Miners Start Strike Monday

Lewis Lecture On Economics Gains Support

Dissenters Object On Basis Contract Is Being Violated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9 — The 450,000 members of the United Mine workers start a week-long strike Monday to underscore John L. Lewis' lecture in economics to the nation's coal industry.

Lewis told the industry yesterday it has overproduced badly and the shutdown will help eat into the huge, 52-day supply of coal already mined.

"This period of inaction," he said, "will emphasize a lack of general stability in the industry and the dangers which will accrue therefrom if current harmful practices are not remedied." And he added:

Reaction Varied

"The mineworkers are required again to protect affirmatively the human and property values inherent in the coal mining industry."

Lewis said the strike will be a good thing all around. Some mine owners agreed. An industry source at Pittsburgh said:

"Many coal producers will be glad to see a shutdown. It has been all outgo and little income recently because of supply backlogs."

But there were dissenting opinions:

President J. Atlee Schafer of the American Retail Coal association, attending a convention in Cleveland, said "Lewis is violating terms of the present contract by calling out miners prior to the expiration date."

At Charleston, W. Va., secretary Walter R. Thurmond of the Southern Producers association said there is nothing in the contract to permit what Lewis referred to as a "stabilizing period of inaction."

As for the miners, their reaction was summed up by one UMW member who said: "John L. has always been right for us before, hasn't he?"

The strike comes on the eve of crucial negotiations for a new contract. By reducing the 65,000,000 tons of stocked coal above ground, the walkout will bolster Lewis' bargaining position. It also will make more effective any new "no contract, no work" strike he

Seven Persons Are Claimed In Flames

St. Paul Fire Chief And Aides Killed By Falling Walls; 4 Children Victims

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9—The St. Paul fire chief and two aides were killed early today when they were trapped by a falling brick retaining wall in the Midway industrial district.

The victims were:

Fire Chief Edward Novak, Assistant Chief Frank McMahon, and Harold Barck, a district chief. Bud Walters, a fireman, was taken to Ancker (City) hospital in serious condition.

The wall collapsed after a comparatively minor fire in a waste-paper stockpile had been just about extinguished. The blaze started shortly before midnight at the plant of the Waldorf Paper Products Co., located at the western edge of St. Paul near the Minneapolis city limits.

Novak and his aides were directing the placement of hoselines to quell the last of the fire when the wall fell without warning.

Police said it came down with a crash resembling an explosion. Showers of bricks, sparks and other debris scattered more than 1,000 spectators. Several suffered minor hurts but did not require hospitalization.

Novak and McMahon were dead when firemen tore through the mass of wreckage to them. Barck died in an ambulance on the way

ESPIONAGE TRIAL CONTINUES

Stars Condemn Red Implication By FBI

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A secret report to the FBI naming Frederic March and others of Hollywood as Communists held top billing today in Judith Coplon's espionage trial—and drew condemnation from the people pisted.

The report, which March branded "the most absurd thing I ever heard of," was produced over the vigorous objection of the government.

It said a confidential informant advised the FBI on April 25, 1947, that "Frederic March was a member of the Communist party and has been cooperating for many years."

Suspects Named

According to the report, the same informant—identified only as ND 402—told FBI Agents William J. McCarthy and Daniel F. Garde on July 18, 1947 that:

"Lionel Berman, head of the cultural committee of the Communist party, has been successful in using well-known Hollywood personalities to further Communist party aims, Fredric March being one of the persons who came under his influence. The informant further advised that he was satisfied the subject (March), who is active in the Communist infiltration of the motion picture industry, is a Communist party member along with Edward G. Robinson, Paul Robeson, Dorothy Parker, Donald Ogden Stuart, Ruth McKinney, Alfred Maltz, Alvah Bessie, Dalton Trumbo, Millen Brand and Michael Blankfort."

Another part of the report said: "Confidential informant T-6 ad-

125 Cases Are On File Awaiting Trial

Grand Jury Notes Need For Enlarged Corporation Court

Patent need for enlarged capacities of the corporation court so that the court can expedite disposition of cases in which jury trials are asked was recognized in a Wednesday night grand jury report to 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue.

The report took cognizance, city officials that the new budget will remedy a situation characterized by a municipal court staff not numerically up to a level that will allow prompt trial of cases in which pleas of innocent have been lodged.

When newsmen asked specifically this morning as to conditions referred to in the grand jury report in which pleas of innocent have been entered but which have not been tried.

It was admitted that facilities for trial of those cases are not "at the highest level." But J. Solon Lea, city recorder who is the presiding magistrate of the city court, explained that none of those under trial appearance bond is attempting to rush the hearing of his case. Lea said

Final Okay On Proposal Now Up To Jester

Effective Date Is 90 Days After Solons Adjourn Session

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 9.—A state-wide rent decontrol bill cleared its final legislative hurdle today on approval by the House and was sent to Gov. Beauford Jester.

The lower chamber voted, 86-34, to concur in Senate amendments to the measure which rode out a short but peppery filibuster in the Senate yesterday.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston, weathered a one-man war waged by Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, who talked for more than six hours against the bill.

Not Effective Immediately

The House voted was shy of the 100 votes necessary to put the plan into immediate effect. If signed by the governor, it would become effective 90 days after final adjournment of the 51st session.

The lower chamber rejected a motion by Rep. Jack B. Brooks of Beaumont to reject the bill as passed by the Senate and send it to a conference committee. The vote was 76-30.

The measure, abolishing rent controls throughout the state, gained 25-3 Senate approval last night. It carried an amendment permitting cities to reinstate controls.

The entire action by the House in clearing the Moore bill took less

Death Claims Clark Abbott

PAWHUSKA, Okla., June 9 (AP) Clark W. Abbott, about 53, former manager of the Lindsey theaters in Lubbock, died late Wednesday in the home of a brother.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Saturday at Smith-Kernke Funeral home in Oklahoma City. Burial will be at Davis, Okla., Johnson Funeral home of Pawhuska reported.

Came Here In 1941

Abbott was manager of the local theaters from 1941 until December of 1948, when he retired because of ill health. His death was attributed to a heart attack

After leaving Lubbock in December, he spent the winter in South Texas, but because of continued failing health was admitted to an Oklahoma City hospital six weeks ago. He was released from the hospital ten days ago, at which time he came to Pawhuska to visit his brother.

Prior to moving to Lubbock in 1941, Abbott had resided in Oklahoma.

Survivors include the widow and a brother, Arthur Abbott, Pawhuska theater owner.

More Of Same Predicted By Weather Man

Downpours Damage Wheat And Cotton; Two Trains Halted

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

"More of the same" was the weatherman's dreary outlook this afternoon as the South Plains bobbed back from another night of battering rain, winds of gale force in scattered areas, severe lightning displays and damaging hail.

The downpours damaged wheat and cotton, temporarily isolated some sections and blocked highways at some points.

At least two trains were halted or delayed by water flooding over tracks, at Quitaque and near Canyon.

High Winds Recorded

The Weather bureau station at Municipal airport recorded winds of gale velocity—58 miles an hour in sustained gusts—at the height of the storm between 9:55 and 10:30 p. m.

The rain gauge there measured a total of 2.18 inches during the period between 6 p. m. and 6 a. m. today.

It brought the month's total to 3.24 inches, the year's official total rainfall to 17.52 inches.

Intermittent sprinkles fell over the South Plains late this morning and early this afternoon, but no measurable amount was reported to have fallen at any South Plains point. In Lubbock, today's fall was less than one one-thousandth of an inch, which by Weather bureau standards qualifies it as a "trace."

Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the station, said he looked for continued thundershowers the rest of the week. He emphasized that conditions call for typical thunderstorm activity—scattered and intermittent.

Damage Estimate Hard

At the Lubbock Experiment station east of the city a rain gauge recorded only 1.48 inches of fall during the night.

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the station, said an estimate of crop damage would be very hard to make at this time.

"It all depends on whether the crop is up at this time and how much rain has been received previously," he explained. "If the cotton is up, I don't think it will hurt much except for the delay in getting into the fields. That might give the weeds a head start.

"If the cotton is not up, the washing might have been sufficient to cover the seed up deep, and it might have to be replanted.

Field Work Delayed

"Out at the station here, we have had rain three nights in a row—.82, then .58, and now 1.48 inches. So we are going to be delayed in working out fields."

The localized nature of the storm was indicated by reports received by Frost which showed Abilene received .05, Big Spring a trace, Amarillo .02, Clarendon and Wichita Falls, a trace.

A severe electrical storm struck the Plainview area last night and some wheat was leveled by heavy winds. Cutting operations will be halted until early next week. Scores of combines were moving into the Plainview area. At Silverton, 67 machines were counted.

At Abernathy, the night's rainfall, officially measured by M. O. Hood, government weather observer, at 1.97 inches, was accompanied by three separate hailstorms. The storm did not extend very far north of town, but became progressively heavier south of Abernathy.

"I was milking under a tin roof when the hail was falling," Hood said. "It sounded like the whole barn was going to fall in on me."

At Cleta, six miles south of Can-

THRILLS AND SPILLS PROVIDED

Big Crowd Attends First Rodeo Night

The annual ABC Boys' club rodeo, which opened Wednesday night before 7,000 enthusiastic spectators in Texas Tech's Jones stadium, moves into its second performance tonight.

Starting time is 8 o'clock.

A part of Wednesday night's performance was cancelled because of a chilling rain which fell during the latter part of the program.

But if the events presented before the rain are any indication, local rodeo fans will enjoy plenty of top-flight entertainment before the four-night show closes Saturday.

One of the hits of the show, in addition to the cowboy clowns who came in for their share of the attention, was Ann Hendricks, a member of the famous World's Championship rodeo company brought here for the four-day rodeo, and her horse, "King Richard," billed as the "world's greatest dancing horse."

Dances Make Hit

And dance he did, drawing applause from the spectators for his equine interpretations of the "Carioca," "Spanish Trot," and "Extended Hesitation Waltz," in addition to that famous dance from Hawaii, the hula.

First rodeo event last night following the colorful grand entry, in which some 130 horsemen and horsewomen took part, was the cowboy's bare back riding contest, in which Jim Schumacher, of Phoenix, was winner. Second place winner was Wag Blesing, of Glendale, Calif., and third place went to Harry Tompkins, of Ardmore, Okla.

In the cowboy's calf roping contest, in which split seconds count, Toots Manfield, of Rankin, present world calf roping champion, took top honors with a count of 11.7 seconds, while Lanham Riley, of Fort Worth, came in a close second with 11.9 seconds. B. J. Pierce, of Clovis, N. M., finished in 13.4 seconds.

Lee Roberts, of Roswell, N. M., was winner of the cowboy's saddle bronc riding contest, and second place went to Wag Blesing of Glendale, Calif.

TICKET POLICY ANNOUNCED

Harry Van Horn, ABC-Boys' club rodeo manager, announced today that if the rodeo is rained out any night or if the threat of rain prevents attendance by holders of reserved seats on any given night, their tickets will be accepted for subsequent performances as general admission tickets. Every effort will be made by the ushers to secure as good seats for them in the reserved seat sections. Van Horn said people who attended last night's show and left before the performance ended, may attend tonight's show by presenting their ticket stubs for general admission seats. Likewise the same policy will prevail for tonight and Friday night, he said.

Three Die As Tornado Hits

BELVIDERE, Neb., June 9 (AP)— This southeastern Nebraska village struggled today to recover from the effects of a tornado which killed three and injured seven.

The main part of town was without lights, only one telephone was in operation, the water supply was threatened by the power cut-off and one building was demolished and several others were in shambles.

Hits Without Warning

The tornado struck without warning about suppertime last night. Sweeping down the main street of this village of some 300 persons, it leveled a cafe and dance hall and partly wrecked a bank, the postoffice, a lumber yard, and a locker plant.

The three who were killed were all in the cafe-dance hall, a two-story brick building. They were 11-year-old Orville Belle, jr., son of the operators of the cafe, Dwayne Kilcaid about 22, Marysville, Kas., railroad signalman, and Elmer Polage, 29, Belvidere railroad sectionman.

The eight injured were in the same building when the tornado struck. Five of them were hospitalized at nearby Hebron and two others at Hastings, Neb. None was critically injured.

Two tornadoes were also sighted at Hebron, eight miles south of here. Neither struck the town itself but two farms nearby were damaged. No one was injured.

Two Killed When Jet Burns In Louisiana

SHREVEPORT, La., June 9 (AP) Barksdale Air Force base reported two men were killed when a B-45 jet bomber crashed and burned near here today. A third man was injured.

The base reported the plane crashed and burned near Minden highway, just east of Shreveport and near the Barksdale landing strip.

The plane was attached to the 47th bombardment wing at Barksdale.

Details were not immediately available.

'Little Blockade' Of Berlin Unrelaxed

Soviet Refusal Expected To U. S. Blockade Lift Request

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, June 9—Russia was expected to reject today the request of Secretary of State Acheson that the "little blockade" of Berlin be lifted by Monday.

At the same time western authorities who have been conferring with the Russians in Berlin asserted that an east-west trade agreement—virtually concluded—could go into effect almost immediately were it not for the Berlin rail strike.

The western powers have told the Russians to order the Soviet - controlled railway management to meet the strikers' demands and end the walkout, or there would be no signatures on the trade agreement.

Western officials in Paris saw Acheson's demand as a move to force the Russians to make up their minds over exactly what they want to achieve in the Berlin trade talks and the foreign ministers conference.

Informants in Berlin said the Russians actually desired a trade agreement with the

Mortician Held For Embezzling

BOERNE, Tex., June 9 (U.P.) — Andrew S. Straley, 42-year-old Ohio undertaker, waited in jail today for a Columbus, O., deputy sheriff to return him to face charges of embezzling $89,000.

Straley, portly and partially bald, said he was ready to go home and "face the music." He waived extradition.

He is accused of embezzling the funds from money held in trust for Martin Licking, 53-year-old Invalid veteran of World War I. Straley is Licking's guardian.

Licking's late mother left a $102,000 trust fund for her son. Only $13,000 has been accounted for, Ohio authorities said.

Found In Tourist Hotel

Straley was arrested Tuesday night at a tourist hotel near here. He had registered as "A. Schwartz." In his briefcase, officers found $6,500 in cash and $4,500 in treasury bonds. He had $130 cash on his person.

A Franklin county, O., grand jury indicted Straley for embezzlement four days ago, after he had been missing about a month.

Deputy Sheriff John L. Krauter, who arrested Straley, said the undertaker "verbally admitted" taking some money but did not specify how much.

Krauter said Straley declined any further statement until he talked to his lawyer at Columbus.

All In A Lifetime — Life At Its Lowest Ebb

Gal Scribes Make It Tough For A Man

250-To-1 Odds Just Too Much For Male Reporter To Tackle

BY HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 9 — The ladies of the press—I love 'em, mostly.

They'll thank you for a coke and then turn around and scoop you. Sometimes they'll outrun you an a running story. They'll thumb-tack your ears and rib you when you pull a boner.

I'll take my chances against the gals one or three at a time, but deliver me when the odds are 250 to one. That happened when I was a guest of the Women's National Press club. Another guest was Tallulah Bankhead, the professional actress and amateur politician. Come to think of it, that made it 251 to one, since the deep-voiced mistress of the boards had done a few little pieces for the public prints heself.

Hasn't Changed Much

Anyhow, the only notes I got out of the thing were taken while Miss B. was making a 10-minute speech. My jottings run like this:

"Said she was nervous. Chain smoked while talking, with leading man acting like jack-in-box jumping up to light her cigarettes. She bawled him out. Confessed to weighing 135 pounds when 11 years old. (Hasn't gained much since—Ed.)

"Pulled a few good gags; a lot not so much. Swore a couple of times. Something's happened to her southern accent. Affects Broadway stage talk. Like 'loff' etc. Said she talked back, in a friendly sort of way, to Dr. Kinsey who wrote a 'report.'

"Said some kids think all they have to do to get a midnight tan under the Great White Way, which is Broadway, is to go to drama school. You've got to go out and do it—meaning acting."

Notes Not So Hot

I don't take very good notes, but maybe you get the idea of what she said in her speech.

After that, Tallulah fired another cigarette and took off her specks. She said she was ready for a question and answer period.

I cleared my throat a little and made ready to shoot a good one at her. But as I said, a man doesn't have a chance.

Before a fellow could spell "Bankhead" backwards one of the lovelies asked the lady from Alabama what kind of shampoo she uses. There was a chorus of titters, mostly soprano. Everybody in the room knew that Miss B. is suing a well-known soap outfit, alleging that using her front name in a singing radio jingle was causing her embarrassment.

Nice Side-Step

Tallulah got around that rather nicely by saying she washes her hair with another well-known product, which I shall not mention.

Again, I tried to fire a question. Again I got side-swiped by a lady of the fourth estate who bounced to her feet to ask Tallulah what she thought of Communism. It turned out Talluah didn't think much of it. Would she run for public office and clear up all this awful mess we have in the world, some other feminine voiced asked? She would not. Who would write the speeches? Besides, more fun on the outside, looking in.

The meeting adjourned. Could mere male get close enough to shake the great lady by the hand? Was the man craby enough to fight odds of 250 to one?

No ma'am.

Life Gayer Now In Silver Foxhole Of Western World, Where GI's Once Sought To Forget War

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, June 9—Gay Paree, the "silver foxhole" in wartime, is gayer than ever now—as wide-open as your pocketbook.

It is odd to come back and see it as thronged with tourists as it used to be with soldiers. Your memory misses the color of khaki.

And your mind goes back to the war years when it was known as the perfect foxhole. It was the dream of every soldier to get here. Thousands rolled into town from the front lines in Germany, Belgium and Holland.

They were often unshaven and muddy and a little "punchy" from combat strain and the weary truck ride here. They had only a 72-hour leave—a brief reprieve from danger.

Spent Their Money

They cleaned themselves up and made the most of what time they had. They spent it in different ways. Many went excitement-fishing in Montmartre.

They spent their money, and when it was gone they went back to face death with empty pockets.

But there were many quiet boys starved for something else—beauty and peace. Paris had that, too. She had something for every man in the world. So they drank in her antique beauty on sightseeing trips, went to church, shopped for small gifts of perfume and silk for the folks at home.

These wartime tourists from the front were a kind of living reproach to the natty troops who headquarters here in safety. The tanned and gawky combat men embarrassed them merely by their presence — a reminder that all foxholes in the war weren't silver.

Paris had a strange effect on many combat men. They wheeled into the city—rough, boisterous, laughing a little hysterically. They laughed because they thought that for 72 hours they could forget the war.

But many couldn't. It was in them to the bone by then. In a few hours—or a day and a night—the newness wore off. The exhilaration died down, they were like a country cousin who goes to his Park Avenue relative's cocktail party and finds after a round of cocktails that he is out of place.

Having no one to talk to who really understood them, the combat men ganged up in the Red Cross leave centers and talked to each other. They spoke a language that could be shared only by men who had known hardship and seen friends die.

Worried About Buddies

And as they talked they began to worry about their buddies at the front. They missed the gossip of the battle line, the banter of their own platoon mates. And all at once the silver foxhole tarnished. They wanted to be back with the men who knew them. They were homesick to return to the loneliness they had left behind.

So they climbed back into their trucks, some laughing and eager, some silent, some resentful at Paris and the life they had glimpsed there. And the trucks carried them back again to a comradeship that meant more than the risk of death—the comradeship of men in common danger, welded together by love and fear and dependence upon each other.

These combat pilgrims of wartime were the strangest tourists Paris ever knew. She didn't make them happy, as she has made so many, but it wasn't her fault. There are different worlds in war just as there are in peace. And the happiness of those men wasn't here because their hearts weren't.

If Paris did little for them, they did much for her. With their blood they helped her remain in peace what she was in war—the silver foxhole of the western world.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 306 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Affect Of Atomic Bombardment On Plant Life Will Be Studied

CHICAGO, June 9 (U.P.)—Scientists hope to learn more about plant life from the "atomic" tulips whose bulbs were dunked in an "atom furnace" and planted near Holland, Mich.

In scientific terms, the experiment is designed to determine the effect of neutrons on the growth and development of various plants and plant organs. It also is designed to determine the effectiveness of neutrons in inducing genetical changes in plants.

But according to the Argonne National Laboratory, this is the gist of the experiment in simplier terms:

Dr. Willem Eduard de Mol of Amsterdam, who has been experimenting with the effect of X-rays on tulips for 25 years, shipped 500 tulip bulbs to the laboratory here for use in the experiment.

Put Inside Pile

The bulbs were placed inside an atomic pile similar to the one used in the historic experiment at the University of Chicago which led to development of the atomic bomb.

The Argonne laboratory did not say so, but the bulbs may have been placed in the same pile in which the first sustained nuclear chain reaction occurred.

At any rate, the bulbs were left inside the "atom furnace" for 16 minutes under bombardment by billions of "slow" neutrons travelling at about 6,000 feet per second. Neutrons are particles of the atom which have no electrical charge.

After the irradiation in the pile, the bulbs were planted in Holland, Mich., in time for the Dutch settlement's annual tulip festival.

Changes Can Be Detected

There they are being studied by Dr. Teunis Vergeer, head of Hope College's department of biology.

According to Argonne laboratory, the ancestry of the tulip bulbs has been known since the 17th century, and the appearance of any mutationss, of genetic changes, will be readily "noticeable.

Such mutations would be sudden variations which the offsprings differs from its parents in some well-marked characteristic.

Preliminary data from the experiment indicate that the floral parts of the plant, including the petals, are much more susceptible to injury to slow neutrons than are the leaves, roots and stem.

Argonne laboratory spokesmen say retarded growth has been noted, and that as a result of the atomic dunking the tulips might not bloom until July or August.

Chained Dog Puts Bite On Tax Man

HOUSTON, June 9. (U.P.)—Few people throw out the welcome mat for a tax collector. William O. Sturman ran in more trouble than he could handle.

Sturman went to a residence to serve a warrant for the internal revenue department, and, finding nobody home, started to a garage apartment in the rear to make an inquiry.

He passed a dog. It was chained and he paid it no attention. But that was a mistake. It was a long chain. The dog attacked Sturman, biting him on the leg. In an effort to escape, Sturman became entangled in the chain and fell, breaking his arm.

Church Wedding Is Read For Miss Jones, Mr. Krueger

WICHITA FALLS, June 9—The marriage of Miss Barbara Ann Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Jones, and Julius Thomas Krueger, jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Krueger of 2703 Nineteenth, Lubbock, was solemnized Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the evening at First Methodist church with Dr. Joe Z. Tower officiating.

Large baskets of white gladioli and Marconi daisies banked with woodwardia fern fronds were arranged on the altar space. A multitude of branched candelabra formed an arch in the background. Burning white tapers amid clusters of flowers and white satin ribbon marked the aisle by which the bridal party entered the church.

A program of wedding music was offered by Miss Joya Bullington, organist, and Miss Patsy Cutbirth, soloist, who sang "Until," "O, Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Dress Is Of Satin

Mr. Jones gave his daughter in marriage. She chose a gown of ivory satin romantically designed with a yoke of sheer illusion, a drop shoulder effect which was trimmed with small flowers of Chantilly lace with a seed pearl in the center of each flower. It was fashioned with short sleeves, a fitted bodice and a very full gathered skirt with an applique apron of matching Chantilly lace which fell into a graceful formal train. She wore mitts of ivory satin.

The bride's fingertip veil of pure silk ivory bridal illusion fell from a pill box of matching plaited satin. Her bouquet of stephanotis and a white orchid was arranged in colonial style in a cloud of maline.

Attendants of the bride were her two sisters, Miss Nancy Jones, maid of honor, and Mrs. Robert Timberlake of El Paso, a bridesmaid, and a sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Bobby Layne of Lubbock, bridesmaid. Other bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Hogan of Lubbock, Miss Milly Ann Million, Miss Marilyn McCarty and Miss Geraldine Hunt of Dallas. The maid of honor was gowned in white shadow organdy over white taffeta and the other attendants wore white shadow organdy over yellow taffeta. Their dresses were styled with high necklines, round collars, sashes and bustle backs. Their colonial bouquets were of yellow carnations, pink roses and blue cornflowers surrounded by white maline and showered with white streamers.

Dr. Krueger served as his son's best man. Ushers were Bobby Layne, Richard L. Turner and Penrod Toles all of Lubbock, Bob Miller of Oklahoma City, and Abe Pounds and Bert Scott of Tyler.

Kay Lynn Spruiell of Iowa Park was flower girl. Her dress of white net was made with a ruffled neckline and a full skirt.

Wedding guests were invited to a reception at the Woman's Forum following the ceremony. Parents of the bride and bridegroom, members of the wedding party and Mrs. Harold Story assisted with hospitalities.

A cloth caught at each corner with dainty colonial nosegays covered the bride's table which was arranged with punch bowls on either side, white tapers burning in silver candelabra and a wedding ring cake centered with a bouquet of white roses. Lattice work entwined with greenery provided a background for the refreshment table. Bouquets of yellow carnations and white Marconi daisies were placed at vantage points throughout the rooms.

On Trip To Canada

The couple is on a wedding trip to Canada. For travel the bride is wearing an original suit in palomino color with a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Krueger attended Hardin Junior college and the University of Texas. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Krueger is a graduate of the University and at present is attending Tulane Medical school in New Orleans where the couple will live. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and Phi Chi medical fraternity.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Married And Much In Love, Girl Seeks Aid In Curbing Her Inflammable Jealousy

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am married almost a year. My husband has all the virtues of a good mate and never a day goes by that he doesn't tell me he loves me.

Yet, though we are a perfect match—I am sure of that,—I am troubled by jealousy. If Dave just glances at another girl or mentions how pretty some girl is, I get a terribly jealous feeling inside me, which makes me miserable.

I tell myself it's natural for anybody to remark about a pretty girl, but when Dave does so, I suffer. It preys on my mind and my imagination runs away with me. I try to talk myself out of this reaction, but my attempts to reason with myself don't help.

Please advise me, at once, what attitude to take when my husband remarks how pretty some girl is, and I thank you in advance for any assistance you can give me. Signed G. S.

MAYBE BRIDEGROOM HAS POOR MANNERS

DEAR G. S.: One gets the impression that your husband is often remarking on pretty girls, and if so, it is a habit he should correct,—not that it means he has a roving eye or fickle fancy, necessarily, or that he might me untrustworthy, but because it is an offense against manners. And someone ha.. shrewdly observed that "manners, morals and money" are mighty important to happy marriage.

How do you think Dave would feel if you quite occasionally mentioned to him that this man or that one—met at a party, glimpsed on the street, a next-door neighbor, an office associate—was "terribly good looking" or "has a wonderful physique," or "a certain dash like Clark Gable" and so forth?

Doesn't common sense tell you not to do such a thing, that it would be tactless in the extreme, the worst way in the world to talk to a devoted bridegroom,—a son against "savvy" practically guaranteed to hurt his feelings, mortify his hope of holding your interest, and cause him to clam up in vague disgust at your shallow inventory of the human scene. Of course it does, and I'm sure you've never made that mistake. Then why should he?

IS HER PHILOSOPHY OF MARRIAGE SOUND?

YOU GENEROUSLY argue that it's natural enough for anybody to remark on a pretty girl, to which I say, it may be natural enough, as the usual thing, in a young man still looking for his mate and responding instinctively, with eagle eye, to Old Dame Nature's sales campaign. But it's psychologically inappropriate to a married man, no better suited to his riper status than a changing "now-falsetto-now-bassoo" voice would be.

So take a fresh appraisal of the situation, fortified this time with a more objective discerning attitude, before you conclusively damn yourself as the morbidly jealous wife of a supposedly blameless spouse. Dave may need a summons to grow; and if he is adolescently remarking habitually about pretty girls, tell him with some asperity that you find it disappointing, and ask what he'd think of a wife who was always giving "rave notice" to passing gents.

Also, ask yourself whether your philosophy of marriage is wrongly based. Possibly you think—mistakenly—that sex attraction is the one-and-only binding tie in marriage, or in any and every man-woman attraction. The truth is, admiration or respect and genuine liking—as for a dear friend—are equally (or perhaps a shade more) necessary to sustain marriage. And if Dave holds you in such regard, it's foolish to quake in fear every time he says "pretty!" of another girl. M. H.

Use Of Older People In Jobs Advocated

"More people need jobs longer," Dr. F. L. Mize, professor of management at Texas Tech told the Kiwanis club today.

"Too large a segment of our population is falling into the category of being supported from public funds. This means that fewer people are producing to care for more people each year," Dr. Mize said.

"We need to utilize these people. There is no reason why we should discontinue to hire them as they pass 40 years of age. It is the obligation of society to do so if we are to continue to have a high rate of production," Dr. Mize said.

Fred Sparks presided over the meeting and Louie Moore introduced visiting Kiwanians and guests. They included, Aubrey Gregg, Roswell; Bill Frazier, El Paso; J. H. Gerber, Milwaukee; J. C. Lovelace, Amarillo; Reed Schuler, Amarillo; J. W. Evans, Dallas; Norman Booker, Hobbs; and, Keith Powell, London, Eng.

Small U. S. Aircraft Recovered In Mexico

MERIDA, Mexico, June 9 (AP)—A nine-foot long plane, marked in English "Property of Army Air Forces," was recovered from the sea yesterday by a fishing boat.

A gasoline-powered craft, it was found in the water about two miles off Cozumel island, on the east coast of the Yucatan peninsula.

The plane had a wingspread of only six feet. There was no evidence it carried a pilot. It apparently had been guided by radio.

County Farmers Await Official Word On Wheat Storage Loans

Considerable interest in the government's program to help farmers find grain storage space has been shown by Lubbock county farmers, Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the county Agricultural Conservation association, said today, but farmers will have to wait a while longer for details.

Washington has not officially announced plans on loans for building new permanent storage facilities, he said. AAA offices will handle the loans.

D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, expressed belief that farmers will be ahead if they provide their own storage.

"More Independent"

"They can be more independent in length of time they hold to secure the best price," he said.

More interest has been shown in Lubbock county than the relatively small wheat acreage in the county might appear to warrant.

"More grain sorghums and less cotton may be planted if the cotton control program goes into effect and farmers would have increased need for storage facilities," said Sherrill.

Conservatively estimating, Lubbock county this year has approximately 425,000 acres or about 85 per cent of its acreage in cotton. About 10,000 acres is in wheat, which should average about 20 bushels to the acre, said Sherrill. Around Slide, the wheat crop is lighter than in other county areas.

Outlook Still Good

Sherill said the cotton outlook is still good for Lubbock county, despite heavy rains. Although he had not learned of effects of Wednesday night's rain over the entire county, he said most of the county, with exception of Slaton vicinity and an area south of Idalou, already had a "good stand up" and likely would not be hurt. Even if replanting should be necessary, that still can be done if weather is clear. Most farmers prefer not to replant cotton after June 15 to 20, he said.

All the raw materials used in the making of fine American handmade glass are found in the United States.

Lubbock And Lamesa Are Due To Tangle In A Double Bill

After 36 days in the West Texas-New Mexico League cellar and only two days out in the sunshine, the Clovis Pioneers moved back into the dungeon Wednesday.

They traded the last-rung spot with Pampa as Abilene stayed within one game of the league-leading Albuquerque Dukes and the distance between leaders and the cellar club shortened to 12½ games.

Gold Sox Beat Dukes

The results: Amarillo won over Albuquerque 11 to 9 in a 10-inning setting; Borger beat Clovis 6 to 2 and Abilene bowed to Pampa 6 to 4.

Rain forced postponement of the Lubbock at Lamesa game.

Playing sites remain the same tonight.

Hugh King came out on top of a pitchers' duel in Borger's win over the Clovis Pioneers. An error by Willie Wynns after two were away in the first paved the way for two Clovis runs and cost King a possible shutout.

King let Clovis down with eight scoreless innings. The Gassers were scoreless until the seventh when Gordon Nell smacked out the first of two home runs. Wynns socked a circuit blow in the eighth with Littlejohn aboard.

Three-Run Homer

Manager Jess Landrum's three-run homer in the 10th gave Amarillo its win. Landrum earlier had homered in the bottom of the ninth with the bases loaded to tie the score 6 to 6 and send the game into extra innings. The Dukes came back in the 10th with three runs and Amarillo scored one in its half of the frame before the homer.

Pen-up batting power was unleashed by Pampa in its win over Abilene. Johnny Martin kept the Blue Sox in check with eight scattered hits, never allowing more than one run in an inning.

Stan Surma, Pampa third baseman, led the hitting attack, getting four hits—a double included—in five times at bat.

MYERS VS. ROSSON IS SETUP TONIGHT

LAMESA, June 9. (Special)—It probably will be John Myers (2-4) for Lubbock against Eulis Rosson (3-3) for Lamesa here tonight when the Hubbers and the Loboes meet in a doubleheader to replace last night's washed out contest.

Both Lubbock Manager Jackie Sullivan and Manager Jay Haney were undecided on second game choices. Sullivan indicated that Bill Grafton (2-5) or Cotton Russell (3-2) might hurl the nightcap, wdhile Haney indicated either Leon Hayes (3-3) or himself (3-1) might go to the mound.

Sudden rain coming as Jim Prince of Lubbock stepped into the batter's box in the top of the second inning caused last night's postponement. It also possibly cost Rosson his fourth win of the season.

He had retired the first three Hubbers to face him, while Royce Mills had given up walks to the Mellilo brothers, Hank and Eddie, and a base-clearing double to Glenn Selbo for a 2-0 lead in the first inning.

Marshall Picks Up Half Game In Race

(By The Associated Press)

The Marshall Browns have picked up half a game on the Longview Texans in the tight battle for the lead in the East Texas league baseball race.

Marshall's game at Henderson last night was rained out. Tyler downed Longview, 6-1, third-place Kilgore climbed to within half a game of Longview by beating Paris, 9-3. And fourth-place Gladewater won over Bryan, 14-10.

Tyler's Henry Culp hurled five-hit ball to humble Longview.

Jake Christie held Paris to six hits.

Gladewater rushed across eight runs in the ninth inning to pull one out of the fire against Bryan.

National League home run honors among pitchers belong to Hal Schumacher of the 1934 Giants and Jim Tobin of the 1942 Braves. Both hit six in one season.

Field Of 150 Opens Fire At Brownwood

BROWNWOOD, June 9 (AP)—A field of 150 moves out today in qualifying rounds of the annual West Texas golf tournament.

The linksmen were shooting at spots in the eight flights, including a senior flight for men over 50.

Match play starts tomorrow.

Don Cherry of Odessa, who passed up the National Open for a third try at the West Texas crown, was a top favorite. He recently defeated Billy Maxwell of Abilene, the defending champion here, in the Hobbs, N. M., tournament. Cherry, however, lost to Jack Williams of Plainview in the San Angelo invitation. Williams is an entry here.

Oil Belt Schedule Slightly Changed

A few changes in the Oil Belt Baseball league games have been made, Joe Holmes, president of the league, announced after a meeting in Brownfield Tuesday.

The changes affect the schedule of four games, and dates for the playing of makeup contests have also been made.

On June 12 Tahoka will play at Post; June 19 Denver City will play at Post; July 10 Brownfield is rescheduled at Post; and on August 21 Seagraves is at Post. These are changes in the regular schedule.

On June 21 Denver City will play at Slaton, and Levelland meets Denver City at Denver City on June 26 in the rescheduled games.

The Philadelphia, Cleveland, New York and Boston clubs of the American League each have three California rookies on their rosters.

The 46th men's and 40th women's national indoor tennis championships will be held in New York City March 17 to 26.

Nelson Potter Keeps Boston In Loop Race

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nels Potter, the pitcher Connie Mack "fired" a year ago, is keeping the Boston Braves in the National league pennant race.

Five important wins by the 37-year-old American league castoff put him out front of Ace Johnny Sain in the victory column. If the Braves had lost those five games, they'd be wrestling with Cincinnati for sixth place instead of crowding Brooklyn, a half game out of first place.

It took the Braves 15 innings and four hours and nine minutes to knock off the persistent Reds early this morning, 8-7, and Potter was the man who did the trick.

Single Does Trick

Taking over for Sain who was reached for 13 of Cincy's 21 hits in his 5 2-3 inning stay, Potter worked 9 1-3 relief innings in fine style. Errors by Phil Masi and Al Dark helped the Reds send the game into overtime.

Finally in the 15th after Potter had struck out seven men, the Braves won on Jim Russell's single with the bases loaded.

Brooklyn protected its half game edge on St. Louis and Boston by topping Chicago, 3-1, behind Rex Barney's two-hit pitching. Big Rex, whose early season troubles have put an unexpected burden on other Dodger staffers, finally hit his stride. It was the third complete pitching job by a Brooklyn pitcher and Barney's first route-going performance of the season.

During the three-game win streak, Dodger pitching allowed a total of 12 hits and Barney's six strikeouts made it 27 in the same span.

Cards Still Coming

The St. Louis Cards continued to pressure the Brooks, sweeping their fifth straight and 14th out of 16 by shutting out New York, 2-0. Gerry Staley made his first complete game a fine three-hitter on the heels of Harry Brecheen's five-hit shutout of the Giants Tuesday night.

The Phillies' bonus players did the trick in a 2-0 whitewash of the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates. Stan Hollmig, the former Texas Aggies football star, hit his second homer in two days after Del Ennis walked in the sixth. Robin Roberts, another ex-collegian with a bonus contract, blanked the Bucs with sox hits for his sixth win to three setbacks.

Detroit clipped the New York Yankee's lead to 4½ games by winning an 11-inning American league night game, 3-2, on Tommy Byrne's wildness. Byrne, who gave up 13 bases on balls, walked three in a row in the 11th. Then Vic Wertz, after working the count to 3-2, singled to right field to give Virgil Trucks win No. 8. Trucks allowed only three hits and boosted his league-leading strikeout total to 67 with six additions. Byrne yielded only four singles.

Lemon Comes Back

Bob Lemon, knocked out in the fourth inning Tuesday night, came right back against Washington and pitched Cleveland to an 8-3 victory. Lemon helped boost the Tribe up to the .500 mark again with his first homer of the year.

Philadelphia's Athletics took over third place by drubbing the sliding Chicago White Sox, 5-2. Alex Kellner, Mack's surpassing rookie lefthander, earned his seventh win with a six hitter after a wobbly start. The A's got theirs early off Marino Pieretti but Walt Pierce pitched hitless ball in the last five innings.

After losing 11 straight, the St. Louis Browns ran their win string to three by dumping the Boston Red Sox, 5-2. It was Boston's sixth loss in nine starts on the western swing.

Dick Kryhoski will continue studying at Bergen Junior College, Teaneck, N. J., when he is not playing first base in the Yankee chain.

Midland Takes Over Third In Longhorn

The Midland Indians have taken over third place in the Longhorn league.

Midland copped a bitter 6-5 game over the San Angelo Colts last night in ten innings. A walk with the bases loaded forced in the winning run. The loss dropped San Angelo into fourth place.

First-place Big Spring split a double-header with Roswell. Big Spring won the opener 3-1, while Roswell took the nightcap, 5-4.

Odessa, sparked by the heavy hitting of Rex Pearce, defeated Ballinger, 10-6. Pearce drove in five runs

Bop Spence hurled four-hit ball as Sweetwater shaded Vernon, 2-1.

Bowie Defeats Favored Austin Maroons, 3-2, For State Title

AUSTIN, June 9 (AP)—Bowie of El Paso held the class AA schoolboy baseball championship of Texas today—surprise winner over the highly favored Austin Maroons in the finals.

The fighting youngsters from the far west edged Austin 3-2 in the first Interscholastic league diamond tournament ever held last night to take home the big cup.

Denison Wins Third

Bowie scored an unearned run in the first inning and didn't get a hit until the sixth inning. However, it was a triple by Ernesto Guzman and a fielder's choice and two wild throws later Bowie had its winning margin.

Denison took third place in edging Waco 6-5. Robert Leach pitched a seven-hitter and collected a couple of doubles to drive in two runs. Leach, who had pitched a ten-inning, no-hitter to beat Marshall in the first round, fanned ten.

Austin Jumps Into Big State Top Spot

(By The Associated Press)

The Austin Pioneers have soared a game and a half ahead of the Texarkana Bears in the Big State league baseball race.

Austin walloped the Wichita Falls Spudders last night, 10-2, while the fourth-place Waco Pirates swept a double-header from Texarkana, 4-2 and 10-4. The defeats dropped the Bears out of a tie with Austin for first place.

Temple defeated Gainesville, 9-3. And Sherman-Denison beat Greenville, 4-1.

Austin downed Wichita Falls with an eight-run outburst in the second inning.

Waco won the opener from Texarkana on Skip Baas' three-run homer in the fourth inning.

Temple battered two Gainesville hurlers for 16 hits in defeating the Owls.

Sherman-Denison held Greenville in check with four double plays.

All-Star Softball Tilt Set At Angelo

SAN ANGELO, June 9. (Special)—Pitchers will beon parade here Friday night in the first Texas Softball League East-West All-Star doubleheader.

From all advance indications, it won't be much of a hitting attraction, with both the eastern and western divisions bringing their top hurlers to San Angelo.

Both games will be played in Kiwanis Park with the opener set for 8:15 p. m. Admission will be 50 and 10 cents.

Lubbock Manager Named

Managers of Eastern and Western Division teams of the TSL have selected their squads. Blackie Hilliard, manager of the Western leading Lubbock Bluebonnets, will pilot the West and Bill Hinton, skipper of the leading Howard Payne College team in the Eastern half, will be head man for the East.

G. W. Warden, brilliant moundman of Lubbock who twirled his second consecutive no-hitter against San Angelo's Maurice Shop last week, heads the West staff. His aides are Warren (Stringbean) Pope, who leads the loop in strikeouts with 83; Boyd Reece of San Angelo; Red Denham, the Crane fireballer.

Hurling duties in the East will go to Cullen Cranfill of Mackey Co. at Abilene; Roy Weaks and E. W. Mickler of Stamford; and Jimmy Kight of Brownwood.

East Has Edge

Only basis of comparison of the two divisions comes from two exhibition series involving Stamford. Stamford took a doubleheader from Lubbock early in the season and then last week won three in a row from Crane, 1-0, 3-1, 1-0.

Between them, the hurlers have a total of 16 shutouts and five no-hitters in TSL play. Warden (2), Kight, Pope, and Denham have no-hit games. Warden and Denham lead in shutouts with three each.

The TSL's leading hitter, First Baseman Wally Fowler of Lubbock is expected to be a mainstay for the West. Fowler collected four for six trips last week to boost his average to .428.

Squads Are Announced

The squads:

WEST—Warren Pope, G. W. Warden, Willis James, Wally Fowler, Jimmy Joe Rieger and James Abbott (all of Lubbock); Red Denham, L. E. Weaks, Lefty Wells, Joe Goodwin and David Williams (all of Crane); Boyd Reece, Barnel Malish, R. W. Bowman, Bert Hester and Marvin Nichols (all of San Angelo); and R. T. Stacey of Fort Stockton.

EAST—Jack Davidson Cullen Cranfill, Dee Nutt, Bob Branch, Reginald Beavers, Abe Watley, Charles Morris, Rex Evans and V. T. Smith (all of Abilene); Cotton Portwood, Pat Bailey, Boots Beatty, Roy Weaks and E. W. Mickler (all of Stamford); Bill Hinton, Marcene Cottle, Preston McClesky, Raymond Cowan, Mark Fisher and Jimmy Kight (all of Brownwood).

Snead, Locke And Nelson Are Favored As U.S. Open Starts

CHICAGO, June 9. (AP)—Golf's most coveted prize, the U. S. Open championship, comes up for grabs today with three seasoned campaigners — Sam Snead, Bobby Locke and Byron Nelson—in featured roles.

The sentimental and 6-1 betting favorite is Snead, the magnificent scrambler from West Virginia who already this year has won the Masters and PGA.

Had Atrocious Luck

A triumph in the open—which in the past has been denied him by a string of atrocious luck—would give the colorful 37-year-old White Sulphur Springs tourist a professional sweep comparable with amateur Bobby Jones' grand slaf om 1930.

But Slambang Sam, after a few days of looking over Medinah's treacherous acres, says "Bobby Locke has the game to win this tournament. No man is straighter off the tee and he's a wonderful putter. That's what will win it."

A number of tourney-tough lads who play this sport for groceries give Byron Nelson the "man to beat" tag by the same reasoning.

"From tee to green no man is more accurate than Byron," declared Jimmy Demaret, with a chorus of amens from the side.

Medinah's No. 3 course, scene of the 72-hole medal grind the next three days, is one to test a man's accuracy and his patience.

Trouble Is Waiting

Trouble in the form of closely bunched trees and heavy rough glares down gun-barrel fairways. Tiny, lightning-fast greens offer a poor target for approaches.

The course at its present length is 6,961 yards and will be made to play longer for the later rounds.

Par is an exacting 36-35—71.

A field of 162 amateurs and pros was scheduled to start one 18-hole round at 8 a. m. (EST) today and another tomorrow. The low 60 shooters will go 36 holes Saturday for the championship which the convalescent Ben Hogan couldn't defend.

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

Jumbo Webster Field no longer will hold the distinction of being the only lighted softball field in Lubbock. Although softball diamonds—with lights—have been needed badly in this city for a long time, no one in a position of authority within the governing body has had the tenacity to push through the plan. So the senior class at Texas Tech rallied to the cause and left, as their lasting contribution, a fully lighted diamond on the campus.

It's the custom each year for the graduating class to leave a memorial on the campus. This year the class presented a check for over $1,000 to purchase lights for a softball field. "This is something we have needed badly," Director O. B. Ratliff of Lubbock told Francis Brockman of Carlsbad, N. M., class president. Ratliff might have added that it might serve as an example to Lubbock officials and spur them on, though we doubt it. In matters like athletics, it's much easier to let the college shoulder such loads, while Amarillo, Abilene and other smaller cities are moving ahead of us.

As a matter of fact, the city won't benefit from the lighted diamond at Tech. If you've ever been at the college during the spring afternoons, you've seen each and every softball diamond filled to overflowing. Moreover, other students are waiting their turn to use the diamonds available. The lighted diamond will go a long way toward taking the pressure off the use of the fields during the daytime. The graduating class has made a definite contribution to the athletic department of the college.

From AP columnist Hugh Fullerton comes this piece about the Laredo club of the Rio Grande Valley League, which shows that you don't need an arm chair, major league connections and an inflated bank roll. Mose Simms, general manager, says: "Our president, George Peters, set up and trained the first American Legion team in this section and the rewards are his now. We have five boys that played in the American Legion program. Ray Blanco and Chongo Gonzales are mainstays of the pitching staff. It was no cinch to get them out of Monterrey, Mexico, as they do no speak English and it's very little Spanish I speak. However, with my loud talk, hand and arm waving, plus some good American money, I was able to land them at Nuevo Laredo."

We've often wondered why Lubbock and Texas Tech baseball players of promise had to go elsewhere, why it wouldn't be a good idea to have at least one native on the Hubber squad. Mrs. Sam Rosenthal said that there was a standing invitation to any local player to come out and try out with the Hubbers at any time. Despite this, Bob Marquis never played here. Joe Fortin never did either. And there are others. Bobby Brown, Jim Wilson, Charles Galey and other are picked as great prospects. It wouldn't be a bad idea, if the Hubber management bestirred itself to go farther than extending an open invitation. That is, seek out the boys and talk to them, at the same time asking them to come out and work with the team.

Catherine Raymer, who operates one of the linotype machines in The Morning Avalanche shop, was following the outcome of the Bowie (El Paso) and Austin High school baseball game last night with a lot of interest. She formerly lived in El Paso and was pulling for Bowie to win. She told us that she felt sorry for the Bowie students, since most of them were Mexicans and didn't get the attention that other high school students received. They were always short on equipment and everything else. Despite that, Bowie has a pretty fine athletic reputation and they really got a job done in beating Austin. Biggest laugh was the AP's characterization "a mild upset."

Persons who like to fish for catfish and kids—under 17—will get a break if a bill passed by the state legislature yesterday is signed by the governor. The bill also cuts down on book work, for after Sept. 1, all fishermen have to do is buy a $1.65 license. It will eliminate all special lake and regional licenses. If you are a kid under 17, you don't need a license at all. If you use minnows or crawdads, live bait, you don't need a license to fish in your county. If you use liver (dead bait), you won't need a license in your county or the one adjoining. But if you like flies or plugs, you must have a license. And dead bait includes worms, which have been interpreted as dead once they are hit by a hook. The bill, as passed, was sponsored by sports clubs all over the state.

Semi-Finals Reached In Women's Tourney

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 9 (AP)—Favorite were in the semi-finals today of the Texas women's public links golf tournament.

The tournament medalist, Mrs. Jack Muller of Corpus Christi, was forced into an extra hole to survive in yesterday's third round.

Mrs. Muller climaxed an up-hill battle by catching Mrs. T. E. Knott of Seguin on the 18th hole with a winning par four. Her one-over-par five on the 19th was good enough to win the match.

Mrs. M. W. Morgan of Baytown, 1947 state champion, advanced by eliminating Mrs. G. L. Green of Corpus Christi, 6 and 5, while another favorite, Mrs. C. M. Burns of Corpus Christi, won from Mrs. J. R. Bradford, Dallas, 5 and 4.

Mrs. E. H. Wohlfahrt of Houston blasted Mrs. L. W. Donnelley, also of Houston, 6 and 5, and Miss Beth Gregory of Mercedes had all she could handle in eliminating Mrs. A. R. Hancock of Gladewater, 1-up.

Mrs. Muller and Mrs. Morgan met in today's feature match.

Estes Wins In Wrestle Final

A wrestle royal set the stage for a full night's wrestling at Sled Allen's arena last night, and from the time the opening gong sounded with the six grapplers in the ring there was lots of excitement and rough fighting.

Piling up in the free-for-all were George Curtis, Danny Demcheck, Balk Estes, Bob Cummings, George Bruckman, and George Dusette, and it took eight minutes before the first two men were downed—Bruckman and Curtis.

In the semi-final bout Dusette, the strongman from Boston, tangled with Cummings in a very fast, match, but only after Cummings and Estes engaged in a little out of the ring activities.

Cummings Beats Dusette

Cummings kicked at Estes as he walked by the ring after the wrestle royal, so Estes grabbed him by the leg and pulled him from the ring before they were broken. Estes challenged Cummings to a bout next weekend.

Dusette made short work of the first fall, taking Cummings in two minutes with a full nelson after several holds had been made and broken. But Cummings came back to win the second fall in 15 minutes with a double ankle hold. With the same hold he stopped Dusette in three minutes of the final to take the match.

Estes Wins Battle

The final event was a real battle between Estes and Demcheck, making his first appearance in the local ring. Estes won the first fall when Demcheck was injured in the lower abdomen following an attempt to leap-frog Estes on a body butt. When Demcheck's injuries kept him from the ring for the second fall the match was awarded to Estes.

Before bowing out Demcheck put on a good showing and had Estes ready for the count on several occasions. Estes suffered a bloody nose and a bruised left eye before the end of the match after 28 minutes.

Referee was Steve Menoff.

Violations Of NCAA Code To Be Reported

CHICAGO, June 9. (AP)—A report on member school violations of the National Collegiate Athletic association's controversial sanity code was slated to be given to the group's executive committee today by Clarence P. Houston, of Buff college.

Houston is chairman of the N. C. A. A.'s committee. A spokesman said no list of schools under scrutiny will be disclosed at this meeting.

Offending schools may possibly be expelled from the NCAA and blacklisted on sports scheduled, but action in the matter can not be taken until the complete membership holds its next annual session in New York Jan. 12-14.

FDR's Speeches His Own, Professor Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 9. (U.P.) The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was the primary source of the ideas, the arguments and the language of his addresses, the April issue of The Quarterly Journal of Speech reports.

Although FDR relied on advisers for aid in preparing his speeches, the journal maintains that Roosevelt decided the final phraseology.

The report by Earnest Brandenburg, assistant professor of English at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., was based on a study of 17 addresses on international affairs delivered by FDR between Sept. 3, 1939 and Dec. 7, 1941.

Dallas Eagles' Lead In Texas Loop Is Pared

By HORACE BOREN
Associated Press Staff Writer

If the league-leading Dallas Eagles never see cocky little Procopio Herrera of the San Antonio Missions again in the Texas league baseball race, it'll be too soon.

Herrera, who had already won two victories over the Eagles in two starts this season, took the mound in the eighth inning last night and cooled off a Dallas rally to give the Missions a 7-4 victory.

The loss sliced to a bare half a game Dallas' lead over the second-place Shreveport Sports. The Sports edged Oklahoma City, 8-7, in ten innings.

Tulsa Loses Ground

Third-place Fort Worth defeated last-place Houston, 5-11. And Beaumont won, in ten innings, over Tulsa, 10-9. The win pushed Beaumont into sixth place, ahead of Tulsa.

San Antonio got eleven hits off three Dallas hurlers. The big blow was Ed Levy's fifth homer of the year in the fourth with one on.

Shreveport shaded Oklahoma City when George Brown singled with the bags loaded in the tenth frame.

Fort Worth's Chris Van Cuyk scattered three hits as the Cats won an easy victory over Houston.

Beaumont squeezed past Tulsa when Bill White scored the winning run in the tenth frame on an error by Gino Marionetti.

Regular League Of Boys To Be Formed

The chance for boys ages 12-13 to get in on the ground floor of the American Legion Baseball program in Lubbock is being offered daily at Jumbo Webster field. At 4 p. m. Monday through Friday boys may participate in a supervised baseball program scheduled to continue all summer.

Anyone living in the northern portion of Lubbock, that section north of Broadway, west of Avenue Q, and north of Nineteenth street is eligible for the Jumbo Webster league.

Equipment, balls, bats and catchers uniforms, are furnished by the Legion, but other players should bring their own gloves when they come to practice. At present two instructors are at the field daily to coach the boys who have been coming out for more than a week. The coaches are Ernest Hawkins and Joe Loveless, Hayden Bodenheimer, Bill Mean, and Dan Pursel.

When enough players report to the field daily, a regular league of four teams sponsored by the downtown civic clubs will begin to function and continue through the summer. But more players are needed to get the league running smoothly. Parents with boys in the required age group are urged to bring them out to the diamond if the children are interested.

The other half of the program is working out at Boys club daily, and a large group of boys has turned out. League play started last week.

Henrich Is Big Gun Of Yanks As DiMaggio Nurses His Heel

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 9.—America's No. 1 heel kicked Thomas David Henrich upstairs.

Joe DiMaggio had to be sidelined by the sore spot, where once sprouted the Clipper's bone spur, to put Tom Henrich in the baseball show window with the Yankees.

Henrich's brilliant versatility was over-shadowed by the great DiMag for nine years.

He Batted Third

Old Reliable batted third, and the Big Guy was always coming up behind him.

It takes a Big Man to carry a club.

As remarkable as he was, Lou Gehrig couldn't quite do it.

The New York Americans won only one of their 15 pennants, and that in a war year, without Babe Ruth or DiMaggio.

But with DiMaggio out, now apparently for the campaign, the erstwhile Bronx Bombers, seemingly suffering from the shorts elsewhere, too, turned to Henrich, their elder statesman. And the Massillon Mauler accepted the assignment gracefully. The shoes were not too big for him.

"That Henrich," said an American League manager. "Practically every time you look up he's doing a Frank Merriwell."

Down His Alley

One of the top clutch hitters, dropping down into the clean-up slot was right down Henrich's alley. It thrust him into more pay-off stations. Instead of being on base, having kept the attack rolling, he more frequently is in position to bat in others.

Henrich is one of the cleverer hitters, and his new role gives the customers more chance to study the variety of things he does so superlatively.

Henrich, 33 now, has been a

HENRICH

vastly improved hitter the past two campaigns.

Batting .308, and pasting home an even 100 runs, he led the league in total number of extra base hits in 1948, and has a fine collection this trip batting .316.

In addition to packing the power of an extraordinary left-hand pull hitter, who isn't annoyed by left-hand pitching, Henrich places hits, hits and runs and whatnot.

In Outfield

With DiMaggio and Keller, and then Lindell, hors de combat, it was extremely fortunate for the Yanks that young Kryhoski and Phillips came along to play first base. Otherwise, Henrich would have had to return there, at a time when his presence was sorely needed to steady the outfield.

And why weaken right field when you have the best man in the business there?

A center fielder has to cover a wider range, that's true, but the right fielder is also extremely important defensively. In some parks, he has to know more about handling rebounds. He has to make the throw to third base. And in the case of the left-handed Henrich, his strong throwing arm guards the right field foul line. He is in position to throw to the base ahead of the runner when he gets the ball. And no outfielder traps a ball any better.

Given time to cencentrate on his hitting in his natural position in the outfield, Tom Henrich takes on added stature with Joe DiMaggia a spectator.

TILDEN TRIO

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Chicoga's Tilden Tech high school will be prominent in Notre Dame football this fall. Bill Gay, one of the heroes of last year's 14-14 Southern California tie, is expected to play left half. Mike Swistowicz figures as the first string fullback and Ralph McGehee has a good chance to win a starting tackle position. All three are Tilden grads.

Jake Kelleher, Boston U's football and coach, led the nation's pass receivers in 1942 at Columbia when he caught 28 of Paul Governali's passes for 450 yards.

Miners Are Split, Operators Philosophical Over Shutdown

PITTSBURGH, June 9 (AP) — John L. Lewis' order for a one-week coal mine shutdown starting Monday produced a mixed reaction among the miners themselves but the operators adopted a philosophical attitude.

Simple economics provided the prime cause for the operators' frame of mind. One source explained it this way:

"Many coal producers will be glad to see a shutdown. It has been all outgo and little income recently because of supply backlogs."

Many members of Lewis' United Mine Workers union expressed the opinion that the work stoppage would be carried out without a hitch as Lewis orders have been in the past.

Some Miners Approve...

In Muse, Pa., western Pennsylvania hometown of Andy Seminick, Philadelphia Phils catcher, and rookie third baseman Eddie Kazak of the St. Louis Cards, a majority of soft coal diggers shrugged off question and asked:

"What else would you expect us to do but walk out? John L. Lewis has always been right for us before, hasn't he? Let's talk about baseball."

At "Doc's Tavern" in Bridgeville, Pa., 37-year-old John Stanson was the spokesman for a gathering of bituminous miners.

"We'll go out," said Stanson. "John L. is first, last and always in my book."

Not all miners felt that way, however.

Joe Yurchick, who is welfare secretary of the UMW local at Portage, Pa., declared "I don't like it and I'm sure a lot of others don't either."

"Unexpected vacations would be alright if a man doesn't have any children. But a family man can't take much more of it."

"Lewis didn't give me much notice this time," said Steve Chernicky, a soft coal digger at Spangler, Pa. "I hope it won't be a long layoff."

And a burly miner who declined use of his name had this to say:

"Sure we'll go out, but it will be tough, especially with the mine vacation (June 25 to July 5) so near. I don't think there's much danger of the walkout being extended. The boys aren't so cocky any more. Things are tightening up."

Operators Not Surprised

The shutdown order came as no surprise to most operators, who took it as a part of Lewis' strategy to bolster his position in wage contract talks. There was even a bit of humor injected into the picture as one operator asked "What's he calling it this time?"

Lewis, in announcing the shutdown in Washington yesterday, termed it a "brief stabilizing period of inaction."

"I guess," commented a Kentucky operator spokesman, "that is as good a name as any."

The walkout will be the industry's 20th major shutdown in the last 30 years. Approximately 475,000 hard and soft coal miners are expected to remain idle under Lewis' order.

A work stoppage last March—which exempted 32,000 United Mine Workers west of the Mississippi because of severe winter conditions—brought furloughs to more than 69,000 railroad workers throughout the nation.

Southerner Thinks It's Winter Here

Howard P. Pritchett, city employe of Lubbock route 6, planned quite a reunion with a Pascagoula, Miss., sister he had not seen in 35 years.

But when he and Harmon F. McLarty, another city employe of 1011 Seventeenth, reached Mississippi on a vacation trip they found the sister, Mrs. Lillie Taylor, had been injured in a car collision and was in a hospital.

Pritchett decided his sister needed to recuperate in the "high country with the cool nights," so Mrs. Taylor returned with her brother for a visit the remainder of the summer.

"She thinks it's winter time here," he said, grinning.

Prison Farm Escapee Found Near Freeport

FREEPORT, Tex., June 9 (UP)—Highway patrolmen captured an escaped negro convict near here early today after trailing him over south Texas roads for 12 hours.

The escapee, Charley Evans, slipped away from Clemens farm, Brazoria county, yesterday afternoon. State prison officials said he was working at a warehouse and around the barns.

A posse with the bloodhounds failed to locate the man, and the state highway patrol was alerted.

Evans is serving a life term for burglary and previous convictions from Tarrant county. He was admitted to Clemens farm Feb. 25, 1949.

vised in December 1947 that Fredric March and Canada Lee were two outstanding Communist fellow travelers connected with the Institute for Democratic Education, Inc. . . . Along with Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston university; Clyde R. Miller, a professor in the teachers' college of Columbia university, and Norman Corwin of the Columbia Broadcasting System."

There was nothing in the report to indicate who the informants were, beyond the symbols used. Nor was there anything to indicate how reliable they were or how much credence the FBI placed in what they said.

Knowing Russians Favored

In labeling the report on him most absurd, March said that "goes for me and my wife, too." His wife, Actress Florence Eldridge March, was named along with him as having had "Communist front activities and pro-Russian contacts."

Comment from those whose names were listed included denials, criticism and amazement.

Actor Edward G. Robinson said he had never been "even remotely connected" with the Communist party and never played a role "that is so grand as that of an American citizen."

Paul Robeson, the negro singer, was in Moscow giving a concert.

Dorothy Parker, writer, said "this makes me very sick. I'm damn glad to be an American and always have been. I regret to say I know no Russians, but I wish I did. Maybe it would help understanding if we all knew some Russians."

The FBI papers are part of the evidence in the trial of Miss Coplon, 28, on charges of pilfering secrets from the Justice department with reason to believe the information would be used to aid Russia.

Give Cities Right

Moore told the House briefly that Senate amendments would give cities "the right to establish housing authorities on a vote of the city council and approval by the governor."

Brooks, opposing Moore's motion, said the bill as returned by the Senate, lacked the "local government feature."

The Beaumont legislator unsuccessfully proposed an amendment to the measure when it was before the House earlier this session to give the power to decontrol entirely to the city governments.

Under present law, passed by the 81st Congress, local governments have the power to decontrol after deciding that a housing shortage does not exist in their community.

BILLS ARE PASSED

AUSTIN, June 9 (AP) — A proposed constitutional change to allow trial of lunacy cases without a jury was approved by the Senate today. Under the constitution now lunacy cases must be tried by a jury. The change would permit a waiver of such trial by jury.

The House passed finally 46 local and uncontested bills including 21 that go to the governor. One of these would make it unlawful for spectators or officials at sports events to throw pop bottles or rocks at each other or at the players. It goes to the governor. Another would make it illegal to operate a motor boat while under the influence of liquor. This bill must return to the Senate.

Burglaries Are Said Cleared

Four burglaries in Lubbock and elsewhere on the South Plains, and one forgery, were believed cleared Wednesday by the arrest at Floydada of Jack Tillory, 34-year-old Dallas man, the sheriff's department announced.

Tillory had signed statements admitting the forgery and one burglary each at Lubbock and Lamesa. He had also told officers that he was involved in a burglary at Muleshoe, and tools found in his possession at the time of arrest had been identified by another Lubbock victim.

A 99th district grand jury, which reported late last night to Judge G. V. Pardue, returned two bills of indictment against Tillory, charging forgery and burglary here.

Tools Found At Floydada

The burglary indictment charged that Tillory had broken into a tool shed late in May at 3600-block Thirty-first, and had removed two shoulder boxes of carpenter tools. One of the sets of tools belonged to Jewel White of Shallowater, the other to Ollie Calloway of 609 Ave. L. The defendant had admitted in a signed statement that he committed the burglary.

The tools were later recovered at Floydada and returned to their owners. Tillory's arrest yesterday followed an attempt to sell additional tools at the same place in Floydada—tools believed taken in a burglary Tuesday night at Lamesa. The suspect also had signed statements admitting the Lamesa job

Lamesa Church Entered

Four electric saws, an electric drill and a box of smaller tools were taken from a church under construction in north Lamesa. A lock had been forced on the door. Dawson county officers are expected to arrive here today to question the suspect further.

Although he did not make a signed statement to the facts in the case, Tillory allegedly told Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank that he had entered a tool shed at the American Legion building at Muleshoe, taking a box of carpenter tools and a skill saw. The saw was recovered at Floydada. Muleshoe authorities also indicated late yesterday that they wish to question the suspect.

Tools Identified

Two tool boxes, valued at $125 each, were taken in a Tuesday night burglary of a tool shed at 2703 Forty-first. C. C. Woody, owner of one of the sets of carpenter tools, said last night that tools recovered when Tillory was arrested were those taken in the burglary. C. R. Shearer, owner of the other set, will appear today to seek identification of his property.

The forgery, charged in the grand jury indictment, was that of a $17.92 check drawn on the Lubbock National bank and signed "C. H. Tisdel." Tillory, who admitted in a statement to officers that he had written the check, said he had passed it at a Lubbock grocery store.

The suspect, who said the car he was driving had been stolen at Dallas, has a long criminal record. Records at the sheriff's office show he was sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary in 1934 after a conviction on a theft charge. In 1939 he was sentenced to serve two two-year sentences in the penitentiary on a conviction of burglary. The sentences were to run concurrently.

Negro Is Arrested

James Taylor, of Apartment 4, Compress apartments, told city police that a 17-jewel, yellow gold pocket watch valued at $67.95 had been stolen from his residence Wednesday morning.

Later Wednesday, police arrested a 20-year-old negro who admitted taking the watch, and took officers to his home where the watch was recovered. Charges will be filed this morning against the negro, police reports indicated. The arrest was made by Homer Harrison and Pete Hubbard, police patrolmen.

Coal Strike

might call in July. The present industry agreement expires June 30.

Other likely by-products are (1) a sharp drop in the chances for repeal of the labor-hated Taft-Hartley law, and (2) a subsequent widening of the rift between Lewis and fellow labor leaders Philip Murray of the CIO and William Green of the AFL.

The UMW chief had accused them of a "foul betrayal of labor" in agreeing to Senate amendments to the administration Taft-Hartley repeal bill. Murray retorted by calling Lewis a "rule-or-ruin union official" and Green declared that Lewis' statement had put him "in a class with Senator Taft," the Ohio Republican who helped write Taft-Hartley.

Negotiations for a new coal contract have been listless and, to date, fruitless.

Bargaining sessions with southern producers at Bluefield, W. Va., broke up yesterday with both sides calling names. Lewis is due to start separate contract talks with the U. S. Steel Corp. for its mines at Philadelphia next Monday, the day his strike begins.

The big contract stumbling block so far is this: Lewis wants more money for his $100,000,000-a-year union welfare fund—possibly through a boost of as much as 100 per cent in the 20-cents-a-ton production royalty. Operators want the royalty reduced if possible, and payments out of the fund trimmed.

There also are arguments over continuing (a) the present contract's union shop clause which requires all miners to belong to Lewis' union and (b) the provision saying the miners must work only when "able and willing."

Little coal will be mined for some time. Next week's stoppage is to end June 20 but the miners start their annual vacation June 25. The vacation period ends July 5—if there is a new contract to work under.

District Grand Jury Returns Indictments

Eighteen bills of indictment were returned by a 99th district grand jury which reported to Judge G. V. Pardue at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday. George Langford was foreman.

The indictments included two murder charges, one assault with intent to murder charge, one burglary, four forgeries, two cases of removing mortgaged property out of the state, one theft by bailee charge, one charge of swindling, one second offense drunk driving, and five desertion cases.

Eight of those named in indictments, one having been named on two counts, were in custody or had posted bond, the sheriff's department said.

The indictments were as follows: Seab Lee, 45, a negro of Lubbock, charged with murder by stabbing of his wife, Nell Lee; Juan Ysasaga, 21, of Lubbock route 6, murder by shooting of Benito Perales, jr., at a Mexican dance at Slaton; Bartolo Esparzo, 19, of Slaton, assault with intent to murder; Jack Tillory, 34, of Dallas, burglary and forgery; I. L. Stockton, forgery; Anestasio Alegria, 27 of Lubbock, removal of mortgaged property out of the state; Travis C. Fugate, 29, of Lubbock, second offense drunk driving; and Leonard C. Bogard, 24, of Lubbock, wife desertion.

Police Court

the court can arrange trial of any of the cases within a maximum of 10 days "provided the attorney for the defense and that for the city find dates when each is free from appearance in this or some other court. That is the same problem in getting a case to trial in any court."

Conditions, it is well known to the public, became so congested that hundreds of old traffic tickets were disposed of—thrown away—at the first of the year. That action was in recognition of the virtual impossibility of ever "catching up." Since that time there has been an effort to collect on tickets issued in 1948, but in connection with which there had been no appearances for purpose of entering pleas. "Quite a volume" of those cases has been cleaned up, it was announced. The press was accredited with assistance in the drive by its publishing of notices.

But the corporation court can try an average of only one case a day, since the recorder has a multiplicity of duties other than hearing evidence in jury cases. So the department may "get behind" again, even farther behind than at present, unless the city commission follows the grand jury recommendation and provides more facilities for handling the problem, it is conceded.

Cases untried almost exclusively charge traffic, vagrancy and drunkenness, offenses, records disclosed.

Every case not eventually tried is potentially either lost revenue to the city in terms of fines assessed upon conviction, or a basis for discrimination against persons who go into court and plead guilty and pay fines in similar charges.

"Quite a percentage" of the cases in which bonds have been posted was never intended for jury trial, Lea explained.

"Persons find it expedient, just as may be noticed at times in courts of concurrent of higher jurisdiction, to post a bond on a plea of innocent. That allows them to keep out of jail so that they can work and make enough money to go back into court, change their plea to guilty and pay the fine assessed," Lea said one man paid two fines this morning under a similar change of plea. He told the court he had planned to do so all along.

Where a lawyer is employed to represent a defendant in the corporation court the defendant goes to trial when an appearance day can be found mutually convenient to lawyers on both sides and to the court. Occasionally a defendant elects to represent himself. His lack of familiarity with court procedure slows the process of going to trial to some extent. There have been instances of the city prosecutor's coaching of the defendant, under permission of the court, where it appeared the defendant not only did not understand how to proceed, but where he was about to prejudice his case before a jury because of his lack of judicial procedure.

The police said they would welcome whatever revamping city officials decide upon if it will facilitates the disposition of cases coming before the corporation court.

They openly have recognized their inadequacy to cope with the situation at times.

Pigs Reported Stolen From Armour Firm

Theft of two black and white Poland-China hogs weighing approximately 130 pounds each was reported today from the Ave. A hog pens of Armour & Co., city police said.

The sheriff's office investigated an earlier report that two dresses had been stolen from Glassman's department store at 813 Broadway. Suspects were described.

Thirty-five Mexican nationals who entered this country illegally were removed from the county jail by immigration border patrolmen and started on their return to Mexico.

Police Wreck Plans For A Cheap Home

DALLAS, June 9 (AP)—It really was a low-cost housing project.

The builder had almost completed his five-room bungalow—at a cost of only $165.

Police wrecked his building plans yesterday.

His secret: materials for the house had been stolen.

Congress Fund Bills In House

WASHINGTON, June 9. (AP)—Two bills appropriating money for Congress itself came up for expected House approval today amid some pleas that "economy should begin at home."

One bill carries funds for the operation of Congress and its related activities for the fiscal year starting July 1. Its out-of-the-ordinary items include new carpets for House members and new swivel chairs and refrigerators for Senators.

Passed Without Debate

The $62,200,705 total is $686,114 more than Congress had for its activities this year but $11,697,479 less than budget estimates for the new year. However, $10,000,000 of the budget cut represents failure of the House appropriations committee to include that amount for a new Senate office building. The committee said the Senate should make the decision on that when the bill gets there.

The other bill provides for extra clerk hire and a $500 communications expense account annually for House members. The extra clerk hire would amount to $3,000 for each member.

The bill slid through the House without debate last month and without an opposing vote during sparse attendance. Several members complained later that they weren't notified that the bill was coming up. Had they been tipped off, they said, they would have objected and thereby blocked action.

Rodeo Program

the show was cancelled. Hank Mills, of Pueblo, Colo., placed first. His time was 8.5 seconds. Other runner-ups were Lee Roberts, of Roswell, N. M., 11.7 seconds; Bill McGuire, of Phoenix, 13 seconds; and Jack Favor, of Arlington, Tex., 35.

Interspersing the cowboy events were a number of specialty acts, including comedy acrobatic trick roping by Jack and Bobbie Knapp, which drew much applause; an exhibition of Roman riding and jumping by the "Flying Twins," Byron and Lee Hendricks; and the Lightning C Horseback Quadrille, led and directed by Everett E. Colburn, managing director of the professional rodeo company.

No rodeo performers were seriously injured last night. Vic Montgomery of Ozona received a bad fall while roping his calf in the calf roping contest. After preliminary examination and treatment by a physician, he was on his feet again within a few minutes.

The eighth annual Boys' club rodeo was officially opened last night with a brief speech of welcome and appreciation by A. B. Watkins, past president of the American Business club, sponsor of the rodeo, who said that "a tremendous amount of work has been done to bring you tops in rodeo entertainment."

He expressed his appreciation to the Lubbock Lions club; to the Will Rogers Range Riders of Amarillo, who were here to participate in the parade Wednesday afternoon, and in last night's rodeo; to the Lubbock County Sheriff's Posse, who also participated; to Lubbock businessmen; to Texas Tech for the use of Jones stadium; and to "the many organizations and individuals who have made possible this show and its success."

At the grand entry, rodeo officials and outstanding guests were introduced, including Shelley Furr of Lubbock, 1949 rodeo queen; Jack Favor and Bill McGuire, rodeo judges; Delbert Dalby of Amarillo, president of the Will Rogers Range Riders; Bud Brady, of the Lubbock County Sheriff's Posse; and Everett E. Colburn, managing director of the World's Championship rodeo.

Other contestants in the calf roping event and their respective times of completion were: Jess Slaughter, 16.2; Jack Skipworth, 19.1; Shoat Webster, 16.2; Clark McEntire, 22; Willis Brock, 15.5; Billy Kirk, 28.3; Rex Beck, 17.9; Polly Rushing, 34.1; Troy Fort, 18.2; Bill Boman, 23.6; Tater Decker, 16.5.

Other rodeo events, which were not presented last night, but will be included in tonight's performance, include a comedy team, the Moore Family and Beeswax; exhibitions of cowgirls' trick and fancy riding; and cowboys' bull riding contest.

Rail Traffic Halted During Rodeo Parade

Police this morning expressed their appreciation to officials of the Santa Fe Railway company for suspension of all switching and other rail traffic over the Ave. A crossing at near Fifteenth for duration of Wednesday's ABC rodeo parade.

"Some of the visiting Sheriff's Posse members from out of town didn't want to ride their horses through the underpass between the fairgrounds and the downtown business area," Capt. Bill Lamb explained. "They were afraid somebody might be hurt in case a train should pass overhead or a horse act up for some other cause in the narrow pass. So we were faced with a necessity of changing the parade route at the last minute."

Lamb called Santa Fe officials, who soon called back and said they would stop all traffic at the crossing. They did so for approximately a half-hour—until the last of the procession had passed.

Area Weather

yon, a Santa Fe train was delayed when approximately 100 yards of track became submerged after a local thundershower. A crew had to patrol the track before the train continued over it.

Levelland received 1.30 inches, according to measurement made by Edgar Brasch, partner in Brasch-Mitchell Hardware company which maintains a rain gauge.

Brasch said there was no hail accompanying the storm, which occurred between 2 and 4 a. m.

Matador has received over two inches of rain in the 30 hours ending at mid-morning, said Mrs. Douglas Meador. There was some hail, she added.

A heavy rain near Quitaque washed out the Fort Worth and Denver City track between that city and Turkey Wednesday afternoon, temporarily stranding the FWDC train No. 101 in Childress at 7:30 p. m.

Cotton Washed Out

Mrs. W. R. Scott of the Quitaque Post said rains from Tuesday night to Wednesday at 6 p. m. total 4.80 inches, and most of the cotton had been washed out and damage to wheat was likely.

Olton reported more than three inches of rain and hail that "covered the ground like a white blanket; Muleshoe, "bad hailstorm about 6:30 p. m. with stones the size of "guinea eggs."

Hale Center reported an inch and a half; Lockney one inch and hail Wednesday afternoon and night; Crosbyton, estimated one-inch fall.

At Morton, Mrs. Ann England of the Morton Tribune, said an inch and a half fell beginning about 10 p. m. There was a small amount of hail, and high winds preceded the downpour.

Roads Under Water

W. B. Smith, jr., editor of the Olton Enterprise, said most roads in his area were under water. Main highways to Hale Center and Plainview were temporarily flooded. Highways were blocked near Olton, a train was stranded near Quitaque and Olton and Muleshoe were hit hard by hail.

Ralls received heavy rains intermittently through the night. Percy B. Ralls, longtime weather observer there, was out of town, but a rain gauge maintained by Ike Moore showed a 1.85-inch fall, and another gauge operated by C. W. Mann, manager of the Ralls Chamber of Commerce, measured 2.45 inches.

A. L. Winfrey said he had heard of no damage in Ralls. Strong winds apparently caused no damage to buildings, but the city was generally worried about possible effects to the young cotton crops.

Storm Activity Reported

Elsewhere over the state storm activity was reported also.

Rain in the Electra area delayed a cleanup of the North Texas wheat harvest there, already 95 per cent complete, the Associated Press reported.

At Amarillo, Potter county Farm Agent Art Brallye said early Panhandle wheat is endangered from too much moisture and cloudy, damp weather. Ripening has been retarded. The harvest will be delayed.

But the wet season was benefitting ranchers in the Panhandle. Bralley said range grass near Amarillo was exceptionally lush this year.

Rain fell this morning at Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Galveston, Houston, Wichita Falls, San Antonio, San Angelo, Childress, Brownsville and Palacios.

The Weather bureau at Dallas gave this rainfall totals for the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. today:

San Antonio, 2.76 inches; Houston, 1.74; Beaumont, 1.74; Laredo, 1.63; Childress, 1.42; Abilene, .05; Austin, .14; Corpus Christi, .80; Del Rio, .52; Ozona, .46; Alice, .37; Victoria, .44; Junction, .90; Dalhart, .05; and Galveston, .02.

Trees, signs and fences were blown down and at the Laredo airport a plane was overturned.

west and were using the foreign ministers conference in Paris as a smoke screen to hide their eagerness.

One high American official said the Russians, in his opinion, never intended to reach a political agreement in Paris and the meeting they really were interested in was not in Paris but in Berlin.

These Berlin sources believed that as soon as the trade pact is concluded the true Soviet position at Paris would be disclosed. They think the Soviet position will be disagreement on political questions with a proposal that the four powers keep the door open for future conversations.

Western officials in Paris believed it was certain that Soviet Foreign Ministers Andrei Vishinsky would not accept the five-day deadline set by Acheson for an end to the Berlin tie-up.

Acheson proposed that the Berlin commanders, who are meeting on the rail strike, report by June 13. He indicated that if they did not reach agreement by then the foreign ministers would have to tackle the problem.

Lynn Wildcat Reports Stain

Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Williams, central Lynn county wildcat, four and one-half miles southwest of Tahoka, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 2, block 8, EL&RR survey, logged slight oil stains in the Spraberry sandy lime between 7,049-82 feet.

Operator was running a drillstem test to check quantity of petroleum in that interval.

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Lindly, central-south Lynn county prospector, one mile north of O'Donnell, and 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 47, block 8, EL&RR survey, had reached 10,422 feet in an unidentified lime and chert. This project started out under a contract to dig to 11,500 feet unless it developed commercial production at a higher point.

Sinclair Test Planned

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Williams, Northwest Scurry county discovery, 11 miles northwest of Gail, is running a string of 7-inch casing, preparatory to starting production tests.

The project is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, EL&RR survey, T-6-N. It is bottomed at 10,035 feet in a dolomite thought by observers to be Ellenberger.

Top of that formation has been picked at various points between 9,946 feet and 10,000 feet. That has been no official call on the top of that formation.

It is expected that the casing will be cemented on bottom and exploration will be tested from the bottom upyard, through perforations.

Indications Good

The well has shown good indications of producing in several zones between 9,830 feet and 10,000 feet. The best show was the interval at 9,945-10,000 feet which flowed 20.75 barrels of oil in 30 minutes. After the flow operator recovered 1,300 feet of salt water in the drill pipe.

The formations between 9,830 feet and 9,928 feet developed several thousand feet of free oil on drillstem tests, and some was headed out while the tester was being pulled. No water was developed in that section.

The well is expected to be completed shortly as a good producer.

Further exploration of the northwest Gaines county Devonian developed more water at Pacific Western Oil Corporation No. 1 Oil Development, deep wildcat between the Seminole and Russell fields.

Drillstem Test Run

A three-hour and 45-minute drillstem test was run at 11,585-620 feet, using a 1,000-foot water blanket. Recovery was the water blanket followed by 3,200 feet of water cut drilling mud with a slight show of oil and 1,000 feet of slightly oil cut, salty sulphur water.

The prospector was waiting on further orders. There is a good possibility of its plugging back to investigate shows in upper formations.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

FOUR CHILDREN DIE IN FLAMES OF HOME

SOMERSET, Pa., June 9 (AP)—A fire killed four children, 1 to 6 years old, today at their home near Sipesville, eight miles north of this southwestern Pennsylvania town.

Cause of the fire was unknown. The youngsters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faidley, were in Somerset community hospital here. Both were badly burned. Neither was able to give a coherent story of the tragedy.

The dead children were Gilbert, 6; Barbara Diane, 4; Charles Barron, jr., 2 and Mary Anna, 1.

M. Bruce Faidley, grandfather of the children who lives next door, said he was awakened at midnight by screams. He ran out of his house and found his son's dwelling wrapped in flames. He said he arrived just in time to see the Faidley parents, their clothing afire, run out of the house.

Brahma Spells Bad Gnus To Gnew Gnu

LOS ANGELEC, June 9 (AP) —Yes, there are bad gnus.

Take Nefarious Ned for instance. Noting that Ned was becoming gnurotic, chief keeper Charles Allen coaxed into his pen at Griffith park zoo a lovely lady gnu, which arrived yesterday from San Diego.

After proper introductions, Allen left the gnusome to themselves.

Ned pawed the ground in we' me. His gnu girl friend pranced coyly around the pen. Suddenly she stopped and sniffed at a Brahman bull in an adjoining cage.

Ned apparently considered this a violation of his gnutrality. He charged and gored her twice, luckily not seriously.

Allen placed them in separate pens, opining that in a couple of days they'll be rubbing gnoses like any gnormal gnulyweds.

Medical Association Seeking Opinions On Health Proposal

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, June 9. — The American Medical association is open to suggestions for elaboration of its own program to meet the nation's health problems—but will not compromise on its stand against compulsory health insurance.

This was made clear today in a statement by the AMA's board of trustees and a subsequent interview with the organization's new president, Dr. Ernest Irons of Chicago.

The board announced its intention to call a conference of "interested groups"—such as labor and farm organizations — to consider AMA's official stand on the "advancement of medicine and public health."

AMA Stand Fixed

Dr. Irons told a reporter invitations would be sent out to get the views of a cross section of the American public—including representatives of government, labor, education, agriculture, industry, and social service.

Irons, who took office at the AMA's 98th meeting here, emphasized he was speaking as an individual, but expressed confidence he reflected the board of trustees' views when he said:

"No matter what develops at the projected conference, the AMA will steadfastly hold out against any yielding on the real hot-potato issue of the national health subject—compulsory sickness insurance.

"There will be no compromise," said Irons, "on the general principle of our opposition to compulsory insurance which involves freedom of medicine and also freedom of the American people."

Counter-Plan Proposed

The AMA's previously announced 12-point-plan for the advancement of medicine and public health calls for "rapid extension of voluntary hospital and medical care insurance" as opposed to President Truman's proposal for payroll deductions to meet compulsory insurance costs.

The AMA's program also calls for:

"Establishment of an "independent" national health agency with a physician in charge; a national science foundation to promote research; state and local administration of federal funds to assist in medical care; provision for "establishment of complete public health coverage for the country, with federal aid where the need can be shown . . ."

Irons said the AMA would not go into the proposed conference with the attitude that its program was perfect in all details.

Viewpoints Sought

"It will be a conference," he said, "to get points of view, and it is our hope that out of it there will develop areas of agreement among opposing viewpoints that might make it possible for legislation acceptable to all to be written."

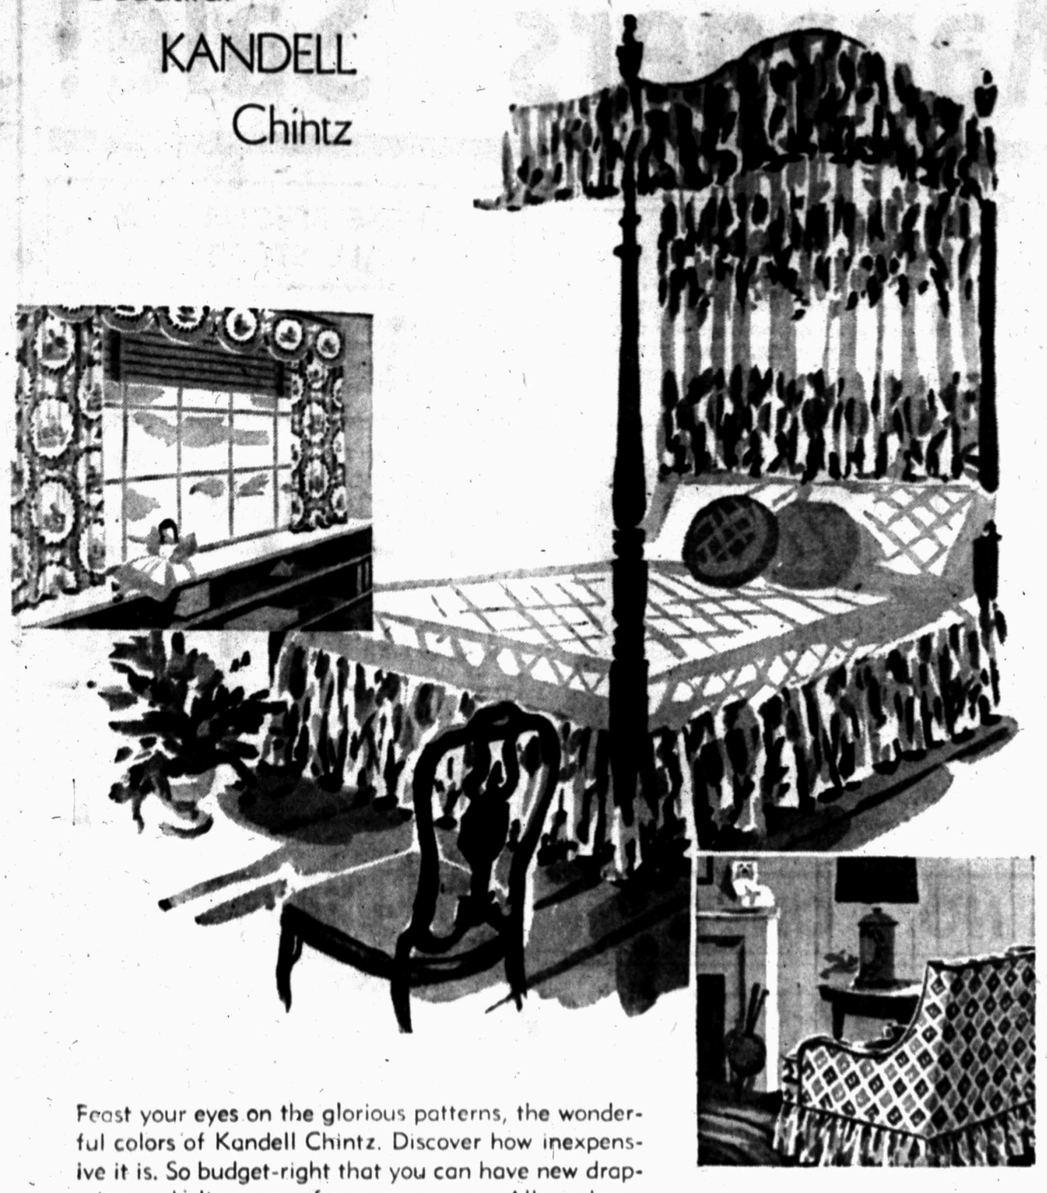

The board of trustees, in its statement, recorded the AMA's "opposition to any plan of government-controlled medical care compulsory in nature and supported by payroll taxation, with inevitable deterioration of the quality of medical care."

The house of delegates, policy-making body of the AMA—was to get the board's conference-calling suggestion officially today for consideration.

High on the agenda of the same meeting was the election of officers of the association.

Grand Jury Praises, But Cautions, Lubbock Law Officers

Stricter Policy Of Personal Courtesy In Some Cases Urged

A 99th district grand jury, which reported to Judge G. V. Pardue at 9:15 p. m. Wednesday, generally commended law enforcement officers here on the program of enforcement which they are carrying out, but cautioned that there had been several instances where a few officers have been overly zealous in the methods of effecting arrests."

The report, which followed three days of investigation into reports of alleged mistreatment of persons under arrest and other "discourteousness" on the part of officers, was made after approximately 70 persons—mostly negroes—had appeared before the grand jury to voice their grievances.

While law enforcement agencies were all but given a "clean bill" on recent charges, the grand jury did point out several instances which should be corrected at the earliest possible moment.

Vagrancy Program Studied

Most frequent single complaint against law officers here concerned the police department policy on arresting of negroes on vagrancy charges, it was reported.

Several of the negro business and professional people were subpoenaed Wednesday by the grand jury in order to get a well-rounded picture of the problem. One negro businessman, R. C. Priestly of 2102 East Ave. D, was a member of the jury making the investigation.

In relation to the vagrancy program of police, the grand jury report said that "a number of colored people have been arrested and charged with vagrancy who were not vagrants."

The report went on, however, to say, "We do not condemn the overall purpose of the vagrancy program of the police department, but on the contrary commend it, in coping with those individuals who are repeatedly guilty of misdemeanor offenses and who frequent places of ill repute and congregate in gambling games and are not gainfully employed. But we do call upon those officers working in this program and upon the heads of departments to use careful judgment and discretion and every available means to make certain that no innocent individual is wrongfully charged."

The grand jury went on to state that they found that the Municipal Court of Lubbock was inadequately staffed to make available jury trials to those charged with offenses to which they have pleaded innocent, and that cases are allowed to accumulate upon the Municipal court docket.

However, the grand jury was advised by city authorities that the new budget makes provisions for adequate personnel to alleviate this condition.

Personal Courtesy Recommended

"We find that there are a number of complaints from reputable citizens as to the manner in which officers of the various law enforcement agencies have dealt with them in regard to minor offenses, such as traffic violations of traffic regulations within the city and upon the highways," the report stated. "We recommend to the officers of these various agencies that a stricter policy of personal courtesy be followed in these types of cases."

The grand jury pointed out that it found in an April 7 report that Lubbock and Lubbock county was being subjected to an alarming extent to a crime wave, and that it recommended a strict law enforcement program, particularly with reference to illicit traffic in liquor.

"We desire at this time to commend the various law enforcement agencies, including especially the new Liquor Control board, for their aggressive program of enforcement which has been undertaken and is proceeding effectively. It is our feeling, after a rather extensive investigation of the program, that the good citizens of Lubbock county desire and are supporting a strict law enforcement program.

Pledge Full Support

"We want the officers of the Texas Liquor Control board, of the Lubbock Police department, and of the sheriff's department to know that they have our support in a continuing diligent enforcement program."

The grand jury, after inspecting county properties, found that the county jail was in "good and clean condition," and that the County Old Folks' home "is well kept and in fair condition, except that there is an urgent need for a new roof on the building."

In the inspection of the courthouse, the jury found that "sanitary conditions therein are most lamentable. The public toilets are disgraceful and a public menace."

The grand jury report pointed out that jury dormitories are 'in an extremely unclean condition," and that hot water and other facilities needed for juries kept overnight are lacking.

Jury Is Adjourned

It recommended that hot water facilities be installed and, if at all feasible, that some form of air conditioning or better ventilation be installed for summer service.

The grand jury, following its report to Judge Pardue, was adjourned but not dismissed. Pardue pointed out that the services of the grand jury may possibly be

TRAGEDY APPEARS ACCIDENTAL

Boy, 9, Admits Suffocating Three Playmates In Ice Box

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., June 9 (U.P.)—A nine-year-old boy admitted to authorities today that he shut three playmates in an ice-box during a game of hide-and-seek, then left them to suffocate when he couldn't get the door open.

The boy, James Buddy Chessier, sobbed out his story late yesterday and again early today in the presence of officers and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Borden Chessier, according to prosecuting attorney Millard Hardin.

The red-haired youngster's statement apparently solved the ice box deaths of James Delbert Chastain, two, his nine-year-old sister, Joyce Ann Chastain, and six-year-old Shirley Ramsey.

Appears Accidental

The three children were found crammed into the old-fashioned ice-box, suffocated, last Friday by Mrs. Ed Chastain, mother of two of the victims.

Buddy is an uncle of the Ramsey girl.

Hardin, who revealed the boy's "confession," would not comment on whether any action could or would be taken against him. But other officers said unofficially that the tragedy "appeared to be accidental."

Hardin quoted Buddy as saying he went to the Chastain home, a share-cropper's cabin about 300 yards from his own house, and started playing hide-and-seek with the two girls.

"I was 'it' every time," the red-haired youngster told Hardin.

Boy Got Scared

The attorney quoted Buddy as saying the little Chastain boy was not playing, but that he climbed into the ice box when the two girls hid there.

Buddy told Hardin he shut the ice box door after the three children climbed in to hide. He tried to open the door again, he said, but it was stuck and wouldn't come open.

When Buddy started to the store for his mother, Hardin said, he passed the Chastain house. There he saw Mrs. Chastain on the porch with the body of Shirley Ramsey, he said, and "I just got scared."

The boy said he then ran to the nearby home of Luther Chastain, an uncle, and told his cousin Byron Chastain that "I think Shirley is dead."

Parents Summoned

Officers said they have been questioning Buddy since Saturday.

Dallas Youths Plead Guilty

DALLAS, June 9. (U.P.)—District Attorney Will Wilson was to submit guilty pleas to Judge Robert Hall today in the cases of five Dallas youths charged with raping a 15-year-old girl at a party they crashed in exclusive Highland Park.

They were permitted to plead guilty and accept five-year suspended sentences yesterday after the girls' parents conferred with Wilson and said they wanted to spare her the ordeal of testifying in five trials.

Each of the youths would have been tried separately on the charge.

Hall's announcement that guilty pleas would be entered came after a ninth juror had been selected in the first trial, involving David Bowen, 19.

The defendants were charged with crashing a 'teen-age party, forcing the invited guests to join them in a beer-drinking bout and finally assaulting the girl in a second-story bedroom.

In addition to Bowen, the defendants were Bobby Young, 18; Dean Butler, 18; Lewis Campbell, 20 and Millard Gaskill. Similar charges against Webb Stagner, jr., 20, were dropped Monday.

Stagner and Butler, who also had been indicted for purportedly raping a 14-year-old theater candy counter girl on White Rock lake last July 4, were put on probation for one year on this count.

All six youths and John Durrett, 19, who did not participate in the single-file assault on the girl at the climax of the soiree, were also put on probation for reported theft of beer from a warehouse. They were charged with stealing the beer before crashing the party.

Port Arthur-Beaumont Strike Relief Is Sought

BEAUMONT, June 9 (AP) — A bus strike in the Beaumont and Port Arthur areas entered its twenty second day with officials attempting to work out some local transportation system to relieve the tie-up.

Mayor Otto Plummer and representatives of the Beaumont taxi-cab companies conferred yesterday and there were indications a jitney service was being considered.

Fight Pledged On Tidelands

Price Daniel, attorney general of Texas who Wednesday was in Lubbock for the opening of the ABC Boys' Club rodeo, flatly reiterated his intention to fight to the end for state retention of valuable Gulf coast tidelands.

Questioned regarding his views on a recent compromise proposed by U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark in the state-federal tidelands dispute, Daniel said, "I will never agree to any proposal which does not confirm Texas' right to the property within the state's boundaries as provided by the annexation agreement of 1845."

And, he added, it is highly important that the people and officials of the state remain united in the current U. S. Supreme Court and Congressional fights over the oil-rich tidelands regions.

Claims Cause Weakened

To date, only Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers of top Texas officials has expressed approval of Clark's compromise proposal. Daniel, Gov. Beauford Jester and Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, who comprise the state school land board, all have opposed the measure.

"Compromise talk has only weakened our cause in Washington, and I hope there will be no more of it," Daniel said today. "People who really believe in the justice and validity of Texas' ownership of these tidelands should never offer to compromise our rights. Such talk would indicate lack of faith in our own cause, and it can hurt us beyond recovery in the courts and Congress."

Biggest Land Suit

Daniel estimated the value of the disputed tidelands territory in Texas at "several billion dollars—perhaps as much as $10 billion." Three and one-half million acres of submerged land are involved, he said.

"This definitely is the biggest land suit in the history of the United States," he declared.

Daniel gave this brief summary of the background of the tidelands dispute:

The First Congress of the Texas Republic, on Dec. 19, 1836, fixed the boundary in the Gulf of Mexico at three leagues (10½ miles) from shore, from the mouth of the Sabine river to the mouth of the Rio Grande.

On joining the United States in 1845, Texas assumed responsibility for all debts of the Republic, and in return—under the annexation agreement—was allowed to "retain all the vacant and unappropriated lands lying within its limits."

For nearly a century the federal government made no claims to marginal coastal lands, Daniel

THE QUESTION
Should parents choose the books their children read?
THE ANSWERS

LEO J. WARREN, 2015 Thirty-sixth, principal of East Broadway school: "I choose my children's books. If the parent doesn't know which books to choose, he should go to some authority on the subject. A good librarian can always give you a list of suitable books for children. Wilson's Children's catalogue and the Association for Childhood Education, both non-commercial organizations, have approved lists of good reading material for children."

DR. W. W. YOCUM, 3006 Thirty-first, professor of plant industry at Texas Technological college: "I think they should help choose them. It seems to me that parents and teachers are better qualified than children are to choose. They should not leave it up to the child himself. They should give him some guidance and present him with a number of books so that he has some choice."

MRS. JOHNNYE JOHNSON, 1605-A Twenty-ninth, assistant librarian, Lubbock county library: "They should go by the approved reading lists the teachers give to children, or by other approved lists. Copies of them are available at the library. We can show children and tell them about books, but they make their own choice. In the summer, when school is not in session, it is left up to the parents if the child's reading is to be regulated. We are always glad to cooperate with the parents and the children.

MRS. W. H. KEELING, 1413 Ave. T, saleslady at Jo Ann shop: "Definitely — until they become old enough to choose for themselves. A parent who is close to a child can guide the child's reading and yet not dominate the child. I think proper example in reading matter has a lot to do with it, for the children learn all they know the first seven years from their parents and their parents' associates. If you give children the proper training the first seven years of their lives, nine out of 10 times they will select the proper reading later. If a parent uses the proper power of suggestion and not domination, however, the parent can guide the choice of reading of a son or daughter until they are 25 years or older and still let them feel as if they are choosing their own reading."

JIMMIE YATES, 3012 Twenty-second, general agent for Continental Assurance Co.: "Yes, I think some books are not suitable for children's minds. To say the least, parents should check over them and keep up with what children are reading and guide their reading. Books have a big influence on children's lives and, if they are allowed to read books not suitable, they might be influenced in an adverse way."

MRS. HUGH BUSBY, 2910 N. Second, housewife: "I do think parents should watch what their children read. You can read a little bit and get a general idea what the book is like. If it isn't suitable for a child, he should not be allowed to read it."

Russian Officers Enraged By Germans Ripping Stalin Signs

BERLIN, June 9. (AP)—Four fist-swinging Russian officers today beat back a looting mob of 200 railway strikers who had invaded the American sector headquarters of the Soviet-controlled Berlin railway.

Later, on U. S. military government orders, western police guarded the entrance of the five-story building as a result of Soviet Commandant Alexander Kotikov's official complaint against the "hoodlum mob."

Meanwhile, rail strikers grimly picketed the building. A strike spokesman said they intended to prevent anyone of the headquarters staff from reporting for work today.

Western Police Dispatched

The mob had invaded and occupied the building on the Spree canal late last night, but retreated shortly after midnight when the four Russian officers suddenly arrived.

The Russians, angered by the sight of the mob ripping pictures of Prime Minister Stalin and Lenin off the walls, pitched into the strikers with their fists and drove them to the ground floor of the building.

The mob withdrew after the arrival of 100 American sector German police, dispatched to the scene by Brig. Gen. Frank Howley, American commandant in Berlin.

Howley dispatched the police after the Russians had complained about the "hoodlum" invasion.

Exceeds Strike Limits

The American commandant declared the allied-sponsored rail union had exceeded the limit of "legitimate strike activities" by invading the Russian - occupied building.

He said the Russians had four-power recognition to use the headquarters for direction of east German rail traffic outside the strike area in west Berlin.

Some 14,000 employes of the Soviet-controlled Reichsbahn have refused to work since May 21 unless demands for west mark wages, union recognition, and job security are granted.

The allied sectors of Berlin are cut off from rail-borne food and coal from western Germany. The U. S.-British airlift once again is the principal supplier of more than 2,000,000 west Berliners.

Storeroom Looted

No serious injuries occurred in last night's fighting, although the 20-day strike earlier had cost two lives.

Commando squads from UGO, west Berlin union, overpowered several east German guards and brandished a captured stock of pistols.

The strikers held the building for about an hour. Then the four Soviet officers arrived. They marched to the upper floors, where the mob had concentrated.

When they saw the mob ripping down pictures of Stalin and Lenin they exploded in anger.

"Raus! raus! (out! out!) they shouted at the mob leaders. The Russians hit out with their fists at anyone they could reach.

The mob fell back in frightened disorder.

Before completing their withdrawal from the building the strikers looted a storeroom of Russian canned food and liquor. They then drove off six Soviet-licensed automobiles from the basement garage.

The assault on the headquarters was carefully planned by UGO leaders yesterday. They blamed its ultimate failure on the fact that two non-striking girl telephone operators had warned the Soviet military government before the wires could be cut.

Howley said the strikers had not advised him beforehand they would attempt to seize the building, although he had conferred with strike leaders yesterday afternoon.

Heart Island Castle Is Opened To Public

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N. Y., June 9. (U.P.)—Boldt Castle on Hart Island in the St. Lawrence River, an architectural monument to romance and tragedy, continues to attract thousands of romantic tourists.

Started in 1899, the castle was built for his wife by George C. Boldt, founder of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The island was originally named Hart Island, but after Boldt reshaped its contour into the form of a heart, the spelling was changed.

Suddenly, after five years during which he poured more than $2,000,000 into its construction, Boldt's wife died. Shocked and heartbroken, the hotel-owner ordered all work stopped. For many years it remained just the remnant of a dream.

Then, after Boldt died, one of America's leading candy manufacturers, Edward J. Noble, bought the castle, restored its natural grandeur and opened it to the public.

LONG CAMPAIGN

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—Baseball at Michigan State has been a continuous sports since 1883, wit hthe exception of 1944, when intercollegiate athletics were discontinued due to the war.

Killing Prompts City's Protest

SONOMA, Calif., June 9 (AP) — Aroused by the slaying of a 67-year-old man and the wounding of his wife, Valley of The Moon residents today asked that incorrigible cases be removed from the Sonoma state hospital to some other institution.

Some fifty residents met last night and requested action after the fatal shooting Tuesday night of Paul Zimmerman.

Rudolph Wright, 19-year-old negro fugitive from the incorrigible ward at the home, was arrested early yesterday and booked on a charge of murder.

Probe Is Planned

Further action awaited results of a psychiatric examination.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Dollar said Wright admitted shooting Zimmerman and clubbing Zimmerman's wife, Louise, with a pistol. She was reported recovering at Sonoma community hospital.

The attacks occurred as Wright was attempting to force the Zimmermans to drive him away in their car. Wright, Dollar said, admitted breaking into the ranch home of retired General H. H. (Hap) Arnold, who was away, and stealing a hunting knife. He later took two pistols from the Zimmerman home, Dollar said.

TOPS AT HOME

CINCINNATI. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds had the best home run percentage at home of any National League team in 1948. Sixty-eight of the team's 104 circuit blows were hit at Crosley Field for a percentage of .654. The Pittsburgh Pirates were second with a percentage of .639. The Reds' total was fourth high in the league.

Hepburn Plans Long Movie Vacation For Shakespearean Role

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 9—Katharine Hepburn plans to take a prolonged vacation from films.

The actress finishes her MGM contract with her current film, "Adam's Rib." In October she begins rehearsals of "As You Like It" for the Theater Guild. If it's a hit, she'll be in the play most of next year, although she may return here for a picture next summer.

"I'm very excited about it," she told me. "It's the first classic I've ever done. And I love to tour with a show."

Hepburn is again co-starring with Spencer Tracy in "Adam's Rib" and it's a delight to watch them work. Much kidding goes on between scenes, as when Tracy admired her in an evening gown and commented, "she doesn't look a day over 50."

Jack Benny is responsible for getting Phil Harris his straight acting role in "Wabash Ave." When Jack heard producer Bill Perlberg moan that he couldn't get Paul Douglas for the role, he replied, "Harris can do anything Douglas can do."

The comic talked Perlberg into testing Harris for the role and he got the job. 'This is the first part I've had that wasn't all teeth and eyes," says the curly-topped bandleader.

Newlywed Mickey Rooney is slated to start preparations for "The Big Wheel" this week. His company took reels of the racing at Indianapolis Memorial Day and the footage will be used in the film. It's the story of a kid's rise from hot-rods to the big race.

California, Texas Head Nation List In Number Of Polio Cases

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP) — More cases of poliomyelitis have been reported in the U. S. this year than last, when there was a serious outbreak, but health officials say the situation is not alarming.

There have been 1,757 cases reported compared with 1,226 on the corresponding date in 1948.

But U. S. Public Health service officials say a more accurate method of measuring the intensity of outbreaks is to count only the cases that occur after the disease reaches its early spring low point.

Fewer Than Last Year

This occurs each year in March. Since that point was reached this year 834 cases have been reported, 44 fewer than were reported in the corresponding period of 1948.

More cases of polio were reported in 1948 than in any year since 1916. The year's total was 27,888. In 1916 there were approximately 30,000 cases.

But health officials say the outbreak in 1916 was much more severe because most of the 30,000 cases caused paralysis. Only a small proportion of the 27,888 cases in 1948 resulted in paralysis.

Officials said California and Texas have reported the greatest number of cases. But last week the California cases declined from 18 to 15 and the Texas cases from 72 to 37.

Texas Reports 328

A total of 328 cases have been reported in Texas this year, compared with 342 in the corresponding period in 1948, and 393 cases have occurred in California, compared with last year's 153 cases.

In North Carolina, where there was a serious outbreak last year, there have been 46 cases compared with 109 in the corresponding period in 1948.

In Mississippi, where 6 cases had been reported at this time last year, there have been 37 cases. Three new cases were reported in Mississippi last week.

Theaters Advised To Install Video

BOSTON, June 9. (U.P.)—Theater owners have been advised to install television sets in their lobbies as an added attraction.

Don E. Hyndman, a motion picture official, told a conference of New England film distributors that lobby TV sets would enable patrons to see their favorite movie and TV program the same evening.

He believes the two mediums complement one another and that "motion picture theaters always will be with us."

"There is no concrete evidence," he said, "that television has affected motion picture attendance."

Funeral For Pioneer Brownfield Man Set

BROWNFIELD, June 9. (Special)—Last rites for J. D. Winston, 81, pioneer Brownfield resident who died Wednesday night in Brownfield hospital, will be held at 3 p. m. Friday in Crescent Heights Church of Christ.

Elder Joe Chisholm is to officiate, assisted by Jimmie Wood, minister.

Masonic graveside rights by members of the Brownfield lodge will be conducted in Terry County Memorial cemetery. Burial will be under direction of Brownfield Funeral home.

Winston came here in 1909 and was engaged in fire insurance writing until his retirement 12 years ago. He is widely known in this area, and was a member of the Brownfield Masonic lodge.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. E. P. Jones of Brownfield, and Miss Vivin Winston of St. Louis; three sons, Terry County Judge H. R. Winston, Johnny Winston, both of Brownfield, and Everett Winston of Littlefield; and a sister, Mrs. Maggie Baker of Houston.

Chinese Reds Close Yangtze

SHANGHAI, June 9 (AP)—The mouth of the Yangtze river was closed to navigation today by the Communists who feared it had been mined by Chinese Nationalists.

A pilot said as he proceeded up the river today he saw a medium-sized Nationalist landing ship zigzagging across the river's mouth as if mines were being laid. He said a Nationalist gunboat warned him the area was dangerous.

Customs officials said if mines were laid it was in violation of international law which requires that any area mined first must formally be declared a war zone.

Two Ships Caught

Two foreign ships were caught in port by the navigation closing order. They are the British ship Shenking, which was to sail for Hong Kong, and the United States lines' China Victory. The United States lines President Polk is due here tomorrow but customs officials said they understood it had been diverted.

Seven foreigners who tried to enter Shanghai were compelled to ramain aboard the Shenking. Two of them are Americans.

The seven were among 21 foreigners who arrived from Hong Kong. Fourteen members of families of employes of the steamship company, Butterfield and Swire were allowed to enter under special provisions.

Wheat Loan Program Seen As Highly Favorable To Farmers

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—A new twist to the government wheat loan program was seen today as highly attractive to farmers.

Grain men here felt the new program, announced late Tuesday by the Agriculture department, would cause wheat to be held back on farms. It should prevent markets from becoming glutted and prices from slumping sharply below government loan levels, they said.

Wheat prices responded to the announcement of the new program yesterday with wide advances, particularly in the southwest. Cash wheat bounded up 3¼ to 11 cents a bushel at Kansas City. Wheat futures rose 3½ to 5¾ cents at Chicago.

Program Opinions Given

In Chicago, traders who were short in wheat futures, expecting prices to drop at harvest time, felt Agriculture Secretary Brannan had pulled a new rabbit out of his hat:

Here is how grain men reason the program will work:

1. The farmer can let his newly harvested wheat lie unprotected in a field for 90 days. During that period, he will get a loan from the government equal to 75 per cent of the government price support level. That would amount to around $1.42 a bushel in the southwest.

2. The farmer then can build, within the 90 day period, bins on his farm to store the grain. For this, the government will loan him 85 per cent of the building cost. Meanwhile, if the wheat piled on the ground deteriorates the government will foot the bill for that loss.

Advantage To Farmers

3. When the farm has the bins built, he can take his wheat out of the field and put it in the bins. Then he can borrow the full government price support loan, or about $1.90 a bushel in the southwest.

Thus, the difference between the temporary 90-day loan and the full loan is about 48 cents a bushel. That, in the opinion of grain men, is more than enough to cover the farmer's cost in building the bins.

The result is that it's to the farmer's advantage to build the bins. In effect, he gets them for nothing because of the difference between the two loans. Furthermore, he has bins on his farm in case he should need them at some future time.

Finally, if wheat prices don't get above the full government loan, the farmer can default. The government then gets the wheat and the farmer gets the money. If prices do advance, the farmer can redeem his wheat and sell it at the higher price.

This will be the first time since the loan program was started in 1938 that loans have been made on wheat piled on the ground. Heretofore, wheat to be eligible for a government loan had to be adequately stored.

Home Town Honors Treasurer Nominee

RICHLAND, Kas., June 9 (AP)—Georgia Neese Clark, actress turned banker, took all the bows in this little eastern Kansas town last night.

And to attractive Mrs. Clark, president Truman's nominee for U. S. treasurer, it was one of her finest audiences.

Richland is her home town. Practically the entire population of 225, plus a couple of hundred outsiders, turned out to welcome her home from Washington.

The program went off with only one hitch.

There was so much excitement, the master of ceremonies forgot to call on Mrs. Clark for her formal reply to the welcome until the town preacher had started his benediction.

Richland knows Mrs. Clark well. They call her Georgia. She was born here 49 years ago and her neighbors have closely followed her career as an actress, a farmer, a grain operator, general store owner and bank president.

As U. S. treasurer, her signature probably would be the most widely circulated in the world. It would appear on all U. S. paper currency.

New Hale Center Gin Is Almost Completed

HALE CENTER, June 9. (Special)—The new J. J. Caudle gin here is virtually completed, Elmo Caudle, co-owner, said.

The building, fixtures, and machinery are wholly metal. The large burr-burner pit is completely enclosed in a tile building and there is an enclosure to capture waste trash and cotton lint that ordinarily escapes to a gin yard.

The old J. J. Caudle gin, established a quarter of a century ago by the father of Elmo Caudle and his partner, was wrecked by a fire last fall.

Planes Will Drop Poison On Million-Acre 'Hopper Nests

DENVER, June 9. (AP)—A new grasshopper plague is threatening the grain belt. To keep it from happening, an aerial task force will take off next week from Sheridan, Wyo., loaded with 'hopper poison.

The target of the 30-plane armada will be a 1,500,000-acre stretch in Wyoming and Montana which the U. S. Department of Agriculture calls the worst grasshopper nesting ground in the country.

The job will take about 30 days. The goal will be to wipe out a big, hungry, growing army of migatory 'hoppers. If left alone, this army soon could become as formidable as the one that gobbled $250,000,000 worth of crops in the northern plains states a decade ago.

Ten-Year Cycles

Grasshopper plagues occur about once every ten years. If the cycle continued, the next one wouldn't be far off.

"The 'hoppers have been growing in numbers the last three years," says Jim R. Dutton, chief of the USDA grasshopper control division. "If we didn't do something right now, next year would be tough.

"But we're going to do plenty. We don't intend to ever allow grasshoppers to reach plague proportions again."

The USDA doesn't know why the sparsely-vegeated area to be "bombed" with poison happens to be such a notorious breeding ground. There isn't much for the voracious insects to eat in that vicinity.

But the worst armies of 'hoppers that ever attacked the grain belt came from there—the big, tough babies who have been responsible for some of the worst agricultural catastrophes in history.

Then the match out, the 'hoppers eat up everything in the immediate neighborhood. Then, when their wings develop, they take off in swarms for croplands where the pickings are better. In plague years, these little Wyoming and Montana monsters have devastated crops from the Canadian border to Texas.

The aerial attack is being staged by the USDA in cooperation with the state and county governments and the farmers. All of them will share the cost.

Bran that looks much like your breakfast food will be sprayed out of the planes. Instead of sugar and cream it will be sprayed with chlordane and toxaphene. These new insecticides are so potent one-third of an ounce in five pounds of bran is enough to kill all the 'hoppers on an acre.

After Small 'Hoppers

Plans for the big offensive caused some uneasiness among sportsmen who feared game birds might be destroyed by the poison. The USDA replied that the concentration of poison would be so slight and the game birds' taste for bran so scant there was no danger.

To prove it, the agency experimented with the poisons on 30,000 acres near Sheridan. Fish and wildlife experts who witnessed the work said game birds and animals were not harmed.

But the 'hoppers snatched up the bran and died quickly.

Heading the aerial fleet will be a C-47 which will carry 9,000 pounds of the lethal mixture and is capable of "dusting" 1,800 acres in seven and one-half minutes. The USDA has a few smaller craft and will contract for about 22 private planes.

The grasshoppers the department especially wants to get are the youngsters already feeding on Wyoming and Montana ranges. They haven't yet laid eggs or grown the wings that will carry them away to lusher croplands.

A grasshopper will eat anything—from corn to castus. If there's nothing better, he'll even tackle your newspaper or nylon hose. That's why the government is sure he'll lap up the poisoned bran.

Greek Forces Quit Mountain Positions

ATHENS, June 9 (AP)—A government communique said today Greek national forces have abandoned two heights in the Grammos mountains.

The Nationalists claimed they voluntary gave up two points—Prophetelias, near Oxya, and Theotokos, north of the Sarantaporos river.

(A Yugoslav Tanjug news agency dispatch, distributed in London, quoted the Greek guerrillas as saying they have "liberated" the entire Grammos mountain area.)

The two heights constituted advanced points of support and their fall follows that of nearby Patoma which the rebels took last week after bitter fighting. The Grammos area for the past two years has been the scene of some of the bitterest fighting of the Greek civil war

A military tribunal in Athens sentenced 19 persons to death today for participation in Communist bands The tribunal gave three others life in jail, five got 20 years and 11 were acquitted.

Rooney's Ex-Wife To Marry Norman Baker

HOLLYWOOD, June 9. (INS)—Betty Jane Rase applied for a license to wed musician Norman Baker yesterday, 10 days after receiving her final divorce decree from action Mickey Rooney.

The couple said that they will be married Saturday in Van Nuys with more than 300 friends witnessing the ceremony.

Miss Rase has two children by the film star—Mickey, jr., 4, and Timothy, 2.

Mickey married wife No. 3, actress Martha Vickers, last Saturday.

Milton Babich Goes On Trial

MILWAUKEE, June 9. (AP)—Milton Babich, 19, went on trial today for the gunshot slaying of Patricia Birmingham, his wife's 16-year-old sister.

Testimony in his first degree murder trial opened in Judge Herbert Steffes' municipal courtroom before a jury of 11 married men and a single girl.

The jurors were selected from 52 veniremen in a day-long session yesterday. Four of the panel were excused for cause, eight were struck by the state's peremptory challenges and 13 by the defense.

Jurors Cautioned

Nine of the jury's 11 male members are fathers of from one to four children. A housewife, mother of two children, was picked as an alternate juror.

Judge Steffes told the jury, "we are going to insulate you completely from the outside world. You may not read the newspapers, nor may you listen to the radio."

He cautioned the jurors not to discuss the case—"not even among yourselves." Then he ordered them locked up for the night.

Babich, in a statement released by the district attorney, admitted the shooting of Patricia, but claimed it was an accident. He said he produced a gun intending to frighten Patricia so she would not reveal that her sister, Kathleen, was pregnant. Babich maintains Patricia was shot during a struggle for the gun. That was on Feb. 10.

On March 17, Babich and Kathleen eloped to Michigan. Three days later, Patricia's body, tied to a concrete building block, was fished from the Milwaukee river.

Actress' Name Finally Brought Up In Trial On Friend's Death

RIVERSIDE, Calif., June 9. (AP)—The name of actress Irene Rich has turned up in the trial of Mrs. Agnes Garnier, charged with murdering her wealthy boss, John E. Owen, 68.

Mrs. Garnier, attractive 53-year-old divorcee, is accused of shooting Owen at his lavish ranch near here April 22, following an argument over a set of cocktail glasses the actress gave him. At the time of his death Owen was president of the National Association of Apartment House Owners.

Pete Corales, ranch caretaker, testified yesterday that three weeks before the slaying while Owen was in Washington, D. C., fighting for rent decontrol, Mrs. Garnier stopped by the ranch to talk with him.

Corales told the all-woman jury:

"She said she wouldn't be working much longer for Mr. Owen. I asked her why and she said she had traced some telephone bills and telephone calls from Washington to New York.

"I asked her where they wound up. She said all of them went to the Waldorf Astoria hotel and she mentioned this Irene Rich's name and said she was the one the calls were made to."

Corales added that in another conversation with Mrs. Garnier she said she had given Owen 15 years of her life and that "Mr. Owen was a damned old drunk S. O. B. She said if I can't have him nobody else can."

Owen's estranged widow, Mrs. Florence Owen of Beverly Hills, was a surprise witness. She said she married Owen in 1929, first met Mrs. Garnier in 1937, last saw her husband alive April 4 and hadn't seen him before that "for a couple of months."

Dope Addict Held In Woman's Death

OAKLAND, Cal., June 9. (INS)—An admitted narcotics addict was held by Oakland police today for investigation in the murder of a young woman whose nude body was found a week ago in a shallow grave in the Oakland hills.

Police said the suspect, Ralph F. Waack, 32, denied killing the woman, Ida Antoinette Signori, 26.

Instead, police reported, he claims that he found the woman dead in an Oakland hotel room, apparently from an overdose of heroin. He told inspectors he was on a narcotics jag at the time himself and was panic stricken over disposal of the body because of his own police record.

He was picked up in a San Francisco cafe.

China Reds Watch Big Four As Guide To Relation With West

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
Associated Press Staff Writer

NANKING, June 9. — Chinese Communist leaders were reported reliably today watching the big four foreign ministers conference as a guide for relations with the western powers.

Diplomatic observers here believe the outcome of the Paris meeting will be a strong influence on the pattern of Chinese Red contacts with the United States, Britain and France.

The foreign policy line of the Chinese Communists of late has followed closely the lead of Russia.

Failure of the big four ministers to ease tensions of the cold war is expected to further strain the Chinese Reds' relations with the west.

Situation Uneasy

Already there are potentially explosive problems that could flare into serious trouble.

There is deepening friction between the U. S. and the Chinese Reds.

This centers on the treatment of the American consulate general at Mukden in Red Manchuria. The U. S. State department on May 17 ordered the consulate closed. For six months it had been isolated from all contact with the outside.

Communist headquarters at Peiping was advised of the action May 19. A note delivered by O. Edmund Clubb, U. S. Consulate General at Peiping, also requested facilities for withdrawal of consular personnel and supplies from Mukden. A similar request was made in Nanking by the American embassy.

No Reply Received

American officials have received no reply from the Reds. The Embassy feels anxiety for the welfare of Mukden consulate general Angus Ward, his staff of nine and their dependents.

Britain also is experiencing difficulty with the Chinese Communists.

The most serious British trouble is trying to get the damaged sloop Amethyst out of the Yangtze river to a British port. The ship has been marooned between Nanking and Shanghai since April 19 when she was fired on by Red shore batteries. Crewmen still aboard are well—but bored.

Three other British warships were shelled trying to aid the Amethyst. The engagements cost the British 43 dead. The Reds said they suffered 252 casualties.

British Refuse Comment

The British embassy here has refused to comment on Amethyst negotiations.

The communists are believed to be demanding an admission from the British that they were responsible for the Yangtze incident as the price for giving the ship safe conduct downstream.

French officials are viewing uneasily the Communist drive through south China toward the Indochina border. This brings up the possibility of imminent contact of the Chinese Reds with Viet-Namese nationalists who are fighting the French. The Viet-Namese are led by Communist-trained Ho Chi-Minh.

Tidelands

said. But in 1938, Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes began to claim California tidelands for the national government. Later the dispute spread to other states, as valuable oil discoveries were made in tidelands areas. In December, 1948, Attorney General Clark entered suit against Texas with the U. S. Supreme Court, claiming Gulf coast tidelands for the United States. State officials have until Sept. 1 to answer this suit.

The latest development came about a month ago, when Clark set forth his compromise proposal. This measure would confirm all of the oil leases heretofore executed by the state, and would equally divide between the state and the federal government all future revenues from the lands. Future tidelands control would be vested in a board composed of three federal and two state representatives.

Fears Precedent

In reaffirming his opposition to any compromise, Daniel today declared, "Not only oil and property are involved in this claim of the federal government. In addition, there are principles under which every landowner in Texas holds title to his own land and minerals. If the "paramount power" theory of the federal government can take these minerals away from Texas schools without compensation, the same can be done at some future date on private lands.

"And if the United States is allowed to break the 100-year-old annexation agreement by compromise, how can we be assured that a new agreement would be any better regarded or respected by the national sovereign?"

Daniel said he had hopes that Congress will settle the dispute by passing a bill granting state ownership of the tidelands. Such a bill was passed by Congress in 1945, but was vetoed by President Truman. Daniel expressed confidence that a state ownership bill still is favored in both houses of Congress, but there remains the question of passage by the two-thirds majority necessary to override a presidential veto.

Sees No Hurry

"There is no hurry about settling the dispute," the attorney general said. "The state still is in possession, and an adverse court judgment cannot remove us unless Congress passes enabling legislation authorizing some federal agency to take over and operate the property. Congress has never looked with favor on such a proposal. California, which lost its Supreme Court case more than two years ago, still is in possession of, and operating, its tidelands."

Regarding the California decision, Daniel said he is convinced that Texas "has a stronger case than any other state, because of the annexation agreement."

To date, he said, sales of tidelands by the state have brought $7,000,000 in revenue—an average of about $20 per acre. He said that under federal operation, similar tidelands are leased at just 25 cents per acre.

"More than a thousand applications for leases along the Texas coast have already been filed with the federal government at the 25-cent rate," Daniel said. "The federal officials and the oil company lessees are anxious to rush the states into a compromising position, and I for one am not going to weaken in my determination to fight the lawsuit and to fight for state ownership legislation in Congress."

Necessary funds to continue the fight have been provided by a bill unanimously passed by the Texas legislature, Daniel said.

Earlier Wednesday, the attorney general spoke briefly on the tidelands issue at the weekly Rotary club meeting in the Hilton hotel.

Statistics Show 81st Congress As Talkingest In U. S. History

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP) — This is the talkingest, question askingest, bill introducingest congress of all time.

This is no snap judgment handed down by ear weary reporters.

It has been proved—by statistics — in testimony before the House appropriations committee.

Take congressional conversation.

John J. Deviny, public printer, had come up to Capitol Hill to explain why it took so much money to run the government printing office.

One reason, he said, is because congress talks so much. Normally, he said, during the first two months of a session of congress, the "Congressional Record" will average 75 pages a day.

Talking Costs Money

"The first 65 issues of the 81st congress," said Deviny sadly, "have averaged 116.9 pages."

Take the appropriations committee. It talks so much about saving the taxpayers money that it costs the taxpayers money.

So far, Deviny said, testimony before the various appropriations subcommittees has filled 17,646 pages. (This does not include the 28 pages needed for Deviny's testimony on why the printing cost is so high).

Now about the bills.

So far congress has had 10,568 bills introduced. That's more, Deviny said, than the last congress introduced in six months. It has taken 48,263 pages just to print them.

But congress isn't merely talking. It's also asking questions.

Library Use Soars

If there is anything a congressman wants to know, he can call the legislative reference service of the Library of Congress.

Dr. Luther H. Evans, Librarian of Congress, estimates that this year the service will try to answer 22,000 congressional questions. That, on the average, is around 40 questions for each senator and representative.

Congressional curiosity, Dr. Evans said, has soared phenomenally.

For a comparison: put this year's 22,000 queries up against 1925's. In that far off, non-questioning time, congress apparently didn't need to know nearly as much.

In the whole year, it asked on 850 questions.

Ice Box Deaths

the day after the tragedy, when they learned that he had been playing with the children who met death in the airless ice box.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Etchison said Buddy "just broke down and cried" when they first tried to question him.

But yesterday, Etchison said, Buddy told the whole story to Sheriff Joe Spades. Spades called in two other officers and Buddy repeated the story again.

Then Hardin and Buddy's parents were summoned, early this morning, and the youngster repeated his tale a third time.

Ironically, Buddy was one of three children police used in trying to reconstruct what happened on Friday. They said they tried to place Buddy and two other children in the box but were unable to do so "without cramming them in."

Jester Signs Bill On Legal Notices

AUSTIN, June 9 (U.P.)—Public officials will be docked a month's salary if they fail to publish legal notices under a bill signed yesterday by Gov. Beauford Jester.

The new law tightens present provisions covering publication of legal notices. The measure, sponsored by Sen. James E. Taylor of Kerens, was effective today.

Eye Tip Given On Television Strain

PITTSBURGH, June 9. (U.P.)—The annual convention of the Pennsylvania Optometric Association produced some up-to-date tips for protection of the eyes.

One specialist reported that boric acid is losing favor as an eye wash.

"Boric acide is more often irritating than helpful," said Dr. Michael Curcio of Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia. He said hospitals are replacing boric acid with a solution of ordinary baking soda.

Turning to eye problems resulting from viewing television, the association suggested the following:

1. Make sure the set is properly installed, particularly the antenna, for clearest possible reception.
2. In tuning, adjust tone setting before turning the picture up to desired brilliance. Strike a balance between steadiness of image and brilliance.
3. Avoid both intense darkness and bright lights in the room. Mild, indirect lighting is perferable.
4. Sun glasses should not be worn.
5. Avoid excessively long periods of close concentration on the screen.
6. In case of eye discomfort, have your vision examined by a competent vision specialist and follow his advice.

Many older persons who wear bi-focal glasses may find neither segment suited to televiewing. They may be helped by special lenses prescribed for the proper distance.

DECONTROLS OKAYED

AUSTIN, June 9. (U.P.)—Rent decontrols for Denison, New Braunfels and Highland Park in Dallas were approved yesterday by Gov. Beauford Jester.

Probably the earliest bread was made from ground acorns and beech nuts.

Lack Of Vitamins Blamed In Deaths

BOSTON, June 9. (U.P.)—Many Americans die unexpectedly because of lack of body repair foods i ntheir diet, says Dr. Royal Lee of the Lee Foundation for Nutritional Research in Milwaukee.

"Most fuel-supplying foods like cereal and flour and sugar products on the market today have been depleted of vitamin B, vitamin C and minerals vital to the rebuilding of body tissue and muscle," he told the New England Osteopathic Association.

"This fact is largely responsible for the sudden deaths of business men and others who die of heart disease which was not detected," Lee said.

"It is usually in case of the degeneration of heart muscles caused by a lack of natural body repair."

He said research at the Lee Foundation had proved too many foods are pre-cooked at high temperatures or over-cooked in the home. This, he claimed, destroyed the food's vitamin powers.

Grand Jury

needed at a moment's notice at any time up to the end of the current court session which ends about July 4. At that time, the grand jury would automatically be dismissed according to law.

Members of the grand jury are: P. C. Mitchell, Lubbock route 5; C. P. Young, jr., of Wolfforth; G. W. Brassell, Slaton; J. R. Barron, Slaton route 2; E. C. Pounds, Lubbock route 1; Jack Payne, 2818 Twenty-third; George Langford, 2619 Twenty-third; Homer G. Maxey, 3206 Twenty-first; Leonard G. W. Cole, 2106 Sixteenth; Earl Hobbs, Lubbock route 3; W. J. Spikes, jr., 2222 Eighteenth; and R. C. Priestly, 2102 East Ave. D. George Langford was foreman.

Robeson Claims He'll Testify In Red Trial

MOSCOW, June 9. (AP)—Singer Paul Robeson told the Soviet Academy of Science yesterday he would return to the United States to testify at the trial of Communist party officials in New York.

He said the men were being "judged for their faithfulness to the American working class."

The negro baritone addressed the academy at a meeting commemorating the 150th anniversary of the death of writer Alexander Pushkin. Izvestia, offical government newspaper, called his address a "moving speech."

"It is difficult to say how deeply I am touched and moved by the fact I am again on soviet soil," he said.

Robeson said he represented progressive Americans and millions of oppressed negroes.

British Socialists Preparing For Coming Battle Of Ballots

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Britain's government certainly has nailed its Socialist flag to the mast in connection with the party's annual conference at Blackpool.

There is no attempt to camouflage the program as the party gets set for the general election which is due next year but might come sooner. The challenge to the Conservatives, headed by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, is without qualification.

Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison, one of the most powerful figures in British socialism and the party's political strategist, yesterday laid the cards on the table in a speech which evoked an ovation. He named further industries which the party proposes to nationalize, and then declared that if reelected the government would pass a "permanent and revised version" of the wartime act giving it control over industry and manpower.

Control Outlined

"Private industry," he said, "cannot any longer be allowed to go just any way. Private industry or finance which indulges in antisocial conduct will be pulled up sharp by a labor (socialist) government."

Conservative minded folk undoubtedly will interpret Morrison's declaration as savoring rather strongly of regimentation. Be that as may, it should be noted that he didn't say the war-time measures would be used except of necessity. They would be on the books ready for use when needed.

The Socialist view of this is that there's nothing bad in the fact that the government has such powers. It all depends on how the government uses the powers. Moreover all orders under the emergency program can be rejected by parliament. Still, one would expect the Conservatives to make propaganda out of this issue in the coming election campaign.

More Nationalization

Morrison also announced that, if reelected, the government intended to nationalize six more industries. Those proposed for state ownership are meat wholesaling and cold storage, sugar refining, cement making, most life insurance, "all suitable" minerals and water supplies.

The Socialist government in its first four years of office already has nationalized coal mines, gas works, electricity, railroads, canals, long-distance trucking airlines, the Bank of England and the World Wide Cable and Wireless Communications company. Medicine also has been socialized—resulting in a tremendous controversy—and the vast steel industry is in process of being nationalized by parliament.

So the Socializts' gauntlet is down, but they are well aware that this crucial battle is going to be a tough one. As Morrison said: "The next election will be the fight of our lives." However, he also declared:

Members Tossed Out

"If we have a high degree of religious zeal and public spirit we can defeat the Tories (Conservatives)."

A fair measure of the seriousness with which the Socialists are entering the campaign is seen in the fierce disciplinary action taken by the party last month against members for flouting party leadership. Two left wing members of parliament were thrown out of the party, and five other members were fired from parliamentary posts.

And there's plenty of reason for seriousness. This election may well determine the fate of socialism in England for a long time to come.

Pet Canary Plays Cat And Mouse In Treetops With Boy

Pretty Boy, a yellow-plumaged canary, played a game of "cat and mouse" this week, but is back in his bright green cage today after an hour's freedom in the out-of-doors.

Mrs. C. G. Spicer, 2415 Twenty-first, let her little pet fly around inside the house Tuesday afternoon, and when her son, Oliver, opened the door to come in, out went Pretty Boy. He flew over the neighboring housetops and finally perched in a treetop on Ave. X. The chase was on!

Family Follows Bird

Because of his brilliant yellow feathers, the Spicers were able to keep the little bird in sight as he flew from one tree to another, stopping in the top of each one to sing a song of delight at his freedom. Oliver climbed up and down trees in an effort to catch the holidaying songster, but Pretty Boy toyed with his pursuer like a cat with a mouse. He waited until the young man climbed to the treetop and reached out to grasp the yellow bit of fluff, then with a mocking chirp, swooped away and perched in another tree to continue his song.

The chase went on for an hour, from 1 until 2 p.m., and covered a block, from Ave. X to Ave. Y. On Oliver's seventh tree climbing escapade, the canary, either tired of his freedom or exhausted by his unaccustomed exercise, let himself be taken captive and carried home to safety and to his cage.

Pretty Boy is none the worse for his vacation, but Oliver has a mask of mercurochrome war paint, and a collection of twig scratches and bruises, plus a determination to padlock the family canary in his cage for a long time to come.

O'Briens Will Rest Contract Troubles

HOLLYWOOD, June 9 (AP) — Margaret O'Brien and her mother are planning a vacation today, following the child star's reinstatement on the MGM payroll and the mother's filing of a suit for divorce from her husband of three months.

"Little Miss Pigtails" and her studio made up yesterday following a mutual agreement June 1 that her $3000-a-week contract be terminated.

Her mother, Mrs. Gladys O'Brien Sylvio, in her divorce action filed yesterday, charged bandleader Don Sylvio with extreme cruelty. She accused him of "numerous separate, independent acts" of cruelty, but did not specify them.

Twelve-year-old Margaret and her mother made plans for a six to eight-week vacation before the youngster resumes her screen career.

Meantime, Sylvio through attorney Leonard Wilson, said he will file a demurrer demanding that the divorce suit be explicit. He also threatened to contest the suit.

"I don't see how he had time to be cruel to her," Wilson said. "According to her, he's only been with her three times, with Margaret present on all occasions."

Sylvio contends the marriage was consummated. The wedding was in Palm Beach, Fla., last Feb. 22, at which time the young actress wept, clenched her fist, and refused to kiss her new stepfather.

Doctors Remove Extra Stomach From Infant

NEWARK, N. J., June 9 (INS)—Physicians at Newark's Beth Israel hospital removed an extra stomach from 11-weeks-old Sidney Kurtze yesterday.

The child's condition was reported as "good."

Medical authorities say chances of an extra stomach are "one in a million."

Remains of stone-age cakes, made of coarsely-ground grain, were found in the Swiss lake-dwellings.

The new manager, who has been associated with Montgomery Ward & Co., 20 years, moved here from Wichita, Kas. For the last six years, he has been district manager, in charge of 19 Kansas stores, with headquarters in Wichita.

Prior to that, he served as manager of stores in Grand Island and Columbus, Neb., Grand Junction, Colo., Clinton and Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Sheboyan and Green Bay, Wisc., and Fairmont, Minn.

His wife and son, Thomas, 12, are in Wichita and will join Dovel after he finds a place for his family to live.

Dovel is a member of the Masonic lodge, having joined the Chapman lodge in Las Vegas, N. M., when living there in 1929 and 1930.

Fish And Game Agent Plans Trip To Alaska

L. J. Dugger, of Lubbock, game management agent of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service, has left by plane for Seattle, and from there will go by boat to Alaska to spend three months.

He and nine other wardens from the United States have been assigned to summer duty in Alaska.

Dugger will be on patrol activities for law enforcement related to fish and migratory birds. He will return to Lubbock in September.

The trip from Seattle to Wrangel, Alaska, will be made on The Pelican, 180-foot boat of the Fish and Wildlife service.

Another agent will be assigned to spend part of his time in Lubbock during the summer in game management work, it was announced from the Fish and Wildlife service office in the Federal building.

Atomic Strike Threat Halted

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., June 9. (AP)—The CIO United Chemical workers won an eight cents an hour wage increase for 2,000 atomic plant employes here today.

A new contract was agreed upon by officials of the union and of Carbide and Carbon Chemicals corporation as the old contract expired at midnight last night.

It assured continued production of the vital atomic bomb element—uranium 235—in the huge gaseous diffusion production plant here.

And it averted a threatened strike which would have been the first in a government atomic plant.

The CIO members were scheduled to vote at two meetings today on ratification of the new agreement. Their average wage under the new contract will be $1.67 hourly.

Company Sought Cut

The union had sought a 25-cent increase in nearly two months' of negotiations. Carbide, which operates all atomic installations here for the government, proposed a six-cent reduction in wages.

The company also is negotiating with the AFL Atomic Trades and Labor council toward a new contract for 800 employes of Oak Ridge National laboratory.

The AFL workers receive an average wage of $1.53 an hour under a contract which expires July 1.

The CIO agreement with carbide was announced after almost 40 hours of continuous negotiations.

A joint company-union statement said the contract is to run for two years with provision for re-opening wage discussions after one year.

The statement disclosed that in addition to the wage increases, the agreement provided: Time off for jury duty and for funerals in employes' families, several upward adjustments in representations on committees, a minimum of five cents per hour increase on promotion, and an improved grievance procedure.

Thousands of the posters have been sent to all Air Force bases in the United States, making the dog one of the most widely-publicized in the world.

Brotherhood Of Man Fostered On Campus

MINNEAPOLIS, June 9. (U.P.)—The national Jewish Hillel Foundation presented a medal named for King Gustav of Sweden to a University of Minnesota Negro student who organized a drive to raise money for Chinese students.

The annual award, together with a $100 scholarship, went this year to Archie Holmes of Emerson, Ark., for doing "the most to promote inter-faith and inter-racial relations" on the campus.

Holmes helped raise funds for Chinese students in the United States whose income was cut off because of conditions in their native country.

Hillel makes the award in Gustav's name because of the Scandinavian monarch's work during the last world war in sheltering Jewish refugees.

FILMS ARE REJECTED

Iranian censors rejected five United States and one Indian film recently, Tehran reports, reasons given being: Immorality, royalty depicted unfavorably superstitious religious practices, facetious treatment of crime, and subject unsuitable for Iranian audiences.

One of the earliest examples of Roman bronze is a coin minted in 20 B. C.

Hillel makes the award in Gustav's name because of the Scandinavian monarch's work during the last world war in sheltering Jewish refugees.

Husband-Hunting "Luscious Lucy" Thinks She Has Found Her Mate At Jaycee Meeting

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 9. (AP)—"Luscious Lucy" appears to have found her man.

Lucille Archibeque, a Los Angeles accounting clerk, is attending the current convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce for the admitted purpose of locating a husband.

The 23-year-old brunette, whose extravangant physical architecture has already earned her the name of "Luscious Lucy" among the Jaycee delegates, said last night that 24-year-old Sandy Crews is "just what I'm looking for."

"He's got the most terrific manners," she said in an interview and he speaks terrific French. I love his French."

Crews, an automobile salesman from St. Catharine, Ontario, in Canada, is a convention delegate.

"Really Got Something"

His unabashed opinion of Lucille is: "She's really got something."

He appears unconcerned over the fact Lucille's husband-hunting expedition is backed by a radio program, Art Linkletter's "People Are Funny." And he isn't especially averse to the idea that she must send periodic "progress reports" to Linkletter.

Miss Archibeque is pledged to make a second appearance on the air next fall when the Linkletter program is resumed. At that time she will give a detailed summary of her experiences as a huntress.

Crews' only worry is that competition may become a little too crowded in this jammed resort town. "I've got to figure a way to scrape off all the other guys hanging around," he said. "You know, this convention ends Sunday. I been thinking. A guy 24-years-old ought to be having thoughts about marriage."

New Friend Brings Man Luck Briefly

BOSTON, June 9. (U.P.)—Frank Elsner's new friend brought him luck at Revere's Wonderland Park dog track and took it way, literally.

Just after Elsner made the man's acquaintance he had a streak of fortune. For three nights he won, building $300 into $1,500. His new friend stood by smiling.

Then the man asked Elsner for a lift home after the races. In nearby Medford he pulled a revolver and relieved Elsner of the $1,500.

ALTHOUGH more than 13 months separate Texans and the next State Democratic primary election day, some races already are shaping up, but quick.

Embryo candidates already are "sounding out the folks." They are appearing at barbecues, rodeos, picnics, commencement programs, civic club meetings and, for all we know, at gatherings of old ladies sewing circles.

In fact, the state already is overflowing with ambitious politicos—young and old—who will make a speech at the drop of a hat—and drop the hat for you.

These early "sounding-out" jaunts are good business, politically speaking.

There's no political "heat" on now, and the junketeers have plenty of time and opportunity to talk before and with people without being questioned too much concerning what they're for and against, or about their past political records and connections.

Unannounced Candidate Blow can get before groups now that he couldn't reach during a campaign. He can make new friendships which he fondly hopes will still be flowering in the early months of 1950, when he's actually on the trail of votes.

EVERYBODY knows how the gubernatorial derby is shaping up. It will attract Attorney General Price Daniel, Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson, probably Lt. Gov. Allen Shivers and, doubtless, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles as the major warriors. Conceivably, it could attract one of two promising West Texas candidates who might upset the applecart.

But 1950 will be one year in which there will be plenty of activity in the Attorney general's race, too, because the successful candidate will have a good leg up on the governor's job in 1954.

Since Attorney General Daniel will be vacating the office, it's "wide open," as the boys say. And the race there not only will be hot, but it also will present to the people, statewide, three or four promising young men whose political activities here before have been local, or unofficial.

The four top candidates for attorney general are expected to be two big city district attorneys, a widely known Junior Chamber of Commerce whooper-upper, and a semi-professional Young Democrat. All are attractive and promising young men and each has his eye on Bigger Things in the Future—not only the governorship, but also, perhaps, a seat in the U. S. Senate.

These four young men are Dallas District Attorney Will R. Wilson; San Antonio District Attorney Bill Hensley; former U. S. and Texas Jaycee President John Ben Shepperd, of Gladewater; Roy G. Baker, of Sherman, a bigwig in the Young Democrats organization in the state and nation.

All of the aspirants are veterans, with Wilson and Hensley having seen an unusual amount of action. Wilson bossed a field artillery outfit in the South Pacific that knocked the Japs into the middle of next week; Hensley, an air ace, still delights south Texans with aerial acrobatics over their outdoor get-togethers.

THE attorney general's race, with four such promising youngsters on the firing line, should be interesting to watch and fraught with possibilities.

The way things look now, any of the four might come out on top albeit Shepperd, Hensley and Wilson, at this juncture, seem to have a slight edge on Baker. Hensley and Wilson are better off geographically, while Shepperd, who has been a constant traveler over the state for the past four years, has a tremendous number of personal contacts. Most of the latter are with energetic young men who might get out and beat the bushes for him come election time.

At any rate, it looks like Texas has a better-than-usual chance of getting a better-than-usual attorney general out of the quartet. Perhaps the state eventually will get a better-than-usual governor, too.

THE other day we got a letter, signed "Farmer's Wife," about the fly problem in the rural areas.

"Farmer's Wife" said she believed flies are more numerous this year than ever before in her part of the country; pointed out the dangers of flies spreading polio and other diseases, and asked us to tell her what sort of spray will work fatally on the pests. She says she has been unable to find a good outside fly spray and believes many other farm wives are in the same predicment.

Not being an old fly sprayer, we turned to Gerald Jarvis, head of the Health department of the City of Lubbock, for counsel. Mr. Jarvis had the answer, but not so we can give it, intelligently, in the paper.

Mr. Jarvis says his department mixes up a good outside spray and, as much as possible, will make the spray available free to rural wives who apply for it at his offices in the Lubbock City hall.

If there are too many applicants for the City of Lubbock to handle, Mr. Jarvis says he will get some of the chemical supply houses with which he deals to make up batches to fill the need and sell them to the consumer.

No doubt many farm families would like to solve their fly problem and they can do it by applying at the City of Lubbock Health department.

In knocking out their own flies, they'll be helping everybody else, too.

IT'S all very embryonic, to date, but the word is out that Connie Hilton, world's No. 1 innkeeper, might be persuaded to put a few more floors on top of his local boardinghouse.

The directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce met on the matter the other day, and voted to send Vice President Retha Martin to Los Angeles to beard Mr. Hilton in his den. But before Mr. Martin could pack his grip, Mr. Hilton agreed to come here within the next two weeks. It seems he has to go to Chicago on business and will stop of in Lubbock en route back to L.A.

We hope the local nabobs will be able to sell Mr. Hilton on expanding here.

After all, Lubbock needs more hotel rooms, more public rooms in hotels, for every-day use as well as for conventions. Furthermore, Mr. Hilton likely will remember back less than 20 years ago, when the hotel here was his best paying property—and when most of his other hostelries were in the red.

BY DREW PEARSON: LIBERAL SENATOR DOUGLAS EDGES OVER TOWARD REPUBLICANS

Public Housing Bickering Frays Solons' Tempers

WASHINGTON.—Liberal Democrats are doing some frantic missionary work on Illinois' strong-willed Senator Paul Douglas to steer him away from his right-wing drift.

PEARSON

When Douglas ran for the Senate last fall the charge of pink and left-wing radical was constantly hurled at him by the Chicago Tribune. Friends of Douglas knew this was anything but true. But they did not know that once elected to the Senate he would veer so sharply to the right. Now some of the senators who were elected in the same senatorial turnover last November fear their colleague is actually edging over to the Republicans.

What really worries the Democrats is that Douglas has been conferring privately with Republicans on the Taft-Hartley law. He also favors more compromises than the administration approves, won't accept a flat 75-cent minimum wage, and is even more vigorous than Republicans in advocating economy.

One liberal senator, listening to Douglas preach economy on the Senate floor, shook his head sadly.

"Douglas came into Congress as a great liberal," the senator flung over his shoulder, "but he'll end up as a great conservative."

Other liberal senators who rode the Democratic tide into the Senate with Douglas last November—such as Humphrey of Minnesota, Anderson of New Mexico, Kefauver of Tennessee—have tried backing Douglas into a corner and giving him a friendly pep talk.

But one senator complained: "It's no use. He just gets his back up and bristles."

Another liberal colleague tried to explain Douglas's behavior: "He's just knocking a few balls out into right field to prove that he's not a radical and a Communist."

Douglas Is Amused

Douglas, himself, chuckled the other day at his colleagues' concern.

"Liberals sniff each other just as dogs do," he twinkled. "Don't worry. I'm still a liberal."

Then with a grave frown, he added: "There's a danger of liberals and conservatives becoming stereotyped."

Explaining his stand on economy, Douglas declared: "I believe in spending less, but I believe in spending it humanely. Some want to economize by eliminating social welfare. I want to economize on other things to make more money available for social welfare."

Instead of the flat 75-cent minimum wage called for by President Truman, Douglas wants a 75-cent minimum wage with an escalator clause, permitting it to go up or down depending upon business conditions.

Some of Douglas's worst critics are government economists. Though Douglas was an economics professor at the University of Chicago, government experts claim his economics aren't sound.

In reply, Douglas snorts: "It's guilt by association in reverse.

Note—Douglas has proved his ability as both a man of letters and a man of action. Though an over-age professor, he enlisted in the Marines as a private during the last war, worked up to the rank of lieutenant colonel. Twice wounded in action, he was awarded the bronze star for heroism.

BICKERING OVER the public housing bill was so heated in the House rules committee the other day that New York's stately G.O.P. Congressman Jim Wadsworth grabbed his hat and threatened to walk out.

Though the housing bill has passed the Senate and was recommended by the banking and currency committee, it was long stymied inside the rules committee.

Fireworks started when Rep. Ralph Church, Illinois Republican, charged that the people chiefly benefitting from the housing bill were "too lazy" to look for homes.

"These are the type of people who always are depending on the government to help them," snorted Church. "They never do for themselves."

This brought a hearty "amen" from another Republican, Rep. Donald Nicholson of Massachusetts.

"The poor," he said, "we will always have with us. They had them in Jesus' time, before and since that time." He added that he opposed the "handout" philosophy of the housing bill.

"Well, Jesus believed in charity and urged aid to the poor, didn't he?" snapped Chairman Adolph Sabath of Illinois, Democrat.

"I'd like to invite these gentlemen to come to my district, where they would see thousands of homeless people who are not poor and not lazy," angrily broke in Indiano's two-fisted Congressman Ray Madden, another Democrat.

"Workers in the mills in Gary and other plants are forced to live in trailer camps, where there are as many as 700 families bunched together. These people are crying for homes of their own and they could afford to pay seven or eight thousand dollars. But they can't afford to pay the $20,000 and $30,000 being charged for homes by the big real estate boys.

"I don't thing Congressman Church would be interested in coming down to your district," needled Sabath. "He represents a silk-stocking district north of Chicago where they don't have any housing worries to speak of."

At this point Jim Wadsworth grabbed his hat, with the gruff comment: "This discussion is getting too personal for me." Finally placated by colleagues, however, he agreed to remain.

FBI men are investigating the sale of a large section of Brooklyn waterfront to the Coast Guard by the late Joseph P. Day, a big New York real estate operator. The land, known as Manhattan beach, was sold to the government during the war. Chivalry has triumphed over seniority. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, the one and only lady senator, has finally won her fight for a ladies' room in the Capitol building. . . A few unscrupulous landlords were responsible for bringing rent control back to Americus, Ga.—the worst offenders being R. C. Moran and O. C. Law, who doubled rents on slum dwellings the minute rent control was lifted. They didn't even bother to notify their tenants, and in one case, Moran raised the rent 300 per cent. Lesson to the rest of the nation is: if Americus had been decontrolled by the state instead of by the rent director, the town could never have applied for recontrol.

Ever Since He Came To Work For Us

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Washington's Voice-Of-Doom Boys Like The Immortal Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 9.—Every time the indispensable boys in Washington start to sound off in voice of doom, I get to thinking about the immortal J. N. Free. The immortal J. N. Free said he would never die. The mortal remains of the immortal J. N. rest in the Mc Cutehenville cemetery, north of Upper Sandusky. They have been resting there since 1906.

RUARK

The immortal J. N. was a little crazy, some say, but that would be hard to prove. He just wanted everything free, like his surname, and if people didn't give him everything he clouded up all over. He said he would "turn the pressure on them."

There is no single instance of his ever being forced to turn on the pressure. All he did was threaten. Nor did he ever "lift the veil," another superhuman feat he was always threatening. Mr. Ben Hayes says that the immortal J. N. would storm into a schoolroom, walk up to the blackboard and write "I will lift the veil at town hall tonight at 8 p. m.—The Immortal J. N. Free."

By the time the crowd had gathered to peer into the beyond, the immortal J. N. was in another county.

Wearing his white hair long, to match his frock coat of black broadcloth, the immortal J. N. traveled all over the country. He traveled free on the trains, using passes which he sometimes wrote himself.

Free Air Best

Railroad presidents were eager to give passes to the immortal J. N. Mr. Hayes says the president of the Pennsylvania railroad wanted to write him a lifetime pass, but J. N. refused. He said that since he was immortal it wouldn't be valid. Whereupon the Pennsy's man wrote him a pass labeled "good until doomday." He carried still another pass that was good "until hell freezes over."

The immortal J. N. refused to stoop to the sordid levels of commerce. He said the best thing in the world was air, and air was free. If air was free, all other inferior commodities should be free.

He stayed in the best hotels, and never paid a nickel.

You may have the impression that the immortal J. N. was selfish. That is not so. Once he told every little girl in New Lexington, Ohio, that if they would meet him Thursday he would buy them all new dresses. When Thursday came, the bargain slipped his mind, and he was not to be found, a fact that never seemed to mar his generosity of intent.

THE IMMORTAL J. N.'s control over people was highly similar to that of our modern governing practices. He promised to reveal all—and never did. He backed his demands with threats—but never fulfilled them. Still and all he was able to ride the free horse until his immortality ended at the age of 77.

The important J. N. came of excellent family. Some say he was a brilliant lawyer whose mind slipped its ratchet under the stress of a long murder trial. The other version is that he was a big dealer in horses and blew his top after a wrangle with the government over a transaction about Civil war mules.

Delusions Come Easy

Neither explanation is necessary. Delusions of mightiness are easy to come by, and need little care or feeding. The immortal J. N. found soon that an intimation of immortality, for practical purposes, is nearly as good as the real thing, and that neither threats nor promises need be executed for general effectiveness.

Mr. Truman, as I recall, was elected on a similar program, and since has administered his office along the same lines. Mr. Roosevelt's long tenure was in many ways a duplicate of the immortal J. N.'s credo. The military, labor and the atom boys all have plucked leaves from the book of the immortal J. N. Free.

It might be well to reflect, however, that despite the immortal J. N.'s protestations of permanency, his grave may be visited in the McCutehenville cemetery—which is, as I said before, just a little north of Upper Sandusky.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

IN REARING children there are only two things to cause parents worry. They are sickness and disgrace.

So says Mrs. Pearle Gillis of Fort Worth, Texas, American Mother of the Year, who brought up six children of her own and helped eight other children obtain educations.

MILLETT

Some people may regard Mrs. Gillis' philosophy as old-fashioned. Perhaps it is. But it is still sound.

And it is a philosophy that would enable many of today's parents to bring up four or five children with little more worry than they expend on one or two. For the greatest trouble with today's conscientious parents is that they worry about too many problems.

They become alarmed if Junior doesn't react to a given situation in just the way the child psychology books say he should.

STRESS ON "AUTHORITIES"

THEY DO the best they can as parents, and when they discover that some "authority" does not agree on the way they have handled a problem, they worry for fear they have done real harm to their child.

They are overly-concerned with complexes and frustrations and helping the child adjust to this or that situation. If they could adopt the philosophy of this year's American Mother, brining up children wouldn't be such a continual strain. There would be far more pleasure and joy in it—and much greater personal satisfaction.

If we could just learn to reduce the reasons for worry about our children, we could increase the size of our families.

But, perhaps, it is easier to do it the other way. Increase the size of our families, and then we won't have the time or energy to worry over trivial matters. With a houseful of children parents can't very well fret over anything but major problems.

'Try And Stop Me"

THIS story must be told about a Scotch terrier His mistress, off for a five-day vacation, gave the pooch five shiny pennies and said, "Now, Mac, take one of these pennies in your mouth every morning while I'm gone, trot down to the bakery, and buy yourself a nice hot bun."

Mac did no such thing, however. He took all five pennies in his mouth at the same time and got six buns for a nickel.

Today's Journal Editorial

A COMMENDABLE STEP

The newly authorized Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools seems a logical step toward correcting conditions in some of the institutions, particularly the mental hospitals, which are and long have been scandalous.

Operations of these institutions have been under the supervision of the State Board of Control. This board long has been burdened with more responsibilities than it can attend to properly. The state hospitals have become so numerous to demand the attention of a board which can concentrate upon bringing these institutions up to standard and keeping them there.

The decision to create the hospital board is, without question, one of the most constructive acts of the present session of the Legislature. It should follow logically now that the Legislature should defer action on the enormous long-range building program requested for State hospitals by Governor Jester until after the new board has been named and has been given the opportunity to make studies upon which intelligent recommendations can be based.

. . . the story of the sign that was hidden on a quiet street . . .

When a "For Sale" sign is posted on a piece of property, the market possibilities are limited by the number of passersby. The quiet street that makes a residence attractive is not apt to attract lots of traffic or a very large number of prospective buyers.

. . . But a well worded want ad placed in The Avalanche-Journal Want Ad Section will reach thousands of people who are eager to buy a home . . . for Avalanche-Journal Want Ads are the largest market place for Real Estate in this territory.
