'Big Three' Differs On Summit Conditions

Notes Go To Khrushchev

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle agreed conditionally today to meet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the summit on the Berlin crisis and other problems.

They differed materially, however, in the emphasis they placed on the conditions.

A U.S. note said this country is prepared for a meeting of heads of state "on the understanding" that a prior meeting of foreign ministers at least narrows differences and prepares "constructive proposals."

The British note to the Kremlin took a considerably more positive approach. It said the British would be glad to go to the summit "as soon as developments in the foreign ministers meeting warrant." It spoke of a summit meeting this summer, whereas the U.S. note only spoke of such a conference as soon as the foreign ministers' action might "justify" it.

The French language concerning conditions was still stiffer than that of the United States.

President de Gaulle, in his note to Moscow, made his attendance hinge on whether the foreign ministers meeting "permits the envisagement of genuine progress" at the top. And the French spoke only of a summit session "at an appropriate time" instead of mentioning this summer.

All three of the Western notes reserved the right of all participants to bring up whatever subjects they choose.

That is in contrast to the Soviet idea of confining the talks solely to Berlin and a German peace treaty. In a March 2 note, the Kremlin proposed that the foreign ministers meeting, at least, be held exclusively to those subjects.

U.S. officials said that in spite of the differences in wording, they considered the Western notes to say substantially the same thing.

The Western powers proposed that the foreign ministers meeting start in Geneva May 11 "to consider questions relating to Germany, including a peace treaty with Germany and the question of Berlin."

From there on, they went into their divergent approaches to the summit session.

Despite the variations of emphasis, the Western proposals appeared to bring closer the prospect of a conference of President Eisenhower, Macmillan and De Gaulle with Khrushchev.

The American note was released here, and the British and French communications in Paris and London, after their delivery to the Soviet Foreign Office.

In general they all follow the line of a formula worked out by Eisenhower and Macmillan at their Camp David meeting last week.

That plan calls for dealing with the Berlin crisis through diplomatic negotiations aiming toward one or more summit meetings.

"The purpose of the foreign ministers meeting," the U.S. note said, "should be to reach positive agreements over as wide a field as possible, and in any case to narrow the differences between the respective points of view and to prepare constructive proposals for consideration by a conference of heads of government later in the summer.

"On this understanding and as soon as developments in the foreign ministers meeting justify holding a summit conference, the United States government would be ready to participate in such a conference.

"The date, place and agenda for such a conference would be proposed by the meeting of foreign ministers."

That three-point proposal was the heart of the Eisenhower-Macmillan formula which in substance was approved later by De Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

De Gaulle's note indicated even stronger reservations. He said he would be willing to go to the summit only if a foreign ministers meeting made genuine progress. The U.S. note, on the other hand, spoke only of "constructive proposals" from the foreign ministers.

The U.S. communication mentioned this summer as the time for a summit meeting. De Gaulle spoke only of an appropriate time.

On two other issues the Western powers told the Soviet Union:

1. Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia, like some other unspecified countries, might be brought into the Big Four negotiations "on a certain stage" but the meeting should be initially held by the four powers responsible for Germany.

2. German advisers—from both West and Communist East Germany—should be invited to the May 11 meeting and should be consulted. The United States treated this as agreed since an earlier Western proposal to this effect had been favorably received by Moscow.

In a note March 2, the Soviet government had agreed to a foreign ministers session though making clear its preference for a summit meeting. The Soviets at that time said the foreign ministers should consider exactly two subjects: the future of Berlin and a German peace treaty.

Having laid down the terms, the United States note added: "The conference of heads of government could consider and, if possible, resolve some wider problems such as those referred to in the Soviet government's note of March 2 and in previous communications from the United States government, and where necessary establish machinery for further negotiation on these problems."

The Soviet note of March 2 called for the early conclusion of a German peace treaty, but on terms of breaking German ties with the West. It also proposed such European security measures as the "mutual withdrawal" of armed forces in central Europe and the creation of a zone free of atomic weapons.

WIND, SNOW, DUST

Wild Storms Parade Across Southwest

By The Associated Press

Wild storms containing tornadoes, snow, hail and rain stampeded across Texas Wednesday ahead of a norther.

A terrible gust, believed by some witnesses to have been a tornado, smashed through the Cotton Mill community on the south edge of Denison Wednesday night, injuring Mrs. Montora Armour, 60.

The wind caused widespread damage in the community of about 1,000.

Southwest and south of Denison the wind damaged about a dozen roofs, tore off some porches, damaged barns and uprooted trees. Heavy rain and scattered hail fell in the area.

Three tornadoes bracketed Tulia in the Panhandle, but no damage was reported. Another funnel was sighted northeast of Gainesville, but it apparently didn't touch down.

Snow dotted the Panhandle Wednesday night but quit Thursday as skies cleared.

Temperatures fell well below freezing in the upper Panhandle early Thursday.

Two inches of snow covered the ground at Texline late Wednesday and snow continued at Dalhart until early Thursday. Amarillo had hail, snow and rain early Wednesday, but skies cleared there Wednesday night.

Early Thursday skies were clear over the western half of the state but cloudy along the eastern border of Texas and over the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Hailstones half an inch in diameter, .82 of an inch of rain and winds up to 70 miles an hour lashed Bridgeport late Wednesday.

The storm moved southeast across North Central Texas, lashing Boyd and parts of Fort Worth and Dallas with rain and hail.

High winds at Fort Worth toppled two old water tanks, leaving 55 homes in the west part of the city without water. A tree was blown across a road and electrical service was disrupted in several sections of the city. One resident reported a strange carport sliced down from the sky into his yeard.

The squall line moved on across East Texas and out of the state with showers falling at a number of points, but the hail and high winds apparently diminished.

Hail fell at Tulia and Silverton earlier in the day Wednesday. Clarendon had rain and Perryton and Gruver rain and snow. Blowing dust cut visibility at Lubbock and Midland.

Heavy snow in New Mexico blocked highways. Clayton, N.M., near the Texas-New Mexico line, reported 4 inches. Highway 56 from Clayton to Boise, Okla., and Highway 287 from Clayton to Raton, N.M., were reported closed Thursday morning.

Early morning temperatures in Texas ranged from 29 degrees at Dalhart to 71 at Brownsville.

The Weather Bureau reported the cold front, now rather weak, in early morning extended from Shreveport, La., to Lufkin to Corpus Christi.

Plush Gambling Parlor Is Raided

PIERMONT, N. Y. (AP)—State and local officers broke down guarded doors and seized 45 well-heeled men in a raid on a plush gambling parlor Wednesday night.

Some of the men were playing cards. Others were lolling in easy chairs as the raiders burst in.

A catering firm with portable stoves was serving steaks, chops, salads and other food.

Wads of more than $2,000 were found on a number of the men.

There was no sign of liquor around the layout.

There was a guard outside the place, and a buzzer system was used to gain admittance.

Several expensive cars — including a Rolls Royce — were parked outside.

An agent of the State Investigation Commission, which was in on the raid, called it "very important."

Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet said at his New York City home: "We cooperated with the Rockland County district attorney because we believe this (gambling) organization extends beyond Rockland County. This raid was part of our fight against organized crime."

Sheriff J. Henry Moch said: "This was nothing like the Apalachin convention."

Sixty-odd underworld figures and associates were picked up by state troopers who raided a mansion at Apalachin, a tiny upstate New York community, Nov. 14, 1957. All were released after questioning because, state police said, there were no grounds to arrest them. The State Investigation Commission and several other agencies are still trying to learn the purpose of that convention.

Wednesday night's raid was on an abandoned building on the Hudson River commuter community 20 miles north of Times Square, across from populous northern New Jersey.

Moch said most of those seized were from New York City and New Jersey.

All the men were taken to the office of Dist. Atty. John A. Skahen at New City, the county seat.

In addition to three investigators and three lawyers of the State Investigation Commission, the raiding party included the sheriff, the district attorney, state troopers and Rockland County officers.

Moch said the raid followed weeks of surveillance of the gamblers.

Charge Filed In Shooting

A charge of assault with intent to murder was filed here yesterday afternoon against Buck Shaw, 44, of south Avenue M.

The charge was filed by Wayland G. Holt, district attorney, on complaint of Shaw's wife, Mattie Lee Shaw.

Shaw is accused of shooting at his wife Tuesday night in the Negro section of Snyder, firing at least three shots with a pistol as she drove away. Two of the shots hit the car she was driving, officers said. She was not injured. He was arrested by city police.

He was arraigned before Peace Justice W. C. Davidson this morning, and Davidson set his bond at $1,000.

Dallas Schools Pass Up Federal Funds

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Board of Education resolved last night to do without any federal funds available under the National Defense Education Act of 1958.

The act would provide matching federal funds for improving instructional aids and facilities in science, mathematics and foreign languages.

Dr. W. T. White, superintendent of schools, told the board the federal funds would provide no new services for Dallas children.

Convicted In Rape-Slaying

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—Willie Edward Philpot, 26, was convicted today in the rape-slaying of a 10-year-old Negro girl.

The jury deliberated only 15 minutes before recommending the death penalty for the Dallas Negro.

Philpot was accused in the Jan. 30 death of Joyce Goff, whose body was found in a thicket after she disappeared from her Longview home. A wire coat hanger was twisted around her neck.

Philpot admitted after his arrest last February that he threw a white woman, Janice Hunter, 25, from the 19th floor of a Dallas hotel.

Police said he also admitted assaulting two white women and four Negro women in Anniston, Ala., in 1949, and further admitted attacking three men in the Denison-Sherman area the last year.

Ike May Move Texas Cabbage

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has promised to see what he can do about getting some Texas cabbage to hungry miners. Seems he likes cabbage himself.

Reporter Sarah McClendon of the San Antonio Light told Eisenhower at his news conference yesterday the farmers in the Rio Grande Valley have hundreds of acres of cabbages they want to give to needy miners in Kentucky, Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

She asked: Does Eisenhower have some emergency funds to pay the shipping charges?

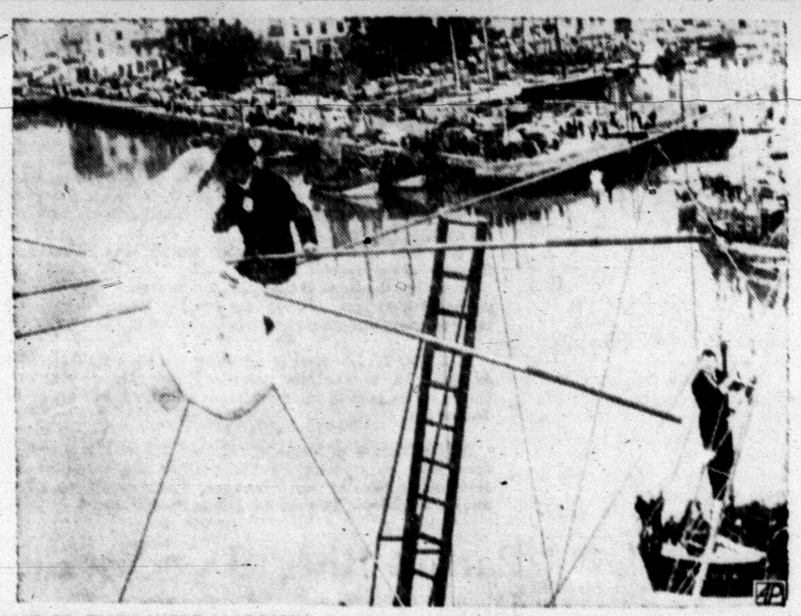

He replied:

"Well, I hadn't heard about this cabbage, but I am all for it"—here he was interrupted by laughter—because I happen to be one of those people who like cabbage in all its forms.

Dogwoods Blooming Ahead Of Schedule

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP)—Dogwood trees are blooming in East Texas a full week ahead of time.

It's too late for sponsors of the Texas Dogwood Trails to alter their plans for an April 1 opening. But they invited sightseers to tour the trails informally this weekend.

AND SO THEY WERE MARRIED—Some people will do anything to draw a crowd and here Roland Schmidt places the ring on the finger of his bride, Francine Pary, before some 5,000 at the French port city of LaRochelle. Holding on tightly at right is Claude Berjac who performed the ceremony. Leaving nothing to chance, the couple had been married earlier in religious rite at LaRochelle Cathedral.

Cruise Ship, Tanker In Crash; One Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—The Grace liner Santa Rosa, bringing home 247 passengers from a happy Caribbean cruise, collided early today with the empty oil tanker Valchem off Atlantic City. One tanker crewman was killed and five injured.

No one was injured aboard the cruise ship, which also carried a crew of 265. But a fire broke out in the paint room in the forward part of the vessel. This was kept from spreading but difficulty was encountered in extinguishing it.

Although a number of other ships raced to the scene, neither the Santa Rosa nor the Valchem was said to be in any danger of sinking.

At one point it was said the cruise liner's passengers might be transferred to a sister ship, the Santa Clara, to continue their voyage to New York. Grace line officials said later that this would not be done unless for some reason it should become absolutely necessary.

The Santa Rosa was expected to proceed to New York, arriving in the afternoon. The Valchem was reported disabled and awaiting tugs to take it in tow. The tanker is owned by the Valchem Line.

The Coast Guard said the Santa Rosa's bow sliced half way through the tanker in the engine room section near the stern when the vessels came together at 3 a.m. about 22 miles east of Atlantic City.

The cause of the crash was not immediately reported. The weather was described as clear with a slight haze at the time.

First word came from the Santa Rosa in a radio message at 3:15 a.m.: "Collision with tanker. No distress."

Later reports reiterated that there was no particular emergency, although the Coast Guard said the 10,416-ton Valchem was disabled.

The name of the dead tanker crewman was not learned immediately. He was said to have died of burns. His fellow crewmen were not believed badly hurt.

The 16,000-ton Santa Rosa is a new vessel placed in service by the Grace Line last June, replacing another of the same name.

The paint room fire aboard it was described as "still smoldering" at 6:15 a.m.

Daniel Says Public Opposes Sales Tax

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel said today his mail is running 50-1 against a general sales tax "and everybody seems to be against a state income tax."

He issued the written statement minutes after calling a press conference for 3 p.m.

"This is a clear indication to me that a vast majority of the people of this state recognize the need for additional taxes and do not agree with the high-pressure propaganda that the only answer is an income or general sales tax to finance our budgets," he said.

Daniel said the mail had increased since his speech last Sunday when he told a statewide radio audience that he would remain firm in his stand against either a state income or general sales tax.

The governor said many members of the Legislature reported to him that they were receiving similar letters from home.

The House quit work yesterday for the Easter holidays and won't be back until Tuesday. The Senate worked through today.

Daniel said his mail included:

"A pharmacist from Victoria wrote on a prescription slip—'We are for you—no sales tax. Don't give in.'

"A Galveston housewife suggested I and the anti-sales tax legislators adopt the World War I battle cry, 'They shall not pass'.

"A Paris attorney said the sales tax fight is reminiscent of the days when the sales tax was disguised as a transactions tax.

'A man from Sherman wrote, 'The results of a state sales tax can readily be found in our neighboring state of Oklahoma. All you have to do is drive through the state and make a 50-cent purchase. They add 3 cents sales tax.'

"A College Station man with five children wrote 'My friends join me in feeling that you are at present standing between the people of Texas and the most damnable tax since the word was first invented'.

A Midland couple wrote 'It is better to apply the tax to a limited number able to pay instead of reaching into the pockets of the poorest segment of our population'."

The governor's tax program includes new levies on cigars, liquor, auto sales, natural gas and an increase in the franchise taxes.

Four-In-One Polio Serum Is Due Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new four-in-one vaccine designed to provide immunization against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus is going on the market soon.

A Public Health Service spokesman said Wednesday night that it has been cleared for use. Merck, Sharpe & Dohme of Philadelphia and Parke, Davis & Co. of Detroit have been licensed to manufacture and sell it.

Sen. Long Defends Action To Curb Petroleum Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell Long (D-La) took issue with Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) today over President Eisenhower's order imposing quotas on foreign oil imports.

Long, defending the President's move for a second time in less than a week, said it conformed to the intent of Congress in amending the reciprocal trade agreement act last year.

"It would be extremely dangerous and unwise to permit our domestic oil industry to wither away as a result of foreign oil competition until we were no longer able to provide even our own requirements in an emergency," he said.

Long noted that Proxmire, in a Senate speech yesterday urging Congress to rescind the President's order, said "the oil industry has won a position of excessive and corrupting influence in our federal government."

That statement," Long said, "sounds extremely like some of those which I have heard made by a previous junior senator from Wisconsin," an apparent reference to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis).

Long called on Proxmire to produce any evidence he has "that the smaller and independent domestic producers have corrupted the Congress which passed a law compelling the President to take action."

He also disputed contentions that the mandatory quotas would lead to increased gasoline prices.

New Revenue Forecast Dims Ike's Balanced Budget Hope

WASHINGTON (AP)—New revenue estimates by congressional tax experts cast substantial doubt today over President Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget next year.

Staff economists of the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation predicted the government's income would fall more than a billion dollars short of the President's budget expectations.

Their annual estimates, which have been close to the mark in the past, put federal receipts for the year starting July 1 at only $75,800,000,000. Eisenhower had counted on $77,100,000,000 ir revenues in submitting his budget to Congres last January.

If borne out, the revenue shrinkage itself would knock administration budget calculations into the red without taking into consideration the probability of increased spending by Congress. The legislators also have shown no inclination to vote higher gasoline taxes and postal rates which Eisenhower asked as part of his proposal for a balanced budget.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said even the staff estimate was optimistic.

"The need for the President to veto every bill involving excessive expenditures is crystal clear," Byrd said.

In a further statement prepared for the Senate today, Byrd contended that spending by Congress already is 12 to 24 per cent in excess of budget requests. He said rejection of administration requests for increases in tax revenues would have further serious effects on the budget for 1960 and succeeding years.

Administration experts said they're sticking with the budget estimates, at least for now.

However, one said they were doing this "with no real assurance" that downward revisions in revenue estimates won't have to be made later.

The next set of administration estimates is due in September. However, Treasury aides said the figures doubtless would be revised before then.

One expert said it is difficult now to judge even fiscal 1959 revenues because March and June are big months for corporation tax payments and April is the big month for individual income tax payments.

Space Capsules Recovered In Sea

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dummy space capsules the size of those that someday may carry American spacemen into orbit have been dropped into the ocean from high-flying planes and recovered intact, scientists reported today.

The tapered, cone-like capsules weighed more than a ton.

After they dropped in free fall for set distances, parachutes opened to slow the capsules' descent as they plummeted toward the ocean.

Next step in the space research program: development of materials to absorb the shock of landings on ground.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today reported significant progress in air drops, escape techniques, impact tests, and wind tunnel and flight studies of model capsules.

The early research is part of Project Mercury, the program to place a man in orbit around the earth. So far, its research has provided valuable information toward developing a safe and reliable manned satellite capsule, NASA said.

Space scientists have been experimenting at Wallops Island, Va., on the firing of escape rockets that would permit a man to get out of a capsule high enough in the air for a parachute to open—if trouble should develop soon after launching.

Wind tunnel tests are planned of a space capsule on top of a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile.

NASA has been paring down a list of 110 potential Mercury astronauts or spacemen. Early next month it will make public the first team of less than a dozen volunteers.

The agency disclosed today that its scientists last summer developed methods for dropping a full scale model capsule from an Air Force C130 Hercules transport.

In the tests over land, capsules were pushed out of C130s almost 10 miles above the earth. They fell into target areas in the Army's Fort Bragg, N.C., "Salerno" and "Normandy" drop zones, and on a deserted airfield at West Point, Va.

In the ocean drops, two T33 jet trainers were used as chase planes to photograph the capsules in free fall.

Two Marine helicopters and an NASA crash rescue boat rushed to the impact point. One helicopter retrieved the capsule by hooking a line into the test model.

Prospectors Digging For Water First

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—Dig for water in rocks before you dig for gold? That would make the prospectors of 1849 shake their heads in disbelief.

But C. L. Craig and Doyle Saul know from experience on the dry South Plains of Texas that vast quantities of water can be found underground.

That is why they have faith in Stephen Reiss, a California geologist with a reputation for finding fissure water in rocks, to locate the water they need to work the placer gold deposit lease they own near Truth or Consequences, N.M.

Craig, oil agent and owner of oil interests, Saul, rancher and quarterhorse breeder, and Paul Daughterty of Truth or Consequences obtained the lease on 1,200 acres of land on Lake Caballo, 23 miles south of Truth or Consequences last November.

"There is no doubt about the gold being there," said Craig as he displayed a pound of yellow, shiny placer dust and nuggets. "It is the water to wash it out that's got us buffaloed right now."

He said mint records show that approximately $2,000,000 worth of gold has been taken from the lease area since 1901.

With sluices and plenty of water he and his associates believe they can produce much more gold.

For weeks Craig, Reiss and George McKenzie, an El Paso mining engineer, have been collecting technical data and exploring mining methods on the lease.

Reiss has staked two water well locations upgrade, where water will flow by gravity to the spots the owners picked as desirable for gold sluicing. One is now being drilled with the expectation of hitting water at 350 feet.

"I am skeptical about the prospect water supply," said Craig, "but the reputation and skill of Mr. Reiss confirms faith to the extent that we've paid him for his services and have started drilling for water in the rock."

Craig said that surface deposits have an assayed yield of 67 cents worth of gold per cubic yard and with 20 feet of overburden removed the run is $2.67 per cubic yard.

"It is natural to expect more gold in the gravel and sands," he said.

Whirling dervishes are a sect in the Moslem religion. There are an estimated 3,000 in the United States.

Junior Editors Quiz on EASTER LILY

QUESTION: Why is the lily a symbol of Easter?

* * *

ANSWER: The Easter lily, one of the most beautiful flowers in the lily family, is white, the color of purity. And in the temperate zone of the Northern Hemisphere it usually blooms during the Easter season.

For these reasons, Christian churches have accepted the Easter lily as a symbol of the Easter season, a time when flowers are blooming after their winter's sleep and when Christians are recalling the Savior who died to redeem them for the sins.

There also are indications that the lily was the favorite flower of Jesus. He told His disciples:

"Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." (Matt. 6:28-9)

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a drawing of a little girl selecting an Easter lily to take home. Color the picture. Choose your own colors but be sure to leave the flower white or it will not be an Easter lily.

Parrott Rites Here Today

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. today here for Ralph Parrott, former Snyder resident who was killed two days ago by accidental shotgun wound at Jal, N. M.

Parrott, an employe of Gulf Oil Corp. for about 25 years, was district gauger in Snyder for eight years, transferring to Jal last year.

A 32nd degree Mason, he was past master of the Hermleigh lodge and a member of the Eastern Star there. He was a member of the Methodist Church. He was a native of Idalia, Mo. Mrs. Parrott died here in August, 1955. Masonic services were held following the funeral at Hillside Memorial Gardens, where burial was under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Pallbearers at the service were B. J. Pinnell and James Davidson of Snyder, E. P. Driver of Big Spring, J. C. Sikes, B. V. Gillean, and Ike Driggers, all of Odessa.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Johnny Williams of Odessa; one son, Fred Parrott of Jal; his mother, Mrs. Lula Parrott of Odessa; two sisters, Mrs. Charlene Ener of Odessa and Mrs. Jill Holder of Midland; and two brothers, Don Parrott of Arlington and Glenn Parrott of McAllen.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Claims Adjusting

Harold Walker of Lubbock, an insurance claims adjuster, made a talk yesterday at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club here on automobile claims adjusting.

His talk dealt with how claims are handled after being turned in by car owners.

A group of members of the Lamesa Kiwanis Club met with the club as a regular inter-club meeting. Each Kiwanis Club has an inter-club meeting with another club in the district each month.

Roy J. McCloskey, president, headed the meeting.

U. S. To Buy 80 Per Cent Of Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam will buy outright around 80 per cent of the cotton crop this year.

The government seldom has handled as much as 50 per cent of a single crop.

This year it will pay growers one price and then offer it to buyers at lower prices—probably about 3-3 cents a pound or $16.50 a bale less than it pays. This year's crop may turn out to be around 13 million bales.

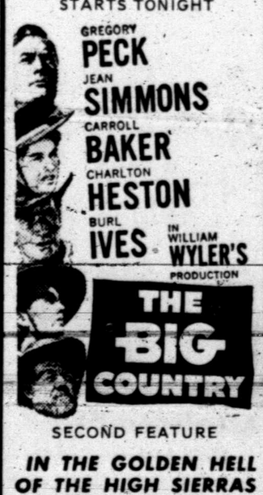

This is planned to carry out a new federal cotton program enacted by Congress last year.

This year farmers had a choice of abiding by their rigid allotments or of overplanting them 40 per cent. Those who abide will get a higher support price.

About 80 per cent of this year's acreage will be in hands of growers sticking to their allotments.

Livestock Auction Session Delayed

The meeting scheduled for this afternoon on the proposed livestock auction ring for Scurry County was moved up to 4 p.m. It is to be held in the district courtroom.

Originally set for 2:30 p.m., the meeting was changed slightly because of funerals being held during the early part of the afternoon.

At the meeting, farmers, ranchers and businessmen will discuss the proposal, and the beginning of organization of the auction ring is expected to come out of the meeting.

The meeting was called by a special committee studying the auction ring and by the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee.

MR. AND MRS. T. R. (BOB) JENNINGS
. . . To celebrate Golden Anniversary

Fluvanna Couple To Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

MRS. T.R. (BOB) JENNINGS

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. (Bob) Jennings of Fluvanna will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday.

The celebration will be marked by an open house for the couple held in the home of a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Forehand, Fluvanna.

The couple's three children and their families will be on hand to greet the many friends and neighbors who have been invited to attend the open house.

Their children are Mrs. Opal Forehand, Fluvanna, Mrs. Kate Russell, Littlefield, and Mrs. Neil Holder, Fluvanna. They have seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Jennings was married to the former Miss Betty Weatherred in a buggy in Commanche County, Texas, by a Baptist preacher in 1909. Jennings said "we slipped off to get married and thought we would have a better chance of getting away if we just stayed in the buggy."

They made their first home in Commanche County, and after seven years moved to Savoy in Fannin County, where they lived for the next eight years. Then they moved to Runnels County, where they lived 18 years before moving to Scurry County 17 years ago.

They have lived and farmed in the Fluvanna Community since. Although he retired from farming some years ago, he still leads singing in the Fluvanna Church of Christ.

Mr. Jennings is 75 and Mrs. Jennings is 66 years old.

Try Budget Entertaining, It's Fun

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Newlyweds should not postpone entertaining their friends just because they live in small quarters. The modern home is designed for that emergency, and clutter becomes almost a chic coziness in small abodes. It has great appeal eventually, ever to those young people who have come from large homes.

There is the smart idea of providing your guests with cushions, everyone sitting on the floor, around a fireplace or coffee table.

There is the room divider where china, glass and other serving accessories may be displayed, making up for the lack of storage space.

There is the popularity of the low coffee table, and if selected with the space problem in mind, it can serve as a buffet, and even a dinner table for a small group.

There are the all-purpose chests that offer space for silver, linens, hi-fi, and even the television unit.

Contemporary furnishings give a sleek, clean line to the small apartment a realization that many young people have found pays off. It may be less expensive than traditional furnishings, and easier on upkeep. Small accessories can contribute to the charm, without denting the exchequer to a great degree.

If you can't afford silver there are charming patterns available in stainless steel. Plastic dinnerware may do beautifully while you save for your china. Or start with the dinner plates in your favorite china pattern, and serve little buffet dinners until you can manage the place settings on your budget.

Attractive table appointments, handwrought by American manufacturers, are a sure-fire way to create a noteworthy table. Fine handmade glassware, for instance, adds a sparkle to your table that belies its cost. Imaginative use of glass in placement, centerpieces and color can work wonders.

A handmade free form glass salad bowl may be used as an attractive container for fruit or flowers until put to use for salad. Colorful decanters can be used for accent color in a room, and pitchers may be filled with greens. Glasses have become practical designs too, so that the ice tea, water juice and wine glass may do triple duty.

It takes shrewd planning to be a good hostess, but you will find that living in small quarters may make your parties more intimate, your home seem cozier and put your chores at a minimum.

Nurses Give Reasons For Opposition To House Bill 76

The Executive committee of the Scurry County Registered Nurse's Club held a special meeting at noon Tuesday to discuss House Bill No. 76 of the State Legislature.

The bill proposes to establish a central licensing bureau that would place all of the state examining boards except those of medical doctors under a central department. The bill is written to cover 21 licensing boards among which are: the board of nurse examiners, the board of vocational nurse examiners, lawyers, professional engineers, morticians, veterinarians, beauticians, dentists, barbars, land surveyors, etc.

The Texas Registered Nurse's Association and our District 15, are going on record as opposed to it. House bill 76 has passed from committee and is now being printed for presentation to the House of Representatives.

The reasons the TRNA has stated for opposing the bill are:

1. It offers no assurance of funds being available for the total operation of the program of our nurses board, nor any of the other boards.

2. It jeopardizes the schools of nursing, because it does not provide that an educational director from the board would be available (therefore offers no assurance of any program for elevating schools or maintaining their standards, etc.)

3. The qualifications of the director of the central licensing board are not clearly defined. Anyone regardless of qualifications with political prestige could obtain the position, thus placing professional people under the direction of a non-professional person and his staff.

4. It groups professional persons with non-professional persons. The 21 boards to be grouped together vary too greatly for a central board of directors to have a complete knowledge of each one.

5. No assurance is given that professional people would conduct or grade the examinations. We are proud that the license of professional nurses are difficult to obtain as they are now and have no wish that our standards be lowered.

After careful discussion the executive committee voted unanimously to voice the Scurry County Registered Nurses opposition to House Bill No. 76. A telegram to that effect was sent to Mr. Renal Rosson Tuesday by the collective members of the club.

It has been suggested by the District association that each registered nurse write to Mr. Rosson stating her opinion of the bill. Mr. Rosson may be reached by addressing your letter to Mr. Renal Rosson, care of House of Representatives, Austin, Tex.

Promptness is extremely important as the bill is now ready for presentation at any time.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

SNYDER AND MIDLAND'S track teams are expected to battle it out once again this weekend when the two take part in the ABC Relays at Big Spring.

The Tigers battled the Midlanders right down the wire in their own Canyon Reef Relays before settling for second place, Midland winning with 33 points to 29 for the Tigers.

Earlier in the season, Midland was the first place winner at the Commanche Relays in Fort Stockton with the Tigers finishing third.

But at Big Spring this weekend, the Tigers may stand their best chance of outpointing the Bulldogs and if they do it should be enough for the team title.

The Tigers will be hurt in that the ABC affair doesn't include the low hurdle event in which the Tigers are extremely strong.

But, with relays counting 10 points, the Tigers, barring mishap, could very well walk off with two of the relays at Big Spring, the 440 and 880 relays.

Then the Tigers stand to count heavily in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the high hurdles and the broad jump.

Relays A Big Factor

The same story probably holds true for the Big Spring meet as it did for the meet here — that for the Tigers to win the meet they will have to win the 880 and 440 relays.

Coach Jim Stehley said in advance of the Canyon Reef meet he believed the Tigers would win the title if they could win the 880 and 440 relays. The Bengals did win the 880 relay but finished third in the 440 after holding the lead until the final handoff. The latter cost the Tigers the title since the six additional points the Bengals would have gained by winning the sprint relay would have pushed them ahead of Midland.

John Weaver, a vital cog in the Tigers' sprint relay team, will be out this week as he was in the Canyon Reef meet, with muscle spasms in his leg. But the Tigers have still been pretty potent in the 440 and 880 relays even with Weaver out.

Coach Stehley says Weaver probably could run this weekend but he doesn't want to take any more chances of getting any recurrences of the injury before the district meet.

Weaver competed briefly at San Angelo last week, pulling up lame with the same muscle spasms the first day of the two-day meet.

Big Spring, Amarillo Teams Big Threat

Host Big Spring, Amarillo and Amarillo Tascosa are expected to offer the Tigers and Midland their stiffest competition in the ABC affair.

Amarillo features its mile relay team and Tascosa is strong in the weights with Spencer Johnson at the controls. Johnson, who electrified the track world with a toss of 181-8½ inches in the discus in the Canyon Reef, fell off to 153-3 at Odessa last week.

But near freezing temperatures at Odessa probably accounted for the drop-off.

Other teams entered at Big Spring are Lamesa, Colorado City, Westbrook, Seminole, Coahoma, Spur and Odessa.

The high school field isn't as large this season as it has been in the past. Main reason is that several other meets are on tap this weekend. In competition with the Big Spring meet are the Mustang Relays at Andrews, the Bluebonnet Relays at Brownwood and the Killeen Relays.

In other words, the West Texas track talent will be widely spread this weekend.

Big Spring, incidentally, came pretty close of luring John Thomas, the world's record holder in the high jump, to its meet. Thomas, a freshman at Boston University, recently high-jumped 7-1½ inches for his world mark.

Thomas was interested making the ABC meet but Boston officials turned down the invite because Thomas is a freshman.

As it turned out, Thomas couldn't have made it anyway since he mangled his foot in an elevator early this week and will be out of action from six to eight weeks.

Time Running Out For Bobby Morrow

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Although there's the Olympic Games ahead and opportunity for his greatest glory yet, time is running out for Bobby Morrow, the most famous of Texas track men.

Texas has had three truly great men of the cinders — men who will stand the test of time. The first was Fred Wolcott, the blond blur of Rice who set all sorts of records in the hurdles. Wolcott came along in the late thirties.

The other two great Texas tracksters are contemporaries and are still in the limelight. They are Eddie Southern, the versatile star of Texas, and Morrow.

Southern, while he is an all-time great in track, may never attain as did Wolcott and Morrow. Southern went to the Olympic Games but he was in the same event as Glen Davis of Ohio State — the 400-meter hurdles. Southern set some records but Davis was a little faster.

Southern also ran the 440 in 45.8. Trouble was Davis ran it in 45.7.

Wolcott never went up against anybody who could beat him in the hurdles. Three times he was national collegiate low hurdles champion. His best time was 23.0. Twice he was high hurdles king, his fastest time being 14.1. But Wolcott ran swifter than that in other meets. It is intriguing to think just how fast he could have run those events had he had somebody to really push him.

Morrow has been national collegiate, national AAU and Olympic champion in the sprints. There's nothing else to accomplish in the way of victories. He has just finished beating his arch rival, Dave Sime of Duke. He ran close to the world's record in the 100-yard dash in doing it.

Morrow holds a tie for the world's record in the 100 at 9.3, tablished world's records. He holds the national collegiate 100-yard dash record. He still holds the college freshman record in the 100 at 9.4.

Morrow is determined to return the Olympic Games in 1960 and there's no reason to think he can't do it. That would be the climax to one of sport's greatest careers.

Texas has never produced a national collegiate championship team but it has had many individual champions. The man who first brought attention to this state's track was long Jim Reese of Texas. Back in 1925 Reese was a national sensation when he showed up at the NCAA unheralded and unsung and won the mile in what then was the fastest time ever for the collegiates — 4:18.6.

Jerry Thompson of Texas was thrice 2-mile champion of the NCAA and he's the only other distance runner from this state to register victories although there have been some fellows who could have made it had they chose to compete. Olcott Twins of North Texas State are two of them.

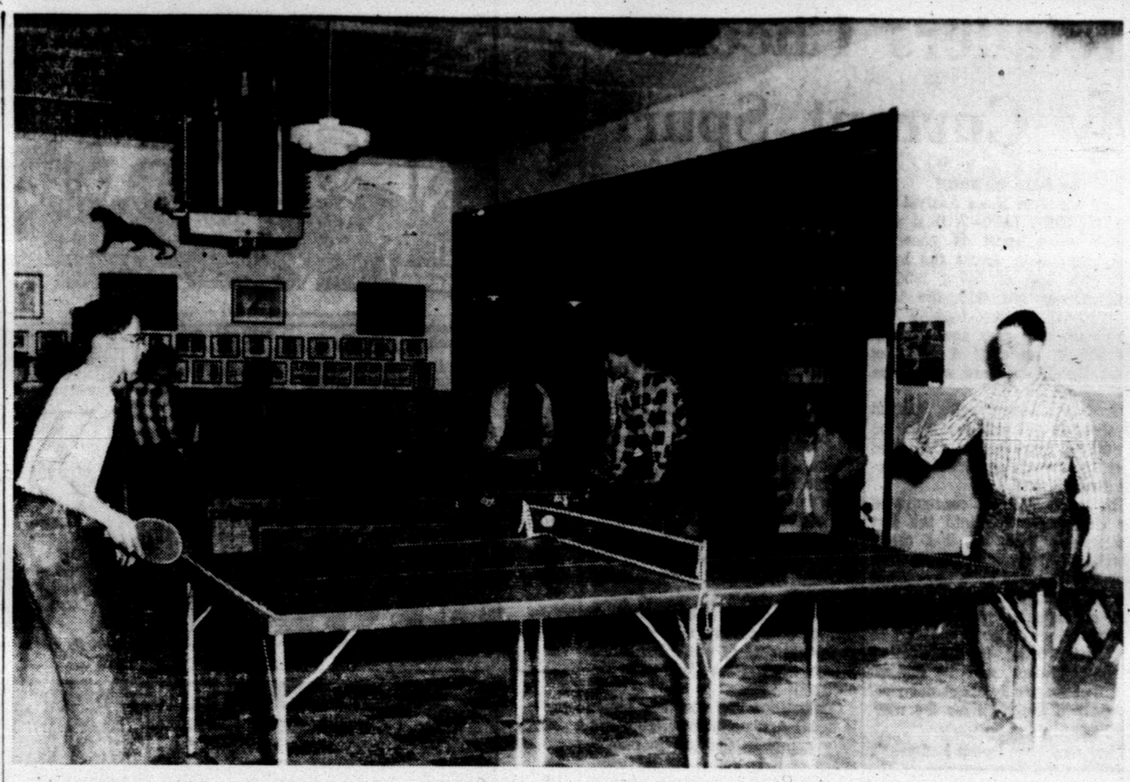

Three years after Reese showed Texas had some track ability, Claude Bracey of Rice won the 100-yard dash in 9.6 and the 220 in 20.9. Bracey was the first of many great sprinters this state has produced, fellows like Charley Parker, Charley Thomas and Cy Leland.

The state also has shone with its high jumpers and broad jumpers and is noted as the home of the great sprint relay teams. If Abilene Christian isn't setting a record in the 440 or 880 relays Texas is.

Morrow can be proud to be hailed as the most famous trackman of Texas history.

Track Stars Vieing Today In Abilene

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Four NCAA champions are among the stars of track and field to be seen here today in a six-college meet featuring Kansas and Ohio State.

Glenn Davis of Ohio State, who set a world's record in the 440-yard dash with 45.7, heads the field. Ernie Shelby of Kansas, who won the broad jump with a leap of 25 feet 5 inches; teammate Charlie Tidwell, who took the 220-yard low hurdles in 22.7, and Don Stewart, high jump champ at 6 feet 9¼ from Southern Methodist, are the other spotlighted athletes.

Directors of the meet are looking for some top performances from among the squads of Kansas, Ohio State, Houston, SMU, Abilene Christian and Baylor.

It will be a warmup for the ABC relays at Big Spring, Tex., Saturday for Ohio State, Houston, Baylor, SMU and Abilene Christian.

Kansas' well-balanced squad is favored to win the meet but the opposition should be strong from Ohio State, Houston and Abilene Christian.

Bill Wooodhouse, the Abilene Christian sprint star who already has a wind-aided 9.3 in the 100-yard dash behind him this season, gets competition from Stan Levenson of Houston, Billy Hollis of Baylor and Tidwell, who also is a fine 100-yard man.

Jan Ahlberg, the Swedish distance runner from SMU, will match strides with John Macy of Houston, the AAU six-mile champion, in the two-mile.

Tidwell will get competition from Calvin Cooley of Abilene Christian in the low hurdles.

Billy Alley of Kansas, who has flung the javelin 246 feet, is the leader of the Jayhawk weight corps.

Britains Bar London From Title Match

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—Britain's biggest boxing row in years flared today with a British heavyweight hurling defiance at officials who forbade him to fight America's world heavyweight king Floyd Patterson.

The country's boxing bosses—the British Board of Boxing Control—banned Brian London from meeting Patterson for the world title in Las Vegas, Nev., April 21.

They claimed the bout would not be in the best interests of British boxing.

London promptly announced he would go ahead with the bout anyway.

"I've got a big pay day coming ($75,000) and a chance to win the world title," the pugnacious, 24-year-old Briton said. "I'll risk suspension at home for that."

The BBBC said London probably will lose his license to fight in Britain if he defies them.

"It is now up to American authorities to decide whether they will permit an unauthorized British boxer to fight Patterson," said BBBC President J. Onslow Fane.

U.S. boxing bigwigs appeared ready to go along with London, although their statements were cautious.

Dr. Ward Wylie, president of the National Boxing Assn., said: "The NBA will recognize any logical contender."

Observed national boxing commissioner Abe Greene: "We have a very friendly arrangement and understanding with the BBBC but we would want to know more about the circumstances which would prompt such a preemptory stand before we would concur."

Two members of the Nevada Boxing Commission also said they would permit the fight "unless we get a request from the BBBC giving a good reason for the ban and a transcript of the hearing at which he was banned."

The controversy stems from London's last fight, against Henry Cooper.

Cooper used a jabbing left to take away London's british title. London was made to look like a novice as he plodded smack into the nagging lefts of Cooper.

Experts argue Cooper should be the man tackling Patterson but Cooper lost his chance by asking for too much money—$140,000.

Giants, On Paper, Got Best Deal

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Who got the better of the St. Louis Cardinals — San Francisco Giants deal?

Only time will tell, of course, but most expert opinion in these parts, today was that the trade made the Giants a definite threat for the National League pennant and materially weakened the Cards.

The deal was completed Wednesday. It was a straight player transaction sending right-handed pitcher Sam (Toothpick) Jones to the Giants in exchange for first baseman-outfielder Bill White and third baseman Ray Jablonski.

"Jones could win 20 for a club with power like the Giants," Card Manager Solly Hemus admitted. "But we had to get some punch into our lineup and this was our chance.

"It's up to some of the younger pitchers to take up the slack. We now have only three starters—Vinegar Bend Mizell, Larry Jackson and Ernie Broglio."

Giants' Manager Bill Rigney said in Phoenix that this was the most important deal of the club since they acquired pitcher Johnny Antonelli in 1954.

"The addition of Jones makes our front-line pitching solid and our second line deeper," said Rigney. "He'll be a starter. This guy can strike someone out."

Jones was the leading pitcher on the Cards last year, compiling a 14-13 record. His 225 strikeouts led the league, and his earned run average of 2.88 was second only to Stu Miller of the Giants.

Renaissance Of Decency

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE:

Five years ago on the 80th anniversary of his birth, the British writer W. Somerset Maughan let go a few trenchant observations concerning the condition of contemporary literature and the changes he had seen in his day. One of his most pointed remarks was that a steady deterioration had set in, first observed in the days following World War I. The writers of the present generation, he said, have been increasingly wallowing in filth. All sense of decency apparently is being forgotten or overlooked.

In very much the same vein, Alfred A. Knopf, Sr., one of the most respected publishers of the United States, last week addressed himself to members and guests of the Texas Institute of Letters at Dallas. Knopf was principal speaker at the institute's annual awards dinner. He deplored the fact that people expect to find sex explored to the extreme of bad taste in today's novels. The general idea prevails among writers and publishers also that it is good for sales of a book to have it suppressed somewhere.

Knopf, who entered the book publishing business in 1915 when he was a youth of 23, established his reputation by following his creed in selection of books for publication. His biggest "name writers" have been Clarence Day, Thomas Mann, H. L. Mencken and Kahlil Gibron. However, he said it is very difficult to write a book today which is so bad nobody will publish it. Too many editors fail to realize that publishing no books is better than publishing bad books. It would be good for the industry and good for the American people if editors would weigh Knopf's remarks and give us a renaissance of decency in the fiction of tomorrow.

Ike Convinced He Must Meet Krush

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roly-poly Premier Nikita Khrushchev has convinced President Eisenhower he must do business with Khrushchev himself if he wants to have any worthwhile dealings with the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower acknowledged this Wednesday, thus making a summit conference pretty certain. The President went out of his way to say Khrushchev couldn't push him into a summit meeting. Nevertheless, that's about what it amounts to.

The Eisenhower acknowledgment also makes all the talk about how much importance the President placed on a foreign ministers meeting—before there could be any summit meeting — look pretty academic now.

The bald-headed Khrushchev used two main devices to push Eisenhower into a meeting.

1. He deliberately created the Berlin crisis by demanding the West get its troops out of West Berlin. Unless some peaceful solution was found through negotiation, a showdown looked sure and war possible.

2. He used speeches and even a mammoth news conference in Moscow to urge negotiation and get the idea across to Eisenhower that the only way to negotiate was with him personally.

In this he apparently got a big assist from British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan who, after talking with Khrushchev, reportedly came away convinced a summit meeting was the only answer. Then Macmillan came to see Eisenhower.

In the past Eisenhower's stock answer to Soviet proposals for a summit conference was that first the foreign ministers had to meet and show enough results to justify a meeting of the top men.

Eisenhower repeated this at his news conference Wednesday but the other things he said showed pretty clearly he was scaling down in his own mind the importance of what the foreign ministers could accomplish.

He was asked by a reporter: "How do you feel now about the argument that the only man in the Soviet Union you can do business with is Soviet Premier Khrushchev?"

Eisenhower replied: "Well, I think it is perfectly clear that he is the only man who has the . . . authority really to negotiate.

"If you have anyone else with whom you were negotiating, I think—except in detail, or method or procedure or agenda, things like that—I really believe that the only way that man could do anything would be to be on the telephone all the time with Moscow."

Here Eisenhower seemed to be saying plainly the most that could be expected from a foreign ministers meeting was arranging details for a summit meeting and that it couldn't be expected to reach agreement on issues.

For he went on: "So in effect you would be negotiating directly with Moscow. And I think that there is probably some validity to the argument that if you are really going to talk substantive measures, and hope to get some agreement . . . on both sides, that he (Khrushchev) has got to get into the picture."

Then, as if concerned anyone might think Khrushchev was forcing him into a summit meeting, Eisenhower added: "I want to make this very clear . . . this doesn't mean that anyone can command anybody else to come to a summit meeting, and you can't bluff them or blackmail them or anything else."

Retailers Cheered By Current Spurt

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A final pre-Easter sales spurt is cheering most merchants across the land. With the cost of living holding fairly steady and with the total of personal income topping the record set two years ago, customers are in more of a spending mood. Retail sales are well above last year's.

Merchants report sales spurted by about 14 per cent last week on a national average. In this final week the volume apparently is going even higher.

The early Easter concentrated the shopping spree into the last two weeks. Prior to that many merchants were complaining that poor weather was keeping customers away and that many persons just couldn't be made to think about spring clothes.

A better break in the weather in many regions, and the realization that Easter is about upon us, has turned the trick for the merchants.

They now hope to top l t year's mark for the first quarter of the year by perhaps 10 per cent.

The Department of Commerce reports that in the first two months of 1959 retail sales were running 7 per cent above a year ago and early reports indicating a good March for merchants.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reveals one reason for this. Its consumer price index was practically unchanged in January and February.

But the Commerce Department points up an even more potent reason. It says total purchasing power has climbed to a record high of 364 billion dollars at an annual rate.

It notes that on average Americans save about 6 per cent of their income and spend the rest.

The department also has good news about the economy as a whole, as well as the consumer portion of it. The output of goods and services is now at a record high, nicely above the previous peak set in the summer of 1957.

The total is currently estimated at an annual rate of 464 billion dollars. This compares with 453 billion dollars in the final three months of 1958. Some economists are predicting this gross national product will reach an annual rate of 475 billion dollars by the end of June, and then after a dip during the summer perhaps climb as high as 480 billion dollars by the end of the year.

Consumers don't get their hands on all of this volume of goods and services. Some of it goes to industry itself.

But out of the money they do get, consumers are now spending at annual rate of about 300 billion dollars a year, the Commerce Department says.

Competition for this 300 billion is keen. And merchants often ruefully complain that an increasing share of it is going for services.

But for these two weeks anyway the merchants are happy.

Reports from around the country show that retail sales gains were nationwide, although not uniform.

Boston and New York report that good weather last Saturday brought out hordes of shoppers. Philadelphia sales were up about 15 per cent, Cleveland's up about 8 per cent; Detroit's 12 per cent above last year, and Pittsburgh's ahead but spotty.

Atlanta stores report Easter buying running 15 per cent higher, Dallas about 10 per cent, and Chicago in the same category.

In the West good to booming sales were reported in San Francisco, Portland, Ore., Seattle and Los Angeles.

Wives Unneeded In Husbands' Offices

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Should a wife be encouraged to visit her husband's office frequently?

Prof. James A. Peterson, a marriage counselor at the University of Southern California, says this is a good idea. He says it would help give wives an appreciation of their husband's problems and pressures on the job.

We don't agree at all. We have another idea. We think every office should hire a 230-pound ex-football tackle as a receptionist.

His duty would be simple. Every time a wife stuck her nose in the door, the receptionist would throw a hammerlock on her, rassle her into the nearest elevator, and push the button marked "Down."

We are somewhat old-fashioned in this matter. We don't say a woman's only place is in the kitchen of her home. But we do say her place definitely is not in her husband's office. And, except for one or two born cowards, every man we know feels pretty much the same way.

The average man likes to dramatize the horrors and hardships he undergoes in his task of bringing home the bacon.

So what happens when his wife, during a pause in shopping, drops into the office unexpectedly?

Everybody in the office is busy working but her husband. He is sitting there, laughing, with his feet on the desk and seemingly staring at the derriere of a passing stenographer.

The wife's visit is brief and frigid. Here is a sample of the conversation at home that night.

Wife: "You were the only one loafing."

Husband: "As God is my judge, I'd just put my feet on that desk one second before you came in—just to rest them."

Wife: "But you were laughing."

Husband: "The boss had just told me a joke and gone int his office. When the boss tells a joke, you have to laugh, it's a form of unemployment insurance."

Wife: "Why were you staring at that pretty stenographer?"

Husband: "What stenographer? I never even saw her. I was just trying to figure out the point to the boss's joke."

Wife, unconvinced: "Well, I wish someone would pay me money just to sit around and laugh with both feet on the desk. Don't give me any more guff about what a hard life you have at the office. If you ask me, I don't think you'll be there much longer—from the look of things."

Rockefeller Looks Like A Candidate

ALBANY, N.Y. (A) — Nelson A. Rockefeller sailed through his first legislative session as governor of New York looking more than ever like a potential candidate for president.

After a slow start, he wound up with a glittering array of legislation that would look good in any White House hopeful's showcase.

He showed that, when the going got rough, he could fight back to win.

The Empire State's Legislature formally adjourned early today and the dominant feature of Rockefeller's first 84 days in office was the "battle of the budget."

The youthful-looking Republican millionaire barely had settled himself in the governor's chair when he ran hip-deep into trouble by submitting the first two-billion-dollar budget in the state's history and calling for the greatest round of tax increases the state had ever seen.

Rockefeller asked tax-increases that:

Raised he state's gasoline tax from four cents a gallon to six cents and the diesel fuel levy from six cents to nine, effective March 1.

Increased the levy on cigarettes from three cents a pack to five April 1, and imposed a new 15 per cent tax on the wholesale price of cigars and other tobacco products July 1.

He also established a payroll withholding system for collecting state taxes for 1959 and lowered individual exemptions.

Rockefeller's record budget shocked conservative, economy-minded Republicans in the legislature. They rebelled and demanded deep cuts.

The governor eventually agreed to a 40-million reduction. When the rebels demanded still more, he refused. The revolt broke. That was his major victory.

Rockefeller followed up his budget and tax-increased triumphs with these legislative successes:

1. An anti-rackets, labor-control bill that won overwhelming support from pro-labor Democrats in the Legislature.

2. A program of tax relief and other assistance for financially strained railroads and bus companies that won warm plaudits from the transportation industry.

3. A plan for expanding the state's middle-income housing program by bringing in private capital to bolster a 100-million-dollar bond issue approved by New York voters last fall.

4. Extension of unemployment insurance benefits to all workers in the state (coverage was limited to firms that employed two or more persons).

The lawmakers also agreed to set up new agencies to deal with transportation problems, local government affairs, police training and atomic development.

In addition, the Republican-controlled Legislature, after balking for many years, finally agreed to a plan for reorganization of the state's court system. Rockefeller had labelled it a "must."

Freshman FFA Student Wins In Contest

Earl Shifflett, freshman Snyder high school student and member of the Snyder Future Farmers of America chapter, was named winner yesterday afternoon of the annual county FFA tractor driver contest.

Shifflett, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shifflett, Route 2, defeated Aubrey Williams, senior student from Hermleigh, in a close contest, which included plowing and tractor maintenance.

As county winner he will go into a district contest which will be held early in April, probably in Snyder. Date of the contest has not yet been set. There are 32 counties in the district. He received a trophy as county winner, and the district winner will also receive a trophy.

The district winner will go into the state tractor contest July 14, held during the state FFA meeting in Austin. Winner there will receive a Ford tractor, while second and third place drivers will receive wrist watches.

Conducting the contest were Floyd Boston and Darrell Sturdivant of Scurry County Tractor Co., local contest sponsor. They were aided by Kenneth Goforth, district manager for the Stewart Co.

Judges were Herman Stahl, L. N. Eicke, Lewis Smith, Oran Sturdivant; all plowing judges, and J. C. Massingill and Lewis Smith, maintenance judges.

Land Judging Contest Set

A land judging team representing the Snyder Future Farmers of America chapter will go to Midland Saturday to participate in the FFA area land judging contest.

Jake Greene, high school agriculture teacher and FFA advisor, will accompany the team as coach.

Members of the team are Jack Kea, Ronnie McNabb, Billy Tarter, and Richard Smith. All are juniors in high school.

This will be the team's first such contest, Greene said, adding that the four youths have been working out for about three weeks.

The number of teams to be entered in the Midland contest is indefinite. There are more than 75 FFA chapters in the district.

The top five teams in the Midland contest will be eligible to go to the state land judging contest, which will be held at Stephenville April 25.

Winner in the state contest will go to the national contest at Oklahoma City.

New Celebration Set For Castle Hill

SITKA, Alaska (AP) — Sitka's Castle Hill, one of this huge state's most historic spots, will again become the scene of a history-making event July 4.

It was on Castle Hill on Oct. 18, 1867, that Czarist Russia formally signed over to the United States the vast, unexplored territory of Alaska for 7 million dollars.

Next July 4, state officials said the first 49-star flag in this newest state will be raised on Castle Hill.

Death From Poisoned Fish Alarms Philadelphia Area

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —The death of a three-year-old boy who had eaten poisoned fish touched off an alert Wednesday night that spread fear throughout the East for several hours.

Later, a statement from federal food inspectors indicated the bad fish was confined to a relatively small amount in the Philadelphia area.

The Donald Kleinschmidt family, both parents and four young children, were stricken ill at their home in nearby Haddon Heights, N.J., after eating a fish dinner Tuesday night.

Dale, 3, the youngest, died shortly after admission to Cooper Hospital in Camden. Two brothers and a sister were seriously stricken.

Representatives of the U.S. food and Drug Administration were informed Wednesday of the cause of the youngster's death. Laboratory analyses of the family's dinner indicated a high content of sodium nitrite, a poison, which in much smaller quantities is sometimes used as a preservative for meats.

Meanwhile, three women had suffered attacks of food poisoning after eating fish in a Philadelphia restaurant Tuesday night.

Robert C. Stanfill, local director of the federal food agency, said his inspectors quickly traced the fish, in both instances filleted fluke and flounder, to a single wholesale distributor in Philadelphia.

The city health department meanwhile had issued a warning on a teletype service which reaches newspapers, radio and television stations in the area.

The first report said "all flounder purchased yesterday and today is poisonous" and should be destroyed.

Radio and television programs brought the news at the dinner hour to homes where the Lenten meal was being prepared or had already been eaten. Telephone calls poured into stations, papers and city switchboards.

Stanfill's office later announced the tainted fish had been traced to a single wholesaler and that its distribution was confined to Philadelphia, its suburbs and nearby points in southern New Jersey.

Further, Stanfills said, there was every indication that only that portion of Monday's sales of fresh flounder and fluke which had been filleted was contaminated.

City and federal officials called a joint meeting today to discuss further how the poison got into the fish. Stanfill said there was no evidence of the sodium nitrite on the premises of the offending plant during Wednesday's inspection.

Medical authorities in Toms River, N.J. planned an autopsy today in the death of a farmer, Charles McWade, 43, a partly eaten fish was found in his ice box.

Hospitals in the area reported scores of persons came to accident wards Wednesday night seeking antidotes after having eaten fish for lunch or dinner. No serious illnesses were reported, however, and none specifically attributed to food poisoning.

Holdup Prank Taken From TV

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two boys accused of attempted bank robbery stood awed and contrite before Juvenile Court Judge Melvyn I. Cronin.

He looked sternly at Dan McKay, 9, and Danny Husk, 13, and asked where they got the idea.

"From television," stammered the boys.

Judge Cronin scolded them, lectured the parents and sent them home Wednesday. Little Dan and Danny had spent the night in Youth Guidance Center after their arrest Tuesday.

They admitted going to the Bank of America's Mission branch and presenting a note demanding $100 under threat to "blow up the bank." The teller, Miss Filamene Miller, shooed them away and told the manager. He called police, who staked out the boys' homes and arrested them after their return from a movie.

Little Dan and Danny said they had only wanted to replenish their supply of a play money issued by a bank as a promotion.

However, they cooked up the holdup note idea before entering the bank. Whether inspired by television or not, most bank holdups here follow the same pattern —a note poked at the teller with varying threats.

There was another one Wednesday. The note said "I've got a gun." The man walked out with $1,688.

Little Dan and Danny walked out of the courtroom with their parents, Wilma Husk, and Rufus McKay. Parental punishment: curtailment of privileges plus a paddling for Dan McKay.

Said Mrs. Husk: "I don't believe in beatings. It doesn't accomplish anything. He's a good kid at heart."

She has two grown children, one of whom is married, and a daughter, Sandra, 15.

ARRESTED AFTER PRANK HOLDUP—Dan Husk, 13, left, and Dan McKay, 9, both of San Francisco, hold some of their play money after they were booked on a robbery attempt charge. Little Danny handed a note to a Bank of America teller reading "Put $100 in sack or I will blow up the bank. Dan Husk." The teller gave both a stern lecture and let them leave. Later she reported the incident to bank officials who promptly reported a holdup attempt. Officers and FBI agents traced the boys through the signature and located them at school. They told officers they got some play money at the bank last summer and all they wanted was a fresh supply.

Stickney Is Still Hoping For Freedom

HOUSTON (A) — A convicted slayer today pinned his hopes of escaping the electric chair on new evidence he said he has developed.

"There are many people now working to uncover the new evidence which I believe will get me a new trial," said Howard B. Stickney, 21, convicted of slaying Mrs. Charles Barnes, said yesterday.

Dist. Judge Moron Love earlier excused two court-appointed attorneys from further work on the case.

Stickney, a former highway department lab technician, was convicted Jan. 2 for the May 24 murder of Mrs. Barnes, an insurance secretary. He also is charged with slaying her husband, Charles C. Barnes, a highway department draftsman.

Stickney's mother, Frances, said she will make every effort to find an attorney who can file a motion for a new trial by April 1 and present argument on the motion by April 15.

Stickney was arrested in Canada June 20. At that time he admitted killing the couple on a Galveston beach.

Stickney told reporters a new trial would involve the names of several persons who have not been mentioned previously because he did not want to hurt anybody.

Hen Adopts Young Kittens

MESQUITE, Tex. (AP)—A hen has kicked out Blackie, the cat, and taken over raising Blackie's kittens.

Blackie had her five kittens in the henhouse. A white Leghorn promptly kicked her out.

The kittens have learned to answer the Leghorn's clucking.

Mrs. Alton Terry, owner of the confused group, told the Dallas News the hen is making a good home for the kittens.

When the kittens leave the nest for a minute, other hens peck at them. The Leghorn flies into the offending chickens in a fit of rage.

Blackie takes advantage of things like that to dash in and feed her youngsters.

Blackie shouldn't be surprised by such antics. She was one of the litter of five kittens the goofy Leghorn raised last year.

Value Of Aid Is Still Doubtful

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — LAST WEEK THIS COLUMN criticized the Mutual Security Act (Foreign Aid) because of its far-flung operations; because of the tremendous cost, much of which has been illy and loosely administered. My opposition has not stemmed from any belief that we did not need to cooperate with other friendly nations of the world or that we could "go it alone."

THIS PAST WEEK MY COMMITTEE has heard testimony from Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Under Secretary of State for Economic Affairs C. Douglas Dillon, Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Nathan F. Twining, and other top officials. These gentlemen present the case for the Administration.

THE FOLLOWING ARE EXCERPTS from the President of the United States and other officials, in support of a continuation of the Foreign Aid Program.

THE PRESIDENT IN HIS MESSAGE of March 13 to the Congress, requesting $3,900,000,000 for Foreign Aid, said there were four hard realities which we must face.

FIRST, THE UNITED STATES and the entire free world are confronted by the military might of the Soviet Union, Communist China and their satellites.

SECOND, THE WORLD is in a great epoch of seething change, and worldwide political revolution has swept whole nations comprising almost one-fourth of the world's population.

THIRD, THERE IS LOOSE IN THE WORLD a fanatic conspiracy — international Communism — whose leaders wish to seize control of the earth.

THE FOURTH REALITY is that the military position and economic prosperity of the United States are interdependent with those of the rest of the free world.

MR. EISENHOWER CONCLUDED HIS message to the Congress with these words, "If we are wise, we will consider it not as a cost, but as an investment — an investment in our present safety, in our future strength and growth, and in the growth of freedom throughout the world."

ACTING SECRETARY OF state Herter, testifying instead of the sick Mr. Dulles, began his testimony with these words, "The essence of my experience and of my belief is that the military, economic and technical programs of our Mutual Security System developed over the last ten years, are vital instruments of our security." He says if we do not persist in their vigorous and continued application, our foreign policy will become ineffective.

MR. HERTER POINTED OUT THREE PRINCIPAL objectives of our foreign policy.

"FIRST, WE WILL try to establish a stable political world order, a necessary prerequisite to which is a dependable peace.

"SECOND, WE ARE ENCOURAGING the economic growth of free nations, for both practical and humanitarian reasons.

"OUR THIRD OBJECTIVE, beyond the limits of national survival and progress, is to gain ever widening acceptance of the idea of the freedom and the dignity of the human individual."

IN TERMS OF PHYSICAL POWER, Mr. Herter points out that our allies in the free world support ground forces totaling more than 5,000,000 men stationed at places where the danger of local agression is greatest. These nations man an air force of about 30,000 aircraft, of which nearly 14,000 are jets. They make available for our use some 250 bases in strategic locations. He says our allies have contributed some $141 billion for their defense effort, to which we have added a total of $22 billion for arms, equipment and advanced weapons and training during the last ten years.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE NEIL McELROY says that unless the United States continues its Foreign Aid Program, our own defense budget would be considerably above the more than $40 billion now earmarked for it.

"FOR EACH DOLLAR WE HAVE SPENT during 1950-58," says Mr. McElroy, "the nations receiving military assistance from us have spent more than five dollars." He said that in 1958 they spent seven dollars for every dollar of military assistance received from us. He says he can not see how we can possibly get better value for our dollar than by helping these nations stand on their own feet, carry their part of the load and contribute to the common defense of us all.

GENERAL TWINING SAYS THAT IT IS exceedingly important that we have American bases and facilities in foreign countries, and that unless we do, not only could we not have a proper defense of the free world, but that we would revert to the "Fortress America" and that such a policy would be terribly dangerous.
