Five Per Cent of Motorists Keep Job From Becoming Dull

What is your reaction when you return to your car after parking it on a city street, and find that little white slip of paper stuck under the windshield?

If you are in the majority, you look at it, scold yourself for committing the minor infraction of the law, then eventually fork over the dime to the city hall meter or if you wait too long, pay a dollar parking fine.

What if you are not in the majority? You rant and rave, blow up, blame the parking meter, throw the ticket away, cuss the policeman that gave you the ticket, cuss the city—then eventually you, too, fork over the dough at the city hall.

City policeman Ralph Martin, who has the job of checking parking meters and passing out the white tickets, says that about 95 per cent of the people realize they were in error and pay the fine without a quibble.

The other five per cent are the ones that keep his job from becoming dull.

Standard remarks by motorists when they come upon Martin giving them a ticket are "This meter doesn't work," "I just got through putting a penny in it," or "I sure didn't think I'd been gone that long."

Actually, Martin doesn't give out too many of these parking tickets, and he often goes inside a business house to seek out the owner of an overparked car and tell him about it, so the penny can be inserted without getting a ticket. Out-of-town people get pink courtesy tickets.

People are getting better about parking without putting money in the parking meters, Martin says. In fact, he is giving considerably less tickets now than when he started on the job four months ago. Most people, especially the women, are glad to pay a penny to get a parking place, and many have told him that they appreciate having available parking places when they come to town.

During the week, about 90 per cent of the drivers, and parkers, are women, Martin says. On the week end, father takes over and does the driving, and parking, Martin reports.

During the week, an average of 10 parking tickets are handed out, while the number increases to 30-40 on Saturday. The great majority of parking tickets are paid with a dime, since the city allows the 10 cent payment if

Bryan of Perryton and attended high school here. He and his family are Herald subscribers and this week he sent some samples of cartoons he has done, and the first one appears this week. More will appear from time to time. Rev. Hinds is quite good as an artist and has for several years made chalk talk appearances in connection with his church work.

Annual Drive of Ranger Club Opens This Week

The annual membership drive of the Ranger Club opened this week, and in seeking dues for the organization, president W. C. Holdeman has issued a progress report showing the accomplishments of the club during the past year.

The Ranger Club has operated a successful summer baseball program for youngsters, completed the recent league basketball season, and assisted the high school football squad during the fall.

Dues in the organization are $5 per year, but Ranger Club officers ask those that can pay more than that to do so, if they believe the youth work in the community is worth it.

Over 150 boys participated in the summer baseball program, with league games being played at night. Local churches sponsored teams in two divisions and the expenses of the league, such as lighting, equipment and supervision, were paid by the Ranger Club, the city and county.

Eighty boys participated in the basketball program, which was climaxed with championship games and awarding of gold

Drew Ellis Is Named Mayor

Drew Ellis, who has served two years as city councilman and was returned to office in Tuesday's city election, was elected mayor of Perryton by the council in their initial meeting Tuesday night.

He succeeds Dean McCutcheon, who was also reelected to another two year term in the city election Tuesday.

The other councilman whose term expired this year, Clyde Cofer, was also returned to office.

These three councilmen will serve with the two holdover members, Jim Anderson and G. T. Leatherman. Under the present form of city government, all five councilmen are elected by the citizens, and they elect a mayor from the council.

The voting was light—a total of 52 votes were cast Tuesday. All of the candidates—Ellis, McCutcheon and Cofer, received the same number of votes and there were no write-ins.

Purpose of the group is to provide spiritual fellowship and to present a united front against worldliness and immorality.

The movement is made up of young people from the following churches: Baptist, Methodist, Christian, Nazarene, Mennonite, Full Gospel, People's Chapel, Lutheran, Assembly of God, Fellowship Baptist and Mission Baptist.

Hoover Test Well Is Abandoned; Four Drilling

The Sinclair O&G No. 1 Hoover oil well in south Ochiltree county has been declared dry and abandoned. Total depth for the well, located in section 218, Blk. 43, H&TC survey, was 10,115 feet. The well had shows of both gas and oil, but a satisfactory pay zone was never found.

Four other Ochiltree county wells are still drilling, however. The No. 1 Pazoureck, drilled by the J. M. Huber Corp. in section 16, Blk. J-T, TWNG survey, south of Waka, is drilling at 6,351 feet.

The Texas Co. No. 1 Flowers-B in section 129, Blk. 13, T&NO Survey, has set pipe at 3,845 feet. This is the well located just north of the producing No. 1 Flowers well in south Ochiltree county.

The Texas Co. No. 1 Swink in section 121, Blk. 13, T&NO survey is drilling at 4,564 feet. The Texas Co. No. 1 Turner in section 145, Blk. 13, T&NO survey is drilling at 3,710 feet.

All of the Texas Co. wells are located in the same area, about 26 miles south of Perryton, west of state highway 70. There is still a strong rumor that a new deep test well is to be drilled soon about two miles south of Perryton.

Baseball, Rodeo Groups Propose Location Change

Representatives of the Ranger Club, the Perryton Baseball Club and rodeo fans met with the commissioners court Monday night to present a plan for separating the rodeo arena and the baseball diamond at the county fair grounds.

Since two members of the commissioners court were absent, however, no action was taken. The matter will be taken up at the next meeting, according to county judge Howard Slaughter.

It has been proposed that the baseball diamond be moved to the northwest corner of the fair grounds and that the steel towers and lights be moved there. Seating for baseball games would be provided by the portable bleachers at the fair grounds.

The rodeo arena, including fence and chutes, would be left as is, and it has been proposed that the county erect lighting for the arena with less expensive wooden poles and lights.

Both the baseball group and the rodeo group pointed out that it is inconvenient to try and use the same facilities for both events, since the lights have to be re-focused, the arena has to be plowed and leveled for rodeos and many times there are conflicts between the dates for baseball games and rodeos.

No estimate was given as to the probable total cost of moving the lights and establishing the baseball diamond.

Inventor Has Own Factory

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—If necessity is the mother of invention, then Albert J. Dremel has many needs. He owns patents on 55 devices used in the home, office and shop. Dremel, 62, has invented home appliances, electric phonograph motors, electric clippers and small power tools.

His first important invention was a widely used wringer with a special fast-opening safety device. That started him on a series of Dremel inventions that have put him in the manufacturing business here. His plant employs 75 people.

In 1935, Dremel designed the "Moto-Tool." It is a small grinder used by home craftsmen and hobbyists. His newest invention is an electric eraser. The machine was created for architects, accountants and others whose work requires pinpoint erasing.

New Cargo Ship Designed

NEW YORK (AP) — America's new post-war freighter, scheduled to be launched late this fall, may be the forerunner of a long line of similar ships. The S. O. Bland, named in honor of the late Virginia congressman who is regarded as the father of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, is a prototype that would serve as a model in the event there is another mass production ship construction program to replace the slower Liberty ships of World War II fame.

Not since 1947 has there been a dry cargo vessel turned out by U. S. shipbuilders for American flag operation, according to the American Merchant Marine Institute. While the top speed of the prototype is a secret, its design calls for 20 knots or nearly double that of the Liberty ship and well above the Victory and C-types. It will cost $5,000,000 and at 10,500 deadweight tons will have the same capacity as a Liberty ship.

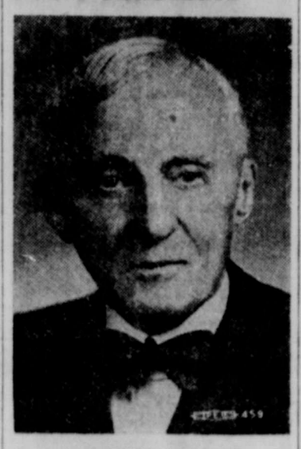

Mother Gets a Swimming Pool

ATLANTA (AP)—Like many of the rest of us, Mrs. Lewis wanted a swimming pool in her back yard. And, like many of us, she didn't have much money. But Mrs. Higgins has her pool. It cost $15.

The pool is 15 by 7 feet and of wading depth for the use of her children. The $15 went for sand and cement and for waterproof paint. She used discarded lumber for forms and discarded pipe for a drain. The work she did herself, with some help from her husband.

Smedley Files As Supreme Court Candidate

GRAHAM B. SMEDLEY

AUSTIN, Texas — Associate Justice Graham B. Smedley filed application Thursday as candidate for a second term on the Supreme Court of Texas, Place No. 2.

A recognized authority on land, water, oil and gas law, Justice Smedley is now serving his first six-year term as a member of the state's highest tribunal. He rose to the position from the Supreme Court Commission of Appeals to which he had been appointed by the Court in 1933.

In 1913 he was one of six assistants serving under Attorney General Ben F. Looney and was in charge of the state's cases involving public school lands, oil and gas rights, irrigation and similar matters. He handled the state's successful recovery of 60,000 acres of West Texas land paid in excess for construction of the present state capitol.

He wrote all of the opinions construing public land laws, newly-enacted irrigation laws and oil and gas prospecting laws. Smedley also represented the state in the heavy volume of court cases arising from these legislative acts.

Smedley served in the attorney general's office for five years and then returned to private law practice until his appointment to the appeals commission. He practiced law in Austin, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth and prior to 1913 was county attorney of Midland County.

He is author of a digest of oil and gas laws and for the past 15 years has been a member of the ediotrial board of the Texas Law Review. He also is an elected member of the American Law Institute.

Buffalo Graveyard Unearthed

CALGARY (AP) — "We're in a graveyard," a startled plowman exclaimed when he began to break land for a garden in suburban Calgary. A graveyard it was—the graveyard of thousands of buffaloes. Each furrow made by the plow turned up hundreds of bones.

About 75 years ago the garden was one of the many pounds where Indians and white men wrote one of the blackest chapters in the history of the west. It was here that buffaloes were slaughtered by the thousands.

The garden lies at the base of a steep cliff. The buffalo were stampeded on the plains above so that they thundered straight for a funnel-shaped corral constructed so the narrow end opened at the top of the cliff. In the fall from the precipice they were either killed or made easy kills for hides.

Atomic Shelters Considered

AF Reserves In Plains Area Get Interviews

On April 7 Operations Amarillo will start for all of the Air Force Reservists in 20 High Plains Counties, and four counties in Eastern New Mexico. This will be another step in the long range Reserve Program of the United States Air Force. The reservists from these counties will receive personal interviews conducted by the Third Air Reserve District in the Naval Reserve Armory in Amarillo. Colonel Edgar E. Glenn, Commanding Officer of the Third Air Reserve District, has announced that these interviews will afford Air Force Reservists in this area an opportunity to learn their current reserve status. "At the same time" Colonel Glenn said, "the Air Force will be able to record accurate and up-to-date information on all members of the reserve."

These interviews are not in any way connected with recall to active duty. At this time there is no program for involuntary recall of non-pay status reservists to active duty in the Air Force.

There are an estimated 700 Air Force Reservists in this area and these reservists from Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Gray, Hemphill, Roberts, Hutchinson, Moore, Hartley, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Armstrong, Randall, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, and Swisher counties in Texas along with the reservists in Union, Harding, Quay, and Curry counties in New Mexico will be interviewed.

Essentially the information required by the Air Force from each reservist consists of 1: his present civilian occupation, 2: his dependents, and 3: his physical condition. The reservist himself will receive the answers to all of his questions that he has regarding his status in the Air Force. With this information, the reservist, his family, and his employers will have a means of gauging their positions with regard to possible future Air Force Service.

The Air Force reservists will be receiving appointment cards from Third Air Reserve District Headquarters and they will be scheduled for interviews at their own convenience. Appointments for interviews starting April 7th are being scheduled from 8:30 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Mondays through Fridays. On Saturdays interviews will be held during the mornings only.

At present the only North American cities with underground rapid transit systems are New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago.

They have a wide assortment of crowd pleasing tricks in addition to showing an amazing brand of basketball. Four of the girls are over six feet tall, and one, Betty Bradshaw, is six feet four.

The game starts at 8 p. m.

Rest for Weary Artists

MILAN, Italy (AP)—An international "house of rest" for aging artists and writers will be built here by "Angelicum," a cultural organization sponsored by the Franciscan Friars.

A spokesman for Angelicum said the house would offer bed and meals for visiting foreign writers. Its permanent guests would be "those who in the decline of their creativeness may need car and assistance."

Funds for the house of rest will be collected through art shows, writings and collections in Italy and abroad. Organizers here said groups in the United States, Brazil, Sweden, France and Switzerland are co-operating.

Airlift For Books

KUANTAN, Pahang, Malaya (AP)—Recently a small Chinese school was opened in a resettlement area several miles inland from here—but not without difficulties.

There are no roads to the area and a trip upriver would take two days through dangerous jungle. So, in order to supply books to the school's 41 pupils, an airlift was ordered and the books were dropped squarely in the school grounds.

Local Convention For Republicans

The first definite word of precinct conventions for Ochiltree county came this week when Republican county chairman A. J. Kelly announced that the Republicans will meet at the courthouse on May 3 for their precinct convention.

There will be this one convention for the county, then the Republican county convention will be held on May 6, also at the courthouse.

Although no announcement has been made, it is anticipated that the Democrats will have some precinct conventions this year, too. It seems definite that there will be a precinct convention in precinct 10, the Perryton school voting box.

Otis Burk is county Democratic chairman. The precinct chairmen, elected in the 1950 primary, are: 1. R. H. Daley; 2. B. L. Hurter; 3. Lawrence Ellzey; 4. Ralph Hale; 5. R. L. Flolwers; 6. G. B. Mears; 7. Roger Pearson; 8. Herman Hargrove; 9. J. R. Stump; 10. Sam Hergert.

Watson has taken an active part in the civic and community life of Perryton. He was first commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post and served as District VFW commander. He is a Mason and a Shriner, active in the Jaycees and a member of the Lions Club.

He is married and has three children.

In announcing him as a candidate for county commissioner, his friends point out that Watson has had years of experience in road construction, knows the value and care of road machinery and is exceptionall well qualified to serve as a commissioner. All the support and patronage accorded him in the July Democratic Primary will be appreciated.

Spring Football Practice Will Begin Monday

Spring football practice for the Perryton Rangers will open Monday afternoon at Ranger Field, and coach Jim Peterson will greet about 35 candidates on opening day. The 1952 team will be well bolstered with lettermen, missing only six lettermen from the 1951 squad.

However, the Rangers face a problem in developing a halfback to replace B. R. Pletcher, leading scorer of last year's team. The line is pretty well loaded with depth and experience, and there are some good backs from last year, plus a good crop up from the B team.

Spring training will last for 30 days, and by that time the 1952 starting lineup should be pretty well set.

Returning lettermen are Dick Haar, Donald Cooper, Bobby Mitchell, Laurel Lovett, Doc Carter, J. B. Langwell, Edward Cummings, Gene Devers, Don Dietrich, Johnny Witt, Gene McLain, Ronnie Witt, Charles Parker, Landrum Osborne, Billy McLanahan and Billy Drake.

One of the most stunning upsets in American horse racing occured when Jim Dandy, a 100 to 1 shot, won the Travers Stakes.

When Lawford finds that his high-handed new administrator has closed his charge accounts, retrieved the minks and sables he has lavishly distributed to various lady friends, curtailed his spending money to fifty dollars per week, and cleaned out his house and furnishings—even to the last bed—he declares war! His first step is to move into Miss Leigh's apartment on the strength of a court order which forces her to provide food and lodging for him, a move which results in an embarrassing crisis in the young lady's life when her fiance, Richard Anderson, returns from a business trip. He next attempts to make Anderson so rich that he will be able to marry Miss Leigh and give her a career other than that of persecuting him. When both these measures fail, he determines on the most drastic of them all. He will prove to his objectionable administrator that he can handle his financial affairs by getting a job! 'Japanese War Bride' States Bold Theme

A daring romantic drama with a current theme, is stated in "Japanese War Bride," which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday. Co-starred in the picture are Shirley Yamaguchi, first lady of the Oriental screen, and Don Taylor.

This offbeat feature is seriously and searchingly concerned with the interest-exciting problem of an American GI who returns from war service in Korea and recuperation in a Japanese hospital with his Japanese bride, who nursed him at a Red Cross station in the new democracy not long ago our enemy. Understandably, the boy's parents and friends find it difficult to adjust to the bride he brings back with him to California. It is in the drama of that adjustment of different worlds to one another, and in learning of the lesson that humanity wears many faces, that "Japanese War Bride" finds its purpose.

Representing Shirley Yamaguchi's initial trek to the United States for picture work, the petite beauty has actually been here many times before and knows English as thoroughly as she does Japanese. She may soon star on Broadway in a new musical called "Messer Marco Polo." She has made a career of playing American films and plays in Japanese versions in her homeland and has done much to popularize American art among her own people.

J. Mack Brown In New Film

Johnny Mack Brown is seen as an agent of the Interior Department in "West of Wyoming," the picture which comes to the Pertex on Friday and Saturday.

The story deals with the thrilling events which takes place when the government announces its intention to throw open Mesa Territory to new settlers, and Brown comes to grips with an outlaw band, already intrenched which is scheming to steal all the gold-bearing property in the district. Murder and violence mark the trail of the battle of wits, and the action is said to be a swift succession of exciting situations.

Frances Langford Stars as Herself

"Purple Heart Diary," which comes to the Pertex on Sunday-Tuesday, stars Frances Langford, the famed wartime entertainer on the USO circuit.

The new movie shows how Miss Langford sang her way into the hearts of millions of soldiers during World War Two to become their Number One Girl. Songs in the film are: "Hold Me in Your Arms," "Anywhere," "Hi—Fellow Tourists," "Where Are You From?" and "Bread and Butter Woman."

'Woman In the Dark' Features Jewel Robbery

An ingenious scheme to steal a fabulous collection of jewels is the theme of "Woman In the Dark," the picture which comes to the Pertex on Wednesday and Thursday.

A shifty politician, who is also an underworld leader, learns of a famous exhibition of precious gems and plots a clever robbery in which he plans to use Richard Benedict, whose brothers, a well-liked priest and an honest attorney, are to be innocent accomplices.

After the robbery, the two brothers find out about their part and the three brothers go to recover the loot. A fast fight follows, in which a couple of fellows are killed. The dishonest brother turns honest.

Joan Davis Seen As Man Hunter In Harem Girl'

Joan Davis, one of the screen's leading comediennes, is seen as a man-hunter in a harem in her new picture, "Harem Girl," which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Joan appears in the film as the secretary-companion to a middle eastern princess. She takes the girl's place when a usurping sheik, in order to steal the region's vast oil resources, arranges for the reluctant princess to marry an unpleasant associate. With Joan posing as the veiled princess, the enamored bridegroom-to-be provides comedy complications of a major sort. While dodging him, Joan also spends her time organizing the sheik's harem into a sitdown strike, in order to help the princess smash the usurper.

Civil Ceremony, For Sure

NEW YORK (AP)—Presiding at a wedding in the synagogue at Bellevue Hospital, Rabbi Henry A. Schorr remarked it was a civil service wedding, indeed.

The bride was a court clerk, the bridegroom a postoffice employee. The city owns the hospital and provided the synagogue. The ceremony was held at the hospital because the bride's father, injured while on duty as a fireman, was confined there.

Will 'Amateur' College Football Prove Success?

Austin College now has two of the outstanding big-time coaches of the country. But one of them won't do any coaching and the other is a backer of an "amateur" plan whereby the college would cut out aid to athletes and make it a matter for the "students."

Henry Frnka is going to Austin College as vice-president in charge of promotion, to wit; raising money and endowments, et cetera. Frank coached at Vanderbilt, Temple, Tulsa and Tulane. He was a better than a fair hand at getting the top athletes and winning bowl games and championships.

Already at Austin College is Ray Morrison, the man who started Southern Methodist to fame in football and who coached at Vanderbilt and Temple before quitting the big-time to coach and direct athletics at the Sherman college. He got tired of the pressure.

Now Morrison is a backer of the Austin College "amateur" plan which consists of getting other colleges interested in a conference that bans athletic scholarships.

Some may be so unkind as to say that Austin College the past few years has been on an amateur basis anyway, if you look over its football record. But that really isn't the point.

Austin college has been losing money on football in gobs. Dr. W. B. Guerrant, President of the college, says other small schools like Austin also are dropping cash on football and he wouldn't be surprised if most of the big colleges aren't doing the same thing.

"Our idea is to save football not to kill it," Dr. Guerrant emphasizes. "We must go back to the strictly 'amateur' athlete to do it."

The painters Van Gogh, Cezanne, El Greco, Blake, Monticelli, Carlo Dolci, Magnoni, Lautrec and Mancini all went mad.

Rural Carrier Retires

SANBORN, Minn. (AP)—Route 2 is now only a memory for Ed Radtke, 69, who gave up the rural mail chore recently.

Ed made the rounds for 46 years, using the same Model T Ford for the last 26. He had a total of 20 cars during his career of carrying letters, papers and packages to the 152 boxes on the 45-mile route. He used to find dressed poultry, eggs and other produce in the mailboxes during the holiday season.

But most of all, he misses the people along Route 2. "You just can't help remembering the people," he says.

Originally the wireless distress call at sea was "COD" but this was changed to "SOS" primarily because its coded three dots, three dashes and three dots are much easier read.

Heart Pumps 2,500 Gallons Of Blood Per Day

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Pumping 2,500 gallons of blood every 24 hours is the astonishing work done by the heart, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The heart is about the size of a man's fist and is rated at 1/240th of a horse power; it never sleeps, loafs or takes a vacation from the beginning of life to the end. The only rest it gets is between beats. Yet with all the work the heart has to do it does not give out suddenly unless it has been injured or ill-treated.

Under pressure of work the average person neglects his heart and unwittingly abuses it. The chief cause of heart trouble, aside from the deterioration of old age, are rheumatic fever, acute infectious diseases, chronic infections, syphilis, too abrupt return to activity after a serious illness, too strenuous exercise and overweight may be a factor.

Many of the signs which you may think mean heart trouble can be caused by some other disorder. Indigestion, lung trouble, or nervousness may cause pain near the heart, shortness of breath, fainting and irregularity of beat. If you have any of these symptoms, do not try to diagnose the condition yourself, but go to your doctor for an examination. He will be able to find out what is wrong and may tell you that your heart is sound. Have a regular perodic examination and follow your doctor's advice.

GOD'S LIVING LETTERS

By Kirby Page

Sponsored by PERRYTON MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

Who was the greatest American woman? The name most frequently found on numerous lists is that of Jane Addams of Hull House. What made her great was her capacity for friendship, the degree to which she poured her life into other people, the improvement in living conditions she was able to achieve, and the worldwide influence she wielded through her articles, books and public addresses.

In 1889 she moved into the old Hull House on South Halstead street in Chicago in order to become a good neighbor to the immigrant families crowded into that section. She gathered about her a notable group of residents, including Julia Lathrop, Florence Kelley, Alice Hamilton, Edith Abbott, Grace Abbott. They went about the community doing good. They established the first public playground in Chicago and brought children into Hull House for all kinds of activities. They struggled for improved sanitary conditions, and Jane Addams for a time became official garbage inspector at a salary of $1,000 per year from the city. An art school and a music school were established. A continuous campaign was conducted for protective legislation for women and children. Soon Miss Addams was looked upon as a radical. Some went so far as to say "she should be hanged to the nearest lamp-post."

She was active in the woman suffrage movement and the world peace movement. Her pacifist attitude during the First World War brought much opposition and public abuse. Many considered her a "menace" and a "traitor." In 1931, however, she was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. Fourteen universities bestowed upon her honorary degrees and she was awarded numerous prizes for public service. Theodore Roosevelt called her "the most useful citizen," and a distinguished journalist said that "if Christ came to Chicago" he would stay at Hull House.

The inadequacy of trust in matter, and the dominion and power demonstrated by Christ Jesus through his reliance on his Father, God, the creator of all that is real, are discussed in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Unreality" to be read at all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The Golden Text offers this admonition: "In the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities: but fear thou God" (Ecclesiastes 5:7).

Christ Jesus, by his works, illustrated the unreal nature of sin, disease, and death, thus showing his understanding of these words from the Bible: "All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made" (John 1:3). The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, has expressed it in this way: "Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or banebul, He did not make, — hence its unreality" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p 525).

Veterans Forum

Q. I'm planning to buy a house with a GI loan. My lender wants security in addition to the house itself. Is this allowed under the law?

A. Yes. It's a matter between the veteran and the lender.

Q. I have a National Service Life Insurance term policy. Now that I'm on active military duty, my premiums have been waived. What must I do, after I am discharged, in order to pick up my insurance again?

A. You must start paying the required premiums to VA, with 120 days after your separation from service. It's best to start paying the premiums as soon as you get out of service. The premiums won't be applied to your policy until it falls due, but in the meantime you'll be guarding against any chance of your policy lapsing.

Q. I am eligible for a pension because I am totally and permanently disabled as the result of a nonservice-connected disability. Will I receive an extra amount of pension because I have a wife and family?

A. No. Under the law, pension rates are not based on the number of dependents you might have.

Commissioners Retention Hailed

SINGAPORE (AP)—Leaders of all communities in Singapore and Malaya hailed the British government's decision to extend the term of office of Commissioner-General Malcolm MacDonald.

"We hope that Mr. MacDonald will stay with us until the emergency and the crisis in the Far East are over," said Dr. C. J. Paglar, legislative councilor, who cabled thanks to Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

BROTHERHOOD of MEN

Every man must be a son; he may be a brother. That is the challenge of mature living. Each of us can choose whom he calls brother. Brotherliness is a quality of soul. How happy we are to find a brother! Some men make others feel at home with them; they are brotherly. It is a gift to be coveted.

Brotherhood is peculiarly necessary in a democracy. In fact to be a brother is really what it means to be democratic. A brother wants his fellow man to share in the good things which he values. A brother has a concern for others. America is known around the world as a kindly land; Americans have a reputation of being a friendly people. If we cultivate the spirit of brotherliness, there will be no room for the Communistic gospel. It is in those areas where we have not been brotherly that the alien teaching gets a hearing.

How wide is our circle of brothers? Do we include only those who belong to 'our church'? Or only those who vote with us at election time? Or only those whose skin is of the same color as our own? Or only those who bear the name 'American'? It is our privilege to extend the circle of brothers. Does my circle take in some who were outside a year ago? Perhaps I should measure my culture or my success as a human person in terms of the people I call brothers. Will you be my brother? Have I become brotherly?

'SWEATING IT OUT'

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY

(AP) Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foot and mouth cattle disease problem should be left to experts, says Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco.

The Texan got his dander up at a radio network commentary by Robert Montgomery, Hollywood actor turned commentator, in which the latter criticized the U. S.-Mexican program for stamping out the dreaded scourge in the neighboring republic.

"I got hold of a script of the radio talk," Poage said, "and found that Mr. Montgomery suggested there never was actually any foot and mouth infestation in Mexico.

"He inferred that the whole eradication program was dreamed up to create jobs and to boost the price of meat to the American housewife. That's exactly contrary to the statements and position of experts and responsible men in the Agriculture Department and the Livestock industry."

Poage said he and Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee discussed the matter and think Montgomery ought to tell Congress in more detail about his sources of information. Poage is next to the chariman of the committee.

"We've spent many millions of dollars on a program that has drawn praise from the cattle industry," Poage continued.

"Charges such as these by Mr. Montgomery tend to undermine the confidence of the American public in all such government programs. Research efforts that have made American agriculture foremost in the world suffer if we don't disprove such accusations."

Congress is particularly conscious of foot and mouth disease for other reasons.

The Agricultural Department recently announced that if there are no other outbreaks in Mexico in the next few months, the six-year old ban against entry of livestock into the U. S. from Mexico will be lifted Sept. 1.

Then, reports indicate that the fresh occurence of the disease in Canada has been brought under control. Regarding this report, however, Poage warns that the virus lives indefinitely when frozen and that with the approach of warm weather in Canada will come further tests as to whether the danger is past.

Interest in the authorized but unbuilt foot and mouth disease research laboratory has been revived with this awareness to the subject.

Rep. Berry (R-SD) recently introduced a bill to appropriate 25 million dollars to establish the center. He represents a cattle raising area that with the outbreak of the disease in Canada went through the same fears as ranchers in Texas when the disease spread in Mexico.

One of the first congressional advocates of such a center was Rep. John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi, who proposed it after conferences with cattle raisers throughout South Texas.

The legislation authorizing a laboratory provided safeguards against spread of the virus; it was to be built on an island separated from the mainland by navigable water.

Although Congress was in a mood to follow up the authorization with construction funds, trouble arose finding a site. Different states began to view it like they would the chance to have a leper colony in their midst—notwithstanding repeated assurances from scientists that there would be no danger of the disease spreading from the center.

While this delicate subject was still under active study, with growing signs that one or more areas were about to accept these assurances and bid for the installation, the Korean war broke out. That put an end to the matter for the duration.

Although it is unlikely any serious consideration will be given to the matter this year, there may be a real attempt to appropriate money for the laboratory next year if the Korean conflict is settled and no new emergency has occurred.

YMCA Fights Illiteracy

SINGAPORE (AP)—The Singapore Chinese YMCA has launched a campaign to combat illiteracy among Chinatown's inhabitants.

Free lessons in civics, Chinese, mathematics and English are being given 40 Chinese youths in the first class to be started. The association also plans classes for adult Chinese.

SUPER SECRETARY—Eula V. Ray of Chicago has 48 telephones to keep track of each day and since each of the telephones gives off a different ring or buzz, she says it's not so hard. She has lawyers, decorators, accountants, business machine repairmen and salesmen among her clients, and records each call made over each phone.

'Resident' Musicians Wanted

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—There's a band here which is short clarinet players, but no rush is expected to fill the jobs.

Warden Oscar Nygaard says the North Dakota penitentiary band has about 25 members now. The boys are showing much improvement lately, but the clarinet section is weak and needs more personnel.

Vision Standard Inadequate

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The ability to read letters on a chart across a room is not an adequate test of vision, says the American Optometric Association.

"The 20/20 standard of vision is a fallacy which should be exploded," says Dr. J. Ottis White, association president. "It does not mean normal vision nor does it mean average vision. It is just an arbitrary standard set before we knew any better."

Among requirements for adequate vision listed by Dr. White were ability to see clearly at about 15 inches, ability to make the two eyes work together, ability to judge distance and the ability to see over a large area while focusing on a point straight ahead.

Too Many Drives?

This week the Cancer Crusade opened, hard on the heels of the Red Cross drive, which closely followed the Heart Drive, which closely followed the March of Dimes, and one drive has followed another since last fall, and each drive has a quote to meet.

Some have advanced the idea that it would be better to organize a combined drive, everyone work at it, and get all the fund raising over at one time.

While this would be more convenient, we are not at all sure that the same amount of money would be raised in one drive that is now raised in separate ones.

A person that gives $5 to each of five drives is not likely to shell out $25 at one whack for a single drive.

So—as long as there is a legitimate need for raising the funds, and as long as there are people interested enough in trying to collect contributions—we imagine we will continue to be besieged by drives each month until the cycle is completed.

So Harry Won't Run!

The announcement by President Harry Truman that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency came as a blow to a lot of people, we feel sure.

Many people wanted him to run again and vote for him, but there were plenty who wanted him to run so they could have the pleasure of voting against him. His refusal to run is downright disappointing to lots of folks in the latter category.

However, the increased interest in poll tax payments and in politics in general this year did not stem entirely from a desire to be "again somebody." We believe the people of America realize that they have to take a more active part in politics, and government, if they are to survive as a free people.

With Truman's withdrawal, this means that Democrats will have to take part in politics to make known their wishes. It is not now a case of being against President Truman and his administration. It is a question of selecting a candidate for president that will fill the bill.

Who will this Democrat be? That is the $64 question.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

Ocassionally we hear the comment "There's nothing to do around Perryton," and while this is a common complaint among the younger set of teenagers, every once in a while you hear others say it. We, too, used to think there was little to do around Perryton, but that was before we became a "joiner."

We can state from experience that if you are bored with life in Perryton, all you have to do to cure it is to join three or four civic organizations. Before you know it, you'll be so tied up with meetings and community work that you will really relish a night at home with the family, say once a week.

For example, at the meeting of the North Plains Fair Association directors Friday night, considerable difficulty was found in setting another meeting date. Present were presidents and other officers of most of the community organizations, and these men and women were tied up for a couple of weeks ahead with night meetings and other activities. One man had to teach a first aid course; another had some Boy Scout work to do; several had a banquet coming up; there were many meetings connected with the churches, the veterans organizations, farm groups and civic clubs.

A town and a community such as Perryton is built over the years through the efforts of people like these that put in their own time in unpaid, unselfish community work. Whether the results are worth the effort may be debatable, but we think they are. Of course, others who enjoy the benefits of a live community without turning a tap themselves may argue that community work is a lot of foolishness.

It is apparent that those who will take on the work in the various organizations soon find themselves loaded with work. They are put in as committee chairmen, as officers of the organization, and the first thing they know, their time is no longer their own. This goes on for several years, then that person is "burned out" and he slows down, letting a fresher person take his place.

Our situation in regard to community organizations is somewhat peculiar, yet common to the newspaper profession. Many times we have covered a civic meeting of some kind, in order to get the information with which to write a story for the Herald. In the course of the meeting, when we ask a lot of questions and evidence considerable interest in getting our information, the chairman of the meeting eventually decides that we really want to work on this project, whatever it may be, and lots of times we have found ourselves on a working committee when really we didn't have that in mind at all when we went to the meeting.

We have a news release from the University of Texas this week, informing us that they are proposing a new "core curriculum" for the school. The idea of a "core curriculum" is to provide students with common intellectual experiences, a common understanding of our culture, and a common core of values in which men may build their lives." How times change! When we graduated from there a decade ago, we weren't much interested in this kind of learning. What we wanted to do was learn how to make a living, primarily, and soaking up such incidental learning as our limited time allowed.

The progress report of the Ranger Club shows how far reaching the work of this organization has been in providing wholesome recreation for the youngsters of Perryton. Their summer baseball program was organized several days ago in response to requests for summer recreation for the kids, and last year they added the winter basketball program. These organized games, under competent directors, provide the lads with lots of fun, give them a spirit of competition, and allow plenty of beneficial exercise.

A year-round program like this calls for lots of work, and takes considerable money. Bill Holdeman, president of the Ranger Club, who spends plenty of his own time and money for the organization, said that when he went in as president, they told him that he could get plenty of men to give him $10, but very few would give him 10 minutes. He says he's found this is true—except that the $10 contributions are getting harder to get, too. There's still the core of hard workers in the Ranger Club, but like every other organization, there are plenty of "card carriers" too.

Next week the sound of popping leather begins as the Rangers start their spring football training, and Coaches Jim Peterson, Duane Byars and Ernest Kendrick have a lot of work to do. They must determine this spring their starting line-up, to a great extent, since there won't be much time to work out between the time fall practice opens and the first game is played.

Despite all the talk of overemphasis, football is still the prime sport, at least around here, and you can already hear talk about the prospects for this fall. We intend to join the railbirds at Ranger Field next week and get a preview of the 1952 Rangers.

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Hatton Adams drives 85 miles every day to attend school.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Should Act Like Disaster Area

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher has been reading the papers again, his letter this week reveals.)

Dear editar:

I was out here yesterday speculatin on the weather situation and wonderin whether I was gonna be able to make another crop this year with conditions like they are when I noticed a puff of wind hustlin a newspaper along through my pasture and since I figured I might as well be lookin in that direction as any I kept followin it with my eyes and noticed it rolled into a bobwire fence and later in the day I worked my way down to it and picked it up, it was hangin on the third wire from the bottom and I didn't even have to bend over to reach it, and took it off to a sunny spot and sat down and opened it up and the first thing I read was an article sayin Washington has declared the entire state of Texas a disaster area, on account of the drought.

While I am pleased to see Washington bring the rest of the state up to the level of my farm, which has been a disaster area seems like ever since I took it over, I believe we could make better headway with gettin relief if the banks would stop publishin financial statements and people would stop drivin new cars and eatin so well.

While I am doin my part to maintain a disaster status, in fact my wife tells me my farmin would be on a disaster level if I could get a rain ever time I held up my hand and wheat was sellin for $3 a bushel and the rest of the people of the state ain't cooperatin.

If Washington says we got a disaster on our hands, the least we can do is act like it. We keep up this anti-disaster spending and buying and runnin around in good cars and buyin round steak, and before you know it some expert in Washington will get suspicious. It's not treatin Washington right. If Washington says we got a disaster in every county in Texas, let's have a disaster in every county. The first thing a man wantin a pension ought to do is remove his flashy diamonds. Washington wasn't born yesterday. Maybe the day before, but not yesterday.

Yours faithfully,

Laws in some states require that cars on the road maintain spaces between them of one car length for each 10 miles per hour of speed.

Asks Aid For Arabs—

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Arthur Draper, social scientist of the Department of Agriculture, reported recently that the Arab countries should have as much aid from the United States as possible.

Dr. Draper made a 30-day study of the Middle East for the "American Friends of the Middle East." He said there was currently an emotional element "bordering on the political" that could be dissipated if the United Nations showed more concern for Arab welfare. He suggested sending technicians and the wherewithal to carry out numerous agricultural and irrigation projects already started.

PIPE THIS DREAM—A TRICK YOU COULD DO—No illusion—This fellow really is walking off with that truckload of pipe. He is no professional strong man. If the pipe were made of steel and cement lined, as is customary for oil-field use, it would weigh about 720 pounds. But this pipe is made of plastic from a base of cotton linters. It is good for any low pressure use in oil fields. Oil men are going in for it. It won't corrode when filled with salt water or sour crude. It's easy to transport. This lot weighs only 60 lbs. It is made by the Tennessee Eastman Co. and steel shortages have given production a big push. (AP)

Grownups Have Fun Too

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Grownups can have fun playing children's games. That fact has been learned by recreation directors from the city playgrounds.

They play the games as part of their weekly meetings. They take refresher courses in such things as marbles, rope skipping, hopscotch, kick the can and wheelbarrow racing.

The earth is a mean distance of 93,004,000 miles away from the sun.

Urge Vehicle Inspection Now During Lull

AUSTIN, Texas—Motorists are urged to have their motor vehicles safety inspected while there is a lull before the expected rush to inspection stations.

G. W. Busby, chief of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said 2,400 inspection stations have been certified to aid motorists in complying with the new state law. September 6 is the final deadline for having all motor vehicles certified for safe driving.

Busby said the movement of vehicles to inspection stations is lagging, with only about 40,000 being inspected weekly. If a bottleneck is to be avoided before the deadline, he said, at least 100,000 vehicles a week will have to flow through the stations.

Requirements under the new safety law have been modified considerably following an anticipated rush to inspection stations when the law became effective a few months ago. Safety Department officials said many new inspection stations are being certified weekly to aid in avoiding another bottleneck.

"We earnestly hope that motorists will take advantage of the lull we are now having and avoid a last-minute rush in order to comply with the September 6 deadline," Busby said.

Florida Schools Teach Banking

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida schools are adding practical instruction in banking to mathematics courses.

BUY-WORDS FOR BRIDES

For most of you young marrieds the problem of marking every decorating and furnishing dollar count is of major importance. Right at the start it is well to remember that the attractiveness and livability of the home does not depend upon the amount spent. It's so much more a mater of taste, ingenuity and thoughtful planning.

If you're working on a tight budget (and most of us are) many precious dollars can be saved by doing background work yourself, such as choosing the right colors and painting the walls, buying in-expensive fabric and making the draperies . . . even making slip covers. It's lots of fun. The amount thus saved, when applied toward a basic piece . . . a sofa, maybe . . . may mean the difference between having a well-constructed piece that will last for years and a poorly built sofa that will have to be replaced all too soon.

In the room sketched above, the walls and rug are a soft, restful green. White sacking (used generously) has been made into draperies. Sleep sofa, paler green, doubles for a bed when needed. Mahogany drum and nest tables match coffee table. The generous-sized lounge chair is slip covered in striped cotton.

When you furnish your home . . . or buy a particular piece of furniture . . . you want to be able to shop easily and comfortably. You can do just that here . . . with friendly, helpful people to help you make the right choice.

SUIT YOURSELF FOR SPRING

ew silhouettes fall into ain groups. There are those with pencil-slim skirts and classic tailored jackets; there are some with gored flared skirts and softer, more rounded jackets, and there are youthful, feminine-looking suits with pleated skirts and jackets with nipped waistlines. Many are likely to have bracelet length sleeves with cuffs. The wide cape sleeves may be elbow length.

Skirts achieve fullness in various ways. Sometimes it is set low at the back, in the form of a flare or a cluster of pleats. Sometimes it is achieved through discreet trouser-pleats at the waist. Sometimes the flare is so slight as to be unobserved, yet gives ease of walking. Sometimes the skirts are frankly full, with all-round pleats or gores.

In all cases the new suits have a feminine look, with nipped waistline and rounded hipline. Shoulders are natural, with the most discreet, padding, and the most popular jacket length is just to the hipbone.

Shopping for that Easter suit should be easy this spring, for there is a silhouette and a fabric to suit every taste and figure.

Americans, are a proud ho boast of our re- great wealth, man- terprises, of our Army and other great re- m which we can draw But do we, for one mo- lize, that unless we God, (from whom com- gth, power and might) wn dear, fair land is in ger of being invaded by hordes of enemies from foreign countries? Peoples and nations today are traitors. And our own land which we love so well, is surely not exempt, unless we turn our faces toward God, and forsake our evil ways.

The greatest weapons of defense are vested in Almighty God, who has so faithfully defended His people in times past. Great nations have fallen in the past, because they turned from righteousness and the true God, to other things. The world, today, is pleasure-mad and millions of dollars are being spent for it. The world is greedy for gain, supremacy and power and each nation is striving to surpass one another in everyway, only not in righteousness. The greatest thing that any man or nation can do is to humble itself or himself under the mighty hand of God. Our own fair land is honey-combed with Reds and many other enemies, who despise government and dominion of any character, and they are seeking in everyway they can to undermine and overthrow this government, which is by the people, of the people and for the people. We who have fought in the past to make the world safe for democracy; have we fought in vain? Many have died, and have stained the earth with their blood, but there will never be any lasting peace until He, the Prince of Peace, returns to the earth and puts an end to the fighting forces of the world.

Sin and disobedience are the causes of all sorrow and bloodshed. Would to God, that the world and especially our fair America, could open our eyes to see the approaching dangers on every hand. The nations of the world, although they profess to be our loyal friends, could turn traitors overnight and cause us untold misery.

What the world needs today, is an old fashioned revival, that will turn the hearts of mankind back to God. There are many today, who just have a mere profession of religion, which will never do in the Judgment. "Ye must be born again." It makes no difference about how high socially, politically or religiously we stand, in this world, we must all meet the same standard of requirement. There is only one name, given among men, whereby we may be saved, and that name is Jesus, who is the door of the sheepfold and there is no other way, for Jesus says, "I am the way, the Truth and the Life, no man cometh unto the Father, but by Me." There are a lot of ways and means offered by man, to bring the world back to narmalcy, but all are and will prove futile unless the will of the world is brought under the will of God and a reign of righteousness uproots the present systems of government. Men are lovers of their own selves, more than lovers of God and such a love will always bring about a state of selfishness and almost utter disregard for others.

There is a lot of corruption in the administration of government. Men do not stand upon their word of honor, as in days of old. A most solemn word of warning to the present generation is to give heed to the many disorders existing under our very eyes.

The church is failing today in feeding the hungry and clothing the naked, which is a strong admonition from our Lord. And too, the church needs to be one, in unity and spirit and thus fulfill the prayer which Jesus prayed, wherein He asked God to make them one, even as He and the Father were one. Read the 17th chapter of John. In it you will find, how we, as the church of God or Christ, could bring about a great change in the affairs of the world, if we would only apply its admonitions to ourselves, and strive with all our might to make the world a better place in which to live. Jesus says, repent ye, for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand. May we, as a nation, humble ourselves under the blood-stained banner of our Savior and strive to walk in His footsteps daily, and thus escape the wrath of the Almighty, which will shortly be poured out on a Christ rejecting world.

May God bless all who read this and may your life be consistent to His holy will.

Written to warn men and women to turn from all unrighteousness unto the Savior of men, and honor Him in our entire being everyday and in everything.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Might As Well "Get In Key"

Last Tuesday Judge Cunningham wanted to go fishing. "Why aren't you working?" I asked.

Judge explained how his wife had gone on a trip, taken his keys by mistake—and now he couldn't get in the office. So we went fishing.

Next day, he wanted me to go again. I was surprised those keys hadn't shown up yet. "The little woman phoned to say she mailed them," the Judge explained. "They're now in the office, under the mail slot. I'd get 'em if I could just open that door." He grinned and picked up his fishing rod.

"Great little woman, the wife. You can always count on her. Let's go!"

From where I sit, we can use tolerance like the Judge shows for his wife's absent-mindedness . . . and she shows for his habit of lighting out for the fishing hole at every opportunity. He can't see why she likes tea, and she doesn't share his taste for a glass of beer. But they get along fine! Learning to respect other people's ways will "open the door" to happier living.

NO LONGER HIGHEST—Baylor University's 102-foot flagpole was built in 1917 as "the highest in Texas" but is being cut down to half size after freshmen hoisted class flags to the top and then cut hoisting chains for three straight years. A new pole—really the top half of the old one—will be put in place in front of Pat Neff Hall. Here workmen have just finished cutting the pole and are lowering the top half while the lower part still stands. (AP Photo)

Getting In Birthday Rut

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sidney Cook celebrated his 29th birthday recently. His wife, Nona, had a birthday the same day, her 25th.

But this time the Cooks couldn't celebrate together. Mrs. Cook was in Swedish Hospital giving birth to a son, Ryan David.

Important Legion Meeting Monday

Commander Robert Barlow urges all members of the Pierce Johnson Post, American Legion, to be present at the regular business meeting Monday night. A discussion will be held on plans for completing the Veterans Memorial Buildling, Barlow said.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in the Legion Hall.

Mrs. R. P. Hurn, president of the Auxiliary, said that the Auxiliary will hold a separate meeting at the same time.

Cold-Water Shave

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—Maybe it's just because this is a tropical, hot country, but it's a difficult thing to find hot water anywhere.

Everybody goes in for cold showers and cold shaves. Even the lavatories and shower apparatus in hotels are usually equipped with only one faucet or nozzle for supplying water of one kind—cold.

The leading and newest hotel in Saigon, which boasts of its ultra-modernity, supplies hot and cold water only in rooms which front upon the main thoroughfares.

These rooms, or suites, with hot water are called "de luxe."

Few-Drink Motorist Dangerous

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York safety council official warns that a motorist with a few drinks under his belt may be a greater menace than one who has drunk freely.

"Most motorists have been educated to the point where they will not take the wheel if they are under the weather to a noticeable degree," he explained. "A greater danger is the motorist who has had just enough to feel slightly exhilarated."

Mineral Search Intensified

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (AP)—Mining corporations operating in Sardinia have pooled their resources to intensify research for lead and zinc in this island.

The various corporations created a new organization for mineral research and contributed in equal parts to an initial capital of $800,000.

The search for strategic minerals was intensified during 1951 with favorable results. Lead ores found in the newly explored areas of the island rose from 708 tons in 1950 to 4,137 tons in the first 11 months of 1951. In the same period zinc ores rose from 1,348 tons in 1950 to 8,097 tons in the first 11 months of 1951. The ore yielded 52 per cent zinc.

Dry Weather Hurting West Texas Ranches

SAN ANGELO (AP)—West Texas ranches are going into an apparent dry spring with ranges in poor condition and carrying only a small per cent of cattle and sheep they had just a few years ago.

Drouth has forced heavy sales the last four or five years and especiallly during the last year.

A recent check of a number of large ranches reflects the seriousness of the drouth.

One large ranch back in 1946 sold about 10,000 lambs annually. Last year it had only about 2,000 lambs. Just south of this ranch was another large outfit which used to sell 12,000 lambs a year. It is said to have delivered fewer than 5,000 lambs last fall.

Near Sanderson, Terrell County, one ranchman used to sell 4,500 lambs. Last fall he sold only 1,800. Another spread used to sell around 4,500 head. His last sale was like his neighbors, only 1,800.

In the Alpine, Balmorhea, Pecos area ranchmen used to winter around 50,000 lambs. Few or none were held last fall.

Further to the west, near Kent, one ranchman used to sell 12,000 to 15,000 lambs. Only 3,000 were sold last fall.

From Fort Stockton to Van Horn ranches that used to carry up to 50,000 sheep have none today. Few, if any, cattle have replaced the sheep.

"It sounds like too big a reduction to say 50 per cent, but counting the abandoned places our total numbers have decreased more than 50 per cent, while the 'good old ranches' are still carrying probably 60 to 70 per cent of their 1945-46 numbers," one livestock spokesman said.

And if the drouth is not bad enough northern feeders are facing an uncertain market.

Local lamb buyers usually have a pocketfull of contracts at this time every year, but feeders are not interested. They still have their lots full of lambs received last fall under contract.

The lambs are fat and ready to go to market, but they are not going. The weak-priced market would bring heavy losses to the feeders. So they are holding and hoping the fat market might get a little better.

Helen of Troy had the "face that launched a thousand ships."

Clock Didn't Pay Off

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Gambling here has turned to clocks.

Police arrested a tavern keeper here, who pleaded guilty and was fined $50 as a keeper of a gambling house after a woman appeared at the police station to complain she has been gambling on an electric clock at the tavern but was denied her winnings.

The clock has a dial which spins every minute. Presumably, the player bets on numbers from 1 to 12 or on colors superimposed on the numbers.

Fort Hood Soldiers Made Cost Conscious by General Clark

FORT HOOD, Tex. (AP)—Here's a switch to warm the taxpayer's heart this bleak tax-paying month.

Thirty thousand soldiers at Fort Hood are being told to take a personal interest in the private citizen's pay check.

Maj. Gen. Bruce Clarke, commanding officer, wants to make Fort Hood an outstanding example of government efficiency. From the youngest recruit to the highest brass, he wants each man to be acutely aware of the money needed to run an army.

General Clarke has made his entire command cost conscious in several ways.

In the company day rooms, mannequins wear an assortment of service clothes. Each individual item of issue wears a price tag. The first impression a recruit reporting too Fort Hood receives is the initial cost of putting him in uniform—approximately $450.

Ask any soldier on the post and he can tell you within a few pennies how many taxpayer dollars went into each piece of equipment he handles, from his own clothing to the giant tanks.

Each officer is handed a card of instructions containing "Notes on supply discipline and cost consciousness." In it, General Clarke lists strict "Do's and Don'ts" concerning the maintenance and conservation of supplies and equipment.

Every officer must carry the card on his person and certify that he has read it. The card warns the officer that every man must be a supply sergeant himself.

The economy has paid off.

The General's First A... Division is the best fed ... United States Army and ... of approximately $50,000 ... under the figure allotted ... army. This with an increase ... 150 calories per day ... regular service menu.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—aren't what they used to be.

But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflow Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Crests standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.
