LAMESA PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY

WORK ON HIGHWAY NO. 9 TO START SEPTEMBER 20TH.

Information from the State Highway Department this week stated that the work of grading and drainage would start on Highway No. 9 from Lamesa to the Lynn county line on Wednesday, September 20, to be completed by February 15, 1934. C. M. Huddleston of Crosbyton has the contract.

The contractor is expected to use about 70 men in active work for the following positions: 2 carpenters, 4 tractor men, 20 truck drivers, 2 shovel operators, 2 blade men and 40 laborers. These men to be secured from the local re-employment office at which 892 men have registered so far, that they will do this kind of work.

Mr. Work, foreman for Mr. Huddleston, was in Lamesa Wednesday transacting business and making his plans to start the work.

Library of Rev. D. G. Wells Property Of Dawson County

The late Rev. D. G. Wells, pioneer Baptist minister possessed an unusual library, both in contents and in size. Such a library as his indicates the owner to be a man of deep thought, a mind of research and sentiment.

Many of his books were gifts from friends of learning, many were bought or given by friends of his father who lived almost one hundred years ago. Greek Lexicons copyrighted more than a hundred years past and bound in real leather are among the number he used daily.

Reference books, the Americanized Encyclopedia Britannica, Latin and Greek dictionaries along with Webster's Unabridged shows thumb marks of many years. No less than a dozen bibles and numerous books not only of his own denomination but of various others were his daily companions. Political books also had their place upon the shelves.

Of this library, sixty-five volumes were given to the Lamesa Public Library. Approximately two hundred and fifty volumes were given to the First Baptist church of Lamesa with instructions that all Dawson county people be permitted to read them.

A librarian will be appointed and days or hours designated when books may be obtained.

McDonald Relected Gin Ass'n Director

Mr. J. W. McDonald, owner of the McDonald Gin was re-elected as one of seven directors of the Plains Ginners Association at a meeting at Lubbock Saturday. The entire board was re-elected. Mr. McDonald said, adding that officers will be elected by the directors at a meeting some time soon.

Four hundred ginners attended the meeting. The feature of the program was an address and the answering of questions regarding the ginners' code by John S. Thompson of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Ginner's Association, who has recently returned from Washington.

A resolution was adopted opposing cotton acreage reduction in the United States for 1934 greater than one-third normal acreage, unless all foreign cotton producing countries adopt the same regulations. Mr. Thompson was authorized to represent the ginners at a meeting at Dallas Tuesday, called to discuss possibility of decreasing the acreage 60 per cent.

Must Have Permit To Sell Hogs

The latest information received by County Agent S. A. Debnam in regard to the government plan of purchasing hogs, is that a permit from a commission house must be had before hogs can be sold. Mr. Debnam also stated if farmers would leave their name with him he would secure the permit for them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cox and daughter Louise, Mrs. W. H. Cox and Mrs. Floyd Burleson have returned from a visit in Rotan and Haskell.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Loveless left Monday for a vacation at Taos, N. M.

The first bale arrived one day later this year than last, the first bale being brought to town on September 5 last year.

Retail Grocermen Have Code Explained

The Retail Grocermen Association of Lamesa met in call session Tuesday night and heard Louis B. Reed interpret the Retail Merchants NRA Code. It brought out at this meeting that the President expected all Retail Grocermen doing a food business to belong to some grocermen's association.

It was also pointed out in this meeting that a complaint board from the Grocermen's Association will be named and the duties of this board will be to see that all people selling groceries in Lamesa get in line and abide by the Code of the Association. All complaints will be made and heard by this committee. Monday evenings, immediately after closing hours was set as the regular weekly meeting time of the association.

The body voted to open and close at seven in the mornings and evenings each day except Saturday when they will stay open until 9 P. M.—until further notice.

Dee Hull is chairman of the grocermen and presided at the meeting. Dan Davis is secretary of the organization.

The following stores were represented and signed up with the code: Hull Cash Grocery, M. Hatch & Son, Burns Grocery, R. E. Britt, Meeks Grocery, R. E. Wilkerson, Davis Food Store, Pratt's Cash and Carry, Cut Rate Grocery, Self-Serving, City Market and Grocery.

To Loan Money To Buy Wheat With

According to information received by the local chamber of commerce from Arthur P. Duggan, Senator for this section at Austin, arrangement has been made with the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission to loan money to farmers to purchase seed wheat. This resulted by a recent visit and request of Senator Duggan.

Tom Burnside, county administrator for the Welfare Association located in the old Panhandle Lumber Company on North First Street will administer funds to farmers for the purchase of seed wheat. He is instructed to loan farmers—who can qualify—$20.00 each with which to purchase the wheat. A note will be signed by the farmer to insure repayment. Mr. Burnside says so far as he knows no strings will be tied except that the note will have to be signed and then the money will be given the farmer—who can qualify—who will be required to purchase the wheat, and sow same.

Mr. Burnside states that any farmer will be eligible who cannot get money or finance any place to apply for this wheat.

The beauty about this is that the money is available NOW and there will be no waiting for a hearing on an application to get results. Mr. Burnside is prepared to give service NOW. Only $20.00 will be loaned and wheat must be sown as soon as possible.

County Schools Opening This Week

October 2, Next First Monday—Trades Day

Big Crowd Here Last Monday, Oct. 4

Lamesa's largest Trades Day crowd was had here Monday when hundreds of people thronged the streets to enjoy the attractions of the day.

YES, there will be another First Monday Trades Day. It will take place October 2nd. Already, a good program is in the making and all who attend this day's features will be well repaid for so doing.

Merchants will give you tickets that will give you admission to the programs of this day. Ask them about the entertainments. There will be one at ten in the morning and one at four in the afternoon.

There was lots of fun last Monday for the kiddos in chasing the balloons which the boy scouts let fly from the top of the Court House building. Many of the balloons were shot down but many floated away toward the southwest and according to reports coming from the chamber of commerce, are being found as far away as six miles west of Ballard. It is expected that some of these balloons will be found in New Mexico and be returned perhaps several weeks from now.

Merchants report much buying and trading last Monday. Their first Dollar day, they claim was a success. Merchants will offer their best merchandise and the best price they can on the rising market on their second dollar day on October 4th—next First Monday.

But in order to insure values and added attraction BUY all along thru the month from Lamesa merchants. It pays. You can get REAL VALUES and at the same time have an opportunity to help make possible these Trades Day programs each First Monday.

Yes, Lamesa merchants will continue the first Monday Trades Day programs until further notice.

Several speeches in the interest of game protection were made including the main speech by George Canon, secretary of the organization.

Several game wardens attended the meeting. The chicken season opening the next day many of the regular members could not attend having previously arranged to pitch tents for invited parties for the chicken hunt.

No. R. F. C. Work During September

Tom Burnside, R. F. C. administrator for this county, received information the first part of this week from the Texas Rehabilitation Committee that no money would be available for work during the month of September. The work to begin on the first of October, with some permanent project then to work on.

ENROLLMENT EXPECTED TO REACH ONE THOUSAND

Approximately 1000 pupils are expected at the two Lamesa Public School buildings for enrollment on the first day which is Monday, September 11th. About two thirds of the school and the remaining one third in the high school. The scholastic pupils will be in the elementary census of last March showed 1205 pupils of school age in this district. Five pupils have been transferred out and 107 have been transferred into the district. Thus it is possible from this record that a record breaking enrollment could take place. However it is reported that there are some of school age who show very little interest in getting to school at the first opening, some who never take interest and that meter changes and other records indicate that there have been some moving from the district since last March, thus the school authorities regard 1000 pupils as the number likely to be on hand.

Then enrollment is expected to be unusual in the number of candidates for graduation. A large number of promotions from last year in combination with the pupils coming from other districts for a final year give promise of more than 100 in the senior class.

The opening program will be short since much labor confronts the faculty in assisting pupils to secure assignments and books, take examinations and get school under way.

The public is invited to the opening exercises. Instructions for School Opening. Many parents and pupils will desire to know where pupils belong on the first day of school. The information below will answer the question for most of the pupils attending the Lamesa Public Schools.

All pupils of high school grades, i. e. eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh will report to the high school auditorium at 8:45 Monday, September 11th and they should come prepared to spend the school day save for the regular noon period.

Pupils new to the Lamesa schools will need vaccination certificates against Smallpox or a certificate from the attending physician that the pupil asking exemption has had smallpox. Pupils coming under the free high school tuition law whose names are not on the regular transfer list shall present a form signed by the officers of their respective home school districts indicating that said pupil has completed the courses offered in the home district and is entitled to the privileges of the Free High School Tuition Law.

All pupils are to have their receipts for book cards from former schools showing all book accounts properly cleared.

Pupils from unaffiliated schools taking work which is not in continuation subject form will be required to taken entrance examinations in enrollment. Most subjects of continuation subject matter are offered so that examinations are expected to be few.

Announcements as to subjects, procedure of enrollment, obtaining of text books, care of text-books, will be made at the first assembly by the principal of the high school.

It is expected that school work will get under way from the very first and that pupils missing the first day will be that much behind their fellow pupils. Pupils who have been heretofore enrolled will find their program cards awaiting them for distribution at the first assembly.

Instructions for Enrolling In the Elementary School

Each child and parent interested should study this schedule in order that enrollment may be completed with as little confusion as possible. School opens Monday, September 11, at nine o'clock. The regular time for opening school after the first day will be 8:45 A. M. Children are urged to report for work each day between 8:15 and 8:45 and the practice of coming to school before eight o'clock, as has been done in the past will be discouraged. The purpose of this request is to give teachers an opportunity to work in the buildings, undisturbed, for one hour before the opening of school in planning the day's work.

Each child must present a report card or some other record of work

"OUR SCHOOLS"

Address delivered before the Lamesa Luncheon Club Tuesday noon, Williams Hotel, August 29, 1933, by G. M. Roberts, Principal Lamesa Elementary Schools, Lamesa, Texas.

What is known as the Lamesa Public Schools consists of two plants constructed of brick and tile, one of which houses the Elementary school, and the other the Lamesa High School. These buildings are situated on three adjoining blocks, including the streets and alleys, located in the city of Lamesa, near the center of the district comprising thirty-one square miles. Other property belonging to the school is a ten acre tract of land and the property thereon, commonly known as the ball park. The total value of the school properties as estimated in 1932, and taking into consideration decreases in values, amounted to more than $251,000.00. These properties are provided for by bond issues as follows: In 1920, the old frame building which housed the school was destroyed by fire. The insurance collected upon this building was used to pay off the remaining bonds against the district, leaving the district without any bonds whatever. In 1921 new bonds were voted by the citizenship of the district in the amount of $70,000.00, with which what is now known as the Elementary School was constructed. This proved adequate until 1924, when the rapid and constant growth required more building and equipment. Consequently, in this year additional bonds were voted in the amount of $124,000 for the purpose of constructing the new high school building. In the same year, an additional series of bonds in the amount of $25,000 were voted to equip the elementary school with a heating plant, sanitary appliances, and other needed equipment. By way of parenthesis, it might be noted that up to this time the building had been heated by stoves, and the sewage disposal consisted of a very unsatisfactory cesspool.

The total bonds therefore, which have been against the district amount to $219,000.00. Thirty one thousand dollars of this amount has been retired, leaving bonds outstanding against the district to be paid $188,000.00. These figures represent Lamesa's investment in public education insofar as permanent fixtures are concerned. Although they are not astounding nor alarming, they are adequate for the present. With the constant growth which the city has experienced up to the present, it is difficult to guess that the same outlay will be sufficient even five years from now. Both buildings are being used almost to full capacity at present.

The personnel of the schools consists of two janitors, one for each building, one secretary-tax collector, one colored teacher, and twenty-nine white teachers including principals and superintendent.

Teachers are selected upon their training and qualifications to fill the particular place. More than one-half of the teachers hold degrees from standard colleges, and three among them hold Masters degrees. The duties and responsibilities of teachers are numerous and varied. As a class of people, they are possessed of about the same human traits as other people, having their ups and downs, their likes and dislikes as other people; they make errors and regret them; they experience moments of success and enjoy them—too often alone. The teacher's day is somewhat of a nervous strain even upon the most experienced. Constant thinking and alertness, constant planning and executing, meeting and solving the most difficult problems at the most unexpected moment. Every day is a new (Editor's Note: Because of lack of space we will have to continue this fine article over until next week. Watch for it next week)

completed in the past. A book card must be presented showing that book records are clear in the past. Text books cannot be issued until all book records are clear according to the Text book laws of the State of Texas. Pupils who do not have these records and who have attended this school before may secure them at the Principal's office on Friday and Saturday before the opening of school. Children failing to get book cards last year because of lost books should arrange to pay for such books and have all records clear.

The following instructions relative to immunity against smallpox should be observed carefully before attempting to enroll: (1) A successful vaccination against smallpox is required of all children entering the Lamesa Public Schools providing the child has not had the disease. This is by order of the Lamesa School Board. (2) Each child entering this school for the first time must present a certificate of successful vaccination signed by the doctor doing the vaccination or present a certificate signed by the attending physician showing that the child has had small pox. (3) Children who have attended this school before and whose vaccination records are satisfactory will not be required to present these records again as they are on file in the school's office. (4) Children who were unsuccessfully vaccinated last year or at some other time will be required to present a certificate showing successful vaccination. (5) Enrollment cannot be completed until these requirements are fulfilled.

All children should be able to give the following information: correct name, date of birthday and age last birthday, parents name and initials, parent's occupation, parent's street address and mail address, telephone number, name of school district in which they now live, and the name of the school and grade last attended.

Children moving into the district for the sole purpose of attending school and whose permanent homes and parent's permanent occupation is located outside of the district, will be required to pay tuition unless such children have been transferred to the district or have been enumerated upon our census rolls for the present year. All transfers will be required to pay tuition after a limited time.

Parents are welcome to visit the school at all times but it is not essential that the parent accompany the child to school on the first day, provided, of course, that the child has met all entrance requirements and can give the desired information. Parents would do a splendid service on a busy day by seeing that all entrance requirements are met, and by supplying the child with the information necessary to enroll him, and then turning him over to the teacher for enrollment. Parents are asked to refrain from asking for changes in any child's schedule or assignment for the first few days of school and even then, changes will be granted only when it can be shown to be to the best advantage of the child. To place a child in another room so that he can with a friend or a neighbor or a kinsman is seldom sufficient reason for asking for changes.

School will be in session all day Monday and children should come prepared to stay. Supplies other than paper and pencils need not be purchased until children have had instructions from teachers.

Pupils should report as follows for the purpose of enrolling on the first day. These assignments are only temporary and may be changed during the first few days as conditions and circumstances demand.

All beginners who have never attended school and whose ages are six between September 1, 1933 and March 1, 1934, report to room 108, high school building.

All other beginners, report to room 11, elementary school.

All pupils promoted to first grade from kindergarden report to room 11. All pupils belonging to high first grade report to room 13.

Pupils assigned to the low second grade by Miss Barron and Miss Key, report to room 14.

All other pupils assigned to low second report to room 15.

All pupils assigned to high second grade, report to room 13.

Pupils assigned to low third grade by Miss Massengale and Miss Brock, report to room 25.
