BEADLE CONFESSES IN LEBOUQUE SLAYING MAN SLASHES WIFE'S THROAT THEN KILLS HIMSELF

WOMAN RUSHES FROM HOUSE AS BLOOD SPURTS

MAN'S BODY FOUND ON FLOOR OF HOME IN WOLFE CITY

WOLFE CITY, Texas, Aug. 1.—Because his wife wanted to take a trip to California, Carter Crow, 46, early today cut her throat with a knife and then nearly severed his own head. Both died almost instantly.

Breaking into the house, entrances to which were locked, investigators found Crow dead.

Justice E. P. McWhorter returned a verdict that Crow killed his wife and himself.

Decapitated Body Believed Cowman

WICHITA, Kansas, Aug. 1. (AP)—Police today were investigating the possibility that the decapitated body of an unidentified man found on the railroad tracks near Florence, Kansas, yesterday may be that of George Klein, 56, wealthy rancher of Okfusco, Okla.

Relatives To View Body Relatives of the missing cattleman will be asked to go to Florence to view the body.

Pop Plans Dash To South Pole!

WELL, SPOSE WE CAN'T GET THROUGH THESE ICE FLOES, THEN WHERE DO WE GO TO HEAVEN, I HOPE!

Many a hardy explorer has gone into the polar wastes and never returned. Starvation and cold have written more last chapters in the lives of explorers than the explorers ever lived to write in words.

But danger is the very thing that has induced Pop Gunn, of the "Mom's Pop" comic strip, to sign up for a dash to the south pole.

He's determined to show Men that he is no spiritless milkop, even if he has to trek through hundreds of miles of ice floes to prove it.

Captain Olof Ericson, direct descendant of Lief Ericson, is the organizer of the trip and it is under his direction that the two plan to sail into the Antarctic ice fields, there to go by dog team to the "bottom of the world."

Follow the story every day on the comic page of the Journal. Even on these hot days, it will make you shiver just to think about the adventure Pop and the captain are planning.

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 1. (AP)—Train service into Wichita Falls from the Fort Worth and Denver railroad was impaired Sunday as the result of washouts on the Colorado and Southern line, which runs north from Texline to Denver, and officials of the road Monday said that high waters in the Canadian river at Tascosa may take out the bridge over the stream.

Heavy Near Texline Reports of washouts on the Colorado and Southern tracks, which the Fort Worth and Denver uses after leaving Texline, indicated that heavy rain fell in that section Sunday.

Officials of the Fort Worth and Denver reported Monday that a light rain fell during the night at Texline and that a heavy rain was reported in the vicinity of Grand New. A report of hail several feet deep in the vicinity of Des Moines, N. M., could not be confirmed there.

Bridge May Be Out Whether the bridge over the Canadian river at Tascosa goes out depends upon the rainfall in the New Mexico mountains. Denver officials said. The water in the river was reported to be very high. At 9 o'clock Monday morning there was a steady rain falling at the way from Wichita Falls to Childress. The Wichita Falls and Southern railroad reported rain from Wichita Falls to Archer City but said no rain had been recorded at other places along its lines.

WORLD COTTON CONSUMPTION REPORT GIVEN

17,428,000 AMERICAN BALES SET NEW HIGH MARK LAST YEAR

(By Associated Press) NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1.—The world consumption of American cotton during the season ended with the close of July was fixed at 17,428,000 bales in the annual report of Secretary Henry G. Hester of the New Orleans cotton exchange, by the figures was stated to be the greatest ever recorded.

Largest Ever Known The world's consumption, Mr. Hester said, had never before reached seventeen million bales. Correspondingly, cotton consumption in the southern states, including linters, was the largest ever known.

Southern consumption was fixed at 5,471,291 bales, 692,465 more than was consumed last year and 1,091,273 more than the previous year.

Secretary Hester said the enormous cotton consumption was largely due to the use of relatively cheap low grade cotton which has considerably increased its substitution for other growths by the mills and other consuming interests.

Takes All Available He added that the world had taken virtually all the American cotton it could get. Exports amount to eleven and a quarter million bales, and the takings by American mills, north and south, totaled about eight and a quarter million bales.

New Dry Chief Of Nation, Taking Over Enforcement Machinery, Raps Radical Elements Of Both Pro And Anti Forces

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Formally taking over the office of federal prohibition enforcement chief, Seymour Lowman of New York today declared "the greatest job is to hold down the activities of the radical wets and the radical dries."

"Temperance and sobriety are commendable virtues," he said. "We want a sober America."

Mr. Lowman, a former lieutenant governor of New York, was sworn in at the treasury to succeed Lincoln C. Andrews, an assistant secretary in charge of dry law operations.

"I am looking for honest enforcement of the prohibition law, just the same as other United States laws are enforced," he said. "Disloyalty will not be tolerated in the prohibition service. I have no policy except an orderly business like carrying out the mandates of congress."

Assistant Secretary Andrews turned over a "splendid organization" for effective work when he resigned.

Mr. Lowman said "Both the coast guard and the customs service, which have been greatly augmented, are making it very difficult to smuggle liquor into the United States."

An Effective Basis Referring to the status of the prohibition law, established April 1, Lowman said it was "being put on an effective basis by Dr. James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner and other practical men."

Asked to amplify his statement about radical wets and radical dries, Assistant Secretary Lowman said: "By radical wets, I refer to those individuals who are unwilling to accept the constitution of the United States and the mandates of congress and who advocate ignoring and nullifying the prohibition law. They have their adequate remedy in changing the constitution in the regular way; by repealing the 18th amendment."

131 Votes Polled at 2 One hundred and thirty-one votes in four precincts in this city were cast up to 2 o'clock this afternoon. The votes by precincts follow: Precinct number 1, 59 votes; precinct 2, 12 votes; precinct 3, 13 votes, and precinct 4, 55 votes.

Beginning yesterday morning, the eruption progressed, unceasingly until the early hours this morning when the lava, having filled the Valley of Hell rose above the dikes erected to check its flow into the valley, and then began to run down the paths toward Terzigno.

GIANTS TRIM CARDS AGAIN TO INCREASE TOP PLACE MENACE

CUBS TROUNCE PHILS AS BUCS HAVE OFF DAY

REDS TAKE 16TH OUT OF LAST 20 BY SPLIT WITH BROOKLYN

(By Associated Press)

They are still waiting for one of the National League leaders to crack but the first day of August found the select group of three making way for another serious contender—the Giants. While the Pittsburgh Pirates were idle yesterday the Chicago Cubs moved to within a half game of the leadership. The St. Louis Browns slugged the ball to all corners of Wrigley field and downed Philadelphia 12 to 5. Charlie Root hung up his 18th pitching victory of the year, while Freret and Decatur of the Phils were ineffective.

Rally Wins For Giants

The Giants, by trimming the Cardinals, made it four out of five games for the road trip to date. Metcalf's club put on a typical late-inning rally to beat the Red Birds 7 to 4. A home run by George Harter with the bases full in the eighth transformed a tight pitching duel into a slugfest. The Cards scored a run each in the fifth, seventh, eighth and ninth. But Virgil Barnes' tightened up in the pinches and allayed several threatening rallies.

When the Cincinnati Reds broke even in a doubleheader with Brooklyn they ran their winning mark to 16 victories in the last 29 starts. Cincinnati kept a half game ahead of the Dodgers. The Phillies took the opener, 6 to 2, and dropped the second, 3 to 2 in 10 innings. Autry Lauer had the better of Jess Petty in the first game, although Brooklyn outbit his rival, Fred Cincinnati starter, booted away the second game when, with a double play in sight, he fumbled the ball on Stutz' drive.

Tigers Lose To Senators

Homee Lisenber set back the Detroit Tigers 7 to 2. In the only game played in the American League, Washington pounded three Detroit pitchers for 10 hits while Lighabee was holding the opposition to five runables. It was the third straight victory for the Senators over Detroit.

The Yankees were halted by rain and will play a double header with Cleveland today.

Veteran Amateur Golfer Is Victim Of Long Illness

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 18.—Walter J. Travis, who 20 years ago occupied much the same position in American golf as Bobby Jones does today, has sunk his last putt. The veteran New Yorker died here yesterday after a long illness and his body will be started east today for burial at Manchester, Vermont.

From 1898, when he made his first bid for golfing greatness, until the war, Travis was a mighty figure in the amateur ranks. He was the first American player to win the British amateur championship. He won at Manchester against a field of 104 competitors in 1904 while he was still amateur champion of the United States. Travis was 42 at that time.

His achievement abroad strangely enough, marked the high water mark of his golfing career, and never again did he figure as a contender for a national championship. In all, Travis held the American amateur title three times, the Metropolitan championship four times and countless other titles.

Travis was born in Australia in 1862 and although he came to the United States while a young man he did not take up golf until he was 35.

Lomski's Work Is Popular With New York Fight Fans

(By NEA Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Aggressive boxing Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash., who scored a hit in his first two bouts here, is likely to pick up quite a bit of change if he keeps on. With a style similar to that of the late Harry Greb, the westerner socked Maxie Rosenbloom and some had named Mays for plenty of Gotham critics.

Lomski has plenty of ring color and personality, and should be a tough one to beat in his next few fights. He is improving every fight and, as soon as he gets accustomed to the New York climate, should be among the best fight heavyweights.

NEW RECORD IN PITCHING IS SET BY TEXAS LOOP

SIX CLASS D HURLERS NOW REGULAR IN ONE SEASON'S CHOICE

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 18.—Among the pitchers taking their regular turns on Texas league clubs, six were graduated a year ago from the now defunct class D Texas association. It is believed that this is the first time that a class D outfit ever contributed as many as six hurlers to a class A league in a single season. The twofers who made the jump successfully are Gene Walker of Dallas, Walter Newman of San Antonio, Bill Shores and Earl Caldwell of Waco, and Tex Carlton and Dick Whitworth of Houston.

Walker With Palestine
Gene Walker was with the pennant winning Palestine team last season, and one of the chief winners of the circuit. His work was somewhat overshadowed by the brilliance of young Leslie Cox of the University of Texas, who was sold by Palestine to the Chicago White Sox. But Walker won many more games than Cox and was almost invincible during the latter part of the season. An operation for appendicitis delayed his start with Dallas this year but he now appears ready to work regularly and is used as a starting pitcher.

Whitworth Unused
Dick Whitworth, who had a trial with Houston back in 1921, has had a most unusual career. He first attracted attention in 1919 in a series between Taylor and Lockhart when he bested Bib Falk row of the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 0. He later joined Nick Lina's city league team in Austin, and his work there enabled him to be offered a trial with Houston. He did not make good with Houston, and came back to Austin.

Whitworth Unused
Since that time he has pitched for Austin in the Texas association until this year, and always was a big winner. Last fall he was purchased by the St. Louis Cardinals but refused to report because it would result in his losing his seniority with a railroad, for which he works in the winter months. He recently pitched one of the best games seen in the Texas league this year when he limited Wichita Falls to three hits.

Lyons Working Hard
Owner Charles Coniskey insisted that Ed Walsh be worked over time when he was starting with the Chicago White Sox and thereby cut short his career many years. It seems the same tactics are being adopted with Ted Lyons.

Looks At Life

The warden of Sing Sing prison, having presided over some 20,000 convicts and having seen over 100 of them get the death sentence, should rightly be a pessimist of deepest hue, but 'tis not so.

Casting a speculative eye over the warden's domain, the warden has given out in formal interview an unequivocal endorsement of life just as it is.

Why the warden chose one of the hottest days of the year to start this metaphysical controversy is hard to understand, for when the mercury hovers near the century mark it is no time to wax philosophical. Be these reasons what they may, the warden has put the issue on the table for the world at large in plenary session to discuss.

The warden is no sentimentalist. He sticks to cold facts to prove his hypothesis. "Life," says he in beginning, "is growth and action, while death is stagnation and decay." Unassailable axioms these, beyond all fault finding. "Life at best is short," he says. True again, but hardly original. The argument doesn't seem to be leading into paths or pastures new. Looking further the meat of the whole thing is discovered: "Life is worth living as a sporting proposition, if for no other reason."

Here is philosophical beefcake for the thinkers to chew at meal times and pick out of their teeth at leisure. Life is a sporting proposition, a game, a dare. Twenty-three years with the warden to this conclusion. Life to those of the warden's belief is not something to be lived for future glory, but a thing to be lived for its thrill of the present.

What life really is all about has been a source of argument since the human race began. That the warden of Sing Sing has found the answer in his "Life is a sporting proposition," is open to grave doubts. The churches, material evidences of the belief in life for a hereafter, a future reward and a future punishment, are still thriving in spite of the ravages of wrong doing and the pestilences of perdition.

Soft Justice

Banks lose 150 millions every year through the embezzlement of disreputable employees, and one reason given for this amazing theft is that "extravagant habits ushered in by increased salaries have played their part in pulling many a banker from his perch of trust."

Murder is not the only crime that the judicially minded can get away with today, and the plea for hard-boiled justice cannot be made too often.

Kindly, sympathetic, forgiving jurists are as much to blame for the crime wave as movies, or jazz, or the automobile, or any other of the soft causes paraded by the soft hearted and soft headed reformers.

Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, of Galveston, will be a candidate for the United States Senate from Texas in 1928, an announcement says. In case the lady is looking for a campaign slogan may we suggest "Hope Springs Eternal In The Human Breast?"

We don't need signboards to tell the motorist when he crosses the Lubbock county line. What we do need is signboards a hundred yards before the line is reached so he can take a firm grip to keep from being jolted out when he reaches the boundary.

THE PLAINSMAN

Government domination, through an appointed board, should safeguard the rights of the people in public utilities disputes. Only recently employees of New York traction companies—operators of subways, surface systems and elevated lines in America's largest city—threatened to 'walk out' due to a wage disagreement with the magistrates. The strike was averted at the eleventh hour but suppose it had not been? Business in the great city, which has a heavy bearing upon business of the entire nation, would have been paralyzed. Hundreds of thousands of innocent persons would have suffered because of the strike. Obviously, such a situation would be most unfair. Now The Plainsman doesn't know whether the workers or the magistrates were at fault—and furthermore he doesn't care. He feels that the rights of millions of people are far more important and deserve protection 'regardless of who is right or who is wrong in disputes of this type. Ordinarily The Plainsman believes that the government should follow astiduously a "hands-off" policy in private business but when a private business becomes so large, so necessary and so potent in the affairs of a great number of people then he believes that Uncle Sam should take a hand.

Under a flaming banner across its first page an Amarillo newspaper points out that "Amarillo is the logical center of aviation." Using both news and editorial columns Abilene newspapers are likewise urging their readers to get behind a municipal airport, although that city already has Kinross field, an Army landing place. Lubbock cannot afford to sit idly by. We too, must show some action in the affording of an airport here. Airmail and passenger service is soon to be installed between Denver, El Paso and Kansas City. A new airmail line has already begun between Atlanta and New Orleans and every day announcements of new organizations are being broadcast. Commercial aviation's lobbyists and correspondents here, but not to the 95 per cent of ordinary Washingtonians. The average Washingtonian is a government clerk.

The point is that Washington itself doesn't take any marked interest in politics, large national issues, or the sectional troubles of the rest of the country. The main concerns of the government workers are to do their jobs satisfactorily, to have as good a time as possible—and to bear up under the heat. They don't even pay much attention to Congress which, for all its importance, is one of the best shows on earth.

The Washingtonians—opinion is divided to whether a majority or minority—show an unfortunate attitude toward the Volstead Act, but here, as elsewhere, there are wets and dries among the citizenry and there are so many churches that the dry put up a formidable front.

This city, like any other, is primarily interested in its local affairs. The fact that it is less interested in politics may be partially explained by the fact that its people have no vote and that it is governed by Congress and a board of commissioners appointed by the president.

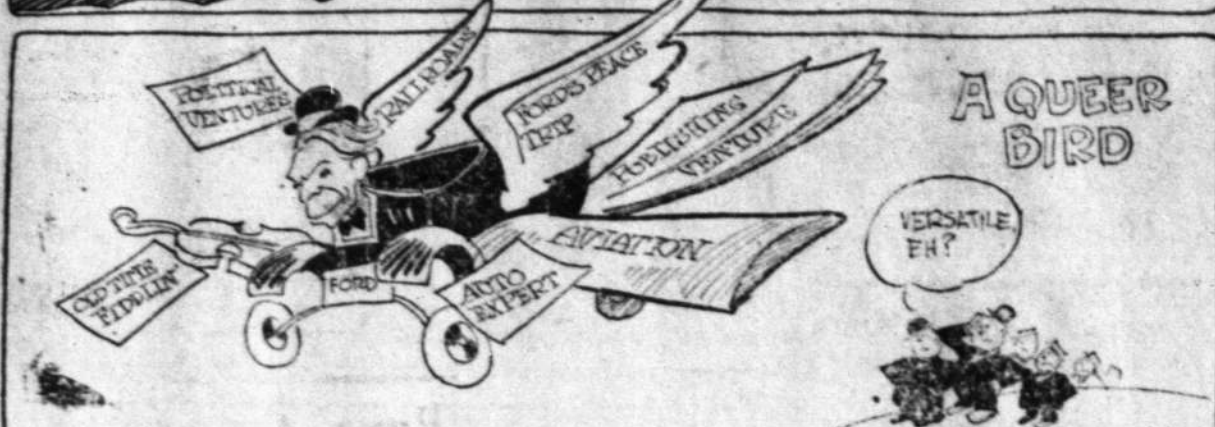

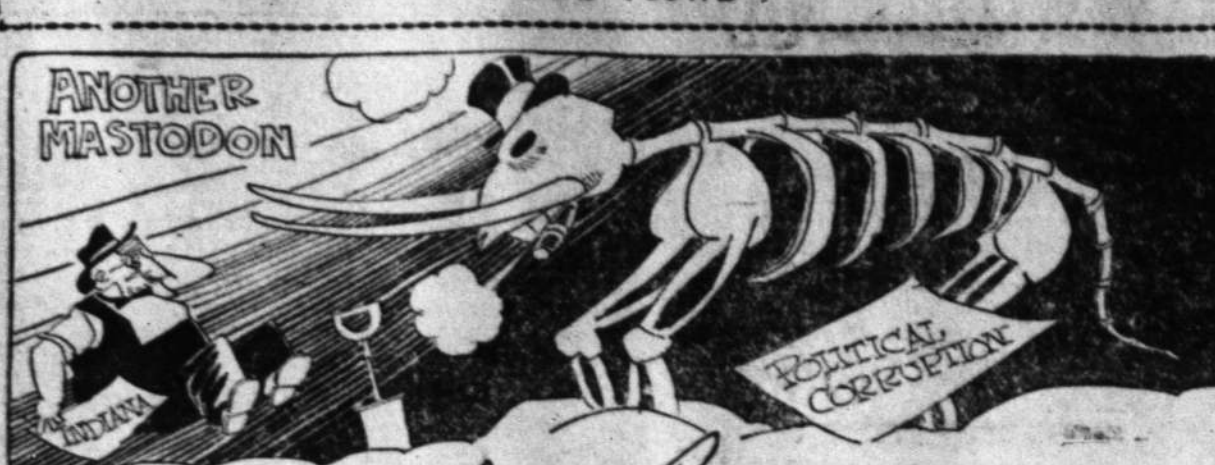

The people of the city do seem to have a more affectionate regard for President Coolidge than many of the higher officials and politicians.

They laughed their heads off at their movie theatres when the news reels showed Mr. Coolidge in his new cowboy outfit. The president, it was at once obvious, had shown all the makings of a game sport when he put on those pants, for he was obviously not designed for such habiliments. The spectacle of the president descending the steps after changing his clothes, of his experiences with the horse which he did not ride, and his other poses gave ample cause for merriment, although there was every reason to believe that Mr. Coolidge fully appreciated the humor of the occasion.

Other topics of current interest here are the likelihood of an air mail stop at the capital, alleged inefficiency of the police force, and the now-withdrawn libel suit against the presidential pastor, the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce—never forgetting, of course, the intermittent scorching weather.

It seems likely that Washington will become an air mail stop on the New York-Atlanta route, although Baltimore threatened to take the honor away. It is expected that landings will be made for a time at Bolling Field, pending establishment of a satisfactory landing field. There was a row for a time when the Army sought to persuade local business men to put up $50,000 to establish night landing facilities at Bolling. The business men refused and took the attitude that the Army was trying to hold them up for its benefit. The Army finally relented. The Rev. Dr. Pierce was in Ea-

WASHINGTON LETTER

POLITICS DOESN'T WORRY THE AVERAGE WASHINGTON RESIDENT CLERK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—When you read that "Washington is all agog" or that "Washington believes that—" don't you believe it. Such assertions of massed community thoughts are erroneous. They may apply to the minority of politicians, lobbyists and correspondents here, but not to the 95 per cent of ordinary Washingtonians. The average Washingtonian is a government clerk.

MOODY SCORES OPPONENTS OF TAX PROPOSAL

ORGANIZATION FIGHTS BACK OF SCREEN IS CHARGED BY HIM

(The Associated Press) AUSTIN, TEXAS, Aug. 1.—Certain corporate interests, afraid to come out in the open, formed a "militant organization" to fight the proposed tax amendment...

"The tax amendment has been the subject of special attack," the governor declared in a bristling arraignment of what he termed "selfish opposition."

Works Under Cover "It is generally known that certain corporate interests are opposed to the amendment and that the word has been sent out by them that it should be defeated. Some of the forces working against it have felt that their open opposition would help pass the amendment rather than defeat it, and for fear the people would resent it in their efforts a case of the voice of Jacob but the hands of Esau asking for their blessing, the campaign has been clearly carried on without disclosing to the public the identity of some leading the fight against the amendment."

"Enough has been seen here and there for those who have watched to realize that certain opposing interests are to an extent inspired by selfishness."

"The amendment directly affects 50 per cent of the people, and is being opposed by less than 10 per cent. No organized campaign of education has been exerted in its behalf."

Reasons Not Given "The farmers and small home owners have been told to vote against it, but they have not been told why. They are of the class which needs relief and would profit most by its adoption."

"The governor, however, went to some length to concede that some opposing the amendment are wholly unselfish and really believe their amendment is for the people's good, determining my position."

Governor Moody said "I have sought the advice of those who have exhaustively studied the questions involved. So far I have never found one who did not agree that the tax system is for the state, the people, and that result in a fairer distribution of the cost of government."

Provisions Remain "Our present tax system is fixed by provisions of the constitution of 1875, and while some changes have been made in the machinery of assessing and collecting the taxes, no provision relating to the property tax remains practically the same as they were in the constitution of 1875. Some changes have been made in the maximum rates."

"When this system was adopted and the wealth of the state was largely represented in lands and livestock. The conditions existing at that time were far different from present conditions."

The governor quoted tables of figures to show that as the population increased from about 145,000 in 1845 to 277,500 in 1925, the number of farmers has decreased to 48 per cent of the population, and the value of manufactured products has increased to virtually one billion dollars.

No Efforts to Equalize "While this remarkable development has been in progress, Governor Moody said, "no step has been taken to equalize our tax system to the changed conditions."

"Agriculture has been penalized with unfair taxes," he said. "The proposed amendment does nothing more but less than suggest a separation of sources of income from state support from those for country or local support. Under this system those objects of taxation which are state wide in nature can be fairly, justly and economically reached for state support, and property which is local in its nature can be more equally and fairly taxed for local support."

There are more brunettes than blondes among nation picture actresses because dark hair and eyes usually show up better on the screen.

A Texolan balance crew of this department will begin work immediately in collecting information leading to the location of new drilling quarters.

50 CENT CRUDE IS SEEN FROM WINKLER FIELD

Fifty cent crude is what many operators predict in West Texas if the Hendricks field in Winkler county is precipitated into a vast drilling campaign. The field was extended the early part of last week by the Southern Crude Purchasing company's No. 1-A Hendricks II in the southeast of the northeast of section 44, block 28.

OFF SHORE HOP IS COMPLETED BY CHAMBERLIN

TAKES OFF FROM SHIP AND LANDS SAFELY IN NEW JERSEY

(By Associated Press) TETERBORO, N. J., Aug. 1.—Clarence Chamberlin ended his flight from the S. S. Leviathan to Teterboro airport today at 10:51 eastern daylight time.

The flier, who nipped off the "flying bridge" on the Leviathan at 8:14 this morning off Fire Island, first landed at Curtiss field, L. I., because of a fog. After a short stop he took off again at 10:30.

Mail Handed Out Chamberlin climbed from the plane and handed nine packages, three letters and a mail pouch to Joseph Kiddle, mail carrier, from the Hasbrouck Heights postoffice.

"The whole plan is entirely practicable," Chamberlin said when questioned as to the practicability of regular ship plane service. "I could just as well have carried passengers. I had no trouble taking off although there was a 14 mile breeze blowing."

Takes Off From Leviathan's Deck

Y. S. DESTROYER OFF FIRE ISLAND, Aug. 1 (AP)—Clarence Chamberlin hopped off from the deck of the liner Leviathan in his Fokker biplane at 8:15, daylight saving time, this morning to fly to Teterboro, N. J.

Chamberlin's feat was an experiment to prove the practicability of combining steamship and airplane.

Motley county, near Matador, south east area of the plains territory at 2,850 feet with a hole full of salt water.

127 PANHANDLE WELLS ARE BELOW 2,000 FEET

There were 127 wells in the Panhandle drilling below 2,000 feet on July 31, and a total of 248 operations.

Hutchinson county lead with 53; Gray with 36; Carson 16; Moore 6; Wheeler 5; Hartley 4; Lipscomb 2; and one each in Childress, Collingsworth, Donley, Hockley, Hemphill, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, and Roberts.

In the Oklahoma Panhandle there were five below 2,000 feet, in Cimarron 1, 1 in Beaver, and one in Texas. There are 10 operations in that area, making a total of 255 for both Panhandles.

CASING SET AT 172 FEET IN DONNELL TEST

The L. L. Donnell Oil Company has set 12 1/2 inch casing at 172 feet and plan to commence drilling again today. This well is about 600 feet from the Keganet at No. 1 Mullican west of Hale Center in Hale county, which is standing with 200 feet of fluid in the hole.

The Donnell Oil Company's No. 1 Mullican is being watched with the keenest of interest, for with the benefit of the log of the Keganet well the Donnell well should be a better producer.

line routes to expediate mail service and to some extent passenger travel.

Destroyers Accompany

The Leviathan which sailed shortly after midnight, was accompanied to sea by the destroyers Lawrence and Humphries which were scheduled to steam at full speed in Chamberlin's wake toward shore to offer speedy assistance if there should be an accident.

The plan for the Leviathan and eventually other ships of the United States lines to employ airplanes was evolved by Commodore Hartley of the liner and Chamberlin who recently returned from Europe and the Leviathan after flying to Germany with Charles A. Levine.

Intended for Mails

Although the auxiliary airplane service to be inaugurated by the United States lines will eventually accommodate passengers who are in particular haste, it is intended primarily to expedite the mails.

It is estimated that as much as 48 hours may be cut from the present steaming time, thus reducing the trans-Atlantic passage to three days instead of five. Chamberlin carried no passengers in his test flight today.

BICYCLE RACES

hours of the race, was picked up in Canyon to return by automobile with wrecked wheel and crushed springs.

Dugan Branch, 16 year old husky of the Avalanche-Journal boys, was overcome with ill fate as his bicycle was treated unkindly by the soggy roads in the section covered by a heavy rain near Canyon. A telegram from the cyclist discloses that he was in Canyon at 10:14 this morning, repairing his bicycle with the intention of overcoming a big lead.

The order in which the boys arrived in Amarillo follows: Alphe Wiggins, 7:33 a. m.; Walter Glassner, 8:02; Marvin Fann, 8:17; Warner Barnes, 8:51; Alford Bates, 10:20. At noon today Dugan Branch had not arrived in Amarillo.

Edward May, 13; K. Carter, 14, and Bill Blagg, 15, accompanied the marathon on motorcycles.

Subscriptions totalling almost $30 have been raised for first, second and third winners.

Should the cyclists continue the pace they have kept thus far in the race, some of them will be arriving at the offices of the Avalanche-Journal between 7 and 9 o'clock this evening.

Dreher Attacked By Lebouef, Claim

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1 (AP)—The New Orleans States today published an interview with Mrs. Ada Bonner Lebouef in which she is quoted as saying that her husband, James J. Lebouef, was killed after he first had fired upon Dr. Thomas E. Dreher when the two met by appointment to discuss in friendly fashion the gossip which had linked the names of Mrs. Lebouef and Dr. Dreher.

Mrs. Lebouef was quoted as saying that "Dr. Dreher didn't shoot Jim Lebouef," although the interview does not directly charge the killing to Lebouef, who the state claims was induced by Dreher and Mrs. Lebouef, to shoot Lebouef.

Beadle and Lebouef, she said, had become so embittered over a quarrel of several years' standing that they had not spoken.

Silent Over Beadle She was silent when asked if Beadle had shot her husband. The meeting occurred by appointment on the flood waters outside Morgan City, near the edge of Lake

No Summer Merchandise Can Remain in this store! Profits and costs forgotten!

FINAL Reductions

Every department in the store contributes values so sensational as to make it impossible to describe them. Come prepared to find values that are far beyond your expectations for we guarantee that you will not be disappointed.

It is Grollman's policy to never carry over merchandise from one season to the other, and these final reductions are so drastic as to merit immediate action. The merchandise offered is desirable and new, and most of it has been in the store but a few short weeks. Where the savings are so remarkable, it is true economy to anticipate future requirements and buy now, for merchandise of such character will not be presented again at such astoundingly low prices.
