Youthful Kidnap Victim Released Unharmed

Sets New Record

A new women's altitude record is claimed for Mrs. Jaunita Burns, Los Angeles aviatrix, who is believed to have gained a height of approximately 28,000 feet in an open cockpit monoplane over Los Angeles. Mrs. Burns, shown here in her flying togs just before she took off, says she climbed for half an hour after her altimeter stopped recording at 28,000 feet. The official women's record so far is 21,598 feet, held by the late Ruth Alexander.

No Ransom Demanded For Abducted Boy

Adolphus Busch Orthwein, Grandson Of August Busch Returned To Parents Today By Negro Kidnaper

Agreement Is Reached

Victim Not Permitted To Tell Experiences; Attorneys Family Intends To Stand Up To The Agreement

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1. — Adolphus Busch Orthwein, 3, grandson of August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch and great-grandson of the late Adolphus Busch, multimillionaire brewer, was kidnaped by a Negro on New Year's eve, was returned to his parents late today unharmed.

Henry Troll, an attorney, acted as spokesman for the family and declared no ransom was paid. He said the family previously had announced they would pay a reward for the boy's return and would ask no questions.

Agreement Made

"No reward was paid," Troll said. "The only agreement made with the kidnaper was not to permit him to make a statement concerning his experience, and we insisted on that as a condition to the agreement."

Troll said he and a group of family friends met the kidnaper on a lonely spot in St. Louis county where the kidnaper had called for the money this afternoon. The kidnaper, after standing at the rendezvous, turned him to the custody of the boy's grandfather, August A. Busch, at Grant's Farm, once owned by the Civil war general, Ulysses S. Grant.

"Here I am, and here is your boy with you again," was the kidnaper's greeting when reunion was effected. He was in good humor, Troll said, and apparently had suffered no ill effects. He had not shaved since he left home and had grown a beard. His new long trousers, which he put on for the first time on New Year's night, was wrinkled from having been worn in bed at his grandfather's home. He was not permitted to change clothes.

Grade Crossing Tragedy In Chicago Claims Nine Lives

Five Children, Two Women Among The Victims

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Nine persons, including two women and five children, met death tonight when the sedan in which all were riding was demolished at a grade crossing in suburban Harvey by the international limited of the Grand Trunk railway.

The deaths brought Chicago's holiday toll to 15.

Two of the dead were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Olason of Elmhurst, a western suburb. The others killed were three girls, aged about five, six and eight; two boys, seven and eight, and another man and woman.

The sole survivor of what police believe to have been members of two families was a three-months-old baby girl.

Being President Isn't All Pleasant; Hoover Shakes 6,429 Hands Thursday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1. (AP)—President and Mrs. Hoover shook hands today with 6,429 persons.

The White House doors were wide open from 11 o'clock in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon and between those hours, with the exception of 45 minutes for lunch, the chief executive and first lady received and extended a steady stream of New Year's greetings.

The morning was given over to government officials and diplomats but in the afternoon formality was thrown aside as 5,500 plain citizens paid their respects.

The line for the public reception formed early, so early that two persons, Charles Ruby and Arthur Demars, were invited in out of the cold and were given breakfast.

Ruby and Demars rather took the edge off the efforts of J. W. Hunefeld, middle-aged Washington painter, who was the first to be received at 1 o'clock. Hunefeld had led the line so often that he is known at the White House as the "professional first-in-liner."

Confession Is Made In Death Of Negro Man

Victim Beaten To Death With Rocks Near Justiceburg As Aftermath Of "Crap" Game; Black Admits Slaying

(Special To The Avalanche)

POST, Jan. 1.—A confession that he was the man who had killed Oliver Benman, a negro said to be from Dallas, was made late Thursday by Lehman Banks, negro, who told Thomas L. Price, district attorney of Tahoka that he had beaten the Dallas negro to death with rocks.

Banks and Henry Bodie, another negro, were held at the close of a preliminary hearing to await action of the county grand jury about the middle of March. Bodie claims he was merely an onlooker and did not participate in the fatal beating.

The body was found by Santa Fe section hands near Justiceburg early this morning. Papers gave the address of Denman as 1414 White street, Dallas. The body was brought to Post by Perry Crowley, constable at Justiceburg and John Key.

Officers of Garza and Scurry counties began a search for the suspects. When arrested in Snyder the pair was questioned and admitted that the dead man had been killed in a crap game. The two men said they were looking for work.

The district attorney was called and came to Post from his home in Tahoka. No bond was set and County Attorney Smith indicated tonight that none would be made by the accused pair.

Signs Ordinance Violations Cited

Seventy-nine business firms which have signs on sidewalks or in street parking space owned by the city, are to be notified by the police department within the next few days that such signs as now located are a violation of a local ordinance and must be removed.

"All signs that are not attached to buildings, or on property owned by the proprietor, or leased, are a violation of the encroachment laws," it was explained at the office of the city manager. "Signs on buildings that come within the city ordinances governing such matters are not encroachments. These include signs supported by buildings."

Mr. Miller explained that a check had been made of the business section and it was found that there had been a large number of violations of these ordinances noted. Many firms place signs in front of the place of business, it was found.

Two Extremes Facing Solons During Month

Demands For Definite Relief From Taxation On One Hand And For Liberal Spending To Aid Unemployment Seen

Ingenuity of American Commonwealths Challenged By Problems To Be Presented To January Legislatures

BY DALE HARRISON
(Copyright, 1931, By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 1. — Two economic extremes — demands on the one hand for definite tax relief and on the other for liberal state spending to solve unemployment—challenge the legislative ingenuity of American commonwealth this month.

Taxation is the everlasting chore of lawmakers. This year it is made intricate by the problem of millions of men without work.

Economy Trend Seen

In 20 of the 44 states whose legislatures will be in session this year—most of them convening this month—there is a definite trend for swift and certain measures of economy. In the remaining states, economy lacks primary emphasis only because it is over shadowed by more immediate matters of state concern.

The picture is sharply sketched in statements to the Associated Press by its correspondents at state capitals:

"Thorough collection and efficient spending of the people's money will be the goal of legislative sessions in the south. Taxation looms large again this year as the major problem of the far west. Southwestern legislatures face the serious problems of tax revision. The old perennial, taxation, will, bloom again everywhere in the middlewest." So, too, elsewhere.

The 20 states in which money promises to be the transcendent concern of lawmakers during the ensuing weeks are:

Maryland, New Mexico, Idaho,

Eleven Of Enemy Killed And At Least Four Wounded In Skirmish; Marines Put Up Valiant Fight

(By The Associated Press)

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 1.—Insurgents attacking from ambush killed eight United States marines and wounded two in a skirmish between Ocotal and Apali yesterday morning. The wounded were brought here by airplane today.

Reports to the marine barracks said the attack was led by Miguel Ortez, a lieutenant of Augusting Sandino, the insurgent leader. Eleven of the enemy were killed and at least four wounded.

In Valiant Fight

The marine patrol, under Sergeant Arthur M. Palrang, was at work on a telephone line recently put out of service when the attack came. They put up a valiant fight, taking advantage of such cover as offered itself, for two hours until the whole detechment was either killed or wounded.

The marine headquarters gave out the following list of casualties:

The dead:

Sergeant Palrang, Port Lyons, Colorado.

Private Irving P. Aron, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Private Lambert Bush, Bay Minette, Alabama.

Private Edward Elliott, 726 Fifteenth street, Des Moines, Iowa.

Private Joseph Albert Harbaugh, Wachington, Pa.

Private Frank Kosieradski, Buffalo, N. Y.

Private Richard J. Litz, 1937 Park Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind.

Private Joseph Arthur McCarthy, 523 Samuel street, Chillicothe, Missouri.

The Wounded:

Frank Austin Jackson, Lawrenceville, Georgia.

Mack Hutcherson, Shreveport, Louisiana.

This was the first serious clash since last November when insurgents attacked a Nicaraguan national guard outpost at Matiguas, killing five of the garrison and putting five others to flight after they had made a brave defense.

Congressman Marvin Jones Of Amarillo Advises Work To Be Awarded; Plans Will Be Completed By February 1

Contract for the construction of the proposed $400,000 federal building for Lubbock, to be located on the courthouse square, the site being a gift of the county, is expected to be let before March 15, the Morning Avalanche was advised yesterday by Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo. Plans will be completed by February 1, he said.

The advice was received following receipt yesterday by E. L. Dohoney, registrar at Texas Technological college, of a letter from Senator Morris Sheppard, concerning the same subject. Senator Sheppard enclosed a letter from S. Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, in which the treasury official explained that plans were about complete for the building.

Jail Causes Delay

The main delay, according to Mr. Lowman has been the fact that the county jail has been considered as being too close to the proposed federal building's foundation lines.

Recently, according to reports to local federal officials, that objection was removed when it was found that the building and mail docks would miss the jail by building about eight feet.

"Fine" was the comment of Postmaster John L. Vaughan last night when informed by the Avalanche that the definite date for opening of bids had been advised by the department. "That's what we were told a year ago," he added. "I guess they have had so many let-

Dickens County Agricultural Credit Corporation Names Officers; To Start Functioning Today

(Special To The Avalanche)

SPUR, Jan. 1.—Headed by W. B. Lee, president of the Spur National bank, as president, and James B. Reed, as secretary and business manager, the Dickens County Agricultural Credit corporation, recently chartered by the state and operating under the approval of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, is to begin functioning tomorrow, President Lee announced tonight.

Capital stock of the local institution is $25,000, all of which was subscribed before application was made to the federal credit bank.

Officers were chosen today at a meeting of the directors. They are: W. B. Lee, president; Dr. T. H. Blackwell, vice-president; F. G. Collier, cashier of the Spur National bank, treasurer, and James B. Reed, secretary and manager.

Directors of the association, chosen by the stockholders, include: Byrne Haney, Clifford B. Jones, Dr. B. F. Hale, Dr. T. H. Blackwell, George S. Link, M. C. Golding, Charles McLaughlin, W. F. Godfrey and W. B. Lee.

Nearly 100 persons or firms have subscribed stock in the concern. The list included 61 from Spur, 29 from McAdoo and seven from Afton.

Purpose of the corporation is to obtain loans from the Federal Intermediate Credit bank and to reloan to farmers of Spur's trade territory. Under the federal act of congress which provides for such associations, it is possible for the Spur group to obtain from three to 10 times its capital stock in loans from the federal credit bank.

Collections Of State, City, County And School Taxes During December Given Out By Collectors Thursday

Approximately $118,000 was collected in state, city, county and school taxes during the month of December according to statements made yesterday afternoon by the several tax collectors.

County taxes paid in amounted to $32,000, while state taxes came to $25,000 according to W. H. Carpenter, chief deputy county collector.

R. A. Holland, city collector, reported the month's total was in excess of $34,000.

At the office of A. C. Jackson, collector for the school district, the total was slightly over $27,000.

Mr. Holland said that the collections for the city compared very favorably with previous years, in that up to the close of the December business the Santa Fe's tax payment had not been made, while last year the check came during December. He added that if the railroad had paid its taxes during the past month, the collections would have been more than last year.

"Our totals due this year are larger than a year ago," he explained. "So far on the 1930 taxes we have collected about $45,000 or about the same proportion to this year's totals as we have collected in previous years to totals of those years."

CONSTRUCTION STARTS

Work Is Begun Thursday Noon On Highway No. 7

Actual construction work was begun Thursday noon to the grading and drainage work on highway No. 7 at the Hockley county line.

Removal of the Texas Utility company's poles from the right of way also was begun.

Detour for all traffic northwest is from Shallowater north to the county line and thence west into Anton, in Hockley county.

Religious Training Has No Relation To Delinquency, Scientists Are Told

BY F. B. COLTON
Associated Press Science Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 1.—A psychologist's conclusion that religious training "has no significant relation" to delinquency was presented to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today.

Three zoologists reported a better understanding of the health of women through the isolation of three hormones, which are secretions of the ductless glands.

Boys apparently are just as likely to get into trouble when they have had religious training as when they have not had it, said George R. Mursell, chief psychologist of the Ohio state department of public welfare.

Under religious training he included the amount of attendance at church and Sunday school, knowledge of the Bible, general attitude toward religion, and knolwedge of the difference between right and wrong. The information was gained

REGISTRATION SLOW

Less Than Seven Per Cent Of Expected Licenses Issued

Less than seven per cent of the total number of expected registrations for 1930 had been filled up to the close of business December 31, it was stated at the county tax collector's office yesterday.

Registrations for 1931 were 735 cars, it was said. During 1930 there were slightly over 11,000 cars registered in the county.

All licenses must be purchased before January 31.

One Man Dies In Newspaper Fire Thursday

Four Injured As Blaze Eats Through Building Of Baltimore Post; Death Caused By Three Story Leap

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Jan. 1.—One man was killed and four slightly injured as fire tonight destroyed the 4 story brick plant of the Baltimore Post. Eighteen persons escaped down fire escapes and ladders as six alarms rushed all available apparatus to the scene.

The dead man was Joseph R. Douglas, a linotype operator who jumped from the third floor.

An explosion in the basement, as a late edition was being prepared for the press, was believed responsible for the fire. Flames spread quickly through the entire structure, many years old and ate their way through wooden stairways. Flames towered high into the sky as a heavy pall of smoke settled

Mussolini States Italy Against War

NEW YORK, Jan. 1. (AP)—Premier Mussolini, speaking today for the first time to a great audience of American radio listeners in an international radio hookup, declared Italy never would take the initiative of starting a war.

In a short, vigorous address that came through excellently, the noted fascist chieftain was emphatic in asserting that neither he nor his people desired another conflict of arms.

Pointing out that he himself had fought in the ranks and was seriously wounded, he asked how anyone with his experience as a man and a statesman could consider a future conflict without horror. So far as the training of fascist youth was concerned, he said it was simply to make them strong, self-reliant and disciplined.

As Holiday Period Draws To A Close, Scores Of Parties Are Given

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

AFTER spending $117,000, some one who has been conducting a survey for the United States has discovered that college students apparently are no better, no worse than the country's population at large. The fact that they are exclusive of the country's population at large is going to come as a surprise to some college students.

Why, I can even remember away back in 1925 when I was among the college students of America and considered myself one of the country's population at large. It must be just like finding that there is no Santa Claus to discover that college students are not a part of the population!

There is one thing I cannot understand and that is why we choose the people in some profession or another specific group, such as the younger generation, and speak of them and examine them and psychoanalyze them and "Oh" and "Ah" around about them as if they were of another species. America is made up of children and adults and in this group we discover college students just as we find the Smiths and the Browns. It is strange, but people have a habit of being alike; no better, no worse.

CONCERNING WEDDINGS

WELL, WE got through Christmas week without a single wedding. I think Santa Claus discriminated against us as other society pages were filled with columns about the bride entering on the arm of her father, while some friend, dressed in rose chiffon, sang something or other. They had flower girls and best men and bridesmaids and wedding suppers and everything that the society editor could desire. I'm still of the opinion that something should be done about our weddings here.

But the New Year is here. We can all resolve to have bigger and better weddings for a change.

SOME MORE ADVICE

HERE IS some more of my famous advice on rearing children. Long before a child can read his own name, he can be taught habits of neatness if you put a little animal sign where he is supposed to hang up his towels, his clothes and his cap and coat.

That advice isn't original. I got it from someone else, but it sounded plausible to me.

OUR RIGHTS

SINCE I AM an avowed feminist, I'm always reading all of those articles pertaining to women's rights. Not long ago I saw an article about the Equal Rights International, an organization of feminists formed to work for complete equality for women throughout the world. This society has headquarters in Geneva.

A part of that program appeals to me a lot. I do think that women throughout the world should have equal rights and that women in many countries should have more opportunity to participate in the government, that they should have equal educational advantages with men and that they should not be discriminated against in the professions. There are a lot of points in feminine freedom for which I am willing to work, and I do hate to think that I am being denied anything, but there are some rights which I think women can get along without. Or, in case they are granted the rights, I think they might just as well refrain from using them.

After all, I'd like to be distinct. Being of the "weaker sex" has its advantages some times.

Some young fellow was promoting the plan of "going dutch" on dates in my presence the other evening. If the plan continues, men will forget that they are supposed to be the heads of households and the providers and all such things. I may lose all of my feminine following for this, but I would hate to be the head of the house while there was some able-bodied man around.

I like to have a man about when I have flat tires, typewriter ribbons to change, lids to get off jars, knives to sharpen, windows to open and a lot of other such things. I would hate to have to be a strong-armed representative of the law. As a matter of fact, I suppose I dislike doing anything that I can get someone else to do, particularly a man.

With all of this dissertation on women's rights and lack of them, I am probably losing feminine votes, but, thought of self must be sacrificed, this column must go on!

Watch Parties And Dances Hold Social Interest Here

Out-Of-Town People Are In Attendance; Former Tech Student Is Honored With Bridge Party

As the holiday period comes to a close this week-end, parties continue to be given in the city. New Year's eve stimulated entertaining and various groups watched the year out that evening while participating in socialities. Dancing, bridge, forty-two and other pastimes were popular for the occasion.

Visitors in the city continue to receive courtesies from local hostesses and several matrons are giving series of small affairs to various groups of friends.

Visitor Mere Is Named As Honor Guest

Naming Miss Rossie Beth Bennett of Arlington, as guest of honor, Mrs. Ross McWhorter was hostess with a bridge party in her home at 1909 13th street Thursday afternoon.

Miss Bennett is visiting here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Hooper Stiles and Dr. Stiles. She is a former student of Texas Technological college.

Miss Kate Boyd made high score in the games of bridge. Other guests were the honoree and Mesdames Weldon Hankins, Winfield Watkins, Jr., Herbert Street, J. H. Stiles, Lorenz Ellis, Pierce Magee, Burnett Cox, John Edmisson, Misses Donna Vaughn, Boyd and Anne Snyder.

Games Of Bridge Played At Evening Party

Games of bridge were played at a party attended by members of the Coo Coo club Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Williams.

Those in attendance were Messrs. and Mesdames E. C. Henley, W. A. Sylvester, Carroll T. Johnson, W. H. Crunk, J. C. Eastham, E. L. Pitts, J. A. Phipps, Jr., O. A. Terry and Mr. M. H. Huckabee.

Mrs. Garrison Entertains Wednesday Evening

Mrs. J. E. Garrison entertained several friends at forty-two Wednesday evening in her home at 1402 Main street.

At mid-night a refreshment course was passed to Mesdames G. F. J. Stephens, K. Carter, E. P. Norwood, W. L. Baugh, T. W. Sawyer, C. E. Maedgen, L. S. Mast, L. C. Denton, Hattie O'Hair, C. S. Middleton, Norton Baker and J. N. Nislar.

1930-42 Club Is Entertained Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hill, 1903 16th street, were hosts in their home Wednesday night to members of the 1930-42 club. Beginning with this month the club is to be known as the 1931-42 club.

Games of bridge and stunts were the evening's diversions.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Joe Telford, H. L. Cantelou, Gordon Flenniken, Albert Fryar, O. W. Ribble, W. E. Bourland, Mrs. A. K. O'Kelley and J. C. Craig.

Maggie And Jiggs Has Watch Party

A watch party was attended by members of the Maggie and Jiggs club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frazier McCrummen, 2308 Avenue P, New Year's Eve.

Games of forty-two were in progression and Mrs. L. D. Casey won high score while low score was made by Mrs. D. Williford.

Others present were Messrs. and Mesdames C. C. Moore, E. G. White, J. G. Oslin, W. H. Trice, Messrs Williford and Casey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher were received as new members.

Misses Denham And Fann Are Party Hostesses

Unique decorations and table appointments suggestive of New Year's Eve were used Wednesday evening when Misses Blanche Fann and Loula Denham were hostesses with a watch party in the home of the former hostess at 1516 17th street.

Bridge was played early in the evening and the guests attended a midnight matinee at a local theater.

Those present were Misses Mozelle Gable, Evelyn Jones, Mary Stewart, Gladys Franklin, Mildred Boone, Elnora Leslie Alberta Rowley, Lesey Bullock, Mrs. Clyde Shuford and Mrs. Dewey McClellan.

Games Of Bridge Furnish Diversion

Another delightful social event of New Year's Eve was the party given by Mrs. Paul Carter and Mrs. James D. Shaw in the home of the former at 1910 Avenue Q.

Games of bridge were played and Mrs. J. B. Jaskson and P. A. Reed scored high, while low score was made by V. R. Plummer. The holiday motif was emphasized in appointments and small horns and whistles were given as plate favors with the refreshments course.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Horace B. Hawkins, Joe Bowman, V. R. Plummer, C. M. Taylor, Harry

Okeh Salaries Of Assistants

County Commissioners' Court Acts Under New Fee Law In Effect Yesterday; Pitts Is Chairman Of Court

Acting under the new fee law, which became effective yesterday, the county commissioners' court of Lubbock county, after being duly sworn approved the salaries of deputies for three officers of the county, E. L. Pitts, county judge and chairman of the court, announced last night.

A. J. Clark, tax collector; Amos Howard, county clerk, and Vaughn Wilson, county attorney, filed with the court a statement of the proposed deputies and their salaries under the new law.

First Time Used.

"This is the first time that all county officers have been operating under this law, which became effective New Year's day," Mr. Pitts said. "We can approve the salaries which the officer proposes to pay but the law does not give us authority to decide who shall or shall not be employed."

Clark submitted a schedule of two full time deputies, one to draw $175 a month and the other $125 and four part-time deputies, with salaries ranging from $60 to $125.

Howard submitted his schedule of four deputies with salaries ranging from $100 to $150.

The assistant or deputy county attorney will draw a salary of $150 a month. This is a new position.

Other officers had not filed their schedules with the board up to the close of the meeting.

The morning session was devoted to the swearing in of the county officers. After Robert H. Bean, retiring county judge, had sworn in his successor, Judge Pitts in turn administered the oath to his fellow employes.

Four new officials were included in the list.

RECLUSE FOUND DEAD

SAN MARCOS, Jan. 1. (AP) — Claude Johnson, 55, recluse who had lived here for nine years, was found dead from hanging yesterday at his home. He had been employed by the O. C. Smith Gin and Coal company here. Little was known of him except that he once said he was born in Sweden. Smith said he did not believe Johnson was the man's real name but he died without revealing his identity.

ROOM RANSACKED

MOSCOW, Tenn., Jan. 1. (AP) — When members of the family of Dr. J. M. Stevenson went to a room in the Stevenson home here this morning to rouse a man and woman who were given lodging last night they discovered the room ransacked and bonds and securities valued at $40,000 missing from a bureau drawer.

Borglum's Son

When Lincoln Borglum, above, 18-year-old son of Gutzon Borglum, famous sculptor, was graduated from a Wyoming preparatory school recently, he didn't follow the usual course of heading at once for college. Instead he went to Abilene, Texas, where he is now working for a public utilities company. He plans a European tour next summer—and after that he'll start thinking about going to college.

BEWARE THE COUGH M
COLDS THAT HA N

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe the inflamed membranes, allay irritation, while the creosote goes to the stomach, is absorbed by the blood, attacks the cough trouble and checks the germ forms.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and other forms of bronchial irritation. Excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.)

ANNUAL

JANUARY CLEARANC SALE

A Store-Wide Event That Offers You Unrestd Choice Of Lubbock's Finest Collection Of High Grade rchandise At Real Worthwhile Savings

Sale time is here again—the time when you again have unrestricted choice of our finest hi merchandise at severe reductions—the time when you effect the biggest saving of the entire yea

The offerings listed on the pages that follow are not the usual "Sale" merchandise that is so offered the public. Not a single item of shopworn or special purchase merchandise has been imp deceive you. Its simply our semi-annual offering of our fine complete stock of standard well brands at real bonafide reduction for quick complete clearance. Every item not restricted to defi sale prices by manufacturer is included whether it is listed in these quotations, or not. Every represents real savings for we refuse to attempt such a event with paltry immaterial discounts. out the entire stock prices have been lowered.

From 1-4 to 1-2 Off For Th
Short Eight Day Sale Period

Plan now to share in these savings. Fine high grade style merchandise as well as staple yar items are discounted side by side. Fresh new goods—table after table of it—awaits your selection at that have never before been equaled even in our former events.

Fuller stocks—a greater desire to effect complete clearance—a more balanced proportion—all contributed to make this the biggest January Clearance we have ever attempted. Be on hand for part of these opportunities.

Sale Begins Promptly At 8 A. M. Friday, Janu 2nd.
Closes Saturday, January 10th -- Make Your Selection During The Early Days Of This Period Before Selections Are Broken

A PAGE ENSATIONAL PRICES ON ALL PIECE GOODS LINES FROM OUR NINTH ANNUAL

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

Sales in this store are semi-annual events where we quickly clear our stocks with real reductions. This is our first sale since our Clean Sweep sale in July.

All sale prices are strictly cash and no exchanges, returns or refunds will be made. We are discounting prices to the limit and are forced to withhold these extra services.

Here are the lowest pr[ices] e have ever quoted on fine high grade standard merchandise for we realize conditions demand e radical reductions this year for the complete Clearance we must effect st records of value giving in these semi-annual sales are decidedly over-shadowed in the prices you find quoted on this, d other pages, of this announcement of our Ninth Annual January Clearance Sale. Here is the reason—Clearance time is hand again and we must quickly turn remaining stocks into cash for spring purchases. In past seasons this process re- ired nominal reductions throughout our stocks to make them attractive to you, but this season we are faced with gener- y adverse conditions—a lowered buying power throughout our trade territory—a time when people are carefully con- lering every expenditure. We believe unusual reductions t o be necessary this season as never before if this event is to be e big successful one we are determined that it shall be. We have risen to the situation. If it takes abnormal reductions have the nerve to make them. Here are the facts—Consider them carefully and follow your saving program by sup- ying your needs at these unusual reductions.

Imaginary Evils

SOME of the present hysteria over business depression and unemployment is indubitably due to baseless fears and imaginary evils. These concern not the present so much as the future.

Present conditions are inspiring lurid predictions of the "total breakdown" of the existing economic order, of the collapse of the industrial system and of a universal return to lower standards of living.

Are the "unprecedented phenomena" really so unheard of as the alarmists assert? Is this the first time that the world has "gone to the dogs"? Have the industrial nations gone forward or backward since their industrialization?

In the first place, the present "phenomena" is not unprecedented. This depression is, after all, less phenomenal than the wave of prosperity which preceded it and laid the ground work for it. As for going to the dogs, that is a habit of the world. But it has heretofore always staged remarkable comebacks after every spree, and there are no reasons to forecast that the present one will be an exception to the rule. And, lastly, while the industrial nations have had their setbacks, they have, over a long stretch of time, moved steadily forward, quickly regaining the lost ground after each attack of the fever to which they seem subject periodically.

So, while this is a time for the searching of hearts, it is also a time for being of stout heart and good understanding.

VICTIMS OF HOPE

One of the strangest quirks of human nature is the hope which "springs eternal in the human breast." It is the mysterious little thing which send the soldier into the thick of the fray confident that he will come out alive and unscathed. It is the ineffable something which permits man to live happily unmindful of inevitable death. It is the optimistic, omnipresent companion of man through the vicissitudes of life. Without it life would be unbearable to the multitudes.

But while hope is indispensable to humanity it not infrequently becomes the author of tragedies. After sowing a full field of happiness hope sometimes harvests a bumper crop of sorrow and misfortune. There is an adage that "man can not live on hope alone." Those who try it usually suffer only disillusionment or starvation. Hope is responsible for a great deal of human improvidence.

Some of those who overwork hope are the workman who, hopeful of continuous employment and high wages, preserves none of his earnings; the husband and father who, hopeful of dying at an independent old age, fails to give his family and himself the protection of life insurance, the property owner who, hopeful of never having a fire, places no fire insurance on his property; and the man who, hopeful of permanent good health, neglects to preserve his health.

HEROES OF TODAY

The education of a boy is not merely a matter of schooling and discipline. The boy himself does more than his teachers to lay the deeper foundations of his life in the hours he spends in his heroes, who teach him ideals and ambitions and write their message deep in his heart. These heroes, mythical and shadowy though they be, have power over him and gain his love and confidence, and the bent and fiber of his character will inevitably reflect their inspiration.

It used to be that knights of old or spectacular heroes of pioneer days were the boon companions of the youthful spirit. But the daily newspaper in every household has wrought its miracle even with the boy. His heroes today are on the front page of the paper; they are athletes, soldiers and sailors, aviators and explorers, and men everywhere who give their strength or hazard their lives in some deed of unselfishness and sacrifice.

Boy nature demands heroes, and the boy's heroes today are of his own generation and very much alive in the world with him. He may see them, hear their voices and follow their story from day to day. The picture of Lindbergh hangs on the wall of countless boys' bedrooms; they can read the book he has written and catch a glimpse of him as he rides his swift steed above the cities of America.

Practical Health Problems

LIVER DIET AIDS VICTIMS OF PERNICIOUS ANEMIA

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

As a result of the vote of a large committee of scientific men, the Popular Science Monthly recently awarded $5,000 each and a medal to Dr. George H. Whipple, dean of the School of Medicine of the University of Rochester, New York, and to Dr. George R. Minot, professor of medicine in Harvard University Medical School, for having made the greatest current achievement in science for the benefit of the public.

On several occasions in the past five years the discoveries of these two men have been referred to in these articles. The principle of the use of liver in the control of pernicious anemia was developed by Dr. Whipple and the application of this principle to the treatment of human beings was the work of Dr. Minot.

Previous to these discoveries, pernicious anemia was considered an invariably fatal disorder. Dr. Minot experimented on animals, principally dogs, whose diets closely resemble those of man, and found that the liver, the kidney and the heart tissues contained chemical substances which stimulated the formation of red blood cells.

Dr. Whipple first began his work 13 years ago when he was professor of research medicine in the University of California. It occurred to Dr. Minot to adapt Dr. Whipple's investigations to the treatment of patients with pernicious anemia. When Dr. Minot began to feed liver to patients with the disease in 1924 and continued through 1925, he began at first with a quarter of a pound a day and increased it later to a half pound per day. Finally, in 1926, he announced that the feeding of liver to patients with pernicious anemia would prolong their lives by keeping the red blood cells constantly up to the required number.

It is, of course, a mistake to speak of the use of liver as a cure for pernicious anemia. Apparently it does not overcome the basic cause in the human body which produces the disease. However, as long as the person affected continues to take liver, either in the form of whole liver or of liver extract, his blood seems to go on building up the red cells and he is enabled to live a useful life. The method of treatment has not been known for a sufficiently long time to indicate to what degree the treatment will affect the longevity of these people in general.

Nye Is Fierce Investigator

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Numerous comparisons have been drawn lately between ex-Senator James A. Reed of Missouri and Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, not many of them to Gerald P.'s advantage.

Reed was chairman of the senate's last campaign investigating committee before the present one. Nye is chairman of the latter.

Naturally political connoisseurs are inclined to contrast the Dakotan's inquisatorial methods with Jim's. There is no denying the near-perfection of the Missourian's. Nevertheless, Gerald knows what he is doing.

THE TRUTH is that the Reed senatorial campaign fund investigation was not an investigation at all. As one of the fightin'-est Democrats who ever breathed, Senator Jim's idea of an inquiry was a smashing attack upon the G. O. P. foe.

It was all that and then some.

Reed's specific objective was to lift the scalps of Senators-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania and Frank L. Smith of Illinois. History informs us that he lifted them. Even Republicans recognized it as a brilliant performance, but it was not an investigation; it was a foray, and when it was over it was ended. If referred to thenceforward, it was only retrospectively.

NYE'S PUNCH lacks the frightful velocity of the Kansas City terror's. But gosh! that boy has tenacity.

To begin with, he sought no scalp in particular.

The senate told Nye to investigate and he started in to do it.

He investigated and he investigated, and really he dug up a lot of information—enough to make several candidates, who resented so much curiosity, turn on him fiercely.

Few folk ever turned on Jim Reed and lived to report what happened, but Nye appeared rather nonplussed. Part of the time he himself seemed almost on the defensive. The result was, when congress met after election, that the senate gave small heed to the recommendations he had to offer. Among its first acts was the seating of James J. Davis as a Pennsylvania senator, despite the Dakotan's plea for a little delay, pending a deeper probe into the extraordinarily high cost of the Keystone State campaign.

Upon this, as with one voice, every politically experienced person said, "Here endeth the Nye investigation," because it was a pretty bad snub for Gerald to have the senate turn down his request so unceremoniously.

It also generally was agreed that Reed, with all the evidence Nye had in hand, would have presented too strong a case for the senate to pooh-pooh.

The critics were right, indisputably.

THE POLITICIANS erred, however, in assuming that Nye was finished merely because the senate had squelched him.

The Dakotan simply blinked and resumed investigating.

He resumed by reopening the Nebraska inquiry.

The politicians grinned. A fight, once fought, is finished, they reckoned. While Nebraska was still campaign-torn, the story (for instance) of the attempt to queer Senator George W. Norris' re-election chances by means of the "Grocer" Norris stunt was hot stuff, because then no one could tell how it might effect the November voting; but, in the nature of things, it lost its kick the minute the ballots were counted, proving Uncle George a victor. "Dirty politic!" folk might continue to say—but the trick had fizzled; so what of it?" Thus reasoned the politicians, believing Gerald had a hopeless job on his hands, trying to start fresh fireworks.

IT WAS, for a fact, a deserted battlefield to which Nye returned.

How funny! for the politicians to have forgotten that a lot of unexploded ammunition invariably is left lying around every old battlefield—mighty dangerous to have tinkered with.

The "Grocer" Norris shell was a mean shell, but it burst at a time when both sides were looking for shell bursts.

But this latest shell!—that had lain overlooked and half buried for so long, until Nye set it off with his infernal probing—why it blew up right on one of our holiest of holies, G. O. P. national headquarters.

CONSIDER.

Opinions differ, to be sure, as to the orthodoxy of Senator George W. Norris' Republicanism. Still, it was as a Republican that he was nominated and as a Republican that he was running in Nebraska last fall. Furthermore, Chairman Simeon D. Fess of the Republican national committee was on record in the committee's name as recognizing and supporting him. And here was that same committee's Executive Director Robert H. Lucas (next in rank to Chairman Fess himself and widely advertised as President Hoover's own choice for his directorship) revealed as having been paying, in connection with that self-same campaign, for literature urging Nebraska Republicans to vote for a Democrat rather than Norris.

And doing it under an assumed name.

That final item was the poison gas mixed with the explosive.

LONG BEFORE the fragments from this blast had come down, believe me, the politicians had quit grinning. Anyone who imagines such a cataclysm to be conducive to party harmony is grandly mistaken. And nothing avails to make Gerald stop his probing. At any instant he may hit on some entire unsuspected old ammunition dump and wipe out the whole political countryside.

Though it was in the G. O. P.'s ranks that Nye's activities wrought their initial havoc, the Democrats are quite aware that it was only by accident—that they are equally likely to be hurled galley west and crooked next. They are doing no smiling, either.

The Dakotan is impartial. An investigation is what he's conducting. Whom he sends to kingdom come is all one to him.

And he was laughed at for awhile in comparison with Jim Reed.

"We hope", as the Israelites said when the Egyptians were engulfed, "that this will tide you over for a while."

All progress has been made in spite of human nature.

Murder At Bridge

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JUANITA SELIM is murdered at bridge. BONNIE DUNDEE, detective, orders the replaying of the "death hand." PENNY CRAIN, KAREN MARSHALL and CAROLYN DRAKE play the hand, Nita having been "dummy."

JUDGE MARSHALL and JOHN DRAKE, entering separately, saw no one outside. DEXTER SPRAGUE coming from the bus, entered the dining room with JANET RAYMOND, who was on the front porch. Janet accuses LYDIA, the maid, of the crime because LOIS DUNLAP, in the dining room with TRACEY MILES, had to ring twice for her; but Lydia says she was asleep from the effects of an anesthetic, that she did not go into Nita's room, and that she saw no one. Sprague says he knew Nita in New York, and that she suggested he get the contract for a Hamilton movie, planned by the Chamber of Commerce.

Dundee, remembering that the Altamont Studios where Sprague worked were making crook pictures and that Sprague had a chance to steal a gun with a silencer, tells the group that such a gun was used. To his surprise, he learns that Marshall had such a gun, that the whole group, except Penny and Sprague, used it in target practice, and that Nita herself put it away the last time it was used.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII

At Judge Marshall's suddenly blurted-out recollenction: "It was Nita herself who put the gun away!" there was a collective gasp of relief. Eyes could meet eyes—now. But it was Flora Miles who voiced the thought or hope that seemed apparent on every face.

"That's why I didn't hear anyone talking when I was in the closet!" she cried, her voice almost hysterical in its vehemence. "There wasn't anybody but Nita in the room! She committed suicide! She stole poor Hugo's gun and the silencer and committed suicide!"

"At a distance of from 10 to 15 feet?" Dundee asked with ill-concealed sarcasm. "And when she was powedering her face? And just after entering the room, blithely singing a Broadway hit?"

"Maybe the lady is right, boy," Captain Strawn interposed mildly. "I've heard of people rigging up contrivances—"

"And of causing the gun and the silencer to disappear by magic?" Dundee demanded. "No, folks, I'm afraid the suicide theory is no good. . . . Now, Judge Marshall," and he turned again to the creator of the biggest sensation since the investigation into Nita Selim's death had got under way, "you say that Mrs. Selim herself put the gun away. Will you explain the circumstanc?"

The elderly man's face had gone yellowish again. "Certainly! Nita Selim and I were the last to leave the back garden. She was—was particularly poor at the sport—never made a bull's eye during the four or five Sunday mornings after Lois—Mrs. Dunlap—drew her into our set. She beggeed for a few more shots, and I stayed with her, after the others had gone into the house for—er—refreshment.

"She fired the last bullet in the chamber, and together we walked to the house, entering the little room at the rear where all sorts of sports equipment is kept—fishing rods and tackle, golf clubs, bows and arrows, skis, etc. She was carrying the gun, unscrewing the silencer as we walked. It is my habit to keep the pistol and the silencer in a drawer in a little corner cupboard."

"Locked up?" Dundee asked sharply.

"Usually locked, but not always, I am afraid," Judge Marshall answered reluctantly.

"And you saw Mrs. Selim place the gun and the silencer in the drawer?"

"I—thought I did, but I was really not watching closely. As a matter of fact, I stopped to look over a fishing rod, with a view to trying it out the first good fishing weather—"

"Was Mrs. Selim wearing a coat or cloak?" Dundee cut in impatiently.

"Why, I don't know—"

"Yes, she was, Hugo!" Karen cried out eagerly. "It was quite chilly last Sunday morning. Remember? We all had on coats or sweaters. Nita had a dark-green leather jacket with big pockets—"

"And she left in a great hurry without even waiting for a drink," Flora Miles contributed triumphantly. "I tell you, she took the gun away in her pockets."

"Your guess may be correct, Miss Miles," Dundee agreed, "but I think we had better not come to any definite conclusion until we know the Judge Marshall's automatic and silencer are really missing. . . . Is there anyone at your house now, Judge, whom you can ask to look for it?"

"Certainly. The butler. . . . Shall I telephone him?"

Accompanied by Captain Strawn the ex-judge went to the telephone

Value Is To Set Fare For Animals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1. (AP) — When the circus moves hereafter, wild animals will pay fares according to their value and not necessarily by weight.

The interstate commerce commission today authorized railroads hauling live ostriches, camels, zebras and other large semi-domesticated animals to fix rates on a basis of value.

No shipper is to be requireed to agree that the value of any wild animals is less than $150. When the value is declared in excess of that amount additional charge of five per cent will be made in the freight rate for each 50 per cent of the excess.

Wichita Woman Gained 15 Lbs. By Taking Argotane

Health Was Completely Shattered When She Began Taking Treatment—Well and Strong Now

"Just give me Argotane and you may have all the other medicines," said Mrs. L. W. Abbe, residing at 121 Dallas Street, Wichita Falls, Texas.

"Those who have not seen me since I began taking Argotane," continued Mrs. Abbe, "would hardly know me on first sight. I have undergone such a change. Why, do you know, I actually gained 15 pounds. It hardly sounds reasonable, but it's true. I suffered from nervous and dizzy spells for a good many years, and my sleep was so broken and I was so tired that I hardly felt like setting up in the morning. Everything I would eat tasted bad and my stomach was so upset I could not eat more than one meal a day, and that was a very light one. The pains in my stomach were almost unbearable, and I was in a dreadful plight. I lost weight until I got down to about 110 pounds—I was hardly more than a frame—and was sometimes confined to my bed for hours at a time."

"Finally I commenced to read about Argotane and got myself a bottle, and my improvement commenced with the first bottle. I gained in weight and strength until now, my troubles are not only gone, but I feel just as strong and well as I ever did. I eat just anything and enjoy it, and nothing hurts me a particle. My nerves are strong and steady and I sleep so well that I am glad for night to come, and getting up comes too early for me in the morning. Argotane has certainly brought health for me and I can't say too much in its praise."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Lubbock at the Bowen Drug Store. adv.

Four Counties Facing Issues

Road Bond Measures Totaling Nearly $2,000,000 To Come Before South Plains Towns During Month Of January

South Plains residents during January in four counties are to be given the opportunity to reject or approve road bond measures amounting to slightly under $2,000,000, a survey of the area shows. Another bond issue may be approved today in Lynn county

In addition to these, several other counties are discussing road work and bond issues.

One Issue Saturday

First election is scheduled for Saturday in Callahan county where a million dollar issue, the largest for the month, is to come up.

January 10 will see Mitchell county's commissioners court given instructions on the issuance of $100,000 in road warrants for repair of lateral roads.

Third Saturday in the month will see two counties, Scurry and Gaines, voting of issues amounting to three quarters of a million dollars. Scurry county would surface state highways No. 7 and 83, the latter the Dal Paso highway, if the bonds carry. Because of a technicality a previous election for the same amount, $600,000, was cancalled before the date decided on.

Gaines county would caliche its north and south road from the Terry county line through Seagraves and Seminole to the Andrews county line and also a 10 miles road west to Loop Seagraves.

Bonds Discussed

Designation of No. 24 through Hockley county and also the paving by Lubbock of No. 7 near Anton and the proposed paving of No. 137 from Lubbock southwest towards Brownfield, has caused some discussion of a bond issue in that county. Likewise, designation of No. 24 in Cochran county from the county line to the county seat, Morton, has been approved.

Lynn county commissioners today are to act upon petitions to vote $800,000 bonds for paving No. 9 from Lubbock county south to the Dawson county line. A previous proposal several years ago was defeated.

Dawson county residents also are discussing a bond issue and in the event of Lynn county acting favorably, the movement is expected to gain headway there. Dawson has previously rejected bond issues.

Bailey and Lamb counties also are talking bond issues. The former would pave a highway north and south from the Cochran to the Parmer county lines and probably No. 7. The proposed highway also would connect several inland communities with Muleshoe. Also it is expected the paving of No. 28 from Muleshoe east to Earth, Olton and Plainview, would be included in the program. No figures are mentioned so far for the amount of bonds.

Lamb county is starting a road program of its own north from Littlefield to Olton by way of Fieldton. With Hale county on the east paving No. 28 from Plainview to the county line and with Bailey county and Hockley county talking bond issues, the county is expected to consider seriously a road program in connection with the state.

Former Printer's Devil Becomes The Eleventh President Of Missouri U.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 1. (AP)—A former printer's devil who never went to college today became the eleventh president of the University of Missouri.

Dr. Walter Williams—the title is honorary—who founded the world's first school of journalism, formally became president of the university, succeeding Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, who was granted a leave of absence last June as an aftermath of a sex questionnaire episode which caused considerable unrest at the institution. Dr. Williams has been acting president since June, but Dr. Brooks' term did not expire until today.

The new president, generally regarded as the best known Missourian, founded the school of journalism of the university in 1908 and has been its head since.

Dr. Williams, one of the few university presidents who holds no academic degrees, was born near Boonville, Mo., July 2, 1864, and began his newspaper career there as a printer's devil. Subsequently he edited several publications. He has served as president of the National Editorial association, the Missouri Editorial association, the North American International Press congress and the Press Congress of the World.

Tennessee Half Leads Stars Of Southwest To First Win In History Of Dixie Clash

Jenningsmen Far Surpassed Charges Of Bob Zuppke In All Departments; Score Via Air Twice To Triumph

BY GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

DALLAS, Jan. 1.—Striking twice through the air in the first half and again in the ebbing minutes of play on a 40-yard run by Buddy Hackman, brilliant University of Tennessee halfback, the Southwest all-stars defeated an aggregation of stars from the Middle West, 18 to 0, in the third annual Dixie Classic here today.

An estimated crowd of 14,000 saw a great exhibition of football and helped swell a fund to go to the Scottish Rite hospital for crippled children here. To add to the pleasure to the occasion, it was the first time the home fans had seen their standard bearers victorious over the huskies from the north country.

DALLAS, Jan. 1. (AP)—Joe Utay, promoter of the Dixie Classic, went to the game today in borrowed clothes. While he and Mrs. Utay attended a New Year's watch party in evening dress, their home and all personal possessions were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin shortly after midnight. Loss was estimated at $10,000.

Zuppke Team Outclassed.

There was never a doubt of the superiority of the team coached by Morley Jennings of Baylor. It outclassed the crew of coach Bob Zuppke in every department of play, dealing the invaders equal misery through the air and on the ground. The closest the Midwest came to scoring was in the third period, when a recovered fumble and a short pass gave the invaders a first down on their opponents 17-yard line. An intercepted pass cost them an opportunity to score from there.

Led by Hackman, whose accurate passing and brilliant ball carrying easily were the feature of the contest, the Southwest piled up 12 first downs to five for the visitors. The Southwest attempted 10 passes and completed five for a total gain of 99 yards. Two of them supplied perfect set-ups for touchdowns. The Midwest tossed only five and completed two for 20 yards. Two were intercepted.

Running Attack Spiked Early.

The running attack that Zuppke had relied on to beat down the Southwest defenses, was spiked from the very first by the big, aggressive line of the winners. Only Jensvold, a human dynamo from Iowa university, was able to break through for gains, and he either plunged or passed all of his team's first downs. Jensvold and Vanyo, a big guard from Ypsilanti Normal, easily were the outstanding performers for the Midwest.

Wilson Outpunts All Comers.

The dashing figure of Hackman stood out slightly over his mates of the Southwest, but he had to share starring honors with a half dozen others who played almost equally as well. Dynamic little Jake Wilson, Baylor quarterback, put in a busy afternoon, consistently outpunting every man sent against him by the Midwest and turning in several pretty runs.

Hackman plunged across for the Southwest's first touchdown midway of the first period, after a pass from Wilson to Louis Long Southern Methodist end, had carried 48 yards to the one-foot line.

Bethea took the second one over on a pretty sweep around end after a toss from Andy Brown of Centenary to Peterson, racy Texas wing, had planted the oval on the three-yard stripe.

Hackman Leads Attack.

It remained for Hackman to supply the most spectacular play of the game on his 40-yard jaunt across the Midwest goal late in the fourth period. Dropping back some 10 yards on an intended pass, the Tennessee star failed to spot a receiver, so decided to do without one. Reversing his field he weaved through a swarm of tacklers and crossed the last line without having been touched.

FRANCE WINS RUGBY

Frenchmen Outclass Irish In International Match

PARIS, Jan. 1. (AP)—On a field that was turned into a quagmire by driving rain, France defeated Ireland 3 to 0 today in the first international rugby match of 1931 played before 45,000 shivering spectators.

Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, likely will engage in a number of overweight bouts before defending his new title.

City Leaguers Meet To Shape Loop Tonight

Nine Teams May Be Included In City Basketball League; All Players, Managers Meet At Hotel Lubbock

To further the sporting interests in Lubbock during the winter, a city basketball league will be organized this evening when prospective teams, their managers, and all prospective players meet at 7:30 on the mezzanine floor of the Hotel Lubbock.

It is thought that at least nine teams will become members of the new league this evening. Lubbock houses and organizations who are likely to be represented at the meeting tonight are: South Plains Pipe Line Company, Draughons Business College, Lubbock wholesalers, Levines, Armory of the National Guard, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Piggly Wiggly, M System, and Pedagogues. The latter club is made up of the men teachers of the high school and Texas Tech college.

All Cagers To Meet

All of the potential or prospective basketball talent, in Lubbock, not already affiliated with either the Texas Tech or Lubbock High school teams, are requested to meet at the Lubbock Hotel this evening at 7:30. Plans for the season will be made out, and a place designated for games and practice. It is thought that the Uptown Dance Palace will be leased for the season, equipped with basketball regalia, and outfitted with bleachers. The Lubbock High school team will also use the dance palace to practice in during the remainder of the season.

At the end of the city-league season, a team will be picked at large to represent Lubbock in a South Plains League, which shall get under way about the first of February. A tournament will be held at Lubbock about the last of February.

Westerner Cagers Open Card Tonight

The Lubbock High school basbeteers open their 1931 season this evening with a game on the Texas Tech gymnasium court, playing a team from Littlefield. The game will be called at 7:30. Coach W. A. Keeling of the Westerners has not announced a definite starting lineup, preferring to drill his men this morning and this afternoon before selecting a starting five. The game will be the first for the Westerners of the season, and officials hope for a large attendance at the initial effort.

In about two weeks Westerners will leave for a week's road trip, playing high school teams in Wichita Falls, Dallas, Fort Worth, and Abilene. Coach Keeling announces that his team will be open for games next week, and that he would like to get in touch with any coaches who desire games.

All-Star Teams Of Amarillo And Pampa Play To 7-7 Tie

Father Lumkin Leads Pampans To Score; Joel Hunt Plays For Amarillo Club, Passing To Alsabrook For Score

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Jan. 1.—A galaxy of glittering gridiron stars flashed in meteoric fashion up and down Butler Field Thursday afternoon and some 2,000 spectators were treated to a real game of football when the Pampa All-Stars and the Amarillo all-stars fought to a 7 to 7 tie in the name of charity.

The Pampans scored first late in the second period on a drive from their 24 yard line. Lead by Roy (Father) Lumpkin, former Georgia Tech All-America star, the Pampans made five first downs to the two-yard line from where Lumpkin ploughed over on the first play. Lumpkin then tore through left guard to add the extra point.

With the game about to end after a most bitter last half, Joel Hunt, former A. and M. flash and quarterback of the Amarillo team, passed 35 yards to Pinkey Alsabrook, also former Aggie star, who raced 30 more yards to score, being aided on the trip by the stellar blocking work of Williams of TCU, and Mills, A. and M. Mills place kicked extra point with Hunt holding.

Crimson Tide Uses Air For Rose Victory

Seventy Thousand See 'Bamans Crush Heavier Washington State Cougars In 16th Rose Tournament At Pasadena

BY BRIAN BELL

ROSE BOWL, PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 1. (AP) — Alabama brought a great football team out of the South to defeat Washington State college, 24 to 0, today in the 16th playing of the annual Tournament of Roses game. Seventy thousand spectators saw the game through in a slight drizzle of rain.

The Crimson Tide went into the game resolved to give Wallace Wade, their coach, who is going to leave Alabama for Duke university in North Carolina, a parting gift and they made it a convincing one with three sensational touchdowns in the second period against the husky Cougars.

Holds In Fourth.

Washington held its own in the final quarter and threatened to score while Alabama, after scoring a field goal in the third period, could not again get its attack to function.

The players from old Alabama, playing with fine precision in the loaded second period, made the contest practically safe beyond recall in this one hectic session.

Two startling passes and a running play wrecked the hopes of the big boys from the Northwest.

Coach Wade amazed the home folk and the small contingent from Alabama by sending out his second string to start the game, only Capt. "Foots" Clements answering the starting roll call.

In the first quarter, the Alabama regulars led by the gigantic all-American tackle Freddie Sington and three-fourths of a new backfield composed of Cain, Suther and Campbell rushed on the field. The new combination did not function at once as a forward pass was messed up, resulting in a 12-yard loss but in a few minutes the Dixie dynamo began to click.

Breaks Scoring Ice.

Soon after the second period opened 'Bama broke the scoring ice. Alabama, after an exchange of kicks, took the ball on its 40-yard line. An off-side penalty offset two gaining plays and then with the ball on the 36-yard line, Jimmy Moore came dashing in from end as if a reverse play was planned, took the ball from Campbell and dashing back tossed it far down the field to the fleet "Flash" Suther. Suther caught the ball on Washington's 36-yard line and had an unimpeded path to the goal line.

The cheers over the first touchdown had hardly died away in the big rose bordered stadium when there was something else to arouse yells from Alabama and groans from the Cougar sections. Alabama received the kickoff and soon kicked. State turned to the air for support and found it untrustworthy. Eberdt, alert center, intercepted a pass on the Cougar's 37-yard line and on the next play, Moore tossed a pass to Smith, a fast end, who was not stopped until he was on the one-yard line. Campbell sneaked across for the second touchdown on the next play.

The third and last touchdown came a bit later to make the second period one long to be remembered in Rose Tournament competition.

A pass failed and with six inches to go for a first down, Campbell slanted off right tackle, broke through and once in the clear showed a clean pair of heels to all opposition, running across the goal line with no serious threat.

The final scoring play came in the third period. Alabama worked the ball down to State's 22-yard line and on being stopped there, decided if it could not get a touchdown it would take a field goal. "Ears" Whitworth, a big guard, was pulled out of the line, and booted a perfect placement from the 20-yard line.

Washington came with a rush in the final period but a fumble prevented what seemed to be a certain touchdown. In 10 plays, the Cougars drove the ball 76 yards to Alabama's one-yard line. Here Captain Schwartz fumbled and the eagle-eyed Singleton recovered for Alabama.

Matadors Turn Tables To Win, 48-44

Hodges Leads Techsters To Thrilling Win

Tech Cagers Show Neat Form In Winning Second Of Series Over Strong Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers

Unleashing a fiery attack that took the lead from the first ring of the whistle and held it until the final shot, the Texas Tech Matadors thrilled a moderately sized crowd of fans at the Tech gymnasius last night to turn the tables on the Southwestern State Teachers Bulldogs of Weatherford, Okla., and won a 40-to-44 victory to climax the first series of the season.

While it was a team of smooth-functioning Bulldogs that held the spotlight and the victory on the previous evening, it was Tech's night yesterday. Holding on to an early lead, the flaming-clad charges of W. L. Golightly never let up until the closing moments of the game, and led at the half, 31 to 19.

Hodges High Point Man.

Led on by Capt. Clarence Hodges, who was high point man of the evening with eight field goals and a pair of free ones, the Tech quintet outclassed and outplayed the visitors from Soonerland nearly all the way. Until the game neared its close, with the Bullfighters leading by a comfortable margin, did the Teachers threaten to surpass the count. Then it was too late.

While they played below and behind the Matadors for 35 of the 40 minutes, the Bulldogs never cracked, as the Teachers did in the opening game, but held on to the end, shooting free goals in the closing moments that brought the count to Tech's neighborhood. Attempts to stall in the last minutes resulted in personal fouls being called on the Matadors, and the visitors made the free ones count, mixing in a trio of nice shots from the floor in the mean time.

Full Of Fire.

The Matadors still lacked the ability to make free shots count, but were good under fire. That the game was full of speed and excitement, though not unusually rough, was shown by the disqualification of five men due to personal fouls. Three of Tech's starting lineup, Captain Hodges, Cecil Kelsey and Tad Tadlock, had to withdraw when four personals were marked against them. Tadlock, playing the entire hour on Wednesday night, went out in the first half last night. Hodges and Kelsey followed him late in the game.

Kelsey, starting forward, was second high point scorer of the day, scoring five from the field and three from the marker. He led Barnes of the Bulldogs by one point. Barnes, playing a nice defensive game in the early period, came back in the closing minutes to register four field goals and lead his mates in the scoring. Captain Davis and Martin went off the field with personal marks against them.

Fisher Goes Route.

Leon Fisher, starting center for Tech, finished the game at that position, and looked especially good in the first period, scoring three field goals under cover. Puckett and Hill, substitute forwards, tossed one field and one free, while Duna, starting guard, failed to tally, playing a good defensive game for most of the set.

The visitors, more experienced and with a weight advantage, looked better on passes, tossing the ball about the court from one to the other with few faults, but were unable to make crip shots count. They hesitated to take chances with distance shots, and when the opportunity came for potshots they were not there with the goods. While their passing was not bad, the Matadors need quite a bit of polishing in this respect.

Equine Racing To Return To Florida

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 1. (AP)—Horse races returned to West Florida today for the first time in five years with the opening of a suburban track at Egypt Lake, owned by a fraternal organization.

Hugh McFarlane, of Tampa, president of the Tampa Racing Association said for the present only Florida horses would participate in a weekly card for purses ranging from $75 to $100. The real purpose of the meeting, McFarlane said, was to prove to state authorities racing could be carried on without law violation.

He said several men prominent in Florida were sponsoring the meet.

Vance Maree and Frank Speer, of Georgia Tech, will be lost from basketball this year because of participation in post season football games.

Night golf is to be introduced on the Hibiscus island course near Miami, Fla., this winter. It will be the first nocturnal golf course in Dixie.

"Some other time, Judge Marshall!" Dundee interrupted curtly, and hurried from the room, followed by Strawn, who nodded to Sergeant Turner, still lounging wearily in a far corner of the living room, to stand guard vigilantly.

"Well, Bonnie, here's the devil to pay," Strawn gloomed, but Dundee made for the telephone without answering.

He called a number, then curtly demanded: "Dr. Price, please! . . . Yes, I know he's busy on an autopsy. Just tell him that Dundee of the district attorney's office wants to speak to him."

There was a long pause, then: "Hello, Dr. Price! . . . Dundee. . . . What are the caliber and type of bullet that killed Nita Selim? . . . Thanks much, doctor . . . Anything new? . . . Fine! Thanks again!"

He hung up the receiver and faced Strawn. "Bullet from a Colt's .32," he said grimly. "I guess you send one of your men around to the Marshall home to pick up one of the bullets that was shot in their damned target practice. If you send the two bullets tonight, registered mail, to Wright, the ballistics expert in Chicago, he can probably wire you tomorrow morning as to whether the same gun was used to fire both."

"Sure, Bonnie," Strawn agreed lugubriously. "I was going to do just that . . . Say, this town is getting to be worse than Chicago!"

When he re-entered the living room Dundee began upon the judge again, regardless of the fact that the elderly husband was murmuring consolatory endearments to his young wife.

"Judge Marshall, how many keys are there to the cupboard drawer in which your gun and silencer were kept?"

"Just one. I have it with me," the old man answered wearily.

"Then when Hinton, your butler, looked for them, he found the drawer unlocked?"

"He did. I confess to an almost criminal negligence—"

"Then so far as you know, the gun and silencer could have been removed at any time by any guest of yours between noon last Sunday and—today?" Dundee went on relentlessly.

"I — suppose so. But these people have been my close friends for years," the judge answered. "Not one of them, sir—"

"After Mrs. Selim's departure last Sunday, did your other guests remain for any length of time?"

"For an hour or more, I think. Lois and Peter Dunlap remained for our 2 o'clock Sunday dinner, but the others drifted away to various engagements."

"Did any of you return to the room where the gun was kept?"

"I can speak only for myself and Pete—Mr. Dunlap," Judge Marshall answered, flushing with indignation. "The two of us went down just before dinner was served. I wanted to show him some new flies for trout fishing."

"Your home is a popular rendezvous for your intimates, is it not, Judge Marshall?"

"I pride myself that it is, sir!"

"And guests run in and out, having the freedom of the place?"

"Certainly, sir! . . . And since I am not so stupid as you may imagine, I can tell you now that I understand the drift of your questions and can forestall them: Yes, all of these people—my friends!—have had opportunity to take the gun and the silencer from the cupboard since it was placed there last Sunday, if it was placed there by Mrs. Selim. But may I remind you, sir, that opportunity alone is not sufficient, that motive—"

"Since Mrs. Selim is dead, murdered by the weapon which was stolen, we can assume, Judge Marshall, that someone had motive," Dundee reminded him implacably, for in his mind there was no doubt that the ballistic expert would bear him out.

There was a heavy, throbbing silence. The group that, with the exception of Dexter Sprague, had been so united, so cemented with long-sustained friendship, again dissolved visibly before Dundee's eyes into 11 individuals, each shrinking into himself, mentally drawing away from any possible contamination with a murderer . . .

"I must have said, Judge Marshall," Dundee went on at last, "that Miss Crain and Mr. Sprague were not at your home for target practice Sunday. Has either of them been in your home during this past week?"

"Penny—Miss Crain — spent an evening with my wife when I was—er—away from home on business. That was last Tuesday, I believe—"

"Yes, it was Tuesday, Hugo," Penny Crain interrupted firmly. "And Karen can vouch for the fact that I did not go into the gun room."

"Don't be silly, Penny!" Carolyn Drake scolded, as if she had long been bursting to speak. "Giving an alibi! As if any of us who were playing bridge while that woman was being shot needs any alibi! . . . But I'll tell you what I think, Mr. Detective! I think Nita herself stole the gun and the silencer, to kill Dexter Sprague with, and that he stole it from her and murdered her! Nobody else has the slightest scrap of a motive, and that note he wrote her ought to be enough to hang him on!"

Dexter Sprague had struggled to his feet during the woman's hysterical attack, his face like chalk, his eyes blazing. But Dundee waved him aside peremptorily.

"One more question, Judge Marshall," he said suavely, as if he had not heard a word that Carolyn Drake had said. "You knew Mrs. Selim before her arrival in H ton with Mrs. Dunlap, I b . . . Just when and where di meet her?"

BECOMES GOVERNOR

Arthur Seligman Now Chief Executive Of New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 1. (AP)—In a ceremony traditional to the inauguration of a governor in this southwestern state, Arthur Seligman, Santa Fe banker, became governor of New Mexico today.

The inaugural program was carried out with the usual display with which New Mexico honors its incoming governors. Units of the national guard escorted the new governor and the retiring governor to the house of representatives at the state house. Bands played martial airs throughout the ceremony and the house of representatives was decorated with New Mexico state flags, chrysanthemums and red carnations

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Jan. 1. (AP)—Hogs—6,000; truck hogs steady; no real hogs offered; truck top 8.00; better grades 170/270 lb hogs 8.10@8.50; good sows and pigs steady; packing sows mostly 6.50@7.00; good butcher pigs 7.00.

Cattle—3,000; general trade all classes cattle and calves unchanged; slaughter steers 4.50@7.00; latter price paid for short fed; few sows up to 5.00; low cutters 2.00@2.50; strong weights around 3.40@3.50; butcher cows in 3.00 range; better grades fat yearlings lacking; good heavy fat calves 7.00; weighty averages of plainer grades around 6.25 down; cull sorts 3.00; stocker trade poorly tested, some stock steers of value to move from 5.50@6.50.

Sheep—1,200; few sales steady; fall shorn lambs 7.50; yearlings 5.50; 2-year-old wethers 4.00; deck fleshy feeder lambs 6.00.

MIDDLE WESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 1. (AP)—Livestock trade around the eleven market circuit was featured by a moderately active trade on hogs at strong to 25 higher prices. The day's extreme top of 8.40 was paid at St. Louis for weight averages 210 lbs. and down. Aggregate receipts with two markets closed totalled around 23,000 as compared 73,700 the corresponding day a year ago. Last Thursday was a holiday and all markets closed.

Fat lambs found a fairly active outlet at strong to 25c higher rates but other classes of sheep were scarce and little changed. Chicago had a top of 8.40 on fat lambs while at Kansas City choice clipped lambs brought 8.10. The supply approximated 17,000 against 30,114 the same day last year.

Although cattle receipts were comparatively light, trade on killing classes was slow at steady to easier values with some points showing losses of as much as 25c on medium grade, short fed steers. Quality at most markets was rather plain with nothing strictly choice available. A few loads of well-conditioned steers and yearlings brought 11.00@11.50, the latter price being paid in Omaha for yearlings. Stocker and feeder classes were very scarce and generally steady. Total offerings of around 10,000 were 13,500 short of a year ago.

Alligators? This Girl At Sixteen, Is Raising Them On A Farm Just Like Chickens; Friendly With All

An alligator makes a pretty big armful, says Eleanor Link . . Here she is with a couple of her pets.

By NEA Service

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 1.—The world's most unusual occupation for a woman is held by Eleanor Link of Los Angeles, who is following in her father's footsteps as an "alligator farmer." The daughter of Carl Link, manager of a famous Los Angeles alligator farm, Eleanor's playtime since early babyhood has been spent in company with alligators. When she reached the age at which most little girls have the doll-craze, Eleanor merely graduated to bigger and bigger gators, until now at 16, she is on intimate terms with the largest of them.

Her long association with alligators has led to an understanding of their mentalities, and Miss Link is convinced that the reptiles can distinguish between strangers and friends. Moreover, her experiments have proved that they can be taught tricks of an elementary nature, and she is now attempting to train "Peter," a three-foot specimen, to pull a miniature boat.

Miss Link takes delight in exposing the "death-defying" stunt artists who appear to take dangerous chances when they enter a pool of alligators. She gives away their secret, which can be reduced to this:

Keep his mouth shut and stay clear of his tail. This is based on the peculiar arrangement of jaw muscles that gives the animal tremendous biting pressure, but very little reverse strength when it attempts to open its mouth.

Members of Eleanor's class in high school, however, are loath to follow her bravely into the water in an attempt to duplicate her simulated "capture" of a gigantic alligator.

Chief Wins Liar's Contest Hands Down

"There Wasn't Any Contest," Winner Says After Taking Prize In Annual Annanias Club Event On New Year's

BURLINGTON, Wis., Jan. 1. (AP)—"Hello, chief. Who won the liars' contest this morning?" It was an Associated Press reporter inquiring.

"Nobody," replied Chief of Police Frank Beller. "Those Annaniases didn't show up so there wasn't any contest—couldn't even be truthful when they said they would enter."

Picture Presented.

The contest referred to was the annual New Year's day competition of the Burlington Annanias club for the title of "Best Liar." Contestants must be at least 70 years old. A wooden medal with a picture of George Washington "who could not tell a lie" engraved on one side and that of Annanias, proverbial fibber, on the other, goes to the winner.

"Another good story blown up," commented the reporter, replacing the telephone receiver.

Br-rr-rr-ing! It was the A. P. telephone. O. C. Hulett, newly elected vice-president of the Annanias club, was on the wire.

"Say," he said, "we held the liars' contest at police headquarters this morning and a blackhorse won—Chief of Police Frank Abeller. We were all set to give it to 'Skinny' Jarosek, when someone asked the chief why he didn't compete.

"'Can't,' said the chief, 'Not old enough, and furthermore, I've never told a lie in my life.'

"The chief was 70 last year, and anyone who ever goes near headquarters knows he tells—well, anyway, he won the contest, hands down."

through tests given to about 600 boys in an Ohio reform school and 400 boys outside. Both groups ranged in age from 12 to 18.

Mr. Mursell found the boys in the reform school averaged about the same in their religious training as the boys outside. He said that to make the comparison as fair as possible he tested boys in both groups who came from families of about the same social and financial standing in equal proportion.

"It seems safe to conclude," Mr. Mursell said, "that there is no significant relation between religious training and delinquent or non-delinquent, it is not religious training, knowledge, attitudes or backgrounds, as measured by these tests."

ALLRED IN OFFICE

Chief Law Enforcement Officer Of Texas Is Sworn In

AUSTIN, Jan. 1. (AP)—James V. "Jimmie" Allred, 31, year old son of a rural mail carried, was inducted into office today as the chief law enforcement officer of Texas.

Justice C. M. Cureton of the Texas supreme court, administered the oath of office to the new attorney general and to his first assistant, Jude Bruce Bryant of Haskell.

The Allred family's pride was divided today between Austin and Pampa, where Raymond Allred, one of the five lawyer sons of Reene Allred, Sr., was taking the oath as district attorney. Raymond stepped into the district which gained wide attention with the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes at Borger and the subsequent martial law rule.

PRO MOVEMENT STARTS

B.Y.P.U. Will Seek To Enroll Youths In Campaign

DALLAS, Jan. 1. (AP)—A statewide movement to enroll young people in support of prohibition was launched by state officials of the Baptist Young People's Union here today.

A pledge was signed by those attending the meeting, and officials said they planned the signing of 125,000 B. Y. P. U. members in Texas, subsequently carrying the campaign into other states.

Hankow, China, has a population of 550,169, according to this year's census.

ORDINANCE PASSED

College Avenue Held Public Thoroughfare Thursday

An ordinance declaring College avenue from Broadway north to the city limits a "public thoroughfare" and as such, the placing of traffic signs at city streets intersecting is prohibited, was passed yesterday by the city commission at a special meeting.

Under the terms of the ordinance no stop signs are to be placed at intersecting streets by the city, because the highway is a state road. Under state regulations cities cannot place stop signs or other signs in the street used as a state highway. Intersecting streets to College can have stop signs as College avenue will be a main highway.

An ordinance providing for the acceptance and approval of the bond of D. L. Mac Donald, Amarillo, for construction of a water well for the city was approved.

NEW SOLAR YARDSTICK

Cameras Being Trained Over World To View Planet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1. (AP) — A new "yardstick" to measure the solar system is envisioned in the tiny planet Eros which will come with 16,000,000 miles of the earth this month.

Astronomical cameras in widely separated observatories are now being trained on this moving point of light in a world cooperative program sponsored by the International Astronomical union.

Eros approaches the earth at certain times nearer than any other measurable celestial body except the moon.

An eccentric orbit brings it close to the earth only at long intervals, the last comparatively near approach occurring in 1900-01, when the distance was about 30,000,000 miles. The nearest approach of Venus to the earth is 26,000,000 miles, with Mars coming no closer than about 35,500,000 miles.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

DALLAS, Jan. 1. (AP)—Lester Summers, 15, was wounded seriously today when accidentally shot with a rifle while playing with another youth.

The trustees of Annabaugh Hiberian Hall, at Annabaugh, Ireland, which was burned recently, have filed a claim with the Armagh County Council for $10,000 because the building was not sufficiently protected by policemen against the raiders who caused the blaze.

ENJOYS THINKING

"It Is A Real Pleasure For Einstein," Wife Says

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 1. (AP) — The greatest and most colorful mass of flowers his eyes ever feasted on today perhaps led the endless mind of Albert Einstein into new equations.

Only the profound professor can say, and he was content to serenely keep his thoughts to himself. After witnessing the Tournament of Roses parade he went back to his studios.

"He likes to see new things," said Frau Elsa, his wife, who was thrilled at the blossom pageant. "I find he is thinking constantly. His work is thought. Since it comes to him so easily, it is not work, it is for him a real pleasure."

NAMED SPECIAL DEPUTY

A. Maitland Jones Officer Of Knights Of Pythias

A Maitland Jones of Lubbock, a special deputy of the supreme regent of the Knights of Pythias, has beeen named a deputy supreme mayor of West Texas by the supreme regent, according to word received here.

Mr. Jones' territory includes all of West Texas north of the Texas and Pacific railroad and west of the Fort Worth and Denver.

Lubbock Knights and former lodge members are organizing a chapter here the night of January 6. There will be about 100 members of the new chapter. At one time Lubbock had a local lodge but the charter was permitted to lapse.

PRINCESS PERFECT "SITTER"

Princess Margaret Rose is a perfect "sitter," according to Richard Speaight, the Court photographer, who took the first pictures of the new princess and her mother, the Dutchess of York. The baby was two months old at the time. "I have never photographed a better baby. She was wonderfully good; and is very healthy and happy," said Speaight. "The drawing-room had to be turned into a studio, which meant the introduction of powerful lights. The little Princess's eyes must be very strong, for I have never taken so many pictures of a baby with the eyes always open. Not once did she whimper or close her eyes. She has a perfect disposition. I was struck too by the quick way she seemed to 'take notice' for so young a child."

Germany has 14,000 "baby" autos.

Wales Miners Go On Strike

Hundred And Fifty Thousand Men Idle After Negotiations Between Miners, Operators, Government End In Failure

(By The Associated Press)

CARDIFF, Wales, Jan. 1.—Few wheels turned today in the great collieries of South Wales, where last night negotiations between miners, operators and government officials ended in a sort of combined strike and lackout.

One hundred and fifty thousand men are employed in the fields and most of them were idle today, although here and there small bodies of men went into the pits by special local agreements. As some workers already were idle because of industrial disputes, the number out of jobs in the area now ranges close to 230,000.

The trouble resulted from a dispute over hours and wages. The miners hold out for a seven and one-half hour day in contrast to eight previously worked, and this the employers are willing to grant if the men will take a one-sixteenth reduction in pay.

At this the miners federation balked and ordered the 150,000 men not to report for work today. The owners countered with an edict that the mines should be locked to all who refused to accept their wage-reduction offer.

Extension Tendency

The extension of state taxing powers is a noticeable tendency. The individual citizen, taking a view that ordinary taxes—particularly property taxes, have gone high enough, has charged his representatives at the state capital to do two things: (1) Reduce state expenditures to a point where it will be reflected in the tax bills, and (2) seeks means for additional tax monies by extending taxation to reach individuals and corporations who may not now be seriously affected.

Taxation of so-called "intangibles" is advocated in several states. Idaho is one of these. At present virtually all revenue there—state, county, municipal and school—is obtained from taxes on real property. The gas tax and motorcar license fee are the only exceptions.

Farmers Insistent

Idaho farmers and other real estate holders are particularly insistent this year that the legislature find some method of lowering taxes. The method proposed is an income tax that will reach stocks and bonds and other "intangibles." An attempt by the last Idaho legislature to tax stocks of banks and similar institutions was followed by a series of costly law suits which resulted in the act's being declared unconstitutional.

Florida's legislature meets later than most, in April, and the further taxing of "intangibles" has been emphasized. There is an active sentiment in Florida to "make taxes more equitable," land owners particularly seeking relief. The plea for relief also has arisen from municipal taxpayers.

Most of Montana's legislators go to Helena pledged to economy and opposition to new taxation, yet there are determined groups which will seek large sums for various state needs.

Colorado is one of the state which hopes through a tax on "intangibles" to relieve real property owners. Oregon, faring poorly with its original "intangibles" tax which was declared unconstitutional, probably will rewrite it.

To Seek Revision

Some Illinois statute makers expect to institute steps to revise the constitution's present tax limitations, opening the way to greater revenue. Minnesota sees additional revenue by increasing the gas tax from three to four cents and by enacting cigaret and sales taxes. Iowa would increase its cigaret and inheritance taxes and would impose taxes on butter substitutes and billboards.

Relief for Nebraska farmers has been proposed through the expedient of abolishing the tax on farm property and raising the gas tax. Ohio will enact a complete new tax code, with a 15 mill limit on real estate. Indiana will debate the advisability of an income and sales tax.

Massachusetts is an outstanding example of a state in which, prosession reports indicate, unemployment relief will be given top position in the order of business. Past Republican administrations there have followed a pay-as-you-go policy. The new governor, Joseph B. Ely, a Democrat, has intimated he will abandon this policy to meet the emergency of unemployment; and Republicans have said they will oppose such a step.

Michigan's new governor, Wilbur M. Brucker, is opposed to any new taxes at this time and would meet the shortage in the general fund by cutting expenses.

Legislatures of southwestern states, all croping for equitable tax revision, are expected to consider various methods. Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas have income taxe proposals. Some Texas lawmakers have proposed to go even further towards relieving farmers and small home owners by imposing a tax on natural resources. They would tax exported natural gas and other products not now affected.

Missouri would add to her annual income by taxing malt products, estimating a return of $3,000,000 a year.

Tennessee's legislators hope to accomplish a reorganization of the state's tax system. It would include a general income tax and a franchise tax on gross earnings of railroad and public utilities.

Story Corroborated.

The attorney said the boy corborated the story of the kidnap told by Thomas Leroy Yowell, year-old family chauffeur. said his theory was that the naping had not been plotted was decided upon suddenly Yowell had been held up and bed.

Yowell said the boy was from him by a negro who him at the point of a revolv stop a sedan in which he was ing the grounds of the boy's ents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. wein, in exclusive Huntleigh lage, St. Louis county. He was ing the boy to Grant's Farm have a New Year's eve dinner his grandfather.

In the presence of his father, torney Troll and his five year brother, Jimmy, Adolphus to was allowed to talk with report The boy calmly answered all tions except those ruled out Troll.

The boy said the kidnaper s him whether he was "Percy wein's son," and he replied in affirmative.

Inject Ransom Theory

The remark was interpreted reporters as indicating the kidn ing was for ransom but when t tried to question him further a that line Troll said:

"Now that is enough about t Just continue your story."

After describing the abduction, porters asked Adolphus to tell ab the house where he was taken by t kidnaper, but Troll interrupted a refused to let him continue.

"The man wasn't rough to me, and I wasn't frightened," t boy continued. "I asked him wh kind of a revolver he had, and said 'a 38'."

The boy said re was given scra bled eggs for breakfast this mor ing, but "they were very dirty a I didn't eat much." Most of t time in the house, Adolphus sa he was kept under a blanket. T abductor wore a hood that cover his head and shoulders, the bo said. After relating how he h heard dogs barking during the nigh the boy started to tell how his ca tor took him to the road where h was released, but Troll spoke u and prevented him from tellin about that.

As Adolphus finished his story his father turned to Jimmy a asked: "Jimmy, what would you if they tried to kidnap your brothe again."

"I'd curse them," Jimmy said.

Troll said Dectective Lieutenan Ira Cooper, negro, who was give credit for the rescue of a kidnape bookmaker last summer, and the ar rest of his abductors also "assiste materially," in obtaining the relea of the Orthwein boy.

ters recently asking about t plans that they decided to ge busy."

"I have taken the matter u with the architect's office and he tells me that the drawings will b finished by February 1st, at which time the specifications will be prepared and the advertising arranged for and that they expect to be in a position to let the contract not later than March 15," Mr. Jones said in his statement.

"I was informed that it was hoped they would be able to make it earlier than this date but they think undoubtedly they will be able to do so not later than the date last mentioned."

Recently the chamber of commerce took the matter up with both senators and Congressman Jones and it was given assurance that an attempt would be made to obtain prompt action.

The appropriation has been made for months. Efforts up to the present time to get definite action were unavailing.

The new drive by the chamber of commerce was in an effort to get some relief for the present unemployment situation. It is believed that the work will use local labor to a large extent, especially in the earlier construction stages.

BLAST CAUSE UNKNOWN

Inquest Held Over Mangled Forms Of Three Victims

ELECTRA, an. 1. (AP)—The exact cause of the explosion at the U. S. Torpedo plant, near here, that blew the bodies of three men into parts, remained a mystery today, after Justice of the Peace W. H. Coffman had held a coroner's inquest over the mangled forms of Bill Kenworthy, Jimmy Snyder and J. B. Russell.

Justice Coffman held that the deaths were accidental, but after hearing testimony of officials of the plant he could not fix the cause. He found the blast was caused by heavy explosives the men were handling in the manufacture of dynamite.

ROAD BONDS VOTED

BIG LAKE, Jan. 1. (AP)—Reagan county taxpayers went to the polls yesterday and voted $275,000 in road bonds. The vote was 484 to 89. The sale of the bonds will provide for paving 34 miles of state highway 99, federal 67, across the county which has no hard surfaced roads.

HOMICIDES DECLINE

FORT WORTH, Jan. 1. (AP) — Tarrant county in 1930 had 33 homicides, a decline of 12 killings under the total for 1929. Fifty-four lives was the toll exacted by automobile and traffic accidents in Fort Worth and Tarrant county in 1930, five more than during the previous year.

Negro Declines Furlough Offer

AUSTIN, Jan. 1 (AP) — There is one negro that likes the state's hotel at Huntsville so well that he declined to leave when granted a furlough. The negro was told he could leave the prison for 90 days as a reward for helping quell a recent riot at one of the prison farms.

When told by Lee Simmons prison manager, he was free to go, he politely but firmly declined to leave, saying the "penitentiary is a good enough place for me." He said he had no place to go.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

VERNON, Jan. 1. (AP) — R. H. Cook of Colorado, Texas, was charged with murder here today in connection with the death of Dave Henley, 43, of Wichita Falls, in a hospital there after a scuffle which took place Sunday at a road camp near where both men were employed. Cook's bond was fixed at $2,500.

Quake, Tidal Wave Reported

Belated Word Of Tragedy On December 24 Received Wednesday; Islands Swept By Wave Eight Feet High

SYDNEY, N. S. W. Jan. 1 (AP) — Belated word reached here yesterday of a tremendous earthquake and tidal wave in parts of Australia and Oceanica on the morning of December 24.

A wireless message from the steamer Duris to the New Guniea radio station today said that after the earthquake a wall of water eight feet high swept the western mandated islands.

Its force was so great at Awinn that houses and cattle were washed out to sea. The European manager of the island and a number of natives escaped by climbing the palm trees.

In May-August 1883 eruptions of the volcano Krakatao' between Sumatra and Java, produced a seismic wave which propogated itself as far as the English channel and is estimated to have taken about 20,000 lives.

On March 13, 1888, Hatzfeldt harbour and King William cape on the northeast coast of New Guinea experienced a wave 30 feet in height after a period of earth tremors in Oceanica.

Dispatches from Coquimbo, Chile, 5,000 miles east of the earthquakes and seismic wave reported from Sydney said that high waves washed the coast for 300 miles north of there last Monday. The water was green in color and had a vile odor, attributed to suspended animal matter, believed to be from fishes killed by a tremendous underwater disturbance.

Dentist Freed Of Mercy Death Hint

CHICAGO, Jan. 1 (AP) Dr. Carl A. Hinckley, a dentist, yesterday was freed of hints of a mercy death in connection with the demise of his 21-year-old undeveloped son, Merle.

The dentist, who held the dead boy in his arms and turned on the gas in the kitchen stove in a suicide attempt, was given an expression of confidence by a coroner's jury of three women and three men who declared the youth had died of dilation of the heart.

Dr. Clarence Muehlberger, toxologist for the state, testified that no traces of carbon monoxide were found in the boy's blood.

Dr. Minckley explained that he had always been deeply devoted to his son, who had never grown mentally or physically, and was paralyzed.

The boy was no larger than a 3-year old child.

BAYLOR FREE OF DEBT

University To Get $300,000 Endowment From Board

WACO, Jan. 1 (AP)—That Baylor university was out of debt, and as a result would receive an endowment gift of $300,000 from the general education board of New York, was announced last night after Dr. S. P. Brooks, president, had issued a statement that "certain friends of the university, relying upon the honor of many subscribers to make payments, had guaranteed the university the residue."

There has been provided for the university in a two-years campaign a total of $350,000 to retire its debts. The $300,000 endowment was made conditional upon retirement of the debts by midnight, December 31. Dr. Brooks' statement indicated the endowment would be received.
