RIVER IGNORES CUTS IN LEVEE

Faith

Pave For Permanence—Politicians on the Wane—Girls And Street Signs—A Tunnel for Progress—

THE BUSINESS COUNCIL endorses the proposed $1,125,000 Wichita county road issue, which would allow this city to keep step with gigantic road-building programs all around us. It is proposed to build asphalt roads. The Record News favors the issue.

* * *

THE SOONER WE Texans begin building permanent roads—and asphalt is in that category—the quicker Texas will be relieved of its highway problem.

* * *

CONE JOHNSON, ABLE member of the Moody highway commission, is likewise preaching the gospel of permanent roadbeds for Texas.

Senator Parr charged him, the other day, with favoring cement in state road construction. Johnson accepted the charge, amplifying it with the statement that Texas is spending 20 millions to keep up its gravel roads.

* * *

INCIDENTALLY, TEXAS senators and other political highlights will no longer influence state road aid. "Merit alone will control" appropriations, the highway commission told a group of "influential" office-holders Thursday. "Send your county judge to Austin. He will get as much as a delegation of senators and chamber of commerce officials." This, in substance, is the new order of things around the Texas highway department.

* * *

N. H. MARTIN, co-developer with W. B. Hamilton in Country Club Estates, is just as much responsible for that beautiful residential section as is Mr. Hamilton, according to a letter from Mr. Hamilton to this newspaper.

"I want the public to know that Mr. Martin is equally responsible with me for Wichita Falls having the finest residential subdivision in the southwest," Mr. Hamilton writes.

* * *

THIS INFORMATION, EASY to recognize as fact, is also interesting to all who believe that we are building here an unusual city: "Impartial and trained city planners have said that the Country Club Estates in Wichita Falls is the most highly improved residential sub-division ever developed in the south or west, and possibly in the entire United States." Mr. Hamilton's letter also furnished that information. That is worth passing to your friends out of the city.

* * *

THEY TUNNELED A RIVER in the east for a subway route and now we, out here in West Texas, are about to tunnel through the hills to allow water to flow, by gravity, down upon our plains and provide irrigation for hundreds of farms that naturally will follow.

This is the objective of the proposed dam over the Pease, near the Quanah-Crowell toll bridge. It would irrigate farms in Wilbarger, Wichita, Hardeman and Foard as well as insure the water supply of Vernon, Electra, Burkburnett, Quanah and Crowell.

* * *

GIRLS OF MEMPHIS, Hall county, took things in their own hands recently and put through a movement to designate streets of that town with signs. So successful were their efforts that the city council, apparently fearing a political turnover in favor of the feminine sex, got busy and decided to number all the residences in the town. The wise city council knew better than oppose a woman, or a group of women, with an idea.

AND THE SPUDDERS keep going, onward to glory and, as well, piling up a neat little nest egg in that percentage column against the day when the old slump sets in. The ardent fans who are now cheering so loudly for our team should remember this winning streak when the luck breaks and the tide turns. That's when the Spudders will welcome a pat on the back and a cheering word of encouragement.

MOODY BACKS ACTIVITIES OF ROAD BUREAU

Governor Firm in Approval Of Appointments Made By Commission

DENIES NEWS STORY

Published Stories Quoting Him in Road Controversy Refuted By Dan

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—Unqualified endorsement of the highway commission today was voiced by Governor Dan Moody in a flare-back to a tumultous row between senators and highway commissioners yesteredy in the senate finance committee room.

The clash yesterday between Commissioner Cone Johnson and Senator Archie Parr of Benavides and others brought forth indirect statements form Parr that the highway commission will serve as a point of attack on Moody in the next governor's campaign.

"Every member of the highway commission is serving at a tremendous personal sacrifice. I take pride in the fact that I was able to secure their services as members of the committee, and, for my part, I expect to give them my support and co-operation."

Moody Denies Story.

Moody denied newspaper stories this morning quoting the governor as saying the highway commission "has a tremendous responsibility and should be borne with." He also discounted the statement that he criticized Highway Engineer R. A. Thompson for accepting private employment while holding official position.

"My attention has been called to a newspaper item with reference to highway matters. The language used does not properly define my position in the matter.

"I believe that the principle of selecting highway employes upon consideration of efficiency and integrity rather than solely upon political considerations in correct and commendable. My commendation of this principle is merely reiteration of my position both in the campaign and at the time I went into office when I committed to the heads of the departments the selection of employes.

He Backs Commission.

"I am positive of certain facts, among which are the following: That the people of Texas have a capable and efficient highway commission which will give our state a constructive road building program; that the people will have their highway affairs administered efficiently and honestly, and that their money will not be wasted but that it will be judiciously and economically spent. The confidence of the people of Texas in the commission is greater today than it was when the commissioners took office."

Moody's statement endorsed Johnson's stand before the commission yesterday regarding distribution of positions. During the argument, the commissioner declared "No senator, no representatives, chamber of commerce nor any man can dictate appointments."

Kissing Puts Lovers Into Police Court Dock At Laredo

By Universal Service.

NEUVO LAREDO, Texas, April 29.—Reforms in this little border resort town are coming so fast that inhabitants are beginning to wonder if they are about to sprout wings in the region of the shoulders.

Two weeks ago municipal President Amado Gonzales Palacios put an end to a century old customs of nude bathing in the Rio Grande river.

Today the municipal president fined a couple for kissing in public.

"Affections are all right," the official said, "but not too much affection in public."

BRIBERY TRIAL SET FOR JULY

State's Star Witness Unable To Testify Now

By Universal Service.

AUSTIN, April 29.—H. H. Moore of Cooper, former representative, facing bribery charges, will not go to trial until after June 20. Judge J. R. Hamilton, judge of the Travis county district criminal court, late today ordered continuance of the case until the next term of court.

The postponement followed a motion by state prosecutors, W. D. Hart and District Attorney J. D. Moore, that the delay be granted until Willis Chamberlin, chief witness, was sufficiently recovered to take the stand.

Chamberlin, Houston optometrist, testified before the house of representatives that he gave $1000 to F. A. Dale, Bonham, with Moore's consent, to secure an unfavorable committee report on a pending bill to levy a $50 occupation tax on stationary and itinerant optometrists.

Chamberlin to Hospital

Chamberlin was seized with an attack of indigestion early Thursday and was sent to an emergency hospital. A delay of one day was granted Friday noon, Dr. J. F. Gregg, testified that "a nervous breakdown and collapse was imminent if Chamberlin took the witness stand."

Chamberlin is said to be in a very nervous condition, brought about by worry over the trial.

"Chamberlin is unable to go ahead with the trial and is now utterly confused as to the facts of the case," testified Dr. Gregg.

Prosecutors claimed that without Chamberlin's testimony, the trial could not be continued and withdrew their announcement of "ready."

A motion by counsel for the defense that the jury be instructed to bring in a verdict of "not guilty," was overruled by Judge Hamilton. This claim was presented on the grounds that the jury had been legally impanelled, that three witnesses had been examined, and testimony offered in the case.

Acquittal Overruled

Judge Hamilton stated that it was the duty of the court to allow the state to withdraw its announcement of "ready" and to order continuance of the case until the next term of court because the testimony of the expert witness showed that Chamberlain was in no condition to take the stand.

The case may not come up for hearing again until July 11.

A severance from F. A. Dale, jointly indicted with Moore for bribery, had been previously granted, and the trial of Dale was also postponed for the same reason.

RUTH SNYDER DENIES KILLING HER HUSBAND

Wife Of Slain Art Editor Swears Judd Gray Murdered Man

SHEDS TEARS FOR JURY

Mrs. Snyder Weeps During Testimony in Trial For Her Life

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Holding high her blonde head, Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, Queens Village housewife, took the stand today and denied that she killed, or plotted to kill her husband, Albert Snyder, magazine art editor.

Her denial, accompanied by tears, was categorical. She repudiated her confession as a statement obtained under duress. Point by point she was taken over the state's case, denying that she schemed to get her husband insured for $50,000 and then plotted his death. She fixed upon Henry Judd Gray, her corset salesman paramour, the responsibility for the killing.

Not only did she deny participation in the crime, but she told of a struggle with Gray in her husband's bedroom, where she grappled with him, she said, in a last desperate effort to save her husband's life. Gray, she said, pushed her so hard she fell on the floor in a faint and when she revived, made her agree to tell a story of burglary by two Italians. She complied, she said, "in mortal fear."

She was on the stand, ready for cross-examination, when court adjourned this afternoon until Monday morning. Her testimony followed upon that of several witnesses called in her behalf, including her mother, Josephine Brown. Opening addresses were made by counsel for both defendants.

Counsel for Mrs. Snyder outlined the story she told from the stand and counsel for Gray asserted they would prove that Mrs. Snyder, "a serpent woman" not only plotted but actually killed Albert Snyder to get his insurance and that Gray was a tool.

TEXAS TO VOTE ON BASIC LAW

August 1 Date Set For Vote On Four Amendmnets

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, April 29.—Notices of elections to be held Aug. 1 on four proposed amendments to the state constitution are being sent out this week by Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, for official publication in all counties.

The first of the proposed amendments is for the revision of the state's judicial system. If adopted by the voters, it will authorize the creation of a supreme court of nine members, instead of the present three members; a criminal appeals court of up to five members, courts of civil appeals not to exceed twelve, each with a chief justice and "not less than two associate justices as the legislature may provide, and for an unlimited number of judicial districts. The amendment provides that the supreme court may assign any district judge to another district to try cases.

Change Tax Methods.

The other amendments are to provide for changes in the system of taxation, to provide for salaries of certain county officers in lieu of fees and commissions, and to take the present constitutional limits off the salaries of the governor and other officers and members of the legislature, and fixing a $10,000 limit for the governor and a $1,500 limit for members of the legislature.

As worded, the absence of a comma in the submission of the last amendment, raises the question whether the salary limit abolition affects any state officers or merely officers of the legislature. The section reads: "All provisions of the present constitution of Texas fixing or limiting the amount of salary or compensation of officers and members of the legislature," etc.

The tax amendment proposes to authorize the legislature to provide for the separation of objects of taxation for state purposes and for the support of the counties, districts and political subdivisions of the state and counties, and authorizes the legislature to provide for the levy of an ad valorem tax or other form of tax for state purposes only, and for local purposes only, authorizes the legislature to provide for the classification of objects of taxation, and provides that rates shall be equal on the same class of property.

Limit On Tax Levy.

This amendment, in its short form is described as providing authority for the legislature to enact laws that the state may derive its income, in whole or in part, from other sources than the ad valorem tax. A limit is fixed upon the tax which may be levied for state purposes only, including school purposes, and for county or local purposes, that the sum shall not exceed the present constitutional tax limits.

County officers for whose salaries the legislature will be authorized to provide limits, under an amendment, are: district attorney, district judge, county attorney, sheriff, county clerk, district clerk, county tax assessor and county tax collector.

3-1 DIVIDEND PROMISED IN BETTER ROADS

$1,125,000 Bond Issue Given Aprroval by City's Business Leaders

AID FOR FARMERS

Small Tax Increase Offset By Benefits of Improvements

An increase of only 25 cents per $100 valuation in taxes will be entailed by the property owners in Wichita county by the issuance of the proposed $1,125,000 worth of bonds for the improvement of county roads, C. H. Clark, chairman of the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said Friday in an address to the business council in the Kemp hotel.

Issue Endorsed.

However, J. C. Mytinger, who followed Mr. Clark as speaker, said that in his opinion that for every dollar spent by taxpayers of Wichita county for road improvements that $3 would be received in return as the result of increased business and new citizens brought to the county as a result of the road improvements.

On motion of J. A. Kemp the business council unanimously voted approval of the issuance of the bonds. Mr. Kemp in a short address stressed the improvement of the roads in order to make the irrigated district of Wichita county one of the best farming communities in the United States. Mr. Kemp pointed out that Los Angeles, on the edge of a desert, based its large growth on the construction of good roads and the installation of a perfect irrigation system.

Wichita Must Lead.

W. B. Hamilton, in a short talk, said that Wichita county had always been a leader among North Texas counties in stressing the construction of good roads. He said that this county had influenced neighboring counties to construct new roads and that now it was "up to Wichita county" to "keep up with the procession."

Hubert Harrison, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce requested members of the council to circulate petitions for presentation to the county commissioners court on May 9 when that body will decide whether or not to call an election for the bond issue. The petitions set out that the signers are in favor of calling the election.

Mr. Clark in explaining the road building project said that although the tax rate would be raised 25 cents on the present county valuation of $45,600,000 that before the expiration of the bonds the present population and assessment values would be doubled, thereby reducing the tax rate.

PLAN TO EASE NEW ORLEANS' DANGER FAILS

Water Fails to Flow Into "Safety Valve" Below Crescent City

DANGER IN ARKANSAS

Levee Break Far Above New Orleans Adds Peril For Refugees

By Universal Service.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 29.—Despite the declaration of engineers who blew the levee at Poydras this afternoon, the general opinion in New Orleans tonight was that the so-called breaking of the crevasse was a flat failure.

By dark, when workers were removed from the scene of the break, only an area of less than three city squares was flooded, and this district by barely a few inches of water.

Three small streams of water trickled out over the levee and dropped 20 feet to the ground. Workmen with shovels had tried their best to create a constant flow to take the place of the crevasse that the engineers had promised as a relief from the flood waters that are constantly menacing New Orleans.

Engineers Hopeful

Major General Edgar Jadwin, however, the Universal Service tonight that the crevasse eventually will be successful.

Other engineers agreed that this was possible, but it will take a lot of dynamite, and entirely different methods, to effect the kind of a gap that will do New Orleans any good in the present crucial situation the city has found herself in.

The engineers had announced earlier in the day that a gap of 200 feet would be made at once by the three detonations. One break at dark was 15 feet in width, and the other two were only a few feet wide.

New Orleans Alarmed

Word of the apparent failure of the levee blow-up quickly spread over a city which a few hours before, had taken courage after 10 days or more of extreme pessimism. With the flood crest of the Mississippi only a few days off, the Poydras break was planned to take from the city the pressure that tended to weaken levees.

Something drastic must be done by tomorrow, engineers say.

Sheriff L. A. Mecaux, the political boss of St. Bernard parish, visited the scene of the crevasse tonight. He said:

"I could take a few men and 15 wheel-barrows and fill up this crevasse before morning. It is absurd to think that any relief can come to New Orleans with such small overflow from the river. In the first place the current of the river couldn't come in here unless crevasses were made that was a crevasse."

Engineers Confer

Engineers under state supervision who attempted the break tonight were in conference in an effort to evolve means to really break the levee tomorrow.

Most of the 10,000 people whose homes are being flooded to save the metropolis of the south, had evacuated. A few hundred remain, defiant in the face of the yellow waters of the Mississippi. Bitter and resentful at the deliberate break in the levee, they are prepared to take to their boats rather than desert the region settled by their French and Spanish forebearers.

Too feeble numerically to oppose the troops sent down by the governor of Louisiana, refugees were living in impoverished quarters dependent upon charity to keep them from starving.

Many See Cut Made

Many of them went to the scene of the explosion. They saw airplanes circling about the detachments of troops keeping back the curious.

The three explosions were set off at 2:18, 2:23 and 2:26 p. m. Mud hurled 50 to 100 feet in the air presented a spectacular sight. A thin, blue pall of smoke hung over the terrain, and the engineers, headed by Major Edgar Jadwin, U. S. A., watched with minute care

THE FLOOD AT A GLANCE.

By The Associated Press.

Engineers dynamite Mississippi river levee at Poydras, La., to relieve situation at New Orleans, a few miles upstream.

Water running through small breaks expected increase in volume, as crevasse widens crevasses.

Two or three days probably be required before full extent of emergency measure be determined.

Four levees on Arkansas and Mississippi rivers threatened. Breaks in any of these would add many thousands of acres to the approximately 11,000 square miles already under water, and endanger several towns.

Red Cross announces population of 58 refugee camps at 140,000 adding that list is incomplete. Number isolated camps and thousands marooned on levees being estimated total homeless to 200,000.

Acute conditions prevail in southeastern Arkansas. Lake Village reports 700 to 1000 people still marooned in lowlands, and town under from 3 to 5 feet of water.

New flood of relief boats converge on lower Mississippi delta where refugees are clinging to housetops or trees, and congregating on small levees.

Back waters create serious situation along Red and Black rivers in northern Louisiana.

LIGHTNING HITS NAVAL PLANE

Four Aviators Killed When Ship Collapses

NORFOLK, Va., April 29. (AP)—Four naval aviators were killed late today when lightning struck their plane and plunged it into Chesapeake bay off New Point Comfort.

The men were Lieut. V. F. Marinelli, attached to the Hampton Roads naval air station, Lieut George W. Lehman, Chief Machinist Mate Poyner and Machinists Mate Second Class Miechaels.

The plane was struck during a severe electric storm that swept this section. It was one of several flying from Philadelphia to the Hampton Roads station. News of the disaster was brought here by one of the other planes, the occupants of which witnessed it.

The plane wrecked was in front of them, those in the second plane said, when suddenly they saw it enveloped in a puff of smoke, then go out of control and plunge to the surface of the bay upside down.

The second plane landed to attempt rescue, but could do nothing because of weather conditions and after an hour of fruitless efforts came on to Norfolk. The tender Teal was dispatched to the scene, which is about the same spot at which Lieutenant Frank H. Conant, Schneider cup race flier, was killed last fall.

HOUSTON, April 29. (AP)—An investigation into the operation of a maternity home in a Houston suburb was begun Friday by Horace Soule, district attorney following complaint of Mrs. E. O. Mann. Mrs. Mann appeared before the grand jury after talking to Mr. Soule. Mrs. Mann states that on April 17 she took her grandson, Vincent Pecorino Jr., six months old to a "baby home" in the suburb to board it. Her daughter, Mrs. Velma Mann, has separated from her husband, Vincent Pacorino, and could not care for the baby, she said.

Thursday Mrs. Mann sent a friend to the place to pay the board bill and was notified that the baby had died that morning at a hospital.

Hospital authorities said that the child was brought there Thursday and died from brain fever eight hours later.

The woman operator of the home was said to be prostrated Friday. She has been subpoenaed before the grand jury.

Great Flotilla of U. S. Warships, 122 Vessels, Moves Into New York

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—The greatest flotilla of Uncle Sam's sea fighters ever to visit New York at one time—122 grim, sleek craft—began to pass into the harbor this forenoon for a fortnight's visit.

The flagship Seattle led the inspiring procession up the bay followed by the California and the Florida.

Some of the craft went to dry dock in the Brooklyn navy yard for a general overhauling after the extensive maneuvers in southern waters, but most of them anchored in the Hudson river.

Rear Admiral Charles F. Hughes commands the fleet.

Ached All Over Quite Dreadfully

Was Just "Wasting Away" When Husband Got Her Some Cardui, Which Saw Her Safely Through

Arlington, Tex.—A resident of this town for many years, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, recently made the following statement:

"When we first came to Texas, 28 years ago, I was taken seriously ill. I was lying in bed suffering dreadfully. My husband got me a bottle of Cardui and I began to take it.

"I had suffered terribly with an aching all over my body. At times my head would give me so much trouble I could hardly stand it. I had been in bed for weeks and it looked like I was just wasting away.

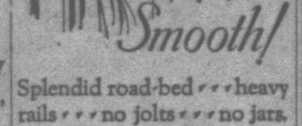

"I took 9 bottles of Cardui and my strength began to slowly return.

"Since that time I have used this medicine a good many times and it has always helped me.

"At one time I took Cardui for several months regularly. I would be afflicted with sudden spells of dizziness when I could not stand on my feet. Everything would turn black before my eyes and I would feel as if I were going to faint. At times I would be quite nauseated. I turned at once to Cardui and took it till I was safely through."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients. It has been in use for over 50 years and in that time has helped thousands of women back to health.

TREE PLANTING CLOSES MEET

P.-T. A. Convention Ends Friday at Memphis

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, April 29.—A tree plantin goeremony this afternoon on the Memphis high school campus conducted by Mrs. M. N. Marrs, vice-president national congress, concluded the three-day session of the child welfare conference of the eighth district Texas conference of Mother and Parent-Teacher associations.

Mrs. Marrs made a timely address Thursday night on the educational significance of the parent-teacher movement. The movement is growing by leaps and bounds and the time is fast approaching when the whole nation will be at work on this great constructive program.

W. E. James of Austin, director of Texas council for safety, gave a great insight into the need of safety council, in his address Thursday night, and again at the high school Friday morning.

School of Instruction

Friday morning Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs conducted a school of instruction. Mrs. J. E. Griggs took the endowment pledges and secured $200, $250 being the district's quota. Friday afternoon W. A. McIntosh, superintendent of the Amarillo schools, made a splendid address on "Co-operation of Superindendent and P.-T. A."

Reports received during Thursday and Friday from the different associations over the district show that some wonderful work has been accomplished and that the movement is far reaching in effect, growing by leaps and bounds, and the eighth district is right in the lead of them all. The attendance has been all that could be desired, Mrs. J. I. Kendricks of Amarillo, district president, stated before adjournment Friday.

All delegates and visitors attending proclaimed Memphis a wonderful host for a convention, for the entertainments during the days have been various and surpassing nice. Many local artists have been on the programs of the entertainment features and no duplications have been made.

Luncheon Given

Friday noon the Federated Missionary society gave a luncheon in the Masonic temple dining room. Young ladies with blue bonnets waited on tables. Mrs. S. A. Bryant of this city acted as toastmistress. The Palace orchestra furnished music for the occasion. Mrs. Hendrickson Smith, president of the Federated Missionary society, delivered the welcome address, which was responded to by Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs in a happy manner. Mrs. Horace Tarver sang a solo. Other short talks were made by Mrs. Josephine Young of Amarillo, Mrs. T. H. Lawson of Wichita Falls, Mrs. J. I. Kendrick of Amarillo, Mrs. D. L. Kinard, Mrs. Chake Davis and Mrs. Frank Fore accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Morgan, furnished two excellent trio numbers.

A tea at the home of Mrs. C. A. Prowel at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon furnished the entertainment.

Texas Grave To Be Probed

Clue to Missing Florida Man Found at Victoria

VICTORIA, April 29.(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of Louis E. Overstreet, prominent produce dealer of Lake Worth, Fla., may be solved by a pauper's grave here.

A man dressed in cheap clothing was found dead along the Missouri Pacific railroad six miles north of Placedo in this county April 19. The only identifying marks on the body were an automobile key and initials on his collar band.

H. R. Overstreet, a leading produce dealer and tomato grower of Alamo and Brownsville, came here Friday to have the body exhumed in the belief that it is his brother. The brother disappeared April 6, after wiring from Florida that he was coming to Texas. Nothing further has been heard from him, and his relatives have been unable to locate him.

Mr. Overstreet said his brother was a man of financial means, that he left Florida in an automobile, and presumed that on account of the bad roads he discontinued the automobile trip at Houston. He said the description of the dead man answered that of his brother, but he was unable to account for the cheap clothing. The laundry marks were discovered to be "L. E. O." after Mr. Overstreet arrived here.

Mr. Overstreet left today for Houston to find some trace of his brother's automobile and baggage and will return Saturday to have the body exhumed.

Fifteen years ago, his younger brother was robbed, murdered and thrown off a train near Valdosta, Ga. Another brother, George M. Overstreet, is a wealthy plantation owner in the Rio Grande Valley near Brownsville.

LIGHTNING HITS NAVAL PLANE

Four Aviators Killed When Ship Collapses

NORFOLK, Va., April 29. (AP)—Four naval aviators were killed late today when lightning struck their plane and plunged it into Chesapeake bay off New Point Comfort.

The men were Lieut. V. F. Marinelli, attached to the Hampton Roads naval air station, Lieut George W. Lehman, Chief Machinist Mate Poyner and Machinists Mate Second Class Mlechaels.

The plane was struck during a severe electric storm that swept this section. It was one of several flying from Philadelphia to the Hampton Roads station. News of the disaster was brought here by one of the other planes, the occupants of which witnessed it.

The plane wrecked was in front of them, those in the second plane said, when suddenly they saw it enveloped in a puff of smoke, then go out of control and plunge to the surface of the bay upside down.

The second plane landed to attempt rescue, but could do nothing because of weather conditions and after an hour of fruitless efforts came on to Norfolk. The tender Teal was dispatched to the scene, which is about the same spot at which Lieutenant Frank H. Conant, Schneider cup race flier, was killed last fall.

Police Investigate Maternity Home After Tiny Tot Dies of Brain Fever

HOUSTON, April 29. (AP)—An investigation into the operation of a maternity home in a Houston suburb was begun Friday by Horace Soule, district attorney following complaint of Mrs. E. O. Mann. Mrs. Mann appeared before the grand jury after talking to Mr. Soule. Mrs. Mann states that on April 17 she took her grandson, Vincent Pecorino Jr., six months old to a "baby home" in the suburb to board it. Her daughter, Mrs. Velma Mann, has separated from her husband, Vincent Pacorino, and could not care for the baby, she said.

Thursday Mrs. Mann sent a friend to the place to pay the board bill and was notified that the baby had died that morning at a hospital.

Hospital authorities said that the child was brought there Thursday and died from brain fever eight hours later.

The woman operator of the home was said to be prostrated Friday. She has been subpoenaed before the grand jury.

Great Flotilla of U. S. Warships, 122 Vessels, Moves Into New York

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—The greatest flotilla of Uncle Sam's sea fighters ever to visit New York at one time—122 grim, sleek craft—began to pass into the harbor this forenoon for a fortnight's visit.

The flagship Seattle led the inspiring procession up the bay followed by the California and the Florida.

Some of the craft went to dry dock in the Brooklyn navy yard for a general overhauling after the extensive maneuvers in southern waters, but most of them anchored in the Hudson river.

Ached All Over Quite Dreadfully

Was Just "Wasting Away" When Husband Got Her Some Cardui, Which Saw Her Safely Through

Arlington, Tex.—A resident of this town for many years, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, recently made the following statement:

"When we first came to Texas, 28 years ago, I was taken seriously ill. I was lying in bed suffering dreadfully. My husband got me a bottle of Cardui and I began to take it.

"I had suffered terribly with an aching all over my body. At times my head would give me so much trouble I could hardly stand it. I had been in bed for weeks and it looked like I was just wasting away.

"I took 9 bottles of Cardui and my strength began to slowly return.

"Since that time I have used this medicine a good many times and it has always helped me.

"At one time I took Cardui for several months regularly. I would be afflicted with sudden spells of dizziness when I could not stand on my feet. Everything would turn black before my eyes and I would feel as if I were going to faint. At times I would be quite nauseated. I turned at once to Cardui and took it till I was safely through."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients. It has been in use for over 50 years and in that time has helped thousands of women back to health.

TREE PLANTING CLOSES MEET

P.-T. A. Convention Ends Friday at Memphis

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, April 29.—A tree plantin gceremony this afternoon on the Memphis high school campus conducted by Mrs. M. N. Marrs, vice-president national congress, concluded the three-day session of the child welfare conference of the eighth district Texas conference of Mother and Parent-Teacher associations.

Mrs. Marrs made a timely address Thursday night on the educational significance of the parent-teacher movement. The movement is growing by leaps and bounds and the time is fast approaching when the whole nation will be at work on this great constructive program.

W. E. James of Austin, director of Texas council for safety, gave a great insight into the need of safety council, in his address Thursday night, and again at the high school Friday morning.

School of Instruction

Friday morning Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs conducted a school of instruction. Mrs. J. E. Griggs took the endowment pledges and secured $200, $250 being the district's quota. Friday afternoon W. A. McIntosh, superintendent of the Amarillo schools, made a splendid address on "Co-operation of Superintendent and P.-T. A."

Reports received during Thursday and Friday from the different associations over the district show that some wonderful work has been accomplished and that the movement is far reaching in effect, growing by leaps and bounds, and the eighth district is right in the lead of them all. The attendance has been all that could be desired, Mrs. J. I. Kendricks of Amarillo, district president, stated before adjournment Friday.

All delegates and visitors attending proclaimed Memphis a wonderful host for a convention, for the entertainments during the days have been various and surpassing nice. Many local artists have been on the programs of the entertainment features and no duplications have been made.

Luncheon Given

Friday noon the Federated Missionary society gave a luncheon in the Masonic temple dining room. Young ladies with blue bonnets waited on tables. Mrs. S. A. Bryant of this city acted as toastmistress. The Palace orchestra furnished music for the occasion. Mrs. Hendrickson Smith, president of the Federated Missionary society, delivered the welcome address, which was responded to by Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs in a happy manner. Mrs. Horace Tarver sang a solo. Other short talks were made by Mrs. Josephine Young of Amarillo, Mrs. T. H. Lawson of Wichita Falls, Mrs. J. I. Kendrick of Amarillo, Mrs. D. L. Kinard, Mrs. Chake Davis and Mrs. Frank Fore accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Morgan, furnished two excellent trio numbers.

A tea at the home of Mrs. C. A. Prowel at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon furnished the entertainment.

Texas Grave To Be Probed

Clue to Missing Florida Man Found at Victoria

VICTORIA, April 29.(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of Louis E. Overstreet, prominent produce dealer of Lake Worth, Fla., may be solved by a pauper's grave here.

A man dressed in cheap clothing was found dead along the Missouri Pacific railroad six miles north of Placedo in this county April 13. The only identifying marks on the body were an automobile key and initials on his collar band.

H. R. Overstreet, a leading produce dealer and tomato grower of Alamo and Brownsville, came here Friday to have the body exhumed in the belief that it is his brother. The brother disappeared April 6, after wiring from Florida that he was coming to Texas. Nothing further has been heard from him, and his relatives have been unable to locate him.

Mr. Overstreet said his brother was a man of financial means, that he left Florida in an automobile, and presumed that on account of the bad roads he discontinued the automobile trip at Houston. He said the description of the dead man answered that of his brother, but he was unable to account for the cheap clothing. The laundry marks were discovered to be "L. E. O." after Mr. Overstreet arrived here.

Mr. Overstreet left today for Houston to find some trace of his brother's automobile and baggage and will return Saturday to have the body exhumed.

Fifteen years ago, his younger brother was robbed, murdered and thrown off a train near Valdosta, Ga. Another brother, George M. Overstreet, is a wealthy plantation owner in the Rio Grande Valley near Brownsville.

MODISH MITZI -:- -:- -:- Mitzi Must Wear Them -:- -:- -:- By JAY V. JAY

Some one told Mitzi she would need a good many dinner gowns for her trip abroad. Mitzi is nothing if not prepared. Here she is in the process of acquiring an orchid georgette frock trimmed with ostrich tips. There's a sort of ostrich cuffiet she wears around her wrist. The dress is sleeveless, of course.

Another dinner dress is of lace, with a scarf worn in the French manner around her neck and both ends down her back. The bodice of the gown gives a bolero effect. The skirt is in two tiers . The lace is so different that she feels she simply must add this to her "going-away clothes."

"Could there be anything more charming, even in Paris?" asks Mitzi. Which leads to the information that she intends to go there. The scarf-cape effect, one side with trimming of chiffon flowers, is reason enough for acquiring the gown. "And is Madame a good sailor?" asks the clerk cheerfully.

If she wasn't What would happen? She wouldn't be able to wear these evening dresses! That's why she is asking the druggist earnestly if he has a sure, a very sure, seasick remedy. He recommends a whole quart of something—a guarantee for the wearing of, at least, three new evening dresses.

Tomorrow—Dresses for warmer weather.

Women Work To Hold Husband's Love; Men Seldom Think of It

Two Reasons Why Women Work to Hold Their Husbands' Love While Men Seldom Worry About Remaining Attractive to Their Wives—Two Brave Hearts Who Put Honor Above Desire. The Husband Who Pets Other Wives at Parties.

DEAR MISS DIX:—Why does it seem to be a law of nature that the woman must always be alluring in order to hold the interest and love of a man, while the man goes unshaven and slouchy, even dirty, and takes no care of his personal appearance and still expects the woman to go on loving him and seeing him as the ideal of her dreams that she believed him to be when she married him? Does a husband worry about losing his wife's love? He does not. He will look like a tramp, be grouchy and selfish and sulky and expect her to love him, but she has to have all the feminine virtues, or he transfers his affections to some other woman.

I tell you I am about fed up with a husband who disgusts me by his slovenliness and fills me with contempt by his selfishness and lack of consideration for my comfort and happiness and yet expects me to be always charming and amiable. DISILLUSIONED.

Answer: There are two answers to your question. The first is, the reason that women make more effort to be attractive to their husbands and to hold their husbands' love than men make to keep their wives fascinated is because it is more important to a woman to keep her home together than it is to a man.

When a woman gets married she burns her bridges behind her and she cannot, as a general thing, go back to her former estate. Her home doors automatically close behind her and she cannot resume her former place in the family circle that she held before she was married. If she was a business woman, some younger woman has got her job and they are using new methods in the office, so she finds it difficult to become a money-earner again. Besides, there are nearly always children who must have a home and an education, and she cannot support these alone.

So, aside from any sentimental consideration, any question of love or emotion, it is of practical importance for a woman to preserve her home, which is her own and her children's livelihood. This she can only do by retaining her husband's love, so that she is forced to try to make herself attractive and agreeable to him.

On the other hand, a man's home never means as much to him as it does to his wife, and if it is broken up he still has his business, his money, his ordinary interests and pursuits. He hasn't had everything swept away, as a woman has.

The second answer to your question is masculine vanity.

The average husband never worries his head about his wife ceasing to love him, because he believes himself so superhumanly attractive,— dirty or clean, shorn or unshorn, pressed or unpressed, that she cannot help adoring him and admiring him. And he also believes that such are his powers of fascination that she will go on loving him no matter how he abuses her.

In all of which he is, of course, utterly mistaken. Women are far more sensitive to appearances than men are, and if a man is disillusioned by a slovenly woman, a woman finds a dirty man a thousand times more repulsive. And if a man falls out of love with a shrewish woman, be sure that a wife actually hates a grouchy husband.

It would astonish a lot of men to know what their wives really think of them.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX:—A boy in the glamour of youth married a girl who did not keep up with him in his growth and whom he found in his mature years an utterly uncongenial mate. He has found the one woman, as she has found him. They both know. That is all. There has been no philandering. They both feel there is nothing to do but carry on and take what little joy there is in a love like that. But it is something to keep one's honor unsullied if the heart does go on a rampage. ONE OF THEM.

Answer: Indeed, it is, and it takes the bravest of the brave to be able to say: "I could not love thee, dear, so much, loved I not honour more."

I often think that no martyrs ever lived who are so worthy of our profoundest reverence as are those men and women who endure patiently and silently the long, drawn-out agony of unhappy marriages. They are crucified upon the cross of the mistakes they made in their early youth and their sufferings are not for a few minutes or an hour, but go on and on for years and years.

We see many examples of it. Spiritual women married to men who are clods, men who cannot understand one thought or dream of their wives. Brilliant men married to silly, dull little wives who chatter as senselessly as a canary bird. Yet these men and women, disillusioned, bored to extinction, heart hungry, lonely, carry on because of their sense of duty, because they are too honorable to repudiate the obligation they took upon themselves.

There is no tragedy greater than that of the husband and wife who outgrew their mates and who must not only go companionless upon their ways but endure the daily close contact with those who rub their nerves raw and who weary them to tears.

And the very bitterest drop in this tragedy is that so cruelly often the husband and wife do find the woman and man whose heart and soul would have answered unto theirs and with whom they could have been supremely happy. It takes heroes then to remember that the poor dull wife and husband are not to blame and that an honest man and woman must pay their score to life, and put honor before inclination.

God alone knows why we are punished more for our mistakes than we are for our crimes, but it increases one's respect for humanity to know that there are men and women still left who have the strength to stand by their bargains and not turn quitters.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX:—My husband and I belong to a card club to which six or eight other couples belong. At home my husband is all in all to me, but when we go out he forgets he knows me or has me along and he is always putting his arms around some one of the women, and the men kid him about it and the women call to me to see what he is doing. What do you think of this? Do you think I am jealous because I object? P.F.

Answer: I think your husband shows great lack of good taste and probably makes himself very offensive to the other women, as there is nothing that women resent more than such familiarities.

Evidently your h band considers himself a devil of a fellow among the ladies and is trying to show off before you, so if you cannot induce him to mend his manners, just laugh at him. He really means nothing.

And if it will comfort you, you may be very sure that every one of the women he is pawing over is wishing she had the courage to jab a hatpin into him and in her heart she is calling him an old idiot.

RUNYON SAYS

Now "The Alarm Clock"—
That's Big Ben Pound—
Seems to Have a Punch—
Is a New York Boy—
Mays a Fine Prospect—

By DAMON RUNYON
(Copyright 1927 by International Feature Service, Inc.)

"The Alarm Clock of the Heavies" is the way they bill Mr. Big Ben Pound of Florida, one of the very latest editions of the pugilistic pachyderm, and he wears into the ring a bathrobe with a Big Ben alarm clock embroidered on the back.

You might suspect that Big Ben is a walking advertisement for the clock makers—a sort of pugilistic sandwich man—but I am given to understand that this is not the case. The alarm clock on his back is set to wake him up at the count of nine. It is not altogether a bad idea, at that. I can think of a lot of heavies who might use an alarm clock to good advantage.

Big Ben Pound is a student at Rollins college, which makes him a brother of some kind to Mr. Rex Beach, the eminent novelist. Mr. Beach is an alumnus of Rollins, and I hope and trust that Big Ben has some of Mr. Beach's vitality and wallop. If so he may go far among the heavyweights.

I believe Florida claims Big Ben as her own, and I regret to dispel the illusions of the grape fruit growers on that score. In the interests of truth I must report, however, that Big Ben is a New Yorker. He started his boxing career as a sparring partner for Andi di Vodi, the welterweight, who was flattened by Mushy Callahan not long ago.

It is said that Big Ben accepts no pay for his pugilistic endeavors, and thus retains standing as an amateur. I do not see how this can be as he battled professionals, but then there are a lot of angles to amateurism that are beyond me. Anyway, Big Ben is a strictly non-union among the professionals.

He is managed by Jim Downing, of Salt Lake City, Utah, a former boxer, who was getting through about the time Mr. Jack Dempsey started his clamber to fame out Utah way. Jim has been doing some promoting in Florida besides handling Big Ben Pound.

I have before me Big Ben's record to date, and it would indicate that he hates to dally in the ring. He smacks his opponents the minute he crawls through the ropes, no bout in which he has been engaged having gone three minutes. Let us hope that Big Ben does not display the same aversion to remaining in the ring when he himself gets smacked. Take a peek at his record:

Buddy Brown, K. O., 50 seconds.
Joe Gorman, K. O., 1 minute, 30 seconds.
Andy Anderson, K. O., 1 minute, 12 seconds.
Joe Kennedy, 1 minute, 30 seconds.
Dan Guyer, 40 seconds.
K. O. Brennan, 1 minute.
Joe Burke, 2 minutes.

True, some of these opponents are of the genus pop-over, or hit-out, as we say, and Big Ben has yet to meet a real test. None the less he would seem to have something besides the alarm clock on his back, and he at least brings a new, perhaps interesting face to the heavyweight division.

His record is not quite as impressive as that of Roy Hoot Burger, the big Kansan I mentioned in this column recently, or of Ernie Schaaf, the blonde destroyer from the navy, but give Big Ben time—or rather I should say give Jim Downing time. From the calibre of Big Ben's opponents, I would say that Jim knows what he is doing.

Pound, Burger, Schaaf, Armand Emanuel, the San Francisco flash, and Wyoming Warner, the Snake River cowboy, are all about in the same class just now in the matter of experience and pugilistic promise, but I repeat what I said the other day—one or more of these fellows may be a sensation in the next year.

I saw another heavyweight not long ago who impresses me no little—a young fellow who is more advanced than any of those I have named. He is Harold Mays, of Bayonne, N. J., the home of Jeff Smith, the famous old globe trotter of Fistiana. In physical build and pugilistic style, Mays strongly resembles Jimmy Maloney, of Boston.

Mays was one of Gene Tunney's sparring partners at Stroudsburg when Tunney was making ready for his fight with Jack Dempsey, and the boxing writers often commented on Harold's work with Gene. He is a stocky built, strong looking chap, with a corking left hook and a good uppercut. Mays makes his appearance in New York on the Stribling-Loughran card on May 3 against Bob Lawson, the black bear from Alabama.

There will be no dearth of heavyweight contenders even if all those now pugilistically prominent pass from view I would infer from their records that the newcomers show more punching promise than the current crop, which is important. Only Emanuel seems to be strictly a boxer, and he may develop a punch.

Pound, Burger, Schaaf and Warner are punchers. This Mays, too, is a stout hitter. He is constructed for punching, and also to take a punch. The average young heavyweight generally falls down there. He may be able to punch, but rarely do you find one who can absorb a punch. When you get the combination of puncher and punch-eater, you have a near-champion.

SPUDDERS COP PANTHER FINAL

Wichita Falls Bludgeoners Pole 18 Safeties

FORT WORTH, April 29.—Getting to the offering of three Fort Worth pitchers, Wichita Falls took the fourth and final game of the series, 12 to 9, Friday afternoon at Panther Park. The Cats drove Joe Kiefer from the mound in the ninth inning, scoring four runs, but the rally fell short.

Bill Sweeney led the hitters for the day with five blows in as many attempts. Three of the hits were doubles. Watt started for Fort Worth, but gave way in the seventh inning in favor of Hubbell after the Spuds had scored seven runs.

Sweeney, Cat first baseman, led the hitters, driving out five hits in five times at bat. Eddie Moore of Fort Worth and Swenson and Lamb of Wichita Falls each poled three hits. Lapan, Spudder catcher, came through for four hits, one of which was a triple and two of them doubles.

Cats Get Jump.

Sears' home run over the right field fence with Richardson on base, gave Fort Worth a two-run lead in the first inning. Wichita Falls scored a run in the second after there were two out when Swenson singled and Lapan followed with a double.

The Cats scored two more runs in the fourth on a double by Sweeney, a Texas leaguer by Lindimore, an infield out and a single by Eddie Moore.

Wichita Falls came back strong in the fifth inning and tied the score, rolling over for three runs. LaFayette opened with a single through short and was forced at second by Mann. Then Fitzgerald forced Mann. Lamb, Jenkins, Turgeon and Swenson singled in succession, scoring the three runs. Lapan walked but was forced at second by Kiefer for the third out.

The visitors came across for another two runs in the sixth. LaFayette started with a base on balls, went to second on Mann's sacrifice bunt and third after the catch on Fitzgerald's fly to right. He scored when Redfern kicked Lamb's grounder. Jenkins doubled to center, scoring Lamb. The former got caught in a chase but made it to third where he was left when Turgeon grounded out.

Pete Pastes 'Em.

The Spudders kept up their scoring in the seventh, going over for three on a double by Lapan, walks to LaFayette, Mann and Fitzgerald and a double by Lamb. They completed their scoring in the eighth, getting three more. Turgeon singled and Swenson drew a base on balls. Lapan followed up with his triple at this stage, scoring both of them. He scored a minute later on a passed ball.

Fort Worth scored one run in the last half of the eighth on a double by Sweeney and Bonowitz's single. The Cats chased Kiefer to the showers in the ninth. McDonald, batting for Sullivan, doubled to right and scored when Eddie Moore followed with a triple to left. Richardson singled through the box and Moore scored. Redfern flied out to center. Sears doubled to left, scoring Richardson and went to third on Smith's single to center. White went to the hill and Sweeney doubled to left again, scoring Sears. Smith was trapped between third and the plate and was tagged out by Lapan on a relay, Fitzgerald to Mann to Lapan. Bonowitz closed the rally by flying out to Lamb in right field.

Francis Smashes Pack to Victory

Coyal Francis led the Wichita Falls high school to victory over the Archer City Wildcats Friday in Archer City by the score of 11 to 7. Captain Francis poled out six for six in which he hit two home runs, two triples, a double and a single.

CUBS HAMMER FILLINGIN, 8-5

Santone Homers Fail to Halt Waco's Advance

WACO, April 29. (AP)—Dana Fillingim, San Antonio's spit-baller, lost his spell over the Cubs here today, and the locals hammered out an 8 to 5 victory. Elliott pitched a steady game for the Wacoans but four errors behind him kept the Michigan University hurler in trouble a good portion of the time. Phipps hit a homer in the fifth with no one on base. Vigare, the Cubs' third baseman, greeted Lee in the sixth with a home run over the centerfield fence. West and Wilson were the batting lights for Waco, West getting four hits out of five times at bat and Wilson three. Phipps was the visitor's leading hitter with a homer, double, and single in five times at bat. The score:

HOUSTON 2, BEAUMONT 0.

HOUSTON, April 29. (AP)—Coupled with effective support from his teammates, Frank Frankhouse, after only three days rest, pitched the Houston Buffs to a 2 to 1 victory over the Beaumont Exporters Friday.

Ernest Orsatti subbed at first for the injured "Snake" Henry and punched out half of the six hits the Buffs gathered off of Ross' delivery. In the eighth, with men on first and third, and none out, Orsatti seized Edington's sizzling grounder and started a double play, Orsatti to Hock to Orsatti which apparently took the pep out of the Exporters.

Pepper Martin drove the ball over the left field fence in the eighth for a home run. The score:

Suzanne Will Try To Run Under Net Meet at Wimbledon

By ROBERT J. PREW
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.
Special Cable Dispatch.

LONDON, April 29. — Suzanne Lenglen has decided to challenge the attractions at the Wimbledon tennis championships this year by appearing elsewhere in the London area at the same time. It was announced tonight that she will play at the Phyliss Court club, a fashionable rendezvous at Henly, from June 29 to July 2, when normally the interest in Wimbledon net work is at its height.

On those days it is expected that Helen Wills and Molla Mallory, as well as Tilden and Hunter, will be wielding their amateur rackets at Wimbledon while Suzanne will be countering with a professional show under the direction of Charles B. Cochran on the other courts.

News of her coming appearance shocked the Wimbledon managers who had previously been lead to believe that Suzanne would do nothing to harm their tournament in spite of their repeated quarrels with her at last year's competitions.

Elliott started the scoring by pounding out a double to knock across two runs in the second inning. Butler got four singles in four times up. The score:

TWELFTH FLOOR TOPNOTCHERS SMACK WILDCATTERS, 13 TO 6

Oh, What a Battle She Was, Boys, With Umphs McGregor Ever in Danger of Death at Hands of Such Great Athletes as Heavy Rogers And Houseman

The Twelfth Floor Topnotchers, an aggregation of such great men as Sam Mann (no relation to Johnny Mann) George Alexander, Dan Shine, along with R. H. Gregg, Bill Houseman and whatnot, defeated the illustrious Seventh Floor Wildcatters, 13 to 6, in some kind of a battle that at times bore all the earmarks, including bats, balls and gloves, of a baseball game Friday afternoon at Spudder park. Thirteen-to-six, that's what a hard-pressed scorer doped her out as. Maybe she was more, maybe she was less, but the City National bank building boys (that's where the two detachments hailed from) ran so wild she was almost impossible to keep a progressive box tabulation.

The game was played as a benefit affair for the flood sufferers' fund.

Pretty Stiff Today

The two teams were composed of business and professional men, some of whom had not touched a baseball or bat in years. But any time you think some of those gentlemen can't play the game, you're far from your mark.

Mann, Alexander and Houseman of the victors each slapped out three safe hits. Milton Price smacked a couple. John O'Donohoe and Gatewood of the losers drove out three hits apiece. Rubsam and Reid each poked a pair.

The game was filled with wild and reckless baseball. To start off the melee, Catcher Gatewood lost one down around his shins and allowed a pair of runners to advance into a scoring position.

Dan Shine came to the bat the first time with his colorful straw derby and John O'Donohoe had to make a great play to get him out. O'Donohoe threw from a sitting position. It was also in the first inning that Dan Rubsam liked to got parked for fussing over decisions as given by Umpire McGregor.

Scientific Scoring

Just to show the easy way that some of the runs were scored off the laboring pitchers, Bill Pagan was on second when John O'Donohoe made a great effort to pick him off second and threw into center field. Pagan raced to third and was safe when Rubsam let the throw get past him. Rubsam then heaved over the catcher and Pagan romped home.

Dan Shine came to the bat in the second inning and tried to bat one of O'Donohoe's famous fadeaways with his leg. He took a fancy hop and hobble down to first. His leg soon recovered and pulled a Ty Cobb stunt on the bases by stealing second. He then grew ambitious and enacted a beautiful hook-slide steal of third only to look up through the dust to see Fred Houseman, a teammate, already perched on the bag.

During a midfield conference of the batterymen, Bill Houseman, the batter listened in to prevent a frame-up against him. He got away with it, too.

Twice Houseman had John O'Donohoe napping off first, but both times a clever hook-slide put him back on the bag safely. A moment later George Alexander fished for a wide third strike and then tried to knock the grandstand down with his bat, thrown in deep disgust.

Houseman Pilfers

Fred Houseman pulled a pretty bit of base running when he dashed down the baseline, drew the catcher's peg to third and then dashed over the plate for a perfect steal of home plate.

Heavy Rogers got peeved at the way Ump McGregor was calling the game, and tried to get rid of of him by hitting him with a batted ball. Later, he had a long argument with the ump, and was chased from the field, but play had been resumed before he could get off the playing field.

Sam Mann pulled a Johnny Mann style catch of a line drive over his head off the bat of McClendon for one of the feature plays of the game. Bill Houseman then came back with a home handed shoestring catch and a great whip to first to double Rubsam off first, the ball was hit to left by John O'Donohoe. A little later he made a great shoestring catch of Enloe's drive to repeat the feat and doubled McClendon off second.

Sockless Fravel also staged a grea tleaping catch in center field on Fred Houseman's drive. In the absence of baseball stockings, he playpd in his fancies and supporters.

Ump McGregor had to act as manager of the Top Floor team and tell them when to place their coachers on the bases. This looked rather suspicious from a fan's standpoint.

Fordham Hurdler Repulses Britons

Penn's Quarter-Mile Relay Team Retains Title

By LEWIS BURTON
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

FRANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia, April 29.—In defeating Lord "Davie" Burghley, champion of Cambridge university and all England, Johnny Gibson, Fordham's curley-headed boy won what is tantamount to the world's intercollegiate distance hurdling championship here today.

Racing over ten timbers, spread over 400 meters, the maroon-shirted athlete successfully defended a crown he acquired a year ago and put an abrupt end to Britain's most important challenge in the opening track event of the thirty-third annual two day Penn relay carnival.

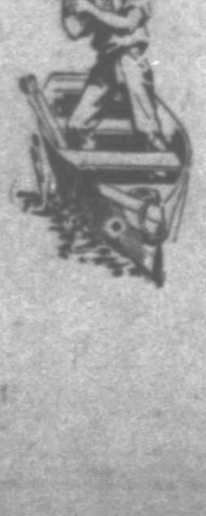

Great tales of the speed possessed by Gibson and his rival of noble birth discouraged all but T. C. Livingston-Learmonth, another Cambridge invader, from starting in the event. Learmonth knew his own merit and it looked for all the world, in the first half of the race, like he might win. He eventually finished third, a yard behind Burghly. Gibson, in breaking the tape five yards ahead of the heir to the Marquis of Exeter, was clocked in 055 2-5, a fifth of a second faster than he ran a year ago.

Exceeding the expectations of its coach, Lawson Robertson, the Pennsylvania quarter-mile relay team equalled the world's record and kept the championship of America which it acquired last year in record-equalling time. Opposed by the most select field that has ever participated in the event, including Notre Dame and Michigan state, Penn came through with a performance of 041 6-10. Penn state, as a year ago, pressed the red and blue, to the record figures.

AFTER FOUR YEARS—REAL GROWTH

THIS newspaper announced the other day a 131 per cent gain in circulation in four years—or the greatest circulation gain of any local newspaper over a similar period. This tremendous gain is important, not so much because it was made by your morning newspaper—however, that too, is essential—but more so because it demonstrates forcibly the development of our trade territory.

The Record News has been working hand-in-hand with the local chamber of commerce in extending our boundaries, carrying them across the river into Oklahoma and in bringing thousands of people here to do their shopping. All of this is seen in the fact that the Record News is first in circulation—AND BY A SAFE AND WIDE MARGIN—in these Oklahoma towns: Altus, Devol, Frederick, Grandfield, Hastings, Lawton, Randlett, Temple, Waurika and Walters.

And in Burkburnett, the Record News has only nine less than a thousand subscribers; more than a thousand in Electra; half a thousand at Vernon, Olney and almost as many at Iowa Park, Archer City, Nocona and other towns within our territory.

What is the real meaning of the statement that this newspaper has gained 9006 circulation, or an increase of 131 per cent in four short years? The answer is the people of Wichita Falls and its territory have discovered that the Record News prints the news of their territory, the best and most expensive features as well as the news of the state, nation and world as served not only by two Associated Press wires but also by a Universal Service wire.

ON THE VERGE OF DISASTER

A DISPATCH from the City of Mexico says that to avert a threatened treasury deficit President Calles has issued a decree conferring on his secretary of treasury the power of financial dictator. This decree gives the secretary of the treasury absolute power. There is to be no appeal from his decision.

How like Mussolini?

He is given the authority to sell or mortgage government property or real estate as he deems necessary. This includes the churches and buildings and real estate of the Catholics in Mexico. Prsident Calles must be on the rocks. He must be facing financial disaster.

There has been hell in Mexico for a thousand years. Before the coming of the white man, Mexico had a civilization. Since the white man landed on these shores, Mexico and the Mexicans have traveled a rocky road.

Their dictators have been tyrants and their tyrants have been looters of the property of others. Americans have an investment of upwards of $2,000,000,000 in Mexico and these American investors have done more for the Mexicans than all the tribe of Calles in the thousand years.

Some day Old Glory may float over all the territory lying between the Rio Grande river and the Panama canal for protective and civilizing purposes.

BALLOT COMES TO WOMEN IN UNITED KINGDOM

AND now the ballot is coming to all women over 21 in England, Scotland and North Ireland. In the Irish Free States they were given the franchise long ago. Many of the tory members of the house of commons are filled with disgust. They are angry with Prime Minister Baldwin. They are angry with Lady Astor, who was born in Virginia and who is the leader of the tory women of England.

More than 5,000,000 new voters will be added to the voting list. Lady Astor says they are not flappers. They are wage workers. They went into the factories during the World war. They are still at work and now they are going to have a voice in their government. With an additional 5,000,000 women wage workers to the voting strength, now just what will happen to the fortune of the tory party in the general elections which will be held in 1929?

Women wage workers are going to cast their ballots for candidates who believe in higher wages, higher standards of living, better educational facilities, and they may take it into their heads to return to power David Lloyd George or Ramsey McDonal.

COMPLETED BANKHEAD HIGHWAY

WHEN completed the Bankhead highway will be the finest road in the United States. In fact it likely is the best in the country now. This is the statement made to the Fort Worth Star Telegram by State Highway Commissioner W. R. Ely, who declared that the Bankhead highway surfacing will be completed all the way to El Paso in less than a year, there remaining only a few short gaps at present.

Mitchell county, way out on the line of the Texas & Pacific railroad, has called a bond election for the purpose of voting funds to surface the road. State Commisisoner Ely is of the west. He knows the west. He declared rapid strides in road improvement will be made as soon as federal aid, approximately $10,000,000 becomes available.

Spring floods have played havoc with many graveled roads in Texas; spring floods have played havoc with many surfaced roads. Millions will be necessary to carry on these improvements planned.

CHINA NOT TO BE COERCED

CHINA is not to be coerced by the United States government. This is the dictum of the Coolidge administrations If Great Britain and other European powers decide to turn their guns upon the Chinese and make it a real war, the great republic of the west is not going along.

Japan is not going along.

Uncle Sam isn't selling opium in China. Opium production is not an American staple. Uncle Sam has never asked for extra territorial privileges in China. He wouldn't permit a foreign power to exercise extra territorial privileges in the United States. This is not the American plan of procedure.

China has ever been the friend of the United States. Why not the European politicians and kings of commerce, including opium, stew in their own juice awhile and pick their own chestnuts out of the Chinese fire?

BO BROADWAY ..... By Joseph Van Raalte

NEW YORK, April 29.—She is a sweet-faced, white-haired, motherly-looking woman, well dressed and benign. You see her any bright afternoon, dallying on the sunny side of the avenue in the crowded environs of the Boob Bazaars. Once in a while she pauses with a smile to address some well-tailored passerby:

"Have you any frocks, or furs at home, that you would like to dispose of, M'lady?" she says. "I pay the highest price in the city for second hand wear!"

A New Yorker and a lad from "Lannon" engaged recently in a spirited, albeit good-natured argument with respect to the outstanding excellencies of British and American motor cars.

The boy from Thamestown drives an extremely expensive and high-powered car, and while admitting the comparative flexibility of Yankee motors on high gear, none the less was inclined to be "sniffy" at gear boxes as made by the Eminent Tinsmith of Detroit.

"All that you say may be true," replied the New Yorker; "but what can you do with your fluffy broad-A'd gear box that I can't do with mine?"

"I can play 'God Save the King' on it," was the somewhat unexpected reply.

The American laughed, but the other was serious.

"All right," he said, "listen."

He took the foot off the clutch and set the spark so that his engine was running at a fair rate of speed and changed his gears ever so slightly, so that they just scraped together and no more. The car's equipment of four forward and one reverse speeds gave him a range of five notes; and within those limitations he faithfully produced the royal anthem.

The New Yorker is now practicing the "Star Spangled Banner" as a counter attraction. He said to a friend the other day:

"I wish I had a Ford to practice on. They're inherently musical."

New York hotel managers have a way all their own. Take the case of Dave Belasco, who poses in his clerical collar with two fingers on his cheek in theatrical publications and cigaret ads.

David lived for 20 years with his wife at a hotel on upper Broadway. Last October Mrs. Belasco died and David sought other quarters. Before leaving the caravansarie he says he wrote to the management as follows:

"The thought never occurred to me that I should be leaving the Marie Antoninette, but, then, the thought had never occurred to me that death would interrupt the union between me and Mrs. Belasco; and since that has taken place I have suffered agony whenever I have entered our rooms."

The management said they were sorry, of course, and all that sort of thing, but that they had never received any such letter and if Dave had written it he must have forgotten to drop it in the box. So they entered suit for $1600.

David has requested a trial by jury and all he has to do is get one widower in the box and he'll be sittin' purty.

HEALTH AND DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

QUESTIONS IN REGARD TO HEALTH & DIET WILL BE ANSWERED BY DR. McCOY WHO CAN BE ADDRESSED IN CARE OF THIS PAPER
ENCLOSE STAMPED ADDRESSED ENVELOPE FOR REPLY

©1926 MC. COY HEALTH SERVICE LOS ANGELES- CAL.

A REAL HEALTH SERVICE.

This column is written each day with one object in view, and that is to give you who study these articles a better understanding of how to preserve your health and how to have health more abundantly.

Only a certain space can be used daily as the proper space must be reserved for other features and news articles. It is also best for you if I do not make the articles too long so you may properly assimilate each idea and not suffer from mental indigestion!

Many who have some particular problem have been disappointed in not seeing a treatise on their own trouble. If you will continue to read these articles each day you will finally see the information you have been waiting for, but many readers write to me asking questions, some of which can be answered in the paper, and others request a personal reply. I am eager to answer any letters which come to me, but I much ask you to help yourself and others—also me, by observing the following rules:

Make your letter short—not over a hundred words.

I cannot attempt to diagnose your case by mail. If you do not know the name of the trouble from which you are suffering, you should go to a physician and have a correct diagnosis made. Then write me and I will be glad to send you any advice which I think will be helpful to you.

If you have had a diagnosis made, simply write and ask me to send you a treatise on your particular disease and I will then send you a copy of an article which I have written on that subject.,

If you wish a personal reply, always enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope and you will get a personal reply at once.

Do not take up time by making me read a record of your symptoms. Just name your trouble and I will understand the symptoms which go with that disease.

Do not ask me to recommend any drug or medicinal preparation.

If you expect your question to be answered in this column, you may have to wait a long time, as only a question or two can be published each day and only questions of general interest can be used.

Make your questions right to the point. The other day a lady wrote me a six-page letter telling me of her domestic troubles and the only question asked was at the end of the letter when she wanted to know if I thought, from what she had told me, her husband really loved her.

Remember, I have no remedies to sell and no ax to grind. Many readers write to me and say, "I saw your advertisement in the paper." Please understand these articles are not advertisements, but this newspaper pays me well for every one of my daily lessons to you.

Now, that we understand each other—send along those questions and let me tell you how to eat, exercise, and think for perfect health.

QUESTION: Robert D. writes: "I have had a skin disease which doctors call psoriasis. It is most apparent on my shins, elbows, scalp, and a little on my back. All ointments that I have used have failed to efect a cure. Some doctors suggest sun ray treatment, and I would appreciate it very much if you would advise me."

ANSWER: The ultra violet light treatment is an excellent temporary treatment for removing your trouble, but a real cure can only be secured through living on a carefully planned diet, giving special care to correct food combinations. All cases of skin disorders are curable without any other treatment.

QUESTION: M. C. G. writes: "Is there any rule for a nursing mother to follow as regards diet?

ANSWER: If you wish to continue to nurse your baby and do not have enough milk, you will receive good results if you use a well balanced diet, taking a quart of milk at least for one of your meals during the day. For instance, at lunch you can drink a glass of milk every 15 minutes until a quart is taken. An excellent plan is to use one of the non-starchy vegetables, such as spinach, string beans, or asparagus along with one of the glasses of milk at the noon meal.

Ring 4121 and ask for Ad Taker. They get results.

The machine is being demonstrated in the lobby of the Texan hotel and according to the demonstrators, three of the mechanical "soda jerkers" have been sold in Wichita Falls.

If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, now may Israel say;

If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, when men rose up against us:

Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul.

Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.

Blessed be the Lord, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.—Psalms 124:1-7.

AKINS READY TO FACE TRIAL

Iowa Park Man Declares His Innocence

Waiving extradition proceedings, Norman Akins, 28, who was arrested Thursday night at his home in Iowa Park by Sheriff W. G. Bralley and deputies, will leave the Wichita county jail for Portales, N. M., in custody of Sheriff J. H. Poindexter Saturday morning, the prisoner assured the New Mexico sheriff Saturday night.

Sheriff Poindexter arrived in Wichita Falls early Friday night and immediately talked with Akins, for whom a warrant was held in connection with the robbery of a bank at Elida, Roosevelt county, New Mexico.

Akins talked freely with the officers, declaring his innocence, and that he would return to Portales willingly.

Levee Collapse Traps Refugees

the next step the careening river might make.

At first, only a tiny trickle of water came over the first of the three crevasses. Workmen were rushed to the levee, and labored with pick and shovel to widen the gaps.

LIVES ENDANGERED AS LEVEE COLLAPSES.

MEMPHIS, April 29.(AP)—Tearing through the levee at South Bend late today, the swollen Arkansas river again made mockery of man's heroic work to stem the raging tide. Set free by a 200 yard gap, rapidly widening, the flood waters will virtually complete the inundation of Southeast Arkansas. Meanwhile the Mississippi river, on its record rampage, threatened at least three levees as the torrents swept to the lower delta where an artificial crevasse was torn in the dyke at Poydras to save New Orleans from possible inundation.

Fight in Vain.

While an army of men had labored for many days to save South Bend levee, the break came below the point where they had spent more than 100 hours in continual battle. Heartened two nights ago when the rampart settled back of its own accord and filled a serious sand boil, the fighters saw their work go to naught today. Huge cave-ins on the river side of the dikes, 2000 feet below the battle center, appeared without warning. Hastily the crew was transferred and appeals made for more men and materials. Supplies and sand bags arrived but the raging stream pushed them aside.

The flood waters will pour into territory already largely inundated from previous breaks further upstream. Grave fears were felt by relief workers for hundreds of persons reported still marooned from the first flood wave, for the South Bend waters will raise the depth of the flood in several towns. Already in some parts of the lowlands water has been reported 10 to 30 feet deep.

7000 Refugees.

The waters from the break will leave hardly a dry spot in Southeast Arkansas except Monticello and Gredy which already have 7000 refugees.

Evacuation of many affected towns and villages began soon after the break. Lieutenant Griff McSwins of the United States army air forces who was on the scene, leaped into his plane and spread the alarm, dropping warnings from the air, at Gould, where a refugee train had been held in readiness.

EXILE OF ACADIANS IS RE-ENACTED

NEW ORLEANS, April 29.(AP)—Exile, such as the Acadians knew and Longfellow made immortal in "Evangeline" is an old, old story to the French Acadians and Spanish Creoles of St. Bernard and Plaquemine parishes. And today they went in exile again, streaming northward into New Orleans. Their homes are to be deliberately flooded to save that city.

Today their homes banked in bright flowers that blossom in a Louisiana springtime, smiled in the sun. Their fields were green with growing corn and early vegetables planted to meet the demands of a nation's market.

Great, green-sodded banks of the Mississippi river levee reared a giant bulk between those homes and fields and the turbulent flood that rushes toward the Gulf of Mexico; the channel down which roars the flood waters of 31 states.

Flood To Rip Fields.

But at noon today, by proclamation of Gov. O. H. Simpson, the levee was cut at Poydras to let the torrent through that the South's greatest city might be secure. The flood will engulf the homes of these people, will rip across their fields and will tear its way out through Lake De Leary and down Bayou Terre Aux Boufs, through Breton sound, into the Gulf of Mexico.

Meanwhile, the exodus went on It is a gaunt thing to witness but at the same time a scene of stoic courage and high adventure which stirs the heart.

All the hurt that any family knows at seeing the labor of years in building a home swept ruthlessly aside was there, but the hurt was hidden. These people, many of them Acadians, know what exile means.

The great-grandfather of some of these people who are trudging and rolling and riding up the river road to New Orleans, had built homes and tilled farms in far north Nova Scotia. In family after family the tale has been told of the exile that followed the arrival of British warships. The folk of St. Bernard and Plaquemine do not have to go back to the days of the Acadians in Nova Scotia to know what exile means.

Settlers Since 1815.

With the people of French and Spanish blood, they streamed into New Orleans in 1815 when the British came and were hurled back by the rifles of Andrew Jackson's troops. In 1922 they experienced the great flood when the Poydras crevasse let the flood come crashing through on their plantations and farms.

For 40 miles down the east bank, below the southernmost limits of New Orleans, a strange and motley line trudges and rolls on its way.

Just the other side of the levee the river growls and gurgles and seems to chuckle with sinister mirth as though it knew the hours were few before it would have its will of the land from which it had been barred.

British officers traveling on duty at the public expense must now go by the cheapest conveyance either by train or auto bus.

Girl, 19, Admits Slaying Lover, 32, After Note From Sister Advising Act

MORRISTOWN, N. J., April 29. (AP)—A theory of murder and attempted suicide was being investigated by the police today in the death of Spencer Hauser, 32-year-old father of five children, and the wounding of Alma Heller, 19-year-old girl, in what was first believed to have been a suicide pact.

The body of Hauser was found yesterday on the floor of an apartment he shared with the girl. On a cot nearby was Miss Heller with a bullet wound in the forehead. At the state hospital today it was said she would recover.

The girl first told police Hauser shot her and then turned the gun on himself, but later she declared she had shot Hauser and tried to end her own life.

Hauser, who was an orchestra leader in a local motion picture parlor, and Miss Heller, a resident of Allentown, Pa., had occupied the apartment for the last 10 days as Mr. and Mrs. Sam Baker.

A letter from Hauser's sister, Rita C. Hauser of Utica, to Miss Heller said Hauser had a wife and five children in Utica. She appealed to Miss Heller to discontinue her relations with her brother and said: "My suggestion would be for you both to turn on the gas."

FARMER HELD

Kemp City Man Makes Bond After Neighbor Is Injured.

A charge of aggravated assault was filed against Roscoe Arbuckle, 24, before County Attorney Wayne Sommerville Friday afternoon following an altercation on a farm near Kemp City. Jim Jetter, 50, was injured when hit on the head by an iron pipe. Arbuckle was released under bond of $250.

The difficulty arose over possession of a cotton planter, Arbuckle told Mr. Sommerville.

Jetter was taken to his home and several stitches were taken to close a gash in his head. A physician from Iowa Park attended Jetter, whose condition was said by officers to be not serious.

TEXON-MARLAND TEST INDICATES NEW HOWARD COUNTY POOL

SHOWING NEAR BIG SPRING

Wildcat Is Located 16 Miles Northwest of Field

Special to The Record News.

SAN ANGELO, April 29.—With 400 to 500 feet of fluid in the hole, from a showing struck Thursday at 3,163 feet, Texon-Marland No. 1 Harding today was drilling in lime at 3,210 feet with indications of opening an entirely new oil pool in West-Central Howard county, five miles south of Big Spring.

The location is in section 19, block 33, township 1 south and about sixteen miles northwest of the Chalk field, the nearest production.

Donnelly and Freels No. 1 Martin, nearest drilling test, eight miles north, topped the salt 405 feet higher than the Harding, which entered it at 1,146.

News of The Fields

E. J. STUMP WELL.

After bailing dry in a saturated lime showing oil at 1397 to 1403 feet the E. J. Stump and company et al No. 1 L. F. Wilson in section 121, A. T. N. C. L. survey, Archer county, was deepened to 1420 feet where a sand was topped and drilled two feet. A test at this level showed salt water and the hole is being carried deeper.

THROCKMORTON COUNTY.

Red Bank Oil company's No. 4 Parrott in section 971, T. E. & L. survey of Throckmorton county and near Woodson in the southern part of the county, which came in during the past weekend flowing 100 barrels hourly has declined to a daily output of 850 barrels and will be drilled deeper. Total depth is now 3925 feet.

SOUTH BEND FIELD.

C. C. Stovall's No. 1 fee, the discovery well in the deep lime pay, located in the James Tobin survey of South Young county, flowed 2250 barrels in 24 hours after being drilled to a total depth of 3892 feet. This well quit flowing when Stovall drilled in his No. 5 which made 5500 barrels initially. Stovall is building rig to drill his No. 7, 150 feet out of the southwest corner of the east 18 acres of block 28, Tobin survey.

MARKLEY DISTRICT.

Reed and Wooten have made location to drill their No. 4A J. W. Jack in section 23, Young county school land in Young county, to be a west offset to No. 1-C which was completed this week flowing 20 barrels an hour.

SOUTH WICHITA COUNTY.

L. P. (Pink) Hammond has completed a duster at 1850 feet in his No. 2 B. N. Ferguson, located in block 50, Wichita Valley Farm Lands in south Wichita county.

CLAY COUNTY FAILURES.

The deep test of Barclay and Meadows on the George Stallings ranch, section 16, Jack county school lands in South Clay county, has been abandoned as a dry hole at a total depth of 3473 feet.

NEAR BELCHERVILLE.

North of Belcherville and just south of Red river in Clay county the Superior Oil company has completed its No. 1 Easley, located in the H. & T. C. survey, as a dry hole at a total depth of 2906 feet.

COOKE COUNTY.

Indications that the really big production of the Muenster pool of Cooke county will be eventually uncovered in the heart of the town are shown in Oil Operators and Hedrick-Camp Drilling company No. 4 Kleiss, located in block 60, townsite, which is swabbing a sand topped at 1576 feet. This is somewhat higher than the sand has been found in other wells and the test is the most easterly in the 1600-foot sand.

Kewanee Oil and Gas company has made location for its No. 1-A Dennis in the T. J. Hutchinson survey and offsetting on the west Chapman and Lauler's No. 1 Montgomery. Kewanee's No. 1 Dennis, northeast of the discovery, is standing with 1100 feet of salt water in the hole from a total depth of 1380 feet.

The Texas Company has made location for its No. 2 Dennis, 150 feet from the south and 450 feet from the east lines of lease in the Hutchinson survey, being offset to No. 1, Cooke county's premier well.

HARDEMAN COUNTY.

Two miles west of its recently completed dry hole on the Ayers farm Murchison Oil company is drilling at 1000 feet in No. 1 Simpson, located in the center of the northeast quarter of section 15, block "H", W. & N. W. survey of Hardeman county.

NEAR BORGER

AMARILLO, April 29.—The Kistler Petroleum corporation has completed No. 4 Johnson, in section 21, block Y, of A. and B. survey, near Borger, in south Hutchinson county, for 250 barrels a day natural from 2875 to 2918 feet.

Derby Oil company's No. 4 Keaton-Johnson, in section 20, block Y, of M. and C. survey, has shot the well a third time, using 120 quarts from 2900 to 2948 feet and it did not increase the oil a bit, but the water content of the hole did increase and finally the well quit flowing entirely. On April 19 it was shot a second time and the production jumped from 125 barrels a day to 55 barrels an hour, but this did not hold up.

TUCUMCARI SECTOR

The Midwest Refining company in No. 1 Rhoades, in the northwest of 20-8n-31e, in the Tucumcari sector of Quay county, New Mexico, is now drilling below 2700 feet in broken lime. At 1665 feet it had non-combustible gas and a show of real gas at 2365 feet.

NORTH OF AMARILLO

Greater Amarillo Oil company No. 1 Townsite, in section 167, block 2, of A. B. M. survey, north of Amarillo, in Potter county, is reported as temporarily abandoned at 3385 feet. The owners may later carry the hole down.

McLean Well Is Called Freak

Source of Water and Cutting Of Oil Unexplained

Special to The Record News.

AMARILLO, April 29.—The Panhandle field's first big well from below sea level and the discovery well in the new McLean pool of southeastern Gray county, is today characterized by all operators in the Panhandle as a freak.

It is the Travis Bros. No. 1 Back, in the center of section 44, block 25 of H. and G. N. survey, and about nine miles due north of McLean, that late last week found a pay at 2,845 feet, and started off at a reported flow of 150 barrels an hour, when 160 feet below sea level. The well was unexpected and most of the production went on the ground.

39 Gravity Oil.

First gravity test indicated it was 39 gravity crude, but a later test showed it to 37.3 gravity corrected and revealing a very small sediment content by the centrifuge.

Sunday it began to show water and Monday and Tuesday the content increased from 5 to 17 per cent. Thursday it was estimated at 17 per cent. The appearance of water has lowered its gravity to around 22 and the oil is cutting perceptibly.

Water's Source Puzzle.

Just where the water is coming from the owners, drillers and field men do not know. It is the consensus of geologists that it is coming from behind the pipe, due to an imperfect seat. In addition there is from 800 to 900 feet of open hole and this is accentuating the inflow of water. The water is almost fresh, containing a small saline per cent.

Early in the week acreage near the Travis well was offered from $300 to $500 an acre, but buyers have been few and the freakishness of the new well is causing major operators to hold off, and as a result spot prices are a trifle easier.

Behavior Regretted.

Panhandle oil men feel that Travis has led the way to a deeper exploration of the horizons not only in that county but elsewhere in the field, and they regret that the Travis-Back well is behaving so badly.

Reports from McLean say that a string of 6 5-8 inch, with a wall packer on the bottom, is to be run at once to the new sand, after which an effort will be made to retest.

NEW PEAK

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, April 29.—Greater Seminole reached a new peak with a total production of 347,278 barrels from 376 wells for the 24 hours ending Tuesday morning. This is due to new producers completed in the Earlsboro and Bowlegs pools.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—An opening decline was followed by partial recoveries in the cotton market today on buying apparently influenced by a bullish view of the report on boll weevil emergence. Bulges met renewed realizing or liquidation, however, and after selling up from 15.19 to 15.33, July closed at 15.23, the general market closing steady at net declines of 5 to 14 points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of five to 9 nine points, in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and renewed realizing, combined with southern and local selling. May worked off to 14.96 and October to 15.47 in early trading, net declines of about nin eto 18 points on active months but enough buying steadied prices at these figures.

The outlook for rather unsettled weather, or showers more or less general over the belt, probably led to some covering, while there was also a report that a levee a few miles south of Natchez was in a critical condition.

Buying became a little more active after publication of the government report, showing that a larger percentage of boll weevil in hibernation had emerged from the cage tests prior to April 16 than last year. May sold up to 15.05 and October to 15.60, recovering all but three or four points of the early losses, but no additional overflows were reported in the Mississippi valley and the market eased again during the afternoon under renewed realizing or liquidation. Last prices were within four or five points ofth elowest on most positions.

Private cables said trade calling had been supplied by hedge selling with local and continental realizing in the Liverpool market, and that buyers of cotton cloths in Manchester were holding aloof in anticipation of lower prices.

The market for Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria which has advanced sharply of late showed reactions of 25 to 65 points according to early cables.

Exports today were 58,873, making 9,821,126 so far this season. Port receipts 16,610. U. S. port stocks 2,019,527.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, April 29. (AP)—Cotton prices closed at net losses for the day of 13 or 14 points here today after having been of an up and down character. First trades were down two to five points and prices continued downward until losses of 13 or 14 points were registered.

When the weather map was posted showing considerable cloudiness, prices strengthened and recovered 11 or 12 points. In the late trading weakness developed and the close showed losses.

Realizing and favorable weather accounted for the decline which carried July to 15.40.

Exports totalled 53,873 bales for the day and 170,193 bales for the week.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Weather, trade and industry present a very spotted appearance, even though a change for the better is visible in the first named at a time when the situation in the lower part of the great central valley is concededly desperate. This bright spot is the evidence that a cessation of the long-continued rains that have made a great lake of the middle and lower Mississippi river area has apparently occurred. In other areas, and especially in the north central states, a turn for the better is seen in brighter skies, a resumption of crop planting, and better roads. Lower temperatures with frosts have, however, done some damage to fruits, growth of winter wheat has been rank, and corn planting and, indeed, seeding of most important crops will be late. A big area of cotton land will not be cleared of water in time to make a crop, but a large area, which had turned from cotton to other crops, will probably be planted in the former because of the strength of cotton prices.

Weekly bank clearings $10,063,474,000, an increase of 1.3 per cent.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Stock prices displayed a complete reversal of form today, selling off sharply in the morning as a result of heavy liquidation of impaired marginal accounts, and then rallying briskly on a resumption of widespread speculation for the advance and short covering. Final quotations were generally higher, with numerous net gains of one to four points interspersed with a smaller number of losses.

The recovery took place in the face of a marking up of the call money rate from 4 to 4½ and thence to 5 per cent, coincident with the calling of over $55,000,000 in loans. The higher call rate was generally regarded as temporary, and incidental to the heavy month-end and week-end demand for funds. The rally, like the reaction which preceded it, had little relation to current news developments, but probably was influenced by the belief that the recent decline had sufficiently corrected the weakened technical position of the market, at least for the time being.

The weekly mercantile reviews characterized business as fair. They consider it still too early to determine the effect on trade and agriculture of the Mississippi river floods. Several more quarterly earnings reports made their appearance during the day, the Rock Island railroad and Chrysler Motors being among the few to make favorable comparison with those of the corresponding period last year. The first 70 railroads to report their March earnings show a decline of nearly $3,000,000 in gross, compared with the same month last year, but only a slight drop in net.

General Motors was prominent in the rebound today, rallying from a low of 185¼ to 190¼ for a net gain of 3⅞ points on the day. U. S. Steel common rallied from 166 to 168 and then eased to 167⅞, for a small fractional gain. American Water Works and Hudson and Manhattan attained new peak prices for the year.

Early selling pressure was particularly acute against the oils, nearly a dozen of which sank to new 1927 lows, but they later rallied with the rest of the list. Continental Baking A and Peerless Motor also broke through their previous minimum prices.

Bangor and Aroostook, which recorded a sensational gain earlier in the week, opened 2⅛ points higher at 94½, a new peak, sold down to 87 and then rallied to 89. Rock Island, Chicago Great Western preferred, and Seaboard Air Line were prominent in the up-swing.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Except for a further advance in demand sterling, which duplicated the year's high level of $4.87 5-16, there was little of interest in the foreign exchange market. French francs held firm above 3.91 cents, and other continental rates showed practically no change.

COTTON SEED OIL.

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Cotton seed oil was quiet but steady today, final prices showing net advances of 5 to 15 points, with near months at maximum gains. The advance was due to covering and cotton house buying. Sales 10,000 barrels; prime crude 7.50; prime summer yellow spot 8.75; May closed 8.86; July 9.32; September 9.61; October 9.62; December 9.56.

Gain In General Motors Stocks Features Friday Session Of Stock Market As Shorts Start Covering

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 29.—Short covering over the week-end developed in the stock market today although selling continued in some issues. Buying for the short account was helped by the rise in General Motors and a few other auto stocks.

Despite a lull in car manufacturing operations by a fw automobile producers, the total for the indus- a few automobile producers, the total for the indus- April. Sales are said to be holding satisfactorily throughout the country but eastern manufacturing districts are taking a largers proportion of new cars than they did last year. Business in the middle western and southern agricultural regions has been below the level of last year, and it is feared that the flood will act as a deterrent, says "Automotive Industries," the auto trade organ.

Car and truck production in this country and Canada in the first quarter was 14 per cent below the level in the first three months of 1926. For passenger cars alone output was 16 per cent lower, trucks having gained 5 1-2 per cent.

Money advanced to 5 per cent to carry loans over until Monday and the new month. Commodities and exchanges were quiet.

It is becoming noticeable that drives are bringing out more stock and the Bears are finding it easier to cover commitments than they have for months. With this encouragement and the high range of values generally, the street looks for a more aggressive campaign than has yet been witnessed.

Chicago Great Western was the outstanding feature of the rails. As it has the most direct and shortest route from St. Louis to Chicago and also covers Minneapolis and St. Paul this road is now sought by both the Missouri Pacifiv and St. Louis-San Francisco. Other roads which enter St. Louis could use this road profitably including the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, which are at a disadvantage by ending at St. Louis. Competitive buying is now going on for possession of this road for the account of several big lines. The enormous amount of freight originating in Indiana and Illinois and through the Chicago gateway, gives the Chicago Great Western an advantage.

The St. Louis-San Francisco has started out to corral Chicago Great Western with other roads participating. This is going to make an interesting situation in the Great Western railroad outlook. The St. Louis-San Francisco has large holdings in the Rock Island and the Atchison is desirous of getting hold of the Chicago Great Western to have a connection with the northwest.

Missouri Pacific and Missouri, Kansas also have their eye on the road with perhaps St. Louis Southwestern also a bidder.

Houston Oil was run up on the shorts. People have been selling Houston short in the belief that it is an oil company. Houston is more of a gas company and supplies gas to the Texas Gulf and Freeport Sulphur companies.

Legitimate oil stocks did little. Recent selling of Phillips is based on rumors that the company is in line for new financing on account of its vast expansion program. The bankers may demand drastic conditions to have this loan accepted, and present developments in the industry do not make it easy for oil companies to raise new capital with the flush production of petroleum throughout the country. The oil situation is not improving but apparently is becoming more demoralized. With new production and new fields developing, the resources of the oil companies are taxed to the utmost.

Steels did not do much. There is understood to be underway a new steel consolidation by the Samuel Mather interests and the Eaton crowd for the merger of a number of independent steel plants in this country. The concerns mentioned are Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown and a few smaller companies.

This company, it is said, will in no way interfere with the present steel situation as Samuel Mather is a director and large stockholder in the U. S. Steel corporation. Others mentioned in this deal are big Pittsburgh business and banking interests. This company will open up a big body of ore in Ontario where the Mather interests have leases and will assure the company its ore and coke requirements.

Hudson & Manhattan was well bought and a demand prevailed for Brooklyn Union Gas. Developments under way should make for higher prices and also Consolidated Gas and Brooklyn Union. Timken was in demand on prospects that the first quarter earnings would compare favorable with last year and on rumors that the Pullman interests were buyers of the stock.

Less attention was paid to the Mississippi flood. The Mississippi river, according to Memphis reports, has fallen a foot from the crest reached on Sunday and is at a standstill at Helena, Arkansas, and points one hundred miles below Memphis, but has risen one foot at Vicksburg the last 24 hours and points further south. Water from several levee breaks, however, is still spreading and overflowing fertile farm lands in Arkansas and Mississippi.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, April 29. (AP)—Efforts to settle May contracts beforehand boosted nearby deliveries of wheat and rye today to the highest prices touched in many weeks. The wheat market as a whole closed firm, ½ to 2⅛c net higher, corn ⅛ to ¾c up, oats showing ¼c net higher and provisions at a shade to 25c advance.

Corn and oats closed fairly strong, with no evidence of any unusual selling pressure on the nearby delivery. Heavy rains in the central west were a bullish factor. Export business in oats was again in evidence with export bids on corn at ½c froma working basis.

Provisions were responsive to firmness both of hog values and of grain.

GIVES $1,000 TO PRISON.

NEW YORK.—Mae West, who has just got out of the work house where she spent 10 restful days for insisting on presenting the play, "Sex," thinks Chicago will stand for it. She announces she intends to produce it there and also another play which New York even did not get a look at after some trouble about it in Bridgeport, Conn. She gave the warden $1,000, proceeds of her writings about her jail experiences, to be used for a prison library; also gave him a poem about the uncomfortable things she had to wear.

UNCLE SAM SHORTED.

WASHINGTON. — Uncle Sam has an idea that he is not receiving taxes on some $100,000,000 because the folks who should pay have fainted incomes. The estimate is made by treasury officials in connection with a case pending in the supreme court which involves the principle whether bootleggers and others may incriminate themselves by making returns.
