Money Must Be Returned.

Attorney General Looney has ma public a statement in which he sa that unless the money that may be d the state in connection with the not "chicken salad" case is returned " will be his duty to institute the nece sary legal proceedings to recover th same."

"The Supreme test of the nation has come. We must all speak and act and serve together".

A Car Saved is A Car Made

American railroads must carry a double burden of service during the war. Their efficiency is essential in developing national military effectiveness. They also must "do their bit" by helping to maintain "Business as Usual".

More than 100,000 cars will be required for government purposes during the next three months. Transportation facilities will be taxed to capacity by commercial requirements during this period. Government business must have preference however, and effective conservation of equipment is therefore imperative. Additional facilities and equipment can not be had now. We must do the best we can with what we have.

Carriers and shippers alike have been wasteful in the use of cars. It is the patriotic duty of both to economize. Wherever possible, light loading of cars, delays in loading or unloading, and kindred practices must be avoided as in violation of national welfare.

Maximum Loading of Katy cars moved under load in 1916 would have saved 43,000 cars. Such a saving would provide enough cars to transport approximately 50,000,000 bushels of wheat. With full co-operation of shippers and consignees in the effort the management is making to conserve equipment the supply of cars on the M. K. & T. Lines for the use of commercial shippers can be increased 30%.

Railroads are peculiarly dependent upon public co-operation. Without public understanding of their problems and popular support of their proper purposes they cannot successfully perform their functions.

The management of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway particularly needs the earnest and patriotic support of shippers in its efforts to effect practical conservation of equipment. The degree of success which will attend conservation efforts depends largely upon M. K. & T. patrons. Their help is earnestly solicited in the campaign to increase the nation's transportation efficiency.

HOUSE REPEALS LAWS CREATING COLLEGES

WEST TEXAS A. & M. AND NORTHEAST TEXAS AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE AFFECTED.

Austin.—Within five hours after the subject they covered had been submitted by Acting Governor Hobby, the house Monday passed bills repealing the law creating the West Texas A. & M. college and that creating the Northeast Texas Junior Agricultural college. Speaker Fuller referred the bills, immediately after the message had been read, to the committee on appropriations. This committee reported the two bills, together with one repealing the law creating the Northwest Texas Insane asylum, back to the house favorably with the recommendation that all of them do pass. The speaker laid them before the house and the constitutional rule requiring that bills be read on three separate days was suspended on the school bills, but the house refused to suspend that rule on the passage of the bill repealing the creation of the Northwest Texas Insane asylum.

The West Texas A. & M. repeal bill was finally passed, 83 to 13, and the Northeast Texas Junior Agricultural college bill was finally passed, 87 to 11.

Pink Boll Worm Bill Passed.

The Tillotson-Davis pink boll worm bill was finally passed by the house. The final passage came after the house had reconsidered its vote by which it struck from the bill an appropriation of $20,000 and then defeated the amendment, striking this appropriation out. It later, however, reduced the appropriation to $10,000. The bill has yet to go to the senate for concurrence in a number of minor amendments.

DOUBLE KILLING AT FT. WORTH.

Police Commissioner Parsley Slain By Former Detective Yates, Who Was Shot by Police.

Fort Worth.—C. Edward Parsley, commissioner of fire and police of the city of Fort Worth, was shot and killed instantly by J. K. Yates, former member of the city detective force, while seated at his desk at his office in the city hall.

When the shots were heard members of the police department rushed to the door of the commissioner's office to find it barricaded. A hole was broken in the blind glass in the door by Policeman Grisso, who stated that Yates was seen crouching behind Parsley's desk. Mr. Grisso immediately fired and he was greeted by a fusillade of bullets from within, one of which grazed the right side of his face, inflicting a slight powder burn.

There was a short intermission, during which time members of the police department secured the riot guns. An entrance to the room was forced amid a fusillade of shots, and Yates was found dead on the floor in a pool of blood.

West Texas A. & M. Bill Repealed.

Austin.—The third called session of the Thirty-fifth legislature accomplished a great deal more than was expected. In addition to the long drawn out impeachment trial, the special session considered and passed some bills of state-wide interest. It finally passed the bill repealing the law creating the West Texas A. & M. college. This institution had been located at Abilene and its location was the occasion of a storm from other west Texas towns as well as a lawsuit.

Dallas Fire Loss Estimated $200,000.

Dallas.—The fire on the north side of Elm street, near Akard, caused losses amounting to approximately $200,000, according to the revised estimates. The fire was one of the most stubborn Dallas firemen have had to contend with in years, lasting from 1:40 a. m. until 5 a. m. The Newport theater, the Hunt Grocery company and the Queen theater sustained the loss. The loss was covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is not known.

[illegible] REMOVES AND BARS FERGUSON

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR HOBBY WILL TAKE NEW OATH AS GOVERNOR.

A STATEMENT BY FERGUSON

Claims He Was Not Governor When Judgment Was Rendered and is Not Disqualified.

Austin.—Judgment was voted by the senate of Texas Tuesday afternoon at 5:28 o'clock removing Jas. E. Ferguson from the office of governor of Texas and disqualifying him from holding any office of honor, trust or profit under this state. Then the senate as a court of impeachment adjourned sine die, ending the most dramatic and momentous session of the senate in the history of the state.

The judgment was entered automatically under its terms. It is now beyond any effort of recall and is said by members of the senate to establish a precedent that will live as long as the commonwealth shall endure. The disqualification from holding office [illegible] was made a part of the judgment [illegible] was hotly and learnedly defended and attacked throughout the day. It was sought to make the judgment simply removal from office. Then failing, it was sought to limit the disqualification to five years. Grave doubts as to the constitutionality of either plan were expressed by several senators.

Hobby Will Take Oath of Office.

Lieut. Governor Hobby will take the oath of office as governor for the unexpired term, which ends on the third Tuesday of January, 1919.

The judgment says: "Now, therefore, it is adjudged by the senate of the state of Texas, sitting as a court of impeachment at their chamber in the city of Austin, that the said James E. Ferguson be, and he is hereby, removed from the office of governor and be disqualified to hold any office of honor, trust or profit under the state of Texas. It is further ordered that a copy of this judgment be enrolled and certified by the president pro tempore of this senate as presiding officer and the secretary of the senate, and that such certified copy be deposited in the office of secretary of state of Texas and be printed in the senate journal."

The vote on the final roll call which adopted the judgment, framed by a majority of the committee on civil jurisprudence, was as follows:

Noes—Clark, Parr, Woodward. Total [illegible]

Just prior to the roll call, after arguments had been made at length on the motion to substitute the minority for the majority report, there ensued some vigorous debate that brought tense situations and held the throng, that was scarcely less than on previous days, in breathless silence. The minority report provided for removal, but not for disqualification.

Ferguson Makes Statement.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson has given out a statement styled "Some of the causes of my attempted impeachment," accompanied by a copy of a resignation in which he announces for a third term for governor. He takes the position that his resignation precedes the announcing of formal judgment, therefore, he was not governor when the judgment came and could not be impeached; also that disqualification can not apply to him and he announces for a third term.

The former governor then called attention to his activities in securing tenant legislation; to his efforts to secure adequate support for the common schools; to his interest in the textbook measures and the passage of the Gibson bill and a [illegible] law, all of which, he alleges, brought down upon him the political enmity of various interests which combined to bring about his impeachment. Mr. Ferguson also reviewed briefly university [illegible] along lines heretofore published, closing his statement with the announcement of his resignation [illegible] with the secretary of state, [illegible] in order "that I might be free [illegible] go to the people and lay in detail the facts to which I have referred [illegible] again in the full assurance and hope that I will be vindicated and returned to the governor's chair once more to become their humble servant."

Hobby Will Not Call Another Session

Austin.—It is learned that Governor Hobby will not at this time call the legislature in another special session. He may do so later when the prospective investigations have been completed and the legislature is in a position to put into effect the remedial legislation to be recommended as a result of the wholesale inquiries. Telegrams have been received in numbers asking Mr. Hobby to submit statutory prohibition to this session. He will not comply

[illegible] REMOVES AND BARS FERGUSON

EUTENANT GOVERNOR HOBBY WILL TAKE NEW OATH AS GOVERNOR.

STATEMENT BY FERGUSON

aims He Was Not Governor When Judgment Was Rendered and is Not Disqualified.

Austin.—Judgment was voted by senate of Texas Tuesday afternoon at 5:28 o'clock removing Jas. Ferguson from the office of governor of Texas and disqualifying him from holding any office of honor, trust or profit under this state. The senate as a court of impeachment adjourned sine die, ending the most dramatic and momentous session of the senate in the history of the state.

The judgment was entered [illegible] fically under its terms. It is beyond any effort [illegible] recall and is [illegible] by members of the senate [illegible] [illegible] a precedent that will live [illegible] as the commonwealth shall [illegible]. The disqualification from [illegible] office [illegible] was made a part [illegible] the judgment [illegible] as hotly and learnedly defended and attacked throughout the day. It was sought to make [illegible] judgment [illegible] removal from office [illegible] it was sought [illegible] limit the disqualification to five years. Grave doubts as to the constitutionality of either plan were expressed by several senators.

Hobby Will Take Oath of Office.

Lieut. Governor Hobby will take the oath of office as governor for the unexpired term, which ends on the third Tuesday of January, 1919.

The judgment says: "Now, therefore, it is adjudged by the senate of the state of Texas, sitting as a court of impeachment at their chamber in the city of Austin, that the said James E. Ferguson be, and he is hereby, removed from the office of governor and be disqualified to hold any office of honor, trust or profit under the state of Texas. It is further ordered that a copy of the judgment be enrolled and certified by the president pro tempore of this senate as presiding officer and the secretary of the senate, and that such certified copy be deposited in the office of secretary of state of Texas and be printed in the senate journal."

The vote on the final roll call which adopted the judgment, framed by a majority of the committee on [illegible] jurisprudence, was as follows: [illegible] Alderdice, Bailey, Bee, Buchanan (Bell), Buchanan (Scurry), [illegible], Collins, Dayton, Dean, Dorough, Floyd, Gibson, Harley, Henderson, Hopkins, Hudspeth, Johnson (Harris), Lattimore, McNealus, [illegible], Robbins, Smith, Suiter, Strickland, Westbrook. Total, 25.

[illegible]—Clark, Parr, Woodward. Total [illegible].

Just prior to the roll call, after [illegible] had been made at length [illegible] motion to substitute the minority for the majority report, there [illegible] some vigorous debate, [illegible] tense situations and held [illegible], that was scarcely less [illegible] previous days, in breathless [illegible]. The minority report provided for removal, but not for disqualification.

Ferguson Makes Statement.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson has given out a statement styled "[illegible] of the causes of my attempted impeachment," accompanied by a copy of a resignation in which he announces for a third term for governor. He takes the position that his resignation precedes the announcing of formal judgment, therefore, he was not governor when the judgment came and could not be impeached; also that disqualification does not apply to him and he announces for a third term.

The former governor then called attention to his activities in securing tenant legislation; to his efforts to secure adequate support for the common schools; to his interest in [illegible] measures and the passage of the Gibson bill and [illegible], all of which, he alleged, brought down upon him the hostility of various interests which [illegible] to bring about his impeachment. Mr. Ferguson also [illegible] briefly university [illegible] [illegible] heretofore published [illegible] his statement with the announcement of his resignation [illegible] the secretary of state. [illegible] order "that I might be free to go to the people and lay in detail the facts to which I have referred [illegible] in the full assurance and hope that I will be vindicated and returned to the governor's chair [illegible] more to become their humble servant."

[illegible] Will Not Call Another Session

[illegible]—It is learned that Governor Hobby will not at this time call the legislature in another special session. He may do so later when [illegible] prospective investigations have been completed and the legislature is in a position to put into effect the remedial legislation to be recommended as a result of the wholesale inquiries. Telegrams have been received in numbers asking Mr. Hobby to submit statutory prohibition to the session. He will not comply

PLEASED WITH ARMY LIFE

Camp Travis, Texas,
Sept. 27, 1917

Dear Father and Mother:

I will try to write you a few [illegible] tonight. [illegible] you all [illegible] along? I am doing fine. We [illegible] have to work only in the morning. We worked about two hours [illegible] morning. We have not done [illegible] the rest of the day.

I sure do like army life. [illegible] treat us very fine [illegible] movies [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] other [illegible]. We have [illegible] singing you ever heard, just imagine eight or ten hundred men singing "In the Sweet Bye and Bye."

I am here in the Y. M. C. A. building now. There are between ten and twelve thousand men around me now.

We have not gotten our uniforms yet. I don't know when we will get them. We may get them to-morrow.

I have not gone to town since I came down here. This is [illegible] city, only there are not any [illegible].

Well I will close so answer [illegible].

Your son,

GIVE MILITARY SPIRIT

Texas Cotton Palace at Waco Will Be Mecca for Wearers of the Khaki.

WACO TO HAVE 40,000 TROOPS

Big Army and Aviation Camps Will Give Exposition at Waco in November True and Inspiring Military Aspect.

Waco, Texas.—One of the chief features of the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition this year will be the military spirit that will prevail everywhere. There will be more soldiers and high army officers present at the Cotton Palace than any exposition can boast of anywhere.

Long before the opening of the great exposition on November 3, the City of Waco will be known all over the world as the location of a great army cantonment and a colossal aviation camp.

More than 40,000 soldiers will be located on the big army camp on the edge of Waco. Thousands of men and hundreds of modern enemy destroying aeroplanes will be located in the aviation camp immediately adjoining.

The army camp occupies 1,300 acres and the aviation camp 700 acres. Several million dollars are being expended by the government in the erection of buildings of various kinds to take care of the troops and the aviators. An enormous army hospital is being erected at a cost of half a million dollars.

Arrangements are being made to have the soldiers participate in sham battles and army manoeuvers of all kinds on the Cotton Palace grounds during the exposition. In this way the people of Texas will be enabled to learn all about the army boys who are going to France to fight for their country.

My dear Mother:

Something has prevented me from hearing from you in some time. I believe I wrote the last letter some few weeks back but I suppose you are busy and have not had time to write but I hope this will find you all well and sharing all of God's richest blessings.

I am as well as common except a little accident which I received at a fire in the base Hospital here Saturday night when I lost one finger nail and had two fingers badly skinned up but as it was on my left hand it was not as bad as it would be on my right. However, my right arm is somewhat stiff and sore from a typhoid vaccine shot which all of us boys had to take. It makes [illegible] for us in the last ten days, also my vaccination for smallpox is beginning to take so I'll soon have a sore arm sure enough. Besides all of this, I am well.

Mother, I thank God for you and your raising for to [illegible] I [illegible] and hear many boys [illegible] the dice and throw their money away but I can say, Mother, that by your influence and the help of God I can and will always refrain from such evil.

I and a young preacher by the name of Harris have been preaching to the boys here after retreat and we find a wide field for the spreading of God's word. I want your prayers, Mother, that I may be a useful instrument in God's hands.

May God bless you is my prayer.
