Paving Hearing Date Is Fixed

A public hearing for the current paving assessment program has been set for 7:30 p.m. May 10 in city hall. A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, told the Big Spring City Commission Tuesday that the total cost for the program would be $407,727.69, of which the city's share will be $137,174.22.

Residents living on the streets to be paved, will pay the remainder. Steinheimer explained that the city is paying 33.64 per cent of the total cost, compared with 27 per cent the city paid on the last similar program.

RESIDENTS' TESTIMONY

The public hearing is called to hear the opinions of residents who will be asked to participate in the program, most of whom originally requested assessment paving. H. D. Counts and W. D. Caldwell were low bidders for the paving contract and will put down hot-mix paving on a flexible base. About 100 blocks are included in the program.

Residents included in the program will be charged for the paving on a front foot basis, depending on the width of street. Front foot costs for the various size streets include $2.842 for 22 foot street, $3.8376 for 30 foot; $4.2688 for 36 foot; $4.4026 for 40 foot; and $5.1789 for 61, 72 and 75-foot streets.

Another paving matter considered by the council concerned city participation in a street paving in Dick Collier's Seton Addition. Baylor Street, as it will be extended, passes through the addition and City Planner Marvin Springer has suggested a median be placed down the center of it, similar to the Washington Blvd. median.

OVERWIDTH POLICY

A. L. Steinheimer, city manager, explained it is city policy to pay for over-width paving over 40 feet within a subdivision. It was necessary for the commission to decide who would pay for the median.

Commissioners Paul Kasch and George Zachariah moved approval of city participation in over-width paving of $1,864.95, but to leave out the median at the present. (When Seton Addition is complete, Baylor Street will not be connected at either end.) These two commissioners pointed out the median could be installed later.

Commissioners Tom South and John Taylor opposed the motion and Mayor Rogers joined them to defeat it.

Then Taylor and South put a motion before the commission for city participation in the over-width paving and for the city to pay the cost of curb and gutter for the median. Kasch and Zachariah voted against it, but Mayor Rogers voted approval to pass the motion.

Total cost of city participation for this street will be about $2,930.95.

Officers Talk To Commission

Two discharged policemen appeared before the Big Spring City Commission Tuesday and stated their positions relative to leaving the police department.

Capt. A. N. Standard and Sgt. J. C. Walton had requested that the commission give them a hearing. The two men were asked to resign by Chief C. L. Rogers last month. Chief Rogers gave one reason as a "lack of full cooperation."

Standard spoke for himself and Walton Tuesday. He said "we come in good faith in an attempt to work out something. We have no malice toward anyone and believe the events which led to our discharge came about through rumor and suspicion."

He continued, "We would like for the chief to reconsider his request for our resignations. If he will not, then we will resign with no hard feelings."

Mayor Lee O. Rogers commending the men for their attitude and for presenting their case in such a manner. The mayor has previously stated he hoped the problem could be worked out so that the men could be re-instated.

Chief Rogers was not available for comment Tuesday. Both Standard and Walton were asked to turn in their badges on the day their resignations were requested.

3 DIE, 32 HURT

Tornado Sweeps Up Tiny Hamlet

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A tornado swept down on the West Texas village of Sunnyside Tuesday night and killed three persons and injured 32.

Sunrise today showed the twister virtually swept the community off the land.

But for a woman's warning cry seconds before the twister struck, the toll probably would have been much greater in the crossroads community of Sunnyside, about halfway between Amarillo and Lubbock.

Mrs. C. M. Rogers, wife of Sunnyside's Baptist pastor, spotted the dark and threatening cloud and sounded an alarm.

Nearly 40 men at a meeting in her husband's church scrambled for two storm cellars close by. Most of them made it. Several were too late.

"The men had to put up their arms and hold up the rafters," said Murl Rogers, 10, son of the minister, describing how they kept the roof of one shelter from collapsing on 30-odd persons.

Sunnyside residents emerged to find the farming community shattered. The writhing storm levelled their church, store, grain elevator, cotton gin and four or five homes. A half-dozen other houses lost their roofs.

Dead and injured were strewn amid rubble piled up to five feet high in an area 100 feet square.

Thrusting on to the northeast the twister jumped over Amarillo, about 70 miles distant, and also menaced Borger, White Deer and Skellytown in the Panhandle oil fields, the Weather Bureau at Amarillo reported.

Another tornado dipped into the edge of the town of Friona, about 30 miles northwest of Sunnyside, and a third bounced through a farm near Muleshoe, about 30 miles southwest of the shattered village.

The Friona twister rolled a 50-foot house trailer 200 feet, trapping Marie Carroll, a public school nurse, in the wreckage. She suffered a severe back injury. Her husband Tom and her brother, Jack Davidson of Danville, Ill., suffered minor hurts.

At Friona heavy rain sent water gushing through the streets up to 1½ feet deep for a time. Hail the size of pears pounded the farm country around Sudan.

Killed at Sunnyside were T. B. Hogan, a ginner in the community; Nona Beth Phelan, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phelan, and J. B. Kidd, 45, Plainview, a lay leader visiting the Sunnyside church.

Before pouncing on Sunnyside, the vicious twister also struck at a gas company booster station about 2 miles to the southwest and razed a vacant farm home and a cattle barn on its path into the village.

"As I looked up and saw the cloud approaching," said Mrs. Rogers, the minister's wife, "it looked real wide and some of us wondered if it was a tornado. Then, just before it hit, we heard a violent whirling noise."

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sadler were among those dashing from the church. They got as far as their car.

"When the funnel hit our car rolled and rolled," said Mrs. Sadler, one of those taken to a hospital at Dimmitt, 15 miles north of Sunnyside but apparently not in serious condition. Her husband escaped with scratches.

Of the injured, 28 were taken to the hospital at Dimmitt, three to Olton and still another to Littlefield.

An appeal for doctors and nurses brought physicians and their aides from Friona, Tulia and Hereford to assist the four on the staff of the Dimmitt hospital. With them came tetanus vaccine and other medicines for treatment of the injured.

MAYOR RENAMED

Garbage Rates Raised And Lake Charges Are Revised

Two city ordinances were amended by the Big Spring City Commission during the regular meeting Tuesday. One amendment hikes the cost of garbage collection service and the other changes the method of paying for boating and fishing privileges on Moss Creek Lake.

The decision to raise garbage collection rates was approved by the commission during its budget studies. The ordinance will become effective May 1, but patrons will not begin paying the extra charge until the June billing.

The rate was raised from $1.25 to $1.50 on single family residences and each unit of duplex apartments. On tourist courts and apartment houses, the rate was increased from 75 cents to one dollar for each unit.

A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, pointed out that the present Moss Creek Lake ordinance overlaps the new state boating permit and must be changed. An ordinance was approved to charge a $10 annual fee which will allow boating and fishing privileges on the lake. The permit is issued to a man and wife. A daily permit of 50 cents is also provided. Youngsters under 12 will not be charged.

OFFICER ELECTED

The commission canvassed the votes of last week's election to name three city commissioners and declared Lee O. Rogers, George Zachariah and John Taylor successful candidates. They were sworn into office, then the commissioners elected Rogers as mayor and Taylor as mayor protem.

In routine business, the commission authorized City Attorney John Burgess to attend the 1960 Texas Traffic Courts Conference in Austin April 28-30. It is sponsored by the University of Texas law school, the State Bar Association and the Texas Safety Association.

AREA REZONED

C. A. Ross, representing Lloyd Curley, asked that final reading be given to a re-zoning ordinance for the northeast corner of the Birdwell Lane-Marcy Drive intersection. It was approved. The 25.19 acre tract will be changed from Zone A, one family residential, to Zone E, community business district.

Ross also asked about city participation in over-size water lines in the East Park Addition. The commission approved an approximate expenditure for these lines of $1,204.75. Steinheimer pointed out the larger lines would enable subsequent subdivisions to receive water service through this subdivision.

Census Making Good Progress

The 1960 federal census in Howard and Borden County will be completed about April 23, according to crew chiefs in charge of the count. The enumerators are making good progress, according to Matt Harrington, one of the chiefs, but there remains a great deal of work to be done.

Three districts have been completed out of 33 districts in the two counties. Other districts are near completion. Enumerators are having to make many recalls where they have found the occupants of houses absent on earlier visits.

Cooperation on the part of the citizenry has been excellent according to Harrington and his colleague, Louis Stallings. Only one enumerator reported difficulty, and in that case, it was said the person who was being contacted was obviously intoxicated.

"The attitude of the public is really much better than we anticipated," said Harrington. "Our enumerators have been well pleased with patience and courtesy which they have been accorded on their calls."

Harrington said he had no official information on the matter but that he anticipated preliminary figures on population of counties and towns would be released within a relatively short time after the enumerators have completed their work and make their final reports to the Lubbock district office.

Successor To Dibrell Sought

Big Spring school board will meet at noon on April 20 to discuss appointment of a successor to John Dibrell as a member of the board of trustees.

The members will meet at the Desert Sands Restaurant. Each member was asked to give serious consideration to a suitable successor to Dibrell who resigned from the board last month.

At the luncheon meeting, the board will consider all of the suggested names and select one. It is important, Clyde McMahon, president of the board pointed out, that the action be taken promptly because Dibrell, who resigned a month ago, wishes to be relieved of his duties.

A resolution was unanimously adopted by trustees Tuesday night commending Dibrell for his long and faithful service on the board. It cited his record as a leader in educational advances in Big Spring and expressed the board's regret at his decision to retire. The resolution was signed by all members of the board who were present and will be dispatched to Dibrell.

School's Bond Vote May Come By September

It is possible the patrons of the Big Spring school district will be asked to approve a school bond issue sometime after September.

The board of education Tuesday night heard a report from Carter Johnson, fiscal expert, on the financial status of the school district. Johnson told the board he understood tax evaluations in the district should be from $1 million to $1.5 million higher this year than last, and that under the present tax rate of $1.50, the district could vote and issue half a million dollars in bonds.

The bond situation, he said, is considerably improved now over what it was when he last reported to the board.

He pointed out that it was reported the City of Big Spring is planning a sizeable bond issue in the not-too-distant future, which might affect action on school bonds. He said that a long range plan extending over the next five years would make it possible for the district to issue and sell $1,500,000 in bonds. Based on an assumed valuation increase of $1,600,000 per year, the total debt service requirement including new bonds would be little less than 45 cents of the total school tax levy. At the present time the debt service levy is 36 cents out of a total of $1.77.

Floyd Parsons, superintendent, told the board he would not recommend a bond issue even be attempted before September or October. He suggested that the board at its next meeting devote a major share of its time to drafting a workable building program for the future and reach some definite decision on the plans it has in mind. This suggestion was adopted.

Three Hurt In Mishap

Three men were hospitalized, a trailer was demolished and two motor vehicles damaged in an accident 6.5 miles north on the Lamesa Highway early this morning.

None of the persons involved was seriously injured. One was dismissed from the Cowper Hospital early today. Another was released from the Big Spring Hospital at mid morning and the third was to be released this afternoon.

According to reports, a pickup truck, dragging a trailer, and driven by W. D. Smiley, Los Angeles, was involved in a collision with a car. The car was occupied by Boroto Rivera and Ray Huerta, both of Lubbock. Nalley-Pickle ambulance took the injured to the hospital and Kel Davis, highway patrolman, investigated the accident.

Aim Of A-Subs, Planes Helped

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States launched a navigation aid satellite into successful orbit today.

The space messenger, a device with highly important military possibilities, was fired from this missile testing center at 7:03 a.m.

Then in Washington the Navy announced that a tracking station at Las Cruces, N.M., had reported the transit satellite passed over that point at 8:36 a. m., in its swing around the earth.

The satellite also was picked up over Austin, Tex., by the University of Texas tracking station.

There had been earlier indications of a successful flight.

While the rocket engines were still pushing the satellite into the sky, tracking stations in the United States, Newfoundland, England and Germany began reporting strong radio signals from the satellite.

The Johns Hopkins University receiving station in Howard County, Md., one of the first to pick up the satellite's voice in its upward flight, got good signals on all four of its frequencies on the first orbital passage.

WORKING WELL

That was taken by the Navy, which sponsored the trial, as a sign that all the experimental equipment was working well.

The 265-pound spherical payload, called Transit 1B, is designed to study the feasibility of using satellites as global, all-weather navigation stations.

Ships, planes and submarines receiving radio signals from a network of transits would be able to plot their positions to within one-tenth of a mile more simply and accurately than at present.

The two-stage launching vehicle, called Thor-Able-Star, rose smoothly from its pad at 7:03 a.m.

Its second stage engine was geared to be stopped and restarted in flight in order to place the payload in a circular orbit about 500 miles high. This is the first such off-and-on engine flown by the United States. The Soviet Union is not known to have used anything comparable in its space shots.

FIRING PROCEDURE

Ten minutes after the launch scientists announced the second stage had fired successfully. It was to burn 4½ minutes and then coast to a height of 500 miles. Then it was to ignite again and inject the satellite into orbit.

Tracking stations of Johns Hopkins University in Maryland and at Argentia, Newfoundland, immediately picked up the satellite's oscillating signals as the rocket ascended.

Transit 1B is the third major American space achievement in little more than a month. On March 11, Pioneer V, carrying man's first interplanetary communication system, winged into orbit about the sun. Tiros I, the weather-eye satellite that photographs clouds, followed.

Officials emphasized that Transit 1B is merely a test of equipment and theories that may be used in an operation system. Two or three more advanced test transits will be launched later this year, with the first operational payload scheduled for 1961.

MISSILE AIM

It will be especially important to Polaris missile submarines and bombers carrying long range Hound Dog and Skybolt air-launched rockets. Quick, accurate information on position will be of great value in plotting missile trajectories from these mobile launching platforms.

The first Polaris subs are expected to begin operating late this year. They will be able to use transit satellites to check their ship's inertial guidance system, which must be corrected periodically because of gyroscope drift.

Hound Dog missiles, with a 500-mile range, now are being deployed on B52 bombers. The 1,000-mile Skybolt is scheduled for B52 and B58 bombers in 1962.

By studying signals from the satellite, scientists also will be able to gain a better idea of the exact shape of the earth and the precise distances between certain points. This would enable American land-based rockets like the Atlas to zero in more accurately on an enemy target.

Today's satellite is a 36-inch sphere with a double band of solar cell banks about its waist. The cells are to convert the sun's rays to energy to charge the satellite batteries. An antenna was painted as a silver band in a spiral pattern on the surface.

The satellite is expected to remain in space about 50 years. It should pass over all areas of the earth 50 degrees north and 50 degrees south of the equator. This takes in much of the Soviet Union.

United Fund Trustees Lay Plans For Drive Next Fall

Key steps toward a fast-moving, all-inclusive campaign in the fall were taken by trustees of the United Fund Tuesday afternoon.

These included some departures from past procedure, designed to make the annual money-raising effort more effective:

(1) Organizational and office detail will be handled by the Chamber of Commerce. This will replace the professional assistance that has been employed in past years, and while the C-C will be paid a fee to cover its work in the campaign, the expense outlay made by the UF remains in the community.

FLOYD PARSONS
Campaign Chairman

The Chamber board of directors previously had endorsed this program for this year, and the UF trustees confirmed it. Clerical and secretarial assistance will be handled through the Chamber, and Manager Bill Quimby will serve as executive coordinator of volunteers' work.

The C-C will be in position to start file work immediately, so that full information will be ready by the time the campaign kicks off.

PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS

(2) Fourteen teams of business leaders are to start immediate contacts with employers throughout the county, urging acceptance of a payroll deduction plan for their workers.

United Fund leaders have felt that more people in the wage and salary class would like to have a part in supporting the welfare work of the community if their giving could be made more convenient. Many local firms now have payroll-deduction programs, but the hope is to broaden to virtually all employers with 15 or more people on their payrolls.

The UF campaign this year obviously is taking on a new approach to have "everybody have a share."

The trustees heard announcement from President K. D. Hestes that Floyd W. Parsons, school superintendent, has accepted general chairmanship of the campaign. He will be in consultation with Quimby at an early date in setting up an organization, with key appointments to come later.

BUDGET COMMITTEE

Hestes also announced that John Taylor will be chairman of the UF's budget committee, which confers with agency representatives in arriving at an over-all allotment for agency requirements for 1960-61.

Meanwhile, Hestes himself had to announce his resignation as UF president, since he is being transferred out of Big Spring by the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. He will be succeeded by Randall Polk, vice president.

UF leaders gave Hestes a warm hand for brisk leadership he has displayed in getting the organization ahead of schedule this year.

A treasurer's report showed that the UF has on hand $43,876 in cash; owes member agencies for the remainder of the year a total of $47,821.83; anticipates expenses for the remainder of the year of $1,773.83; and is expecting to collect $21,021 in unpaid pledges.

School Faculty Renamed, Some Resignations Due

Big Spring school board members Tuesday night approved re-employment of 293 teachers, cafeteria operators and other workers needed for the 1960-61 school year.

Trustees approved the recommendation of Supt. Floyd Parsons that the teacher list he submitted be elected. However, Parsons added, not all of those on the list will be on the faculty next year. Some are retiring from teaching, some are moving from town and others are submitting resignations at the administration's request.

In addition, some on the list must meet certain training requirements to be eligible to return. A few are lacking in minimum hours in their special field and summer school will be necessary to meet state certification requirements. Always, the superintendent said, there are resignations by some teachers who at the present time have every intention of returning but whose plans change.

Only one teacher was omitted from the list submitted by the superintendent. In this instance, Parsons said, a serious hearing deficiency is involved and the teacher has declined to secure a hearing aid or other facility. As a result, the teacher's effectiveness is so seriously impaired that he could not recommend re-employment under the circumstances. No resignation was received.

Nine resignations were submitted to the board and were accepted. Parsons emphasized that these were not connected with the annual election of teachers. Many of these are excellent teachers and he would like very much to retain them in the system, he said.

Those whose resignations were accepted were Frank Dunlap, distributive education, senior high; Rosa Bell Curtis, math, Runnels Junior High; Irene Moss, English, Runnels Junior High; Diane Kester, librarian, Runnels Junior High; Kenneth Scott, social science and coach, Runnels Junior High; Frances Eaton, counselor, Runnels Junior High; Paula Creagh, first grade, Cedar Crest Elementary; Ruth Sharp, sixth grade, Marcy; Edith Gossett, second grade, Park Hill. These resignations are effective at the close of the present school year.

One other resignation, effective as of March 18, was approved. It was that of Doris Murphy, first grade, Airport Elementary School.

Lions Go Giddy For An Evening

It might as well been April Fool's night for the Downtown and Evening Lions Clubs here Tuesday.

Despite several protestations to the contrary, there wasn't a serious minute for the ladies night affair.

The climax came with the Three Sports (James Tidwell, Frosty Robison and Ted Hull) performing to the theme of the Bridge at the River Kwai. Earlier Malinda Crocker, accompanied by Frank Arner, had whistled two songs, and Lt. Emil Boado gave some musical monologues.

A dis-stink service award went to J. O. Hagood, and a baby dumped in W. L. (Squeaky) Thompson's lap turned out to be a squealing pig. Presentation of a set of crystal to Thompson, of the Evening Club, as a gesture of goodwill was spoiled when Pete Cook, Downtown president, stumbled and shattered the lot. James and Joyce Tidwell added to the program with a pantomime of "John and Marsha," and a lavishly decorated cake to winners in a style show turned out to be hard as a rock. Upwards of 150 Lions and ladies attended.

Damage Case Goes To Jury

An all-male jury began deliberation in the damage suit brought by Erlene Brock against the T&P Railway Co. at 11:15 a.m. today.

Mrs. Brock of Lubbock is suing the railroad for $149,479 damages. She claims she was injured when a car in which she was riding rammed into box cars being switched across a rail crossing. The incident occurred in Bonham in September 1957.

The case opened in 118th District Court at 1 p.m. Wednesday. All of that afternoon and Tuesday was devoted to presentation of testimony. Last Tuesday, the charge was drawn. Court attaches said it was an unusual charge and difficult to prepare because it contains more than 50 special issues.

Argument by counsel occupied the morning session to 11:15 a.m. At that time, Judge Ralph Caton, presiding, turned the case to the jury for its decision.

The case is the only litigation left on the civil docket which was opened on Monday in the court.

Severe Storms Rip Texas, Leave Trail Of Damage

By The Associated Press

Severe thunderstorms and several tornadoes ripped sections of Texas Tuesday night causing three deaths, injuries to dozens and damage in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The thunderstorms moved into Kansas and Oklahoma early Wednesday leaving Texas with clear skies in the western portion and cloudy skies elsewhere.

Light rain or drizzle fell early in the day at Junction, College Station, Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth and Mineral Wells. Temperatures ranged from 40 at Dalhart to 70 at Brownsville and Laredo.

A tornado that hit the small West Texas community of Sunnyside Tuesday night killed three persons. Another tornado hit the edge of Friona, about 30 miles northwest of Sunnyside and a third hit near Muleshoe, 30 miles southwest of Sunnyside.

Heavy rain, and hail the size of pears also fell in the Panhandle area. Hail dented cars and smashed windows around Sudan and a deluge of rain sent water gushing through Friona.

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday called for temperatures 1 to 5 degrees below normal in Texas. Precipitation is expected to be heavy in thundershowers mainly about the weekend in Eastern and Central Texas. In Western Texas rainfall is expected to be locally heavy in scattered thundershowers this weekend.

High winds Tuesday knocked out a transformer at Mesquite in eastern Dallas County leaving part of the city in darkness for a time. Strong winds at Fort Worth also broke a number of windows and toppled TV antennas.

Telephone lines were knocked down south of Dallas and a number of trees east of Duncanville were blown over.

A windstorm, moving from south to north, carved a path of destruction through Johnson County, just south of Fort Worth.

John Butner, news director of Radio Station KCLE at Cleburne, said no one saw a funnel, but the winds were of a tornadic nature. No injuries were reported.

Two barns and a large chicken shed were destroyed at Rio Vista, near Cleburne. Another large shed was blown down at nearby Friendship. A cow was killed on one farm.

Several other barns and outbuildings were reported blown away, including a hay barn on the U. R. Owens from, four miles east of Joshua.

Winds with gusts up to 64 miles per hour raked the Lower Rio Grande Valley Tuesday night but no major damage was reported.

Most all valley towns reported broken tree limbs and some minor power line damage.

Dalton Wood, editor of The Sudan Beacon said the hail there "hit like a ton of bricks."

High temperatures Tuesday ranged from 97 at Presidio to 67 at Childress. The only rain prior to the severe thunderstorms was .03 at Dalhart and .02 at Austin.

The Pacific cold front that moved into Texas during the night had passed Lubbock early Wednesday. The Weather Bureau said it would continue eastward across the state, reaching the Sabine River early Thursday.

Amarillo reported the heaviest rainfall during the past 24 hours, 1.46 inches. Other overnight rainfall included San Angelo .06 of an inch and Brownwood .04.

DEAR ABBY

RELAX

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is making me ill and I can't find a solution. I have a terrible inferiority complex. At P-TA meetings I perspire and tremble and get splitting headaches, because I'm afraid I might have to say something.

I have read tons of books and articles on how to overcome my complex but nothing helps. I know why I feel as I do, too. When I was little, we were so poor I was sent upstairs to hide because I was so thin and had no shoes.

I don't want our four children to suffer from an inferiority complex the way I do, but I can see them following in my footsteps. They won't join this or go there because they feel they aren't wanted.

Don't suggest prayer. I've had ten years of that. I am not stupid, I just feel stupid.

INFERIORITY COMPLEX

DEAR COMPLEX: Many people convince themselves that they are suffering from an inferiority complex when quite the opposite is true. What makes you think that the whole world is looking at you? No one expects you to be eloquent or brilliant at a P-TA meeting. Relax! Make up your mind that you are what you are and it is good enough for anyone you meet. Forget about yourself and the impression you are making and you will probably discover a very acceptable and pleasant personality underneath.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A man who does a lot of business with my husband comes to our home when he is in town. He always has a cigar stuck in his face and he keeps lighting it and lighting it. After he has gone, the odor of the cigar smoke clings to my draperies for days. Don't you think my husband ought to tell him how much it bothers me? ANNOYED

DEAR ABBY: Why does a girl have to choose between having boy friends and girl friends? Last year I was popular with the girls and the boys hated me. This year I am popular with the boys and the girls hate me. SEE SAW

The Rev. P. D. O'Brien spoke at the noon devotional meeting today and the Rev. S. E. Eldridge is scheduled to bring the message at the mid-day meeting Thursday. The Rev. H. W. Bartlett will speak at the final service Friday.

Ira Shantz is in charge of the music during the entire series, but a different organist is used for each service.

There were about 25 people at the first devotional Monday and attendance jumped to about 40 for the Tuesday meeting.

City Purchases Truck For Use In Garbage Collection

The low bid submitted by Driver Truck and Implement Company for a truck to be used by the sanitation department in collecting garbage.

The bid for the International truck was $2,519.70. The truck will be delivered within 40 days to the Pak-Mor Manufacturing Co. who will install the packer body.

Other bids were received from Tarbox-Gossett, Inc. (Ford), $2,699.30; Jones Motor Co. (Dodge), $2,955.02; Shroyer Motor Co. (GMC), $2,904.32; Tidwell Chevrolet Co. (Chevrolet), $2,757.99; and a bid from Pak-Mor Manufacturing Co. which did not meet bid specifications.

PAINT APPEAL

Gene Campbell, Cactus Paint Co., asked the commission for more consideration in purchase of street paint. He said a recent test of paints on city streets indicated his paint was equal to the best of 10 samples in the test. Yet, he said, the city is purchasing paint from another manufacturer.

He said local firms should be favored by the city in its purchases. Commissioner John Taylor agreed with him, but pointed out that quality should be the No. 1 factor. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, added that quality was the only factor considered in the paint purchase.

E. C. Smith and Lloyd Curley supported Campbell's stand on the matter. The commission agreed that tests should be continued on various paints and purchases made where the taxpayer's dollar is most advantageously spent.

ONE-WAY ALLEY

A 90 day trial period will be given a one-way plan for the alley between 1st and 2nd, Gregg and Scurry. The commissioners were told that south bound traffic on Gregg uses the alley for left turns, creating a traffic problem. The alley will be marked one-way to the west.

A. C. Latson, chairman of the electrical board, met with the commission for further talks on the electrical ordinance. No action was taken as Latson assured the commission that electricians were doing their best to give safe wiring for a minimum cost.

The commission approved a trip to New York for Steinheimer in order for him to work with M. M. Hatcher, city fiscal agent, in getting the city's bonds a higher rating. It could mean a tremendous savings to the city if the rating is hiked, Steinheimer said. The trip will be made May 9-10.

The city manager said that Forrest and Cotton will return to the city April 18-19 with a "dollars and cents proposal" for the forthcoming water and sewer expansion program. The master planners gave a preliminary report last week.

Two Subdivisions Annexed By City

Two subdivisions were brought into the city of Big Spring, one of many items of business handled by the City Commission in regular meeting Tuesday.

The fourth and final reading of an annexation ordinance was given to bring Worth Peeler No. 3 and Marshall Fields subdivisions into the city limits. The areas lie south of Marcy Drive and east of Birdwell Lane.

In other commission proceedings, Mayor Lee O. Rogers was authorized to contact the First National Bank of Dallas to serve as fiscal agent for the city's coming bond issue election.

A request by the National Guard unit to use the old gravel pit in the Silver Heels area for a firing range was denied. Commission members noted that the requested area is near the Municipal Golf course and firing there could be dangerous. The unit has been granted $25,000 in federal funds to build a range.

The commission took no action on a request from Bob Anderson to open the alley running north and south between N. 6th St. and N. 5th St. in the block bounded by Scurry and Main. City Manager A. K. Steinheimer pointed out that the city has no need for the alley, which would have to be maintained.

Approval was given A. D. Harmon to transfer his bench franchise to David Elrod.

Steinheimer was given the green light to close out the Municipal Airport account, charging off $266.82 in delinquent accounts.

The commission voted to annex 100 acres in the northwest corner of subdivider E. C. Smith's Kentwood addition. The area will extend about 2,000 feet east from Birdwell Lane and 2,000 feet south from E. 25th St.

Thieves Make Three Hauls

Thieves and shoplifters made off with $40 in cash, a $125 coin machine and two cartons of cigarettes in three separate strikes on business firms overnight.

Police reported the theft of the coin machine, containing about $20 in cash from the Nabors Washateria at 1703 Gregg.

Two Latin Americans were tabbed as making off with $20 from the Fiveash Plumbing Co. located at 821 E. 3rd St.

Theft of the cigarettes was reported at the Furr Food Store, apparently the work of shoplifters, police said.

Castro Follows Hitler Rule Of Brainwashing Children

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

CAMAGUEY, Cuba (AP)—"Tomorrow," says the teacher, "the class will--"

A student interrupts: "Gomez says no school tomorrow."

"Gomez has declared a holiday," shouts another.

Who is Gomez? (the name here is fictitious).

Allegedly he is a student, although he may be years overage for the school. If his assignment is the provinces, likely he has been sent by Havana. He is the local leader of the Student Union, and in effect directs the school. He can tell teacher or principal whether there will be classes on any given day. He can, when and if he chooses, declare a holiday.

If students do not like what the teacher is saying, or do not agree, they shout her down. The student leader usually is in the forefront of this curious activity. Some teachers have stopped fighting—resigned rather than go on under such conditions.

STUDENT DIRECTOR

Gomez, or his counterpart anywhere in Cuba, is the representative of ambitious, opportunistic Rolando Cubela, a brown-haired, good-looking former revolutionary army major who resigned the promising job of deputy interior minister to take over the presidency of the Union of University Students. He is Prime Minister Fidel Castro's agent in the important field of direction and propagandizing of students. Many support him, but a large number of students—and teachers—detest him.

Under Cubela, all levels get an indoctrination in hate, principally for the United States. It reaches all the way down to the ranks of children just learning to read. And there is indoctrination in a cult of Fidel.

Children now singsong these lines: "Si las cosas de Fidel son Communistas que me pongan en la vista, pues yo estoy con el." It means: If the things a student sees Fidel doing are Communist, I am with him.

HATRED OF U.S.

New textbooks, required for primary schools, have been published. These make an undisguised attempt to focus young hatred on the United States.

One such book is "Geography of Cuba," by Antonio Nunez Jimenez, rebel army captain who now, as executive secretary, heads the extremely powerful and often oppressive National Institute of Agrarian Reform.

On page 16, he writes: "In 1898, Cuba was able to gain her independence in the struggle which began Feb. 24, 1895. Then the North American soldiers disembarked at Santiago de Cuba and the United States took over the country, seized the sovereignty won in struggle and sacrifice, and later imposed the Platt Amendment on the newborn republic, meaning the right of intervention."

SANK OWN MAINE?

The Platt Amendment was abolished 25 years ago, but Nanez says it really was in effect all the time until January 1959 when Cuba, for the first time, won economic and political liberty. He suggests, echoing the current official line, that the United States itself sank the battleship Maine in 1898 to provide an excuse to declare war on Spain and seize Cuba.

This book tells children the United States plundered Cuba for half a century in a manner typical of colonialism throughout the world; if Cuba is under-developed now, that is the United States' fault. All Cuba's troubles are blamed on Washington and "Yankee imperialism."

History is being rewritten industriously. Writers support their theses by the texts of Jose Marti, Cuba's George Washington, quoting his criticisms but never his appreciations of the United States.

In Camaguey province, a cartoon book is being distributed under the title, "Cuba, a Heroic People." The cover shows an octopus, wearing a dollar sign, its tentacles labeled "traitors" and "monopolies" being cut off by the machete of a heroic-looking revolutionary.

NO INDIANS

The cartoon story goes back to the discovery of Cuba and the conquest of the Indians by wicked Spaniards, overlooking the obvious fact that today's Cubans are of Spanish—not Indian — descent. It jumps to the Spanish - American War and depicts the United States as seizing Cuba, saying "The people began to be enslaved again." The face of Fulgencio Batista, the former dictator who has some Negro blood, is pictured unnecessarily dark as he accepts bombs and guns from the United States to battle the Castro revolution.

After glorifying the revolution, it continues with the story, attacking United States press media, listing The Associated Press first. The AP is pictured as one of the claws on a horrifying beast labelled with a dollar sign. Uncle Sam is shown trying to take over Latin America. A Cuban with a machete stands alert, ready to defeat this design.

TEXTBOOK BLOOPER

Another textbook just issued is a second-grade Spanish language reader, an ordinary one until the last four pages. These are devoted to an extravagant glorification of Castro. Teachers are required to read it daily. Unfortunately for the publishers, this panegyric includes among the heroes surrounding Castro the name of Maj. Huber Matos, since sentenced to 30 years as a traitor for opposing Communist influence. Teachers have been told to skip that name.

Schools remain a problem for the Castro government. Rural schools are being built, similar to those constructed under the Batista regime, but teachers for them are scarce. A beginning teacher gets 67 pesos monthly, from which she must pay her own transportation and expenses. New teachers last, often, only three months.

Some areas now have schools for the first time. Some have adult education for the first time, and many a peasant is learning the thrill of writing his name. But the program is slowed for lack of money.

Castro promised to turn military barracks into schools. He has done that in Camaguey and Oriente province, in the rosy flush of the first months of revolutionary victory when Castro was saying there would be no more need of arms and soldiers. Now his army is bigger than Batista's ever was. He is spending enormous sums for arms. But the barracks had been changed into schools. There was only one solution.

Castro built new barracks.

Possibility Of Double Tourist Murder Probed

ACAPULCO, Mex. (AP) — The possibility of a double murder in the deaths of two United States tourists—one of them a Texan—was investigated today.

The victims, whose bodies were discovered near here Tuesday, were identified by police as Harold Loyd Lantrip of Route 2, Garrison, Tex., and Thomas Francis Howell of Hampton, N. H.

Police said a .22 caliber pistol, with two fired cartridges, was found under one of the bodies. They did not identify under which the pistol was found.

The police at first believed it a case of murder and suicide but a later development linked a third unidentified man in the slayings.

Death of the two victims was estimated by police to have occurred Sunday or Saturday night.

The bodies were taken to Las Cruces where an autopsy was to be performed today.

Last Saturday both Howard and Lantrip were in the neighborhood of Tabachines, a small isolated beach where the bodies were discovered by Juan Marles, a fisherman.

Money and valuables were found intact and a 1953 Chrysler car, bearing Texas license plates, was found nearby.

Officers also found a copy of a telegram addressed to William A. Lantrip of Garrison, Tex. It said, "involved in a car accident. Bad situation, please send $50 for trip back."

The Lantrip family in Garrison has no phone and efforts to contact them were unsuccessful.

Meanwhile, it was reported that U. S. Embassy personnel was expected here today for a special inquiry.

Oklahoma Sets Oil Output Action

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Oklahoma Corporation Commission will probably act in the next two days on requests by purchasers to cut Oklahoma's oil output in May.

Purchasers Tuesday nominated 494,985 barrels per day, the lowest in almost five years. This month's allowable is estimated to produce 527,000 barrels daily.

The distraught disciples returned to the house

Disciples Flee To Hallowed House

(Editor's Note: Soon after Judas the betrayer had fled the Upper Room, the Master and His disciples retired to Gethsemane for prayer and the excruciating experience that was to be theirs that night. This is the third of five articles on occurences at "The Hallowed House.")

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

A pall of fear lay on her house that night, but the widow Mary did not bar the outer gate.

She could not. Out there in a turgid midnight that throbbed with the hot breath of hunters and the hunted were friends and her son.

"Chayah, Elah," she beseeched. "Save them, Oh God, save them!"

Both life and death had marched through that gate these past hours, or so it seemed to her, both the soft, sandaled steps of Jesus, and the nail-booted tromp of searching Roman legionnaires.

A SLEEPLESS NIGHT

She did not sleep. None of the household slept. The mother of the beloved rabban sat sobbing in a guest chamber, her face hidden against her hands. The other women clustered about a tripod of coals, their phrases low, broken.

Dread fingered through the widow's fine, tapestried house like a thin, stinging dust that pricked the flesh and sank through it to the very marrow of being.

She walked the floor, carrying a bone-handled lamp, for no reason she knew, except that she wanted a light to guide her cherished ones home. It was irrational, but there was nothing rational she could do for them.

The house, the night, every movement and moment had become a horror, the sound of voices, the flash of swinging lanterns, every wind that stirred the leaves of the courtyard arbor, the creak of a door, a sibilant step against marble floor.

She was beyond being frightened or shocked. First one way and then the other, the events loomed in her mind.

She could see the militia massed in her yard, trampling the marguerites, their rude captains clomping through her house, opening chests and storerooms, and the questions. The agents of Caiaphas also were there with clubs and staves.

The pinched man, the betrayer who had quit the paschal supper she served, kept saying the Galileans had gone on to the wine press, to Gethsemane, on the mountain of Olives beyond the Kidron valley. So the pursuers had left.

Vivid, too, remained the image of Jesus at that last supper, the sturdy songs, His serene fortitude. ". . . because I live, ye shall live . . . your sorrow shall be turned into joy." But that strength had faded away across the city.

She had been relieved beyond measure when her son, Mark, came running back to the house, his cloak stripped from him and his tunic torn, pouring out a breathless account of the seizure in the Gethsemane grove.

They had shackled Jesus, and Peter swung wildly with a sword but then he fled and the others, too, all except the boy who had followed the detachment. A soldier had seized him, too, but he slid out of his coat and got away.

The widow Mary clung to him, unable to speak or comprehend fully what had happened. Her boy had returned; he was alive. She could withstand the worst now, but he wrenched from her arms, and bespake more of Jesus.

THE APOSTLES COME

She paled, fighting down the hurt. It was as if he had brushed her aside for a larger love. There was a rapid, constrained knocking at the door, and she flung it open heedlessly. Two of the fugitives bolted inside, jerking the door closed behind them, and holding it there.

They were only the first. Intermittently, alone or in pairs, the others came, dirty, ashamed, their skin scratched, their mantles ripped by branches as they had plunged through thickets, their hands and arms smeared with the morning dampness of dew and grass and earth.

Some of them had clambered into wells or covered themselves with brush or crawled along muddy ditches to escape the deployed search squads.

Most distraught of all was Peter, who swore bitterly and beat his fists against the wall until they were blue and bleeding. To save himself, the widow gathered, he had foresworn his Lord.

Only the clearheaded but despairing John gave a coherent account. He had slipped into the house of Caiaphas, and watched the cruel proceedings. Jesus, bound with ropes, was slapped and pushed about while they plied Him with insinuating questions.

It was Caiaphas himself who laid the deadly net, demanding, "Art thou the Christ . . . the Son of God?" Jesus, his face bruised and swollen, had eyed him levelly. "I am."

SHOUTS FOR DEATH

"Blasphemy! Blasphemy!" They shouted for His death. It was no court, said John, but a pagan circus. They had pressed about Him, mauling Him with sticks and fists, mocking, "Prophesy unto us, thou Christ: who is he that struck thee?"

Hope did not rise with the sun that day over the house of Mary of Cyprus. It was if the night had not ended. Some of the companions left and returned again, still furtive, desperate, wringing their hands.

Each new report they brought was more distressing than the last. The Sanhedrin had condemned Jesus, and sought a death decree from the Roman governor. The hollow-eyed, beaten disciples slunk to the cellar, weeping. Mary placed platters before them, but they did not eat.

She stood on the roof, and watched the mob collecting first on the eastern hill at the Roman praetorium, then moving across the viaduct to the palace of Herod, not far from her own dwelling, then back to the Roman fort again.

THE UNHEALING WOUND

She could hear the mixed, collective din of humanity, not distinctly or individually, but altogether headlong and perverse, a single, thick, discordant sound, more beast than human.

The disciples could hide here from the madness, so long as safety endured. But nothing could heal the wound of that day. John, his face gray, ventured out with Jesus' mother and the other women to the hill of Golgotha.

From the roof, Mary could see the tops of the crosses beyond the western wall. A haze gathered over the mountains of Moab, and descended on the city. Her vision strained, and a hard wind rose in the dark coils of red dust, blinding her, whipping her gown, shrouding the horizon in darkling crimson.

Her son came and stood beside her, his arm encircling her waist. She found his hand, and slowly pressed it.

The ground trembled, and shook the foundations of the house that had been sanctuary to the Savior.

Writer Given Medical Award

He received a $250 check and a plaque.

FFA Chapters Reschedule Annual Fishing Outing

Members of the Big Spring chapter of Future Farmers of America have re-scheduled their annual fishing trip to Buchannan Lake for the weekend of April 29-May 1.

The campout was originally slated for this weekend but family activities for many of the boys on Easter made postponement advisable, according to Truett Vines, high school vocational agriculture instructor.

Vines said that probably 20 or 30 boys will make the trip by private car. In addition to Vines, Ed Seay, vocational agriculture instructor for the junior high schools and chapter co-sponsor with Vines, and five or six other adults will make the trip.

While the anglers "might miss out on the big crappies," Vines said he expected the white bass will still be running. He explained that usual trip-time, the middle of April, catches both crappie and the bass.

This will make the third year the FFA chapter has tried its luck at Buchannan Lake, located about 243 miles southeast of Big Spring on the Colorado River. The event was originated about 10 years ago.

One change in the campout program is in store for this year, Vines said. The boys decided not to do their own cooking and will hire a cook out of chapter funds. "They get a kick out of doing it themselves the first day but the novelty soon wears off," he said.

Only boys who have maintained at least 75 per cent attendance at chapter meetings are eligible to go. This usually qualifies about 65 or 75 boys but jobs and other conflicts cut the number, the co-sponsor noted.

Public Urged To Take Polio Vaccine Shots

Summer months are expected to bring a significant increase of polio cases, health officials warn, and this will raise the importance of Salk immunization in this area.

While no new cases of the dreaded disease have been reported this year in Howard County, Miss Bo Bowen, city - county health nurse, pointed out that polio can strike at any time.

Adults were singled out for special concern in the coming polio season. "Too few are taking the Salk vaccine," Miss Bowen said.

The vaccine is available at the health unit to all who are unable to pay a private physician.

So far, Miss Bowen said, most of the children are getting the required three shots in on schedule. "A large percentage of area youngsters have been immunized but their parents have not."

An adequate supply of the vaccine, supplied by the Texas State Health Department, is kept on hand at all times. "We do not, however, keep a surplus and none is thrown away," she said.

A new type of polio protection, taken orally, is not available to public health officials here, Miss Bowen said. The oral vaccine is still in the experimental stage, she added.

Louisiana Oil Flow Reduced

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A reduction in Louisiana oil allowables was ordered Tuesday by State Conservation Commissioner Ashton Mouton.

The reduction, between 30,000 and 35,000 barrels daily, will result in a drop from 35 per cent of the potential established in 1952 to 33 per cent. The cut is the first since 1958.

Total nominations submitted, Mouton said, were 822,963 barrels daily through May and June.

Vaught Acquitted In Dupuy Death

RANKIN (AP) — Dr. Clyde Vaught, Presidio osteopath, was acquitted Tuesday on a charge of murder in the Oct. 2 slaying of H. E. Dupuy of El Paso.

The jury, which received the case Monday night, returned its verdict after two hours of testimony was read back to the jury at its request.

Dr. Vaught testified that he shot Dupuy, owner of the toll bridge over the Rio Grande at Presidio, because he feared for his life. He said that Dupuy had threatened him over the telephone.

A county commissioner, Dr. Vaught, had joined with other Presidio citizens in urging that a free bridge be constructed over the Rio Grande to replace the one built by Dupuy in 1926.

Police Drag Youth From House; Hostage Is Unhurt

PULASKI, Va. (AP) — The 30-hour stand of a teen-age desperado, who swore he'd "go out in a blaze of glory in a tie and white shirt with blood on it," ended Tuesday night. Police dragged him shrieking from the home where he had held his young sister-in-law hostage.

The plucky 10-year-old girl, unharmed, said afterwards, "I wasn't scared."

A barrage of tear gas shells flushed Harless Hardin "Jackie" Jennings from the trim brick bungalow of his in-laws at 10:30 p.m. after a day that saw the siege range from terrifying to almost ridiculous.

Jennings came out firing wildly but ineffectually with a shotgun, pushing Barbara Butts out the door ahead of him.

"Duck, Barbara!" officers called an instant before they snatched her aside. Then Jennings, an 18-year-old unemployed mill hand, was overpowered, knocked down and pulled screaming down the walk to a state police car that whisked him to a mental hospital at Marion about 50 miles away.

Barbara, examined at a local hospital, showed no signs of injuries and seemed unruffled by her ordeal that began at 4:15 p.m. Monday.

That was when Jennings, who police said had served time in industrial schools in Virginia and Maryland, grabbed her after escaping from police as he was being taken to jail for unauthorized use of his father-in-law's car.

Barbara said she had not been terrorized. "Jackie never hurt me."

Her eyes were red and puffy, although "I shut my eyes tight" when the tear gas was lobbed into her parents' home. She said Jennings gave her plenty to eat, mostly hot dogs and toasted cheese sandwiches.

The long siege reached a climax after Jennings balked at a second offer of psychiatric treatment made by a mental hospital director and a radio newsman.

Dr. Charles A. Zeller and Ray Carnay of Dallas, Tex., made a last try at negotiations after 50 officers finished preparations for the final attack. Jennings was unmoved.

Toward the house went Blaine Huff, a motor vehicles inspector who is a relative of the youth. As he walked, he spoke to Jennings in a calm, slow voice:

"Will you talk to me, Jackie?" he asked. "I'll shine a light so come up to the window, Jack, I'm beside the porch, you watch that shotgun. These people have put up with you a long time so break this up before somebody gets hurt."

Huff asked if Jennings had the gun in his hand. Jennings said yes. "Then put the barrel out the window. You're not going to plug me, are you?"

"No, no," came the reply.

Police opened up with tear gas shells.

"Why not come in and get me," yelled the youth. "Hey cops, come and get me."

He fired several times from the broken front window. Police lobbed in more gas shells. The door opened and Jennings pushed Barbara out.

At the hospital where doctors were checking little Barbara and pronouncing her fit, Jenning's 16-year-old wife talked to newsmen.

"I'm glad they didn't kill him but I really think the best thing would be to put him in a hospital and try to help him," said Sandra Jennings, a high school senior and honor student. They had been married since last June.

Was she bitter?

"No, I'm just glad it's over.

"I never plan to have anything else to do with him. I've had enough."

The young couple had lived with Barbara's parents since their marriage.

Dr. Zeller said after talking to Jennings that he was a sociopathic, a person he described as one who has never learned by experience or punishment the rules of society.

"This is the type that you leave in jail or at least under strict supervision for a long period of time," Zeller said.

Hospital Head Hits Public Attitude On Mental Cases

FORT WORTH (AP)—The head of Texas mental hospitals pointed a finger of blame at the public Tuesday for being a crucial factor in the alarmingly high readmission rate of mental patients.

Of 12,000 patients released last year, 4,000 came back, Dr. C. J. Ruilmann of Austin told a conference of city and county health officers.

This 4,000 was nearly 1,000 more than total admissions at state hospitals 10 years ago, he said.

The "nearly intolerable ignorance" of citizens about what mental illness really is and the rejection of the mental patient returning to the community were cited as the big reasons for the high readmission rate.

The discharged patient, Ruilmann said, is made to stand stiffer tests as to behavior than the person who has never been mentally ill.

To Ruilmann this doesn't make sense.

"If a man breaks his leg and still has a cast on, his neighbors don't expect him to win any track events when he comes home from the hospital," he said.

But for the returning mental patient, similar allowances aren't made, said Ruilmann, director of mental health and hospitals of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

The discharged mental patient's behavior is scrutinized for the slightest "deviations" by his family and neighbors. At the first slip, he said, the patient is returned to the hospital.

Churches Urged To Eye Sit-Ins

HOUSTON (AP)—A memorandum urging members of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas to consider their responsibilities as Christians and take appropriate action concerning Negro lunch counter sit-ins was announced Tuesday.

The five-page memorandum, prepared by the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Episcopal Diocese, calls on the members of the 141 churches and missions in the 57-county diocese to follow a three-fold plan in handling the sit-ins.

Recommended by the memorandum are: (1) To stop being suspicious of one another and to open lines of communications by a willingness to discuss the subject even with those who disagree with us. (2) To encourage and participate in the discussion and solution of the problem inside the church. (3) To support and cooperate with biracial committees and encourage their appointment in the community.

McMahon Is Board Chief

Clyde McMahon is the new president of the Big Spring School district board of trustees. He was elected Tuesday night after the board had canvassed the recent election and certified the results.

He succeeds John Dibrell, former member of the board who resigned in March.

Dr. Floyd Mays was elected vice president and Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, secretary.

McMahon thanked the board for its vote of confidence and told the members that he regarded his election as president as a compliment. He presided at the meeting Tuesday night.

Way Cleared For Womack To Work Up New Tax Roll

Tax records and a tax evaluation system for the newly created Forsan - Elbow Consolidated school district can be worked up by Novis W. Womack, if that official wishes to do the work.

The board of education of the Big Spring school district considered a request from the new school district for such service and approved Womack engaging in the work, provided he so desires and has the time.

Womack has informed Floyd Parsons, superintendent, he would not do the work for the new district unless it was satisfactory with the city, schools and county. He is employed by the three agencies in keeping tax evaluation records current. He can do the work requested by the new district by copying already existent records in his office, it was said.

Later on, it was suggested, it may work out that the new district can join with the city, school and county in the employment of Womack with the new district paying a pro-rata share of the cost.

Britain Gives Up Nuclear Warhead Plans

LONDON (AP)—Britain is abandoning her program to build fixed-site rockets capable of delivering nuclear weapons to an aggressor's soil.

Defense Minister Harold Watkinson told the House of Commons today the military is discontinuing development of the Blue Streak, a 2,500-mile-range missile which so far has cost 182 million dollars. Watkinson said the money thus far invested in Blue Streak will not be wasted "if it is decided to go ahead with (it) as a launcher for a space satellite."

It thus appeared possible that Britain might still try to stay in the world space race.

Watkinson made clear that Britain's strategic bomber force will remain effective for several years as the vehicle for possible delivery of nuclear weapons.

The complete cost of the original missile program of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government would have been between $1,400,000,000 and $1,680,000,000, he said.

Authoritative sources said this country also hopes, wherever possible, to pool its research, development and productive resources with other North Atlantic Allied powers in manufacturing 2,500-mile-range rockets.

The main reasons are advanced by officials for the switch in defense policy:

The costs of the missile program are simply beyond the nation's capacity.

The program had been largely based on the production of fixed-site rockets which have been outdated by scientific developments. In particular, Britons consider that the Soviets recent firing of rockets into the Pacific exposed the vulnerability of fixed-site missile bases. The Soviets claimed to have hit less than 1¼ miles from their target over a range of 6,500 nautical miles.

Beyond the mid-1960s, when manned bombers are likely to be outdated, any British nuclear weapons would have to be delivered in a major war only in vehicles bought from the United States or jointly produced with other Allies.

Macmillan is understood to have discussed with President Eisenhower recently prospects of buying new American H-weapon vehicles as they are delivered. The British for some time have been eyeing the submarine-borne Polaris and the airborne Skybolt, which still is in the blueprint stage.

Runnels Students Install Coolers And New Blinds

Three new electric water coolers and 13 new venetian blinds have been installed in the Runnels Junior High school as a gift from the student body through the Student Council.

Thomas E. Ernest, principal of the school, notified the school board that the gift was paid for out of student funds. The water coolers represented an expenditure of $468 and the blinds, which have been placed in the library, $168.09. The school board accepted the gift Tuesday night and expressed its appreciation to the Student Council for its action.

Ministers Plan Dance Objection

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two Baptist ministers whose congregations "are opposed to all forms of immorality, including dancing," plan to go before the Fort Worth Board of Education in an attempt to have a junior high school canteen closed.

The two are the Rev. Johnny Ramsey of Rolling Hills Baptist Church and the Rev. W. L. Bryant of Trentman Ave., Baptist Church. The first church claims 2,000 members, the second 1,200.

Both churches are fundamentalist Baptist, unconnected with the Southern Baptist Convention.

The pastors object to the operation of a teen canteen at Forest Oak Junior High School, in southeast Fort Worth near their churches. Each of the congregations has adopted a resolution opposing the operation.

A Measure of Stature

Southwestern Life has grown to be one of the nation's largest insurance companies by any measure... it ranks in the top 3%.

Just as the true stature of a man is measured by his character, not his height, the true stature of an insurance company is measured by the character it builds over the years. While proud of its record of growth, Southwestern Life is prouder yet of its ability to meet its obligations ... and the way it treats its policyowners.

Southwestern Life's obligations to more than 300,000 policyowners are secured by assets of $480 million. These resources increased by $30 million in 1959.

And Southwestern Life policyowners are well treated. An ever-increasing part of the Company's new business is from satisfied policyowners coming back for more. Southwestern's insurance in force now exceeds $2 billion.

Texans own more ordinary life insurance in Southwestern Life than in any other company.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION — December 31, 1959
as filed with the Insurance Departments of the States of Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

Building Expert Noses Out Luxuries

By JOE BENHAM

AUSTIN (AP) — The executive director of the State Building Commission says a new state office building was equipped with $36 door knobs and a marble-lined telephone booth because of lack of supervision before he was hired.

H. R. Nieman, retired Navy admiral who moved into the job September 1, agreed with the House Committee on Saving Taxes members who said there are many wasteful features in the 10-story building.

He said, however, he would rather not say whose fault the extravagance was.

Nieman said he and architect Phil Bible will try to make sure there is no such extravagance in the State Archives Building under construction and the Insurance Building and second State Office Building on which construction is to begin later this year.

The last Legislature put a limit of $16 per square foot on the second office building, to be built northwest of the Capitol.

Nieman said he needs a larger staff to handle details of the state's multi-million dollar building program, but he declined to say how large the department should be.

The four-hour hearing was the committee's second look at the $3,793,000 building occupied last fall. Panel members said Friday they were "astounded" to find cracks in the floors and walls, over-loaded air conditioning compressors and heavy vibration in the structure.

Nieman said these are less serious items than they appear.

Nieman said the building commission—made up of the governor, the attorney general and the chairman of the State Board of Control—has the final responsibility for approving the construction. In practice, he said, most of the day-to-day decisions are made by the commission staff which he heads.

17 Texas Insurance Firms May Fall By The Wayside

AUSTIN (AP)—Seventeen Texas insurance companies will have to overcome objections raised by State Insurance Commissioner William Harrison to remain in business.

Harrison Tuesday issued show-cause orders against the 17 companies, many of which are burial or mutual assessment firms. The burden of proof rests with the companies when hearings are held next month.

The Texas Insurance Code provides that if the companies cited do not overcome the allegations, the State Board of Insurance may either place them in conservatorship which allows the state liquidator to operate them until new officers are elected, or arrange for a reinsurance of the liabilities or liquidate the companies.

Harrison's show-cause orders said 12 of the 17 companies were operated by W. L. Bridges Jr. of Dallas. Mortuary funds of the associations were invested in unauthorized securities, Harrison alleged.

These companies are Marrs-Mundy-Quill Life Insurance Co., Dallas; Young People's Mutual Life Insurance Assn., Jacksonville; Rains Service Insurance Co., Marshall; Rains and Talley Burial Assn., Marshall; Greater Texas Life Insurance Co., Waco; Greater Texas Burial Assn., Waco; The Palms Burial Assn., Houston; The Palms Life Insurance Co., Houston; Home Life Insurance Co., Anson; The Western Mutual Life Assn., Sweetwater; Lawrence Burial Assn., Anson; and Gauntt and Warren Burial Assn., Rule.

Harrison said the condition of the companies "is such as to render the continuance of their business hazardous to the public."

A hearing was set for May 13 at 10 a.m. Until then, State Liquidator C. H. Langdeau will supervise the firms which are prohibited from selling, withdrawing or loaning any of its funds or assets.

Other companies issued show-cause orders and their hearing dates are Hughes Burial Assn., Dallas, May 9; Hughes Imperial Funeral Insurance Co., Dallas, May 9; Southern Industrial Life Insurance Co., Marshall, May 6; Texas Mutual Life Insurance Assn. of Texas, Waco, May 6; and Black's Insurance Co., Irving, May 5.

The orders alleged the companies invested in unauthorized securities and mortgage loans were not reflected in the annual statements. The order against Black's Insurance Co. charged that funds were disbursed to pay bills which were not company expenses.

No Licks For Adventurous Lad Who Took Long Trip

SEA CLIFF, N.Y. (AP)—Today was spankless Wednesday for young Dean Siering, the footloose and fancy-free runaway.

After a 1,200-mile tour around the country strictly on the cuff, the brash 13-year-old was brought home Tuesday to his grandparents' house.

There was talk that grandmother Siering planned to apply a cuff or two of her own—to the seat of Dean's charcoal gray trousers.

But she greeted him with hugs and kisses when he arrived and whisked him inside for a hearty meal.

Grandfather Robert Siering gravely shook hands with the boy, then burst into a smile, saying, "Glad you're back, son."

The bespectacled youngster, whose parents are separated, slipped away from home Sunday with $25 in his pocket.

He took a cab to Idlewild Airport, bluffed his way aboard a plane without a ticket and landed in Chicago. Another cab got him to a train he took to Buffalo, again without paying a cent for fare.

At a Buffalo hotel, where his third cab ride landed him, he was nabbed by police. Neighbors brought him home by plane.

Dean said he had wanted to fly to California. He made it clear that he still wants to go there.

Though his first Odyssey cost him only $20 of his original $25, he considered the outlay high.

"Taxis," he observed darkly, "are very expensive."

Dies Of Burns

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Ida Trail, 80, died today of burns suffered Saturday when a car in which she was riding crashed into a gasoline pump at a Dallas service station. The impact set the pump a fire.

Candidates Make Luncheon Rounds

Associated Press Staff Writer
by IRWIN FRANK

Texans at lunches, dinners, coffees and at meetings Tuesday heard political candidates seeking election in the May 7 Democratic Primary.

The luncheon speaker was Dist. Judge W. T. McDonald of Bryan, candidate for the State Court of Criminal Appeals. He talked at a meeting of the Austin Council on Alcoholism and then drove to Nacogdoches for the night.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr, seeking to defeat incumbent Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, spoke to a dinner meeting of the Houston Automobile Dealers Assn.

Wilson appeared at a coffee-drinking group at Mexia and gave a noon talk at the Athens Kiwanis Club. Later in the day he campaigned at Hillsboro, Corsicana and Waxahachie.

Gov. Price Daniel, opposed for re-election by Jack Cox, attended the first meeting in Austin of his special commission to study possible new tax sources for Texas.

Cox was in Fort Worth where he attended a reception at the Texas Medical Assn. convention.

A candidate for lieutenant governor, Don Yarborough, spoke at a Houston luncheon while incumbent Ben Ramsey, seeking re-election, was in Corpus Christi.

The race for votes continued Wednesday. Here's where the candidates planned to be:

McDonald goes to Nacogdoches and Lufkin areas; Jim D. Bowmer, candidate for the Court of Criminal Appeals visits Mission, McAllen and Edinburg; Judge Lloyd W. Davidson, the incumbent on the Court of Criminal Appeals is in Austin; Carr remained in Houston; Wilson planned to visit Lewisville, Denton, Gainesville and the Sherman-Denison area; Daniel stays in Austin; Cox moved through San Antonio and Laredo; Yarborough campaigns in San Antonio, and Ramsey tours the Coastal Bend area.

Yarborough said in San Antonio that "the independent oil man is the forgotten man in Texas and the state's 89 million dollar deficit is caused in large part by the ailing oil industry."

Ramsey said "the growth and healthy development of the coastal areas are dependent in a large measure on our state's maintaining its traditional doctrine of open beaches for our people."

Carr told auto dealers that "the only thing that is holding Texas back now is indecision and indecisiveness in the realm of public policy in Austin."

BIG SPRING HERALD

Sec. B Big Spring Herald, Wed., April 13, 1960 Sec. B

Founder And His Family

H. R. Gibson Sr., left front, congratulates Ken Marshall, who will be manager of the newest of Gibson's 30th discount store opening here. He is surrounded by other members of his family, Richard Gibson, Mrs. H. R. Gibson Sr., and H. R. Gibson Jr. They have all been here working like beavers to get the center ready for its gala opening Thursday morning. There's a great family spirit among the Gibsons who take pride in a phenomenal growth of their business.

Gibson Opens 30th Store Featuring 6,000 Products

When Gibson's Discount Center opens at 8 a.m. Thursday, it will be the 30th store to carry the name of H. R. Gibson, a native of Missouri who began his adult life behind a barber's chair.

The 1960 estimated volume of Gibson's stores is $25,000,000.

With the new store, in Big Spring expansion for Gibson's mass-marketing operation is not ended yet, as two more stores will be opened during the next few weeks. The idea for this firm began back in the early depression days in a barber shop.

Gibson first left the shop to become a barber supply salesman. From there, it was a short step into the wholesale and jobbing business.

FIRST HOUSE

He opened his first wholesale house in 1932 at Little Rock, Ark., serving jobbers as a wholesale outlet. Two years later, he moved to Dallas. Today, the firm has its home office, warehouse and manufacturing plant in Seagoville, a suburb of Dallas.

Until three years ago, Gibson's grew in the wholesale and jobbing business, staying out of the retail end of selling. Then the first retail step was taken at Abilene.

That store was opened in April, 1958. Since then, the number of retail outlets has swelled to 30 with the opening of the store here Thursday. Already planned are stores in Temple and Brownwood. Last week, a store was opened at El Dorado, Ark.

IN EIGHT STATES

Gibson has stores in eight states throughout the Southwest and Midwest. They include, besides Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Utah, South Dakota, Missouri, Louisiana and New Mexico. Carlsbad, N.M., Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Austin and Dallas house Gibson discount stores.

Gibson's manufactures and distributes about 6,000 items, everything from toothpicks to tires.

Gibson is a hunting and fishing enthusiast and takes every opportunity to break out his hunting or fishing equipment. He is an active member in the Church of Christ.

Open House Set Thursday

Gibson's Discount Center, 3rd and Johnson, will have its grand opening Thursday at 8 a.m. amid a flurry of contests, free gifts and special prices.

Mayor Lee Rogers, Chamber of Commerce President Cliff Fisher and City Manager A. K. Steinheimer will be on hand to cut the ribbon for the initial opening. The opening sale will continue through Saturday featuring low prices and several contests.

"We want to welcome everyone in Big Spring and the surrounding area to visit our new store and celebrate the opening," store manager Kenneth Marshall said. He pointed out that mass marketing enables his firm to offer prices from 25 to 40 per cent below regular retail prices.

"We buy from manufacturers direct," he explained, "and Gibson's manufacture 50 different drug and cosmetic items." Over 6,000 items are on hand for our customers to choose from, he said.

In 1960, Gibson's expect a volume of $25,000,000.

"We welcome dealers," Marshall said. "Our volume purchasing and low overhead cost enable us to sell first line merchandise sometimes at less than wholesale cost."

The sales counters are set up similar to super-market counters," Marshall explained, "and we have drugs, cosmetics, sporting goods, toys, housewares, soft goods, school supplies, photographic equipment, tires, auto equipment, and many other items to choose from."

Among other well known brands, Gibson's feature General Electric, Westinghouse, Wilson, Spaulding, Bulova, Elgin, Sylvania, Emerson, Polaroid, Argus.

A "wishing well" plan is among the prize programs of the new store which will be climaxed by a drawing Saturday. Patrons will receive a free imported wicker basket with each $10 purchase. Other free items are being given with various purchases.

There will be free balloons for youngsters, Marshall said, as well as free soft drinks. In conjunction with radio station KBST, the new store is sponsoring a $10,000 contest which will run 100 days.

A free lay-a-way plan is available and free parking has been scheduled for the lot at 4th and Johnson.

Store hours will be from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day, however the store will remain open until 9 p.m. on Fridays. Marshall said the store would also be open on Sundays, between 1-5:30 p.m. It will not be open Easter Sunday, however.

The Big Spring store is owned by the three sons of Founder H. R. Gibson. They are H. R. Gibson Jr., Richard and Gerald. The latter is a student at Abilene Christian College.

Marshall is being transferred to this store from Abilene. He has 10 years experience in merchandising. His home is in Sherman and he and his wife, Virginia, live at 1604 Settles. They have a four-year-old son.

Other employes of the new store are Dick and Pat Deerinwater, Mrs. Billie Malone, H. P. Franklin, and Harold Broughton.

Friendly Folk To Help Serve You

Libraries To Get Reports

Thanks to the generosity of a Dallas couple, a gift of books is soon to be made to the Howard County Library, Veterans Administration Hospital Library, Big Spring High School Library, the Howard County Junior College Library and to the probation department of Howard County.

An eight-volume set of official publications of the 1960 White House Conference On Children and Youth will be dispatched to each of these institutions. In all, 8,000 books are to be distributed to 1,000 Texas libraries. The books are being provided by the gift of $12,000 from Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meadows, Dallas, through the Meadows Foundation.

Four volumes of the set have already been completed by the Columbia University Press. The others, which will also include a digest of Texas research, will be printed between this date and July.

A special committee of Gov. Daniel's White House Conference Committee made the allocation of the books. They go to 272 public libraries, 115 college and university libraries, 34 philanthropic and hospital libraries, 200 social agencies, probation departments and child care institutes and 197 public and parochial schools.

Remaining sets will be distributed to new libraries formed in the coming years.

The books represent the combined findings and thinking of the nation's outstanding leaders in the field of child care. It will be a source of authoritative information on the nation's children for years to come.

Trade Treaty

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico and Greece yesterday signed a commercial treaty designed to increase the interchange of products among the two countries.

Medics Form Lyndon Panel

FORT WORTH (AP) — The "Texas Physicians Committee for Johnson for President" was formed Tuesday by more than 100 members of the Texas Medical Assn.

Dr. Harvey Renger of Hallettsville, new TMA president-elect, was named chairman of the committee. He emphasized that the group was not a part of the TMA.

"We have 115 now and are getting more asking to join" the committee, he said.

"We feel Sen. Johnson is the most conservative of the bunch and that he is a worthy Texan and deserves our support," Renger said. He added that this is the first time Texas physicians have joined in supporting the nomination of any potential presidential candidate.

Dr. Renger and Dr. R. W. Kimbro, president of the TMA board of trustees, are members of a national physicians committee which is being formed to support Sen. Lyndon Johnson for president.

E. D. Simpson Heads New School Board At Forsan

E. D. Simpson, who lives in the Lockhart Addition in Big Spring, is the president of the newly organized Forsan-Elbow consolidated school district board of trustees. He was elected at the organizational meeting of the board on Monday night.

The newly elected board members met and drew for terms of office. Those who drew Nos. 1 and 2, were assigned one year terms. They are Ozro Allison, Chalk, and Simpson. Those who drew 3 and 4, are assigned to two year terms. They are H. H. Story, Otis Chalk and Robert Cowley, Forsan. The men who drew Nos. 5, 6 and 7 will serve three year terms on the board. They are C. L. Rutherford, Elbow; O. R. Pete Banks, Lockhart Addition and C. R. Walraven of Forsan.

Story was elected vice president of the board and Cowley secretary.

The board decided that all existing facilities in both schools must be fully utilized before any new buildings are contemplated.

Transfer policy for the new district was adopted. All transfers currently in the Big Spring High School will be allowed to continue as transfers until they complete their high school educations. However, no further transfers in Grades 1 to 8 inclusive will be permitted by the board. It was specified any Big Spring High School student whose parents move into the Forsan-Elbow district will be permitted to continue in the Big Spring schools.

Salary levels of teachers in the Elbow Elementary schools will be raised, effective Sept. 1 to equal those of the elementary teachers in the Forsan school. Elbow was paying $155 a year less than the Forsan district prior to the consolidation. This new provision becomes effective with the beginning of the next school year. It is not applicable to principals and superintendents.

WILL WILSON

Wilson Visits Here Thursday

Will Wilson, attorney general of Texas, will be in Big Spring on Thursday afternoon.

Gil Jones, his campaign manager for the county, plans to escort the attorney general on a tour of the town and afford him opportunity to meet and talk to as many citizens as possible in the relatively short time Wilson will be in the city.

Wilson is seeking re-election as attorney general. He comes to Big Spring from Midland where he has a speaking engagement on Thursday noon. Jones said that he should be in Big Spring around 2:30 p.m.

He is no stranger to Howard County. In other years, he has been a visitor in the area and last campaign was speaker at a special meeting of the Howard County Bar Association.

Jones said that he plans no general gathering to meet the attorney general but that in the course of the afternoon he and Wilson will be around town visiting with Big Spring residents.

Jones was selected last week by Wilson to handle his campaign interests in the county. He expressed himself well pleased with the assignment. The record that Wilson has made in his time as attorney general, Jones said, has established him as an able, conscientious and capable state official.

A Devotional For Today

Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? (Matthew 27:11.)

PRAYER: Teach us, O God, to examine our lives in the light of the cross of Calvary. Strengthen us to cast away all that is unworthy. Help us to place our trust in Him who alone can give us life. Thus enable us to love and serve Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Cruel, Crude Hoaxes

A few days ago at Idlewild, New York, a Northeast Airlines plane was delayed an hour and a half on a flight to Miami. There was nothing wrong with the aircraft. It was simply another victim of a fake bomb scare.

Authorities officially count 200 such scares in the last couple of years or so. Some say, however, that the total is closer to 600.

Obviously, the time has long since come to call a halt to this warped human behavior.

Airlines cannot even accurately measure the great cost to them of planes delayed on the ground, planes recalled to airports, baggage painstakingly searched, and so on.

These same delays and interruptions of flight have meant incalculable inconvenience and perhaps some loss of confidence among thousands of air passengers.

Possibly the cruelest of all these hoaxes was perpetrated against a recent flight which was bearing to southern Indiana the bereaved relatives and friends of the victims of a still-mysterious Electra crash.

As the grief-stricken went to memorial services for the victims they were asked to believe for a while that their plane might be destroyed by a bomb.

These are unspeakable acts which seem to make a joke of the threat of death. We need the psychiatrists to tell us why hundreds are driven to such behavior.

Fortunately, Congress is showing signs it has had enough of these insanities. At present a person guilty of a bomb hoax is subject only to a $1,000 fine and a year in jail. A new bill before the lawmakers would raise the fine to $5,000 and the sentence to five years in prison.

The measure warrants early and speedy consideration by both houses of Congress.

In this busy age the nation's airlines have enough harassments as they seek to fly their planes safely and efficiently.

They should not have to suffer the misguided individual who at the click of a telephone dial can put fear into their passengers' hearts and add unnecessary dollars to their cost burden.

Some Mighty Fine Achievements

Have you noticed the frequency with which Martin County 4-H members have been earning state honors and scholarships?

A year ago Craid Beckmeyer won the Texas Cotton Ginners Association first prize for outstanding demonstration. Later he was tapped out for the Anderson and Clayton four year scholarship award that virtually sees him through four years of college.

Then a month ago Bobby Kelley kept the Texas Cotton Ginners top award in Stanton with his excellent record, and last week he was featured at the organization's annual meeting.

More recently, Glen Ruth Reid has been selected as the winner of the Texas Home Demonstration Association scholarship as the state's outstanding 4-H club member in homemaking activities.

We're mighty proud of the record these young people have made, and especially because they are in this neighborhood. We're proud, too, that they have parents and leaders who have given them such capable and unselfish backing.

Human Rights Throughout The World

WASHINGTON — Is the United Nations Security Council asleep at the switch nowadays as dispatches pour in from different parts of the world telling of violence by policemen and troops?

Not many days ago the Council decided to debate and then passed a resolution condemning the riots and loss of life in South Africa. A few days previously the U. S. Department of State sent word to the Korean government expressing displeasure over election disorders. The American government joined in the United Nations Security Council action on South Africa.

Here are some dispatches from the United Press International, however, telling about incidents that have not yet been acted upon either by the Department of State or by the United Nations Security Council:

1. "PARIS, APRIL 7— Club-wielding riot police fought a pitched battle in the city of Sens tonight with thousands of farmers demonstrating against President De Gaulle's farm-price policy. The bitter street battle, staged under a cloud of tear gas and smoke erupted in the city 60 miles south of Paris . . .The farmers who battled police at Sens were part of a throng of 20,000 who turned out there in a regional protest rally. The number of injured was not known immediately, but several farmers fled from the scene with blood streaming from their faces."

2. "Buenos Aires, March 26—Scattered incidents of violence were reported today as millions of Argentines voted. . . Gunplay was reported from scattered areas despite the employment of army troops and gendarmes to maintain order. The election-day incidents were reported in the wake of an electoral campaign marked by violence, including three bombings in recent days—all blamed on the Peronistas."

3. "DOUALA, CAMEROON (Africa) April 8—Police killed 25 Negro rebel tribesmen when they opened fire with tommy guns on a rampaging mob of 200 terrorists who hacked a French police officer to death last night, it was disclosed today. Four policemen, including the French officer, were killed and six wounded.

"Police opened fire after the terrorists chopped to pieces a French gendarme officer who was trapped in his truck outside the camp . . . Police reinforcements rushed from the camp and fought an hour-long battle to drive off the attackers . . .

"On Feb. 20 terrorists killed 62 civilians, including many women and children, in a raid. In another clash on March 9, casualties were 31 killed and 40 wounded."

"MUNICH, GERMANY, April 2.—Soviet Army troops shot and killed more than 100 youths and wounded another 1,000 persons to crush a major rebellion of young Communist 'pioneers' in Premier Khrushchev's 'show-case' Republic of Kazakhstan last October, the privately owned 'Radio Liberty' said today. Details of a three-day uprising by thousands of men and women members of the Young Communist League in the town of Temir-Tau were provided by eyewitnesses since repatriated to Western Europe under exchange programs.

" 'Radio Liberty,' formerly 'Radio Liberation,' is an organization financed by private contributions from Americans. Its broadcasts from a Munich studio are beamed toward Soviet Russia and Russian soldiers in Germany.

"Local militiamen attempted to disperse the demonstrators, but the youths sent back to the camp for reinforcements. They set up barricades and stoned the militia. They (the troops) opened fire and killed more than 100 men and women and injured 1,000 more."

EACH ONE of these incidents can be regarded as "internal" in the same sense that the United States government would unquestionably argue if the recent race riots and police action in Philadelphia and other cities were put on the agenda of the United Nations Security Council for debate and possible resolutions. But the United Nations, which is championing the cause of human rights throughout the world, now is looking upon all internal questions that involve police violence as something within its jurisdiction—at least, for purposes of discussion. That's why, once the door has been opened to consideration of internal questions, it may be wondered why recent episodes in other countries besides South Africa have not been given formal attention by the United Nations Security Council.

MAYBE THE WORDS of Selwyn Lloyd, British foreign minister, in a speech a few days ago are being taken to heart by the Security Council members. He said that the resolution passed by the Council "went beyond the scope of the proper functions of the council," and amounted to "obvious intervention in matters within the internal jurisdiction of South Africa." He added:

"We believe that it would have been wiser and more effective for the Council to have contented itself with leaving the important discussion . . .to make its own impact."

Adlai Needs Solutions, Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson hovers around the political perimeter like a doctor in the next room. He is available if needed, he will prescribe if asked, but he won't come uncalled.

He sounded like the Stevenson of 1952 and 1956 Tuesday night in his speech at the University of Virginia. It was a broadside attack on the Republicans.

Stevenson, a two-time presidential loser who seems perfectly willing to try again if he is asked used two figures, Thomas Jefferson and President Eisenhower, to make his points: that Jefferson had vision and Eisenhower doesn't.

ONE OF THE troubles facing Stevenson or any other Democrat running for president this year—when he starts condemning the Eisenhower administration for lack of performance—is that the Democrats have now had control of Congress since 1954. When blame is being handed out they must be given their share.

If Eisenhower lacked vision or failed to produce or push a program, the Democrats had the numbers to come up with some of their own. But they haven't busted any stitches thinking big, either.

Stevenson can still turn a phrase but to this writer, who wasn't down at Charlottesville, Va., to hear—his written speech sounded tired and pretty much a rehash of what he had said over and over long ago.

If he doesn't get the Democratic nomination this year again he will like all the other also-rans, become a minor figure in American history. Nevertheless, because he had eloquence, scholars will research his speeches.

HIS IDEAS AND his views about the world and Eisenhower—when historians have the benefit of the hindsight which comes with passing years—can then be measured in perspective against the Eisenhower record or lack of it.

On one point he hit a note which by now is pretty commonly accepted: that this country's foreign policy has been pretty much defensive.

Stevenson insists he is not looking for the nomination this year although he says he won't duck if it's offered. But he couldn't have made a more political speech if he had been on the stump for the third time.

Still, while this speech may have found a hearty response in the cerebral air of the University of Virginia, it's still hardly the kind that enchants the voters.

It was long on criticism and listing of problems but very short on Stevenson's own solutions for solving them. He'll have to get around to that if he runs again.

A Bright New Crop

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—It's about harvest time in the meadows of learning.

America's greatest spring crop—its college graduating classes—is matured and ready to seek its own place in the golden granary of time. The 1960 crop looks like a record one in terms of both quantity and quality.

Critics of our younger generation might feel better about our nation's future if they would take the trouble right now to go and see how these "hopes of tomorrow" really measure up.

I did just that the other day during a visit here to the University of North Carolina, which has won over the years an enlarging recognition as one of the great pastures of the mind and spirit.

Chapel Hill has always had a tradition of relaxed freedom and wide culture, and the late Thomas Wolfe was only one of many creative minds that have found inspiration here.

For any middle-aged man his return to a college campus is always a kind of journey into Australia. But it can teach him a few things too.

The campus at Chapel Hill is beautiful. The walks are shaded by trees so old they are like shrines in leaf. The buildings, a mixture of many architectures, blend in a friendly weathered warmth.

But on this walk upon this day it was the students, not the mellow atmosphere of the campus, that kindled in me a reverie of comparison.

One does not like to be unfair to his own youth, but on the other hand it is not wise ever to get the idea that all that was best in the world died with it.

Looking around at the students I passed, pausing now and then to listen to them, I had the feeling they were superior to the college students of my own generation.

It wasn't only that they had more height and perhaps more health. They had an air of easy assurance and self-confidence visible even to an outsider.

In my depression-haunted generation the fear of being unable to find a job after graduation often made the last two years in college miserable. We hated to leave alma mater because we feared the world had no place for us. At one bull session I can recall a group of seniors deciding that if they could sign up right then for a guaranteed income of $200 a month for life they would be glad to do so.

These students here would strike no such frightened bargain. They are not fearful. They are hopeful, and they believe in themselves.

Many educators defend this college generation as perhaps the best in our history, and I am inclined to go along with this view rather than with those doomcriers who hold we have raised a generation of spoiled milksops.

Returning from my stroll I had no desire to relive my own college days. One time of youth is enough for one life.

I felt no tinge of envy for these young men and women. But I did feel that the world they so soon will set forth to better will fare no worse at their hands than it has at ours.

Sulfa Drugs, Aspirin Don't Hurt Heart

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I asked this question before but did not get an answer. Does a sulfa drug weaken the heart? — Mrs. R.D.H."

I'm sorry you had to wait, but there are times when I have quite a pile of questions waiting to be answered, and at such times I try to take them in the order in which they arrived.

There is a common belief that sulfa drugs, and aspirin, too, "weaken the heart."

This is false. Neither drug damages the heart.

No doubt this idea got started in the first place because the drugs are used to combat certain CONDITIONS which may be injurious to the heart. The main one, as you might well guess, is a strep infection which may lead to rheumatic fever which in turn can cause inflammation of the heart muscle or valves.

The damage is from the infection, not from sulfa drugs used to combat the infection, or aspirin used to combat inflammation.

Modern sulfa drugs are an accepted and valuable treatment for strep infections, and strep throat is common.

It is true that some of the early forms of sulfa had their problems, and we had to be cautious in using them, but even then heart damage was not one of their faults.

The early drugs of the sulfa variety sometimes depressed the blood count, sometimes caused rashes, sometimes contributed to crystals or "stones" forming in the kidneys.

Today these complications are virtually non-existent.

As for aspirin, it continues to be an excellent drug for relief of pain, and in treating rheumatic infections and the aches that go with them.

It is true that some individuals may suffer from rashes or from upset stomachs if they take some quantity of aspirin, and there may even be bleeding.

Some of these side effects, particularly the bleeding and stomach irritation, can be avoided by taking the drug with food or milk, or combined with an alkali, so with proper handling results are entirely satisfactory.

A resulting rash, either from sulfa or from aspirin, is largely limited to people who are particularly sensitive, or allergic, to the drugs. In such cases, the best I can say is to do what other allergy sufferers must do in regard to so many foods or other materials: Avoid them and substitute something else.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am writing a term paper on lung cancer, causes, cures and other theories. I would appreciate any information you might send. — R. H."

I hate to say no, but if I gathered reference material for all the girls and boys who are doing term papers, it would take me several hours a day, and I have other work to do. Anyway, the purpose of a term paper isn't to have somebody else collect your material for you. So first, there's an excellent medical library in your city where you can do some reading. Second, write or visit the branch of the American Cancer Society in your city. You'll find that it has material available on this topic.

Around The Rim

Now Back In The Old Days—

"Back in the old days," I said to my brood.

"Meanwhile, back at the ranch," cut in Mama, and not without an unkindly tone.

I would have wilted her with a look, but she wouldn't wilt. So I continued my dialogue, which had been summarily reduced to a monologue.

"Back in the old days it was a mark of poor skill to have candy Easter eggs. Why? Well, turning out bright Easter eggs was like having good white sheets to hang on the line. To have to resort to store bought candy eggs was like admitting that you couldn't cook good biscuits."

"So we had home made eggs," I informed the boys.

"HA," CHORTLED MAMA, leading a pep rally of giggles among the boys, "I'd like to see some of yours." This must have been funny, for she shook violently in great glee, all the while surreptitiously goading the boys to feigned laughter.

"Hearty ha! ha!" I shot back. "I fail to see what's so funny about home-made eggs." This only seemed to titillate her tickle button, so I raised my voice and continued:

"Every Easter we would get a supply of eggs (if indeed Easter didn't come so early the old hens were in the moult). We would take out the brown ones and boil the others. Then we dyed them all colors of the rainbow—and then some."

HAVING RECOVERED from her mirth, she now began to heckle, noting first of all that some people didn't boil their eggs sufficiently, and anyhow she bet I'd used the term "we" a bit loosely. She'd bet me a chocolate bunny that my mother had done the boiling and had slaved over the dye cups. She did concede that the end product was an assortment of lovely hued eggs—scarlet, crimson, chartreuse, purple, fuschia, yellow, gold, orange, green, blue, and oh, so many other lovely shades.

"What fun it was to hide them and to get to run and hunt them," I went on, noting a glint of keen interest in No. 2 boy's eye.

"Let's get some dye and fix up some eggs," he said.

I WAS ABOUT TO LEAN back and smirk, having won my point when he broke in:

"And don't boil them. Boy I've got it all figured out how—"

Hmmm! Come to think of it maybe we'd better stick to the store bought ones. I don't believe I ever heard of a soft-boiled candy egg.

'You Can't Get A Man With A Gun'

"Girls are just as bright as boys," says a daring publicity puff from Parents' Magazine, and adds, "Why, then, are they so afraid to use their brains?"

All of this is a teaser for an article, "The Big Waste of Brain Power: Our Gifted Girls," written by Dr. Elizabeth M. Drews, associated professor at Michigan State University's College of Education.

Now something tells me that Dr. Drews, an associate prof at a big university, can answer the question poised in that lead paragraph just as handily as I.

But since ol' Doc Robb can only speak for herself, here goes: Annie Oakley and Ethel Merman, between them, established for all time that "you can't get a man with a gun." Experience has proved that he is even more gun-shy of a Ph. D.

AND 999 GIRLS OUT OF A thousand, and the nation ought to thank God that this is true, would rather have a husband, children and a happy home than a long string of academic initials after her her name. Who wants to be all alone by the telephone with a Phi Beta Kappa key?

The American girl, and especially the one with the high I. Q. over whom Dr. Drews is clucking, knows full well that egghead does not of necessity call to egghead. Nor does she need the Arthur Miller-Marilyn Monroe union to remind her of this fixed axiom.

Marriage is still the ultimate status symbol for the vast majority of my sex. Since this is so, any girl, no matter how lofty her I. Q., knows enough not to be too bright for her own good. A high I. Q. and dancing feet are not incompatible, but they seldom go together unless Little Miss Einstein can conceal her light under a basket.

THE WOMANLY DREAMBOAT of the American male has always been and continues to be the doll who is beautiful but dumb and doesn't do much but nod in the affirmative.

Only a few days ago this old concept was confirmed by a bright 16-year-old boy who won a free trip to New York in a national contest. Now, he had met President Eisenhower and J. Edgar Hoover in Washington, and Mayor Robert Wagner in New York.

But what Joe Brain really wanted, he told reporters, was to go dancing with "a beautiful but dumb blonde, or brunette, or redhead." In other words, if she lived up to that manly ideal, beautiful but dumb, he wouldn't be too choosy about the color of her hair.

Oh, a girl with glasses may get some passes, but who plays kneesies with Ph. Dee-sies?

DR. DREWS LAMENTS the wicked waste of talent and brain power in gifted young women, whose gray matter is needed by the nation, but who settle for far, far less than the best within their intellectual abilities. But she pinpoints the whole problem when she writes:

"Our present interpretation of femininity may be too narrow in not allowing the 'feminine' woman any interests outside her home on anything more than a hobby level. Unhappily, girls today are often given the false idea that careers and marriage don't mix; that womanliness and work (outside the home) don't go together."

As long as this is the national attitude, and Dr. Drews has stated it fairly, and as long as women are women with a longing for love, husband, children and home, bright girls aren't going to take a chance and outsmart themselves. Better her slip should show than her splendid senses.

Education is needed, all right. But Dr. Drews had better start with the boys.

The Gallup Poll

Can Higher Taxes Win Votes?

PRINCETON, N. J. — The year 1960 may go down in political history as the year when a plea for higher taxes made for sound campaign strategy.

If the reason for the tax boost were to catch up with Russia in the science and missile race, the public feels that such a stand would help rather than hurt a presidential candidate.

As part of its survey of the public's attitude toward defense spending and its political implications, the Gallup Poll asked voters across the country this question:

"Suppose that one of this year's presidential candidates said that America is falling behind Russia in such fields as science and missile development, and that to catch up, the American people will have to pay more taxes. Would this statement hurt him or help him in your eyes?"

The national vote:

HIGHER TAXES TO CATCH RUSSIA?

| | Per cent |
|---|---|
| Would help him | 50 |
| Would hurt him | 28 |
| No difference, no opinion | 22 |

As reported in the first of this two-part series, the public tends to feel the overall amount spent on military defense now is adequate.

But in the specific field of missile development, Americans have their misgivings about U. S. strength. Thus a candidate's plan to do something about missiles and science strikes a responsive chord with the public—even if it meant higher taxes.

When the public was asked in February, for example, whether they felt the U. S. or Russia was ahead in the development of long-range missiles and rockets, this is how they answered:

WHO'S AHEAD IN MISSILES?

| | Per cent |
|---|---|
| Russia is | 47 |
| U. S. is | 33 |
| No opinion | 20 |

In the case of two leading presidential candidates this year, Vice President Richard Nixon and Sen. John Kennedy, survey evidence is that a stand by either one on more taxes to catch up with the Russian might help his chances.

Both those voters in the survey who prefer Nixon and those who prefer Kennedy said, by a vote of about 2-to-1, that a plea by their man for higher taxes to pay for science and missile development would help his standing in their eyes.

Further analysis shows that a nominee's bid for more taxes to help catch up with Russia would have greatest appeal to the nation's Independent voters—a group whose support is essential to any national election. Here is the vote on the issue by party affiliation:

HIGHER TAXES TO CATCH RUSSIA?

| | Rep. | Dem. | Ind. |
|---|---|---|---|
| | Per cent | | |
| Would help | 50 | 49 | 55 |
| Would hurt | 27 | 30 | 25 |
| No diff., no opinion | 23 | 21 | 20 |

JONESPORT, Maine (AP) — At 92, Dr. Henry Mansfield still practices two professions—dentistry and optometry.

Recently he fitted a 93-year-old woman with glasses. If the glasses last as long as her dentures, she'll live to an unprecedented age. The woman still uses a set of artificial teeth Dr. Mansfield made for her 67 years ago.

Lucky Find

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Owners of an appliance firm were happy they permitted a curious junior high school student to rummage through some old television sets stacked at the rear of the store.

Charles Ruttner, 14, found $50 in cash and $300 in checks stuffed inside the sets. The checks were made out to the appliance company but owners were puzzled how they were misplaced.

Egg Blends With Fish To Make Tasty Salad

If your man-of-the-house likes anchovies, he'll love this salad:

EGG AND ANCHOVY SALAD

6 hard-cooked eggs
Romaine or other salad greens
Flat anchovy fillets
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. yellow mustard
16 tiny pickled white onions, cocktail size
½ tsp. drained capers, minced

Cut eggs in half lengthwise and arrange on salad greens. Cut the long anchovy fillets in half crosswise and criss-cross one on each egg half.

Mix together the mayonnaise and mustard; slice onions thin and add with capers. Serve dressing with salad. Makes 4 servings—3 egg halves to each portion.

If you open a 2-ounce can of anchovies for this salad, empty the remaining fillets with their oil into a small jar, cover tightly and refrigerate. When using, remove from refrigerator ahead of time so oil can reliquefy.

Spark Cabbage With Cheese Sauce

Cheese sauce adds sparkle to cabbage in this recipe, and will make it a well-liked dish with your family.

GREEN CABBAGE WITH CHEESE SAUCE

6 cups knife-shredded packed-down green cabbage (¼ to ½-inch strands)
1 tsp. salt
¾ cup boiling water
Milk
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
2 tbsps. flour
⅛ tsp. white pepper
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
½ hard-cooked egg (if desired).

Cook cabbage rapidly in medium-sized saucepan, covered, with boiling water and ½ teaspoon salt just until tender-crisp—about 5 minutes; lift cover a few times and turn cabbage over with a long-handled fork. Turn into colander and drain liquid into a measure; add enough milk to make 1 cup.

Melt butter in saucepan over moderately low heat; stir in flour. Add milk mixture, remaining ½ teaspoon salt and pepper; cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly; add cheese; stir over very low heat until cheese is melted. Add cabbage and reheat but do not boil.

Turn into serving dish; if egg is used put into a small strainer and press with a spoon over cabbage for a pretty effect. Makes 6 servings.

Hillary Brooke Gives Reducers For Hips

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Hillary Brooke, who used to be a model before she was lured to the stage and TV, had no problem keeping her figure at a size 10. Then she had a back injury and for a year was not allowed to exercise or even dance.

"Until then," she told me over a cup of tea, "I had no idea the part that sports play in keeping my weight down. Without changing my eating habits, I went from a 10 to a 14."

Hillary is now as trim as the last time I saw her and I asked how she had accomplished it.

"As soon as I was allowed, I played tennis, went skiing and did set-ups at night and morning. I have a small waist but what needed reducing was the lower part of my body so I concentrated on leg and hip exercises," she revealed. "I still do these exercises to keep limber.

"I lie on the floor on my back. Then I support my hips with my hands, with elbows resting on the floor and with my legs in the air—I pretend to ride a bicycle. I do this about three minutes.

"Sometimes I stand in a doorway and swing my legs back and forth—first my left leg and then my right. Then I sit on the floor and rock back and forth on my hips a hundred times—first with my legs stretched out in front of me and then I draw my knees up and I rock back and forth."

I asked her to tell about how she dieted.

"No snacks," she replied. "I denied myself all rich French sauces that make everything taste divine and all the desserts I make and love so well such as cream cheese pie, Viennese tarts, mousse made with rich imported chocolate."

Hillary was wearing a very smart suit and I complimented her on her exquisite taste.

"My ideas of what is right for me have crystallized so that now I make less mistakes. I have reached the point where I can resist a fetching fashion if I know it's not for me. But it takes time and many mistakes not to be swayed by quick enthusiasm," she said as we parted.

HIP AND THIGH EXERCISES

Being flabby isn't a question of age but a lack of exercise. Women who diet and become flabby seem to forget their reason for losing weight was to look well. And you can't look well when your skin is hanging! It takes only 15 minutes a day while you are dieting to keep your body firm. Here in Leaflet M-25, "Fifteen Minutes for Youth," you will find stretching exercises, sit-ups, routines for the abdomen, waist, inner thighs, legs, buttocks and upper arms. Your copy of this vitally-important leaflet will be on its way when you send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald. Ask for Leaflet M-25.

Z. LeFevre Hurls BS Past Odessa Broncs

The Big Spring Steers rode a masterful pitching job by Zay LeFevre to a 2-0 upset victory over the Odessa Bronchos here on a windswept field Tuesday afternoon.

The victory was the first in District 2-AAAA play for Big Spring, after two defeats. The reversal was Odessa's first and dropped the Bronchos out of a deadlock for first place in the standings.

LeFevre was in all kinds of hot water but he pitched masterfully when the going was roughest. He fanned 11, walked eight and yielded only three hits, all of them singles.

Bill Combest tagged him for a single in the second round. Abe White got another in the fifth while pinch hitter Mac McAdams connected in the sixth.

The Longhorns collected ten hits, two each by Jimmy Roger and Don Everett, and muffed any number of opportunities to pyramid their score.

They broke the ice in the third, when James Kinman singled, raced to second on a one-baser by LeFevre and scooted home on Roger's blast through the box.

In the fourth, Everett led off with a single, moved up on a single by Tommy Whatley and raced to the plate on a single by Jack Irons.

The Bronchos had the bases loaded in the fourth but Hoot Gibson was nipped at the plate on an attempted steal and Combest fanned to end the inning.

In the seventh, Odessa put runners on second and third with only one out but LeFevre fanned Larry Jernigan and Duke Samson in succesSsion to send the spectators home happy.

Odessa used three hurlers in a vain attempt to head off the Big Springers, who are now 7-9 on the season. Wilson Blakely started on the mound for the invaders and was saddled with the defeat. He was spelled by James Ingram in the fourth. Ingram gave way in the sixth to Jernigan.

The Longhorns return to play Thursday, at which time they will be in Midland. Odessa plays host to San Angelo on Friday.

Awaiting Regional Play

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

John Pipes has called off that Sectional Qualifying round for the National Public Links Golf tournament, which he had set for early June in Midland.

Pipes, along with his wife, are moving to Santa Rosa, Calif., where they'll help operate a rest home. They've been residents of Big Spring for 21 years.

Pipes was director of the two Sectional meets held in this area, the one conducted here in 1958 and the second held in Midland last year.

He had planned to send the winner of this year's tournament, with all expenses paid, to Honolulu, Hawaii, where the 1960 National Public Links tournament will be played.

Right now, it appears unlikely that anyone will come forward and replace Pipes as the director.

A group of men were helping Pipes raise money for the winner's trip to the Nationals. Those donations will have to be returned.

Pipes is keeping his home here, at least for the time being. It appears he will make California his permanent residence, however.

Last basketball season, when UCLA Coach John Wooden and Col. John Simler, athletic director at the U. S. Air Force Academy, met at midcourt to quell a brawl between players, team aides and fans, Simler accused Wooden of rough tactics which, he insisted, ignited the fight.

Simler, in full uniform, berated Wooden, who fumed and finally countered:

"Now look here, I was an officer, too, you know."

In some cities, the professional wrestlers are still doing famously.

Not long ago, an estimated 12,000 people filed through the turnstiles of the Chicago Ampitheatre to watch a bout between John Valentine and Bearcat Wright.

Another 3,000 people had to be turned away and police were called out to quell the disturbance when they were told they couldn't gain entrance to the hall. Some of the impatient broke down a door and stampeded inside the amphitheatre for a standing room look at the exhibitions.

The Los Angeles Dodgers will be paid $600,000 for the TV righis to 11 of their baseball games this season—all of them away from home.

The Chicago Cubs will permit 81 of their games to be televised, for considerations amounting to $450,000. Their cross-town rivals (for the fans' attention, that is) get $350,000 but will have only 35 of their games televised.

That figures out to $6,500 a game for the White Sox, compared to only $5,500 for the Cubs.

• • •

The following is a note from a fellow who signs his missive 'The Gentleman Farmer':

"If all the football fans were farmers, they would not have any time to gripe at the coach . . . How plehsant that would be—for the coach, that is!"

That could be from no one else than Mitchell Malouf, the former Big Spring coaching aide, now farming near Plainview. The card was written at 5 o'clock one morning.

Banner Turnouts See Big League Openers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League is off on another pennant chase, but except for what happened to relief whiz Roy Face, you'd think it was still '59, what with Los Angeles, Milwaukee and San Francisco jammed together at the top.

The world champion Dodgers, drawing a record crowd at the Coliseum, defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 11 innings Tuesday night and kept the pace set by the Braves and Giants, who finished 2-3 last year, in afternoon games. The Braves clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates and Face 4-3. The Giants defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 for a dandy debut in their 15-million-dollar Candlestick Park.

In the other afternoon game, Cincinnati's Reds whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 9-4.

The four games drew 179,782 fans, an opening day record for the NL, which beat the American League, still playing exhibition games, to the punch by six days.

Chuck Essegian, a record maker with a pair of pinch-hit homers as the Dodgers beat the Chicago White Sox in the World Series, broke it up for Los Angeles with a two-out, pinch blast in the 11th off reliever Don Elston. He was batting for Don Drysdale, who blanked the Cubs on three singles over the last eight innings and got a jump toward another strikeout crown. He struck out 14.

The Cubs, with Charlie Grimm opening his third shot as Chicago manager after replacing Bob Scheffing, got four of their seven hits and both runs in the third. Don Zimmer, a long-time Dodger until last week, opened it with a home run.

The Dodgers tied it on a pair of walks and a two-out double by Wally Moon in the fifth against starter Bob Anderson, who fanned nine in his eight frames.

The game drew 67,550, a NL record for a night game. The old high was 67,037, set at the Coliseum last August 8 for a game with the Braves.

Joe Adcock's two-run homer in the eighth broke up a 2-2 game for the Braves before 39,888 at Milwaukee's County Stadium. The shot followed a single by Hank Aaron and came off Face, the little right-hander who ran up a two-season streak of 22 victories by winning his first 17 last season. Oddly, the Braves were the only club Face didn't beat in that streak, and the club that beat him last before he started the run. He has dropped seven in a row to Milwaukee, going back to 1956.

Warren Spahn, shooting for his 268th victory, hit his 24th home run, a career high for pitchers in the NL, but gave way after blanking the Bucs on four hits for seven frames. Don McMahon came on in the eighth and won it, but needed help from Lew Burdette in the ninth to make Chuck Dressen a winner in his managerial debut with the Braves.

Sad Sam Jones, one of three to win 21 a year ago in the NL, gave up only three hits—all by ex-Giants—while beating the Cards for the fifth straight time since they traded him to the Giants, 13 months ago. Bill White singled twice, in the first and the ninth, and Leon Wagner junked the shutout with a home run in the fifth.

Orlando Cepeda drove in the Giants' runs, tripling home pair of unearned markers in the first—after an error by ex-Giant Daryl Spencer at short—and singling home Willie Mays in the third. Larry Jackson lost it before a full house of 42,269.

The Phillies and Robin Roberts blew a 4-0 lead at Cincinnati, where 30,075 saw Roy McMillan's two-on homer cap a five-run second. Rookie Tony Gonzalez hit a two-run homer for the Reds, also off Roberts, while lefty Jim O'Toole won it with six innings of two-hit, shutout relief.

Jayhawks Meet Tarleton State

By DON RIDDLE

Howard County Junior College's thinly clads, with an open date this weekend, take on the Tarleton Junior College tracksters in a dual meet this afternoon in Memorial Stadium, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The Jayhawks' outlook was darkened somewhat this week, with the leg injury of sprint ace, Jim Bob Thomas. Thomas had been carrying most of the sprint burden all year because another sprinter, Maurice Burnett, has had limb miseries.

Thomas took second place in the junior college division of the 100 meter dash in Denton last Saturday and posted the same time as that which won the college division—10.8 seconds.

The speedy Hawk left Denton with his parents and went home to Fort Worth. Coach Red Lewis feels because he hasn't reported yet, that he isn't able to run.

"He told me," said Lewis, "that the pulled muscle feld the same way it did when he was in high school. If it's the same injury again, I'm afraid he's out for the year. He didn't get over that last one all season long."

With Burnett still on the doubtful list, HCJC's sprint relay team, which is capable of running a 42.2 quarter with all members in shape, takes a definite handicap. Burnett can team with Eugene Franklin, Jim Evans and Bobby Shirey and bring home the baton in about 43.9, which will probably win most of the meets, excluding the race at the national JC meet here in May.

Eugene Franklin also scores points in the 180 and 120 yard hurdles. He won the high hurdles in Denton last week and grabbed second place in the high jump behind Howard County's Willie Carter in San Antonio, April 2. Franklin cleared better than 6-2.

Shirey is another versatile Hawk as he steps the quarter mile in good time and is reaching better than 21 feet in the broad jump. He won both events in the last outing at Denton.

Willie Carter has been the big surprise lately with his high jumping performances. In San Antonio two weeks ago the Hawk freshman cleared the bar at 6 feet, 8 inches. In Denton last week, he failed to clear 6-4 in competition but garnered 6-8 afterwards and some say he almost cleared the bar at the 6-10 level.

R. D. Ross looks like a contender in the mile run—he's been cutting his time down consistently with each performance.

Tiffin Stone has been a stalwart pointer for the Hawks all year in the discus throw. None of his competitive efforts have gone much past the 150 foot mark but practice tosses reveal he is capable of heaving the plate 160 feet.

The meet with Tarleton this afternoon in the last competition the Hawks will see until the West Zone Conference meet in Odessa, April 22-23.

Stanton Buffs To Compete In Tyler Meet On Friday

STANTON (SC)—Stanton's Buffaloes, District 6-A track winners, journey to Tyler this week to participate in the Rose Relays.

Coach John Bailey says he's only taking the 10 boys who qualified for regional competition. The team will leave Stanton at noon Thursday and will return sometime Sunday.

Bailey says that about 70 schools will be entered in the meet including numerous AAAA schools. The meet is of the open class variety which means all schools, regardless of classification, will compete together.

Preliminaries will begin about noon Friday and the finals will be run Friday night. The Stanton team will stay over, however, Tyler being Bailey's home town, and will be honored with a barbecue given by Bailey's parents.

The Buffs qualified for 10 different events in the regional meet which will be held in Lubbock, April 22-23. Stanton qualified two in the discus, pole vault and 100 yard dash.

Tommy Newman will enter regional competition in the 100 yard dash and as a member of the sprint relay. Norman Donelson will run the 220, the quarter and the sprint relay. Dwayne Thompson will run one hurdles event and Robert Turner will compete in the broad jump.

Buzzy Brewer will throw the shot and discus and will pole vault. Thad Koonce will run the century and also run one leg of the sprint relay. Redgy Church will run the mile and Alton Robertson will run the 880 yard dash.

Herb Sorley will compete in the pole vault and Tom Polson will throw the discus.

Brewer was Stanton's high point man at the district meet as he amassed 35 points. Donelson was second with 31 and Turner was third with 29.

Rocky Kalingo In Fight Debut With Sugar Hart

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Rocky Kalingo of Manila is a fighter with a mission.

"I want fight fans of this country to like me and I want to beat Hart tonight very much to make a good impression and get a ranking," says the 24-year-old Philippine welterweight champion.

Kalingo five months ago stopped the then undefeated Cuban, Florentino Fernandez, in the first round and gained international attention. Kalingo will be making his national television debut in Chicago Stadium.

His foe for the 10-rounder—ABC 10 p.m. EST—is seasoned Sugar Hart of Philadelphia, loser of his last two bouts. Hart, slumping to the ranking of No. 7 contender, can hit with either hand and has scored 21 knockouts in 28 victories. He has fought two draws and lost five, the last two to high-ranking Charley Scott and Luis Rodriquez.

Kalingo, a busy-fisted battler with a steaming right, also claims 21 kayoes. His records shows 40 victories 6 losses and 5 draws.

"I became very proud when I won the Philippine title from Steve Tony in Manila in 1957," says Kalingo in fractured English. "I was proud, too, when I knocked out Fernandez in Caracas and was made fighter of the month by the NBA (National Boxing Assn.).

"But I am unhappy about the rematch in Havana. I'll make up for it by beating Hart."

Kalingo had Fernandez on the floor twice in the rematch, but the Cuban was awarded a technical knockout in the second round.

THE FRONT ROW

By Bob Smith

Here's something decidedly unusual in the way of entertainment.

Members of the Gra-Y will stage a King Arthur style tournament, complete with jousts, tests of courage and skill, and the final massed charge of two companies of "knights."

The tournament will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the Boy Scout jamboree grounds. Parents, friends and just spectators in general have been invited to attend, and to cheer on the champions.

An overnight camp-out is planned for the evening before the tournament.

The Gra-Y knights are patterned after Indian Guides and Boy Scouts, in that they are taught codes of sportsmanship as well as taking on the trappings of the callings they imitate.

Thus, the Gra-Y knights dress themselves in knightly costumes, and their order of advancement (similar to the Scouting levels) inclues pages, squires, knights and lords.

Only knights or lords may take part in the jousts (individual combat) but squires and knights may enter all other sections.

Pages will act as horses—carrying the brave knights into battle atop their shoulders.

It should be an interesting sight.

Civic Lubbock, Inc. has announced another attraction for Lubbock Auditorium May 11. Hugh O'Brian, Tv's Wyatt Earp, will headline an all-star show for two performances on this date, marking his only appearance in Texas. Show times have been set for 4 and 8 p.m. Also appearing on the show will be Alice Lon, the famous champagne lady of the Lawrence Welk Show.

At the first, it seemed odd. Most members of the combo were obviously pretty fair musicians, but the music of all combined wasn't as good as the sum total of all its parts.

Then it occurred to me that maybe they hadn't been playing together very long. Come to find out, Monday night was the first time together. And in the light of this new information, their playing was better than one had a right to expect.

They made up a name for themselves that night, too—the No-Name Cats. They were just a small group of colored boys who had agreed to play for a dance at the state hospital, and before the show was over, they had about decided to form their own group.

The No-Name Cats could be representative of that style of music one finds in New Orleans or Memphis—in the small clubs rather than the Green Room of the Hilton. They have had some formal training in music, but mostly it's "felt" music, the kind that just sort of bubbles up.

The Cats often end a piece simply by trailing off into silence, without the formal flourish of the Big Name. They play more by ear than by rote, and like all true jazzmen, they prefer it hot and fast rather than the slow beat that dancers like. A sax player often will soft-shoe about the bandstand instead of standing at rigid attention like in the concert hall.

It was this critic's impression that the Cats have a good potential, but they need to learn more balance and variety—for example, using the brushes instead of the drum sticks on certain pieces; more work on slower and more danceable music; plenty of practice together, to better integrate their talents.

Arbin McIntyre, sax and drums and more or less the leader, is a polite youngster who studied—and flunked out—under Clyde Rowe ("but I did learn something, thanks to him," he says). He plays with the Lakeview Combo and a Lubbock band.

Arbin likes to point out that, about six months ago, he played with Moody, the jazzman that had the sad gig at W. C. Handy's funeral.

Names of the other No-Name Cats are Earnest Byrd, vocal and bass guitar; Curtis Byrd, piano; Robert Byrd, lead guitar; and Charles Byrd, guitar—say, man, you didn't say you were a family.

Kennedy Lashes Slow Economy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Soviet Union's economy is expanding seven times as fast as the United States', yet the Eisenhower administration does nothing about it, claims Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The Democratic presidential candidate from Massachusetts told the Operating Engineers Union Tuesday that the next chief executive will face more problems and more difficult decisions than any of the past 10 years.

The Eisenhower administration's chief function has been administering programs initiated by Democratic presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, Kennedy said.

Meanwhile "the nation's housing steadily deteriorates, large city populations live in slums, and women laundry workers in the South work for 65 cents an hour," said Kennedy.

Kennedy said the U.S. economy is growing at the rate of 1½ per cent a year compared with 10 to 12 per cent in the Soviet Union.

AFL-CIO President George Meany warned against getting an impression that "everything is rosy. There are five million unemployed."

Beverly Admits Story Was A Lie

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Teenage Beverly Aadland's admission she lied about a boyfriend killing himself in her bedroom brought angry demands today for an inquest by relatives of the handsome aspiring actor.

However, police say they are satisfied the Saturday shooting of William Stanciu was accidental after the 17-year-old ex-mistress of the late Errol Flynn revised her story of his death and said she was holding his revolver when it accidentally discharged during a nude struggle with him.

She had told police immediately after the shooting that Stanciu shot himself in the head after forcing her into a game of Russian roulette.

Stanciu died in a hospital Sunday—his 21st birthday.

Beverly, a singer in a Hollywood nightclub, broke down under a lie detector test. However, she stuck to her story that Stanciu forced his way into her apartment, forced her to disrobe and raped her at gunpoint.

An attorney representing Stanciu's mother and brother said he doubted Beverly's version of the slaying. George W. Drucker said there was no need for Stanciu to break into the apartment as he had been dating the leggy aspiring singer for six weeks and had his own key to her apartment.

The mother, Florence Stanciu, and the brother, actor Kenneth Stanciu, said an inquest should be held.

Beverly remained in custody at Juvenile Hall. Police said they will file a petition suggesting that Beverly lacks parental supervision and is in danger of becoming a juvenile delinquent.

Her mother, ex-showgirl Florence Aadland, who had approved of her daughter's relationship with Flynn, doubted Beverly's changed version of Stanciu's death.

"I still believe Beverly's first story," she said. "They (the police) must have worked on her."

Mental Illness TV Show Topic

NEW YORK (AP) — Playhouse 90 viewers will get a 90-minute course on mental illness April 22 with the presentation of "Journey to the Day."

The CBS drama is concerned with the treatment of six patients in a mental hospital, each suffering from a different type of illness. And, because the general public knows so little about the subject, the show will open with an outline, couched in layman's terms, of the problems of each patient.

The actors and actresses who will play the patients have been engaging in psychiatry supplemented by field trips to prepare themselves for their roles.

"I play a hebephrenic—a schizophrenic of the hebephrenic type," explained Janice Rule. "That's one of the rarest forms of mental illness. That's the happy, giggling, charming type whose mood changes suddenly and who winds up trying to kill himself or somebody else."

She said all of her acting colleagues had plunged enthusiastically into research.

"We were all interested—most of the cast had had some little experience with psychiatrists or psychoanalysts. I read books. Then I went out to a state mental hospital and talked over the script with one of the doctors and looked at motion picture films they had taken of schizophrenic patients."

All the research was pretty much wasted in the case of comedienne Elaine May, who withdrew from the cast last week after a difference of opinion about the handling of her role. She was to play a schizophrenic of the catatonic type—so withdrawn she was almost immobile and had only four lines to speak.

A Worth-While Goal

"Go thou and do likewise." This thought provoking command of the Master comes forcibly to mind at the season of Easter. As we strive to live according to His example, our hearts truly become filled with "the peace which passeth all understanding."
