Rockets Open Against Hollis Friday Night

Wellington Skyrockets will open their season Friday night Sept. 8 against the Hollis Tigers at Hollis at 8 p. m.

"Honestly, we don't know a thing about their team. It's a shot in the dark," Coach Frank Lindsey declared this week.

As for the Rockets—the general comment around town among those who have watched them work out is that their spirit has never been better. Small in number, only twenty men wear the Red and White of the Skyrocket team this year.

There have been the usual early season injuries and ailments, Coach Lindsey revealed.

In addition to the broken leg suffered by Johnny Ford early in the season, Craig Bergval received a muscle strain in the scrimmage with Elk City. Bryan Hatch is sick, although he was back in school Wednesday, and Richard Mauldin is out.

If the latter three boys are able to play, considerable strength will be added to the Rockets, Coach Lindsey said.

"We have had a lot of B team men show up at the last minute," the coach continued. "We had three to start with and there are 25 now."

Lindsey has not announced his starting lineup, but here are the Skyrockets and their positions:

Ends: Bryan Hatch, Joe Hendard, Dan Hendard, and Herbie Duncan.

Tackles: Rommie Forbis, Glen Thomas and Ronnie Ketchum.

Guards: Herman Childress, Delmer Duckworth, Joe Rudy and Skippy Duncan.

Center: Raymond Sanders. Halfbacks: Jackie Daves, Craig Bergval, Gary West and Chester McLain.

Fullback: Gary Holliman and Bobby Hudson.

Quarterbacks: Richard Mauldin and Lynn McLain.

Most of these boys can play two positions and three in a pinch. This is especially true of the backfield, where most of the boys also will see duty in the line.

Farris Wood, competed in the state contest, as did Miss Moseley.

QB Club to Hold First Meeting Monday

The Quarterback Club will hold the first meeting of the new school year on Monday evening, Sept. 11 at the Greenbelt Electric building.

Following this, a business session will be held when officers for the coming year will be elected.

County Appoints an Assistant Civil Defense Director Tuesday

The Commissioners Court, meeting Tuesday, Sept. 5, named an assistant Civil Defense Director and tentative plans were discussed toward setting up this county's civil defense program on a county-wide basis in event of disaster.

In the same meeting, members of the court and Mayor Hiram Cudd discussed the purchase of a new rural fire truck.

In the third piece of business, the Commissioners set the budget hearing for 9 a.m.

Friday, Sept. 22, and urged that the public attend if it is interested in the county budget. Usually less than half a dozen are present, court members pointed out.

Joe Alex Coleman, county road administrator, was named assistant Civil Defense Director, to assist Judge C. C. Bishop, Civil Defense Director. An official plan was not set out at this time, but the discussion centered on such things as a program for the emergency hospital unit now located here, a food supply for the population in case of disaster, etc. The civil defense program would cover both natural disasters such as a tornado, and disaster due to nuclear attack.

On the fire truck proposition, the city has proposed that if the county will buy a new fire truck, the city will equip it with fire fighting equipment, maintain it, and man it. It would serve all parts of the county as does the present truck.

Speaks at Meeting

Dr. Wilson Tells of Trip Through Russia

Dr. Jean D. Wilson of Dallas, who spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wilson, returned recently from a month's stay in Russia, where he attended International Biochemist, a meeting of doctors and biochemists from many lands.

The meeting was held in Moscow from Aug. 10 to 16, and Dr. Wilson gave a paper "Cholesterol in the Blood." He also spent three weeks touring the interior of Russia.

He was especially impressed with the magnificence of the Kremlin in Moscow, and the beauty of the city of Leningrad, the old St. Petersburg, built on a series of 150 islands. He also visited Stalinograd, Kiev, and in the Ukraine.

Dr. Wilson and others of his party took a boat trip down the Volga River and visited in the Black Sea area.

English is taught in the public schools of Russia and many of the people speak English, Dr. Wilson found.

He said that, as a whole he found the people friendly, courteous and eager to talk to visitors about the world situation, about which they are kept in ignorance. They are taught to believe the United States wants war.

On a Sunday in Moscow, Dr. Wilson attended services at the Baptist church, the only one in Russia. He reported there are four services each Sunday and all are packed.

En route to Russia, he visited Amsterdam, Holland; Warsaw, Poland; Prague, Czechoslovakia; and Copenhagen, Denmark.

Dr. Wilson does research and teaches in the internal medicine department of Southwestern Medical School, Dallas.

It was a combined business and pleasure trip for Drummond, his son, Jerry Drummond, and two other Midland men, George Jones and Ivy Kilpatrick. The trip was made in a Volkswagen and Volkswagen bus; the route they followed was the Pan American highway, now open to the Panama Canal.

"It must be the most beautiful drive in the world," he declared. "It's all in the tropics, but it's cold, for you follow the ridge of the mountains," Drummond pointed out.

"Driving in Mexico is a little rough. You have to watch out for the people. There are Indians all over the highway. They even go to sleep on it," he said.

Upon leaving Mexico, the four went into Guatemala.

"The roads are rough and there's very little paving, but it's beautiful the entire route," he said. They spent a week end in Guatemala City where living costs are called the second highest in the world.

"We went to a hotel and they wanted $78 for the four of us. We went to another run by a Japanese and had rooms at $10 per person per night—and their dollars are the same as ours," he said.

"There are only two classes of people—low and high. Americans worry about this, but they say 'Don't worry, they'll get by' but you still (Continued on back page)

It's A Dizzy World

A guy can't afford to do too much thinking about the situation these days—it might damage his power of reasoning. It's a crazy world, with bewildering developments . . . For example:

While the Nazi genocidal maniac Adolph Eichmann stands trial for mass extinction of the Jews, a group of punks calling themselves Nazis brazenly roam around the country as a tribute to Hitler.

The United States accelerates plans to beat Russia to the moon, 240,000 miles away, after Russia beats the United States to Cuba, 90 miles away.

While America prepares to send the Youth Peace Corps to other lands to tell foreigners how gentle and well-meaning we are, the so-called Freedom Riders invade the Dixie lion's den and touch off bloody race riots.

Uncle Sam spends $380 million to keep Laos from going Communist. As it developed, everyone knows that Laos went to the Commies, but no one knows for sure where all that money went.

President Kennedy, recently made oratorical history when he declared: "Ask not what your country will do for you, ask what you can do for your country."

Meanwhile, the Supreme Court awarded three Korean "turncoats" $10,000 in back pay. You might say the Court, by its action, put a premium on dishonor and traitorous action while penalizing courageous loyalty.

Just when the President has made the good old rocking chair socially acceptable again, the United Furniture Workers of America tosses in a wet blanket. The Union head protested to JFK because his rocker was made in South Carolina in an open shop at a lower pay scale than the Union-made chairs. Therefore, said the Union chief, the President's chair can't be very comfortable.

Could be the Union boss is a reflection of the whole world—slightly off his rocker.

CROSSROADS REPORT

My incompatible neighbor says he is not worried like everybody else these days about violence being displayed on the TV screen.

Claims it's common knowledge these violent doings are just play-acting, and that real gangsters, hoodlums, horse thieves, etc., hardly ever actually do get slaughtered in this praiseworthy manner.

In fact, he thinks violence is often a virtue; like last Spring's Cuban gesture would not have been so unsatisfying if we hadn't been so economical with the violence.

I see where U.S. wheat farmers got to vote the other day on whether they want $2 a bushel or $1.19 for their crop next year, and the $2 figure got elected.

And some people are hinting that this proves farmers are selfish and not as interested in high principles as they are in making more money.

But my low-principled neighbor says he notes the farmers didn't vote their pocketbooks by any bigger majority than Congressmen did the last time they voted themselves higher wages.

I see where our New Improved government is passing out millions to gone-to-seed villages wishing to tear down old buildings and put up fancy new ones with somebody else's money.

My run-down neighbor says this seems like as good a way as any to profligate federal funds, but he doubts that it will turn any of these doddering towns into prosperous trading centers.

Says one time he put up a real flossy new cow shed, but his old cows didn't even give enough extra milk to pay for the pretty draw drapes he put in their stalls.

Defense department seems like is having trouble with talkative military men, and may have to furnish each Admiral or General with a personal Liberal Commissar to keep him from inciting patriotism all over the place.

My ex-corporal neighbor says being a military man himself, he sympathizes with General Walker and other officers who wish to say a few words against Communism.

Says you can't blame them for wanting to enlist a few people on their side, so if fighting starts they won't be left holding the bag like the Cuban Freedom Fighters.

I see where the welfare people in some places have got so tight they are asking able-bodied chiselers to do a little work around the city for their handouts.

Which is likely to chill the demand for government groceries and leave us overstocked on dried eggs and powdered milk.

But my food-finicky neighbor says we could feed our Congressmen on this surplus provender, and maybe roughen up their dispositions to where they would vote against something once in a while.

Peace Corps overseers are said to be coaching some recruits in the use of firearms.

My truculent neighbor says the Peace Agents may find that being a good shot makes more impression in a non-peaceful environment than having a scoutmaster complex.

Says through a long and peaceful life he has found that being able to defend yourself aggressively is a big help in the encouragement of peace.

Buses slowed down slightly from 60.7 miles per hour last year to 60.5 in the recent survey.

INSTITUTIONAL WORK WEEK CUT

AUSTIN.—More than 9,000 state hospital and special school employees, forced to work longer hours than other state workers for several years got the break they had been waiting for when the Hospital Board invoked the 40-hour week throughout the system.

Legislature had given the board the option of hiring additional employees and reducing the 44-hour week to 40, or of retaining the longer work week and giving the present employees pay raises. The money was provided to do it either way.

"This new work schedule will make it possible to retain and attract more qualified personnel," board chairman French Robertson of Abilene said.

AUTOMATIC TAX CHECK DUE

AUSTIN.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin, on a recent visit to Austin, dropped the hint that automation in the processing of income tax returns may ultimately eliminate spot-checks and permit scrutiny of every return in detail.

Center of the tax accounting system will be in Martinsburg, W. Va., where a master file of business and individual taxpayers will be contained. Returns from district offices will be sent to nine regional centers where data will be magnetically taped to be sent to the computer center for processing.

"BOOTLEG" OYSTERS ARE THREAT

Watch out for "bootleg" oysters, warns the Texas State Health Department. Traffic in these items is "troublesome and dangerous." Buy only the oysters known to be produced in Texas under State Health Department certification.

PROTESTS AGAINST NEW SALES TAX

AUSTIN.—Storm clouds of protest boiled up quickly among consumers, clerks and merchants during the first week of application of Texas' almost-general sales tax.

Reaction was not so much against the cost of the new tax, but more to the principle, inconvenience and confusion. Noticeable were strange new surpluses of pennies in pocket and purse. They were bothersome. Arguments also ensued over what is subject to tax and what isn't.

Although State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert issued bulletin after bulletin explaining what is covered by the tax, it was evident that much time will have to pass before everyone concerned clearly understands the new law.

No one would venture a guess as to how many telephone calls were received by the Comptroller's office during the first week. The multitude of businessmen converging on the Capitol to seek information or lodge complaint gave Comptroller Calvert not a moment's peace.

Meanwhile, at the other end of the line—the direct contact point for collection of the extra pennies—clerks, especially those in supermarkets, were equally harried. There had been so little time for them to bone up on the many exemptions and intricacies of the new way of taxing Texans.

Probably the most universal scheme to beat the tax emerged in coffee shops across the state. If the coffee tab for the group came to 25¢ or more, there was no sense in one person picking it up and having to pay an extra penny.

QUESTION ON CHICKEN PRICES

AUSTIN.—Texas chicken eaters who have been enjoying their favorite fare at phenomenally low market prices this summer have been given something to think about by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

"I want to determine if there is an effort to price the Texas poultry producer out of business," he said, as he launched an investigation into the matter. "If our Texas broiler raisers are squeezed out of the market with below-cost prices, the ultimate result will be scarcity and sky-rocketing retail chicken prices."

Wilson said that since August 1960 there has been a decline of some 6¢ per pound in the price paid broiler producers in Texas, to a low of 12¢ or less. He pointed out that 14¢ to 16¢ a pound is the usual cost of raising broilers.

The attorney general is invoking a court-of-inquiry to investigate the possibility of anti-trust violations.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR RACE SHAPING

AUSTIN.—Many eyes of Texans are beginning to look in the direction of the Lieutenant Governor's office, vacated by Ben Ramsey's appointment as Railroad Commissioner.

One candidate, Republican O. W. Hayes of Temple, has announced he definitely will be in the race. Other definite possibilities include House Speaker James A. Turman of Gober, Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, Sen. A. M. Aiken Jr. of Paris, Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock, Sen. Bob Baker of Houston, and Don Yarborough of Houston. Yarborough ran against Ramsey last time.

NO CASES BUBONIC PLAGUE IN TEXAS

Two deaths due to bubonic plague were reported in a neighboring state during June and July. No cases have been reported in Texas since 1920, although State Health Department says the disease is widespread among extreme West Texas prairie dogs, mice, etc.

Ricky Nall Shows Top Calf in Livestock Show Saturday

Young Ricky Nall's butter-ball fat Black Angus won the grand championship of the county fair livestock division Saturday, Sept. 2, while the reserve champion was shown by another youthful exhibitor, Stanley Oldham of Samnorwood. This was a hereford.

Ricky is a Wellington 4-H Club boy and this is his first time to exhibit, for he is barely old enough to participate. Butch Reynolds of Samnorwood showed the grand champion female and Eddie Maxwell of Wellington FFA the grand champion bull.

Few Terrapins Available for Fair Races

County terrapins apparently went into hiding with the approach of the County Fair races, and the small number that could be found curtailed that event considerably. N. M. Higdon, assistant fair manager, reported.

Chub White raced the grand champion. This reptile didn't show his colors until the chips were down, for he placed only third in both preliminary races.

A terrapin sponsored by Singley Mill placed first in the first race. The Holton Auto terrapin was second, and White's third. Others racing terrapins were C&H Pharmacy, The Wellington Leader, Clark Chevrolet, Corky's Flower Shop, Wells & Wells, Wellington Sales, and Cudd Brothers.

Lewis Morris' terrapin was first in the next race, and that sponsored by Dr. Carter Holcomb second. White's again was third.

Others with terrapins in this race were Hatch Dry Goods, Dr. J. M. Orr, Wellington Gin, and The Leader Department Store.

Winners in the two races competed to determine the championship.

Four preliminary races would have been run (or walked) if enough terrapins could have been found, according to Rusty Henard, who was in charge.

Farmer, dominated the swine division with the champion boar, gilt and sow, and the reserve champion sow, all Pol-and Chinas.

Butch Reynolds of Norwood FFA had the champion barrow.

The reserve champion boar was shown by Lynn Hill of Quail; the gilt by Gary Barton of Quail, and the barrow by Gary Holliman of Wellington FFA.

Reynolds also had the champion dairy cow and Neal Lowry the reserve champion.

Judging the show were H. B. Weatherby, Shamrock vocational ag teacher, and Chas. Smallwood, head of the ag department of West Texas State College, Canyon.

Winners in the various divisions were:

Many Dangers Lurk in Yard for Gardner

The amateur gardener is exposed to many hazards and must exercise constant care when using tools and equipment, Lone Star Gas Company Manager Billy Joe Throgmorton cautioned today.

Lone Star and The Wellington Leader are co-sponsors of the 1961 Home Safety Program in Wellington.

Almost 12% of all home accident fatalities occur in the yard, according to a survey reported by the Kansas Board of Health and the Nassau County, N.Y., Health Department.

Of the total deaths, 5.6% were caused by falls; 1.6% by exposure to fire; 1.3% by suffocation; and 3.1% by miscellaneous causes.

Principal dangers are careless handling of rakes, hoes, and careless use of the power lawnmower. Turn hoes, rakes, etc., downward when momentarily laid aside and store properly when not in use. Observe these safety rules when operating a power lawn mower:

1. Avoid using an electric mower when the ground is wet. You may cause a short circuit or slip on the damp grass and fall against the blades.
2. Before using, clear the lawn of stones, wires, and other articles that the mower may catch and throw into the air. If an object discharged by a mower strikes you or a bystander, it may cause serious injury.
3. Be sure that children and

Mother of Mrs. Lindsey Dies Funeral Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. R. P. Box, 83, lone-time Hollis resident, were held at 2 p.m., Monday, Sept. 4 in the First Methodist Church there. She was the mother of Mrs. V. H. Lindsey.

Officiating was the Rev. George Baker, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Alfred Woodard, pastor of First Baptist Church, Hollis. Burial was in Fairmont Cemetery there.

Mrs. Box died at 10:10 p.m. Saturday in the Hollis hospital following a long illness.

She was born Dec. 15, 1873 in Thornton, Texas, and moved to Hollis in 1901. She was a charter member of First Methodist Church of Hollis and active in the Woodman's Circle.

Survivors include four daughters: Mrs. Elmer Thompson of Borger; Mrs. Dick Holleman of Hollis; and Mrs. G. H. Campbell of Temple, and Mrs. Lindsey; a son, C. E. Box of Borger; two brothers, E. M. Masters of Hollis, and J. D. Masters of Gould; a half-sister, Mrs. Willie Slife of Hollis; and three half-brothers, Harold Scott of Hollis, Joe Scott of Clayton, N.M., and General Scott of California. There are 10 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren.

pets are at a safe distance when you are using the mower.

4. Be sure of your footing and balance when you are operating the mower on an incline. Downhill mowing is especially dangerous.

5. To push the mower over obstacles, tip it by manipulating the handle rather than by reaching under the mower.

6. Stop the engine before removing objects from reel or rotary blades.

7. Disconnect plug wires on gasoline motors when you are working on the underside of the mower.

8. Store fuel in a closed metal container and keep it out of the reach of small children.

9. Shut off mower before leaving it unattended.

10. Keep flame away from mower when refueling.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Secy. Freeman's grain selling at common points is having its bearing on cooperators as well as non-cooperators in the 1961 program. Take the case of one cooperator whose maize averaged slightly over 3,100 pounds per acre. His allowable had been set at slightly over 1,400 pounds earlier in the year. He put that amount in the loan at $1.84 per hundred; but he had to sell the 1,600 bushels at the cash price of $1.45. And he had actually reduced his acreage not 20 per cent as set forth in the bill but 32 per cent from his 1960 acreage due to rules and interpretation.

Well, it is nothing to be surprised about. Spokesmen for the Administration said last spring that they were going to make it tough on the non-cooperator; but it is turning out to be pretty rough on the grower who did give up his acres, too.

Next they are talking about spending millions of dollars for new storage capacity in metropolitan centers in the event they are bombed. Even if it were not contaminated by fallout, what good would raw grain do people who had no milling facilities available? Flour is already stored in these cities and certain types of hard bread could be.

It would probably be nourishing, but I wonder how raw wheat with a little sugar and condensed milk would taste.

What are we doing about bomb shelters here in Wellington, Nothing, I presume. I suppose that most people have done about the same as I have done. I have thought about it seriously from time to time for the past two years; but each time I have wound up by telling myself I would do some more thinking about it next week. Some day I am liable to wind up like the proverbial grasshopper when winter came.

The Collingsworth County Free Fair lived up to expectations and they were high. Congratulations are in order for all the many people who worked so hard to make it a success. Such an event is a good thing for community morale.

Do you have some vacant lots that have grown up in weeds and become an eyesore as well as a fire hazard? The city has a mower available and Jake Leach says the cost of mowing these lots is very moderate. If you want to get your premises looking better just call the City Hall. Phone 447-2363.

Bob Barton brought in a giant muskmelon that weighed an even 12 pounds. The remarkable thing about it was that the flavor was delightful and the texture was perfect.

Was out at the sale barn Monday looking at some genuine Longhorn steers. Ernest Tate says we may see them in a movie before long. I hope so. These Westerns about the old days but showing a bunch of cowboys driving a trail herd of fat dehorned Herefords give me the willies. Tate also told a tale about a Longhorn bull on the Tittle ranch whipping a buffalo bull. No comment on that. I am afraid it would turn out like the snake stories.

County Appoints

Mayor Cudd said the city proposes a larger truck than the one now in operation which is now 12 years old. It is not a question of getting it down the road, but of having the power to drive in some areas at the scene of fires.

In case of grass fires, it has been necessary to shut off the water in several instances when the truck was going up a grade.

This is still in the discussion stage. Mayor Cudd said a truck such as they are talking about would cost around $6,000 and equipment would amount to around $4,500. He stressed that these figures are not definite but are simply to give an idea of the cost of such a unit.

The life of a fire-fighting truck of this type probably would be 15 or 20 years, he said.

The mayor also told the Commissioners that all right-of-way is available on Highway 83 through Wellington on the proposed widening program.

The new owner announced that in the future, the business will be operated as the Choice Jewelry.

Mr. Choice is a graduate of horology from the Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla., and during the time he has been here, he has been active in both the town's civic and business life.

In taking ownership, Mr. Choice said it is his intention to continue the same quality of service and work that the people of Wellington have known during the years that Mr. Bratten has been in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bratten established the business 14 years ago and continued to operate until he was appointed Wellington postmaster.

worry. "Nicaragua and Honduras, well, they're a little Red, but when you get in there, the people really love the Americans," Drummond found.

San Jose, Costa Rica was the end of their trip, and Drummond spoke enthusiastically of this modern city and the opportunities the country offers in some fields, especially those pertaining to agriculture.

"As far as we could see, the feeling of the people was 100 per cent for the Americans. What the United States does one day, Costa Rica will do the next," Drummond reported. "They are very democratic and they depend on the U.S."

Drummond's interpreter had just returned from the Inter-American Economic Conference at Asuncion, Paraguay, where he acted as an interpreter. From him and from others in the country, Drummond is convinced of Costa Rican friendship for the United States, and of Central America's cautious attitude toward Cuba.
