SEAFAIR WILL PRESENT PROFESSIONAL SKI SHOW

A professional ski show will be a feature of the first annual SeaFair, Oct. 11 and 12, it was announced at a meeting of the committee planning the community celebration last Thursday in the United Savings Association conference room.

The troupe from Galveston Sea-o-rama will include 10 skiers and a clown. They will put on two shows Saturday and two on Sunday. Included in the program will be jumps and kite events. In addition, there will be five-minute spot skiing events hourly both days.

Also there will be retriever dog demonstrations put on by the South Texas Retriever Association - two Saturday and two Sunday at the Ski Basin in Navigation park adjacent to the SeaFair exhibition grounds where most activities will be centered, including scores of booths.

It was reported that 72 booths have been reserved so far and a few more will be available on a first come, first served basis. Included in reservations to date are 12 booths in the art category, 12 for various crafts, 12 for food service, 20 in the commercial and industrial classification and 16 for educational and informational exhibits. All of the booths will be under tents. They are the Ceremonial Band which will participate in the SeaFair parade Saturday morning, Oct. 11, the Sonora del Mar Latin Rock group of 12 musicians, and the stage band of 19 pieces which is called the Southwest Armada Band.

A unique feature of SeaFair will be a blue crab race to determine the champion running crab of this area. Each crab will be entered and sponsored by individuals or business firms. The entry fee is $7.50 and trophies will be awarded for first and second place. Also, there will be an award for the best decorated crab.

Among early entries are Baby Hugey, entered by Joe Hugenberg Insurance Agency; Hiccup, by Shep's Liquor Store; JJ by Central Power and Light Co.; Colonel Stroot by Security Real Estate; Hotfoot by Marineland; Santa Claws by Martha Christian and Katherine Picton; Pete by Harper Real Estate, and Ten Per Cent by United Savings Association. It is reported that losers in the crab race will become gumbo ingredients.

Plan is to confine the racing crabs under a basket and start them by removing the basket. The first to reach the perimeter of a circle will be the winner. Depending on the number of entries, several race "courses" and several heats may be necessary to determine the winner and runner-up.

Attending the planning committee meeting were Bill Christian, chairman; Bo Clarke, Dusty Smith, George Peirce, Dr. Jerry Shaw, Bill Janecek and Dave Crooks.

Arrest of Two Clears Recent Vandalism Case

The youths were turned over to the Juvenile section for further disposition.

Sheriff Hewes said that he wished to commend the officers involved for their work in the case and would also like to thank the school officials, especially principal Pat Smith of the Junior High for their cooperation in the investigation of this case.

PIRATE JV CLIPPED BY MATHIS 8-6

The Rockport-Fulton JV fell two points shy on the scoreboard but out-played the Mathis JV all over the field. A fumble by the Pirates gave Mathis the ball inside the Pirate five-yard line, and from there Mathis punched the ball over for the score, and then added the two extra points.

Rockport blasted back on a 43-yard run for paydirt by fullback Bobby Lewis, but the attempt for the two-point conversion failed. Lewis was the top ball carrier for the game with 104 yards, 26 more yards than the entire Mathis team.

Leading the Pirate defense were Roland Flores, Bobby Lewis and Newlin Parker.

The Pirate JV plays Tuloso-Midway this week in Tuloso.

Construction was started last week by Texas Highway Department on an overhead stop and go traffic signal at Austin Street and Highway 35, adjacent to First National Bank. Reinforced concrete foundations were installed for metal supporting poles located at the four corners of the intersection. It is anticipated that the signal will be in operation in about 30 days.

Security Info. Available

Sheriff Robert Hewes of Aransas County announced today receiving word from Ferris E. Lucas, executive director of the National Sheriffs' Association, of the availability of the new Phase III materials of our very successful Neighborhood Watch Program.

These materials are available from Sheriff Hewes at the County Jail or by contacting the sheriff at 729-2222. These materials include a test for citizens to measure their own level of awareness of security in connection with their residential security problems, commercial security problems, a series of tests for senior citizens, and special problems concerning the safety of women and children in the streets and in their homes. In addition, materials are available for distribution through restaurants and diners as well as brochures on residential and commercial security.

These materials have been developed over the course of the National Neighborhood Watch Program in dealing with burglary as a national problem. The use of these materials have been successfully proven in communities such as ours where we have started to effectively reduce this crime.

Sheriff Hewes said, "Here in Aransas County we have been using these materials now for the past year and in those communities where we have been distributing these materials, we have noticed a greater awareness and effort on the part of citizens to take corrective actions and to assist law enforcement agencies in reporting crimes where very few have been reported in the past. This encouragement of citizen cooperation goes a long way in assisting your law enforcement agencies in helping to reduce crime."

Please feel free to contact Sheriff Hewes at his local office and obtain information on how you can continue to participate in our National Neighborhood Watch Program.

Spencers Give Bayfront Land In Memory of Connie Hagar

Mr. and Mrs. Emory M. Spencer have given the Aransas County Navigation District #1 approximately one thousand two hundred fifty (1,250) lineal feet of Waterfront Reserve East of Broadway in the City of Rockport fronting on the Connie Hagar Wildlife Sanctuary which is in Little Bay, in memory of Mrs. Hagar, who died several years ago.

Spencer says that in his opinion Mrs. Hagar did more through her bird watching activities to bring favorable publicity to Aransas County than any other individual within his knowledge, and he hopes that at some time in the future it will be possible to place a monument on some small portion of this property in memory of Mrs. Hagar.

Spencer further says, "For many years, I have realized that this tract of land should belong to some governmental agency, but none of them have appeared to have anything to use for money; so we are giving it to the Aransas County Navigation District, which we feel is the most logical governmental agency to own it for the reason that the Aransas County Navigation District owns the bottoms of Little Bay, and by this donation of land, they will now have a land approach to the Bay in this vicinity.

"In addition to this the Beach Road, from the curve and Highway 35 to Key Allegro, is becoming increasingly important daily. There are a number of businesses on this road, and it is obvious that in time it will be used to carry the local traffic. I feel that the public should have a clear and unobstructed view of the Bay at this point, even if it is at my expense."

Based on the last sale of waterfront property in this area of $40.00 a lineal foot, the value of the gift is approximately $50,000.00.

Mathis Sinks R.F.H.S. 37-0

Mathis' Pirates took advantage of numerous mistakes by Rockport-Fulton to score five touchdowns and a field goal as Mathis sunk the RFHS Pirates 37-0 in the season opener for the local Pirates. Mathis moved their record to 1-1 after opening the season a week earlier in a loss to Calallen.

Mathis used a grinding attack on the ground to move to their first score after controlling the ball from the opening kickoff for over ten minutes of the first period. The power running of fullback Clay Nelson and tailback David Myles paved the way for the opening score, but quarterback Ed Munoz stuck the ball on his hip and rounded the end literally untouched on a 5-yard run for paydirt. Myles converted on the first of four point after kicks.

The visiting Mathis team scored again early in the second period on a Myles field goal, and then scored yet another touchdown in that period on a plunge by Myles from one yard out. The TD and conversion moved the score to 17-0. The score remained the same until the half, although the Rockport-Fulton team mounted a serious threat late in the period which ended on the Mathis 15-yard line after a pass was bobbled by a Rockport receiver and a Mathis defensive back plucked the ball from the air for an interception.

The Pirates from Mathis scored on their first possession of the second half after Rockport-Fulton mistakes had pinned the local Pirates deep in their own territory. Mathis' score came on a 23-yard pass from E. Munoz to his brother, Hector Munoz, who was behind everybody.

Rockport-Fulton was not through committing errors because on the very next possession Mathis blocked a punt attempt to set up another score.

Miles again did the damage as he banged in from one yard out.

Capping off the scoring, the Mathis' reserves pounded in a score with quarterback Elias Gonzalez running the last 20 yards.

Rockport-Fulton answered the last Mathis TD with a determined drive, most of which came through the air on passes from quarterback Scott Gillis to tight ends Ronnie Ormand and Bill Walston, and split receiver Ray Guerrero; however, the drive ended on the Mathis 17-yard line.

The local Pirates had one last chance to score as Bill Smith, RFHS defensive end, pounced on a loose football to put the RF Pirates in business on the Mathis 35. As time ran out, the Pirates' fate was sealed as a desperation pass was intercepted by Mathis.

Mathis won the battle of statistics also; however, the difference was not nearly so far apart as was the score on the scoreboard. Mathis amassed a total of 293 yards, while the RF Pirates picked up 153 yards total offense. Although the yardage was the same, Mathis attempted only three passes and completed all three in crucial situations; RF attempted thirteen aerials and connected on five, with two being picked off by Mathis' defenders. The leading ground-gainers for the RF team were Dickie Ballou with 26, Jeff Dietz with 23, Darryl Green with 21, Gillis with 19 and Ricky Herron with 12.

Friday night of this week the Pirates will be put to the test against one of the South Texas powers in the Tuloso-Midway Warriors who will come into the game with a win over Corpus Christi King.

Contract OK'd For Bay Studies

Austin -- The Parks and Wildlife Commission has authorized a $50,720 interagency contract with the Texas Water Development Board to conduct biological studies in San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Lavaca Bays during fiscal year 1976, Sept. 1, 1975, to Aug. 31, 1976.

Funds for the proposed contract will be furnished by the Water Development Board and will permit the continuation of biological studies on Texas' bays and estuaries.

Purpose of the studies is to determine the freshwater inflow requirements for coastal bays.

P&WD biologists and technicians will sample the waters to see how much phytoplankton, zooplankton and nutrients are present and in what locations. At the same time biologists will be doing stomach analyses of juvenile finfish from the same location to determine their feeding habits.

Information derived from this cooperative study also will be used in direct support of the Water Development Board's efforts to determine the effects of water resources development and management on Texas estuaries.

SHERIFF'S DEPT. TO COLLECT XMAS TOYS

Sheriff Bob Hewes and his staff are beginning to collect toys for Christmas. He asks any person who has toys in fair condition to bring them to the County Sheriff's Office in the jail building.

This will be the third year in a row that toys have been collected and given to underprivileged children in the Aransas County area.

This year, as last, a Cub Scout troop will be asked to help in the restoration of the used toys. Again this year monetary donations will also be accepted so that needed paint and other items can be purchased.

Sheriff Hewes stated that again this year he hopes to be Santa Claus and distribute the toys. Needy families are coordinated with charitable organizations for names of children that will have no Christmas toys.

L.D. Nuckles, public information representative for Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, entertained Rockport Elementary fourth graders Sept. 10 with films and slides about Texas estuaries and animals.

The 80 fourth graders are studying pollution problems and endangered species in our environment. Nuckles stressed what the children and parents can do at a local level to preserve the environment.

Chief Deputy Sheriff E.A. Stautzenberger and Sgt. Mike Webb were the investigating officers in the case. The TV set was recovered in a Corpus Christi TV shop where it was taken for repair of a broken electrical cord torn off at the scene of the burglary.

Arrest warrants have been issued for two subjects, according to Sheriff Hewes. Rockport City Patrolman Gary Langston assisted in the investigation.

CANNED GREEN BEANS MAIN ATTRACTION

College Station -- Canned green beans may be the main attraction at grocery stores across the state this week.

One authority says theyre plentiful and have very low prices.

Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, also termed carrots one of the better vegetable values currently.

Other vegetable "reasonables" are cabbage, corn, cucumbers and soft-shell squash.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

Fruit-counter "Best" features include prunes, plums and grapes--along with bananas, cantaloupes and watermelons.

"New crop apples are a bit more plentiful, and some are offered at more attractive prices," the specialist said.

At meat departments, heavy beef specials appear on chuck cuts, round steaks, ground beef and liver-while lightweight beef specials include chops and roasts.

"Fryer chicken prices are somewhat higher, though they still compare favorably with other protein food prices--but turkey prices are tempting," Mrs. Clyatt said.

She also termed low-fat milk, yogurt and cheese prices as "non-budget wrecking."

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Perk up summers jaded appetites with fresh vegetables from nearby growing areas.

Editorial

SMILE AND SAY "HOWDY"

There once was a time when Rockport enjoyed a very desirable reputation for a special kind of friendliness--people spoke to each other on the street whether they knew each other or not.

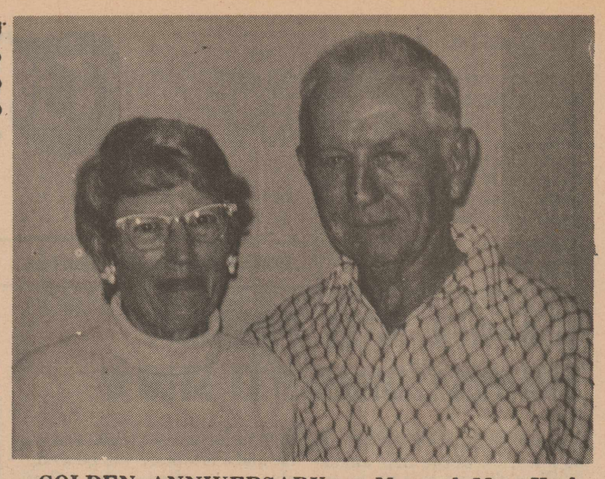

Rockport was known far and wide for this aspect of courtesy. Travel editors wrote about it and visitors carried the word back home after a visit to our community. It gave Rockport a certain distinction and set us aside from other communities.

It was something for visitors to remember us by, an added reason to return for another visit, and perhaps even settle here.

Unfortunately, this friendly custom appears to have fallen into disuse in recent years. Perhaps folks have become more sophisticated, more cynical. Perhaps it has gone the way of many other old fashioned virtues that have gradually slipped away.

The average person basically is a pretty lonely animal. A smile and a cheery word, even from a stranger, can make all the difference in the world, and it makes the greeter feel better, more human too.

Let's all of us make a continuing effort to revive this pleasant and warming custom. It might even be a rewarding project for our Chamber of Commerce, but it will take individual interest and effort to make it a success.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Karl R. Smith celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a variety of parties highlighted by a family dinner at the Key Allegro Inn. They were married September 12, 1925 in Wichita, Kansas, and are the parents of two children, Mrs. Carolyn R. Behee of Rockport and K. Russell Smith, Jr. of Houston. They have two grandchildren, Linda and Steve Smith of Houston.

Teal Season Sept. 20-28

Austin -- A special early teal season Sept. 20-28 will give Texas shotgunners a preview of upcoming fall and winter waterfowl hunts.

Parks and Wildlife Department officials remind hunters that only the three species of teal--blue-winged, green-winged and cinnamon--may be taken during the special season.

Hunting hours are from sunrise to sunset.

Bag limit is four birds in the aggregate with a possession limit of eight in the aggregate.

Waterfowl biologists at the P&WD say this September hunt is set at a time when few other migratory waterfowl are present in the state.

Texas populations of teal generally reach their peaks during mid-to late-October before the majority of the birds leave for their final wintering areas in Central and South America.

A special September teal-only season allows for the harvest of birds which can stand additional hunting pressure at a time when few other migratory waterfowl are jeopardized.

Redfish Spawn At Aransas Lab

Port Aransas -- A year of concentrated work with six large redfish brooders paid off August 14 for Dr. Connie Arnold of the Department of Commerce's National Marine Fisheries Service research facility at Port Aransas.

One of the large female redfish held in the facility's 8,000-gallon saltwater tank produced some 4½ to five million eggs naturally, the first such induced natural reproduction of redfish in captivity by manipulating light and temperature conditions.

By August 15 the eggs started hatching with one to 1½ million redfish larvae hatched. The tiny fish were stocked in ponds at the Parks and Wildlife Department's Marine Fisheries Research Station at Palacios where they will be reared for some 30 days on natural plankton contained in the ponds.

Since fall 1974, Dr. Arnold and P&WD biologists James Lasswell and Bill Bailey have manipulated light and temperature conditions in the Port Aransas "wet lab" to stimulate winter, spring, summer and now fall conditions in Texas.

The lab containing the redfish is now in the September state of nine hours of daylight and 15 of darkness with a temperature of some 72 degrees Fahrenheit.

In fall 1974, P&WD biologists at the department's Palacios lab caught ripe female redfish off Matagorda Island. The wild-caught redfish later spawned in the Palacios lab and produced some 43,000 larvae.

Although this is the first year of work with redfish, Dr. Arnold and P&WD biologists have been successful in obtaining 82 such spawns from speckled trout held in the lab since April 1974.

Conditions in the lab containing the trout simulate the month of June when the fish naturally spawn in Texas waters.

"The secret to this method of obtaining both redfish and trout spawn is not handling the adult fish," said Dr. Arnold. "Previous attempts to force brood fish to spawn by injections of sex hormones involved handling the fish and the injection caused eventual death and loss of valuable brooders."

At the Palacios Marine Fisheries Research Station in 1975, P&WD biologists Bob Colura and Bruce Hysmith on several occasions successfully obtained spawn from trout with hormone injections and reared the larvae in the station's ponds.

Broodstock trout are abundant in the bays of Texas but obtaining redfish brooders has always been a problem in such mariculture experiments. Two of the six redfish held at the Port Aransas lab came from the Parks and Wildlife Department's Palacios lab, two were caught and two came from commercial fishermen.

Both adult redfish and the much-used speckled trout are in good condition.

Object of Dr. Arnold's work is to obtain an abundant, consistent supply of young fish to use in experiments on the basic requirements of the popular game fish.

"Very little is known of the early life histories of trout and redfish simply because there is no reliable supply of eggs and larval fish," said Dr. Arnold.

Brood fish left to spawn naturally under light and temperature-controlled conditions hopefully will supply these young fish. From a scientific standpoint this is of further importance since experiments will start with known parents and known conditions of spawning.

Excess eggs from Dr. Arnold's work go to the Parks and Wildlife Department for state work at introducing redfish and trout in some of Texas' inland lakes as well as the bays of Texas.

On May 13 some 5,000 trout were spawned at the Port Aransas lab and seven days later P&WD biologist James Lasswell moved them to the department's Palacios labs where they were placed in a one-quarter-acre pond rich in zooplankton and phytoplankton and reared by Colura and Hysmith.

After 29 days of excellent growth, the fish were transported to Long (Decker) Lake near Austin where they were tempered in fresh water for 3½ hours and then stocked in the lake.

The bulk of any redfish which survive the 30-day rearing period at Palacios also are destined for Long Lake.

Dr. Arnold will start with basic research to include food requirements and temperature and salinity tolerances.

"This first natural spawn is encouraging," said Dr. Arnold, "but the real success comes when we can induce three and four spawns per year through light and temperature control."

Parks and Wildlife Department efforts to establish redfish as a predator in the state's freshwater lakes date back to the 1950's when small redfish, flounder, Atlantic croaker and speckled trout were introduced into Imperial Reservoir, Lake Diversion and Red Bluff Lake in West Texas.

Some of the saltwater transplants did well and fed on the lake's rough fish populations. However, as expected, none spawned and the project languished because of the lack of culture capability.

The project was revived in fall 1973 with new impetus from the Parks and Wildlife Commission. Again, collecting adult brood fish proved to be a problem when large redfish collected from Galveston Bay died at the Palacios station from the stress of capture.

Trout taken on hooks and lines in 1974 were artificially induced to spawn with injections of hormones but most of the larval fish failed to live past the critical stage of metamorphasis when the larvae absorb their yolk sacs and start to take food by mouth. In 1975, however, good survival of artificially spawned trout has been achieved in ponds by Hysmith and Colura.

Emphasis of Parks and Wildlife Department work at Port Aransas has been on increasing the survival rate. With 82 trout spawns to work with, the rate is up to 28 percent with biologists shooting for around 35 percent.

HOME ECONOMICS AT A GLANCE

Before buying children's toys, know for what age child the toy is designed and how it can be used, Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advises.

A child needs the first hair cut when his hair is too long to manage easily or is out of proportion to his face. Brushing or combing the hair in the direction of natural growth will keep it looking well-groomed, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Before washing white shoestrings in an automatic washer, loop them through the buttonhole of a white garment and tie loosely, Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, suggests.

New potatoes are better than mature potatoes in most frozen dishes. Mature potatoes tend to disintegrate or become watery when boiled and then frozen, explains Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

If a favorite accessory scratches a table, slip out the cork liners from soft drink bottle caps and glue them onto the bottom corners. These "feet" give a protective cushion between the accessory and furniture, Denise Beigbeder, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Creamed Chicken

2 c cold chicken cut in small pieces
1 c cold cooked peas
1 c sliced cooked carrots
rots

Tues. Evening TOPS #'493

Rockport TOPS #493 met on Tuesday evening, September 9, at the Sipe Office Building with weigh-in from 6-6:40 and a business meeting and program from 7-8:00.

All members are back from summer vacations and four vacationers won gold charms for either losing or not gaining on their holiday.

Betty Jean Ward was on an eight week tour of the British Isles as well as spending a lot of time on the continent visiting thirteen countries and she reported a weight loss of eight pounds while over there. Lots of walking and a sensible choice of food was the secret to it all.

Other members who were rewarded with a gold charm "no gain vacation" were Margaret Floyd, Faye Cowdrey and Falba Brown.

Queen of the week for September 2 was Betty Jean Ward and for September 9, Falba Brown was queen with Julie Keller the runner-up. Falba also received her third ten-pound star loss.

Faye Cowdrey led a short discussion and reported on the recent TOPS workshop that was held in Corpus Christi. Nina Cowdrey, Theo Johnson, Margaret Floyd and Faye Cowdrey represented TOPS #493 from Rockport.

It is time to think of taking off those excess pounds so why not drop in and get acquainted with the Tuesday night TOPS Club.

They will help you with your need to discuss dieting and nutrition and you will learn it's not the minutes or the hours you spend eating - it's the "seconds." So -- see you on Tuesday night at TOPS. Visitors are always welcome.

Home & Garden Club Meets

The Rockport Home & Garden Club met at the Methodist Hall on September 11. President Mrs. Connie Garcia called the meeting to order following the refreshments. Mrs. Alice Moore read the minutes of the executive board meeting and called the roll.

Mrs. Garcia introduced the guests and new members. Guests were Mrs. Hilda Klager, Mrs. Lois Mosier, Mrs. Johnny Gibbs and Mrs. JoAnn West. The new members are: Mrs. Lucy Duby, Mrs. Doris King, Mrs. Iris Jenkins, Mrs. Jackie Shaw, Mrs. Leroy McVay, Mrs. Betty King and Mrs. Dennis Weekly.

Treasurer Mrs. Charlotte Walston presented the yearly budget and bank balance for the club. A motion was made, seconded and passed to accept the budget.

Mrs. Patty McArdle asked for volunteers to maintain the flower boxes at the ski basin and a yearly schedule was circulated for signing.

Mrs. Ardath Rogers gave a Bicentennial report. The flag raising ceremony will be during SeaFair in October, and each club has been asked to send a representative. Mrs. Rogers will take photos of any Bicentennial function.

Mrs. Connie Garcia and Mrs. Jackie Shaw gave a report on the showing of homes during SeaFair. The club discussed whether to show the homes or have a plant sale at SeaFair. It was voted to have the plant sale.

National Garden Club Day is October 14. Mrs. Bea Butler is chairman for the plant display in several buildings in Rockport for this date.

Mrs. Mamie Ruth Caton introduced Mrs. Claud Ward, who presented an interesting and informative program on making arrangements, both dried and fresh, for shows. Mrs. Ward has a long list of qualifications such as accredited National Flower Show judge and a student judge of bromeliads. She is a member of the Orchid Society, the Bromeliad Society, the Ocean Cliff Garden Club and president of the Corpus Christi Judges Forum. She has won the sweepstakes award twice for her entries in the Festival of Flowers.

Homemakers Met Sept. 2

The Young Homemakers held their regularly scheduled meeting Sept. 2 at the high school homemaking building.

This meeting was held to begin organizing committees that will be needed this year to carry on the club's work.

During the meeting plans for participating in this year's SeaFair were discussed along with plans to attend the Area X Young Homemakers meeting to be held Sept. 20 in Yoakum, Texas.

The club also has plans underway for their annual membership tea which will be held Sunday, Sept. 28, at the home of Mrs. Leslie Casterline.

The Young Homemakers would like to thank all those FHA girls who helped collect money for the Cystic Fibrosis campaign last year and thank all those people who have donated money throughout the year.

The Lieutenant Governor's Report

By BILL HOBBY

Austin -- Last week, I discussed the medical professional liability insurance problem and the adoption of Senate Bills 466 and 491. This week I would like to discuss, in some detail, one particular directive of Senate Bill 491.

In addition to the functions discussed in last week's column, this bill establishes the Medical Professional Liability Study Commission which has already begun its work. Senate Bill 491 directs this 18 member commission chaired by former University of Texas Law School Dean Page Keeton, to make specific recommendations, including proposed legislation, to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker, Legislative Council and members of the Legislature on or before December 1, 1976. The report is to offer specific recommendations regarding the professional liability problem. In addition, it shall include, but not be limited to, discussions of the following topics:

(1) the scope and extent of the medical professional liability problem;

(2) reasons for the increase in such claims;

(3) effects of the rise in such claims on physicians and health care providers, including the increased use of defensive medicine and increased premium costs;

(4) effect of claims increase on patients, including increased costs;

(5) alternative approaches and proposed solutions to this problem;

(6) review of comparable law on compensation commissions, arbitration panels, screening panels, and recommendations regarding use;

(7) review of existing and proposed laws governing compensation and the amount of compensation patients, including the time within which claims may be brought and the elements of loss for which compensation may be recovered;

(8) the existing tort law in the area of concern and recommendations for change, if any;

(9) any other matters for procedures which the commission considers relevant to its report.

That this commission has been appointed and held its first meeting less than three weeks after the adjournment of the 64th Legislature is testimony to the intent of the State of Texas to determine what response to the crisis is most appropriate and then to make that response.

I particularly hope that the work of this commission will serve as assurance to this state's medical professionals and that their problems will not be ignored but will be made the target of meaningful action. Our physicians have been most responsible in expressing their concerns regarding the professional liability problem. We must work together to address this problem.

Baptist Ladies Met Sept. 9

Woman's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church met Sept. 9 in the Educational Building of the church for their Week of Prayer program. Mrs. James Russell was in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. B.M. Taylor was in charge of the program. Mrs. Cecil Phelps opened the meeting with a singing prayer. Mrs. Neiland Fain read a scripture verse, followed by reading the names of missionaries whose names appeared on the Calendar of Prayer.

Meditation was given by three ladies, Mrs. Charles Fake, Mrs. Dan Ward and Mrs. Cecil Phelps.

The members were each given a "bus ticket" and taken on an imaginary tour to different cities in Texas where Baptists have work.

Each member was asked to invite one new member this year to the Society.

Nineteen members enjoyed a covered dish luncheon after the meeting.

High School Has Freshmen Orientation

On Sept. 11 the Rockport-Fulton High School Student Council sponsored a freshmen orientation program.

The program was designed to tell the new freshmen students about the clubs that their school had to offer. Eight High School students spoke about the different clubs and organizations.

They were: Juniors - Jena Miller and Sharon Hicks. Seniors - Andy McDavid, Scott Gillis, Rose Heasley, Scott Hiller, Nancy Goodin and Lee Nuckles.

Cheerleaders Rose Heasley, Claire Picton, Sarah Shenk, Laurie Woodman, Beverly Barnard and Teresa Milks did two yells to help spur freshmen spirit.

A skit was also put on depicting a typical freshman on his first visit to the office. Participants in the skit were Scott Gillis, Bill Walston, Jeff Dietze and Andy McDavid.

The Kinsey Report

When you phone some places of business and institutions and say you would like to speak to a certain individual, the lady answering the call will say:

"May I tell him who is calling?'

I'm not an authority on whether or not this is a good, business-like practice but I do know what my own reaction is to this procedure.

It makes me feel like, "Gosh, I wonder if you have to be an important person to have your call put through? Must I be the president of General Motors to speak to the person I'm calling or would he take a second to speak to plain me?"

I used to feel rather strongly about this, but then my weird sense of humor came to the fore and I have developed my own way of dealing with this type of situation.

For example, last week I called a local institution and asked for the head man. The lady answering the phone said, very politely, "May I tell him who is calling?"

I replied, also politely, "Why certainly, this is Father Flanagan." That brought the head man to the phone promptly.

Another time, I said, "Just tell him the Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan is calling."

The man I was phoning got on the phone in a hurry, probably out of curiosity, to find out what nut was on the phone.

Another time, I said, rather gruffly, "Tell him Henry Kissinger is calling, and I'm in a hurry because I've got to go to Egypt."

The man I was calling got on the phone in a few seconds. He simply had to find out if it was possible that traveling Henry actually was calling.

The proportion of multi-car households in the United States nearly doubled during the 1960-70 decade. According to a report issued in late 1970 by the Bureau of the Census, 29.3 per cent of all American households owned at least two cars.

Brown Pelicans Holding On In Texas

Austin -- Like their Louisiana relatives, brown pelicans in Texas are holding on to existence by a thin thread.

Recent estimates of the summer breeding population of the endangered bird in Texas range from 25 to 50 adult birds. Parks and Wildlife Department biologist John Smith has put the total young produced this year at only nine birds.

"Last year only one pelican was fledged in Texas," said Smith. "David Blankenship of the National Audubon Society estimates in 1973 11 birds were fledged. Production during the 1970s has remained under a dozen pelicans each year."

But according to Smith, some 155 of the large birds winter in Texas from Port Isabel near the Rio Grande to the Port Lavaca area. Summer nesting birds are usually found in a more restricted area from Corpus Christi to Port Lavaca.

Brown pelicans numbered in the "several thousands" as late as 20 years ago, accordding to Smith. Their rapid decline started in the mid-1960s with the widespread use of DDT and related pesticides.

Texas pelicans escaped the recent pesticide-caused deaths which reduced the Louisiana flocks from an estimated 500 birds to 250 adults.

The pesticide endrin was carried by the Mississippi River from farms upstream into bays where the pelicans concentrated.

The chilliest thing you can encounter in midsummer is a company economy wave.

In their constant search for more reliable data on wildlife populations, wildlife biologists of the Parks and Wildlife Department have started a new, more refined technique of aerial deer census in South Texas.

The area to be worked is laid off in a grid of census lines three miles apart. These lines run north-south and east-west. Check points are located on each line and the distance between these check points is accurately measured. These points are roads, windmills, ranch houses or some other geographic feature that can be easily identified from the air.

These census lines are flown at 70 mph in modified light planes that can fly safely at this slow speed at an altitude of 150 feet. Two observers, one for each side of the plane, count and record the number of deer in a 100 yard strip on each side of the census line. They record what they see on miniature tape recorders, identifying bucks, does and fawns.

Each plane carries an extremely accurate electronic timer that beeps every minute. By knowing the distance between check points, the statisticians can accurately plot the ground speed of the plane. By knowing this speed, and knowing at exactly what time the sightings were made, using the beeps of the timer as a guide, they can plot the distribution as well as the total number of deer on the line.

The biologists also identify any other wildlife seen, such as javelina, turkey, coyote, mountain lion, bobcat, coveys of quail or flights of doves.

Observations are made when wildlife is normally moving around. Census flights begin at daylight and continue for about two hours. They are resumed about an hour and a half before sundown. By dark the planes are again on the ground. Each line, with a few exceptions, is flown only once.

In order to establish a reliability factor some of the lines are flown a second time 24 hours after the first flight. In order to reduce the number of variables the same plane, pilot and observers are used for both flights. The lines are flown at the same time of day in the same direction. In Webb County, where the flights should be completed during the week ending September 20th, five such repeat flights will be made.

The length of the lines in Webb County vary from 30 to over 100 miles. The total length of all the lines in that county is just a fraction less than 2,190 miles, but the duplication of the five lines makes the total miles to fly 2,431. At 70 mph this is a lot of flying time and as soon as Webb County is completed other South Texas areas will be flown.

When the census lines are completed the recorded tape will be sent to data processing personnel in Austin who will compile the data and feed it into a computer. The computer read-out should then give game managers the most accurate, most complete information they have ever had to work with.

Library News

Statistics for the month of August indicate a drop in the use of the library. Patrons visiting the library numbered 1787 and 2079 books, periodicals, albums and films circulated. A total of 138 books were added to the library collection.

Summer reading program participants who earned certificates should come by the library for their certificates and Dairy Queen coupons.

A collection of Indian artifacts is on display at the library. The exhibit is from the Frio Cielo Ranch, member of Texas Archaeoligical Society. This display was placed in the library through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Hiller and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Janecek.

The library gratefully acknowledges donations and memorials from Mrs. Austin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Province Winkler, Mr. and Mrs. Drew Harrell and Col. Henry von Pein.

The library is open Monday through Friday, noon to 6 p.m.

Presbyterian Circle Meets

Circle 2 of First Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. Trulie Elder. Thirteen members and one guest, Mrs. Mildred Dawley, responded to roll call with a Bible verse. The minutes and treasurer's report were read.

The new officers for next year will be: chairman, Mrs. M. Hight; co-chairman, Miss Lillie Fahr; secretary, Mrs. Lorraine Winkler; and treasurer, Mrs. Rosemary Setterbo.

The lesson, "The Dawn of the New Age," was moderated by Mrs. Hight. The next meeting will be held at the church with Mrs. M. Roth as hostess, and Mrs. Van Morgan as moderator.

--Rosemary Setterbo, Secretary.

SENIOR CITIZENS' DANCE

Approximately 50 people enjoyed the dance for Senior Citizens at the Airport Recreational Room on September 10. Gene Rickles was present with his music which he mixed very well. If you didn't like the waltzes you might like the next dance of "Put Your Little Foot" or a fox trot or "Cotton-eyed Joe."

The highlight of the evening was the honoring of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Smith on their 50th wedding anniversary. They danced the "Anniversary Waltz" and then cut the beautiful sheet cake which was furnished by their daughter and which everyone enjoyed along with some delicious punch.

The next dance will be October 8 so mark your calendar for a good time.

RECENT GRADUATE

The University of Northern Colorado awarded diplomas to 1,049 students Saturday, Aug. 23, amid the pageantry of summer commencement ceremonies.

The charge was delivered to the graduates by Dr. Richard J. Crawford, chairman of the Department of Communications. Receiving degrees were 315 undergraduates and 734 graduates. Included was Cynthia Berry of Rockport.

Geologic Maps Are Available

Austin -- The Bureau of Economic Geology of The University of Texas at Austin has published the latest in a series of detailed geologic maps of the State of Texas.

Dr. Charles G. Groat, acting director of the bureau, announced the publication of the Beeville-Bay City sheet of the Geologic Atlas of Texas.

"This map is especially significant because it incorporates a new approach to subdividing certain geologic units," says Dr. Groat, "and that should make the map even more useful to geologists, planners, engineers and others."

The Beeville-Bay City sheet is the 19th in the series which eventually will include 37 maps covering the entire state.

The multicolor map covers the portion of the Texas coastal zone between Freeport and Rockport including all or parts of Aransas, Bee, Calhoun, DeWitt, Goliad, Jackson, Karnes, Live Oak, Matagorda, Refugio, San Patricio and Victoria Counties.

Scale of the map is 1:250,000, or one inch represents approximately four miles. Map colors indicate various geologic formations which were formed in the Tertiary and Quaternary, the two major subdivisions of the "recent" era of geologic time, encompassing the last 60-70 million years. The map base includes topographic contours, locations of streams and evidence of human culture such as towns and highways.

Geologic mapping was checked in the field by several geologists under the supervision of Dr. Virgil E. Barnes, map project director. The Geologic Atlas Committee of the Corpus Christi Geological Society reviewed the mapping.

The Beeville-Bay City sheet is a memorial edition honoring Alexander Deussen (1882-1959). Duessen is the geologist closely identified with early regional studies of Gulf Coast Geology and with oil and gas exploration in the area.

Copies of this map, as well as other maps in the series, may be ordered from the Bureau of Economic Geology, University Station, Box X, Austin, Texas 78712. The price of each map is $3 plus 15 cents for all orders from within Texas.

A.A.R.P. NEWS

Wednesday, Sept. 10, was the date for the bi-monthly meeting of the A.A.R.P.--Rockport Chapter. It was held at the Airport Recreational Building with Zollie Glass presiding.

After a songfest led by Neal Gage, reports of the various committees were called for. Dorothy Kaptor reported on her programming for the balance of the year. She was commended for bringing each month something new and original.

Mrs. Rasco reported on plans for the lifetime learning programs which will be announced soon.

Neva Sorenson reported on the Concern Center and need for more volunteers.

Zollie Glass reported that, due to conflict at the V.F.W. Hall, the Country Fair will be held on December 3. Mrs. Jack Horton asked for more help for getting material ready for sale at the Country Fair. As part of the program for the Country Fair, Della Scott has hand-quilted a beautiful queen-sized quilt with the American eagle done in gold in the center. Drawing for this quilt will be held at the VFW Hall on December 3. Tickets are available from AARP members, $1.00 each or 6 for $5.00. See the quilt this week at H.E.B. Store.

Following the business meeting Mr. and Mrs. Larry Reasoner showed a series of colored slides taken on a tour made by them of a portion of Germany--that portion where Patton's men surrounded and defeated the German Army. Many beautiful slides showed castles built many years ago.

One outstanding shot was made by Mark Kullman of the Jr. & Srs. league in picking up the 8-10 split.

They still need bowlers, both Bantams and Jr. & Srs. Any kid between the ages of 5 and 21 if you are still in school, high school or college should get in touch with the Bowling Center or contact either of our coaches, Joyce Close or Sue James. Just come on out to Brunswick Coastal Bend Lanes every Saturday morning at 10:00 and have a big time with the rest of your buddies.

Consumer Food News

College Station -- Grocery bargain hunters will find mostly higher prices across the state this week, according to one observer.

However, fryer chickens remain a good value despite a slight price increase--as their quality is excellent, Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt noted.

The consumer marketing information specialist is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Egg prices are up a bit, also, with Grade A, large-size eggs offering the best combination of quality and economy.

"Beef prices are about the same--to just a bit higher than last week.

"Most markets are featuring various lightweight and mature beef cuts at special prices, though, so check ads for family preferences," the specialist added.

She predicted best values on round steaks and roasts, ground beef, stew meat, chuck roasts and steaks.

At produce counters, economy prices and good quality are available in cabbage, carrot, corn and cucumber buys, along with peppers, okra and soft shell squash.

Several varieties of grapes are on the market in quantity at good values, and early crop apples are more plentiful, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"We're close to end of the season for some small, soft fruits--with more varying of prices and quality. Make selections carefully on pineapples, peaches, strawberries and nectarines," she advised.

Consumer Watchwords: "Unruly" fresh vegetable budgets need "beets"--the two-in-one food. Both root and leaves are edible.

Engagement Announced

Mrs. Walter A. Holmes of Corpus Christi has announced the engagement of her daughter Laura Anthony Holmes to Randall Itschner of Corpus Christi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Itschner of Harbor Oaks, Rockport. The wedding will be held in St. Luke's Methodist Church, Corpus Christi on October 11. After the wedding the couple will live at 5639 Inglewood, Corpus Christi.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

RECEIVES AWARD

Marine Lance Corporal John L. Hinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Hinson of Rockport, has been awarded a Meritorius Mast while serving at the New River Marine Corps Air Station, Jacksonville, N.C.

He was personally commended, by his commanding officer, for his outstanding performance of duty with the unit.

Ali–Frazier

A third fight has now been arranged between the heavyweight boxing champion, Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier, former champion. The go is scheduled for September 30th—and will be seen in the United States on closed circuit television.

The Manila bout will bring each fighter millions of dollars. It's estimated Ali will receive about $6,000,000 and Frazier $3,000,000.

That two boxers can earn nine million between them by bashing each other's heads and bodies in the ring for about an hour is a poor commentary on modern society.

Boxing, of course, is not the only physically violent sport drawing huge crowds; but it is the most international. We have moved from humans versus lions in Roman times to men against men with gloves and against bulls in modern times, with modern sport at times producing fatal beatings.

There's always time for one more good joke.

Auto Insurance Rates Will Not Show Decrease

Despite lowered auto speed limits and reports of some reduction in highway accidents there is no chance that automobile insurance rates will be reduced, according to Joe Hugenberg, local insurance agent speaking at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Sept. 10 at Sandollar restaurant.

He asserted that sharply higher charges for accident repairs makes premium rate reductions most unlikely. The cost of replacement parts and labor to install them have skyrocketed in recent years, he said. It is all a part of inflation which received added stimulation with the advent of the energy crisis in Novermber, 1973.

Hugenberg declared that politicians were not being realistic when they demanded immediate auto insurance rate cuts when the speed limit was reduced to 55. First of all, the 55-mile an hour limit is not being generally observed, and the cost of accident repairs has continued to mount.

To illustrate the point, he cited some price comparisons on parts in 1971 and 1975. A front bumper cost $68 then and $79.90 today; cost of a radiator grill was $49.25 compared with $65.90 now; a standard auto battery has gone from $39.85 to $55; a sealed beam headlight bulb has jumped from $2.85 to $4.50; a windshield cost $132 in 1971 and $169.40 now; a hood has gone from $132 to $152.20, while a radiator has advanced from $96.15 to $148. Increases on these parts range from a low of 17 per cent to a high of 57 per cent in four years, according to Hugenberg.

Labor costs have increased from $7.50 and hour to $12, an increase of 60 per cent, he added. Also he reported personal injury claims averaged $500 in 1960 and $1,700 in 1974, an increase of 240 per cent.

In the field of property damages he cited increases in construction costs of almost 70 per cent since 1967. The cost of adjusting liability and property damage claims has gone from an average of $32 in 1971 to $50 in 1975. In addition, the number of claims has increased substantially. A Corpus Christi adjusting firm reported the number of claims it handled increased from 80 to 90 a month to some 300 a month, an increase of 275 per cent.

In the face of sharply increased costs automobile insurance rates have increased a net of 10 per cent since 1971, including two increases in rates and two decreases, he asserted.

PENINSULA OAKS GARDEN CLUB

Twelve members were present at the Sept. 11 meeting of the Peninsula Oaks Garden Club.

During the short business meeting presided over by Frances Naquin, president, a letter was read from the Rockport Home & Garden Club thanking the club for maintaining a planter box at the Ski Basin.

Election of officers will be held at the Oct. 9 meeting.

Betty Abt and Frances Naquin served refreshments to Joanne West, Flora Davis, Frances Meriwether, Dorothy Leslie, Thelma Sours, Bernita Kinsey, Alice Morrison, Bernita Kinsey, Johnnie Callam, Frances Naquin, Ruth Duncan, Betty Abt and Inez Boney.

PUBLIC NOTICE

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
(S.J.R. NO. 11)
SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1975

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the separation of powers, legislative and executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article II, Separation of Powers, is amended to:

Provide that the powers of government of the State of Texas are divided among three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. Except as otherwise authorized by the constitution, members of one branch may not exercise any power properly attached to either of the others.

Article III, The Legislature, is amended to:

Continue the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. The article provides for annual sessions of 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years, and a veto session of 15 days upon request of three-fifths of the membership of each house. The legislature may meet in organizational sessions prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions.

Article IV, The Executive, is amended to:

Continue the present status of the governor and all other statewide officers, and include the commissioner of agriculture as an executive department officer. The governor is limited to two consecutive terms. The governor is authorized to designate chairmen of state boards, and to remove gubernatorial appointees to state agencies for cause unless the removal is vetoed by the senate. The article mandates the legislature to provide a new governor-elect an appropriation so the governor-elect may organize an office prior to inauguration, and permits the legislature to grant powers of fiscal control to the governor. All governmental agencies, with several exceptions, have a life of not more than ten years unless extended by the legislature, and, at the regular session held in odd-numbered years, the governor shall submit to the legislature a report on the organization and efficiency of the executive branch.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the SEPARATION OF POWERS, LEGISLATIVE, AND EXECUTIVE PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective January 1, 1976, except Article III, Section 5, which becomes effective January 1, 1981.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the judiciary provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article V, The Judiciary is amended to:

Establish a unified judicial system consisting of the supreme court, court of appeals, district courts, and circuit courts. Existing county courts and county judges are continued until otherwise provided by law. All judges (except municipal judges), district attorneys and district clerks must be elected by the people. The supreme court and the court of criminal appeals are merged into a single court of last resort, and this supreme court is authorized to provide for efficient administration of the judicial system and to balance case loads. Individual rights for a trial by jury and appeal by the accused are continued. The state is granted the right to appeal in criminal cases in limited circumstances, and the legislature is permitted to establish methods of appeal to the courts from decisions of state agencies.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the JUDICIARY PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the voting and election provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VI, Voter Qualifications and Elections, is amended to:

Provide for registration and qualifications for voting including voter residency requirements to be established by law. A citizen of the United States who is at least 18 years of age and who meets the registration and residence requirements provided by law is a qualified voter unless the person has been convicted of a felony and for that felony is incarcerated, on parole, or on probation, or unless the person is mentally incompetent as determined by a court. Voting by the people in all elections must be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide by law for residence, registration, and absentee voting requirements, for the administration of elections, and for the protection of the electoral process. The general election for state and county officers is to be held in even-numbered years on a date prescribed by law.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the VOTING AND ELECTION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the education provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VII, Education, is amended to:

Provide that the Permanent and Available School Funds and the county public school funds are continued for the support of the free public schools. The State Board of Education is retained and the Permanent and Available University Funds are continued for the benefit of The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. A new Higher Education Fund for Texas is established for the benefit of colleges and universities outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. The state ad valorem tax of ten cents on $100 valuation is continued as the source of revenue for the Fund. The ten cent higher education tax may be changed by law within the ten cent maximum. The legislature may allocate by law a portion of the Higher Education Fund to certain state vocational and technical institutes. The article provides that the public education system must furnish each individual an equal educational opportunity, but a school district may provide local enrichment of educational programs exceeding the level provided by the state consistent with general law. Authority to issue Permanent University Bonds is continued but the bonds may not exceed 30% of the Permanent University Fund.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the EDUCATION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976, except Article VII, Section 9, which becomes effective January 1, 1979.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the finance provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VIII, Finance, is amended to:

Provide that state taxes may be levied and collected only by general law and to prohibit any state ad valorem tax on real property or tangible personal property except the ten cent tax provided for in Article VII and a tax of two cents on the $100 assessed valuation to provide funds for the State Building Fund. Provides that all real property and tangible personal property must be taxed equally and uniformly in proportion to market value. Existing exemptions from ad valorem taxation are continued. The present dedication of motor fuel taxes for highway purposes and the Available School Fund is retained. The "pay-as-you-go" principle for the operation of state government is retained. The legislature shall establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of open-space land devoted to farm or ranch purposes and may establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of forest land devoted to timber production. The $3000 exemption from state ad valorem taxation for residential homesteads is continued and the legislature by law may increase this amount. A separate $3000 exemption from ad valorem taxation by political subdivisions is provided for the residential homestead of persons at least 65 years of age and the political subdivision may increase this amount. The legislature by law may exempt from ad valorem taxation certain property owned by veterans' organizations, nonprofit water corporations, and persons in need because of age or disability, and economic circumstance. The legislature may also exempt property to preserve historical, cultural or natural history resources. Taxpayers are provided a new method of correcting inequitable tax assessments by paying ad valorem taxes under protest and suing for a refund in a district court. State debt may be authorized by law only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and submitted to and approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the state voting on the question. Public funds and public credit may be used only for public purposes and no public funds or public credit may be used to influence the election of a public officer. The article prohibits a retail sales tax on agricultural machinery or parts, fertilizer, feeds or seeds, prescription drugs or medicine, or food, except food sold by restaurants for immediate consumption. An assessment voted by marine food or agricultural producers on their product sales is not a tax if provision is made for the individual producer to receive a refund of the assessment when the producer does not desire to be assessed.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the FINANCE PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective on September 1, 1976, except Article VIII, Section 2, Subsections (b) and (c), which becomes effective January 1, 1978, and Article VIII, Section 6, Subsection(c), which becomes effective January 1, 1979.

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the local government provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article IX, Local Government, is amended to:

Provide that the counties of the state are those that exist on the date of adoption of the local government article and that county boundaries may be changed if approved by a majority of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. Counties may be merged or county seats relocated if approved by two-thirds of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. The present elected constitutional county offices are retained and four year terms of office are provided. The voters of a county may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. The voters may also grant ordinance making power to the governing body of the county. Cities and towns having more than 1,500 inhabitants may become home-rule cities. Tax limitations are established for operating purposes for cities and counties and the legislature is required to fix debt limits for cities, towns, counties, and school and community junior college districts.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the LOCAL GOVERNMENT PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective on September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the general provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article X, General Provisions, is amended to:

Provide the basic requirements relating to public officeholders such as the official oath and residency requirements. The provision defining the separate and community property of spouses is retained, and the protection of a homestead from forced sale is continued. The legislature is required to protect certain personal property from forced sale. Current wages for personal service are not subject to garnishment. A private corporation may not be chartered except under general law, and no bank may engage in business at more than one place in this state. The legislature must provide for the regulation of bank holding companies. The present system of local-option elections for the prohibition or sale of alcoholic beverages is continued. The legislature is required to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises but may permit certain bingo games and raffles. The presently existing provisions for retirement benefits of teachers and other public employees are modified to allow the state to contribute more than 10%. A policy that the quality of the environment of the State of Texas is to be protected is established, and the legislature is required to implement and enforce this policy. No state funds may be used to remove surface water from the river basin of origin if the surface water is necessary to supply the reasonably forseeable water requirements of the basin for the ensuing 50 years, unless the removal of water is sufficiently replaced to the point of removal from outside the state or is on a temporary, interim basis. The seaward beaches of the Gulf of Mexico and coastal submerged lands belonging to the state are held by the state in perpetual trust for the people, and subject to reasonable limitations prescribed by law, the public has the free and unrestricted right of use and benefit of the beaches. The provision is continued that, except as otherwise provided by law, a rate of interest in excess of ten percent a year is usurious, and that if a contract does not specify a rate of interest, the rate under the contract may not exceed six percent a year. Discrimination against handicapped persons is prohibited, and a goal of the state is established to provide every resident access to adequate, comprehensive health care.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the GENERAL PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the mode of amending provisions of the Texas Constitution. The proposed article will be the last article of the constitution. If only Proposition No. 8 is adopted, the article will replace Article XVII of the present constitution. If other propositions are adopted, the article will be appropriately renumbered to remain the last article of the constitution. If all propositions are adopted, the article will be Article XI. Article XVII, Mode of Amending the Constitution of the State, is amended to:

Establish a procedure for constitutional amendments requiring a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and majority approval by the voters. The calling of a limited or unlimited constitutional convention with voter approval is provided. The question of whether to call a constitutional convention must be submitted to the people every 30 years.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

The constitutional amendment revising the MODE OF AMENDING PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976. c27

Official Memorandum

BY
DOLPH BRISCOE
Governor of Texas
AUSTIN, TEXAS

Greetings:

In Texas we share with all Americans a unique tradition of voluntary assumption of responsibility for the conduct of community affairs. Concerned citizens have always banded together to meet human needs. To deal with such needs through joint action the United Way has evolved.

It is the mission of the United Way to unite entire communities in meeting these human needs and to provide a vehicle through which concerned citizens can fulfill the American dream of providing for a more satisfying life for all.

The local United Way organization is more than a combined agency fund raising program. It has a legitimate and overriding concern for people, the problems they face and the means for resolving them.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the months of September, October and November, 1975, as in Texas, and urge all People of our State to work in and contribute generously to the campaigns in their local communities.

UNITED WAY
CAMPAIGN MONTHS

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 13th day of Aug., 1975.

Dolph Briscoe
Governor of Texas

WATERFOWL HUNT DATES SET BY COMMISSION

Austin -- A daily bag limit of up to 10 ducks and generally longer waterfowl hunting seasons were established by the Parks and Wildlife Commission at their August 29 public hearing.

The commission set split seasons for both ducks and geese in the eastern portion of the state -- both to open Nov. 1 and again on Dec. 20.

Goose season east of U.S. Hwy. 81 is Nov. 1 - Dec. 12 and resumes Dec. 20, 1975 - Jan. 18, 1976. West of U.S. Hwy 81, Texans will have 93 continuous days of hunting, Oct. 18, 1975 - Jan. 18, 1976.

Duck and coot season east of a line running from Del Rio to Vernon is Nov. 1-30 and Dec. 20, 1975 - Jan. 18, 1976.

West of the Del Rio - Vernon line duck and coot season is a straight 83 days, Oct. 28, 1975 - Jan. 18, 1976.

Duck bag and possession limits will again be determined by a 100-point system, but with significant changes. For the first time since the 1971-72 season, canvasback and redhead ducks may be hunted over most of Texas.

This year each canvasback and redhead counts as 100 points except in Brazoria, Chambers, Galveston, Harris, Jefferson and Orange Counties, where the season remains closed. Last year the season on the two species was closed in all 16 coastal counties.

There are no changes in 70-point ducks from the 1974-75 season: mallard hens, wood ducks and hooded mergansers.

All species of teal count as 10 points, a change from last year when green-winged teal were 35 points and blue-winged and cinnamon teal counted as 15-point birds.

Other 10-point birds this year include pintails, gadwalls, scaup, shoveler and mergansers except hooded mergansers.

All other species and sexes of ducks count 25 points in eastern Texas. In the western third of Texas, 25-point ducks will count 20 points.

Bag limit on geese east of U.S. Hwy. 81 is five birds, to include no more than one Canada or one white-fronted goose, with a possession limit of five to include no more than two Canadas or two white-fronts, or one of each. Daily bag and possession limit shall include not more than one Ross' goose.

West of U.S. Hwy. 81, daily bag and possession limits are two and four geese respectively, except the daily bag and possession limits shall include not more than one Ross' goose.

Bag and possession limits on coots in all of Texas are 15 and 30 respectively.

Seasons remain closed for fulvous and black-bellied tree ducks and Mexican ducks.

Seasons and bag also were set on sandhill cranes, woodsock and snipe.

--Lesser Sandhill (little brown) cranes: In Zone A, Oct. 25, 1975 - Jan. 25, 1976. In Zone B, Nov. 29, 1975 - Jan. 25, 1976. Daily bag is three birds and possession limit of six.

The only major change in sandhill crane hunting this year is the requirement for a federal permit, to be issued free of charge by the P&WD Austin office. The permits furnished by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will in turn provide a list of crane hunters for a post-season harvest survey of the birds.

--Woodcock: Nov. 15, 1975 - Jan. 18, 1976; bag of five, possession of 10.

--Common snipe (Wilson's snipe): Nov. 15, 1975 - Jan. 18, 1976; bag of eight, possession of 16.

HUNTING. FISHING DAY SEPT. 27

Austin -- Hunters and anglers who enjoy your sport -- stand up and say so.

That's the advice of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, which for the fourth year has joined in the promotion of National Hunting and Fishing Day, this year on Sept. 27, 1975.

Governor Dolph Briscoe has already proclaimed the date as an official state celebration in Texas. Similar proclamations for use by towns, cities, counties and other subdivisions are available from Information and Education, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Reagan Bldg., Austin, Texas 78701.

Outdoors groups and clubs are urged to have such local proclamations signed and announced in their areas.

Then, and most important, active hunting and fishing enthusiasts should arrange for local gatherings at which exhibits and discussions can be held. Suggestions for such meetings and informational material are available in kits from the National Shooting Sports Foundation, 1075 Post Road, Riverside, Connecticut, 06878.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Two years ago, a landmark Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act was passed by the Legislature after months of work with the sponsors by the Attorney General's Office, the Texas Consumer Association, the Texas Retail Federation, the Texas AFL-CIO, and the State Junior Bar.

That law made Texans one of the best-protected groups of consumers in the country.

Again this past legislative session, our Attorney General's Office, in cooperation with the same groups, worked to help pass certain amendments to the basic law that would clarify parts of it in order to provide even better protection against fraud for consumers.

The basic premise of the 1973 law was, and still remains, that every citizen is a consumer—this includes businesses—and that consumers are entitled to protection from false, misleading, or deceptive practices in their business dealings.

The changes passed during the last session further specify that "consumer" means "an individual, partnership, or corporation who seeks or acquires by purchase or lease, any goods or services."

For example, if an insurance corporation bought 100 new typewriters and later found out they had been sold not new but "reconditioned" machines, they might take action under the law.

Another important change is that real estate transactions are now covered by the Act. So, if you buy a house thinking you're getting 10 acres of land with it, and it turns out that you actually got only 9.6, you might file a consumer complaint.

Or, if someone sells you a lot and house in the country with a septic tank installed and "in good working order," and you later find out the septic tank is installed but has never worked properly, the new law clearly protects you.

Another change in the law clarifies a consumer's right to protection from fraud in goods or services purchased or leased for use, including services furnished in connection with the sale or repair of goods. For example, this provision would protect a consumer from misrepresentation if he leased an automobile for a period of time. The Legislature has, however, limited protection on purchase or lease of services to uses other than commercial or business.

Another consumer law passed in the recent legislative session brings the Texas Home Solicitation Act in conformance with a similar federal law. Sales in the consumer's home may now be cancelled by the consumer within three days if the amount of the sale exceeds $25.00. Sales involving real estate may be cancelled if they are for amounts over $100. The seller must include disclosure of Home Solicitation Act provisions on contracts for all goods under $200, unless a 100% written guarantee is offered.

And, finally, a significant service to consumers was authorized by the Legislature when provision was made for our Attorney General's Office to open a sixth regional office to serve the Lower Rio Grande Valley. This office will operate in conjunction with our regional offices in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Lubbock, and El Paso, and our main office in Austin will make consumer law enforcement activities much more accessible to residents of the Valley.
