Demonstrator Carried Away

Negro Mob Pelts Police, White Gangs Are Dispersed

NORTH AMITYVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—A crowd of 400 Negroes pelted police with rocks and gasoline bombs Thursday night after an outdoor meeting intended to improve community-police relations.

Six men and one woman were arrested. All were charged with disorderly conduct, except one man accused of assault. One policeman, Salvatore Chiuchiolo, was hit near the eye by a broken bottle.

RESTORE ORDER

It took a force of 330 steel-helmeted police three hours to restore order in this predominantly Negro community on Long Island's south shore, about 40 miles from New York City.

The crowd chanted "kill those cops" as it moved through a shopping center, pounding on patrol cars and hurling cans and other missiles. A supermarket window was smashed.

The violence erupted after a meeting in the shopping center, attended by county officials.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Gangs of white youths numbering from 50 to 100 ranged through Negro neighborhoods Thursday night shortly after a rally.

Police had the situation under control in about two hours, but beefed-up patrols remained through the area into the morning.

CORE TARGET

Baltimore has been labeled as the target city for 1966 by the Congress of Racial Equality, but CORE rallies have attracted only small audiences.

In comparison, Thursday night's rally by the National States Rights party at Patterson Park drew a crowd estimated at about 1,000. The group had been denied permission earlier to use the park, but speakers stood on top of a sound truck parked in the street as their audience spilled up the grassy slopes.

The sporadic trouble that plagued the southeast Baltimore area until late Thursday night began shortly after the rally sound trucks closed down about 8 p.m.

LARGER, LOUDER

As the crowd broke up, a cluster of white youths surrounded Robert Kaufman, a self-proclaimed Socialist, and about a dozen of his companions. Police quickly formed a cordon around them and escorted them from the area, but eggs were tossed and before the group had gotten a block away, the crowd had grown larger, louder and more belligerent.

Johnson Moves Into Airline Negotiations

Sends Parties Off To Bargain

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson took over the airline strike negotiations today and told both sides he wants them to reach agreement through collective bargaining.

After a White House meeting with Johnson, 11 men from the management side and 11 from the union side marched across the street to the executive office building and went into session once more.

NO DEADLINE

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson set no deadline for action. "He said," Moyers reported, "that collective bargaining is the free, democratic way of settling the differences you have this morning, that that's a better way than legislating the breaking of a strike, or seizure, or presidential fiat."

Moyers, talking with newsmen after sitting in on the original session in the Cabinet room, said Johnson feels that continued, prolonged negotiations now are no more likely to bring about a settlement than intensified, concentrated bargaining.

NARROWED

It appears, Moyers said, that the differences between labor and management have been narrowed to something less than $25 million. He said the companies have been offering about $60 million above present pay and benefit standards and the unions have come down on their demands to $80 million or a bit more.

Moyers told reporters the negotiators now are talking in terms of a 36-month contract instead of the 42 months suggested by a presidential emergency board and adopted by the carriers. He said the figures he used of $60-odd million and $80-odd million were on the basis of what the management and labor offers would cost over three years.

NOT FAR APART

Later the President himself said "they aren't too far apart."

Water Plan Blasted Again

BAY CITY, Tex. (AP) — Persons from the host-Matagordo County area, plus Wharton and Colorado Counties, were expected to make up the bulk of those asking to be heard before the Texas Water Development Board hearing here today.

PARALLELS

Much of the concern in this southern section of the Lower Colorado River Authority's area parallels that voiced over and over again in Austin Wednesday—that the resources of the Colorado River have been overestimated and the demand on the water supply of the Lower Colorado Basin very much under-rated, observers here said.

While the primary concern of the tourism-minded Austin area is the level of its lakes, the Bay City Tribune said, the concern through the lower portion of the Lower Colorado River Authority country is that diversion would short-circuit the supply of agricultural water. This water for farming is already termed in short supply by LCRA officials, the newspaper added. Water to meet the needs of a growing industrial complex is also needed, said the Tribune.

MINIMIZED

Several speakers from the area are expected to say that the Texas Water Development Board has minimized the industrial prospects of the lower LCRA area by a considerable margin. Large industries, such as the Celanese Chemical plant, seven miles south of Bay City on the river, already have huge water demands.

Meanwhile, during several dry years in the past decade, it has been a touch and go situation for the area farmers to get sufficient water for crops from the LCRA canals, the newspaper said.

According to the figures given by LCRA Manager Jim Gideon Wednesday in Austin, the computations which the Texas Water Development Board used in deciding that the Colorado has excess water were too high even for the wetter years, said the Tribune.

NO ALTERNATE

With the time tables proposed by the water plan, the newspaper said, there will be a period of almost 20 years beginning about 15 years from now in which the Colorado River would be giving water to other areas without being supplied with an alternate source as the Texas Water Plan ultimately provides.

Urges CIA Chief To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called today for the resignation of Richard M. Helms as director of the Central Intelligence Agency, despite Helms' apology to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

REGRETS LETTER

Helms told Fulbright he regretted a letter published over his name in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, expressing pleasure at an editorial critical of Fulbright, who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

As Helms was called before the committee today for questioning, Morse said he could best serve his country by resigning.

"Until he does," Morse said in a statement, "the American people cannot rest secure in the belief that the agency is living up to its legal mandate not to operate within the United States or influence or participate in affairs within the United States."

After disclosure of the letter triggered protests and criticism in the Senate, it was learned Helms telephoned Fulbright, apologized and told the senator in substance "it was a mistake and I regret it."

The Arkansas Democrat confirmed receiving the call from Helms. He said the CIA director told him "he was sorry and regretted the letter and said he didn't really feel that way about me."

"I was glad to hear that," Fulbright said.

Navy To Quit Stilwell Search

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Ocean search for Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and two companions will end at nightfall today unless something is found to warrant an extension.

Navy units suspended their search Thursday night. Navy and Coast Guard ships have covered 129,000 square miles since Sunday, when the pilot of the DC3 plane reported one engine out 525 miles southwest of San Francisco.

Long Illness Is Fatal To Mrs. Wright

Mrs. H. W. (Hack) Wright, 56, 514 Westover, died Thursday in a local hospital. She had been ill for several months. Born Evelyn McCall in Abilene, May 7, 1910, Mrs. Wright was a resident of Big Spring and Howard County for the past 35 years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. The body will lie in state until Saturday at 11 a.m., when services will be held in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood chapel. The Rev. E. A. J. Seddon, St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, assisted by Perry Cotham, Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ, will officiate. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Her husband, a prominent businessman here, is a member of the board of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, and is a former city commissioner. Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Don Barton, Lubbock; a son, W. S. Cox, Plainview; two step-daughters, Mrs. John Fort Jr., Big Spring, and Mrs. Earlyn Wear, San Antonio; a step-son, H. W. Wright Jr., Big Spring; the father, W. A. McCall, Big Spring; a sister, Adella McCall, Big Spring; two brothers, Mead McCall, New Orleans, La., and Tommy McCall, Presidio; and seven grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Lloyd Wasson, Culin Grigsby, Tools Mansfield, Weldon Nuckles, Earl Stovall and Dan Brasher.

Senate Approves Highway Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a $10-billion authorization to continue the nation's highway programs for the 1968-69 fiscal year, but the bill's floor manager said increasing costs will require more funds in the immediate future to keep the programs on schedule.

Oldtimers Flock To Park For Annual Celebration

A hot sun and bright skies but with temperatures at mid-morning not torrid enough to be unbearable greeted the army of early day settlers and their friends who trekked to Big Spring City Park this morning for the 42nd Annual Glasscock-Howard County Old Settlers Reunion.

By 10:30 a.m. the vanguard of celebrants had moved in and a steady stream of cars travelled along the roads to the park.

Wisps of blue smoke rose from the barbecue pits where a ton of beef has been slowly roasting since midnight Thursday. Nearby huge pots of red beans bubbled away and the cauldron of that classic of the pioneer cattle country — son-of-a-gun stew — thickened to epicurean consistency.

A small mountain of bread was flanked by huge stacks of pickles and onions and there was a certain savory aroma over much of the territory in vicinity of the old settlers pavilion.

Probably 2,000 or more would be served. Jess Slaughter, president of the association, estimated at mid-morning as he scanned the steadily increasing number of people assembling in the park.

Cecil Long, veteran barbecue cook, sampled the meat and pronounced it satisfactory. He also took a look at the beans and the stew. Both, he averred, were in fine shape and would be ready for the diners.

At the registration desk, Mrs. Herman Taylor, Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, Mrs. Zennia Hare, Mrs. Choc Smith, Mrs. Morris Clayton and Mrs. Lee Holley were busy signing in the people taking part. They listed the names, the year the registrant came to the area and other pertinent data. They also pinned registration cards on the guest book. An important item which would be his ticket to the chowline a little later on.

Nearby, the setup for this afternoon's speaking was shaping up. Jimmy Brown and Kelly Gaskins, two youngsters with silver tongues, were to deliver the principal addresses of the day. Bill Arnett was to memorialize the pioneers and particularly those who have died.

Sam's Band, a local group, backed up by Texas Shorty of Dallas, "world champion fiddler" were to provide the music for the afternoon. The same group will be on hand tonight for the big dance at the pavilion which will close the 42nd yearly get together of the men and women who came to this country in the early days.

Two Convicted Of Thefts Linked With King's Men

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Federal officers have convicted two men in connection with the theft of cars one of the defendants said went to persons he believed were connected with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

The SCLC has denied any of its officials knowingly bought four new cars in 1965 and equipped them with stolen license plates, fake bills of sale and registration cards before delivering them to other persons. He said he did so to obtain evidence against persons he believed were members of the SCLC, and that he had turned over to the FBI all the information he had gathered.

Finley's attorney, Joe Sajem, contended Finley was an innocent victim of a man who represented himself as a used-car dealer.

The jury that convicted Andrews, of Moultrie, Ga., was told by Johnny Dyer, an FBI agreed that Andrews said he obtained cars from rental agencies and had prepared fake registrations on one of the cars for Finley and on two others for persons he believed to be connected with the SCLC. Hooze Williams and Lester Handerson, Williams, a top aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the SCLC, said in Selma, Ala., that the organization bought cars from various sources.

"We never bought a car for what Andrews said we bought it for," Williams said. "I've never met Andrews. It seems I'm on trial and not Andrews; that the civil rights movement is on trial, not Andrews."

The executive director of the SCLC, the Rev. Andrew Young, said earlier in Chicago that 50 to 60 cars had been purchased for SCLC staff members, and it was learned later that two of the cars, purchased from Andrews, had been stolen. Young said the SCLC had thought Andrews was a reputable used-car dealer.

Officers wondered today if someone is trying to feed a large, hungry family—or start housekeeping.

Everybody's Drive-In, 1206 US 90 wst., reported a burglary Thursday. Officers said missing were 10 cases of beer, three butcher knives, several cases of steaks worth $50, two cases of trout, a case of shrimp and a case of stuffed crab.

Entry was made through the window on the east side of the building, officers said.

Chon Marquez, operator of Marquez Place, 401 NW 4th, told officers his wife woke him Thursday night and said someone was trying to break into the bar. As Marquez entered the bar, he saw a man coming through a window. When Marquez shouted, the man ran away.

Local Man At Truck Parley

OAKLAND, Calif. — Michael S. Witt of Big Spring is one of 25 international truck zone managers and branch managers chosen from the Western half of the nation to attend an intensive six day training conference here this week.

Executives from International Harvester's general office at Chicago serve as discussion leaders. The conference includes training at IH's heavy-duty truck plant at San Leandro, California and the firm's Richmond, Calif., parts depot.

Over 300 Enter Lamesa Jr. Rodeo

LAMESA (SC)—Approximately 300 entries have been received and more are expected for the junior rodeo to be staged here Aug. 4-6. The rodeo, sponsored by the Lamesa Junior Rodeo Club, is open to all boys and girls through 19 years of age.

A downtown parade will kick off the event at 5:30 p.m. Trophies will be awarded the first three riding club winners.

Twelve junior riding groups have been invited and special guests will include directors of the American Junior Rodeo Association and Larry Coburn, champion roper from Las Cruces, N. M.

Entries are being taken in the following events: girls, 12 years and under, barrel races, flag races, pole bending and break-away roping; girls, 13-15, pole bending, barrel races, break-away roping and ribbon roping; ages 16 through 19, pole bending, barrel races, break-away roping and ribbon roping. Boys events will include: 12 years and under, barrel races, break-away roping, steer riding and tie-down roping; boys 13-15, tie-down roping, ribbon roping, bull riding and barrel races; boys 16-19, bull riding, tie-down calf roping, bare back riding and ribbon roping. Entries will be accepted until 12 p.m. Monday.

Over $1,000 in prizes will be given in the three-day event, with a saddle being awarded to the best all-around girl and best all-around boy competing. The Chamber of Commerce will present a hard luck trophy.

Directors of the rodeo are V. O. Barron, president; Clarence Culp, vice president; and Jack Savage, secretary. Junior Rodeo officers are Ronnie Barron, president; Randy Bedwell, vice president; and Pat Calhoun, secretary.

This is the first year for the event in Lamesa and Dawson County.

Mrs. Collins Dies Thurs. In Pampa

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. Louise Jones Collins died at 3 a.m. Thursday in a Pampa hospital, where she was taken late Wednesday. Services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday there.

She was born in Westbrook in 1914 and lived here a number of years.

She is survived by her husband, A. J. Collins, a son, Jackie Collins; two daughters, Jerry Collins and Mrs. Joy Barham; all of Pampa; three sisters, Mrs. Tom Jackson, Mrs. John Latty, of Westbrook; Mrs. Dora Self, New Iberia, La.; and seven grandchildren.

Carmack and Watley Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Wayland Death Victim

Mrs. Nellie Wayland, 74, 1508 Vines, died Thursday at 9:10 p.m. in a local hospital after a lengthy illness.

Born May 18, 1890, in Erath County, Mrs. Wayland moved to Big Spring from Hobbs, N. M., in 1956. She married V. C. Wayland, Sept. 4, 1912, at Comanche. He died July 22 this year.

Mrs. Wayland was a member of the First Baptist Church of Desdemona.

Services will be Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Desdemona First Baptist Church. Rev. Bill O'Dell, Berea Baptist Church, and Rev. Darrell Dorsey, Desdemona Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Desdemona Cemetery under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include five sons, Burle O. Wayland, Fort Worth, Elmon Wayland, Big Spring, Orba L. Wayland, Hobbs, N. M., Herman L. Wayland, Kansas City, Kan., and Grover H. Wayland, Big Spring; a daughter, Mrs. Erma Howell, Elko, Nev.; 11 grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren. Nephews will act as pallbearers.

Library Friends Vote To Provide Projector

Friends of the Howard County Library Thursday evening voted to purchase a filmstrip slide projector for the library.

The projector is to be used in the Story Hour for pre-school children.

The Story Hour was cancelled during the summer months, as an air conditioner could not be located to use in the garage building used for the program. The organization made the decision to purchase the projector and a set of story records when the commissioners indicated they would not support this program.

Volunteers interested in helping the program on Tuesday mornings are asked to call Mrs. Opal McDaniel, librarian. Story tellers, readers and others are needed.

Another program planned by the organization is a delivery service for shut-ins. Residents unable to visit the library due to a physical disability may phone the library for this service.

Mrs. James Brooks, president, presided, with 13 members present and Kathleen Maspero, library science graduate student from Denton.

Mrs. Preston Harrison reported on a workshop held in Lubbock for library trustees, librarians, and library friends. Library trends, state standards, and problems encountered in different communities trying to get good library services were discussed. Acceptance of state

Packer Loses A Side Of Beef

A side of beef was reported missing from Hubbard Packing Company, NE 2nd, Wednesday afternoon, according to Sheriff A. N. Standard.

The sheriff's office is also investigating a soft drink vending machine that was broken into in the Coahoma City Laundry, Standard said.

Nine head of cattle thought stolen from the D. C. Buchanan ranch were located Wednesday, he said, and the case has been classified a civil matter.

The same day the Buchanan case was solved, H. L. Moates reported five head of Angus cattle missing from his ranch in the northeast part of Howard County.

VA Hospital Draws Praise

"The veterans of this area should be proud of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, as the service rendered here is of the best," C. Wayne Icenogle, national field representative for the National Rehabilitation Commission of the American Legion, said Thursday.

Icenogle, whose job is to visit VA facilities in eight states to see whether they are funded well enough to be able to give proper services, began his inspection (he prefers the term "visit") Monday and was slated to leave for his headquarters in Washington, D.C. today.

"People here are proud of the hospital," he stated. "Frankly, when many VA hospitals were being closed last year, one of the factors involved was whether the people of a community supported their VA hospital."

An area which does not receive much recognition but deserves it, Icenogle said, is in the cleanliness of the Big Spring facility.

"The hospital is a really clean one," he declared. "The sanitation people are doing a remarkable job."

Icenogle's work area includes Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Arkansas, Colorado, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Hearing Date Set On County Budget

Howard County tax rate for taxpayers will be able to begin paying taxes Oct. 1.

1966 will be $1.87 — unchanged from 1965. The state rate will be 57 cents, which represents a five cent increase voted last fall. Howard County Junior College rate will be unchanged at 60 cents. Total will be $2.14.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that county commissioners court has completed review of the tentative budget for 1967 and has instructed Edgar Phillips, county auditor, to prepare a copy incorporating the changes adopted. This will be the final budget for the county and a copy will be filed with the county clerk.

The court has set Sept. 12 as a date for a public hearing on the budget. At this session of the commissioners, the members will go over the revised budget again. The general public is welcome to attend and ask any questions about the budget that it may desire.

Phillips said that the revised budget will show totals about the same as the totals for 1965. There were no revolutionary changes in any fund, he said, and the amendments which the commissioners made in their initial review of the items were minor.

Young Rites Set Saturday

Charles Robert Young, 22, 419 S. Adams, Coahoma, who died Wednesday at 2:40 p.m. in Pampa, Tex., of electric shock, will be buried Saturday at 5 p.m. in the Shive Cemetery near Hamilton.

Adams was born Feb. 23, 1944 in Big Spring. He attended Coahoma public schools.

Services will be Saturday at 10 a.m. in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood chapel, Rev. H. B. Graves Jr., Coahoma First Baptist Church, officiating. Rites will be at graveside.

Survivors include the father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Virgie Lee Young, Coahoma; the mother, Mrs. John Steadman, Odessa; two brothers, Larry Lee Young, Houston, and Jerry Allen Young, Fort Hood; two half-sisters, Janet and Sherri Steadman, Odessa; two half-brothers, Johnny and Mike Steadman, Odessa; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Albie Young, Hamilton; and several aunts and uncles.

Blind Man And Seeing-Eye Dog Get Separated

A blind man and his seeing-eye dog lost each other Thursday, officers said.

Mrs. Ed Acri, 2500 Larry Drive, told officers a seeing-eye dog was in her front yard. Officers said the dog belongs to a blind man who was selling mops and brooms.

The story has a happy ending, though. The radio dispatcher noted at about 6 p.m. that "dog and owner found each other. All okay."

Twins Lonesome For Home After Kidney Transplant

By PEGGY SIMPSON

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"Now I have three kidneys," said Joyce Lindsey, whose 10-year-old twin sister donated a kidney to save her life.

The freckled, brown-haired girls met newsmen Thursday on the week's anniversary of their rare kidney transplant operation in Parkland Hospital.

"I feel better now than I ever had," Joyce told a reporter, fingering a doll mailed by a California manufacturer.

"But I miss my sister—she's three and her name is Sandra," she added.

Twin Janet, taller and slimmer but more reluctant to smile, said she hoped she and Joyce would go home to Landrum, S.C., soon. She'll be in the sixth grade and Joyce, whose malfunctioning kidneys sapped her strength and kept her out of school frequently, will be in the third grade.

Doctors at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School performed the kidney transplant operation July 22. They say Joyce should gain weight and most likely shoot up nearly as tall as her sister before long.

When the twins entered the hospital, Joyce weighed 48 pounds and Janet, 71. Their weight is not much different so far, due to the days immediately after the operation when they were fed intravenously rather than eating solid foods.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Lindsey, their parents who have been by their side, said they noticed Joyce was not growing as fast as Janet about three years ago. Doctors found Joyce suffered from congenital hypoplasia, where underdeveloped kidneys are unable to function adequately.

Teenagers Urge Adoption Of Youth Jury Plan

The Youth Jury Plan, suggested for Big Spring, was staunchly advocated by three teenagers in talks to the Big Spring Kiwanians Thursday noon.

The three eloquent and enthusiastic boosters for the proposal which has been discussed here were Debbie Douglas, Jan Campbell and Lynn Green. They urged that adults of the community press officials to adopt the plan and try its effectiveness in both dealing with delinquency—and in training teenagers in general in the meaning and need for law and order.

A hearing was conducted recently at which the plan was discussed. No decision was reached.

The speakers pointed out that the plan calls for a jury of teenagers to pass on the guilt or innocence of fellow teenagers who are apprehended by police for offenses committed here. The young jurors would hear the evidence as presented in the municipal court and render a verdict.

The judge, of course, is not bound by the juvenile jurors' recommendation but, the speakers said, the plan would be a great help.

READING AND ARITHMETIC INSTRUCTION

Computer To Teach 1st Graders

EAST PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The reading and arithmetic teacher that 120 Brentwood School first-grade pupils will meet in September is a computer system developed at a cost of $3 million in talent, time, and hardware.

The East Palo Alto kids will be pioneers — learning all or most of their reading and arithmetic under computer control for a full school year.

FIRST STUDY

The Stanford-organized project will be the first study of its scope in computerized instruction. Many short-term test studies have been made.

But none has yet been attempted over a full school term with all of an elementary school's first-year pupils relying almost entirely on computer lessons to learn how to use words and numbers.

"This is instruction in a very rich form," said Prof. Richard C. Atkinson, psychologist at the Stanford Institute for Mathematical Studies in the Social Sciences.

"It is geared completely to the individual student," he said. "We feel we will come close to the ideal tutoring situation — with the best teacher doing the best possible job for each child."

GRANT

With a million-dollar supporting grant from the U.S. Office of Education, a new building will house a specially designed IBM computer and a classroom with 20 learning stations. Each is equipped with earphones, microphone, typewriter keyboard, two TV-like screens, and a pencil light.

Settled down before his own screens, with earphones on and pencil light ready, a child will learn the meaning, sound and look of the word "bag" this way:

The film screen will show a picture of a bag. An adjoining cathode ray tube will show the words bat, bag, and bar. In the earphones a voice instructs, "Touch and say the word that goes with the picture."

If he touches the right word with his pencil light, the computer voice says, "Good. Bag. Do the next one."

If the answer is wrong, an arrow points to the right word while the voice says, "No. The word that goes with the picture is bag. Now touch and say bag." The Brentwood children will move in groups of 20 from the four regular first-grade rooms for 30-minute sessions at the computer stations.

A bright kid may run through an average 30-minute lesson in 10 minutes. With the computer system he can keep going as fast as he is able. A child with unusual problems may have to go through a lesson four times before he masters it. Remedial instruction is under way immediately for those who need it.

DETAILED CHECK

As each child performs his lessons, the computer records a complete history of how he does. A detailed check thereby is provided on each pupil's progress and on the effectiveness of the lessons.

The writing, recording and film preparation plus the computer programming to meet all conceivable responses has been a five-year effort, Atkinson said. "It was a horrendous job — the spelling out in utter detail," he said, with a grin.

"But once you've developed an ongoing system, it will be available forever — for every one."

"We expect to discover a whole new view of what curriculum is like. We know we don't know everything about the learning process."

NEED, NOT FEAR

Atkinson declared that classroom teachers need not fear the prospect of computers taking over their jobs.

"The computers will give them freedom from rote. They will have the time to work at the exciting opportunities in teaching."

The computer teaching project at Brentwood School is located in the tax-poor Ravenswood School District in East Palo Alto, an unincorporated community on the San Francisco Bay flats. It is across the Santa Clara County line from the relatively well-heeled Palo Alto Unified School District, only five miles from the Stanford University campus.

Brentwood is a neighborhood of low-income Negro families where many children have little experience with alphabet picture books or being read to before they start school.

Four Mishaps On City Report

Four accidents Thursday evidently resulted in no serious injuries, officers said today.

A mishap involving the cars of James H. Nelson, 2491 Main, and Linda Hamlin, 2207 Johnson, caused about $800 damage to the vehicles at Twenty-First and Runnels. Police reports indicated that James H. Nelson, Jr., 8, and Matthew K. Nelson, 5, passengers in the Nelson car, were taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital, but attendants there have no records of admission. Police also indicated that Linda Hamlin was taken to Cowper Clinic and Hospital, but no record of admission was located.

Other accidents involved the cars of Ronald Lee Jeneff, Clarksdale, Miss., and Dillard G. Johnston, Gail Route, at Fourth and Gregg; the cars of Mrs. Carolyn P. Sparkman, 1317 Mulberry, and Ann Marie Johnson, 803 Rosemont, at Rosemont and Sycamore; and the car of Mrs. Nova H. Wilson, Route 1, POB 164, and the stopped car of Mrs. Larry Crow, 2700 Rebecca, at Birdwell Lane and FM 700.

Couple Back After Landing In Castroland

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Texan who returned from Cuba with his wife says Cubans "look poor but they feel great."

William Anderson, 25, of Dallas told a reporter Thursday night that during five days in Cuba they watched the annual July 26 parade a few yards away from Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

"We came to the conclusion that the U.S. attitude toward Cuba is wrong and relations between the two countries should be re-established," Anderson said.

"We weren't indoctrinated. We had lots of things explained to us about Cuban communism that we didn't know. It left us with split emotions between what they said and what we've been told in the United States."

Anderson and his wife, a 21-year-old legal secretary, made a landing at Colon, in the heart of Cuba, after their plane encountered two storm on a flight from Nassau, Bahamas, to Miami Saturday.

After landing on a farm, Anderson said he and his wife were taken to Havana in a Cadillac and stayed at the Capri Hotel along with foreign dignitaries attending the celebrations July 26.

They arrived at Miami aboard the same single-engine Cherokee they rented in Dallas for a vacation trip.

Refuses To Be Bearded

Arthur Bellwood, 56-year-old bachelor farmer of Lower Cumberworth, England, displays the luxurious salt and pepper growth adorning — and hiding — his face. After five years of growth, Bellwood has announced he is going to have it cut off. The village postmaster, Fred Kilner, has circulated a petition to save one of England's greatest beards and the showpiece of the village. Bellwood refuses to go along with the postmaster and says the beard is coming off. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Beautiful Desert Gets Very Hot

EDITOR'S NOTE: Jean Pierre Marquant, 28, an ex-paratrooper with the French army, completed Thursday a seven-day, 102-mile hike through Death Valley, the lowest, hottest, driest spot in the United States, in a story written for The Associated Press. Marquant left his residence in this hell on earth, where temperatures range from 115 to 129 degrees. (As Told To The Associated Press)

By Jean Pierre Marquant As Told To The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES (AP) — I decided last May to do this adventure and I trained very hard for it. I spent about a month in Casinos on the Las Vegas Strip — I'm joking — and trained for six days in Death Valley, getting my body ready for the summer heat.

In a desert like this you get very, very hot, and the first day, I think I want to give up. I cannot breathe you see. And your body dries out very, very fast.

I first noticed the effects of the heat about three or four in the afternoon of the first day, that would be Thursday, when the sands had been burnt by the sun all day. Noontime is all right on the desert, but late afternoons everything is ablaze, burning, burning.

But you have to keep walking, to stop would be to die, and you must not think of the heat, or dryness, or thirst, or you would stop.

So I think, I think about my life, all of it, and what I am like. I think about my friends in the French army eight years ago, and how I would like to see them again, and how I would like them to see me now. And I think about girls I have known and been happy with.

I never felt reality slipping from my mind and I never had hallucinations, not at all. And the valley is beautiful, amazing, ugly country, all mixed up. It's the most interesting and beautiful desert in the world because it has all aspects — the very high mountains and low desert below sea level, and many kinds of life, and good and bad water.

Perhaps I might do this again someday. If you have a reason, and if you find a place very beautiful, why not? But it is very hard, and I do not recommend others to try it unless they really enjoy it. A person who has not trained for it could die in two hours.

Violence Rocks Boston, Gangland Killings High

BOSTON (AP) — Violent crime is rocking the Boston area where bandits with sub-machine guns knock off an armored truck in 15 seconds and gangland guns are averaging a murder a month.

"Anybody in the armored car business is a sitting duck when they come at you with machine guns," said Bromley Cook, manager of Armored Banking Service of Lynn.

The company's trucks have been held up twice in a series of four robberies of armored vehicles since Jan. 1. The heists have netted $327,000.

Last Tuesday noon, three masked men with submachine guns shot two guards outside a Veterans Administration Hospital, sprayed the area with bullets and made off with $68,000. The guards were not hurt seriously.

Four days earlier, on July 22, four gunmen staged a 15-second holdup of a Brink's Inc. armored truck in Bedford, Mass., 15 miles north of Boston, and fled with $131,000. There was no shooting.

On March 4, six men took $58,000 from a Skelly Detective Service truck parked at a Brookline supermarket. And on May 26, four gunmen took $70,000 from an Armored Banking Service truck in Concord, adjoining Bedford.

None of the holdups has been solved. This week's stickup brought the FBI into the picture because that robbery was on federal property.

Law enforcement authorities deny that metropolitan Boston is a particularly fertile field for armored truck robberies.

"It's just that Brink's and Boston are linked in the public mind since 1950," said Lt. John Kreeker of the Boston Police Department.

That was the year a gang set a record for the biggest armored truck cash haul by invading Brink's Boston headquarters, tying up employees and slipping out into the night with $1.2 million.

Seven men are serving life terms for that job, but only $55,000 has been recovered.

In 1962, a group of men robbed a mail truck of $1.5 million in Plymouth, Mass., and topped the record for cash robberies. None of the loot has been recovered and there have been no arrests.

Thomas Horrigan, manager of Brink's Boston office, said there are no more armored truck robberies in Boston than in any other big city.

"But it is unusual for two trucks to be hit in four days," he said.

Police Chief Thomas J. O'Brien of Somerville suggested that gangland killings in Boston — 29 in two years — might be linked to the more than $2.5 million still unrecovered from the Brink's job in 1950 and the Plymouth mail truck robbery.

O'Brien said it is possible one group is trying to shake down the men who have the money.

The bloodiest day was last Nov. 15 when three men were killed, one an innocent bystander.

The latest in the series of killings occurred May 25 when a gunman with a rifle in a passing way near Boston. car killed Cornelius Hughes, 36. Of the 29 slayings, only five as he drove along an express-have been solved.

A Devotional For The Day

If the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it. (Luke 10:6)

More Cotton, More Subsidies

Since Washington's mismanagement of agriculture hurts a lot of people, it is only fair that the government should do something about it. What it has done up to now, however has failed completely to get to the root of the problem.

In cotton for instance federal supports priced U.S. cotton out of world markets. The government therefore began subsidizing exporters so that they could sell to foreign customers.

A lot of those overseas customers were textile mills which thus bought American cotton at prices lower than U.S. mills had to pay. When the American firms complained of unfair competition Washington then came up with a subsidy for the mills.

None of the gimmicks having prevented huge overproduction of cotton, the government now has decreed a big cut in acreage. This step will mean less business for many cotton ginners, and it's hardly surprising that the ginners are seeking low-interest federal loans to tide them over their governmentally produced "emergency."

While it's certainly easy to sympathize with the ginners, it would be overly optimistic to assume that the subsidies would stop with them. Unless the government eventually starts heading back toward free farm markets, the demands for help will cease.

For one thing, the federal intrusion in the cotton market has practically put the cotton exchanges out of business. For another, Washington's price supports penalize consumers by forcing them to pay higher prices for cotton goods.

If Washington's cotton pattern is preserved long enough, someone may even propose some sort of general subsidy for the taxpayer. After all, he is the one who gets hit with the bill for the whole multimillion-dollar mess.

Stepchild Of The Street System

Our opinion is not backed up by a traffic study—if one has been made—but we are led to wonder what results will be accomplished with the installation of a new stop sign on Scurry Street at the 15th Street intersection.

This corner has now become a four-way stop; a safe stop, to be sure, but it takes away the aspect of a thoroughfare from Scurry, which we have felt is becoming more and more important.

The opening of the Highland Shopping Center, a connection with FM 700 and a direct route to post office and courthouse—all these have made Scurry one of the more heavily traveled streets in the city. If the stop sign is designed to reduce speeds, there may be a purpose, but an overall traffic design needs to keep open some of the major thoroughfares.

Matter of fact, as has been pointed out before, Scurry ought to have top priority in re-paving, curbing and the closing of gaps in the old pavement. This is an expensive undertaking, we concede, but some budgeting preparations could be made.

It's too important a street to much of the city's populace to remain the stepchild of the street system.

Holmes Alexander Eden's Plan For Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON — Most plans for peace in Viet Nam fail by being simple. This was the fault of President Johnson's Christmas time bomb pause, and the fault of the enclave theory set forth by General Gavin and others. The Southeast Asia knot is intricately spliced and has been tightened by decades of human tugging. Only a plan which makes the assumption of complexity, and which is itself very complex, can be helpful.

SUCH A PLAN for a lasting ceasefire is offered by Anthony Eden, Earl of Avon, in Harper's Magazine. Eden served long as British foreign minister, and disastrously as prime minister, and he is no man to err on the side of optimism. Yet with curd nods of recognition to all the known difficulties, and to some that are generally unknown, Eden has a solution.

to the Indochina nations. Conceivably, Red China would settle for the neutralization of the curving peninsula to the south of North Viet Nam if that could bring about the reduction and finally the departure of American troops. Equally, Mr. Johnson would be glad to withdraw from South Viet Nam if he could believe that a neutralization formula would work.

China would have to be content with dreaming that communism's world revolution would eventually take all of Asia by peaceful expansion through the will of the peoples. And the President would have to believe that his "other war" in Southeast Asia, "the one on poverty and ignorance, would yield prosperity and peace."

THE KEY to Eden's plan for a settlement is the Mekong River basin program, already under development despite the fighting. Eden sees this program as being an irresistible inducement for the countries involved. He writes:

"Geography dictates that in the first instance the benefits of the Mekong scheme will accrue to Laos, Thailand, Cambodia and South Viet Nam. In time, however, they would percolate further afield to North Viet Nam. Economically, these areas could then become an attraction because of their unity, instead of a political temptation to conflict because of their division."

EDEN DOES NOT see the arrangement as being automatic and self-enforcing. He believes the overseeing of it should be done by the membership of the 1954 Geneva Convention: the U.S.A., the United Kingdom, the U.S.S.R., Red China, France, Laos, Cambodia, North and South Viet Nam. The Supervisory Commission of India, Canada and Poland should be continued. A long period, as much as 15 years, he says, should be allowed before an election is permitted on the unification of divided Viet Nam.

BUT EDEN sees an arrangement which might "save face" for these bitter antagonists and be acceptable

Billy Graham

At my school a frequent subject of discussion is "necking" among young people. What is your opinion?

P. L. Indiscriminate, passionate love making can be dangerous, psychologically and physically. The sex urge is never stronger than in the teen years, and, I know, it requires great restraint to resist temptation. But most competent youth advisors are quick to point out that deep trouble often follows promiscuous petting. To put the matter bluntly: kissing and intimate embracing are natural preludes to more serious intimacies. I'm not talking about a casual, goodnight kiss after a date. I refer to "necking," popularly so-called.

The Bible without doubt refers to this practice when it says, "Flee youthful lusts." Our heavenly Father has great respect for the dignity and happiness of the individual, and the Biblical warnings against adultery, fornication and youthful lusts, are given in the interest of the happiness of the individual person.

Happy marriages are built upon mutual respect for each other before marriage, and the wise and prudent couple will not forfeit their future happiness for a few moments of sensual pleasure.

AS EDEN WRITES, the difficulties speak for themselves. The parties to the agreement would only keep it if "all found it more advantageous to cling to its benefits than to try to offset it, with all the attendant dangers."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said in his State of the Union message last January: "I intend to ask the Congress to consider measures which without improperly invading state and local authority, will enable us to deal with strikes which threaten irreparable damage to the national interest."

HE HASN'T done so yet, and amid increasing irritation caused by the 22-day-old strike against five major airlines, Johnson has been roundly criticized for not shifting the negotiations to the White House or proposing legislation to end the walkout.

Much of the criticism has come from Congress, but Thursday, after spending the better part of the day considering possible legislation of its own, the Senate Labor Committee pretty much tossed the problem back in the presidential lap.

Hal Boyle Art Gallery Of The Past

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the greatest art.

It doesn't need words like Shakespeare's or brushes like Rembrandt's.

On the silent canvas of the soul, memory paints over and over again the loveliness of lost landscapes, the beauty of vanished faces, the yearnings of yesterday that we thought we had put behind us forever.

ONLY SICK people went on diets, and it was taken as a sign they were getting well again when they asked for a second helping of cream gravy at breakfast. A meal with gravy was regarded as more of a "snack" than as a real meal.

Thoughtful people realized we had lost our last link with the American past when corner restaurants started charging a dime for a cup of coffee. Even if they got a second cup free they knew things would never really be quite the same again in their lifetime.

To Your Good Health Virus Can Cause Hepatitis More Than Once

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a virus of the liver, or hepatitis. I am on a diet eliminating greasy foods, but the doctor said that medication would not be of much help.

How long does hepatitis last? What foods should be eliminated? Is there a chance of having the virus more than once? Will there be damage to the liver? — H. M.

Your doctor is perfectly right. Viral hepatitis (liver infection caused by virus) cannot be cured by medication; we do not have a type which will attack such a virus. Discovery of drugs which would combat viruses the way antibiotics combat bacteria would be a vastly important step forward. And do not think the research people aren't avidly seeking such drugs! However, we don't have any such now.

Viral hepatitis is one of the self-limited diseases. The body gradually overcomes the virus, just as it overcomes other virus infections: Viral pneumonia, flu, colds, but it takes time. An attack may last a month or two, with gradual recovery.

Your doctor has already given you the essential diet consideration: Go easy on fats, fried

Around The Rim Beauty Contests For Beauties

Why aren't beauty contests beauty-contests any more? Or were they ever?

For some peculiar reason probably related to finance, the boss (capitalist) let us go about 11 p.m. last Saturday. This of course spoiled the evening, so we decided to wallow in misery and watch television.

GUESS WHAT WAS on. The Miss Texas Contest. Now, not only is the title of the thing misleading—tourist-wise, it sounds like good advice—but the contest was a total bore. It was almost as bad as the one in Miami we witnessed a couple of weeks ago on tele-tube.

Granted, the girls in the contests are pretty, if it weren't for the forced smiles on their faces, but all the wrong ones win.

WE ALWAYS thought a beauty contest was supposed to be a selection of the best-looking gal out of the bunch. However, it now seems that the winner must be "talented." Well, this isn't so easy to decide. Which is better, an imitation of Cleopatra doing a dance, or a demonstration of third-grade level histrionics?

Also, they have contests within contests, determining such asides as Miss Congeniality, "Miss Personality" and, Lord luv a duck, "Miss Posture."

THE YOUNG LADIES are also expected to teeter around in bathing suits and in evening gowns and somebody wins each of these "contests."

Now would it not seem logical that the best-looking chick of the brood would look the best in both a bathing suit and an evening gown?

And wouldn't the prettiest young femme still be the prettiest, even if she couldn't sing Chopsticks, hesitatingly recite bad poetry or do a belly-dance?

BUT, YOU SAY, the winner must demonstrate all kinds of good qualities, since she is representing the State of Texas.

No. Since when does Gloria Guadaluza represent the State? All she represents are the vested interests who put on the show and give her all the goodies attendant to the title.

AND EVEN if Miss Texas eventually becomes Miss America, what good does that do for the state of her residence? None. How many times has Miss Alabama become Miss America—more than any other state. And what good has that done Alabama? Alabama is still Alabama. What is better, an imitation of Cleopatra doing a dance, or a demonstration of third-grade level histrionics?

What they should do is run the young heifers around the stage in bathing suits before a panel of young men with 20-20 vision and check the panel's pulse-rate as each one teeters by. The highest pulse-rate collectively recorded would indicate the winner fairly. After all, it's all about sex anyway.

—TOM BARRY

David Lawrence Business Needs Protection, Too

WASHINGTON—What has become of the "civil rights" of the American people as a whole? Why should they be subjected to financial damage and interference with their travel plans because of a big strike on the nation's airlines? And why should the Congress discriminate as between big business and big unions, forbidding a monopoly in one and permitting it in the other?

The electorate is entitled to answers to these questions before it is called upon to pass judgment this November on the candidates for Congress in both parties.

THE ENACTMENT of a law forbidding labor trusts or monopolies is long overdue. The theory imbedded in existing anti-trust laws is that there shall be no price-fixing or cost-fixing by competing companies. Not only is it forbidden for competitors to act in concert in deciding on their prices, but the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice has filed suits to block mergers even when as little as eight or ten per cent of the volume of business done by grocery chains in a given area would be the total result of a consolidation of two or more companies.

YET, BY MEANS of industry-wide bargaining, it is possible for one national labor union to fix the wage costs of competitors within a whole industry. This means that weaker companies often must pay higher wages than they can afford. The larger companies soon find it possible to force some competitors out of business or at least to compel them, in effect, to accept a lower and lower margin of profit.

Bills have been proposed which would prohibit industry-wide bargaining. But the political power and financial contributions from labor are enough to prevent the passage of such legislation.

IF INDUSTRY-WIDE bargaining

Marquis Childs Wheat Famine Ahead?

WASHINGTON—The Soviet Union is out to corner the world wheat market. With supplies falling in the West, Moscow is making huge purchases with a view to creating a reserve that will be a powerful lever in dealing with hungry nations.

This is the alarm sounded by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in talking privately with government officials and agricultural leaders in Washington. Circumstantial evidence seems to support Humphrey's fear. It is related, of course, to the fact that the era of bulging surpluses in this country is long since past and the carryover of grains in storage is the lowest in many years.

THE SOVIET wheat crop this year is estimated by crop reporting specialists in the Department of Agriculture to be good. It may approach the 2.1 billion-bushel harvest of 1964. The prospects are up for the spring wheat crop.

Yet at the same time Moscow recently concluded what is said to have been the biggest wheat deal in history—the purchase from Canada for more than $400,000,000 of 336,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour over a period of three years beginning Aug. 1. Reports indicate that Moscow is going to France, Australia, Argentina and every possible source to buy any wheat available.

THIS COMES as the carryover of the four leading exporters—the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina—fell to the lowest level since 1952. With a record drop of $11,000,000 bushels in one year the surplus is still being drained away. And to match this mass movement wheat prices are climbing.

In a speech to the American Agricultural Editors' Association last month Humphrey came closest to giving public expression to growing were banned by law, it would not be possible for a whole industry to be tied up by a strike. There are employers who prefer industry-wide bargaining, but they would be far better off in the long run if unions were required to bargain separately with each company.

In the case of the auto manufacturers, while the bargaining isn't done on an industry-wide basis, the union sees to it that all contracts expire on the same date. This makes it possible to select one company for a crucial negotiation, which naturally has a direct effect on the contracts with the other companies.

IF THE ANTI-TRUST doctrines imposed on business during the last half-century or more were adhered to, it would not be permissible for labor unions to exercise control over the employees throughout an industry. Colusion between agents of employees of one company with agents of employees of another company in fixing wage rates would be as unlawful as concerted action by employers' representatives in fixing prices. Whenever industry-wide bargaining is outlawed as a violation of the "civil rights" of the consumer, it would be logical also to prohibit the formation of any national unions.

WHEN IT IS required by law that only the recognized union or group of unions within each plant shall have the right to deal with the employer, and when one union is forbidden to conspire with any union in other plants, the concept on which the anti-monopoly statutes of the country have been built would at last be fairly applied. American businesses would then be able to enjoy, as would individual unions, the "equal protection of the laws." That's what "civil rights" for all the people is supposed to mean.

Is it because of our shoes that we walk with sound effects and sight gags? Now that heels are low and tipped with silencers, shoes can hardly be culprits in our disgrace.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

No Crumbly Cookies If Packed Like This

Dear Heloise: I hope this will help other people who want to mail cookies to servicemen:

Make an angel food cake and cut it in three layers. Then pack cookies (that have been wrapped in plastic wrap) between the layers, after the box has been lined in foil.

I used this method and my son said the cookies arrived overseas in excellent condition. He said, "We even ate the packing!"

You are an angel, just like your cake, for sharing this super-terrific hint with all of us, and I'm sure our loved ones in the service will add a "bless you, Rose" to our thanks...

Another good hint is to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope inside each letter. Be surprised how quickly you will get an answer back!

Use either bias tape to make bows, or use buttons or lace. You would be surprised at the smile on her face, because she now has a bikini! ... D. Hofmann

Clothes For Fall Season Predicted

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Are aisles wide enough for the glamorous sweep women will make in their tent coats and dresses next season?

Are their figures slim enough for slide-and-glide silhouettes, or so-called sweater dresses that do almost as much for a girl as Lana Turner's sweaters did for her?

Are masculine egos strong enough to tolerate the new "her" trouser suits that match his? Or are husbands' wallets fat enough to accommodate the glittering season of jewel-encrusted dresses coming up?

Whether yes or no, some of these styles are already in packing boxes destined for women's wardrobes across the nation.

The tent — The capacious shape which promises to make a world of women look on the verge of a population explosion. Designers are pitching tents two ways: They are narrow at the shoulder and huge at the hemline, or they are turned upside down, beginning slim at the knees and arriving full blown at the shoulders and sleeves.

The coverup — This sounds paradoxical, too, considering the number of transparent dresses over form-fitting ones still on the scene. But this term refers to leather boots that fit like gloves and wild and woolly stockings under thigh-high shifts that mix or match the leggy jazz.

Pants suits — Yes, herringbone wool jackets complete with lapels have their own creased trousers to match, just like the costumes of the man of the house.

Evening wear — The spectacular floor length ball gown bouncing with leathers or glittering with jeweled embroidery still has its place.

The status symbol dress this year, however, is a short gown, saturated with gems from stem to stern, and seemingly weighing a ton.

If it appears to cost a fortune, it is only because it does.

Backyard Supper Held For Altrusa Members

A backyard salad supper was the highlight of the Thursday evening meeting of the Altrusa Club. The 24 attending met at the home of Mrs. Loyd Wooten, 817 W. 18th.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre presided and Mrs. Ruby Billings gave the invocation.

It was announced that Mrs. G. A. Stallings has requested a year's leave of absence, and that the dates of the Lubbock convention have been changed to Oct. 14-16. Local delegates will be selected during the Aug. 11 meeting.

Mrs. Caribel Laughlin, vocational chairman, spoke on ways to stress the Altrusa golden anniversary. She said that the formal celebration will be an April 11 dinner, and the year's programs and activities should be centered around the event.

Mrs. Modesta Simpson described how she started her gift shop. She explained her buying techniques with the accent toward items that appeal to area customers. She also explained that the work was enjoyable because of contact with a variety of people.

The buffet supper was served from tables centered with bouquets in shades of yellow and brown. The quartet tables were covered with orange and green cloths.

One Aircraft Lost During Heavy Strike

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American pilots gave North Viet Nam its heaviest pounding of the war Thursday with more than 375 strike sorties against targets from the 17th Parallel to a missile site near Haiphong.

The cost was one Navy jet shot down by ground fire. The Reds fired only three of their Soviet-built surface-to-air missiles, and all missed, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Clearing weather and a heavy concentration of Navy planes and Marine aircraft which started flying bombing raids against North Viet Nam 10 days ago enabled the Americans to send up about 60 more sorties than had previously been flown in one day against the North. A sortie is one attack flight by one plane.

The targets hit Thursday included a missile site only four miles from Haiphong, deep inside what pilots call the "missile envelope" around the vital Hanoi-Haiphong area.

The targets included a rich haul of coastal craft, including an 80-foot barge and a 130-foot harbor tug which was blasted in coastal waters east of Haiphong. The "bomb damage reports" listed 13 petroleum supply dumps left blazing.

4-H Calf Tour Set Saturday

Annual 1966 4-H calf tour will begin Saturday morning at 9:30, involving some 125 persons in a nine stop excursion.

"The members began feeding their calves about the first of May," said James Shelton, assistant county agent. "Since then they have been learning the art of trimming, exercising and showing their animals. They will participate in calf shows beginning in October and extending through January."

The group will make two stops before they have lunch at city park at 11:45 a.m. The club has provided the meat for the outing, and the member's parents are slated to bring the rest of the food.

Those attending the tour will include the club members, their parents, area calf breeders, surrounding county agents, and interested persons.

The group will meet at the south side of the courthouse at 9:30 a.m. and go to Lawrence Long's home. Next they will visit Dixie Coleman's pen at 10:20 a.m. which is off Birdwell Lane near the railroad. Then they will visit Mike McClain at 10:45, and afterward go to the park for dinner.

After lunch, the members will go to Robbie Haney's home, 1:50 p.m.; Mark and Maxwell Barr's, 2:30 p.m.; Brenda and Junior Jackson's, 3:10 p.m.; and Dolores Lankford's, 3:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served at this last stop.

Urged To Enter News Field

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Tucker Sutherland, who is information director of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association, says high school journalists should enter the news field.

"There's a place for you," he said, "if you accept the challenge of individuality."

Sutherland spoke to 375 newspaper, yearbook and photography students and sponsors from 65 Texas high schools Thursday at Texas A&M.

"Journalism is a great moulder of public opinion," Sutherland said. "Don't believe all the criticism you've heard about journalism."

"Newspapers are making more money than ever," he said. "They grossed $4.4 billion in advertising last year. Salaries will get better as manpower grows shorter."

Sutherland said Texas schools of journalism are not turning out enough graduates to fill vacancies as they occur in the state.

$4 Million Budget OK'd For Schools

Big Spring School Board tentatively adopted an amended four million dollar budget for 1966-67 Thursday night, subject to final board approval, and set a public budget hearing for Aug. 6.

The proposed $4,064,332.07 total expenditures reflects a $65,000 increase over last year's budget of $3,939,577. It was approved after the board made three item deletions totaling $13,225.

Grant Boardman proposed that the board eliminate one of the two newly proposed secondary assistant principals, cutting the budget back $7,425. The motion passed 3-1, with Jimmie Felts opposing.

Jerry Currie suggested that the intern position, with a $3,000 a year salary, be dropped. "The prospect of training these individuals with the idea of their coming into the system is evidently futile," said Currie. "We have lost the last three we have trained."

Joe Moss, board chairman, discussed the matter with Sam Anderson, superintendent, who stated that the intern position entailed having a competent individual with a master's degree train by working in the system at a comparatively low salary. The salary for an administrative intern was deleted from the budget by a 3-1 vote, with Felts again opposing.

The board approved a $78,611 athletic budget, with two alternatives, including the reduction of a $8,500 laundry and dry cleaning item for athletic gear.

Congregation Going To Odessa

Members of the La Fe Baptist Church will go to an associational meeting in Odessa, Saturday, where the pastor, Rev. Julian Vigil, will preach at 6 p.m. The associational meeting begins at 9 a.m.

The church will observe the Lord's Supper Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Vigil announced church deacons as Pedro Baraza, Domingo Abreo, and Roy Salome.

Charged After Hospital Trouble

Aggravated assault charges were filed against Norman C. Wood Thursday afternoon after sheriff's deputies received a complaint from a local hospital.

Wood allegedly failed to adhere to hospital visiting policies and became unruly with staff personnel, who notified authorities.

Judge Lee Porter set bail at $1,000, and Wood was released on bond.

ments to $6,000. The total athletic figure compares with last year's expenditures of $74,050, a $4,261 increase. Not counted in these estimates are an outlay of $12,000 for game contracts, and a $6,500 provision for a new athletic bus, which are included in the total $78,611 athletic entry in the budget proper.

BUS USE
Felts moved that the board eliminate chartered travel for football trips to out of town games. He added that the board provide air conditioning for the new bus, and instruct the coach to use it for a team travel. The motion carried 3-1, with James Cape opposing.

The new bus will have 42 padded seats with a special reclining feature. Board members attending were Jimmy Felts, James Cape, Joe Moss, Jerry Currie, and Grant Boardman. Absent were Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper and Dr. Carl Marcum.

Iwo Jima Vet To Assist With Another Flagpole

ACKERLY — Pat Gathright, the man who made the flagpole which was used in the historic flag raising on Mount Saribacki, Iwo Jima, will have a part in another flag raising Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

This time, the flagpole to be erected is also historic but with a different background than the one that Gathright whipped together to serve atop the battle-torn extinct volcano.

The flagpole which will be dedicated at Ackerly is one which flew the banner for 32 years over the Porter Hanks Grocery in Vealmoor—the years that the post office of that community was housed in the store.

The pole, given by Mrs. Margie Middleton, who now operates the old Hanks grocery, to Boy Scout Troop No. 701, sponsored by the Ackerly Lions Club, has been erected in front of the Scout Hut in Ackerly. Saturday night, the flag will be run up on the mast with Gathright, Pat Savell, the scoutmaster, and the troop's 11 members, taking part. The public is invited.

Gathright is a former Eagle Scout and deeply interested in scouting. Savell said that Mrs. Middleton gave him the old flag pole which was no longer used since the post office has been shifted from her place to another store across the street.

The boys who are in the troop are: Benny and Freddie Green, Robert Herren, Perry Brown, Dale Froman, Alberta Franco, Mark Massingill, George Cantu and Stanley Smith.

They will spend Sunday and Monday in Corpus Christi resting, then Tuesday move on toward Austin, arriving there on Labor Day.

The workers are asking that their pay for farm labor be hiked to $1.25 an hour. It has been 85 cents an hour.

Car Impounded, Owners Missing

A resident told officers just after midnight Thursday that two Latin-American youths attempted to break into his home, but ran off in a car which he described to police.

Police found the car, but not the two youths. The car is impounded, officers said today, and the youths can have it if they come by the police station and prove it is theirs.

SON TO RECEIVE WINGS Missile Program Officer Will Address Webb Class

Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymaier, commander, Air Force Western Test Range, will be guest speaker at the wing dining-in tonight honoring graduating class 67-A of Webb Air Force Base.

Gen. Bleymaier will present silver wings to the graduates of class 67-A during the wing parade and review Saturday morning. His son, 2nd Lt. Joseph S. Bleymaier Jr., is a member of the graduating class.

Gen. and Mrs. Bleymaier, Ted, John and Gene Bleymaier will be guests at the commander's table during the reception Saturday night.

A veteran of 25 years military service, Gen. Bleymaier assumed command of the Air Force Western Test Range on Oct. 1, 1965. Since 1945, he has been assigned to the Air Force Systems Command and has worked closely with the research and development of this nation's ballistic and military space programs.

Born in Austin, Gen. Bley-

Two officers of the Royal Moroccan Air Force will graduate with Class 67-A Saturday. Capt. Mohamed Amerkrane, deputy commander at Meknes AB, Morocco, and Lt. Ziad Abdelkader, squadron element leader in the Royal Moroccan Air Force, arrived in the United States in June. They received language training in English at Lackland AFB before coming to Webb.

Both officers will travel to Williams AFB, Ariz., for further training in the Air Force F-5A. They will return to Morocco after this training to fly the F-5A.

subsystems which were components of the Air Force Atlas, Titan and Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles.

In April, 1961, he was designated deputy for Launch Vehicles, Space Systems Division, Los Angeles. Activities under his jurisdiction included the development, procurement and production of standard launch facilities to meet national space program requirements. He was further responsible for the Air Force portion of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Ranger and Mercury program and the Navy navigation satellite program.

The officer was assigned as system program director for the Air Force Program 624A—the Titan III, and 623A Large Solid Motor Development, in December, 1962. In this position, he was executive manager of the research and development program to provide the United States military establishment with a standardized space launch system having an initial lift-off thrust in excess of two million pounds.

Promoted to brigadier general in May, 1963, Gen. Bleymaier assumed the responsibilities of deputy commander for Manned Systems, SSD, in March, 1964. In this position, Gen. Bleymaier was responsible for the executive management of the Titan III, the Air Force Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL), and the Gemini personnel carrier elements of the MOL.

Don't Think Reds Will Enter War

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say Red China probably will not enter the Viet Nam war because Peking understands U.S. policy is not aimed at the overthrow of the North Vietnamese government.

The U.S. officials told a group of city managers visiting the State Department Thursday that Red China has indicated it is much more likely to enter the conflict if the Hanoi regime is destroyed.

The officials also said neither Red China nor the Soviet Union has increased their Viet Nam involvement much since U.S. air strikes on oil storage facilities near Hanoi and Haiphong began a month ago.

Would Boost SS Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, saying Social Security no longer is adequate as the primary source of support for millions of older Americans, has introduced a bill to increase benefits.

The New York Democrat said Thursday an increased payroll tax and "a limited use of general revenue financing" could pay for the increase that would boost benefits by an average of 50 per cent by 1968.

Kennedy said the bill would ensure "a generally adequate level of benefits to all those who subsist on Social Security."

Charges Filed In Child Death

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Murder charges were filed against a young mother and her 29-year-old companion Thursday after her 4-year-old daughter was beaten to death.

Charged were Mary Alice Williams, 23, and Jimmy Wayne Stratton, 29.

The child was Marlene Ann Williams.

Justice of the Peace Cliff Roberts said an autopsy showed that the child had been beaten from the top of her head to the bottom of her feet. He said a walking cane was used.

Roberts denied bond to the pair charged in the case.

Bill Temporarily Stops Rebuilding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved legislation that would halt, at least temporarily, plans to extend the west front of the Capitol.

The measure, passed by a voice vote, prohibits using any funds pending an independent study of the cost of shoring-up and restoring the present structure without changing its general appearance.

A five-member commission, including House Speaker John W. McCormack, has approved the extension project estimated to cost $34 million. It remains to be seen whether the House will accept the Senate action.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., said Thursday new efforts must be made to meet the mounting costs. At the same time, the Bureau of Public Roads announced that highway construction costs rose 4.3 per cent during the April-June quarter of this year, boosting the construction index to 113.7 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

Divorce Grounds Recommended

LONDON (AP) — A Church of England study group recommended Thursday night that the breakdown of a marriage be the sole ground for divorce.

The committee, in a report to Dr. Michael Ramsey, the Archbishop of Canterbury, said the divorce court of the future should inquire into the status of a marriage rather than try to determine which party was guilty and which innocent.

Beth Neeley Named Queen For Dawson

LAMESA (SC)—Beth Neeley, 17-year-old blue-eyed blonde, who enjoys baby sitting and likes people, is the 1966 queen of Dawson County's Farm Bureau. She will compete in Big Spring in August at the District Farm Bureau queen contest.

Beth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Neeley Jr., was selected as queen Thursday night at a contest in which she outdistanced six other contestants. She is a senior in the Lamesa schools, wants to be a choreographer, and plans to attend Texas Tech when she graduates from high school.

She received her crown and a bouquet of roses from Cathy Love, 18, who was the 1965 Dawson County Queen.

Judges were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Crawford, Midland and Mrs. Bob Stephens, Abilene. Bob Stephens was master of ceremonies for the evening.

In the junior queen competition, the winner was Brenda Woodul, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvis Woodul.

Runner-up to Beth was Cindy Ball, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ball.

Runnerup in the junior competition, in which there were nine entrants, was Vicky Phipps, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Phipps, of Welch.

The program was staged in the Lamesa High School and attended by a large crowd.

Insurance Agents Hear Stinton

John E. Stinton, assistant dean of the American College of Life Underwriters, spoke to members of the Big Spring Association of Life Underwriters in a special meeting this morning at the Holiday Inn.

He encouraged members to participate in the college, and discussed new trends, taxation problems, and other reasons for purchasing life insurance.

John T. Agee, Lamesa agent, will be the speaker to the organization at its next regular meeting, Aug. 2. He will talk on prospective positive thinking.

Martin Featured At First Baptist Revival

The First Baptist Church will hold a special revival Aug. 7-14 with evangelist Eddie Martin, who has led more Baptist Association-wide crusades than any other full-time evangelist, as the featured speaker each night. Martin, a native of Lancaster, Pa., works in an average of 25 churches each year. In 1965, 1,340 people were baptized under his leadership, an average of 53 per meeting. At the Northwest Church, Miami, Fla., last spring, Martin baptized 189 converts in seven days.

Local Youth Wins State Church Of God Title

Dean Gilstrap, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gilstrap, 1610 Young, was voted "Mr. Youth Camp for 1966-67" at the state Church of God Youth Camp at Weatherford July 18-22.

Appeals For Great Crusade

A Springfield, Mass., man recently released an article appealing for another St. Francis to conduct a great crusade for peace and good will.

Richard Lenzi's query, "Why can't we have peace?" is answered in his own letter pleading for leaders of church and state to resolve their differences.

Lenzi says that the peace convention in New York recently did not "bring out the important truth that peace is a gift of God, our Creator and Redeemer."

"The various speakers did not mention the Prince of Peace, Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. How can we hope to attain peace among nations without Him Who said: 'Without Me you can do nothing.'"

"War is the result of sin, of widespread violation and rejection of God's laws. War is a kind of fearful foretaste of hell. 'Would that more leaders in both church and state realized and emphasized this truth. Would that we had another St. Francis to conduct a great crusade for peace and good will.'"

"Let us say fervently every day the following prayer for peace: O God, from Whom are holy desires, right counsels and just works, give to Thy servants that peace which the world cannot give, that our hearts may be disposed to obey Thy Commandments, and the fear of enemies being removed, our times, by Thy protection, may be peaceful. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who lives and reigns with Thee in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God forever and ever. Amen."

Williams To Lead Summer Revival

Leading the "midsummer revival" now in session at the First Assembly of God is Tommy Williams, a native of Big Spring, who has been active in evangelistic work for the past several years.

Williams graduated from Big Spring High School in 1959 and went directly into evangelistic work. His preaching has carried him through several central and southern states, although his home church is the Odessa Faith Temple Church.

He and his wife, Jo Ann, who is a native of Seminole, Okla., have two children, Terina Ann, five, and Cembra Lynn, three. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams, 710 Nolan. Mrs. Williams' sister and husband are Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schaefer, Coahoma.

The revival continues tonight through Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. Special gospel music is being provided, according to the pastor, the Rev. Homer Rich, and the public is invited to attend any or all of the services. The theme is "Summer—Time for Christ."

TOMMY WILLIAMS

ARTHUR BLESSITT

Evangelist To Speak At Berea Church

There will be a revival at the Berea Baptist Church Aug. 7-14, at the church building, 4204 Wasson Road, nightly at 7:30 o'clock.

The public is invited to attend all the services. Rev. Polk said, and to meet and talk with Eddie Martin.

Arthur Blessitt is the evangelist. He has preached at youth rallies, special mission services and conducted evangelistic and conducted evangelistic meetings throughout America.

The evangelist says: "We have declared war on poverty, crime, disease and even war, but there is no great outcry against sin. We spend a lot of time trying to take care of the physical man, but little time trying to meet the needs of spiritual man."

While serving with the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, he started the First Southern Baptist church in Anaconda, Montana, and began the Southern Baptist Mission work in Northeastern Nevada.

During his year and a half in Nevada, he received national attention for his courageous fight against prostitution in that state. In the face of solid opposition in the county and state he refused to remain silent to the evils of that area.

Blessitt entered evangelism full-time in 1965.

REV. T. P. LOVETT

Guest Pastor Here Sunday

The Rev. Thomas P. Lovett, assistant pastor, University Presbyterian Church, Austin, will be the guest pastor Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Lovett is a native of Sequim and a graduate of the University of Texas. He received his bachelor of divinity degree in 1956 and his master of theology degree in 1965 from the Austin Presbyterian Seminary.

Rev. Lovett served in the U.S. Naval Reserve during World War II. He has held pastorates in Magnolia, Ark., Houston and Waco. He is married to the former Johnny Jean Weibert, daughter of former Senator and the late Mrs. R. A. Weibert, Sequim. The Lovetts have four children.

His topic for Sunday morning will be "Renewal By The Holy Spirit."

Group Worships Where Paul Spoke At Athens

Rev. James A. Puckett, whose party was this week in Egypt, participated in a unique worship service in Greece earlier this month.

The Rev. Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple Church, and the other members of the party spent two days in Greece.

"On Sunday," he wrote, "we had our own worship service on Mars Hill where the Apostle Paul first preached to the Athenians. Brother Duke brought a very inspiring message on the test. In the background, we could see a bronze plaque which contained the actual words of Paul's message printed in the Greek language. As we listened to the sermon we could see the great temples of the Acropolis."

The party in Egypt, dividing its time between Upper Egypt (south) around Luxor where the temples of Karnak are, and Lower Egypt (north) around Cairo where the great pyramids are located.

"Around Cairo there is much evidence of modernization," Rev. Puckett wrote, "and people are quick to give the credit to the revolution and its leader, now president, Nasser. His picture is everywhere. The annual observation of the revolution will begin just a day after we leave (July 25) and the flags are already waving."

The party is due back in Big Spring in about two weeks.

Witnesses At Dallas Meeting

Local Jehovah's Witnesses plan to be included in the more than 30,000 delegates at the "God's Sons of Liberty" district assembly at Dallas' Market Hall Aug. 3-7.

According to Frank Davis, the local congregation has received advanced program information about the program feature, "Building on a Right Foundation with Fire-Resistant Materials." Davis said that the program will deal with dramatizations offering portrayals of Bible accounts.

"It is material such as this," he said, "that is real enough for modern use. This way we can effectively combat the current religious fad that 'God is Dead.'"

A public lecture is slated for Sunday, Aug. 7, at 3 p.m. on "What Has God's Kingdom Been Doing Since 1914?"

Reds Gaining Respect Under New Manager

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cincinnati's third-string catcher has switched from morale-booster to fence-buster and the Reds are turning the corner in the National League scramble. Jim Coker, a forgotten man in Cincinnati for two years, belted a grand-slam homer Thursday night as the Reds continued their upswing with a 7-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

caught in 10 games during the Reds' revival and has homered in two of the last three. He had only one home run before connecting Tuesday night against the Cubs and had hit just three for the Reds prior to this season. "It's a good feeling when you come to the ball park knowing you have a chance to play," said the 29-year-old catcher, who appeared in 11 games last season and 24 the previous year. Despite the inactivity, Coker never lost his enthusiasm — or sense of humor. "Coker keeps everybody loose," says Bristol. "He says the right thing at the right time."

While Coker's second career grand slam powered the Reds past the Cubs, the streaking St. Louis Cardinals, led by hot-hitting Orlando Cepeda, outscored Atlanta 7-5 in the only NL games scheduled. The victory was St. Louis' fourth straight and 10th in 11 games. Chicago edged Detroit 2-1 in the only American League action. Kansas City and Boston were rained out.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Don Robbins, who quit the head coaching at the local high school after four years on the job, leaves with a good word for the boys who will make up this year's club. Said he: "I look for them to have a good year, especially if Gary Rogers (the quarterback) can stay healthy. They'll win some games, maybe quite a few. They want to play."

Johnny Hickman looked into the head coaching job at Robert Lee because he has ranching and farming interests on two sides of that town, but it appears he'll be on deck when the football call to arms is issued here again next month. Another coach who'll probably be in harness again is Cliff Patton, whose job as a scout for the pros probably won't firm up until January.

The big car racing field has just about run out of sure-fire draws at the gate, now that A. J. Foyt is having his troubles. The only name around capable of luring the racing buffs is Mario Andretti. The dropoff in name drivers started the day after the Indianapolis 500, when Roger Ward announced his retirement. Foyt, injured a week after the 500, tried again to drive at Atlanta recently but it was too soon after his accident in Milwaukee.

One driver at Atlanta noted: "The gloves wore the new skin right off his hands." A. J., a fellow the crowds either love or hate, doesn't have a point on the championship circuit this year. Parnell Jones, third member of racing's "Big Three," has slowed his activities on the race track to a minimum. He has invested his money wisely and now only chooses to race occasionally, just to keep his name in front of the public. Race crowds around the country diminish without the names of Ward, Foyt and Jones as lures.

Center-fire calibre standard sport-type rifle will be used, with six-power scope sights the maximum allowed. Women gun enthusiasts will also compete against each other, using the same gun specifications. In both types of competitions, the distance will be 100 yards.

British Team Covets Award

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — The flowery speeches had been made and now, outside the Cascades clubhouse Thursday, they were raising Old Glory and the Union Jack on twin flag poles while a band played. Between the ranks of American and British players who today begin contending for a 14th time, the Curtis Cup sat gleaming in the sunshine on an immaculately covered table. It is a small trophy, as international golf trophies go, but in the sparse crowd of onlookers, one very British lady with graying hair who came here with the team, couldn't take her eyes off the cup.

Schlee Posts 66 At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — John Schlee, prize pupil of the PGA's 10-day rookie school this spring at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., carried a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the $93,000 Festival Open Golf Tournament. The sliver 27-year-old former Memphis State athlete used only 26 putts in shooting a six-under-par 66 over the new 7,179-yard Speedway course Thursday. Fairways are so far from perfection that the pros were allowed to improve lies without penalty. Other first-round scores on the par-72 course included 70s by Lionel Hebert and Ken Towns.

Special Events Planned By Club

The Mesquite Gun Club will hold two special events at its range near Vincent, starting at 2 p.m. Sunday. Boys and girls who have not yet reached their 17th years are eligible to take part in one phase of competition. Center-fire calibre standard sport-type rifle will be used, with six-power scope sights the maximum allowed.

Atlanta Falcons Oppose Eagles In Monday Game

By The Associated Press
The state of Georgia brings in the high-priced talent today to exhort the Atlanta Falcons on to victory in the new club's first game, an exhibition contest against the Philadelphia Eagles Monday. No less a figure than Gov. Carl E. Sanders plans to visit the Falcons' training camp at Black Mountain, N.C., have dinner with the team and watch practice Saturday. Atlanta Coach Norb Hecker emphasized kickoffs and punt returns Thursday during the club's workouts and said he might use rookie flanker John Pincavage, who arrived in camp Thursday from the Detroit Lions, as a kick-return specialist against the Eagles.

Lone Star Team Has Fine Mark

Odessa Lone Star Natural Gas, one of four teams entered in the Sophomore District 7 Baseball tournament here next week, beat the Big Spring representatives, Saunders' Angels, in last year's state meet and finished second in the final standings. Lone Star, coached by John Chance, plays the Odessa Basin Machinery team at 8 p.m. Tuesday night. Odessa Gibson and the Big Spring Giants open the four-team tournament at 8 p.m. Monday. Winner of the tournament here goes to the State meet at Midland.

Astrodome Friend To Visiting Teams

HOUSTON (AP) — Does the multi-million dollar, air-conditioned Astrodome with its huge exploding scoreboard give the Houston Astros a strong advantage over visiting National League teams? No, statistics show. Since the Astrodome opened at the beginning of the 1965 season the Astros have played 137 league games in the stadium. They have won 68 and lost 69. Hardly a record to strike fear into the heart of a visiting team. Last year, the Astros were nine games under .500 in the dome with a 36-24 record. This year they are 32-24 at home through Wednesday. In 1963, they had a 44-37 won-loss mark in old Colt Stadium and compiled a 41-40 mark in the same stadium in 1964. Hitting statistics of players also indicate the Astrodome is no great advantage to the home team. Some hit better in the Astrodome, others hit better on the road. Outfielder Dave Nicholson, for instance, is hitting .316 at home with six of his eight home runs here and only 216 on the road. But Rusty Staub is hitting .270 at home and .300 on the road and has seven of eight home runs in enemy parks. Staub, who hit 12 home runs on the road and only two in the Astrodome, last season, can't explain it.

ON MUNY LINKS Blind Low-Net 4-Some Slated

Members of the Big Spring Golf Association are eligible to play in the Blind/Low Net Foursome, which takes place at the Muny course Saturday and Sunday. This is another in a series of tournaments designed to let members improve their eligibility chances for the BSGA's Grand Tournament, which will be held this fall. Entry fee for this weekend's tournament is $2. Drawings for partners will not be held until the conclusion of competition Sunday. In last week's low ball tournament, Ronnie Clanton and Paul Mosley teamed up to win first place with a 60. John Burgess and Ken Griffin were second, three strokes back. In all, 22 players entered into competition. In order to be eligible for the Grand Tournament, BSGA members must have played in five such tournaments over the year.

All golfers can enter the annual City Tournament at the Muny anytime from Aug. 1 on. They can either qualify or enter and be placed in a flight comparable to their handicap. Entry fee is $5. Those shooting for medal honors must play the course Aug. 14. Match play will begin the following day and entries will be required to play two matches during that week and will need to arrange the starting time for their own matches. All finals are scheduled to be unreeled Aug. 28, according to Muny pro J. B. Wetsel.

Andrews Favored In Title Game

The hard-hitting Andrews Americans rule as slight favorites to topple the Big Spring Americans in tonight's Little League District championship game in the National League park here. Game time is 7:30 p.m. The winner goes to the Regional tournament at Levelland next week and the winner there proceeds on to state. The Andrews club flattened the Big Spring Nationals, 15-0, here Thursday night after having sidelined the Big Spring Texans earlier in the week, 20-3. The Big Spring Americans advanced by topping the Big Spring Internationals, 3-0, behind the no-hit pitching of Ricky Steen. Steve North hurled the shutout for Andrews last night, though yielding six hits to the Nats. Charles Merrick had three of the locals' blows. Ronnie Shoemaker and Ed Farmer clouted home runs for the Andrews club. Shoemaker's was a solo blast in the third while Farmer's came with two on in the fourth. North, Clay Gray and Ken Bales all had doubles for the Andrews team. North fanned nine and walked only one in the six-inning bout. Between them, Shoemaker and Farmer batted in seven runs for the Andrews team. Andrews' stats: AB 31, R 8, H 11, B 3, E 1. Opponents' stats: AB 31, R 0, H 0, B 0, E 0.

Giants Shade League Nine

Clarence Trantham's Giants, marking time for the District 7 Sophomore Teen-Age Baseball tournament, defeated a picked team of Soph league standouts, 3-1, in an exhibition bout here Thursday night. The Giants counted all their runs in the third round. The Giants meet the Odessa Gibson team in the first round of the tournament at 8 o'clock Monday.

Donnie Gooch Hits 4 Homers In Two Wins

The Church League All-Stars would, no doubt, have fared better in their softball twin bill with the American League All-Stars but for the smoking bat of Donnie Gooch. Gooch, who played both first base and right field for the American League team, smashed a two-run home run two outs deep in the final inning to provide the Americans with a dramatic 4-2 victory, then picked three enemy pitchers for as many round trippers in leading the Americans to an easy 10-2 victory in the afterpiece. Gooch's home run in the opener ruined a fine pitching performance by Jerry Don Paige and came with Ronnie Dodson and Herb Sorley on base. Jerry Cox had given the Americans their first run of the game by clouting a leadoff home run in the same inning. The Church league team had counted both its runs off Troy Wetsel in the opening inning. Bill Reynolds and Joe Mathis crossing the plate. After the first round, Wetsel surrendered only one hit, a two-out single by Paige in the sixth. Wetsel and Dodson each had two hits in the game for the Americans. Cotton Mize fashioned a five-hitter in the second game and, thanks to heavy hitting by Sorley and Gooch, won going away. Sorley and Gooch each had three hits.

"Actually, other parks have more of an advantage for the home team since the players might know the slope of the field which would help him play a ball but here it's the same for both teams." Aspromonte also defended the scoreboard which has been criticized. "The scoreboard is not doing anything when the game actually is in progress and it never does when the pitcher is actually pitching," he said. Pitching statistics show some of the Houston pitchers do better in the Astrodome than on the road. Young Larry Dierker, for example, has a 5-1 record under the roof and compiled a 1.77 earned run average compared to a 1-4 record and a 5.81 ERA away. Claude Raymond has a 4-1 dome record with a 0.75 ERA and a 1-3 and 3.60 ERA on the road. Mike Cuellar is 5-1 at home with a 1.54 ERA and 21- and 3.24 away.

Morton's Plays Two Saturday

Morton's Foods play host to Abilene Conoco in a softball doubleheader at the City Park Saturday evening. The first of two seven-inning contests get under way about 7:30 p.m. Manager D. A. Miller will field what he calls the Morton's "road team" rather than the unit which has been competing in the American Softball league here. Meeting Slated Bill Bradford, commissioner of the Church Softball league, has called a meeting of all managers in the circuit for 7 p.m. Monday at the Westside Baptist Church.

Hangar For Sale

ABE/3 Guy Pierce of Sharon, Mass., walks past South Weymouth, Mass., Naval Air Station aircraft hangar that is being offered for sale. Richard M. Novack, vice president of Marden Construction Corp., Boston, said his firm had lot of inquiries "but no sales yet" for the 1,000-ft. long, 330-ft. wide and 190-ft. high blimp hangar. Should the firm find no buyers, the building will be reduced to 5,000 tons of steel scrap. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Jurors Finish Up
Paperback Novels

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—For five days, eleven men and a woman stepped into the jury box each morning, opened a book and silently read. The silver-haired judge also picked up a paperback novel. The books had such titles as "Swap Sect," "Orgy Club," "Sin Summer," "Virgins, Inc.," "Temple of Shame," "Passion Carrousel" and "Shame Hung-er."

There was no choice—the jurors read what was handed them. The government contends the books are obscene. The defense claims they appeal to normal sexual interests.

Seven individuals and four firms are on trial in U.S. District Court, charged with interstate shipment of pornographic literature. If convicted, each defendant could get as much as two years in prison and or a $5,000 fine.

The jurors finished reading the final book late Thursday and court was recessed until Monday.

Not many stayed in the courtroom to watch the jurors silently reading. So one of the defense agents, the judge, his court reporter, clerk and law clerk. Individual defendants are William L. Hamling, Palm Springs, Calif.; Richard A. Yerxa, San Diego, Calif.; Stephen A. Keegan, San Diego, Calif.; Donald M. Patrick, El Cajon, Calif.; Shirley R. Wright, La Mesa, Calif.; Howard E. Stephens, Sandusky, Ohio, and Walter H. Lonsdale, Gardena, Calif.

Defendant firms are Corinth Publications and Reed Enterprises, both of San Diego, Calif.; Stephens Printing Co., Sandusky, Ohio, and New-Cal Publications of Gardena, Calif.

Fleishman also argued some jurors were judging, that they were skip-reading because they did not wish to hold up the others with their slow reading.

The jurors were instructed to read all that was printed on the covers and flyleaves before starting the narrative. They could make no notes or underscore any passages.

Each of the books is about 200 pages long and the jury was able to read a little more than one book a day.

Most of the time the only persons in the courtroom besides the jurors were the seven defendants, four defense attorneys, four prosecutors, two FBI

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S FORECLOSURE SALE OF REAL ESTATE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that by virtue of an order of sale issued out of Cause No. 16,215 in the District Court of Howard County, Texas, wherein W. D. Colwell, Inc., Plaintiff, obtained judgment on the 9th day of May 1966, against Charles R. Chamberlain Defendant(s) for the sum of $320.41 together with interest thereon at 8 per cent per annum from date of such judgment until paid, together with all costs accrued therein (in the sum of $25.75), and for foreclosure of the Plaintiff's special improvement assessment lien upon Lot 5, Block 5 of Mountain View Addition to the City of Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, together with all improvements thereon located, as of the 23rd day of November, 1965.

And the Clerk of said Court issued out of said cause, and delivered to me as Sheriff, an order of sale commanding me to seize and sell the above described property as under execution, in foreclosure of said lien(s) and that I apply the proceeds thereof to the payment and satisfaction of the above mentioned judgment, interest, principal costs, sheriff's costs and commissions and expenses of said sale:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, A. N. STANDARD, Sheriff of Howard County, Texas, do hereby direct, and do hereby direct the Court House Door of Howard County, Texas (in Big Spring, Texas) between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., on the 6th day of September, 1966 such being the first Tuesday of said month, under the authority of such order of sale, after to sell and sell of public auction for cash, to the highest bidder, all of the right, title or interest which the above named Defendant(s) have in said property and real estate described above, as had therein on the date(s) mentioned above as of which the foreclosure of said lien(s) are ordered and directed.

DATED at Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, this 27th day of July, 1966.

READING, Mass. (AP)—The Communists have to be stopped some way by someone," says a young Reading girl who has paid a high personal price—her fiance and a brother killed a month apart in Viet Nam.

Saturday, Diane Croce, 22, will attend the funeral of her brother, Robert, 20, a Marine lance corporal who was killed July 15, four days after he arrived in Viet Nam.

On July 6, Diane saw the body of her fiance, Navy corpsman George Cottrill, 20, buried in his

Navy Will Send Woman's Voice To Sea In Submarine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy may soon send a woman to sea in its submarines — electronically, that is.

“Although submarine wives were not consulted, this female presence aboard submarines should not be resented,” the Navy reported with a straight face today.

After all, she is only a recording designed to sound words of warning automatically when danger threatens seamen. The woman's voice — “sultry” is the way the Navy described it — may replace such submarine alarms as blinking red lights, honks, buzzes and squawks.

These signals, far less appealing to the masculine senses, alert a submarine operator to take action in case of high-pressure seawater flooding, fire or serious power failure.

“A real attention-getter is needed for extremely dangerous situations,” the Navy said.

Then it said: “In view of the well-established responsiveness of Navy men to the female voice, among other things, the new system is expected to be highly successful.”

What will the voice say?

“Fire! Fire! There is a fire in the crew's mess,” and “Flooding! Flooding! There is serious flooding in the after steering room,” were examples supplied by the Navy.

The Navy did not explain how a voice can be “sultry” and still manage to impart to the male listener an urgency to carry out his duties.

The Navy did disclose the voice will be that of Joan Ririe, employed by the Nortronics Division of Northrop Corp., Palos Verdes, Calif., developer of the vocal warning system.

She was described as a professional recorder for Nortronics as well as a part-time singer and former actress.

With gentlemanly restraint, the Navy withheld her age.

The prerecorded warning speech will be checked out in the near future aboard an operational sub. Once satisfactorily evaluated, the voice will be installed aboard all of the Navy's 150 operational subs, a spokesman said.

 Altho North's holding falls a shade short of the requirements for a demand opening in a minor suit, it is worth observing that awkward rebid problems are apt to result if he merely bids one diamond.

When South made a positive response of two spades, slam prospects blossomed forth. In order to announce the fit and permit a relaxed investigation thereafter, North raised to three spades. South's four club call is a cue bid, showing first round control of that suit. North reciprocated in hearts in order to give his partner an opportunity to show another feature.

The five club bid announces possession of the king or second round control. North reasoned at this point that South's hand consisted of at least five spades headed by the king and the ace-king of clubs, in which case thirteen tricks could be counted—five spades, six diamonds and two clubs. He, therefore, proceeded without further ado to seven spades.

West opened the king of hearts which was ruffed in dummy with the jack of spades. The ace of spades was cashed, followed by the queen. If spades divided three-two, as is the normal expectation, South intended to reenter his hands with the king of clubs, pull the outstanding trump with the king and then run the diamond suit.

When East showed out on the second round, the contract was doomed. South drew one more round of trumps and then tried to run the diamonds. West ruffed the second lead and the defenders subsequently took two hearts and one club to register a four trick deficit.

The defeat was doubly painful to North and South inasmuch as they could have fulfilled a contract of seven diamonds with ease. As long as North was counting on taking five spade tricks, he might just as well have bid seven diamonds as a safety precaution—not to mention the extra profit in declaring one hundred fifty honors.

DEAR ABBY
This Was A Crummy Deal

DEAR ABBY: I was married for three long, unhappy years the first time. We divorced and then I married a wonderful man. One of his relatives told us they were giving us a new toaster for a wedding gift. When it came, it was her old toaster. Her excuse was they needed the double toaster because they had a family, and we needed only a single one. So she kept the new one and gave us her old one.

DEAR BURNED: Keep the toaster and help your husband avoid a family fight. It takes a well-bred person to overlook a crummy deal.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 10 years to a deeply religious woman. During the course of our marriage she has used marital relations to reward, bribe, and punish me. I seldom objected until she went to extremes. She hasn't slept in our bed for over two months.

DEAR BEWILDERED: Since your wife is "deeply religious," ask her clergyman to speak to her. There are some battles no man is able to fight alone. And this is one of them.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Avery Presses County Suit
 AUSTIN (AP) — Midland Mayor Hank Avery told the Texas Supreme Court Thursday it shouldn't have reversed the trial court in his suit to force a redistricting of Midland County commissioners precincts.

Avery contended the high court's opinion actually agreed with that of the trial court.

The Supreme Court ruled July 13 that the trial court erred in ordering a redistricting along population lines.

Avery's motion for rehearing reached the court Thursday. In it, he argued that the high court erred in holding that the U.S. and Texas Constitutions do not require redistricting along population lines. The court also erred, Avery said, in holding the trial court was without authority to order the redistricting.

"When considered as a whole," Avery said, the trial court's opinion "is in accordance with the opinion of this court."

The high court's ruling did not specify how close commissioners courts must come to the "one man, one vote" standard set by the U. S. Supreme Court in 1964 for Legislative and Congressional districts.

The Texas Supreme Court is in recess until October.

Daly Sees Slow Growth Toward TV Vulgarity

By JOHN DALY (For Cynthia Lowry)
 EDITOR'S NOTE: John Charles Daly, in addition to his long-playing career as host of "What's My Line?" is a veteran broadcast journalist and news executive. Here he sets down some opinions and observations of the television scene.

NEW YORK (AP) — I am exceedingly loath to join the host of television critics. But, as a long-time trend spotter, I cannot refrain from noting a new drift that is creeping insidiously into the airways.

It is a lenience designed to accommodate—or reflect, the new freedoms: It is opening the doors to a type of material that even a few years ago would have been consigned to the wastebasket in the office of continuity acceptance, TV's self-censors.

It starts with the voluptuary on the bearskin rug and will end heaven knows where. At present a large number of performers in one-minute commercials spend substantial time discussing the desirability and frequency of the most intimate personal relationship between the sexes. The remainder archly insist they were only referring to the product of the sponsor.

There are other examples, some of them too unprintable to print. Not many. But they are there, blue as the night club joke and suggestive as the perfume ads in the slick magazines. When the leer is fully commercialized, who can doubt that the direct statement is far behind. We have not yet arrived at the explicit on American television, but a beginning is being made and the theater has already demonstrated that from small four-letter words, big splashes of pure vulgarity grow.

I'm a nine-letter word man, myself. Tarnation, for instance, as in "What in tarnation goes on here?"

I have, in fact, been accused by some viewers, probably justifiably, of being addicted to the employment of the longish word, in the interest, it is alleged, of obscurity, confusion and obfuscation.

Recently, one set-side critic sent us scampering to the dictionary with the following adlocutio suggestion: "If you are to persist in using multisyllabic words when short ones would serve just as well, if not better, why don't you go the whole way and have your name changed legally to Sesqui P. Daly?"

(Another editor's note — To save the reader a trip to the dictionary, that's a pun — "sesquipedalia" means "a very long word.")

"What's My Line?" will have color in September and the lighting engineers tell me I will have to discard the bow tie I have worn on the program for 10 years. In color, they say, the hole worn in the knot will show.

This is the coat that's so great on both sides you won't know which side to take

Camel reversing to white, piped and lassoed-in with camel leather. Lightweight, two-faced wool.
