POLICE SAYS GANGSTER IS MAN WANTED

IDENTIFICATION WAS MADE AS FOSTER SEEKS BAIL

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, July 30.—Frank Foster, Chicago gunman indicted for the slaying June 9 of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, today was identified as the slayer of the newspaper man by Policeman Anthony Ruthy who pursued Lingle's assailant across Michigan boulevard from the pedestrian tunnel, scene of the assassination.

Lingle was slain as he was about to board a suburban train for the race track by a killer who fired a shot into the reporter's head then fled through the tunnel to Michigan boulevard. Patrolman Ruthy on duty at Michigan boulevard and Randolph street gave chase to the killer, but he was eluded in the crowd.

Ruthy's identification of Foster broke with dramatic suddenness in court today as attorneys for Foster sought to obtain his release on bail. The patrolman said he was positive Foster was the man he chased through traffic after Lingle had been slain.

He said he was able to get a glimpse of his quarry as the man was a zig zag course through vehicles and pedestrians and disappeared.

The patrolman did not say why the identification had not been made previously to today's hearing. Coroner Herman N. Bunsden, who preceded the policeman on the stand said he did not know who slew Lingle, that he did not know Foster, nor the number on the piece.

ENDURANCE IS IN TENTH DAY

JACKSON AND O'BRIEN WELL; GOTHAM SHIP PASSES 10TH DAY

(By Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, July 30.—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien, in the endurance monoplane, "Greater St. Louis," entered the tenth day of their flight over Lambert St. Louis field at 7:11 a. m. today.

Stiff breezes, which made flying bumpy at low altitudes, kept the aircraft at a height of 5,000 feet most of the time yesterday, late in the day, however, they skimmed over the field to drop a note reporting everything well aboard.

One of O'Brien's messages asked for smoking tobacco, which was sent to him. They are enjoying all the comforts of ordinary life except exercise, and it is reflected in their continued good spirits. They wash, shave and change their clothing regularly.

REPUBLICANS CALLED INTO STATE SESSION

CREAGER SEES SAME CHANCE AS IN 1926 STATE ELECTION

(By Associated Press) DALLAS, July 30.—Seeing an opportunity similar to the one they had in 1926, in the democratic dispute over the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for the governorship, republican leaders here called by R. B. Creager, national committeeman, to meet at Brownsville.

The meeting, a statutory one for the purpose of canvassing returns for the July 26 primaries, in addition to members of the state executive committee was expected to attract other prominent party adherents.

Of most importance for consideration at this meeting, leaders here declared, was the selection of the party's standard bearer in the November election, should the democratic nominee be Mrs. Ferguson.

Three names most prominently mentioned for the republican nomination were Dr. George Butte, who in 1926, as Mrs. Ferguson's opponent, rolled up the biggest republican vote ever cast for a republican gubernatorial nominee in Texas; Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, vice-chairman of the state committee, and Col. William E. Talbot of Dallas, who managed the Butte campaign in 1926.

Republican primary returns yet have not determined whether a runoff will be necessary between Dr. Butte and Hugh Ekum of Amarillo to determine the nomination. Should the state committee seek a stronger candidate than the primary choice, it could ask the primary nominee to withdraw and name its own nominee.

DIRIGIBLE IS NEAR AMERICA

R-100 IS EXPECTED TO LAND TOMORROW AFTER VOYAGE

(By Associated Press) LONDON, July 30.—Speeding along at more than 70 miles an hour the British dirigible R-100 was more than two thirds across the Atlantic ocean today with the expectation that she would sight land by 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, Greenwich Meridian time, or about 3 a. m. (e. s. t.).

So much speed had the ship picked up because of favorable winds that she seemed likely to cut down even this margin of time and reach the coast of Newfoundland a little earlier than expected.

At noon Greenwich Meridian time (7 a. m. e. s. t.) the dirigible gave her position about 700 miles from Belle Isle. She was following a course that would carry her down the coast of Labrador and across the Gulf of St. Lawrence into the mouth of the St. Lawrence river and then southward to Montreal.

With both short wave and long wave wireless sets, the airship kept in constant communication with steamships or the British air ministry, checking her course and obtaining weather reports.

Forty-four persons, including eight passengers, are aboard the craft.

DEMAND MADE IF CHANGSHA IS TO ESCAPE

MILLION DOLLARS IN MEXICAN MONEY IS ASKED BY REDS

(By Associated Press) SHANGHAI, July 30.—Communists today continued their systematic destruction of foreign property in Changsha, capital of Hunan Province, while they awaited a reply to their demand for $1,000,000 Mexican (about $420,000 at current exchange rates) to refrain from burning the entire city.

The Reds ceased their indiscriminate burning of all property when they forwarded their demand to bankers and merchants but kept up the carnival of looting foreign institutions and business places and then applying the torch to buildings after distributing to street rabble the loot from the houses of "foreign devils."

Loot in Street Piling the loot in the streets, Communists permitted the mobs to help themselves. The rabble apparently did not resent the invasion and made off with the spoils. What little resistance was offered came from well-to-do Chinese, who were robbed and then either slain or roughly handled.

A large part of the city lay in ruins. Beautiful foreign mission properties were smoking heaps of stone, brick, steel and debris. The fate of Yale college in China, perhaps the best known foreign institution, was not reported.

MILK PLANT RECORD CITED

LAMESA'S INDUSTRY IS DOING GOOD, REPORT REVEALS TODAY

(Special to The Journal) LAMESA, July 30.—The first week of operation for the Lamesa powdered milk plant was one of record, according to figures given out today by W. M. Whittkamp, manager. The first week the plant received 49,065 pounds of milk he says.

The 500,000 factory received 5.6 cents per pound for its opening day, July 22, and the amount increased daily until 8.246 pounds were received on the seventh day. Marshall's milk plant opened with 3,000 pounds Tyler's factory with 4,700 and the plant at Mount Pleasant with 2,500. Lamesa's daily receipt of milk has already reached Mount Pleasant's daily amount, which is something over 8,000 pounds and the latter plant has been in operation over a month.

Customers Increase The number of customers for the local industry also increased, rising from 93 to 151. Forty cents is the price paid farmers for the milk per butterfat pound. This price is to be raised to forty-two cents after August 1st due to the "fish quality" of milk received. Whittkamp stated, "Not a single can of milk has been delivered he said. The official opening will be held August 8 in Lamesa when several noted speakers are expected to be here and address the throngs that will swarm to this city. Over 4,000 visitors are anticipated during that day to make inspection of the plant. Lunch is to be served free. The milk plant here is owned by Lamesa and South Plains farmers and business men and is the only plant of its kind in West Texas.

Products manufactured during the first week were skim milk powders and sweet cream butter. "Sunburst" is the trade name of the West Texas Dairy Products company's commodities.

Business Goes To The MODERN Store

Stores that are modern in appearance compel people to notice them. They invite more business.

To be modern, a store building need not be new. Many shabby, old-fashioned stores can be converted into attractive, business-inviting establishments quickly and economically. An exterior facing of cast stone or light-tinted stucco, a rearrangement of window space, an attractive terrazzo floor, a new colored sidewalk—such changes will make an astonishing improvement in any old store.

Such improvements as these not only draw more customers, but they increase the value of the property, lessen the fire hazard and lower the cost of maintenance.

If you would like to know more about modernizing, write us direct or consult your building material dealer, architect or contractor, any of whom can help you with such further information as you desire.

Citizens of the United States are discovering the fact in increasing numbers every year.

Dangerous
 The city of Detroit has had ten gang murders in nine days. All of them were of the regular Chicago pattern. But Detroit's police commissioner is not only unworried; he remarks that since all of the people being killed are highly undesirable citizens the police will not take any special steps to interfere.

Buy Less
 Exports from the United States to Canada during May dropped $24,000,000 as compared with the figure for May of last year, according to figures made public at Ottawa. In May of 1929 the exports were $89,000,000; in May of 1930 they were $65,000,000.

Courage
 This younger generation often gets wild and makes some deplorable slips in conduct; but it seems, at all events, to be able to take its medicine without whining. A society girl in Richmond, Va., disappeared from her home recently. Her parents feared she had been kidnapped, and police hunted for her. Finally she was found, sharing an apartment in a nearby city with a married man. She was brought back home and the man was taken to jail.

Courage
 Now there you are, 'Jasper'. These questions have been answered to the best of the Plainsman's ability. Now you are a good sport and drop me a note telling me who you really are. Of course it isn't the government or 'Jasper Johnson' before, and you and I know that 'Jasper Johnson' isn't your name. I'm merely curious and if you'll tell me who you are I'll promise not to put it in the paper.

Courage
 NOW don't come back at me with "The Plainsman" isn't your name. Of course it isn't. But you or anybody else under the sun, can find out who writes this column by calling this office or coming in and asking. There isn't any mystery about it. This column reflects the thoughts (if any) and the opinions, good and bad, of its author, who has the questionable habit of saying what he thinks at all times and on all subjects. The Plainsman will make a trade with you. You come in the office and we'll swap on who we both are—and then The Plainsman will take you into Halsey's drug store and lay the dough on the counter.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a linguist is a man who can change a tire in seven different languages.

THE Plainsman yesterday received a letter from one 'Jasper Johnson', in which 'Mr. Johnson' asked this column to answer six poignant questions concerning state politics, so that 'Mr. Johnson' could 'get you right on this political proposition'. Today this column is pleased to reproduce 'Mr. Johnson's' letter and answer the questions for his, and everybody else's amusement. Here 'tis:

"Dear Plainsman—As a loyal citizen of Lubbock, and believing in Lubbock, I would like to ask you a few questions in order that I might get you right on this political proposition.

"1. Had Ross Sterling promised a stretch of paved roads through here would you have voted for him?"

"2. Whose fault is it we do not have good roads in this section?"

"3. Do you vote for a candidate to serve West Texas or the State of Texas?"

"4. Did you fall for that gesture Jim Ferguson made when he asked 'How would you like to have about $2,000,000 for Texas Tech'?"

"5. Do you prefer professional politicians as governors, or business executives?"

"I think these are fair questions, and if you will answer them, we, your readers, can get a better viewpoint of your political prognostications."

"Yours truly, Jasper Johnson."

ALright, 'Jasper', here are your answers.

1. In this column, and in the editorial columns of The Morning Avalanche, The Plainsman said upon numerous occasions during the first campaign that he was supporting Clint Small because he was the Plainsman's idea of the best candidate in the primary and happily was a West Texan, who if elected would be inclined to give West Texas its just deserts from the state. That is something this column doesn't believe any recent governor has done. In answer to your question, No. 1, The Plainsman would have supported Ross Sterling had he thought him the best man in the race. Had Sterling come under that classification and had also been a West Texan, he would have gotten the same support given Senator Small.

2. I would have laughed. You know, or should know, that Ross Sterling nor any other official, can promise a stretch of paved roads through here. Any such promise wouldn't have made any difference and certainly Mr. Sterling is of too much intelligence to even hint at such a thing.

3. The State Highway commission, under whose supervision the State Highway department comes, is responsible for upkeep of the roads in this and every other section of Texas. We all realize that we'll never have 'good' roads until we pave them. We do know, however, that they can be better maintained than they have been during the past several years because they were better maintained prior to that time. Mr. Sterling is chairman of the State Highway commission—the head man in the show—and while he can't attend to all the details, his position makes him responsible. When there is a bust in the Avalanche or Journal, the irate citizen gallops in this office and hopes all over The Plainsman, the chances are 10 to 1, never saw or heard of the proposition before it came out in the paper. The same situation holds good in the Highway commission and is just another case of 'Unlucky Lee'. The Head that Wears the Crown. Too often the crown is made of thorns.

4. Both it is my opinion that Mr. Small would have filled the bill both ways. Mr. Sterling will likely, if elected, make the state a good sewer. As concerns West Texas, he is an unknown and untried quantity.

5. I never heard of it before in my life. Neither do I believe in Santa Claus.

6. I don't know. I've never seen a business man in the governor's office in Texas—or anywhere else.

Now there you are, 'Jasper'. These questions have been answered to the best of the Plainsman's ability. Now you are a good sport and drop me a note telling me who you really are. Of course it isn't the government or 'Jasper Johnson' before, and you and I know that 'Jasper Johnson' isn't your name. I'm merely curious and if you'll tell me who you are I'll promise not to put it in the paper.

Unfortunately, Butler isn't always close-mouthed and that may affect his chances. Once he made a speech telling how the State Department and marines officially turned patriots into "bandits" and how they had even rigged elections. The State Department dislikes him for that speech and is giving what support it can to line for a coke. How about it?

Four Marine Generals Leading Candidates To Get Place As Corps Commandant; Smedley Butler Is Senior Of All

Chief of staff or a chief of naval operations.

BY RODNEY DITCHER
 WASHINGTON, July 30.—Somehow the U. S. marine corps always did get more than what the army and navy consider a fair share of the army's publicity, so it is not surprising that the excitement over the question of who is going to be the next commander of these 18,000 men is considerably greater around the capital than that attending selection of a member of the staff or a chief of naval operations.

In picking a secretary of the navy or a secretary of war the president is as likely as not to appoint a middle-aged hardware merchant from Minnesota or a dyspeptic ex-physician from Arizona. But the next commandant of the marines has to be a marine and the field was observed to be narrowed down, though rich in quality, following the recent death of Maj.-Gen. W. C. Neville.

The Four Possibilities. There are four possibilities: Maj.-Gen. Smedley Butler, Maj.-Gen. Logan Peland, Brig.-Gen. John H. Russell and Brig.-Gen. Ben H. Fuller. There are four other brigadier generals, but they haven't been talked about.

The question of which one gets the job is of interest not only through marine headquarters here but also in the state and Navy Departments, at the White House and on Capitol Hill where congressional delegations are always found backing favorite sons when such a post is vacant. Elsewhere the interest is more academic, but generally existent.

General Butler outranks the other three candidates, just barely ahead of Peland, in point of seniority. That's only a minor factor in his favor, however. He is now in command at the Quantico, Va. marine base.

He has been the most conspicuous of the four. His turbulent service as Philadelphia's director of public safety, when he tried to enforce the law in the Quaker City, is one of the high spots of his career. He hit the front pages again when he reported a fellow officer for drinking, on the west coast, after considerable provocation. Recently he has undertaken to "clean up" Quantico.

Butler has twice won the Congressional Medal of Honor, once at Vera Cruz and once in Haiti. His first real service was in the Spanish-American War and he has served everywhere American marines go—Mexico, Haiti, Nicaragua, China and elsewhere. He is nearly 49 years old, younger than Peland, Russell or Fuller.

He has considerable support for the commandancy from Pennsylvania and a large section of marine officers are for him, although their endorsement is not very valuable. In the marine corps you're either a "Butler man" or you're not.

Fuller has been acting commandant here since Neville's death. He, too, has fought in most places where marines are sent. He served as military governor of San Domingo during the occupation there and commanded the marines in Haiti in 1924 and 1925. His son, Captain Ted Fuller of the marine corps, was killed at Belleau Wood in the World War.

Butler was born in Pennsylvania; Peland in Kentucky; Russell in California and Fuller in Michigan.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Since Heywood Brown, who is big enough to be two other columnists, has disowned his favorite story, I see no reason why I shouldn't pick it up on the rebound and pass it on for better or for worse.

It seems that years ago, when Brown was a dramatic critic once himself, he took a terrific wallop at a third-rate actor. In fact Brown said that this particular player was "the worst actor in the world."

The fellow, quite naturally, protested, threatened suit and all that sort of thing and there was quite a rumpus for a while.

So the next time Brown noted the ham's name on the program he was a bit more cautious. Having already called him "the world's worst actor," the critic this time dismissed him with some such words as these: "Smith was not quite up to his usual standard." Ouch!

Now there's a sequel to this story. Brown told the anecdote time and again until it became almost a myth around New York. And when the 800-pound-columnist went on the air he told it upon the slightest provocation, by way of killing time.

One night, however, Brown announced that the tale had come to haunt him. It had become increasingly more difficult for him to relate it without choking.

The day he bade his joke good-bye he had packed up a newspaper and noticed that the actor in question had died.

It's Carl Van Doren, the Literary Guild chief and essayist, who says in connection with the most recent subject for metropolitan conversation that "it was the heart, not the humor."

The other day, after re-reading the word "Harmania," he had his name changed so that now it reads Lee Harmeniana Power.

Nothing reflects the country's new mood better so thoroughly as the East Coast postcards. Original and related to vegetables, fruits and general household supplies, they slowly developed into a veritable chain department store where one could move from cart to cart and buy everything from toys to radio parts.

Since the business slump, they've branched out with many minor luxuries and folk who once did their shopping in a fairly luxurious fashion may now be seen thumbing about among the bargains.

SMUGGLERS HAVE SMALL CHANCE IN ST. HELENA GORGE

ALPINE, July 30 (AP)—Contraband liquor is not being imported into the United States across inaccessible and seldom explored Saint Helena canyon on the Rio Grande half in Texas and half in Mexico.

Led by Nick Collear of El Paso, assistant superintendent of the United States border patrol, a party of West Texans has returned from a hazardous trip through the canyon made for the purpose of determining if smugglers had sought safety in its perilousness to put their wares across the international boundary line.

The party was forced to swim, wade and crawl to complete the trip. Several automobile inner tubes used by the explorers to support them in the turbulent whirlpools of the Rio Grande were punctured by floating cactus.

Jimmy Terrell, Sul Ross college basketball star, narrowly missed death when sucked down by a whirlpool and had to be rescued with a rope by the others.

Railways of England are discussing a C. O. D. system for perishable goods.

Victor and Vanquished in Bolivia

The brief but bloody revolution which swept La Paz, capital city of Bolivia, swept aside the dual regime of Dictator Hernando Siles and Inspector-General Hans Kundt, shown at right, to establish a new military government under General Carlos Blanco Galindo, left. Five hundred persons were reported killed in the fighting directed against Kundt, one-time German Major-General, naturalized as a Bolivian in 1919. Galindo, head of the military committee which will supervise the election of a constitutional assembly and parliament, has studied abroad and has received several foreign decorations.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 30 (AP)—Allen Carter of Kansas City expects a run for his money, even with a slot machine.

So when he had whiffed away his time, together with $4,500 worth of nickels, trying to find the lucky combination of such a device with nothing to show for it, he started off with the machine.

The owner objected and police interfered. A police judge sentenced Carter to ten days in jail, but suspended it on condition that he would let unoffending slot machines alone.

Meeting the Needs of Millions of People

The low-priced automobile has brought greater opportunity and added hours of recreation to millions of men and women

BECAUSE the automobile is such an important factor in the lives and prosperity of so many people, the purpose of the Ford Motor Company is something more than the mere manufacture of a motor car.

There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business—design, production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan.

The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That is its duty and its obligation to the public.

The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps and time in manufacturing. The Ford plants are, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers come to see and share the progress made.

The greatest progress comes by never standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as wholly right. They represent simply the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before. Hard work usually finds the way.

Once it was thought impossible to cast gray iron by the endless chain method. All precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. Many men had shut their minds to the possibility of change. But fair prices to the public demanded that wasteful methods be eliminated in this operation. Finally the way was found and old methods gave place to new.

A better way of making axle shafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankcases reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as one bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength.

Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car. All of these things are done in the interest and the service of the public—so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.

Pair Gets $15,000 From Michigan Bank

HILLMAN, Mich., July 30 (AP)—The Montmorency County Savings bank was robbed of $15,000 in cash and securities at 8:25 a. m. Tuesday by two men who kidnaped William Niergarth the cashier, at his home three miles from town and forced him to accompany them to the bank.

The men escaped in a small coupe after locking Niergarth in the bank vault with William Studt, a farmer who entered while the robbery was in progress. The robbers' car later was found a mile and a half east of town. Believing the robbers to be in the woods, a posse of about 200 farmers started a search.

What Alice Told Mrs. Davis about Gas Ranges

"I suppose it does sound queer to you to hear our alarm clock go off every evening just before dinner, Mrs. Davis.

It's mamma's invention, and she's quite proud of it. You see, ever since the new Gas Range was installed, mother doesn't have to stay in the kitchen while she's baking or roasting or canning. Our new range has a little dial on the oven that can be set to give just the right heat for each recipe.

"As soon as the baking starts mother gets out to her garden, or shopping or whatever else she wants to do. She sets the alarm clock to ring according to the time indicated in the recipe book so she won't have to worry about when to turn off the gas. If she's away when the alarm rings the assistant cook turns off the gas. That's me."

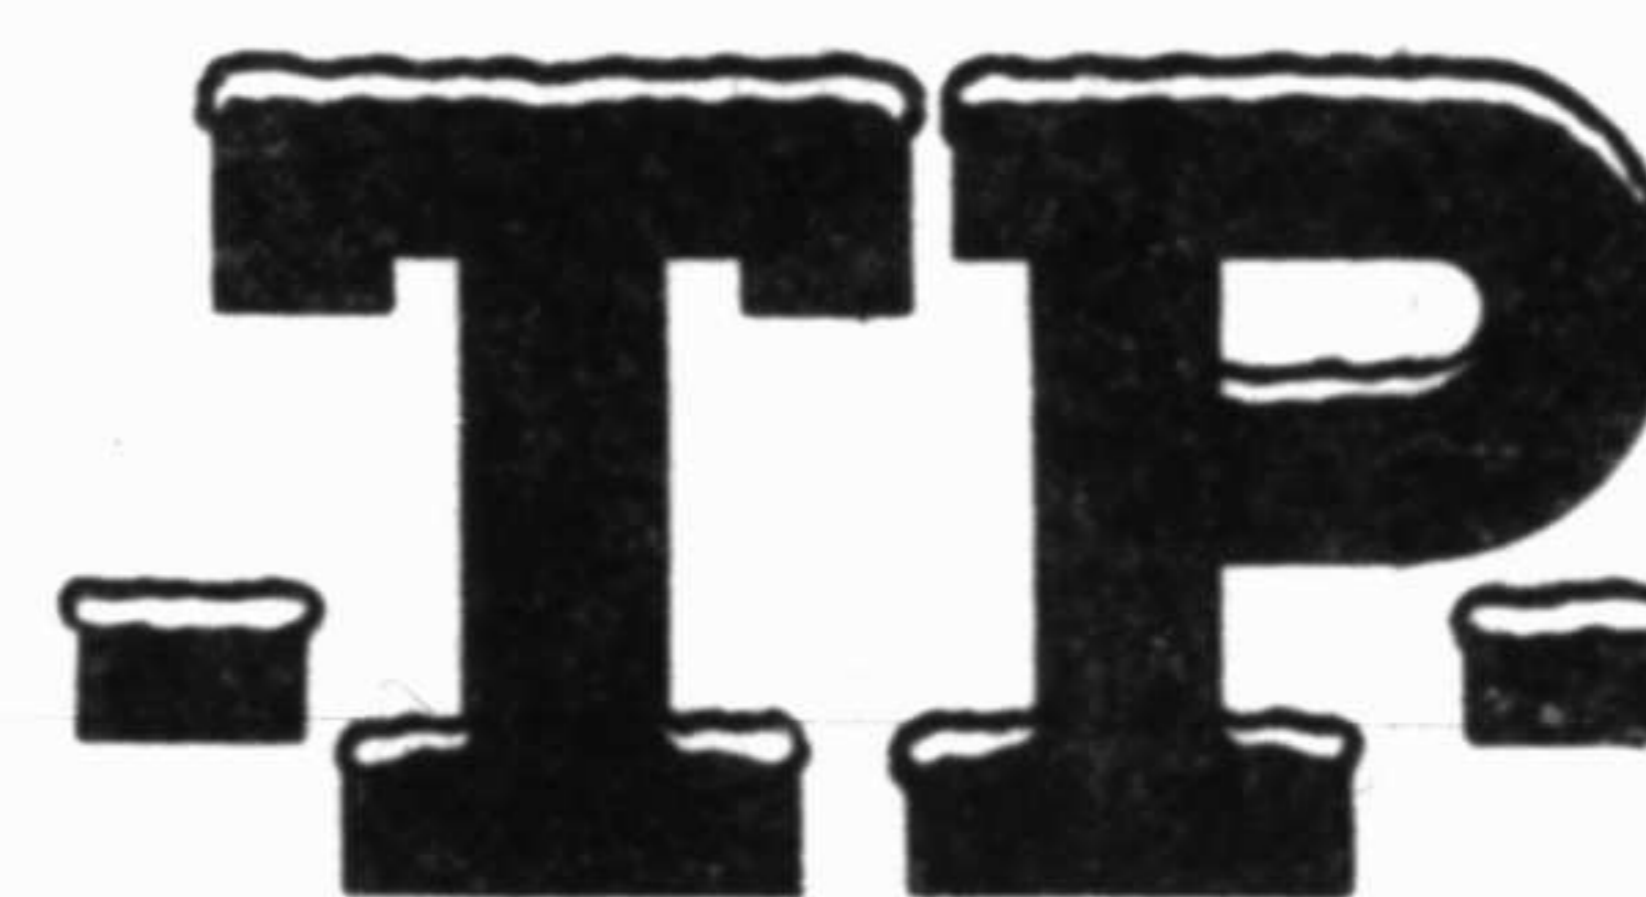

Doesn't your old stove fall short of serving you as a Modern Gas Range would? Has it an insulated oven, a smokeless broiler and a concealed manifold? Drop in! Let us explain how these features eliminate cooking failures and save from 4 to 12 hours each week.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Hurray! I'm thirsty as can be," cried Coppy. "That sounds good to me. How much is your fine lemonade and is it good and sweet?"

"You bet it is," replied the man. "And you all can drink all you can. I will not charge a single cent. Oh, no! This is my treat."

"The jug he held had quite a spout and loudly he cried, 'Now, look out! I'm going to pour my lemonade. Don't get it on your clothes. Each Tiny drank all that he could and they pronounced it very good. Field Society, 'You sure know just how to make it, goodness knows.'"

The man replied, "I'm glad you think it makes a cooling, tasty drink. Now who will have another mug? There's plenty still to flow. I like to treat you lads like you." Then Coppy said, "I guess we're through. We thank you very, very much and now we'll have to go."

And so they sauntered down the street as Carpy said, "I like to meet such very friendly people. He was very nice. I think his lemonade was also good! And, gee, I drank all that I could. When you are hot and thirsty it's a real refreshing drink. They then came to a small, queer street and Coppy said, 'Boy, this is neat. The narrowness makes things stay cool. Let's stop a while and rest.' And so they sat down for a while. The passing people made them smile. "How strange they look," said Coppy, "in the funny clothes they're dressed."

Small balconies hung over head. "Oh, look up there," one Tiny said. The others looked and saw a little girl. She seemed to know that they were strangers in her land. Then she began to wave her hand. Then Coppy tipped his hat and all the others laughed. "Ho, Ho!"

(The Tinymites visit a strange watering place in the next story.)

Census figures show that nearly 7,000,000 live in New York City, and any man who has ridden on New York's subways in the rush hour will testify that nine-tenths of them try to ride at the same time.

LADY CONAN DOYLE CLAIMS TO HAVE ESTABLISHED DEFINITE CONNECTION WITH SIR ARTHUR THROUGH PSYCHIC

(By Associated Press) LONDON, July 30—Lady Conan Doyle, widow of the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, said today that Sir Arthur had established definite communication with his family through the medium of a psychic photograph.

She told the Daily Herald in an interview that the Reverend Charles L. Twedale, vicar of Weston, Yorkshire, and an investigator of psychic phenomena, sat for the photograph.

Sir Arthur's picture, Lady Conan Doyle said, is superimposed upon a photograph of Twedale. The picture was made by a professional photographer but the plate was developed and printed solely by Twedale.

Furthermore, said Lady Conan Doyle, Peter Powell of Chester received through the spirit guide a message from Sir Arthur about a sealed envelope which Sir Arthur left with Lady Conan Doyle. She said there is such an envelope but that it can only be opened when Sir Arthur directs her to open it and tells her in advance what it contains.

She asserts that the family already has had several marvelous experiences and that there has been much evidence of communication from Sir Arthur.

MINISTER TAKES SEA VACATION MASSACHUSETTS PASTOR SPENDS TIME ON OIL TANKER ON COAST, AIDING SEAMEN

(By Associated Press) PORT ARTHUR, July 30—Nine days in the forecastle of an oil tanker failed to dim the enthusiasm of the Rev. William Lord McKinney, pastor of the Old First Parish church, Bridgewater, Mass., who arrived here as ordinary seaman aboard the steamship Cities Service Kansas.

Known as "Doc" to his forecastle mates and as "Admiral" to the officers, the Rev. Mr. McKinney held his first religious service on ship at sea last Sunday. He stood a regular lookout and wheel watch with the crew and said he found seafaring life worthwhile.

Immediately upon boarding the ship at Philadelphia the pastor said he noted a marked decrease in the profanity of seamen.

A robust man in his forties, the Rev. Mr. McKinney is well tanned and in perfect health as the result of his vacation. He said this method of spending time surpassed usual forms of pastoral recreation. The ship will leave here for a foreign port soon and the pastor expects to continue with it until his month's vacation is over.

"They're a great bunch," declared the pastor, speaking of his shipmates, "always ready to do their bit and the finest sort of comrades."

Denmark Reducing Its Naval Power

Minister of Marine L. Rasmussen has confirmed reports of intended "naval reduction."

HOW A "HILL BILLY" CAMPAIGNS IN ARKANSAS ELECTION

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY, WHO "OUTRAN THE DOGS ON SUNDAY TO KEEP FROM HAVING MY FACE WASHED," SEEKS ATTORNEY'S OFFICE

PARIS, Ark.—An Arkansas hill-billy, who "outran the dogs on Sunday morning to keep from having my face washed" is stirring things up around here in a vigorous race for prosecuting attorney of Logan, Franklin and Crawford counties.

Harney M. McGehee, attorney and ordained minister, is seeking the position on an unusual platform. McGehee, a Democrat, announces his candidacy as follows: "I am an Arkansas hill-billy, born and raised in the Boston mountains, north of Ozark. I outran the dogs on Sunday morning to keep from having my face washed—did my sparking bare-footed and on foot—never saw a train until he was 15 years old and was almost grown before I learned that Republicans were human like other people."

"I have farmed with a double shovel and Georgia stock and plowed an old mule, 15 years old, in the legislature twice and been taught school—preached and practiced law and am a first-class mechanic, having worked a right mart around a sorghum mill.

"I came to Crawford county five years ago and have since been elected to the legislature twice and been operated on for appendicitis.

"Last year I married the finest little girl in Oklahoma and we are living happily together in Van Buren.

"I want the office because I can make a living out of it and I will promise, if elected, to make things so warm for crooks and law violators of all kinds that they will think hell ain't 40 feet from the courthouse.

"I expect to spend the time be-on the women's cooking, complimenting the farmers on their crops and warning things up for my opponents."

Harney M. McGehee... never saw a train until he was 15.

When he isn't warning things up for his opponents, McGehee, just 28, enters in legal practice at Van Buren, his home. He is serving his second two-year term in the Arkansas legislature and has also been a chautauqua lecturer.

Even in the flurry of a hot political fight, McGehee, former minister, has this to say of religion: "Men wrangle for religion; write for it; fight for it; die for it—anything but live for it.

"I'll carry all three counties with an overwhelming vote, and I'll be governor of Arkansas some day not far distant," McGehee says, confidently.

hasn't missed a game this year.

NAMED FOR A. M. Brownfield, as a matter of fact, was named for A. M. Brownfield, prominent rancher and town builder who still lives in the town and was his father, the late M. V. Brownfield, one of the early day ranchers of Terry county. Authority for this is George Neill, the second county judge in Terry, who came here about 1906. A. M. owned a section next to the one on which the town was started as well as the town action," George said. "Really, the town was named for him, but most people think it was named for his father."

CLOCK STILL GOING Bill Ingram, bus owner of Post, who operates a line to Brownfield, has a clock on his Buick that has been there since he first put the car in operation, December 28 last. The car has been driven about 50,000 miles and the clock is still running. It is said to be one of the few if not the only one on a bus that is still keeping time after six months of being bumped over the roads of West Texas.

West Texas Couples Aiding New Mexico

ROSWELL, July 30. (Special)—West Texas residents who want to get married have nearly doubled the number of marriage licenses issued here this year.

From January 1 to July 26 licenses issued numbered 236 the county clerk reports. For the same period last year the number was 125.

It is predicted 450 licenses will be issued in Chavez county this year. In 1929 the number was 294.

Increase is credited largely to the Texas marriage laws requiring three days notice. Couples come here from as far away as Lubbock and Crosby counties.

After being in business for 96 years, the oldest saddlery firm in St. Louis has closed its doors. It was established as a harness shop in 1834.

CROQUET GAINS ALSO

Croquet is fast becoming as popular among the farmers as miniature golf is among the town folks in a dozen or more communities in the immediately territory around Lubbock may be seen croquet grounds on farms. There are in addition to the several scores to be seen in towns. In O'Donnell, for example, the cement floor of a building that had burned down, was cleared and is being used. The rural grounds are all of sand or clay, hard packed with a protection board around to keep the balls from going wild. Doc and his pal, E. O. Adams, another merchant, according to George Neill, "didn't speak until they both sold out." As a matter of fact the two men were good friends in the early days and helped build the town. Now both have quit active business and they like to tell of the days of a quarter of a century or so ago when it was a frontier place.

FUNDS VOTED FOR VICTIMS

BOARD APPROPRIATE $5,230,000 TO BE USED IN ITALY

(By Associated Press)

ROME, July 30.—The council of ministers today voted an appropriation of 100,000,000 lire, about $5,230,000, to rebuild the stricken earthquake area of middle south Italy.

Minister of Public Works Crollanza was directed by the council to return immediately to the stricken zone to supervise the work of reconstruction.

Needs of the terrorized inhabitants since Wednesday have been food, water and shelter, but there is much to be done in the future before all the ravages are repaired. New houses must be built and in some instances entire towns; care must be provided for orphans and others left dependent; the crops of dead farmers must be harvested, and farmers and business men who lost their all must be aided.

With the continued digging into ruins have come remarkable evidences of ability of the human body to survive catastrophe. About 25 persons, among them a mother and baby, have been rescued alive after lying under heaps of lumber and stone from three days to nearly a week. Many were injured and nearly all were badly in need of food, but it is believed most of them will live.
