Boll weevil program is proving effective

The diapause Boll weevil control program has been 96 to 97 percent effective in killing boll weevils during their hibernation period, Roy Maritz told the 41 students attending the Farm Tour and their Post hosts at the club's Tuesday luncheon in City Hall.

He said the diapause control program was here to stay to maintain control over the weevils until something better came along as a weevil weapon.

Illustrating the success of the spraying program, Maritz said that a million acres were sprayed in the control program the first year and 1,500,000 acres the second year, but that since that time in effectively checking the boll weevil invasion only little more than a half million acres had to be sprayed this last year.

Thanks to the control program, Garza County cotton farmers will suffer no economic loss because of boll weevils this year unless some loss develops in the Justiceburg area.

Maritz said there were more boll weevils in the Justiceburg area than anywhere else in the county and with so much late cotton there the weevils might have time to do some damage.

The weevil control area is 140 miles long and 40 miles wide and a fleet of 12 planes is used for the periodic sprayings.

Maritz said after the luncheon that a World War II B-17 plane is being used to spray in Lynn County because it can spray an area 600 feet wide while the other spray planes can spray areas only 100 feet wide.

County Agent Syd Conner was in charge of the program and introduced special guests, who included State Rep. Renal B. Rossom of Snyder.

Bob Collier inducted Carl Ford, new Piggy Wiggly manager, into the club as a new Rotarian.

The three-hour Tuesday morning farm tour, climaxed by the luncheon, included viewing brush strippers of three different farm machinery manufacturers in Post, and stops at the Darrel Jones home for an FHA demonstration, the Syd Conner farm to view variety and fertilizer plots, effects of crop rotation, and sweet sorghum (See Boll weevil, Page 8)

Downtown well' would make 62 in campaign

The George R. Brown interests, successful next week in coming their new "downtown well" into production, this will bring the number of new oil wells in and around Post since present drilling campaign began in August, 1965.

Jaycees choose beauty entries

Post High School seniors, Kay Gordon and Sherry Cooper, were selected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to represent the Miss South Plains pageant at Levelland on Monday.

The girls were chosen Monday by a Jaycee committee. Their sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Dean.

The winner of the pageant at Levelland will compete for the Miss South Plains title in Fort Worth next week.

Effective Nov. 10 Sledge resigns as head of hospital

Kenneth Sledge has resigned as administrator of Garza Memorial Hospital, effective Nov. 10, to accept a similar position with a new hospital soon to be opened at El Dorado, Tex.

Sledge submitted his letter of resignation to hospital trustees at their October meeting at the hospital last Thursday night.

Since Sledge has vacation time coming, he will work only through Oct. 31 and plans to begin his new duties Nov. 1.

Ed Sawyers, chairman of the hospital trustees, praised Sledge for an excellent job here and said the resignation was accepted with regret.

Sawyers said trustees at this time had no announcement to make on a successor to Sledge.

Sledge began his duties here Dec. 1 of last year when the hospital was reopening after being closed for lack of operating funds.

Sawyers told The Dispatch that the hospital is continuing to operate this year "in the black" as (See Hospital head, Page 8)

This is "Oil Progress Week" and "What Happened to the Municipal Auditorium Week?"

Today's Dispatch is its annual Oil Progress Week edition, all stuffed with ads from oil firms and service companies, and congratulating business men to once again remind readers that the oil industry is big and important here, although it isn't housed under one roof and one corporate name and paid from a single payroll.

"What Happened to the Municipal Auditorium Week?" is important too, but in a negative way.

It has left a lot of good community boosters who have been working five years to get this town some kind of an auditorium with a deep sense of frustration, disgust, and anger.

Many are convinced, this writer included, that simply by doing nothing for 10½ months, the city council and city officials have knowingly and quite effectively thwarted the will of the people.

There are those who say that no good can come from pointing the finger now that the building has been sold to somebody else.

We heartily disagree.

If Post is to progress, if somehow the present wide rift between the city council and the Chamber of Commerce is to be healed, Post needs a better set of rules by which to play the game.

Repairs planned for 'sanitarium'

The Garza County Commissioner's Court will decide at its November meeting what repairs it will make on the old Post Sanitarium building to make it ready for county office use as necessary in 1969.

County Judge J. E. Parker said the court at its October meeting Monday decided not to make any repairs until after the first of the year.

"We already have some bids," he said, "and it isn't going to cost as much as we thought it would."

In one action, Monday, the court voted not to hire any additional help for the sheriff's department during Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claiborn's convalescence with his broken leg, but to pay the one deputy, Don Rogers, an additional $50 monthly, beginning Oct. 1, to compensate for his additional duties.

Post 'loses' auditorium by city council default

Building sold to private purchaser

Post "lost" its "bargain municipal auditorium" by city council default Saturday, approximately 10½ months after 64 per cent of those voting in a referendum election approved issuance of $13,000 in time warrants for the property's purchase and improvement.

Instead, the former bowling alley building will now become the home of Farmers Supply tractor and fertilizer business.

Melvin Williams, who recently took on a tractor franchise and has been seeking a local building large enough for use as both display room, repair shop, and garage, completed the purchase of the building Saturday from the United Fidelity Life Insurance Company for $12,000.

$100 one-year supplemental increases

Williams told The Dispatch he got in touch with the insurance firm two months ago to say he was interested in buying the building if the city did not go through with its purchase for conversion to a municipal auditorium and civic center.

"I was told," Williams said, "that the City of Post had until Sept. 9 to 'make up its mind' before any others would be considered."

Williams said when he read in The Dispatch that the council at its September meeting had voted 3-2 to purchase the building that he gave up any thought of getting it.

But last Tuesday, according to Williams, a representative of the insurance firm came to Post, looked up Williams and told him the firm was ready to sell him the building.

"HE TOLD me while the city council voted in September to buy the building, it had backed out again at its October meeting," Williams said.

Williams put up his down payment last Wednesday and signed the final papers Saturday morning.

This week he already has moved his tractor business to his newly acquired property and plans to get the fertilizer tanks moved from his former location on two lots at 816 West 8th as quickly as possible.

The Post Chamber of Commerce, which purchased the two lots east of the bowling alley location in December for the city at a cost of $2,000, has been told by Williams he would take the "two lots off their hands."

The Chamber also put up $750 cash with the insurance firm for a 60-day option to purchase, on behalf of the city, after Post voters approved the issuance of $13,000 in time warrants last Dec. 5 by 178 to 102.

VERNON SCOTT told The Dispatch this week that the insurance firm still has the $750, but that he "hopes" to obtain its return to the Chamber's treasury.

The agreed upon purchase price for the building was $7,500 "as is."

Building sold to private purchaser

but a new roof costing approximately $3,200 was installed in the interim period while the city council talked and debated about the requirements for a clear title to the property which government officials contended from the beginning was not clouded whatsoever.

What Post did get out of the "community center" it never really had" was 10 months of free use.

The sale of the "municipal auditorium" to Williams has brought cancellation of the Post Ex-Students Association's homecoming plans for Friday, Oct. 25.

A. J. McAllister, president of the association, explains the cancellation in an ad appearing on page 8 of today's Dispatch.

SEVERAL other functions already had been scheduled for the building, including the schools' Halloween Carnival and a teachers' association convention here in November.

The loss of the building also brought two letters to the editor this week from citizens angered by what they described as the city's stalling tactics.

The Community Auditorium Board, presently composed of seven members appointed by the city council, at a special meeting Tuesday morning issued the following statement on the situation—signed by all seven members, Ruby S. Kirkpatrick, chairman, S. E. Camp, vice chairman, Vernon Scott, treasurer, Maxine Marks, secretary, Ed Blanton, Bertha Irons and Jack Alexander:

"For several years, the people of Post have expressed their desire for a Community Center. This desire was expressed even more fully in a public vote Dec. 5, 1967. As a result of this vote, The City of Post authorized the Chamber of (See Council default, Page 8)

Tentative salary hike voted teachers here

Post school trustees at their October meeting Monday night voted Post teachers a $100 supplemental salary increase for the 1968-69 school year only, payable Feb. 1, providing local school taxes come in as budgeted.

The action came on the recommendation of Supt. Bill Shiver after the board had authorized a plan to send four local teachers on all-expenses-paid trips to the national subject matter convention of their area of specialization.

This was another recommendation of the superintendent who explained that state supplementary salary aid could be utilized for half this amount with local funds of $1,275 in a matching amount.

Substitute teachers also would be provided by the schools for the teachers chosen to make the trips.

According to the plan adopted by the board, one teacher would be selected from each school building with the selection of the teachers to be made by the teachers themselves, based primarily on teaching excellence.

Before taking the action on the salary increase, which would put Post teaching pay at $500 over the state minimum instead of $400, trustees emphasized that the action is for one year only with no promises for the future.

Shiver told trustees that the $6,000 cost of the salary increase already was included in the budget as the board earlier had approved an amount for supplemental salary incentives with a definite plan to be worked out.

The school superintendent also was given board approval to look into setting up a constructive sex education program to be taught in Post schools, probably in junior high physical education classes.

Shiver told trustees that the Fort Worth schools began such a program last year and that he wanted to get complete information on the

Fort Worth effort before making his recommendations to the board.

He emphasized that such a subject would be taught in separate classes for boys and girls. "The question is not in getting started with such a program as soon as possible but whether we should not have begun five years ago," Shiver emphasized.

In other actions trustees:

Named Jack Lott to fill the vacancy left on the board by the resignation of Russell Wilks Jr. Lott will serve until the 1969 spring elections at which time a trustee will be elected to fill the final year of Wilks' term, as provided by law.

Authorized a new two-year contract with the Prichard & Abbott tax appraising engineering firm with the firm to receive 2½ cents for each $100 property valuation on oil valuations and those of pipelines, railroads, utilities, and industrial properties. This is an increase (See Salary hike, Page 8)

Longer run for livestock show

The 1969 Garza County Junior Livestock Show will be a three-day event instead of a two-day event, as in the past, according to the show dates set by directors at a meeting Monday night.

March 14, 15 and 16 were set as the dates of the show, with those dates also to include the annual Garza County Fair.

Directors expressed the hope that the 1969 show will be held in the proposed new show building for which a fund drive is now under way.

"The public can help make this possible by contributing to our show and community building fund," a show director said following Monday night's meeting.

The new building, which would be available to the public for community meetings, would cost $24,200. The directors have until next Wednesday to raise $10,000 of this amount in order to secure the bid. They reported Wednesday that approximately $6,500 had been raised.

Anyone not already contacted who wishes to make a contribution may mail it to Garza County Junior Livestock Association, Box 323, Post, Texas.

UF Talent Show set for Monday

The 1969 United Fund kickoff breakfast will be held at 7 o'clock Friday, Oct. 18, at Floyd's Steak House, with the campaign officially to get under way with a talent show at the Post primary school auditorium at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 21.

All committeemen are urged to attend the kickoff breakfast, at which the United Fund cards will be given out, according to Bailey Mayo, UF president.

A fun night of family entertainment for the entire community is in store at Monday night's talent show.

Some of those appearing in the talent show will be: George M. Willson and his "Top Twenty"; vocal solos; guitarist Rocky Gribble; Post Girl Scouts; Bruce Sanderson; a pantomime, "Alvin," by a group of third and fourth grade boys; and "The Holy Roman Empire."

Other individuals and groups are being contacted to appear on the talent show. Anyone wishing to help or take part in the event is asked to telephone A. J. McAllister at 2626 or Bailey Mayo at 2121.

No admission will be charged to the talent show, but there will be a receptacle in the building for those wishing to make United Fund contributions.

The Big Gift Division is already at work and has been making contacts this week, according to Harold Lucas, campaign chairman.

The initial big gift report will be made at Friday's breakfast.

The 1969 United Fund goal is $10,000.

Expert studying school problems

Dr. W. E. Barron, director of the extension teaching field service bureau for the University of Texas, is in Post completing a two and one-half day study and evaluation of the Post Schools' maintenance problems and insurance coverage.

Dr. Barron visits the local schools annually to advise on various phases of school operations.

He arrived Tuesday morning and was scheduled to report his findings to school trustees at a special luncheon meeting today prior to his return to Austin.

No school Monday due to seminar

Post school students will get an "extra holiday" Monday while local teachers and administrators attend an all-day Post Sensitivity Seminar in the Primary School Auditorium from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Supt. Bill Shiver, who arranged for the seminar, said that "the focus will be on sensitivity training with primary concern on teaching minority groups."

The seminar will be conducted by Maurice Dutton, staff specialist of the Texas Educational Desegregation Technical Assistance Center at Austin and seven staff members.

A followup seminar workshop is now scheduled for Nov. 8, Shiver said.

Day Care Center begins operation

The Post Day Care Center opened smoothly Tuesday at its facilities in the First Methodist Church with 14 children enrolled, according to the supervisor, Mrs. Jewell Graham.

The center is in operation from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

As the center is designed for 20 children this means that applications are still being accepted. Working mothers, who cannot afford regular day care commercial rates, may contact Mrs. Graham at the church or pick up application blanks at The Post Dispatch.

In answer to requests, a spokesman for the Day Care Center board, said that the center is not licensed to take care of children on a day-to-day basis. Children must be signed up to attend full time.

Post Jaycees completed the fencing for the play yard over the weekend with Bob Carpenter, a member of that organization, furnishing the boards for the fence.

Mrs. Betty Cook has volunteered her services to work one day a week at the center. Other volunteers were named in last week's paper. Anyone interested in volunteering may call Mrs. Jeri Lott.

Good sturdy toys are still needed for use at the center, particularly toys, such as trucks, etc., for boys. Anyone wishing to donate toys may take them to the church or call any board member for pickup.

First for Post All-Girl Rodeo is Saturday, Sunday

What is billed as "the largest all girl rodeo ever to be held in the Southwest" and the first all girl rodeo to be held in Post is scheduled for two performances at the Post Stampede Arena this weekend.

The opening show under direction of Dick Conlee of Lubbock with L. D. Jackson of Post as arena director, is scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday with the final performance at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Between 500 and 600 entries, including the best cowgirls on the rodeo circuit, are expected here

Absentee voting starts for Nov. 5 election

Absentee voting in the Nov. 5 general election got under way Wednesday at the county clerk's office in the courthouse and will continue through Nov. 1.

Those wishing to vote absentee in person at the county clerk's office are reminded to bring their voter registration certificate with them.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1968

The good that women can do

The Post Child Day Care Center which opened in the First Methodist Church Tuesday morning is a graphic example of the good that women can do—and of the dogged, never-give-up attitude they adopt when they take on a project.

Born as one of many projects this summer of Post's Community Action Committee, it was the toughest of the projects and the only one to be fully carried out.

The women involved remained undaunted when faced with the necessity of raising a $5,000 budget, finding an approved rent-free place in which to conduct the center, in qualifying by meeting rigid requirements for state approval, and in securing women volunteers to operate the center with one paid center director.

It's all been done and Tuesday the center was opened to children of all races of working mothers who cannot afford to pay commercial day rates.

The women who have carried the project through have received real cooperation from many organizations and individuals, including the First Methodist Church for making church facilities available, the United Fund for including the project for $2,000 for 1969, to many individuals who have made private contributions ranging from $5 to $200 each, and for many organizations which have made varying kinds of donations. Such include the Post Jaycees who built the play yard fence over the last weekend and the Future Farmers of America who are building playground equipment for the play yard.

Credit for carrying through on the day care center rightfully goes to many local women, but the one who has given the most time and effort and headed up the project from the beginning is Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby.

The Dispatch here is not trying to give credit to all to whom it is due, but to point to the fact that Post now has a new facility. It wasn't an easy one to organize, but we have it.

And it will serve as the "pilot project"—the community showing what it can do on its own—which will lead to federal funds for this project and possibly others next year. The federal people want to be shown that a community is ready to go and prove it can get the job done before pouring in federal funds.—JC

Oil progress is many things

Oil progress is a big boost in oil taxable valuations for city and school district this year from George R. Brown's extensive drilling program inside and around the edges of Post.

Oil progress is the beginning of extensive water flooding in the older of Garza County oil fields which, if successful, will assure many more years of additional oil production from these fields.

Oil progress is the continuing search for oil in Garza County. Wildcats are still being drilled, new areas are being leased for future exploration. All this is not on a big scale of course as back in the 1950s, but it is Oil Progress.

This is Oil Progress Week in Post and Garza

County and The Dispatch again presents in this—its Oil Progress Edition—graphic proof needed that the oil industry is certainly a major industry in every sense of the word in this area.

Most oil production and service firms have taken ads of all sizes in this issue to show the reading public how big and important their industry is.

Certainly, it packs a multi-million dollar wallop for Garza's economy.

The Dispatch and many local merchants in this edition salute our oil industry for the contributions it has made and is continuing to make to the progress and well being of Post and Garza County.

Yours is an important job well done.—JC

Accent on youth in United Fund drive

Along with its myriad of other outstanding events, October brings Garza County's 1968 United Fund campaign, which will get under way on all fronts Monday, Oct. 21.

The emphasis is on local agencies and the accent is on youth in the campaign, which has as its goal the raising of $10,000.

Directors of the United Fund, "thinking young," added the Post Day Care Center as a new project and are continuing their support of other youth organizations—Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Garza County Youth Center and Summer Baseball Program.

United Fund campaign workers will make a special effort to contact everyone in this year's drive. It will be an easy matter, however, for anyone who is "missed" to voluntarily make his contribution to the United Fund.

As always, the United Fund has "everything going" for it as a most worthwhile community and county effort. One of the biggest things going for it is the fact that a United Fund drive eliminates the necessity of multiple campaigns and also affords the agencies the united support of all sectors of the community.—CD

Dear Turnrow Junkel

O. C. McBride

I understand that a new limousine is being built for presidential use. It will weigh 8,000 pounds.

If Geo. Wallace should be elected, it would take a lot of LSD to make a demonstrator crazy enough to lie down in front of that thing.

Don't you think Curt Flood should have caught that fly ball in the seventh inning in the last game of the World Series?

Yes, but that's the way my luck runs. I had a little bet on the Cards, and Flood comes up with "Dodge Fever" on a crucial play.

Did you read that Orville Freeman is being mentioned for a job as head of the Association of American Railroads?

That figures. The railroads are trying to eliminate many of their passenger trains, and Orville is an expert at elimination. He has eliminated more farmers than the boll weevil.

Do you think newsmen are guilty of biased reporting of riots and violence in the U. S.?

Maybe in a few cases, but most reporters are just trying to do their jobs, and it's their duty to be where the action is. I felt sorry for one fellow I read about—after covering the Chicago convention, he was assigned to the corner of Commerce and Akard in Dallas on the night before the Texas-O.U. game. I understand he has asked to be sent to Vietnam for "rest and recuperation."

Did you read that Red China's defense minister has abolished rank in the Chinese army? All soldiers are considered to be equal.

That should be a fighting outfit, but most of the fighting will be to decide who pulls K. P. duty.

YOU CAN ALWAYS tell an election is creeping up by the opening of the absentee voting period, which is just what happened here Wednesday. Don't be caught short on your vote... if you're going to be out of town Tuesday, Nov. 5, be sure to vote absentee.

The man up the street says a football coach's toughest problems are defensive linebacks and offensive alumni.

ONE OF THE silliest bits of advertising I've seen on TV in a long time is the sales pitch for colored television which says, "Watch the election returns in color." That, in my opinion, is one telecast where it doesn't make any difference whether you're watching in color or black and white. Come to think of it, though, it probably would make some difference to one of the presidential candidates.

Hold on just a little longer; Daylight Saving Time will end Oct. 27.

A FELLOW ON the Des Moines Register is in a jam. He writes as follows:

"I think I'm in big trouble. I was going through my pockets today and I found something I can't explain.

"A DOLLAR. I've paid my income tax, and my state tax. I've paid the amusement tax, sales tax, hospital tax and gasoline tax.

"I've paid taxes for medicine and for old age benefits. I've paid the liquor tax, the cigarette tax, the automobile tax, the school tax and the tax to put up a bridge at the other end of the country.

"When I pay my lawyer 600 bucks, I pay tax on that, and so does he. I pay tax on the money I give to the babysitter and the real estate salesman and the man who makes out my income tax for each year.

"So how come I've still got a DOLLAR?

"Obviously I've made a mistake somewhere and overlooked a tax. But I distinctly remember paying my road tax, the excise tax, the defense tax and the tax to provide more scholarships for kids to go to the university so they can tell me how rotten the system is.

"I've paid my taxes for sewers, bombs, wheat for India, the senate, and public transportation.

"Yes, I've paid the water tax. And when they charge us an air tax to clean up the pollution, I'll pay that, too.

"I confess I haven't paid my death taxes yet.

"But I will. I've paid my taxes for parks, fire protection, law enforcement. I've paid my taxes to help the farmer, the Indian and the unmarried mother.

"I wouldn't dream of going fishing, owning a dog, or getting married without first paying the tax. I pay taxes on the toothpaste I use when I get up in the morning and I pay taxes on the pillow I rest my head on when the day is over.

"How come I've got this dollar in my pocket? Where did it come from? Did somebody put it there to get me in trouble? Is there a tax when you find a dollar like that?

"I'm not sure.

"But I know the government is going to be sore when they find out I've got it."

The 1968 rodeo season is over in most places, but Post is not one of them. If you're a rodeo fan, you won't want to miss the All-Girl Rodeo here Saturday and Sunday.

SOMEONE REMARKED last week when they heard the community auditorium project had fallen through, "Well, there goes another dream down the drain." I disagree. No worthwhile dream ever went down a drain. The words "dream" and "drain" are too far apart for there to be any affinity between the two. Let's just say the "busted dream" woke us up to a number of things we needed to know and we'll wake up from the next one with the community auditorium a reality.

Dedications set at BU homecoming

WACO — Dedication of the $3.8 million W. L. Moody Library is scheduled to highlight the 1968 Homecoming activities at Baylor University.

Groundbreaking of the library, which opened at the beginning of the current school year, was part of Baylor's annual Homecoming celebration two years ago.

A full schedule of events is planned for the university's Homecoming activities Oct. 23 through 26, with the library dedication set for 2 p. m. Oct. 26. The Lloyd Russell Intramural Gymnasium also will be dedicated during Homecoming festivities at 4 p. m. Oct. 25.

The remainder of the Homecoming schedule will observe the usual format leading to the crowning of the Homecoming Queen at half-time of the Baylor-Texas A&M football game Saturday night.

Genealogists of Texas schedule state convention

AUSTIN — County, church and family historians are invited to attend the annual Texas State Genealogical Society convention Nov. 8-9 in Austin's historic Driskill Hotel, where the distinguished author, historian, and director of the Boston Athenaeum, Dr. Walter Muir Whitehall, will speak on "The Local Historian."

John Insley Coddington of Bordentown, N. J., a founding member of the American Society of Genealogists, will be the speaker for the convention's opening and closing luncheons. He will discuss "The Perfect Genealogist" and "The World Genealogist."

Bill R. Linder, editor of The Genealogical Society Observer and chairman for the 1969 World Convention and Seminar on Genealogy, to be held Aug. 5-8, 1969, in Salt Lake City, will present a program on records during a workshop at the convention.

"Anyone interested in local, church and family history is invited to attend," said Mrs. Edna Perry Decker, TSGS president, of Fort Worth. Host for the convention will be the Austin Genealogical Society. Information about the convention may be obtained by writing TSGS, 2518 University, Fort Worth.

been raised by Marines throughout the United States for direct support of the 1st Marine Amphibious Force. They average $13,000 a month, which is deposited into a special account.

Though primarily a project of the Marine Reserves, active duty Leathernecks especially those on recruiting and Inspector - Instructor staffs, are deeply involved in the program, which has mushroomed since 1965.

"Marines became totally involved," said General Drake, who became director of the Marine Corps Reserve shortly after the program was adopted. "From the Commandant on down, Marines were enthusiastic in their own civic action program."

Donations are sent to CARE.
Some is banked in the United States and some banked in Vietnam. As needed, it is withdrawn by CARE. The Commanding General, III Marine Amphibious Force, has ready access to funds for special projects.

Though the general is a Marine,
and the fund is primarily a Marine Corps project, the funds are not restricted to Marine Corps activities, but are available to all allied units serving in the northern tactical zone of the Republic of Vietnam, or what is known as "I Corps."

Certainly, the III MAF Commander is a busy man. Why then "addle" him with the responsibility of a civic action project?

The Marine Corps places such importance on the program, that the general has been given the responsibility of the revolving fund.
He is advised by Lt. Col. E. J.

Safe Driving Tips

PICK SAFE HIGHWAYS. On your next motor trip, if you have an alternate route, pick the divided highway protected by a tough steel median barrier to prevent cross-over head-on collisions. Such accidents cause 16.7 percent of all highway fatalities, have been responsible for 120,- 000 deaths in the last two decades. Divided highways with protected medians are three times safer than ordinary roads.

FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT.
Last year, 8,000 persons who lost their lives in highway accidents would be alive today had they worn seat belts, says the National Safety Council. Another 2,000 motorists who were in serious accidents in which they might otherwise have been killed, are alive today because they were wearing their seat belts when the accidents occurred.

"DEFENSIVE DRIVING," are watchwords of the National Safety Council. This meaning is simple: drive your car as well as you can, but leave a margin of safety between you and the driver in the next car. He may do the unexpected. Be prepared for it.

Girl Scouts to take part in UF program

Junior Girl Scout Troop 331 will participate in the United Fund entertainment to be presented on Monday, Oct. 21.

This troop meets every other Monday from 6 to 7:30 p. m., and recently elected the following officers: President, Jana McKamle; vice president and reporter, Carol Davis; secretary, Kim Hester; treasurer, Sherry Compton; Neighborhood Council representatives, Renee Thomas and Shirley Allen; service chairman, Lee Ann Gandy.

Troop members also planned a papier mache project and will attend Camp Rio Blanco, along with all the other Post Girl Scouts, Nov. 22 for two days. They will be joined on Saturday by the Post Brownies.

Girl Scouts meet at Little House
Girl Scout Troop 445 met Tuesday after school at the Little House and made plans to help entertain at the United Fund program Monday night.

Plans were made to start work on Indian Lore badges next week when Chief Frank Runkles will meet with the troop.

Tammye Thomas, president, served refreshments to Lorry Chapman, Gina Birkes, Karen Blanton, Kim Mitchell, Darla Mason, Christy Davis, Kim Plaster, Terri Clary, Donna Walker and Cynthia Morris.

Names program is heard by Lions
Members of the Post Lions Club heard a program on family names—how and where they originated—at Tuesday night's dinner meeting at Floyd's Steak House.

The program was presented by Charles Didway, editor of The Post Dispatch, who, as a hobby, has compiled information on thousands of surnames. He told each of the members present the origin and meaning of their family name.

Announcement was made at the meeting that Oct. 29 is Ladies' Night, at which time the Lions district governor will make his annual visit to the Post club.

Mystic Sewing Club holds dinner party

The Reddy Room was the scene of a dinner party when members of the Mystic Sewing Club entertained their husbands last Saturday night.

Elmer Butler gave the invocation. After eating "42" was played. The group also sang "Happy Birthday" to T. C. Polk, Tom Williams and Jim Shipley, who have October birthdays.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Runkles, Mr. and Mrs. Polk, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hudman, Mr. and Mrs. Everette Windham and Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Winnie Henderson.

Housewarming held in Reeds' new residence
Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Reed were complimented with a housewarming at their new home in Justiceburg, Oct. 9, when 85 friends called between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock at night.

Coffee, punch and cookies were served. Hostesses for the occasion were: Mmes. Riley Miller, John Boren, Donnie Cole, Tommy Forrest, Carlos Bass, Tom Middleton, Delwin Fluitt, Jack Morrison and Imon Newman.

Mrs. Jerry Morris is sewing club hostess
The Mystic Sewing Club met last Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jerry Morris with Mrs. Annie Hodges as hostess.

She served open - faced sandwiches, cheese, pineapple cubes, olives, punch and cake to Mmes. Ruby Butler, Catherine Rankin, Winnie Henderson, Edna McLendon, Pearl Polk and Jimmie Hudman, who will be hostess of the Oct. 25 meeting.

India leads in world production of hand - woven cloth with about 2 billion square yards annually.

 OPEN DAILY

Mr. C and I took a trip into the past last Friday night as we were cleaning out drawers in a couple of end tables that had been stored in our carport for about seven years. The fact that they have been setting out there for that length of time puts me in the same category as Phyllis Diller who is behind (is it eight years?) with her ironing. I'm afraid.

The contents of the drawers were "things" belonging to the Misses C's and furnished us with a lot of chuckles and memories as we unearthed the following: One rabbit's foot, (the fur had been completely destroyed by moths and only a thin long bone remained) a Turkey Creek (Girl Scout camp) pennant. Spin and Marty funny books (from the early days of Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse Club TV program) hand made yellow braids (all that was left of a Dutch girls' costume made by Mrs. C for Halloween one year) Girl Scout collapsible drinking cup and belt, a blouse that Miss C the younger had saved due to it having a "pig" pocket, dozens of pictures of pigs (Miss C the younger had a "thing" about pigs for years), a hat purchased at Disneyland, an unopened fortune cookie, odds and ends of jewelry, three pennies and letters from little friends they left behind in Pratt, Kans., as we moved to Post.

The eldest Miss C had just completed the 6th grade when we moved here and evidently left behind her
 "first true love" as we found
 "love" letters from a boy named Howard. We also found "notes" from Howard, one of which was a most repetitious it was a page filled with "I Love You's" with an added note threatening to "kill" her if she showed it to anyone!

The most exciting find, though,
 was a newspaper published by the Misses C's called GAIL'S GAB, which was published Aug. 6, 1956, in Pratt. Excerpts, as written, follow:

DISHES CAN BE DANGEROUS
 Priscilla, Carolyn's little sister, broke her collar bone last week.
 She was getting some dishes from the cupboard and she fell down and Hope she is getting better.

RETURN HOME
 The Kintons went to Colorado to visit their newly wed daughter.
 They brought Christine a bracelet and Susan two pigs for her pig collection.

VACATIONING
 The Bodwells are on vacation, but we do not know where they are going. Hope they have a good time.

ACCIDENTS
 Linda's tooth came out Wednesday night while she was eating supper. She put it under her pillow but the "fares" were late. But Thursday night she got 75 cents.
 Carolyn's eye started hurting the other day so she went to the doctor and he said she was allergic to the chlorine in the swimming pool.

NEW CLOTHES
 Linda got some new shoes. They are brown with two buttons in the front and bows in the back.

Helen Cornish is going to make her daughters some new dresses soon.

Susan has a new bathing suit.
 WOW, WOW, WOW!

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM CLARENCE DEWALT JR.

Former resident of Post is wed in California ceremony

Miss Julia Diane Martell became the bride of William Clarence DeWalt Jr. recently when double ring wedding vows were read by the Rev. Frederick Mau-at the Emanuel American Lutheran Church at Lodi, Calif.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martell of Lodi. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William (Bill) DeWalt of Santa Rosa, Calif. former owners of a flower shop in Post.

The altar was decorated with an arrangement of peach gladiolas and white stock flanked by baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The bride wore the gown in which her grandmother, Mrs. Alma V. Hart, was wed to the late Albert Hart 57 years ago. The cotton, satin - trimmed dress had a high neckline, lace yoke and elbow - length sleeves, fine pleats and a satin sash. Her short veil was secured by a headpiece of petite velvet and satin flowers.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and bouvardia.

Miss Delphine Hirasuna was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were folded after a couple of weeks. We could have told them that no newspaper survives long without advertising!

Miss Colette DeWalt, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Teena Rollman of Walnut Creek, and Miss Margo Campbell of San Francisco. They wore floor - length A - line dresses of polished cotton, in a floral print of beige and apricot, styled with scoop necklines and empire waistlines accented with apricot bows and streamers. Matching bow head pieces, created by the bride's mother, held their veils. The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of white, yellow and tangerine elegance, and the bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of yellow elegance and baby tropicana roses.

Susan Questo served as flower girl and Mrs. Avery Gassin sang
 "Oh, Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer". James Gassin lighted the candles.

Roger Foo of San Francisco was best man. Seating the guests were Larry Betten, Cedric Young and David Martell, brother of the bride.

A reception and dinner was held at Mieke Memorial Building where tables were decorated with arrangements of grapes and flowers.

The three - tiered wedding cake was adorned with a pair of Bisque cupid which had been used at the wedding of the bride's parents.

After a honeymoon trip to San Francisco, Carmel and Southern California, the couple is residing in Daly City.

The bride graduated with honors from Delta College and summa cum laude from San Francisco State College. She was president of Alpha Gamma Sigma, scholastic honor society, and a homecoming princess while at Delta College. Mr. DeWalt was also graduated from Delta and San Francisco State Colleges. He was vice president of Alpha Gamma Sigma and a member of the Judo Club

Arleta Sue Robinson wed to Jimmy Dan Green at Austin

Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson of Lockhart, formerly of Post, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Arleta Sue, to Jimmy Dan Green, which took place Oct.
 5 at Hyde Park Baptist Church in Austin at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr.
 and Mrs. Howard C. Green of Snyder. The minister, Dr. Ralph M.

 Smith, officiated at the ceremony amid a setting of white gladiolas and red carnations.

Given in marriage by her father,
 the bride wore a gown of ivory satin featuring a lace bodice and long, fitted lace sleeves tapering to points over the wrist. The train was chapel-length and her fingertip veil was attached to a pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations, and carried out the traditional something old,
 new, borrowed and blue.

Mrs. Johnnie Gass of Lubbock was matron of honor and Mrs.
 Jimmy Smith of Post was brides-matron. Miss Nancy Robinson, sister of the bride, and Miss Connie Baker, niece of the bridegroom, lighted the candles. Another niece of the bridegroom, Miss Kay Mitchell, was flower girl.

Douglas Coppock of Houston was best man and Don Skiles of Brownfield was groomsman. Ushers were Craig Tannahill and Mitch Carrah.

Pat Tannahill of Austin was organist and played a medley of selections by Chopin and Bach, and the bride and bridegroom's favorite song, "Indian Love Call."

Miss Argan Robinson, sister of the bride, registered the guests at the reception. The table was laid with white net over a white cloth and featured a three - tiered wedding cake decorated with wedding bells and roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Messrs. B. E. Baker and Jim Mitchell, sisters of the bridegroom, served.

The bride is a graduate of Post
 High School and is a hair stylist in Austin. Mr. Green is an employee of Radio Station KVET in Austin.

Guests attended from Austin,
 Fort Worth, Brownfield, Lockhart, Wrenn, Corpus Christi, Houston and Post.

Oil Well? Maybe!

● The search for oil is one of the world's riskiest businesses! For every successful oil well drilled in new territory eight prove to be costly dry holes.
 That's why it's always great news for everybody when an oil producing company like ours brings in a successful oil well.

Yes—good news for everybody! You see, every new oil well means more gasoline for your car, more heating fuel for your home and more of the hundreds of oil products that make today's living so much more comfortable.

In America's competitive and progressive oil industry, everyone has a special job. It's our job to produce ample oil supplies for your future.

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

I had tentatively planned to begin this column with "Out of the pan and into the soup" or however that old saying goes, but, surprisingly, there hasn't been a single complaint about our new library hours since they went into effect two weeks ago. As a matter of fact, circulation has picked up tremendously, so we're assuming that the majority of our patrons approve of the switch. Groovy. We're delighted when you are. (delighted.)

Here's a list of the new hours in case anyone missed them the first time around. If your memory is bad, cut them out and keep them in some handy spot for reference:

Monday: 2-6 p. m.
Tuesday: 4-6 p. m., 7-9 p. m.
Wednesday: 2-6 p. m.
Thursday: 4-6 p. m., 7-9 p. m.
Friday: 2-6 p. m.
Saturday: 9-12 a. m.

The library received two large boxes of books from Mrs. C. E. Shattler of St. Petersburg, Fla., this week.

We also received a $10 contribution for our library fund in memory of R. H. Collier Sr. from Mr. and Mrs. Bill Woods and family of Midland.

Our thanks to Mrs. Shattler and the Woods.

Library Aides Chairman Pee Wee Pierce wants magazines, as a number of students come to the library every Thursday night in need of current events for Friday reports. If you subscribe to any particular magazines, we'd appreciate it if you could bring your copies by each week after you've finished reading them, or contact Pee Wee and she can pick them up.

You know those quarters we've been collecting for a Gaylord No. 4010 book rack? Well, the price of the rack just went up $10, and since we've been collecting quarters for a year and we're still less than halfway there, I decided that what we really needed was new books anyway, so I shot the whole wad ($42) at Pix Bookstore last Thursday. Hope this is all right with everyone that gave quarters. As Ruth Ann Newby put it, "How adaptable."

Acquisition Chairman Helen Cornish and I are planning another spurge at Pix sometime during the next month or so. If you have any special books in mind which you'd like to see us get, speak now or forever hold your peace. (Until the next spurge at least.)

The moon's distance from earth varies from 221,463 miles when it is nearest to 252,710 miles when at its farthest point.

Dr. QUIZMEE

If you are the first to submit a question to Dr. Quizmee, our information specialist, for an answer in his column, we will present to you, free, the full, illustrated, 25-volume set of Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia. Mail your question to Dr. Quizmee in care of this newspaper.

This week's winners of the encyclopedia are:

Virginia Grimmer who asked: "When and by whom was the bicycle invented?"

The first two-wheeled vehicle with a steering device was designed by Baron Karl von Drais in 1816. He called it the draisine. But a crude, two-wheeled vehicle propelled by the feet was popular as early as 1690.

Mrs. Nettie Parrott for the question: "When and where did 'seeing eye' dogs for the blind come into use?"

In 1929, The Seeing Eye, a non-profit organization in Morristown, New Jersey, began to supply at least 100 dogs each year at a nominal charge. But sketches discovered in the ruins of Herculaneum, which was destroyed in 79 A.D., indicate that dogs were used to lead the blind that long ago.

Mrs. Frank L. Mitchell whose question is: "What was Panama before it became an independent republic?"

In 1821, Panama declared itself independent of Spain which had taken possession of the area in 1508. From 1821 Panama was subject — on and off — to Colombian sovereignty until 1903, after which date it proclaimed its independence from that country.

'Great Books' college offers scholarships to students of area

SANTA FE, N. M. — St. John's College in Santa Fe, N. M., will offer 30 scholarships worth $6,000 each to students in the Southwest, a spokesman announced today.

The scholarships for students entering the college in the fall of 1969 will be awarded on the basis of individual merit and ability, without consideration of financial need.

Friends of the college started the last year to give more young people in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas the opportunity to participate in St. John's intensive liberal arts curriculum which is built around the reading and discussion of the greatest books of the Western world.

Each scholarship is worth $1,500 a year for four years, renewable annually upon successful completion of the previous year's work. Interested high school students should talk to their counselors or write directly to the Director of Admission, St. John's College, Santa Fe, N. M. 87501.

"I'm Not Good Enough . . ."

(Second in Series)

By Bernard S. Ramsey

That's Jack Smith's second excuse for being AWOL from Church . . . "I'M NOT GOOD ENOUGH."

And Jack Smith is a bit taken aback when I so quickly agree with him. "You are so right, Mr. Smith, I don't believe you are good enough to be in the church either. In fact, no person living is ever quite good enough, if they were they wouldn't need the church."

Remember, Mr. Smith, that is the very reason Christ established His Church and died for us. And he died for men, Mr. Smith, NOT AFTER MAN HAD CEASED TO SIN BUT WHILE HE YET SINNED. You remember what he said: "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners." There has never been a perfect person in any church. Every person in the church is a sinner, if not by commission, then by omission.

We are in the church because we are imperfect people trying to grow better. Indeed, the church is a spiritual hospital filled with sinners who are trying to get well. You go to the hospital to get well . . . you don't get well first and then go."

But Jack Smith hasn't begun to present his excuses for being AWOL from Church and so he says: "Now look here, Preacher . . . I . . ."

HOW DOES IT WORK?

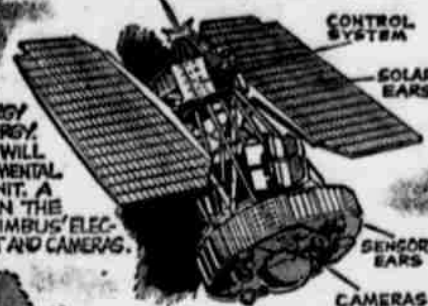

A WEATHER SATELLITE

LONG-RANGE WEATHER FORECASTING WILL BE A REALITY SOME DAY—THANKS TO METEOROLOGICAL SATELLITES WHICH ARE HELPING SOLVE THE MYSTERY OF WHAT MAKES THE WEATHER CHANGE.

THE MOST ADVANCED WEATHER SATELLITE IS THE NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION'S NIMBUS. DESIGNED AND BUILT BY GENERAL ELECTRIC'S SPACE SYSTEMS ORGANIZATION, MAKING 14 ORBITS EVERY 24 HOURS, IT TRANSMITS 1300 DAILY PHOTOGRAPHS OF CLOUD FORMATIONS TO 350 GROUND STATIONS AROUND THE WORLD. NIMBUS IS THE FIRST WEATHER SATELLITE ABLE TO KEEP ITS CAMERAS POINTED CONTINUOUSLY TOWARD EARTH.

THE CRAFT'S PRIMARY SOURCE OF POWER, TWO 8'x5' "PANELS," CONTAINS 10,000 SOLAR CELLS THAT CONVERT SOLAR ENERGY INTO ELECTRICAL ENERGY. THE THIRD NIMBUS WILL CONTAIN AN EXPERIMENTAL NUCLEAR POWER UNIT, A "SENSORY RING" ON THE BOTTOM HOLDS NIMBUS' ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT AND CAMERAS.

TO KEEP NIMBUS STABLE, AND ITS CAMERAS POINTED TOWARD EARTH, THE SATELLITE USES A STABILIZATION SYSTEM BASED ON THE PRINCIPLE THAT EARTH IS HOT, SPACE IS COLD. TWO INFRARED SCANNERS RELAY ANY DEVIATION FROM THE PROPER HOT-COLD POSITION TO A COMPUTER THAT AUTOMATICALLY READJUSTS THE CRAFT. THIS IS THE MOST EFFECTIVE STABILIZATION SYSTEM YET DESIGNED FOR AN ORBITING SPACECRAFT.

FACTS VERIFIED BY THE SPACE SYSTEMS ORGANIZATION OF GENERAL ELECTRIC.

Navy seeks construction workers for enlistment in Seabee units

(Editor's Note: The U. S. Navy Recruiting Station in Lubbock seeks construction men for the Navy Seabees and has submitted the following article in the interest of its recruiting campaign.)

Yesterday, in World War II, they built, burrowed and blasted their way from the shores of Europe to the far-flung islands of the vast Pacific. In the Korean War they floated their fabulous pontoon bridges in support of General Mac-

Arthur's historic Inchon landing. Today, every Mobile Construction Battalion is committed day and night to the greatest construction job in history — building for freedom in Vietnam.

While Seabees have the finest training and equipment in the world, countless stories are told of their legendary ability to find a way to do any job, under any conditions, anywhere!

Today in Vietnam: Seabees are building: deep-water ports; floating and fixed piers; landing fields and helicopter pads; camps and cantonments; storage structures (open, covered, dry and refrigerated); water, sewage and electrical systems; roads and highways; command and communication centers; field and base hospitals; maintenance and repair depots; gravel and rock quarries and crushers — and every other type of structure and facility needed by a nation defending its freedom against Communist aggression.

Seabee Civic Action: Seabees help villagers build farm to market roads, erect small bridges, raise and repair meeting halls, schools and orphanages; dig wells, improve sanitation; install gravel pits and lumber yards; and provide medical treatment in villages where doctors are rareties.

What's in it for You? We welcome every race, creed and national origin. The enlistment is for 30 months at a rating up to chief petty officer if you qualify. Your specialty will be the same as your civilian specialty and you can learn additional construction skills. Thirty days paid leave per year. How Do You Get In? If you are under 40 years of age, in good physical health and have a construction skill, call collect PO-585-41, Extension 328, Lubbock.

IS IT TOO LATE?

Dear Editor:
It was with deep regret that I learned last Thursday afternoon that the City Attorney, Carleton P. Webb; Mayor John Hopkins, and City Supt. Eddie Warren and some of the City Council members had been successful in sitting, doing exactly nothing for the month of September and let the building that we as taxpaying citizens had voted to purchase as a Community Center be sold to another buyer.

I learned in The Dispatch that same day that Mayor Hopkins, not a member of his local Chamber of Commerce, was in Austin attending a meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

I have been unable to learn just whose responsibility it really was to notify the company that we would buy the building, but with the above mentioned and a city secretary it seems that some that didn't want it set it out.

This gets me to wondering — and I have already paid my taxes this year — if they do all of the city business accordingly.

I guess they get so relaxed at the meetings in those elaborate easy chairs in those elaborate business.

I have been employed as secretary of the Post Chamber of Commerce for six years and only two of the councilmen are members. Does the City Council and City know that the Chamber of Commerce works for the City of Post? We do things that are really their responsibility.

In trying to secure the Community Center we spent lots of money and time.

I have worked hard and have done my share to try to keep Post on the map. My home is here and I do hate to see the little town die!

Perhaps a few eyes will be opened.

IS IT TOO LATE?

Sincerely,
Helen Livingston

BIG PETROLEUM PAYROLL

The Texas petroleum industry employs some 293,500 persons (about one out of every 16 Texas workers) with wages of $1.5 billion annually.

TO PREVENT POLLUTION

To prevent pollution, each day Texas oil men put over 5 million barrels of oil field salt water back into the ground.

More than 50 countries took part in World War II. There are 18,450 post offices in Japan.

Our Salute . . . To Garza County's Oil Men

Oil is a mighty important industry for us all. It's spread out over so much area it's hard to realize how much it does include.

We congratulate you oil men on the vital economic contributions you are making every day to our community.

Pinkies

These Oil Facts Tell Garza Story!

More than $15,392,043 of economic stimulation for Garza County flow from its oil and gas wells each year.

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Garza County in 1966 produced 5,150,000 barrels of crude oil valued at $15,296,584 and 734,300,000 cubic feet of natural gas valued at $95,459.

Garza ranks 74th among 206 producing Texas counties in production.

In 1967 oil and gas operators drilled 43 wells in Garza County. Of these 7 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association estimates Garza operators spent more than $3,161,614 in drilling in 1967 — of which $945,724 was lost in dry holes.

Texas Employment Commission figures for 1967 show some 192 workers directly employed in oil and gas operation with a payroll in excess of $461,768.

The state treasury received $710,325 in production taxes from Garza wells in 1966 paid by producers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $706,643 and natural gas production $6,682.

DISAPPOINTED STUDENT

Dear Editor:
A feeling of disappointment was aired around the halls of Post High School when it was learned that the proposed city auditorium had been sold because of an oversight by the City Council.

The student body had plans to have a Halloween carnival, Christmas dance, Homecoming dance and, most of all, the Junior-Senior banquet in the city auditorium. However, when the news came out that the building had been sold for other purposes, all of these plans were ruined.

Now, the Halloween carnival will have to be held at the high school and other large functions will have to be held at the Youth Center or in one of the gyms.

All I'm trying to say is that not only did the town of Post lose something of great value, but the youth of Post lost something which was meaningful and dearly needed by them.

Steve Newby

A LOUD PROTEST

Dear Editor:
A lynching? — no.
Tar and feathers? — well, maybe.

A loud protest? — yes, that's it. A loud protest against the City Council of Post whose stalling tactics resulted in a loss of the city auditorium property to Mr. Melvin Williams. Several members of the City Council openly admitted they didn't think the city needed the auditorium and resisted all efforts to complete the purchase — this in defiance of the mandate of the majority of voters who approved the purchase.

As one of the majority who voted for the purchase — I PROTEST.

David Newby

P. S.: Is it possible that one of the members of the City Council encouraged Mr. Williams to buy the property?

LEAVING WITH REGRET

Dear Jim:
I am writing an open letter to you and your readers. I give my full permission for you to publish it in any form you so desire, or not publish it at all, at your discretion.

I will soon be leaving Post with much regret. My family and I came to Post in December, unknown to all, but readily accepted and respected. The Post Dispatch, in an article, said it would be a rocky road, which it most assuredly has been. I would be most grateful if the people of Post would allow me to extend my thanks and gratitude in this manner, as I cannot possibly thank personally so many who have stood behind us, supported us, and pushed us when we needed it.

For my family and myself, I express my most heartfelt "Thank You" and best wishes for the future.

Sincerely,
Kenneth D. Sledge

It's the Law ...

SLOW MOTION DIVORCE

Not long ago a man filed suit for divorce on the ground that his wife had committed adultery — 20 years earlier. But his case was dismissed because of too much procrastination. The court noting the difficulties of finding out what really happened that long ago, commented:

"A husband cannot wait to make his charges until the years dim the proofs to the contrary."

Like most lawsuits, a divorce suit too long delayed may be barred automatically by a state's statute of limitations. But even if there is no automatic bar, courts are usually skeptical of divorce suits in which the complaining spouse has postponed action for an excessive period of time.

One reason, mentioned above, is the problem of evidence—of dredging facts out of a distant past. Another reason is the feeling that a grievance, if acted upon so slowly, could not have been too serious in the first place.

Thus a woman failed to convince the court that two blows by her husband, inflicted 40 years before, had ruined her marriage.

"There must be some limit to judicial credulity," said the judge. "We think it has been reached here."

Nevertheless, there may well be a legitimate reason for delay. For example, a man who put off a divorce suit for a number of years, after learning of his wife's infidelity, gave an excuse that satisfied the court: he wanted to spare his young children from scandal as long as he could.

In another case a husband was held justified in waiting gallantly, before suing for divorce, while his wife recovered from a severe illness.

Perhaps the best reason for delay is that the wronged spouse continues to have hope that the marriage may yet be preserved.

Thus, a court found no fault with a man who waited seven years — in recurring hope of a reconciliation — before finally seeking a divorce on grounds of marital cruelty. The court felt it would be unfair to blame him for wanting what the law itself encourages: the saving of the marriage.

Commerce, on behalf of the City to enter into contract to purchase the old Bowling Alley from the United Fidelity Life Insurance Company to be used as a Community Auditorium.

"THE CITY attorney drew the contract providing a 60 - day option to purchase said building. This option expired in February. However, the United Fidelity Life Insurance Company continued to try to negotiate the sale of the building for another eight months with the City of Post. The Company gave up their efforts last week and sold the building to a local citizen.

"The City Council officially appointed a Community Auditorium Board to work for the development of this auditorium. This board has worked diligently at regular meetings to persuade the City Council to complete the purchase of this auditorium for some eight months. We feel we have done all within our power toward this goal. Due to lack of positive action toward purchase of the building by the City Council, this building has now been lost to us.

"The Community Auditorium Board wishes to express its sincere appreciation to all of those interested people in the community who have supported them in their efforts to make a dream a reality. The Board has done its all. Let us now resolve to move forward with a bigger and better dream — and ALL pull together to make it a reality."

Venereal disease program is given

The Future Homemakers of America chapter met Monday night in the primary auditorium for one of their regular monthly meetings. Special guests for the evening were the Post High School girls and their mothers.

The program was presented by John Stephens, representative of the Texas State Health Department. Mr. Stephens is from Lubbock and is the area worker for combating the rapid rise of venereal disease which is in epidemic stage in the United States with Texas leading in the nation.

Mr. Stephens was also careful to bring out the fact that he does not usually speak to high school students, but that of his 25-county district for a town its size Post has the largest number of venereal disease cases.

Two films, "Quarter of a Million Teen-agers" and "Dance Little Children", made each more aware of this problem.

Manuel funeral to be Saturday

Funeral services for Nathaniel Manuel Sr., 50, who died of a heart attack in Lubbock Sunday, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Church of God in Christ on Pine Street here.

Mr. Manuel, a former resident of Post, had lived in Lubbock for the last five years. He was born Nov. 2, 1917, in Somerville, Tex., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Manuel. He was married to Mabel Smith on Dec. 7, 1946.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Nathaniel Jr., who is a student at South Plains College, Nathan and Mike; five daughters, Doris Jean, Ruby Faye, Shirley, Linda and Kathy, all of the home, and a sister, Mittie Hoyte of Brownsville.

The Rev. E. L. Hastings of Slaton will officiate at the funeral services. Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Homecoming Cancelled!

Homecoming activities originally schedule for October 25th at the now non-existent Post community center have been canceled due largely to inaction by our elected and appointed city officials. The committee in charge of the community center was notified of the ex-students desire to reserve the building. Homecoming festivities and the arrangements were made, invitations printed, etc. However it seems that while our city officials were pondering ways to extend sewers, obtain title, etc., to the center they neglected to inform the insurance company that the people of Post desired to purchase this building.

In the meantime Mr. Melvin Williams of Post, Texas, has purchased the building for his personal use. Now we understand that these officials have weighty problems such as no parking ordinances on Hwy. 84, signs cluttering up our scenic Hwy. through Post, dog ordinances, whether to install parking meters or hitching racks and so on. It is our belief that the voters of this community did at the ballot box vote to purchase this building for a community center and did so direct the city officials to do so.

Since the city officials took no action to this effect we must assume that they evidently decided that the voters are incapable of sound judgment. Since we elected them they are evidently correct.

In closing we wish to add that Mr. Williams has already stated that he did not care to rent the ex-students his building for homecoming activities as this is contrary to his beliefs. Since there is no other suitable building available it is with deep regret we announce cancellation of homecoming activities for 1968.

Lopes to open district play at Tahoka Friday night

Kickoff time moved up
7:30 against 'Dogs

Glyn Gregg's Post Antelope conference half of the game, go to Tahoka Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The Bulldogs will be at 7:30 o'clock, but the Antelopes' previous games this season.

The Bulldogs run their offense mainly out of an "I" formation with the wingbacks set both ways, but vary their attack, according to scouts' reports.

The Tahoka team is quarterbacked by the capable Charlie Brown, 159 - pound senior, who pitched for Post's Connie Mack League baseball team at the tail - end of the season.

The tentative starting line - up for the 'Dogs will be: Steve Roberts (131) and Jim Adams (170), ends; Mike McDonald (155) and David Rogers (170), tackles; Ed Smith (173) and Jody Edwards (200), guards; Billy Curry (180), center; Brown (159), quarterback; Larry Arnold (190), fullback; Greg Thomas (140), tailback, and Robert Montemayor (149), wingback.

In Monday's practice session, the Post coaches put the Antelope squad through nearly two hours of pass offense drills to try to overcome weaknesses in the aerial game that have cost the 'Lopes heavily in the last two games. On numerous occasions in both the Roosevelt and Stanton games, receivers were unable to hold onto the ball after grabbing passes that would have brought big ground-eating gains.

Dropped passes help Stanton down locals

With receiver dropping passes all over the field and its running game stopped cold, the Post Antelope football team lost to the Stanton Buffaloes, 30 to 0, last Friday night at Stanton.

The Buffaloes, sparked by all-district quarterback Davey Jones, scored 21 points in the first half, then added a touchdown and a field goal in the second half to hand the 'Lopes their fourth defeat against one victory.

Post quarterback Ray Altman put the ball in the air 30 times, with more than half of them on target, but his receivers were able to hang on to but seven of the heaves.

On the ground, the Antelopes wound up with a net rushing total of 20 yards, due largely to the fact that the Post blockers were unable to keep the onrushing Stanton defenders off Altman when he was back to pass.

THE 'LOPES started out as if they meant to "get the drop" on the Buffs, with split end David Pierce, seeing action for the first time this season, snaring a 34-yard pass from Altman to the Stanton 45.

Altman was hooked for a nine-yard loss on his next passing attempt, however, and two more tries were incomplete, with the Post quarterback punting to the Stanton 25.

The Buffs were able to gain only five yards in three tries, and James Pollard returned the punt 15 yards to the Post 25. Altman's pass to Jay Bird was complete on the 38, but the Antelopes were penalized to the 10 - yard line for holding. Altman lost seven yards to the three - yard line, then punted to Jones on the 40, from there the shifty Stanton field general ran it back for the Buffs' first touchdown.

Steve Stallings' interception of Altman's pass on the Post 35 set up the Buffs' second touchdown, with halfback Gary Kitchens taking it in from the four, and Jones circling end for the extra points.

Altman recovered a fumble on the Post 27 on the first play of the second quarter to stop another Stanton drive, but the Antelopes still couldn't get any kind of an offense going.

AFTER AN exchange of punts, Jones hits Stallings with a 15-yard pass and the Stanton end carried 35 yards to the Post 20, where Terry Moreau caught up with him. Stallings, when hit, fumbled the ball into the end zone, from where it came out to Post on the 20.

Stanton drove 65 yards for their third touchdown, which came with 2:20 left in the first half, on a 13-yard burst by fullback Steve McMeans. Jack Madison kicked the extra point to boost the Buffs' lead to 21-0.

Late in the second quarter, Post moved from their 40 to the Stanton 27, but Neff Walker's grab of Altman's fourth down pass failed by half a yard of making a first down.

On the first series of downs in the third quarter, Dennis Dodson blocked a Stanton punt, with the 'Lopes getting the ball on the Buffalo 24. The threat died, however, when Stanton recovered Bird's fumble after he had gained seven yards on an end run. It was Post's deepest penetration of the game.

STANTON boosted its lead with five minutes of the third quarter remaining when Benny Avery took Jones' pass on the Antelope 25 and scooted for a touchdown. Steve Newby blocked the extra point kick to keep the score at 27-0.

Madison kicked a field goal from the Post 10 with less than five minutes gone in the final quarter to end the scoring for the night.

The 'Lopes got another chance to score after recovering a fumble on the Stanton 24, but Stanton took over on downs after a high snapback lost 22 yards - back to the 46 - for Post.

The teams traded interceptions in the game's fading minutes, with Randy Hudman stealing a Stanton pass on the Post 24, and Carl Dean intercepting a Post pass on the Antelope 35.

The game - ending play was a 14 - yard unsuccessful field goal attempt by Stanton's Madison.

Junior High 11's continue to roll

Post's junior high football teams remained in the undefeated ranks Tuesday night after winning a pair of games from O'Donnell's 7th and 8th grade teams at Antelope Stadium.

With John Redman scoring all four touchdowns, Coach Waco Reynolds' 8th graders won, 40 to 8, with an alert defense scoring 14 of Post's 40 points.

Redman scored on runs in both the first and second quarters to give Post a 12-6 halftime lead in the 7th grade game after O'Donnell had tied the score at 6 - 6.

REDMAN galloped across for his third touchdown in the third period and Johnny Jefferson ran the extra points to give Post a 20-6 lead. They upped it by six points in the fourth quarter on another sprint by Redman, with O'Donnell scoring on a long run by its big fullback in the fourth period to end the scoring.

"All our boys hustled and hit, and the defense did a good job in containing O'Donnell's hard-running 165 - pound fullback," Coach Reynolds said.

The Post defenders in the 7th grade game included Pollard, Dudley, Zachary, Mason, Sappington, Beverly, Cisneros, Bell, Shepherd and Tyler.

Coach Davis started his second team in the 8th grade game, but the first stringers took over late in the first quarter after O'Donnell had gone ahead on a 25 - yard touchdown run and added the extra points for an 8-0 lead.

Robert Torres ran 45 yards for a TD and then darted over for the extra points to tie the score. Post went ahead, 16-8, before the end of the quarter on a 45 - yard pass play from Torres to Roger Pace, with the same combination clicking for the extra points.

IN THE second quarter, Mike Hughes tackled an O'Donnell back in the end zone for a safety to make it 18-8, and the defense scored six more points when Martin Morales fell on an O'Donnell fumble.

POST ANTELOPES

Vs

TAHOKA BULLDOGS

FRIDAY, OCT. 18

7:30 P. M. KICKOFF

(District Games Start 30 Minutes Earlier)

at

Tahoka

Coach Glynn Gregg's Post Antelopes will journey west to Tahoka Friday night to welcome the Tahoka Bulldogs up into 4AA district play from Class A ranks. Now that Slaton has climbed into 4AAA ranks, Tahoka undoubtedly will replace Slaton for Post's No. 1 neighborhood grid rivalry.

This year, on paper at least, the Bulldogs rank the strongest with a 3-2 record, which includes a 26-7 loss to Stanton which stopped the Lopes 30-0. Besides a loss to Seagraves last week, 6-12, Tahoka holds victories over Plains 58-7, Crosbyton 46-0, and Hale Center, which beat the Lopes, 26-8.

Now that league play is starting, the kickoff time for the remainder of the schedule moves up 30 minutes to 7:30 p. m.

These Post Business Firms Are Rooting for the Lopes to bring home a Win from Bulldogs:

produce 64 billion barrels of petroleum between 1965 and 1985 and still maintain adequate reserves is the challenge facing the domestic oil industry in recent years. Moreover, it notes, "in the historic onshore provinces there has been no improvement in the volume of crude oil found per exploratory well since 1955."

tion of liquid petroleum in the U. S. between 1965 is projected at 80 billion in the study. Of this, an 16 billion barrels will be imports. The balance of barrels (32 billion barrels of oil and 12 billion barrels of natural gas liquids) must be from domestic sources. The study declares that mineral and other provisions of tax law "are an integral part of the petroleum industry's economic and expense, available evidence suggests a substantial change in effect have a direct and significant upon the future supply and cost of oil and gas."

The Interior Department report says that technological improvements have failed to offset the costs of drilling wells

Everybody feels the tax bite these days, but the petroleum industry bears some extra teeth marks.

The study points out that the oil industry's direct tax burden per dollar of revenue was slightly higher than the average for business corporations as a whole.

Mother, children apply for passports to Malta

By MARY LEE LAWS

We would like to extend our sincere sympathy to the Greer family because of the death of Alton Greer who was killed in a one-car accident last Wednesday. The Rev. Kenneth Leach of Rome, Miss., flew here to help officiate at the funeral service. May God be with the family in their time of sorrow.

Kathy Warren and Mary Lee Laws went to Lubbock last Thursday to fill out forms and send for passports for Kathy and children as they will be going to Malta with their husband and father soon. Jimmie Warren is due home in three weeks from Libya, North Africa, where he is working in the oil fields. He will be here for three weeks and then will take his family with him to Malta where they will stay for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Josey visited Mr. and Mrs. Jurd Young Monday afternoon.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Rawlings returned Saturday afternoon from a week's stay at Camp Arrowhead.

Mrs. J. B. Ray was taken to Lubbock Friday where she entered West Texas Hospital. She is having trouble with her leg.

The Nazarene Teen-Age Bible Study was held at the C. O. McCleskey home Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Aten of Tahoka, Karen Laws and Steve Webster of Lubbock, Mae Lewis of Wichita Falls and the Dean Laws family were Sunday dinner guests of the Kelly Laws.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCleskey,

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gribble and Mrs. Lucy Cunningham attended the 2nd Sunday singing at the Station Assembly of God Church Sunday afternoon.

All of Mrs. O. F. Haley's sons and daughters met at her home place Sunday for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Braddock visited in Brownfield Sunday with relatives.

Paul Kenly of Tahoka brought the Sunday morning message at Central Baptist Church in the absence of the Rev. Duane Morrison who is on the sick list. We hope he is well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Odis Cash of Loco, N. M., visited Sunday with longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Smith. They all attended services at Central Baptist Church in the morning.

Carla Herman of Lubbock spent the weekend with her grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Craig. Her parents picked her up on their return from Lake Thomas in the afternoon Sunday.

Leona Pendleton called her mother, Mrs. R. L. Craig, Sunday to tell her that the Laurence Hulseys were settled on their ranch at Crockett and that Laurence is doing okay.

Beulah Tew visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bailey, Sunday.

The William Youngs visited the Jurd Youngs Friday afternoon. The Youngs had spent several days visiting the Shirley Youngs in Midland.

MR. AND MRS. Amos Gerner spent the weekend in Houston visiting the Kenneth Gerners. They had to see their grandson, Scott! While there they were all ill except for Lorene. Guess they had a virus or the "bug", whichever you want to call it.

Thursday morning Mrs. R. L. Craig went to Tahoka for a check-up. She was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Craig. They took her on to Lubbock where she attended a home appliance party at the home of her daughter, Pearl Herman. Mrs. Buford Battin was also a guest and asked Mrs. Craig to tell all of their friends hello. Mrs. Battin and her husband, the Rev. Brattin will leave this week to do missionary work in Denver, Colo. He is a Church of the Nazarene missionary.

Mr. and Mrs. Biff Davis and son, Mark, of Brownfield, (Mrs. Craig's granddaughter) were also at the Hermans in Lubbock last Thursday night.

J. M. Haley visited in the Amos Gerner home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Amos Gerner visited Mrs. O. F. Haley twice last week in the nursing home and also visited in the Fay Claborn home. She reports that Fay is getting along just fine, but slow.

Laura Gerner entertained with a birthday party for her sister, Louise, of Dallas last Friday with a birthday party. Cake, coffee and tea were served to Louise and Jerry Gerner, Helen Stowers, Janet

HERE'S HOW!

EXPERT TIPS FOR HOMEMAKERS

AVOID "ONION TEARS"
BY SPEARING A ONE-INCH CHUNK OF BREAD ON THE POINT OF YOUR PARING KNIFE BEFORE YOU BEGIN PEELING, THE BREAD ABSORBS THOSE TEAR-JERKING FUMES!

TEARS OF FRUSTRATION CAN RESULT IF YOU TRY TO FORCE A CHILD'S INTEREST IN SOMETHING HE'S NOT READY FOR, SAY EDUCATORS. BUT YOU MAY ENCOURAGE HIS INTEREST IN ART AND MUSIC, BY GIVING HIM THINGS LIKE PASTE, PAINT, CLAY, BELLS OR DRUMS--BUT LET HIM PLAY WITH THEM IN HIS OWN WAY!

FOR CHILD-CARE WITHOUT TEARS, TIE A TINY BELL TO THE LACE OF YOUR TOPPER'S SHOE. THE TINKLE LETS YOU KNOW WHERE HE IS, AND THE CHILD WILL ENJOY THE SOUND. A SPECIAL TREAT LIKE A DRINK OF PEPSI-COLA MAY HELP KEEP THE DAY GOING SMOOTHLY FOR BOTH OF YOU!

THERE'S NO NEED FOR TEARS OVER SPILLS, EVEN ON PARTY DRESSES, IF YOU USE ONE OF THE NEW STARCHES THAT BUILDS UP A PROTECTIVE "SHIELD" THAT KEEPS SPILLS FROM SOAKING IN AND STAINING FABRICS!

Orville Freeman to make address

LUBBOCK — Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, making his second appearance on the Plains, will speak at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium on the Texas Tech campus Monday, Oct. 21, at 2:30 p. m.

The address is being billed as "a major farm policy address" and the Secretary's office advised Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. that it would stress "the future of U. S. agriculture."

Farmers and agri-business people on the Plains are invited to hear Freeman's address. Freeman took over the reins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1961 under the late President John F. Kennedy, and has announced his plans to retire to private business in January, 1969.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. George Miller was dismissed from West Texas Hospital in Lubbock Monday to her home. Mrs. Miller underwent major surgery Monday a week ago.

SURGICAL PATIENT

Cecil Smith of Justiceburg underwent major surgery Tuesday morning at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Brosch, Jerry Turner, Ronald Drake and Tom Hill. The Gerner children and Miss Stowers and Jerry Turner all visited the Amos Gerners over the weekend. Call news to 3417.

Deadline on overseas holiday mail is set

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department says Christmas packages going by ship to Vietnam should be mailed before Nov. 9 and air mail packages before Dec. 11.

The Post Office Department expects to deliver about one million pounds of mail a day to U. S. troops in Vietnam and other Pacific points during the pre-holiday season.

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson said he was sending a four-man team to oversee operations to ensure "the speediest delivery in history."

RECUPERATING AT HOME

Claude Pettigrew of Justiceburg is reported to be feeling much better after being hospitalized in Garza Memorial Hospital recently. The Pettigrew children from Pampa and Brownfield have visited him since his return.

Grassland rites held for victim of car accident

Funeral services for Alton F. Greer, 47, who was killed Wednesday night of last week in a one-car accident one-half mile west of Post on U. S. Hwy. 380, were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the Grassland Church of the Nazarene.

Mr. Greer, who was born Sept. 5, 1921, at Winters, had been a resident of the Grassland community since 1921. He was engaged in farming.

He was a World War II veteran, having served in the Navy Construction Battalion (Seabees) from Nov. 16, 1942, until Nov. 16, 1945, and went ashore with the Third Marine Division on Guam, Aug. 6, 1944.

Surviving are a son, Royce Steven Greer, who is stationed at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.; his mother, Mrs. C. M. Greer of Grassland; a brother, J. B. Greer of Tahoka, and two sisters, Mrs. Morris M. McClendon of Grassland and Mrs. Claude L. Brown of Tahoka.

The Rev. Kenneth Leach of Rome, Miss., officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Pallbearers and honorary pallbearers included Curtis Foster, Elmer Rash, Irby Metcalf, Kenneth Huffaker, Cecil Clem, C. R. Jackson, Tommy Markham, T. A. Smith, Theron Scott, Leroy Knight, James Brookshire, Bandy Cash and Sam Edwards.

Ward is elected SCS supervisor

John Ward of the Polar community was elected as a supervisor of the Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District, at an election held Oct. 9 at Justiceburg.

Ward was selected for a five-year term and will represent Zone 5 of the Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District. He replaces Wayne Williams who has served on the board for the past seven years.

Zone 5 is that area of Garza County bounded on the north by the Claiborne highway to the Kent County line then south to the Scurry County line then north along the Snyder highway back to Post.

The Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District was split off from Duck Creek District in 1961, and has operated as a separate district since that time.

Our Heartiest Congratulations

To Garza Oilmen for your many contributions to this area's economy and growth.

This firm is closely associated with the oil industry in our abstracting business—and is here to offer the best possible service.

District 4AA roundup

Frenship is only weekend winner

only District 4AA team to win a defeated Frenship Tigers were the Once again last Friday, the ungame, downing Bovina, 18 to 7, for their fourth win — with only a tie to mar their record.

The Denver City Mustangs lost their third game of the season, falling to Class AAA Kermit, 35 to 6. Coach Don Orr's Mustangs were minus the services of fullback John Powell, their leading ground gain-

er. Powell's replacement, Mike Terrell, went 17 yards for Denver City's only touchdown.

The Tahoka Bulldogs lost to Seagraves, 12 to 6, with Jody Edwards scoring for the losers in the fourth quarter on a 36-yard run with an intercepted pass.

The Morton Indians, who haven't scored since their opening game when they defeated Plains, 44-13, lost to Ralls, 28-0 for their fourth setback against one victory.

Idalou's Wildcats lost to Abernathy, 26 to 20, in a thriller that wasn't decided until the late stages. John Hamilton, David DeBusk and Gary Sage scored Idalou's touchdowns.

Scoring for Frenship in the Tigers' win over Bovina were Johnny Carrizales, James Madison and Wadell Smith.

With nine seconds left in the game, Mindieta scored on a 20-yard pass play, with Torres on the throwing end. A pass for the extra points fell incomplete.

Coach Davis praised his team for an all-out "team effort" in the O'Donnell game.

John Johnson, Ricky King and Rusty Conner all saw service at quarterback.

WOULD YOUR CONGRESSMAN VOTE FOR GEORGE WALLACE?

Some fine Texans are tempted to vote for the 3rd party candidate because they admire his stand and his statements on some of the major campaign issues...

STOP AND THINK WHAT WILL ACTUALLY HAPPEN...

The best that Wallace supporters can hope for is enough strength to throw the election into the turmoil of a Congressional election by the House of Representatives...

THEN WHAT HAPPENS?

The answer is certain and simple. Wallace supporters are at the mercy of Washington Politicians! Every vote for George Wallace automatically becomes a vote for Hubert Humphrey!

THERE IS A BETTER CHOICE...

A vote for the NIXON-AGNEW ticket is a positive vote for "change" with the definite promise that our National Affairs will take a new direction... the direction you want it to take!

Rates going up Saturday, Oct. 19, for parcel post

Postmaster A. J. McAlister reminded postal customers today that higher parcel post and catalog rates will go into effect Saturday, Oct. 19.

The rate increase will average 10.5 per cent and in most cases will mean an additional ten cents postage per parcel.

The higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Under the new rates the minimum charge for local parcel delivery will go from 40 to 50 cents. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 cents to 60 cents.

Almost all parcels that are charged up to $1.10 under present rates will go up 10 cents. This accounts for more than 80 per cent of all parcel post, Postmaster McAlister pointed out.

There will be a 15 - cent hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4, and a 20 - cent increase on parcels now charged over $4.

Parcel post rates are based on the weight of the package and the distance it is mailed.

Higher rates for the delivery of packages and catalogs are required to bring revenue from this type of mail within four per cent of operating costs, as required by law, Postmaster McAlister explained.

The higher rates are designed to put parcels and catalogs, which are fourth - class mail, on a break-even basis.

Additional revenue is needed from parcel post and catalogs to offset higher costs resulting from pay increases approved last year for postal employees.

On rural highways One killed, four injured in September accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Garza County during the month of September, according to Sgt. A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol supervisor in this area.

These accidents resulted in one person killed, four injured and an estimated property damage of $2,171.

The rural traffic accident summary for Garza County during the first nine months of 1968 shows a total of 35 accidents, resulting in one person killed, 19 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $31,204.

"Accidents Go Up When the Sun Goes Down," is a slogan so true. Darkness hides danger, giving the driver a false sense of security. That is the reason traffic accidents increase during October's shorter days and longer nights.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing King, Ray McClellan and Mr. and Mrs. Robbie King and daughter attended funeral services for Ewing King's niece, Mrs. Ivan Foster, Saturday in Mount Vernon. The Ewing Kings and Mrs. Pat King and sons had spent a week in Mount Vernon and had just returned home last Thursday when they received word of Mrs. Foster's death.

Southland to open loop play against Wellman

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Today (Monday) is another one of those beautiful days that West Texas is so well known for. Makes a person glad that he is alive. Mondays are usually hectic days for me, but when the day is as nice as today — well, nothing else matters!

Southland won another game last Friday night against Whitharral, 42 to 18. Our hearts beat a little faster when it began to rain just before the game started, but luck was with us and it just showered a little and then the rest of the evening was real nice. Several of our boys received minor injuries, but hope that all will be right with them this coming Friday when they will be meeting Wellman at Wellman in their first district game. Good luck, boys.

Larry Wilke is going to Dallas this week where he will be participating in an agriculture engineering field trip and seminar. Larry is a senior at Texas Tech where he is majoring in Agriculture Engineering.

Mrs. JoAnn Basinger and children have moved to Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Lester, Gary and Gregg, recently spent several days at LBJ Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Belk, former residents now living at Whitarral, said to tell all their friends here "hello."

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Rex King who were united in marriage Saturday at the First Baptist Church at Slaton. Mrs. King is the former Sharla Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Taylor. They will reside in Tulsa where both teach in the public schools. May God bless this young couple and their home.

Darrell Wilke spent the weekend visiting friends in Odessa.

MRS. DORIS Blyth and son, John Earl, of Kansas City, Mo., are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker. John Earl is in the Navy and after his furlough will report to a new base in Jacksonville, Fla., where he will attend a school in structural mechanics. Others visiting in the Becker home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker and children of Brownfield, Mrs. Tillie Krause of Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. August Becker of Slaton and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Becker and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilke. The Beckers and their visitors visited the Robert Beckers in Brownfield Monday.

Sherri Wilke was recently in a "Miss Seventeen" style show at Hemphill - Wells in Lubbock. She modeled a sports back-to-school or football - game ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klaus left Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Klaus in San Angelo. On Sunday they attended a family reunion in Elgin. They will visit other relatives in Sealy and Bay City before returning home.

Mrs. Carl Mattern and a Mrs. Fowler of Columbus and Mrs. Jerry Melcher stopped by to visit the Otto Klaus after they had attended the ALCW Convention in Lubbock.

Mrs. Jhynelda Hahn of Odessa spent two nights last week in the home of her cousin, Mrs. Cecil Stolle, and Mr. Stolle. She attended the ALCW Convention in Lubbock.

Guests in the home of the Cecil Stolles this week are her mother, Mrs. Irmgard Bredemeyer, and a nephew, Brad Hagood.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stolle of Wharton spent Saturday visiting in the Walter Stolle home. Edward Stolle has a cotton picking machine and is picking cotton around La. mesa.

WE HAVE another new family in the community. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Koerne and children are now living on the Lazy K Ranch. Welcome to our "family" community.

Stipends go to six Tech students, one from Post

LUBBOCK — Six Texas Tech students preparing to teach handicapped children have been awarded stipends to advance their studies, Chairman Bruce D. Mattson of the Department of Special Education announced Monday.

On the graduate level, Joe W. Burks of Lubbock was granted $2,000. Senior students receiving $800 each were James R. Fagan and Joseph M. James, both of Lubbock. Juniors receiving $300 each were Carla Meyers of Lubbock, Mrs. Barbara Norman of Post and Donna Tucker of Odessa.

These traineeships and fellowships were provided from grant money awarded the department by the Bureau for the Education of the Handicapped, U. S. Office of Education. The director of the bureau's Division of Training Programs, Dr. Leonard Lucito, commended the department for its "decision to use federal support money in this way."

Welches attending Galveston meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch, representing the Garza Soil and Water Conservation District at the 28th annual state-wide meeting of Texas Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors being held in Galveston, today, Friday and Saturday at the Hotel Galvez and Moody Center.

There are 935 supervisors in Texas representing 187 soil and water conservation districts. Each district is a local governmental agency of the state governed by a five-man board of elected supervisors.

People scheduled to be on the program include Speaker Ben Barnes, Sen. A. M. Aikin, State Rep. Gus Mutscher, State Rep. Charlie Jungmichel, R. C. "Dick" Longmire, vice president, National Association of Conservation Districts; Dr. Joe Nichols, Marion - Cass Soil and Water Conservation District, and A. L. Black, president of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

BREAKFAST GUEST

Mrs. Vera Gossett was a breakfast guest of Mrs. H. M. Ford recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wheeler and children visited Six Flags over the weekend.

Stacy Callaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Callaway, was in an accident Sunday and several stitches were required to sew up a cut on her head. May God grant her a speedy recovery.

CROP — Christian Rural Overseas Program. Kids from Wilson will be circulating through Southland on Halloween night, Oct. 31, for donations for CROP. There will be collectors out from about 7:30 until 10 p. m. See you next week, God willing.

Variety of topics to be discussed at Historical Foundation meeting

AUSTIN — Charles R. Woodburn, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, announced the tenth Annual Meeting of the Survey Committee and its private affiliate, the Texas Historical Foundation will be held in San Antonio, Nov. 1 and 2.

Membership for the two organizations totals more than 3,500 members. Those in attendance at the meeting will hear discussion on a variety of topics to include:

- The National Historical Preservation Act of 1966.
- Historic Preservation Grants
- The Future of the Institute of Texas Cultures
- History and Tourism
- How to Write a County History
- Setting Up a Local History Collection in a Public Library

—A Status Report on the RAMPS Program. RAMPS is the five-year plan of the Survey Committee and fellow citizen historians will learn the winners for 1968 in the various areas of County Committee Competition (designed to encourage local participation in the RAMPS program).

Awards at the luncheon will be given for the Best County Committee Newsletter, Best Program of Work and Best Scrapbook. Also the Best Chairman of a County Historical Survey Committee and the Best Sub-Committee Chairman will be announced.

In addition, a 30-minute color film, "How Will We Know It's Us?", dealing with historical preservation and restoration, will be previewed. An educational tour of San Antonio's historic points of interest, including the King Williams Historic District, is also scheduled.

Headquarters for the meeting is $15. The meeting is open to all the Gunter Hotel. Registration is Texasans interested in the multiple aspects of Texas history. For further details, write the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, P. O. Box 12276, Capitol Station, Austin 78711.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. George L. Miller, has announced the following sermon topic for the 11 a. m. Sunday service: "The New Covenant."

FRIDAY VISITORS

Visiting Mrs. H. M. Ford last Friday were her cousin, H. G. Pebebler, and Mrs. Pebebler of Carlsbad, N. M., and a second cousin, Ray Pebebler, of Snyder.

Ever since Marco Polo returned to Venice in 1295, Persian rugs have been prized by connoisseurs. Tree peonies were cultivated as long ago as the Tang dynasty in China in the seventh century. Tobacco was brought by the Portuguese near the 16th century.

The oil power for your tomorrow...

...is in the wells we find today!

By 1973, Americans will use 3,000,000 more barrels of oil every day—and we'll have it ready for you!

America's future growth—in prosperity and population—will be so great that we must begin now to discover and drill the wells that will power America's future.

It's a risky business... this drilling for oil. The chances are much greater that we won't find oil than that we will. But drill we must—even if we must drill almost two miles into the earth.

When 1973 rolls around there will be 12 million new homes, 14 million more cars and trucks. We'll be ready for you. We'll be ready with more oil than we've ever dreamed of before... and we'll be ready because we're starting right now.

Will We Strike Oil or Strike Out?

That's the question an oil company—like ours—asks itself every time it drills into the earth. Yes, drilling for oil is a risky business.

Exploring and producing is the part we play in America's progressive oil industry. Like thousands of other companies—large and small—we compete to supply you with the oil products you need.

America's future growth—in both population and prosperity—will be so great that today all producing and exploration companies are hard at work searching for new supplies of oil.

You and your family will need more oil than ever in the future and we're determined that you'll get all you need... when you need it.

Norman Cash' Junior High library

Junior High School II, a copy of the book "Norman Cash," which is a history of the former Post school athlete's rapid move to the major league baseball ladder.

Book opens by telling of boyhood days on the farm near Justiceburg, where he was born, and goes from his sports career in Post school, at San Angelo Junior and at Sul Ross State College.

Assembly is held Junior High

Assembly in Junior High School was held in the auditorium on Friday for a program. The Student Council acted as master of ceremonies. Fredrick Huff led the pledge. Dan Hodges was a reader and Sue Cowdrey played the piano as the group sang "The Beautiful" and the "Hymn of the Republic". Huff made a talk on how he could make our school better. The Post school song was sung. The 7th and 8th grade then presented a pantomimed "Hissses and Kisses" participating were: Williams, Linda Hall, Dale Robert Torres, Martin Morathur Ayala, Reginald Gilbert Harper, Ricky Ed, Kevin Adkinson, Robbie and Able Perez.

a number of major league baseball clubs in trying to sign Cash after his graduation from Sul Ross, with the competition finally narrowing down to the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago White Sox, who finally won out.

The book will be of interest not only to all who know Norman and the members of his family, but also to every baseball fan for its insights into the rugged competition of the major leagues, where Cash now plays for the world champion Detroit Tigers.

Hal Butler, who wrote the book, is also the author of a number of other books of interest to baseball fans, including "The Bob Allison Story" and "The Harmon Killbrew Story."

The book, which has pictures of Cash in action, was published by Julian Messner of New York, and copies are available from Hill Book Bindery, 2409 Manor Road, Austin, Tex., at $3 plus postage.

Junior High hearing patriotic programs

The Student Council of Post Junior High took as one of its projects that of presenting a short patriotic program over the intercom at the beginning of the day on Monday.

A song is played, a short patriotic talk is given and the student body is asked to stand and face the flag and be led in the pledge of allegiance.

This week Jerry Tyler read some of the famous words of Thomas Jefferson, Lindy Bird led the pledge.

Post Junior High's flag finally down

Success at last! The flag at Junior High School is now being flown at the proper time.

After advertising in The Dispatch for a flag pole climber to get our flag down and after numerous attempts, Max Chaffin was successful in removing the flag. Earl Chapman replaced the flag rope that was causing all the trouble.

Our thanks to Mr. Chaffin and to Mr. Chapman.

4-Hers hear talk by school nurse

Members of the Post 4-H Caprock Club met last Thursday at the 4-H building at 7 p. m. with Jay Kennedy, presiding. Sarah Vernon called the roll, which was answered with "Our Favorite Football Player."

It was announced that the club is selling Christmas napkins and members voted to enter the "Consumer Education Contest" sponsored by the Garza County Home Demonstration Council.

Mrs. Bessie Strawn, school nurse, presented a program on "Smoking, Our No. 1 Enemy" in which she told of the dangers of smoking and also talked about tuberculosis.

Refreshments were served by Mary Ann Norman and Karla Kennedy, following the playing of games directed by Donna Maddox.

Attending were new members, Debra Plunkett and Kathy Howell, and Jay, Phyllis, Genetta and Karla Kennedy, Nancy Maddox, Sheryl and Sandra Cartwright, Susan Gray, Larry Barner, Jay Strawn, Patti Parrish, Wyvonne Kennedy, Mary Ann Norman, Sarah Vernon, Donna Maddox, Kathy Morris, Carolyn Strawn and Mrs. Faye Maddox.

Karen's Korner

By Karen Hundley

Sometimes I wish I were super-human. Then I might be able to accomplish all the varied tasks such as homework, tests, research papers, political cartoons, book reports, chemistry experiments, cleaning, washing, cooking, reading, sewing, and having fun. The last is easy to fulfill, while the rest are a different matter! However, you can't say that today's teen-agers don't have enough to do. I just wish there was such a thing as a 34-hour day!

Weekend visitors to Post included Dennis Altman, Jimmie Johnston, Duke Altman, Jimmie Bartlett, Jackie Huff, Voda Beth Voss, Larry Rosas, J. O. Smith and Larry Johnson.

Notice: The Junior class is selling Post Antelope decal stickers at 75 cents each. The money will be used to help finance the Junior-Senior banquet, so please buy one!

After losing to Stanton last Friday night, we will travel to Tahoka this Friday night for another try at victory. Go to the game, keep your spirit and your fingers crossed!

As of Sunday, Mrs. Cummings was going to try to contact a band for a dance this Saturday night. Thus, we MAY have a dance.

Don't forget to buy your Homecoming mum from the Senior class. Orders for them must be turned in by this Friday. They cost $2.50 and $3.50. Salesmen are Janice Gordon, Sue Harrison, Ronnie Williams, Karen Lee, Danny Bostick, Mike Petty, Mickie Saldivar, Elbert Rudd, Arnold Fry, Jan Bullock and Debbie Cummings. Please contact one of these people today-to order your mum!

Incidentals: Who is now called "Sir" and "Colonel" in civics class and why do Karon and Sharon Windham fill their gas tank up with Coke bottles full of gasoline?

Film shown at FTA meeting held Oct. 7

By Loretta Gatlin

A film on an ungraded school system in Florida was shown at a meeting of the Future Teachers of America, held Oct. 7.

The film was based on how you reach all students of different levels without using grades. The name of the film was "The Non-graded High School."

Also at the meeting, Elbert Rudd read a letter from Phil Kelly, District XIII president, announcing the district FTA meeting to be held at Olton High School on Dec. 7.

Junior high band to play during game

The junior high band will perform during the eighth grade game with Plainview here next Tuesday night at Antelope Stadium.

Pep rally held Friday before Stanton jaunt

By Sharyn Bilberry

The Antelope football team received a rousing welcome as they filed into the gym Friday for the pep rally, with the band playing the Fight Song and the students yelling.

The student body and the cheerleaders started off the pep rally with these two yells: "What's the Good Word," and "Spirit."

Next, the band played "Green Beret", while the twirlers, Janice Gordon, Patti Peel, Karon Windham and Sharon Windham did their routine. The speaker for the day was Jerry Crenshaw, a member of the football team. Jerry spoke on the "sweet taste of victory", which they received when they beat Roosevelt. The next yell which we did was "F-I-G-H-T" followed by "Rebel Rouser" played by the band. The pep rally ended with the student body standing and singing the school song.

The girls who worked to decorate the halls for the Stanton game were: Loretta Gatlin, Rebecca Pruitt, Jane Johnston, Sue Harrison, Nancy Strawn, Jan Wilks, Gloria DeLeon, Janie Smith, Anita Little, Karen Stanley, Wanda Heintz, Judy Bertran, Paula Cravy, Barbara Lucas, Helen Ellenberger, Melba Mathis, Debbie Cummings, Debbie Eubank, Debbie

New junior student comes from Snyder

The newest member of the Junior class of Post High School is Billye Lee Williams, Billye is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Williams. Mr. Williams is a mechanic. Billye also has three younger sisters.

Billye comes to our school from Snyder High School in Snyder. As a member of Snyder High, Billye played on the volleyball team.

Billye's favorite color is orange, while her favorite TV show is "It Takes a Thief". Billye's favorite song and singing group are "Indian Reservation" and Gary Puckett and the Union Gap. Upon graduation, Billye hopes to attend Dartmouth or Southern Methodist University.

When asked about how she likes Post, Billye replied, "The people are so friendly and I love the school system."

bie Dickson and Mary Ann Strawn. These girls made 14 signs Wednesday and Thursday to decorate the halls. Based upon neatness and originality four persons were commended for excellent work. They were Nancy Strawn, Karen Stanley, Janie Smith and Gloria DeLeon.

As an extra attraction, Nancy Strawn and Rebecca Pruitt added an enlarged lollipop with the inscription "Lick 'em Lopes". We would like to thank each member present for contributing their time and effort.
