Pass to play rule affects 225 at SHS

By DONNY BROWN
SDN Managing Editor

A newly implemented aspect of House Bill 72 has eliminated almost one-third of the Snyder High School student body from participation in extracurricular activities for the current six-weeks period.

Approximately 225 high school students — more than 100 of these from the freshman class — are now ineligible for such activities as athletics, band, choir or UIL literary competition.

These numbers mean 27 percent of the approximately 825 students at SHS are "on the sideline," at least until April 4.

The H.B. 72 mandate affecting these students is a requirement that all subjects must be passed before participation in extracurricular activities is allowed.

The change this year includes the new H.B. 72 cutoff for failing and passing marks. Last year, below 60 was a failing grade. Effective this year, 70 is the cutoff.

The rule regarding extracurricular participation did not go into effect until the beginning of the second semester. The recently completed first six weeks of this semester was the first period during which all subjects had to be passed.

The same rule applies to all Texas high schools and, according to SHS Principal Ray Courtney, "Everybody's pretty much in the same boat."

Snyder's 27 percent ineligibility is somewhat lower than other schools, he said. Some estimates have run as high as 35 percent and the Texas Association of Secondary School Principals have released estimates figuring from 31 to 32 percent ineligibility for all Texas high schools.

The six-week period during which local students are "sidelined" will include such events as the choir's spring trip to sing at the festival in Colorado Springs (March 8-10); the UIL district literary meet (March 30); the band's concert and sightreading spring contest (April 2); and the Canyon Reef Relays (March 23).

One-act play competition for both zone and district is included during this period also, but none of the cast and crew for this year's production is affected.

Quake strikes in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A major earthquake struck an 800-mile stretch of central Chile, crumbling houses in villages, rocking skyscrapers in the capital and cutting communications lines. The government said today at least 124 people were killed and 2,000 were injured.

Santiago and the Pacific coast cities of Valparaiso and Vina Del Mar — with a combined population of about 6 million — appeared to be the hardest hit by the quake, which struck at 7:47 p.m. (5:47 p.m. EST) Sunday.

People camped among the debris in city streets, away from their weakened homes, as dozens of aftershocks rumbled through the region all night and through this morning.

Authorities warned that walls in many of the adobe homes in towns near Santiago were cracked, and that they might collapse in the aftershocks.

"Our house may collapse anytime. I think I'll stay outside at least until daylight," said Monica Garrico, a housewife who was camping with neighbors on a sidewalk in a Santiago suburb. "The walls are full of cracks," she said.

The National Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said the quake measured 7.4 on the Richter Scale. Within six hours, Santiago residents had felt about 48 aftershocks, some of them so strong they rocked highrises. Milder tremors continued through the night.

At midmorning Monday, chief government spokesman Francisco Cuadra announced that the death toll had been raised to 124, counting only newly found victims in Santiago and Valparaiso. As communications are restored and reports arrive from remote areas, the government feared the death toll would increase. Officials said that at least 2,000 people were hurt.

Melipilla, a town southwest of Santiago, was heavily damaged, the government said.

WTC energy plan now awarded bid

Western Texas College trustees met Monday morning to accept a bid to initiate an energy project which the college first embarked on nearly two years ago.

B H B Mechanical of Lubbock submitted the low bid of $392,118, estimates which included a base bid plus four alternate design plans also accepted by the board. The college has obtained a federal grant in the amount of $126,097 to cover a portion of this cost.

The expense to the college is now figured at $289,548 — an amount already budgeted. Funds will be transfered from the Student Housing Fund to cover the expense.

Once completed, money saved through the energy project is expected to recoup expenses within six years.

The base bid includes installing a chiller, cooling tower, condenser water pump, and a 50 hp pump to variable speed.

Of the alternate plans accepted also. Alternate 1 has a chiller which is not hermetically sealed — a concept recommended by the engineer, Jack Roberts of Fanning, Fanning & Agnew, Inc. of Lubbock.

Alternate 3 involves relocating two condensing water pumps, removing the existing absorption chiller and cooling tower, installing chilled water valves, modifying hot water on air handling units, and modifying hot and cold deck controls.

Alternate 4 entails installing flow meters and temperature sensors in chilled water, dormitory, building 7C and the pool with BTU meters.

Roberts has also suggested a water balance check on the system after installation. This will be let for bid and is expected to cost around $11,000.

The work is slated to begin when the spring semester closes and is expected to be completed during the summer months.

Other bids were submitted as follows: Armstrong Mechanical, Inc. of Lubbock, $410,975; A&M Plumbing Co. of Lubbock, $422,200; Axiom Energy, Inc. of Austin, $476,900; and Brown-McKee of Lubbock, $476,509.

In other action, trustees restated their decision to hire the firm of Fanning, Fanning and Agnew as consulting engineers for the project. They will receive six percent of the total project cost as their fee, or roughly

Tough talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan isn't toning down his tough talk toward the Soviet Union as he enters a series of meetings leading up to the U.S.-Soviet arms control talks in Geneva next week.

Reagan, who'll meet a member of the Soviet Union's top policy-making body later this week after sending his negotiating team off to Geneva, told a group of conservative reporters the Soviet Union was "attempting to give legitimacy to its tyranny" around the world.

"Throughout the world, the Soviet Union and its agents, client states, and satellites are on the defensive — on the moral defensive, the intellectual defensive, and the political and economic defensive," Reagan declared in the speech last week.

Release crew

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — A five-man French air force crew, abducted by armed rebels as it delivered food supplies to famine victims in northern Ethiopia, was released today and arrived back in Addis Ababa, airport sources and French officials said.

A volunteer medical organization, Doctors Without Borders, also reported that two French doctors and two Belgian nurses reported to have been kidnapped, actually were taking a brief vacation in the city of Lalibela and had not been taken hostage.

Dr. Antoine Crouan of volunteer organization told The Associated Press in Paris that the medical workers called their office in Addis Ababa to deny they had been taken hostages.

Burglaries at Thomas linked to one suspect

Scurry County sheriff's office personnel were scheduled to go before the Scurry County grand jury Monday morning seeking multiple burglary indictments against a 22-year-old Proctor man.

County officers jailed Ricky Dewayne Cox of Proctor around 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon in connection with a series of burglaries of some 16 mobile homes parked at the Lake Thomas Lodge. Most of the thefts are thought to have occurred since Friday.

Investigators reported Monday morning that the suspect was arrested at a mobile home at the lake and some of the stolen property was recovered at that time.

Officers also went to Odessa Sunday evening where they recovered more of the missing property from a pickup truck parked at a residence there.

Monday morning, investigators were still working to recover the rest of the stolen merchandise — including several firearms — which had reportedly been located in local pawn shops.

Due to the close proximity of the arrest and Monday's grand

Open house due tonight

Open house is scheduled at each of Snyder's six elementary schools Monday night as part of the 34th observance of Texas Public Schools Week in Texas.

The open house observance will begin at 7 p.m. with varying activities planned at each campus.

In addition, the week will feature two other traditional events in Snyder, the Scurry County spelling bee Wednesday and the combined concert of sixth grade choirs Thursday. This year's choir offering is entitled "The GIGO Effect (A Computer Adventure)."

Probation officer asks for 'shared' secretary

County commissioners Monday asked the county attorney and juvenile probation officer to "work out" details between themselves regarding sharing the services of the county attorney's secretary at the courthouse.

The court met in closed executive session to hear a proposal by juvenile probation officer Larry Thompson to share the secretary.

Thompson presented a letter from District Attorney Ernie Armstrong requesting his secretary be released from handling paperwork from the juvenile department. Armstrong cited a possible conflict of interest if further legal action became necessary concerning a child.

County Attorney Gary Terrell and Mike Line, who will assume the office pending Terrell's departure this coming April 1, also appeared at the meeting.

In a letter to Thompson, Line objected to the original proposal. His letter stated, "I must take ex-

Parents' Golden Anniversary Deserves the Proper Luster

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My parents will be celebrating their golden wedding anniversary this summer, and we (their children) want to observe the day in some special way. The problem is that Mama has been in a nursing home for the last four years—so senile she doesn't remember who we are half the time. Dad is fine. He has a live-in companion who has been an angel to him.

We discussed the various options with Dad. We considered having a lovely dinner with just close family members at the restaurant near the nursing home, but Mama is terrified of riding in a car, and her table manners are non-existent at this point. We could have a nice catered dinner for just the family right in the nursing home. Many couples give a golden wedding dance, and that's what Dad would like, but we have mixed emotions about it because obviously Mama can't be there, and if Dad hosts a dance without her he says he wants his ladyfriend with him, which would take away from the reason for celebrating.

We decided to ask for your advice.

MIXED EMOTIONS

DEAR MIXED: A nice catered dinner at the nursing home with close family members is, by far, the best choice. And since your mother isn't able to participate in a golden wedding dance, it would be most inappropriate for your father to host such a party with his ladyfriend by his side.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: After breaking up with my boyfriend of two years, I returned to the nightclub scene because I enjoy dancing and I didn't want to just drop out of sight. I go to fairly high-class clubs, but I'm offended by these men who talk to a girl for five minutes, then ask her if she would like to go to bed.

I'm not talking about just one guy; I'm talking about a whole series of them. One evening I had seven propositions. One conceited jerk had the nerve to say: "Don't play hard to get; this is your last chance. If you don't come with me, I'm leaving with the girl over there." Then he pointed to her. I said no, so he went over to her and said, "OK, let's go," and they left together.

I'm no prude, Abby, but I'm no pushover, either. I look like a lady, act like a lady and talk like a lady. So where are all the gentlemen?

OFFENDED IN NAZARETH, PA.

DEAR OFFENDED: Obviously they're not at the clubs where you've been hanging out. If you enjoy dancing, keep looking until you find a higher-class club.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My son is happily married to a fine young professional woman. When they married, "Mary" did not take my son's name ("Smith"). She wants to be known as "Dr. Mary Jones"—Jones being her maiden name.

They are expecting a baby, and she wants their child to bear her maiden name—Mary or Johnny Jones—not his surname of "Smith."

I may be old-fashioned, but I do not like the idea of my son's child bearing his mother's maiden name instead of his father's surname. People who don't know better may assume that the child was born out of wedlock.

Also, what is the correct way to address mail to my son and his wife, since he does not have a "Doctor" title, but she has?

GRANDMA-TO-BE

DEAR GRANDMA: Many professional women prefer to keep their maiden names, and if they have children, they use a hyphenated combination of their name and their husband's name (Johnny Jones-Smith).

Report calls crime rampant in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Claiming that violence and the fear of violence continue unabated in America, a panel of experts has concluded that crime will continue to afflict society unless the government attacks poverty, ignorance and unemployment.

In a 223-page sequel to the crime commission studies growing out of the assassinations of Robert F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King and the big-city riots of the 1960s, the Eisenhower Foundation said Sunday that a go-it-alone law enforcement approach won't necessarily make streets safer.

"Regardless of actual crime rates," the study said, "the fear of crime remains as least as high today as it was in the 1960s. Because they influence how we live and act, fear and perception are important measures of crime."

FBI statistics last October showed the number of serious crimes reported to the police during the first half of 1984 was 5 percent below the figure for the similar period of 1983, based on preliminary figures.

During the first half of 1984, overall violent crimes declined 2 percent. But rapes reported to police increased 6 percent and aggravated assaults were up 1 percent, the report said.

But the Eisenhower study said that regardless of actual crime rates, a recent ABC-TV poll found 86 percent of those sampled perceived that crime was going up.

The study, titled "American Volence & Public Policy," said vigilantism was one manifestation of that public perception. However, in a statement accompanying the report, foundation president Lynn Curtis said Bernhard Goetz, the New York subway vigilante, "went too far" when he recently shot four youths who accosted him.

"But to many Americans, the vigilante symbolizes frustration and anger over being victimized," Curtis noted. "There is a recognition that the police are limited in what they can do to prevent crime."

At a meeting of the foundation's board of directors last month, when the study was up for final approval, chairman Alanson B. Houghton asked the some 25 directors, 'How many of you have ever been mugged?'" said spokesman Joseph Laitin.

Carbohydrate cravers eat to improve mood

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A once-a-day candy bar or an English muffin snack eaten in a low-calorie regimen would satisfy the brain's need for carbohydrates and could help many fat people lose weight, says a researcher.

About half of all obese people crave carbohydrates — either sugar or starch — and gobble between-meal snacks because these foods increase levels of brain chemicals that improve their moods, researchers say.

Recent studies suggest that overweight people may eat too much because of an urge to change the way they feel, not because they're hungry.

"They clearly are eating the food because of a biological need to improve their feelings," said Dr. Judith Wurtman, who conducted the latest in a series of studies of the subject with her husband Dr. Richard Wurtman.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology study was published in the March issue of International Journal of Eating Disorders.

"It certainly is clear why people do so terribly on diets that deprive them of carbohydrates, why they feel irritable and cranky," Mrs. Wurtman said. "Depriving them of carbohydrate is like depriving someone with narcolepsy of sleep."

She believes these people can successfully lose weight if they go on diets that let them satisfy their cravings.

The game rolls in

By James Jacoby

"Two-over-one game force" is a bidding method very much in vogue among North American tournament bridge players. Just as the name implies, when a player using this method bids two of a lower-ranking suit in response to his partner's opening bid of one of a suit, he commits his side to getting to a game contract. This approach made the bidding of today's hand easy. North was able to show his 6-4 shape without getting beyond three no-trump.

The play was interesting. Declarer played a club to the 10 at trick two. When that held, he cashed the spade queen, noting with pleasure the fall of the jack. Then he cashed the heart ace. That seems strange, but look what now happens to East on the run of the spade suit. He must make five discards. Four of them are easy — two diamonds and two hearts. Meanwhile South has got rid of his two worthless hearts and a small club. Now comes the last spade from dummy. If East parts with the diamond queen, declarer can take a club finesse and lead a diamond to the king, winning the final two tricks with the club ace and the jack of diamonds. If East dumps the club nine, South jettisons a diamond and can run the remaining clubs, losing only a diamond at the finish.

POND SIZE

The size of your pond is one of the major factors that will determine what fish you need to stock, the intensity of pond management needed to maintain these fish and the number of fish you can harvest each year. Most ponds in Texas are constructed to serve as collectors of run-off to provide livestock water and are about one acre or less in size.

Traditionally, pond owners want bass in their "tanks," but those ponds smaller than one acre are not ideally suited for good bass production. Bass populations in small ponds typically become "unbalanced" and require renovation if fishing pressure is not controlled. Catfish stocked alone or with fathead minnows provide excellent fishing recreation and meat for the table.

Those ponds of one to five acres are more suitable for bass populations. If these larger ponds are stocked, managed and harvested properly, the pond owner can expect many years of pleasurable bass fishing. Ponds which have a fluctuating surface area should be stocked on the basis of average annual low water surface area.

MUDDY WATER

Many ponds have a tendency to stay muddy. This condition is caused by soil particles suspended in the water. Usually if a person looks, a reason can be found for the turbidity. Wave action, large populations of rough fish such as bullheads and carp or cattle wading and stirring the mud can cause muddiness.

Correction of the problem will usually result in the material settling to the bottom. If the suspended material is caused by clay particles, organic material or chemicals must be added to the water to correct the situation. Seventy-five pounds of cottonseed meal or 25 pounds of super phosphate per surface acre will clear a muddy pond.

Catfish perform better in muddy water than do bass which are primarily sight feeders. Forage, such as bluegill, usually become overpopulated in muddy ponds because bass are less capable of seeing and feeding upon them.

WATER FLUCTUATION

Ponds here in West Texas may experience drastic drawdowns during summer months. These drawdowns concentrate all fish in small areas and can reduce population either through predation or oxygen depletion.

Pond owners can minimize the impact of such drawdowns by providing deep water (10-12 feet) in part of the pond. If your pond fluctuates yearly, more forage fish should be stocked to maintain a balanced population after the pond fills again.

Leadership should be asset for WTC

Western Texas College will be making its 11th appearance in this week's Region V Tournament and if the 1984-85 Duster team has an advantage over previous teams it is probably to be found in its sophomore leadership.

Coach Joe Cushing starts five sophomores, guards Rhonda Hoelting and Lyndy French; forwards Renvy Evans and Patti Hayes and post Clara Campbell. Another, Judy Wiseman, is one of the first players to come off the bench.

The girls agree that six sophomores plus the experience of playing in last year's tournament are assets.

"We've got more leadership this year, six girls that were here last year and that want to win this year," said Hoelting, the squad's floor leader. "We're more hungry."

Wiseman said the group has come a long way mentally since the 1984 tournament.

"Last year I think we were looking ahead to Odessa when we played McLennan. We learned a valuable lesson. We've got to take one game at a time. Our goals are set high."

Ironically, the Dusters open the tournament against McLennan, the team that knocked them out of The question is, since Western has already defeated MCC 69-34 early this season, will there be a tendancy to overlook them when they pair off again at 9 p.m. Tuesday?

"No, I don't think so," said Hoelting. "We'll get up for them. We did beat them earlier this season but now is the time to beat them and send them back home the way they sent us home last year."

"I don't think we're looking ahead at all," confirmed French, 5-11 from Big Spring. "It's probably good that it was so long ago when we played them (Nov. 24). But we're not going to take anybody for granted. We're going to play one game at a time."

Boys fare well in first meet

Kyle Freeman led the Tigers to a sixth-place, 25½-point finish. Freeman placed third in both the shot and discus and fourth in the 100 meters. Reggie Price took third in the pole vault while Tommy Holladay was sixth in the 200 meters.

"I think we went over there with the idea of trying to establish something and had some pleasant surprises," said Coach Kevin Wiseman. "The 100, 200 and 400 were all run into the wind and against stiff competition. We knew we weren't going to score lot of points against that kind of competition. Overall I was pleased. We had a good effort from all our kids. We had tremendous effort in some events we didn't place in."

Odessa Permian won the Class 5A-dominated meet with 163 points. San Angelo central took second in the eight-team field with 111 points.

Freeman threw the shot 55-feet, 2½-inches, which moves him up to third place on Snyder's top 10 all-time list. He also snapped the standard of 52-6 and will be rewarded by having his name on the back of his jersey.

His effort in the discus was 151-1. He ran an 11.50 in the 100 meters.

"Kyle was the highlight of the meet for us. He scored 16 points and probably would have scored more if we hadn't been disqualified in the sprint relay," said Wiseman.

Snyder was DQ-ed for running beyond the zone on a handoff.

"Reggie went probably a foot over his best in meet competition," said Wiseman. "He was pleased and we're looking for great things out of Reggie. Robert (pole vaulter Robert Patterson) would have vaulted well but we need to find him a different size pole. We're working on that now."

Hollday's time in the 200 was a 23.91. He also ran on Snyder's sixth-place 1600 meter relay team which came in at 3:38.63. James Powell, Jamie Cofer and Dan Krenek filled out the four-man squad.

Snyder was scheduled to compete in the Tornado Relays this Saturday, but that meet has been cancelled to allow Lamesa students and faculty to attend the boy's state basketball tournament. Wiseman said the Tigers may participate in a meet at Stephenville, or could possibly hold a triangular or quadrangular meet in Snyder.

SHS Tigers take 3rd; test Big Spring next

FREDRICKSBURG – Snyder's Tigers evened their baseball record at 2-2 here Saturday by defeating Smithson Valley for third place in the Fredricksburg Tournament, 6-3.

The Tigers now gear up to host Big Spring at 6 p.m. on Tuesday.

Snyder started its scoring here in the bottom of the first. Bobby Velasquez led off with a double. Justin Webb followed with a fielder's choice. Webb stole second and one out later Steve Parker drove him in.

In the second inning, Brad Holcomb reached on an error and Velasquez walked. Charles Bollinger rapped a double to bring home both runners. Parker also walked and Jay Mayo singled in Bollinger. Willie Greathouse followed with a double to push Parker across. Mayo was called out for missing third base.

After that, Snyder stayed quiet until the fifth when Greathouse went to first on an error, stole second and came in on a single by Chris Fryar.

In all, Snyder got six runs on six hits.

Smithson got three runs off of three hits.

Greathouse started on the mound for Snyder and took the win. He threw two strong innings but got in trouble in the third when Smithson scored on two errors, a bunt and a walk.

Don Osborn came in in the fourth. He got in trouble in the fifth, loading the bases. Kenneth Pickering then came aboard and delivered a strikeout, but two squeeze bunts accounted for two runs. A double play ended the inning.

Bollinger pitched the final inning. He gave up one hit but no runs, and earned a save.

"We're anemic from the plate," he said. "For the first week (of the season) we hit .218 and that's the lowest we've been in ages. We've got to start hitting the ball better."

Lewis said he would start Jimmy Cain on the mound in Tuesday's game and give Bollinger the start Wednesday when Snyder hosts Midland.

END REGULAR SEASON

Hawks end Westerner season with last-second field goal

Al Willis only made two points Saturday night but they were the winning ones as Howard College edged Western Texas' Westerners 71-70 in overtime to advance in the WJCAC playoffs.

Howard, now 15-16 on the season, plays Amarillo College tonight in Amarillo. Amarillo advanced with a 70-59 victory over South Plains.

The loss ends Western Texas' season at 19-13. Spradling said that one reason for Western's loss is that the team may have been thinking ahead to Amarillo.

"I think so. We had beaten Howard twice, the last time by 18 points (105-87) and maybe we took them too lightly," said Spradling.

"They (Howard) played well. You've got to credit them. They shot the ball real well and we didn't. We had a lot of turnovers - a bunch of the unforced ones. When you turn the ball over as many times as we did you don't expect to win," he added.

Western committed 21 turnovers, including several at key times down the stretch.

Willis had taken an inbounds pass at the far end of the court with four seconds showing on the clock and dribbled down to hit the clutch 15-footer as time ran out. The bucket erased a one-point Western Texas lead, established when Alvin Hicks scored with seven seconds to play in the extra period.

"After Alvin scored that basket I think everybody celebrated a little too early. The same thing happened against New Mexico Junior College only we stopped them from dribbling down court. Saturday, we just celebrated too early," said Spradling.

The contest was tied 17 times, including 28-28 at intermission at 63-63 at the end of regulation.

James Dawn, Western's 6-5 freshman, was the one who sent the game into overtime by hitting consecutive pressure free throws with four seconds left in the game.

The score stayed 63-all until Joe Burney bagged a pair of free tosses with 3:05 to go in the extra period. Hicks tied the score on a layup and put Western in front 66-65 when he hit the first of two free throw attempts with 2:14 left.

The see-saw battle continued as Western took a three-point advantage on a layup by Victor Spencer and Howard went back in front on a pair of free throws and a follow-up bucket by H.B. Bell.

Both teams missed crucial free throws in the final minute. Hicks missed for Western with 35 seconds left and Mike Porter goose-egged for Howard at the 17-second mark. Ironically, Porter - one of the best free throw shooters in the conference - had earlier missed a freethrow with 12 seconds left in regulation that would have given the Hawks a three-point lead.

Hicks' 20 points led WTC. Dawn had 16 and Spencer 14.

Kimble scored 20 for Howard. The Hawks got 15 from Bell and 12 from Walt Reynolds.

The game, scheduled to start at 7, was delayed an hour because one of the officials had car trouble enroute.

Westerners compete in SHSU tournament

HUNTSVILLE – Western Texas College shot a 631 in the rain-plagued Sam Houston State University Invitational, played at Elkins Lake Country Club near here last weekend.

The University of Houston freshmen won the junior college division in the two-day meet with a total 590. McLennan Community College took second with a 592, followed by Alexander City, Ala. with a 608.

Western's 631, a 323 on Thursday and a 308 on Friday, was 10th in the division.

"The weather played a big factor," said Coach Dave Foster. "We started playing in the rain and finished in the rain. Thursday, we could not finish our round because of standing water on the greens. On Friday, we finished at 7:30," he said.

"WTC played well the first round until the last four holes, which were finished Friday. Friday afternoon we finished the second 18 holes and played better. This was our first tournament in the spring and we have a lot of work ahead of us," the coach added.

Western will play at Corpus Christi on March 11-14.

Netters first at Sweetwater

The Tigers accumulated 111 points to outgun host Sweetwater by 3. Lamesa took third place with 65 points.

"It was really a good win for the kids. They played real well," said Coach Charlie Chrane. "Everyone won their first-round match which guaranteed them more points. That was our first goal. We had to do well against Sweetwater in the finals and we did. Also, Brad Hart finished sixth overall but he had beaten the Sweetwater No. 2 boy the day before and that made a big difference in points."

Snyder had two doubles teams that placed first, thus winning 20 points apiece. Michael Risenhoover and Mike McWilliams defeated Danny Aguilar and Julian Aguilar from Sweetwater, 6-3, 6-4, to take the boys doubles crown.

Shanna Hart and Michelle Killian won first in girls doubles. They defeated Kim Kreidel and Elisa Castro of Sweetwater in the finals, 6-1, 6-2.

The open house observance will begin at 7 p.m. with varying activities planned at each campus.

In addition, the week will feature two other traditional events in Snyder, the Scurry County spelling bee Wednesday and the combined concert of sixth grade choirs Thursday. This year's choir offering is entitled "The GIGO Effect (A Computer Adventure)."

Central Elementary

A preview of the musical "The GIGO Effect (A Computer Adventure)" will be offered first. Parents will then be invited to tour classrooms to view student work and to visit with classroom teachers.

East Elementary

A meeting of the East PTA will open the activities. Student art work has been displayed in the school halls. Ribbons will be awarded for winning art work during the PTA meeting. Parents will then view all the art projects and visit in individual classrooms.

Stanfield Elementary

The third annual book fair at Stanfield will begin Monday and continue through the week. A variety of books provided by the Texas Book Fair Company will be displayed and sold. These books will be on display through Thursday. Parents are also encouraged to visit with teachers.

North Elementary

Students from the second and third grades will present a medley of patriotic songs entitled. "A Tribute to Parents." Classroom visits will follow with student projects on display.

Northeast Elementary

A preview of "The GIGO Effect (A Computer Adventure)" is scheduled for parents at 7:30 p.m. Monday. At 1 p.m. the same day, the sixth grade choir will perform this musical offering for grades 3-5 and again Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. for grades K-2. Visits with teachers are planned Monday also.

West Elementary

A bake sale sponsored by the sixth grade class of Denise Hinton will be offered to raise funds for the renovation of the Statue of Liberty. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria by members of the Parent Council also and classroom visits are encouraged. Friday, Melony Early's kindergarten class will perform "A Stranger in Mother Goose Land."

Although there will be no open house Monday night at either campus, Texas Public Schools Week will be observed also at the junior high and high school level.

All during the week, parents are invited to both campuses and to visit classes during instruction.

At each school cafeteria, students will find posters emphasizing the five nutritional food components necessary to a balanced diet. This is one effort of the America Food Service — which contracts to serve cafeteria food in Snyder — to prompt a healthy lifestyle.

ception to the typing of Texas Youth Commission commitments and record filing for several reasons. Even with best intentions, the latter two duties comingled with our already present heavy load would inevitably create an obligation on the County Attorneys Office which I feel is not our responsibility.

Both Line and Terrell stated that the secretary should receive additional compensation for the work and that the additional monies should not come from the county attorney's budget.

During the executive session, Thompson, Terrell and Line apparently agreed to work out the sharing arrangement. No action was taken by commissioners.

In other action, commissioners unanimously passed a motion to erect signs in Towle Park to eliminate truck traffic through the park. Citing damage to roads by construction equipment, Hassie Sneed, Pct. 2 commissioner, made the motion to restrict truck traffic to include only city, county and National Guard vehicles.

Upon the recommendation of County Auditor Bernard Bartels, the court also increased the petty cash fund for the child welfare office from $10 to $50.

They also authorized the transfer of funds from the Student Housing Fund to cover the college's part of the energy project.

Trustees first began the energy project in April of 1983 with the hiring of David Parr of FEULS in Austin to do an energy study. After the study was completed and trustees decided to go ahead with the energy project they also elected to hire the Lubbock firm as engineers for the project.

Some changes have been made from the initial considerations including installing a 450-ton chiller instead of a 340-ton chiller; not converting secondary pumps to variable speed; removal of the existing absorption chiller and cooling tower; relocating condensing water pumps to the inside of the building; and installing chilled water valves, modifying hot water on air handling unit and hot and cold deck controls.

Tank battery fire reported

Snyder fire fighters were called to extinguish a reported tank battery fire Sunday evening.

Firemen were called at 8:14 p.m. to a Patterson Petroleum Co. owned tank battery on the Elder Rock place about five miles north of the city on the Ennis Creek Rd.

At the scene, they discovered that oil and gas escaping from a vent pipe on the unit had caught fire and the blaze was quickly extinguished with minimal damage to the equipment.

H.B. 72 rule sidelines 225

SHS include 87 students ineligible from the band; 15 ineligible from the choir; 10 ineligible from the journalism department, and five ineligible for ag-related competitions.

As for athletics, three now sidelined were varsity baseball players; six were junior varsity baseballers; some 10 were out for boys track; and four were out for girls track.

All are now ineligible for their respective competitions until April 4.

At that time — which marks the end of the current six-weeks period — if all grades are passed the students may participate again.

Any SHS student with a grade below 70 as of April 4 will be ineligible for extracurricular activities until the end of school, however.

Regarding long range effects, Courtney commented, "Some (students) will get tougher and some will drop out."

The "drop out" problem was one he pointed to as a negative aspect of the new, tougher grade rules.

"The extracurricular activities were something schools put in to prevent drop outs," Courtney said, "To give the kid who doesn't excel at books something else — and in the process to get him a high school diploma."

Courtney said he feels the pendulum swing back toward the classroom and away from outside school activities will generate higher numbers of students not finishing high school.

As for students now prohibited from their extracurricular interests, the second part of the story will be told at grading time next April 4.

Brain injury affects memory

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I notice that deodorants contain aluminum. Can this cause Alzheimer's disease?

I have a problem with instant recall as a result of being in shock when I had a heart catheterization. It upsets me terribly when, in the middle of a sentence, I forget the word I was going to use next. How can I overcome this?

Is there any food I could eat that would help restore the brain cells? It has been a year and a half since that experience and there has been a small improvement, but I become frightened when this memory loss occurs. I'm 62 and do not want to become a senile old woman. My mother used to say that fish was brain food. Could eating it help?

DEAR READER — The aluminum in deodorants will not cause Alzheimer's disease. That aluminum never gets into the circulation; even if it did, it probably would not get past the blood-brain barrier to affect the brain.

However, your story is important because it will remind readers that many things affect memory — not just Alzheimer's disease. Injury to the brain can and does affect memory. That injury can be from a stroke or a temporary loss of circulation, as can occur with cardiac arrest. That is why it is so urgent to re-establish circulation to the brain within four minutes after the heart stops. The brain must be protected from lack of oxygen.

After an injury, such as a physical injury or the lack of circulation or oxygen, the brain functions usually can improve for two years; therefore, you still have some time to go. I think that many people can help themselves by exercising their memory.

There is no such thing as "brain food," but recent studies (using the PET scanner and radioactive sugar) show that [illegible] circulatory diseases decrease brain metabolism. This means that the things you do to prevent heart attacks and strokes will help to protect your brain, so eating a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet, controlling your weight, exercising and not smoking all may be important.

You will want to read the comments in The Health Letter 14-2, The Aging Mind, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — For several years I have had a problem with a double chin, and it seems to be getting worse. I always thought this only happened to people who were overweight, but I have never been heavy and, in fact, I am the ideal weight for my height and age (54). Are there exercises one can do to reduce a double chin? Do you recommend plastic surgery in some cases?

DEAR READER — Yes, that double chin can occur even if you are on the thin side, and it can occur relatively early in life. The problem is a fat pad, like a small pillow, just under the chin. You can inherit a tendency to have this, just as some people inherit other body features or a tendency to develop body fat in other locations.

There are no exercises that will eliminate the fat pad. The only way to eliminate it is by plastic surgery — removing the fat pad. You can strengthen the muscles under your chin by sticking your tongue in and out. Put your fingers under your chin and feel the action in moving the tongue. However, that will not eliminate the fat pad.
