U. S. Issues Warning On Laos Neutrality

Master Plan for the future of Our Children

In the over-all school development program, which voters will decide in a bond election on Saturday, the High School is the key.

It represents the largest outlay of money, it faces the greatest crush of student load, it represents what the community will do in giving first-class education to its young people.

The basic decision, after years of study, is for the Big Spring District to continue—for many, many years—with a single Central High School. It would become a four-year school instead of the present three.

Land and location studies led to the decision to expand the present plant. It would be enlarged to accommodate 2,500 students, a figure projected as high school enrollment by 1969-70. There are presently in the four grades of high school nearly 1,800 students, some of them insufficiently housed, and without many auxiliary facilities which the public expects.

Present Site Centrally Located

The district is blessed with adequate acreage about as near the center of population pattern as can be obtained. A new plant would require not less than 30 acres, probably as much as 40. Cost of acquisition of such a tract—after extensive investigation—seems all but impossible from the standpoint of location, certainly prohibitive in cost.

The Coahoma district touches the local district on the eastern outskirts of the city. The Forsan district comes virtually to the southern city limits, in some areas. Our military installation is on the west, and Interstate 20 becomes a barrier to the north.

The cost of student transportation also had to be considered, as did the handling of traffic, the availability of the High School for one area of the district as compared to another.

Hence the expansion of the present plant, with scientific adaptation of the land that already is owned by the schools.

Conversion to a four-year High School means relief of student load at Goliad and Runnels Junior High Schools, and thus precluding—at least until such time as city growth and growth patterns dictate—the cost of another Junior High.

Had another route been chosen it is not unreasonable to assume that two new plants would have to be built, in addition to senior high expansion.

The High School expansion is major—in land development, in a change in the physical education portion of the campus (which in reality goes north past 10th and on to 8th), and in broad additions and remodeling of the principal structure.

Larger By Two And A Half Times

The plan envisions 185,000 square feet of new construction, increasing the present facility by some two and a half times. It, of course, carries a great deal of remodeling and changing, so that the ultimate new school is one operable unit.

In addition to bringing into being some 45 new classrooms, the facility provides for new laboratories, vocational education shops, an enlarged library. Adjunct facilities such as auditorium and cafeteria will be enlarged to accommodate the student population. In addition there is new space provided for band, choirs and speech—curriculum areas in which the school program has advanced in talent despite an absence of facilities.

Among major additions are units for physical education, for both boys and girls, to give the school system for the first time a set-up to put the community in line with the national physical fitness program. The current gymnasium, not planned for such a program, will become an athletic facility.

That part of the campus north of 10th Street will be revamped into an integrated physical education area, with adequate practice fields and band marching rehearsal areas, tennis courts, and track layout. Entailed in this is the removal of the old bus barns and shops.

Plan For Campus Development

Site development, in fact, is a major part of the High School program. Thus, there becomes an integrated campus and public park area related in artistic and practical manner to the Birdwell Park area, the YMCA Center, and even to the Boydstun campus.

Provision is made for air conditioning the class areas and student-populated areas of the new building. This is not a "frill" but a practical solution to design that has meant cutting off exterior windows of much of the older part of the plant, and by so doing reducing construction costs.

In sum, the High School development program does three principal things: (a) Helps the district catch up on a shortage that has been existing for years; (b) adds special facilities associated with today's education which have been completely lacking; and (c) creates a plant of study rooms, laboratories and workshops that the people of Big Spring can be proud of and their children are entitled to.

Parents of children in all the elementary grades must have an interest in the High School facility. Their youngsters will be at that level before they know it.

Clergy Begins Prayer March On Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clergymen and church laymen from 41 states and the District of Columbia gathered on Capitol Hill today for a "silent, prayerful procession" and personal pleas to senators for prompt passage of the civil rights bill.

The demonstration came as the Senate began its 11th week of debate on the measure, stalled by Southern oratory.

The Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of the Episcopal Washington Cathedral, led a prayer service before the march began at the Lutheran Church of the Reformation, two blocks east of the Capitol.

FROM ALASKA

Some 200 persons, representing states from as far away as Alaska, took part in the demonstration, sponsored by the Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches.

Sayre, in the brief service, said civil rights, and particularly school segregation, was one of the most important moral issues of our time.

Then, the group held an hour-long briefing session to plan the day. They also heard from staff assistants to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., floor leaders for the civil rights bill.

HOME STRETCH

John Stewart, Humphrey's legislative assistant, said he felt the civil rights bill "is in the home stretch." He urged the group to press for a debate limitation, which he felt must be imposed in the next two or three weeks.

Steve Horn, legislative assistant to Kuchel, said he felt "a formula for an acceptable bill is at hand."

Next, the group began its march on the Capitol.

En route to the Capitol, the churchmen paused to pray for justice at the Supreme Court building, marking the 10th anniversary of the 1954 Supreme Court school desegregation decision.

PRAY ON STEPS

They planned to pray on the Senate steps and then seek out every senator to appeal for enactment of the civil rights bill.

Within the Capitol, meanwhile, there is almost continual jockeying for debate-limiting cloture.

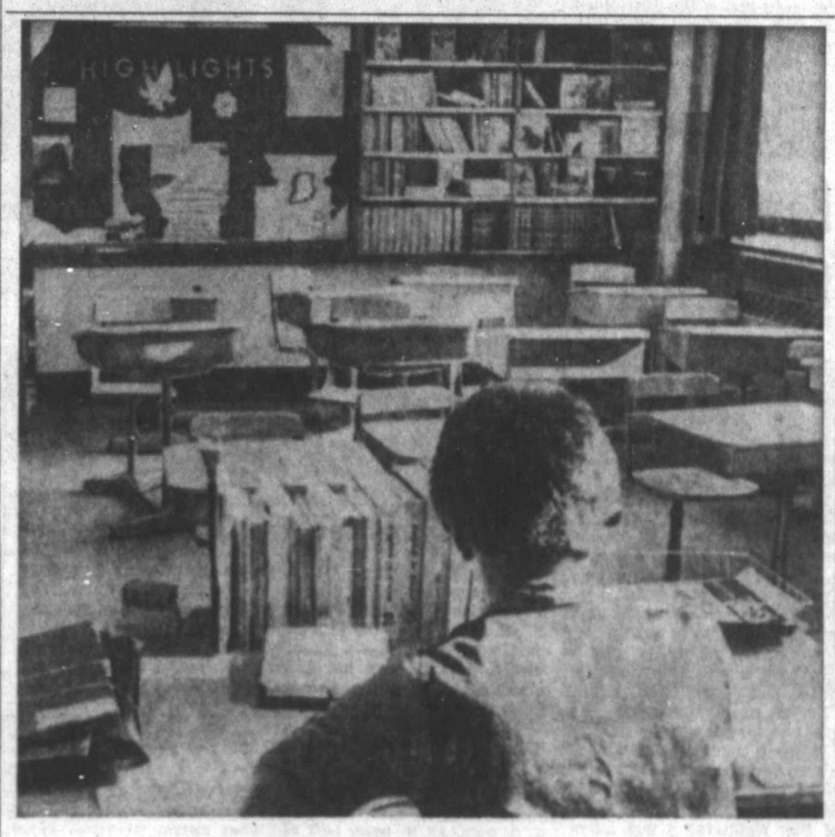

Much of what happens depends on the outcome of Democratic and Republican party huddles Tuesday, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said.

That's when both groups get a look at 70 amendments worked out by the Senate leadership and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The package, aimed at making the bill more acceptable to undecided senators, is being offered by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

As debate by Southerners opposing the bill dragged on last week, there was more talk of trying for cloture — getting two-thirds of the senators present and voting to approve a curb on further speeches.

Wallace To Make Last Bid In Maryland Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama makes his third and final bid for voter support outside the South in Maryland's Democratic presidential preference primary Tuesday.

The Maryland election is the only one of national significance this week, but several states will choose delegates to the national nominating conventions. And Wisconsin Republicans will endorse candidates for senator and governor to be nominated later in a primary election.

Wallace's bid follows close on the heels of the hotly contested Oregon Republican presidential preference primary Friday.

Maryland Republicans will be deciding between two little-known candidates, or the uncommitted status supported by the state GOP organization. So the political spotlight will fall squarely on the Democratic primary.

DRAW SUPPORT

Wallace, campaigning against the Johnson administration's civil rights bill, is expected to draw substantial support in the border state, especially in the southeastern part of the state long troubled by racial strife.

The governor got a warm welcome last week in Cambridge, Md., a battleground in the integration dispute since last summer.

Once again Wallace will be combatting a stand-in for President Johnson, who has not entered any of the spring primaries. This time it is Sen. Daniel B. Brewster fighting to hold the state's convention votes for Johnson.

In Wisconsin, against Gov. John Reynolds, Wallace drew about 33 per cent of the Democratic vote. In Indiana, facing Gov. Matthew E. Welsh, he got about 30 per cent.

NO CROSSOVER

Some Republicans in both states took advantage of state laws permitting them to vote in Democratic primaries. But there can be no crossover voting in Maryland, so Wallace's showing is strictly up to registered Democrats.

Also, write-in votes are not counted in Maryland.

Wallace has said he will be happy with five per cent of the vote, but Democratic leaders believe he will get considerably ..moer than that.

Some party leaders in Baltimore, where Negroes comprise about one-fourth of the 322,000 registered Democrats, believe Wallace will pull from 25 to 40 per cent of the vote.

Baltimore is the only major Eastern city where Wallace's anticivil rights program has been put to the voting test.

Brewster, who favors the administration civil rights bill, has received campaign assistance from some of his Senate colleagues.

The two Republicans challenging the party organization's desire for an uncommitted delegation to the national convention are attorney Robert Ennis and real estate man John W. Steffey. GOP voters may vote for either for president, or vote for an uncommitted delegation.

The delegates—20 Republican and 48 Democratic — will be chosen later by state conventions. Under Maryland law they are bound to cast at least their first ballot for the primary winners.

A hot battle for the Democratic Senate nomination is expected to boost the Maryland turnout. State Controller Louis L. Goldstein is being challenged by Joseph D. Tydings, former U.S. attorney for Maryland, personal friend of the late President John F. Kennedy and stepson of the late Sen. Millard Tydings, D-Md.

Two others are entered in the race.

THREE FOES

The incumbent, Sen. J. Glenn Beall, has three primary foes, including James P. Gleason, former Senate aide of Richard M. Nixon and later assistant administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Voters also will choose nominees for eight House seats.

In another election Tuesday, Democrats in Alabama's 1st Congressional District will choose between State Sen. John Tyson and Mobile City Commissioner Charles Trimmier. The winner goes into a low-man-out statewide primary with eight other district nominees June 2. The winners run at-large for Alabama's eight House seats in November.

Democrats will hold conventions to nominate delegates in North Carolina on Wednesday, Rhode Island on Thursday and Iowa on Saturday. In all, delegates to cast 120 votes will be chosen.

IN ARKANSAS

Republican conventions will be held in Arkansas on Thursday, Alaska on Friday and Illinois on Saturday.

Winthrop Rockefeller, the Republican candidate for governor of Arkansas, is not expected to wage a floor fight for delegates favorable to the presidential nomination of his brother, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Shaky Situation In Asian Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told the Soviet Union, Britain and its Asian allies that a breakdown in Laos' shaky neutrality could bring on a new Southeast Asian crisis.

Johnson administration leaders are deeply disturbed about new offensive action by Communist forces in the Plaine des Jarres region of Laos. The Pathet Lao attacks, developing Sunday, brought positions held by neutralist troops under heavy fire.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who conferred with President Johnson during the day, held an unusual series of meetings with ambassadors of the Soviet Union, Britain and other countries that have a direct interest in the situation.

GAIN SUPPORT

Rusk's purpose was to get support in Moscow, London and elsewhere for efforts to put an end to the Communist drive, and save the Geneva agreement which neutralized Laos and stopped the use of Laotian territory for supplying Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Some officials say privately that if the efforts to preserve the neutrality of Laos are unsuccessful then the conflict in that country will almost inevitably become a part of the antiguerrilla war which the United States is supporting in South Viet Nam.

Rusk met with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin Sunday night. He also conferred with the British Embassy minister, Denis A. Greenhill, and later talked with British Ambassador Lord Hariech in a meeting of ambassadors from countries from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, including Pakistan, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand and the Philippines.

COMMISSION

In still another conference Rusk met with representatives of India, Poland and Canada. The three countries make up an international control commission which is supposed to supervise Laos' neutrality under an East-West agreement worked out at Geneva in 1962.

The Soviet Union and Britain served as cochairmen of the Geneva negotiations and since have exercised the special responsibility in diplomatic efforts aimed at making the neutrality policy work.

Lull Appears In Laos Fight

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—A lull in fighting was reported today in the Communist-threatened Muong Phanh area, on the western edge of the Plaine des Jarres 100 miles northeast of Vientiane.

Pilots returning to Vientiane said Muong Phanh airstrip had been shelled and there had been some ground fighting Sunday.

The Communist drive against the neutralist army of Premier Souvanna Phouma stirred concern in Washington that a new Southeast Asian crisis was developing.

The neutralist troop commander, Gen. Kong Le, was reported in the Muong Phanh area but he had left his headquarters site in the city. Sources said he had moved south of his former command post.

AIRSTRIP

Planes landed on the damaged but still usable Muong Phanh airstrip to deliver rice and medical supplies to the neutralists.

The pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops advanced to within 500 yards of Muong Phanh during fighting Sunday.

The International Control Commission hastily removed its observer team from the Plaine. An Indian member said they might not have made it if commision helicopters had arrived 15 minutes later.

Premier Souvanna Phouma called the fighting a large-scale attack by the Communists on neutralist positions.

VIOLATION

Souvanna Phouma sent a cable to his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, the leader of the Pathet Lao, accusing him of "flagrant violations of the Geneva accords" of 1962 that neutralized Laos.

The Pathet Lao controls an estimated two-thirds of Laos' 90,000 square miles of mostly mountainous jungles.

LBJ Seeks More Funds For Viet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today for an extra $125 million to help step up the war against communism in South Viet Nam.

The money will go into increased support of both military and civil operations of the Vietnamese.

In a special message, Johnson spelled out the needs and the intentions. He said that "by our words and deeds to a decade of determined effort, we are pledged before the world to stand with the free people of Viet Nam."

And he said two major changes have dictated the necessity for increasing financial help to Viet Nam:

"First, the Viet Cong guerrillas, under orders from their Communist masters in the North, have intensified terrorist actions against the peaceful people of South Viet Nam. This increased terrorist requires increased response.

"Second, a new government under Prime Minister Khanh has come to power, bringing new energy and leadership and new hope for effective action. I share with Ambassador (Henry Cabot) Lodge the conviction that this new government can mount a successful campaign against the Communists."

Johnson told Congress he wants an extra $70 million for economic help to the Vietnamese and $55 million for military purposes.

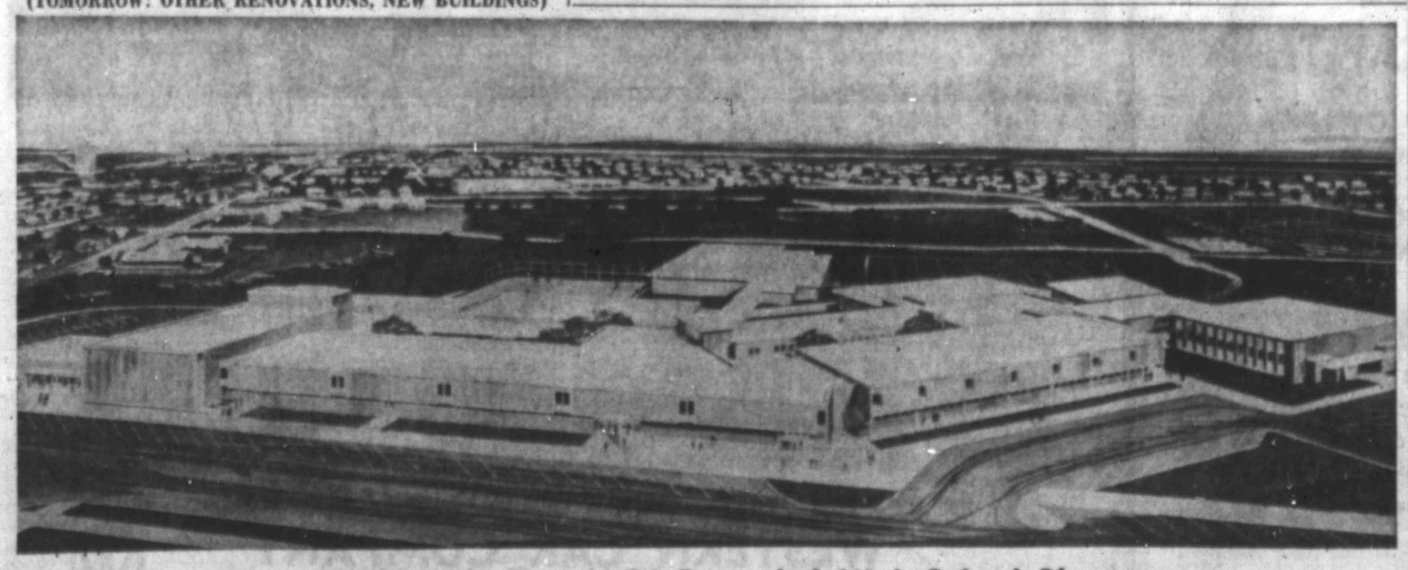

In the latter field, he said, additional equipment, ammunition, training and supplies will be needed, including more aircraft, pilot training and air field improvements. Increased activity calls for increased ammunition, he said, and additional support equipment for all forces.

On the civil side, the President said, the additional funds will go into more fertilizer, medical supplies and services, repair parts and replacements for war-damaged railway rolling stock, school supplies and building materials, well-drilling equipment and teams to bring fresh water to the villagers, and enlarged advisory staffs in the provinces.

Trade Skills

(A SCHOOL-A-TORIAL)

Many young people are needing instruction in trade skills, to meet the nation's need for such skills — or go unemployed. The new school program means shops and vocational instruction for these. Aren't these cheaper than paying for unemployment?

Architect's Sketch Of Expanded High School Plant

Extreme left, new band, choral and speech rooms, adjacent to expanded auditorium. Long center section, enlarged instructional area with more classrooms, laboratories. At mid-rear, new physical education facilities for both boys and girls. To the right and just below it, enlarged facilities for shops, various vocational programs. The old gymnasium at extreme right, becomes an athletic facility. The ground sketch at extreme right and upper right is not in detailed accuracy, however this area is included in a general campus and physical education development. The High School program represents the major item in a "master plan" for schools dependent upon a bond issue to be voted on Saturday.

Texas' Farmers Battling Elements

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas farmers kept battling the elements during last week. Wet fields delayed work in some areas while widespread sections of West and Northwest Texas saw their planting schedules drop behind because of dry weather and high winds, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Rains in far South Texas early in the week brought some relief to that dry area, but except for East and North Central Texas, moisture was spotted or generally short, the director said.

The Panhandle is very dry, but some rain fell in the eastern part. Dryland wheat was failing fast; ranges are very dry and livestock feeding was general. Irrigated crops were fair to good. The livestock market was off again last week.

SOUTH PLAINS

Rain is critically needed throughout the South Plains. Dryland farmers are worried and irrigation farmers are hesitating to plant, fearing the land will dry out before seed germinate. One fourth of the area's grain sorghum has been planted and some is up. Some fields of irrigated cotton are up. The abandonment of wheat goes on. Ranges are below average and failing fast. Some rains fell last week along the caprock and in the southern counties.

Moisture ranging from showers to three inches fell throughout the Rolling Plains and left moisture adequate in eight and short in 14 counties of the district. Grains were maturing and harvesting is expected to begin in two to three weeks. Cotton and sorghum planting is on. Stock water is short in some counties.

FIELD WORK

Scattered rain hampered field work in North Central Texas where most counties have adequate moisture. Wheat looks good despite some damage from army worms. Recent heavy rains caused considerable cotton replanting. Corn and sorghum look good. Ranges improved.

Weather in Northeast Texas favored most crops, although too much rain for cotton fell in the blackland parts. Vegetable and truck crops made good growth. Ranges improved. Moisture is adequate.

Lots of rain is needed in far West Texas where hot, dry winds have taken a toll. No dryland crops have been planted. Irrigated cotton is coming up and irrigated grains are maturing. Alfalfa is being harvested. Livestock feed is short.

COTTON PLANTING

A good general rain is needed in West Central Texas. Oats are maturing and prospects are good. Cotton planting is on and sorghum is being cultivated. Pastures generally are above average except in western counties.

Moisture in Central Texas ranges from adequate to short. Most cotton is planted and some aphids are reported. Grains are maturing fast and some hay baling started. Corn and sorghum prospects are good. The fruit crop looks good but many casebearers are being reported on pecans.

Moisture is adequate in East Texas. Ranges are average. Livestock are in good condition and marketing is normal.

Moisture generally was favorable in the southeast and upper Gulf Coast District and crops are growing. Pastures provide good grazing and livestock are improving. Corn is knee-high but worms are causing some damage. Most oats have now been plowed under; watermelons are blooming; pecans are being sprayed; fruit prospects are good; and some vegetables are being harvested.

FLAX HARVEST

Moisture in South Central Texas is generally short and needed to keep crops and grass growing. Cloudy weather helped prevent a moisture shortage. Some flax is being harvested. A good general rain would put the area in good shape.

Moisture is needed and the shortage is critical in some parts of South Texas. Rains in the lower half of the district will be very beneficial but other counties still need moisture. Vegetables are moving in volume from the Valley. Cotton is making good progress. Citrus conditions are very good. Ranges need rain.

Puzzle of Saturday, May 16, Solved

Dead Captain Urged 'Heart'

NEW YORK (AP)—An American Army captain killed in Viet Nam a month ago wrote to his wife that "we must stand strong and give heart to an embattled and confused people. This cannot be done if America loses heart."

Barbara A. Spruill of Suffern, N.Y., widow Capt. James P. Spruill, made public on Sunday portions of his letters to her. In a letter to the New York Herald Tribune, she expressed hope that "all Americans would have an opportunity to read them."

Spruill was killed April 21.

"Above all, this is a war of mind and spirit," he wrote. "For us to despair would be a great victory for the enemy.

"Please don't let them back where you are sell me down the river with talk of despair and defeat. There is no backing out of Viet Nam, for it will follow us everywhere we go."

Other excerpts from his letters, published by the Herald Tribune:

"There are many moments of frustration in Viet Nam. Ineptness, dishonesty, lack of spirit, confusion and laziness cause them. But that is exactly why we are here."

"I know that you read nowadays of defeat or lack of progress. None of this bothers me because I am convinced that we can win it and win it decisively —on the ground and in the night."

"I have a project. It is a proposal to train men in night combat and that they be employed as a mobile strike force at night. It is in the night that the myth of the invincible guerrilla must be destroyed."

Y Aims Sights On Young Adults

Founded for and by young adults, the YMCA membership today includes relatively few persons in the 18-30 age range.

A movement is concentrating on doing something about this as a result of the Y's National Council meeting last week in Detroit, Mich.

George E. Gullen Jr., president of American Motors and a national council member, outlined a three-year experimental plan to bring a greater number of young adults into the YMCA. The year 1964 has been designated as "the year of young men and young women in the YMCA."

At the national council session, Michigan Gov. George Romney spoke as did Count Lennart Bernadotte, president of the Y's International Center at Castle Mainau, Germany. He is a nephew of King Gustav VI of Sweden.

Haymarket Riot Recalled

Tyrrell was one of 60 police injured in the infamous Haymarket Square labor riot of May 1886, speaks at memorial services at statue honoring the seven police who died there. Scene is just west of Chicago's Loop business district on Randolph Street. Tyrrell says his father was model for head and shoulders of the statue. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Lad Ends 11 Days, Nights With Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—Dominick Tucci's run of the World's Fair ended Sunday after 11 days and nights. He thought it was a shame. He had planned to spend the summer there.

When Dominick, 12, left his Long Island home, he had hinted that he was bound for the fair. And that's where they found him, still the object of a 17-state police alert.

Somewhat disheveled, but well-fed, Dominick was reunited with his parents, five sisters and a brother.

"I got away from seven cops, and a woman had to catch me," he said.

The woman, Naomi Sallod, works at the fairgrounds and recognized him from newspaper pictures.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benito Tucci, had gone to the fair in Flushing Meadow, Queens, every day to look for him, but with no luck.

Dominick started his safari by sneaking aboard a Long Island railroad train at Port Washington, his hometown.

He climbed a fence to get into the fair. He said he was thrown out a couple of times, but just climbed back again.

Dominick ate well, picking up $5 a day retrieving good luck coins tossed into several fountains.

For sleeping, Dominick secluded himself in several pavilions, including one with a ship board setting complete with lifeboat.

Was he afraid at night? "There's nothing to be afraid of," said Dominick. "The place is crawling with cops."

Was he glad he had been discovered?

"I don't know," he said. "I'm a little homesick. I guess I'm glad."

Dominick's father is a bricklayer. His mother, Lillian, said of her oldest son, "He's adventurous, but not a bad boy."

Dominick, a seventh-grader at St. Peter's parochial school in Port Washington, is a Roman Catholic.

He said he ate hamburgers almost every day.

When you make a wagon that tall, it will hold more. Almost twice as much, in fact, as conventional wagons.

And when you put the engine in the rear, you can lop off the hood and have four feet less wagon to park.

There's also less gas to buy. (You should average 24 miles per gallon.)

And absolutely no antifreeze. Our engine is air-cooled.

'Traindance' Prom Held Successfully For High Schoolers On Long Island

NEW YORK (AP)—In a baggage car of the train jampacked youngsters wriggled, twisted and shouted to the Beatle-type whomping of a drum and three guitars.

In the refreshment car, where the fare for railroad patrons normally consists of Scotch, rye and bourbon at $1 a shot, three boys handed out box lunches and cans of soda pop by the hundreds.

In three coaches boys and girls streamed endlessly up and down the aisles throughout the train.

Another baggage car had been set aside for dancing, but the boys turned off the ceiling lights and converted it into a kissing car.

As the train meandered through eastern Long Island Saturday night and Sunday morning, many a resident near the tracks must have wondered at the cause of so much cacophony on wheels.

It was a high school junior prom, suburban type. Nearly 300 boys and girls rocked and rolled at the prom-on-wheels, staged by the Junior Class of Island Trees High School at Levittown, a few miles east of New York City.

The bash began at 8 p.m. when the youngsters and 11 teacher-chaperons boarded a six-car special at nearby Bethpage.

It ended at 1 a.m. Sunday at Bethpage after a trip to eastern Long Island which was shortened somewhat at the request of the chaperons. By about midnight they felt the kids were getting a little too rambunctious.

The price for the rail trip, formally termed a "traindance," was $3 per person. During the school year the juniors had sold candy to raise money for refreshments, music and incidental expenses. They collected $800.

On the train each person got a box lunch containing two sandwiches, a container of potato salad, two slices of pickle and a sweet roll or piece of cake. Twelve hundred cans of soda pop were available and barely sufficed.

Faculty and parents supported the train prom for several reasons. The youngsters could, and did, wear the most informal of attire—jeans, canvas shoes, etc.

INEXPENSIVE

It was relatively inexpensive, enabling anyone who desired to go.

Perhaps the chief reason, however, was that it afforded greater supervision, and the late hour of conclusion cut down the number of boys and girls heading for taverns or elsewhere. Formal proms usually end about 11 p.m.

The youngsters had been warned that if any brought liquor aboard, he would be put off the train at Riverhead, a city near the eastern end of the island, and his parents notified to come get him.

"We've been checking very carefully," said Lloyd Wells, the class adviser, after the trip had been under way awhile. "We haven't found any drinking."

BEGAN DANCING

As soon as they boarded the train, a crowd began dancing in the first baggage car.

The students kicked up their heels throughout the night. Eventually, the smooching began to grow more popular in the coaches as well as in the second baggage car. The chaperons did little or nothing except to order the train turned around before the scheduled destination.

It didn't seem to matter to the students. They professed to have had a ball.

And what of faculty adviser Wells?

"Well," he said, "nobody fell off the train and nobody got kicked off. I guess you'd say it was a success."

Picketers On Parade In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A series of school integration demonstrations today in New York State includes a rally outside New York City's City Hall, "study-ins," a "freedom school," and picketing.

Bayard Rustin, director of the demonstrations, said he would be happy if at least 15,000 persons participated.

The New York City schedule includes a boycott of a Harlem school, "study-ins" at five Manhattan, Brooklyn, Bronx and Queens schools with predominantly white pupils, a demonstration in front of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office, and a march from City Hall to Board of Education headquarters in Brooklyn.

In Albany, units of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and branches of the Congress of Racial Equality plan picketing one school. Leaders plan a "freedom school" at a nearby church.

The Syracuse branch of the NAACP plans a march on the Onondaga County Courthouse where they have scheduled a rally, not a protest. Speakers were expected from the Board of Education and civic groups.

Today's demonstrations mark the 10th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools. The demonstrations were set for today because the anniversary fell on Sunday.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Teacher Strike Begins For Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah teachers begin a two-day walkout today to press their demands for more money for education of the states 270,000 pupils.

Gov. George D. Clyde's refusal last week to call a special legislative session to consider more school money triggered the Utah Education Association's call Saturday for a walkout today and Tuesday of its 10,000 members.

Most school boards ordered schools open in the face of the threatened action. But the openings were considered only a formality.

Two boards obtained court orders forbidding the walkouts in their areas.

The state attorney general's office has ruled that schools may, after a token opening, close their doors if children show up and teachers remain at home.

John C. Evans Jr., UEA executive secretary, said that most teachers would honor the walkout.

School boards made individual plans how to handle children that came to school. Evans said that "amateurs in charge of overcrowded classrooms will bring chaos" and threaten the safety of children.

The UEA hoped the 900,000-member National Education Association would grant its call for sanctions and ask that no out-of-state teacher take a job in Utah.

State teachers expected to learn of the NEA's plans after mass meetings Tuesday in Salt Lake City. The teachers will decide then what further action to take, if any.

Proposals include an indefinite extension of the present walkout and a refusal to sign contracts for next year until demands are met.

The teachers so far have refused to sign contracts, although the normal signing time has gone by. They almost refused to teach last year when their request for an added $25 million for schools was cut in half.

The teachers returned to classrooms in the fall when Clyde appointed a study committee as a compromise.

Mayor Shown In Magazine

The picture of Big Spring Mayor George J. Zachariah appears twice on page 12 of the May issue of Texas Town and City, monthly publication of the Texas Municipal League.

One view shows the mayor accepting a donkey pinata from El Paso Mayor Judson Williams for being head of the 15-member Big Spring delegation, which traveled the most man-miles (5,185) to the Regional 4 meeting of the league, held last month in El Paso.

Zachariah, president of Region 4, also is shown at the head table of a business session, convened for the purpose of discussing municipal finance.

The Texas Public Works Association also held its annual meeting in conjunction with the regional league meeting. Ernest Lillard, director of public works for the city of Big Spring, appeared on the program. He spoke on areas of federal participation.

Gov. John Connally, addressing a joint meeting of both groups, told city officials additional sources of income, other than the ad valorem tax, are needed by municipal governments.

Spring Finery

Leading the parade from spring into summer with fashions to suit any climate are models Mrs. Bob Griffith, Mrs. Patrick Harvey, Mrs. James Schafer, Mrs. Amador Garza and Mrs. Kenneth Kirby. A musical background created the mood for flowers of fashion at the NCO Open Mess.

Style Show Blossoms At Webb NCO Mess

Gaiety was the keynote of the fashion show held Saturday evening at the NCO Open Mess where spring and summer toggery was artfully displayed in a setting of flowers. Mrs. Donald Nevils served as commentator using the theme, "Blossoming from Spring into Summer." Members of the NCO Wives Club presented the show for husbands and guests.

The clothing from C. R. Anthony's, suited to West Texas needs, was ideal for travel. Clothes that would be at home in any vacation spot throughout the United States were seen.

Mrs. Robert Prugh's frock of beige cotton brightened with gay flowers will be one of the costumes she plans to wear on vacation at the World's Fair.

Mrs. Harry Schonaerts modeled a white arnel sleeveless jersey dress that will show no wrinkles when it comes out of the suitcase. It was styled with a tucked bodice and pleated skirt.

COTTON BLENDS

Cotton was the predominate fabric seen in the parade of fashions. Many of these were in blends with the miracle fibers that give the easy-care, crease resistant finish sought by the busy woman of today.

Models who paraded before a flower decked Soji screen at the center of the stage included Miss Sue Costin who recently won the title of Miss Tumbleweed in Colorado City. She modeled bathing suits that featured the low waisted look. A show stopper was a nylon cotton model girded low with a blue chiffon belt.

Sportswear for occasions from dawn to dark included such playclothes as the white knit caper mates worn by Mrs. Patrick Harvey, and the yellow capris and overblouse of brown and yellow print displayed by Mrs. Bob Griffith.

Mrs. Amador Garza modeled a pink cotton and dacron frock suitable for town or bridge fashioned with a wrap around skirt and a double breasted bodice bright with gold buttons. Mrs. Kenneth Kirby's practical and pretty two-piece suit of cotton seersucker in gray and white was a go-everywhere, do-anything style.

AFTER-FIVE

White cotton lace over pink batiste would fit any after-five occasion that the model, Mrs. James Schafer, might attend. The full skirt and simple bodice were deceptively designed. Mrs. C. L. Hartzell chose a black crepe and chiffon cocktail dress styled with a flowing skirt and long romantic sleeves.

Sportswear to delight the most discerning was shown by Mrs. Thomas Sykes and Mrs. Edwin Sorrison. All the models chose several costumes to parade for the spring and summer season.

Chairman of the show was Mrs. Lorn Kenitzer assisted by Mrs. Biard McQuay, Mrs. A. E. Phillips, Mrs. Willis Parker and Mrs. Nevils.

Food Group Presents Humorous Style Show

A comical style show, with commentary by Mrs. Carroll Brown, was seen by members of the Big Spring Chapter of Texas Food Association when they met Thursday at Marcy Elementary School. The school cafeteria staff were hostesses in the dining room where the centerpiece was of spring flowers.

Mrs. Bill Smelzer presided as a report was heard by Mrs. John Annen on a recent trip to Lubbock where she assisted in planning the state convention for Texas School Food Service members. It will be held May 22-24 at the Pioneer Hotel, and 16 members from here plan to attend. Mrs. Annen requested that all those belonging to the local group join the national organization.

It was announced that the last day of school would be May 27.

Games were played and prizes presented to Mrs. Howard Lloyd and Mrs. Roger Miller. Refreshments were served and officers for the coming year recognized. The installation will be held in September.

SOCIETY SETS MEMORIALS

The Ladies' Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen will hold a memorial service Wednesday at 3 p.m. at Carpenters Hall. All members are urged to attend.

Methodist Guild Holds Meeting In Lamesa

Twelve members of the Martha Wesleyan Service Guild attended the Big Spring district meeting held at the First Methodist Church in Lamesa Sunday.

Mrs. Ruby Martin, president of the local Methodist group, was accompanied by Mrs. S. Gorman who recorded attendance in her position as district secretary, and Mrs. Bert Affleck, district spiritual life chairman, who worded the devotion at the meeting.

Others in attendance were Mrs. Morris Gay, Miss Roberta Gay, Mrs. Miller Harris, Mrs. Cass Hill, Mrs. A. C. Bass, Mrs. Annie Thompson, Miss Twila Lomax, Mrs. W. L. Vaughn and Mrs. Irene Dempsey.

The 25th anniversary of the group was observed and a film, "A Better World Begins With Me," was shown to the 55 members attending. Towns represented were Colorado City, Midland, Stanton, Sparenburg, Andrews and Big Spring.

Colorado City will be the host for the fall meeting.

Mrs. Jim Shugart Feted At Shower

Mrs. Jim Shugart, the former Miss Lucille Thornton, was honored at a bridal shower held recently in the home of Mrs. L. O. Free, Knott.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Larry Shaw, Mrs. Fred Parker, Mrs. Gene Haston, Mrs. Melvin Gibbs, Mrs. Louis Harrell, Mrs. J. B. Shockley, Mrs. Bobby Roman, Mrs. Angeline Shaw, Mrs. Illine Haddock and Mrs. E. L. Long.

The honoree received guests in a white pique sheath. Assisting was her mother, Mrs. Leatrice Thorton.

Forty-five attending were served refreshments at a table laid with a white lace cloth over pink and decorated with an arrangement of pink carnations.

Rook Club Feted By Mrs. J. Sims

Mrs. J. S. Sims, 1207 Pennsylvania, was hostess to the Rook Club Friday, and Mrs. Linus Tucker served as cohostess. Refreshments were served to 10 members and guests, Mrs. H. F. Williamson, Mrs. W. D. McDonald and Mrs. E. C. McCullough.

The next meeting will be June 19 in the home of Mrs. T. J. Walker, 1708 Donley.

Students In Recital

Piano pupils of Mrs. T. H. Tarbet were presented in recital Sunday afternoon in the auditorium at Howard County Junior College.

Participating on the program were Grady Cunningham, Janet Williams, Dixie Coleman, Suzzan Craig, Brenda Harland, Cynthia Stephens, Martha Lewis, Mary Sue Bronaugh, Steven Yeats, Donna McDaniel, Carla Denton, Skipper Huskey and Bobby Crane.

Others were Patti Stevenson, Patsy Lewis, Janice Cooper, Suzanne Fisher, Debbie Adams, Connie Dunagan, Sheela Armistead, Curlee Rogers, Rose Marie Rupel and Danny Bartlett.

The presentation of certificates and awards to winners of National Fraternity of Student Musicians auditions were made.

New Chapter Has Initiation

Mrs. Howard Johnson was installed as president of the recently organized Eagles Auxiliary Sunday afternoon. The installation and initiation ceremonies were held in the Eagles Lodge in the Settles Hotel at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Johnson was appointed Lady Organizer by Herschel A. McWilliams, Grand Worthy President of the Eagles.

The auxiliary's charter was granted Feb. 20. Forty members met at that time and agreed that meetings would be held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The meetings will be held in the Eagles Lodge at 7:30 p.m.

Instituting Deputy Madam Mrs. William A. Meyer of Houston was the appointing officer. Those appointed by Mrs. Meyer were Mrs. Bill Cochran, Junior Past Madame President; Mrs. W. L. Thompson, vice president; Mrs. Collin Reese, secretary; Miss Cynthia Gonzalez, treasurer; Mrs. L. T. Nelson, conductor; Mrs. Jan Tally, chaplain; Mrs. O. L. Grandstaff, inside guard; Mrs. Dean Blake, outside guard; and Mrs. Travis Anderson, Mrs. V. A. Whittington and Mrs. W. F. Brown, trustees.

A ritual team from the Midland Eagles Auxiliary No. 2982 performed the official installation of officers and the initiation of members. They were Mrs. Freeman Yardley, Junior Past Madame President; Mrs. Charles McDonald, president; Mrs. Earle Robinson, vice president; Mrs. Artie Leftwitch, chaplain; and Mrs. Doyle Duncan, conductor.

A salad supper was held following the ceremonies.

Graduate Honored At Party

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Winn, 1804 Wasson Road, honored their son, Robert Winn and members of his graduating class at Forsan Junior High School with a party following the exercises at the school. They were assisted by Capt. and Mrs. George Fortner.

The school colors of black and white were used in decorations in the entertaining area. An owl holding a diploma graced the piano and 40 guests were registered at a black silhouette of a graduate. Personalized book markers were used as name tags and given as favors.

The refreshment table was covered with a cloth bearing a graduation motif and the white cake was lettered in black with an owl at the center. Mrs. Arene Axtens of Bellflower, Calif., and sister of the host, assisted in serving. Hours were from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

Early Session

Preparing for the installation and initiation service of the newly organized Eagles' Auxiliary are Mrs. Howard Johnson, organizer of the local organization; Mrs. William Meyers, instituting deputy, who is the state secretary from Houston; Mrs. Letha Jane Johnson of Houston, a past state president; Mrs. Henry Runge of Houston, state membership director; and Mrs. Leonard Compton, a past president of the Odessa Auxiliary.

MRS. E. H. HEFFINGTON

Mrs. E. H. Heffington Observes Birthday

Mrs. E. H. Heffington of 1606 W. 3rd was honored on her 80th birthday with a party and family reunion at the Big Spring City Park. Seven children served as hosts at the celebration held on Mother's Day.

A large cake with 80 candles on it was served at the picnic to 55 relatives and guests. Children assisting were Burrel, Denver, and Guy Heffington, Mrs. Bonnie Coates, Mrs. Lillie Mae Wise, Mrs. E. T. Sewell and Mrs. Garland Gilbert.

Mrs. Heffington came with her husband to Big Spring in 1905 from Indian Territory in Oklahoma. The couple farmed until 1939 when they moved to town to manage a wrecking yard. Before Mr. Heffington's death in 1962, the couple had celebrated 58 wedding anniversaries.

This veteran resident recalls the early days in Big Spring when there were no sidewalks, three stores and a single cafe.

There are seven of the nine children living, and there are 40 grandchildren, 48 great-grandchildren, three of which are triplets, and one great-great-grandchild.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Laundry Uses For Net Seen

Dear Heloise:

I want to pass on another great idea for using your nylon net.

I keep a piece of it in my laundry room. I use this for scrubbing out the laundry tubs and also for getting dirt out of the children's clothes.

Just wet a soiled garment, apply suds to the spot and rub it with a piece of your net. Put the soapy garment on either a flat surface or lay it on the palm of your hand and scrub away, then wash as usual.

HELOISE

I could not believe my eyes when I tried this on a pair of shorts that had been soiled from sitting in the dirt.

The soil washed away like pure magic. . . .

Ann Smosna

Dear Heloise:

What is an inexpensive and easy way to clean copper bottom pans? . . . Smiles

* * *

Dear Smiles:

Pour some vinegar on the bottom, throw some table salt on it and rub it with your fingers. Yep, there goes our vinegar again.

Watch the dark copper begin to gleam. Wash and rinse as usual. No rubbing, no scrubbing and no energy wasted.

If you like (and I do) a shine, all you have to do is to scour lightly with a soap-filled pad. This will help prevent tarnishing so soon again.

These soap-filled pads contain what I call "jeweler's rouge." . . . Heloise

A Day At The Beach At British Resort

Youths arrested by police wait in van on beach at Margate, a British seaside resort, Sunday following disorders between teenage rival gangs. Sixty youths were held overnight and a magistrate handed out jail terms ranging from three to six months and fines from $140 to $210. Similar disorders were reported at Brighton, another resort. Trouble broke out again today at both resorts. (AP WIREPHOTO)

New Attacks On Cuba Shores Hinted By Miami Exile Group

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—New attacks on Communist Cuba by exile raiders Tuesday or Wednesday were hinted today by members of Miami's refugee colony.

Officially, they said nothing. But Manuel Ray, head of one action group, has promised to be fighting on Cuban soil before May 20, the nation's independence anniversary.

The exiles added it would not be surprising to hear that Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, head of another group specializing in guerrilla tactics, might be in action on May 19, anniversary of the battlefield death in 1895 of Cuban patriot Jose Marti.

Gutierrez Menoyo, former major in Prime Minister Fidel Castro's rebel army, was one of the most successful guerrilla leaders against ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista. He turned against Castro when the Havana regime became Communist.

Many here believe both Ray and Gutierrez Menoyo may be in Cuba now.

Sources in San Juan reported that Ray left Puerto Rico over the weekend.

Ray, 39, an engineer, went into hiding two weeks ago, after saying in a telephone interview that he would return to Cuba either alone or with two or three others to lead the underground on the island. He left behind a well-paying Puerto Rican government job, a wife and five children.

Broadcasts heard in Miami from a station identifying itself as Radio Free Cuba, "transmitting from within Cuban territory" told the Cuban people the hour of the Communist "traitors is very near." It appealed to Castro's soldiers, militiamen and workers to rebel.

Exile leaders claim Castro's regime is ripe for ouster, but U.S. officials believe the Communist dictatorship has such a tight, police-state grip on Cuba as to make a popular uprising unlikely.

Refugee leaders said there will be a count Wednesday of ballots in a worldwide referendum among Cuban exiles on the question of setting up a five-man central junta as an anti-Castro representative body. Presumably it could serve as a provisional government if Castro's regime were overthrown.

Fire Burns Over 200 Ranch Acres

An expression of appreciation to Big Spring, Coahoma, and other firemen, and all individuals who aided in extinguishing the fire on the E. T. (Gene) O'Daniel estate ranch Saturday, was voiced by Mrs. Viola O'Daniel Monday morning.

"The Ray Fosters and I want every one to know how much we appreciated the help in fighting the fires," she said. An estimated 200 acres of grass land was burned over.

Talks To Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Romania open important economic and political talks today.

The conferences are expected to last 10 to 14 days and could mark the start of a new phase in this country's relations with the Communist nation.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the cards, flowers and many visits during Mr. Brown's illness. Our friends have been most thoughtful, kind and generous, and he is improving rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Brown

Two Injured In Traffic Mishaps

Unusual weekend accidents resulted in damage to two service station gasoline pumps, injuries to two persons, and damage to a police patrol unit.

Injured were Mrs. Carl Goldston, 32, Box 795, Denver City, and S. Sgt. Kenneth W. Saint, 43, Headquarters Squadron, Webb AFB. Mrs. Goldston was injured when involved with a police patrol car driven by Major (his given name) G. McCasland, 1312 Ridgeroad. She was taken in a River-Welch ambulance to Cowper Clinic-Hospital for treatment of a back strain. Her condition was described Monday as good.

She was northbound on Gregg and McCasland was travelling east on 22nd when the crash occured, said officers. The patrol car suffered $250 damage and the Goldston car sustained an estimated $500 damage.

S. Sgt. Saint's car collided with a utility pole in the 1400 block of West Fourth, and his car suffered about $700 damage. At the base hospital, where he was taken at 1 a.m. Sunday by a Nalley-Pickle ambulance, his condition was reported excellent.

Firemen were called about 4:15 a.m. Sunday following the collision of a car, driven by Mrs. Margaret Carter, 500 Owens, with a gasoline pump at the service station, Fourth at Birdwell Lane. Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said the fire was out when the firemen arrived. Damage to the pump was estimated at $500. Police said the mishap occurred as Mrs. Carter was traveling east on Fourth. Her car received minor damage.

Two gasoline pumps at the service station at 601 E. 3rd received about $20 damage after being struck by a car driven by Virgil Nail, Route 3, Snyder, police said. The collision occurred about :25 a.m. Sunday as Nail was going west on Third, officers said.

Locations of other weekend accidents and drivers involved: Third and Settles, Randolph King, Webb AFB, and parked car of M. P. Waggoner, Mayo Ranch Motel; Big M parking lot, Jennifer Bean, 611 Tulane, and Robert Fry, Tuscola; 1600 E. 4th, Eddie Everett, 1710 Alabama, and Mike Hull, 213 Circle Drive; US 80 east at Tulane, Clifford Coats, 1012 Baylor, and Jessie Draper, Route 1.

'Brother' Dave Brings His Show Here Tonight

Brother Dave Gardner, among the top of the ranks of U. S. comedians currently, will give a one-performance show tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the City Auditorium.

Tickets are still on sale at The Record Shop and will be available at the auditorium's box office.

Gardner is on tour across the nation, and he will be accompanied here by the Mack Alexander band. A native Tennesseean, Gardner's delivery mixes sharp and sometimes stinging comments on timely topics with the lingo of the "hep." This is punctuated by phrases from an old tent evangelist's repertoire, creating a style that has made his records in considerable demand.

Memorial Day Closing Set

Howard County courthouse offices will be closed Friday, May 29 in observance of Memorial Day which falls on Saturday, May 30.

The commissioners have announced that Friday will be held as the official holiday for the county employes instead of June 1.

Ordinarily when a holiday falls on a weekend, as does Memorial Day this year, it is the custom to be closed on the Monday following.

Dragged To Death

MANSFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Dan Wesley Hughitt Jr., 12, was dragged to death Sunday by a horse on a gravel road near his home.

He apparently fell while riding or leading the horse and became entangled in the lead rope.

Paving Job Reawarded

Howard County Commissioners Court Monday morning cancelled a contract it had made with Jones Paving Co., Andrews, and awarded the work to W. D. Caldwell, Inc., Big Spring.

Jones had been awarded the contract to pave 12 miles of newly built county roads and to seal coat 8 miles of older road.

Commissioners said he had not posted a performance bond. Commissioners, pointing out that it is urgent the topping be laid on the new roads, cancelled their contract with him.

Caldwell's bid for the job was $26,409.50.

His superintendent informed the county commissioners that bond would be posted immediately and work started on the road Tuesday.

Truck Stolen

A pickup belonging to W. C. Fryar, Route 1, was reported stolen Sunday evening. It was taken from the parking lot of the Bowl-A-Rama, US 80 east, police said, and it is a late model green and white truck with a butane tank on the rear of the cab. The vehicle still was missing Monday.

Weather Forecast

A belt of scattered showers will stretch from the southern Plains into the Great Lakes region Monday night. Showers are also predicted for the Pacific northern Rockies. It will be cooler from the northern and central Plains into the upper Great Lakes area. It will continue cool in the north Atlantic coast states. Milder temperatures are forecast for most of the southwest section of the country through the southern Plains and lower Great Lakes region. Little change elsewhere. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Army Ignoring Order On Cadet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is ignoring a federal court order that forbade it to expel a West Point cadet shortly before his graduation, a Washington attorney charged today.

Under a temporary restraining order issued here Friday by U.S. Dist. Judge Edward M. Curran, the Army was told to permit the cadet, John H. Dunmar, to take his final examinations this week while his court suit for reinstatement is being decided.

But, said attorney Paul R. Connolly Jr., as of Sunday night Dunmar, 21, had been told he would not be allowed to take a final exam to be given this morning.

Connolly said he will seek a contempt citation against both Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes and the superintendent of West Point if Dunmar is not allowed to take the examinations.

The Army's position is that the injunction came too late—Dunmar was already out of the corps.

The charge that led to Dunmar's dismissal came about this way, Connolly said: The cadet, son of an Army private killed in the Philippines in 1944, had been given a confinement to serve for a minor infraction last February. To get credit for serving the confinement, a cadet must be in his quarters when the duty officer makes his inspection.

However, Dunmar became ill and went to the academy infirmary. He would be unable to get a confinement credit as long as he was in the infirmary—and there was a dance he wanted to go to, Connolly said.

Dunmar got permission from the infirmary medical officer to get some books from his quarters and was in his quarters when the duty officer made his inspection.

He thus got the confinement credit, but when the duty officer discovered Dunmar had actually been an infirmary patient at the time, the cadet was brought up on charges.

He had "quibbled" with the medical officer, the Army charged, by not giving the full reason for wanting to go to his quarters.

Dallas Couple Found Slain

DALLAS (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Lenferd Strickland of Duncanville, a Dallas suburb, were found shot to death Sunday on a trail near Mountain Creek Lake.

Officers said the woman may have been raped. She was naked.

Strickland, 31, had been shot in the left temple. His wife, Janice, 28, had been shot below the left eye.

Mrs. Strickland was in weeds near the couple's automobile. A .45-caliber cartridge hull was found near her body. Police also found two live rounds of ammunition near the automobile.

But no gun was found.

Strickland's clothed body was found about five feet from the auto and his wife's body was about five feet from him.

Police surmised that Strickland was murdered before the car was taken to the secluded spot and his wife was murdered after being raped.

Bloodstains were found on a rear floorboard of the auto and in the front passenger seat.

The couple was last seen about 9:30 p.m. Saturday when they left their home to go to a dance in Grand Prairie.

The bodies were discovered by a De Soto painter, who was driving on the trail so he and his family could picnic and fish.

The Stricklands were parents of four children. He worked at Bell Helicopter at Hurst and operated a used car lot and filling station in Duncanville.

The annual spring Festival of Light music will be presented in its final performance at 8 p.m. today in the Howard County Junior College auditorium. The program earned resounding applause Saturday evening in its first showing. Some of the soloists include Jack Hendrix, accompanist and music department head, Hubert Murphy, Bill Anderson, Ira Schantz, director; seated, Mrs. Joyce Bradley and Margaret Gary, who is in a pantomime sequence.

Shift In Highest Red Ranks Seen

MOSCOW (AP)—A new shift in the Soviet Union's top command likely will result from the death of Otto Kuusinen, Finnish member of the Communist party's 12-man presidium and one of the last old Bolsheviks.

Kuusinen, 82, was appointed to the presidium at Premier Khrushchev's bidding after the ouster of Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich in 1957. His death from cancer of the liver was announced Sunday.

He was one of the last direct links of the party leadership with Lenin.

There was speculation that Khrushchev, visiting in Egypt, and First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, visiting in Tokyo, would speed home to take part in the appointment of Kuusinen's successor.

Frequently mentioned is Viktor Grishin, a candidate member of the presidium and head of the trade unions.

Kuusinen's death also could provide Khrushchev with the opportunity of replacing two ailing members of the presidium —Frol Kozlov, 54, incapacitated by a stroke, and Nikolai Shvernik, 76.

Khrushchev, 70, returned to Cairo Sunday, tired and strained after a hectic four-day tour in the 100-degree heat of upper Egypt, 430 miles south of Cairo.

The tumultuous reception he received at every stop in Egypt undoubtedly added to the premier's fatigue. He canceled a visit to a steel mill today and an officers' dinner tonight but planned to go ahead with scheduled talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Kuusinen's body lay in state in the Hall of Columns of the House of Trade Unions, same place where Stalin lay. He was to be buried Tuesday in Red Square.

Kuusinen was born in Finland when it was part of the Russian empire. He headed a puppet Soviet government during the Russian invasion of Finland in 1939-40 and was denounced by the Finns as a traitor.

Kuusinen had first fled to Moscow in 1930 when the Communist party was outlawed in Finland. He became a leading Soviet Communist the next year. His daughter, Hertta Kuusinen-Leino, is one of Finland's leading Communists.

Rep. Mahon Says Aid Price Tag Not Yet Known

So far as possible, any increased aid to Viet Nam should be within the framework of foreign aid, Rep. George Mahon, appropriations chairman, declared in a television interview this morning.

He appeared on the Today program and said there was no assurance that increased aid would solve the situation in Southeast Asia. Yet it cannot be abandoned. Unless there is a change in fortunes, however, some basic changes in dealing must be effected.

No one has yet put a price tag on anticipated increased help to Viet Nam, he declared. As to a general policy towards appropriations, he said that as chairman he would favor a pay-as-you-go attitude wherever possible.

Rep. Mahon last week ascended to chairmanship of the powerful House committee on appropriations when Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) died unexpectedly.

Burglary Attempt Charges Filed

Almus Henry Hill, 21, of 200 NW Second, has been charged with burglary in connection with an attempt to break into the residence of Maria Olivas, 42, at 19 Channing. The alleged break-in effort occurred last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Olivas told police someone tried to gain entrance by ripping off a front window screen.

The case was filed by the district attorney's office with Jess Slaughter, peace justice. Bond has been fixed at $1,000 but Hill has not posted bail.

Straining For Fame

Steve Langham of Howard County Junior College strains for the tape Saturday night in the process of clocking a :46.7 on the last leg of a mile relay team that broke a junior college world's record in the event. With Bruce Teagarden, A. J. Williams, John Perry and Langham running in that order, the speedsters stepped off a 3:11.2 to break the old mark of 3:12.7. The action occurred in the final race of the 1964 National Junior College Track and Field meet in Memorial Stadium which Phoenix, Ariz. won by two points, 122-120, over HCJC, the reigning champ. Indians Are Routed, Lose Top Standing

By The Associated Press

Mickey Lolich and Hank Aguirre continue their perfect hitting, but unfortunately for the Cleveland Indians they pitch slightly better.

Lolich and Aguirre, a pair of Detroit left-handers, hit like Popeye and Olive Oyl would sing Romeo and Juliet. They showed it again Sunday by maintaining their .000 batting averages.

Each, however, pitched a seven-hitter as the Tigers whipped the Indians 3-1 and 4-1, ending their five-game winning streak and knocking them out of first place in the American League.

The Indians were replaced in the top spot by Chicago, which nipped Washington 3-2. New York swept Kansas City 11-9 and 8-0, Los Angeles whipped Baltimore 9-4 and Minnesota edged Boston 6-5 after losing 6-2.

Whitey Ford pitched a four-hitter and Joe Pepitone clouted two home runs as the Yankees romped over the Athletics in the second game. Ford walked one and struck out five, bringing his record to 4-1.

Mickey Mantle and Tom Tresh homered in the first game. Mantle's came with one on, Tresh's with two aboard.

* * *

Ron Herbel is nearsighted and Jack Fisher is beginning to see the light.

Herbel is one of the young pitchers the San Francisco Giants were counting on when they let Fisher go to the New York Mets in the National League's "Help the Poor" draft last fall.

Manager Alvin Dark gave rookie right-hander his first major league start in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader against Fisher and the Mets but had Herbel known he'd only get two hits from his teammates, he might have declined the opportunity.

Fisher handcuffed the Giants for seven innings allowing only singles to Matty Alou in the first and Orlando Cepeda in the second. Pitching for the Giants, it might have been good enough to win but hurling for the Mets . . . not a chance.

Cepeda, who slugged a three-run homer to back up Bob Hendley's three-hitter for a 6-0 first game victory, did the damage. He stole second following his single, moved to third on a fly ball and scored when Fisher uncorked a wild pitch. It was the only mistake the ex-Giant hurler made, but it was enough to beat him, 1-0.

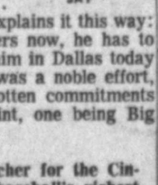

While the Giants were sweeping, three other National League doubleheaders ended in splits. Los Angeles edged Pittsburgh 3-2 and the Pirates won the second game 8-3; St. Louis stretched Milwaukee's losing streak to five with a 7-3 victory in the opener before the Braves came back to take the nightcap 4-2. Chicago's four run ninth inning edged Cincinnati 5-4 in the opener before the Reds won the nightcap 7-1. In a night game at Houston, Philadelphia blanked the Colts 2-0.

PAT WASHBURN'S
The Roundtable

HAROLD O. STEELE, director of athletics at Grand Rapids, Mich., who brought six boys down for the National Junior College Track and Field meet, was talking about the national junior college tennis and golf championships which his school will host in the near future. . . . It seems that 36 of the 72 holes in the golf tourney will be played over the same course where the pros will compete for this year's big money in the Western Open. It's his opinion that Odessa College will be the team to beat although they've lost such top stars as Big Spring's JIMMY PATTERSON off last year's championship crew. Patterson, incidentally, is now a regular with North Texas State University. . . . San Angelo College football coach, MAX BUMGARDNER didn't have the services of Baylor's All-American quarterback, DON TRULL, for Saturday after all. Bumgardner had been in Waco for a week to watch the Bears work out a short while ago and during his stay he became good friends with Trull and his All-American receiver, LAWRENCE ELKINS, and persuaded the pair to come to San Angelo last Saturday for a clinic with the quarterbacks and ends. . . . Elkins arrived but Trull didn't. Bumgardner explains it this way: "Since he's the property of the Houston Oilers now, he has to go where they want, and they had plans for him in Dallas today (Friday) and in Houston Saturday." . . . It was a noble effort, at any rate. . . . San Angelo College has gotten commitments from 40 high school gridders up to this point, one being Big Spring's CHARLIE WEST. . . .

JOEY JAY, six-foot-four, 238-pound pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, is rapidly becoming one of baseball's richest players, but not necessarily because of the national pastime. The Redlegs pay him about $40,000 a year for his services but that's a drop in the bucket compared to his co-ownership of 27 West Virginia wells, which pour out oil and natural gas at the rate of a dollar a second. He gets $3.85 a barrel, and when a well is flowing it can fill a barrel in four seconds. He estimates that there are reserves worth up to $6 million. . . . The Reds aren't overly happy. As Jay explains: "When you have outside business interests, the owners are jealous. They'd like you to eat a baseball for breakfast and go to bed at night with a glove on your hand." . . .The University of Michigan stadium, Ann Arbor, which seats 101,001 spectators, is the largest college-owned stadium in the country. . . . The American Eagle, one of four American boats in the pre-America Cup trials, is being built at a cost of $250,000. . . . BRUCE DEVLIN, pro golfer from Canberra, Australia, has no sponsor to pay the bills while competing on the circuit. . . .

Extra Hole Is Deciding Point

The tandem of Carrie McGee and Weldon Bryant took first place Sunday in the annual couples invitational golf tournament at the Big Spring Country Club, but not before they survived the scare of a playoff.

The twosome found themselves tied after 18 holes with Don Reynolds and Lane Reynolds, both crews carding 142s. But McGee and Bryant won the first extra hole to take the top trophies.

The team of Sam Thurman and Jody Sabbato shot a 147 for a third place finish while the fourth place berth went to another Big Spring tandem, Joe Gunning and Evelyn Gunning, as they shot a combined 149.

There were 20 teams in the field with only three out-of-town players showing up to vie for the trophies. The last tourney of the same type at the local club was held in the fall.

Germans Leading Russian Netters

By The Associated Press

West Germany took a 2-1 lead into today's last two singles matches against Russia in a European Zone Davis Cup elimination series.

The Soviet tennis team needs a sweep to gain the last vacant berth in the European Zone quarter-finals.

France, Italy and Sweden completed 5-0 sweeps Sunday over Holland, Rhodesia and Czechoslovakia, respectively. Defending champion Britain clinched a quarter-final spot, as did South Africa and Denmark, earlier in the week. Yugoslavia moved up Saturday via a 5-0 rout of Argentina.

Britain goes against Yugoslavia, South Africa meets France and Italy faces Sweden in the quarter-finals next month. The Russia-West Germany survivor will play Denmark.

Hebert Tied With Bayer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A couple of veterans who haven't been in the winner's circle lately broke ahead of the pack today for the final 36 holes of the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament.

Husky George Bayer, who last won a tournament in March 1960, and Lionel Hebert, whose last victory was two years ago, led at the half-way point with 36 hole totals of six-under-par 138. Both posted 70-68—138 cards during the first two rounds.

Rain and lightning spoiled the first two starts Thursday and Friday. The first round wasn't played until Saturday, necessitating a 36-hole windup today.

Johnny Potts and Mike Souchak were just one stroke behind the leaders at 139. Two strokes back were Bob Verwey and Jack McGowan. Favorite Arnold Palmer was deadlocked with four others at 141.

The Hebert family had a share of the lead after both the first and second rounds. Jay Hebert fired a 68 Saturday to share the lead with five others but slipped to a 74 Sunday.

Sunday was a bad day for the first round leaders. Souchak zoomed to a 71, Terry Dill to a 73, Hebert and Jay Fleming to a 74, Ernie Vossler to a 75 and Cotton Dunn to a 76.

Wallace In Finals

CLEBURNE—Colorado City Wallace swept a doubleheader Saturday from Linden Fairview, 14-1 and 8-3, in the quarterfinals of the state class 1-A Negro loop and thus advanced into the state finals. The C-City team will meet the winner of the Hallsville-Conroe contest next week at a time and place yet to be decided for the state title.

PLAY BETTER GOLF

By Tommy Armour

Wiggle Your Toes

As you address the ball have the feeling that you are so steady on your feet that you can wiggle your toes inside your shoes. Then you'll protect yourself against being so much on your toes that you will fall toward the ball the instant you start swinging. The ordinary golfer often sways to the right instead of turning early in his backswing. Generally that is because he is standing stiff-kneed. His knees should be unlocked so they will aid rather than impede his body turn.

SWEETWATER — Colorado City's Bill Craig sank a pressurized 10-foot putt Sunday and won the Sweetwater 29er's Golf tournament with a 72, one stroke better than Henry Richards of Abilene and Travis Horton of Stamford.

Smith, Merchants Win One Each In Westex Action

E. C. Smith Construction Co. and the Big Spring Merchants met in a City Park doubleheader Saturday night in Westex Softball League action with the Merchants running away with the first contest, 9-1, while the Smith crew came back to take the last game, 2-1.

The first game was marked by Spec Franklin's five - hit pitching chore for the Merchants as he went the route for the victory. Troy Wetsel was tagged with the loss although he had relief help from Dan Springer.

The only extra-base rap in the game was by the Merchants Oakie Hagood. Ed Capers and and Tedford collected two hits apiece for the winners.

The second game was a different story as both pitchers went the entire seven innings with the Smith hurler, Floyd Davenport getting the win, while B. P. Thomas was the loser, although he tossed a three-hitter.

Money Keeps Coming As Wright Wins Again

DALLAS (AP) — Mickey Wright, on what may be her greatest winning streak yet, led the women's golf tour into Dallas today.

Forty-two pros and 13 amateurs were due to start tuneup rounds at Glen Lakes Country Club as they prepare for the $13,500 Dallas Civitan Open.

Miss Wright won her third tournament in a row Sunday when she took the Muskogee Women's open by nine whopping shots.

The Dallas blonde, who missed the first two tournaments of the year because of a sprained ankle, now has won four of six. She won 13 all last year and also won the most money a woman pro ever bagged—more than $30,000. She has won more than $7,000 this year.

A pro-amateur with $1,500 prize money will be played Wednesday. Each of the women pros will team with a man pro and three amateurs.

Miss Wright, the defending champion who twice has won the Dallas tournament, and Louise Suggs, winner of three in a row, head the field. It includes the champions of all eight tournaments played by the pros this year.

They are Carol Mann, Western Open; Mary Lena Faulk, St. Petersburg Open; Sandra Haynie, the tiny Texan, Capitol City Open, Baton Rouge; Marilynn Smith, Titleholders, and Miss Wright, Spartanburg, S.C.; Clifford Ann Creed Invitation at Alexandria, La., Squirt Open in St. Louis and Muskogee Open.

Jockey Hurt At Ruidoso

RUIDOSO, N. M. — Jockey Lyle Murray, 22, was rushed to an El Paso hospital for treatment Sunday after being injured in a spill in the first race at Ruidoso Downs.

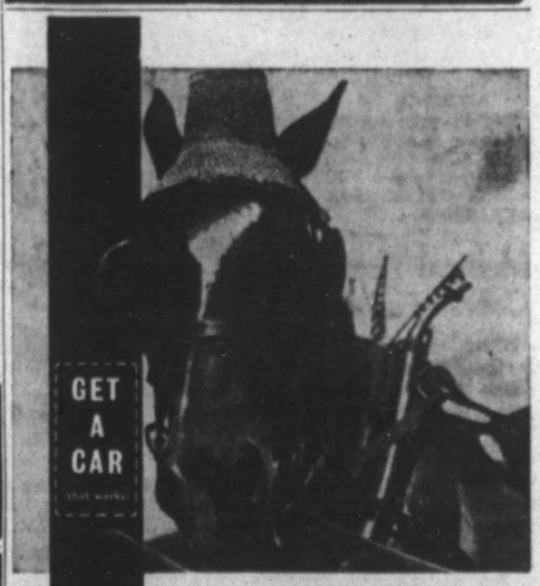

Murray, of Idaho Falls, Idaho, was thrown at mid-stretch when his mount appeared to fall. Murray was struck by the heels of another horse and suffered facial injuries. He was flown to El Paso and put in the care of a plastic surgeon, Ruidoso officials announced Sunday night.

Two horses he was scheduled to ride later came in winners. In the second race, Irish Billy Rock rode Sunset to victory and Jack Wallace was up on Broonie, the winner in the eighth race.

Dear Abby

To Stop Or Not To Stop

DEAR ABBY: When I read all those letters from readers stating that you were wrong to say that the bus driver should have stopped and tried to help the dog he hit, I couldn't believe my eyes. Then we find out there is a LAW in Indiana which prohibits a school bus driver from stopping on the highway even if he hits an animal. What if he hits a child? He would have to stop then, wouldn't he? Or would he just go right on, and report the incident only after having delivered his bus load of children to their destinations? No wonder there is so much inhumanity today! I don't care what the LAW says, Abby, don't you back down one inch. You were right, and the whole State of Indiana is wrong to let a law like that stay on its books.

NOT FROM INDIANA

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have never before written to a newspaper columnist, but I cannot sleep unless I write this letter. How could anyone answer to his own conscience if he hits a poor defenseless dog and doesn't stop to see if the dog is dead or alive, or to give him some aid? An injured dog on the highway would surely be struck again and again by oncoming vehicles if not removed. Dogs feel pain just as humans do. If this is the law, perhaps we can look forward to future laws which will not only disregard the feelings of animals, but people. Phooey on progress!

DISGUSTED WITH PEOPLE

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I checked and you were right. Is IS against the law in Indiana for a school bus driver to stop on the highway if he hits an animal. The laws of various states are often confusing. For example, I was driving through a section posted "RANGE AREA—WATCH FOR LIVESTOCK" and a cow wandered out in front of me. I hit her broadside. My car was badly damaged and I was lucky I wasn't killed. I saw a lawyer, expecting to recover damages for my car. After all, I was on the highway where I was supposed to be, and the cow had no business there. I found out that I not only couldn't collect a dime, but I was being sued by the farmer for the loss of his cow.

C L A U D E IN WENATCHEE, WASHINGTON

• • •

DEAR ABBY: It's hard to believe that there are people in the world as cruel and cold-blooded as those who wrote to say that the bus driver should not have stopped, but gone right on after having hit a dog. What harm could come to the children if he pulled off the highway onto the shoulder of the road? I am sure if he put several of the older children in charge of the younger ones and told them all to stay inside the bus, not one of them would have disobeyed. Children have a greater compassion and love for animals than most adults.

Medical Terms Course Finished

Fifteen local hospital workers completed a five-day, five-hour course in medical terminology Friday at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital under the direction of Miss June Coleman, chief of ward and services.

Receiving a certificate in the annual course were 10 persons from the VA hospital: Genevieve M. Flippin, Frances Gomez, Ruby Jo Green, Dorothy Henderson, Frances A. Huntziker, Mona Hush, Billie Y. Mize, Martha Nixon, La Homa O'Brien, and Elmer W. Seitzler.

Sylvia M. Angus, La Vada Beck, Ita E. Nole, and Beulah Saunders are at the state hospital while Jonanna C. Teeters works at the Webb Air Force Base Hospital.

The purpose of the course was to give hints and ideas to promote knowledge and skill in the use of medical terminology.

Donald D. Van Meter, hospital director, spoke to the group at the conclusion of the course.

GOP's Race Still Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Assessing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's Oregon victory, Republican governors agreed generally today that the contest for the GOP presidential nomination remains wide open.

Some of the seven state chief executives who responded to invitations to comment on their party's political situation indicated they think the June 2 California primary may be a decisive factor in determining the nominee.

Rockefeller, who won Oregon's 18 convention votes in that state's balloting Friday, faces Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona in the last significant primary before the party convention opens here July 13.

Gov. John Anderson of Kansas, chairman of the National Governors' Conference, said the Oregon primary in which Rockefeller topped U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, "shows the Republican nominee in San Francisco is not settled yet."

NOT IN BAG

"Goldwater certainly is leading in delegates but I don't think it's in the bag," Anderson said.

Goldwater placed third in Oregon with Richard M. Nixon fourth.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho said the Oregon results will increase the importance of the California primary outcome.

"If Goldwater wins in California," Smylie said, "it is likely that he will be nominated on the first ballot. If it looks like that is what is going to happen, it would be smart for our delegation to go along with him."

Gov. John H. Reed of Maine said Rockefeller's Oregon victory was "a tribute to his determination and his genuine appeal to the rank and file voters."

"It is also a demonstration," Reed said, "that Republicans want a moderate presidential candidate and one with proven ability as a vote-getter. The results certainly have boosted Gov. Rockefeller's stock and will make him a top contender at San Francisco."

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island said Rockefeller's Oregon victory had saved the New Yorker's candidacy.

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who has said he would accept a genuine draft for the presidential nomination but doesn't expect that to happen, said Rockefeller deserved to win in Oregon.

Scranton, whose name was on the ballot, finished last behind Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, among six contenders in the balloting.

"My hat is off to Gov. Rockefeller," Scranton said. "He campaigned long and worked very hard."

UNCOMMITTED

Gov. Archie Gubbrud of South Dakota, who has said he leans toward Goldwater but heads an uncommitted delegate slate in his state's June 2 primary, said he didn't think the Oregon results changed the standing of the candidates.

"I don't see any more significance in the Oregon primary that in any of the others," Gubbrud said. "It just happens to be the most recent and that's the one we talk about."

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, scheduled to become temporary chairman of the July convention, said the results of his state's primary enhance Rockefeller's chances for the nomination. He said that, among other things, they proved the New York governor could win by hard campaigning.

WINNERS NAMED

Y Indian Guides End Camp, Elect Officials

The Y-Indian Guide Campout held Saturday afternoon and night at Moss Creek Lake ended Sunday morning following a devotional service led by the Rev. Don Hungerford, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

After setting up camp Saturday the tribes entered athletic contests, including a tug-of-war, broad jump and sack races. The Caddo tribe won first place in the tug-of-war, Tejas won second, and Arapaho third.

The Tetons won first place in broad jump, Tejas second, and Sioux third.

Sack races featured first, second and third grade boys. First grade winners were (in order): Crows, Arapahos, Tejas; second grade, Sioux, Tejas, Crow; third grade, Sioux, Caddo, Tejas.

Camp site judging resulted in the Crow tribe winning first place, Sioux second, and Tonkawa third. Grant Boardman, Longhouse chief, was given a coup feather for his efforts in the campout. Feathers also went to the Little Braves who helped cook dinner and breakfast meals for the fathers.

Eagle feathers went to the following for outstanding contributions to the Y-Indian Guide program: Bert Harris and son for chairmanship of the Campout; Hayes Stripling Jr., for chairmanship of the kite flying contest; and to Grant Boardman and son for leadership during the year as Longhouse chief.

New officers elected for the coming year, for the Longhouse, were: Hayes (Tall Pine) Stripling Jr., chief; J. W. (Big Eagle) Dickens, medicine man; Bert (Gray Owl) Harris, tally keeper.

The Buffalo Trail Order of the Arrow dance team demonstrated Indian Dances for the tribes at the Saturday night camp fire.

A Devotional For The Day

The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth souls is wise. (Proverbs 11:30.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we desire to have the fruits of the Holy Spirit. We know that Thou art the source of all the fruits, and that we must be rooted in Thee. May the Holy Spirit direct us this day that we may not waste our energy on unfruitful things. In Jesus' name. Amen.

State Planning Needed

Planning is a common-sense requirement for well-run democratic government, but planning is a term that has too long suffered undeserved political ill-repute in Texas. Perhaps, hopefully, a new era is opening in Texas government that will recognize fully the importance and propriety of executive-supervised, expertly staffed program planning.

This thought was raised by Gov. John Connally's recent address to the Texas Bankers Association convention. "The greatest challenge to Texas is how well it will provide for the economy of 1975," he said. That challenge can be met if we "plan and work" well. But "if we fail to plan for this future," the challenge may not be met. Surely the governor must have been thinking at least in part of planning deficiencies in state government when he concluded: "Texas today is great almost in spite of itself."

Governmental planning—long-range, comprehensive and coordinated, expert—came to Texas first at the municipal level with the advent of council-manager government, which is now the prevailing form. Most of the larger Texas cities now have planning departments continually formulating, reviewing and revising the relationship of municipal policies, works and services to overall community development and well-being.

Such planning is well established in major independent state agencies, such as the Texas Education Agency, Texas Water Commission and Texas Highway Department. The recent establishment of the governor's budget office, which Connally has strengthened, provides the nucleus for central coordination of planning for state governmental programs. And planning assistance is available from the legislature's Texas Legislative Council and the private Texas Research League, which makes studies and recommendations for states agencies on request.

The planning function in Texas state government needs to be broadened, strengthened, centrally coordinated and popularly recognized as indispensable to efficient self-government in a dynamic, rapidly changing society. And responsibility for it should head up in the governor's office, as Connally is commendably aware.

'I THOUGHT WE DON'T HAVE WILL TO WIN'

Pleasant Family Fuss

The time of all Communists is not occupied in burying capitalists. Some Communists, in fact, would like to bury other Communists, a much more pleasant occupation from the Western point of view.

This is apropos of Albania's recent observance of the 70th birthday of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev: The freedom of the city given him in 1955 was withdrawn. (Albania, be it remembered, has cast its lot with Red China in the struggle for leadership of the world Communist movement between Moscow and Peking.)

In withdrawing freedom of the city, the state radio network classified Khrushchev as "Enemy No. 1 of the international Communist unity and the most valuable collaborator of imperialism" because he "finally betrayed Marxism-Leninism."

The final coup de grace was administered in these words: "He is the most dangerous grave-digger to the Soviet Union and her Communist party." Some family fights can be interesting to outsiders.

Read Any Scary Books Lately?

WASHINGTON — There was a very cold day a good many years ago when a very small boy, who now writes this column, never left his mother's side. He had read in the newspaper the infallible prediction by a Biblical soothsayer that this day would see the apocalyptic prophecy come true — the End of the World.

Well, the sun rose and set and the world wagged on, and the boy-become-man never again believed in End of the World predictions. They now come daily to his desk in the form of books, propaganda, scientific pamphlets and high-level references to Nuclear Holocaust.

SOMETIMES, along with Jefferson, "I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just," but my flesh refuses to creep when Senator Joe Clark tells me in "Congress: The Sapless Branch" that the nation is atrophying from "inaction" because the Constitution is moribund. Professor James MacGregor Burns, in "Deadlock of Democracy," is another Doomsday intellectualist, a numberologist obsessed with the figure "four." He thinks we've had it because he's discovered a "four-party system" in Congress which works toward the same "inaction" that has driven Clark a little loony on the subject. For myself, I take it that the best guaranty of longevity in a Republic is not to pass too many laws.

TWO OTHER BOOKS, one angry and one urbane, take a dim view of the United Nations as a substitute for, possibly, an obliterator of this land of the free. Robert Murphy, a lifelong careerist in the State Department, writes in "Diplomat Among Warriors":

"Personally, I never regarded the U.N. as a divine machine from which happy solutions to our problems would miraculously flow. Nor have I feared the consequences even if the U.N. should utterly collapse."

BRYTON BARRON, a 26-year State Department veteran, who left under unhappy circumstances, describes the U.N. in his book title, "Dream Becomes a Nightmare," and finds a "criminal conspiracy" to fetch the U.S.A. under a world government dominated by Reds.

All sorts of brimstone prophets have told us that the country is headed for the Everlasting Bonfire on account of the terrible "industrial-military complex" of nuclear warmongers who are building "overkill" in order to protect their fortunes and protect their status. But I'm glad to hear from Lloyd Mallan in "Peace Is a Three-Edged Sword" that most of the scare stuff about accidental war is piffle, and that this "third edge" — the military ability in "local" warfare — is a workable safeguard.

JACK RAYMOND, in "Power At the Pentagon" is another who relies on shoe leather information rather than on supernatural divination for his disclosures. I never heard the menace of militarism in America better summarized than by Raymond:

"It is simply not true that stockpiles of arms inevitably lead to war. Most wars have begun when at least one of the combatants had no military power. The size of the military establishment in the U.S. is no more due to the ambitions of the military chiefs than are the size of the New York and Chicago police forces to the respective chiefs of police . . . While rejecting a conspiratorial view . . . we should recognize that lobbies exist, that conflict of interests arise . . . we must challenge the judgment of the specialists in civilian clothing as well as the professionals in uniform."

Famous Words

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—For three hours, the speakers discussed the pros and cons of a flood control project proposed for mountainous Harlan County.

"I think it is improbable we'll have another flood like 1963 . . ." said one speaker.

He stopped short as a loud clap of thunder echoed through the room and the rain poured outside. It turned out to be only a spring shower.

Billy Graham

Will you explain II Peter 3:10? I don't understand to what it refers to. J.N.

The text to which you refer says: "But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up."

A few years ago this Scripture would have been passed off as a first-century mystical dream. But now, with modern nuclear weapons, it is a distinct possibility. Not only men of religion, but men of science, declare that the destruction of this planet is no longer improbable.

The Scriptures assert that there was a time when this world was not, and there will be a time when it will be cleansed of all evil by the fire of God's judgment.

The Christian's hope is beyond this earth. If you will read on farther in the chapter referred to, you will find these words: "Nevertheless, we according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." If our hope is restricted to this planet, we are hopeless. But if our hope is in God, we need not be overwhelmed by despair.

U.S. Position Compared With Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Switch the picture around — with the United States in Red China's place—and it isn't hard to understand why Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara just returned from Viet Nam with a gloomy forecast.

He said the war against communism there is going to be "a long, hard war."

FAR LESS easy to understand is why this same McNamara could make other trips to Viet NaNm—five in two years —and come back with sunnier statements.

He sounded in the past as if he didn't understand the problem, as if he considered the Vietnamese war just a fight in and for one country instead of being a fight for all Asia, one which may continue for years or a generation.

Look at this picture first:

The Red Chinese by their own words are dedicated to imposing communism everywhere. One of the reasons they gave for their split with Russia is that the Soviets were not aggressive enough in spreading communism.

SO IT CAN be assumed they will insist as a minimum upon seeking a totally Communist Asia. If they have not sought to achieve this yet by direct military actions, that is understandable. They're not ready yet.

They are still in the building-up stage, economically, industrially and militarily. They simply do not have the weapons—particularly nuclear ones — to match the West. Given time, they can hope to achieve that.

Meanwhile, they can be expected to use methods short of direct war with the West to communize Asia, even though it takes years, through subversion or aid to Communist guerrillas inside neighboring non-Red countries.

This thinking is not exclusive with the Chinese. After World War II the Russians, who had been attacked by Germany in two world wars, were not content to have their frontiers up against non - Communist countries.

THEY REDUCED their nearest neighbors to satellites. This served a double purpose. It spread communism and, in case of a future war with the West, those satellites would be handy buffers to blunt the initial attacks.

The Red Chinese can be expected to do no less. So, all the smaller Asian countries—particularly Viet Nam, which borders on China—are logical targets for communism through subversion, civil war, or Red Chinese pressure.

If Viet Nam tumbles, the other small nations in southeastern Asia would be persuaded just that much more to line up with China, not with the West. So it is to China's interest to see the Vietnamese war continued, no matter how long it takes, with China's aid and encouragement.

IF THE United States were in Red China's position, it probably would never cease trying to bring about such a result, as can be seen by reversing the picture and taking Cuba and Mexico as examples.

Communist Cuba, 90 miles off the American shore, is no direct threat to this country now although it was for the brief time in which Russian missiles were based there. Perhaps in time something like that will happen again.

It goes without saying this country will never cease trying to rid Cuba of communism, as it is trying for the time being by economic boycott after backing an invasion that failed.

EXTEND THE picture to Mixeco, which now has a democratic government. Suppose Russia alone had nuclear weapons and the United States were in China's present position of not having them.

And suppose Communists in Mexico were trying to crush the democratic government of Mexico with the help of Russian men and resources. The United States would not want to risk a nuclear war which it couldn't fight.

But it would never cease trying to encourage and supply the democratic forces fighting the Mexican Communists, no matter how long it took. By this reasoning, fighting in Asia will be a long story.

The Unwillingness To Help

NEW YORK (AP) — Could you stand at your window and watch or hear a screaming woman vainly fight a knife-wielding killer for 35 minutes and never lift a hand to dial police?

Thirty-eight of Kitty Genovese's neighbors in Kew Gardens, Queens, did the night of last March 13.

Could you crowd around the glass doors or the stairwell of an office building and watch a nude young woman pleading for help as she fought off an alleged rapist? And never move to save her?

FORTY PEOPLE along East Tremont Avenue in the Bronx did in mid afternoon two weeks ago today.

Could you stand on the shore and watch two 10-year-old boys drown and the lone man who tried to save them almost lose his own life and never shove out in a boat to help?

Ten did at Atlantic City, N.J., 11 days ago.

They only watched.

"Any of us could have been one of those people," said Dr. Smiley Blanton, a psychiatrist who with the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, cofounded the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry Clinic, a nondenominational clinic, here.

"THE DIFFERENCE is, in most of us it lasts for only 30 seconds."

Dr. Esther Rothman, a psychologist and principal of New York City's only public school for emotionally disturbed girls, said "There has always been this element of apathy among us."

Dr. Blanton listed two reasons why people didn't help:

—"The innate problem of hate, resentment, savagery and brutality which is in all of us. You only have to look at what Germany did during the war to realize how much hate there is in the unconscious mind of many people. Only through the grace of God can we overcome that."

—"THERE MUST have been something in the situation that inhibited these people; "they didn't want to get involved."

Recently, two potential suicides—from a building in Albany, N.Y., and from the superstructure of the Brooklyn Bridge—attracted crowds who taunted them to jump.

"The people who stand there and say 'Jump! jump!' are not too different from those who only stand and watch and don't act in a helpful way," Dr. Rothman said.

Physical Therapists In Short Supply

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Although I couldn't attend college to obtain a degree in physical therapy, is there anything I can do as a volunteer or as a salaried worker?—MRS. D. E. N.

In general, yes!

As a volunteer, contact any rehabilitation institute or center —or for that matter, most large hospitals. I talked to the physical therapy director of a rehabilitation center in one city and he said:

"Every major hospital in this area has its own physical therapy department."

There are many places where the volunteer will be welcomed with open arms, and generally with considerable leeway afforded to fit such time as you are able to give.

There is the possibility of becoming an aide in a physical therapy department, as a salaried undertaking, without formal training—although some specialized "on-the-job" training is needed, of course.

For trained therapists, my informant interjected, "We could use 10 more in our institute alone, if we could find them."

For all kinds of information on physical therapy, write to the American Physical Therapy Association, 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y.

For those who are interested in making a career of physical therapy (and it is clear that the field is anything but overcrowded) college training is necessary.

Some universities give a four-year course, graduates receiving a Bachelor of Science in Physical Therapy or some similar degree. (This varies.)

Or as an alternative, some take a four - year course, majoring in physical education, and then an additional year of training in physical therapy. Such people, of course, then have two professions, either teaching or therapy.

New Kind Of Ouija Board?

One thing and another:

An Illinois woman insists she has a foolproof way to tell how many children a woman has. Not only that, the woman, Mrs. Janet Poel, insists that it even tells the sex of the children. Take her word for it, the system is foolproof.

She sticks a threated needle into the eraser of a pencil, then holds the thread in her fingers and lets the pencil dangle half an inch above the inside of a woman's wrist.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Poel, who is 29 and the mother of four boys, the pencil will start circling on its own and will move up and down the arm for each son a woman has and sideways for each daughter.

Says she's had 100 per cent results on 50 people.

The pencil circles between each child and identifies the sex of the children in the sequence of their births. It also includes miscarriages. According to Mrs. Poel, the method won't work on women who haven't had children, on men or the very young.

"I also tried it on an old maid," she said, "and it stood stone still."

Goldwater—Or Who's Next?

WASHINGTON — Former President Eisenhower has wisely adopted a position of neutrality as between candidates for the Republican presidential nomination, and says he will not try to "dictate" a choice. This conforms to the tactics of the experts with long experience in preconvention campaigns in past years.

The Republican party is going to have a hard time winning against President Johnson anyway. But it can easily sweep away all chances of victory by what it does between now and the time of the national convention.

THE DIFFICULTY really lies in the fact that many of the supporters of the various candidates are ignoring the rank-and-file opposition to the administration in power. It is being mistakenly assumed that to project the virtues of this or that prospective nominee and to ridicule or denounce or smear some other rival candidate is the way to win delegates.

The public is generally unfamiliar not only with how delegates are chosen at a national convention but with the part that "grass roots" sentiment truly plays. The psychology of party conventions is not easy to analyze. Yet certain things are clear. They have happened in the past and are likely to happen again.

WHEN, FOR INSTANCE, there is a prevalent sentiment in a party, it is important that no faction shall alienate it. The sentiment may not have a majority behind it, but as long as it is the only organized expression within a party definitely related to certain principles and issues, there is every reason not to attempt to demolish it.

Of all the candidates whose names have been advanced for the Republican nomination, the one who has been most tactful in avoiding antagonism against the other candidates is former Vice President Nixon. He knows something about convention psychology and realizes that, if he is to have a chance himself for the nomination, it will come only by being friendly to all the groups supporting other candidates.

BASICALLY, the one point that has to be recognized in analyzing the Republican situation is that in the number of delegates Senator Barry Goldwater is today in the lead. He already has a large bloc of delegates pledged to him and, in addition, sizable groups who are uncommitted but lean in his direction. By all the rules of politics, he should have his chance at the convention to demonstrate his maximum strength. If in the next eight weeks his opponents gang up on him, by secret coalitions or otherwise, a substantial number of people in the Republican party who believe that Senator Goldwater reflects in a dedicated way the opposition to the Democratic party policies of the last several years will be alienated.

THIS COULD produce a large stay-at-home vote among Republicans on election day. For many of the Goldwater supporters would prefer Lyndon Johnson rather than some Republicans now being boomed for the nomination. To put it another way, if the Republican party is, in effect, to join the opposition with a "me-too" philosophy, instead of making a real fight against what are considered to be today's socialistic trends, not a few of the same Goldwater people would rather continue Lyndon Johnson as president.

North Viet Nam Ruler Tells Us Off

WASHINGTON — Riddle: Who has Fu Manchu whiskers, the mind of a fox, and a near-supernatural genius for survival?

Answer: Ho Chi-Minh, North Viet Nam's 74-year-old "president," a consumptive wraith who is probably the most skillful revolutionary in the Communist world.

Ho, or "Uncle Ho," as he is called among his reluctant admirers in the American intelligence community, has a name for taciturnity to match his frugal contacts with the Western world he hates. For that reason, plus the fact he is running communism's current gun fight with the United States, a fragmentary interview he gave recently is being carefully weighed by Western intelligence agents.

HO'S INTERVIEW was with Wilfred S. Burchett, a windy curiosity who has been a leading apologist for Asian communism since the Korean War. Burchett is never going to take down any prizes for objective reporting, but in the instant case we must assume that he has faithfully and accurately delivered the message that Ho wanted delivered. Briefly it was this:

U. S. threats to carry the war to North Viet Nam are "sheer stupidity";

FRENCH PROPOSALS for the neutralization of Southeast Asia merit consideration, but must be conditional upon ending U. S. aid to South Viet Nam and withdrawal of all U. S. forces;

"Powerful friends" will come to the assistance of the Hanoi government if the war is extended to North Viet Nam.

TO BEGIN WITH, of course, the most ill - informed huckster of doom in Washington has never supposed any large-scale ground action against North Viet Nam. If we clobber them, we'll clobber them by sea and air—and no one on earth knows any better than Ho Chi-Minh that he has no means of stopping us. Indeed, Ho has not been able to prevent the steady accumulation of target information in the ready rooms of the U. S. Seventh Fleet. His infantry is respected by professionals everywhere, but his air capability is a joke. The U-2, to say nothing of A-11, can cruise his skies at will.

THUS HO'S talk of "sheer stupidity" can be dismissed as propaganda gibberish. But what of the "powerful friends" he invokes? He means Red-China, of course, but here again he knows that the Seventh Fleet has made American lakes of the Gulf of Tonkin and the South China Sea. Red China has no protection to offer him, either against strikes launched by the Seventh Fleet or against land-based sorties from Formosa.

What then is the real message Ho entrusted to the leftward-leaning Burchett to deliver to the West? The only thing in the interview that was not dialectic nonsense was the bit supporting the French proposal for neutralization—with the important condition that American withdrawal must be the first step. This condition is one that the wily Ho must certainly deem an impossible one.

HO'S MESSAGE then is one of patient, unyielding intractability. He has set down a formula for continued stalemate in Southeast Asia. A realist, he knows he has no shield against U. S. airpower that could wipe him out in an afternoon. But plainly he feels that the United States has no real intention of embarking on any such adventure on the eve of a national election.

So Ho will wait. The war that is gall and wormwood to the United States is hurting him very little and costing him even less.

Yelling Wolf

CARLSBAD, N. M. (AP) — Grade school teacher Mrs. Glenn Edge smiled tolerantly as pupils, standing by a window, yelled: "Teacher, teacher, your house is on fire."

The Riverside School principal, Harold Bush, entered the classroom a few minutes later to tell Mrs. Edge that her house, a block from the school, really was burning.

Small Contributions Aid Wallace Drive

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Cecil Jackson dumped the 366 letters onto the conference table and said: "This is how the governor is financing his campaign. On small contributions from thousands of people from across the country who believe in his fight. And they're all spontaneous."

"See for yourself," Gov. George C. Wallace's legal advisor continued. "Read the letters if you want to. See where they're from. We don't have any big contributor. The average is from $1 to $15."

Jackson, who keeps things going in the governor's office while Wallace and the others are following the campaign trail, said the donations "have increased noticeably since Wisconsin."

19 STATES

The letters on the table contained cash and checks totaling $2,785, and came from 19 states. Jackson said the total is a little bigger than usual because it was the weekend mail instead of a one-day batch of letters. He said about $2,000 a day would be closer to the average receipts.

Campaign funds don't all come in the mail. Wallace has received thousands of dollars handed to him or brought to his office from virtually every sizeable town in Alabama. Labor union members have been especially active, aiming at a campaign goal of $1 a worker.

Altogether, it adds up to untold thousands of dollars. But, says Jackson, it costs a lot of money to put on a presidential campaign. And it goes out as fast as it comes in.

BORROWED

"We hope to have enough left over," he added wistfully, "to pay back the $2,000 which some of the cabinet members borrowed to get the campaign going when we started in the Wisconsin primary."

Just how much has been contributed to the Wallace fund? How much has been spent? The answers will have to wait for a final accounting, said Jackson. Wallace himself, back home briefly Thursday for a speech at Auburn University, said, "We're spending it as fast as we can get it in order to keep going."

However spontaneous some donations may be, organized fund-raising drives are going on in some parts of the nation, notably in the South.

In the weekend mail were numerous identically printed envelopes.

In other letters were copies of identically worded newspaper ads soliciting funds.

Jackson and Wallace's office had nothing to do with the newspaper ads.

MAURINE NEUBERGER
. . . senator issues protest

Senator Wants To Stop Free Printing Of DAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., said the Oregon senator for one economy the government could make is to cut out printing the annual report of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

But that has been going on for more than 60 years and Mrs. Neuberger's chances of stopping it are rated nearly zero by veteran Senate aides.

Mrs. Neuberger has protested the printing of the DAR report on the ground it has what she considers a long record of "at-the-public expense" to the DAR magazine—the one official publication of the group of Congress."

In reply, Mrs. Robert Duncan, president general of the DAR, thinks some inexplicable reason prevailed against "an organization which she apparently knows only a little."

Mrs. Duncan said in a weekend statement that the senator's speech Thursday was the fourth time in 11 months that Mrs. Neuberger has raised the issue.

Mrs. Duncan added:

"This, even though considerable information material included a complimentary subscription to the DAR magazine—the one tempting to discredit policies of the group the United States and decisions—was provided her following her initial outburst last June. At that time direct offer was made to answer any question. Nothing was forthcoming."

On behalf of the DAR, Mrs. Duncan said, issue is taken "with the statement made to the effect that in the annual report the DAR attempts to discredit the policies of the government and of Congress. A fair appraisal of the DAR record denies such an accusation."

The DAR is one of a number of organizations whose annual reports are printed as Senate or House documents, by law or custom, at taxpayers' expense.

A law enacted in 1931 provided for printing as House documents the proceedings of the national encampments of the Grand Army of the Republic, United Spanish War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Disabled American Veterans.

A 1941 measure added the Military Order of the Purple Heart to the list. Another signed last Dec. 21 by President Johnson added the annual proceedings of the American Veterans of World War II.

A Senate Rules Committee aide said veterans organizations and other groups incorporated by Congress are required by law to submit annual reports to Congress.

Convention Opens

NEW YORK (AP) — The 39th national convention of the American Red Cross opens today, with 5,000 chapter delegates scheduled to attend.

Graduation Date Is Fixed

COLORADO CITY — Graduation exercises for Colorado High School's graduating class have been set for May 28 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The valedictorian of this year's class is Lynn Witten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Witten, 821 East 15th street, with an average of 96.275. The salutatorian is Linda Ross with an average of 96.111. Miss Ross is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Ross, Route 3, Box 34.

Roy E. Bates, with an average of 95.62 is third and the top ranking boy. Others in the top ten include: Aria Jo Payne, Anne Rhode, Mary Ann Lipps, Neta Mae Erwin, Bonnie Sue Crabtree, Bill Boren, and Lana Kay Shurtleff.

Beeman Fisher, Fort Worth, president of the Texas Electric Service Company, will give the commencement address. Fisher will be introduced by Charley Thompson, Colorado City, well-known West Texas banker and ranchman. Warren Costin, president of the schoolboard, will present diplomas to the 59 graduates.

The baccalaureate is set for Sunday at 4 p.m., and will also be held in the high school auditorium. Rev. Darris Egger, pastor of the First Methodist Church, is to be the speaker.

Mrs. Teague Rites Today

Services for Mrs. J. M. Teague Sr., 72, who died Saturday night at her home, were set for 4 p.m. today at Trinity Baptist Church. The Rev. L. J. Powers, pastor, was to officate, assisted by Perry Cotham, minister of the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ. Burial was to be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mrs. Teague was born Aug. 2, 1891 in Bosque County. She was married to J. M. Teague in Cleburne Sept. 7, 1918.

Surviving are the husband; a son, J. M. Teague Jr. and two daughters, Mrs. W. T. Miears and Mrs. G. B. Smith, all of Big Spring; six grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Youth Snatched From Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Two girls, one brandishing a switch-blade knife, raided Elmhurst, Queens, City Hospital and took away a youth being treated for an apparent overdose of barbiturates.

Police said the patient, William Ward, 19, Richmond Hill, Queens, had been found in a stupor Saturday night.

The girls went to the 11th floor of the hospital Sunday and told an attendant they had come for Ward. When the attendant argued, one girl drew a knife.

The girls and Ward left in a car driven by a youth.

Physical Needs Sometimes Precede Spiritual Help

(This is the second of a series of three articles on the Salvation Army in Big Spring during National Salvation Army Week.—Ed.)

One of the fundamental concepts of the Salvation Army is that people often need physical as well as spiritual help, and the former sometimes must precede the latter.

This opens up another prime function of the Salvation Army as a United Fund agency in Big Spring. It is the ministry of family relief. Last year the Army issued 103 food orders to local families in desperate need. It distributed 35,653 articles of clothing, gave 2,174 pairs of shoes, and extended other aid to 1,041.

This — and food and lodging to over 6,000 transients — was accomplished on a cash outlay of $3,308. It's almost as miraculous as the fishes and loaves and could not be accomplished at all without the generous help of Big Spring and area people who give good, usable clothing to the Army.

Each Thursday there is a distribution to applicants. People may not realize it, but factual, up-to-date files are kept on all applicants. Help may sometime include bedding, furniture, etc. (all donated), or in emergencies medicine or treatment (which physicians donate if the Army senses an urgent situation).

Issuance of shoes is done on recommendation of school principals or the visiting teacher in order to help keep children in school.

At Christmas, thanks to gifts by the public, the Army packs big baskets with substantial, wholesome food. Last year these went to 260 families with nearly 1,500 members.

The League of Mercy helps undergird the work. These 10 or more women visit in convalescent homes and hospitals, make favors and other items for distribution on special occasions.

Something which often is more valuable than money or material is family counseling. With skill and patience, officers seek to help people solve problems, some of them critical marital difficulties.

By tradition or pre-emption, the Salvation Army gets most of the cases of destitute or indigent people who have been here less than six months. By default, it also gets most of those over six months too, for governmental aid is limited mainly to surplus foods and some hospitalization.

How is the Salvation Army able to do this on its limited budget? The answer is simple—it isn't able to do it without going in the hole. Cut corners as they may, the Salvation Army and advisory board are faced with a $2,242 deficit against a balance of $136. But somehow people have to come first.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Says Remodeling Of Schools Costly

To The Editor:

There has been much comment about the coming School Improvement Election on May 23, and several have asked what I thought about the proposal. First, I am for school improvements and upgrading the school system and also to get the most for our tax dollars. I am not against the bond program but I am against some proposed ways of spending the bond money and these are the proposed High School improvements, remodeling Runnels Junior High and building a School Administration center.

Specifically I can not see spending 3½ million dollars on the present High School site and have approximately eighteen months of school interrupted by construction taking place all around the existing school. This will take place during the school terms 64-65 and 65-66 and all work is to be completed by Sept. 66. What type of instruction will the students receive during these terms? There should be a place on the ballot for a complete new High School. This school should be located somewhere along FM 700 and where there would be adequate access to the school.

Runnels Junior High should not be remodeled for a Junior High but should be converted entirely to the Administration Center giving adequate facilities and central location. There would be left over space and Special Education facilities could be located here. What happened to Runnels Junior High due to the conversion of these facilities, well they would move East to the present High School where all the requirements of a Junior High exist.

Construction costs are high but remodeling is extremely high in cost and there is certainly a question as to the feasability of adding 3½ million to our present High School when it would make an ideal Junior High. In lieu of waiting till Sept. 66 for the High School it could be ready by Sept. 65 without any interruptions to the curriculum during the school year. Runnels Junior High would not be disturbed and all the required work for a Central School Administration Center could be completed after the above moves.

The proposed elementary school improvements are needed and with proper timing could be completed during the summer months without affecting the school programs.

Everyone Should Support Schools

To the Editor:

I see by the paper that the city fathers are a bit worried about the educational problem in Big Spring and how to raise five million dollars for an educational program to improve opportunities for the students who go to school in Big Spring.

In the first place, education for children is the duty of all the people in this city regardless of whose children they are, or what color, race or creed they belong to. A great majority of parents think or believe that it is the duty of the schools and teachers to educate their children and not the problem of the parents who just bring them into the world.

It is the duty of all the people in Big Spring to help raise the money for a proper educational program. Parents can be of great help to the teacher by seeing that their children do their home work properly, correctly, and find out if the children know what they are studying in school.

More parents should attend P-TA meetings and find out what is going on in the schools, why the children are backward in their learning and what is the cause of it.

Parents must be educated themselves in order to keep pace with their children. A school program is only as good as the parents and citizens of Big Spring make it, and back up.

Designing an education program to fit present school conditions takes more than just model plans for the purpose. It t kes money to put the plans in operation and keep the program on a high level and standards.

We are all taxpayers in one form or another, regardless if we own property or pay rent. We should be interested in education of our children regardless if they are our own or someone else's. Big Spring will only be as good as our educated people can make it.

We keep our homes clean, clean up our dirty alleys, polish our old cars, cut grass, trim trees—therefore it's about time we cleaned up the minds of the children of Big Spring and make it a model city to be proud of and not just a place to live in.

C-City Chapter Names FFA Slate

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The local chapter of Future Farmers elected Jack Long Jr. 16, two-year agriculture student, as chapter president to head a slate of officers for 1964-65. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Long of Rt. 3, Colorado City. Long replaces T. J. Goss III as chapter president.

Other new officers are: Milton Kidd, vice president; Earnest Castillo, secretary; Billy Adams, treasurer; Kenneth Feaster, reporter and W. H. Ezell, sentinel.

Retired AF Major Dies

Funeral for Fredrick S. St. Cyr, 44, a retired Air Force major, is pending in San Angelo. He died unexpectedly at 1:40 a.m. Sunday in Webb AFB hospital. He had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Harold J. Decuir, 4118 Parkway.

Mr. St. Cyr had lived in San Angelo for the past seven years. He retired from the Air Force only 12 days ago.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Olga St. Cyr, San Angelo; one son, Fredrick St. Cyr Jr., Austin; two daughters, Mrs. Harold J. Decuir, Big Spring, and Mrs. Alain P. Briand, Philippine Islands; his mother, Mrs. Miles Upham, Leomister, Mass., one brother, Archie St. Cyr, Fitchburg, Mass., one sister, Mrs. Herbert Progin, Fitchburg, Mass., and three grandchildren.

Lions Launch Lights Sale

Downtown Lions today begin their annual light bulb sales effort to bolster their funds for sight conservation and blind work.

"When Big Spring residents buy these light bulbs," said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, "they have the satisfaction of knowing that they are turning on the light of hope or comfort."

Sales today and Tuesday, and possibly Wednesday, will get underway shortly before 5 p.m. and will continue until near sundown.

An assortment of eight bulbs from 60 to 100 watts is contained in the packages which sell for $2. All net proceeds go to the club's welfare fund.

Choir Boosters Slate Meeting

New officers will be elected by the Big Spring Choir Boosters at a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the high school library. This will be the last meeting for the current school year, and all parents and friends of the high school and both junior high school choirs are urged to attend.

DWI Charges

Two complaints charging DWI second offense have been filed with Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter, it was announced by Gil Jones, district attorney. Bonds in each case were set at $1,000 and the defendants have been released on bail. The complaints name Merrill Johnson, 45, Colorado City, and Virgil Nail, 58, Rt. 3, Snyder.

Services Held For Victim Of Oilfield Mishap

Services for George W. Yeargin, 61, Odessa, who died following a fall from a tank two and a half miles east of Ackerly Thursday, were held at 2 p.m. today at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home Chapel. The Rev. Kenneth Andress, pastor of Westside Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Yeargin had been living in a hotel in Odessa and had been employed by L. R. Crumpton to help dismantle a storage tank. He was on top of a ladder on an 18-foot tank when he fell. A fractured skull and two broken legs resulted.

A daughter survives in Montana, and a sister lives in Sterling, La.

Credit Bureau Aid For Citizen, Businessman

By PAT WASHBURN

"A good credit rating is going to follow you wherever you go. If you leave Big Spring, it will follow as soon as your new address is known. You might say, your credit rating is a measure of your character."

The speaker was Mrs. Ruth Apple who had leaned back from her paper-covered desk at the Big Spring Credit Bureau.

Mrs. Apple is the manager of a firm that has no power to fight bad business (a fact most people don't realize). No legal power, that is—they can still make it tough on any local businessman who tries to make a fast dollar. All that's necessary is a phone call to the police who have the authority to step in where the credit bureau steps out. But most complaints are settled out of court.

SINCE 1950

Mrs. Apple, who's had the job since April, 1950, is the head of a nine-man staff (including her husband who serves as business and collection manager). The main job of the bureau is keeping up-to-date credit ratings on the 125,000 persons listed in the massive gray filing cabinets. The files are referred to constantly for ratings on persons seeking credit with one of the 231 local businesses that pay approximately $5 a month for the service. In April, 2,684 checks were made into the files. In addition, 300-400 long distance phone calls are received each month requesting credit information.

"Big Spring is lucky," Mrs. Apple said recently. "We don't get many complaints because the majority of our merchants are careful in their dealings with the public and aren't shysters. And then, too, most of our firms are old and well-established and realize how much good public relations can mean to their sales. Most of our complaints come from new firms.

REPAIR SERVICE

"We've had more gripes in the last six months, though, than we've had in five years on repair service. A lot of that can be blamed on unskilled and new labor on a job who don't know what they're going and don't bother to check with their bosses. But some of the trouble is caused by people who don't have the money to pay a bill. So they just try to stall off the bill collector by filing a complaint with the bureau."

For persons who evade making payments on time, one of two bureau bill collectors makes a telephone call. The calls average about 25 a day. If the money still isn't paid, the credit bureau can recommend that a firm sue for non-payment.

How good is the local credit bureau? It received an international achievement award in 1963 for its credit reporting and it has been nominated for the honor again this year.

Stalks, Slays Bear In Home

HADLEIGH, England (AP)—Baron Rolf Beck, Czech-born manufacturer, went stalking in his 20-room mansion Sunday night and shot a 200-pound bear that had mauled his wife.

The bear, an Indian sloth, broke loose from its cage in the garden as the baroness was showing it to a weekend visitor and lacerated her legs. Then it ambled off to the house.

Baron Beck found the bear in a hall and pumped six shots into it.

Five Injured In Derailment

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Five persons received minor injuries today in a derailment of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Ambassador passenger train at the nearby community of North Baltimore, the Ohio Highway Patrol said.

All cars of the train, en route to Detroit from Washington, D.C., left the tracks, the patrol said. Two passengers cars and a baggage car overturned.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠A 6 ♡K 5 ◇K 7 3 ♣A K Q 9 8 7
Your right hand opponent opens with one spade. What do you bid?

A.—Double. While the double of one major suit usually invites partner to compete in the other, you have no alternative bid available since the jump overcall is now employed as a preemptive bid. If partner responds with two hearts, you can try two no trump inviting him to go on with a smattering of values.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠A K 10 8 ♡3 ◇A J 9 5 ♣K J 10 4
Your right hand opponent has opened with one spade. What do you bid?

A.—Pass. There is no safe course of action available to you. A double would probably elicit a heart response which could be very embarrassing. A trap pass is recommended and if the opponents proceed incautiously, you may have a subsequent opportunity to lower the ax.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠K Q 5 ♡K Q 5 ◇A K Q J 7 2 ♣8
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ◇	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
3 ◇	Pass	3 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four no trump. This is the type of hand on which a Blackwood call is in order. The limit of the hand is to be decided entirely by the number of partner's aces. In view of his two level response, it is safe to assume that he has at least one.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
♠8 4 3 ◇A 9 8 6 2 ♣A K 8 5 4
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ◇	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	2 NT
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three clubs. It is a cinch we don't like no trump, and some further action is indicated. The most expedient choice is the club rebid for, despite the mild spade fit, a raise in that suit at this level would be far too drastic on this minimum holding.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠Q J 9 3 ♡A K 8 7 5 3 2 ◇Q ♣4
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. With only three spades a heart rebid would be clearly indicated. But holding four of partner's trumps the raise is preferable even with minimum high card values. Your hand will make a very convenient dummy since the heart suit will most likely prove available for discards.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠A Q 10 8 6 3 ♡J ◇A J 8 2 ♣10 4
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Five diamonds. Partner's raise following his opening no trump bid is encouraging and prospects for slam are bright. In fact, if he follows up with another forward going bid, such as five hearts, six spades should prove to be in the bag.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠A 10 8 7 3 ♡A 5 ◇Q 10 9 8 6 ♣4
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ◇	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. You have passed an optional opening bid and drastic action is therefore called for with this splendid fit. The jump shift, even after a previous pass, is forcing for one round and diamond support will be shown at your next turn to call.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠A K 2 ♡K 10 8 6 4 ◇K ♣A K 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 NT	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts is acceptable tho we have a leaning toward a pass of three no trump, as partner's high card values are pretty well marked to be in spades and diamonds. In any event, his failure to indicate substantial strength in hearts puts a marked limit on the offensive possibilities of this hand.

Estes Denies Mexico Visit

ABILENE (AP)—"I haven't been in Mexico—I don't intend to go," Billie Sol Estes said Sunday in denying a report that he crossed the border at El Paso.

The bankrupt West Texas promoter made the statement in an interview with the Abilene Reporter-News after the Houston Chronicle reported in a copyrighted story that Estes, accompanied by two other men, crossed the international bridge into Mexico Saturday.

Estes refused to say whether he had been in El Paso over the weekend.

The two men named by the Houston newspaper as his companions said, however, that he went to El Paso late Friday and returned to Abilene Saturday afternoon. Both denied that Estes crossed the bridge into the Mexican city of Juarez.

Estes is free under $100,000 appeal bond, posted after he was convicted of federal mail fraud charges. The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service has ordered him not to leave this country.

Roy Lassiter of Raymondville told the Abilene newspaper that he accompanied Estes from El Paso to Abilene Saturday afternoon. He said that during their stay in El Paso neither he nor Estes crossed the border.

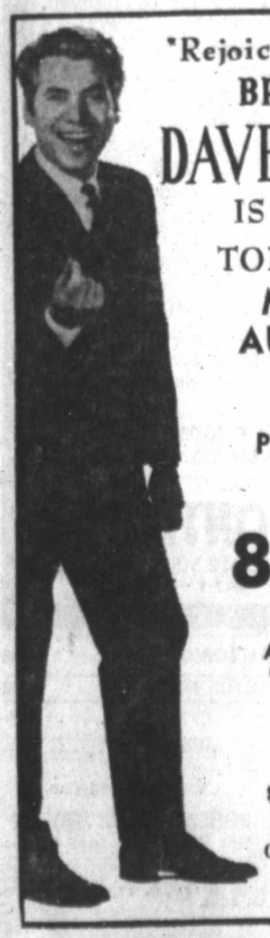

Paul Sloan, operator of an El Paso pawn shop, told the El Paso Times that Estes spent Friday night at his home, where they discussed a business matter.

Sloan said Estes was at the pawn shop, about 100 yards from the international bridge, Saturday afternoon but neither went to Mexico.

Sloan quoted Estes as saying: "I wish I could go across and have a bite to eat but it would be foolish."

The pawn shop owner said he drove Estes and a companion to the El Paso airport and Estes caught a plane for Abilene.
