City Divided Into Eight Alarm Zones, Senior Warden for Each

Designated by Colors and With Staffs — Baird Says Every District Will Work as Unit, Including Police, Firemen, Others.

The city of Artesia has been divided into eight districts for civilian defense purposes by N. M. Baird, warden chairman, as organization of his corps has taken a lead in the general set-up, and it is expected other committees and corps will follow the same general pattern in order to facilitate control in case of alarm.

Each of the districts has been placed under the supervision of a senior warden, who in turn will have three junior wardens, and will be designated by a color.

After consultation with J. C. Floore, chief of police, who is co-chairman with Fred Hill, deputy sheriff, of the police detail corps, Baird started the outline of an informational campaign, to be published in three weekly issues of The Advocate, by way of informing the citizens of Artesia how the plan will work and what each person is expected to do in case of an alarm.

Being published today are the primary instructions. Next week the secondary instructions will be published and the third week final instructions will be given, including a summary of the completed organization.

Baird said police, junior wardens, first aid workers and messengers from the Artesia High School Cadet Corps are being assigned to each district. Each senior warden will have headquarters in his district and through cooperation with the police and fire departments it has been made possible to have each district operate as a separate, self-contained community. The senior wardens will report by telephone to Baird, who will have general headquarters at the city hall.

The senior wardens will cooperate with the residents of their districts in every way possible and the public is earnestly requested by them and Baird to make suggestions. Baird said each senior warden will have a trained organization for the citizens' safety and protection in time of emergency.

The eight districts, as designated by color, the senior warden of each, and their geographical limits:

Black, Floyd Springer, everything east of Lincoln and north of Mosely.

Blue, Neil Watson, everything west of Seventh between Adams and Quay.

Yellow, Ray Bartlett, everything between Main and Adams west of Second and east of Seventh.

Brown, Henry F. Oliver, everything east of Second between Mosley and Main.

Green, Jim Ferguson, everything east of Seventh between Main and Grand.

Gold, John Shearman, everything west of Seventh between Quay and Washington.

Pink, Fred Cole, everything south of Grand and east of Seventh.

Red, Ajello Zamora, everything west of Lincoln and north of Adams.

'Sunny Jim' Makes Annual Salvation Army Drive Here

Baron Auriemma Says Response Is Good, in Spite of Other Demands

Baron J. V. (Sunny Jim) Auriemma of the Salvation Army is in Artesia this week making his annual appeal for funds, to which the public is making an unusual response, he said this morning.

In spite of the unusual demands on income, the baron said that some Artesia citizens have doubled or tripled their customary donations. Since Monday he has collected nearly as much as last year's total for Artesia, he said.

Will Robinson, in his "Side-lights" column in The Roswell Record, summed up the expected drive of the perennial spring visitor in Roswell, which fits the case here:

"Despite the fact that income taxes have to be paid on or before March 16, 'Sunny Jim' Auriemma, the champion bush-shaker in the world, is just now separating 'em from their money for the Salvation Army at Carlsbad. You might as well get your dab ready. Nothing can stop the singing apostle of soap, soap and salvation."

"Sunny Jim" pointed out in Artesia that besides the regular activities of the Salvation Army, the organization has added the burden of working with the men in the armed forces, which it has taken up, as in the last war.

Bulldogs Commended For Behavior During District Tournament

The calibre of the boys who make up the Artesia High School athletic teams was demonstrated again last week, when Arba Green, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, received a letter of commendation about them from E. W. Overman, manager of La Cima Court in Roswell, where the Bulldogs stayed during the district tournament.

Overman wrote: "We feel that you should be congratulated on the very excellent type of boys representing your city. And we should like your townspeople to know that their boys conducted themselves in such a manner that their always will be welcome at our court."

"Your coach in charge of the boys is to be commended for his efficient and understanding handling of the team."

Majors Declare They Can't Take State Allowable

The state oil conservation commission had confirmation Wednesday of what it had feared for several weeks—that the major oil companies, who buy New Mexico's petroleum exports, no longer are able to take all of the state's production allowable.

In a closed conference, representatives of the big companies told the commission they would be unable to buy either the state's original March allowable of 114,500 barrels daily, or War Petroleum Coordinator Ickes' recommended allowable of 100,200.

John Kelly, state geologist, describing the situation as "extremely serious," said the companies were unwilling at this time to estimate how much New Mexico oil they could buy. They agreed, however, to give the commission such estimates before its next meeting, March 25.

"It apparently depends on what transportation facilities are available from the Gulf ports," said Kelly.

Jacques Michelet, 82, Hagerman Pioneer, Killed on Highway

Jacques Michelet, 82, pioneer Hagerman resident and father of Louis Michelet of Clovis, formerly of Artesia, and of Mrs. Pete Cassabone and Mrs. Jack Cassabone of Hagerman and Hope, lost his life Sunday night in an automobile accident on the Roswell highway south of Dexter, when struck by a car driven by Irving Nelson of Dexter.

Funeral services were from the Hagerman Presbyterian Church Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Michelet, a native of Switzerland, who moved to Hagerman forty-five years ago, is survived by his widow and his children, those mentioned and Jim Michelet, Charles Michelet and Mrs. J. V. Brown, all of Hagerman.

TWO BUS SCHEDULE CHANGES ARE MADE

Ten First Aid Lay Teachers Ready to Start

All Artesians in Instructors' Course Qualify — Will Start Classes Here Next Week for Total of 180 Enrolees.

Artesia now has ten qualified lay Red Cross first aid instructors, as well as two physicians who qualified with national headquarters, and the several hundred persons on the waiting list for the standard first aid course soon will be attending classes and qualifying for the various corps under the civilian defense program.

The local lay instructors successfully completed their instructors' course Friday, given Monday through Friday of last week by Roy Kneip, first aid and water safety field representative from St. Louis Red Cross headquarters, on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel.

Of the fifty-two persons enrolled from Southeast New Mexico, a number failed to qualify for lay instructors' certificates, but all ten of the Artesia persons enrolled passed the rigorous and exacting course.

Kneip did not disclose the exact number of persons who failed. However, he said the fact the Artesia members of the classes worked harder than some others was responsible for the 100 per cent record.

Allotment 1064 Cottonseed for County Is Here

Fred A. Barham, Eddy County agent, announced this week that the county allotment of foundation 1064 cottonseed has been received, because of which a meeting of the Crop Improvement Association has been called at the courthouse in Carlsbad for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

With varieties other than Acala cotton being planted in the county, it is becoming more of a problem to procure pure cottonseed, Barham said.

For this reason, he said, he is anxious that the meeting have good attendance Friday and many persons, although not members of the Crop Improvement Association, are being asked to be present.

After completion of the association business, organization of a one variety cotton improvement and marketing association will be discussed.

Barham said this discussion will be conducted in order to find out whether the farmers of Eddy County are interested in organizing such a group.

Government Lottery Of New Registrants To Be Next Tuesday

The government lottery of names of men registered Feb. 16 under the Selective Service law will be held in Washington next Tuesday, March 17.

In the fact the day happens to be St. Patrick's Day some observers are saying perhaps there may be some significance, that it may indicate the driving out of the "snakes" from some other islands, which will come sooner or later.

In the lottery order numbers will be assigned to numbers being allotted each man registered by local draft boards.

Board Sends Resolution to Members of Congress From State, Requesting Stopping Strikes, Cutting Spending.

The board, in view of the recommendations, further resolved that the city pledges that for the duration of the present emergency no contributions, either direct or indirect, will be sought, nor will the city seek any special privileges.

The resolution in full: To the Honorable Members of Congress From New Mexico: Whereas, The United States of America is at war with certain unscrupulous nations which will stop at nothing to win, and,

Whereas, In order to combat successfully such evil forces, it is necessary to employ all of our resources of men, material and money in the fullest manner, and within the shortest time possible, in order to not unnecessarily prolong this war with its consequent loss of human life and materials and to insure our way of life, and,

Whereas, Special interest groups of one kind or another have continued to exert pressure with a view to obtaining a preferred status for themselves, or their organizations, or their constituents, using human misery and sacrifice as a stepping stone, and,

Whereas, We think it is the desire of the great mass of the American people to go "ALL OUT" in the matter of personal sacrifices, in the matter of men, material and money, for matters directly connected with the successful prosecution of the war, but NOT for things that are unrelated directly to this end, now,

Therefore, It behooves all patriotic citizens of this country to lay aside personal ambitions, personal gains at the expense of others, and personal aggrandizement for the duration of this war, and with these things in mind, we respectfully request that you use your influence and good offices in the United States Congress with a view,

First — Curtailing all unnecessary expense that does not directly (continued on last page, column 7)

Mrs. Mary Kissinger, 87, a pioneer first of Nebraska and then of New Mexico, and widow of the late Jacob Kissinger, died at 12:20 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Rose Mundhenke of Milford, Neb., with whom she made her home the last year. Death came from a heart attack after a short illness.

The body arrived in Artesia Tuesday afternoon. Requiem mass for Mrs. Kissinger was sung at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Anthony Church here by the Rev. Fr. Brendan Weishaar, pastor. Father Brendan was in charge of funeral services at McClay Chapel at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Burial was in Woodbine Cemetery.

More Than Two Carloads Scrap Iron Collected

Tom Sivley, local chairman for the various oil and gas associations in their drive to collect scrap iron in the "national offense" — no longer "national defense"—reported this morning that many individuals and companies are responding and that already more than two large carloads of scrap have been loaded out at the Artesia Alfalfa Growers Association yard.

J. S. (Scrap) Byars of Hobbs, who has government approval for collection of the scrap iron, said he will have a man at the yard all of this week, so as to load directly to cars from trucks, but did not say whether he would be here longer. However, the drive will continue until the ultimate ton of iron which can be used in the war effort has been collected.

Hugh L. Sawyers of Roswell, secretary of the New Mexico Oil and Gas Association and general chairman for the industry's drive in New Mexico, said large amounts of scrap are being brought in over the state.

The government is in great need of vital war materials and every effort should be made to get all the scrap metal, aluminum and rubber collected and in trade channels, Sawyers said.

Rotarians Here See Movies, Compliments Of Carlsbad Club

SAFETY SUGGESTION FOR THE WEEK

Be careful—disaster can delay victory at home, too!

ONLY THREE MONTHS AFTER PEARL HARBOR

In the past we have pointed out the fallacy of the theory that "it can't happen here."

But if you had asked us on Dec. 7 if the Japs could invade the United States successfully we would have laughed at you.

Had you said at that time that the Philippines would have been invaded—except for a small part being held by one of the most heroic groups in the history of the world—and that Singapore and the Malay Peninsula would have fallen, along with Borneo, Sumatra and Java, within a matter of three short months we would have thought you crazy.

It is time to wake up, not only on the West Coast, but in every community in the United States—and that includes Artesia!

Do you realize that one of the most likely points of invasion of the United States is through Baja California, Mexico? Do you realize that its 800 miles of west coastline are practically unguarded? Do you realize that it is but a short jump from the Gulf of California to Boulder Dam? Do you realize that the Japs know every cove and bay the entire length of Baja California—as well as most of them along our own West Coast—and that it is believed they have caches of material and secret landing fields spotted throughout the vast wastes of that Mexican state?

If you don't, then it is about time you woke up to the matter!

No, the Japs cannot take Singapore! They cannot take Java! They wouldn't dare attack Pearl Harbor, as far as that is concerned! But they did—all three of these things—and many more.

Then is it silly to believe that they could—and might—attack our own country? We believe not. We believe they have a very definite plan of attack already mapped out. We believe they are trying to work out a checkmate for such a thrust in Washington at this time. We believe there are plans mapped out for every possible thrust, but we likewise believe that anything can happen—within as well as without.

If and when such an attack does come, all of the fighting will not be on the coast or at the points of invasion. The fifth column, which has been laying low, will strike at many places at once, so as to disrupt the populace of the interior and to divide the military forces.

Artesia is vulnerable to just such activity!

That is why every man, woman and child who can, should take an active interest in the civilian defense program. That is why more people should show an interest in the various corps, which are being formed, and why more should enroll for some sort of work.

It is time to shelve that old idea that "it can't happen here," and to place trust in God—but to get in there and give Him all the help you can!

HERE'S SOMETHING ELSE THAT CAN HAPPEN

The increased costs of publication are being reflected in a number of newspapers, as well as some magazines, which have found it necessary to raise their news stand and subscription rates.

Most noteworthy to date was the announcement by the Saturday Evening Post, perennial nickel magazine, that the news stand charge soon would be increased to a dime, while the subscription rate would be raised at the same time.

We have noted in trade papers that many weekly newspapers already have raised their rates and others are to follow suit.

But for the present The Advocate will maintain its old, established rates.

However, no guarantee can be made as to how long this will maintain. We may have to go up next month, or in six months; we do not know.

But we will do our utmost to retain the old rates. This will be made possible by adhering more closely to a policy involving subscriptions paid in advance, thus eliminating losses, and by a definite attempt not only to hold our wide circle of readers, but to increase our subscription list.

After all, we are your newspaper, and by your continued support and cooperation we will remain your newspaper, the kind you like and make it, the best weekly in the state of New Mexico.

DUTIES OF AN AIR RAID WARDEN

Some of the fellows around town, who are potential air raid wardens and as such have been wondering what their duties will be, might get some idea from this Associated Press dispatch from Santa Barbara, Calif., although it does not give a complete cross-section of what is to be expected:

Allan Wilson says there's no end to an air raid warden's duties. George Cudsworth telephoned Wilson:

"As warden of our block will you come over and watch the children so I can go to the hospital and help Mrs. Cudsworth have our baby?" Wilson did.

Sands of Time

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(From The Advocate Files of an extra, Saturday, March 5, 1927)

Aided by fair weather, the El Paso motorcade is making scheduled time through the Pecos Valley. The visitors were here at noon today and were met by delegations from Lovington, Hope, Elk and Seagraves, Tex.

Artesian wells, which furnish the principal supply of water for irrigation in the north part of the Pecos Valley, number more than 1,232, according to a count made by Albert S. Fielder, U. S. geologist. Of the number, 66 per cent are in Chaves County and 34 per cent in the northern part of Eddy County.

(From The Advocate Files for March 10, 1927)

The Roswell High School Coyotes emerged victorious in the finals of the Pecos Valley basketball tournament at Roswell Saturday and Lake Arthur was runner-up. Carrizozo beat Artesia for third place.

The Artesia Rotary Club held its twenty consecutive 100 per cent meeting this week.

The Artesia volunteer fire department was called to the Pearson farm on the Cottonwood about 11:30 o'clock Friday morning, after several frantic appeals for help had come in rapid succession. The boys found fire scattered all over the farm yard. It took forty minutes of fighting to put the fire out, using water from an Artesian well.

Quick work by the fire department saved the Hotel Willard from destruction from fire yesterday afternoon, when a blaze from undetermined cause broke out on the roof during a high wind.

The board of education met Sunday at Central School to discuss the problem connected with the condition of the building. The members inspected the building throughout, but found no serious damage from the high wind Friday.

Small Death Toll in February Reflects From Safety Drive

Fifteen persons were killed in New Mexico motor vehicle accidents last month, according to W. R. Eccles, traffic safety engineer.

This is one less than the sixteen killed during February, 1941, and speaks well for the safety drive being conducted in the state. The month saw the breaking of another record, for the last fatal accident of the month was Feb. 22.

Of the many types of accidents recorded, collision with another vehicle took eight lives. Two died when cars ran off the roadway and two were killed when cars overturned on a roadway. Two pedestrians were killed and one person was killed by explosion in car.

No Health Menace In Sugar Rations

Restricted sugar purchases may be inconvenient at first—but they needn't be a kitchen tragedy, Mrs. Dorothy Y. Hanny, extension nutritionist of the New Mexico A. & M. College, said. In the following paragraphs, Mrs. Hanny passes on some suggestions for conserving sugar outlined by Dr. Louise Stanley, of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Keep a weather eye out for sugar wastes. One of the most obvious is the undissolved sugar in the bottom of a cup of coffee or tea. Others are oversweetened foods, cake failures or failures of any product containing sugar.

Try eating fewer rich desserts, fewer pastries and very sweet cakes. Fresh fruits are among the most nutritious and desirable of desserts and they carry their own sugar. Canned fruits come in the class of not-too-rich desserts. Dried fruits are one of the best sources of natural sugar. Custards and simple puddings are other desserts that use smaller amounts of sugar.

When you sweeten sauces, such as applesauce, put the sugar in at the end of the cooking time. It will take less sugar to get the same sweetness if you don't cook the sugar so long.

And remember that most of us can get along on a lot less sugar than we have been eating and still have nutritious meals that taste good. Sugar supplies food energy in an exceedingly palatable form. But as far as energy from food goes, any reduction in sugar can easily be taken care of by increasing quantities of other energy-giving foods in the diet. There are many other inexpensive energy-giving foods that supply, in addition, valuable vitamins and minerals. Whole-grain cereals are one such food group. Starchy vegetables and dried fruits are others.

Pix Rhapsody

World traveler, athlete, a modern soldier of fortune, Bruce Cabot of Carlsbad for the first time in his screen career is playing a role that completely fits his personality in Walter Wanger's "Sundown," at the Ocotillo Theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

As a boy, Cabot's spirit of adventure asserted itself at his home town, when he and his companions explored miles of the famous Carlsbad Caverns several years before they were taken over by the government and established as a national monument.

After sessions in two military schools, Cabot was sent to school at Tours, France, and traveled by foot and bicycle over most of Europe before he returned home to complete his education at the University of New Mexico.

Disdaining practice of law—his father's calling—because it didn't promise enough excitement, young Cabot became a prospector for a while and then worked in the oil fields as a driller. He loved the rough and ready life of construction and oil camps, but when his family protested he tried being a "white collar" worker for a time. Cabot was seeking an accounting job in a Hollywood studio when a producer saw him and gave him the screen test, which launched his screen career.

Numerous opportunities for appointment in the federal-state agencies, especially for stenographers and visitors, DuBois said.

Written examinations will be given on Saturdays in April, and it is expected that appointments from registers will begin in late May or June.

Individuals who have not yet completed training or experience requirements but who will complete them by June 30 will be admitted to examinations.

Detailed announcements and application blanks may be secured by writing Philip H. DuBois, Merit System supervisor, 2924 East Central Avenue, Albuquerque.

Despite rumors that farm prices will skyrocket and hit the consumer right between the folds of his pocketbook, the Department of Agriculture has announced that in 1942 prices received by farmers for farm products are expected to hold around parity, averaging neither greatly above nor greatly below that point. In other words, prices received in relation to prices paid, interest, and taxes, are expected to average about the same as at the end of 1941, when the rate was 99 per cent of parity.

And that's a square and fair deal all around for farmer and consumer. With farmers already preparing land, and in some instances planting, for the largest food production in any year of American history, there will be plenty of food for Americans and the United Nations. Following is the agricultural situation, by commodities, as reported by the USDA:

Wheat—Unless exports increase considerably, stocks in 1943 will be larger (even with acreage allotments) than this year. The loan program will maintain the wheat price.

Cotton—Unusually high consumption of cotton may reduce the supply around two million bales—but will still leave a reserve stockpile of some ten million bales, which is just about a year's supply.

Feed grains—There is a two-year supply of feed grains. Through increased feeding—to meet Food for Freedom goals—the supply may dwindle slightly.

Hogs—Production and marketings for 1942 for hogs will set an all-time record. Higher consumer demand and increased marketings will be about the same.

Beef cattle—Ranchmen will have to step high to meet the beef demand and the goal can be met easily through careful marketing, in which ranchmen hold their herds to "normal grazing capacity levels."

Dairy products—Another new record will be set in 1942 in milk production and manufactured dairy products.

Poultry and eggs—Increased number of eggs-per-hen along with increased flocks will set a new high for egg and poultry production.

Fats and oils—There will be a strong domestic demand, because of shutting off of imports. Increased acreages of oil-producing crops already have been announced.

Potatoes—Little indication of increased acreages of white potatoes, although sweet potato acreages will be hiked.

Farmers may not be able to get ample supplies of molasses or other preservatives for making grass and legume silage this year because of wartime needs, but they can make such silage successfully if they allow forage to wilt to lower-than-usual moisture content before ensiling.

In Italy, according to one report, a new set of menu rules has been laid down. Included is this: "During the week fowl, venison, liver, brains and tripe may be served."

Mostly tripe, no doubt, what with the United Nations' blockade.

Ships on the Sea Mean Priorities Ashore

A lot of metal goes into a battleship. And if, as things stand now, there isn't enough metal to make battleships and housekeeping appliances for the Mesdames of America, we'll take the battleships. Because what's the point of having appliances if someone can come and bomb them to bits anytime?

So if you can't buy some new electrical appliances you know you've helped build a ship. Besides, many times you can make the old one do. Your dealer will be glad to help with valuable suggestions.

Senator Chavez has asked interested New Mexico citizens to inform him of reasons why they feel their areas would be suitable to the experimental growth of guayule, a rubber-producing shrub. The senator said he had suggested that cities anxious to grow guayule send him detailed reports of their year-round climate, suitability of soil and other pertinent information. The material would be turned over to Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, he said, "thus placing New Mexico's suitable areas out in front in the program to replenish the supply of para rubber cut off by the war."

Rodgers Sees Little Drop in State Revenue

H. R. Rodgers, state land commissioner, prompted by recent predictions of declining state revenues, believes there is little likelihood that Land Office receipts will drop substantially in 1942.

The office's two principal sources of revenue—the livestock and oil industries—were described by the commissioner as operating "satisfactorily."

A total of 11,019,255 acres of state institutional lands is under grazing leases in good standing, while oil lease rentals alone have been bringing in an average of $90,000 a month.

The commissioner pointed out that receipts from oil and gas lease rentals, which are expected to remain relatively unaffected by war conditions, go into school and institutional current funds, whereas royalty revenues are placed in the permanent funds.

"It is this latter source of income," said Rodgers, "which is more likely to be affected by the present situation, since lack of marketing facilities, pipelines, refineries and tankers is likely to curtail production."

Insofar as the State Land Office itself is concerned, the institutions will still possess the oil under ground and unproduced, or will have its equivalent in money in the permanent fund, he said.

And, he continued, retaining of oil at this time under ground might not be a bad idea, when one considers the destruction of the oil fields of Borneo, Sarawak, Sumatra, Java and Malaya.

In a telephone conversation with Aurimma, Major Paul Bodine of Tucson, divisional secretary, said the Roswell members are permitted only to come to Artesia three or four times a year, then to sell The War Cry and not to solicit with tambourines.

March Garden Notes

If you have a plot of ground with good soil, and especially if there is a family to be fed, something should grow on that ground this year.

Besides being good exercise, digging one's hands into the dirt, knowing the feel of good earth, is one of the best ways to keep calm.

Secretary Claude R. Wickard of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, at a recent conference in Washington, asked for at least one and a third more gardens this year.

Grow gardens for food, for more vigorous health, and grow flowers, lawns and shrubs for the soothing of your nerves.

If the backyard patch looks small, keep every bit of the ground busy from early spring until late fall.

Sow radishes and carrots in the same row. As the radishes are pulled out, the carrots begin to fill out and take up the space.

One thing is essential, whether a large or small garden, a good supply of minerals for the growing plants. Fertilizer is essential for production.

Seeds are said to be scarcer this year, even the old standbys, because we used to get many of our seeds from European countries and now that supply is cut off.

It is reported that Hitler has robbed Holland of all the tulip bulbs for private planting and that even he encourages the growing of flowers in mechanized Germany.
