N. Y. Mayor Denies Rift With Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a possibility for the Democratic senatorial nomination next year, called on President Kennedy today and then denied reports of a rift between them.

The mayor had caused widespread comment by not showing up Thursday night at Idlewild Airport to greet the President on his arrival here to address the United Nations.

Wagner told newsmen the President was surprised at rift reports published in the newspapers.

The mayor, who visited Kennedy at the latter's hotel suite shortly before the President left for the United Nations, said: "When I arrived here, we were friends, we departed as friends, and our relationship is just as warm as ever."

First Step Toward Fair Is Taken

A county fair for Snyder was discussed Thursday evening by a number of interested citizens.

L. M. Dawson of Fluvanna was asked by the group to act as a temporary chairman.

County Attorney George Killam had been asked to attend the meeting, and informed the group on the legal aspects of the formation of a non-profit type of corporation, and also on the provisions which the state has set up regarding a county's participating in such endeavors.

Counties are permitted by law, Killam said, to provide land and equipment for use by local county associations.

The committee met following the general meeting and elected Robert F. Wagner as chairman. The committee plans to request copies of the charters and by-laws of neighboring counties' fair associations. They will then draw up a tentative charter and by-laws for a Scurry County fair.

The committee will meet again Oct. 1 for this purpose. They will then set a date for presentation of their report to another meeting of interested citizens.

Liberalized Soviet Trade Could Become A Reality

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States appeared today to be on the threshold of new and more liberal agricultural trade relations with the Soviet bloc.

Whether it will cross the threshold may depend more on the Soviet leaders than American. A friendly gesture in the form of a Communist offer to buy surplus U.S. wheat could bring expanded trade with the Soviet Union and its satellites.

Soviet purchases this week of $500-million worth of Canadian wheat and $300-million worth of Australian wheat has whet the appetite of American producers, traders and some government officials for a piece of the big iron curtain market.

Lawmakers from farm states have joined to demand that the United States try to cash in.

Actually, barriers to sales of U.S. farm products to the Soviet bloc have been more imaginary than real. No laws or regulations ban such sales. In recent years Communist countries have bought a small quantity of some specialty American items, but none of the major crops such as grains, cotton, tobacco, and the like.

A major factor inhibiting U.S. Soviet trade is that this country has denied shipment of surplus goods to the Soviet Union. That Moscow could and did buy more cheaply elsewhere.

But a Soviet offer now to buy American wheat doubtless would bring a change in the government's subsidy policy. Certainly present agitation appears to show such action and high administration officials have hinted that they favor it.

There are a number of factors which would make expanded trade advantageous to this country.

Sales of U.S. farm products to the Soviet Union for dollars would help improve a troublesome foreign exchange situation. In addition, such sales could reduce grain surpluses which are weighing heavily on farmers' markets and income, as well as on the Treasury.

There is a danger, though, of expecting too much from improved U.S.-Soviet trade relations.

Wallace had no comment.

Kennedy Asks For 'New Cooperation'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Kennedy today noted the apparent pause in the cold war and called for new U.S.-Soviet cooperation, including a joint expedition to the moon.

He also urged new efforts to ban weapons of mass destruction from outer space.

The President addressed the U.N. General Assembly which Thursday heard a policy declaration from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Kennedy matched the moderate, conciliatory tone set by Gromyko and hailed by U.N. delegates as a welcome change in the international atmosphere.

The one jarring note was a boycott by the Cuban delegation, whose seats were conspicuously vacant in the crowded chamber. The President made no specific mention of Gromyko's proposal for an 18-nation summit conference on disarmament in 1964, but he laid heavy stress on continuing arms negotiations. He cautiously followed his reference to "a pause in the cold war" by a reminder that this is not a lasting peace.

The Arizona Republican, considered a contender for presidential nomination in 1964, told the Senate Thursday he had been warned that "to vote against this treaty is to commit political suicide."

But he declared, "I will vote against this treaty because in my heart, mind, soul and conscience, I feel it detrimental to the strength of my country."

"If it means political suicide to vote for my country and against this treaty, then I commit it gladly. It is not my future that concerns me. It is my country—and what my conscience tells me is how best I may serve it."

His speech capped another lengthy day of debate on the treaty in which the time was used mostly by opponents.

Nevertheless, when the vote is taken next Tuesday, ratification seems assured. Eighty-one senators have announced for the treaty or are leaning that way, with only 14 definitely opposed. Ratification requires a two-thirds majority—67 votes if all 100 senators vote.

Also on tap was another speech by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., perhaps the treaty's most persistent foe.

Sen. Jordan Joins Treaty Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Iowa, today became the 15th senator to announce he will vote against ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

"Test ban or arms reduction negotiations can only be acceptable to us under full inspection," Jordan said in a prepared Senate speech.

In a speech Thursday, Sen. Barry Goldwater said he will vote against the pact's ratification, even if it costs him his political career.

Two Years Sentence In Bribery Case

GILMER (AP)—Former Texas Railroad Commission field engineer L. D. Murphy has been sentenced to two years in prison and his lawyer has served notice of appeal.

Meanwhile Murphy, convicted in 11th District Court of conspiracy to commit bribery, is free under $5,000 bond.

Dist. Judge Loyney Lindsey sentenced Murphy Thursday.

Murphy was convicted of conspiring to pay Robert Matthews, a local businessman, to falsify testimony on an Lubbok County oil well being checked in a slant hole probe.

Just before the trial, Lindsey dismissed a bribery complaint naming Matthews so he could testify against Murphy.

Matthews said he carried on Murphy's requests and collected $1,000 in an envelope from W. S. States of Longview, indicted with Murphy and awaiting a separate trial.

Until he was fired last year when the slant oil well scandal broke, Murphy was in charge of the railroad commission's district office at Kilgore.

Paladin Hospitalized

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arlene Richard Boone was hospitalized with serious injuries today after his expensive sports roadster struck a parked car, police reported.

Investigating officer E. T. Loft said Boone's head hit the windshield of his Maserati and his chest broke the steering wheel.

Boone, star of television's "Have Gun, Will Travel" show, then walked two blocks to his home in the suburb of Pacific Palisades and his wife, Claire, called a doctor.

Police said he suffered facial cuts, a possible broken nose, possible broken ribs and knee cuts.

Time's A-Wasting

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—E. R. Newton has decided his wife is not coming back.

He used for divorce Thursday on the grounds that his wife, Hattie, of Chicago, has been willfully absent for 33 years.

The public was excluded from the galleries for security reasons, but the seats were packed with spectators—including members of the 111 U.N. diplomatic missions and U.N. staff personnel.

In a major foreign policy pronouncement before the United Nations, Kennedy said the negotiation of a limited nuclear test ban treaty—which he predicted would win "overwhelming endorsement"—could prove "the start of a long and fruitful journey" toward peace.

And he said it might be toward reaching the Mexican border at Brownsville.

The Weather Bureau said it is watching the movement closely.

The storm dumped five-inch rains during the night in the southernmost tip of Texas.

Cindy, with 30-mile winds and pushing 8-foot tides before it, hit Texas between Galveston and Beaumont Tuesday.

Then it hung over Southeast Texas for a time, dumping a fraction less than two feet of water on that area.

Late Thursday the barely discernible air movement had moved between Victoria and Corpus Christi and lapped on during the night in the area where Texas and Mexico meet at the coast.

"I think just the edge of it is at sea and forming a storm like we had here," said E. A. Farrell, head of the Houston Weather Bureau office.

He said no hurricane or storm eye had yet formed but that it might do so.

The Weather Bureau at Brownsville said another possibility was that "the remnants of the storm would die out over Mexico. The New Orleans Weather Bureau said persons from their homes to signs of Cindy forming into a storm again.

Hurricanes and tropical storms lose strength over land but gain power over the sea.

The Weather Bureau warned of rain and occasional squalls along the coast with wind gusts up to 30 knots. Small craft warnings went up between Port Arthur and Brownsville.

The heavy rains in the Orange-Beaumont Port Arthur area Tuesday and Wednesday sent 8,000 persons from their homes to shelters, the Red Cross reported. The Red Cross said 3,000 homes suffered some water damage.

In Jefferson County alone, said the Civil Defense Council, damage amounted to $9,238,823.

The heavy overnight rains in the far south Texas area drew blame for the traffic deaths of Roy Stone, Jr. of Pharr.

Meanwhile, a threatened levee at Port Aransas in far southeast Texas could threaten lives and property in days of efforts to save it with sandbags.

Committee Appointed For Oil Study

HOUSTON (AP)—A committee of legal experts have been appointed by Gov. John Connally to assist in a broad study of efficiency and effectiveness in oil operations and conservation.

The Houston Post said Thursday night the nine-member committee is headed by Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon, former chief of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Other members are Harry Dipe of Houston and Continental Oil Co., John Sutton Jr., professor of the University of Texas at Law School, Charles Wallace of Dallas and Mobil Oil Co., Robert McGinnis, Austin; Avery Rush Jr. of Amarillo and the Shamrock Oil Corp.; Robert Harwick Sr., Fort Worth; F. H. Fennell, Midland; and Fred Young, Austin, Railroad Commission lawyer.

Goldwater To Meet With Calif. GOPs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater announced today that he will consult with California Republicans about entering the 1964 presidential primary there.

JFK's Racial Commission 'Welcome' In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Mayor Albert Boutwell welcomed today the appointment of a presidential commission seeking racial peace in troubled Birmingham.

But he disagreed sharply with Negro leaders who urged President Kennedy to send troops to maintain order in Birmingham, where the Sunday bombing of a church killed four Negro girls.

Kennedy talked to the Negro leaders at the White House Tuesday. Five Birmingham community leaders will meet with Kennedy in Washington Monday.

Boutwell applauded the selection of the former Army football coach, Earl Black and former Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall for the mission to Birmingham, praising them as distinguished and able men devoted of "any stigma of politics or party."

"We welcome as a city and a people, the cooperation of any who are willing to understand our difficulties, and be genuinely helpful in their solution," the mayor said.

Royall, 49, an attorney, once was a state senator in North Carolina.

Black, 66, is chairman of the executive committee of the American Legion, a former coach who built efforts to bring to justice the persons responsible for the bombing on Sunday and previous incidents.

He said the FBI and city authorities are making "massive efforts to bring to justice the persons responsible for the bombing on Sunday and previous incidents."

Port Acres Sees Water Receding

BEAUMONT (AP)—Flood water dropped sharply today, leaving Port Acres and authorities relieved the danger appears past.

R. Longmire at Disaster Relief headquarters said the water level declined.

About 100 volunteer workers remained in the levee area but no longer added sandbags to the dike.

The high water came from clouds which followed Hurricane Cindy. The hurricane struck the Texas-Louisiana coast Tuesday morning.

Cindy made a gigantic circle over land and was blamed for 5 inches of rain during the night at McAllen—hundreds of miles southwest from this Southeast Texas area.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., visited local officials today that President Kennedy designated Jefferson, Orange and Newton Counties, where the rainfall was heaviest, as disaster areas.

This will permit government subdivisions to receive federal aid for rebuilding and allow low-interest loans for private rehabilitation.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I told a friend that I had heard (and you, I did not say I-KNEW, only that I had HEARD) that a woman was divorcing her husband because of a woman who works for him. Well, it turned out there wasn't any truth in it. Now the husband of this woman called my husband and asked him to put a muzzle on me. My husband says I should call up this woman and apologize to her. I say the husband ought to call ME up and apologize. What do you say?

TALKS TOO MUCH
DEAR ABBY: I say, leave him alone. He's a man. He's got to remember, one pays through the nose for what comes out of the mouth.

DEAR ABBY: Saturday is the only day I can shop without the kids because my husband baby-sits. My problem is a neighbor woman who comes over to drink with him the whole time I'm gone. When I get home they are half-dressed, the house is a mess, and the kids are running wild. How can I tell my neighbor that proper women do not visit married men while their wives are away without hurting her?

ROANOKE
DEAR ROANOKE: Hurting her? Forget it—she's feeling no pain. Besides, she knows how proper women should behave, but she isn't having any of it. Your husband is the one who needs to be told.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago you had a letter in your column from a teen-age girl who was hired by a Mrs. Smith to look after her children. The girl complained that Mr. Smith kept trying to get her in a corner and kiss her. She wanted to quit but she needed the money she was earning for school clothes and she didn't know what to do. Your advice was good, incidentally. You told the girl to quit, and to tell Mrs. Smith why she was quitting so Mr. Smith wouldn't pull the same stunt with the next girl.

But Abby, as a member of SPUNSHI, I must protest. SPUNSHI IS THE SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF THE USE OF THE NAME SMITH FOR PURPOSES OF HYPOTHETICAL ILLUSTRATION. Won't you please respect our society and refrain from using the name—honored name of SMITH in this way?

C. BRIDGEFORD SMITH
DEAR MR. SMITH: My apologies to you and to all the SMITHS whose time-honored name was used to provide anonymity for a sounder whose name was anything but Smith.

DEAR ABBY: What is worse than a jealous girl friend?

MANNY
DEAR MANNY: A jealous wife.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Quints Eat, Sleep; Ignore Attention Of Outside World

By DON REEDER

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—The Fischer quintuplets lay contented and healthy in their special incubators today, not knowing or caring about all the fuss they are creating outside the glass wall of the nursery.

Authorities at St. Luke's Hospital reported the four girls and a boy doing splendidly as they complete their first week of life.

Their feeding steadily increasing in amount, the famous babies now are receiving about two teaspoons of artificial milk formula and sterile water every two hours.

James Andrew, the only male of the five born early last Saturday in Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer, continued the most active and eats more than his tiny sisters—Mary Margaret, Mary Magdalene, Mary Catherine and Mary Ann.

Mrs. Fischer will leave the hospital Saturday or Sunday, said Dr. James Berbos, the family physician, who delivered the quints.

Dr. Berbos also revealed the quantities of artificial milk formula being fed the infants every two hours.

James Andrew gets 11 cubic centimeters of the formula and his sister, Mary Margaret, the last delivered, 9 cc. Mary Magdalene and Mary Catherine, who came second and third, receive 8 cc. and Mary Ann, first of the five born, 7 cc.

Each of the five gets 1 cc. of water after the feeding to clear the plastic pipes into their stomachs.

Two Aberdeen architects who volunteered their free services in designing a new home for the Fischers, Clarence Herges and John Kirchgasler, said the house will require at least half a block of land to contain a building which would include living quarters, study, office space, public reception area and other facilities.

Officials of the local Chamber of Commerce are willing to spend up to $100,000 for the dwelling.

The architects admitted they also must keep in mind that the red-headed and blue-eyed, 36-and-could-have-still-more-children.

The babies' 80-year-old great-grandmother, Mrs. Schroeder of Lincoln, Neb., and her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Brady of Hecla, S.D., visited the quints and their mother Thursday.

Asked if she had seen the quints, Mrs. Schroeder said:

"Yes, and I can't wait to cuddle those babies in my arms."

Asked about the babies' appearance, the maternal great-grandmother said they "look like all babies."

Pay Raise For Polish

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A 5-per cent pay increase has been ordered for some of Poland's most underpaid workers—teachers, nurses and hospital assistants.

Siefan Jedrychowski, chief of the Public Employees Union, announced Thursday night the increase will be financed by a 15 per cent boost in the price of vodka, wine and spirits.

Trained nurses are paid only about 1,270 zlotys a month, equivalent to $51 at official exchange rates and even less in purchasing power. Other hospital workers get less. Teachers average 1,630 zlotys about $65 a month.

An eighth grade Snyder boy and a ninth grade Colorado City boy were taken to Cogdell Hospital Thursday night for treatment of injuries received at the junior high football stadium.

Walter Tony Suttle, 1807 Thirty-ninth Street, received a broken arm. The accident reportedly happened during an intermission between games and not during regular play.

Bobby Ray Culp of Colorado City received back injuries during the ninth grade game. He was treated and released at Cogdell Hospital.

Morning Room Can Be A Haven

The morning room is a bright new idea to aid any women who needs a housekeeping or work center. A number of new walnut furnishings can smooth its workings. Most of them take little space.

"A generation or so ago, the morning room used to be a smaller - than - a - drawing room social center in which a woman could receive guests," according to designer Edward Wormley, who has up-dated the idea. "Today it can remain a sitting room. It can also be more. It can be a wife's study or office, separate from her husband's."

Don't Need Large Space
"The space itself can be small," Wormley goes on. "I've seen a pleasant work center carved out of a seven foot square room, containing a bookcase, easy chair, desk and desk chair."

Wormley is converting unused maid's rooms into morning rooms in several co-operative New York apartments. "In one case the wife does part-time teaching, and can use the room for professional work and domestic planning, too," he explains.

"One good way to furnish a multi-purpose room of this type," he says, "is with walnut office furniture now suitable for any home. And one of a variety of arrangements can be created with a few, but they should have quality and beauty and reflect taste and order. And a fine hardwood such as walnut is always enhanced by good lighting, attractive accessories, and fabrics of character."

Home fashion observers who hail the idea also cite the usefulness of walnut stacking unit in a room of this type. If the room lacks a closet, a walnut armoire can be incorporated in a stacking arrangement. In that case the work center can double as a dressing room for a part-time maid, or can serve as sewing center complete with storage for the dressmaker dummy, or can even be pressed into service as a guest room.

Desk, Bookshelves Do Job
Often desk and bookshelves alone will furnish a work center. In a few morning rooms, the home-maker can budget, plan grocery lists, balance checkbooks, answer correspondence and arrange the week's activities with all pertinent records at hand.

The next meeting will be a luncheon to be held at the Town House Restaurant, after which the group will go to the home of Mrs. Muriel Evans. Members will be notified as to time and date.

Refreshments were served to: Mrs. Kenneth White, Mrs. Bill Middleton, Mrs. Bobby Burnett, Mrs. G. A. Parks, Jr., Mrs. Richard Hardin, Mrs. Charles Landon, Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Hicks.

The main function of a mattress pad is to absorb this moisture which would otherwise soak into and damage the mattress. This information comes from a bedding manufacturer, who advises always using a mattress pad - then laundering it every few weeks in order to keep the mattress clean.

Travis P-TA Holds First Meeting

Everyone except P-TA wound up with a big slice of time (in cake form) and she was given the crumbs, Monday night at the opening meeting of the Travis Junior High School P-TA.

The plan of dividing up your time for the most important things in your life, (house cleaning, meal preparation, Scouts, bowling, television, club work, washing and ironing, P-TA) was presented in a skit form.

P-TA was left until last and then all the "time" was gone and she had to take the crumbs. This led to a challenge by Mr. Bob Smith that P-TA enroll as members only 25 percent of the parents as the Travis teachers were already 100 percent in their membership.

MEN GO FOR THIS SALAD of greens, artichokes, tomatoes, cucumbers, green pepper and onion rings - if it's served with blue cheese dressing.

Men Go For This Tossed Salad

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
WHO SAYS American men don't go for tossed salad, that they pole at even a mention of "crisp greens?"

It's not true. Men do like tossed green salad if it's made with blue cheese dressing.

We don't know how or why blue cheese with salad caught on, but it certainly has.

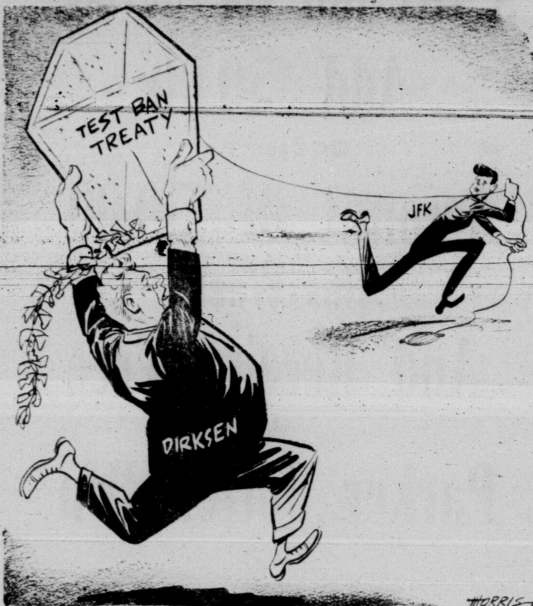

Listen to a man when the waitress in a restaurant asks him the kind of dressing - French, Mayonnaise, or Blue Cheese - he'd like. Ten to one, at least in our survey, he'll say, "Blue Cheese."

It isn't beat it gently with a rotary beater (hand or electric) until it is. Makes 2 1/2 to 3 cups.

Note: Men like this dressing served with tossed salad greens and red onion rings.

1/2 cup salad (not olive oil)

Pedestrian In New York May Have To Become An Alpinist

BY INEZ ROBB

There's no use pretending that I am one of those persons who feels impelled to put an oxygen tank on his back and spikes on his shoes to climb Mount Everest "just because it's there."

Oh, I've had my share of ambitions. But I've never wanted to climb the Empire State Building just because it's there. Neither the Chrysler Building nor any of the other "towers of Babel" in New York.

However, to be forewarned is to be forearmed, and I have been out scouting the New York market for spikes, ropes and whatever else is needed in the kit of the Compleat Climber. (In the local market Sherpas are in short supply.) It is only a matter of time until I shall be going up the side of the Empire State, not because it is there but because I am. And I shall be climbing not for fun or glory, but for my life.

As it must come to all pedestrians sooner or later, we in New York have been declared a nuisance. We are an expendable because we use the sidewalks. The sidewalks are a waste because they take up valuable space that could and should be used by motorized man. The machine, as automation is rapidly teaching the nation, takes precedence over man. So, in New York, the city's imported traffic expert, Henry Barnes, proposes to narrow the sidewalks. By cutting the sidewalks and pedestrians down to size, Barnes will provide more space for Detroit's machines. Pedestrians must go, and in the only direction left them up. Our backs are now to the wall; soon we shall be scrambling up it.

As conditions now prevail in New York City, with the sidewalks of regulation width, even a man from Mars could spot the pedestrian without any trouble. He — the pedestrian — is that frightened, trembling wreck hugging the building line, his lips moving in silent prayer that power-maddened drivers will not pursue him across the sidewalk and smear him against the bricks.

Once the sidewalks are whittled down to mere footpaths, the nearer to Barnes' heart's desire, the pedestrian will have no place to go but up. Up, up the wall, hoping for a window through which he can climb to safety or an embrasure in which he can seek safety. It'll be a great day for cat burglars only.

Why is it that great cities are always hiring experts in traffic to straighten out motor problems?

Why doesn't some metropolis show the same loving care for pedestrians? Why doesn't some cosmopolitan hire an expert on people, their care, feeding and preservation on the crosswalks?

What's the matter with taking a bit of the right-of-way and adding it to the sidewalks for the safety and convenience of human beings?

There is only one city in the world with which I am acquainted that loves its pedestrians and tries to preserve them. That humanitarian metropolis is Vienna. To other tourists it may be famous for its waltzes, pastries, woods, opera, and Ringstrasse. But it is forever enshrined in my heart as the city that has built marvelous underground passages, with escalators leading up and down, where pedestrians can cross the city's main thoroughfares without danger of instant death.

Vienna believes that man is at least as important and worthy of preservation as the machine.

On the other hand, in New York man must soon be an Alpinist to survive. I am already taking a correspondence course from Sir Edmund P. Hillary.

You're Young In Heart If You Recall...

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The farther you travel in life the less you look forward to where you're going, and the more you like to stop.

Look back down the road you came along.

This is the pause that refreshes, the pause when the present fades and memory takes over.

You may be bodily old, but you're still young in heart if you can remember when—

Every little girl with golden hair and a dimple took tap dancing lessons in hopes she'd become another Shirley Temple.

The world waited to see if Houdini, trapped at last in a box he couldn't escape from, would be able to send a message from the grave.

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford reigned as king and queen of Hollywood and lived in a palace called Pickfair.

Sage military leaders were sure that if a second world war came the Germans would try to win it at the start with a massive poison gas attack.

You had to button wives up the back instead of zipping them—and when a man bought a suit it had two pairs of pants as well as a vest.

Men seldom made passes at girls who wore glasses—until some genius did the ladies a favor by inventing contact lenses.

One of the greatest joys in autumn was to go chestnut hunting in the woods. Then a great blight came that killed off all the chestnut trees.

On summer evenings a man could sit on his front porch with his shirt off and his stockings feet on the railing and still not lose his standing in the community.

Any fellow was thought to have a cushy job if he worked only half a day on Saturdays.

The only people who got pensions were the widows of Civil War veterans and those who'd been on a government or railroad payroll.

The local grocery store kept both peanut butter and lard in large tins, and sold them to you in small wooden trays wrapped in tissue paper.

You could drop a quarter in the church collection plate on Sunday and feel at peace with God.

If a politician couldn't stand up in the back of a wagon and hold a small town crowd spellbound for two hours, he had a poor chance of being elected.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two dangerous criminals are believed to have escaped from the Islas Marias, Mexico's Alcatraz.

How they got off the almost escape proof island is not known, police said, but they are missing.

A nationwide search has been ordered.

They are J. Ascension Garcia, serving a 30-year murder sentence, and Margarito Jimenez del Rio, serving a 10-year sentence on various charges.

Officials speculated that they used a handmade canoe, and that it may have overturned and the two drowned.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Robert J. Froehlich will never forget Thursday.

Things started when his son, Joey, 20 months, fell out of bed and broke his collarbone. Froehlich rushed him to the hospital, left, and then hurried back to the hospital when his wife, Sylvia, gave birth to twin girls.

Junior Editors Quiz on AUTOMOBILES

QUESTION: How do automobile brakes work?

ANSWER: If you ever watch while a wheel on the family car is being changed, you will notice the metal disc from which the wheel was taken. It is called the brake drum and its position is shown in the diagram. On the outside of this drum is the brake shoe which can be either free from the revolving brake drum with its wheel, or pushed against the revolving brake drum causing it to slow down and the car to stop. Brakes like this are generally fitted on all four wheels.

When the driver's foot presses down on his foot brake pedal, it starts fluid flowing from the master cylinder to pistons in the wheel cylinders. These press the brake shoes against the brake drums. Large trucks and buses use air instead of fluid for pressure. With power brakes, the fluid or air is forced to the brakes by means of a vacuum made by the engine.

A car also has an "emergency brake" somewhat similar to the footbrake, which generally operates against the rear wheels. To prevent friction from causing great heat when the metal parts rub together, brakes are covered with asbestos or some other kind of heavy fabric.

FOR YOU TO DO: Next time a tire is changed on your car, take a good look at the brake drum and see if you can find the piston cylinder behind it.

Tigers Meet Levelland Lobos In First Home Game Of 1963

Both Teams Seek First Victory

The Snyder Tigers will be trying to break into the win column for the first time this season tonight as they play host to the Levelland Lobos. It will be the second game of the year for both teams, as each wound up on the wrong end of a close score last week. Snyder was edged by Andrews 8-7, and the Lobos lost a squeaker to Seminole 14-12.

The Tigers have good reason to be out for revenge in tonight's contest. Last year they beat Levelland soundly in every department but the score, falling to the Lobos 14-6. A look at the statistics would indicate a Snyder victory, but such was not the case. The Tigers outgained the Lobos in first downs 12-10, in rushing 192 yards to 116, and in passing 67 to 43. This was a total offense of 100 more yards than Levelland could muster.

Last year's score might have been different if it had not been for a disrupted rushing-kicker penalty. Snyder was fired up and would have had the ball in Levelland territory with ample time to score. The ball appeared to be deflected by an onrushing Tiger line man, went almost straight up in the air, and came to rest behind the line of scrimmage. Although an old fashion rubebush resulted, the decision was not changed, Levelland retained possession of the ball, and Snyder had only one more offensive play during the game.

This year's edition of the Levelland Lobos is expected to be much improved over last year's squad. There are 14 lettermen on hand, including 6 starters. Coach Johnnie Hickman has said that the Lobos will field a better team this year.

He stated that the boys are quick this year, both in the line and in the backfield, and that the team is well-balanced.

Levelland is led by all-district back Wayne Burton and backs Darrell, Burton, Benny Tyler and Doug McCann. A wealth of hefty linemen will see duty.

Although the Lobos were edged out by Seminole last week, they showed a mighty offense for the first game of the season, rushing for 227 yards and passing for 113 for a total offense of 340 big yards, which was 60 more yards than they yielded to the Indians. They lost the ball once on a fumble and once on an interception.

If the Tigers win tonight, they will be within one victory of matching the Lobos in the overall series between the two teams. The two schools first met in 1961 and have played every year since that time for a total of 12 games. Levelland has won seven and Snyder has been on top five times.

The series includes some contests that were real thrillers. Twice Snyder has come out in the victory seat by a scant two points — 27-25 in 1961 and 2-0 in 1956. The two teams split two high scoring games by almost identical scores. Snyder won 27-21 in 1957, and two years later Levelland won 28-21.

Coach Bostick's boys came out of the Andrews affair without any serious injuries and are ready to go. Bostick indicated that there will be at least one change from the offensive unit that started in the Andrews game. Jerry Owens is slated to start at the right tackle post in place of Larry Lee. Another position which is in doubt is the quarterback post, which will be manned by either Jim Marcum or Jimmy Wilson. Both will probably see lots of action.

Once again the Tigers will be up against superior weight, although the difference is not as much as it was in the Andrews game. The Lobos will start a line that averages about 170 pounds, which will be about three pounds per man heavier than the Snyder line. The two backfields will weigh about the same, around 162 pounds per man.

Three Tigers will serve as game captains tonight. They are Marcum, Wilson, and Terry Williamson.

Results of the entire Snyder-Levelland series follows:

1951 - Levelland 18 Snyder 0
1952 - Levelland 16 Snyder 12
1953 - Snyder 32 Levelland 6
1954 - Levelland 13 Snyder 6
1955 - Snyder 33 Levelland 6
1956 - Snyder 2 Levelland 0
1957 - Snyder 27 Levelland 21
1958 - Levelland 14 Snyder 8
1959 - Levelland 21 Snyder 7
1960 - Snyder 27 Levelland 25
1961 - Levelland 14 Snyder 6

'Breathers' For Openers Out Of Style

The grand old custom of opening with a breather has long since been discarded, with the result that a number of college football teams may have their seasons wrecked this weekend before autumn even dawns officially.

The first full week of the season has some tough scraps scheduled, three of them tonight.

Then on Saturday, nine of the 11 teams in the AP's pre-season big ten—there was a tie for the last spot—get underway. There will be some shattered dreams by midnight. And fall doesn't even start officially until Monday.

Brackenridge's Eagles, a veteran San Antonio team that can't get a tumble from the experts although they're defending state champions, will try to do something about it as they open the season tonight.

The Eagles clash with Uvalde of Class AAAA, which may not be a strong test but should show what the San Antonio outfit has in the way of an offense. The heart of the 1962 team, ace passer Vic Castillo, is now in college.

Port Arthur, the team that has drawn top rating in Class AAAA, plays Baytown in a headline of a massive schedule dotted with important games tonight.

Dumas, Class AAA defending state champion, goes against another Class AAAA outfit—Borger—in a Saturday night feature. Borger lost to Brackenridge in the finals last year. It poses a threat to Dumas' longest winning streak in the state—13 straight.

Borger pulled the big upset last week in toppling San Angelo, which had held the No. 1 spot. Top-rated Denver City of Class AA plays Lovington, N.M. Albany, the No. 1 team of Class A, takes on Class AA Anson.

SWC Teams Set For '63 Openers

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference hits the football trail this week with the top-rated teams—Texas and Arkansas—figuring in opening games.

Texas, the defending champion, plays the first one. The Longhorns clash with long-time foe Tulane at New Orleans tonight. The 'Greenies' will be putting an 11-game losing streak on the line with little hope of changing the trend.

Four conference members play Saturday night with Texas Christian mixing in the big one. The Horned Frogs, wondering if the quarterback situation will work out and experience deep at all other positions, tackle Kansas at Fort Worth.

Arkansas meets Oklahoma State at Little Rock, protecting a six-game winning streak over the Cowboys. Oklahoma State throws a sophomore-studded squad at the Razorbacks, who have the most members in Frank Broyles' tenure—28.

Texas A&M goes to Baton Rouge to clash with a young but defensively strong Louisiana State. The Aggies will be seeking their first victory since 1956 over the boys from the Bayous.

Out at Lubbock, Texas Tech hitches its wagon to Donny Anderson, a sophomore of faded feats, as the Red Raiders try to get into the winning road against a tough trial horse—Washington State.

More than 190,000 are expected to see the five openers, with the biggest turnout at Baton Rouge where, 67,500 will jam the stadium. Arkansas looks for 41,000 at Little Rock while Texas Tech-Washington State and Texas-Tulane each expect 30,000 and 25,000 should be on hand at Fort Worth.

Baylor, Rice and Southern Methodist, the other conference members, wait until next week to start the campaign.

The first ground-out: Texas-Tulane-Texas 27, Tulane 7 Texas Tech-Washington State—a close decision for Washington State.

Arkansas-Oklahoma State — Arkansas 34, Oklahoma State 13 Texas A&M-Louisiana State — A weak vote for the Aggies, say 14-7.

Texas Christian-Kansas — Texas Christian by a touchdown.

Travis 8th 16, Sweetwater 8th 0
SWEETWATER — The Travis 8th Grade Blue Devils whitewashed the Sweetwater 8th graders, 16-0, in the Travis team's first game of the season here Thursday night.

The Blue Devil offensive functioned well enough for two touchdowns, but the defense was even better, limiting the Sweetwater team to a pair of first downs, one in the first half and another in the second half.

Ken Pollard went 25 yards in the second quarter for the first Blue Devil score. Pollard then tried for the extra points.

In the fourth period, Lloyd Pinkerton broke free up the middle and rambled 75 yards for the clincher. Pollard again ran over for the extra points.

Shining on defense for the Blue Devils were guard Bobby Clayton, end Jerry Raines and linebacker Don Thompson.

Lamar 9th 14, Runnels 9th 8
BIG SPRING — The Lamar 9th Grade Texans, shocked by an early lightning-like thrust by Runnels, rebounded to take a 14-8 decision here Thursday night.

The Texans took the opening kickoff and marched to the 25-yard line where they lost the ball on downs. On their first play from scrimmage, the Runnels team broke for a touchdown and then added the two extra points on a pass.

The Lamar team quickly regained its poise and then struck for its first touchdown in the second quarter. It came on a pass from Rob Golden to Sotero Reyes. Ronnie Hardwick was stopped short when he tried to run for the extra points.

In the fourth period, Golden hit Billy Noel on a pass play that covered 50 yards for the 1 in a touchdown of the game. Noel then ran over for the extra points.

The Texans completed 4 of 5 passes attempted and gained 22 yards on the ground, compared to 170 for Runnels.

He shot his wife to death, then killed himself, police said.

Blanshard Sees Progress In Roman Catholics' Policies

By GEO. W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

Paul Blanshard, long-time hurler of thunderbolts against Roman Catholic policies, today finds cause for tempering his criticisms with commendations.

He sees harbingers of change on the horizon.

"There are signs that the Roman Catholic Church is shifting toward a belief in real religious liberty," he said. "It seems to be moving toward a commitment to freedom."

This contrasts considerably with past appraisals in which Blanshard has pictured the church's traditional positions as contrary to democratic principles.

"There are hopeful elements of a progressive trend in the church," he said. "There is a new attitude of personal cordiality which is much better than the petty, old hostilities."

In Blanshard's view, the church still needs to make many readjustments, to implement specifically the newly developing outlook, and he foresees harmful tensions in Catholic demands for tax aid to parochial schools.

Blanshard, a lawyer, author and one-time public official, was on his way to Rome this week, to take in the second session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, opening Sept. 29. The first session last year loosed new currents in the church.

At 71, he is an alert, relaxed man, as courtly as his trim mustache and tweedy suit, and as personally genial in manner as he often has been slashing in his thrusts at Catholicism.

A new book by Blanshard, "Religion and the Schools," is being published by Beacon Press Oct. 2, and compared to some of his previous works, such as the controversial "American Freedom and Catholic Power," he says.

"I've tried harder to be objective. It's fully as critical of Protestants as Catholics. If there is any hero of the book, it is the U. S. Supreme Court."

He traces a history of glaring discrimination against Catholics through Protestant-oriented public school observances, of anti-Roman history books, and of Catholic children sometimes expelled, even flogged, in the last century.

In the past approach to separation of church and state, he told this interviewer, Protestants have been "more frequent violators" than Catholics in using the schools "as an arm of the state—to promote their religion."

There "still is some discrimination" against Catholics, as well as Jews and non-believers, in public schools which continue Protestant-type observances, particularly in the South, he said.

But he added that biased textbooks have been mostly eliminated, and the recent Supreme Court decision outlawing prescribed Bible readings and the Lord's prayer in schools would further clear schools of religious partisanship.

On the other hand, Blanshard, with characteristic bluntness, as a result of Catholic leaders to secure government funds for church schools. "They want to change the whole tax system," he asserted.

Such tax aid, he said, would "splinter American education," result in a half-dozen sectarian school systems, and tear American society into intolerant, insular fragments.

He said he sympathizes with the financial burden on Catholics of supporting separate schools, and suggested that a constitutional solution might be in a system of extended "released time" or "dismissed time" from public schools for religious instruction.

A native of Ohio, Blanshard was once a New York City rackets investigator, a Congressional minister, magazine editor, and World War II State Department aid. He has turned out a series of books on church-state issues. He and his wife, Julia, now live on a 100-acre Thetford Center, Vt., farm.

THE ADEQUATE LORD

Now as never before the world needs the Holy light that flows from the Sacred pages of His Holy Bible. The adequate Lord and the needy world must be brought together. Ambassadors of God must be summoned and transportation chartered to bear the gospel message to the "four corners of the earth." The candles we light must illuminate the Holy Word, and churches everywhere must keep preaching that Christ is what the world must have for its health and salvation. Like Paul and Barnabas may we be ministers of His Word. The whole world needs the light from the candles, the influence of the cross, and the inspiration of the Bible.
