Promotional Plan Presented Directors Chamber of Commerce

Monday morning, at a meeting of the Directors of the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce, the Trade Extension Committee presented a plan for industrial organization for Coryell County and Gatesville.

The plan, which includes, the organization and financing of an indcstrial corporation, a non-profit organization, which would help attract other large and small industries if possible, to Gatesville and Coryell County, is being studied by both the Trade Extension Committee, Directors, and everyone else who might be interested.

Moneys in the non-profit corporation, would be used, without interest, to hep plants get started, with the idea of eventually having the firms refund the money to the corporation.

More will be heard about this, and the plan, which has been very successful in small towns and cities in Texas, after the thing is worked out completely.

To us, after proper expanation, any investor, or property owner in this vicinity should be enth siastically interested in an organization of this nature. If you don t have a mimeographed outline of the plan, you may get one from Bill Thomson at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Those present at the meeting Monday morning were E. Price Bauman, R. W. Ward, Roger Miller, Dawson Cooper, John Reesing, George B. Painter, Harry Jones, Byron Leaird, Jr., Eddie Newton, Leake Ayres, Morton Scott, Erle Powell, Bill Thomson, Horace Jackson, Luke Walker and Mat Jones.

This unlighted trailer, moving slowly along the darkened highway, was completely invisible to an overtaking motorist as he came suddenly upon it from around a corner. He crashed into it and was fatally injured. Just one more of the many bitter ironies of highway deaths, where a lawbreaker who was indifferent to his own safety and the safety of others escaped injury, while an innocent victim paid for that indifference with his life.

TEEN TALK:

DEAR JUDY:

Some heps look like drizzle droops on the dance floor; others look like Grecian goddesses and can act like "eticuties," as Tex Beneke puts it. The handsome, anky bandeader who leads the Glenn Miller band says an "eticctie" is a cutie with dance-floor etiquette and know-how.

Brother Tex has a bird's eye view of all the dancers and he seems to know the tricks that make a gal popular or unpopultr on the floor. He watches them when he is waving the baton, playing the saxaphone, or singing.

First, advises Tex, save that romancing until you've left the dance floor There's nothing that makes a Jackson so uncomfortable as to have his girl friend make dance-floor headlines of her affection for him.

Don't be so talkative that your partner can't hear the beat of the band, either, advises Beneke. Some girls try to compete with the man playing the trumpet in the band. "Ta-ta-ta," goes the trumpet . . . and "Yah-ta-ta," chirps up the girl. She'll probably lose her dancing beau who will seek out a girl who is willing to dance in a dignified manner.

One more unforgivabe t hing, stresses Tex, is firting over your partner's shouder. Some girls, he says, think that a cruise around the dance floor is a good opportunity to case the other girl's dates. So, if you want to keep your girl friends, don't wink, smile or drop th ehandkerchief for another girl's guy. You'll also make your own partner angry and you may wind up a waloflwl erfor the evening.

No matter how good a dancer a little pigeon is, she should never, never, never try to lead her dancing partner. This is one way to make a man feel inferior, Tex says, and since the man is supposed to be the stronger one of the team, don't try to throw him with your own brand of jive.

Tex's next suggestion is well taken. The girl who asks her beau to be guardian of her compact, lipstick, change purse and other junk is taking unfair advantage. Don't load him down so that his best suit bulges like a gunny sack.

There are a couple of other good hints that the gang might consider to help make themselves worthwhile dance partners; Don't wear your corsage where it will crush or get tangled up in your Jackson's eye; don't mislay your vurse so it will be necessary to hold a scavenger hunt to locate it; don't try to dance with it under your arm so that your beau will be forced to hold it for you.

But, as Tex says, there are still lots of kids who are "eticuties" and don t need any direction in the art of being graceful and perfect little ladies on the dance floor. So maybe, like the piccolo players, there still are a few of them left . . . Are you one.

VIVIAN.

"WHY PAY MORE AND GET LESS?"

WHERE THOUSANDS DIE!

91 killed—3,150 injured! If that were the report of an explosion, wreck or other disaster, it would be front page news. People would be horrified! But worse—it's just one day's automobile casualty list in the United States. It happens every day, week in, week out. Four deaths, 131 injured—every hour. At year's end 33,500 lives snuffed out, over a million injured or maimed for life. That's what happened last year. This year's record threatens to be even higher.

Speed—reckless, wanton speed—drunken driving—defiance of safety rules and regulations—and careless, jaywalking pedestrians, top the list of causes for this grim toll.

What can you do about it? Will the speeding wheels of your car add one death to this mass murder of the highways? Not if you, the driver—and you, the pedestrian—take your individual responsibilities seriously. Drive carefully at all times, under all conditions, and be alert when walking.

Don't be one of the thousands to kill, or be killed. Drive safely —and live!

Air-Conditioning For Pop's Pants

New York, (AP)—What is said to be the first improvement in trousers since invention of the zipper has been patented by inventor Joseph W. Lewis, Jr.: air-conditioning.

Lewis, an engineer by profession, has simply patented the idea of using nyon mesh, durable, fire-resistant and full of holes, in place of the traditional cotton pocket.

As a result, as Lewis will demonstrate on the drop of a hat, air which is constantly scooped into the trouser leg by the flip of the cuff, rises and passes out of the mesh pocket. He demonstrates by putting a couple of lighted cigarettes on the floor. In a few seconds, a stream of smoke emerg es from the mesh pocket. The inventor says:

"I have tested it by putting thermometers in each trouses pocket—one of them mesh and the other close-woven cotton. The pocket using the air-flow principle is three to five degrees cooler. That's not desirable in winter, but in the summer it is like having one leg in the open air and the other in a closet."

Speeding And Reckless Driving: Challenges To Self-Discipline

By Julien H. Harvey
Managing Director, National Conservation Bureau

While thousands of persons annually lose their lives on the nation's streets and highways, a curiously apathetic public continues to go its way, probably wondering what is the real cause for our high toll of traffic deaths, but never getting much further than the wondering stage.

If the truth were known, every driver and pedestrian wocld realize that he or she holds the secret to the cause or prevention of traffic accidents. The secret is the individual attitude of the driver or pedestrian toward accidental deaths and injuries increase. If the attitude improves and the individual becomes more careful and courteous on the road, then thousands of lives can be saved.

Unfortunately, the problem of poor public attitude toward accidents—which may also be termed carelessness—is a problem that has to be solved by each single individual. It cannot be completely solved by mass hypnotism, regulation, or any other general devise. All the efforts of today's safety and traffic experts in the three E's of traffic safety—Education, Enforcement, Engineering—are simply means by which poor attitude and carelessness on the part of the individual are minimized. In the final analysis, each individual must do his or her part if our national traffic death toll is to be wiped out.

For example, all the education, enforcement and engineering we can muster will be of little avail if the individual driver persists in the attitude that the spectre of accidents will not touch him and he can indulge in excessive speed and reckless driving.

All safety specialists agree, and the National Safety Conservation Bureau figures bear out their contention that the greatest single cause for traffic fatalities is speed. We maintain that most speed limits are now too high for safety, but agree that the question of what is sane in speed limits depends somewhat on street and road conditions. Since these conditions vary with terrain, denseness of traffic and especially with weather, it is up to the man behind the whee to determine whether or not the existing speed limit prescribed by law is a safe driving speed.

Last year approximately 20 per cent of the drivers in this country invoved in fatal automobile accidents were exceeding the speed limit. Another 6 to 8 per cent were exceeding SAFE speeds although they were travelling cnder the statutory limit, and still another 4 per cent were driving too fast for existing conditions where no speed limit was indicaed. Fatal accidents where speeding was a cause were almost twice as numerous in cities as they were in rural areas.

Consider the statement: "Exceeding safe speed although travelling under the statutory limit." When a driver, entering a long, straight and broad stretch of smoothly paved highway, sees a marker indicating the speed limit to be, say, 45 miles per hour' he must consider that traffic engineers have set that limit as the correct speed for safest and best driving conditions. If it is raining and the pavement is slippery, certainly the limit of statutory speed is not the safe speed. If it is snowing, or the pavement is coated with ice, the safe speed is far below the statutory allowance. The same is true if the road is crowded with holiday traffic. Hence, a driver can be considered speeding, especially in cogested areas. when he is driving under 15 miles an hour. The realization of this leads inevitably to the conclusion that individual attitude is the criterion of traffic safety.

Next to speed, 1946 nationwide figures show that driving on the wrong side of the road, including passing, is the most frequent traffic violation. Driving under the influence of alcohol is rated as the next greatest cause for traffic fatalities. Following these come a long list of minor, but obviously careless, violations scch as failure to give right-of-way, disregarding triffic officer's signal or stop signs, improper turning. All are reckless driving. They can be avoided if each individual cooperates.

Frequent and prolonged suspension of driving privileges for traffic violations would, it is agreed, prove a great aid in creating a wholesome respect for safety rules and law enforcement. But self-discipline on the part of the driver is the most important factor to be considered.

No matter how excellent the mechanical condition of an automobile may be, no matter how ideal the weather and road conditions may be, there is a point where they lose their effectiveness, because their mastery depends upon the judgment and control of the person behind the wheel. The most reliable safeguard against accidents is a sane attitude toward safety, with proper respect for law enforcement and the rights of others on the highway.

Trade Extension Committee Huddles: Plan Comin' Up!

Thursday morning, members of the Trade Extension Committee of the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce Presidnet Erle Powell and Manager Bill Thomson went into a huddle on trade extension.

They're coming up with a plan, which will make it possible for Gatesville to present, along with other towns some calibre, something which might interest industrialists or small plant operators in moving into this vicinity.

On the committee are Roger Miller, Francis Caruth, Wade Sadler, B K Cooper, Dawson Cooper, H K Jackson and William Culbert.

Prospects, County Baseball Playoff Looks Good

Senday we talked to managers of both Purmela and Evant, and Berl Watts talked to Tobe Nichols of the Turnersville Baseball Club and their opinion is they'd like to have a County-Wide Baseball Championship Series played in Gatesville, this year!

Now, the league that Evant and Purmela belongs to will end August 24, and it's probable these teams would be ready to go immediately afterward. Ground work can be laid, and plans and schedules made before hand, and any needed local preparation be made, so we can "shove off" immediately after that date.

Managers of the respective clubs should, of course, make their rules, and govern play. The only interest for the rest of us, is just as a clearing house for the championships.

We'd ike to get your reaction, and opinion, This is a 100% Coryell County suggestion, and belongs to no one individually. C'mon in. the water's fine.

Near Record! 47 Out Of 53 For Dan Edward's Teammate

Dan Edwards, son of Mr and Mrs Curt Edwards of this City, and a Gatesville High School star of note has with him on a visit, George Jearnigan, his teammate a guard on the University of Ga. 1946 football eleven. Dan has just been named captain of the 1947 club, and is also President of the "G" club, honorary fraternity for men.

As for Jearnigan, he played a total of about 3 minutes last season (actual playing time) but during tha ttime, managed to kick 47 out of 52 field goals, or goals after touchdown.

Now we'd call that specializing, with a capital "S".

,earnigan is from Springfield, Tennessee, another good state beginning with a "T", and is visiting for a few days with Dan.

Bdwards was captain of the 1943 Gatesville High School Hornets, and led them to a district championship, and was named all district tackle in 1942 and 1943. He is an end at University of Ga. and has gained in Southern football renoun for rushing the passer, blocking and pass receiving. Last year, he was among the ten top ends of the country.

Evant Takes Close One From Purmela In A-1 Contest

Evant out-hit a scrappy Purmela aggregation Sunday p. m. to take the long end of a 4-3 count, and maintain its wins over the locals.

In the hitting, Patterson's circuit blow made the difference, when he slammed one "into the cane patch" with a man ahead of him Berkley Laxson came up in an early inning and slammed out a 3-sacker, but his teammates left him high and dry on thehot corner.

Curtis Smith, Purmela hurler, also nicked January, Evant hurler for a twin-sacker for the big hitting of the day. Smith whiffed 12, and January got 11. Errors showed a difference with Purmela being given 4 and Evant 2. Hits were 8-all.

Lineups: Purmela—Forrest, 2-b, Whatley, C B, 3-b, Knight 1-b; Laxson B. c; Whatley T. ss; Robinett C. rf; Edwards cf; Smith p. Varnoy rf, Millsap cf, Jones lf.

Test Pilot, Bob Boswell, wrung out the ole Blue Cub NC 22192 last Friday afternoon after it had undergone an extensive face-lifting and general tune-up job. He pronounced her ship shape and ready for relicensing.

* * *

Instructor Dave Curry and commercial students Johnnie Dominick and Claud Gray took Johnnie's bi-winged Stearman and the company's Chocolate Drop Cub to Fort Worth last Wednesday and got them relicensed.

* * *

Johnnie Dominick has been vacationing this last week and spent a large portion of it in the air. Among his exploits was a 300-mile radius cross-country to Guthrie, Oklahoma. He reported the blue Taylorcraft performed beautifully and is now a very nice long distance plane since its recent prop and engine repairs.

* * *

Transit traffic, tho light during the last week due to gusty winds and countless thunder-storms, included: Five planes fro mHamilton who were on a Rodeo Advertising spree. Lewis Woodall, an ex-Gatesvilleite was flying one of the planes—Lavern Dyson and a friend from Dallas flew in late Friday i na Vultee BT-13 to spend the week end.—J. B. Easley, W. Short and "Pinkey" Summerall, all of Corsicana flew in Sunday.

* * *

Some of the local fly-boys threatened to subpoena Instructor Dave Curry before kangaroo court to answer why the Malakoff flying school and the rest of the Corsicana boys didn't show up for their Sunday morning breakfast date at Scott Field. It seems that Dave had made such arrangement but due to unforeseen difficulties over there, Bill Stewart and his Malakoff boys weren't able to come. However, three planes from the Corsicana school did show up for a late breakfast. They included Bill Shelton in a Luscomb, G. C. Kent, Jr, in an Aeronca Champion, and "Daniel" Boone in an Aerocoupe. Several telephone calls later arrangements were again set up to have both the Corsicana and Malakoff school here in full strength next Sunday morning early ' . . pending no further change in plans (that is).
