THE SDN COLUMN

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "When opportunity knocks, a pessimist complains about the noise."

This school year is winding down, and the achievements among local citizens have been astounding.

Being a National Merit Scholarship Finalist was impressive, but Snyder senior Trey Gorman took it a notch higher this week, being recipient of a $2,000 National Merit Scholarship.

Gorman and teammates Trevor Kerr and Wade Ashby are in Austin this weekend representing SHS in the UIL academic meet.

And congrats to another young scholar.

Blake Robertson, 7th grade daughter of Dayton and Bettsey Robertson, has been honored by Duke University's Talent Identification Program, scoring a 510 on the SAT math and verbal tests and a 28 in the ACT math and verbal tests.

Karomy Drum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Drum of Snyder, has been awarded the Ruth Skiles Endowed Memorial Scholarship at Hardin-Simmons University.

The SHS Tiger baseball team takes on Joshua tonight in hopes of making it a march to the state tournament.

Meanwhile eight Lady Tigers garnered all-district softball honors. Junior Whitney Webb was named defensive player of the year while senior Kristin Martinez grabbed offensive player of the year honors. Top newcomer to the league was freshman Shelly Fisk. Senior hurler Courtney Rinehart along with juniors Jennifer Newman and Cameron Mackey were first-team selections. Honorable mention went to Kira Diaz and Amber Haarmeyer.

Headed for state!

Three SHS tracksters are headed for the state meet in Austin next weekend.

All three were second-place finishers in the regional track meet held in San Angelo. Mark Medley will compete in the shot put, Jared Thornhill advanced in the pole vault and Rudy Martinez in the two-mile run.

And from Ira, Bulldog Logan Daves earned a trip to the state track meet with a runner-up finish in the shot put.

Hats off to WTC wranglers for winning both the men's and women's regional crown and a trip to the National Finals Collegiate Rodeo in Wyoming next month. Coach is Greg Rhodes.

And congratulations to Barbara Granato for being recognized by the Snyder Rotary Club for the organization's vocational service award.

Also, it's important to recognize the entire community for raising almost $40,000 during the big Relay for Life event last weekend.

WTC, Ira ISD and city...

Saturday is election day

Election Day is Saturday and voters will decide trustee positions at Western Texas College and Ira ISD as well as the District 4 city councilman.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The early voting period for the elections ended Tuesday with light turnout in all three races.

In the Western Texas College board of trustees election, John Zalman, James Hanks and Scott Richburg are seeking the Place 6 post while incumbents Lee Presswood in Place 5 and Eddie Peterson in Place 7 are unopposed.

The college trustee race drew the most voter attention during the early voting period as 91 went to the polls.

Polls for the WTC election will be set up at City Hall, Ira Community Center and Hermleigh High School.

Ira voters will decide between Gilbert Sanchez and Dennis D. Taylor for the Place 4 post on the Ira school board.

Dirk Dunn is unopposed for re-election to Place 5.

Twenty-six people cast an early ballot at Ira.

Polls will be set up in the Ira Community Center.

The Snyder City Council race between incumbent I.E. Martin and Jason Spradlin for the District 4 seat drew 30 early voters.

Voting in the municipal election will be at city hall.

Fiesta events scheduled

Cinco de Mayo Fiesta 2000 festivities will get underway at 8 this evening in Snyder.

Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church will sponsor a full schedule of activities this weekend, kicking off at 8 tonight with a dance featuring "Voltage" at the Latin American Center.

Activities are planned all day Saturday at the church, beginning at 10 a.m. when booths open.

Food, music and dancing will be just part of the all-day celebration.

A flag ceremony will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday and an outdoor Mass with Mariachi Estrella is planned for 6 p.m. Saturday.

The highlight of the festivities will be the queen coronation at 8 p.m. Saturday. This year's queen is Vibeana Facundo. She is the daughter of Eleno and Beatrice Facundo of Fluvanna.

The 2000 princess is Yesennia Cabrera, daughter of Hilario and Cinnia Cabrera of Snyder.

The queen was determined by fundraisers held by candidates to benefit Our Lady of Guadalupe Church.

A dance begins at 9 p.m. Saturday featuring Johnny "G" y Grupo Momento.

On Sunday, booths open at noon and Music Man Production will be the deejay.

A parade of the queen and princess with their escorts will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday on the grounds.

Music and entertainment will continue through 10 p.m. Sunday.

GOD'S FAVORITE* SCENE — Justin Stice who plays David Benjamin and Kent Wright, standing, who plays Joe Benjamin in the Ritz Community Theatre production are shown in a scene of God's Favorite. The Neil Simon comedy production dates are May 5-7 and May 12-14 with curtain time at 8 p.m. and Sunday matinees are at 2:30. Tickets may be reserved by calling 573-8880, or purchased at the door prior to the performance. (Staff Photo by Jo Ann Nunley)

Senior Center fund-raiser...

May Day ready to kick off

May Day kicks off at 2 p.m. Saturday at Scurry County Coliseum. The annual fund-raiser benefits the Scurry County Senior Citizens Center.

A variety of activities are planned throughout the afternoon and evening, including entertainment and the silent auction. Crafts and baked goods, made by seniors, will also be sold at booths. Due to health regulations, homemade pies cannot be sold, only commercially baked ones.

Local businesses have donated items for the silent auction..

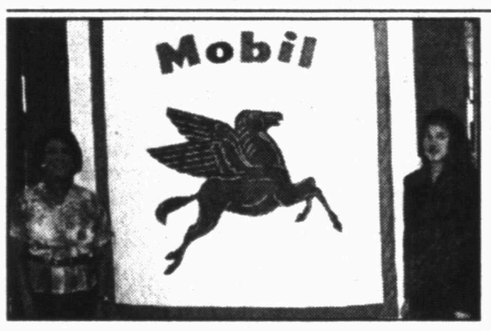

May Day also includes the barbecue which will be served from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Tickets cost $6 per plate and may be purchased at the Senior Center, from seniors or at May Day. The Exxon-Mobil cooking team will again donate and prepare the brisket.

The quilt auction will begin at 6:30 p.m. with Grady and Molly Morris as the auctioneers. Items to be auctioned include 31 large quilts (embroidery, pieced, candle wicking, applique, panel, fabric painting), one comforter, 12 baby quilts, 8 afghans and a pair of collectible china dolls called Laughing Baby."

"All of the quilts are special and unique," says Pam Fenton, activities director, "but we have one quilt this year that has generated tremendous interest. Our quilters have made a Mobil quilt with the Pegasus on a white background with, red, white and blue borders."

Many of the quilts have been displayed in local banks and businesses.

The Sparkle City Line Dancers will perform from 2 p.m. to 2:20 p.m. Deep Creek Cloggers will take the stage from 2:30 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. The Kitchen Band will perform from 3:30-4:30 p.m. Hoss Clayton Band will be on from 5 to 6 p.m.

WTC to graduate 72 students tonight

Some 72 students are scheduled to cross the stage this evening as Western Texas College commencement exercises get underway at 7:30 in the campus' central courtyard.

If inclement weather should occur, the ceremony will be moved to First Baptist Church.

Commencement speakers will be Christopher Holt, golf, grounds and landscape technology major from Amarillo; Matt Pond, agriculture major from McCaulley; and Connie Irving, accounting major from Hermleigh.

Stephanie Ducheneaux, math instructor and president of the Faculty Association, will offer the response.

Dr. Harry Krenek, WTC president, will give the welcome and make introductions.

Bettie McQueen, WTC vice president, will present the candidates for awarding of degrees and certificates, and Dr. Jay Kidd, board president, will present the degrees and certificates.

Rev. Craig Curry, pastor of First United Methodist Church, will offer the invocation, while Homer Anderson, minister of 37th Street Church of Christ, will give the benediction.

Mayor Dayton Robertson will also make a special presentation.

A reception will follow in the Student Center.

Candidates for graduation include Lisa A. Alonzo, Brandon D. Bankhead, Kerry L. Bankhead, Candace Denise Barrow, Carolyn Elam Botts, Danielle L. Brown, Cynthia Carol Bynum, Jimmy Michael Carey, Chad Jeffery Chaney, Olivia Daniel, Patricia Crystal Duran, James D. Elrod, Carrie Fincher and Christopher W. Halbert.

Others include Mandy Leigh Heaton, Matt Hester, Crystal D'Ann Johnson, Whitney Rebecca Kimbley, Larry Joe Lambaren, Melissa R. Lee, Laurel M. Leuck, Corey Leanne Martinez, Olivia Ann Martinez, Jason McGrath, Mikayla Shepard McGrew, James Turner Means, Heather Annette Moon and Natasha Ojeda.

Other candidates are Shana Janeen Parkerson, Dallas Pollei, Matt Mason Pond, Daniel Lee Pulattie, Angela Rochelle Riggs, Monica Jill Roberson, Jeronimo L. Ruiz, Connie Jo Rushing, Shante L. Russell, Chad M. Sauntry, Cecilia Jeanette Valadez, Amanda Joy Williams, Kory Don Williams and Shelley Lanese York.

Others are Brad E. Easter, David F. Ginkinger, Reynaldo Gomez, Andrea Renee Hernandez, Michael Hodges, David W. Holley, Christopher Bryant Holt, Matthew L. Hughes, Kenneth Ray Irwin, Jason Kerby, Stephen C. Malcuit, Vick Miller, John Kyle Moore, Kristen Lynnette Null, Bradley Reeves, Toby Joe Robinson, Michelle Renee Rowe, Geoffrey M. Sanders and Joe Dale Smith.

Also, Charlotte Barrett, Lisandra Bueno, Connie Irvine, Alicia Irwin, Susan Klein, Doyle Eugene Lee, Robert Tyson Evans, Loretta F. Rios, Robert Shane Sellers, Christina Wagner and Belenda Wortham.

State officials to review bonfire report

DALLAS (AP) — Texas A&M University's bonfire collapse report will be reviewed by a state panel which will decide whether any Texas laws or engineering standards were violated.

The report by a five-member commission appointed by the university blamed flawed construction techniques and a lack of adequate supervision of students assembling the 2 million-pound log stack for the Nov. 18 collapse that killed 12 Aggies and injured 27 others.

Members of the Texas Board of Professional Engineers will now review the report. A subcommittee of the nine-member panel are to make recommendations to the full board before its June 14 regular meeting.

"This whole bonfire issue will be thoroughly discussed," Victoria Hsu, the board's executive director, told The Dallas Morning News in today's editions. "This is the first step in recommending to the board what actions should be taken."

Hsu, a licensed professional engineer, said jurisdiction over the bonfire project was still being determined. Professional engineers have historically had no formal role in the annual construction of a six-tier tower of logs before the Texas-Texas A&M football game.

However, the university has a strong engineering presence in its academic departments. The Dwight Look College of Engineering has 10 departments ranging from aerospace to petroleum engineering.

Lane Stephenson, an A&M spokesman, said the university "will cooperate with the board and provide any desired information."

The A&M commission's report, announced Tuesday, also said students and administrators involved with the bonfire ignored long-standing problems, such as students lacking sufficient engineering knowledge to make informed decisions related to the bonfire's design and construction.

Larry Grosse, chairman of the Colorado State University construction science department, had in November come to conclusions similar to those identified by the $1.8 million study.

Grosse, formerly of Texas A&M, had helped student bonfire builders for 13 years until leaving the school's top construction science post in 1995. When he told the Bryan-College Station Eagle his theories, peers along with current and former students criticized him for seeking media attention.

He now says he feels vindicated but received no great satisfaction from the report, which found that steel cables were not wrapped around the first bonfire stack and logs weren't wired together to provide sufficient strength.

Texas law requires that projects costing more than $8,000 which may affect public safety must be supervised and designed by licensed engineers.

"Basically, if it is an engineering project, according to the engineering practice act, if you are not exempted you need a professional engineer to do it," Hsu said. "Or have it be supervised by a professional engineer."

Johnson to teach magic again

Abracadabra! Now you see it, now you don't.

Reid Johnson, who is completing his freshman year at Western Texas College, will teach "A Lil Bit of Magic" at WTC's Kids College, which begins June 12 and runs through June 22. Preregistration will be held from 2-7:30 p.m. Monday, May 15.

Johnson will teach three classes each day, each lasting one hour. The kindergarten through second grade class will begin at 1 p.m. Two different classes will be offered for third through sixth grade. One will begin at 2:10 p.m. and the other at 3:30 p.m.

Johnson's classes will vary from lessons for beginners to more advanced ones for children who have taken his class in pervious summers. He will include tricks taught in previous summers and as well as new ones.

Children will learn two magic tricks each day, and will have ample opportunity to practice, Johnson said. They will also get to take their tricks home.

The $5 supply fee will cover the cost of materials needed for each trick.

Students also will learn the rules of magic and Johnson said he will reveal some of the secrets behind the magic tricks performed by professional magicians like David Copperfield.

This is Johnson's fourth year to teach magic at Kids College. He graduated from Snyder High School in 1999.

Wisconsin withdrawing its inmates

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Wisconsin Department of Corrections says it will cease renting space for its convicts in Texas jails by July 1.

Department Secretary Jon Litscher announced the date Thursday in a memorandum to the Legislature.

To ease congestion in its prisons, the department began sending convicts to county jails in Texas in 1996.

At one time, there were as many as 740 convicts in eight jails at a cost of $40 per inmate per day.

The department said last year it planned to phase out its Texas contracts, sending convicts instead to prisons in other states.

Wisconsin currently has 214 convicts in Texas, department spokesman William Clausius said. They will return to Wisconsin rather than go to other states' prisons, he said.

Wisconsin now has 4,790 convicts including 313 women in rented space in other states' prisons, most of them in Tennessee, Oklahoma and Minnesota.

First Christian to host meet

First Christian Church will host this year's annual meeting of the Central Area of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Some 50 delegates from congregations in the Central Area are expected. The region is bordered by Wichita Falls on the north, Brownwood on the south, Midland on the west, and Cisco on the east.

The meeting will feature a morning business session, workshops in the morning and afternoon, lunch at The Shack, and a worship service at 3 p.m. The guest speaker will be Dr. Dan Saucedo, director of the Inman Christian Center in San Antonio.

The Inman Center, located on the south side of San Antonio, is one of the oldest church-related missions in San Antonio, established during the middle of The Depression. For more than 50 years, the Inman Center has helped people living in the south side to obtain housing, jobs, health care, food clothing and other aid.

Dr. Tim Griffin, pastor of Snyder's First Christian Church, said the congregation is happy to host the meeting, and he welcomes people from everywhere.

Rev. Nan Swanson, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will serve as one of the leaders of the workshop. She will speak on the local Food Cupboard, which is sponsored by the Scurry County Ministerial Alliance.

Your Birthday

Saturday, May 6, 2000
Greater measures than you'd expect are likely to be taken in the year ahead by people who want to reciprocate your past good deeds. Benefits may come in both career and social areas.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Use today to spend your time on truly meaningful objectives. You could find you'll be luckier than usual now in attaining them. Mundane goals can be taken care of later. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) One of your hopes that's been on the brink of being realized may pop through that line today and grant you your desire. Don't give up.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your best breaks might come in an area where you are doing something in conjunction with another. In fact, there's a possibility you'll be adding to your holdings through this.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Usually, it's unwise to take a chance on someone you hardly know, but today, unless you're extremely foolish, things might not work out too badly. Most people are kinder than we think.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Although this may be a weekend, some kind of opportunity that could reflect most favorably on your work or career could be in the offing for you today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A fun time may be in the winds today, coming in from an unexpected source. Put your tools aside and have some socializing moments with special friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A significant break might come your way today that could be materially beneficial to your family, as well as to you. This will be a pleasent surprise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) People who figure prominently in your immediate plans will be touching base with you with some welcomed news today. It could come from several sources simultaneously.

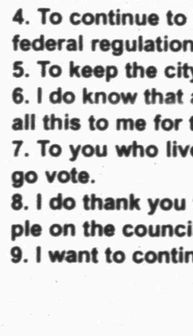

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) What you gain today is not likely to come through channels upon which you customarily rely. Nevertheless, these conditions look especially favorable for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This is an excellent day for unattached Aquarians to get out and circulate. The chances of meeting someone to whom you'll be mutually attracted are very strong.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Surprisingly things should fall neatly into place today without having to expend too much effort. Take advantage of getting tricky jobs around the house done while the trend is with you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Look for some eye-opening conversations in strange places and from the most unexpected people today. You'll find these experiencing most exhilarating and informative.

I want to finish the good things that's been started...

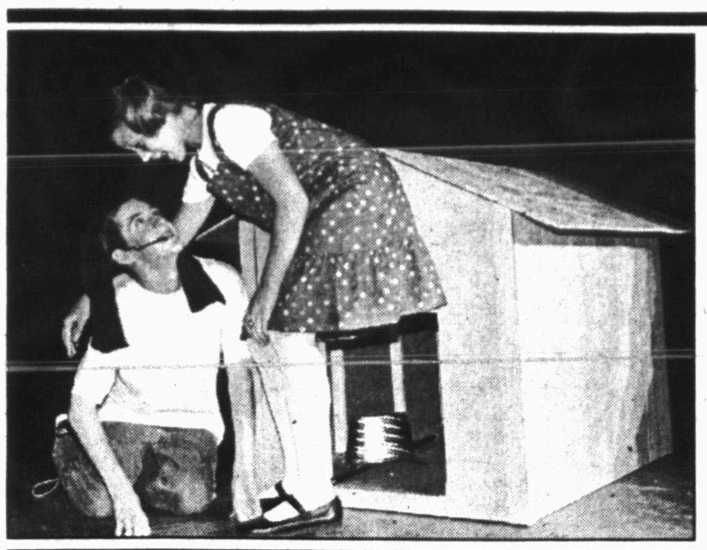

1. To be sure the city supports the STAR Program, not only in a financial way, but by being there when they have a need.
2. To get a contract with the cable system that will give this city T.V. at a fair price, and also be T.V. that is not second rate.
3. To continue to replace water lines that have deteriorated to the extent new lines is the only answer. To do this it requires money to be set aside for this.
4. To continue to keep the sewage plant, water plant, and landfill in compliance with state and federal regulations.
5. To keep the city tax in reasonable limits, and not allow to deteriorate.
6. I do know that all these things belong to you (the people of the city) and you have entrusted all this to me for these past years. For this I am honored.
7. To you who live in District 4, I ask for your vote on May 6. Even if not a vote for me, please go vote.
8. I do thank you for allowing me to serve in this way these past years, to serve with fine people on the council, and also with people that work for the city.
9. I want to continue to work with those that serve the D.C.O.S. to improve Snyder's economy.

'Peanuts' beloved characters coming to the junior high

Snyder Junior High School's drama and choir students are combining their talents to present You're a Good Man Charlie Brown Tuesday as a dinner theatre.

The production will be presented at 7 p.m. in the school's auditorium. The audience will eat first and then watch the play. The tickets are $10 each and include both the meal and the play. They are on sale in the office.

The Peanut Gallery Buffet will feature Charlie Brown's Terrific Turkey; Marcie's Mashed Potatoes, Pigpen's Peas and Carrots, Lucy's Lettuce Salad, Snoopy's Puppy Chow, Peppermint Patty's Pretty Dinner Rolls, and Franklin's Iced Tea.

Janeen Patterson, drama director, and Marcie Dennis, choir director, said they hope to raise enough money so that they won't have to have door-to-door fund-raisers.

The action of the musical takes place during an average day in the life of Charlie Brown. It really is just that, a play made up of little moments from the lives of Charlie Brown and his friends, from Valentine's Day to baseball season, and showing wild optimism to utter despair.

Students in the production are Rankin Hardin as Charlie Brown; Ashley Jenkins as Lucy Van Pelt. Her younger brother, Linus, is played by Josh Kemp. Schroeder is played by Justin Stoker. Patty is played by Kristel Fitts, and Jeff Scott will be Snoopy.

Patterson said, "Since the creator of these characters (Charles Schulz) died this year, the musical is a fitting tribute to him."

Computer 'love bug' gets new disguises

By The Associated Press

Fresh from fending off the insistent advances of an e-mail virus disguised as a love letter, computer users were facing new variations of the destructive bug, one of them concealed as a joke.

Computer systems around the world were infected Thursday as the virus, proclaiming "ILOVEYOU" in the subject line of an e-mail, overwhelmed networks and burrowed into computer hard drives, destroying files containing precious photos and video.

Antivirus experts said the initial outbreak seemed to be slowing, but warned that copycat versions were already making the rounds.

"Things are cooling down a bit as businesses close," Pirkka Palomaki, director of product marketing for the computer security firm F-Secure, said late Thursday. But, he warned, "We would probably anticipate that people will see some of new copycats (this morning)."

By some estimates, the original "love bug" infected tens of millions of computers worldwide, not only spreading by e-mail like last year's Melissa virus, but through instant messaging systems that let people chat on the Internet.

In a malicious twist, the new virus was designed to destroy several types of increasingly popular computer files, including those storing photographs, video and music stored in the digital format known as MP3.

"If this (virus) is unleashed on your home computer, I hope you have backups. It is a destructive file," said Shawn Hernan, vulnerability team manager at the CERT Coordination Center, the government-chartered computer security team at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh.

Initially, the bug also attacked by steering a computer's Internet browser to visit a Web site that later was shut down by its service provider. At the Web site, the virus would download a program that searched for various types of passwords and sent them to an e-mail account that appears to be based in the Philippines, antivirus experts said.

Computer security experts urged computer users to delete any e-mail with an attachment reading "LOVELETTER" or "Very Funny." The virus is activated by opening the attachment.

The virus targets computers running on Microsoft's Windows operating system, attacking the Outlook e-mail program and the Internet Explorer browser, both of which are made by Microsoft.

It spreads like most e-mail viruses, arriving as a seemingly friendly message, infiltrating a person's computer address book and sending copies of itself to contacts listed.

"There were lots of copies of this in mail boxes, but not so much damage," said Carey Nachenberg, chief researcher at Symantec Antivirus Research Center, noting that the Explore.Zip virus that struck last June "was 10 times nastier in terms of its destructive capacity."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation quickly opened a criminal investigation into the outbreak, while computer security firms scurried to post software on their Web sites to scan for the bugs and remove them from infected machines.

The virus disabled e-mail systems on Capitol Hill and in British parliament. State Department officials found the virus in their servers early Thursday and "shut off our connection with the outside world," spokesman Richard Boucher said.

In Latin America, the virus struck institutions from Colombia's Finance Ministry to the newspaper La Nacion in Buenos Aires, whose e-mail server was down most of Thursday.

In Britain, about 30 percent of company e-mail systems were brought down by the virus, according to Network Associates, a computer security firm. In Sweden, the tally was 80 percent.

Dear Abby

Perfect for Mother's Day: Is the gift of good health

DEAR ABBY: Another holiday is approaching, and the same old question is echoing across the country: What to buy for Mother's Day? The "usual" gifts, such as flowers, Sunday brunch and a card, are nice. Yet these gifts are common. Let me suggest another option: the gift of a healthier life.

Breast cancer is the second-leading cause of cancer death in women in the United States. What most people don't realize is the risk of getting breast cancer increases with age. By age 40, chances are 1 in 217; by age 80, chances are 1 in 10. Research shows that older women do not recognize that the greatest risk factor for breast cancer is advancing age — greater than family history. These are scary facts.

The good news is that if detected early, breast cancer mortality can be reduced by 20 percent to 40 percent for women age 50 and older. This means that even if your mother or grandmother gets breast cancer and the cancer is detected early, she is likely to survive it.

Here's the gift idea: Help your mother or grandmother get a mammogram! Medicare covers annual mammograms for women who are enrolled. All that is owed by the patient is the 20 percent co-payment. That's where you come in. Put an "IOU" in her Mother's Day card, or even take her to the doctor's office or local mammography center and pay the balance — usually between $15 and $25. The message you'll be giving to your mothers and grandmothers is that you love them, and want them to stay healthy in their golden years — and having an annual mammogram is a good way to accomplish this.

For more information, your readers can call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227). — NANCY-ANN DEPARLE, HEALTH CARE FINANCING ADMINISTRATION

DEAR NANCY-ANN: I agree that an annual mammogram is a wise precaution. I'm sure some readers will find your suggestion intriguing, and I'm also sure your letter will create some healthy discussion on a subject that needs to be talked about.

However, this may not be the ideal gift for every mother. After polling my staff, they unanimously agreed that if a mammogram co-payment is offered, it be in addition to — not instead of — the traditional Mother's Day gifts.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 70-year-old man. I have been widowed going on five years. Lately I've been seeing a nice woman who was recently widowed.

We are considering living together without marriage. That seems to be common here in Florida. It appears to eliminate some of the problems of getting remarried at our age.

My question is, how do you introduce your live-in companion to friends? Obviously I can't say she's my wife, and I think it would be disrespectful to call her my "live-in." — CONFUSED IN FLORIDA

DEAR CONFUSED: A number of acceptable terms for the person with whom you have chosen to live come to mind: my best friend, my partner, my sweetheart, my girlfriend, or simply, my friend. Or, you can say, "Hello, John. This is Jane," and leave it at that.

Candidate jailed for contempt

DALLAS (AP) — A City Council candidate who disrupted a court hearing was jailed by a peace justice following her outburst over a political disagreement.

Candidate Sandra Crenshaw spent Thursday night in jail after disrupting a proceeding before Justice of the Peace Thomas Jones, who supports one of her opponents.

Jones ordered Crenshaw to jail for contempt of court for three days. But good-time credit limited her jail stay to about eight hours.

Those involved say Crenshaw interrupted a truancy proceeding to confront Jones after a telephone call he made to a radio talk show in which she was participating.

Crenshaw, a former councilwoman, is running for the seat vacated by the resignation of Al Lipscomb.

SHS honors athletes at All Sports Banquet

Snyder High School honored its athletes Thursday night at the Snyder All Sports Banquet, highlighted by the naming of the male and female athletes of the year.

Seniors Sonny Cumbie and Kristin Martinez were crowned SHS athletes of the year.

Martinez was a three-year letterman in volleyball and softball. She garnered first-team all-district honors on the volleyball court this past season, and was named District 5-4A offensive player of the year in softball.

At the banquet, Martinez also received the Cathy Armstrong Memorial Award for volleyball, and the Big Stick Award in softball.

Cumbie, like Martinez, racked up numerous honors throughout the year. The Tiger leader was the district's offensive MVP in football, and a first-team all-district selection in basketball.

In addition to SHS male athlete of the year, Cumbie was also named most valuable player in football and basketball.

The first awards of the night were given out for volleyball, where Christina Holder and Christy Tomlinson were named defensive players of the year, and Cara Best and Tessa Hildebrand were given the Fighting Tiger Award. Kameron Kallemeyn and Ashley Delce received most valuable player honors.

In the sport of cross country, Amber Haarmeyer was named female MVP, with Charles Kerry taking the male honors. Timmothy Craig was also recognized as a four-year letterman.

On the gridiron, John Ortegon earned the Hustle Award, and Randy Green was given the Fighting Tiger.

On the hardwood, boys' awards went to Jared Hester, Fighting Tiger; Greg McAnaw, outstanding defensive player; Heath Pinkerton, newcomer of the year.

Girls' basketball awards were given to T'Leah Eicke, Fighting Tiger; Cameron Mackey, outstanding defensive player; Kameron Kallemeyn, most valuable player.

Boys' golf awards were given out Thursday night, while the girls links honors will wait until after Monday and Tuesday's state tournament.

Zach Starnes took home the Fighting Tiger and Most Improved Awards, with Landon Day earning the boys' golf MVP Award for the third consecutive year.

Softball honored Whitney Webb with the Golden Glove and Courtney Rinehart with the Fighting Tiger.

In girls' track, Amy DeLoera was named most improved. Loryn Brown received the Fighting Tiger and Amy Braziel earned the MVP Award for the second consecutive year.

In boys' track, Joe Esparza took home the Fighting Tiger, while Wade Pinson was the running MVP and Mark Medley was the field event MVP.

Trevor Kerr received the Bill J. Hood Award for outstanding scholar-athlete.

Rays top Rangers in 11th, 8-7

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — First, Greg Vaughn changed the way the Tampa Bay Devil Rays looked, then he made them feel better about themselves.

The slugger homered with one out in the bottom of the 11th inning Thursday night, capping a 4-for-6, three-RBI performance and beating the Texas Rangers 8-7 to stop a four-game losing streak.

Vaughn made a fashion statement before the game, deciding to wear his uniform pants legs higher than usual to expose his socks, and most of his teammates followed the lead.

After striking out in his first two at-bats, he finished with four straight hits.

"We decided to have a little fun and change our look," Vaughn said. "So now, the headlines will probably say the socks did it. It worked tonight. We'll see what happens tomorrow."

The Devil Rays stopped the Rangers' eight-game winning streak at Tropicana Field despite blowing a three-run lead that was entrusted to closer Roberto Hernandez.

An All-Star last season when he had 43 saves in 47 opportunities, Hernandez gave up five consecutive singles to allow the Rangers to wipe out a 7-4 deficit.

Rafael Palmeiro, who didn't start because of a slight left hamstring strain, drove in two of the runs for the Rangers with a pinch-hit single. Royce Clayton hit a grounder up the middle to make it 7-7.

It was the fourth time in six tries that Hernandez has not been able to close out a game this season. Albie Lopez (2-2) got out of a base-loaded jam in the ninth by getting David Segui to ground into a double play.

Hernandez refused to make excuses, although he didn't feel he pitched as bad as the results would suggest.

"I've got to go out there and continue to be positive. In this situation, I made good pitches. But I see how people outside this room can question that. That's part of the game."

But as poorly as things went for Hernandez, they were worse for Jeff Zimmerman (0-4).

Zimmerman gave up the winning hit on an 0-1 pitch that Vaughn drove into the left-field stands for his ninth homer.

"Right now, he's in one of those streaks where for every bad pitch he makes, he makes 10 good ones. But he doesn't get by with any bad ones," Rangers manager Johnny Oates said.

Dating back to last season, the Texas reliever has lost seven consecutive decisions after winning nine in a row to start his major league career.

"I don't know what to think. It's beyond frustrating right now," Zimmerman said. "I'm out there every day trying to make myself better and it seems to have the exact opposite effect. I'm getting worse with every outing. I just don't know what to do right now."

John Flaherty and Vinny Castilla also had solo homers for the Devil Rays, who scored two runs on 13 singles in the first two games of the series. Vaughn tied the game 4-4 with a run-scoring single in the seventh, and his RBI single in the eighth put the Devil Rays up 7-4.

The slugger's homer gave the Devil Rays their third walk-off victory.

Scottish investigator testifies during trial in Netherlands

CAMP ZEIST, Netherlands (AP) — A Scottish investigator confirmed today that a Syrian-backed Palestinian terrorist group was initially suspected in the 1988 bombing of Pan Am Flight 103 over Lockerbie, Scotland.

Gordon Ferrie, a detective chief inspector of police, told the Scottish court that the probe of the Palestinians was later dropped for lack of evidence.

Ferrie's testimony on the third day of the trial of two suspected Libyan intelligence agents laid out the battle lines: The defense has stated its intention to implicate two Palestinian groups unrelated to the defendants in the Dec. 21, 1988 bombing that killed 270 people. The argument is designed to create enough doubt in the minds of the three Scottish judges to win a verdict of "not proven," which would be tantamount to an acquittal.

The two Libyans accused of the bombing, Abdel Basset Ali al-Megrahi and Lamen Khalifa Fhimah, have pleaded innocent to the mass murder of 259 people on the plane and 11 townspeople on the ground. They could face life imprisonment.

The defendants wore white prayer robes and caps to court today in recognition of the Muslim sabbath. Scottish officials have arranged for them to pray during breaks in the proceedings.

Prosecutor Alan Turnbull showed the court pictures of flattened houses surrounded by debris, a bombed-out crater drenched with jet fuel and the Boeing 747's nose cone in a field — the aircraft name, "Maid of the Seas," still legible on the side.

Ferrie said it took 10 days for detectives, forensic scientists, crime scene analysts, doctors and others to sift through the rubble scattered over the countryside.

Under cross-examination, Ferrie was asked to confirm that suspicion fell initially on the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command, a radical group based in Damascus, Syria, that had been blamed for previous aircraft bombings.

On Wednesday, the defense opened the trial by accusing the PFLP-GC, led by Ahmed Jibril, of being one of the groups responsible. An official of the PFLP-GC in Damascus, speaking Thursday on condition of anonymity, denied that accusation.

Ferrie said he traveled to Rome twice to obtain evidence about the bombing of an El Al passenger plane in 1972. Defense council Bill Taylor noted that one of the men accused of that attack, Marwan Khreesat, also was initially suspected in the Lockerbie case.

Ferrie said Italian authorities had given him fragments of the altimeter used to detonate the explosives in the El Al plane. Investigators have previously said barometric triggers were a trademark of the Palestinians.

Probation given for food stamp fraud

A 41-year-old Snyder woman was placed on probation Thursday after pleading guilty in 132nd District Court.

Carol Vanous of 209 34th Street pleaded guilty to securing a document by deception, a March 1, 1999 offense.

District Judge Ernie Armstrong sentenced Vanous to two years in a state jail facility, probated for five years. She also was fined $500 and ordered to make $4,144 in restitution to the Texas Department of Human Services.

A Scurry County grand jury indicted Vanous after she failed to report household income on an application to receive food stamps.

Parole violation results in arrest

A 38-year-old man was arrested Thursday on a warrant for parole violation.

Officers took Edward Marrero of 807 16th Street into custody at his home at 1:52 p.m.

No other arrests were made Thursday and no offense reports were filed.

Activity for local law enforcement included assisting motorists who locked keys in vehicles, responding to reports of livestock in the roadway and handing miscellaneous calls.

Ira ISD reviews applications for superintendent

Ira ISD's board of trustees reviewed applications for the school's superintendent position in a meeting Thursday night.

The board has scheduled another meeting in its search to replace Rick Howard as it will meet Monday at 8 a.m.

The board is scheduled to meet in closed session to screen superintendent applications.

Howard, who has been named the superintendent at Comanche, said he expects the board to recess sometime Monday morning, and then reconvene Monday night for possible action.

In an action item Thursday, the board voted to reemploy David and Phyllis Brown.

The two had submitted their resignations in January, but decided to stay at the school, said Howard.

David Brown is the technology coordinator, while Phyllis Brown is a teacher.

Cormack resigns college position

George Cormack, dean of student services at Western Texas College, has submitted his resignation.

WTC President Dr. Harry Krenek said this morning that the resignation would be an agenda item when the board of trustees meets Tuesday night.

Cormack's resignation will be effective at the end of his contract year, Aug. 31, and he will be paid through the end of his contract.

Dr. Krenek said that Cormack will be released of his duties following the college's graduation exercises this evening.

"I understand he is moving to California," Dr. Krenek said, adding, "We plan to move as quickly as reasonable to fill this position."

Scurry County gets approval for ECP, due to the drought

Scurry County has been approved for the Emergency Conservation Program for drought.

"We have received a very limited amount of money for cost-share assistance for emergency drought practices," said Joe Hefner, executive director of the Farm Service Agency.

These practices include cleaning out livestock tanks, installation of livestock water pipelines and drilling new livestock water wells.

"We realize the water shortage problem in Scurry County is not as critical as it once was prior to the March rainfall, however, we also realize there may still be some producers with emergency livestock water problems," Hefner added.

If you have a true emergency, you may be eligible for cost-share assistance under this program. The objective of the cost-share program is to provide assistance to producers who have suffered great loss during periods of severe drought and the damage must be of such magnitude to warrant cost sharing.

One of the basic eligibility requirements of ECP is that, by law, the damage to the land, "will be so costly to rehabilitate that federal assistance is or will be required to return the land to productive agricultural use."

ECP is not an "entitlement" program. It is not intended, as the law states, that everyone who suffers a loss be entitled to a payment.

Signup ends June 2. A field inspection by FSA personnel will be required for approval of ECP prior to starting conservation measures.

Obituaries

Adolfo Martinez

1913-2000

Funeral service for Adolfo Leal Martinez is set for 2 p.m. Saturday in the Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home Chapel with Sam Barrera officiating. Burial will follow in the Pyron Cemetery.

Mr. Martinez, 87, died Wednesday, May 3, in Cogdell Memorial Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Born on Feb. 13, 1913 in Floresville, he married Celia Hernandez in 1934 in Floresville. She died in 1952.

Mr. Martinez, a farm worker, was a Catholic.

Survivors include five sons, Daniel Martinez and Antonio Martinez, both of Snyder, Rudy Martinez of Ballinger, Telefloro Martinez of Spring Branch and Jacob Leal of Bandera; a daughter, Oralia Talamantez of Inadale; a brother, Felipe Martinez of San Antonio; 53 grandchildren; 112 great-grandchildren; and 10 great-great-grandchildren.

He also was preceded in death by a daughter, Lupe Peralez; a son, Jimmy Martinez; one brother; and two sisters.

Buck Chandler

1917-2000

Alvin Louis "Buck" Chandler, former Snyder resident, died Thursday, May 4, in Columbia Kingwood Medical Center in Kingwood after a sudden illness.

Funeral service for Mr. Chandler, 82, is set for 10 a.m. Saturday in the Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home Chapel. Burial will follow in Hillside Memorial Gardens.

The family will greet friends from 6 to 8 this evening at the funeral home.

Mr. Chandler was born Aug. 21, 1917 in Dunn to the late Ather and Ida Jane Finley Chandler. His wife, Eva Jewel Chandler preceded him in death on Nov. 22, 1982.

Mr. Chandler lived in Snyder as a youth and was a longtime resident of Corpus Christi. He had resided in Kingwood for the past four years. Mr. Chandler was a retired auto mechanic.

He also was preceded in death by one brother, A.C. Chandler; two sisters, Elaine Burditt and Revis Groves.

Survivors include a son and daughter-in-law, Louis and Carol Chandler of Spring; a sister and brother-in-law, Allie and Elmer Martin of Midland; two grandchildren and their spouses, Michelle and Paul Ezell and Theresa and John Coppock, all of Houston; one great-granddaughter, Kendal Ezell of Houston; and many nieces and nephews.

Mary Barnes

1940-2000
