The new official Texas highway map is now being distributed. The 1971 issue of this popular publication of the Texas Highway Dept. features a coastal scene on its colorful cover, and of course has the year's timely information for travelers on the inside.

The new road map at this season of the year functions in much the same manner as a seed catalog. It provides ammunition for a lot of wishful thinking about seasons ahead. Of course, as the new map itself suggests, there really is no exclusive season for vacationing in Texas. The weather is right and there are appropriate facilities and activities available somewhere in the state on any given day of the year. Part of the map's title is "Land of Contrast."

Highway maps are considerably more sophisticated today than they were in the pre-World War II era. For one thing, there are a lot more roads listed, and those that are "on the map" are considerably better than their forerunners. But the maps of today probably have less magic to impart via day-dreaming than those of an earlier day.

The 1971 Texas Highway Dept. map shows three new lakes which have been added since the 1970 maps came out. One of these is Lake E. V. Spence, the Colorado River Municipal Water District's new reservoir at Robert Lee. The others are Lake Franklin County and Lake Weatherford. Over 1.2 million copies of the 1970 map were distributed, and the department expects distribution to reach 1.4 million this year.

We are advised that Israel now has over three million people, with over 2.5 million being Jews. Officially, it was on Jan. 11 that Natan Cherolinkov, a Russian Jew from Leningrad, entered and became the three-millionth inhabitant of that country. The Israelis say their birthrate was 24 per thousand last year, but that the birthrate of Arabs living in Israel was twice as high.

You think it has been getting dry around here? Then consider the plight of Hilo, Hawaii. It recorded a mere 153.98 inches of rainfall in 1970 and that is 20 inches less than the amount received in 1969.

And, for another 365 consecutive days through 1970, not one snowflake fell within the city limits of Hilo.—WACIL McNAIR

Byrd, Scott Elected

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats deposed Edward M. Kennedy as party whip today, as the 92nd Congress convened to face old problems and an ambitious agenda of new proposals promised by President Nixon.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, a conservative from West Virginia, was elected whip, or assistant Senate Democratic leader, in a major opening-day surprise.

He defeated Kennedy, who had held the job for two years, 31 to 24, in a secret ballot at the Democratic caucus.

Senate Republicans re-elected Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania as minority leader, 24 to 20, over the challenge of Sen. Howard Baker Jr. of Tennessee. It was Baker's second futile attempt to take over the top GOP Senate job.

Kennedy's defeat in the race for whip dealt a major blow to whatever prospects remained that he might eventually emerge as a candidate for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

The senator himself had said he would not run for president next year, renouncing any White House race after the fatal 1968 Chappaquiddick Island automobile accident that killed a young secretary.

Byrd never announced his candidacy for whip. Instead, he simply went to the Democratic caucus with a vestful of votes, and scored his startling upset.

During the last Congress, Byrd spent hours on the floor in his role as No. 3 Democratic leader, looking out for the interests of colleagues, tending to procedural matters.

Kennedy acknowledged there might be speculation that some potential Democratic presidential candidates had voted against him to reduce his chances of emerging as a candidate in 1972.

"But I prefer to think that those who felt Sen. Byrd could do the best job voted for him, and those who thought I could voted for me," Kennedy said.

Among the first acts was the installation of Democratic Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma as the House new speaker.

A filibuster about filibusters loomed in the Senate.

The Senate's Democratic majority and Republican minority called caucuses to elect party floor leaders and talk about reform, as critics of the seniority system sought to loosen its traditional hold on committee power.

Jurors Dig Deeper In NBL Stock Fraud Suit

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, (AP) — Federal grand jurors dug deeper into a multi-million dollar stock fraud suit Wednesday which involves the names of numerous top Texas government and business leaders.

Meanwhile, outraged politicians clamored for a legislative inquiry into how several of their colleagues and other top state officials became entwined in the alleged securities scheme.

Republican Rep. Jim Earthman of Houston said, "The Texas legislature has sunk to an all-time low. This scandal reflects on the integrity and honesty of all members. State government should be a servant of the people and not a vehicle for private gain."

Depositions filed in federal court by the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission, the stock policing agency which brought the suit, include the names of Gov. Preston Smith, five astronauts, House Speaker Gus Mutscher, former Speaker of the House and state Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, Houston Mayor Louie Welch, real estate and banking tycoon Frank W. Sharp of Houston, Texas Democratic party Chairman Dr. Elmer Baum and others.

The FBI is also investigating the case along with the SEC.

U. S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes issued a temporary restraining order in Dallas which halts the sale of unregistered stock in the 11 Texas business firms and banks named in the SEC suit, and freezes any further deals.

The SEC suit alleges that stock manipulations were used to permit profitable purchase and sale of stocks by influential Texas politicians at a time when banking legislation was being considered in the Texas legislature.

The SEC says that the legislation was an attempt to "avoid further regulation of the banks by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp."

The banking legislation was passed but Governor Smith vetoed the measure.

None of the state officials were named as defendants in the case but their names appear in the depositions because they purchased some of the stock involved in the suit.

Governor Smith and Baum, acting as partners, bought 20,000 shares of stock in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. (NBL) with money borrowed from the Sharpstown State Bank in Houston and sold them two months later for a $125,000 profit, one transaction shows.

Another recorded transaction says Mutscher bought NBL stock and made $22,000 on one transaction.

Barnes Favors Report

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, whose name turned up in papers connected with a federal probe of alleged securities frauds, said today he would favor a financial disclosure act for state officials.

A defendant in the Securities Exchange Commission's suit said in a deposition that Barnes had a "problem loan" at one of the defendant banks.

Barnes acknowledged he borrowed $60,000 from Dallas Bank and Trust Co. last June 22 to buy 1,000 shares of National Data Communications stock at $60 a share. He said Harold Hinn, a Plainview and Dallas businessman, took out the loan on his behalf. The loan was backed by the stock as collateral, Barnes said.

On July 1, he said, the note was paid off at Dallas Bank and Trust and was moved to another bank, where it was secured by a letter of credit from Hinn.

The loan remains unpaid, Barnes said, adding: "I am hopeful the stock is going to go back up." He said the stock now sells for $6.50 or $7 per share.

Barnes said he had "never had any inside information" on stocks. In this case, he said, "Harold Hinn had quite a bit of faith in this stock or else I would not have bought it."

Several lawmakers have introduced bills requiring legislators and/or other top officials to file annual statements disclosing their assets, liabilities and Sources of income.

"I'd be in favor of one requiring disclosure of assets, debts and sources of income," Barnes said in an interview. "It certainly wouldn't embarrass me to disclose how much money I made each year," he said.

Gov. Preston Smith said Wednesday there was no conflict of interest in his profiting from a life insurance stock lined in the federal suit with efforts to pass two deposit insurance bills in 1969.

Truman Admitted To Hospital

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman was admitted to Research Hospital in Kansas City today and his physician described his condition as "fairly weak."

Truman, 86, was taken to the hospital by ambulance, accompanied by his wife and by Mike Westwood, who frequently escorts the former president.

A spokesman said diagnostic tests will be made to determine the nature of the ailment.

This is the sixth time Truman has been hospitalized since leaving the White House in 1953. The most recent occasion was in February 1969, when he had a complete physical checkup following an attack of intestinal influenza.

The former president's last public appearance was Nov. 3, when he voted in the general election.

A close Truman friend said, "He's doing all right. It's apparently some intestinal trouble that just flared up."

Truman's personal physician, Dr. Wallace Graham, practices in Research Hospital which is in Kansas City, about 15 miles from the Trumans' home in Independence, Mo.

Jakobson Seeks U Thant's Job

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A 47-year-old Finn is the first man to enter the field to succeed U Thant as secretary-general of the United Nations.

Ambassador Max Jakobson, a historian and former newsman, has headed Finland's U.N. delegation since April 1965. He entered his country's foreign service 12 years before as press attache in Washington.

Thant announced Monday that he would retire when his term ends in December. After his announcement, the U.N. delegates from the other Nordic countries —Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Iceland—met with Jakobson and endorsed his candidacy, a Nordic diplomat said.

The Finnish Foreign Ministry said on Wednesday that it was consulting other governments and was gratified to note that Jakobson was "widely recognized as a person who ... fulfills the requirements made on the secretary-general."

The endorsement of both the United States and the Soviet Union is crucial to any candidate for secretary-general, but neither U.S. nor Soviet spokesmen would comment on Jakobson's prospects.

"It is too early to comment on questions of succession at this time," said a spokesman for the U.S. mission. "We, of course, have a high regard for Ambassador Jakobson personally and for the role which Finland is playing in the United Nations."

"No comment," said Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik.

Another Soviet source pointed out that Thant "is still secretary-general." Asked if the Russians think Thant should stay on, he replied, "Well, let's think about it."

Many U.N. diplomats expressed belief that the U.S. and Soviet governments could persuade Thant to stay for another two to five years if they convinced him they could not agree on a successor.

Cuba, N-Vietnam Sign Aid Pacts

MIAMI (AP) — Radio Havana said Wednesday night that Cuba and North Vietnam have signed commercial and economic aid agreements in Hanoi.

The broadcast monitored here said one of the agreements was for Cuba to furnish nonrepayable aid of an unspecified nature.

The other agreement was for a regular interchange of merchandise between both countries for 1971.

Water Line Bids Opened

The CRMWD board met this morning in Big Spring and opened bids on the laying of Ward County water supply line. Apparent low bidder for the laying of the water supply line was Preston Carrell Construction Co. of Clifton, Tenn., with a bid of $4,186,277, considerably lower than the bid of Panhandle Construction of Lubbock which was $4,511,111.

Apparent low bidder for construction of three booster pump stations on the water supply line was King & King, Inc., of Odessa with $213,149. Brown & McKee of Lubbock bid $224,855. The bid for laying of the supply line included $2,894,523 for pipe and valves on which contracts have already been let.

LAST ENEMY HELD STRONGHOLD ON SEAROAD

Cambodians Seize Pass

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Cambodian troops recaptured the northern end of Pich Nil Pass today and South Vietnamese marines moving from the south were reported only three miles away from a linkup.

A press dispatch from the front said 1,300 Cambodian infantryman seized the heights overlooking the northern end after enemy forces retreated, leaving behind the bodies of comrades killed in their bunkers.

Pich Nil Pass was the last enemy-held stronghold on Highway 4, the on main route to the sea. The North Vietnamese seized the pass and a second one farther south last November, cutting off the flow of oil and other supplies from Phnom Penh.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said this three miles of the seven-mile pass was the only stretch of Phnom Penh's highway to the sea still not under control of the South Vietnamese and their Cambodian allies.

U.S command and control helicopters hovered over the South Vietnamese, overseeing their progress northward along Cambodia's Highway 4.

A Saigon spokesman said the force of more than 1,000 marines was meeting no significant resistance in the pass, which is midway along the 115-mile road that connects the Cambodian capital and Kompong Som, the country's only deepwater port.

"The marines are not moving too fast," the spokesman said, "because of difficult characteristics of the terrain."

The highway is flanked by heavy jungle and the marines were sweeping half a mile on each side of the road, he said.

Cambodian forces at the northern end of the pass were reported engaged in sharp fighting for the third consecutive day.

Details were not immediately available. But authorities in Phnom Penh reported 51 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops had been killed, while Cambodian casualties were seven killed and 61 wounded.

North Vietnamese troops have controlled Highway 4 since last Nov. 21, cutting Phnom Penh off from its seaport and creating shortages of gas, fuel oil and other imports in the capital.

U.S. headquarters in Saigon said the American command and control helicopters were directing U.S. helicopter gunships attacking enemy positions alongside the highway.

As the battle for Highway 4 appeared to near a showdown, Cambodian Premier Lon Nol flew back to Phnom Penh after two days of conferences with South Vietnamese and American officials. Shortly before departing, he met for an hour and 15 minutes with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of American forces in Vietnam.

No major ground fights were reported in South Vietnam but Saigon headquarters said there were 20 rocket and mortar attacks, seven of which caused casualties, during the previous 24 hours. Headquarters described casualties over-all as "light."

The U.S. Command issued its weekly casualty summary, reporting 37 Americans killed in action last week, 29 died from nonhostile causes, and 211 wounded in action.

Projects' Fund Approval Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked today to approve $950 million in federal grants for public works projects in areas of severe unemployment.

In communities with at least 8.75-per cent unemployment last year, the bill would allow the federal government to finance 80 per cent of the cost of permanent public facilities ready for construction.

In a nod to the financially depressed construction industry, preference would be given projects in which a high percentage of buiding costs would be for labor.

Rep. John J. McFall, D-Calif., introduced the bill in the House on the opening day of the 92nd Congress and said he expects 150 House members to sign the bill.

The Senate version will be sponsored by Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., chairman of the Public Works Committee.

The bill is a liberalized version of an antirecession public works measure introduced last year by House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma and Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

The new bill eliminates two sections which came under attack last year. One would have limited a state's share of the public works fund to 10 per cent. The other would have required states or local subdivisions to guarantee the subsidized project would not cause a reduction in other planned construction.

The $950 million would remain authorized until spent, with no time limit, in areas whose unemployment rate was 150 per cent of the national average in either of the two most recent fiscal years.

The present national rate of unemployment is 6 per cent of the labor force; thus the grants would be available in areas with an 8.75-per cent rate.

Rep. Harold T. Johnson, D-Calif., a co-sponsor of the bill, also urged President Nixon to release withheld public works construction funds for federal projects.

He said $25 million appropriated by Congress for construction projects for the current fiscal year has been frozen by executive order, while one out of every three construction workers in the nation is out of work.

MOD Gets $363.21 In 'Roadblock'

A "road block" campaign in behalf of the March of Dimes, conducted last Saturday by a group of Lamar Junior High boys brought in $363.21.

The boys collected contributions from motorists at intersections around the Snyder square.

A similar drive is being planned by high school boys, possibly for this Saturday.

Participating last Saturday were George Yielding, Jimmy Browning, Wade Sands, Phil Robinson, Wesley McGinty, Kerry Rodgers, Raymond Smith, Mark Mathis, Dean Wilson, Paul Williams, William Phillips, Steve Perryman, Larry Thompson.

Also, Don Stoker, Steven Wilson, Felton Stephens, Ronnie Block, Richard Huddleston, Tod Line, Glenn Davis, Carlton Dennis, Mike Clifton, Keith Carmichael, Rusty Younts, David Vaughan, Steve McClure, Keith Jordan, Kyle Jones, G. G. Miller, David Reed, Randy Parrott, David Dea, Mickey Burnett and Gary Greenlee.

Contributions to the March of Dimes may be sent to Dale Stuard, the local traasurer, at West Texas State Bank.

Israeli Forces Told To Behave

GAZA (AP) — Israeli security forces have been told to cut out the rough stuff in the violence-torn capital of the occupied Gaza Strip.

Informed sources said "special orders to behave" were issued following a number of complaints of beatings by the tough border police who were sent into Gaza City 11 days ago. They were ordered in because grenade attacks by Palestinian guerrillas, mostly against other Arabs, had become daily occurrences.

Israel captured the 30-mile-long Gaza Strip and its population of 400,000, many of them Palestinian refugees, in the 1967 war. The area had been under Egyptian military rule since the Palestine war in 1948.

The border police reportedly beat up suspected guerrillas during questioning and identification checks. Dr. Merrill Moore of Nashville, Tenn., chief doctor at the Baptist Hospital, said he treated some of those rounded up who required medical attention, but he said their injuries were minor.

Moore said the number of such cases "peaked" last week and has gone down since.

Some Israelis admit that the police, many of them army veterans or members of Moslem minorities inside Israel, may have overreacted to the situation.

Without referring to the methods of the police, a military spokesman said the "increased presence" has proved effective. There have been only three terrorist incidents since the extra forces arrived, he said.

"Nobody likes it much to govern the Gaza Strip by force," he added. "We hope that the period will be a short one."

In the Israeli parliament, one member said the behavior of the security troops has been detrimental to the morale and principles of the army.

Interior Minister Yosef Burg replied that no Israeli-held territory would be allowed to become a "lawless enclave of murder and terrorism."

CoupleWed 81 Years

MACON, Mo. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Ward McDaniel observe their 81st wedding anniversary today.

McDaniel, a retired farmer who celebrated his 102nd birthday last June, and his wife, Cynthia Anne, who was 101 years old last May, have together triumphed over odds now computed at 191 million to 1.

In response to an inquiry from a grandson of the couple on their 79th wedding anniversary two years ago, federal statisticians calculated the odds at 8.75 million to 1.

Earlier this week the family received a call from the Census Bureau in Washington, where statisticians had continued to follow the McDaniels' lives with interest, with the new projection of the possibilities of any couple surviving, both at ages past the century mark, to celebrate more than eight decades of marriage.

FIRE DAMAGE — Fire of undetermined origin caused considerable damage in the kitchen at Carlos' Little Mexico Cafe, 1703 Avenue S. Firemen detected the blaze about 12:30 a.m. today and prevented the flames from spreading. There was some smoke damage throughout the building. Carlos Mijares, operator of the cafe, said he will try to have the cafe back in operation within a week. Firemen also answered a call at 11:45 p.m. Wednesday to the Santa Fe Railway Co. depot where a boxcar full of cotton caught on fire.

Gift Given For March

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Students marched on the home of the president of Texas A&M and were awarded a $5,000 gift from the Strake Foundation of Houston because of it.

Thousands of Aggies marched Nov. 1 to the home of A&M President Jack Williams to welcome the chief administrator on his first full day in office.

Reports of the march reached George Strake Jr., who called Dr. Williams at once about a contribution to A&M's scholarship fund. Later he decided it should go to the student body.

The check for $5,000 was presented to student President Kent Capterton Wednesday by Williams who said, "You're the greatest."

WAY OUT MAKEUP— Serge Lutens, one of Paris' most fashionable make-up men, says that "real make-up is an experience in self-confrontation." The face for this winter's long '30s clothes, he says, is "like Chinese furniture — brilliant, satiny and lacquered."

Make-Up Expert Tells Women To Experiment

By ALISON LERRICK

PARIS (AP) — "You never stop thinking in life, so why stop changing your face?" asks Serge Lutens, whose daring make-up for Dior has stunned Paris for the past four seasons.

"Most women wear make-up as a form of social courtesy, like brushing their teeth or saying good-morning," he continues on his pet grievance. "But the real make-up is an experience in self-confrontation"—in short, in looking yourself in the face.

When Lutens, who wears mostly blue jeans and hair to his shoulders, tells the Dior mannequins how to put on their faces, he has to subject his "strong ideas" to "imperatives of clothes." "Alas," he says with resignation, "it would be much more amusing to think about the spirit of fashion, not about a few rags."

The face that goes with this winter's long 30's clothes is "like Chinese furniture, brilliant, satiny and lacquered," he describes lyrically. "The lips are like varnished wood, the eyes like crystal, the whole face transparent and sophisticated."

This means applying pale pink foundation, almost white powder, geisha purple-pink liquid eyeshadow coating the entire eyesocket, lipstick to match and a Japanese rose-blue shadow under the chin "to detach the face from the neck, as if placed on a pedestal." The eyebrows should be almost nonexistent, the hair a smooth tight cap.

An alternative is to sketch a pink crescent swooping from above the eyebrow down to the cheekbone, "to show the rapport between the eye and the cheek." If traced too timidly, Lutens cautions, this makes women look like rabbits.

"It's nice to be natural," he says, "but that's not the point of make-up. I hate everything that improves on nature, like false eyelashes. That's cheating."

However, a woman does have the right—up to a point—to some say when her face is in question. For example, "if a woman likes bushy eyebrows, she can keep them," Lutens says magnanimously. "It may show a lack of taste but they may also be copied. She will have done something herself. We mustn't always live in cliches," he adds strictly, "but unfortunately many people are sheep."

And, he predicts, in 10 years bushy eyebrows may well make a comeback. "I don't know how I'll force myself to show them," he laughs. "They're horrible."

For spring, he is plotting an even greater upheaval in tradition than his usual—a dead-white face with neither eyebrows nor lipstic. "If you are white in the summer, when everyone else is tan, people look at you," he says with rapture. "But this is not a sick or negligent white, but an intentional white. I'm sick of varnished lips," he adds, thumbing through some photographs of his current make-up.

The only color may be two tiny dots of sky-blue where the brows used to be, plus another dot on the chin and a sky-blue shadow under the neck, borrowed from "the 16th century Chinese."

Inspiration for this naked look is the guileless, childlike heads of the Middle Ages.

"The medieval head looks naive but is really sophisticated, almost religious. By taking away all extraneous elements you finish by finding the real face."

Anyone equipped with several hours and the courage to look herself in the face can perform all these feats herself at home. "People waste time doing lots of things, so why not waste time painting your face?" he says.

For the women who simply "want to be themselves", Lutens has a ready-made answer: "Who are you? What does 'personality' mean? It's as if you were dead and people are talking about you. Peronality is doing what you want when you want."

A few lucky ladies, like Greta Garbo and Marlene Dietrich, "have extracted the essence of themselves and can't go farther because they have reached perfection." But for the majority of facepainters, he feels "it's good to experiment so as not to have any regrets."

This applies to any age group, "so long as a woman still wants to be beautiful. An old tree is beautiful," he says. "It has bark and character. An old cat is more beautiful than a kitten."

Women who are "just too ashamed" of the way they look can choose between two easy solutions: "to bead themselves all over or have a face lift."

And, according to this make-up artist who believes in character more than cosmetics, "a woman doesn't need any make-up at all. She makes her own face herself. It may be monstrous, but make-up can't disguise it."

Try This Delightfully Different Chocolate Roll

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Chocolate Rolls are among the most popular of company desserts. Especially if they're all chocolate. And that's the kind of recipe we have for you today.

A chocolate cake, baked in a jelly-roll pan, is given a mocha cream filling and then the roll is covered with luxurious chocolate frosting. Even chocolate fans are bound to be satisfied!

Chocolate Chiffon Rolls

½ of a 4-ounce package (9 squares) sweet cooking chocolate
1-3rd cup water
¾ cup sifted cake flour
½ cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks
¼ cup salad (not olive) oil
4 egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tarter
2 tablespoons sugar
Confectioners' sugar
Mocha Cream Filling
Chocolate Frosting

Grease the bottom and sides of a jelly roll pan—15 by 10 by 1 inch; line bottom with wax paper; grease paper.

In a small saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly, melt chocolate with water. Remove from heat; cool.

Into a small bowl sift together the flour, the ½ cup sugar, the baking powder and salt. Make a well in the center of flour mixture; add egg yolks, oil and chocolate mixture. Beat at low speed of electric mixer until smooth—about 1 minute.

Into a medium mixing bowl turn the egg whites and cream of tarter. With clean beater, beat at high speed of electric mixer until foamy throughout. Gradually beat in the 2 tablespoons sugar; continue beating until mixture forms stiff peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Gradually fold in chocolate mixture.

Turn batter into prepared pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—18 to 20 minutes. Place pan on wire rack so cake cools for 3 minutes.

Sprinkle confectioners' sugar generously on a tea towel. Loosen cake edges and at once invert on sugared towel. Quickly remove paper. Roll cake, starting on short side, rolling towel with cake. Cool wrapped cake on rack for 45 minutes.

Carefully unroll cake; spread with Mocha Cream Filling and reroll. Place on oblong plate or tray. Sprinkle roll with confectioners' sugar. Chill 1 to 2 hours. Spread with Chocolate Frosting. If you like, you may garnish the roll with sliced almonds and candied cherries.

MOCHA CREAM FILLING

½ of a 4-ounce package (9 squares) sweet cooking chocolate
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 container—8 ounces—heavy cream
1 teaspoon instant coffee

Melt chocolate with water in a small saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Cool. Then mix cream with the instant coffee; beat just until soft peaks form. Blend with cooled chocolate. Makes 2 cups.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

1 package—4 ounces—semi-sweet chocolate
1 tablespoon butter
3 tablespoons water
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
Dash of salt
½ teaspoon vanilla

Turn chocolate, butter and water into a small saucepan; melt over low heat. Combine sugar and salt in medium bowl; gradually stir in chocolate mixture; blend well. Add vanilla. Cool until mixture is the desired consistency. Makes ¾ cup.

Mrs. Carpenter Speaks On African Violets

The monthly meeting of the Twlight Garden Club was held Thursday night at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, with Mrs. Fred Davis as hostess. The 13 members present answered roll call by naming their favorite potting soil.

The nominating committee proposed a new slate of officers which was accepted by the club. New officers are Mrs. Bob Dupree, presendent; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Martha Moore; Mrs. Mildred Carpenter, 2nd vice-president; Mrs W. E. McMillan, treasurer; recording secretary, Majorie Key; Mrs. Fred Davis, parliamentarian; and historian and reporter, Mrs. Nellie Smith.

Mrs. Mildred Carpenter, a member of the African Violet Society, gave a most instructive demonstration on the repotting and care of african viloets. Mrs. Carpenter said that either a clay pot or a plastic pot were acceptable, but in this dry climate a plastic pot holds the moisture longer. "The potting mixture should be wet ahead of time using hot water, let it cool, but use it while still damp," said Mrs. Carpenter. "After cleaning the pot thoroughly cut a round piece of screen wire, or two pieces of nylon net and place in the bottom of the pot, then place a small amount of pearlite or fine steralized gravel in the pot, before planting the violet. A plastic bag may be placed around the flower for a few days to prevent drying."

Mrs. Era V. Collins, demonstrated some minature arrangements. "The new handbook on paints for flower shows says a minature arrangement may now be as much as five inches tall," said Mrs. Collins.

The members presented Mrs. Nellie Smith with an african violet as a birthday gift.

Novel Tells War Story

TO DEFEND, TO DESTROY. By James Reston Jr. Norton. $5.95.

Young Lt. Jonathan Bartlett has been trained in Army Intelligence and has been assigned to the Far East—not Vietnam, but Formosa, then Hawaii and finally Japan.

In the first part of the novel he recruits and trains a young Chinese, Chuang, to become a secret agent who is to penetrate mainland China and send back reports on what the Communists are up to. But this effort turns into disaster and Bartlett has deep feelings of guilt.

Meanwhile he has growing doubts about the Vietnam war; he does not believe in it, he fears the Chinese might be provoked into entering the war and he does not like "allies whose governments he deplored."

In Tokyo he discovers that his former girl friend Maria, who has leftist ideas, has turned up in Japan to aid a group of young radicals who are conducting riots to protest the American presence in Asia.

Because of Maria and because of his own feelings about Vietnam, he sympathizes with the radicals and does not betray them. Then the shock of a friend's death in Vietnam turns him abruptly against the whole military machine and he sabotages the work of his own intelligence unit, with predictable results.

The author's message about the dilemmas of young American military men who do not believe in the Vietnam war is blunted somewhat by the fact that he has created, as his chief protagonist, a very indecisive young man—but perhaps that indecision is his second theme.

This is a first novel that has its flaws, and at times it seems off key. Yet it also has moments of narrative value. Perhaps the next time around Reston will come closer to the mark.

Taxpayers Overlooking 1040s' Peel-Off Label

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is having more trouble with its best-known publication—the new, revised, simplified, easier-to-understand tax form 1040.

It seems large numbers of Americans filing their income tax forms early this year are overlooking a new peel-off mailing label on 1040. It isn't being peeled off and the International Revenue Service is disturbed.

In the first week of 1971, IRS officials said, up to 10,000 out of 100,000 early filers either failed to use the peel-off label or list their names, addresses or Social Security numbers at the top of 1040.

The peel-off label, attached to the basic tax package mailed to millions of taxpayers by IRS, includes the name, address and Social Security number as recorded on a taxpayer's 1969 return.

IRS is asking taxpayers to peel it from the front page of the package and paste it in the proper place at the top of 1040. If the label isn't used, taxpayers must fill in the section themselves.

In past years, no peeling was required. The label was in the proper place, saving taxpayers the trouble of filling out their names, addresses and Social Security numbers if the information on the label proved correct.

IRS went to the peel-off label this year when it made another revision in form 1040 in hopes of making it easier for taxpayers to read and easier to fill out. Using the label speeds processing, IRS says.

But officials indicated the habits of a number of taxpayers haven't changed.

"All we have in some cases is a signature," the spokesman said. "In such cases, we don't know how to get in touch with them."

If the trend continues, it could mean a lot of delayed refunds, a slowdown in processing, and a mass of defective returns.

W-2 forms usually, but not always, include the information about a taxpayer required by IRS, the spokesman said. The W-2 forms are supposed to be clipped to the back of form 1040.

Jaycees, now more than a quarter of a million strong, work for community betterment in 6,4000 communities in the nation.

Gilligan Likes Deluxe Shine

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Elect John J. Gilligan has sent his shoes to Ralph Kaufman to be given a deluxe $5 shine for the inauguration Monday in Columbus.

Kaufman operates a shoeshine parlor at Cleveland International Airport and said Thursday Gilligan was "an old customer."

"A lot of people stop here on their way to other cities just to get a shine," said Kaufman, who says his customers include comedian Bill Cosby and singer Glen Campbell.

Michigan State defensive tackle Wilt Martin, a member of the East team at the 1971 East-West Shrine Game, was the 47th State player to appear in the annual post-season event.

Deep South Whitened By Frost

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frost whitened a large part of the Deep South today as temperatures staggered into the 20s for a second day as far south as central Florida.

A reading of 27 at Daytona Beach was as cold as Dickinson, N.D., near the Canadian border. The mercury fell to 49 in Key West, at Florida's southern tip, hours before daybreak.

A warming trend was in prospect along the entire Eastern Seaboard, but the forecast was small comfort to bundled-up vacationers faced with temperatures in the 30s in the Miami area.

Subzero cold clung to interior portions of the Northeast, although readings generally were less severe than early Wednesday.

Southerly winds fanning through the Midwest and Great Plains held temprratures above freezing in a large part of the midcontinent overnight.

EVERYBODY HELPS — Volunteers using sacks they have filled with straw build boom to keep an oil slick from seeping into the Bolinas Lagoon a bird sanctuary a few miles north of San Francisco Tuesday. In background is a U.S. Coast Guard hovercraft which delivered the straw. A huge oil slick was caused by the collision of two oil tankers just outside San Francisco's Golden Gate in a heavy fog Monday morning. (AP Wirephoto)

Oil Slick Endangers Lagoon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Scientists say the mammoth oil slick spreading around San Francisco is endangering fragile ecology of Bolinas Lagoon, one of the last feeding grounds for nesting colonies of the great blue heron and white egret.

Hundreds of volunteers have converged on the mouth of the lagoon 20 miles north of San Francisco in an attempt to prevent an inch-thick slick resulting from a tanker collision from entering the bird feeding grounds.

A floating boom was placed across the mouth of the lagoon. Workers spread straw on the oil, then raked the oil-saturated straw ashore by the tons.

An estimated 1,500 oil-covered birds have been brought to cleaning stations set up throughout the region, but experts say they are afraid more than 90 per cent will die.

Dr. Martin Griffin, a director of the Audubon Canyon Ranch near the lagoon, said oil could poison vital marine life in the mud, such as ghost shrimp, a primary food for the birds.

The Audubon Canyon Ranch is the last major Pacific Coast nesting colony for the great blue heron and the egret, which get most of their food from Bolinas Lagoon, Griffin said.

Herons are now returning to their traditional nesting grounds, and the egret are expected within a few weeks, said Clerin Zumwalt, ranch naturalists. None of the herons have been coated with oil yet, he said.

There were no reports of oil endangering seals and sea lions which inhabit the waters of the San Francisco area.

Some 500,000 to 1.9 million gallons of ship fuel oil oozed out of the tanker Oregon Standard after it collided with the Arizona Standard in dense fog near the Golden Gate Bridge early Monday.

The slick spread over large portions of San Francisco Bay and the ocean from Point Reyes National Seashore, 30 miles to the north, to below Pacifica, 20 miles south.

Scholars generally agree Gypsies emerged from northwest India at least 1,000 years ago.

Martin's Opinion Is Requested

AUSTIN (AP) — The maximum compensation allowed by law to the chief sheriff's deputy and the first assistant county attorney in Texas counties is $9,226 a year, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Martin's opinion was requested by W.O. Williams, county auditor of Grayson County.

Martin said the maximum compensation of other sheriff's deputies and assistants is $8,073.

It is up to the county commissioners court to decide how many deputies they want, he said.

Cotton Growers Seek Appeal Of Regulations

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A newly formed group of cotton growers is trying to get the Agriculture Department to rescind government regulations for 1971 that a spokesman says could cost farmers $120 million a year in lost income.

J. B. Kirklin of Pecos, Tex., said Wednesday in an interview he is heading a National Cotton Farmers Information Committee organized to inform growers to the new rules and gain support for their repeal.

Most urgent, Kirklin said, is for the USDA to change its policy for paying growers on the basis of net weight per bale instead of by gross weight as in the past.

By using net weight, Kirklin said, growers will receive payments on about 21 fewer pounds per bale than in the past. This will cost producers about $4.20 per bale in reduced payments. Nationwide, he said, it amounts to around $48 million less to cotton growers.

The average of 21 pounds per bale is weight taken up by ties, burlap and the baling process. Historically, this has cost about $4.50 per bale, Kirklin said. Farmers under previous government programs—because, they were based on gross weight—have been able to regain about $4.20 of the expense for each bale.

Efforts will be made, Kirklin said, to enlist help from cotton growers and from cotton belt members of Congress to force USDA to change the regulation back to a gross-weight basis.

He said also a change for 1971 that eliminates premium payments based on micronair values of cotton—a quality factor—will cost producers nearly $5 per bale in additional payments.

In all, Kirklin said, the two changes will represent an average reduction of about $9 per bale this year, or about $120 million less throughout the Cotton Belt.

Discretionary Income Rises

NEW YORK (AP) — American's discretionary income—that money left after all essentials are paid for—rose $250 billion in ten years, according to James A. MacLean, national sales manager of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation. Recreational spending alone rose $83 billion last year, he said.

Legislators Stunned By Gov. Smith's Proposals

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Still stunned by Gov. Preston Smith's radical proposals to avoid a tax bill, Texas legislators today awaited the last formality before they can start passing bills.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher said he would issue House committee assignments this afternoon, thus letting each of the 149 representatives know how much clout he will have this session.

Once committees are appointed, House bills can be introduced and set for hearings. The Senate's committees have been at work since this session started Jan. 12.

Smith startled lawmakers Wednesday when he laid out a plan of deficit financing, bond issues and incomplete welfare appropriations based on the hope that Congress will absorb all welfare costs by July 1, 1972. The plan, he said, would eliminate the need for any new taxes, which are the chief problem of the legislature.

"If they (legislators) don't buy this plan, they ought to bring me one of their own," Smith said at a late afternoon news conference.

His plan hinges mainly on several constitutional amendments. Smith said the changes must be approved by the legislature early in February so they can be submitted to the voters before the legislature adjourns May 31.

"I guess we will be looking at all the other means of raising revenue" if his plan fails to win support, Smith said.

The key amendments would authorize a $450 million issue of "free public school bonds" and permit the use of oil and gas revenue from school lands to pay current education costs.

Smith also wanted quick action on amendments lifting the 4½ per cent interest limit on water development bonds and permitting a $100 million bond issue to help cities upgrade sewage facilities.

Another emergency amendment asked by the governor would lift the $80 million annual ceiling on state spending for welfare benefits. Failure to get it passed and to vote more funds would mean reduced benefits for some welfare recipients.

Smith made it clear he thinks the House and Senate should continue working on tax bills even if they do send the amendments to the voters. There must be a 90-day lapse between submission of amendments and the actual balloting.

Continued efforts on tax legislation would put the lawmakers in better shape to pass a revenue bill if the voters turn down the amendments, he said.

Welfare Family Spends Night At The Waldorf

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Three city welfare employes have been suspended on orders from an irate Mayor John V. Lindsay for placing a Brooklyn welfare mother and her four children in two rooms at the posh Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Lindsay called for a full investigation Wednesday upon learning that the family was in a $70-a-night suite. He said in a statement that the incident "may well have had a malicious intent."

The mother, Cleola Hainsworth, moved to a friend's apartment after one night in the hotel. Mrs. Hainsworth told newsmen she had not wanted to stay in the Waldorf in the first place.

"I told the welfare people that I would rather go to my girl friend's and that my girl friend was willing to put us up in two rooms for $100 a week. They said a flat, 'No.'" she said.

"And now that's what they've done."

Mrs. Hainsworth and her children had been staying at a Brooklyn hotel where the city paid $166 a week for one big room. They had to move when the hotel became filled with out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Hainsworth said she preferred the Brooklyn hotel: "It was very beautiful. We even had a sun porch. But the children liked the Waldorf more. They thought it was filled with movie stars."

A spokesman for the Waldorf-Astoria said the city had booked the rooms for Mrs. Hainsworth and that the hotel knew it was for a welfare family.

"We don't have any reason not to take a person who can pay and is well-behaved," he said. "So far as the hotel is concerned the rooms are paid up until checkout time tomorrow and the family can remain until then."

But when word of the incident leaked out, a city welfare investigator arrived and hastily escorted the family out Wednesday evening.

Lindsay's statement said he was "deeply angered and outraged over this incident" adding, "It shows colossal bad judgment or worse."

When it is unable to find other accommodations, the Welfare Department customarily puts relief clients in hotels, although not normally of the Waldorf's reputation.

A department spokesman said the employes involved checked their regular list of welfare hotels and couldn't find a vacancy when Mrs. Hainsworth came to them Tuesday.

"However," the spokesman added, "I don't have the slightest idea how they came up with the Waldorf-Astoria."

The 19-foot bronze statue of Thomas Jefferson was erected in the Jefferson Memorial in 1943.

Blocking Rules Are Tightened

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — The NCAA Football Rules Committee made its first change in offensive blocking in 30 years Wednesday, and chairman John Waldorf warned, "If this doesn't stop the injuries, we'll expand the rule to perhaps banning all below-waist blocking."

The new blocking change prevents what is termed "crackback" blocking toward the line of scrimmage below the waist in an area within five yards of the present permitted clipping zone.

The permissive clipping area is four yards on each side of the center and three yards on each side of the line of scrimmage.

Although concerned about the rising number of knee injuries, the college football rules makers held their fire on putting in a stiffer measure.

Other rule changes among the 19 passed concerned punts into the end zone and possible shortening of games through mutal consent of the officials and team captains.

Under the new rule a punt that lits in the end zone without touching a player on the receiving team will be returned to the 20-yard line. There were instances this season where punts hit into the end zone and spun back on the field of play.

Under a new rule the referee, with the consent of the two team captains, can shorten the game such as in a runaway score.

Two rules passed involved the shortening of the length of the games. Time outs were trimmed from four to three each half per team. Also, the clock will be stopped after a penalty only until the ball is ready for play.

Another rule involving timeouts states that a substitute entering the game must be within 15 yards of the ball before he can call time out. In the 1970 Cotton Bowl, a Texas substitute rushed on the field to call time out just before the Longhorns fumbled the ball near their goal. The ball was taken away from the Fighting Irish, who protested the time out should not be allowed to stand.

Other rule changes included When two opposing players catch the ball at the same time, each received must have at least one foot in bounds for the simultaneous catch to be ruled. The offensive team gets the ball.

—Position of the ball on the bounce after a fumble or lateral pass will be determined by whether or not the player who recovers has at least one foot in bounds at the time of recovery.

—It is a foul to "spear"—driving one's helmet into any opponent's body. The previous rule made it a foul only when a player speared the man carrying the ball.

—All fouls made behind the line of scrimmage by the defense will result in penalties being walked off from the line of scrimmage, not from the point of the foul.

—Players must return the ball to the official or drop the ball after being tackled or scoring. No player can toss the ball away or slam it into the ground.

—Pylons should be used in bad weather conditions to mark the boundary lines of the playing field.

—Face mask foul signals are now official.

—No decorations are allowed on goal posts.

—The height of the crossbar of the goal posts is to be measured from the top edge of the crossbar to the ground.

—On touchbacks, the ball may be placed between the hash marks anywhere on the 20-yard line.

Bobsled Racer Killed In Mishap

CERVINIA, Italy (AP) — Luis Lopez Solanes, brakeman of Spain's No. 1 bobsled was killed today when his bob went off the track during trials for the World Bobsled Championships in this Italian Alpine resort.

The Spaniard, who competed in a team with driver Eugenio Baturone, suffered fatal internal wounds in hitting a tree after the bob flew off the Blue Lake track for 50 meters.

A spokesman for the Aosta Hospital where Lopez Solanes was taken, said the 27-year-old resident of Huesca died on the ambulance while being rushed from Cervinia to Aosta.

Baturone also was taken to the hospital. Doctors said they suspected he has fractured his pelvis.

Larry Bowa's 24 steals last season were the most by a Phillies player since Tony Taylor's 26 in 1960.

Rivalry For Pro Bowl Hot

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There are strong indications, including the words of Jim Otto and the vote for team captains on the American Conference All-Star squad, that Sunday's Pro Bowl will have one element the Super Bowl lacked—the deep emotion of the old AFL-NFL rivalry.

"The majority of the players on the American Conference team are from the old AFL," said Otto, an 11-year veteran who goes back to the AFL's beginning. "So from that standpoint, it's almost like AFL versus NFL."

That fact would seem to be underscored by the selection of captains for the game in which 40-man squads from the AFC and NFC will tangle Sunday at 1 p.m. PST in the final contest of pro football's first season under its new two-conference structure.

In the vote for captains Wednesday, the AFC players, with 32 representatives from old AFL teams, selected a quintet of former AFLers as their leaders—Otto, quarterback Daryle Lamonica and Cornerback Willie Brown from Oakland, and linebacker Willie Lanier and defensive end Jerry Mays from Kansas City.

Left on the outside were the eight players from the three teams that joined the 10 AL clubs in the AFC this season, including linebacker Mike Curtis, defensive end Bubba Smith and safety Jerry Logan from the Super Bowl champion Baltimore Colts.

But then this game, as Otto sees it, means more to those whose talent was derided in the early years of the AFL than to any newcomers.

"We're all here to play for one purpose—to make the AFC a winner," Otto explained. "But the old AFL player probably will be playing with a pride he wouldn't have if he was a rookie. It's not that we're not happy to have Baltimore, Cleveland and Pittsburgh as part of us.

"It's just that this is the big one for the Willie Browns, the Johnny Robinsons, the Walt Sweeneys—the game we wanted for some time. For those of us who played in the AFL All-Star game this is a long awaited game. I wouldn't think it's the same on the NFC side.

"Every year, after I played in the AFL All-Star game and would go around to banquets, people would ask if the AFL had a Pro Bowl. You hear enough of that kind of thing and you get tired of it."

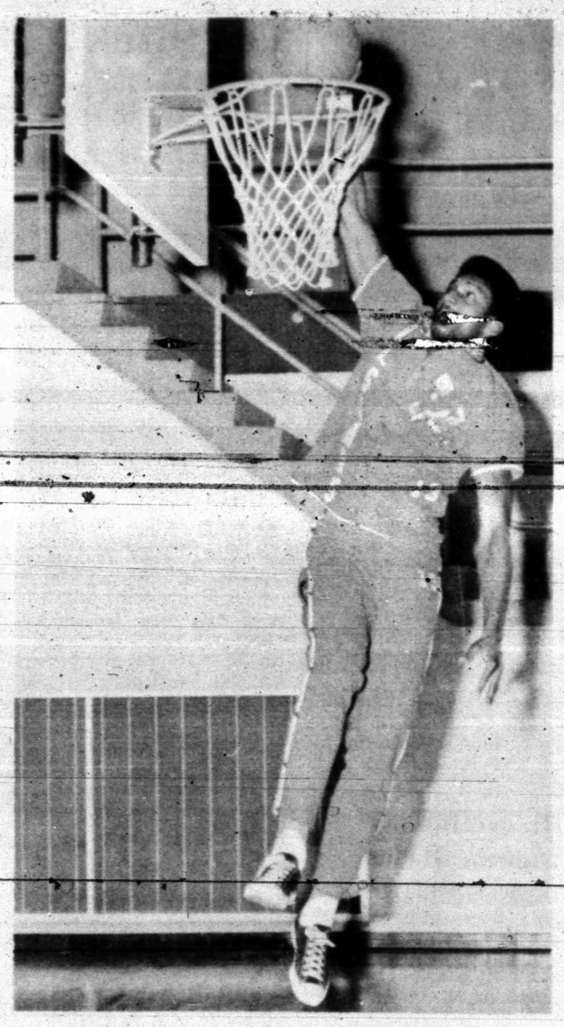
Mays, however, doesn't feel the AFL-NFL factor as deeply as he thought he would, and he cites the NFL orientation of the Dallas-Baltimore Super Bowl as a major reason.

He said, "The rivalry seems to be fading faster than I thought it would, particularly because there were two NFL teams in the Super Bowl."

Coach John Madden of the Raiders, meanwhile, hears what Otto and Mays has said and offers this perspective:

"These players are all here because they are great and they are great because they have pride in being great....Their own pride is more dominant than the league thing. But I have to say it is still a factor."

The number of outstanding players is unquestioned, including all the offensive statistical leaders in the two conferences—passers John Brodie of San Francisco, NFC, and Lamonica, AFC; rushers Larry Brown, of Washington, NFC, and Floyd Little of Denver, AFC; and receivers Dick Gordon of Chicago, NFC, and Marlin Briscoe of Buffalo, AFC—plus an equal compliment of defensive standouts.



JOKER STAR — Big Don Crudup will be in the Harlem Jokers' lineup when they meet the Snyder Jaycees and Key Club in a basketball game Thursday, Jan. 28, in the Scurry County Coliseum. Crudup was an outstanding rebounder for Tennessee A&I. The Jokers have won 59 and lost one game this season. Advance tickets at the rate of $1.50 for adults and $1 for students are available from Jaycees or Key Club members. At the gate, they will cost $1.75 for adults and $1.25 for students.

Agnew To Present Lombardi Award

HOUSTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was to present the first annual Vince Lombardi award tonight to the nation's outstanding collegiate lineman.

The block of granite—weighing some 45 pounds and standing three feet high—will be given in memory of the late Green Bay Packers and Washington Redskins coach.

The four finalists, all Associated Press All American selections, will be present at the dinner.

The four are Larry di Nardo, offensive guard, Notre Dame; Chip Kell, offensive guard, Tennessee; Rock Perdoni, defensive tackle, Georgia Tech; and Jim Stillwagon, defensive guard and linebacker, Ohio State.

The four were chosen by a 54-member committee headed by Frank Leahy, line coach at Fordham University when Lombardi gained fame as a member of the famous "Seven Blocks of Granite" line.

Leahy, former Notre Dame coach, is a patient at Houston's M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Clinic where he is being treated for leukemia. He will not be able to attend but will send a statement to be read at the dinner.

Agnew will present the award. The name of the winner will be known only to a Houston accounting firm prior to the dinner announcement.

The $100-plate dinner is sponsored by the Vince Lombardi-Rotary Club of Houston Foundation Inc., with proceeds going to the research fund of the American Cancer Society. Lombardi died last September of cancer.

Others at the head table with the vice president will include U. S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and sports announcer Howard Cosell.

Several anti-war groups have said they plan to demonstrate outside the hotel while the dinner is in progress.

Leaders of the groups said they plan to carry banners and chant their feelings about a variety of causes. They said everything will be peaceful.

"We think it is paradoxical that Agnew has been invited to speak by a group (cancer society) whose purpose is to save lives when he is one of the main proponents of our involvement in Southeast Asia which has claimed 45,000 American lives and millions more of Asian peoples," said Stuart Snow, coordinator of the Student Mobilization Committee.

Sweetwater Set For Friday Tilt

Snyder's Tigers face another crucial basketball contest in District 3-AAA competition when Sweetwater's Mustangs invade the Scurry County Coliseum for an 8 o'clock contest Friday night. The program will begin with a 6:15 p.m. skirmish between the B teams of both schools.

The Mustangs have good all-around height and great outside shooting in Cliff Gilliam, a 6-0 junior. Charles Splauding, a 6-8 senior, makes his presence felt under the boards. Another top shooter is Terry Hillis, a 6-3 junior. Other regulars are Rick Rhodes and Rodriguez.

Coach Ned Underwood of the host Bengals isn't taking the Sweetwater challenge lightly. He knows the Mustangs can rise to the occasion and put forth a superb team effort. They stand 4-2 in district, just one game behind the Bengals, and own an 86-56 decision over Estacado, the team that Snyder beat 76-60 last Tuesday.

For the season, Sweetwater is 10-16. Snyder is 16-4 for the distance and 5-1 in league play.

All of the Tigers appear to be in reasonably good health. It will take a good team effort to beat the Mustangs, and they know it.

Probable starters for the Bengals are guards Bid Cooper and Tommy Washington, forwards Jerry Brooks and Dubby Preston and center Kent Horsley. Also ready for action are Kevin Jones, David Thompson, Jackie Murray, Jim and Gary Brooks.

Smooth ball handling and good shooting, both outside and inside, are strong points of the Tigers this year. Also, they appear to be quicker than the average club.

Probable starters for the B team Kittens include Charles Anderson, Moell Blalock, Jimmy Don Dyess, Jackie Hartsfield, and Marvin McClanahan.

Oilers Get New Head Coach

HOUSTON (AP)—Ed Hughes, head offensive coach of the San Francisco 49ers, was named head coach of the Houston Oilers.

K. S. Adams Jr., owner of the Houston American Football Conference team, said Hughes has signed a five-year contract at an undisclosed salary.

Hughes succeeds Wally Lemm, who announced in midseason that he was retiring after the 1970 schedule which the Oilers completed with a 3-10-1 record.

Lemm had been coach four years.

Hughes, 43, has 11 years of professional football coaching and has been with the 49ers since 1968.

He began his career as backfield coach at the University of Tulsa and later took over as backfield coach of the old Dallas Texans, now the Kansas City Chiefs.

Hughes was with Denver in 1963 and then with the Washington Redskins as head defensive coach from 1964 through 1967.

Adams said Hughes was selected "only after what was probably the most thorough, exhaustive search ever conducted in the history of professional football."

Adams added, "One of the prime factors was his unique breadth of coaching experience. It is unusual to find a man of 43 who has in-depth coaching background in every phase of the game."

Hughes said he considers the Houston job as a great opportunity.

"I sincerely believe the team has the potential not only to become a contender, but a champion — maybe even in 1971," Hughes said.

"With a few strategic trades and assistance from the draft, I feel the player personnel can be adjusted offensively and defensively to provide Houston fans with an exciting and winning team," the new coach said.

The Detroit Tigers have three Canadians from Ontario on their spring roster—Bernie Beckman, John Hiller and Mike Kilkenny. All are lefthanded pitchers.

Detroit Tiger coach Art Fowler got his first chance in the major leagues after 10 campaigns in the minors. At 32 he was a big league rookie.

Pete Reiser, Rocky Bridges, Norm Sherry and Fred Koenig will coach this year under Manager Lefty Phillips of the California Angels.

Michigan State assistant wrestling coach Doug Blubaugh will serve as coach of the 1971 U.S. Pan American mat team.

Jacksonville, Penn Romp To Victories

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

How do you handle a 7-foot-2 basketball player?

Very carefully.

That's what some teams have been doing this year against Artis Gilmore and sixth-ranked Jacksonville—playing a slower, more deliberate style.

Furman was extra careful, too, Wednesday night. But it didn't help.

Gilmore owned the territory around the basket, as usual, and Jacksonville flicked away Furman 94-60 to spoil a "homecoming" for former Dolphin Coach Joe Williams.

Williams was the architect of Jacksonville's rags-to-riches story, culminating his efforts with the runnerup spot in last year's NCAA championships.

He left to coach Furman this year, handing over the talent to assistant Tom Wasdin.

But Williams' new squad was as unimpressive as his earlier Jacksonville teams, succumbing quickly to Gilmore and Co. while the partisan fans roared lusty approval.

Fourth-rated Penn thumped Temple 62-48 and No. 15 LaSalle turned back Niagara 95-79 in other games involving ranked teams.

Several teams have tried to slap a stall on the rugged Dolphins, who feature another 7-footer in Pembrook Burrows, and two slick backcourt men in Harold Fox and Vaughn Wedeking.

Last week Manhattan held high-scoring Jacksonville to 67 points. Only trouble was, Manhattan scored 40.

While Furman didn't go into an exaggerated stall, they did use a deliberate offense, calculated for the easy shot.

But they were dealing with a crack-shooting Dolphin five that connected on 75 per cent from the floor in the first half that shot the winners into an unsurmountable 46-27 lead.

Gilmore towered over Furman's 6-8 Russ Hunt and 6-6 Dave Whitener to score 18 points and grab 18 rebounds. Fox added 22 for the Dolphs, now 11-2.

Bernard Collier scored 18 for Furman, 7-6.

Penn shrugged off an atrocious 25 per cent shooting average in the first half that left the Quakers trailing 22-19. Bob Morse's 20-foot jumper gave the winners the lead early in the second half and they never lost it.

Temple came within one point at 31-30 and within two, 40-38, with 8:46 remaining. But the Quakers then launched a seven-point burst that nailed it.

Dave Wohl scored 16 for Penn, which won its 14th in a row. Mike Jones and Ollie Johnson each scored 11 to lead Temple, 5-9.

Ken Durrett whistled in 40 points and Bob Fields scored 30 as LaSalle sprinted to its 11th victory in 12 games. Marshall Wingate had 24 for Niagara.

Ron Thomas' 28 points powered Louisville past Cincinnati and out-rebounded Cincinnati 63-42.

Drake notched the 200th career victory for Coach Maury John with a 130-73 blitz of Missouri-Kansas City. Five Drake players hit 12 or more points, led by Jeff Haliburton's 25. The Bulldogs shot 57 per cent from the field.

Rich Yunkus' 30 points fired Georgia Tech to a 74-64 victory over Clemson; Will Robinson drilled in 27 to pace West Virginia over Penn State 71-62; Eastern Kentucky toppled Virginia Tech 86-79 behind George Bryant's 44 points; Rich Lyons and Bill Phillips each scored 20 to lead St. John's N.Y. over Seton Hall 88-70 and Bob Kissane pitched in 21 as Holy Cross stopped Springfield 74-63.

Elsewhere, it was Navy 59, Gettysburg 42; Air Force 83, Kearney State 73; Lafayette 79, American U. 68; Austin Peay 88, Bellarmine 87; Roanoke 96, Virginia Military 73, Akron 71, Buffalo U. 66 and Houston 130, Las Vegas-Nevada 73.

Cougars Lose Three Starters

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston basketball team has lost temporarily three players, including one starter, because of incomplete grades.

However, it didn't seem to hurt the team as the Cougars rolled over Nevada-Las Vegas, 130-73, Wednesday night.

The three players ruled ineligible because of incomplete grades during the fall semester were Jeff Hickman, 6-5 and Sonny Willis, 6-0, both junior guards, and Bob Hall, a 6-9, senior center.

Hickman was the only starter. He was the Cougars' third leading scorer with a 13.6 average. Both Hall and Willis had started on occasion. Hall had a 6.3 average and Willis a 5.2.

Two freshmen also were ruled ineligible. They were starting guard Mike Racobaldo and reserve guard Barry Smith.

"In the case of the three varsity players, we think they can regain their eligibility as soon as they complete their required work," said head coach Guy Lewis. He said he planned to find out more about it by talking to the professors involved.

HIGH ROAD OR THE LOW ROAD?

Bloch Predicts More Complex Tax System

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The sophistication of a country's income tax system indicates how advanced its economy is, says Henry Bloch, adding: "The American system is the envy of others."

Bloch is the "H" and president of H & R Block—the corporate name was changed because so many people spelled it that way—a company that expects to prepare close to 10 per cent of all personal income tax returns this year.

Many Americans take no pride in the envoy of their foreign neighbors, however, because to them the word "complex" could easily be substituted for "sophisticated" and perhaps in the process make the statement more accurate.

Complexity is the trend, says Bloch.

"The system is going to have to get more complicated, because Congress is always trying to refine the laws to make them more equitable," he says. "As a result it makes tax laws more complex."

Says Bloch: "Every time you make an exception to accommodate a special situation, you improve the system but also make it more complex."

And, it appears, you make H & R Block wealthier. Last year, by way of illustration, the company earned $6.38 million out of personal income tax returns, nearly double its earnings of the year before.

By contrast, as the returns of individuals and corporations will attest, 1970 was not really a very good year. Business expenses were up and sales volumes stagnant; and for individuals, overtime was cut and layoffs were common.

"This is a peculiar business," says Bloch. "We do better in hard times because people then want to pay as little tax as possible. We've tripled our business in some cities where there were wholesale layoffs."

Whatever the explanation for its success, Block is indeed a peculiar operation. Most of its money is earned during just a few weeks in February and April, and then most of its offices close down for the year.

The rent continues year-round, however, and the company would love to develop a profitable use for the offices, but so far the best answer has been to lend them to political parties, the Boy Scouts or to various charities.

Its executives are hired and trained in a somewhat peculiar manner also. To begin with, many of them are jobless when they first meet the company, and some also are without skills that are immediately usable.

Attempting to remedy the situation, they pay $60 and enroll in one of Block's tax schools, which are operated in many large cities during 12 fall weeks. And from such classes the company chooses its employes.

All the company's executives were trained and hired in this unusual way. Some employes never before had pencil-and-paper jobs and some thought they had no aptitudes, which doesn't bother the Bloch brothers at all.

"If the president of General Motors came into our business he wouldn't know what to do first," said Henry by way of explaining their commitment to training people in their own methods.

Regardless of the growing use of professional tax preparers, and despite the allegedly growing complexity of forms, 50 per cent of Americans still manage to make out their return by themselves.

Whether or not this percentage shrinks depends to some extent on the accuracy of Henry Bloch's forecast of more complexity in future tax forms. A good many Americans still cling to the hope that by some stroke of magic the entire process can be simplified. They hope Bloch is wrong.

They hope he is wrong also when he states flatly: "In the future you'll pay even higher taxes. You're living in a dream world if you think the country's expenses will go down."

Junior Editors Quiz on GREAT LAKES

QUESTION: Why are the Great Lakes important and how were they formed?

* * *

ANSWER: Our main picture gives an idea of the enormous shipping, manufacturing and business value of the Great Lakes to both the United States and Canada. Raw materials (upper left) are shipped through the Great Lakes to such transportation and manufacturing centers as Chicago and Montreal, whose products can then be distributed to any part of the world. This is possible because the United States and Canada joined forces to develop the famous St. Lawrence Seaway, which connects the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean. Various canals and locks allow large vessels to pass back and forth (arrow in picture points toward location of the Seaway). It is thought that before the huge glaciers of the ice ages moved down on North America, a river system flowed where the Great Lakes are now. The ice sheets changed this system and scooped out five enormous basins, where the Great Lakes are now, which filled with water. The general level of the land was higher than the sea, so the overflow water sought an outlet. The St. Lawrence River finally became established as the main outlet, although some of the water drains out through the Chicago River.

Memories Light Man's Path

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is man's best beacon.

It lights our path to the dear land of yesterday. Our memories keep us sane and make us human.

Your own memory is a pretty bright beacon if you can look back and remember when—

When a fellow left his best girl's house to go home after an evening date, he could impress her with his wit by saying "Well, I guess it's about time to wind the cat and throw out the alarm clock."

A hostess thought her small dinner party was a dismal failure unless her guests went through at least three boatfuls of rich brown gravy.

Anyone who could quote a line by H. L. Mencken was regarded as someone who should be watched and kept in close rein as a potential troublemaker.

It was hard to be elected sheriff without getting the local banker's nod.

More Americans chewed straws than sucked whisky sours through them.

If the fellows in the barber shop winked when a girl's name was mentioned, her reputation wasn't as good as her mother would have liked it to be.

A direct actionist was a guy who tried to settle every pool hall argument with the butt end of a cue.

All surviving Civil War veterans able to totter along in the annual Fourth of July parade were respectfully called "Colonel." It was their only hour of glory. The rest of the year they spent gathering cobwebs and telling vast lies to children.

You knew a family was really hard up if the mother couldn't even afford gloves to wear to church.

Laundry starch was a symbol of respectability. If the collars and cuffs of a man's white shirt weren't stiff with starch, you suspected he didn't give a damn about himself—or his wife didn't.

Pornograph hadn't become a leading U.S. industry. All a young fellow knew about it was what he heard by word of mouth or read on washroom walls.

Absenteeism was rare in most business firms, because if a man missed a day's work he was docked a day's pay.

Winters were colder and summers hotter, but people depended on God to make the climate and themselves to make the weather of their souls.

Those were the days—remember?

Snowflake Count

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Tennesseans need no longer wonder how many snowflakes it would take to cover their home state with ten inches of snow.

A group of mathematicians at Tennessee-Eastern Corp. here say they have the answer.

To get it, they determined the size of the average snowflake and the approximate number of square miles in the state, then fed the information into a computer.

The answer: 27,794,920,009,600,000 snowflakes..

If that seems a bit high, it's because they told the computer there were 43,000 square miles in the state instead of 42,244.

Firm Is Automated

GROVES, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Oklahoma Port Co.'s installation here is spread over 60 acres. But it is so highly automated that one man could, if necessary, operate it.

It has what the firm calls the largest automatic car dumper in the world. The dumper can unload 10,050 tons of anthracite coal in 3 hours and 21 minutes, at three minutes per car of a 67-car train.

The channel to the installation in this Southeast Texas town has been dredged at the dock so that it can take ships of 100,000 tons.

The first ship to be loaded with coal for Japan took on 14,300 tons, carried here by the Kansas City Southern Railroad.

The railroad firm bought gondola cars especially designed for serving Topco, as the post company is called generally. They have rotary couplers, making it easy to dump their loads.

Progress Made In Leukemia

HOUSTON (AP) — Real progress, and perhaps a cure for leukemia may be just around the corner, researchers at the M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute here believe.

"Unfortunately, the lack of financial support, especially from the government, has been apparent in the past two years at a time when real strides are being made in all forms of leukemia," Dr. Gerald Bodey of the institute said recently.

With Congress recently on record for attacking cancer, a special study group at M. D. Anderson, one of the leading such research institutes in the nation, believes much effort and money be expanded for leukemia research.

"I'm not saying we could find the answers immediately if an unlimited amount of money were provided," Dr. Bodey said, "but we certainly do need increased funds ... if we are to pursue our good clues."

Newer and better drugs, both for children and adult patients, have been developed in the past five years, which now assure many more leukemia victims of having their disease arrested for at least awhile, he said.

Less than 20 years ago, the overall survival of children with acute leukemia was six to eight weeks after diagnosis, he said, Today that figures is more than three and a half years for patients detected in 1965.

In the adult category, less than 15 per cent of all older leukemia victims ever had their disease arrested long enough for any type of drug treatment. Most died within a few weeks.

Now, Dr. Bodey said, well over 50 per cent of the adults achieve good remissions, and many of these have lived several years.

Generally, most doctors agree that leukemia patients, like other cancer victims, are considered "cured" if they live five years free of disease symptoms.

Dr. Emil J. Freireich, chief of the research hematology section at M. D. Anderson, said leukemia is the main cause of death in children under 15 years and takes 20,000 victims a year.

"In so many ways, I see leukemia as the window to all of our cancer. Once we have looked well at it, and found the answers, then I believe we can transfer some of that knowledge to other types of malignant diseases," Dr. Freireich said.

The headquarters of the United States Jaycees is in Tulsa, Okla.

Radio Station Back On Air

HOUSTON (AP) — The Pacifica Foundation's Houston radio station, KPFT-FM, was back on the air today.

The controversial station returned Wednesday night after being bombed out of operation twice in the past year.

Last May, two months after it began broadcasting, dynamite ripped its rural transmitter apart, causing $16,000 damage.

The second blast occurred Oct. 6, inflicting $4,000 damage.

Wednesday night return ceremonies were carried live over education television stations on the Public Broadcasting network's "Great American Dream Machine."

Larry Lee, station manager, said the opening radio program also was carried live by members of the National Educational Radio Network and the FM network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corp.

Arlo Guthrie, whose recorded anti-war song "Alice's Restaurant" was being played by the station the last time it was knocked off the air, appeared in person and gave an informal concert.

Included in the show was a documentary prepared by the Pacifica news staff dealing with more than 2; shooting and bombing incidents in Houston the past several years.

In addition to KPFT-FM, Pacifica operated stations at Los Angeles, Berkeley and San Francisco in California, and in New York City.

The Houston station offers free radio time to all points of view, accepts no sponsors and is supported by listeners.

Lee said the station collected more than $100,000 in a fund drive after the bombings, with most of the money coming from local sources.

No arrests have been made in the Houston bombings, although FBI agents nabbed three men last Friday and charged them with conspiring to bomb Pacifica stations in California.

The three were identified as Jimmy Dale Hutto, 24, Russell A. Rector Jr., 18, and Ronford Styron, 20, all of suburban Pasadena. They were arrested in a car about 25 miles outside Houston, the FBI said.

Rector and Styron remained free under $25,000 personal recognizance bonds. They waived hearings before a U. S. magistrate Wednesday.

Hutto was jailed in lieu of $100,000 bond and was due to undergo a psychiatric examination today.

A federal judge has ordered Hutto committed to a federal hospital in Springfield, Mo., for extensive testing.

U. S. Dist. Judge Woodrow Seals based his decision on government showings that Hutto had been in mental hospitals twice before.

In the Middle Ages spiders worn in a bag around the neck were believed to cure whooping cough.

F-111 Search Narrowed

NEWORLEANS (AP)—Search for a missing F-111, which left Carswell Air Force Base at Fort Worth Jan. 8, is now narrowed to a coastal strip of Louisiana around Markville.

Capt John Dager said the Civil Air Patrol, with seven days of aerial search behind it, had "pretty well covered" the rest of the state.

Maj. John McCormich, CAP operations officer, said, "They seem to think the plane went down in Louisiana. By the process of elimination, the search keeps coming back here."

A piece of wreckage found on Point au Pins Island, south of Bayou La Batre, Ala., has been identified by an Air Force inspection team as being the wing off an F84 that crashed years ago.

Mom needs lesson in 'public speaking'

By Abigail Van Buren

[© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with you, but not this time. You said, "the old lady must be off her rocker," because she wanted her married son to come to see her alone some time so just the two of them could talk without the daughter in law being present.

Did it ever occur to you that the mother and son might like to visit by themselves? I have three married sons and I rarely have a chance to talk to them alone. Their wives stick to them like glue every minute, and there are some things [strictly family matters] that I don't want to discuss in front of their wives.

Why can't daughters in law realize this and get lost once in a while when they visit their in-laws with their husbands?

PHILADELPHIAN

DEAR PHILADELPHIAN: I fully understand that mothers [and fathers, too] may want to have a private word with their married children, but in the case you mentioned, the mother [in bidding good-by to her son and his wife] loudly said to her son, so that both could hear, "Next time, come alone so we can talk!"

Now that wasn't very nice, was it? The lady had to be unbelievably unkind, incredibly insensitive, or she wasn't playing with a full deck.

DEAR ABBY: I am a single girl of 26 who has been in love with a married man of 60 for eight years. His wife pays no attention to him, but she refuses to give him a divorce. He has told me he would marry me if he were free, but I shouldn't waste any more of my good years on him.

I love him, Abby, and have decided that even if he cannot marry me, I will continue to love him. Now he is telling me to forget him because there is no future in our love. I can't forget him. He has even suggested that I find a younger man. I don't want a younger man. What advice have you for me?

SAO PAULO LOVE

DEAR LOVE: One does not "forget" on command. Neither does one "stop loving" on command. Just make sure it is "love" and not an eight-year habit. When a man tells a woman to find a "younger man" it could mean that he would prefer an older woman.

DEAR ABBY: Are you a man? I can't believe that you're a woman the way you put all that stuff in your column from mistresses and "other women" warning the wife to always be Johnny on the spot whenever her husband decides he wants a little loving.

I have been married for 22 years and have seven kids, and I have never said no to my husband, no matter how I felt, but it doesn't mean a thing.

A wife can be clean and decent and willing, but all men are alike. Just let some good-looking gal come around and show a little interest in him, and he's ready, willing and able.

There is nothing wrong with me. Believe me, I've had my chances, but I'm not the type. I know my husband loves me and I'm not afraid of losing him permanently, but he's no different from any other man. He just likes a change once in a while.

I know you won't print this, but if you do, please don't use my name. I don't want my husband to know how well I understand him.

Panel Probing Federal Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel will probe the federal role in genetic engineering —what Sen. Abraham Ribicoff calls "a world beyond comprehension ... manipulating mankind."

The Connecticut Democrat said the Senate executive reorganization subcommittee he heads will conduct hearings in March to study long-range implications of research in manipulation of human genes.

Genes are tiny units that determine what living things inherit from their parents through a chemical process during growth.

Recent research with genes in efforts to duplicate nature's processes have caused several scientists deep concern about consequences for society, Ribicoff said.

He wants to determine the extent of federally sponsored research into programmed genetic alterations.

Ribicoff said the hearings, on "chemicals and the future of man," will look also at the federal role in regulation of food additives, drugs and other chemicals.

"Service to humanity is the best work of life" is one line of the Jaycees Creed that leads young men, 21 through 35, to community involvement.

HEART SCREENING CLINIC — Dr. Carl Dillaha and Eula Williams, R. N., are shown checking Cynthia Robertson, Stanfield Elementary School pupil, in a heart screening clinic being sponsored this week in all local elementary schools by the Scurry County Heart Association. Pupils in the first three grades are being checked for heart defects. Dr. Robert Pierce and Dr. W. B. McSpadden are co-chairmen of the community service for the local heart association, and other physicians are donating their time in checking the students. Their main goal is to reach children who have not been checked by a doctor in at least a year.

No Major Bases To Be Closed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has indicated no major military bases will be closed in the near future.

"As far as major base closings," he said Wednesday, "this will be a matter that will be determined as we move forward with the 1972 budget and as we see what kind of response we have from the Congress on our budget submission."

The new budget is expected to go to Congress within the next week or so.

Although Laird now appears to have ruled out any major closings in the near future, he said some reductions still must be made.

"I am working on the plans now with the services to see that those reductions are brought about," he said. It is understood these cuts in operations and maintenance will involve training bases which were expanded for the Vietnam war.

Laird had said last month, following congressional cuts in the 1971 defense budget, that major base closings and cutbacks would be announced in January. It was not clear what brought about the apparent change in direction.

However, the Nixon administration is concerned with the nation's high unemployment level and any military cutbacks or closings would only add to it.

Drastic Action

SASKATOON, Canada (AP) — Irked by the theft and destruction of life preservers from special boxes on a local bridge, city council stopped providing them. About 100 of the preservers which cost $16 each were stolen last year.

Bordered on the west by Lebanon and the Mediterranean, with Israel and Jordan to the south, Syria extends like a wedge between Turkey to the north and Iraq to the east.
