Cambodia Releases 2 U. S. Soldiers

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk today released two American soldiers as a gesture of homage to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The two soldiers, Jerry A. Tester and Ronald J. Lehrmann of the 560th Military Police Company, were aboard a Philippine tug that strayed into Cambodian waters in the Mekong Delta.

They were turned over to the Australian Embassy, which has represented the United States in Cambodia since Sihanouk broke relations with Washington.

There was no immediate indication when or how the men would leave Cambodia.

Sihanouk's announcement made no mention of releasing the tug or its eight-man Filipino crew. Phnom Penh newspapers had reported they would be treated leniently and would be released.

Jordan Native Killed

CHICAGO (AP) — Police arrested a Negro, Aaron Myers, 19, after the death of a Jordanian grocer who they had speculated may have been shot in revenge for the assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Myers was charged with the murder of Abder Rayyan, 55, the father of nine, policeman Robert Bonner said.

Rayyan was shot in the head Saturday as he bent over a vegetable bin in his store, his daughter, Zuhdeia, 22, who witnessed the shooting, told police.

She said two Negroes entered, one of them pulled out a pistol and they walked silently to where Rayyan was working. The gunman put the pistol behind Rayyan's left ear and fired twice, she said. The second shot missed.

JIMMY BROWN

Jimmy Brown Charged In Assault Case

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jimmy Brown, former professional football star turned actor, was arrested Sunday night after sheriff's deputies found a woman on the pavement beneath Brown's second-floor apartment.

VICTIM

The victim was identified as Eva Marie Bohnchin, 22. She was reported in good condition at Los Angeles County-University of Southern California Medical Center with minor head injuries and a dislocated shoulder.

Brown, 32, a former fullback with the Cleveland Browns who led the National Football League in rushing, was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

He was taken to the West Hollywood sheriff's substation and was later released on $12,500 bond. His attorney, Jules Covey, said he would make no statement until later today.

Deputies Myron Cole and John Texeira said they were called to Brown's West Hollywood apartment at about 9 p.m. after neighbors complained of a fight.

Texeira said Brown attacked him when he and Cole tried to take the actor into custody. When the officers subdued Brown and left the apartment building with him, the officers said they found Miss Bohnchin on patio concrete beneath a second-floor balcony.

They said they found patches of hair and bloodstains in the Brown apartment.

GERMAN

Sheriff's deputies said Miss Bohnchin carried a German passport but declined to give further information on her background. She and Brown are Negroes.

Brown was acquitted in Cleveland, in 1965 of a charge of assault and battery brought by Miss Brenda Ayres, 18. She accused Brown of slapping her on the face, stomach and hip in his motel room, giving her whisky and forcing her into sexual relations.

Huge Hailstones, Hard Rains Punish W. Texas

Severe Weather Hanging On Today

By The Associated Press

Hailstones the size of baseballs, torrential rains and an outbreak of tornadoes punished parts of West Texas late Sunday. More bad weather developed today.

Shortly after dawn today, the Weather Bureau issued a new tornado warning bulletin for an area 70 miles on each side of a line from south of Lubbock to Hobart, Okla.

The new watch area included the cities of Lubbock, Snyder, Plainview, Levelland and Vernon with Sweetwater and Wichita Falls on the fringes.

Patrolman Ray Cooper of the Seagraves police department spread an alert by radio after spotting a twister on the ground 15 miles south of Seagraves in Gaines County at 4:45 a.m. He said the funnel cloud flicked down during a sudden lull in a heavy thunderstorm but spun harmlessly back aloft in about three minutes.

The Weather Bureau issued a special tornado warning, in effect until 6 a.m., for the east part of Terry County and the west part of Lynn County in the tornado's indicated path.

Sunday's raging storms inflicted crop and property damage in places but repeated checks turned up no signs of destruction from repeated twisters at scattered points from the Texas Panhandle southward.

Baseball-Size Hail

As much as six inches of rain poured down 13 miles northwest of Plainview in the Edmondson community along with the baseball-size hailstones.

A second six-inch cloudburst was reported by the Weather Bureau near the Southland community 30 miles southeast of Lubbock. Hail covered the ground during the downpour.

Authorities said some property damage occurred northwest of Lubbock at Littlefield, where hail compared in size to hen eggs accompanied three inches of rain.

Tulia, 51 miles south of Amarillo, also measured three inches of rain. It descended in 30 minutes as hailstones like golf balls rattled off the rooftops.

Heavy thundershowers in rural areas sent a flash flood tumbling down the White River, and it carried away a bridge 40 miles northeast of Lubbock on FM 651.

Dale Edwards of Lubbock and his wife told of leaving their car Saturday night when they went to White River Lake. They returned to find it floating in the lake.

In the Halfway community west of Plainview, hail accumulated four inches deep in spots as 1½ inches of rain fell in 30 minutes.

Hailstones of varying size peppered the countryside here and there from Amarillo south past Midland, where the wind hit 54 miles per hour during one storm.

Posting Warnings, Alerts

Weather Bureau observers spent a good part of Sunday posting one tornado warning or severe thunderstorm alert after another, cautioning residents of as many as 47 counties in one instance.

Twister sightings were reported near McLean, five miles south of Goodnight, four miles north of Edmondson, 10 miles north of Tulia, near Claude and 10 miles northwest of Stanton.

Peace officers said in all cases the tornado funnels either writhed across open country or failed to whip all the way to the ground from a series of boiling thunderstorms.

Forecasts promised still more thunderstorms by evening across much of the northern half of Texas and occasional showers in other sections.

A cool front was expected to edge from the Texas Panhandle toward the east into the central part of the state by dawn Tuesday, setting off the storms as it progressed.

Parts of Northwest and North Central Texas were due a little cooling.

Temperatures Sunday afternoon hit highs of 98 degrees at Laredo and 98 at Cotulla. Wink recorded 96, McAllen, San Angelo and San Antonio 94, Del Rio and Lufkin 93, Austin, Brownsville and Wichita Falls 92, Alice, Beaumont, Dallas, Fort Worth and Mineral Wells 91, and Abilene, Alpine, College Station, Longview, Victoria and Waco 90.

GAS EXPLOSION RIPS HOUSE
Lou Ann King, badly burned, taken to Cowper Hospital

Explosion Demolishes House, Occupant Severely Burned

Mrs. Lou Ann King, 31, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. King of Sand Springs, is in satisfactory condition today at Cowper Hospital after suffering first, second and third degree burns over 90 per cent of her body in a natural gas explosion late Sunday.

INVESTIGATED

Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said the incident, which is still being investigated, occurred at 9:58 p.m. in a house adjacent to Lloyd Davidson Trailer Park and owned by the park proprietor. Meador said the woman was found about 35 feet away from the house, and it is not known whether she walked outside, apparently stunned, or was blown from the house.

Meador said he was continuing his investigation of the explosion in the four-room house, which was totally demolished. Meador said the explosion lifted the roof off its foundation and blew out the north wall, the living room area and all windows and doors.

Meador said there apparently were no witnesses to the explosion. Pioneer Natural Gas Co. and Texas Electric Service Co. were notified to shut off park utilities. An Alert ambulance carried the woman to the hospital.

The trailer park is located about 500 yards west of the Red Barn Restaurant on North Birdwell Street and east of the Snyder Highway.

GRASS FIRE

In other calls during the weekend, firemen put out a grass fire at 2100 Carl at 3:10 p.m. Saturday, and snuffed out a fire in a 1961 model car owned by Alex Banks at 111 NE 3rd at 4:27 p.m. Fire in the car was started by a short in the wiring, firemen said.

A wiring short on a neon sign at the Fourth and Birdwell Phillips 66 Service Station at 8:45 p.m. Sunday caused a small blaze which firemen extinguished.

Leader For March Found

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stirling Tucker, director of the Washington Urban League, has agreed to organize a June 19 march in support of the Poor People's Campaign and promised efforts to keep it peaceful.

"We want to create not a climate of fear," Tucker said Sunday, "but a climate of concern."

He was invited by campaign leader Dr. Ralph David Abernathy to lead here after veteran New York civil rights leader Bayard Rustin quit the job last week in a dispute with campaign leaders.

Tucker had worked closely with Rustin as Washington coordinator of the march.

Ray May Fight U. S. Extradition

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray made a two-minute appearance in Bow Street Court today and indicated he would fight the U.S. government's attempt to seek his extradition in connection with the charge that he killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

London's chief magistrate ordered Ray held without bail for another court appearance on June 18.

INDICATION

There was no mention during the brief preliminary hearing of extradition. But Ray asked the court to appoint an attorney for him, and this was taken as an indication that he would fight being returned to America.

American legal officials said they were going ahead with the extradition process and hoped to return Ray to the United States "very soon."

The 40-year-old escaped convict, who had been on the run since April 4, was arraigned under the alias of Ramon George Sneyd and was charged with carrying a false passport and a loaded revolver without a license.

A heavy police escort brought Ray secretly to the court three hours before the preliminary hearing was to begin. A crowd of about 300 laid siege to the courtroom later, and everyone entering it was searched for weapons.

Ray had been under heavy guard since his arrest Saturday.

A government prosecutor asked that Ray be held in custody, and the judge granted Ray's application request that the court appoint a lawyer for him. Then he was taken away by a large force of plainclothesmen and uniformed police.

Ray had been in Canada, Portugal and Britain before the two-month hunt ended with his arrest at London airport. Informed sources gave credence to reports that he had been hiding out in London since mid-May.

One report was that when picked up he was bound for Brussels, hoping to contact recruiters for mercenary forces in Africa.

NO STATEMENT

U.S. Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr. flew to London and spoke with Ray in his cell Sunday, but in Washington Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said Ray had made no statement.

If extradition is necessary, legal sources in London said, the Bow Street Court would require material evidence showing a case against Ray. The procedure normally would take two or three weeks, but if Ray fought the case, it could take much longer.

He was arrested under the name of Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport, but the Justice Department in Washington said the man definitely was Ray.

Gradually, the story began to come out of where Ray was during the manhunt.

Four days after the slaying, Ray went to a Toronto rooming house and rented a $10-a-week room under the name of Paul Bridgman, said the landlady, Mrs. Adam Szpakowski.

Mrs. Szpakowski said she thought she recognized him from a newspaper sketch of the man wanted for King's slaying, but her husband told her she was wrong and they forgot it.

That same day, about two weeks after Ray came, a letter arrived addressed to Bridgman from the address of the provincial registrar's office, which issues birth certificates, Mrs. Szpakowski said. The man left that day and never returned, she said.

From the bleak 15-by-12-foot room with a television set, a "Home Sweet Home" design and a picture of Christ, Ray moved to a $9-a-week room under the name of Sneyd, said his landlady there, Mrs. Yee Loo.

The man "never spoke to anybody," she said. "He came about four weeks ago with only a suit on his back and a newspaper in his hand."

Mrs. Szpakowski said Ray described himself as a real estate salesman. Mrs. Loo said he told her he was a hospital worker.

Deputy Chief B.J. Simmonds of the Metropolitan Toronto Police said Ray somehow was able to obtain enough information on

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

Opens Way To Challenge Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today knocked down a 45-year-old barrier and cleared the way for taxpayer suits challenging federal aid to parochial schools.

The barrier was imposed by the court in 1923. It found then that individual taxpayers lack the standing to sue the government over big programs because their tax payments are too small to show sufficient personal involvement.

Today's ruling sweeps aside that decision. This means seven New Yorkers who contend federal aid to pupils in church-related schools violates the Constitution will have a chance to try to block the program in courts.

Similarly, the ruling may clear the way for suits against other government programs.

8-1 DECISION

The carefully worded 8-1 decision delivered by Chief Justice Earl Warren, said there was "no absolute bar" in the Constitution "to suits by federal taxpayers challenging allegedly unconstitutional federal taxing and spend programs."

The federal government spends an estimated $41.9 million a year under the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act to provide special education programs and library services for children attending nonpublic schools in poor areas.

The seven taxpayers claim this is prohibited by the First Amendment's ban on establishment of religion by government. The Justice Department, meanwhile, urged the high court not to disturb the 1923 ruling. Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold called it "a modern exemplar of judicial denial—that the court not decide political questions."

Texas Liberal Democrats Claim Unfair Treatment

DALLAS (AP)—The expected fireworks of the state Democratic convention started early Monday with minority spokesmen claiming the party discriminated against Mexican-Americans and Negroes in electing delegates.

San Antonio liberal Democrats claimed the party's traditional unit rule by the majority disfranchised many Mexican-American voters.

LAST APPEAL

A Negro spokesman for libereral Democrats in the Midland area—Calvin Lee—said his race was making one last appeal to the state party for fair treatment.

"There have been two other parties formed in Texas and if we can't work out our differences here, you'll not be bothered anymore with the Negro party in Texas," Lee told a credentials subcommittee hearing contests before Tuesday's state convention.

Word was passed among liberal Democrats demanding recognition that a "liberal caucus" would be held tonight at which a decision will be made whether they will walk out of tomorrow's convention and stage one of their own.

THREAT

Earlier there was a threat of legal action against the traditional unit rule procedure.

Times change, attitudes change, particularly in view of the U.S. Supreme Court one man-one vote rule—said Maury Maverick Jr., San Antonio lawyer and former state senator.

"If some of the delegates of one area want to vote for Sen. Eugene McCarthy, there is no reason to instruct all of them to vote for Gov. John Connally," he said.

The unit rule binds all of a political delegation to the wishes of the majority.

Maverick spoke for Bexar County Senatorial Dist. 19, whose 99 delegates were named by a pro-Connally county convention.

PRIVATE CLUB?

A similar contest concerned 112 delegates of Bexar County Senatorial Dist. 126.

John Peace, San Antonio lawyer, said the delegates were named on the basis of the majority rule.

"There is nothing in the Constitution that says the majority cannot control the election processes of this country," he said.

Peace said his San Antonio senatorial convention ignored the wishes of a large group of Mexican-Americans in the balcony—a segment which makes up 40 to 50 per cent of San Antonio's population.

"Someday, these people are going to come swooping down out of the balcony and by God, you are the ones who will want the one man-one vote then," Maverick said.

"The Democratic Party is not a private club that can deny constitutional principles of liberty."

YOU MAY

Tom Gordon of Abilene, chairman of the credentials subcommittee, asked Maverick if "we can assume all this is a precedence for legal action down the line."

"Yes, you certainly may," Maverick answered.

Most of the other contests centered about numerical majorities. A delegation from El Paso County which has 65 convention votes presented numerous witnesses claiming that liberal forces clearly controlled the county convention.

FAST ACTION

The subcommittee is expected to make a quick report to the full State Democratic Executive Committee in order that the 882 delegates can be issued credentials for the 10 a.m. opening Tuesday of the state convention.

State party leaders, backing Connally's candidacy, say they are already sure of a minimum of 2,782 pro-Connally votes out of the total 3,427 in the state convention.

Party Leaves Car Wrecked, Three Hurt

What officers described as a Saturday night beer party staged on a lonely country road near Vincent, has brought injuries to at least three men and left a 1965 model car damaged almost beyond repair, Deputy Sherriff Lindy Oldfield said Monday.

Eight and possibly more Latin-Americans took part, Oldfield said.

The injured men, slashed with a knife and beaten with a piece of lead-filled garden hose, are not hospitalized, Oldfield said. The officer added he urged the three to seek medical attention, but they had not done so.

The injured men are identified as Manuel Garcie, Jesus Garcia and Joe Vargas.

Oldfield said that the car had all four tires slashed from it, the wheels removed, the glass broken, the headlights knocked in, and the interior torn and covered with blood. It had also been rammed by another car and its side had been crushed in.

No charges have been filed, pending further investigation.

Textbooks Law Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today a New York law that requires public school systems to lend textbooks to children in parochial and other private schools.

The 6-3 decision, given by Justice Byron R. White, said: "We hold that the law is not in violation of the Constitution."

Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas dissented. Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices John M. Harlan, William J. Brennan Jr., Potter Stewart, Thurgood Marshall and White made up the majority.

The decision rested heavily on the view that parochial schools serve a secular educational function as well as a religious educational function.

Defense Seeks Depositions

A petition asking that depositions be provided the defense by Deputy Sheriff A. G. Mitchell and Freddie Watts, in connections with indictments pending against three former city police officers, has been filed in 118th District Court.

The defendants, under charges of burglary, allege that Mitchell and Watts will be witnesses against them and that depositions are needed by the defense to prepare for their trials.

They claim that Mitchell and Watts can contribute information tracing the "chain of possession" involved in the alleged theft of 13 bottles of whisky.

The petitioners are D. W. Day, Jerry Williams and Bob Wells, indicted in connection with the alleged theft of liquor from a store several weeks ago.

RAY

a Paul Bridgman living in suburban Don Mills and Ramon George Sneyd, a Toronto constable, to apply for passports by mail in both their names.

"Our job now is to ascertain how Ray got that information," Simmonds said.

Canadian Foreign Minister Mitchell Sharp said Ray also was able to obtain a birth certificate, but he did not say under whose name. Ontario's deputy registrar, H.F.C. Humphries, said enough information for a birth certificate application could be obtained from birth notices and telephone directories.

Ray used the name Bridgman when he had passport photos made at Mabel Agnew's photographic studio April 11.

It was under the name Sneyd that Ray flew to London May 6 and then to Lisbon.

Ray was reported to have lived under the name of Sneyd in two small hotels in West London, the New Earl's Court and then the Pax Hotel in Pimlico.

The New Earl's Court would not comment, but Mrs. Anna Thomas, a Swedish woman who owns the Pax, told the Daily Telegraph this story:

Ray's room was full of newspapers. He spent most of the day in bed, complaining of a headache and hardly ever went out.

"I told him that it would have to be 30 shillings ($3.60) a night. He only had a small flight bag with him, but lots of newspapers.

WASHED

"He washed his own clothes."

She said the man made an unsuccessful attempt to leave Britain last Thursday or Friday and received a telephone call from British European Airways to say the flight on which he had hoped to leave for Germany was full.

Daily Telegraph reporter Ian Colvin said a man who identified himself as Ramon George Sneyd telephoned the paper several times last week to inquire about joining mercenary forces in Africa.

Sharon Named Top Cowgirl

Sharon Harrison, Big Spring, was rated all-round cowgirl at the Van Horn Frontier Days Rodeo last weekend. Sharon won a handtooled saddle. Her victory was scored by her overall success in the four performances of the rodeo which began on Thursday and ended Saturday night.

Robert Crenshaw, Big Spring, was first place winner in bareback bronc riding for boys from 16 to 19. Sharon won top honors in the 16-19 year old girls class, for pole bending and for breakaway roping.

New Sales Tax Program Would Help Big Spring

The new sales tax plan would approximately double the amount of state money Big Spring receives under the present sales tax plan, according to figures presented to city officials in El Paso during the weekend, Mayor Arnold Marshall said.

Commissioners were attending the Fifth Biennial Institute for Mayors, Councilmen and Commissioners sponsored annually by the Texas Municipal League.

"The TML met Thursday evening and endorsed the governor's new sales tax plan and, as I see it, the proposition presented to us would be advantageous to all cities in Texas" Mayor Arnold Marshall said.

The new plan would do away with the present city sales tax and increase the state tax to three per cent.

"Big Spring would be participating in the statewide amount of receipts rather than just the amount from our own city," Marshall said.

BARNES TALKS

Gov. John Connally was scheduled to speak but was unable to attending the meeting because of the special session of the legislature.

Ben Barnes, speaker of the House, addressed the delegates at a noon luncheon Saturday concerning the legislative program.

"This was one of the most outstanding conventions I have attended. It was very informative," Marshall said.

Topics of panel discussions included "Meeting the Challenge of Change," and "Downtown Rejuvenation."

Addresses were heard on "Public Protection Today," "Political Leadership and the Preservation of Order in the Community" and "The Responsibility for Modernizing Municipal and State Government Today in Building Cities for Tomorrow."

A problem - solving symposium was held Saturday morning to answer questions of delegates concerning problems in their areas.

DELEGATES

The TML sponsors the institute every year to focus on powers, duties and responsibilities of mayors and members of city governing bodies, municipal problems of broad current concern and specific methods of improving functional efficiency in the day-to-day tasks of serving the local public.

More than 400 delegates were expected and "this was one of the most well-attended meetings I have ever attended," Ernest Lillard, director of public works said.

Members of the Big Spring delegation were Mayor and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, Mr. and Mrs. Garner McAdams, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stroup, city commissioners, and Mr. and Mrs. Lillard.

Miniature Bottles Bill Hearing Set

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally's second try at bringing legalized public sale of cocktails to Texas gets its first open, formal scrutiny by legislators today.

His miniature bottles liquor by the drink bill, combined with certain changes in present alcoholic beverage laws, was scheduled for a 2 p.m. hearing by the House State Affairs Committee.

No legislation was out of committee and many lawmakers were away today for Tuesday's Republican and Democratic state conventions.

The State Affairs Committee already has started work on liquor legislation. It heard a bill to provide sweeping changes, sponsored by committee Chairman R. H. Cory of Victoria, and another miniature bottles bill, by San Antonio Rep. Frank Lombardino, Friday.

Both bills are now in a subcommittee, also headed by Cory. That subcommittee consists of the five House members who studied the Liquor Control Act this spring at Speaker Ben Barnes' request. Its recommendations form the substance of Cory's bill. Two committee members are among the three co-sponsors of Connally's bill—Reps. C. A. Davis, of Houston, Roy Garwood of San Antonio and Dick McKissack of Dallas. McKissack is not on the subcommittee.

Connally's bill is expected to go to the same five-man subcommittee after its hearing today.

The governor failed to get the 1967 legislature to pass a liquor by the drink bill, somewhat more sweeping than the present measure.

This new bill would legalize sale of alcoholic beverages in sealed containers— miniature bottle—of no more than two ounces. The little bottles could be sold only by places that do half their business in food.

Biblical Art Draws Crowd

A crowd estimated at between 400-500 persons viewed the Biblical art exhibit on display at the YMCA Sunday afternoon. The exhibit was sponsored by the Big Spring Optimist Club.

The exhibit, which contained 60 pictures illustrating the Bible, with verses and texts, was presented in 10 languages. James Balios, Optimist president, said he was gratified by the response.

The Optimist Club has a few miniature Bibles left similar to those that were distributed Sunday afternoon, Balios said, and anyone who would like a free copy is asked to write the club in care of P.O. Box 210.

Balios headed the committee for presenting the pictures, which included Sidney Clark, Gene Haston, J. W. Dickens, Jim Murphy, Van Perry and Jess Looney. Greeting viewers and serving refreshments were Ruby Bell Billings, Ginger Bell, Murphy Marvin and Mike Burleson.

Suspect Wanted In Few Cities

Roy Stevenson, also known as Roy Broadwell, and by several other aliases, under indictment here for burglary, has been arrested in Houston on Houston complaints, the office of the sheriff has been informed.

He has been sought for sometime according to Lindy Oldfield, deputy sheriff.

Houston advised Oldfield that a hold order has already been posted against the prisoner by Wichita Falls.

A LOVELIER YOU

Travel With Best Manners Available

By MARY SUE MILLER

When we go traveling we are representatives of our world back home. And the worth of that world is told to those we encounter en route by the quality of our actions. This is so whether we go a few hundred miles or many thousands.

A traveler is in jeopardy, as at no other time, when her actions are unmannerly. Willing service and helping hands pass her by. If you happen to travel with her, you wish her back home and picture her there — untidily dressed, littering the floor with candy wrappers and loudly criticizing everything and everybody.

Ideal behavior demands a courteous approach to fellow travelers to the citizenry of places visited and to those who serve you along the way. This never means that distasteful company or bad service must be endured. One simply eludes the first and quietly rectifies the second.

Aside from courtesy, all the best of a journey comes from a receptive attitude toward the unfamiliar—from food to folk lore, to landmarks. Travel is pointless unless it broadens one's horizons.

Gracious and receptive, you gain the most from travel. For you win entree to people and privileges that are not offered to the character who declares, "We do it better back home."

At this point, the last article in the series, you are on that road to utmost loveliness and a lovely vacation. Here's to it.

WINNING MANNERS

To open a door on increased poise and popularity, send for our booklet "Winning Manners." Topics included are Introductions, Invitations, Table Manners, The Charming Hostess, You — The Guest, Dating Manners, Formal Dances, Travel Tips and Tipping, Small Points, like when to wear a hat or check your coat. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin, and a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Use Interfacing As Reinforcement

Cotton iron-on interfacing is an excellent sewing aid. Use it in small areas for reinforcement and to prevent fraying. For instance, you can use interfacing behind buttonholes, for reinforcing points of gussets, and on the underarm curves of kimono-type sleeves.

Miss Chance Wed To Van Tom Whatley

Wedding vows were exchanged at 7 p.m., Friday, in the First Baptist Church of Phillips by Miss Paulette Kaye Chance and Van Tom Whatley.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Paul Chance of Phillips, and the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Whatley, Lamesa Hwy.

The double ring ceremony was read by Dr. Joe Trull of Austin, uncle of the bride, before a background of seven-branched candelabra flanked by baskets of white gladioli and yellow mums. A white prie dieu completed the setting. Yellow bows marked family pews.

Miss Jane Little, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss Donna Gohlke, as she sang "Because" and "More".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white rayon organza. Venise lace accented the bodice and encircled the wide peau hem of the cage which swept into a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion fell from a white satin ring embellished with lace and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of yellow and white roses centered with an orchid.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Sheri Dee Little was maid of honor. Serving as bridemaids were Miss Linda Sue Erdmann, Weatherford, Okla.; Miss Kathy Howle, New Home; and Miss Dana Whatley of Big Spring, sister of the bridegroom.

Ushers and candlelighters were Donnie Baker and Simon Terrazas of Big Spring.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church under the direction of Mrs. Bert Gray. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over white satin and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses and white mums flanked by lighted tapers. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a traditional bridal figurine.

Reception assistants were Miss Iris Morgan, Miss Carol Crockett, Miss Linda Culver, Miss Cathy Cooke and Mrs. Kathy Winborne.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to Lubbock, the bride wore a brown and beige two-piece dress with matching coat and brown accessories. Her orchid corsage was taken from the bridal bouquet.

Miss Linda Wright of Big Spring, registered the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Vanderford of Big Spring, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mrs. Sam Fade of Albany, great-grandmother of the bridegroom; Dr. Joe Trull and family, Austin; Miss Barbara Maikotter, Corpus Christi; and Robby Lemons, Hereford.

BUYING TIPS FOR HOMEMAKERS

Get Fine Scissors, Shears

By GENEVIEVE S. WOOD

The right type and size of shears and scissors will make many household cutting tasks far easier, yet many a homemaker is not aware of the various kinds that are available.

Do you know the difference between shears and scissors? Shears are more than six inches in length and are designed for heavier cutting tasks. Scissors, six inches or less in length, are made for miscellaneous small cutting jobs, from snipping threads to cutting paper dolls.

Shears, used mostly for cutting fabrics, have two features that permit heavy service: They are made with a thumb ring at the top and an oblong space at the bottom of the handle that permits the fingers to be used. This makes a stronger grip possible. Scissors are made with two rings because they are not made for heavy cutting. The exceptions are barbers' shears and trimmers and editors' shears, which are made with two rings. Not all but many shears have bent handles, which give a stronger grip and also permit more accurate cutting of fabrics.

Pinking shears are designed for cutting out garments with a pinked edges that help prevent raveling. They are a boon to the homemaker who does a lot of sewing. Manufacturers will tell you emphatically that pinking shears should be sent back to the factory for sharpening. Other shears and scissors can be sharpened by a competent professional grinder.

One of the greatest helperouters are kitchen shears. They have many uses, including the carving of poultry. Once you use these shears, the chances are you will never be without them.

SMALL SCISSORS

In recent years a new kind of scissors has made its appearence — the electric cutting scissors. These are created for the woman who does a great deal of home sewing.

The small motor is housed so that it's the grip for the scissors, which you hold in your hand to use. The more expensive of these cutters has two speeds, high for cutting sheer fabrics and a lower speed for heavy materials. You have a choice of a cordless type and scissors with cord attached.

The woman who likes handsewing will find several kinds of small scissors that are a great convenience, such as thread snipper, embroidery scissors, buttonhole scissors and so on.

These small scissors will really fascinate your small fry, so for safety's sake you'd better equip them with nursery scissors — small, blunt end cutters for papers, dolls and the like. The blunt points cannot possibly hurt a small child, but the pointed blades of the other small scissors are dangerous.

There is a whole assortment of scissors for grooming aids — nail scissor, scissors for the cuticle, for pedicures and so on.

WHEN BUYING

No matter whether you are buying shears or scissors, check them in your hand. Be sure they fit comfortably and handle well. The wrong kind of scissors or shears can lead to a blistered hand in a surprisingly short time.

The best quality shears and scissors are made of solid stainless steel that has a self-polish instead of depending on plating. Steel also is plated with chrome and with the less expensive nickel. You cannot tell about the quality of steel by looking at it, of course, so buy from a reliable retailer. There are a number of well known names in scissors and shears, names that have identified these tools for generations.

Shears and scissors are relatively moderate in price when you consider the years of service they give, so save time and effort by accumulating the ones that best fit your needs for various household tasks.

Dub Malaise, Carl Beard Win Partnership Tourney

By NATE MITCHELL

South Plains Junior College's basketball coach, Dub Malaise, and his partner, Odessa Country Club pro, Carl Beard, won the annual Big Spring Amateur Partnership golf tournament here Sunday with a 36-hole total of 137. They pieced together a 36-34 for a one-under-par 70 in the final round to finish one stroke ahead of the field.

First round leaders, Rick Terry and Tom Wilkerson, both of Big Spring, finished second in the scratch division with a total of 138—all tied up with two other partners. The teams of Lubbockites Rusty Reiger and Jim Hundley, and Big Springers Bobby and Marvin Wright also finished the two-day meet with 138 totals. The ties were decided by drawing, leaving the Lubbock team in third place and the Wright brothers in fourth.

Midland's Ken Wilbur and Val Collier placed fifth with a 140 tally.

HANDICAP WINNERS

In the handicap division, San Angelo's Shorty Gideon, formerly club pro at the municipal golf course here, teamed with Sam Hulme, Big Spring, to take first place honors with a 119 score. Hot on their heels, just one stroke back, were Hut Summersell and Ralph Mahoney, both of Big Spring.

School boys, Joe Selman and Jim Thomas, from far away Houston, placed seventh in the handicap division with a 125 total. In the other division, Big Spring had a team of high school boys among the winners —Mike Weaver and Mike Hall, who turned in a 142 for 36 holes.

Nine top teams in each division split $1,200 in gift certificates, with the first place team collecting $200, the second $120 and the third, $80. The fourth place finishers received $25 each, while the other four placers collected $15 each. The entry fee was $10 per player.

Over-all, 112 teams signed up for the tourney, which Country Club President John Taylor termed a huge success.

Earl Reynolds served as starter for the meet and Ted Hull, the tournament chairman. Buck Drake, Jackie Thomas, Spot Cockrell, Dan Wilkins, Jack Cook, Jack Wallace and Rick Terry were the directors of the meet.

AMATEUR EVENT

A total of 230 entered the meet a year ago, when professionals were allowed to participate, but the West Texas chapter of the PGA nixed the meet because it violated chapter by-laws. This year, the pros were prohibited from participating, and the meet was changed from the Big Spring Open to its present name.

Frustrated Hitters Sock It To Pitchers

By The Associated Press

Baseball's frustrated sluggers have been crying all spring for warm weather. They got it in Cincinnati Sunday—and let the pitchers have it.

The temperature was up around 100 degrees as the Reds and St. Louis Cardinals sprayed 53 hits around Crosley Field in splitting a doubleheader.

The Cards exploded for 10 runs with two out in the fifth inning of the opener to overcome an eight-run deficit and pound out a 10-8 victory. The Reds trailed 6-0 in the nightcap but pulled out a 7-6 triumph in 12 innings.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles edged Philadelphia 4-3, Atlanta beat the Chicago Cubs 4-0 but dropped the secondgame 6-5, San Francisco swept the New York Mets 5-4 and 4-1 and Pittsburgh defeated Houston 3-1.

It wasn't a day for pitchers in Cincinnati. The Cards and Reds trotted out 19 of them, including six who appeared in both games. Steve Carlton of St. Louis, who fell behind 8-0 in the opener but was taken off the hook, came back in the 10th inning of the nightcap and took the loss when Leo Cardenas doubled home Tony Perez from first base with two out in the last of the 12th.

Dal Maxvill was on second base with two out when the Cards erupted in the fifth inning of the first game. Julian Javier doubled him home, Curt Flood walked and Orlando Cepeda singled Javier across. Mike Shannon walked and Tim McCarver's two-run single knocked out starter Gerry Arrigo.

MAXVILL AGAIN

Reliever Bob Lee walked Roger Maris and Maxvill, up for the second time in the inning, singled in two more runs. Pinch hitter Johnny Edwards also singled to make it 8-7. Lou Brock greeted reliever Bill Kelso with a three-run homer to close out the scoring.

St. Louis jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first inning of the second game and added one more in the fourth. Vada Pinson got that one back with a homer in the Reds' fourth and they closed in with a cluster of four in the sixth on Pinson's two-run single and Mack Jones' two-run homer. Johnny Bench's sacrifice fly brought home the tying run in the eighth.

STRETCH STREAK

The second-place Dodgers stretched their winning streak to seven games by rallying for two runs in the last of the ninth to turn back the Phillies.

The Giants won their opener from the Mets on run-scoring singles with two out in the ninth by Willie McCovey and Willie Mays. The rally wiped out a 4-3 New York lead and prevented rookie Jerry Koosman from becoming the major leagues' second 10-game winner. The defeat, however, was charged to Cal Koonce.

Mays blasted his 11th homer in the fifth inning, putting him in fifth place on the all-time extra base hit list with 1,133.

Kennedy's Funeral Sparks Bitterness

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Several players might be fined and at least one looked today to be traded following the confusion and bitterness left by major league baseball's scattered attempts during the weekend to mourn the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

To play or not to play was the problem, and Commissioner William Eckert left the solution to the individual clubs. As a result, five games were postponed Saturday, three Sunday. Saturday afternoon games were set back to night games to start after Kennedy's funeral, but four of those five games ignored the delay in the funeral and started well before the burial, causing disputes and late starts.

One such dispute led to the resignation of Milt Pappas as the Cincinnati team's player spokesman and Pappas said his "days with the club are numbered." Another led to the possible fining of Rusty Staub and Bob Aspromonte of Houston and Maury Wills of Pittsburgh for failing to appear for Sunday's game.

Houston postponed one game of its doubleheader against Pittsburgh and delayed the start of the other to 9:30 p.m., EDT, still before the funeral.

New York Mets players voted not to play against San Francisco Saturday, and the game was postponed when the club backed them up.

The New York Yankees immediately postponed their game against the California Angels after Mayor John Lindsay declared Saturday a day of mourning for New York City. The Chicago Cubs also called off their game against Atlanta and Washington postponed its contest against Minnesota.

On Sunday, Oakland's doubleheader at Baltimore and the Chicago White Sox' game at Boston were postponed.

Houston player representative Dave Giusti said his team voted to play the game on the national day of mourning only because of "very definite economic pressures" from General Manager Spec Richardson. The Astros earlier had voted not to play.

An earlier report said that any Astros who didn't play would be fined $3,000. Richardson said he knew Staub, hitting .320, and Aspromonte would not play.

Carol Is Victor

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Carl Mann fired a three-under-par 69 for a 210 total Sunday to win the fourth annual Bluegrass Invitational Golf Tournament by four strokes over Sandra Haynie.

Pirates Skip Past Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Pittsburgh rookie Bob Moose appeared twice on the mound last season, emerging with a 1-0 record, and was winless in four games this year until he tossed against Houston Sunday.

The 20-year-old right-hander allowed five hits in 8 1-3 innings as the Pirates downed Houston 3-1 to ease out of the National League cellar and into ninth place.

Moose lost a shutout in the bottom of the eighth when Hector Torres doubled and scored on Byron Browne's single.

Pirate infielder Maury Wills and Astros Rusty Staub and Bob Aspromonte were absent from the game. They said they were going to honor a day of mourning for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Houston, idle tonight, opens a 10-day road trip Tuesday with a three-game series at Philadelphia.

Sprint From Death

Ray Darnell of Deerfield, Ill., sprints away from three-car pileup yesterday at 150-mile big car race in Milwaukee. Norm Brown of Detroit, his helmet visible between left margin and flames, received severe burns and Ronnie Duman of Dearborn, Mich., not pictured, was fatally injured.

Death Claims Stock Driver Duman In Rex Mays Classic

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Death waited less than three minutes for Ronnie Duman Sunday. It claimed him at the south wall at the start of the third lap in the 150-mile Rex Mays Classic automobile race.

The race, won by Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., continued after Duman, 36, Norman Brown, 31, who was critically injured, and Ray Darnell were taken to a hospital. Darnell escaped with relatively minor burns.

But the south wall bore the scars of the flaming crash — which injured six spectators— and Duman's young son, Dick, sobbed unconsolably at his mother's side.

SECOND TIME

A native of Dearborn, Mich., Duman began as a stock car driver in 1951. He was severely burned at the Indianapolis 500 in 1964. The same accident claimed the life of drivers Eddie Sachs and Dave MacDonald.

Just before Sunday's race, Duman met a newsreel photographer who helped rescue him from that fire. "Sure I remember you," he reportedly told the cameraman. "You're my best friend."

Duman, a friendly man who wore the scars of that accident on the left side of his face, finished sixth in the 500 last month, his best showing in eight years of trying for the big prize.

Duman, Brown and Darnell, who began the race far back in the pack of 24 cars, came together in a searing crash as the field jockeyed for position just seconds after the fall of the green flag.

FLIPS AND CRASHES

Duman's car sailed off the asphalt, overturned in the air, and shattered against the wall. His helmet, split by the impact, rolled away as Brown and Darnell also converged on the wall.

Darnell broke out of his cockpit before the flames swept over him. Brown struggled to get free but couldn't. Duman sat motionless. Rescue teams pulled him clear, but Brown's legs were pinned inside the crumpled cockpit. Firemen finally freed him.

The race had been billed as a further test of Andy Granatelli's turbines against the orthodox Fords and Offenhausers. But a turbine driven by Art Pollard was black flagged to the sidelines on the 64th lap when a judge ruled it was leaking oil.

A second turbine, driven by Joe Leonard, went to the pits after losing a wheel on the 38th lap.

Ruby took the lead from second-place finisher Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., on the 108th lap and won by 2.6 seconds with a speed of 100.739 miles per hour in his turbo-charged Offenhauser.

Casper Eyes Open Crown After Speedway Victory

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Billy Casper trained his eyes on a third U.S. Open title today after a one-stroke victory in the Speedway Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

"If I can eliminate the mistakes I made here, I'll do well in Rochester," Casper said. "I had a two-week layoff since Memphis and hadn't played much but I feel good now."

The PGA's leading money winner, raised his earnings to $124,243 with a $20,000 first-prize for his fourth victory of the season.

Casper admitted Mike Hill, a 28-year-old rookie, made him play more boldly than he had wanted in the final round.

Hill, of Jackson, Mich., was playing only his second pro tourney.

Hill tried to tie Casper when the veteran bogeyed the par-5 18th hole. Hill blasted a drive and iron shots to just off the green, then chipped to three feet from the pin.

His putt attempt for a birdie curled around the cup but failed to drop and Hill ended with a par.

Casper finished with two-under-par 70 and a 72-hole score of eight-under-par 280. He had won the Speedway Open in 1962 and 1966.

Hill, with 75, and Speedway defending champion Frank Beard, who rallied with 68, tied for second place at 281.

Two oldtimers tuning up for the U.S. Open—Sam Snead, 56, and Dutch Harrison, 58—were in a five-way tie at 282 with Lou Graham, R. H. Sikes and Fred Marti.

Snead shot 73 and Harrison 72 in the final round. Graham had 70, Sikes 71 and Marti 71.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Final standings Sunday in the Speedway Open Golf Tournament, par 36-36—72:

Billy Casper, $20,000	70-71-69-70—280
Mike Hill, $9,750	71-69-66-75—281
Frank Beard, $9,750	70-71-72-68—281
Lou Graham, $3,920	74-66-72-70—282
Sam Snead, $3,920	71-69-69-73—282
Fred Marti, $3,290	72-71-68-71—282

No-Hitter Hurled By Tony Fierro

Tony Fierro threw a 3-0 no-hitter against the Lovington, N.M. Eagles at Steer Park here Sunday in the nightcap of a double bill swept by the Tigers. Both games went seven innings.

Fierro issued four walks, and these were the only Eagles to reach first base. He was a complete mystery to the visitors, striking out 13. This gave him a 2-0 season record.

He needed little help, and Billy Pineda supplied it quickly in the first when he homered with Arista on base. Mendoza had walked and scored earlier on an error.

Gary Miears pitched steady ball in scattering five hits to win the first game 7-2.

The Tigers scored in the second and third only to have the Eagles duplicate the feat in the fourth and fifth. In the sixth the Tigers sent nine men to the plate and scored five runs. C. Martinez was the losing pitcher.

Sunday the Tigers, who are now 6-1 for the season, go to Lovington for a return match. The box scores:

Commissioners To Take Paving Program Step

The first official step in initiating a paving program will be launched Tuesday evening, one of many items on a crowded agenda of the Big Spring City Commission. The meeting begins at 7 p.m. in city hall.

The paving step is consideration of a resolution authorizing the city engineering department to draw plans for paving, and naming the streets. The commission has some 17 petitions under consideration.

In other business, the commission will consider a recommendation from the planning and zoning commission for a zoning change from Zone C, commercial, to Zone CA, central area, for lots numbered 600 to 610 on Runnels. John M. Wolcott presented the request to the zoning board.

FIRE PROTECTION

Public hearing will be held on the on-premises consumption of beer request by Nellie R. Mott, for the Park Inn, tavern on Wasson Road at the City Park entrance. It has been approved by Police Chief Jay Banks.

Commissioners will consider the re-zoning request of Joe Amberson for 1506-1512 Sycamore and 1507-1513 Wood to be changed from Zone 2F, two family, to Zone MF, multi-family. The zoning board denied this change March 5 after receiving several petitions signed by residents in the area urging that the change be denied.

Dr. Jack H. Burnett is asking the commission for a policy whereby residents outside the city be furnished fire protection by city firemen on a cost basis. His request states that the Silver Heels area is served by volunteer firemen from Sand Springs, a considerable distance from Silver Heels Addition, and that the fire truck is inoperable due to a recent accident.

WATER CONTRACT

Mrs. T. G. Adams, 507 Johnson, asks for damages due to a sewage backup. The request includes an estimated $134 for repairs.

A renewal of the water line contract with the Big Spring Country Club will be discussed, including these changes: removing a $25 per month payment to the city; cchanging the maintenance agreement to an "on-call" basis; city pay the electric pumping costs, reimbursible by the club; 10 years lease with option to renew; and a clause protecting the city from claims arising by any failure to supply water.

Traffic and parks commission recommendations will be reviewed.

Commissioners will consider closing Mittel Street, south of Twentieth Street, which has been approved by the school district.

Crews Cleaning Clogged Alleys

City crews are cleaning trash and debris from alleys on a hand basis this week, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

"We plan to finish the North Side today and start on the Airport addition Tuesday," he said.

They expect to work all the area east of Gregg Street and south of the railroad tracks this week.

Lillard has asked residents in that area to deposit all grass cuttings, weeds, treelimbs, etc. in the alley sometime before the workers get there.

2,000 Frenchmen Enter Campaign

PARIS (AP) — France's 13-day election campaign opened officially today with more than 2,000 candidates in the field for the 487 National Assembly seats to be filled June 23 and June 30.

Nominations closed at midnight for the election President Charles de Gaulle says is the most vital in France's history. De Gaulle dissolved the Assembly on May 30 at the height of the worst crisis of social turbulence France has known since World War II.

BIG STAKES

Although the campaign did not open officially until today, De Gaulle fired the opening gun Friday with a radio-TV appeal to his countrymen to rally around him in defe se of the Republic.

"Everything, truly everything, depends on it," he declared. "Everything is at stake."

The president had previously tried to make the central issue of the campaign his regime vs. "totalitarian communism." But since then all political leaders outside the Gaullist camp have been hotly disputing this.

The political leader of France's ultrarightists, former Premier Georges Bidault, urged Frenchmen Sunday to vote against both the Communists and the Gaullists.

"The spectacle of present-day events shows that Gaullism is no alternative to communism," Bidault told a news conference after his return from six years in exile.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

There was no sign of a break in the strike tying up most of the country's big metallurgical factories although the Peugeot auto plants were to reopen today.

High schools and universities also were still closed by strikes of both students and teachers.

Premier Georges Pompidou warned university students they would have to re-establish relations with his government if they wanted the educational reforms they have been demanding. The students and the teachers unions so far have refused to have anything to do with the government and called for the overthrow of De Gaulle's regime.

Record Tax Bill Hinted

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. John Connally said Sunday it probably will be necessary for the 1969 Legislature to put together a record $400 million tax bill.

The governor talked to newsmen in advance of the state Democratic convention at which he is due to be endorsed as a favorite son contender for the party's presidential nomination.

He said his recommendations to the special legislative session now being held in Austin were drafted with regard for the prospect of greatly expanded revenue needs by next year.

Connally has proposed, among other things, that the state retail sales tax be increased from the present two per cent to three per cent, with municipal sales taxes wiped out and cities receiving rebates from the state instead.

The governor also said he was hopeful for passage of his plan to legalize sales of liquor in miniature bottles at eating places but acknowledged, "It's going to be close in both houses."

Yugo Rebel Students Force Tito Surrender

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Part of the rebellious student movement at Belgrade University agreed Sunday night to return to classes after President Tito promised them educational, political and economic reforms.

Representatives of the Communist party youth and student organizations joined with leaders of the student action committee in adopting a proposal to return to classes. They had given sufficient guarantees that the students' demands would be carried out.

MUST HELP

In an effort to end the week-long students' strike, the 76-year-old president said students occupying the university had brought up questions that had bothered him.

"This time ... I will wholeheartedly endeavor for solutions, and students must help me in this," he said. "If I am not able to settle these issues, then I should not remain in my post."

Tito acknowledged that the government and the ruling Communist party were responsible for much of the unrest among the 40,000 striking students.

He said the party will be purged and that efforts would be made to bring greater unity among party leaders.

The president also promised that those responsible for police attacks on the students last week would be punished.

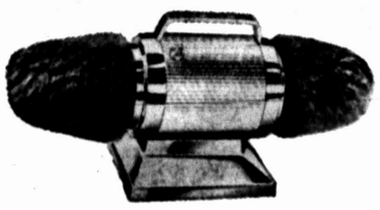

Tito admonished the students, however, to go back to their studies while the government and party worked out a solution.

There are six seats to a box and boxes are $6 per night or $15 for the season, in addition to general admission tickets. The rodeo begins at 8 p.m. daily in the Rodeo Bowl west of town.

Seventeen riding clubs and five floats have been entered in the parade June 19. The latest entry is the Scurry County Junior Riding Club. Deadline for parade entries is June 16.

HE STANDS ALONE—LAST OF THE KENNEDY BROTHERS

Teddy At 36—Still So Young To Have Come So Far

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still so young to have come so far, to have grieved so much, Edward M. Kennedy stands alone—the last of the Kennedy brothers.

TRAGEDY

Six years in which triumph and tragedy have followed one another in terribly swift succession have thrust him at 36 into leadership of a fabled political family.

A family with a quest that by its logic he must take up.

His brother John was a senator from Massachusetts when he expressed it:

"Just as I went into politics because Joe died, if anything happened to me tomorrow, my brother, Bobby, would run for my seat in the Senate and if Bobby died, Teddy would take over for him."

So it was that while many still mourned Robert, eyes and thoughts turned to Edward.

While the nation watched him rise to his new role—comforting the widow, delivering a moving tribute to his brother, greeting the crowds that gathered along the route of the funeral train—many wondered when and how he would take up the quest.

But in New Orleans Sunday, Archbishop Philip M. Hannan, who presided at graveside ceremonies for Robert, said in an interview that close friends of the Kennedy family are urging Edward to withdraw from political life.

MISSION

The prelate told the New Orleans Times-Picayune that one consideration is that Edward is the only adult son in a large family which now has many fatherless children.

But he added that he could not predict what the last Kennedy brother's decision will be.

"Teddy now has an assuredness and a sense of mission that he could not have had before the tragedies," Archbishop Hannan said.

Young Teddy Kennedy, the handsome youth in a hurry to join his brothers in Washington, is gone forever.

It was March 1962. Teddy had just turned 30, minimum age for U.S. senators. The youngest of the three surviving sons of financier Joseph P. Kennedy announced his Senate candidacy.

"If your name was simply Edward Moore," his primary election opponent taunted, "instead of Edward Moore Kennedy, your candidacy would be a joke."

MAGIC

But his name was Kennedy. And he had a glorious smile and an easy manner that reinforced the magic of his name and made victory seem easy.

"The best politician in the family," brother John called him.

When Congress convened in January 1963, the Kennedy brothers could claim unprecedented achievement in American politics.

John was President, Robert was attorney general, Edward was a senator.

In the close-knit Kennedy family it was natural for the three brothers to think alike on major issues.

Alike they were in many ways. But not all.

LIKEABLE

John Kennedy was the bookish brother. A graceful, eloquent man, he was, nevertheless, reserved, aloof with strangers.

Bobby was the moody, intense brother. Whether seeking evidence as counsel for a Senate committee or managing one of John's campaigns, Bobby operated with an intensity many called ruthlessness. He was the most controversial, the least liked of the brothers.

Teddy was the likeable brother. No one ever called Teddy ruthless. Less eloquent than John, less moody than Bobby, tall, handsome Teddy is easy to like.

If tragedy has shaped Edward Kennedy, so too did the moment of triumph when he took his Senate seat in January 1963.

Aware of the dangers of being tagged as "the one Kennedy too many," Edward told newsmen he planned to stay out of the limelight.

KEPT QUIET

Ted studied his new job. He saw newsmen only for home state newspapers and turned down chances for national television exposure.

He sought out the Senate elders—mostly Southerners to whom the Kennedys, particularly Robert, were anathema.

He listened to their advice and, above all, obeyed a prime rule for freshman senators: he kept quiet.

So the Senate elders learned what Massachusetts voters knew: This indeed was the likeable Kennedy.

The assassination of President Kennedy was shattering to Robert Kennedy. He was haunted by its memory.

Edward responded differently. On the Monday morning of the President's funeral, Edward worked briefly at his Senate office.

"I felt this was where he would have expected me to be," he later said.

RIGHTS PLEA

It was March, 1964, more than a year after he entered the Senate, before Edward gave his first major Senate speech, a moving plea for the civil rights bill President Kennedy had proposed.

Edward Kennedy has not escaped violence.

On a June night in 1964 he was aboard a private plane that crashed in Massachusetts.

He suffered a broken back that immobilized him in a hospital for six months.

But running for re-election for a full six-year term that November offered few problems. His family, including his pretty blonde wife, Joan, waged a campaign that swamped his Republican opponent by more than one million votes, a new state record.

The next January, with the aide of a back brace and a cane, Edward Kennedy attended the opening Senate session.

Edward Kennedy had matured in the eyes of his colleagues who admired the way he had mastered all details of the legislation as well as the way he worked quietly to muster support.

He was to win their admiration again for his work on gun-control legislation, Selective Service reform and refugee problems in Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

PRESIDENT?

On the Vietnam war, Edward Kennedy leaned for a while toward support of the administration's policy.

But gradually he moved closer to Robert's position of opposition to the war.

His success in the Senate has given Edward a potentially clearer path toward the presidency than Robert was able to find.

Before Robert's death, Edward was mentioned as a potential vice presidential nominee if Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey won the Democratic presidential nomination, and now it is being mentioned more frequently.

So Edward may yet one day fulfill the prediction made years ago by former Democratic party strategist James A. Farley.

"Sooner or later Teddy is going to wind up president. He's got more moxie than Jack — more personality and charm."

First Class Mail By Air Expanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The moving of regular first class mail by air is being expanded to include not only domestic mail but letters destined for Canada and Mexico.

In most parts of the nation now, a six-cent-stamped letter destined for a city some hundreds of miles away will get there by plane rather than train.

Now They Come To Him With Prayers, Flowers

WASHINGTON (AP) — In life, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy went where the crowds were. Now his last campaign is done and they come to him, to stand for a moment before a newly-sodded grave on a grassy slope of Arlington National Cemetery.

NEARLY 60,000

Nearly 60,000 people made that pilgrimage Sunday, amid steamy heat and afternoon rain.

Ethel Kennedy, expecting her 11th child, came to kneel at the foot of her husband's grave.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy came with her two children, to pray at the grave of her assassinated husband, then to walk the few steps to the resting place of her assassinated brother-in-law.

Tourists with cameras came, and mourners with flowers.

They stood six abreast and waited in a burning June sun.

And when they had climbed the cemetery hill, many did not know where to look for the grave. They had to ask the soldiers who stood guard there.

WHITE CROSS

For only a small, white cross marks the grave of the New York senator, shot down by an assassin in Los Angeles early Wednesday as he celebrated a California primary victory in his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The walkway leading toward Robert's grave goes to that of John Kennedy, assassinated in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963. And the crowds were drawn automatically toward that memorial, with its everburning flame.

The new grave is outside the low hedge which borders the memorial to the slain President and is shielded by the broad, low branches of a magnolia tree.

The graves of the brothers who lived in politics and died in gunfire are a scant 50 feet apart.

A family spokesman said Robert's gravesite is buried temporary but the permanent burial place will be in the same general area.

A simple memorial will be designed later.

From dawn until dusk Sunday people came. An evening cloudburst drove many to shelter, but many others ignored the rain to continue their procession past the grave.

MOURNING

It was the day President Johnson had proclaimed a national day of mourning for the 42-year-old senator who challenged him for the White House.

Johnson and his wife joined in a private religious service conducted by evangelist Billy Graham at the White House.

A massive array of flowers sent to the cemetery Saturday formed an arc on the hillside above the gravesite.

Many in the long procession of Sunday visitors left flowers on the low wall that kept them about 15 feet from the fresh grave. Some bowed their heads and made the sign of the cross.

Always there were people. The cemetery gates had closed at midnight after Kennedy's burial, but nearly 100 people stayed outside, to wait the eight hours until the morning's opening.

By then some 300 were waiting and they filed up the hill, their ranks swiftly swelled by arriving thousands.

Prosecutors Preparing Case Against Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With Sirhan Bishara Sirhan behind bars, top prosecutors are meeting daily in hopes of closing holes in Los Angeles County Superior Court Case No. A233421.

That case contains the murder charge against the 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant accused of slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

JUNE 28 PLEA

Sirhan is to enter a plea to the charge June 28.

Although Sirhan was arrested at the scene of the fatal shooting early Wednesday, and identified by several witnesses as the New York senator's assailant, the case presents unanswered questions.

Not the least of them is whether there was a conspiracy behind the shooting.

Police haven't been able to produce the dark-haired "girl in the polka-dot dress." Sandy Serrano, 20, a Youth for Kennedy worker, reported seeing the girl run from the Ambassador Hotel after the shooting and say, "We shot him."

COLOR BLIND

Three young women, the latest a 19-year-old belly dancer, have claimed to be the girl in the polka-dot dress, all saying Miss Serrano misunderstood their words as they ran from the hotel. But Miss Serrano says none is the girl she saw.

"You've got to be color-blind to think that's the girl," Miss Serrano said of the belly dancer, Kathy Fulmer, who had told police she was wearing a polka-dot scarf and a blonde wig the night of the murder.

Meanwhile, Pasadena police are keeping a 24-hour guard at the home of Sirhan's family, although the family reportedly has not been staying there.

Of five other persons wounded during the Kennedy shooting, three have been released from hospitals and the other two are reported in good condition.

A Devotional For The Day

My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up. (Psalm 5:3)

PRAYER: Dear God, we thank Thee for the privilege of coming to Thee in prayer. May we learn to rely more upon Thy help and never fail to seek Thy blessing each morning on our day's work and endeavors. We ask it in the name of Jesus. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

What Is The Media Effect?

We in Texas have just gone through the most expensive gubernatorial campaign in history. The 11 who entered the race spent several million dollars for public relations assistance and in advertising in newspapers, and on radio and television.

The frightening cost of modern political campaigning caused the Twentieth Century Fund to ask this question: Does the ever-increasing use of television and radio in political campaigns — combined with the skyrocketing costs involved — fundamentally alter the nature of the political process in America and raise important issues of public policy?

To find the answer the fund established a Commission on Campaign Costs in the Electronic Era, headed by Newton N. Minow, former chairman of the Federal Communications Commission. Other members of the commission are Dean Burch, lawyer and former chairman of the Republican National Committee in the campaign of 1964; Thomas G. Corcoran, Washington lawyer; Alexander Heard, chancellor of Vanderbilt University; and Robert Price, executive vice president of the Dreyfus Fund.

The main "laboratory" for the study will be this year's presidential and vice presidential campaigns, but state and local contests will also be examined. The commission will look into ways campaigns are managed and financed and seek to reach a conclusion on the effectiveness of television and radio in political campaigns, as well as questions of public policy that may arise in connection with the use of these media and campaign methods.

The question raised here is not quite as old as the republic, perhaps, but it involves a matter of vital public interest: Can modern campaigners, in effect, buy their way into office by lavish expenditures on radio and television?

It so happens that the present leading contenders in the presidential and vice presidential sweepstakes come across very effectively on television. But many good men (George Romney comes to mind) project poorly. Are we to ignore the substance while accepting the image?

Most thoughtful Americans will look forward to publication of the commission's conclusion, scheduled for release no later than the middle of next year.

Board Flexes Its Muscles

The Texas Water Quality Board is beginning to flex its muscles. After a period of exhortation, examination and warning, the board is moving toward much stricter compliance with water quality standards.

"We have more people on our staff now and more attorneys," said Hugh Yantis, the board's executive director, in making a plea for higher appropriations to the Texas House Appropriations Committee.

"There will be more cases (filed in court) in the future," Yantis predicted.

The State of Texas through the Texas Water Quality Board has very little choice in the matter, unless it is content with relinquishing its responbility in the field to the federal government.

A new federal regulation requires all corporations to file with the Department of the Interior detailed reports of what pollutants they are releasing into lakes and streams and to spell out in detail what actions they are taking to abate this pollution abatement programs. Corporations that do not take corrective steps will be forced to shut down. It's that simple.

By assuming its responsibility, Texas is trying to do a job that the federal government would otherwise do. If state legislation and enforcement fall short of the objective, though, the federal government will certainly move in.

A Sad Morning After

WASHIGTON — The black man wore a limp sombrero and a sweaty maroon shirt, khaki pants and muddy cowboy boots, and he said:

"Vamoose. Get out. Fast-fast. Or I'll put my boys on you."

He was talking to this reporter in the street of Resurrection City at 7:50 on the morning that Bob Kennedy was shot.

IT WAS ALSO the morning after three men, self-identified as Poor People, had killed two white Marine Corps officers, wounded another and also wounded a white girl, in a Georgetown, D. C., restaurant.

For a reporter Resurrection City seemed the place to begin the day, so I'd pedaled there early on my bicycle. I pushed the bike through the mud puddles at the perimeter of the Poor People's shantytown, and remounted to ride down the central street which was hard, sunbaked, foot-trodden dirt.

I THOUGHT IT would be routine reporting—eyewitness description, random interviews, press conference, maybe, by the Rev. Ralph Abernathy and other leaders. But the first three Negroes I accosted were surly and would not talk. The fourth one, to whom I showed my press pass, bade me vamoose, under threat of violence, on this U.S. government property which is today under the occupation of squatters.

Back down the shantytown street, pedaling westward toward the Lincoln Memorial, I remembered that yesterday I'd asked a Capitol Hill authority on these matters if he knew anything about the so-called "marshals" who are appointed by the Poor People's leaders to keep order inside Resurrection City. This man told me, "Yes, I do. They are some of the toughest gangsters from Chicago, Detroit and other big cities."

I LOOKED around to see how well the President, the mayor and the Interior Secretary were keeping guard here. I did not see a single cop, nor a single soldier on duty. I glanced back at the shantytown. Of the 3,000 persons supposedly encamped, I guessed not more than 300 had actually spent the night there. Most of them, and virtually all their leaders, are billeted elsewhere in Washington. Resurrection City has become a sham-showplace of poverty.

Next stop, the White House, showed a tired group of correspondents and cameramen. Several had been with President Johnson the evening before at Glassboro, N. J., where he made an address. They had barely filed their stories and gone to bed when they were awakened by phone calls from their offices with the news from California—Bob Kennedy shot.

WE SAT AROUND with coffee and tobacco, as reporters will, and talked of Bobby and of the slaughtered Marine Corps officers down in Georgetown. The President had just issued his statement of shock and regret over the attempted assassination of RFK, and a veteran correspondent snorted:

"He ought to order 10,000 troops into this town, and start to shoot back. Lyndon's safe enough in this house, but me—I'm going to carry my own artillery from now on."

There we sat in the White House, talking about the United States of America in revolution and under martial law.

Selling Management

NEW YORK (AP) — Now almost fully recovered from a heart ailment that forced him to resign his 16-hour-a-day job as secretary of commerce, Alexander Trowbridge, Jr. has embarked on a new career selling professional management.

"I NOTE a tremendous clamor for assistance in management development by city and state governments, by educational institutions and others," said Trowbridge in an interview. "It strikes me as an area of need we can fill to a degree."

Trowbridge, 38, is in his third week as president of the American Management Association, a nonprofit, 54,000-member association of individuals and organizations seeking to discover, develop and apply management techniques.

The task is a bit more formidable than it seems, for a stubborn stereotype stands in the way. For many years, it seems, the word "management" has been identified only with business, and its broader definition as "the organization of human affairs in any endeavor" has been overlooked.

TROWBRIDGE feels that religion, education, the home, medicine, labor, government—name almost any area—can benefit from learning the techniques of long range planning, organizing and carrying out plans to attain objectives.

Although it is not necessary to go outside the business community to find poor management—Wall Street, for example, is smothered in paper—there is little question that a great area of need has arisen in endeavors other than business.

Educators and government officials, for instance, fret about too much administrative detail. Clergymen complain that their daily duties cannot be handled in 24 hours. Taxpayers are angry over inefficiency in city management.

Trowbridge's hope is to find the expertise in these areas and make it available to those who need it, mostly through AMA's usual channels of publications, seminars and classes.

As a result of his plans to broaden the knowledge of management, Trowbridge estimates the AMA will grow swiftly, doubling its $25 million a year income in four or five years, assuming that the high quality of its work can be maintained.

This also will carry AMA more into foreign fields, where a deep and growing interest in American management methods exists, especially since the opening of the so-called technology gap.

THE RESULTING competition with American firms wouldn't necessarily hurt this country. Instead, it could produce greater commerce among nations, with benfits to all. American business, Trowbridge feels, can take care of itself.

Another area of special concern for the AMA and Trowbridge is the participation of private enterprise in the public sector, of solving the problems of education and urban blight and pollution by profit-making methods.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Cost is one of the numerous factors limiting the number of heart transplant operations. The theoretical price tag on a new heart is about $50,000.

No wonder bus seats seem to be getting smaller. It's because people are getting bigger. The average young or middle-aged man today weighs 15 pounds more than his counterpart a generation ago.

IF YOU FEEL you should reduce, climbing stairs may be your answer. It takes up to 15 times as much energy to climb stairs as it does to stroll on the level.

Remember when one man could push an airplane around? Well, the world's largest aircraft, the Lockheed C-5 Galaxy, has a cargo compartment so large an 8-lane bowling alley could be built in it. Hey, that's not a bad idea, is it?

Did you know that your body is far more intricate than the federal highway program? Inside you are some 100,000 miles of nerve fibers along which messages zip at speeds of 300 miles per hour.

The most famous outdoor clock is probably Big Ben, which keeps the British parliament on time. But the world's largest indoor clock is in New York City's Grand Central Station. It has a 15-foot face and a minute hand seven feet long.

QUOTABLE NOTABLES: "If a nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom — and the irony of it is that if it is comfort or money it values more, it will lose that, too."—W. Somerset Maugham.

Are you looking for a new status symbol? Well, to keep the conversation going, why not serve your guests tea brewed from pomegranate blossoms? It is reported to have mild tonic qualities.

Prosperity note: Foods look better today than ever, and that's one reason why they are so expensive. Out of every $20 you pay for groceries, from $1.50 to $2 goes into the packaging that makes them appear so attractive.

DUMPS USED to be found at the edges of cities. Now every road has become a dump. Surveys reveal that a typical mile of highway in America the Beautiful yields three cubic feet of trash consisting of 2,665 items ranging from bags of garbage to empty beer cans. It is amazing how few full cans of beer are thrown away.

Billy Graham

I can't quite understand what is meant by original sin. Does this mean that the penalty of Adam's sin is upon me? This seems very unfair to me. P.R.

Of course God doesn't hold you accountable for the sins of Adam.

Adam, though created perfect, was created with the capacity of choice. He could be whatever he chose to be. He chose to sin, and when he sinned he became a sinner. The Bible says, "For by one man's disobedience many were made sinners." What does this mean? It simply means that each produces after his own kind. Giraffes produce little giraffes, elephants produce little elephants, and Adam, being a sinner, sired other sinners. Something happened when Adam sinned that changed the genes, the nature of man. But God has rectified all this. Even though man, deliberately, and of his own free will sinned, and forfeited his Eden, through Christ and His death on the Cross, we can have a nature like God's again. The Bible says, "So by the obedience of one shall all be made righteous." Christ has cancelled all that is past, and has made it possible for us once more to be in communion with God.

Alcohol Neuritis And Its Victims

By JOSEPH G. MOLER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you reprint your article on alcohol neuritis which appeared Nov. 4, 1966? — T.R.

Why? You can (from the date) find the original article in the newspaper files or at the library. Perhaps we can add more this time.

Alcohol neuritis develops from long bouts with the bottle; it may come on gradually or it can start suddenly. Either way, it is mighty unpleasant. Sensory and motor nerves may be affected — the victim not only may suffer pain, weakness, numbness, or over-sensitivity to being touched, but also can have the shakes, be unable to walk properly or use his hands and arms, and some cases may find his eyesight seriously disturbed. Total paralysis is possible.

Impurities in some alcoholic concoctions can make the condition more severe. This points up a central and inescapable conclusion: alcohol neuritis, in plain language, is a result of poinsoning.

Impurities can play a part—but alcohol itself is a poison, and the victim of alcohol neuritis had better accept that fact. He has poisoned himself, and, as with any other kind of poisoning, the first and only successful remedy is to stop the poison.

I'll quote one paragraph from that 1966 column about the alcoholic with Neuritis: "He blames it on something else, grudgingly giving up his booze after first trying to deceive his friends and family as to what his doctor really told him, and then begins to look foreward to being 'cured' so he can go back to drinking again."

That's the all-too-common story of alcohol neuritis. The victim stays away from alcohol for a time, the neuritis ceases (usually), and as soon as he feels better he thinks he can drink again. The expected will happen: alcohol neuritis again, and worse.

The chronic drunk is usually a downright liar about whether he is drinking, and what, and how much. That's a rough word but true.

The alcoholic, also lies to himself, tries to convince himself that it wasn't alcohol which caused his neuritis. Or complains that the doctor can't keep it cured — and the doctor can't unless the patient gives up alcohol.

Good diet, vitamins, sometimes injection of B-comples, or more sophisticated medications will help recovery, but only if the alcohol is stopped.

Some of these patients think they can switch to beer or wine instead of "hard" liquor. They can't. It's still alcohol. They can find patent medicines or flavoring extracts that contain alcohol. Guess who is fooled by that?

The only answer is for the patient to stay away from alcohol in any form, else the neuritis, not to mention the other consequences of alcohol, will destroy him.

How To Find The Real Suspect

One thing and another:

Some of the witch doctors in Africa have a system for singling out evil doers that American criminologists might try.

The witch doctors march up and down a line of suspects, sniffing each one until they all begin to perspire from nervousness.

The real criminal will invariably and, for that reason, throw off more of a body odor.

WHEN THE witch doctor detects this, he picks out his man, sniffs him again and again just to make certain he has the guilty man, then points him out to the village chieftains.

Of course, if all the suspects have been eating onion sandwiches, a polygraph test probably would be better.

DR. AARON ROSENTHAL, who directs rehabilitation at a midwestern hospital, says that a nurse can do more harm than good by doing too much for a patient.

"To promote physcial rehabilitation, the nurse must restrain her natural tendancies to perform all possible functions for a patient," Dr. Rosenthal said recently, adding that nurses should do all they can to encourge patients to do as much as possible for themselves — things like getting in and out of bed unaided, getting dressed and tying shoe laces.

The doctor contends that patients must be taught to function independently, in other words.

What Fate Of Two Forts?

By ED SYERS

We were asked what has become of Mexico's great Castle Perote, the stern fortress-prison known to many a Texan captured by Mexican troops in the early 1840's. It yet looms like a medieval castle in the mountains above Vera Cruz and, after 200 years, is used today as a state prison, reports Raymondville's Homer Faseler.

Built 1761-69 by Spain, the old fortress is extremely clean and well kept, about 40 miles west of Jalapa, says Faseler, who visited in 1966. Its 40-foot stone walls, a yard wide at the top, enclose an immense compound. It was built originally as the "Royal Fort of San Carlos of Perote" as a stronghold guarding the Vera Cruz road to Mexico City.

ALL WAS surrounded by a wide, deep moat, crossed at main entrance by a drawbridge, and ruins of both exist today. It was under these walls that 24 Texans of the ill-starred Mier Expedition tunneled to escape in 1842.

Faseler, whose great great grandfather was held there, says the fortress has been used continually and knew General Santa Anna at one time as commandant while, at another, as prisoner.

WHAT HAPPENED atop 'Tower Hill' near Sterling City and San Angelo? asks Clear Creek's Mrs. Norma Morris.

"I recall our family's driving west, some years ago, and passing what was said to be a mysterious fortress on a low mountain near Sterling City . . . called 'Tower Hill,' I believe. The mystery was that no one seemed to know when it was built or who built it.

"The hill is flat-topped and from the road one could see what appeared to be a small square fort on the summit. It was there, we were told when the first settlers came. Also we understood there were signs of battle, parts of old guns, and some suggestion of treasure — all from some earlier time.

"WE DID NOT climb the hill, as it was on private property. But I have always wondered if anyone ever found the story of what happened at this fort on the hill . . ."

Flatonia's Max Marburger: "You mentioned the Galveston Bay action of Texas Confederate 'Cottonclads' against a Union fleet. My father, James Marburger, and my mother's two brothers, R. A. and George Doss, were in that action. I heard them tell that they shoved cotton bales into the water, placed their guns on top and swam and shoved behind the bales, then climbed aboard the Union ship and took it."

(Note: Action was the boarding of heavily-gunned Harriet Lane by coastal packets 'armored' with cotton bales and armed primarily with riflemen. Boarding was complete when Confederate Bayou City rammed; the deck action was short but vicious: Harriet Lane surrendered and the Union gunboat fleet ran to sea as Galveston was retaken by Confederacy, Jan. 1, 1863.)

Nothing Taken For Granted

WASHINGTON — The atmosphere of politics and government has been changed by the tragic death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. While he was outspoken on controversial issues that caused many people to support other aspirants for the presidential nomination, the New York senator demonstrated in the last few weeks that nothing can be taken for granted in a preconvention campaign. Although defeated in Oregon, he emerged the winner in the California primary, and had begun to gather political strength in the states which do not have primaries.

BOBBY KENNEDY has been a unique figure in American history. Despite his youth, he had more than 15 years in government service in various fields before serving as attorney general of the United States and adviser to his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy. He was able, too, in the 1960 campaign to penetrate the Democratic party in virtually every state of the union and formed alliances that were a big factor in winning the presidential nomination for his brother then, and in furthering the New York senator's own efforts this year.

Sen. Kennedy was what might be termed a natural-born politician. He was effective in converting state and local organizations to his cause, because he knew their problems and was able to assist them in their state campaigns.

BOBBY KENNEDY was ambitious, and really felt confident that if he were able to win the presidency, he could manage the office of chief executive in a competent manner. He had a background in national and international affairs that was not manifest in all his speeches, but he was recognized on Capitol Hill as a force to be reckoned with on the local scene where delegates were being selected.

THE BIG unanswered question now is how political campaigns are to be conducted in the future when anybody in a crowd can take a shot at a candidate. Secret service protection has for years been provided for the President and Vice President, but aspirants for the presidency have gone unprotected. After this week's tragedy, President Johnson promptly decided to furnish protection for the major candidates, and asked Congress to back him up with legislation. Action was quickly taken by the Senate and the House.

The difficulty, of course, is that it is almost impossible to penetrate crowds to determine whether anybody has a lethal weapon that may at any moment be used. Also, snipers with high-powered weapons can fire from long range at persons riding or walking on the streets or anywhere they may appear in public.

OBVIOUSLY ONE cure lies in some strict measures which will not merely regulate the sale of guns, but will require some kind of license that would enable local authorities to seek to determine whether it is safe to let firearms be made available to a particular individual.

Speaking to the nation on Wednesday night, after the shooting of Sen. Kennedy, President Johnson urged Congress to "pass laws to bring the insane traffic in guns to a halt," and added:

"This will not in itself end the violence, but reason and experience tell us that it will slow it down, that it will spare many innocent lives."

CONGRESS immediately passed the pending anti-crime bill containing provisions forbidding mail-order sales of handguns and limiting other sales. The President then called for extension of these measures so that they would apply to rifles and shotguns. He said that "the hour has come for the Congress to enact a strong and effective gun control law, governing the full range of lethal weapons."

It is a sad commentary on freedom in America when such steps must be taken to protect the lives of presidential candidates as they campaign among the people.

Shocking Method

DENVER (AP) — Another method of shocking smokers into giving up the habit has been outlined here.

This method uses electricity.

The device is a pocket-size electronic cigarette case developed at a Veterans Administration Hospital in Coral Gables, Fla.

Each time the smoker reaches for a cigarette, he gets hit with an electrical shock, Dr. Malcolm Kushner explained. Eventually, he said, this builds a conditioned response against smoking.

The shock can last from 30 seconds to three minutes, depending on how long the top of the case stays open, Dr. Kushner said.

He said that pilot studies produced promising results. Tests on 20 persons showed five gave up smoking for 16 to 21 months, and nine others had varying degrees of reduction in smoking.

The device was described at a Veterans Administration Cooperative Studies in Psychiatry Conference here.

Americans Express Sorrow At Crowded Church Services

By The Associated Press

Churches throughout the nation were crowded Sunday on the national day of mourning for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Speakers at many memorial services called his assassination a symptom of a sickness in society.

VIOLENCE

Commenting on the slayings of the senator; his brother, President John F. Kennedy, and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Archbishop John F. Dearden told 1,200 worshippers in Detroit:

"Violence has come to be accepted in the United States. Violence has settled on us like smog sits on some of our industrial cities.

"We pray God to open to us an understanding of the way to dispel this atmosphere of violence that does ill to the mind and heart."

At an ecumenical Mass for Kennedy in Philadelphia's Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Philip J. Dowling called for a renewed effort to realize peace on earth.

A special memorial Mass was celebrated by Roman Catholic Archbishop Terence J. Cooke of New York in St. Patrick's Cathedral, where final rites for the senator were held on Saturday.

In Boston, Richard Cardinal Cushing eulogized Robert Kennedy as he had his brother 4½ years ago.

At the White House, evangelist Billy Graham conducted private services for President Johnson and his family and some members of the staff.

'MADNESS'

In Rome, Pope Paul VI, speaking to thousands in St. Peter's Square, termed the slaying of Kennedy "madness and loathing and therefore a stimulus for an everlasting and healthy spiritual reaction."

At Hyannis Port, Mass., airport Sunday more than 200 mourners stood in silence as Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of the late senator, returned from his burial near his brother in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, where nearly 60,000 persons visited the gravesite.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime finds you able to handle whatever has to do with getting your life on a more solid and secure structure and especially are you able to get rid of whatever is standing in the way of your progress and your development in the world of outside activity. The evening finds you under fine aspects for discussions.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Out to see that biawig who has the wherewithal to help you with career matters, and come right out with what it is you have in mind. Then show your finest talents with right, progressive people. Your advancement depends on you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You've found it difficult to get certain benefits before, but now they are within easy grasp. However, don't be so narrow minded. Listen to what partners have to suggest without being so conceited.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Do you know exactly what it is that higher-ups expect you to do, and are you being as precise as necessary? Then sit down with mate and talk over how you really can communicate. Show more affection.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Showing others you are cooperative with associates makes a big hit with officials. Even better ratings and arrangements are possible for the future. Then out for that chummy dinner together. Have fun.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Stop fooling around and get busy with all those duties ahead of you. Co-workers are in a fine mood for a change and give you a big lift. Take time to do something about your health, and be more careful about baggy trousers.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't be lax about taking advantages of an opportunity for recreation that presents itself — show that you are on the alert. Mate is really up in your strata of thought in a.m. Show that you have grace, vim.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to do something about those conditions around the house that are not to your liking. Take care you do not literally bark at one at home who is not feeling well. Show concern, instead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to find some better way of operating at home and in business if you want to be happier; have more do-re-mi. A little more dynamic action on your part is good where friends are concerned, too. Don't be a doormat.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You've got to be careful with your money or you could spend it much faster than it comes in — and that's when you really get into trouble. Listen to what that biddy partner has to suggest. You can make more money that way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Step out to the social affairs that really appeal to you and have a delightful time — forget the old hassles. A little time spent at beauty shop first is good. A good massage could do wonders for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Sit down for awhile and decide just what it is you want to accomplish in the days ahead, and then put the wheels rolling in the right direction. Run out and help that pal in distress. Be kind.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you have a nice talk with higher-ups you have known for a long time, you find they give you the know-how you need for bigger success. If you get out socially, make sure the people you see are serious. The other type could get you in real trouble.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those naturally practical young people and have much ability at selling, both of which attributes can lead to real success. Teach early to study theory very thoroughly, so that the most can be accomplished during the lifetime. Much organizational ability here. A field of business fine here.

SICKENED BY ASSASSINATION

Americans Turn In Guns

NEW YORK (AP) — A turn-in-your-guns movement has started in the nation in the wake of the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

GUN-CONTROL

And there have been calls—from public officials, groups and individuals—for stronger gun-control legislation at federal, state and city levels.

"I don't feel like killing anything any more," said Alan E. Schoening as he turned in two hunting guns to police in Lancaster, Pa. "Enough people have been shot now," he said. "I want to give you these guns so you can destroy them. I hope this gesture will encourage others to do the same."

A chain of discount stores in Columbus, Ohio, said it would stop selling guns and turned over its stock of small arms, hand guns, ammunition and related items to the police department. J-Mart president Marty Rosen said he took the action "to remove the possibility of supplying anyone with the means to cause bodily harm, inadvertently or intentionally, not only to our dedicated public leaders, but to anyone . . ."

An Indiana-based chain, Wonderland stores, discontinued the sale of ammunition. It stopped the sale of guns two years ago. The store president, Sanford Friedman, said the ammunition sale was being stopped "to help preserve public safety and sanity."

SALES HALT

In Dallas, store owner E. O. Crawford discontinued the sale of toy guns the day Robert Kennedy died. "We teach our children love of a gun and love of killing by giving them a toy gun as soon as they are able to walk," he said.

John E. Fletcher of Denver urged gun owners to take "all firearms in your possession to the steps of the state capitol next Sunday (Father's Day) to be destroyed and disposed of."

He said the gesture would be "a sign of our intention to kill no more . . . and as a fitting remembrance to a fallen martyr —Robert F. Kennedy."

Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts said he will tell his colleagues in the New England Conference that strong gun controls are long overdue. The conference will meet in Stowe, Vt., June 27, and the issue is expected to come up then.

Volpe, chairman of the National Governor's Conference, plans to propose tighter gun laws when that group meets next month in Cincinnati.

REGISTRATION

A Gallup Poll report, released Sunday in Princeton, N.J., said that a special survey conducted on the day that Sen. Kennedy was shot found that the public advocates registration of all firearms as the best way to curb such violence.

A letter appeared in the Miami Herald, signed by a man who called himself "an avid owner and user of guns," and urging a 90-day jail sentence for possession of any firearm. "I know this means ending the sport of hunting," he wrote, "but our first obligation must be to mankind and the perpetuation of society."

Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco proclaimed the seven days beginning July 4 a "Amnesty Week," and asked all citizens to turn in their guns—with no questions asked. Last Friday, Alioto had urged a city gun control law "with teeth in it."

Not all the action came from adults.

LIKE LIBRARY

A group of junior high and high school students in University City, Mo., formed an organization called Students for Action Committee to work to eliminate gun sales.

"The adults don't do anything," said Sharon Liebermann, a member of the group. "They mourn and say they'll do something and then they seem to forget."

Circuit Judge Max Raskin of Milwaukee urged passage of a law under which firearms would have to be drawn out of a local arsenal, somewhat like books out of a library. Raskin said the borrower would sign out the weapon, state his purpose for needing it and sign it back in after a specified time.

The crime-control bill which the U.S. House of Representatives passed Thursday includes a ban on mail-order sales of handguns, but President Johnson has asked for even stronger curbs. He urged the legislators to reinstate an original provision of the bill—banning the mail-order sale of rifles and shotguns as well—and to insert a new provision prohibiting the sale of rifles, shotguns and handguns to anyone under 18.

Police Search For Edgy Golfer

An officer on routine patrol reported a damaged cold drink box at Price's Fina Service Station, 1401 S. Gregg, Sunday. Entry was not gained to the money compartment, police said.

Jerry Sanders, 800 Marcy, told police a golf bag and clubs and 12 stereo tapes were taken from his car while it was parked at the Ramada Inn. Value of the articles is placed between $450-$500.

Vandals smashed the left front door glass on a 1968 model car owned by Lewis Prather, 1109 Wood, while the car was parked at 2102 Main. Damage was estimated between $40-$60.

Three Accidents

Three minor accidents which occurred during the weekend are being investigated by police.

A car driven by Rudolfo De LeGarza struck a house and a yard fence owned by Clovis P. Anderson at 204 Carey; at Herman's Steak House, 1810 Gregg, the car of Eddie Rex McLain, 713 Lorilla, was involved in an accident with a car that left the scene; and cars dirven by Judy Nell Moore, 408 Young, and Mary Evans Gaskill, San Antonio, ran together at Third and Gregg.

Rocky, Under Guard, Praises Slain Bobby

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the first presidential candidate to deliver a post-assassination speech under Secret Service guard, said today Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was "someone special to young people" who are seeking new leadership.

The New York governor's remark was in a speech prepared for commencement exercises at Allegheny College in this small northwestern Pennsylvania city.

PAINFUL

Rockefeller, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, eulogized the slain New York Democratic senator who conceivably could have been his opponent in November's general election.

He said "all generations were stunned and saddened by the tragic death" Thursday, some 28 hours after Kennedy was shot in the brain by an assassin while campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"We know," Rockefeller told the 370 Allegheny graduates, "that he was someone special to young people. He moved and inspired them. We know, therefore that your sense of loss is especially deep and painful."

Further eulogizing Kennedy as one who "became a bridge between the generations and between different groups within the nation," Rockefeller said: "Such is one test of the leadership we desperately need in American society today."

FIRST TIME

Rockefeller became the first to use new security arrangements for presidential candidates in the wake of Kennedy's assassination. President Johnson ordered Secret Service men assigned to all major presidential candidates after Kennedy was shot Wednesday at a Los Angeles rally. He was there celebrating his victory in the California primary.

Secret Service agents assigned to Rockefeller have been in Meadville for days, although officials soft-pedaled talk of security measures, describing most of them as routine.

Meadville's 25-man police force has been alerted for duty. And a dozen Pennsylvania state troopers were standing by. They were in addition to those who normally accompany Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, an Allegheny Alumnus who also was here, and the New York troopers who regularly travel with Rockefeller.

The governor was fulfilling a commitment made to Shafer over a month ago to deliver the commencement address.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither side vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠J 9 6 4 3 ♡A 6 ◇ 9 5 2 ♣K Q 7
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ◇	Dble.	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—You have an average hand in high cards (10 points) and a five-card suit, which make game prospects very bright opposite a takeout double. The method of conveying this bit of information is to bid one more than necessary. The proper call is two spades.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q 7 3 ♡J 6 4 ◇A J 10 7 3 ♣A 8
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
2 ◇	Pass	3 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A raise to four hearts is clearly indicated. Holding three trumps to an honor and a short suit, there can be no doubt as to this choice. A bid of three no trump, merely because you have touchy stoppers in all the suits, would be highly improper.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, and as dealer you hold:
♠A Q ♡A Q 6 4 2 ◇A K 4 ♣A 6 5
What is your opening bid?

A.—Despite the wealth of high cards, an opening bid of two hearts is not recommended. It is fractionally short of the prescribed requirements. Our choice is for a bid of two no trump. If partner has nothing he is permitted to pass. But if he has a bare smattering of high card strength he will raise to three.

Q. 4—You are South, East-West vulnerable, and you hold:
♠10 7 3 ♡A K 6 5 ◇K 9 4 3 ♣K Q
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♣	1 ◇	?

What do you bid?

A.—There cannot be much doubt that you will have a very fine play for game, but there may be richer stakes available. Against the adverse diamond contract, it is reasonable to estimate that you will win five tricks, three in high cards and two in trumps. If partner can win the expected three, you will score a plus of 300 points which is more than the value of your game. Double.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q 7 ♡A Q 4 ◇A 5 3 ♣J 10 7 5 2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Partner has shown a preference for spades over no trump and very likely has a six-card suit. Since you have only one diamond stopper, and partner may be short in that suit, we recommend a raise to four spades.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠K Q 9 4 ♡A K Q 3 ◇K Q 10 3 ♣K
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Since there can be little concern about the texture of the trump suit, there is at the moment only one pertinent factor, and that is the number of aces held by partner. If he has three, a grand slam can hardly be missed. If he has two, a small slam should be a virtual cinch. If he has but one, five should be safe, and if he has none I'll be surprised. There is a remote possibility of getting overboard, but it is too remote for serious consideration and the recommended call is a Blackwood bid of four no trump.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠Q J 6 ♡Q 10 3 ◇K 9 7 3 ♣10 4 3
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Dble.	Pass	1 ◇
Pass	1 NT	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Since partner has doubled and then bid no trump, his hand must be at least as good as an opening one no trump bid. You have eight points and should, therefore, raise to two no trump.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠A K Q 10 6 2 ♡7 ◇K J ♣A J 10 2
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South
3 ♡	?

What do you bid?

A.—We recommend the natural bid of four spades. If partner has ever so little you should be able to make it, and surely you would not expect to be down more than one trick. A mere overcall of three spades would be inadequate.

Texas Republicans Mix Business, Fun

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Texas Republicans mix business and pleasure today on the eve of their state convention, which was expected to endorse Sen. John Tower as a favorite son candidate for president.

UP EARLY

Paul Eggers, 49, party candidate for governor, was up early to meet with newsmen before the state Republican Executive Committee went into session.

A decision was expected on a Harris County argument which centered around whether to support Tower all the way at the national convention in Miami Beach, Fla., this August or to switch the delegates' votes after the first ballot.

Tower, the first Texas Republican U.S. senator this century, wants the 56-vote delegation's backing until the delegates decide to throw their support to someone else. He said it will put Texas in a better bargaining position.

At issue in Harris County was which delegates to recognize from senatorial District 11. One group claimed it walked out of the district convention May 11 because it was not treated fairly. The other, favoring a one-ballot pledge to Tower, denied this. The other four Harris County districts endorsed Tower for one ballot only.

The Harris County arguments were heard Sunday by the temporary Credentials Committee.

Also Sunday, as about 1,200 delegates began to register for the Tuesday convention, the temporary Resolutions Committee agreed to a resolution honoring Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who was assassinated last week in Los Angeles.

Jack Cox, Austin businessman and former GOP governor candidate, said the vote on the Kennedy resolution was unanimous.

RESOLUTIONS

He said other resolutions offered by county conventions and tentatively approved by the committee dealt with Tower as a favorite son, lack of leadership on the part of President Johnson's administration on domestic and foreign affairs, national defense, crime and violence and deterioration of fiscal responsibility by the Johnson administration.

The resolutions were to come up for final consideration by the committee this afternoon.

Cox declined to say whether the Tower resolution proposed that the Texas delegation stay behind the senator until released by their decision or just through the first ballot.

He said, "Certainly this convention will be supporting John Tower as a favorite son."

Tower was to be the guest of honor at a cocktail party this evening. The convention opens Tuesday morning with Tower as keynote speaker.

Barber Of The Year

H. D. (Hunka) Stewart, Big Spring barber and a member of the state board of barbers and cosmetologists, was named "barber of the year" at the state association meeting of Journeymen's International Barbers Union of America Sunday. With him is Floyd Younger, Longview, who served as show chairman. The Ramada Inn was headquarters for the convention, and Ed Borkland, Austin, state president, officiated. Named winners of the hairstyle competition was Joe Cuellar, Corpus Christi, and his model, Larry Lynch.

Driver For RFK Beaten, Robbed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee E. Morrow, personal driver for the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, was beaten and robbed in the early Sunday hours after being on duty for 24 hours with the grieving family.

Police said Morrow, 45, was stopped by seven juveniles a block from his Northeast Washington home. They hit him in the face with a stick and took his wallet, containing 50 cents and three gasoline credit cards in Kennedy's name.

Morrow was not seriously hurt, police said.

The youths fled.

Mrs. A. G. Anderson was named vice president; Mrs. Hoyt Roberts, secretary - treasurer; and Hoyt Roberts, caretaker.

'Skeeter Alerts

WESTON, Mass. (AP) — A ladder truck and three engines, practically the town's entire fire department, were called out when someone reported a cloud of smoke in a wooded residential area. The smoke turned out to be a chemical fog being used in mosquito control.

Cannon Called Sudsy Success

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A National Guard officer believes he has devised a harmless method for cleaning up riots with soap and water.

Lt. John Graf, 24, of the 101st Calvary's C Troop, tried out his idea Sunday with men of his command and it proved to be a billowing success.

"You're totally disoriented and you feel weightless," Graf said as his men floundered in the foam during test at a training reservation near suburban Meadowbrook.

Graf of Trevose, Pa., worked out plans for his bubble gun with his employers, the Pennsylvania Box and Lumber Corp. and the Walter G. Kidde Co. of Bellevue, N.J.

After two weeks of work and an outlay of $18,000, they devised the foam cannon. Mounted on an armed personnel carrier, the gun shoots under pressure a stream of liquid soap and water that forms suds.

'Hey, Governor, You Forgot Tax'

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Gov. Harold Levander, touring a shop class exhibit at a North Side school, purchased two sets of coasters for $1 from one of the pupils. As the youngster accepted the money he paused for a moment, then said, "Hey, governor, you forgot the sales tax."

Russian Rockets Land On Saigon, Killing 10

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong resumed their rocket attack on central Saigon today, killing another 10 civilians and wounding 35. Fifteen 100-pound Russian rockets landed on the capital.

The missiles set several houses afire and narrowly missed the Buddhist pagoda which once was the headquarters for Saigon's militant Buddhist faction.

DEATH TOLL

The attack early today raised the civilian death toll from more than five weeks of rocket and mortar barrages on Saigon past 100.

In 22 days of shelling since the preliminary peace talks opened in Paris May 5, at least 109 civilians have been killed in Saigon and 413 wounded.

U.S. officers say the aim of the enemy attack is:

—To undermine the South Vietnamese government of President Nguyen Van Thieu by spreading fear among the three million inhabitants of Greater Saigon.

—To disrupt the capital.

—To give the impression of an army that can strike anywhere, any time, and that the Communists are bargaining in Paris from a position of military strength.

MORTARS

South Vietnamese military headquarters also reported three Viet Cong mortar attacks within a 20-mile radius of Saigon.

In fighting elsewhere:

More than 200 North Vietnamese soldiers attacked U.S. Marines in night defensive positions eight miles south of the Khe Sanh combat base at the western end of the demilitarized zone. Twelve of the enemy and seven Marines were killed and 41 Marines wounded in the 90-minute fight.

Dear Abby

Motorbike Rider At 61

DEAR ABBY: My brother's widow has taken up driving a motorcycle — at age 61!

She was married to my brother for 30 years and has always been a sensible woman, so naturally when she started with this motorcycle business I became concerned.

She says it's great fun, much safer than riding a horse, and she has met a lot of interesting young people through her new hobby.

Have you or any of your readers ever heard of a 61-year-old woman taking up the motorcycle just for the fun of it?

If this woman is getting a little nutty, her lawyer ought to be advised because my brother left a sizable fortune to which she is the sole heir. Please advise me. CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: If you suspect that your brother's widow is getting "a little nutty," watch for other evidence. Are you sure you aren't more interested in the rocks in her safety deposit box than those in her head?

DEAR ABBY: I take issue with your advice to "DISTRESSED," who wanted her husband to leave graduate school and take a job so she could raise a family.

I have seen too many impatient wives drive their husbands out of graduate school so they could enjoy their "dreams" of color TV, two new cars, a family, and a home of their own—right now. These girls don't realize that their husband's potential income is immediately reduced as is his ability to advance in his profession. He is apt to be frustrated professionally in middle age, and if he is unhappy in his work, his home life will also suffer.

The couples who are willing to scrimp and work hard for a few additional years in order to complete the husband's education to the fullest will reap benefits many times over in terms of income, professional and general satisfaction for the remainder of their lives. Sincerely yours, I. E. DAYTON, Vice President for Academic Affairs, Montana State U., Bozeman, Montana

DEAR DR. DAYTON: Thank you for your fine letter. What you say is true, but my correspondent complained that her husband was a "professional student," who preferred the security of remaining in school indefinitely to getting out and supporting his wife and starting a family. In other words, her man was losing his ambition by "degrees."

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and a junior at Shattuck school in Faribault, Minn., and I would like to get something off my chest.

Sometimes I get very angry with a few of your generation for leaving the world in such a mess for my generation to clean up. I also get mad at some of my own friends at times for being so childlike and cowardly. When I see "hippies" I thank the Lord there aren't more of them. I mean, who would mind the store while we were freaking out somewhere if we were all like that?

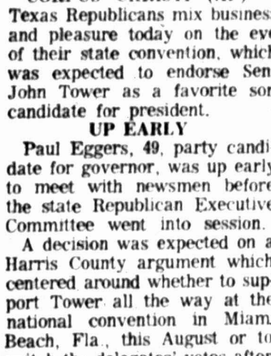

I also get frustrated with draft-card burners. Imagine what our men in Viet Nam who are fighting and dying must think of that? If a man isn't willing to fight for his freedom, he doesn't deserve to be free. As far as I'm concerned, my draft card is my deed to freedom, and if I were to burn it I would no longer be free. Sincerely yours,

BILL HUMLEKER
