Town Talk

By MAC McKINNON

Our apologies to Westbrook for not having anything in the Record Thursday about Thursday night's play off game with Roby. However, we knew nothing about it until the paper was already printed late Wednesday.

Efforts have been made continually to find out Westbrook's district record without results and Wednesday a call to Westbrook was not returned and we were not able to find out the results of the final regular season game or any playoff possibility.

The Wildcats put up a good fight against Roby Thursday and are to be congratulated on a good season.

Congratulations also to the Colorado City Wolves for a tremendous effort against Wylie Thursday night.

Never have I seen a team play with more intensity than the Wolves did during that game. Their efforts were extraordinary and a number of plays seemed almost unbelievable. It was super and the fans' cheers reflected their appreciation of the team's effort.

Jay Boy Adams of Colorado City has been busy promoting his new album and performing on both coasts. He is scheduled to start cutting a new album soon.

A recent card from him said he had been on the east coast for two weeks touring with the Marshall Tucker Band and on the west coast for three weeks with the New Riders and Ricky Nelson.

Colorado City's Don Maynard of New York Jet fame was in the finals of ABC-TV's Superstars competition. He fared extremely well considering he was by far the oldest person in the competition.

It was a pretty good feat just getting to the finals.

I received an interesting letter, anonymous of course, after a recent column criticizing President Carter on the Panama Canal. Anonymous letters are not printed in the Record or any other newspaper I know of.

The letter in essence said the President should not be criticized and so much as said that doing so is Un-American. That person is entitled to his opinion.

However, my opinion is to disagree with the letter. It is my opinion that it is our American duty to state our disagreements. Our elected leaders are our representatives. How do they know how they should represent us unless we state our views?

It'll be a sad day, should it ever happen, when we can't criticize our government and state our views publicly.

We fail in our duty as Americans when we do not speak out on the issues, both pro and con. It is just as important to let our leaders know when we are for something as when we are against an issue.

Wolves Are District Champions--Again

Colorado City's Wolves continued their dominance of District 6-AA competition Thursday night as a hustling boys basketball varsity thrashed a hapless Wylie Bulldogs team for the District title in Sweetwater.

Final score was 56-32. It was the first district championship in basketball for the Wolves since 1968.

The hustling of the Wolves in the first half of play dazzled the large crowd of some 300 to 400 Wolf fans on hand and brought the crowd to its feet a number of times.

Colorado City put on a brilliant display of ball control, ball handling, rebounding and defense.

The win gave Colorado City its fourth district chamampionship this school year, in football, volleyball, boys varsity basketball and boys junior varsity basketball. On top of this the Wolf band topped other 6-AA bands in ratings in UIL competition. On top of that, the boys track team appears to be a cinch to repeat as district champions.

Only one time did the Wolves trail in Thursday night's game and that came early.

Both teams showed evidence of the jitters in the early going with neither team being able to score until 2 1/2 minutes had elapsed in the contest. That's when Colorado City's Bill Jordan popped the net for two points.

However, Wylie came right back and scored two buckets to take the lead. That was about all Wylie had to cheer about during the fast-paced event.

Time after time, the Wolves Bill Jordan, Kevin Geiger, Blake Hammond, Ricky Sanchez and Ronald Proctor stole the ball away and raced downcourt in fast break fashion. They forced Wylie to take bad shots on the few occasions they could get away a shot and a number of those shots were blocked by high leaping Ronald Proctor and Ricky Sanchez.

Colorado City Coach Mike Hart called on his bench strength to rest the Wolves of their torrid pace with David Rivers, Ronnie Wagner, Gene Carter and Russell-Noel coming in to prove equal to the task.

At the end of the first quarter, the Wolves led 12-5 and they increased that lead to 31-13 at halftime.

Both teams were playing without starters, Wolves Center Cornell Ausbie who chipped an elbow in the final regular season game, and Wylie's Joe Light who sprained an ankle in the final week of the regular season. Light saw a few minutes action late in the contest.

Wylie's strong point during the season had been outside shooting but the leaping defense of the Wolves would not allow that nor would they allow Wylie inside for layups.

The fast pace of the first half obviously took its toll on both teams as the pace was somewhat slower in the second half but there was still rapid fire action.

In the third and fourth quarters, the Wolves continued to pour it on and increase their lead and only one time during the third quarter could Wylie cut the Wolves lead to less than 20 points and then they came only as close as 16 points to closing the gap.

The score at the end of the third quarter was 39-23.

Leading scorer for the Wolves was Kevin Geiger with 16 while Ronald Proctor added 13. Ricky Sanchez and Bill Jordan each had eight. Blake Hammond had four, Gene Carter had three and David Rivera and Ronnie Wagner each had two points.

Bi-District Contest Set

Colorado City varsity boys will be challenging Denver City for the bi-district title Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Midland Lee High School Gymnasium.

Denver City swept by Tahoka Friday night 56-47 to take the district title and the chance to play for bi-district.

The winner of the Colorado City-Denver City game Tuesday will advance to the regional tournament in Lubbock, scheduled to be played Feb. 23-24.

Counseling To Be Offered

Rape Crisis Center To Be Established

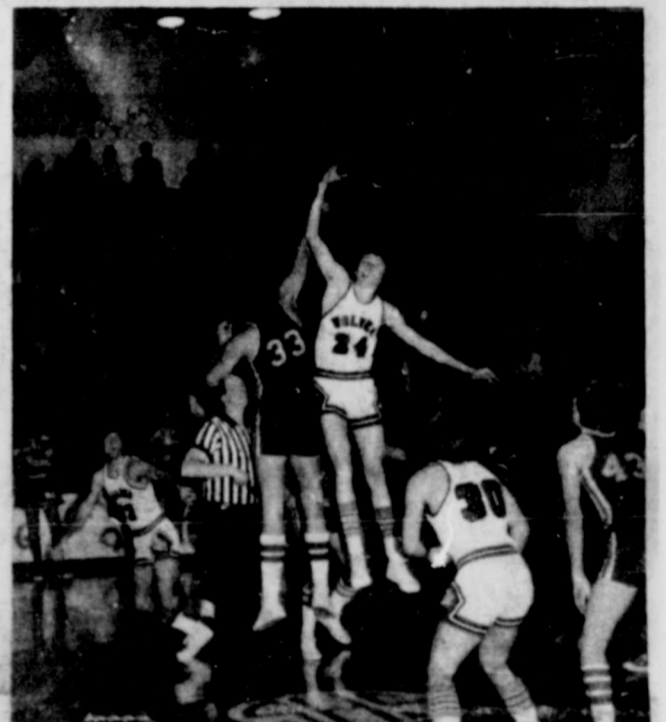

A Rape Crisis Center is to be established in Colorado City, according to Police Chief Fred McWhorter.

He has recently interviewed a number of volunteers to work for the center and approved five of the women.

The function of these women will be to give moral support, a certain amount of legal advice and medical information to help a rape victim.

It is hoped that they will be able to help the victim preserve evidence and encourage prosecution of offenders.

These volunteer ladies will be instructed by Mc-

VICTORY over Wylie to bring a District 6-AA basketball championship to Colorado City was celebrated by Wolves players Thursday as they hoisted Kevin Geiger up to cut down the net in Sweetwater gym. In bottom picture, game action shows the Wolves Ronald Proctor (in white) out-jumping a much taller Wylie opponent to control the ball for the Wolves. The Wolves won 56-32 and will play for bi-district Tuesday night.

Wildcats Lose To Roby 51-37

Fouls and a cold third quarter kept the Westbrook Wildcats out of the District 11B District Title game Saturday as they lost a play-off game to Roby Thursday in Roscoe 51-37.

The Wildcats, playing without the services of center John Lightfoot who broke a hand at the last of the season, trailed by only three points at the end of the first quarter and at halftime but only scored six points in the third period to fall seven points behind.

Late in the third period and early in the fourth period, Westbrook got in foul trouble with four starters fouling out before the game was over. Roby outscored Westbrook 19-12 in the final period.

Westbrook tied with Roby for the first half of competition and Roby won the right to play for the district crown. That game was played yesterday (Saturday).

Roby's athletic sensation Brad Stuart scored 27 points to lead all scorers.

Daryl Rich was top scorer for the Wildcats with 10 points while Clark Sweatt had 6, Terry Webb, 9 and Bobby Moody, Ricky Reyes and Larry Dawson each had four.

Blaze Ruins Smith Home

A blaze completely gutted the home of Wesley Smith early Saturday morning.

The Colorado City Volunteer Firefighters answered a call at 1:39 a.m. to 325 West Sherman Road. The fire was blazing when they arrived on the scene minutes later.

Firemen dispatched two units to the fire, which they felt might have been caused by a leaking gas line.

Firemen remained on the scene in icy weather conditions until 5:30 a.m. in an effort to save the structure.

County Chalks Up 71,421 Bales

With ginning season completed, area gins have reported record-breaking 76,430 bales for the 1977 production, with 71,421 of the bales from Mitchell County fields.

In 1976, Mitchell County produced 40,076 bales of cotton which was less than the 1975 yield of 42,081 bales for the county.

The comparison of last year's ginned bale count with this year's shows the following:

- Buford Coop, 8,921 bales (1976-6,425).
- China Grove, 10,019 ginned of which 5,009 were from Mitchell County (1976-5,756 bales of which 2,878 were from Mitchell County).
- Colorado Gin Co., 2,720 bales (1976-1,859 bales).
- Farmers Gin, 6,254 bales (1976-3,772).
- Loraine, 19,036 bales (1976-12,760).
- Mitchell Co. Gin, 7,766 bales (1976-4,700).
- Westbrook Gin, 6,414 bales (1976-3,616).
- Producers Coop, 15,300 bales (1976-9,894).

Cotton production in the county for the years 1972-1976 show the following bale counts:

- 1972, 44,497.
- 1973, 46,470.
- 1974, 10,085.
- 1975, 42,081.

WESTBROOK WILDCATS (in white) made a valiant effort Thursday night against Roby but ran into foul trouble and a cold streak in shooting as they lost a bid in a playoff game with the Lions to get into District 11B finals. Pictures show at top Daryl Rich taking a shot and in bottom photo Larry Dawson is shown taking a shot with Alan Moody at left and Rich in foreground (No. 12 in white).

Colorado City received $234.71.

By law, cities and counties receive 15 per cent of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries. The balance goes into the state general revenue fund.

According to a report by State Comptroller Bob Bullock, a record $540.5 million was shelled out for mixed drinks last year, a 25.7 per cent increase over 1976.

Mixed drinks gross receipts tax from area counties for the quarter included:

-Jones County, $534.49.

Becky Harkins designed the refreshment table. It was covered with a white, gathered floor-length cloth, fitted to the table by a band of lace entwined with pink satin ribbon. The floral centerpiece was made of china from Mexico and held an arrangement of pink roses. Cupids were featured at the base of the vase.

Punch was ladled from a white milkglass punchbowl. Coffee was poured from a silver service and slices of red velvet cake with pink icing and nuts were served to the shower guests. Table appointments were silver and milkglass.

Gifts for the bride were displayed in the living room, bedroom and sitting room of the Cox home.

The hostesses presented corsages of pink carnations to the bride's mother, the groom's mother, grandmothers of the newlyweds and the sister of the groom. The bride's corsage of red carnations and hearts was worn on the shoulder of her street-length beige dress.

The hostesses also presented Mrs. Erwin with a Sunbeam Mixmaster.

 INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT

If You're Not covered under any other retirement plan, start your own.

It is an account called an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) approved by the Internal Revenue Service. It is now possible for wage earners to add to their financial security by establishing their own personal retirement plans. Federal Legislation now permits employees and self-employed persons receiving compensation and not covered under any other retirement plan to establish their own INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT. And you can save immediately on income taxes while planning a secure future for you and your family.

What is an Individual Retirement Account?

An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) is a personal tax sheltered retirement plan. It was developed to bring every American worker the opportunity to build a more secure future for themselves and for their family.

Who can establish an IRA?

IRAs are available to any wage-earner. The only requirement is that you not currently be a participant in an employer-sponsored plan.

Can my spouse establish one?

Your working spouse may establish a separate IRA, too, provided he or she is not currently a participant to an employer-sponsored plan.

How much can I contribute to my IRA?

Federal law allows a maximum annual contribution of $1,500 or 15% of wages, whichever is less. Of course, smaller amounts can be contributed each year.

Are my contributions tax deductible?

For Federal income tax purposes, contributions to an IRA are fully deductible for gross income up to the maximum allowed by law. You can deduct your contribution even though you don't itemize deductions.

Do I pay taxes on the income earned by my account?

The earnings of your account are not currently taxable. Each dollar of earnings produces additional DOLLARS WHICH ARE ALSO NOT CURRENTLY TAXABLE. This tax-free compounding continues until retirement.

When do I pay taxes on my account?

Your account, including principal and earnings, is not taxed until you receive payment from it.

When can I begin to receive payments?

No payments can be made to you before you reach age 59½ unless you become permanently disabled. If your death should occur sooner, funds in your account will be paid to your named beneficiary. You must begin to receive payments from your account by the time you reach age 70½.

How do I start an account?

Opening an individual Retirement Account is an easy as opening a savings account. Stop in and one of our officers will gladly assist you.

Golden Rule Suggested For Overcoming Prejudice

"Overcoming Prejudice" was the subject of the Mitchell County Retired Teachers meeting Tuesday, Feb. 14 at the Wallace Center. The 3 p.m. meeting sported a Valentine theme.

Hosting this meeting were: chairman Juanita Coker, Mattie Hines, Fern Coon and Clara Shoemaker. During a short business session reports were given by Mrs. Feaster, Mrs. Reed and Mr. Sweatt, who reported to the group on his findings on life, health, and medical insurance from the Legislature meeting he attended recently.

Mrs. R. M. Reed was the program chairman and she led a discussion on how to overcome racial prejudice with RTA members contributing suggestions.

Members reminded themselves that we were all created by God and are therefore related regardless of skin color. It was agreed on by the group that "loving your neighbor as you do yourself" would be a positive step toward removing prejudice. Other practical suggestions were noted by various members.

The hostesses served refreshments of cookies, coffee and hot apple juice to those present: Mrs. Tom Coker, Fern Coon, Swan Cramer, Mrs. Orin Feaster, Della Fox, Dona Reed, Clara Shoemaker, Mrs. Arnel head. Three of these women have assisted with rape cases in the past. These ladies will provide maturity, sincere concern and a willingness to help, McWhorter said. They will meet with a victim any time of day or night.

"Hopefully we won't need or ever have to use this center," McWhorter stated. "National statistics show that only one out of every six rapes are reported," he added. "We're here to help people who are in need of help."

Ag Expenditure Level To Be Established

In an effort to establish expenditure levels for 1977, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will be contacting several Mitchell County farmers during February and March.

Local producers will be asked a series of questions about their marketing practices for livestock, field crops, fruit and vegetables. Answers secured during the interviews will be confidential and used only in state and national summaries.

According to a survey conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service for 1976, production expenditures nationwide averaged just over $32,000 per farm.

The report noted that the total outlay to raise crops, livestock and poultry ran up a bill of $89 billion.

The major expenditure for the year was for feed, which accounted for over $14 billion.

Next in line was rent cost of $8 billion; interest and taxes of $7.9 billion; wages at $7.4 billion, and purchase of fertilizer, lime and soil conditioners at a cost of $7.2 billion.

EMT Classes Set For March

March 6 will mark the beginning of classes in emergency medical technician certification.

The class will be held on Monday and Wednesday from 6-10 p.m. at the Wallace Center.

Joe Stockton, who is a paramedic, and John McEligott, a physician's assistant, will teach the class.

Anyone interested in the EMT school should contact Stockton at Root Memorial Hospital.

Stockton noted that only 30 students will be accepted in the class. Students for the course will be selected according to job classification.

Hill Caravan To Be In Colorado City

Tomorrow (Monday) a campaign caravan for John Hill, candidate for Texas governor, will make its way through the streets of Colorado City.

State Representative from El Paso, Luther Jones, will be a part of the caravan which is scheduled to drive down 2nd Street and on to the Mitchell County Court House about 4:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Various persons working on the Hill campaign are starting caravans at different points in Texas and will all join together for a rally in Dallas on Thursday.

Hertenberger Encourages Citizens To Become Involved In Bringing About Social Reform

Buddy Hertenberger was the guest speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Business & Professional Women's Club at the Civic Center. The meeting began at 7 p.m. with Faye Spivey, Rochelle Smith, Pearl Watson, Louise Havard and Joy Culwell as hostesses.

The tables were decorated with cupid, valentines, fresh flowers, on white cloths with red accent decorations. Dinner was served.

Pearl Watson led the pledge of allegiance followed by prayer, voiced by Rochelle Smith, to open the meeting. It was announced that Katy Byrd had been chosen as Woman of the Year. Mrs. Byrd is the wife of a Presbyterian minister and she has been active in civic affairs.

"Do We Need To Re-evaluate Our Attitudes?" was a question Buddy Hertenberger asked members of the B&PW during the ensuing program, as many questions of social reform were mentioned based on a recent CBS broadcast.

Hertenberger pointed out problems of unemployment, unreported traffic obstacles or noisy disturbances, lack of jobs for minorities, not enough activities for youth, illiteracy of many high school graduates, lack of respect for public and private buildings and properties, unreported crimes and criminals.

After giving the ladies a few moments to reflect on the stories he used to illustrate each point, Hertenberger submitted the following suggestion: "Do not let someone else take care of a situation. Call in on the bush or shrub that is a traffic hazard, let your council person know about how you feel on the appearance of our town. Call police on the hot rods or other vehicle disturbances. Please do not be afraid of getting involved."

Being involved, it was suggested, means exercising your right as an American to voice your opinion and claim your rights. Voting, writing your congressman, commissioner, local council person are all positive ways of achieving social reform. Hertenberger said, "We seem to only have about 75% of qualified voters registered. Then only about 30-40% of these people actually vote." Voting is the responsibility of each qualified citizen and is a freedom not very many world citizens possess. "Please vote our country has fought and people have died for our right to vote," Hertenberger said.

Hertenberger also asked the members if respect is learned in the homes or if it is "left up to the teachers and public authority?"

In summation, the problems of the world are up to all the people who live in it to solve. It is every man's responsibility to take an interest in the world around him, by changing his attitude toward exercising the freedoms extended to each American citizen.

Members present for the meeting were: Virginia Dearen, Jackie Dennis, Mildred Free, Elaine Fugate, Nelda Garrett, Mary Hickman, Lee Hutchins, Etta Jones, Erdine Morgan, Velma Mosley, Bobbi Elwell, Pearl Watson, Roxie Witten, Faye Spivey, LaRue Powell, Sallie Rogers, Margaret Ann Conaway, Juanita Schafer, Katy Byrd.

Also Nell Shackelford, Rochelle Smith, Thelma Tidwell, Fern Thompson, Neva Turner, Christine Ware, Shirley DeLaney, Sue Womack, Ida Kirschbaum, Minna Berman, the guest speaker Buddy Hertenberger and his wife Lu Ann and Alice Berman.

The next meeting of the B&PW will be March 14 at 7 p.m. at the Civic Center.

Mothers Of The Faith

Studied By Agape Circle

The Agape Circle met in the parlor of the First United Methodist Church Monday at 7 p.m. for a program on "Mothers of the Faith," a discourse on three women in the Bible who were important in Biblical history.

From this she related the story of "The Traveler and the Pebbles."

Nelda Garrett led the program on "Mothers of the Faith" noting three famous

For 21¢ or less you could put this letter into a call across the country.

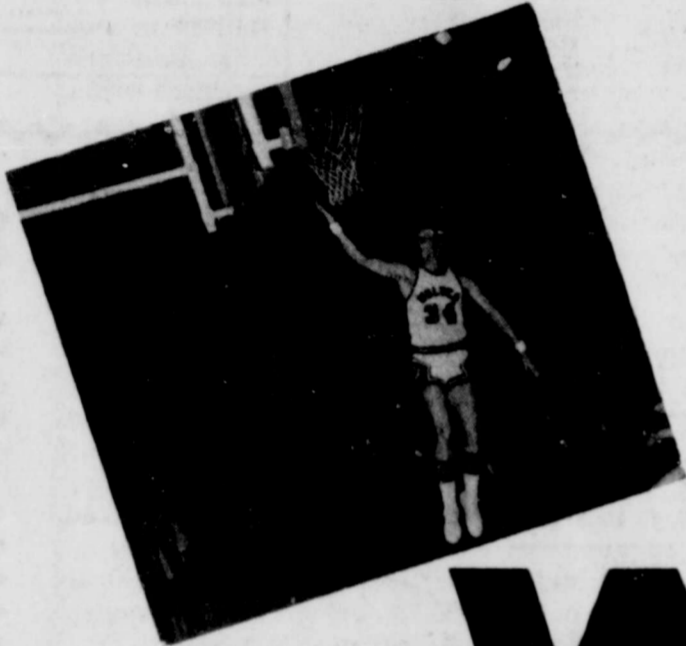

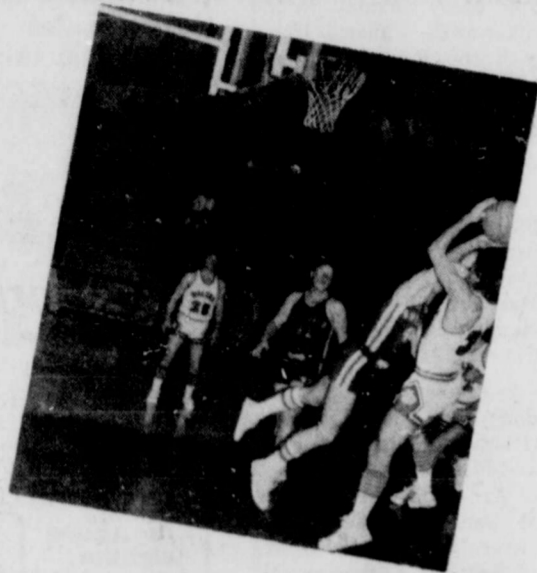

If you're an average talker, you can say about 175 words in one minute. Which means you could put a personal letter like this into a more personal one-minute Long Distance call. And it'll only cost you 21¢ plus tax if you dial One-Plus from 11 p.m. Friday to 5 p.m. Sunday, or any weekday after 11 p.m. Of course we're not suggesting you talk for just one minute. But even if you talk 10 minutes, you're only talking $1.58, plus tax. Or $2.57 if you dial Sunday through Friday between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m. And that's talking clear across the country. So if you're still putting words into letters, just think of what you could be putting into a Long Distance call.

Nadine Gordon, Mayor Bassham Address Beta Epsilon Members Of Delta Kappa Gamma

Members of the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Jerry Reynolds. The Reynolds' home was decorated with fall flowers and potted plants for the meeting.

The two program speakers were Mayor Marion Bassham, who spoke on "Satisfaction in Improving Community Affairs," and Mrs. Gerald Gordon, who spoke on "Improving Credibility in Education."

Speaking from experience, Mrs. Bassham stated that working as part of the city council was "interesting and informative." After 4 years of service on the council, Mrs. Bassham says she has learned about city facilities, needs, improvements and repairs. Being involved in this civic work provides a gratification parallel to that of her nursing profession, she says. That is, both have needs that caring people can fill.

Mrs. Gordon presented a relatively new system of evaluating the lack of credibility in present education institutions. Using copies of U.S. News, Time and News Week, Mrs. Gordon related that there is a group in Pasadena which supports the hypothesis that poor teaching may be directly related to poor learning. Some states, in fact, are testing and grading teachers, she noted. A pilot school in Pasadena switched back to the "back-to-basics," discipline and homework. Added to these extra efforts by the students, there is 'On the Scene' photographs made of classroom activity to evaluate teachers' performance.

Mrs. Gordon concluded with, "Teachers can clean up their own ranks, but if they don't, some other group will do it for them."

Hostess for the meeting, Mrs. A. L. Geer, served hot, spiced punch and fruit breads to the following members present: Mrs. Esten Blackmon, Mrs. Mike Burt, Mrs. W. D. Conaway, Jr., Mrs. Jay Craddock, Mrs. Orin Feaster, Mrs. Charles Godwin, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Lynn Halbert, Mrs. Curtis Latimer, Mrs. Caddo Matthews, Mrs. J. M. New, Miss Clara Shoemaker, Mrs. Martin Weaver and Mrs. Reynolds.

Dr. Joe Starnes, superintendent of the Sweetwater Public Schools, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Beta Epsilon chapter. Topic of the meeting, to be held in the home of Mrs. Curtis Latimer, will be "Improved Role of Women in Education."

Baptist Mission Work With Indians Studied

"Reaching Native Americans" was the theme for the Baptist Women's meeting at the First Baptist Church of Westbrook Tuesday at 2 p.m. Mrs. Gerald Rollins was in charge of the program with Mrs. Bob Manning, Mrs. Lee Shaw, Mrs. L. M. Dawson and Mrs. Floyd Rice participating.

The study was of Southern Baptist mission work with the American Indian. Roughly 100 missionaries work with Indians in the United States, reported the group.

Indian work is in the Department of Language Missions of the Home Mission Board, but the board itself does not open fields or establish missions, it was stated. The Board contributes a lump sum of money to the state conventions, who open, organize, and supervise Indian mission work, usually in cooperation with a local church.

The Indian churches contribute to the cooperative program and to the special offerings. They call their own pastors and pay his salary themselves. They receive no mission money, says Ada Pickup of her church in Oklahoma, which was founded in 1880 and is independent as are many white churches. This church, it was noted, has a full program including Sunday School, Training Union, Music, Brotherhood, Woman's Missionary Union, and they have sent missionaries from their church, the first one in 1887.

About 400 Indian Congregations are related to Southern Baptist. Some of these churches began before there was a Southern Baptist Convention. Approximately 250 have Indian pastors. Some of the Indian Churches are self-supporting and some are not, the program stated.

Plans were made for the Mission study book "Leaven and the Salt", to be taught on Wednesday night, Feb. 22 or March 1. The book will be taught by Mrs. Manning and plans for church-wide supper on that night was discussed to be announced at a later date.

Valentine cake, punch and red hats were served to those present. Mrs. Lee Shaw presented the call to prayer and worded the prayer for missionaries with birthdays on that day.

The week of prayer for Home Missions will be March 6-12 according to Mrs. Bob Manning, local president.

In the interest of explaining some concerns American farmers have been voicing in recent months, we are reprinting here the following editorial which will appear in the March issue of John Deere's farm magazine, The Furrow.

A copy has been sent to President Carter and to each individual member of Congress and the Cabinet.

There's no such thing as a cheap lunch

Ranking high among the myths of history is the myth that cheap food is always economical.

Ours is a land of plenty. Some people eat better than others and sometimes distribution is imperfect, but there's usually more than enough food to go around. Thus Americans have not only been blessed by the world's most bountiful supply of food, but they also spend a smaller portion of their income for food than do the people in almost every other nation of the world.

In this climate of plenty, no reasonable person would suggest that food should become expensive, but some very reasonable people have warned that food may in time become too cheap. In many countries of the world, food has been pegged so low in price that those who produce it have lost either the incentive or the resources to continue. There is good reason for believing that perhaps this time is approaching in America.

American agriculture is now showing the strains of a decade during which, many farmers believe, the nation placed the expediency of keeping food prices down ahead of the well-being and even the survival of those who produce that food. It is a clear and sobering fact that farmers are simply fed up with cheap food--and there are many reasons why.

High price. During the late 1960s there was a little-noted recession in American agriculture. Burdened with surpluses, the farm economy declined while the general economy sparkled around it. Food was a bargain. Near the end of that decade, though, the true cost came into focus. It was dear indeed: A great many American farmers had gone out of business.

As the decade ended, however, farm prices were inching upward. The surviving farmers could see better days ahead. Exports soared early in the '70s, eating into the price-depressing commodity surpluses. Supply came into balance with demand. For the first time in years, commodity buyers had to compete for what was available. Farmers started to share in the national prosperity, and the number of farms stabilized for the first time in more than 40 years.

It seemed almost too good to last, and it was. Food prices at the supermarkets increased substantially because of increases in farm commodity prices, increases in the cost of processing, packaging, and transporting food, and because of the general inflation which increased the price of everything. A nationwide meat boycott was attempted, with organizers lashing out at "high food costs" and demanding a 20 percent reduction. This reaction stunned agriculture. A majority of the American public rejected the boycott, but the scars remained. Somehow the hurt to the American farmer was worse than any drought, pestilence, or hardship of the past.

Farmers were still reeling when the U.S. government started the world with an export embargo against the farmers' soybean crop, 40 percent of which had been produced for the export market. But it was only the beginning. In 1974, the U.S. government noted rises in the price of wheat and corn, so it put a sales moratorium on those crops, thereby frustrating overseas buyers. Then our government cancelled a series of trade agreements involving farm commodities, and at the same time urged farmers to expand their operations and bring back into production the millions of acres idled during the years of surplus.

For American agriculture, the worst was still to come. To compensate for higher prices, especially higher food prices, consumers demanded higher incomes. Inflation rippled through the national economy, hitting farmers with a wave of rising costs for everything they needed to buy in order to stay in business. Costs of some inputs doubled. Finally, in 1977, with commodity surpluses increasing, the farm prices of major commodities skidded backward toward levels of the '60s.

And so the '70s, a decade that began for the American farmer in the green spring of confidence, with a promise of long-delayed prosperity, had produced instead a harvest of surpluses, depressed farm prices, an inflated economy, and an uncertain future.

True cost. It would seem that any nation as committed to family farms as ours must take note of the plight and morale of its farmers. In particular we must look askance at the expediency of cheap food. If some good farmers go out of business, and if many surviving farmers become discouraged, then food could become expensive indeed, because too few, if any, farmers will have either the resources or the desire to produce it.

Farmers have good reason to be restless and worried. They also have reason for apprehension regarding the commitment of our nation, its consumers, and its leaders to a healthy agriculture. If some farmers seem militant, it's because they want everyone to realize that cheap food is frequently political but it is never economical. Farmers want the people of America never again to forget that there's no such thing as a cheap lunch.

The Land Bank ...money to keep the farm in the family

One of agriculture's toughest challenges is keeping the farm in the family. It takes long term planning and, often, long-term credit. For more than three generations, the Land Bank has helped farm families pass along what they have worked so hard to build. We may be able to help you, too.

"Conversations On Carpeting"

By Fred Butts

INDOORS OR OUT

Last time I talked about nylon, one of the marvelous synthetics that have brought exciting changes to carpeting in recent years. Maybe after hearing about the great strength and wearability of nylon, you decided, "That's the one for me." But don't be too hasty. There are a number of other marvelous synthetics that have appealing properties of their very own-special properties that you'll want to know more about.

Take Polypropylene for example. Polypropylene, also known by its generic name Olefin, is the fiber most often used in indoor/outdoor carpeting. As you can probably guess, Olefin is wonderfully weather-proof. Its non-adsorbant qualities actually resist moisture. Carpeting made of this all-weather fiber offers a minimum amount of static, so dirt and dust don't cling to the carpet surface.

Olefin's moisture resistant properties are equally at home outdoors under the stars, or indoors by the kitchen sink. That's why it's also a popular fiber for making kitchen carpeting. Olefin is highly resistant to stains. Spilled milk and other liquids can be wiped up with a damp cloth.

Whether you're thinking of beautifying your patio or redoing your kitchen, why not look into carpeting made of Olefin? And whenever you're considering carpeting of any kind, always think of

Crowned this year are King Arnel Smith and Queen Mrs. R. L. Walker. The king and queen danced as the group sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

The cake for the birthday honorees was made and donated by Ann Hollingshead.

"WHERE SIN ABOUNDS, GOD'S GRACE IS MORE ABUNDANT"

Rev. Bob Grayson

Pastor

Calvary Baptist Church

Over in the Old Testament we have a remarkable example of God's love, patience, and power. Manasseh became the king over Judah at the age of twelve and reigned for fifty-five years, longer than any other king of Israel. He also had the reputation of being one of the worst kings who ever reigned.

Manasseh reintroduced idolatry, immorality, the occult, and human sacrifices in Judah. He sacrificed one of his own sons to a false god. He practiced witchcraft, sorcery, astrology, seances and fortune telling.

God was very displeased with Manasseh and his influence on the nation. II Chronicles 33:10 says that the Lord spoke to Manasseh and his people and they wouldn't listen. Assyria was a powerful empire at the time and ruled over Babylon. God allowed the Assyrian army to take Manasseh to Babylon as a captive. Then and there, in a situation of distress and helplessness, Manasseh turned to the Lord. In answer to his prayers he was released and returned to the throne in Judah.

Manasseh removed the idols and tried to lead the nation in worshipping the one true God, Jehovah.

There are several lessons we can learn from this true story in history. One is that God loves the sinner no matter how much he hates his sin. I have trouble understanding that fully, but I know it is true. Manasseh was extremely wicked and his evil influence was great, but God didn't give up on him.

Also, we can see that the transforming power of God is such that nobody, and that means nobody, is too bad or sinful to turn to good and experience a new birth. It is hard to comprehend, but a life changing transformation results when one turns to God.

Thirdly, we see that times of distress and helplessness can be God's way of bringing us into life's greatest blessings. When we have no where else to turn but to God we are on the verge of a great discovery.

This story should give renewed hope to those who think they are too bad to be saved by God or to set in their ways to change. It should also encourage us as Christians to keep praying and expecting miracles in the lives of those who seem so hard to reach.

Our hopes can be as great and bright as God's power and love.

Boxing Bout Correction

It was stated in Thursday's edition of the Record that Ernest Aguilar was defeated in the Golden Gloves bout and lost in a fair decision according to Pat Barber, boys club coach. Barber actually stated Aguilar was defeated in an unpopular decision with the feeling being that he outpointed his opponent at least 3 to 1.

Ware Catches Four Awards

Some days the fish just don't seem to be biting. Maxey Ray Ware, however, doesn't seem to have that problem--at least his awards suggest otherwise.

To a bass fisherman, earning one of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's "Big Fish Awards" is a special honor.

Earning four "Big Fish Awards" in the span of six weeks is especially an honor.

Ware, of Westbrook, seems to catch a lot of fish. He also managed to net four certificates from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for four largemouth black bass.

The largest bass Ware caught weighed eight pounds, seven ounces. The other three tipped the scales at eight pounds, one ounce; seven pounds, nine ounces, and seven pounds, six ounces.

A tube float fisherman, Ware made his catches between Sept. 25 and Nov. 12.

Ware nabbed three of the bass in Twin Buttes Reservoir outside of San Angelo and the fourth at Oak Creek near Blackwell.

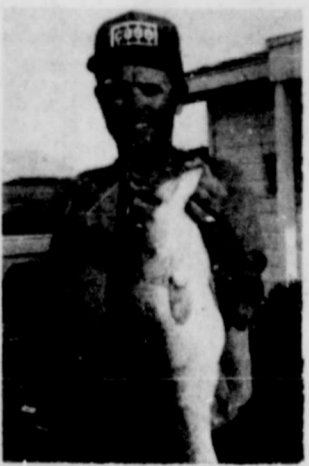

Fishing from an innertube, Ware uses homemade jigs and bucktail jigs in combination with plastic worms or lizards.

Anyone who has fished for largemouth bass knows the magnitude of Ware's success of hooking trophy specimens.

Persons interested in entering a fish for a certificate of fishing merit should pick up an application form wherever fishing licenses are sold.

Species of fish eligible for the certificates are listed on the form with minimum weights to qualify. Seven pounds is the minimum for largemouth bass.
