Navy Tests Get Data On Cosmic Rays

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Navy sent a balloon and scientific equipment up 130,000 feet for cosmic ray data Sunday and plans to put two veteran space explorers, 10,000 insects and a television camera 16 miles over the earth later this week.

An altitude record for film - recording plastic balloons was set by the one launched here with a 225-pound cargo of cosmic ray research equipment.

The instruments, however, were jettisoned to earth and have not been found. Near Forsyth, Mont., the load was automatically released and dropped by parachute. A spotting plane traced the orange and white chute down to 10,000 feet, then lost it in a haze.

Representatives of the Office of Naval Research and General Mills Inc., builder of the plastic bag, searched ranch land for the valuable, specially prepared film plates.

Prof. Marcel Schein of the University of Chicago, a cosponsor of the ONR flight, said the film record from 130,000 feet could constitute a milestone in cosmic ray study—if the equipment is recovered.

Weather permitting, the manned flight will be launched Wednesday from a deep, open pit iron mine near Crosby, Minn. The plan is for Navy Cmdr. Malcolm D. Ross and M. Lee Lewis, a former Navy balloonist, to spend about 24 hours in a sealed, aluminum gondola lofted to an altitude of 80,000 to 84,000 feet, just short of the record they set last fall for two men.

The huge, gas-filled bag also will carry a small television camera. TV signals will be transmitted back to earth and relayed over a nationwide television network.

The flight will be the seventh in a series of Navy strato-lab voyages into the upper atmosphere of the earth. Primary purpose will be to test the gondola and equipment for a planned "Project Mars" flight in November. Cmdr. Ross and Dr. John Strong, a Johns Hopkins University astronomer, hope to make spectographic photographs of the atmosphere around Mars.

The gondola also will bear containers of insects, some inside and some taped to the outside. The Department of Agriculture asked the Navy to take the insects along.

The department wants to learn about effects of cosmic rays.

INSECT CONTROL COURSE BEGINS—A three-day free course in cotton insect control began today here under sponsorship of agriculture departments of Snyder, Hermleigh, Fluvanna, and Ira schools. Here, H. A. Turney of the Texas Education Agency, left, who is conducting the course, shows types of insects to W. A. Davis, center, who farms three miles south of Hermleigh, and Sam Cross, who farms 14 miles northeast of Snyder. About 30 farmers were in the course this morning. Farmers can still go to the course tomorrow. It opens at 8:30 a.m. at the high school cafeteria and will include field trips. (Lee Watson photograph)

U. S. Opposes Early Session Outside U. N.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that the United States, Britain and France have started drafting a reply to the Khrushchev proposal for an emergency summit conference on the Middle East.

The United States, it was learned, has proposed to Britain and France a draft which would definitely turn down the Soviet Premier's call for an immediate meeting outside the United Nations, and would keep Middle East diplomacy concentrated in the U.N. Security Council.

The U.S. version would counter the sensational Soviet move of last Saturday with a proposal that Khrushchev take to the Security Council his charge that the United States and Britain endangered peace by putting troops into Lebanon and Jordan.

Britain and France were reported in agreement with the United States on this general line of approach. There appeared to be some difference, at least of emphasis, between Washington and the two European capitals on how hard to plug the idea of an early summit conference. The British government is under heavy pressure from its Labor party opposition to get into a summit meeting.

Here are the day's top developments:

1. LONDON — Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons that the United States and its allies are urgently considering the best means by which to arrange for a meeting which heads of government could attend.

2. PARIS — Premier de Gaulle issued a statement saying he welcomed the Soviet offers of a summit conference but felt Khrushchev's undiplomatic tone in making the offer was an obstacle.

3. WASHINGTON—White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said consultations among the allies have started and a U.S. draft reply is in the hands of the other major powers. Until these consultations end, Hagerty said, he would have nothing to say about a summit meeting. He said he did not expect the U.S. answer could be sent to Moscow today.

Premier Khrushchev asked for a five-power meeting, including India, in Geneva, Switzerland, on Tuesday.

Administrative leaders took the view that it was essentially a propaganda maneuver—such an early meeting being out of the question—but they ruefully admitted that it was a maneuver of force and imagination. Washington has not been able to produce such during this crisis. So far, the West has been losing the public opinion battle in much of the world.

Khrushchev appeared to be vulnerable to counterattack on only one point. He proposed to by-pass the United Nations.

Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd agreed they would use the U.N. approach for a counterproposal and suggest the possibility of a high-level meeting of the Security Council. There seems to be no doubt that in the Eisenhower administration's view the level would be high enough if the meeting — assuming the Soviets followed up the Western suggestion —was a meeting of foreign ministers.

The United States might even be compelled to go along with a firm proposal for a summit meeting of the Security Council in the future but officials said this was not the wording or purpose of the draft reply put into the consultation with Britain and France.

The U.S. draft, Hagerty said, was sent to the other nations Sunday night through their ambassadors.

And he said that until the consultations end he will have nothing further to say about the possibility of a summit conference.

Hagerty said that after the consultations among the Western countries are completed President Eisenhower will make a direct reply to Khrushchev.

Atomic Capability Injected In Crisis

By EDWIN A. SHANKE

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The United States brought the menacing words "atomic capability" into the Middle Eastern crisis today.

A U.S. spokesman said all ground, air and sea combat units have atomic capability. He specifically avoided saying whether the 6,300 Marines here have atomic warheads in Lebanon.

U.S. Marines joined Lebanese army patrols which could bring them in contact with rebels.

These developments came as President Nasser of the Syrian-Egyptian United Arab Republic and Soviet Premier Khrushchev weighed results of their latest diplomatic moves.

Nasser, it was reported by Cairo news agencies, met with the rich ruling Sheik of Kuwait in Damascus Sunday. Kuwait, a British protectorate, is on the Persian Gulf close to Iraq, and supplies half of Britain's oil. It is the leading oil producer in the Middle East.

Khrushchev proposed over the weekend a five-power summit conference to talk over the Middle East crisis.

The United States also took steps to inform Lebanese of the reasons for the presence of American troops in Lebanon.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said a million leaflets in Arabic were dropped from one end of Lebanon to the other, and, assured the Lebanese the Americans would leave as soon as the United Nations has taken measures assuring the independence of Lebanon.

A Navy spokesman disclosed at a U.S. Embassy briefing that U.S. forces have come equipped with the necessary weapons to use atomic power.

"All combat units, including ground, air and sea have atomic capability," he said.

"Any further discussion is a matter of security," he added.

He did not say the Marines had brought atomic warheads, but the implication seemed clear. The Marines have landed four 8-inch howitzers which are capable of shooting an atomic shell about 11 miles.

The adding of Marines to Lebanese army patrols was described by U.S. briefing officers as an effort to improve liaison with Lebanese army forces in an effort to halt sniping at aircraft and Marine guards.

At least 16 military transports have been hit. No injuries have resulted. The flight path into Beirut airport takes planes over rebel territory.

Jordan has made a complete diplomatic break with Nasser's U.A.R. The Foreign Ministry in Amman announced the break at the same time King Hussein's government received a 12½-million-dollar shot in the arm from the United States to aid it over economic hurdles in the present crisis.

Nasser had returned to Cairo after a diplomatic expedition that took him to Yugoslavia, the Soviet Union and Syria.

Texas Politicians In Final Push For Votes

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
Associated Press Staff Writer

With just five campaigning days left, Texas political aspirants seeking offices ranging from public weigher to the governor's mansion and the U.S. Senate Monday swung into the last round of handshaking and speechmaking.

There was one exception. Ralph Yarborough, seeking re-election as U.S. senator, flew back to Washington Sunday night and asked his supporters to carry on his campaign.

"I feel that the deepening crisis in the Middle East makes it imperative that I return to Washington," Yarborough said. "I am requesting my friends and supporters to take over and carry on my campaign while I am away... I will return to Texas as soon as possible."

His lone opponent, William A. Blakley of Dallas, Monday headed for Bryan where he had scheduled a telecast at night. Tuesday Blakley planned to visit Cameron, Temple, Belton and Killeen with a statewide telecast from Waco.

His schedule called for a swing of Houston and Port Arthur Wednesday, a trip to Corpus Christi and the Rio Grande Valley Thursday and back to Fort Worth for a statewide telecast Friday night.

All four candidates in the Democratic gubernatorial primary planned busy weeks.

State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, speaking at a Sunday rally at McAllen, said he would ask the legislature to set up a state atomic energy commission next January "either as governor of Texas or state senator from Bexar County."

Gonzalez planned to visit Fort Worth Monday, then move on to Dallas Tuesday for a rally and television address. He planned a Wednesday rally and telecast from San Antonio, a trip to Beaumont, Houston, and Galveston Thursday, then back to San Antonio, Austin, Houston and Fort Worth.

Gov. Price Daniel planned a telecast in Dallas Monday night. Traveling Tuesday by plane he scheduled stops at Fort Worth, Shiner, Lufkin and Zavalla.

U. S. Budget In 'Red' By $2.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today the national budget was in the red by $2,813,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year last June 30.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson and Budget Director Maurice H. Stans made the announcement in a joint statement based on preliminary reports still subject to revision.

The deficit was recorded after two fiscal years in which the government's budget books were in the black.

As recently as last January, President Eisenhower estimated the budget for the 1958 fiscal year ended June 30 would be in the red by only 400 million dollars.

Receipts during the fiscal year totaled $69,100,000,000, down nearly two billion dollars from fiscal 1957. The drop was caused largely by the recession slump in earnings of businesses and individuals.

Budget spending during the 12 months total $71,900,000,000, an increase of 2½ billion dollars over the previous fiscal year.

Spending was boosted by post-sputnik emphasis on defense, recessions programs and later outlays under the farm price support program.

Absentee Total May Top 300 Mark Here

It appeared today that absentee voting would exceed the 300 mark as the deadline neared for absentees in the Saturday first Democratic primary.

Tomorrow is the last day absentees can vote personally at the county clerk's office or get their applications in to have ballots mailed out. Those mailed out must reach County Clerk Dan Cotton by p.m. Saturday.

By late this morning, 241 persons had voted absentee, and another 30 ballots were still out.

Only those who expect to be out of town Saturday or those who are ill can vote absentee. Those who are absentees because of illness must have a physician's affidavit. Application is made to the county clerk for absentee voting.

Survey Shows Student Ideas Have Changed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A survey of today's college students discloses they show less disapproval of immoral acts connected with sex than any of their predecessors of the past three decades.

The study just completed by two psychiatric researchers at Ohio State University here shows, for instance, that:

A man's desertion of an unwed mother, which students of the past 30 years ranked high among the "top 10 sins" of our time, has now been relegated to last place on that list.

Today's students, while still condemning premarital sex relations and adultery, do so less strongly than their predecessors.

However, divorce for incompatibility, where no children are involved, was acceptable to many students of 1929 and 1939, yet it is meeting with growing rejection today.

Similarly, disbelief in God was never strongly condemned by the surveyed students of previous decades. What disapproval there was reached a low in 1939, but is now rising.

"Perhaps the most important finding of this study," said its co-directors, Dr. Salomon Rettig and Dr. Benjamin Pasamanick, "is the great lack of stability of many moral values" and their apparent change with economic and political changes.

Escape Attempt Is Stopped By Officers

EL PASO (AP)—Officers stopped an escape attempt by six El Paso County jail prisoners yesterday.

A guard, Roy Chambers, was taken hostage for a short while and received an injured shoulder when struck by an improvised blackjack.

City police reinforced county officers and the prisoners were overwhelmed.

Adams Case Goes To Another Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new set of House investigators goes behind closed doors today to look into new allegations of White House pressure tactics reportedly involving Sherman Adams.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) of the House Armed Services Investigations subcommittee said the witnesses will testify in secret, at least at first. However, open hearings are expected to follow.

Among the first witnesses will be Roswell M. Austin, retired member of the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals, which last year cut to $8,500 a $49,784 wartime penalty against a New England textile firm for late delivery of fabric for Army uniforms.

Austin says he heard so much talk of White House interest in the case "it made me boil."

The White House denies that Adams, President Eisenhower's chief aide, pulled any strings in behalf of the firm—the now defunct Raylaine Worsteds, Inc., of Manchester, N. H. The White House said Adams, a former New Hampshire governor, merely relayed queries and replies as a matter of routine.

Leo Wolff, a former Raylaine president, also denied that Adams exerted any influence. However, Wolff acknowledged that he and an employe who knew Adams wrote the White House about the case.

Over the weekend, the Pentagon indicated the subcommittee will be told that the penalty reduction against Raylaine resulted from peacetime after-thoughts rather than intervention by Adams.

Documents released by the Defense Department said the appeals board found some of Raylaine's delay in delivering on the $653,500 contract resulted from slowness in the delivery of textile machine parts to the company because of wartime shortages and could not have been avoided.

The penalty was slapped on Raylaine Dec. 18, 1941, 11 days after Pearl Harbor.

The new hearing involving Adams has no connection with Bernard Goldfine, millionaire Boston textileman who was the target of a sensation-studded investigation concluded last week by another House subcommittee.

That group was denounced by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY). He said the investigation "is a pretty good example" of how not to run a congressional committee. He said the group was guilty of "outstanding blunders . . . public smearing . . . gross insubordination by the staff."

HEAVY CONVERSATION

Mansfield Meets Bishop Of Dallas

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Said actress Jayne Mansfield to the Bishop of Dallas: "I come from Dallas."

Said the bishop, Dr. Avery Mason, "Do you? How very nice. I didn't realize it."

"Yes," beamed Jayne, "I went to grammar school there, high school and SMU."

"Do you know that Texas is no longer the biggest state in the Union?" asked the bishop.

"No," replied Jayne with big eyes, "what's happened?"

"Alaska has become the 49th state and it's bigger than Texas," explained the bishop a little sadly.

"Well, well, well," sighed Jayne.

"Texas may be smaller," said the bishop, "but we're louder."

The meeting took place at a party given by the Anglo-Texan Society—a group of Englishmen who like Texas and Texans.

Two other Texas bishops were guests of the society. They were Dr. John Hine, bishop of Houston, and Dr. Everett Jones of San Antonio, bishop of West Texas.

"I shall be in Dallas next week," said Jayne as she introduced her husband, strong man Mickey Hargaity.

"Too, too bad," replied the bishop, "for I'll still be here attending the Lambeth Conference."

Jayne said she was not one of the bishop's parishoners but she often attends the Episcopal church.

"I'm a Methodist, really," she explained.

Jayne told Bishop and Mrs. Mason she was excited about the baby which she expects in December.

Pair Held In Child's Death

HOUSTON (AP)—A young couple were jailed early today, following the death of their 14-months-old baby boy from what doctors described as numerous cuts and bruises.

The wife and the husband each accused the other of whipping, striking and otherwise mistreating the child because he "was slow to walk."

"It's as flagrant a case as I have ever seen," said juvenile officer E. R. Dennis.

The child died despite an attempt by doctors to revive it through heart massage. The father had brought the child to the hospital.

"It had cuts and bruises from its head to its feet," said Dennis.

Houston Fire Damage High

HOUSTON (AP)—Fire punched by a chain-like series of explosions destroyed a small factory and drug packing plant last night which damage estimated at more than $100,000.

The concrete block and sheet metal building housed the Dixie Cone Manufacturing Co. and Earle Inc., the drug firm. Flying glass slightly injured one fireman.

Deputy Fire Chief O. E. Kellerling said the back of the building was a mass of flames when the first of 15 fire-fighting pieces which answered the call arrived.

Dixie Cone makes ice cream cones, paper cups and drinking straws.

Earle Patton, owner of both firms, said damage might reach $150,000 if none of the machinery can be salvaged. He said the explosions probably were caused by 300 cases of rubbing alcohol stored in the building.

Texas-Born Girl Is Miss Colorado Of '58

DENVER (AP)—Brunette Cynthia Callen, a 5-foot-9 Texas-born beauty, was named Miss Colorado last night.

She will represent the state in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City, N.J., where Colorado entries have won the title in two of the past three years.

Miss Callen, 20, is a native of San Antonio, Tex., and a junior at the University of Colorado.

Public Hearing Set Tuesday On School's Proposed Budget

A public hearing on the 1958-59 budget of the Snyder Independent Consolidated School District has been set for Tuesday night.

The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

The annual budget hearing is the time for any patrons who desire to know more about the proposed school budget to meet with the school board and ask questions.

Following the hearing, the board will adopt the budget.

The board has spent a number of weeks studying the budget, after school personnel made budget requests.

The board trimmed the requests considerably at points where the budget could be cut without seriously affecting the school program.

Shown on this page is a recapitulation of disbursements and receipts, both for the current school year and proposed for the 1958-59 school year.

The figures for the current school year are estimates of expenditures through Aug. 31, the end of the year, and have a grand total of $2,380,015, including debt service. The approved budget for the 1957-58 school year totaled $2,381,198.75. The proposed budget for 1958-59 has a grand total of $2,527,487.

As shown in the recapitulation, the proposed budget includes an increase in debt service of some $95,000, an increase in salaries, which includes a number of new teachers and normal experience increment for teachers, and slight increases in plant operation and maintenance, community services, summer school, and public adult education. New is a $11,500 cafeteria subsidy placed in the budget because of losses in the previous year.

There are decreases, however, of some $15,000 in administration, $1,000 in supplies, $7,000 in other school services, $1,500 in fixed charges, and almost $25,000 in capital outlay.

Proposed tax rate for the 1958-59 school year is $1.11 for operation and 46½ cents for interest and sinking fund, a total of $1.57½. The current year's rate is $1.01 for operation and 41 cents for interest and sinking, a total of $1.42. These rates are for each $100 valuation. The school district's total present tax valuation is $137 million.

The recapitulation shown on this page, of course, is not fully explanatory of the school budget, since under each of the headings listed there are many items of expense.

Those who attend the Tuesday night hearing, however, can be given a more complete explanation of the budget and question any items they do not understand.

Temperatures dropped considerably Sunday afternoon following showers which came as close as the Inadale area in the southeast part of Scurry County.

By morning, a cool front that had been hanging in the Panhandle had moved into the area, dropping the mercury to a low reading of 67 degrees, following a high of 103 Sunday.

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms pushed into the Texas Panhandle Monday, dropping up to 2½ inches of rain at some places and bringing winds of near hurricane force.

The storms came from a line which developed in Western Kansas and Southeastern Colorado, then moved into Texas.

Showers occurred during the morning in the Red River Valley.

A short while after midnight, Borger reported 2.45 inches of rain and winds up to 70 miles an hour. A few windows were broken by the storm and the deluge flooded low places temporarily.

Auto Driven By Wife Hits Professor

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — A college professor is in critical condition after being hit yesterday by a car driven by his wife. Stillwater Police Capt. Ray Bennett said an investigation is being made of the incident involving Dr. and Mrs. Loyd Douglas.

Bennett said Douglas was struck by the car driven by his wife Frances while the two apparently were arguing.

Douglas, about 50, an Oklahoma State University English professor, was unconscious and Mrs. Douglas was hospitalized with a broken arm and facial cuts and was reported in hysterical condition. Douglas suffered head injuries and a double compound fracture of one leg.

Bennett quoted witnesses as saying Mrs. Douglas was driving the car the wrong way down a one-way street, talking to her husband who was walking on a sidewalk. The car stopped, he started to cross the street and the car moved ahead and struck him.

UAW, Car Makers Resume Parleys

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union resumed contract talks today on an accelerated basis.

Full-day bargaining sessions were set at both General Motors and Ford with the companies and the union striving to make progress in their protracted negotiations.

Chrysler and the UAW do not meet until tomorrow. Full-day talks are indicated there also.

The UAW has been without contracts with the big three of the car industry for eight weeks. Previous contracts expired over the Memorial Day weekend.

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and oils were in the fore as the stock market advanced briskly early this afternoon.

Leading issues were up from fractions to a point or so. Some selected issues made wider gains.

Once again the market was pushing into new high ground for the year. Some chemicals, rails, aircrafts, rubbers and nonferrous metals joined in the rise but there was a scattering of losers.

Uncertainty as to whether the weekend might bring a heightened war scare was now water over the dam. Meanwhile it was reported that steel buying for 1959 cars is picking up.

The international oils recovered some of their losses of last week as prospects for their big resources in the Middle East no longer appeared in grave, immediate peril.

U.S. Steel, Lukens and Republic Steel rose more than a point each. Youngstown Sheet added about two. Union Carbide advanced well over three.

Gulf Oil was ahead a point or so. Similar gains were made by such international oils as Texas Co., Royal Dutch and Getty. Amerada rose about a point.

Chrysler stood out in the automotive group, holding a gain of about a point.

Goodrich advanced about two points and U.S. Rubber about a point.

U.S. government bonds continued to rally briskly.

Dunnam Attends Furniture Market

B. W. Dunnam, owner of Dunnam Mattress Factory here, was among about 7,000 buyers and other retailers attending the Southwest Furniture Market in Dallas.

The four-day market was held last week.

More than 300 manufactures of all types and styles of furniture exhibited their new lines.

Youth Hurt In Crash Of Stolen Plane

DENVER (AP)— A 14-year-old boy who police said stole a $17,000 light plane from busy Stapleton Airfield was seriously injured last night when the craft crashed two miles from the airport.

Stephen Oakford was taken to Denver General Hospital with a broken arm and internal injuries.

Patrolman Lee Harold said the boy walked boldly to the airport parking ramp where private planes are moored, selected a near-new four-passenger Cessna and took off.

Harold said Stephen kept the plane aloft for about 10 minutes.

He said the plane wavered over an outdoor theater where hundreds of persons were attending a movie. It barely missed the top of the movie screen.

The plane finally crashed into power lines. The boy was thrown clear.

There was no fire.

Officers said as far as they could determine, Stephen never before had been in an airplane. He is the son of a roofing firm vice president.

A six-pound, four-ounce son to Mr. and Mrs. John Echols, Route 1, at 4:42 p.m. Friday.

Mishap Fatal To Woman, 72

Mrs. Martha Spann Gordon, 20, Beacon Lodge, was in Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment of shock today following the death of a Roby woman struck by the pickup Mrs. Gordon was driving.

Mrs. Oma Brewer, 72, longtime Roby resident, was killed instantly when she stepped in front of the pickup last night in Roby. The pickup was traveling west on U.S. Highway 180.

The accident occurred at about 9:45 o'clock last night when Mrs. Brewer was attempting to cross the highway, according to Herman Seale, highway patrolman who investigated.

The accident happened a block east of the square in Roby, almost in front of Mrs. Brewer's home. She was taken to Wilkinson Clinic-Hospital in Roby, where she was dead on arrival.

Services were still pending today at Weathersbee Funeral Home in Rotan for Mrs. Brewer.

Survivors include one son, W. I. McKaughan of Houston, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Benthall of Anson.

Graham Heads Toward Texas

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, his California crusade ended here last night, turned his attention to Texas today.

Attendance at Graham's California talks totaled more than a million. He started them April 27 at San Francisco, continued there for seven weeks and then went on to Sacramento, Fresno, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and San Diego.

Fifty thousand heard him here Saturday and Sunday. He expressed fear that the Middle East crisis might cause a third world war. An estimated 5,000—one of every ten who heard him here—responded to his decision for Christ invitations.

Graham's next scheduled appearance is in San Antonio, for a one-night rally Friday. Gov. Price Daniel will introduce Graham.

Young Demos Back None

WACO (AP)—The Young Democratic Clubs of Texas' executive committee said yesterday the clubs do not endorse primary candidates and that "anyone which does is not a chartered organization."

The statement came after a four-hour meeting during which the 40 executive committee members attending the meeting tabled a motion that would have censured and asked legal action against William A. Blakley, candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Members of the committee had charged that a Blakley advertisement which implied that he had been endorsed by the Young Democrats was unauthorized.

Goldfine's Son Is Released

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — H. Maxwell Goldfine spent less than 24 hours at a hospital where he was treated for multiple self-inflicted razor blade slashes.

The 36-year-old son of New England industrialist Bernard Goldfine left the hospital yesterday, picked up his pretty blonde wife. They drove off to an undisclosed destination.

Mrs. Goldfine reportedly had been seeking a divorce, but when asked about it, she said, "All I can say is that everything is all right just now."

Goldfine locked himself in a bathroom Saturday morning and inflicted numerous superficial cuts on his body before yielding to pleas to come out. His wife said he was upset by his father's role in congressional investigators probing the elder Goldfine's relations with presidential aide Sherman Adams.

Canine Disagrees

ASHEBORO, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. Earl Barden visited a home here and obtained the family's signature on a petition supporting a rabies control and dog warden project. As she departed, the family pet, a dog, bit her on the leg.

Cancer Cure Is Hunted In Jungles

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—In the heart of dense jungle in the Amazon Basin an American doctor is searching for a cure for cancer.

The hunt has been going on 27 years. This is the report from Dr. Wilburn H. Ferguson: "I haven't found it yet, but I have high hopes that I will. Otherwise, I wouldn't be spending my life in the jungles of Ecuador."

Dr. Ferguson, his wife and 6-month-old son went into the jungle in 1931. He dedicated himself to cultivating friendship with the Jivaro natives and research on possible uses of their drugs.

In 1934, he stumbled upon the lead which has been the directing force of his research since that time—a tzanza (shrunken human head trophy). He wondered if the powerful drug that shrank the carulaginous tissue in the head might be able to shrink malignant tumor tissue.

Eventually he discovered the plant formula used in the head shrinking process, a secret known only to the chief medicinemen of each tribe.

This solution was highly toxic and impossible to use on living beings. It was composed of 30 separate plant extracts. His research has gradually reduced the number of essential plants to six.

He still faces seemingly endless research and study. "I am confident of ultimate success," he says.

Dr. Ferguson, 53, is a native of Shawnee, Okla., and a former resident of San Diego, Calif.

Diamond M Foundation Loans Scurry County Library Famous Items In Art

The Diamond M Foundation has loaned the Scurry County Library some of its prize art possessions. Among them are three oil paintings 20 by 24 inches.

The pictures are by the famous cowboy artist Olaf Wieghorst. Titles of the paintings are "Cowmen," "Desert Horsemen" and "His Night Horse".

Olaf Wieghorst, famous on two continents as a cowboy artist, first sat on a horse about the time he learned to walk, and sold his first painting of one for forty cents when he was ten years old.

Born in Jutland, Denmark, around the turn of the century, Wieghorst was trained by his father to be an acrobat, made his debut in Copenhagen at the age of nine and traveled in shows throughout the Scandinavian countries. Because he was interested in horses, he left the stage at the age of 14, working on a stock farm, as stunt rider for the movies and trick rider for a circus. In the fall of 1918, he arrived in New York, and by 1919 he joined the U. S. Cavalry, patrolling the border from Presidio, Texas, to Douglass, Arizona, for three years. He has been a cowboy, rodeo rider and member of New York's Mounted Police, retiring from the force after 20 years service to resume his studies of Indian and Cowboy life in the Southwest. His home and studio are at El Cajon, Calif.

Completely self taught, Wiehorst paints what he has lived and experienced in a masterful manner that has firmly established him in his field. He has had many one-man shows and is represented in leading art galleries and private collections. Recognition of his contribution to art has come, too, in many awards such as the Grand Prize at the San Diego Fair at Delmar, which he has won for three consecutive years, and the popular vote at the Sacramento State Fair recently accorded him. His paintings are known and appreciated everywhere.

The Foundation has also honored the library by loaning them eight bronze statues which include:

Dantes: This bronze is a bust of the famous Italian poet Dante Alighieri who lived during the 13th century. The most famous literary works of Dante are Inferno and Paradiso, his descritions of Hell and Heaven.

Hamlet: This is a bronze bust by an unknown artist of the famous Danish prince Hamlet created by Shakespeare in his play of the same name.

Roman Senator: This bronze is the work of F. Bosio [illegible] and was cast in Italy about 1860.

Reclining Athlete: This bronze was executed by B. Boschetti in Italy in the late 19th century.

Venus De Milo: This is a bronze miniature reproduction of the famous marble statue which now stands in the Louvre Museum in Paris, France. The original marble statue was sculptured by an unknown artist in ancient Greece and demonstrates the high degree of artistry attained by the ancient Greek civilization. Venus is the Roman name for the Grecian Aphrodite goddess of Beauty, Spring and Love. The marble Venus, which is now in the Louvre, was found on the Greek Island of Melos in 1820.

Longfellow: Artist was H. Muller, is 18 inches high and stands on a four inch marble base.

Seated Roman: Artist unknown, is 18 inches high.

Seated Roman: Artist unknown, and is 19 inches high.

Start Now To Combat Hay Fever

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D.

HAY FEVER is a form of allergy that occurs at a definite time of year. The term "hay fever" is certainly not a good one, since there is very seldom any fever associated with this condition and hay almost never has anything to do with it. The disease is caused by pollen and develops in those individuals — children and adults — who have an allergic sensitivity to the pollen. A better name for the disease would be pollen allergy. Nevertheless hay fever is a firmly entrenched term and probably will continue to be used.

The attack of hay fever is ushered in with an attack of violent sneezing and a flow of clear watery fluid from the nose. The eyes are likely to be red and to water freely. Often the eyes are more than normally sensitive to bright light. There may be headache, and a general feeling of lassitude. Hay fever victims seldom sleep well. Children may be cross and irritable. (Some adults with hay fever may be pretty crochety too!)

Dangerous Pollens

The disease is caused by windborne pollens. Spring hay fever is due to pollens of trees — maple, oak, elm, birch, cottonwood, pecan. Midsummer symptoms come usually from grass pollens — timothy, sweet vernal, Bermuda or orchard grass, or from the fungus spores of wheat and corn rusts. Late summer and fall hay fever, the most common variety, is usually due to pollen from the ragweed family of plants.

The symptoms vary in severity depending upon the amount of pollen in the air and on the weather conditions. Some years seem much worse than other years. Symptoms are likely to be more severe on dry windy days and in the early morning. Heavy rains tend to reduce the pollen count and make the hay fever victim more comfortable.

A careful history helps in making a diagnosis of hay fever. A combination of symptoms such as described above that comes on pretty regularly at the same time of year every year is certainly suggestive of hay fever. In addition the seasonal appearance of the symptoms suggests the general class of pollens causing the trouble. There are in addition certain laboratory tests that can be used to confirm the fact that the disease is of allergic origin and not an infection. Once this much is determined, then a few skin tests can be done to determine which particular pollen is responsible. This knowledge will reduce the number of skin tests needed to pinpoint the offending pollen.

Three Treatments

Treatment of hay fever is divided into three parts. In the first place avoidance of the pollen is wonderful treatment if it can be managed. If the symptoms last only a few weeks plan a vacation at this time and go where the pollen is not present. This is of course not possible for many families. The next best bet is an air-conditioner that filters the pollen out of the air.

When complete avoidance of the pollen is not possible the next best treatment starts well before the hay fever season and consists of shots to desensitize the patient from the particular pollen that gives him trouble. With most hay fever sufferers this pre-season treatment gives marked relief.

The third kind of treatment is directed at the symptoms themselves and consists of anti-histamine drugs given either as nose drops or by mouth. In severe cases some of the new steroid group of drugs proved valuable. Needless to say treatments need to be under the careful supervision of a doctor.

Sisters And Brothers Air Peeves

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

ONE OF THE MAJOR problems of some adolescents is a brother or sister, younger or older. Sometimes the little problems created by their existence in the life of an adolescent seem insurmountable.

There's the teen-ager, for instance, who has a 10-year-old brother she describes as "peeping Tom," and it so happens that's his name.

"I caught up with his peeping activities," says she, "when my steady date and I were sitting on the porch. I heard a noise and looked behind the porch swing and there he was hiding and spying. Now he taunts me by telling others about our conversation, and that I called this boy 'Cookie.' My mother refuses to punish him, and he is driving me crazy."

Junior Blues

Another young modern rebels against older sister's popularity and brains.

"I just hate to go to school because they all compare my work to my sister's," she says. "She is two years older, 19, and went to the same school I'm attending. The teachers are forever reminding me that she was better in practically everything. Even the gym teacher made the crack that my sister 'didn't have two left feet like mine.'"

A brother's girl friend can prove a nuisance, especially when she's anti-sister. Writes a sister:

"My brother used to take me out in his car, and sometimes he would go to dances with me, but now he has a girl friend who doesn't like me, and takes up all of his time. The other day she called me a little pest because I sat next to them in the soda store. My brother lets her wrap him around her little finger."

Then there's the perennial complaint about "Daddy's girl." A 16-year-old finds:

"My father prefers my sister two-to-one. As a matter of fact when my sister was my age she got a bigger allowance, and my father has taken her to more places than he takes me. She even goes fishing with him. Sometimes my mother goes, but they usually tell me to stay home and study."

Big Sister's Lament

An 18-year-old college freshman can't bear little sister's "taking ways." It seems that her 12-year-old sister dresses up in her clothes when she's not around. She complains:

"She ruins the heels on my dance slippers, breaks my pearls, gets runs in my stockings and spots on my good clothes, all in the line of play. I have asked her a hundred times not to rely on my wardrobe for her fun, but she takes my possessions on the sly, anyway. There is no way to lock up my things."

The wonderful thing about having sister or brother trouble is that a great many people have had the same problems, and so everyone is likely to understand Mary's "bad disposition" toward her younger sister or little Susie's "hate" for big sister, if that is any comfort. Then one day everything resolves and it seems hard to believe that an admired big sister once was a threat to little sister's security, or that head girl in the family ever complained about little sister's growing pains. It's all part of growing up in the average household.

An Experienced and Qualified Lawyer

. . . For County Judge

J. RAY MARTIN is a 38-year-old native Texan and veteran who has practiced law in Snyder and West Texas since 1945. He holds degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Laws and is a member of the American, Texas, and Scurry County Bar Associations, as well as being licensed to practice before the Tax Court of the United States. J. RAY MARTIN can, and he will, serve you well as your new County Judge of Scurry County. He shoots square with everyone —in the courtroom and out. He knows facts and law.

Because some Texas counties have no lawyers or one does not run, a non-lawyer like J. Ray Martin's opponent is not prohibited from running for or holding the office of County Judge; but he should not be chosen by the voters, because the Texas Constitution provides:

". . . there shall be elected in each county, by the qualified voters, a County Judge, who shall be well informed in the law of the State" (Art. V, Sec. 15). Sound public policy prefers the election of men like J. RAY MARTIN.

J. RAY MARTIN is FOR:
—Economy and efficiency in managing taxpayers' money.
—County government under law instead of clique rule.
—Christian and Southern respect for the rights and dignity of persons in court.

J. RAY MARTIN is AGAINST:
—Politics before efficiency in county business matters.
—Calling bond elections, ignoring the results, and spending the money anyway.
—Demoralizing our law enforcement officers and attorneys by not holding court regularly and correctly.

An Unpopular Dispute

The giving public is getting caught between the crossfire in a civil war between United Funds and Community Chests on one side and several giant national health agencies on the other, the Wall Street Journal reports.

This battle is nothing new, but apparently it has intensified in recent months, as several of the larger and more popular agencies, such as the American Cancer Society and the American Heart Association have virtually declared all out war on the one-campaign system.

United Funds, such as that which operates in Snyder, solicit operating funds for health and welfare agencies. Community Chests do the same thing, except for a limitation to support of local activities only.

The one-campaign system has been adopted in many cities and towns to conserve manpower and to eliminate the necessity for citizens to be solicited over and over again each year for a variety of "causes."

The complaining agencies claim that they can get more out of the public if they conduct their own campaigns. The United Fund and Community Chest officials say their system is more attractive to contributors because they will not be pestered by solicitors several times each year.

In most cases, the United Funds and Community Chests have been popular with a large segment of the public where they operate. However, there are those who predict that contributors will close their pocketbooks if the civil war endures. Such bickering over the method of soliciting funds appears unlikely enhance the prestige of the agencies involved.

When there is digging to be done, whether a shovel or spade is used should not be a matter of concern, so long as the work is accomplished.

There's Been One Indispensable Man

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That there has been only one really indispensable man in the history of the world. Who? Adam!

That the first table utensil invented was the spoon.

That in 1855 U.S. taxes averaged $1.98 a person. This year Americans will pay more for government than they will spend on food, clothing, medical care, and religious activities combined. Taxes are now the biggest single item in the cost of living.

Chimps Sleep Off Escapade With 'Sin'

OCEAN PARK, Calif. (AP) — Two chimpanzees, Rob Roy and Tonga, escaped from their cages at the new Pacific Ocean Park pier yesterday and downed a gallon of My Sin perfume worth $2,300.

The perfume — 65 per cent alcohol—was on hand to scent the waters of Neptune's Fountain at the entrance to the pier.

The two male chimps couldn't be found but their owner wasn't too worried.

"They're around somewhere sleeping it off," he said.

Decision Delayed On Atomic Power

By ROBERT D. NOVAK
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has postponed for at least a year a decision, and the fight certain to go with it, on how to develop atomic electric power.

The 386 million dollar atomic energy authorization bill approved by the House and the Senate last week provides little in the way of new reactor development.

President Eisenhower wanted only half that amount approved. he protested, though not too vigorously the bill drafted by the Democratic-controlled Senate House Atomic Energy Committee.

But the Atomic Energy Commission and Republican members of the committee raised little objection to the measure, and the bill sailed through Congress without a call in either house.

The ease of passage was in sharp contrast to the bitter bipartisan battles of the previous two years over atomic authorizations. It was deliberate.

Democratic members of the committee who want an ambitious long-term program of atomic reactor construction deliberately withheld their proposals this year to achieve a monetary truce.

They feel that with Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss no longer chairman of the AEC, the commission and Congress might have a better chance of getting together next year.

The basic question that arose shortly after World War II remains: Shall the government take the lead in development of atomic energy for power or shall the responsibility be given to private industry?

Democrats on the joint committee want the government to take the initiative on the ground that private industry is either unwilling or unable to expend the vast sums which would be required.

Republican committee members have expressed fears that government-financed development would provide a foot in the door for public power interests to take over atomic power.

The lone large-scale power reactor in operation, at Shippingport, Pa., is owned by the government though operated by Duquesne Light Co.

The next reactor expected to produce commercial power, a proposed Commonwealth Edison Co. plant at Dresden, Ill., south of Chicago, will be financed entirely by private funds.

The private vs. public power issue was voiced only briefly during the Senate debate on this year's bill. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) proposed an amendment that would have prevented conversion of a government plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash., to generate electric power.

The amendment lost to the argument that any power produced would be used by the AEC installation itself.

Capitol Hill sources indicate the committee next year may come up with some kind of proposal for a long-range program of power reactor construction.

If it does, Congress will face another private vs. public power fight but may settle the issue once and for all.

Hussein's Trouble Leaps Despite Aid

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Young King Hussein is obviously in deep trouble despite the crash program of military and economic aid from the United States and Britain.

Developments in Iraq have hit Jordan hard.

Already the eastern part of the country has lost much of its communication with the Palestinian side of the Jordan River, a hotbed of support for U.A.R. President Nasser. There is a good chance that much blood will be spilled here before long.

There are several reasons why violence did not explode immediately in the wake of the revolt in Iraq. Opposition leaders are still under arrest. Hussein apparently had been warned of a new plot to dethrone him in time to clean out dissident officers. And Jordan still is under a rigid royal dictatorship and martial law.

But most important, the events in Iraq came with such suddenness that they stunned Jordan's population. Many, even among ordinarily violent, unthinking extremists, at first saw the developments in Iraq and Lebanon as a prelude to World War III and were awed by the possibilities. When they get their second wind there will be violence.

Primarily the violence will be sparked by strong anti-British sentiment, which looks on the 2,000 British troops now here as a mobile palace guard around the King. Sharp economic dislocations in the wake of the Iraqi revolt likely will raise the revolutionary temper.

Jordan depended entirely upon Iraq for the oil to keep its economy going. Automobiles are being garaged. Taxi prices are soaring. Unless U.S. oil deliveries by air can fill the gap, the pumps that bring water to Amman, Jerusalem and other cities from reservoirs miles away will stop. Electric service already is breaking down in some areas.

The United States plans to fly in 1,000 tons of oil daily from Bahrein. It hopes to replace this in two weeks with tanker service from Britain's Aden refinery to the Jordan port of Aqaba.

Tension here in Amman is less than it was a year ago during Jordan's last major crisis. The capital looks almost tranquil. But this is not expected to last.

U.S. support of Jordan now begins to look like a long, costly affair. But Britain apparently considers Jordan's fate a matter of the most extreme importance. Evidently Britain feels that if Jordan goes, oil-producing Kuwait will be the next target. And it is possible that U.S. policy makers feel that the turn of Saudi Arabia and its oil would not be far away.

Britain, at the end of the Seven Years' War in 1763, had the choice of annexing from France either Gaudaloupe or Canada, Gaudaloupe was then considered the richer prize because of its sugar crops, but Britain chose Canada for strategic reasons.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

TOWLE PARK TRAFFIC tonight is expected to be the heaviest for a single night than it has been since the park was erected some 6-8 years ago.

The reason, of course, is that playoffs in two phases of our kid baseball program, Pony League and Little League, will be unreeled here tonight.

Seating is expected to be at a premium for both tournaments and the parking spaces around the outlying fences are due to be jammed to capacity.

Fans Can See Both Games

Tonight's playoff games have been arranged so that fans who wish may attend the games in both tournaments.

The Little League playoff game tonight between the Snyder American League and Colorado City gets the ball rolling at 7:15. Then at 8:30 the Pony League playoff game between Snyder and Colorado City will get underway.

In all likelihood the Little League game will be over before the Pony League game starts. At the most fans won't miss more than an inning or so of the Pony League game should they sweat out the Little League game all the way. But most Little League games are completed within a 1:15 hour period.

The short distance between the Little League and Pony League parks will make it convenient for the ones who attend both games. As you well know the distance between the two parks is just a few steps.

Kids Go All Out

If you've never seen a kid playoff game, you've missed something. The kiddoes go all out and they try just as hard to win as a major league team does in trying to win a World Series.

Let's give these kids plenty of support as long as they stay in playoff contention.

Some Snyder fishermen enjoyed some pretty good luck at Possum Kingdom Lake recently.

Bob Reneau and Gene Lovin of our city landed three yellow cats weighing 38, 43 and 56 pounds on trot line and live bait.

And Tiger footballer Bill Dubose caught 35 Sand Bass from one to two pounds on minnow. All three of the fishermen mentioned here caught their fish out of Shaker's Camp.

KICKIN' PRAYIN' PUTTIN'—Billy Casper, left, of Chula Vista, Calif., assumes a kicking stance as he watches the ball drop into the cup on a 15-foot putt during the Professional Golfers Association tournament at Havertown, Pa., but Felice Torza of Aurora, Ill., right, goes into a praying positi on after attempting a 30-foot putt during the same round. Sparring Mate High On Roy Harris

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—There is no mystery out here today about Roy Harris, the heavyweight fighter from Cut and Shoot, Tex.

The big fellow may or may not relieve Floyd Patterson of his world championship in Los Angles Aug. 18, but he was more than impressive in his first appearance in a ring outside of Texas.

A delegation of Los Angeles fight writers was on hand, along with scores of fans from this area as Roy made his debut in the polished, air-conditioned Arrowhead Springs Auditorium.

Today the personable 25-year-old Texan settled down to training routine as the champion himself arrived in Los Angeles for a brief press stop.

Patterson was to head on to Oceanside, 80 miles to the south.

No one out here had ever seen Harris before. They knew he has not been beaten in 22 fights, but whether he was crude, fancy, awkward or what, was unknown.

Harris boxed three rounds with his chief sparring partner, Howie Turner of Brooklyn. Each round was bruising.

Turner worked innumerable rounds with Patterson for the champ's two Hurricane Jackson fights and for the Pete Rademacher match.

Harris showed a jolting straight left, an excellent combination of left and right to the head, and while he is no dancer, he got around in fine style.

Turner was asked if he had a chance to whip Patterson. Turner's answer seemed straight forward enough. Without hesitation, he said:

"Absolutely. He's a good fighter."

Turner, a main event fighter who, they say, is so good he has trouble getting matches, went on rubbing blood off his underlip:

"He is not as fast on his feet as Patterson but he hits harder with his left. His left hand is also faster than Patterson's but not his right."

This was most revealing, since the Patterson hands are noted for speed, as well as power.

Calm, Cool Finsterwald Wins PGA

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, a thoughtful and articulate young golf champion, doesn't think he's a great golfer or even an unusually good one.

As a result, he doesn't let it get him down when he finishes second or even lower in a tournament. He's probably the most relaxed player on the pro circuit.

"It feels very strange to be first," he said after winning the 40th Professional Golfers Assn. championship with four superb rounds of 67-72-70-67—276 over the tightly trapped Llanerch Country Club course.

"I don't feel that I played less conservatively. I feel as if I played much the same as I've always done."

Although he had every reason to go all out when he and Sammy Snead hooked up in a final-round duel, he insisted it wasn't boldness or gambling that won.

Close observers thought otherwise. To them Finsterwald appeared to be hitting out boldly, going for the greens and trying to sink every putt while Snead turned cautious.

Finsterwald, a 28-year-old graduate of Ohio University who has been on the pro circuit since 1951, was the runner-up to Lionel Hebert in the match play PGA Championship last year. Since then friends have been telling him he could have won with more boldness and have urged him to take a few chances.

He went into the fourth round two strokes behind Snead and one behind Bill Casper.

He spotted Snead another stroke on the second hole, caught him at the seventh—and finished the tough front nine with a 31—best score of the tournament.

He picked up four strokes against both Snead and Casper on that nine.

Casper parred the short 12th hole and Finsterwald's tee shot landed in tall, clinging rough. He played a beautiful shot out and got a par 3 while Snead three-putted for a four.

On the next hole Snead missed two short putts after a shot from a trap hit the pin and took a double bogey 6.

Casper took second with a 278 total—the only man besides Finsterwald to break par for 72 holes at Llanerich—while Snead placed third with an even par 280. Jackie Burke, the 1956 PGA champ, came in fourth with 281, then there was a big gap to the 285s posted by National Open champion Tommy Bolt, Julius Boros and Jay Hebert. The defending champion, Lionel Hebert, wound up 15 strokes behind at 291.

The victory added $5,500 to Dow's bulging bankroll. He has won more than $35,000 in each of the past two years, with only one tournament victory in each season. So far this year he has collected about $20,000.

Dodgers Finally Vacate Cellar

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chavez Ravine may still be a dream, but the Dodgers have won one fight. For the first time since May 12, Los Angeles is out of last place. By one skinny percentage point.

Los Angeles and Pittsburg are tied for sixth and Cincinnati is last, thanks to the percentage table. Each is nine games behind league-leading San Francisco.

Johnny Podres won his ninth in 10 Coliseum starts, shutting out Philadelphia 6-0 on four hits yesterday.

The Giants routed Bob Friend with five runs in the first inning and went on to down Pittsburgh 7-3, protecting their half-game lead over Milwaukee.

Milwaukee scored two in the ninth for a 4-2 victory over Chicago. It was Warren Spahn's 12th of the season. Joe Adcock homered for the Braves, Cal Neeman and Dale Long for the Cubs.

Sam Jones struck out 12 Cincinnati batters as St. Louis dropped the Redlegs into the basement 3-1.

All clubs in the American League lost ground to the New York Yankees, who now lead by 11 games. The Yanks took two from Kansas City, 3-1 in 10 innings on Yogi Berra's two-run homer and 8-0 on Whitey Ford's second straight shutout. Detroit beat Boston 3-0 behind Jim Bunning's no-hit, no-run pitching but lost the second to the Red Sox 5-2. Chicago beat Washington 4-2 on Dick Donovan's five-hitter but lost the second 5-4 when Roy Sievers homered in the ninth for Ginsberg's 10th inning single with the bases loaded brought Baltimore a 3-2 verdict over Cleveland.

Steve Bilko's 400-foot triple got the Dodgers away fast against Curt Simmons, who gave up 11 hits in 7 1-3 innings.

Paul Giel, Minnesota's former All America halfback, won his second for the Giants with relief from Ruben Gomez.

Jim Davenport had two singles and a home run and Daryl Spencer came through with a three-run double. Dick Stuart homered for the Pirates.

Taylor Phillips of the Cubs, dueling with Spahn, had retired 12 in order when Mel Roach opened the ninth with a single and went to second on another single by Felix Mantilla. Don Elston came in and struck out Hank Aaron but pinch hitter Frank Torre singled to score Roach. Mantilla came home on a sacrifice fly.

St. Louis scored all three of its runs in the fourth while routing Brooks Lawrence. Singles by Stan Musial, Wally Moon, Curt Flood and Jones did the trick.

Giants End Successful Homestand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Those surprising San Francisco Giants leave the West Coast today with a one-half game lead in the National League, but it may evaporate before they play their next game.

Because the Giants don't play again until Tuesday when they'll reach two decisions against the Philadelphia Phillies, the Milwaukee Braves could pull up with them tonight with a victory over St. Louis.

Still, the Giants continue to amaze the pre-season dopesters who had them in the second division. Closing a stand here with 7-3 triumph over Pittsburgh Sunday, they captured a 12th victory in the 16 games played at home, climbing from third to first place.

In the attendance department the 22,814 fans who filled little Seal's Stadium Sunday swelled the total attendance here for 48 dates to 810,406. At the Polo Grounds in New York, largest of the National League parks when the Giants played there, the last time the team broke 800,000 was in 1955 with 824,112, the season after the club won the world championship.

Pitching—Jim Bunning, Tigers, pitched no - hit, no - run game against Boston, striking out 12 in first game of doubleheader for 3-0 victory. It was the first no-hitter of the 1958 season.

RED SOX ARE VICTIMS

Tigers' Bunning Hurls No-Hitter

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Jim Bunning shelved the home run ball for the strikeout pitch, he was on the way back to his brilliant 1957 form.

Detroit's 20-game winner of a year ago pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Boston's sluggers at Fenway Park yesterday. Six weeks ago he couldn't get anybody out.

In his first 11 games Bunning allowed 11 homers. Then he went on his strikeout spree.

He fanned 12 Red Sox June 11, 14 New York Yankees June 20, 10 Yanks July 16 and 12 Red Sox in his no-hitter. His total of 168 strikeouts puts him ahead of New York's Bob Turley for the American League lead.

Despite Bunning's magic, Detroit lost ground in the chase of the Yankees as did every other club. The Tigers won behind Bunning 3-0 but lost the second game to Boston 5-2 as Ike Delock fan his amazing won-lost record to 16-0 and 13-0 over a two-year span.

Yogi Berra hit a two-run homer as the Yanks took two from Kansas City 3-1 and 8-0. As a result, New York leads the league by 11 games.

Roy Sievers ninth-inning homer in the second game aroused Washington fans to run around the bases with him, celebrating a 5-4 victory over Chicago. Dick Donovans five-hit pitching gave the White Sox a 4-2 opening game decision.

Joe Ginsberg came through with a single with the bases loaded in the 10th inning for Baltimore's 3-2 edge over Cleveland. After Bob Boyd opened the 10th with a triple, Cleveland walked Gene Woodling and Bob Nieman intentionally but Ginsberg crossed up the strategy with his winning hit. Arnold Portocarrero won his fifth straight, finishing up with 7 1-3 hitless innings.

In the National, San Francisco ran its winning streak to six with a 7-3 romp over Pittsburgh, clinging to a half-game lead. Warren Spahn won his 12th for Milwaukee, 4-2 over the Chicago Cubs.

Los Angeles finally escaped from the cellar with a 6-0 victory over Philadelphia on Johnny Podres' four-hitter. St. Louis dumped Cincinnati into last place as Sam Jones struck out 12 on the way to a 3-1 decision.

The big excitement wes in Boston, where Bunning snapped a six-game Red Sox winning streak. He walked two and hit one. He faced only 30 batsmen.

Berra played right field for the Yanks in both games as he returned to the lineup after a layoff due to a hand injury. His homer scored Enos Slaughter, who had singled for his fourth hit. Jerry Lumpes three-run homer made it easy for Ford, who gave up only five hits in winning his 12th.

Siever's big blow at Washington came off Early Wynn, who had just come out of the bullpen. Billy Goodman had four hits in the double-header to take over the batting lead at .337.

Bunning Mobbed After Final Out

BOSTON (AP) — Jim Bunning, Detroit right-hander, basks in the glow of a no-hitter today after overcoming Ted Williams, superstition and a tough park for his share of baseball history.

The tall Tiger faced 30 men as he defeated the Boston Red Sox 3-0 Sunday in the first game of a doubleheader. He walked Gene Stephens twice and hit Jackie Jensen with a pitch.

But it was Williams, 1957 American League batting champion, who haunted Bunning's thoughts as he neared his goal.

"The big thing I had on my mind going out for the last inning was I didn't want to walk anybody," Bunning said. "My thought was I just musn't get anyone on—so Williams could come up and hit a homer."

Williams had beaten Detroit with a two-run, 12th inning blast the previous afternoon.

Bunning struck out Stephens on an inside corner delivery, then fanned Ted Lepcio on a slow, high curve and there were two down in the ninth.

He had struck out 12.

Next: Williams.

The first pitch was wide.

"Then I threw him a slider," Bunning recounted. "When the ball sailed into right field I knew it wasn't hit that good."

Al Kaline grabbed it and the 26-year-old, 6 - 3, Kentuckian was mobbed by teammates.

Williams also was the final out the last time an opponent threw a no-hitter at the Sox.

Ted hit a pop foul which Yankee catcher Yogi Berra dropped.

Allie Reynolds on that Sept. 28, 1951, got Williams to pop up again and this time Berra squeezed it.

Bunning said he was after the no hitter from the sixth inning on and while his teammates refused to defy tradition by mentioning it, Jim let them know he knew.

Facing power right-handers like Jackie Jensen, Frank Malzone and Dick Gernert leveling at the inviting left field wall, Bunning was remarkable accurate at keeping his pitches low and outside.

"I threw sliders to the right-handers and mostly fast balls to the left-handers, but I guess the big thing was my control," Bunning said. "I kept catching the corners on them."

Bunning, a 20-game winner last season, had been bothered by a pulled muscle in his side this spring and had only a 2-5 record when Bill Norman replaced Jack Tighe as manager in Boston June 10. Since then Jim has won six of seven decisions.

In addition to his 12 strikeouts, Jim retired 10 batters on fly balls, two of them foul, and five grounders. Coach Don Lund counted 51 fast balls, 49 sliders, 25 curves and seven changeups for 132 pitches as Bunning registered his no-hitter in his 95th major league appearance.

A Junior Editors Quiz About SCOTLAND YARD

QUESTION: Why is Scotland Yard in England?

• • •

ANSWER: New Scotland Yard, located on the banks of the Thames River, is the headquarters of the London Metropolitan Police. Through the years the name "Scotland Yard" has come to mean a special department of the force called the Criminal Investigation Department, or CID. The CID is one of the most famous detective organizations in the world, and detective story writers have made Scotland Yard detectives the heroes of many thrilling tales.

Between the years 900 and 1200 A.D., a large castle stood on the spot now occupied by the police headquarters. When Scottish kings and ambassadors visited London, they stayed in this castle, which was called Scotland Yard. Thus, it was much like an embassy in a foreign country. This picture shows a visiting Scot entering the castle from a boat. The Scots left the castle for new quarters about the year 1200 and the London police took it over but kept the name. The castle was torn down in the 1880's and in 1890, the police moved into a group of new buildings constructed on the site. The new headquarters was named New Scotland Yard.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color this picture. Then make believe you're a Scotland Yard detective. Describe everything the man is wearing and what the picture shows without looking at it.

Trujillo Off For A Cruise

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., playboy son of the Dominican Republic's strong man, presumably was enjoying privacy at last today — somewhere on the broad Pacific.

Only moments before the sailing yesterday, a woman garbed in green was ushered aboard the Angelita. Her face was shielded from newsmen by a Trujillo aide. Next came a blonde in Capri pants, who didn't make it aboard.

The press corps heard the blonde's retort: "Well, how was I to know to make other arrangements."

The Coast Guard was unable to say where, or for how long, the Angelita might be going. Trujillo has been in Southern California more than a month entertaining Hollywood feminity.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

INSTALLING a radiator after it has been repaired is Frank D. Stephenson, owner and operator of the Stephenson Radiator Shop, 1105 Avenue T. Stephenson has the oldest radiator shop here, having opened it in 1949.

Frank Stephenson's Shop Can Handle Radiator Of Any Size

A hot automobile motor is a "pain in the neck," to say the least, when it overheats in the summer, but many times it is more than just a pain, since overheating can mean damage to parts which can run into considerable expense.

That's the reason a motorist can save much money sometimes by having his radiator checked as soon as he notices any excessive heating.

Snyder's specialist in that line is Frank D. Stephenson's Radiator Service, 1105 Avenue T.

As operator of the oldest radiator shop in Snyder, Stephenson is well-known as "The Radiator Man."

It takes know-how and good equipment to do the right kind of radiator work, and Stephenson has both His shop is equiped to handle any size radiator job, from the smallest to the large industrial radiators.

Except on the larger jobs, Stephenson offers one-day service on repairs.

Stephenson never misses a bet on the best service to his customers, even including such things as replacing the steel overflow tubes which are on many late model cars and rust and stop up easily, with copper tubing.

Stephenson's know-how in radiator work has come from many years of experience in his line of work. His background, in addition to straight radiator work, has included five years as parts manager for a Chevrolet dealer in San Bernadino, Cal., and a number of years traveling for General Motors Corp. on the West Coast as a school instructor for parts and service men.

The shop, in keeping with its policy of rapid service, stocks a big line of radiator cores, hose, and thermostats. In case of parts for large industrial radiators which are not in stock, they can be secured in 12 hours or less.

Many radiator troubles stem from the need for cleaning, since a dirty, clogged, or leaking radiator almost always means a hot engine. If motorists get radiators cleaned at the proper time and take proper care of them, they can even save themselves money they might have spent on other radiator repairs later.

Stephenson invites any Snyder motorist to drive by his shop, whether it is to get acquainted or to have the radiator and cooling system checked.

KILLS ROACHES—For years the method of roach control has been that you move all foodstuffs and dishes, clear the room of all people for hours, and just spray every nook and cranny. You had to repeat this operation day after day as long as you were troubled with roaches. That is no longer necessary, however, because the new super bug killer, No-Roach made by the Gaston Johnston Corporation, is a long lasting insect killer which is simply brushed on cupboard walls, baseboards, in cracks, windowsills and spells doom for any bug, ant, roach or other crawling insect which crawls across it.

No-Roach Provides Effective Control

"Have family-will travel!" says the common cockroach as he rides into the cleanest kitchens on a box of groceries.

No homemaker is safe from rapidly multiplying roaches unless she clears them out and keeps them out the Johnston's No-Roach way.

No-Roach is a quick-drying, invisible and odorless coating easily applied with a brush at the source of trouble areas. Though you can't see it, it continues to work for months, killing pests on contact.

Some roaches have built up resistance to ordinary insecticides, but not to No-Roach, which contains malathion. Simply brush No-Roach on cupboard walls, baseboards, cracks, or wherever roaches may appear.

Ants and other crawling bugs will not cross No-Roach barriers. Brush it across windowsills, doorsills, or other points of entry. Rout ants by pouring a few drops into ant hills.

Johnston's No-Roach is a colorless quick drying insecticide that stays where you apply it, therefore, it can not contaminate food and dishes nor create harmful "fall out" vapors as sprays and powders may. No-Roach brushes on in a wink—no need to move dishes or food supplies—remains effective for months.

No-Roach is available in Snyder at D & H Super Market, Piggly Wiggly, Safeway, Sunbeam, B & B Parkway, Rainbows, and your local food or drug store.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

(Letters from the readers of the Daily News are always welcome, provided they are signed by the writer and give his correct address. They will be printed subject to the publisher's discretion, based on whether the material contained is libelous or the language offenaive. Letters should not exceed 300 words.)

To The Daily News:

As election time approaches, may we ask has each and every legislative candidate made his stand clear on these issues which are sure to come up in the next legislature?

1. A party registration bill—to require each and every voter to have his or her poll tax receipt stamped "Democrat," "Republican," or "other," and let none vote in the other's primary.

2. The repeal or radical revision of the Saul-Hazelwood bill governing REA electric cooperatives (and also private utilities).

3. The creation of a state public utility commission to regulate telephone, gas, electric and other such rates. Only Texas and Iowa have no such commissions. The other states have them.

4. A new and stringent lobby control law. The present one is ineffective.

5. Also a very rigid restriction on loan sharks. Let's help stop Texas being called "the loan shark state."

We have three candidates for the 90th legislative district and two for the 24th state senatorial district. If they haven't stated explicitly how they stand on each and all these questions, vote only for one for each position who comes out squarely for or against these, but demand a stand.

For the United States Senate, how does each stand?

1. In supporting the Eisenhower-Benson farm policy.
2. Rapid tax write-offs.
3. Retention or repeal of the Federal income tax and the substitution of a national lottery (morally indefensible) and a sales tax (economically indefensible).
4. Public vs. private power as is now.

There are other issues which may come up later, but labeling an opponent as a "red" or a 'pink" or such just means that he who does so is weak and wants to cover up.

Visit To AFB Being Planned By Boys Club

A visit to Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, has been scheduled for Wednesday for members of the Scurry County Boys Club.

Busses will leave the club at 8 a.m. that day and arrive at Dyess at 10 a.m.

On the base, the youths will be conducted on a tour of the base facilities as guests of the Air Force. Guides from the informational services section will be placed on each bus to answer the many questions of the boys.

The boys will see a static display of many of the planes used throughout the Strategic Air Command, including the B-47, B-52, KC-07, and various support-type aircraft.

They will visit the ground training section, which includes flight simulators and link trainers. They will also see a demonstration of sentry dogs utilized by the base to increase security.

Immediately following lunch, the youths will see about an hour of cartoons at the base theater, then visit other areas, including the base chapel, fire department, and other points of interest.

Boys will take their own sack lunches, which will be eaten at the base picnic and recreation area. Cold drinks will be sold to the boys by members of the Dependent Youth Organizations.

The busses will return at about 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Boys and their parents interested in making the trip should notify the Boys Club as soon as possible so arrangements can be made and all who want to go can be taken.

Man Drowns During Baptismal Service

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A Jehovah's Witness, conducting baptismal services in a sand pit, toppled backwards into water 30 feet deep and drowned yesterday.

Members of the congregation said Clifton Wayne Payne, 23-year-old Negro, had baptized two persons and was awaiting the third when he stepped back and disappeared. His body was recovered 20 minutes later.

Mowers Replace Sheep

WARREN, R.I. (AP) — Power mowers have replaced sheep as grass cutters on the historic North Burying Ground. Since 1954, at instigation of the late Rev. Arthur M. Dunstan, president of the Massasoit Historical Society, sheep have been used to keep the grass trimmed. Now it's power mowers. Sheep transportation is too much of a problem.

Law Visits Law

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The law paid an unexpected visit to John Law's party. Police said neighbors complained of too much noise. Law was fined $50.
