UNIONS OFFER PEACE PLANS TO ROADS

"Trains Must Run At All Cost" Says Harding's Message

President Lays Whole Story of Industrial Situation Before American Public; Asserts That Order By Law Will Be Maintained; Seeks Federal Coal Distribution Agency

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—President Harding laid the whole story of the rail and coal strikes before the American people today with a pledge that, whatever the cost, government by law will be sustained.

Summing up before a joint session of senate and house his efforts toward industrial peace, the president asserted that neither employers nor employes could escape responsibility for the present situation and that no "small minority" would be permitted by "armed lawlessness," "conspiracy" or "barbarity and butchery" to override the paramount interests of the public.

Obligations to Country.

"We must re-assert the doctrine that in this republic the first obligation and the first allegiance of every citizen, high, or low, is to his government," said the president. "No matter what clouds may gather, no matter what storms may ensue, no matter what hardships may attend or what sacrifice may be necessary, government by law must and will be sustained.

"Therefore I am resolved to use all the power of the government to maintain transportation and to sustain the rights of men to work.

To strengthen the hand of administration in dealing with present and future coal troubles, Mr. Harding asked for authorization of a national agency to purchase, sell and distribute coal, and for creation of a commission to inquire into "every phase of coal production, sale and distribution."

No similar request was made for emergency rail legislation, the president asserting that although the railroad labor board had inadequate authority, other agencies of the government were armed with statutes to prevent conspiracy against interstate commerce and to insure safety in railway operation.

"It is my purpose," he continued "to invoke these laws, civil and criminal, against all offenders alike."

One other legislative enactment, a law to prevent the federal government to step in and protect aliens state protection fails, was advocated by the chief executives as a result of what he trmed the "butchery of human beings, wrought in madness," at Herrin, Ill. Despite the protests of foreign governments whose nationalists suffered in the Herrin mine battle. He said, federal officials were powerless to take a hand in the situation created by "the mockery of local inquiry and the failure of justice in Illionis."

Biggest Thing in Texas It's Also the Oldest Thanks Franciscans For Water Conservation

THERE IS NOTHING NEW UNder the sun. Away back when civilized time was young or rather when man had found himself the ancients caught and conserved flood waters. They built their reservoirs and canals and they built their ditches.

When the drouth came they saved their growing crops by letting loose the precious fluid. They had drainage as well as irrigation systems away back in the days before Rome was mighty and ruled the world and there were Asiatic civilizations that had all the pomp and grandeur of the civilizations of today. When Cortez invaded Mexico with sword and torch and bible he found evidences of a mighty civilization for all the tribes of Montazuma had sufficient sense to catch and impound the flood waters and to utilize the same to prevent failure when the scorching drouth made its appearance.

AMONG THE EARLIEST SETtlers of Texas were the Franciscan fathers. They builded their missions. They caught the flood waters and impounded the same in basins or reservoirs. They builded canal ditches. They taught the natives the value of the conservation of the resources of nature and around their missions they tilled the soil and by the magical flow of water they made the land supply all their needs. These mission ruins are in evidence today. Their crude system of catching and storing and distributing the water when the soil needed it has not perished from the earth.

Gone are the Franciscan fathers, but they taught the Indians of Texas the gospel of conservation as well as the gospel of christianity and convinced them that the falling rain should be controlled and utilized in order that agriculture might thrive and that the livestock might not perish for want of water.

IT IS A LONG CALL FROM THE day of the mission builder to the Texas with a population of five million. It is a long call from the irrigation plant of the mission-builder to the huge project now under way in Wichita and Baylor counties, the project launched long ago by James Esmo Barstow in the Pecos Valley, the irrigation projects in the Upper and Lower Rio Grande valley, and the projects contemplated in many places under the skies of the southwest. Individuals, men of vision and pluck, are largely responsible for the irrigation projects which have been carried to successful completion.

Individuals are largely responsible for the drainage projects which have been accomplished in Texas. Thousands of acres of overflow lands have been reclaimed in north Texas and the work is in its infancy. There are millions of acres of valley lands which could be reclaimed and will be reclaimed if the state gets in behind this greatest constructive movement ever launched since the coming of Stephen F. Austin.

THERE IS A HEAVY RAINfall in Texas every year and the bulk of this water finds its way into the Gulf of Mexico. It is a soil robber and the scientific farmers have been telling the people this for a third of a century.

There are hundreds of natural reservoirs in the western country or semi-arid section. Scientific engineers say these could be used as catch basins and storage reservoirs for billions of gallons of flood water to be utilized by the farmers whenever ground moisture was necessary to give life to the growing crops and to insure bumper harvests.

What Kemp and his associates are doing for Wichita county the progressive men of Baylor and Knox will do some day for the people of the upper Brazos valley.

These two counties are mentioned because the spirit of development is ripe among the people of the counties and the great lake of the Wichita valley plant is located in Baylor.

THERE ARE MANY COUNTIES in the watershed of the upper Brazos which could be transformed into the finest agricultural lands in America. They have caught the spirit at Ballenger and elsewhere in the upper country and in the coming years irrigation is as certain to re-

SPUDDERS WILL CARRY PROTEST TO HIGH MOGULS

Fans Indignantly Say Team Not Given Square Deal

Wichita Falls is indignant today over the decision handed down by the magnates of the Texas league yesterday when the muchly discussed game between Dallas and Wichita was awarded to Dallas.

The dispatch from Houston which announced the findings of the case stated "the vote was unanimous after and affidavits had been presented."

But the dispatch does not state that the Spudders were offered opportunity to refute the charges brought against them. The dispatch does state that "the club erred in not using greater effort to produce evidence to sustain its general denial of guilt of the charges."

Following the action of the league tribunal yesterday, Manager Salm wired, "Will not take any further action until get in touch with Harvey. Boys fighting mad now. Salm."

The spudder boss has not quit the fight. He's going to stay in the scrap until he gets some satisfaction out of it, for he is evidently not at all satisfied with the present result.

Lloyd Weaver, stockholder and director of the club, stated last night prior to his departure for Dallas, that he had never been officially notified of the charges to be made in the hearing. He stated that J. Doak Roberts, president of the league, knew that R. O. Harvey, president of the Spudder cluz, was out of town and that Mr. Roberts knew that he, Mr. Weaver, could act in his capacity.

Since no notice was sent here, Mr. Weaver left for Dallas last night for a conference with the league president, where he will obtain a copy of all charges and evidence submitted.

Mr. Weaver does not think the Spudder owners were offered opportunity to prepare the necessary evidence since they were never appraised of the charges which would be made, and the evidence that would be submitted in the case.

"I do not believe we have a player on the club who would do such a thing," Mr. Weaver stated, "but if we have, then he won't be long. I do not believe Salm would under any circumstances resort to such tactics to win a ball game," he continued. "You can tell the fans this," he told a reporter from the Record News, "and that we are going to find out just what the trouble is."

Fans of the city are bitter in their denunciation of the action, and that of the attitude taken by Dallas and Fort Worth in the matter.

The fans do NOT believe the Spudders received justice. They do not think an unbiased assembly passed out the verdict. The general opinion is that only one side of the case was taken into consideration. The fans here know that time after time balls in possession of Dallas hurlers were thrown out of the game and no protest entered by Salm, but when the tables were turned, the Spudders were made to suffer.

Why Not Have Trial Here?

Another consideration the fans are wondering about is why the "court" was not held on the scene of the offense. There are many elements which enter into the case which could be far more plainly discussed if the session had been called here.

Bootleggers Catch Themselves Once In Awhile, Officers Discover

Last night Officers E. S. Richardson and Bob Hembree were doing a bit of scouting out on the Seymour road, several miles from town, and had stopped their car near a bridge waiting for "something to happen."

A car appeared over the hill, driving slowly, and cautiously, then turned around and drove several hundred yards in the direction from which it had come. This aroused the suspicions of the officers and an investigation followed.

Richardson climbed through the fence into the pasture and followed close to where the car had stopped. As he neared the man came from a small clump of bushes near the road, carrying two sacks filled with suspicious looking packages.

The officer reached the car just in time to jump on the running board after it started, and after commanding the driver to stop, almost suffered a serious injury as he was crashed into the fence.

After repeated threats, the driver finally stopped and surrendered. At the time of his capture, the bootlegger was accompanied by his wife and two year old daughter. All were brought to town where he surrendered a new Ford car together with the 5 gallons of "corn."

The arrested man claimed to have bought the goods from a man in Oklahoma Wednesday and it was delivered yesterday near Charlie. After the delivery, the jars were hidden in the pasture for future reference.

Two other federal charges of a like nature are now pending against the captured "corn peddler."

FINAL TOUCHES PUT ON TARIFF

Section Changes Meet Failure

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The senate began today putting the final touches on its draft of the administration tariff bill. Its work was incomplete when it recessed late tonight, but the measures will be passed tomorrow and then will go to conference for a final re-writing.

During the long day and night hours many efforts were made to change sections of the bill, but only a few of them met with success. An outstanding feature was a renewal of the dye fight and the re-affirmation by the senate of its action of last night in increasing the duties on coal tar dyes and synthetic chemicals and explosives and basing them on American instead of foreign valuation. The vote to re-affairm was 39 to 31.

When this section was reached, Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, who had reserved a separate vote on it, announced that in view of the overwhelming vote, 38 to 23, by which the senate had first approved the increased duties, he would not press his motion for a reconsideration.

On the roll call, nine republicans voted against the increases and four democrats including Senator Sheppard, supported them.

The republican agricultural tariff bloc, finally won its fight to require soap manufacturers to pay duty on vegetable oils imported for use in manufacturing soap.

He said he came here from Ackerman, Miss., where his wife is residing.

CHICAGO, August 18. — Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, in a private conference with his union chiefs, today told them that unless the operator's recede from their demands for arbitration the conference started today in the hope of settling the strike must end without result and the strike continue in this state. In the meantime, hundreds of forest rangers and settlers continued their battle with the flames and held their own in some places while they were not so successful in others.

DREAMS REALLY DO COME TRUE

Sarazen Finds It So, At Least

By Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—Four years ago, a 17-year-old caddy named Eugene Sarazen sat under a tree on a golf course at Rye, N. Y., and told himself in a day dream that he was going to become king of all American professionals. The dream came through today—on the hill-capped and trench-scarred course at Oakmont. The same Gene, already open champion of the United States captured the final round of the national professional tournament from Emmett French, of Youngstown, Ohio, four up and three to play, in a desperate 36-hole struggle that was nip and tuck through the turn of the afternoon round.

No Chances Taken.

Both players showed the effects of nervous tension throughout the match. Neither took spectacular chances.

To Gene went the big silver cup, which will remain for a year at the Highland Country club of Pittsburgh where Sarazen is the professional. A diamond-studded medal and a check for $500 also was presented to the champion by W. C. Gownes, Jr., of Pittsburgh on behalf of the tournament committee.

A gold medal and $250 was given to French.

Gene will have an opportunity to perform a feat never accomplished in the history of the sport. He will go to England next spring to compete in the British open holding two American titles.

And hopeful of capturing a third crown.

Lumber Co. Offers to Build Homes Without Single Payment Down

"In order to bring down the high rents our firm is starting a home-building campaign on a basis that we believe one of the most liberal ever offered and which will enable scores of people who could not otherwise do so to build their own homes," said J. C. Mytinger speaking Friday morning for the Wichita Falls Lumber and Building company of which he is secretary and treasurer. The other officers of the company are. M. D. Walker, president; M. Staniforth, vice president and H. J. Naylor, general manager.

"We believe that the only relief for the high rent situation is to build more homes," said Mr. Mytinger, "and therefore we have worked out a plan which will accomplish the end desired.

"In our advertisements we are offering to build homes for anyone owning a good lot, furnishing the lumber, labor and all material and carrying the notes at 8 per cent on small monthly payments.

"I might say that because we have our own lumber yard, our own planing mills and keep a force of carpenters all the time that we can build homes now at approximately 50 per cent of what they could have been built for two years ago. This, too, is due to the decrease in the price of material. We could not have made this offer even a few weeks ago because we could not get money at 8 per cent.. We can get it at that now and we are not seeking to make any profit on the interest.

"I might say that our profits on the houses we are offering to build has been figured to a minimum and that we are making this offer in hopes that it will cause people to build homes and relieve the housing situation which will bring down the rent.'

Besides the offer being made by the lumber company which Mr. Mytinger represents with his associates he is offering to build homes on Pearl street, one of the prettiest and most modern sections of the city, at a small cash payment and other payments almost like rent.

This offer is being made attractive for salaried persons so they can avoid paying rent and own their own homes, he said.

"DUE RESPECT" TO BE ACCORDED NEW EMPLOYES

Rail Chiefs Take Proposal Under Advisement

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. — The five great railroad brotherhoods which have stepped into the nation wide shopmen's strike as mediators today offered to the roads what they termed a practical proposition for peace, and the roads took the proposal under consideration.

Neither side would officially disclose the terms of the proposition

In some quarters close to the conferees, it was said that acceptance of the proposal by the executives would result in the immediate return of all strikers to their old jobs with full and unimpaired seniority and pension rights, in addition of retention of men hired since the strike.

The proposition on the other hand, was outlined in other quarters as providing for restoration of strikers as rapidly as possble, with their seniority rights to be adjusted ultimately to the satisfaction of all.

The proposition, in these quarters was understood to be on the basis of a gentleman's agreement which those close to the conferees said would give due respect to the rights of the new men. This agreement, it was said, would assure jobs to both strikers and the so-called new men, since railroads and brotherhood officials have stated that they could use 150 per cent of their normal shop crafts forces to prepare for the resumption of coal mining and the transportation of a bumper crop.

The gentlemen's agreement, it was understood, would provide that the question which will arise at the end of the busy fall season would be handled as it has been in other years —according to the usual weeding out process

The whole plan, it was unofficially indicated, would mean that without any apparent surrender by either the railroads or the shop crafts, the strikers would not suffer any more in the long run than they usually would after an industrial struggle of this kind.

A committee of nine executives appointed to meet the brotherhood men, listened to this proposition hastily summoned a general meeting of the representatives of 148 roads, which probably will be held here next Tuesday, then fixed the next meeting with the mediation committee for next Wednesday in this city.

The program will be varied from night to night and will consist of both musical and declamatory numbers. The best musicians of the city, both vocal and instrumental will be heard and speakers of ability will speak upon current subjects. At 7:30 every night the baseball scores will be sent out.

SPUDDERS—

The fans have not fully decided to accept the verdict without a fight. Prominent supporters of the club are more than riled. They are planning action themselves and will back the club owners to the limit in order to secure what they think is justice.

Salm is going to appeal the case, according to reports from Houston. The national commission will be forced to pass on the case. An unbiased and disinterested jury will then pass the verdict. It will be different to that of six or seven magnates who are bucking the Spudders to get them out of first place, even if such tactics as seem to have been employed, are used.

Salm has been completely exonerated of any part in the affair, but it has been put up to him to determine the guilty party that "summary action and the severest penalty in the event the identity of the perpetrator can be discovered."

Nobody in Wichita Falls thinks the Spudders are guilty. They're not that kind of ball players, and don't need to win that way, the fans all think. The supporters are going to fight their limit to see the matter thrashed out before an unprejudiced court.

DOCTORING BASEBALLS ROUNDLY CONDEMNED.

By Associated Press

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 18.—Going on record as condemning the practice of doctoring baseballs, calling of the Wichita Falls club to hunt out the parties guilty of this practice in the Dallas-Wichita Falls game recently and forfeiting this game to the Dallas club, Texas League club owners voted unanimously Friday to empower President Doak Roberts to go the limit in inflicting punishment on the guilty parties.

The meeting, which was called at the request of Doak Roberts, is the outcome of charges made by the Dallas club owners following a game recently played by the Spudders and Giants in which it was charged that creosote had been applied to the balls and that this substance injured the chances of the Dallas club materially, besides being an utterly unsportsmanlike practice. Evidence was submitted by the Dallas club, which, following chemical analysis, proved beyond doubt that the substance named had been applied to the balls.

Owners Not Blamed.

The league did not blame the owners of the Wichita Falls club, and for that reason did not inflict a heavy fine. However, the Spudder owners were censured for not making a greater effort to defend themselves. The meeting also called upon these owners to make every effort to ferret out the guilty parties.

The following was adopted:

"The Texas ... that the game of ... 12, forfeited to Dallas on evidence submitted, and satisfactory adduced, and proved by chemical analysis. The balls on which the protest is based have absorbed creosote.

"The league believes that the occurrence calls for summary action and severe penalty in the event that the identity of the perpetrators can be discovered.

Must Affix Guilt.

"The president of the league is instructed to use every effort in his power to discover the guilty party or parties. The league goes on record as regarding such practice as reprehensible and calls on the Wichita Falls club to affix the guilt."

The republican leader, accompanied by Speaker Gillett, later visited the white house and personally assured the president that legislation creating the fact finding commission would be introduced within a few days and probably passed by the house next week. Senate leaders also promised speedy action.

The determination of the president "to use all the power of the government to maintain transportation and sustain the right of men to work" was almost universally approved by members of congress.

12 SANDWICHES BEFORE DINNER

Special to The Record News.

JOPLIN, Mo., Aug. 16.—"Just wanted a snack of food before I went home to dinner," explained Charles Enos, of this city, after waiters in a restaurant had watched him eat twelve hamburger sandwiches and two slices of pie. In addition to these Enos drank three cups of coffee and two glasses of water. Enos completed the "job" in twenty minutes, declaring he was in a hurry to get home for dinner.

HAVE YOU SEEN HIM

Have you seen a white man wearing a blue suit, straw sailor hat, and low cut tan shoes?

If you have, he may or may not be the gentleman wanted by th Fort Worth police department. But, Chief McCormick urges that the sight of such a person driving a Ford touring car warrants a report on the matter being made directly to him.

A man of this description, information received here early yesterday morning revealed, stole the Ford car he is possibly now driving, and escaped from Fort Worth with it. No trace of the gentleman has yet been found.

MARMON CAR STOLEN

Thieves burglarized the Fritz Motor company Thursday night, taking a Marmon automobile, the property of Guy Menace.

Officers, who were notified of the theft yesterday morning, located the car just before the noon hour near the San Jacinto school building near Fourth street, the sedan being intact except that the tool box on its rear had been prized open.

LOTS OF BULL

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Franklin county, Idaho, now has more bulls owned co-operatively than any other county in the western states, according to reports to the agricultural department.

A co-operative bull association has just been formed there and ten purebred Holstein bulls were brought in for use in eighty-seven herds. The introduction of this new blood, agricultural department experts said, will make Franklin a real dairy county in a few years.

Governor Pat Morris Neff is the first of the long line of executives who has made conservation and reclamation the big thing in his platform of constructive legislative development and advancement. He was the first to call the scientific engineers of the state into conference and the scientific engineers are the men who must undertake the work and carry it on. Of course they must have the backing of the constructive minds of the state, the constructive lawmakers of the state, the constructive editors and publishers of the state, the constructive business men and farmers of the state. This isn't a one man's job.

It is not the job for a handful of individuals to undertake.

WACO, ON THE BRAZOS, launched a practical program along practical lines. Governor Neff and the best engineering minds were there. They created a program. They outlined the work to be done. There are thirty million acres of land that should be reclaimed. There are millions of acres under cultivation today which could be made four times as productive if irrigated during the dry spells when the growing crops need the moisture and when rain is not in sight. All the arid acres may be reclaimed, all the semi-arid acres may be reclaimed, all the swamp acres may be reclaimed, all the overflow land may be protected. Behind this movement is the west Texas chamber of commerce, one of the greatest organizations of its kind in America; behind it are the district reclamation and conservation organizations; behind it is every local chamber of commerce where irrigation is the demand of the hour, where drainage is the demand of the hour and where flood prevention is a demand of the hour.

THERE WILL BE A NEW LEGislature organized in the city of Austin early in January, 1923. There will be a democratic state convention held in the city of San Antonio, September 5. Dominant is the democratic party. It has controlled the government since 1872. Democrats have made all the laws since 1872. Now the builders of the hour should demand of the dominant party and its leaders and its lawmakers constructive legislation that is necessary for the development of the latent resources and the advancement of this greatest of American commonwealths. These builders of Texas who assembled at Waco started the ball arolling. Now all the people of Texas who believe in building and who know that the control and the conservation of flood water must be undertaken, should place themselves on the firing line of endeavor and help to do something for the forward movement which millions of new settlers and billions added to the taxable values of the state. The Old Alcalde said, "Civilization begins and ends with the plow." The writer says that with plenty of water, everything is possible in Texas.

Stump Well on 1500 Sand

NEAR PRODUCER OF 2 WEEKS AGO

Casing Being Set to Complete

The Stump Oil and Gas company's No. 1 John and Jeff Waggoner, in the east side of the new developments on the Waggoners Brothers ranch, is on the 1500 foot sand, setting casing and preparing to complete.

This well is close to the No. 1 of Stanley McGregor, which extended the pool to the east two weeks ago.

The No. 3 Waggoner Brothers, of T. F. Hunter has casing set on a send at 1830 feet, and is trying to shut off salt water, to obtain a test. The sand showed oil, but the water difficulty has not yet been solved.

The Fitzgerald syndicate, Bailey and others, found it necessary to re-cement casing, and will delay completion several more days.

MAYFIELD RALLY ATTRACTS FIFTY

Ross and Morgan Are Speakers

On the campus of the Sam Houston school last night approximately 50 men, women and children engaged in a Mayfield rally and heard speeches in behalf of Mr. Mayfield for the United States senate. The meeting was opened by Mrs. V. W. Cain, chairman of the district woman's Mayfield club. The school orchestra composed of four violins and piano rendered music for the occasion.

Judge O. O. Ross was the first speaker. He went back into the history of Texas and told of the University of Texas as from its earliest establishment and then told of James E. Ferguson trying to wreck the institution. He said a great war is on in Texas. He said it is a war for right against wrong and that Mayfield represents the right side and Ferguson the wrong side. He said it would be to disonor the state to send Ferguson to the senate.

Judge S. A. L. Morgan was bitter in his denunciation of James E. Ferguson. He said Ferguson has led a campaign of denunciation, reviling the character of Earle B. Mayfield. He said he was a member of the same church in Austin that Mayfield is a member of and knows the things Ferguson said about Mayfield are not true.

The speaker said that C. C. McDonald has no political conscience and and that he would not believe any statement Mr. McDonald made in a political speech unless it was made under oath. He said he would not believe Senator McGregor on oath.

He renumerated the charges that were brought against Ferguson in the impeachment case and said that Ferguson is a perjurer, a thief, an embezzler and a blackmailer. After each charge he produced argument which he said proved his statements.

Smith Talks

Sheriff Fred Smith made a brief talk before the gathering and defended his record. He explained his official acts and some things which he said had been charged against him. He asked that anyone who had heard anything against him to ask him about it but no one asked him a question. He gave a thorough accounting of his official deeds and explained the handicap under which he has had to work in some cases.

Sheriff Smith said he demanded that his deputies be good men, that they are not murderers, that he will not tolerate their drinking or running with lewd women and that when he has found he had that kind he has gotten rid of them and in one instance went before the grand jury and asked that body to indict any of his men against whom they found evidence warranting an indictment.

He charged that there were some persons who had tried to get him and has checked up his books which he threw open to them but that they found nothing wrong against him.

Miss Elizabeth Hall, candidate for county clerk, said a few words in which she asked the support of her hearers. She said she is making the race on her record and ability to run the office. She explained that she has served years as an assistant in the office and is entirely familiar with the work.

Man Arrested for Cruelty to Babe

Following objections presented by his neighbors, a man whose residence is located on Tenth street was arrested by the police late Thursday night on a charge of cruel treatment to his six-months-old baby boy.

Neighbors reported to the police that the man was in the habit of beating the child almost into insensibility the child, according to the officers, showing signs of ill treatment, there having been several black and blue spots over its back where it had been whipped.

A pillow with a hole in it, which the man is alleged to have used during the beating processes which the neighbors objected to is in the possession of Chief McCormick, it being stated at the station yesterday that the child's face was pushed down in the pillow while the whippings occurred.

SEES BIG FUTURE FOR WICHITA COUNTY

"When the irrigation project is finished here, this territory will become one of the most valuable and most fertile countries in Texas."

S. M. Duncan, of the Dallas detective bureau, made this statement yesterday morning while visiting the local police station, and expressed an opinion favoring irrigation and its possibilities in Texas, especially for the fields where there is usually drouth.

Mr. Duncan, an expert check artist who has been in the Dallas detective bureau for over eight years, is visiting relatives in this city.

HENRIETTA MAN GETS IN BAD WITH POLICE FOR DRESSING UP WOMAN HE NEVER HAD SEEN

Twelve hours after he had given P. B. M.'s a worthless check for $118 to "dress up a woman he'd never seen before," a man, who gave his home address as Henrietta, Texas, was placed in the city prison, as a result of quick work on the part of Detective Tom L. Shook.

Late yesterday afternoon, the woman, an employe of an Indiana street cafe, came voluntarily to the police station, and turned over to Chief J. W. McCormick the $118 worth of clothing which the Henrietta man had bought for her.

The man, according to officials of P. B. M.'s, appeared in the store just before the closing hour Thursday afternoon, the woman being with him. He ordered her a new dress, a pair of shoes, stockings, underclothing and a hat, and then gave the salesman, Otho Evans, a draft for $118 on a Henrietta bank.

The salesman requested that the Henrietta man be identified, whereupon the latter went to a telephone, called the residence of a prominent Wichita Falls business man, and asked Mr. Evans to talk to the party at the other end of the line for his identification credentials.

The party at the other end of the wire, who later proved to be the chaffeur of the prominent business man, is said to have given an assumed name to Mr. Evans, who accepted check and permitted the Henrietta man and the woman, who is a waitress, to depart from the store with the merchandise.

Growing suspicious later, officials of P. B. M.'s called the bank at Henrietta, learning that no funds to the credit of the man whose name appeared on the draft were on deposit there. The warning that a swindle had been committed went out immediately, and Chief McCormick started an investigation.

A mysterious call received at the station yesterday morning sent Tom Shook and two other men to Eighth street to watch for a negro porter who was removing the suit cases said to be the property of the Henrietta man. The negro appeared as the call stated, and was shadowed, resulting in the check passer being arrested in a pawn shop on Ohio, where he was endeavoring to dispose of his hand grips for $5.50.

At the police station he denied to Chief McCormick that he had passed a bad check, and said that he would pay for a communication to Henrietta to prove that he had money sufficient to cover the draft.

"I was hog wallow drunk, chief, and I don't know who that woman was nor where she went—I just saw her, and liked her, and told her I'd buy the clothes for her," was the statement the man made in connection with the affair.

When the girl arrived at the police station yesterday afternoon, she told Chief McCormick that she met the Henrietta man in the cafe, and that he told her that he'd buy her the clothes if she would sit at a table in the cafe with him and dine, and that he wanted her to do this because he wanted to "give his sweetie some jealous play."

The waitress said she thought this would be easy for any one to do, so she agreed, and sat at the table with him. Later, she said, he suggested taking her to a theater and that after that he hired a jitney and carried her to Lake Wichita.

"After that I can't recall anything except I drank a bottle of Coca Cola which he handed me."

The girl said she awakened around the noon hour at a local hotel, and that she realized when she attempted to raise up from the bed that she had been drugged.

"I never was in any trouble before," she sobbed, as she related the story to Chief McCormick, "and I don't know why I did this."

The Henrietta man called for the management of P. B. M.'s late yesterday afternoon, and upon confronting him suggested that "everything will be all right if I pay off, won't it?"

He told officers earlier in the day that he had passed the check, and that he didn't know where the girl was, "because she left for Denver, Colo., last night."

Friends with whom the girl lives appeared at the station yesterday afternoon and told the officers that she had not returned to her room after her working hours were over, and that they had worried over her whereabouts.

No formal charges have been placed against the Henrietta man yet, although it is understood his case will be brought up this morning.

The chaffeur, who was arrested early yesterday morning and turned over to county authorities as an accomplice in the case, was later dismissed, it being shown that he was not implicated in the affair.

CARBON TO SPUD IN

NEAR RAIN HERE

Wichita Falls came just about as near getting a rain early Friday night as was possible. A light shower fell in some portions of the city and heavy clouds overhung. In the northwest, dark rain clouds gathered and it could be seen raining heavily not far from the city. The scent of rain pervaded the city, the clouds gathered overhead, it lightened and the wind blew, but no rain of consequence fell. However, the breeze which accompanied the threats made the night air much cooler and sleeping was good.

TEST DRILLING IN HALL COUNTY

Seeking to Get Away From Gas Pool

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 18.—Three cable-tool test wells on 20,000 acres of leases in Donley and Hall counties, Texas, are being drilled simultaneously by the Swanson company of Oklahoma City. The first has reached a depth of about 2,2000 feet, the second has twelve and a half inch casing set at 400 feet, and the third recently was spudded. Aside from structural conditions of the surface, this territory was selected by the company in seeking to get a proper distance from the Amarillo gas pool, and the wells are just east of the caprock of the plains.

In the deepest well over 500 feet of shales have been passed through according to Victor Swanson, president of the company, who was at home on business this week. All have been distinct and unmixed. At 2,130 to 2,145 was found the first green shale that has been encountered in the Texas Panhandle. It is generaly understood in central Texas that oil is found beneath a green shale. It certainly indicates a high grade oil if oil is found, geologists say.

Considering difference in elevation between this territory and the gas region, sands containing oil or gas may be expected at about 2,300 feet, Mr. Swanson says. Producing sands rather than producing sale should be found in this territory, geologists believe. The Gulf Petroleum company's No. 2 well, north of Panhandle ,is said to be the only one in the Panhandle in which oil has been found in sand.

Archer County to Have New Wildcat

Archer county will get another deep test well in the vicinity of the Texhoma field, according to information here Friday. A contract is said to have been signed by McQuaind and associates for the drilling of a hole 3000 feet deep on the Netherton ranch one and one-half miles south of the Texhoma field.

This test will extend the field considerably, if it proves out, and wide interest is being taken in the new project, it is said. The well is expected to be started in about ten days.

RANGERS AND SHERIFFS

A RANGER CAPTAIN is a bigger man than the sheriff of a county. Ranger Captain Wheatley is operating the port law in Childress county and the sheriff of that county threatened to arrest the captain because the rangers were interfering with the open port enforcement program. Now if the sheriff should shoot the ranger captain would he be given a trial by jury of his peers or would he be given a ranger military court martial?

Or to be exact, is the ranger law above the civil law? Under the original proclamation invoking the open port law at Childress, the territory affected did not take in the courthouse. Under the new order extending the territory the courthouse and the whole town is taken in and a mile circle around the town for good measure. If the janitor of the federal building runs amuck, what will happen to him if he should step on the foot of a ranger? Dalhart has been made an open port town; Amarillo has been made an open port town. Childress has been made an open port town. Wichita Falls is an open port town for the reason that the Wichita river is navigable at certain seasons of the year.

Gainesville is an open port town and the mayor of Texarkana doesn't want his town made an open port community. In the good old days when W. P. Hobby and the lawmakers were putting over the open port bill, they declared it would apply only to the gulf ports of Texas to keep the ships moving. This was their pledge to labor leaders.

There were Texas newspaper men who laughed at the pledge and warned the labor leaders what would happen to them should the open port bill become a law. Well the open port bill became a law and all the prophecies came true. Organized labor permitted a steel cage to be made for itself. And political friends of organized labor built the cage.

OWNING A HOME

THERE is something about owning one's own home that is measured more than in dollars and cents. It is measured in the sentiments of a nation whose institutions are founded on the home and on the church.

The life of our forefathers centered about their hearthstones. Those same hearthstones bred such men as Washington, Jackson, Lincoln and Lee. They were the starting point in the career of all our great men.

And yet there is something still more than that.

It is that something of which such songs as "Home Sweet Home" sing. And that song has become one of the world's famous melodies, simply because it is founded on that universal appeal.

And still the subtle magic of home ownership is only touched. For when a man becomes a home owner, he becomes more of a citizen, in every sense of the word. His civic pride is awakened. His interest in everything pertaining to the good of the community in which he lives is quickened. His position in that community is altered.

Inwardly, he knows himself to be more independent. He feels that he can look the world in the face, saying: "This much is mine. Here I am lord."

The community, as a whole, instinctively changes its attitude toward the man who owns his own home. This man is a citizen, say his neighbors. He is one of us. He has come to stay. This is HIS city. And to him they give the respect which this feeling engenders.

When a man becomes a home owner he is not the only beneficiary. Each of his neighbors also is benefited. The value of their property is enhanced. Their neighborhood is more desirable. "This is a neighborhood of home owners," they tell their friends with a full measure of pride. It means that it is a desirable place in which to live. That people of the "right sort" dwell there.

In neighborhoods of this character, one finds well kept lawns, attractively painted houses and neat yards. It is of such neighborhoods as this that beautiful cities are built.

Wichita Falls is a beautiful city, and a wealthy one, but every new home owner added to its population adds dollars to its wealth, adds attractiveness to it as a good place in which to live, and helps in making it the sort of city we all wish it to become.

DR. CRANE EDITORIAL

NATURE'S PROLETARIAT

THE proletariat of nature is the microbe. Millions upon millions of these little people are working 24 hours a day with no strikes and no rest.

The greatest advance in modern science is in the direction of learning how to use these laborers for the welfare of mankind and to divert them from the destruction of human life.

Undoubtedly the greatest phenomenon in nature is life.

The huge living organisms are most striking, such as the elephant, the eagle, and the whale. But they are not so important to human life as the little creatures who lodge in a drop of water or take refuge under the finger nail.

The microbes are nature's scavengers. It is they who reduce all dead bodies to their original elements.

It was about eighty years ago that Cagniard Latour and Schwann discovered that what is known as yeast is really composed of an infinite number of little bodies, endowed with powers of growth and multiplication and hence undoubtedly alive.

Pasteur found that there are as many different tribes of yeast people as of human people, and that they differ from one another as Saxons from Zulus or Arabs from Chinese, but that they were all endowed with the power of elaborating alcohol from sugar.

Microbes are of enormous commercial value to mankind.

They turn cider into vinegar and milk into junket. They make lager and wine. They produce butter and cheese. Even the flavor of a fine cigar depends upon the particular kind of microbe that has affected the fermentation of the tobacco leaf.

The tanning of leather is due to microbic action, and in the preparation of indigo and many other vegetable dyes the color is produced through the energies of microbes.

The rotting of flax is expedited by the action of butyric acid microbes.

Regiments and companies of this vast army are incessantly engaged within the human body. It is they who assist to turn the starch of our food into sugar, and in all the other various processes of digestion.

To give one illustration: If it had not been for the action of the microbes in removing dead leaves, the forests of earth would long ago have disappeared, buried under mountains of undecayed foliage.

But we know that out of it come those strange diseases, such as yellow fever, smallpox and cholera, that decimate the human race.

And when some new and strange malady shall come and perhaps remove the human race entirely, no man can tell.

WATCH FOR A DEMO VICTORY

MAYOR JACK WALTON of Oklahoma was nominated for governor by the democratic farmers and working men of that state. Walton made the race for governor on a radical platform and he is going to continue the race on the radical platform. United States Senator R. L. Owen of Oklahoma appeared before the convention and gave the democratic critics of Walton a rude jolt.

This is what he said: "I regard Mr. Walton as a thorough-going Jeffersonian democrat and I will support the ticket from top to bottom. I shall do everything in my power to elect Jack Walton and the entire ticket." Hon. Scott Ferris, who defeated Thomas P. Gore for a senatorial nomination two years ago and lost at the general election to a republican, was another of the speakers who pledged active support to Walton and the other nominees. Jack Walton and his followers defeatd R. H. Wilson in the primary. Wilson did not sulk. He appeared before the state convention and pledged his support to the winner. There is going to be a democratic victory in Oklahoma at the polls in November and the step-daughter of Texas is going to be taken out of the republican column. This is what the independent newspaper men of Oklahoma say and an independent newspaper man is neither hidebound nor the publicity jumping jack of the little politicians. There are newspaper men, editors and reporters who permit politicians to make monkeys out of them every day in the year. These men are the literary lickspittles of cheap demagogues and they don't seem to know it.

BEST SELLERS

I follow up my endless quest, I seek them high and low—the books that used to sell the best some twenty years ago. Our glad applause we used to give to every transient tome: "Here is a book that's bound to live until the cows come home. Oh, when, since Sappho cashed her string, were odes so ably sung? These pomes will surely live, by jing, till every dog is hung." And thus, with fervor in our souls, our noble fits we'd throw; where are the deathless rigmaroles of twenty years ago? I mention books that once were sold by train loads through the land, and only gaffers growing old recall and understand. Now, Maurice Thompson's masterpiece deserved a lasting fame, but when I ask my nifty niece if she has read the same, "I've never heard of such a book," she says, and tilts her nose; "if I read all such stuff, gadzook, I'd miss the movie shows; they've never heard of them, they say, and shed unbidden tears. They try to sell me current rot, but

The Once Over

A DAY AT THE BEACH.

A bathing beach is a place people go in summer to scatter pickle bottles, orange skins, banana peels, shoeboxes, newspapers, magazines, egg shells, sandwich remnants and sardine cans.

Originally it was exclusively a bathing place. Today it has become a combination picnic ground, cabaret, burlesque show, chowder club base and Turkish bath.

All beaches, of course, are not alike. By their junk ye shall know them. Some of them are immaculate, restful, cool and orderly. Try and find them!

At salt water resorts the tide comes in twice a day and takes out the debris left by the merry villagers. Twice a day is inadequate. Three trips of the tide have become an absolute necessity if the job is to be well done.

Sunday is the big day at the bathing beaches. Something like 234,567,870½ men, women and children leave home early Sunday morning in flivvers, determined to rip off as many fenders as possible en route and to arrive at the seaside in time to open the first three-minute egg and deal the first sa.mon sandwich.

Popper, mommer, and Eddie sit in the front seat. Tilla, Sadie, Minnie, Janet, Mamie, Harry and Prentice sit in the rear. Anastasia, the 11-month-old baby is tenderly deposited on the floor and covered with thermos bottles, camp-stools, baseball bats, knives, little openers and delicatessen goods.

There is nothing like a trip to the bathing beach for an 11-months-old baby, when the child grows up it will be so tough it can have a good time at a mine massacre.

Arriving at the beach the first job is to get a bathhouse. Bathhouse keepers have the food and rent profiteers looking like philanthropists. You can get a bathhouse for $11 if you're in luck. Children under five months $5.50. Th bathhouses go very early in the day, however after which you'll have to be content with what is know nas the locker system.

A locker rents about two bits cheaper than a bathhouse and affords parking space for one hat, one collar and one shoe. Pants, coat, shirt, underwear and the other shoe may be forced in with a chisel and hammer if one is a good mechanic. Or they may be thrown away.

Of course, many thousands use their autos for bathhouses. They park their cars near the beach, pull down the shades and cheat some millionaire bathhouse proprietor out of cigarette money.

No man knows what the life of a gymnast is until he has undressed and threaded himself into a bathing suit in a flivver, with the rest of the family doing likewise at the same time.

Most of the people injured in Sunday automobile accidents are injured in the course of this struggle.

Emerging from the car popper finds he has on the baby's rubber vest.

The baby has on popper's hat and socks.

Popper looks into the flivver and discovers mommer unconscious. She has mistaken a tool bag for a one-piece suit and has been badly injured trying to get it over her head.

Sister Susie then causes a sensation by stepping out of the car with nothing on but a tire patch and three egg sandwiches.

They all have to climb back into the car and start over again. Finally, straightening things out, they decide it is too late to swim. So they dump the food on the beach and have a delicatessen orgy.

The ukelele is quite the raze at bathing beaches this season. All the bobbed-hair girls and the prep school boys bring their "ukes" and sit around committing assault and battery on Hawaiian love songs. Nothing makes a bum singer quite such a bum singer as a "uke." It is the sour tenor's delight.

Life savers are all right, but it seems so darn silly to rescue a person from drowning when it only means he will have to endure the ukele players so much longer. It is an old saying that a "uke" player never drowns. He never goes into the water.

Chow dogs are another beach rage this year. Many bathers bring them down and parade the beach with them. The dogs look at the legs of people in bathing suits and go mad. They think they're in dog heaven; nothing but bones!

Both Parties Getting Ready to Go Into November Battle With Old Ginger After One More Primary

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. — The last important primary will be held within the next month and the two major parties will go after it hammer and tongs for supremacy in the November election.

Members of the house of representatives who came back Tuesday after the 45-day recess, are already chafing under the restraint and are anxious to resume their campaigning. As a result the conviction was growing here today that both senate and house will recess by the end of next week when the tariff bill is sent to conference and the bonus disposed of by the senate.

The conference on the tariff is expected to occupy six weeks at least and there is practically no possibility that it will be enacted before election. After the conference committee has ironed out the differences between the two houses, the conference report must be debated in both houses. This makes it practically certain the tariff bill will not become law before the November elections.

Both parties look upon the November election as of transcendent importance in deciding not only the control of congress, but also the presidential candidates in 1924. The Ohio candidates are nominated and the principal interest of political observers right now is the Buckeye state.

Carmi A. Thompson, who won the republican gubernatorial nomination, had the endorsement of President Harding and the support of every federal office holder in Ohio. A. V. Dohaney, the democratic candidate, also made the race two years ago. Like Governor Cox, the democratic presidential nominee, Dohaney went down in the general desire for a change.

Observers say here that if Dohaney should by any chance defeat Thompson or should he run a bang-up race and be defeated the Cox stock will take a big jump in the nation.

Another interesting possibility is that a Texan may reach the white house in 1924, via New York state. Joeb Banton, New York City district attorney, and formerly of Waco, is being talked of as a compromise candidate for governor of New York. Banton has made an excellent record as district attorney.

Were he nominated and elected governor of New York and made a good record in office the Empire state would go to the next democratic national convention demanding that Banton be given the presidential nomination. It is pointed out here that Grover Cleveland when he was elected governor of New York had a smaller national acquaintance than Banton now has, and that there is a chance of Banton repeating Cleveland's history.

Members of the house of representatives, who came back Tuesday, brought widely divergent opinions of what the country is thinking about politically. They have found dissatisfaction with everything and approval of nothing. What seems to be wrong in one state is perfectly all right in another, and no one appears able to work out a plan of campaign. Local issues are to the fore when there are issues and personalities are counting more than ever before, according to reports.

Republican leaders are inclined to blame democrats for the conditions, accusing the minority of fault-finding and of failure to offer anything in the place of that which they criticise. Democrats reply that they stand on the record of the Wilson administration and that it is incumbent on the Harding administration to justify its acts in attempting to supplant the Wilson record and make good on its campaign promises or take the consequences.

One of the curious things in legislation has been that on no major issue has there been a solid party vote, indicating that members of congress and senators were not considering matters on national lines but purely on the basis of home sympathy and with the idea of securing votes for re-election. This record of votes is borne out by report returning congressman are bringing back as to their probable chances for re-election, and none of them are anxious to add anything to the present uncertainty by attempting new legislation. They are just as much at sea about the tariff as they have been since the bill was introduced, with the result that there is little probability of tariff enactment at this session. The bill will reach conference stage about the first of September, and with adjournment to take place about a month later, cannot be made law in time with the present disposition of leaders to let the thing die for lack of nourishment. Members of congress do not want the ship subsidy to come up at all, and if it does they will vote it down. In the present industrial situation it is not likely President Harding will insist. Nor is there any congressional desire for bonus consideration, but that there will be is generally believed.

With one state doing one thing in democratic primaries and another doing the same thing in republican primaries, with bonus condidates approved here and rejected there, with New turned out in Indiana because he voted for Newberry, and Sutherland renominated in West Virginia because he sustained Senator Pomerene in his fight to unseat Newberry, it is little wonder that leaders do not know how to lead.

HOSPITAL BOND ELECTION SOON

Burk, Electra and Iowa Park Vote

Special to the Record News.

ELECTRA, August 18.—The campaign for urging voters to cast their ballots for the $150,000 hospital bonds to be before the public next Tuesday has been thoroughly organized here and a committee composed of E. R. Brown, J. W. Hemby and Guy McNeely has been appointed by the chamber of commerce to organize a campaign in Electra favoring the bonds.

The proposed $150,000 bond issue is for Electra, Iowa Park and Burkburnett, each place to receive $50,000 for a hospital. The hospitals are badly needed and voters are being urged to cast their ballot in favor of the bonds.

IN ELECTRA SCHOOLS BIBLE TO BE STUDIED

ELECTRA, August 18. — When school opens here September 11, the high school pupils will be honored in the new and modern Thompson building and pupils in the first grade who live on the south side of the track will also attend school in this building. The Waggoner high school will be used as a junior high school.

Superintendent B. M. Dinsmore has created wide interest in his query to the public as to whether or not they will object to the school giving credits to bible study. His plan is for each pupil to spend a certain period a week studying the bible under his or her own pastor and the pastor to give the pupils so studing a rating on the study. The proposal is said to be meeting with a great deal of approval among the citizenship.

RUTHLESS WAR ON TRAFFIC VIOLATORS

ELECTRA, August 19.—City authorities headed by Mayor W. M. Calvert are waging a relentless war on traffic violators and so far this week there have been more than a score of persons brought before the mayor for trial on charges of traffic violations.

The mayor explained that he is not trying to persecute anyone but that he is going to make the streets of Electra safe for pedestrains as well as persons in automobiles. Rigid enforcement of traffic laws will be maintained at all times in the future, he said, and asks that the people, for their own sake, aid in the campaign by obeying the traffic rules.

FRIEND RESIGNS AS CHAMBER PRESIDENT

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, August 18.—The resignation of E. M. Friend as president of the chamber of commerce has occasioned much regret among his friends here and especially are they concerned in the matter since he gave as his reason for resigning that he is not physically able to carry on the heavy work that is ahead and can not attend all the meetings during the next month.

Tuesday, August 29, has been set as the day to select a successor to Mr. Friend. With the community live stock sale and fair approaching the new president will have his hands full.

The directors of the chamber of commerce passed appropriate resolutions expressing regret at the resignation of Mr. Friend.

Lesson No. 35
THE THERMIONIC TUBE
Part 2—The Plate

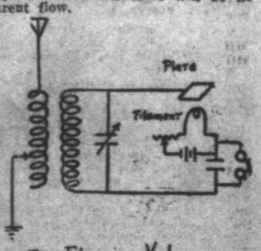

Part 1 of this series on the thermionic tube showed the function of the filament to be that of an electron generator. In order that the effect of the plate and later the grid may be simply explained, it becomes necessary to give in brief the action of electric charges when free and also when under the influence of other electric charges.

There are two kinds of electric charges; one positive, the other negative. It has been said that all matter is believed to be composed of these electric charges. In order that matter under this theory will be stable, the structure of the atom is that of a positive-charged electron, surrounded by a number of smaller charged negative electrons, the quantity of these negative electrons being sufficient to keep the system neutral or stable. It wil be mentioned here that electric charges, like magnetic poles, obey somewhat the same laws; namely, unlike charges attract and like charges repel.

If now we consider the thermionic tube containing a filament and plate in a vacuum we can study the effects produced under certain conditions of operation. If we first gradually heat the filament, we slowly disturb the structural state of rest until a point is reached where the filament throws off negatively charged electrons. Increasing the heat of the filament increases the number of electrons thrown off. However, when the negatively charged electrons leave the filament, a state of electrical equilibrium no longer exists; the filament assumes a positive charge due to the departure of the neutralizing negative electrons. Unlike charges attract, therefore, the filament draws the negative electrons back to it and thus we can mentally picture the filament in much the same role as a fountain from which water is forced perpendicularly only to fall back by gravity.

If a positive charge with respect to the filament be placed on the plate in the thermonic tube, it will attract the negatively charged electrons to the plate. This flow of electrons to the plate constitutes the passage of an electric current, the direction of the current being from the plate to the filament.

If a negative charge with respect to the filament be placed on the plate, it will repel the negatively charged electrons towards the filament preventing them from reaching the plate in consequence of which there will be no current flow.

The Fleming Valve

Dr. Fleming was the first to utilize the unilateral conductivity of this arrangement of filament and place when subjected to alternating potentials or charges. It was introduced by him to radio as the "Fleming valve" and was substituted for the crystal detector as a means for detecting radio signals. The connections for the Fleming valve in a radio receiver are shown above.

Little Stories For Bedtime

FARMER BROWN'S BOY SETS TRAPS

Bad news travels fast. Nothing travels any faster. No, sir, nothing travels any faster than bad news. Everybody on the Green Meadows, in the Green Forest, around the Smiling Pool and along the Laughing Brook knew that Farmer Brown's boy was once more setting traps. It was a long time since he had put those traps away and the little people had really begun to like him. At least some of them had. They believed that he really was their friend and were beginning to trust him. And now here he was setting traps! It was a splendid chance for those who doubted him all along to say, "We told you so!" They did, too.

As usual, it was Sammy Jay who had first spread the news. It just happened that Sammy had been sitting in the big maple tree in Farmer Brown's dooryard when Farmer Brown's Boy came out of the house with a lot of steel traps clanking in one hand and an axe in the other. Sammy knew what that meant. He had seen traps set before. He could hardly sit still long enough to see in which direction Farmer Brown's Boy was going he was so anxious to spread the news. You see, Sammy is one of those who has all along doubted the good intention of Farmer Brown's Boy. Because he never is quite honest himself, he cannot believe in the honesty of others. So now when Farmer Brown's Boy started in the direction of the Greeen Meadows, Sammy hurried ahead straight to the Smiling Pool to give warning. You see, he felt sure that there was where those traps were to be set—there and along the Laughing Brook, for that is where Farmer Brown's boy used to set traps long ago when he tried to catch Jerry Muskrat and Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter.

There was great excitement and indignation when Sammy told the news just as he was sure there would be. He left everybody talking as fast as their tongues could go and hurried over to the Green Forrest to spread the news there. Some believed it and somedidn't. You see, Sammy has told so many untruths in his lift that a few of those who know him best are very slow to believe anything he says.

Une' Billy 'Possum was one of these.

"Did yo' see him setting those traps, Brer Jay" he inquired.

"No," replied Sammy, truthfully enough. "I didn't wait for that, I thought I ought to hurry ahead and warn everybody."

"Very thoughtful of yo' Ah'm sure, Brer Jay," agreed Une' Billy, "But just because yo' happened to see Farmer Brown's Boy with some traps in his hand you don't know that he means to set them. 'Pears to me like yo' all am in a mighty hurry to scare eve'body befo' yo' know there's any danger. Why didn't yo' watch to see where he done set those traps, Brer Jay."

Sammy tossed his head indignantly, "If that's all the thanks I get for my warning I hope you get caught," he snapped. Then off he flew to carry the news farther. Une' Billy grinned. Nevertheless he took pains to warn old Mrs. 'Possum to warn the children to watch out sharply lest they get in trouble. At the Smiling pool and along the Laughing Brook everybody was on the watch. Everything else was forgotten. Even Grandfather Frog was excited, too excited to catch foolish green flies when they skimmed past his very nose. But in spite of all their watching they saw nothing of Farmer Brown's boy and his traps. You see, he had gone straight over to the far corner of the Green Meadows to the homee of Old Man Coyote. There he did set the traps—set them for Old Man Coyote. Ol' Mistah Buzzard, sailing high in the blue, blue sky, looked down and saw him do it.

"Ol' Man Coyote better watch out" muttered Ol' Mistah Buzzard. "There sho'ly seems to be a lot o' trouble fixin' fo' him."

NEW YORK.—Prohibition agents made a tour of the white light district along Broadway early today and decorated the cabarets and midnight clubs with yards of crepe by serving notice that from now on no hip pocket liquor is to be allowed. Proprietors of the jazz palaces were told they would be prosecuted if any patrons were permitted to drink their personally conducted wet goods in their establishments.

Cabaret owners declared that this order, plus the 1 o'clock dancing ban, will mean an end of New York's so-called night life. They promised to see that the rule was enforced.

The mercury climbed to 80 at Seattle.

was used for the model sketched, and the lower part of the sleeves is chiffon in self color. These sleeves are really the distinguishing feature, as the transparent parts are long and flowing, relieving the otherwise rather severe lines. The use of transparent wing of angel sleeves in negligee garments has been featured for a long time. The ones in this garment has the same general effect as to flowing lines, but the upper part being made of the heavier fabric serves to render the negligee more serviceable.

A practical method of developing a negligee is to use one of the costume slips that may be bought in a wide range of colors and fabrics and wear over it a long graceful coat of lace or some sheer fabric such as chiffon. Georgette or embroidered net.

Ornamental girdles similar to the one in the sketch, of padded silk flowers in various colors, often finish these garments.

Pajama outfits continue to be very popular for lounging and negligee wear, and the smarest ones feature ankle length, straight trousers with coats of the middy type. Frequently these are sleeveless, although short sleeves are oftener used. Radium silk, crepes and satins of all kinds are the popular materials, and in the widest possible color range. One of the trimmings much favored is fringe, although self fabric trimmings are popular. Tucks and folds appear on the trouser legs as well as lower part of the pajama coats, and appliqued fabric flowers are also used with good effect.

A smart negligee of the dressy type recently seen was of orchid colored crepe satin, cut on straight lines and with lace medallions scattered about over it, the real feature of the garment being the wide lace band at the hem. This gave a transparent effect to the garment.

TEAM HITS WITH VENGEANCE AND ROLLS UP BIG COUNT AT EXPENSE OF BUFF ROOKIE

Jumbo Ramsey Delivers Pinch Knock for Last Marker; Bischoff Has Big Day and Hits 'Em Hard; Mokan Gives Way to Ruth in Fifth; Summa Hits for Fat Average

Special to The Record News.

HOUSTON, Aug. 17.—Because Bischoff and Ramsey came through with timely bingles in the ninth, the Spudders continued their drive and made the first five games of the road trip yield four victories. The Spudders came to the last inning with the score knotted and then proceeded to slam out enough hits to count two runs and cop the game 10-8. Hollis was touched for 17 hits before the game ended.

Three counters in the first gave Wichita a good start but they were unable to maintain the lead and in the seventh two by Houston sluggers tied the score.

Besher featured in the first, scoring after reaching first with a hard drive past Denoville and then after being sacrificed to second by Tanner, stealing third. Adams single through the box scored him. Summa's double to right sent Adams to third and Miller scored Adams. Summa crossed the plate on a play in which Beck forced Miller at second. In Houston's half the first three batters were thrown out at first.

The second added another marker when Bishoff tripled to center and scored on Besher's double.

A single by Benninghoven in the second scored Whiteman who had reached first on Adam's fumble and Denoville who had taken four balls after Doyle's sacrifice had put the two runners in a position to count.

Summa's triple in the third was wasted when he was caught at the plate trying to score on Miller's high fly. Houston had even worse luck, the first three men being thrown out at first.

Two More in Fifth

The fifth saw two more counters marked up for Salm's hard hitting bunch. Tanner tripled and scored on Summa's single after Adams had fanned. Summa went to second on Miller's sacrifice and was scored by White with a single to left.

With two men out, Ruth relieved Mokan in the fifth, after he had walked Benninghoven and allowed Hollis to score him with a double to center. A hard hit to center put Bittle on first and sent Hollis to third and when Bailey forced Bittle at second Hollis crossed the plate. Monroe tripled to center scoring Bailey who had stolen second and then in turn was scored by Whitman's single to left. A pop up to Adams stopped the running with four counters to Houston's credit in the inning.

A walk, sacrifice and a single gave Wichita a counter in the sixth and another was marked up in the seventh when Miller's double to center was followed by a sacrifice and a bad throw to the plate by Monroe.

Houston added two more when Bailey walked after Hollis had singled. A hard double to left by Whiteman scored them.

Tanner got to first in the eighth but no farther. Again in this inning Houston was unable to get a runner to first.

And then that Spudder ninth! After Miller had fanned and Beck had been thrown out by Doyle, White walked and Bishoff came through with another smashing double to deep left, scoring him. Ramsey hit for Ruth and when he placed the ball to left for a single, Bishoff crossed the plate giving the Spudders a two-run lead. Besher flied out to right.

Keene went into the box for the Spudders and walked Hollis. C. Miller running for Hollis, was forced at second. Bailey hit into a double play and another game was added to the long list of wins for the Spudders.

HUB ACE

Hugh McQuillan

"Jawn" McGraw, pugnacious pilot of the Giants, believes that the acquisition of Hugh McQuillan, Braves' pitching ace, will give the added strength necessary to let the Gothamites walk off with the National league pennant. Toney, among other things, was given to the Braves for McQuillan.

More Fans Dope The Texas Flag

A couple of Texas league fans hooked up yesterday in the finishing race of the loop. One of them was a faithful Spudder supporter while the other stated a decided preference for the Cat entry.

They doped out the series remaining to be played by the two teams and as a result, of the remaining 29 games to be played by each of the clubs, Fort Worth will win 22 and drop seven, according to the figures of the Cowtown fan, and the Spudders will cop but 19 of their number.

The tabulation shows Fort Worth taking three out of four at Galveston and sweeping both the Houston and San Antonio series. Then when the Cats get back home, they are billed to cop three of four from the Spudders a like number from the Gassers, three of five from Dallas, and split four games with the Spudders here.

The Spudder fan dopes the Spudder wins out as follows: Three of the four from Houston, all four from Beaumont, an even break in four games at Galveston, one of the four at Fort Worth, three of five at Dallas, three of the four at Shreveport and as many from Fort Worth here.

Should the two fans pick their winnings correctly, but this is impossible on acount of the difference on the Fort Worth series here, the teams will finish thusly:

	W	L	Pet.
Spudders	54	25	.684
Panthers	58	23	.716

It's all a matter of opinion between Judge Arna Raley, Fort Worth fan, and an old catcher himself, and Lee McGee, Spudder fan. The two were cornered by Cedric Hamlin yesterday and their differences and beliefs were noted down.

OLNEY WALLOPS SEYMOUR 13-1

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Aug. 17.—Two lucky hits in the ninth inning saved Seymour from a shut out at the hands of the Olney club in a game played at Olney Thursday. The Olney hitters pounded the ball in every inning and took the long end of a 13 to 1 score.

The feature of the game was the perfect pitching of Scott for Olney. The batters facing him were helpless and not a Seymour man reached the initial sack until the ninth when he let up and allowed one run. J. D. Farmer led the hitting for the winners and slammed the ball to the four corners of the lot. Angely proved of especial value in the field and made several hard catches, saving Scott from hits several times.

Batteries: Olney, Scott and Parrish; Seymour, Hale, Quarterbaum and Lowry.

DOUGLAS' OFFER IS MADE PUBLIC

Giant Hurler Seeks New Home

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—The letter said to have been sent by Phil Douglas, Giant twirler, to a member of a rival National league offering to 'quit" the Giants to hinder their pennant chances was made public today by Commissioner Landis.

"I am afraid if I stay, I will win the pennant for them," (the Giants) Douglas' letter said. The letter follows:

"I want to leave here. I don't want to see this guy win the pennant. You know I can pitch and I am afraid that if I stay I will win the pennant for them.

"Talk this over with the boys and if it is all right send the goods to my house at night and I will go to the fishing camp. Let me know if you all want to do this and I will go home on the next train."

"PHIL DOUGLAS."

Commissioner Landis gave out the letter from his box at the Cubs-Giants game this afternoon without comment.

He told interviewers he was under the impression that Douglas wrote the letter on his own initiative, but would be only too glad to hear from Douglas or his wife if they had anything to say.

Spiking 'Em

By "SPIKE" COOPER

Fans are beginning to declare their independence and demanding recognition. The time when the sport scribes rocked public opinion has passed. Of course they will sway the minds to a certain extent, but they do not rule with a supreme hand.

From the "Fans Forum" in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, a letter from Baird recently appeared which shows that west Texas fans are of the kind that fight from their convictions.

The letter:

Baird, Texas, Aug. 14, 1922.

Mr. Billy Bee:

Dear Sir—I saw in the paper the other day where you said that the Wichita Spudders were getting more players, so they could win the last half and you were running them down for it.

What I want to know is: What are the Cats doing if they are not getting fine players, so they can win the last half? They are afraid the Spudders are going to Memphis.

Say, Billy, I want you to print this letter, so Wichita will know there is one man in Baird who is for them.

If they don't go to Memphis it will be because the other teams will frame up on them, like Dallas is now. And, say, Mr. Billy Bee, if I were you I wouldn't say another thing about the Spudders after they beat the Cats five straights and ran it up to 25. Well, here's hoping the Spudders win them all.. So. by-by.

CARL SMITH.

This same question is being discussed throughout the state at present. It shows the people are getting further on the inside of baseball than in years recently passed. They're beginning to understand some of the tricks of the game.

Mr. Smith, we appreciate your expression of faith and confidence in the Spudders and know you are just one of the many Spudder fans in the state, but commend you on your nerve to state your position.

BURK SET FOR SUNDAY GAME

Shriners to Meet Magnolias

When the Shrine team journeys to Burkburnett Sunday for a game with the strong Magnolia team, the fans of that section of the country will be treated to a real diamond contest.

The Shrine aggregation has defeated the best teams of that order in the state and ran a strong favorite in local circles during the amateur ague season recently closed.

The Magnolias are fresh from a victory over the strong Gulf team last Sunday when they sent Snipe Conley down under a 3-2 defeat.

The Magnolias have announced that Bill Morgan, carried by the Panthers until recently, will be on the mound for their entry, and they feel that a victory is in the offing.

CITY LEAGUE CHAMPS MEET

Texas and Gulf to Determine Crown

Though the Spudders have journeyed to other parks for several days, local followers of the game need not hunger all the while for a taste of the grand old game, for Sunday, August 20, the Gulf and Texas company teams will open a three game series for the championship of the city league.

These two teams battled through a tough schedule which was disrupted toward the close by the cancellation of several games due to lack of interest on the part of some of the clubs.

The series has been arranged by mutual agreement and the teams will offer their best to the fans who witness the contests.

Returns from both the Spudder and Panther games will be announced at the park for the benefit of those in attendance.

Both teams boast of a strong contingent of ball tossers and their records bear out their contention.

They'll not play sand lot baseball, but will flash their style in the three clashes. The series will extend over the next three Sundays.

CHESS CHAMP WINS GAME

By Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Jose R. Capablanca, the world's chess champion won his game today against Dr. Davide Morotti, of Italy, in the 15th round of the international chess tournament. This brings Capablanca's total to 13 points.

HENRIETTA TO MEET SEYMOUR

Grudge Battle Set for Sunday

Amateur fans throughout this section of the state are watching with interest the outcome of the Sunday game at Henrietta when the Seymour team invades the Clay county etropolis.

Rivalry between the two teams was brought to a climax last season when after much bantering and wagering the Henrietta boys secured the services of Jim Sewell to carry them to victory which he easily did.

Revenge is the order of the day in Seymour. The two teams boast of many stars, both of semi-pro and professional days.

Both teams have met with almost unlimited success thus far this season and the meeting Sunday promises to be a battle from the start.

WHY AWFUL CRIMES OCCUR

Occasionally a brutal crime attracts your attention in the newspaper. You find it hard to understand how anyone can be so fiendish. You conclude a madman did it. Later the criminal is arrested. You read that he is a moron. A moron is a person whose intellectual development proceeds normally up to about the eighth year, and then stops and never exceeds that of a child of about 12 years. Clue back over the past and you realize that you meet many morons—grown-ups with a child mentality—who have been going along placidly through life without committing crimes.

By HOME BUILDER.

Today's home is also along bungalow lines, this time with a roomy front porch, very practical for warm summer evenings in Wichita Falls. Built on square lines, this house is economical of construction, and could be built very nicely for $2,500. Alternate plans are submitted, each with four rooms, but one having a sleeping porch. The additional cost of the larger plan would be very little, as the general outline of the house is unchanged, and there is just two feet difference in the length of the house. However, the smaller plan seems the most convenient, as here anyone not wishing a cellar would wish to utilize the space taken up by the cellar stairs.

In the case of the smaller plan, this could be arranged very conveniently, by enlarging the kitchen to take up part of the space, utilizing the rest with a larger bath room or with shelves and pantry for the kitchen. A breakfast nook would also be very attractive in this space.

Another Way to Get Money.

In yesterday's article, I took up one plan of financing the building of your home. Today let us discuss another one, for naturally the first thing the home builder considers is the amount of money required.

The first article discussed the man who had a nest egg to start with. Today let us discuss the man who hasn't saved a penny.

Every man can save part of his income, no matter how little or how much he makes. Generally speaking, the average man wastes quite a little money in the course of a month, on odds and ends that are not necessary, but which, at the time appealed to him. At the end of the month, his money is gone and he has little or nothing to show for it. Every man knows this is true. And yet every man knows he can save a little something, if he will put his mind on it. Every man has saved, when he had to. How about the time the wife was sick, and the doctor bills had to be met. It didn't seem like you could get the money, and yet, somehow or another, you did get it. Or when the baby came. There have been dozens of crises in your life of one kind or another, and yet you managed to pull through.

Did you ever stop to think that if you owned your own home, those critical periods would not come so frequently, and that when they did come, they would not be so severe, simply because your expenses would not be so great. You would not be spending more than a fourth of your income every month for house rent.

Saving Will Do It.

And by systematic saving, you can own your own home.

There are two building and loan associations in Wichita Falls, both working along the same general lines. There are a number of banks here that will help everyone save.

The real trouble about saving is that the average man doesn't know how easy these institutions really make it for him.

Take the building and loan associations here for example. Their rate is 10 per cent. Do you realize what that means? Let's take some concrete figures, for illustration.

You make $43 a week. That is the average income in Wichita Falls. Should you say to yourself, "I am going to save $50 every month," which is a little better than one dollar out of every four you earn, you would have $600 at the end of the year.

Now if you put this amount in a building and loan association, it would be earning 10 per cent interest. Saving at this rate, in two years you would be in a position to own your own home. At the end of that period you would have $1200 plus the interest which would swell the fund considerably. This same principal applies no matter how small or large your monthly savings may be.

Then go to the building and loan association, and tell them you want to build or buy a home. This is what would happen.

Saving $1,000

If you wanted to buy, the building and loan association would give you a check, out right, for the full sum. The difference between the money you had and the money they gave you would represent your indebtedness, of course. But this money could be paid back to the building and loan association on long terms, in such a manner that it would really amount to less than rent.

Another advantage you would have in a transaction of this nature is this. You would have selected a house that was priced, say, at $5,000. The owner of that house expects to get about $500 in cash, and the rest in payments. For cash you could probably get the house for $4,000. The building and loan check would have saved you $1,000 on the purchase price of your house, at the very beginning of the deal.

On the other hand, if you wished to build, after having saved enough money for a start, the association would lend you the money, just as was explained in yesterday's article.

(The third article of THE HOME YOU'RE GOING TO BUILD series will appear in tomorrow's paper. Record News Plan Number Three will also be printed tomorrow.)

Wheat Unsettled, Closes Low

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, August 18. — Timely showers and cooler temperature dispelling fear of damage to corn led to lower prices today for all grains Wheat closed unsettled at 2 1-4 to 2 3-4c net decline with September $1 5-8 to $1 3-4 and December $1.01 3-4 to $1.01 7-8. Corn lost 2 1-8 to 2 3-8c, and oats 7-8c to 1 1-8c. In provisions the outcome varied from 12 1-2c decline to a rise of 2 1-2c.

Wheat was on the down grade from the start. The breaking of the drought and the passing of the hot wave led to general selling.

Little power to rally was shown in the wheat market, final prices being near the lowest of the day. The only buying of consequence was attributed to Minneapolis mills.

Corn fields in Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, all received more or less rain and prices here broke sharply.

Oats were dull and merely followed corn.

Provisions averaged lower with grain and hogs.

Late Trading Brings Recessions

By Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, August 18.—Advances of half a cent a pound were made by cotton in the early part of today's session but the later trading brought wide recessions, partly because of realising operations on the long side and partly because of continued quiet interior spot markets and private reports of a few scattered rains in drouthy sections of the western belt. There was also more or less disappointment manifested over the rather negative turn taken by the news from the rail strike conference. In the last few mniutes of the session prices were 3 to 13 points under the close of yesterday while the close was3 to 12 under.

NEW YORK COTOTN
By Associated Press

NEW YORK, August 18.—A further advance of about $2.50 per bale met heavy realizing in the cotton market today and was followed by sharp reactions. December contracts, which sold up to 22.23 on the early buying or 211 points from the low level of last Tuesday, broke to 21.31 in the late trading and closed at 21.63. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 5 to 17 points.

An opening advance of 29 to 40 points reflected a continuance of yesterday's buying movement which was further stimulated by the strength of Liverpool, reports that the trade had been a good buyer of both futures and spots yesterday, and a continuation of recent weather conditions.

Profit taking became more general late in the afternoon on reports that spot buyers were not following the advance in the southern markets and rather a less favorable view of prospects for an early settlement of the rail strike. October broke to 21.64 and January to 21.45 or 58 to 62 points from the early high level and the close was within a few points of the lowest.

Slow and Steady Rise of Prices Still Continues

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. — The slow but steady absorbtion of stocks at constantly rising prices continued in today's stock market, which showed a tendency to break away from the restraint imposed by pending labor troubles.

More than a dosen new records for the year were again recorded by active issues, but most of the gains were of a nominal nature. Dealings totalled 650,000 shares.

President Harding's declaration to congress that the government would use all its power to maintain transportation and the right of men to work was well received in the financial community, but it had no visible effect on prices. Rail shares held firm, the sharp advance in Chicago and Eastern Illinois common and preferred, which were up 3% and 2 1-4 points respectively, being the outstanding exception to the general fractional changes in prices of carrier shares.

Trading in industrials featured today's session, United States Steel common pushing through 104 to the highest level in two years with relatively conspicuous strength being shown by equipments, sugars, domestic oils and a number of specialties.

Average price levels of railroad and industrial shares are now at the highest levels of the year.

Mexican and domestic oils continued to be influenced by reports of lessened Mexican production, the former showing pronounced weakness and the latter marked strength. Mexican petroleum moved within comparatively narrow limits but closed at a loss of one point with corresponding heaviness being shown by the Mexican seaboard issues, and Pan-American. Standard Oils of New Jersey and California moved up 1½ and 2 points, while progress was noted in Tidewater, Superior Oil and Sinclair.

TRADE VIEWS

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Bradstreets tomorrow will say:

While the outlook for the future, both of trade and industry was changed for the better, owing to improved strike settlement prospects, there is slight reflection of it to be had in the week's reports as to the current trade and industry. The partial character of the coal settlement, and the continued uncertainty in the railroad strike is partly responsible. But in many lines the improvement threatens to be slower than was the growth of the species of slow business paralysis that has made its effects increasingly visible since the railway strike began. In this direction, indeed, the installation of the system of coal priorities may prove hurtful to some leading industries, notably iron and steel, which have suffered most from the fuel shortage but which are low on the priority list, while helpful to the railways and household consumers of coal, whose needs are soon likely to become urgent.

Women As Buyers of Men's Wear

The big part the women play in present day buying is a surprise to the merchants themselves.

More than one thousand retail dealers who sell men's wear, these dealers scattered over 165 cities, were recently interviewed by the CURTIS PUBLISHING CO., and the finding was substantially as follows:

Department stores reported that 75 per cent of their sales in men's furnishings were made to women. Fully one-third of all men's furnishings were sold in all the stores investigated were sold to women. The clothing buyer of one very large establishment stated that 70 per cent of the clothing sold by that house was bought of women, 90 per cent of the boys' wear was bought by them, and three-fourths of the clothing sales remaining to be accounted for were "influenced" by them!

Dealers say women are getting to be better judges of qualities and prices than men, and get better values for their money, likewise, they remember trade-marks, and special brands, and when they discover a good line, they tie to it, thus imparting stability and character to trade.

They are diligent readers of advertising. This has much to do with their ability to cope with the new problems that confront them. There is no better guide in matters involving outlay for the family than the advertising pages of the Newspaper.

Says Opponent Has No Legal Right

Special to the Record News.

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 18.—"Jim Ferguson has no legal right to vote in any democratic primary where a candidate for U. S. senator is to be nominated," Earle B. Mayfield, Ferguson's opponent for the senate declared tonight, after reading the law concerning challenges of voters.

"Neither can any man who voted the American party-ites, you socialists, you republicans, voe in this primary," Mr. Malfield declared. It is a democratic primary and a candidate for United States senator is to be nominated, and the law says you shall not vote."

"Law abiding citizens who voted the American party ticket in 1920 will not enter the primary and swear to a lie in order to vote for Ferguson," Mr. Mayfield continued.

"But there will be some who care nothing for law and who will try to vote," he continued, "and I have a word of warning for them. They may care nothing for law, but perjury is still a crime in Texas courts.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
The State of Texas, to the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita county, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon Rhea Sawyer by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 78th district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in September, A. D., 1922, the same being the fourth day of September, A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 21st day of July, A. D., 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 13093-B wherein D. C. Sawyer is plaintiff and Rhea Sawyer is defendant, and said petition alleging, That plaintiff and defendant were legally married April 28, 1920, and continued to live together until September 7, 192—, and that defendant is now his lawful wife. That defendant unmindful of her marital relations toward plaintiff, in a very short time after their marriage commenced a course of unkind and tyrannical treatment and course of conduct, which caused their separation a few months after their marriage. Plaintiff says that defendant would go out with other men, go car driving with them, to shows with them or any place she might want to go; would be out very late at night with men, and men that she perhaps had only met the same day, that she would go with them the following night. Plaintiff further says that he objected to defendant going with other men and keeping company and making dates with them, that he would talk with her about her conduct and relations with men and try to get her to stop said course of conduct and stay at home; all of which she refused to do, many times remarking that she would not be tied to any one man, etc. Wherefore, plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein, and that upon hearing hereof that he have judgment dissolving the bonds of matrimony as they now exist, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, both general and special in law and equity, that plaintiff may show himself justly entitled to receive and for which he will ever pray.
Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 24th day of July, A. D., 1922.
A. F. KERR, Clerk, District Court, Wichita, County Texas.

JOLLY MURDER HEARING TODAY

Several Witnesses From Here

Walter F. Schenck, district attorney, and several witnesses from Wichita Falls who have been summoned to appear at Henrietta today in the preliminary hearing on the Jolly murder mystery will attend the proceedings, it was announced at the court house yesterday afternoon.

The examinations of charges brought against Tom Miles and his wife and G. A. Fuller, husband of the woman whose mutilated but still living body was found near the roadside, at the same time that the riddled body of Ed Phelan was discovered, will be held, it is understood. The trio face charges of murder.

It is understood that a recent development in the case, in which local officials participated in a search for a pistol believed to have taken some part in the killing of Phelan, will possibly play some part in the hearing today.

Here's Reply 'After Whitewash' Story on Political Lot

"The speech of C. C. McDonald Wednesday night on the Moore & Richolt lot in behalf of Governor James E. Ferguson's campaign made the Mayfield supporters so seasick that after the meeting it was necessary for them to fumigate the lot out of common decency to the people of Wichita Falls, in the manner mentioned in The Record News yesterday morning," Guy R. Holcomb, local chairman of the Ferguson club, announced yesterday afternoon in speaking of the affair in which the lot was "whitewashed" with lime on the ground where the speakers' stand stood.

Judge Soaks 'Em Ten Bucks Apiece

In session less than 30 minutes yesterday morning, Judge John P. Marrs, in corporate court, assessed a total of $30 in fines on three defendants who appeared before the court.

A man charged with being drunk was fined $10, while two persons charged with violations of the traffic ordinance were fined $10 each.

ELECTRAN ROBBED OF FINE GOLD WATCH

According to information received by the local police department yesterday morning, thieves held up and robbed T. G. Brant at Electra recently, relieving him of a 17-jewel gold watch.

The robbery is believed to have been comitted by persons thought to have brought their stolen wares to this city for disposition.

An investigation was being conducted here yesterday afternoon for the missing articles.

BOYS WITH BIG GUNS TAKEN IN BY SLEUTH

Tom Shook, city detective, ran across wild west life in the city yesterday morning.

According to Tom, he brought in several "bad hombres" and took off their guns.

The facts are these: Two wild-eyed youths who thought they were "cowpunchers" according to Shook, wandered into the wrong hotel. Their guns were a little conspicuous, and the result was that both were arrested for carrying pistols without warrants.

In building a state railway 100 miles long in Norway 23 tunnels with a total length of five miles had to be bored and 57 bridges constructed.

General Zachary Taylor Carried Real He-Man Closing Knife

General Zachary Taylor, Mexican and Civil war hero, used about the biggest closing knife ever made. If you don't believe it go over to the City National Bank and see the very knife General Taylor used now in the possession of C. E. Basham.

About 15 years ago a friend of Mr. Basham's found the old knife dirty and rusty with both blades broken out on the battle field of Chickamauga. He gave it to Mr. Basham and recently the blades have been put in the knife by Andrew Young of this city.

The knife has elk horn handles tipped at the end with silver. One side of one end silver tip is an engraving of General Taylor with his name under it, on the other side is an engraving of a man on horseback and on the center of left side is a silver plate with the wording "General Taylor."

The knife apparently was hand made and had two heavy blades the longest of which is six inches and the shorter about four inches. The handle is very heavy and though the blades close up as a pocket knife blades, it could not be carried conveniently in anything smaller than saddle pockets.

Court House Janitors 'Set 'Em Up" To Old Fashioned Watermelon Feed

Days of the old family homestead, and the fashions that kids who have now grown to the years of manhood once followed in the matter of eating watermelons were revived and recalled to memory yesterday afternoon at the Wichita county court house.

A party of deputy sheriffs, Judge R. V. Gwinn, R. L. Yates and two newspaper reporters huddled together at the end of the hall in the basement.

On the floor between the "gang" reposed two juicy watermelons and digging into its heart and sides were the hungry court officials and the news hounds.

Every dog has his day, but yesterday wouldn't have been "our day" had it not have been for the thoughtfulness of two negro janitors, "John" and "Sam," as they are called all through the court house. These two boys had placed a couple of melons on ice earlier in the day and when time was right they had invited their guests to the end of the basement, where spoons and salt sufficient to re-supply the bottom of the Atlantic had been placed for the "gang."

Raiders Fail to Find Moonshiners

With the fire still smouldering, and the vicinity showing that a whisky still had been operated there, Frank Morgan and his deputies sat down to watch a spot near the city late Thursday night, but returned to Wichita Falls empty handed, the constable related yesterday.

Constable Morgan said that his party of deputies destroyed several barrels of mash ready for the run and put out the fire before they returned.

A thorough search of the vicinity, which was six miles east of here on the Wichita river, failed to reveal any signs of the still, although foot prints near the water's edge showed that it had not been many hours since the operators were there moonshining.

Clothing Stolen From Hotel Room

While J. A. Jennings was busy elsewhere Thursday night, thieves whose identity have not yet been learned, entered his room in a local hotel, removing a new red leather suit case, and carrying off its contents as well.

The suit case, according to information given the local police yesterday morning, was filled with shirts, collars, etc., which Mr. Jennings was carrying with him, the thief having left the visitor bereft of practically all his clothing.

McCoy Attends Chicago School

O. D. McCoy, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce, left Friday night for Chicago where he will take a special course in Northwestern university on the work of commercial secretary. There will be several hundred commercial secretaries from all parts of the country taking the course it is said. Mr. McCoy expects to return to Wichita Falls in about three weeks.

Thermometer Hits 106 Here Friday

Air was a scarce article in Wichita Falls Friday. The minimum temperature for the day was 85 degrees at 6 a. m. and it rose steadily until 3:30 when it reached the highest point for the 24 hours which was 106. There was very little air stirring during the day and the heat caused considerable suffering.

REV. KEEVIL RETURNS AFTER OPERATION

Rev. J. Lem Keevil, pastor of the First Christian church of this city who recently underwent a serious operation by the Mayo brothers has returned to Wichita Falls greatly improved in health. He came in Friday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Keevil is said by friends to have undergone an operation which is believed to have removed the cause of a long ailment and his physicians have strong hopes that he will be entirely well within a few months.

Subpoenas Issued For Grand Jury

Sam Holliday, assistant district attorney, announced yesterday afternoon that he has issued a number of subpoenas to start the work of the 30th district court grand jury off again when that body of men reconvene Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Holliday asserted that he has issued approximately 50 official papers summoning persons to the court in cases which are to be investigated.

The grand jury, it is believed, has approximately two more weeks of work to conduct before it is adjourned finally, Judge H. B. Wilson, magistrate of the 30th district court, being expected to return to the bench here at that time.

AUTO STOLEN FROM GARAGE IN DALLAS

Officials of the Dallas police department notified Chief J. W. McCormick yesterday that automobile thieves had broken into a garage at that place and had stolen a Buick car.

The automobile, the report asserted, was practically a new vehicle, despite the fact that it was a 1921 model, it having been recently overhauled.

We win again!

Pour it on 'em, Walter, you've got the skipper's rights.

There seems to be some dissention as to the real reason the Moore & Richolt lot was whitewashed.

Mrs. C. C. McClure and daughter, Marcie, have returned to Wichita Falls from Colorado Springs.

"Shotgun" Shook drug in two wild-eyed youthful characters yesterday and unloaded their "cowboy" guns.

Possibly it was to hold down some of the political mud which has been slung around there for several seasons.

Many a man falls for a woman, but few fall hard enough to buy her a wardrobe the first time they see "the one desirable she."

And it isn't often that P. B. M.'s falls for the checks for that kind of a wardrobe, either. Ask Evans, he knows.

Our friend "Blackie" Blackburn wants to know how the deuce a man can go "out" when he's merely coming in.

Two negroes stood aside yesterday afternoon and watched about eight white men eat watermelons. And the funny thing about that is that the negroes furnished the melons.

A fruit jar filled with a substance half dark and half white, and almost resembling muddy water stood on the fountain in Tipton's drug store yesterday. A sign on the jar read: "Ferguson Rally."

R. V. Gwinn says you don't have to go to Colorado to get original Colorado rainbow trout. He says you can buy red salmon in grocery stores here and have the same thing.

There's one noticeable thing about the strike situation: There have been more traveling freight agents in Wichita Falls in the past week than in the entire three weeks prior to that time.

Cedric Hamlin relates the follow-ing story:

"A boy stood on his tiptoes at the ticket window at Athletic park recently and begged for a free admission ticket to see the Spudders trim Dallas. I told him to wait awhile, catch a foul and come in. Thirty minutes later he came back with a girl hanging to his side and said:

"'I've got one, mister, can I come in now?'"

BYERS-WAURIKA LINE GRADING PROGRESSES

Work on grading the Byers-Waurika railroad on the Oklahoma side is said to be progressing rapidly with more outfits ready to move over the river within a few days. One outfit of 40 teams has been at work all week on the Oklahoma side and is making rapid progress with the work, it is said.
