About 25 Men In Mine When Blast Occurs

Two Victims Are Critically Wounded And Taken To Hospitals; One Expected To Die; Survivor Tells Story

Six Hundred Pounds Of Black Powder Explodes In Shaft Of Mine Near Linton, Ind.; Rescue Squads At Work

(By The Associated Press)

LINTON, Ind., Jan. 28.—More than a score of coal miners were killed when 600 pounds of black powder exploded in the Little Betty mine near here late today.

About 25 men were in the north main section of the mine when the blast occurred. Two of the men, critically injured, were brought to the Linton hospital. One of them is expected to die.

All Victims Dead

Dr. C. C. Hamilton, who was dispatched to the scene from the Linton hospital, reported tonight that rescue workers had found all of the blast victims and that all were dead.

The explosion was believed to have been the result of a spark igniting the blasting powder sent down for the shot firers as the day shift was coming off duty.

The identified dead were:
Jess Templeton, Linton.
Lotus Mitchell, Pleasantville.
Otto Hale, Sullivan.
Joe Wallace, Pleasantville.
Ben Snyder, Linton.

The injured:
Earl Bedwell, probably will die.
Don Burris.

Burris, who was conscious when taken from the mine told the story of the explosion.

He said he was at his usual work as a trip rider on a conveyor when the explosion occurred. Although he was a mile back from the shaft opening, Burris said the blast upset the conveyor and broke the trolley, he was knocked to the floor of the mine.

Overcome By Gas

Calling to several men near him, he told them to grasp the conveyor

"Wet" Newspapers Gain Circulation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—A conclusion the nation's anti-prohibition newspapers as a whole have approximately doubled the circulation of those favoring the dry law was reached today by the Methodist board of temperance.

In a survey of 1,346 daily papers having an aggregate circulation of 32,994,609 the board placed only 520 of these as definitely "wet." Their combined circulation, however, was estimated at more than 21,000,000 or 64 per cent, while that of the 809 "dry" papers was 10,488,553, or 32 per cent. There were 115, mostly of small circulation, described as "neutral."

"Excess Baggage" To Be Next Charm School Talk

Nancy Earle To Show Exercises In Her Today's Class

A LECTURE on "Excess Baggage," mental and physical, is to be given this afternoon by Miss Nancy Earle in the fourth lecture of second annual Avalanche-Journal Charm school. In connection with the lecture, she is to demonstrate exercises on the platform and she expects to include a non-fattening and building diet with a reducing diet for those who are interested. The talk will be at 2:30 o'clock in the Uptown Dance Palace.

Wednesday's lecture on "Face Facts" drew a crowd of several hundred women, considerably more than were in attendance for the opening lecture Monday afternoon. The mental and physical attitude were up for discussion by Miss Earle in her school yesterday and at the close of her talk she answered questions which had been placed in her question box at the registration table.

To Close Friday.

Friday's lecture, which is for women, exclusively, is to close the school for this year.

The value of a sense of humor, of a smile, one's mental attitude toward "nerves" and the danger of falling into a dull routine of household work were discussed by Miss Earle yesterday. Her panacea for many of these troubles was the substitution of one thought for another—the substitution of a good book for thoughts of troubles and the acquiring of interests outside the actual duties of the home. For idleness she suggested work as a panacea.

"Nervousness" is often a mental attitude rather than a physical ailment, she told the women in attendance at the school yesterday.

LEW WENTZ

Wentz Ousted By Murray As Highway Head

Multimillionaire Chairman Of Oklahoma Commission Removed; Legality Of Action Questioned

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28. (AP)—Governor W. H. Murray's long-expected removal of Lew Wentz, Ponca City multimillionaire, as chairman of the state highway commission, came late today.

Murray issued an executive order directing that Wentz be reduced to membership of the commission, and that Sam R. Hawks, Clinton, newly appointed member, head the board.

Wentz will remain a member of the commission at least for the present, Murray indicated.

The governor said "the relation between the chief executive of this state and the present chairman are of such nature that agreement, concurrence and a harmonious cooperation are impossible under present conditions."

Wentz is a Republican, Hawks a Democrat.

The effect of a bill pending in the Oklahoma house, which would provide that the governor might designate the chairman of any state board or commission, was nullified in committee today through an amendment, which would not permit the governor to remove Wentz until his term expired.

The legality of Murray's move, which is questionedd by friends of Wentz, is expected to receive further substantiation by action of the two Democratic commisisoners.

Opposition To Farm Board Is Held 'Selfish'

Texas Farm Bureau Federation In Annual Convention At Dallas Wednesday; Marketing Act Upheld By Members

Thompson Speaker

President Of American Federation Demands Agriculture Be Given Opportunity To Control Its Own Business

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 28. — A demand that agriculture be given an opportunity to control its own business was voiced by Sam H. Thompson of Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, in an address here today before the annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

The condemned as selfish opposition to the Federal Farm Board, describing the board and the Agricultural Marketing act not as perfect mechanism, but as a permanent national agricultural policy, and asked that the farmer be given the same chance other interests have received at the government's hands.

Board Is Upheld

Subsequently, the directors of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, also in session, adopted resolutions upholding the Federal Farm Board and the marketing act and condemning activities of the American cotton shippers and other "entrenched groups" in fighting them. The resolutions also commended the Texas congressional delegation for supporting the board in its request for additional funds.

Mr. Thompson charged distribution agencies were getting a disproportionate share of the national income and demanded a greater share for agriculture. Citing government statistics, he said agricultural prices had fallen 25 per cent, wholesale prices 14 per cent and retail prices only 4 per cent, and attributed the smaller decline in the latter classes to organization in those interests.

Condition Of Miss Carr Is Unchanged

Hospital attendants Wednesday night reported no change in the condition of Miss Beatrice Carr, 19, of Lubbock, who was wounded critically when shot through the right lung early Monday night at Brownfield.

Mrs. J. Hugh Walker, also of Lubbock, who faces a charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with the attack still was in the Terry county jail at Brownfield, Wednesday night. Sheriff J. M. Tilford said Wednesday night that a preliminary hearing was not expected in the case.

Mrs. Walker's husband, who was Miss Carr's companion when the latter was shot, was released Tuesday night on his own recognizance to appear before the Terry county grand jury which is scheduled to meet Monday.

District Attorney Thomas L. Price, of Post, said Tuesday night that he would resist efforts to gain Mrs. Walker's release on bond until the outcome of Miss Carr's wound had been determined definitely.

Continue Hunt For Two Local Jail Breakers

John F. Haley, Cyrus Frost Still At Large Wednesday Night After Sawing Through Bars Of County Bastile

A hunt for John F. Haley and Cyrus Frost, who escaped early Wednesday from the Lubbock county jail, was continued Wednesday night by peace officers here and elsewhere. Authorities in other towns of this section were notified soon after the break to be on the lookout for the escaped prisoners.

Sawing through a steel bar in the third floor cell to which they were confined, the two squeezed through the opening thus provided and went to the kitchen which adjoins the lone cell. Tying two blankets together, they tied one end of the improvised rope to a water pipe near a window, opened the window and slid down the blankets to the ground.

Seen By Jailer.

Haley and Frost had climbed over the high fence which encloses the jail yard and were standing near a tree on the opposite side of Avenue G, east of the jail, when they were sighted by Will Earnest, county jailer and deputy sheriff.

Emerging from the east door of the jail building, Earnest saw the escaped prisoners and shouted for them to halt, he said. The two fled eastward as Earnest, barefooted and clad only in sleeping garments, pursued and emptied a pistol at them.

Policeman William F. Tarpley heard the shots and took up the pursuit. The jail breakers turned southeastward and were lost in the alleyways. Each of the officers reported that they had seen one of

Red Cross Not To Administer Federal Funds

Senator Robinson Threatens Congress Will Find Its Own Relief Agencies In Reply To Red Cross Refusal

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—A threat that congress would find its own relief agencies came today in answer to a flat refusal by the Red Cross to administer the $25,000,000 relief fund proposed in the state. Democratic Leader Robinson told the senate congress would find its own agencies for distribution of such funds as it feels should be used in the emergency "if the Red Cross refuses to measure up to the proper standard."

Reply Is Made

Robinson was speaking in reply to testimony John Barton Payne, charman of the Red Cross, had given the house appropriations committee. Payne said his organization could not accept administration of the fund. He presented a resolution adopted by the Red Cross central committee.

The Arkansas senator called on all senators who had even an "ordinary" regard for suffering to "repudiate the policy which implies a refusal on the part of those responsible to the people as a whole to take any action whatever to relieve the distress."

Robinson said the $10,000,000 being sought by the Red Cross was inadequate, threatened an extra session if necessary to make congress "do its duty" and described the attitude of President Hoover against the $35,000,000 appropriation as "incomprehensible" even to his closest friends.

Bill Would Give Suspended Sentences In Liquor Cases

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—Representative Weinert of Seguin today introduced a bill to amend the penal code to make persons over 25 years old eligible to a suspended sentence in liquor violation cases. Under present law only persons under 25 years may be given a suspended sentence on conviction for violating the prohibition statutes.

Representative Fisher of New Castle, introduced a bill to remit the 20 per cent penalty for failure to obtain motor vehicle licenses by February 1. Fisher said the bill would be called up tomorrow and he would try to have it passed in time to be effective by midnight January 31, the expiration date of 1930 licenses.

Senate, House Pass Measure To Delay Date

Measure Would Prevent Taxes From Becoming Delinquent Until October 15; Approval Of Chief Executive Seen

To Charge Interest

Proposal Enacted But Three Days Before Final Date For Paying Taxes Under Present Law; Urge Early Payment

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—Three days before the final date for paying taxes under the present law, the legislature today passed a bill which would keep taxes from becoming delinquent until October 15.

The only thing which stood between the proposal and its enactment into law was the signature of Gov. Ross E. Sterling, and proponents of the bill expressed confidence he would approve it, probably tomorrow.

Would Charge Interest.

In order to encourage tax payments as soon as possible the legislature included in its bill a provision that the taxes would start drawing 10 per cent interest February 1. Another provision, for persons who can pay half but not all of their taxes at this time, sets out that the taxes maybe paid in two installments.

Most of the large corporations are expected to pay their taxes before February 1, in order to avoid the interest charges. Several of them already had promised prompt payment.

The bill was drawn by a free conference committee after the senate and house had differed on the plan. The bill received only six dissenting votes in the house today and the senate a few hours later gave it unanimous approval.

Passage of the tax bill overshadowed everything else in the legislature today, but there was the usual flow of bills and resolutions and the house had another argument on prohibition before declaring itself for the 18th amendment.

Propose Income Tax.

Representative Dodd of Nash proposed a state income tax. The income tax was defeated by the last session, although it was advocated by former Governor Moody. In addition to taxing Texans, Dodd's bi

No Trace Found Of Missing Man

RANGER, Jan. 28. (AP)—Extended search of the canyons and heavily wooded country in the vicinity of the place from which Wes Marshbanks, Ranger ranchman, disappeared mysteriously Sunday, today failed to reveal any further evidence of his fate, as an augmented posse continued the hunt. No trace that might lead to his whereabouts was found, and searching parties returned here at nightfall to resume the hunt tomorrow.

More minute inspection of the auto in which Marshbanks drove to his ranch, near here, led searchers to conclude that he either met with foul play, or suffered an amnesia attack and possibly plunged to death in one of the canyons on the place.

Juvenile Gang Is Discovered Here

"THE SNOW Gang" has been discovered by being wiped out.

Relayed to the press by three juvenile moles — "mole" being underworld vernacular for a racketeer's woman—a penciled slip of tablet paper has revealed the existence of the gang of juvenile delinquents.

"They sent this down and wanted it put in the paper," said a loud, dark headed little girl who was a lowly sort of Mitzi Green. She further explained that a member of the gang was her "feller" and that each of the two slender sisters with her also had "fellers" in the "Snow gang."

Members of the gang long had been known in police circles here, but existence of a self-chosen name or a spirit that smacked of morale had not been revealed.

"The trio will pay dearly for their crime . . . The end of the famous Snow gang," the slip sent by the embryo press agent concluded. The boy whom the girls said wrote the article was styled "main leader" in the item.

"The main leader . . . and his two right-hand men . . . the gunman . . . the gang director . . . they were all tried today before Sir Judge E. L. Pitts," the paper reported.

"The trio all got sentences at the state reform school."

Other details followed, including such phrases as "they didn't tell a thing," and "they have proved to be faithful to the famous Snow gang."

Obviously, there was nothing as galvanic about the gang as the leader had indicated, and "great" was an undeserved superlative.

Chattering about the exploits of the boys, one of the girls exclaimed:

"They are the champions—they can steal more than anybody."

When a reporter suggested that they didn't "get away with it," a sullen look was the only rebuttal. The girls said they wished they were going to prison with the boys.

Three members of the gang—all brothers from whose family name the "kid moles" explained the name of the gang was derived—are in the county jail. An older brother, who officers said had served terms in two state penitentiaries, escaped from the county jail early Wednesday.

Theft of automobile tires, theft of an automobile, and chicken theft are among present charges on which the youths either have been convicted or soon will be tried.

Bridge Club Members Attend Valentine Party Wednesday Afternoon

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

ABOUT once every week before some political season opens up, some man who holds a constable's post, is sheriff or something or other, comes out in the newspaper with a long statement to the effect that he isn't running for the governor's job. That reminds me that I haven't put out any flat denials for the year so here goes:

"Even though I apreciate the fact that all of my friends are urgng me to get into the race. I do not choose to run for president on the Democratic ticket in 1932 and I don't want to hear any more about it. I might not get elected!"

ANOTHER PEEVE

YESTERDAY I listed my peeve. Miss Margaret Turner, who is another hired hand down here, wants hers listed today. It is people who talk in the picture show and she has just used up 15 minutes of my more or less valuable time giving me a graphic illustration of just how exasperating it can be.

I know. I've been there too. Probably I was doing the talking.

"LADIES," AGAIN

THE other day I had a dissertation on "ladies" vs. "women." Bob McCall, another hired man down here—we're all getting into print today— brought something around that former city editor, who is now a columnist wrote. Here it is:

"Evidently there is no eliminating the use of 'lady' as a misnomer for 'woman,' the battle has been going on longer than we of the present age can remember, but it appears to be futile. As far back as 1890 Richard Grant White spoke of 'man' and 'woman' as 'two creatures that seem to have disappeared, almost, from the western world, except among people of the highest culture and simplest manners.' In 1896 Alfred Ayers pronounced the use of 'lady' simply to designate sex as 'the worse possible taste' and attributed it to 'a kind of pin-feathered gentility.' Yet in 1929 we find it being blithely peddled out by the so-called 'World' Greatest Newspaper.'"

SINCE the story appeared the other day about women's clubs dispensing with refreshments and giving the money to the poor, I've been hearing from other quarters. I'll put the gist of it down here and admit that I know very little about the thing, actually. It concerns Sunday night suppers for the young people of the churches—a custom intended, I suppose, to inveigle the college group out to church.

I don't know how many churches serve these lunches regularly although I do know it is done occasionally in almost every congregation. The plan may be an excellent one generally, but it does seem as unnecessary now as serving refreshments at meetings of clubs.

As a matter of fact, it is one thing in which I have never seen much good. If the primary purpose is that the food serves as a "bait" to get people at the church—and that is my understanding of he aim whatever other reasons may be advanced—I still think it is unnecessary. Religion of that sort is worth absolutely nothing, in my estimation.

I can't even draw averages. I think I went to one such occasion at the First Methodist church about three years ago. I'm a member of the church and upon repeated invitation from my Sunday school teacher I attended one evening. After the refreshments were passed around, the crowd did the same thing they do at parties. They wriggled into their coats and bid the church a farewell—with the exception of a few whom, I believe, would have attended the services anyway.

My religion is probably as unorthodox as that of any one in the church here, but it is my religion. I attend services with fair regularity because I want to attend and all the supers or prizes in attendance contests or hand-shaking and patting-on-the-back in the world wouldn't get me out if I didn't choose to go. In fact, I resent the idea that any kind of a bait should be employed because I firmly believe that one who does not think enough of his church to aid in its support and attend its services without any sort of propelling from other members isn't worth a continental to the congregation anyway, and might just as well have his name scratched from the rolls.

I'll probably get a visit from the Rev. J. O. Haymes for this, but I've held to these beliefs for a good many years now.

So, as I was saying several prargraphs earlier, I think the serving of refreshments to students groups of Sunday evenings is just so much wasted effort and money and time that might be better employed. The club women have set a worthy precedent in this matter.

Mellon Fights Vets Proposal

Proposals For Cashing Bonus Certificates Of World War Veterans Held "Without Economic Merit"

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Secretary Mellon told the senate finance committee today that proposals for cashing the bonus certificates of World war veterans are without "economic merit" and instead of improving conditions would "deepen" the world depression.

Mellon was closely questioned as he predicted a treasury deficit of $375,000,000 and warned the cash conversion plan not only would have "serious consequences" on public credit but would "greatly disturb world equilibrium."

Relief Favored

The veteran treasury secretary barely had concluded his statement of the administration's opposition when Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, a Democratic member of the committee, told the senate "a majority of the committee is going to favor some relief."

Harrison announced he favored paying the veterans the present cash value of the certificates.

Mellon's personal appearance was considered by committee members as added evidence of the administration's strong attitude toward the proposed legislation. It increased the belief among some senators that President Hoover would veto a bill to pay the veterans the face value of their certificates.

Mellon's prepared statement, which was read to the committee by Under Secretary Mills, confined its attack to the proposal for paying the face value of the certificates which would cost about $4,000,000,000.

Later, however, Mills said the same objections would apply, to a lesser degree, to the proposal to pay the present value of the certificates, the cost of which has been estimated at from $1,700,000,000 to $2,100,000,000.

Members of the committee did not wait for the reading of Mellon's statement before beginning to question him. The treasury secretary and his assistant, sitting on either side of Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, the acting chairman, alternated in answering the questions.

Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, a long time foe of Mellon, took a leading part in the questioning.

Replying to questions by Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, Mills estimated the public debt has been retired in the last ten years to the extent of $3,459,000,000 more than required by law.

Harrison interjected that the debt had been retired beyond requirements of law "by overtaxing the people."

"It is a strange coincidence," Couzens remarked, "that the amount by which we have retired the public debt in excess of what was required is just equal to what we now want to give our soldiers.

"Yes," Mellon replied, "but the country was in a better condition to pay that amount then than it is now. It was entirely different from going out now for fresh capital."

"To put it another way," Mills interjected, "it is now proposed to wipe out the benefits of sound financing by the treasury over the last ten years."

Mellon denied Harrison's assertion the people had been over taxed.

In his prepared statement, Mellon said the legislation would "seriously retard business recovery, and so prolong unemployment."

PATENTED PROCESS BRINGS OUT FINER FLAVOR IN COFFEE

Controlled Roasting Gives Hills Bros. Coffee Flavor No Other Coffee Has

As everybody knows, the flavor of coffee varies according to the way it is brewed. Especially disappointing is the result when coffee stays on the fire too long or is taken off too soon.

Similar unsatisfactory results can occur in the roasting of coffee. If the blend is roasted too long or not enough there is a noticeable difference in flavor between the two lots. Even with watchful care such variation is exceedingly difficult to prevent when coffee is roasted in large quantities.

Realizing this, Hills Bros. originated and patented a continuous process which roasts coffee a few pounds at a time, instead of in bulk. The quantity of coffee passing into the roaster does not vary. The speed of operation and the temperature remain the same with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform and has a flavor no other coffee has.

Hills Bros. Coffee never "goes stale" because it is packed in vacuum. By this process air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Children's Colds Doubly Dangerous With Flu Around

While there is no cause for serious alarm over the development of scattered cases of flu in this locality, health authorities say that extra precautions should be taken to check every cold at the start. Unless treated promptly, colds tend to lower body resistance and may pave the way for an attack of influenza with all its serious complications.

Internal medication should be avoided except on the advice of a physician. Too much "dosing" often disturbs the digestion and lowers the vitality just when the child needs its body-strength most.

Applied externally, Vicks Vapo Rub can be used freely and as often as needed with no fear of upsetting the stomach.

Rubbed on throat and chest, Vicks acts thru the skin like a poultice or plaster, drawing out the tightness and soreness. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are inhaled direct to the irritated air-passages, loosening the phlegm, and soothing the irritation.

Of course, Vicks two-way action is just as effective for adults' cold-troubles, too.

Don't take chances with colds NOW! Adv.

The future status of the Boy Scout movement on the South Plains depends upon decisions reached at the annual meeting of the South Plains Area council here today, D. T. Jennings, area executive of Lubbock, has indicated.

Schedules Are At Standstill

Eight Tank Cars Leave Track Near San Angelo; Cars Are Destroyed By Flames And Explosion; To Clear Track

SAN ANGELO, Jan. (AP)—Train schedules over the Santa Fe line from San Angelo to Brownwood were at a standstill all day after eight tank cars left the track and were destroyed by fire and explosion, seven miles west of here, early this morning. The blaze was not extinguished until this afternoon and the tracks are expected to be cleared early tonight. A wrecking crew from Brownwood extingnished the flames with mud.

The wreck is thought to have been caused by a spreading rail. The exploding oil reached as far as the pavement adjoining the scene of the wreck where 300 yards of track were torn up. No one was hurt.

Two of the cars exploded and the oil from them burned, catching the others. A switch engine from San Angelo backed up to the caboose and hauled it and one tank car which remained on the track to safety.

The wet pavement was soon dred and today was chipping off as it cooled. Flames shot 75 feet into the air at times, but the glare was dimmed by a heavy fog.

While the heat and fear of further explosions kept spectators back from the flames, a large number of persons watched the work of putting the flames out.

IS CHARM such a simple thing as that?

THINK of the women you consider unusually attractive and you will think of women who have freshness and animation. Invariably, brilliant smiles go with a charming personality.

Certainly then, attractive teeth are very important. And their proper care is not only an aid to all-round health, but one of the most effective aids to beauty.

You will find that Squibb Dental Cream takes wonderful, gentle care of teeth and gums. It cleans beautifully because it is an antacid dentifrice. Before you finish the first tube, your teeth become lustrous and your mouth begins to keep that healthy, fresh feeling.

And Squibb's is especially effective, in protecting The Danger Line, where gums meet teeth. For Squibb's contains more than 50% Squibb Milk of Magnesia, a soothing antacid dentists have used for years.

Squibb's is safe in every respect—it contains no grit, no astringents, nothing which might injure enamel or delicate tissues.

HERE'S WHAT DENTISTS SAY:

E. R. Squibb & Sons asked a prominent research institution to conduct an investigation among 50,000 American dentists as to proper care of teeth. Here is the summary of the replies received:

95% of the answers stated that germ acids most frequently cause tooth decay and gum irritation;

95% of the answers agreed that the most serious trouble occurs at the place where teeth and gums meet;

85% stated that the best product to prevent these acids from causing decay and irritating the gums is Milk of Magnesia.

Squibb Dental Cream is made with more than 50% Squibb Milk of Magnesia. What stronger assurance could there be that its formula is correct and that it will protect your teeth and gums?

Tech's Governing Board

RE-ELECTION of Clifford B. Jones, of Spur, as president of the Board of Regents of Texas Technological college, and the very evident spirit of co-operation and accord marking the recent meeting of the directorate, promise well for the great state college located here. The quotation, "Behold, how good and beautiful it is for brethren to dwell together in unity" was never more applicable or welcome.

Administering to the wants and needs of any great state institution is, under normal conditions, an exacting job. Add to normal conditions the abnormal ones under which the new college has been operating and you find all the more importance to the work to be done.

Tech has been fortunate through the brief years of its existence in the fine groups of citizens who have served as regents and have made the problems of the college their own problems. Supporters and patrons may rest assured that as long as present conditions hold the institution will continue to go speedily along the highway of progress and advancement.

The spirit of generosity and service which has prompted one of West Texas' busiest, brainiest men to again accept the charge as president, is to be lauded. In many respects Clifford Jones is the foremost private business figure in this area and his agreement to continue at the helm of the directorate should be, and assuredly is, greeted with thanksgiving on every hand. Residing close to the portals of the college, wrapped up in the problems which confront the section in which the college is located, Mr. Jones not only presents the most logical choice but likewise the happiest one.

The Morning Avalanche is likewise pleased with the election of Mrs. Florence Drane, of Corsicana, as vice-president of the board—the only woman in the history of the state to occupy such a post. Like Mr. Jones, she has been on the Tech board since its permanent formation and has been one of the most diligent workers for the advancement of the school. Lubbock's own Roscoe Wilson, on the ground all the time, is a happy selection as secretary-treasurer and needs no commendatory introduction before the people of his home city and section.

The rapidly expanding state college, capably administered to by President P. W. Horn and Business Manager W. T. Gaston, has in the personnel of its governing board as fine an insurance policy as it should secure. Tech may greet the future with confidence, come what may.

A big banquet was held in New York by executives of companies involved in a recent merger, and we are pretty anxious to know if succotash was a side-dish.

"You say this was made in 1500 B. C.," remarked the suspicious visitor to the museum guide. "Why didn't they put 1500 B. C. on it?"

Practical Health Problems

WATER IS THE BEST OF DRINKS, PROVIDING IT'S BEEN PURIFIED

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

The old poem which began, "Pure water is the best of drinks," puts into rhyme one of the truest statements known to expert physiologists and hygienists.

Today this fundamental field of sanitation is so definitely recognized that every community does everything possible to secure a supply of pure water and to keep it pure. In order to have the water hygienically safe, clear, tasteless, odorless, and without a sufficient amount of dissolved salts to corrode pipes through which it passes, it is necessary to study carefully all of the sources of water supply.

Unfortunately, not every community can be near enough to a perfect source of water supply to be sure that it will have one. Under the circumstances it is necessary to do the best that can be done with the supply that is available.

From the hygienic standpoint, freedom from germs and poisonous materials is of the utmost importance. This is accomplished by avoiding contamination of the water supply from human sewage, and by making sure that the tanks and pipes through which the water passes are not possible sources of lead contamination.

In order to keep water clear, it sometimes has to be filtered because visible dirt is unappetizing and even dangerous, since it will cover signs of bacterial growth. Because of the fact that most of the water used in the middle west is derived from surface water, it is likely to be turbid and dirty and therefore require some filtration.

Good clear water has neither taste nor odor, whereas turbid and cloudy water is likely to have both taste and odor because of the substances that contaminate it.

In a review of the subject recently made by Dr. John F. Morton in Hygeia, he points out that private wells need protection against pollution, whereas driven wells in sandy soils are almost invariably safe. However, the surest and best method of safeguarding the quality of a public water supply is by artificial purification.

The storage of the water in the reservoir or basin aids purification by permitting settling of the water and the use of the material from the surface. In addition, it is possible to have filtration for the removal of contamination of various types.

Finally, chlorination can be used in order to kill all harmful bacteria. The amount of the chemical used has been shown to be harmless to human health, and if properly used on a water supply should not contribute to it either a definite taste or odor.

Hoover On Dry Side

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—There may be two opinions concerning the meaning of the Wickersham commission's prohibition report. Wets interpret it their way and drys interpret it theirs.

But there appears to be no doubt about the position President Hoover committed himself to in his message transmitting the report to congress.

What he favors is prohibition as is.

It was a declaration which settled the political situation in certain of its aspects as a pinch of salt precipitates sediment in a glassful of oily water.

Mr. Hoover generally has been classified as a dry, to be sure.

Still, even though the drys claimed him, G. O. P. wets always have reminded them that he never had said anything irrevocably aligning himself among the Eighteenth amendment's bitter enders. Indeed, the wets inclined to emphasize his reference to the noble experiment in that his recognition of it as an experiment left the opportunity open to him, so they argued, to say any time that it had had a fair trial and was a failure.

LESS THAN 24 hours in advance of the Wickersham report's delivery from the White House to the lawmakers on Capitol Hill a Republican politician whose hunches have the trick of verifying themselves with remarkable frequency forecast to me that it would prove to be just predominantly wet enough to enable the president to give it his indorsement without any overly violent modification of his earlier utterances and then to get gradually if not ostentatiously upon the wet side of the line. At least, to get away from the definitely dry stand heretofore attributed to him. I believe my informant really had seen the report. His prophesy relative to it was circumstantially too acurate to have been mere surmise. He certainly erred as to Mr. Hoover, however. Maybe it was a 100 per cent mistake on his part. Or maybe the president did not make up his mind until the last minute, and then made it up differently from the way my acquaintance thought he would. I don't know yet.

AT ANY RATE, the verdict among Washington prognosticators now is that the presidential message—definitely means Mr. Hoover's renomination in 1932 as a dry and with prohibition as the supreme issue. This, of course, assumes that the Democrats take the other side of it, which this latest development virtually will force them to do.

IT WAS BEGINNING to look as if power might overshadow all else, but that was before prohibition became so clean cut as Mr. Hoover in a few words suddenly has made it. In fact, public men opposed to the so-called power trust insist that the move is a deliberate one to smother the economic question. Be that as it may it is widely agreed that anything else will have hard work to compete with prohibition if the latter is stressed instead of being pooh-poohed, as many politicians have tried to do hitherto, only religion being mentioned as having greater possibilities of popular appeal.

By virtue of his declaration for unqualified repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, Newton D. Baker's Democratic presidential chances are spoken of as having received a distinct fillip. His home state of Ohio voted both wetly and Democratically in the last election.

While naturally it is too soon for a considered estimate, the gossip is interesting as the first reaction from the long-awaited report of the crime commission.

GOOD SCOUTS

Plodding along through the year, the Boy Scouts do not get much attention. They have their meetings, do their good deeds, hike through the country for wood lore and incidentally health, get more out of their summer camps than mere fun, and by their quiet pursuit of Scout ideals keep out of sight of the public. Once in a while a lad performs a deed more spectacular than usual, and it is often noted that he is a Boy Scout. The organization does not foster the desire for the limelight, but when its members act bravely and nobly it recognizes their heroism.

Every year members of the Boy Scouts of America are cited for heroic action. Some even give their lives for others. And most of these young heroes are boys in their early 'teens, an age when boys are bound to get together for some kind of activity. Their bubbling energy is sure to find some outlet, and, undirected, it is too often in the direction of mischief.

Under the supervision of competent and sympathetic leaders, the boys who might be leading "gangs" into trouble for themselves and their parents are unconsciously setting good examples to their fellows. One great virtue of the Scout movement is its insistence on independent thought and judgment among the boys. By getting at the natural leaders, the men at the head influence the whole group through an unnoticed method of imitation. Practical training in swimming and life-saving is supplemented by a constant standard of courage and initiative.

THE GASOLINE TAX

A newspaper writer recently pointed out that the average American motorist pays no less than $18 a year in gasoline taxes. If this sum were collected in a lump, the motorist would kick like a steer; but it is taken from him painlessly, and he hardly so much as notices it.

The average tax is four cents a gallon—a sales tax, in effect, or about 25 per cent. If any other commodity in daily use were taxed at that rate the country would become angrily vocal in protest. But the gasoline tax is paid without a whimper.

Perhaps this is chiefly because the money is used to build roads. Every motorist wants good roads, and the justice of making automobile owners pay for the pavements on which they ride is obvious. But some states have shown a tendency, in recent years, to transfer some of the gasoline tax revenues to other parts of the state budget; and if that tendency continues, complaints against the tax can be expected to grow mightily in volume. It is right that the motorist help build new roads. It is not right that he pay more than his share of the cost of maintenance of other state activities.

Something none of the standard books on etiquet gives you is directions for a graceful bow to the inevitable.

No man ever finds time hanging heavy on his hands when he's got a note due at the bank.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE FIRST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER CARTOON.—Benjamin Franklin designed and published the first American newspaper cartoon. "Join or Die" was printed in Franklin's paper, The Pennsylvania Gazette, May 9, 1754, to drive home his words appealing for "our common defense and security" in the face of war with France. Practically all the Colonial newspapers reproduced this cartoon in one form or another, and it was reprinted periodically for twenty years, whenever necessity arose to spur the people to consolidation.

THE HOUR HAND MOVES FORWARD AN ANGLE OF 30 SECONDS EACH SECOND.—The circumference of a dial contains 1,296,000 seconds of circular measure. At the same time, it can be divided into 43,200 time seconds. As a result the hour hand, in moving one time second covers 30 seconds of circular measure. Circumference equals 360 degrees of 60 minutes, each minute divisible into 60 seconds.

Murder At Bridge

by ANNE AUSTIN author of "THE BLACK PIGEON," "THE AVENGING PARROT" and "MURDER BACKSTAIRS"

©1930 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JUANITA SELIM is murdered at bridge; four days later DEXTER SPRAGUE is also murdered when he disappears mysteriously from a bridge party at TRACEY MILES' home. Police think that Nita and Sprague were partners in some racket in New York, and Sprague followed Nita to Hamilton, bringing down their pay, accounting for the $10,000 Nita banked, which she explained as "back alimony." Sprague, they theorize, fearing he is followed, tries to escape from the Miles' house through the trophy room window but is shot.

A telegram from New York saying that "SWALLOWTAIL SAMMY" SAVELLI, who had been seen often with Nita, was "taken for a ride" soon after Nita's departure, seems to confirm this. DUNDEE thinks Nita and Sprague were blackmailing someone, who he thinks may be FLORA MILES. His theory is that Flora sees a note to Nita, written on her husband's stationery, and fears Nita has already told him. She shoots her with a gun and silencer she has stolen from JUDGE MARSHALL, another possible suspect and hides the gun on a secret shelf in the guests' closet. Returning to destroy the note, she finds it is from Sprague, and faints with horror at her unnecessary crime.

CLIVE HAMMOND and POLLY BEALE, who married suddenly after Sprague's death; JOHN DRAKE and JANET RAYMOND, who, in love with Sprague, tried to commit suicide after his death, are also possible suspects. Dundee asks PENNY CRAIN, the district attorney's secretary, if Miles loves Flora enough to kill for her, and she laughs heartily.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XL

"What are you laughing at?" Dundee demanded indignantly, but the sustained ringing of the telephone bell checked Penny Crain's mirthful laughter. "My Chicago call! Hello! Yes, this is Dundee. All right, but make it snappy, won't you? Hello, Mr. Sanderson! How is your mother? That's fine! I certainly hope— Yes, the inquest is slated for tomorrow morning, but there's no use your leaving your mother to come back for it. Yes, sir, one important new development. Can you hear me plainly? Then hold the line a moment, please!"

With the receiver still at his ear, Dundee fumbled in his pocket for a folded sheet of paper. "No, operator! We're not through! Please keep off the line. Listen chief!" he addressed the district attorney at the other end of the long distance wire. "This is a telegram Captain Strawn received this afternoon from the city editor of The New York Evening Press . . . Can you hear me? All right!" and he read slowly, repeating when necessary.

When he had finished reading the telegram, he listened for a long minute, but not with so much concentration that he could not grin at Penny's wide-eyed amazement and joy. "That's what I think, sir!" he cried jubilantly. "I'd like to take the 5 o'clock train for New York and work on the case from that end till we actually get our teeth into something. Thanks a lot, and my best wishes for your mother!"

"Why didn't you tell me about this 'Swallow-tail Sammy'?" Penny demanded indignantly. "Tormenting me with your silly theory about poor Flora and Tracey, when all the time you knew the case was practically solved—"

"I'm afraid I gave the district attorney a slightly false impression," Dundee interrupted, but there was no remorse in his shining blue eyes. "But just so I get to New York—By the way, young woman, what were you laughing at so heartily? I didn't know I had made an amusing remark when I asked you if you thought Tracey Miles loved his wife well enough to commit murder for her."

Penny laughed again, white teeth and brown eyes gleaming. "I was laughing at something else. It suddenly occurred to me, while you were spinning your foolish theory, how flattered Tracey would have been if Flora had confessed to him Saturday night that she had killed Nita because she was jealous!"

"Which was not my theory, if you remember!" Dundee retorted. "But why is the idea so amusing? Deep in his heart, I suppose any man would really be a bit flattered if his wife loved him enough to be that jealous."

"You don't know Tracey Miles as well as I do," Penny assured him, her eyes still mirthful. "He's really a dear, in spit of being a dreadful bore most of the time, but the truth is, Tracey hasn't an atom of sex appeal, and he must realize it. Of course we girls have all pampered his poor little ego by pretending to be crazy about him and terribly envious that it was Flora who got him—"

"But Flora Hackett didn't marry him," Dundee interrupted. "She must have been a beautiful girl, and she was certainly rich enough to get any man she wanted—"

"You would think so, wouldn't you?" Penny agreed, her tongue loosened by relief. "I was only 12 years old when Flora Hackett made her debut, but a 12-year-old has big ears and keen eyes. It is true that Flora was beautiful and rich, but — well, there was something queer about her. She was simply crazy to get married, and if a man

McKee Hearing Is Scheduled

Criminal Court Of Appeals To Review Case Of Man Found Guilty Of Billingsley Murder, Sentenced To Die

The case of Ira McKee, sentenced to death in 106th district court for the murder of W. R. Billingsley, is scheduled for review before the criminal court of appeals at Austin, February 11, according to T. L. Price, district attorney.

McKee was convicted in June, 1930, in district court at Lamesa of the murder of Billingsley, who was a Sparenberg merchant. McKee was arrested on a Henderson county farm following the killing.

"I am confident that the higher court will affirm the sentence," Mr. Price said. "I know of no errors in the records upon which a reversal might be obtained."

Slain In Holdup

Billingsley was killed at Sparenburg on May 1, 1930 when he attempted to prevent the holdup of a filling station near his store. McKee was arrested about a month later after officers all over the state had conducted a search for him. He was first lodged in the Lubbock county jail but later moved to Lamesa where a speedy trial was given.

Mr. Price sad that from 30 to 60 days would probably be required by the higher court to reach a decision.

Tech Cagers Meet A.C.C. In First Of Series Tonight

'Bugs' Morris And Fast Team Here For Pair

Game Starts At 8 On Tech Gym Floor; Reduced Rates Made Yesterday In Effect Today For A.C.C. Games

"Bugs" Morris and his Abilene Christian College Wildcats, hungry for victory after former humiliations, are in Lubbock to do battle with the Texas Tech Matadors tonight and tomorrow night. It has been a long time since the Abilene outfit tasted of a good victory at the expense of a Tech team. A year ago last fall the Cats defeated the Matadors on the gridiron; but last season the Matadors ran up their largest score of the year when they trounced Morris' outfit, 53 to 7.

Less than two weeks ago the Golightly men were in Abilene, going the rounds of the three colleges there. One of the teams to fall before them was the Abilene Christians. It was a hard-fought battle, the Matadors losing a good lead late in the game and finishing just a nose or two ahead at the close. The Christian team is said to be one of the fastest breaking teams operating in West Texas.

Last winter the Matadors and Wildcats played three games. The first pair went to the Matadors, 40 to 21 and 35 to 25. In the third the Wildcats fought like demons to stand off a hard Tech attack and won the game, 26 to 25.

Coach Morris brings a veteran team to Lubbock. Most of the members played against Tech last year. Pippen and Lawrence, starting forwards, were here last year. They are rating players in the T. I. A. A., Lawrence being one of the leading scorers of the conference. Watkins, starting center for Abilene, has never played against Tech, nor has Reese, a starting guard this year. Powell, the other guard, Hill and Wortham, reserve guards this year, were used against Tech in the three games last year.

The announcement by the Tech Athletic council yesterday of another reduction in prices for admission is expected to bring out a large attendance to the games this week. General admission is 50 cents, and entitles the ticket holder to a reserved chair without extra cost.

Coach Crip Golightly announced that he probably would start his usual lineup, though there was some doubt of who would get the first call at one of the forward berths. Captain Hodges is certain to start at one forward. Fisher more than likely will play at center with Tadlock and Dunn at guards. Moody, Crews or Baker will start at the other forward.

Both games start promptly at 8 o'clock tonight and tomorrow night.

Speer Leads Amateurs In Texas Qualifying Round; Rain Holds Pros Inside

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 28. —More than a hundred of the country's leading professional golfers, here for the tenth renewal of the $6,500 Texas open tournament starting Friday, were forced to remain idle today while a slow drizzling rain soaked the fairways and greens of Brackenridge park municipal course.

Jack Speer of San Antonio, former Texas amateur champion, shot a 73, two strokes over par, to lead a field of almost 200 amateurs in a qualifying round.

John Dawson, Chicago star, placed second with a 74. Considering that the round was played in a drizzling rain that had soaked the course, the scores of the two were considered exceptional. Speer had a 39-34; Dawson 38-36.

Other low scores were Bill Humes, Del Rio, 76; Lee Davis, Fort Worth, 76; Gus Moreland, Dallas, 78; Bud McKinney, Del Rio, 79. A vast majority of the scores ran over 90, and many passed 100.

The best 110 in todays qualifying round will be eligible to compete in the 18-hole pro-amateur event tomorrow at Brackenridge park.

Pro-Amateurs Play Today

A partial lapse in the downpour and clearing skies late today lent promise of fair golfing weather for the pro-amateur event tomorrow, preliminary to the tournament proper, but was slight consolation for the money shooters who had hoped to polish up their game today.

Most of the entrants had arrived last night and today from California and had not had an opportunity to regain their sea legs.

Dollars Vs. Medals

Members of the amateur legion hopeful of drawing partners for tomorrow's event, braved the moisture to slush through an 18 hole qualifying round over the Willow Spring course. There were almost 200 of them. First prize for the winning professional in the pro-amateur event was $100; a medal for the winning amateur.

A majority of the big shots who competed on the west coast have entered the local event, grandaddy of the money tournaments. Among them were John Golden, winner of the Agua Caliente open, and Ralph Guldahl, youthful Texas professional, who popped into the public print with a victory in the movie industries match play meet last week at Los Angeles.

Cooper, Smith, Et Al

Other well known threats included Harry Cooper, Wiffy Cox, Al and Abe Espinosa, Charles Guest, Willard Hutchinson, Tony Manero, John Rogers, Horton Smith, Denny Shute, Joe and Mike Turnesa, Frank Walsh and Craig Wood.

Shute, winner of last year's Texas open, dropped in unexpectedly yesterday after laying out the event in California and Mexico. The slim young star shot four rounds of subpar golf to win the $1,500 first prize a year ago.

Awaits Operation

At Hot Springs, Ark., physicians are preparing Ban B. Johnson, above former American League president for an operation which is expected to bring him back to good health. A fractured toe sustained years ago and which went unnoticed until an infection spread through his entire system put Johnson in a St. Louis hospital several months ago. After a period of convalescence there, he went to Hot Springs to build up strength to withstand amputation of his toe and part of the flesh and bone surrounding it.

Attempt To Land Gridder At West Point Is Stormed

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—When he first initiated efforts to obtain an appointment for Kenneth Goff, Rhode Island state backfield star, to West Point, W. T. Wrightson, New York business man and member of the Army Athletic association, did not know the boy was a football player, nor was he interested in "recruiting," gridiron talent for the Army force.

This statement by Wrightson, whose name has figured conspicuously in the Providence Bulletin's disclosures of alleged recruiting on behalf of the military academy, followed the publication of several additional statements and letters today, all revolving around the case of the Brockton (Mass.) boy who as late as yesterday wrote his friend, Cadet Paul Carroll, that "I do hope to get the chance to enter West Point."

Goff will not enter West Point, but the unofficial attempt to obtain an appointment for him, through Congressman Stobbs, of Worcester, Mass., has developed something of a teapot tempest.

The Providence Bulletin today published another letter from Cadet Carroll to his ex-classmate at Rhode Island. Carroll indicating Major Ralph Sasse, West Point's football coach, had taken an interest in the case to the extent of suggesting what Goff could do to further his chances of appointment.

MacDonald Is Again Upheld

Labor Government Wins Division Of House Of Commons By Majority Of 27 Votes On Trades Dispute Bill

LONDON, Jan. 28. (AP)—The MacDonald labor government won a division in the house of commons late tonight by a majority of 27 votes.

The division was taken on a motion by Stanley Baldwin, the conservative leader, to reject the controversal trades dispute bill on second reading. This was defeated by 277 against 250 votes.

Excitement Reigns

Scenes of great excitement accompanied the taking of the vote and the announcement of the result, as it had been generally understood if the government were defeat it would resign immediately.

The government was saved by the action of a majority of the liberal party, who abstained from voting by direction of David Lloyd George, the leader.

A certain number of liberals, however, headed by Sir John Simon, voted for the motion, as they have been extremely critical of the trades disputes bill.

This, in effect, is a measure designed to repeal the trades disputes act passed by the conservative part in 1927 as a sequel to the general strike of the previous year.

BUILDS APARTMENTS

LOVINGTON, N. M., Jan. 28. (Special)—H. Taylor Monteith has begun construction of a two-story four apartment building in the western part of town. The building will cost in excess of $10,000 and is to be completed by March 1. Each apartment will have four rooms and will be modern. The structure is of frame and stucco.

National Guard Cagers Defeat Ropes, 58 to 46

The Lubbock National Guard's basketball team won another victory Tuesday night when they measured a fast Ropes team, 58 to 46. It was a hard battle throughout and at the end of the regular period the score was tied, 44-all. An extra three minutes gave the army boys a chance to do some fancy scoring.

Bryant led the scoring with 25 points, Captain Dean Roberson was next with 21 as the local guardsmen hit a scoring stride that landed them at the top. For Ropes, Swafford led with 12 points. Heanstream was next with 11. The score at the half was 35 to 33 in favor of Ropes.

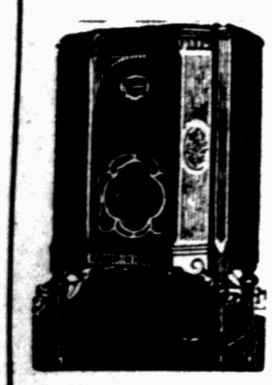

Tarleton Cowboys Lose Star Cager's Services

STEPHENVILLE, Jan. 28. (AP)—Lem Weaver of Jonesboro, first-string forward on the John Tarleton basketball team, which has won six games out of seven this season, today underwent an operation for acute appendicitis. Weaver's absence from the Plowboy quintet was expected to lessen his team's chances to retain its junior college championship.

Electrical current is being used in so many ways today that if for any reason the current is not on every minute, it becomes uncomfortable for someone. Shutting off the current one minute would make the light corners dark, stop motors and machinery, toast would be half done, coffee would cease perking, in fact, it would be uncomfortable. Murder At Bridge anced with her as many as three imes in an evening she literally eized upon him and tried to drag im to the altar. Her eagerness and er intensity repelled every man who as in the least attracted to her, nd I think she was beginning to be rightened to death that she would ot get married at all, when Tracey ame to Hamilton to work in her ather's business.

"She began to rush him—there's o other word for it—and none of he other girls minded a bit, because, without Flora, Tracey would ave been the perfect male wallower. They became engaged almost right away, but didn't get arried for six months—I suppose Mr. Hackett made Flora wait. the girls were freely prophesyhat even Tracey, flattered by passion for him, as he so evitly was, would get tired of it, s he didn't, and there were three arriages that June."

"Three?" Dundee repeated, rathabsently, for his interest was ndering.

Yes. Lois Morrow and Peter unlap, Johnny Drake and Carolyn wann and Tracey and Flora." enny answered. "Although I was by then and really too old for he role, I had the fun of being lower girl for Lois and Flora both."

"Do you think Flora was really in ve with Tracey?" Dundee asked riously.

"Oh, yes! But she'd have been in ve with anyone who wanted to arry her, and the funny thing is at, with the exception of Peter nd Lois, they are the happiest arried couple I have ever known. . . You see, Tracey has never got er being flattered that so pretty nd passionate a girl as Flora anted him. . . . And that's why I aughed!

"Tracey, with that deep-rooted nferiority complex of his, would ave been so flattered if Flora had old him she killed Nita out of ealousy that he would have forgiven her on the spot. On the other and," she went on, "if Flora had old him that Nita had documentary proofs of some frightful scandal against her, can't you see how iolently Tracey would have reacted gainst her? . . . . Oh, no! Tracey ould not have taken the trouble o murder Sprague, when Sprague opped up for more black-mail!"

"Perhaps he might have, if the andal dated back before the marriage," Dundee argued. "Let's suppose Sprague did pop up, and Flora urned him over to Tracey. When Sprague appeared apparently unintited last night, Flora must have en on pins and needles, trying to ke Tracey treat him decently d hoping against hope that acey would simply pay the scoundrel—"

"Which is exactly what Tracey ould have done instead of takthe awful risk of murdering in his own home," Penny cut in ntedly. "Besides, Tracey wasn't from the porch long enough to outside, signal to Sprague in tropical room, shoot him when prague raised the screen, and then the gun. I told you Tracey was only about a minute when he nt to see if Sprague's hat and ick were gone from the closet."

"Did Tracey and Flora both step utside to see their guests into their ars?" Dundee asked suddenly.

"Tracey did," Penny answered. Flora told us all good night in the ving room, then ran upstairs to see if Betty was still asleep. . . . ut remember we didn't leave until midnight, and Dr. Price says Sprague was killed between nine and 11 last night."

"Dr Price would be the first to grant a leeway of an hour, one way or another." Dundee told her. "Of course, if Tracey did kill him, he let Flora believe that he had given Sprague the blackmail money he was demanding. For it is inconceivable that a woman of Flora Miles' hysterical temperament could have slept—even with two sleeping tablets—knowing that a corpse was in the house."

"Oh, I'm sick of your silly theorizing!" Penny told him with vehement scorn. "Listen here, Bonnie Dundee! You probably laugh at 'woman's intuition,' but take it from me—you're on the wrong track!"

"Oh, I'm not so wedded to that particular theory!" Dundee laughed. "I can spin you exactly six more ories as convincing—"

"And I shan't listen! You'd better dash home and pack your bag if you want to catch the five o'clock train for New York."

"It's already packed and in my office," Dundee assured her lazily. "Got lots of time. . . . Hullo! Here's the home edition of The Evening Sun," he interrupted himself as a small boy, making his way into the office. He reached out, and read the streamer headline aloud: "ITALIAN GANGSTER SLAIN IN BRIDGE MUREDR." "I wager a good many heads will rest easier on their pillows tonight. . . . Let me see!" Penny commanded, and snatched the paper unceremoniously. "Oh! Did you see this?" and she pointed to a boxed story in the middle of the front page. " 'Bridge Parties Canceled,' " she read aloud. " 'The society editor of The Evening Sun was kept busy at her telephone today, receiving notices of cancellations of bridge parties scheduled for the remainder of the week. Eight frantic hostesses, terrified by Hamilton's second murder at bridge'—oh! that's simply a crime!"

"I'd rather not play bridge for awhile myself!" Dundee laughed, as he rose and started for his own office. "And don't you dare leave the room when you become dummy if you have the nerve to play again! Remember, that gun and silencer are still missing!"

"What do you mean? . . . . You don't think there'll be more—?"

Dundee became instantly contrite before her terror. "I didn't mean it, honey," he said gently. "I think it is more than likely that the gun is at the bottom of Mirror Lake. But do take care of yourself, and by that I mean don't work yourself to death. . . Any messages for him to come home."

Penny's pale face quivered. "If you—happen to run across my father, which of course you won't, tell him that—mother would like for him to cofe home."

At intervals during the 16-hour run to New York, Penny's faltering words returned to haunt the district attorney's special investigator, although he would have preferred to devote his entire atention to mapping out the program he intended to follow when he reached the city which, he fully believed, had been the scene of the first art of the tragic drama he was bent upon bringing to an equally tragic conclusion.

As soon as he had registered at a hotel near the Pennsylavania station, and had shaved and breakfasted, he took from his bag a large envelope containing the photographs Carraway had made of Penny alive and of Nita dead, both clad in the royal blue velvet dress. In the envelope also was the white satin, gold-lettered label which the dress had so proudly borne: "Pierre Model. Copied by Simmon's, New York City."

Half an hour later he was showing the photographs and the label to a woman buyer in the French salon of Simmon's, one of New York's most "exclusive" department stores.

"Can you tell me when the original Pierre model was brought, and when this copy was made and sold?" he asked.

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 477

An ordinance licensing and regulating the sale at public auction of jewelry, diamonds and other precious or semi-precious stones, watches, clocks, pictures, paintings, bric-a-brac or such like articles and prescribing a penalty and providing for an emergency.

Whereas, on account of the general complaints which have grown out of the practices of unregulated auctions and auctioneers of the hereinafter described kind and character of goods and the great amount of imposition made upon the public by misrepresentation and practices of deceit and fraud growing out of unregulated and irresponsible auctioneers and auctions it is deemed advisable by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas, to pass suitable regulations governing the same so as to secure honesty and fair dealing and avoid such evil practices that have grown up on account of the want of proper regulations, now, therefore:

Be it ordained by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas:

Section 1. That it shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, dispose of or offer for sale in the City of Lubbock, at a public auction, or cause or permit to be sold, disposed of or offered for sale at a public auction within the City of Lubbock, jewelry, diamonds or other precious or semi-precious stone, watches, clocks, platinum, gold or silverware or plated ware, stationery, glassware, porcelain, bric-a-brac or such like articles, whether the same shall be the property of the person or persons selling or offering for sale or whether the sale of the same shall be by and through agents or employees or others, without first complying with the provisions of this ordinance, and obtaining a license from the Assessor and Collector of Taxes of the City of Lubbock, and making an application therefor as herein provided, provided, however, that this section shall not apply to judicial sales made by executors or administrators, nor to sales made by or in behalf of licensed pawnbrokers of unredeemed pledges, which are made in the manner provided by law.

Section 2. That any person desiring to hold an auction sale for the sale of the goods hereinabove described shall make written application to the Assessor and Collector of Taxes of the City of Lubbock, as herein provided, for thirty days before the auction sale begins, and shall state in the said application the period of days any such person desires to hold the said auction sale, and the Assessor and Collector of Taxes shall issue to any such person a license upon complying with the terms of this ordinance for the period of time so designated, provided, that no license shall be issued for a longer period than thirty days.

Section 3. Said application for a license shall be in writing and sworn to, stating the name of the applicant, his residence, the street and number of the proposed place of sale, the length of time for which the license is desired, and if the applicant has been previously engaged in a like or similar business, to designate the places where the sale was conducted and shall furnish the Assessor and Collector of Taxes with such further evidence as shall be necessary and reasonable to establish the truth of the statements made in said application and the right of the applicant to a license.

Section 4. Said application for a license shall have attached to it a sworn inventory of such stock or merchandise setting out the quality, quantity, kind or grade of each item and invoice cost thereof. To such inventory there shall be attached an affidavit that such inventory is in all respects true and correct. In the case of an individual, such affidavit shall be made by him as such; in case of a firm it shall be made by one of the partners; and in case of a corporation, it shall be made by the president, general manager, secretary or treasurer. Such inventory and affidavit when so made shall be kept on file in the office of the Assessor and Collector of Taxes as a part of the public records pertaining to the sale. No merchandise shall be sold at such auction sale except that referred to and included in the inventory made part of the application. That whenever any extension of the license so granted hereunder is granted to any person holding an auction, an application shall be made therefor as provided herein, which shall be granted by the Assessor and Collector of Taxes, provided that should it appear to the said Assessor and Collector of Taxes, from the application so made, that new or additional articles, commonly known as "fill ins," are added to the list of articles made by any such person, then it shall be the duty of the said person to furnish an additional bond in the amount as herein described for the sale of the additional articles, or as is required for the sale of the original articles.

Section 5. That all persons desiring a license shall, upon complying with the application herein provided for, and before a license shall be issued to any such person shall tender a bond to the City of Lubbock duly executed by the said applicant, as principal, in the sum of One Thousand Dollars, which bond shall be made payable to the City of Lubbock, a/c Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, and when in compliance with the terms of this ordinance shall be approved by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas, and shall be conditioned that the said principal thereon shall pay all losses and damages which may lawfully be claimed against him on account of any material misrepresentations of fact and belief or any material suppression of facts concerning the merchandise to be auctioned at such sale, or which may grow out of a violation of any of the terms of this ordinance. Such bond shall be made amendable to any person who may sustain any loss or damage on account of any such misrepresentation and shall cover all auction sales of merchandise described in the inventory made and required to be filed with the Assessor and Collector of Taxes, and any such person sustaining any damage or loss may bring suit in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the same and the provisions of the said bond shall be construed liberally in favor of any such person on account of any loss or damage sustained by any such person either directly or indirectly. All remedies upon or under such bond shall be in addition to any cumulative of all other remedies the parties may have at law or in equity for recoupment of any such losses or damages. The bond shall be signed by a surety company doing business in the State of Texas. Cumulative recoveries may be had on said bond to the full amount thereof.

Section 6. That the Assessor and Collector of Taxes may inspect and investigate any part or all of such stock or merchandise coming within the purview of this ordinance before issuing the license in order to determine the truth of the statements made in the application and the inventory.

Section 7. That before any license shall be issued the applicant shall pay to the City of Lubbock a license fee in advance in the sum equal to $5.00 per day for each day during which the auction is entitled to be held according to the license.

Section 8. It shall be unlawful for any person acting as auctioneer to make any statements which are false in any particular, or which have a tendency to mislead any person present, or to make any misrepresentation whatsoever or at all as to the quality or quantity, character or present condition, or value, or former or general selling price of any new or second hand, or partly so, of any property offered for disposal by auction sale.

Section 9. That it shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale any article hereinbefore described as "fill in" unless in each and every advertisement of whatever kind with reference to said auction there be contained a clear and unequivocal statement of the fact that goods and merchandise herein described as "fill in" have been added to the "stock on hand."

Section 10. That it shall be unlawful for any person acting as auctioneer to sell or offer for sale any article hereinbefore described as "fill in" without first stating such fact in a clear and audible tone of voice to any and all persons present at said auction.

Section 11. (Definitions). That a sale, or offering for sale, to the highest bidder of any jewelry, diamonds, or other precious or semi-precious stones, stationery watches, clocks, platinum, gold or silverware or plated ware, glassware, porcelain, bric-a-bric, or such like articles, in any building, or in any of the streets or alleys, or in any other public place, where any and all persons who choose are permitted to attend and offer bids, shall be deemed to constitute a public auction within the meaning of this ordinance.

That by the words "stock on hand" as herein used is meant such jewelry, diamonds, or other precious or semi-precious stones, watches, clocks, platinum, gold or silverware or plated ware, glass ware, porcelain, stationery, bric-a-brac and such like articles purchased or otherwise acquired especially and purposely for sale at public auction; and by the term "fill in" is meant such other jewelry, diamonds, or other precious or semi-precious stones, watches, clocks, platinum, gold or silverware or plated ware, glass ware, porcelain, station, bric-a-brac and such like articles as may be added to the stock on hand as above defined and intended to be sold at public auction.

Section 12. It shall be unlawful for any person to act as by-bidder or what is commonly known as a "capper" or "booster" at any such auction or place where any such auction shall take place, or to offer or make any false bid or to offer any bid with intent to buy or pretend to buy any such article sold or offered for sale at any such auction.

Section 13. That the term "person" as used herein shall include and comprehend any person, firm or association of persons or any corporation, their agents, servants or employees.

Section 14. That any person, firm, association of persons, or any corporation, their agents, servants or employees violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction in the corporation court, be fined in any sum not exceeding Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars, and each and every day that a violation of this ordinance occurs shall be deemed a separate offense. That in addition to the penalty herein provided for any such person convicted in the corporation court, or upon appeal thereof, the judge of the said corporation court, or any judge upon appeal thereof, may revoke the license under which the said auction is being held and it shall thereafter be unlawful for any person whose license is revoked to hold any auction under the terms of this ordinance, provided, however, that any person whose license is revoked, may make application to the mayor and City Commission, and after a hearing upon such application for a re-issuance of any such license and may have a new license granted any such person upon the order of the mayor and City Commission to the Assessor and Collector of Taxes, provided, that any such person whose license is revoked shall comply with the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 15. That should any portion or part of this ordinance be held for any reason invalid or unenforceable, the same shall not be construed to affect any other valid portion hereof, but all valid portions shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 16. Whereas, on account of the promiscuous auction sales made by traveling auctioneers, as well as on account of the many acts of extortion and oppression, growing out of misrepresentations and deceits practiced on the public by unregulated auctioneers engaged in the sale of articles hereinabove described creates an urgency and an emergency in behalf of the preservation of the public peace, health and safety that requires this ordinance to become effective upon its passage and it is accordingly so ordained that this ordinance shall become effective immediately upon its passage as in the character in such cases is made and provided.

Passed, approved and adopted by a unanimous vote of the City Commission this the 11th day of December, 1930.

Passed and approved this the 18th day of December, 1930.

J. J. CLEMENTS, Mayor.

(ATTEST:)
W. H. RODGERS, City Secretary.

Cotton — Little Improvement In Trading Volume — Livestock — Hog Prices Drop To Lower Levels — Grain — Trade Is Fair On Fort Worth Mart

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28. (AP) — The volume of trading in the cotton market showed very little improvements here today. In the early trading prices improved owing to favorable cables and some trade buying but later prices eased off due to weakness in the stock market coupled with lack of sustained support, losing 14 to 17 points from the early highs and bringing the price level 6 to 8 points below the previous close.

Despite the decline there was very little selling pressure, there being little disposition to trade on either side of the account. The market developed a little more activity in the late trading but continued to ease off making new lows 10 to 20 points under the early highs but ending 2 to 3 points above the lowest on some short covering. The close was steady, the general market showing net losses for the day of 7 to 11 points.

Liverpool came in 1 to 2 penny points better than due and private cables stated the market felt foreign buying and there was short covering. Manchester reported there were fair cloth sales to the continent and Argentine but yarns were inactive. First trades here showed gains of 4 to 6 points and the market continued to improve in the early trading March selling up to 10.46, May to 10.70 and October to 11.19, up 5 to 9 points above the previous close.

the men fall, possibly indicating that a bullet had found its mark.

The escape occurred between 1 and 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. Means by which the men obtained a tool for cutting the cell bar had not been determined.

Haley had been identified as the man who last August held up and robbed the Branch Brothers filling station here.

Frost, whom officers said had served sentences in the state penitentiaries of Texas and Oklahoma, was being held on a charge of chicken theft and also was to face a grand jury. Both men are 24 years old.

Getaway of Haley and Frost marked the first escape of prisoners facing felony charges from the Lubbock county jail since Sheriff Wade Hardy entered office two years ago, Deputy Sheriff Earnest said. Approximately 1,750 prisoners have been kept in the county jail since that time, the deputy said.

Jury Completed In Emmett Thompson's Slaying Trial

VERNON, Jan. 28. (AP)—The last two jurors were selected tonight, completing a panel which beginning tomorrow will hear testimony in the trial of Emmett Thompson on murder charges in the slaying of Homer Crabtree, Gray county ranchman, Nov. 5, 1930.

Crabtree was found dead near Lefors, apparently having been beaten and kicked to death. Prints of boot heels were found on his face and head. Both Thompson and Crabtree were members of pioneer West Texas families.

John W. Brady Enters Into The Routine Of Prison Life

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 28. (AP) — A new prisoner, distinguished in his time, spent his first day in the Texas penitentiary today—a day exactly like hundreds of others had spent before him.

John W. Brady, serving three years for murder of Lehlia Highsmith, was a former appeals court judge and an entry yesterday. Today, he was a convict in a grayish, baggy suit—a series of digits in a prison's record—a bit unusual only because of the whiteness of his hair.

Butler Declines To Talk About Reported Address

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28. (AP) — Major General Smedley D. Butler declined tonight to discuss his address in Philadelphia January 12 in which he was reported to have criticized Premier Mussolini and which has resulted in a formal protest to the state department by the Italian embassy.

Asked whether he had been quoted correctly in his reference to the Italian premier, General Butler replied:

"I can not discuss that matter at this time."

Stock Market Bumps Down Heavily In Wednesday Session; No Support Given

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—The stock market lacked a cushion of supporting orders today and dumped down heavily.

Secretary Mellon's pronouncement on the state of government finances, the weakness in liberties and, treasuries which had been the bulwarks of the reviving bond list and the steel corporation's fourth quarter earnings statement found speculative sentiment in favor of a decline and shorts pressed their advantage. Net declines ranged from 1 to 8 points. Trading, however, remained light and sales approximated 1,600,000 shares. In accordance with its new policy, the exchange compiled the turnover to the nearest hundred thousand.

Strength of tobacco stocks was based on the extra dividend voted by both Liggett and Myers and American. A few other issues were affected by special situations, notably Abitibi power which is figuring in newsprint merger plans. A handful of rails did well for a time, but finally succumbed to the trend.

Midweek reports from the steel trade showed a smaller rate of increase, for estimated placed operations at 47 per cent of capacity, a gain of only one per cent. Automobile demand seems to be holding up, but orders for rails and structural steel are slow.

Mr. Mellon's warning as to the effect on the security markets and business recovery of a large government bond issue to provide for immediate cash payment of the adjustment compensation certificates was read attentively in Wall Street, where there were some expressions of concern over the declines in government securities.

that section of the county.

J. B. Shannon will headquarter at the county agent's office in the court house here and will handle applications for the rest of the county.

Sample blanks that farmers will be asked to fill out have been received by the county committee. Six blanks and two booklets are included in the literature. Blanks are: Form 1, purposes of the loan; 2, application to be filled out; 3, federal loan note; 4, crop mortgage; 5, voucher; 6, waiver of lien; 7, owner or mortgagee agreement; 8, rules and answers to questions.

Loans may be had on oats, corn, and cotton and for fertilizer for the planting of oats, corn and cotton; feed for work stock and fuel and oil for tractors.

A special grant of $15 is for a hot bed.

The following information was given by Mr. Shannon:

"Every applicant for federal loans, when he comes to make application, should have the following information with him:

"1. Accurate legal description of the land, the location and acreage.

"2. List of all debts and mortgages.

"3. An agreement of waiver of mortgages on growing crops with the land owner or with others holding mortgages against it.

"4. A list of the crops grown and acreages for the years 1929 and 1930.

To Charge Small Fee

"A uniform fee of 50 cents will be charged to all persons making application, to defray the cost of notarial work, stenographer hire and incidental expenses of that kind. There will be no filing fee for recording the mortgages and other papers. The government will take care of that."

Members of the county committee besides Mr. Maedgen include J. H. Edwards of Slaton, a business man and Earl Davis of near Lubbock, a farmer.

"Those eligible to receive aid are all persons that have no other way of procuring feed, seed and fuel and oil with which to make their 1931 crops," Mr. Shannon said in response to question as to what persons would be eligible for aid.

In connection with the receipt of the samples, D. F. Eaton, county agent, said that the government was urging all persons who receive aid to use the so-called 50-50 cotton and feed program and also the "best quality seed" possible.

It is expected that each applicant will plant 10 acres of certified cotton seed, according to Mr. Eaton. Breeders of certified cotton seed are coming to the South Plains themselves instead of selling through agents, so as to save the commission for the farmer.

"It will be possible to secure a bushel of certified cotton seed of any of the leading varieties for about $1.50 a bushel instead of the regular price of $2 a bushel," Mr. Eaton said. "The breeders are coming here themselves to handle the business. The plan is to have each man plant at least 10 acres of certified seed. That will give him a foundation for future seed cotton."

Convicted Torch Slayer May Not File For A New Trial

FORT WORTH, Jan. 28. (AP)—Herbert A. Stanley, 30, who was convicted of the "torch slaying of Roy Hawthorne, and given a 99-year penitentiary sentence, may accept his sentence without asking for a new trial. His expected motion for a new trial was not filed this afternoon.

Hugh D. "Hop Toe" Butler, 22, indicted as an accomplice in the slaying, pleaded guilty this morning and accepted a 99-year sentence. The jury meted out this sentence on recommendation of District Attorney Jesse E. Martin after Butler took the stand in the Stanley trial and turned state's evidence after he had been granted a full pardon by Governor Sterling for a slaying in Limestone county.

G. 148, the cutter which captured the rum boat, was intoxicated when he boarded his prize.

Of six other members of the rum-runner's crew taken before the board of inquiry to tell what they observed about Schmidt's sobriety, one said he saw the boatswain drink a bottle of ale and the others had no evidence to offer on the subject.

trolley and use it as a guide to the entrance. Burris said he did this himself and set off in the pitch darkness. Later he was overcome by gas and knew nothing more until after he was rescued.

The rescue workers were hampered by poisonous air and in calling for reinforcements the volunteers were warned they were risking their lives in going into the shaft.

The mine was badly damaged, which further blocked efforts of the workers.

This was the second major mine accident in Sullivan county in recent years. February 20, 1925, the city mine in Sullivan was wrecked by an explosion similar to today's blast, 51 miners were killed, only one man was brought out alive.

Soon after today's explosion became known crowds gathered at the mine mouth, including many women and children of the miners' families.

She told of the value of music and color admonishing her hearers to avoid becoming drab in their home, in personality and in their clothing. In this day of high tension and hurry and "high pressure" laughter is a good shock absorber, she pointed out, and "it will untie many of those nervous knots," she added.

In concluding her talk on the care of the skin and muscles, Miss Ura Hatcher, dermatologist, came to the stage to demonstrate massage, ways of eliminating wrinkles and giving proper exercises to the muscles.

Today's lecture will be concluded with a demonstration of exercises for reducing and for building the body to proper proportions.

"Since many school teachers have asked that we postpone the lectures until 3:30 in order that they may attend, the exercises will be given after this hour," Miss Earle explained Wednesday afternoon. Teachers who are interested may come for the latter part of the lecture.

Drouth "Savior" Encounters Mud

DALLAS, Jan. 28. (AP)—Although Will Rogers came to Texas to help drouth sufferers with money obtained from his public appearances, America's favorite jester has encountered nothing but rain and mud from the time he landed at San Antonio several days ago until the plane piloted by Captain Frank Hawks set him down here at Love field at 6:15 P. M. today. Darkness overtook them before they could land. Tonight he planned to speak in the municipal auditorium and supplement that with a radio talk over station WFAA.

Rogers left San Angelo early today, speaking during the morning at Abilene and in the afternoon at Breckenridge. Captain Hawks, who left him Sunday at Fort Worth to fly to New York for an engagement, returned today, landing at Dallas, then flying on to Breckenridge to pick up his passenger. The plane bogged in mud at the Breckenridge airport and they were delayed 55 minutes in taking off for Dallas.

would levy a tax on income from property owned and business transacted by out-of-state residents.

This was an addition to the group of bills which has been introduced to replace part of the present ad valoreem tax with other levies. Taxes on sulphur, intangible assets and chain stores already had been proposed.

Senator Woodul of Houston introduced a resolution calling for constitutional amendments to raise the governor's pay from $4,000 to $12,000 a year, to raise the attorney general's salary to $10,000 yearly and to increase the remuneration for other state offices. Another resolution would amend the constitution to create a supreme court of nine members instead of three. The supreme court and the governor's salary amendments have been defeated in previous elections.

Representative Farmer of Fort Worth, offered a resolution memorializing congress to authorize federal loans to states and municipalities for roads and other public improvements. The resolution would pledge Texas to take $500,000,000 of these loans in the next 10 years.

Representative Petsch of Fredericksburg said he would introduce his bill tomorrow, to make kidnaping a felony, punishable by 10 years in the penitentiary to death. Representative Johnson of Carrizo Springs had an anti-lobbying bill ready for introduction.

The prohibition resolution passed by the house was prepared by Representative Satterwhite, of Odessa. The vote was 98 to 30. The resolution admitted that the law was being flagrantly violated but added that the state had benefitted by prohibition and opposed modification or repeal.

SELECT CLASS SPEAKERS

Plans are going forward rapidly for the annual Tech engineering society banquet for February 26, and a committee composed of Cary Lodal, Gordon; J. P. Rhuman, Ballinger, and Carl McAdams, Gordonville, has been named to make further arrangements for the affair. Place of the banquet is to be decided at a meeting within the next few days.

At a recent meeting class speakers were selected with the exception of a senior who will be named at the next senior class meeting. Speakers selected follow: For the junior class, Willard Nott, Waco; for sophomore class, Carl McAdams, and for the freshmen class, Edgar Neal, Lubbock.

Edgar Shelton, Tech professor in the architecture department was named toastmaster. Winnifred Wardell is president of the society sponsoring the affair.

ATTEND AUCTION

Tommie Joe Harris, Bruce Parks and Percy Powers, Tech students and Prof. W. L. Stangel, head of the Tech department of animal husbandry and W. T. Gaston, business manager of Tech, attended a stock auction sale at Hereford yesterday.

The auction sale was the first of its kind for Texas in 1931.

FIND TOREADOR MISTAKES

Cecil Horne, Tech journalism professor, is offering a prize to the member of his class, "journalism—its principles, practice and problems," finding the most errors in today's edition of The Toreador, Tech weekly publication. A general study of college publications and their problems are being taken up in the class which is composed mostly of members of the Tech Toreador and the Tech annual staffs.

Proof reading will be taken up at today's meeting.

CALLS TENNIS MEETING

Discussion of a tournament for Tech to decide the Tech tennis championship will be the main topic of the meeting called for tonight by Raymond Pfluger, Eden, who is captain of the 1931 tennis squad. The gathering will be held in room 207 of the administration building at 6:45 today and Pfluger asks all students interested in tennis to be present.

Several students already have been working out for the squad but prospects are greatly handicapped by the lack of funds to provide adequate grounds. It is probable that some step will be taken soon to provide funds for more equipment.

CABINET WILL MEET

Meeting of the board of management of the Tech Y. M. C. A. will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Dean J. M. Gordon's office, it was announced yesterday.

The board is made up of several members of the Tech faculty, a few local business men and several students.

OFFICERS NAMED

Officers reelected for the freshmen cabinet of the Tech Y. M. C. A. follow: Charles O'Neall, president; A. J. Rushing, secretary, and Bill Lane, temporary treasurer. Officers were selected last fall and the ones recently named will serve the remainder of the year.

Two freshmen, Riley Millard and Vance Vannoy were named as additional members to the cabinet. The group meets once each week for discussions and occasionally a joint meeting of the regular cabinet and freshmen cabinet is held. All work is under the supervision of Jack E. Boyd, college secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

PROM DATE NAMED

Date for the annual Tech junior prom has been set for March 7, it was announced recently. Polls were closed late yesterday for voting for the junior queen who will be formally crowned at the affair. Although winner of the election will not be announced until the junior class meeting next Tuesday night, much excitement was evidenced during the election which was held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Groups gathered in the halls and rotundas discussing the campaign of their favorite candidates and coeds representing the different social organizations hailed every student passing, asking if he was a junior and telling him how to vote.

The junior prom is an annual frolic at which time seniors are honor guests. The affair will be formal as is the custom.

WILL SHOW PICTURE

"Okonite" is the title of the motion picture to be shown at a meeting of the Tech branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers tonight in the auditorium of the engineering building. The feature will be shown in three reels and Cary Lodal, Tech senior, will operate the machine.

The organization is composed of Tech engineering seniors and is affiliated with the American order. Walter Burns, Cameron, is president of the Tech branch.

ANOTHER ELECTION ON

One election at Texas Tech follows another!

Following the conclusion of the junior queen election yesterday men of the college will vote on "The man of the year." The election will be held today and tomorrow and ballot boxes will be placed in the east rotunda of the administration building and in the engineering building.

The election which is a new thing in Tech is sponsored by La Ventana, Tech annual, and officials hope to make the man-of-the-year selection an annual affair. No names will be on the ballot, but the voter will write the name of his candidate. The winner will begiven a full page in the 1931 La Ventana.

ARE WITHOUT OFFICERS

With the exception of Miss Temple Boone, the freshmen class at Tech is without officers. Three of the four officers named last fall failed to return to college for the winter term, and the class is to meet next Monday night for the naming of a president, vice-president and treasurer. Officers named last fall include, T. B. Odam, president; Sparton Duke, vice-president, and M. L. Seay, treasurer.

Under an amendment passed last year by the student body, the freshmen class is allowed four representatives on the student council after the fall term.

The representatives are to be selected from each school and will have no voting power until the spring term. Representatives from the four schools will be named at the meeting Monday night, it was announced yesterday.

"The Artistic Ability of Your Florist Has a Lot to do With the Success of Your Social Functions,"

Says Miss Earle.

"You should select a florist who has at least one person employed to oversee and attend to all design work and floral decorations. This one person should possess a natural ability to arrange flowers in an artistic manner.

"The person in charge of this work should devote their entire time to the study of flower arrangement. A JACK-AT-ALL-TRADES CAN NO MORE MAKE A SUCCESS OF FLORAL DESIGNING THAN IN ANY OTHER PROFESSION.

"I have seen many a hostess greatly humiliated just because the florist did not know his business and delivered flowers that were not at all suited for the occasion."

We are proud of the fact that we can offer you the kind of service that Miss Earle outlines above.

Mrs. Eubanks does nothing but attend to our design work. She has studied under some of the most expert designers. You are assured of proper appointments in floral designs when your order is placed with us.
