likely to be beaten. In addition to having a smart, aggressive line, Notre Dame can show the best all-round backfield in the country, jumping from one ocean to another, with Carideo, Elder, Brill and Mullins, supported by Schwartz, Savoldi and others. This first string backfield has a great chance to match the Four Horsemen who rode and galloped into football history a few years ago. All four have speed, alertness and driving power, and Rockne, with his staff, has supplied the offense to give this speed and power its chance. They are all good passers and receivers on the side, where several combinations can be used. It is a great team to watch because of its rhythm and its aggressive drive. It is all action—action at high speed, high speed linked with power and the determination to keep going.

They used to say that Rockne would be badly handicapped when they brought his shift to a halt. This backfield not only came to a full halt, but extended the interval. One might have counted up to four, instead of counting merely one-two.

The strength of his defensive play will be as important a factor as the power of his attack. His forward wall is smart, quick and on top of the job every second. All in all, it is one of the best looking teams Rockne ever sent into action.

A Quarterback

A poor quarterback can wreck a good team, and a good one can make a good team look much better. Notre Dame has another Stuhldreher in Carideo. He handles the team smartly, sends its booming along, and is always on top of the situation.

Here is one example. Against the Navy he needed a yard and a half on fourth down. He called his signal. "Check, check," came from the N. D. backfield. Someone called out, "It's fourth down." Carideo turned around. "I know it's fourth down. I need a yard and a half and I'm going to get it." The play got five yards.

Carideo has the type of voice that helps to lift and carry a team along. It has the ring of authority. When he calls a signal he sounds the call for action. And he knows his stuff.

Strong Teams

It is too early yet to name the four strongest teams in the country, but as a guess you can figure on Notre Dame, Stanford, Illinois and Pittsburgh. Any one of them may be beaten at any time now. But one, or possibly two, of the four should finish with a clean record. There are other strong teams, including Southern California, Carnegie Tech, Minnesota and Purdue. But the first four named will be hard to take.

North Carolina ranks high in the South. There will be a better line to offer in this section after Saturday, when Florida faces Georgia Tech and Tennessee mixes with Alabama.

Watching Northwestern

Dear Sir: Out in the Middle West it is suspected that Richard Hanley, of Northwestern, is cooking up a rough dose for the boys. Dick has plenty of veteran ends and backs and enough experienced linemen to give him a good start. In addition he has a squad of forty sophomores, and among that bunch are some crackerjack football players. Northwestern may take one or two on the chin before Nov. 1, but thereafter the Wild Cats will be wild, rough and hard to curry. Believe it or not.—HENRY EVANSTON.

ST. EDWARD'S TO OPEN SEASON

Game Will Feature Annual Home-Coming

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—St. Edward's university football team will open its Texas conference schedule next Saturday with a game to be played with Southwestern university in the University of Texas Memorial stadium. The game will be the feature of the annual home-coming of the former students of St. Edwards.

The game between the Saints and Pirates each year is a hard-fought one. During the past four years there has never been more than one touchdown difference in the score. In the past two years the Saints have won by two touchdowns to one, and in the two preceding years the score was one touchdown to none, and two touchdowns to one, with the games being divided three to one in favor of the Saints.

Takes Measure Twice

Since the teams have become members of the Texas conference, the Saints have taken the measure of the Pirates each time they have met, a circumstance which is expected to bring the Buccaneers to Austin with blood in their eyes Saturday. Coach Lefty Edens has fashioned a team having new stars this year, and the Saints are expecting a terrific struggle.

Squad Free of Injuries

Coach Al Sarafiny at last has a squad that is practically free from injuries, and he will be able to throw virtually his entire strength into the fray with the Pirates. Co-Captain Dave Figari, who fractured a couple of ribs in the Texas game, is again ready to take his place in the lineup at halfback. Milton Scott, fullback, and Jack Caplis, guard, who were also out of the Baylor game last Saturday, are again ready for duty. Mario Ransom, halfback, is again practicing with the squad, and he too may be able to break into the battle with the Pirates.

With these four men available, the matter of sending in fresh players, if a broiling sun again takes its toll as the battle progresses, will not press Sarafiny as it has in the games already played this fall. The Pirates can look forward to a very busy afternoon in the capital city.

German Sprinter Winner

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 17. (AP)—Eldracher, German sprinter, won the 100-meter dash in an international track and field meet between Germany and Japan here today in ten and three-tenths second, claiming a new world's record. A second world's record was claimed by Miss Kinuye Hitomi of Japan who won the women's 100 meters in 12 seconds flat.

15,000 to See Okla. Texas Grid Battle

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Indications tonight were than Saturday's interconference struggle between Oklahoma and Texas universities at fair park stadium here would be witnessed by a capacity crowd of 15,000.

A majority of reserved seats for the spectacle already have been sold and the last-minute rush was expected to pack the wooden bowl. Special trains will bring 4,000 Oklahomans down for the fray; another will carry 1,000 Longhorn rooters to the battlesite. The Texas Cowboys cheering corps will lend color to the game.

Most Vivid of Season

The game itself promises to be one of the most vivid on the season calendar. The two schools have been gridiron rivals since 1900, when Southwest football was in swaddling clothes.

Texas proved its caliber last week in smashing over four touchdowns on Arkansas, and the Sooners gave adequate warning by their victory over a strong Creighton eleven. Creighton could do nothing with the Oklahoma line, making only 26 yards from scrimmage and one first down.

Both squads were scheduled to reach here Friday, probably in time for brief workouts before dark.

T. C. U. Coach Failed To Make Basket Ball Letter

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17. (UP)—Francis Schmidt, new head coach at Texas Christian university, whose success in developing championship basket ball teams in the past few years has earned him the title throughout the Southwest of basketball's "miracle man," failed to make a letter in basket ball while attending school at the University of Nebraska.

Although he earned three letters in football and two in baseball, he played basket ball only on intramural teams.

Since beginning his coaching career two years after the war, Schmidt's record as coach of championship basket ball teams has exceeded that of any other sport.

Will Hold Fox Hunting Meet in Trinity County

MEXIA, Texas, Oct. 17. (AP)—An ideal fox hunting ground has been found near Groveton, Trinity county, Texas, and that site selected for the fall fox hunt of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters' association Dec. 9-12, according to J. W. Elliott, Mexia, secretary-treasurer.

There are thousands of acres of cut over pine lands and worlds of foxes, Mr. Elliott said on his return from a tour of the grounds.

Dr. John A. Lister of Houston will be master of hounds during the hunt. The association holds its wolf hunt in West Texas and its fox hunt in East Texas every year.

MICH. FACES BIG PROBLEM

Team Lacks Brainy Field General

By MARBEN GRAHAM
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (UP)—Michigan, probably haughtiest of western schools on the gridiron, is faced this week with her most embarrassing situation in years. Coach Harry Kipke hasn't found the needed "brains" to direct the Wolverine eleven once it gets on the field.

Almost since the beginning of football history, Michigan teams have been a standard, not of bone crushing, high-scoring machines, but of brainy teams. Their play has made the defeat of Michigan a thing to be remembered.

Michigan always has good defensive teams. The Yostonian theory has been "wait for the break, then hit." It teaches defense first, in order to take breaks when they come. Probably no other team was so much responsible for changing the rule this year regarding picking up fumbles and running with them as was Michigan.

Time and again, Michigan teams snatched victory from defeat by following the Yost precept. One particular cold autumn afternoon about two years ago in Minneapolis was illustrative. The Wolverines, holding on doggedly, were outplayed possibly 58 minutes of the game by a heavy Minnesota eleven. The break, a fumble, finally came. A Michigan man snatched up the ball and ran for a touchdown. The game was won.

Yost teaches the most important position in the field is center. He never said so, but did intimate once, that he thought his center was chiefly at fault the afternoon "Red" Grange ran wild against Michigan.

Next Yost places quarterback, then the two guards. All the great Yost teams are manned at these positions by unusual players.

This year Harry Kipke, one of the "old man's" greatest products, has three of those four positions well filled—not with spectacular players but steady ones. But he hasn't a quarterback, and a quarterback is almost as important as a center in the Yostonian way of things, as Saturday's game showed.

Purdue beat Michigan Saturday by scoring four touchdowns in the final quarter. And to think in four years' play between Michigan and Illinois only three touchdowns have been made, two by the Illini and one by the Wolverines.

A tactical blunder, made late in the game by Captain Joe Truskowski, brilliant end but inexperienced in picking plays, gave Purdue the break for those touchdowns.

Kipke said before the game that if he found a field general three-fourths of his troubles would be over. Tonight, he said, he still has the same troubles, maybe more. And too, Ohio State, Illinois and Harvard are his next three opponents.

Razorbacks Leave For Baylor Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 17. (AP)—With 50 gallons of "Ozark hill" water in their kitbag, 23 men, including two crippled regulars, left here tonight for Waco where the University of Arkansas eleven will meet their second Southwest conference foe, Baylor university, Saturday.

Two Veterans Lost

The pair of veterans out of the lineup are Van Sickle, all-conference tackle, and Dale, halfback. Both were injured last Saturday. Secrest, a sophomore, will probably take the tackle berth, and Thompson, reserve back, will try to fill Dale's shoes.

Crabough, tackle, benched last week for breaking training, was back in lineup at the final signal practice Thursday.

Waner Brothers Sign To Play With Pirate Club

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 17. (UP)—Paul and Lloyd Waner, star outfielders of the Pittsburgh Pirates, have signed contracts for the 1930 baseball season, according to Sam Dreyfuss, treasurer of the Pirates. The Waner brothers held the spotlight last spring by holding out until the training campaign was well under way and threatened to quit baseball unless their salaries demand were met by the Pittsburgh club.

Ector County's Well Increases

Special to The Record News.

ODESSA, Texas, Oct. 17.—Increasing in oil flow and gas pressure for the past few days, the R. R. Penn No. 1, Kloh Rumsey, Ector county, 11 miles west of Odessa is now flowing regularly every hour and a half. The longest flow yet made by the well came early this morning, with continuous flow for 42 minutes.

Three 1000-barrel tanks, two of which are full of oil and another of which has three feet of oil, are on the ground. Another 1000-barrel tank is being set up to care for the flow while a 5500-barrel tank is being constructed. This storage will be sufficient to hold the flow until connection with a pipe line can be made.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper
(Copyright 1929, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Oct. 20th:

Sunday

Breakfast—French omelet, made of the whites of eggs and milk; stewed figs, Melba toast.

Lunch — Buttered macaroni, cooked spinach, raw celery.

Dinner—Jellied tomato consomme; broiled chicken, string beans, baked egg plant; cauliflower salad; ice cream.

Monday

Breakfast—Coddled egg, two or three slices of crisp bacon; stewed prunes, Melba toast.

Lunch — Eight-ounce glass of grape juice.

Dinner—Vegetable soup; salisbury steak, spinach, turnips and tops; salad of sliced tomatoes with celery; junket with whipped cream and fruit juice.

Tuesday

Breakfast—Cottage cheese, Melba toast; applesauce.

Lunch—Baked ground beets; combination salad of celery, tomatoes and small green peas on lettuce.

Dinner—Mushroom soup; roast pork, steamed carrots with parsley; salad of cold asparagus (canned); baked apple.

Wednesday

Breakfast — Baked egg, Melba toast; stewed raisins.

Lunch—Oranges as desired.

Dinner — Broiled lamb chops, string beans, cooked celery; McCoy salad; pineapple gelatin.

Thursday

Breakfast—Coddled egg, Melba toast; stewed apricots.

Lunch—*Baked eggplant and tomatoes, celery.

Friday

Breakfast — Toasted breakfast food with cream (no sugar); stewed figs.

Lunch—Raw apples as desired, with glass of milk.

Dinner—Baked white fish, cooked lettuce; salad of sliced tomatoes; Jell-o or Jell-well, no cream.

Saturday

Breakfast—French omelet, Melba toast; stewed prunes.

Lunch—Sandwiches of whole-wheat bread, lettuce and peanut butter.

Dinner—American cheese, cooked cucumbers, asparagus; salad of tomatoes and celery; sliced pineapple.

*Baked eggplant and tomatoes: Peel eggplant, cut into cubes and steam until tender in a tightly covered pan. Into a casserole put a layer of the cooked eggplant, a layer of sliced fresh tomatoes, or the pulp of canned tomatoes, and sprinkle generously with chopped celery and a little salt if desired. Repeat until casserole is filled. Bake tightly covered in a moderate oven 20 minutes. Serve with butter and grated cheese.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Removing Scar

Question—B. H. G. asks: "Will you please tell me what to do about an enlarged place on a child's lip where it has been cut with glass? Has a whitish center. Many thanks. I enjoy and profit by your articles in the paper."

Answer—The scar on your child's lip can be removed through plastic surgery. There is no hurry about having this done as it usually causes some pain, and it might be well to wait until the child is older, when he will not be so frightened by the pain caused from the surgery or electrical treatment, whichever the doctor may use.

Brose

Question—J. J. M. writes: "I am very fond of a dish called "brose" which is prepared by pouring boiling milk or broth over oatmeal or other meal and stirring until it resembles a sort of pudding. It seems to agree with me, but I would like to ask if you would recommend this way of using these cereals."

Answer—I would not recommend this dish for children or old people, or those whose digestion is not strong, for these cereals or meals require much longer cooking to be readily digestible.

Question—H. C. H. writes: "During the night I am awakened by my left arm aching dreadfully, and this ache remains until morning. Could it be caused from poor circulation or lack of exercise, or is it all in our eating?"

Answer—Yes, the aching in your left arm may come from poor circulation, lack of exercise or from over-eating. When such aches come only in the left arm, one must be suspicious of angina pectoris which is a serious functional disorder affecting the heart and its arteries.

Knights of Pythias at Electra Confer Ranks

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 17.—Tolly Wilbourn, vice chancellor, presided over the business meeting of the Knights of Pythias Monday night when the rank of esquire, under the direction of B. M. Eggenburg, was conferred upon two candidates, John Tolleson and Ed Vaught. Seventy members witnessed the initiation.

Neal Sparks announced that his third degree rank team was almost complete and rehearsals were called for this week. The team will be ready to give the third degree at the next meeting of the Knights of Pythias Monday night. This degree team is said to be one of the best in the district.

Boy Preacher to Conduct Revival at Electra

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 17.—Floyd Hawkins of Houston, known over the United States as the "boy preacher," will conduct a revival meeting at the Assembly of God commencing Sunday. The pastor, Rev. E. B. Crump, will assist in the work.

The local congregation is very enthusiastic over the meeting as Reverend Hawkins conducted a meeting here last September that was very successful and created much attention.

Pitchford Declines State Job Offer

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 17. (UP)—Harry Pitchford, Okmulgee attorney, today rejected the offer of Atty. Gen. J. Berry King of a place as assistant attorney general to succeed V. P. Crowe, King said.

Pitchford is a son of Judge J. H. Pitchford, formerly of the state supreme court.

Mont R. Powell, former assistant county attorney of Oklahoma county, recently declined the post. Both declined the place due to business interests.

BUSY CONCERN GETS RESULTS

Mid-Continent Holding Corp. Spuds New Tests

Mid-Continent Holding corporation spudded in Thursday on two new wells in this district. One, the No. 2 Stine, located in the northeast quarter of block 7, Parker county school lands, Clay county, will be carried to the 1750-foot sand, from which the company has already secured some excellent production. The new well is two locations east of its last completion there, and if it is a producer will open up considerable additional area for drilling.

The second well of the company is its No. 6 Wilkerson, located in block 3 of the J. McCool survey, Wichita county. This is a direct offset to the company's producer, brought in a week ago and which is still holding up to its initial production of 100 barrels daily, from 680 feet in depth. Last week's completion there was the first to ever show production at that horizon in that area.

The same company is installing a Pattin Brothers compression plant, with complete automatic control on its 240-acre lease southeast of Petrolia. This plant, representing the most modern equipment for repressuring of oil wells, will be hooked up to 10 wells now on the lease which are producing from the 1750-foot horizon. Repressuring will be carried on through one central key well, with gas production that has already been developed on the lease being used.

Plans of the company are to run a portion of the gas through a casing head plant for natural gasoline recovery, before recycling through the wells.

With more than 20 additional drilling locations to the 1750-foot sand on the lease, results of this initial repressuring unit will be used to determine further installations as development is continued.

TEST GOES DEEPER

The Transcontinental Oil company No. 1 Corbett, in southern Young county, which opened a new pool from the Ranger sand at 4005 to 4011 feet, is being slowly deepened to 4135 feet. It is holding up at from 300 to 400 barrels a day.

LEA COUNTY FIELD

In hopes that it would soften up the oil sand and permit it to blow in an oil well, the Humble Oil and Refining company No. 1 Bowers, in 30-18s-38e, in Lea county, southeastern New Mexico, is being allowed to blow wide open for two days. It is making 50,000,000 feet of gas a day from 3684 to 3687 feet from a sand that cored oil. Pressure on the gas trap is 100 pounds and 700 pounds on the well.

CARSON COUNTY

Skelly Oil company has completed No. 18 Henry Schaefer, in section 68, block 4, of I. & G. N. survey, in Carson county, the Panhandle field, for 550 barrels of oil in a pay at 3077 to 3082 feet, with total depth of 3097 feet. It made 8,000,000 feet of gas from 2740 feet and 10,000,000 feet at 2835 to 2865 feet.

WOODBINE PRODUCER

Despite the fact that it found no Austin chalk, a definite marker in the East Central Texas fields, the Pure Oil company No. 1 Jarman, in Nacogdoches county school land survey, and eight miles east of Grand Saline, in Van Zandt county, is being called a Woodbine sand well. The well found an oil sand 2682 to 2710 feet. Top of this pay was at 2656 to 2680 feet, with a red shale break from 2880 to 2882 feet, and the oil pay from 2682 to 2710 feet. It made 83½ barrels an hour for the first nine hours and 1710 barrels the first full 24 hours, and is now pinched so that additional storage may be erected.

SOUTHEAST WICHITA FALLS

C. E. Litchfield has started drilling and is down 30½ feet on his No. 1 Mrs. Hursch wildcat test located 1050 feet from the north, and 150 feet from the west lines of block 6, Cherokee county school lands a short distance southeast of Wichita Falls. The well which is to be drilled to a depth of 3,000 feet is also located just south of the county poor farm and is of considerable interest to the citizens and the operators in this section.

M'LAUGHLIN BROS. BAILING

McLaughlin Brothers No. 2 Justice located in the W. H. Patton survey, abstract 345, Archer county, is bailing a limey sand at 1067-70 feet.

CONSOLIDATED OIL BAILED

The Consolidated Oil company No. 1 Barton located in the northwest corner of the north 20 acres of the south 40 of lot 4, block 1, W. V. F. L. in south Wichita county, bailed a dry sand from 1780-82 feet and after drilling to 1784 picked up the safety horizon, and will abandon.

SHAPPELL-LYLES

Shappell Oil company No. 13, J. D. Lyles located in block 7, Hooper-Wade sub-division in Archer county is drilling at 1300 feet.

IN THE PASTURE

The Waggoner Refining company No. J-13 located in section 23, block 4, H. & T. C. R. R. survey, Wilbarger county, is spudded in.

HOUSTON VISITOR

A. B. Judd of Houston, representing the Republic Supply company, and secretary of the credit department, left Thursday for headquarters after a few days in the district.

KUNKLE POOL

Roy Reeder and associates No. 1 Kunkle located in B. B. B. & C. R. R. survey, abstract 51, south Archer county, has set and cemented pipe on top of the sand at 1157 feet and will bail in the latter part of the week.

E. J. STUMP AND OTHERS

Stump and associates No. 1 J. H located in section 40, southeast corner of block 26, A. T. N. C. L. survey, Archer county, is abandoned as dry at a total depth of 1700 feet.

NORTHWEST OF MUENSTER

The Faith Oil company No. 1 Aldridge located in the Robert Ekey survey, a short distance northwest of Muenster in Cooke county, drilled out the plug Thursday from the sand at 1569 feet and will bail.

EMPIRE GAS & FUEL

The Empire Gas and Fuel company has spudded in on No. A-18 W. T. Waggoner test located in section 52, block 4, H. & T. C. R. R. survey, Wilbarger county, and will offset to the south the L. G. Bradstreet H-1 Waggoner test.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—There were further declines in cotton today under continued southern selling and liquidation of old long accounts. December contracts sold off to 17.88 or 24 points below yesterday's closing quotations, while December at 17.88 showed a decline of very nearly 2c per pound as compared with the high price touched shortly after the publication of the government's crop report Sept. 9. This break brought in some covering with December and later deliveries showing rallies of 7 to 8 points at the close, while October closed at the lowest price of the day.

Exports today 74,588, making 1,507,397 so far this season. Port receipts today 68,250; U. S. port stocks 1,854,771.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Cotton prices dropped $1 a bale today into new low ground on the present movement under aggressive selling made up of Wall street offerings, hedging and short selling. There was a moderate rally in final trading and December contracts which had sold off to 17.79, rallied and closed at 17.85, or 15 points net lower. The general market closed at net losses of 15 to 18 points.

Although Liverpool cables were relatively steady the local market opened irregular. Initial trades were 3 points down to 1 up. After gaining 1 to 2 points right after the start, the market gradually eased off on Wall street selling induced by the weak opening in the stock market. By the end of the first hour active positions showed losses of 20 points.

Trade buying developed but selling pressure supplied the demand at small recessions.

Under pressure of selling January contracts broke below the 18-cent line to join December.

Fears of large ginnings aided to the weakness which ultimately carried December to 17.83. January 17.93 and March 18.21, or 23 points on all months below the previous close. Shorts covered in fairly trading and last prices showed recoveries of about 8 points with January closing at 17.96 and March 18.25.

Receipts—67,881; for week, 465,689; for year, 3,085,499; last year, 3,017,865. Exports, 74,558; for week, 198,618; for year, 1,473,853; last year, 1,589,477; Stocks, 1,863,168; last year, 1,636,454. Vigorous Rally Marks Close Of Day on Irregular Stock Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (US)—Stocks scored vigorous rallies in the closing moments of an otherwise irregular and quiet market today. Professionals were successful in halting a rally toward noon but met increasing resistance to their selling operations in the last hour so that covering wave was experienced that closed most issues higher. Easing in the call money rate from 7 to 6 per cent assisted the recovery. Steel finished 5 points higher, while American Telephone recovered 7¼, General Electric 5⅞, Westinghouse 7, Consolidated Gas 2½, Western Union 9, Timken 4⅝, Air Reduction 16⅞ and Simmons 5½. Royal Dutch with 1½ point gain featured a firmer Oil group while the Coppers recovered about a point on the average. Rails were in better demand with Erie finishing 2½ higher and New York Central gaining 3½. Turnover held at the 4,000,000 share level.

Montgomery Ward met support around 100 as was indicated by some of the Chicago interests. Its break was due to some liquidation and short selling that strengthens view that stocks will sell at a closer ratio to earnings and return as a result of the change in policy of those who control money and credit. Even at 100 Montgomery Ward is selling more than twenty times earnings of something over $4 a share estimated for this year. One can go through the list and find many others still are selling at an equally high basis despite the correction experienced in the market thus far. With the correction proceeding despite the continued easing in money there is no reason to change belief that the "new era speculators" for the first time are witnessing a bear market in stocks in a cheap money period. Until there is definite improvement in bond and investment markets no change in this situation is to be expected.

Simmons was boosted in quarters close to the Chicago group that comprise the most important interests in Montgomery Ward. Earnings estimates indicate that net this year will be close to $7 a share. Those who talk most bullish on the stock confine their statements to the very long pull outlook. On the basis of actual earnings to selling price Steel Common is one of the most attractive of the better grade securities. There is no means of telling how the forthcoming quarterly report will be made but if the finance committee desires the corporation can show net for the three months ended Sept. 30 or close to $7 a share, or at the annual rate of $28 a share.

Oils and Rails are the story told by the few remaining bulls but with the balance of the market apparently facing further correction one or two groups are not likely to enjoy more than limited advance. Of all the Oils the most favorable report of the moment concern Royal Dutch. Preparations are underway for group work in the stock and when the operation is started there will be further reports of probability of stock dividend distribution. Corn Products has been well taken as the last quarter is reported to have been the best in history with net at the rate of $8 a share for the year. Eastman Kodak continues to evidence the best kind of absorption due to knowledge of huge increase in earnings. Columbia Gas selling, it is reported, has been taken by the most powerful banking group.

Increase in brokers' loans of $88,000,000 will come as an unpleasant surprise to many. The increase is due to new financing and not to stock market. Consolidated Gas new stock, and part of the Texas company debenture offering, it is believed, was paid for during the week. The most important feature of the reserve statement was the decrease in brokers' loans made "for the account of others" of $66,000,000 and the gain in time loans of $56,000,000. These changes are the direct result of the new Mellon policy of supervision of money and credit affairs. By keeping money rates low "the bootleg loans" most accountable for stock speculation are reduced as the funds seek more profitable employment. Increase in time loans is the first gain of importance in many months and reflects growing expectation that money conditions will remain easy.

CITY GIVEN NEW TRACTION POWERS IN PROPOSED FRANCHISE

CHARTER HAS 'MODERN' LINES

Gross Tax and Regulation Of Rates Provided

A tentative draft of the new franchise for the Wichita Falls Traction company, as prepared by City Attorney Thelbert Martin, was placed in the hands of City Manager George D. Fairtrace Thursday following action of the city council last Monday night in pointing out that a six-months period, within which the traction company was to accept a new franchise on modern lines, was drawing to a close.

Time for Consideration

The tentative franchise is subject to alteration by Mr. Fairtrace before being presented to the company and the traction company will be given at least two months in which to consider its provisions before announcing acceptance of the whole or rejection of parts, Mr. Fairtrace said. In the event the company refuses to accept a franchise in agreement with the city council, the present seven-cent rate for street cars and 10-cent rate for buses will be reduced by the city to six cents and eight cents, according to an agreement several months ago when the traction company stated that it would accept a franchise within six months if the city would authorize a raise in rates.

The outstanding feature of the franchise is that it gives the city almost full control over the traction company for the protection of the interests of the public and the assurance of adequate and proper service. Mr. Fairtrace pointed out that the company at present has no more than a permit for operation and right of way from the city and that the new document will be virtually the first franchise. In addition, the old permit is obsolete, having been based on conditions existing in 1909, he said.

According to the provisions of the tentative franchise, the city shall have control of the traction company by designating the city manager as supervisor of public utilities, to direct the maintenance, operation and construction of the street car system and to have full access to the books of the company. The supervisor will be sent a monthly financial report which will determine any action he may see fit to take in relation to the financial status of the company.

Rate Control

Among the specific provisions of the document, the city shall determine the following: The earnings of the company in relation to the fare rate; the schedule, stops, intervals, number of cars and buses and rules and regulations; extensions, maintenance, repairs and additions, and the rate schedule and changes in the rates.

The company will be required to set tracks flush with the street and to alter the tracks to conform with street improvements. The city shall be permitted to lay all types of public utility lines across, under or along any way occupied by the company and the company shall allow any interurban railway desiring to enter the city the right to use the tracks, subject to terms and conditions set by the city council. The company shall be required to keep a repair, maintenance and depreciation reserve which shall equal 10 per cent of the gross receipts each month or 20 per cent of the total gross receipts of the year.

The rate schedule contained in the franchise ranges from five to nine cents for street cars and from seven to 11 cents for buses, with the provision that the rates shall be raised or reduced in accordance with a schedule of returns also set forth. This schedule states that for a five-cent street car fare the returns to the company should equal 10 per cent of the property value of the company. As the rate progresses, the per cent of return decreases correspondingly. The present rate of seven cents should provide a return equal to eight per cent of the property value and the rate is subject to alteration according to the per cent of return, with the provision that the rates shall not be changed oftener than once each 12 months.

If the franchise is accepted, the company will grant to the city and the city will reserve the right to purchase or designate a purchaser of all properties of the company at the end of five years from the date on which the franchise takes effect, if the city so desires. This provision would not abridge the city's right to acquire such property by condemnation proceedings.

Tax Provided

The company shall, according to the document, pay to the city one per cent per annum for the grant of the franchise. Certain of the provisions of the franchise are designated as not subject to arbitration, but those over which disagreement is possible and that are subject to arbitration shall be submitted, in case of disagreement, to a board of three disinterested persons who will confer with both parties and render a decision, which shall stand as final.

One of the provisions stated that children five years of age or under shall be carried free, 12 years or under for half-fare and students not over 17 for half-fare by buying tickets to be provided by the company. The franchise provided for a continuance of the present rates until the returns warrant an increase or decrease.

Besides being firmly entrenched against elimination by the talkies in New York and other metropolitan centers, spoken drama shows ample evidence of promising permanence through the medium of the Little Theater movement. The rapid increase of these local institutions in Texas is representative of similar development all over the country, but has not yet gained the momentum acquired in other states.

During the past week opening of the 1929-30 season, with well organized programs, has been announced in numerous cities of this part of Texas. At Denison the Little Theater has purchased ground for a building and is being incorporated with fully paid up capital stock. Organization and election of directors was reported from Electra, Abilene, Lubbock, Slaton, and Marshall. Production of good plays through the development of home talent is being increasingly recognized as a commendable medium of entertainment as well as a valuable aid to the growth of civic interests.

◇ ◇ ◇

Officers and directors of the Wichita Falls Little Theater are now engaged in overcoming that organization's greatest handicap of past years, which was the lack of suitable quarters in which to work. Plans launched this week are expected within the next few days to provide a playhouse in which Little Theater plays may be prepared and presented without having to utilize only such spare times as are not taken by numerous organizations of different character. Consummation of this play should contribute heavily to its future success.

◇ ◇ ◇

The willingness of theater goers to substitute vaudeville for the current "talkie" entertainment, at least part time, can not be questioned, in view of the attendance accorded the opening of Interstate bills last Sunday and Monday. There has been no shortage of complaints, however, during the past few days, anent the caliber of talent with which the season opened. Merely the presence of performers in person, rather than on the screen, apparently will not be enough, despite the admitted preference for stage vaudeville to that of the screen.

Which might raise a number of questions. Hollywood's innumerable studios may really have made great inroads on the supply of talent which in former years was available to the country's large vaudeville circuits. At the same time, the amazing increase in the demand for entertainment which this country has witnessed during the past dozen years may have put the vaudeville boys severely to it to make surfeited customers feel they've had their money's worth.

The ice cream soda isn't such a rare delicacy as it was once upon a time.

Advance excerpts of "Drag", in which Richard Barthelmess will build national fame as a song-writer on the foundation laid in his "Weary River" composition, indicate a highly entertaining production from a musical standpoint. Criticisms of the piece following its showing elsewhere are more than complimentary. The plot calls for Mr. Barthelmess to write a complete operetta, which is given in toto as part of the story. Lots of voices and settings were utilized in building up the operetta. It's coming soon.

Masonic Groups To Give Program At Vernon Friday

Masonic organizations of Wichita Falls will conduct a good will excursion to Vernon Friday night, when the Scottish Rite choir will be presented at the Vernon high school auditorium at 8 o'clock in concert, assisted by Ralph B. Van Courtwright, violinist; R. E. Shepherd, tenor, and Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, baritone.

Officials in charge of the trip emphasized the fact that all citizens of the city are invited to join the caravan which will leave for Vernon about 6 o'clock Friday evening.

Members of the Arabic patrol, Maskat temple drum corps and band, will stage an open-air concert and drill in the downtown district of Vernon at 7 o'clock, which will be followed by a short concert by the band, directed by Leon Taylor, in the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

The Scottish Rite choir, composed of 34 voices, will present a program of nine numbers, including Rubinstein's "Seraphic Ode," with Miss Kathryn Sullivan, contralto, winner in the recent district Atwater-Kent radio singing contest, as soloist. Solo numbers by Mr. Van Courtwright, Mr. Shepherd and Doctor Kimbrough will be given between choral groups.

Following the concert, all members of the Wichita Falls delegation will be guests at a dance to be held at the Vernon Country club between 9:30 and 11:30 o'clock.

MIRTH MARKS MURDER TRIAL

Lawyers Laugh and Bicker During Session

humorous replies of witnesses or the sidebar remarks of attorneys caused a ripple of merriment in the crowd which packed the room with more than 100 persons standing up, unable to find seats.

Strickland Calm

Paul Strickland maintained a calm front during more than two hours of continuous questioning by defense and state attorneys. In spite of the severe grilling given by the prosecution he refused to be tripped up and maintained that his lifelong friend was fatally shot during a struggle which followed his refusal to marry a girl in Bowie whom Williams said was in trouble.

The defendant took the stand when court reconvened after the noon recess. He was pale but steady and answered all questions in a slow but clear voice. He appeared amused at the frequent quarrels between attorneys during his cross-examination. Strickland had been freshly shaved and was neatly dressed as he limped up into the box.

Long Time Friends

The accused man first told the jury he was 44 years of age and had been crippled since an accident in his boyhood. He related details of his life history, asserting that he and Williams had been close friends for 24 years.

Williams spent Saturday and Sunday nights at the Strickland farm, according to his testimony, and he loaned the deceased $5 with which to return to Bowie after buying him his breakfast and a phonograph record on Monday morning, March 18.

After telling his old friend goodbye after breakfast in town Strickland returned home, thinking Williams had left town. Shortly after noon he said Williams came out to his house in a service car. The driver, Williams and Strickland then all took a couple of drinks out of Williams' bottle, the witness said.

Williams Intoxicated

After the service car driver had left for town, Williams and Strickland tended to some farm chores during the afternoon. The defendant said that Williams appeared to be pretty well intoxicated.

Later in the afternoon Williams said he wanted to return to Bowie and Strickland agreed to take him back in the car after feeding the chickens and hogs, Strickland testified. He said that Williams went into one bin to get the chicken feed while he went to another place to secure corn for the hogs.

When Williams reappeared he was hatless and crying, the defendant stated, and started cursing Strickland, saying, "Damn you, Paul, I believe you know how my father was killed."

Strickland then explained to the jury that Williams' father had been fatally injured when he fell out of a livery stable loft many years ago. Strickland had passed by the livery stable shortly after the accident.

Strickland said he denied that he knew anything about the fatal accident and that Williams then said, "Are you going to marry the girl?" This question referred to a girl in Bowie who Williams said was in trouble and whom he had asked Strickland to marry, the defendant claimed.

When the accused man refused to accede to Williams' matrimonial request, Williams cursed him bitterly and struck him twice in the face, according to the witness.

Strickland said he started running for the house and that Williams caught him in the kitchen and pulled a pistol. It was during a struggle over the weapon that it was discharged and Williams fell to the floor, the defendant maintained.

The witness had previously testified that he had loaned the pistol to Williams two days before at his friend's request, who said he was expecting trouble with a man in town.

After Williams fell to the floor the defendant told the jury he took a big drink of whisky and lay on the bed for three hours. Later he went back to the kitchen to awake Williams, whom he thought was asleep, and found that he was dead. He said he thought Williams had become exhausted and dropped to the floor asleep just as the shot was fired.

Strickland said he drove his car up to the kitchen door and dragged out Williams' body, planning to take it to the undertaker, but that he was unable to lift the heavy body into the car.

He stated that he got the body up on the running board but that it fell off. He then started for his brother's house but was unable to remember much that happened during the next hour. He claimed he got off the road somehow but the next thing he remembers clearly is driving in his pasture and noticing that the car was driving like it had a flat tire.

When Strickland got out to look for the flat he found the body of Williams dragging behind with one foot caught in the bumper he told the jury. He released the foot and drove back to town where he got Rube Reynolds who went back out to the farm with him and saw the body.

Sheriff Notified

Reynolds brought the defendant back to town and notified the sheriff.

Mrs. J. H. Strickland, mother of the defendant, Henry Shipley and Irby Brown all testified to Paul Strickland having "spells" when he frothed at the mouth and quivered and shook.

Judge Stine will present his charge to the jury at 9 o'clock Thursday morning and arguments will follow immediately afterwards. The case should reach the jury before 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Rotarians Discuss Changing Form Of Old Car Sales and Church Sermons

Disappearance of old merchandising methods from modern business, of the devil from present-day sermonizing, and of used cars from the country's highways was discussed before the weekly meeting of the Rotary club Wednesday noon at the Kemp hotel in response to speaking assignments made from the floor of Dr. Q. B. Lee, who had charge of the program.

Changes in mercantile business during the past 10 years described by Jack Barnard, and John W. Thomas, manager of the Retail Merchants' association, told of the effect of installment buying on credit. Charles Taylor, evangelist now engaged in revival meetings at the First Baptist church, accounted for the comparative absence of the devil in discourses by today's preachers. Second-hand automobiles occupied the attention of the club as G. D. Fox discussed the problem which they impose upon automotive dealers. Wiley Robertson explained the evolution of banking methods in recent years.

Speaking of the community chest, C. C. McDonald declared it the greatest secular institution in the city, and said that it materially relieves the want and suffering which society inflicts upon many of its members. The per capital quota named in Wichita Falls is the smallest among 350 cities of its class in the country, he said.

Announcement of raido observation of the Light Golden jubilee by an international hook-up next Monday night in celebration of Thomas A. Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp was made by Luther Hoffman.

Members of the club were entertained by Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. F. R. Collard.

If Baby has COLIC

A cry in the night may be the first warning that Baby has colic. No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy! This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never do the slightest harm. Always keep a bottle in the house. It is the safe and sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it suitable for the tiniest infant, and for frequent use.

And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than some needlessly strong medicine meant only for adult use. Genuine Castoria always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Prescribed by doctors!
