ENDEAVOUR-RAINBOW RACE POSTPONED

ABOARD U. S. C. G. CUTTER ARGO, Off Newport, Sept. 19 (AP)—The third race for the America's cup between the British challenger, Endeavour, victor in the first two, and the defending American sloop, Rainbow, today, was postponed until tomorrow for lack of a breeze.

THREE ARE BURNED TO DEATH

GRAFTON, Ill., Sept. 19 (AP)—Three persons were burned to death when the farm home of Harry Lagate, three miles west of here, was destroyed by fire today. The dead: Grace Lagate, 21; Frieda Lagate, 11, and Orville Crull, 2, grandson of Harry Lagate. Two other persons were injured, and six escaped without injury.

POLLARD DEFENSE BEGINS

AUSTIN, Sept. 19 (AP)—Defense testimony started today in the trial of Claude Pollard, former attorney general, accused of consenting to a conspiracy for distribution of counterfeit cigaret tax stamps.

A long line of witnesses was sent to the stand in rapid order to develop the defense contention that Pollard in acting as attorney for the wholesale tobacco jobbers of Texas had believed he had been retained for wholly legitimate purposes.

Economy Mills Here Destroyed By Blaze

EARLY MORNING FIRE CAUSES FROM $50,000 TO $60,000 LOSS

Fire practically destroyed the main plant of Economy Mills at Fifteenth street and Avenue B early today. Firemen fought the flames for several hours, beginning at 1:35, and at 11 a. m. were still pouring water on the smoking feed stacks and storage bins at the mills.

The fire was attributed tentatively by D. A. Forbess, City fire marshal, to spontaneous combustion.

Only Partly Insured

Total loss was estimated by Claude Tatum, president of the mills, at $50,000 to $60,000, of which $20,000 was covered by insurance.

An unidentified man who evidently had sighted the blaze from a farm home called the fire department, the alarm being sounded about 1:35 o'clock. Four pieces of fire-fighting apparatus answered, although one was not serviceable against a fire of such proportions. After several hours of battling, pointed largely at preventing spread of the flames to outlying buildings, a detail of firemen remained to cut short any new breakout.

The plant was ablaze from end to end when firemen arrived, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said.

Three Silos Saved

Streams of water were directed in the mill at three silos, all three of which were filled with grain, and they were saved, Fire Marshal Forbess said. Spread of the fire to two outlying buildings owned by the plant, a hay-barn and another structure, also was prevented, he said.

Included in the loss was approximately $10,000 in feed stocks, Mr. Tatum said. It included ground and mixed feeds and bulk feeds used by the mill. A car and a half of prairie hay was burned.

Office records of the company were damaged but most of them were salvaged this morning.

Mr. Tatum said this morning he planned to continue the business of the mills on a temporary basis on the site for several days and probably would make an announcement regarding rebuilding of the plant shortly.

The company has been established in Lubbock since 1925. The mills manufactured dairy and chicken feeds and had a patronage over a large section of West Texas and eastern New Mexico.

LION RUNS WILD; SLAIN BY GUARDS

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 19. (AP)—Circus guards today shot to death a raging lion after the beast had broken open his cage in a circus parade, pulled down a wagon horse and scattered crowds in terror.

Leaping across the radiator of an automobile, the lion loped up the street and turned on a second horse, sinking his teeth into the animal's head.

Then Patrolman John Robert Paul, advancing almost under the hoofs of the agonized horse, shot five times. Angry and hurt the big jungle beast bounded down the street, finally taking refuge in a sheet metal works. Employes fled and the doors to the building closed.

A circus guard with a rifle opened one of the doors and fired four times at the beast whose roars could be heard in the street. Then, accompanied by policemen, the guard entered and one of the officers finished the wounded animal with a pistol bullet.

BANKHEAD ACT IS PRAISED

ANOTHER RESOLUTION SUBSTITUTED FOR ONE DENOUNCING LAW

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 19—Proposed condemnation by the Texas house of representatives of the Bankhead cotton production control law threatened to boomerang today. A resolution lauding the law and its general effects on cotton producers was before the house committee on agriculture as a substitute for one proposed by Representative T. H. McGregor of Austin in which the plan was bitterly denounced as unconstitutional and un-American and assailed as threatening peonage to cotton farmers unless invalidated immediately.

Benefit Recounted

Representative Bob Alexander of Childress offered the substitute. It recounted benefits purportedly derived by cotton farmers from higher prices resulting from the law and urged that it be continued in effect as long as necessary. The substitute, however, recognized inequalities in operation of the Bankhead plan and suggested the Agricultural Adjustment administration

Roosevelt Will Go Back To Hyde Park

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 19. (AP)—Yachtsman Franklin D. Roosevelt got out his presidential clothes today to return to the summer White House at Hyde Park, N. Y., after having led a sport bent armada of spectator craft at the two most exciting international sloop races he had ever seen.

The president planned to witness at least a part of today's contest before starting the return trip of 275 miles down the coast and up the Hudson to Poughkeepsie. He will land there tomorrow morning and go immediately to Hyde Park to keep some business appointments.

McCauley Freed Of Automobile Theft

A 99th district court jury this morning acquitted C. H. McCauley of automobile theft. It had retired last night without reporting a verdict to Judge Clark M. Mullican.

Juries meted out four penitentiary terms and suspended three of them Tuesday.

The only verdict returned in the afternoon was a five-year suspended sentence each in the case of M. O. Sanders and Ollie Sawyer, tired jointly for automobile theft.

The McCauley trial was conducted Tuesday.

FINAL PASSAGE OF OIL BILLS HELD NEAR

MOVEMENT TO REMOVE AUTHORITY FROM THE RAIL BODY GROWS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 19—Bills to broaden powers of the Texas Railroad commission in its campaign to close outlets for illegally produced crude oil advanced toward final passage today with favorable recommendations from committees in both houses.

Meanwhile, reports of the likelihood of another special session to strip the commission of its oil conservation authority gained momentum.

Protests Ignored

Protests of independent refiners that the bill would effect a discrimajor companies were brushed aside majo rcompanies were brushed aside as the senate civil jurisprudence committee voted to recommend passage of the bill. Last night the house committee on oil, gas and mining gave its bill favorable report.

The bill would prohibit the movement of oil products refined from illegally produced crude and empower the commission to promulgate orders necessary for enforcement.

Debate on the bill may start tomorrow.

Objections of ocmmitteemen to hasty procedure on the proposal were brushed aside as the committee speeded action to get it back to the floor of the house with a minimum of delay. Six members wanted to defer decision until tonight or refer the bill to a sub-committee. Eight members voted to report it immediately.

Commissioners Approve

Two members of the railroad commission, C. V. Terrell and E. O. Thompson, advocated passage of the bill, made necessary when a Travis county district court ruled the commission did not have statutory authority to compel refineries to obtain commission approval before shipping refined products.

Independent refiners protested the bill would not be a panacea for the commission's ills in East Texas and predicted the commission would return at the next session of

Morro Castle Crew Threatened, Claim

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Federal authorities investigated today a charge that members of the crew of the ill-fated Morro Castle had been threatened with the blacklist if they tell the truth about the disaster.

The charge was given to United States Attorney Martin Conboy by William L. Standard, counsel for the Marine Workers International union, who promised to produce sailors to testify to the threats. Conboy, who has been conducting the grand jury investigation of the burning of the liner, said the charges would be given to his aides for investigation.

MAN AND WIFE GET REVENGE ON ELECTRIC CO.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 19. (AP)—A mother of six who sat with her legs dangling in a pole hole for 37 hours, yielded her seat to her husband early today, and he carried on the blockade to prevent erection of a pole by the electric company.

Mrs. Elsie Barnable and her husband say it's their revenge for the time the Public Service Electric and Gas company turned off the light when their little girl was sick.

Now, they note, it costs the company several dollars an hour to keep men here waiting for the vigil to weaken.

One complaint against the Barnabies came from a neighbor, Denny di Reizo, who said the life of his brother, Joseph, 23, a paralytic invalid, is being endangered.

Denny claims Joseph cannot eat except when his muscles are relaxed and that since the excitement began he is starving slowly. Denny threatens an injunction against the Barnabies.

But the young looking Mrs. Barnable nonchalantly sat with her legs dangling in the hole all Monday night, all day yesterday, and through last night until her husband relieved her. She was warmed by a fire built by sympathetic neighbors and nourished by soup and food cooked by her 14-year-old daughter, Dina.

DEMOCRATS POLL BIG VOTE IN WISCONSIN PRIMARY ELECTION

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 19—Texas legislature conferees today planned to start work toward adjusting differences between the two houses on a bill to issue additional state relief bonds.

Slowness marked prograss of the bill, the first introduced in the house, as only six working days remained in the current special session. Upon formal appointment of senate conferees, the committee will organize and begin discussions. Sponsors of the bill in the house planned to question members of the state board of control, to whom the bill would transfer the task of relief administration, to obtain suggestions.

Differ On Amount

The chief point of difference was the amount of bonds, as the house voted for $6,000,000 and the senate for $5,000,000. House and senate versions differed in numerous details.

Pending before the house was a favorably reported bill to amend oil production tax statutes to make subsequent purchasers equally liable with original producers for the state tax, and to make the tax collectible when the oil is brought above the ground.

BURKETT ASKS COURT ORDER BE VACATED

PERMISSION TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS FROM NOMINEE ASKED

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 19—A motion asking Judge W. W. McCrory to vacate his order and permit the taking of exparte depositions from James V. Allred, winner of the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, and R. G. Waters of Austin, campaign manager for Allred, came today as a counter-move of the plaintiffs in the legal skirmishing of a suit to bar Allred from the general election in November because of alleged excessive campaign expenditures.

The motion was filed by Joe Burkett, attorney for the three San Antonians who filed the suit against Allred, his campaign manager, Democratic party officials, and the secretary of state.

Hearing Set Thursday

Judge McCrory set a hearing on the motion for 9:30 a. m. Thursday.

This time is thirty minutes before a hearing scheduled in the fourth court of civil appeals on Allred's appeal from a temporary order granted by Judge McCrory forbidding Democratic convention officials from certifying him to the secretary of state as the party nominee.

Snyder Men Escape From Motley Jail

Two brothers, Bud and Curly Shipley, of Snyder, escaped from Motley county jail at Matador about 8 o'clock last night, Sheriff Skinner of Motley county informed Sheriff Tom Abel early today.

Sheriff Abel said he was not informed of the kind of cases in which the Shipleys were held. Sheriff Skinner's telephonic information indicated the escape had been without violence.

Bud Shipley was described as tall, slender, and blond; Curly as short, heavy-set, and blond, his hair curly. Both wore light colored shirts and blue ducking and were bareheaded.

LEAGUE ASSAILS CHACO CONFLICT

GENEVA, Sept. 19 (AP)—With Russia occupying her permanent seat in the League of Nations council for the first time, France and Great Britain today denounced the bloody war between Paraguay and Bolivia as a debacle which must stop.

Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, told the council that the time has come for action in the Chaco dispute and "this conflict threatens to affect the prestige of the league."

Captain Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, said the war had lasted too long and the league must act.

Salvador de Madariaga of Spain urged the warring nations to declare an armistice.

Mutiny Is Reported On Greek Freighter

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 19 (AP)—The grim message "mutiny" from a ship's master sent an armed marine patrol out to sea today to meet the Greek freighter Aliki.

A wireless message last night gave no details. The Aliki, of 3,199 tons, has a crew of 27. She is bound for Buenos Aires from Rosario, Argentina.

Officers abord the patrol boat reported after a five-hour search in the vicinity of Buenos Aires they had been unable to locate the freighter. Authorities ordered a tug made ready to attempt to find and tow the Aliki into port.

Progress Slow On Relief Bill

CONFEREES SEEK TO ADJUST DIFFERENCES OF TWO HOUSES ON MEASURE TO ISSUE BONDS

(By The Associated Press)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 19.—The Democratic state ticket, strongly in support of President Roosevelt and the "new deal", apparently polled the biggest vote in the Wisconsin primary election Tuesday, leaving the new LaFollette Progressive party and the Republicans behind at the rate of about 18 votes to a precinct.

This was indicated by returns from more than half of the state's 2916 precincts.

Schmedeman Has Lead

Governor Albert G. Schmedeman had a heavy plurality over two opponents for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination with more than half of the state reported.

On the other state tickets, Philip F. LaFollette, Pregressive candidate for governor, and Howard T. Green, Republican candidate, had substantial majorities over their opponents but fell short of meeting the Democratic voting strength.

The Progressives and Republicans, who until this year fought their primary battles in the same party column, were running about even in their share of the balloting.

Small Vote Indicated

The voters themselves furnished the big surprise of the election by failing to respond to the general plea for a large turn-out. Available returns indicated that not many more than 500,000 votes were cast, compared with 900,000 in the primary of two years ago and 1,200,000 in the general election.

In the Democratic senatorial race two of five candidates were running a close race for the nomination to oppose Senator Robert M. LaFollette, jr., Progressive candidate, and John B. Chapple, Republican nominee. Neither LaFollette nor Chapple had opposition.

In the Democratic vote for governor 1760 precincts gave: Schmedeman 85,011; William B. Rubin, 20,648; Richard Lehmann, 4,203.

In the Progressive gubernatorial race 1628 precincts showed: Philip LaFollette 76,976; Henry O. Meisel, 3,736.

NAVY OFFICER "SOLD ARMS"

MUNITION MAKER SAYS COMMISSION PAID JAMES H. STRONG

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Testimony that Federal Laboratories, Inc., of Pittsburgh, paid commissions to Lieutenant-Commander James H. Strong for Colombian government orders he procured for the company while he was still an officer in the United States navy was introduced into the senate munitions committee.

Strong did not resign from the United States navy until February 19, 1934.

John W. Young, president of Federal Laboratories, testified he paid Strong commissions on sales for technical work three times during 1932 and 1933.

Graft Is Claimed

Strong now is in charge of aviation in Colombia.

The testimony followed fresh talk of graft in munitions dealings in South America and the issuance by the committee of a statement asking citizens of South America to understand that the aim of the committee was to promote peace by disclosing the dealings of the private munitions industry. It said the committee was not dealing with morals of nations.

MAN FREED OF BEER CHARGE

TECHNICALITY CAUSES ACQUITTAL OF SLATON CAFE OPERATOR

A. Brasfield, a Slaton cafe operator, was found not guilty of liquor law violation, in a 3.2 beer case, by a 99th district court jury in an instructed verdict before Judge Clark M. Mullican this morning.

The decision revealed that a chemical analysis will be necessary to prosecution in virtually all 3.2 beer cases.

Freed On Technicality

Brasfield, one of five men scheduled to be tried in 3.2 beer cases in this term of 99th court, won acquittal on a technicality.

Motion for an instructed verdict of acquittal was made by the district attorney after it was shown that the indictment's allegations were based upon an article not applicable to 3.2 beer cases.

The state had alleged in its indictment against him that Brasfield had possessed, for sale, liquor "capable of producing intoxication," while its proof, in a 3.2 beer case, depended upon use of another Dean act article, in which phraseology

Woman Wounded At San Antonio Dies

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 19 (AP)—Josephine Hill, 29, wounded Tuesday night while at her residence, died early today in the county hospital.

Alejandro Riojas told police the woman was wounded by the accidental discharge of a pistol he held. The bullet penetrated a door and struck the woman in the left side, according to Riojas.

TROOPS GUARD MAINE PLANT AFTER RIOT

PICKETS MEET POLICE IN HAND-TO-HAND FIGHT AT MILLS

(By The Associated Press)

WATERVILLE, Me., Sept. 19 — National guardsmen were ordered to duty here today after the wildest riot in the textile strike in Maine to date occurred outside the Lockwood Manufacturing company mill.

Company G, 103rd Maine infantry, under command of Captain William Mansfield, was turned out after local and state highway police fought a hand-to-hand battle with pickets at the mill gates. Six men were arrested and police sought others allegedly implicated in the rioting.

Mill Operation Curtailed

The Lockwood mill, a cotton manufacturing concern, employs 600 operatives, nearly 200 of whom have been on strike. The demonstration was staged in an endeavor to bring other workers into the mill by the picketers.

The mill operated on a greatly curtailed basis.

At about the same time that the Waterville strikers were rioting, police in Lewiston, another Maine textile center, took five men and two women pickets from Biddeford into custody as they and other pickets from that city tried to induce employes of the Lewiston Bleachery and Dye works to join the strike.

Police Meet Pickets

The Waterville rioting broke out after an hour of peaceful picketing. The movement of two women pickets, carrying union banners, toward the mill gates was the signal for trouble. With the united cry of "let's go," the pickets swept toward the mill and were met by the police.

Storming the mill fence, some pickets hurled stones at the cloth hall where women employes worked. Others, meanwhile, stoned the weave room and on all sides disorder prevailed. Police fought the strikers with clubs and tear gas guns.

Windows Shattered

More than 100 windows were shattered and two police cars were deluged by successive barrages of stones and other missiles. No one was known to have been seriously injured. Strikers attempted without success to wrench the arrested men from the clutches of the officers.

More than an hour after the riot started and while police held the situation in control, George Jarbar, head of the Maine textile council, appeared and led the strikers from the plant.

The strike's death toll mounted.

Fournet Is In Race For Louisiana Post

LAKE CHARLES, La., Sept. 19 (AP)—Circulars were distributed here today announcing the candidacy of Lieut. Gov. John B. Fournet, a cog in Huey P. Long's political machine, for justice of the state supreme court from the third district.

The handbill, distributed in the same fashion employed by Huey P. Long, bore the name of Fournet and contained a challenge to Judge Thomas F. Porter of Lake Charles, unopposed candidate in the disputed primary held Sept. 11, to "meet him (Fournet) before the people and to let the people settle the issue."

Gettle Kidnaper's Escape Plot Fails

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Sept. 19 (AP)—James Kirk, 38, serving a life sentence in San Quentin prison for the kidnaping of William Gettle, was reported by prison officials today to have been caught in an escape plot.

Kirk, known as the "brains" of the gang which kidnaped Gettle, and another convict, Edward E. Holley, 29, were discovered sawing their way from a cell, from which they apparently intended to make a dash for San Francisco bay.

"ARSON QUEEN" CONFESSES STARTING FIRE IN WHICH CHICAGO YOUTH DIES

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 19—Mrs. Bertha Warshovsky, Chicago's 56-year-old "arson queen," so called because of her alleged connection with incendiary fires, has confessed, authorities say, that she started a blaze that cost the life of an eleven-year-old boy.

Joseph Pecori, who lived with his parents in a third floor apartment above a butcher shop, was the victim of the fire which occurred in 1928.

As a result of the reported confession, Thomas Falone, operator of the butcher shop at the time, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging murder. Assistant State's Attorney Marshall Kearney, Gordon Nash, and John Boyle, said they planned to seek murder indictments against Falone and Mrs. Warshovsky today.

Mrs. Warshovsky, who is a grandmother, told the prosecutors, they said, that Falone paid her $174 to start the blaze. They added that Falone collected $11,200 in insurance since which time he has expanded his business. They said he now operates five stores.

The woman's confession resulted from an investigation of arson rings recently begun by the state's attorney's office.

OPINION OF CITY ATTORNEY IN DUTY AND POWER OF POLICE TO BE SOUGHT

A written opinion of the duty and authority of all city and county law enforcement agencies and prosecutors in enforcement of laws against liquor has been asked of E. L. Klett, City attorney, by H. L. (Bud) Johnston, chief of police the latter said today.

The requested digest would "cover every phase of the prohibition law," detailing what police and other peace officers "can and can not do" in enforcement of liquor laws, the police chief said.

To Aid Other Officers

Charges involving liquor laws can not be tried in corporation court, "the city has no funds for enforcing laws that other courts have jurisdiction over," but City commission has instructed his department to assist county, federal, and other agencies in enforcement of "prohibition and all other laws," Police Chief Johnston said. Cost on each liquor case, including expense of arranging a "sale" and an analysis for alcoholic content amounts to about $75, he added.

The 16 salaried policemen on the force may be pressed into service to aid other agencies whenever requested, he added.

E. Burdetts Observe Their Golden Wedding Anniversary On Tuesday

Sons And Families Attend Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. E. Burdett, 1503 Twenty-third street, observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary Tuesday. Their six sons and families attended a luncheon served at noon and several friends called in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdett were married on September 18, 1884, in Pottsboro, Grayson county.

Sons and their families and other relatives attending were: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burdett and sons, Roy, Troy and G. W., jr., and daughter, Dorothy; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burdett and son, R. O., and daughter, Lois; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Burdett and son, J. V., jr., all of O'Donnell; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burdett and daughter, Doris May; Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Burdett and son, Carroll; Mr. and Mrs. James Burdett and daughters, Marjorie and Lucille, and son, James, jr., Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Dunn and daughter, Leola Fay; Miss Veda Shumake of O'Donnell and Miss Virginia Beckam.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bettes, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Davis and Mrs. John I. Green and daughters, Ethel and Mary, called during the afternoon.

One of their gifts was a wreath of flowers from the K. P. lodge of which Mr. Burdett is a member.

Programs Given By Study Clubs

Three study clubs met for programs Tuesday afternoon.

H. C. Pender, professor at Texas Technological college, introduced the theme of "Water" at a meeting of the Athenaeum club at Hotel Lubbock. Mrs. W. A. Jackson talked on the subject "Water in the Shaping of History" and Mrs. W. L. Baugh led a round table discussion.

Others present were Mesdames F. V. Brown, P. W. Cawthon, T. C. Delaney, J. O. Haymes, S. B. Haynes, J. F. Hankins, W. H. Johnston, A. E. Jones, F. A. Kleinschmidt, B. E. Needles, K. M. Renner, E. L. Robertson, Addie Spikes, J. B. Waltrip and S. C. Wilson.

In Meier Home

Mrs. Ed O'Sullivan discussed interior decorating at a meeting of the 1933 Study club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. L. Meier, 2019 Thirty-fourth street. Mrs. W. S. McDonald reviewed "Giants in the Earth" by Rolvag.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds sang several vocal solos with Mrs. David S. Martin accompanying at the piano. A piano duet, "Morning" (Grieg), was played by Mesdames Martin and C. G. Stinson. There were 17 members and one visitor present.

Three Make Talks

At a meeting of the Lubbock circle, Child Conservation league, Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Huddleston Wright, 1601 Thirteenth street, three talks were given.

Mrs. Paul Laverty discussed the subject, "Friendly Fields With Studies of Trees, Birds and Animal Life." Mrs. Ethridge Eagan talked on "Bird Masons and their Homes" and Mrs. Roy Furr talked on the bluebird and his haunts.

Refreshments were served during a social hour.

Those present were Mesdames Burton S. Burks, C. E. Moreman, J. B. Morrisset, Eagan, Furr, W. G. Alderson, Laverty and L. L. Kelso.

The group will meet October 2, at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Furr, 2413 Twentieth street.

"Big Three" Dominate Hat Fashions

(Hats from Lilly Dache, New York)

BY MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Tricornes, berets and brimmed models are the important news in fall hat fashions. Variations of them, however, are even more important.

You're likely to see tricornes on five out of every ten well-groomed women. Yet not a single hat will look like another one in the room.

That goes for berets, too. Some are big and flat—others small and roundish, but all are flattering. As for brims, clever designers have worked wonders with them. There are brims that swoop down on one side, brims that roll up in front, are cut off at the back.

Other Types of Hats

If, when you've tried on all the captivating variations of the Big Three, you decide they don't do much for you, there are still a good many types from which to pick and choose. Pointed-crowned Tyroleans, particularly good for the very young, still are in style. Get one that's trimmed with a pert little feather. Or look at molded caps of velvet and felt, cuff toques and the turbans in all sizes and styles.

Crowns seem to be a trifle higher. Trimmings, such as novel clips, pins, flower and feather fancies, are smart enough to arrest the attention of the most inveterate hat shopper. Paris couturiers put clusters of birds' wings and occasionally an entire bird on some of their wide-brimmed velvet creations, veils on the narrow-brimmed afternoon and dinner hats, and rather large ribbon bows on the front of some of the berets.

Pancake Beret

For instance, the exotic pancake beret illustrated at top is of black felt trimmed with a velvet bow. It's a stunning creation that can be worn with dark silk September street dresses and, later on, with your fur coat.

At the lower left a suave little tricorne, wearable with anything, is shown. It has extremely wide points and is trimmed with a grosgrain bow. The other hat (lower right), appropriately named "Scarlet Empress," is fashioned from soft, wine-colored felt. It clearly illustrates what's being done with this fall's brims.

Engineering Firm Again Defies NRA

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 19. (AP)—The Houde Engineering corporation yesterday defied the federal government for the second time.

It notified Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, it would not surrender its code blue eagle, after being ordered to stop using all blue eagle insignia because it refused some time ago to abide by the national labor board ruling to recognize the American Federation of Labor union in its plant as the sole agent of its employes.

The Houde "majority rule" case has come to be recognized as a test of the entire question of union representation in employer-employe bargaining. It is expected to be carried to the courts.

SHORTHORN FAIR PREMIUMS HIKED

Premium list offered in the milking shorthorn division at Panhandle-South Plains fair this year will be $360 as compared with $100 offered in this division at the 1933 exposition.

Last year was the first time the fair offered premiums on this breed although milking shorthorns have been exhibited at the fair for a number of years.

Best Utility Breed

Advocates of the milking shorthorn breed claim that it is by far the best utility breed for the farmers of this section in that the cows furnish sufficient milk for family use, and that all the animals, and especially the bull calves, bring much more when sold for beef than do other breeds.

The fair is seeking to get the breed before the farmers of this section.

Milking shorthorns will be shown in the dairy cattle department where W. T. McGee of Levelland and L. A. Howard of Lubbock are superintendents.

Dionne Quintuplets Are Out Of Danger

CALLANDER, Ont., Sept. 19. (AP)—Dr. A. R. Dafoe was almost ready today to declare his famed patients, the Dionne quintuplets, safely past their attack of intestinal toxemia.

Four of the babies recorded gains in weight, only Annette losing, and the fact that their temperatures were normal again strengthened hopes that they were out of danger.

Highway Surfacing Will Be Completed

Surfacing of highway 24 between Ralls and Lorenzo, which will give Lubbock pavement connections with two county seats to the east, Crosbyton and Dickens, is scheduled for this week, Guy R. Johnston, resident engineer, said. A rain Friday prevented the work being finished last week.

Total distance between the north end of the Hale county paving and the east end of the paving, Spur, is 135 miles, the longest continuous paving on the South Plains.

Open To Traffic

Seal coat of asphalt has been started on highway No. 7 northwest of Lubbock and is to be opened to traffic immediately.

The coat is being put on by maintenance department employes of the Lubbock division. The caliche paving is the first of its type to be built on the South Plains and has been in service about two years.

Stanphill Leads In Checker Tournament

V. C. Stanphill, with a perfect percentage, is at present setting the pace in a Lubbock county checker tournament.

Checker board tacticians of this county are urged to enter the tournament tonight when contestants play second round games.

Considerable interest has been aroused over the tournament, first of its kind staged here in several years. J. C. Williamson, a veteran checker player, reports that 10 players already have played official games. Plenty of time will be allowed late entries to catch up with early starters. Tonight's meeting is to be held at 708 13th street. Players are requested to bring checker boards.

The standings to date:

Player	W.	L.	D.	Pct.
V. C. Stanphill	8	0	0	1.000
Wayne Ashley	6	1	1	.810
D. O. Light	6	1	1	.810

EUGENIE HAT BACK

PARIS (AP)—"Empress Eugenie" is the name of one fall hat, awakening memories of three years ago when virtually every woman wore at least one plume dangling over her shoulder. This one has a plume, too, in a deep forest green cascading over the crown and off the brim of a small green velvet hat whose brim curls up on the sides.

Scotch Plaids Are With Us Now

A charming school frock (left) of Scotch plaid woolen has stitched linen collar and cuffs that are removable and washable. It's topped by a pert little felt hat, trimmed with a feather to match the red stripes in the dress. The other classroom outfit (right) consists of a plaid skirt, buttoned on a white pique blouse with Peter Pan collar, a navy blue, double-breasted coat with brass buttons, and a blue flannel hat, faced with plaid to match the skirt.

County Clubs Show Extensive Exhibit

Exhibits displayed by home demonstration women and 4-H girls' clubs in the Panhandle-South Plains fair will be as extensive, if not more so, than last year's display, Miss Hazel Bratley, home demonstration agent, was at the Woman's building this morning with the exhibit committe to receive entries.

Judging was to begin this afternoon at 2 o'clock, since deadline for entries was at 1 p. m. Judges are Mie Myrtle Murray, Lola Blair and Maurine Hearn, all of the extension service of A. and M. college.

Patrons Will Greet Superintendent

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Oberholtzer will be introduced to patrons of the Lubbock Public schools at a reception to be given this evening in the gymnasium of Senior High school building. The City Parent-Teacher council is sponsoring the affair. Receiving hours will be between 8 and 10 o'clock. Guests are requested to enter by the northwest door that opens on Eighteenth street.

LAST BOOSTER TRIP MADE

FOURTEEN TOWNS ARE VISITED BY LUBBOCK FAIR CARAVAN

Traveling 226 miles and making 14 stops members of a third and final caravan advertising Panhandle-South Plains fair were warmly received in the communities visited. Bo Sexton led the party.

A group of singers, headed by W. W. Rix, sang special selections about the fair.

The Lubbock High school band under the direction of H. A. Anderson played at every stop.

Singers In Group

The troupe of singers included: Mrs. Lottie Boles Hilton, Mrs. Kate James Lee, G. E. Damewood, Dr. Vernon Marshall. Overton Ribble and Mr. Rix. They were accompanied by three band members: Ralph Coon, Billy Baskin, and Lee Edwin Hale. This group visited Olton, joining the regular party at Plainview, traveling a total of 266 miles during the day.

At Abernathy the party was welcomed by J. P. Nystel and other citizens. At Hale Center, Superintendent J. E. Miller announced schools would dismiss for school day at the fair Sept. 26. At Plainview, Grady Shipp, chamber of commerce secretary and twenty-five business men joined the party escorting the caravan around town.

At Lockney and Floydada concerts were played both in town and at the school.

At Matador, where the party had lunch, school children and citizens met the party in town and gave a rousing welcome.

Stops were made at Roaring Springs and Dickens.

The largest crowd met on the trip was at Spur where school children joined citizens down town with Judge Hamilton making the welcome address.

Welcomed To Ralls

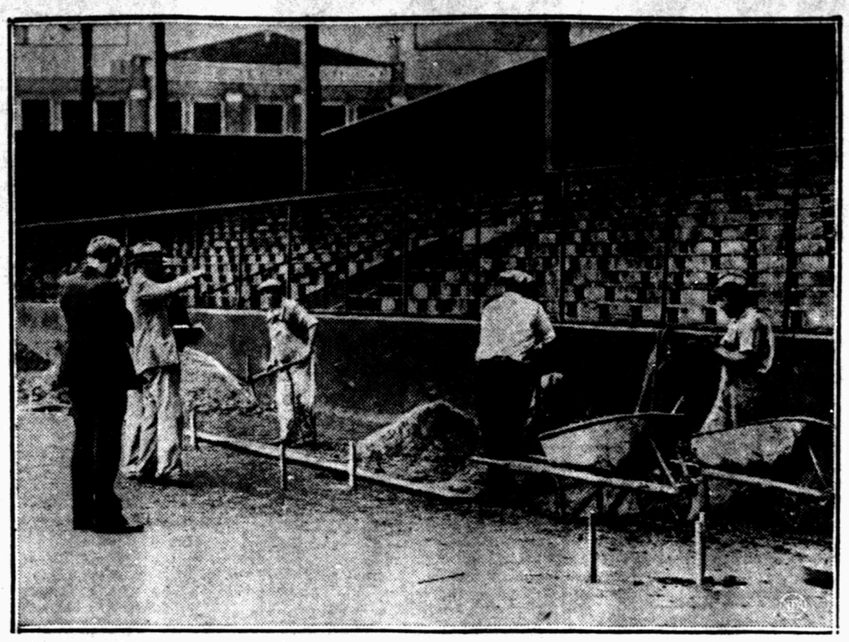

After a large crowd at Crosbyton, the party journeyed to Ralls where Edd McLaughlin welcome the fair boosters announcing that the new pavement from Ralls to Lorenzo had been rushed to completion yesterday in order that the party might have the first chance to use it. A road celebration is planned for Sept. 27 at Ralls in connection with the completion of the link in the road.

W. A. Fincher, Lorenzo Chamber of Commerce secretary, and a party met the boosters at Ralls and escorted them to Lorenzo.

Idalou, last stop, found a big crowd of eager children and parents on hand to hear of plans for the fair.

Jimmy Kennedy and John Toles made talks in each town visited, telling of fair plans and extending invitations.

Yessir! The Tigers Think They're In

Although the Detroit Tigers' officials have been reluctant to fill early demands for world series tickets, thinking it would bring a lot of bad luck to Mickey Cochrane's boys, they've gone ahead and enlarged Navin Field in anticipation of overflow crowds at the classic. The above photo shows workmen making alterations which are expected to increase capacity of the Tigers' home field by several thousands.

GROUP TO ATTEND TRI-STATE FAIR

Lubbock and Plainview will join tomorrow in sending a goodwill caravan to the Tri-State fair at Amarillo.

Both the Lubbock and the Plainview high school bands will make the trip.

The party will leave Lubbock at 7 a. m. arriving at Amarillo about 11 a. m.

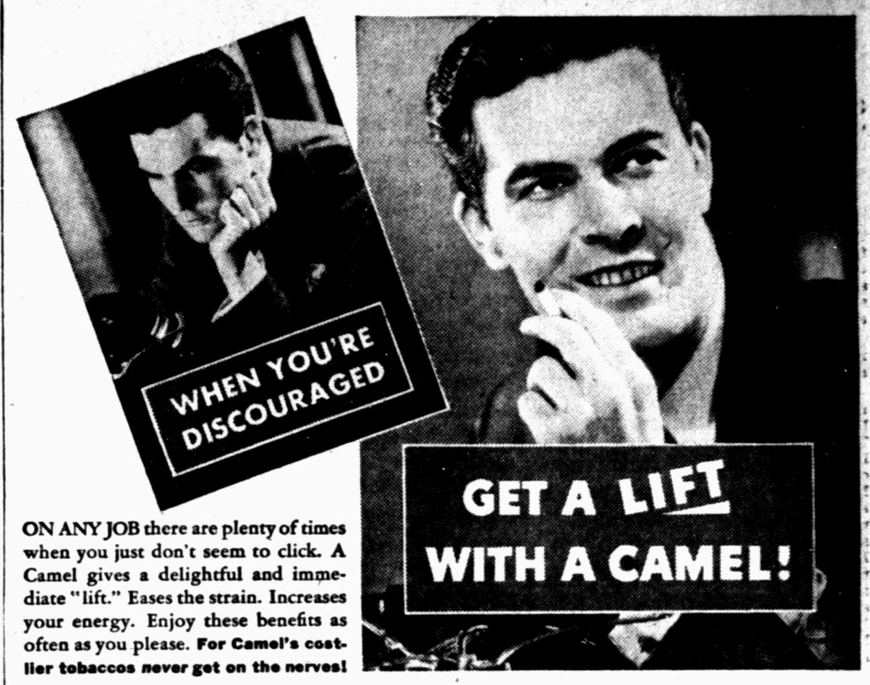

Stops will be made at Plainview, Tulia, Happy and Canyon to issue invitations to the Panhandle-South Plains fair here next week.

The Lubbock High school band under direction of H. A. Anderson will broadcast over an Amarillo broadcasting station before visiting the fair where it will play at the races.

Anyone who can go to the fair is urged to telephone the chamber of commerce office, 2083, today.

A caravan from Amarillo will return the visit during the fair here next week.

MECHANICAL COTTON HARVESTER GIVES EMPLOYMENT BUT MAKES WORK EASY

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 19 (AP)—A mechanical cotton harvester which gives employment to cotton pickers but eliminates the back-breaking drudgery of dragging sacks through a field, has been invented, patented and successfully demonstrated on Cooke county farms by A. E. Koon, Gainesville insurance man.

Koon's harvester, made entirely of aluminum, may be attached to any standard-make tractor. As many as seven pickers in addition to the driver may be employed in the operation of the machine.

Suction Does Work

The cotton pickers sit on seats attached to the machine, six inches from the ground, with comfortable foot rests and a canopy over their heads if the day is hot. If the cotton is to be picked, the pickers merely touch the flexible aluminum tubing held in their hands to the boll, and suction from the blower operated by the tractor engine, draws the staple from the boll, into the blower where it is separated from the burrs, and thence to a trailer attached to the rear of the vehicle. If the bolls are to be pulled, they are jerked by hand and dropped into funnels attached to the tubing.

In tests made in Cooke county, the pickers averaged 500 to 700 pounds of cotton each during a 10-hour day. Koon points out as advantages of his machine, the fact that a number of laborers are employed in the task; that the drudgery of hand picking is eliminated, and that the machine does not damage the plant as in the case of some mechanical cotton harvesters.

It is not necessary, the inventor points out, to wait until the entire crop has matured to pick over a field, for the machine may be run over the crop later in the season again, since the plants are not damaged. Cotton that has droped off the plants may be picked up by the machine due to the manpower used in gathering the crop.

Let Chevrolet tell its own story of riding and driving comfort

Make the ownership test

WHEN all is said and done, the best way to get at the truth behind the fine things you hear and read about the new Chevrolet, is to get in the car and drive. Take this car (your Chevrolet dealer will gladly loan you one), drive it over the same routes, in the same way you drive your present automobile, and let the results you can see and feel tell their own story. You have heard that Knee-Action makes bad roads good, and good roads better. A ride will prove it. You have heard that Chevrolet provides shock-proof steering, Synchro-Mesh gear-shifting, a remarkably flexible 80-horsepower engine, and cable-controlled brakes.

CHEVROLET

One ride is worth a thousand words

A few minutes at the wheel will show you what a difference these advancements make in safety and driving ease. And when the ride is over, and you step out refreshed and ready for more, you will know why so many thousands have found it impossible to return to ordinary driving after an experience like this. That is the Ownership Test—simple, easy, enjoyable, and the most practical way to choose a car. Your Chevrolet dealer has a car waiting so that you can make this test. How about today?

Matadors Drill For Texas Game

TECH COACHES STRESS OFFENSIVE IN LAST BIG WORKOUT

The thud of heavy blocking and tackling sounded at Texas Tech field yesterday as Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith sent their charges through an offensive drill.

Forsaking a general scrimmage in favor of individualistic endeavor, the Matadors emerged sore in muscle but enthusiastic in mind from the last big workout prior to their game with University of Texas Longhorns here Saturday night.

Fans who have reserved grand-

The only defensive drill of the day had to do with knocking down forward passes and going down under kick-offs and punts. Speed was encouraged in these drills, and the blocking was good. There is nothing half-hearted about the manner in which Tech gridders do their blocking assignments.

Kicking Improves

Spot punting came in for a share of Tuesday's time, and in this department big Bear Curfman, Jim Neill and Charley Duval showed marked improvement.

While backs limbered up passing arms and kicking feet — and it promises to be a wide open game Saturday night from Tech's standpoint—Line Coach Smith continued to drill the linemen in a wide assortment of blocking styles.

No changes in the previously announced starting lineup were in prospects, the coaches maintaining that the "shock troops" would start against the Longhorns.

How To Stop 'Em

In connection with the tapering off process which begins today, the Matadors probably will consider ways and means of stopping such well known Longhorn backs as Bohn Hilliard and Red Sheridan and the Steer running attack which promises a very busy evening for the Bullfighters.

Meanwhile, at the down town ticket office, Graduate Business Manager Hugh Williams is so busy dealing out ducats that he has no time to eat during the day. With nearly 600 season tickets sold before pasteboards for the Tech-Texas game went on sale, it promises to be a near sell-out before Saturday evening.

A few hundred choice seats remained after yesterday's heavy sale, but they are going fast. Grandstand tickets probably will be at a premium after tomorrow. Sections A and E, the end sections of the west grandstand, will go on sale today. General admission tickets entitling holders to scramble for good seats in the east stands, will not be sold until Saturday at the Tech field box office. They will be priced at $1.10 per each.

Fans who have reserved grandstand seats for the Texas Technological—University of Texas football game here Saturday night but who have not called for tickets are urged to do so immediately. Unless tickets held in reserve are claimed before Thursday evening, they will go back on sale. Hugh Williams, graduate business manager, stated last night.

HARVEY MOVES INTO FINALS

UPSETS MARK COUNTRY CLUB TOURNAMENT; EDMISSON OUT

Bob Harvey entered the championship finals of the annual Lubbock Country club tournament yesterday by defeating Ted Tipps and Boys Bryant.

Although semi-finals are not scheduled until Friday or Saturday Harvey got "hot" and moved through two rounds yesterday. His victory over Bryant was considered an upset. He beat Bryant 3 and 2, after defeating Tipps 1 up in the quarter-finals.

John Edmisson, defending champion, was taken out in a first round match by Cliff Dean, 1 up in 19 holes, in what constituted another upset, leaving Jo Dick Slaughter to carry the banner of the "old guard" through the other bracket. Slaughter defeated Paul Campbell, 3 and 2, coming from behind with four straight birdies for victory.

Slaughter Meets Stiles

In the second round, Slaughter meets Hooper Stiles, who defeated Cotton McAfee, 1933 runner-up, in another upset 2 and 1, and Dean meets Buster Fluke, who won over Parker Prouty by default.

First round results in the first flight:

L. C. Harston defeated Ed Hambright, 4 and 3; L. H. McLarty won over Waldo Trotter, 4 and 3; W. D. Girard stopped J. O. Smith, 1 up; W. F. Helwig beat Otis Felty, 4 and 3; J. T. Krueger downed J. A. Dowdle 7 and 6; F. L. McRee won over T. H. Buckingham, by default; M. B. Hilburn defeated Jake Hassell, 1 up, and Dr. R. L. McAllister won over Jay Harston, 3 and 2.

In the second flight, M. M. Brown defeated Sam Lightfoot, 2 up; A. C. Jackson won over E. R. Howell, 2 up; M. E. Heard beat Jack Parsons, 7 and 6; Harold Bailey won from Homer Grant by default; W. A. Jackson beat R. S. Underwood 3 and 1, and J. W. Jackson won by default. Other matches were not reported.

NASHVILLE WINS OFF NEW ORLEANS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 19 (AP)—"It was just a bad ball game," said Manager Larry Gilbert of the New Orleans Pelicans after yesterday's 17 to 11 mauling at the hands of the Nashville Vols, "but I remain confident that we will take the series."

Still, the 7,864 fans who saw the most weird and hair-tearing seventh inning in Southern association history yesterday thought it was a whale of a good ball game.

Hal Stafford for Nashville and Galehouse for New Orleans were expected to be today's pitching selections, although Galehouse doubtlessly will be wearing a worried expression and rabbit's foot to ward off the Vol voodooism that made a 13-run seventh inning possible in the first game.

The game will start at 2 p. m., with the promise of a clear sky. "It was just a bad ball game," Manager Gilbert repeated. "It was a good, tight game until the seventh. Then all the pitchers blew up. Anything could happen—and did. It wasn't good baseball."

But since Lance Richbourg used five pitchers, including Stafford, to stop the Pel 11-run attack, the Pels had a slight advantage in that department today, and if there should be another slaughter, the odds were that the Pels would be on the topside.

The Vol victory, however, was sweet to the home-folks, and not the least of the incidental events was Grantham's sixth inning home run off Milnar's delivery. Grantham, it appears, had been struck out five times straight by Milnar, and his homer gave the Vols a 3-2 lead, since Dueker was on base at the time.

FIGHT THRONE IS VACANT

CONTENDERS SELECTED FOR LIGHT-HEAVY CHAMPIONSHIP

TORONTO, Sept. 19. (AP)—The light heavyweight throne will have to go a-begging for an occupant awhile as far as the National Boxing association is concerned.

The association, which deprived Maxey Rosenbloom of title recognition on Monday because of his "clowning tactics and his ridiculing of opponents in the ring," announced yesterday it would not recognize as champion the winner of a forthcoming match at Asheville, N. C., between Joe Knight of Cairo, Ga., and Tony Shucco of Boston.

Instead the association listed Shucco and Knight as outstanding contenders along with Al Gainer of New Haven, Conn., Ambrose Palmer of Australia, Len Harvey of England, Lou Brouillard of Worcester, Mass., and John Henry Lewis of Seattle. When one of these fights his way to the top the association will recognize him as champion.

WINS TEXAS TITLE

HOUSTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—A sharp left hook to the body here last night won the Texas light heavyweight championship for Clyde Chastain, 170, Oklahoma City. Chastain, who at 24, has had seven years experience in the ring, gave Bob Davey, 175, Houston, a very artistic trimming, winning seven rounds, while the other three were even.

LUBBOCK HIGH WESTERNERS IN TRIM

FIRST TEAM AVERAGES 165 POUNDS; MEETS STEERS ON FRIDAY

The Westerners yesterday mixed in their final inter-squad battle of the week. According to the official weight chart, the first team's average weight is 165 pounds from end to end and from wingback to wingback.

At least that was the average when the boys trotted from the club house yesterday.

When the sun lay low and the Westerners shuffled in from about the sternest scrimmage of the youngish season that average was materially lower.

Pounds Come Off

For in last afternoon's heat the pounds dropped at Fair Park field as the gridmen worked in preparation for their season premiere with the Big Spring Steers at Big Spring Friday. The regulars pounded at and recoiled from the stubborn, fighting second-stringers, and finally wrested a short margin victory.

The second-stringers scored first when minnow-hipped Vergil Griner lobbed a pass into the hands of Cotton Robinson standing in the end zones.

For a while thereafter the regulars worked hard but got little for their pains. They advanced in midfield, but the opposition, directed by Assistant Coach Burl Huffman, baffled them in all attempts to penetrate far in second-string territory.

Regulars Score

Then Charles Calhoun passed to Starkey Whitehorn for 40 yards. White put the ball on the 5-yard line but the ball was lost on the next attempt. The second team, with Griner sunfishing about and Guard Hendrix, Endman Jones and Pivotman Halsell leading the way, blazed its way grimly to midfield before losing the ball.

Circling right end White went 60 yards for touchdown. The regulars scored next on steady drives. Woodrow Aycock converted both times.

After this the players were changed about between the teams and the scrimmage lost the feel of a competitive game.

The Westerner line, with the heavyweights, Captain Blackie Young and Robert Dowell present, will approximate 170 pounds in weight. The left side of the line has thus far shown itself to be the stronger. Alert, hard-hitting Dixie White, Ocie Griggs, a practice lot loafer but a fire horse in regular battle, and Country Phillips, rangy, lunging guard, make a near perfect trio. The starboard portion of the forward will, however, has its points.

Aycock, grim, workmanlike guard, is fully as good a forward as there is in the line, is useful in more ways than gathering points. Dowell, squarely-built 196-pounder, because of injuries last season has never, in a regular game, had a chance to demonstrate his full ability. Stud Halsell and Joe Jackson will get the second call at tackles. At the other starting wing point is Starkey Whitehorn, veteran who is being pushed hard by long Glenn Jones, best pass receiver on the squad.

ARMY POLO TEAM FAVORED TO WIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—The United States army polo team, best mallet swingers in the nation's service branch, ruled slight favorites to defeat a chosen four from the Mexican army in a three-game international series starting today.

Although figured to have a slight edge the United States team entered the series with an inexperienced high-goal player at the No. 2 position. Lieut. E. A. Walker, a dashing offensive player, was named to the team in a surprise move. His comrades are Captain Chester E. Davis at No. 1, Lieut. George Read at No. 3 and Major C. C. Smith at No. 4.

The Mexicans, whose handicap goal rating is slightly less than that of the Americans, have Guam Gracia at No. 1, Antonio Nava at No. 2, Quintim Reyes at No. 3, and Antonio Perez at No. 4.

ENDEAVOUR NEEDS BUT 2 VICTORIES

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 19. (AP)—T. O. M. Sopwith, British challenger, had two turns of his main sheet around the America's cup, most cherished of all yachting trophies, as he prepared to take his big blue sloop Endeavour over the starting line again today with the defender Harold S. Vanderbilt's Rainbow.

Endeavour has two straight victories to her credit and two more would mean Sopwith would take the old mug back to England, where it was captured 83 years ago by the schooner America in a race around the Isle of Wight.

The contest today was a fifteen-mile beat to windward and return, or the reverse, depending upon the direction of the breeze.

League Playoff To Start Today

GALVESTON BUCS AND SAN ANTONIO MISSIONS READY FOR OPENING GAME OF FLAG FINALS

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 19. (AP)—The Galveston Buccaneers and the San Antonio Missions were tugging at the leash, in readiness for the opening game tonight of the Texas league pennant finals.

San Antonians were preparing to stand up, if need be, to witness the firing of the first ball in the final series, for the park seats less than 8,000 persons and 80 per cent of the seats were not reserved.

Manager Billy Webb of the Buccaneers was inclined to nominate young Harry Gumbert for mound service, although there was a possibility he might start the veteran Jimmy Walkup. His team has rested for two days and was eager for the fray.

Skipper Hank Severeid of the Missions was non-committal as to his starting pitcher, but the choice appeared to lie between Caldwell and George Mills or even the southpaw Howard Mills. Abe Miller also was ready to go but it was believed Severeid would save him to use for the opening game in Galveston. Larry Bettencourt was limping on a heel injured in Beaumont but was expected to play.

After two games here, the clubs will move to Galveston.

THIS FELLOW, Gene La Belle, is supposed to be pretty good, too.

La Belle, which is French for "the beautiful lady," if we haven't forgotten our mathematics, comes down to Texas out of the Canadian hills. Originally from the land of champagne, La Belle has been doing a lot of wrestling among the caulk-fighters of the northern woods recently, so he probably knows about the drop kick, etc. He probably belies his name.

But the folks will go to the Auditorium tonight to see Otis Clingman, the amiable lad from Amarillo who aspires to wear the world's champion middleweights belt before he grows into a light heavy. He will have too hurry, because he's getting no smaller fast. And the hasn't been sylphlike for several seasons.

La Belle is one of those newcomers the fans have been howling for, and Clingman is one who is always welcome. So it ought to be a good combination.

Jack Van Bebber, undoubtedly one of the finest amateur rasslers ever to wear soft shoes but unable to provide a sensational professional show, runs into a veteran pro tonight in Ernie Arthur, a big fellow with a burly nose and heavy hands. Van Bebber almost gave up the professional ghost after his last brawl with Danny McShain. Figuring that the middleweight world might be a little better off with fewer contenders, Arthur may take additional steps to curb the ambitions of Van Bebber tonight. He looks like he might get pretty tough.

Back to Clingman for a moment, he being one of our favorite persons, it comes to us from an authorative source that the burly Amarilloan may lay off a few weeks and add enough weight to qualify for the light heavyweight division, or retire altogether if he doesn't get a crack at Kallio's title pretty soon.

For three years Clingman has been dogging the fleeting steps of Kallio in hopes of cornering the Finn for a title match. Now the bigwigs of the order have commanded Kallio to stand still long enough for Clingman to climb through the ropes. Kallio waxed highly indignant upon receiving the command to meet Clingman or abdicate the throne. He does not feel obligated to fight Clingman, and bases his contention on the fact that Clingman lost to Vic Webber in the Southwestern tournament. A lot of things can happen in a tournament, when one is wrestling from one to three times a week.

REMEMBER WHEN the Sweetwater High school Mustangs came to Lubbock and rode the Westerners into the mire of a 24 to 7 defeat? If so, you remember that the lead horse of the Mustang attack was a lad by the name of Ney Sheridan. Mostly he went by the name of Red Sheridan, because he was a fleet-footed sorrel-top. All that was in the good season of 1932.

You didn't hear much of Sheridan last year. But Red Sheridan is coming to Lubbock again. He'll be in here Friday morning, and Saturday night he will start at the left halfback position for the University of Texas against the Texas Tech Matadors.

Sheridan knows the turf of Tech field. He should. He galloped all over it a coupla seasons back. He's probably got his path outlined already. Coach Jack Chevigny liked him immensely in spring practice, and he still likes him. Next to Bohn Hilliard, he likes Sheridan best of all the Longhorn ball carriers. He's an extremely dangerous boy when he gets loose, and he has a knack of getting loose, too.

Against Tech Saturday night Mr. Sheridan, a big sophomore now, may be more dangerous than Hilliard himself. The Tech boys are going to be after Mr. Hilliard. They'll probably bottle him up soundly, because Hilliard is considered about the best thing there is in the way of a weaving, wobbling, fleet leather lugger. So the Matadors will have eyes and blocks and tackles for Hilliard. They would do well to have an eye and a leg out for Sheridan. We look for him to be the man to be stopped.

BEAR MENTOR AT WORK WHILE OTHERS WORRY OVER NEW BALL, RULE CHANGES

BY RUSS NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 19 (AP)—While his coaching colleagues are debating the merits of the new football or arguing the whys and wherefores of the various rules changes, burly Bill Ingram is building his 1934 University of California team on the premise: "Ball games are won by crossing the other fellow's goal line."

The big fellow, who won his playing spurs as a quarterback star at the U. S. Naval academy, views "all this hue and cry" over the new ball and the rules changes as "just a lot of ballyhoo."

Sees No Harm

"I'm opposed to continual tampering with the rules but in these changes I can't see where any harm has been done," says Ingram.

"So far as I know, none of my boys has been able to distinguish between the new ball and the old one. If you put the two of them alongside each other I doubt if they could pick them out."

"The object of the game remains the same," he said. "You can't win if you don't down the ball behind the other fellow's goal line. Any changes will affect my team neither more nor less than the other team."

Although he will have a third team composed of speedy players which he intends to send into games occasionally as a unit to "run the legs off the opposition," Coach Ingram does not think scores will be larger this year than before.

Has Good Material

Beginning his fourth season at California, Ingram has what is considered the best material since he took over the reins. The Bear line, composed of veterans, is expected to equal if not exceed, any on the pacific coast. It is heavy and powerful.

One discordant note has cropped up in the backfield harmony. After two days practice, Floyd Blower, star quarterback, took a place on the sidelines during observation for a possible recurrence of a kidney injury that halted his career part of last season.

Three complete elevens will make up the 1934 Bears varsity crew. Ingram's men start off on even terms with Stanford and Southern California as co-favorites to win the coast conference title.

The schedule:

Sept. 29—Nevada and California Aggies at Berkeley.
Oct. 6—St. Mary's at Berkeley.
Oct. 13—College of Pacific at Berkeley.
Oct. 20—University of California at Los Angeles at Berkeley.
Oct. 27—Washington at Seattle.
Nov. 3—Santa Clara at Berkeley.
Nov. 10—Southern California at Los Angeles.
Nov. 17—Idaho at Berkeley.
Nov. 24—Stanford at Berkeley.

CLINGMAN AND LA BELLE ON MAT CARD

JACK VAN BEBBER TO MEET ERNIE ARTHUR IN SEMI-FINAL

Otis Clingman, tenor-voiced tinear, tangles with Eugene La Belle of Canada in the top brawl of Sled Allen's wrestling program tonight at the Auditorium.

La Belle like most grapplers from Canada is a former lumberjack. Also like Rod Fenton he claims the middleweight championship of the dominion. Fenton, it seems, thought it wise to vacate the land of his birth when La Belle, a Frenchman, returned a few months ago from a tour of France.

Fenton Returns Home

La Belle came to this league hot on the trail of mouthy Rod, but is also seems that Fenton had heard the call of the north and returned home.

So the worthy La Belle (that name is appropriate) should be worked up to a proper grappling fury tonight for his fray with "Squeeky."

One of the most popular guys ever to set foot inside the Auditorium ring, Clingman returns after a successful invasion of the Southern states. While in West Texas this time, Otis hopes to meet Gus Kallio for the world's middleweight championship. Kallio, who defended his title in Amarillo a few weeks ago against Vic Webber, has been ordered by the head of the national wrestling association to meet Clingman within the next few days or give up his title.

Prices Are Normal

There is no extra price for this show, expected to be something unusual itself. Promoter Allen has announced a return to early prices, which mean ringside seats at 65 cents a throw, general admission for men, 40 cents, general admission for ladies and children, 10 cents.

With Clingman and La Belle on tonight's card is a supporting cast including Jack Van Bebber, popular Lubbock grappler, and Ernie Arthur, another Canadian. Arthur appeared here last week, but he wasn't feeling well, or something. Yesterday he seemed to be in good shape and high spirits, and he's after Van Bebber. They mix it in the 30 minute semi-final.

MURRELL DECLINES FOOTBALL OFFERS

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Second Lieut. J. H. Murrell, Fort Sam Houston officer and former West Point All-American football star, who expects to be retired by Sept. 30 for physical disability, has refused two offers to play professional football and several college coaching positions.

The former gridiron flash stated he has refused offers from the Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers. The latter, a professional football team, is owned by Christian (Red) Cagle, former West Point football hero and running mate of Lieut. Murrell at the United States Military academy.

Army orders issued from Washington yesterday included leave of absence for 13 days, effective Tuesday, for Lieut. Murrell. The leave is not to expire later than Sept. 30. This was assumed to mean that the retirement orders for the infantry officer would immediately follow his leave of absence.

Tigers Continue Toward Pennant

BLANK YANKEES AGAIN TO BOOST LEAD TO 7 AND HALF GAMES

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers were credited today with another outstanding baseball feat as they continued their career toward the American league pennant. They not only had beaten the challenging Yankees twice but they had shut them out two days in succession as they built their lead up to 7 1-2 games.

That stunt had not been done in over five years, not since the Browns inflicted three whitewashings in a row on the Yanks back in 1929. Following Al Crowder's 3-0 triumph Monday, young Lynwood Rowe came through yesterday to limit the New Yorkers to six hits and win 2 to 0. The Tigers need only two more decisions over the Yanks or four more victories regardless of the outcome of all New York's games, to clinch the flag.

Giants Fail To Gain

In the National league the Giants found the going a bit tougher and failed to gain although the second-place Cardinals were kept idle by rain at Boston. The Giants split a doubleheader with the last-place Reds, winning the second game 4 to 2 with the aid of Mel Ott's 35th homer and a couple of walks of Allyn Stout that forced in runs. Cincinnati took the ten-inning opener 2-0 when Chick Hafey broke up a mound duel between Benny Frey and Fred Fitzsimmons with a home run.

The third-place Cubs also broke even, beating the Phillies 7 to 3 with a 12-hit attack in the opener but losing the second clash 8 to 1.

Newsom Allows One Hit

The pitching feats the league leaders saw faded out considerably when compared to Buck Newsom's stunt of pitching a one-hit game for the Browns and losing it 2 to 1 to the Red Sox. The hit, a single by Roy Johnson, followed a pair of walks in the tenth inning and brought in the winning run. Two more passes, an error and a fielder's choice accounted for the earlier Boston tally.

The combined efforts of the Athletics and the Indians sent Philadelphia into sixth place in the American league standing and Washington down to seventh. Behind Bill Dietrich's six-hit elbowing, the A's pounded out a 6-0 triumph over the White Sox while Cleveland downed the Senators twice, 5-4 and 9-6.

The Brooklyn Dodgers trounced the Pirates 9 to 4.

NEW DEAL FOR MISSISSIPPI

DEMOCRATS DEAL NEW SENATOR AND THREE NEW CONGRESSMEN

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 19 (AP) — Mississippi Democrats shuffled the new deal deck and dealt themselves a new United States senator and three new congressmen, it appeared today.

With nomination tantamount to election, former Governor Theodore Gilmore Bilbo had a lead of more than 4,000 votes over Senator Hubert D. Stevens in yesterday's primary. Stephens ran on a "stand by Roosevelt and the new deal" platform.

The vote in 1447 of 1641 precincts gave Bilbo, 95,557 and Stephens 91,131.

Incumbents Defeated

The two incumbent congressmen who apparently lost their seats were Jeff Busby and Russell Ellzey. Busby trailed Attorney A. L. Ford of Adkerman by 1,049 votes with returns nearly complete. The vote: Busby, 10,432; Ford, 11,481. Ellzey was 2,000 short of State Senator Dan R. McGehee, who polled 21,112 votes.

District Attorney Aubert C. Dunn emerged victor over Thomas L. Bailey, speaker of the state house of representatives in the district, formerly represented by Ross A. Collins. Dunn polled 16,556 to Bailey's 9,884. Collins withdrew to run for senator against Bilbo and Stephens.

Also Backs FDR

Bilbo, veteran of a hundred political campaigns, made the campaign as his first bid for a return to political power. His first victory was election to the state senate in 1907. Later he was lieutenant governor and in 1916 and 1928 was governor.

Laying down a 27-point program of his own, Bilbo nevertheless pledged himself to the new deal and expressed himself as loyal to President Roosevelt.

PRISON HEADS IN SESSION

PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT ANNUAL CONGRESS AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Juvenile delinquency, sterilization of habitual criminals, the problem of keeping convicts at work and advantages of maintaining a balance between agricultural and industrial activities within prison systems were among the subjects discussed on the second day of the 64th annual prison congress here.

Mrs. Blanche La Du of St. Paul, Minn., told the approximately 500 delegates that juvenile delinquency had decreased 15 per cent in the past three years. She added, however, that even greater progress could be made if trained workers were employed in combating it.

"If we take care of delinquent children the adult criminal problem will take care of itself in a few years," Mrs. La Du said.

Solution Indicated

W. A. Addock, chairman of the Texas prison board, cited the establishment of 12 prison farms in this state as an exemple of how the agrarian system may be overdone.

Joel Moore of Washington, D. C., supervisor of probation for the federal government, warned that child delinquency is increasing in Texas. "I feel that if the people of this state will institute the probation system in their criminal courts they will take a forward step towards correcting this evil," Moore said.

NOW THEY'RE IN LOVE, NOW THEY'RE NOT—THOSE ELOPERS OF PITTSBURGH; TRUCKMAN AND HEIRESS SET DIZZY PACE OF SEPARATIONS, RECONCILIATIONS

By NEA Service

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 19 — The unstable state of affections maintained by Pittsburgh's most discussed married couple has provided romanticists and cynics alike with a new topic of conversation that's likely to take rank with the depression, the latest doings of the Nazis and comment on the weather.

The serial story quality of the elopement first aroused interest in the before-dawn marriage of Kaletta Mulvihill, 16-year-old blonde daughter of an oil company executive, and Thomas Green, the 21-year-old coal truck driver.

The growing record of their honeymoon separations and reconciliations and the interchange of cables to arrange for their honeymoon trip to Manila have maintained that interest at climax pitch. So now the thousands of Kaletta and Tommy fans ask "What're those kids doing today?" just as they look forward to their daily serial story instalments.

Kaletta Mulvihill is reminded of the boy she left behind her—in Manila—every time she looks at her "wedding ring"—the solitaire was given her by Sidriano Paredas and used as nuptial band in the elopement emergency. But no matter how often she and Thomas Green have changed their minds, they've always ended in an enthusiastic clinch as shown at left.

"The Only Man"

On her wedding dawn, Kaletta announced that she loved Tommy madly. The next day she renounced him, said she would obtain an annulment and marry Sidriano Paredas, son of Quintin Paredas, speaker of the house in the Insular Legislature, P. I., and "the only man I ever loved," to whom she was engaged when she left Manila in May. The next day she reiterated her love for Tommy and announced she would marry him again "in a real church wedding" as soon as her mother could arrive from Manila.

The day after the wedding he told the world he loved Kaletta and Kaletta alone. The following day he said he was through with her, never wanted to see her again, that he would have the marriage annulled himself. He even worried out loud about what his "other girls" would think. Then he, too, changed his mind and decided Kaletta was, after all, the only girl in the world.

Another reconciliation took place at the home of Yvonne Brunner, 17, whose mother runs a barbecue near Grove City, and with whom Kaletta had been visiting several weeks.

Arms And The Man

Tommy went to the Brunner home, and found Kaletta had gone to a Sharon night club with a neighboring farm boy. When she returned they threw their arms around each other, oblivious of half a dozen newspaper reporters and photographers. At 5 a. m. Tommy drove back to Pittsburgh and his coal truck. Kaletta went to the mountains for a week, and by this time another chapter of their hectic romance undoubtedly is being enacted.

Mrs. Rosalie Mulvihill, in Manila, has cabled Tommy to "do the manly thing, obtain an annulment. I will finance both of your passages to Manila."

Tommy, however, demanded transportation back to Pittsburgh if the romance goes on the rocks in the Philippines.

If they go to Manila, it will cost Mrs. Mulvihill approximately $1,000 for the 6,000-mile honeymoon; some $300 in train and Pullman fares to the Pacific Coast, and from $700 to $800 for steamship fare.

Parents Are Separated

Kaletta's father, Thomas J. Mulvihill, has been separated from her mother for many years. A divorce court order requires that the girl shall spend six months of each year with her father in Pittsburgh. He seems to be the only one unexcited about her marriage.

In Manila, young Paredas, the jilted former fiance, was reported to be unperturbed. His reaction to Kaletta's Manila honeymoon was not recorded but his friends recalled that when a "student engineer" in the Ford plant at Detroit he was a professional prize fighter for a time.

The romance that lead to Kaletta's elopement began about three weeks before when she met the young truck driver at a party. He monopolized her and from then on saw her with increased frequency. On August 15, while she was visiting her friend near Grove City, Tommy and his friend, Charles Haberman, took Kaletta and Miss Brunner to Presto, to attend the wedding of a young couple neither of the girls knew.

"Let's!" . . . "Okay!"

It was after midnight when they left the wedding party. The moon was shining.

"Wouldn't it have been ice," Tommy asked Kaletta, "if that had been you and me getting married?"

"Swell!" she said.

"Let's," he suggested.

"Okay!" she told him, and the elopement was on.

They ran to Tommy's car, shouting gleefully.

A Presto policeman stopped them. "What's the idea of all the noise?" he queried.

Tommy couldn't be bothered. He took one punch at the policeman's jaw. The officer went down and out.

The elopers arrived in Wellsburg at 3 a. m. A cab driver guided them to the home of the clerk of courts and routed her, heavy-eyed and weary from bed.

Kaletta, who will not be 16 until December, gave her age as 22. Tommy gave his as 21, which was correct. Kaletta also used the name of Justine Paredes, her own middle name and the family name of her until then fiance. At the parsonage of the Methodist church, Rev. S. M. Billingsley tumbled out of bed to tie the knot in his own parlor.

Then Tommy discovered he had no wedding ring. His bride took off the engagement ring young Paredes had given her in Manila and handed it to him. He placed it on her finger again as the minister intoned the ceremony.

Built Up Strength By Taking Cardui

Here's her own account of how Mrs. T. W. Hardin, of Greer, S. C., was benefited by taking Cardui: "I suffered a great deal from weakness in my back and pains in my side and felt so miserable," she writes. "I read of Cardui and decided to try it. I felt better after I took my first bottle, so kept on taking it as I felt such a need of strength, and it helped me so much."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

MEN AND WOMEN JAILED IN STRIKE "NOT HAVING A BAD TIME AT ALL"

ATLANTA, Sept. 19 (AP)—Interned in one of the strangest prisons in the nation, 16 women and 112 men arrested by national guardsmen for textile strike disorders commented today that "the meals are mighty fine," and some of them added: "We're not having a bad time at all."

With the possible exception of a few men who wondered what the "little woman" would say when they got back home, there didn't seem to be a downcast person in the camp today. However, they are in prison "indefinitely."

"Ain't Bad A-Tall"

The odd prison, built overnight at the national guard rifle range near here, requires no more of its inmates than that they cause no trouble. Meals, beds, ice water, and medical care are free, there is no work, and they are encouraged to spend their time pleasantly.

"And say," said E. N. Brown of Hogansville, "it ain't bad a-tall. The grub is a little better than I have been getting during the depression."

But S. E. Boswell, also of Hogansville, says with a grin that he and "some other boys" may have something to worry about.

He leaned on the barbed-wire fence enclosing tents and the half acre men's prison and confided:

"You see, the little woman doesn't know where I went when I left home Monday at 2 in the morning to go to Newnan for picketing. I'll bet I catch it when I get home," he said with a grin. "But some of the other boys are in the same boat, and I reckon somebody has told the wife by now that the national guard took in a bunch of us at Newnan Monday morning."

Not far from the men's prison is a one-story building, in a grove of pine trees, housing the women.

Girls In Overalls

The girls—most of the women are under 20 years old—chat about their sweethearts, the strike, the food—which they praise—and the clothing problem.

Belle Horton, one of four sisters imprisoned, says she had been wondering "what to wear," but "they gave us some overalls, so we'll at least have a change now." She and her sisters, said they were getting along "all right," but were a little bored with the routine of camp life.

RATE HIKE ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—The Inland Waterways corporation has joined the nation's railroads in asking increases in rates on freight hauled by water and rail.

The corporation filed an application with the interstate commerce commission asking that should the commission after its hearing beginning Oct. 1 decide to permit railroads to increase freight rates that it allow the barge line to make corresponding changes in its rates.

ECONOMICAL ELECTRICAL POWER TO DEVELOP INDUSTRIES

If a new industry were to locate in Lubbock, one of the first things investigated would be the source of power. The current that makes the wheels go around is all important. It must be economical . . . constant and unfailing. TUCO STATION near Lubbock makes this possible for this whole territory known as the South Plains.

A V-8 is no longer the privilege of the Wealthy

THE ONLY V-8 UNDER $2,500

IT is not just chance that the Ford V-8 is the only V-8 selling today for less than $2,500. It is due entirely to the skill of Ford engineers.

For the V-type engine costs more to build. It is the type of engine that powers the most expensive cars—holds every world speed record. And only Ford has been able to put it in a low price car.

The advantages of a V-8 are apparent the moment you drive it. Increased flexibility in traffic—faster pick-up—an ability to get places without driving strain.

The new Ford V-8 is not only low in first cost. It costs less to operate than any other Ford car ever built. Gasoline costs are lower. Oil costs are lower. Carbon removal and valve grinding are virtually eliminated.

See the new Ford V-8 at your nearest dealer's. Then ask yourself why you should accept less today!

Between the tax collectors and the kidnapers, the rich have been having a hard time lately.

MAYBE it's just the natural reaction of an 'inlander', but The Plainsman always has gotten a whale of a kick out of a waterfront.

In Houston the other day, under the tuteledge of Managing Editor George Cottingham of the Chronicle, your humble servant ambled down to the ship channel, there to gaze in wide-eyed awe at five big tramp steamers from as many nations—steamers that had spewed their varied cargoes on the wharves of Texas' greatest city and were reloading, mostly with scrapiron, steel and other armament-making material, prior to the long trek back to Singapore, Shanghai, Tokio and Vladivostok.

One of the tramps, in particular, was greatly interesting.

A black, greasy, old harlot of the high seas, she bore a Chinese inscription on her bow, next to which, in English, was painted "Shanghai Maru". She looked like she'd been in service since the days of the Horn and her crew was about as mixed up a looking bunch as one ever saw.

Black-beared, long haired Slavs, slant-eyed Orientals and hammerfisted Teutons lolled on her gangplank, strangely silent and morose. A Japanese flag hung limply from its moorings as all hands awaited the whistle and bell to signal the beginning of the long trip home.

HOUSTON'S rapid transition from an inland city to a near major port has increased the lawlessness and violence of the metropolis, in keeping with port cities, yet that same transition has lifted it from third place in size in Texas to an undisputed leadership and to the place in the sun as the Southwest's largest center of transportation.

From over the vast empire that is the Southwest the fruits of labor—refined and unrefined—are shipped by rail or truck to Houston from which they go to many places.

And one of the greatest contributors to Houston's port business is West Texas, from which go cotton, wool, mohair, oil and many other products as day after day business drives on.

While on the wharf The Plainsman took advantage of an opportunity to inspect the Morgan line's coastwise vessel, "El Occidente", which regularly plies between Houston, Boston, New York and Baltimore.

Not as large as the foreign tramps, "El Occidente", spic, span and her brass work gleaming, is much more modern than those. Her big tanks hold 1,200 barrels of crude oil, her three-level hold can carry 300 freight carloads of cargo. And if she were carrying cotton she could haul 12,000 bales—one-sixth of Lubbock county's best yield.

Such is an interesting sight—especially for a landlubber!

That Man on Avenue Q says at least they can play donkey baseball in the American Liberty League.

Another good thing would be to plow under every third public enemy.

PREACHER Bob Campbell's blast at alleged laxity in law enforcement has been the topic of conversation here for the past couple of days.

The pastor of the First Baptist church banged away at officials from his pulpit Sunday night, charging that we have here in Lubbock "too many dressed up jokes" and, among other things, "too many public officials who take their oaths of office too lightly".

Every time Mr. Campbell bounds onto the front pages he more or less sets the town agog—and what tickles The Plainsman is the reaction.

By and large, Lubbock is divided into two groups—those who praise the pastor and those who berate him. And both groups have plenty to say each time he cuts loose.

THOSE who disagree with him say Avalanche-Journal papers should ignore his attacks.

And those who agree with him say we're doing the right thing to give circulation to his views.

And without taking either view into consideration, we print most of what he says, simply because people read what he says and then either loudly cheer—or try to bite themselves on the back of the neck!

Millions Of Dollars Will Be Spent On Coming Pictures; Censorship Leads Studios To Adopt Silent-Era Standards

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19. — Increased expenditures will be the order of things in Hollywood during the coming 12 months.

Shown the way to increased profits by the nation-wide censorship movement, which has insisted upon genuine entertainment rather than salaciousness, film producers have decided again to adopt the standards which proved so successful in the silent picture era.

During that period the big expensive productions were the ones which returned the largest profits. Films on the scale of "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "The Big Parade," "Ben Hur," "The Covered Wagon" and "The Ten Commandments" were the real money makers.

And public tastes haven't changed. Recent pictures, such as "The House of Rothschild," "Cleopatra," "Dinner at Eight" and "Here Comes the Navy," prove that large expenditures are more than made up in box office returns.

Consequently we are about to be handed more such lavish films than ever before in the history of the industry. Darryl Zanuck already has indicated that he will spend $6,500,000 on 10 films. Paramount is at work on the spectacular "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," and soon will start "Ruggles of Red Gap" and "The Crusaders." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has several million dollar productions on its schedule. And other studios are making similar preparations.

These specials may result in a decreased number of pictures. But they will better satisfy the public's desire for entertainment and, in the long run, will return greater profits to studio coffers than would a larger number of program films.

Theme for a Comedy

Speaking of forthcoming pictures, I wonder how long it will be until some studio decides to make a film based upon Huey Long's circus in New Orleans. That should make a swell comedy.

find interest in—and then talk about.

And news, as long as it is within the libel laws and does not offend public decency, is what all newspapers worthy of the name are most anxious to print.

We are not particularly interested in whether people agree or disagree with Preacher Campbell, but we are particularly interested in whether or not they read accounts of what he says.

And the fact that his remarks arouse comments of one kind or another indicates the reader interest. And that's that.

If, through publication of such matter, the pastor is publicized to the disgust or the approbation of the people, that's something else.

TO say that there is no law violation in Lubbock would be silly. There is law violation everywhere that any appreciable number of human beings gather and until Judgment Day dawns there probably always will be.

But in defense of his home town—which is a darn good home town—The Plainsman rises to say that Lubbock is the most law-abiding city of its size he knows anything of, and he's been around considerably.

Critics of Lubbock, its civic righteousness and its public morals are certainly within their rights in an effort to make the city an even more law-abiding place in which to live.

But before they become too vigorous in their criticisms they will do well to contrast Lubbock with other cities of its size. Then they'll feel better.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

THE ANNUAL FAIR—AN INSTITUTION

Throughout the balance of this week the music of the hammer and the saw will hum a busy tune at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds, where fair workers and representatives of booth-holding business concerns will be getting ready for the presentation of the 21st annual "Show Window of the Plains".

The fair, opening next Monday for a full week's run, ushers in the fall and winter business season and is the educational and entertainment high spot of the year. Given a fair weather "break" it will attract many thousands of men, women and children who annually look forward to the big event.

Probably the 1934 fair will be the last one held at the present location on East Broadway, just west of Shannon park.

Next year, if the gods are kind, a new plant will beckon to the throngs—a new plant north of the city and just west of the Plainview highway a couple of miles out. It will be fitting, therefore, for fair fans to give the old grounds a rousing send-off while looking forward to the new.

The only criticism launched against fairs as a whole is that "they never change—they are always the same".

The very nature of such projects causes them to be bound by precedent and it is true that "fairs are fairs, whether they be in Chicago, Dallas or Lubbock". Yet they annually draw millions of visitors the nation over and in spite of the sameness manage to offer instruction and fun for all who see them.

The Panhandle-South Plains fair is one of the largest sectional expositions in the entire country.

From a standpoint of attendance in Texas it is third, being outranked only by the State fair at Dallas and the Tri-State at Amarillo—the latter having a 'free gate'.

While many another Texas exposition has fallen by the wayside—witness those in Wichita Falls, Abilene and San Angelo, for example—the Panhandle-South Plains fair, in spite of the depression, in spite of the drouth spots and in spite of the natural lowering of public morale in the face of stress, has marched on and on. That at least proves its popularity and the desire of its supporters to keep it going, come what may.

The Journal feels that the people of Lubbock and the South Plains are looking forward to the fair this year with the same interest, the same kindly feeling and the same expectancy of joy as in former years—and it is well.

The Panhandle-South Plains fair is just as much a part of this community and this section as is business, the professions or any of the others of our institutions.

And as such we support and welcome it.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19—Chairman Myron Taylor of the U. S. Steel Corporation heard about President Roosevelt's appointment of a labor relations board for the steel industry and proceeded to act in his customary fashion.

He sent the three members of the board an invitation to come to New York, have dinner with him and some of the other boys, and talk things over.

Judge Walter Stacy, chairman of the labor board, replied with thanks. The board was busy, but would be glad to see Mr. Taylor at any time he cared to pay it a business visit.

That's part of the background in the battle which many people foresee between Steel and the board on the issue of collective bargaining for organized labor.

Elections will be held in steel plants and there is no longer the slightest doubt that the Stacy group will rule that employers must deal with whichever union wins a majority vote as the representative of all workers.

This so-called "majority rule" principal was repudiated by General Johnson and Roosevelt in the automobile settlement, but has been emphatically invoked by the National Labor Relations Board in the Houde case. The steel board is virtually compelled to adopt it.

Company Unions Slapped

The steel board has unmistakably indicated its feeling about company unions—which are the kind which the industry wants.

During a hearing on a union discrimination case, Stacy demanded of a company attorney: "What interest have you in the form of organization of your employes? We can understand if you have a moral interest, but you have no legal interest." Which meant: "Hands off union organization!"

So the steel industry is threatening defiance if election results and board ruling require it to bargain collectively only with A. F. of L. union. Its threats to give up its codes can be made good if three-fourths of the industry votes to do so.

And the steel men usually stand closely together—especially in price-fixing and bucking organized labor.

(Watch these labor developments. Steel and automobile strikes this years are far from unlikely. Size of the textile walkout and the accompanying bloodshed become enormously significant when you recall that the United Textile Workers had fewer than 20,000 dues-paying members as NRA came into being.

The administration, after many months of fumbling was forced to adopt a strong, liberal labor policy because resentful, rapidly organizing workers threatened both its recovery program and its political safety.

It still has plenty to worry about, but hopes that by playing along with conservative A. F. of L. leaders it can stall off the dangers of radical rank-and-file insurgency in th elabor movement.)

Off With Judicial Dignity

Although sitting in a judicial capacity, Judge Stacy has no longing at all for the judicial robes he used to wear.

"It's pretty warm in here," he announced at the first hearing, "and if anybody would like to take his coat off, it's all right with the board."

No one stirred, so Stacy said: "Well, I guess this board had better start this."

He peeled off his coat and everyone else then followed suit.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: At last there is a rift in the wall of silence that has surrounded Sergeant Harper's investigation of the murder of the stranger and the policeman in Pierre Dufresne's house. Ellen Becker, formerly a housemaid for the Dufresnes, has admitted receiving money from both Mr. and Mrs. Dufresne to keep quiet about some notes demanding a rendezvous she had found concealed in the house. Harper accuses her of working with Donaghy, the chauffeur.

THE AUSTERLITZ

"We have not. I've told you everything I know about it. Joe and I have been going around together and he wormed the truth out of me about why I left. But if he's been getting any money out of it, I don't know anything about it. Don't take me back to that house," she pleaded, "Honestly, I've told you all I know."

"You'll have to face the music," Harper declared, "but for the present I'm going to hold you in reserve as a surprise witness. You'll have to stay in this house, though, until I'm ready, and there will be a detective right here to see that you don't run away. You will not be allowed to send any messages before morning."

"I'll stay here and the longer the better."

So it was settled. Detective Harris was given his instructions and installed in a chair in the hallway, while Harper and Lafferty resumed their interrupted journey to the Austerlitz.

They rode in silence for a while, both absorbed in turning over the startling story Ellen Becker had just unfolded. "Imagine that girl getting away with that," the tall detective said, "playing both ends against the middle. Our usual luck is still running true—here we have two persons trying to shut her up."

They pulled up at the canvas marquee of the palatial Austerlitz and the military-looking attendant opened the door of their car. As the two detectives walked toward the entrance Harper said, "We're going in here and I'll try to break down one of the neatest alibis that was ever put over."

"Saying so is easier than doing so," was Lafferty's retort.

They stepped up to the elaborately grilled desk in the Austerlitz, where Harper asked for the manager. The affable manager looked inquiringly at Harper. "What can I do for you, Sergeant?"

"I would like to see a floor plan of the Austerlitz, Mr. Comstock."

"Certainly," The manager pressed a button, and a silent, efficient secretary appeared in the doorway.

"Miss Summers, bring me Folio B-3, please." When she had gone he turned to the detective. "I suppose this has some connection with last night's affair?"

"In a small way," Harper conceded. "How long has Mr. Dufresne occupied that suite?" he asked in turn.

Mr. Comstock smiled broadly. "I see you're not acquainted with the Austerlitz's history. Mr. Dufresne has had his suite here ever since it was built. In fact, he designed the building, helped finance it, supervised its erection, and still has the controlling stock interest."

"That was quite an individual feat, then," Harper answered.

"He is a truly remarkable man," Comstock asserted warmly, "and a genuine artist."

Miss Summers returned with a wide, flat folio. Harper looked at each diagram, from that of the basement up to the roof. He lingered over the details of the top floor, the twenty-eighth.

"Perhaps you would be interested in seeing this, Sergeant," Mr. Comstock suggested. He brought out a leather-bound box-case. "These are Mr. Dufresne's original sketches for the building," he explained.

Harper closed Folio B-3 and looked at these original plans, sketched

LEEPING GAS IS REPORTED

NVENTOR SAYS WHOLE ARMY CAN BE PUT TO SLEEP QUICKLY

MONTICELLO, N. Y., Sept. 19.)—Philip Del Fungo Giera, proietor of a "mystery laboratory" i e Sullivan county hills, said he ould offer the government a pow- ful "sleeping gas" when he goes Washington next week to testify fore the senate munitions com- ittee.

Giera was described to the Nye mmittee last Friday as an "inter- ational spy" hired by the Du Pont mpany in February 1933, to sell wder in Germany and Holland.

In his remote laboratory here, he vealed, he has recently perfected "sleeping gas" which he claimed s capable of putting an army to ep within a minute.

One man, carrying a small cylin- of gas in his pocket, can put yone within 300 feet asleep with discharge, Giera declared.

"The gas can not be seen or elled," Giera said.

Victims, he said, remain asleep o hours and awake unharmed.

"If it is desired to keep them eping a longer time, stronger es can be fired."

The individual using the anaes- etic, Fiera said, needs no mask.

"He merely puts a small tab- in his mouth, and is immune," claimed.

Hope for a peace move in the tex- e strike centered on President osevelt today as a report to him the strike mediation board near- completion.

The report was awaited eagerly all sides in the hope it might ntain a clue to settlement of the ntroversy in which 420,000 textile rkers are now estimated to be le.

As more mills reopened, conflict- claims came from employers d workers as to the number of rkers returning to work. Union aders said the workers are holding eir lines, with the number of ose returning to work offset by w converts to the ranks of the ikers. Manufacturers asserted the mber of strikers was diminishing.

Violence Flares Anew

Violence flared anew in the south sterday when two men were ser- usly wounded and several others icked by guardsmen's bayonets at lmont, N. C., during a brush be- een strike sympathizers and oops.

Guardsmen were lined up at the ant of the Sayles Finishing Co., Saylesville, R. I., as the mill anned to resume operations, halt- by a riot last week.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 3-6 points decline under southern hedge selling, the textile strike situation and more favorable weather. Oct 12.70; Dec 12.81; Jan 12.80; Mch 12.88; May 12.94; Jly 12.99.

Liquidation of the October position also was more in evidence, in addition to commission house, Liverpool and southern selling. The initial buying was rather slow and prices worked off to net losses of 4 to 6 points with the October, December and January deliveries easing a point or so below previous lows for the current movement established last Saturday.

At these levels, however, there appeared to be enough scale down buying to check the decline and December recovered from 12.78 to 12.82 while May advanced a point from its earlier low of 12.93. Liverpool cables were about as due, scattered hedging against outside growths in that market appearing, while the strike situation and favorable weather checking general demand.

The market displayed an easy undertone late in the morning under increased hedge selling and liquidation, while demand remained small. The weekly weather and crop bulletin was regarded as favorable except for parts of the east where persistent rains and cloudiness were unfavorable for growth. The report, adding that bolls were filling out in parts of the northwest, and that prospects for a top crop were considerably improved in Texas, came in for considerable attention.

As the market eased, pressure increased, and some stop orders were uncovered on the decline to 12.75 for December and 12.90 for May, or to net losses of 7 to 9 points by midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19. (AP)—Cotton opened easier although Liverpool cables were about as due. First trades were 2 to 5 points down and the market continued to ease after the start due, it was reported, to efforts to have the secretary of agriculture set aside this year's allotments under the Bankhead bill. October eased to 12.70, December to 12.80 and March to 12.87, or 3 to 5 points below the opening figures and 5 to 8 points below yesterday's close. Near the end of the first half hour prices rallied one point due to the slightly better opening of stocks.

The market ruled quiet all morning and prices gradually eased off due to absence of buying support and some near month liquidation. Late in the morning October traded down to 12.65, December to 12.77 and March to 12.84, or 7 to 10 points below the earlier highs and 8 to 13 points below yesterday's close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Influenced by announcement Argentine wheat, duty paid, could be delivered in New York as cheap as United States red winter, wheat prices here underwent material setbacks today.

Good buying support for the Chicago wheat market, however, developed on declines. The basis for cash wheat in Chicago was firm with offerings here small, and indications pointing to a probable new reduction of the United States wheat visible supply total next Monday.

Wheat closed unsettled 7-8 to 1 3-8 under yesterday's finish, December new 103 1-8, corn 5-8 to 1 1-4 down, December new 76 1-2 to 5-8, oats 3-8 to 7-8 off, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents decline.

Wheat, No. 2 red 1.04 3-4; No. 1 hard 1.11; corn, No. 1 mixed 79; No. 1 mixed 79; No. 1 yellow 79 1-4 to 1-2; No. 1 white 84; sample grade 83; oats, No. 1 white 56; sample grade 48 1-2 to 51.

FORT WORTH PRICES

FORT WORTH, Sept. 19 (AP) — Fair demand continued for light offerings on the grain market here today. Estimated receipts were, wheat 32 cars; corn 4; oats 1, and sorghums 2. Prices quoted:

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points:

Wheat No. 1 hard 1.13 3-4 to 1.15 1-4. Barley No. 2 nominally 88 to 92; No. 3 nominally 86 to 88. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 1.83 to 1.85; No. 3 milo nominally 1.81 to 1.83. No. 2 kafir nominally 1.75 to 1.77; No. 3 kafir 1.73 to 1.75.

Delivered Texas common points or group three:

Corn No. 2 white 1.02 to 1.03; No. 2 yellow 98 to 99. Oats No. 2 red 59 to 60; No. 3 red 58 to 59.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—Stocks perked up considerably today.

Bonds were firm, but commodities were mostly inclined to sag. Wheat and corn dipped around a cent a bushel in the earlier dealings, and cotton, rubber and several other staples were off a trifle. U. S. government bonds again advanced a little, and the dollar was steady in foreign exchange dealings.

The share market moved up 1 to 3 points in a number of issues in the first hour, sagged a little in the second, then pushed up again, in light dealings. Non-ferrous metals were strong. U. S. Smelting rose 3 points, and Homestake had one of its wide moves, getting up 8, ex-dividend. Miscellaneous issues advancing a point or more included American Telephone, U. S. Steel preferred, Du Pont, American Can, Continental Can, Johns-Manville, American Tobacco B, Liggett and Myers B, International Harvester, Case, Howe Sound, Cerro de Pasco, California Packing, United Fruit, Armour Preferred new, I-R-T, Santa Fe, Union Pacific and a few others.

FOR BARE LEGS

PEIPING (AP) — The campaign started by Peiping's mayor to prevent women and girls from appearing bare-legged in the streets has met with strong opposition from women's organizations. The women defend bare legs as healthful and as tending to discourage the practice of footbinding, which still lingers in Peiping.

BANK ROBBERS CONVICTED

J. C. AND BUCK SMITH AND C. BRANCH GET 50 YEARS

LEVELLAND, Sept. 19 (Special)—Convicted of bank robbery, J. C. Smith faced 20 years, and his son, Buck Smith, and Chester Branch each 15 years in the penitentiary today.

The aggregate half century of punishment was dealt by a 72nd district jury here late Tuesday.

Buck Smith and Chester Branch also each faced a 35-year sentence for robbery of a filling station at Seymour, and the elder Smith two-year term for disposal of mortgaged property there, District Attorney Daniel A. Blair said.

Employes On Stand

The men had pleaded not guilty of robbing the Levelland bank of about $1,200 last April 25 and they used two bank employes in an effort to win freedom. President John Doyle and Irene Ellis, who previously had identified other persons as the bandits, were used by the defense.

District Attorney Daniel A. Blair used six witnesses, all except two in the morning. Those on the stand in the afternoon were Donald Dickson, district attorney, and Pat Tolliver, deputy sheriff, both of Seymour, who had taken statements from the younger Smith and Branch.

Are Tried Jointly

The men were tried jointly, the jury receiving the case at 4:45 p. m. and returning a verdict at 6:25.

Homer L. Pharr was presiding judge. He ordered forfeited bond of Red Thompson, charged with possession of beer, who had not reported for trial.

BANKHEAD ACT

simplify its procedure if the law was made operative another year.

McGregor referred to the Bankhead law as a "fungus growth on the new deal." Alexander termed it the salvation of the cotton farmer, made necessary when "chiselers," in the form of large cotton producers, refused to join voluntary cotton acreage reduction movements.

Discrimination Claimed

The original resolution stated the law discriminated against the tenant farmer and small grower in favor of large land owners. This was hotly denied by witnesses who appeared before the committee, one of them asserting that he knew of an instance where a landlord's production was so reduced that a tenant offered to loan him $200 to tide him over.

The Bankhead law was characterized as "effective cooperative farming" by another witness.

BEER CASE

otherwise the same deals with liquor "containing in excess of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume," it was explained.

Different With Whisky

The difference does not arise in whisky cases as whisky is intoxicating by definition.

Preceding court opinions elsewhere had held that 3.2 beer could not be regarded as "capable of producing intoxication," it was said.

Analysis Necessary

A chemical analysis of the beer to support an indictment alleging it to have "in excess of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume" would be necessary in virtually all instances, prosecutors said.

After the verdict had been returned, as instructed, Judge Mullican dismissed court until Thursday morning.

Prosecutors said they would make additional examination of indictments in other 3.2 beer cases this afternoon.

District Attorney Daniel A. Blair and his assistant, Burton S. Burks, were the prosecutors. Defense counsel were W. W. Campbell and William H. Evans.

OPINION SOUGHT

EXTRA SESSION

the legislature with a plea that it be granted more power.

Speculation on prospects for another special session was given impetus when Representative Jesse James of Cameron reported 104 members of the house had pledged to support a natural resources commission bill that would relieve the railroad commission of its oil and gas administrative duties. James said he expected to confer soon with Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband-adviser, former Governor James E. Ferguson, on the proposition.

Opposition Expected

James said a poll of the house showed "considerable opposition" would be encountered by the bill if it attempted to vest the power to appoint the new commission in the present administration. James said decision on how personnel of the proposed commission should be selected would be left to the two houses and expressed the opinion that the administration would not seek to force through a bill delegating the appointments to the incumbent.

Amos Felts, Austin attorney representing numerous independent refiners of East Texas, protested the bill as an extension of "inquisitorial powers of the commission at the expense of small refiners, but in favor of the big ones."

Murder Mystery Is Probed By Police

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—The body of a well-dressed man in a padlocked squalid one-room apartment on the lower East Side furnished police a new mystery slaying today.

A small amount of money in the clothing obviated a robbery motive.

SELF-DEFENSE TO BE EZZELL PLEA

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Self-defense will be the plea of Fletcher F. Ezzell, 62, who was remanded to jail without bond yesterday on a complaint that he shot to death his tenant and neighbor, Rev. Henry C. Wehmeyer. Ezzell waived preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace John R. Shook.

"He was right up on me," said Ezzell when he was asked why the fatal shot had been fired. He said he did not know whether the former pastor was armed at the time or not. The shooting took place in the front yard of a house rented by Wehmeyer from Ezzell. The latter, asked whether Wehmeyer was delinquent on the rent, said "a little bit, but I don't want to discuss that."

Bankhead Proposes Allotment Increase

JASPER, Ala., Sept. 19. (AP) U. S. Senator John H. Bankhead, one of the authors of the cotton control act, advocates increasing individual allotments under the act so as to cover "all cotton harvested this year."

The Alabama senator said he would confer with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace Saturday and would urge this action.

"Peculiar conditions existing and the delay in getting tax exemption certificates issued to producers," were among reasons advanced for the proposed allotment increase.

The victim apparently had been killed by a blow from a blunt instrument over the left eye. Death occurred about 12 hours previous to the finding of the body, medical authorities estimated.

Hank With His Ma And Pa

A couple of mighty proud parents are shown here with a son they well can be proud of. They are Mr. and Mrs. David Greenberg, father and mother and Henry Greenberg, right, slugging first sacker of the Detroit Tigers. Hank dropped in on his folks at Atlantic Highlands, N. J., when the Tigers were on their last trip east.

FLASHES OF LIFE

* * * * *

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

Posthumus Honors

CHICAGO — More than 300 persons, ranging in age from one to thirty years, will pay tribute Thursday to the memory of the late Dr. Charles H. Miller, who assisted them into the world.

They will attend a tea, the proceeds of which will be used to establish a hospital room for persons unable to pay for obstetrical services. Dr. Miller, who died last March, officiated at more than 3,000 births.

Farmer Firemen

PITTSBURGH — It took a bunch of farmers to put out a fire in a very citified motorcycle.

Officer Howard Luffy was riding the motorcycle when it burst into flames near the farmers' market. Before firemen arrived, the farmers had extinguished the flames with corn husks and burlap sacks.

No Rabbit, No Race

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill.—Unsuccessful in court attempts to block a local promoter's plans for a dog racing meet, twenty deputy sheriffs decided on more direct action. They confiscated the electric rabbit. The program ended.

On The Block

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—Trustees of the Central Presbyterian church announced they will sell the building October 6 to satisfy demands of two banks which hold bonds against the property for $25,000. This was the boyhood church of John W. Davis, Democratic nominee in 1924.

Night School

PITTSBURGH — For several years the University of Pittsburgh's astronomy classes have been held in the daytime. Now, appropriately enough, the university announces courses in fundamental and advanced astronomy will be offered in the downtown division—at night.

Turn-In

CINCINNATI — The mails brought a bulky package to Jewish hospital, and inside was a vacuum coffee container that attendants thought familiar. A note explained:

I took this home as a souvenir when I was discharged from the hospital last week. However, I find it is not large enough to be of any use to me so I am returning it."

Property Puzzle

HUTCHINSON, Kas. — The Reno county assessor is scratching his head in wonderment over property tax lists.

He finds that, if the property owners' declarations are to be believed, there are more pianos in the country than watches. Also, 6,934 motor cars have been turned in for taxation, while tags were issued to 12,000.

Going Too Far

PHILADELPHIA — Willard Parker, Bibliophile, might have given the unknown thief who stole his 1599 Bible the benefit of the doubt except for one detail.

He couldn't understand why a person wanting spiritual inspiration should take his best gold watch also.

How To Do It

CAMDEN, N. J. — Richard Espinosa called for blackboard and chalk so he could show the jury how the accident happened.

He showed them so well they awarded him a verdict of $150 for damages his automobile received in a collision.

Then Espinosa revealed he's a safety-first lecturer—makes his living telling folks how to drive safely.

The home owners loan corporation has disbursed $9,540,387 in federal funds in North Carolina since July, 1933.

— Murder at MOCKING HOUSE —

BY WALTER C. BROWN

with clean, incisive strokes. Was the artist who could do these things the same man who could be jerked back by primitive emotions to murderous savagery, a puppet to dance so ignobly to the string-pulling of such as Ellen Becker? The artist denied, but the man had lettered and signed each sheet, and there were A's, and G's, and M's, and S's that cried aloud to the detective's trained vision, that recalled those printed crank letters.

Sergeant Harper put the papers back in the case, quietly, almost reluctantly. "Mr. Comstock, I'll have to ask you to let me have these papers."

The manager's expression revealed his astonishment.

"This is for official purposes, that's all I can tell you," Harper continued. "You will have our receipt against their safe return."

Mr. Comstock nodded, repressing his curiosity.

One of his assistants rode up with them in the elevator and opened the Dufresne suite. It was very quiet up there. The assistant detached a key from his ring, handed it to Harper, and retired to the background from whence he watched the detectives with discreet curiosity.

Harper stood long in Dufresne's bedroom, recalling the sight of Dufresne's body sprawled inertly, the reek of brandy, the gaunt Andrews' panic-stricken eyes from the doorway.

The detective opened a closet door and looked inside. He bent down to examine the double row of shoes on their racks. He borrowed Lafferty's flashlight and went on hands and knees to scan the floor of the closet under the bright circle of light.

Harper stood up and closed the door. "I'm ready for the test," he announced. "I'll lock myself in these rooms and you stand out there and wait by the elevators, where Markison and the others kept watch."

Lafferty, grinning, stepped out into the corridor. He saw Harper close the door from the inside and heard the lock snap. "Yell when you're ready to give up," he called through the door, then went over and sat down beside Mr. Comstock's assistant.

"What's going on?" asked the latter, with pardonable mystification.

"The Sergeant has a Houdini complex," Lafferty answered. "Say, is there an emergency staircase in this place?"

"Right beside the elevators. The door with the red bulb over it."

Lafferty settled back, satisfied.

Sitting in silence, the lanky detective finally pulled out his watch. Less than five minutes had passed. He kept a wary eye on the corridor and the door to the Dufresne suite. Three more minutes ticked away.

Then, with the faintest swishing noise, an elevator shot up to the floor level, the grilled doors slid open, and Sergeant Harper, smiling blandly, stepped out!

"Who was that man?" Harper asks Mrs. Dufresne, tomorrow.

WOMEN MINISTERS 'OUT'

LEICESTER, England (AP)—The Methodist conference here decided not to admit women to the ministry because of the extreme difficulty of placing men in the itinerant ministry. The consensus in the church is that women should be admitted, but out of every four men who wish to be received into the itinerant ministry, it is possible to place only one.

RAILROADING FAMILY

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Railroading—58 years of it—has been the big thing in James C. Irwin's life, and three sons are following in his footsteps. The 74-year-old veteran of the rails is now employed by the Chesapeake and Ohio after serving four other lines. Two sons are C. & O. train dispatchers and the other is assistant superintendent of transportation.

Upward Trend Made In Oil Production

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19 (AP)—A general upward trend over the United States brought crude oil production from 2,491,479 to 2,590,876 barrels a day last week, the Oil and Gas Journal says.

California where there was an 8,600-barrel drop, was the only one of the three major areas to cut output.

Oklahoma showed an increase from 416,910 to 502,240 barrels a day.

Texas production advanced from 1,091,411 to 1,110,008 barrels a day, with East Texas' production increasing from 505,033 to 523,800 barrels.

In Kansas there was an increase from 120,900 to 126,585 barrels; the eastern area produced 133,576 barrels as compared with a previous average of 133,117 barrels; and in the Rocky mountains, production dropped from 96,900 to 95,570 barrels.

Dr. Evans Returns After Conferences

Two recent southern conferences on curriculum revision were attended by Dr. A. W. Evans, education department head at Texas Technological college.

Dr. Evans and W. A. Stigler, Texas state director of curriculum revision, were only Texas delegates at a national curriculum conference at George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn. Educators from all over the nation attended the laboratory conference, Dr. Evans said. Dr. Evans also was present at a state curriculum revision program at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Aug. 27 to Sept. 1. Dr. Evans and Director Stigler visited several midwestern colleges and universities and conferred with Dr. Carleton Washburne, Winnetka, Ill., internationally known educational writer and experimentalist, who spoke at a curriculum conference here last summer.

"Throat-Ease?.. you said a Mouthful!" says Al Jolson

"That's why I prefer Old Golds"

"EDDIE CANTOR said, 'You can't fool my eyes. I can see the better tobacco in Old Golds!'

"The great Schnozzola said, 'You can't fool my nose. I can sniff the better quality in Old Golds!'

"Now I'll admit that the Cantor eyes and the Schnozzola nose are pretty keen. But so is my large size 'taster', and it sure gets a thrill out of Old Gold's mellow smoothness.

"In other words, you can SEE it—you can SNIFF it—and Man!—how you can TASTE it! . . . that finer tobacco quality in throat-easy Old Golds."

(Signed) AL JOLSON

It boils down to this, Al:—

No better tobacco grows than is used in Old Gold. And it's pure. That's why Old Golds are easy on the THROAT and NERVES.
