Munday Public Schools Will Open Monday

Teachers Will Arrive During Week for Work

The 1932-'33 term of the Munday Public Schools will open on Monday morning, August 29th. This date was definitely set at a meeting of the school board on Friday evening of last week, and everything is being put in readiness this week by Supt. Jones for the opening of the term, and already some of the teachers have arrived and others are expected to arrive the latter part of the week, Mr. Jones having notified members of the faculty to be on hand Saturday for a faculty meeting.

While the term will open with a new Superintendent there are but few changes in the personnell of the faculty. L. S. Hardigree returns as principal of the high school and will teach history. This is Mr. Hardigree's third year with the school. Riley B. Harrell returns for the fourth year and will teach science. Miss Mary Couch of Haskell, a recent graduate of Baylor University and a daughter of Carlton Couch, will teach English, while Miss Annice Palmer of Anson, a recent graduate of Simmons University, will teach Spanish and typing in the high school and do departmental work in the grades. Miss Irene Clifford of Edna, Texas, will return for her third year as teacher of home economics.

L. M. Palmer returns for his sixth year as principal of the grad school and athletic coach, and will be assisted by Miss Mildred Kennedy, who returns for her seventh year, and with Miss Annice Palmer will have charge of the 6th and 7th grades and do departmental work. Miss Maudie Mae Bennett and Mrs. Riley B. Harrell, both of whom are returning for their third year, will have charge of the fourth grade work. Miss Virginia Curry returns for her fifth year and Miss Dora Williams of Chapman's Ranch, Texas, will care for the second and third grades. Mrs. L. M. Palmer, who returns here for her fifth year, will also be a teacher in the primary grades, as will Mrs. L. S. Hardigree.

The board is starting the session under difficulties and unless they receive some assistance from the tax payers of the district they will not be enabled to continue the school without interruption, and they plan to make an appeal to some of the larger tax payers of the district to make early payments in order that they may have sufficient funds to partially pay the teachers.

Supt. Jones states that no plans are being made for a public program on the opening day, but will be held later. He also states that due to the crowded condition of the school and the curtailing of the teaching force no children under six years of age will be admitted to the school at this time.

The following statement was issued by Supt. G. C. Jones regarding the opening of school:

As Munday Public Schools will open at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning, August 29, it seems advisable to make a few brief statements to those who are interested in Munday Public Schools.

During the last two years, schools along with all other business enterprises, have been confronted with a money shortage. To meet this constantly growning money shortage, school facilities and the teaching force have been curtailed until it is influencing the efficiency of the schools. The facts just stated are not only true in the Munday Schools, but the same conditions prevails in all the schools throughout the country. In every department of the Munday School system, salaries and expenses have been materially reduced. The number of teachers for the ensuing year has been diminished by two.

Your faculty will try hard to overcome these handicaps and will appreciate your sympathy and hearty coeperation. The best and most effective cooperation you can extend to us will be sympathy for over worked teachers, patience with teachers in getting the work started as you wish and think it should be, and to refrain from harsh criticisms until teachers have had a fair chance to standarize their work. We could easily use more teachers in our system and use them to an advantage, but obtaining money to pay them seems to be impossible.

We shall open school without knowing just how to meet the first two or three months' pay-roll. Teachers have been promised 60 per cent of their salaries in cash and 40 per cent in deficiency warrents. It will be imperative to pay cash each month as promised in order for teachers to pay board and other necessary expenses. Surely the people of this school district will cooperate with the school board in supplying the cash it will require to keep the school open until the State Apportionment becomes available.

We wish to invite and to thank you in advance for your heartfelt sympathy and cooperation in the work of the Munday Schools.

Sincerely yours,
G. C. JONES,
Superintendent Munday Schools.

Dan Boone Speaks Here In Interest of Mrs. Ferguson

Dan Boone of Wichita Falls spoke to a goodly sized audience on the lawn of the city hall Tuesday evening in the interest of the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. Mr. Boone delivered an address here some weeks ago in the interest of the candidacy of Tom Hunter, at which time he stated that he would give his support to Mrs. Ferguson in the run-off if Mr. Hunter was eliminated in the July primary.

Mr. Boone directed a major portion of his address to criticism of Gov. Sterling's action in declaring martial law in the East Texas oil field, declaring that in so doing he was acting as a tool for the major oil companies, whom he charged had dominated the official acts of the governor.

While here Mr. Boone, who is a law partner to Hon. Orville Bullington, Republican nominee for governor, was asked by a Times representative what he thought of Mr. Bullington's chances for election in November, and he stated that in his opinion they were very meagre, however, he stated that Mr. Bullington was absolutely honest, courageous and capable, and if elected he would make this state a very creditable governor.

Mystery in Tragedy

Libby Holman Reynolds, famed Broadway "torch" singer and central figure in reported suicide of wealthy youthful husband, Z. Smith Reynolds at Winston-Salem, N. C., was held as a material witness pending clearing up of detail surrounding the death.

Crowell Golfers Will Be Guests Here On Sunday

Crowell golfers, 15 strong, will invade the local golf course Sunday for a series of games with members of the Munday club, and some of the local fraternity are making plans to give them a good reception and will make an earnest effort to send them home with the small end of the honors. Since the Crowell club has some excellent golfers and the Munday club also has some members who swing a wicked club, the contests are expected to be very close.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Tiner have had as their guests the past week his mother, Mrs. J. L. Tiner of Crystal City, Texas, his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bardwell of San Antonio, and his niece, Miss Marjorie Thomason of Crystal City. Mr. Tiner states that the time that he has been a resident of Munday is the longest period he has gone throughout his entire life without seeing his mother, and we need not say that he greatly enjoyed her visit with him as well as the visit of the other relatives.

Dorse Rogers has accepted a position with the Tiner Drug Company, and his smiling countenance will greet you as you enter that place of business.

Wears Michigan Crown

Miss Billie Haynie, 19, Detroit, is old King Neptune's Queen in the Great Lakes region—having been fittingly crowned from a bevy of bathing beauties for Michigan's annual water carnival.

Carl Mahan of Abilene was here first of the week looking after business matters for the West Texas Utilities company. He was accompanied by Mrs. Mahan who visited in the home of her mother, Mrs. E. M. Wilson.

Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

With but one more game to win to have a cinch on the last half, it's almost certain that the Brazos Valley League championship will be decided between Rochester and Munday.

And that insures some fast baseball in the final games, for both teams are plenty good and fast, and the big league scouts might do well to be on the job and look 'em over.

With cotton hovering around eight cents and still going up, and with the best crop in history, it seems that Knox county farmers are going to get this depression whipped to a frazzle before the politicians can get the job done.

And insofar as Texas is concerned, the political waters will smooth down after Saturday, and, regardless of who wins, the vast majority of us will contiune the same old struggle in the same old way.

The busy seasn of the year is at hand. Everybody is getting ready for action. Merchants are stocking their stores, farmers are making ready for the harvest, and even the kiddies are getting ready to hit the school rooms on Monday morning.

And won't it be grand to have all the political strife and spellbinding out of the way for the busy season?

Skipper Burton and Frank Greer slipped off down to Abilene Thursday to see a game between Mose Simms' Oilers and the Texon team, both of whom are shoving out their chests and proclaiming themselves as West Texas champs.

And unless they look mighty hot Skipper will challenge their authority to their claim and match a tilt with them for his Munday lads.

Anyway, there isn't much of this stuff this week, even if nothing else can be said in our favor.

Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Ammons were dinner guests in the J. R. Paxton home at Haskell on Wednesday evening and were accompanied home by Miss Lillian Paxton, who will visit the Ammons home and with other Munday friends for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Matson of Sweetwater have returned to Munday for an indefinite stay. Mr. Matson is a representative of the International Harvester Company.

Farmers Union To Discuss Matter of Employing Buyer

A meeting of the local Farmers Union has been called for Saturday afternoon here to discuss the matter of employing a cotton buyer for the coming fall, and all members of the organization are urged to be present and express their views. A buyer so employed would act as a selling agent for the members of the union and sell their staple to the best advantage possible, receiving a minimum fee for his services.

Much Interest In Saturday's Run-Off Election

More than usual interest in Saturday's run-off primary will likely result in a large vote over the entire state. In many counties and districts important places are to be filled and, as usual, the race for governor is overshadowing the interest in all other state races, notwithstanding the fact that many important races are to be decided at the polls Saturday.

Two of the three members of the State Railroad Commission are to be chosen in Saturday's primary. For the full six year term C. V. Terrell of Wise county, present incumbent, is being opposed by Lee Satterwhite of Ector county, while for the four-year term Ernest O. Thompson, former Mayor of Amarillo, and appointed by Gov. Sterling to fill the vacancy on the commission caused by the resignation of Pat M. Neff, is opposed by W. Gregory Hatcher, former State Treasurer.

For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court William Pierson, present incumbent, is opposed by J. E. Hickman of Eastland county.

Three Congressmen are to be elected from the state at large, and from a list of almost thirty candidates six are left to choose from. For Place No. 1 Pink Parrish of Lubbock is pitted against George B. Terrell of Cherokee county, for many years Commissioner of Agriculture. For Place No. 2 the race is between Cyclone Davis of Sulphur Springs and Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr., of Dallas. For Place No. 3 the contest is between Sterling P. Strong of Dallas and Joe Burkett of San Antonio.

In this Judicial District the only contest to be decided is that between J. Donnell Dickson and Dick Dresser, both of Seymour, for the office of District Attorney.

In the county there is not a county office to be decided at the polls, however, there is a run-off contest in each of the commissioner precincts in the county. In Precinct No. 4 the contest is between D. C. Osborne, present incumbent, and Peter Loran. In Precinct No. 1 the contest of between W. M. Griffith, present incumbent, and M. G. Nix. In Precinct No. 2 the contest is between W. C. Glenn, present incumbent, and Oral Patterson. In Precinct No. 3 the contest is between J. W. Chowning, present incumbent, and— seFFBiGCs.u-Il

R. M. Wagstaff Tells Of Accomplishments Under Gov. Sterling

Hon. R. M. Wagstaff, State Representative from the Abilene district, spoke here on Friday afternoon of last week in the interest of Gov. Ross Sterling, and was greeted by a fairly good number of citizens.

Mr. Wagstaff, who has been a member of the Legislature during all of Mr. Sterling's administration, confined a major portion of his time to discussing accomplishments of the administration. He challenged the sincereity of Ferguson's statements that when Mrs. Ferguson retired from the office she left a balance of five million in the treasury, stating that while the actual balance in the treasury at that time was approximately that amount, there were outstanding obligations against the penitentiary system of more than six million and also more than a million against the highway department.

He quoted from a report of the state auditor denying that there had been any graft in the affairs of the present highway department, but pointed to a statement from the auditor that no definite figures regarding the affairs were available except for that period of time since Sterling was appointed as a member of the highway commission.

Rev. Albertson To Fill Appointments Here Sunday

The Rev. W. H. Albertson, who is engaged in a revival meeting at the New Hope church, states that he will fill his regular appointments at the Munday church Sunday morning and evening. He states that he is having a very fine meeting at New Hope, there having been to date about a dozen conversions and a number of additions to the church.

Celebrating his eighth birthday Master Lynn Chapman was host to a number of little friends Monday noon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chapman. She states that wholesale merchants are urging heavy buying at this time believing that the cotton market will continue to climb and that merchandise will advance accordingly.

Some disappointment was expressed by folks here Saturday over the failure of a Ferguson speaker to appear and make a plea for the Fergusons, as was announced in the Times last week. How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1931, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 12

Many times in this series of articles the writer has warned players against over-bidding where the situation did not justify it. In other words, don't overtax unless the possible gain is fairly equal to the possible loss. The usual way for the thoughtless player to make this mistake is to bid a minor suit, clubs or diamonds, when the bidding indicates that he has no chance for game. Why take a chance of only making three or four odd in clubs or diamonds when, if you are doubled, you may lose a big penalty?

A score less than game is only of value about once in fifteen deals; so it is a good rule never to bid to make a score less than game if there is any risk attached. There is practically nothing to gain by the bid and so much to lose. One very good player at one of the local clubs seems to have a weakness for this kind of bidding. The other night, for example, he held the following hand, A's in the diagram:

Hearts — 10
Clubs — K, 9, 8, 6, 5, 2
Diamonds — A, 8, 4
Spades — K, 10, 3

Y / A B / Z

No score, rubber game, at Auction. Z dealt and bid one no trump, A passed, Y bid two hearts and B and Z passed. At this point A thoughtlessly decided to bid three clubs. The bidding should have indicated that he had no possible chance for game. Z's no trump bid, Y's two-heart bid and B's pass were all indicators that Y Z held the best combined hands. For that reason A couldn't hope to score game. On the other hand, he had a good chance to save game. His hand would probably be worth three tricks with hearts as trumps so that if his partner could take but one trick he would save the game.

A, however, thought of none of these very evident facts and bid three clubs, which Y doubled and defeated by 400 points. If Y Z had played the hand at hearts, they could have scored only three odd as B would have taken two heart tricks, and A would have taken two tricks. A's bid in this instance cost 400 points when he should have known beforehand that he had no chance for game and a fair chance to save game. Beware of such bids, and of any bids where the possible risk is not offset by an equal chance for game.

At Contract, of course, A, with the foregoing hand, also should pass.

Example Hand No. 1

Y / A B / Z

Hearts — A, J, 10, 5
Clubs — K, 10, 9, 8, 5
Diamonds — K, 10, 9
Spades — K

No score, first game. Z dealt and bid one diamond, A one spade and Y passed. What should B bid with the foregoing hand?

AUCTION BIDDING:

B should bid one no trump. The singleton spade is a danger spot and he should warn his partner at once that his hand is weak in spades. The no trump bid is justifiable as he has a fair all around hand and a sure stopper in the diamond suit. With two or less trumps of your partner's suit, always warn him of the fact, if possible.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

B should bid two clubs and then, if overbid by partner or opponents, should bid the heart suit.

Example Hand No. 2

Hearts — none
Clubs — 8, 4, 2
Diamonds — 9, 4, 3
Spades — A, K, Q, J, 8, 5, 2

Y / A B / Z

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no trump, A two hearts, Y two spades, B three hearts, Z three no trump and A doubled. What should Y now bid with the foregoing hand?

AUCTION BIDDING:

Y should bid four spades. If Z has a sound three no trump bid, Y should have no trouble in making four spades. The danger of letting Z play the hand at no trump is that Z may not have a spade and Y has no re-entry card. The four spade bid seems the proper one.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

At Contract, the bidding would be the same.

Problem

Hearts — A
Clubs — K, J, 7
Diamonds — A
Spades — none

Hearts — 3
Clubs — none
Diamonds — 6, 5, 2
Spades — 10

Y / A B / Z

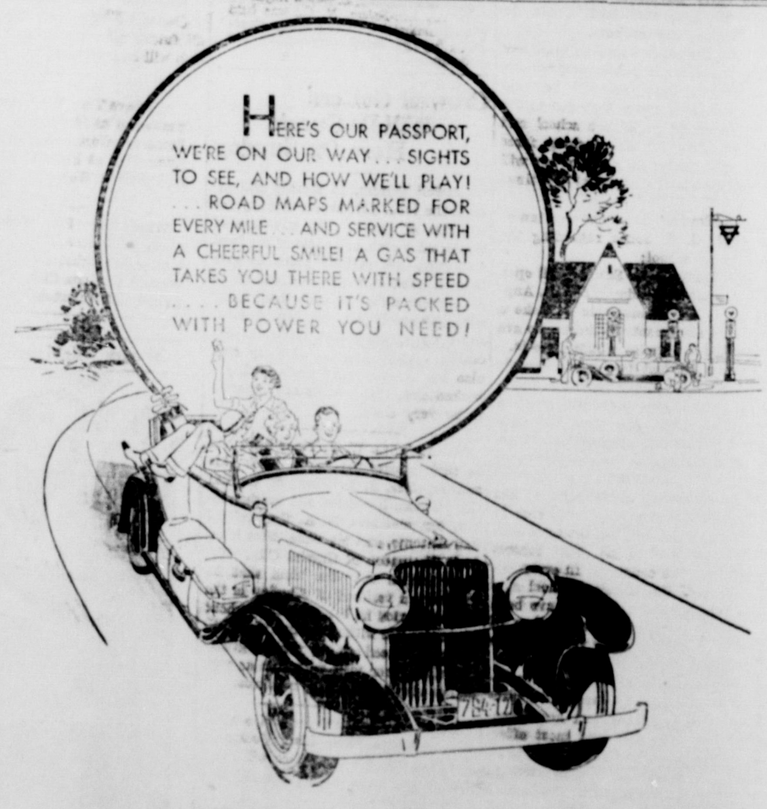

Hearts — none
Clubs — A, Q
Diamonds — Q, 10
Spades — J

Hearts — 2
Clubs — none
Diamonds — K, J, 7
Spades — A

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win four of the five tricks against any defense?

Solution: Z should lead the ace of spades and discard the ace of hearts from Y's hand. He should then lead the deuce of hearts and let A win the trick with the trey. On this trick Y should discard the ace of diamonds. A is now in the lead and must lead a diamond. No matter what cards Y and B play, Z must now win the balance of the tricks.

It is an easy problem and unusual only because of Y's discard of his ace.

STERLING'S RECORD

During the campaign that comes to a close Saturday we have heard much criticism of Gov. Sterling's record, but most of this criticism has been in a general way and seldom have opponents pointed out specific charges against the administration. One of the most common charges is that Gov. Sterling has favored the major oil companies, but since through forced curtailment of production he had materially increased the price of crude oil, and since the independent oil producers are the sellers and the major companies are the purchasers, we fail to see where the majors could have possibly benefitted more by the governor's action than have the independent oil producers, and the fact that a vast majority of the independent producers over the state are supporting Sterling seems to bear out that contention.

Then the administration has been severly criticised in some quarters for its attitude in maintaing a large force on the highways of the state. But those who make this criticism forget that it has been but a few months since public sentiment was very strong toward providing employment for as many men as possible. Even our own John Garner introduced a bill designated as a relief measure which provided that postteffice buildings be erected in all towns of more than 1500 population in the United States, and while President Hoover referred to the measure as "pork barrell politics". Mr. Garner contended that the expenditure of millions would provide for thousands, and while our highway department may have carried thousands on the pay rolls this policy has given employment through one of the most distressing periods of our history, and since all of this money has been paid from the gasoline tax, it has not in any way contributed to an increase in advalorem tax, then certainly the policy of the highway department has done its bit toward relieving to some degree the acute condition of unemployment.

Gov. Sterling has rendered a valuable service to the people of Texas in stopping many leaks in the expenditures of state funds, and as a result of his activity in detecting these leaks no less than five sheriffs over the statehave been convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary and one has committed suicide rather than face charges preferred. A few days ago we read in the press where Gov. Sterling was booed as he drove through the home town of one of these convicted sheriffs, which to our way of thinking was a tribute to his aggressiveness is stopping graft that in years gone by has amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. This graft is a result of our fee system, which has consistently been opposed by Gov. Sterling.

During the twenty-five years that we have been a voter this is the first and only campaign that we can recall that the penitentiary system has not been the subject of criticism. This year $500,000 of the appropriation made by the legislature will be returned to the state. In previous years 88 per cent of the food served to the inmates has been purchased by the state. Today this condition has been reversed, and 88 per cent of the food is produced on the state farms, and by so doing the cotton acreage has been materially reduced on penitentiary farms.

Another evidence that Gov. Sterling is rendering good service to the people may be found in this issue of The Times by reading the proposed Constitutional Amendment H. J. R. No. 26, which provides that only property owners who have rendered same for taxation are qualified to vote. Certainly no one can question the fairness of this amendment, which has been sponsored by Gov. Sterling.

And along this line we might call attention to another law passed by the recommendation of Gov. Sterling, and that is the enactment of a law that prohibits the issuance of warrants in any material sums without rants in any material sums without people. In many counties warrants aggregating hundreds of thousands of dollars have been issued by commissioners courts, city councils and heads of sub-divisions of government, but this condition has been remedied by Gov. Sterling.

Another measure of economy that stands to the credit of Gov. Sterling may be found by reading H. J. R. No. 21 in this issue of the Times, which proposes the consolidation of the offices of County Tax Assessor and County Tax Collector. Every informed person realizes that we have too many offices. This amendment also provides that in counties having less than 10,000 population the sheriff shall serve as county Tax Collector and Assessor.

Another constitutional amendment sponsored by Gov. Sterling is that which would relieve all homesteads up to a valuation of $3,000 from all state taxes. This amendment would relieve practically every home in Munday from state taxes and would relieve a vast majority of the homesteads in the county.

During the last Legislature Gov. Sterling created a joint committee of

UNEQUAL REGULATION IN TRANSPORTATION CAUSES DISORDER AND CONFUSION

● The instability, confusion and disorder which unrestrained truck transportation has brought about is responsible in large measure for much of the distress in which all business finds itself today. Texas has moved to find a remedy and all concerned in the welfare of this state and its institutions should cooperate in the effort to restore stability and order to our transportation systems.

The Texas Railroads, in these advertisements, have endeavored to place before the people of this state some of the reasons why the existing laws, regulating motor transportation, should be upheld and enforced.

1. The railroads are necessary for the successful marketing of the enormous production of this state, which is used and consumed in every other state in the union.

Uniform, published, non-discriminatory transportation service rates are essential to the orderly conduct and welfare of business.

Unregulated truck transportation inevitably results in discriminatory charges and practices, rebating, unfair and unbusinesslike competitive methods, bringing about losses and commercial insecurity.

The wholesaler, jobber, retailer and local merchant suffer from the unfair competition of truckers and peddlers who, for the most part, are non-residents, pay no taxes and contribute nothing to the community welfare.

The farmer and agricultural producer must have at his command facilities adequate to transport crops and produce which move long distances in large volume, at low cost, by rail.

2. The railroads build and maintain their own roadways, pay heavy taxes for the support of state and municipal governments and institutions, and expend millions of dollars for payrolls, materials and supplies. Railroad workers are substantial citizens, home owners, and valued members of their communities.

3. Rail transportation is the most efficient and economical in existence for the movement of traffic in volume by land.

4. Texas highways belong to the people and are built and maintained at heavy cost. Their use for commercial purposes is a privilege, not a right. They should be kept safe for general use and not prematurely destroyed by heavy trucks.

5. The stability, security and orderly conduct of business require reasonable control and regulation of all transportation agencies.

the House and Senate to work out a plan whereby the 20 various state departments can be consolidated to not exceed 25 different departments. This work will be completed at the next session, and with the cooperation of the House and Senate a saving of millions of dollars can be saved by such consolidations.

Notwithstanding wild statements made directing criticism at Gov. Sterling's administration, we believe it will go down in history as giving more relief to the people from the constantly growing tax burden than any administration, and while we are in one of the greatest economic depressions in history let's not lay all our ills on the administration. Let's face the facts and give credit where credit is due.

Without discussing the merits or demerits of the Fergusons, we are going to cast our ballot Saturday for Ross Sterling in the belief that his administration is such as to entitle him to the time honored democratic custom of a second term.

ILLEGAL HEADLIGHTS.

Dallas city police and state highway patrolmen are preparing to carry on a rigorous drive against illegal headlights, as a part of a general plan to reduce the number of accidents that have claimed many lives and crippled many persons in that vicinity in recent months.

Many cars are driven with only one headlight, the other lamp being out of commission. That is a violation of the law. Many other cars travel the streets and highways without a tail light. That, too, is contrary to law—both the written statute and the law of safety.

But the greatest danger from night driving comes not from these causes—serious as they are—but from the glaring headlight. The state has no enforceable statute against glaring lights. Somehow the legislature has never been able to draw a statute that would stand up in the courts—one of the little mysteries of civics that is hard to explain.

Once a year, when he gets his license, the motorist goes through the motions of having his headlights "inspected." This process, conscientiously carried out, often results in decided improvement. That, however, is about the only time the average motorist ever gives a thought to his lights. It is perfectly true that many motorists who drive with only one headlight are unconscious of the fact that one of the lights has gone out.

Let us hope the present campaign against illegal headlights will result in a better general observance of this fundamental law and safety.—Abilene Reporter.

SEE IT THROUGH.

When you're up against a trouble,
Meet it squarely, face to face,
Lift your chin and set your shoulders,
Plant your feet and take a brace.
When it's vain to try to dodge it,
Do the best that you can do;
You may fail, but you may conquer,
See it through!
Black may be the clouds about you
And your future may seem grim,
But don't let your nerve desert you;
Keep yourself in fighting trim.
If the worst is bound to happen,
Spite of all that you can do,
Running from it will not save you.
See it through!
Even hope may seem but futile,
When with troubles you're beset,
But remember you are facing
Just what other men have met.
You may fail, but fall still fighting;
Don't give up, whate'er you do;
Eyes front, head high to the finish.
See it through!

Local Firm Pays Out $190,422.10 In Claims

One of the most valuable assets of any firm is the confidence of its customers and friends. This statement is true; and it naturally follows that if a firm has that confidence it has gained it from the rendering of honest service.

Perhaps no firm in this immediate area enjoys the confidence of its customers and friends to more marked degree than does the E. K. Local Insurance Association of Seymour. And that this firm enjoys this high prestige is due to the service it has rendered.

The E. K. in this firm name means literally what the letters stand for—Easy Kind. It is easy to pay the assessments and have the protection they offer.

Mutual benefit assessment insurance is more than a business to G. H. Jones, guiding executive of the local association—it is a religion to him. This man is earnest and conscientious in putting forth his every effort for the mutual benefit of his members. And that his efforts are being rewarded is indicated by the steady and conservative growth of the E. K. Association.

Jones is a veritable fountain of information about insurance in all of its phases: and the information he has regarding mutual insurance is worth listening to by anyone interested in the protection of loved ones.

In an interview given The Times Jones said, "Mutual Benefit Insurance is the 'common sense' insurance for the thinking man, woman or child. It is safe, it is economical and it is protection at cost. Our company operates directly under the supervision of the state insurance department, our records are audited by the state in the sum of $10,000. These are some of the reasons why the man who becomes a member of our association is type of man who thinks for himself, and insists on real protection at the lowest possible cost."

Money spent for assessments in the E. K. Local remains in this portion of the state, and during the 10 years in which this company has operated it has paid out in claims the huge total of $190,422.10! Small wonder, therefore, that this company holds an enviable place in the confidence of the public.

These figures were released to the public by the E. K.'s efficient bookkeeper, Harwell Wharton. Mr. Wharton is a born accountant, and his previous bank and work in the county clerk's office has given him a training that equips him for correct handling of his department.

Another proof of the real service this association renders to its members is this. The policy now written by the E. K. Local is unique in that members pay their assessments monthly according to their age, giving the younger members a lower rate because of their age.

From investigation over his territory Mr. Jones feels confident his company will do a greater volume this fall than ever before. Due to this condition the association is enabled to render an additional service to quite a few people in this area in that they will employ a number of reputable men and women to take applications for them. "It would be a physical impossibility for me, or the home office," Jones said, "to take all the applications this fall, and even now I am ready to consider employing a reputable man or woman in each community, to assist us."

Munday Advances Percentage With Win Over Weinert

Munday advanced its position in the percentage column Wednesday to the point that they are cinched for at least a tie with Goree for first place in the last half by defeating Weinert 8-5. The game was interesting throughout, but became exciting in the first half of the eighth when Weinert staged a hitting spree and the Munday lads made a couple expensive errors with a result that the score was tied, but the agony was not for long, as our lads came back with a determination to push over the winning score—and did that very thing—three of them, in fact.

Munday Blanks Sunset In One Of Best Games

Munday blanked the Sunset lads here Sunday afternoon in one of the best games that has been played in the league during the present season, for it was indeed a pitcher's battle between Abbott for Munday and Smith for Sunset, with Smith holding an edge on strike outs but the Munday lads staged a hitting spree in the eighth that cinched the argument. Stone started for Munday but was relieved by Abbott after walking two men.
