35 NEGROES JAILED AS ATTACK VICTIM DIES

Martial Law Declared In Arkansas Town To Halt Strife Between Churches

TROOPS GUARD REVIVAL TENT AFTER CLASH

Evangelist's Attack Upon Baptist Pastor Is Cause of 'War'

PRAYS FOR DEATHS

Controversy Gets Out Of Control of Officers At Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 10. (UP)—Martial law was declared in this town tonight to thwart threatened violence between rival church factions.

The order was issued by Gov. Harvey Parnell at Little Rock, upon request of local officials, following two outbreaks in the past 24 hours.

Troops were in command of Capt. H. E. Eldridge, head of the R. O. T. C. detachment of the state agricultural college here. Other national guardsmen from Blytheville augmented the force.

Troops Patrol Streets

City and county officers surrendered their authority and troops patrolled the streets, dispersing crowds, directing traffic and keeping persons from the city hall, where the mayor and chief of police were attacked this morning by churchmen who attempted to hold a defiant "prayer meeting."

A large number of troops surrounded a tent where the Rev. Joe Jeffers, evangelist from Texas, one of the leaders in the church quarrel, was conducting services.

It was Jeffers' revival that precipitated the church trouble involving the Rev. D. H. Heard, pastor of the First Baptist church. Each has hundreds of followers, who are openly antagonistic.

5,00 Hear Sermon

It was estimated that upwards of 5,000 persons heard Reverend Jeffers speak on "law and order," tonight.

The evangelist made a vitrolic attack on the private life of Dr. Heard and also on two of the leaders of the church here, Denver Dudley, former state legislator, and Gordon Crenshaw, deacon, who recently flew to Big Spring, Texas, and obtained affidavits purporting to show deacons of the church there vindicated Dr. Heard of any guilt in the Jeffers accusations.

The meeting was conducted in an orderly manner.

Trouble Year Old

The trouble had its origin a year ago. Jeffers, who was instrumental in bringing Reverend Heard to this church, had accused him of wrong conduct while in Big Spring. To gather evidence to refute this, three members of the Baptist congregation here had flown to Texas and gatherel testimonials to refute the charge.

Animosity between the ministers was accentuated when Jeffers came here for a revival meeting.

Last night testimonials secured by the churchmen in Texas were read at a meeting at the Baptist church. Thirty-seven members of the congregation were openly censored for supporting the evangelist.

Dr. Henry Lile, dentist, who had presented evidence supporting the work of the pastor, was reported to have engaged in a quarrel with George Cox Sr., one of the men denounced for "disloyalty." After the meeting, Lile was attacked and

SPARROWS FAST AS SLOW AIRPLANES

The little and common every day sparrow which we see so often and pay so little attention to, is, for his size, one of the fastest birds known. This "pest," which he is often called, is able to travel at the rate of 80 miles per hour, but of course he can only keep this rate of speed up for a short time. The canary bird or parrot is of a different type altogether, and requires a lot of attention, but still at the same time, they are worth all of the attention they have to have. Texas Oil Groups Merged With Roll Of 1,235 Members

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Five Texas oil and gas organizations, aggregating 1,235 members, were merged today into the Texas Oil and Gas Conservation association.

Charles F. Roeser of Dallas was elected temporary president of the organization.

Each of the organizations, the Texas oil emergency committee, East Texas steering committee, North Texas Oil and Gas association, San Antonio Petroleum club and the East Texas Home and Landowners association, contributing membership to the association, will continue to function under its original identity.

Precarious Position

Col. J. Lewis Thompson of Longview, making the keynote address, characterized the independent petroleum producer's position at this time as precarious.

"Beset on the one hand by the most serious economic situation that has existed since the discovery of oil, he is hounded on the other by the wolfish activities of certain major producers and the selfish partisanship of controlled interests," Colonel Thompson stated.

Plans for a general membership meeting during which permanent officers of the association will be chosen were outlined today. The executive committee decided the organization should operate on a permanent basis rather than on a one or two-year plan.

Wichitans Elected

Temporary vice presidents of the association named were J. S. Bridwell of Wichita Falls; F. W. Burford, Robert R. Penn and S. A. Guiberson Jr., all of Dallas; Col. J. Lewis Thompson of Longview; Jake Hamon of Longview; H. L. Hunt of Tyler; Ed Mayer of Amarillo; John Gholson of Ranger; Ed Landreth of Fort Worth; George Morgan of San Angelo; Frank Zoch of San Antonio; George Savtelle of Houston; Harry Reynolds of Houston; R. L. Wheelock of Corsicana; E. L. Smith of Mexia; Marrs McLean of Beaumont and John O'Donohoe of Wichita Falls.

The executive committee: Charles Roeser of Fort Worth; W. L. Todd, of Dallas; E. L. Smith of Wheelock of Corsicana; P. B. Flynn, C. B. Long, and M. W. Blair of Wichita Falls; Col. J. Lewis Thompson of Longview; J. Malcolm Crim of Kilgore; Fred Stucky of Longview; Frank Zoch and Dr. F. L. Thompson of San Antonio.

OIL OUTPUT AT 'DANGER MARK'

Sterling Threatens to Cut Maximum Flow

KILGORE, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—Daily production under the Texas railroad commission's new proration orders today had crept beyond the 400,000 barrel mark.

Figures compiled and released by Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters today showed 1,822 wells in the area produced 407,124 barrels of oil yesterday.

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (UP)—With production of oil in the giant East Texas field rapidly approaching the "danger mark" of 400,000 barrels a day, Chairman C. V. Terrell of the state railroad commission and R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division, left tonight for the field.

Before leaving they consulted Gov. Ross Sterling.

Reports received here today from military authorities showed 390,043 barrels a day from 1,831 wells. It was reported that there are 1,855 wells altogether.

Governor Sterling did not hesitate to say that if production goes over 400,000 barrels a day there will be a modified order reducing the allowable production per well. It now is 225 barrels a day.

The governor said that testimony at the hearing preceding re-opening of the field showed conclusively that when it produced more than 400,000 barrels a day, there was water encroachment.

As the number of wells goes up and the total production passes 400,000 barrels, he explained it was the plan to reduce the maximum allowed per well.

The officials were expected to go to Henderson where headquarters of the commission supervisors have been established.

STERLING HINTS VETO OF LONG'S COTTON PLAN

Governor Indicates Disfavor of 'Drop-a-Crop' Measure

COMPROMISE SOUGHT

Solons Look for Middle Ground for New Control Bill

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (UP)—With the Huey Long plan for a total cotton holiday gaining ground in the Texas legislature, Gov. Ross S. Sterling tonight indicated that he likely would veto the Long bill if it were passed.

The governor refused to say definitely what he will do. "I would have to see the bill first and know just what it provided. I wouldn't let a child burn itself with fire, if I could prevent it."

He said he had not communicated with the Louisiana governor today following their verbal dispute over the cotton situation last night.

Defeat Predicted

Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt tonight said that the Long plan had been gaining ground, but he did not expect it to carry.

The fight for farm relief in Texas today centered in two sectors of the legislative battlefront. On one side disciples of Governor Long and his "drop-a-crop" plan demanded that the farmers' voice, raised last night in a mass meeting here, be heeded.

Opponents of the cotton holiday proposal focused their efforts on a compromise senate bill limiting cotton planting to one-third of the tilled soil.

Experts Talk

The house, sitting as a committee of the whole, heard farmers and professors of agricultural economy preach the gospel of soil conservation. Dean E. J. Kyle of the Texas A. & M. college declared farmers were being crucified on the cross of a single crop system. He urged a law supporting diversification, without which Texas soil shall never regain its fertility.

A house committee late today began the task of fashioning a consolidated bill out of the timber individual members had supplied. The committee was appointed shortly after three new bills were crammed into the legislative hopper.

One provided crop rotation, another called for terracing to stop soil erosion and the third would require full staple cotton to stuff mattresses, pillows and cushions. Linters and sweepings are commonly used now.

Compromise Bill

The compromise senate bill was sponsored by Senators Walter Woodward, Oliver, Cunningham and Clint Small. It provides neither jail sentences nor fines for violation. A penalty varying from $20 to $50 an acre, recoverable by suit in the county where violating acreage is located, was proposed instead. Such penalties would be payable to the state available school fund.

Besides restricting 1932 cotton acreage to one third the cultivated soil of 1931, the bill stipulates that no farmer shall sow in cotton in 1933 more than a third of the land cultivated in 1932, including "new land." For the years 1933 and 1934,

Bandit Pair Loot Bank At Hitchita, Oklahoma

HITCHITA, Okla., Sept. 10. (UP)—Two bandits robbed the State bank of Hitchita at closing time today and escaped with about $800 in cash. It was the third time the bank has been robbed in as many years.

Mrs. J. Pence, cashier, was alone in the bank when the bandits entered and flourishing pistols, demanded the cash.

Deputy Quits In Midst Of Trial

Guns Bark And Darky Howls For Help When Police Chase Bandits

Two bandits, speeding in a stolen automobile with a negro attendant of a storage garage whom they had kidnaped to cover their escape, were arrested here Thursday night after an automobile chase that was brought to a close only when officers shot into the casing of the pursued car.

Detectives A. L. Stubblefield and George Garrett were driving past the intersection of Lamar avenue and Tenth street when their attention was attracted by the shouts of the negro, Caurrell Madison, 18, who was being held in the stolen automobile by the two men.

When Madison shouted he was struck over the head with a pistol, and the driver of the automobile in which he was held captive, sped past the red signal light into Tenth street. The police car pursued.

Race Up Thoroughfare

At top speed the two automobiles raced up Tenth street to Travis, south on Travis to Twelfth street, and from there to Scott avenue. At this point, Garrett opened fire on the fleeing automobile. A bullet entered a rear tire, almost causing the machine to overturn.

Brought to a halt with the flattened tire, the two white occupants of the machine dropped to the ground with guns drawn. Covered by the two officers, however, they surrendered.

The negro's head was covered with blood where he had been struck with a pistol. He told police that the two men, well dressed, walked into the Marchman storage garage in the Marchman hotel building, and covering him with their guns, told him if he didn't get in the car, which was stored at the place, they would kill him.

Negro Seizes Pistol

When the car was driven into the street and halted for the red light, the negro shouted and was struck with the gun. He then seized the pistol of his assailant while the other white man drove, but could not loosen the man's grasp. He continued to shout and hold on to the gun as the automobile sped away with police in pursuit.

He said he was told if he didn't stop shouting he would be shot.

Taken to the police station, one of the bandits regretfully stated that "I wish I had killed that nigger."

The negro was not seriously hurt and was again on duty at the storage garage shortly after the incident.

Scores See Chase

The automobile chase was witnessed by scores of pedestrians who lined the streets. Some 50 spectators were on hand at the police station to see the prisoners brought in.

The name of the owner of the stored automobile, which the two gunmen attempted to make away with, was not known. The negro said he knew him by sight only. The automobile had been stored about five minutes before the attempted theft and kidnaping occurred.

Homer Bentley To Quit Police Force

Homer Bentley, motorcycle officer, announced Thursday night his voluntary resignation from the police department here, effective Sept. 15.

Bentley has served on the force here for a number of years, the greater part of the time as captain of the motorcycle squad. He was stripped of his captaincy when that position was suspended with the induction Aug. 15, of Dick Morris as chief of police. Bentley has since served as one of four regular mounted officers.

He indicated Thursday night that he would leave Wichita Falls Sept. 16 for Arizona.

Kincaid Resigns After New Story Of Mistreatment

Following a number of new revelations relative to alleged abuse of prisoners by county officers, brought out Thursday in the trial of Robert Burns on the charge of having murdered Eddie Nash, both colored, the resignation of Deputy Sheriff E. L. (Curly) Kincaid was announced by Sheriff Perry Browning late Thursday afternoon.

The announcement of the deputy's withdrawal from the sheriff's force followed closely upon a sensational chapter of testimony given by George Jackson, a negro prisoner in the Wichita county jail and a defense witness.

Negro Receives Gash

Jackson had testified on direct examination Thursday morning that on or about June 6, Burns carried a badly swollen and blackened eye and other facial bruises after having been taken out of the jail several hours on the preceding night by Deputy Sheriffs Kincaid and Smith. Immediately before the state's rebuttal testimony was concluded Thursday afternoon, Ned McDaniel, counsel for the defense, recalled Jackson to the stand. There was an unusual delay in producing the witness. When he finally appeared, a freshly clean shirt and a considerable gash on the negro's head were at once noticeable.

At the request of Mr. McDaniel, the witness narrated to the jury that after testifying Thursday morning, he had been returned to his cell by Deputy Kincaid, Reaching that place, he said, Kincaid upbraided him for having testified as he had, told him he had lied, and demanded to know why he had given such testimony. Jackson said that he replied to the officer that "he told that because it was "the truth," and that Kincaid then beat him (Jackson) about the head with the heavy ring of keys which the deputy carried. The gash on his head, and other bruises, the witness declared, were inflicted by the officer with the keys as a weapon.

Jackson further testified that his delay in returning to the courtroom for re-examination was due to the officers having taken time to have him wash carefully and exchange the blood-stained shirt for a clean one.

Sheriff Browning announced Kincaid's resignation shortly after the adjournment of court at 4:45 p. m. The action was the result of an agreement between the sheriff and his deputy, Mr. Browning said, to the effect that the situation was one which made Mr. Kincaid's withdrawal imperative. The sheriff declined to make any statement to The Record News as to his attitude toward the conduct of which the deputy had been accused repeatedly in the trial of Burns.

Rebuttal Testimony

Most of Thursday was consumed with the introduction of rebuttal testimony by the state. About a dozen witnesses, many of them officers, were presented in an effort to refute the testimony given by the defendant during a lengthy session on the stand Wednesday. Arguments of counsel will begin at 9 a. m. Friday.

Kincaid and Smith were the first officers summoned by Assistant District Attorneys George Anderson and Mike Anglin after the defense rested Thursday morning. Both denied much of the testimony given by Burns Wednesday, when the defendant described alleged nocturnal abuse which included whippings, blows with the fist and promiscuous gun play on the part of the officers.

Deny Drinking

Both deputies admitted having taken Burns from the jail on two occasions for long rides during which they questioned him in an effort "to get the truth about the death of Eddie Nash." They specifically denied having partaken of liquor during those periods, or of having used any whipping post persuasion upon the prisoner. With reference to the second such outing described by the defendant Wednes-

TWO KILLED AS TRAIN ENGINE LEAVES TRACK

Locomotive Jerks Coaches Off S. P. Rails Near Austin

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (UP)—Two persons were killed and two injured when a Southern Pacific locomotive leaped from its rails five miles southeast of here today. A baggage truck and three other coaches were jerked from the tracks.

The dead: Donald McColl, 67, veteran engineer, Austin.

J. E. Robinson, 30, fireman, of Ennis.

Enno Feller and J. L. Copeland, Austin, mail and baggage clerks, suffered severe bruises. McColl and Robinson were badly crushed as their locomotive crashed over on its side.

Track Faulty

"All I remember was the unusual motion, probably caused by the engine hitting the cross-ties, evidently after it had jumped the track," said Feller as he mopped a bruised forehead. "Then came the crash and I went 'out.'"

Copeland attributed the crash to a faulty section of the track. "I've been thinking for about three weeks that the track right along here was bad," he said.

Traffic Delayed

Cause of the disaster was not officially determined. The wreck occurred at Delwal, a switch near Govalle. Traffic over the Southern Pacific line to Houston could not be restored for several hours, railroad officials said. A wrecker was due at the site at 10:15 tonight. Passengers on the wrecked train were transferred to a train en route to Austin from Houston.

A. D. Mens, assistant manager of the Dallas division, Supt. B. S. Hollimon of the Dallas Southern Pacific office, and H. F. Kelly, superintendent of the Austin division, were on the derailed train but escaped injury.

Truck Men to Hear New Laws Explained Sunday

FORT WORTH, Sept. 10. (UP)—Truck operators and their employes will gather here Sunday to hear explanations of the state's new motor transport laws.

Mack Marshall, director of the motor transport division of the state railroad commission, will speak on the new laws, and L. G. Phares, highway patrol chief, on their regulation.

Truckmen from Dallas, Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Lubbock, El Paso, Wichita Falls and East Texas points are expected to attend.

FREED ON DEATH CHARGE

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 10. (UP)—Mrs. Lorraine Crowe, 24-year-old beauty parlor operator, was freed today on a murder charge in the slaying of her estranged husband at her preliminary trial.

Judge Leslie Webb ruled she was justified in protecting herself against her husband who was under peace bond secured to prevent him from intrusion.

STATE ORDERS RANGERS HERE AS PRECAUTION

Local Officers Renew Hunt After Day Fails To Unearth Clue

GIRL RECOVERING

J. D. King Dies of Stroke While Aiding Search For Assailants

As Audrey N. Nodurft, 25, died at the Wichita General hospital here at 6:10 p. m. Thursday, the victim of a bullet fired by one of two negroes who also assaulted his young fiancee at a lonely spot Wednesday night, two Texas rangers had been ordered here to forestall the possibility of an outbreak of violence in the event the murderers are captured.

Wichita Falls officers left here Thursday night for Fort Worth to question a number of negroes there in connection with the fatal shooting.

35 Negroes Jailed

Thirty-five negro men are being held in jail at Fort Worth as suspects in the case, according to an Associated Press dispatch to The Record News.

Five negro men arrested at Fort Worth arly Thursday and thought to have arrived there on a freight train from Wichita Falls were released before officers here telephoned late Thursday afternoon that they wanted to question the blacks, the dispatch said. The negroes had not been recaptured.

Sheriff Perry Browning, District Attorney Sam B. Spence and O. A. Roberson, city detective, left here by automobile. Three negroes arrested there are known to have been in Wichita Falls Wednesday night before the attack, Dick Morris, chief of police, said. They were detained when Chief Morris telephoned police there to hold them.

Nodurft was shot in the neck by one of the two blacks shortly after he and his 23-year-old woman companion had stopped their automobile on a side street near Ardath street and between Brook and Harrison streets. After robbing the two of their valuables the negroes forced the young woman into the brush some distance away. Both assaulted her.

J. D. King Dies

An earlier fatality as the result of the attack occurred indirectly as J. D. King, 43, Continental Oil company filling station superintendent here, died of a heart attack as he searched with officers for the blacks. King was an acquaintance of Nodurft, who was employed by the Continental at Fort Worth, and at Wichita Falls about a year ago.

JURY GIVES DEATH

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 10. (UP)—Convicted of criminally assaulting a 20-year-old girl, Charlie Grogan, 40, negro, was given the death penalty by a jury here today. The jury deliberated 30 minutes.

Funeral services for King were held Thursday afternoon from the chapel of the Merkle Undertaking company. The body was forwarded late that night to Wolfe City, Texas, where burial will take place Saturday following a second service.

Spinal Cord Severed

Nodurft's spinal cord was severed by the bullet which entered his neck on the right side and coursed through to lodge near the back of his neck on the left side. He was almost totally paralyzed until his death, although retaining consciousness.

The 23-year-old girl, a stenographer at a wholesale house here, was recuperating Thursday from the shock of her experience. She was at the home of relatives.

Meanwhile, police sought to establish the identity of the hunted negroes. The efforts of both the sheriff's and police departments were centered on obtaining a clue which might lead to the successful termination of the man hunt. Officers continued their vigilance in an attempt to take into custody the pair. Police of other cities were notified early to be on the lookout for the murderers.

With the news of Nodurft's death the search was renewed with redoubled energy. Despite the fact that the searchers had very little with which to work and only the meagerest description of the hunted, they scoured this section for the two blacks.

State Uses Caution

Adj. Gen. W. W. Sterling was ordering out two Texas rangers to Wichita Falls Thursday night, according to a special dispatch to The Record News from Austin. Officials here had not requested that rangers be sent here, Adjutant Sterling said. Neither had he any notice of threatened violence here, it was said, but was following the established policy of his department in sending rangers here so they would be on hand if any disorder should threaten.

The two rangers who are expected here during the morning Friday were not named. Adjutant Sterling telephoned Ranger Capt. Tom Hickman at Fort Worth early Thursday night. The two men were expected to be ordered out from there. It is believed that Captain

Hope for Transpacific Fliers Abandoned After Long Silence

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 10. (US) Although unconfirmed reports were still coming in about the passage of mysterious planes over various sections to the north and west of Seattle, virtually all hope was abandoned today for Don Moyle and C. A. Allen, who left Japan Monday on an attempted transpacific flight and have not been heard from since.

Aviation experts declared that the chance of finding any trace of the valorous but inexperienced flyers was scarcely one in a million.

Their plane has been down since Wednesday noon—their supply of fuel having been insufficient to keep them up any longer—and, in the absence of any sign of them, it was becoming more and more certain that it came down somewhere at sea. As the plane was not equipped with pontoons, it could not have remained afloat more than half an hour.

"I don't think there's the faintest chance that we'll ever hear anything more about them," commented Valentine Gephart, secretary of the National aeronautic association. "It's a shame—I'm just sick about it. But it's one of those things which can't be helped as long as insufficiently experienced aviators attempt to make record-breaking flights in planes that are not equal to the occasion.

"We were powerless to do anything about it—but the flight would never have been sanctioned by us if it had reached these ears."

NEGROES DEPLORE ASSAULT

Mass Meeting Expresses Regret at Crime Blamed On Two Blacks

Deploring the assault by two negroes upon a Wichita Falls girl and her fiance here Wednesday night, negro citizens of Wichita Falls held a mass meeting Thursday and adopted resolutions expressing the sentiment of the negro population of Wichita Falls.

An introductory statement and the resolutions follow:

"Wichita Falls, Texas,
September 10, 1931.

"The negroes of Wichita Falls are shocked and grieved beyond their power to express at the report of the crime committed Wednesday night on the outskirts of town against a young white couple, allegedly, by members of their race. Never before in the memory of our oldest residents here has such a dastardly thing taken place to mar the good record of the 4,000 negroes who live here, some of whom are taxpayers and good citizens.

"It is safe to say that nowhere else in all the southland has there been a happier relationship existing between the races than here in Wichita Falls—the better element of both races working together understandingly for the best interest of all. And now that this deplorable thing has happened, we need all the more to unite our forces for the complete solution of the crime with a dogged determination that the fiendish perpetrator shall not escape apprehension and conviction as speedily as is consistent with justice and fair play. The majesty of the law must be upheld. To this end, we, the undersigned negroes in mass meeting assembled, unanimously pass the following resolutions:

"Be it resolved, that we deeply deplore every act of lawlessness on the part of our people, and especially those acts against the womanhood of our community, be the victims white or black.

Whites Here Urged to Let Justice Take Its Course

"Be it resolved, that we give the officers of the law our unqualified cooperation and support in running down the cowardly brutes who sought to gratify their fiendish lusts against a helpless young woman after cowardly wounding her young escort.

"Be it further resolved, that we urge upon our law abiding white friends to suspend judgment in this case until all the facts are in. Even then, let us not condemn the entire negro race for the criminal acts of these two wretches who deserve the full penalty of the law.

DEPUTY QUITS DURING TRIAL

Negroes Add New Details To Alleged Abuse

day, both the sheriff's deputies stated that they were in the pasture north of the city approximately two hours. Testimony of Burns also had indicated that the questioning there had consumed about two hours.

Hart Testifies

City Detective Luke Hart, who accompanied Smith and Kincaid on the second trip with Burns, later took the stand. He also denied that any drinking had taken place, or that the prisoner had been punished or abused. He testified that the three officers and the negro were at the alleged whipping post location about 30 minutes or less.

Deputies Smith and Kincaid admitted in their testimony that there had been some firing of their pistols at the scene. Mr. Hart's testimony included the statement that he had heard no gunshots of any kind during the period of questioning in the pasture.

Frank Watkins, day jailer for the county, and L. N. McKelvey, assistant day jailer, both took the stand for the state and denied that they had observed any evidences that Burns had been beaten during the time under discussion. McKelvey denied the accusations made Thursday morning by George Jackson, defense witness, that he (McKelvey) had warned the negro prisoner against offering his testimony on behalf of Burns.

Sid Johnson, night jailer, also testified for the state. He knew of Deputies Smith and Kincaid having taken Burns out for examination, he said, but declared that he had seen no evidences of mistreatment.

Browning Questioned

Sheriff Browning declared on examination by the state that he had observed upon Burns on June 5 and 6 no evidences of having been abused in any way. Upon cross-examination by Mr. McDaniel, the sheriff was asked if he were sure he saw the defendant on June 6 (the day following the alleged pasture whipping).

"Yes, I had occasion to see him. Whenever they bring in a new man, I look him up, and get the information on him."

"That's when they first commit him to jail?" the sheriff was asked.

"Yes."

"But this defendant had been brought from Clarksville on June 4, and placed in jail. Why should you have seen him again, positively, on June 6?"

"Well," the sheriff replied, "I had occasion to go to the jail to see him, to talk with him."

"Where was he in the jail—where was his cell?" the defense counsel asked.

"In the medical cell—the hospital cell—the one in the corner by itself."

"Why did you put him in there?"

"Because he was a particular case," the sheriff testified. "Niggers are superstitious, you know. . . ."

"Then you put him in there by himself because niggers are superstitious, and he could think over it in solitude?"

"No," the sheriff said, "if you want the truth, I put him there because the other niggers in the jail were afraid of him. They thought him dangerous, and so did I. It is commonly said, in fact, that he is a blue-gummed nigger."

"Now Mr. Browning," the defense attorney queried, "whom did you ever hear say that about this defendant negro?"

"Well, it has been said commonly, both by whites and blacks. But I don't know, myself, and I don't believe it."

"Did you know that your deputies were taking this prisoner out for questioning in remote, lonely places, by night?"

Up to Deputies

"I usually leave that up to them," Sheriff Browning replied.

"Don't you know it is wrong for officers to treat prisoners in that fashion?" the attorney pursued.

"I don't object," the sheriff said. "I see no harm in it. I'd do so myself; when I want a private conversation with a person, I want to get him off to himself."

"Did you give your approval to your deputies' taking this prisoner out as they did?" Mr. McDaniel asked.

"I had no objections," the sheriff replied.

Would you fire a deputy if you knew he abused a prisoner?"

"Yes, sir, I would. I'm for my men, and will stand by them. I'd fire him just as quick, or quicker, too, if he let a prisoner abuse him."

Varee Nash, wife of the deceased Eddie Nash, was placed on the stand by the defense Thursday afternoon. She recited that after her arrest on a murder charge, she twice was carried out by members of the sheriff's force in an effort to compel her to make a confession of guilt.

On the first occasion, she said, she was taken to the Nash home, and was roughly treated by sheriff's deputies while questioned relative to her husband's death. On the second occasion, she said, she was taken for a long ride by Deputies Smith and Kincaid, and was repeatedly threatened with death if she didn't tell the truth.

"They handcuffed me, when we got out in that thicket way past the incinerator, and told me they would leave me out there all night by myself," the witness said. "They said they'd come back and find me in the morning. Then they shot their guns, to frighten me. They shot until all their bullets were gone."

Warned to Confess

On the next night, the witness said, Burns was brought to the third floor of the courthouse where the woman's ward is located. She was taken into the kitchen by the matron and Deputy Ben Smith, she said, while Burns was kept outside by Deputy Kincaid. She was warned to make a confession admitting that she and Burns had killed Nash, she testified. The officer and matron told her, the witness continued, that if she made such a confession, "they'd make it light on her, but that if she didn't, she would go to the electric chair."

The witness was cross-questioned by the state in an effort to impeach the testimony already given. About half an hour after her dismissal from the stand, she was recalled by the defense. She testified that during that half hour she had been in jail, having been taken by a deputy sheriff as she left the witness stand the first time and turned over to Mrs. Frank Watkins, matron. Asked why she was placed in jail, she declared she did not know. She testified that her questions as to why she was being imprisoned brought the command "to keep still and not ask any questions." Assistant District Attorney Anderson stated that he had ordered her arrest on a charge of perjury.

District Attorney Sam B. Spence also was placed on the witness stand by the state. He testified that he had asked that the Nash woman be subpoenaed as a witness for the state, and that she had admitted Thursday morning having been told by Burns that "he was going to poison Eddie Nash."

Courtroom Crowded

The 89th district courtroom was crowded to overflowing throughout the day Thursday. The case is expected to reach the jury early Friday afternoon.

Nash died on or about May 24 at his home. Evidences of strychnine in his stomach allegedly were found by the tsate health department chemists. Varee Nash was acquitted on a murder charge in connection with her husband's death about two months ago.

SMALL FIRE

Negligible damage was caused to a truck at the Riverside Boiler Works, 116 Arkansas, early Thursday night when a drum of gasoline caught fire, according to fire officials. The barrel was loaded on the truck.

CHURCH GROUP HEARS LOVITT

Christian Endeavor of Area Hold Session Here

Harold Lovitt, field secretary of Christian Endeavor, was the principal speaker at a meeting of Christian Endeavor societies of the Wichita Falls ditsrict held at the First Christian church Thursday evening. Approximately 150 representatives of societies in this district were present, including visitors from Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Crowell and Vernon.

Mr. Lovitt in his address pleaded for an efficient union organization here that would work in harmony with the district and state organizations. He concluded with an inspirational address.

A banquet, served by the Endeavor societies of the Highland Heights Christian church and the First Christian church, preceded the meeting. The program during the banquet was arranged by E. F. Huppertz, assistant pastor of the First Christian church, who also called the meeting to order, and led in a singsong.

Honor guests at the meeting included the Rev. and Mrs. Motgomery, Mrs. Phil Hessler, and Mrs. Harley Snyder, all of the Highland Heights church, and the following of the First Christian church: Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Hood; C. H. Hickernell, A. D. Harrison, Wayne Holmes, W. F. Sims, Mrs. Penix and Mrs. W. H. Weaver.

P. B. Flynn Heads Chest Solicitors

P. B. Flynn has been named chairman of the group solicitation committee of the community chest campaign organization, it was announced Thursday by Walter D. Cline, general chairman.

The group solicitation committee was inaugurated last year, and has for its purpose the organization of individual offices, stores, etc., so that collective pledges to the chest may be made by employes.

Captains for the various divisions of workers will be chosen between now and next Monday by the majors named Wednesday, it was said, and a meeting of these captains is to be held Monday. Final preparations will be made at that meeting for the six-day campaign to be launched on Sept. 21.

Pretty Luncheon Follows Country Club Golf Game

Mrs. George Keith Jr., was the assistant hostess at the luncheon following the regular morning game of members of the Woman's Golf association Thursday at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club, when Mrs. W. E. Fitzgerald was winner of the low ball. The setting was unusually pretty with tinted daisies used in a large crystal swan in the center and in the smaller swans that were placed at intervals the length of the table.

In the short business meeting, Mrs. H. D. Prichard was named as assistant hostess at luncheon Thursday, Sept. 17. It was also announced that on that date members of the club would qualify for a tournament.

Covers were laid for Mesdames W. S. Abbott, B. K. Booth, Oral Jones, W. E. Fitzgerald, J. L. Nelson, F. C. Rochon, Fred Couper, George Keith Jr., C. O. Davis, H. B. White, H. P. Ledford, H. D. Prichard, R. L. Hargrave, Jas. E. McKanna, W. P. Bolding, Luke McCrory, L. H. Estes, Jeff C. Ward, C. O. Davis and Misses Crystelle Waggoner and Nell Gibbs.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We have just read a squib in a current paper that quotes Dean Inge, "the gloomy dean" of some fame. He recommends reading as a cure for sleeplessness, mentioning of course certain kinds of books that will have the desired effect, and stating that he has often found his wife dozing with one of his volumes turned upside down on her lap.

◇ ◇ ◇

We agree with the dean. If we have insomnia though, we choose some one of those lovely bedtime books that have been recommended by lovers of books for years. Books that have a gentle interest—not those full of deeds of daring and of hairbreadth escapes that keep one on the qui vive until the next chapter is written.

◇ ◇ ◇

We can read any of Stevenson's biographical books and never mind lying awake; they are so full of peace and beauty that we are gently wafted into sleep; take the "Silverado Squatters," or "Edinburgh," or any other of his memory stories all of which bubble with humor and tenderness.

◇ ◇ ◇

Stevenson and Lamb and the gentler essayists are quite different from thrillers. We have taken a book when we were sleepless and found it so full of action it waked instead of easing our wits—or that which we call our wits.

◇ ◇ ◇

Very dull and stupid books (yes, there are such), never make us sleepy. We simply put them aside. There has been a time—it was during our school days, when a lesson that must be learned by the next morning put us to sleep as we sat at a desk studying—lacking even that added temptation of an easy bed and pillow.

◇ ◇ ◇

There is one book (we must confess it, though it be to our shame) that will promptly make us drowsy and that is Boswell's "Life of Johnson." We have a hope yet that some day a crinkle will unfold in our brain to make us enjoy Boswell.

◇ ◇ ◇

We read a life of Voltaire not long since, and Boswell's interview with the famous Frenchman was the most interesting part of it. It gave us so new an angle on the famed English reporter that when we are out of books, we will again start the "Life."

◇ ◇ ◇

We read the other day a statement that people do not like to read books about the sort of life they live. It was contended for instance that Westerners never read western stories; that little gray women who knew nothing of love were the strongest readers of "True Stories," and magazines of that ilk; that men who at times lead lawless lives, have books on science and philosophy and literature.

◇ ◇ ◇

We know what we like to read. Do you?

Record News Daily Pattern Service

MAKE THIS MODEL AT HOME
Fabric Contrast for Fall
Pattern 2186
By ANNE ADAMS

A stunning frock to complete an ensemble or to be worn with a fur scarf, uses different fabrics for bodice and skirt flare. The original had a skirt of black velvet, the bodice was black and white canton crepe. Equally chic are combinations of sheer wool and silk or wool and velveteen. Also two colors or shades of the same fabric may be chosen with delightful results, such as brown and gold satin, wine and flesh canton crepe.

Pattern 2186 is obtainable only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 2¾ yards of 39 inch fabric and 2⅛ yards contrasting. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given. No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

The new fall catalog is now ready. It features the newest in afternoon, sports and house dresses, lingerie, pajamas and kiddies' clothes. Also delightful gift suggestions in accessory and transfer patterns. Price of catalog, fifteen cents. Catalog with pattern, twenty-five cents. Address all mail and orders to The Record News Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Junior Luncheon To Honor Members Leaving For School

A program of fine arts will follow the luncheon to be given Saturday at the Junior Forum when members going away to school will be the honorees. The play "Overtones" by Gertsenberg, is the particular feature of the session. The cast has been directed in production by Miss Jeannette Moore and frequent rehearsals have shown it to be a beautiful production.

A quartet arranged by Miss Minnie T. Baker will be presented and a dance by Ruth Ferguson and a piano number by Mary Louise Clark will add to the entertainment.

Tables will be arranged so that members who have not already done so may pay their dues and receive their year books. Dues with the initiation fee are $5, the initiation fee being $3 and the dues $2. Members who have already paid the initiation fee will pay the regular dues and girls going away to school have dues of only $1.

Hostesses will have the tables in charge and autumn colors will be featured in the flowers. Members have guests privileges and each is requested to entertain as many guests as she likes. The only restriction is that reservations be made as early as possible. Miss Mary Virginia Barron, 7748, Miss Marietta Hunt, 5126 and Mrs. P. P. Langford, 5154 will take reservations.

Hostesses include Misses Marguerite Peery, Lydia Cook, Mary C. Boone, Elizabeth Albritton, Mabis Rowe, Estelle McPhail, Lenora Walker, Dorothy Cline, Helen Ruth Connelly, Betty Jane Behmann and Noreta Simms.

Daisy Marie Burns Honoree at Party

Miss Katherine Hawley was hostess Wednesday evening at a delightful bridge party honoring Miss Daisy Marie Burns who is leaving to make her home in Dallas and who will attend S. M. U. in the coming session.

Four tables were arranged for bridge with a pretty autumn motif carried out in all acessories. The high score favor, a carved trinket box, went to Miss Mary Robertson, and Miss Roberta King was consoled for low score with a beautiful make up box. The gift to the honoree was a lovely set of costume jewelry.

A dainty refreshment plate was served to the honoree, Miss Burns and to Misses Madelyn McCarty, Wilma Brown, Mary Sue Gilbert, Lenora Walker, Jonnie Green Hawkins, Mary C. Boone, Helen Ruth Connelley, Margaret Spangle, Mary Robertson, Hallie Broday, Roberta King, Margaret Dale, Olive Humphrey, Elizabeth Gilbert, Margaret Bone and the hostess.

Bridge Shower Honors Miss Gladys Walker

Mrs. L. R. Thurman entertained at her home on Dayton street Wednesday evening with Miss Thelma Walker assistant hostess as a courtesy to Miss Gladys Walker who is leaving soon to make her home in Gladewater. Five tables were arranged for bridge with yellow and white noted in the bridge accessories.

In the games, Mrs. N. E. Lowe was winner of high score favor and Mrs. Emma Sadler second. Both ladies presented their favors to the honoree who was the recipient of many lovely gifts from the guests.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames L. A. Martin, G. E. Goddard, Emma Sadler, J. S. Minton, Tom Pruett, C. W. Duncan, J. C. Foster; Misses Elizabeth Davis, Virginia Crittenden, Gladys Johnson and Mrs. R. Walker, Tom Davis, R. S. Wright, and Misses Ileen and Hazel Vaughn of Vernon and Mrs. Ralph Payette and Mrs. N. E. Low of Seymour.

Poetry Society Opens Season Of Original Work

In the first regular autumn meeting of the Poetry Society of Wichita Falls held Thursday morning at the Woman's Forum clubhouse, the autumn and winter work for the club was the main topic of discussion in the business session. Many interesting plans were made.

Mrs. J. Truman Stevens, the president, appointed Mesdames O. P. Maricle and Houston Rogers to serve on a committee with her to purchase a piece of furniture as gift for the Forum clubhouse from the society.

Mrs. Ira L. Cain offered her resignation which was accepted with regret and two new applications were acted upon, the members to be accepted at the next meeting.

Mrs. Cain read an article on poetry by Norman Duncan which proved beneficial and inspirational to the highest degree and also read a letter from Norman H. Crowell, secretary and treasurer of the Poetry Society of Texas, Dallas, who advised members of the local group in methods by which they could judge the worth of their work and get it before publishers.

Poems offered at each meeting by members present were read and Mrs. Ira L. Cain's "Nature's Child" was voted best and "The Harvest" by Mrs. Ann Barker, second.

Members present included Mesdames O. P. Maricle, Houston Rogers, Ira L. Cain, G. A. McWhirter, J. L. Elkins, Ann Barker and J. Truman Stevens.

Those Mosquitoes

"Goodness, Aunt Ellen; these things are awful. How do you stand them?"

Aunt Ellen rocked placidly in her chair and replied as placidly, "I don't mind them at all. They never bother me."

"I should think they would about drive you crazy. I've done nothing but slap, slap since I came out."

"So I noticed," said Aunt Ellen, still rocking, still placid.

"Don't they bite you, Aunt Ellen?"

"Well, really, I can't say. Come to think of it, they may now and then. I just don't mind them."

"Ouch. M-M-m-. They do bite. I'll be all over bites tomorrow. They make awful marks on me. Do they leave scars Aunt Ellen?"

"Leave scars? What are you talking about? To hear you talk one would think that you were being cut to pieces or something. A mosquito won't hurt you if you forget about it."

"I'd like to know how anybody could forget about it with these things singing in your ears and taking a bite out of you every efw minutes. All I do is slap and scratch."

"And complain," put in Aunt Ellen as placid as ever. "You see you keep your thought on the mosquito. Every time you hear one sing you rally to fight it. You are already bitten. You feel the bump and the burning and you are already scratching when the mosquito alights. I'm sitting on the same porch but the mosquitoes are not bothering me."

"There's one now on your arm. He's biting. There you got him."

"I kill them if I see them or feel them in time. But I don't think about them unless I have to and I forget about them as soon as I can. That helps a great deal. I imagine if there were a great many of them—"

"Many. There's a million or two."

"When I first lived here, my dear, there were mosquitoes. Not the scattering few that are here now, but clouds of them. When I tried to work in the garden they rested on my arms like a gray cloud and I wiped them off my arms just as I might wipe away cobwebs. I had to work. I had to go on mosquitoes or no mosquitoes. Soon I decided that mosquitoes could not bite me. I told them so. I told myself so. I kept telling myself that these things could not trouble me. And before I knew it they weren't bothering me at all. You can do that with almost anything that pesters you if you try. John drained the meadows and cut down the weeds and the pests vanished. But I shut them out of my mind first and you don't know how happy I am that I did. I learned to close out a good many pestering things that way."

"How did you do it? Just by saying over and over, 'You can't bite me. You can't bite me.'"

"Not quite, but something like that. I meant they should not bite me. I meant to shut troublesome petty things out of my life. Whenever they come I think of something pleasant, something I hope to do. That soon settles the pests. I will never get to be perfect at it but I do manage to help myself a good deal. They haven't bothered you much these past few minutes, have they? I thought not. Just direct your attention somewhere else and never scratch them."

SALES TAX IS REED SCHEME

Senator Proposes General Levy on Commodities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Enactment of a general sales tax was proposed today by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, a high ranking Republican on the finance committee.

Senator Reed, who is close to Secretary Mellon and the administration, advocated a tax of one-half of one per cent on all commodities.

He said he would retain the present income tax also but would plug up some of the "leaks" which he described as permitting rich capitalists to evade the income levies.

The Pennsylvanian said he had not discussed his plan with Secretary Mellon but he arranged to see the treasury head late today.

However, his views were in line with those previously expressed by Mellon to the effect that the present tax base is too narrow and new taxes are necessary.

Senator Reed opposed the views of Chairman Wood of the house appropriations committee on a proposal to reduce further expenditures on the army and navy. Reed said the cost of national defense has now been cut down close to the "danger point." Wood had favored reductions.

Reed is chairman of the state military affairs committee.

His views also were in opposition to those of Senate Republican leaders including Watson of Indiana, who is opposed to any tax revision next session. Reed also warned against any further inroads on the treasury by the veterans through additional cash payments on their bonus certificates.

Wichitan Injured In Auto Crash

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Sept. 10.—W. C. Van of near Wichita Falls received minor injuries about noon Thursday when his parked car was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. N. R. Allen, here. The accident occurred about three miles north of Wichita Falls on the Wichita Falls-Burkburnett highway. Mrs. Allen was en route to Wichita Falls from Burkburnett.

In an effort to avoid a car coming from the opposite direction, Mrs. Allen swerved into Van's machine in which he was awaiting a wrecker to tow his car to Wichita Falls.

Mr. Van was taken to the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital where it was said his injuries were not serious.

Moscow Has Buying Orgy As Soviet Lifts Rigid Restrictions

By KENDALL FOSS

MOSCOW, Sept. 10. (US)—Young Communist girls hurrying home with pieces of lingerie wrapped in neat parcels under their arms.

Sturdy housewives, market baskets bulging with canned foods, escorted by husbands proudly inspecting a new shaving brush or a Russian-made safety razor.

Such were the almost unbelievable scenes in Moscow today as the luxury-starved populace beseiged the dozens of new shops that opened over night, marking the beginning of the end of the drastic rationing system by which Russia has lived since the promulgation of the five-year plan.

Today Moscow lost some of its drabness. Happy shoppers swarmed into the stores, buying everything available, despite the almost prohibitive prices.

White bread, almost unobtainable during the past several years, was brought up avidly. Freshly canned fruits and vegetables were no less in demand. Even Russian imitations of the new bowler hats and artificial silk models of Parisian gowns were offered for sale.

For the shoppers' refreshment there were the newly opened coffee shops, their walls glistening with paint, their tables and counters scrubbed as white as bone.

Just before leaving Cairo, Egypt, this white camel, whose name is Maida, took one long drink. It lasted her until she was lowered away from the ship at San Francisco, where she became the bride of Moses, a white camel in the Fleischhacker zoo.

Bishop Denies He Raised Money to Fight Smith

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 10. (INS)—Charges that Bishop H. M. Dubose, head of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in Tennessee, raised campaign money to fight the candidacy of Al Smith in 1928, were denied here today by the Tennessee bishop.

Rev. Rembert G. Smith, Sparta, Ga., Methodist minister, charged campaign work to the bishop in a letter that quoted Dr. Clarence True Wilson as having said that Dubose, with Bishop James Cannon Jr., and Bishop Edward Mouzon, of North Carolina, "raised their own money, paid their own bills and came out with the scalp of the liquor champion."

GROUP TO MEET MURRAY TODAY

Wichitans to Ask Governor To Visit City

A delegation of Wichitans will leave here early Friday for Oklahoma City, where they will confer with Gov. William H. Murray to request him to come to Wichita Falls to be presented with a portrait of himself, painted by Emil Hermann, Wichita Falls artist.

The conference is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the governor's office.

Two additions to the committee, appointed earlier in the week by R. E. Shepherd, president of the Advertising club, were made Thursday. They are Claude Miller and W. S. Abbott. The original committee was composed of J. S. Bridwell, Dr. H. D. Filmore, Ed Howard, Mr. Hermann and Mr. Shepherd.

Governor Murray will be asked to come to Wichita Falls for the presentation and to deliver an address here. The gift of the portrait is made possible through the subscriptions of Wichita Falls admirers of the Oklahoma executive.

Before Baby Comes

Turn the months of waiting into ease and comfort

THE birth of a child is a beautiful sacrifice the mother-to-be makes for the world . . . inconveniences, discomforts and pains are endured and borne without complaint.

You owe it to yourself and your unborn child to employ reasonable and harmless means to relieve yourself of needless suffering, pain and nervousness, as well as the possible excessive disfigurement thru the formation of the strise gravidarum, those minute breaks of the skin and tissues, which usually attend this condition.

For generations mothers have used and recommended to their daughters—Mother's Friend—a skin emollient which is gently massaged, externally of course, to loosen the skin and abdominal tissues during the stretching and distending process.

Mother's Friend, by its relaxing and softening properties, aids in bringing ease and comfort. It also helps to prevent "caking," thus being of great assistance in nursing.

This time-tried aid—the prescription of a physician long used in his practice 60 years ago, is an external and harmless massage medium—gratefully and enthusiastically endorsed by mothers and recommended by many physicians and nurses.

For your own comfort and ease of mind do use it in these trying months. It may be conveniently secured from any druggist in the U. S. in the inexpensive $1.25 size, or, if you prefer, mailed direct on receipt of price.

To those unfamiliar with Mother's Friend we will be glad to mail a testing trial size without charge. You will be delighted with the physical pharmaceutical beauty of the preparation itself. Its use will bring you comfort and happiness.

Mother— you simply must get him a pen!

Since he started to school mine is never about when I want it

While Parker Duofold owners do not share the general aversion to lending (because no hand distorts this miracle point), yet to deprive them of their pet pens is carrying a good thing too far.

But if parents don't supply enough pens to go around, how can a fellow learn the three R's, especially when two of them—'riting and 'rithmetic—depend on having a good pen and pencil?

With school days here again, let's assemble at the nearest Parker Pen counter.

Let's note especially that Parker Duofold Pens are all Guaranteed for Life, even the Duofold Jr. or Lady Duofold at $5. You'll find pens of other makes priced 50% higher that have 22% to 69% less ink capacity. And none has Parker's Pressureless writing point, Invisible Filler and streamlined style—"America's shapeliest"—with Patented Clip that lets the Pen or Pencil set low and unexposed in the pocket, or without bulge in handbag.

Come on, School Days—Duofold's ready to go! Get a Parker Duofold Pen and Pencil Set, so you'll be ready, too.

MUSIC REVIVED IN HOLLYWOOD

Revival of Tuneful Talkies Underway

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Sept. 10. (AP)—Musical picture production has been earnestly resumed in Hollywood studios.

However, there will not be so many musicals as a year ago, nor will there be even half so much music.

The well-known but hardly well-liked custom of showing the star of the picture frequently breaking into song, often without any pretext whatsoever, has been tossed into the Hollywood wastebasket of forgotten things, the limbo of many expensive experiments.

No Girls

With the revival comes announcement of the chorus-girlless musical comedy. William Le Baron, of R. K. O.-Radio, said today his company will film the "Girl Crazy," but that while there will be plenty of music, there will be no dancing girl ensembles.

The other pictures just completed are out-and-out musical comedies, girls and all. They are Eddie Cantor's "Palmy Days" and picturization of Bert Lahr's "Flying High" with Bert still doing the flying. Lawrence Tibbett also has completed another musical film, "The Cuban," in which the Tibbett voice is predominant.

The rest of the industry will watch reaction to the musical comedies closely. If they are successful, there's no telling how many more will be made.

Public Receptive

Apparently the public is in a receptive mood for a limited amount of music. Salesmen for Paramount report numerous requests from exhibitors for pictures with music in them. There is a wide difference between films with music and musical films. The studio is planning at least three such films.

The next co-starring effort of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, "Delicious," by the brothers Gershwin, will contain a music sequence that takes place in a dream. Hence, if the comeback of music seems premature after the film is completed, the sequence can be jerked without harming the story.

Marilyn Miller's next will be a dramatic story, with the musical comedy star singing only one number.

SAW EMPEROR EXECUTED

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—Miguel Ybirra, 98, a resident of Tucson, claims to be one of the few living men who witnessed the execution of Ferdinand Maximilian, emperor of Mexico. Ybirra says he was present when the young Austrian pretender to the emperorship was executed June 19, 1867, at Queretaro.

Archer County Tax Valuations Drop to $11,750,000 for 1931

ARCHER CITY, Texas, Sept. 10.—The commissioners court of Archer county in session this week received the report of Tax Assessor Oscar Morris showing the assessed value on the rolls for 1931 of the real and personal property to be $11,750,000. The total valuation for 1930 was $15,850,000, showing a decrease of $4,100,000 for the current year.

The decreased valuation on the tax rolls for 1931 was caused mainly by the depreciation in oil, although lower values prevail on land and cattle.

Money Problems

The commissioners court of Archer county is confronted with grave questions caused by the failure of the People's Exchange bank that was the depository for the county funds. The county is confronted with a loss if provisions are not made to take over some 40,000 acres of land that will be sold under the order of the various courts in connection with the winding up of the affairs of the defunct bank and the bondsmen on the depository bond.

Warrants have been issued for claims since July 13, and the court is confronted with the question of how to continue to do this under recent acts of the legislature.

In order to keep within the law the court has asked James V. Allred, attorney general, for a ruling on these matters.

The court is also confronted with how to continue road work in order to relieve the unemployed situation in the county.

The court was advised by the recent grand jury of the 30th judicial district to economize in every way in order to meet the situation brought about by the closing of the two banks in Archer City that were acting as depositories for the county and school funds.

Cuts Proposed

In following out this advice the commissioners court is considering the cutting of all salaries and doing away with unnecessary officials that will lower the pay roll more than $5,000 per year.

The court is considering ways and means to provide for more road work to take care of the many unemployed.

The court recessed until Monday, when they hope to have the ruling of the attorney general to guide them.

Have you what is commonly called that Tired Feeling?

"I just can't go on"

. . . how often you hear this

So often the reason is simple—that good body of ours has "run-down" under the strain of our way of living * * * pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count * * * the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter."

If this is your trouble, why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning * * * so are pimples, boils and paleness. A general run-down condition means a lack of normal resistance to infection and disease.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial.

Why not start taking S.S.S. today?—the larger size represents a price saving.

Helps you build New Red-Blood-Cells

"Mother, I do wish you were well and strong"

It is important to know that the red-blood-cells are the "ships" that sail in the blood stream and carry nourishment and oxygen to all parts of the body. Whenever the number is materially reduced, lowered vitality ensues and the system becomes more susceptible to the ravages of various diseases.

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. The blood stream should contain about 5,000,000 of these cells to the cubic millimeter. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh and to carry away the impurities. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

Don't let them count you out!

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas gained 2,647 per cent in population in the eighty years intervening between 1850, when its first U. S. census was taken, and 1930. The totals for the two periods were 212,592 and 5,824,715 respectively.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Texas towns and districts continue to improve their school facilities . . . $45,000 junior high school at Garden Villa, Harris county. In Dawson county Munger is erecting a $7,000 building and Edna a $30,000 elementary and $60,000 high school. In Limestone county Ben Hur district is building a $35,000 high school. Dumas, Moore county, is at work on a new high school to cost $125,000. Beeville sells $125,000 in bonds and breaks ground for a gymnasium-auditorium building for its senior high and for two new ward schools to serve Mexican and negro pupils. Crowded conditions last year necessitated immediate increase in class rooms. Work is under way on $100,000 worth of new school buildings at Rio Grande City. Palestine votes 192 to 91 for $200,000 school improvement bonds. Santo has a $14,000 school building under construction. Big Spring fazes its central ward school to provide a site for its new $165,000 federal building and is using the proceeds of its sale together with the materials from the razed structure to erect a new building for its Mexican pupils. Sugarland schools needed a gymnasium. Public spirited citizens agreed to give $50,000 toward it if the community would vote $25,000 in bonds. That was done and work on the improvement is ready to start.

Harrold School Opens Fall Term

Special to The Record News.

HARROLD, Texas, Sept. 10.—The Harrold school opening Wednesday morning was attended by a large crowd of the patrons, pupils, and ex-pupils. They met in the high school auditorium at 9 o'clock for a short program before the day's work of classifying began. There are not so many this year as last but a very good school year is expected nevertheless.

The teachers are H. B. Boswell, superintendent; Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Vick, Misses Lola Dennis, Ruth Gray, Edna Erle Jernigan, Grace Mitchel, Loma Lee, Med Kirkpatrick, Janetta Little, Bess Tole, Mesdames Geo. W. Lair, E. L. Kirk, S. P. Vick, E. R. Crues, E. V. Colley, Misses Erma Whittenberg, Edna Stephens, Irby Coke, Doris Chanless; Messrs. O. R. Hale, Geo. W. Lair, S. V. Colley.

The program presented was as follows: Opening song "America," sung by the congregation; invocation by Rolan Cobb; talk by the president of the P.-T. A., Mrs. Buck Holt; welcome address by the president of the school board, Buck Holt; response to the welcome by S. P. Vick.

A short, musical program sponsored by Mrs. Vick was given. The participants in this were Edith King, Hazel Underwood, Dollye Vaughn, Dink Hale and Price King. A duet, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" sung by Edith King and Hazel Underwood, a piano solo by Price King and a quartet by Misses Underwood, King, Vaughn, and Hale.

All things happen in the course of time, it is said, so sooner or later some politician will charge that he was "misquoted" by the microphone.

How does it happen that letters which people write to newspapers always present the wrong ideas according to the views of other people who write letters to newspapers?

Flowers for the Living

S. R. PATTON, an 80-year-old farmer of Benton, Ill., attended his own funeral the other day. But he didn't repose in a pearl-gray coffin. He sat very straight and listened to what the preacher had to say. He enjoyed the funeral and heard so many appreciative things about himself that he doesn't want to stage a bona fide funeral for a long time.

Several weeks ago Patton learned that his relatives and friends were planning a birthday party for him. He asked if they would mind making it a funeral instead. He explained that he wanted to enjoy it.

The idea isn't such a bad one at that. Of course ministers would wear out their texts and funeral quartets would feel like throwing their hymn books in the River Jordan if every man, woman and child suddenly decided that he wanted an eulogistic service while he can enjoy it.

But when people are old, when they know for a certainty that the long road is going to end around the next bend, or the next, when their caravans are composed pretty much of memories, it is rather fine to let them know that they have been appreciated as they came down the pathway of the years.

Old men dream dreams. Their period of visions is over. When the wanderlust creeps into their hearts it carries them through the tangled fields of long ago. The supreme loneliness comes in knowing that there are few people left who belonged to their questing yesterdays. It is pitifully hard to realize that a world that has sent its ships up toward the singing stars, and fathoms deep under the sea, can't be much interested in what they have done—or what they wished they had done.

Patton knows now that his friends and his community appreciate him, and that they are going to be a little lonely when he waves a last goodby. He knows that they appreciate the fact that he has grown old cheerfully and bravely, with a song in his heart and a lantern in his hand. The rest of his life will be based on the happiness that came at his funeral.

It shouldn't be necessary to hold funeral services for old people in order to pay tribute. Some other name should be applied to the method of showing appreciation.

But when a man or a woman is old, and a little lonely, it isn't any more foolish to let him know that he was a blessing to his generation than it is to wait until he is dead and tell the public about it.

A Lesson in Poise

JAMES KEMP, 63, is an example of supreme poise. He is a steeplejack who was working at the top of a 150-foot chimney in Rochester, N. Y., when the scaffolding broke. His companion fell to the ground and was killed. Kemp grasped a rope and landed on a narrow chimney ledge. He faced death for two hours. Firemen tried to rescue him but their ladders were too short. Planes tried to lower ropes, but a stiff wind blew them away. Finally ropes, which made a swing, were tossed over the chimney and the old steeplejack came down.

When he was safe he quietly explained that he knew better than to let the thing get him. He wouldn't think about danger, he said. Practically every one can profit from his experience. Human nature has a habit of flying off the handle that would prove dangerously disastrous if something went wrong at the top of a 150-foot chimney.

Escaping Devil's Island

EVIDENCE that hope springs eternal is seen in the escape of the six convicts from Devil's island, the French penal colony off the South American coast, recently.

Twelve attempted the escape. But six were drowned. Making the attempt to escape has been considered almost tantamount to suicide.

Yet these men, convicted as felons, staked everything they had for another chance at freedom. Whether they hoped to return to society as respectable citizens is a question, but it is totally evident that they had determined that death was just as good as remaining on that isle. Liberty, after all, is mighty precious.

Quotations Worth Noting

The impatience of the wet group to secure modification or repeal of national prohibition seems to be based upon a growing recognition of the fact that the longer prohibition remains on the statute books the better the quality of its observance as well as the quality of the enforcement.—Dr. F. Stupid One

There was the little path she took
That led her to a desert place,
And down its slope with eager look
She turns her fondly foolish face.

Here is the moon that is too bright,
The magic that was too unkind,
But still she seeks the silver light
That found her mute and left her blind.

She will wear always like a flower
But she will huddle in the dark
And warm her fingers by the hour.

She will not learn from dark or scar
But runs along on eager feet.
Who knows what hidden joys there are
Or what new magic she may meet?
—ELSPETH.

Gag

Esther Muir says she heard it at a Hollywood tea party, as they are called. The butler was making all sorts of errors and the hostess took him to task in front of all the guests.

"I'm sorry, madam," he said, "but the orchestra on the radio was playing some military selections. It brought back an incident of the war and whenever I hear war music it disconcerts me."

"Yes, yes," interrupted Charlie Butterworth, as he shook his head knowingly. "That's the way 'Just a Gigolo' always affects me."

The Shop-Talkers

Two racetrack touts were discussing the sudden deaths in one week of mutual pals. "Just think of it," mourned the first, "on Tuesday Joe died. On Wednesday Frank was killed and now today Harry is dead. It's awful!"

"Yeah, terrible," said his listener, "but think of the dough we coulda made if we had parlay'd those guys."

Plenty of Ice

Ina Claire, recently melted from Gilbert, was cooing in a corner with Bob Ames when the director of Gilbert's latest flicker ankled in.

"Well," said Ina, "how's my ex-husband doing?"

"You won't believe it, I know," responded the director, "but he is 100 per cent better than ever!"

"Yeah?" chilled Miss Claire, "twice times zero still is zero!"

Warning!

Married men who toy with other women will probably thank the pride of the Winchell tribe for this priceless tip.

A young and pretty woman, now working as an "extra" for the Paramount studios here (and who poses for negligee ads), so her friends will think she has an honest job, has been shaking down victims for plenty. She woos married men. After a month of it she sends memos of hotel registers, dates and places on to her husband, a West Coaster.

The husband turns the data over to an attorney who writes a stiff letter to the victim. When the married-man-victim realizes that the woman's husband has enough on him to hang him, he immediately settles out of court, of course.

The last victim paid $25,000, rather than be used for "alienation of affections," which is the threatened charge.

Her maiden name initials are A. H. We got them down here so that she will know that some of us are hep to her game.

Merciless Truth

Take it from Robert Sparks—In normal life it is three generations from shirt-sleeves to shirt-sleeves. In the theater it is three plays.

Blunder

It happened during the Wampas selection of baby stars in Hollywood recently. The Wampas is an organization of press agents, who decide annually which of the young ladies in their respective film firms should be promoted and exploited into stardom.

The Fox representative from New York (new to Hollywood) attended a dinner hurled by his craft. He made a speech that so irritated his listeners that one of them threatened to thrash him.

He smart-alecked in part: "Well, let me tell you guys something. What a cinch you all have. In New York we really work! But you guys sit around and just go on the make for the dames!"

This annoyed one husband of a baby star, who asked him to Come Outside. There were ugly words swapped but no fists.

Instead, the others punished the chap by ignoring the little lady who might have been honored by the club and press-agented into national renown. She was Linda Watkins, seen here in "June Moon," the play.

The press agent at fault is better described as a guy suffering from mental halitosis.

Alex in Wonderland

The news that Alexander Woollcott, the former dramatic critic, will shortly appear in a new play has startled his former confreres.

One of them breathlessly asked the name of the show. "It is named 'Brief Moment,'" said another.

"What will Woollcott play?"

"I hope," interrupted Burns Mantle, "he plays the title role."

In Hollywood

A movie magazine interviewer avers that most of the movie stars are not the gluttons for publicity that you think. One newcomer to the studio sector had nothing colorful to tell about herself.

"Well," said the interviewer, "so long as you have nothing to tell your fans about yourself, can you tell me something about your parents that might be amusing?"

"You bet," was the devastating reply, "they're still living together!"

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE BEE FIREMEN—At the time of a lumber yard fire in Medina, Ohio, the flames spread to an adjoining apiary, setting fire to one of the hives. After the fire the badly charred hive, which was thought to have been ruined, was opened and the wax honeycombs found to be in perfect condition. The bees created such a breeze by fanning with their wings that the interior of the hive remained under the melting point of beeswax.

This incident is recorded in the "Introduction to Biology," by Alfred C. Kinsey, Harvard university, and verified by the A. I. Root Co., of Medina, Ohio.

BILL LONGLEY—William P. Longley, one of the first of the notorious Texas gunmen, was born Oct. 6, 1851, in Austin county, Texas. At the age of 15 he killed his first man, and thereafter his life was a succession of gun battles in which 37 men are supposed to have been victims of his wizard-like pistol play.

In 1868 he was hanged by Arkansas vigilantes, but a shot from a vigilante gun cut the rope. Later Longley strung up one of the vigilantes from the same group. On Oct. 11, 1878, Longley was put on the gallows at Giddings, Texas, but the rope slipped, and immediately he was subjected to the noose for the third time.

To this day there are old Texans who believe that Longley was not dead when cut down, and that his grave at Giddings never held a body.

Lions at Iowa Park Hear Farm Expert

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Sept. 10.—Iowa Park Lions were entertained at their weekly luncheon by George F. Hill, a well known local citizen, who last year grew 1,500 bushels of turnips on three and one-half acres of irrigated land located one and one-half miles south of Iowa Park on the K. M. A. road. Mr. Hill explained that after disposing of 500 dozen bunches of turnips that he had left 1,100 bushels. The planting was done Aug. 16, 1930, in two rows on one bed in drills 20 to 21 inches apart. One interesting feature of the talk was the fact that the space around the plot, which is often given over to weeds, was utilized by Mr. Hill for growing onions from sets. This extra crop, after giving fresh onions liberally to visitors and friends, netted Mr. Hill $110.

When asked to explain the cause of his success, Mr. Hill stated that he believed in "more work and less water," explaining that he had observed that many farmers in the irrigated district had a tendency to depend upon the assurance of water rather than a liberal mixture of water and work.

The ground this year has grown an attractive crop of black-eyed peas, from which a local market has been supplied and 110 bushels thrashed. The vines were turned under to supply humus to the soil.

G. H. McDowell, manager of the experiment farm, told of a recent visit to Chicago and other eastern points, and his observation of the excellent condition of soils, due to an effort to supply the necessary humus to the soil.

Miss Emma Mary Boyd was selected to fill the position of club musician, recently filled by Miss Anna Mary Bevill who has moved to Denton to enter North Texas Teachers college.

DEPRESSION IS LARGELY TALK

That's What George Gibbs Finds on Tour

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (UP)—Gen. George Gibbs, vice president of the International Telephone & Telegraph corporation, is convinced that "depression is in part manufactured in New York," and that it has little basis in actual conditions save in isolated instances.

Returning from a personal visit to 32 American cities, in every section of the country, General Gibbs presented an optimistic picture of conditions and predicted a "slow but sure upward trend" in business. Before coming to New York, Gibbs gave his findings to President Hoover, and said that they appeared to be in accord with other reports now in the president's hands.

Replies Similar

"The similarity of replies to our questions about conditions in almost every city became almost amsuing toward the end of our trip," he said. "Perhaps the views of leading bankers and business men of 30 out of the 32 cities we visited might be summed up this way:

"Business is not good. We are running a little behind last year. But we are in soudn condition, well able to take care of any of our own victims of the depression, and we will need no outside assistance. Our city seems to be in splendid shape, considering the situation in other communities."

"Such a reply, almost invariably given, led us to only one conclusion. That is, that many of these cities know of the depression only by hearsay."

General Gibbs found those cities dependent upon steel or automobile manufacture in worse straits than those replying upon more diversified industries, or those which are more purely distributing centers.

He found Atlanta, Charlotte, N. C., Omaha, Denver and Cleveland "surprisingly sound."

Stocks Decrease

"Distributors told me the end of present stocks seems in sight. Buyers are coming to town to lay in new stocks of goods, and while they are buying only a few weeks' supply at a time, in place of six months' or a year's purchase, nevertheless, they are actually buying," he said.

"Regarding bank failures," he continued, "I found that in almost every case the failure was due to poor management. In flush times, that sort of business management might have weathered small storms. The depression forced them out of business.

"It seems to me, after this tour, that continuance of the depression and of depression talk depends upon how much of it is manufactured in New York and sold to outside cities who have been taught to accept New York's views as gospel.

Soundness Unquestioned

"I would not minimize the fact that there has been, and still is, a depression; that there is unemployment; that both wages and prices are down, and that there are communities which will need help this winter.

"But I do feel greatly encouraged as the result of my swing around the country, and I feel there is no question about our general soundness."

Regarding the International Telegraph and Telephone system's own business which, he pointed out, is in one sense a barometer of conditions, General Gibbs revealed that August had shown an increase over the previous month, "despite the fact that August is ordinarily the lowest month of the year."

Gibbs' tour carried him to Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Denver, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Houston, Dallas, New Orleans, Atlanta, Charlotte and Washington, D. C.

Q.—Can the penalty tricks for a revoke contract bridge be counted by the declarer if his bid was not sufficient to go game?—K. J. G.

A.—The rule provides that the penalty tricks for a revoke shall count exactly as if in play and assist the declarer to make his contract or to go game, but they can not be counted to assist the declarer to go game when his bid is not sufficient to go game because they could not be counted that way if they were worn in play. If they give him a total number of tricks in excess of his contract, such excess is counted above the line.

Q.—In what big league baseball game were the most players used?—D. B.

A.—The record for the number of players in one game is 37. St. Louis National league 19 vs. Philadelphia 18, on June 2, 1928.

Q.—Which city is older, Paris or Berlin?—L. G.

A.—Paris was first mentioned in authentic history in the year 53 B. C. The history of the city of Berlin dates from the early part of the 13th century.

Q.—What causes the green appearance of bathroom fixtures?—S. D.

A.—The green corrosion on nickel fixtures in bathrooms is a form of oxidation. It would indicate that the nickel has been worn off, leaving spots exposed to the elements. It should be cleaned with an abrasive from time to time, or the parts should be renickeled.

CONFESSION TO FREE 'LIFER'

Gray Haired Convict Unable to Believe News

CHESTER, Ill., Sept. 10. (UP)—A gray-haired old man, broken in spirit by 23 years of prison life for a murder he never committed, knelt tonight in prayer in his cell, not wholly convinced yet that another man finally had confessed the crime.

"I mustn't be too sure," the stooped life termer, Jesse Lucas murmured, as tears trickled down his cheeks when the news was told him, "I can't believe it until I see the sky from outside the walls.

"But I've never lost my faith in God's justice," he continued, drawing a four-leafed clover from a shirt pocket and pressing it to his lips. "The road has seemed hard but it was clear.

"Especially was it a mighty temptation for me to say I did the murder when the parole board twice promised freedom if I'd confess. I'm glad I didn't lie."

Model Prisoner

Lucas was sentenced to prison for life 23 years ago for the murder of Clyde Showalter, a young stock buyer. As prisoner No. 401 he has been a model inmate, working in the greenhouse. One of his two infractions of the rules here was for singing a hymn in his cell after hours.

More than a month ago, George R. Pond, a farmer, confessed on his deathbed to killing Showalter during a holdup. A movement has been started to obtain freedom for Lucas. It may be forthcoming in about a month.

Lucas was a day laborer. He will be penniless if freed. There is no legal way for the state to pay for his services, unless a bill is passed by the legislature. Only one other man is known to have served so long a term for murder and then be entirely acquitted of the crime. He was a Pennsylvania Bohemian miner, convicted of a murder during a strike. Years later he was absolved by a deathbed confession of another man and freed.

Bears No Malice

Unlike the hero of Alexander Dumas' novel, Monte Cristo, Lucas bears no malice toward the two men who swore they saw him kill Showalter. One of the men is dead and the other's whereabouts unknown.

"My only desire," he said, "is to go back home and re-establish myself among the people who remembered and believed me. I'm sure they will give me a chance. And my biggest regret is that my mother died without knowing about this."

Mrs. Lucas was convicted with her son of the murder. She obtained a new trial, however, and the charges were dropped. She died three years ago after doing all in her power to clear her son's name.

New First Lady

The next "first lady" of Mississippi is a smiling beauty. She is Mrs. Sennett Martin Conner, wife of Governor-elect Mike Conner, who succeeds Theodore G. Bilbo, present governor, in January.

Village Finally Installs Phone For Its Officers

BYRON, Ill., Sept. 10. (UP)—Everybody in town heaved a sigh of relief today, secure in the knowledge that all you had to do in case of murder, holdup or riot was step to a telephone and call the police.

Such has not been the case in months. If you wanted a policeman in the daytime, you went out to look for Marshall Willam Dillon If disorder developed after dark, you ran for Night Marshal Tom Yuill.

But today the squabble was over. Byron's two-man police department was equipped with telephones despite the protests of Dillon and Yuill.

"Telephones cost too much and besides they jangle at night and wake people up," Dillon has contended for several weeks.

Night Marshall Yuill sided with his brother officer.

"It's been a week since we made a pinch," Yuill contended. "He was just a Rockford gent with a bit of bun on. We go weeks here with an empty. What's the good of a telephone? Might as well put one in a cemetery."

The town council thought otherwise and two months ago ordered the policemen to install telephones. Both balked, and argued, and stormed. As a concession, the council finally voted to install Dillon's phone at town expense.

DARROW PLANS CRIME MOVIE

Criminologist to Discuss Causes on Screen

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—The talking screen soon may record Clarence Darrow's views on crime, its causes and cures.

The noted attorney and criminologist discussed today the presentation of his theories to the public as a possible check-rein to future crime.

If the coming winter is one of extreme cold, the nation, in Darrow's opinion, will suffer the most widespread wave of crime in its history.

Two Main Causes

"This will be caused," Darrow said, "by the greatest lack of opportunities for livelihood ever known and the time will be ripe to reason with the public over the prevention of crime. With no idea of boasting, I think no one is more fitted than I to discuss this with the public."

The two causes for the "overwhelming majority of usual crime," Darrow said, are lack of opportunities for livelihood and inequitable distribution of wealth.

To Trace Lives

The recording of Darrow's theories, however, would hinge on the lack of opportunities. He would make his pictorial commentary on crime along the lines of his "mystery of life, the story of evolution." He would visit prison cells, interview convicts and dramatize their early life to show each step that led the convict to crime.

"I would show," Darrow said, "how lack of education, the lack of schools in which to learn trades, bad environments and, greatest of all, the lack of sufficient jobs at fair and just wages have done their part in filling prisons. I would deal with 'anti-social' crime, differentiating by this classification with crimes caused by prohibition. And I would like to have Warden Lewis Lawes of Sing Sing as a co-worker. He has the most thorough knowledge of penology of any one I know."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

WIFE TELLS OF ATTACK AT SEA

Man Thrown Overboard by Two Intruders

SYOSSET, L. I., Sept. 10. (UP)—A young Connecticut matron today told authorities a strange story of an attack at sea on the private yacht Penguin, of her husband apparently being forced overboard, and of abandonment of the yacht with her 5-year-old daughter, Barbara, aboard.

Mrs. Lillian Collings, wife of Benjamin Collings of Stamford, Conn., was rescued from a small yacht off the Long Island coast line this morning and shortly thereafter the yacht Penguin was towed into Stamford.

The Collings child, 5-year-old Barbara, was aboard the yacht. Collings has not been found.

Mrs. Collings told authorities that she, her husband and their daughter had been spending the summer aboard their small yacht, the Penguin. Last night the boat was anchored off Northport, L. I., and the family retired. During the night they were awakened by two men, one old and one young, who boarded the cruiser from a canoe.

The elder man said they had a third man with them who needed medical attention and he offered Collings $100 to take them to South Norwalk, Conn. Mrs. Collings told authorities that her husband demurred, that there was some argument and then Collings and the two men started to shout angrily.

The engine started, traveled for about an hour.

Mrs. Collings said she heard scuffling then, heard glass being broken and then heard a heavy body fall on the deck.

"Don't tie him too tight," she claims to have heard one of the men say.

A few minutes later she said, she heard a splash and screamed.

The door to her cabin opened and the men told her to come out, assuring her she was safe. Her first act, she said, was to toss a pneumatic mattress onto the water in the hope her husband might reach it.

Mrs. Collings said the men then forced her to get into a canoe even though Barbara still was in the cabin of the Penguin. They rowed her for some distance and put her aboard an unoccupied yacht where she was found today.

Iowa Park Plans Festival Saturday

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Sept. 10.—Beginning at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Sept. 12, Iowa Park citizens are planning a public free entertainment. The committee handling details is composed of the following business men: R. J. Wiley, chairman; F. E. Hill, Joe Taugman, I. W. Corder and I. W. Austin.

The following schedule will be observed: Potato race, men only, at 3; egg race for women, 3:30; 4 to 5, selections by the Triangle band; greased pig race for children under 15 at 5; free for all sack race at 5:30; J. C. Searl, secretary Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, will deliver prizes at the City park, at 6:30. Competing teams of firemen will be seen from 7 to 8. Free street dance, everybody invited, is slated at 8 o'clock. Cash street will be roped off for the dance and good music will be supplied.

Tentative plans were made for the organization of a business men's council, to meet monthly for the purpose of discussing trades relations and business conditions.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News

SUNSET, Texas, Sept. 10.—Rev. C. D. Mullins of Burkburnett has been called to the pastorate of the Union Hill Baptist church, five miles southeast of here.

The 1931-32 term of Park Springs school began Monday, Sept. 7. Park Springs has a good seven-teacher school, supplied with a sufficient number of buses for the comfortable delivery of pupils to and from school every day.

Mrs. Gypsey Sandifer has been transferred to Sunset from Oklaunion to fill the place of C. A. Blakney as Fort Worth & Denver depot agent here. Mr. Blakney was transferred to the Fort Worth & Denver depot at Bowie. He had held the position as an operator here for about 17 years.

A 10-day revival at the Sunset Church of Christ was closed Sunday night. The meeting was conducted by Elder E. H. Garner of Amherst, and resulted in the addition of nine members to the church.

Cotton is opening right along here and many farmers are picking this week. Others will begin picking the first of next week. Several bales have been ginned here this week. Cotton is bringing about 5½ cents a pound on the local market here. Producers are paying around 40 cents a hundred for picking. The producers will do most of the picking themselves, but a number of them will hire a small part of the crop gathered.

Albert Swaim and Will McMath will be ordained to the deaconship of Union Hill Baptist church during an ordination service to be held at the church five miles southeast of Sunset at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Sept. 13.

A Holiness revival will be started in Sunset Saturday evening, Sept. 12. The preaching will be done by Rev. Ed Hall of Bowie.

Baruch Convinced Of World's Peril

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Bernard Baruch, financier and prominent Democrat, returned today from a trip to Europe convinced that the world is in a precarious state.

The threat of war hangs over Europe, he said, and the elements needed for world well-being are lacking. He declared that Adam Smith, pioneer economist, had laid down three conditions necessary to raise a nation from barbarism to a high degree of happiness. These conditions are peace, easy taxes, and a tolerable administration of justice.

"There is no real peace," he said, "because the intent of the treaty of Versailles has never been carried out, because the treaty has never been interpreted in the way Wilson wished it."

Baruch was chairman of the war industries board in the Wilson administration during the world war.

Uncomfortable After Meals

For indigestion, distress after meals, try taking a pinch of Thedford's Black-Draught immediately on leaving the table.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"After meals, I felt so tight in my chest — there seemed to be a lot of gas," writes Mrs. C. L. Lance, of Jefferson, Ga. "This made me feel dull and stupid. I did not have an appetite. My mother advised me to try Black-Draught, which I did, — a small pinch after meals. I certainly did get relief." Get a 25¢ package and try it. SOLD AT DRUG STORES FBA-25

CITIES JOIN WESTERN C-C

Oklahoma Directors Called In Session Today

Special to The Record News.

SAYRE, Okla., Sept. 10.—Three additional chambers of commerce have joined the Western Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce within the past week, bringing the number of affiliated organizations up to 39. The latest to join were the chamber of commerce of Bose City, the Harmon County Chamber of Commerce with headquarters at Hollis, and the Lions club of Tipton.

A few days prior to the receipt of advice that these three organizations had voted to take membership, the Elk City Chamber of Commerce voted to affiliate and the action of this chamber of commerce was quickly followed by others.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Western Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce has been called at Clinton Friday, Sept. 11, to pass upon a number of important matters affecting western Oklahoma. At this meeting, the directors will probably set the date for holding the first annual convention and appoint a committee to make the necessary arrangements for same.

Marvelous For Healing Eczema

This formula for skin diseases is astounding the most skeptical in the marvelous way it heals severe cases of eczema, tetter, ringworm, itch and athlete's foot. The minute it touches the sore you feel a cooling, soothing sensation; in a few days you marvel at how your skin has healed. If you suffer with eczema, or any skin disease, get from any druggist a 60c box of Tetterine and get relief or get your money back. Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga. (adv.)

Cannon, Back in U. S., Faces Nye Hearing

LONDON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist church, South, who returned from the continent yesterday said today that he expected to sail for New York on the Maurstania on Saturday, "arriving at Washington at the time I told Senator Nye I would arrive."

The bishop has been in Switzerland attending the international congress against alcoholism. He stopped at Geneva to confer with certain officials of the League of Nations concerning a resolution adopted by the league assembly in 1928 directing "that the health organization of the League of Nations collect statistical information regarding alcoholism considered as a consequence of the abuse of alcohol."

loose DANDRUFF get rid of it!

It mars your looks

Note the picture above. This woman's hair looks clean, free from dandruff. Every woman's hair should—and can—look the same way.

Ordinary dandruff can be checked and often cured entirely by the frequent, systematic use of full strength Listerine.

You simply douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously. Keep the treatment up several days. Within two weeks you will be delighted with results.

If infection is present on the surface of the skin, Listerine attacks it. A powerful germicide, it kills bacteria in 15 seconds, the fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.

Listerine helps to dissolve oily crusts and quickly removes them, as well as horny scales. And Listerine quickly relieves that burning, itching sensation. It soothes inflamed or irritated areas of the scalp.

If scalp is excessively dry, a little olive oil may be used in connection with the Listerine shampoo, or independent of it. The oil aids in dissolving crusts and scales and keeps hair from drying out. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

BEAN SORTER UNCANNY THING

Mechanical Engineers Tell Of Inventions

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 10. (UP)—The combined forces of mechanical science are bending every effort to make the everyday life of the average citizen as easy and simple as possible.

Electrical and mechanical corporations, said officials of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, are devoting their full resources to the comfort of mankind. To prove it, they demonstrated today the inventions display at the Southwest Power and Mechanical exposition.

Here is, for example, a machine to see that every navy bean you buy at the corner grocery store is pure white in color. Science has eliminated the black bean. There, again, is a device that allows you to take the wife and children to the neighborhood moving picture show with the satisfaction of knowing your home is burglar-proof. Science has attended to that.

Engineers made a housewife's life more peaceful by perfecting a way to keep the gas man from tracking mud through the house when he comes to read the meter. No longer need you climb out of your automobile on a cold night to open the garage doors. Science has solved all those problems.

The automatic bean sorter works like this. The beans are placed in a small chute, carrying them down into a box-like affair crammed full of a maze of dials, little motors and electric lights. As the beans pass over a small pin hole in the trough, a ray of light shines down on them. Under the hole is a photo-electric cell, a recent achievement of electrical engineers.

When the light strikes a white bean, the cell remains undisturbed. But let a black bean come along, cutting off the light from the cell. And every piece of mechanism in the machine begins to function. Absence of the light, cut off by the black bean, disturbs the cell, records the reaction on a plitron tube, the tube throws a switch. Out pops the black bean.

And, if you're not satisfied with that, the machine can count the beans and sort them at the same time.

This photo-electric cell it seems, is really a boon. It can be used to open garage doors, acting as soon as your automobile lights strike it. Placed in a school room, it will turn on the lights as soon as a dark cloud obscures the sun. It is used to turn on airway lights as soon as dusk falls.

Home Builders Elect Officers in Burkburnett

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Sept. 10.—Election of officers of the Home Builders class of the Methodist church was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. H. Henry, with Mrs. A. J. Key as joint hostess. Those elected were Mrs. E. A. Gosnell, president; Mrs. S. E. Cropper, first vice president; Mrs. A. J. Key, second vice president; Mrs. P. E. Dutton, secretary; Mrs. Clara Morrison, treasurer; devotional leader, Mrs. H. C. Gilbert, requested for teacher.

The meeting was opened with the song, "We'll Work Till Jesus Comes." Prayer was by Mrs. C. W. Dennis, with devotional by Mrs. H. C. Gilbert, a part of the 25th chapter of Matthew. The closing song was "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Non-Union Workers Demand Work on Tower

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 10. (UP)—Forty non-union steelworkers, most of them employes on the Biltmore hotel, today demanded they be given work on the Skirvin hower under construction. In a petition circulated among workers, they declared the work was being given to workers from Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh.

SERIOUS JOKE

Captain Dollar Talks on Standards of Matrimony

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., Sept. 10. Modern changes in the standards of matrimonial devotion were discussed today by Capt. Robert Dollar, dean of American shipping men, and his wife, on the eve of their 57th wedding anniversary.

Tomorrow, at their pastoral San Rafael home, the pair will entertain a few "old friends" as they observe the marriage that took place in a remote Ontario village in 1874.

"Divorce," said Captain Dollar, the doughty 87-year-old Scotch-American pioneer, "is a word that was unknown when we were married. Today it has achieved great prominence—but it's a joke."

Two Senoritas 'Shoot It Out' for Love of Dancer

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 10. (US)—For love of a man described as a "part time tap dancer," two Mexican senoritas recently shot it out with 25-caliber pistols in a vacant lot.

One of the senoritas, Sofia Mendoza, is in a hospital from a serious bullet wound in the lung, inflicted by Maria de Los Angeles. The police are searching for Sergio Sliva, whose bent for writing passionate love letters goaded the girls into the duel.

Senorita de Los Angeles explained the affair to the police:

"We both love Sergio intensely, and decided to shoot it out. There was no other way.

"We took a taxicab to the chosen spot, unaccompanied by seconds, paced off 25 paces and fired point blank."

Passersby found Senorita Mendoza lying on the ground and her adversary standing by holding a pistol. Police were summoned and began their search for the cab driver and Silva.

According to the police, Senorita de Los Angeles' recital convinced them that Silva "knew more about love letters than all of Hollywood."

Immigration Laws Cut July Influx to 3,174

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (US)—Reflecting the administration's drastic policy of restricting immigration, Commissioner General Hull today disclosed that during July only 3,174 aliens were admitted.

This compared with 3,534 in the preceding six years. The larger proportionate decreases were from Germany, Irish Free State, Canada and Mexico.

CAPONE SKIPS FIVE-TEN LAW

Grand Jury Unable to Return Indictment

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (US)—Prosecution of "Scarface Al" Capone under the severe Jones "five and ten" law collapsed today.

The July-August federal grand jury reported it was unable to find sufficient evidence for a re-indictment and was discharged from further duty.

Capone, for whom the gates of Leavenworth once practically had opened because of his pleas of guilty, now stands again in the position of a defendant fighting the charges of the government with all the resources at his command. He may continue a free man for many months to come.

When Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson refused last July to be bound by any bargain between the prosecution and the defense as to the length of Capone's sentence, Capone at once withdrew his plea of guilty to income evasion charges and last Tuesday was permitted also to withdraw his guilty plea on a liquor law conspiracy charge.

Judge Wilkerson ordered the grand jury to see if the gang king might not be indicted under the Jones law, in which the maximum penalty is a five-year sentence, as well as under the conspiracy count in which the maximum penalty is only two years. This move against the gangster failed today with the no-indictment report of the grand jury.

The grand jury filed into Judge Wilkerson's court to say that a report had been prepared, but no indictment voted. The judge was quoted as replying that he was "interested in indictments and not in reports," whereupon he sent them back to Federal Judge John P. Barnes to be discharged.

Coste's Plane Starts Today After New Air Mark

LE BOURGET, France, Sept. 10. (AP)—Dieudonne Coste's plane, the Question Mark, with Jacques Codos as chief pilot, arrived here today and was ready to start tomorrow morning on an attempt to beat the world nonstop straight line flight record.

Largest Amphibian Plane Takes Air

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—The largest amphibian plane ever constructed flew to Floyd Bennet field today from the Sikorsky factory at Stratford, Conn., to complete a successful ground load test in which it lifted 34,000 pounds of lead.

The giant plane is designed to carry 40 passengers and a crew of five. It has a wing spread of 114 feet, weighs 22,000 pounds and is equipped with four 575 horsepower Pratt-Whitney motors. It was designed by Igor Sikorsky.

On the load test the plane took off after a run of 2,000 feet, circled the field and landed gracefully. The lead represented the weight of 40 passengers and fuel for 500 miles of flight.

The machine was to be taken later today to Bridgeport, Conn., where it will attempt a take-off from water tomorrow with a similar capacity load.

DUNCAN SETS ROBBERY TRIAL

Pioneer Farmer Held In Attack on Merchant

DUNCAN, Okla., Sept. 10.—Corbitt Littrell, well-known farmer living east of Marlow, is held in the county jail here without bond, facing preliminary hearing Monday on a charge of participating in the beating and robbery of M. S. Adams, Royal postmaster and store keeper, last Aug. 19.

Adams, 72, was struck down and severely beaten one night when he found a man apparently attempting to break into his store.

Littrell and Mack Lankford, 34, of near Marlow, were arrested the following day by federal officers, who said they found some meat taken from the Royal store in Littrell's car. Federal charges were filed in the case and Littrell released on bond.

Stephens county authorities then filed robbery with firearms against Corbitt Littrell, Lankford and Wade Littrell. Lankford is in federal jail at Chickasha. Wade Littrell is being hunted by county and federal authorities.

The case is expected to attract considerable attention, and both Adams and Corbitt Littrell are pioneer residents of the county. Littrell is said to be well to do.

Robbery with firearms is a capital offense in Oklahoma, with death in the electric chair the maximum punishment.

Wichitan Arrested After Death Threat

Said to have threatened a former employer with death, a Wichita Falls man was lodged in the city jail late Thursday afternoon when police discovered two pistols the man had concealed on learning that officers were on the way to arrest him.

The employer, P. D. King of the Miller & Miller Motor Freight lines, 1113 Ohio, said that the man recently had been discharged, and that since that time he had made several calls to the office and complained. He had made two trips to the place Thursday before appearing the third time armed with a .45 automatic and a .38 special, it was said. Mr. King said the ex-employe had threatened to kill him.

Charges of carrying pistols will be filed Friday, according to A. L. Stubblefield and George Garrett, detectives who made the arrest. Efforts probably will be made to have the man placed under a peace bond, also, it was said.

City Physician Urges Vaccination of Children

Antitoxin treatment to prevent diphtheria, and vaccination against typhoid, was strongly recommended for all school children Thursday by Dr. R. B. Wolford, city physician.

Dr. Wolford pointed out that while vaccination of public school pupils is not compulsory here, it is of vital importance in preventing the spread of disease. He invited parents who do not feel able to obtain the services of family physicians to bring their children to the health department offices at the Memorial auditorium for such treatment.

Utah Prison Quiet After Fatal Battle in Yard

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 10. (INS)—Quiet prevailed within the walls of the state penitentiary today following the outbreak in which one prisoner lost his life and two other prisoners and two guards were wounded.

Five prisoners are in solitary confinement for their part in the attempted break. Two face possible death at the hands of a firing squad or hangmen. Warden R. E. Davis announced he would file charges against Robert H. Elliott and Delbert Pfoutz, both "lifers."

Red Goose Party Brings Joy to 3,000 Young Wichitans

Approximately 2,000 boys and girls of the city were guests Thursday morning at the "Red Goose" annual party sponsored by Saul's store. The party was held at the Majestic theater, where 1,700 children saw the "Conquering Horde," a western picture of the type in which the extremely young generation delights. So large was the attendance that the additional 600 had to be accommodated at the State theater. Souvenirs were given to each child present.

Murray Gives Pardon To Convicted Slayer

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 10. (UP)—Dennis Gibson, serving a life term on a murder conviction, was granted a one-year parole today by Gov. W. H. Murray.

He must report to the pardon and parole office every month to report his conduct. The parole was granted so that he might support his destitute mother.

Gibson, his father, James Gibson and Ada Walkingstick were convicted in Okfuskee county on a murder charge in the slaying of Ada Walkingstick's husband. Dennis Gibson was the state's principal witness against the other two. All three were sentenced to life imprisonment.

C-C COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Current Conditions Here To Be Discussed

Current conditions in Wichita Falls and the city's future will be subjects for open discussion at the initial fall meeting of the business council of the chamber of commerce at the Kemp hotel Friday.

Several speakers will appear on the program, according to the report of C. Y. Tully, program chairman, to J. S. Hargett, council chairman. Several ideas of benefit to Wichita Falls are expected to come of the discussion.

The public in general is invited and urged to attend the meeting, Mr. Hargett said. Members of the council particularly are urged to be present, in order that the organization may get off to a good start after several weeks' inactivity during the summer.

Catholic Women's Council Called

DUNCAN, Okla., Sept. 10.—New officers of the Chickasha deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women will be elected at a meeting here Sept. 24, and work of the individual councils discussed. Mrs. J. S. Buchanan, president, widow of the late vice president of the University of Oklahoma, will be here to preside at the meeting.

A luncheon will be served by women of the three churches in charge of Rev. Father Arnold N. La Rocque, pastor of the Assumption church here. Those in charge of the luncheon are Mrs. H. A. Baker, Duncan; Mrs. Clyde Stanton, Marlow; and Mrs. John Coyle, Rush Springs.

Delegates from neighboring council units and a number of Southern Oklahoma pastors are expected. Mrs. Thomas Ward of Oklahoma City, state president of the diocesan council, will attend.

RECIPES

Bran Muffins With Pineapple
One cupful flour.
One teaspoonful soda.
One teaspoonful salt.
Two cupfuls bran.
One and one-fourth cupfuls milk.
One-half cupful molasses.
One egg.
Three-fourths cupful crushed pineapple.

Sift together flour, soda and salt. Add bran, milk, molasses and egg, well beaten. Beat thoroughly and add pineapple drained from the juice. Make two dozen muffins baked in small greased muffin pans in a hot oven or at 400 degrees F. for 25 minutes.

Hors d'Oeuvres

(a) Rings of hard cooked egg whites, enclosing deviled yolks.
(b) Anchovies curled around pimolas.
(c) Sweet pickled apple balls, chocolate-coated.
(d) Celery appetizers.

Note—These or any preferred assortment may be placed in the usual hors d'oeuvre platter and set the table.

Banana Fritters With Jelly Sauce
Four bananas.
Powdered sugar.
Two teaspoonfuls lemon juice.
Batter mixture.

Peel, scrape and cut bananas in halves, lengthwise. Then cut in two pieces, crosswise. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and lemon juice. Let stand 30 minutes. Drain, dip in batter, and fry in deep fat. Serve with a cube of tart jelly or a jelly sauce.

Fritter Batter
One cupful flour.
One and one-half teaspoonful baking powder.
Three tablespoonfuls powdered sugar.
One-fourth teaspoonful salt.
One-third cupful milk.
One egg.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Combine milk and egg well beaten and add to dry ingredients, while beating constantly.

Currant Jelly Sauce

Boil one cupful of granulated sugar and one-third cup of water without stirring four or five minutes; add four level tablespoonfuls currant jelly. As soon as the sauce boils again, add the juice of a lemon and strain through a fine sieve. If a very fine sauce is desired, add a handful of preserved or candied cherries.

Carrot Surprise

Dice six carrots and cook until tender in just enough water to keep from burning. In a saucepan heat two tablespoonfuls flour, two tablespoonfuls butter, and add slowly three-fourths cupful milk and one half cupful grated cheese. Season with one-half teaspoonful salt and cayenne pepper; add carrots. Place in a buttered baking dish and sprinkle with grated cheese and a dash of paprika, then brown in the oven.

Butter Semmels

Butter semmels may be made of any yeast dough mixture. They are made when shaping the yeast dough before the last rising, by putting a piece of butter in the dough which has been cut round, and then pinching the edges up over it tightly. The dough looks perfectly round and the roll when baked just like any round roll; but when broken open the melted butter is discovered.

Peach Salad
Six canned peach halves.
One-fourth pound nut meats, chopped.
One small bottle Maraschino cherries, chopped.
One head lettuce.
One-half pound stoned dates, chopped.
Mayonnaise.

Mix together the chopped nut meats, dates and cherries. Add enough juice from the bottle of cherries to make a stiff paste. Form this mixture into balls the size and shape of peach stones and fill the center of the canned peaches. Use one-half large peach to each serving. Serve on lettuce and top with mayonnaise. Serves six.

Ice Cream Pies

Cut plain or puff paste in circles and bake on the outside of muffin pans. Cool and when ready to serve put a layer of apple sauce in the bottom of each pastry case. Cover with a scoop of vanilla or chantilly mousse or ice cream and with a thick meringue piled high. Place on a board and put in broiling oven or in a very hot oven until meringue is delicately brown. Serve immediately. Any fresh or canned fruit, crushed and sweetened to taste can be used in place of the apple sauce and any simple ice cream or mousse in place of those suggested.

Apple Bavarian Cream

Cut three or four apples in pieces, retaining skin and seeds; add the thin yellow rind of an orange and a little water, cover and let cook until tender; press through a sieve fine enough to keep back the seeds. One cup of the pulp is needed. In the meantime soften three-fourths of a tablespoonful of gelatin in three tablespoonfuls of cold water and one-fourth tablespoonful of gelatin in one tablespoonful of cold water. Dissolve the small measure of gelatin by setting the dish into boiling water. When dissolved, add three tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of lemon juice and three tablespoonfuls of orange juice and when the sugar is dissolved strain into a mold. Set this into the refrigerator to stiffen a little. Add the cup of hot apple puree to the larger portion of softened gelatin, stir to dissolve the gelatin, add the rest of the juice from the lemon with one-third cup of sugar and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and stir in a dish of ice water until the mixture begins to thicken; then fold in one-half cup of heavy cream, beaten light but not dry. When the mixture dropped from a spoon holds its shape, turn into the mould above the jelly. Serve unmolded with slices of cored and pared apple cooked in syrup.

PEANUTS

It is not definitely known when and where the peanut was first cultivated. Several allied species of plants are natives of Brazil and there is every indication that the common peanut originally came from tropical America. Peanuts were introduced into the United States during the earlier days of colonization, but did not become of commercial importance until about 1870. At present they are raised extensively in the South.

Botanically the peanut belongs to the same group of plants as do the beans and peas, but possesses the character of maturing its fruit or nut beneath the surface of the soil rather than above the ground as do most other leguminous plants.

To most persons the peanut suggests only the article as it appears for sale, whole or shelled and salted, but during recent years the uses of peanuts have become numerous, and include a wide range of utility. The demand for peanuts for use in the manufacture of food preparations is constantly increasing. By-products of the peanut are now being employed extensively in the manufacture of feeds for farm stock and dairy cows, and the plant is being utilized as forage and as a soil renovator.

Among the most important uses of the peanut for human food are the following: It is eaten from the shell, as salted shelled peanuts, as blanched peas, in the so-called peanut candies and brittle, in combination with popcorn and puffed rice, in the form of peanut butter, and as an ingredient of vegetarian meats, peanut meal and salad oils.

Peanut meal, made from finely ground blanched peanut meats, is used to some extent in confections. This meal is especially desirable in the manufacture of almond macaroons and small cakes, to which it imparts the desired almond flavor. It is also used in the manufacture of candies.

Peanut oil is used in the same manner as olive oil; also for mixing with cottonseed oil in order to improve the quality of the cottonseed oil for salad purposes.

Peanut butter is manufactured by the tons and is a source of delightful new flavors when used in combination with other foods.

Peanuts are high in food value in comparison to their cost. Of every 100 pounds of shelled roasted peanuts 88 pounds is food material while there is only 13 pounds in an equal quantity of whole milk. One-fourth pound (one cup) of shelled peanuts yields 640 calories, while a pound (one pint) of whole milk yields only 325 calories. The following is equivalent to one pound (four cups) of shelled roasted peanuts in total nutrients:

1. Thirty-three whole eggs.
2. Three and one-half quarts of whole milk.
3. Four and one-half pounds of round of beef.

The peanut contains protein, fat, carbohydrate, mineral and a small quantity of water; therefore, it is a very concentrated food and should receive its place in the diet, not as a food accessory, but as a food.

Suggestive ways of using peanuts: Homemade Peanut Butter

The peanuts may be roasted before or after shelling, but in either case the oven should be only moderately hot and the peas should be stirred frequently. After roasting, rub off the skins and screen out the small germs or hearts. In grinding use the finest plate on the meat grinder and screw up the tension until the crank will be quite hard to turn. If the pulp is too coarse after one grinding it may be run through a second time. It will not be necessary to add anything but a little salt to the butter, but if desired the butter may be thinned by the addition of a little olive or peanut oil. (Two tablespoonfuls of oil may be used to one-half cupful of peanut butter.) Salt to taste.

Parched Peanut Soup
One cupful peanuts.
One cupful onion.
Dash of pepper.
Two teaspoonfuls salt
Three tablespoonfuls flour.
Two tablespoonfuls butter.
Two cupfuls milk.

Soak peanuts over night, add onion; cook until tender, about 30 minutes; press through a strainer, add water to make two cupfuls puree. Make a white sauce of remaining ingredients; add peanut puree; heat and serve. Ham bone cooked with nuts may be used for additional flavor.

Peanut Loaf
One cupful dry bread crumbs.
One cupful roasted peanuts, chopped or ground.
Two teaspoonfuls baking powder.
One teaspoonful salt.
One teaspoonful onion juice.
One egg.
One-half cupful skim milk.

Soak the bread crumbs in milk until soft. Add peanuts, baking powder, and seasonings. Beat egg, then add. Shape into loaf and place in an oiled baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven 30 to 40 minutes, or until firm to the touch. Serve with tomato sauce.

Peanut Cookies
Two tablespoonfuls butter.
One-fourth cupful sugar.
One egg.
One teaspoonful baking powder.
One-fourth teaspoonful salt.
One-half teaspoonful lemon juice.
One-half cupful flour.
One teaspoonful milk.
One-half cupful chopped roasted peanuts.

Cream the butter; add sugar, and one egg well beaten. Mix and sift the dry ingredients; add first to mixture; then add milk, peanuts and lemon juice. Drop from a teaspoon on a buttered tin one inch apart. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a slow oven.

Cottage Cheese and Peanut Salad

Mix one cupful cottage cheese, six slices fresh cucumber, chopped fine, one-half slice pimento, one cupful roasted peanuts, all finely chopped, salt and paprika. Add enough cream, sweet or sour, to moisten. Shape into balls, serve on lettuce and garnish with French dressing.

Peanut Butter Salad Dressing
One cupful peanut butter (home made).
One-half cupful peanut oil, Wesson oil, or olive oil.
Three tablespoonfuls lemon juice.
One teaspoonful salt.

Mix peanut butter, oil, seasonings and serve on plain lettuce, bananas and lettuce, or on stuffed tomatoes.

Note—Peanut butter may be added to any cooked salad dressing while it is hot, substituting the peanut butter for butter.

Peanut Nougat Ice Cream
One-half pound peanut nougat.
Two cupfuls milk.
One-half cupful sugar.
Few grains salt.
Three egg yolks.
One cupful heavy cream.
Three-fourths tablespoonfuls vanilla.

Force peanut nougat through food chopper. Scald milk, add sugar and salt and add to egg yolks beaten slightly. Cook and stir until thickened, strain and when slightly cool add nougat, cream beaten stiff and vanilla. Freeze in freezer or in refrigerator pan, stirring thoroughly every 20 minutes until frozen.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright, 1931, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Suggested Menus

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Sept. 13:

Sunday

Breakfast—French omelet, crisp bacon, waffle (browned through), stewed raisins.

Lunch—Eight-ounce glass of grapejuice, or grapes with milk (as much as desired).

Dinner—Broiled chicken or rabbit, baked egg plant, cooked cucumbers, salad of grated carrots on lettuce, ice cream.

Monday

Lunch—Baked potato, head lettuce, string beans.

Dinner—Roast mutton or veal, buttered vegetables, consisting of carrots, turnips and beets cooked separately and diced together just before serving, salad of shredded lettuce and endive; jell-o or jell-well.

Tuesday

Breakfast—Cottage cheese with pineapple (fresh or canned).

Lunch—Boiled unpolished rice, cooked beet tops, ripe olives.

Dinner—Non-starchy vegetable soup, salisbury steak, cooked asparagus and celery, salad of crisp raw spinach leaves, stewed raisins.

Wednesday

Breakfast—Poached egg on melba toast, apple sauce.

Lunch—Pint of buttermilk, 10 or 12 dates.

Dinner—Baked Belgian hare or broiled fresh tongue, cooked zucchini (small Italian squash), baked ground beets, salad of sliced tomatoes, apple whip.

Thursday

Breakfast—Baked eggs, *whole-wheat drop biscuits, stewed prunes.

Lunch—Generous dish of ice cream, raw apple.

Dinner—Beef roast, spinach, salad of molded vegetables (string beans, celery and carrots), pear sauce.

Friday

Lunch—Cooked pumpkin, okra, shredded lettuce.

Dinner—Baked sea bass, stewed tomatoes, egg plant, McCoy salad, no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast—Grapefruit, all desired (no sugar).

Lunch—Buttered macaroni, lettuce, spinach.

Dinner—Sliced cold roast beef (left over), cooked celery, baked parsnips, salad of cold diced beets and carrots, jello or jell-well with whipped cream.

*Wholewheat Drop Biscuits: Two egg whites, one cupful of wholewheat flour, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, pinch of salt, one-half cupful of cream. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and fold in with a silver knife the wholewheat flour into which has been sifted the baking powder and salt. Add the cream, and drop the batter in small spoonfuls on an aluminum baking sheet and bake in a hot oven until brown on top.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cloth the Sunlight Penetrates

Question—Mrs. R. O. M. says: "In reply to an inquiry in a recent issue of the news you mentioned the name of a cloth which the ultra-violet rays of the sun would penetrate, and I have forgotten the name and would ask that you please advise me, and also if the skin will burn or blister through the cloth.

Answer—The cloth you inquire about is called celanese, wood silk or woven rayon. Portions of the rays are somewhat diluted by the cloth, and there is not as much danger of blistering as when exposed to the direct sunlight.

Cramps Caused by Toxins

Question—D. M. writes: "Within the past year the muscles of my legs, sometimes one leg and sometimes the other, are seized with sudden contractions. The muscles become hardened and temporarily useless. It will not bear my weight. Attempts to relieve the trouble by massaging and rubbing are accompanied by a severe pain. The parts affected will not bear touch. Within half an hour the attack subsides. They usually occur at night after retiring and most frequently when I am a little tired from working or exercising."

Answer—The cramps which you are having in the muscles of your legs are undoubtedly caused by some toxic condition, especially since they have the tendency to occur after a day's work or when you are tired. I have sent you by mail my article on cramps and neurosis, which may be helpful to you, also my cleansing diet, which should be of benefit in cleansing your system of any toxins which may have accumulated. Hot applications for the affected muscles may be of some assistance, or you could sit in a tub of hot water.

Friberg News

Special to The Record News.

FRIBERG, Texas, Sept. 9.—An unusually interesting program, both from the standpoint of the excellent numbers offered and the record breaking attendance of parents and friends featured the opening of the local school here Monday morning. The program in charge of Miss Josephine Russell, was given as follows: Prayer, Rev. A. F. Hansel; songs, "Eyes of Texas," "Oh me, Oh My," "Friberg Will Shine," school; vocal number, "Old Rugged Cross," Miss Magdalene Paulson; address, Ben F. Green, representative of the school board; vocal number, "Schoolday Sweethearts," Miss Gladia Fucate; address, P.-T. A. president, Mrs. A. F. Hensel; piano number, "Falling Waters," Mrs. Troy Hurdt; short talks were given by the faculty members.

The faculty is the same as the last two years and includes Miss Josephine Russell, principal, Miss Katherine Singletary, intermediate, and Miss Itha Hardeman, primary teachers. The assembly program is to be featured every Monday morning, it is announced.

Farm Club

Mrs. G. B. Campbell was a charming hostess to the Women's Home Demonstration club Tuesday afternoon at her home in Cameron gardens. The meeting was opened with a brief devotional by repeating the prayer and reading the creed of the club. Featuring the afternoon program was the inspection of Mrs. Campbell's 4-H pantry, and an explanation of the pantry demonstration sponsored by the county clubs. Instructions were given by Miss Webb for the making of braided toe sack rugs, work on one rug, belonging to Mrs. Campbell, was begun and will be executed in colors of green, yellow and dark brown. Plans for the county fair in October were discussed. Eleven members and five visitors attended the meeting. The club is to meet next with Mrs. J. T. Bobo.

Mrs. Lovell Hostess

Mrs. Ethel Lovell was a delightful hostess to members of the Friendship club Wednesday afternoon at her home. A short devotional meeting and the business session was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. A. F. Hensel, in the absence of the president. Mrs. Hensel also read a very interesting paper on the "Inspiration of songs." The hostess served a delicious ice course, assisted by Miss Mae Jones, to the following: Misses Millie Roediger, Katherine Singletary, Maurine Leissler, Mae Jones, Ollie Roediger and Mesdames William Jenne, Vernie Lamb, Lloyd Binion, J. O. Lamb, A. F. Hensel and four guests, Mesdames Carpenter and Alvin Byman and Misses Maurine Carpenter and Emmaline Byman, all of Henrietta.

P.-T. A. Meet

The initial meeting of the P.-T. A. was held in the school auditorium Friday evening, presided over by the newly elected president, Mrs. A. F. Hensel, who talked at length on plans adopted for the new year, one of which will be the contributing to the birthday fund, which is sent to the state office of the P.-T. A. organization. Another will be the making of a scrap book for the year. Several new members have been added to the membership.

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

This last time this affliction appeared in print the Rambler took occasion to lash the alleged poets of Electra, and we naturally expected some hot rejoinder. It came, indeed! Here is Electra's answer to my charge that they can't write poetry:

Electra Shaver fans approached
The pearly gates one day,
And good St. Peter let them in Without the least delay.

Fred Thompson came next.
Said Peter with a frown,
"It pains me deeply, sir, but I
Have got to turn you down.

"The Shaver fans wrote a poem
You made fun of it all.
And the poems you wrote yourself
Were worse than I can call.

"We have a little slogan, Fred,
To you it may seem hard.
The Shaver fans are welcome here
But sport editors are barred."

How could you, Fred? Make fun of the Oilers' and Shavers' poetical attempts when you write 'em much worse yourself. Has the heat gone to your head especially when you mentioned the Rambler and his million readers. Buy you a dime's worth of post cards and take a straw vote of your readers. You'll even have enough cards left to write more about your operation.

—Still a Shaver Fan.

Well, Get a Load of This

The Rambler, wings a-flutter
Went up to heaven's brink
But there he found the Shavers
With their paper, pen and ink.

"They let such poets as you roam
In this celestial dell?"
He cried, and then "Jason," he said,
"Call us a taxi for h—l!"

C. L. Holman of Mangum, Okla., wrote several days ago wanting to know what teams the Spudders will play in the closing series, as he wants to come down for a few more games before the season closes.

We tried to wedge in an answer earlier, but failed. There remains only one more series, that starting Saturday with the Dallas Steers.

Mr. Holman wants our idea of who the leading third baseman of the league is. He mentions Schuble of Beaumont and Hock of Houston as likely candidates.

Both are excellent third basemen. For all around play, however, we had just as soon watch Bo Euller as any of them. Especially since he is on his annual hitting rampage. Toward the end of each season Euller suddenly goes hog wild, and starts rattling the fence boards. His hitting recently has been as much as anybody could desire.

Another boy who is hitting with clock-like regularity is Bear Allday. We never tire of watching the Bear in action. There is not a weary muscle in his body. Sometimes awkward, sometimes butter-fingered, he nevertheless makes astonishingly few errors, and manages to complete some of the most difficult plays in the game. The Bear is a real hustler, and one of the league's brightest infield prospects. We'll hear more of the Bear in years to come.

Pete Turgeon Sold

The Milwaukee Brewers have sold Pete Turgeon to the Toledo Mudhens, reports the Sporting News.

That publication says the Brewers gave Turgeon and a wad of cash for Horace Koehler, brilliant infielder. Koehler is described as a man of all-around ability, versatile in every position except in the box and behind the bat.

The deal was put over during the last week and both players have already joined their new clubs.

HUSKIES CROWD VARSITY CAMPS

Hot Sun Greets Squads On First Workout

FORT WORTH, Sept. 10. (AP)—Forty players reported to Coaches Schmidt, Wolf and Meyer today when the T. C. U. football team started its training. The group consisted of 15 letter men, six veteran squadmen and 19 sophomores.

The practices this year will all be held on a drill field near the playing gridiron at the new stadium, and after the first few days will not be open to the public.

Today, Friday, Saturday and Monday the Frogs will take two workouts a day—one in the morning and one in the afternoon—but after scholastic activities start on Tuesday, there will be only one field session a day.

First day work consisted of the usual conditioning training.

The squad will have only eight days in which to get ready for its first opponents.

Athletic Director Pete Wright announced a game has been arranged with Texas Military college for Friday, Sept. 18. The Frog B team will play that afternoon. On the following day the A group will take on the North Texas Teachers. Both games will be played here.

49 ANSWER CALL AT SOUTHERN METHODIST

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Forty-nine candidates answered Southern Methodist's call for football practice here today. Clad in bright red uniforms, the Mustangs went through their first drill under a blistering sun.

Coach Ray Morrison spent most of the initial practice with his players passing and putting.

Marion Hammon, all-American tackle in 1929 who was scholastically ineligible last year, was the first on the practice field. He appeared slightly overweight but otherwise in excellent condition.

Before sending his men on the field, Morrison talked to them over an hour, discussing various games the Mustangs will play this season.

Jack McNutt, backfield man and former all-state high school star at Corsicana, will not be on the team this year because of an injured knee. He will return next year.

BELL STARTS AGGIES OFF TO WORK

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—As anxious and eager as his youngest candidates, Coach Madison Bell of Texas A. & M., began shaping the 1931 Aggie football machine today.

He immediately set the men running practice formations. Five other players, among them W. B. Williams of Greenville, sophomore back, are expected within the next few days.

Bell promised every candidate on the field his chance for a place on the team depended on his ability and aggressiveness. He emphasized he wanted an aggie team which "will be in there fighting from whistle to whistle."

Probable shifts in the lineup were anticipated today as Bell ran Capt. Carl Moulden of Cisco, previously playing at tackle, at a wing position. Bell indicated Moulden might be used to call signals. George Lord of Jourdanton, and Paul McFadden of Cleburne, regular linemen in 1930, worked with backfield candidates.

BAYLOR BEARS START TO WORK

WACO, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—Baylor university's coaching staff today started shaping the destinies of the 1931 Bears as 35 candidates went through their first workouts.

Among the candidates reporting to Coach Morley Jennings today was Pat Parker of Lufkin of whom much was expected last year, but who was out all season because of an injury. This season his eligibility is being questioned.

Benny Clark of Fort Worth was present despite an injured ankle. Clark is listed as one of Jennings' most promising wingmen.

Bochey Koch, all-American of last year, joined the Bruin coaching staff today.

Cards and A's On Eligibility List

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Twenty-four Athletics and 25 St. Louis Cardinals today were named eligible for the 1931 world series by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis on the almost certain assumption that the two clubs will meet in the fall classic.

Connie Mack and his assistants, Eddie Collin and Earle T. Mack also were named in the list as were Manager "Gabby" Street of the Cards and his coach, Clyde Ware.

The Athletic eligibles were Max Bishop, John Boley, Mickey Cochrane, Roger Cramer, Jimmy Dykes, George Earnshaw, Jimmy Foxx, Robert Grove, George Haas, John Heving, Waite Hoyt, Hank McDonald, Lewis Krausse, Eric McNair, Leroy Mahaffey, Edmund Miller, James Moore Jr., Joseph Palmisano, James Peterson, Ed Rommel, Al Simmons, Phil Todt, George Walberg and Dibrell Williams.

As a precautionary measure, 24 New York Giants players, together with Manager McGraw and his coaching staff, were named.

CANZONERI WHIPS BERG

Lightweight Champ Defends Title Successfully

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, successfully defended his title against Jackie (Kid) Berg of England, tonight, winning the decision in 15 rounds before a crowd of about 30,000.

Twice Berg was knocked down for counts of nine, the second time by a left hook to the body that was palpably low, and a half dozen times he reeled, bleeding and groggy, scarcely able to keep his feet under the punishment the flashing champion dealt him.

Berg, lacking in the early rounds much of the dash and incessant punching ability he displayed in his rise to the position of a title challenger, was nailed "under the gun" by Canzoneri's whistling right hand and he went down for a count of nine from a smash to the chin before the first round was half over. For a few seconds it seemed that the Englishman would not go as far as he did in Chicago, when Canzoneri knocked him out in two rounds, but Jackie rose and finished the round without running into further trouble.

The second time Berg was on the floor, in the eighth round, the blow that dropped him would have cost Conzoneri his title on a foul if tonight's duel had been fought before the New York state athletic commission outlawed low blows. A left hook that landed deep in foul territory dropped Jackie groaning but there was nothing the referee, silver-haired Patsy Haley, could do but count nine over him. Berg came up without trouble but this time Tony lashed him about the ring under a volley of vicious body blows and while the crowd roared its disapproval, Jackie stumbled through the bombardment to the bell.

Tom Estell Scores 1-0 Victory Over Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Sept. 10. (AP)—Beaumont closed its home season today by dropping a 1 to 0 game to San Antonio, Tom Estell returning to the mound after taking a beating yesterday to limit the Baker boys to six scattered hits. Luke Hamlin started for the Exporters but gave way to a pinch hitter in the eighth, Green finishing. Flaskamper's long double that scored Heath from first gave the Indians their win in the eighth. Champs Pound Cromer For 15 Hits

GALVESTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Houston took advantage of 15 hits, a wild pitch, a passed ball and four errors to defeat Galveston here tonight, 8 to 4. All of the Buc runs came in the third when Ray Hart was touched for four hits and two walks, besides throwing one wild, and Pete Fowler came to his relief. The Buffs got five runs in the eighth off five hits, one of them a triple, three errors and a passed ball. Score:

Wellington Plays Hedley Today

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Sept. 10.—Wellington High school Skyrockets will play a practice game with the Hedley eleven Friday afternoon at Powell field in Wellington, it has been announced by Coach Jim Smith who has been putting candidates for the team through their pre-season workouts for the past two weeks. Hedley's prospects are reported to be much brighter than in several seasons and it is probable that they will be able to give the Skyrockets a good fight at this early stage of their training. The Hedley club is coached by R. F. Newman.

Coach Smith was unable to announce who his starters in Friday's game would be, but it is probable Wellington's starting lineup will be picked from the following: Jones, Glenn, and Clements, ends; Gillespie, Hudson, and Wooldridge, tackles; Moore and Warrick, guards; Willoughby and Robertson, centers; Captain Williams, Cook, Henson, Carson, Presnell, Spence, and Strong, backfield.

Although Friday's game is in the practice column and has no bearing upon Wellington's standing in the interscholastic race, it will attract a large number of fans who are eager to see the Skyrockets in action for the first time this season.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—An early advance in cotton today was followed by rather sharp declines in the later trading.

December sold off from 7.18 to 6.88 and closed at 6.89 with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 17 to 19 points.

The opening was very steady 8 to 10 points higher on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement which evidently found additional encouragement in the firm showing of Liverpool. The advance soon extended to 6.96 for October and 7.48 for March. The market met a little more cotton at these figures while the demand tapered off and after holding fairly steady to moderate reactions during the middle of the day, prices weakened in the later trading.

October sold off to 6.67 and March to 7.18, and closing prices were at the lowest of the day, under liquidation or reselling by recent buyers combined with some local and southern selling.

Early reports from Washington concerning the proposed establishment of credits for cotton exports seemed to make a favorable impression on the trade both here and in Liverpool. Liverpool cable advices said there had been covering with continental and Bombay buying in that market on the Washington news with selling restricted to realizing. The early buying here was also accompanied by continued talk of a holding movement in the South, but the weather was considered very favorable for picking and ginning.

Exports today 11,891, making 345,817 so far this season. Port receipts 19,514. U. S. port stocks 2,768,068.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Cotton was fairly active today and prices, after advancing during the morning on good Liverpool cables and reports from Washington on the activity of the federal reserve board in aiding exporting of cotton to Europe, declined sharply during the afternoon on a report that the farm board had announced it was out of the price fixing business and would dispose of its wheat holdings at the rate of 5,000,000 bushels a month.

This caused fear that similar action would be taken in respect to cotton holdings. After advancing 12 points before mid-session, the market dropped 28 points from the highs after mid-session and 16 points from the previous close. The market continued downward to the end making new lows for the day, 31 to 32 points under highs and closing at the bottom, steady, showing net declines for the day of 18 to 20 points, virtually a dollar a bale. Liverpool is due tomorrow at 12 to 13 penny points down on New Orleans.

Liverpool came in 4 to 5 penny points better than due and private cables stated that the continent and Bombay bought and shorts covered. Manchester cabled that the home trade was quiet but China reported improvement.

Port receipts 18,341, for week 89,660, so for season 389,232, last season 1,097,559. Exports 9,737, for week 58,022, for season 337,276, last season 572,578. Stock at ports 2,762,978, last year 2,068,259. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 50,106, last year 79,341. Spot sales at southern markets 34,813, last year 30,770.

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 10. (INS)—There was a fair demand for opening spots cotton today with prices steady. Sales amounted to 5,000 bales.

At midday, middling fair sold at 5.00d, strictly good middling at 4.55d, good middling at 4.20d, strictly middling at 3.95d, middling at 3.80d, strictly low middling at 3.65d, low middling at 3.45d, good ordinary at 2.95d.

Futures were steady with October at 3.65d, December at 3.72d, January at 3.73d, March at 3.80 down and May at 3.88d.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Chicago cotton market closed from 20 to 22 points net lower in a fairly active market. Opening prices were from 5 to 7 points higher on better Liverpool cables than due. In the forenoon price fluctuations were small, and the market held steady, but in the afternoon prices declined sharply, and the closing was at bottom for the day.

Stock Market Values Slip Again Under Continued Liquidation

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (US)—With few exceptions, stock prices again today showed net losses at the close. There was no change in the character of the market, which seemingly reflected continuance of aggressive bear activity plus liquidation from nervous holders or from more disturbing situations.

A limited number of stocks showed no change in price or modest gains, but there were no signs of liquidation completely drying up in many issues. The usual quota of adverse dividend news helped to maintain an attitude of unsettlement, especially the indisputable evidence of directorates favoring almost without exception the most conservative course, of omitting or reducing distributions.

The bond market contributed to the nervousness, with government issues weak, especially the new bonds just sold. German bonds also declined sharply. Volume of stock transactions was reduced to 1½ million shares.

Omission of the Rock Island common dividend, and similar action by the Maine Central, induced a renewed wave of liquidation in the railroad department and this group reached a new average low price. Rock Island broke very sharply, and its action quite plainly disclosed that the market has not fully discounted all unfavorable news of this character. The railroad managements, however, are fully cognizant of actual conditions, and are taking every step necessary to preserve their financial affairs until relief is forthcoming either in business revival or adjustment of wages or rates.

Not until the market had closed was it announced that International Telephone & Telegraph's directors had lowered the dividend rate to 25 cents quarterly, half the previous rate. The news was rather contrary to the general expectation of Wall street, although it has been known that earnings have been running below the previous dividend rate.

Second quarter of 1931 netted 39 cents a share, making total of 82 cents a share for the first half of this year, but officials of I. T. & T. had insisted the 50-cent rate would be maintained throughout the year. However, as frequently commented upon here, the persistent weakness in the stock evidenced informed doubt concerning the dividend's maintenance. On the lower basis of $1 annually, the stock yields 4.40 per cent.

Steel corporation's unfilled business figures disclosing decline of 235,359 tons during August were about as expected, and steel common closed unchanged.

The stock's resistance above the $80 level induced some short-covering in the market but there was little buying of investment character. American Can showed a fractional gain, and Superheater, which joined the active list for the first time in many weeks rallied almost a point net on declaration of its regular dividend.

Weakness in International Telephone found reflection in American & Foreign Power, in which stock the same bear interests are active as in I. T. & T. Trans-American was in supply and slipped to a new low price. General Electric was distinctly weak and within a fraction of its lowest level, while Westinghouse, the most active stock of the day, closed down more than 2¾ points. Westinghouse's dividend is still in doubt.

The British news was cheering to the extent that it demonstrated the anxiety of the coalition government to go the limit in stabilizing the budget by radical sacrifices. There is an element of doubt in Wall street, however, regarding the entire English situation, a quite natural sequence to the sudden denouement of the true internal picture of that nation's condition just prior to the Labor government collapse and the American-French credits. There were many stories broadcast regarding additional sacrifices, or drastic measures, yet likely before Britain resumes the march to prosperity.

Among the bullish interests in the stock market, greatest interest centered on the performance of the public utility stocks, and their action was not entirely encouraging. It has been widely forecast that these issues would resist selling pressure regardless of the remainder of the list, but apparently there is little discrimination among sellers between utility shares and others.

The chief hope of the bull forces still lies in the creation of an overextended short position and there was some encouragement obtained from the fact that large borrowing demand was reported for leading issues, with steel common at 1-16th premium.

That outright liquidation has been proceeding on large scale was amply confirmed in the weekly report on loans disclosing $41,000,000 decline in brokerage borrowings to a new low record at $1,325,000,000.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Sept. 10. (AP)—Wheat premiums were easier and all commodities slow on the cash grain market today. Exporters were bidding 45½@46½c for wheat delivered Texas gulf ports.

Quotations on grains, basis carloads delivered gulf export rate to group three points, ranged as follows:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling 48@49½c; No. 1 hard 14 per cent protein 51@52c; 15 per cent protein 52½@54c; 16 per cent 54@55½c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 41@43c; No. 2 white 42@44c; No. 2 yellow 49@51c.

Oats—No. 2 red 23½@24½c.

Barley—No. 2 33@35c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 77@81c; No. 2 kaffir 80@83c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Enlarged milling demand reflected by more than 4 cents' bulge in September delivery of wheat at Minneapolis gave strength today to the wheat market here. A further stimulus for bullish sentiment was the fact that contract grades of wheat available to be used at once were commanding good premiums in all domestic centers. Previous speculative sellers of wheat at Minneapolis were reported to have switched to the buying side, with Minneapolis top quotations up more than 8 cents a bushel in less than a week.

Wheat closed unsettled, ¼@¾ cents up, corn ¼@½c off, oats unchanged to ⅛c higher and provisions unchanged to 12 cents advance.

Confirmation of serious damage to the wheat crop in France led to early firmness, especially as an official announcement was made that larger imports than heretofore looked for would be needed. A third of the French crop was suggested as likely to be of low quality. Notice was also at hand that Danubian offerings of wheat to Liverpool had been withdrawn. Moreover, crop prospects for wheat in Czecho-Slovakia and in Holland were reported unfavorable, and more active inquiry from abroad for North American wheat was in evidence.

Temporary setbacks in wheat prices resulted from sympathy with unsettlement of securities. A further transient bearish influence was word that Russian wheat shipments totaled 6,056,000 bushels for the week, compared with 4,512,000 the week previous and 1,240,000 a year ago. Another handicap to wheat bulls was the Canadian government crop report showing a larger yield than expected. On the other hand, domestic primary receipts of wheat today totalled but 1,066,000 bushels, against 2,422,000 on the corresponding day last year.

Corn weakened under selling pressure ascribed largely to the principal Chicago holder. There was also some selling of corn against purchases of wheat. The government crop report on 1931 corn production came after trading had ended, and was regarded as moderately bullish, totaling 18,000,000 bushels less than the average of recent private returns. Cash interests were buyers of oats.

Provisions responded to upturns in hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Sept. 47¼c, 48¼c; Dec. 49@49¼c, 50¼c; May 53¼c, 54½@54⅝c. Corn—Sept. 41¼c, 43⅜c; Dec. 37⅝c, 38¼c; May 41⅜c, 42⅛@43¼c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (US)—While the government estimate on corn production was somewhat less than the average of private figures, it was not looked upon as bullish by most traders. However, it represents only an average crop and with an unusually large part of the Iowa crop still susceptible to frost damage the market is left in a rather sensitive position, as any further reduction would be looked upon as highly bullish.

Figures on wheat received little attention. The spring crop figure is below the private estimates and represents the smallest crop in many years, but with total production of all wheat 23,000,000 bushels above a year ago, there is not much interest in minor reductions of the spring crop.

Figures on oats were just about as expected, showing a reduction of only 9,000,000 bushels below August estimates. The barley crop held another surprise, with the yield reduced.

The production of oats and barley are considered as somewhat bullish on corn. The oats crop is 200,000,000 bushels short of the crop a year ago, and about 150,000,000 bushels under an average yield. Barley production is 125,000,000 bushels less than a year ago, and about 50,000,000 bushels less than an average yield.

British League Leader Has Depression Cause

GENEVA, Sept. 10. (US)—Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, chief British delegate to the League of Nations, today told the league assembly that "the present worldwide lack of confidence is a psychological phenomenon."

The depression cannot be attributed to fear of war, he added, "because the possibility of war is at present most remote."

The viscount, renowned for his work in the cause of peace, added his voice to those of other statesmen who urge a rapproachement between France and Germany as one of the necessary steps toward world prosperity.

(AP)—A new giant airplane, the "Dyle et Bacalan," capable of carrying 28 soldiers and transporting a load of 14 tons, will take part in the aerial maneuvers here, which are to be witnessed by General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff of the United States army. He is scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

TRADE TRENDS

Building—During August there was a sharp upturn in projected building in the borough of Manhattan, City of New York. The total of $13,964,500 was the third highest monthly total this year and compared with $1,006,300 in July, the low point of 1931, and $11,483,500 in August last year. For the eight months this year plans were filed for 170 new structures to cost $97,216,746, compared with $127,862,200 for 448 buildings in the similar periods of 1930.

Copper—The price of copper has shown further weakness, with a reduction of a quarter of a cent in the export quotation to 7.75 cents a pound, c. i. f. European base ports. The cut brought the export price to a level of 7½ cents a pound in the domestic market. Foreign sales of the metal Thursday amounted to 4,500,000 pounds.

Pneumatic Tires—Shipments of pneumatic casings for July amounted to 5,461,908, a decrease of 2 per cent from June this year, and compared with 5,447,295 in July of 1930. July production totaled 4,826,484 tires, against 5,672,463 in June and 3,991,321 in July last year. Casings on hand July 31 amounted to 9,919,456 units, a decrease of 5.1 per cent under June, and 16 per cent below July 31, 1930, the Rubber Manufacturers' association reports.

Silver—Bar silver eased the primary markets, sagging an eighth of a cent in New York to 27¾ cents an ounce and a sixteenth of a penny in London to 12 15-16 pence.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Gray goods markets were quiet today and prices and transactions were unchanged. Fair amounts of carded broadcloths sold for spot delivery. Print cloths and Barrow sheetings sold in small lots, while low bids were turned away. Lower quotations of acetate process rayon cloths were awaited, with mills undecided about concessions. Burlap quotations held firm; sales were made some what more freely. Raw silk prices held unchanged; sales were small. The holiday influence was felt in the wool goods market.

Phone Your Classified Ads to

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon paper up until 11 a. m. same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want Ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

House Committee Favors Repeal of Peddler's Tax

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (UP)—Repeal of the state peddler tax bill, now subject of court litigation, was recommended by the committee on agriculture of the house of representatives tonight. The repeal bill would do away with the tax altogether.

Ray Holder of Lancaster, author of the original peddler tax bill who repudiated the bill as it came back from the senate, urged the committee to hold public hearings before acting on the bill, to see if it cannot be amended.

NODURFT DIES FROM WOUND

State Rangers Ordered To Join Investigation

Hickman himself will be one of the two.

Although there was no indication that an outbreak would occur here in the event the negroes are captured, the attack on Nodurft and his fiancee Wednesday night was the subject of much talk Thursday. Groups of people came and went at police station during the day, inquiring as to developments in the search. Some predicted a lynching if either or both of the blacks were apprehended. At no time during the day did a large crowd assemble, yet the handfulls that did gather for news talked among themselves in quiet tones. Their very soberness, however, appeared ominous, police said.

Couple Planned Future

The outrage upon the young couple occurred shortly before 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The young man had left Fort Worth Saturday on his vacation. Arriving here Saturday afternoon, he presented the girl a diamond ring as the symbol of their engagement to be married. They had spent many hours together since the youth's arrival in the city, planning their future together.

Nodurft met the girl when she got off work Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. They had spent the intervening hours riding around the city and talking. Reaching the lane, isolated but for a scattering of houses, they stopped.

A few minutes later they saw two negroes creeping upon them from behind. As the young man hastily tried to start his car the pair jumped on the running board of the machine. As he still attempted to get the car in motion, Nodurft was shot, apparently by the negro on the right running board.

Girl Taken Away

As he slumped over the steering wheel, his money was taken and the girl was stripped of her watch and engagement ring. Then, with a gun pressed against her, she was forced to accompany the two blacks to a point 100 yards away.

Threatened with death if she made an outcry, she was released after an indeterminable period. Hurrying back to the car, she lifted the body of her fiance away from the steering wheel, moved him across the seat, and sped the car back to the city.

Hysterical, she was unable to leave the hospital Wednesday night.

Police were called to the hospital by Miss Mary Smith, superintendent. Every available officer was pressed into service, and with sawed-off shotguns they took up the man hunt.

It was while with Sheriff Perry Browning and L. N. McKelvey, night county jailer, that King collapsed under a heart stroke.

King Joined Hunt

Instructing hospital attendants to notify Nodurft's relatives, King joined the two officers at 12:30 a. m. Thursday in the search. It had been reported that two negroes were seen hurrying away from Wichita Falls on the Windthorst road.

Twice as the car in which the three were riding was being driven toward the point where the negroes were said to have been seen, King complained of his heart, but refused Sheriff Browning's suggestion that they turn back. About nine miles out from the city, King collapsed.

He was dead before the automobile could be driven back to the hospital.

Mr. King had been associated with the Continental Oil company here for three years. He is survived by his widow; a daughter, LaVerne, 10, and five brothers.

The body of Nodurft was taken in charge by the Merkle Undertaking company. It will be forwarded some time Friday to Lyons, Kan., for funeral services and burial.

Nodruft had been employed by the Continental Oil company at Ponca City, Okla., before being transferred to Wichita Falls about a year ago. He was transferred to Fort Worth from Wichita Falls in July.

V. H. Nodruft, a brother, resides in Fort Worth. His parents are residents of Lyons, Kan.

New Instructors For Boys Club Named

Additional instructors for classes of the Wichita Falls Boys' club to begin Sept. 19, have been obtained, it was announced Thursday by Marvin Robertson, club director.

C. H. Fooshe, city electrical and building inspector, has volunteered to conduct classes in electricty. His instructions will begin Friday, Sept. 25, and will be continued every Friday night.

Radio classes will be conducted by C. W. Ridling of the Ridling Radio Service company, J. R. Martin of the Martin Radio Service company, and Vernie Ross of the Ross Radio shop.

The Boys' club is maintained for underprivileged youths of the city under the sponsorship of the Rotary club.

Orphans' Home Head Dies As Train Hits Machine

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Sept. 10. (UP)—Rev. Edward Bridwell, 52, superintendent of the Methodist Children's Home at Newton, was killed instantly late today when a Santa Fe motor train crashed into his automobile at a grade crossing near here.

He is survived by his widow, five daughters and one son. He had been in three auto accidents in the past two years.

Bank Employe Faces Embezzlement Charge

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (UP)—Louis Maas, 29, bookkeeper for the Republic National Bank and Trust company, will be given hearing before a United States commissioner next Wednesday on charges of embezzling $780 and making false entries in the books of a federal reserve system member. He was held tonight in default of $1,500 bond.

Dry Warrior Quits Asylum Here With Zeal Undiminished

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (UP)—Miss Beulah Allred, militant dry worker whose zeal once landed her in jail, emerged from an insane asylum today and said she planned to continue her fight against liquor wherever she found it.

Miss Allred, 42, was jailed at Pampa several years ago for violent work in behalf of the Woman's Christian Temperance union.

Later, she was adjudged insane by a Rains county court and committed to the state asylum at Wichita Falls.

She has been furloughed from the asylum to prepare for a hearing at Texarkana Oct. 12 when she will appeal from the Raines county court ruling.

Wearing a purple hat and a house dress, she was voluble in her praise of the treatment accorded her at Wichita Falls.

"I had a good time there," she said.

She said she would begin an active campaign against liquor when the court of civil appeals had reversed the insanity ruling.

"I won't start anything until after the hearing," she said. "People don't pay much attention to anybody legally insane."

SNOWDEN ASKS NEW REVENUES

Cancellor Announces More Taxes for Britain

LONDON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, searched the pockets of his countrymen today, taxing rich and poor alike with $202,500,000 in new levies to balance the 1931-1932 budget and restore world confidence in British finance.

His emergency budget, presented to the house of commons, bristled with drastic assessments. The income tax standard rate, for instance, was boosted by sixpence (12 cents)—which means every payer of the tax must turn one-fourth of his income over to the government.

The exemption limit for married men will be reduced from $1,125 to $750, and for single men from $675 to $500. Allowances for children will be cut from $300 to $250 for the first child and from $250 to $200 for others.

Those who pay a supertax on incomes will be assessed 10 per cent more than at present.

The beer tax is increased two cents a pint. The gasoline tax is increased four cents a gallon. The tobacco duty is boosted 16 cents a pound and the entertainment tax, covering movie and legitimate theaters, is raised 16 2-3 per cent.

The increased taxation will amount to $405,000,000 for 1932 and 1933.

Economy cuts of $110,000,000 were announced for the present year and $350,000,000 for next year.

Youth Held in Shooting Of Fort Worth Woman

FORT WORTH, Sept. 10. (UP)—C. E. Johnson, 22, of Big Spring, was held by police tonight in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Martha Elliott, 45, who was near death with a wound in her abdomen.

Johnson emerged from the Elliott house following the shooting and handed a pistol to Rudolph Gadke, a passerby. He then surrendered to police.

Mrs. Elliott told police she had ordered the youth to cease paying attention to her daughter, recently married.

Relative Dies

Mrs. William Delaney, 905 Tyler, Thursday received word of the death of her uncle, Richard Goddey, in San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Goddey, who made their home in Hot Springs, Ark., were visiting in Texas at the time of Mr. Goddey's fatal illness. Mrs. Delaney said the widow would make her home here in the home of her niece.

no cotton shall be planted in fields sown in cotton the preceding year.

East Texas Issue

The senate coalition was effected in a session of the senate committee on agriculture. Members voted to hold open hearings of the committee, which met in the senate chamber, for an indefinite period.

Meanwhile new hostility sprang up among lawmakers. A call to arms was sounded by East Texas representatives who feared the vast unplowed acres of western prairies would be converted into increased cotton acreage.

Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock defended West Texas. Proposed bills prevent new land going to cotton in 1932, he pointed out. And they will not be sown in other crops, he added, because the market prices are too low.

The lawmakers tonight decided to accept pay for their services during the present special session.

Georgia Message

Leaman Anderson, secretary of Gov. Russell of Georgia, was expected to arrive here at 10:30 Friday morning bringing a message to Governor Sterling.

The governor of Texas had contemplated sending a message to the Texas legislature today, changed his mind, and did not do so. He gave no explanation.

Troops Called In Church Wrangle

Cox, his son, George Cox Jr., an Arkansas university football player and Dr. J. W. Cox, chiropractor, were arrested and charged with assault.

Crowd Marches to Jail

Young Cox was taken to jail. A large crowd of followers of the evangelist gathered and marched to the city hall. They sang hymns and prayed for the release of the youth.

This morning when his case was due to come up for trial, Jeffers led another crowd of followers to the city hall to attend the hearing. Upon reaching the city hall steps they were informed the case had been continued until Saturday. Jeffers thereupon asked Mayor Herbert Bouler for permission to hold a morning service on the city hall lawn. The mayor refused but granted him permission to say a few prayers.

Jeffers Prays

Jeffers then mounted the step and prayed. He assertedly ended the invocation with a plea that "God would strike the mayor dead." Earlier he was said to have prayed that lightning would strike the home of Reverend Heard, that it would not harm Mrs. Heard, but that the pastor would be killed. He also prayed that God would help all those who defended him. His "prayer for the mayor" was said to have been occasioned by the mayor's loyalty to the rival church faction.

The mayor, incensed at the invocation, ordered the crowd dispersed. Churchmen charged the mayor and he had to be rescued by a squad of policemen, after he was manhandled. A warrant charging Jeffers with inciting mob violence was sworn but he was not arrested.

Ill feeling spread during the day and local officers, fearing the situation would get beyond control, appealed to the governor for troops.

Shamrock Man Found With Slashed Throat

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK Texas, Sept. 10.—Earnest Wagner, 30, is in a local hospital with an even chance to live after knife wounds received at his home in Shamrock Thursday morning about 7:30 o'clock.

Wagner was found by his wife on the floor of the bathroom with his throat slashed. Financial worries were blamed for the act. His mother, Mrs. E. F. Wagner, is a well known resident of the Twitty community and Wagner is the father of an 18-month-old child.

BOY CAUGHT IN BURGLARY

Police Trap Youth in Drug Store Here

An 18-year-old Minnesota youth is held in the city jail here after he had been cornered by police early Thursday morning in the act of burglarizing the Bridges pharmacy, 2101 Grant street.

Already inside the building, the boy made attempts to escape but both rear and front entrances to the place were blocked by police.

Suspicion was aroused when Tom Poe and Bob Miller, detectives, passed the drug store and saw an automobile parked against the wall. The officers said they could hear some one inside the store.

Miller went to the front entrance, Poe to the back door. As Poe reached the rear, the youth kicked out a window to escape, but seeing the officer rushed back to the front and broke a window there. He was captured by Miller. He was unarmed.

The boy had driven the automobile up to the wall, where windows were placed at a high level. Standing on the top of the automobile, he crawled through the window after knocking out a glass to reach a latch. He had just entered the store when the officers arrived, it was said.

The automobile the youth was driving had been stolen a few weeks ago in Duluth, Minn. The boy had driven it to Ranger, Texas, on a visit to his parents who reside there. He was en route back to points north and east, he said, when he was captured.

Charges are expected to be filed Friday.

Rotary Student Aid Reviewed at Meet

Aid given to college and university students by the Rotary student loan fund in recent years was reviewed before members of the Rotary club Thursday noon by John Coffey, program chairman; Baxter Spraggins, Oklahoma university graduate of 1931, and Hal Ray, who will attend the University of Texas this year.

Mr. Spraggins and Mr. Ray described benefits already derived from the loan fund. Mr. Coffey reported that 24 students have been helped by the fund in recent years, and that eight additional students now are applying for aid.

Entertainment was provided by Charles Doran, tap dancer, and Hal Cooper, pianist. Frank E. Jaynes, community chest educational director, gave a short talk at the conclusion of the program. Visitors and guests were introduced by Harry Gray.

Judge Martin Receives Two Pleas of Guilty

Two pleas of guilty to felonies have been entered before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court during the past three days while the trial of Robert Burns on a murder charge has been in progress.

On Wednesday, H. R. London waived jury trial, pleaded guilty to a charge of having endeavored to pass a forged instrument, and was given a two-year suspended sentence.

On Thursday, Gus Anderson, charged with possession of liquor, was sentenced to a year and a day in the penitentiary, his case having been transferred from Young county.

This store will be closed Saturday in observance of Jewish Holiday.

Three Wichitans to Attend Hearing On Plea for Lower Oil Rates

Three Wichitans will go to Austin Sept. 23 to attend the state railroad commission's hearing of petitions for lower pipe line rates, it was announced here Wednesday.

J. H. Davenport and C. H. King will represent the North Texas Oil & Gas association at the hearing. Dudley B. Foy, traffic manager of the local chamber of commerce, will represent his organization.

The commission will consider the petition of the Independent Petroleum association for an order to establish rates and charges at least 50 per cent less than the rates existing at the time the plea was filed, April 14. Rates are said to have been materially reduced since that time.

The petition asks for the revision or adoption of existing gathering, storage and delivery charges; the removal of any existing discriminatory conditions of service or discriminatory rates on charges in any given territory of the state, as compared with any other territory; the adjustment of any rates or charges to meet competitive conditions.

The traffic department of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce had previously intervened in behalf of the petition, Mr. Foy said.

Jews to Celebrate New Year Today

MRS. WILLIS TO HEAD RELIEF

Acting Secretary Fills Mrs. McHam's Post

Mrs. R. P. Willis, case-worker and assistant to Mrs. Effie McHam with the Family Relief association during the past 11 months, was named as acting executive secretary at a meeting of the directors of the organization Wednesday afternoon, it was learned Thursday.

According to T. C. Scott, chairman of the board, Mrs. Willis is well qualified to assume Mrs. McHam's duties, and will begin work at once in conjunction with the retiring secretary in order to familiarize herself more completely with the work before Oct. 1.

At the end of the current month, Mrs. McHam will become director of relief work in Bartlesville, Okla., a post which she recently accepted.

County Fair to Open With 'Wichita Falls Day'

The opening date of the Wichita County Free fair at Iowa Park Oct. 9-10, has been designated "Wichita Falls Day," it was announced here Thursday.

T. J. Waggoner Jr., president of the Junior chamber of commerce, said that effort will be made to have as many as 10,000 Wichitans attend the fair on opening day.

Present indications point toward the coming exposition to be the most successful ever held by the organization, according to fair officials.

School and City Tax Rolls Near Completion

Tax rolls for the city and school for the year 1931 will be completed by Oct. 1, it was announced Thursday by City Clerk W. E. McBroom.

Revision of property valuations this year to effect a 10 per cent reduction, and lengthy sessions of the equalization board, caused some delay in preparation of the rolls, it was said.

Under a recently adopted ordinance, city taxes will be payable for 1931 in two payments, the first of which becomes due on Oct. 1.

Young County Jury In Partial Report

Grand jurors for the 30th district court at Graham in Young county returned a partial report Wednesday afternoon, according to District Attorney Sam B. Spence, containing five felony and two misdemeanor indictments.

Among those indicted were Oliver Bruce, automobile theft; Rube Robertson, driving while intoxicated, and Curtis Rogers, possession of liquor, according to Mr. Spence. Defendants in two other felony cases are not under arrest. The misdemeanor charges, Mr. Spence said, grew out of an affray.

The grand jury recessed until Sept. 25.

"My sweetheart smokes 'em . . .

"NOW, you know, Bob was raised in a tobacco country. He has worked in two cigarette factories; and I have heard him say all of them are just the same. He says there are a lot of pipes and things like that running through the roofs of the factories and sometimes they look different, but that the way cigarettes are made is all the same.

"Bob says all tobaccos receive the same sort of drying—heat treatment, he called it. In one factory, he says, they may talk about 'baking' the tobaccos and in another they call it another name. He says what they actually do is to 'dry' the tobaccos—reduce the moisture in them—and that the machine that they all use is called a 'Dryer.'

"But when it comes to the quality of tobacco, that's quite a different story, so Bob says; some factories use mild, ripe tobacco, while others think that thick heavy tobacco is good enough. Bob knows tobacco and he tells me that it takes good tobacco—mild and ripe—to make a cigarette as good as CHESTERFIELD.

"You know how it is when a piece of fruit tastes just right—not raw or sharp or too ripe or tasteless—just pleasing and satisfying. Well, that's the way it is with CHESTERFIELD—they just suit me right down to the ground—they satisfy."
