Connally Hedging

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally hedged today on questions about his availability as a presidential nominee but said he "had no thoughts whatever about the vice presidency."

Connally also told a news conference that he thought "our chances to elect a Democratic candidate for president have not been improved by the announcement that President Johnson will not seek re - election."

Connally said he was not ready at this time to say who he might support for the Democratic presidential nomination, and called attention to the fact that an emergency meeting of the State Democratic Commietee had been called for Tuesday.

When asked if he would support Sen. Robert Kennedy, D - N. Y., if Kennedy got the nomination, Connally evaded the question. He said he would give much the same answer that Kennedy gave on national television recently.

"Basically he, Kennedy said he would wait and see," Connally said. Kennedy and Connally have long been political foes.

Connally said he did not think President Johnson would change his mind unless there was "a dramatic demonstration that his action would not be in the best interests of the nation."

Today In History

Today is Monday, April 1, the 92nd day of 1968. There are 274 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1939, Generalissimo Francisco Franco announced that the Spanish Civil War was over, and his government was recognized by the United States.

On this date: In 1789, the U.S. House of Representatives held its first full meeting in New York City.

In 1578, the English physician who discovered the circulation of the blood, Dr. William Harvey, was born.

In 1918, the Royal Air Force was organized in Britain.

In 1937, Britain separated Burma from India and set it up as a crown colony.

In 1945, U.S. forces began the Pacific war invasion of Okinawa.

In 1946, the United States told Cuba it would give up bases held in Cuba during World War II.

Ten years ago — France was crippled by a 24-hour strike by one million public workers.

Five years ago — New York City newspapers resumed publication after being closed down nearly four months in a labor dispute.

AFTER BOWING OUT OF RACE

Johnson Pleads For Reason

Repeats Hopes For Viet Peace Talks

CHICAGO (AP) — President Johnson said today he hopes to meet soon in the United States with President Nguyen Van Thiu of South Vietnam to "strengthen and improve our plans" for restoring peace and stability in Southeast Asia.

Johnson made his disclosure in addressing the National Association of Broadcasters — his first public appearance since dramatically bowing out of 1968 politics.

Word that he expects to be host to Thieu "sometime in the weeks ahead" was dropped into his prepared text as he spoke.

Because the chief executive flew to Chicago on short notice, there were few spectators along his motorcade route into the city from the outlying airport. However, the lobby of the Conrad Hilton Hotel where he spoke was packed — and his entry was cheered lustily.

The President voiced a plea to the broadcasters that reason and responsibility prevail "amid all the frenzy and emotion" of an election year.

He said this season is a time of debate and enlightenment and "at its worst it is a period of frenzy."

The chief executive warned that "the basic hope of a democracy is that somehow — amid all the frenzy and the emotion — reason will prevail."

He called on his audience to exercise a great sense of responsibility during the campaign season — to be fair, impartial and honest.

"This is true," he said, "for broadcasters as well as for president— and seekers after the presidency."

Harking back to his stunning announcement of Sunday night, Johnson acknowledged that he has been a seeker of consensus.

"Yet along the way," he asserted, "I also learned that no leader can pursue public tranquility as his first goal. For a president to buy public popularity at the sacrifice of his best judgment is too dear a price. The nation cannot afford such a price or such a leader."

Johnson also alluded to his Sunday announcement of major curbs on bombing North Vietnam in the hope of spurring peace talks.

"I pray," he said, "that the message of peace I conveyed last night will be accepted in good faith by the leaders of North Vietnam."

"I pray that one night soon, the evening news will show — not another battle in the scarred hills of Vietnam — but men entering a room to talk about peace in Vietnam," he said.

"That is the event the American people are longing to see," the President declared.

The President concluded his text by saying he prayed that every American "will take to heart my plea that we guard against divisiveness."

Lubbock Man Top Artist

Hundreds of Snyder area residents, plus scores from other cities, were on hand Sunday afternoon for the opening of the Snyder Art Show; sponsored by the Diamond M Foundation.

"Bruster Mill" is the title of the top work in the show, a western scene dominated by a windmill, painted by Lonnie Mason of Lubbock. Mason accepted the $300 purchase prize from C. T. McLaughlin, head of the Diamond M Foundation, at a brief awards ceremony Sunday afternoon.

Ronald Thomason, the affable and well - known Weatherford and Fort Worth artist, who judged the show, was kept busy for hours as he generously conferred with dozens of artists who had exhibits in the show here. Thomason made himself available for several hours and was constantly in demand for criticism of pieces on exhibit and the artists sought him out for his opinions.

Other prizes announced during the awards presentation included the following:

Oils division — 1. "Blue Novice," by Peggy Sanders of Plainview; 2. "Gambler," by Dick Cheatam of Lubbock; 3. "On Jane's Ranch," by Mary June Holton of Lubbock; honorable mention, "The Take Out — Weighs the Ache" by Conny Martin of Lubbock, and "Bouquet" by Pat Nix of Lamesa.

Water color division — 1. "Old House," by Inez Parker of Midland; 2. "Receding Reflections" by R. B. Ferrier of Lubbock; 3. "O'Donnell Station," by Jay Huckabee of Snyder; honorable mention, "Church at Rancho de Taos" by Kathleen McFadden of Abilene, and "Lone Barn," by Dick Cheatam of Lubbock.

Mixed media — 1. "Leaves Nearby," by Betty Lynch of Midland; 2. "Mesa Verde," by Mona Pierce of Lubbock; 3. "At the Chuck Wagon," by Wayne Baize of Abilene; honorable mention, "Blue Table" by Beth Newcomb Buster of Odessa, and "Adobes in Santa Fe" by Kathlenn McFadden of Abilene.

The paintings in the show will remain on exhibit in the Scurry County Coliseum through this week. The show is open daily from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Several pieces of Thomason's work are on exhibit, being loaned for the showing here by the Baker Collection in Lubbock.

Thomason, speaking briefly at the outset of the awards ceremony, had praise for the show.

UNVEILS MARKER — Wright Huddleston, a former resident, unveils a marker at Knapp as Hugh Boren, Jr., chairman of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee, looks on. The top of a windmill appears behind the Old Post Office in the background.

Knapp Dedication Concludes History Appreciation Week

KNAPP — Some 70 former residents, members of the historical survey committee, and interested citizens gathered at the old Knapp Post Office Sunday afternoon to dedicate two historical markers.

One marker in front of the old Post Office commemorates the founding of the town. The other one, located several yards southeast of Knapp, calls attention to the Marcy Trail.

The ceremony Sunday concluded a week - long observance of "History Appreciation Week" in Scurry County.

Judy Huddleston, a former resident, gave a brief history of Knapp. Pioneers settled near Bull Creek in 1888 where herds of buffalo grazed, and they called their community "Bison." They founded a Baptist Church on the creek banks and a school in a nearby pasture. Bison was located on the fringe of the ranch belonging to A. P. Bush and Benjamin Tilar, both prominent early Texas cattlemen.

In 1890, the name of the town and Post Office (then housed in a dugout) became Knapp after the U. S. Post Office Department refused to accept Bison because it was a duplicate name. However, the school north of the Post Office continued to be known as the Bison School.

The Post Office closed in 1909 after a decade of "serving the oil boom workers."

Stock Market Surges In Early Hours

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market surged ahead early today on the highest first-hour trading volume in the history of the New York Stock Exchange.

The market's rally followed President Johnson's de-escalation of the Vietnam war and announcement that he will not seek re-election.

At 11:30 a.m., the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials had spurted 17.17 points to 857.84.

Volume in the first hour soared to 6.06 million shares, exceeding the previous record of 5.19 million shares on March 10, 1967, the New York Stock Exchange said.

The exchange ticker tape fell 13 minutes behind in reporting the flood of floor transactions. Many large blocks of shares crossed the tape.

Advances of individual stocks topped declines by a margin of about 11 to 1 on the New York exchange.

General Motors advanced $5 a share, an unusually high rise for this blue chip. Westinghouse Electric, Johns-Manville and U.S. Gypsum gained about $3. Eastman Kodak, International Nickel, Sperry Rand and Zenith were up about $3.

Brokers said the early bullish reaction was to be expected.

R. Z. Castillo Rites Held

Funeral Mass was said at 10:30 a.m. today at Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church for Ramon Z. Castillo, a resident of Snyder for 28 years, who died at 3:15 p.m. Saturday in Snyder Hospital.

The Rev. Herman Valladares officiated at the rites and burial was in Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Faustina Castillo; eight daughters, Mrs. Josephine Alvarez of Mount View, Calif., Mrs. Dora Gonzales of Midland, Mrs. Margie Rivera of Austin, Mrs. Helen Hall of Snyder, Mrs. Gloria Terrcero of Rock Springs, Mrs. Oralia Cortinas of Hondo, Mrs. Abalina Gomez and Mrs. Amelia Castillo, both of Snyder; three sons, Manuel of Midland, Freddie and Joe, both of Snyder; nine brothers, a sister, 53 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Impressive UIL Triumph For SHS

SWEETWATER — Snyder High School students who had clinched the district title in early events, went on for one of the most impressive showings ever in the District 3-AAA University Interscholastic League literary contests Saturday.

The Snyder entrants rolled up a total of 144 points, 124 of them in speech events.

Levelland finished a distant second for the team title with 95 points, while Sweetwater was third with 72.

City Election Is Slated Tomorrow

Snyder voters will go to the polls tomorrow to elect a mayor and three city councilmen.

All qualified voters who live within the corporate limits of the City of Snyder are eligible to vote in the election. The polls at the city hall will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Bobby McCormick, a former member of the City Council and who served as Mayor pro tem his last year on the council, is the only candidate for mayor. M. L. Broman, whose term expires after tomorrow's election, served two terms in that office and declined to seek a third term.

Each of the council races has two candidates. Joe Sentell and Wayne Monroney are seeking Council Post No. 2. Marshall Erwin, the incumbent in that post, did not seek re - election.

Jim Kincaid, an incumbent, is seeking his second term as Councilman, Place 4. He is opposed by Bill Aaron.

Also seeking a second term on the council is Rayburn Burgess, who holds the Place 6 post. He is opposed by Bert Dickenson.

Only five absentee ballots were cast in the city election.

The council will meet Tuesday night for its regular April session and will canvass results of the election as soon as they are available.

All offices in the city hall, including the Chamber of Commerce office, will be closed tomorrow during the election. Voting will be in the council room.

No Rush For London Gold

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — London's gold market reopened today and with indications gold's monetary role may be diminishing, there was no major bonanza for speculators whose buying rush closed the market 17 days ago.

This weekend's agreement in Stockholm to create "paper gold"—a new form of international credits for world trade—dealt speculators their biggest blow in months.

In effect, the world's major non-Communist trading nations, excluding France, agreed to accept each other's paper promises to repay part of their trading debts without the security of gold. This could be the first step on a long road leading to the end of gold as money, meaning a decline in the demand for the metal and drop in its price.

The price in the London free market ranged in early trading from $37.50 to $38 an ounce, less than $3 above the price of $35 formerly guaranteed by the United States and six other nations.

In Paris gold prices dipped for the fourth straight trading session today, following the weekend monetary decisions.

The price was the equivalent of $38.08 an ounce, the lowest since March 20. Volume continued relatively high—$5,011,000.

To keep the price down in the face of a gold rush which indicated lack of confidence in paper money, the gold pool nations had to supply gold from their own stocks to meet the demand.

At a meeting in Washington March 17, they decided to continue to settle accounts among themselves by transferring gold at $35 an ounce. But they decided to leave the free market price to fluctuate with supply and demand.

When the London market closed March 13, markets in Paris, Zurich and elsewhere remained open. To the surprise of some authorities and the shock of some gold hoarders, the price of gold rose less than $10 and then fell back. Some had been gambling it would double under panic demand.

But transactions in these small markets were not an accurate gauge. Hence the interest in today's reopening.

pointing out that it was blazed by Capt. R. B. Marcy so that settlers would have a safe route of travel through West Texas and to California.

The site of the Marcy marker is located near where a young Lieutenant in the Marcy expedition was killed by Indians. The officer was Montgomery Pike Harrison, grandson of President William Henry Harrison and the older brother of Benjamin Harrison, who later become president.

According to Sears, the young officer wandered from camp. When he failed to return, the members of the expedition fired a howitzer as a signal, but he still did not return. They discovered his body in a ravine about two miles west and one mile south of Ira. It was loaded in a wagon, packed with charcoal, and returned to Fort Smith, Arkansas for burial.

Many former residents of Knapp visited with each other, recalling early days in the community.

Included among the group of "old timers" were Aubrey Huddleston, Marvin Key, Jim Sorrells, Wright Huddleston, Claude Miller, Fred Miller, Charlie Wellborn, Earl Woolever, Hugh Taylor, Cecil Huddleston, Whitt Thompson and Wayne Williams.

Women present included Mrs. Wright Huddleston, Mrs. Roland Irving, Mrs. Ella Richter, Mrs. Ed Murphy, Mrs. Wayne Boren, Mrs. Ernest Brock, Mrs. W. C. Fargason, Miss Maggie Boone, Mrs. Clyde Brown, Miss Evelyn Boone, Mrs. Hugh Taylor and Mrs. Jim Sorrells.

Hugh Boren, Jr., president of the county historical survey committee, formally dedicated both markers, and County Judge Hugh Taylor accepted them.

George Killam, county attorney, and his wife, Mary, were among the guests.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Bill Parkey, and benediction was given by the Rev. Bill Brandon.

Golden Deeds Award To College President

FORT WORTH (AP) — Dr. Law Sone, president of Texas Wesleyan College, was named winner of the Fort Worth Exchange Club's 1967 Golden Deeds Award. He is credited with guiding the college from the brink of bankruptcy to financial stability.

Aggies Partial To Name 'Nancy'

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Texas Aggies apparently draw the line on rivalry when they select class sweethearts and other beauties.

U.T. cuties captured two straight beauty contests at A&M.

Two Sharp Quakes Jolt Japan Today

TOKYO (AP) — Two sharp earthquakes jolted Japan today. The first killed one person and injured 22 others, but there was no immediate report of damage or casualties from the second.

Both quakes had an intensity of four on a Japanese scale with a maximum of seven, the meteorological agency said, but the first, at 9:44 a.m., was slightly the stronger.

Texas Democrats Going Back To Drawing Board

AUSTIN (AP) — President Johnson's decisions not to run for reelection sent Texas' Democratic party planners back to the drawing board.

Every political strategy for 1968—precinct and state convention control, state party organization, support of national nominees and even the governor's race—will be affected by Johnson's one-sentence resignation as party leader.

State Democratic Chairman Will Davis quickly called a Tuesday meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee to ponder the situation.

In their first stunned reactions, Democratic party heads turned first to Gov. John Connally, who although a lame duck head executive himself, heads the only statewide party machinery existent.

However, it can be expected that a move will be made quickly by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., or at least his labor-liberal Democrat followers, to make a renewed attempt to seize party control from his bitter political enemy, Connally, big chieftain of party conservatives.

Yarborough made his own "I do not choose to run" decision in January after weeks of long and hard study of the state's political decision. Yarborough insisted he could wrest the governor's chair from Connally's followers, already disorganized by Connally's decision not to run.

Many believe President Johnson caused Yarborough to make his final decision that he was needed most in the Senate. His ability to support Johnson's program was one of the main reasons Yarborough gave.

Day-after speculation had some politicians already worrying if the Johnson-Yarborough feud would be resumed. The Texas senator and the then vice president fussed mightly over party power, particularly over federal appointments in Texas, until just hours before President Kennedy was assassinated. Shortly after Johnson became president, Yarborough became a swimming campanion in the White House pool and since then has appeared a political buddy of the President—until a couple of weeks ago.

Storage Of Water Ends

The annual storage of lake water in deaquified zones of the Martin County well field has terminated for this year with 328,725,000 gallons in the ground.

Paschal Odom, assistant to the general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said that the total injection was about on a par with last year.

Although the district withdrew 20,000,000 more gallons from storage last summer than was injected, the total now in the ground is 564,158,000 gallons, which gives a surplus in storage of 235,433,000.

Reason for putting the water in the ground during winter months is that it puts it nearer Odessa and available for that city's peaking purposes in summer months.

Arabs, Israelis Clash In Syria

TELAVIV (AP) — Arab Commandos clashed with an Israeli army patrol in an accupied section of Syria, and another Arab gunman shot down two Israeli soldiers in occupied Jordan Sunday, the Israeli Army announced.

The Army said one Arab and one Israeli were killed and two Israeli soldiers wounded in the clash in Syria, the first reported trouble in several months on the Syrian-Israeli cease-fire line, which is patroled by U.N. observers.

Callup Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense officials disclosed today the administration is planning a three-phase callup of military reserve forces which would involve the mobilization of around 60,000 men in coming months.

Pipoline Project Is Moving Well

Laying of the 36-in. pipeline of the Colorado River Municipal Water District from the Martin County pump station to Big Spring is moving satisfactorily.

At the weekend, Panhandle Construction Co., the contractor, was putting in 1,000 feet of line per day. This rate will likely be increased by 50 per cent. Meanwhile, United Concrete Pipe at Odessa has delivered over 8,000 feet of line and is to match its output with the contractors laying on the 33-mile line.

Several years ago, an enterprising chemical company decided that rather than offer fertilizer at a discount in the fall as a promotion, it would tailor a product especially for fall and winter use. The result is Nutro Winter Survival — containing 7-22-15.

A report from the Lawn Institute in Marysville, Ohio, on a test with heavy application of the product indicated no burn. The test also showed that the fertilizer had no significant ecological influence in encouraging one type of vegetation over the other, but it did significantly increase the density of turf as measured by the number of grass clums.

J. R. Stiffler, turf and garden products manager of Borden Chemical, said the lawn fertilizer was designed to promote deeper, sturdier roots that would assure improved winter survival of grasses when applied in autumn.

The formula differs chiefly from conventional fertilizers in its analysis of the three major turf foods — Nitrogen (7 per cent); phosphorous (22) and potach (15).

Nitrogen promotes speedy growth. Many spring and summer fertilizers have considerably more nitrogen than this winter product.

The manufacturer contends that warm - weather fertilizer (high in nitrogen) forces grass to grow during late season warm spells, exhausting the important elements it needs to sustain it through winter.

The company also recommends the product for beneficial root stimulation of trees and shrubs when applied after they have become dormant and have shed their foliage.

The recommended application for established lawns is 5 pounds per 1,000 square feet after September; for new lawns, 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet; for reseeding broadcast 5 pounds per 1,000 square feet; for shrubs and evergreens, after dormancy, 2-3 pounds per 100 square feet; for individual plants, one or two small handfuls, depending on the size of plant; trees, late fall, winter or spring, during dormancy, new trees, one - half pound per inch of trunk; trees 2 to 6 inches in diameter, 2 pounds per inch; 6 or more inches, 3 pounds per inch.

Top Bulbs Selected

Visitors to Holland have chosen their favorite spring bulbs. The International Selections include 10 tulips, a hyacinth and a daffodil.

The tulips are:

London, blood red, tinted with scarlet, a Darwin hybrid; Yellow Dawn, Greigii hybrid, purple - red base and red blotches; Arabian Mystery, Triumph, deep violet, white edging; Gander, Darwin, bright magenta; West Point, lily - flowering, primrose-yellow; Karel Doorman, Parrot, cherry - red with cream edges on petals; Balalaika, Cottage, red and yellow; Maureen, Cottage, white and ivory; Cantata, Fosteriana, vermillion; Johann Strauss, Kaufmanniana, ivory - white with red flush on petals.

The hyacinth is Pink Pearl, with broad spike, and the daffodile is Yellow Sun, two - tone of yellow and broad cups.

Gardeners from all over the world made the selections in the Keukenhof garden.

House Cleaning Aid Provides More Leisure

Spring cleaning hours are about to be replaced with sunbathing, shopping and a myriad of activities the modern homemaker likes better.

Secret of this new, shortened semi-annual household chore is a trio of disposable cleaning aids. Housecleaning jobs are completed more quickly, more efficiently and with no extra rubbing or scrubbing.

New disposable dusters take to fine furniture safely. Lemon-scented, the dusters contain a special ingredient that traps dust, without leaving an oily film or telltale lint. They are soft and pliable for easy handling and dusting hard-to-reach areas such as carved furniture legs and ornamental work. And, like the new window cleaners and metal polishers, the dusters prevent another chore before it happens — cleaning dirty rags.

After a winter's accumulation of snow, dirt and grime, windows need a spring face-lifting too. The chore's made easier — and faster — with disposable window cleaners. The cleaners are a wet-and-wash product that produce a lint-free, clean window. They contain their own heavy-duty window cleaning agent. Simply dip the window cleaner in water and wash away winter dirt from up to three average - size windows. No rinsing is needed; just dry with paper towels.

Disposable metal polishers are paper sheets containing fine polishes for use on silver, gold, brass and copper. These complete polishing kits in one paper are used by simply wetting the metal surface to be polished and wiping the disposable polisher over the metal.

Marinate chicken pieces in a mixture of olive oil, dry vermouth and crushed garlic before baking or broiling.

G. Potieger Speaks To AAUW

Gill Potieger, foreign exchange student from Port Elizabeth, Africa, showed slides of her homeland and told of the customs and the educational system there, for the March program of AAUW.

Miss Potieger, whose home in Snyder is with Mr. and Mrs. Malven Stevenson, spoke of her mother's work as a teacher and commented that students wear uniforms to school and meet the high standards of scholarship set up by government tests. Of special interest were the beaded ornaments and decorated vases made by Africaners that she displayed. The speaker has been active in many phases of high school and has an excellent command of English.

Mrs. Glen Holladay presented the guest speaker with a portable bulletin board as a token of the club's appreciation of an excellent program.

Mrs. Edna McConnell and Mrs Holladay were elected delegates to the Southwest Spring Regional Conference in Houston, and Mrs. Sterling Parker, corresponding secretary, reported that program material for the ensuing year has arrived from National Headquarters of American Association of University Women in Washington. Mrs. Forrest Beavers gave a special report about Texas AAUW's and four new members.

Mrs. J. M. Glass and Carolyn Reon served refreshments to the speaker and 12 members and a guest, Mrs. Wilson Bright, carrying out a spring motif.

You'll need several thicknesses of paper toweling, instead of just one thickness, when you are using the toweling for draining food that has been deep-fat fried. If brown paper is on hand, it may be used instead of the toweling for the draining.

Spring Sportswear Colorful

Fashion — not fad — is the story in men's sportswear for spring - summer '68.

With classic styling, subdued patterns and full-spectrum colors combining to create new dimensions of elegance and sophistication, sportswear has a high fashion flavor this season.

Don't be misled by the 'high fashion' phrase. Sportswear won't emphasize the extreme and avant - garde this season.

Fads — such as extra-wide ties and naked leather shoes — will always be a factor, but their appeal is very limited. Men continue to favor traditionalism, and find true fashion in today's tailored, masculine sportswear, with color and pattern innovations providing a fresh, exciting look that's always in good taste.

Again this season, the key to wardrobe planning is coordination, beginning with slack selection. Slacks are leaders in terms of color, texture and pattern variety. A sampling of the featured slack shades — spice, terra cotta, brass, bamboo, melon and pumpkin — testifies to the spring color explosion and the importance of choosing this coordinate first.

Light weight cavalry twills, Italian plain weaves, Dacron worsteds and sharkskin head the fabric list for warm weather wear. Complimenting these textures are subtle plaid, neat check and striped patterns, which emerge with boldness when combined with the vibrant shades of the season.

Among other sportswear items, shirts emphasize new color treatments, and many are squared off at the bottom with inside or outside of slacks. Sherbert shade sweaters in rashcel knits, basket weaves, cables and cobblestones, along with bright, solid-tone sport coats and blazers, are colored to compliment the new slack patterns and hues.

The fashion look for men this season is classic, colorful and carefully coordinated. Men will find sportswear offers them a choice and variety of clothing which enables them to express their individuality and surroundings — in the best of taste and the highest of fashion.

Kathy Hess Hostess To Hermleigh 4-H

The Hermleigh 4-H Club met recently at the community center with Jean Peterson presiding. Following the pledge, and motto, Denise Sanderfur read the minutes. They were approved.

A discussion was held on future plans for the club, after which the girls did embroidery work.

Refreshments were served by Kathy Hess to Jan Glass, Debbie Kruger, Denise Sanderfur, Jean Peterson, Travey Kruger, Lauri Peterson and Mrs. J. P. Sanderfur Jr.

Wine And Anxiety

Wines are useful in the most prevalent of all disease conditions — anxiety, according to a leading physician. The moderate use of wine while eating is the pleasantest and probably the most effective tranquilizer known to medical men.

ELIZAHETH ODOM

Teachers Set Awards Banquet

The annual Snyder Classroom Teachers Association and the Scurry County unit of TSTA will hold a service awards banquet on Tuesday, April 9, at 7 p.m. Dr. Guy Newman, President Howard Payne College, Brownwood will be the guest speaker.

State Convention

Mrs. Elizabeth Odom will serve as a member of the Credentials and Ballots Committee team of the State Elections Committee for the Texas Classroom Teachers Association which will hold its state convention in San Angelo on April 5-6.

The most important item to be voted on during the convention will be a new state constitution for the TCTA.

Mrs. Odom was honored recently at the District TCTA Convention held in Snyder, where she was presented a state service award for leadership in the local CTA unit.

Fish Debabs Swing!

Start the first barbeque of the season off with a flourish. Fish fillets make swinging outdoor fare. Thaw a dozen individually frozenlake perch fillets, and brush lightly with butter. Add a seasoning of salt, paprika and ¼ cup minced parsley. Put a slice of onion across the center of each fillet, roll the fillets up, and secure them with toothpicks which have been soaked in water. Add a bright cherry tomato and a wedge of green pepper, and place the fish kebabs on a well greased grill. Brush occasionally during cooking with a sauce made from ¼ cup melted butter, 1 tablespoon bottled lemon juice and ¼ cup minced parsley. Cook about 5 minutes per side.

The Three "O's"

Everybody is familiar with the "Three R's of Learning," but a survey shows that very few people know the "Three O's."

According to the survey, the "O's" are Ophthalmologist, Optician and Optometrist. The Ophthalmologist is the eye medical doctor; the Optician specializes in designing, fabricating and dispensing eyewear prescribed by the Ophthalmologist, while the Optometrist measures refractive errors and muscle disturbances. His treatment includes glasses, prisims and exercise.

Fill rounds or squares of pie dough with a mixture of thick jam and chopped nuts and seal in turnover fashion. After baking, sprinkle these good pastry cookies with confectioners sugar.

Senior 4-H Club Changes Meeting Date To Saturday

The Snyder Senior 4-H Club met Thursday afternoon with Kathy Rhodes, president presiding.

Minutes were read and approved. Plans for team demonstration were made.

A motion was made and carried to hold meetings on Saturday mornings instead of Thursdays. This will give the leaders and members more time for demonstrations and business sessions.

Elaine McArthur gave a demonstration on broiled chicken. The members were impressed with the finished dish.

Those present were Kathy Rhodes, Peggy Casey, Elaine McArthur, Marquita Ortiz, the leader and one guest, Mrs. Ortiz.

Creative Environment

Preschool youngsters learn while doing, and with the necessary room and tools "to do", learning is fun too. Research suggests giving your before - kindergarten child a "play and learn center" of his own — a creative environment where he can use his blocks, puzzles, chalk board, hammers and pegs and other toys to learn while playing.

Memphis Mess Worries Civil Rights Backers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The window-smashing, head-bashing violence in Memphis is worrying the men trying to line up House votes for the Senate-passed civil rights bill.

Although the Memphis demonstrations are on behalf of striking garbage collectors, not civil rights, any clashes between Negroes and law enforcement officials are cited by congressional opponents of civil rights laws as proof of the futility of passing such legislation.

"Every time I go home after one of these outbreaks," said a Northern House member who has been in the forefront of the fight for civil rights legislation, "People say, 'See! What good does it do?' "

Supporters of the present bill, which calls for banning discrimination in about 80 per cent of the nation's housing, express fear that photographs of looters, policemen clubbing Negro youths, and soldiers and armored vehicles in the streets of Memphis will help harden into opposition the views of the wavering few on whom the bill's passage now appears to depend.

"This thing is touch-and-go now," said a House leader scrounging for votes. "A good many members are just looking for an excuse to vote against open housing and this could be it."

Five years ago the violent repression of Negro demonstrations in Birmingham and Selma, Ala., and other Southern cities aroused national sympathy and made possible passage of the civil rights bills of 1964 and 1965.

But after Negro rioting, burning and looting in Northern cities in recent years, congressmen are being pressured by constituents in many cases to push for antiriot laws rather than civil rights measures.

House leaders are making every effort to bring the bill to a vote by April 10, the day before the House shuts down for a 10-day Easter recess, largely because when it reconvenes Martin Luther King is due to launch his summer-long "poor people's march" in Washington.

King's leadership of last week's Memphis demonstration that got out of hand now is being used to raise the threat of violence in the capital from his campaign.

King, speaking Sunday to an overflow congregation at Washington Cathedral, said his demonstrations beginning April 22 will involve up to 4,000 selected demonstrators "trained in the technique of nonviolence."

He said even those Washington-based civil rights militants who disagree with the nonviolent approach have pledged to cooperate and not to interfere.

Most congressional voices being raised in alarm at the prospect of King's demonstration are tinged with Southern accents, but far from all.

Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., only Negro member of the Senate, has expressed concern that King's plans could go awry in Washington just as they did in Memphis.

By speedy action on the Senate civil rights bill, House leaders hoped to avoid entangling it in the tensions of racial conflict. Memphis, and the dark threat it may spark eruptions in other cities, has dashed that hope.

Many Cities Begin Sales Tax Collection

Residents in more than 100 Texas cities began paying a penny more for each one dollar's worth of items purchased today.

The additional amount was the one per cent city sales tax voted in at special elections last year. The tax will be collected along with the two per cent state sales tax.

However, not everything purchased will be assessed the new tax. Items exempt include groceries, housing, prescription medicines, gasoline, automobiles, tobacco products, agricultural equipment, garage sale merchandise and alcoholic beverages except when purchased with a meal.

There are now about 9,210 civil airports in the United States.

AT EUNICE TOURNAMENT

Tors Nip Tigers 5-4 For 3rd

EUNICE, N. M. — Those late innings proved to be Snyder's downfall at the annual baseball tournament here last weekend.

Lamesa rallied to score a 5-4 verdict over the Tigers in a 9-inning tilt that decided third place. The Bengals took it on the chin 8-5 in the second round against Monahans in a game that went one extra inning. However, the Snyder boys sacked up their first tilt against Roswell Goddard 6-1 with some power hitting of their own.

Unless a make - up game can be arranged, the Tigers will not see action again until Tuesday, April 9, when they go to Brownfield for their first District 3-AAA contest.

That third place battle with Lamesa was a real thriller. The Tornadoes took a 3-0 lead in the fourth on a walk to Tijerina, a home run by Russell, a single by Shook and a double by Harris.

Snyder went ahead, 4-3 in the fifth frame. Merce Hernandez led off with a single to right and came in on a towering home run by David McGinnis. It was the fourth circuit clout of the tournament by the Tigers — Jim Patrick, Steve Moffett and Ronnie Lewis had knocked 4 - baggers in the opener against Goddard.

Max Moreland singled after the home run, but was forced at second. Jodi Williamson walked and Richie Thompson reached first on a fielder's choice. Both runners came in on a resounding triple by Ronnie Lewis.

Lamesa tied it up, 4-4, in the 6th on a home run by Shook.

Snyder threatened in the 6th and 7th. Hernandez singled in the 6th and made it all the way to third, but the Tigers couldn't bring him in. Jodi Williamson singled and made it to third in the 7th, but died there.

The game went into extra innings and Vaughn, the winning pitcher, iced it down with a home run in the top of the 9th.

Snyder threatened again in the 9th, but couldn't get anyone past third base. Jodi made it to first on a fielder's choice and went to third on a double by Thompson. But a grounder to short ended the Tiger hopes. Hernandez went the distance for Snyder, giving up only six hits, and the Bengals collected seven — one more than Lamesa — as a team.

That 5-8 second round loss to Monahans also was a heart-breaker. After Snyder had countered twice in the bottom of the 7th to tie the tilt at 4-all, Monahans cracked two home runs, a double and a single in the extra 8th inning to claim the verdict. Purser and Hammitt delivered the big blows.

The Tigers fought back gamely, scoring one run as Williamson singled, stole second, and crossed home plate on another base hit by Mickey Almond, but the Lobo lead was too great to overcome.

Monahans took a 1-0 lead in the 4th, then Snyder shot ahead 2-1 in the 6th on doubles by Hernandez and McGinnis and a single by Steve Moffett. Monahans went out front again in the 7th, 4-2, on a double by Hammitt.

Snyder tied it up in its half of the 7th on singles by Jim Patrick, Merce Hernandez and Larry Wadzeck.

Patrick, the losing pitcher, gave up 11 hits, while Purser, the winner, allowed 12.

1320 yard relay — (Ramos, Knight, Hartsfield and Waters) 2nd.

660 yard dash — Hartsfield 2nd.

1320 run — Tyrone third.

high jump — Don Dyess, first.

Longhorns In Showdown

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The triple tie at the top of the Southwest Conference baseball standings should be resolved early this week when two of the trip—Baylor and Texas—hook up in a three-game series.

The other one, Texas A&M, can just sit back, play some nonconference games to fill up its time, and watch Texas and Baylor cut each other up.

Whirling to the halfway mark in the race, Baylor and Texas A&M each is 4-2. Texas is 6-3.

The Bears and Longhorns play a double-header at Austin Wednesday and a single game Thursday. The Aggies will be host to Missouri on Monday and Tuesday and go to Houston to play University of Houston Thursday.

Texas Christian, ruely knocked from the lead the past week because of a double-defeat at the hands of Texas A&M, will try to climb back into the race in a series at Fort Worth with Rice Friday and Saturday. The Frogs, who already have lost four, can't afford another defeat if they expect to stay in the race.

The Aggies knocked over Texas Christian 16-3 and 2-0.

Texas Tech finally won a game last week. After dropping two to Rice, Tech came back for an 8-1 triumph in the third game. It was the first time for Tech, which is in the championship race initially, to win a conference game.

Lamar Girls Lose Out

BIG SPRING — Lamar Junior High's 8th and 9th grade volleyball teams won one and lost four matches during the tournament here Saturday.

The 8th graders dropped a 8-15, 13-5 decision to Goliad in the first game. Sallie Reyes was high point girl with seven points.

The 8th grade also fell in their second match, losing to Lamesa 15-5, 4-15 and 11-15. Cynthia Schiebel tallied nine points for Lamar.

The 9th graders put down the hosts 15-6, 15-7 in the first round with Starlett Vaughn scoring 10 points.

They lost out in the semifinals, 5-15, 15-12, and 2-15 to Pecos, although Vaughn tallied eight points.

Sallie Reyes made the All-Tournament team for 8th graders, and Sallie Tavarez was similarly honored among 9th graders.

Limey Is Champ At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) —Not since Ted Ray took the U.S. Open in 1920 had an English golfer won a major American tournament.

Then along came Tony Jacklin, quietly happy Tony Jacklin. A golfer with ice water in the veins—the kind that wins and wins and becomes great.

At the age of 23, Jacklin is a winner with every promise of joining the ranks of the great—which he thinks of as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Ben Hogan, but with no idea of patterning himself after any one of them.

He said he was nervous, but he never showed it as he faced down Palmer in the final round of the greater Jacksonville Open Sunday. He admitted he utilized "Arnie's Army" as his own battery-charger to a 15-under-par 273 and the $20,000 first money.

It was the first time a golfer from England had ever won on the Professional Golfers Association tour.

Even before Jacklin hit the jackpot, Player was calling him potentially the greatest English golfer since Henry Cotton and the man most likely to be his nation's next sports hero.

Palmer had dropped out of contention early after starting the day one stroke back of Jacklin. Doug Sanders, who couldn't match his golf strokes to his fire-engine-red wardrobe, faded after holding at least a share of the lead through three rounds.

Sanders' 73, with the help of a 40-foot finishing putt, tied him for second at 275 with Don January, Gardner Dickinson, Chi Chi Rodriguez and DeWitt Weaver Jr. Each collected $6,520.

Palmer was at 276 and Jack Nicklaus, never a contender throughout the 72-hole event, finished 23rd at 280.

Bo Back In Fold

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Pitcher Bo Belinsky is back with the Houston Astros.

Belinsky left the club two weeks ago after Astro officials refused to grant him permission to stay out after curfew on a date with Jo Collins, magazine pinup girl.

Belinsky later announced his engagement to Miss Collins.

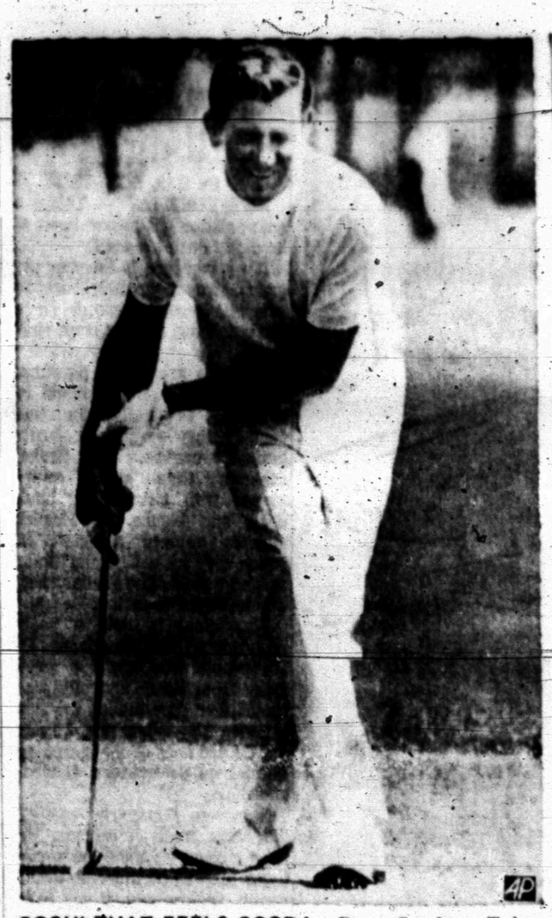

The controversial left-hander, who pitched a no-hitter for the Los Angeles Angels in 1962, was allowed to return to the Astros Sunday to work himself back in shape.

He pitched two innings for Dallas-Fort Worth, an Astro farm club, which defeated Charlotte 7-4 in an exhibition baseball game.

Speculation is that Belinsky will pitch with the Astros' minor league club here while Houston General Manager H.B. Richardson tried to complete a transaction that would have Belinsky playing for Hawaii, with the Chicago White Sox paying his salary.

Belinsky has said he plans to open a dude ranch in Hawaii.

In his two-inning stint for Dallas-Fort Worth, Belinsky allowed no hits, walked one and struck out three. Only one ball was hit out of the infield against him. And he drove in a run with a single.

OOOH! THAT FEELS GOOD — Doug Sanders, Tulsa, Okla., has that good feeling as he drops a putt on the 9th green in the $100,000 Jacksonville Open. He fired a first round 65, 7 under par, to take a one stroke lead over Julius Boros. (AP Wirephoto)

Thinlies Place 5th At Seminole

SEMINOLE — Snyder's Tigers finished higher than four other District 3-AAA track and field teams entered in the Meet here last weekend, but still finished in only fifth place with 49 points.

Big Spring won the team championship, Andrews was runnerup, Denver City placed third and Seminole was fourth. Teams that finished below the Tigers included Levelland, Littlefield, Brownfield, Lamesa and Muleshoe.

The Bengals grabbed two blue ribbons. John Schiebel won the high jump by clearing 6-0, and Dwaine Boydstun took first in the broad jump with a leap of 20-4½.

Schiebel also placed third in the broad jump with a distance of 20-0¼, and he placed fifth in the 220 yard dash with a time of 23.6. The lanky senior qualified for the finals in the high hurdles, but he hit the second hurdle in the run for points.

Snyder's team also picked up a couple of second places. Morris Smith was runnerup in the 440 yard dash with a 50.7 clocking — his best time of the season. Eloy Benitez also registered his best time of the year — a 4:41.7 in the mile run, but he finished second.

Mark Gilstrap tied for fourth in the pole vault by clearing 10-6, and Roy Lee took fifth in the 880 yard dash with a 2:05.9 clocking. It was his best time of the year.

Coach Bill Hartsfield said he was pleased with the potential displayed by several other boys. Barry Park, for instance, was timed at 55.5 in the 440. It was his best open quarter. Larry Lofton, running for the first time since the Comanche Relays at Ft. Stockton, sprinted to a 53.5 clocking in the open quarter. In his second mile run of the year Preston Lane recorded a 4:57.1.

The District 3 - AAA Track and Field Meet will be held next Saturday at Levelland. Representatives of the various teams were in Snyder this morning working out details.

BIG SPRING — Travis Junior High's 8th and 9th grade volleyball teams had a rough day in the tournament here Saturday, losing all of their matches.

Travis 8th fell 4-15, 8-15 to Seminole in the first round, then dropped a 4-15, 13-15 decision to Runnels in the Consolation bracket.

Sheryl Cargile and Vicki Jones were high point girls for Travis in the two matches with 8 and 6 points respectively.

Travis 9th drew a bye in the first round, then lost to Big Spring 6-15, 15-12 and 13-15. In their next contest, Travis 9th lost 6-15, 2-15 to Lamesa.

Linda Holdren was outstanding for Travis, scoring 17 points in the two games. Rovella Briner contributed 8 points.

The 9th graders will be at Lamesa at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday for another match.

Bengal Golfers Set 3-AAA Pace

Snyder High School's golf team continues to set the pace in the District Golf Tournament, holding a 5 - stroke lead after the second round which was held Saturday at Snyder Country Club.

The Tigers fired a team total of 317 Saturday for a two-match 650 score. Sweetwater also carded a 317 Saturday and is 665 overall for the runnerup spot.

Other team scores with Saturday's round listed first: Lamesa 322-656, Levelland 339-677, Brownfield 360-717, Snyder "B" 364-773, Littlefield 386-797.

The third and concluding round will be held next Saturday at Levelland. "I hope our 5-stroke lead will hold up," said Coach J. P. Ward, whose Tigers are defending champions.

Mitch Rambin continued to hold the individual lead with a 76 Saturday for a two - round 152 total. Lamesa's Ronnie Rosson, the runnerup, carded a 75 Saturday, but he's five strokes off the pace with a 157 total. Benny Ward of Snyder also fired a 75 for a 159 total and third place. Paul Burleson shot a 78 for a 160 total and fourth place.

Green Sparks Philadelphia Past New York 123-105

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The depleted Philadelphia 76ers have managed to hang onto their five starters but they had to replace their sparkplug to get moving against the New York Knicks.

Johnny Green, 34 years old and without a playoff game in his National Basketball Association career until nine days ago, provided the spark Sunday as the 76ers ran over the Knicks 123-105 in Philadelphia.

Filling in for hot-shot sixth man Billy Cunningham, who is out with a broken wrist, Green fused a third quarter rally with five points and six rebounds for a 92-80 lead, and the 76ers never looked back.

The victory put the injury-riddled world champion 76ers up 3-2 in this best-of-7 Eastern Division semifinal series with a chance to wrap it up tonight in New York.

"We're in the driver's seat now," said 76er Coach Alex Hannum.

Boston, expected to meet Philadelphia in the division final playoff after finishing second to the 76ers in regular season play, stood by its old standbys for a similar decisive third quarter that downed Detroit 110-96 in Boston.

The Celtics, also taking a 3-2 lead, can clinch their series in Detroit tonight.

The St. Louis Hawks, their backs against the wall at the Washington University Field House in St. Louis, rebounded to a 129-103 rout over San Francisco and sent that Western Division semifinal back to San Francisco Tuesday night.

The Warriors, who finished 13 games behind the Hawks in regular season play, still hold a 3-2 lead.

Favored Los Angeles did not let Chicago off the hook and won their set, 4-1, by crushing the Bulls 122-99 Sunday night in Los Angeles.

In the American Basketball Association, Denver evened its best-of-5 semifinal series at 2-2 by beating New Orleans 108-100.

Green, who has bounced around the NBA for nine years and came to the 76ers from San Diego in January, got nine points to help Philadelphia to a 56-all halftime tie. Playing with an injury — a dislocated finger — like four of the 76er starters, he finished with 16 points and 11 rebounds.

"I realize I have to make some contribution like Billy has been making," he said, calling Sunday's contribution his greatest thrill.

Hal Greer led Philadelphia with 38 points while Cazzie Russell had 31 for the Knicks.

Bailey Howell, Sam Jones and John Havlicek lit the fuse under Boston as the Celtics turned an eight-point deficit early in the third period into an 83-80 lead entering the fourth. Detroit never caught up.

St. Louis zoomed to a 17-point first quarter lead and San Francisco never got closer than 10 as Bill Bridges scored 28 points and Lou Hudson 26 for the Hawks.

The Lakers increased a 58-55 halftime lead to a 75-60 bulge with their own third-quarter blitz against the Bulls. Elgin Baylor led Los Angeles with 32 points.

Denver, aided when New Orleans' Doug Moe fouled out with the game tied 86-all, grabbed a 16-point lead as White Murrell scored 16 of his 28 points in the final period.

Senate Proves Gag Rule May Have Its Advantages

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "gag rule" which the House of Representatives often invokes on the consideration of legislation is regularly denounced by opponents as an unconscionable handicap to congressional discussion and action.

But the Senate, which has no such rule, has just spent a week demonstrating that there may be a lot to be said for the procedure.

The device, known more formally as a closed rule, amounts to this: The House Rules Committee—with the approval of a majority of the membership at large—can decree that the House vote yes or no on a measure before it, without any opportunity to alter it by offering amendments on th floor.

The Senate received from the House a simple bill to postpone reductions in the excise taxes on automobiles and telephone service and speed up corporate tax collections.

It is part—the lesser part—of President Johnson's program to raise some $12 billion extra revenue to reduce the big budget deficits now impending. The major, and far more controversial part, is an income tax increase which neither chamber has approved.

The Senate, true to its tradition of unlimited debate and amendment, went to work with a will on the House-passed measure. By the time it wearily quit for the weekend Friday it had debated 22 amendments—almost none of which related directly to the basic bill—and adopted 11. Still to be taken up were an undetermined number, including one block-buster—an effort to graft onto the bill an income-tax increase accompanied by a whopping cut in spending.

Meanwhile time ran out on the excise tax extension. As of today, by existing law, the rate on automobiles drops five percentage points and on telephone service, seven.

If the controversy does not drag on too long, the practical effect may not be too severe—automobile manufacturers and telephone companies were reported planning to continue paying the taxes, since the basic extension bill is not in dispute and would be retroactive to April 1 when passed.

Even so, legal questions may arise, especially if, for example, many telephone bills go out to customers while the issue is still at least technically unsettled.

The House invariably brings up tax bills under closed rules and with debate time limits set in advance, averting the possibility of such tieups.

The argument against the closed rule is obvious: A House majority controlling the Rules Committee could jam prefabricated legislation through.

It could present a conscientious member with an unhappy choice—voting for a bill whose general purpose he approves but which contains some elements he considers unwise, or voting against it and probably killing for a session any chance of dealing with a pressing problem.

Arguments for the closed rule are, first, that writing legislation on the floor is bad business. The committees of Congress are supposed to give expert consideration to legislation, weigh alternatives, take testimony and bring to the floor the version they think best on balance.

All their work could be disrupted by a member's offering of an irresponsible, but politically attractive amendment. The closed rule also can protect a member against pressure from some special interest in his district, an especially important consideration in tax legislation.

A Junior Editors Quiz About RAIN FORESTS

QUESTION; Why are certain woodlands called rain forests?

* * * * *

ANSWER: Forests seem to love rain. They seem to want to soak up water so the forest floor can remain damp. In doing this, they serve all of us, for forests hold water in, preventing disastrous floods and runoffs. Many forests grow where there is a change in the seasons; that is, where a dry part of the year will be followed by one of rain. But there is a part of the world, north and south about 20 degrees from the equator, where the climate remains warm all the time and is very damp, except for those areas where special conditions have created deserts. The fascinating, romantic woodlands in this belt are called tropical rain forests. They range from the great rain forests around the Amazon river in South America to rain forests in Africa, India and southeastern Asia. Jaguars, tigers, monkeys, parrots and a great many unusual animals live in these forests. Do you see all the animals in our picture? There are 9. Some interesting rain forests existing in a temperate zone are found in the American northwest, such as the area of the Olympic National Forest (shown in black). Moisture-laden winds blowing continually from the Pacific Ocean release rain as they break against the Cascade Mountains. The huge trees thus are shrouded in soft mosses which carpet everything in damp velvety green.

Quotable notables: "To find a career to which you are adapted by nature, and then to work hard at it, is about as near to a formula for success and happiness as the world provides."—Mark Sullivan.

I swear: Can you imagine the money the federal government could collect if it made profanity illegal and penalized it with heavy fines? Well, it has been tried. Such a law, called the "Profane Oaths Act," was passed in England in 1745. Violators were fined according to their station in life.

Feeling blue? Well, that's becoming one of the most commonplace mental woes of Western culture, perhaps an unavoidable price we pay for our complex civilization. Dr. Nathan S. Kline of New York's Rockland State Hospital says the diagnoses of neurotic depression have leaped tenfold in the last 25 years.

Maybe you suffer from nightmares, too. In the Middle Ages they were believed to be caused by nocturnal devils pressing down on a sleeping person's chest. The word nightmare comes from an old Teutonic term meaning "night devil."

It was Mark Twain who observed, "The man who is a pessimist before 48 knows too much; the man who is an optimist after 48 knows too little."

Judy Canova Suffers Emphysema Attack

ALTADENA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Judy Canova was taken to Lovina Sanitarium in Altadena when she suffered an attack of emphysema Sunday, the sheriff's office said.

The 51-year-old comedienne reportedly was taken from a private nursing home. A spokesman for the sanitarium said her condition was good.

Declining Demand Puzzles Refiners

HOUSTON (AP) — Petroleum refiners are a bit puzzled by a decline in the domestic demand for lubricating oils.

This will be one of the problems under study Monday and Tuesday at the 66th meeting of the National Petroleum Refiners Association.

The future of the federal highway program also will be a major item on the agenda that is expected to attract 1,500 refiners and representatives of allied segments of the industry from 25 states, Canada, Puerto Rico, Mexico and seven European nations.

On Wednesday the refiners will move to the Astrodome area to participate in the three-day national pollution control conference that is to be attended by 4,000 representatives of industry and government.

The conference will serve as a forum for the exchange of information on governmental regulations regarding pollution and technological advances being made within industry to control pollution. The latest equipment for the control of water and air pollution, noise abatement, and solid waste disposal also will be on display.

The refiners have developed the program for a Thursday technical session on petroleum and petrochemical pollution problems. Similar sessions also will be held by representatives of the chemical, power, pulp and paper, transportation, automobile, heavy industry, mining, and coal industries.

Friday's final session will include reports on the medical implications of pollution and the educational aspects of pollution control.

The Monday-Tuesday program includes sessions on refining technology management problems, highways, asphalt, lubricants, and insurance.

Several government and industry studies are under way to pinpoint reasons why domestic demand for lubricants dropped to 44.2 million barrels in 1967. This was 9.6 per cent below 1966.

The problem will be discussed by L. H. Austin, director of marketing research and planning for the Gulf Oil Corp.

The future of the federal highway program will be discussed by Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., the ranking minority member of the House Public Works Committee.

Highway matters have received increased attention from the refiners in recent years in that highway adequacy affects motor fuel and asphalt demand as well as taxation.

During the asphalt session, J. E. Buchanan, president of the Asphalt Institute, College Park, Md., will describe asphalt as gas line's best salesman.

The keynote speaker for the refiners will be Fred L. Hartley, Los Angeles, president of the Union Oil Co. of California.

Congressional participants in the pollution conference discussions will include Senator Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., Senator J. Caleb Boggs, R-Del., Rep. Emilio Daddari, D-Conn., Rep. John Blatnik, D-Minn., and Rep. George Bush, R-Tex.

Have Gun Will Travel

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The 10 members of the Robinson Township police force placed a newspaper advertisement that read in part: "Police department for hire . . . have gun will travel." They said the town offered them a $25 a month raise to present salaries of $4,800 to $5,700 a year but they wanted at least $100 a month.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A while back someone wrote to you complaining because motion pictures were getting dirtier and dirtier. And you replied, "Now that Mr. Jack Valenti is president of the Motion Picture association, we can all sleep a little better."

I don't know about you, Abby, but I haven't been sleeping any better since Mr. Valenti took over. Could Mr. Valenti be the one who is sleeping? So far I haven't noticed any improvement. If anything, I think movies are dirtier than ever. Why doesn't your Mr. Valenti do something?

I don't expect to see this in print. You'll probably just toss it into the wastebasket, but I had to write anyway. Sincerely,

"SOLD OUT"

DEAR SOLD OUT: I didn't toss your letter into the wastebasket. Instead I tossed it into an envelope and sent it to Mr. Valenti. His reply:

"DEAR SOLD OUT: I wish I had all the power you credit me with. If I did, I would change things a mite. When it comes to passing judgment on a film, even the experts can't agree on what is "dirty." What the motion picture code attempts to do in this democratic society — where there is NO censorship — is to inform the public honestly about the content of the film, then let parents make the judgments. That is the only democratic way. The alternative is despotism, where a small group decides for all.

If parents cannot control and guide their children, are we to deliver that responsibility to the state? And remember, Sold Out, the state is people, "and thus a handful of mortals will be gathering unto themselves one enormous amount of power." Then who would watch the watchers? And—who would guard the guardians?-Sincerely, Jack Valenti."

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is in a home for unwed mothers now. She has decided to give her baby up for adoption. I won't go into the reasons for her decision, but I think she's doing the right thing. She's only 15. She doesn't even want to see the baby. She says it will be easier to forget if she doesn't.

Abby, even tho it would be a lie, what harm would there be if I were to tell her that her baby died? I am not asking her doctor to tell the lie — will take all the responsibility myself. I just want the doctor and the people at the home where she will deliver the baby to back me up on my story.

My daughter has suffered enough already, and I only want to make it easier for her by telling her that her baby died. She won't have to go thru life wondering where her child is. I can see only good in this lie, but if you think I'm wrong, please tell me why, and I'll do as you say. Thank you.

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your motives are "good" — but one cannot accomplish good with evil acts. I advise you to forget this scheme. It is morally wrong.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were discussing a letter we had read in your column. It was from a woman who complained because when she and her children said "grace" at the table and thanked God for their food, her husband said, "Don't thank God — thank me. I'm the one who earned the money to put the food on this table!" We joked about it and forgot the incident. But our 5-year-old son didn't forget.

At dinner when he said the blessing, first he said, "Thank you, daddy, for my food." Then he bowed his head and said, "and Thank you, God for my daddy."

Houston Principals Disaffiliated

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Elementary Principals Association has been disaffiliated from the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association because it practices segregation, the president of the state group said Sunday.

Stockton, head of the state organization, made the announcement as about 60 persons picketed the national convention of the Department of Elementary School Principals for the second straight day.

Fred Cuny, chairman of the education committee of the Houston Council on Human Relations, said the convention was being picketed because one of the official hosts is Raymond C. Roebuck, president of the Houston association.

The South Suburban Schools Council, composed of urban principals, said that it will offer a resolution at the convention that also censures the Houston association's non-white status. The Texas State Teachers Association has disaffiliated the local group, Fields said.

Roebuck said the Houston Elementary Principals Association will vote on May 16 to integrate its organization. A similar proposal was defeated last year, he said.

The disaffiliation of the Houston association makes it possible for a new integrated principals organization to be formed that could affiliate with the state group, Fields said.

Spain did not become a member of the United Nations until December 1955.

Snyder Laundry Considers Its Employes A Big Asset

A person's impression of a business often is formed from the contact he has with it's employes. And customers at Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning, 1401 Twenty - sixth Street, find the employes they meet friendly and helpful.

Employes of the firm who most often come into contact with the public are Jan Buchanan and Ann Winegar, who work in the office, and Ernest Hollis and Ted McMillan, the route deliverymen.

Ted has been with the company 15 years and has made many friends on his route during this time. Ernest has been with the company for nine years, and the public also finds him friendly.

You can always expect a friendly smile and helpful attitude from the office personnel, too. Ann has been with Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning since 1965, while Jan has been working there for the past six months.

All of the employes at Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning take pride in their work. Although you may not see the many persons who work in the plant, you can be sure that they have the same responsible attitude towards the clothing entrusted to their care.

Shirts and suits sent to Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaning are returned sparkling clean. Special cleaning processes used by the firm give clothing a fresh, new look.

Owner of the business is Jess Palmer. He's lived in Snyder many years, and like his routemen and office personnel, is noted for his friendliness.

Quality service at reasonable prices has long been a tradition of the firm. Free pickup and delivery also is available simply by dialing 573-3681.

COMMUNISM AND FREEDOM

Czechoslovakia's New Mood

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) —At the beginning there was a transplant without a chance of success. Then there were murder, suppression and fear. Finally there was an unparalleled upheaval with the official aim of combining what sounds irreconcilable to most Western ears: communism and freedom.

This is the backdrop for the situation in Czechoslovakia today. Within a few weeks, the mood of the country has changed radically, and support for the leadership that spurred the transforming seems widespread. But with domestic political time bombs ticking and armies of Czechoslovakia's worried allies maneuvering close to the borders, the situation is far from stable.

When the Communists took over in Czechoslovakia 20 years ago this was the sole highly developed country in the Soviet orbit. Its industries had been spared by the war and its manpower was shrunken less by combat losses than that of most other European nations.

To impose the Soviet economic system on this industrialized society meant the grafting of incompatibles.

Politically, independent-minded leaders were hanged or jailed. So were people with Western background, whether they had fought against Generalissimo Franco's troops in Spain or helped down German bombers in the London blitz.

For years, the system seemed to work. Production figures rose but productivity dropped. Economics experts were replaced by party functionaries. Millions of dollars worth of unsalable goods rusted in factory yards as managers proudly accepted state compliments for overfulfilling quotas.

Gradually, alarms were sounded over what were labeled "economic discrepancies." In 1963 even production dropped. A growing stream of Western tourists brought badly needed hard currency, but that gave second thoughts to many Czechs who saw Western workers roving the country in cheap cars. A radical economic reform was devised, including Western free-market ideas and incentives. But it was quickly watered down by the party establishment.

The country's intelligentsia alerted to Stalinist crimes by the thaw of the Khrushchev era, became increasingly restive. Rehabilitation of Stalinist victims, in many cases posthumously, was done behind closed doors. It was an open secret that some of the leaders who publicly advocated undoing the wrongs were involved in them themselves.

A party clampdown silenced the rebels temporarily. Tempers erupted last summer after the Middle East war—most Czechs sympathized with Israel. A writers' congress heard fierce denunciations of the regime's uncritically pro-Arab stand. In October, a student march, demonstrating against poor dormitory conditions, was stopped brutally by police clubs.

Three months later, a sharply anti-Stalinist wing in the party had gathered enough support to topple hard-liner Antonin Novotny from the post of party chairman.

The first move in the new program of "socialist democratization" was to proclaim a division of party and government functions. The next was the virtual lifting of press censorship.

A third, unscheduled one was the sensational defection of Gen. Jan Sejna, a Novotny protege, to the United States. Public exposure of conspiracy and corruption he is alleged to have masterminded, reduced the ranks of the hard-line supporters.

The process of "socialist democratization" gained amazing momentum. Criticism was aired in a way without precedent in any Communist country.

Western observers who at times doubted the new leaders had things still under control are becoming convinced that the upheaval is astoundingly well orchestrated. Reformist party chief Alexander Dubcek keeps voicing unflinching loyalty to the Moscow alliance. Domestically, the new leaders have opened ideological floodgates, but manifestations of anti-Soviet feelings have remained an exception.

Political time bombs are ticking that can blow up either way. A growing segment of public opinion demands a genuine opposition party as a control organ. The Catholic Church demands full religious liberties. An inquiry is under way to identify all those involved in Stalinist crimes. So is an investigation of the Sejna scandal, with dozens already behind bars.

Capt. Robb Arrives For Naha Processing

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, a son-in-law of President Johnson, arrived here today for two or three days of processing at Camp Butler preparatory to service in Vietnam.

Robb, 28, is scheduled for 13 months' duty in Vietnam.

He left Norton Air Force Base, Calif., Saturday after saying goodbye to his wife, Lynda Bird, at San Bernardino, Calif.

Marine officials at Da Nang, Vietnam, said Sunday that Robb will be assigned to the 1st Marine Division in the northern combat sector.

News Shocks Average Man On Street

NEW ORK (AP) — Americans, some shocked into disbelief, reacted to President Johnson's announcement that he would not run again with comments ranging from "pretty wonderful" to "tragic."

"He made that announcement?" asked Joseph Kelley of Boston, when asked for his reaction to the President's surprise statement Sunday night.

"I don't believe you," Kelley said. "And if he did, I don't believe him. I'm skeptical about everything that man does."

Donald J. Cohen, an attorney from Manhattan, called Johnson's statement "very moving and tragic."

In San Francisco however, Don Cote said "I was pleased ... I think he believed he couldn't win if he did run ..."

Irving Goldstein, also of San Francisco, disagreed, saying he was "shocked and sorry" that Johnson was not going to run. "It appears that his experience necessitates his continuing in office. I do not think any of the other candidates are qualified."

A high school teacher from Denver, Tom Radford, said "It was the closest thing he could do to ending the war. He made the offer at a time when criticism had come to a head in the Democratic party and from the citizenry. It will place the Democrats in a helter-skelter race."

Lack of public support was cited by other persons as a possible reason for Johnson's withdrawal. "As long as the people are not behind him," said Steve Slekovac of St. Petersburg, Fla., "he might as well give up and give somebody else a chance."

Charles P. Connell, a Manhattan lawyer, said "I think it was a wise decision ... because of dissension among the people at large." He said he thought Johnson's decision would "have a benign effect on the conflict in Vietnam ... He is sincere. He is through. He knows it."

Marion G. Newey of Brighton, Mass., said she did not know why Johnson decided not to run. "I can't decide whether he's afraid he'll lose or maybe is worn out," she said.

Another Massachusetts woman, Mrs. Joseph Rothernburg of West Roxbury, said she and her husband were "shocked. We're now listening to the tape again trying to soak it in. We felt Johnson was trying his best."

Air Taxi Service Survey Launched

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce has undertaken an informal poll to determine interest in air taxi service at the local airport.

Such service would involve regular flights from Winston Field and make connections with national and international airlines.

Air - Pak Airlines is looking into the possibility of service connecting Snyder with Dallas and possibly with some area cities, such as Midland, Big Spring, Sweetwater and Breckenridge.

Officials of Air - Pak who visited here last week said the service would use Twin Beechcraft equipment.

The Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee has asked local citizens who use air service, or who would use air service if it should become available here, to complete the brief questionnaire below and return it to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Do you believe air taxi service would benefit Snyder? Yes ..... No .....

If such service was available how many times a year would you, your company, or employes use the service to Dallas .....? to Midland .....?

Would you (if necessary to secure the service) pledge to use it as much as possible? .....

Other comments, or suggestions .....
